Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

I am most anxious to get over to the civic center and see what Garden Club members have in their flower show. After the hard freeze and Sunday's brief hail storm, I just can't believe that there will be fresh flowers. However, these gals have fooled me before and their show is always a delight even when circumstances have been all wrong. I just have a hunch they'll do it again.

Everybody is welcome between the hours of 4 and 6 this afternoon.

Ozona merited an article in the most recent issue of Creem, (Creep would be more like it) a rock 'n roll magazine which bills itself as the only rock 'n roll magazine in America.

The story about our town is complete with picture and the biggest bunch of misinformation I ever read in my entire life. According to the story, before the turn of the century, 57 ranchers owned all the land hereabouts. They willed all their holdings to their eldest son, who in turn did the same, etc. If there were no son, then to a nephew, the girls just did not figure in. The story ends with the misinformation that there are today still 57 wealthy landowners, all millionaires, etc.

I feel compelled to write him a "letter to the editor" and clue him in that probably 57 wealthy widows would be more nearly like it.

Don't waste your 75¢ to purchase the magazine, we have it here at the office if you'd like to see it. Bill and Ella Clegg picked it up in Fort Stockton and I feel sure they'll let us keep it for as long as anyone cares to read the story.

Graduation time is just around the corner and we are having the usual "hard time" acquiring senior pictures for this honor or that. Although it is too late for this year's seniors, mothers of seniors to come might make a note and have several pictures made when their offspring acquire junior status in high school.

For newspaper, or any type of printing, the billfold size black and white is most appropriate.

Schools Out For Easter

All Ozona schools dismissed classes yesterday afternoon at 2:30 for the Easter holidays.

Classes will resume at the regular times Monday morning, April 23.

YES, VIRGINIA, THERE IS AN EASTER BUNNY and it showed up at the Methodist Church egg hunt Sunday as big as life and twice as pretty. The younger children were entranced as the giant bunny began handing out goodies before the hunt got underway. Virginia Henderson was the bunny and had as much fun as the kids playing her role.

Two Extensions For Crockett Multipay Field

The Ozona multipay field of Crockett County gained two long extensions to Canyon sand gas production with completion of two projects by Tamarack Petroleum Co., Inc., Midland, 15 miles south-southwest of Ozona.

The No. 1-14 Sutton, two miles south-southeast, was finished for a calculated, absolute open flow of 4,750,000 cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 42,738-1. Gravity of the liquid was 65.5 degrees.

Production was through perforations at 6,350-380 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons and fractured with 40,000 gallons and 32,250 pounds of sand. Top of pay was picked at 6,212 feet on ground elevation of 2,392 feet.

Drilled to 6,520 feet, where 4 1/2 inch casing was set, it is plugged back to 6,460 feet.

Just outside the walls of the old city of Jerusalem is an eroded hill that bears a resemblance to a skull, and is called Golgotha. It is said that upon this hill stood three crosses the day that Jesus was crucified. That agonizing day that Christ died is referred to today as "Good Friday".

EASTER

APRIL 22, 1973

Matthew 28:1-9 &
Mark 16:1-7

from The LIVING BIBLE

Early on Sunday morning, as the new day was dawning, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went out to Jesus' tomb.

Suddenly there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord came down from heaven and rolled aside the stone and sat on it. His face shone like lightning and his clothing was a brilliant white. The guards shook with fear when they saw him, and fell into a dead faint.

Then the angel spoke to the women. "Don't be frightened!" he said. "I know you are looking for Jesus, who was crucified, but he isn't here! For he has come back to life again, just as he said he would. Come in and see where his body was lying. . . . And now go quickly and tell his disciples that he has risen from the dead, and that he is going to Galilee to meet them there. That is my message to them."

The women ran from the tomb, badly frightened, but also filled with joy, and rushed to find the disciples to give them the angel's message. And as they were running, suddenly Jesus was there in front of them!

"Good morning!" he said. And they fell to the ground before him, holding his feet and worshipping him.

Still later he appeared to the eleven disciples as they were eating together. He rebuked them for their unbelief—their stubborn refusal to believe those who had seen him alive from the dead.

And then he told them, "You are to go into all the world and preach the Good News to everyone, everywhere. Those who believe and are baptized will be saved. But those who refuse to believe will be condemned."

When the Lord Jesus had finished talking with them, he was taken up into heaven and sat down at God's right hand.

And the disciples went everywhere preaching, and the Lord was with them and confirmed what they said by the miracles that followed their messages.

Easter, 1973

Easter, the principal ecclesiastical event of the year, gets its name from Eostre, a Teutonic goddess, whose festival was celebrated in the spring. Her name was given to the Christian festival, as it was she, according to legend, who opened the portals of Valhalla to receive the White God and Sun God, representing purity and light.

The Christian observance, this year on the 22nd, is a symbol of the Resurrection, and intertwined with many religious customs and observances, some dating back hundreds of years before the time of Jesus Christ.

The Easter egg became associated with Easter because eggs were forbidden to be eaten during Lent and on Easter Sunday they were traditionally served. The Easter egg, though, dates back to the Egyptians and Persians, and also the Greeks and Romans, who ate eggs annually in spring festivals.

In any event, it's appropriate that Easter comes in the spring, when the renewal of life is so apparent. Sunrise services in our churches—an observance of recent origin in most churches—symbolizes the Resurrection at sunrise. This practice is observed in practically all churches today as a symbol of hope, inspiration and faith.

Washington News Letter

Juggling poverty figures. American taxpayers have contributed rather liberally to help the poverty-stricken. But where is the line drawn between poverty and non-poverty in this classification process?

Today's official poverty definition applies to a family of four, not living on a farm, with an annual cash income of less than $4,137.

This relates to cash income and disregards any other form of benefits.

In view of this basis for drawing the line, a federal agency committee is now examining the possibility of re-computing these figures so as to take into account non-cash form of income.

It will be recalled that the sixties saw the creation of a maze of Great Society subsidies for the poor, from food stamps and Medicaid to manpower training and housing assistance, none of which are included in the Census Bureau's computation of who is and who is not below the mythical poverty line.

That Miss Jane Fonda, who said POW's who claimed mistreatment at the hands of their captors were "liars and hypocrites," is running into a peck of hostility as she parades her left-wing pro-Hanoi doctrine. In Los Angeles the other day hecklers hanged her in effigy as she addressed 1500 college students.

Lt. Commander David W. Hoffman, it turns out, was one of the prisoners produced by the Communists to be seen by Miss Fonda and Ramsey Clark when they were in Hanoi, following which both attested to good treatment being accorded the Americans.

Hoffman explains that he was tortured into "greeting" the two propaganda visitors—Fonda and Clark. The ex-POW reveals how he was coerced into the meeting. "I had a broken arm," said Hoffman. "It was in a cast. I was hung by that broken arm several times and allowed to drop at the end of a rope from a table which was kicked out from under me."

London's Problems

Britain is experiencing racial antagonisms and certain frictions these days because of an influx of nonwhites. A few days ago census figures gave the latest population breakdown from London, the country's largest city.

Nonwhites now total almost 500,000 people, the figures show—about one sixteenth of the capital's total population.

When this relatively minor mix is compared with the primary melting pot of the United States, New York, one can see how minor England's transition is, comparatively.

New York, with about the same population as London, contains about a million and a half blacks, half a million Puerto Ricans, hundreds of thousands of Asians, etc. There are also two million Jews in New York, and only about a million or so WASPS. Presumably, then, the English would have a much more sticky go of it with New York's mixture.

Congressional Pay

In 1969, when inflation due to the Vietnam war was a major problem and when the President was appealing to labor to hold wage demands within reason, Congressmen hiked their own salaries by about fifty per cent.

The example was shameful; workers were being asked to hold wage demands to amounts equalled by productivity gains. It was the worst possible time for the nation's lawmakers to vote themselves such a hike. The Treasury didn't have the money. Yet Congress also authorized automatic pay hikes for millions of federal workers.

For themselves, Congressmen in addition enacted a procedure whereby members would receive a hike every four years if the President proposed one (highly likely since Congress directed the President to submit recommendations at four-year intervals—always a non-election year). But this year the President refused to make the recommendations, in his effort to hold down expenditures.

Several members of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee have reacted by proposing to direct the President to submit a pay recommendation by July 1st. A bill to do this is sponsored by Thaddeus Dulski (D-NY), David Henderson (D-NC) and Morris Udall (D-Ariz).

The President probably won't be moved even if the bill passes. If he is, perhaps he should ignore the pay commission recommendation and propose a cut in congressional salaries. Lawmakers now receive $42,500 plus many other benefits, including hundreds of thousands to run their offices. And many feel Congress acted more responsibly when remuneration didn't attract so many candidates for congressional seats.

Notice is hereby given, that Meteorology Research, Inc., of 464 West Woodbury Road, Altadena, Calif. 91001 (State of Texas Water Modification License #73-3), intends to engage in an operation to change or attempt to change by artificial methods the natural development of any and all atmospheric cloud forms or precipitation forms which occur in the troposphere, for and on behalf of Texas Water Development Board located at P. O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711, and will conduct a program of weather modification involving research, development, and associated investigations in atmospheric water resources leading to application of practical procedures for beneficially managing precipitation in Texas and other Southern Plains and Gulf States areas as follows:

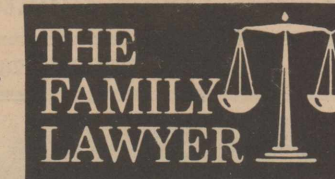

1. Area in which equipment will be operated: In the vicinity of San Angelo, Texas, within the area bounded by Ballinger westward along State Highway 158 to the west boundary of Glasscock County; thence southward to the southwest corner of Reagan County; thence eastward to the southeast corner of Sutton County; thence northward to Menard County, then along the south and east boundaries of Menard County; thence northeast to Brady, and along Highway 283 to the Colorado River; thence northwest along the river to Ballinger. The area includes portions of the counties of Runnels, Coke, Sterling, Glasscock, Reagan, Irion, Tom Green, Concho, McCulloch, Menard, Schleicher, Crockett, and Sutton.

2. The primary target area

Senate Committee Passes Snelson Bill

The safety of children riding school buses in Texas took giant strides forward last week with committee approval of two measures by Senator W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland.

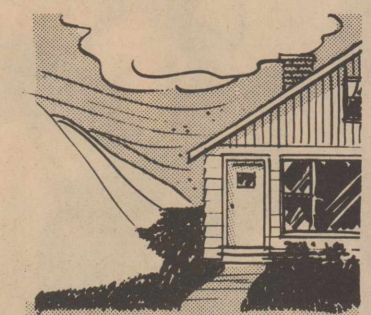

The Senate State Affairs

Invisible Fence

Barbed-wire fences may be harder to climb, and wooden fences harder to see through. But for sheer versatility, nothing beats the invisible fence erected around every piece of property by the laws of trespass and nuisance. Consider an example:

The Benson family lived next door to a vacant lot on which the owner kept a large pile of sand. Whenever the wind blew from that direction, sand would seep through the doors and windows of the Benson house.

Finally Benson sued the neighbor on grounds of nuisance. In court, the neighbor argued that he could not be blamed for what the wind did. But the court held it was unlawful—a breach of the invisible fence—for him to allow his sand to invade the Benson premises.

Other courts have taken a similar attitude toward leaves dropped from an overhanging tree, vines spreading into a lawn, eaves jutting over a boundary line (by a matter of inches), and sound waves from a neighbor's howling dog.

And, of course, the invisible fence also bars anyone from walking across your property without permission. How high does the fence extend? Courts used to say it extended all the way up to heaven—a theory that, if enforced literally, would make every airplane flying overhead a trespasser.

Nowadays, your invisible fence extends only to a "reasonable" height. But still, your protection goes higher than the average house top.

In one case a telephone company strung a wire 30 feet above a man's back yard, contending it was using only the "free and open" air. However, a court ordered the wire removed, since space that close to the ground might well be used someday by the owner himself.

"The space occupied by the wire," said the court, "was a part of his land. The law protects it from hostile occupation."

will be: Ballinger due west to a point about 12 miles southeast of Garden City (in Glasscock County); thence south to U. S. Highway 67 and South-southeast to Interstate 10 at the west border of Sutton County; thence east to the east border of Sutton County and north-northeast to Eden, Millersville, and the Colorado River, thence northwest along the river to Ballinger.

3. The areas adjacent to target area which may be subject to effects of the operation are: Those lying within 25 miles of the target area described above.

4. The materials and methods to be used in conducting the operation are: A ground network consisting of rain-gages, a weather radar, and a radiosonde set for taking upper-level atmospheric measurements; a cloud seeding aircraft equipped with a dispenser for seeding small quantities of hygroscopic materials below clouds; and an additional instrumented research aircraft for making meteorological measurements in clouds.

The operation will extend during the period beginning about 15 May 1973 and ending about 30 June 1973.

Individuals who consider that their interests will be adversely affected by the operation proposed in this Notice of Intention may communicate their objections for consideration to:

Committee gave unanimous approval to Snelson's S. B. 875, which will require school bus drivers to undergo annual physical exams, have pre-employment checks made of their driving records, and take a driver training course in School Bus Safety Education. Current law only requires that a school bus driver by 17 years of age with a chauffeur's license.

"Results of a survey made by the Department of Public Safety show only 36% of the present bus drivers have clean driving records," said Senator Snelson. "While I am confident that the majority of bus drivers are capable, we cannot afford to compromise the safety of school children by allowing the present lax standards to continue."

Passed by the Senate Education Committee was S. B. 190 by Snelson, which will prohibit any school child from standing on a moving school bus by the 1975-76 school year. Present law permits one standee for each seat.

"I believe that this safety legislation will significantly contribute to reducing the number and seriousness of school bus accidents in Texas," said Snelson. "There have already been 1047 school bus accidents in Texas this school year and we must do all that we can to insure the safety of our youngsters who ride school buses."

Scali Speaking

John Scali, the nation's Ambassador to the U.N., was discussing the Presidency recently and emphasized that the notion that the President is primarily a figurehead, letting aides do most of the work, is wrong.

President Nixon follows daily events in amazing detail and makes most of the decisions required, Scali says. And Scali's views are valuable, for he is a Democrat and covered the White House as a newsman; he admits he has never voted for Mr. Nixon.

"But I was never among those who shared the ultra-liberal belief that the election of Richard Nixon would be unmitigated disaster for the United States," he said recently. Which reminds one—where are all those intellectuals who sorely told us Nixon would become a dictator, that his election would divide and destroy the country, that his escalation policy doomed hopes of ending the Vietnam war, etc.?

Jane

Movie type Jane Fonda was recently quoted as saying those returned American prisoners-of-war who now report cruel and long torture by the North Vietnamese are liars or hypocrites.

Jane, of course, has been posing as an expert on foreign policy, giving the American people the benefit of her advice.

In her latest charge, she seems to disqualify herself in the eyes of the remaining gullibles who took her seriously. In defaming men who sacrificed and suffered so much, she reached a new low in ignorance and bad taste.

Cute Advice

The fad among many advice columnists in recent years is to turn these columns into racy, entertainment stuff.

The glub, cute answers to eye-opening and sex-tainted letters make for laughable or spicy reading and sell columns. It's nevertheless a prostitution of the advice column.

Many serious readers, perplexed by unfunny problems which sometimes threaten their happiness, sincerely seek advice from such columnists. They deserve better than a flippant, cute answer by someone primarily selling entertainment.

TV COMMENTARY

By John Smiley

KIM NOVAK will appear in her first TV-movie next season on ABC's "Movie of the Week." She has the title role in a film written by Dory Previn about a chorus girl who finds that in a youth-oriented society she's considered old. The name of the movie is "The Third Girl from the Left."

NBC'S FALL LINE-UP will not include a new show for Dan Rowan and Dick Martin, who are now watching "Laugh-In" fade... going, going, soon gone. All is not lost, however, for the pair will probably be stepping from the wings to center TV-stage in January. Even if the viewer did not appreciate "Laugh-In," he must admit that the show helped liberate the situation comedy on TV.

THE WESTERN on TV continues to decline. Thirty-five Westerns were aired in the late 1950s. In 1968 nine were left. Now only two remain on a weekly schedule: "Gunsmoke," which is completing its 18th year, and a new "Kung Fu." A third western, "Hec Ramsey," will be seen once a month.

DR. FRANK STANTON, 65, has recently retired as vice chairman of CBS, Inc., the broadcast empire he served for 37 years. For 27 of these years he served as chief operating officer. Surely the media has changed much since he began. It will change much in the next few years. On the horizon one sees cable, cassettes and pay television.

ORSON WELLES WILL host a syndicated series of chillers called "Great Mysteries." The 20th Century-Fox enterprise will be ready for the upcoming fall season.

Spring Cleaning Calls For Gentle Touch

Spring cleaning? Use a gentle touch and non-abrasive cleaner on bathroom and kitchen fixtures to keep them looking like new.

This advice comes from Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

"Although porcelain- and vitreous enamels are types of glass, they require special care to retain shine.

"Harsh scouring powders can damage these surfaces-- and those of fiberglass reinforced plastic fixtures.

"In fact, some abrasive cleaners-- if used relatively dry and rubbed hard--can remove a new surface's glossy finish in less than a year.

"Once gloss is damaged, it can't be restored--and the dull, ridged, low-gloss surface

"Consequently, abrasive cleaners become necessary to remove stains from these worn surfaces.

"To protect original surfaces, use detergent, non-abrasive cleaners or homemade products.

"Various liquid, paste, spray and aerosol non-abrasive products are available, but effective mild cleaners can be prepared inexpensively at home, the specialist added.

"To use a homemade cleaner, apply to fixture or sink and scrub with damp cloth or sponge. After scrubbing, rinse well and towel dry."

Mrs. Myers recommended use of homemade products and provided the following "recipes."

Mix 4 parts whitening (available at paint and hardware stores) and 1 part soap jelly.

Store in a covered container and use as needed.

To prepare soap jelly, shave enough bar soap to make one cup. Pour 1 quart boiling water over shavings and stir. Set aside until cool, then store in a covered jar--utilize as desired.

Combine 1 cup whitening or baking soda with 1/2 cup pine oil. Store in a covered container and use as needed.

Add 2 tablespoons ammonia or kerosene to 1 cup soap jelly. Store in a covered container and use as needed.

Mix 9 parts whitening and 1 part heavy-duty laundry detergent. Store in covered and use as needed.

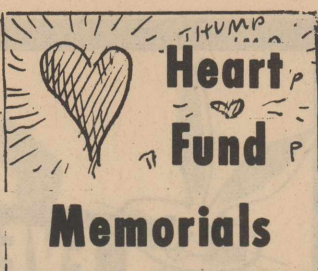

In areas of hard water, the specialist advised substituting 1/2 part detergent and 1/2 part water softener for the 1 part detergent.

Motorists Warned To Stop For School Bus

A reminder on the State law about motorist stopping for school buses was issued today by Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Speir said the law, which applies on city streets as well as rural highways requires motorist moving in either direction on the same roadway or street with a school bus to stop and remain stopped as

Fryers Will Be Good Buy Soon

Fryers will wear attractive price tags soon, if they follow recent reports of adequate supplies, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt said this week.

The consumer marketing specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, added that whole fryers make a better buy than parts.

"Frozen turkeys are available in most meat departments with some markets featuring parts at prices consumers can't afford to ignore.

"There are fewer specials on beef and pork, but they are worth considering," the specialist remarked.

"Best pork values at this time generally include shoulder roasts and steaks, end cut loin roasts and pork chops, hams, picnics and pork liver.

"Beef chuck cuts, ground beef, round steaks and beef liver make generally more economical choices in that department."

Turning to fruit and vegetable counters, Mrs. Clyatt mentioned strawberries as one of the more expensive "first of the season" items, adding that prices will drop as supply increases. Pineapple--at its peak this month--will follow the same pattern pricewise.

"Melons--mostly cantaloupe and avocados are available. Citrus crops have been excellent, but there will be fewer grapefruit on the market this month. There quality is good, and there are still plenty for consumers.

"Fresh vegetables finding their place on produce counters include mustard, collards, spinach, turnips, and greens. Very economical choices are carrots and cabbage.

"Asparagus, eggplant, broccoli, corn and green beans offer menu variety at varying price levels."

U.S. Savings Bonds help keep today's plans from becoming tomorrow's broken dreams.

We all have plans. We plan for a vacation, plan to buy a boat, or a house; or send our children through college.

And, in order to keep those plans from becoming broken dreams, we need money.

That's where the Payroll Savings Plan comes in handy. When you join where you work, an amount you specify is set aside from your paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

It's an easy way to save money and collect some interest at the same time. Keep today's plans alive. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. You won't end up with a bunch of broken dreams tomorrow.

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (47th first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by
Mrs. Bailey Post

So far this month, "April Showers" have not materialized but it really produced a fury of a freeze. And it didn't take a week to tell of the damage to tender leaves, foliage and fruit. The odor of a freeze was in the air when I went out to get the morning paper.

Some hardy shrubs, trees and plants withstood the cold even though not protected. Anyway, Ozona Garden Club members are keeping their fingers crossed and hoping there will be at least a fair showing of blooms today for the flower show. The public is welcome to attend from 4 until 6 o'clock this afternoon at the Civic Center.

You will probably have to do some more pruning now since the freeze. I had to almost strip my loquat of leaves before new growth will appear. Those that didn't freeze were damaged by the hail we had.

One magazine reports that zinnias and marigolds now top all other garden flowers in popularity with some gardeners in America. New selections are Peter Pan, a new scarlet color in the zinnia dwarf series, and Happy Face marigold, a deep golden yellow hedge type that has a neat uniform growing habit. It is a good choice for borders, patios accent or container plants.

It should be getting warm enough to plant caladium bulbs after Easter. The soil needs to be warm so they won't just stay there and rot. Caladiums are one of the most popular and attractive plants for shady or partial shady areas for your garden.

They also do well if planted in pots where color is needed. Plant the jumbo size, deeper (4 to 6 inches) than the smaller ones. If planted too shallow, the wind may whip them up out of the soil.

A reminder that Good Friday, April, 20, is a good time to plant your annuals and vegetable gardens.

Also we are in the last week of clean-up so be sure to have your trash ready for pick-up.

Spring Painting Tips For Home Painters

Spring painters can do better work around the house with several basic guidelines, according to Patricia A. Bradshaw.

The housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, first suggested painting in a room kept at 60-70 degrees to permit smooth paint application.

"Also, the home painter can cut drying time, fumes and odors by creating good cross-ventilation.

"Before painting, remove as many furnishings as possible from the room, and cover remaining furnishings and floors with drip cloths or newspapers.

"Also remove light-switch and wall plug plates--they can be painted before reinstallation on freshly painted walls."

Miss Bradshaw advised painting "like a pro."

This includes dipping only the bottom third of the brushes into paint to avoid drips and splatters. When splatters occur, remove them immediately.

"When using latex paint, excessive dripping results in quick-drying paint build-up on roller nap or at the base of brush bristles. To prevent, wash brush or roller with water occasionally."

During long interruptions cover the can and suspend brush or roller in water (for water-base paints) or turpentine (for oil-base paints).

Between jobs keep paint can tightly closed, and clean brush or rollers, the specialist stressed. "To clean applicators dipped in latex paint, wash with soap and water, then rinse thoroughly."

"For brushes used in oil-base paint, loosen paint in turpentine or thinner. Then work bristles against bottom of container. To release paint in brush center, squeeze or work bristles between thumb and forefinger. Rinse brush again in turpentine or thinner.

"Finally, rinse brush in mild soap suds and then in clear water. Straighten bristles, then wrap brush in heavy paper or aluminum foil.

"Store brushes by hanging or placing them flat--never stand brushes on bristles. Rollers should always be hung when stored," the specialist concluded.

He may be afraid of failing at something else, even simple things like working a puzzle, painting or playing a game. As a result, he tries to "talk himself out of it, or around it." The child also may realize that talking usually gains adult approval.

Excessive talking actually harms the child in the long run. Instead of getting into the action, trying new things or gaining assurance and confidence, he spends all his time talking. Parents may have difficulty getting a child to try new things after he's found adult attention and approval through talking.

Parents can help the child in several areas.

Help him relax, show him that success isn't demanded at each attempt; try to instill the philosophy that it's fun to "dabble" a bit in many things, just to find out what life is all about. He may like the activity after trying; give him encouragement, and show him he needs to be a "doer" as well as a talker.

BIRDS AND BLOSSOMS

A bird carols its heart out. Pale pink blossoms proclaim the newness of life returning to dormant branches. Spring sunshine gleams on the white pillars of the church. Everywhere is joy and gladness as earth prepares to celebrate the Easter season.

Yet somewhere hearts are heavy. Pain blots out springtime ecstasies. Bird songs torment minds grayed with grief. What message can the Holy Day bring them?

In the darkest hour of the first Good Friday, Jesus, deserted by His followers, rejected by those He came to save, tortured and suffering, said, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

Follow His example this Eastertime. Whatever the situation, however bleak the outlook—commend your spirit, your very self to God. Your load will be lightened, your being restored.

Your church is an open door which calls you to the joyous realization of God's love as an unassailable source of strength in your life.

TANE Says Permissive Parents Lead To Drug Abuse By Youth

Parents attempting to "decriminalize" marijuana include those who have failed their children and now want to pass responsibility to the state, R. R. Holton, executive director of Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education (TANE) said today.

"Some of the noise made lately for legalization of marijuana is coming from a small group of parents who are trying to protect their children from the consequences of the drug laws," he said.

"Some parents have led their children into drug abuse by their own liquor-drinking and pill-taking examples. Others have simply failed to give adequate parental leadership. Their kids are on grass, or have been busted for drug law violations. Now some of these people would like to 'decriminalize' marijuana so they can shrug their shoulders and say, 'It's Legal,' passing their own responsibility to the state."

"An examination of the facts indicate that marijuana can be harmful to the individual and to the community as a whole. According to Dr. Walter X. Lehmann, Director of VITAM Center, Norwalk, Connecticut, one of the many authorities who have spoken out against the use of marijuana, marijuana use damages short term memory, causes momentary flashbacks even six months after taking the drug, and alters the personality of the user. But the 'decriminalization' theory has chosen to ignore these facts."

"It is often the door through which other drug problems enter. Some heroin addicts reveal that they started on marijuana. According to a Los Angeles study of arrests, one in six who got into trouble with marijuana, within five years got into trouble with heroin."

"Marijuana can be the first step to drug dependence. With many it leads to LSD, speed and heroin. With others the second step to other drugs is never taken, but marijuana dependence is developed, which is bad enough.

"Since many youngsters get involved in stealing cars, we could use the same logic in 'decriminalizing' auto theft. But then we would be encouraging car theft, more people would be hurt in accidents with these joy-riders, and the general public would have to pick up the bill in increased insurance premiums."

"'Decriminalization' is just a euphemism for legalization. If marijuana use is legalized, healthy young people will be encouraged to use the drug, and more will adopt the irresponsible attitude of the drug user. Healthy young people will undergo the subtle personality changes that turn them into potheads and from their ranks will come new speed freaks which could easily result in the number of addicts multiplying in our society."

"Legalization of marijuana may make a few parents, who are desperate for self-justification, feel better, but every indication points to a drastic increase of drug abuse problems."

"Who would quit using marijuana if it became legal? Who would begin experimenting with it if it became legal?"

These are questions which must be answered before we legalize marijuana."

TANE is a non-profit educational organization. Active since 1935, its purpose is to prevent alcohol and drug problems through education. Financial support comes from churches of some 19 denominations, individual contributions, business, and industry.

Programs include a speakers bureau made up of 200 ministers and laymen of several different Christian denominations. TANE sends speakers to some 2,500 churches in Texas each year.

Other programs include public school assembly programs, teacher inservice training workshops, production of audio visual aids, publishing books, legislative information service, free film lending library, research, statistical information for teachers and students, and an annual school on alcohol and narcotics studies sponsored jointly by TANE and Baylor University.
