United Fund Sets Oct. 1 Launch Date, Names New Directors

Directors of the Deaf Smith County United Fund approved a revised budget and set an Oct. 1 kick-off date for the annual UF drive in a meeting here Friday which also saw four new board members named.

Goal for the upcoming United Fund drive was trimmed slightly from the original $31,000 figure by deleting a few out-of-county agencies which had previously been approved in the budget.

DIRECTORS okayed Friday a budget totalling $30,160 for the coming year.

This figure will provide funds for seven local agencies — plus, for the first time, a small allocation for the United Service Organization (USO).

Participating in the United Fund this year will be:

Little League
Salvation Army
Camp Fire Council
Council on Alcoholism Information
Pony League
Boy Scouts
Red Cross
USO

United Fund President Clint Formby pointed out that all funds collected by the UF will go to the member agencies, with the exception of only $1,000, which is earmarked for UF operating expenses.

This year's UF drive chairman, Ed Skypala, announced that kick-off date for the coming drive has been set for Oct. 1. He predicted a brief, but all-out drive for this year and urged against stretching the drive over a period or weeks or months as has happened in the past.

Formby emphacized that this year's budget is basically the same as in past years.

HE URGED support of the UF, pointing to the recent growth of the town and saving that this year's goal "must be met if the UF member agencies are to continue to keep pace with the growth of the town."

It was pointed out that the UF goal has been missed slightly in the past thee years and urged full participation in this year's effort.

NEW BOARD members named to direct the United Fund are Dexter Lilly, J. F. Martin, Mrs. Dennis Lomas, and Mrs. George Turrentine.

Dale Young was named chairman of a publicity committee also comprised of Neil Cooper and Mrs. Ira Ott.

UF drive chairman Skypala appointed an advisory committee to aid in planning the upcoming drive. This committee consists of Dean House, Earnest Langley, Hershel Black, Juston McBride, Wanda Hoover, and D. C. Kinsey.

THE MOVE to trim the budget for the coming year came after the budget and admissions committee recommended to the board that out-of-town agencies not be included in the local Uf.

A spokesman for the committee said that the group felt it could not be wise to include out-of-town agencies in the local UF fund since UF drives supporting only local agencies had not reached their goal the past two years.

The board voted to include the USO for a $175 allocation from the coming year's budget because of the benefit this organization offers Hereford area servicemen stationed throughout the world.

Further plans for the coming UF drive will be developed in a series of committee meetings scheduled this week, officials said.

Rural Areas Eye Result; Small Turnout Forecast

An election which promises long-range effects on Texas rural residents comes up Tuesday in balloting to decide the fate of the proposed constitutional amendment to increase the size of the state senate.

No ballots were cast by county resident in absentee voting which ended Friday, and a small turn-out of Deaf Smith County voters is expected in Tuesday's special election.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. and remain open until 7 p.m. in the county's ten balloting places (which remain unchanged from previous elections), according to county clerk B. F. Cain.

Tuesday's voting will decide the fate of a plan to enlarge the Texas Senate from 31 to 39 members.

MANY OBSERVERS say that the strength of the rural voice in Texas government hinges largely on outcome of the election.

If the amendment is passed, the increase in the size of the senate will help to preserve rural representation while urban areas at the same time receive additional representation in keeping with dmands of the U. S. Supreme Court's recent reapportionment verdict.

BY ADDING eight new Senate positions, equitable reapportionment as ordered by the supreme court may be met, proponents of the amendment say. Under the plan, larger cities would have their share of representation under the court's one-man-one-vote ruling, but not at the expense of rural areas.

County officials pointed out that location of voting boxes in Deaf Smith County will be the same as in the last election. (County redistricting approved recently does not become effective until after the first of the year.)

Voters will have a chance to voice views on ten other proposed constitutional amendments in balloting Nov. 2.

Man Is Held For Attempted Attack On Girl

A Latin American man was arrested Saturday morning by Hereford police after giving himself up in connection with the alleged attempted assault of a 17-year-old Latin American girl here Friday night.

Police said the alleged attempt occurred Friday night after the man and the girl, accompanied by another woman companion, had been driving around town in an auto.

THE GIRL told police that the attempt occurred after the trio had gone to the home of the other woman.

Her statement to police said that the man attempted to criminally assault her, but that she managed to get away from him and run into a street.

Neighbors who heard the girl's screams summonded police.

Police found the girl running down the street with the woman companion trailing after her as they arrived on the scene.

Police said the girl was talking incoherently, but managed to tell them that she had been attacked. Her arms and face were scratched and bruised, officers said.

The man, who had not been officially charged Saturday morning, entered the police station and gave himself up, police said.

He said that his employer had persuaded him to surrender.

THE CHAMBER board also set the date for Jan. 20 in the high school cafeteria and agreed to have the banquet catered by Walter Jetton of Fort Worth, as in the past.

COUNTY OFFICERS NAMED

Farmers Union Support Of Farm Bill Described

Andrew Kershen was elected president of the Deaf Smith County Farmers Union here Tuesday night during a meeting which was also highlighted by a talk by the state president of the organization.

Kershen was elected to succeed Bob Strain.

Other officers elected Thursday were Virgil Walker, vice-president and James Gentry, secretary-treasurer.

FEATURED speaker for the meeting was Jay Naman of Waco, state Farmers Union president.

Naman described current status of the Omnibus Farm Bill, Farmers Union in support of the plans.

He commended Texas Farmers Union organizations for their efforts aimed at passage of the program and described advantages which will be offered farmers who participate in the programs resulting from the current legislation.

NAMAN pointed out that 60 representatives of Texas agriculture were flown to Washington by county Farmers Union organizations.

Pointing to effectiveness of the effort, Naman said that 20 of the 22 Texas congressmen voted for the bill in the House.

HE SAID that prospects are for an "even better" bill following Senate action, which is scheduled this week. He said that the Senate is apparently favoring an improved wheat section in the omnibus bill.

Mrs. O. G. Hill, who represented the Deaf Smith County Farmers Union in Washington during committee hearings on the bill, reported on results of the group's appearance before congressmen.

SHE SAID the Texas delegation was "well received" by lawmakers and that their visit was apparently effective in the favorable vote by Texas representatives in Washington.

New directors of the county Farmers Union elected at the meeting were Alfred Smith, F. A. Marnell, S. A. McCathern, Louis Woodford, David Hutchins, W. H. Gentry, Leo Witkowski, C. E. Leasure Sr., Mrs. Hill, Bob Strain, and Jay Boston. Wives of men on the board also serve as directors.

PAUL ENGLER

Local Man Named For Import Study

A Hereford man has been named to a state-wide fact-finding committee to study the effects of imported beef on the Texas livestock industry.

Paul Engler, president of Hereford Feed Yards, Inc., was selected at a general hearing in Austin last week, called by legislative resolution by the state Senate calling for investigation of the imported meat question.

His appointment to the committee was announced by John C. White, state agriculture commissioner.

ENGLER attended the 15-member committee's first session last week in Austin. Present for the meeting were representatives of the Texas cattle industry, farmers organizations, and processing concerns, as well as representatives of pork, poultry, and sheep industries.

Engler was the only Panhandle area resident named to the fact-finding group.

The committee will meet at frequent intervals to prepare and maintain fact-finding studies.

"WE EXPECT the committee to make recommendations for state and federal legislation when necessary," Commissioner White said. "By laying the foundations for such action now, we have the opportunity to direct our livestock marketing future by choice rather than leave it to chance," his letter announcing the appointment continued.

" pointed out that livestock is the biggest single factor in the state's two billion dollar agricultural economy.

"A PROLONGED trade imbalance favoring imported meats can do immeasurable harm to the livestock industry if we are seriously undercut on our domestic markets and have only limited outlets abroad," White asserted.

Engler told the Brand Satur

Annual Farm Tour Slated Here Sept. 14

Several area farms will be viewed during the Annual Deaf Smith County Farm Tour sponsored by the crops subcommittee of the county program building committee and the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District on Sept. 14.

Farmers and others interested are being invited by sponsors to tour area farms to see soil and water conservation plans in action, as well as other improvements.

AMONG farms slated for the tour agenda are the A. F. and F. A. Marnell, Mack Nolan, Frank Zinser and George Turrentine farms.

Others will be announced prior to the Sept. 14 tour, according to Don Newman, conservation manager of the local soil district office.

One of the stops on the tour will be an improvement project which was undertaken by F. A. and A. F. Marnell.

The brothers purchased the land early in 1964 because they believed that with a lot of hard work and a good bit of money with USDA assistance, it could be developed into a highly productive farm.

SECURING an FHA farm-ownership loan to buy the farm and to cover part of the needed improvements was the men's first step.

Next the brothers worked out Plan with the soil conservation office.

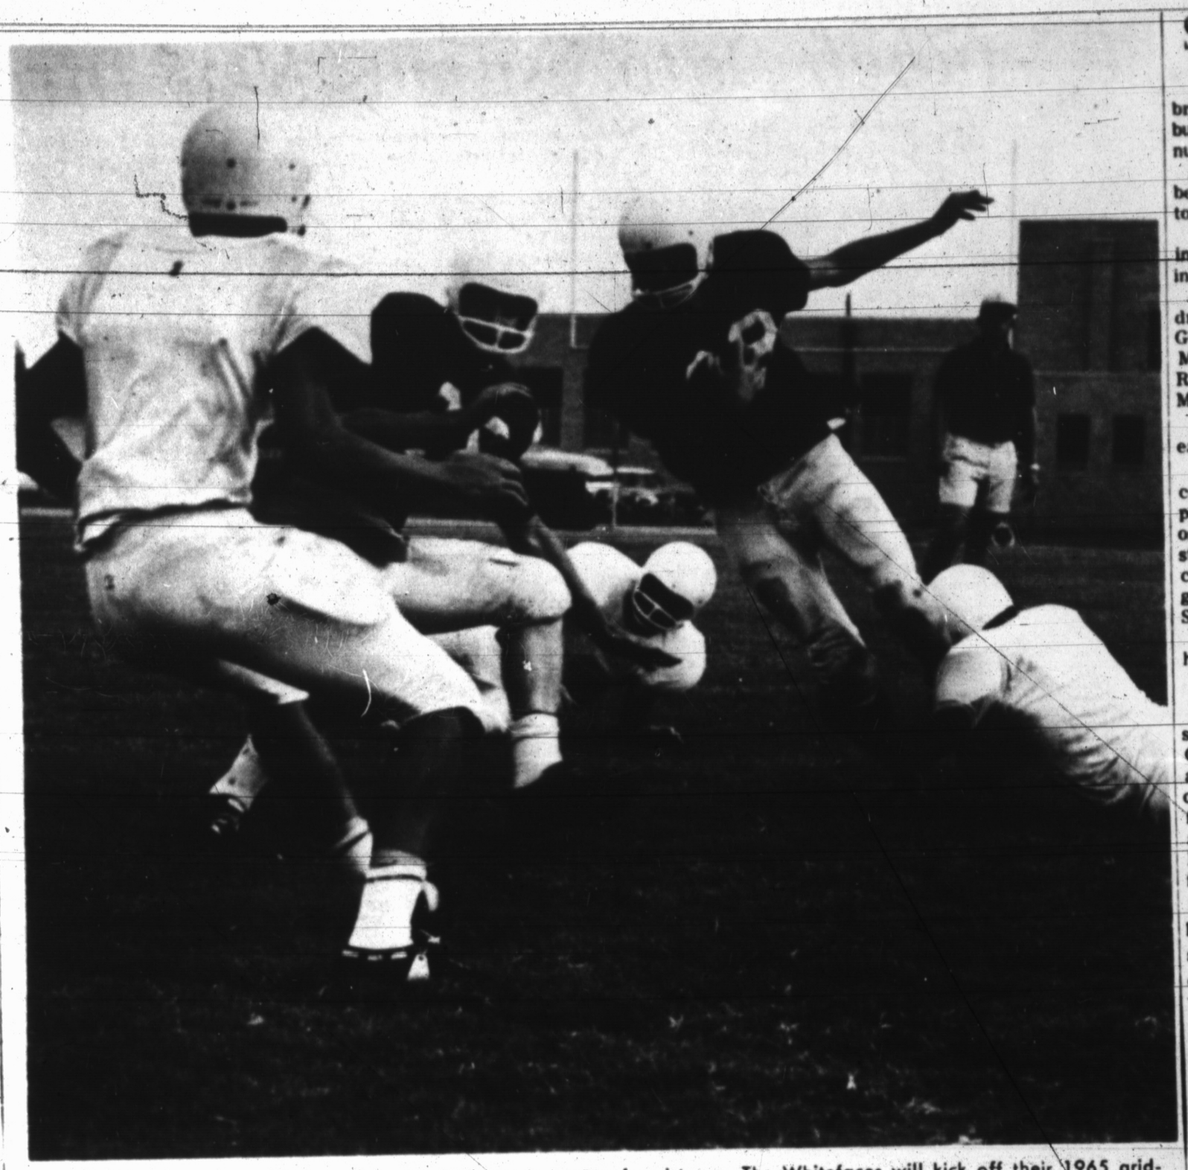

THIS PLAN furnished technical assistance and cost-sharing on land leveling to fill lakes, construction and seeding a water way, seeding irrigated pasture and the construction of parallel terrace system.

As their plan progressed the two men worked out a cost-sharing agreement with the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service office on underground pipeline.

THE ASCS office and a neighboring land owner cooperated on the construction of a grass water way for the diversion of water that might otherwise be a cause of erosion.

When finished this farm is expected to generate $140,000 to $160,000 of business annually, based on dollar turn over figures commonly used.

In addition to producing income, the improvement serves to conserve water and soil.

People who pay to shop

Most retailers, we suspect, would shudder at the idea of charging customers an admission fee to shop in their stores.

Yet, we do it regularly. Readers buy this paper for the news and features, but they also buy it to see your advertising. They want to know what you are selling, what your prices are, and compare this with what another merchant is advertising.

Readers are shoppers, and people who pay to shop, shop to buy.

Your advertising reaches them as an invited guest. They study it at their leisure, and they will respond if what you have to say interests them.

Who measures this paying audience?

As members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, we submit our circulation records to regular inspection by traveling ABC auditors. This is an organization of nearly 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers, whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports.

ABC measures our circulation audience, in accordance with the highest industry standards.

Its reports tell how many shoppers buy our paper, where they buy it, what they pay, and many other facts to help you know our paying audience.

For full details on the people who pay to shop, ask to see a copy of our latest ABC report.

"WELL, BOYS, WHAT NEXT?" seemed to be the the question after the Hereford Whitefaces crossed the goal on three consecutive plays from 50 yards away during a scrimmage with Brownfield here Friday. The 'Faces outdistanced their visitors and impressed viewers with several big plays during the afternoon. The turn of events had coaches scratching their heads happily. (Staff Photo)

Radio Station KPAN-FM went on the air this week under an FCC authorization for a 30 day program test period.

The FM station will be duplicating all daytime AM programs, but the FM license will allow the local station to begin broadcasting earlier during the winter months, and will allow it to remain on the air (strictly FM) later in the evenings. The AM sign-off time now is 7:30 p. m.

Clint Formby, KPAN General Manager, tells us that they will broadcast the Whiteface-Plainview football game this Friday night, so all you FM fans tune your sets to 106.3 mc on the dial and prepare to enjoy the game.

Broadcasting of sporting events by the way, is one of the big advantages of the FM setup, Clint tells us, since it allows the station to remain on the air during the evening hours. Clint figures (and we presume that this is not definite at this time), that regular sign-off time for the FM station will be 10:00 p. m. But that remains to be seen. All daytime programs will be duplicated (AM and FM) for the time at least, according to Formby.

The 30 day program test period granted by the Federal Communication Commission will allow the station engineers to make adjustments in equipment, and to generally get the bugs worked out of the operation.

Be sure to vote Tuesday in the special constitutional amendment election.

The proponents of SJR 44 point out that increasing the Texas State Senate from 31 to 39 members will help the rural areas of Texas to keep a strong voice in the state capital.

In 1876, when the Texas Constitution set the Texas senate membership at 31 members, there were approximately 25,000 Texans per senator. Now (according to the 1960 census) there are some 309,000 per senator.

Passage of this amendment would provide a more favorable population-representation ratio, a ratio that is now better than Texas' in all but one other state.

And here's another little item. If the amendment fails, there will be 21 Texas senatorial districts larger than one or more entire states and ten larger than any of nine states.

That's going to keep some Texas senators hot-footing it around the state if they plan to keep in touch with their constitutents.

We hear some glowing reports from West Texas State University concerning Butch Walterschied, the husky Hereford Whiteface star who is now a senior end for the WTSU team.

Coach Joe Kerbel, speaking before a press day audience recently told the group that he would personally coach the Hereford youngster this year. "You just show Butch the color of the opposing team's uniforms", Kerbel said, "and he'll not leave any standing on the field."

Walterschied weighs in at 212 pounds and is a real formidable foe on anybody's football field.

Whitefaces Outdistance Brownfield In Second Successful Scrimmage

Williams Crosses Goal Twice With 50-Yard Runs

By DAVID BUTLER
Sports Editor

Hereford Whitefaces put together a powerful ground-gaining offense sparked by fleet-footed Walter Williams and aided with intermittent pass completions to outdistance the visiting Brownfield Cubs in scrimmage play here Friday afternoon.

The 'Faces chewed up 373 yards while the Cubs were limited to 161 by a usually alert Hereford defense.

WILLIAMS CHALKED up almost a third of the Herd's ground yardage — crossing the goal twice in consecutive plays from scrimmage with runs of almost 50 yards.

Hereford fans watched enthusiastically as the 'Faces racked up an average of 6.4 yards gained per play during the afternoon while Brownfield's gain per play average was limited to two yards per try.

JACK MEREDITH obviously pleased with the Herd's performance — commented that "the team showed improvement" since last week's action with Clovis, where Hereford managed a narrow edge in yardage totals.

Now the Whitefaces focus attention on the upcoming season opener.

Hereford football 1965 style gets underway at 8 p.m. Friday in Plainview when the Herd tangles with the class AAAA Bulldogs.

"We will spend this week polishing up for what may very well be our toughest game of the season," commented the Whiteface mentor concerning th season's first game.

IN FRIDAY'S action, Williams crossed the goal first on a quick-opener from the 47-yard line of Cub territory. He was virtually untouched after crossing the line of scrimmage and handilly outran pursuers.

The second crowd-pleaser came on the following play as Williams crossed right guard, shook loose a couple of would-be tacklers, and sprinted 50 yards to cross the goal again.

Williams showed an impressive record for the full game, carrying the ball 14 times for a net gain of 146 yards-giving him a 10.1 yard average.

GREG RICHARDS wasn't far behind with an 8.3 yard average per carry. Ernie Williams averaged 5.7 yards per carry during the game.

Quarterback Steve Hodges completed 7 of 17 passes and Philip Cain completed one of four.

Brownfield gained most of their yardage via three long passes and one end sweep.

MIKE DAVIS lead in tackling downing 12 opponents in the game. Greg Richards was second bringing down 10 opponents with Gary Tucker being third with eight tackles.

Hereford charged down the field to mark up 14 first downs and Brownfield followed close behind with 10.

Offensive guards Wayne Miller and Charlie Brewton displayed some impressive play in trapping during the pre-season scrimmage.

ED MIMS SHOWED a great deal of improvement since the Clovis scrimmiage last week.

"All of our halfbacks blocked and carried the ball better than they did last week at Clovis," commented head coach Jack Meredith.

Hereford was hampered somewhat with the loss of Gary Victor and Gene Drummond who were out of action with minor injuries. Coach Meredith said that he expects Victor and Drummond to be able to play in the Plainview game Friday.

"DEFENSIVE GUARD Mike Harvey played very well in the scrimmage and showed some improvement since last week," the coach said.

Hodges, who didn't see any action at Clovis, carried out most of the quarterbacking duties against Brownfield and made a good show.

Coaches said Saturday that they were still not sure about the fullback position on the varsity squad. They have been experimenting with the position for some time now trying to find the right man for the job.

Hereford will open its 1965 grid season this Friday at 8 p.m. in Plainview when they meet the Bulldogs.

THE FOLLOWING Friday the Whitefaces will travel south to Dimmitt for their second game of the season and on Friday Sept. 24 Hereford will have its first home game against Littlefield.

Mules Open Play With 20-6 Win

RANSOM JONES and his teammate Ronnie Swint scored three times to lead the Muleshoe Mules to a 20-6 victory over the Dimmitt Bobcats.

Jones scored twice and Swint scored once in the Mules' first game of the year.

HEREFORD WILL meet Dimmitt in the 'Faces' second game of the year Sept. 17 and will be clashing with Muleshoe in conference play on Nov. 5.

A plunge from the one yard marker by Jones lead off the scoring for the Mules. Joe Adams' kick for extra points was blocked by Dimmitt.

Dimmitt's defensive men kept the Mules from scoring again until after the half when Swint broke through the Dimmitt defense for a second touchdown. Adams made his kick good this time.

DIMMITT quarterback, Kent Lindsey, got loose on a quarterback sneak and ran 22 yards for the Bobcats' first score of the evening.

Jones put the lid on the game in the fourth quarter with a 12-yard run to paydirt from his halfback position. Adams made his kick good again.

ONE OF THE highlights of the game was a 40-yard, third quarter run by Jones, which had the keyed-up Mule fans anticipating a touchdown, but was stopped by the Bobcat defense.

The Bobcats failed lost two of five fumbles while Muleshoe lost possession of five of nine dropped balls.

Lovington Drops Opener To Hobbs

Lovington dominated the second and third quarters in their season opener against Hobbs, but failed to dominate the score, dropping the 1965 debute, 26-7.

THE HEREFORD Whitefaces will meet the Wildcats in non-conference play on Oct. 8 in Lovington.

The Wildcats's only score came when fullback Jerry Buckner drove across the goal line for paydirt from two yards out and then ran the ball across for an extra point.

Hobbs quarterback Jack Wisdom passed and ran for most of the Eagles' scoring for the evening.

WISDOM SCORED first in the beginning quarter when he slipped through the Wildcat defensive line from four yards out. Rudy Fuentez booted the extra point.

A 22 yard pass from Wisdom to James Martin gave the Eagles their second tally with the extra point attempt failing.

THE HOBBS' defensive unit managed to hold the Wildcats on the Hobbs 14 yard line later in the same quarter. Hobbs then took the ball and on the first play David Bookart bounded loose and ran 86 yards for the Eagles' third score of the evening. Fuentez booted the extra point.

Wisdom shoved his way through the Wildcat line for the final tally from the one yard line.

FOR THE PAST TWO YEARS

Nation's Gridiron Scene Topped By Southwest

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Southwest Conference has dominated the nation's football for the past two years.

Texas was national champion in 1963 with an undefeated, untied team that won the big bowl game, beating Navy to confirm that it was the best.

ARKANSAS WAS undefeated and untied in 1964, the only major college team with that distinction, other than Princeton. The latter does not play in bowl games or even an intersectional schedule.

Arkansas beat Texas in the only game the latter lost, and Texas beat the national champion, Alabama, in the Orange Bowl. The Football Writers, who wait until after the bowl games, chose Arkansas.

Regardless of whether Arkansas was national champion, it still finished with the finest record and as far as the Southwest Conference was concerned was the best team in the nation.

THE VICTORIES of a Texas all-star schoolboy squad over Pennsylvania and Oklahoma — 26-10 over Pennsylvania in the a big 33 game and 21-13 over Oklahoma in the Oil Bowl — serves to illustrate why Southwest Conference football has become the best in the country.

Texas schoolboy football is the major reason. And behind the whole thing stands the Texas High School Coaches Association.

This organization, growing steadily, has brought high school coaching to its peak. Thereby it strengthened the competition and better players are being produced.

UNTIL A DECADE ago, Texas schoolboy football didn't do too well against out siders. The obvious reasons was that it wasn't aimed in that direction in the first place. The age limit was low, the rules were stringent, the semester rule kept experience at a minimum.

But the coaches wanted football to be as good or better than other sections. They fought for spring training and still have it in the larger schools. They really worked at coaching. They took advantage of the opportunities to better themselves through the largest coaching school in the world.

So what might have been lacked in ability was made up with good coaching.

THE TEAM that played at Hershey, Pa., was a fine one indeed. It also had some top-flight coaching from Bobby Layne, Doak Walker and Harley Sewell, products of Texas schoolboy football themselves. All became stars in college and pro football.

The team that beat Oklahoma in the Oil Bowl has a good nucleus from the team that played at Hershey. It had a tough defense, it had speed in the right places, it had a versatile offense, it was a football team that could beat anybody.

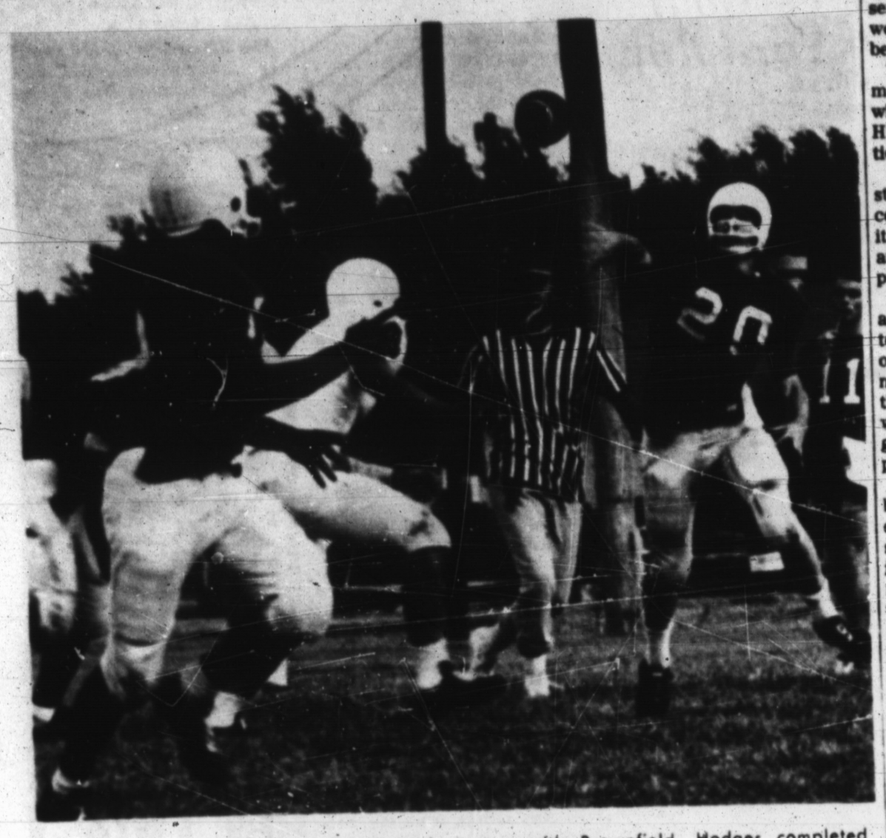

Texas, with its best team possible, beat Pennsylvania decisively. Pennsylvania undoubtedly had as good high school football as anywhere in the nation. It has itself claimed to be tops.

THIS IS NOT declaring that Texas high school football is the best in the nation, because there are many other states that have not been played. But it is reasonable to believe that Texas is as good as the best.

The Oil Bowl game in Wichita Falls actually is the pioneer of inter-state rivalry, not the Big 33. Texas and Oklahoma boys have been playing each other for 20 years. Texas leads by a wide margin but the competition has been very strong in recent years.

THIS TREATISE is not, however, on the relative merits of the states in high school football; it's just to show why the Southwest Conference has reached its high place in the nation's football.

Even Arkansas, the only out-of-state member of the conference, has found good use for Texas schoolboy players. Some of Arkansas' finest have come from Texas. And rightfully so—Arkansas has as much right to Texas schoolboys as the schools in Texas. Arkansas also has been doing a pretty good job of producing top-flight boys itself.

Texas Veterans Unduly Alarmed

World War II Texas veterans are swamping Veterans Administration offices because of a misleading report that many of them did not collect the first dividend on National Service Life Insurance, VA said in a release to the Brand.

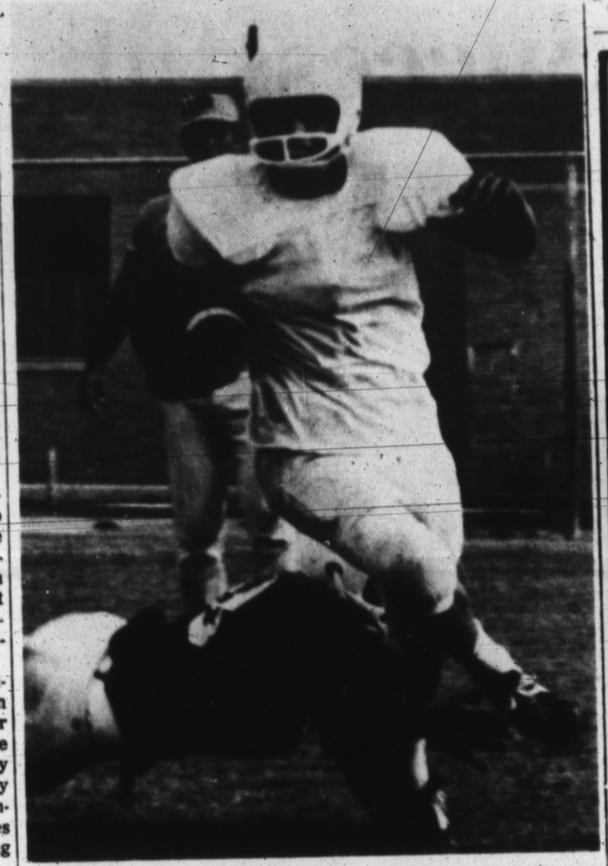

Actually, 99.8% of the 766,000 Texas veterans who had NSLI at the end of WW II received the divident Jack Coker, Manager of the Waco Veterans Ad said.

The rumor about the "GI Insurance Bonanza" apparently started because several industrial publications printed the old law authorizing the payment under a 1965 date line Coker said.

The VA manager estimated there may be about 1000 ex-GI's in Texas who never got paid. Most of these dropped their insurance upon leaving the service and did not give VA a mailing address.

They can still collect the VA manager said but he pleaded with the vast majority of veterans to jog their memory before they send VA back to the old records to check.

Butterflies and moths form one of the largest orders of insects. North America has about 700 species of butterflies and more than 7,000 species of moths.

Advertising's third dimension

In addition to length and width, a newspaper advertisement has a third dimension—thickness. Thickness is represented by circulation, the number of advertisements printed and actually delivered.

You pay for an advertisement on the basis of length and width, but what you really buy is the opportunity to talk about your merchandise or service to a specified number of readers. Laid one upon another, a one inch stack of your advertisements in this newspaper equals 300 homes reached.

Thickness . . . or circulation . . . is the dimension that gives promise to your sales message, that it will reach potential customers.

It is important for you to know whether circulation is a promise or a fact.

The ABC insigne assures you that our circulation is measured by the highest standards in the advertising and publishing industry. It is the symbol of our membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

ABC is an independent auditing organization whose sole purpose is to give accurate and factual circulation reports. ABC audits are trusted by national advertisers and advertising agencies. They can be trusted by you.

Our tell-all ABC report shows how much circulation we actually deliver, where these copies are distributed, how much readers pay, and other information you should know about the thickness of your advertising here — facts, without opinions, compiled from a physical audit of circulation records by traveling ABC auditors.

When buying advertising, be sure to measure all three dimensions — length, width, and thickness.

Insist on facts. Be ABC sure!

STOCK FARM
One of the best stock farms anywhere. Located west of Hereford along Tierra Blanca Draw. Approx. 1 section of grass with oceans of irrigation runoff water going down across it. And 480 acres in cultivation with 4 irrigation wells . . . . $80,000.00 cash will handle. Call for details.

ALMOST DRY LAND
400 acres with one 4" well. 110 A. wheat, 160 A. milo, 75 A. cotton . . . . $65,000.00 total price. $18,000.00 down payment. We think this is the best buy in Deaf Smith County.

47-138
Two half sections as nearly perfect as can be . . . clean . . . 2 wells on each . . . underground tile . . . good allots. Owners will sell with minimum down payments and reasonable terms on balance. You can pay for these farms from the income.

86
260 Acres with a $25,000.00 home on it. Four wells, 139 a. grain, 19 a. wheat, 19 a. cotton. We may be able to rent you the adjoining 400 acres too. This land is too cheap at the asking price of $350.00. If you have a $40,000.00 home that is all clear, located in NW Hereford, we could possibly trade.

22
40 Acres on Dimmitt Hiway with two GI loans on it. Has good well, underground tile, clean land and good allotments. No trades, wants all cash for equity.

25
Beautiful half section south of Summerfield on pavement. Has 35 acres of grass and a lake we have never seen dry. Both irrigation wells are on natural gas and approx. ½ mile of tile.

Loans
We make the highest per acre loans on irrigated land with low interest and long terms. Call us.

Alibates Flint Quarry Becomes National Marker

WASHINGTON — Congressman Walter Rogers said today it is his hope that the Congress can approve before the end of the current session an appropriation to begin development of the Alibates Flint Quarries National Monument.

"Now that the President has signed into law my bill creating the Alibates Monument, I am going to exert every effort to see that development of the site can begin as soon as possible," Congressman Rogers said.

THE ALIBATES National tional Monument, including flint quarries used by American Indians for more than 12,000 years and the ruins of pueblos inhabited during the 12th and 13th centuries, is the first national monument to be designated for Texas.

"We in the Panhandle can take special pride in the fact that the Alibates Monument is a first for our State," Congressman Rogers said. "Designation as a national monument is the highest classification that can be placed on a historical site."

AT THE same time the President signed the Rogers Bill creating the new national monment, he signed another Rogers measure naming the Canadian River reservoir "Lake Meredith."

"For many months, Panhandle residents have been calling the reservoir 'Lake Meredith' in honor of the late A. A. Meredith of Borger. Now the name is official," Congressman Rogers said.

THE ALIBATES National Monument will be located near the south rim of Lake Meredith and adjacent to the Alibates recreation area, one of the major recreation areas to be developd by the National Park Service at the reservoir.

Meanwhile, Congressman Rogers has scheduled sessions of his Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee for Thursday and Friday of this week to consider the proposed construction of a third powerplant at the Grand Coulee Dam, in Washington.

He also will attend sessions of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce considering legislation affecting jurisdiction of the National Railroad Adjustment Board.

The full House of Representatives will consider, as its major item of business, Foreign Aid appropriations, Congressman Rogers said.

FLOOR ACTION WEDNESDAY?

Senate Ag Group Passes New Cotton Section 8-7

Senator Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), Chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, squeezed his version of a cotton program through committee Sept. 2 on a vote of eight to seven. An alternate proposal, presented on behalf of the Administration by Senator Herman E. Talmadge (D-Ga.), was defeated in committee by seven votes to eight.

Ellender's proposal as approved by the committee is almost at the opposite pole from the House plan, and if passed by the full Senate promises extreme difficulty of compromise in the resulting Senate-House Conference Committee. The Agriculture Department prefers the provisions passed by the House and can be expected to push for their restoration in the Omnibus Farm Bill on the Senate floor.

THE SENATE Committee will have its report ready by Tuesday, Sept. 7, and floor action is scheduled the following day. One possible solution should conferees face the need to compromise the two widely divens plans would be a return to the current program for one or two years or even for the full four-year life of the bill. Some observers have maintained that this has been a distinct possibility all along.

Preliminary reports say the Senate Ag Committee cotton section is a four-year program which would:

1. Maintain the 16 million acre minimum national allotment with no mandatory cutback of acreage in order to qualify for government support;

2. Provide a loan level set by the Secretary of Agriculture at between 65 and 90 percent of parity for average of the crop at average location (when adjusted to Middling-inch cotton; with parity at the present level of 42.02 cents, this would be about a 28 cent minimum and a maximum of about 38.5 cents);

3. Set a domestic allotment for each grower, set for the four years at 65 percent of effective allotment (after release and reapportioned acres);

4. PROVIDE a payment in 1966 to producers who plant only their domestic acreage, amounting to 25 percent of the loan value times projected yield from domestic allotment (7 cents per pound with the loan at the 28 cent minimum);

5. Give the Secretary authority to set the amount of the domestic payment in 1967, 1968 and 1969 at anywhere between 20 percent and 40 percent of the loan value (5.6 to 11.2 cents per pound with the loan at 28 cents);

6. Retain current release and reapportionment regulations;

7. REQUIRE no reduction in plantings by producers with allotments of 10 acres or less in order to qualify for the domestic payment (as opposed to 15 acre allotments under the Act of 1964);

8. Provide for a payment of three cents per pound to domestic mills, and

9. Require the Secretary to export at least six million bales of cotton each year, remove his authority to set the export price for U. S. cotton prior to the beginning of the marketing year, and require him to meet world market prices as reflected by market quotations from Osaka, Bremen and Liverpool.

IN THIS latter provision, any time the Secretary failed to accept a bid price equal to any of the three specified markets he would be required within 30 days to explain to Congress why such a bid was refused.

In contrast to the Senate Committee recommendation, the cotton section of H. R. 9811 would set the loan at below the world market price, make a variable direct payment to producers, require a 15 percent acreage reduction for participation and permit unlimited planting by producers who did not participate.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., said while the bill is certainly not what High Plains growers want, "it comes closer to complying with the legislative principles adopted by the PCG Board than does the House version." He essentially referred to the fact that the Senate Committee proposal maintains the non-recourse loan concept for protecting producer income, effectively maintains the 16 million acre minimum and at least attempts to assure increased exports.

MOST objectionable features of the plan, according to Johnson would be the possibility of a 28 cent loan and the breaking of the "one price" system. But Johnson believes there is a chance of improving these features if cotton legislation can be forced into conference committee through Senate passage of Ellender's version. He emphasized that "we are still a long ways from a cotton law, and any number of changes may still be made in either the House or Senate proposals before the President signs the final bill."

Left to speculation under this conception of a cotton program is whether increased exports would concentrate on CCC stocks or current crop cotton. "It is conceivable," Johnson said, "that some kind of variable subsidy could be used under this approach to move current crop cotton, but this is something not yet spelled out."

On "one price" cotton, Johnson said all producer groups have supported and still favor that principle but cannot be expected to continue such support at the expense of a workable cotton program and the well-being of producers.

USDA Designates 39 Undesirable Wheat Varieties

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has designated 39 varieties of wheat as undesirable for price support purposes under the 1966-crop wheat price support program.

The same 38 varieties that were designated in 1965 are included, plus one other variety, Gaines, a soft white wheat, when grown east of the Continental Divide.

ALL ARE undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities, either in general or in areas where a variety is not compatible with other predominant varieties.

Announcement of undesirable varieties is being made now so farmers can plan their 1966-crop year operations.

Notice is given at this time to discourage plantings of undesirable wheat varieties. Discounts will be announced later.

THE CLASS (Hard Red Winter) grown in this area named undesirable for the 1966 wheat price support program are; Blue Jacket, Cache, Chiefkan, Cimarron, Early Blackhull, Kan King, Kharkof MC-22, New Chief, Pawnee Sel. 33, Purkof, Red Chief, Red Hull, Red Jacket, Stafford, Wasatch, and Yogo.

These varieties and exceptions were designated by USDA's Agricultural Research Service after consultation with State Agricultural Experiment Station personnel, agronomists, ceral chemists, and others on State and Federal staffs.

Irrigation Group Continues Study On Colorado

WASHINGTON — Congessman Walter Rogers' Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation continues hearings this week into the major water resources development project in the 89th Congress, the Lower Colorado River Basin Project in Nevada, Arizona, and California.

With Congressman Rogers presiding, the subcommittee opened the long series of hearings last week, receiving testimony from Interior Secretary Stewart Udall and other Interior Department officials, U. S. Senators, Members of the House of Representatives, State governors, and business, civic and political leaders.

MEANWHILE, busy sessions are scheduled this week in the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, on which Congressman Rogers also serves as a subcommittee chairman. The full committee will continue to consider provisions of a proposed program of massive Federal research into heart disease, cancer, stroke, and other major diseases.

Before the full House of Representatives this week will be a number of legislative proposals. They include the Automotive Products Trade Act, amendments to the Health Professions Educational Assistance Act, the State Technical Services Act; a bill to provide for research in high-speed ground transportation; the Federal Mine Safety Act; and a bill to clarify National Park Service concessions policy.

"Although the schdule is a busy one, it is clear that Congress is not going to be able to adjourn by Labor Day," Congressman Rogers said. "Because of the volume of legislation on which decisions have not been reached, it is not possible at this date to predict when the session will end. The best present guess is for adjournment about October 15.

Ronda Neff Is Married To Jerry J. Curtsinger

Mrs. Jerry Joe Curtsinger
. . . nee Miss Ronda Kay Neff

Foliage in tall arrangements was massed at the altar of First Baptist Church as a background for the wedding party when Ronda Kay Neff and Jerry Joe Curtsinger exchanged marriage vows Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Neff, 225 Beach, are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Curtsinger, 501 West Third, of the bridegroom. The Rev. B. L. Davis, pastor of the church, conducted the double ring ceremony.

White tapers lighted the avocado green leaves and gold rope was used to link the candelabra with the grouped branches. Mary Sue and Patricia Neff, the bride's younger sisters, were candle-lighters.

Her father gave her in marriage and another sister, Miss Peggy Neff, was her maid of honor. Misses Deanna Lenamond, Judy Husmann, Judy Nelson and Judy Myers were bridesmaids, Karen Kitchens the flower girl.

Jim Curtsinger served as best man. Ushers were Virgil Strange of Denton, Allan Cansler of Canyon, Walker Parris of Abilene, Randy Dowell, Mack Cansler and Joe Mack Hale. Clyde Neff carried the rings.

Before the entry of the bridal party, Mrs. Allen Cansler sang One Head, One Heart with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Leslie Robbins, who played the marches. The Lord's Prayer was also sung by Mrs. Cansler.

A gown of white silk organza over French taffeta was the bride's selection. A front-rising inset of the material defined the waistline and above it Alencon lace overlaid the bodice front and was scalloped around the Cameo neckline. Long sleeves were fastened at the wrist with tiny covered buttons.

A double panel of lace extended down the skirt front to the floor. Wide pleats added fulness in the back, which rounded into a chapel train below a bow at the waist.

Her scalloped shoulder-length veil fell from a French coif of seed pearls and crystal beads in petal design, topped with a rose of white braid. White roses and feathered mums made her bouquet.

Attendants' dresses were all of avocado green brocade, floor length and styled on straight lines, worn with matching shoes and white wrist-high gloves. Headpieces were green tulle roses with scalloped blush veils, and flowers were single white roses.

Flower girl and candle lighters were dressed similarly, except that their frocks were short and they wore only roses in their hair.

For the reception in the church fellowship hall, the table was all in white, with a center arrangement of stock and carnations. Similax garlands circling the wedding cake and punch bowl added a touch of green.

Mrs. Wallace Shelton, Misses Kay Seamonds, Donita McDermitt, Janice Williamson, Mary Sue and Patricia Neff were in the reception house party. Mrs. Jim Curtsinger and Miss Carol Reeder of Amarillo registered guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtsinger left on a trip to Colorado Springs. The bride traveled in a beige suit with avocado accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. After Sept. 8 they will be at home at 703-B 25 Mile Ave.

The bride attended Draughon Business College after graduation from Hereford High School and is employed in an accountant's office. Curtsinger is also an HHS graduate and is a student in West Texas State University at Canyon.

Out-of-city guest at the wedding included Misses Judy Steinburger, Beth Smith and Deana Collehan of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Robbins of Bard, N. M. and Mrs. Edith Weems of Roswell, N. M.

New Facility Set For Santa Fe

A new $250,000 terminal for piggy-back in multi-level automobile loads will be constructed in Amarillo by the Santa Fe Railway. This new facility will be on an eight-acre tract on the Santa Fe industrial property south of 34th street and will be in operation within thirty days

In announcing this new terminal, F. N. Stuppi, general manager of the Santa Fe, said: "These extensive new facilities, the first to be built in Amarillo for loading and unloading automobiles moved by rail into the city on multi-level cars, will establish Amarillo as a new distribution center for automobiles and other vehicles."

As a change from a tossed green salad, cook celery ribs in chicken stock; drain and marinate in French dressing; chill and serve on salad greens with a garnish of pimiento and anchovy fillets.

Presentation of the year's plans for Bud to Blossom Garden Club featured the program at the first meeting of a new season in the home of Mrs. Melvin Cordray Friday morning. Mrs. W. H. Gentry, yearbook committee chairman, gave the preview.

The 1965-66 yearbooks which members received, outline a program on the theme, International Flower Garden, which will also be the theme of the fall flower show Oct. 15. Workshops on horticulture and flower arranging will precede the show.

Two unusual guests who helped entertain club members were Mrs. Gentry's six-month-old granddaughter and the baby daughter of Mrs. Wayne Newsom.

Mrs. Cordray served coffee and rolls to those named and Mmes. Frann Battenfield, Al Conkwright, Bob Cooper, R. A. Daniels, Calvin Edwards, Bill Nelson, W. H. Patton, Delmo Williams and R. N. Yarbro.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Orange Cake Easily Made

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

One of the younger "parsonage wives" in Hereford is Mrs. Ronald Harpster, wife of the pastor of Avenue Baptist Church. The couple moved here last November from Cleburne, where he was director of music and youth activities in Henderson Street Baptist Church.

Turned housewife after a business career as secretary, Mrs. Harpster enjoys keeping the pleasant home next door to the church building, planning and preparing meals and, especially, caring for her six-month-old daughter, Melissa.

The Harpsters were married just after his graduation from Howard Payne College at Brownwood, and he continued to study at Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth while, Mrs. Harpster says, she was earning her "PHT degree—Putting Hubby Through". She was employed in secretarial work while he completed his training.

Her home before marriage was in DeLeon, where she attended high school and where her parents still reside. Her husband's boyhood was spent in Denver and in Missouri.

Brunette Mrs. Harpster has not had time for a great deal of church activity or other events outside her home since she moved here, as she has been fully occupied with Melissa. Now that the baby is older she plans wider participation in church and community affairs, beginning with service to the church as pianist.

Asked for a favorite recipe, Mrs. Harpster supplied one for a cake which says is easy to make, keeps well, and is delicious served as dessert at a meal or with coffee as a snack.

1 cup sugar
1 tsp. grated orange peel

Mix with electric mixer in small bowl and pour over cake while cake is still hot.

Local Library Receives Book From Committee

The Deaf Smith Council on Alcoholism has placed three new books in the county Library to be used by the public.

The three books concern the problem of alcoholism and what can be done about it. They give an educated view of the number three health problem in the United States.

"Just One More", "Primer on Alcoholism" and "I'll Cry Tomorrow" are the titles of the new books.

THE ALCOHOLISM Council has also placed literature racks in various places in the town for people who desire information on alcoholism.

The racks are located in the Hospital and Hereford Medical and Surgical clinic.

The Council also has a speakers bureau which is available to clubs and various other organizations.

THOSE interested in obtaining a speaker for organization programs should contact Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr.

Some of the speakers are law officers, lawyers, doctors and other laymen.

The committee on alcoholism meets on the last Wednesday of each month at 7 a.m. at the Caison House.

BRUNCH ON PATIO — Garden Beautiful Club began fall meetings Friday morning with a brunch in the home of Mrs. Don Robinson, where the yearbook committee acted as hostesses and presented an outline of the year's program. Mrs. Robinson, left, chats with Mrs. Will S. Kerr, club president, and Mrs. N. D. Bartlett, co-hostess, before guests arrive

Garden Beautiful Club Year Begins At Brunch

Brunch was served on the patio of Mrs. Don Robinson's home for members of Garden Beautiful Club to initiate a new season Friday morning.

Yearbook committee members Mmes. Charles Noland, Ray Cowsert and Jess Robinson were hostesses with Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. N. D. Bartlett. Mrs. Noland poured coffee as guests helped themselves to melon balls, sweet rolls and Hawaiian sausages.

Half a watermelon was scooped out to hold vari-colored melon balls as a centerpiece on the table, which was covered with a cloth patterned in bronze-toned grape motif. Late summer blossoms in beds bordering the lawn made an attractive setting.

Mrs. Will S. Kerr, beginning her second year as president, welcomed members and Mrs. Noland presented the 1965-66 yearbooks. She gave brief glimpses into plans for the season's programs.

Subjects for discussion in the monthly meetings include Dried Flowers, Landscaping, Artificial Flowers, Background Planting and Pest Control in Vegetable Gardens. Mrs. Argen Draper, County Home Demonstration Agent, is to be a guest on one program to illustrate pruning methods.

Social meetings will be in December, for a Christmas film showing and gift exchange; in April when Mrs. Ansel McDowell is to review a book on guest day, and in May when the season will close with a luncheon.

Project for the year is cooperation with other Garden Clubs of the city in landscaping Kings Manor.

Officers serving with Mrs. Kerr are Mrs. E. W. Young, Mrs. Cowsert and Mrs. Bruce Brumley, vice presidents; Mrs. G. S. Soloman, secretary; Mrs. Tom Carter, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Hood, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bartlett, reporter.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Leo Witkowski, constitution and by-laws; Mrs. Young, membership; Mrs. V. O. Hennen, social; Mrs. Homer Newton, telephone; Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill, horticulture; Mrs. Roy Smith, project; Mrs. J. Howard Walker, ways and means. Mrs. Bruce Burney is historian.

Welcomed by Mrs. Dowell, shower guests were received by the bride-to-be; her mother, Mrs. Ernest Neff; her fiance's mother, Mrs. E. W. Curtsinger; Miss Peggy Neff, who was maid of honor at the wedding, and Mrs. Jim Curtsinger of Lawton, Okla.

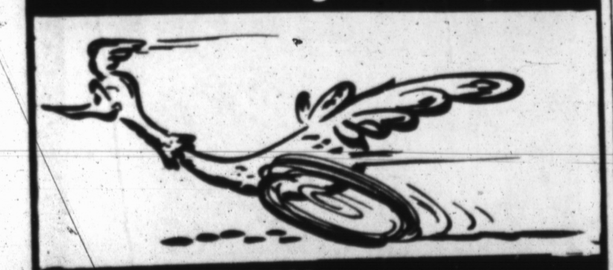

At a table decorated in avocado green and white, Mrs. Raymond Dement, Mrs. Bill Nelson, Miss Kay Seamands and Miss Judy Husmann served cake and punch. White lace covered the green cloth and daisies formed the centerpiece.

Mrs. Judy Myers was at the book where 55 guests registered. Those from other cities were Mrs. Ora Lee Robbins, Rhealeen, and Mrs. C. D. Robbins of Bard, N. M.

Hostesses with Mrs. Dowell were Mmes. Troy Benefield, Avis Jolly, Willodyne Brooks, E. D. Hopson, Norman Lytal, Joe Story, Joe Rogers, J. O. Clark, Zearl Cansler, Wallace Haigood, Armon Lauderback, Palmer Norton and Miss Randy Hopson.

COOPER'S

—Small Talk—

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Another thing I like about Hereford is that you can pass one of the biggest houses on one of the swankest streets and see the householder himself, sometimes with his shirt off, mowing his own lawn.

•••

SOME ASSORTED impressions about people I'm glad I've met in my first three months in Hereford: For instant acquaintance Mrs. Ray Johnson is rivaled by her daughter, Billie Ra Hansen, whom I had the pleasure of meeting (but too briefly) during her summer visit from Ohio; both put you at ease immediately and of course you can't help liking them as quickly...

Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. has the gracious dignity that most important club women think they have, but many lack... One of the pleasantest voices heard by telephone is that of Mrs. Bruce Brown...

Mrs. John H. McCrary as her doctor-husband's receptionist has a suitable air of efficiency which turns into smiling friendliness as she takes time for a personal word...Mrs. A. O. Thompson's conversation is enlivened by an exceptionally witty tongue...

Kathleen Baker, petite of stature but gigantic in energy, has the most striking black eyes... Mrs. Bill Michael the clearest blue eyes...Marian Goodin's eyes are a real hazel and Mrs. James Martin of Westway has reddisth lights in her brown eyes to match those in her brown hair.

•••

MR. AND MRS. Norman D. Bartlett, students in Sul Ross College at Alpine, are here between terms visiting their parents, the J. J. Durhams and the N. D. Bartletts. They plan to return to the far West Texas College Sept. 15. Another member of the Durham family returned to college this week after a visit here. Son James went back to Texas A&M, where he is doing graduate study.

•••

HERE'S AN interesting item from the mail bag:

Linger by that bakery door and breathe in that heavenly aroma of fresh bread. Ah, sweet mouth-watering smell, there's nothing like it...or is there? Keep an eye on the jolly baker and see if he is spraying something all over his shop. If he is, you're the victim of an aromatic fraud.

It seems that many bakers, at least British ones, are buying fake bread aroma these days. They found that pre-packed bread loses that good old appetizing aroma. But they get fresh bread aroma in spray cans.

And, as if that isn't enough, the company which supplies the bakers with bread aroma also produces some 5,000 other artificial smells, including kippers, flowers, babies, and farm animals.

Pretty soon you just won't be able to trust your own nose.

AN INVITATION from a former music director in First Baptist Church here, Glenden Sanders, gave Miss Pat Price an opportunity to travel with the Youth Choir of Gainesville First Baptist Church, which he now directs, on a ten-day tour to sing at Jackson, Miss.; Greensboro and Winston-Salem, N.C.; Riverdale, Md.; Nashville, Tenn. and Little Rock, Ark. Miss Price returned last week after the tour.

The traveling choristers went on to Washington, D. C. to spend a day and parts of two more in sightseeing. They made a special tour of the White House and visited the Capitol, FBI headquarters, Mount Vernon and Arlington National Cemetery. They stopped to tour the national battlefield at Vicksburg, Miss., also.

Miss Price spent a week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sanders at Gainsville for rehearsal before the tour. She was a 1965 graduate of Hereford High School and will leave next week to enroll as a freshman in Hardin-Simmons University.

OCTOBER BRIDE-ELECT — Engagement of Miss Nancy Boyer to Fred J. Mulkey Jr. is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L .R. Boyer, 213 Elm. October 2 is the date set for the marriage, which will be solemnized in the First Presbyterian Church. Miss Boyer is a 1965 graduate of Hereford High School, now employed by the First National Bank. Mulkey, whose parents reside south of Hereford, completed four years of service with the U.S. Air Force last May and is an employe of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. He also received his high school education in Hereford. (Bradly photo)

BSP Plans Convention Host Duties

Preparing to welcome some 250 convention visitors Oct. 16 and 17, the two Hereford chapters of Beta Sigma Phi are completing hostess plans under leadership of Mrs. John Gilliland, general chairman, and Mrs. Irving Alexander, co-chairman.

A western theme has been chosen for the convention program, which will begin with a get-acquainted party the evening of Oct. 16. All meetings will be at St. Anthony's School.

Principal activities will be on Sunday, Oct. 17. A business session and discussion groups will precede the luncheon at which a guest from the sorority's international office will speak. Formal close of the convention will come at a ritual tea that afternoon.

Local plans are being made through the Beta Sigma Phi Council, which correlates work of the two chapters here. Mrs. Gililland is a member of Kappa Iota Chapter, Mrs. Alexander of Xi Epsilon Alpha.

White-Treadway Vows Are Spoken

The marriage of Miss Donna Norene White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross White of Black, and Phillip Lee Treadway, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Treadway, 412 Long Street, was solemnized in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at Temple Baptist Church.

The Rev. William Ware of Las Vegas, N. M. conducted the single ring ceremony. Altar decorations were pink gladiolas and white mums. Miss Becky Long, pianist, played wedding music.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Robert Treadway and Conney White, Gary McKee and George Treadway served as ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a bouffant gown of white net over taffeta, the neckline bordered with a pearl-beaded design, the sleeves tapering to points at the wrist.

A pearl-beaded headband caught her fingertip veil of net and her flowers were pink and white.

Fellowship hall of the church was the scene of the reception after the ceremony. A doll dressed like the bride was the centerpiece on the refreshment table which was covered with pink net over white taffeta.

Misses Carolyn Webb and Betty Drager served the wedding cake and pink punch.

After a trip to Carlsbad, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Treadway will be at home at 205 West Seventh. He is employed at Lee Tire and Farm Supply.

Guests from other cities here for the wedding were the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Neeley of Phoenix, Ariz.; the bride's grandmother, Mrs. S. G. White of Lazbuddie; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Loyd of Tucson and C. F. Lockhart of Pomona, Calif.

Farm And Ranch Club's Programs Are Prepared For Coming Season

Yearbooks are ready for distribution in the Farm and Ranch Club, which will open its 1965-66 season with a luncheon Sept. 16 in the home of Mrs. Jack Weaver. The program that day, directed by Mrs. W. W. Thomas, will feature a style show.

HOSTESS — Martha Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Russell of 211 Park Ave., recently completed training as a hostess for Braniff International and has been assigned to the airline's flight crew base at Dallas.

The club, a member of the Top of Texas District in the state Federation of Women's Clubs and also affiliated with the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs, is headed this year by Mrs. Phillip Miller. Officers include Mrs. Cliff Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Thomas, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. R. W. Hairgrove, reporter; Mrs. John E. Hill, historian; Mrs. Glenn Burrus, parliamentarian.

Its programs are presented at monthly luncheons in members' homes. One special meeting will be for an out-of-town luncheon April 7, observing Guest Day. A Christmas party, a book review at the March meeting and a program by exchange students in April will be other highlights.

Farm and Ranch Club members will serve as chairmen of the hostess group for the Sept. 30 meeting of the County Club Federation in Hereford Community Center. Other hostess clubs are Pioneer Study, Business and Professional Women and Hereford Garden Club. The program on American Heritage will be presented at a luncheon. Mrs. Johnson is chairman of the committee which prepared the Farm and Ranch Club yearbooks. Other members are Mrs. Burrus and Mrs. Weaver.

Mrs. Paul Rudd, Mrs. Hairgrove and Mrs. Thomas comprise the finance committee; Mrs. John E. Hill and Mrs. Weaver the cheer committee, Mrs. Elmer Combs and Mrs. Roy Pruitt the social committee. Federation counselors are Mrs. G. V. Hall and Mrs. Thomas.

Anniversary Of WSCS Is Observed At Luncheon

Twenty-fifth anniversary of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was observed in First Methodist Church here with a luncheon Wednesday, when charter members and past presidents of the local organization were honored.

The WSCS was formed, succeeding the Missionary Society, after northern and southern branches of Methodism were united. Mrs. J. F. Ward was the first president of the WSCS here.

Other past presidents recognized at the luncheon were the late Mrs. Elizabeth Brumley, Mmes. Ed Warren, S. L. Easley, Leroy Aven, Colby Conkwright, Philip Barkley, Grant Hanna and Paul Coneway. Mrs. Lee Benefield is the current president.

Charter members present to take honor seats at the head table were Mmes. C. R. Logan, Ora Nunnally, T. W. Alderson, Mary Seigler, Irene Ballard, Ollie Freeman, Ola Davis, Mary Houston, J. D. Newell, Benefield, John Jacobsen Jr., Conkwright, Don Davidson, G. W. Newsom, A. A. Hare and Ross Stark.

A silver bowl on the table held pink carnations from which a ribbon extended, glittered to read "25th Anniversary". Pink tapers in silver holders stood on either side. Mmes. S. L. Garrison and Ansel McDowell were co-chairmen of the hostess group, members of Carrie Black Circle.

Mrs. Art Stoy was program leader and devotional speaker. Mrs. Conkwright presented the topic, "25th Anniversary — Memoir of an Era".

New yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Floyd Dunavant, vice president and program chairman. They outline programs on the year's theme, "Living in Such an Age".

Announcement was made that first circle meetings of the season will be held Sept. 8. New Circle leaders are Mmes. Alderson, Claude McGowen, Ross Stark, Jim Conkwright, Frank Campbell and Don Davidson. President of the Wesleyan Service Guild, related organization for employed women, is Mrs. L. C. Thomas.

Barbecue special; simmer a smoked boneless pork shoulder butt according to wrapper directions; cool, cover and refrigerate. When the charcoal fire is ready outdoors, cut the meat in 1/2-inch thick slices. Broil over moderate heat, basting with a barbecue sauce.

ELECTRICITY FROM KENTUCKY

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Things are a little brighter for 250 families in the town of Santo Domingo de los Colorados in Ecuador.

The 28 rural electric cooperatives in Kentucky donated about $90,000 worth of used equipment to bring electric power to the homes.

"It was a rare experience to see transformers hanging on palm tree poles in the jungle providing service to those needy people," said J. K. Smith, manager of the Kentucky Association of Rural Electric Cooperative Corps.

H. D. CHATTER

BY ARGEN DRAPER
County H. D. Agent

Texas A & M University is conducting the Panhandle Economic Study and has promised some real fine information and recommendations for the whole area. It is the hope that this will have lasting benefit to our area.

James Murphrey, Area Farm Management Specialist with the Extension Service, is in charge of the survey. He is interested in getting the thinking of the folks in this area, explaining the procedure and showing some of the benefits.

Many of you know Mr. Murphrey from the farm and home management sub-committee programs we had a few years ago. Call us if you think your club might be interested.

FROM THESE SAME farm and home management sub-committee programs, you remember Mildred Webb. She is now Mildred Medlock and I see on the personnel list from Extension that she is working as county home demonstration agent in Dawson County.

MRS. ALVIN SMITH has resigned as the secretary in this office after five years of very fine service to the county. She will be missed as she seemed to always be one step ahead of us in the work and in getting the information for persons who called the office. Anyway, thanks, Mrs. Smith, for some very good work for us.

The voice you will hear now is Mrs. Jean Kennedy. She began work on September 1st. Come by and meet Jean as she is very anxious to learn the work and to give the same fine service that you are accustomed to receiving here.

The local extension office now has four brown-eyed employees. Is this good or bad? When will be a good time to check?

THE COURTHOUSE will be closed Monday for Labor Day. I plan to labor canning one of our favorite foods - snapped pinto beans. I think they have better flavor than any snap bean. But, the good flavor and good texture last about two days.

PLANS ARE UNDERWAY for the 4-H work at St. Joseph's School. The committee is asking for some subject matter leaders. Extension will furnish the printed material and train the leaders. The school officials are very cooperative and the committee has made a lot of plans and done a great deal of work.

If you would like to help in teaching these youngsters, please call the office at EM 4-3573. Or if you would like to teach in the adult work there, let us know.

THE WYCHE CLUB had a very interesting meeting Thursday. Bill Lankford gave a program on arrangement of permanent flowers. The new fall colors in permanent flowers are so pretty.

I particularly like the neutral avacado and the cabbage roses in this color were so pretty. The permanent flowers are so real that they aggravated my hayfever. It is later than I thought, as Bill gave us a 1966 calendar.

IT'S SAUERKRAUT time. Here are the directions for making;

Remove the outer leaves from firm, mature heads of cabbage; wash and drain. Remove core or cut it into thin shreds.

Shred cabbage and weigh 5 pounds. Accuracy in weighing is important to insure correct proportion of cabbage to salt.

Measure 3 tablespoons pure granulated salt and sprinkle over 5 pounds shredded cabbage.

Allow the salted cabbage to stand a few minutes to wilt slightly. Mix well, with clean hands or a spoon, to distribute salt uniformly.

PACK THE SALTED cabbage into containers, then press firmly with wooden spoon, tamper, or with hands until the juices drawn out will just cover the shredded cabbage.

Place a water-filled plastic bag on top of the cabbage. A water-filled plastic bag fits snugly against the cabbage and against the sides of the container and prevents exposure to air.

When fermentation is complete, remove from container and heat in kettle to simmering temperature. Pack hot sauerkraut into clean, hot jars; cover with hot juice, filling to ½ inch of top of jar. Adjust lids. Place jars in boiling-water bath and process 15 minutes for pints and 20 minutes for quarts. Start to count the processing time as soon as hot jars are placed into the actively boiling water.

Remove jars from the canner and complete seals if necessary. Set jars upright, several inches apart, on a wire rack to cool.

A major league rookie is one who has not been on the 25-man roster more than 45 days or who has not exceeded 90 times at bat or 45 innings pitched if short of the 45 days.

Soil District Office Has New Booklet Ready

Months of work on the part of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District officials was culminated Monday when they received 1,000 copies of their colorful new booklet, "Conservation Program and Plan".

Board members Charles Hoover, Clarence Betzen, Luther Lesly, Eldred Brown and F. L. Eicke with the help of Don Newman, conservation manager, have assembled an informative booklet describing soil conditions in the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District.

THE BOOKLET contains a statement of purpose which clearly describes the goals of the conservation district.

A history of the area as it affects conservation problems gives a descriptive background including the drilling of the first irrigation well in 1910. Wells in the county now nember 2,322 which are used to water Hereford's many vegetable and grain sorghum crops.

ANOTHER feature of the booklet helps the farmer to plan the use of tail water and also how to make conservative use of his land.

The booklet is vividly illustrated with pictures, graphs and maps which describe soil conditions, slope of the land, and other aspects of Deaf Smith County.

Newman said that the booklets are available at the soil conservation office for anyone who is interested in having one.

Gas Tax Refund Available To Area Farmers

Farmers can get a four-cents per gallon refund on each gallon of gasoline used for farming purposes during the 12-month period ending June 30 by filing a claim with the Internal Revenue Service, reports Deaf Smith County Agent Juston McBride.

The tax refund claims are to be submitted on Form 2240 available at the county agent's office or through the Internal Revenue Service.

The claims must be postmarked no later than September 30. They should be mailed to District Director, Internal Revenue Service, Dallas, 7501.

Extension Farm Management Specialist John Seibert says sufficient records should be kept by each claimant to enable the Internal Revenue Service to verify the accuracy of the claim.

Seibert said a farmer who uses 2,000 gallons of gasoline a year could probably compile the necessary records and fill out the form in about one hour and for the hours work he would get a refund of $80.

Senate Enlargement Needed For Rural Representation

Most voters have heard about the amendment to the Texas Constifution to be voted on Tuesday, September 7, which would increase the membership of the State Senate from 31 to 39 members. Few however, apparently understand what it implies or what is at stake.

We feel that rural voters, in particular, should be concerned and should not fail to go to the polls September 7 and vote for this amendment. They have a great deal at stake.

Farmers and ranchers were well organized and had a strong voice in the drafting of the Constitution of 1876. It follows that the document they adopted protected rural interests. One of the devices they employed was a provision which limited any one county to one state senator.

This, of course, has been nullified by the Supreme Court ruling that the one-man, one-vote principle must be adhered to. As a result, the Legislature has dutifully redrawn the 31 senatorial districts so their respective populations approximate the average of 309, 022 each. This has necessitated the establishment of a number of districts which are absolutely tremendous in size.

As a result, we can see the voice of the rural people becoming weaker and weaker. This is the voice which, it is generally conceded, has through the years been a virile, responsible, and sensible voice and has given our great state good, efficient, and economical government.

The new plan for 31 senatorial districts, which will be in effect in 1967 if this amendment fails, will have several major negative aspects as far as rural population is concerned. One is the obviously diluted relationship between senators and their constituents. A senator simply cannot communicate effectively with his people when they are scattered over areas larger than a number of states — including one larger than Tennessee, Ohio, Kentucky, or Virginia.

Secondly, there will be less consideration given to common or community interests. For example, one district combines the rugged ranch country north and west of San Antonio with the industrialized and farming country just south and east of Dallas.

Thirdly, because of contests generated by the 31-member plan, no less than seven of the Senate's experienced and able lawmakers will be turned out.

Addition of eight new districts will alleviate all of these circumstances while still giving the urban areas their proper representation. Moreover, community of interest differences within cities will more nearly be recognized and accommodated by representation.

Another plus would be to provide work-load relief in the Senate. Each senator is assigned from nine to 14 committees, and, as legislative problems become more numerous and complex, it has become increasingly difficult for senators to study vital matters before them as carefully as they should and would like.

In 1876 the Constitution provided 90 members to the House of Reoresentatives; and the people have long since decided that demands of vastly increased population and complex, modern society could better be served by increasing House membership to 150. The same common sense approach, it seems to us, should apply to the Texas Senate where nearly 90 years ago each senator was responsible for 26,000 Texans as compared to 309,022 today.

It is clearly in the best interests of all Texans — and particularly those in the rural areas — to vote FOR the enlarged Senate amendment on September 7.

College Openings Are Available

The anomaly of widespread poverty and substantial unemployment in the midst of unprecendented national prosperity, which many people find hard to understand, has its parallel in the educational field.

At a time when many -- perhaps most — institutions of higher learning are being swamped with more applications for admission than they can accept, there still are many colleges that are looking for students. Some have expanded their facilities and faculties in anticipation of an enrollment deluge and are now faced with the prospect of having a good many empty seats in their classrooms when the new semester begins next month.

A check with admission agencies a few days ago showed that there still are many openings for high school graduates desiring a college education, in institutions throughout the country, if the applicants have reasonably satisfactory academic qualifications and show promise of benefiting from college attendance. Although some schools are giving consideration to lowering their admission requirements, most insist that they had rather operate with empty seats.

The problem seems to be one primarily of matching up the would-be college students with the openings that are available, and this is not easy in a country as large and diverse as the United States. The point is, however, that it is still possible for large numbers of rejected high school graduates to get into college somewhere, even though the openings may not be in the institutions they would prefer to attend.

The accrediting agency for the Middle Atlantic states, the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, said that about a third of its 300 member institutions still had space for freshmen students in September while 125 had openings for either freshmen or transfer students, or both. The New England Board of Higher Education said that there were 3,000 vacancies in 58 of its member institutions. And the situation is even more wide open in the Mid-West, Far West and South. Although some of the institutions with openings may not rank among those with the greatest prestige and consequently are less popular, many of them are very good colleges capable of imparting an education on a par with that to be obtained anywhere else.

Senator Tower Asserts Protest To 14-B Repeal

(Editor's Note: Following is a letter from U. S. Senator John Tower received by the Brand Saturday in which the Republician senator describes an anticipated fight in the Senate over proposed repeal of Section 14-b of the Taft-Hartley Law.)

This week I want all Texans to be assured that a strong and determined fight is going to be made in the United States Senate for retention of our state's Right-to-Work law.

The Administration has said it wishes, as a priority matter, to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law section which permits our state, and 18 other states, to have Right-to-Work laws.

WITHIN recent weeks, I have participated in bipartisan Senate planning designed first to delay and ultimately to defeat this Federal government attack upon Texas law. You may be assured that I will take a leading role in an extended Senate debate pointing out the merits of Right-to-Work legislation.

If Section 14-b of the Taft-Hartley Law is repealed under this Administration's pressure, many Texans will be forced to join unions — or at least to pay dues to a union—before they can get or keep a job. This is the situation which exists in 31 states. Compulsory union membership or compulsory financial support of a union is required of workers if they want to work.

In 1947 our state's legislature decided that Texans should not face this compulsory situation, but that they should have the right to work without supporting a union, if they so desired. Our legislature decided — as it is permitted to decide under Section 14-b — that Texans should be free to make their own decisions about union membership; that Texans should retain the right to either join or not join a union.

IT IS illegal to deny employment to any person because of race, color, creed, or national origin. It seems most strange to me, therefore, that some persons so staunchly for those employment freedoms would deny employment to a citizen who prefers not to pay dues to a union.

Right to work means a man cannot be forced to pay dues to an unwanted bargaining agent in order to earn a living. Right to work also means that a man remains free to become an active, dues-paying union member if that is in his best interest.

Let me make it very clear that right to work does not interfere in any way with legitimate union activity. It does not restrict the right of employees to organize and to bargain collectively with their employers.

OUR STATE law certainly has not restricted Texas unions. They are strong and well led.

Texas unions are that way because they pay better attention to tehir knitting than do unions in states where compulsory membership frees union leaders of responsibility to union members.

This seems to me a very basic issue. We should not any more make a man join a union to hold his job than we would force him to work for a specific firm, if he wants a job.

In addition, there are economic consequences to be considered. Our state's continued favorable economic progress is at stake.

OVER THE past decade all Texans have benefited because freedom of choice has been preserved for our workers. For instance, in the number of new jobs created over the last 10 years, Texans enjoy nearly a 10 percent advantage over compulsory-unionism states. In num-

Farmers Get Less

Last week a group of Ochiltree county farmers were in Dallas and blew a fuse when the waiter in one of the better hotels there handed them a menu, to which was pinned a printed card explaining that because of the rise in the cost of beef, all menu prices on steaks would have 50 cents added to them.

The natural question, and one which was asked by the local farmers, was why is it that no such printed sign is put on menus dropping the cost of steaks by 50 cents when the price of live cattle drops down to back breaking prices for the farmers and ranchers who produce them.

This is a question that never gets answered.

The cattle market may drop to the bottom, but retail meat prices don't fluctuate that much. Always sensitive to a rise, food prices seem to encounter stickiness when it comes to a drop.

Right now Congress is debating what they call a "bread tax" in the proposed farm program, and the city boys are shouting that the farmer has dined at the political trough long enough and it is time to quit subsidizing him at the expense of the consumers who have to pay higher food prices because of this.

This is powerful political medicine, since there are more city voters who buy groceries than these are farm voters who produce them.

But the fact of the matter is that the farmer is the fall guy. He doesn't cash in on the gravy train like he has been pictured. The government itself says that the cost of the wheat in a loaf of bread is merely 2 cents of the 28 or so that the consumer pays for it.

So if the farmer donated the wheat, there wouldn't be much of a change in bread price, probably it would stay just the same.

The government says that for the past 17 years prices received by farmers for food they produce have dropped 15 per cent and in the same period, retail prices of food have jumped 31 per cent.

The farmer now gets 37 cents of each $1 spent for food. In a box of 29 cent cornflakes, the farmer's corn accounts for 2½ cents.

Who gets all of the food money? It is hard to track down, but it is evident that the rising cost of food lies not in the rise in cost of the raw product, but in the labor costs of processing, packaging and marketing.

The farmer in this country is strapped in producing $1.25 wheat and trying to buy $7,000 tractors on his wheat crop.

The farmer is living in an age of inflation — and unless something drastic gives it is going to get worse instead of better.

Directors of MacKenzie Municipal Water Authority met in Tulia Monday night to hear reports on the progress of the authority. Legislation creating the permanent organization was passed by the Texas Legislature and signed by the governor earlier in the year. Cities included in the project which would build a dam and impound surface water for municipal use are Tulia, Silverton, Floyada and Lockney. Proposed site of the dam is west of Highway 284 between Silverton and Vigo Park. The dam would be 1,000 feet long and the impounded water would cover 800 acres.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweek farm is undisturbed over news of a new gadget in Washington, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editar:

According to an inside-dope column I read in a newspaper last night during a repeat television show which I didn't even like the first time, the news has leaked out that many government officials in Washington are using machines to sign their names.

Somebody has perfected a robot that learns how to sign a name exactly like an official signs it, then all the official has to do is dictate a bunch of letters and a secretary hands a fountain pen to the robot and it scratches out the signature. The official can be a thousand miles away while the machine is in his office signing his name to his mail.

This commentator was outraged at the news, claiming it could lead to all sorts of complications, especially if the machine fell into the hands of the wrong person.

Well, I guess it does have its hazards, like raising children, but I have thought about it and have concluded its advantages far outweigh its disadvantages, the same as with children, generally speaking.

Take check-writing. I don't have the exact figure, don't guess anybody has, but there must be at least 10 million government checks written every month in this country, with more being added every time Congress gets a quorum, and without some sort of automatic check-writer, the job would finally get so big that it would take a third of the population full time writing checks for the other two-thirds. With machines taking over, this is eliminated and everybody can have a check.

Automation never has worried me, Personally, any time the government wants to send me a check, you won't find me squawking about whether it was hand-signed or machine-signed. All I want to know is, will the bank cash it.

By the way, if anybody thinks I'm going to come into the Brand office every week and sign my initials to my letter in every subscriber's copy, he's crazy. Me and Washington are living in the machine age.

Your faithfully,
J. A.

Hereford Artist's Work Is Slated For Exhibit

A one-man exhibit of oil paintings by Oleta Weemes, Hereford artist, will open Tuesday in the art show room of First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Wolflin Village, Amarillo. The exhibit will hang through Sept. 17.

It will be open to the public without admission charge during office hours of the firm, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Approximately 20 paintings will be shown including scenes and decorative figure studies.

Mrs. Weemes' work has been shown in displays over this area and in Dallas, but this will be her first one-man exhibit. All her paintings are in oil.

She has painted almost since she can remember; although she had no formal training as a girl, she felt that she had a talent that must be given an outlet so she practiced and painted for her own pleasure.

A busy life as homemaker and mother crowded out the painting for a while, but when her sons reached teenage they urged her to resume practice and to begin lessons. Since 1953 she has been studying and painting.

Her instructors in art have included Fredrick Taubes of New York City and Raymon Froman at the School of Art in Cloudcroft, N.M. She has attended classes taught by Izabelle Robinson, Dord Fitz, Bill Brand and Julian Robles.

"Your best teacher is the mistakes you make yourself—when you are able to see them", Mrs. Weemes believes. She likes to put a finished picture out of sight a while, then look at it with a critical eye.

Hereford residents 24 years, Mrs. Weemes and her husband, Henry, live at 118 Moreman in the house they have occupied 17 years. Their daughter, Mrs. Melinda Duggan, and sons, Tommie and Chick, are now in homes of their own here.

Now Mrs. Weemes has small grandchildren to use as models for portraits, as she used her children when they were younger. Among the striking protraits she will exhibit are two of her sons as teenagers dressed in jeans. Another, a portrait on velvet of a young girl in a red dress, she says is imaginary but is suggestive of her daughter in her first formal party frock.

Her favorite landscape is a moolit snow scene, and she also likes a study of historic Independence Hall in Philadelphia, lighted at night.

The smallest picture in the collection catches the viewer's eye at once; it is a sensitive portrayal of an older woman's hands, at work on a delicate piece of crocheted lace. Her husband's mother was her model.

Certain to attract attention in the display is a painting of a cowboy approching a horse in a corral, and another, larger and in monochrome browns, of mounted cowboys and cattle.

ber of new manufacturing jobs created, the Texas advantage is 29 percent.

Our state ranked second in the nation last year in attracting new industry with its new jobs. And, all of these new jobs are available for all Texans whether they prefer union membership or not.

NATIONAL polls indicate that nearly 70 percent of Americans, who understand the issues involved, oppose repeal of Taft-Hartley, Section 14-b. And, I believe this public sentiment will become even stronger if an extended "educational campaign" is mounted in the Senate.

I have placed top priority on this "educational campaign," and I will speak at length in the devotion of Texans for the principles of freedom of choice and of the right to work — even though such efforts may force me to curtail my many trips to Texas and visits with Texans.

I regard this right-to-work debate as the most important action which will face the 89th Congress, and I will support the Texas law with all my energy; with faith in its correctness of principle; and with confidence that the right to work can be preserved..

New Vehicle Tags Required For Residents

AUSTIN — Most new residents of Texas are required to buy new vehicle registration plates for their automobiles as soon as they establish residence in Texas. The same is true of those who accept gainful employment in the State.

ACTUALLY, Texas observes a tration agreement with all other tration agreement with all toher states. Fourteen States permit non-residence to obtain new license plates at varying periods after they establish residence or obtain gainful employment. All other States demand immediate purchase of new plates, and — in observance of the reciprocal agreement — so does Texas.

R. W. Townsley, Director of the Texas Highway Department, Motor Vehicle Division, has reminded all law enforcement agencies in the State of the reciprocal licensing agreements.

"Enforcement of out of State license plate agreements is very important to law enforcement since a current license plate, in addition to providing revenue to build and maintain roads, serves to identify a vehicle with its owner," Townsley said.

HE POINTED out that varying "grace periods" are allowed new residents moving to Texas from these states:

30 days—Alabama, Colorado, Georgia, Mississippi, Ohio, Tennessee, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

60 days—Virginia, Wyoming.

Six months—Connecticut, Minnesota.

On the next December 31—California, Kansas.

New residents from all other states must obtain license plates as soon as they move to Texas, or as soon as they accept a job in the Lone Star State. The only exception are daily commuters from bordering States, who need not relicense their vehicles though they may work in Texas.

Non residents in Texas as visitors or students and not engaged in gainful employment may operate on Texas highways with their current home state license plates. However, such plates must be renewed prior to the non resident's home state enforcement date or Texas plates must be purchased.
