Champ Downs Five Dozen Eggs

"I like eggs," declared 203-pound Robert Sauls, two-handed egg-eating man shown in action at bottom left, after winning the title of "world's champion egg eater" by gulping down 60 eggs in 55 minutes in a contest at Knoxville, Tenn. Scarcely egging the 59-year-old Sauls on was his opponent, Perry Corwin, 35, who quit after gobbling only 42. Corwin is shown top while he was stil doing manfully on the first two dozen soft-boiled delicacies.

Chinese Map New Offense

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, April 11.— Chinese said today they were preparing a gigantic drive toward the Yangtze river in an effort to retake Nanking, the capital they lost to Japanese last December 11.

Reporting news sweeping victories along the Tientsin-Pukow railway and Taierhchwang fronts, the Chinese saw these asserted victories as the inspiration for the new offensive.

To Change Tactics

A strong Chinese force along the Tientsin-Pukow line awaiting an expected Japanese drive northward against Hsuchow was reported ready to change its tactics and strike out toward Pengu, about 100 miles north of Nanking.

Japanese acknowledged three Chinese attacks in the vicinity of Pengpu but said they were repulsed and that Chinese losses were heavy.

Send In Reinforcements

Heavy Japanese reinforcements were pouring into Shantung province yesterday from North China and Tsingtao, Shantung seaport, to prevent a threatened isolation of Japanese legions along the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

Far in the south Japanese bombed Canton Sunday. More than 100 persons, including many girl workers in a weaving plant, were reported killed.

JAPS MAKE SETTLEMENT

TOKYO, April 11. (AP)—The Japanese government today paid the Seventh Day Adventist mission in South China $2,365 for damaging a hospital at Waichow in a bombing raid last September.

The money settlement was the first of its kind to be made. Payment was made through the American embassy.

High Damage Is Estimated For Wheat

Wheat damage on the South Plains is estimated by George Roach, local grain dealer and president of the Lubbock Grain exchange at up to 85 per cent of the crop. He first made the estimate Friday, after hearing reports of farmers and others on the possible damage.

After making a trip to Abernathy, Hale Center, Edmondson, Plainview, Lockney and Petersburg Sunday, Roach said this morning: "I have not changed my mind about the extent of the damage; I believe that up to 85 per cent of the crop was killed."

Checked Plants In Fields

Roach said he talked with farmers and producers, as well as grain men, on the extent of damage. He also inspected plants in fields and checked over the plants and the growth prior to the freeze to determine the extent.

"I talked to growers and their opinion is that the wheat is ruined," he declared." If a temperature of 20 degrees will not kill a plant, I don't know what will. Wheat was not as high up north, around Edmondson, as it was down here, and the damage there may not be as great.

Had Two, Three Joints

"So much of the wheat had two and three joints and a head, that I do not see how it could help be-

Five Burn To Death In Highway Crash

YAKIMA, Wash., April 11. (AP)—Mrs. Lyman Thew and four children were burned to death today when their automobile caught fire after a smashup six miles west of here.

Thew, repairing the car when another car hit it, was critically burned in attempting to rescue his family. He managed to pull one of his five children, Ruby, from the fiery trap, while nearby residents rescued Marvin Eakins and his 7-year-old son, Bobby, from the other car before it burned.

As J. B. Thola with a garden hose, quenched the flames searing Ruby's body, the critically injured child took one horrified look into the funeral pyre and cried:

"Let's pray for my mother and sisters and brothers."

Texas Is Boasted As World's Best Plains Soaring Base

WICHITA FALLS, April 11 (AP) — More than 7,000 spectators watched the first German sailplane ever brought to Texas float and circle above the municipal airport here Sunday as the Soaring Society of America expedition got under way.

L. B. Barringer of Philadelphia, manager of the society, piloted the giant gulled-wing plane on experimental flights, several lasting 35 minutes. When he made preliminary tests Saturday, Barringer asserted his faith in this portion of Texas as ideal for soaring. Sunday's flights seemed to bar out his previous observations.

"Meteorologists claim that central Russia is the world's best plains country soaring base, but my back is up," he said. "I believe Texas will prove the ideal spot."

Settlement Of Differences Between Two Powers Seen As Result Of Action

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, April 11. — Britain today moved to open the way for recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia by formally requesting that the Ethiopian question be considered by the league council meeting opening May 9.

This was the first tangible result of the Anglo-Italian negotiations in Rome, which have produced a new but as yet unpublished agreement for settlement of differences between the two powers, dating from the Ethiopian war and aggravated by the Spanish civil conflict.

STRIKES HARASS FRANCE

PARIS, April 11. (AP)—Rapidly spreading strikes today paralyzed the metal industries of the Paris region in spite of the appeal of the new premier, Edouard Daladier, to the nation for discipline.

Workers of a dozen of the capital's largest factories, including the Renault automobile plant, joined some 60,000 strikers already out, swelling the total to nearly 100,000.

Chief demands of the strikers are that wages be tied to the rising cost of living, although employers insisted the movement was "political inspired." Most of the metal workers belong to communist-controlled unions."

Placed On Agenda

In compliance with the British request, the league's secretary-general ordered the Ethiopian question placed on the provisional agenda which must be approved by the council in its opening session.

At the same time Britain's note to the league was ordered communicated to all members of the council and to Haile Selassie, the deposed and exiled emperor of Ethiopia.

To Keep Out Of Spain

In return for British recognition of her rule over Ethiopia, Italy is understood to have agreed to keep out of Spain after the Spanish war is ended.

From Paris came reports the new French government of Edouard Daladier was likely to follow Britain's example by seeking an accord with Rome based on similar terms.

T. S. Williams, fireman; A. L. Riddle, brakeman, both of Denison, were injured. Williams was scalded on the legs and Riddle suffered a scalp wound, back and leg injuries.

Cause Not Determined

Garner Gives His Grass To A Republican; Silent On Act

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP) — Shadows deepened over the White House lawn today—Vice President Garner has given his famous grass to a Republican.

The vice president, who boasted last December he could grow grass on the bald spots on the executive mansion's spacious lawn, confessed today he had received a package of tender grass shoots lifted from the front lawn of his home in faraway Uvalde, Texas.

Cornered in his senate chambers, Garner explained he had given the grass to Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, a Republican. About the White House lawn he wouldn't talk.

Whitney Gets Prison Term For Larceny

Sentence Of Five To Ten Years Is Meted Out For Former Exchange Chief

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 11.— Richard Whitney, bankrupt broker and former president of the New York Stock exchange, was sentenced today to serve from five to ten years in prison for grand larceny.

Whitney, whose brokerage firm, Richard Whitney & company, failed on March 8, had pleaded guilty of two indictments charging first degree grand larceny in the misuse of securities entrusted to his care by the New York Yacht club and members of his family.

To Run Concurrently

Judge Owen W. Bohan, in general sessions, sentenced Whitney to the five to ten year sentence on each indictment, the sentences to run concurrently.

Whitney, who at no time since his financial crash stunned Wall Street—his firm had done considerable business for J. P. Morgan & company—had shown any outward sign of emotion, took the words of Judge Bohan calmly. He will serve the sentence in Sing Sing prison.

Plea Made For Leniency

His attorney, Charles H. Tuttle, made a long plea for leniency. Judge Bohan, however, had before him a lengthy memorandum, prepared by Thomas E. Dewey, district attorney, recommending a "substantial punitive sentence."

Under the time off for good behavior system, a five to ten year sentence can be completed in about three and one half years.

Liner Queen Mary Rides Out Storm

PLYMOUTH, England, April 11 (AP) The liner Queen Mary arrived from New York four hours late today after battling a 24-hour storm which sent great waves crashing over her decks, injuring about 40 persons, most of them slightly.

It was the worst storm the big liner has encountered.

Marc Connelly, New York playwright and producer, said the storm was "worse than a West Indies hurricane."

"I saw dozens of passengers picked up by stewards and escorted for medical attention," he said. "The waves must have been 100 feet high."

W. H. Suydam, New York banker, was dozing in a deck chair when a piano in the saloon broke loose and crashed into a wall. He woke up in a tangle of wreckage with a broken arm and a black eye. Suydam is vice president of the Central Hanover Bank and Trust company.

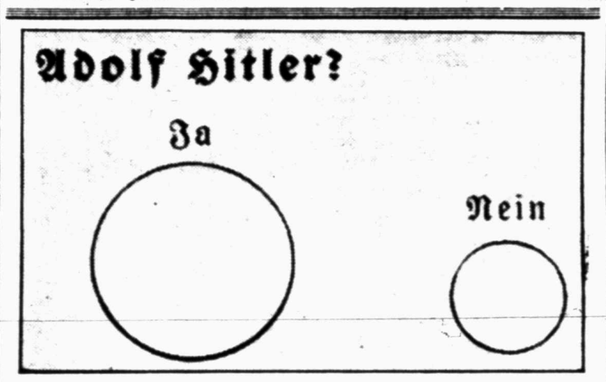

British Press Says Move Is Blow To U. S. Social Climbers

LONDON, April 11. (AP)— British newspapers see Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy's decision hereafter to present to the king and queen in royal court only families of United States officials in Britain and families of Americans actually living in this country as a "bitter blow" to "United States social climbers."

The ambassador's axe for U. S. debs," said one paper, "shattered American socialites' most cherished ambition."

EL PASO, April 11. (AP) — Chief of Police C. Mendiola of Laredo reported today he believed officers had encircled the suspected slayers of Mrs. Weston F. Frome and her daughter, Nancy, in the Laredo district.

Weston G. Frome and her daughter, Nancy, led Texas officers on a will-o-the-wisp chase today.

The hunt concentrated in a triangular region bounded by highways connecting Del Rio, Laredo, and San Antonio.

White Triangle On Side

The latest report of the automobile, which was marked with a white triangle on the side, was that it passed through Crystal, nine miles north of Carrizo Springs, on the highway leading to Uvalde and San Antonio.

The Del Rio sheriff's office expressed the opinion the woman and man, objects of a search by Texas Rangers, had headed for San Antonio, where they would be far more likely to escape detection than in the sparsely settled border country.

Car Reported Seen

Citizens in Del Rio, Carrizo Springs, Laredo and Crystal reported seeing the car. Its erratic course added to the conviction of authorities that it was the machine seen closely following the Frome car on

Townsend Has To Go To Jail

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 11 — Dr. Francis E. Townsend, author of the Townsend plan to pay $200 a month to the aged, failed in the Supreme court today in his effort to escape a 30-day jail sentence imposed for contempt of a house committee.

The tribunal refused to review a decision by the United States court of appeals for the District of Columbia upholding the jail sentence and a $10 fine.

Townsend, 71 years old, walked out of a house committee session on May 21, 1936, after making a statement that the legislators were "unfriendly" and "unfair". He said he did not "propose to come back except under arrest."

Rail Legislation Is Asked By Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)— President Roosevelt asked congress today for "some immediate legislation" to forestall prospective operating difficulties of the railroads, but made no specific recommendations.

He gave the legislators a strong hint, however, that he believed any long-time legislation should provide for incorporation of all executive agencies dealing with transportation in one department.

At the same time he sent to the legislators the report of the three-man committee of the Interstate Commerce commission he had asked to study the railroad situation and comments made on the report by Secretary Morgenthau, Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction corporation, railway executives, labor officials and others.

Majority Is Heaviest In His Career

Total Of 49,799,269 Votes 'Ja' While 452,180 Mark 'Nein' In Plebiscite

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, April 11.—The greatest turnout of voters in German history gave Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler the biggest majority of his career in Sunday's Anschluss plebiscite.

Nearly 50,000,000 men and women marched to the ballot box or were carried there, or had the ballot box carried to them if they were ill.

Of these, 48,799,269 voted "yes" in approval of Germany's annexation of Austria. There were 452,180 "no" votes and 75,342 were classified as invalid.

Percentage Increases

The percentages of "yes" votes was 99.0827, as compared with 98.79 achieved in the Rhineland remilitarization plebiscite of March, 1936, when 44,952,476 Germans voted "yes."

The highest pitch of affirmative expression was reached in Austria, where the voters gladdened the Fuehrer's heart with a 99.75 per cent "yes" vote.

Even so, 11,263 Austrians voted "no."

Amnesty Is Rumored

With the counting completed, there were rumors of a sweeping political amnesty—Hitler's gesture of benevolence and gratitude. But there was no official confirmation.

WASHINGTON, April 11. — President Roosevelt and congressional and departmental leaders agreed today a $1,250,000,000 appropriation would be needed for work relief for the first seven months of the fiscal year beginning July 1.

ASK TRAVEL EXPENSES

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP) — The house appropriations committee asked congress today to appropriate $171,000 to pay the travel expenses of the members between their homes and Washington for this session.

The legislators previously had drawn the same amount for the sepcial session which ended only ten days before the regular session convened. They receive 20 cents a mile for the round trip to the capitol.

The travel item was included in a recommendation that congress appropriate $21,504,481 for 1939 expenses of the government's legislative establishment. The total is $2,689,944 less than the current year and $156,976 less than the budget bureau recommended.

with a budget estimate of $1,000,000,000, submitted to congress in January to cover the entire new fiscal year and $1,750,000,000 being spent for WPA and other relief activities this fiscal year.

To Give CCC $50,000,000

The White House conference also agreed an additional $50,000,000 should be appropriated for the Civilian Conservation corps for the next fiscal year. This would enable the CCC to maintain its existing 1,250 camps. Otherwise, democratic leaders said, 300 camps would have to be abandoned July 1.

Senate Leader Barkley, speaking for the conferees said the conference did not discuss the proposed expenditure of $1,500,000,000 for "pump priming" public works. He said this would be taken up later. Some advisers have recommended it to the president.

Barkley said the $1,250,000,000 for

Coast Defense Plans Studied

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 11 — Army officers said today new long range guns to fight off attackers along a 5,000-mile coastline, and submarine mine equipment to snag invaders' ships soon may fill gaps in their $65,000,000 coast defense program.

The nation's greatest city and its capital both would be made more secure, they said, by further fortification of the entrances to New York harbor and Chesapeake bay.

Secrecy Veils Plans

Military secrecy veiled most details of the plans.

The $491,000,000 war department supply bill approved last week by the senate included approximately $23,500,000 to protect coastal cities and harbors.

Unless the figure is trimmed materially before final congressional action, considerable sums may be expended for the first time in years on the Atlantic and gulf coasts as well as the Pacific.

Have Spent $13,000,000

Since congress in 1936 gave the war department funds to strengthen the coastal fortifications, more than $13,000,000 has been spent for the purpose, but most has gone to the West coast, Panama and Hawaii.

The senate also has nearly doubled the house allotment of $12,700,000

Hoboes' Session Tackles Job Of Putting Country On Feet

(By The Associated Press)

ALTOONA, Pa., April 11 — With mounted King Jeff Davis on the rostrum and One-Eye Connelly posted at the door to keep out upstart gate-crashers, the 300th annual convention of hoboes today tackled the job of putting the country on its feet.

The much travelled delegates, who dropped into this rail center from freights, trucks and automobiles, came forward with plenty of advice and most of it about the industry they know best — the railroads. To rejuvenate business, they suggested:

Limiting freight trains to 70 cars, so there will be more trains, more train crews and more jobs.

Establishing three classes of passenger service, thus forcing the railways to buy more equipment and give the shopmen more work.

Fixing freight charges according to the shipper's pocketbook as well as the size of the shipment.

Exempting railroad stocks from taxation until the carriers

By PAUL MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

GETTYSBURG, Pa., April 11. —Only a straggly line of the thousands who braved cannon ball and rifle shot in the Civil war will return to this hallowed battlefield this summer for the reunion of the Blue and the Gray.

Most of them are in their 90's and a few are past the century mark but their spirit is that of youth.

"If it's all right to do so, I prefer to travel by air," Joseph Walter Bricker of Los Angeles wrote to the Pennsylvania Memorial commission which has been receiving the written acceptances of the veterans.

The acceptances are vignettes of sentiment, comradship, pa-

Three Soloists Of Unusual Ability Will Be Heard In 'The Seven Last Words' At Senior High Auditorium Tuesday Night

When "The Seven Last Words," Dubois' famous oratorio, is sung at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday night in Senior High school as a benefit for Milam home for children, three soloists of unusual ability will be heard.

Lubbock is well acquainted with Elton Plowman, lyric tenor, and Miss Christie Cowan, coloratura, but Prof. Maurice J. Erickson, baritone, of the economics and business administration department of Texas Technological college, will have a solo role in the oratorio for the first time.

Was In Bowes Contest

Plowman is a collegiate transfer from Hardin-Simmons university. Singing "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Danny Boy," he won through to the finals of a Major Bowes directed contest in Texas, losing in the finals at Dallas.

"I have sung solo parts in 'The Last Seven Words' two times," he said, "and just hope I can be in the oratorio one more time."

Plowman, like Miss Cowan and Prof. Erickson, just "sang all my life." Like Prof. Erickson, however, he "just happened" to be discovered. Where Miss Cowan started almost as a baby in opera — "it was only Mother Goose" — a last-minute need for a high school singer caused Prof. Erickson to sing a solo role. He was a junior. He took a part and surprised his classmates by winning district honors—surprising himself even more.

Advised To Sing Solos

Plowman was singing high tenor in the H-SU quartet when Sam Losh of Fort Worth, noted musical educator, heard him. "That boy doesn't belong in a quartet; give him solo parts," he advised. Plowman's advancement began from that moment, although the exigencies of supporting himself, caused him to sing as soloist for the Cowboy band—until he almost lost his voice.

Hearing of Miss Myrtle Dunn, "I decided to come to Lubbock, and I'm glad I did." His scholarship in the H-SU band did not give him the training he has been able to get here, he said. He has studied the piano in Lubbock, won first in the state at Fort Worth in a voice contest of the Federated Women's clubs, and the latter part of this month will go to Beaumont for another contest. He is a soloist in the First Methodist church choir, as are the other two.

Has Studied Extensively

Prof. Erickson studied under Eugene Christy and William Pilcher in Kansas university; under Prof. Hudson at Lincoln, Neb., Conservatory of Music and was encouraged at Kansas by Dean Swarthout, uncle of the internationally famous Gladys Swarthout, to continue his music. He has studied German and is proficient in the Scandinavian tongue, his mother having been born in Sweden.

He has been soloist for Grace Lutheran church of Lincoln and of the Unitarian and Presbyterian churches of Lawrence, Kas. He has degrees from Nebraska and from Kansas universities. Kansas having offered him a scholarship in the conservatory.

Second Year In Solo Role

Miss Cowan is not a mezzo-soprano, or a lyric — possibly falling under classification of a dramatic soprano. She has sung in the chorus of the Seven Last Words twice and this will make her second year to have a solo role. She sang in the high school chorus and the quartet and, for the four year, has studied under Miss Dunn. She has sung in the Spring festival of South Plains music teachers and for the Federated Women's clubs. Several times she has broadcast in association with church choirs.

"I confess to liking the melodic classics more than some of the heavier arias," she said. T. B. Cowan of 2012 Eighteenth street, her father, grinned. "I do, too," he said. He has "got used to it by now, however." Miss Cowan plays the piano, "merely to accompany myself when there's no one else to play for me." She proposes to teach public school music when she has completed college work.

Prof. Julien Paul Blitz, head of the musical department of Tech, will direct the oratorio. An appeal to all to "buy tickets today and attend the presentation," went out from the Junior league, in charge of sales. Tickets will cost 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for students.

SALAD TIP

Use several kinds of salad dressing for your salads. Marinate the ingredients in a small amount of French dressing and allow them to stand an hour in the refrigerator. Next mix mayonnaise, boiled salad dressing and a little more French dressing together. Add part of the combination to the salad when it is ready to be served. Then top each portion with a dash of the combined dressings.

Elliott; trio, "The Harp of St. Cecelia" (Wiegand), Mrs. Robert Hester, piano; Miss Margaret Huff, organ, Donald Kleinschmidt, violin; duo, "In Festive Mood" (Scarmolin), Mrs. Gettys Tucker, organ; Miss Ruth Wagner, piano; solo, "El Bacio" (Ardite), Mrs. C. She has a charming smile, a wide forehead, unplucked brows, rather high cheekbones and simply beautiful shoulders.

BEDSIDE LAMP

Instead of the usual pull chain or tiny switch, a new bedside lamp lights with a slight pressure anywhere on its base, eliminating the necessity for groping about in the dark. It is decorative, too, finished in chrome with pastel colors, and its opaque shade is so designed that the light may be centered exactly where it is needed.

FRUIT HINTS

Combine fresh pineapple, strawberries and raspberries. Chill them and serve the combination as a dessert.

Methodist Sorosis Class Will Postpone Monthly Luncheon

Because of a revival in progress at the First Methodist church, a monthly luncheon of the Sorosis class will not be held in April, it was announced this morning.

FOOD FOR BABIES

Canned vegetables or soups that are to be served strained for babies or invalids will pass through the strainer more easily if they are heated first. They will, of course, require re-heating when they are served.

Annual Festival To Be Given Tonight

Farmers, Mother Goose characters, circus performers, representatives from practically all nations, and many pets will be featured this evening at 7:30 when K. Carter school children present their annual school festival.

Cooperating with the Parent-Teacher organization of the school the teachers and pupils have their rooms transformed into scenes from every corner of the globe to conform with the performance they have planned. Funds raised by the festival will be used to increase the library of the school.

This festival was planned for Friday night, but was postponed until tonight because of the weather. Admission will be 10 and 25 cents.

Service Under Difficulties

COATESVILLE, Pa. — The customer wanted a chicken. Grocer Charles Eby's supply was exhausted but he drove to another store to get one.

While he made the purchase, a policeman tagged his car for double-parking.

En route to deliver the chicken, he stopped to see a friend.

And some one stole the chicken.

No Fences

SUNDANCE, Wyo.—The Wyoming wilderness is a haven for frugal nudists.

Dr. Artemus K. Hertzog, secretary of the Western Nudist association, reported on prospects of building a camp near here, noted:

"Construction costs would be cheaper as the necessity of erecting peek-proof fences is eliminated."

Developments In Texas Political Warfare Coming Thick And Fast

Thompson Will Speak Tuesday

BY HARRELL E. LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 11. (AP)—Developments in Texas political warfare have been coming fast the last few days and no let-up is in sight during the fifteen weeks remaining before the Democratic primary July 23.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, who made his formal announcement for governor ahead of Attorney General William McCraw, likewise will get the jump on McCraw in starting a speaking campaign. He will open at Waco Tuesday night.

Ferguson Answers Negatively

During the past week Thompson announced his platform. McCraw completed that part of his dealing with "business and taxation" and James E. Ferguson answered in the negative the important question of whether any member of his family would be in the 1938 race.

From Washington came the information Karl A. Crowley of Fort Worth, solicitor in the United States postoffice department, would be honored at a dinner there next Thursday night and would depart for Texas two days later to begin an active campaign. He will resign his federal post.

Hines, Hunter Considering

Still outside the pond but looking longingly at the water were Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls, thrice beaten in gubernatorial races, and highway Commissioner Harry Hines of Dallas. Hunter was engaged in a swing over the state for the purpose of making up his mind. Hines' decision was long overdue.

Thompson's friends said delegations from many cities, including automobile and bus cavarans from Dallas and Fort Worth, would come to his opening at Waco. Bands are expected from Cameron and several points in the Panhandle.

The candidate and his wife will hold open house at a Waco hotel for several hours preceding tre rally. Dr. John T. Harrington of Waco, chairman of the board of trustees of Baylor university, will preside over the meeting.

McCraw will be in Florida this week for the final hearing on the E. H. R. Green inheritance tax case, and his opening has been delayed until April 23. Elaborate preparations are being made for his initial campaign rallly at his native city of Arlington.

GASSER BROUGHT IN

EL PASO, April 11. (AP)—A. S. Atkins, Van Horn abstractor, reported today a gas well of 2,000,000 cubic feet a day had been brought in 80 miles northeast of Van Horn by Harry J. W. Nichaus of St. Louis for C. M. Caldwell of Abilene.

Getting On The Inside Of The Relief Problem

"We like it here, the food is good, the lights and rent are free," thus spoke Charles Machemer for himself and his wife and his nine children, all pictured above, as the family settled down in the county public assistance office at Reading, Pa. The Machemers moved into the office after being evicted from their home for non-payment of rent and set up housekeeping, scattering bread crumbs, milk bottles and the like all over the slick-top desks. The relief board, forced to move out, announced that no new clients could be accepted. The Machemers insisted they would live in the office until the board found them a home, paid the rent for a year in advance and otherwise supported the family but relented later to the extent of moving out of the relief headquarters and into the unoccupied third floor in the same building.

If Your Eyes Tire Easily

Try TILLYER CRUXITE LENSES

They Cut Down Indoor Glare

If your eyes tire easily after reading—if they ache after working indoors for any length of time . . . there's a strong possibility that you are suffering from indoor glare. Indoor glare—light that comes shooting into your eyes from the printed page or the polished desk top—can be just as punishing as outdoor glare.

Cruxite lenses actually screen out tiring, useless Ultra-Violet rays. Moreover, they absorb enough of the indoor glare without cutting down visibility excessively, and to bring you a greater degree of eye comfort than you've known before. If you've never worn Cruxite Lenses, there's a treat in store for you. And remember, too, Cruxite Lenses may be had in the exact prescription your eyes need.

Two Big 'Ifs' Loom Before Yanks, Giants

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 11.—One week before the umpires get out their whisk brooms the baseball forecasters are beginning to feel an active sympathy for the weather man, who predicted 'fair and warmer" for the day last week that saw five inches of snow settle on Manhattan.

Even the most redoubtable of the old-line experts are putting off their pennent picks as long as possible,

DOYLE MAKES SELECTION

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP) — The New York Yankees and Giants have been installed by Jack Doyle, New York's betting commissioner, as favorites to repeat their pennant triumphs of 1937.

Doyle rates the Yankees, even money choice last year, odds-on favorites at 7-10, despite the fact the World champions have not yet signed Joe DiMaggio and despite their sloppy spring showing. The Giants, rated third by Doyle in 1937, were priced at 8-5.

Doyle forecasts a three-club race in each circuit.

or else they are naming the Yankees and Giants to repeat and then filling up the remainder of the column with "if's."

Still Refuses To Report

Almost equally responsible for this uncertain state of affairs are two young men, Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees and Clydell Castleman of the Giants. DiMaggio still refuses to report to the Yanks for any such insignificant salary as $25,000 a year. Castleman has reported to the Giants, all right, but he refuses to pitch. It's a mess.

The Yanks, with DiMaggio in the fold and satisfied, would be overwhelming favorites for their third straight American league championship. If Joe still is conducting his fish-and-chips shop a week from today, when the Rupperts open their seasen, the race automatically becomes a dinger, with the Cleveland Indians this writer's choice.

The case of Castleman and the Giants is almost as clean-cut. It has become obvious that Colonel Bill Terry will need a barrelful of luck to beat out Charlie Grimm's Chicago Cubs unless he produces another starting pitcher, and a winning one at that.

A month ago the colonel thought that Tom Baker would fill the role, and he didn't care at that time whether Castleman reported or not. He was very sarcastic about Castleman's lame back, and said flatly that "Slick's" ailment was imaginary. But since that time Baker has flopped, and Hal Schumacher went to pieces in the middle of a game the other day.

This leaves the Giants with a total of two pitchers, Carl Hubbell and Slim Melton. They are the two league, and all that, but they need help. Castleman, a potential 20-game winner, looks like the only answer.

Late last season Castleman underwent a very delicate operation on his back. According to the doctors, he came out of it a well man. But Castleman, who insists that he knows more about himself than anybody else, refused to report and he ignored the caustic messages received from Terry. Now he has joined the club, but he's taking things easy and says he might not be ready to pitch for a couple of months.

Lain And Cordill Worry For Tulane

NEW YORK, April 11. (AP)—Add life's little jokes: couple of years ago, a Tulane alumnus spotted Ernie Lain and Ollie Cordill in high school, and figured he'd try to get 'em for his alma mammy . . . But Tulane changed coaches about that time, Red Dawson got Ted Cox's job, and the alumnus didn't know if Red would be interested, so he let both lads get away . . . Now they're a pair of go-to-town touchdown twins at Rice—and Red's tearing his hair trying to figure out how to stop 'em next fall . . .

Seen around town: Gene Tunney and Jimmy Braddock meet in Jim's 49th street place . . . and start talking about their families, no less . . . Gardner Mulloy, the Miami tennis ace, will see the parson with Madeleine Louise Cheney of New London, Conn . . . Hank Greenberg of Detroit never hit a homer . . . Wait a minute—he's a student by the same name at the U. of Detroit, and doesn't know which end of a bat to hold . . . If you believe all you hear Jeemy Londos owns one of the snootier New York hotels . . . Boily Grimes almost swallowed his chaw when Catcher Ray Thomas, cast adrift from Cedar Rapids by Judge Landis, asked $5,000 bonus to sign with the Dodgers . . . Australian promoters are building up cable company profits with offers for Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom to show down under . . .

Battered Chicago Blackhawks Within One Game Of Stanley Cup After Murderous Battle Before Record Crowd On Sunday

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 11.—Those amazing battered Chicago Blackhawks, today were just one game away from the professional hockey championship of the Stanley cup.

Twice victorious in the best three-out-of-five series with the Toronto Maple Leafs, the Hawks battle the Leafs in the fourth game at the Chicago stadium tomorrow night. They are determined to triumph and end it. If they lose, the fifth and deciding game will be played in Toronto Thursday night.

Attendance Record Set

In a murderous battle, marked by half a dozen fights, both on ice and among the spectators, the Hawks conquered Toronto 2-1 last night before 18,496 fans. The crowd smashed the former National Hockey league record for paid admissions, hung up when 17,071 persons watched the Hawks play the Montreal Canadians here in the spring of 1931.

Elwyn (Doc) Romnes, whose nose was broken in three places at Toronto last Thursday, was the hero of the game. Playing with a guard over his nose, Romnes rifled a 25-foot shot past Goalie Walter Broda with less than four minutes of the game remaining. The puck bounded out of the net, causing the Toronto players to swarm around the officials in protest that it had not crossed the line. The officials ruled otherwise, however.

Horner Marked Man

The instant the game started, Red Horner, Toronto defense player, was a marked man. He was responsible for breaking Romnes' nose and causing a total of eleven stitches to be taken in four of the Blackhawk players. Romnes, determined to get even with Horner, slashed at him with his stick in the first rush. Romnes missed Horner's face, and brought his stick crushing down on his shoulder. The big Canadian player dropped to the ice, more frightened than injured.

From then on, the game developed into a battle between the players, with thirteen penalties, including one major being assessed because of the fights. The play was so rough that nine penalties were handed out in the first 20 minutes of the game.

Chunky Bill Stewart, manager of the Hawks, was immensely proud of their showing. He bounded into the dressing room after the game, and warmly embraced Romnes, with the players indulging in hilarious back-slapping and yelling. Romnes was their hero.

American Bowling Congress Moves Into Stretch Drive

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP) — The American Bowling congress headed into the stretch drive today with only one change in the standings produced by the firing yesterday. The tournament will be April 19.

Fifth place in the all-events was taken over by Leonard Dettloff of Detroit with a score of 1938.

Schwartz Brothers alleys of Niagara Falls, N. Y., hung up a 1918 total to lead 80 teams in the night session. Their score left them more than 100 pins below the first five.

The midnight shift was topped by the Louise Tavern of Cleveland, which tumbled the pins for a 2864 score.

Mrs. Fred Willis And Sidney Keeton Stars Of Skeet Shoot

Although their scores were not the highest, Mrs. Fred Willis and 12-year-old Sidney Keeton were easily the star performers at the weekly shoot of Lubbock Skeet club at the traps here Sunday.

Each broke 40 targets in 50, very fair scores under best conditions. Difficulties were increased Sunday, however, by a high wind and dust. Young Keeton had participated in only two previous shoots.

Ralph Keeton hit 48 in 50 for top honors of the day, trailed by L. S. Pinkston with 47 and Fred Willis with 46.

Hockey Fans Were Ready For Contest

CHICAGO, April 11. (AP)—Six thousand hockey fans occupying general admission seats were given a general frisking before they entered the Chicago stadium last night to witness the bruising game between the Chicago Blackhawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs.

As a result, police confiscated about 50 to 60 bags containing lemons, tomatoes, bottles and over-ripe fruit. All was intended to be thrown on the ice, possibly in protest to bad decisions.

The police failed, however, to pick up numerous decks of cards which at periods were tossed from the two top galleries onto the ice, and scattered in every direction.

Roswell Man Takes Title

(By The Associated Press)

TUCSON, April 11.—Unaccustomed as he was to tournament play, particularly on such smooth grass greens as those of El Rio country club, Ralph Petty, Roswell, N. M., grocer, was Southwestern golf champion today.

Arriving unhearded at the start of the tournament, and overlooked in the prognostications, he played steadily throughout, winning the title from Russell Valentine, University of Arizona student from Miami, Ariz., four and three, in the climax yesterday.

Valentine, former state champion, weakened on the greens after a sparkling display of putting Saturday when he overcame Jack Harden, El Paso, Tex., in the semi-finals. Petty led two up at the end of the morning round, and clinched victory on the 15th hole of the afternoon session. He reached the finals by defeating Jim Canring, University of Arizona student, Saturday.

Baugh And Bride Honeymooning After Marriage On Sunday

SWEETWATER, April 11. (AP)—Sammy Baugh and his bride, the sweetheart of his school days, were en route to Columbus, O., on their honeymoon trip today.

Baugh and Miss Edmonia Smith were married in a quiet ceremony at the home of the bride's parents here yesterday.

Dr. Gary Smith, father of the bride, read the double ring ceremony in the living room of the Smith home. There were no attendants or music and only immediate members of both families were present.

After a reception at the home the couple left by automobile on their trip. Baugh will play baseball with the Columbus Red Birds of the American association this summer.

St. Louis Browns Are Still King-Pins Of Citrus Circuit; Lose One Game Out Of 18

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 11.— Although they sustained their first defeat of the spring training schedule in their first encounter with big league opposition, Colonel Gabby Street's St. Louis Browns today are still king-pins of the grapefruit league.

That one trimming, by the Chicago Cubs, is the lone blot on the Brownies' 18-game record. Since their closest rivals, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Detroit Tigers, each have lost five games, and the opening of the major league campaigns is only a week away, it's a record that's likely to make the St. Louis champions of the citrus circuit for 1938.

Tigers Tied For Second

The Tigers, winners in all seven of their games last week, came up from fourth to a tie for second and pushed the New York Giants down to fourth place. But the St. Louis Cardinals, also winning seven, made the biggest advance, from tenth to fifth. The Redbirds' record is seventeen and ten, compared to the Giants' sixteen and six.

The National leaguers saw their margin in inter-league competition cut considerably. The standing now is: National 44, American 42, compared to the 36-31 score of a week ago.

Top team in inter-league competition is the Pittsburgh Pirates, unbeaten in three starts, all against the Chicago White Sox. The Browns have won two out of three from the Cubs and, among the more active, the Boston Red Sox and Cincinnati Reds are even at 9 victories and 6 defeats.

Points To Reliefers

FORT WORTH, April 11. (AP)—Despite the fact his club lost both ends of a doubleheader to the Browns yesterday, Boss Charley Grimm of the Chicago Cubs maintains he could have one of the best relief pitching staffs in the league if he were to use Charley Root, Jack Russell and Bob Logan as "handy-andies."

Cards Meet Steers

DALLAS—The St. Louis Cardinals met the Texas league Dallas Steers today after holding a one-day "old-home week" in Houston, where they whipped the farmhands, 4-3. Dizzy Dean, Lon Warneke, Mike Ryba, Stuart and Pepper Martin, Joe Medwick, Bill McGee, Don Gutteridge and Don Padgett all formerly played for Houston.

Newsom Says He's OK

FORT WORTH— Buck Newsom insisted today his case of "bursitis" of the knee was sufficiently cured for him to take the mound for the St. Louis Browns against the Cubs. But manager Gabby Street still was hesitating between Buck and Ed Linke.

George Von Elm Is Winner Of California State Open Title

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., April 11. (AP)—George Von Elm of Los Angeles, former national amateur golf champion, is California's new king-pin of the fairways.

Von Elm won the stage open title yesterday when he turned in a 72-hole card of 286 on the Stockdale Country club course. His victory was worth $400 to him.

Betty Jameson Wins Third San Antonio City Title

SAN ANTONIO, April 11. (AP)—Miss Betty Jameson, University of Texas co-ed, won her third consecutive city women's golf title here at the San Antonio Country club yesterday, defeating Mrs. E. R. Hury, 7 and 5.

Mirrors And 'Dry Diving' Are Used To Produce Champions In Swimming, Coach Says

COLUMBUS, O., April 11 (AP) —Top-notch swimming teams are produced with the aid of mirrors and "dry diving," believes youthful Coach Mike Peppe who piloted a bunch of Ohio State university sophomores and juniors to the first National A. A. U. senior championship won by a college squad.

Peppe pronounces his name "Peppy" and lives up to it. He uses large mirrors at the end of his training pool to correct form faults in his swimmers and has sand-pitts under his diving board to save time.

This year the Bucks won the Big Ten meet, were nosed out of the intercollegiate title by one point after defeating Michigan, the winner, three times previously, and won their first National title Saturday in the A. A. U. meet.

Peppe says:

"The mirrors give swimmers who don't react properly to verbal instructions an opportunity to observe their own form. By swimming directly toward the mirrors, they can see what they do incorrectly and overcome their faults."

"The sand-pit with a springboard is invaluable for teaching proper technique in diving. The boys don't have to climb out of the pool every time."

Whitney Holds Fate Of Race For $100,000

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 11 — The proposed $100,000 match race between War Admiral and Seabiscuit apparently hung today on the decision of C. V. Whitney, vice-president of the Westchester Racing association.

Whitney, who has been on a fishing trip off the Bahamas, could not be reached for a statement, but the New York Sun said it learned from associates close to Whitney he is "unalterably opposed" to match races and "extravagant purses."

Certain To Decide

The Sun pointed out that since Whitney's family and that of the Vanderbilts own controlling stocks in Belmont park, his voice is "almost certain" to decide the matter when it comes before the stockholders of the Westchester association, which operates the site of the proposed September meeting.

Joseph E. Widener, president of the association, already has approved the race, in principle, but said he did not want to make a definite announcement until he talked with Whitney.

Special Meeting Called

Herbert Bayard Swope chairman of the New York State Racing commission and prime mover in arranging the match, later announced Whitney had telegraphed him saying he wanted a special meeting of the Westchester association directors to be held on Tuesday to decide about the race. Widener, who probably will not be able to attend, called the meeting as requested.

"If Mr. Whitney wishes the match race, he can have it," said Swope. "I have no doubt of Mr. Whitney's good faith in asking for a meeting of the directors although, on the other hand, I have no doubt that the directorate would affirm any action taken by Mr. Widener and supported by Mr. Whitney. . . . It's up to Mr. Whitney and the directors."

Swope also announced that Charles S. Howard, owner of Seabiscuit, had telephoned him from San Francisco accepting the conditions of the match as it now stands, without qualifications.

Highway Patrolmen To Take Part In Safety Program

Members of the state highway patrol will take a featured part in the sixth session of the eight-week traffic safety school sponsored by Lubbock Safety council at Junior High school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Hosts tonight will be the senior and junior Sorosis Study clubs. Between the Pages Study club and Lions club, according to Mrs. H. F. Godeke, member of the arrangements committee for the school.

F. L. McRee, associate professor of civil engineering at Texas Technological college and instructor of the school, extended an invitation to the general public to attend regardless whether they have been present at previous sessions.

McNair Key Man As Indians, Sox Seek Infielder

Another of the series from the spring training trips.

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 11. — Trade winds continue to blow as the major league clubs head north.

The latest gust has Eric McNair of the Boston Red Sox going to the Cleveland Indians in a deal involving Mel Harder. The Tribe refused to consider this transaction during the December meetings.

McNair, who held out this spring, suddenly becomes a key man, with both Cleveland and the Chicago White Sox seeking a regular infielder.

Need Him Worse

With Luke Appling out with a broken ankle, the Pale Hose need McNair worse than do the Indians. Jimmy Dykes perhaps regrets swapping Vernon Kennedy to Detroit during the winter, for, with Monty Stratton suffering from a bad arm, he now cannot spare the pitcher demanded by the Red Sox.

The Cleveland club has been stalling for time . . . awaiting the result of the tonsillotomy submitted to by Bad News Hale.

The Eldorado kid locked quite all right in streaks at second base in 1934 and '35, but a weak arm, brought about his transfer to third base, and only valuable time will tell whether this weakness was due to toxic poisoning throughout his system.

Alva Bradley and his chief business aid, Cy Slapnicka, have obtained a fresh slant on their material from Oscar Vitt, who isn't at all positive that he will be satisfied with Hale at second.

Evans Hints Deal Is On

VITT definitely has given up on John Kroner, and Tommy Irwin, the prospect up from New Orleans, wants to play shortstop, where Lyn Lary is installed. Irwin, who batted .322 for New Orleans, might help the White Sox, by the way.

Strengthening the belief that Harder may go to Boston is the report that in New Orleans, Billy Evans, the old umpire and former general manager of the Indians, told Mrs. Harder to prepare to move to the Hub. Evans now is head of the Red Sox farm system.

Harder is a popular favorite in Cleveland, where he has pitched with great success for 10 years.

Defense Vitt's Worry

But Vitt's biggest worry is the Indians' defense in the field, and he easily could sacrifice Harder. Pitching is the Tribe's strongest department, with Johnny Allen, Bob Feller, Denny Galehouse, Willis Hudlin, Johnny Humphries, Al Milnar, Earl Whitehill, and Joe Heving.

Humphries, a University of North Carolina product who bagged 20 games for New Orleans in 1937, has the poise of a veteran. The opposition, including the New York Giants, failed to score on Milnar, the tall left-hander, in 15 consecutive innings this spring.

Deerr Replaces McNair

McNAIR, a converted shortstop, had his finest season in 1937, hitting .290.

His reporting late gave Joe Cronin an opportunity to take a better look a Bobby Doerr, the San Diego recruit who sat on the bench practically all of last seasen. Doerr made the most of the chance. Cronin believes the youngster merits considerable attention, and intends to let him play out his string, which at the moment looks like it may be 154 games.

Elwood (Woody) English, former Chicago Cub shortstop and utility man, also is being eyed by the White Sox. Brooklyn could spare him, now that the Dodgers have Leo Durocher and Pete Coscarart, but Larry MacPhail is shouting for a catcher.

This may take the Brooklyn club

ing killed by the freeze."

Wheat farmers, for the most part, will summer fallow their land, he said. Some farmers with small acreages may plow under the crop soon, and plant to another crop.

Good moisture, in the immediate future, will help the crop and small suckers, that had not jointed, may come out and make a little wheat, he said. He indicated, however, that in his opinion the percentage of wheat in that condition was small, compared to the jointed wheat.

Farther north than the South Plains area, wheat was not as far advanced and therefore the damage was not as great, he explained. Where snow offered protection and where there was some moisture ahead of the freeze, less damage can be expected.

work relief would be earmarked for WPA alone with the understanding that it must last until February 1, 1939.

He said the increased fund would preserve WPA rolls at approximately 2,600,000. Without the added money, he said, 400,000 persons would have to be cut off the rolls.

To Care For Unemployed

Labor leaders and the United States conference of mayors have contended 3,500,000 persons would have to be given jobs. Asked about this, Barkley said any additional needy unemployed over the present enrollment of 2,600,000 would be taken care of under the pump priming program.

He added when congress returned in January it would be able to ascertain what the needs were beyond February 1.

"We are simply preserving the situation as it is," he said. "None of this program is pump priming."

Hoard May Finance It

The treasury's billion-dollar hoard of "sterile" gold may help finance the huge public works program, now under discussion, high officials said.

Among those called to the White House meeting were Senators Barkley (D-Ky), Glass (D-Va.), and Byrnes (D-SC); Representatives Rayburn (D-Tex.) and Taylor (D-Colo), Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget, and Harry L. Hopkins, Works Progress administrator.

Treasury experts said use of the "inactive fund' of $1,182,000,000 in gold would minimize the effect of a new public works program on the public debt, now $37,600,000,000.

Instead of borrowing the whole cost of the program, they said, the treasury could turn the "sterile" gold quickly into cash by printing gold certificates and earmarking the gold as security for the currency.

Two Ex-Convicts Are Held By Dallas Detectives

DALLAS, April 11. (AP)—Two Oklahoma ex-convicts, held here as suspects in a series of Southwest robberies, will be questioned, Chief of Detectives Will Fritz said, in connection with the deaths of Mrs. Weston G. Frome and her daughter, Nancy.

Dallas Detectives J. T. Luther and F. T. Keith and Federal Agent Tom Neal arrested the two, Jack Flippin, 30, and Jack O. Baarnes, 34, last night as they were driving in an expensive coupe here.

Robbing As They Go

Luther, who said the men had been travelling throughout the west, robbing as they went, said also they had served time in the Oklahoma state prison at McAlester.

Local officers were questioning the two concerning a recent holdup of a Dallas loan company, and said they believed the arrest would solve a series of bank and loan company robberies in the two states.

Charged At Tulsa

At Tulsa Detective Sergeant Linn Moss said Flippin and Barnes were charged there with armed robbery in connection with the holdup of an auto loan company, and were wanted at Fort Smith, Ark., for a similar job.

Fort Worth officers said Flippin, alias Jack West, was charged there with robbery of a package store operator, and Barnes with the robbery of a cafe cashier.

Considered As Suspects

Sheriff Chris Fox of El Paso, who said he had considered the two as possible suspects in the Frome slayings, said he was asking Dallas officers thoroughly to question them. Fox said they left El Paso the day before or early the morning the women were believed killed.

He said the men apparently had gone northward through Roswell, but he would like an exhaustive check.

When the two were arrested officers found golf balls and tees but no clubs. They said the men had been playing golf.

In the luggage of the two, found at a tourist camp, were several guns, officers said, but none of .32 calibre, size of the weapon sought in the Frome case.

City's Homes Are Cited By Visitors

Evidence that Lubbock as a "city of beautiful homes" is more than a slogan was revealed at the chamber of commerce this morning.

The letter also required a bit of successful sleuthing on the part of the chamber personnel.

The letter was from Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Jordan of Brady, who wrote they were so delighted with the beautiful homes when they drove through Lubbock a few days ago they intend to repeat the visit and spend more time. They asked particularly concerning a certain home, address nor owner of which they did not know except they "understood" it belonged to a Lubbock physician.

From the description, chamber workers identified it as the home of Dr. J. T. Hutchinsgn, 1519 Broadway. Dr. Hutchinson said that he would comply with their request for a floor plan of the home.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Cotton futures opened 2 to 6 advanced with higher Liverpool cables partly offset by May liquidation and foreign selling. May 8.62, July 8.69, Oct. 8.80, Dec. 8.78, Jan. 8.81, March 8.86.

Bombay and the continent were moderate sellers while Liverpool bought. The heavier tone of the stock market accounted for scattered offerings in early trading.

May sold off from 8.69 to 8.65 and shortly after the first half hour was quoted at 8.67, with the market generally about 3 points net higher.

Fluctuations held to a narrow range later in the morning.

July was selling at 8.68 around midday, when the market was 3 to 4 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 11 (AP)—Cotton futures opened 4 to 5 points higher here today in response to firm foreign markets, trade buying and covering by shorts.

May contracts opened at 8.75, July at 8.82, Oct. at 8.90, Dec. at 8.90, Jan. at 8.92 and March at 8.98.

Towards the end of the first half hour active positions were 1 to 4 points above the previous close.

Demand dwindled as the session progressed but continued unfavorable weather in the belt discouraged selling and maintained a steady undertone.

Near mid-session May contracts sold at 8.74, July at 8.77, Oct. at 8.86, Dec. at 8.88 and March at 8.97, or unchanged to 4 points higher compared with the previous close.

The weather map was dry but temperatures were below normal over most of the growing area and light to heavy frost the eastern section.

The turnover Saturday was 20,100 bales and open commitments 331,000, a decrease of 3,150 bales from the previous day.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Stock market leaders were forced to absorb light profit selling in today's market and many of last week's climbers slipped fractions to a point or so at the worst.

The comparatively small volume of offerings, however, seemed to encourage speculative forces and extreme set-backs were reduced or cancelled around noon.

Rail stocks were resistant most of the day and a handful of equipment issues exhibited improvement on the theory government loans, if decreed, would be used largely for rehabilitation.

Bonds and commodities were inclined to do better after a hesitant start. Hopes for the new conservative French cabinet gave the franc a lift in terms of the dollar. Foreign securities markets were more cheerful than otherwise.

Encountering difficulties the greater part of the session were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Westinghouse, American Can, Dupont, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Deere, J. I. Case, American Telephone, Union Carbide and Otis Elevator.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP)—Wheat prices in Chicago averaged slightly higher early today after an irregular start.

Opening ⅛ off to ⅜ up, May 83⅝-¾, July 81½-82. Chicago wheat futures advanced later at fractional net gains. Corn started ¼-½ higher, May 60¾-⅞, July 62-62⅛.

FLIES DEATH FLAG

DENVER (AP)—A flag of death is being fitted for Denver's police building flag pole.

Black with a white cross in the center, it will fly on days when one or more persons are killed in traffic accidents.

On days when no deaths occur in the city, as the result of car accidents, a white flag will be flown.

It is Judge Philip Gilliam's idea. He believes the flags will remind drivers of the dangers of traffic.

ON HIS CONSCIENCE

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP)—A childhood prank of 48 years ago weighed heavily on the conscience of an Olean, N. Y. man.

He wrote Mayor Hugh J. Ryan a letter, relating that "way back in 1890" he visited the old fairgrounds at South Bradford. But instead of paying an admittance fee, he crawled under the fence.

The thought of the act had disturbed him all these years, he wrote, and now he would like to know to whom he could pay the fee.

Band Concert Is Advanced

Last public concert by Senior High school band of the 1937-38 term has been advanced from Thursday night to next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium, according to announcement this morning by H. A. Anderson, director.

The date was moved forward because many persons plan to leave Thursday on Easter vacations, it was explained. Admission will be free.

Only Public Rehearsal

The concert will be the only public rehearsal of numbers the band is to play at the tournament of West Texas School Band and Orchestra association at San Angelo April 22-23, and at the national contest at Abilene three weeks later if the Westerners qualify for that event. Last year the band won highest possible honors in the West Texas tournament, held in Lubbock.

Included on Wednesday night's program, the director said, will be two saxette groups, one of which will present a special arrangement with band accompaniment.

One feature of the program which had been tentatively planned cannot be included, Anderson said. Intention had been to present Junior High school band in part of the program if the uniforms ordered several weeks ago arrived. They will not be here. The Junior High band probably will appear in a concert exclusively its own at a later date, he said.

Meeting Of Egg Hunt Group Is Scheduled For Tuesday

Meeting of the Easter egg hunt committee was called by E. J. Reynolds, chairman, this morning for 7:30 a. m. Tuesday in Boy Scout offices in the Myrick building to complete arrangements for the hunt scheduled at Mackenzie park from 3 to 4:30 p. m. Saturday.

Approximately 2,000 eggs will be hidden, some of them carrying prizes. The hunt will be one of six held in the council area, the remaining five set for Sunday.

Three scout meetings were on tonight's schedule in the council area. The Slaton local committee was to meet at 5:30 p. m. to plan the month's program, there, the general circus committee at a dinner at Hilton hotel at 6:15 p. m., and the start of a leadership training course at First Christian church in Floydada.

IDALOU REVIVAL CLOSED

IDALOU, April 11. (Special)— A ten day revival at Idalou First Baptist church was closed yesterday by Rev. R. C. Tennison, pastor. Seventeen additions to the church were made, 16 of which came yesterday. H. J. West of Phillips conducted the music.

Record attendance at Sunday school yesterday morning was 301, with 156 in atendance at B.T.U.

MANY people are wondering to themselves, "How can I make this pre-Easter season a period from which I can extract some real, Easter feeling—so I may have the true spirit of this, the greatest of the Christian religion's holidays?"

If you are one who has been asking himself this question, The Plainsman has the answer for you.

Attend the rendition of "The Seven Last Words" at the Senior High school auditorium Tuesday night.

Under the baton of Julien Paul Blitz, head of Tech's music department, and with Mrs. Blitz as accompanist, this year's presentation of Theodore Dubois' famous oratorio will be the fourth in Lubbock's history.

Every previous rendition has been praised to the heavens. It is truly an outstanding event, both from the musical angle and as symbolical of the Easter season.

HERE-TO-FORE no charge has been made for attendance at the oratorio.

This year, however, tickets are being sold at the rate of 50 cents per adults and 25 cents for students of city schools and Texas Tech.

This money will go to pay the bare expenses of staging the event, and the balance to Mrs. Milam's Opportunity Home for children here, one of the worthiest enterprises within Lubbock's gates.

Certainly enough Lubbock and South Plains citizens will want to hear the oratorio to fill the high school auditorium.

The event itself, and its sponsorship, are both worthwhile.

Ernest Thompson told a good yarn when he was visiting here the other day.

"An old boy," he related, "had an engagement to make a speech. When he arrived at the place on the appointed hour, he found only one man there. Never-the-less, he got up and delivered himself of a long address.

"When he had concluded, he climbed down from the rostrum and seized the lone man by the hand.

"'I certainly thank you, sir,' he said, 'for listening to my speech.'

"'Shucks,' said the other. 'I wasn't listening to your speech. I'm the next speaker.'

"THE State of Nebraska," remarks a wise-cracking contemporary, "has 21 million dollars in the bank and no debt. In the midst of the 'new abundance' a few traces of the medieval persist!"

That is amusing—yet at the same time it is true, and offers a thought worth considering.

Nebraska's solvency, sad to say, sticks out like the amicable building in Waco's skyline.

Nearly all the rest of the states of the Union are hopelessly in debt and growing more deeply involved every day. Even Texas, while not in as bad a shape as it might be, could be considerably better off.

NEBRASKA is advertising her position, too, in a way which cannot help but bring dividends.

Magazine spreads inform the reader that:

Nebraska has no state income tax.

Nebraska has no sales tax.

Nebraska has no "hip-pocket" or "hidden hijacking" taxes of any kind and is a place where a business man can operate without having to turn everything he earns over to the tax-spenders.

It is a strong argument and The Plainsman forecasts that many a man sick and tired of being taxridden to death, will move to Nebraska if there is an opening for his particular kind of investment.

Texas, as everyone knows, is the richest of all the states from the standpoints of raw materials and natural resources.

This column believes that if Texans, individually and collectively, would demand the kind of governmental operation Nebraska has the result would bring untold business expansion and investment money into the state.

Such action would, of course, reflect further prosperity all over the state, add to employment and be entirely worthwhile.

It is something to think about, especially during a political year.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

CONSTANCE MAIDWELL — heroine; the stand-in.

DEREK MANTHON — an artist who loved money first.

HILDEGARDE THORVALD — Derek painted her portrait.

DR. ROGERS—he met his most difficult case.

Yesterday: Derek breaks the news that he is to leave for California to paint a portrait of Hildegrade Thorvald. A knock is heard just then at the door.

CHAPTER III

Derek muttered something impatient and called, "Come in!"

At sight of his guests, however, his manner altered as if by magic. In an instant he was all charming, boyish deference.

"Why, good morning, sir!" he cried. "It was nice of you to drop in again. . . . Do sit here, Miss Thorvald."

As the tall golden girl in the rich fur wrap moved forward, Constance was unpleasantly conscious of her own faded tweeds and shabby hat.

"Miss Thorvald, may I present Miss Maidwell?" Derek was murmuring. "Miss Maidwell—Mr. Thorvald."

There was in his gesture the manner of one presenting Constance to royalty.

Ernest Thorvald bowed, smiled briefly but pleasantly, said something inconsequential, and began scribbling in a notebook he took from his pocket.

Hildegrade Thorvald said in a slow, warm voice, "How nice to meet one of Mr. Manthon's friends—since we are to see a great deal of him for a while. . . . Perhaps you are an artist, too?"

"Oh, no!" smiled Constance. "My artistic effects are achieved solely on the typewriter."

"Oh, you write then?"

Miss Thorvald's manner was simple and friendly.

"If you can call it writing." . . . They would chat for a while, like this, about nothing; and then Derek would tell them. . . . Constance heard her own voice running on lightly. "My best literary efforts sound something like this: Manthon, Derek; American gallery. Born, Worcester, Massachusetts, 1905. . . . Honorable Mention, 1935. First Prize Winner, 1937. Pictures exhibited: Old Man Resting, Italian Boy, Lady in Blue. . . . You see, I catalog for the Museum."

"The Lady in Blue?" Miss Thorvald's amber eyes were suddenly interested. "Of course. I thought I had seen you somewhere before. The portrait is really lovely. I—I couldn't help feeling that there was a story behind it."

Constance glanced at Derek under veiled lids. He was smiling and flushed with pleasure. . . . He would tell them now.

"Well, you see, Miss Thorvald," he began, "that canvas has a special significance for me. It was finished the day—"

"Hello!" Ernest Thorvald, who had finished writing in his notebook, glanced at his watch and stood up decisively. "Guess we'd better get down to the business that brought us."

Constance knew a moment of shocked unbelief as Derek broke off, his sentence unfinished, to turn to the older man.

"Now about the arrangements for your workshop at the ranch," Ernest Thorvald was going on. "I'm ordering some fixtures to be sent on at once. Perhaps you'll look over this list now . . . or better still, since I see you're practically packed, perhaps you had better run along in the car with us and make a few selections yourself. . . . We'll have time before we go to the airport."

Derek's eyes flew to Constance's face in a desperate appeal for patience and understanding, but hers perversely refused to meet them. . . . This could not be happening—not really. . . . But if it were, she told herself proudly, she would not influence Derek by the flicker of an eyelash.

"Aren't you being particularly impossible, Dad?" Hildegarde Thorvald's eyes flicked her father's face with leisurely amusement. "Perhaps Mr. Manthon could use this last hour in his own interests. . . . This is what living with Dad is like," she explained to Constance. "When an idea gets hold of him, he can't sleep or eat or talk about anything else till it's an accomplished fact—and neither can anyone around him. . . . Dad, Mr. Manthon was going to tell us something about The Lady in Blue."

"Plenty of time for that after we get aboard the plane," Ernest Thorvald said. "Coming, Manthon?"

Derek tore his eyes from Constance's face to say, 'Right, Mr. Thorvald. . . . I'll just shut this trunk, and everything's ready. The janitor will nail up the boxes and take care of the expressman."

Mr. Thorvald said agreeably, but quite as if Derek's acquiescence had been a foregone conclusion, "Fine. That will simplify matters. . . . Nice to have met you, Miss Maidwell," and started briskly out of the room.

Hildegrade Thorvald lifted one eyebrow as if occupied with some secret amusement of her own, rose with supple, long-limbed grace, and strolled toward the door.

Derek seized the moment to mutter swiftly with a pleading smile, "It wouldn't have done to force it, darling — tactless and awkward. . . . Please wait here. I'll be back for a few minutes at least. They can't do this to us."

"They seem to — with effortless ease," said Constance through lips tense with the strain of smiling.

As Derek followed Mr. Thorvald down the corridor, Hildegrade lingered to put her hand into that of Constance, and ask impulsively, "Can't we take you somewhere? It seems the least we can do after—I mean it will give us a great deal of pleasure. . . . Or—perhaps you and I might drive around while these madmen pick up their gadgets, and then we can all go to the airport together."

"Why, thank you," Constance answered, her smile very bright, her tone clear and brittle as ice. "But I—I'll have to run along. . . . So glad to have met you."

"Oh, dear," breathed the tall girl, "aren't we all being rather—oh, well—sorry you won't come."

She turned to collect her belongings from a table, hesitating for a perceptible moment over the business as if caught by an amusing idea; and then with a nod and smile she went out and down the corridor.

So that was Hildegarde Thorvald—the girl Derek was to spend weeks with in the exacting intimacy of artist and model.

Derek had said that Ernest Thorvald was a Scandinavian origin. This daughter of his, though tall and lithe as a Valkyrie, was tawny rather than blond, with eyes and hair of light brown shot with deep golden skin, pulsing with a warm, rich glow—fragrant and lovely as a sun-ripened peach. . . . Most definitely she did not have a hare-lip.

The door burst open, and Derek hurried in.

"A bit of luck at last," he cried, catching Constance to him and laughing like a mischievous schoolboy. "Miss Thorvald left one of her gloves, and I didn't waste any time offering to come back for it. . . . She couldn't say just where it was. And," he finished, his cheek against hers, "under the circumstances, it's bound to take me a little time to hunt it, isn't it, darling?"

Suddenly Constance remembered Hildegarde Thorvald's brief hesitation as she paused to collect her belongings—that amused, secret flicker of a smile in her eyes. . . . And in that moment she hated the other girl for the impulsive kindness of the gesture that had sent Derek back to her.

"You needn't hunt at all," she said clearly. "The glove is right there on the table."

"Oh, well!" Derek released her reluctantly. "The sooner I run along, the sooner I can get back. . . . Wait here for me, darling."

When Derek had gone, Constance stood staring at the door, the back of her hand beating against her lips.

So Derek had come back only because another woman had sent him back to find her glove. It was a hateful thought. But try as she might, Constance could not entirely hate the tall girl. Hildegarde Thorvald, she told herself, was kind—with a kindness as warm and natural as that of the sun that mellowed her father's fruit.

And of course Derek must think of his future—their future. Derek did not want to go away from her. She did not need to hear him say that to know it. . . . But, oh, how she had wanted to hear him!

Nervously she began wandering about the denuded studio, righting with deft fingers the disorder Derek had left after his hasty packing — closing drawers, dusting a little, and carefully covering several canvases Derek had set out for transfer to the gallery of a local art dealer — even setting the nails in the boxes Derek had packed for shipment.

Finally she went over to her former seat before the fireplace. She threw more wood upon the dying embers, swept the hearth, and then—because there was nothing else to do, she sat down to wait.

She had hardly settled herself into her chair before someone rattled at the door.

Hold Everything!

"NOW are you satisfied he wasn't flirting with me?"

Today's Journal Editorial . . .

THE HOUSE GOES BACK ON ROOSEVELT

By far the most devastating blow President Roosevelt's administration has received was the refusal of the House of Representatives to approve his government reorganization bill. There is more than a probability that it may prove the Waterloo of the dominance he has held in national affairs.

Previously when he has been uncertain of other possible barriers to his policies, he always could be confident that the House would obey his dictates. He never has been sure of the Supreme court, nor of the Senate, but he repeatedly demonstrated his confidence that he held a hold over the people as a whole which would reflect itself in the house where members are most responsive to what they believe is the popular will.

That feeling of confidence prevailed when the Senate refused to approve the reorganization measure in the manner desired by the President. Expressed belief of observers then was that the House would pass something more nearly to Mr. Roosevelt's liking and that a conference finally would grind out a measure not too distasteful to the White House.

In that expectation, the observers were wrong. The house, deluged by telegrams of protest openly rebelled. The pillar of Roosevelt strength since he went into office failed him. Perhaps it may have written the end of an era of an individual's power without previous parallel in the history of a nation.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 11.—Louise Campbell, the girl who has been trying for six months to marry Bulldog Drummond, has had a change of heart and role, and a chance to justify the enthusiasm that nearly everybody on the Paramount lot seems to have for her.

She's the feminine lead in "Men With Wings." Of course this is wostly an aviation picture, yet her part in it is as important as was Clara Bow's in "Wings," or Jean Harlow's in "Hell's Angels." An obscure actress with only six months of experience in Class B movies couldn't ask for a better opportunity.

And she fully appreciates it. In fact, there are only two things you can persuade her to talk about right now—the picture, and houses. Miss Campbell and Horace MacMahon are house-hunting because they're planning to be married as soon as the film is finished. They first met two years ago when both were playing in "Three Men on a Horse" on Broadway. He plays villian roles on the screen, being an ugly mug but very nice.

Now You See It

Out of makeup, Miss Campbell doesn't look much like a glamor queen. Seems rather plain, really, and wholly natural and easy to talk with, and isn't forever worrying bout how she looks. But in makeup and under the lights her angular features are strikingly displayed. (Facial angles, I mean; the rest is curves.)

So far, she is definitely non-Hollywood, as her enthusiasm about marriage proves. This is considered bad publicity, but she doesn't mind. Also, the house they find must have a big yard and a white picket fence around it, must be in a neighborly neighborhood (which exempts Beverly Hills) and must not look at all like a movie set.

Conscientious

It will be a few days yet before Miss Campbell goes to work in "Men With Wings," but she has spent weeks, voluntarily, in preparation. Reads in the research department and has been experimenting in wardrobe and makeup, getting background on clothes and hairdress and also working on the problem of aging herself during the picture. At the age of 8, in 1913, she will be impersonated by Virginia Weidler, but from 1920 and later she must grow older up to the present. This is more of a problem than it sounds, she explained, "because wearing long hair and the hats that looked like pots and the shapeless short-skirted dresses I seem to look older than I do in modern clothes. It's much easier to age many years on the screen than to grow just a little older."

Personal History

It was just this sort of interest in her job that won Miss Campbell many a critical hand on the stage, although nearly every one of the plays was a flop. "Three Men on a Horse" was the notable exception. She came from Chicago originally, and her name was Louise Weisbecker in the days when she attended St. Michael's school.

The story of her discovery in one of her flop plays demonstrates how different she looks in makeup and in real life. The show was titled "White Man" and Ernst Lubitsch happened to see it during its brief life. He was so much impressed with the leading woman that he telephoned the studio and recommended signing her at once. A few months later she passed him several times on the Paramount lot and he didn't recognize her until she was reintroduced.

Originally she was engaged for only one picture, "Wild Money."

Approaching Spring Primaries Cast Shadows On Coming Political Events, Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 11 — The spring primaries are almost upon us and between now and late September the voters and the politicians will nominate candidates for the entire House of Representatives, a third of the Senate seats and governorships in 33 states.

Democratic primaries are exciting the most interest, since they involve Mr. Roosevelt's influence on Congress and to a large degree the control of delegates to the 1940 conventions.

The White House desire to chasten its conservative opponents, save the skins of its loyal favorites and replace anti-New Dealers with pro-Roosevelt men is involved in various contests and as the campaign year wears on one is likely to hear of sporadic attempts at Republican-Democratic coalitions.

Igoe On Inside

Here's an outline of primary fights to be settled in the near future:

Illinois, April 12: Gov. Henry Horner is backing Congressman Scott Lucas against U. S. District Attorney Mike Igoe, who is supported by the Kelly-Nash machine of Chicago, for Democratic nomination to the Senate seat now held by William H. Dieterich.

Rodney Dutcher

The Roosevelt administration's most spectacular part in this fight has been its failure to back Dieterich, who has been loyal in the pinches. Igoe is supported by Labor's Non-Partisan league and reports reaching Washington indicate he has the best chance. As for Republican candidates, Washington may or may not get to know more about them after the November election.

Florida, May 3: Senator Claude Pepper, considered to be one of the few southern New Dealers in Congress, is opposed for renomination by Congressman J. Mark Wilcox and former Gov. Dave Sholtz. Nomination is equivalent to election.

James Roosevelt, the President's son, recently endorsed Pepper publicly and F. D. R.'s Gainesville speech was partly designed to aid him. Available reports here indicate Pepper will win. If he doesn't, Florida Democrats will have socked the New Deal.

Van Nuys On Outside

Indiana, May 3: Senator Frederick Van Nuys was marked for political death by the McNutt machine long before he achieved fame by becoming a leader of the Court plan opposition. Indiana picks its senatorial candidates in party conventions rather than direct primaries, so it's certain the Democratic candidate will be named by the Democratic machine controlled—at least in Paul McNutt's absence in the Philippines — by Governor Townsend.

Van Nuys isn't expected to present his name to the Democratic convention but has said he would run as an independent. The organization candidate appears to be Sam Jackson, Fort Wayne lawyer, who has been backed by McNutt and some of the latter's supporters.

But an outside chance is conceded to Alexander Gordon of Indianapolis, a railroad labor leader who has Townsend's friendship and is backed by C. I. O. and other labor groups.

Picturesque ex-Senator Jim Watson, long a Republican Senate leader, seeks the Republican nomination. So do Walter Bossert, former klan official, and Richard Willis, backed by the Ralph Gates Republican faction. Watson has a good chance to win. Van Nuys, according to some reports, has a look-in on the G. O. P. nomination.

G. O. P. Hope

South Dakota, May 3: Here's the first state in which Republicans are conceded a fair chance to unseat a Democratic senator. The senator is 70-year-old Herbert E. Hitchcock, who has voted consistently with the administration and is opposed by Congressman Fred Hildebrandt, former railway conductor and member of the House Progressive bloc, and ex-Gov. Tom Berry, who appointed Hitchcock to the Senate.

Hitchcock might quit, it's believed, if it appeared that was the only way to keep both himself and Berry from losing to Hildebrandt. Hildebrandt seems strong. All three are pro-Roosevelt.

But South Dakota Republicans elected a governor, a legislature and a congressman in the face of the 1936 Roosevelt landslide. Now Gov. Leslie Jensen and Chandler Gurney, who lost to Democratic Senator Bulow in 1936 by only 6000 votes, are battling for the Republican nomination and the G. O. P., which puts South Dakota almost in the same class with Maine and Vermont, hopes one of them will succeed Hitchcock.

The next primary will be the one in Pennsylvania May 17 — which is a whole story in itself.

Edward Everett Horton. But that one was being completed new contract was given her, she made three Bulldog Drummond films in quick succession, followed by "Scandal Street," and "Night Club Scandal." Six pictures in six months is pretty close to a record, and it looked as though Miss Campbell was in a fair way of being crowned queent of the B's.

As a matter of fact, after this production, they still plan to use Miss Campbell in her established role in the Drummond series. A story she likes well is about the preview of "Bulldog Druwmond's Peril." As Edmund and Horace MacMahon left the theater they were swamped by autograph collectors—but only for MacMahon's signature. Miss Campbell wasn't recognized as the heroine of the film.

"MATCHING MEN WITH JOBS"
THE BAKER COMPANY'S new radio program is an effort to familiarize the business men of Lubbock and our territory with the work of the Texas State Employment Service and to thereby assist qualified persons to receive desirable jobs.
For thirty minutes, beginning at 2 P. M. each Sunday, several men and women will be interviewed as to their ability, past experience and recommendations for holding a job. The business executives of our territory are asked to telephone the Texas State Employment Service or Radio Station K F Y O if they know of a position open to a qualified employee. Of course there is no charge to either the employer or the employee. You are also invited to telephone The Baker Company and express your opinion, suggestions, or criticisms concerning this program.
The men to be heard on the program are carefully selected by the officials of the Employment office and they are selected strictly on their ability to fill a job—not on their need of a job.
Don't fail to listen—this will be a sure way to become more familiar with actual business and economic conditions in your own trade territory.

TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

The market this week closed with prices remaining steady to strong. We had plenty of good live buyers with us at both sales this week and if we are to keep these buyers coming to us all the time, we must have the cattle to sell them. The prospect for good butcher cattle remains active, and we can get you the full market value. We wish to thank those who have sent us cattle to sell, and we wish to solicit the business of those who have not. We can get you full market prices. Remember that we have the fastest growing market in West Texas.

In A London Garden--A Gas-Proof Shelter

Britishers are wondering if the time is coming when every garden must have a gas-proof shelter such as pictured above in the yard of a home on Brixton Road in London. If enemy planes appeared, the family would retire to the shelter and wait until the danger was past, just as demonstrated by the couple in the picture. The gentleman then would assist his companion from the opening of the shelter, as at left, and life would go on as usual. The shelter is about 15 feet square by 8 feet high and contains an air filtration plant. It has attracted the interest of the British government.

Thirty-Eight Church Organizations Here

Thirty-eight church organizations are located in Lubbock, representing all the major denominations of the country.

Many of the church buildings are large, beautiful buildings. Many are located in the downtown section, a short walking distance from the hotels.

Congregations are noted for the large number of young people. Texas Technological college students form a large portion of the active attendance and membership.

Breeding Baby Chicks Is Big Business Here

Hatching of baby chickens is an important industry over the entire South Plains and the past year has seen half a dozen new plants installed, with other plants increasing capacity.

More than 30 hatcheries, with nearly 2,000,000-egg capacity every three weeks, are in this section. These plants start late in January or early February and operate until June or July.

With a record grain crop last year, farmers are inclined to consider poultry as a chance for ready money. Demand is for the heavier type of chicken.

Annual Butter Income High

One-fourth of Texas' commercially churned creamery butter for 1937 was produced in the City of Lubbock where three plants turned out nearly 5,000,000 pounds.

Besides the three plants in Lubbock, there are plants over the South Plains at Plainview, Littlefield, Floydada and Spur.

Butter Sold Widely

Buttr from these plants is sold over a wide section. One chain of hotels covering the major cities of Texas, as well as many in adjoining states, uses Lubbock made butter.

Farmers of this territory sold approximately 10,000,000 pounds of butterfat during 1937 at an average price of 30 cents per pound.

At first glance, you might think the editor had pulled a boner in printing this picture upside down, but if you pause for reflection you'll see that it doesn't make much difference which way it goes. Disbarred Beaumont Attorney Charged In Negro's Slaying

SILSBEE, April 11. (AP)—Murder charges has been filed against Frank G. Vaughn, disbarred Beaumont attorney, in connection with the slaying of Willie Ray, 33-year-old negro whose skeleton was fished from a well Saturday.

Charges were filed last week against Joe Collier, Vaughn's former runner.

Ray, whose home was in Chicago, had been working out of Beaumont for B. H. Willis, general contractor, a few years before he disappeared Sept. 6, 1935.

An investigation by District Attorney R. M. Briggs and deputies U. C. McDaniels and Skeet Williford of Silsbee began a few months later.

Vaughn represented Ray in a compensation suit for injuries the negro received in 1932. Ray was awarded a $275 claim.

Briggs said he had obtained a statement from Collier.

Officers said the killers enticed Ray into their car in Beaumont and drove to Tyler county. When they were within 30 feet of the well into which the body later was dumped, one of them shot the negro in the back three times.

Man Wanders Into San Antonio Police Station Asking Aid

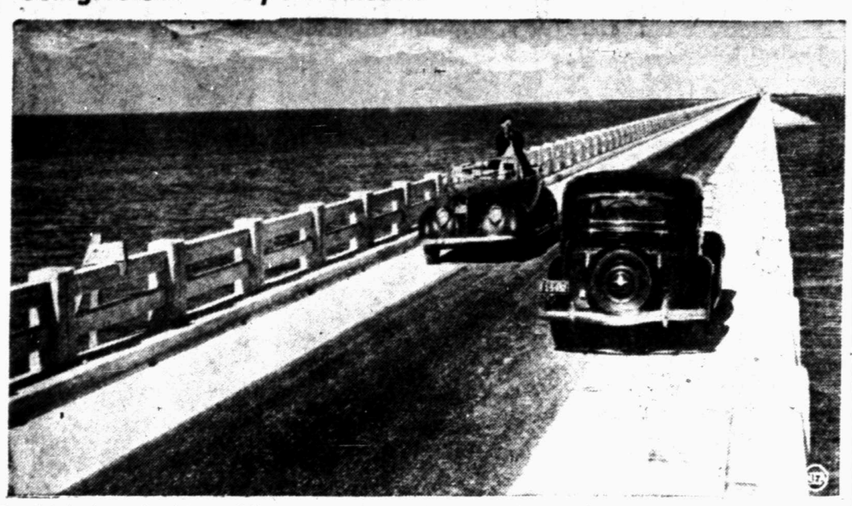

SAN ANTONIO, April 11. (AP)—A man, about 30 years old, believed by police to be an attache of the United States consulate at Tampico, Mexico, wandered into detective headquarters last night and asked that they aid him in locating relatives. He appeared to be an amnesia victim, officers reported.

In a brief case which he carried was found a consular passport of recent date issued to "David K. Andrews," officers said. Other papers in the brief case led police to believe that the man arrived in San Antonio sometime Sunday from Chattanooga, Tenn., aboard a Missouri Pacific train.

Proud indeed are the drivers of the cars seen in the photo above, because they are among the first motorists ever to drive their cars over the Atlantic Ocean. The roadway, shown apparently disappearing over the horizon, is Florida's new overseas bridge connecting Miami and Key West. Considered an outstanding engineering feat, the bridge cost $7,400,000 and has a capacity of 300 cars a day.

Education Of Dionne Quints Is Worrying At Least Three Men In Canada; Famous Girls To Be Four Years Old On May 28

(By The Associated Press)

CALLANDER, Ont., April 11.—If you think there's nothing new under the sun, you've overlooked a problem which is cudgelling the brains of at least three men in Canada—the problem of how the Dionne quintuplets are to be educated.

Twins, triplets, even quadruplets, present no such teaser, and by comparison the educational program of British royalty is simplicity itself. For in a world full of curious things none today is as curious as the quints who will be four years old May 28.

What Makes It A Problem

That's what makes it a problem: the guardians wish above all things to keep the five girls from feeling as far as that is possible, their unique standing.

Until recently the educational program of the famous babies had been in the hands of Dr. W. E. Blatz, noted Toronto child psychologist.

Under his direction the children were being trained in social and language development by experts graduated from the advanced St. George's school for child study in Toronto.

Direction Is To Change

The education of the quints is now to be directed by Duncan McArthur, assistant deputy minister of education for Ontario and an advocate of the public school system.

The final decision, though, on whether the girls are to go to grade school with their three older sisters and two brothers will be in the hands of the board of guardians—Dr. Allen R. DaFoe, medical guardian of the babies, Percy D. Wilson, Ontario's official guardian of minor children, Judge J. A. Valin of North Bay, and the children's father, Oliva Dionne.

Since Papa Dionne takes no part in the guardianship that leaves the problem in the hands of three men.

There appears to be no uniform opinion on whether the quints should associate with other children in the next few years or whether they should be trained in the seclusion of their closely guarded nursery. Child experts have said and still say a lot of both sides of the question.

They regard it as doubtful, for one thing, that interest in the quints will ever diminish to a point where they can appear in public without attracting attention.

On the other hand some child experts deem it necessary that the Dionne girls have normal companionship to insure their normal development.

Might Call Others In

With this in mind, it has been suggested that the other Dionne children and several more selected from the neighborhood might form a class at the nursery.

This plan would bring the Dionne children together, meeting one point in protests against the guardianship which keeps Annette, Yvonne, Cecile, Emilie and Marie from living with their family.

The family including a baby born April 4 and Oliva, jr., born July 9, 1936, still occupy the old farmhouse where the quints were born.

They are together only when the other children are permitted to visit the nursery.

The older children, Ernest, Rose Therese, Pauline and Daniel, visit the nursery frequently unless they are ill.

Oliva, jr., has gone to the nursery only infrequently and the five girls haven't seen the new baby yet.

Dionne receives $100 a month from the quints fund, now estimated at $800,000, and the proceeds of a souvenir booth near his home give the family all the comforts they have so far desired.

Nineteen persons were hanged as witches at Salem, Mass., in 1692.

With general conditions in ex lent shape, Eaves believes that p tal sales will show a big incre this year. The first quarter of 1 showed a gain of more than $10 in stamp sales alone, above resp tive quarters of either of the p vious three years.
