

Funds For Area Schools Increased By Legislature

Silverton schools will receive approximately 55,800 additional dollars from the State of Texas, according to Senator Ray Farabee. The State Legislature in Special Session last week adopted a new public school finance plan which will benefit area school districts and taxpayers.

Senator Farabee said, "The new education law represents a balanced approach to school funding and is a great improvement over past plans. The new plan provides for local property tax relief, increased salary benefits and additional sums for equalization aid."

Farabee voted to concur in House amendments to the original Senate Bill stating, "Under the new plan, rural areas will fare better. This legislation uses agricultural values based on productivity in its apportionment of state and local fund requirements."

The Legislature passed the new law during the first week of the Session. The prompt action by the House and Senate will allow local school districts to set their budgets immediately for the 1977-78 school year.

Paving Contract To Be Let Next Week

Bids for the rehabilitation of a portion of State Highway 207 in Briscoe County are expected to be received at the July 26-27 letting of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The project extends from a point four miles south of Farm to Market Road 146 southward for about five miles and includes widening, strengthening the existing base, and applying a two-course surface treatment.

The existing two-lane 20-foot asphalt pavement will be widened to 24-feet and will provide a smoother, safer travel surface.

The project is designed to repair and improve the cracked and rough surface which has deteriorated as a result of severe weather.

E. H. Monroe of Clarendon will be the department's engineer in charge of the work, while overall project supervision will be provided by Childress District Engineer Lewis H. White.

VOLUME 69 NUMBER 29

Election Called Here

Briscoe County voters of precincts one and three will go to the polls July 29 to decide whether they want to remain in the weather modification program or whether they want to be removed from it. Only persons living in precincts which are included in either the target or operational areas are allowed to vote in this election. Portions of precincts one and three are included in the operational area. None of Briscoe County is in the target area.

Although the weather modification program has been in effect in the ten-county area for seven years, this is the first time people have been allowed to voice their opinions at the ballot box.

If the voters decide against the weather modification program, precincts one and three will be removed from the operational area after notification to Texas Water Development Board. At a later date, the County Commissioners could call for a county-wide election. As the law now stands, if the county voted against the weather modification program at that time, there would be no more weather modification in Briscoe County unless another election would be called and the program voted back in.

Any county containing any portion of the target or operational area was given authority by the Texas Water Development Board to vote in those precincts, whether they would be removed from the program or to remain in it. Swisher County and Lamb County are in the process of calling elections which will be held in August. Some other counties are also planning to call elections.

Citizens are reminded that planes are allowed to fly over all portions of the county to observe the clouds, but are allowed to seed clouds only over the target and operational areas.

When a plane is seeding the clouds, flares will be seen coming from the wings of the planes. If planes are seen seeding the clouds outside the operational area, a description of the plane, location and exact time of day is to be noted. The number on a plane is virtually impossible to get but the color of the plane may be seen and any other information is important. A telephone or citizens band radio could be used to alert others to witness this also, as the more witnesses, the stronger the case against them.

The Texas Water Development Board has the authority to revoke the weather modification permit if it is proven that the planes were seeding outside the operational area. Persons having this information should immediately contact the county judge and sign affidavits as to what they saw. Also call 847-2524 or 823-2028.

School Receives Solo-Ensemble Sweepstakes Trophy

The Silverton School received notification early in June that it would be the recipient of the sweepstakes trophy for Conference B, Texas State Solo-Ensemble Contest for 1977.

This honor was earned by Tracy Gill and Kim Hutsell Mayfield when they won top awards with piano solos in the state solo contest. Their entry in this competition was directed by Mrs. Mary Ann Rauch, public school music teacher.

Notification of the award came from Charles Schwobel, Assistant Director of the Texas State Solo-Ensemble Contest, who said, "Please convey my congratulations to Ms. Rauch who ably supervised the work of the young people involved. To achieve this honor requires the dedicated efforts of the faculty as well as a fine musical background."

News about the sweepstakes award and an article with pictures about the Silverton School's music activities will be included in a publication expected off the press in late September.

"I decided to make the move Tuesday and have already signed a contract," she said in Abilene where she was coaching the North squad forwards for Saturday night's Texas High School Girls Coaches Association All-Star Game.

"It was a hard decision, because I love Nazareth and the kids there," she said. "I just felt this was the advancement and the time. I just couldn't turn it down."

"I'm leaving some of the best athletes I've ever had there (Nazareth). After winning the state championship, I really wanted to repeat it."

Volunteer Policy Slated To Limit Grain Surplus

A voluntary set-aside program to limit next season's corn and wheat acreage will be adopted by the federal government this fall, House Agriculture Committee Chairman Thomas Foley said Monday.

"We have a serious oversupply of wheat and we're about to have the same problem with corn," the Washington state Democrat told about 400 members of the National Corn Growers Association in Peoria, Illinois.

Foley said the set-aside would not be mandatory. But anyone refusing to participate would not be eligible for federally-funded loans.

The acreage has not been determined, Foley added. "But if we have more favorable weather the next month, we are going to have an enormous (corn) crop with double the carryover of last year."

Another speaker at the 19th annual convention noted that wheat is cheap enough to compete with corn as a livestock feed in some foreign markets, and domestic demand for corn will probably remain static.

Foley said he postponed consideration of amendments to the House version of the Farm Bill until Tuesday in order to attend Monday's meeting. He expects President Carter to approve a revised version of the House bill rather than the Senate bill, which provides $3.9 billion for commodity price supports. Carter has indicated he wants to spend no more than $2 billion for such programs.

Foley said he expects at least 30 amendments to the agricultural side of the Farm Bill. "I would not like to see any maximum limit placed on federal farm loans," he said. "One member is going to introduce a limit of $100,000. This could start to really interfere with a set-aside program."

"I also would not like to see any 'clumsy' attempts to prohibit payments to farms operated by corporations," he added.

Also addressing the Corn Growers was Darwin Stolte, president of the U. S. Feed Grain Council, who called the proposed set-aside plan "hopelessly no more than a surplus."

Stolte said the United States has "traditionally looked to Japan and western Europe as its major overseas markets . . . but there are a host of countries" suddenly becoming potential customers, including Red China, oil-producing

Cotton Talks

BUDGET ADOPTED FOR FISCAL YEAR

The Board of Directors of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. July 13 adopted a $207,500 budget for the organization's 1977-78 fiscal year.

In other action the Board elected one new member to its Executive Committee and re-elected five others, voted to cease participation in the making and publication of monthly crop estimates during the 1977 growing season, and agreed to sponsor a textile mill tour early this fall.

The Board also resolved to express its "unanimous regret at the announced retirement of Congressman George Mahon at the end nations and eastern European states.

"I frankly think we're not ever going to see domestic consumption exceed five billion bushels of corn," said Stolte, noting that the projected 1977 corn harvest will be 6.33 billion bushels.

Three years ago, corn replaced wheat as the principal export crop, Stolte said, and grain export is a $5 billion a year business.

Now, he said, low wheat prices will probably trim seven or eight million tons off U. S. corn exports and subsidized agricultural operations in other nations will also hurt corn exports.

Besides expanded markets for corn, Stolte said, the U. S. government should use its clout to create overseas markets for beef and pork.

of the current term" and to "convey its great appreciation for the innumerable times he has befriended the High Plains cotton industry and made possible its continued growth and prosperity."

The budget covers the cost of such items as agricultural research, advertising and promotion, fiber research and services, market development and legislative activities, all aimed at providing benefits to approximately 20,000 High Plains cotton producers. The 1976-77 budget came to $196,900, but Board members were told that prudent use of funds during the year had saved about $20,000 of that amount.

PCG has one elected member on its Executive Committee from each of six districts. The new member, Jimmie Holder of Lubbock, was elected to represent Lubbock, Crosby and Dickens Counties, District 4. He replaces Gary Ivey of Ralls who was elected PCG Secretary-Treasurer last April.

Re-elected from District 1 (Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, Swisher and Briscoe Counties) was W. L. Edelman of Friona. Returned to the committee from District 2 (Bailey, Cochran and Hockley) was Lloyd Miller of Morton. District 3 (Lamb, Hale, Floyd and Motley) will continue to have Paul Bennett of Littlefield on the committee.

District 5 (Yoakum, Terry, Lynn and Garza) will again be served by Truett Jones of Brownfield, and Marion Bowers of Seminole was re-elected to the committee from District 6 (Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Martin, Howard and Midland).

Serving on the Executive Committee with these elected members will be current PCG officers and past presidents.

Since the 1970 crop PCG has had a four-man producer committee which worked with a four-man merchant committee of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange to compile and publish monthly crop projections from July through December each year. But the PCG Board on a split vote decided not to continue in this role for the remainder of the current year. Lubbock Cotton Exchange officials have not yet made known whether that organization alone will continue the estimates.

Details of the planned textile tour have not been worked out, but tentative plans call for a three-day trip to the Greensboro area of North Carolina the latter part of September.

Mrs. Billy Settle entered St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Tuesday of last week, and underwent surgery there Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Northcutt of Dalhart were business visitors in Silverton last Thursday.

Briscoe County Water Study Completed

A study of how much water is in the Ogallala Aquifer and projections for future years in Briscoe County has been completed by the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB).

Report 212, "Analytical Study of the Ogallala Aquifer in Briscoe County" charts the impact and future course of underground water depletion through the next 44 years and its effect on irrigation water production. The study and report were made by TWDB staff members A. Wayne Wyatt, Ann E. Bell, and Shelly Morrison. Copies of the report are available without charge from the Texas Water Development Board, P. O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711.

Most High Plains residents are well informed on the continuing decline of the region's ground water, and know that this is the lifeblood of the area's agriculture where some 70 percent of the State's irrigated food and fiber is grown.

"Every means of conserving, stretching, and wise use of Ogallala water now and in the ensuing years by agriculture, industry and the people must be taken," declared James M. Rose, executive director of the Water Development Board.

The continuation of the High Plains agricultural production to the State and Nation's economy is essential, added Rose.

Rose said the six-state High Plains Council Study just getting underway offers much promise to the areas of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska which depend upon the Ogallala as the primary source of water for all uses.

The study, funded by the Congress, will be conducted by the Council which has three members from each state, and the Federal Economic Development Administration to determine the economic impact on the region and the nation if the area is forced back to dryland farming. Importation of water from areas of surplus will be a part of the study, said Rose.

Guidelines provided in the report were obtained by the use of electronic computers that simulate the aquifer's behavior and should provide the ground-water user in the county with reasonably good estimates by which future management decisions can be made.

Briscoe County had about 1.6 million acre-feet of ground water in 1974. The study shows that 41 percent, or 653,000 acre-feet, will be left by the year 2000 if past water-use patterns and aquifer behavior are continued in the future. Only 403,000 acre-feet, or 25 percent, will remain in storage by 2020.

Pumping lifts in wells range between 125 and 250 feet. The study indicates that the range of pumping lifts in Briscoe County will remain about the same during the study period, 1974 through 2020, because of decreasing saturated thickness of the aquifer and consequent well yields.

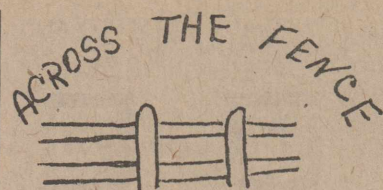

Compared to the 77,000 acre-feet of water produced in 1974, the amount expected to be produced in the years 2000 and 2020 is about 38,000 and 17,000 acre-feet respectively, an overall decline of 78 percent.

Nowhere in the county is the water expected to be exhausted, but yields of wells will decrease and expense of irrigation pumpage will require more energy and thus greater cost in bringing the water to the surface.

During the past three decades, the withdrawal of ground water has greatly exceeded the natural recharge of the aquifer. If this overdraft continues, the aquifer ultimately will be depleted to the point that it may not be economically feasible to produce water for irrigation, the authors state.

These findings, the authors emphasize, are based on the continuation of past trends. Future events can be very different if these change, the authors say. The most determinative factor may be the decisions of the water users themselves.

The report contains maps, charts, and tabulations which reflect estimates of the volume of water in storage in the Ogallala Aquifer and the projected depletion of this water supply by decade periods through the year 2020. The report also contains estimates of pumpage, pumping lifts, and other data related to current and future

SACCHARIN BAN

Dieters accustomed to saccharin as a sugar substitute may soon be searching for a substitute for the substitute.

If saccharin leaves the grocer's shelf, these alternates will still be available; nutritive artificial sweeteners, or any of the natural sweeteners, or a trend away from "Sweet" to a different taste.

Nutritive artificial sweeteners include xylitol, sorbitol, fructose, mannitol, lactose and dextrins. But these, unlike saccharin, must be counted as calorie-carbohydrate sources, and they could upset balances in a strict diet, says Linda Mullin, County Extension Agent.

Some foods proved enough natural sugar to sweeten even tart dishes. Fresh pineapple, for example, can sweeten strawberries, and grated coconut is another natural sugar.

To veer away from "sweet" try ginger to enhance fruit flavors. And salt "wakes up" grapefruit, the Agent says.

"Un-sweet" drinks, low in calories and carbohydrates, are tomato juice, tea with lemon only, and unsweetened lemonade.

water use in the counties.

The maps in the report are intended for use as general guidelines only and are not recommended for use in determining water availability when buying and selling specific tracts of land. It is recommended that a qualified ground-water hydrologist be consulted to make appraisals of ground-water conditions when such transactions are contemplated.

Ask Bob Bullock

Dear Mr. Bullock:
I am student, with a question. How much money does Texas receive from the federal government, and how does this compare to the other states?

In 1976, the State of Texas received $1.8 billion in federal assistance, ranking it fourth among the 50 states in total federal aid. The states that received more than Texas were New York, California and Pennsylvania.

On a per capita basis, however, the federal aid picture is not as good for Texas. In terms of total federal dollars per person, we ranked ninth from the bottom.

Mr. Comptroller:
Are the labor charges taxable when a welding shop makes wrought iron chairs and a table for my patio?

★
Yes. The full amount charged for the items would be subject to the tax. Labor in the manufacturing process is taxable so long as it is not a repair.

Dear Sir:
Is the money from life insurance policies exempt from the state inheritance tax?

The first $40,000 received from life insurance policies are exempted from the tax if the policies are made payable to a named beneficiary. If the insurance is payable to the estate, the total amount received is taxable.

Sir:
I am a serviceman stationed at Fort Hood, but I claim Virginia as my residence. Do I have to pay property taxes in Texas?

★
You must pay tax on any real property you own in Texas. Your personal property, however, is taxable only in Virginia.

The answers here do not necessarily apply in every similar situation and should be used only as a general guide. OUR USE OF LEISURE

None of us can make our best contribution to life unless we take care of our physical selves. The right kind of recreation renews the body, mind, and spirit.

There should be a proper balance and rhythm between work and rest. Our Lord meant for us to enjoy life and intended no man to punish his body with unrelieved work.

Of course our recreation should be of a kind that would actually re-create our spirits and bodies and make us better able to perform our work.

Part of our leisure time should be spent renewing our spirit by worshiping God in His Church. We invite you to attend services this week.

"But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint." Isaiah 40:31.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Kathy Lavonne Allen became the bride of Alvin Lynn May in a double-ring ceremony in the home of her parents, June 18, at 4:00 p.m. with Justice of the Peace Bobby Goodwin officiating.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Allen of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd May of Silverton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length dress of white tulle and cotton plisse, trimmed with lace and overlays of eyelet embroidery. A white hat with a band of yellow rosebuds and white streamers completed her costume. Her bouquet was yellow roses with white pom-pom daisies and baby's breath.

In keeping with tradition, the bride carried for something old a penny given by her father; her dress and Bible were new; a necklace was borrowed from her mother, and she wore a blue garter. The bride's sister, Rebecca Lynn Allen, was maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of honey polyester and carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow pom-pom daisies and baby's breath with yellow streamers.

The groom's father, Loyd May, was best man. Gary Allen, brother of the bride, seated guests. The couple repeated vows before a greenery trimmed unity candle lighted by Lane Allen, brother of the bride. Baskets of greenery accented the mantle. The couple's favorite music played in the background.

A reception followed the ceremony. The wedding cake was decorated with yellow rosebuds and was topped with an arrangement of white lace bells. It was served with punch by Suzy Martin and Rebecca Allen of Lubbock.

Following a short wedding trip to Lubbock, the couple now reside near Silverton where the groom is engaged in farming.

"I DON'T SEE ANYTHING"THERE IS ONLY ONE WAY TO SEE THROUGH A CAMERA

Did you ever try to look through a camera from the front side? Yes, most of us have... out of curiosity... but we would not even consider trying to take a picture in such a manner. There are many though, who go through life never giving themselves a chance to really see God. In order to see God, one must look at him through faith. Attend church regularly, seek God where others can help direct you in your search for God.

"So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish.
