

$400,000 BOND ELECTION TUESDAY NOV. 14

Locations of storm sewer lines planned by the city if the $400,000 bond issue passes on Nov. 14 are shown on a map viewed by residents Monday night at a public meeting in the Rockport-Fulton Junior High School cafeteria.

Attention was called to the new type ballot which voters will use at the bond issue election Nov. 14. A reproduction of this ballot is shown elsewhere in this issue. Also, property owners will be required to sign an affidavit stating that they own property.

Voting hours at the city hall will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Absentee balloting is taking place now at the city hall between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The proposed storm sewer line locations are:

- Beginning at Little Bay and extending four blocks on Cherry and one block on Lady Claire, intersecting with Linden.
- Starting on Pearl, seven blocks on Cedar, one on Allen, and two blocks on Orleans to the bay.
- Starting on Ann, east on Laurel three blocks, north on Live Oak one block, east of Nopal five blocks.

- Start on North, parallel Highway 35 north one block, east eight blocks on Concho.
- Starting on Live Oak at Hackberry, east three blocks.
- Beginning on First at Live Oak, east two blocks.
- Starting on Young, east on King two blocks.
- Beginning at Young and Hackberry, east on Hackberry two blocks.

The project also calls for storm sewer lines, plus paving, curbs and gutters at the following locations:

- Begin on Magnolia at North and proceed south to Market.
- Start at Live Oak at Live Oak at North and go south to Market.
- Beginning at Austin, west on St. Mary's two blocks two blocks.
- Start at Main and Water and extend west three blocks. Begin at Wharf and Water and proceed west three blocks.

The public meeting was attended by about 50 persons. On hand to explain the project and answer questions were Mayor Delmar R. Hiller, City Engineer Gene Urban, Aldermen N. F. Jackson, Mrs. J. W. "Tony" Harden, Charley Garrett and N. C. Vandagriff, Public Works Commissioner Tom Shults, City Tax Assessor-Collector Herman Johnson and City Secretary Mrs. Mary Lake Segler.

Hiller opened the session by explaining that the city had spent considerable time and work planning the storm sewer project to improve Rockport's drainage. He said the city had received an interest-free loan of over $7,000 from the federal government to pay for the engineering planning. Next he said that the growth of the city during the past six years and a projection of that growth in the future indicates that the $400,000 bond issue probably could be handled without an increase in taxes or property valuation.

However, he emphasized that it was the Council's thinking that this project is needed, whether or not a tax increase becomes necessary. He also said that if and when a tax increase is necessary, the property owners would have a choice of either a sales tax or a boost in the property tax.

Shults said the proposed storm sewer line locations includes many low areas and that smaller, lateral lines could be installed to run into the storm sewer lines. The worst drainage areas were selected, he added.

Hiller then commented that if the $400,000 bond issue passes, the city will be eligible for a $200,000 federal grant. Thus, if the bond issue succeeded and the federal grant received, the city would spend $400,000 and storm sewers and $200,000 on street improvements.

Johnson said chances of getting the grant are "very good." Housing and Urban Development Agency representatives, Johnson remarked, "have said go all out and get your plans in shape." He reminded the audience that the bond issue must pass in order for the city to be eligible for the grant.

Next, a property owner asked Hiller if "any assessment is contemplated for property owners where paving (continued on page 8)

ALL VOTERS MUST REGISTER

Mrs. Margaret Weber, Aransas County Tax Assessor-Collector, reminds all residents of the county that everyone who wants to vote will have to be registered, beginning next Feb. 1.

Persons 60 years of age or older living in communities with populations under 10,000 used to be exempt.

There is one exception to the everybody-must-register rule, and it applies only for the month of February, 1968, and only to persons 60 or older living in towns under 10,000.

If they registered for 1967 or if they register for 1968 too late to have their names recorded on a list of registered voters for a February election, they may vote if they present their registration certificates.

This solves the problem created by the 1966 special session law that changed the beginning of the official voting year in Texas from Feb. 1 to March 1.

FIRE SWEEPS PENINSULA, THREATENS ROCKPORT

Heroic work by upwards of 500 volunteer fire fighters, aided by property owners who made last ditch stands on their own doorsteps, finally ended a raging brush fire and held damage to an estimated $50,000.

Most of Fulton appeared doomed Saturday, and Rockport was threatened on both Saturday and Sunday.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

A GRAMMAR FOR GOOD LIVING

A college president has prepared "Sound Grammar for Proper Living" circulating it among his students as a formula for living a good life.

"Get your grammar straight and all other needless things will come to you. Live in the active voice, not the passive. Think more what you make happen than what happens to you. Live in the inductive mood rather than the subjective. Be concerned with things as they are, rather than what they might be. Live in the present tense, facing the duty at hand without vain regret for the past or needless worry over the future. Live in the first person, criticizing yourself rather than finding fault with others. Live in the singular number, caring more for the approval of your own conscience than the applause of the crowd. And if you want a verb to conjugate, you cannot do better than use "to love."

The author, Dr. William DeWitt Hyde of Maine's Bowdoin College, presents words to live by for any person.—Boise (Idaho) Statesman.

STAMP-FREE RELIGION

The Texas minister who offered trading stamps to all who attended his Sunday service admitted ruefully that the idea was not a howling success. Only the same old faithfuls were in the receiving line as he stood at the church door and the experiment will not be repeated. It was, however, a good try, and the pastor was on sound ecclesiastical grounds. The Psalmist says, "There is a reward for the righteous." In Kings I it is declared, "Come . . . and I will give thee a reward."

But on the other hand, Deuteronomy warns, "Cursed be he that taketh reward." Apparently the road to heaven is not to be paved with trading stamps.—Miami Herald.

HOLY CHARGE CARD!

The world from Insider's Newsletter is that the charge plate credit business has reached its logical conclusion. A sign outside the Christian Yoga Church and Himalayan Academy in San Francisco says: "Charge-a-Tithe—Your Bankamerica card welcome here."—Detroit Free Press.

NO VISA

Once again an Observer correspondent has been refused a visa to the Soviet Union, this time to cover the Foreign Secretary's unofficial visit. The reason for the continuing ban is undoubtedly the publication of the Penkovsky Papers in the Observer over a year ago. Such a ban is ludicrous when the Soviet Union is meant to be interested in improving relations with the West.—London Observer.

The Washateria will feature complete laundry service as well as self-service.

AMERICA HAS LOST MARITIME SUPREMACY

A distressing note is being sounded in the nation's capital over the decline of the U. S. merchant fleet and the inability of the administration, shipping concerns, labor and Congress to form a plan for its recovery.

At the time the nation is winning in the space race, it cannot afford to lose on the seas. Particularly in trouble is the shipbuilding industry, now dependent upon government subsidies to share in the production costs.

Although President Johnson assured two years ago that his administration would help rescue the sinking industry and build a new Merchant Marine fleet, he is now faced with implementing the desired reduction in certain federal programs. Therefore, instead of building 30 ships this year, on a 50 per cent subsidy basis, his administration's budget has provided for only eleven.

Out of 1,500 vessels in the mothball fleet, only 250 are modern versions of the Victory ships and 140 are already committed to active service. Russia has 1,700 merchant ships at sea, compared with the American flag fleet of 900. The Kremlin is building 581 more ships to emphasize its intentions of becoming a major sea power.

The plight of the American Merchant Marine has become more critical in light of the demands of the Vietnam conflict. Even if the war ended, the United States must make definite moves toward restoring its prestige on the seas.

partament of Transportation. The shipping industry Congress is considering legislation creating a Department of Transportation. The shipping industry and unions are against the proposal of placing the maritime administration in this department. The agency is now under the secretary of commerce. Regardless of what happens to the commission, it must be allowed to flourish and operate without further restriction.—Boise (Idaho) Statesman.

Letters to the Editor

Are the voters of Aransas County going to let the veterans of this state down on Nov. 11, 1967? By veterans we mean all who have served their country from September 1940 to the date of formal withdrawal of troops from the present armed conflict in Vietnam. There was a program similar to this after WW II and the Korean War so why should our boys from this present conflict be denied the same benefits.

This new program will also give the veterans of WW II and the Korean War, or all those who served from September 1940, the opportunity to purchase under a contract of sale $10,000.00 worth of land with a 5 percent down payment, appraisal and service fees of $50.00 and legal and recording fees not to exceed $10.00. Interest charged the veterans on purchases has not exceeded 4 1/2%. Payments would be semi-annual and repayment would be amortized or retired over a period of 40 years. Any tract of land consisting of a minimum of 15 acres may be purchased.

So let one and all get out and vote for Constitutional Amendment No. 3 on Saturday, Nov. 11, 1967. Veterans Day.

This and That

JOHN KINSEY

People who say, "I don't like funerals," make me tired. Who does like funerals? Nobody.

But persons who are grieving over the loss of a dear one appreciate expressions of sympathy. This applies to attending the funeral, calling at the residence, calling at the funeral home, sending letters and cards, making telephone calls, etc.

Granted that it sometimes is a trying experience to call at a home where death has struck, the visitor often can say or do something that will console the bereaved family. I know of one instance a brief letter was helpful to a woman whose husband had just died. The letter expressed sympathy, but then it went on to state that the writer had always considered the woman's husband as a "colorful" individual who lived life with zest and made many others happy by his humor and friendliness.

The woman showed this letter to many of her friends and the reference always brought a smile to her face when she thought of her husband as he had been for years — a carefree, likable guy.

So the next time you know you should go to a funeral, don't say, "I just don't like funerals." You're not unique. The other guy doesn't like them either, but sorrowing people appreciate your demonstration of understanding and sympathy.

PIRATES ENJOY 37-0 VICTORY

By Robert Oliver

The Fighting Pirates of Rockport-Fulton High School enjoyed a 37-0 victory last Friday over the Tuloso-Midway Warriors. The District 28-2A football game was played in Warrior Stadium.

The Pirates dominated the game both offensively and defensively throughout the entire evening. By the time the first half came to a conclusion the Pirates had racked up a 24-0 lead.

The second half was almost an instant replay of the first half as the Pirates went on to rack up 13 more points to give them a final 37-0 victory. The Pirates were in complete control of the second half as they displayed some of their finest defensive qualities of the season.

The Pirates, as a result of this victory are now 2-3-1 in district play and 4-3-1 in season play. The Pirates dominated the game in almost every statistic possible as well as holding the warriors to a scoreless evening.

Library News

National Book Week was well attended by both Adults and children. It was pleasing to note the number of "first timers" in the Library and their complimentary remarks concerning same.

The State Book Exhibit was well received by all, and it is hoped that the library may be able to obtain some of these books as memorials.

Mrs. Province Winkler, who is the expert on planning and "drawing up" bulletin board displays is temporarily off duty on Saturday mornings due to an accident.

There were 276 books circulated during the week. In as much as books borrowed from the State Library Field Agency will not be due to be returned until Dec. 1, they will be on display for those who care to read them in the library or would like to purchase one for a memorial to be given to the library.

Mrs. Owen W. Brymer, the librarian, reports that Mrs. Province Winkler is improving at U. S. Naval Hospital at the Naval Air Station in Corpus Christi. Having sustained a broken hip among other injuries in an auto accident near Port Lavaca, enroute to Florida, she will be on the convalescent list for quite some time. She has asked that friends not send flowers but rather keep the cards or letters coming to break the monotony of the long days. She is in M&S Ward, room 14.

Mrs. J. W. Brundrett 96 Years Old

Mrs. J. W. (Manch) Brundrett, oldest resident in Aransas county, observed her 96th birthday Sunday, Nov. 5 at a birthday party at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Lloyd L. Smith.

Among the 66 persons attending the party were her six daughters, 12 of her grandchildren and 20 of her great-grandchildren and the following relatives and friends: Mrs. George Sorenson, Port Lavaca; Mrs. Fred Mires, Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Mires and sons; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Sloan and children of Taft; Mrs. Jack Butler and son of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Normal Oliver and family of Corpus Christi; Mrs. W. A. Kell, Sr., Mrs. Wanda Beal and son, Mrs. William Maizner and daughter of Premont;

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kell, Jr., and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy D. Turner and family of Refugio; Mrs. Coy Kirkpatrick and daughter of Aransas Pass; Mrs. Roland Blumh of Austwell, Miss Ruth Hill and Mrs. Agnes Bowley of San Antonio.

Mrs. Brundrett resides at Bayview Nursing Home in Rockport where she spends part of her time "cainin," and listening to her transistor radio.

She explained that by chainin' she meant making a continuous chain out of wool thread which can be used for decorations on quilts and for other purposes that ladies think up.

"Keeps my hands busy," Mrs. Brundrett commented. "For about a year, my eyesight has been very poor, and this is something I can do by feel. Also, it keeps my fingers nimble."

Asked what type of radio program she likes best, the little white haired lady said, "News programs. I like to keep up with what's going on in the world, but I do get depressed by all the killings, suicides and violence."

When a nosey reporter asked the usual question, "To what do you owe your longevity?" Mrs. Brundrett replied:

"Reckon I was meant for it. Also, maybe it helped that I worked hard for many years of my marriage when my husband and I ran a ranch, and we both worked hard, side by side."

Mrs. Brundrett's six daughters are Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Mrs. Ingle Turner and Mrs. D. L. Kight of Rockport, Mrs. Fred Mires of Taft, Mrs. George Sorenson of Port Lavaca and Mrs. William Kell, Sr., of Premont; 20 grandchildren and 41 great grandchildren. A son, Elmo Brundrett, is deceased. Her husband died in 1940.

Regarding Mrs. Brundrett's early life, the following material was gathered by Mrs. S. F. Jackson, a fine writer and former journalist:

Mrs. Brundrett was born Lydia McRae in 1871 in historic old Lamar (north of Rockport), the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murdock McRae. Her maternal grandfather, Archibald McRae, was born in Scotland, and her paternal grandfather, Humphrey Heard, was a native of Ireland.

Both families were among their earliest settlers in this area and their descendants are prominent citizens in Aransas, Bee and Refugio counties. Mr. McRae was the second settler in Lamar, coming in soon after James Bryne (originally O'Bryne), his close friend, when the country was a wilderness.

Lydia McRae was christened when she was one year old at the little Presbyterian Church built in Lamar just the year previous. On the same day J. W. Brundrett, who was to become her husband, received the rites of baptism.

The McRaes were devout church people. Her father, Murdock McRae, was an elder in the Presbyterian Church in old St. Mary's prior to the building of the church in Lamar and was superintendent of the Sunday School.

The circuit riding minister of all faiths stayed in the homes of Mr. McRae and Capt. James B. Wells and used the same church. Mrs. L. A. D. Wells gave the lot upon which the church was erected by the labor of the little group of members and every afternoon at 4 o'clock they assembled at what was known as the "work bench" and were served cake and coffee by Mrs. McRae, Mrs. John Brundrett and others of the congregation.

The storm of 1886 destroyed the church and great limbs of the huge oak tree which shaded it were torn off, causing real grief among the residents, as the tree was a well known landmark in the area.

A few years later Mrs. McRae (the only surviving member of the church) sold the lumber to Bert Ballou and it was brought into Rockport on a barge owned by H. G. Smith.

In 1891 Lydia McRae married J. W. Brundrett, who was born on St. Joseph's Island. Soon after they were married they moved to Black Jack Ranch on Bilmott Bayou and lived there for 20 years.

For a period of six years, their closest neighbor lived three miles from them.

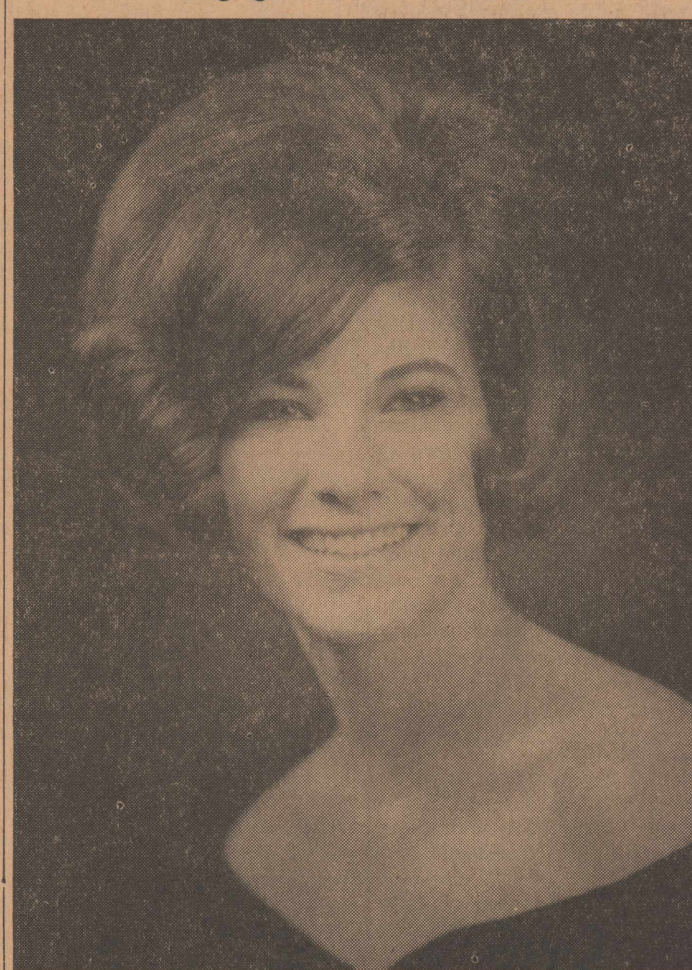

Life was strenuous on this ranch on Black Jack Peninsula, where the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge is now located, with very little free time.

"Do it yourself" was not a craze but a necessity, coupled with the lack of conveniences which are an important part of modern ranch life.

One year they branded 900 calves. Before the calves were born, Mrs. Brundrett helped her husband round up the cattle, riding a side saddle with her long riding habit touching the ground.

They ground their own corn, milked 25 cows and churned the butter in an earthen crock with a wooden dasher. They had no means of refrigeration and no market for the butter so they seasoned all the food with butter and always had buttered grits for the supper

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Callison of Aransas Pass announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Beth, to Andrew Tice of Rockport, a senior at Texas A&M University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Everett.

Plans are being made for the wedding to be held on January 27 at the First Christian Church in Aransas Pass.

Hundreds of pounds of green grapes, huckleberries, dewberries and corn along with other vegetables were put up each year in self-sealing jars.

They needed plenty of food, according to Mrs. Brundrett, because in those days people passing through the country stopped for the night at the nearest house and sometimes remained for several days.

About once a month the Brundretts went by small sailboat to Lamar or Rockport for staple groceries.

Election day was a big occasion in the Brundrett household and Mr. "Manch," as he was called, was always in demand to help hold the election at Faulkner, 12 miles away. Mrs. Brundrett and the babies would accompany him in a two-wheel gig.

Another diversion which the family enjoyed was hunting trips to Carlos City, midway between their ranch and Faulkner. They would load a big feather bed in the wagon

Fourth Grade Field Trip

Mrs. Billy Griffith's fourth grade at the George W. Fulton Elementary School enjoyed a field trip to the Marine Laboratory at the Rockport Turning Basin on Nov. 3.

The trip was a result of a small, unusual turtle found at the Griffith home several days ago. Interest in the turtle led to a study of related marine life and an attempt was made to identify the turtle. At the Marine Laboratory Spencer Gaille showed the group several specimens and a film. He told the class about marine life, especially sea turtles.

Gaille identified the specimen brought by the class as a rare Southern Diamond Back Terrapin. This was unusual as it is not ordinarily found west of the Florida Coast.

takes place." Hiller said curbing will be assessed at a rate of about $2 per lineal foot, but there will be no assessment for paving.

Asked if Aransas County was planning any drainage improvement projects, Hiller said he could not speak for the county but that the county had applied for federal financial assistance for such work. The Pilot reported this on Nov. 2.

County Judge John D. Wendell has stated that if and when the county receives aid, he wants to have a joint meeting of the County Commissioners, City Council and State Highway Department representatives to work together in attempting to solve drainage problems in this area.

Record Crowd At FTA Convention

A record crowd of approximately 350 people attended the District XII Fall Convention of the Central Gulf Future Teachers of America Saturday, Nov. 4, at Rockport-Fulton High School.

During the first general session, the highlight was the address of Dr. Roger D. Gee, Director of Curriculum, Victoria Public Schools, who spoke on the convention theme, "Invest, Innovate, Improve."

Dr. Gee challenged the future teachers when he said, "sometimes people who have ability don't care or don't try to have high aspirations in life. Whether you have high or mediocre ability, get 'hooked' on good books and good companions. Associate yourself with something great so you can become great."

A panel discussion consisting of Moderator Joel M. Mixon, counselor; Mrs. Martha P. Coats, Junior English; William E. Gaddy High School Latin; Earl L. Heinsohn, High School Science; Mrs. Ruby M. Rasco, third grade reading; and Jimmy S. Whitfill, High School mathematics, highlighted the second general session. Each panelist brought out the convention theme as applied to his experience as a teacher. A question and answer period followed.

At the luncheon in the Colony Room of the Sandollar Motel, Steven Shaver gave the invocation and Mary Ellen McHugh played dinner music while the delegation enjoyed their meal. Favors were given to each guest.

The Dee Mitchell FTA Chapter would like to thank the following individuals and businesses that assisted in making the convention a success:

Business and Professional Woman's Club, Mrs. Eugene Carter, Central Power and Light Co., Chamber of Commerce, Scoutmaster James C. Cruser, Mrs. Pepper Everett, First National Bank, Flowers by Gayna, HEB Grocery, Johnson's Rexall Drug, Rainbow Baking Co., Roe's Food Store and the United Savings Association.

ARTHUR F. ASHFORD DIES

Arthur F. Ashford, who moved from here to Kerrville in August, died Sunday in a Kerrville hospital.

Survivors include his wife Bess; a son, Jack Ashford of Corpus Christi; a sister, Mrs. Allene Harmon of Dallas; and a brother, Elmo Ashford of Dallas.

Two Injured In Accident

Two persons were injured in a three-car pileup on the Lyndon B. Johnson Causeway Saturday night.

They were Miss Terri Tomkins, Aransas Pass, who sustained facial lacerations and damage to her teeth, and Mrs. A. C. Barger, 70, Freeport, who received head injuries. Both were taken to Lyman-Roberts Hospital.

State Highway Patrolman Ray Brown said the accident happened this way: Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Newell of Rockport, heading south, ran out of gas on the causeway. They got out and started walking to get gas. Miss Tomkins' car then crashed into the rear of the stalled car. Then a car driven by Melvin Barger of Freeport hit the wreckage of the other two cars.

Brown said the co-operation of Deputy Sheriff Joe de la Garza and E. A. Stautzenberger and Constable Buddy McLester in directing traffic at the scene prevented additional accidents.

In an accident in Fulton Sunday afternoon, a car driven by George Littlefield of Taft was hit from the rear by an auto operated by Jeff Lee of Corpus Christi, according to Brown. The crash occurred when Littlefield attempted to make a left turn at Myrtle Street.

Lee received a ticket charging him with failure to control speed.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erie T. Eller and the groom is the son of Cmdr. and Mrs. W. M. Fleniken of Kerrville.

Rev. Ben H. Bohmfalk officiated at the double ring ceremony. The foyer was decorated with a horizontal arrangement of pastel flowers, with tapered candles. Large white satin bows with lilies of the valley adorned the pews. A sunburst arrangement of snow white gladioli with white fuji mums and pom poms centered a candle lit altar. The soft lights shown on the bridal couple on the white leathered double prie-dieu.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor length traditional Phillipian wedding dress with silk and satin blend with clusters of pearls and mother of pearl shells. The floor length train was trimmed with pearls. Her veil of illusion hung from a small crown of pearls with seed pearls scattered on the veil.

The bride's bouquet of gladioli garlands enhanced a white orchid with a red-purple throat.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Editor:

I am seldom opposed to anything of a progressive nature, especially in the city limits of Rockport where my heart lies—this being evident by my continued development within the city limits.

However at this time put me down as opposed to the present city bond issue and I would further request all voters and citizens of the area and peninsula to take a good look at this issue for the following reasons:

1. Drainage is needed, more so just west, outside of the city limits rather than inside. It looks to me like we are in fair shape to take care of our own water inside.

2. Unplanned, undesignated, curb and gutter and street work, I feel is a good program but a separate one, not riding on the coat tail of a drainage program which I feel is ill timed and unplanned just after !!!

2. Finally—the big reason: Look see how we are going to pay this money back, it will shock you. Now at this eleventh hour why are we the voters, not given anything in the way of a map, plat or even straight answers by the city fathers when questioned about where, how large, what, why, and at what estimated cost this program is presented.

Please voters, let's hold this money up till a firmly proposed straightforward program is presented, I hope with cooperative planning with the county.

Thanks for reading my thoughts,
Chester Johnson.

top. Cherry punch was served to approximately 150 guests.

The bride is a graduate of Aransas County High School and attended Del Mar College, Corpus Christi. The groom is a graduate of Rayford High School, Hawaii and attended Del Mar College, Corpus Christi.

The bride chose a mint green tailored knit suit with black accessories for her going away attire.

The couple will be at home at 500 Borden St. in Sinton.
