Grand jury no-bills Williamson

For the second time, a Mitchell County grand jury has no-billed former parttime Colorado City police officer Billy Ray Williamson in the 1988 shooting death of Sammy Gomez.

A special grand jury session ended Friday night after hearing three days of testimony in the case and returned no indictments.

The first grand jury, meeting shortly after the incident in May, 1988, also no-billed Williamson who said he shot Gomez in self-defense after Gomez lunged at him with a knife.

Following the first grand jury session, the League of United Latin American Citizens, the Gomez family and the lawyer representing the Gomez family, Reuben Sandoval, have repeatedly

'A big city lawyer came to a small West Texas town seeking the truth - and he learned the truth is like a rose, it has thorns.' — Mayor Jim Baum asked for a new investigation and allege that Gomez was unarmed when he was shot three times by Williamson who, with other officers, was attempting to arrest Gomez as a suspect in a rape case.

Apparently, the grand jury did not believe the allegations by Sandoval that Gomez was "executed" by Williamson.

District Attorney Frank Conard said the grand jurors returned the court room early Friday evening and told the district judge they had no indictments to return.

The jury had heard from a number of witnesses during the three days.

"The case was presented to this grand jury as if it had never been presented before," said Conard. "We presented any and every witness this grand jury wanted and all

High school's FFA teams advance to area competition

Members of the Colorado High School FFA Leadership teams brought home two first places, one second second and two third places from district competition in Snyder this week.

Two teams and one individual teams qualified to advance to the area competition Saturday, Nov. 18 at Howard College in Big Spring.

Teams advancing are senior chapter conducting team which captured first place and the junior chapter conducting team which captured second place. Julie McElvaney won first place in extemporaneous speaking to qualify her for area.

Other teams participating, but not qualifying included the farm radio broadcasting, Curtis Clemmer, Brian Potter and Jeremy Strain; senior skills team (third place), Kevin Lamb, Bobby Grimes, and Leo Del Real; and quiz team (third place), Justin Dockrey, Caasi Smith, Billy Robinette and Mike Dossey. Becky Grisham won third in extemporaneous speaking and Frank Briseno was ninth in creed speaking.

Sponsor and Ray Ellis.

Judge OKs delay

32nd District Judge Weldon Kirk granted a continuance Friday morning in a suit filed against the Colorado Independent School District by a student challenging the school district's dress code.

Kirk granted the continuance at the request of the school district's attorney, Tom Rees, who said that a witness, a psychologist, was unable to be there Friday.

The hearing was reset for Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Mike Lara, 17, a senior at Colorado High School, filed suit against the school district challenging its hair length code for male students. Lara, whose shoulder length hair is tied in a pony tail, has been assigned to In-School Suspension (ISS) until he conforms to the dress code and cuts his hair.

Lara, represented by attorney Pat Barber, maintains two of his constitutional rights - the right of privacy and his equal rights - are being denied as a result of his being placed in ISS.

On Oct. 31, Kirk denied a temporary restraining order sought by Lara which would have allowed him back in the classroom until the suit is settled.

On Friday morning, Kirk also granted a request by Barber to video tape and take photographs of the room at the Wallace Center where the ISS program is conducted.

ISS is designed as an alternative to suspension from school and allows students to continue their studies.

Trooper Don Massey investigates a two-vehicle accident Friday afternoon one mile south of Colorado City. George Anderson of Allen, driver of this 1983 Chevrolet pickup, was traveling north on 208 when he collided with a 1984 Buick driven by Sharon Dockrey of Colorado City, who was attempting to make a turn. No injuries were reported.

Local Scouts to be 'scouting for food'

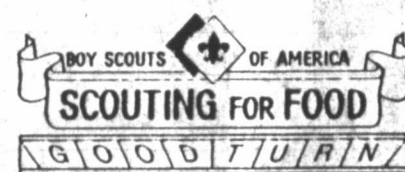

"Do A Good Turn Daily" can be a motto for more than the Boy Scouts to live by.

Every person in Mitchell County, as well as the rest of the nation, will have an opportunity to "do a good turn" by cooperating with Boy Scouts of America in their "Scouting for Food Good Turn Project" on Saturday, Nov. 18.

"Imagine hundreds of thousands of canned food items being collected and distributed to food banks and organizations to help feed the poor and those impoverished by the rough economic times of our day," said Rev. Jon Farris, scout chaplain. "Visualize the hope stirred within the soul of a family who learns they will not have to go to bed hungry on a dark and cold wintry night."

In today's home-delivered copies of the Record, readers will find a lightweight white cellophane bag with the "Scouting for Food" logo. Each citizen is asked to fill that bag with canned food items, and to place that bag outside their front door on Saturday morning, Nov. 18, by 9 a.m.

Members of Mitchell County's Boy Scout Troop 100 and Cub Scout Pack 2 will be canvassing neighborhoods between 9 a.m.-2 p.m. on that day to pick up the sacks.

"An individual is not limited to filling up just one bag, and may give as much canned food as he would like," said Farris. "Please do not donate any foods that perishable, frozen or in glass."

Good Turn Bags also may be dropped off at the office of First United Methodist Church, 333 Chestnut. If a scout has not picked up your Good Turn Bag by 2 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 18, you may call Cubmaster Renee Culppepper at 728-3155, Scoutmaster Frank Costabile at 728-2186 or Farris at 728-8205 (where you may leave your message and address).

Food will be donated to local food banks to help the needy. Scouts are participating in this effort as part of their involvement with the Colgate Youth for America program.

"The Scouts would like to especially to thank the Colorado Record and KVMC-Radio for their kind assistance in this Scouting for Food Project," said Farris.

Junell schedules town meeting

State Rep. Robert Junell has announced there will be a town hall meeting Thursday, Nov. 30, from 7-8 p.m. in the middle school cafeteria to discuss school finance.

Although the main topic for discussion will be on financing of public schools, anyone wishing to have other issues addressed may call or go by the district office in Colorado City with their requests by Monday, Nov. 27.

The district office is located at 2135-D Hickory Street with office hours being from 9:30-11:30 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. The phone number is 728-8955.

Ray Mayo

See anything different about the photograph of myself above this column?

I can hear you know... "Gosh, he looks so much older...and fatter...and look, he's wearing glasses!"

Well, yes, the other photograph was taken a few years ago when I was somewhat thinner. But, enough with the four-eyed jokes!

What's the big deal about wearing glasses? Lots of people wear glasses, and lots of people wear contact lens. And, some people don't wear either even though they should be.

"What have you done to your eyes?", Robert Sheets, my friendly optometrist asked me at my yearly checkup which was about a year late, thanks to my procrastination.

"What do you mean?", I asked innocently, even though I knew I had been caught. My used-to-be perfect vision was no longer perfect. One eye, particularly, seemed rather blurry at times, especially when I was reading.

"How old are you now?", Robert asked as he peered into my eyes.

"I'm 41," I said, looking straight ahead as he focused a tiny beam of light into my left eye.

I forget his exact words at that point, but the thoughts that entered my mind as he said them were:

"Well, you're 41 years old now - over the hill - no wonder you can't see. You need glasses."

Knowing Robert, I'll guarantee you he didn't say it in that way, but to me, the meaning was still the same.

I knew before I sat down in the examining chair that the time had come. I did need glasses. I couldn't see as well as I used to. I had frequent headaches. My lack of concentration was evident as when I sat for long lengths of time at my computer terminal.

But, I wasn't about to admit that to Robert. Of course, I didn't have to admit it. He described every symptom perfectly.

As it turned out, I am far-sighted in one eye and near-sighted in the other - things easily corrected with the glasses that I am now wearing.

Despite what others might say (particularly those who were at the Cancer Society meeting Thursday and who watched and listened as I tried unsuccessfully to read the calendar in my checkbook), my eyesight has improved.

But I'm far from blind. I can still see well enough without my glasses to typw this sentence.

Youth injured

A 17-year-old Colorado City youth was hospitalized following a two-vehicle accident Friday morning at the intersection of county road 307 and Farm Road 1229.

DPS Trooper Don Massey said Wendell Iglehart, driver of a 1973 Chevrolet pickup was injured in a collision with a 1978 GMC delivery van driven by Augustin Meza of Midland at 8 a.m.

The brakes on Iglehart's truck apparently failed, causing him to run through a stop sign. Iglehart suffered a blow to the head and a puncture to the stomach and was taken to Mitchell County Hospital. Iglehart's brother, Roger Iglehart, 21, a passenger in the truck, sustained a concussion.

Meza sustained a leg injury but was not hospitalized.

Much of the information was gathered by investigators with the Texas Attorney General's office and the Texas Rangers.

The grand jury heard from three pathologists, including the original medical examiner who conducted the autopsy on Gomez; an El Paso pathologist hired by LULAC; and the chief medical examiner from Bexar County, described by Conard as one of the foremost forensic pathologists in the United States.

Conard also said that the jury heard findings from polygraph tests conducted voluntarily on Williamson and Officer Pat Taylor by two different DPS polygraph examiners "concerning the facts about what happened at the time of the shooting."

Conard said that "I hope the residents can put this behind them, heal the wounds and go on as a community."

Mayor Jim Baum had harsh words of criticism for Sandoval and the manner in which he has conducted himself.

"I think Mr. Sandoval owes an apology to Officer Williamson for what he's been put through the last year and a half. I think he owes an apology to Mitchell County for impeaching the integrity of its citizens. I think he owes an apology to LULAC, because their credibility has suffered, and I think he owes the Gomez family an apology for leading them down the primrose path," said Baum.

"Ironically, a big city lawyer came to a small West Texas town seeking the truth - and he learned the truth is like a rose, it has thorns," said Baum.

Earlier Friday, LULAC and Sandoval conducted a press conference at which he said the group was going to boycott the courthouse during the remainder of the grand jury proceedings described as a "den of iniquities", adding that "we don't want to be a part of the circus going on down there."

Sandoval urged the 30-40 in attendance to continue their letter writing campaigns to seek a federal investigation into the matter.

CITY NATIONAL BANK'S TRUST DEPARTMENT

OFFERS YOU AN ADDITIONAL WAY

TO SAVE FOR YOUR RETIREMENT.

SAVING THROUGH SELF-DIRECTED IRA'S

Have you heard about self-directed IRA's (SDA's) and wondered what they were? SDA's are one of the fastest growing types of individual retirement arrangements. One reason for this surge in popularity is the flexibility of SDA's.

SDA's...

...allow you two ways of investing your IRA.

...can be established to allow you to direct you investments so you can match your savings plan to the level of risk you desire.

...also can be established so that we can act as trustee and make investments for you.

Either way, the many advantages of an SDA are:

Earnings are tax-deferred

Many people qualify to deduct their contributions

Saving through an SDA helps you build a financially secure future.

Saving through an SDA is flexible because you decide each year how much to contribute, within certain limits.

In addition to these advantages, SDA's offer you a wide variety of investment options. Your IRA portfolio can change as your investment goals change and the market changes.

If you have further questions about self-directed IRA's or if you would like to establish an SDA, please stop in. Our Trust Department staff will be happy to assist you.

Payne Chapel anniversary is scheduled

Rev. Rosalyn K. Wofford, pastor of St. Paul Christian Methodist Episcopal (C.M.E.) Church, Midland, will be the guest speaker at Payne Chapel C.M.E. Church's 106th anniversary observance, which will be held Sunday, Nov. 12, at 3 p.m.

Although the Payne Chapel congregation was organized in 1883, the first church building was not completed until 1889. It was located where the Dawson Hotel now stands. It was named "Payne Chapel" in honor of Rev. J.E. Payne, who was the pastor at that time. In 1909, the congregation moved to its present location on Front and Erie streets.

Forty-seven ministers, including 46 men and one woman, have served the congregation since its beginning. The present pastor, Rev. Lubin Moise, assumed his duties at the church on July 9, 1989.

Rev. Wofford was born to the late Roosevelt and Mary D. Wofford on Sept. 12, 1954 in Overton. At the age of 12, she acknowledged her love of God and His church and became a full member of Scott's Memorial C.M.E. Church in Overton during the pastorate of Rev. J.S. Williams. She was very faithful and active in her church membership at Scott's Memorial until God decided it was time to call her to preach His gospel.

After graduating from Overton High School, she continued her academic studies at Kilgore (Tex.) Junior College, BRAC Business School (Los Angeles, Calif.), El Centro College (Dallas) and Texas College (Tyler). She completed seminary training at American Theological Seminary (Tyler branch), United Bible College and Seminary (Orlando, Fla.) and Bethany Bible College and Seminary (Dothan, Ala.).

Rev. Wofford has held several administrative positions in the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church. She served as assistant general conference secretary, General Connectional Board, Dayton, Ohio in 1985, and as assistant annual conference secretary, East Texas Annual Conference from 1985-89. She held the following positions in the Longview-Marshall district of the East Texas Annual Conference: district secretary (1986-88), district coordinator (1987-89) and presiding elder's personal secretary (1986-89). Since July 2, 1989 she has been the worship leader for the Abilene-Amarillo District of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference.

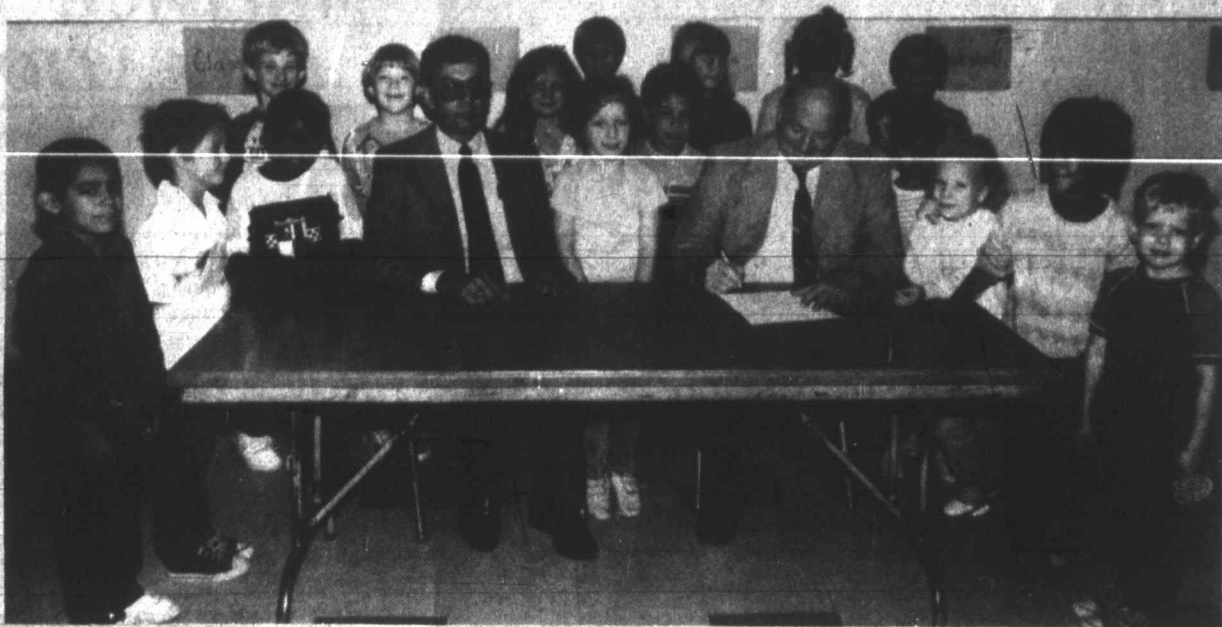

Prior to assuming her duties as pastor of St. Paul C.M.E. Church in Midland in July, 1989, her previous ministerial assignments included three years (1984-87) at Mt. Comfort C.M.E. Church, Overton, and two years (1987-89) at Bates Memorial C.M.E. Church, Kilgore.

Uniforms needed

The Mitchell County Service Unit is looking for used Girl Scout uniforms.

Anyone who would like to donate a uniform should call Lorena Turnbow, service unit director.

The uniforms will be sold at reasonable prices. Money earned will be used for special events for Mitchell County Girl Scouts and for training expenses for new leaders.

PROCLAMATION SIGNED - Mayor Jim Baum, seated, signs a proclamation declaring Wednesday, Nov. 15, as National Young Reader's Day as Kelley Elementary Principal Juan Espinoza and some of his students look on.

Young Reader's Day is Wednesday

Colorado City Mayor Jim Baum has declared Wednesday, Nov. 15 as Young Reader's Day in conjunction with National Young Reader's Day sponsored by Pizza Hut which also sponsors the Book-It Reading Program for elementary students.

On Wednesday, schools, libraries, families, communities and Pizza Hut restaurants throughout the country will be participating in a variety of reading-related activities.

Included in the celebration will be kindergarten, first and second grade students at Kelley Elementary who are participating in the Book-It Reading Program.

Second grade students at Kelley will dress as their favorite storybook characters on Wednesday and will bring the corresponding storybooks to school where they will share their favorite stories with the other members of their class.

Parents of first and second grade students also will be dressing as story book characters and will be reading to classes on Wednesday.

A group of second-grade parents dressed as characters from the "Wizard of Oz" Thursday to the delight of students and teachers, said Juan Espinoza, principal.

Letters to the Editor

Something in the water?

TO THE EDITOR: I am a new teacher to the Colorado City Independent School District, and I just thought you might be interested in a newcomer's viewpoint of your school, students and town.

Most of my teaching experience career has been in larger cities because I thought they were progressive, more professional and updated.

My first shock came during In-Service week for teachers. In most groups, there will be a few real dedicated and many non-committed, but as we met day after day these teachers came early, eager, participated and seemed reluctant to leave. I mentioned to one of the administrators that I had always been against testing teachers for drugs, but after having worked here a week and not seeing any let-down in the teachers' eagerness, that maybe he should consider the possibility.

School starts! In walked neat, well-groomed, very disciplined young adults - no yelling, no shoving, no pushing, no signs of rudeness. (But - it's early yet.) Classes start. Students with eagerness, expectations and goals arrive ready to start a new year.

First pep-rally. Students yell with the cheerleaders, clap with the band, cheer for the team, listen to the speeches and also have prayer for both teams. I asked if there is something in the water.

I have had merchants buy me a Coke, car dealers to guarantee me a way to school if I have car trouble, a nice policeman to point out a lost "90" sticker - no ticket - just a smile and Welcome to Colorado City.

They say that "cream rises to the top" and I am convinced this has happened in this school district and this community. I am also convinced the parents are exceptional, the school personnel superior, the school outstanding - or there is something in the water.

Warped thinking

To The Editor: This is a letter in response to the very ignorant old man who stated in the Big Spring paper "I think they ought to shoot all those sons of who took up their constitutional right of peaceful protest."

I was one of those marchers, and, I along with others, feel very insulted by those backwards comments. The small-minded, unbelievably dense man would like to think that any Mexican, (not maskin) black, or white person that wants the same rights to fair treatment as he is given, should be shot I disagree.

It is time-warped thinking like this that has kept this place moving backwards in time. I suppose he would like Colorado City to go back to the 1930s where the execution of a Mexican would not only be noticed, but celebrated by he and his white-hooded friends. Wake up guys!!! The klan may not be dead, but their ideas, for most of us, are dead.

Of course there are still a few "bad apples" left who would like to believe that Sammy Gomez had less right than any other person well "sir" wrong!!! He deserves all the rights of "fair trial" as you do.

Now before you start your response, yes the poor girl that was raped deserves rights too. I knew her. She was one of the few bright spots left in this town. I have almost no doubt she was raped. She deserves justice, but on the other hand, so did the suspect.

You seem to think the only issue we were protesting was the death of Gomez. Once again your limited mind keeps you from seeing the whole picture.

I was at the protest. What was I protesting??? I was protesting the lack of rights given to Sammy Gomez. You and any others probably have said "Well he raped that girl, he deserved it." I see.

Well could I ask a few simple questions??? How long did you and the jury deliberate Sammy's guilt??? Who was Gomez's attorney??? What was the name of the judge who gave him the death penalty??? Oh, you can't answer those questions. Why??? Because he never got his day in court. That's what I was protesting.

I have this really stupid idea that "all men are created equal" and that you are "innocent until proven guilty." Sammy was never "proven" guilty, because he never got a chance to defend himself. It seems he was "attacking a certain police officer" backwards. How else does he explain the gunshots in the back of the head???

Gomez was killed as a suspect. So unless you and your family feel it would be okay to shoot any one for suspicion, then I would suggest you change your backwards thinking. Suspects deserve to be tried by a court of law, not executed by a terrified cop.

Now, I am signing my name to my opinion like a man. If you are half the man you think you are, you will state your name to your backward, time-warped, klan like opinion. I, along with others are anxious to see if you will (but I doubt it). Thank you Mr. Editor for allowing my right to free speech and opinion.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

Question: How many visitors come to the Lake Colorado City State Park each year? 50,000? 100,000? 286,000? (answer at the end of this column)

Dallas Cowboy fans...before you run out and buy Super Bowl tickets (following Dallas' win over Washington), think about this: T.P. FOWLER says Dallas is still one win behind SMU!

You gotta like the way the Kiwanis Club makes decisions. The organization's president, JACK STRAIN, reminded the group this Saturday would be a good day to pick up litter along a two-mile stretch of North 208...

"How many can be there Saturday?", Strain asked the Kiwanians. Suddenly, the club members looked down at their plates and studied leftover with great intensity. No hands were raised.

Finally, Boy Scout master JON FARRIS spoke up. "If you can wait 'til Saturday week," he volunteered, "I can get some scouts to help out."

"Maybe we ought to wait another week," ELMER MARTIN cheerfully recommended.

Several Kiwanians nodded their approval.

"Don't wear long shoe strings," President Strain admonished.

Meeting adjourned.

Speaking of scouts, Troop 100, some 20 or strong, recently visited the Colorado City Museum. They were courageously led by FRANK and MARY LOU CONSTABLE, the aforementioned JON FARRIS, ALAN LOVING and PAUL DORSCH. The scouts were on a learning expedition and their subject was the fabled Lone Wolf Mountain.

The scouts heard a report on the history of the West Texas landmark, then gazed at a copper pot that was found buried on the mountain in 1925 by FOSTER STEPHENSON.

Scout leaders say the young men will visit Lone Wolf Mountain on a field trip. The organization is growing locally with about 20 in the troop, plus another 68 in the Cub Scout program.

Chief Lone Wolf says these kids and the adults are doing a heap good job.

SHERMAN HART, the ex-movie mogul of Mitchell County, has some advice: "Never wrestle with a pig. You'll get dirty and the pig likes it."

While we're in the barnyard, KAY McCARLEY recently had three goats homestead at his place...("One is white and the other two are white with brown spots")...no date has been set for the barbecue as efforts continue to locate the traveling trio's owner.

JOHN TOM MERRITT (Class of '39, Texas Tech) recalls, "In those days, bunnies were small rabbits and rabbits were NOT Volkswagens."

"We got married first and then lived together."

"In our day...grass was mowed, coke was something you drank and a pot was something you cooked in."

"We were not before the difference between sexes was discovered, but we WERE before sex changes. We made do with what we had."

"This is way we were...in 1939."

Answer to this week's question: Park Ranger MARK FAMBRO says the park has averaged 286,000 visitors annually for the last three years. If we could just figure out a way to get 'em into town!

Obituaries

Lion projects explained

The Tumbleweed Lioness Club met Nov. 6 at the Villa Restaurant for its regular meeting with President Corrie Simpson presiding.

Mrs. Simpson led the pledge to the flag, and the invocation was said by Doris Andrews. There were nine members present with President Kay Clark and eight members of Howard County Lioness Club as guests.

District Governor Bob Noyes was speaker. He told about some of the state, national and international clubs and projects sponsored by Lions and lioness clubs - the camp for handicapped children, lead dog program and eye bank for the blind, aid for the deaf, camp for diabetics, scholarships for students and other projects funded by donations and contributions of the numerous clubs.

There are now clubs in 166 countries and recently for the first time in two communist countries.

The Tumbleweed Club will sponsor a blood drive Wednesday, Nov. 15, at the Civic Center. A Thanksgiving basket will be delivered to a local family and a pair of eyeglasses were bought for a local high school student.

Next meeting will be Nov. 20 with a program to be presented on drugs and drug abuse.

Wolves tame Coahoma, 8-2

by STEVE NALL
Sports Editor

The Colorado City Wolves capped off the 1989 season with a 8-2 victory over the Coahoma Bulldogs Friday night at Wolf Stadium.

The win upped the Wolves' final regular season record to 4-6 (2-3 in district) while the Bulldogs tallied up an identical record.

The Wolves dodged a bullet early when a Tracy Molina punt was partially blocked by hard-charging Bulldog defender John Overton. But a good roll off of the bounce was downed at the Bulldog 27-yard line, averting trouble.

The first big break for the Wolves happened with 10:00 showing on the clock when a bad snap forced Coahoma punter Carlos Cervantes to fall on the ball at his own 23-yard line.

The Wolves took over and proceeded inside the 10. On fourth down and 2, Tracy Edward took the ball in for a 4-yard TD.

Edwards then ran the ball in for the 2-point conversion, giving C-City an 8-0 lead.

The rest of the game was a defensive struggle, as expected. The Wolves allowed no penetrations into their territory the rest of the half.

Coahoma started the second half with a drive into a place they had seen little of - Wolf country.

Three straight pass plays ended in an interception by Mike Boatwright. The return, however, was nullified by a clipping penalty that brought the Wolves back to their own 12-yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, George Ramsey dropped back to pass and was hit by an unknown Bulldog. The ball rolled out of the endzone for a safety and an 8-2 score.

The rest of the game was focused on the Packs' defense, which stopped the Bulldogs three times on fourth down during the game.

Coahoma had a 1st and goal at the Wolf 9-yard line, but four straight pass plays came up empty as Gabriel Ornelas and Kevin Green broke up consecutive passes.

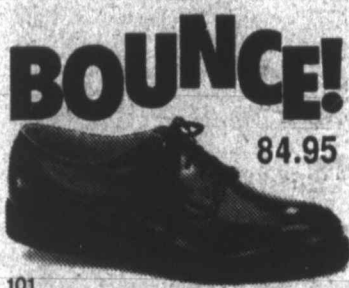

The Bulldogs again had a chance to score late in the game, but four plays yielded zero yards.

Seniors Adon DeLoera and Ray Sutton ended their careers with stand-out performances. DeLoera ended up with 17 tackles, while Sutton's constant pressure resulted in one sack and a poor passing average for Coahoma.

Senior Tracy Edwards played on a bad knee, yet was still able to score the only touchdown and play defense when he was needed.

COMING THROUGH - Colorado City running back Darron Emerson puts a move on a Bulldog defender as George Ramsey (4) and Ray Sutton (51) look on. The 8-2 victory sent this year's seniors out on a happy note after a rough season.

CMS teams split games

Colorado Middle School seventh and eighth grade football teams split against long time rival

Coahoma Thursday night at Wolf Stadium.

The seventh grade lost 15-0 while the eighth won, 24-12.

The Bulldogs brought some ringers for running backs in the hope that they could overrun the seventh graders, but the little guys held up well considering the size of the back (5'10", 170pounds) they were trying to stop.

Heath Mann played a good defensive game. Brad Hartman and Tyrone Ridge executed well on offense.

The eighth graders won behind the running of Marcus Aguilar, the longest being a 70-yard kick-off return. An apparent 40-yard TD was called back because of a penalty.

Chris Alvarez, Nikko Biggers, and Pat Espinoza filled in and played well on the line.

The defense gave the Bulldogs a first down at the Wolf one-yard line, but the Wolves held them on four straight downs to ensure the victory.

Basketball opener set for ladies

The Lady Wolves basketball team will kickoff the 1989-90 season Tuesday Nov. 14 against Forsan at Wolf Gym.

The junior varsity will take the court at 5:00pm, followed by the varsity at 6:30.

Your attendance and support of the team would be greatly appreciated.

JUSTICE vs. JUSTIFICATION

Everyone says that they want justice -- but do they really mean what they say? I don't think so. The other day, I was participating in a discussion with our inter-denominational, inter-racial mixed youth group. "My parents don't respect me or they'd let me do what I want." Everyone says they want fair treatment, but what they really want is special treatment -- for the rules to be suspended for what they selfishly want. Adults are no different. Sometimes we don't treat others fairly because of the special treatment we give ourselves ... Have you ever been on a jury duty that lasted "too" long? I was on a jury once that went through the lunch hour and beyond. When the jury was finally allowed to recess and make a decision -- the judgment was a quick one (perhaps too quick in retrospect). Sometimes our own needs to satisfy ourselves or to justify our own wrongful actions cause us to lose respect for others.

My response to the teenager who wanted to go out with someone their parents disapproved of was this: "You say your parents don't respect you -- do you respect and love them?" Just treatment can never be achieved where there is not compassion and concern for another's well-being -- the Bible calls this agape love. There are many in our own day and age who are clamoring for justice for themselves when really they want self-justification. There are those who would say our legal system is prejudicial and others who would accuse the squeaky wheel of getting more than its share of oil. We need justice and not blind justice or partial justice!

In Switzerland's Supreme Court Building, there is a picture of Lady Justice (without a blindfold) holding the scales in one hand and a sword in the other. Yet the sword is not pointed upward, but pointing down to a book upon the judge's bench -- a book entitled "The Law of God." Beneath the bench, disputes are being settled, justice is being achieved, freedoms are being insured -- all without chaos. In times of disputes, will we like the people of Israel clamor for the release of our lawless favorite Barabbas, who helps us "justify" our sinful shortcomings? or will we let Jesus be released into our lives and obtain forgiveness of our sins and receive love where hate, fightings and selfishness were before?

Maybe each and everyone of us should look a bit closer at our cries for justice.

Blood drive set Wednesday

Tumbleweed Lioness Club will be sponsoring a blood drive Wednesday, Nov. 15, from 1:30-7:30 p.m. in the Civic Center.

"This will be our last blood drive of the year so let's make it our best," said Connie Simpson, Tumbleweed president. "Remember the Christmas season is upon us and the true spirit of Christmas is giving and what better gift could there be than the gift of life?"

"The following merchants have donated these gifts, so let's all donate and make this a joyous season for all," she said.

Fort Woods Trading Post, pottery vase; MacMichael's Restaurant, $10 gift certificate; Fort Wood Cafe, dinner for two; JEM Stores, 10 gallons of gasoline; Sally's Dinner, two dinners; B&B, free Coke with purchase for every donor; Sonic, two brown bag specials and a free Coke to every donor; Eppy's, two Mexican dinners; Pizza Hut, six personal pan pizzas; Cold Spot, two Mexican dinners; Burkhardt's Villa Restaurant, two Friday night catfish buffets; Perkins, $10 gift certificate; Ceramic Hut, ceramic rabbit, Corky's, cookie jar.

Also, Higginbotham Bartlett, tape measure; Perry's, two movie rentals; Television Center, two silver platters; Krowe's, two flats fixed; Myers Auto, bottle of Armour All; Fuller Foods, $25 gift certificate; Eddie's, hair dryer; Free's, shoulder pads; Merle Norman, perfume pouch; Pac-N-Ship, salt and pepper shakers; Ramage's, video tape; Dixon Family Barbecue, family pack; Medicine Place, $1 discount coupon for each donor; Gifts Unique, statue of liberty coin; Dairy Queen, free sundaes for each donor; Clothes Barn, pair of men's Wranglers; Candyland, honey butter and fudge; and Sportswest, two $5 gift certificates.

Homemakers presented program on 'Choosing Colors Wisely'

The Looney Extension Homemakers Club met at Lone Wolf Electric Medallion Room Wednesday, Nov. 8, with Lena Bullard as hostess.

Etta Lee Gibson presided during the business session. Lennie Williams led the club prayer. A quiz was for recreation.

Winnie Roach presented a very interesting program on "Choosing Colors Wisely". She showed colors, that may be worn according to color of eyes, skin and hair, also colors that will coordinate.

The next meeting will be Dec. 6 at Southwest Savings party room. Linnie Williams and Lonie Pruitt will be hostesses. Gifts will be exchanged and each member bring her favorite "goodies" for the refreshments.

The hostess served sandwiches, olives, chips, dips, cake and hot punch to Juanita Coker, Linnie Williams, Pansy Northcutt, Corrine Barnett, Eddie Barclay, Ruth Myers, Lonie Pruitt and Etta Lee Gibson and guest Winnie Roach.

Answer to last week's question: Many believe the false theory of general evolution for which there is NO real evidence and against which theory ALL real evidence stands opposed, for several reasons, including: prejudice, ignorance of the facts, and who knows how many other reasons.

QUESTION: Why a living evidential faith so important?
