

FIRST METHODIST BREAKS GROUND

Encircled by his congregation, the Rev. Ellis Todd turns the first shovel of dirt at the site of the new educational building of First Methodist Church. This is the fourth time he has broken the ground for a new church edifice. It is the fourth time he used the spade which he holds in his hands. Beside him, to the reader's left, is the Rev. Duane Bruce, Childress District Superintendent. To the right is the Rev. Davis Edens, now of Denver City, under whose pastorate plans for the new church were begun. As this picture was taken the congregation was reading the ritual used for a ground breaking.

School Bond Issue, Proposed Plans, Discussed in Meeting

The improvements and new construction proposed by the Wellington schools was spelled out in detail for a group of business men Tuesday, Nov. 8 when representatives of the architects and the bonding agent met with the combined membership of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs.

This would be financed by a proposed $455,000 bond issue which will be voted on by the property owners in the Wellington Independent School District Saturday, Nov. 19.

Absentee voting is now under way and will end four days prior to the election, which will be Tuesday, Nov. 15. Voting is at the school business office.

Dr. Floyd Golden, educational consultant for the architects, Rittenberry, Murchison and Alexander, prefaced his discussion with a concise explanation of why this remodeling program is required at this time: Twice the Wellington School Board was advised that there were serious violations of accreditation standards, which were listed by the accreditation team of the Texas Education Agency. The third time, the board was advised to secure an architect and bond representative to prepare estimates of the cost and to work out a financing plan.

Failure to comply could mean loss of accreditation for the school.

Present for the Tuesday meeting were Mickey Alexander, a member of the firm of architects, and Howard Kenyon, president of the Texas Municipal Bond Co., Lubbock.

Mr. Kenyon told the group that it is estimated that property owners in the school district will pay approximately 25 percent more school taxes if the bond issue passes. This is on school taxes only and has no bearing whatever on any other taxes that may be paid by property owners of the Wellington Independent School District.

The program would include: —Complete remodeling of the junior and senior high school building.

—New physical education and home economics building.

—New bus barn.

—Improvement for the agriculture building.

—Improvements, repairs and new building at the football field.

Dr. Golden gave this breakdown of the proposed program.

300 Expected at Legion Chicken Barbecue Nov. 11

Approximately 300 are expected to attend the chicken barbecue that will highlight the observance of Veterans Day, under the sponsorship of the Frank King Post of the American Legion Friday, Nov. 11.

This is one of three events that will mark the day, according to Mack Bush, post commander.

The barbecue will be served at the community building.

The Muster will be held at the American Legion building at 11 a.m., opening with the blowing of the fire department siren and the sounding of taps by Raymond Horton, with a prayer by John Forbis.

Judge Charles Reynolds, presiding judge of the 100th judicial district, will be the speaker, using a patriotic theme in his talk. He will be introduced by Paul Spillman.

Recognition will be given to any veterans of Viet Nam action that may be visiting here on Veterans Day. John Coleman is in charge of this part of the program.

The public is invited to attend the muster, which will be the serious portion of the day's observance.

At noon, the group will adjourn to the community building for the barbecue.

Open house will be held throughout Friday afternoon at the Legion Hall, with John Bevers and Riley Dunson, both veterans of World War I, in charge.

Bush, speaking in behalf of the Legion Post, urged the people of Wellington to put out their flags on Veterans Day, both at their businesses and offices downtown and at their homes.

Ticket sales for the barbecue will end Thursday at noon, Bush said.

Meeting on Red Cross Blood Bank Set Nov. 10

The possibility of setting up a Red Cross Blood Bank at St. Joseph's Hospital will be explored in a meeting Thursday, Nov. 10 between Red Cross officials from Amarillo and Wichita Falls and representatives of a number of local institutions and groups.

The meeting will be at 3:15 p.m. in the county courtroom, according to Mrs. Rob Isbell, Red Cross home service chairman for Collingsworth County.

Attending from here will be representatives of Wellington's medical and hospital facilities, business and civic leaders, representatives of the county and city, the National Guard, and officers of the local Red Cross chapter.

All interested persons are invited.

Col. Joe Mason, executive officer of the Greater Amarillo Red Cross, will explain how a Red Cross Blood Bank is set up and operated. Others who will speak are Richard Stayer of Amarillo, national director of Red Cross; Tom Irving, executive director of the Wichita Falls Red Cross; and Archie Williams, director of the regional blood bank at Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Isbell said that a Red Cross Blood Bank could be set up at the hospital for a cost to the county of $420. Blood will be available from it to hospital patients at a cost of $6.50 per pint for administering the

Wayne Cudd to Head Chamber of Commerce '67

Wayne Cudd, co-owner of Cudd Brothers Trucking, will head the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce during 1967. His election was announced by N. M. Higdon, manager, after the ballots were canvassed by the board of directors in a meeting Monday night, Nov. 7.

Cudd will take office January 1, succeeding Zook Thomas.

The new vice president will be Jeff Wilson, president of the City State Bank. Denver Powell, manager of West Texas Utilities was re-elected treasurer.

Bell Ringing at 9 a. m.

Dedicate Bells Sunday at Trinity Methodist

A bell ringing will be held at Trinity Methodist Church on Sunday, Nov. 13, to mark the erection of two bells—the first a Wellington church has had in many years.

Dedication of the bells will be at 9 a.m., and they will be rung for the first time by Mrs. C. A. Kesler and 10-year-old Sue Wolf. The Rev. Billy Wilson, pastor of the church, will be in charge of the service.

Mrs. Kesler first voiced the idea of a bell for Trinity Church, and acquired an 18-inch bell through the donations of members of the church and friends.

The second bell was given by Mr. and Mrs. George Adkins and is the one that hung for more than 30 years at the Loco school.

Their daughter, Mrs. John Wolf, has related something of the history of this bell. It was originally donated to the school by the late W. S. Calcote, the father of Mrs. Adkins. He made the stipulation that when it ceased to be used for school purposes, it was to be returned to a member of the family. This was done when Loco school was consolidated with Wellington.

On a clear morning, this bell could be heard as far as two and a half miles over the countryside.

The two bells will be installed in a 14-foot metal tower which is being made by Howard Crosby.

Plans call for the bells to be rung together each Sunday morning at 9 a.m. and on special occasions.

Rev. Wilson has invited members of the Ministerial Alliance and the public at large to attend the dedication of the bells.

County Favors Bob Price in Tues. Election

Collingsworth County voters in the General Election Tuesday, Nov. 8, followed the Panhandle trend and gave their vote to Bob Price as their next representative in Congress from the 18th District.

Although the vote for incumbent Senator John Tower was heavy, he failed by a narrow margin to carry the county.

The unofficial returns for the two races are:

Congress: Price 689, Miller 575

Senator: Carr 639; Tower 603.

Price carried the South Wellington, Quail, Dozier and Marrella boxes, and the vote was tied 109 each in the North Wellington box.

Carubbi to Address Jaycees at Charter Banquet and Installation

Wellington Jaycees will hold their charter night banquet and installation of officers Saturday, Nov. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

A. J. Carubbi, Jr., assistant attorney general of Texas and past president of the Texas Jaycees, will be the guest speaker. A former Pampa attorney, he moved to Austin a few months ago.

Organized less than three months, the Jaycees now have a membership of approximately 40.

Don Litchfield, a Texas Jaycee director, will be in charge of the installation in which Carroll Nummelley will be formally installed as president; Don Lacy, vice president; Ralph Owens, secretary; Bobby Langford, treasurer; and Troy C. Marsh, inter-club director. Directors are Sammy Helmers, Glen Warrick, Johnny Barnett and Benson Long.

The charter will be presented by Chauncey Hommel of Clarendon, Texas Jaycee vice president.

Representatives of other civic groups will participate.

Welcoming the newest civic organization will be Mayor Hiram Cudd; Zook Thomas, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Billy Moseley, president of the Rotary Club; and John Holton, president of the

Rockets End Season at Electra Friday

The Wellington Skyrockets will close their season against the Electra Tigers in a game played at Electra Friday, Nov. 11. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The luckless Tigers have not won a game this season, but word has come up the line that since this will be their homecoming game, they intend to take it. They tied one game earlier in the season.

As far as size goes, the two teams will be about even.

The Tigers can be expected to run from the I wing formation, but they also concentrate on power plays off tackle to either side, the quick pitchout, and passing.

Electra is primarily a passing team with Back Gary Fisher doing much of the throwing and Gary Whately, Charles Holman, Wendell Barker and John Guadagnolo as frequent receivers.

The Tigers are considered a much better team than their record would indicate. Penalties have marred their playing

Methodists Hold Ground Breaking at Noon Sunday

Standing on land that has belonged to the First Methodist Church for 67 years, members of its congregation participated in the ground breaking for the new educational building at high noon Sunday, Nov. 6.

The first shovelful of dirt was turned by the pastor, the Rev. Ellis Todd, and this is the fourth time in his ministry that he has performed this task for the building of a new church. The shovel he used was the one with which the first spade of dirt was turned on the other three occasions.

After him, others who are vitally concerned with the operation of the church thrust the shovel into the soil in this commemorative ceremony.

These were:

The Rev. Duane Bruce of Childress, district superintendent; the Rev. Davis Edens of Denver City, who was pastor when plans for the new church were begun; Henry Vaughan, who at 87 is one of the oldest members of the church; Percy Wells, a member of one of the families earliest associated with the church; Sam Thompson, vice chairman of the building committee; Tommy Lewis, chairman of the official board; R. R. Crawley, president of the choir; Mrs. Cal Hurst, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service; Mrs. David Baumgardner, president of the Wesleyan Service Guild; Henry Wells, president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship; Carey Lewis, president of the Junior High MYF; Cal Hurst, Sunday school superintendent; Mrs. Bob McAlister, children's superintendent; Mrs. Cecil Masten, chairman of the commission on education; Claude Savage, secretary of the

Civil, Criminal Cases Heard in District Court

Judge Charles Reynolds presided at the opening session of the November term of 100th District court which began on Monday, Nov. 7.

One civil case was tried before a jury Tuesday, Louis E. Reynolds vs. William R. Dambacher, a suit for personal injury. The jury found for the defendant, Mr. Dambacher, Judge Reynolds said.

This suit concerned an alleged collision between the defendant's airplane and the plaintiff's parked car as Dambacher made an emergency landing on a highway north of McLean Sept. 10, 1964.

Four pleas of guilty were heard. Judge Reynolds named these, with the penalty assessed, as:

Jesse H. Collard pled guilty to a charge of DWI second offense, and was sentenced to two years probation.

Larry Garcia, on a charge reduced to simple assault, and Ray Garcia, whose charge was reduced to aggravated assault, pled guilty and were sentenced to pay total fines and court costs of $525.

Lewis John Slaughter pled guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder and received a three year probationary sentence.

Rockets Defeat Cubs In Conference Game

By JACK FORD

In a tough, hard hitting football game, the Wellington Sky-rocketers won their first district game 14 to 6 over a fine Olney club eleven at Powell Field Friday night, Nov. 4.

Both teams were plagued by fumbles and penalties, but the Rockets were able to contain the Cubs and capitalize on Cub errors. Because of fumbles by the Rockets, the Cubs had some good chances to score, but the Rocket defense rose to the occasion and stopped these drives.

The Rocket offensive and defensive teams really stood out in this game. Led by J. Barber, M. Barton, A. Bell, J. Brock, M. Gilmore, R. Kane, G. Killian, J. Lindsey, F. Mayhugh, B. Neeley, L. Pipins, M. Roland, M. Smith, J. Harris, S. Trapp, W. Ward, L. Watkins, R. West, C. Wilbur, T. Yarbrough and J. Neeley the Rocket offense had two good consistent drives that they scored on.

The Rocket defense really stood out in stopping the Cubs with bone jarring tackles and causing some big losses by putting the pressure on the Cub passers.

In the first quarter it looked like the Cubs were going to push the Rockets around the field at will. The Cubs had two good drives, penetrating to the Rocket 39 and 27 yard lines, but the hard-hitting Rockets recovered Cub fumbles to stop these drives.

Early in the second quarter the Rockets put together their first drive. Putting the ball in play on the Rocket 36 yard line, M. Roland, A. Bell and R. West, doing a fine running job, drove to the Cubs 1 yard line, then A. Bell drove over center into the end zone for the first Rocket touchdown. "Sure-Toe" J. Harris kicked the extra point. Rockets 7, Olney 0 at the half.

The Rockets put together their last drive early in the third quarter. They put the ball in play on the Cubs 45, M. Roland, R. West, W. Ward and A. Bell moved the ball to the Cub 7. R. West then carried to the end zone, but a 5-yard penalty nullified the TD. R. West doing a fancy running job moved the ball back to the 4 and M. Roland then plowed into the end zone. "Sure-Toe" J. Harris again kicked the extra point.

Rockets 14, Cubs 0. The Cubs came to life and scored in the fourth quarter. Putting the ball in play on their own 48, the Cubs moved in 11 plays for a touchdown. The try for two extra points failed. Rockets 14, Cubs 6.

The Rocket defense really stood out in the last half of the fourth quarter. After getting the ball twice the Cubs tried to move by passing and when the Rocket defense finished, the Cubs had lost 42 yards.

Then a few plays later J. Barber intercepted a Cub pass on the Rocket 10 to stop another Cub drive.

Then one of the biggest yardage losses the Rockets had this year helped the Rockets. It was third down on the Rocket 38 with 40 seconds left in the game. A. Bell took the ball from center, and started running around in his own backfield. When he was finally tackled on his own 16 the clock had 4 seconds left and one play later the game ended for a Rocket victory. Final score Rockets 14, Cubs 6.

The three top ground gainers for the Rockets were M. Roland and 86 yards, R. West 55 yards, and T. Yarbrough 32 yards.

This Friday night the Rockets play their last game of the season against the Electra Tigers at Electra. This will be a good game, the Tigers having played some good ball against the same teams that the Rockets have. The game starts at 7:30 p.m. and this will be the last game that many of the boys will play as Rockets, so let's go to Electra and back our Rockets.

Haralson Joins Alpha Chi

Julius Haralson, senior at West Texas State University and director of Terrell Hall, a man's residence hall, was accepted into Alpha Chi, national honor society, Sunday, Oct. 30. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Haralson of 711 Floydada, Wellington.

To be eligible for membership in Alpha Chi, the student must have above a 2.1 grade point average. The senior membership of WTSU Alpha Chi represents the upper 4.7 per cent of the senior class.

Julius and his wife, Beverly Ann, are seniors at West Texas and live in Terrell Hall.

Jack Shadid Dies at Altus

Jack Shadid, 44, of Altus, died Saturday, Oct. 29 in a Houston hospital, where he underwent an aortic transplant earlier in the month. He was considered to be recovering satisfactorily and his death was unexpected.

Mr. Shadid was a frequent visitor in Wellington.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at the First Baptist Church in Altus. Attending from here were three cousins, Miss Marie Shadid, Miss Rose Shadid, and George Shadid, also Mr. and Mrs. Mack Saied.

He is survived by his mother, five brothers and a sister.

Freshman, Two Sisters Named School Queens

A freshman, Ruthie Dwight, was crowned queen of Samnorwood high school, and two young sisters, Lee Ann Bruton and Dottie Bruton, wore the crowns of grade school queen and pre-school queen in festivities Saturday night, Oct. 29.

The big community-wide pre-Halloween entertainment sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association, was presented in a new format this year. A box-supper, the biggest one held in the Samnorwood area in many years, preceded the coronation. Early returns showed the event netted the sponsors $859.98.

Each queen was crowned by her escort, after the representatives of each class had proceeded to the stage. Glen Bruton, Ruthie's escort, placed the crown on her head, as did Mike Oldham, Lee Ann's escort, and Mark Knoll, Dottie's escort. Lee Ann and Mike are from the fifth grade.

A western theme was used and bales of hay and colorful Indian blankets decorated the stage. A saddle on a round bale was each queen's throne. The queen nominees wore colorful squaw dresses and the boys were in western suits.

Jay Wischkaemper was the master of ceremonies and entertainment included songs by the high school girls' chorus, "Wagon Wheels" and "Yellow Rose of Texas."

A piano solo, "San Antonio Rosa," was presented by Rita Lackey and Cecilia Sneed sang "Wayward Wind."

Mrs. John Dwyer directed the presentations.

The candidates for queen from the other classes and their escorts were Dianna Schaub and Mark Tarver, first grade; Ida Beth Stice and Kerry Stephens, second grade; Rebecca Graves and Mike Owens, third grade; Teresa Ray and Ken Stephens, fourth grade; Rosa Oldham and Kyle Janes, sixth grade; Kay Snead and Stanley Ellis, seventh grade; Mary Schaub and Ronald Carter, eighth grade; Becky Vrock and Glenn Glazner, tenth grade; Janice Colson and Stanley Oldham, eleventh grade and Leatrice Adams and Paul Clark, twelfth grade.

Prizes were given for outstanding boxes, which were auctioned by Paul Guthrie of Wellington and Glenn Jordan of Hollis.

The prize for the most original box went to Mrs. Loyd Stephens; the prettiest to Sandy Hankins; the most original in the grade school to Debra Ellis; and the prettiest box in grade school, Rosa Oldham.

A box prepared by Mrs. Dwyer brought the highest price, $36.

Other selections were made. Mrs. A. M. Oldham was chosen "Mother of the Year" and Mrs. Alex Coleman received the prize for having the largest family present. The fun prize, for the ugliest man, went to Douglas Coleman.

Judging the boxes were Mrs. Robert Baxter, Mrs. J. L. Alexander and Mrs. Walter Decker.

The classes also gave prizes. Winning the second grade prize—a toy dog, was John Groves; third grade, a hen, Denzil Decker; fourth grade, a sack of groceries, Mrs. Henry Bockman; fifth grade, a turkey, Ronald Carter; sixth, a German chocolate cake, Bill Littlejohn; seventh, electric blanket, Mrs. Seale; ninth, a camera, Bill Lisle; tenth, a radio, Mrs. A. M. Oldham, and the twelfth, a pig, to James Allen Throckmorton.

The fifth grade received the $20 prize for raising the most money.

The one big money-raising project of the PTA is held each year just before Halloween. Proceeds always go into a project to benefit the school. This year, the PTA is buying glass doors for the high school building, and that which is left over will be used for other projects.

Who's New in the Wellington Area

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Readnor of Gage, Oklahoma, are the parents of a daughter, Cody Dawn, born October 31. She weighed eight pounds and one ounce. She is the great granddaughter of Mrs. S. B. Jackson.

SISTER QUEENS

When Samnorwood chose its elementary and pre-school queens recently, two sisters were chosen. At left is the elementary queen, Lee Ann Bruton, and her escort, Mike Oldham. Dottie Bruton, pre-school queen, is with her escort, Mark Knoll. A Western theme was carried out in decorations, and saddles were the queens thrones.

Young Homemakers Hold "Come As You Are" Breakfast Saturday

Members of the Wellington Young Homemakers were hostesses at a "come as you are" breakfast given in the home of their sponsor, Mrs. Dee Coleman Saturday morning, October 28.

This was one of a series of fun events given by this group of young women.

Guests were Mrs. Lloyd Woodruff, Mrs. Velman Warwick, Mrs. Kenyard Poteet, Mrs. Richard Nall, Mrs. Harold Keller, Mrs. Bob Goforth, Mrs. Willie Gragson, Mrs. Jack Needham,

Mrs. Paul Guthrie, Mrs. R. T. Savage, Mrs. J. M. Orr, Mrs. Duggie Jameson, Mrs. Fred Cox, Jr., Mrs. Glenn Taylor, Mrs. Fred Saied, Mrs. L. E. Ward, Mrs. Donald Nunnelle, Mrs. J. B. Oney,

Mrs. S. B. Jackson visited the past week with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Readnor in Gage, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Aaron and family of Amarillo visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Scott over the week end.

Freddie Peters, a student at Lubbock Christian College visited over the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Peters.

Belles Lettres Hears Review

Mrs. Earl Lynn Bartlett was guest speaker at the Belles Lettres Club Tuesday evening, November 2, when she reviewed the book, "Charmers and Cranks" by Ishbel Ross.

The hostess and program chairman was Mrs. A. B. Clark, and Mrs. Bob McAlister, vice president, directed the business session.

Mrs. Bartlett explained that the book concerns twelve famous American women who defied the conventions of their times. Each was an extremist of one sort or another—love, art, temperance, religion, power, fame of money. The author presents them in all their glory, tarnished or otherwise.

Of the 12, three were presented to the club. Hetty Green, often called "The Witch of Wall Street" was America's leading woman financier and a legendary miser.

Carry Nation, hatchet in one hand and Bible in the other, stormed the nation preaching against tobacco, liquor, sex and sin.

Nellie Bly was a famous stunt girl reporter, who among other things circled the globe in 72 days.

Others participating in the program were Mrs. L. M. Bartlett and Mrs. Frank Hatch.

Those attending were Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mrs. Hatch, Mrs. Esdle Bartlett, Mrs. Coy Vaughn, Mrs. Howard Riggs, Mrs. L. B. Bartlett, Mrs. Bob Hightower, Mrs. Bryan Denley, Mrs. McAlister, Mrs. Earl Lynn Bartlett and the hostess, Mrs. Clark.

Excelsior Hears "Hamlet" Reviewed

Miss Sara Jones was hostess to members of the Excelsior Club in the home of Mrs. J. F. Michael Thursday evening, November 3.

She also was program leader and as one of the club's series of drama studies, reviewed Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

Those attending were Miss Bonnie Willis, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Mrs. Denver Powell, Mrs. Rosemary Langford, Mrs. Michael and Miss Jones.

Forty-five percent of the population is either under 18 or over 65 years of age.

'67 CHEVROLET

Impala Super Sport Coupe—a clean new sweep in roof lines.

Now that you've seen all the daring new things our stylists did, get in and sample some of the safest, soundest ideas on the road!

What you feel is as new as what you see—thanks to all the fresh thinking that's gone into the way it rides, steers, stops and looks after your safety.

It's got a remarkable new road feel—beginning with a ride so hushed and gentle you'll feel like calling this the '67 Shhhevrolet. The steering is as much as 10% easier. And you'll find the stopping smoother, too.

We put safety features on top of safety features. For example, an energy-absorbing steering wheel atop the new GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column. A dual master cylinder brake system with warning light. And seat belts front and rear with pushbutton buckles. All standard, to be sure.

And there's a new SS 427 performance package—complete with 385-hp Turbo-Jet V8 and flat-cornering suspension. You can order it for either the Impala Super Sport Coupe or Convertible.

Of course, there are all sorts of new custom features you can add, too, such as tape or FM stereo. But if you find so much that's new a bit too much to remember—drop down to your dealer's and take a drive. It'll all become unforgettable.

GM Everything new that could happen...happened! Now at your Chevrolet dealer's. CHEVROLET

Mrs. Ingram's grandson, Dickie Ingram, played on the Rebels' team. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. John Ingram and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Wayne Ingram.

FOOTBALL QUEEN AND ATTENDANTS
Wellington high school crowned its football queen, Becky Brewer, center, at the end of the pep rally Friday, Nov. 4. The "crown" a glittering red football helmet, was placed on her head by her escort, Gary Killian. The runners up were, left, Cheryl Needham, and Mike Smith, and Vicki Bergvall and Andy Bell. The escorts were the three Skyrocket captains.

Youth Quintet Appears at Club

Paper dresses, knee make-up, and "wild" jewelry were modeled for members of the Domestic Science Club Thursday, November 3 by five high school girls, members of Mrs. Bob McAlister's speech class.

Mrs. J. B. Stevenson was hostess.

Patricia Thomas wore her paper dress, and explained that it is really the threads woven into it that hold it together. At the end, it can be thrown away, but in the meantime, if the owner becomes tired of it she can cut it off to make a tunic, or some more to have a blouse. There are other things that can be done with a paper dress, and the last scrap can even be a handkerchief, the petite young wearer explained.

Cheryl Needham and Jan Bowen, pointing out that to be "in the mode" a dress must be above the knees, acknowledged that seldom are they beautiful and set about to make up each others' knees. One set was painted with sunflowers, the other had a circular design.

Vikki Saunders demonstrated the new "in" jewelry, big and dangling, using Brenda Bobo as a model.

Then Brenda demonstrated wigs and hairpieces, with Jan as her model. One of these was Brenda's, in the natural color of her hair, and used in order to change hair styles.

Mrs. Troy Thomason presided at the business session and Mrs. Jerry Nix was in charge of the program.

Those attending were Mrs. Harold Gattis, Mrs. J. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Nix, Mrs. Clyde Drake, Mrs. Deskins Wells, Mrs. Farris Wood, Mrs. Thomason, Mrs. O. V. Johnson, Debbie Wood and Mrs. Stevenson.

Beauticians Go to Styling Show

Pauline Uselton, ZoNell Barnett, Barbara Settle and Mrs. Mayme Lou Denley, representing Magic Mirror Beauty Salon, attended a hair styling show in Amarillo Sunday. New techniques in styling and permanent waving were presented by Estelle Devlin, widely known for this type of work.

Mrs. Settle returned Tuesday for private instruction in the brush technique for which Miss Devlin is noted.

Who's New in the Wellington Area

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hiett are the parents of a boy, Dan Cotter, Jr., (Dana) born Nov. 5 in an Amarillo hospital. He weighed nine pounds and two ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hiett, and Mr. and Mrs. Travis McGuire.

Wellington YH Hears Minister

The Young Homemakers met at the Greenbelt building on Tuesday, November 1. There was a short business session in which it was decided to have a home tour May 7, 1967, and to sponsor a roving Santa Claus during the holiday season.

Minister E. J. Fletcher of the Bowie Street Church of Christ discussed the foundation of society. Mr. Fletcher stated that the country would never be stronger than its home ties. It was also pointed out that religion is the bond that makes the home firm.

Sharing hostess duties were Mrs. Donald White and Mrs. Larry Oswald. Those attending were Mrs. Glen Warrick, Mrs. Larry Gollighugh, Mrs. Don Austin, Mrs. Roy Jefferies, Mrs. Bobby Langford, Mrs. Jackie Barnett, Mrs. Douglas Seale, Mrs. Sam Shaffer, Mrs. Troy Thomason, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fletcher, Mrs. Dee Coleman, sponsor, and Selma Lee McAlister, a guest.

Mrs. R. Jeffries Discusses Art

Mrs. V. E. Warrick was hostess to members of the 1924 Study Club Thursday, November 3, for a program in observance of National Art Week, November 6 to 12.

Miss Hattie D. Wells introduced the speaker, Mrs. Roy Jeffries.

An artist in her own right and an art student, Mrs. Jeffries discussed art history, techniques and composition. She supplemented this with a showing of works of her teachers, her mother, Mrs. Hubert Bowen, Mrs. John Sherman, and her own.

During the business meeting it was announced that the Ann Fires Student Loan is available at present. Members were reminded to bring their Christmas gifts for the Vernon hospital as they have done in the past.

Members present were Mrs. Donald Settle, Miss Wells, Mrs. E. M. Sims, Mrs. W. R. Crawley, Mrs. James Ross, Mrs. Don Van Pelt, Mrs. Sam Adams, Mrs. Ed White, Mrs. Jim Moss, Mrs. Earl Bartlett, Mrs. Jeff Wilson, Miss Sara Jones, Mrs. J. B. King, and Mrs. J. F. Michael, and the hostess, Mrs. Warrick.

Continuing the year's theme, "Portraits of Educational Purposes," Mrs. J. B. King will be hostess November 17 at the Greenbelt Room, where Miss Leta Kees will discuss "The Art of Creole Cooking."

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Clothier and family of Sayre, Okla., visited her mother, Mrs. S. B. Jackson Sunday, and also met their daughter, Alice, of Lubbock, who spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Derbyberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Z. Hunt and Stacy visited over the week end from Dallas with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt and Tommy Hunt.

Norwood YH Has Guest Speaker

Introduces Big Duce

Wellington Soldier Present at Major Crises for 20 Years

FORT SILL, Okla. — Enlistment at 17, marriage at 18, the Korean War, the Berlin crisis, the Cuban crisis, Operation Desert Strike and the original Big Duce have been high points in the career of the new sergeant major of the Gunnery Department, USAAMS.

Sgt. Maj. John L. Sanders has this to say of his new assignment: "After almost 20 years service in line units, my present assignment is a choice one and the ultimate desire of any professional artillery enlisted man."

A 17-year-old graduate of the Wellington high school, Sanders enlisted in the Air Force at Kelly Field, San Antonio, in December 1945. Discharged in '47, he re-enlisted in the Army's 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg.

He volunteered for duty with the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team in Korea in 1953 and was later assigned to the United Nations Command Military Armistice Support Group where peace talks and identification and exchange of prisoners and dead were being held.

On Oct. 24, 1954, he reported to Fort Sill as 1st sergeant and sergeant major of the 2d Howitzer Battalion, 2d Arty.

"I was blamed for purchasing the original Big Duce," he laughed, a $42 Mexican burro. (Big Duce is the traditional mule mascot of the 2d of the 2d-)

"The first time we passed in review in a battalion parade, we were going to use Big Duce as the 5th battery. At the first sound of the drum, Big Duce sat down and didn't budge until the parade was over."

In February 1959, Sgt. Maj. Sanders was sent to Baumholder, Germany as a replacement in the 1st/2d Artillery. The Berlin Wall was started Aug. 13. On Aug. 19, he moved with A Btry, 12th Arty to Berlin. "The first time artillery had been in Berlin since WW II."

During the 3½ month assignment there, he went into East Berlin several times.

"You didn't have to be told when you went through Checkpoint Charlie," he said. "You could tell by the looks on the people's faces. By their forlorn and desolate faces, you knew it was a forlorn and destitute country. You could tell by the wares in the stores, the lack of traffic, the lack of patrons on street cars, the shabby dress and by the lack of reconstruction."

Fort Hood, Texas, and the 1st Armored Division was the next stop. When the Cuban crisis came, he went with the 73d Artillery to Fort Stewart, Ga., for two months.

Then came Operation Desert Strike conducted in the Mohave Desert. "This was quite an experience within itself. I never maneuvered in a desert climate before. I found trying to get logistical support and locating other military units a real challenge. I think everybody learned a lot about taking care of equipment during hot weather conditions."

He returned to Korea in 1965 as an E8. "I went back to exactly the same base camp at Munsan-ni I'd been at in 1954. The name and the units had changed but the geographical location was the same."

He was promoted to sergeant major Jan. 25, this year. He came to Fort Sill from Korea. "The first assignment I ever had where I felt like I was coming home!" Assigned as sergeant major of the Gunnery Department, he said: "That's what Fort Sill exists for, to teach gunnery."

Into this fast-paced military career, he's also squeezed leadership courses, demolition and chemical staff specialist schools, basic airborne and jumpmasters training.

He has only two regrets — two things he would do over if he could: take advantage of all the educational opportunities he had—and accept commissions he turned down.

"The Army's been good to me—and you'd have to go far to meet a finer group of people, both the husbands and their wives."

Growing up on a horse ranch near Marietta, Okla., and riding horses before he walked, Sgt. Maj. Sanders' "sideline" comes naturally. He raises and trains quarter horses on a small acreage east of Lawton. He's showing four now. "I'm always in the ribbons but never in first place."

He and his wife, the former Loretta Roberts of Wellington, have one son, Mike, 8.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sanders, live at Level-land.

Mrs. Christian Now at Wards

Mrs. Clifford Christian began work recently in the Montgomery Ward Catalog Sales Agency, John Sherman announced this week. She is in charge of sales and telephone orders.

Mrs. Christian has had 16 years experience in this work in Amarillo before moving to Wellington, Mr. Sherman said.

Horton Pledges Kappa Alpha

CANYON, Oct. — Ray Horton of Wellington recently named as a pledge of Kappa Alpha Order, national social fraternity, at West Texas State University.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Horton, 1205 Graham, Mr. Horton is a sophomore major.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Patton and children of Jackboro visited his grandmother, Mrs. R. W. Brantley over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Haralson and Jerry visited her mother, Mrs. G. Cowan of Mobeetie on Sunday.

Jerry Haralson went to Plainview for Senior Day at Wayland Baptist College.

Mrs. M. V. Vandiver of Phillips visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wood of Claude, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee of Shamrock visited Mrs. Doc Thompson and Mrs. Mayme Somerville over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Russell of Canyon visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Russell and Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Crawley.

FTA Chapter Attends Meet

The Wellington chapter of the Future Teachers of America went to the District I convention at West Texas State University in Canyon on November 1.

Nancy Sikes represented the chapter as nominee for Miss FTA and was one of the finalists. She spoke on "Education: The World's Torch for Peace." David Groves also competed for Mr. FTA.

The five voting delegates were Harry Patterson, Nat Holton, Kent Clark, Eddie Patterson and Alan Firas.

Cherry Lewis was a candidate for recording secretary. The parents and sponsors going were Mrs. Bernice Welch, J. L. Harper, Mrs. John Coffee, Mrs. L. E. Ward, and Mrs. Carthel Lewis.

The FTA members watched "That Skyrocket Band" march after the convention was adjourned.

Mrs. Eva Patterson of Merced, Calif., visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Caldwell recently.

Mrs. J. L. Burt visited her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brinson in Borger the first of the week.

Mrs. Jack E. Jewell of Ardmore, Okla., visited the last part of last week with her sister, Mrs. E. W. Brooks.

Mrs. C. R. Neece of Dallas visited friends here over the week end.

Mrs. J. M. Parker was in Houston from Oct. 23 to 28 for the Grand Chapter meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. J. B. Minyard, Jimmy and Tammy, of Pampa, are visiting her mother, Mrs. A. C. Pendergrass this week.

Clarendon Man Heads Comanche Scout District

New officers of the Comanche Boy Scout District were elected and installed at the annual banquet, Saturday night, Nov. 5. For the first time in recent years, the event was held in Wellington.

This was but one feature of a program-filled evening that included an address by Floyd Garwood of Amarillo, who in 19 days will observe his 50th anniversary in Scouting, and the recognition of adult leaders in Scouting and Eagle Scouts.

District chairman for the coming year is Frank Phelan of Clarendon. He succeeds Melvin Jennings of Memphis. Vice chairmen are William Brooks of Wheeler, John Cullers of Shamrock, Bill Hatch of Wellington, Thomas Clayton of Memphis, and Clyde Price of Clarendon.

District members at large are Frank Walker of Shamrock, Zook Thomas of Wellington, and Elmont Brannigan of Memphis.

The officers were installed by Steve Odom, Adobe Walls Council executive officer.

Awards for outstanding work as adult leaders went to Clyde Smith of Memphis, Mr. Brooks, Les Sims of Memphis, Tommy Seay of Clarendon, and Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington.

The Buckskin award to the troop with the largest number at the summer encampment went to Troop 33 of Clarendon and was received by Mr. Seay. These awards were made by the outgoing district chairman, Mr. Jennings.

Two brothers who have become Eagle Scouts during the year were recognized by Dave Agnew, district executive. They are Bob Tribble and Neal Tribble, members of Explorer Post 35 in Memphis.

Mr. Garwood, an officer in Merchants Freight Company, Amarillo, spoke informally of his 50 years in Scouting.

"I have observed that if you do more than you are paid to do, you will eventually be paid for more than you do," he said.

"Scouting gives you the biggest area to do more than you are paid to do," he declared. He reminded the group that they will always get done those things that they really want to do.

The Comanche District covers Donley, Hall, Collingsworth and Wheeler counties.

Boy Arrested in Dairy Mart

A 14-year-old boy was arrested in the Dairy Mart Monday about 6 p.m., Sheriff John Rainey reported.

The youth was seen entering the building and Police Chief Donald Nunneley was notified. He and Deputy George Hooten picked up the boy. The Dairy Mart is closed each Monday.

Entry was gained through a back door which had been left unlocked, the officers said.

A hearing for the youth was set for 9 a.m. Wednesday before Judge C. C. Bishop.

Simpsons Host Family Event

There was a family get-together Sunday, November 6 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simpson.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harrison, Jerry and Denise, Mr. and Mrs. Teddie Harrison, Teddie and Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Harrison, Donald Glenn, Jr. and Gregory, and Mrs. Ray Trezure and Wayne, all of Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Chet Miller, Malenda Lou and Denis Lynn of Springdale, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Don Moore and Malessa of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wade and Brent, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Black.

We Honor a New Group On Veterans Day 1966

This Veterans Day new men of valor join those to whom we pay tribute for preserving American freedom, the young men who serve in Viet Nam. This is a war as real and deadly as any that the United States has fought. Its outcome, on the far side of the world, will be part our own destiny, just as those wars on American soil.

The young men who come and go on military leave to our own and other communities are personal and poignant reminder that this war goes on. We have been fortunate that none of our young men have died, although some have been wounded.

Beyond this, we do not feel the war in our economy. We have things we never had before and we look forward to having other things still more remarkable. It is a strange war we observe again this Veterans Day.

Members of the Frank King Post of the American Legion are reviving the observance of Veterans Day. Let us join them in tribute to all men who have fought with bravery in all wars.

Something for Nothing . . . ?

A 21-year-old who starts working today and retires at age 65 can expect his Social Security pension benefits to total about $13,000 less than we will have paid in taxes, plus interest.

This is the startling statement made the other day by the Tax Foundation, Inc., a non-profit organization which examines the fiscal aspects of government. Its report was made in the Texas Manufacturers Association Digest.

The statement is a shocker to those who believe in the Great Society but if it is correct it is just another way of showing that "you can't get something for nothing."

Getting that something for nothing seems to be the everyday concern of the average United States citizen and it appears we will never learn that there is no way to get back from Washington as much money as we send up there. According to this report, we can't even come close.

The Tax Foundation reported that today's 21-year-old man will have paid, over the 44 years of working, Social Security taxes totaling $32,500, including interest at 3 1/2 per cent. He can expect to draw a total of $19,700 in pension benefits.

The present law calls for Social Security taxes to rise to a maximum of 5.65 per cent of the first $6,600 of annual earnings in 1987. That will include .4 per cent for Medicare which the Foundation says it excluded in its computations.

Something for nothing?

Crime and Compensation

A noted criminologist, in a talk here, pointed out that the idea of compensation for victims of crimes of violence is catching on in this country.

Norval Morris, professor of law and criminology at the University of Chicago, noted that five states are now providing such compensation for medical bills or loss of property.

Some have called plans of this type socialistic. Yet in most cases when people become victims of crime, they suffer because the government's police powers have failed to protect them. The failure is therefore government's, in one sense.

Governments are given extensive powers by the people so that they will furnish the citizen protection against predators, foreign and domestic. Today crime rates, which continue to grow faster than population, show that protection to be less and less effective. Public and official unwillingness to support police officers, courts' reluctance to put criminals out of circulation, parole boards, eagerness to put convicted felons back into circulation—all these factors are increasing the chances that an individual will be victimized by crime during his lifetime.

When a citizen is hit by a crime through no fault of his own, one can expect demands for a system of compensation to him. But it would be considerably better for all concerned if the authority holding the police powers would use them vigorously to prevent the crime from happening in the first place.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW:

By Roger W. Babson

PEACE AND PROSPERITY

There is nothing President Johnson would rather have than an end to the Vietnam war. For a very long time his Administration has been genuinely working toward such a happy goal. But in recent weeks the behind-the-scenes tempo of end-the-war activity has been greatly stepped up. It is reported that more concessions to the enemy have been made than at any time in the past year. So insistent has the "peace offensive" become that we feel it is time to ask ourselves: "What if peace comes?"

History Never the Same

When World War II ended, analysts freely predicted that business would suffer a quick boom, to be followed by a deep but short depression. Many are still waiting for that depression. Behind this belief in a quick post-war up-and-down move in the economy was the historical record after World War I. But in the years since 1945 history has not repeated itself. The well-remembered pattern of 1918-1920 still stands alone in this century. The failure of the quick boom, quick bust sequence to develop after World War II has been explained by economists as the result of superior direction and handling of our financial and business machine by an enlightened government. But perhaps there are other fundamental reasons.

Important Differences

Although those of us who remember World War I think of it as having been a titanic struggle, actually it did not compare in magnitude or in length of time with the second world war. Of course we had been busy for some time furnishing out later allies with food and weapons; but we did not declare war until April 1917 and the armistice came just 19 months afterward.

Another important difference was the nature of our over-all economy at that time, contrasted with its nature a quarter-century later. The U.S. was not nearly so highly industrialized. Farming was still a major activity for the nation; the emphasis was on food. Speculation in grains and farm lands was heavy. But consumer goods did not play so big a part in the lives of the people as they did in the next world war. There was neither the fabric nor the time to build what later came to be known as pent-up demands . . . consumer needs that would be satisfied when the guns fell silent.

Post Vietnam

If the Viet war should suddenly stop, the nation would be facing a set of circumstances quite different from those that obtained after World War II. Although the number of U.S. soldiers in South Vietnam is already greater than the forces sent to Korea, we have had a minimum of government interference with our economy. Only "Jawbone" tactics have been used to control prices and wages. Look around you . . . among your neighbors (who has had the desire and the price) has been unable to get a car, refrigerator, or any other hard goods?

As a matter of fact, all-time peaks in the output of civilian goods have been reached while our military effort has been steadily rising in Southeast Asia. There has been butter aplenty . . . even if some feel not enough emphasis has been put on guns. This surely means that if peace should come tomorrow, there would be no massive pent-up demand for civilian goods (such as existed in 1945).

What to Look For

If the war in the Far East gets hotter, we still may have to ration butter to get the needed guns. But if peace should come earlier than many now expect, the changeover in our economy could be more disrupting than in 1945. Defense industries would be hard hit. Those taken off the armament payrolls would find no great surge in demand from consumer-goods industries to offer a quick job shelter.

But there would be a brighter side, too. Demand for credit would slacken. The now hard-hit building industry would find mortgages becoming more plentiful and cheaper. Sore-pressed housewives should find food bills easing. Uncle Sam would surely rush toward tax relief . . . from present plans for upped tax burdens. And — best of all — the dirge of death in the Asian swamps would cease.

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

WRONG TARGET

Inflation, which has been "heating" up steadily for more than a year, has the politico-economists in Washington "running around in all directions" for a solution. There is a great deal of talk now of an increase in taxes, but political expediency dictates that any tax boost must come after, never just before, elections. President Johnson reportedly has made up his mind to ask the new Congress for an "anti-inflation" tax hike on "profits" to become effective early in 1967.

But obviously neither the President nor any of his economic "advisors" is quite sure how a tax can be applied that will stop inflation. If it comes, a tax hike would represent just another of many schemes already tried by those politico-economists who advocate Government control of the economy. It seems evident to most people watching the soaring cost of living that one of the real causes for inflation at the present time is the fact that wages have been increasing considerably faster than productivity has been increasing. This will, of course, ultimately create "cost push" inflation wherever it happens for any length of time — and it has been happening right along in 1965-1966 U. S. A.

"Guidelines" Broken

I appears that wherever politics enter into economic management (in Government) "cost push" inflation is difficult to halt. The President's so-called wage hike "guide lines" were smashed to smithereens by union labor contract settlements arranged by Administration leaders themselves — Secretary of Labor Wirtz, and in at least one settlement, by the President.

So the discussions in Washington now indicate union-propelled wage increases beyond the "guide lines" and the attendant "cost push" inflation will be ignored, and that taxation on business profits will be the target. It is the wrong target. The theory is that profits are fairly good right now and can be squeezed, and that it is "always good politics" to make profits the "whipping boy" in the eyes of the public. But the public has a vital stake — their stable economic welfare and the long-range health of our free-enterprise, profit-motive business system that provides the wealth out of which all of us live.

Profit System Is Basic

The strength and future growth of our nation depends upon the good health of our business system. Americans generally now understand the fact that more than 1,000,000 young people each year join the job-seekers. This means that a million new jobs must be created each year. We know that it costs on the average $20,000 to create each new production job — in plant, tools and inventory. It costs nearly $50,000 in the oil industry, and even more in some. The $20,000 average means that $20 billion is necessary to make jobs for the new crop of workers each year.

But that's not the whole story. There are at least another million each year who are temporarily thrown out of work — by small industries going out of business and by greater mechanization throughout the whole of American industry. Another $20 billion must be invested in production, marketing and service facilities to absorb these jobless. Still another $20 billion is expended in the continuing contest by American job-makers to keep ahead of competition, with research, new machine tools, etc., all of which helps the consuming public. That's a total of $60 billion of new money which must be invested by business and industry each year — to keep the production system healthy and the job opportunities expanding.

Progress Depends on Profits

Where does this enormous amount of investment money come from? Of course it must come from profits. In the end it can come from no other primary source. The most profitable industries are the most valuable to the nation as a whole. They have a greater financial margin with which to expand and make new jobs, to improve their research and bring out new products to make living better. A. T. & T. can announce an expansion program costing a billion dollars, which mean another 50,000 new jobs. General Motors has created hundreds of thousands of jobs — out of profits. But to do this their profit margin must be good. Companies with skimpy profits do not expand.

The American public has a personal interest in keeping Government, at all levels, from stifling job-making industrial expansion by over-taxing profits. In our American economy profits represent the golden eggs laid by our industrial geese. It is in our self-interest not to permit business profits to become the target for Government "inflation managers" who have made a mess of managing Government finances!

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Highly famed physicist says doing away with city slums would not eliminate criminals and bums, because it's not low-grade housing which produces these nuisances, but low-grade parents.

Of course, everybody knows this, but it's not nice, and sometimes not even safe, to notice a fellowman's undistinguished pedigree.

But my cattle romancier neighbor says if marble palace environment was the secret of producing quality creatures out of scrub stock, he could quit keeping high priced bulls and cows and just build marble barns.

It is being said that housewives had ought to quit picketing the supermarkets and picket the White House, on account of that's where high price es are being generated.

But my heckled housewife neighbor says this is silly. A trip to Washington would really bust her budget. And government pays travel and expenses only to demonstrators for civil rights.

And while free food and welfare checks rate officially as civil rights, the courts haven't yet decreed that working type people have got a civil right to affordable groceries or non-violent taxes.

What about college?

We have arranged for high school distribution of the booklet:

"WHAT ABOUT COLLEGE?"

The booklet shows students WHY a college education should be their goal and how this can be accomplished. It anticipates all their questions about college: WHERE to get information, WHEN to take action, HOW to make decisions.

Leading educators agree that far more students should go to college. At least 100,000 high school graduates in the top quartile do not. Many regret it all their lives.

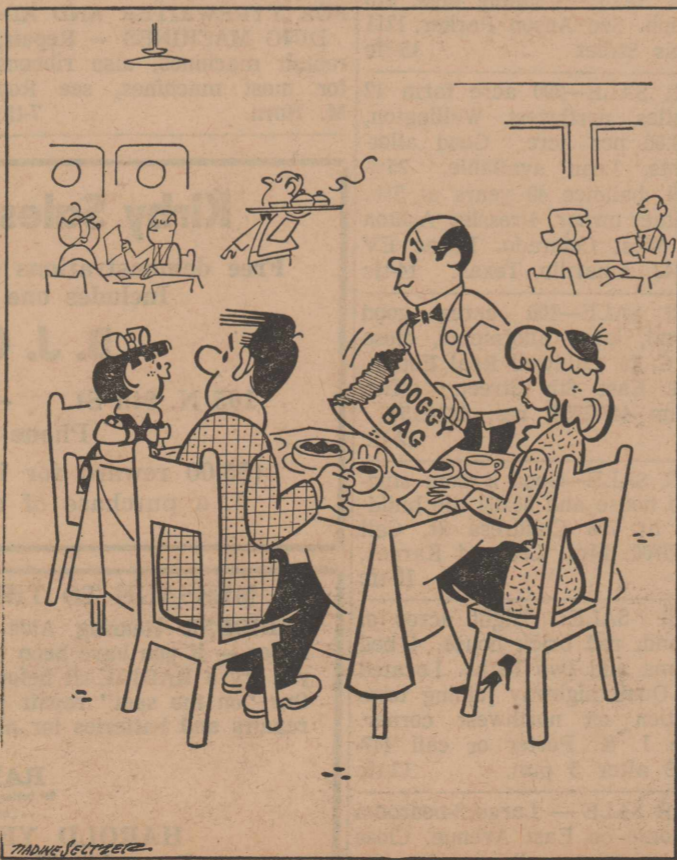

At the time they do not appreciate the advantages of higher learning. They do not know how to finance themselves through college.

Guidance counselors believe that a considerable percentage of the student body can be helped by this compelling presentation of the facts.

For our part, a single student influenced to enrich himself in higher learning will justify the expense.

We are happy to cooperate in providing this service to the young people of our community.

Bank Offers Booklet on College to Seniors

A 32-page booklet designed to answer the questions of high school students and their parents about college is being made available to the senior students of Collingsworth County schools as a community service of the Wellington State Bank, it was announced this week by C. T. Hubbard, president of the bank.

This booklet titled "What About College?" is divided into two main sections — the first for students and the second to be shared with their parents. It tells students why a college education should be their goal and how this can be accomplished. The basic questions of students — where to get information, when to take action, how to make decisions — are all answered in this new reference source. The Special Section aimed at parents is entitled "Guide to College Costs." It gives accurate estimates of the cost of a college education and cites ways to save money. It details how to pay for college, how to apply for scholarships and grants-in-aid and how to obtain loans. It also explains the work-study programs offered by many colleges.

Mr. Hubbard said that "If the Wellington State Bank — through its sponsorship of this 'What About College?' booklet — helps to influence a single student to enrich himself in higher learning, it will more than justify our sponsorship." Louis Graham, counselor for the Wellington high school, and Don Van Pelt, counselor for Quail, Dodson and Samnorwood schools are in charge of the distribution of the "What About College?" booklets.

Wellington B Defeated by Clarendon 22-6

Their meeting with the Clarendon Broncho B team was a bad experience for the Skyrocket B Thursday night, Nov. 3, when they suffered a 22-6 loss.

Clarendon has what is probably their best B team in a number of years. Wellington B team is a little weaker than in the past in overall strength and four stellar players were lost when they went up to the varsity.

"These kids play harder than any group I have had. They sure try hard," declared Coach James Stavenhagen after the Clarendon game.

Clarendon kicked off to open the game and Wellington fumbled the ball on the second play, giving them possession inside the Rocket 20 yard line. The Broncos took the ball on in and two or three plays later scored, but failed in their try for the extra point.

Wellington came back and moved the ball well, but couldn't continue their drive and had to punt. The Rockets played good defense for the rest of the quarter, but early in the second period Wellington fumbled a punt near their own goal line. Clarendon recovered and took the ball on in to score. They added the extra point and the score was 13-0.

After this, Wellington began to pass and connected on several from Kenny Brown to Sandy Covey, thereby moving the ball downfield. Then, with a pass from Brown to end Dallas Holland, the Rockets scored their first touchdown. They failed to make the extra point.

Both teams played good defense from that point, but there was no scoring until just before the half, when Clarendon kicked a 35 yard field goal. The half-time score was 16-6.

During the last half, both teams played good defensive ball. Wellington moved it well but just couldn't get it across the goal line.

Clarendon didn't show too much offense and the Skyrocket B controlled the ball most of the time.

The Broncos scored once more, again on a Rocket fumble near their own goal line. The try for extra point was no good. The game ended 22-6.

Calves on Rye Make Big Money

STREETMAN, - A Free-stone County rancher, Clark Loper, made $44 a calf by wintering "tail end calves" on Elbon rye.

Loper says it's always a problem to know what to do with lightweight calves in the fall. He says, "A rancher doesn't get his full profit if he sells calves too light. And in the fall, calves are usually 3 to 4 cents a pound cheaper than they will be in the spring."

Fairfield County Agent J. H. Pritchard says Loper wintered 40 lightweight calves on Elbon rye last year. The calves averaged 320 pounds each and were worth about $70 a head in the fall.

The calves were turned in to graze the Elbon rye in early December and left until April. They got just over a bale of hay each during the winter. Loper says the calves gained an average of 195 pounds each, or 1.43 pounds a day. He says this is about 10.5 cents per pound of gain.

After deducting the cost of planting, seeding and fertilizing the rye, Loper figures he netted nearly $44 per calf.

County Agent Pritchard says Loper follows a four-step plan along the Build East Texas (BET) program guidelines.

First, plant early—in September if possible. Second, fertilize at planting time, then come back with top dress fertilizer during the winter. Third, begin grazing when the rye is 10-12 inches high. This allows it to establish a good root system. And fourth, stock it sensibly—Loper stocks at about a calf to one and one-fourth acres.

This Is Ideal Time to Take Soil Samples

The end of the growing season is an ideal time for taking and getting soil tested. Don't wait until the spring rush of field work to do this important job, advises County Agent Sammy Helmers.

Soil sample boxes, information sheets and tips on how to take soil samples are all available from the offices of all county agents, Helmers says.

A soil auger or probe is the best tool for taking soil samples; however, a spade works fine, the county agent explains.

A good soil sample is a must if it is to reflect the actual plant food situation in any given field. Several samples should be taken at different spots over the field and then mixed into a composite sample for the field.

Each composite sample should be numbered and the information sheet covering the field completely filled out. The information on the sheet is valuable to the soil scientists when they make their fertilizer recommendations.

By taking soil samples as soon as crops are harvested, time can be saved and in many areas of the state, the needed fertilizer can be applied when the soil is prepared for next spring's crops, Helmers says.

Each farmer will have to decide for himself whether fall fertilizer application will be the right thing for this farm.

Fertilizer can be put down in the fall, slack season with no loss of yield, in tighter soils but fall application of fertilizer in sandy soils is not a good idea. In sandy soils, one inch of water penetrates about one foot. So heavy rain and snow may move nitrates below the root of one and the benefit of the fertilizer will be lost.

Tree Seedlings Now Available to Farmers

COLLEGE STATION.—Farmers and ranchers planning to plant windbreaks this year can pick up applications for tree seedlings from their County Agricultural Agent, Soil Conservation District or by writing to the Texas Forest Service, College Station.

Seventeen windbreak species are available this year: black locust, buffaloberry, catalpa, Chinese elm, cottonwood, eunonymus, mulberry, multiflora rose, sycamore, Osage orange, red cedar, ponderosa, Austrian shortleaf, slash and loblolly pine, and black walnut stratified seed.

Seedlings are sold only for windbreaks and other types of conservation planting. None are sold for ornamental or shade tree purposes. No order for less than a total of 100 trees will be accepted.

Mason Cloud, head of the Reforestation section, Texas Forest Service, said the delivered cost of both seedlings and seed will be $1.50 per 100 plus state sales tax. Shipments will begin about the middle of February and end around the middle of March.

Windbreak planting guides are shipped with each order and are also available from County Agricultural Agents and from the Texas Forest Service, College Station.

The world is getting so fast and crowded that a fellow can't entertain a new idea without an appointment.

WELLINGTON SKYROCKET B TEAM

Members of the 1966 Skyrocket B team, they are the future varsity team members, and this season several members have made the big step. Coached by James Stavenhagen, the team has a record of three wins, two ties and only one loss. Back row, from left, Coach James Stavenhagen, Don Martin, Harold Jones, Anson Parker, Teddy Martin, Nicky Watts, Glen Barber, Dallas

This Year Critical

Select Planting Seed Now, Cotton Men Told

LUBBOCK.—Right now is the time for cotton producers on the Plains to begin thinking about a supply of good planting seed for 1967, while they still have most of the 1966 crop from which to choose.

This is the advice of Dr. Levon Ray, agronomist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock. Ray says special care in the selection and handling of planting seed from this year's crop will be even more important because of the early freeze and the high incidence of verticillium wilt, angular leaf spot and bacterial blight.

Research has consistently and repeatedly proven that good planting seed is near the top among factors which influence both yield and quality in cotton production. Tests have shown as much as $30 per acre additional income from good, strong, varietally pure planting seed.

First, Ray says producers should arrange to get seed from cotton in the most mature, disease free field available.

Second, the seed roll at the gin should be dumped before this cotton is ginned. It is not possible to maintain varietal purity in any other way, he cautioned.

Third, in processing, the seed should be graded more closely than in normal years. This may result in cutting as much as 50 or 60 per cent of the lighter seed in some cases, but the seed loss is not so great when it is considered that by close grading the amount of seed needed for planting will be reduced.

Fourth, the seed should be properly treated and stored under conditions to prevent heating and loss of germination.

Ray points out that verticillium wilt does about the same damage to seed as an early freeze. If seed from wilt infested cotton is acid delinted and treated, this disease will not be carried over to the next year's crop, he said.

However, this does not hold true for seed from fields infested with angular leaf spot or bacterial blight, Ray warns. These diseases can be carried in planting seed regardless of delinting and chemical seed treatment, and seed from cotton infected by either leaf spot or blight should never be saved for planting.

It is difficult to estimate what the supply of planting seed may be in 1967. There will be some farmers whose crop this year is not suitable for saving seed for one or all of the above reasons. And seed breeders themselves will in some instances be required to cut a high percentage of their certified seed as they are processed in order to maintain quality standards.

The unknown quality, though, is the amount of planting seed in the farmer's barn. It is wide knowledge that not too many farmers saved planting seed from the 1965 crop, but most are thought to have had a large seed supply at the beginning of the 1965 season, and some of this is probably on hand.

Norwood Takes Double Header From Miami

Sammorwood Eagles and Eaglettes had no difficulty in winning both games of a double header from Miami Tuesday night, Oct. 25.

This was Miami's first game of this season, and as the playing went along, both the Chiefs and the girls improved, but they were never able to overcome the lead that Sannorwood built up early in the game.

The Eagles were victors 54 to 38 and the Eaglettes won 51 to 34.

The Norwood girls jumped to an early lead and held on. At the end of the first quarter, the Eaglettes led 16 to 3, then increased it to 32 to 15 at the half and 39 to 26 at the end of the third period.

High scorer for Norwood was Suzy Bentley with 38 points, while Beverly Weiss with 18 points led for Miami.

Norwood girls playing were Suzy Bentley, Brenda Coleman, Odessa Stice and Karen Waters, forwards, and Judy Martindale, Billie Purkey, Betty Coleman and Sherri Kendrick, guards.

The Sannorwood boys also went into an early lead and the game was never close. At the end of the first period the Eagles led 15 to 2 and at half time had widened the margin to 30-6. Playing remained on an even keel with Norwood maintaining a 46-20 lead at the end of the third period and 54 to 38 at the end.

Danny Tate led the scoring with 17 points and Acie Boyd had 14. High pointer for Miami was David Murphy with 12.

Both Sannorwood boys and girls have a 2-1 record to date.

ENCEPHALOMYELITIS BREAKS OUT IN HORSE POPULATION

An outbreak of encephalomyelitis among horses has become widespread in Texas according to the Texas Veterinary Medical Association. Reports of the viral disease have been made by veterinarians and horse owners alike in east, central and south Texas and in the Texas hill country.

According to veterinarians and the TVMA the outbreak is believed to be the worst in many years, taking its toll in deaths of from 20% to 90% of those animals infected and often leaving surviving animals with permanent brain damage. It is feared the disease may spread to all areas of the state.

Encephalomyelitis affecting the horse population of Texas at the present time is the same type of virus that has plagued the human population in Texas this year and in other recent years. Like in the human population, the mosquito is the primary vector that transmits the virus and it is spread to the bird population and then to horses and man.

Symptoms of the disease in the horse consist of lack of coordination, paralysis of the throat, loss of spirit and abnormal attitude and behavior. Most horses stand in a peculiar, unnatural stance with the head and neck drooped in a sleepy manner thus the common name of "blind staggers" and "sleeping sickness" are frequently used to describe the disease. Death occurs in three days to two weeks in animals lost to the virus.

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association warned that the disease is extremely dangerous to the horse population although there is no danger of spreading the disease from the horse to man. The Association urged that horse owners see their veterinarians immediately for advice and vaccination of their animals. Annual immunization of horses and other equine species is recommended in all areas having a history of the disease or a high mosquito population.

SUPPORT THE HOME TEAM

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Only two weeks remain until the people living in the Wellington Independent School District will be called upon to make a decision of the utmost importance to the entire community. It will have a vital bearing on the welfare of the children in this district and of the entire population of the area as well. It is the proposition of remodeling the junior and senior high school buildings and for other new construction by a bond issue of $455,000.

Actually such remodeling was needed ten years ago or longer; but now it is no longer a matter of need—it is one of necessity if the school is to maintain accreditation. We believe that the school board has made the proper decision in electing to remodel the existing buildings instead of building an entire new school plant. One or the other had to be done.

The proposed remodeling along with the new construction that is planned will put the physical plant of the Wellington school system in first class condition and will be one that will meet state requirements and fill the needs of the school for some years to come. Any of the school patrons who have inspected the school property at any time during the last two or three years know how urgently the proposed remodeling is needed.

It takes a lot of educational work and publicity to get the public to vote for any bond issue regardless of its merit. Since the time is so short before the election, it is essential that every person who is interested in maintaining an adequate school system become a worker for better school facilities. Start your work by making an inspection of the school plant—not just the auditorium, or the gymnasium or the home ec department or the laboratory; but an inspection of the entire plant. Such a visit will enable you to become a better missionary.

The Pot Luck Dinner was originally planned as a smorgasbord affair; but Louis Graham found some advertising material in the form of a red pot so the senior fund raising event was changed in nomenclature although the kind of food was going to be the same all along—that cooked by the mothers. Pot luck is a better name for our type of food anyway. Smorgasbord is of Scandinavian origin and originally was a helpy-selvy affair consisting mainly of sea foods.

If I were a grocer in Wellington I would go light on buying fruit cakes for Thanksgiving. The band members have sold the fruit cakes for the present. Louise has to put her foot down to keep Henry and me from buying more than one when the children come around selling things. We are soft touches. I can't stand that disappointed and frustrated look on the faces of the little ones when you tell them you have already bought.

This Friday is the last game of the season for a group of hard-playing Rockets; so as many of us as can should make our plans to go to Electra for the boys have put out a lot of effort and deserve our support. As far as ability is concerned the Rockets should have won every conference game with the single exception of Iowa Park. The Hawks were and are the best team in the district and could defeat any other team on a given Friday night.

Loren Thompson: Did you give your wife that lecture on economy you were talking about?
Dub Marchant: Yeah.
Any results?
Yeah. I've got to give up smoking.

building committee; John Ward and his brother, the building contractors.

A special guest was the Rev. Tom Johnson of Abilene, a pastor here approximately 35 years ago.

Rev. Todd began his church-building career in 1943 at Petersburg, and since then he has built churches at Hale Center and Sudan.

The Rev. Mr. Edens preached at the morning service. At noon, approximately 150 members of the church brought basket dinners for an old-fashioned church dinner in the fellowship hall.

NEW FACILITIES

This is the floor plan for the proposed junior high physical education and home economics building for the Wellington Schools. It would be approximately 135 feet in length by 60 feet in width, and would be located just south of the present auditorium. The estimated cost of this structure is $92,580.40.

From Silverton

La Baume Joins SCS as Soil Conservationist

Jon La Baume joined the staff of the Soil Conservation office here Tuesday, Nov. 1, coming from the office at Silverton.

He was promoted to soil conservationist with duties not carried by that office previously. La Baume fills a place left vacant when Max Manly resigned to enter livestock raising.

Announcement of his addition to the staff came from Gary Reed, work unit conservationist.

La Baume joined the Soil Conservation Service at Silverton three and a half years ago.

Prior to that, however, he was with a watershed planning party of the SCS at his home town of Dublin for six months and with the USDA agricultural marketing service, cotton division, in Dallas and Oklahoma City six months.

He is a graduate of Tarleton State College and received the bachelor of science degree in technical agriculture from Sam Houston State College, Huntsville.

He was a member of Delta Tau Alpha, national honor society for agricultural students.

At Silverton, La Baume worked with the Caprock Soil Conservation District, which year before last entered the conservation group which won the state first place in its category of the Fort Worth Press Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program.

Married to the former Elaine McDaniel of Silverton, La Baume and his wife have been active in the Young Farmers and Young Homemakers at Silverton, as well as in civic and other organizations.

They are living at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Patton east of Wellington.

may do so, but there will be no deliveries of barbecue, the commander added. Tickets must be bought ahead of time for these also.

In charge of ticket sales are Bill Hatch, Riley Dunson, John Coleman, Joe Beard, Dick Richards, Mack Bush, J. G. Finley, Sr., John Forbis, James Sullivan and Jim Chappell.

Proceeds from the barbecue will go for the Legion's boys and girls work and to repair the Legion Hall.

Committees working on the day-long observance are: Cooking: Howard Holton, Jack Cristy, Jim Chappell and Mack Bush.

Hospitality and greeting: Bobo Castleberry, John Harper, and Mrs. John Coleman.

Membership: Riley Dunson.

Kiwans Club.

Bill Bradshaw, president of the Clarendon Jaycees, will make the response, and Glenn Wallace, extension chairman of the Clarendon club will give the Jaycee Creed.

The Rev. Ronald Crosley will be the master of ceremonies and the Rev. A. B. Earnest will give the invocation and benediction.

Carubbi, 33, as immediate past president of Texas Jaycees, is chairman of the board of trustees and also is serving as associate legal counsel of the United States Jaycees. He is a member of the 1966-67 board of directors and executive committee of the United States Jaycees as well as the Texas Jaycees.

Carubbi received his Ph.D. degree in commerce from the University of Notre Dame in 1952, served two years in the finance office of the First Armored Division of the U.S. Army and after his discharge from service entered the Law School of the University of Texas. He received his bachelor of laws degree in February 1953.

He has been active in the Jaycees eight years and has participated in its activities and has held offices on the local, state and national level.

Delayed Action

The reason some heads hurt the morning after is that their owners didn't use them the night before.

Drive for Fire Dept. Alert Units Over Top

The Wellington Volunteer Fire Department fund drive to buy radio alert units for its members went over the top Friday, Nov. 4 and money is still coming in. To date, $2,732 has been received.

"Now we know how much people appreciate the department," said Chief Buster Hughes, speaking for the elated firemen.

"It's rewarding to know how the people feel about it. Support came from all parts of the county," Chief Hughes said, "and the members regretted they were unable to see everyone in the drive."

He said the radio alert units will be ordered immediately. "We are waiting on bids now. Thirty or forty day delivery has been promised," Hughes added.

The fire chief pointed out that purchase of the new alert warning system will be credited to Wellington's new key insurance rate when it is set in April.

Sister of Mrs. Brantley Dies

Mrs. R. W. Brantley received word of the death of her sister, Mrs. H. D. Clark of Carthage, Miss., Friday morning, Nov. 4.

Mrs. Clark was injured in a fall about a month ago and was critically ill about a week before her death.

Mrs. Brantley had visited her sister a few months ago and did not return for the funeral.

Kiwans Honors Farmers-Ranchers

Approximately 35 farmers and ranchers were guests of Kiwanis Club members for the farm visitation program Friday, Oct. 28.

Jim Chappell, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, was the speaker, and Bobo Castleberry was the program chairman.

The club plans to make this farm-city week program an annual event, according to John Holton, president.

In the contempt hearing of Winnie Harper vs. Lawrence Powell, Judge Reynolds found that no contempt should be decreed and reaffirmed the prior order of custody and support.

He denied a motion for summary judgment in the case of J. M. Tindall vs. A. F. Knoll, a suit for debt, and set the case for jury trial in January.

Two divorces were granted: Don Latimer from Janice Latimer and Walter Dobbs from Lora Dobbs.

transfusion, she said. The Red Cross would retain control of the blood bank and furnish the blood, which would be available in whatever quantity and of whatever type is needed, she continued. If necessary, blood will be flown in.

Mr. Forbis, county chairman, urged local residents to attend.

Mrs. Isbell pointed out that the meeting will come at a time when many business people are taking a coffee break, and she invited them to come in for whatever time they may have to listen in on the discussion.

The meeting is due to last for about an hour.

County Four H Clubs Organize for New Year

The organization of all county 4-H Clubs was completed during October under the direction of Miss Leta Kees, home demonstration agent, and Sammy Helmers, agricultural agent.

All of the clubs elected new officers, appointed new committees and began plans for the new year. Officers worked with the agents to set up club programs for the coming months, and plans were made to compile a 4-H yearbook. The clubs also set the dates for their regular monthly meetings.

The new officers of the community clubs are:

Quail: Donita Pitts, president; Roger Long, vice president; Brenda Childers, secretary-treasurer; and Jerry Bolton, council delegate.

Dodson: Danny Lewis, president; John Hightower, vice president; Elvis Sain, secretary-treasurer; and Bobby Taber, council delegate.

Samnorwood: Debra Deger, president; Kyle Janes, vice president; Janis Christner, secretary-treasurer; and Kim Janes, council delegate.

Wellington Girls 4-H Club, called the Lazy Daisy 4-H: June Popwell, president; Glenda Lancaster, vice president; Jan Earnest, secretary-treasurer; Carol Burba, council delegate; and the recreational committee includes Glenda Kiker, Pam Black, Wanda Bailey and Becky Bruba.

The agents met and talked with all of the leaders who planned to work with 4-Hers for the coming year. Dates to work with food and nutrition leaders were set.

The leaders and agents discussed plans for the County Awards Program, which is to be held Saturday, November 19 in the community building.

plete remodeling of the junior and senior high school at a cost of $252,184.60. This figure includes the architect and engineering fee.

This remodeling would include painting and decorating the entire building.

—a new heating system,
—a new wiring system,
—new fixtures,
—lowering the ceiling and installation of acoustical tile,
—new windows, doors and floors,

—complete remodeling of the rest rooms.

A major part of this will be the remodeling of the auditorium. The east wall would be moved 20 feet westward to the row of pillars that extend across the auditorium. That space would be converted into a lobby, with a room at either end, one to be used for student publications, the other as a teacher work room.

The stage also will be narrowed and rebuilt into one that is distinctively of auditorium type. (It originally was built as a combination stage and basketball court.)

The seating capacity of the building will remain the same. This takes in the major features included in the remodeling program. There would be many other minor remodeling projects.

The architects have pointed out to the school board that the walls of the junior-senior high school are structurally sound, and it was on this basis that the trustees chose the remodeling rather than new construction.

New Facilities

A new combined physical education and home economics building is proposed at a cost of $92,580.40, including architect and engineering fees.

Dr. Golden spoke of the stress that is now being put on physical fitness in the schools, and he pointed out that beginning next year, a physical fitness program will be mandatory. This will require that students dress in gym suits for the physical education sessions and shower and re-dress at the end of that period.

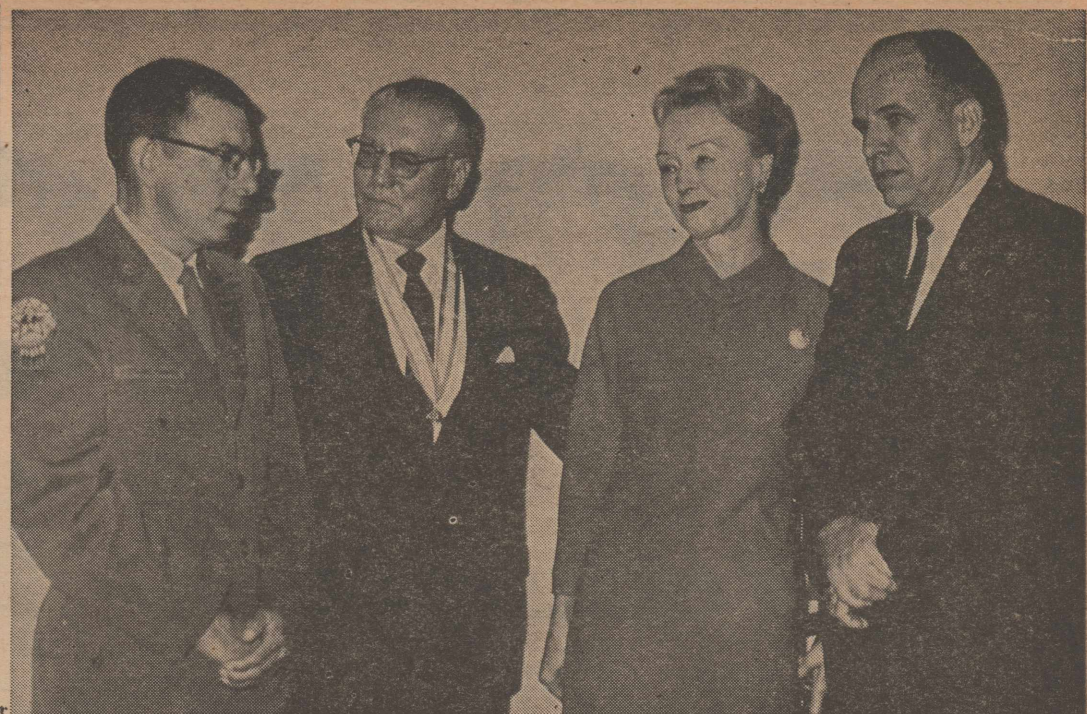

Wellington has no facilities for this.

The new building will be located immediately south of the auditorium and the physical education and home economics sections will be separated by a corridor. The physical education section will include also showers, lockers and storage.

Dr. Golden emphasized that this is not a gymnasium. It is a physical education facility.

ed but that usually do come up in a construction project of this type.

Financing

Mr. Kenyon presented the proposed financing of the bond issue.

He pointed out that the assessed property valuation for the school district is now $7,326,000, based on 33 1/3 percent of the actual value. The district now has outstanding bonds totaling $327,000 to be paid off in from 1 to 18 years.

To finance the additional $455,000 bond issue, it is proposed that the assessed property valuation be increased to $10,000,000, or 50 per cent of the actual value. The tax rate would be reduced from $1.75 per $100 valuation to $1.50 per $100 valuation.

The new bonds would be set up to mature on a one to 28 year basis and they would be paid off as they come due.

Mr. Kenyon said a property owner can figure it this way: If his school taxes now amount to $100 a year, next year he would pay $125.

Many school patrons are asking: When will the remodeling start?

Dr. Golden and Mr. Alexander explained that by holding the bond election Nov. 19, it would be possible to begin work as soon as school is out in the spring. It is hoped the work can be completed during the three vacation months.
