The winning letter is printed on page 2 of the issue.

City Voters Say 'No' To Bonds

A bond issue which would have given the city council the authority to sell bonds in order to build a new city hall was defeated at the polls Tuesday, May 7, 216-160.

Votes cast by taxpayers were 211, against and 154, for. Non taxpayers cast one vote, against and four, for the issue. Absentee votes cast were four, against and two, for. A total of 376 votes were cast by city residents, with total of 530 eligible voters.

The proposed city hall was estimated at a cost of $182,870. A two level structure, it would have housed all city offices, police office, council and court rooms and other office rooms to be rented.

Plans had been made to have a large community room in the basement, plus a storm shelter, emergency operating center, serving kitchen and restrooms, storage units and lobby to make an estimated 6000 square feet of square.

The bond issue called for authority to sell $200,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of constructing and equipping the city hall. It was defeated by 56 votes.

City Divided In Sections For Clean Up Campaign

Clean Up Month for the month of May has been extended into the first week of June, due to an intensified effort to get all parts of the city really clean.

Chairman of the clean up campaign, Billie Norfleet said, "Everyone is asked to clean up their area and move all trash, limbs and other items that you wish to be picked up, out to the alley and the city trash collectors will get it. If you are unable to do this, please contact the captain of your area and let them know what you need to get it cleaned up."

"Captains" of four sections of the city have been designated, with a helper or helpers for each.

Beginning with the northeast section of town next Monday, the clean up will be intensified Wednesday May 15 in that area. Everyone is asked to make a special effort that day in that section of the town. Captains of the northeast section are Eldon Franks at 285-2700 (or the Chamber of Commerce office) and Daniel Rey at 285-3354.

The next week, the southeast section will be in the "spotlight", with intensified effort on cleaning that section Wednesday, May 22. Melvin Rape at 285-2295 and Roy Salas, at Olton Auto, are captains for that section.

The southwest part of the city will be under the guidance of David Maxey, 285-2725; K.Y. Givens, 285-2380; and Joe Hall, 285-2765. Wednesday May 29 will be the day for special effort in that part of town.

Larry Garvin at 285-2924 and Stephen Smith at 285-2482 will direct the clean up effort in the northwest section of town. June 5 has been set as the day for the biggest effort in cleaning.

The city dump will be open every day during May from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. except Wednesdays, when it will remain open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Old cars may be picked up by calling your captains or the city hall.

Elmer Machen Buried Tuesday

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday in First Baptist Church for Elmer Harrison Machen, 70.

Officiating were Rev. John Lewis, pastor, and Rev. Curtis Jackson, retired minister of Lubbock. Interment was in Parklawn Cemetery in Plainview under the direction of Parsons Funeral Home.

Machen was dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock May 5.

Born June 3, 1903 in Seymour, Machen moved to Olton 39 years ago from Brownfield. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Louise Holland of Kress and Mrs. Jolene Mauldin of Abilene; two sisters, Mrs. Steve Cantrell of Waurika, Okla., and Mrs. Ophelia Breland of Lubbock; one brother, H.B. Machen of Springlake, Ark.; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Joe Roberts, George Clark, Doug Giles, Gene Cottrell, Roy Roberts and Bill Weaver.

RELDA STRAIN

Relda Strain Wins First In Shorthand Contest

Competing with the top high school shorthand students in Texas, Relda Strain captured the Class AA state title Saturday in Austin. Her win was the best performance of the five divisional titlists.

Eight contestants competed in each division; two from each region. Only one of the 40 shorthand students posted a faster time but errors counted against her performance.

Miss Strain's entry was 100 percent in accuracy with a transcript time of 15:55. The class AAA and AAAA winners also posted 100 percent accuracy but slower times of 16:43 and 19:02, respectively.

The state shorthand contest is five minutes of dictation at 100 words per minute which must be transcribed and typed. Judges consider the typed work for accuracy, and in the event of a tie, then determined the winner by their time.

Valedictorian of her class, Miss Strain earned the right to compete at state by earlier wins in district and regional. Ten girls competed in the district contest held locally. Twenty-four contestants were entered in the regional competition.

The new state winner becomes the second student to take the honor with Debra Sweatt winning the title last year.

Miss Strain is also active in several organizations. A member of National Honor Society, she has been a member of Pep Squad, Future Teachers of America and Future Homemakers of America. She has been active in the music departments of school and church, the First Baptist Church.

Accompanying her to Austin were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Strain and Mr. and Mrs. Don Spain.

Beauty And The Beast?

W.E. "Bill" and Oveta Thomas came to Olton in January 1945 and for Bill it was the culmination of a plan he made as a boy in 1924.

Bill recalls his decision to "someday move to Olton" came about when his family traveled through Olton while visiting relatives in Abilene and Friona. He remembers the impressiveness of the "old Bohner farm house" and recalls a field of ripening maize west of the house bore the largest heads of grain he'd ever seen.

The Thomases first years in Olton were spent in farming but in 1952 Bill began working for Roy Granbery. He continued with Granbery until 1956 when he began his own business, Farmers Tax Record Service.

Bill grew up on a farm, moving to the Mobeetie area as a boy. He and Oveta met when she went to Mobeetie to work as a beauty operator.

Growing up near Clovis, Oveta went to San Jacinto Beauty School in Amarillo with plans to earn enough money as a beauty operator so that she might put herself through college to be an elementary school teacher.

"I think Divine Providence must have sent me to Mobeetie," she says, explaining there was no real reason she chose Mobeetie as a place to begin work.

Bill and Oveta lived in California for a period during the war years with Bill working for Consolidated Aircraft. Oveta did not work until their last year in California, preferring to stay home with their small son, Lonnie.

Working with a vital industry, making and packing small parts for aircraft, that year of work made her realize with certainty her real vocation was as a beautician.

"I never made better money than I did then and the work wasn't hard," she says before explaining there was no reward in the work - "machinery leaves me cold."

Bill became interested in the field that was to become his vocation when, in 1943, he helped a neighbor prepare his income tax report. The next year he helped three and the number has continued to grow through the passing years. Last year he aided 344 persons file their reports for IRS.

Until October 1967 when he moved into his own new building, Bill's office was in a small frame building located between the Masonic Lodge and Charles Barber Shop. One of the older buildings in town, it was torn down a year or so ago.

Bill admits he has always been a bit of "a night owl" and, as a boy, would always listen to the radio till midnight and later or until his mother ordered enough. Keeping late hours becomes a necessity for the tax accountant come income tax time when folks are prone to wait till the last minute to get their returns compiled.

Lavelle (Mrs. J.W.) Dear has been helping at tax time the past four years so there is not quite so much midnight oil burned now although the two do work until that last report is completed and picked up.

Tax reporting has changed enormously since that first report he aided. Bill stays abreast the changes by studying the thick volumes of Prentice-Hall Tax Course which he receives yearly plus other tax aides.

He confesses he finds the tax laws of the country "fascinating" but thinks they are "badly in need of revising."

Texas, Bill says, is one of the just nine states that does not have state income tax.

A primary reason Texans have escaped that extra tax, he believes, is that much of the state's school lands has had oil which provided income which would have otherwise had to come from taxes.

Bill also is a licensed realtor, having first received his license in 1956.

Oveta began working in Olton in a shop which was located in the vacant space between Olton Salvage and Sales and Anita's Styleart. For a time she was the only operator. Ownership of the shop changed a number of times through the years.

Built for a barbecue shop, the building which now houses Oveta's shop was first converted to a beauty shop by Beverly Roberson. Beverly finished the interior of the shop, which had not been walled nor ceiled. Since buying it, Oveta has also done some remodeling.

Through the years Oveta has kept up with changing trends in her chosen vocation by attending lectures, schools and other educational meetings sponsored by beauty products companies and by beauty schools.

"Nothing changes so much as the beauty business," she says. "You can get behind in a month if you don't keep up."

A beautician's work, she feels, is a creative outlet. She likes the close association with people and believes her career is one of the best ways to be close to people.

"It's really interesting. There are never any two situations the same."

People, Oveta believes, are becoming more aware of how to care for their hair and their skin. She is very enthusiastic and excited about the beauty products she has to offer her customers.

Redken offers everything necessary for the proper care and treatment for healthy, pretty hair and skin, she says. "They do more than they claim. Others make claims and don't do it." She remarked that at a recent lecture she and Frances Alirez, an operator with her at "Thomas Beauty Shop" about three years, heard one speaker say, "One product makes no real claim except that their container won't break."

People in Olton care more for their appearance and want to be well groomed, Oveta believes. "That says a lot for people, too."

"Olton is a great place. I've always liked it," she says. Bill, too, still holds the same admiration that he felt those many years ago when he saw Olton the first time.

"I still think it's one of the most wonderful farm areas in the world."

Lonnie, a 1958 graduate of Olton High School, works with Phillips Petroleum and lives with his wife, Sandie, and twelve-year-old son, Greg, in Bartlesville, Okla. Sandie, the former Sandra Asman, and Lonnie met when both were visiting their parents while she was in nurses training in Austin and he was a student at the University. Sandie's father had come to Olton as a school principal after Lonnie's graduation. Sandie has just recently become a full fledged attorney at law.

Bill is a member of the Northside Church of Christ and Oveta is a member of the Baptist Church. Bill is a former mayor of Olton and an avid baseball fan who's always been partial to the St. Louis Cardinals and particularly to one of their all time "greats" - Stan Musial.

Bike-Hike Set May 18

Olton Junior High Fellowship of Christian Youth is sponsoring a bike-hike-ride-walk Saturday, May 18.

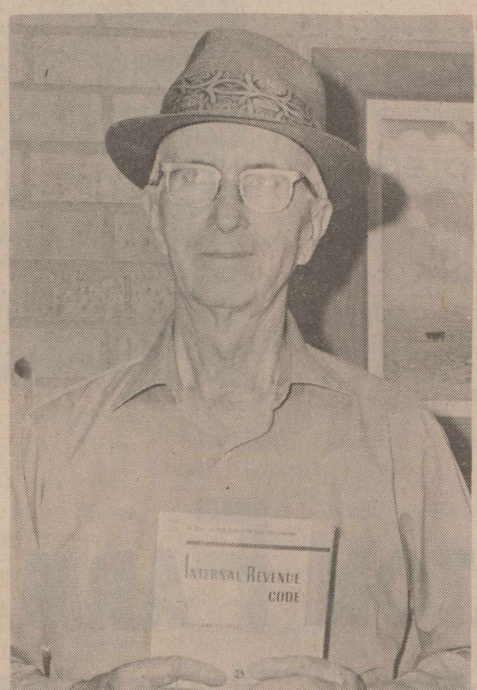

Persons wishing to do any of these four things in order to help the Olton Community Clinic are asked to contact Martha Shackleford or Gayle Allcorn.

All forms must be turned into Mrs. Shackleford before 4 p.m. May 17. Participants will meet by Leon's Grocery at 7:30 a.m. Saturday May 18.

Those who wish to rock instead of the hikes, are asked to bring their own rocking chairs to Leon's at 7:30 a.m. that day.

COW POKES

"I wintered mighty good . . . all my cows are still standin' up!"

'Mother Of The Year'

Dear Judges,

If my mother was ever asked what her philosophy of life was, she should reply with the little verse she taught us when we were children. It says, "God first, others second, and yourself last." This is truly my mother in action. Mother's love and Christian life is known in her home, the church, and the community, and these are the reasons I believe she should be chosen Mother of the Year.

Mother's idea of loving her children was not to give us everything we wanted, or when we said, ".but, Mother, everyone's doing it," she would reply, "I'm not responsible for everyone just you." Mother taught (and is still teaching) us to respect authority, and to do our best at anything we did whether it was studying or making beds. She has also taught us that there are consequences to our actions - good and bad (the bad consequences are more commonly known as spankings or being grounded depending upon our age). She also taught us to love God and others, and to give at times when we wouldn't receive in return.

Growing up wasn't all seriousness; it had its lighter side. Mother has been everything from the "store lady" to "Mrs. Perkins," the neighbors we all had "tea" with. There were the special occasions and days of the year with special things to do for each particular day, and the times we would laugh so hard we would all be crying. Mother has given the word "home" a special meaning for six children.

Mother has not only given to her home, but also to her church. She has taught Sunday School classes from primary age to teens. She plays the piano, serves on committees and boards and helps in numerous other ways.

Mother gives to the community of Olton by teaching the fifth grade.

Besides the knowledge she imparts, Mother tries to instill some of the same principles and ideals that she gave her children. She tries to inspire them to do their best work, and to be responsible so they can grow and mature to be on the helping and giving side of society.

My mother is not a perfect human being, she has her days, her moods, and her faults, but the one thing, or attribute, or attitude that comes across in her life is her love for God and others. This is why Mrs. Calvin Graham has always been my Mother of the Year.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to say this. Mrs. Michael May

Raymond Powers Tour Germany, Switzerland

Along with 161 other touring Texans, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Powers returned Thursday morning from a "dream of a lifetime" tour in Europe.

Departing New York City via charter airline, the group landed 12 hours later in Munich, Germany, where they stayed some three days.

Mrs. Powers described the weather there as delightful; the city, with a population in excess of one million, as beautiful and clean beyond any city she had ever visited. She stated that there was no trash, no litter, no pollution. Flowers were growing and blooming in every available spot. "These people have great personal and national pride, and they really work at keeping their homes and cities in this state of beauty and cleanliness," she believes.

With all of its handsome architecture, Munich still bears scars of WWII bombings. Many of the fountains and some of the statuary indicate repairs, and re-building is still in progress.

One of the highlights of this stop was a visit to the Castle of Nueschwanstein, built by King Ludwig II. Builder of three castles, this was his "fairy-land" triumph, and was copied by Walt Disney for his fantasies.

Another interesting landmark was Kirchendwies Church, or Church in the Meadow. Lovely in its shell-like design its vaulted ceilings bear exquisite mural paintings of a famous German artist.

Traveling by four buses, the group wandered through the Bavarian Alps and Austria. Here they enjoyed rolling green meadows, mowed twice each year and so free of weeds they looked like carpets.

From the city of Lucerne, Switzerland, they took a mountain railway to a hotel about halfway to the summit of Mt. Jungfrau, for the unbelievable beauty of the Swiss Alps. They also dined at a Chateau, over 100 years old, where lassies, dressed in a native costume, yodeled and sang.

After three days in this area, the group left Zurich homeward bound.

Mrs. Powers stated that Germany, caught in serious inflation, quoted very high prices. At one point they paid three dollars for a hamburger. Gasoline was $1.50 to $2.00 per gallon.

Switzerland, however, neutrally independent and financially wealthy had the more reasonable things offered for sale.

Landing at New York, the best words heard on the trip were spoken, with a Yankee accent, by the customs officer who said "Welcome home, folks."

Spring Show Is Thursday

Olton Garden Club's annual flower show, "A Little Touch of Spring," will be held Thursday, May 16 in Women's Clubhouse. The public is invited to attend between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 p.m.

Any interested person may also participate in the show according to Mrs. Jack Allcorn, show chairman. Persons wishing to exhibit arrangements may secure additional information from Mrs. Allcorn or from club president, Mrs. John Lambright.

May God bless each of you.

(Editor's note: Our apologies to the Britton family for omission of this note in an earlier paper).

We wish to express our gratitude to all those who were so thoughtful of our needs during the loss of our father, Elmer Machen.

For the food, flowers, concern, thoughts and prayers, we say thank you and may God bless each of you.

Louise, Jolene and families

We want to say "thank you" to everyone in Olton for being so good to us and for all the help you've given us in so many ways. Ped made the trip pretty well and had been able to take short walks but has been hospitalized again. We cannot tell you how very much we appreciate everything that you did for us. We love everyone of you, may God bless you.

Ped and Lois Hunt (Editor's note: the Hunts' address is 3902 Marion, Corpus Christi, Tex. 78415)

Correction

An item in "Hart Camp Happenings" last week reported that Mr. and Mrs. Omer Neeley Jr. had moved to Littlefield. It should have read Mr. and Mrs. Omer Neeley Sr.

An error was made in the feature story of Duncan's Variety Store carried in last week's Enterprise. Employees listed included Mary Ellen Almanza instead of Nicomeda Anzaldua. Our apologies.

Cook Of The Week

Recipes for three of her husband's favorite foods is shared this week by Mrs. Gary Peel, young housewife and mother.

Wanell was born and grew up in Olton and has lived here all her life except for a while when she and Gary were living in Denver City.

It was while they were living in Denver City that Gary trained in farm machinery mechanics. He is employed with Wood-Jordan-Davis International Harvester agency.

The young Peels have a small son, Troy Don, almost 19 months old. Caring for him is Wanell's favorite pastime now. She also likes to cook and sew.

Tropical fish are an interest Wanell and Gary share and little Troy Don also finds fascinating. They also have a pair of parakeets.

McNAIR'S SP-21 OUTPERFORMS 5 OTHER COTTON VARIETIES

This past year T. J. Smith and Thomas Lively planted McNair's SP-21 cotton and were real pleased with its performance. They planted it on May 4, 1973 and harvested in the middle of October.

In addition to SP-21, they planted Gregg, Stripper 31, Macha, Dunn 118 and 5-B. SP-21 yielded 710 lbs. of lint per acre which was as good as any of the others, and it had the best gin turn-out of any variety they have planted (26.5%).

The staple length measured 1 inch, and the micronaire was 4.2 to 4.8.

Wakes Up Brightness, Renews Pile As It Cleans

HOST is the carpet-cleaning method that does it all...and does it better than anything you've ever used before! That's why you'll find HOST Carpet Cleaner and rental machines at leading carpet stores, recommended by the people who know carpeting and want to encourage the best possible carpet care.

Carpet cleaning with HOST couldn't be easier. Just sprinkle HOST cleaner on the carpet. Next, let the unique HOST Electric Brush do the work. All you do is guide it. Then simply vacuum, and the job is finished. And what a job! Your whole carpet is uniformly clean and bright. Pile is raised and full of life. And there's no waiting for the carpet to dry. After vacuuming, the room is ready for immediate use. With repeated use of HOST, carpets tend to stay clean longer because of the deep-down cleaning.

No wonder more and more homeowners who want to protect their carpet investment are switching from ordinary cleaning methods to HOST. Experience shows that once you use HOST, you'll continue using it.

Your local carpet dealer can give you all the facts about HOST. He'll be glad to show you how it works, too. HOST cleaner is reasonably priced, and the machine may be rented for a modest amount.

Write In The Groove

BRYAN ALLCORN AND FREDDY STOCKDALE

Well, Barbara's done it again! She has made the headlines once more with one of her cloth-taking experiences. The last two weeks we have dedicated the column to her, and once again we dedicate it. If you don't know what we're talking about, just ask her or part of her audience.

The Student Council met May 6th and discussed "Fifties Day" which will be May 17th. Many activities will take place such as; a box lunch auction, Tug-a-war, pie-eating contest, rotten egg throwing contest, passing lifesavers from person to person with a toothpick in your mouth, apple bobbing, and a car stuffing contest. Some of these events will have to be run off in heats in the afternoon and things should get pretty hot! The finals will be that night in the park. Plans were also made for next year including Sadie Hawkins Day, various films, Western Day, Dress-up Days, Fifties Day, Valentines Day, Film at the Halloween Carnival, and a Hall Decorating Contest. These and more are going to make next year like this year. And we at W.I.T.G. had a lot of fun this year. No, we won't have a Streaker's Day for all you people who get free shots.

Speaking of Streaker's Day, well, we decided we had to fill you in on the big news that's always news that nobody really knows about. Anyway, the scene was May 7, 6th period, in the Olton High Speech Department. We were taking turns giving speeches when the Midnight Creeper came streaking through the room. Everyone's eyes bugged out and we yelled, "Don't look Quilla!" But it was to late. She already got a particial look and screamed in a passive voice. After it was all over, you can guess what we had to do. Of course! Take notes!!!

We want to congratulate Relda Strain on winning in Shorthand at the UIL State Meet. As Robin Spain once said, "Relda Strained like Debra Sweattted." Seriously we think Relda did a great job in representing Olton and Olton High School. We also want to recognize Mrs. Spain who has sent two girls to state in shorthand and many to regional in typing. We appreciate you and you have done a great job.

Freshman of the week - Kim Kinnison
Sophomores of the week - Billy Griffith and Greg Burgess
Junior of the Week - Keith Austin
Senior of the Week - Relda Strain

From the Tulsa, Okla. World: It is permissible to spank a child if one has a definite end in view.

The wrapper on prepacked puff pastry on sale in England advises: Enough in the packet for four persons or 12 little tarts.

AWARD WINNER AT TEXAS TECH - JoEllen Spain, senior business education student at Texas Tech University, has been named recipient of the Service Award of the Texas Tech chapter of the National Collegiate Association for Secretaries (NCAS). She received the award from Dr. Irol Balsley, professor of business education at the University. The award goes to the member who has contributed most to the success of the organization during the term of her membership and is presented by the executive board of the Texas Tech chapter of the NCAS. Miss Spain served as vice-president of the chapter this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Spain.

Wife reading completed income tax form: What's the idea - charging my beauty treatments off as a loss?

Tour Of States Taken By Texans

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schreier of Abernathy and their sister-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Schreier, came home recently from an eight week's tour in a car and camper trailer.

At Little Rock, Ark. they went to the veterans cemetery which is the grave site of Mrs. Bill Schreier's brother-in-law. At Memphis they saw the steamboats on the Mississippi River.

They stayed ten days with the Bill Schreier's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ligon, Joey and Lea of Hampton Roads, Va. There they toured Langley Airforce Base where Ligon is stationed and saw Fort Monroe.

The Schreiers went to Newport News, Va. which is one of the finest harbors in the world. This place was of particular interest to Mrs. Pearl Schreier because it was from there her late husband, Walter Schreier, sailed for overseas duty in World War I. When he returned, he disembarked at the same harbor. At Newport News, they saw the Arch Memorial to Veterans of World War I.

The Texans spent three days at Colonial Williamsburg, Va. and went to Jamestown where they saw replicas of the three ships which brought colonists to this the first permanent English settlement in America. They went to Washington D. C. and viewed the White House, the Capital and the Smithsonian Institute.

On their return to Texas they traveled through the Smoky Mountains and the Shenandoah Valley, and saw Churchill Downs at Louisville, Ky. They toured the Capital at Frankfort, Ky. and in that vicinity saw the grave of Daniel Boone.

At St. Louis, Mo. they saw "The Gateway to the West" which is the tallest monument in our nation. Other points of interest they found in St. Louis were Forest Park, the Botanical gardens, the Plantetorium and the old court house.

In Oklahoma the party went through the world museum and art center at Tulsa where 100 nations have displays. They went to the Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City and the Will Rogers Memorial at Claremore.

Sugar, Spice, And Sage

By Jan Sherman

Scene: Teenage Mary's room right before the Junior-Senior Banquet - "Mom, oh Mom, I'm in a frantic hurry and I don't have time to press my dress and there's at least a million wrinkles in it. Press it for me!"

Scene: Jr. High Betty's room one day and three hours away from the first basketball game of the season - "Mom, our coach said we had to have a traveling uniform and it's pattern number is 2117 in the Simplicity catalog. I would never have time to make it. Would you do it before tomorrow?"

Scene: Grammar school Frank's room two hours before the band's bake sale at the local supermarket - "Oh, Mom, I forgot to tell you I volunteered a chocolate cake or some cookies from you for the bake sale today. You'll do it won't you?"

Well, how about it, Mom, will you--don't you? What are Mom's for after all? Aren't they put on this earth to press, bake, mend, pray, love, laugh, (only after the pressing, baking and mending.)

I admit to it. I used to think that surely Mom hadn't done much all day and what's the big pain to pressing my dress for me. She had nothing better to do. That's called "kidd-itis". The road to recovery from this dread disease is rather simple and will be surely termed as a cruel and unusual punishment. Say no. Not "No!!" But simply and sweetly, "no" once in a while.

Mom's can sometimes be over run with requests for everything at any time, especially if there are more than two kids at home. Ask good ole Mom, she'll do it-and she usually does. It's true, as Mothers come in every shape and size, they also come in every temperament, and some Mothers delight in their children needing them--most do, I think. However, that is not the issue here--not the point at all.

This Mother's Day, some Mothers will be served breakfast in bed, will be handed cards, some scribbled and some expensive. They will be receivers of gifts, both large and small. Dinner out will be the big deal of the day for some, while other will have lunch prepared for them. Isn't that sweet? Isn't that ideal on Mother's Day. "Well, why not, after all look what she's done for us."

For all my Mom has done and will do for me, I should think I could give her a much better gift, besides the usual one wrapped in bows and fancy paper. I could give her the finest gift that of appreciation for her everyday. Change those first scenes from, "Do it for me!" to "Please Mom, and thank you." You might even throw in a kiss and a sincere hug and smile. Let her know you love her and best of all thank God for her everyday as you pray for her.

I would like to take this opportunity to say "Thanks" to the voters of Lamb County for your support and vote of confidence in the Primary Election.
