Dewey Raps Isolationism

(By The Associated Press)

GOVERNOR Dewey declared Wednesday night that "there can be no isolation for America."

We have learned that "once and for all," he said, through two wars and the anxieties of a peace that is not peace." He prepared the address for the New York Herald Tribune forum in New York.

The GOP presidential nominee made this major speech while his Democratic adversary took campaign time out, President Truman was busy with office duties at the White House prior to the final whirl of speeches before election day.

Renews Unity Appeal

Dewey climaxed a discussion of conservation needs with his references to the international situation. "Nothing is so important in that cause (world peace) as a strong United States of America," he said.

"Peace will never be bought with appeasement," he counseled. "The peace of the world will only be secure when the forces on the side of peace are stronger than the forces on the side of evil."

Renewing his unity-for-peace appeal, Dewey said: "Let us act decisively to arouse and strengthen and solidify the free world so that the forces making for peace will be more powerful than the forces making for war."

Trip Plans Denied

A report that Governor Dewey, if elected president, would go to Europe before inauguration was called "sheer speculation" by an aide Wednesday. It was learned he has no such plan at this time.

It was President Truman's turn for a day of campaign silence after Dewey's quiet Monday at Albany, N. Y. Both men will scour the populous region from Chicago to New York next week for votes in a fast campaign windup.

Truman Polishes Plans

The report of a Dewey pre-inaugural appearance in western Europe was published by columnist John O'Donnell in the New York Daily News. He said it was being urged on Dewey advisers for its effect on Russia in the "battle of nerves."

Those commenting in Albany anonymously noted that the international situation in the next few months can't be foretold. They conceded some circumstances might arise to require a visit to Europe but indicated Dewey has no desire to go. They didn't wish to give "any weight at all to the report that he will go."

Mr. Truman polished up a whirlwind schedule for Saturday —four speeches on a flying trip to Pennsylvania. He will talk in Scranton, Wilkes-Barre and Johnstown, and make a major addres at Pittsburgh Saturday night. Then he will hustle back to

New Plan For Berlin Studied

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Oct. 20.—A new formula for settling the Berlin crisis was submitted to the big four powers tonight by the six "neutral" members of the United Nations Security Council.

Authoritative quarters said the new resolution appeared "eminiently satisfactory" to the western powers. Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky promised to send the draft to Moscow for study.

The resolution was reported to recommend that Russia lift the Berlin blockade within 48 hours after the Security Council approved the proposal. The western powers, on their side, were asked to agree to a meeting of the council of foreign ministers on Berlin and the whole German problem immediately after the blockade is lifted.

Control Plan Okayed

One neutral source said the framers of the proposal were hopeful of winning Soviet support by making the points recommendations and not submitting them as demands on the big powers.

This development followed a series of UN actions in which the western powers' plan for world atomic controls extending behind the iron curtain won overwhelming approval in the General Assembly's political committee.

Then Latin-American and Arab nations joined in forcing postponement of UN debate on Palestine. The Russian bloc charged it was a move to delay consideration until after the Nov. 2 presidential elections in the United States. Meanwhile fighting continued in Palestine despite a new Security Council order yesterday for a cease-fire.

Resolution Drawn

The day's top developments included:

1. The General Assembly's political committee voted 41 to 6 in favor of the western power plan for atomic controls. The negative votes were from the six-nation Soviet bloc. Ten abstained and one was absent.

2. By a vote of 39 to 6 the Soviet bloc lost a bitter battle for Russian proposals calling for simultaneous treaties banning the atom bomb and establishing international control. Seven abstained. The

Clay Arrives For Talks On Berlin

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—Gen. Lucius D. Clay arrived in Washington tonight for a round of conferences tomorrow with top government officials on latest developments in the Berlin blockade.

Accompanied by Robert D. Murphy, his political adviser, Clay landed at national airport where he was met by Army Undersecretary William H. Draper and Assistant Secretary Tracy Voorhees.

Smiling and courteous, Clay, however, was reluctant to discuss with newsmen the purpose or scope of his conferences in Washington. But he said he will meet with acting Secretary of State Lovett tomorrow.

Air Lift Is Praised

The U. S. military commander in Germany also disclosed that he plans to confer with Army Secretary Royall on "routine business" during his tight schedule tomorrow.

After he posed for five minutes for photographers, reporters sought to question him about vehicular restrictions in Berlin. Clay, however, said he knew nothing about them, adding:

"I only heard about it ten minutes ago."

Later, for the benefit of newsreel cameramen, Clay said that the Berlin air lift is working "better than we had any reason to expect."

He said the air lift will bring in sufficient food and fuel during

Negro Trusty, Sought In Slaying Of Woman, Believed Surrounded

ANGOLA, La., Oct. 20. (AP)—A negro trusty wanted for questioning in connection with the murder of a prison official's wife, was believed surrounded late today in a patch of woods on the grounds of the state penitentiary here.

Penitentiary Superintendent R. C. Lawrence said that bloodhounds had followed a trail to the woods.

The trusty, James Bruce, has been sought since the body of Mrs. John M. Spillman, wife of a prison camp captain, was found beaten and stabbed to death early today in a bedroom of her home on the penitentiary grounds.

30 Feared Dead In Dutch Plane Crash

(By The International News Service)

GLASGOW, Scotland, Oct. 21. (Thursday)—A New York-bound Royal Dutch Airlines Constellation crashed in flames near Prestwick airport early today and unofficial reports said 30 or more persons may have been killed.

There were only six known survivors, including one American.

(An airline spokesman said in Amsterdam that seven Americans were among the passengers.)

She was identified as Mrs. Matilda Rohs, a resident of New Jersey.

She was taken to Kilmarnock hospital suffering from "very severe" shock and burns.

Another survivor taken to Kilmarnock hospital was identified as the plane's Dutch stewardess, Elsie Fey.

The four other known survivors, all believed Dutch, were taken to Balochmyle hospital in a serious condition from shock and burns.

A spokesman for the airline (KLM) said that it was believed the passengers and crew totaled 36 or 37 persons.

Four Hundred Loyal Koreans Killed In Red-Backed Revolt

By FRANK EMERY
INS Staff Correspondent

SEOUL, Oct. 21. (Thursday) — Home Minister T. Y. Yun reported today that approximately 400 loyal members of the Korean constabulary were killed fighting rebels in American-occupied south Korea.

Three hundred of the constabulary men were believed killed in the battle at Sunchon and another 100 at Yosu. The number of rebel casualties was not known.

Yun announced that two groups of scattered rebel forces, which had been moving east toward Pusan and north toward Nomwan, had been stopped by the national army.

The home minister also said that one regiment of Korean army troops has been sent by rail and truck from Chongju to South Cholla, provincial capital of Kwangju, in case the rebels attempt a break-through in that area.

Yun said that reports from Sunchon indicated that about 2,500 Communists were active in the uprising and that they were joined by several hundred farmers and villagers.

The Korean official estimated that it would be one or two weeks before the revolt was fully crushed. He said the rebels were well armed with machine guns and rifles and ammunition stolen from a warehouse at Yosu during the early stages of the revolt.

Officers Believe Murdered

Yun also said that the constabulary rebels were believed to have murdered "scores" of their officers in order to carry out the first stage of the revolution.

Meantime there has been no report of any mass movements by

Loot Small In Robbery Here

By CHARLES STONE

A DARING hold-up man walked into Dink's cafe at 1962 Texas avenue about 9:15 o'clock last night, held four customers and three of the cafe's personnel at gunpoint and escaped on foot with from $80 to $100 in cash from the establishment's cash register.

Lubbock police officers early today were continuing a search for the suspect, who disappeared into the night almost as soon as he stepped from the door of the cafe. A description of the suspect was broadcast.

Just Walked In

Mrs. R. G. Webb, co-owner of the place with her husband and night operator of the cafe, gave the following account of the incident:

The man walked into the cafe and she, thinking he was another customer, took no particular notice of him at that time.

"I was cleaning the griddle," Mrs. Webb said, "when he walked over behind the cash register. I thought he wanted some cigarettes."

The man had just punched the "No Sale" key on the register as F. W. Dodson, one of four customers in a booth, started toward the counter to pay the check, police were informed.

Group Is Warned

Suddenly the hold-up man whipped out a gun and said, "All of you stand where you are, and we'll be through right quick," adding after a pause, "I don't want to have to hurt anyone, but I'm warning you you had better be quiet."

"He then took most of the loose change from the cash drawer, leaving a check and a few halves," Mrs. Webb said.

Everyone was very quiet, Mrs. Webb said, until the man left the cafe and disappeared on foot south on Texas avenue. The man was reported to have said as he left, "Don't anyone try to follow me if you want to stay healthy."

Description Is Given

"I thought it was a joke," Dodson told a Morning Avalanche reporter. "I started up to pay my check when this guy suddenly waved me back to the booth. He wasn't kidding."

Lauritz Melchior To Give Concert Here Tonight, Friday

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

"Young people are losing their fear of long-hair music," Lauritz Melchior, famed Metropolitan Opera tenor said here last night. "I notice that my audiences are filled with young people who are attentive and appreciative of my efforts to bring them representative opera and concert performances."

Lubbock Symphony Orchestra, directed by William A. Harrod, will accompany Melchior at concerts in Lubbock Senior high school auditorium tonight and Friday night. The program will begin at 8 o'clock each night.

Holders of season tickets are requested to attend the concert tonight, while Friday night's program will be open to single admissions.

Texas Audiences Praised

Melchior, who has appeared in three motion pictures and made numerous tours over the nation in the hope of increasing the American peoples' appreciation of classical presentations, feels that he is slowly moving toward his goal. He said:

"More than a hundred choir boys from a town near Corpus Christi came to hear my concert. They were the most enthusiastic group I have had in a long time. It made me feel very good. It is through the young people that our nation will grow in its love for fine music, fine singing, and the higher arts."

"I try to give my audiences

Cooler Weather Is Forecast For Area

Slightly cooler weather was forecast for Lubbock and the South Plains today following scattered showers over the area Wednesday afternoon. Heavy clouds hanging over the city gave some promise of continued moisture today, although no general rain was forecast.

Light showers hit Lubbock about noon Wednesday and fell over parts of the South Plains during the afternoon. The fall was not heavy.

Meanwhile, other sections of the state also reported rains, the Associated Press reported. Light showers fell over the San Angelo ranching area. Mineral Wells, Wichita Falls, Big Spring and Midland also reported light rains.

Israel Agrees To Obey UN Order

TEL AVIV, Oct. 20. (INS)—Israel today agreed to comply with the United Nations demand for a cease-fire in the Negev, but Jewish pilots bombed an Egyptian headquarters while waiting for a decision on the exact hour at which the shooting is to stop.

Israeli ground troops also pushed their offensive against Egyptian positions.

Israel Reported Complying

(The London Daily Herald and the Daily Graphic reported without confirmation that Israel had ordered troops in the Negev to cease-fire.

(The papers said it was expected that several days would elapse before the order became fully effective.)

The Egyptian headquarters was reported to have received a direct bomb hit. It was located in a police fortress atop the most strategic height in southern Palestine.

Arab Sounds Warning

The Israeli cabinet met to consider the hour at which the cease-fire is to take effect.

Cairo dispatches said Premier Nokrashy Pasha of Egypt also is willing to abide by the cease-fire order. They quoted him as saying it is up to UN mediator Ralph Bunche to fix the details.

Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary general of the Arab league, said in Cairo that Israel had used all its land, sea and air forces in a surprise blow at the Egyptian army but the maneuver had "failed."

He warned that if Isreali "aggressions" continue in the face of

Coke Takes Case To U. S. Senate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Former Texas Governor Coke Stevenson today formally requested a Senate committee to investigate the Democratic runoff primary election in which he lost the senatorial nomination to Rep. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex).

Sevenson renewed charges made previously in federal courts of fraud in the election returns of three Texas counties—Duval, Jim Wells and Zapata — and asked that the ballots in them be impounded immediately.

He made his complaint in a letter to Chairman Brooks (R-Ill) of the Senate Rules committee. He asked prompt action, saying that under Texas laws the ballots can be destroyed on or after Oct. 27, expiration of 60 days after the runoff.

Investigator Sent

The letter was turned over to Nelson B. Dertenian, chief counsel of the rules subcommittee on elections.

Derenian told a reporter that he got in touch late today with an investigator of the committee who was in Oklahoma City and direct-

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 20. — Miss Daina Ruth McElroy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. H. McElroy of Brownfield, was crowned queen of Brownfield's second annual Harvest Holiday and Merchants' Jubilee here tonight to climax a day-long program attended by more than 15,000 persons.

Miss McElroy, a student of Texas Tech, barely edged out Miss Jane Weir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weir, for the honor and an all-expense two-weeks trip to Mexico City.

Program Continues Today

Crowning of the queen was staged before a crowd of several thousand people tonight, on hand for the program staged as a preview to the Terry-Yoakum fair which opens Thursday and continues through Saturday.

The day's program, sponsored by the Brownfield Rotary club, attracted Brownfield's largest crowd as a colorful parade opened the day's activities at 11 a. m. Seven bands and more than two score floats appeared in the 20-block long parade.

The beautiful float entered by the Alpha and Omega Study club and the Portwood Motor company won first prize in the parade with Tudor Sales winning second place and the Brownfield Boy Scouts

College Building Amendment Is Ruled Valid By Appeals Court

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Oct. 20 — The $60,000,000 college building amendment adopted by Texas voters last year was declared valid today by the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

It was the second court decision affirming legality of the amendment, the first test having been made in 126th district court. Opponents of the amendment are expected to follow the routine legal procedure of asking the appeals court to rehear the case. If denied this motion, they may then appeal to the Supreme court.

The intermediate court rejected arguments that the amendment should be invalidated because notice of the election at which it was adopted was not published in six counties. Also turned down were charges that there were irregularities in notices published in other counties, and that more than one matter was dealt with in the amendment submitted to the voters.

The opposition to the amendment further claimed the ballot did not fully describe the scope

U. S. Denies Border Is Opened To Large Numbers Of Workers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—The Immigration service said today it has "not opened the border" to Mexican laborers who recently have been entering the United States to work on southwestern farms.

John P. Boyd, deputy commissioner of immigration, told a reporter that the Mexicans started the unauthorized crossings "in such numbers that we could not keep them out."

He said a large number had been rounded up after entry and since they were entitled to a hearing, had been paroled on this side of the border. Some actually discovered in the act of crossing the border, he said, have been sent back to Mexico.

"We are deporting these people as fast as we can," Boyd asserted. "Eventually, they will all be rounded up."

Boyd said the large-scale unauthorized entries developed after several thousand farm laborers had congregated in Mexico for regular clearance into the United States in line with an annual agreement for admitting such laborers to work the crops in the Southwest.

"However," Boyd said, "the Mexican government did not process these people as fast as they had them. Instead of sending about one-thousand laborers across the border each day, as expected, only about 75—far below the demand on this side—were being cleared.

"The workers got impatient and swarmed across the border, and we did not have the personnel to stop them, in view of the large numbers in which they came. We have never given any blanket authority for such entires."

Redistricting Group Pushes Campaign

Doyle Justice, Lubbock attorney has been named county chairman of the Texas Committee for Redistricting, according to an announcement by state chairman John Ben Shepperd.

Shepperd, Gladewater attorney and former national president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, heads the non-political committee organized to insure fair representation in the Texas Legislature for all counties through regular redistricting.

"Texas has not been redistricted in 27 years," Shepperd pointed out in announcing the local appointment. "The state constitution, however, directs that it shall be done every ten years by the legislature based on each new Federal census."

Failure of the legislature to redistrict following the 1930 and 1940 census has resulted in many counties with increased population being denied fair representation according to Shepperd. To correct this situation, the Texas Committee For Redistricting is enlisting popular support for passage of Amendment Two on the general election ballot November 2nd.

Amendment Two provides for a board of five to redistrict the state after every Federal census should the legislature fail to do so. This will protect the right of each county to representation according to population Shepperd declared.

Rites To Be Conducted For Tennessee Educator Today

SEWANNE, Tenn., Oct. 20. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Dr. Alexander F. Guerry, vice chancellor of the University of the South.

Dr. Guerry, 53, died of a heart attack yesterday afternoon in Knoxville. He was stricken while waiting for a train to return to Sewanne after a three-day visit in Knoxville to deliver a series of talks. He died in a hospital there.

INFLATED WATER

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)— Dale Maffit, Des Moines water works manager, admits that inflation has hit the cost of a drink. Once, he said, a nickel bought 2,667 eight-ounce glasses of water. Increased rates have upped the cost to five cents for only 2,000 glasses.

But Electricity is still cheap

Prices at the butcher's, the baker's and the candlestick maker's have all gone up... but the price of good electric service has come down.

Today with almost every other price much higher than it was a few years ago, the price of electric service is much lower. In fact, today you are receiving almost twice as much electric service for your dollar as you were a few years ago.

We've worked hard to keep the cost of good electric service low. Our costs have gone up, both our labor and material expenses are hitting all time highs. But through the determination to bring as many folks as possible the best electric service at the lowest possible cost, we've kept rates down in the area we serve.

In spite of today's high cost of living, you may still live better the low cost electric way—and enjoy the difference.

HEAR GOVERNOR WRIGHT

of MISSISSIPPI

SPEAKING IN THE DISTRICT COURT ROOM OF THE COUNTY COURT HOUSE 8:00 P. M.

Hon. Fielding Wright, the distinguished Democratic Governor of Mississippi, and candidate for Vice President on the States Right Ticket, will deliver a major campaign address in Lubbock next Friday night, October 22nd.

Gov. Wright Will Speak In Behalf of the Candidacy of

for President and Himself Vice-President

Governor Wright is one of the nation's most gifted orators. He was elected Governor in 1944 by a 3 to 1 majority--over a strong opponent.

PLANNING STAFF LEADER ASSAILS RED TACTICS

Top State Department Official Says Soviets Should Lift Berlin Blockade Or Let Others Write Peace

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (INS)—A ranking State department spokesman proposed tonight that Soviet Russia either lift its blockade of Berlin or "stand aside" while the great world majority undertakes to write a true peace.

George F. Kennan, director of the department's powerful planning staff, told The New York Herald Tribune forum:

"If these people remain stubbornly unwise, then we must persuade them in their own interest, to stand aside and permit the other peoples of the world to proceed at last with this business of the development of international association."

Obstructionist Tactics Hit

Kennan, who gained fame in 1947 as the "Mr. X" author of the official document which spelled out an American policy of patient, but firm containment in dealings with Russia, condemned Soviet obstructionist methods in the United Nations.

The UN, he said, is the world's greatest hope for enduring peace, without which international relations "can never be more than a flimsy and precarious respite from violence." He added:

"Let this be pondered by those who profess to reconcile a devotion to the cause of peace with the sealing off of international frontiers, the punishment of individuals for association with foreigners, and the fanning of international suspicions for the furtherance of selfish political aims."

Realized Test To UN

Kennan viewed the Berlin blockade as a symbol and mighty roadblock in the current struggle. He said the United States, Great Britain and France had no desire to throw such a critical issue in the lap of an unprepared United Nations.

"We were aware," he said, "that this would constitute a severe test of the organization, and one which we would have preferred to spare it.

"But we had no alternative other than to meet the threat of force with action in order to break the blockade of Berlin, or to do nothing at all and thus permit this threatening situation to develop in an ominous silence and uncertainty, conducive to every sort of alarmist speculation and hysteria . . .

"On the successful resolution of it (the Berlin problem) there hangs more than the removal of restrictions on the supply of a single city; there hangs the removal of one more great obstacle in the road to a world in which international organization can really function."

Kennan summed up the situation by insisting the present tug of war is no mere conflict between the United States and Russia, but rather:

"It is a conflict between the majority of the UN members, acting in support of the charter, and a group of governments who refuse to abide by its provisions or to recognize the overriding international obligation which the charter constitutes."

Mexican Huarache Question To Be Argued Before U.S. Court

LAREDO, Oct. 20 (AP) — The question "when is a huarache not a huarache?" will be argued here soon before a dignified court of the United States government.

It is one of about 150 cases to be heard by Judge William A Ekwall of New York at a term of the U. S. customs court which opened here yesterday.

As most women and some men know, a huarache is a Mexican slipper with its upper woven from leather straps. It is a grandson—or granddaughter—of an Indian sandal.

The question before the court, says Philip Stein of Los Angeles, a customs attorney, is whether all huaraches are included in a U.S.-Mexican agreement for their importation into this country at a low rate of duty, or whether improvements have removed some types from that class.

Owner Injured In Explosion At Mount Vernon Gas Station

MOUNT VERNON, Oct. 20. (AP)—A violent gas explosion at the Petty Brothers service station here late yesterday seriously injured A. J. Petty, one of the owners.

Three other men were blown through the door of the station, but were not injured.

Petty was blown from a storage room of the station into the front office. Fearing fire would follow he crawled out of the station onto the driveway. There was no fire after the first blast. The storage room was demolished.

ROCKET CAMERA PHOTOGRAPHS EARTH—At an altitude of about 57 miles, a sequence camera in an Aerobee rocket fired at White Sands Proving Grounds made this picture plainly showing the curvature of the earth and the ground haze around it. This is part of a strip on which a 1,400-mile area—from Wyoming to Mexico—was filmed. (AP Wirephoto from U.S. Navy).

MAN FALLS TO DEATH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (INS)—W. Marvin Smith, 53, a Justice department attorney, leaped or fell to his death from a fifth floor stairwell today in the department. His body landed in the ornate lobby of the building. He died immediately. Smith, a resident of nearby Chevy Chase, Md., was employed in the Solicitor General's office.

Oil Workers Re-Elect Most Officials In Mail Ballot

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20. (AP)—Officers of the Oil Workers international union have been re-elected by mail ballots of the members, it was announced today at the OWI headquarters in Fort Worth.

They are O. A. Knight, president; A. R. Kintsley, vice president, and T. M. McCormick, secretary treasurer. Kintsley won by a vote of two to one over E. Carl Mattern of Dallas. The other two had no opposition.

Six of the seven members of the international executive council were re-elected. The seventh present member, W. A. Ritchel of Richmond, Cal., was defeated by E. L. Stanfield of El Segundo, Cal. The six returned to office are W. A. Urban, Sinclair, Wyo.; T. F. Scarborough, Borger; L. L. Crane, Port Neches; B. T. Sargent, Eldorado, Kan.; George Carlson, Hammond, Ind., and Leo F. Brady, Rahway, N. J.

Forrest Tillman of Wichita Falls was elected vice council member for District 3, which includes North Texas, Arkansas, North Louisiana and New Mexico.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

"PEDESTRIANS should be seen not hurt!"

That modern proverb to save lives, especially after dark, is suggested by the Texas Highway patrol who places most of the responsibility for pedestrian safety on the pedestrian.

A pedestrian can see a car coming much sooner than the driver can see him and yet many people who walk are just sure motorists will see them and turn aside. That is taking entirely too much for granted.

This is especially true after dark and in the half-dark of twilight. And as winter comes on it's even worse. A pedestrian in dark clothing is just about as conspicious as a black cat in a dark alley.

Last year in Texas 447 pedestrians were killed in traffic accidents; approximately 62 per cent after dark.

FASHION NOTE— Because a suit's skirt tends to wear out faster than the jacket, an alternate skirt which can be ensembled with the jacket is good business. It will double the life of the suit. And speaking of skirts, lines for the business woman should be critically chosen. Reasons? Too straight a skirt is apt to cup in back after prolonged sitting at a desk. Too-full skirts spill over chair sides dragging hemlines on the floor, which means quicker soiling and more frequent trips to the cleaners. Moderately flared shirts, or those with some back fullness, are choices recommended.

SADIE HAWKINS DAY

SADIE Hawkins day, which was started a dozen years ago and is now firmly entrenched as a part of the American way of life, will be observed Nov. 13. To those who do not read the popular comic strip, "Li'l Abner," we'll explain that it all came about through untra-drastic measures taken by one Hekzebiah Hawkins, first mayor of Dogpatch, a man who had more power than Boulder Dam. He was determined to get a husband for his homely daughter and not only resorted to law to do it but wrote the law himself.

For 15 years all the eligible males had eluded Sadie's clutches until her pappy, in desperation, decreed that a foot race be held between all unwed men and maidens and that any man caught by a girl must marry her. Well Sadie showed a burst of speed like a P-84 and got her man—and Dogpatch got a new holiday.

NOW that simple legend wasn't confined to make believe Dogpatch for long. It began to be re-enacted in real life. College students, high school boys and girls, club members and even whole towns were holding Sadie Hawkins parties, dances and special days. Hours, days and even weeks are set aside when girls may lawfully get their men. The penalty for capture, however, is not so grim as Sadie herself enacted. Her prey had to marry her—ugh!

Since this is Leap Year, we've an idea that Sadie Hawkins parties will be popular here with the younger set during the week of November 13. The participants in those festivities have to do no more than consent to be a girl's escort to a party. And she, in turn, must pay all expences of entertainment.

Let us know when you are entertaining and we'll be delighted to write your story.

Today's Town Talk

The fruits of a summer of work and care can be seen in the flower filled beds of fall beauty in the front yard of Mrs. W. B. Yeager, 2609 Twenty-first.

Passing pedestrians pause to look at the colorful array of blossoms, and motorists circle the block to see if their fleeting glimpse of the bright scene was real or imaginary.

High evergreens form an emerald backdrop for tall yellow chrysanthemums and in successively shorter rows follow a cloud-like growth of white king or "dusty miller," a row of bright red salvia and a profusion of cushion mums in yellow, white, bronze and pink. Down the central walk and at each end of the house next to the porch are clusters of red, pink and orange Pollyanna roses, and a repetiton of the red, yellow and bronze cushion mums. In all of the beds full blooming red geraniums are scattered about casually for added color, and lining a hedge at the right side of the yard is a mixture of red salvia and yellow and orange lantanas.

Husbands of Lubbock Junior Welfare league members are not among the most ardent supporters of the league Follies. It seems that the masculine half of the families envolved have had to move into the realm of baby sitting.

One irate "papa" even went so far as to say that he might as well just quit his job, since his wife is rehearsing morning, noon and night.

But in spite of the family feuding they may induce, the Follies will be staged on schedule, Nov. 4-5, in the Lubbock High school auditorium, and tickets can be obtained from the league girls. (Anyone needing an expert baby sitter for those nights, might try contacting one of the Follies girl's husband. He might as well heat two baby bottles instead of one.)

California guests arriving in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pearson of San Gabiel. They are visiting Mrs. Pearson's mother, Mrs. K. Carter of 1410 Ave. L, and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Wheelock of 1912 Fifteenth. Coming to Lubbock for the week-end will be Mrs. Carter's other daughter, Mrs. D. G. Bowers, of Abilene.

Before leaving Texas, the Pearsons who are former Lubbock residents, will go to Amarillo where they will be guests of Mr. Pearson's sister, Mrs. Tom Fletcher, and Mrs. Pearson's brother, K. Carter, jr.

Mr. Pearson is manager of the Hollywood branch of the California bank and is an assistant vice president of the California bank system.

Gold dahlias and dubonnet candles, chosen colors of Miss Nan Bradbury, bride-elect, decorated the tea table at a kitchen shower given for her Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Rem A. Thomson and Mrs. P. T. Glazner in the Thomson home at 2513 Twenty-fourth.

Individual white cakes topped with wedding bells, nuts and coffee were served to the 30 guests who called.

Mrs. Clayton Carter and her daughter, Miss Charlotte Carter, gave a brunch in their home, 603 Thirteenth Wednesday morning.

Their guests were Mesdames Julian Fairly, David Weaver, Leonard Cowden, Owen Gilbreath, Dan Young, Jimmie Williams, Dave Alkire, W. T. Bradbury, and Misses Martha LaRoe, Panze Butler, Jo Rae Watson and Dorothy Brown.

Miss Bradbury's fiance is Guy Tribble of Lookout Mountain, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Anniversary Of OES Chapter Celebrated

Pat Boone night was observed by Lubbock chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Tuesday night at the Masonic hall and 47th anniversary of the organization was celebrated.

Mr. Boone of Littlefield is worthy grand patron of the Grand Chapter of Texas and Mrs. Boone is grand warder. They were presented with gifts by Mrs. Kirby Nutt on behalf of the chapter.

At a program that followed the stated meeting, Mrs. Rafe Nabors read the history of Lubbock chapter; Anita and Juanita Reynolds sang and officers gave a drill and sang "Happy Birthday."

Seventy-five members and visitors attended.

During a social hour, at which Mrs. Annie Potts was chairman, a huge birthday cake was served. The cake was baked in the shape of an open book and was elaborately decorated and flanked by white and pink net. On one side of the book was lettered "Lubbock chapter 47" and on the other "Welcome to Pat Boone."

Preceding the OES meeting, officers attended a dinner at the Chicken Village honoring the Littlefield couple.

Hallowe'en Party Is Planned By Sorority

Plans were made for a Hallowe'en party Tuesday Night, Oct. 26 at the home of Marjorie Golding, 1919 Broadway, when Nu Phi Mu sorority attended a called meeting Tuesday night at the home of Mary Burgess, 1002 Ave. X.

The party will be for active and inactive members of the sorority.

The first automobile imported into the United States was exhibited at the World's Fair in 1893.

Ladies Day Meeting Is Held At Club

Mrs. U. B. Chambers and Mrs. R. S. Prothro were hostesses at the Ladies Day luncheon at Lubbock Country club Wednesday. Afterwards, bridge was played by 28 women.

High and second high scores were made by Mrs. Lear Jones and Mrs. J. T. Price. The door prize was presented to Mrs. Leslie Mitchell of Crosbyton.

Guests not playing bridge spent the afternoon golfing.

Rummy Is Played At Party For Sorority

Old-fashioned lanterns substituted for a porch light and the Hallowe'en motif prevailed in other appointments at a rummy party given for Texas Alpha conclave of Kappa Kappa Iota Monday night at the home of Miss Margaret Bell and Mrs. Madge Berry, 1916 Tenth. Mrs. Pearl R. Metcalfe also was a hostess.

Guests were Mesdames F. N. Craven, J. Floyd Dunn, C. R. DeArmond, Mary K. Gulledge, Holt Holloway, J. L. Holt, D. M. Howell, Nina C. Lindley, E. Eric Ming, Fred D. Nelson, Warren Powers, Lattie Rankin, E. W. Reed, Wesley B. Smith, W. Don Smith, Mildred H. Taylor, A. J. Wallace, H. P. Watkins, Misses Winnie Hendrix, Lela Puryear and Lenora Nickels.

Appeals Court Upholds Life Term Given Houston Slayer

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (U.P.) — A life sentence for murder, assessed against Leon Hayes of Houston, was sustained today by the court of criminal appeals.

Hayes, charged with having shot and killed Lorenzo Tims on Aug. 23, 1947, at Houston, pleaded self-defense.

However, the state contended that Tims was slain as he attempted to flee for his life.

Hayes appealed on the ground that if he was "guilty of any offense, he would be guilty only of murder without malice or manslaughter." However, the appellate court, pointing out that under present Texas laws there are no degrees of murder, sustained the verdict of the trial court.

Testimony Will Continue Today

Dr. Olan Key, of the Plains Clinic staff, followed a parade of witnesses on the stand in Judge Blair's 72nd district court here yesterday testifying as did others, that in his opinion Mrs. C. D. (Sallye G.) Shaw was of sound mind during the time she was under treatment by him.

He was the last witness of the second day of trial of a suit filed by Dean Owen, son of Mrs. Shaw by a previous marriage, contesting her will disposing of property valued in official appraisal at more than $75,000. Mrs. Shaw died here last Feb. 19.

Case Is Reviewed

Questioned by Geo. W. Dupree, of the firm of Crenshaw, Dupree, Milam and Crenshaw, Dr. Key outlined with the aid of his office records the dates on which Mrs. Shaw received checkups on treatments from Oct., 1943, when he took over the case from Dr. Sam C. Arnett, who entered military service, until July, 1946. Most of them were calls made at his office, the doctor testified.

On cross-examination by W. W. Campbell, of the law firm of Campbell and Adams, who with Foster Windham of Carlsbad, is representing the contestant, Dr. Key said Mrs. Shaw was afflicted with hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, and that, in some cases, these maladies, along with a fractured lumbar vertabra which he had attributed in direct testimony to a fall, could affect an individual's mind.

To Continue Testimony

Dr. Key finished his testimony shortly after 5 o'clock, and Judge Blair recessed court until 9:15 o'clock this morning. There was no indication when the case would be finished.

Judge Blair said the case would go before the jury on special issues.

The suit was filed by Owen on behalf of his two children, grandchildren of Mrs. Shaw who were not mentioned in her will.

The original will was executed jointly by Mr. and Mrs. Shaw on Jan. 25, 1944, leaving the estate to the survivor, but was amended through a codicil dated May 22 of the same year, in which the survivor of the couple would have full use of the estate during his or her life time, then the residue was to be shared by three grandchildren. These were named as the two children of Mrs. Lemoine Dudley, daughter of both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, and Frank Kimbell, jr., son of a daughter of Mrs. Shaw by a previous marriage.

Taking of testimony was to be resumed this morning, but counsel for neither side of the case announced the number of remaining witnesses or the probable time required to finish testimony.

More than 100,000 Americans have visited France this year.

Italian Reds Apparently Hold Upper Hand Over Police Forces

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROME, Oct. 20.—This is a matter of setting the record straight, or at least balancing it up a little bit.

In July, after the shooting of Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti here, I wrote a piece on the basis of information available in New York saying that the Italian government had displayed great strength and apparently had the Communist situation well in hand.

Picture Has Changed

The Communists had staged a widespread but brief demonstration throughout Italy, police in Rome had given a display of power in quieting it, and it looked like Italy had an army and police force capable of handling the worst situations.

I'm not so sure now.

Competent and strategically placed observers here tell a different story.

Now it seems that the Communists held control of key points in northern Italy for 24 hours or more. The highly-touted carabinieri (mobile police) and other police were disarmed. Then the Communists backed off with a nose-thumbing gesture, as much as to say, "See, we can do as we wish, and we will yet—when we are ready."

The objective observers are inclined to agree with the Communists. The picture they paint is this:

Reds Are Powerful

The carabinieri and army run something less than 250,000 men as provided by the peace treaty. The army is in good shape, but the carabinieri are not, lacking leadership and unable to prevent the killing of several of their own men each month. Local police, something like 80,000 of them throughout the country, vary in effectiveness.

On the other hand are two million active Communists, including well organized armed units totaling 85,000 men, and five million more "voting" Communists.

Observers are quick to point to the trouble the Greek army is having with the small forces of General Markos as an example of what could happen here with 85,000 men acting as guerrillas and supported by millions of sympathizers.

These are matters which allied military experts must consider most dispassionately as they seek to prepare the defenses of western Europe. The question in case of war would be, how much can a country contribute to the general defense while still maintaining an upper hand over the Communists at home? In the case of Italy, Allied estimates are not optimistic.

Prominent Texans Among Group Fined For Killing Pheasants

WESSINGTON SPRINGS, S. D., Oct. 20. (AP)—Eighteen New Yorkers, Texans and Californians were fined $100 each here yesterday on charges of shooting hen pheasants. In addition, 15 shotguns were confiscated.

It is unlawful to shoot hen pheasants in South Dakota.

Roland Cutler, Jerauld county state's attorney, said the group included several men prominent in radio, oil and motion picture industries. He said the 18 were arrested by game wardens who found 42 hen pheasants in their possession.

Defendants were listed in Judge F. H. Levalley's court as including:

Mark Woods, New York, president of the American Broadcasting Co.; Glen H. McCarthy, Houston, Texas, oilman; William R. Howard, husband of screen star Dorothy Lamour; W. Howard Lee, Texas banker and rancher; Glen A. Perry, county judge of Harris county, Houston, Texas; one-time national trapshooting champion Thomas Lovett; Leif Henie, brother of Sonja Henie; Neal Pork, sheriff of Harris county, Texas; Linton Carney, who placed in the last Bendix air race, and his co-pilots James Rubel and R. L. Petcock, all employed by McCarthy to run his private planes; Texas oilmen W. R. Quattrocci, Greenwich, Conn., oil broker, and W. J. McCarthy (brother of Glen); and Richard M. Johnson and Mathew Green, McCarthy chauffeurs, and P. E. Turner, Houston lumberman.

Suspect In Poisoning Of Soldier To Be Given Mental Test

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Oct. 20. (INS)—A 19-year-old woman who said she fatally poisoned a Great Falls Air Base soldier in an effort "to keep him out of the guardhouse" was turned over to psychiatrists for examination today.

Facing a possible charge of murder was Mrs. Dannie Sue Hughett, 19, the estranged wife of another soldier at the Great Falls base, and mother of an eight-months-old baby.

Held as a material witness pending the outcome of the mental examination was Mrs. Elaine Johnston, 21, who shared an apartment in Great Falls with Mrs. Hughett.

Women Sign Statements

Authorities, meanwhile, were attempting to learn the source of the arsenic which caused the death of 19-year-old Cpl. Robert M. Burt, of San Marcos, Texas, in the base hospital yesterday.

Police said the two women signed statements giving this version of Burt's death.

The corporal came to their apartment Sunday night "very drunk" they said. Mrs. Hugnett explained that she wanted to give Burt something "to make him sick" so he would be taken to the hospital instead of to the guardhouse when he went back to the air base.

She admitted putting three teaspoons of arsenic, baking soda and rancid butter in a cup of coffee which Burt drank.

Before his death, Burt told hospital attendants he "knew something was wrong with the coffee" but he drank it because he trusted Mrs. Hughett. He said he planned to marry her after she had divorced her husband, Cpl. Paul T. Hughett.

Austin Home Is Purchased For Price Of $115,000

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—The Austin home of the late Albert Sydney Burleson, former postmaster general, has been bought by Dan Moody and James P. Nash for $115,000.

Nash said he and the former governor had acquired the downtown property as an investment.

They bought the historic house—built in 1864—from Burleson's daughters.

Youth Who Tossed Tomato At Sen. Ball Must Apologize

ALBERT LEA, Minn., Oct. 20. (INS)—The 16-year-old boy who tomatoed Sen. Joseph Ball and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey was ordered late today to write a letter of apology to the senator.

The tomato hurled by the farm youth, whose father reportedly is one of the staunchest Republicans in Albert Lea, hit the senator. Mrs. Dewey's dress was spattered.

Probate Judge Norris Anderson of Freeborn county district court, who handles juvenile cases, ordered the boy to write the letter "with the co-operation of his high school teacher."

The boy's father accompanied him to court. He told the judge the youth had been physically punished and promised that no such an occurrence would take place again. The boy agreed.

He said that he had gotten the idea from reading newspapers and just couldn't "resist."

The judge said:

"I feel sure the boy has learned his lesson. I did not sentence him but placed him on probation for a short time."

He also said that Sen. Ball's intervention in the case "had much to do" with his decision.

The senator told Sheriff Carl Lindahl that "boys will be boys" and "if possible, any formal charges against the boy should be dropped.

"If not, the court should be urged to extend full leniency."

ITALIAN GENERAL DIES

ROME, Oct. 20. (AP)—General of the Army Gaetano Zoppi, 98, Italy's oldest general, died today. He was the hero of the Italian stand at the Piave river after the disastrous defeat at Caporetto in the first World War.

Unwed Mother Gives Up Claims To Baby Abandoned In Austin

AUSTIN, Oct. 20 (AP) — A 21-year-old unwed mother has relinquished her claims to the red-haired baby boy she abandoned here Sunday.

She told Austin police last night she wanted her child put up for adoption because she could not take care of him.

The child was left in a car parked downtown Sunday morning. He was taken to Brackenridge hospital while police sought the mother. Police were flooded with requests from couples who wanted to adopt the child.

Yesterday the mother claimed the child, then decided it would be better for all concerned for her son to be adopted by a couple who could give him adequate care.

Try-Outs For Play To Be Given By Little Theater Group Set

Try-outs for roles in "Laura," a play to be given Dec. 6 by Lubbock Little Theater, will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight and Friday night in the district courtroom.

Anyone interested is invited to attend and read in trying out for a part, said a spokesman.

The play was adopted from a novel by Vera Caspari. A movie also was based on the novel.

A group representing the Lubbock Little Theater attended "Life with Father," presented in Amarillo by Amarillo Little Theater Thursday night.

Real Estate Dealers Reported Using Used Car Sales Methods

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP) — Boy, are things tightening up!

A Dallas residence builder said today that real estate dealers were adopting used-car dealer methods to sell new, hard-to-move homes in the higher price bracket.

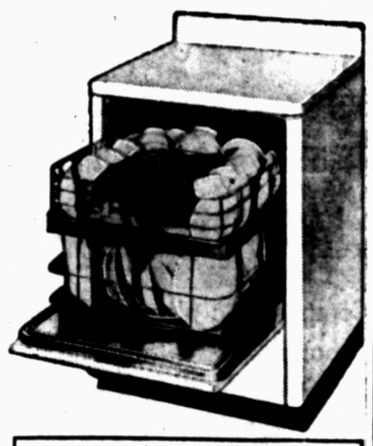

An unnamed builder, according to the Dallas Times-Herald, announced that he was taking in "used" homes as down payments on the newer models.

Giant Banking Firm Appeals To U. S. Court In Anti-Trust Action

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. — The giant Transamerica banking firm told U. S. district court in Washington today it faces "irreparable injury" because of the federal reserve board's attempted anti-trust action against it.

The bank-holding company says it is helpless to defend itself because the charges are "loose" and "general." It has appealed to the district court to force the board to furnish a bill of particulars.

Decision Expected Soon

Samuel B. Stewart, Transamerica lawyer, said the firm doesn't know whether the alleged anti-trust violations occurred recently or 20 years ago, or which of the company's 729 bank holdings they involve.

Federal Judge James W. Morris adjourned the court after today's arguments and indicated he would hand down a decision some time next week.

Lawyers for the reserve board contended that the court lacks jurisdiction at this stage of the proceedings. They said Transamerica would have recourse to the courts after the board's own hearings were completed.

Stewart declared that such an appeal might take "several years," and that meanwhile Transamerica would suffer "irreparable injury" through bad publicity and loss of prestige.

The board's anti-monopoly complaint against Transamerica was issued Oct. 4. Board hearings were interrupted by the firm's appeal to the court.

J. Leonard Townsend, associate general counsel for the reserve board, said today that hearings will be resumed immediately if the court rules in the board's favor.

Transamerica, with headquarters in San Francisco, is the world's largest bank-holding company, and is related to the west coast's huge Bank of America system.

The board seeks to prosecute under a never-before-used section of the Clayton anti-trust act, permitting anti-monopoly suits against banks and banking institutions.

Townsend said that the particulars of the charges would properly emerge in the course of the hearings, and that these could have been secret if Transamerica had not requested public testimony

Townsend also declared that the board is prepared to show that the holding company sought a "credit monopoly" by placing directors in a controlling number of the banks in California and other western states.

Georgia Police Save Negro From Lynching At Hands Of Own Race

SAVANAH, Ga., Oct. 20 (AP) — Police saved a negro last night from possible lynching by members of his own race after he had assaulted and robbed an elderly white druggist, Detective Chief John C. McCarthy reported.

McCarthy said the presence of a white detective, J. W. Walker, prevented a mob of angry negroes from harming the prisoner, identified as Frank Mack, 28, an ex-convict.

Mack had held up Dr. B. W Hardee, 71, white druggist, at the point of a knife, then slashed and beat him and fled, McCarthy said.

Several negroes saw Mack, the officer said, and gave pursuit. They were joined by policemen and after a lengthy chase Mack was caught by Walker and negro officer F. B. Mullino.

A mob of angry negroes quickly surrounded the officers and the prisoner, McCarthy related. He said the negroes begged the officers to turn Mack over to them.

"Let us have him," McCarthy quoted one negro. "When we get done with him he won't trouble you no more."

Three Children Die In Kansas City Fire

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20 (INS) — Three young children were killed today when fire destroyed their home on the outskirts of Kansas City.

Burned to death were Francis, 7, Karen, 6, and Larry Smith, 4.

The children's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, 26, saved Ralph, 1, by dropping him off the porch roof, eight feet from the ground.

The child was unharmed by the fall.

National Square Dance Fete Planned In Amarillo Oct. 22

The National Square Dance contest in Amarillo Oct. 22 will have as guests Dr. Lloyd Shaw and his Cheyenne Mountain dancers for the first night of the two-night affair.

Sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo, the National Square Dance contest, to be held this Friday and Saturday, will be attended by numerous Lubbock and South Plains square dancers. Scene of the contest is the sports arena on the Tri-State fairgrounds.

The Cheyenne Mountain dancers will stop off in Amarillo en route to the Mill Iron ranch, where they will appear on the night of October 23.

The national contest is divided into four categories. They are Adult-professional; Adult-amateur; Young People and Children.

Hockley Wildcat Well Completed

A pumping producer has been completed at Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 J. J. Alderson, et al, east-central Hockley county wildcat discovery from the Glorieta-Permian.

This development, located three miles northeast of the town of Smyer, two miles east of the west Smyer field, and more than one mile west of the original Smyer field, made a 24-hour pumping potential of 157 barrels of 26 gravity oil, plus two per cent water from pay between 4,825 feet and the total depth of 5,979 feet.

That interval had been treated with a total of 17,000 gallons of acid, by stages. Gas-oil ratio was 100-1, but there was not enough gas to flow the well consistently.

The 7-inch oil string is cemented at 4,818 feet.

The Ned producer is 440 feet from north and west lines of the Woodley lease in section 10, block A, R. M. Thompson survey.

Standard Oil company of Texas No. 1 Brown, in northwest Scurry county, nine miles northwest of Snyder, and 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H & TC survey, was bottomed at 6,043 feet in an unidentified sand, and was taking a drillstem test.

A core above the current total depth had shown some signs of possible oil and gas production.

Texas Tech Meat Judgers Place Twelfth In Kansas City

Texas Tech's meat judging team placed twelfth in the annual American Royal Livestock show contests at Kansas City, college officials were advised yesterday in a telegram from Ray C. Mowery, animal husbandry department staff member who is with the team.

By divisions in the contest, Tech's team placed tenth in beef judging, and eleventh in beef grading. Mowery's wire set out, adding that the contests were very close with only a few points separating the high and low teams.

Wisconsin took first place in the overall average. Others among the first five top teams were in order of finishing, Oklahoma, Michigan, Kansas, and Ohio.

Tech's meat judging team was composed of Woodrow Allen, Curtis Kemp, Robert Mendenhall, and Glenn Quattlebaum.

Lockney Favored To Continue Streak; Andrews Meets Monahans

Ralls Eleven To Test Longhorns

Undefeated Lockney appears to be in little danger of having its perfect record spoiled in District 3-A conference football competition Friday night, when all eight conference teams return to internecine warfare.

The Longhorns, sporting three consecutive conference victories, as well as two outside the loop wins and one tie, will have their defenses tested by a Ralls eleven that appears far too weak to threaten seriously, even at home.

In other conference tilts, Spur goes to Crosbyton, Matador visits Floydada and Paducah invades Abernathy, with only the first game having a strong bearing on the race.

Spur's Bulldogs, undefeated until they met Lockney last Friday night, should have the upperhand against Crosbyton's Chiefs. Coach Sam Hawks has brought his team along in fine shape and they have rallied from initial defeats to field a strong contender.

Chiefs Have Record

But the Chiefs have played the stiffer schedule and present a better record. On comparative scores, Crosbyton beat Paducan 14-0, while Spur beat that team 40-6. On the other hand, Lockney beat Spur 13-0, while beating the Chiefs only 13-6.

Crosbyton's record is four wins, one loss and one tie. They beat Hale Center 9-0, Tahoka 13-0, Paducah and Abernathy 14-7. Lockney tripped them and they tied O'Donnell 13-13.

Spur boasts only three wins and three losses. They lost to Haskell 26-6, to Post 13-7 and then beat Hamlin 28-6, Matador 40-0 and Paducah, before losing to Lockney.

The winner of the game might take over undisputed possession of second place and there is the possibility of a first place tie through victory.

Ralls Jackrabbits don't appear to have enough ammunition to stop Lockney. They have won only once, while losing four games. Post beat them 40-6, Levelland took them 32-0, Tahoka edged them 19-6 and Floydada whipped them 39-6. Their one victory is over Matador 13-0.

Coach Curtis Kelley's Steers need four more victories to clinch the crown and only two of their four games appear to be dangerous. This shouldn't be one of them.

Whirlwinds Favored

Floydada's Whirlwinds should breeze past Matador's Matadors with little trouble. The Whirlwinds have won only two games but the lone comparative score indicates a romp. Floydada swamped Ralls 39-6, while Ralls licked Matador 13-0.

Floydada lost games to Slaton, 21-12; Tulia, 19-12; and Phillips, 31-6. They beat Ralls, followed with a 20-6 victory over Abernathy and last week were nosed out 20-19 by the defending champions, Paducah.

Matador has only one victory. They lost to Turkey 19-0; beat Estelline 19-13, and lost successive games to Amarillo B 39-6, Spur 40-0 and Ralls 13-0.

The Paducah-Abernathy tilt should be a good one, with a slight edge to the defending conference Dragons. It's a slight edge only, with Abernathy in the developing stage. The Antelopes have shown a better defense and an improving offense, while Paducah has shown a weak defense and only a fair offense.

Only two games can be used for comparative analysis, with Paducah edging Floydada 20-19 and Floydada beating Abernathy 20-6. But Crosbyton beat Paducah 14-0 while beating Abernathy only 14-7.

The Dragons should win, but it wouldn't be an upset if the Antelopes won.

Fans Not Reserving Seats On Plane To Arizona-Tech Game

Plans for a special charter plane to the Texas Tech-Arizona football game in Tucson, Ariz., Saturday night apparently are falling through.

Ridgely Mills, Continental Airlines agent, said yesterday that not one passenger had bought a ticket on the plane yet. Mills went on to say that it would be impossible to hold the charter indefinitely.

If Lubbock followers of the Red Raiders wish to make the trip by special plane, they should contact Mills not later than Friday noon. The round trip fare, cheaper than straight air travel, will be $72.

Niemi Is Named Lineman Of Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (AP) — Lauri Niemi, Washington State college tackle, is this week's collegiate football lineman of the week.

He was selected on the basis of his sterling performance in State's upset victory over the University of Washington. He received the most votes of the 35 players nominated in the Associated Press poll. The list includes six Southwest Conference stars.

Niemi played the full 60 minutes against Washington and was in the middle of every defensive play as State stopped Washington's running attack. On offense much of State's 224 yards were made through holes opened by Niemi.

In the Southwest Dick Harris, Texas center, earned high praise. He spearheaded a hard charging line which limited Clyde Scott of Arkansas to 47 yards in nine tries.

The linemen nominated this week:

Tackles — Niemi, Washington State; Clark, Cornell; Wistert, Michigan; White, Stanford; Hutchinson, Chattanooga; Szafaryn, North Carolina; Ethridge, Southern Methodist; Tinsley, Baylor; Adams, Utah; Kosich, Wyoming.

Guards — Fiacco, Syracuse; Healy, Georgia Tech; Flynn, Miami (Fla.); Watts, North Carolina State; Wilkins, Michigan; Banks, Iowa; Brown, Texas Christian; Wardle, North Carolina; Dodrill, Colorado A & M; Yates, Denver; Davis, Miami (Fla.).

Centers—Lininger, Ohio State; Polce, Indiana; Erben, Michigan; Bednarik, Pennsylvania; Sarkisian, Northwestern; Harris, Texas; Watson, Rice; Dworsky, Michigan.

Ends — Rifenburg, Michigan; Stonesifer, Northwestern; Wimberly, Louisiana State; Huey, Michigan State; Copeland, Texas Aggies; Abshire, Colorado A&M.

Stable Blaze Leads To Plea For Smoking Ban

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (INS)—Fire and humane officials today called for a law prohibiting smoking in race track stables, following a $115,000 fire that killed 25 thoroughbreds at Chicago's Hawthorne track.

Although the cause of the blaze last night has not been definitely decided, Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan of Chicago declared there should be a law against smoking in horse barns.

"Sooner or later," Corrigan stated, "the law of averages is bound to catch up."

Of the 25 horses that died, all but one perished in the flames that swept barn no. 8 of the Hawthorne establishment on Chicago's west side. The 25th thoroughbred was burned so badly he had to be destroyed.

Many of the horses that died met their fate by bolting panic-stricken back into the burning barns from which they had been led by grooms.

Among the thoroughbreds lost was Cherry Trifle, a consistent winner at Chicago tracks.

The disaster bore a parallel to the fire at Arlington park on May 1, 1946, in which 23 thoroughbreds and two lead ponies, all belonging to Elizabeth Arden's Maine Chance Farm, were killed.

ARIZONA END—Bob Larsen, nimble left winger for the Wildcats, is one of the men that Texas Tech will see a lot of Saturday night at Tucson. Larsen is a junior at Arizona university and last year caught 17 passes good for 247 yards, including three scoring passes. This year he stands seventh with 15 passes caught for 194 yards. He also is a good defensive end, using his even six foot frame and 185 pounds to good advantage.

LARSEN GREAT OFFENSIVE END

Three Players Highlight Arizona Eleven; Tech Is Rated Favorite

While Texas Tech continues to go through offensive and defensive drills in preparation for the second Border Conference game Saturday night in Tuscon, Ariz., now is a good time to look at the Wildcat forces they oppose in Arizona Stadium.

Three Arizona players highlight the eleven, and are the men Coach Mike Casteel, in his eighth year at the helm, is depending upon this season. Charley Hall, fullback, already has turned in brilliant performances. Harry Varner of El Paso, left tackle, has been a tower of strength. And Bob Larsen, left end, a great offensive and defensive man.

Hall was a bruising, line-smashing fullback last year who teamed with Fred Enke, Jr., to give the Wildcats a powerful offensive. This year, without Enke, Hall hasn't been quite so effective, but he still has packed a lot of power.

The 190-pounder at present ranks third in the nation for kick-off returns in four games, running back seven kickoffs for a total of 225 yards. This is nine yards more than Charley Reynolds of Tech has accomplished on the same number of efforts to rank fifth. It is a good indication of Hall's ability.

Larsen Ranks Seventh

Larsen at end has been turning in brilliant performances, both offensively and defensively. He ranks seventh in the nation of pass reception, taking 15 aerials for 194 yards. Last year he caught Enke's heaves 17 times for 247 yards, including three scores. He remains as potent a threat this year and, should he catch two passes Saturday and make them good for 54 yards, he will have surpassed the 1947 mark.

Varner is a rough customer, even on an off-day. He made the second All-Conference team last season and in this, his junior, year he is giving no indication of getting worse. Rather, he has been turning in fine jobs consistently. He is a fast man for all his 212-pounds and backs up the line on defense as well as he runs offense as a blocker.

Arizona's biggest loss last year was Enke, who now is a top performer with the Detroit Lions. In addition, they lost Guards Fred Knez and Verne Wuertz, Center Donald Corbitt, Tackle Roy Pizula and Backs Shanty Hogan, William Lovin and Jack Rubel.

But Casteel has come up with good replacements, not as potentially strong as last year's eleven, but still strong threats. Their two losses, to Utah 48-14 and Michigan State 61-7, are offset by victories over San Diego State and Hardin-Simmons.

The Wildcats promise to give Tech a rough night, even though the Red Raiders are heavy favorites.

Westerners Stress Offensive Drills

Offensive drills again held the spotlight at Chapman field Wednesday afternoon, as Head Coach Pat Pattison sent the Lubbock High Westerner gridders through their second rough scrimmage session.

Following the pattern of previous workouts this week, two groups of players alternated on the offensive and defensive lineups, with play assignments, blocking and timing receiving special attention from the mentors. Most of the Westerner backs were given an opportunity to perform with the offensive and the results of the session were considered "satisfactory."

Only one squadman, Center Wendell Gailey, is still sidelined by an inury, and officials believe that the squad will be at top shape by the end of the week—barring additional accidents or illness.

The rough drills will continue through Friday, officials announced, with a light "limbering up" session scheduled Saturday. Hard work will be resumed Monday afternoon in preparation for the clash with Amarillo's powerful Golden Sandies here Oct. 29.

HARDSCRABBLE WINNERS

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 20 (AP) — Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Didrickson Zaharias and Mary Agnes Walls, Menominee, Wisc., each fired a 73, two over men's par, to wind up as co-medalists in the qualifying rounds of the Hardscrabble Country Club Women's Golf Tournament here today.

Lobos Favored In District 5-A Tilt

Seven conference games and three non-title clashes will hold the grid spotlight in Districts 4-A and 5-A this weekend, with the crucial tussle between the powerful Monahans Lobos and the dangerous Andrews Mustangs at 8 o'clock Friday night at Hamilton field in Andrews holding special interest.

The Monahans eleven, undefeated and untied in five games this season, is rated as a top favorite in the 5-A circuit and has even been ranked by many West Texas mentors and sports writers as a strong contender for the state Class A championship. Andrews has been marked as a title threat since early season and, despite a loss to Kermit last week, is still expected to give the Lobos one of their two roughest battles within the district.

Monahans' Coach F. O. Scroggins, who guided the Lobos to a regional championship in 1946, Wednesday night confirmed reports of serious injuries to key players.

Three Regulars Out

"At least three regulars will miss the game against Andrews," Scroggins reported, "and two of the boys will be out for the rest of the season." Injured are Ben Parish, regular right end, Tackle Howard Greenlee and Right Half Charles Robinson. Robinson's leg is broken and he will definitely be out of action for the remainder of the schedule.

"Several of the other boys are ill," Scroggins said. "We just started with a squad of 24 players, and the injuries and illness during the last two weeks have dropped us to 17 at the present time. We still have some good players, but our reserve strength is gone."

In other 5-A games Denver City's Mustangs will play host to Fort Stockton, Pecos will journey to Crane for a non-conference tilt and McCamey will travel to Wink. Saturday Seminole will battle Kermit in a title clash.

Sundown Meets Muleshoe

Two conference tussles will be unreeled Friday night in the north half of 4-A, with Sundown's Roughnecks invading Muleshoe and Morton tangling with the Hornets at Sudan. Sundown, although practically eliminated from the loop race, will be battling for a spot in the "top bracket" of the circuit.

In south 4-A one conference and two non-title battles are slated. Slaton will go to Seagraves for a loop setto that will have little effect on the district race, while Tahoka is host to Farwell and O'Donnell takes on Whiteface of District 4-B.

Double Bill Set At Chapman Field

Lubbock Juniors In Loop Tilts Tonight

Four conference tilts will be unreeled tonight in the South Plains Junior High football league, with the three Lubbock teams battling in a "double bill" here under the lights at Chapman field.

The powerful Carroll Thompson Cowboys, who took over the league lead with a victory over the O. L. Slaton Redskins last week, will tangle with the Lamesa juniors in the first setto at 7 o'clock. The Cowboys, paced by the running and passing of Fullback Don Jones and Halfback Charles Hodges, can clinch the area junior grid championship by winning the remainder of their circuit games. The Thompson crew, coached by Finis Vaughn, is undefeated and untied in four games and has had only one touchdown scored against them.

Lamesa Shows Improvement

Lamesa's juniors have shown steady improvement, following a slow start, and have won two tilts while losing three decisions this season.

Probably the most interesting tilt, at least for Hub city fans, will be the O. L. Slaton-J. T Hutchinson setto in the second game at 8:30 o'clock. O. L. Slaton's Redskins were undefeated until last week's loss by the Thompson Cowboys, and are still rated as a strong title threat. Hutchinson's Rangers, although outmanned by both of their city rivals, have chalked up several impressive wins in competition this season and will be shooting for one of the major upsets of the circuit.

The Redskins, coached by Bennie McWilliams, feature a dangerous T-formation and single wing attack built around a quartet of outstanding backs. Handling the quarterback chores in the "T" is Charles Brewer, a deft-ball-handler and capable passer, while big Duane Rampy and Johnny Tatum pick up most of the yardage on the ground. Guard Bob Newell paces a steady forward wall.

Heading the Hutchinson Ranger assault will be stocky Billy Presley, triple-threat fullback on Coach Howard Price's single wing. Presley has kept the Rangers in the league race with his jarring line smashes and long aerials, as well as turning in an outstanding punting job. He is aided in the secondary by halfbacks Don Stephenson and Jerry Rooker.

In other league games improving Seminole will invade Littlefield and Brownfield will journey to Levelland. Seminole has surged back toward the top in recent weeks, after an early season lapse, and will be favored to defeat the junior Wildcats. Levelland is making a strong bid for a "first division" spot and will have a definite edge over the Brownfield gridders.

STEER PASSING IS BETTER

AUSTIN, Oct. 20 (AP)—Longhorn passing was reported to have taken a turn for the better today as the University of Texas polished off its coming attack against Rice on Saturday.

Mobley, Trout Win Tag Match

A rough, rugged team of Rex Mobley and Dick Trout last night won two out of three falls from another pair of pluguglies, Rod Fenton and Benny Trudell, in the featured Australian tag team wrestling match at Sled Allen's arena.

Trudell tossed Mobley in 16 minutes for the first fall, using an arm stomp and body smother. But Trout came back to pin Trudell in eight minutes of the second canto, using a rocking chair split to put the grapplers even.

All Four In Ring

In the final fall, all four wrestlers were in the ring at the same time and Referee Olan Boynton first counted out Trout, who was pinned by Fenton, before realizing that they both should have been behind the ropes. Finally he tapped Mobley as the winner over Trudell after four minutes of wrestling.

Spectators called the teatured Australian tag team match one of the best ever shown at the local arena and there is suspicion that the same men will be paired again soon. Fenton and Trudell claimed they were robbed by Boynton and probably will demand another chance.

Jack Steele Wins

In the opener, two of three falls, Jack Steele held the upperhand over Boynton, who doubled last night.

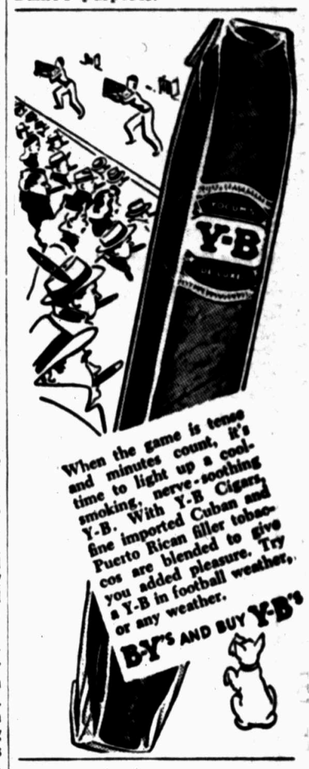

Steele won the first fall with a double toehold, consuming 10 minutes before the match ended. Boynton came back to grab the second in seven minutes with a reverse crab and Steele took the deciding go with a knee stomp and body smother, taking only four minutes to turn the trick.

Irish-Columbia Game Hits Snag

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (INS) — It is probable that only a technicality stands today between Notre Dame football and its re-entry into the New York Area, by way of a proposed liaison with Columbia university.

But the impediment is one that might affect future negotiations between this collegiate pair, as well as those with Pennsylvania.

Briefly, it's an Ivy League requirement which prevents members from scheduling so called "outside" games until after the league's mid-winter meeting—quite possibly too late for Notre Dame's purposes.

When the game is tense and minutes count, it's time to light up a cool-smoking, nerve-soothing Y-B. With Y-B Cigars, fine imported Cuban and Puerto Rican filler tobaccos are blended to give you added pleasure. Try a Y-B in football weather, or any weather.

Wide Open Race In Pass-Catching

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (AP)—The race for pass-catching honors among collegiate grid stars of the nation, a wide open affair this season, finds a new man out in front today for the fourth time in as many weeks.

He is Johnny O'Quinn of Wake Forest, who caught five forward passes for 117 yards and one touchdown against Duquesne last Saturday.

That ran his total to 20 catches in five games and sent him to the top of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau's weekly standings where he replaced Tennessee's Jim Powell, who was shut out by Alabama.

Not only does O'Quinn top the nation in the number of passes caught, the figure on which the NCAB bases the standings in that department, but he also leads in total gains on forwards with 254 yards.

The leading scorer among the pass-grabbers, however, is Hal Paul of Miami (Ohio) university. Although he has caught only eight passes, four of them have been for touchdowns.

Bill Olson of Columbia is the nation's standout at hauling down opponents' passes.

ELMER TARBOX of TEXAS TECH holds the college record for interceptions in one season with 11, set in 1938. Since then, no one has snatched more than nine.

The ten leaders in each department:

Pass receiving—O'Quinn, Wake Forest, 20 caught for 254 yards; Powell, Tennessee, 18 for 280; Beasley, Nevada, 16 for 210; Bailey, Texas Christian, 16 for 196; Ruppe, Oregon State, 16 for 170; Sperry, Kansas, 15 for 217; Larsen, Arizona, 15 for 194; Ford, Tulsa, 15 for 177; Cheek Davidson, 15 for 133; Lukens, Washington and Lee, 14 for 176.

Punting — Stombaugh, Furman 45.4 yards average; Boston, Montana State, 43.7; Gilley, Virginia Tech, 43; Haynes, Santa Clara, 42.6; Hutchinson, VMI, 42.5; Eddleman, Illinois, 42.3; Justice, North Carolina, 42.3; Michels, Virginia, 42.1; Jackson, Yale, 42; Reder, Holy Cross, 41.9; Melka, Marquette, 41.8.

Punt runbacks—Nalley, Vanderbilt, 20 punts returned for 340 yards; Doherty, Villanova, 16 for 271; Sims, Baylor, 9 for 262; Littleford, Tennessee, 16 for 253; Pryor, Rutgers, 9 for 226; Mitchell, Oklahoma, 13 for 216; Justice, North Carolina, 11 for 207; Vinson, Army, 11 for 185; Folsom, Colorado A. and M., 18 for 176; Braedus, Florida, 3 for 176.

Kickoff runbacks—Gregus, Wake Forest, 14 kickoffs returned for 311 yards; Freeman, Portland, 13 for 283; Hall, Arizona, 7 for 229; Egler, Colgate, 6 for 216; REYNOLDS, TEXAS TECH, 7 for 214; Goode, Texas A. and M., 6 for 210; Johnson, UCLA, 7 for 209; White, Tempe (Ariz.) State, 6 for 201; Davis, George Washington, 9 for 199; Hiller, Marquette, 7 for 188.

Bruin Hockey Squad Beats Hawks, 8 To 3

BOSTON, Oct. 20. (INS)—The Boston Bruins opened their 25th home season in the National Hockey league tonight by scoring an 8 to 3 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks.

A capacity crowd of 13,009 at Boston Garden saw the younger element of the Bruins squad lead the club to its second straight victory of the young season.

Eddie Sandford led the attack with three goals and an assist for the B's, and Grant Warwick counted the first and last goals of the evening.

Roy Conacher scored twice for the Hawks and Doug Bentley had two assists and a goal for the losing cause.

We met with disaster in our schoolboy grid predictions last week, chalking up an average of 73 per cent that was far below the standard set during the previous two weeks. But a number of surprising results in the Class AA ranks, combined with the usual Class A upsets, gave us a rude shock. You just can't depend on most of these ball clubs this year. They look like a milion one week, then couldn't beat Podunk Center the next. (Our apologies to Podunk Center). But this weekend's slate includes some so-called "easy" games, so maybe we can pad the old average a bit.

Madison Square Garden Backs Jacobs' 20th Century Club

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP) — Powerful Madison Square Garden threw its corporate strength squarely behind Mike Jacobs today in the latter's gathering struggle to retain his boxing monopoly against the challenge of the Tournament of Champions.

Ned Irish, Garden vice president, told a luncheon gathering that Jacobs' 20th Century Club would be backed in its battle against any opposition "to the limit of the garden's resources—which are considerable."

Santa Clara Faces Most Accurate Passer

DALLAS, Oct. 20. (AP)—Santa Clara will face the most accurate passer in college football when it meets Southern Methodist here Saturday night in one of the nation's top intersectional games.

Gil Johnson of Tyler has completed 33 passes out of 44 attempts for an average of .750. And broken down further it reveals these startling statistics:

Johnson has played 48 minutes in four games and passed for seven touchdowns, thus he averages almost a point a minute.

He also has rolled up 574 yards with his tosses, so that's almost 12 yards per minute. And it's better than 17 yards per toss.

Veteran observers in the southwest are calling him the most accurate passer this area, noted for its passers, has ever known—even better than Sammy Baugh, the old master; Davey O'Brien; and Bobby Layne.

Listen to Joel Hunt, former Texas A and M great and a college coach for 20 years:

"In all my time in football I've never seen a quicker arm than Johnson's."

Baylor Ex's To See Aggie Tilt

WACO, Oct. 20 (AP) — They'll roll back football 38 years here Saturday when Baylor plays Texas A. and M.

One of Baylor's greatest teams—the 1910 outfit—will sit behind the Baylor bench. There were 18 men on that squad and 13 of them will be present for the reunion.

Remarkable is the fact that all 18 still are alive although the Baylor Ex-Students Association has been unable to contact two of them——O. J. Barron of El Paso and Virgil Cochran, whose whereabouts are unknown.

The two coaches of that team—Enoch Mills, a Colorado university graduate, and Ralph Blaze of Dartmouth—are dead.

The following members of the 1910 squad have advised the Ex-Students Association they will be present:

O. M. Harrell, Hillsboro; H. G. Isbill, McGregor; John M. Fouts, Dallas; E. T. Adams, Glen Rose; C. M. Henry, Dallas; C. P. Mosley, Jacksonville; L. C. (Pat) Newman, Dallas; R. L. Hefley, Crist; Col. Neil S. Edmonds, Oklahoma City; W. A. (Jack) Tittle, Dallas; T. P. Robinson, El Dorado; Horace Murphy, Ballinger; V. D Slaughter, Sherman.

Ernest Wilie of San Leandro, Calif., and R. W. Leazer of Sedalia, Mo., will be unable to be here.

Robinson, one of Baylor's gridiron immortals, was the captain of that team. Mosley was head coach at Baylor from 1915 to 1920. Adams is a Rhodes scholar. Harrell played big league baseball for several years. Isbill has been principal of McGregor high school for 20 years and has not missed a home Baylor football game for 41 years—since 1907.

The Baylor Chamber of Commerce and the board of governors of the Ex-Students Association will honor the men with a breakfast and luncheon. They also will ride in the traditional pre-game homecoming parade.

The team rolled up 217 points to 17 for the opposition in nine games but did not win the championship because of walking off the field in protest of a referee's decision in the game with Texas Nov. 5, 1910. The score was tied 6-6 at the time. Texas received a forfeit.

Baylor tied Daniel Baker 0-0, beat Austin college 31-0, the Haskell Indians 52-3, Texas Christian 52-0, Fort Worth Polytechnic 39-0, Texas Christian again 10-3 and Southwestern 27-5.

Stuhldreher Has 'No Intention' Of Reclaiming As Badger Coach

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20 (INS)—Harry Stuhldreher, embattled football coach at the University of Wisconsin, said today he has "no intention" of resigning either as coach or director of athletics.

Stuhldreher received an assist from student leaders, who asked the Wisconsin student body not to hold an advisory referendum on the question of whether the coach should be ousted.

Old Grads Put Pressure On Colleges

Coaches Are Victims Of Athletic 'System'

By PAT ROBINSON
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—It's a sad commentary on American sportsmanship when the president of a great university feels impelled to make a public apology for the poor sportsmanship of his own students.

We have in mind the recent incident at Wisconsin where some of the students carried signs reading "Good-Bye, Harry." (Meaning Stuhldreher, the coach.)

It long has been the custom to blame the hypocrisy of college authorities, or the double-dealing of the coaches for the evils that crop up in college football.

There is no doubt that here and there one can find a proselyting coach or a college president who overlooks the actions of his underlings in the interest of a winning team and the mortgage on a huge stadium.

But in the main these men are victims of the system.

Responsibility for the system with its "token" students and paid athletes should be laid at the door of the perennial sophomore.

The perennial sophomore is the hombre who demands that his alma mater have a winning team at any cost. Ethics mean nothing to him. All he wants is results on the football field.

Usually he is a bird who hasn't now, and never had, the strength to carry a football from one end of the gridiron to the other without spraining his back.

He often is a gent with more money than horse sense.

He's Willing To Spend

He is willing to lay out his dough to get a winning football team. He is the one who is willing to finance a hard-running fullback. He is the one who is ready to kick in with money to get a coach who can "attract" the "right" sort of football material.

Character building is a joke to him. Give his college a winning football team and the other college can boast about its scholastic achievements.

Left to his own devices, the average college boy is a pretty sound individual with the ability to think clearly for himself.

But he often is misled by the preachings of these perennial sophomores. And it matters not that he sees the old grad make a complete fool of himself at football games and reunions.

The coaches fear him more than they fear a flock of injuries to their squads. Any honest coach will tell you off the record that he wouldn't have a care in the world if he could get the old grads off his neck.

Miners To Meet Lobos Saturday

EL PASO, Oct. 20. (Special)—The pressure is on this week for the undefeated Texas Miners as they open a stretch of five Border Conference games against the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque Saturday.

"They're tough," was the sentiment of Coach Jack Curtice after watching the Lobos push the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys all over the field only to fall victim to a couple of bad breaks which spelled defeat for the New Mexico eleven.

In spite of the fact that the Miners have won four straight games, the tilt with New Mexico is forecast as a toss-up. The result will provide an important clue in the conference race, which at present finds the Orediggers with one victory, and the Lobos with one win and a single defeat.

"So goes Wendt, so goes the Miners," was never truer than last Friday night when Flyin' Freddie ripped through and around the Brigham Young Cougas for 180 yards and 28 points. The blond speedster has compiled an amazing 628 yards rushing in 59 times.

Biggest task facing the Oremen when they invade Albuquerque will be stopping the bruising line smashes of big Rudy Krall, who ripped the Hardin-Simmons line with ease. Coach Curtice will rely on his two all-conference linesmen — Raymond (Sugar) Evans and Ernest Keily—and a pair of rugged line-backers, Wayne Hanson and Andy Everest, for a lions share of the defensive work.

Good fortune continued to smile on the Miners as the squad remained entirely free of injuries. As a result, Curtice will send the same eleven on the field for the opening kick-off as in past games.

Winners Named In Golf Meet

Scheduled team play between women golfers of the Lubbock Country club and the Plainview club was cancelled Wednesday, Pro Herb Schroeder reported, but the two groups competed in regular "low net" and "low putts" competition.

Winners in the 18-hole flight of the Plainview division were Mrs. Vick Williams and Mrs. Buck Lindsey, Schroeder said, while Mrs. Bill Barker and Mrs. Gene Mitchell took top honors in the nine-hole flight.

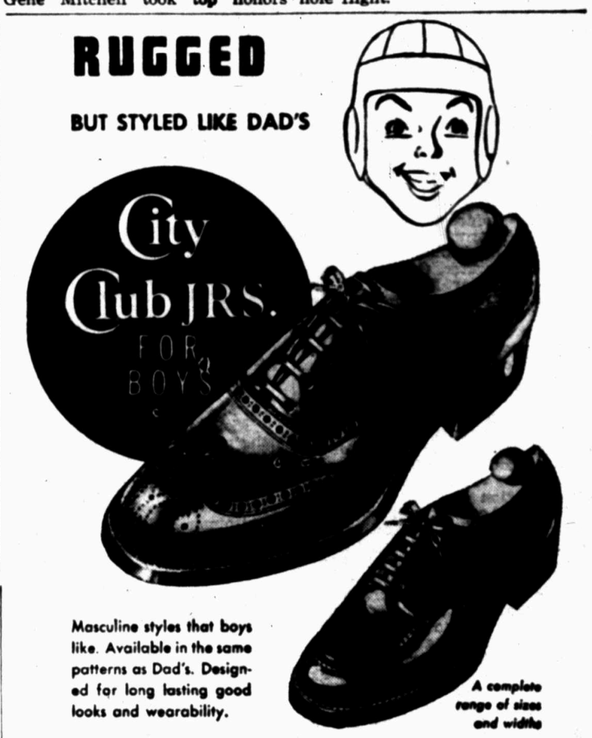

Lone Star Club Manager Buys Henderson Baseball Franchise

HENDERSON, Oct. 20 (AP) — W. R. (Bob) White, business manager of the Beaumont club of the Texas League in 1946 and 1947 and general manager of the Longview Texans of the Lone-Star league the past season, today announced he had purchased the Henderson franchise.

He bought the club from Homer Bryce and Maurice Hinson.

Lubbock winners were Mrs. Guy McAfee and Mrs. George Soash in the 18-hole flight, and Mrs. E. M. Hennersdorf and Mrs. C. O. Campbell in the nine-hole flight.

third place winner.

In addition to the first two winners, Miss Frances Rambo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earvin Rambo, sponsored by Tudor Sales, was third place winner in the queen contest.

Sheppard Is Speaker

Others in the queen contest were: Miss Cynthia Ann Black, daughter of Mrs. Irene Black, sponsored by the Sub Debs; and Miss Nelda Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. (Bob) Brown, sponsored by Brownfield theaters.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks, operators of the Brownfield theaters, will be host to the queen on her trip to Mexico City.

Although the parade was run off as scheduled, light showers interrupted a brief program following it, but by mid-afternoon the sun was out again and the streets around the courthouse square packed with visitors.

Highlighting the afternoon session were addresses by John Ben Sheppard, former national Junior Chamber of Commerce president from Gladewater, Cong. Geo. Mahon, and other Harvest Holiday guests and officials, and a performance by the Texas Tech band. On the late afternoon schedule were concerts by other bands and other entertainment on the square.

Benefits Of Democracy

Sheppard, making the day's principal speech at 1:30 p. m., talked on the benefits of democracy and on the need for support of the West Texas redistricting amendment to be voted upon at the general election Nov. 2.

Sheppard compared Brownfield's Harvest festival to festivals of countries behind the Iron Curtain and warned his listeners that unless the average American citizen begins to show more interest in his government and its affairs, he might wake up to find himself in the same state of affairs.

"Less than 50 per cent of the people of this country even take the trouble to go to the polls and vote in an election, yet we hold ourselves up as examples of freedom loving people," Sheppard said.

"Democracy is like farming. If you are a successful farmer, you can't keep taking production from the soil year after year after year without putting something back. You can't take from democracy year after year after year and not put anything back into it."

Cong. Mahon On Program

Sheppard cited the threat of Communism and pointed to the fact that food produced in Terry county was being used to fight Communism in its distribution to the various war-torn countries benefitting from the Marshall plan.

Cong. Geo. H. Mahon also spoke on the afternoon program, citing also the great problems which face our nation and stressing the importance of agriculture's part in the nation's economy.

"We're losing land at the rate of 1,000,000 acres a year and production on other crop land is declining at the same time population is gaining so it is highly important that agriculture maintain its high rate of production," Mahon said.

"As your spokesman in Congress, I intend to do my best to see that agriculture has a fair share of its participation in governmental programs and as your servant I want your advice so we can be strong in agriculture as well as in education and in military strength."

Mahon was introduced by J. O. Gillham, president of the Brownfield State bank.

Area Bands Play

Following the congressman's talk, youngsters from the Maverick club at Amarillo, who earlier had participated in the big parade, entertained the crowd of approximately 3,000 persons in front of the bandstand with acrobatics on a tambourin.

Crawford Taylor was master of ceremonies when trophies were presented to the winners of the band contest, first place going to Lamesa High school's band; second to Levelland High school and third to Andrews High school.

Bands from Texas Tech, and Brownfield, Levelland, Lamesa, Ralls, Plains and Andrews High schools participated in the 11 o'clock parade around the courthouse square. Adding color to the procession were such features as a U. S. Army tank, and a B-29 bomber which flew at low altitude overhead during the event.

Following the brief rain-caused delay after the parade, the Tech band gave a performance on the east side of the square, preceding a program in which James Harley Dallas, Brownfield postmaster, was master of ceremonies.

President Graham Smith of the Rotary club, which sponsors the Harvest festival, gave the welcoming address, stating that the club project this year is purchase of a school bus to provide transportation for students living in the north, south and west sections of the city.

Mayor Tom May then spoke briefly, also extending a welcome to festival guests, closing his address with a special welcome, delivered in fluent Spanish, to Latin-American visitors.

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Tech, next made a brief speech. He substituted on the program for Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Tech president, who Tuesday was called to Dallas by college business.

Special Guests Present

Following a second interruption by heavier showers of rain, Sheppard delivered his address.

Special guests at the opening day activities included Congressman George Mahon and Eugenio Pasquiera, Mexican consul stationed at Amarillo.

The Terry-Yoakum fair itself opens Thursday morning and will continue until late Saturday night. Some exhibits have already arrived at the fairgrounds, and despite dry weather, prospects for this year's fair appear better than for last year's record-breaking event.

The average barometric pressure at 5,000 feet altitude is 24.89 inches of mercury.

Anyway, Infant Is Probably Thankful For Police Help

Sometimes, the police department probably thinks human nature is a peculiar thing . . .

About 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, a call came in that an infant was locked up in a car parked in 1300 block of Texas Avenue. Police went over to investigate.

Sure enough, there was an infant, estimated to be eight or nine months old, raising all kinds of cain on the back seat. The door was not locked, however, so the investigating patrolman looked in on the tot.

After a few minutes of waiting around for the parents and paging them in a nearby theater from a name found on a driver's license in the car, the officers decided to take the infant to a hospital for some dry clothes and then to the police station, as is usual in many such cases. A note was left for the parents in the car, which reportedly belonged to a Slaton man.

More than an hour later, the parents showed up at the station for the baby.

And were they thankful? They were not. In fact, they raised the roof because the patrolmen had the audacity to even look in on the youngster. They had been in a show.

north Korean troops, though one or two policemen have been killed daily in border skirmishes which have been occuring regularly.

The home minister also revealed that about 500 Communists have been arrested on Chejudo island during the past three weeks.

Cabinet Session Called

President Syngman Rhee called an early morning session of the cabinet today to decide on a formal proclamation of martial law in south Korea. Home Minister Yun said he was taking "personal responsibility" for ordering martial law temporarily until a final cabinet decision is reached.

Meanwhile Maj. Gen. John B. Coulter, United States military commander in south Korea, today expressed the belief that Korean government forces "are well on the way" towards ending the rebel revolt in American-occupied south Korea.

Gen. Coulter said he received a report last night that the government forces were fighting the Communist insurgents in the town of Sunchon. Earlier reports from police in that town said that the rebel resistance had ended.

Rebel Forces Moving

Korean headquarters in Seoul said the rebels presumably are still in control of Yosu. It also was reported that a small rebel force reached Namwon, 50 miles of Yosu. However, no large-scale fighting was reported from that area.

Scattered rebel forces also were reported to have moved eastward out of Sunchon in the direction of Pusan, which is the most important American docking area in Korea. Pusan is 100 miles from Sunchon and Yosu is 12 miles to the south of the latter town.

U. S. Ready To Help

There are no American troops in the vicinity of the uprising and thus far the American army has adopted a "hands off" policy.

(Army officials in Washington said the decision as to whether U. S. troops should be used to help put down the uprising is "entirely up to Gen MacArthur.")

(In Tokyo Gen. MacArthur's headquarters was reported ready to send tactical support to south Korea if necessary to handle any situation affecting American troops.)

A state of martial law was in effect throughout south Korea and native authorities said the leaders of the revolt, allegedly inspired by the north Korean Cominform, were being hunted.

Reports reaching Seoul indicated that Korean forces were handling the situation without calling on United States Army forces for help.

Meantime Israeli forces today captured additional Egyptian-held heights dominating strategic supply roads.

Most of these positions were in the area between Bethlehem, south of Jerusalem, and the coast.

They included a position which was the last threat to the alternate Jewish route to the Holy City. Details were withheld for security reasons.

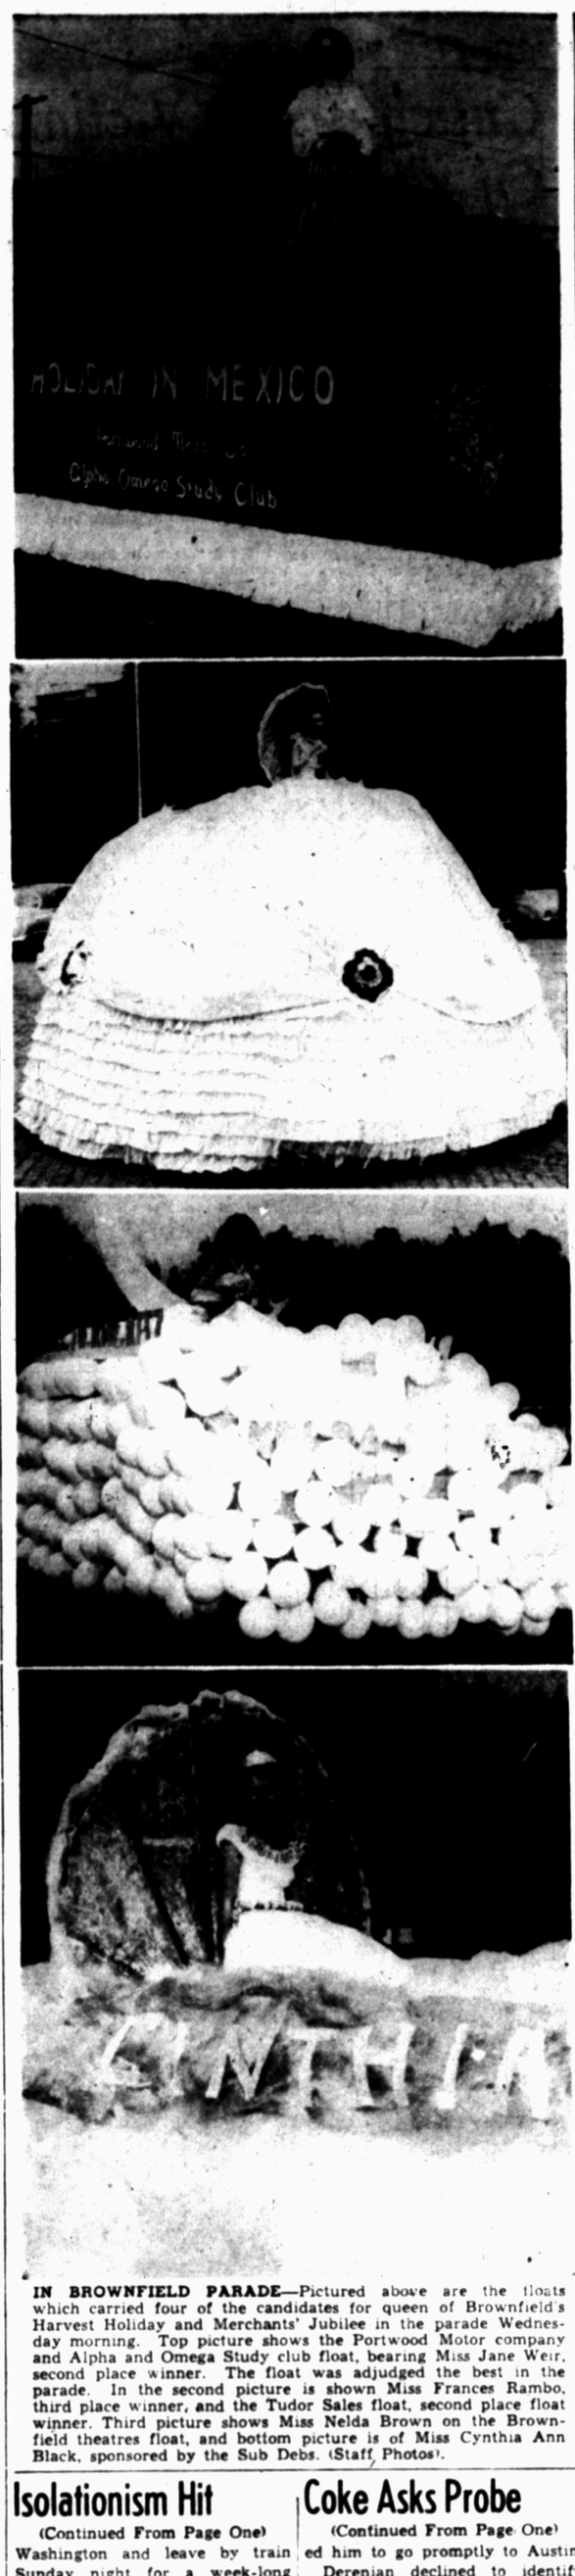

Poteet Named Head Of Texas A&I College

KINGSVILLE, Oct. 20 (AP)—Ernest H. Poteet today was named president of Texas A. & I. college.

Poteet had been acting president since the resignation of Dr. E. N. Jones in August. Jones is now vice president in charge of academic administration at Texas Tech.

The new president has been a teacher and administartor for 30 years. He joined the A. & I. staff as a director of the teacher training division.

Before coming here he was superintendent of schools at Mercedes for 15 years and at Harlingen for seven years.

Dewey, leaving Monday, will trail Mr. Truman to Chicago, Cleveland, Boston and New York. The GOP nominee will climax his campaign in Madison Square Garden Saturday night, while Mr. Truman is making his last main appearance at St. Louis.

Mr. Truman's Monday appeal in North Carolina to Democrats to return to the "standard" party fold brought another thrust from J. Strom Thurmond, States' Rights presidential nominee. He said in a statement that Mr. Truman "failed to defend his betrayal of the Democratic party." The States' Righters broke away because of Mr. Truman's civil rights program.

At Miami, Governor Warren of California got an ovation from the American Legion convention when he came out for universal military training. He said UMT was necessary to strengthen "a weakness in the armor of America."

Derenian declined to identify the investigator. He said the man should arrive in the Texas capital either late tonight or tomorrow and is supposed to report back here by telephone as soon as he makes a preliminary investigation.

The result of the committee investigator's hurried study will determine whether he himself will go to Texas on the case, Derenian said.

The chairman of the subcommittee is Senator Jenner (R-Ind), who Derenian said is being kept informed of developments in the case.

Rep. Johnson was declared the Democratic nominee by the Texas state Democratic convention by a margin of 87 votes out of nearly 1,000,000. Stevenson unsuccessfully carried a fight to the Supreme court trying to bar Johnson's name from the state ballot.

30 Feared Dead In Plane Crash

field, Amsterdam, crashed near the village of Tarbolton as it prepared to land at Prestwick, 30 miles southwest of Glasgow enroute to New York.

Many Victims Burned

Many of the bodies of the victims were burned beyond recognition.

An eyewitness who was among the first to reach the scene said: "The plane was blazing in the middle of a turnip field.

"A mass of people were strewn for yards through the field, badly burned and moaning in agony.

"I don't know how many were dead."

The blazing heat of the wreckage, pieces of which were thrown hundreds of yards by the force of the crash, hampered rescue work.

Ambulances, police, and fire-fighting equipment from all nearby centers were rushed to the scene, and all hospitals in the area were alerted to care for survivors.

Plane Hits Power Lines

The crash reportedly occurred when the plane collided with electric power lines as it approached Prestwick for a landing.

An airport employe said the plane "seemed to strike an electric cable and disappear." Lights and power failed at the airport.

Lights went out in nearby farmhouses at the same time.

Tarbolton residents said that the four-motored transport circled the village twice at a low altitude, sending up signal flares, before crashing in a nearby field.

Tarbolton is a mile from Prestwick.

Other witnesses said the plane seemed to be having engine trouble.

Only one crew member, the engineer, is known to have survived, and he was said to have suffered very severe burns.

The plane's pilot, Commander K. E. Parmentier, was one of the best known Dutch flyers.

He was one of the pioneers of trans-Pacific aviation, and was runner-up in the 1934 London-Melbourne air race.

The plane was named the "Nijfegen" after the Netherlands city where U. S. and British airborne troops landed in 1944 in an effort to turn the German northern flank.

More than 600 persons attended the meeting Wednesday night at Broadway Church of Christ at which Burton Coffman, minister of Central Church of Christ, Houston, spoke on "The Great Purposes of the Church." There were seven additions. At 10 a. m. today he will speak on "The Parable of the Fish Net." Thursday night's subject will be based on the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. H. V. Rice is today at her home at 2306 Seventh following her return yesterday from Fort Worth, where last Thursday she underwent major surgery. Her condition was reported as satisfactory. Mrs. Rice teaches the third grade at K. Carter school. Her son, Marine Pfc. Fred Kennedy, is in Lubbock on emergency leave from his post at Inyokern, China Lake, California.

Harry B. Hamilton of Austin, chief examiner for the Texas state board of plumbing examiners, and Mrs. Hamilton are visiting in Lubbock briefly on business. Hamilton is the former city building inspector.

Building Plan Upheld

Designed to give the state's colleges and universities a financial plan for a long range building program, the amendment provides for levying of a 5-cent property tax on the $100 valuation. This revenue would be used to finance $45,000,000 worth of building for 14 state-supported colleges over a 30-year period. Also authorized is the issuance of $15,000,000 in building bonds by the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. to be paid off with income from the permanent school fund.

Attorneys previously had told the court the contest was brought in the interests of Texas Tech and the 13 other state colleges. They said the amendment discriminated against the 14 colleges and was inadequate for some of them.

Court Answers Charges

The court opinion, written by Associate Justice Robert G. Hughes, held that the amendment was submitted in sufficient detail to show its character and purpose, and declared:

"It is not shown that any voter was misled or deceived by the form of submission of this amendment."

Referring to failure of publishers to print notice of the election in six counties, the court said it was certain the constitution would not have made is possible for "one private publisher to bring about the defeat of a constitutional amendment, approved by the people, by the simple expedient of failing or refusing to publish notice of the election."

To the argument that the amendment was actually several distinct amendments which should have been submitted separately the court replied:

"The plan of the amendment was comprehensive, closely knit, and each major provision dependent upon the other. It was for the people of Texas to say whether it was wise or unwise."

The building program has been frozen since the suit challenging validity of the election was brought more than a year ago.

Two Youths Hurt In Scooter-Car Crash

Two 14-year-old boys were injured seriously about 5 p. m. Wednesday when their motor scooter was in collision with an automobile at the intersection of Twenty-seventh street and Avenue S, police reports indicated.

The victims were taken to West Texas hospital by a Sanders Funeral home ambulance.

Gordon Gibson, of 2001 Ave. R, driver of the Cushman scooter, suffered three broken ribs, a compression fracture of the seventh thoracic vertabrae, minor concussion of the brain, a laceration on the back of the neck and a possible hip injury.

Jack Vaughn, of 1505 Ave. Q, who was riding on the scooter with the Gibson boy, suffered a fratcture of the right ankle. The boys were going south on Ave. S and a 1940 Chevrolet coach driven by Venice Alton Ryan, 32, of Lubbock, route 7, was going west on Twenty-seventh. The car struck the scooter on the left side. Ryan was given a ticket charging negligent collision because of defective brakes, and the driver of the scooter was charged with having no operator's license on his person.

Berlin Plan Offered

Russians said they would force a fight to the finish on their atomic proposals on the floor of the General Assembly.

3. The neutral members of the Security Council drew up a resolution on the Berlin blockade which they hoped would be acceptable to both Russia and the western powers. Western sources said tonight there is yet a slim chance of East-West agreement on Berlin before the council takes up the issue on Friday. Russia was participating in a series of backstage exchanges on the issue though still refusing to recognize Security Council jurisdiction.

Refugees Plight Described

4. In another UN action on Palestine the social committee decided to hear a report on the plight of 472,000 Arab refugees from the Holy Land warfare. Dr. Ralph Burche, the acting mediator, submitted a $30,000,000 plan for giving succor to the refugees. He said thousands would die from exposure unless they get immediate relief.

Postponement of Palestine debate in the political committee came when it voted 34 to 11 with ten abstentions to take up a Mexican proposal for the major powers to compose their differences.

In the climax to more than two weeks of bitter wrangling over atomic issues the 58-member political committee voted first on Russia's plan. Then it approved the western powers' plan in an action which is tantamount to final approval in the assembly. The same delegates on the committee sit in the assembly and they fight most of their battles in the committee.

Western Nations Backed

Approval of the western powers' plan for atomic energy control came when the committee gave its overwhelming endorsement to a Canadian resolution including these features:

1. Approves the majority reports of the UN Atomic Energy commission as the necessary basis for establishing an effective system of international control of atomic energy. Russia has objected to the inspection features of this plan as violating her sovereignty.

2. Asks the United States, Britain, France, Russia, China and Canada to consult together to determine if there is a basis for agreement on international control of atomic energy and report back to the next General Assembly.

3. Asks the atomic commission to resume work at the point it was suspended last spring and to make whatever further studies of the subject it thinks useful.

The vote meant that 41 nations endorse the majority proposals while ten others are not ready to go that far or still hope for East-West accord.

Western delegates breathed easier after the vote.

the winter months, and that no one in Berlin will starve.

Announced purpose of his return is to address an Alfred E. Smith memorial dinner in New York tomorrow night. He explained that he promised Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, "sometime ago" that he would make the speech.

Clay has a heavy schedule in Washington tomorrow, however, before proceeding to New York. He has slated an early morning news conference. Presumably he will see President Truman and top officials of the Defense department in addition to Lovett.

Topics Unannounced

Lovett declined to specify precis topics he desired to talk to Clay about. One undoubtedly will be the latest Russian move in barring all vehicular traffic into western Berlin except that approved by the Soviets from the east sector.

Scores Injured When French Troops, Reds Strikers Clash

PARIS, Oct. 20. (INS)—Communist-led strikers clashed in bloody pitched battles with French troops and police again today and the walkouts made deeper inroads into the nation's vital services. Scores were injured in the fighting.

Strikes called in sympathy with the striking coal miners forced a widespread shutdown of electric power and other services.

Other walkouts threatened to tie up rail transport throughout the Mediterranean area. The conservative Paris newspaper Le Monde warned that the situation threatens to become "an episode of civil war."

The envelope of atmosphere over the earth weighs about 5½ million billion tons.

Outlawing Of Reds In U. S. Urged By Legion

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 20 (AP)—The American Legion today called for the outlawing of Communism in the United States and vigorously applauded Gov. Earl Warren of California who voiced support of universal military training.

Settling down to business after a night of fun-making the 30th national Legion convention adopted a strongly-worded resolution on Americanism recommending continuation of loyalty checks and the establishment of a civilian board for investigating "every employer or applicant to the federal government."

It asked that all members of the Communist party including their "sympathizers who have engaged in disloyal and treasonable acts, be expelled from government service; that indictments be issued, and that the Department of Justice prosecute to the fullest extent of all existing statutes."

It called for sampling out "in all schools, colleges and universities the operations of American Youth for Democracy or any successor organizations at our various educational institutions."

Plans African Hunt

The opera star said that while in Corpus Christi he caught cold from the sudden "norther," but that he was able to keep his concert date there. He pointed out that he had almost completely recovered from the illness Wednesday night.

Melchior explained that he had made more than 30 concert appearances during the last 45 days, but when the present tour is completed he will leave for Africa on a big game hunt.

Mrs. Melchior, a former European film star, emphasized her husband's crowded itinerary by proclaiming "tomorrow, however, he is going to a barber shop. He has not had time to get a trim for the past several days."

Mr. and Mrs. Melchior attended the symphony orchestra concert rehearsal Wednesday night. The tenor told the Lubbock group "to relax, don't be afraid. I'm one of you."

The program will include:

Hungarian March (Berlioz); Allegretto (Beethoven); Caucasian Sketches (Ippolitov-Ivanov), orchestra; Lohengrin's Narration, from the opera, "Lohengrin" (Wagner); Siegmund's Love Song, from the opera "Die Walkure" (Wagner), Mr. Melchior; intermission; "L'Arlessienne Suite No. 1 (Bizet); Prelude to Act 1 from the Opera, "La Traviata" (Verdi), orchestra; Ave Maria (Gounod); The Two Grenandiers (Schumann); Because (d'Hardelot), Mr. Melchior; Begin the Beguine (Cole Porter), orchestra.

Members of the orchestra are: George L. Moore, concert master, Jean Carmichael, Kara Sam Dunn, Arlene Farmer, Mrs. Amelia Fry, Frances Gibbs, J. M. Hall, Marya Hooten, Mrs. Doyle D. Jackson, Dorothy Dale Kennedy, Donna Key, Mrs. Don Nichols, Woodrow Montgomery, Carol Jean Sandlin, Tom Stenis, Wilford Smith.

Also Arline Stephens, Mrs. Charles L. Stone, Mrs. Fred Wagner, Mrs. Newton Walton, Mrs. Kenneth L. Watkins, Gretchen Winningham, Dana Woodward and Earl Wukasch, violins.

Bond Set For Arkansas Man

Warren J. Hosmer, 28-year-old Pine Bluff, Ark., man, who was arrested Wednesday morning about 1 hour and 45 minutes after Pine Bluff's Chief of Police Sam Bradley had informed local police that the man was wanted there for embezzlement, was placed under $1,000 bond by Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson.

Police said they released the man's wife and a male companion, who were not described as wanted. They said the suspect told them he had embezzled approximately $6,000 in funds of a company he represents in Arkansas. He agreed to waive extradition, and an official of his company was said to have planned to fly here yesterday or today in connection with the investigation.

Two Pistols In Car

The arrest was by J. M. Clark and W. C. Johnson, radio patrolmen. Two pistols and a deputy sheriff's badge were in the car.

Police were informed by short-wave radio that Midland police had recovered a light club coupe stolen Tuesday night in Odessa from Ray Furr of 1302 Nineteenth in Lubbock, and had arrested a suspect.

The sheriff's department arrested Monroe Edwards, 45, of Dallas, on a warrant issued July 14 charging him with theft of two pairs of trousers from James N. Reneau. He pleaded guilty of the offense, County Attorney John Steele said, and was fined $50, county court costs and sent to jail five days.

Burglary Investigated

Police patrolmen, Homer Harrison and Pete Hubbard, were investigating a burglary of 1605-B Ave. S premises of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Day. A screen had been cut, and the burglar reached in and took Mrs. Day's purse. It contained keys, a pen and pencil set and $5 in money, officials said.

A 25-year-old railway worker was taken to county jail after treatment of an arm cut early in the day. He had been drinking, investigators said. His father will come here, accept custody of the man and remove him to another town, officials were advised.

C. H. Walker, of Myrtle drive, has been having trouble with juveniles who pulled up peanut vines from his property, officials said.

A 28-year-old Eunice, N. M. man was jailed by police for drunkenness and indecent exposure in a public place.

Purse Snatcher Sought

Mrs. Felix West of 1610 Ave. K told police that a man had snatched her purse in the 1600-block of Fourteenth street, leaving the broken strap still in her possession. He then ran down the street and turned a corner, she said.

She described the purse as being black leather, of the handbag type, containing about $10 cash, a small red coin purse, a red and blue scarf, her driver's license and other articles. She gave a description of the suspect to police.

Bobby Lamb of 2104 Ave. L said that his bike had been stolen from the vicinity of a local junior high school.

Lubbock Cafe Robbed

at the time of the hold-up, in addition to Dodson and Mrs. Webb, were Miss Gwen Hobbs, a waitress, Bob Sides, a cook, and three other customers, Mr. and Mrs. Lavoy Dodson of Lubbock, brother and sister-in-law of Dodson, and Finis Miller of Haskell. Edward Mattli, another employee was in the back of the cafe and did not know what had happened.

The hold-up man was described to police as being about six feet tall, weighing from 150 to 160 pounds, with dark curly hair and wearing blue jeans and a brown leather jacket. The gun was believed to have been either a .22 caliber target pistol or some foreign pistol, possibly a German Luger.

Immediately after the robbery, police were busy tracking down a number of leads, most of which proved fruitless. The only creditable information received about the man's whereabouts after he left the cafe was a report by one of the persons at the scene of the robbery who later said he had seen the suspect with two other men in a car on Nineteenth street.

The witness said that he believed the man seen on Nineteenth street to be the hold-up suspect, but said that he was wearing a navy type olive drab jacket with a fur collar. Investigation and search for the suspect was being continued.

General Urges U. S. To Develop Jap Friendship As Curb On Reds

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (INS) — Lt. Gen. Robert Eichelberger, until recently commander of Eighth Army occupation forces in Japan, said toight a "great reservoir of potential friendship" has been built up toward the United States in Japan.

Gen. Eichelberger emphasized in a speech before the National Safety congress in Chicago the importance of keeping U. S. prestige in Japan because the country is bounded on the north by Communistic countries.

Must Protect Nation

He said disarmament of Japan, limiting its present defense "to a few police armed with pistols," has put the U. S. under obligation to protect that country. He asserted:

"Except for a part of Korea, Communistic countries control the Asiatic mainland to the north, if Japan were to become Communistic and thereby be added to the chain of Kurile islands, the Japan sea would become a Communistic lake.

"To the United States, Canada, the Philippines and Australia, this would signify the loss of World War II and a potential defeat in the Pacific in any future war that might be forced upon us."

Gen. Eichelberger lauded the Eighth Army which he commanded through its leap-frogging conquest of the western Pacific and for the first three years of Japanese occupation.

U. S. Helped Injured

He said the discipline of the Eighth Army and the "great heart and courtesy of the American soldier" has contributed much to the prestige of the U. S. in Japan.

He added another factor was that "we have not robbed that country." He explained:

"Except through legitimate reparations we have not dismantled their factories to rust in our own country. We have not used the Japanese as slave labor. We have paid for things we have taken. In addition, we have brought in the necessary food to prevent suffering, particularly in the burned-out cities." He elaborated:

"When tidal waves have rolled over their cities, the American soldier was there at once with his help. When Fukui was shaken down by an earthquake, it was the American soldier who carried the injured on stretchers, who purified the water and brought medicine and food by special trains."

Giant Flying Wing Plane Will Be Built At Fort Worth Plant

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Floyd Odlum, chairman of the Atlas Corp; announced today that Consolidated Aircraft has contracted to build the Northrop flying wing for the Air Force at Consolidated's Fort Worth plant.

He also disclosed that he has talked with the Reconstruction Finance Corp. about a $40,000,000 to $42,000,000 loan to help finance his proposed Convair Equipment Co.

The proposed firm would finance the construction of planes for lease to airlines unable to buy new equipment.

Talks With Truman

Odlum made these announcements to reporters after a White House talk with President Truman. He said he did not discuss business matters with the President. One of the things they talked about, he said, was a new foundation to study cures for arthritis.

Consolidated Aircraft is a member of Atlas Corp's financial family.

Odlum said that under the contract with the Northrop Aviation Corp; Consolidated will provide all material and manpower to build the big six-engine pusher and Northrop will provide plans and technical knowledge.

The flying wing and other planes now being made at Fort Worth should keep the Texas plant working at "full capacity" for as long as anybody can foresee, Oldum said. He said the plant is now stocking materials and setting up production lines. But it is uncertain, he added, when the first flying wing will be produced.

Would Lease Planes

Concerning Convair Eqiipment Co.; Odlum said he hopes to raise about $57,00,000 to build and lease about 100 planes. He said airlines need additional planes but cannot afford to buy them.

Airlines leasing planes from Convair would have the option of buying them later.

Consolidated now is making Convair transport planes at its San Diego, Cal., plant. Odlum said it is turning out Convairs at the rate of 14 a month and has orders to keep going at that rate until next May or June. Orders for other kinds of planes are sufficient to keep the company in full operation through June, 1949, he said.

Columbia plans to export over 4,500,000 bunches of bananas this year.

Escaped Juvenile To Be Returned From St. Louis

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 20. (Special)—A juvenile who escaped from the county jail here Aug. 2 following his conviction in juvenile court on car theft charges will be returned from St. Louis, Mo., Sunday by Sheriff Ocie H. Murry.

The juvenile, who is 13 years old, and a 17-year-old companion, also held on the car theft charge, fled the county jail here after hammering a hole through the wall of the cell block run-around and escaping via a junk room, the door of which opened into the jail floor hallway.

Officers here said they learned the youths were arested in St. Louis for theft and also broke jail there on Sept. 19. The younger one was recaptured.

Sheriff Murry wil transport the prisoner from St. Louis to the Gatesville, Tex., reformatory, to where he was sentenced following his conviction.

Foreign Cars Coming Into Auto Hungry U.S. At Record Rate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Foreign cars—mostly English—are coming into the auto-eager United States at a record rate.

The census bureau reported today that 16,046 new autos—15,321 of them English—were imported into this country for sale during the first eight months of 1948.

Demo Leader In Blast At HST

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (INS) — President Truman was denounced tonight as a "product of a local dictatorship" who tolerates political methods which are "extremely daugerous to American Democracy."

Charles Edison, former Democratic governor of New Jersey, criticized the president for his long association with the Pendergast machine of Kansas City and urged the election of Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

The Secretary of the Navy under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in a broadcast over ABC, asseretd that Mr. Truman has shown a "tolerance for, a dependence upon, these sordid, these posionous" political machines.

Foreign Policies Hit

He characterized the Truman administration's handling of foreign affairs as a succession of "shifts, turns, contradictions and dizzy schemes that have been breeding war" and asserted the election of Dewey would provide "a sorely needed change."

The former New Jersey, governor said he would vote for Dewey even if Truman "did not have these machine antecedents and obligations."

Edison said he regretted to say that "no President ever owed so much to political bosses as does Harry Truman." He added:

"As a person, as an individual, Harry Truman is an amiable man, pleasant, likeable, and loyal to his friends—loyal to a fault.

"As a public official, he has limited ability, as many of his recent acts have proved. I do not—and I would not—make any personal attack on him or his motives. What I object to is his association with, and his continued reliance upon, corrupt political machines."

TEC Expects To Find Million Jobs For Texans During 1948

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (U.P.)—The Texas Employment commission expressed hope today that it would fulfill its prediction of finding 1,000,000 jobs for Texans in 1948.

So far this year, the TEC said, commission offices have placed 769,157 Texans on jobs, some 35,700 ahead of last year's pace for the same period. The total covers nine months.

The commission expected the employment rate to increase for the last three months of 1948.

Of the year's total job placements, 350,981 persons filled commercial positions, and 418,176 found jobs in agricultural activity.

Dana Andrews Facing Busy Schedule After British Trip; Lena Horne Gets New Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20.—Dana Andrews will have to change the long hair he acquired for "Britannia Mews" in a hurry when he gets back from England because Sam Goldwyn has an assignment waiting for him.

Dana probably doesn't know it yet, but he will no more than get his breath than he will start work, co-starring with Teresa Wright in "Awakening." This is an original story of the Northwest by Walter Reich.

I wouldn't want to suspect my friend Sam for the world, but I have an idea that when both Dana and Teresa were paged for "Mrs. Mike" and "All The King's Men" he thought if they were that much in demand he would keep them in the home studio.

Sam had planned a McKinlay Kantor story, "A Day In The Life Of A New York Policeman," for Dana, but Kantor will put that into book form first.

Lena Gets New Role

The dusky beauty, Lena Horne, brought in $60,000 a week at a New York night club a few weeks ago.

The dusky beauty, Lena Horne, musical version of "Anna Lucasta" which is being prepped for a Broadway presentation next fall. What a beautiful Anna she will make—even prettier, I think, than the girl who originally created the role.

The musical version is possible because Philip Yordan, author of the play, reserved the rights to do it as a musical. Harold Arlen, who authored such classical jazz numbers as "Stormy Weather" and "Blues In The Night" is writing the music for the new production.

With Paulette Goddard in the film play, looks as if we will have two "Anna Lucastas" at the same time. Paulette, however, will play the heroine as a white girl, as I told you.

To Stay In Movies

There has been gossip that Greer Garson was trying to get out of doing "The Forsyte Saga." This isn't true. I talked with Greer and she felt this picture should be in technicolor, so her wish was granted and it is to be in technicolor.

Greer also is of the opinion the two men in the Galsworthy story should be top stars, and this likewise is being attended to. The picture will not go into production November 7 as planned, but it will start a week later.

My story last week that Mickey Rooney was dickering for the revival of "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway" brought a wonderful and nostalgic letter from Victor Moore.

I had said that I couldn't see the Mick in the role that George M. Cohan had created with such warmth in 1916. Victor tells me that George Cohan wrote the play for him, and he sent me a batch of his press clippings dated—1905! Gosh, most of you can't remember that far back.

Victor goes on to say that several years later George did do a revival, so that gives the Mick two portrayals to shoot at.

Unidentified Person Pays Off Mortgage

BESSEMER, Ala., Oct. 20. (U.P.)—The First National bank of Bessemer announced today that an unidentified person walked in and paid off a $3,000 mortgage on the home of a World War II hero.

The bank said the payment lifted the mortgage from the home of Red Erwin, congressional medal of honor winner who was the subject of a recent national magazine article.

The article started a local drive for $10,000 for a home for Erwin but the campaign fell short by $3,000.

POSSIBILITY OF CIVIL WAR SEEN

France Heading Into Showdown Over Future Political Standing

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

PARIS, Oct. 20.—France is heading today toward perilous political weather in an atmosphere of increasing tension and anxiety.

Many foreign observers in Paris as well as Frenchmen believe the fate of the fourth republic will be at stake during the next few months.

Three powerful forces are now at work which threaten to create a political whirlpool for the moderate, center government which is striving to keep democracy from foundering in France.

One of the forces which is running like a disturbing current through the life of the nation is the general discontent of the working classes with the steadily increasing cost of living.

Prices Cause Of Trouble

The workers are becoming exasperated with the government's inability to control inflation, the seriousness of which is reflected in statistics showing a fifty per cent rise in wholesale prices since the end of last year.

Taking full advantage of this basic current of discontent, the French Comunist party is encouraging strikes on every possible front.

Western diplomatic observers in Paris share the views of men like former Premier Paul Reynaud that the major objectives of the Communist policy are three-fold:

1. To sabotage the progress of the Marshall Plans' European recovery program in France;
2. To block the effective participation of France in the Western European union's economic cooperation and defense plans;
3. To discourage the United States from extending military aid to France.

De Gaullists Also Active

Moving against these forces of labor unrest and Moscow-sponsored Communist strategy is the mounting tide of De Gaullism.

Convinced that the time is approaching when France must be saved from anarchy and Communist disruption, the followers of General Charles De Gaulle are preparing for action, preferably on the electoral front but, if necessary, by more direct measures.

Trying to hold these three forces in check is the difficult task which the Centrist government of France is now tackling.

There are many who feel the Centrist ship will be unable to ride out this rough weather. If it sinks, the Fourth Republic may go down with it, taking along, temporarily at least, some of the traditional freedoms which Frenchmen cherish.

Civil War Feared

Inability of the government to meet the stern test now confronting it probably would lead to the dissolution of the National Assembly, and general elections.

The other possible alternatives are so frightening that most Frenchmen do not even wish to consider them. They are attempted political coup d'etats, civil war, or both.

If the existing political and economic instability should lead to new elections, General De Gaulle is confident of returning to power.

His ardent followers, most of whom represent French conservatism are strongly of the opinion that the general is the only leader in France today who can bring about political stability and enable the nation to play its proper role in world affairs.

These supporters assert that De Gaulle's return to power would not lead to civil war with the Communists because he would break their hold on the working classes and gain the support of the overwhelming majority of the people for maintenance of law and order.

Most of the Centrist leaders and a great many French people believe otherwise. The latter school of thought fears that General De Gaulle's promise to outlaw the Communist party and permit "no civil or military disobedience" would lead to open, violent conflict with the Communists.

Taft Booms GOP Candidates At Dallas

Texans Claimed Changing Stand

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP)—Republican Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio tonight urged Texans to vote for Thomas Dewey for president and Jack Porter of Houston as Texas' U. S. senator.

"They represent the ideals and the political philosophy of a great majority of the citizens of Texas," Taft said at a Republican rally in the bandshell at state fair grounds here.

He was the second national Republican leader to appear recently in Texas. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, made a similar plea for Dewey and Porter last week in Amarillo.

Taft Boosts Porter

The Republican vice presidential candidate, Earl Warren, will speak briefly tomorrow noon from Fort Worth during a plane stop.

Taft spoke of factions in the Democratic party and predicted that Dewey and Porter would get the largest bloc in Texas.

"There is no state in the union whose philosophy is more that of the Republican party of today and less that of Harry S. Truman and Lyndon Johnson," Taft declared.

Johnson is the Texas Democratic nominee for the Senate.

"Because Mr. Truman can't find anything against Governor Dewey, he has been campaigning against the 80th Congress. While that is not the issue in the national campaign, I am quite willing to accept it as the issue in the Texas campaign for senator," Taft said.

Truman's Beliefs Hit

"The battle between Mr Truman and the 80th Congress did not arise out of any fault of that Congress. It arose out of a fundamental difference between the government philosophy of Mr. Truman and the Congress, a difference in which at least half the Democrats in Congress sided with the Republicans against the President.

"It is the same battle between freedom and totaiitarian government which is going on today throughout the world.

"Mr. Truman believes in a planned and regimented economy . . ."

Porter, who has been making an aggressive campaign, was present for the rally at which Taft spoke. The Texas senatorial candidate plans to go to Fort Worth to introduce Warren tomorrow.

Other Texas Republican leaders, including members of the state executive committee, also were at the rally.

Issues Are Listed

Taft said that Truman "has embraced without exception the CIO-PAC program, and raves against Congress because it refuses to accept it. He has spent most of his time trying to retrieve the Wallace supporters by out-Wallacing Wallace."

The Ohio senator enumerated seven issues he said were the principal ones between the President and the 80th Congress. They were:

1. The President 'presents huge budgets of expenditures and denounces anyone who tries to cut one cent off the amount he requests." The Congress reduced his budgets.

2. The President "bitterly resisted the reduction of taxes." Congress passed over the Truman veto a bill taking 7 million taxpayers off the rolls.

Labor Bill Praised

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Thursday, October 21, 1948

Oil Meeting Is Set At Midland

A meeting of all oil producers in the Seminole field of Gaines county, and in the Wasson field of Yoakum and Gaines counties, will be held at Midland at 2 p. m. Oct. 21, to consider the recent ruling of the Railroad Commission of Texas ordering that all wells in those two producing areas, as well as in several other Texas regions, be shut in until steps are taken to prevent waste from the flaring of gas.

The session of being called by the North Basin Pools Engineering committee, at the request of some of the operators in the two fields, according to V. E. Cottingham, of Midland, chairman of the North Basin committee.

Hearing Is Set

The October 21 meeting will be in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer, in Midland.

The Railroad Commission will hold a hearing in Austin on October 26, starting at 9 a. m., at which operators in the fields covered by the recent "show cause" order, will be given opportunities to present evidence as to what the wells should not be shutin, while the gas is being flared.

In order to be prepared to present testimony at the October 26 hearing, the North Basin Pools Engineering Committee is calling a meeting of all operators in the Seminole, Slaughter, Wasson, and Levelland fields, for 4 p. m., October 25, in Austin.

At that session decisions will be made as to how the producers in those fields will plead before the formal hearing.

States' Rights Candidate To Speak

Gov. Wright Opens Texas Drive Today

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 20.—States' Rights Democrats from five counties will hear the party's vice presidential candidate, Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi, Thursday night in a state-wide radio broadcast originating in Columbus, Tex.

Gov. Wright will join the caravan of States' Rights speakers that entered Texas Monday, and who will remain, touring the state, until election day.

He will visit Plainview and Lubbock Friday, and will speak at Wichita Falls Saturday, according to a schedule announced by Texas States' Rights headquarters here.

Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas, who was the keynote speaker at the States' Rights rally here Monday night, was in Victoria and Corpus Christi yesterday. Tonight he will address a rally in San Antonio, after appearing in Alice at a luncheon.

TO CARRY TALK

Gov. Fielding L. Wright's talk to a five-county rally of States' Rights followers at Columbus, Texas, tonight will be broadcast over Station KFYO, States' Rights headquarters at Houston and the local station announced last night. The broadcast will start at 8 p. m. Meanwhile, plans have been completed for Gov. Wright's appearance for a States' Rights rally in Lubbock Friday night. At 8 o'clock Gov. Wright will speak in the District courtroom on the third floor of the courthouse here. That talk also will be carried by Stations KFYO and KCBD.

Former Gov. Sam Jones of Louisiana was in Big Spring and Midland yesterday, and will be in Greenville Thursday night. Touring the East Texas area in behalf of the Thurmond-Wright slate are Mississippi congressman John Belle Williams, former Congressman George Huddleston of Birmingham, Ala., and Mississippi Legislators N. S. Sweatt and Jesse O. Holloman.

Lieut. Gov. Sam Lumpkin of Mississippi will take the States' Rights message to voters in Hill, Johnson, Ellis and Navarro counties.

The presidential candidate, Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, will make a swing through Texas Oct. 27-30, inclusive.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

WAUKESHA, Wis. (U.P.) — The law of averages finally caught up with Melvin Jones. He was arrested after his car had crashed into another. He was fined for drunken driving. He told the court he had been driving for 15 years without a license.

Red-Trained German Police Given Guns

BERLIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—Guns were being handed out to Moscow-trained police throughout the eastern zone today and anti-Communists said the Red rebellion in Korea should be a warning to Germany.

"Korea offers a parallel of what would happen in Germany if the western powers should accept Russia's proposal that all occupying forces withdraw from Germany," said Franz Tausch, chief of the newspaper Sozialdemokrat, when asked for his opinion of the situation.

"The putsch in Korea is a warning to the American policy," added Jacob Kaiser, chairman of the Christian Democratic union, a conservative party.

Karl-Hubert Schwennicke, chairman of the Liberal Democratic party, another right wing group, commented that if western troops are pulled out of Germany "it can be expected that serious unrest would develop—as in Korea—which would give the Soviet Union a chance to reimpose its occupation 'in the interest of peace.' "

LOSES THRONE

HONG KONG. (AP)—Queen Victoria's statute, repatriated at war's end along with the bronze lions of the Hong Kong Shanghai Bank from internment on a Japanese scrap heap, will not return to the pedestal on which it rested for nearly half a century. The pedestal, its ornate protecting dome and surrounding fence, which occupy a large area in the middle of one of the city's busier thoroughfares, are to be torn down as a traffic hazard.

Analysis shows that there is no great difference in the nutriment of light-shelled or dark-shelled eggs.

Plans Announced For Homecoming

Plans for the October 30 Homecoming celebration at Texas Tech are rapidly advancing according to D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the Texas Tech Ex-Students and Alumni association, who says he expects the largest crowd of exes in the history of the college.

Ticket sales to ex-students for the Tech-Rice game already number over 5,000, excluding those who hold season tickets, he said, adding that probably more than 1,000 season tickets are held by exes. An additional 2,000 tickets will be held for ex-students and sold on the morning of the game.

Lights To Be On

The campus will be a blaze of light on the traditional night, with all the lights in the buildings on and other lights strung up all over the campus. The Texas Tech chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers are in charge of lighting the campus for the event.

For the Homecoming dance the Tech gymnasium will be decorated in appropriate style with figurines representing the 23 classes who have graduated from Tech since its beginning in 1925, each figurine being dressed according to the prevailing style in the year it represents.

Interwoven into this theme will be the shields of all the campus social clubs, with an inscription designating the year they were founded. The decoration will be done by Alphi Phi Omega, men's service club on the campus.

State Sanitorium Doctor Dies Of Gunshot Wounds

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 20 (AP) — Dr. H. C. Samuels, who was found with a gunshot wound in the head, died at a hospital here today. He was assistant superintendent of the state tuberculosis sanitorium.

A small calibre bullet had shattered his skull and entered his brain from the back of his head. He was found yesterday in his home by Mrs. Samuels, after she heard shots. The home is a mile and a half south of the sanitorium, which is 18 miles north of San Angelo.

Samuels was about 35 years old.

In 1940, the number of first and second generation U. S. residents of German stock was 5,240,000; of Italian, 4,519,000; of Canadian, 2,911,000; of Polish, 2,900,000; of Russian, 2,611,000; of Irish, 2,411,000; of English, 1,917,000; of Swedish, 1,300,000; of Austrian, 1,216,000; of Mexican, 1,000,000.

EXPLOSION SCARES TEXAS CITY—Residents of Texas City, who remembered the terrific devastation wrought by an explosion in April of 1947, had reason to be worried when a flash butane explosion sent a wall of flames over 41 automobiles, leaving four dead and at least 19 injured. This is a general view of the burned cars, showing how they were blown off the highway. (NEA Telephoto).

$296,000 Hotel Is Set For Hereford

HEREFORD, Oct. 20 (Special)—BMFP Construction company of Lubbock has been awarded a tentative contract for construction of a $296,000 hotel building for Hereford, it was announced today.

The structure will be three stories high, and will contain 40 rooms. Provision is made in the plans for addition of 40 more rooms later on.

The hotel was financed through subscription of shares by Hereford businessmen. The plans are being revised at present and it is expected that work will begin shortly.

BMFP Construction company is composed of Frank O. Bennett, William S. Moss and H. A. Padgett, jr.

Airmen Take Off In Attempt To Set New Endurance Mark

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP) — Pred Vinmont and Bert Simons, both of Dallas, finally took off early tonight on an attempt to break the world's flight endurance record.

The takeoff had been cancelled several times because of technical difficulties.

The pilots took off from Love field here but plan to pick up fuel when needed from the Grand Prairie airport west of Dallas. They will pull cans of gas up to the plane from a platform on a speeding automobile.

After spending his spare hours and holidays for 14 years blasting through solid rock in a mountainside near his home, Enoch Lewis, 48-year-old miner of Aberkenfig, Wales, has just reached a three-foot seam of coal estimated to contain 100,000 tons.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT BACKED

Lubbock, Area Counties Would Gain From Redistricting Plan

John Ben Sheppard, state chairman of the Texas Committee for Redistricting, pointed out here Wednesday that Lubbock and surrounding South Plains counties will benefit more from redistricting than nearly any other section of Texas.

Sheppard, Gladewater attorney and former national president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, is heading the nonpolitical committee for redistricting organized by more than 1000 prominetn Texans from all parties and all sections of the state.

Representation Short

The committee is urging voters to support passage of constitutional amendment two in the general election November 2. Amendment two provides for automatic redistricting of the state every ten years following each federal census.

"Texas was last redistricted 27 years ago on the basis of the 1920 census," Sheppard noted. "Since that time the population of Lubbock and the 12 surrounding counties has grown from 51,756 in 1920 to an estimated 249,100 in 1948, an increase of 197,344.

"Despite this tremendous growth, this section has not received a proportional increase in representation in the state legislature. Although its population has increased nearly 500 per cent since 1920, it has no more voice in the operation of the state government that it had 27 years ago," Sheppard said.

In addition to Lubbock county, Sheppard listed Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Hale, Hockley, Gaines, Lynn, Lamb, Terry and Yoakum counties as among those whose populations have increased greatly without corresponding increases in representation.

"The present system of apportionment discriminates greatly against these counties," Sheppard claimed. "If Texas had been redistricted on the basis of the 1940 census, these counties would have doubled their representation in the senate and nearly tripled it in the legislature. On the basis of the next census in 1950, their increase in representation in both houses of the legislature should be even greater."

Would End Unfairness

If approved by the voters on November 2, amendment two will provide for automatic redistricting after each federal census. This will end unfair representation in the legislature. Sheppard stated ,and do away with the present wide-spread discrimination.

"Lubbock and vicinity will be among the principal beneficiaries of regular redistricting," Sheppard declared. "We expect that amendment two will receive strong support in this section."

While in Lubbock, Sheppard conferred with Doyle Justice, chairman of the Lubbock county division of the Texas Committee

British Commonwealth Leaders Urge Strong Military Measures

LONDON, Oct. 20. (INS)—Prime ministers of the British commonwealth determined today that "the danger of war must be met by building up armed forces to deter any would-be aggressor."

A communique issued after a full-dress meeting of the commonwealth conference declared that "freedom must be safeguarded not only by military measures but by advancing social and economic welfare."

The defense situation was reviewed for commonwealth leaders by British Prime Minister Attlee and Defense Minister A. V. Alexander.

Military Leaders Attend

Viscount Montgomery, chairman of the Western Union's defense council, British service chiefs and cabinet members also attended the meeting.

It was understood that the decision to build up the commonwealth nations' armed forces would apply to all those represented at the meeting.

It is expected that improved methods of commonwealth communications for defense, as well as for better economic and foreign policy cooperation, soon will be established.

HEADS 40 AND 8

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 20 (INS)—Harold J. Riley, of Detroit, was elected today to the national commandership of 40 and 8, the "Fun and honor society" of the American Legion. Riley's real title in the 40 and 8 is chef de chemin de fer, but it corresponds to the rating of commander.

State Rests In Burglary Trial

The state completed its evidence and rested about 5 p.m. Wednesday in the 99th district court burglary trial of Jonie J. Wood, 24, of Plainview, and it was indicated that the defense would take the stand at 9 a.m. today.

The charge, accusing him of having broken and entered property of Smith Keller, is a companion case to one of which Arthur D. Harris, 33, also of Plainview, had pleaded guilty earlier in the afternoon and been assessed a punishment of four years in the penitentiary. Harris waived a jury and entered his plea before Judge G. V. Pardue.

Man Is Sentenced

Another jury assessed a four-year penitentiary term against Daniel D. Floyd, 30, Lubbock man who on April 12 stole an automobile by breaching a contract of borrowing. The car was owned by Charlie Biggs of Lubbock. Floyd was extradited from Lumberton, N. C., and returned here in early May.

A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, represented the state in the three prosecutions. James H. Kimmel, jr., of the law firm of Bradley, Key and Kimmel, was counsel for Floyd, W. D. Hollars, a Plainview attorney, for Harris and Wood.

Several cases are set for today, with the expectancy that some of the defendants may plead guilty.

The Floyd jury was made up of Arthur Dean, W. F. Dean, Ernest A. Wossum, F. D. Mueller, Frank D. Evans, G. G. Hunter, W. P. Willis, Paul Harral, R. A. Brown, L. H. Johnson, J. T. Allen, and L. O. Kurlin.

The Wood jury: Leslie W. James, G. G. Hunter, F. D. Mueller, R. A. Brown, L. J. Burdine, Ernest A. Wossum, C. S. Black, C. H. Payne, J. E. Mann, jr., R. S. Henry, L. O. Kurklin and Vernon Williams.

Taft Talks At Dallas

tive bargaining. Any other basis in my opinion would make a free economy impossible."

4. The President, "after himself abolishing wage control and then price control before the Republican Congress took office, demands now that we restore his full war powers . . . I don't think Mr. Truman would have dared to ask for it if he had not known it was against every principle of the Republican party and that the Republican Congress had the courage to stand by its principles."

5. The President has a whole social welfare program under which Washington bureaus would take over from the states and local communities their freedom to run their own affairs. The Congress "rejected any such program."

Johnson Rapped

6. The Republican party favors state ownership of the tidelands.

7. "The New Dealers think the people cannot solve their own problems. They don't trust Congress . . . They want their boards completely free from any rule of law and free from judicial review."

Taft said the President "has carried his attack on the 80th Congress to a point where he is, in fact, attacking the institution of Congress."

To Introduce Housing Bill

At noon here today Taft told a group of Texas builders that he again would introduce a federal housing bill in the next Congress.

Taft spoke before some 450 persons at a luncheon sponsored by the Dallas Home Builders association. At the first of his speech he admitted he was a "bit off his feet making a non-partisan speech."

Later at a press conference Taft said he found Republicans "very optimistic in Texas" but all he knew was what he had been told told since his arrival here this morning.

Commenting on the Taft-Hartley labor bill which he helped write, Taft said there undoubtedly would be some amendments to be made.

"The act itself set up a committee to hear complaints and make recommendations for changes," he said, "and we hope to keep it corrected and up to date."

He said that it probably was just an "oversight" that the anti-Communist oath was required of labor officials and not from corporation officers also.

Police Find Baltimore Infant Safe; Woman Held In Abduction

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20. (INS)—Police today announced the recovery of infant Jo Ann Mezzanotte and said she was kidnaped by a 46-year-old mother of three who wanted another baby "to please my husband."

The 10-week's old baby, taken from a carriage in front of a drug store Tuesday, was returned to its mother's arms in a tearful scene at police headquarters.

Mrs. Leon Shefflet, wife of a steel mill employe, was found with the baby in her care after police had traced automobile license numbers in a 24-hour search.

Given Excellent Care

She said she had been having some trouble with her husband, and thought another baby in the house would end this. Her own children are from 9 to 27 years old.

Pink-ribboned Jo Ann is the daughter of Michael Mezzanotte, Dolores Mezzanotte, 28. Both fa- a railroad freight handler, and ther and mother were at police headquarters to clasp the infant when she was brought in.

Police said that Jo Ann had received excellent care during the abduction.

Police said Mrs. Shefflet is being held for psychiatric examination and that no charges have been placed against her.

Rotary Club Told History Of Dust Bowl In Kansas

A brief outline of the history of southwest Kansas' dust bowl was presented at the Rotary club luncheon at the Hilton hotel yesterday by Dr. Oscar A. Kinchen, professor of history at Texas Tech.

Dr. Kinchen has written several articles on the subject, the re-articles on the subject, the requests resulting from exhaustive research he has made into the history of the area, from the 1880s to the present.

He recounted the seasons of boom and bust, periodic opening up of new lands as the migration moved westward, and methods used by the pioneers, many of them green hands, in their efforts to sustain themselves during periods of extreme hardship.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. R. C. Goodwin, program chairman. Visiting Rotarians included M. W. Waldron of Mercedes, Rev. W. R. Beard of Ralls, Earl W. Rogers of Borger, Max King of San Antonio, Roy Mack of Slaton, O. K. Lewis of Amarillo, Rev. Jack Welch of Sheridan, Ark., Rev. G. R. Hodges of Slaton, and G. S. Hill of Slaton.

Club President Irving L. Jones was in the chair, with invocation by Clarence Whiteside.

Rainmaker Suggests Plan To Eliminate Lightning Set Fires

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 20. (AP)—Rainmaker Vincent J. Schaefer says it may be possible to prevent forest fires started by lightning—by eliminating lightning itself.

Schaefer explains that highly-active cumulus clouds usually grow into lightning-producing thunderstorms. He suggests that by transforming such clouds into snow, lightning can be eliminated.

Two years ago Schaefer, weather scientist at General Electric's research laboratory here, made rain and snow by seeding clouds with dry ice from an airplane.

He said yesterday that clouds given the dry-ice treatment either would lose their moisture in the form of rain and snow or would become cirrus (snow) clouds, which do not produce lightning. In either event, he added, the conditions which cause lightning would no longer exist.

Two Michigan Fugitives Jump $25,000 Bails; Search Pushed

DETROIT, Oct. 20. (INS)—Detroit investigators today checked underworld reports that two Michigan fugitives were en route to Palestine as members of the Stern gang.

The ex-convicts, Mike Selik and Harry Fleisher, jumped $25,000 bonds after the State Supreme court refused to grant a stay of proceedings in their Oakland county robbery convictions.

The two former purple gangsters face sentences of 25 to 50 years each on the armed robbery charges and 4½ to five years for conspiring to murder the late Senator Warren G. Hooper of Michigan.

Threat Of Black Fly Plague To Citrus Industry Studied

RIO GRANDE VALLEY, Oct. 20. (AP)—A valley citrus grower, fresh from a trip to the Valles section of Mexico, painted a dreary picture today of the black fly infestation in Mexican orange groves.

Jack Drake, manager of the valley chamber of commerce, supervised a tour of 38 Texas citrus growers and state officials to the Valles section to check into the fly infestation, barely 300 miles from Texas' own citrus lands.

Drake told of seeing trees that looked a pretty green from a distance, but, up close, proved to be covered with a black goo from the fly. He told of one tree that produced 2,500 oranges last year.

"This year, you couldn't get a pick-up truck load out of the entire five acres," he said.

An official report on the infestation will be made to Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald by Texas State Entomologist Walter McKay, who made the tour.

State Treasury Setup Is In Good Condition

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—State Auditor C. H. Cavness today released copies of his audit report on the State Treasury department for the fiscal year ended Aug. 21, 1948, describing its records as well kept, with one minor exception.

The exception referred to the Treasury department's use of two state-owned automobiles without maintaining daily reports on mileage and the purpose for which the cars are used.

Cavness noted that both cars are registered in the name of the Treasury department but bear civilian license plates and have no markings signifying state ownership. He believed both cars should be "properly marked in accordance with the provisions of" the penal code.

The state auditor repeated a recommendation of two years ago that $4,519,720 in delinquent principal and interest on all bonds owned by various state funds should be paid in full.

He also suggested that the next legislature consider ways of clearing out of the state's records $70,282 which 10 counties have owed to the general revenue fund since 1919. The money was loaned by the legislature on "drouth relief notes" in 1918 and 1919. Counties still owing are Brown, Fisher, Kent, Kerr, Lamb, Ochiltree, Parmer, San Patricio, Scurry and Stonewall.

The total of all cash and securities held by the Treasurer for the state of Texas on Aug. 31 was $700,940,860, the auditor reported.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAUGHT

HOUSTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—A 29-year-old escaped convict from Ramsey state farm was captured about noon today in Danbury by the sheriff's department of Brazoria county. Captain O. O. Stewart of Ramsey said the prisoner was John Henry Columbus, who is serving five years for felony theft from Guadulupe county.

Demo Solon Scores Dewey's Plan On Handling Atomic Program

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (INS) — Sen Brien McMahon (D) Conn., today charged that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey "apparently misunderstands the meaning of atomic energy, the manner in which it was developed, and the provisions of the McMahon act for its control."

McMahon, writing in the October issue of The Bulletin of The Atomic Scientists, described Dewey's atomic energy speech in Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 23 as "vague (and) in many ways contradictory."

Attitude Claimed Wrong

The senator, called the "father" of the law which makes atomic energy a government monopoly, wrote that the "speech can be interpreted as meaning Mr. Dewey wants to place in the hands of private corporations a force equal to the possession of a private army or navy."

"These conclusions follow from the patently false analogies which the governor used to support his thesis that the 'dead hand of government' may hobble atomic development.

"He compares the growth of this unique force to the development of electric power and transportation. Thus he implies that atomic energy is 'just another source of power'—an error paralleling the naive notion that the atomic bomb is 'just another weapon.'"

Opposes Preferred Status

"I thoroughly disagree with Gov. Dewey's implied thesis that American industry will only respond to the lure of unlimited profits. Scientists, administrators and other individuals seem perfectly willing to work for reasonable compensation, and corporations are not entitled to preferential treatment."

The Connecticutt senator said "Mr. Dewey's remarks cast a threatening shadow over the future of international control." He added:

"From the beginning, our official position has been that a United Nations atomic development authority must itself operate "dangerous plants. If such plants were handed over to private firms, effective international control might prove to be impossible."

Funeral Services To Be Held In Seminole For F. W. Thomason

SEMINOLE, Oct. 20. (Special) —Funeral services for Filmore W. Thomason, 36, of Denver City and formerly of Lubbock, will be conducted at 3 p. m. Thursday in Seminole Presbyterian church, with Rev. C. S. McKinney, pastor officiating.

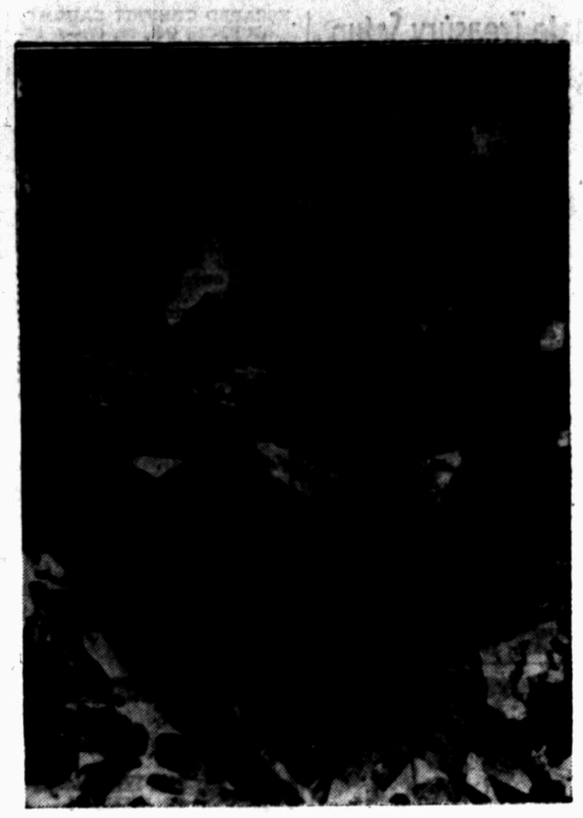

Burial will follow in Seminole cemetery under direction of Alpha's Funeral home of Seminole.

Mr. Thomason died about 5:30 p. m. Monday in Seminole hospital after several months of ill health. He had returned to his home at Denver City Monday from New Orleans, where he had received treatment in a hospital. He had resided in West Texas for about 12 years, and had been employed by a gas and oil refining company.

Pallbearers will be Benny Benson of Seminole, John Ruckman and C. J. Ham of Denver City, A. D. Duncan of McCamey, Odell Martin of Denver City, and Nick Carter of Wink.

VETERAN NEWSWOMAN DIES

LAGUNA BEACH, Cal., Oct. 20. (INS) — Mary Holland Kincaid, veteran newswoman and one-time associate editor of The Ladies Home Journal, died at her Laguna Beach home today. She was 86. She was the widow of a Colorado state senator. She is survived by a son, John Holland, and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Horace Hill, both of Los Angeles.

BLAST VICTIM—William Blascak, 20, the only casualty of a storage tank explosion at Melvindale, Michigan, lies amid the wreckage as police surve. the damages. Over $300,000 damages were involved in the explosion at the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. (NEA Telephoto).

Chest Contributions Climb To $24,956

Contributions to the Lubbock Community Chest through Wednesday night totaled $24,956.21 and are almost twice the total for the corresponding period in last year's drive, Earl Kerr, Chest manager, reported Wednesday night.

Approximately $5,486 was added to the total between early Wednesday afternoon, when the total was $19,470.90, and Wednesday night, when the latest total was announced.

Workers were reminded by Chest officials that all reports are requested to be in today.

Kerr said Wednesday night that "approximately 25 per cent of all reports have been turned in." He said that Chest headquarters is beginning to get pretty complete reports from the women's groups, and that only scattered reports in that division still are out. Numerous reports are still due from workers who visited business firms.

Today is the ninth day since opening of the drive, with totals topping $24,000. Last year, at the close of the ninth day, the total reported was $12,296.

"Reports coming in indicate that contributions are still holding up," Kerr said Wednesday night, and added that the outlook for success of the drive is encouraging.

Six Inmates Of Farmington Jail Dig Way To Freedom

FARMINGTON, Mo., Oct. 20. (INS) — Six inmates of the St. Francois county jail at Farmington escaped today by digging a hole through the floor of the jail.

They stole two automobiles, attacked a farmer and seized his shotgun. One of the cars was found wrecked near Effingham, Ill.

Sheriff Herman Hecio of St. Francois county asked authorities of Missouri and Illinois to join in the hunt for the men. He warned they probably still have the shotgun.

Johnsons In Saddle When Jury Chosen For Duty At Austin

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—It was Johnson day in county court here yesterday.

When the jury panel was drawn from the jury wheel, 13 Johnsons were on the list. After several were excused or did not show up, there were still seven, including two with the same initials, E. W.

When a six-man jury was finally chosen, the Johnsons were still in the saddle. It included D. W. Johnson, David Johnson and Chester Johnson.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and to aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Ownership Of Leaky Pipeline At Texas City Is Still Undetermined

TEXAS CITY, Oct. 20. (AP)—Ownership of a leaky pipeline that caused a fog of butane gas to explode here Monday night killing four persons was still undetermined today, and oil company officials believed the mystery might never be cleared.

The blast occurred just after 7:30 p. m., sending a giant orange flame across a highway where 14 carloads of motorists were stopped, waiting for a switch engine to clear the road. One man died instantly, and three other victims succumbed later in Texas City and Galveston hospitals.

Company Denies Ownership

The Stone Oil Co., across whose property the faulty line traversed, issued a formal statement today denying any implication in the tragedy.

"A flash fire that occurred on highway 146 around 7:30 p. m. last Monday did not result from any Stone operations," the statement said.

An official of Stone, who asked to remain anonymous, said that "a check of plant conditions obtained prior to the fire indicated there was nothing irregular." The same official was convinced that the break was in a line "belonging to another company which crosses Stone properties in the southeast corner."

Officials of the Republic Refining Co., which has lines in the network in the explosion area, said they were "certain" none of their pipelines was faulty, but that the leaky pipe "belonged to another company."

Probe Hangs Fire

Whether or not a full-fledged investigation of the explosion would be conducted was still problematical. Mayor Lee A. Robinson was not available for comment, but City Secretary Kenneth Nunn said "he had not been informed" of any moves to that end.

Six of the badly burned victims were reported still in critical condition today. They were Mrs. Bettie Moors, 65, Galveston; Mrs. Betty Duval, 20, Texas City; Miss Elvira Hernandez, 20, Galveston; John Barber, 26, Texas City; Mrs. John Barber, 24, Texas City; and Janeal Richards, 29, Galveston.

Reported improving were Henry A. McCauley, 46, Texas City; Sharon McCauley, his three-year-old daughter; Mrs. Merle Morgan, 42, Houston; C. C. Gilliam, Houston; Merchant marine Capt. Fred Snell, San Francisco; Dr. James L. Route, 27-year-old Texas City dentist; and Mrs. Marie Bailey, 33, Texas City.

Jester To Name Dallas Man To Bench Of District Court

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)— Gov Beauford H. Jester said today he will appoint Dallas Blankenship of Dallas to the bench of the 101st district court when a vacancy occurs there next Jan. 1.

Blankenship, a member of the House of Representatives for the past 12 years, will succeed Judge W. M. Cramer, who has been nominated to the Fifth court of civil appeals.

The state legislator, who was a nominee for a seventh term in the House, was one of six Dallas attorneys nominated by the Dallas Bar association as potential successor to Judge Cramer.

Roy L. Grimes Named To Handle City's Preliminary Paving Work

Roy L. Grimes has been named to succeed W. O. Sheely, who died unexpectedly last Thursday, to handle work preliminary to street paving, City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., announced Wednesday

Grimes, an insurance company safety engineer, has resided in Lubbock nearly 10 years and has an excellent background of training for his new duties, the city manager said.

Officials explained his work for the present will not involve the promotion of new paving. The city is far behind with the pavement sought by the residents on the affected streets.

But persons wanting their streets paved are advised to consult Grimes, whose city hall headquarters will be the tax assessor's office. He will advise them how to proceed in circulating petitions requesting the improvement. He also will handle most of the "paper work," including the liens which must be signed by individual property owners, before pavement is approved for any portion of a street.

Omar The Polecat Leaves Scent To Pay Lawn Damage

WHITTIER, Calif., Oct. 20. (AP)—Omar is an onery polecat. You can quote Mrs. J. E. Witt to that effect.

Omar started out four weeks ago to redecorate Mrs. Witt's $2,000 lawn, and the end is not in sight. Neither is Omar.

Omar has a passionate fondness for the grubworms he finds under the dichondra. He digs holes two inches in diameter and two inches deep. He has neatly bypassed poisoned meat. Once, when caught in the rays of Mrs. Witt's flashlight, he fled into the darkness, leaving behind an odor not associated with spring rains and gardenias.

Mrs. Witt is at her wit's end, folks.

Texas Solon Quoted As Saying America Can Deal With Spain

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Oct. 20. (AP)—Stars and Stripes quotes Rep. Olin E. Teague (D-Tex) as saying the United States can do business with Spain despite her form of government.

Teague and six other representatives arrived here yesterday for talks with Lt. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner and other officers of the European command. They are winding up a tour of Europe.

Stars and Stripes, the U. S. Army newspaper, reported Teague said Spain's "intense opposition" to Communism is well known.

The Texan added that Spanish industry is lagging and anything done to help Spain's recovery would help the recovery of Europe. He said the United States could sell plenty of cotton to Spain to help her idling spinning mills.

Freedom Train Facing Halt In Tour Despite Recent Success

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A stack of railway ties is being assembled across the right of way of The Freedom Train. Fiscal difficulties and an honest difference of opinion within the sponsoring American Heritage Foundation are bringing this diesel-driven symbol of liberty to a grinding stop.

The metal doors of the cars which hold the priceless documents which ensure the right of Americans to life, liberty and the pursuit of happines will clang close next week—for the election period—but it is possible that they will not open again.

Those in favor of prolonging the tour of The Freedom Train, and they seem to be in a great abundance, insist that this would be the worst possible time to stop the program. They say that seldom if ever in our history has it been more imperative for the average American to know just how his country differs idealogically from the forces against which we are opposed.

The train has exhibited its historic contents to 3,004,894 Americans during 348 stops since it began to roll 13 months ago. Approximately 700 American cities still want to see it. But there are officers within the non-profit, non-political heritage foundation who believe that the train's job is finished; that the organization should now go on to other tasks.

A student of Americana would have done well to tour with the train and share its adventures.

Voting Totals Boosted

In Los Angeles county it was held largely instrumental in the astonishing 400 per cent rise in the registration of voters. In Butte, Mont., an average of 43 per cent of the eligible voters had previously cast their ballots on local issues. In the first test which followed the appearance of The Freedon Train there the total jumped to 84 per cent.

The tour was vigorously opposed by the Communist party at its start, and when it gained impetus from this opposition the Reds declared that it would run into difficulties in the South. But it pulled out of only two of the many southern cities it visited, because city officials insisted on segregation of the crowds waiting to view the exhibits. Greensboro, N. C., showed a greater response than any city of its size on the tour.

Curiously, the officials of the train had their most sweatful moments in Sacramento, Cal. A California committee in charge of arranging the program — which was broadcast over a Pacific coast hook-up—asked Chief Light Feather of the Seminole tribe (the chief is a college man) to be one of the speakers.

The chief and his retinue arrived on the scene in the middle of Governor Warren's speech and won an ovation (which stopped the speech) as they moved through the crowd to the train. The Indians were in ceremonial dress, including feathers.

The governor recaptured his audience after a time and continued, but now the chief had reached the platform and he boomed, in a voice that brushed aside Warren's speech and swept like magic over the Pacific coast, "Sorry about being late, but this —traffic got me all snafued up!"

Warren bowed out after that one and the chief took over. He pulled a speech out of his regalia and launched into an indignant blast on the federal government's treatment of Indians and listed may another redman's grievance. When it was over he turned to the somewhat anxious committee and said:

"Don't be embarrassed. All I was doing was utilizing my rights under the freedom of speech clause." While thousands cheered.

Another vignette: A Dutch student at a Midwestern college became so attached to American life and ways that he sought permission to remain in this country His application was rejected by Washington despite the pleas of the university and the many friends he had acquired.

Finally the day arrived when he had to leave, and within minutes of his scheduled departure Washington wired its reconsideration of his case. His university friends rushed to his room with the wire, but he was gone—though his bag was still there, packed. They scoured the town . . . and found him standing raptly on The Freedom Train, reading a copy of the Declaration of Independence.

Mayor 'Fed Up' On Special Weeks

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Oct. 20. (U.P.)—Mayor William Huck, Jr., said today he was tired of "sweet weeks, pickle weeks and all those other weeks." He said he was through with all of them except important ones.

"From now on," he said, "I'll proclaim only important weeks, and only 15 of those a year."

He said his decision was brought about by a request from cranberry growers that he declare a "chicken and cranberry sauce week."

Court Upholds Peace Bond Involving Corpus Doctors

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today refused to dissolve a peace bond involving two Corpus Christi physicians.

The appeal court kept Dr. H. E. Luehrs under a district court judgment requiring him to give $3,000 bail to keep the peace for one year.

Dr. Luehrs was charged with threatening to take the life of Dr. J. F. Pilcher, director of Terrell laboratories. The appeal argued that the threat was not made in seriousness. Court records said he had a pistol in his possession when the threat was made in the hall leading to Dr. Pilcher's office.

"We agree with the trial judge that a threat to take the life of Dr. Pilcher was shown," the appeal court said in its written opinion.

The court said certain laws revised in 1925 had as their "very purpose" the halting of "such threats prior to an effort at their execution."

Rains Cause Slight Harvest Delays In Some Parts Of State

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (U.P.) — Although rains caused slight delay in harvesting operations, weather conditions were generally favorable over all of Texas during the last week, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

In a weekly crop and weather bulletin, the USDA noted "some progress" in the seeding of small grains and winter legumes and dry seeded wheat was brought up to a stand in northern counties.

Harvest Is Delayed

In Central Texas, week-end rains built up needed surface moisture supplies, but caused some delay in harvesting activities.

The cotton harvest made rapid progress, the USDA said, in the high plains counties where open weather and light frost hastened opening of grown bolls.

In the low rolling plains, full scale harvest was resumed after the delay resulting from showers of the previous weekend. The cotton harvest was rapidly nearing completion, the report said, in northcentral and northeast Texas. Stalk cutting continued in other areas.

However, fields in most areas were reported too dry for plowing under the stalks, but moisture conditions were improving over Central Texas and along the Red river.

The grain sorghum harvest continued active. Good yields were being combined in most plains counties north of the Canadian river, but south of that line, the USDA said, yields were mostly fair to poor and larger-than-usual acreage was being grazed or cut for bundle feed.

SOMETHING NEW:

A Political Crusade

THE SCHEDULED campaign address here Friday night of Gov. Fielding Wright, of Mississippi, indicates more strongly than words can do just how serious States' Rights Democrats are in their crusade to put the South back where it belongs in national politics.

Governor Wright comes here as Vice Presidential candidate on the States' Rights Democratic ticket after an earlier appearance in Lubbock of the party's Presidential candidate, Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, of South Carolina. The doubling-up of the efforts of these men in this area is indicative of the energy they and other States' Rights Democrats are expending all over the South. They mean business. They are leaving no stones unturned in their effort to force a reorganization of the once proud Democratic party, now a hostage of Northern radicals and Big City political bosses.

The campaign of Governors Thurmon and Wright is not a campaign for further personal political laurels, or power. It is a campaign for the principle of returning to the South the political rights which are the South's. It is a campaign not for Thurmond and Wright, but for the people of the South. It is a crusade to make the Democratic party again what it once was: the political citadel of those committed to the philosophies of Jefferson and Jackson.

Lubbock and South Plains citizens should hear Governor Wright, whether or not they intend supporting his ticket. They should meet him and welcome him here as the governor of an American state, a life-long leader in Southern Democracy and, to boot, a first class gentleman.

World Calendar

EVEN those who may disagree with the objectives of the World Calendar Association, inc., must give the organization credit for Grade A persistence.

For something like 20 years, the association has been trying to persuade the United States and the world to adopt an entirely new type of calender. Not once during that time has it passed the hat, or conducted drives for finances to continue its work. Most of the money for its operation has come from the personal fortune of Elizabeth Achelis, its president. And it is more active now than at any time in its history. It is trying to get its new world calendar in effect on January 1, 1950.

Under such a calendar, days of the week would fall on the same date every year. January 1 always would be Sunday. Christmas always would be on Monday. December 31 would be a year-end world holiday each year. Leap Year days would be a special day between June 30 and July 1.

The plan has many endorsements from many influential groups and people in many parts of the world. Several bills authorizing adoption of the calendar have been introduced in Congress. One failed of action this year.

Whether the calendar ever will be adopted remains to be seen. If it isn't, it won't be due to lack of trying by the sponsoring association. It has refused to be discouraged by disappointments in the past, and there is nothing to indicate that future setbacks may cause it to abandon its purpose.

It's Hard To Concentrate

—WHEN THE "PEACE TABLE" KEEPS JUMPING—

Tryst

By ELSWYTH THANE

Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Dying in the Indian desert, British secret agent Hilary Shenstone feels a desperate need to get back to England and to Nunns Farthing, his family home. He doesn't know the house has been let and that dreamy, 17-year-old Sabrina, whom he has never met, has adopted his old room and eagerly awaits his return. Hilary does return to England and to Nunns Farthing—after death. At his club he hears his death discussed, tries to join in the talk but can't make anyone aware of his presence. At his mother's town house, it is the same. Only at Nunns Farthing does Mrs. Pilton, the housekeeper, seem to know that Hilary has come home. Hilary first discovers Sabrina asleep.)

XVIII

SABRINA woke to a darkened room, but the edges of the curtains were gilded with sunlight. Her bedside clock said 10 minutes to 9. She slid out onto the floor without slippers or dressing-gown and went to pull back the curtains. The garden looked delicious in the morning light.

For a few minutes, kneeling on the window seat with her elbows on the sill, she wondered why it felt like such a special day.

Then she remembered the dream.

But the more she tried to capture the dream again, the more elusive it became. Something about his coming back—yes, that was it. She had dreamed he was here in the house. Perhaps there would be a letter in the morning post, for Father, of course, to say he was coming down to fetch something he had left behind. Or perhaps a car would just drive up and a strange man would get out, and that would be—oh, what was his name! Or perhaps—

The old magic reasserted itself in the same absorbing game. He would come back. She would see him—speak to him, at last.

Cold water on her face, and the commonplace details of dressing dimmed the dream still more. But the feeling of expectancy persisted. Something had brought him suddenly nearer. Something was different. Something special. . . .

FATHER and Aunt Effie had nearly finished breakfast when she entered the dining room.

"Darling!" cried Aunt Effie in astonishment, dropping the "Express." "You shouldn't have got out of bed without letting me know! But how well you look this morning!"

"I had a lovely sleep," said Sabrina, with a secret smile for the dream. "Nobody could stay in bed on a morning like this!" She kissed them both lightly, and went to inspect the sideboard hot-plates. "What can I have to eat?"

"I'll ask them to boil you a little egg," said Aunt Effie, and rang the bell.

"Oh, Auntie, can't I have some bacon or something with it? I'm hungry!"

"Do you hear that, Alan, she's hungry!"

Sabrina had bacon and a boiled egg and two pieces of toast, well-buttered. She decided against a second cup of lukewarm tea when Aunt Effie left to do the ordering and Father escaped to his study. She drifted out to the garden. The snap-dragons were blooming at last. Pale yellow, peach and pink and dark crimson, they stood in sturdy ranks along the border. She bent and pinched one to make it gape, detached a full-blown bloom from a pillar rose to pull through her belt buckle, and glanced up at the windows of the L-shaped room as she always did from that part of the garden. They were closed, of course.

All the bewildered mistrust of the room which had come upon her in the chill gray twilight of her last visit had vanished over night, and she was able now to lay it to the weather, or to her illness, whatever it was, coming on. The rain and her own feverish imagination had tricked her. She felt again, and welcomed, the old familiar fascination. She must go up there, at once. The room was lonely, and must be aired out on a day like this.

IN the long, sunny room at the top of the house he heard her feet on the stairs. Then the door opened and she came in, wearing a blue dress, with a rose in her belt—taller than he had expected and too thin. He stood up politely, beside the window seat from where he had been watching her in the garden.

He was not altogether unprepared to see her here, for he had found his door unlocked the night before. A hasty investigation had shown him that nothing had been moved. His desk was the same, his clothes were still there. At least no one was living in the room. Neither was there a two years' accumulation of dust. Someone came in and out, then, but left his things alone.

Sabrina paused just inside the door, and stood for a moment, the knob still in her hand, glancing about her with questioning eyes.

"Please come in," said Hilary from the window. "You won't mind me, will you?"

Sunlight streamed through the casements toward her, making diamond-shaped nuggets of warm gold on the floor. The blended reds and blues and greens and browns of books, carpets, and old polished wood were lovelier than ever before to her eager gaze. How silly she had been ever to feel frightened here.

"Hullo again," whispered Sabrina, shamefaced.

"Hullo," said Hilary, surprised.

Obviously quite unaware of him, full of housewifely purpose, she went to set the casement windows wide to the morning air, kneeling on the window seat to the left of him as she did so.

"There," she said with satisfaction, under her breath. "That's better." And she sat back on her elbows on the sill, looking down into the garden and pondering something deep within her mind.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IT MUST be nice to be a moron.

One of my readers, apparently trying to insult me, wrote and said that I must be somewhat a moron to write the kind of column I write.

My first impulse was to get mad and write her a nasty letter.

BRANDEIS

Then it came to me that I really did not know the exact meaning of the word moron. Possibly calling me a moron was not really an insult but a compliment.

So I looked it up in the dictionary, and this is what I found.

"moron, n. (Greek, moron, neut. of moros, sluggish, dull). A moderately feeble-minded person. Most morons can be happy with tasks too simple and monotonous to satisfy an intelligent person."

Well, apparently my correspondent did not mean it to be a compliment when she called me a moron, but, as I said in the opening sentence, it must be nice to be a moron.

Come to think of it, I must be somewhat a moron at that. I do enjoy tasks too simple and monotonous to satisfy an intelligent person.

I used to consider myself intelligent until that heart of mine started to kick up.

From what I have been reading in the papers and from what several doctors have told me intelligent people are particularly susceptible to heart trouble.

The most remarkable thing is that one of the ways to overcome heart trouble is by stopping being intelligent and becoming a moron, meaning, according to the dictionary, to "be satisfied with tasks too simple or monotonous to satisfy an intelligent person"

Let me be a bit more specific.

Whenever I used to go to night clubs I used to see a lot of intelligent people all around me, looking bored with life, criticizing everything and everybody, losing sleep, getting drunk, smoking their heads off, worrying like the dickens about their success and being scared stiff that their being a celebrity might not last unless they kept up that kind of life.

Other intelligent people were terribly concerned about keeping up with the Joneses, about doing just the right thing at the right time, about being in the swim.

NOW I DON'T go to night clubs any more so I don't see so many intelligent people. (And, by the way, several of my very intelligent acquaintances recently passed away from heart trouble.)

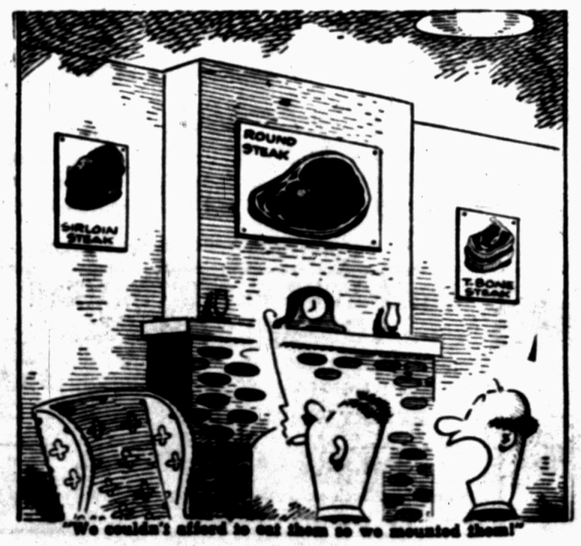

But I am having a lot of fun with some of my fellow morons around here, folks who used to be intelligent but were cured of their intelligence by force of circumstance, just like myself.

We are happy with simple tasks—with our gardens, with listening to the radio, watching the sunshine and the flowers and the chipmunks and the fish in the river.

We morons stay in bed late, and if we are awake early enough, we can watch the commuters rushing like mad to catch their train.

Who wants to be intelligent?

Funny Business

"We couldn't afford to eat them so we mounted them!"

FOR GOVERNOR'S POST

Bowles In Strong Bid

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WATERBURY, Conn.—Former Price Administrator Chester A. Bowles' sparkling campaign for the Governorship of Connecticut as a possible stepping-stone to the presidency or vice-presidency, though he might settle for the Senate, attracts more attention than the Dewey-Truman battle in the Nutmeg State, largely because a Republican victory is conceded.

TUCKER

The Connecticut contest has another appealing angle. It will show whether Advertising Man Bowles' personality and salesmanship are more effective with the suffering customers than President Truman's.

Both officeseekers are selling the same line of political goods. Mr. Bowles, who opposed Mr. Truman's termination of price controls at the end of the war, is hammering on the two issues of housing shortages and the high cost of living.

So, belatedly, is Mr. Truman. Both face the same political difficulties—the desire for a change in a historically Republican state.

SIN: Connecticut today seems safe for Governor Dewey by the comfortable margin of 50,000 or 75,000. But Mr. Bowles himself says privately that he will run at least 50,000 ahead of the President.

In a recent magazine article he was unfortunate enough to express doubt on the outcome of the presidential fight—a cardinal sin for a man in his spot.

If Mr. Bowles should win—and the Republicans admit that the tall, handsome, personable promoter "has us worried"—he may give a close race to Governor James Shannon, who obtained his office by the accident of death. A few Democrats predict a Bowles election, though not daring to forecast a Truman triumph.

ARISTOCRACY: Governor Shannon has two advantages that nobody minimizes. He is a Roman Catholic in a state with a fairly large representation of that faith, although its politics have usually been run by pre-colonial settlers' descendants. He has served at Hartford, the Capital, as former counsel for the American Federation of Labor.

Although a majority of Connecticut's workingmen may vote the Truman-Bowles ticket, the men in the foundries, machine shops, specialty lines, rifle factories, brass mills and notion plants constitute a sort of aristocracy of labor. They handle delicate, precision tools.

They have frequently shown the same nice sense of balance in handling voting machinery. Although they manipulated the levers for Franklin D. Roosevelt in his heyday, they usually swung back to Republicanism in Congressional and local contests in off years, as has the nation since 1938.

SMASHES: Opposites meet in the gubernatorial race.

Whereas Mr. Bowles typifies the youthful, energetic and stimulating breed introduced into national politics by F.D.R.'s appeal to their emotions and imagination, Governor Shannon is the kindly, quiet, old-fashioned, up-the-ladder sort of politician.

The former advertising man relies on smart wisecracks and hard, oratorical smashes. Mr. Shannon makes friends through meeting folks personally, and he is meeting a lot of them these days—at county fairs, fraternal dinners, rallies on the street corners and campaign tours into the back country.

BUILDUP: Still another intriguing aspect of the Bowles candidacy is his friends' conviction that he will be a leading candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952 if he should survive a Dewey-Warren landslide. For that reason alone national politicians will keep their eyes on Connecticut on the night of November 2.

Assuming that Mr. Bowles wins, his 1952 buildup will resemble the senatorial advertising campaign that won Wendell Willkie the Republican presidential nomination in 1940. Bowles and Willkie are of the same pattern, politically.

FINANCE: Wilham S. Benton friend, and business partner of Advertiser Bowles, and a propagandist par excellence, could be depended on to ballyhoo and finance a Bowles-for-President movement. In fact, there are signs that the Benton school of politicians are working overtime to propel the firm member into the Governorship.

Although Mr. Benton was no great shakes when, as Assistant Secretary of State, he masterminded foreign propaganda through the "Voice of America," he might have better luck in selling such a domestic product as a victorious Bowles to party politicians and the general public.

Anyway, he is aching for the chance to try.

IRONY: Connecticut politicos of a cynical nature discern irony in the prospect that Mr. Bowles may emerge as the gallant, white knight of Democracy. As they see and chuckle over his Connecticut charges, it is one of the most human and exciting chapters in present-day politics.

Senator Brien F. McMahon, atomic specialist on Capitol Hill, is the acknowledged boss of the Democratic machine. It is doubtful if Mr. Bowles could have been nominated without the Senator's okay.

There has been suspicion that Mr. McMahon handed the honor to Mr. Bowles in the expectation that he would be defeated, and thereby eliminated as a possible contender in 1950, when the Senator must seek reelection. But should Mr. Bowles win, he becomes automatically the undisputed boss, and Mr. McMahon's fate would lie in his hands.

Even more important nationally, under such circumstances the advocate and operator of rigid, central controls on the nation's economy—prices, wages, hours, production—would have powerful influence in rebuilding the Democratic Party in the years ahead.

That is the nationwide significance of the gubernatorial struggle in the small but sturdy state of Connecticut.

LABOR: The writer's automobile, questionnaire tour through one of the most industrialized sections of the United States—from Maryland to Maine, including New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York suggests that the Hartley-Taft Act will not be an important issue in the presidential campaign, although President Truman hopes to capitalize on his veto of the measure.

I have discussed this Taft-Hartley question with labor leaders, with Democratic and Republican politicians and with non-political people whom any traveller meets on such a trip as I have taken. They seem to like it because it has broken the grip of a few top labor dictators on the workers down below.

The workers who once laced all their trust in the big bosses—William Green, Phil Murray and John L. Lewis—realize that their leaders fight the T-H Act, and the Congressmen who voted for it, only to save their political face.

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

DEMOS SEEK STATE FOR HST

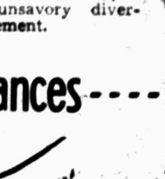

North Carolina In Spotlight

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Thomas L. Stokes is on a swing through the South to assay the political situation there, involving, as it does, the future of the Democratic party. Reporting conditions from firsthand observation, Stokes will tour through North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina before returning to Washington on or about election day.)

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

RALEIGH, N. C.—The fact that President Truman selected North Carolina as the appropriate rostrum from which to address the South in this year of turmoil and turbulence below the Mason and Dixon line is a tribute to the state which its leaders earnestly hope it deserves.

It has a well-merited reputation as a progressive state—progressive in every tradition of tolerance and of genuine liberalism which is exemplified — educationally, for example, in its university, through its present head, Dr. Frank Graham, and politically through many leaders present and past, among them, the late Josephus Daniels, staunch champion of Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt progressivism.

STOKES

Those traditions are cherished. Today in North Carolina, which reflects the conflicts elsewhere in the South, the visiting observer gets the definite impression that its leaders—political, civic and educational—feel that North Carolina is under test, that it is being challenged, and that they hope very much that it will stand the test and meet the challenge.

* * *

Demos Face Problem

There is uncertainty in the air and a vague sense of frustration.

The story of North Carolina, like that of Virginia and other southern states, is the story of the Democratic party. That is so because through the years the party has been the backbone of North Carolina politics, as of southern politics generally, its destinies guided by and large by Democrats, and its heroes and political legends built around that party, and because that party today is on the defensive here as in the rest of the South. That is unusual, and that is, therefore, the news today.

The challenge that the visitor senses is, therefore, largely a Democratic party problem, since Democrats constitute the preponderant political organism. It is not so much whether the state might go Republican, but whether their own kind, Democrats, should cause that to happen through an unsavory diversionary movement.

That is, whether this strange, hybrid, anti-civil rights movement known as Dixiecrats should confuse and seduce enough Democrats in this state to throw it into the Republican column. Republicanism has a long tradition of its own in this state. Though a minority party, it is a vigorous one that conduces more nearly to a two-party system here than in other southern states, which is healthy.

But any large-scale exodus among Democrats to the Dixiecrat pied piper of anti-civil rights would injure the pride of many of North Carolina's leaders, since this state has a reputation to preserve in the field of civil rights and decency, over and above plain party regularity.

Of course, practical Democratic politicians want to hold the state for President Truman because that is their business, and success in that business means much to them. But these practical leaders seem impelled, too, by something beyond that, something in the Democratic tradition of the state with a small "D." Which is, of course, a tribute to the caliber of practical politicians here.

Party Leaders Back HST

That would seem to help explain why here, unlike neighboring Virginia, the regular Democratic organization, from Governor R. Gregg Cherry on down, is putting on the steam. The organization, under direction of Capus Waynick, Democratic state chairman, is very active all over the state, and just now a series of peripatetic party rallies is raising the alarm against the Dixiecrat irregulars and the Republicans. President Truman gets his name mentioned out loud in this state, where it is only whispered, and often disdainfully, in Virginia.

Consequently, the best political judgment here is that North Carolina will go for President Truman and not secede temporarily from the party this year as it did in 1928 when Herbert Hoover carried it over Alfred E. Smith. Estimates range from 100,000 to 150,000 plurality for the President. Mr. Waynick is taking no chances. He is trying to get out a big vote, his target a million, which would be a new high, the previous peak being 790,000 in 1944. Governor Dewey got 263,000 votes four years ago. It will run considerably higher this year.

Republicans, well-financed, are putting on an intensive campaign. There is an outside chance they might elect a House member or two—the last Republican congressman from the state, a one-termer, was swept in by the 1920 Harding landslide. Three districts are in the doubtful category this year.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 20. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at 10 designated southern spot markets was 50 cents a bale higher at 31.50 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 31.93; middling 15/16ths-inch average 29.18.

Grain

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (AP) — Wheat —No. 1 hard 2.40¼-2.43¼.
Oats—No. 2 white 94¼-95¼.
Corn—No. 2 white 1.83-1.95.
Sorghums—No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. 2.48-2.53.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP) — Strength in soybeans highlighted a generally firm market on the board of trade today. Soybeans advanced around 5 cents at times in active dealings. Announcement of additional export allocations spurred the buying.

December wheat and oats both showed enough strength to get up about a cent from yesterday's close. Mills bought wheat, reflecting flour sales to the army. Shipping sales of 50,000 barrels of cash oats from here helped that grain.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ⅝ lower. December $2.27⅛-⅜, corn was ⅛-⅜ higher, December $1.40⅞-1.41, oats were ¼-1¼ higher, December 76⅝-¾.

Livestock

NOT SO QUIET

Lovett Comes Out With Bright Tie

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (INS) — Acting Secretary of State Lovett—quiet, austere, reserved—wore a new necktie today that was not—quiet, or austere, or reserved—definitely.

Lovett shocked his news conference, accustomed to mild cravats on the acting secretary, when he appeared wearing a tie which sported scantily-clad hula dancers and red and green parrots.

The noisy neckwear was a gift from W. Bedell Smith, U. S. Ambassador to Russia, who noted a columnist's comment on Lovett's "pale" ties. Smith insisted Lovett wear the south seas scene to his news conference.

Lovett, grim, went through with it, but would not comment—publicly.

War Veteran Finds Key For Apartment To Cost $2,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. (AP)—It's the little things that count.

A war veteran, who declined use of his name, told the Queens district attorney's office today he read an advertisement for a three-room apartment at $65 a month.

He telephoned about it and was told it was true.

Must he buy any furniture? No. Just one thing—the key would cost $2,000.

Back Seat Driver At Tyler Has To Pay Traffic Fine

TYLER, Oct. 20. (INS)—The tables were turned today when Tyler police arrested a "back-seat" driver—and it wasn't a woman.

A woman ran a red light and was stopped by the police. Her husband, a passenger in the cab, hastily explained that he was teaching his wife to drive.

The officers filed charges against him and excused his wife.

Liquor Questions Will Go Before Voters In Nine States On Nov. 2

By OLIVER W. DE WOLF
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. — Bone-dry Kansas will give its voters a chance November 2 to have their say on repeal of the state's 68-year-old prohibition amendment.

Eight other states—Arkansas, California, Colorado, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington and Massachusetts—also are posing liquor questions to their electorates.

The hotly-contested constitutional amendment on the Kansas ballot provides that the legislature may regulate, license and tax the manufacture and sale of liquor and regulate its posession.

Prohibition Denounced

Neither major party has taken a stand on the issue but Randolph Carpenter, Democratic nominee for governor, is opposing prohibition as a "dismal failure."

If the amendment is approved, the legislature still would have to dispose of the dry statute on the Kansas lawbooks. And there is some doubt that a repealer would pass the legislature because the small counties, which outnumber the large ones, generally want the state to stay dry.

In nearby Arkansas, a referendum is on the ballot to require that local option elections to legalize the sale of whiskey, wine and beer be held only in connection with the regular biennial general elections.

In Colorado a proposed constitutional amendment would let any voting district ban the sale of intoxicating liquors within its boundaries. This would permit any of the state's 1,702 precincts to bar liquor sales, as well as any county, city or town. Under present law, only cities may vote on the dry question.

Two Proposals Offered

North Dakota will vote on a constitutional amendment to authorize municipal liquor stores, while South Dakota will put two related questions to its voters.

One, an initiative, would forbid the sale of alcoholic beverages on premises where anything except tobacco and soft drinks are sold. This would, in effect, divorce liquor from food sales. The second, a referendum, provides that no alcoholic liquor may be sold in containers holding less than one-tenth gallon, and that all whiskeys must be at least three years old.

On the Pacific coast, California has two constitutional amendments up for decision. The first provides generally for more local and less state control over retail liquor establishments. The second would permit local control of the sale of intoxicating liquors, but does not affect the manufacture, transportation or possession of them.

An initiative in Oregon would permit the sale of liquor by the drink in restaurants, hotels, clubs and on railroad trains. In Washington state, one initiative would restrict the sale of beer and wine to state liguor stores, thus halting present sales at taverns, restaurants and other places.

Another initiative on the Washington ballot would permit sale of liquor by the drink in hotels, restaurants and other public places with restaurant facilities. Sale of liquor by the drink is now prohibited, except in private clubs.

A Massachusetts statue permits a local option vote every other year. Voters will decide Nov. 2 whether their city or town is to be wet or dry for the next two years.

Texans, Oklahomans Fail To Buy U. S. Land

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—The Interior department said today about 50 Texas and Oklahoma residents may lose a chance to buy federal land along the Texas-Oklahoma border at $1.25 an acre.

Acting Secretary C. Girard Davidson said land-holders were advised of the sale almost a year ago. Although the offer expires Nov. 14, he said, "very few" have accepted it.

Davidson said that if the land is not sold by Nov. 14 it will be opened to claims by other persons under the general public land laws.

Settlement of a 100-year-old dispute over the Texas-Oklahoma boundary line disclosed that about 9,000 acres of federal land in a strip 156 miles long and 500 feet wide lies within the fields or fences of adjoining Texas and Oklahoma land owners.

The land is along the Cimarron base line in the southern end of Oklahoma's Cimarron, Texas and Beaver counties.

Congress last year authorized sale within a year of the disputed areas, at $1.25 an acre, to persons whose occupancy dated back at least 20 years.

Atlanta Man, 62, Seeks Divorce, Claims Wife Wanted Baby Sitter

ATLANTA, Oct. 20. (AP)—A 62-year-old bridegroom sued his 19-year-old wife for divorce, claiming she married him just to get a babysitter.

The wife, Evelyn Capes Ferrier, when advised of the suit yesterday, replied, "Pooh, looks to me like an annulment is all we need and, goodness knows, I'm willing."

The petition for divorce by Louis Ferrier said they were married Oct. 11; that his wife took her six-month-old baby by a previous marriage on their honeymoon.

Further, Ferrier alleged, she left him as a baby-sitter on the honeymoon while she drank for seven hours with a soldier.

Court Voids Office Of Jim Wells Road Administrative Officer

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP) — The supreme court today upheld validity of the county road unit system in Jim Wells county but declared void the commissioners court order creating the office of a county road unit administrative officer.

Accordngly, the high court reversed the judgements of the court of civil appeals and the district court and ruled in favor of Gus Canales and other taxpayers of Jim Wells county.

Canales, commissioner of county precinct 4, had asked the court to restrain county officers from paying a $390-per-month salary to Bryan Patterson, whom the commissioners court had named as road unit administrative officer.

Associate Justice James Hart, author of the court opinion, held that certain statutory requirements were not complied with in appointing Patterson.

He noted a statutory provision limiting road commissioners to only $2 per day. Another provision of state law permits road superintendents to receive a salary not to exceed $1,000 per year.

Further, Justice Hart pointed out, the law requires that an order of employment must be passed at a regular term of the commissioners court. The action appointing Patterson was taken at a special session of the court.

"Since the statutory requirements have not been observed in this case, the action of the commissioners court cannot be upheld," the opinion stated.

3,000,000th Auto To Be Built In U.S. This Year Is Completed

DETROIT, Oct. 20. (AP)—The 3,000,000th passenger automobile to be built in the United States this year rolled off the assembly lines this week.

With the trucks and coaches produced since Jan. 1 the industry's 1948 output to date now exceeds 4,125,000 vehicles.

Funeral Home To Serve Lubbock Colored People Is Set Up Here

Opening of a funeral home to serve Lubbock's colored population was announced Wednesday by Leo W. Sedberry, who will operate the establishment under the name of Sedberry and company.

The funeral home and chapel is located at 1605 Ave. C. Day and night ambulance service is available through telephone No. 2-7765, Sedberry said.

He also announced that the funeral home chapel is available without cost as a meeting place for civic, club and church groups.
