Actor's Son Dead

Michael Charles Boyer, 21, son of romantic French actor Charles Boyer, shot and killed himself early today in his Beverly Hills, Calif., home police reported. Police found Marilyn Campbell, 22, and John Kirsch at the house. Miss Campbell told police she had been dating Boyer, but had told him she was going to stop seeing him. She said that Boyer then left the room and that they heard a single shot from the den. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Actor's Son Shoots Self

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—Michael Charles Boyer, 21, son of French actor Charles Boyer, shot and killed himself early today in his home, police reported.

His father was in Paris where a movie studio representative had him call Mrs. Boyer here to learn of the tragedy. The actor arranged to fly to Los Angeles tonight.

IN PARIS

Charles Boyer, 66, was working on two films in Paris.

Michael died of a single bullet wound in the right temple, police reported. A revolver lay near the body.

Police said that Marilyn Campbell, 22, and John Kirsch, 22, were in the home when they arrived. Both are residents of Los Angeles and Kirsch is a student at Loyola University.

Police said Miss Campbell told them she had been dating Boyer but Wednesday night told him she was going to stop seeing him. She and Kirsch, who described himself as Boyer's house guest, said Boyer went into his den and shortly after they heard a gunshot.

"A LOSER"

Detective V.A. Peterson said Miss Campbell told him that Boyer told her 'he was a loser, that he had always been a loser and that if he lost me he would kill himself."

Police did not immediately classify the death as accidental or suicide.

Boyer was a record promoter and had been a dialogue director in the former television series, "The Rogues" in which his father was a star. He was the only child of Charles Boyer and his wife, the former British actress Patricia Paterson.

The parents' home is in Beverly Hills, not far from Michael's residence.

Thousands Fleeing Floods In Autumn's Violent Debut

Wet Roads Get Blame In Deaths

By The Associated Press

Deluges which have pounded parts of Texas all this week dwindled into showers dotting the state's east and south fringes as fall arrived today.

The violent weather as summer faded from the scene was blamed for at least three deaths in Texas auto accidents.

Remnants of a cold front producing the rainfall still lingered, nearly stationary, this morning along a line linking Texarkana, Corpus Christi and Laredo. Temperatures were pleasantly cooler in its wake.

NEW FRONT

Meanwhile another and milder front started edging cooler air into the Texas Panhandle but it appeared unlikely to have much effect.

Airman Henry F. Dress, 21, of Berclair, Tex., home on leave from Minot Air Force Base, N. D., was killed Wednesday night when his car upset on a wet road near Taft in South Texas.

A car-truck crash in driving rain killed Mrs. J. C. Alexander, about 80, of Greenville earlier Wednesday. The accident happened close to Lufkin, which received 6.19 inches of rain.

Dr. R. G. Campbell, 42, of Dallas died the day before when a truck hit his car as it skidded at a wet curve in Dallas.

Showers still dotted the area south and east of the front stretching from Texarkana to Laredo early today. Behind the front it was cloudy with early morning fog at numerous points across North Central Texas and along the coast. Skies were clear elsewhere.

The latest forecasts called for no further rain through Friday, however, except for isolated showers in the edge of Northeast Texas and along the upper and middle Texas coast.

Comfortable temperatures were expected to linger over the northern half of the state and to spread into most southern areas.

'Occupational Qualifications' Held The Key

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission says newspaper help wanted ads must make clear either a man or woman is acceptable, except—.

And that's where the commission is, figuratively speaking, groping for words.

In guidelines issued Wednesday night, the commission said that classified help wanted advertising "may not indicate a preference based on sex unless a bona fide occupational qualification makes it lawful to specify male or female."

BONA FIDE?

So what "bona fide occupational qualifactions" would limit a job to one sex?

The commission hopes to give some advice on that in a couple of weeks, a spokesman said.

The guidelines offered by the commission are an interpretation of the Civil Rights Act's section 704B which deals with advertising for employment on the basis of race, color, religion, sex or national origin.

The commission, originally established to ensure equal treatment for Negro job-seekers, said earlier that ads specifying "colored" or "white" would not be tolerated.

Now it was faced with whether ads titled "help wanted-male" or "help wanted-female" are an illegal expression of a preference for one sex under the civil rights law.

The commission decided that in order to avoid an implication of preference:

The newspaper must print a notice explaining that the classification of ads into "male" and "female" columns is not intended to indicate that members of the opposite sex are excluded or discouraged from applying.

The advertiser must indicate in his ad that men and women will be considered for the job.

Prize Winner

The judges had already tabbed the pumpkins with the special ribbons otherwise there might have been a special prize for the drowsiest baby to 8-weeks-old Barbara Elaine Dufour of Laurel, Md. The baby caught up on her sleeping among the exhibits at the Prince Georges County Fair at nearby Upper Marlboro, Md., while her mother was busy with a garden display. The pumpkins, an autumn fruit, were particularly timely today, the first day of fall. (AP WIREPHOTO).

Deluges Hit Midwestern Farm Lands

By The Associated Press

Autumn rushed in with violence today as rains pounded the nation's soggy midsection and rivers flooded farm land and homes, driving thousands of persons to higher ground.

Autumn nudged summer into history at 12:06 a.m. Big Spring time today.

But the passing of the summer season was only a formality. The weather continued its dreary and damaging weeklong routine of torrential rainstorms which spawned raging floods.

At least two persons died in weather-connected accidents.

Blinding rains bringing up to 10 inches of water pelted much of Texas and sent the Pedernales River rising in front of President Johnson's LBJ Ranch home.

The Pedernales was 10 feet above normal, flowing over the low water bridges leading to the LBJ Ranch, isolated by the floodwaters.

OVER BRIDGES

Austin, Tex., was soaked with 4 inches of rain, the LBJ Ranch 4 inches and a 10-inch deluge fell between Fredericksburg and Llano in the same area.

Marble Falls, Tex., reported 8.4 inches of rain and Lake Lyndon B. Johnson, where the President takes his speedboat and cruiser rides, reported 6.98 inches.

A tornado north of Longview in eastern Texas damaged several oil storage tanks and well derricks and ripped up trees.

Many rivers spilled over their banks in the mid-Mississippi Valley Wednesday, with serious flooding reported in parts of Kansas, Iowa, Arkansas, Missouri, Texas, Oklahoma and Illinois.

NEW WARNINGS

New flood warnings were issued for the Washita River in southwestern Oklahoma. In northern Oklahoma, some 1,500 residents began returning home to clear tons of debris in the Guthrie-Kingfisher-El Reno-Stillwater area.

The Washita was expected to crest at 23 to 24 feet today at Anadarko, Okla. If so, the crest would be four to five feet above flood stage.

In Illinois, torrential rains flooded out tiny Pearl City near Freeport in the northern sector. But the 500 residents were returning home as the Yellow Creek subsided after the town's worst flood in 25 years.

In the South, Arkansas was hit hard by torrential rains and stiff winds following heavy damage by Hurricane Betsy two weeks ago.

Damage to crops was feared heavy.

Two Ft. Smith, Ark., fishermen drowned when their car plunged off a bridge during a downpour into a small, normally shallow stream swollen to a 10-foot depth by rains.

UNEASY PEACE

India, Pakistan Guns Silenced

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — After 22 days of bloody conflict, an uneasy peace settled today over the 590 million people of India and Pakistan.

The guns were silenced on the India-Pakistan front before dawn as scheduled in a cease-fire both sides accepted under U.N. auspices.

On the mountainous northern frontier, Communist China failed to break the peace as India expected — and the Reds appeared to be building a Himalayan version of the Berlin wall.

JELEP WALL

Cement and stone were reported being used to put up a wall near Jelep Pass, one of the contested 12,000-foot high routes connectnig the Indian protectorate of Sikkim with Chinese ruled Tibet.

A defense ministry spokesman described it for newsmen.

The India-Pakistan peace was uneasy because, although both nations had fought at great cost, they did not solve their bitter quarrel over ownership of the Himalayan state of Kashmir.

By Indian reckoning, 3,840 Pakistani and 1,157 Indian soldiers, plus hundreds of civilians, died in the conflict. The cost in terms of economic dislocation in the impoverished subcontinent was incalculable.

FEAR STAYS

President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan said that if the Kashmir problem is not solved, "this continent will again be engulfed in a much wider conflict."

In a broadcast to the Pakistani people, Ayub called the U.N. Security Council's cease-fire order "inadequate and unsatisfactory" because it did not lay down a specific solution for Kashmir. But he said Pakistan would comply in the interest of international peace.

The Chinese had moved troops up to the border near Jelep Pass and at many other points along the 1,000-mile India-China border. Last Friday the Chinese gave India three days to dismantle military installations on the Sikkim-Tibet border which they claimed were on Chinese territory. They later extended the ultimatum by three days.

It expired Wednesday and the Reds announced that Indian troops had heeded Chinese demands and had torn down the installations. But, the Chinese, said, "the matter is far from being closed."

The Indians denied they had dismantled any installations in the disputed area.

While India and Pakistan were arranging to get back to a peacetime footing as quickly as possible, the United Nations rushed about 30 military men to India to supervise the cease-fire.

Goldberg's Assembly Talk Bitterly Attacks Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg declared today the United States is trying to prevent South Viet Nam from becoming the first victim of Communist China's attempt at world domination.

In a major policy speech to the 117-nation General Assembly, Goldberg unleashed a bitter attack on Communist China, accusing that country of seeking to change world order "by force and violence."

DISASTROUS RESULTS

He said Peking's present philosophy "can only lead to the most disastrous consequences for the entire world."

As to U.S. actions in South Viet Nam, he said:

"We are helping to meet his challenge because we feel it must be met. And our goals in South Viet Nam are plain and simple. We seek only to insure the independence of Viet Nam, its freedom from attack and opportunity for its people to determine their own future."

He said the United States stands ready "to withdraw our forces when Communist aggression is ended and South Viet Nam is left alone to determine its own destiny in its own way by the principles of self-determination.

SEEK PEACE

"Above all, we seek a peaceful solution. We have repeatedly stated our willingness to enter into peaceful discussions, and I reaffirm that willingness here today."

He said that the United States has asked U.N. members "individually and collectively to use their influence to bring about such discussions. We have asked the members of the Security Council and the secretary-general to help get such negotiations started."

Goldberg declared that U.N. members, under the charter, share a common responsibility "to demonstrate to those who use violence that violence does not pay. And we can also meet that responsibility by persuading the regimes of Hanoi and Peking to leave their neighbor alone."

FULL DEBATE

The Viet Nam question is not on the assembly's agenda, but the United States is reconciled to a full-scale debate on it. The United States decided to lead off with a comprehensive policy outline in advance of expected criticism.

A U.S. spokesman was asked whether the United States had any objection to discussion of the Viet Nam problem in the assembly.

"Not at all," he replied. "We expect to discuss it ourselves. We know that Viet Nam probably will be included in most of the policy speeches of the delegates, it being a world problem."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko will deliver the policy statement of the Soviet Union Friday morning. If he follows the pattern set by the Soviets in U.N. peacekeeping and disarmament meetings this year, he will attack U.S. Viet Nam policy vigorously.

Home Rule Bill Pushed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A series of concessions and perhaps the first religious ceremony ever to be held in the Capitol were held out today to lure and hold votes for a bill to provide self-government for Washington residents.

The House takes up the bitterly fought bill Monday, which is the Jewish holy day of Rosh Hashanah. The special holiday services are designed to permit Jewish congressmen to participate without violating religious restrictions. Most of them are counted as supporters of the measure.

Four amendments—one to let Congress keep direct control over the federal contribution to the District of Columbia in lieu of taxes — were proposed Wednesday by a bipartisan group of the bill's supporters to avoid its defeat.

Rep. Abraham J. Multer, D-N.Y., announced plans for the special Jewish services and said he believes they are the first ever in the Capitol. He said Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., approved the plan.

Bean Shortage Hurts Valley

HARLINGEN (AP) — A bean shortage in the Lower Rio Grande Valley is causing hardship to thousands of Latin American families.

Bad weather in the Rocky Mountains caused a drain on the pinto bean market. Grocery stores predict their stocks will be exhausted this weekend.

"We can't buy beans at any price right now," said Norvin Parr, a grocery wholesaler in Donna.

County Officials Trapping Pigeons

GENEVA, Ill. (AP) — Things are pretty much for the birds at the Kane County Courthouse in Geneva.

Pigeons have been perching on the air conditioner and on widow ledges.

Officials have caught 200 pigeons in wire traps this summer.

The birds have been turned over to citizens who have pigeon lofts.

Nehru Cites Chinese Menace In Aid Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indian Ambassador B. K. Nehru said today his country faces a long-term threat from Red China and the United States should resume military aid shipments — without waiting for some new Chinese pressure — in order to strengthen Indian defenses against that threat.

Nehru also told The Associated Press in an interview that the use of American-supplied arms by Pakistan in its war with India "has caused ill feeling" in his country toward the United States.

And, Nehru claimed, Pakistan has lost the war with India. Hostilities were halted early this morning by a cease-fire. So far as India is concerned, Nehru said, the main result of the fighting has been to harden India's determination to hold on to the disputed territory of Kashmir. He virtually ruled out trying to solve the Kashmir problem through a plebiscite, saying, "We are not prepared any longer — after 18 years — to regard a solution proposed 18 years ago as being the correct solution of this problem."

In 1947, Viscount Mountbatten, then India's governor general, pledged a plebiscite when peace in then disrupted Kashmir was restored.

In 1949 India told the United Nations it would submit to a plebiscite — a referendum on sovereignty — in Kashmir provided Pakistan withdrew its forces from the disputed territory.

The plebiscite never was held. India contended Pakistan did not withdraw its troops. Pakistan said it kept them there because India never intended to permit a plebiscite.

While making these points, Nehru ridiculed Red China's assertion that India had yielded to its ultimatum of last week and destroyed 56 military positions in the Himalayan border region. He renewed India's charge that the Chinese Communists acted in collusion with Pakistan to divert Indian forces from the Pakistan warfront to the Chinese frontier. The collusion charge had been angrily denied by Pakistani spokesmen.

SUSPENDS AID

The United States suspended military aid shipments to both India and Pakistan earlier this month. When Red China began threatening India and accusing it of aggression on the Chinese frontier India asked that the embargo be lifted. Nehru said he was still waiting for a reply.

Nehru was asked if his government would request the United States to resume military aid in the event of new pressures from Red China.

"We would certainly ask the United States to resume military aid to India," he replied, "irrespective of the Chinese attacking us or not at this moment because the long-term threat continues. Whether they draw back now or not, the long-term threat that India has from China will continue for a very long time."

Nehru then argued that the U.S. embargo on arms shipments to his country was unjustified.

School Appropriations Bill Signed By Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a bill providing money for the new school aid program and called on local officials and teachers to translate "the vision of this law into the vitality of our country's education system."

As he signed the bill providing over $1 billion for federal aid to elementary and secondary schools, Johnson said the federal government could not do the job alone.

UP TO BOARDS

"The main task now lies with the local school boards, with the parents and teachers, with the state school superintendents and the state education commissioners," Johnson said.

"To you, I say: Act now. Get your plans made. Open your schools to the promise of these new programs."

5.5 MILLION

Johnson said the bill would "reach out to 5.5 million children held behind their more fortunate schoolmates by the dragging anchor of poverty."

The bill includes $775 million for grants to local school districts to upgrade the education of children from poor families; $100 million for grants to purchase textbooks and library materials; $75 million for supplementary educational centers, $25 million for educational research, and $17 million to strengthen state education departments.

Jackie Shindig Ends In Late Supper Party

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy's party honoring former Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith started out decorously at an art gallery and wound up in the wee hours today as a frenetic discotheque supper party.

At 1 a.m. Mrs. Kennedy requested "the fastest music you've got," and perspiring discotheque dance teacher Killer Joe Piro bounced among 100 of the world's most beautiful and influential people demonstrating the monkey and the jerk.

FAMILY PRESENT

Almost all the family was there, Sen. and Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, Mrs. Pat Lawford, the Stephen Smiths, and Princess Lee Radziwill. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy sprinted into the party late.

A small gathering of friends at Mrs. Kennedy's Fifth Avenue apartment moved to the Asia House Gallery, where she and Galbraith had loaned several Indian miniature paintings on display.

ELITE GUESTS

Among the guests were the W. Averell Harrimans, French Ambassador and Mrs. Herve Alphand, Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Robert S. McNamara, historian Arthur Schlesinger and wife and artist William Walton.

These joined more Kennedys and 80 other women in elegant formal wear and men in starched shirts and black ties at the Sign of the Dove, which had closed its doors to the public and the press on this private occasion.

From the outside the crowds pressed against police barricades to watch the gyrations of transplanted Washington society in an atmosphere of brick garden walls, shadowy torch lights, and foliage bathed in green light.

The 11 members of Den 4, Pack 100 built a barn, complete with cut-out animals, Wednesday in following the theme, "Barn Raising." They plan to display their handiwork at the pack meeting next Tuesday. The Cub Scouts meet at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

Vatican Meet To Take Up Church Issues

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Small issues as well as major ones will come under the Vatican Ecumenical Council's scrutiny during its debate on the church in the modern world, it was learned today.

As the 2,200 Roman Catholic prelates of the council went into a third day of debate on the general lines of the document, some of the marginal issues it treats became known.

WORLD PEACE

Major questions like birth control, nuclear warfare and world peace have gained all the attention since the document was first brought into St. Peter's Basilica last October.

But the document does not overlook minor actions that form a mosaic picture of morals today — the speeding motorist who jeopardizes the lives of others, the tax dodger who lets his fellow citizens carry an extra load, the violator of public hygiene laws who menaces a neighborhood's health.

MODERN DRESS

As for the definition of who is one's neighbor, answered by Christ in the Gospel account of the Good Samaritan, the council schema gives the idea modern dress in this way:

"Our neighbor is the old man forgotten by everyone, the foreign worker who everyone looks down upon without reason, the illegitimate child who unjustly bears the weight of a misdeed that the child itself did not commit, the hungry who appear unexpectedly on the television screen awakening our sleeping conscience. . . ."

Pope Readies Visit To N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Pope Paul VI's journey to the United Nations to plead for peace will include a meeting with American religious representatives.

The Pope will confer with Protestant, Orthodox and Jewish emissaries to the United Nations on the cause of world peace.

AGENDA LENGTHENED

The meeting was added to his itinerary Wednesday, as was a visit to the Vatican pavilion at the World's Fair.

The Pope's visit to New York Oct. 4 also will include a meeting with President Johnson and celebration of Mass at Yankee Stadium.

The brief conference will be with spiritual leaders "who share the concern for peace," said the Rev. Timothy Flynn, head of the Bureau of Information of the New York Roman Catholic archdiocese.

"CHURCH OF U.N."

It will be held at Holy Family Church — "the Church of the United Nations" — on 47th Street, adjoining the world organization's headquarters.

Top denominational leaders also may participate in the 30-minute meeting, but full details have not been worked out. The church sanctuary holds 300.

Sewer System Grant Approved

Knott Clubber Wins Fair Honor

LAMESA — Lawrence Long, Howard County 4-H Club leader, won the championship trophy in the commercial steer competition at the Dawson County Fair this week.

His heavyweight Hereford, which had won first place in its division, ousted the lightweight champion Hereford shown by Mike McLain, a fellow club member, for the Hereford ribbon. It then went on to take the fair championship for all breeds.

McLain's lightweight was the first place winner in its division. Three other Howard County 4-H club steers, shown by Dero Shaw, Linda Shaw and Larry Shaw, were all classified as red ribbon winners. All of the exhibitors are from Knott community.

Sealab Men Forced To Delay Dive

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — A fouled line has caused the aquanauts in Sealab 2 to postpone their scheduled deep dive for the second time.

The aquanauts left their capsule at 205 feet beneath the sea Wednesday on an excursion that could have taken them down to their safety limit of 266 feet.

Their record to date is 234 feet.

But a kink developed in the air line to their depth gauge and they had to give it up for another day,

The men are in good condition, according to officials who paid them a short visit Wednesday.

Steve Evans Has Busy Year Ahead

ARLINGTON — This week Steve Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Evans, 616 State, Big Spring, began a busy senior year as president of the Arlington State College student government, representing some 12,000 men and women.

The campus leader, who has compiled a 2.8 grade average (3-0 is perfect) as a physics major, admits that he did not intend to get involved in campus politics.

"I got wrapped up in the cause," he said of his election victory last spring. Evans was vice president of the student body last year during ASC's controversy with Texas A&M

"We are in the process of improving communication links between the students, faculty and campus organizations," Evans said. "I've visited many college campuses, and I believe we have something unique at Arlington. ASC is a young school (it became a four-year college in 1959) and now is the time to build a community for scholars."

STEVE EVANS

Evans has been a hard-working student in his three years at ASC. After graduating from Fort Worth Paschal High School in 1962 where he held the city's highest ROTC rank as brigade colonel, he applied for a Ling-Temco-Vought scholarship.

"I didn't get it (he was first runnerup), so I applied for the company's co-op program," he said.

Many companies in the Dallas-Fort Worth area have cooperative educational programs whereby a student works one semester for the company and attends college the next term. The firm pays for tuition and books.

After three years in the program, Steve has completed his agreement with LTV and will devote the next two semesters as a full-time student and campus leader.

"I enjoyed being a co-op student," Steve says. "They let me work in several areas at the Grand Prairie plant such as research, aerodynamic and the wind tunnel.

Evans has held down two jobs while going to ASC. He gets free room and board at Arlington's Lee House, a privately owned dormitory for men and women, by working as a counselor and desk clerk. A counselor helps maintain discipline and assists students with their lessons.

While working at the dormitory, Evans was influenced about his future plans after graduation next spring. Earlier this year ASC conducted a relativity conference for college mathematics and physics professors. The visiting educators stayed at Lee House.

"I got to know some of them real well," Steve explains. "Being a physics major, I helped the professors set up laboratory experiments during the day. Sometimes at night they would invite me to sit in on their bull sessions."

Steve says the most interesting person was Dr. Vaclav Hiavaty, renowned 71-year-old physicist and lecturer who was the first to obtain a solution to Albert Einstein's unified field equation.

"When you sit in on one of those sessions you really see the brains fly. I was so impressed that I decided I wanted to go into phsycis research. I hope to get a graduate fellowship somewhere out-of-state."

But the tall, slim youth plans to take first things first. "I'm worried about keeping up my grades and doing a good job as president. My main goal this year is to rewrite the student government constitution."

Assault Trial Point Pushed

DUNCAN, Okla. (AP) — A State Crime Bureau agent disputed today the testimony of another witness who said she first identified Bert Lana in April, 1964, as the person she saw with Tama Hallmark before she was stabbed.

Ernest Lovett, testifying in Lana's trial on charges of assault and battery with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, was among witnesses called in the start of the fourth day of Lana's trial.

Deputy Sheriff Boyd Vanteine also told of examining footprints near the scene where Hallmark, a high school beauty queen, was brutally beaten and stabbed about 50 times.

Lovett testified that until October 1964, he was not told positively by Mrs. J. A. Warren that Lana, 17, was the person she saw with Miss Hallmark the afternoon of the attack, Jan. 6, 1964.

Mrs. Warren had testified she first made the identification in April, 1964.

Tourist Agency Head To Speak

Bomber Logs 1,900 MPH

EDWARDS AIR FORCE Base, Calif. (AP) — Research bomber XB70A made its 16th flight Wednesday — one-hour-and-57-minutes — during which the plane reached a top speed of 1,900 miles per hour and an altitude of 66,400 feet.

Although the plane is designed to fly a maximum of three times the speed of sound and at 70,000 feet, a spokesman for North American Aviation, Inc., builders of the plane, said no date has been set to test the plane for its maximum capabilities.

Twin Trials On In Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In halting, sobbed, broken sentences, a 19-year-old girl described to an all-woman jury of how a gang of youths repeatedly raped her.

And simultaneously, only one door away, her father, Police Lt. Thomas O'Neal wept Wednesday as he underwent cross-examination at his trial, charged with shooting a youth he believed to be one of his daughter's assailants.

Veteran court observers said it was the first time they could remember two such related trials involving a father and daughter.

"And it's a pity," said one attorney, who asked not to be identified. "If it hadn't been for the attack, there most certainly would not have been this second trial."

Three young men are charged with raping Shirley O'Neal last June 29 as she was selling cookbooks door-to-door to make money to enter college this fall.

Two other men are charged with aiding and abetting the assault.

Clad in a black and white plaid dress, Miss O'Neal, a slim brunette, began to stammer and bit her nails when asked to describe the attack.

Next door her father cried uncontrollably as he described his daughter following the rape, saying that for days "she had the mind of a child."

Officers have testified that O'Neal, 41, entered the West Valley police station July 2. When he saw two youths being brought from the rear of the building, they said, O'Neal pulled his service revolver from a shoulder holster and fired several shots. Two of the shots struck Carl Norman, 21.

Norman, since acquitted on a narcotics charge, has recovered from the wounds. Norman was cleared of any connection with the rape case.

Several Thefts Are Investigated

The owners of Standard Cigarette Sales, 811 E. 3rd, reported the front door of the business forced yesterday or early this morning and a portable typewriter taken, officers said.

Someone forced the south door of a resident at 2300 Brent within the past two weeks and stripped the place of wiring, window screens, furnace and air-conditioner controls, officers reported today.

Mrs. Patsy Henkel, Sav-Mor Grocery, said her billfold containing $20 and the key to a night deposit box was taken from her purse yesterday afternoon while she was at the grocery.

Mrs. E. J. Clark, 1006 W. 7th, reported a portable typewriter stolen from her residence between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Infant Girl Hit, Killed By Auto

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A backing car struck and killed 16-month-old Alice Lopez in a driveway Wednesday night. Police said she was playing at the house of an aunt across the street from the child's home.

Red Cross Teams Work To Assist Betsy Victims

Red Cross teams are working hard to keep abreast of a rising torrent of food, clothing, and medical supplies arriving in New Orleans for use in 11 shelters still housing, 7,614 victims of Hurricane Betsy. Another 8,000 persons are being given meals from mobile units.

More than 600 tons of food, clothing and medical supplies have been donated by firms for victims. Vans rush arriving materials to hard-hit parishes on a 24-hour basis. Baby food, cleaning supplies, disposable diapers, fruit juices, staple food and drugs are typical items in the mountain of contributed goods.

Recovery and clean-up are key phrases in Red Cross operations. In New Orleans, the Red Cross has registered more than 6,000 families so far, furnishing food, clothing and household items as needed. Elsewhere a gigantic mop-up is under way. Families returning home must shovel out foul silt and sand several feet thick. Municipal clean-up crews are removing both live and dead animals and snakes in devastated areas before families can return.

Cash contributions to Red Cross disaster relief continue to come in from individuals, foundations, businesses, United Funds, and other Red Cross chapters. In addition to the $148,000 contributed by the Detroit United Fund through the chapter there, another $5,000 was received from the McGregor Fund of Detroit.

Those who wish to help in the relief program of Hurricane Betsy victims are asked to send donations immediately. Checks should be made to the Red Cross, and mailed to Red Cross, Big Spring.

Another $5,000 was received from the Greater Longview, Texas, United Fund, while Red Cross chapters at Scott County, Iowa, and Franklin County, Kansas, contributed $2,000 and $500 respectively. The United Fund at Dallas contributed $35,000 through the chapter there. At New Orleans the AFL-CIO presented Red Cross disaster officials there with a check for $25,000 for disaster relief. Red Cross expenditures on Hurricane Betsy are expected to reach $5,000,000.

No Quorum At Parks Meeting

Three members of the Park and Recreation Board were absent at the scheduled 4 p.m. meeting of the board Wednesday, and a quorum was not present.

Six of the seven items on the agenda were not discussed, but the three members present, Jack Watkins, Mrs. H. W. Smith and Don Newsom talked with A. N. Standard, sheriff; Jay Banks, police chief; John Burgess, city attorney; Sherrill Farmer, city detective; and W. H. Eyssen Jr., city judge, about juvenile laws and City Park vandalism.

Burgess said adequate laws are on the books locally as well as in state statutes, and that the problem of vandalism lies in how much money the city is willing to spend in increasing law enforcement.

Chief Banks suggested hiring a night watchman for the City Park to help police control the increasing park vandalism. Watkins said perhaps some retired persons would volunteer their services as park watchmen.

But without a quorum the board could not make recommendations, and after the vandalism problem was discussed, the meeting adjourned.

All items not discussed yesterday (swimming pool receipts report, Elm tree beetle spraying, financial report of the bond fund, the condition of the park swimming pools, signs for the overnight tourist park, and a report on the park amphitheater) will be brought up at the next regular meeting Oct. 18, Watkins said.

Grandparents Take Girls Back To San Antonio

Maria Ester Coronado, 7, and her 4-year-old sister, Olivia, are in the home of relatives in San Antonio today. The bodies of their mother and father, two of their sisters and a brother are at the Oritz Funeral Home, in the same city where funeral arrangements are being made.

The two little girls, sole survivors of the ill-starred Enrique Coronado family of seven, were taken to San Antonio late Wednesday by their grandparents.

Doctors at the Cowper Hospital and Clinic rigged temporary splints on the broken thigh and fractured arm of Olivia and taped Maria Ester as best they could so the children could endure the 300 mile night trip in the car of their grandparents.

The father, Enrique Coronado, died at 11 a.m. Wednesday and was hurriedly placed aboard the same airplane which the Oritz Funeral Home had sent here to bring back the bodies of the other four Coronados.

The Coronado family was nearly decimated when their car left the road, plunged across the ravine and crashed into a concrete bridge abutment south of here sometime Monday morning.

Tools Stolen

Burglars who gained entrance to the building by breaking a west window, took $500 worth of hand tools from the Pat Patterson Garage, 501 E. 1st, sometime Wednesday night. Sheriff A. N. Standard, who investigated the burglary, said that he has a lead which he hopes will result in apprehension of the burglar and possible recovery of the tools.

Pressure Toward Inflation Seen Hiked By Defense Bill

NEW YORK (AP) —The $46.88-billion defense appropriation shows Americans what they'll be spending in the current fiscal year for guns. Rising prices on some basic consumer items and expectations of still higher charges for some industrial products gives a hint of how much they'll be spending for butter.

The economy has grown so tremendous that for the time being it can provide plenty of both guns and butter.

But in banking circles there's still worry about just how much faster the economic pace can be without overheating. That is, how long can pressures for another inflationary bulge be contained?

MORE PRESSURE

The $1.7-billion that Congress just voted as a start on paying for an increased war won't in itself upset the balance the economy has maintained in its nonstop growth into a fifth year. But it adds just that much more to the pressures that many see building up this fall.

And prices are rising here and there. This is especially true in the field of industrial materials. It's also true of some consumer goods and services.

More companies are talking about their need to raise prices to meet rising production costs. Many haven't done much along this line yet because their industries still have surplus capacity which makes competition between companies keen. Mechanization, too, has increased productivity by cutting the number of man hours needed to turn out a product, and this helps hold prices in balance.

But as production swells, idle capacity dwindles. And as production costs go up — higher wage scales, costlier raw materials — the time may be approaching for many companies when they can raise prices on their goods and make the increases stick.

The rise this year in defense spending fits into the picture this way: It is just another of the stimulants for greater industrial activity, and that means more jobs, more spending money, higher profits. All these things provide the markets in which to sell products even if their price tags are higher.

On the more technical side, bankers also watch this year's increase in the demand for bank loans. Business is in an expansionary mood, and that with increased government spending, builds up pressure.

There's a good chance that price rises apparently just ahead, and government spending that seems sure to go on increasing, won't upset an economy as large and sober-minded as the current one.

But the conservatives insist the pressures are there, are apparently building up, and need watching.

Medicare Forms Are In The Mail For Beneficiaries

Mailing of 15½ million "Medicare" applications to Social Security and railroad retirement beneficiaries, which started Sept. 1, is moving smoothly and all beneficiaries should receive them by December, Erven Fisher, Social Security district manager here, reported today.

A booklet explaining protection under the new hospital insurance plan and what additional supplementary protection is available under the voluntary medical insurance program is being sent along with the application.

Fisher said all applications will be mailed in plenty of time to be returned before March 31, 1966, the last day of the first general enrollment period.

The mailings are being made on a regular schedule, based on the last digit of a beneficiary's claim number. This means, Fisher continued, that a husband and wife may receive their applications at different times, if the wife's benefits are based on her own work.

Also, because of the scheduling, next-door neighbors probably will get their applications at different times.

Another problem that has arisen, Fisher added, is that some husbands and wives are both signing the same enrollment card. Each beneficiary will get his own card in the mail and should not use someone else's card.

People who have questions about health insurance for the aged should get in touch with the Big Spring Social Security district office, 1009 Gregg, Big Spring. The telephone number is AM 4-5226.

C-City Schools Sell Bond Issue

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Supt. Frank Wilson announced Wednesday that bonds, totaling $550,000 to finance major improvements in the city schools, had been sold.

Wilson said the school board has set Oct. 20 as the date for opening bids for construction and improvements at five schools. Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. on that date at the Civic House.

The superintendent said the 22-year bonds were sold to the First National Bank of Fort Worth on a bid of 3.445 per cent interest rate. There were 11 bidders.

Washita River Out Of Banks

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Washita River kept flooding bottomlands today between Carnegie and Anadarko.

Gov. Henry Bellmon planned an inspection of flood damage in Kingfisher, Canadian and Logan counties.

The Washita rose at Carnegie Wednesday to 21.80 feet, 3.80 feet above flood stage, but was slowly falling. The river should go below its 18-foot flood stage late today, the Oklahoma City River District office reported.

At Anadarko, downstream from Carnegie, the Washita was at 17.44 feet and rising. The river was to crest at 23 to 24 feet today, well above flood stage of 19 feet.

Livstock warnings were issued for areas downstream from Anadarko as the Washita was expected to get out of bounds early today.

Guthrie Mayor Johnny Johnson estimated flood damage in Logan County would be $1 million.

Flood losses at El Reno just west of Oklahoma City were estimated at $100,000.

Grains Lead Farm Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report showed today that the Agriculture Department's bank for financing price support and related farm-aid programs has spent more on grains than all other farm products combined.

This bank — the Commodity Credit Corp. — reported on its financial operations from Oct. 17, 1933, when it began operating, until July 1, 1965.

A total outlay of $46,973,000,000 was shown for this period.

Of this amount, $25,231,000,000 was spent on wheat and livestock feed grains programs.

Wheat programs cost $14,602,000,000. Feed grain programs totaled $8,629,000,000.

The CCC report showed total outlays of $4,633,000,000 on cotton; $5,091,000,000 on dairy products; $1,599,000,000 on vegetable oils and oilseeds; $349 million on tabacco; $584 million on wool, and $1.4 billion on rice.

Past Summer Was Cooler

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau reported today the past summer was cooler and wetter than normal.

In June, July and August, temperatures in most parts of the country averaged about two degrees below normal. Only in small, scattered sections was it slightly warmer than normal, the bureau said.

The bureau's weekly crop bulletin said seasonal rainfall was above normal over more than half the country, although drouth persisted in the Northeast.

Drivers Hurt In Stanton Mishap

STANTON (SC)—Both drivers were injured in a mishap 2.2 miles west of here on US 80 about 3:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Robert Williamson, Elm Springs, Ark., was driving a Willis Shaw Frozen Express van loaded with frozen food, which collided with the rear of a pickup, driven by Garrett Smith, Stanton. Both vehicles were going east, and neither driver could give officers an explanation of how the mishap occurred.

Attendants in the Stanton hospital this morning said both men are in satisfactory condition. Smith has an injured shoulder and rib fractures. Williamson has bruises and cuts on his arms and legs. Smith was thrown from his pickup and the big van was turned over.

Wheat Program Signup Is Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has decided against holding a signup this fall for farmer participation in a 1966 crop wheat program.

The decision was made because of delay in Congress in enacting legislation extending, with some revisions, the wheat stabilization program. If the bill is passed, a signup period would be held next spring for winter wheat, spring wheat and feed grains.

The signup would determine which farmers will cooperate with grain programs by limiting plantings. Participants would be eligible for payments supplementing returns from sale of grain.

Road Accident Loss $10 Billion

NEW YORK (AP) — The Insurance Information Institute says the economic loss from traffic accidents in 1964 totaled nearly $10 billion. The institute is spokesman for the property and liability insurance industry.

Texas Highway Record

On any given day, more than 1,000 miles of highway are under construction in the state of Texas.

There appears to be no stopping, and as long as population and commerce grow, there will be none, although Texas today has more than 66,000 miles in its designated highway system, more than any other state. Of this total there are approximately 3,000 miles of interstate (more than any other state), 26,000 miles of primary and 37,000 miles of Farm-to-Market, or secondary highways.

These are figures, but back of them is an impressive system of administration of which the state justly can be proud. Texans don't have to "brag" about their highways — the record is there.

Some major points to be considered, as Highway Week is observed, include:

Relative administrative cost for the Texas highway system has been diminishing for more than 30 years, and for the past decade represented only .851 per cent of total expenditures.

The vast construction and maintenance program has been accomplished without one taint of scandal or malfesance, and the state has been getting what it pays for. This, of course, is tribute to State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer, recognized as probably the top man in his field throughout the world. He has under him 25 district engineers, each responsible for his own area, and all of them responsible, efficient, dedicated men.

The state follows a "balanced" highway program, so that every area, every community, is serviced upon need. And along with all this construction is a tremendous program of maintenance and beautification (the Highway Department is the biggest landscape gardener in Texas.)

The over-all result is little short of fantastic, but the progress never stops. Today the department is looking ahead 20 years, to make travel faster, safer and more productive.

This all is a source of real pride to every Texan.

Enlightened Management

Texas Electric Service Company demonstrated its efficacy in the area of employe relations the other night as it saluted new members of its "Quarter Century Club," with recognition to those who have served the company 25 years.

What is more important to the community at large is that TESCO unceasingly presses upon its people the importance of service to customers, and service to community. They are, without exception, urged to take part in civic, religious and welfare activities to make their home towns better places — for the good of the company and themselves, it may be added, but also for the good of the community.

Enlightened management goes a long way toward setting the "tone" of public responsibility of those who work for any given company. Big Spring is blessed with this character in a number of its major employes, and the town is better off for it.

U.S. And Russia Vs. Red China

WASHINGTON — When the United States and the Soviet Union lined up this week on the same side to put through the Security Council of the United Nations by unanimous vote a resolution calling on India and Pakistan to accept a cease-fire and withdraw their troops to their original positions, an event of far-reaching signifcance took place. Not only did Washington act together but Red China was, in effect, isolated.

THERE HAVE BEEN circumstantial reports indicating that the Soviet government has not been happy with the behavior of Red China in international affairs, but the showdown did not come until the resolution of the Security Council in the United Nations was acted upon early Monday morning.

Just why did the Moscow government turn away from its ally? The basic reason undoubtedly is that any large-scale war would cost the Soviet Union a good deal of money that is sorely needed in the domestic economic crises facing the Soviet leaders.

NATURALLY, there is satisfaction here that the Soviet emissaries to the U.N. and the American representatives saw eye-to-eye on the wording of the resolution that was adopted by the Security Council. It serves not merely as a warning to India and Pakistan that they had better extricate themselves from the situation in which they have become involved, but also as a warning to Red China that it had better not meddle any further.

The relations between Peiping and Moscow have been a source of much concern here for a long time. While outwardly there have been signs of discord, there was no certainty that underneath it all an understanding might not prevail—particularly since the ideological objectives of Red China and the Soviet Union are similar. Although the Soviet Union has concurred in the idea of carrying on subversion and infiltration campaigns around the world, it has not been willing to provoke any large military operations.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that the Soviet Union would not have been averse to letting India and Pakistan fight it out between themselves, but the moment Red China issued its ultimatum to India, the danger of an enlarged war undoubtedly caused a change of heart in Moscow. Nor could it be overlooked that the United States today has placed a sizable military force in Viet Nam and is prepared to go further against the Red Chinese if they extend their aggression in Viet Nam or elsewhere in Asia.

IF, THEREFORE, the Soviet Union follows through on the positibn it took in backing the United Nations resolution for intervention in the India-Pakistan war, and the risk of a large-scale conflict in Asia is averted, there will undoubtedly be a more friendly feeling between the Soviet Union and the United States as well as the countries of Western Europe. From Moscow's point of view, this will help in its crusade for better relations between Eastern and Western Europe. Perhaps this will inaugurate a period of readjustment in which trade between the East and West will be increased. The Soviets need more trade in order to improve their economic position at home.

Billy Graham

I have tried to serve God but my life is so insignificant and limited. If I could just get out and go to far away places and serve Him where the need is great, maybe I would find satisfaction. What do you think? A.J.

Jesus told a man He had healed to "go back to his village and tell what had happened." If we can't serve God where we are, it is unlikely that we would serve Him anywhere else.

In the year 1847 a man living on a ranch near Sacramento, Calif., heard that gold had been discovered in the southern part of the state. He sold his ranch and went to join the other miners. A man by the name of Colonel Sutter bought his ranch. One day his daughter brought in some wet sand from the brook. The colonel noticed flakes of gold shining in the sand. Thus began the Sutter gold strike, and millions of dollars were mined from the ranch that the man sold to seek Gold. It was right in his own back yard.

Spiritual gold is like this. God appeared to Moses in a scrubby little bush on the backside of the desert. He comes to us in the strain and stress of everyday life. Every place of duty is a shrine where He can be found. It need not be the far away places, the romantic-sounding countries—where God is found. He will meet the surrendered heart anywhere.

Time Out

NEW YORK (AP)—The successful off-Broadway tandem of the Phoenix Theater and the Association of Producing Artists is taking time out for a year to prepare for transfer of activities to Broadway.

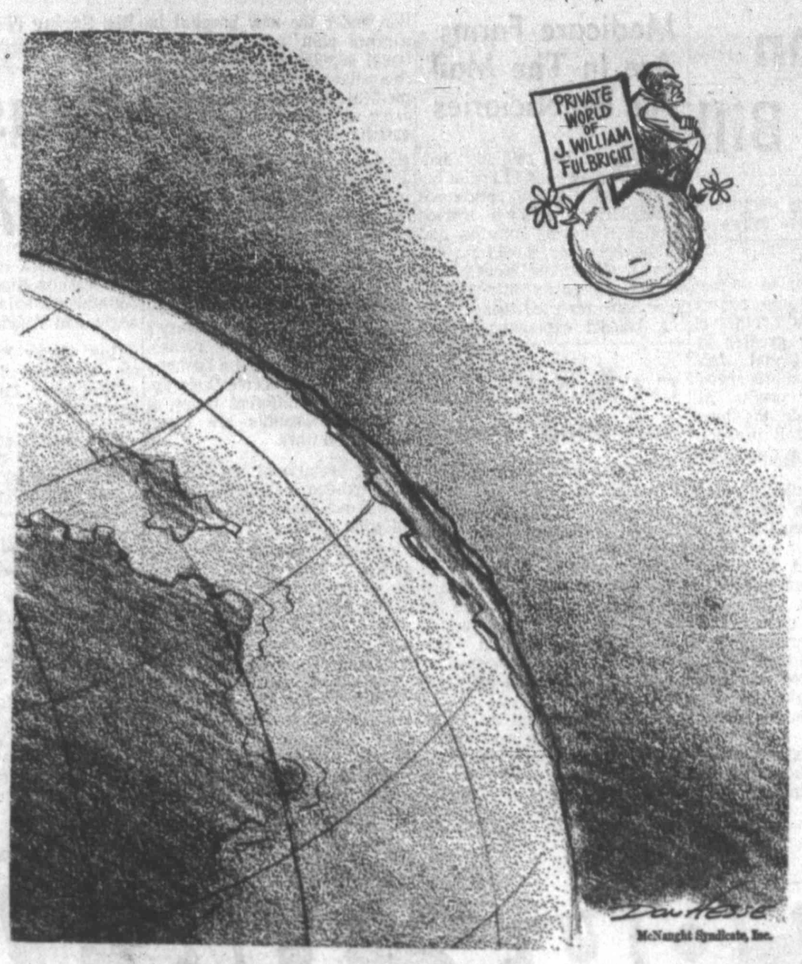

Main objective of the sabbatical will be to raise $1,500,000 which has been budgeted to launch a five-year expanded repertory program.

New Era

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The old firehouse gong has vanished in Louisville.

The bells were rigged outside of stations in the days of horse-drawn firewagons to warn passers-by the rigs were about to dash out.

Horns later supplanted the bells and Maj. Robert O. Catlett, the department's property officer, now has ordered the remaining relics dismantled.

Minimum Wage Bill Seen Dead For Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Boosting the minimum wage has been slow business and still is. In the 27 years since 1938 Congress has raised it only $1, from 25 cents an hour to its present $1.25.

And now a bill to raise the minimum to $1.75 and extend the coverage of the law to 7.9 million more workers seems dead for this session. About 29.6 million workers are presently covered.

Even if the House should approve in 1965, the Senate won't have time to.

Earlier this year President Johnson recommended an additional 4.6 million people be brought under the law's protection but he didn't recommend increasing the minimum wage, saying that was up to Congress.

SO CONGRESS undertook to do it, or part of Congress did. The House Education and Labor Committee approved a bill to raise the present $1.25 minimum to $1.40 next July for those now covered, to $1.60 on July 1, 1967, to $1.75 on July 1, 1968.

And coverage would be extended for the first time to farm workers, bringing them in at $1.15 an hour next July 1 and at $1.25 an hour July 1, 1968.

The rate for other newly covered workers would start at $1 an hour next January and go up in yearly increases to $1.75 by July 1, 1970.

Among those newly covered workers would be employes of small retail businesses, laundries and dry cleaning firms, restaurants, hotels, motels, movie theaters, hospitals, local transit systems, and small telephone exchanges.

BUT—THE reason it is unlikely to become law this year is that the bill is caught in a squeeze in Congress, not the first time this has happened to this kind of bill.

Any hope of pulling it out of the squeeze seems dim because there is a lot of opposition to the bill in and out of Congress.

For example: The House Rules Committee, which is a kind of traffic cop who says what legislation can go up to the full House for a vote, won't clear it. This same committee has been a bottleneck on minimum wage bills before.

Organized labor strongly supports the measure. In fact, the AFL-CIO suggested the minimum be increased to $2 an hour and that the 40-hour week be dropped to 35.

But the bill has been attacked by nearly every employer group in the country.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked for the minimum wage law in 1937. That was the year the Supreme Court, which had previously wrecked one piece of New Deal legislation after another, began a change of heart.

UNTIL THEN the court had knocked out not only federal but state minimum wage laws, ruling that neither states nor the federal government could pass such laws generally.

And it had previously ruled out a child labor law as unconstitutional on the grounds it exceeded the power of Congress to regulate interstate commerce.

But 1937 was a recession year on the heels of a depression. Congress responded to Roosevelt's request, but not without a struggle. The same House Rules Committee tried to strangle the minimum wage bill that time, too.

The full Congress finally approved in 1938 the Fair Labor Standards Act which imposed a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour, put restrictions on the use of child labor, ordered a 44-hour work week (later 40) for businesses in interstate commerce, and compelled overtime pay for hours worked over the 44-hour limit.

Letters Desired That Don't Come...

NEW YORK (AP) —Letters people would like to get but rarely do:

"Sir, it has come to our attention that your son, Johnny, can wiggle both ears while whistling rock 'n' roll tunes. This is the kind of folk talent we wish to feature in a series of advertisements promoting our new product, 'Burpacola.' If the little lad would be interested in a financial reward that would easily pay his way later through college, please bring him to—."

"George, I have put on so much weight during my visit to mother's that I have given up all thought of wanting you to surprise me with a fur coat for Christmas this year. It would make me look much too heavy. So, if there's anything you'd like to get yourself with the money you've saved up, go right ahead."

"DAD, REMEMBER the boy friend I brought home during our vacation from school last spring? You know, the one who ate so much and who you thought was so smart aleck because he tried to tell you how to run your business? Well, he flunked out of school this semester, and the draft board grabbed him—so I guess I won't be seeing him for at least a couple of years."

"As the largest music publishers in the field, naturally we get hundreds of songs from amateur writers each week. Most of them are trash. But the ditty submitted by your daughter, Mazda, called 'Let Me Hold My Ears' looks to us like a sure-fire hit."

"AS A dentist, I can well realize your dismay at facing a bill of $1,500 for a pair of upper and lower dentures. Well, what was my shock on restudying the X-ray plates of your mouth to discover you are budding a third set of perfect teeth."

"Sir, I am the motorcycle patrolman who gave you a ticket for speeding on the highway last week. You claimed you were only going 40, and that I must be crazy. Well, sir, most motorists accuse me of that. But when I got back to my barracks, a check showed my speedometer was broken. So I guess it wasn't me that was crazy—just my speedometer. Anyway, you can tear up the ticket, and hope there are no hard feelings."

"Keep this under your hat, mister, but while I was drilling that well for your mountain cabin the drill came up with a lot of bright metal fragments colored yellow. I bought 10 acres on each side of you, and had the metal assayed.

"The report just came back. Well, to put it in a nutshell, Pal, me and you are sitting on a new Fort Knox!"

Tape Test Of Urine Can Reveal 'Diabetes'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Yesterday a neighbor gave me a certain type of tape to test my urine. It showed 1-10th per cent. Does this mean I have diabetes? I do not have the thirst and other symptoms of diabetes.

Is this the same urinalysis that doctors give patients, or is the tape just for patients who already have had blood tests for diabetes? — MRS. L.S.

Your neighbor may have done you a favor.

While I'm certainly opposed to swapping medicine "over the back fence," and not always content when neighbors try to diagnose illnesses on the basis of an isolated symptom or two, such conversations can do some good when they transmit sound information.

Your tape reading, Mrs. L.S., is such that you should have some more testing. Maybe you do have and maybe you don't have diabetes. Symptoms of early diabetes don't have to be classic (thirst, frequent urination, weight loss, itching.)

However, the test you took is quite accurate for sugar, and it could be significant. It is the same test as that used in many doctors' offices.

Anyway, this original test gives you a strong hint. Next, have your doctor do a blood sugar test, or (even more accurate) a sugar tolerance test.

This is more urgent if you are overweight, or have any family history of diabetes, or have had babies that were large at birth such, as 8 pounds or more, or have had miscarriages, stillborns, or toxemia.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Why do my eyes water most of the time? The tear drops seem to be salty. Could it be sinus? — MRS. C.L.

Tears are supposed to be salty.

Your problem doesn't sound like sinus; it could easily be an allergy. It also could be a plugged tear duct, which is not too unusual, and is a condition that can readily be corrected. Consult an eye speciaiist.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Because of the tremendous volume of mail received daily, Dr. Molner regrets that he cannot answer individual letters, but whenever possible he uses readers' questions in his column.

Makings Of A Memorable Dinner

One of the national slick magazines has been running a series on "memorable dinners," designed, I suppose, to get the housewife out of that sticky meat loaf and into something a little more comfortable to the palate of the food connoisseur.

I think I've shared a few memorable dinners—but the time, place and people involved was what made the memory vivid, long after the food was forgotten.

ONLY ONCE, however, have I visited an establishment offering intimate private dining facilities, and was a bit startled to find myself being led by a suave maitre d' to an elegantly curtained cubicle. Remembering every international spy movie I had ever seen, you can be sure that, by the time a winey dessert was discreetly served, I was out of my mind with apprehension. Needless to say, when it was suggested we go upstairs, I clutched desperately at my shredded sophistication before learning that the mezzanine was where a display of modern art was being shown. It was winter in Seattle, and I think the place was called "Maison Blanc's," but my memory, like everything else, is not what is used to be.

ANOTHER MEAL I can meditate over was at a hacienda high in the mountains of Guatemala, near the remote village of Coban. I had arrived there in an old two-seater training plane that had chugged determinedly through a lavender haze as though it feared the jungle as much as I. When we touched the side of a sloping hill, there among the small Indians who met us was a tall, fair-haired man—a German planter whose finca was not far away. Insisting that "my house is your house," he insisted we dine with him in a beautiful sanctuary where barefoot Mayan maidens brought dishes of spiced chicken, curried rice and fried bananas. When we left, a beautiful brown girl placed a silver chain around my neck and received my promise to return. I'm sorry I failed.

IF YOU'RE interested in the moment as much as the meal, there's a place in the San Fernando Valley where the French onion soup is superb, and an oyster bar in New Orleans that is practically private in the wee small hours of the morning. On a side street in Victoria, B.C., you can get beautiful pastries in a small English shop, and in New York City, the long, narrow slit called "Strawberry Lane" serves the sweet berries in endless variety.

BACK HOME in Houston, there's always "Ye Olde College Inn," still showing the newer, fancier restaurants how to keep diners happy and old customers coming back year after year.

Any Child Can Understand It

WASHINGTON — It is very important, the psychiatrists say, to answer your children's questions honestly and concisely no matter how difficult they become. I thought of this the other day while I was watching a news broadcast of the Indian-Pakistani war and my 11-year-old son with a machine gun in his hand asked, "What are they fighting about?"

"A place called Kashmir," I replied. "You see, the Indians have Kashmir now, but the Pakistanis claim the Kashmir people want to be part of Pakistan because they're Moslem and not Hindu."

My son looked at me questioningly. "Whose side are we on?"

"WE'RE NOT ON either side. We have a treaty with Pakistan and we supplied her with most of the planes and arms that she is using against India. At the same time we supplied India with arms and planes, but we didn't think they'd use them to fight each other."

"What did we think?"

"We thought they'd use them to fight the Communists."

"Why don't they fight the Communists?"

"It's not that simple," I said, slightly annoyed. "The Chinese Communists are supporting Pakistan and the Russian Communists seem to be supporting India. We would probably be more sympathetic towards the Pakistanis, except that the Chinese Communists are threatening to invade India.

"WITHOUT CONFUSING you," I continued, "our main problem is: Do we send military aid to India to repulse the Chinese Communists or not?"

He seemed to enjoy seeing me perspire.

"Why is it a problem?" he wanted to know.

"Because if we help the Indians against the Red Chinese, the Indians might turn around and use the equipment on the Pakistanis and prolong the war between India and Pakistan."

THIS SEEMED to satisfy him and I relaxed. But he was just digesting the material. Finally he said, "What's the solution?"

I grabbed the sides of the chair. "The solution is to take the war to the United Nations and let them solve it."

"But if we go to the United Nations, won't the Russians vote against us?"

"No, on this issue the Russians will vote with us. They're against us in Viet Nam but not in India."

"Why not?"

"BECAUSE THE Russians are as worried about the Red Chinese as we are."

"I don't understand. Aren't they both Communists?"

"Yes," I said, "but the Chinese Communists are more communistic than the Russian Communists. We can live with Russian communism but we can't live with Chinese communism, unless, of course, the Russians start pushing us around again in Cuba."

"Then should we like the Russians?"

"As far as India is concerned, yes. But we don't have to like them in Viet Nam."

"WOULD WE fight with the Russians against China if they attacked India?"

"It's possible. At the same time the Russians would probably fight with the Chinese if we attacked China."

"I don't get it," he said as he aimed a machine gun at Walter Cronkite who was at that moment on the TV screen.

"I don't see how I could make it simpler. Any child could understand it."

The Plight Of India

WASHINGTON — It is an evening that belongs to a vanished era. Jawaharlal Nehru, sitting at dusk in the garden of the official residency of the prime minister in New Delhi, talks about the distant frontier of Ladakh on the Indian-Tibetan border.

He talks with eloquence, poetic imagination, out of a culture that is a curious amalgam of East and West. Ladakh is so remote. It is at an altitude of 28,000 feet, surrounded by great empty valleys and snow-covered peaks. Nehru describes his own difficult journey to that remote place; the sense of utter isolation on top of the world. Surely no one would be foolish enough to go to war for those empty markings on a map.

THE TIME WAS late December in 1959. The occasion was President Eisenhower's visit to India and 10 other nations in search of peace and that, too, seems part of a vanished era. No one who accompanied the President will ever forget the fantastic crowds in the streets of New Delhi and the banners that hailed him as the Prince of Peace.

That was near the close of Nehru's India, and in an age of disaster it is perhaps a fair judgment that no statesman suffered such a complete humiliation as did Nehru when the Chinese attacked on the Himalayan border in the fall of 1962. It was the end of the illusion that neutrality was a guarantee of safety.

THOSE WHO all along had called him a woolly headed old fool felt they were justified. The hardliners took an "I told you so" satisfaction out of Nehru's downfall. He had been warned. He had been told that neutrality was no protection and, worse, it was immoral.

This same attitude toward India carries over into the present crisis. From the safe distance of many thousands of miles and relatively stable society (rebellions such as that in Watts can be contained), India is lectured for moral hypocrisy and pretensions to democracy belied by caste, corruption and the breakdown of central authority. But in the view of this observer, having visited India four times since 1951, the moral lectures overlook a fundamental fact.

IN A COUNTRY so vast, made up of so many different peoples, sects, castes and religions, anything one says of it at any given time is true. There were a thousand Indias and not just the India of Gandhi, Nehru and the saint-beggars humbling themselves in the dust of the road.

This incredible diffusion suggests to one observer a clear and present danger in the insistence that India consent to a plebiscite in Kashmir.

THE SIKHS in northern India have demanded a degree of autonomy and Pakistani broadcasts encourage them to rise in rebellion. Large-scale language riots in Bombay, Madras and other centers defy the authority of Delhi to impose Hindi as the national language. Separate-language states complicate Shastri's problem in trying to unite a country composed of so many conflicting elements coming out of the tragic accidents of history. In contrast to Pakistan, a religious state, India is a secular state containing 50,000,000 Moslems, 10,000,000 Christians and other sects. Its breakup is precisely what Red China, poised like a vulture on the roof of the world, hopes to bring about.

HOW THE HARDLINERS can take satisfaction from India's plight at this stage of events is difficult to see.

On Move

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — One out of every 12 Greek peasants moved to the city in the past ten years, the agricultural bank of Greece reported.

Public Now Eyeing Auto Price Hikes

NEW YORK (AP) — Next to higher food prices a hike in the price tag on new cars is most likely to spell a rising cost of living to most people.

A costlier car means more to many auto-conscious Americans than even dearer clothing or higher rents.

With all of these tending upward this year, it's a good thing that incomes also are expected to rise for a lot of people — but not all.

FOOD PRICES

Food prices soared in the spring and early summer. And now the public is watching the debuts of the 1966 car models both for their new styling and their price tags.

Many would-be buyers have expected higher prices this fall ever since the wage increases in the auto industry.

But Chrysler, in announcing that most of its models this fall will cost more than last, says the increases don't reflect higher production costs. Mainly, says the auto maker, they result from inclusion in the standard price of a number of safety devices previously found in the list of extras which the buyer has become accustomed to take into account.

As the new models — and the new price lists — are unveiled, leaders in the auto industry are expressing conviction that the American public is still in a buying mood. They expect still another record sales year. General Motors predicts car sales will rise by another two million units in the new model year.

NINE MILLION

Counting in the sales of imported cars, this would mean that in the next 12 months Americans are expected to buy nine million new cars — and innumerable used ones.

With this confidence in American spending intentions, the car makers may feel that higher prices can be made to stick.

People will doubtless grumble about the rising cost of living. They are more or less used to its going up gradually month after month, and react — mostly conversationally rather than in purse string tightening — only when the spurt hits everyone at once, as in the case of rising food prices.

In a few days the government will issue another of its monthly reports on the cost of consumer prices. And most expect the index to rise again. Higher prices on new cars won't show up in the index until later and by then a bountiful harvest may have held food prices in check.

The prospects for larger incomes to meet either a sizable or a gradual rise in living costs spring from these factors:

RECORD HIGH

Employment is at a record high with good chances of even more people finding jobs and this means a higher total of personal income. For individuals, there are higher wage scales in many labor contracts this year, with some providing further increases next year also.

Social Security payments have been increased, bringing a bit more each month to those over 65. Next July Medicare will cut the health care bills for many people and thus substitute for a rise in spendable income.

Dividend payments have risen this year for many stockholders. Profits have increased for many who are self employed or run small business firms.

The general expectation of a still more prosperous economy holds promise of still more jobs, still more take-home pay, still larger profits in the months ahead.

Gas In-Line Prices Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a 3-2 vote in both cases, the Federal Power Commission decided Wednesday what is known as the in-line initial price for producers to sell natural gas in two coastal areas of Texas.

It held the price is 16 cents per 1,000 cubic feet in the Texas Railroad Commission's Dist. 2, embracing 29 counties, under contracts signed after Sept. 28, 1960.

Ruling in a separate case, the FPC said the in-line price is 17 cents for gas from 10-county Dist. 3 sold under contracts signed between Sept. 28, 1960, and Oct. 1, 1963.

In the second case the commission also reaffirmed its earlier finding that the in-line price in Dist. 3 for contracts signed before Sept. 28, 1960, is 16 cents.

DECIDING VOTES

Chairman Joseph Swidler, Commissioner Lawrence O'Connor Jr. and Commissioner Carl Bagge cast the deciding votes. Commissioners David Black and Charles Ross dissented.

Sept. 28, 1960, is the date the FPC issued its statement on general area pricing policy setting guide line prices for gas sold from 23 producing areas.

In the case dealing with Dist. 2, the commission authorized 27 sales at the 16-cent level. It authorized at 15 cents 13 sales under contracts executed prior to the 1960 date. One sale of sour gas was authorized at 12 cents.

Gas now is being delivered under many of these contracts under temporary FPC authorization. Producers with temporary refund conditions were ordered to refund any excess amounts collected.

ACTION DEFERRED

The commission deferred action on whether refunds will be required of producers whose certificates did not contain such conditions.

The Dist. 3 decision authorizes 36 sales at the 17-cent level. The commission said gas is being delivered under the contracts on temporary authorizations at 16.17 cents to 20 cents.

Only two of the temporary certificates contain refund provisions, the FPC said. These two sales are being made at 17.5 cents and must be reduced to 17, with refund of excess amounts collected. As in the other case, the commission deferred a decision on whether refunds should be ordered by other producers.

Carol Loses Some Fury

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Carol has lost some of its fury as the storm churns harmlessly northward into cooler waters.

Carol was moving at 12 miles an hour but was expected to slow down. Winds were estimated at 85 m.p.h. near the center with gales extending 150 to 200 miles in all directions.

The Miami Weather Bureau said Carol posed no threat to any land area for the next day or two.

At 5 a.m., the Weather Bureau said the storm had stalled and would remain essentially stationary today. The storm's center was located about 1,300 miles slightly north of due east of Bermuda.

Only Ghosts Tarry In Braves' Tepee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — When the crowd, even the stragglers who never know when the party at last is over, were gone Wednesday night, and the lights were out, there was little left in the vast dark cavern of Milwaukee County Stadium except the splendid ghosts of 13 seasons and a boy who could not bear to leave them.

"Maybe it's because of the day I was born," said the tall boy with brown hair and a quiet manner, both athletic and introspective. "April 14, 1953. That was a pretty good day."

It was the day the Milwaukee Miracle started, the day a golden decade dawned for baseball's traveling circus.

It was warm and sunny, although later in the week it would snow, and the new ballyard on the banks of the Menomonee was draped with bunting for its first National League opening game, and all the people who had formed the mile-long line to buy the bleacher seats filled the last space.

In the 10th inning, with the Braves and the Cardinals tied at 2-all, Billy Bruton lifted a ball into the waning sunlight and it glanced off Enos Slaughter's glove into the stands.

At first they sent Bruton back to second, but then Manager Charlie Grimm charged out of the dugout and it was a home run. Even now they will tell you that wherever Billy Bruton may be, he can always come home to Milwaukee.

"Of course I can't remember things really happening," the 12-year-old boy sitting in the stadium for the final night said, "but I was here and it's sort of like being in history.

"So maybe I didn't see the first game, but I saw the last one. It was a pretty good one for the last one, with the inside-the-park home run, and the grand slam."

He sat quietly for a moment, then said, "Maybe it's all right that they lost the last one. All my whole life there was the Braves, and now they're gone. This way," he said, "we all lost a little."

The Dodgers edged the Braves 7-6 in 11 innings.

The cold wind came in over the dark scoreboard in right field, and blew the litter on the field, and sent the trash clattering in the lost tiers of the stadium. Suddenly the old ballyard on the banks of the Menomonee was cold and damp and empty, except for a small brown-haired boy.

"It's all right," he said. "I have to cry a little, and then I'll be ready to go home."

TOURNAMENT SUNDAY

Green Will Get A Special Day

A Jerry Green Appreciation Day will be staged at the Big Spring Country Club Sunday, honoring the hard working golf pro of the course who has worked untiringly to improve the club since moving here four years ago last June.

A partnership tournament will be held in conjunction with the special day and anyone is eligible to take part. Proceeds of the meet beyond expenses will go to Green.

A $3 entry fee will be charged players entering the meet. The Calloway system will be used to determine winners. In addition, champions will be declared in scratch play, both individual and team.

The price of entry includes a barbecue, which will be served at the conclusion of play. Green will be honored with a gift at the barbecue and club prexy Bill Edwards said he hoped all the membership would see fit to play in the tournament and take part in the tribute to Green.

Prior to coming here, Jerry was a member of the pro staff at the Ranchland Hills Country Club in Midland.

The committee shaping up plans for the special day consists of Obie Bristow and Pat Patterson, in addition to Edwards.

Notre Dame Pads Armor For Game With Purdue

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Top-ranked Notre Dame padded its defense today for a classic early football season showdown with Big Ten power Purdue Saturday.

A prime Irish quarterback candidate, John Pergine, was moved to a linebacking spot and veteran end Don Gmitter was switched from offensive to defensive assignment in last minute Notre Dame maneuvering.

Despite the moves, Notre Dame rated a six-point choice in the sellout clash expected to pack 61,746 into Ross-Ade Stadium.

The move of 215-pound Gmitter to defense, where he excelled last season, could be attributed to injury to Harry Long in Notre Dame's opening 48-6 waltz over California. Senior Tom Talaga, 6-foot-5, 220-pounder, replaces Gmitter on offense.

But the switching of sophomore Pergine to linebacker could mean that Irish Coach Ara Parseghian definitely has settled on senior Bill Zloch at the previously questionable quarterback berth.

Prior to the California opener, Parseghian was uncertain whether Zloch, Pergine or another sophomore, Tom Schoen, would be successor to graduated John Huarte at quarterback.

Zloch, with only five minutes quarterback experience, directed the Irish faultlessly against California. Zloch completed four of six passes, one for a touchdown, and scurried to two touchdowns.

Gary Mullins, San Angelo, and Abilene High's Tim Thurman have replaced Julio Guerrero, San Angelo, as the leading football scorer in District 2-AAAA after two games.

Mullins and Thurman each has a total of 24 points while Guerrero now has 21.

Van Tom Whatley leads Big Spring point-getters with 12 points and is tied for fourth in the scoring derby. Eight different Big Spring players have gotten into the scoring act.

Dodgers Prospering, Thanks To M. Wills

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers have a new streak going—Maury Wills.

He exploded out of a drastic base-stealing slowdown Wednesday night and ran the Dodgers a step nearer the National League lead.

BACK IN STRIDE

Wills, who had stolen only two bases in 19 previous games this month, stole three and scored after each theft — climaxing his efforts by carrying across the winning run on Lou Johnson's 11th-inning single as the Dodgers overcame the Milwaukee Braves 7-6.

Wills' base-stealing streak — in the Braves' farewell to Milwaukee — helped the Dodgers extend their winning streak to six and climb to within two games of the San Francisco Giants, who were bombed by Cincinnati 7-1. The third-place Reds' second straight decision over the front-runners left them 3½ games back of San Francisco.

With 23-game winner Sandy Koufax pitching for the Dodgers, a 1-0 lead looked good. But the brilliant left-hander was off form.

Frank Bolling tagged him for a grand slam homer in the second, Mack Jones made it 5-1 with a homer in the third, and Gene Oliver followed with a home run off reliever Howie Reed.

Giant ace Juan Marichal also got rocked. The high-kicking right-hander was touched for an unearned run in the fourth, but held the Reds hitless until the fifth.

SUDDEN ERUPTION

Then Deron Johnson singled, John Edwards homered, and Leo Cardenas homered. Frank Robinson put it out of reach, and chased Marichal, with a three-run homer in the sixth — his 31st of the year.

Sammy Ellis shut out the Giants until the ninth, scattering six hits and running his record to 21-9. Marichal now is 22-12.

In other NL games — Pittsburgh won its sixth straight, scoring four unearned runs for a 6-2 victory over the New York Mets; and rookie Larry Jaster pitched a four-hitter in his first big league start and Curt Flood hit two homers as St. Louis trimmed Houston 4-1. Philadelphia at Chicago was rained out.

Three Met errors helped the Pirates to their four unearned runs, in the fifth inning — with all four scoring on the same play. Ed Kranepool's bobble of pitcher Bob Friend's grounder with one out, then a walk and Roberto Clemente's single after two were out filled the bases.

Donn Clendenon's single drove in two runs. Clemente also came in when Charlie Smith missed a throw to third, and Clendenon scored when Met pitcher Tug McGraw threw wildly trying to get him at third.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

A relative to the great Joe Fortenberry of basketball fame is enrolled at Howard County Junior College and is out for cage drills.

He is Max Fortenberry, a six-footer from Adrian, who likely will make coach Buddy Travis a valued hand before he leaves the local school. He's playing without scholarship help.

Travis thinks he's going to have the toughest inside defense he's had since he's been skipper here. With a little luck, his club could be even better than it was a year ago—and you'll recall the Jayhawks went to the National Juco tournament last March.

However, the Hawks' job will be more complex, since the Hawks are playing a far tougher schedule than they did last year and most every other team the Hawks will face will be saltier than last year.

Kurt Papp, the Hawks' sophomore from El Paso, has grown from 6-5 to 6-6½, which means he'll be tougher than ever under the boards.

The Hawks, who open their 1965-66 season Nov. 22, will scrimmage Angelo State College, Wayland and ACC next month.

There's a flesh merchant in the state of New York who is peddling athletic talent to Southwestern schools (and possibly those in other areas) at a going rate of $200 a player.

The promoter guarantees results and reportedly has collected from several Texas colleges for boys he has delivered to them.

The promoter is realizing a tidy income from the endeavor. From all indications, there is nothing in the rules that dictate against such a deal.

Harris Cantrell, who brought the Bel Air Highlanders in here last week to meet the Big Spring Steers, hasn't changed his opinion about Ysleta's Indians, even though they were defeated by lowly-regarded Midland High their first time out of the chute.

Cantrell says the Ysleta coaching staff brings its teams along slowly and the Indians are invariably ready to play when the big games come along.

"They took their lumps in the early games last fall," Cantrell reminded the attendant at this window, "but they wound up winning district and then beat your district champion (Odessa High) in the playoffs."

However, Ysleta hasn't yet beaten his team, Cantrell says, adding: "I think we'll be ready to play ball."

Stevens Learned His Lessons Well

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — "Billy Stevens — ideal type of quarterback to run pro-T offense . . . handicapped due to game experience and must learn as season progresses."

That was how the Texas Western college preseason football brochure described the lanky youngster who broke a major college passing record last week in his college debut and was named Back of the Week by The Associated Press.

Stevens, a 6-foot-3 sophomore from Galveston, Tex., completed 21 passes for 500 yards and three touchdowns as he led Texas Western to a 61-15 rout of North Texas State.

And for a youngster who played only six games of organized football until last Saturday night, it wasn't a bad start.

He broke the major college mark of 588 yards in a single game set by Tulsa's Jerry Rhome last year against Oklahoma State. The small college mark of 520 yards was set Nov. 11, 1926, by Charles McCoy of Simpson.

"I would have preferred doing that at the end of the season," he said. "I never dreamed I'd get that much yardage."

It's a wonder he got the chance.

At Galveston Ball High School, he received a back dislocation in the opening game of his sophomore year and didn't go back on the football field until spring training before his senior year.

That's when he broke his collarbone. It mended in time for him to got out in the fall, but the day before the first game, Stevens had an emergency appendectomy.

He returned in time for the last five games of the season, all at fullback.

Bryant Back Down On Sod

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — There's a wooden tower on the University of Alabama football practice field, but the man who usually directs the operations wasn't there this week.

Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant was on the field with his boys and he appeared relentless.

It was a dramatic departure from the new — to Bryant — tack taken last fall when the accent was more on finesse and polish than on hard-nosed football.

"When we got cheek to cheek and jaw to jaw with those Georgia boys last Saturday, they whipped us," Bryant said after his defending national champions dropped an 18-17 shocker.

The coach indicated on his weekly television show Sunday that there were rough days ahead for those who wanted to stay and play football for the Crimson Tide.

"The boys did everything we asked them to in preparing for the Georgia game — we just didn't ask enough of them. We will ask more this week," Bryant said.

Pre-Game Conference

Yearlings, San Angelo Clash At 7:30 P. M.

Fresh from a 30-6 conquest of Snyder Lamar, the ninth graders of Big Spring Runnels Junior High challenge bigger game in a 7:30 o'clock game with San Angelo Lee in the old stadium here tonight.

Runnels' eighth graders are not booked to play this weekend. The eighth graders won their first two games.

The ninth graders opened by losing to Sweetwater, 8-6. The locals will be below peak strength, since the first and second string quarterbacks, John Patton and Lee Harris, will be on the sidelines with injuries.

Probable starters for Runnels include Johnny Hedges 152 and Larry Newton 145, at ends; Mike Bridges 160 and Don McEvers 150, tackles; George Rios 130 and Billy Bob Spier 140, guards; Emmett Miller 165, center; Luven Flores 150, quarterback; Claud Tucker 148 and Roy Lee Warren 126, halfbacks; and Rocky Wooley 160, fullback.

San Angelo Lee, coached by newcomer Milby Sexton, ran roughshod over Brownood last week, 40-6.

Dwayne Childress, Tommy Olive, Lee Benson, Steve Carnes, Gary Cruseturner and Gary Wilson all had big hands in the victory for Lee.

Emory Bellard, coach of the San Angelo Bobcats, has a son by the same name playing for Lee. He is a 148-pound guard.

Biggest player in the Lee lineup will be tackle Kenny Kacal, who weighs 228 pounds.

Lee defeated Runnels last year and finished with a 4-5 record.

Probable starters for the San Angelo team, in addition to Bellard and Kecal, include Gordon Hampton 155 and Charley Musta 152, at ends; Tommy Orsak 150 at guard, Richard Walker 185, tackle; John Givens 162, center; Benson 137, quarterback; Carnes 145, wingback; Childress 138, halfback; and Olive 142, fullback.

QUOTE OF THE DAY:

Coach DON ROBBINS of Big Spring High School:

"The only thing more satisfying to Snyder than to come over here and beat Big Spring on their home grounds (as was the case last year) would be to beat us before their home folks, now that some polls have seen fit to give us statewide ratings. The fact that we might not deserve to be in the Top Ten has nothing to do with the way the Tigers feel about us. Someone just has to mention Big Spring over there and the boys begin to get ready. I know, I used to coach over there.

ROBBINS

"If we can't beat Snyder, we certainly don't deserve to be rated in any poll. No game has ever been won with a press clipping and a lot of times those things work against you."

Texarkana, Dumas Risk Top Ratings

By The Associated Press

Texarkana, Dumas, Alpine and Three Rivers risk No. 1 ratings this week in a Texas schoolboy football campaign that's so upsetting the undefeated, untied list may be trimmed by about 60 teams.

Texarkana, No. 1 in Class AAAA, plays Sulphur Springs; Dumas, the leader of Class AAA plays somebody its own size when it meets unbeaten, untied Monahans; Alpine, kingpin of Class AA, engages Fort Stockton, and Three Rivers, No. 1 in Class A, takes on Class AA Freer.

None of the four is expected to lose but with the upsetting nature of the race, it would not be surprising if all of them fell.

The fourth week of the campaign finds only 168 of the 650 teams in the top four classes with unbeaten, untied records. In many cases the teams with perfect standings meet each other to insure that at least a part of them will fall.

The team with the longest string of victories in the state—Palestine—won't be among those taking the count. The Wildcats have the week off to enjoy their record of 15 straight.

Big games clog the schedule that's strongly conference in Class AAAA but with only a smattering of contests counting in the standings in AAA.

Amarillo and Plainview hook up in a conference game of AAAA that matches unbeaten, untied teams. Midland plays Lubbock Monterey, Dallas Adams tangles with South Oak Cliff and Houston Lee jousts with Austin in other games matching unsullied records.

Five games in this category are scheduled in Class AAA, the Monahans-Dumas clash headlining the schedule. Dumas has been beating AAAA teams; now it tries a team of its own division.

Bay City vs. LaPorte, Beeville vs. Lockhart, San Antonio Sam Houston vs. San Marcos and Del Rio vs. Uvalde are other AAA games sending undefeated, untied teams against each other.

San Marcos was a finalist last season in AAA.

Cameron clashes with Belton of Class AAA to top the schedule in Class AA, this game bringing unbeaten, untied teams together. Cleveland meets Humble in a purely AA battle of the perfect records. Marfa vs. Del Rio San Felipe is another game in this category.

Clarksville of AA tackles Jefferson of A in a feature interclass contest while Quanah of AA takes on Crowell of A in another such game of wide interest.

Raiders Face Texas In Top SWC Battle

By The Associated Press

All of Saturday's games are crucial for Southwest Conference teams but the most crucial of the crucial is the one that Texas Tech faces in Memorial Stadium at Austin.

The game against the Longhorns, picked to be the kingpins in this year's loop competition, will determine if this is "the year" for the Red Raiders or the beginning of another so-so season for the Lubbock college.

And coach J. T. King didn't find much encouragement in the showing of his Red Raiders Wednesday afternoon. He said that mistakes by the sophomores on offense slowed down the drill and he termed the day's performance "only a fair workout."

STILL IN DOUBT

The availability of tackle Bill Adams for the game against Texas remained in doubt. Adams suffered a knee injury during Tech's smashing victory over Kansas during a rainstorm last weekend.

Meanwhile at Austin, the Longhorns went through a spirited drill in preparation for the Tech game. Most of the squad was described as being in top physical shape although tailback Linus Baer and end Ed Small may not see action because of injuries.

The Texas-Texas Tech game is the only conference tilt this weekend. The other seven members of the loop face outside foes.

At Dallas, Southern Methodist coach Hayden Fry put his Mustangs through a brisk workout in preparation for the Illinois game at Champaign.

"We had a good defensive workout, but a poor offensive one," Fry reported. "We're still not tough enough."

The coaching staff of Texas Christian University, on the other hand, found little to complain about as they watched the slashing runs of sophomores Kenny Post and Steve Landon and the downfield blocking of Joe Ball and Sonny Campbell. The Frogs are host to Florida State Saturday night.

STRESS DEFENSE

At Fayetteville, the Arkansas Razorbacks continued to stress defense as they prepared for a Saturday game with pass-minded Tulsa. Coach Frank Broyles sent his team through an hour and a half session, with the defensive line staging a full speed scrimmage against Tulsa's passing plays.

Baylor coach John Bridgers seemed satisfied with the zip and hustle the Bears showed in their Wednesday workout for Saturday's game against Washington.

All Fans Can See Contest

Only about seven or eight single tickets of the 904 adult ducats that were sent here for the Big Spring-Snyder football game in Snyder Friday night were still on hand at the School Business Office at 10 a.m. today.

Even though a sellout here looms, Don Crockett of the School Business Office said he had been assured that no one would be turned away at the gate.

Those from here who go to the game site without a ticket should make their purchases on the Snyder side of the field, Crockett said. The pasteboards are priced at $1.50 each.

The Snyder stadium, under ordinary circumstances, seats about 5,000. Preparations are being made to handle a throng of between 5,500 and 6,000, Robbins said.

Despite the fact that Snyder has lost its first two games, enthusiasm for the sport remains high in that city. The Snyder business office has sold about 1,000 season tickets.

This game opens the home season for Snyder and will be Big Spring's first test on the road. Snyder lost its two starts to Andrews (23-12) and Stamford (14-8). Big Spring defeated Lamesa (26-0) and Ysleta Bel Air (28-0) in that order.

The game winds up pre-conference play for Big Spring. The Steers take a week off, then plunge into 2-AAAA competition against Midland Lee.

Mavericks Play Snyder Travis

Goliad Junior High returns to football competition tonight, at which time it sends two of its teams into action against Snyder Travis in Snyder.

The eighth graders play at 6 p.m. while the ninth graders see action at 7:30 p.m.

Goliad's ninth graders won their only start this season, turning back Snyder Lamar by a score of 26-6. The eighth graders lost to representatives of the same school, 28-22.

Both teams were idle last week.

Twin Boss Confident Despite Reversals

By The Associated Press

Is it possible?

Do the Baltimore Orioles have any chance of overtaking the front-running Minnesota Twins in the American League pennant race?

"It's not too late until you're out of it," said Orioles' Manager Hank Bauer, "and my players certainly don't feel they're out of it."

The Orioles remained in it Wednesday by beating Minnesota 5-2, handing the Twins their third straight defeat and keeping them from reducing their magic pennant-clinching number below three — which seems to have become a temporary roadblock.

The Twins now have been unable to trim their magic number since Sunday and still need any combination of their victories or losses by the Orioles totaling three to clinch their first AL pennant.

Is it possible?

"I know it has happened before," said Twins' Manager Sam Mele.

"But I don't expect it to happen to us."

While the Twins and Orioles were wondering, the Chicago White Sox edged Detroit 2-1, Cleveland nipped the New York Yankees 4-3, Washington belted Kansas City 8-2 and California swept a doubleheader from Boston 10-1 and 2-0.

Jerry Adair supplied the big bat for the Orioles, driving in four runs with a homer and double as Baltimore rapped Jim Kaat, 16-11, for eight hits and four runs in 4 1-3 innings.

Harmon Killebrew doubled in the second inning for the Twins — his first hit since July 31 — and scored on Bob Allison's single. Tony Oliva singled in the other Minnesota run, and wound up the day lifting his league-leading average to .321.

The White Sox scored the winning run in the eighth inning after Dick Kenworthy was hit by a Mickey Lolich pitch. Pinch runner Al Weis then moved up on a passed ball and a wild pickoff attempt before scoring on Gene Freese's sacrifice fly. Ken Berry homered for Chicago and Norm Cash connected for Detroit.

Dallas Cowboys Expect Another Huge Turnout

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, who opened their 1965 National Football League season before 59,000 fans in the Cotton Bowl, are expecting another big turnout Sunday when they are host to the Washington Redskins.

A crowd of 60,000 is being forecast—a shade more than last Sunday's attendance which was the best in the league for an opening game.

The Cowboys' 31-2 victory over the New York Giants last week was because both the offense and defense clicked at the same time, coach Tom Landry told a weekly news conference Wednesday.

But Dallas can't make the same mistakes and expect to win against the Redskins, he added.

"Washington is a good, solid team with an experienced and capable defense. I think there will be quite a game Sunday," Landry said.

Landry was particularly pleased with the Cowboys' running game against the eight-man line used by the Giants.

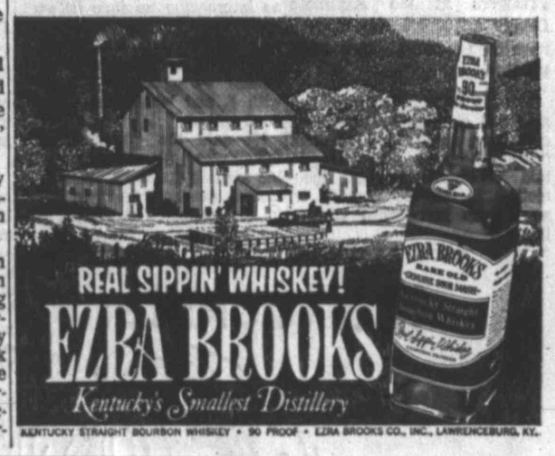

He also expressed satisfaction with the help Perry Lee Dunn gave Don Perkins on the running attack. He said he thought quarterback Don Meredith did a very good job in directing the attack against the Cowboys and that he was pleased with the way veteran J. D. Smith, recently acquired from San Francisco, performed.

WITNESS IN PROBE

Ex-Klansman 'Tells All'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities has located a key witness in its investigation of the Ku Klux Klan, a former klansman who "told all," a member of the committee said today.

Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., disclosed that the one-time klansman gave the committee an inside look at the invisible empire at a five-hour secret session this week.

"He will be very valuable when the committee's public hearings begin," said Weltner, 37, of Atlanta who pressed for the klan investigation when he joined the committee this year.

The hearings are scheduled to start next month. Weltner said in an interview he believed they would get under way in the first or second week in October.

Weltner said the former klansman — whose identity has been shielded by the committee — confirmed "all that I've been saying about the klan."

"The klan lives on violence," said Weltner, "that's the purpose of the secrecy, to be violent."

Weltner said the committee will "expose the violence, so there won't be any question about it."

But, he said, it will also concentrate on what he described as internecine warfare between klan organizations "for money and power and control. The Achilles heel of the klan is finances — what they've done with it and what they haven't done with it."

He said the "poor deluded folks" who have given money to the klan in donations, dues and special assessments "are going to be interested in what's happening to that money."

Washing Clothes In Jail Banned

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Prisoners at the Baltimore County Jail in suburban Towson have been ordered to quit washing their own clothing.

Warden Stanley J. Foster Jr., said wet clothing hanging over cell bars made the jail look "like a Chinese laundry." He told prisoners to send their clothes to the jail laundry or send them home with visiting friends.

Minimum Pay Measure Gets Sidelined

WASHINGTON (AP) — A controversial $1.75-minimum wage bill that far exceeds the administration's recommendations apparently has been edged out of House consideration this session by a priority administration item — home rule for the District of Columbia.

The wage bill, which cleared the House Education and Labor Committe last month, was blocked from normal access to the floor by the House Rules Committee.

PROBABLY DEAD

Instead, it is advancing under a procedure that permits it to be called up only on the second and fourth Mondays of any month. And Wednesday, House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., announced he has no intention of calling it up next Monday.

That day has been set aside for consideration of the home rule bill, McCormack said, "and I don't want to confuse the issue by calling up anything else."

If the bill is not brought up Monday, then Oct. 11 is the next possible date. And by Oct. 11 Congress either will have adjourned or will be moving toward adjournment. The Senate has held only preliminary hearings.

EXTEND COVERAGE

The bill would raise the $1.25 minimum to $1.75 by 1968 for 29.6 million workers now covered. It would also extend coverage for the first time to 7.9 million farm and small business workers. Farm workers would be paid a minimum of $1.25 hourly by 1968 and newly covered workers would reach the $1.75 level by 1970.

The original administration bill would have expanded the bill to include 4.6 million workers and required double pay for overtime work. The administration did not recommend any increase in hourly minimum wages.

During extensive committee hearings, the double pay provision was dropped and the broadening provisions added to the bill.

EQUINOXES AND STUFF

Fall Is Here, Boss

According to that sterling publication, the Texas Almanac, Fall fell at 12:56 a.m. today. I wasn't up to listen to the clatter, and I doubt if you were, either.

Fall, as you should know, ushers in the autumnal equinox. I looked up the data and find that something's all out of kilter. Equinox, as any one can plainly see, means "equal night"—a time when the night and day should be each 12 hours long.

SEPT. 27

Actually that situation will not prevail here until Sept. 27. On Sept. 27, the sun will peep out at 6:37 a.m. and shutdown for the day at 6:37 p.m.

Today, which is the first day of fall and officially the equinox, the sun showed up at 6:35 a.m. It quits work at 6:41 p.m.

The last time the sun was on a 12 hour shift was last March 16. The sun rose on that date at 6:55 a.m. and set at 6:55 p.m. That, Boss, was the vernal equinox—the beginning of spring.

There is an old belief that the equinoctal seasons should stir up uncertain weather. I understand the science - computer set pooh-poohs to this ancient belief. There's just nothing to it, they say.

So?

Then what caused the rains, hail, winds and other cutups in meteorology which battered these parts last Saturday, Sunday and Monday?

I suppose the wise guys know what they're gabbing about, Boss, and perhaps the equinoxes —the time when Old Sol is on the equator and the daylight and night come out about even — have no influence on the weather.

It seems to me, though, that in all the years I have been watching, the equinox season usually is not exactly a stable period, weatherwise. There's usually rain, snow, wind and stuff out of the ordinary run of things.

However, that's not what I wanted to tell you about.

ALL THAT JAZZ

I just wanted to advise you that it is now fall. The leaves are supposed to turn red, the haze is to set up Indian summer effects, and all that jazz.

Fall will hold sway until Dec. 21 at 7:41 p.m. Winter takes over then. But, Boss, that will be a "solstice." Close kin, you see, to the "equinox," but different.

Your Weatherwise Reporter,

SAM BLACKBURN

Wagner Steps Into Paper Strike Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner stepped into the week-old New York newspaper shutdown today with plans to take part in negotiations with two unions.

Wagner was to meet at 11 a.m. EDT with negotiators for the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild and the New York Times. At noon the mayor planned to sit in on talks between the AFL-CIO Mailers Union and the Publishers Association of New York.

WEEK AGO

The Guild struck the morning Times a week ago in a dispute centering on union demands for protection against job losses from automation and mergers. After the Times stopped publication, the Publishers Association members — all but one of the city's eight major dailies — also shut down.

The nonmember paper is the afternoon New York Post, which has continued to publish, doubling its normal press run to 750,000.

MAILERS OUT

The mailers announced Tuesday they would not go back to work without a new contract, even if the Guild dispute was settled.

Dixie GOP Huddle Near

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Southern Republican leaders, warming up a slogan of "take the hill in '66," will huddle in Atlanta next weekend to talk strategy for congressional races next year. There will be a short course in how to find winning candidates.

"Recruitment of candidates is a very critical problem facing us now," said Wirt A. Yerger Jr., of Jackson, Miss., chairman of the 13-state Southern Republican Conference. The group will meet Saturday and Sunday.

Yerger said recruitment would be the principal meeting topic. Gains in the Deep South have created the unusual problem of finding good candidates, he said.

There was some indication that the GOP leaders will mull over their party image and possible issues for 1966 — such as "individual rights." Chairmen from at least eight states plan to attend and there will be GOP representatives from the other five states.

National GOP Chairman Ray Bliss is scheduled to speak at noon Saturday. The sessions will be closed to nonparticipants.

"I have no statement to make until I get there," Bliss said when contacted at his Washington office. He declined to answer questions about the meeting.

Rights Figure Under Probe

BALTIMORE Md. (AP) — An aide to Gov. J. Millard Tawes said today the governor has ordered an investigation into the background of Bayard Rustin, civil rights leader who is scheduled to speak at the University of Maryland.

Edmund C. Mester, administrative assistant to the governor, said Maryland State Police were ordered to make the investigation after a citizen called the governor's office and complained that Rustin should not be permitted to speak on the university campus.

Rustin, a leader of the New York school boycott in February 1964, and of the March on Washington in 1963, has been invited to speak at a meeting of the Law Enforcement Institute on Oct. 12. The institute is part of the University College of the University of Maryland, which encompasses the night school and the university's overseas program.

Rustin, a 6-foot-1 Negro, heads the A. Philip Randolph Institution in New York City. He had been a member of the Young Communist League, but said he quit that organization in 1941 because he was in conflict with its aims.

TOPS Club Gets Advice On Facials

How facial manipulation can prevent sagging muscles during a period of dieting was shown by Mrs. Charlie Kelly and Mrs. Clarence Cox during the Tuesday evening meeting of the TOPS Pound Rebels.

The women demonstrated the proper method of giving facials and removing cosmetics saying that the increased blood circulation could help clear the complexion. The facial exercise can also keep the skin from sagging as a person loses weight in the face and neck area. The speakers were introduced by Miss Jan Funk.

Mrs. N. B. Perkins, vice president, presided and led the prayer and TOPS pledge prior to reports of poundage lost and gained.

Mrs. James M. Hatler and Mrs. M. C. Lawrence became members, and Mrs. Doris Vaughn was a visitor.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Wash Knotted Hose For Quick Pairing

Dear Gals:

One of the most helpful hints that has come in here in a long time, is how to wash stockings, and pick them out of our dresser drawers when we needed a mated pair in a hurry.

HELOISE

Wash and dry them "knotted."

When you remove your stockings, tie them loosely at the ankles, if they haven't a runner or tear.

Knot 'em in the middle if they are loaded with snags.

If they have runs . . . then don't knot 'em.

Never unknot them until you are ready to put them on again.

At a glance, you can see which good, snagged, or runny pair (every day), to pick up.

This sure identifies stockings when you are in a hurry. . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

My mother, who is 80 years old, has a broken hip and uses a walker.

The metal tubing was hard for her to grip, so we cut a piece of old, corrugated, rubber garden hose, slit it and slide it on the walker, and it gives a nice grip. . . . Mary Elling

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I put clear adhesive - backed paper on the bottom of my front door (which is painted white) to protect it when the newsboy holds the door open with his foot while we are making change.

I also use it to protect the covers of my cookbooks, and once you have a supply, there are many ways to use the small scraps — I even taped up a package with some strips, for mailing. . . . A Reader

• • •

Your idea of the clear, adhesive-backed paper on the door gave me another idea . . .

Wouldn't this be a wonderful way to protect the paint on the door (both inside and out) if you have a pet that scratches at the door to be let in or out? . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I have found the perfect bucket for carrying my cleaning water around in the house for little cleanup jobs, such as sticky door knobs, fingerprints on the woodwork, etc.

I use my daughter's sand bucket!

No more lugging a big pail, or sloshing water over the edge of a pan.

Of course, I have to do the cleaning when she isn't out playing in her sandbox! . . . Jo Hill

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Shirt sleeves were always tangling around other clothes (or the agitator) in my washing machine until I latched onto this idea:

I button each cuff to one of the buttons on the shirt front!

Simple, eh? . . . Sara

GFWC Advised To Help Move Barriers

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The work of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is needed "to help remove barriers to human understanding among peoples of the world," Texas Secretary of State Crawford Martin told the clubwomen Thursday night.

Their board of directors ended its fall meeting today.

Martin welcomed the women to Texas on behalf of Gov. John Connally.

"We in Texas are especially grateful for the work of the federation in support of the Alliance for Progress," Martin said.

"The 10 libraries established in Peru last year by our Texas federation of over 1,000 clubs, the scholarships provided in the past to over 30 other promising students from various nations —these alone are outstanding achievements."

The women met at President Johnson's LBJ Ranch Monday.

The directors went on record Wednesday against admission of Red China to the United Nations and called the U.N. the only true world forum where every member is pledged to seek peace with freedom.

Speaking as director of the junior division clubs of the federation, Mrs. Thomas Houde described members' work to provide badly needed schools in rural Mexico.

The women raised funds for nearly five schools and hope to finance several more. The federation works through CARE, Inc., and Mexico's department of education to set up the schools.

Schools in the project accommodate about 50 children, cost $5,500 each and include teachers' quarters, lunchroom, kitchen and kindergarten facilities.

Avocado Salad Makes Perfect Sunday Meal

In this sparkling luncheon special, home economists of the U. S. Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries combine colorful avocado with versatile crab meat to perform "pretty platter" perfection.

Filled with a crab meat mixture, and made eye-appealing with chopped pimiento and olive, this cheese-topped avocado will rate raves for the clever hostess.

CRAB STUFFED AVOCADOS

1 lb. crab meat, fresh or frozen or
3 cans (6-13 ounces each) crab meat
2 tbsps. flour
¼ tsp. salt
Dash pepper
2 tbsps. melted fat or oil
1 cup milk
¼ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 tbsps. chopped olives
2 tbsps. chopped pimiento
3 ripe avocados
¼ cup grated cheese

Thaw frozen crab meat or drain canned crab meat. Remove any remaining shell or cartilage from crab meat. Blend flour, salt and pepper into fat. Add milk gradually and cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly.

Add Worcestershire sauce, pimiento, olives and crab meat. Cut avocados in half and remove seeds. Fill centers with crab mixture and sprinkle cheese over top. Place in a well-greased baking pan.

Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 20 to 25 minutes, or until brown. Serves 6.

Pears Are Plentiful

Pear - shaped tones are often scarce.

Also in smaller supply than in recent years will be the pear shapes of the fruit variety, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

However, light supplies from both local and western pear crops are beginning to move to market, reports USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Crop estimates set pear production at 19.1 million bushels, around a third smaller than last year's crop and 27 per cent below average.

Varietywise, the estimate for California Bartlett pears is 7.2 million bushels, or less than half last year's crop. Fruit size of the Oregon crop is good, but not extra large. However, you'll probably find the quality of these pears excellent. Production in Washington also is down considerably from last year. These Pacific Coast states are our main producers of the Bartletts.

The Bartlett is one of the pear favorites of most homemakers. Because of its large size and luscious appearance, it is easily recognizable due to its classic "pear shape" and its coloring of pale yellow with a reddish tint on one side and scattered russet dots all over.

Other popular fall eating pears are the Anjou, Bosc and Comice.

However, the prime period for pears is still ahead of us. Although quantities will be smaller than usual this year, you'll want to enjoy delicious pear eating while supplies last.

Meals Are Brighter With Olive Specials

Canned ripe olives provide a convenient road to special flavor, a sparkling bit of added appeal, to many dishes.

Since they are canned, you can keep a supply of ripe olives on your pantry shelf for immediate use. That's an important factor with today's busy living pace.

Ripe olives are highly menuable, too. They can be tucked into any combination of ingredients destined for salads, entrees, soups, appetizers, sandwiches, vegetables du jour, hot breads, pastas and many more.

Any time of day or night, any time of year, is right for ripe olives. Ripe olives are also likeable, enjoyed by young and old alike as they nibble these plump nuggets directly from the can or as found scattered throughout and over favorite dishes.

And this is a good time to explore the magic of canned ripe olives. Supplies are so abundant the Agricultural Marketing Service has designated this adaptable fruit as one of this month's plentiful foods. So enjoy the good supply. Serve them often.

OLIVES AND EGGS

Olives combined with eggs, also economical and plentiful, are delightful. The U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests Spicy Olive Creamed Eggs as a pleasing creamy entree.

For four servings, have ready ¼ cup onion, thinly sliced; 3 tablespoons butter or margarine; ¼ cup flour; 1½ cups milk; 1 bouillon cube; 1 teaspoon salt; ⅛ teaspoon pepper; ¾ teaspoon curry powder; ½ cup ripe olives, quartered; 3 hard-cooked eggs, cut into eighths; and rice, steamed or boiled, or toast.

To prepare: Cook onion slowly in butter until tender. Blend cube and seasonings. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add olives and eggs, and cook a minute longer. Serve on fluffy hot rice or crisp toast.

Ripe olives also score with eggs in Olive - Egg Canapes, hors d'oeuvres of merit. For about 24 canapes, have ready: ½ cup ripe olives, chopped; 3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped; ¼ teaspoon celery salt; a dash of pepper; 2 tablespoons sour pickles, chopped; 2 tablespoons mayonnaise; butter or margarine; 6 to 8 thin slices of bread; and 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento.

To prepare: Combine ripe olives, eggs, celery salt, pepper, pickle and mayonnaise. Butter bread and spread with olive mixture. Cut into small triangles, rounds or other fancy shapes. Garnish each with a bit of pimiento.

OLIVES AND CHICKEN

Another delightful idea: Team ripe olives with chicken and spaghetti in Olive Chick-etti, an entree cooked atop the range. For 8 to 10 servings, have ready: 2 cups chicken, cooked, cut into large pieces; 4 cups chicken broth; ½ cup pimiento, diced; 1-3 cup onion, chopped; 1-3 cup sweet green pepper, diced; 2 cups celery, sliced; 3 tablespoons butter or margarine; 1 pound spaghetti, broken; 1½ cups ripe olives, some whole, others cut into large pieces; and 2 cups grated cheddar cheese.

To prepare: Put chicken, broth and pimiento into saucepan. Cook onions, pepper and celery in butter until tender and clear, and add to chicken. Heat to boiling. Add spaghetti and boil until spaghetti is tender, adding more water if needed. Just before serving, stir in olives and cheese. Heat slowly until cheese is melted. Serve Olive Chick-etti with salad of greens and rolls.

Conferees Get Immigration Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has voted to discard the national origins quota system of immigration and to substitute a policy of accepting immigrants regardless of their place of birth.

But unlike the House, the Senate in passing the immigration bill by a 76-18 vote Wednesday put a ceiling for the first time on immigration from Western Hemisphere nations.

It now will be up to a Senate-House committee to work out this key difference in the bills.

COMPROMISE POSSIBLE

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., floor manager of the measure in the Senate, told newsmen it might be possible to reach a compromise that would permit the President to raise the Western Hemisphere ceiling if he found this vital to the national interest.

The scrapping of the national origins quota system has long been sought by those who contend it discriminates in favor of northern and western Europeans and makes an immigrant's place of birth more important than what he may contribute to the United States.

Under the system, adopted in 1924, immigration quotas are assigned to nations outside the Western Hemisphere on the basis of the national origins of the U.S. population in 1920.

NATIONAL INTEREST

Supporters of the system maintained it was in the national interest to favor immigrants who, because of their cultural backgrounds, could be assimilated most easily. England, Germany and Ireland have by far the largest shares of the present annual quota of 158,561.

In place of this system, the bill provides for accepting immigrants on a first-come, first-served basis regardless of place of birth except that preference would be given to those with close family ties to U.S. citizens or with special skills.

An annual quota of 170,000 is set for immigrants from nations outside the Western Hemisphere, with a limit of 20,000 from any single country.

The ceiling for Canada, Mexico and other nations in this hemisphere, beginning July 1, 1968, would be 120,000 without any country-by-country limitation.

BE ELIGIBLE

Spouses, minor children and parents of U.S. citizens would be eligible for admission without regard to the numerical ceilings.

The present quota system for nations outside the Western Hemisphere is to be abolished over a three-year period. During the transition, unused quota numbers will be placed in a pool and made available to nations with quotas that have been oversubscribed for years.

Kennedy estimated that the bill will increase the number of immigrants admitted to this country each year by about 60,000 to a total of approximately 355,000.

Here's Day In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The inside story of the Ku Klux Klan and a report of progress toward a new Panama Canal treaty are among October's prospects, but there is little chance of a higher minimum wage for U.S. workers.

In the more distant future, India's ambassador sees a long-term threat from Red China which he says justifies prompt resumption of U.S. arms aid.

Klan: A former Ku Klux Klansman has "told all" to the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., reported today.

Public hearings by the committee next month, Weltner said, will expose not only klan violence but what he called struggles between klan organizations "for money and power and control."

He said the key witness told the story in a five-hour secret committee session this week.

Panama: President Marco A. Robles of Panama addresses his National Assembly Oct. 1, and just before it he and President Johnson are reported planning to announce that good progress is being made toward a new Panama Canal treaty. Actual completion of a treaty may take much longer.

The negotiations started after 21 Panamanians and four U.S. soldiers were killed in anti-American rioting in Panama in January 1964.

PAY BILL

Minimum Wage: Hopes for a 50-cent increase to $1.75 in the hourly minimum wage grew dim as the end of Congress approached and rules complications blocked the bill's progress.

Despite strong labor support, the bill faces determined opposition elsewhere. House Speaker John W. McCormack said he does not plan to call up the measure Monday, and the next possible date under the rules is Oct. 11 when Congress will be at or near its windup. The Senate still has not acted.

India-arms: Ambassador B. K. Nehru of India, contending a U.S. embargo on arms shipments this month was not justified by India's fighting with Pakistan, said today the shipments should be resumed promptly because of what he called a long-term threat from Red China.

Nehru said in an interview that Pakistan lost the undeclared war, which ended in a U.N.-sponsored cease-fire. He reported there is ill feeling in India against the United States for its arms shipments to Pakistan, and said without them "there would have been no attack."

CAPITAL QUOTES

"I'd rather have the best man available for the job for a year or so than a less qualified person permanently." — Sargent Shriver, concerning personnel turnover in the antipoverty program he heads.

"We have permitted our criminal courts to flounder in delay, lack of dignity and the tortuous disposition of criminal cases," — President Johnson.

"The (Ku Klux) Klan lives on violence. That's the purpose of the secrecy, to be violent." — Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga.

CAPITAL FOOTNOTES

The Senate voted 76 to 18 to end the national origins quota system of immigration. A Senate-House conference will decide whether to retain the Senate-passed limitation on Western Hemisphere immigrants. Special Rosh Hashanah services will be held in the Capitol for the first known time next week so Jewish congressmen can be present to vote for a District of Columbia home rule bill. A lack of letters to the Pentagon on the subject indicates little concern by U.S. citizens over use of tear gas by troops in Viet Nam. The Senate has followed the House lead in approving $10,000 life insurance policies for military personnel at a cost of about $2 a month.

GI Book Drive Has 1 Exception

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Oregon Trail chapter of the Red Cross began soliciting paperback books last week for shipment to servicemen in Viet Nam. This week the chapter announced that Henry Miller's novel "Tropic of Cancer" had been screened out.

House OKs Barge Canal For Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texans' dream of a barge canal from the Gulf of Mexico to the landlocked cities of Dallas and Fort Worth was a step closer to reality today.

The House authorized first stages of the $911 million Trinity River improvement program Wednesday, when it passed a $1.7 billion flood control and Navigation bill.

The Senate has yet to approve the Trinity plan. The bill will go to a Senate-House conference committee to resolve differences.

WRIGHT JUBILANT

"This is the greatest thing which has happened for Texas in the past decade and perhaps in the past generation," said a jubilant Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth sponsor of the Trinity program.

"It will promote industry and commerce and assure the future of this great river valley, its cities and its citizens," Wright added.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., vowed to work for retention of the Trinity program in the final bill. He praised Wright for "one of the finest legislative achievements that I have seen by anyone in my eight years in the Senate," adding:

"This is a fine and vital step forward on an old dream of Texans to bring navigation on the Trinity River to the largest populated landlocked area in the United States."

SENATE ACTION

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., was in Lubbock as the House voted. He is expected to help fight for Senate acceptance of the program.

While the House measure merely authorizes $83 million now to begin the project, Texans hailed the bill as congressional sanction of the over-all program.

An expected floor fight over the Trinity project didn't materialize.

Rep. Glenn Davis, R-Wis., didn't try to eliminate the barge canal feature as he had promised. He rose to deny that he had described the project as a "send Jim Wright to the Senate" move.

Wright, considered a potential candidate in the Democratic primary to seek Tower's Senate seat next year, said he was sure Davis had been misquoted in a Washington newspaper.

In response to a reporter's inquiry, Wright said he would have no announcement of political plans until after Congress adjourns.

LAKE CHAIN

In addition to the barge canal, the project calls for building stairstep reservoirs and floodways from Dallas-Fort Worth to the Gulf.

Other Texas projects in the bill, with the House sum first and the Senate amount in parentheses where the two versions differ:

Navigation—Chocolate Bayou $1,234,000; Houston ship channel, Green Bayou, $470,000 (none).

Flood control — Buffalo River $1,800,000; El Paso County, $12,493,000; Highland Bayou $3.5 million; Pat Mayse Reservoir modification $310,000 (none); Taylor's Bayou $5,004,000 ($6,290,000).

State Old Age Pensions May Go Up Some

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas recipients of old age assistance may gain a small increase in their monthly checks if State Welfare Department calculations prove correct.

As a result of larger Social Security payments and greater federal participation in the old age assistant program, more money is available for the program than originally anticipated.

State Welfare Commissioner John Winter said his office will be watching operations the next few months to see whether benefits can be increased.

ONE MILLION

Recent action in Congress increasing benefits 7 per cent will begin fattening Social Security checks for close to one million Texans next month, including 90,000 who receive old age assistance payments.

Social Security checks will be raised $4 to $8.89 monthly, lowering old age payments by an average of $3.60 to Social Security recipients. The reductions result from State Welfare Department procedures which base old age assistance payments on the difference between a recipient's financial obligation and his income. Social Security is included in income.

Reductions in welfare payments are expected to shrink Welfare Department expenditures $360,000 a month.

ANOTHER CUT

Another $230,000 cut in spending resulted from a change in the federal government's participation in the old age assistance program. It's share — about 70 per cent — was increased because Texas per capita income failed to keep pace with the national per capita income.

In anticipation of both of these drops in spending, the welfare department recently increased the old age assistance grant ceiling from $83 to $95, making the cost about $400,000 more per month.

Food Stores' Purchase OKd

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —Stockholders cleared the way Wednesday for Shop Rite Food Stores, Inc., to buy Food Mart, Inc., assets and business in Texas and New Mexico.

Shop Rite owns the Piggly Wiggly supermarkets, with 15 stores in New Mexico, 72 in Texas and 2 in Oklahoma, and has headquarters in Albuquerque. Food Mart is headquartered in El Paso and owns 86 Food Mart stores in Texas and Southern New Mexico.

Shop Rite shareholders approved the acquisition 720,291 to 2,396. The Food Mart vote was 769,895 to 28,624.

The deal will become effective Oct. 1, Shop Rite president J. S. Reinhart said, subject to tax rulings from the Internal Revenue Service.

Union Head To LBJ: Keep Out

HONOLULU (AP) — Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, says he will ask President Johnson to stay out of next year's negotiations for dockworkers if the government attempts to mediate.

In a speech Wednesday at the Hawaii I.L.W.U.'s biennial convention, Bridges said "we don't want President Johnson coming around and expecting us to make a few sacrifices for Viet Nam. It won't work. We don't want him to step into our negotiations."

Bridges, in an otherwise softtoned speech, said his union considers itself expert at negotiations and asked it be left alone to do its job.

Jury Returns $55,000 Award

Norma Williams won a $55,000 default judgment against Melvin R. Delano in her suit tried Monday morning in 118th District Court. The jury returned the verdict after half an hour deliberation.

Miss Williams brought the suit as a result of a collision between her car and a truck owned by the defendant. The accident occurred Oct. 27, 1964 at West Third and Gregg.

The defendant was not represented at the hearing.

Judge Ralph Caton accepted the verdict, entered the judgment, and excused the 12 jurors and their fellow panelists from further court duty this week. None of the other cases tentatively slated for trial were ready for the jury, he said.

Man, 102, Dies; Retired At 91

EAST PROVINCE, R.I. (AP) —William F. Johnson died here Wednesday at the age of 102.

Thirty-eight years ago, when he was 64, a Providence foundry discharged him for being "too old" to continue working.

Johnson got a job as messenger for an insurance firm, and held it until he retired at the age of 91.

Cong Raids 2 Delta Outposts

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong struck again in the Mekong Delta Wednesday night, raiding two government outposts while U.S. war planes ranged over Communist Viet Nam bombing boats and bridges.

The Communist guerrillas inflicted light casualties in the raids on the outposts, a U.S. military spokesman said.

There was no estimate of Viet Cong losses in the night fighting in Kien Tuong Province, 50 miles west of Saigon, and in Kien Giang Province, 130 miles southwest of the capital.

DESTROY BOATS

Pilots of 16 U.S. Navy planes from the 7th Fleet carrier Midway reported they destroyed two boats and heavily damaged several bridges in North Viet Nam. The pilots said they met with heavy ground fire but all planes reportedly returned safely.

Radio Hanoi claimed North Viet Nam shot down two U.S. AD6 fighters Wednesday, bringing the total of downed American aircraft to 592.

Another Radio Hanoi broadcast said more than 200 U.S. troops were put out of action during the fierce fighting at An Khe, South Viet Nam, last Saturday.

Radio Hanoi did not break down the figure into killed, wounded, captured or other categories. U.S. sources have said casualties were moderate for the 101st Paratroopers at An Khe.

NIXON SPEECH

Former U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in a speech in Alliance, Ohio, that history will record the Viet Nam war "as the war that had to be fought to avoid World War III."

The former vice president said the United States is winning the war "and it will be over soon. When it does happen," he added, "aggression in Asia will have been stopped."

Imperturbable Amos Now A 'Secret Agent'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Remember Amos Burke, the high-style homicide cop with the predilection for expensive cars, blonde dishes and dry martinis?

You just can't believe what has happened to imperturbable Amos over the summer.

Last year he was never caught doing anything more active than bussing a beauteous babe or pouring a brandy. But they have transformed him into a semisecret agent. And Wednesday night he was slugged, drugged, stuffed in a wine cask, thrown into a dungeon and shot at repeatedly, among other things.

TAKES ON 5

At one point, he took on five nasty fellows in hand-to-hand combat, and would have won, too, if somebody else hadn't rapped him on the head with an iron pipe. But at the end of the program, he emerged fresh and unruffled, having single-handedly smashed a plot to assassinate Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

"Amos Burke, Secret Agent" — the new title of Gene Barry's old ABC series — is obviously designed to out-Bond and out-U.N.C.L.E. other contenders in the derring-do sweepstakes, and pretty well succeeds in becoming amusing satire.

The most extraordinary feat of the hour, however, was the way Amos kept himself alive when he was locked in a gas-filled freight car with his automobile. He merely sniffed air from the auto tires while forcing the train door with his car jack.

IS REASSURING

The "Dick Van Dyke Show" earlier on CBS consisted of one of the less memorable episodes, but the return of the show with its cast intact is reassuring to viewers disappointed in the new programs.

The show had Dick exiled in a remote cabin trying to write a novel but it never really came off. In fact, one could detect in the story line a slight indication that the writers might be turning Rob Petrie into one of those boob husbands that abound in situation comedies.

"The Patty Duke Show" depended more on its laugh track than its story line. The young ABC star, in her American girl character, was involved in an attack of tonsilitis, a crush on her doctor and a case of mistaken identity — all pretty familiar ingredients in television comedy series.

The show did contain one shock for the mature viewer: Troy Donahue played the doctor and was described by one of Patty's contemporaries as "an old man." It seems like yesterday when Troy was playing a teenager in old "Surside Six."

GM Reduces Auto Prices

DETROIT (AP) — A $72-"average reduction" in auto prices announced by General Motors Corp. in the wake of a Chrysler Corp. price increase has observers wondering what the trend in 1966 will be.

G.M., largest of the car makers, announced Wednesday a price cut ranging from $52 to $136 on its lines of new 1966 model cars. GM said this averaged out to $72 on all its cars.

CONSIDERABLY LESS

The reduction figures compare 1966 prices with the prices listed for 1965 autos before this year's federal excise tax cut took effect. If compared with 1965 prices after the tax decrease, the differences would be considerably less.

The GM statement followed by 48 hours the price increase announced by Chrysler.

But it has not been made clear to what extent Chrysler's boost reflected the costs of additional car safety equipment, now standard in the industry. Chrysler's increases ranged from $59 to $84.

ECONOMY IMPACT

The new car price announcements come as the government watches carefully in view of the auto industry's impact on the national economy.

New 1966 cars will start showing up in the showrooms of the nation's thousands of car dealers within the next two weeks.

Ford, another of the industry's big three has yet to act on its new prices. Ford may declare itself in a day or two.

The industry, which enjoyed its greatest boom year in the production and sale of 1965 model cars, anticipates the 1966 year also will be a bellringer.

Mislabeled Blood Said Sent To Local Hospital

DALLAS (AP) — Federal marshals renewed attempts today to serve an arrest warrant on Charles Blank, former head of the Dallas Blood Bank.

Blank and his wife were indicted Tuesday on charges of conspiracy and mislabelling of blood sold to Texas and Oklahoma hospitals.

Mrs. Blank, 37, surrendered Wednesday and was released on $1,500 bond.

A federal grand jury accused the couple of selling blood serum to hospitals in Texas and Oklahoma that had been mislabeled in violation of federal laws governing public health.

Five counts specifically charged the couple with shipping blood to hospitals in Abilene, Temple and Sherman that had been labeled as showing a negative reaction to a serological test for syphilis when tests showed a postive reaction.

Other counts alleged that blood sent to a Big Spring hospital was labeled to indicate tests for irregular antibodies had been performed when no tests had been made.

Panama Pact Report Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Presidents of the United States and Panama are reported planning to announce soon that good progress is being made on one of Washington's oldest and most difficult international problems — negotiation of a new treaty governing operation of the Panama Canal.

Informed sources said the announcement by Presidents Johnson and Marco A. Robles would be a progress report on treaty discussions. The tedious job of drafting a new treaty may not be completed for some time, the sources said.

25 KILLED

The discussions began shortly after an anti-U.S. riot in Panama in January 1964 in which 21 Panamanians and 4 U.S. soldiers were killed.

The announcement is expected to report progress in clearing away many technicalities and to stress friendly cooperation between the nations in striving for a new agreement that is mutually satisfactory.

GOOD TIDINGS

The timing of the announcement — shortly before Robles is to make his first state of the nation report to Panama's National Assembly on Oct. 1 — suggests it will contain good news.

A special U.S. commission is at work trying to determine the site and feasibility of a new sea-level waterway to take the place of the lock-type Panama Canal, to increase capacity and to make it safer from enemy attack. Two sites in Panama, one in Colombia and one in Nicaragua and Costa Rica, are being considered.

U.S. Reveals Atomic Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission says it conducted a low yield, underground nuclear test called "Tiny Tot" on June 17 in its program for detection of subterranean atomic blasts.

The AEC disclosed Wednesday the test was conducted at its Nevada test site for the Department of Defense. A low yield explosion is one with a force of less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC gave no other details, except to say the explosion "is being announced now so that information obtained in the test may be used as part of unclassified (nonsecret) studies."

Car Accident Injuries Fatal

GALVESTON (AP) — Mrs. Ward Westbrook of Jasper, who had been in a coma since a July 26 car accident near Chillicothe, died at Sealy Hospital here Wednesday.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♣	Pass	2 NT
Pass	3 NT	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Seven of ♣

A very unfavorable break in diamonds apparently doomed South's three no trump contract today. Declarer was able to effect a last minute revival, however, by means of an unusual squeeze and end play against his opponent.

West decided to open his fourth best club despite North's opening bid in that suit. The three was played from dummy and East's queen held the trick. The eight of clubs was continued and, when West played the jack, North ducked again. The five of clubs drove out the ace as South discarded a diamond.

Declarer had eight top tricks, three spades, three hearts, one diamond, and one club. The diamond suit offered a good chance to develop a ninth, provided that West could be kept out of the lead in the process. In order to avert the possibility of West's getting in with a singleton honor, South led a small diamond to the ace in his hand.

When West showed out by discarding a spade, declarer's hopes dimmed, for East apparently had three stoppers in the diamond suit since he retained the K-Q-9 behind North's J-10.

A moment's thought convinced South that he need not abandon hope provided that he could locate East's short suit. He cashed the king of spades first and, when East followed with the eight, declarer continued with the queen and then the ace.

On the third round of spades, East was obliged to make a discard. If he surrendered a diamond, it would allow the declarer to establish the fulfilling trick in that suit by driving out the king and queen of diamonds. East accordingly discarded a heart.

South proceeded to play three rounds of hearts which eliminated all the other suits and reduced the North, East, and South hands to three diamonds apiece. The jack of diamonds was led and East was endplayed. After he cashed the king and queen, he had to surrender the last trick to North's ten.

MRS. W. L. PATTON

Life Of Artist Filled By Painting, Cooking

By JO ANN PHINIZY

To Mrs. W. L. Patton, 2107 Cecilia, the criteria of a perfect day is to do all her housework in the mornings and paint in the afternoons. Not an easy matter to accomplish, by any means; but, as she says, "It certainly keeps the days in a whirl."

As an artist, Mrs. Patton says painting has been the fascination of a lifetime, and that absolute perfection is a shadow of illusion.

When it comes to cooking, the Pattons are in the Jalapeno pepper set. This penchant for highly-seasoned foods started with W. L. Patton, adjuster for the Social Security Administration. The trait can also be found in their teenage daughters, Jessie and Judy.

The Pattons were, at one time, habitats of the Army world. As such, they lived in many places and in several countries. One tour of duty took them to oriental lands.

Mrs. Patton said that the further east you go, the more prodigal the foods become. Such things as octopus and pickled fish are the rage along the China coast.

In Japan, on the other hand, people tend to follow a more modified cooking. As a whole, Mrs. Patton recalls that she wasn't impressed with Japanese cooking. She says it is cooked to pieces and has no natural flavoring.

It's in Hawaii, Mrs. Patton says, that the most ideal cooking can be found.

HAWAIIAN FOOD

The native Hawaiian food is a blend of the oriental cultures; it's not quite as exotic as the Chinese and has more seasoning than the Japanese.

One particular seasoning from Hawaii that Mrs. Patton favors is the fresh ginger root. She says it is a spice that adds an Asiatic "sweet and sour" taste to foods.

Mrs. Patton is in the throes of learning Mexican cooking. Currently, she is trying for tacos that "won't explode" when bitten into. There is a certain red bean recipe that Mrs. Patton uses. She says that although it has a staggered cooking schedule, it is well worth the effort.

She covers two pounds of pinto beans in a pan full of water and cooks for one hour. Then she adds a chunk of salt pork and cooks another hour. Next comes six cloves of garlic and one onion and another hour of cooking. Then add four tablespoons of chili powder, two teaspoons of oregano and two teaspoons of cumin—cook another hour. She says the trick is to try not to add water; and, if it must be done, be sure the water is boiling before adding.

ALUMINUM SKILLET

The one kitchen utensil Mrs. Patton had rather not have is an aluminum skillet. She says that everything in sight will stick to one and that cleaning requires more scrubbing than they deserve.

For family hobbies, the Pattons are golf buffs, although Mrs. Patton says that she is more of the "indoor caddie" type.

In making sandwiches for school lunches, Mrs. Patton recommends preparing them the evening before. She also says that the best things since shirt pockets are plastic sandwich bags.

In selecting her recipes, Mrs. Patton says that the Terriochi Steak is Hawaiian, and the Beet and Tomatoes is a Chinese dish. The Boiled Fruit Cake is one she inherited from her grandmother. For a side dish, Mrs. Patton suggests trying a tossed salad with corn chips, blue cheese dressing and slices of hard boiled egg to pep up a meal.

Egg Prices Are Lower

Is it spring?

The hens must think so, for they are laying more eggs than they usually do at this season.

As a result, farm prices of eggs are running about a dime a dozen lower than last year at this time, according to market reports of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Have you ever noticed how responsive retail egg prices are to farm prices? They follow about the same trend. So, look for lower egg prices at your market.

Now's a good time to practice economy and serve many of your gourmet recipes calling for more eggs than you normally want to use.

Here's a recipe from the Creole country of Louisiana, calling for a half dozen eggs. You'll need ¼ cup chopped onion, ¼ cup chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons fat, melted, 2½ cups tomatoes, 2 cups water, 1 cup uncooked rice, salt and pepper plus the 6 eggs.

Cook the onion and green pepper in fat until onion is lightly browned. Pour in tomatoes and water; bring to boil.

Add the rice and simmer gently until rice is tender. Add more water if rice becomes dry. Season with salt and pepper. Break the eggs and drop in the bed of rice. Cover and simmer about 10 minutes until eggs are firm. What a good brunch or luncheon dish Eggs Creole makes for a half dozen people.

Pretty Chicken Mold Pleases The Ladies

It is a lovely time to charm your friends with a festive luncheon party — perhaps before a game of bridge or a shower for the bride-to-be.

Perfect as the center of attraction for such a meal is a cool, molded meat salad. Appetites call for foods that are light and refreshing, and molded salads create such a prtety effect on your table.

One main-dish salad you'll enjoy preparing and serving to guests is this Luncheon Chicken Mold. Hidden inside are chopped celery, green papper, pimento and chunks of chicken. A little bottled lemon juice gives a hint of tartness.

Parepare the salad in a large mold for a buffet party, or in individual molds for a sit-down meal. Depending upon the size of your molds and the number you are serving, you may want to double the recipe.

Another nice thing about molded salads is that you do all the preparation in advance. When guests arrive, you'll be fresh and relaxed.

Complete your menu with minted peas, a colorful relish tray, dainty rolls, and ice cream-fruit parfaits for dessert.

LUNCHEON CHICKEN MOLD

2 envelopes unflavored galatin
2 cups cold water
1 can (10½ ozs.) cream of chicken soup
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 tbsps. concentrated lemon juice
2 cans (5 to 5½ ozs. each) boned chicken, diced (about 1½ cups)
2-3 cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped green pepper
2 tbsps. chopped pimento
2 tsps. grated onion

Sprinkle gelatin on one cup cold water to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Blend remaining 1 cup cold water into soup. Stir in dissolved sauce and bottled lemon juice. Chill until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in remaining ingredients. Turn into oiled 5-cup mold. Chill until firm. Six to 8 servings.

NOTE: Recipe makes about 7 individual molds.

Meat Cuts Can Be Pan Broiled

The same tender cuts of meat suitable for broiling when cut an inch thick or less may be pan-broiled. Use a heavy frying pan or a griddle. You need not preheat. Be certain neither to add water nor to cover—it will no longer be panbroiling!

Pour the drippings off as they accumulate. If you permit them to collect, it will be panfrying. Cook, turning occasionally, until meat is done.

Dear Abby

Just Do The Manly Thing

DEAR ABBY: My folks and I have always been close, but now that the draft call has been increased my mother is dead set against my going into the service. She keeps telling me all kinds of ways to fail my physical. I have wanted to enlist, but if I do it will break my mother's heart. I will be taking my physical soon and I know I can pass if I want to. Should I try to fail by using some of my mother's tricks? I hate to disappoint my mother, but I really want to join the army and do my part. Please answer in your column as my mother opens all my mail and I wouldn't want to upset her any more than she already is.

FROM ILLINOIS

DEAR ILLINOIS: The examining team knows more tricks than your mother, so don't start off on the wrong foot by trying to fail your physical. Tell your mother that her little boy has become a man and, therefore, you must do the manly thing. Then do it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: How can a young, foolish girl find out if she went too far with a boy before it's too late?

SCARED TO DEATH

DEAR SCARED: If she's "scared to death," she went too far. If she went too far, she should see a physician at once. He can tell her how late it is.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband works in a garage and when he comes home he washes his hands and face, but he doesn't believe in taking baths. I'll bet he hasn't taken 6 in the 10 years we've been married. If you could see his bedding, you would faint. His pillow cases are so filthy from the grease and dirt in his head I could cry every time I look at them. I have made pillow cases from dark material but even that shows the dirt. He says I nag him but, Dear Abby, he should take a bath as soon as he comes home from work. I cannot keep his bed clean any more. I just end up tearing up his sheets for rags. Not only that, but I feel I just can't go to bed with him in that condition. He reads your column. Can you say something to him?

CAN'T GO ON

DEAR CAN'T: To "nag" is to carp on inconsequential matters, but your insistence that your husband bathe is hardly "nagging." Assuming the man has all his marbles, he should be given no peace until he bathes, and bathes regularly. Bribe him, threaten him, promise him anything — but don't give up.

Nonlethal Gas Use Requested

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. military command in Saigon has asked Washington to re-examine U.S. policy against using nonlethal tear gas under certain conditions in the war in Viet Nam, it was learned in Saigon today.

Saigon informants said the request on tear gas, made two weeks ago, asks that field commanders be permitted to use it in special instances.

A Marine field commander earlier this month used tear gas to rout Viet Cong guerrillas from a tunnel where they had taken refuge among civilians. The commander was said to feel it was the best way to rout the guerrillas with the least harm to civilians.

The tear gas request came as Viet Cong guerrillas launched wide-ranging attacks in the Mekong delta south of Saigon and U.S. forces exchanged shots with Communist units in the central highlands of South Viet Nam.

Kashmir City Of Srinagar Was Periled

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP) — It is now apparent that Srinagar came within a hair of falling during the first three days of guerrilla warfare that has gripped the beautiful Himalayan state of Kashmir.

One major worry is the condition of Kashmir's economy.

The economic barometer rises and falls with the tourist trade and this has plummeted with the outbreak of hostilities.

Many Kashmiris blame Pakistan for their woes, repeating India's arguments that the guerrillas were trained, equipped and directed there.

The unanswered question is why the guerrillas did not press their advantage. A Kashmir official says:

"The people themselves didn't know our predicament. There was no depth (to India's defenses), no reserve to our Indian army force here."

It is assumed the guerrillas expected their initial sabotage, clashes with security forces and propaganda broadcasts by a clandestine radio station would touch off a mass uprising.

Kashmir is predominantly Moslem, as is Pakistan, and for years there has been grumbling about rule by largely Hindu India.

Kashmiris in some places gave shelter and assistance to guerrillas, but a popular revolt did not develop.

Now the Indian army is here in force and strategic installations are heavily fortified. Soldiers stand watch behind sandbag and brick emplacements at banks, the radio station, homes of key government officials, and the airport. A dusk to dawn curfew is in effect.

The Kashmiris are used to tension. India and Pakistan have been quarreling over them for 18 years.

At the moment there is plenty of food, because the Kashmiris are so isolated that stockpiling is a way of life.

"We always have enough for five or six months," said Sadiq.

TB Drive Dates Set

Kickoff date for the seal sale of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association was set for Nov. 16 by members of the executive board in a noon meeting Wednesday at the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

Champ Rainwater, president, announced that Marvin Miller will head the bond and special gifts division.

Mrs. Ethel Sherrill reported on the state meeting and said that the state will require tuberculin tests given to the first and seventh grades. The local board voted to continue tests in grades one, five, eight and 12 as in the past, except in high incident areas where tests are given in each grade. Mrs. Harry Jordan said testing in the local schools begins in February.

The 18 board members attending the meeting voted to hold future meetings at 12 noon at the Holiday Inn. The next meeting is slated for Nov. 17.

Mrs. Spencer Speaks On Drama

Mrs. Norman Spencer, Jr. spoke to members of Delta Psi Omega, drama fraternity at Howard County Junior College, at an open meeting in the Student Union building Tuesday night. Paul Rogers, president, presided.

Mrs. Spencer, who has directed plays for the Little Theatre of Big Spring, talked on the development of community theatre. She pointed out the strong influence of the theatre on American society.

"There are 150,000 little theatres in the United States," she said. "There are more participants than have ever worked in any art form, in any nation, in all history."

Several visitors attended the meeting. Martin Landers is sponsor of the drama department.

Lawyers To Try To Free Fugitive

HONOLULU (AP) — David Hagler's lawyers will try to free the Texas fugitive at a hearing here Monday.

Hagler, 47, was charged by the FBI with unlawful flight to Australia to avoid prosecution in Dallas on two forgery counts.

Joseph Ryan, Hagler's lawyer, contended his detention and arrest are illegal.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To: WILLARD DOSHIER, Defendant(s), Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to the Plaintiff (s) Petition at or before ten o'clock a.m. of the first Monday after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being Monday the 1st day of November, 1965, at or before ten o'clock a.m. before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, Texas, at the Courthouse of said County in Big Spring, Texas.

Said Plaintiff(s) Amended Petition was filed in said court, on the 14th day of September A.D. 1965, in this cause numbered 15,829 on the docket of said court, and styled, FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN BIG SPRING, Plaintiff(s), vs. WILLARD DOSHIER, Defendant(s).

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: On or about the 12th day of April, 1965, Defendant executed and delivered to Plaintiff a promissory note in the original amount of $2,704.68 payable in monthly installment of $75.13 each and on or about the 1st day of June, 1965, Defendant became default in the payment of said note. After making demand as required by law, Plaintiff declared all unpaid balance to be due and payable as is provided in said note and there is presently due and payable to Plaintiff the sum of $2,633.30. Plaintiff is secured by a lien on certain property belonging to the Defendant, to wit; a 1965 Chevrolet One Half Ton Pickup, Motor No. C1545S172106. Plaintiff does not seek personal judgment against the Defendant Willard Doshier but merely seeks foreclosure of its lien on the above described property, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff(s) Petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this the 14th day of September A. D. 1965.

Attest:
M. FERN COX, Clerk,
District Court, Howard County, Texas.
By Joan Daniel, Deputy.

Latins React Angrily To House Move

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Some Latin-American countries have reacted angrily to a resolution passed by the U. S. House of Representatives approving the use of force in any American nation threatened by a Communist take-over.

The congresses of both Peru and Colombia passed unanimous resolutions of their own condemning it. Newspapers from left to right were hostile and there has been no favorable comment.

The U.S. resolution said "acts possessing characteristics of aggression and intervention carried out against one or more of the member states of the Organization of American States may be responded to either in individual or collective form, which could go as far as resort to armed force."

The resolution merely expresses the feeling of the House. It does not require Senate action and does not fix administration policy.

Industrial Pollution Adds To Cities' Water Problem

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — There are scientists here who think that in time there will be federal laws requiring industry to report the wastes it is now dumping in the nation's waterways and to certify them harmless.

P.W. Kabler, director of basic and applied research at the U.S. Public Health Service's Robert A. Taft Sanitary Engineering Center, said in an interview:

"It might come about in the next two or three generations."

The plain fact of the matter is that industry in general— always with enlightened exceptions—is a great contributor to the pollution of the nation's waters.

TRADE SECRETS

The USPHS says that, by and large, the nation's industrial managers will not give figures on the quality and quantity of the wastes their plants dump into the nation's waters on the grounds that to do so would reveal trade secrets to competitors.

As of now the rapidly growing chemical and petrochemical industries are producing some 7,000 new compounds annually and the waste water used in the manufacture of these compounds is being dumped into rivers, streams and lakes.

In assessing the size of the problem, USPHS said in a report:

"Effective and economic methods for treating most of the organic materials remain to be developed. Even where treatment exists, residues may remain in the water. These stable residues persist through sewage treatment, biological and chemical action of the stream and water treatment processes and finally reach the consumer in drinking water.

"Essentially nothing is known of the possible immediate or long effects of these materials on human health. Such information is urgently needed."

POLLUTES IT

Industry, of course, uses vast amounts of water and—again with exceptions—pollutes it thoroughly before returning it to the streams.

A household will use about 65 gallons of water daily on the average—lawn watering, washing cars, bathing, drinking, cooking and laundry.

In manufacturing:

It takes 210 gallons of water to produce a 42-gallon barrel of oil.

To make a ton of steel requires 17,000 to 65,000 gallons of water.

To make a ton of aluminum takes 1,200 tons of water.

One ton of paper requires 700 tons of water.

USPHS estimates that the nation needs 6,000 industrial waste treatment plants if the watercourses ever are to become reasonably free of pollution. There is no estimate of the cost to industry, but it undoubtedly would run into billions.

USPHS makes the point that water can be conserved and purified by industry; that industrial pollution is a problem which is soluble.

Hunt Pushed For Fugitive

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Police have charged two men with aiding the escape of George Lemay while luxurious hotels in Nassau, Bahamas, were combed in a search for the dapper, French-speaking Canadian.

Lemay, 39, one of the most searched-for men in the Western Hemisphere, is accused of masterminding a spectacular bank burglary in Montreal.

NASSAU SEARCH

Sources in the Bahamas said two U.S. officials—one of them with the Immigration Department — arrived in Nassau to help in the search.

"We think that Lemay is out of the country and that his wife is with him," said Dade County Sheriff T. A. Buchanan in Miami.

Earl Mixon, 31, a deputy sheriff until about a year ago, and Harold D. Algar, 27, were charged with helping Lemay escape. Algar was freed on $2,500 bond, Mixon was jailed.

DOWN CABLE

Buchanan claimed that Mixon and Lemay's attractive wife Lisi, 29, planned the escape "from the outside." The sheriff accused Algar, a security officer at the Dade County jail, as being "the inside man."

Buchanan said $35,000 was offered as the price for liberating Lemay, who scrambled 90 feet down a cable Tuesday night from the seventh floor of the jail.

Lemay was arrested last May aboard a yacht he kept at Fort Lauderdale. He was identified from a wanted poster seen on the Early Bird Satellite television program.

Her daughter, Mrs. J. M Wright, 60, was injured. Mrs. Wright is the wife of the pastor of Port Arthur's First Baptist Church.

Officers said the truck was involved in an accident before Mrs. Wright's car hit it.
