No New Names Filed

Approach of the deadline which occurs at midnight tonight brought no indications this morning that there would be additions to the list of those who have filed candidacies subject to the city election April 5.

Officials said, however, that any filing before midnight will obtain a place on the printed ballot for the candidate. Such candidacies, it was explained, should be filed with Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary. However, any filing in the prescribed legal form bearing a postmark before midnight will be accepted.

Unless there should be additions to the list, contests for mayor and for commission place No. 1 will be two-man races, with four candidates in the field for commission place No. 3.

The candidates, in the order of filing, are:

Labor Factor In Troubles Of Europe

(By The Associated Press)

Labor became today more than ever a pivotal factor in British and French attempts to put up a bold armed front in unsettled Europe.

In Britain, three labor organizations conferred on conservative Prime Minister Chamberlain's ap-

ASSAIL CHAMBERLAIN POLICY

LONDON, March 25 (AP) — Leaders of British labor today assailed Prime Minister Chamberlain's declaration of foreign policy and called for an immediate meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations to consider "the appeasement of Europe."

peal for unstinted cooperation to speed rearmament as the "first priority" of the Chamberlain foreign policy.

The prime minister warned Britain yesterday that she might have to fight but refused to pledge to give Czechoslovakia a "prior guarantee" of aid against German aggression.

In France, nearly 27,000 workers were staging "stay-in" strikes to demonstrate their support of the popular front government, headed by Socialist Leader Leon Blum, as well as force new collective contracts.

It was an unsolicited and perhaps unwanted gesture, for Premier Blum already had plenty of troubles from a balky senate which would not permit him to dip into the monetary stabilization fund surplus for defense expenditures.

His cabinet—12 days in office—nipped the budding ministerial crisis by approving the premier's proposal to seek lower house ratification of only one of his financial bills, for a Bank of France loan to meet immediate government bills.

Crowley Talks With Political Leaders

AUSTIN, March 25. (AP) — Karl Crowley, solicitor of the United States postoffice department who is considering running for governor, talked politics here today with Governor James V. Allred.

Friends said he also intended to confer with former Governor James E Ferguson and other political leaders.

Crowley, who will leave tonight for Fort Worth, indicated he would state definitely while on his Texas visit whether he would enter the governor's race. He has issued statements attacking Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson and Attorney General William McCraw, two of the leading candidates.

Man O' War's Son In Front By A Head

Battleship, Owned By Mrs. Marion Scott, First U. S. Horse To Capture Race

(By The Associated Press)

AINTREE, Eng., Mar. 25—By the narrow margin of a head, the United States scored its first American-owned and bred victory in the 100-year history of the Grand National steeplechase today when Mrs. Marion Scott's Battleship, a son of the famous Man O' War, led 35 rivals over the difficult four miles and 856 yards.

Seventeen-year-old Bruce Hobbs, youngest of England's steeplechase riders, booted the little American jumper home with only the narrowest of margins to spare over H. C. McNally's Royal Danieli while a crowd of 250,000 thrilled to the sight of the closest finish in recent years.

Workman Is Third

Sir Alex MacGuire's Workman, nearly even with the two leaders at the last fence, dropped far back in the final drive but held third place in front of James V. Rank's Cooleen, one of the favorites.

Only one other American-bred horse, Rubio, ever won the jumping classic but he carried the silks of an Englishman to the front in 1908. Three other American-owned horses—Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's Kellsboro Jack, Charles Schwartz's Jack Horner and Stephen Sanford's Sergeant Murphy — have won the race but they all were bred in England.

Hobbs, son of Battleship's trainer, kept the American horse close to the pace from the start, had him among the first three over the last half of the journey and then drove him to the front in the last few yards after Royal Danieli had faltered at the last jump.

Battleship, a 40 to 1 shot, made only two mistakes. The first was at

State Bureau Plan Opposed

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNWOOD, Mar. 25.—County judges and commissioners would be shorn of their authority to sit as board of equalization if a state assessing bureau is created, the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners' association members were told today at the opening session of their three-day convention by District Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin.

Yarborough estimated that traveling expenses for "the host of roving assessors that would be loosed on Texas" and other costs of administration would eat up approximately one-fifth of the amount collected as state ad valoreem taxes.

Just Added Expense

"Though many of the present duties of county assessors and the commissioners' courts would be taken away, salaries would remain the same, so the cost of operating the state assessing board would be just that much added expense," Yarborough asserted.

Yarborough is a candidate for attorney general.

Several hundred persons attended convention sessions today, including 150 registered delegates.

State Senator E. M. Davis of Brownwood discussed "soil conservation."

H. E. Robinson of Brownwood, deputy state school superintendent, was another speaker.

Controlled Diet On Animals Is Tested

ITHACA, N. Y., March 25 (AP) — The day when a controlled diet may be utilized to increase, and possibly double, the production span of life for cows, chickens, horses and other farm animals appeared within reach today, on the basis of animal nutrition experiments at Cornell university.

Dr. C. M. McCay, of the animal nutrition department, said a three-year objective study in retarding the aging processes and extending the productive life by limiting calories of the diet during the period of growth had revealed a technique by which animals can be kept "young" or allowed to proceed into senescence.

In laboratory experiments, Dr. McCay was able to double the normal life span of white rats by withholding food of high caloric content from their diet. One group of animals fed an adequate diet with calories died after the normal life span of about 600 days.

General Brees inspected the Tech engineering unit of the Reserve Officers Training corps on his visit.

Cochran County Negroes Live In Squalid Surroundings But None Is Really "Starving"

By R. C. HANKINS
Of The Journal Staff

MORTON, March 25.—There are not "300 starving negroes" in Western Cochran county.

There are 50 negroes and 30 Mexicans living in squalid surroundings and barely existing on what they can make on the "tail end" of a cotton crop raised on a 6,000-acre plantation. A few of them complain of illness and "misery in the back" and one has pneumonia. But none is starving and aside from unsanitary living conditions—which differ from usual fall "cotton picker" conditions all over Texas in that there is a larger group concentrated—they are eking out an existence.

I know, I was out there. I talked to many of them and I personally waded through their living quarters, 13 miles west and four miles north of here, in five half-dugouts on the place of F. O. Maston, of Wellington.

Wild rumors regarding conditions of those who live in the mean hevels are not true, in the main, say those in position to explain more coherently.

Leon Harrison, son of J. C. Harrison, overseer of the great cotton plantation, and James Lopez of Teague, Mexican labor contractor who has comissary rights, say frank-

Vermont Being Troubled With 'Dust Bowl' Problem Too

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP) — Vermont, 2000 miles from the high winds of the semi-arid Great Plains, has a "dust bowl" problem, too.

Federal soil conservation service officials told today of progress in halting encroachment of blowing sandy wastes on pasturelands on the Vermont plateaus and steep slopes above the Winooski river.

Acting under direction of conservation engineers, the Vermont farmers are constructing "whisker" terraces built of tree limbs and brush on blowing land to check erosion. They also are planting thousands of pine seedlings in "shelter belt" fashion in an attempt to provide wooded thickets for wild life.

Texas Building In February Active

AUSTIN, March 25. (AP)—Texas building activity in February climbed sharply over both the preceding month and the corresponding month last year, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported today.

Thirty-six cities, representing all sections, showed a total of $5,805,751, an increase of 28.8 per cent over January and 26.1 more than February 1937.

Cities with gains over both comparable periods were Austin, Big Spring, Brownwood, Corpus Christi, Corsicana, Denison, El Paso Galveston Graham, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen, Palestine, Paris, Plainview, Port Arthur, Sherman, Snyder, Tyler and Waco.

Tech ROTC In Review For Commander

Major General H. J. Brees Witnesses Ceremony At College This Morning

Major General H. J. Brees, commander of the eighth corps area with headquarters at Fort Sam Houston, left by airplane at 10 o'clock this morning for Amarillo after inspecting the Texas Technological college engineering unit of the Reserve Officers Training corps and seeing a review of the Tech unit of 115 members.

Approximately 500 persons witnessed the review. The Tech band played.

Greeted At Airport

In a group which met the major general and his aide, Lieut. Paul A. Gavin, and accompanied him to the airport when he left were R. C. Hopping, president of the chamber of commerce, Spencer A. Wells, vice chairman of the college board of directors; Capt. Frank A. Pettit, commander of the Tech unit; J. H. Brock and Dick Shinkle of the chamber of commerce; R. F. Hinchey, vice president and general manager of the West Texas Gas company.

As corps area commander, General Brees has as his only superior Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staff of the United States army.

Major General Brees only exercised his prerogative to inspect the unit at any time, Captain Pettit said this morning in correction of a report that the commander was to make the annual war department inspection of the unit. The official inspection will be made April 6 by Major Robert O. Poage, assistant civilian components officer of the eighth corps area, Fort Sam Houston.

Goes To Amarillo

From here, the commander and his aide and pilot went to Amarillo where the general will inspect the high school R. O. T. C. unit

Abilene Is Chosen For Next Site For Druggists Session

BIG SPRING, March 25 (AP) — Abilene was selected as the place and August 16, 17 and 18 were fixed as the dates of the next convention of the West Texas Pharmaceutical association as the organization's spring convention was concluded here today. Officers will be elected at the August meeting, Gerald Allen of Robert Lee serving as president and Leroy Clark of San Angelo as secretary until then.

Gov. Allred Calls On Good Friday Observance In State

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP) — Governor James V. Allred today called upon all Christians in Texas to commemorate Good Friday with prayer, urging business houses to join with state departments in a cessation of activities April 15 between 12 p. m. and 3 p. m. for fitting observances.

"The Farther Inland The Japanese Come The Surer Will Become Their Ultimate Failure In China," Red Leader Warns

(By The Associated Press)

WITH THE CHINESE RED ARMY in North China, March 25.—General Yu Cheng-Tsao, commander of Central Hopeh province Chinese Communist forces, has this to say of the final outcome in China's war with Japan:

"The farther inland the Japanese come the surer will become their ultimate failure in China."

Farmers Pass In Review

As he spoke, 20,00 farmer militiamen passed in review before him, chanting anti-Japanese songs. Their flintlock rifles, spears and broadswords flashed in the North China sun.

The nearest Japanese garrison was ten miles away.

"This is only one of the many people's armies we are organizing to harass the Japanese," General Yu said proudly.

Restricted To Rail Lines

"Except for brief sallies, the Japanese are restricted to the railway lines. When they get away from them, we strike. With our guerrilla tactics, we frequently surround them and wipe them out."

This miniature red China in Central Hopeh—the first province invaded by Japanese when the war started last July 7—is only one of five small red states in the northern provinces. It is 200 miles behind Japanese lines, and between the Japanese-conquered Peiping-Hankow and Tientsin-Pukow rail-

Riot Precipitates Meeting Of Bund In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, March 25 (AP)—A riot precipitated when a crowd of nearly 100 anti-Nazi sympathizers stormed a meeting of the German-American bund, disrupting it temporarily, left more than a score of persons nursing black eyes and bruises today.

Fist fighting raged for several minutes at the meeting last night before riot squads quickly put an end to the hostilities. Later a second clash broke out along the street fronting the meeting place, where members of the Citizen's Anti-Nazi committee were picketing.

Police Inspector William Scull said he was told the rally was intended as a celebration of Hitler's seizure of Austria. Wilhelm Kunze, bund leader, who spoke after the session was resumed, asserted it was "merely a stated monthly meeting."

Oppressed Of World Have Haven Here

President Expresses View On Proposal Today; No Legislation Is Needed

(By The Associated Press)

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Mar. 25—President Roosevelt said today the American proposal to give asylum to political refugees in Germany and Austria also applied to oppressed minorities in Russia, Spain and Italy and any other country abroad.

He added that it was designed to help all groups seeking to get out of troubled lands — Jews, Catholics and Protestants, that no legislation was required to accomplish the purpose, and that it was in line with domestic policy that goes back to 1789 when the United States held itself out as an asylum for political refugees.

The president talked of for[eign] and domestic questions to rep[orters] as he sat in an open car in [front] of a press cottage.

Talks With Ambassador

With him were William C. [Bull]itt, American ambassador to France and Basil O'Connor, his former law partner. He said he had talked with Bullitt about how to rid the government career services of men who remain in them although incompetent.

The president nodded in agreement when a reporter asked whether the refugee proposal applied to Italy, Russia and Spain or any other country.

Similar Situation In 1848

He said a similar situation arose in 1848 when there were uprisings in Europe against monarchies.

As to Hull's proposal inviting nine European and all the American nations to set up a committee to study the present day problem, he said it was designed to get private money to help oppressed peoples move to other lands.

Japs To Offer Oil Contract

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, March 25 — Through private companies Japan is preparing to offer Mexico a huge oil contract for the purchase of nearly 500,000 barrels of crude oil annually, it was learned today.

The contract would provide for Japanese technical assistance in construction of pipelines and improvement of harbors on Mexico's Pacific coast.

Official Quarters Silent

Official quarters were silent on the proposal, but it was authoritatively learned the same companies approached the Mexican government a month before the outbreak of hostilities in China last year. The deal was not completed.

The pipelines would cross the isthmus of Tehuantepec, with Salina Cruz as the probable point of loading. The oil would have to be piped about 150 miles downgrade.

Since the outbreak of Chinese hostilities, Japan has ceased publication of oil important statistics, but official figures show she brought in

U. S. Exports Are Showing Big Gains

WASHINGTON, March 25. (AP) — The United States sold $100,000,000 more goods abroad than it bought during February, the commerce department announced today.

February exports were 13 per cent larger than in the same month a year ago and imports were 41 per cent smaller. Both exports and imports were under January levels, however.

Exports totaled $262,733,000 and imports $163,085,000.

For the first two months of the year, the United Stats had in excess of exports over imports of $218,355,000, compared with an excess of imports last year amounting to $62,364,000.

Bemberg Frocks Are Modeled At Show

Texas Technological college Phi U sorority in the home economics division and other students in clothing and textiles modeled 30 costumes made of Bemberg rayon at a style show staged Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the lounge of the women's dormitory under the direction of Mrs. Louise Houston, education director and traveling representative of the American Bemberg association.

Models were Misses Rose Rooney, Helen Allen, Beryl Duff, Geraldine Crow, Marie Shook, Orvalene Price, Addie Lee Terrell, Margaret Hemby and little Margaret Ann Garlin.

Garments modeled included negligees, pajamas beach wear, play suits, sports, knitted, travel, afternoon, dinner and evening dresses and frocks for two wedding parties. The first group was made up of a bride, modeled by Miss Crow, wkho wore white, hand-embroidered supernet over satin, Miss Hemby, bridesmaid, who wore blue supernet and the flower girl, Margaret Ann Garlin, who wore rose supernet.

Miss Duff modeled the bridal dress for the second party. She wore an aqua blue taffeta frock made in typical Marie Antoinette style of 40 yards scalloped and plaited with puff sleeves, draped shoulders and long veil.

Mrs. Houston travels each year to gain advance style information for the Bemberg company with which she has been associated for ten years. Her husband, who is an artist and writer, travels with her. Their home is in New York.

Bemberg is one of the three principal rayons manufactured in the United States.

Contest Rules Are Explained

Rules of a cotton improvement contest sponsored by Lubbock Lions club were explained to FFA and 4-H club boys of Cooper, Roosevelt, Slaton and Idalou High schools Thursday by members of a Lions club committee.

The group, composed of Joseph R. Griggs, county superintendent, M. E. Heard, head of the textile engineering division at Texas Technological college, A. I. Glassman, and Vernice Ford, visited Cooper at 10 a. m. Heard explained details of the contest to the boys, the vocational agriculture teacher, Jesse Johnson, and the superintendent, B. M. Hays. Contracts for 14 boys were left.

Slaton was visited at 11 a. m. David Lemon is superintendent there and A. C. Strickland is vocational agriculture teacher. Contracts were left for 14 boys.

Home economics students at Roosevelt school served luncheon to the party at noon when that school was visited. Girls who prepared and served the lunch were Mary Anderson, Juanita Collins, Lorene Crossland, Viola Day, Geneva Henley, Bernadine Hilbers, Irene Holt, Mary Lanham, Ethelean Ledford, Iva Mae Mari, Nora Etta McArthur, Geraldine Miller, Audrey Dale Patterson, Martha Lee Pierson, Mildred Railsback and Ernestine Russ. Mrs. U. A. Randolph is the home economics teacher.

M. L. Kelly, Roosevelt superintendent, Roy Monk, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA boys listened to explanation of the contest by Heard. Contracts were left there for 14 boys.

At 1:30 p. m. the party was at Idalou. G. A. Lowrey is superintendent and Coleman Cowan is agricultural instructor. Twelve contracts were left there.

Seed To Be Furnished

Under plans of the contest 150 FFA and 4-H boys will plant five acres each of cotton, using seed furnished by the Lions club. Seed will be of four approved varieties, tested at the Lubbock experimental station. Two sets of prizes of $100 each will be awarded the boys making the largest cash returns off the five acres exclusive of seed. One set will be for older boys, the other for younger boys. Each set will be allotted: $50, first prize; $25, second; $15, third; $10, fourth.

Purpose of the contest is to improve quality of seed used in the county and to find the best type of seed for this section.

Contestants belonging to 4-H clubs will work through the county agent's office directed by C. C. Jobson. FFA boys will be directed by their vocational agriculture teachers.

Seven Are Initiated Into Pythian Sister Temple

Seven women were initiated into the Pythian Sister Temple Rebekah lodge at a meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall Wednesday night. They were Mrs. Lucille Ulmer of Midland, Mesdames J. H. Hackfield, W. C. Odom, J. D. Corcorran, W. C. Boyd and Misses Josephine Davies and Kathleen Woody.

Refreshments were served to 30 persons.

Euzelian Class Entertains With Husbands' Party

Members of the First Baptist Euzelian class entertained their husbands Thursday night at the activity center. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Waite and Mr. and Mrs. C. Fred Litton. Thirty-six persons were present.

Games were played and refreshments were served. Mrs. C. E. Hereford is class teacher.

During the Olympic Games in 1936 a German boy lit a cigarette from the last torch carried by the runners from Greece to Berlin, cycled home with it, and has ever since kept a candle burning with that same fire.

Delphian Election Is Held Thursday

Mrs. H. H. Bidwell was leader for a program on "America Today" at a Lubbock Woman's club meeting Thursday afternoon at the Hilton hotel. Responses to roll call were made by naming outstanding contemporary Americans. Mrs. William G. Dingus was guest speaker on "America Politically, Economically and Educationally." Miss Catharine Kern sang "Vittorio, Mio Core" (Carissimi) and "In the Garden" (Schumann) with piano accompaniment by Miss Imogene Webster.

Delphians Meet

Officers were elected at a meeting of the Llano Estacado Delphian chapter Thursday morning in the Texas Technological college engineering auditorium, as follows:

President, Mrs. Roy Riddel; vice-president, Mrs. Alex McDonald; secretary, Miss Sue Bryan; treasurer, Mrs. R. L. Durham; seminar board, Mrs. Homer L. Pharr, chairman, and Mesdames J. Sam Lewis and R. E. McDonald.

Mrs. Riddel led a program on "Realism in Art" which included the following talks:

"Three Italians and Zubiaaurree," Mrs. H. F. Godeke; "Chabas, Simon and LaTouche," Mrs. Parker F. Prouty; "American Portraitists," Mrs. Alex McDonald; "Landscapists" and "Realism in England," roundtable; "The Realists of Northern Europe," Miss Bryan, and "The Women Painters," Mrs. Pharr.

R. I. Lockard, assistant professor of architecture and allied arts at Tech college, will lecture on "Post-Impressionism, Cubism and Futurism" at a meeting of the club next Thursday morning in the engineering auditorium.

Thirty-One Attend

Twenty-six members and five guests attended a meeting of the dramatic unit of the American Association of University Women Recreational Group Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway. Mesdames Marvin McLarty and Josephine Ballenger were hostesses.

After a short business meeting, the first act of the play, "The Women" (Clara Booth) was presented by Misses Ruth Mildred Rylander, Lois Mangum, Aldine Swepston and Mesdames Ivy Savage, A. B. Strehli and T. W. Waddill.

Next on the program was a one-act play, "Who Gets the Car Tonight," presented by a group of Wolfforth students taught by Mrs. Garland Davis. They were Ora Mae Husted, Mary Louise Revier, Billy Casey and Vernon McDougal who are to present the play in a county interscholastic league contest soon.

The unit will meet at 7:30 p. m. April 6, in the home of Mrs. A. B. Strehli, 2712 Twenty-second street.

In Miller Home

The Sit and Sew club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. K. H. Miller, 1020 Ninth street, for an hour of embroidering and sewing. The hostess served refreshments.

Attending were Mesdames William Curtis, Alton Peak, J. C. Hilton, R. T. Mangum, Floyd Fry, Alton Lindley, Lilla Ford and two guests, Mrs. H. O. Waters and little Wayland Lindley.

The club will meet April 7 with Mrs. Lindley.

Lubbock High Golfers Play Pampa Here On Saturday

The Lubbock High school golf team will meet the Pampa High foursome in an invitation interschool match at Meadowbrook Saturday morning starting at 9 o'clock, it was announced today.

The match will be returned by the locals when they go to Pampa on April 2.

E. M. Barnett, sponsor of the golf club, announced those who will play on the local team are: Billy Hoyt Martin, George Tipton, Melvin Best, and Buster Holton.

The Pampa team will arrive either late tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Church Women Plan Project

Appointment of chairmen of committees that will foster talent and have charge of thrift and employment projects in connection with the Community Center program sponsored by Lubbock church women has been announced.

Mrs. Wyatt L. Hester will have charge of locating talent. Several Lubbock women have offered to teach music and expression to children who appear to have talent and are not receiving training. It was asked that anyone willing to instruct children in those or other fine arts call Mrs. Hester, 2119 Twenty-sixth street, No. 3296-W.

Mrs. Wilson Chairman

Mrs. Vaughn Wilson is chairman of the material needs project. A thrift room will be opened at her home at 1920 Seventeenth street and request was made that Lubbock residents other donations for the work either clothes, books, music, or take them to the thrift room or call 3997-W and they will be collected.

Mrs. T. A. Hulen will have charge of registration names of persons wanting employment, and persons who need employes, either in homes or elsewhere, may call 1916-W.

Others Are Working

The committee chairmen were in addition to those formerly appointed: Mrs. Irving Jones, publicity; Mrs. L. I. Gilbert, maintenance; Mrs. W. T. Milam, program. Mrs. W. H. Johnston is general chairman of the project.

Included in the Community Center program are religious services each Sunday afternoon at the woman's building on the fairgrounds. The services are conducted for persons in areas of the city most isolated from churches.

Dr. Henry E. Riggs Honored In Dinner Thursday Night

Honor guest and principal speaker at a dinner Thursday night was Dr. Henry E. Riggs of Ann Arbor, Mich., president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, who was here visiting the Texas Technological college student chapter of the ASCE.

Members of the student chapter, college engineering faculty members and their wives, and several corporate members of the ASCE attended the dinner, in the women's dormitory. Fifty-four persons attended.

Pouch Of Registered Mail From New Mexico Missing

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 25 (AP) — Postmaster J. A. Werner has announced that a pouch of registered mail, its value undetermined, had disappeared shortly after leaving the postoffice here last Monday.

Werner said the pouch was last definitely accounted for when it was placed on a station-bound truck. It was reported missing at Belen, N. M., where it was to have been transferred to a train for Amarillo, Tex.

J. H. Walker, superintendent of mails, said several additional postal inspectors had been called to Albuquerque to trace the missing pouch. Neither he nor Werner would estimate its value.

"We don't know whether it was a robbery or not," said Walker.

Mackeral Are Biting Again

(By The Associated Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Mar. 25.—The mackerel in these waters bit at everything in sight Thursday, and the man was very unlucky indeed who wet a hook and failed to drag in something.

More than 1,000 pounds of mackeral were reported taken during the day at Port Aransas near here. Tarpon were striking too, but when the mackerel started biting, fishermen forgot all about the silver king.

Fishing weather was excellent. The wind was low and the water was clear and still through the day.

Reports from Laguna Madre indicated that redfish also are biting, and a number of good catches were made.

Approach Of Summer Heralded On Coast

GALVESTON, Mar. 25. (AP)—Approach of summer was heralded here today by the first mackerel reported caught in local waters this season. The catch was made by J. C. Mullen and R. D. McKee, the latter a student at the University of Texas medical school, from Houston.

The prized fish, which desert local waters late each fall and return each spring when continued warm weather is assured, have been swarming in offshore waters for several days.

TRAINS COLLIDE

MOUNT PLEASANT, March 25 (AP)—A passenger train plowed into the rear of a freight train nine miles west of here Thursday but no one was injured.

The Department of Agriculture plans to divert surplus hops into fertilizer and mulch.

roblems To e Talked ducational authorities will dis- each of the seven plans of ar- lation when the education de- tment of Texas Technological col- e sponsors an articulation con- nce in Lubbock March 31 and ril 1-2 in attempt to aid Texas lic schools in solving a pressing blem.

Completed program for the con- ence, first of its kind ever held the country as far as local spon- s know, has been announced by A. W. Evans, head of the col- e education department.

12-Grade System Is Crux

The conference, coming near the se of the four-year curriculum vision movement in Texas, will k to assist in the articulation and rdination of the different units the public school system. Change a 12-year system in place of the esent 11-year plan is being con- ered in Texas and school authori- s are confronted squarely with e problem of where to place the oposed 12th grade. The entire rriculum must be rearranged in der to make way for the 12th ade.

Many rural schools in Texas now erate under the 7-4 plan, which vides for seven grades in the ammar school, and four in the gh school. Many city schools erate under the 5-3-3 plan, un- r which there are five grades in ammar school, three in Junior gh school and three in Senior gh school.

Two Thousand Expected

Possibly about 2,000 school super- tendents, principals, teachers and hers will attend, said Dr. Evans.

Explanations of the plans will be ffered in a forum. The 8-4 plan ill be discussed by Dr. Harl R. ouglas, professor of secondary ducation, University of Minnesota; -4 plan, Dr. Sidney B. Hall, su- erintendent of public instruction f Virginia; 6-3-3 plan, Supt. G. N. ims, Port Arthur; 5-3-3 plan, Dr. . T. Manuel, professor of educa- ional psychology and director of esearch of Texas Commission on Coordination in education; 6-4-4 lan, Dr. B. F. Pittenger, dean of chool of education, University of Texas; 6-6 plan, Dr. Joseph Roe- ner, professor of education, George eabody College for Teachers; -3-2-3 plan, W. A. Stigler, director f curriculum, Texas department f education.

Notables To Attend

Addresses will be made or dis- cussions led by those and other uthorities, including Dr. L. A. Woods, Texas superintendent of ublic instruction; Supt. H. D. Fill- rs, Wichita Falls; J. C. Matthews, o-director of curriculum and edu- ation professor, North Texas State Teachers college, Denton; Thomas E. Pierce, director of elementary education, Big Spring public schools; Supt. W. W. Lackey, Midland; T. H. Shelby, professor of educational administration and dean of extension division, University of Texas; Supt. Charles M. Rogers, Amarillo; Dr. G. O. Clough, director of Dallas college of Southern Methodist university; Supt. George A. Heath, White Deer; Dr. H. M. Cook, professor of education, West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon; Dr. Bradford Knapp, Tech president, will welcome visitors. The following will preside at sessions: Dr. James M. Gordon, dean of arts and sciences at Tech; Supt. W. A. McIntosh, Borger; Dr. Evans; and Supt. W. B. Irvin, Lubbock. The Lubbock High school band and orchestra will play.

As is the case in Lubbock, many city school officials are considering change to the 3-3-3-3 or four-level plan, which would divide the system into four levels: Primary, intermediate, junior and senior. It would tend to do away with failures, giving students credit for what they do rather than failing them for what they do not accomplish. The student would progress at his own rate. It would require approximately 12 years to complete school work, although a student might complete the work in less time.

Yes, Sir, Looks Like This Old Coupe Was A Little Crowded

WARREN, O., March 11. (AP)—The law allows only three persons to ride in a coupe, so when Policeman W. A. Salen noticed that John Comanescu's single-seater looked a trifle crowded, he halted it to investigate.

Passengers mostly children, piled out.

Salen lined 'em up. He counted eighteen.

You May Think You're Law-Abiding Citizen But You'll Probably Break Laws Today

You may think you obey the law, but before the day is over you will have cracked numerous of Lubbock's city ordinances wide open.

Take just Mr. Average Citizen of Lubbock—one of the whole population. Follow him on a trip downtown. Count the ordinances he breaks.

He goes to the garage and backs his car out, without stopping, he backs it into the busy street—and turns to the left. A city ordinance says that a car coming from an alley or driveway, must turn to the right. That is the first law broken, more than likely Mr. Citizen doesn't know he is liable for a fine because he turned to the left.

He heads his car toward town and picks up speed. There is another car in front of his. He decides to pass it. Another car is coming to meet him, but the street is wide enough for six cars abreast, so why worry? As he passes the car going his direction, the other car coming opposite passes at the same time. No damage done, but another ordinance is broken, for there is one on the books that says a car must not pass another if one coming from the opposite direction is within 75 feet of your car.

Downtown he comes to a traffic signal—it is red. Mr. Citizen decides to turn to the right—permissible on a red signal, but he doesn't come to a complete stop before turning and he doesn't even signal for a turn. Pedestrians just have to watch out for themselves—because he is in a car. Still no damage done, but ordinance number four is broken.

Now Mr. Citizen spies a parking space—just a little crowded but he can make it. And in making it he scratches the fender of the car next to his. The scratched car is unoccupied, so why worry about that? He will pull out and find another parking place. Ordinance number five is broken. The man's ethics are a little questionable, but he breaks the law for the most part unintentional. For a Lubbock ordinance says that if a car is damaged in this way—an unoccupied car—the damager must leave his name, address and license number on the windshield of the damaged car.

Are you still law-abiding?

All right, follow the average citizen a little more.

He is out of his car and is on some important business. He is in a hurry. Coming to a street to be crossed—the signal light is red. He can't wait for it to change, so he steps off the curb and "jay walks." "Jay walking" is common slang meaning to walk across a street against a traffic light or cross between an intersection. Mr. Citizen has broken ordinance number seven. Not so unintentional this time—because Mr. Average Citizen knows what a traffic light is used for.

It is dark now when he starts home. When he comes to his driveway it is on the wrong side of the street—the left side, but he is hungry and in a hurry. He darts across the street and bumps a car parked close to his driveway. It too is unoccupied, so he doesn't pay it any attention. Ordinance number eight smashed. He should report the bump to the police for an inspection and when he turned across the street between an intersection he had to drive on the wrong side of the street. There is an ordinance against that.

If the other Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizens don't do any of these things, then they can truly be called law abiding citizens of Lubbock.

Potash Fraud Cases To Jury

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 25.—The case of six men charged with mail fraud in stock sales of the New Mexico Potash and Chemical company neared a federal court jury today as attorneys for the defense and the prosecution went before Judge T. Blake Kennedy with their closing arguments.

Attorneys said the closing arguments probably would be finished today, sending the case to the jury before nightfall.

Defendants still on trial are George Montgomery, W. G. Halthusen, Hugh H. Williams, Charles Lamb, C. A. Nebeker and George Edgar. Judge Kennedy dismissed charges against four others at the conclusion of prosecution testimony.

Barber Anxious For Man To Get Rest Of His Haircut

WATERTOWN, N. Y., March 25 (AP)—Somewhere there is a man with only half a haircut, and Barber F. L. Countryman wishes he'd come back and have the job finished.

The customer fled precipitately when a blaze broke out in the rear of the barber shop.

Five New BCD Leaders Named

Appointment of five members of the board of directors of the Board of City Development was one of the features of a routine semi-monthly session of the city commission at the city hall Thursday afternoon.

Those, named were Charles R. Bacon, investments; J. B. Maxey, construction contractor; Arno Dalby, motor freight line operator; James A. Quicksall, of Quicksall-Pryor company; and Sam S. Rosenthal of the Hub Clothiers. Appointments were to six-year terms.

Retiring Directors

The new directors succeeded George W. Pickle, Durwood H. Bradley, R. F. Hinchey, G. A. Simmons and J. O. Jones, whose terms expired this year.

With one exception, the city commission selected those appointed from a list of 15 nominees who were said to have received the largest number of votes in a chamber of commerce election recently. Rosenthal was the exception and was placed on the board after members of the commission had joined unanimously in praising his civic enterprise.

Other Actions Taken

Other actions taken at the commission session, devoted largely to routine, included: the calling in of $47,200 in city park and sewage warrants which will be redeemed with money in the city sinking fund. City Manager W. H. Rodgers reported that approximately $262,000 has accumulated in that fund, on which the city draws no interest. He estimated that the move will save approximately $3,500 in interest which would have been paid on the warrants.

Decision was reached to hold a special meeting next week to set an exact date for an election on the proposal to adopt civil service for city employes. Mayor Ross Edwards is to go to Dallas and City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley plans a trip to Houston before the meeting is held, and both said they will investigate the operation of civil service in those cities. Approximately 50 days must elapse between the actual call and the holding of the election, the city attorney said.

To Drill New Well

Drilling of another water well in the northwest portion of the city was authorized, and the city manager said that a contract will be let at once, probably to W. P. Crawford, who completed a well in that area Thursday. The well will be in addition to the three authorized several weeks ago. Contract drilling cost will be $3 per foot, to a total depth of approximately 140 feet. The wells when complete, the commission was informed, will increase the domestic water supply by approximately 1,000 gallons a minute.

An ordinance calling for the paving of approximately two miles of streets in southern residential sections was passed when no one appeared to protest the improvement. The streets are: Avenue S from Twenty-third to Twenty-ninth; Twenty-second from S to V; Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth from S to T; and Twenty-sixth from S to X. The streets, which probably will be paved before next winter, should relieve much of the congestion on Nineteenth, officials said.

Boost In Pay Proposed

The city manager was instructed to confer with members of the county commission on the proposal that Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, be given an additional $200 a month to pay the costs of office rent, an office attendant and transportation. His duties involve the handling of cases for the city-county welfare association and have grown to such volume, the commission was informed, that he has little time for private practice. He now receives $300 a month. Cost of that professional service is shared by the city and county, with the city paying one-third and the county two-thirds, city officials said.

An appropriation of $1,000 for the welfare association was authorized.

Newly completed paving on Eighth street from Avenue Q to College avenue was formally accepted. That pavement is part of a five-mile street improvement program on wich work was started this week.

Bond Is Approved

The $2,000 bond of office of W. E. Inmon, recently appointed deputy city tax collector, was approved.

Hospital bill of $165 for A. W. Wright, water department employe whose leg was broken several weeks ago when he fell from a truck, was ordered paid. Wright was treated at Plains hospital.

The city manager was instructed to proceed as soon as possible with the extension of sanitary sewage lines to Morningside addition east of Avenue H near the southern city limits.

The following bonds were approved: Robinson and Nelson, general contractor; C. P. Alexander, electrician; Plains Furniture company, gas fitter; and E. D. Champlin, gas fitter and public works.

Experimental applications of light and heat, applied in a Canadian laboratory, are said to have caused trout to develop 25 times faster than in natural conditions.

Scout Circus Plans Drawn

Plans for the second annual Scout circus here May 6 in w approximately 1,500 boys and l ers will participate were outline M. E. Heard, general chairma arrangements, at a meeting of executive board of South P council at the Hilton hotel Th day night.

To Employ Executive

Members voted to employ an field executive to work in council. He will begin work a June 1, it was pointed out. Pu of obtaining another, it was plained, is to bring about mor fective scouting and making p ble participation of more boy scout and cub work. On the of the current council budget, t is spent $4.56 per boy per yea compared with the average in councils of the southwest of $

Growth of scouting in the cou has demanded addition of anot field executive, it was said. growth has been from 387 sco Jan. 1, 1936, to 1,516 now.

Marshall Mason of Post, camp chairman, discussed plans for placing a number of tents destro last year by a fire. Members of camping committee also dealt w erection of more showers and toil at Camp Post near Post. A t for Sea Scouts to Yellowstone N tional park June 25 to July 17 w outlined.

The next executive board me ing will be late in April.

One Of American Legion's Founders Dies In Gotham

NEW YORK, March 25. (AP) — George Brokaw Compton, 54, lawyer and a founder of the American Legion, died Thursday of heart trouble at St. Luke's hospital.

After serving as a captain in the World war, Compton participated in the organization of the legion at St. Louis in 1919 and at its first convention the following year was chairman of the political restrictions committee.

Japanese Soldiers Take On New Worries; Nursemaids To 59 Chinese Babies

SHANGHAI, March 25. (AP)—Japanese soldiers were reported encountering unusual difficulties today—as nursemaids.

An army communique said the soldiers were feeding tinned milk to 59 Chinese babies found abandoned in a nursery on Tsungming island, in the mouth of the Yangtze river. That was all right.

But in the confusion, some of the babies were picked up and put back in the wrong cribs. Now the soldiers have a Chinese puzzle trying to untangle the babies' mixed-up identities.

Smith County Farmer Given 20 Years On Rape Charge

TYLER, March 25. (AP) — Albert Jones, 32, Smith county farmer, was given 20 years in prison by a jury that found him guilty of statutory rape. The jury was out more than 23 hours, bringing in a verdict late Thursday.

His daughter, Rose Ella Jones, 11, testified concerning her fathers conduct toward her both before and after her mother's death. An eight-year-old daughter, Lima Bell, testified in connection with the offense against her sister.

Jones testified that it was a "frame-up," engendered by the desire on the part of others to obtain custody of his children, three girls and two boys, following the death of his wife, January 24.

Defense attorneys filed a motion contending that Judge Roy Butler, hearing the case, was elected irregularly in the absence of Judge Walter G. Russell, who is campaigning for congress.

Weed Control Plan Urged

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 25. —A government weed control program for highways, railroads and public lands was requested today by Ralph W. Moore, president of the Texas State Grange.

Moore is here to attend a series of farm committee meetings.

He declared many farmers have been injured by weeds and other growths that spread from highways and railroad rights of way into tilled fields.

"They won't let the farmers go into the road and plow the weeds up" he said. "They claim this would fill up drainage ditches. So it's up to the government to do it."

SKEPTICAL SAM
-A FUTURE CUSTOMER OF OURS

THAT glint of doubt in this young man's eye says plainer than words, "You gotta show me."

Car owners with this I'm-from-Missouri attitude are the best "prospects" for Phillips 66 Gas. They doubt claims; they want facts. Hence, when they try a tankful of this greater gasoline . . . and note the dramatic difference which it makes in their motors . . . they are sold for life on Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

It is a fact, proved by thousands of scientific laboratory tests, that Phillips 66 is the highest test gasoline which you can buy at regular price. It is a fact that Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST producer of natural high test motor fuel; which explains why Phillips can give you higher test without higher price.

Why not find out what this premium-quality gasoline will do in your car? Phill-up with Phillips and feel that difference! You'll discover that your motor starts faster and warms-up sooner. You'll use less choke and go more miles to the gallon. You'll get less vibration and more power, less noise and more speed.

These high test benefits are assured, whether the thermometer is down at zero or up in the nineties, by the special process which matches our gasoline to your weather . . . and matches it so well, that Phillips 66 Poly Gas is often called the 100% custom-tailored motor fuel.

See if it doesn't cost less to run your car better, by stopping for a trial tankful at any Orange and Black 66 Shield.

You May Think You're Law-Abiding Citizen But You'll Probably Break Laws Today

You may think you obey the law, but before the day is over you will have cracked numerous of Lubbock's city ordinances wide open.

Take just Mr. Average Citizen of Lubbock—one of the whole population. Follow him on a trip downtown. Count the ordinances he breaks.

He goes to the garage and backs his car out, without stopping, he backs it into the busy street—and turns to the left. A city ordinance says that a car coming from an alley or driveway, must turn to the right. That is the first law broken, more than likely Mr. Citizen doesn't know he is liable for a fine because he turned to the left.

He heads his car toward town and picks up speed. There is another car in front of his. He decides to pass it. Another car is coming to meet him, but the street is wide enough for six cars abreast, so why worry? As he passes the car going his direction, the other car coming opposite passes at the same time. No damage done, but another ordinance is broken, for there is one on the books that says a car must not pass another if one coming from the opposite direction is within 75 feet of your car.

Downtown he comes to a traffic signal—it is red. Mr. Citizen decides to turn to the right—permissible on a red signal, but he doesn't come to a complete stop before turning and he doesn't even signal for a turn. Pedestrians just have to watch out for themselves—because he is in a car. Still no damage done, but ordinance number four is broken.

Now Mr. Citizen spies a parking space—just a little crowded but he can make it. And in making it he scratches the fender of the car next to his. The scratched car is unoccupied, so why worry about that? He will pull out and find another parking place. Ordinance number five is broken. The man's ethics are a little questionable, but he breaks the law for the most part unintentional. For a Lubbock ordinance says that if a car is damaged in this way—an unoccupied car—the damager must leave his name, address and license number on the windshield of the damaged car.

Are you still law-abiding?

All right, follow the average citizen a little more.

He is out of his car and is on some important business. He is in a hurry. Coming to a street to be crossed—the signal light is red. He can't wait for it to change, so he steps off the curb and "jay walks." "Jay walking" is common slang meaning to walk across a street against a traffic light or cross between an intersection. Mr. Citizen has broken ordinance number seven. Not so unintentional this time—because Mr. Average Citizen knows what a traffic light is used for.

It is dark now when he starts home. When he comes to his driveway it is on the wrong side of the street—the left side, but he is hungry and in a hurry. He darts across the street and bumps a car parked close to his driveway. It too is unoccupied, so he doesn't pay it any attention. Ordinance number eight smashed. He should report the bump to the police for an inspection and when he turned across the street between an intersection he had to drive on the wrong side of the street. There is an ordinance against that.

If the other Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizens don't do any of these things, then they can truly be called law abiding citizens of Lubbock.

Potash Fraud Cases To Jury

(By The Associated Press)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 25.—The case of six men charged with mail fraud in stock sales of the New Mexico Potash and Chemical company neared a federal court jury today as attorneys for the defense and the prosecution went before Judge T. Blake Kennedy with their closing arguments.

Attorneys said the closing arguments probably would be finished today, sending the case to the jury before nightfall.

Defendants still on trial are George Montgomery, W. G. Halthusen, Hugh H. Williams, Charles Lamb, C. A. Nebeker and George Edgar. Judge Kennedy dismissed charges against four others at the conclusion of prosecution testimony.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., March 25 (AP)—Somewhere there is a man with only half a haircut, and Barber F. L. Countryman wishes he'd come back and have the job finished.

The customer fled precipitately when a blaze broke out in the rear of the barber shop.

Five New BCD Leaders Named

Appointment of five members of the board of directors of the Board of City Development was one of the features of a routine semi-monthly session of the city commission at the city hall Thursday afternoon.

Those named were Charles R. Bacon, investments; J. B. Maxey, construction contractor; Arno Dalby, motor freight line operator; James A. Quicksall, of Quicksall-Pryor company; and Sam S. Rosenthal of the Hub Clothiers. Appointments were to six-year terms.

Retiring Directors

The new directors succeeded George W. Pickle, Durwood H. Bradley, R. F. Hinchey, G. A. Simmons and J. O. Jones, whose terms expired this year.

With one exception, the city commission selected those appointed from a list of 15 nominees who were said to have received the largest number of votes in a chamber of commerce election recently. Rosenthal was the exception and was placed on the board after members of the commission had joined unanimously in praising his civic enterprise.

Other Actions Taken

Other actions taken at the commission session, devoted largely to routine, included: the calling in of $47,200 in city park and sewage warrants which will be redeemed with money in the city sinking fund. City Manager W. H. Rodgers reported that approximately $262,000 has accumulated in that fund, on which the city draws no interest. He estimated that the move will save approximately $3,500 in interest which would have been paid on the warrants.

Decision was reached to hold a special meeting next week to set an exact date for an election on the proposal to adopt civil service for city employes. Mayor Ross Edwards is to go to Dallas and City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley plans a trip to Houston before the meeting is held, and both said they will investigate the operation of civil service in those cities. Approximately 50 days must elapse between the actual call and the holding of the election, the city attorney said.

To Drill New Well

Drilling of another water well in the northwest portion of the city was authorized, and the city manager said that a contract will be let at once, probably to W. P. Crawford, who completed a well in that area Thursday. The well will be in addition to the three authorized several weeks ago. Contract drilling cost will be $3 per foot, to a total depth of approximately 140 feet. The wells when complete, the commission was informed, will increase the domestic water supply by approximately 1,000 gallons a minute.

An ordinance calling for the paving of approximately two miles of streets in southern residential sections was passed when no one appeared to protest the improvement. The streets are: Avenue S from Twenty-third to Twenty-ninth; Twenty-second from S to V; Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth from S to T; and Twenty-sixth from S to X. The streets, which probably will be paved before next winter, should relieve much of the congestion on Nineteenth, officials said.

Boost In Pay Proposed

The city manager was instructed to confer with members of the county commission on the proposal that Dr. J. W. Rollo, city health officer, be given an additional $200 a month to pay the costs of office rent, an office attendant and transportation. His duties involve the handling of cases for the city-county welfare association and have grown to such volume, the commission was informed, that he has little time for private practice. He now receives $300 a month. Cost of that professional service is shared by the city and county, with the city paying one-third and the county two-thirds, city officials said.

An appropriation of $1,000 for the welfare association was authorized.

Newly completed paving on Eighth street from Avenue Q to College avenue was formally accepted. That pavement is part of a five-mile street improvement program on wich work was started this week.

Bond Is Approved

The $2,000 bond of office of W. E. Inmon, recently appointed deputy city tax collector, was approved.

Hospital bill of $165 for A. W. Wright, water department employe whose leg was broken several weeks ago when he fell from a truck, was ordered paid. Wright was treated at Plains hospital.

The city manager was instructed to proceed as soon as possible with the extension of sanitary sewage lines to Morningside addition east of Avenue H near the southern city limits.

The following bonds were approved: Robinson and Nelson, general contractor; C. P. Alexander, electrician; Plains Furniture company, gas fitter; and E. D. Champlin, gas fitter and public works.

Experimental applications of light and heat, applied in a Canadian laboratory, are said to have caused trout to develop 25 times faster than in natural conditions.

One Of American Legion's Founders Dies In Gotham

NEW YORK, March 25. (AP) — George Brokaw Compton, 54, lawyer and a founder of the American Legion, died Thursday of heart trouble at St. Luke's hospital.

After serving as a captain in the World war, Compton participated in the organization of the legion at St. Louis in 1919 and at its first convention the following year was chairman of the political restrictions committee.

Japanese Soldiers Take On New Worries; Nursemaids To 59 Chinese Babies

SHANGHAI, March 25. (AP)—Japanese soldiers were reported encountering unusual difficulties today—as nursemaids.

An army communique said the soldiers were feeding tinned milk to 59 Chinese babies found abandoned in a nursery on Tsungming island, in the mouth of the Yangtze river. That was all right.

But in the confusion, some of the babies were picked up and put back in the wrong cribs. Now the soldiers have a Chinese puzzle trying to untangle the babies' mixed-up identities.

Graham Man Is Killed Last Night At Grand Saline

GRAND SALINE, March 25. (AP)—Bobbie Mayes, 23, of Graham, Tex., was killed and his wife injured, probably fatally, in an automobile collision here last night. Edward Wimberly, also of Graham and driver of the automobile in which the Mayes were riding, was injured seriously.

Tom Leigh of Edgewood, Tex., driver of the other machine, was not seriously injured.

The Graham trio were on their way to Shreveport.

MARSHALL, March 25 (AP)—Lieut. J. B. Moore of a soil conservation camp north of here said today a new throat culture showed four CCC enrollees were suffering from severe cases of tonsilitis instead of diphtheria as previously reported.

Smith County Farmer Given 20 Years On Rape Charge

TYLER, March 25. (AP) — Albert Jones, 32, Smith county farmer, was given 20 years in prison by a jury that found him guilty of statutory rape. The jury was out more than 23 hours, bringing in a verdict late Thursday.

His daughter, Rose Ella Jones, 11, testified concerning her fathers conduct toward her both before and after her mother's death. An eight-year-old daughter, Lima Bell, testified in connection with the offense against her sister.

Jones testified that it was a "frame-up," engendered by the desire on the part of others to obtain custody of his children, three girls and two boys, following the death of his wife, January 24.

Defense attorneys filed a motion contending that Judge Roy Butler, hearing the case, was elected irregularly in the absence of Judge Walter G. Russell, who is campaigning for congress.

Weed Control Plan Urged

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 25. —A government weed control program for highways, railroads and public lands was requested today by Ralph W. Moore, president of the Texas State Grange.

Moore is here to attend a series of farm committee meetings.

He declared many farmers have been injured by weeds and other growths that spread from highways and railroad rights of way into tilled fields.

"They won't let the farmers go into the road and plow the weeds up" he said. "They claim this would fill up drainage ditches. So it's up to the government to do it."

THAT glint of doubt in this young man's eye says plainer than words, "You gotta show me."

Car owners with this I'm-from-Missouri attitude are the best "prospects" for Phillips 66 Poly Gas. They doubt claims; they want facts. Hence, when they try a tankful of this greater gasoline . . . and note the dramatic difference which it makes in their motors . . . they are sold for life on Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

It is a fact, proved by thousands of scientific laboratory tests, that Phillips 66 is the highest test gasoline which you can buy at regular price. It is a fact that Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST producer of natural high test motor fuel; which explains why Phillips can give you higher test without higher price.

Why not find out what this premium-quality gasoline will do in your car? Phill-up with Phillips and feel that difference! You'll discover that your motor starts faster and warms-up sooner. You'll use less choke and go more miles to the gallon. You'll get less vibration and more power, less noise and more speed.

These high test benefits are assured, whether the thermometer is down at zero or up in the nineties, by the special process which matches our gasoline to your weather . . . and matches it so well, that Phillips 66 Poly Gas is often called the 100% custom-tailored motor fuel.

New Mexico Cattlemen Condemn Steps To Lower Tariff Barrier

Greater Voice In Act Asked

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA FE, N. M., March 25. — The New Mexico Cattle Growers' association closed its annual convention here with resolutions condemning any steps toward lowering of tariff barriers against the importation of meat and meat products.

The stockmen also urged that congress provide legal authorization for present district grazing boards under the Taylor act, and recommended that no further state land be acquired by the federal government. They asked that livestock growers be given a greater voice in the administration of agricultural conservation districts.

There was no opposition to a proposal that each grower give one cent for each head of stock owned to an "eat more meat" advertising fund.

Oliver M. Lee, pioneer Alamogordo rancher, was elected president to succeed A. D. Brownfield of Deming.

Texas Sheep And Goat Men Oppose Treaties

DEL RIO, March 25 (AP) — Fort Stockton has been selected for the next quarterly meeting June 9 of the board of directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' association.

The board, in session here Thursday adopted resolutions opposing the proposed trade treaties with Great Britain and affirming its stand for "truth in fabrics" labeling.

Supreme Court Wives Make Decisions

What do wives of the Supreme Court justices talk about when they get together for a chat? Mrs. Stanley F. Reed, left, and Mrs. Hugo L. Black know, but they aren't telling. The topic of discussion must be pleasant, judging from their expressions in the picture, taken during the annual stunt program of the National Women's Press Club. They are the wives of the two newest justices, appointed recently by President Roosevelt.

Lubbock High Graduates Of 20 Years Ago Meet In Reunion Here Thursday Night

Members of the class of 1918 of Senior High school gathered about a bonfire at Mackenzie park, Thursday night for their first reunion in celebration of the 20th anniversary of their graduation.

It was the first reunion the old grads, most of them well in middle age and with families, had staged since their graduation toward the close of the World war. Most of them still live in Lubbock. Some of them are scattered to the four winds, as far as California.

They crowded around the bonfire and re-lived old escapades and pranks. They laughed and poked each other in the ribs over pictures in the '18 edition of The Westerner, Lubbock High school yearbook. The class was the riginator of the yearbook. The first Westerner staff was comprised totally of members of that class.

Looking at the dedication page an elderly man, white haired and smiling, grinned, remembering. The man was G. N. Atkinson then high school principal and to him the class dedicated the first Westerner. Atkinson is still with the Lubbock school system.

The graduating class of '18 was remembered for two things. Graduating from old Central Ward high school, they comprised the last class in Lubbock to finish the twelfth grade, for the twelfth and last grade was abolished from the schools in Texas that year. Because of the hard times prevalent during the World war, the girls of the class graduated in gingham dresses; the boys received their sheepskins in old suits.

Two of the grads joined the army immediately after graduation, but returned to Lubbock soon after the Armistice was signed. One of them, Clarence Goodnight, still has an unbroken record for the track mile in Lubbock. In '18 he ran it in 4 minutes, 41 and 1-5 seconds. It stands today.

The reunion was given in honor of Mary Bellah, now Mrs. A. B. Barrier of Denver, Colo., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Higbee. Other graduates attending the picnic were: Clarence Goodnight, now in the meat packing business; Robert Bean, Lubbock lawyer; Lila Gibson, now Mrs. C. E. Lenning; Mary Cooper, now Mrs. Newt Redman from Tulia; Neil Stubbs, now Mrs. T. E. McNeil; Lesta Goodnight, now Mrs. Buell Boles, postal clerk in Lubbock; Roger Stubbs; Mayme Alexander; Mrs. J. B. Galland and Ray Medlock, cook at a local hotel.

Other members of the class were: Vinetta Eoff, deceased; Lucille Harper; Wayland Sanders; Int Montgomery, now Mrs. E. B. Wheelock; Neva Strickland; Lelia Roberds, now Mrs. J. T. Krueger; Glen Bates; Howard Medlock; Evelyn Jennings; Grace Hawkins; Maggie Bounds, now Mrs. U. L. Whitely, Pasadena.

Man Had Rather Have Guitar Than A Gun For Protection

DENVER, March 25 (AP)—Louis Zinn will match a guitar against a revolver any time.

"Makes a better weapon," he commented after he had routed the gunmen who attempted to hold up in his pawn shop.

When the gunmen trained a revolver on him Zinn reached for a guitar on a nearby shelf and swung it at the head of the leader. The three fled.

IRWIN DECLARED SANE

NEW YORK, March 25. (AP)—Robert Irwin, 29-year-old sculptor, accused of killing Veronica Gedd, artist's model, her mother and a lodger last Easter, was declared sane Thursday in a lunacy commission report to general sessions Judge John J. Freschi.

No date has been set for his trial.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press)

ur Head Getting Larger!

WASHINGTON, March 21(AP) —The Smithsonian institution wants to take a census of the nation's bigheads.

Believing that the "thinking muscles" of the brain develop like muscles of the arms and legs, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, Smithsonian anthropologist, sent out a call today for reports from any man or woman who has noticed a recent increase in head size.

There is evidence, he said, that the heads of persons doing intense mental exercise increase more rapidly than others.

elebrates Anniversary!

FORT DODGE, Ia.—Peter Grell, 72, who married fifty years ago, is celebrating his golden wedding anniversary this year by asking for a divorce. His suit charged his wife, Susan, 72, with cruel and inhuman treatment and desertion.

Wind Spreads Education

WALTONVILLE, Ill.—A storm cloud dropped debris in Harce Gay's pasture.

In the rubbish he found covers of a book on which was written "Eli James, Oak Ridge district, Cape county, Missouri."

The book had been blown from James' home, 50 miles away, when it was destroyed by a tornado.

Hitler Debt Claimed

HOLLYWOOD — Lillian Albertson is contemplating sending Adolf Hitler a bill for $500.

She claims the Nazi dictator's march into Austria has delayed the debut of "World Power," a parlor game invented by actor Emerson Treacy and issued by Miss Albertson. She estimates the necessary changes will cost about $500.

Tie That One

PORTLAND, Ore. — Glenn Reed, upon returning to a haberdashery, complained: "This isn't the tie I picked out."

A clerk opened the package and found it full of currency. The cashier had handed over the wrong one.

Equal Is Right

DODGE CITY, Kas.—Equal rights mean something here. Registration books for Monday's primary list 2,420 women and 2,420 men.

Keeping Watchful Eye!

PLATTEVILLE, Wis. — Mrs. Catherine Trankle believes in keeping up with her sons, even when it comes to taking part in their golden wedding anniversary celebrations. First it was Horman and his wife who observed such an event, and now it's the John J. Trankles. Mrs. Trankle will be 101 years old May 27.

Law Takes Its Course

PHILADELPHIA—Magistrate Angelo Panetta pointed to a man in court charged with fleecing 30 persons out of $4 to $5 each, and told the accusers:

"If you people guarantee me you'll give this fellow a good shellacking, I'll turn him loose in your custody."

The 30 took one look at the prisoner, burly Hans Schneider, 56, and decided to let the law take its course. It did—in the form of $1,500 bail.

Hair-Line Accuracy

DES MOINES, Ia. — The weather bureau office here is having blond trouble.

Charles D. Weed, government meteorologist, said a hygrothermograph, whose mechanism includes a hair from the head of a blond woman, has been none too accurate.

He explained that science had found nothing more effective for measuring humidity than a blond hair.

"This one is too fickle," Reed complained.

Doubleheader Victory

SOUTHWICK, Mass. — Election officials threw up their hands in perplexity after discovering that Southwick voters had elected Dr. Samuel Finsen to two seats on the five-man board of selectmen.

Dr. Finsen won a four-year term as a Republican, defeating George Phelps, Democrat. He captured a three-year term as a Democrat, defeating Seth Kellogg, Republican.

Officials could not decide where to get the fifth selectman required by law.

Frenzied Finance

PHILADELPHIA—Locked in a cigar store telephone booth while phoning his girl, Frank Renzi, 29, gambled his last nickel in a bid for freedom.

He called a police operator. For two hours, while a patrolman hunted the proprietor, Renzi explained through a glass door to a crowd of 100 how he came to be on the inside looking out.

Freed at last, he exclaimed: "My date! If I had had another nickel I could have called ning's entertainment, got the and broken it. But what am I going to tell her now?"

Thumbs Down

PITTSBURGH—A cooperative date bureau, with the girls sharing equally the cost of an eve-

"cold shoulder" from co-eds at Duquesne university.

Said Theresa Hockensmith, speaking for the co-eds (she has a full date book):

"It's a horried idea to embarrass women students."

School Men To Discuss NYA

AUSTIN, March 25 (Special) — Two committees of Texas school men will meet soon to discuss the National Youth administration student aid program of 1937-38, under which more than 14,000 students have earned a portion of their expenses by parttime work while continuing in school.

The school aid committee, of which John P. Manning, superintendent of Robstown schools, is chairman, will meet in Austin on March 30. Other members of the committee are C. E. Doyle, Jefferson county superintendent; R. C. Patterson, Denton schools superintendent; J. O. Webb, director of Houston Senior schools; G. B. Trimble, director of Fort Worth Technical High school; A. F. Waggoner, Bell county superintendent; and H. L. Foster, Longview schools superintendent.

College Group To Meet

The college aid committee, of which Dean V. I. Moore of the University of Texas is chairmen, will meet in Dallas on April 1, following the meeting of the Association of Southern Colleges. Other members of this committee are Dr. C. E. Evans, president of Southwest Texas State Teachers college; Dr. Gordon G. Singleton, president of Mary Hardin-Baylor college; James F. Mead, president of Amarillo college; Dr. A. W. Birdwell, president of Stephen F. Austin State Teachers college; Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college; Colby D. Hall, dean of Texas Christian university; Dr. T. O. Walton, president of Texas A. & M. college; the Rev. Alfred H. Rabe, president of St. Mary's university; and Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State Teachers college.

These two committees will discuss administrative problems of the NYA student aid program, and will make recommendations regarding its place in the educational scheme. Under the student aid program, students who otherwise could not attend school are selected by the participating institution for part-time employment. College students may earn an average wage of $15 a month, while high school students may earn a wage not in excess of $6 a month.

Two New Directors Named To Texas & Pacific Line

CLEVELAND, March 25 (AP)—Directors of Texas & Pacific railroad have elected V. J. Kurzweg of Plaquemine, La., and Joseph K. Walker of Shreveport, La., to the board.

They succeed George A. Tomlinson and John Sherwin, jr., both of Cleveland, who resigned. The railroad announced the election "was in line with the recent proposal of Robert R. Young, chairman of Alleghany Corp., that these vacancies be filled with men who had no present connection with Alleghany Corp."

Alleghany has a large interest in Missouri Pacific, which in turn has a majority of Texas & Pacific common stock.

More Trees Are Planted At Tech Since Arbor Day Event

"Arbor day hasn't ended yet," although the tree planting program was conducted March 2 at Texas Technological college, said O. B. Howell, horticulture professor and director of campus beautification.

Agricultural students are trimming trees, and have completed planting of windbreaks and of other trees which were not planted on Arbor day. Several thousand additional trees have been planted since Arbor day, when planting in an area west of the engineering building was overlooked.

Practically all the trees have lived, said Howell.

New York City has a population estimated at more than 6,000,000, but its greater urban district, including large cities across the Hudson, etc., contains nearly 9,500,000 persons.

Youth In The News

It's a bunch of unusual kids that makes the column this week, from a head ticker to an unusually solid citizen. Here they are:

ORNITHOLOGIST
Cynthia Ann Blackhall, of Sterling, Kan., is only 28 months old but she can identify 175 species of birds on sight. Otherwise she is a normal two-year-old.

HEAVYWEIGHT
Jerry Lawrence Bailey, shown with his mother, Mrs. Carl Bailey of Gastonia, N. C., on the day he was born, weighed 19 pounds, two ounces at birth.

UPSIDE DOWN WRITER
Frank Balek, 11, Chicago fifth-grader, can write in the usual way, but he's much faster when writing upside-down and backward, like this.

Since sound needs a medium such as air or water, it cannot be transmitted in a vacuum.

Women In The News..

FAMOUS FIANCEE

Anne Clark, of Boston and Nahant, Mass., is shown at a costume ball at Harvard's Hasty Pudding Club. She attended with her fiance, John Roosevelt, the President's youngest son.

SHE HAS FUN

Mrs. Ann Searles Wheeler of Coxsackie, N. Y., has reached the age of 105 and is still active. Eating lightly and getting lots of fun is her idea of the road to long life.

MOTHER LOVE

Mrs. William Laverty, of North Wales, Pa., has offered to sacrifice an eye to help her young son to see. The son, Roger, could see normally until last April when he had pneumonia and measles.

PRINCESS AND PAUPER

Princess Maxhide, one of the three sisters of King Zog of Albania who are visiting the U. S. is shown with one of the inmates as she visited a Salvation Army home for foundlings in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mack Sennett produced the first six-reel movie in the United States in 1914. It was titled "Tillie's Punctured Romance" and starred Charlie Chaplin and Marie Dressler.

U. S. Deficit Gains Cited

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, March 25 — McDonald Meachum of Houston, chairman of the tax control committee of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, said the federal government deficit was increasing yearly "because expenses in ordinary government affairs are double what they were six years ago."

"The reason is not due to the recovery program," he said.

Meachum was the principal speaker at the 12th birthday party of the East Texas organization Thursday.

Plan Is Outlined

Curtis Morris, director of the tax department, outlined a plan which he said would show that counties could take care of "mounting taxes" by resorting to state laws requiring adoption of a budget.

He said Gregg county had saved $209,000 in one year through this expedient.

Hubert Harrison, general manager, presented a plaque to J. A. Ogden of Kaufman for raising his East Texas Chamber of Commerce quota first, and a cup to F. R. Lindsey of Jasper for oversubscribing his quota by the largest percentage.

F. D. Perkins of McKinney was named chairman of a committee to nominate new directors. Bronson Morgan of Jasper, was named to head the resolutions committee.

Four Million New Homes Said Needed In U. S. In Next Yea

Shortage Cited By Lumberman

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, March 25—More than four million new homes are needed within the next four years, James G. McNary, president of the National Lumber Manufacturers association, told the annual meeting of the Southern Pine association here.

Then Captain R. B. Lord of Washington, co-ordinator and director of construction of the Farm Security administration, declared there will be a need of six million residences within ten years.

McNary, whose home is at McNary, Arizona, said the number of houses he named is required to offset the present shortage of 2,000,000 homes and provide the 500,000 dwellings which need replacing yearly because of fire, flood, wind, and general deterioration.

"In the opinion of many," he said, "the new federal housing program offers the quickest way to national recovery."

Council Plans Funds Drive

Special meeting to plan the annual Easter drive for funds has been called for 5 o'clock this afternoon in the office of Neil H. Wright in the Citizens National bank building by J. B. Maxey, president of the Lubbock organization of the Crippled Children's council.

Glenn Burgess, secretary of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and working with the national organization for crippled children, will meet with the members.

Members of the council, other than Wright and Maxey, are Dr. John Broome, G. R. Kennedy, Dr. M. H. Benson, Dr. Jack M. Lewis, Dr. Allen T. Stewart, and J. Ray Dickey, all of Lubbock, and Dr. J. C. Loveless and John W. Hood, both of Slaton.

New YM-YWCA Officers At Tech Selected Last Night

The YM-YWCA of Texas Technological college elected officers for next year at a meeting in the administration building Thursday night.

New officers will be: Norman Davis, president; Miss Nellie Katherine Speed, first vice-president; J. R. Bertrand, second vice-president; Miss Geraldine Conner, secretary; and Herbert Foster, treasurer.

Present officers are: George W. Dupree, jr., president; Davis, vice-president; Miss Speed, secretary; and Truman Neal, treasurer. New officers will be installed next month, it was announced.

Tinsmith And Wife Who Dined Rockefellers

"They're the grandest people we ever met. Just like you and me," said Mr. and Mrs. Carl Velbinger, above, after they had had Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller as dinner guests in their home. Velbinger, a tinsmith at the Bayway, N. J., oil refinery, had invited the Rockefellers to attend the plant's annual show, then "thought they would get hungry," so asked them home for dinner.

Bluebonnets Said Blooming In City

Lubbock can boast of its bluebonnets now, along with the national capitol's boast of its little crocuses and California of its unusual spring.

Bluebonnets have seldom, if ever, bloomed in this vicinity.

They're all over town, the gift of J. D. Rondeaux who planted a bunch of seed last April, and gave seed to several Lubbock Garden club members and other local floriculturists.

The seed failed to come up last spring and, consequently, were forgotten, except one little bluebonnet which Mrs. Dan Blair succeeded in coaxing out of the ground.

They're Peeping Out Now

They matured unobtrusively through the winter months and surprised their owners this week by peeping through the ground and blossoming.

Mr. Rondeaux has 36 plants in bloom. He said he gave seed last year to Miss Delia Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Clark M. Mullican, the Blairs and Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Zachary. Thursday morning, Mr. Rondeaux presented two blossoming, potted bluebonnets to the Avalanche-Journal editorial staff, with directions to "water it a little every day and keep it where the sun shines."

Some ant settlements contain as many as 400,000,000 inhabitants, yet the members can tell when one strange ant invades their domain, even though it be of the same species.

Youth Memorizes 600 Words And Is Freed From Jail

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 25 (AP)—A 17-year-old youth stood before District Judge Ben Arnold and recited a 600-word legal document without a hitch.

The document was an order suspending the boy's sentence from a 5-year term upon his plea of guilty to second degree burglary. His recitation was on order of the judge, who requires it of juvenile offenders so they'll be sure to understand the terms of their suspensions.

If there's anything to see up in the sub-stratosphere, the pilots of the unique strato-plane pictured above certainly should be able to get a good look. That glass-enclosed portion is in the nose of the plane, which is driven at 200-mile-an-hour speed by a pusher propellor mounted in the rear. The ship, exhibited at the International Air Show in Chicago, is designed to fly at about 21,000 feet, and is equipped with mechanism to maintain sea-level oxygen content in the cabin, even in rarified atmosphere.

Baptists Name New Officers

Election of officers featured the closing session of the two-day district 9 convention of the Sunday School Baptist Training union and the Women's Missionary union which ended at Plainview Baptist church Thursday night.

Officers elected for next year were: Mrs. W. E. Kirkpatrick of Dimmitt, district president of Women's Missionary union; Mrs. Ozro Stevens of Dimmitt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. E. L. Farmer of Lubbock, recording secretary; O. T. Williams of Hereford, chairman of method and finance; Mrs. Will Wright, J. E. Alexander of Lubbock; Mrs. G. B. McDonald of Plainview and Mrs. W. O. Bowen of Slaton, board members; D. C. Hamilton of Plainview, president of Sunday school; Leo Waite of Lubbock, president of B. T. U.; Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher of Lubbock, secretary of B. T. U. and W. M. U.

Speakers At Convention

Speakers at the convention included Dr. T. C. Gardner of Dallas, state B. T. U. secretary; J. S. Hopkins of Dallas, state Sunday school secretary; Dr. George J. Mason of Dallas, state treasurer of general convention of Texas; Dr. Howell F. Buckner, head of Buckner Orphan home; and Mrs. A. W. Johnson, superintendent of women at Southwestern Seminary at Fort Worth.

Floydada received the banner for mileage and attendance; Brownwood the banner for efficiency in W. M. U., and Floydada received W. M. U. poster banner.

A group of Lubbock persons attended the convention, and several of those attending appeared on the program, according to Waite, educational director of the First Baptist church here. They included Waite, Mrs. F. B. Malone, Mrs. Cocanougher and Miss Corinne Brown.

Cotton valued at 90 million dollars and tobacco valued at 87 million were exported to the United Kingdom last year, the Commerce Department reports.

Southwest Nines Opens Baseball Season Today

Arkansas Not To Have Club In Contests

(By The Associated Press)

Baseball, the Southwest conference's undernourished major sport, opens on two fronts Friday afternoon and all six entrants will have gathered dirt on new uniforms before sundown Saturday.

Arkansas' razorbacks, content to be a football and basketball power, are not entered, as usual.

Mustangs Face Frogs

From a team that two seasons ago took some ridiculously top-heavy lickings to a feared contender, Southern Methodist's Mustangs step out in a two-game series at Fort Worth Friday and Saturday against the Texas Christian Horned Frogs. J. C. Wofford and Bill Dewell, Methodist mound mainstays, will be used in the series.

Texas Christian, as Coach Howard Grubbs put it, will use Durwood Horner, Woodrow Duckworth and Paul Tankersley on Friday and "Then I guess we'll pitch 'em again Saturday."

Aggies Meet Bears

The Texas Aggies, winners of one out of four pre-season starts, barge into Waco for a two-game series with Baylor Bears. The Aggies, defending their title with a weak outfit torn to pieces by graduation, will hurl Ralph Lindsey, slim righthander who recently shutout the Beaumont Exporters in the first game, while Baylor is expected to start its ace, Tommy Fine.

Harry Cohn, lefthander, is due to start the second Aggie game while Mike Ducey, another Baylor veteran, will hurl the Saturday game.

Uncle Billy Disch and his ever-Dangerous University of Texas team, a trifle weaker than usual this season, play a single Saturday game against Rice at Houston. Beefus Bryan, the football and track star, will probably hurl for the Longhorns while the Owls will be counting on their veteran Mike Seale, who has shown old form in early season games.

Same Cast Is Back In Semi-Finals Of Women's Tourney

WICHITA, Kas., March 25. (AP)—On the same stage and with the same cast the 1937 semifinals of the Women's National A. A. U. basketball show will be re-run tonight.

The champion Little Rock, Ark., Flyers meet the Wichita Thurstons and the prime favorites, the tall Galveston Anicos, face the thrice-champion Tulsa Stenos.

On their records, Galveston and Little Rock were favored to win, as they did last year. The games match nearly all the brightest stars in the girls' basketball firmament, with Galveston fairly dripping class.

All the semi-finalists won their quarter-final games by comfortable margins, although Tulsa, Wichita and Little Rock were hardpressed the first half. Wichita defeated Tupelo, Miss., 28 to 14, after being held to a 13 to 8 lead the first two periods.

Little Rock led Nashville 12 to 5 at the half, but Nashville boosted its score to nine before the Flyers really began to soar and won 37 to 12. Tulsa led Des Moines only 8 to 5 at the half, but coasted in after a big third quarter, winning 32 to 18. Galveston had the easiest time, romping in with a 28 to 5 win over Wamego, Kas.

In games to determine the fifth place team, Wamego will meet Des Moines at 7 p. m. and Nashville will play Tupelo at 10 p. m.

Some More Pitching Talent To Aid Grove Red Sox Need

Sixth of a series from the spring training camps.

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

SARASOTA, Fla., March 25. — Robert Moses Grove was celebrating his 38th birthday at the Sarasota ball park . . . showing more pepper than any other member of the Boston Red Sox.

"Wonder if old Lefty will hold up until I get another pitcher?" cracked the lantern-jawed Joe Cronin.

Now the pitching situation of the affluent Red Sox isn't quite as bad as that, but it most certainly isn't any too promising.

Power Is Increased

Cronin increased the power of his club by the acquisition of Joe Vosmik, who should have one of his greatest years with that friendly left field wall at Fenway Park.

What Cronin appears to have succeeded in doing is talking much of the satisfied feeling out of a number of his high-priced athletes.

Cronin is no longer a boy manager, and realizes that finishing in the second division isn't doing the reputation he established in Washington any good.

Neither is being shipped around aiding the cause of a superlative player like Ben Chapman. Cronin reminds the fleet Alabaman of this fact . . . points out that the New York Yankees and the Nationals gave up on him.

Worse Than Jesse James

Like Ty Cobb, Chapman can destroy defenses by running the bases.

He started to run again last year, when he led the American league in stolen bases for the fourth time in eight years with 35. He swiped 61 bases for the Yankees in 1931, and threatens to stir up plenty of trouble this trip.

Generosity and being a good fellow having failed to get him anywhere, the fabulously wealthy Tom Yawkey has tightened up all the way along the line. His handling of the Boob McNair holdout was the last illustration of this.

Can't Buy Pennant

The New York capitalist spent $1,500,000 for athletes before he was convinced that he couldn't buy a pennant. There will be no more fantastic purchases form Connie Mack or anybody else—that is, not unless some outfit wants to dispose of a first-rate catcher.

Next to pitching, that is what the Red Sox need most.

The veteran Gene Desautels will have to do in the meantime.

With Roger Cramer, Vosmik, Jimmy Foxx, Pinky Higgins, Chapman, and himself hitting as they should, Cronin figures that he can play a catcher who hits .243 and young Bobby Doerr at second base.

Cronin believes that Doerr absorbed a lot of American League knowledge in the dugout last term, and is to string along with the Californian at the outset, with McNair in reserve.

Jimmy Still Belts 'Em

Foxx, who experienced the worst batting year of his career in 1937, reported early and at weight. Someone had just complained about the American League ball being as beanbaggy as the National, when the Sudlersville slugger busted one 459 feet over the left field fence.

Cronin says that Jack Wilson's fireball would have accounted for more than 16 victories in 1937 had not the husky Oregonian so frequently taken his turn as a relief worker. Wilson perspired in one-third of the club's engagements.

Marcum Disappointment

Johnny Marcum definitely is a disappointment. Neither Jim Henry who won 14 for Minneapolis last season, nor Ted Olson is likely to make it, but a surgeon cut the trouble from Fritz Ostermuller's arm, and the farms have sent up three youths who seem to have a good chance.

One of these is Jim Bagby, jr., son of the Old Sarge, who copped 31 games for the Cleveland world champions in 1920. Taller and rangier than the old man, the newest edition of Bagby moves like a veteran and grabbed 21 decisions for Hazleton last year.

Records Look Good

Charley Wagner, a dapper little right hander, won 20 games for Minneapolis, and Emerson Dickman looked after 16 for Little Rock, which participated in the Dixie series.

Byron Humphrey won 16 and Dick Midkiff 13 for Little Rock. Lee Rogers also won 13 for Little Rock, but the Alabama southpaw hasn't progressed to the extent expected of a pitcher who has been sent out for three campaigns. Archie McKain is a spot left-hander.

The erudite Moe Berg and Jack Peacock, who hit .311 for Minneapolis, will assist Desautels with the catching.

Fabian Gaffke and Leo Nonnenkamp, who hit .332 for Little Rock, are the surplus outfielders. Ted Williams, a potential Babe Ruth from the San Diego Coasters, is just a baby who requires considerably more nursing.

There is a better feeling now that Yawkey has put the club on its own. They're the Red Sox again . . . and never again will be the Gold Sox . . . not with the Yawkey bankroll at least.

JIMMY FOXX

JACK WILSON

JIM BAGBY, JR.

JOE CRONIN

Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox is keeping his fingers crossed these days, hoping that elongated Jim Bagby, Jr., son of the old-time Cleveland Indian mound star, will make the grade in the big-time this year. Cronin needs pitchers in the worst way, and thinks Bagby has better than an even chance of sticking. Jim was a star in the Pennsylvania State League last season.

Schedule Will Be Drawn Up On Sunday

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, March 24 — The West Texas-New Mexico baseball league will draw up its playing schedule at a meeting of directors at Big Spring Sunday, Milton Price of Dallas, league president, announced today.

Price said Big Spring, Lubbock, Wink and Midland, Texas, and Hobbs and Clovis, N. M., would compose the league this season. The circuit finished with four clubs last season, Hobbs, Wink, Monahans and Roswell.

Doyle Still Betting Bobby Jones Won't Win Golf Tourneys

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

PINEHURST, N. C., March 25. (AP)—Jack Doyle, the betting commissioner, who lost a fortune betting against Bobby Jones when Bobby was in his heyday, is quoting the Atlantan at 25 to 1 for the approaching Master's tournament at Augusta and beting even money he doesn't finish higher than fifth. . . .

Bobby Cruickshank, the Richmond pro, who currently is among the leaders in the North and South here, played yesterday with a borrowed putter. . . . "I'll order a carload of them," he promised.

Wallace Wade, Duke football coach, is taking in the North and South and shooting a pretty fair game of his own. . . . Another celebrity here is Lew James, first tenor of the famous Revelers radio quartet, who also hits the low 80's in golf every now and then . . . Jimmy Foxx, one of baseball's longest hitters, lost a driving contest to Jimmy Thomson in Sarasota. . . . Thomson drove exactly 345 yards. . . . Jimmy was just 60 yards short. . . .

They say they had fire works, a parade and all for the premier of the Lou Gehrig movie in St. Pete yesterday. . . . Interviewed on the eve of the North and South Tuesday night, Sam Snead said, "Oh no, I'm not a bit nervous. This is just another golf tournament for me." . . . But those who dined with him noticed that he used two forks and no knife throughout a pretty healthy meal. . . . No, the guy probably wasn't nervous at that.

Blind Boy To Run In Texas Relays

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—An entry for the 100-yard dash in the Texas Relays here April 2 was received today from the Austin State School for the blind.

Sam Millsap, whose vision is impaired, will run the event in the high school class of the relays, Director Clyde Littlefield said.

"He's mighty fast, although he needs training," said Littlefield, who has been working the youngster on the Memorial stadium track.

The entry list for the track and field meet, which annually opens the national outdoor season reached 532 when the Rice institute roster arrived. The North Texas State Teachers college of Denton has entered its famed pair of racing twins, the Browns and the Rideouts, among others.

Yankton college of Yankton, S. D., was a new arrival in the college class. The high school entry list totals more than 400.

University of Minnesota tracksters, who arrived early this week for conditioning, will participate in a meet previously arranged for Texas A. & M. college. Howard Payne college of Brownwood and the University of Texas squads.

Oklahoma A. & M. Is After Ninth Mat Championship

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 25 (AP)—Oklahoma A. and M.'s "wonder team" pursued its ninth national collegiate wrestling championship in 11 years today without the aid of Harley (Doc) Strong, once voted the outstanding college matman of the nation.

Ed Gallagher, veteran coach of the Cowboys, disclosed Strong had become interested in dramatics and chosen to remain at Stillwater because of a performance this weekend.

National champion and a member of the Olympic team in 1936, Strong was named as the country's outstanding wrestler that year, but last season lost his position to the Cowboys' latest marvel, Stanley Henson, and this winter moved up a notch to the 155-round class, where he went undefeated.

Ten Top Scorers Are Separated By Mere 3 Strokes

(By The Associated Press)

PINEHURST, N. C., March 25 — A mere three strokes separated the ten top scorers today as three score pros and amateurs started out over Pinehurst's rugged and treacherous No. 2 course on the 36-hole final of the North and South golf tournament.

Bunched in the lead with 141's were Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., the veteran Ed Dudley of Augusta, Ga., and Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa. Only a stroke behind them were E. J. Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., Denny Shute of West Newton, Mass., and Jimmy Hines of Great Neck, L. I.

A trio of 143's bracketed Leonard Dodson of Springfield, Mo., Jim Turnesa of Providence, R. I., and Bobby Cruickshank of Richmond, Va. Harry Cooper of Chicopee, Mass., was alone at 144, the only other player to finish the first 36 holes in par figures. Par is 72.

Sliced Drive Costs Golfer $1,000 In Court Decision

PASADENA, Calif., March 25 (AP)—One sliced drive cost golfer D. L. Marsh $1,000 today.

Superior Judge Frank C. Collier granted judgment of that amount to the Rev. James F. Halliday, also a golfer.

The minister was playing the ninth hole of the Pasadena Municipal course last May 3 when Marsh teed off for the first hole.

All of a sudden, the minister charged, Marsh's ball struck him on the head, inflicting a permanent injury.

Marsh contended the ball hit a tree and ricocheted.

St. Nick Comes Late To Bayous

Christmas didn't reach Louisiana's isolated Bayou du Large settlement until spring, but the eager, happy children shown crowded about the tree, above, in Houma, seemed to be enjoying the presents which Bishop James Craig Morris is handing out just as much as if Yuletide had come Dec. 25. In fact Christmas comes in spring every year in Bayou du Large since menfolk of this English-Scotch community are out on their fur traplines in December when the rest of the world is celebrating.

New Record Registered In Free Throwing Contests

WICHITA, Kas., March 25. (AP) — Mrs. Hazel Walker Crutcher of Little Rock, Ark., dethroned Miss Mildred Spivey of Lambuth college, Jackson, Tenn., as national free throwing champion in the competition held in connection with the Woman's National Basketball tournament last night.

Mrs. Walker registered 49 out of 50 for a new record in the preliminaries Thursday afternoon, and last night registered 44 out of 50. Miss Spivey netted 41, and Mrs. Opal Hill Moss of Shreveport, La., a former champion, who was second in the preliminaries, sank 35 of 50 attempts last inght.

McNAIR-SOX AGREE

BOSTON, March 25 (AP) — Holdout Eric ("Booby") McNair last night came to terms with the Boston Red Sox in a long distance telephone conversation from his home in Meridian, Miss., with General Manager Eddie Collins.

While retaining his usual reluctance to discuss the exact financial details of the settlement, Collins said the second baseman, last remaining Sox holdout, had settled "at our terms."

New Shoe Store To Open On Saturday

Formal opening is scheduled Saturday of the Brown-Bilt Shoe store, 1209 Broadway opposite Lubbock hotel, which will feature a complete line of Shoes made by Brown Shoe company, is scheduled Saturday, according to announcement Thursday.

The building has been redone with a modernistic trend in the floor, equipment, structural glass front, and power green neon sign. Color scheme for the fixtures is blue and ivory.

Souvenirs To Be Given

Free powder puffs for women, key rings for men, and novelties for children will be given to all visitors at the Saturday opening of the store. Besides shoes for the entire family, hose, polish, and bags will be sold.

Owners of the store are Charlie Still and Clayton Guess. Still, a 1937 graduate of Texas Technological college, has had seven years' experience in selling shoes in Lubbock and Fort Worth. Guess has lived in Lubbock two years and was with the same company here and in Laredo for 11 years.

Other employes in the Brown-Bilt Shoe Store will be Earl Watson and J. L. DePauw.

Blind Man Knows The Voice Of Friend After 20 Years

GRIDLEY, Calif., March 25. (AP)—"Corey!" shouted a voice as Corey Hanks, blind lecturer, was leaving a meeting hall. Hanks hesitated a moment and then replied, "Hello, Ed."

The speaker was Edward Bates, who was prospecting with Hanks in Utah when a dynamite explosion took the latter's eyesight. Later Bates had attended his friend for months, but the two had not met for 20 years.

BOY GETS POSSUM

HOUSTON, March 25. (AP) — A barefoot boy Thursday staged a successful possum hunt in downtown Houston.

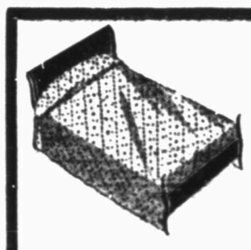

The possum was discovered in a tree on the courthouse lawn.

A large crowd gathered. The boy climbed the tree, and shook a branch. The possum fell and was grabbed by the lad, who scurried away with his prize.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Cotton futures opened 4 to 9 points advance on higher foreign markets and the extension of the government loan date. May 8.65; July 8.73; Oct. 8.30; Dec. 8.82; Jan. 8.85; March 8.90.

Traders placed a moderately bullish interpretation on extension by the Commodity Credit corporation of the expiration date on loans on 1937 cotton from March 31 to July 1. Prices held steady on trade buying of near months and foreign demand for late positions against sales of nearbys.

July sold up from 8.72 to 8.76 and shortly after the first half hour was selling at 8.75, when the list was 7 to 8 points net higher.

A late upturn in foreign markets was accompanied by buying here. Trade and local buying helped the tone and prices advanced to the best levels for the day late in the morning.

July sold up to 8.79 and was within a point of the best at midday, when the market was 11 to 12 points net higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 25 (AP) — Cotton futures opened here today 4 to 7 points net higher in response to favorable foreign markets, trade buying and covering by shorts.

Selling was light in the early dealings and recent hedge selling appeared to have dried up at least for the present.

May contracts opened at 8.78, July at 8.84, Oct. at 8.88, Dec. at 8.92, Jan. 8.96 and March at 8.99.

Prices advanced slowly during the morning under buying prompted by the extension of the loan deadline from March 31 to July 1.

Near mid-session May contracts traded at 8.83, July 8.88, Oct. at 8.93, Dec. 8.94, and Jan. at 8.96, or 7 to 8 points above the previous close.

After the buying was supplied trading tapered off and reached virtually a standstill towards the middle hour.

The turnover yesterday was 14,750 bales a decrease of 50 bales from the previous day.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—Influenced by Liverpool quotations higher than due, the Chicago wheat market advanced early today. Cables said upturns abroad were due to curtailed shipments from the southern hemisphere and to absence of selling pressure by Australian shippers.

After opening at ⅛-½ cent gain, May 87-87⅛, July 83⅞, Chicago wheat futures held steady. Corn started ⅛-⅜ up, May 60⅜, July 62¼-⅜.

Livestock Market

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, March 25 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Cattle 1,200; calves 600; all classes active and strong, some yearlings higher again, matured steers scarce, most fed yearlings 7.00-8.25, load mixed yearlings 8.75, load 688 lb. heifers 9.10, new high for the season; killing calves 4.50-7.50, vealers scarce.

Hogs 1,000, steady with Thursday's average, top 8.60 paid by shippers and small killers, packer top 8.50, good to choice 180-250 lb. 8.45-60, packing sows steady, 7.00-25.

Sheep 2,200, spring lambs mostly 8.25 down, few good to choice springers 8.50, wooled feeder lambs scarce, shorn feeders 5.00-50.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, March 25 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hogs 500, weak; top 8.90, good to choice 160-270 lbs. 8.75-90.

Cattle 700, calves 400; killing classes slow, steady to weak, small lots mixed yearlings up to 8.50, most fat cows 5.00-6.00; cutters 4.00-75, few selected vealers 9.50-10.00, few good to choice lots 7.00-9.00.

Sheep 2,500; opening sales fed lambs fully steady at 7.50-75.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Selling of steels and motors gave the stock market another downward push today and put many leaders into new low territory for the past two years or longer with losses running to 3 or more points at the worst.

The list jogged along at moderately lower levels in the morning. Offerings expanded subsequently and virtually all groups hit bottom shortly after noon. A little buying support then appeared and extreme declines were reduced in some cases near the fourth hour. Volume dwindled on the recovery attempt.

Further trimming of the tax revision bill by the senate finance committee helped bolster sentiment a bit, but speculative forces realized the measure has some way to go before becoming law and these, generally, lightened commitments.

Bonds were slightly in arrears.

Conspicuous in the backward column the greater part of the day were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Loew's, Eastman Kodak, American Smelting, Howe Sound, International Harvester, American Telephone, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft and U. S. Rubber preferred.

Resistant were J. I. Case, Great Northern, Woolworth and Consolidated Edison.

TANK CARS ARE SEIZED

JUAREZ, Chihuahua, Mex., March 25 (AP)—Seventy railroad tank cars owned by United States firms were seized in the yards here today as the effects of President Lazaro Cardenas' order expropriating Mexico's foreign owned oil industry extended to Juarez.

E. H. Todd, El Paso, Tex., manager of the Standard Oil company, said the cars were owned by the United Tank Line express, which leased them to Standard Oil; and by Sinclair, Texas and other oil companies.

Francisco D. Gonzales, Mexican customs chief, said, "orders have been issued to the Juarez railway station to prevent return of the tank cars to the United States."

Kicking Mail Bags Is No Way To Estimate Revenues, Says Secretary Morgenthau

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Kicking mail bags is no way of estimating the nation's revenues, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau ruefully admitted today. He ordered his collectors to abandon the practice.

On March 15, letters containing income tax payments poured into collectors' offices too fast to tabulate. So the collectors counted the mail bags, prodded them a bit with their feet to get the feel of the weight, and dashed off an estimate that collections were 18 per cent ahead of a year ago.

By March 21, the collectors had counted the payments and found the increase was only 5.1 per cent.

After the March 15 estimate, Morgenthau told reporters he was pleased. Today he said he was "disappointed."

New Industry For Lubbock To Be Located On Avenue R

McMichael Concrete Co., a new industry for Lubbock, has been issued a building permit to erect a concrete mixing plant at 402 Avenue R.

The company, headed by Jess O. McMichael, will mix concrete in the plant and haul it to jobs. Various types of mixes will be made, to suit the needs of the purchaser.

The concern is having a spur track built from Santa Fe main line to its plant. Surveyors of the railroad are working on plans.

New Mark For Building Near

Two building permits this morning for structures to cost an aggregate of $8,500 increased value of new construction authorized this week to within less than $7,000 of a new record for any calendar week of 1938.

The week's total up to noon today was $65,652, a figure exceeded only by the $72,531 of last week, which set the existing six-day record for the new year. Several applications for permits are pending with City Building Inspector Jim Reid and if routine technicalities can be satisfied, a new record will be set.

New permits were to Hal P. Bradley for a brick veneer residence costing $7,000 at 3002 Twentieth street and to E. M. Copp, for a frame residence costing $1,500 at 1608 Twenty-third street.

Total for March was increased to $213,959.47 and to the year to $515,446.22.

Further Discussion Of Rail Pay Slashes Is Postponed

WASHINGTON, March 25. (AP)—The railroads and rail labor postponed further discussion of a pay cut today until they see what the federal government intends to do about their problem.

A committee of rail executives and the railroad labor executives association decided to do that after the White House forwarded to President Roosevelt in Warm Springs, Ga., a special committee report on railroad finances.

RESTRAINING ORDER GRANTED

SAN ANTONIO, March 25. (AP)—A temporary restraining order, preventing the city from levying and from collecting a 3-cent municipal advertising tax has been granted by District Judge Everett Johnson on suit of a taxpayer.

KAUFMAN GIRL WINS

DALLAS, Mar. 24. (AP)—Miss Ruby McKee, of Kaufman, was declared the winner of the "voice with a smile" contest last night at the annual banquet of the Texas Telephone association. Telephone operators from all sections of the state were entered in the contest.

Eight Indicted In Hockley

Defendants indicated by a Hockley county grand jury Thursday will be called to trial in 72nd district court at Levelland Monday, according to announcement here this morning by Burton S. Burks, district attorney, and Victor H. Lindsey, assistant.

Three of the eight defendants named in the seven indictments reported to Judge Daniel A. Blair Thursday, the prosecutors said, immediately entered pleas of guilty.

The indictments included: three charging theft over $50 naming four defendants; two charging murder; one charging cattle theft and one charging driving when intoxicated.

Given Suspended Term

Odell Stout, charged by indictment with theft of a heifer, was assessed a three-year suspended sentence. J. R. Fain entered a plea of guilty of driving when intoxicated and the minimum penalty of $50 fine, five days in jail, and suspension of the drivers license six months was assessed. Adolfo Lopez, Mexican indicted on a murder charge, was given a five-year suspended sentence.

Theft over $50 was charged against Vernon Newsom and Odell Newsom in one indictment and against Vernon and Odell Newsom and Lawrence Tidwell in another. All three defendants are in the Lubbock county jail, Burks said.

Has Not Been Arrested

The defendant in the third charge of theft over $50 had not been arrested.

Justice apparently will be swift for Jessie Wilson, negro charged by indictment with the death early today of "Boots" Cooper, another negro.

Upon Wilson's arraignment before Judge Blair, he was ordered held without bond and Weldon F. Johnson, Levelland attorney, was appointed to defend him. The case was set down specifically for next Thursday when a special venire of 60 men is scheduled to report at 9 o'clock that morning.

A search for Wilson, after a shooting late Wednesday night, proved fruitless early this morning until Chief of Police A. P. Odell went to the courthouse, only to find the negro waiting on the steps.

Gus Wynn, owner of a farm southeast of Smyer, did not hear a shot fired between 9:30 and 10 o'clock Wednesday night, but later went outside and heard groans. He found Cooper, a negro employe, shot through the stomach. Cooper died about 12:30 o'clock Thursday morning. Time of the shooting was established by Wynn's report of the time he heard a car leave.

Sheriff Ed Hofackett and Boyd Latham, deputy, investigated.

Japanese In China

ways.

A drum and bugle corps followed the troops. Behind it marched 2,400 school children. They cheered like Americans going to a football game and waved anti-Japanese banners. A uniformed women's propaganda corps, equipped with revolvers, harangued gaping peasants.

Over and over they repeated what they said were reasons why Chinese must mobilize the wealth and skill of the masses for the fight against Japan.

After the parade and speeches came five hours of dramatics. A huge open-air crowd saw enactment of alleged cruelties of Japanese soldiers and the "Chinese slavery that will come" if Japan is not defeated.

General Yu spoke glowingly of the growth of anti-Japanism among millions of Chinese.

Half Million Training

"We have a half-million farmer soldiers in training in this district alone," he said. "A quarter of a million boy spies, ranging from eight to 18 years old, keep us informed on Japanese movements.

"A quarter of a million women propagandists are arousing the people. Similar mass movements are growing in the provinces of Chahar, Shansi, Shensi and Kansu. There are small units in Kiangsu, Chekiang, and Anhwei—all behind Japanese lines.

"Our ultimate aim is to train and arm all Chinese—aged eight to 48.

Moratorium On Debts

"Our basis appeal to the peasant millions of China is not just political. Arbitrarily we have reduced all rents 25 per cent and declared a three-year moratorium on all debts.

"We requisition army supplies from the peasants according to their ability to furnish them. Red cavalrymen plough the fields while farmers drill in the militia.

"Our night guerrilla tactics and extreme mobility has rendered Japanese artillery useless against us."

Yu asserted that the constant sight of captured Japanese army caps, weapons, ammunition, clothing, automobiles, trucks and food and stores from many victorious red raids was helping to build a tremendous spirit of confidence among younger farmers who ordinarily are indifferent to political ideas.

"We are teaching them that a poor but free life is better than slavery," he said.

Negro Gets Extra 24 Hours Due To Prison Broadcast

AUSTIN, March 25. (AP)—The new Texas prison radio broadcast resulted today in Virgil Terrell, convicted negro murder from Gregg conty, being given an extra 24 hours of life.

Governor James V. Allred postponed his electrocution from 12:01 a.m. next Thursday to the same time the following day so it would not fall on the same night as the weekly broadcast. The first broadcast was given the past Wednesday night.

Negroes Are Not Starving

ly that those who are left of the "top' load of 500 who worked the cotton crop at its' peak generally do not make more than a few cents a day above their living expenses. But none is in danger of starving, they say.

Several Are Ill

Several are ill and none are making much money, said both men. But employment at the moment is not likely to absorb such a type of laborers, they explainel, expressing their belief the Mexicans and negroes are doing as well or better where they are than they would if they returned to their East Texas homes and elsewhere "before cotton chopping season sets in."

As a matter of fact, said young Harrison and Lopez, the field hands, not crowded as they were, have a warm place to live, fuel to burn, credit at the comissary that, while it amounts to only 20 cents a day when a given individual does not work, will "keep body and soul together."

May Have Pneumonia

Touched off by a message of Alvin R. Allison, Hockley county judge, attention to the concentration was asked of the state labor commission. Robert B. Gragg, deputy labor commissioner, and J. P. Oliver, negro physician of Lubbock, visited the camp Thursday afternoon. Oliver left medicine for several who were found ill, one of whom suffered of what he diagnosed as lobar pneumonia. Oliver indicated late Thursday he would return to the camp.

Gragg indicated another procedure, saying transportation likely would be furnished the negroes and Mexicans who would have returned to their homes had they been able to save sufficient money.

Settlement Inspected

The Avalanche-Journal, through two staff members, inspected the settlement Thursday afternoon and talked with young Harrison, Lopez, several Mexicans and numerous negroes. Negroes, who said they went to Cochran county from as far away as New York City and Shreveport, said they wanted to go to their homes "bad."

They presented the following interpretation of their condition and circumstances governing their daily existence:

They are not overcrowded now, as compared with a near incredulous condition recently.

They are given a choice in their work—that of pulling boles for 25 cents a 100 pounds or of "getting half the cotton they pull, provided they pay half the price of hauling it to market." The overseer, who has two trucks and a pickup, does the hauling.

"Good Days" Sometimes

They sometimes have "good days" when they can clear as much at $1.35.

Such periods of wetness, whether by rain, snow or heavy dew, as may fall result in their making nothing. Then they receive credit of 20 cents a day from Lopez. (Twenty-three such days fell consecutively in February, they and Lopez said.)

Only about 150 bales remain to be "pulled." From 1,700 to 1,800 bales have been ginned.

The dugouts, 85 feet long, 12 feet wide and approximately seven feet in the ground (a shallow superstructure having been erected above the ground level), cannot be kept sanitary—what with the fact water has to be hauled from a windmill a few hundred yards off, overcrowded conditions (until recently) inadequate bed clothing and no sanitary facilities for disposal of wastes.

One Family Has Thirteen

Babies of only a few months play against bunks (only one of which showed to have bed springs) on which lie persons complaining of illness. Only one skillet had meat in it—the others having beans or bread.

The long dugouts have six and seven kitchen stoves each. Families huddle there, one being composed of 13 persons, eat and sleep and hope tomorrow will be warm and dry so the laboring members may earn a few more cents toward transportation of the family back to its home city.

Gragg and Judge Allison said the negroes went to work the great farm and were stranded when they failed to save enough money to pay for their return transportation.

Want To Get Away "Bad"

Most of the single men and women have gone. Families are those who apparently cannot get away.

They shake their heads, the negroes, when asked about how they fare. The answer is the same, couched in different language. They want to get away "bad."

Lopez has a different slant.

"Next year I workee Mexicans and Americans," he said. "You know how about—negroes—they no satisfy anybody. They get work if they not lazy and lie around, but they not satisfy anybody.

"I ready pay them if I owe them anything, and if they owe me I ready to forget about that if they just leave and don' come back."

Mrs. Scott, wife of the movie actor, Randolph Scott, a sister of William du Pont, jr., and owner of a large estate at Montpelier, Va., was too excited to lead Battleship into the winner's circle. She arrived at Aintree only a few hours before the start of the race.

Immediately after the review, which began upon arrival of the party from the airport, the corps area commander inspected the unit, building and equipment.

Officers of the unit are Captain Pettit, Lieut. Harrol J. Skidmore, Sgt. William B. Richards, and Sgt. Leonard R. Day.

Frances Turner, honorary co-ed commander for last year, and Nancy Anderson, honorary commander this year, were present at the review. Student officers are Rufus Ryan, commander; Amatus Chamberlain, captain of Company A; and W. Noel Bryant, captain of Company B.

Escort Is Furnished

A motorcycle escort from Lubbock police department preceded the party when it came into Lubbock and on the return to the airport.

General Brees and his aide were shown through the textile building by M. E. Heard, head professor of textile engineering, and were presented with ties made in the department, at conclusion of the inspection.

The corps area commander was highly complimentary of the city, and college and with the R. O. T. C. unit.

Woodrow Farmer Is Injured In Collision Near There

Clyde Mote, 30, farmer of near Woodrow, was treated at West Texas hospital late this morning for injuries suffered when his automobile was struck by a truck near the Cooper Rural High school under construction at Woodrow.

His left arm was broken just above the wrist, and a deep gash in his forehead required several stitches to suture. He also suffered bruises over the body. He was dismissed after treatment.

Mote said at the hospital his car was swung over in front of an approaching truck when the wheels struck sand. The front of his automobile was damaged badly. The driver of the truck was not injured, according to reports here.

Sanders ambulance went to the scene, but the man had been brought to the hospital in an automobile. Two highway patrolmen were investigating.

Couple Gives $260,000 For Univ. Of Houston Building

HOUSTON, March 25. (AP) — In memory of their only son, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cullen today donated $260,000 to the University of Houston for the school's first building.

Their son, Roy Gustav Cullen, was killed in an oil field accident a year ago.

Cullen is a pioneer Texas oil man.

Girl Dead In Suicide Pact

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 25.—Charlotte Matthiesen, 18, blonde typist, pinned a corsage of artificial lilies of the valley on the left side of her new blue dress Thursday and lay down to die.

Her youthful sweetheart, Donald F. Carroll, jr., aimed his father's .45 caliber army revolver at the synthetic flowers, District Attorney Charles P. Sullivan said, and squeezed the trigger.

Calls Police Instead

Then, instead of turning the gun on himself as he had intended, Sullivan said, young Carroll stumbled down the stairs and called the police.

"Send someone," he said over the telephone. "Help is needed."

A few minutes later an ambulance surgeon leaned over Charlotte's body and pronounced her dead.

Police reconstructed the tragedy from the story told by Carroll, 16-year-old son of a retired army lieutenant, and from a note found on the kitchen table.

Entered Into Suicide Pact

Police Inspector John J. LaGarenne said the young lovers apparently had entered into a suicide pact because the girl feared she was about to become a mother.

The note, as given out by Prosecutor Sullivan, read:

"Please bury us together.

"Please collect Charlotte's salary and my Bowery bank savings account and pay off (1 Charlotte's Arnold Constable bill and (2) Charlotte's dentist bill.

"Donald F. Carroll.

"Charlotte Matthiesen

"The 24th of March, 1938."

Postscript Is Added

Charlotte had added a postscript, Sullivan said, addressed to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Matthiesen.

"Dearest mother and daddy," she wrote. "I love you both and I am sorry for this but I love him more. Charlotte."

Young Carroll, a freshman at New York university who impressed neighbors with his serious-minded interest in political ideologies, was quoted by Sullivan as saying that Charlotte came to his home in the Jackson Heights section of Queens while his parents were absent.

They discussed their problem, went for a walk, and returned to the house convinced that there was only one way out. They had stopped on the way to buy Charlotte's death corsage.

Her body, fully clothed, was found on her young lover's bed.

He probably will be held, Sullivan said, on a technical charge of homicide.

More Taxes Eliminated

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The senate finance committee knocked house-approved estate and gift tax provisions out of the revenue bill today.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) said the committee decided the estate and gift levies in the existing law were preferable.

The senate committee eliminated a house provision which would have consolidated the exemption from gift and estate taxes. The house provided a total $40,000 exemption from both levies, while the senate committee approved the existing provision of $40,000 for each.

Restore Separate Exemption

The senate group also restored a separate $5,000 annual gift exemption, which the house had cut to $3,000.

Members of the finance committee, which rebuffed the administration yesterday on two vital tax issues, declared their new business tax program would raise more revenue than that passed by the house.

More Revenue Seen

Chairman Harrison said the committee-approved flat tax on corporation income would bring in $97,000,000 more than the undistributed profits levy, which it would replace in the tax revision bill.

"This does not take into account any improvement in business," he said. "If business improves, then our plan would bring more revenue to the government."

Treasury estimates, Harrison added, showed the committee's version of the capital gains levy would raise close to $42,000,000—the amount anticipated from the house provision.

The committee's action in rewriting those controversial levies presaged a fight over the tax bill when it reaches the senate floor, probably early next week.

Copper Wire Is Found In Egg At R. A. McKinney Residence

Perhaps the power of suggestion placed a wire in P. A. McKinney's hardboiled egg.

Mrs. McKinney, while cooking at their home at 1701 Nineteenth street, was telling her husband of an account she had read in a newspaper about a wire being found in an egg. She placed a hardboiled egg on her husband's plate.

He broke it open — and there was a copper wire, extending through the yolk.

The wire, about an inch long, might have been mistaken for a worm by some hungry hen.

Federal Housing Activities At Third New Peak Today

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP) — Gross business of the Federal Housing administration reached a new peak for the third successive week, Administrator Stewart McDonald announced today.

In the week ending March 19 mortgages selected for appraisal totaled $21,293,061, compared with $20,386,711 the previous week and $16,879,710 in the corresponding week a year ago.

Tom Connally Declines To Comment On Third Term Candidacy But It's Generally Understood He'll Be In Race Again

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 25. — The ballot of the 1940 senatorial race in Texas is expected to carry the name of Tom Connally of Marlin, seeking re-election for the third consecutive term in the United States senate.

The senator declined to comment on the subject at this advance date, but it is generally understood by Texas colleagues in the nation's capitol that year after next will find him stumping the state and recalling a record of public service that dates back to 1901. In that year he went to the state legislature for the first time.

Went To Senate In 1929

Senator Connally first came to the nation's capital as representative of the eleventh Texas district, in 1917. He was returned to the house every two years until taking his seat in the senate, March 4, 1929.

The tall, dignified Texan was born in McLennan county on August 19, 1877. He attended the public schools at Eddy and then went to Baylor university, where he received his degree in 1896. Two years later he graduated in law at the University of Texas, and commenced the practice of law in Waco. A short time later he moved to Marlin.

Former Texas Legislator

From 1901 to 1904 he was a member of the Texas legislature. From 1903 to 1910 he was prosecuting attorney of Falls county.

Shortly after he took his seat in congress America entered the World war and in 1918 he left the house to join the army. He served as captain and adjutant of the twenty-second infantry brigade, eleventh division, but never went overseas.

The Texans' career in the senate has been marked by his activity in legislation affecting agriculture and the petroleum industry.

He was co-author of the Jones-Connally cattle relief act, placing cattle as a basic commodity under the provisions of the old Agricultural Adjustment act and alloting $250,000,000 in benefits to producers. He was the author of an amendment adopted by the senate and enacted into law which increased the duty upon cattle in the tariff act of 1930.

Joine Jones In Move

With Representative Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the house agriculture committee, he initiated and succeeded in getting the government to set aside 30 per cent of all tariff proceeds to be paid to farmers for a part of their surplus crops.

The senator was the author of the "hot oil" act which bears his name, and which was designed to aid the states in enforcing oil production quotas to conserve the natural resource. He led a successful fight for an import tax on oil in the 1932 revenue bill designed to stem the flow of foreign oil and protect American producers.

Would Outlaw War Profits

With the aid of the treasury department experts on finance and taxation, Senator Connally worked out a bill to take the profits out of war should the United States become involved again in war. The bill would provide extremely heavy taxation on all business, in time of war, thus providing for the means of paying for the conflict as it progressed, and at the same time taking away the incentive for war—profiteering. It is still pending.

The Texan played a leading role during the present congress in the debate over the proposed reorganization of the Supreme court.

A member of the senate judiciary committee which conducted hearings on the bill, Connally was one of the first and most outspoken opponents of the measure.

Besides membership on the judiciary committee, Connally also serves on the finance, foreign relations, privileges and elections, and public buildings and grounds committees. He is chairman of the latter.

ew Rules For razing Made

(By The Associated Press)

ASHINGTON, March 25.—The eral government has laid down ew set of rules for 120,000,000 s of public range.

hey will be administered by the sion of grazing by authority of Taylor grazing act of 1934.

fficials said they believed the regulations, when finally put effect, would mark the begin- of "a just and permanent so- on of the range problem."

To Prevent Over-Grazing

enerally the regulations provide grazing approximately 10,000,000 d of livestock on the federal ge on a term permit basis de- ed to prevent over-grazing.

The new regulations embody the ential features of the code ap- ved in the ten states and in the shington conferences last year d have approval of the over- elming majority of the stock- n," said F. R. Carpenter, grazing ector.

The new regulations recognize ne- sity for control of private pro- rties in order to obtain a prefer- ce in the use of the federal range grazing purposes. Local condi- n would govern the type of pro- rty over which control would be ecessary, Carpenter explained.

"In the southern states," he said, his is largely water and in the thern states it is largely cultivat- feed and seasonal pasture."

To Select Preference

"Whenever the demands of the embers of this preference class ex- d the available federal range for eir year-round operations it be- mes necessary to select within is preference class.

"In making this selection the pro- rties which are established are stinguished from those which are t established.

"The test as to whether private operties are established for use in nnection with the range has been ed by the requirement that if nd was used for grazing purposes r any three or two consecutive ars in the five-year period im- ediately preceding the passage of e Taylor act and if water facili- s are available that were used in e five-year period, such proper- s would be designated as estab- hed, otherwise not."

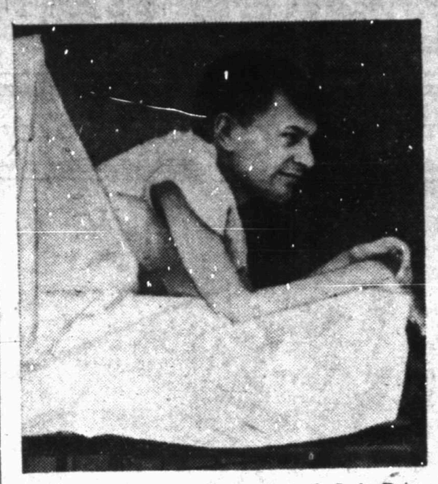

In Effect Soon

Carpenter said the new regula- ons would be put into effect soon Colorado grazing district No. 6, omprising 2,461,000 acres. Within year, he added, it was expected at ast one grazing district would be rought under the new regulations Arizona, California, Colorado, daho, New Mexico, Nevada, Montana, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming.

There are 49 grazing districts in all. Temporary licenses will be issued pending installation of the new term-permit system.

Carpenter explained it would be impossible to put the new range program into effect in all districts at once because much of the range remained to be surveyed and classified as to its stock carrying capacity.

Doomed Seven Years Ago, "Oven Man" Recovers

Grinning happily now, fiery-haired Jack Doty, right, of Memphis, Tenn., looks ahead to health and work again as reward for a courageous seven-year fight against the ravages of intense burns suffered in an automobile accident in May, 1931. Doty recently underwent his tenth, and he hopes his last, operation when his right foot was amputated after skin-grafting proved unsuccessful. Lying on his stomach 412 days in the specially constructed tent as shown above, heated steadily at 103 degrees, Doty became known as the "oven man" of Memphis after his accident. His entire body was seared from neck to feet. Doctors at one time gave him up, but Doty said, "Not me. I'm going to fight." Married, father of three children, Doty plans to return to work in the Memphis city engineering department.

More "No" And Less "So" Is The Advice Of Professor

CHICAGO, March 25. (AP)—Chalk up one vote each for "thing" and "ain't" as the most abused English words.

Prof. Walter K. Smart of Northwestern university nominates these words for first place and among other overworked words lists:

In business—"proposition."

Among women — "awfully, terribly," and similar words.

Among writers—"so."

Prof. Smart picks "no" as the most helpful word, "stop" as the most dramatic and "ubiquitous" as the ugliest.

For the most beautiful he chooses murmur, memorial, lullaby, roar, roam and dour. He characterizes the last as a "caressing word which defines something disagreeable."

Carrier Pigeons To Continue To Hold Their Jobs In Army

WASHINGTON, March 25. (AP) — Wireless has displaced the navy's gallant homing pigeons, but army officers say the winged messengers probably will have a place forever in land warfare.

"They can be used where radio would disclose the position of an isolated body of troops," says Capt. W. R. Minckler of the signal corps, which maintains 1,100 trained pigeons at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Minckler says over 500,000 pigeons took part in the World war.

FOND OF TEA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gibbons not only take afternoon tea, but like it, says Dr. William M. Mann, of the National Zoo.

He brought several back from Sumatra last fall. Among the 1,000 birds, beasts and reptiles he brought with him the gibbons proved to be the most fastidious eaters.

After Mann discovered their taste for tea they had it daily on the trip "with two lumps of sugar and no cream or lemon, please."

Texas has spent $311,000,000 for highway construction in the last 10 years.

POSTMASTERS CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25. (AP)—The senate has confirmed the following postmasters:

Texas: Burwell W. McKenzie, Denton; Marie E. Parker, Anahuac; Edgar L. Watson, Athens; John P. Griffin, Blooming Grove; Earl E. Frost, Bridgeport; Emory D. Cotton, Brownsboro; Minnie P. Irving, Center Point; Carlos D. Berry, Dawson; Gordon Keith Denman, Dumas; Edgar W. Brooks, Eldorado; Gladys M. Waters, Grandview; Julius D. Gibbs, Kingsville; Jennie W. YOO-HOO! Spry IS HERE!
IT'S THE NEW, PURER ALL—VEGETABLE SHORTENING THAT MAKES ALL BAKING AND FRYING DOUBLY DELICIOUS

Double your money back
—if this new shortening isn't the best you ever used!

DOUBLE your money back IF you want it! But we don't think you will. Women who try Spry are so enthusiastic over it, so completely carried away by its many advantages, that you couldn't hire them to go back to ordinary shortenings again!

You'll love Spry's whiteness, its wonderful creamy smoothness. And here's a tip. Don't keep Spry in the refrigerator. You don't have to. For Spry is a purer, all-vegetable shortening. It stays fresh and sweet at ordinary room temperature. So keep Spry right on your pantry shelf. It will always be the right consistency for quick, easy creaming.

Fry in Spry—it's grand!

Do you dread frying? You won't when you use Spry. No smoke, no smell in the kitchen. No food flavors or odors absorbed. Spry stays sweet and clear after repeated fryings. You can use it again and again.

But the real test of Spry comes on your table. And it passes that test with flying colors. Use Spry in any of your favorite recipes—see the difference. Cakes are a triumph of lightness and delicate flavor. Pastry most beautifully tender and flaky. Fried foods so crisp and tasty they're doubly delicious. And as easy to digest as if baked or boiled! Don't delay. Get Spry today.

Read this offer!

Buy a can of Spry from your grocer. Give Spry every test in pies, cakes, biscuits, fried foods. If you don't find Spry the best shortening you ever used, write to Lever Brothers Company, Cambridge, Mass., stating briefly your reasons for not preferring Spry. Send your name and address and the strip of tin that the key takes off when you open the can. You will promptly receive back twice what you paid for Spry. This offer is limited to one can to a family.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says when all men are what they pretend to be, the millenium will be here!

Somebody sent in this anonymous note:

"Dear Plainsman: I am glad I am me instead of being you. If I knew all about everything I'm afraid it would cause me too much worry!"

Wow! That was a hot one!

AND speaking of worry, The Plainsman pleads guilty to being a worrier of the worst—and chronic—sort.

It is natural for him to worry about something—and when, occasionally, he finds he has nothing to fret over, he begins to fret over that.

He feels like things are going entirely too perfectly and that he's in "the lull which precedes the storm."

Then he feels better—with something to worry about!

We had a story in the Morning Avalanche the other day in which some dear, old sister in Missouri had reached the age of 105 and was advising people not to worry if they wanted to live a long life like hers.

And frankly, such advice—which frequently is seen in the papers—gives The Plainsman a great, big pain.

People are of one of two types: either they are worriers, or non-worriers. And all the advice in the world won't keep the worriers from worrying.

That's just as natural a function with them as breathing!

THE other day a congressman from Arizona referred to that portion of the U. S.-Mexican border between El Paso and Los Angeles as "the back door through which this country some day may be attacked."

While striking, his statement was not original.

It has been made before—and probably has a lot of basis.

To anyone with a smattering of information regarding the Northwest part of Mexico, and that portion of Southwestern United States between El Paso and Los Angeles, the statement clicks.

Impossible of immediate defense, that strip of alternate mountain and desert land is this country's chief danger point.

RECENT events in Mexico make logical the calling of American attention to the "danger strip."

No one either wants or expects trouble with our Mexican neighbors, with whom we all prefer to live in harmony.

But Mexico's very definitely drifting into communism, and the ever-threatening possibility of her being sucked into an international pact with land-hungry European powers makes it highly advisable for us to keep an eye on the situation.

Anything can happen. And as some wag remarked, it frequently does!

Sam Lewis brought this in:

The sales manager of a big New York firm had a very loud voice. One morning the president of the concern heard earbursting sounds coming from the sales manager's office and sent his secretary to find out what was going on.

"Mr. Blank," she reported, "is talking to our Cleveland office."

"Confound it," ejaculated the president. "Tell him to use the telephone!"

The recent weather.

Lubbock's 1938 building record to date.

Heeaven, home and mother!

APPOINTMENT of a chamber of commerce committee with the end in view of hastening the erection of an office building somewhere in Lubbock is a commendable step.

The Plainsman has been wondering for quite a spell if and when the chamber was going to take such a step—and if not, why not. However, after a little gum-shoeing, we discovered that the chamber has not been asleep in the matter as we—and probably some other souls—once suspected. It has had fingers in several office building pies which failed to materialize and now, in the opinion of directors, it is time to make the problem one for a committee's active attention. The committee, therefore, is in the making.

The need of a large office building in Lubbock is too apparent to require discussion. It is [illegible] that several groups at various times have given varying degrees of consideration to such an enterprise. It is believed generally none of those plans have reached consummation because each group has been uncertain as to what other groups might do.

Those who contemplate the huge investment an adequate office building would require are wholly justified in their caution. They keenly realize the dangers of over-building, as has been the experience of so many cities. They know, of course, that there would be no lack of tenants for such a building at first. But the important consideration for them is: Will the building still be a profitable investment 20 years hence? It usually takes about that long for such a building to pay for itself, and many of them never return a profit.

Because there are so many factors to be considered, the chamber of commerce committee may be able to render a real service both to the city as a whole and to the individuals or groups who undertake the erection of the office building which is certain to be built before very long.

At any rate, The Plainsman hopes so.

For Love Of Polly

CAST OF CHARACTERS

POLLY CHELSEY, heroine; stranded in London when war breaks out.

JERRY WHITFIELD, hero; the Yankee who sees her through.

CABELL BANKS, privateer captain.

Yesterday: Arriving too late at Cherbourg to sail back to America, Jerry and Polly are married while they await Banks' plans to procure a ship of his own.

CHAPTER XXII

At the end of a week Cabell Banks arrived at the hotel and asked to see "Monsieur Jeremiah Whitfield."

"Le voici!" said the inkeeper, and he pointed out Jerry just coming in at the door with his wife.

Cabell wrung Jerry's hand and kissed Polly on both cheeks to the intense pleasure of some native onlookers who had supposed all Americans to be cold and restrained. Jerry asked Cabell to come with them to their room, and presently the two men were deep in conversation at a window looking toward the harbor, while Polly sat across the room with her knitting.

She would not, she mentally vowed, intrude on the friendship of Jerry and Cabell Banks. It was a strong masculine thing, built of mutual misfortunes and shared dangers. Their three futures were cradled in this friendship. The two young men had a plan, and Cabell was impatient to get on with it. And so was Jerry, Polly admitted, trying to feel no jealousy.

Cabell said, "I've found the ship for us, Jerry! She's tied up at Carteret. We'd be able to get out of Carteret."

Jerry mentally located the little port 20 miles to the south. "We might get out of there all right. Yes, I think we could. What's the ship like?"

"A clipper. Built in Baltimore."

Jerry's face fell. "New Englanders don't hold with those ships, Cabell. They're too flimsy."

"They're the fastest things on water."

"I doubt if I could handle one. No. I don't believe I could bring one home right side up," Jerry declared.

Cabell hooted in disagreement. "My friend, I've been hearing things about you. There are a number of stranded American sailors in this port and some of them are from down Connecticut way. They tell me you saved Captain Cobb's barkentine Eliza from the rocks in a hurricane on a trip around the Horn. You were just 20 at the time."

Polly looked up quickly. There was so much Jerry had never told her. "How did you do it, Jerry?"

"It was just chance, you might say. It was the trip we lost our first mate in a blow and our second mate from a fever. Cap'n Cobb was down in his bunk with a broken leg and I had to take charge. The bosun or the galley cook could have done just as well, if they'd been put to it. Cap'n Cobb made me first mate afterward. But there are better and older sailors than me that've never had the chance."

"Maybe," Cabell agreed, dryly. "Look out, or you'll get conceited over your modesty . . . This clipper now . . ."

"What's wrong with her? What's she doing in a little port like Carteret? How long has she been rotting there?"

"She's been there only a couple of months and she's sound. Her captain died of a fever the day they put in there. Her owner's a Baltimore merchant who's financially pressed. He wants to sell her."

"That means he wants ready money. You could hardly get her on credit, I reckon?"

"I reckon not. But wait till you hear this! His agent's the same French banker here in Cherbourg my father transacts business with. I've convinced this banker that Mr. Cabell Banks, senior, of Boston would want me to have the ship to get home in, and that he'd like me to have enough money advanced to outfit the clipper and pay the crew for five weeks. The chief expense will be a pair of long guns, properly mounted, but he'll stand for it. It's a perfect situation, friend Whitfield. Who're we to snipe at fate?"

"A Baltimore clipper's not safe, Banks. Those Marylanders are mad to build them. Too flimsy. Too fast . . ."

"Too flimsy, I grant you. But not too fast. Nothing could be too fast for us now. Do you realize, Jerry, we've got no right to fight the British till we get our commissions? If we tried it we'd be pirates instead of privateers. We've got to get home, and quick. We'll be a hare pursued by a hundred hounds, this crossing."

"You've convinced me," Jerry said. It had occurred to him that no ship could be too fast to get Polly home in. After they'd made America they could trade the thing for a stout New England craft that wouldn't topple in a gale or crush like an eggshell when fired on.

Ten days later in the small harbor of Carteret Polly Whitfield went aboard the clipper Gray Gull owned and captained by Mr. Cabell Banks, junior, of Boston, and whose first mate was Jeremiah Whitfield of Newburyport, Massachusetts.

"We've kept her old name," Cabell explained to Polly as he escorted her aboard. "We heard the name Revenge, that we had such a hanker for is already in use."

"Gray Gull seems suitable," Polly said. She looked up dubiously at the remarkably tall masts, so different from Cousin Tim's stout, heavy ones. These masts seemed to dwarf the slender hull from which they sprang. There was so little freeboard visible that the Gray Gull seemed shallow as well as slender; when Polly mentioned this to Jerry, who had come from below to take her in charge, he assured her that the Gull belied her looks. She had a stout keel, he said, as sturdily laid as if New England carpenters had built her. Already he was proudly possessive, like a loving relative showing off a beloved child. And so was Cabell.

Polly thought: "Even before they've put to sea they're crazy about their Gray Gull! How much more Jerry's going to love her after he's sailed her a while!" She knew the way of men with ships, for her father had been a typical seafaring man. After he lost his Proud Lyme off Nantucket five years ago he grieved for her as the grieved for his wife, who died the same year.

Not the least of Jerry's pride in the Gray Gull was the beautiful quarters for Polly. He took her there now and watched her anxiously as she looked around her. When she exclaimed with delight over the white painted walls and the warm carpet on the floor he was touched and pleased. "It's none too good for you," he said. He told her that there had been one long cabin, but Cabell had had a partition built, generously giving them the larger quarters and reserving the smaller for himself.

Jerry left her, and a sailor brought her little trunk into the cabin and stowed it beneath the bunk. "That's shipshape!" she told the shy lad. He seemed very young, not over 17, and Polly opened a box of French pastry she was carrying and gave him some. When she was alone she took off her bonnet and sea coat, feeling that she was one with all the women on earth who had followed their men to sea. Though she was the least of them, she would not shame them.

For those on board the Gray Gull the hard part must come now. The waiting. The watchful waiting. The run to sea when the time came. Though no English vessels patroled the insignificant harbor, one knew that they lurked to the north, watching Cherbourg, and to the southwest, blockading Brest. The Gray Gull must take her chance. Her 50-odd sailors were impatient to be off—Americans, most, weary of an enforced sojourn on the wrong side of the Atlantic.

Polly sensed the tenseness that first night aboard. The second night was worse, for a sharp breeze was blowing like a clarion call. Jerry and Cabell stood at the wheel, staring toward the west and talking earnestly. No one seemed to remember her existence. That, too, was part of being a seaman's wife. . .

Then came Cabell's low called commands, relayed by Jerry. Sailors began running, ropes were hauled . . . . Polly looking up into the starlight saw the masts bloom with canvas, saw sails fill and spread. The Gray Gull, like an eager bird, was running out to sea.

CONGRATULATIONS TO LAMESA!

Lamesa is to dedicate its new postoffice Saturday and the whole of Dawson county should take off for that event. The handsome new structure is being completed ahead of schedule and the residents of Lamesa are appreciative of that fact.

Lamesa is one of the leading communities of the up-and-coming South Plains. It is a busy place. The postal receipts warranted the federal postoffice department in erecting a home for its work and this has been done.

Residents of the South Plains join with Lamesa in rejoicing over the newest addition to the fine business section there. Some other towns are in the race for federal buildings and Brownfield is about to get its structure started. This section of Texas is entitled to more federal buildings. Postal receipts here are frequently larger than for towns of similar size in older sections, because of the rush of business.

The Plains is growing in population, in business and in wealth and is entitled to more recognition from Uncle Sam.

Let's hope we begin to get more than we've been getting.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 25.—Close-ups and longshots:

HEDY LAMARR — This Austrian actress is very careless about leaving valuables lying around. Over in Europe she went swimming, raw, and left her clothes on the bank and somebody stole them. But that was for a picture, called "Ecstasy," which even in its censored form caused more eye strain in this country than anything since the last eclipse.

En route to Hollywood, she was escorted across the continent by a studio representative who was constantly bewildered by the way she scattered her purse and furs all over the train. Entering the Metro lot recently, she tossed a brown paper bag to the gateman saying, "Keep this for me, will you?" He tossed it on a shelf with his lunch. Next day another watchman, prowling for a sandwich, opened the bag. It contained $100,000 worth of diamonds.

LOUISE HOVICK — Her studio, and presumably Miss Hovick herself, wants everyone to forget that she used to be the strip-tease queen, Gypsy Rose Lee. Privately, however, the actress was annoyed when Sally Rand recently failed to name her in a list of the 10 best undressed women of the world—the women, that is, who'd be beautiful even without clothes.

Evidence of how far Miss Hovick has progressed from being an exponent of a fleshy and very realistic art is the fact that she now is going in for abstract paintings. Recently bought a couple of moderns and is reading a book about surrealism and such. I saw it. She also is becoming an amateur patroness of sweetness and light; adores Shirley Temple and would like to meet her.

DANIELLE DARRIEUX — If you ask the French star whether she is temperamental, she will say, "But no!" and her husband will say, "But yes!" She will qualify it then by explaining that sometimes she does toss a temper tantrum, but in the middle of it she gets to feeling pretty silly and begins to laugh at herself.

Henri Decoin, the husband, says it is sometimes that way and sometimes not. When Mlle. Darrieux gets really angry she always leaves—the set, the party, or whatever. It is then that she must be left alone, strictly. A man who ran after her would be taking his life in his hands.

MARVIN STEPHENS — Six years ago this youngster was playing small parts in "Mickey McGuire" comedies with Mickey Rooney the star. The series was abandoned, parts became scarce, and Marvin was washed up at the age of 9. He had to work at something, so he sold papers. Had a corner for street sales, and a delivery route, and did so well with them that he re-entered movies reluctantly a few months ago with a role in the "Jones Family" series.

Then came "Checkers," and young Stephens was cast opposite Jane Withers—a role originally intended for Mickey Rooney. Still unimpressed, Marcin continued carrying his route before reporting at the studio but leased his corner to another boy. He declined a contract, explaining that regular movie work would force him out of high school football and basketball. He's weakening, though; they've named him to play with Miss Withers again, in "Racing Blood."

HELEN GIBSON — She was a trick rider with the 101 Ranch Show and galloped in early movies for $8 a week. For Kalem, though, she made "The Hazards of Helen" and became a star. Turned producer in 1922, lost her fortune, and went back to circus riding.

In "Condemned Women" you'll see a prison matron getting shot and tumbling down a flight of stairs. That's Helen Gibson—a stunt woman at 44. She received $50 for the first fall and $25 for a second take. Not bad pay, but Miss Gibson says she's getting a bit brittle, also a little tired of trying to break her neck.

Oh, yes—the director of the picture, who hired her to fall down stairs, is Lew Landers. When Miss Gibson was a star at Universal, making thrillers such as "A Daughter of Daring," he was an office boy there.

New Deal's Effort To Control Business Will Fade On Repeal Of Profits Tax--Dutcher

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 25 — The last ragged remnant of the New Deal's effort to exert some degree of control over the business situation through taxation will be destroyed when and if Chairman Pat Harrison of the Senate Finance committee succeeds in having the corporation undistributed profits tax completely repealed.

Rodney Dutcher

All that's left is the "20-16" provision in the tax bill passed by the House. This imposes a tax of 20 per cent on the profits of corporations earning net income of more than $25,000 a year, with a credit of four per cent against that tax for each dollar paid out in dividends.

Roughly, this is the way it works out:

A corporation with a net income of $100,000 pays a $20,000 tax if it does not distribute any of its earnings. But if it distributes all its earnings, the tax would be only $16,000. Distribution of 50 per cent as dividends would mean a tax of $18,000.

Ability To Pay Theory

Prior to the revenue act of 1936, which carried a rate of 32.4 per cent on corporations retaining their earnings, dividends paid by corporations were subject to surtax on the stockholder's income tax return but not to the four per cent normal tax.

Today the individual pays both normal rate and surtax on dividends. Instead of the stockholder being credited in the attempt to avoid "double taxation," it is the corporation paying the dividend which would get the break under "20-16."

No Bludgeon

The four per cent credit for profits distributed is designed as an inducement for corporations to pay out as much in dividends as they reasonably can. Its advocates consider it a persuasive device rather than a bludgeon.

They fear that if there's a flat corporation rate, as Harrison proposes, a great number of corporations would decided to accumulate surplus in abnormal proportions—first, because of the great amount of dividends paid out last year under the old surplus profits tax and, second, because of fear of another surplus profits tax in the future. Such a strong tendency to keep money in the corporate sock would have a strong deflationary effect and reduce potential purchasing power.

And it is still argued that corporations which retain profits instead of distributing them have an unfair advantage over those which pay out profits in dividends.

Fear More Of The Same

Opposition to "20-16" comes chiefly from corporations which want to accumulate surplus rather than pay dividends and from those who fear that any retention of the undistributed profits tax principle may make it easier for a subsequent Congress to enlarge upon that principle again in future tax legislation.

Speaking of the House Ways and Means committee tax bill hearings, conservative Chairman Robert Doughton recently said:

"Practically every witness showed an utter lack of knowledge of the effect of the proposals in the bill and even of the existing law as it applied to his own business, except that they had to pay a little more in taxes."

What's Government For?

Efforts of certain blocs to put import taxes on pork and beef as well as other phases of the tax bill fight, have led cynics to recall an old line from Voltaire:

"The purpose of government—whether it be monarchy, oligarchy or republic—is to take money from some and bestow it on others."

Great Britain's No. 1 Duke Is Stepping Out Of Mystery Role To Become Great Social Lion

LONDON, March 25. — Gone are the days when Henry, the 37-year-old Duke of Gloucester could live his own life and remain so little known to the public that often he was dubbed the "mystery man" of British royalty.

Actually, the closest the duke ever got to mystery was in a book. He eats up mystery stories.

He always was a shy, retiring fellow who disliked public appearances and got out of them whenever he could.

That's All Over

The exception in the navy-minded Windsor household, Gloucester always was the soldier prince. He was immensely happy as a real professional soldier who had worked his way to a majorship in the Tenth Hussars.

But that's all changed. No longer is the duke unrecognized when he appears in public. The duke goes here, the duke goes there, and the great white light of publicity beats on him almost as brilliantly as it does on the king.

It all started when Edward walked out, leaving the royal family short-handed. Every remaining man was expected to do his duty. So Gloucester, pronounced Gloster, with the "o" as in Oscar, and the Duke of Kent were compelled to drop everything and take some of the royal chores off the new king's heavily-laden shoulders.

Gloucester is third in line of succession to the throne. He follows Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose, daughters of the king and queen.

Had Tasted Fame

For Gloucester, who loved the army and prided himself on being the only member of the royal family with a "regular job," it was a tough break.

He knew what he was getting into, for he had had a taste of it when the late King George V became seriously ill in 1929.

News of the illness, incidentally, reached Gloucester, who is the king's third son, while he was deep in the African jungle on a hunting trip. His homeward dash made him almost as much of a front page figure as his ailing father.

During the king's convalescence Gloucester went to Tokyo for him and bestowed the order of the Garter on the Japanese emperor. That was in the palmier days of Anglo-Japanese relations.

Rides Hard And Fast

On his way home through Canada, the duke stopped off in Vancouver for a polo game and broke his collar bone when his pony slipped and spilled him.

This was only one of many spills Gloucester has taken with nonchalance, although he somehow never has become known for them as the Duke of Windsor was in his Prince of Wales days. The spills, it is said, are not due to lack of horsemanship. Gloucester races his horses, he drives a motor car hard and fast.

The duke acted for his father,

Gloucester The Hussar

[illegible] in 1934 when he went to Ethiopia for the Addis Ababa coronation of Haile Selassie. Then in 1934 with the help of 45 trunks and suitcases and 30 special detectives, he toured Australia, making a hit with his charm, friendliness and informality.

He is a fine figure of a man—a six-footer with broad shoulders—with a Germanic cast of countenance. He has a quick mind and a keen wit. He was educated at Eton and at Trinity College, Cambridge. He served in the 10th Royal Hussars [illegible] White Ostrich in 1914.

He is best mentioned several times for the governorships of South Africa or northern Ireland, but he has stuck to his soldiering.

His enthusiastic interest in sports and an outdoor life was the common ground on which he met and in 1935 married Lady Alice Montagu-Douglas-Scott, 36-year-old daughter of a wealthy old Scotch family. They have no children.

They settled down in the royal pavilion at Aldershot and he continued his military studies at the staff college. He was a popular officer and well on the way to command of his regiment when the shifting royal scene forced him to leave the army.

Now he's back in London, living in York House, going places with the duchess except in recent weeks when a minor operation forced her to take a rest.

Henry is a royal puppet once more.

Brainy Co-Eds Have Just 50 Per Cent Chance To Marry

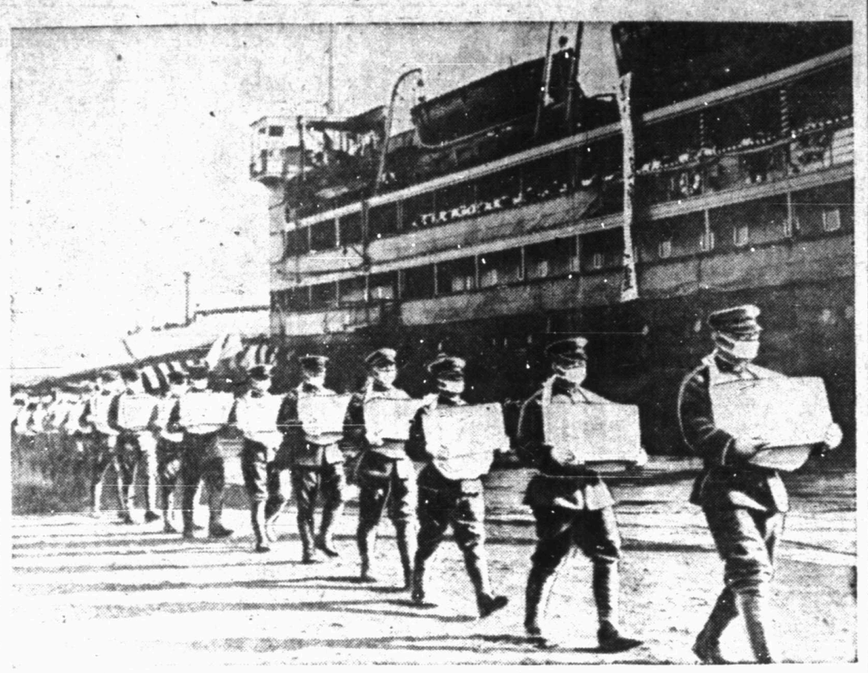

GRINNELL, Ia., March 25. (AP)—Super-intelligent coeds are estimated to have about a 50 per cent chance of getting married.

Records of a Grinnell college scholastic honor society show that since 1918 only 75 of the 145 members were married. None of the coeds married during the last two years belonged to the organization.

TO REOPEN STATION

HALE CENTER—Gulf Co. service station, closed here for some time, is being reopened with a Plainview man in charge, Glenn Smith of that city, agent, announced. Living quarters, 18x16, are being built in the rear of the station.

Grim Home-Coming In Tokyo

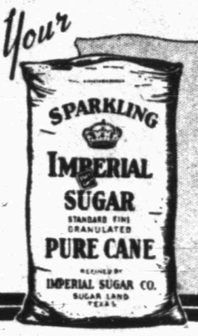

The content of each of these boxes was once a man. The photo shows part of an awesome procession leaving a Japanese troopship with 450 small white boxes each containing the ashes of a Japanese soldier who lost his life in Nippon's campaign in China.
