Board Okays 5¢ Tax Hike

A nickel raise in the school tax rate was approved Monday evening at the regular meeting of the school board. The five-cent increase sets the 1970-71 rate at $1.90.

Rising costs resulting from the new band program and the adoption of a 10-month year for teachers made necessary the increase in tax rate.

Board members voted to purchase band equipment valued at $2,405.50 for the new band program.

Bus drivers for the new school year were elected. They include J.V. Wescott, W.C. Hodges, J.C. Box, Ray Keller, C.T. Cunningham, Vaughn Ross, C.E. Johnson and Tom Ed Benton.

Schaeffer and Ratliff of Dimmitt were selected as auditors for the 1969-70 school year.

In other action, the board approved a policy for the new kindergarten program.

Two Businesses Burglarized

Approximately $300 was taken in the pre-dawn burglary last Tuesday of two local businesses. Victims of the break-ins were the Green Frog Cafe and G & M Shamrock Service Station.

Granville Martin, Castro County deputy sheriff, reported the burglaries occurred sometime after 1:30 a.m. and were apparently the work of the same person or persons.

Entry to the cafe and station were made through windows pried open by a tire tool.

Mrs. Gilbert Guzman, operator of the cafe, discovered the break-in there about 6 a.m. Wednesday when she reported to work. She had not left the cafe until about 1:30 a.m. $268.80 was taken from the cafe.

The station break-in was discovered Wednesday morning when Robert Gonzales, station operator, arrived for work.

Color Feature 'His Land' To Be Shown Saturday

"His Land", an hour long color feature motion picture which takes one on a journey through space, time and current events, will be shown Saturday at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

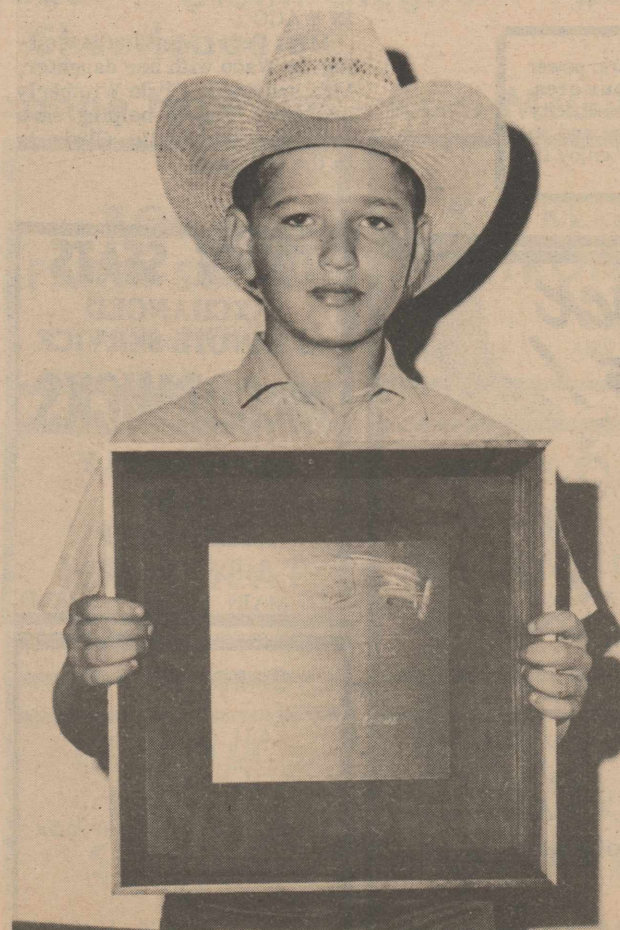

The film, starring Cliff Barrows and Cliff Richard, England's popular star, take the viewer along vibrant streets and lonely solitary paths in Israel, a nation whose destiny is daily discussed in the counsels of governments all over the world - - the same paths taken by Jesus and the prophets; Galilee . . . the wilderness . . . Jerusalem . . . the Mount of Olives . . . mingle with the people of modern Israel as they work, play and build a nation.

Words of Scripture come to life as the two men reflect upon the events that in recent years have confirmed much of the ancient prophecies. You are witness to the fact that out of death and desolation is emerging a new Land . . . a "Land of milk and honey," where the future climactic events of history will take place.

"His Land" has been acclaimed as "truly a feast of color, sound and song. An unforgettable experience!"

The public is cordially invited to attend this showing.

HIGH POINT BOY in the Pee Wee division at the National Playday Finals last week was Cary McLain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve McLain.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Anthony Harrigan

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

In a number of American cities the problem of hippies and drug-users is worsening. So much attention has been lavished on the hippie life style by some of the major national magazines and networks and so many influential "intellectuals" have defended the use of marijuana that a considerable number of young people have been misled into becoming drop-outs from society. They are congregating in cities which adopt a permissive attitude towards those who break with society's basic rules of behavior.

Thus it is time that responsible citizens in every American city address themselves to the issue of hippie and drug-using groups infiltrating communities. It is a very serious issue -- actually a part of the great law and order issue of our time.

San Francisco was the first large American city to be confronted with a separate underground culture. Today, this great city, considered one of the most beautiful in the land, is the home of a large hippie and drug-using population. Visitors to the West Coast metropolis frequently complain that the character of the city is threatened by the underground groups.

But San Francisco is not the only city to become a target of hippie groups. Atlanta, the metropolis of the South, is rapidly becoming a favorite of the social drop-outs and misfits. For months, concerned citizens of Atlanta have expressed alarm at the emergence of a hippie area in the Peachtree-10th Street vicinity. It has become a magnet for elements generally described as "street people." Merchants and shoppers have found themselves harassed by the hippies.

The situation became so serious in the late spring that Mayor Sam Massell appeared on television to discuss the problem with the citizenry and to set forth his approach to the problem. He sent a large contingent of police into the hippie area and warned that "those who violate our laws, including possession of illegal drugs and loitering in a manner impeding passage of others, will be arrested."

But Mayor Massell coupled this-much-needed warning with an appeal for toleration of hippies -- a permissive attitude that could cost Atlanta community peace and well-being in the months and years ahead. The mayor, who was elected by a liberal coalition, urged toleration of "street people." He recommended that citizens set up "lines of communication" with hippies.

This is the approach generally favored by liberals throughout the nation.

Indeed this soft approach to social misfits already has been utilized in Atlanta, where a "community center" for hippies already is functioning. Negotiations also are in progress to establish hotels for hippies. If this is the approach adopted by a city, it will do no good to warn, as Mayor Massell did, that youths should not come to the city without means of support and accommodation. Toleration of "street people" on the part of a city government is a green light to hippies to invade that community.

The problem of hippies cannot be divorced from the problem of drug use. The "street people" are people wedded to the use of marijuana, a drug that is the prelude to hard drugs and which, in any case, induces a breakdown of an individual's personal and social discipline.

The public should be aware, of course, that there is a drive on to legalize marijuana in the United States. If legalization ever were allowed, it would be a disaster for the United States; it would constitute approval of a drugged culture. No doubt the enemies of the United States would like nothing better than for marijuana to be legalized, for they know it would lead to a massive weakening of the moral fiber of the nation.

Nowadays, liberal elements are urging establishment of so-called "halfway houses" in cities -- places where drug users may meet with community representatives and discuss the drug problem. These halfway houses are an extremely undesirable development. Those who are planning them often announce that they won't take a stand on use of marijuana; they won't say whether it is good or bad. Such a morally neutral attitude towards drug use, which is the same thing as drug abuse, is unconscionable. It appears that the drug users want to use halfway houses for defending drug use, not for rehabilitation.

The evidence strongly suggests that permissiveness toward hippies and drug users is destructive of community order and well-being. If a city wants to be rid of disorderly "street people" and drug users, the way to proceed is with strict enforcement of state laws and city ordinances on vagrancy, loitering, and disorderly conduct. "Communication" with hippies only encourages them to stay around.

Hart Post Office Joins National 'Clean-Up Week'

Postmaster Jewel Brooks today announced "Clean-Up Week" August 16-22 for the Hart Post Office as part of a nation-wide postal activity announced in Washington by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount.

The Postmaster General announced the program Sunday "to establish post offices as a symbol of good housekeeping and as a credit to every community in the nation."

Locally, Postmaster Brooks said "Clean-up week" will focus on such matters as cleaning and painting walls; stripping and refinishing floors; disposal of all surpluses and obsolete forms and records.

"We are all concerned nowadays about the quality of the environment," she said, "and the Post Office -- as a representative of the Federal Government -- is always pleased to conduct activities that are in the best interests of the communities we serve."

"Our Post Office is one of the busiest and most visible activities in Hart and whatever we can do to improve it is of special value to our community."

The Postmaster pointed out that, in addition to improved appearance for postal facilities, the national "Clean-Up Week" is designed to provide practical values, removal of safety and health hazards designed

Moments Of Meditation

By C.T. Cunningham

"For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another." - Gal. 5:13.

The Apostle Paul is talking about our freedom in Christ Jesus. God does not force us to do anything. Nor does He prevent us from doing some wrong, when we have made up our minds that we are going to do it, no matter what.

We have the freedom to choose good or evil; we have the freedom to choose education or ignorance; we have the freedom to work or be lazy; we have the freedom to starve if we chose. We have the freedom to choose love or hate; we have the freedom to walk in the light or in darkness; we have the freedom to be kind or spiteful. We have the freedom to do with our lives as we please; we have the freedom to go to church or stay home; we have the freedom to accept or reject Christ.

But there is one freedom that we do not have: that is freedom from consequences. We are responsible for the choices that we make. With every degree of freedom we have, there is a corresponding degree of responsibility. There are some acts that we cannot blame on society or the establishment, or even on the President. There is such a thing as personal responsibility and personal accountability.

Freedom without responsibility and personal accountability.

Freedom without responsibility is not freedom at all. There is no such thing as absolute freedom. There must be some limits, some boundaries, a line drawn, this far and no further. Self-discipline is a mark of maturity.

Yes, we have freedom, but we must not use our freedom to reject, to disobey, to hurt others. But use it for good, good for God, for others and for self.

to reduce accident and illness, and repairs wherever feasible.

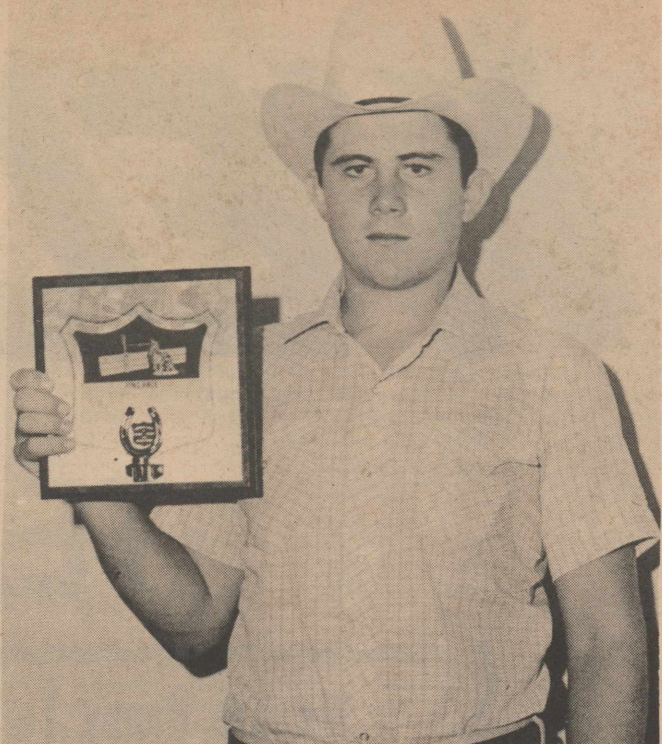

Mrs. Brooks noted that more than 40,000 post offices, stations and branches over the nation are joining in the "Clean-Up Week" proclaimed by the Postmaster General. This includes the Post Office Department Headquarters in Washington, as well as the 15 regional offices across the country.

The Postmaster General has said, Postmaster Brooks noted, that while the most intensive effort will occur during the designated week, she expects post offices to maintain improvement programs as a permanent activity "that will give a new look to the postal service for customers and employees alike."

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

Did you know that our paper money often lies to you? It frequently isn't as old as it claims to be. The date that appears on every piece of American currency is there for one of two reasons. Either it is the year that the Act of Congress authorized the bill's printing or it is the actual date of the year of printing.

In the case of many bills, they are actually printed years after the date on their surface suggests. Take, for instance, a "Series of 1899" bill with the signatures of Elliot and Burke on it. The bill couldn't have been printed in 1899 because Elliot and Burke were in office concurrently only from November 21, 1919 to January 5, 1921. Sometime in that 14 months, the bill was actually printed.

WHEREVER WE LIVE

Harold assured Davie and Tommy that moving day did not mean the end of life for us. In fact, we were not going to the end of the earth. Many people would still be around us. Of course, not our same favorite people . . . whom we will keep on loving even though we don't see them . . . but new friends who would find places in our lives.

And that's the way it happened.

Our new neighbors opened their hearts to us. Our boys brought school friends home with them to play and sometimes to eat dinner.

Best of all, our family found a new church home — among people who welcomed us because they loved God. Anywhere we go in our country, there is always a church where we can worship with other people.

You, too, can find one wherever you move — and right where you are now.
