ROBBER OF CISCO BANK HEARS DATE

EXECUTION DATE IS SET TODAY; RATLIFF AWAITS CHAIR

(By Associated Press)

EASTLAND, July 5.—Henry Helms, one of four men wounded in gun fights after robbery of the First National Bank of Cisco on December 23, 1927, all of whom were convicted, today was sentenced to electrocution on September 6 for participation in the "Santa Claus" robbery.

Helms was convicted in February, 1928.

Ratliff Awaits

Marshall Ratliff, who headed the gang and was dressed as "Santa Claus" during the robbery, is in "death row" at Huntsville. He drew the death penalty for slaying Bit Bedford, Cisco police chief, who, with George Carmichael, policeman, was wounded fatally in a fight with the robbers.

Robert Hills, the third robber, pleaded guilty to robbery with firearms and was sentenced to 99 years. He recently escaped but was recaptured. L. E. Davis, fourth member of the gang, died in a Fort Worth hospital from wounds on Christmas Day, 1927.

AGENT HELD FOR SHOOTING

OKLAHOMA RUM RAID RESULTS IN DEATH OF FARMER

(By Associated Press)

SHAWNEE, Okla., July 5—Following a gun fight with two farmers during a liquor raid in which one of them was killed, Jeff B. Harris, federal prohibition agent, today was in the county jail at Tecumseh, Okla.

James Harris, one of the farmers, died at midnight after accusing the officer of ordering him to throw down his gun and then shooting him.

Story Denied

The officer denied this, saying that while he was looking into some chicken coops on the Harris farm, he saw the farmer coming toward him with a shotgun. The officer and the farmer fired at the same time, some of the shot from the farmer's gun striking the officer in the shoulder and neck.

Oscar Lowery, 34, brother-in-law of James Harris, started to run, and as he thought he was going after a gun the officer said he shot him. Lowery is in a critical condition. Harris fled to some bushes along a creek, the federal agent said, and as he approached came out of the bushes, ready to shoot.

TWO INJURED IN ABERNATHY CRASH

L. A. Danner, who lives one and one-half miles south of Abernathy, sustained a severe gash in his left cheek, a broken right collar bone, and minor cuts about the face when the wagon on which he was riding was practically demolished last night about 10 o'clock near Abernathy when hit by a sedan automobile driven by A. H. Huffman, of Lubbock.

Mr. Huffman suffered minor cuts when the windshield glass of his car was broken in the crash.

Mr. Danner was rushed to Abernathy, where he received emergency treatment, and his condition is reported as not serious today.

The crash occurred when Huffman attempted to drive around another automobile his car striking the rear of the wagon, breaking the coupling pole, jarring wheels loose and knocking Danner into the road. "I was blinded by lights of another car," was Huffman's explanation.

REPORT HEARD FROM 'UNTIN'

SIGNALS FROM PLANE ARE HEARD TODAY; PLIGHT UNKNOWN

(By Associated Press)

OTTAWA, July 5.—The "untin" bowler, Sikorsky amphibian, manned by Parker Cramer, Bob Gast, co-pilot, and Robert Woods, aviation editor of the Chicago Tribune, was in the air at 9:37 a. m. today, according to a message received here by the federal wireless station at Port Burwell, on the Hudson straits.

The government radio men in the northern post heard the plane calling at that hour. The signals were loud.

Weather Reported Bad

Reports from Port Burwell indicated the weather along the Hudson sraights was bad. The government station was broadcasting the weather reports every other hour for the benefit of the fliers.

While, in the absence of other news, the plane's situation could only be conjectured, the Burwell message was taken to indicate one of two things; either that the "Untin" bowler took the air in order to receive the weather reports, or, in view of the loudness of the signals, that it was continuing its flight.

SCHOOL HEAD IS MODERN

ATLANTA, Ga., July 5 (AP)—Short dresses, bobbed hair and other modern things fail to alarm Miss E. Ruth Pyrtle, of Lincoln, Neb., new president of National Education association.

The youth of the country is wholesome, despite critics, she said with emphasis.

Modern dress of women wins her approval, and she thinks that bobbed hair is "so sensible."

"When you men let your beards grow down to here," she said with a gesture to her waist, I'll let my hair grow down over my shoulders again."

HOUSE SLOWS UP SOLONS IN 3RD SESSION

QUORUM IS NEEDED TO START WORK OF LEGISLATURE

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 5—Entering upon its fifth month's work for this year, the 41st legislature continued its "watchful waiting" today.

Both branches were waiting for a quorum, with little likelihood of one materializing before Monday, if then. The house has been without a quorum since last Monday. Members began leaving then in anticipation of sine die adjournment Tuesday, not anticipating a third called session.

The senate is organized and ready for business, but cannot turn a wheel until the house organizes. The house will meet from day to day until a quorum shows up.

VIOLENCE IS USED BY POLICE TO QUELL DISORDERS

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, July 5.—Violence met violence today in the four-day Street Car strike as the company attempted to resume service with imported operators under heavy guard.

The starting of the three cars resulted in two strikers being shot down, one with a bullet through the head, innumerable heads being bruised by bricks and sticks and vandalism.

Centered on Canal Street

The disturbance centered around the Canal street barn. The first car to start was greeted with a shower of brickbats and was driven back to the barn after twenty minutes operation. A second car was started, and a mob of more than a thousand men and a few women stormed it with bricks and sticks.

The police guard armed with shotgguns and pistols, first fired a volley into the air as the mob pressed on, then lowered their weapons and aimed just above the crowd.

FOUL PLAY FEARED IN DEATH OF S. W. HOLLIS TODAY

(By Associated Press)

ALTUS, Okla., July 5—The mangled body of S. W. Hollis of San Angelo, Texas, foreman of a bridge building gang, was found near the Orient railroad tracks a half mile east of Odell, Tex., today by the engineer of the Orient passenger train coming to Altus from Odell.

It was believed Hollis was the victim of violence as the position of the body did not indicate he had been struck by a train. His pocket book was lying between his legs and his spectacles were in his hat, nearby.

Investigations of Hollis' death were started at once.

Fourth Is Quiet In City, Officials Say

"It was perhaps the quietest and most orderly Fourth experienced in the history of Lubbock," local officers expressed this morning, when they anounced that no arrests were made yesterday in connection with Independence Day celebrations.

There were no fires, no arrests and no accidents in connection with festivities.

Three arrests were made, but the violations had nothing to do with the holiday celebrations. A trio of juveniles, charged with theft of an automobile casing, were transferred from the city jail by Chief of Police John Lemond to County Judge Robert H. Bean for jurisdiction.

The girl was shot five times, Mayberry saving one bullet in his revolver for himself. He sent the bullet into his head but had not died when the father, William Hendershott, prominent New Manrid county farmer, rushed up with a shot gun and discharged it into his head.

Was Boyhood Suitor

The shooting took place in the yard of the farm home soon after Mayberry had arrived from Fort Wayne. He formerly resided at Sikeston, Mo., a neighboring town and was a boyhood suitor of Irma.

PLANE STILL PURRING FOR NEW RECORD

"CITY OF CLEVELAND" UP 163 HOURS AT 1:30 TODAY

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, July 5.—The Monoplane "City of Cleveland" was within 10 hours and 31 minutes of a new refueling flight endurance record at 1:39 p. m., today, having been in the air 163 hours.

NEW ENDURANCE MARK ONLY FEW HOURS OFF

CLEVELAND, O., July 5. (AP)—A few brief hours separated Roy L. Mitchell and Byron B. Newcomb from a world's record for endurance flights today, and the airmen set their faces resolutely toward the mark after surviving a storm which last night brought their refueling plane to earth wrecked beyond further participation in the attempt.

An electrical storm which paralyzed air traffic harried them through the night, but today they flew through lowering clouds, braving bad weather with the goal in sight at ten minutes past midnight. A new ship to supply them with fuel and provisions was purchased and equipped during the night. Their last messages to the ground gave no hint of abandonment until they exceed the record.

"Assault, assault—so that's your game," retaliated the prosecutor. "All right, let's start the game."

Another hot one came in the direction of the plate, where it was met by the county attorney's bat. It sailed deep into left field for a homer and three

LIST IS 46 UNDER 4TH'S TOLL OF '28

DROWNING, FIREWORKS HEAT, CAR MISHAPS AND AIR FATAL

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 5.—America surrendered 159 lives to the observance of its 153rd birthday anniversary yesterday.

The Fourth of July death list this year was 46 under 1928, the reduction being attributable chiefly to the decrease in the number of deaths from drowning and from the heat. In only one division did the 1929 fatalities exceed last year's that was in automobile accidents with 70 this year as compared with 66 last.

Fireworks in themselves continued to play a smaller part in the nation's independence day death roll. Only seven fatalities from this cause were reported this year as compared with 11 in 1928; and two of them resulted from a fireworks factory explosion and fire July 3.

Drownings Greatest

Drownings were responsible for the largest loss of life, as they were last year; but even so, there were 35 less deaths from this cause than a year ago.

Automobile fatalities, on the other hand, bounded upward from 54 last year to 70.

Nearly one-third of the country's toll was taken by the middlewest. The middle Atlantic states which last year led the country in deaths with 68, had 30 less yesterday, although more than half the deaths from fireworks in the country occurred in that section. The northwest and the mountain states had the smallest death lists, each section reporting three.

Temperatures Lowest

Temperatures generally were lower throughout the country yesterday than was the case July 4, 1928, when 12 deaths resulted from heat alone. So far as reports to the Associated Presse showed, there was only one from heat, that in Chicago.

Last year airplane accidents took four lives, whereas yesterday only one death occurred from this cause. A year ago, too, there were three deaths in automobile races. The only death from that cause reported this year was at Pompano, Fla., where a driver was killed after he had crossed the finish line in third place of a 10 mile dirt track race.

Laws Curb Fireworks

Stricter laws regulating the sale and use of fireworks was credited with keeping the number of deaths and injuries from this cause down. In Michigan, particularly, enforcement of a new state fireworks law was reported as most effective.

Chicago ordinances prevent the sale of fireworks, but convenient suburbs provided all types of cannon crackers with the result that the fourth here was unusually noisy. Hundreds of persons were injured, but no deaths occurred.

500 Kiddies Hurt

In New York, 500 children were treated at city hospitals for fireworks injuries.

Contrasting with the 1928 heat was a 10 minute snow storm yesterday at Spectacular, N. Y., the snow falling so fast that holiday motorists, blinded, stopped their cars to avoid collisions. It was the coldest July 4 the Adirondacks country has experienced in years.

TEN PEOPLE DIE IN VICIOUS SURF

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., July 5. (AP)—The vicious surf and undertow of wind-swept Lake Michigan took the lives of 10 persons here yesterday, all drowning virtually simultaneously and within a radius of but a few hundred yards.

Nine were bathers at a municipal park beach; the other was a girl who, with three companions, was swept from a pier at the beach by a giant breaker which bowled the four into the water.

Undertow Takes Toll

While three life guards struggled against the waves to pull the four struggling persons in the water to safety, a terrific undertow apparently generated by the huge combers which first swept the pier, carried the nine bathers to their death. Hundreds of persons ashore, gay holiday picknickers and bathers baking in a warm sun, watched horror stricken as the nine were whirled, screaming for help, far out into the white capped lake.

The dead are Mildred Fifield, 19; Robert Shindler, 19; Julius Tusch, 19; Leonard Kellogg, 20; Carl Rohloff, 21; Walter Schwartz, 19; John Giddings, 21; Frank Pterowski, 40; Rudolph Pitulik, 22 and Erwin Pitulik, 21.

All were residents of Grand Rapids except the latter two, brothers, who were from Detroit. Bodies of fuor were recovered but Lake Shore residents said it might be days before bodies of the others were washed ashore.

FOUR DEAD, SCORES HURT IN TEXAS

DALLAS, July 5 (AP)—Four persons were dead, two were in a serious condition and scores were injured in Fourth of July tragedies in Texas.

Mrs. E. C. Decker, Pampa, was killed near Pampa as her husband drove their automobile into a small house parked on the roadway by house movers at dawn. Decker received slight injuries.

Mrs. A. E. Yeager, Decatur, was knocked down and killed by a passing autoist near Pampa. Twelve others were treated for fire cracker injuries and burns and for traffic accident injuries.

Henrietta Has Fatality

Carl Eaton, Henrietta, was fatally hurt as his machine hit one driven by Dr. F. S. Elair, Cooper, near Cooper. Bob Howard, in the car with Eaton, received minor hurts.

J. T. Burden, 75, was the oldest person in the state reported injured during the day. He died of injuries received when run down by an automobile on the street near his home in Temple. Lorice Sullivan, Murray Sullivan, Floyd Hamrick and Floyd Franklin, all of Waco, and D. F. Eubanks, Augusta, Ga., were injured when their automobile turned over near temple.

Child Hit by Propeller

Harriet Shanor, 6, was struck on the head and probably fatally hurt by an airplane propellor at a celebration of the opening of Vernon's new airport. The little girl had been up for a ride with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Shanor. As the ship rolled to a stop, she hopped out of the cabin door, and walked into the whirling blade.

THE TINY MITES

BY HAL COCHRAN

(Read The Story, Then Color The Picture)

The fireworks party was just great and lasted until very late. At last the funny looking man said, "Well, boys, that's the end. One big skyrocket I will keep, 'cause it will bring you all a heap of fun, when morning comes again. On that you can depend.

"I now suggest you go to bed Come on there, every sleepy head, and find a comfy place to sleep. Let's find a big shade tree. When once again the sun shines bright, 'twill shelter you from brilliant light. Take my advice and all flop down, and happy you will be."

They found a great big oak tree near and Coppy shouted, "Hey, right here!" So down they dropped to take a trip far into slumberland. The fireworks man thought, I've a hunch I'd better guard this happy bunch. But he soon dozed away. He was so tired he couldn't stand.

It wasn't long till came the break of dawn. The bunch were wide awake. "And now," exclaimed wee Clowny, "we are ready for our treat." The fireworks man laughed right out loud and said, "You're sure a peppy crowd. Come on, we'll get my rocket and we'll pull a stunt that's neat."

They found the rocket. My, 'twas big, and Carpy almost danced a jig. "Oh, it will be a heap of fun," said he, "to watch it rise." "You bet it will," the queer man said. "It's going to shoot right o'er my head. But all of you are going to go with it up to the skies."

He then told them to grab hold tight, and promised things would be all right. "When you are way up high," said he, "some queer things you will find. In just a moment—Zip! They shoot straight up, all scared, as like as not. The poor, old scarecrow looked real sad, 'cause he was left behind.

Plane Describes Boat Race Over Galveston Bay

GALVESTON, July 5. (AP) — Practical use of a new short wave radio telephone set developed by third attack group technicians for use in war maneuvers was demonstrated in the "covering" of the national outboard regatta here yesterday.

Following the boats over their 70-mile course, Lieutenant G. H. McNair and Sergeant C. P. Smith broadcast a running account of the race from their A-3 attack plane. Conversation was maintained with station KFUL, Galveston commercial broadcasting station, which relayed the race to the world.

The Salvation Army, which has been given permission by the French government to send a number of officers to work among the convicts on Devil's Island, the French penal settlement in French Guiana, believes that the campaign will be the hardest ever made by the organization.

MOUTH IS GIVEN DEFT CARE

MARY BRIAN

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the second of a series of "Close-Ups" of motion picture stars—brief interviews on beauty topics with Hollywood's most beautiful actresses—which are appearing in the Journal.

BY MABEL DUKE
For NEA Service

Next to the eyes, the mouth is the most outstanding feature of the face. Being, generally, rouged into brilliance, it is often the focus of our companions' gaze, especially when we talk.

"There is more to making up the mouth than merely running a lipstick over the lips," Mary Brain explains. "Because of the vivid shades of most lip rouges, one must be careful to blend the color skillfully to avoid a harsh outline.

"Before beginning to make up the mouth, be sure the lips are soft and smooth. Nothing is uglier than rough chapped lips. A white lipstick is soothing to chapped lips and, if used consistently, will not only cure but prevent chapping.

Make Up The Lips Last Of All

"An oily, moist rouge is preferable to dry. It is prettier on the lips and also is more easily applied. Spreading a dry lipstick on the lips will cause them to wrinkle. Never make up the lips until the rest of the face is made up.

"I prefer to use a cream rouge, to be appied to the lips with a finger, rather than a lipstick. Which is used, begin on the inside of the lip, blending the color to the edges all over the lips. Put on lots at first then wipe off the surplus. Keep blending until it is smooth and lovely. Powder over the mouth and wet the lips again with the tongue to remove the powder. This will give a natural expression and remove any harshly-drawn edges."

WESTERNER STOCK UP

"Yes, he's certain to be a great football player." Coach Frnka said this morning, "and by the way his fists are flying he's headed for a tackle position. Weighed eight pounds and a perfect specimen."

Of course, the young chap is "exactly like his father," and despite the drawback of this enigma Henry jr., undoubtedly is facing a career that will excell that of his well-known father.

Mother and son were reported as doing nicely this morning.

Lubbock High school's football stock took a decisive jump last night when the newest prospect for the Westerner eleven arrived on the scene in the person of Henry E. Frnka, jr.

As a result the high school mentor's chest expansion is increased four-fold today and the Amarillo Sandies are due for a great battle when the Westerners invade the Sandstorm stronghold on November 2.

PIRATES GO INTO LEAD; A'S WIN TWO

TRADITION EXPECTED TO HOLD TRUE IN FLAG WINNERS

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN,
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Pirates nose out the Cubs by a margin of one thin game at the end of the National League pennant race the Fourth of July will go down in Chicago baseball annals as a sort of black, Thursday. With the Bruins entered into an agreement with the Cincinnati Reds to halt the morning game at 12:30 p. m. The Reds won, of course, and the Cubs dropped out of first place as the Pirates swept two more decisions from the crumpling Cardinals.

The Yankees have an unhappy memory of a single game similarly curtailed at the height of the 1924 campaign to enable the champions to keep an exhibition engagement at Indianapolis. The Tigers took that decision by a single run in eight innings, and while the defeat did not stand alone in depriving the Hugmen of a fourth straight flag, the fact remains that Washington won by only two games at the finish.

Cubs-Reds Split

The morning game at Chicago came to its abrupt close at the end of the eighth with the Reds in front by 9 to 8. The Cubs rewarded their followers with a 10 to 5 victory in the afternoon.

Henry Meine pitched the Pirates to an 8 to 4 triumph over the Cardinals in the morning and Remy Kremer repeated the performance in the afternoon by a score of 8 to 2.

The Phillies outpunched Brooklyn by 14 to 12 in a wild first game, but the home forces rallied behind the curving of Johnny Morrison to romp off with the second by 5 to 3.

The Giants completed the National program by dividing a doubleheader with the Braves, whom they had hoped to defeat twice. The Bostonese snatched the opener by 4 to 3 in a ninth-round rally, but Larry Benton won the nightcap by 8 to 0.

Events in the American League moved according to rules. The Athletics defeated the Red Sox by 3 to 1 in the morning and 8 to 1 in the afternoon. Bob Grove chose the morning engagement for his thirteenth victory.

The Yankees won from Washington 8 to 4 in a double header, maintaining their position nine and one-half games behind the Mackmen and three points in front of the Browns, who also are nine and one-half contests removed from first place.

The Brownies trimmed the Tigers by 12 to 6 and 7 to 6 as a warm-up for their series against the Yankees to decide possession of second place for the time being.

The White Sox won the opener from Cleveland by 9 to 2, but the Indians turned the tables in the second game, 12 to 5.

CUB AND RED IN FISTIC BATTLE

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—Leon "Hack" Wilson, the Cubs' pudgy outfielder, yesterday added two to his list of fistic squabbles.

After being banished from the field during the afternoon game with Cincinnati for attacking Ray Kolp in the Reds' dugout, Wilson sent his fist crashing twice into Pitcher Donohue's face when the two teams met at the union station last night.

"You're quite a scrapper, aren't you?" Donohue was reported to have said to Wilson. "If you want any more, come into our car."

Wilson's fist shot out twice, and Donohue fell to the floor, striking his head. While the Reds gathered about Donohue and helped him to his feet, the Cubs hustled Wilson aboard the train.

Railroad officials diplomatically avoided what might have been an all-night battle by sending the two teams on different sections of the same train.

The afternoon fight occurred when Wilson took ofense at a remark by Kolp, who was sitting in the Red's dugout.

HOWLING DAN TO LEAVE ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, July 5, (AP)—The Globe Democrat says today that Dan Howley, mangaer of the St. Louis Browns, in third place in the American League pennant chase, will not be back next year. The paper says a squabble between Howley and L. C. McEvoy, vice president of the club, is responsible.

According to Howley, the newspaper says, McEvoy has been giving orders as to what players should be used, and Howley claims Phil Ball, president of the club, is the only one to give orders and that it was so understood when he signed a three-year contract which began with the 1927 season.

Ball is said by the paper to take the blame and that McEvoy, in ordering player shifts, was merely acting for him.

A'S HAVE TURNED TABLES ON YANKS

JIMMY FOXX

AL SIMMONS

MICKEY COCHRANE

A'S THREE MAULING MUSKETEERS

NE WYORK, July 5.—That hardy old mellerdrammer, "Seven Deuces and an Ace" or Pounding to a Pennant," is once more making the rounds of a yawning American league circuit, but with a new cast of characters.

The New York company which toured the east and middle-west for three years with the act has been replaced by a Philadelphia cast, and if you ask this critic the Quaker City boys are giving a good show.

Miss Ruth

Of course, one misses the heroic form of G. H. Ruth in the leading role, but his successor, James Emory Foxx, is giving a creditable performance.

Foxx, in other words, is massaging that old apple in a manner which has gladdened the hopeful hearts of Philly and struck terror to the foes of Connie Mack's fast-traveling team.

He Leads In Batting, .412

Mickey Cochrane and Al Simmons, also in leading roles, are knocking leather to all corners of Shibe and other American league parks. Mule Haas is also hitting 'em. And, so is this fellow Miller and this guy Dykes.

Crash 700 Hits

At this writing well over 700 hits have been crashed out during the season by the rampaging, pennant-pursuing Athletics. Of these something like 60 have been homers and about 140 two-baggers. In fact, there hasn't been so much noise in Philadelphia since the day the Liberty Bell rang for the first time.

The result is that the Athletics have made monkeys out of their seven opponents. They've almost made a farce out of what ought to be a pennant race.

Connie Mack has injected the spirit of '76 into his noble athletes and they have risen with blood in their eye to overthrow King George I and the Huggins Hessians. The slaughter has been terrific.

As Washington crossed the Delaware so have the Mackmen crossed the Harlem and with the same result.

CORLEY TO BE MENTOR

TECH STAR GOES TO LAS CRUCES, N. M. AS COACH

Hopes for an undefeated football eleven at Texas Tech for 1929 received a sudden shock Thursday with the announcement that Vaughn Corley, Matador captain-elect and star athlete for the past four years, had been named head coach at Las Cruces, N. M. High school.

Corley notified college officials of his election to the position upon his return from Las Cruces where he has been attending school at New Mexico A. and M. this summer. He is to return there the latter part of this week.

Shoes Hard to Fill

Although the shoes of the Matador pivot man will be extremely hard to fill, athletic officials of the college were pleased that he has secured a position such as Las Cruces. He is the first Tech athlete to be employed as coach of a Class A school.

Corley succeeds Jerry Hines who goes to New Mexico A. and M. as head coach.

In addition to three leters in football, Corley has been a valuable member of the Tech cinder team, having won four numerals in this sport.

Penick Presented With Automobile

AUSTIN, July 5, (AP)—Dr. D. A. Penick, tennis coach at the University of Texas and tutor of Wilmer Allison, in the tennis limelight as a result of his performances at Wimbledon, Eng., last night put aside his bicycle, for the time being at least, when his friends presented him with an automobile. The presentation was made before 5,000 people in the University memorial stadium, where an Independence Day program was held.

Dr. Penick, producer of many notable tennis players, was a familiar figure astride his bicycle. He adopted it for double duty, means of locomotion and instrument of exercise.

CHASTAIN SCORES K. O.

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—A five round knock out was scored by Clyde Chastain, welterweight, Dallas, over Frankie Russell, Elgin, Ill., last night.

TOLAN WINS DENVER RACES

MICHIGAN NEGRO BEAT OUT SPRINT STARS IN BIG WIND

(By Associated Press)

DENVER, Colo. July 5.—Eddie Tolan may not be the "world's fastest human," but so far as the Amateur Athletic Union is concerned the little University of Michigan negro is the 1929 champion in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Furthermore, Tolan can run faster against Colorado winds than Claude Bracey of Rice Institute, Frank Wykoff, the "Glendale Greyhound," or Russell Sweet of the Olympic club. He proved that yesterday in the senior championships.

Tolan won the century dash against an 18-mile an hour wind in 10 seconds, and bucked a 13-miles an hour blow in taking the 220 in 21 9-10 seconds.

Against the steady wind that prevailed yesterday there was no hope for records in the sprints. One of the four new A. A. U. marks registered was on the track, nevertheless. R. F. Bowen of the Pittsburgh, A. C., ron 440 yards in 48 4-10 seconds.

Other records:

157 feet 2 inches, by Eric Krenz of the Olympic A. C. in the discus.

13 feet 9 1-4 inches in the pole vault by Fred Sturdy of Yale.

204 feet, 9.75 inches in the javelin by Jess Mortenson of the Los Angeles A. C.

HOUSTON BUYS SPORT TWIRLER

HOUSTON, July 5 (AP)—Fred Ankenman, president of the Houston club, announced last night that he had closed a deal with Shreveport for Pitcher Joe Brown. Houston bought the righthander outright.

Brown has been having a bit of trouble at the Louisiana city this season and that was one of the reasons the deal was put over, as at the start of the year the Sports turned down a $6,000 offer made by Houston.

The deal calls for immediate delivery, the price paid for the hurler was said to have been more than $4,000.

LUBBOCK AND LAMESA SPLIT TWIN BILL AT MERRILL PARK HERE; ROSE IS MASTER ON MOUND FOR VISITING CLUB

Leonard Rose registered his third triumph of the season over the Lubbock Hubbers as the Lamesa Loboes pounded out a 5 to 2 decision in the first game of a July 4th double header, but the homelings avenged matters in the nightcap by handing the visitors a 5-0 shutout.

After the Loboes had pecked away at the offerings of Lefty Hannah to win the first encounter, Alex McColl came along with a brand of pitching that the Lamesa sluggers were not accustomed to watching. For five innings, the former Dallas hurler dished out goose eggs to the Loboes and then retired of his own free will to allow Hannah to finish the job he had started.

The former Dallas pitcher's performance in the nightcap matched the mound work of Leonard Rose in the opener when he held the Lubbock sluggers to four bingles. The Lamesa ace was forced back into the lineup in the second game after Squires and Wells had made bad starts, allowing the Hubbers to get a four-run lead. One run was counted off Rose during the three innings he worked in the last game.

Lefty Hannah kept the 12 Lamesa hits well scattered but his mates committed costly errors behind him that accounted for some of the scoring. Four hits were garnered off Rose in the first game.

On Even Terms

Both teams counted one in the second frame, and the Loboes took the lead in the fourth with anpther tally. The visitors scored another in the fifth on successive hits, giving them a two run lead. Lubbock came back in the sixth with a counter but this was the extent of the Hubber rally as the visitors scored two more in the ninth to sew up the game.

McColl breezed through five innings of shutout baseball until he asked to be jerked at the beginning of the sixth. Lefty Hannah came back to finish the abbreviated nightcap, turning back the Loboes with three hits.

Hubbers Count Four

The Hubbers counted four runs in the third on two hits and five bases on balls. Three tallies were forced in on walks issued by Squires and Wells. The latter pitched to but three batsmen and Rose was rushed back on the scene, retiring the side by striking out Hill.

Three successive hits off Rose in the fifth produced the final tally for the locals, Ater's bingle sending Hensley across the platter.

Diamond hostilities were enlivened by several fistic encounters in the stands.

Score by innings:

|---|---|
| Lamesa | 010 110 002—5 |
| Lubbock | 010 001 000—2 |

Two base hits: G. White 2, Henry, Morgan, Hannah. Three base hits: W. White. Stolen bases: L. White, Morgan, Ater. Bases on balls, off Rose 3, off Hannah 1. Struck out, by Rose 5, by Hannah 6. Passed ball: Waller. Umpire: Jones.

Second game:

Score by innings:

|---|---|
| Laesa | 000 000 0—0 |
| Lubbock | 004 010 x—5 |

Sacrifice fly: Marshall. Stolen bases: Jackson, Gaither. Bases on balls, off Squires 3, off Wells 2. Struck out, by McColl 3, by Rose 3. Hits off McColl 2 in five innings, off Hannah 3 in 2, off Squires 3 in 2 1-3. Wells pitched to three batsmen, off Rose 4 in 3 1-3. Umpire: Jones.

COLTS, COWBOYS SPLIT

MIDLAND, July 4, (AP)—Midland and Big Spring split a double-header here today before a record crowd. The visitors took the opefier, 6 to 5, and the final, 10 to 9.

RAIN PLAYS HAVOC WITH TEXAS GAMES

SHREVEPORT TOPS LOOP AS RESULT; CUBS LOSE TWO GAMES

BY GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Editor

Jupiter Pluvius outguessed the Texas League schedule makers with the peculiar result that Shreveport today topped the league.

Firm in the belief that holidays should have some rain, the rain god sent showers to halt the Shreveport-Dallas games at Dallas so the Sports couldn't lose yesterday's games. Old Sol was on the job at San Antonio where the Indians swiped two games from the Waco Cubs and toppled them out of first place.

Damp In Dallas

The Fourth of July in Dallas was a damp affair from the time the Sport-Steer tangle started until it was halted at the end of the fifth inning with the score two all. The second game was called off because of rain as were two contests at Houston with the Beaumont Oilers.

The San Antonio Indians went on the warpath and enjoyed a double dish of Cubmeat 5 to 4 and 2 to 1. Two former college hurlers, Neal Baker of Texas university and Harold Carson of Texas Christian university pitched stellar ball for the winners.

Frank Snyder's newly acquired charges were kittens the first game, which Wichita Falls won 7 to 4, and clawing Panthers in the second, which they copped 9 to 5.

HELEN WILLS WINS TOURNEY

HELEN JACOBS FALLS BEFORE STAR IN WIMBLEDON

(By Associated Press)

WIMBLEDON, England, July 5—Miss Helen Wills re-asserted her supremacy over the world's women tennis players today by defeating Miss Helen Jacobs, fellow-Californian, in the final for the British women's singles championships by scores of 6-1, 6-2.

Many had thought that "Helen the second" might be able to extend the queen of the courts, but the match was all Miss Wills. The victory climaxed a series of phenomenal straight set triumphs over the best women players of Europe and the United States and gave Miss Wills the prized Wimbledon coronet for the third straight year. A few days previously she won the French championship, also in repetition of a triumph achieved last year.

BALLINGER WINS TWO

COLEMAN, July 4. (AP)—Ballinger took both games of a double-header here today from Coleman before 1,000 persons. The scores were 3 to 0 and 3 to 2.

LIMA, Ohio, July 5 (AP)—New world's records for casting were established here yesterday at the annual convention of the Ohio Association of Angling Clubs.

Karl Kinnar of Geneva, Ohio, broke two records. In the five eights ounce distance plug he made a single cast of 278 feet. The former world record was 258. In the one-half ounce distance his cast was 316 feet and the former record 306.

Al Foss of Cleveland set up a new record of 263 feet for the quarter ounce plug. This was a single cast.

HARDWARE MEETS A.-B. FOR TITLE

SANTA FE WITHDRAWS FROM RACE; NEW TEAM SOUGHT

The championship of the first half of the Lubbock City League will be decided at Merrill Park this afternoon when the Auto-Barbers and Hardware Dealers tangle up in a full nine inning game, starting at five o'clock.

Both these teams finished the first 15 games of the season in a tie for first place with 9 wins and 6 defeats. The regular scheduled game for today between the same teams will be played Monday, according to present arrangements.

Santa Fe Withdraws

Announcement last night of the withdrawal of the Santa Fe club has thrown a wrench into the proceedings of the local twilight loop. Manager Bill Hargrove explained that lack of funds forced his team from the race.

An effort will be made to keep the Railroaders in the race, J. A. Raley, jr., president of the league, said this morning. A meeting of club owners and all interested parties has been called for Monday night, at which time action will be taken on the matter. The chamber of commerce offices will be the scene of the confab.

EX-KAISER WILHELM IS LAND POOR, HIS BERLIN MANAGER SAYS IN INTERVIEW

BERLIN, July 5 (AP)—Assertions that Wilhelm Hohenzollern, former emperor of Germany, is the richest individual of the nation, as made by several recent magazine writers here, are denied by the Hohenzollern Family Administration in Berlin.

Instead of topping the list of rich men among citizens of the republic, the administration says that its principal has a hard time floating loans with which to raise the ready cash needed for the upkeep of his vast landed estates. Furthermore, it asserts, these estates are not the sole property of the former emperor, but belong jointly to him and numerous relatives.

The Hohenzollern forests and estates are estimated to be worth only 27,301,859 marks (approximately $6,552,446) by their administrators. This contrasts strongly with the figures of the writers, whose conclusions ran all the way from 42,000,000 marks to 200,000,000 marks, equivalent to from $10,080,000 to $48,000,00.

And besides, the estate management says the settlement with the Prussian government was for 15,00,000 marks (about $3,600,000) and not for the 210,000,000 marks that have been bruited about among the writers.

While $3,600,000 is a tidy bit of cash it has proved inadequate as a working fund for the landed estates. Economists have said that the wooded portions of the Hohenzollern possessions have increased in value of late years, but the administrators assert that from experience they know that farms and forests can not be considered profitable investments under present day conditions in Germany.

Then to cap the argument as to the difficult situation that confronts the Hohenzollern purse the management points out that the figures they give do not represent the property of one person or one household, but must be divided among 16 Hohenzollern households aggregating 49 persons.

About 70 attended the initial golfers' sermon. The Rev. C. Emerson Miller plans to deliver his regular sermon in condensed form throughout the summer to the golfers in his flock.

The Rev. W. H. Mansfield, pastor of the St. Paul Methodist Episcopal church, on the other hand, berated golfers for keeping caddies away from Sunday school.

Dallas Mayor To Seek Day At Dallas Fair

DALLAS, July 5 (AP)—A lot of Johns will be honored in Dallas by a "John" day if J. Waddy Tate, Dallas' hot dog mayor has his way about it.

The mayor has written a letter to T. E. Jackson, president of the Dallas State Fair suggesting that one day during the exposition this fall be set aside in honor of those having the name of John. "Special invitations should be sent out to prominent individuals having this name," the mayor said, "such as John W. Davis, John D. Rockefeller, John Henry Kirby, John Fouts and others."

The mayor admitted he would qualify to join the rally day for Johns, since the "J" in J. Waddy stands for a silent John.

KANSAS CITY, July 5. (AP) — Ten thousand young crusaders from every state in the union, marched here Thursday as the Fourth of July feature of the International Christian Endeavor Convention.

Delegates from North Carolina lustily sang "Dixie," and New Mexico presented senoritas and a war whooping Indian.

Earlier in the day D. Daniel A. Poling, Boston, president of the international organization, conveyed to President Hoover a pledge of "loyalty" from the society membership.

The pledge especially stressed agreement with President Hoover's statement that "prohibition is an experiment noble in purpose."

Wilmer Has $43,500 Fire During Fourth

DALLAS, July 5. (AP)—One building was damaged and another destroyed in a fire of unknown origin at Wilmer, near here yesterday. The loss was estimated at $43,500.

The post office, a drug store, two general stores and a bank were in the building destroyed. The telephone company was in the building damaged, and tonight the city was without telephone service.

The city water supply was low as the city wells were pumped almost dry in fighting the fire. Firemen and equipment from Dallas, Ferris and Lancaster assisted in fighting the flames. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Thought For Today

For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.—Romans 5:19.

We need only obey. There is guidance for each of us, and by lowly listening we shall hear the right word.—Emerson.

A Thriller

You'll find tales of adventure in unexpected places, sometimes. Tales of sacrifice, bravery and achievement, with lives saved and hope given to the hopeless—and right where you'd be least likely to look for them.

The Red Cross Courier, official magazine of the American Red Cross, would hardly seem a periodical in which to look for thrillers. But it has them, just the same; thrillers that leave you with an added respect for your fellow men's ability to take hard knocks and do tough jobs.

In the magazine's June issue there is a story telling how the Red Cross went into action this spring when a tornado hit the little Arkansas town of Guion.

Guion was almost wiped out. Eighty buildings were utterly smashed. Many people were killed or injured; the survivors huddled helpless in caves in a hillside, and saw the tornado, in its last, freakish rage, suck the White river into the air and pour it on the wreckage of the village.

Then the magazine goes on with the story:

"When the Red Cross workers arrived the next morning, old residents shook their heads despairingly. Guion was lost, they said. But the workers cheerfully plunged into the job that was admittedly of bleak prospect. The health situation was pressing. The water supply was wrecked, and tricklets of sewage criss-crossed the town.

"Miss Birdie Weems, Red Cross nurse from Little Rock, was assigned the duty of typhoid inoculations. A long line of serious-faced men, and mothers with babies in their arms, waited outside her boxcar headquarters where she was obliged to eat and sleep for two weeks. Good water was difficult to obtain so the Red Cross purchased a 300-gallon open-topped tank which was placed under a pure spring in a silica mine above the community. Lines of pipe now run down from it to hydrants at various points.

"Shelter, however, remained a serious question. National Guard tents dotted the hillside, but the ground was cold, and the river breeze still beat upon the victims. As an answer, 35 carpenters from Batesville, nearby, volunteered their services to the Red Cross. On Monday morning May 6, they alighted from the local train with their hammers, saws and other tools. The sound of building activity soon filled the valley, and several hours later Red Cross lumber had been turned into sills and studdings. By nightfall three houses were nearly completed. The following day the operation was repeated, and today Guion is a 'Phoenix' of new buildings."

That's all there is to the story—but isn't it a thriller? It is the kind of story that revives one's faith in the race. Surely, when men can work together like that, the reign of brotherhood is not a wildly impossible dream.

Incidentally, you might keep that story in mind when the next Red Cross roll call is held.

A Tragedy

A very small thing can cause a tragedy in his modern world.

Investigators have proved that an ordinary electric light bulb caused the dreadful fire and explosion in the Cleveland Clinic hospital, where 126 people lost their lives.

It wasn't the fault of the light bulb, of course. It had simply been left hanging too close to the inflammable X-ray films. Turned on for a long time, the bulb got overheated and set the film on fire—and a terrible tragedy was the result.

Fate strikes its blows in a strange way, sometimes. Who would have thought that an ordinary light bulb could be the means of bringing 126 people to their death?

THE PLAINSMAN Says

(Special To The Journal)

TULSA, July 5.—(Hot and How!)—That Man on avenue Q says skyscrapers are all right to look at but they sure cut the night breezes short. There are 175,000 people here who would trade every skyscraper in the oil metropolis for one of Lubbock's cool nights—and that's no monkey business!

* * *

In addition to The Plainsman, (pause for applause), this man's town has made other contributions to the citizenship of Lubbock and the South Plains, so it seems. Dr. J. M. Gordon, dean of the school of liberal arts at Texas Tech, used to be president of Tulsa university and was a member of the Rotary club up here. Some of the good Presbyterian brethern up in these parts not only remember when he was here but they admit friendship with him. This is a funny world.

* * *

And T. E. Roderick, who edits the Slaton Slatonite, also sprang from the oil capital to the South Plains. Whether there was anybody behind him when he did his springing, or not, has never been made entirely clear but his very vocation today proves that it is possible to reform. He was in the oil business here for a good many years but finally saw the error of his ways and moved to the South Plains and became a newspaperman. The world can't be growing worse in the face of a worthwhile reformation like this one.

* * *

Dr. J. R. Anderson, of the Lubbcek sanitarium, is another ex-Tulsan who moved to Lubbock and is being rewarded by a better appreciation of life in general. If things keep on like they have been it won't be long now until half the town moves to the Hub of the Plains.

Maybe we're talking out of school or something, but The Plainsman has it upon good authority that three fellows up here who have more money than they know what to do with are interested in South Plains—and particularly Lubbock — business property. They were in the Plains capital last week, we discover, but didn't make any deals while there. There's one or two in the making, however, and there is a possibility that the investments will be stretched to include another South Plains city located about 52 miles north of Lubbock. Give you three guesses.

If that Houston capital we've been hearing so much about is going to come into Lubbock it had better 'get on its mule' or some of these dudes up here who stumbled across millions in oil will grab off the gravy.

* * *

That Girl on Broadway is up here. It seems like The Plainsman can't get shut of her even for a few minutes. She said she came up here to wear a suntan-backed dress where folks didn't know her.

There's not much difference between Tulsa and Lubbock in the matter of amusement. Judging from the number of Yo-Yo tops one sees there are just as many people with nothing to do here as there are at home.

* * *

Here's some confidential information. The reason for The Plainsman's visit to Tulsa is to brush up on his gawf far away from a large and unappreciative gallery. There's a fellow up here named Jim Kennedy who was Oklahoma open gawf champion for so long that they finally disqualified him on grounds of this, that or the other, and he's an old school-mate of the Plainsman's. We're going out and play a lot of gawf and then The Plainsman's coming back to Lubbock to beat the dickens out of Ross McWhorter, Henry McLarty, Softy Wells and a lot of those guys who think the game would go on the rocks without 'em. The Plainsman's going to challenge Clinton Bussey, West Texas champion, and Bob Peck, tournament star extraordinary, both in the same afternoon—that is, as soon as he can distinguish a midiron from a sand trap.

Haven't been here but about a day now but The Plainsman can already feel it coming on that Lubbock's going to look better than ever next week. Saw a car with a Lubbock county license on it about two hours after getting to town but didn't recognize the driver and a lady who was along. It was one of George Kuykendall's retailed products, however, and just seeing it helped a little.

Here's a story they're telling on the Tulsa World, which proudly asserts that it's "Oklahoma's Greatest Newspaper." Whether it's true or not is left to the reader's discreation.

Desperatioh prevailed in the office of The World. Strong men bowed their heads in grief and weak men were out of the picture all together. It was obvious that stark tragedy was in the air of the news room.

"My gosh, 'Bridge'," groaned the managing editor to B. A. Bridgewater who years ago used to listen sympathetically to The Plainsman's ambitons to get into the newspaper racket. "Nothing scandalous has happened for twenty-four hours in the world will we do for a page one banner?"

"Aw, don't get discouraged, Steve", 'Bridge' is reported to have replied "Something'll happen soon. I've still got faith in human nature."

If You Want To Know What A Senatorial Debate Can Be Like Here's A Sample For You Fro mDutcher's Records

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, July 5—Here's a perfect gem from the Congressional Record. It's not a fair sample of Senate debate, but it shows what happens sometimes. Senator Caraway of Arkansas had several times interrupted Norris of Nebraska as the latter argued in favor of putting census takers under civil service instead of letting the jobs become political plums:

Mr. Norris: Yes.

Mr. Caraway: Is it the senator's idea that no one, simply because he is a member of Congress, can be honest and can be trusted?

Mr. Norris: No. I have not said anything of that kind, and I have not said anything from which any reasonable man can draw such a conclusion as that.

Mr. Caraway: Well, what does the senator mean when he says—

Mr. Norris: That is the argument which has been made from the beginning of the civil service.

Mr. Caraway: Oh, it is not.

Mr. Norris: The argument which the senator from Arkansas is making now is the one which has always been made against the civil service.

Mr. Caraway: Well, I know that happens not to be true; it is not an argument against civil service. I am just asking the senator a question.

Mr. Norris: That question is an argument against civil service.

Mr. Caraway: It is no argument against civil service.

Mr. Norris: Then the senator ought not to make it.

Mr. Caraway: I am not making it. I am only asking a question.

Mr. Norris: If the senator is not making an argument against civil service then do not ask it.

Mr. Caraway: Let me ask the senator—

Mr. Norris: Can not the senator wait until I answer one question before he propounds another?

Mr. Caraway: I do not think I will live long enough for that.

Mr. Norris: Perhaps the senator will not ;he need not wait that long.

Mr. Caraway: I do not have to wait.

Mr. Norris: It does not make any difference to me. If the senator does not want to wait, that is his business.

Mr. Caraway: The senator thinks he owns the Senate.

Mr. Norris: No, I do not think I own the Senate. That is another statement the senator is absolutely unjustified in making. Have I not a right here to oppose a provision in the bill because I think it is wrong?

Mr. Caraway: My I ask the senator a question?

Mr. Norris: Yes.

Mr. Caraway: What is there about it that the senator should become so angry, when I was merely trying to ask him a question?

Mr. Norris: The senator from Arkansas—

Mr. Caraway: Now—

Mr. Norris: Will the senator allow me to answer that question?

Mr. Caraway: I suppose I will stop for the rest of the afternoon.

Mr. Norris: Perhaps the senator will. It might be well if he would stop here and wait and listen a little while. It might be well for him. He might get some information perhaps that would be valuable for him.

Mr. Caraway: I have listened for a good while and have not obtained any information as yet.

Mr. Norris: The trouble is the senator does not listen.

Mr. Caraway: Oh, yes, I do.

Mr. Norris: He gets in to the debate when there is no call for it.

Mr. Caraway: I have been listening for eight years.

Mr. Norris: Now let us get to the senator's question. He has interrupted me so many times since the question was asked that I have forgotten what it was.

Mr. Caraway: I knew the senator had and I tried to set him right.

Mr. Norris: Why does the senator say I got so angry about it?

Mr. Caraway: Because—

Mr. Norris: Now, I remember what the question was. Let the senator keep still while I answer it. Let me answere it . The senator has asked it of me.

Mr. Caraway: I know, but I do not expect any candid answer.

Mr. Norris: If the senator will keep still I will answer it; I am going to answer it. The truth is that the senator is entirely wrong when he assumes I am angry.

Mr. Caraway: The senator does not make that kind of a face when he is in a good humor, does he? (Laughter.)

Mr. Norris: The senator has looked at so many bad faces that he does not know a good one when he sees it. (Laughter.)

Mr. Caraway: I will not admit that.

Mr. Norris: Mr. President, if there is one thing I can not do after my long association here, it is to get angry at the senator from Arkansas.

Mr. Caraway: Then do not look at me in that tone of voice.

Mr. Norris: I have, however, seen him go wrong occasionally.

Mr. Caraway: Yes, when following the senator from Nebraska.

Mr. Norris: And I can not follow him when he goes wrong.

Mr. Caraway: That is where I differ from the senator. I follow him when he goes wroing: I could not follow him otherwise.

Mr. Norris: The senator would do better if he would follow me when I am right.

Mr. Caraway: I have never found the senator to be that way.

The Presiding Officer (Mr. Dale in the chair): The senator from Nebraska has the floor. Senators desiring to interrupt must address the chair.

. . . . Mr. Heflin: Mr. President, does the senator yield to me?

(Anyone who wants any more of this can read it in the Record. All concerned were perfectly sober.)

Going Places With Swan

ABOARD THE PACKET BOAT, BETSY ANN, SOMEWHERE ON THE OHIO RIVER, July 5—It's a tremendous dive from Broadway into the Ohio river.

And the transition of a subway sardine into a passenger aboard the old packet boat, Betsy Ann, is the apotheosis of something-or-other very pleasant.

The river itself is, somehow or other, as relaxing as a lazy stretch after a sound sleep. Somehow, also, it has managed to find a perfect companionship in the meandering and broken hills and towns along its winding trail. There is a sleepy quality in the physical appearance of places which belie this saporific flavor by springing into life the moment the landing plank is lowered.

It gives one the pleasant sensation of participating in a legend.

The illusion can be broken by contact with the mill towns that spread away from Pittsburgh and can be caught up again by a peace which seems to settle over miles of settlements.

The river is a terribly personal thing to the dweller along its banks. So are the agencies of communication—the river boats. These are in the very blood of the river folk. For "Ol' Man River" has been rolling along before the eyes of many generations.

And the stern-wheeled packet boats have become more than mere carriers of cargo and mail. They are the birds of passage from a world outside; they are a variation on a monotony as ceaseless as the river's slow current; they are a gay note in a week marked by endless repetition of old tasks; they bring a brief touch of romance and tradition; they are in the tales that grandma told. They recall the past and anticipate the tomorrow. They are a brief and casual visit from an old, old friend.

When they pass, the children run down to the river bank and shout and wave and caper, as their sires did before them and as their children will. The people of the river are not much for change.

To give you an idea of this personal element—Within the past half dozen years, as many children have been named after the Betsy Ann. This was because the packet boat happened to be whistling into dock when the child came into the world. Such a happy harbinger becomes, of course, part of the folk lore and legend of a community. Did not the good boat whistle when little Nellie was born?

So little Nellie and her playmates seldom miss a packet's passing. The old pilots know well each spot dedicated to a tale or legend. The whistle toots here and the whistle toots there. Now it is a message to a wife waiting on the bank; now it is a greeting established by tradition; and again it is to give notice to the shore folk that the boat is coming and if they want it to stop they'll have to wave a signal.

A few months ago something went wrong with the whistle. A new one was put on. Within a few weeks, from up and down the river came letters and verbal rebukes to Frederick Way, jr., young owner of the Betsy Ann. How dared he? The old timers of the river, who knew the old whistle as they knew their mother's voice, didn't know the new whistle. They had been led completely astray. How were they to know when the packet boat was coming?

There was nothing to do but get the old tooter repaired as soon as possible and put the oldsters at rest.

Nor is there an hour too early or late for the churning old craft to come nosing in. A flash of a lantern from the shore by night or the wave of a cloth at dawn—and there is a swish about of the paddle. Ofttimes the spot is so remote that it seems incredible anyone might live there. And the errand boy of the river from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati stops to take on a few chickens or a couple of crates of eggs. A rattling of chains, a few grunts from the negroes below—and, like ol' man river, she keeps rolling along.

How did they ever come to call those Wall Street people brokers instead of breakers?

Hammer Toes

Mrs. T. wants to tell Miss L., who had a hammer toe—we ran her letter a short time ago—that she had a case of hammer toe which was remedied by having the cords underneath the toe cut. She was in bed one month, and it was six weeks before she could walk, but the result was very good. There is not much feeling in the toe, but it is certainly better than no toe!

It is true that hammer toes, if they are not too severe, may be remedied by operative treatment other than amputation, but evidently Miss L's was of such a character that amputation was the only recourse, so her doctor told her.

I'm writing of Mrs. T.'s success in case others got the impression from what I wrote then, that amputation is the only remedy for all grades of hammer toes.

Thank you for writing, Mrs. T.

"I am a girl of 18 and going to school. When I was a baby, I was very sick and my mother put me on peptogenic milk powder, and a doctor told her it would ruin my stomach. I have never eaten any fruit, meat, or vegetables. I eat bread, cake, butter, ice cream, cookies and biscuits. I drink milk, coffee, tea, cocoa and beer. I have tried drinking beef tea and eggnogs, but they make me sick. I would like to know if my stomach is ruined and if I will ever be able to eat anything else without its making me sick. I have never consulted a doctor. MISS C."

All too often a doctor makes a careless remark. It is treasured up for years, and the whole course of life is molded around it. The fact that your mother gave you some peptogenic milk powder certainly couldn't have ruined your stomach, C.! It is "ruined," but likely your very unbalanced diet has done the deed.

Why don't you eat fruits and vegetables? Have you found that they disagree, or give you some skin irritation? If so, it may be that you have an idiosyncrasy to them; but it is very unlikely that you have an idiosyncrasy to all fruits and vegetables. I wonder that you have lived as long as you have. Perhaps you are exaggerating when you say you eat no fruits and no vegetables?

I would visit a competent physician if I were you, and talk over your diet with him.

Better send for our article on Balanced Diet. You may have it by following column rules.

Sometimes in a severe cold there may be such congestion in the capillaries of the nose and throat that some of them may break and spot the secretion. But it would be wise to take your boy to a lung specialist, to be sure this was the cause, especially if he is subject to colds frequently. Is he on a balanced diet, and does he get sufficient rest and sleep? We have an article on Colds, Catarrh, etc., which you may have by observing column rules.

ENFORCEMENT OF ANTI-TRUST LAWS URGED BY WILLIAM H. KING, Senator From Utah

(William Henry King was born in Fillmore City, Utah, June 3, 1864. He was educated at Brigham Young academy, the University of Utah and the University of Michigan. He practiced law at Fillmore City and later at Provo City. For three terms he was a member of the territorial legislature of Utah, being president of the upper body one term. In 1894, he was named associate judge of the supreme court of Utah. From 1897 to 1901 he was a member of congress. He was elected to the senate in 1917 and is now completing his second term. He has been a delegate to various democratic national conventions.)

The evils resulting from monopolies and from combinations and trusts in restraint of trade have been recognized wherever they existed. Congress passed the Sherman anti-trust and Clayton acts to meet the evils of monopoly. Most if not all of the states enacted measures to prevent intrastate trusts and organizations from restricting competition and increasing prices. Unfortunately neither federal laws nor state laws have been enforced and the result has been the progressive growth of monopolies and trusts and combinations in restraint of trade.

In my opinion the most important question which demands solution at the hands of the American people is that relating to trusts and monopolies. Huge financial institutions are merging and consolidating and in every field of industry giant organizations and consolidations are taking place, as a result of which the natural laws of trade and commerce, and supply and demand are set at naught, and substantially all of the commodities, whether raw or finished, necessary for the welfare of the people, are controlled by monopolies and trusts. Mass production is facilitating this centralization, and thousands of smaller units of production are being destroyed and individual initiative and indeed individualism are subjected to the crushing hand of monopolistic organizations.

It is certain that if the present economic and industrial movements, now controlling the economic and indeed the political life of the country, are not checked, within a few years the very form of our government will be changed and our economic and business relations will undergo the most radical changes. Profound socialogists and students of political economy foresee the rise of socialism when industries are owned and controlled by a limited number of integrated organizations. Already there are growing signs of discontent and resentment over the aggregation of corporations and monopolistic organizations. Fear is entering into the hearts of the working people as well as the small business man and those who constitute the very best part of our social structure. The credits of the country will soon be controlled by huge financial institutions. The key industries of the country are now controlled by a limited number of business organizations. Thousands of persons who have built up business institutions and manufacturing plants are thrust aside by the growth of monopolies and find no niche in which they can find a place in our economic or industrial life.

In my opinion the attorney general of the United States should take prompt action to enforce the federal anti-trust laws.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

IRIS MORGAN, wife of JOHN CURTIS MORGAN, successful lawyer, elopes with BERT CRAWFORD, for whom Morgan has recently won an acquittal. Morgan does not suspect Crawford.

NAN CARROLL, Morgan's secretary, is in love with him. To save him from utter despair, she cleverly forces him into his work. For six months she acts as long distance housekeeper for him, winning the love of his child, little six-year-old CURTIS. Morgan tells her he is divorcing Iris and asks her to marry him, stressing his and the boy's need of her. She consents.

Their farcical marriage has continued three months when Nan decides she can stand it no longer. The next morning, Iris, cast off by Crawford, returns. Feigning illness she tries to bring Morgan to his knees. Nan is heartbroken, crushed, but she determines to fight and asks DR. BLACK to remove Iris to a hospital.

Morgan tells Nan he wants to provide a monthly allowance for Iris and Nan agrees. Curtis goes to see his mother daily. She stuffs him with sweets and he becomes ill. Christmas morning he awakens with a fever and Dr. Black tells Nan it is appendicitis and his diet must be closely watched. He warns Nan against Iris, tells her she is an unscrupulous woman, and urges Nan to fight.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLII

"Look what I found, wandering the streets disconsolately and looking as if he'd lost his best friend!" John Curtis Morgan greeted his wife at five minutes to six.

His voice was so natural, so jolly, with just enough of an undercurrent of anxiety as to what she would think of his bringing an unexpected guest for Christmas dinner, that Nan sprang from the living room couch and ran toward him.

"Willis Todd!" she cried joyously, incredulously, as the embarrassed young man who had once hoped to marry her guiltily followed his host into the room. "You don't know how glad I am to see you, Willis! I've been intending for ages to be a very indiscreet wife and beg you to have luncheon with me."

"And now," Willis laughed, "your husband heaps coals of fire on your head by treating me as a family friend."

As soon as he had said it, Willis Todd realized that he had committed a faux pas. For his unconsidered words reminded Nan that he knew and that she knew of another "family friend" who had grievously betrayed John Curtis Morgan's hospitality. And so both he an Nan were blushing hotly as they shook hands, a fact which Morgan noted and puzzled over.

Then he must have remembered how he, blind to her love for himself, had once asked Nan when she was going to marry her faithful suitor. To cover his confusion, he immediately became very voluble and jovial—mannerisms which set oddly upon his natural austerity. His was a dry, twinkle-in-the-eye, downward-quirking lip sort of humor, not the loud laughing, boisterous kind which he now called to his aid.

"Yes, Nan, my defeated rival here was wandering along Washington street, looking as disconsolate as if he'd just found out there wasn't any Santa Claus! So I brought him here to prove there is. Look at that Christmas tree, Todd! If it doesn't prove there is a Santa Claus—"

"Here's Estelle, John," Nan interrupted, "busting with news about Christmas dinner. Just five minutes, Estelle, please. John, will you take Willis upstairs to wash his hands?"

"Sorry, I'm not dressed, Nan," the young man apologized. "Mr. Morgan wouldn't give me time to go to my rooms—"

"I'm glad he didn't; I'd have had a tearful cook on my hands if he'd delayed the dinner," Nan laughed.

She waited until her husband and guest had disappeared up the stairs, then followed them fleetly, stopping at her own door near the head of the stairs. Since Willis Todd was to be present at the after dinner opening of Christmas gifts, he should not be left out in the cold. There was a cravat she had bought for her husband and which she had decided to return, since, upon daylight inspection, its colors had seemed to vivid for his dark austerity. But it was exactly right for Willis Todd.

"Let John think I bought it for Willis in the first place," Nan grinned to herself. "I do believe he was a little jealous when he caught us both blushing. Let him be jealous! Do him good!"

She wrapped the boxed tie with lightning speed, affixed "Merry Christmas" seals, tagged it with a card which read: " auld lang syne. From Nan to Willis."

She found the two men waiting for her in the drawing room, and obviously relieved when she joined them.

"I looked in on Curtis," Morgan told Nan, as they proceeded to the dining room, which Estelle had decorated as lavishly as if she had been expecting a big party. "He seems better, doesn't he? I promised to bring his hot milk toast when we've finished dinner and stay with him while he eats it. Poor little tyke! He'd bragged for weeks of his turkey and dressing capacity and now he has to be content with milk toast. You couldn't relent a mite, I suppose, Nan?"

"No!" Nan looked very much the firm young mother. "Dr. Black has given orders and I'm going to carry them out religiously. But please don't let your sympathy for Curtis spoil your own appetite, dear. I hope you're both hungry. Wouldn't it be a joke on us if poor Willis was in the same fix as O. Henry's Thanksgiving martyr found himself?—forced to eat a second holiday feast, while still in the agonies of indigestion from the first."

"No really!" Willis Todd denied quickly. "I was exactly the sad young man that Mr. Morgan described. In fact, I was trying to decide whether to eat my lonely Christmas dinner at a drug store fountain and be wholly miserable, or to pay three dollars for a hotel dining room table d'hote and acquire an attack of indigestion as tormenting as my regular Christmas blues."

"I like that!" Nan protested. "I suppose you've forgotten what you said last Christmas?—that it was the happiest Christmas you had spent since you were a child. Remember how greedy we were and how nice the funny old waiter was, especially after you'd given him a five dollar tip?"

"I remember," Willis Todd agreed, his mouth and eyes tightening with pain.

"I'm being beastly," Nan reproached herself. "I'm making John remember his last Christmas when Iris sat where I'm sitting now. And I'm hurting Willis, too. I didn't realize he still cared so much."

But there was an unworthy consolation in the evidences of his pain and in the occasional puzzled glances from her husband's eyes.

Although the three of them had talked emphatically of how hungry they were, Maude O'Brien in the kitchen glowered resentfully at the returning dishes. There was little reward in cooking for love sick people who pecked at their food, with no more appetite than canaries, as she grumbled to Estelle.

"Reminds me of last Christmas, when that Crawford man sat there and made eyes at the creature who was Mrs. Morgan then," Estelle whispered. "This Todd man is nuts over Miss Nan, and the poor dear mister looks like he's wondering if he's going to lose this missus, too."

That was an exaggeration, but certainly John Curtis Morgan did not look like a happy man, between his odd bursts of forced volubility. Nan, with an impishness she had not suspected herself capable of, flirted openly with Willis Todd, and the burden of her conversation was, "And, oh, Willis, do you remember when—?"

Immediately after dinner Morgan called for Curtis' tray and trudged heavily upstairs with it. The sound of those slow, heavy footsteps—almost like those of an old man's—echoed in Nan's heart and brought tears into her eyes.

"What's the matter, Nan?" Willis asked anxiously, as he dropped down to the couch beside her and laid a trembling hand over hers. "Is it—pretty bad, honey?"

Nan made no pretense of not understanding. She nodded miserably, then dashed an angry hand at the tears. "Iris has come back, Willis. She didn't know John had got a divorce and—and married me."

"Good Lord!" the young man ejaculated. "You poor kid! No wonder. Can you tell me what happened? Did she come here?"

Nan nodded and Willis tightened his clasp on her hand until the pressure hurt. But it was a sweet pain. Stumblingly, interrupting herself at times to choke back a sob, Nan told him the incredible story of Iris' return and of its devastating effect upon John Curtis Morgan. She concluded by rapidly repeating Dr. Black's warning that Iris intended to fight her successor with every weapon she could lay hands on.

"Then you'll need a weapon, too," Willis Todd said grimly. "And I've got a dandy I can place in your hands right now."

Nan's tear drowned eyes stared incredulously into his steely gray ones.

"No, I'm not talking through my hat," he assured her. "I've got facts and proofs which you're welcome to. I was in New York in November on a buying trip for my firm and one of the big wholesale men took me to a night club. Surefire entertainment for us out of town hicks, you know," he grinned. "Well, it happens he was right this time, for I wouldn't have missed a show I saw there for a month's pay. And the show was extra, entirely impromptu, not a part of the regular cabaret at all."

"You saw Iris and—Bert Crawford?" Nan whispered.

"Of course you'd be two leaps ahead of me," Willis growled. "Almost the first person my eyes lit on when we took our table was Bert Crawford. He didn't recognise me, of course—we'd never met. With was a stunning brunet—an actressy sort of person, made up to look like a Spanish heart breaker, lace mantilla, jeweled comb, Spanish shawl and whatnot. They were thick as thieves. The description fits our blond villian, at any rate.

"But—Iris?" Nan frowned. "I was so sure she'd been with him after she left John—"

"Oh, she had, all right! No doubt about that, if you can wait till I tell my story. It was about half past 1, when the cabaret was in full swing, that Iris appeared suddenly at Crawford's table and launched one of the nastiest rows I've ever had to listen in on. It all came out, of course: how Crawford was her property and she'd not stick at murder to keep any other woman from having him."

"Oh!" Nan gasped.

"Exactly!" Willis Todd agreed. "It was pretty awful. Before the night club manager could get there to put her out, Crawford had told her, in no uncertain terms, that he wasn't going to stand for her spying on him, that he was his own master, that since he wasn't married to her, what was it to her anyway, if he fancied another woman for a change. Raw! The Spanish looking vamp enjoyed it a lot. I think she was a little sorry when the manager hustled Iris out of the club. The next morning I read a front page story in a tabloid about 'Row in Night Club Ends in Suicide Attempt.'"

"Did it print Iris' name?" Nan asked, horrified.

"No. She gave a fake name at the hospital, but she took poison in the taxicab which the club manager forced her into after he led her out of the club. The taxi driver took her to the address she had given, and when he started to help her out, he found her unconscious. Took her to the hospital, of course, and told his story, which the papers printed. I checked up on the apartment house address and found that they'd been living there as Mr. and Mrs. Chatfield. I wasn't just prying, honey. I wanted the information for you, in case you ever needed it."

Nan shook her head drearily. "No. How could I? I can't blackmail Iris no matter what she does to me. And I would rather die than repeat that horrible story to John Curtis Morgan. It might disgust him with her, but it would undoubtedly kill all his love for me. No, I can't fight that way. But I'm glad you told me, Willis. [illegible] me all the more determi[illegible] my two menfolk."

"He still doesn't have an inkling about Crawford?" Willis asked.

"No. Sometimes I've been tempted to show him that letter from Crawford to Iris, but—I'd rather lose than hurt him that way."

"Darling, quixotic little Nan!" Willis Todd said huskily, as he put his arm about her shoulders and pressed her wet cheek against his. "Do you wonder I'm not able to love any other girl?"

And that was the tableau which John Curtis Morgan interrupted.

COTTON FIRMER IN SOUTH TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, July 5. (AP)—The cotton market opened firmer in sympathy with relatively steady cables and the sharp advance in the English market over the holiday in American markets yesterday. Initial trades showed gains of 7 to 9 points and prices improved a few points additional on reports of rains.

The weather map failed to confirm the reports and towards the end of the first hour the market encountered selling which carried October off to 1817, and December to 1837, or 12 to 13 points below the initial highs.

Selling continued throughout the morning due to a private estimate making the condition of the crop 74.1 per cent of normal and the increase in acreage of 5.6 per cent. October traded off to 18.12 and December 18.32, or 17 to 18 points below the early highs and 9 points below Wednesday's close.

At mid-session the market was quiet and a shade steadier.

ADVANCE OF 3 POINTS MADE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP).—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 1 point. There was some buying on the relatively steady showing of Liverpool and reports of rains and boll weevil activity. These factors appeared to be offset by a private report placing the increase in acreage at 5.5 per cent and the condition as of July 1 of 74.1 per cent. The market ruled about 1 to 5 points net lower at the end of the first half hour.

The market remained very quiet but after showing net declines of about 2 to 9 points held fairly steady on covering.

Prices at midday were within a point or two of last Wednesday's closing quotations on the more active months.

WHEAT ADVANCES QUICKLY TODAY

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP).—Wheat advanced quickly today after an irregular start. Showers over drouth districts in Canada, together with sharp setbacks in wheat quotations in Liverpool, caused transient uncertainty, but comprehensive adverse crop reports from Canada were soon more than an offset. Opening at 7-8c down to 7-8c up, Chicago wheat later scored decided gains all around. Corn, oats and provisions were likewise firmer, with corn starting unchanged to 1-2c higher and subsequently holding near to initial figures.

Wheat, closed strong, 2 7-8c to 3 3-8c net higher, corn 2 to 3 1-8c up, oats, 1 7-8c to 2 1-2c advanced, and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 7c.

Many of the local good will evangels left yesterday to spend the Fourth at New Hobbs, while several automobiles transporting the band and Board of City Development representatives left this morning about 8 o'clock.

A huge barbecue, rodeo, all night dance, carnival and other attractions will aid in the celebration of the first birthday. the head and was taken to a hospital. Physicians believed him to be dying. William Foret was shot in the left shoulder.

Police reserves, heavily armed, rushed to the scene in response to a riot call and attempted to drive the crowd back. Literally hundreds of minor injuries were reported as the crowd yelled and repeatedly stormed the car.

Cars Have Hard Time

The second car got through and with broken window-panes made its way through Canal street amid the boos and cheers of pedestrians. This car returned to the barn and a third was started out. The crowd stopped it a block away with a storm of bricks, but the car got another start and went around the belt line, where it encountered soaped tracks and blocked rights of way.

When it started back for the barn, it was stopped in the middle of the street while the crowd of strikers and sympathizers rained a heavy brick attack. Police fought desperately, but the crowd outnumbered them. The motorman finally quit, and a policeman drove the car to the barn.

Three policemen threw up their badges and arms amid the cheers of the crowd and joined the strikers. Many arrests were made.

The third car was demolished on the lower end of Canal street when it attempted a second trip. The guards and carmen deserted the car while the howling mob completed the wreckage.

GUARANTEED Ford used cars

Ford dealers' selling prices on

USED CARS *are low

WHY not get a used car for the second car your family has been needing? Most of the cars we have accepted for trade-in on new Fords have a generous number of miles left in them—miles of unused transportation at a price you can easily afford.

You'll find our used-car prices low because there is no "price padding" to make up for high trade-in allowances. The price of the Model A Ford is so low, and the value so high, that excessive trade-in concessions are impossible. That, and our reputation for fair-dealing which we value so highly, protect you when you buy a used car from us.

When we offer a Model T Ford for resale it has been thoroughly reconditioned. New parts wherever needed; everything properly tightened and adjusted—and with it goes a guarantee. We have a number of these reconditioned Fords now. Also several cars of other makes, priced according to the unused transportation they offer. Let us prove our prices. The meeting will be held at the local church, and 300 or more representatives are expected to attend from the various churches of Garza, Lubbock, Crosby, Lamb, Hockley and Cochran counties.

A program will be rendered by delegates from Littlefield, Lubbock, Slaton, Lorenzo, Southland and Levelland, it is announced by William B. Waldrop, of Lubbock, president of the organization.

down near the rear door of the bank. The robbers fled after they had used LaVerne Comer and Emma Mae Robinson, 12-year-old Cisco girls, as sheilds when they raced from the town. Their automobile was pierced by many bullets, but the girls were not injured. Ratliff was captured at South Bend while Helms and Hill were taken at Graham a week after the holdup.

He fired, the officer said, as he saw the gun.

Three other federal officers who participated in the raid were arrested, but released.

Randall Pitman, Pottawatomie count yattorney, said murder charges would be filed.

LOVE TRAGEDY

In letters to Irma, authorities were informed, Mayberry had demanded she meet him when he arrived by bus yesterday in order that they might be married. When she failed to appear he went to the Hendershott home where he found her in a field.

After a short quarrel they started for the house and as they reached the yard Mayberry drew a revolver and shot her. Her father, on a wheat binder in a nearby field, saw the shooting. Picking up a shot gun he carried to kill rabbits, he rushed toward the youth as Mayberry shot himself, and fired as he reached him.

Hendershott was not arrested.

Win Both Games

That, ladies and gentlemen, was the highlight of two games Thursday afternoon at the ranch. Wilson's crew won the first, a 5-inning game, 4 to 2, and the second, 6 innings, 5 to 0.

Judge Homer L. Pharr, of 72nd district court, who has been thrice named captain of teams which have been defeated by squads captained by County Attorney Wilson was absent from the city yesterday and did not participate in the contests.

J. A. Raley, veteran infield star, intensified the rivalry at the outset when he filed an injunction to restrain all opposition from knocking "hot ones" in his direction. In the absence of a judge on the bench, County Attorney Vaughn Wilson assembled a host of legal technicalities and brought about a mutual agreement in favor of unrestrained competition. Subsequently, Raley, who usually cavorts at shortstop, was sent to a position between first and second where danger is minimized.

Chow call at 8 o'clock closed the second game in the sixth inning. Enjoyment of hot dogs, pickles, cake, etc., served by Mess Sergeant Voyt Williams, followed. Chief Deputy Sheriff O. B. Conley was chairman of the entertainment committee in charge of affairs for the day.

Intoxication Cited In Divorce Petition

Charging that he acquired the habit of drinking intoxicating liquors and that he would often curse and abuse her when he was drunk, a woman entered a petition for divorce in 99th district court against her husband, a Slaton barber.

In the suit she alleges that the defendant would often bring tough and disreputable characters into their home and gamble.

Slaton Woman Is Buried Wednesday

SLATON, July 5.—Funeral services for Mrs. Hayden E. Baker, 28, was held here Wednesday afternoon at the First Baptist church, with the pastor, Rev. B. G. Holloway, officiating.

Among surviving relatives are her husband and two small children; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Watson, of Wilson; a sister, Mrs. H. T. Carr, of Slaton, and others.

Lubbock Attorneys Attend Bar Session

Judges Homer L. Pharr and Clark M. Mullican of the seventy-second and ninety-ninth district courts, of this city, are in Amarillo today attending the convention of the Texas State Bar association.

County Attorney Vaughn Wilson, J. C. Levens, Ben Kucera, County Judge Robert H. Bean and D. A. Blair, all of this city, are planning to leave thies afternoon for the convention.

Yo-Yoing Has Been Popular In Phillipines Long

FORT WORTH, July 5 (AP)—George Seriano, yo-yo playing, poetry-writing native of the Philippines is enrolled as a freshman in Texas Christian University for the summer term.

"Almost every person in the Philippine Islands, from the time he is a small child, knows how to yo-yo," he said. "And contrary to reports, the game is native to the Filipinos and not to the Chinese," he states. "It is a sport that has been peculiar to our people for many years although the new generation is tiring of yo yo somewhat and is turning to newer games, as tennis and other American sports.

C. U. in the fall to work toward a bachelor of arts degree and later wishes to teach in the Philippine Islands.

MACDONALD'S TRIP TO UNITED STATES MAY LIGHTEN TAX BURDEN OF NATION

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—When James Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister of Great Britain and first lord of the treasury, leaves London for his "heart-to-heart" conference with President Hoover he will be thinking in terms of billions—the billions in armaments costs now heaped upon the tired backs of taxpayers.

Much smaller sums were sufficient to wrinkle his brow, when, as a lad of 19, he came to London practically penniless. He began the carving out of his extraordinary career by addressing envelopes for a bicycle touring club.

Had 60 Cents

Sixty cents was all he had when he arrived, this son of Scottish peasants with a hankering for more education than poor boys of that day were supposed to have. And although he had hoped for something better when he came, $2.40 a week was what he got for the envelope job. But it was only temporary work with gaps of unemployment between.

Finally young MacDonald found what looked like permanent work as invoice clerk in a warehouse. The job paid him about $3.75 a week, every week, and he felt so prosperouse that soon he was paying tuition fees at the City of London College and Highbury institute, and even sending home some money to his mother.

Health Breaks

Given an opportunity to do some chemical laboratory work he threw himself into it with such unrelenting application (a degree in science was his ambition then) that his health broke down. Thus his first ten years in London turned out to be years of poverty and obscurity.

Meanwhile, however, he had become interested in socialism, and when a Liberal politician offered him the post of private secretary he found himself in a position to achieve both a living and a political education. He would have preferred to have worked his way through a university; later, however, he looked upon the learning he had obtained through toil as more valuable than anything the university could have given him.

Two Alike

No doubt the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of England will have many an anecdote of those early struggling days to exchange. For Herbert Hoover got what Ramsay MacDonald's breakdown prevented—a chance to work his way through a university.

To many who feel keenly war's double cost, it will seem a happy turn of fate that these two men—both unequivocally poor in their youth—should now strive to pare down the costliest of all burdens on civilization. Their "heart-to-heart talk" may make Mars a pauper.

NEVER EXPECTED TO SEE A WELL DAY AGAIN

"Orgatone Has Filled Me With New Life And Energy, Suffered 13 Years," Says Lubbock Farmer

"A year ago I didn't think that I would be a well man again, but Orgatone has put new life in me and I feel so good I'd like to give this statement for my gratification," was the statement made by C. L. Karr, of rural route 3, Lubbock, Texas, while talking with the Orgatone representative recently.

"I suffered for thirteen years," he went on, "with a very severe case of stomach trouble. In spite of everything I did I kept getting worse. Gas would form in my stomach and cause severe headaches and sharp shooting pains through my back that would almost drive me distracted. At times I was extremely nervous and hardly got enough sleep.

"After every meal I would just be in agony for hours afterward. When this gas formed on my stomach, it would cause shortness of breath and my heart would palpitate very fast, until I thought I had heart trouble. I suffered from liver and kidney trouble, which caused intense pain in my sides and back. At times, to tell you the truth, I did not care whether I lived or not, my suffering was so severe, and I knew if I didn't get something I wouldn't live much longer.

"A friend recommended Orgatone to me, and since taking it I feel a new person, it has done me a wonderful amount of good. My nerves are perfectly steady like when I was a boy, and I am feeling more like my old self again. I feel lively and energetic and want to be stirring about and doing things. I eat anything I want, and sleep fine every night. All of my old troubles are gone. Orgatone has certainly saved me a lot of trouble and I am glad to recommend it every chance I get."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents. (Adv.)

CANNON GIVEN CHURCH SUPPORT

LAKE JUNALUSKA, N. C., July 5 (AP)—The board of temperance and social service of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in annual session here, adopted a resolution today expressing its "confidence in the leadership" of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Richmond, Va., its president. The action wa staken, the resolution said, in view of "recent attacks on Bishop Cannon instigited by enemies of prohibition."

Before adopting the resolution the board considered numerous documents and written statements presented by Bishop Cannon and relating to his dealings in stocks.

The board declared it was convinced "the attacks on Bishop Cannon, in which the entire wet press is engaged with evident unanimity, have been instigated by enemies of prohibition with the sole purpose of discrediting a great and influential leader of the prohibition forces of the nation.

Several metropolitan newspapers have criticized British Ambassador Sir Esme Howard for offering to give up liquor privileges. Maybe we had better give Sir Esme another chance, however, as he probably is not familiar with the customs of the country.
