HEAVY DOWNPOUR BREAKS MAY RAIN RECORDS

SOUTH PLAINS COUNTRY GETS GOOD SOAKING

ABUNDANT MOISTURE INSURES GOOD 'SEASON'

Shattering all previous rainfall records for the month of May, heavy slow-falling downpours, beginning at about 4 o'clock this morning, continued to be showered spasmodically throughout the day. The total precipitation up until noon today was 1.55 inches, which, added to the torrential rains of last week-end, brings the month's total to 5.77 inches.

Although the record rains of the month insure a sufficient season for crops a considerable amount of the seed already planted is thought to have been lost, R. E. Overstreet, Texas Farm Bureau association director, and D. F. Eaton, Lubbock county agricultural agent, estimate that forty per cent of the seed has been lost by rotting and failure to come up due to the packing rainfall and cold weather.

Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment station east of the city, believes that all that has been planted will have to be planted over.

Downpour Was General

Reports coming into the Journal office today indicate that today's rain was of a general nature. Dawson, Terry and Lynn counties, missed by the last rain, received heavy precipitation today, according to reports from Lamesa and Tahoka. Good rains are reported from Amarillo, Abilene, Sweetwater, Plainview and Midland. Every point of

NEW RATES ON STOCK URGED

REVISION OF TARIFF ON SHIPMENTS OF WEST PROPOSED

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 17—A revision of railroad freight rates on livestock in western territory which would involve some general but slight increases was recommended today to the interstate commerce commission by agents who have completed an investigation into existing schedules

C. E. Stiles and A. S. Parker, commission examiners, after a preliminary study, suggested a series of mileage scales in western territory to govern the making of new rates, and indicated the scales would increase railroad earnings. The commission assigned the report for oral argument here July 10.

"Livestock in much of the western district is not at present bearing its fair share of the transportation burden of its new scales," the report said. "Under the rate levels herein recommended it will do more than meet these minimum requirements. Taken as rate levels, we believe the scales recommended will be fair both to shippers and carriers".

New Scale Provisions

Under the distance scale suggested by the report, shipments of cattle and hogs in double deck cars would be charged for at the rate of 11 cents per hundred pounds for distances of 10 miles; 42 cents per hundred pounds for distances of 500 miles; 62 cents for distances of 1,000 miles; $1.02 for distances of 2,000 miles; and $1.22 for distances of 2,500 miles; single deck shipments of calves and hogs would be charged 12 1-2 cents per hundred pounds for distances of 10 miles; 48 1-2 cents for 500 miles; 71 12- cents for 1,000 miles; 92 1-2 cents for distances of 1,500 miles and $1.40 1-2 for distances of 2,500 miles.

Florida Grocer Is Taken From Jail And Lynched

MOB ACTION FOLLOWS AFFRAY WITH OFFICERS

LAKE CITY, Fla., May. 17 (AP)—N. G. Romey, a grocer, was taken from the jail here by a mob early today and lynched two miles south of here. His body was found by a farmer. The man was arrested last night after an altercation with police during which Chief of Police John F. Baker was wounded, and Mrs. Romey was wounded fatally.

Romey's body, containing many bullet wounds, was found sitting upright in a ditch on the Columbia road.

Romey's trouble with the authorities started yesterday when Chief of Police Baker told him he would have to cleanup some rubbish in front of his store. Romey finally agreed to take some of his produce inside his store.

Shortly afterward, according to Judge Guy Gillem, Romey telephoned Chief Baker and told him he had placed the produce back on the sidewalk and for the officer to "come back and try to make me move it again."

Baker returned to the store and another argument ensued. Mrs. Romey, who joined in the altercation, is alleged to have procured a pistol and fired three shots at Baker, one of which broke the officer's shoulder blade.

Chief Baker then opened fire on the woman, wounding her five times She died in a hospital about midnight.

Romey was arrested and placed in jail.

Judge Gillem said he did not know exactly when the lynching took place, but thought it was about 4 a. m.

A farmer, coming into Lake City found Romey's body in the ditch along the highway.

A coroner's jury was summoned.

OKMULGEE FINANCIER SHOT SELF AFTER BANK MEETING

OKMULGEE, Okla., May 17 (AP).—The American National Bank of Okmulgee, whose president, Tom King, shot and killed himself late last night, failed to open its doors today.

A sign on the doors said the institution had been consolidated with the Central National Bank, which has the greatest resources of any Okmulgee bank and that checks payable on the American National would be cashed at the Central National.

King shot himself last night in front of his home after returning from the bank, where the directors had assembled. He had little to say at the meeting, his associates said. Stopping his motor car in front of his home, he shot himself in the head with a revolver. A small crowd was waiting at the doors of the bank this morning when the notice was posted.

OLD TIME COW TRADER DESTINED FOR OBLIVION—GETS NEW REBUFF HERE

The picturesque figure of the old time stock trader, rapidly declining character in the history of West Texas, being forced into the background on every hand by the advancing strides of progress, now is to face another rebuff here.

Following the filing of a number of complaints on charges of theft and swindling of cattle, county authorities announce that it will be a strict requirement from now on that a bill of sale be given with each stock trade. This has long been a law but its enforcement has been due to the fabled honesty of the old time trader.

Always trying to best one another in their trades, of course, but honest in their claim to ownership the traders would make their "swap" and take away their new stock with no thought of a bill of sale. This type of trader has been hurt in recent times, officers report, due to the influx of a new kind of trader—one who travels about, stealing cattle or giving cold checks for them and then selling the stock in a different locality.

In an effort to combat this practice, the sheriff's department and the county attorney's office will require a bill of sale with each purchase. They believe this will protect the legitimate trader and help trace down cattle thieves and swindlers. Two witnesses will be required to sign each bill of sale.

Farmers throughout the section are being warned to be careful with whom they trade.

HELPLESS CRAFT IS TOSSED IN WINDS AS THREE OF MOTORS GO DEAD; LANDING IS INEVITABLE

(By Associated Press)

SAILLANS, France, May 17.—The Graf Zeppelin after a struggle with the wind, late today had her nose pointed southwestward toward Montelimar where a small commercial aviation field was available.

The Graf Zeppelin tried to pass over the mountains near here but was unable to make it.

She was slanting at an angle of 45 degrees.

She then swung towards Montelimar and again entered the valley of the Rhone.

Troops were headed from Valence and other nearby garrisons to Montelimar in trucks to meet her.

It seemed inevitable that the great craft must land shortly as she swung over the Rhone valley southwest of Saillans. Only two of her motors were working.

After advising Dr. Eckner by wireless to head toward Toulon, the French authorities made every effort to get a reply from him, but when no word had been received late this afternoon it was problematical whether he had ever received the message.

Meanwhile the officials of the air and interior ministries held a conference regarding measures to assist the distressed air liner. Representatives were sent to the various points, where the Zeppelin was reported, for the purpose of giving every aid if needed.

LE BOURGET, France, May 17. (AP)—Crippled and in the grip of violent winds, the trans-Atlantic air liner Graf Zeppelin was in serious danger late today as she struggled to reach some safe haven in southeastern France.

The huge ship, which carried a crew of forty and eighteen passengers, including Mrs. Mary Pierce of New York, was swept eastward from the Rhone valley toward the barren foothills of the French Alps

TRAIL OF GIRL BANDIT TO NEW BRAUNFELS ON VENUE CHANGE

(By Associated Press)

LAGRANGE, Texas, May 17.—Although Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers wound up her legal business in this county yesterday, when her trial for bank robbery was transferred to New Braunfels, she did not leave until her lawyer husband, Otis Rogers, had fired a parting shot at Judge M. C. Jeffrey.

Rogers filed a motion to disqualify Judge Jeffrey in the case alleging the judge, during the attempts to try the case had shown himself to be "highly prejudiced."

District Attorney Fred Blundell filed a blanket denial of these allegations in opposing the motion. Arguments will be heard when the case is reopened at New Braunfels.

Mrs. Rogers is accused of the robbery of the Farmers' National Bank of Buda, in 1927. Her first trial resulted in a 14-year sentence which was upset by the appellate court.

FOLGER'S COFFEE

VACUUM PACKED

The Tinies stopped and laughed aloud. Of Clowny they were very proud. Hed tackled Mister Goofygoo and flopped him to the ground. The loaf of bread the bird held tight, now tumbled out, but seemed all right. It landed in a clump of leaves where shortly it was found.

Then Clowny said, "Now Goofygoo, I think we ought to punish you. You know it isn't right to steal. I've often taught you that. Some day I surely hope you'll see that best of all is honesty. Then I wont have to tackle you and stretch you out so flat."

The baker man strolled up real near and said, "Well lads, I sadly fear that we must chain the Goofygoo securely to my house. He must be punished for his trick so lead him there and do it quick. I'm sure this time he'll go along as quiet as a mouse."

They picked a chain that looked real strong. It didn't take them very long to make a prisoner of the bird. "This serves you right," said one. "We've chained you up for safety's sake and now the rest of us will make some bread and honey sandwiches, and have a heap of fun."

The bread, by this time, was real cool, and Scouty shouted, "Let's not fool around much more. I'm hungry, and I simply have to eat." So, when a nice clear spot was found, they all sat down upon the ground. The baker then exclaimed, "I guess we're ready for our treat."

The bread was passed to every one. When cut, they found it was well done. And soon they passed the honeycomb, and each one took his share. 'Course Clowny, quite a clumsy elf, spilled bits of his upon himself, but he could lick his fingers off, so didn't seem to care.

(The Goofygoo has his share in the next story).

CONVENTION REPORT MADE

LUBBOCK MAY BE 1931 MEETING PLACE OF CREDIT MEN

Laying particular stress on credit selling, merchants, credit men, and association managers and secretaries spent three days this week discussing a wide variety of subjects of interest to retail merchants at the annual meeting of the Retail Merchants association of Texas, at San Benito, Garnet Reeves, secretary of the Lubbock Retail Merchants association said this morning upon his return from the convention.

The convention was invited to come to Lubbock next year., however, New Braunfels was successful in securing it over the bids of Mineral Wells and Lubbock.

In spite of the handicaps of having only one representative from the entire northwest section of Texas, andd being located far from the center of the state, Lubbock's invitation brought assurance from a number of the delegates from over the state that Lubbock's claim would be given favorable consideration for the 1931 meeting in the event a good delegation is sent to New Braunfels next year to seek it.

Delegates from Houston, Port Arthur, and other South Texas cities which will have to make the longest journey in 1931 in the event Lubbock is successful in securing the convention promised to support Lubbock.

In issuing the invitation, Reeves reminded the Texas merchants that the convention has never been held in this part of the state and that the Plains of Texas has thousands of merchants doing a big volume of business, who have been handicapped in attending on account of the distance required to travel to the other sections of Texas where it has been held.

DIRIGIBLE

Dr. Hugo Ecknener, commander of the ship, wirelessed numerous appeals for permission to land at Valence. The permission was immediately wirelessed back, but the dirigible did not answer and was last reported over Saillans.

VALENCE, France, May 17 (AP).—The Graf Zeppelin made a vain attempt to land at the air field of Portes-Les-Valence before she was swept off southeast towards Saillans this afternoon.

SAILLANS, France, May 17 (AP).—At 4:45 p. m., (10:45 a. m., E.S.T.) the Graf Zeppelin was over this town navigating with the utmost difficulty. It was being carried still further southeastward by the wind at a rate of about 20 miles an hour. This town is about 25 miles southeast of Valence.

CRAFT WAS STOPPED BY VIOLENT WINDS

VALENCE, France, May 17 (AP).—After flying to the outskirts of the city the Zeppelin was brought to a standstill by the violence of the wind, which was sweeping it eastward. At 4:15 p. m. (10:15 a. m. E. S. T., she was over the little community of Crest, about 15 miles southeast of here.

Her motors appeared for a moment to have stopped entirely. Then she got under way again and seemed to be heading for the town of Saillans in the valley of the river Drome, a little further southeast of the village of Crest.

Her situation, after heading toward the valley of the Drome, appeared to be very grave indeed. There are no airfields in the direction in which she was moving and the country is savage and mountainous.

ZEPPELIN STRUGGLED UP VALLEY OF RHONE

LE BOURGET, France, May 17 (AP). — Battling strong northwest winds and with three of its five motors dead, the trans-Atlantic dirigible Graf Zeppelin slowly struggled up the Rhone valley today in an effort to reach her home port, Friedrichshafen, Germany.

The huge ship, which had set out on her second voyage to the United States and had covered approximately 1,000 miles in excellent time, had been in the air more than 33 hours at 8 a. m. eastern standard time.

As she slowly fought her way through headwinds some times almost standing still and at best making no more than 25 miles an hour, French aviation authorities here made no attempt to hide anxiety over the situation. One French dirigible expert said that with the head wind and her loss of power the airship might easily become unmanageable.

Heads to North

The Graf Zeppelin, which turned back yesterday when near the Balearic islands in the Mediterranean because of trouble with two engines, fought its way across the mouth of the Rhone at 8 a. m. (2 a. m. E. S. T.) and then headed in a northerly direction.

She was merely crawling as she was sighted at Nimes. The ship appeared above the city at 9:30 a. m., struggling hard and 20 minutes later was almost immovable over Bellegarde.

At 9:50, she appeared again to be progressing on a track to the northeast, flying at a height of about 2,500 feet. Unable to breast the full force of the wind, she continued to tack and began to make a speed of about twenty miles an hour. She was visible in the district for nearly an hour and a half before she disappeared in the direction of Montelimar, midway to Lyons.

SOUTH PLAINS

the entire South Plains is thought to have received rainfall today.

The union bus terminal here reports that the rains extended the length of all of lines running from this city. Roads and highways in every direction of Lubbock are said to be heavy and treacherous.

Up until 7 o'clock this morning the rainfall measured .8 and from that time until noon it was 1.07. Heavy laden clouds were still drizzling rainfall this afternoon, giving indication of added moisture before night.

According to Mr. Jones the heaviest previous rainfall during May was approximately five inches, almost an entire inch below the present total.

HOSPITAL BLAST

ill at their homes.

Another Victim Dies

One more victim of the gas died today. Ben Jones, 29, fullback on the 1925 Canton, Ohio, Bulldog football and prominent in professional football circles, died at his home in Grove City, Pa.

Jones was one of the first persons removed from the clinic after the blast. He told friends yesterday he felt no ill effects from the experience and yesterday drove his car to Grove City, a 150 mile trip.

Late last night Jones collapsed and he died within a few hours with his young wife and two year old daughter at his bedside.

Search For "Missing"

Physicians declared, however, that those who survive the next 24 hours probably will not suffer permanent effects of their exposure to the deadly gas. But grave concern was felt for those who were reported injured last night, and a search for 75 "missing" patients was started. These, officials announced, had appointments for examinations at the clinic. Their names were given out that they may report themselves uninjured or undergo examination. Some of these might have left the building without notifying clinic officials or police. If their lungs were filled with the gasses there still was a possibility today they might succumb.

State officials examining the X-ray film storage in the basement where the fire burned the cellulose material and filled the building with gasses, causing the explosions, laid the origin to spontaneous combustion. Escaping steam supplied the heat, they believed. Buffery Boggs, plumber, told them of fighting the thick, brownish cloud of gas alone as he attempted to repair a leak. He was blown through a door by the first explosion after emptying a fire extinguisher into the room.

Coroner A. J. Pearse announced he had found no evidences of negligence.

Lehlback, chairman of the house election committee, asking for a copy of his report of the committee's investigation at McAllen last fall into an election contest.

Aimee And Mother Solve Differences

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 17 (AP).—Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy last night declared they had smoothed over the differences which have kept them apart since August, 1927. They met yesterday when Mrs. Kennedy, who has been living in Seattle, made an unannounced visit to Los Angeles.

A row over finances of Angelus Temple, the church conducted by Mrs. McPherson, which resulted in the evangelist ousting Mrs. Kennedy from the organization, began the separation.

Moody Not Included To Present Pen Bill

AUSTIN, May 17 (AP).—Governor Moody is not inclined to sign the penitentiaries concentration bill passed by both houses and which now goes to him for his approval.

"I have not read the measure, but from newspaper accounts of its provisions I am afraid it is not practicable," he said. "I understand it creates two separate commissions, one to attempt to do something the other could not agree on. I am afraid it would merely bring about a further breach and intensify disagreement."

Governor Moody said he would sign a bill if at all "workable."

AUSTIN, May 17 (AP)—Governor Moody has virtually decided to allow an interim of one week between adjournment of the first and second called sessions, he said today.

The present session will end automatically next Tuesday.

"I believe it would be economical in the long run to let the legislature go home for a week," he said. "Information I have been able to gather indicates that should the second session follow immediately on the heels of this one, some of the members will return to their homes anyway for a week to attend to personal affairs, menacing a quorum".

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

A friend of mine—a man, needless to say—has asked me to write in my column of the kind of wife who makes her husband dissatisfied with his job, always telling him he can do better.

A friend of his has just given up a well paying job, without another in view, at the insistence of his wife. The man was worried about his friend. He had little education and experience, but his wife told him that he was "samrter than his boss," that he was unappreciated and was being made a slave of, so he left.

A wife can be a great help to her husband by taking an intelligent interest in his affairs, but far better that she take no interest at all, than an unintelligent one. And some wives, without any experience in business themselves, nag their husbands, demanding that they ask for more money, that they get home to meals on time, that they do this and that until they are worried into action against their better judgment.

Marriage should be a partnership for mutual help, and encouragement and overrating a man's ability and earning capacity, may be as injurious to him as disparaging him. The wife that is never satisfied with what a husband earns is a real vampire sucking the very lifeblood of her husband.

"DEAREST VIRGINIA LEE: Can a girl be in love with her husband and another man at the same time? I have been married one year. My husband and I went together for five and a half years and we got so used to one another that we decided to marry. I met a young man about two years ago whom I have been very interested in. We had many dates with him on the sly, and we learned to love each other very dearly. When I married it nearly broke his heart as much as mine, although I truly admit I do love my husband. I've been with my secret lover one time since. We both knew it wasn't right, so decided to try and forget. I can't and he can't—yet I love my husband too much to give him up entirely. Both fellows are wonderful men, five years my senior. I am 23, no children; so what should I do? They are both just too wonderful, and I'm so unhappy for I want both.

"SONETTE."

As you can't have both and are already married to one, you will simply have to give the other up. You knew both before you married and, of course, should not have taken that step while loving both. Now you have done so, live up to your agreement. If you did not love your husband I would say talk it over with him and see if he would set you free, but you say you cannot give him up entirely. Then give the other up altogether and make yourself so busy you will have no time for regrets.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am 23 and have a sweetheart. She is the same age as me. We don't get along extra good lately. I go to see her five nights a week and she seem sto care a lot for me, but won't let me put my arms around her and kiss her. I am expecting to get married soon, but when I ask her sometimes she says yes and sometimes she won't give me an answer. Do you think the girl loves me? SLIM."

She shows her love in a queer way if she does, Slim. I'd put the matter squarely up to her. If she will name the wedding day all right, but if she stalls around you may begin to look for a nigger in the woodpile. Maybe you have gone together so long she is tired, and if you saw her less often for a time she might appreciate you more.

KATE: I should think that the boy would at least make an effort to see you if he still cares. Do you never see him? You could invite him over if you did. The only thing you can do is to write to him or send him a message by a mutual friend. If he ignores that you must try to forget him.

HOPE: Your letter was too long for the column, but I would say that you are too young to wait for a man who is unfaithful to you now. Try to keep your faith that there are men who are true in spite of two unhappy experiences, and I am sure you will eventually meet the right one and be happy.

PAT: Don't drop your other boy friends for a boy who tries to keep two or more girls on the string. You won't win him any sooner and you'll lose many a good time.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: On Sunday, May 19, I am going to attend a baseball game. I am undecided as to what I should wear. I have a gay flowered wash silk dress which is bloused and has accordian pleated skirt. With this I wear a large picture hat. Is this an appropriate outfit for that occasion? M. J."

I think I would save such a costume for church or a garden party, dear. It might get sadly "mussed" at a ball game. The hat would shut off the view of the other spectators, you see, and so be in the way. Baseball parks are not noted for their cleanliness. People eat peanuts, ice cream cones and popcorn in their seats, smoke, etc., and a sports frock and close fitting hat that would not be easily spoiled would be best to wear.

Perhaps the most disastrous earthquake in the United States was in 1811 when a severe shock occurred in the Mississippi Valley south of Ohio. It was felt in New York and the West Indies; caused the formation of lakes and temporarily chaged the course of the Mississippi.

AIR ROUTE TO WEST IS PLAN

RAIL-PLANE LINK WILL HAVE TRANSFER AT SWEETWATER

TULSA, May 17.—St. Louis, Kansas City and the southwest will be within approximately 30 hours of Los Angeles before July 1, Erle P. Halliburton, president of the Southwest Air Fast Express, said here on his return from conferences with rail and air line officials in the east.

The fast time is made possible, Halliburton said, through arrangements to carry passengers by air from St. Louis, Kansas City and intermediate points, to Sweetwater, Texas, transfer them to a pullman attached to a fast train, and put them aboard another plane at El Paso, Texas. This plane will arrive in Los Angeles at 2 p. m., Pacific time.

The eastern terminal of the new train-plane hookup will be St. Louis, Halliburton said, pending further conferences which anticipate extending the service to New York city.

The west bound schedule calls for connection at Tulsa with the present south bound plane leaving St. Louis at 8:30 a. m., and arriving here at 12:35 p. m., and the company's plane from Kansas City, due here at 11:35 a. m. A plane will leave Tulsa at 1 p. m., arriving in Sweetwater, Texas, in time to make connection with a Texas and Pacific fast train departing at 8:10 p. m. Passengers will leave the train at El Paso at 9 o'clock mountain time(the next morning, boarding a plane which will arrive in Los Angeles at 2 p. m.

Note Was Pinned To Income Tax Return Blank

LOS ANGELES, May 17. (AP)—Pinned to the income tax return of Louis E. Barnett, wealthy Long Beach and Pasadena, Calif., shoe store owner, federal income tax inspectors said they found this note:

"This is the best I can do for you. I have listed $1,760 as an item for legal advice. Of course I didn't charge that, but we can get by with it because I don't have to file an income tax return."

Officials said the note was from Barnett's income tax counselor, George C. Terry, of Los Angeles. Today indictments charging Barnett and Terry with a conspiracy to defraud the government were returned.

Authorities said Barnett, whose income was listed at $45,811.79 for 1927, apparently forgot to remove the "documentary evidence of fraud."

RAIL EMPLOYES IN STRIKE PEACE PACT

DALLAS, May 17 (AP).—Representatives of the Texas and Pacific Railway company and of 4,000 employees who voted a strike several months ago today worked on a formal report to President Hoover of a peace pact signed by both sides yesterday. The report contained details of the signing of the agreement.

The road accepted the principle of standing at least a part of the loss sustained by employees on homes in towns from which employees were transferred. This was the major bone of contention.

Six other "cases" were presented to a federal board of mediation which President Hoover named, and these were either dropped, compromised or settled by agreement. The board sat for 10 days here and reported the testimony to the president. He reviewed the report and forwarded it to the road and employees representatives.

Robison Is Silent On Probers' Report

AUSTIN, May 17. (AP).—J. T. Robison, commissioner of the general land office, had not read the report of the joint legislative investigating committee, filed with the house and senate yesterday, criticizing certain of his official acts.

"I have nothing to say; I have not read the report," he said.

Rep. Grady Woodruff of Decatur, and others were preparing a resolution bearing upon the report, and it may be introduced today in spite of efforts of some to defer any action until the second special session so as no tto imepril pending bills during the few days remaining of this session.

FORT WORTH, May 17 (AP)—Rice, with four survivors, led the other schools in the southwest conference golf tournament as play was resumed here today.

Rice's team with a total of 329 was ten strokes better than S. M. U. with 339. Texas finished third and T. C. U. and A. and M. tied for fourth. Baylor was last. Arkansas, T. C. U., A. and M., and Texas, each had one man to pit against the quartet from Rice.

DISSOLVE LONE STAR CIRCUIT

EAST TEXAS BASEBALL LEAGUE WILL BE BROKEN UP

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, May 17.—The Lone Star Baseball League is a thing of the past, and a meeting will be held here Sunday to wind up its affairs.

This announcement was made yesterday at Tyler by President C. L. Burger of the Tyler club, who said he had been so advised by President T. H. Fisher of the league.

Fisher was in Texarkana to receive the franchise of the Texarkana club yesterday when the league blew up. The vote was unanimous, Burger said.

Indifference by fans and financial difficulties were given as the reasons for disbanding.

Blackburne Will Ban Arthur Shires

CHICAGO, May 17 (AP)—Reflecting over his fist fight with Art Shives, belligerent White Sox first baseman, in which both received facial decorations, Lena Blackburne said he would never permit Shires to play for him as long as he managed the club.

Meanwhile, shires was undecided whether to continue his law studies or to appeal for reinstatement after 10 days suspension. He and Blackburne engaged in a fist fight yesterday.

BRAVES LEARNING ART OF WINNING ONE-RUN GAMES

LOUISIANANS HAVE KEPT IN THIRD PLACE

PRATT LEADS WACOANS TO VICTORY OVER FORT WORTH

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The tenacious manner in which Shreveport has clung to third place, despite indifference pitching and injuries, make it increasingly apparent the Louisiana entry is the dark horse it was tagged before the Texas League race began.

Yesterday, when it appeared the downtrodden Beaumont Exporters were going to break their losing streak, Holman, Sport third sacker, cracked one out of the lot with a mate on base and the final score was 6 to 5 for Art Phelan's nine.

The victory established the Sports just a game and one-half behind the Houston Buffs, in second place, who were dropping their opener at Dallas, 2 and 1, after a struggle. Dallas, by winning, ran its victory streak to four straight and took definite possession of fourth place.

Pratt Pulls Out Cubs

Del Pratt pulled his Waco Cubs out of their brief slump by leading them to a 9 to 2 triumph in the first game of their series at Fort Worth. The doughty Cub pilot took Wayne Windle's place at short and delivered three singles. He also made a couple of errors, but why bring that up?

After spending 24 hours down in seventh place, the Wichita Falls Spudders slugged their way right back up into fifth place with a 7 to 5 win over the San Antonio Indians, passing both the Braves and Panthers on the way. There scarcely has been a day in two weeks that club standings have not fluctuated.

DEMPSEY MAY FIGHT AGAIN

BUT EX-CHAMPION IS KEEPING IT TO HIMSELF

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Jack Dempsey arrived from Montreal today and became the target for questioners seeking confirmation or denial of stories heralding his return to the ring at points ranging from Canada to Mexico. He denied that he had planned any statement regarding any ring activity. One promoter had intimated earlier in the week that Jack would return from Montreal ready to reveal his future plans.

"I plan no statement," said Dempsey this evening, "because I haven't got one to make. I have had many offers to fight, have had them for months, but I haven't seriously considered any of them because I have not yet decided what I am going to do. If I ever decide to fight again, I will then consider the bids, and of course, accept the best. Right now, my position is no different from what it was several weeks ago."

Dempsey's only comment on reports that he would begin conditioning at a gymnasium was that he always liked to keep in shape.

Kentucky Derby Weather Dubious

ALL SECTIONS HAVE FAVORITES IN GREAT RACE

By ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 17.—East and west, north and south will send its blue blooded horseflesh in quest of the classic three-year-old honors of the American turf tomorrow in the fifty-fifth running of the Kentucky derby.

If, as expected, a score of thoroughbreds go to the post around 5 p. m., central standard time, the race will be worth $64,000, of which approximately $54,000 will go to the victor in the struggle of speed, over the route of one mile and a quarter.

The weather prospects are dubious, with the possibility it will be a fine day for the mud runners, but rain or shine, heavy going or fast, the experts predict a "horse race" and the promoters expect a notable throng of upwards of 75,000 to jam the picturesque Churchill Downs.

Record Radio Hookup

Millions more are expected to tune in on the thrills of America's most colorful turf classic over a record radio hookup for the derby, arranged by the National Broadcasting company and its associated stations.

Derby day is Kentucky's day of days. Where England has a national institution in its own derby and France has its fashionably brilliant Grand Prix at Longchamps, the Blue Grass region has its horse race. All the color, the picturesque gathering, the blend of old traditions clings to this half century old event but, after all, it is a horse race.

Blue Larkspur Favorite

Kentucky, as usual, has its favorite. The roar of the crowd tomorrow will be from the heart, as well as the pocket book, if Blue Larkspur, the pride of the Blue Grass, comes home first in the colors of the Idle Hour farm of Col. Edward R. Bradley.

The famous son of Black Servant, declared good in any kind of going, probably will face the barrier a 2 to 1 favorite, with clyde Van Dusen, carrying the colors of H. P. Gardner, second choice, probably around 4 to 1.

The far west pins its hopes chiefly upon Naishapur, winner of the Tijuana derby and a close second in the rich Goffroth handicap. There has been a strong drift in the last day or two toward this chestnut son of Omar Khayyam, the 1917 derby winner. Ervast is another far western candidate but the railbirds doubt whether Baron Long's entry can go the route.

The southwest is expected to have at least two contenders, probably calf Roper, Louisiana derby winner, and Panchio, both carrying the colors of the Three D's stock farm of Fort Worth. The east, not so well represented as when Whiskery and Zev were favorites, nevertheless has hopes, in the fair stable's Chicatie, the Belle Isle Stable's Upset Lad and Minotaur, runner-up in the Preakness to Dr. Freeland.

RAILWAY NINE IS DEFEATED

HARDWARE MEN SCORE FOUR RUNS IN LAST STANZA TO WIN

Hardware Dealers of the City league scored four runs in the sixth inning while the Santa Fe nine was counting three and took the second game of the season at Merrill Park, yesterday, 5 to 3.

The Santa Fe really in the final spasm fell short by two runs. The losers garnered seven hits off Hinson, but the Hardware hurler bore down in the pinches, stricking out nine opposing batsmen. On several occasions, Hinson found himself in trouble but pulled out effectively.

Dunlap and Hardy did the tatzling for the Santa Fe congregation. Getting only five hits between them. The winners scored their four hits on one hit, two walks and a wild throw.

Halmark for the Hardware Dealers and Martin for the Santa Fe were slugging stars of the contest, the former poling out two singles and a triple in four times at bat while Martin slashed two doubles in three trips.

AMERICA TURNS ATTENTION TO TURFDOM'S CLASSIC

A view of the track and grandstand at Churchill Downs, Louisville, Ky., crowded with racing fans for the running of America's turf classic, the Kentucky Derby. Inset is of the start of a former race.

TURNESA NOW IN SEMI-FINAL

NEW YORKER IS ONLY SURVIVOR IN TILT AT MOORTOWN

(By Associated Press)

MOORTOWN, May 17.—Play in the Thousand Guineas professional golf tournament reached the semi-final round this morning with Joe Turnesa, of New York, sole American surviving for the semi-finals this afternoon.

Turnesa played in brilliant fashion to trounce J. J. Taylor, of Great Britain, 5 and 4, but Leo Diegel, the second American hope, was beaten by Charles Whitcombe, British Ryder cup star two and one.

In the British half of the quarter-finals, George Duncan, who eliminated Walter Hagen in the first round yesterday, was beaten by W. H. Davies, one up.

Herbert C. Jolly, Great Britain, outlasted Archie Compston, in a long drawn out battle, winning one up at the 21st hole.

GAMMILL REACHES GOLF SEMI-FINAL

Clayton Gammill advanced to the semi-finals in the Lubbock country club spring tournament Thursday afternoon when he defeated Nolan Whitlow, 4 and 3, in their 18-hole match in the second flight of the tourney.

E. T. Daniels of Idalou met his waterloo when he tangled up with Bud Roberds in a nip and tuck contest over fairway and green. Roberds won out, 4 and 3.

Ross McWhorter and Don Mitchell completed the first nine holes of their match with Mitchell up on his opponent at the turn. This match will be completed today along with the other preliminaries.

United States On Way To Net Laurels

MONTREAL, May 17. (AP)—The United States team apparently has hurdled the first obstacle in its campaign to bring back the Davis cup tennis trophy from France.

Victory yesterday in the first two singles matches in the first round American zone cup tie gave the United States a lead that the Dominion hardly can overcome.

The two United States victories yesterday were turned in by John Hennessey of Indianapolis and John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J.

Van Ryn conquered Willard F. Crocker, 9-7, 6-2, 6-3. Hennessey dropped a set to Dr. Jack Wright, but won, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5.

BUNION BOYS TO COLORADO

DERBY RUNNERS FACE 30 MILE SPRINT IN RACE TODAY

(By Associated Press)

SWEETWATER, May 17.—Colorado, 30 miles from here, was the goal of C. C. Pyle's transcontinental bunion artists today.

at today's start less than an hour separated Pete Gavuzzi, England, and John Salo, Passaic, N. J., holders respectively of first and second places. The New Jersey cop had gained steadily on Gavuzzi in the past few weeks, and picked up 11 more minutes yesterday as he won the lap from Anson.

The dirt road patters have traveled 2,195.5 miles since March 31, and for more than four weeks the Gavuzzi-Salo battle has been bitter.

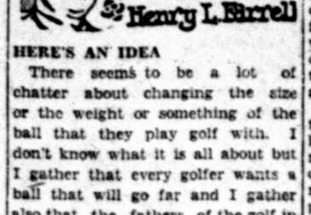

Pyle rejoined the troup last night, his arm, broken during a recent ride in a West Texas taxicab, in a sling.

The first eight in elapsed time this morning were:

BOSTON TEAM TAKES CLOSE GAMES OFF GIANTS; CARDINALS SLIP AHEAD OF IDLE CUB SQUAD

BY WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Braves stay up there another month, they may begin to believe they belong in the first tou At any event, Emil Fuchs seems t have taught the tribe the first prin ciple a team must absorb to escap from the second division—the art o winning the one-run games instea of losing them. His warriors yes terday shaded the Giants, 4 to and 5 to 4.

The Cardinals slipped ahead the idle Cubs into the league le by outlasting Pittsburgh in a ter round melee at Forbes field. Th champions scored one run in th ninth and another in the tenth pull out the decision by 10 to Almost everybody except Bush a Southworth pitched, and Bottomle hit two home runs.

The Robins rounded out the N tional League program in their cu tomary manner, losing their nint straight to the Phillies, 7 to 4. Th only unusual item connected wit this statement is that Dazzy Jan was on the firing line for Brookly

The Cubs and the Reds were i

HERE'S AN IDEA

There seems to be a lot of chatter about changing the size or the weight or something of the ball that they play golf with. I don't know what it is all about but I gather that every golfer wants a ball that will go far and I gather also that the fathers of the golf in Scotland will have nothing to do with American officials in considering whatever kind of a change they want to make.

In line with the suggestion of Mr. O. B. Keeler, the sage of Atlanta, it would seem sensible for the golf association to go ahead and change the ball and say nothing about it if they insist upon giving the game a new ball.

Keeler points out, in his humorous way, that when the baseball people decided to breed a little rabbit in the ball used in their game they proceeded to do it without any publicity. And when the storm of protest broke from the pitchers they had nothing to say.

DUFFERS NOT SO QUICK

The pitchers and the ball players were quick to sense that the ball was livelier than it used to be and they had their own opinions about the alibi made by the manufacturers that a better quality of wool available since the war had increased the resiliency of the ball.

It isn't likely that the average golfer would be so quick to detect a change in the golf ball and the experiment could be made without danger.

THE WRONG MAN

Louisville had two great ball players in 1923. They were Wayland Dean, a pitcher, and Earl Combs, an outfielder. So many major league clubs were after them that the Louisville owners were placed in the comfortable position of sitting back and listening to the highest bids.

The New York Giants, apparently, stepped to the head of the line and had their choice of the two stars McGraw liked Dean better and bought him for $50,000. The Yankees then came along and took Combs for $45,000.

Today Combs is one of the star outfielders in baseball and one of the greatest team players. Dean is playing the outfield with Dayton in the Central League.

BUT MAC DIDN'T KNOW

The bad way in which the deal turned out for the Giants is not a reflection on the judgement of McGraw, however. He said later he figured at the time that he needed a pitcher more than an outfielder.

And then he did not know that Dean was not strong and was not in the best of health. Dean didn't know it himself perhaps. But he was never able to deliver for the Giants and he finally ended up in the minors with lung trouble and a dead arm.

He recovered his health in Texas but his arm never came back for pitching and he turned to the outfield.

FARM MEASURE IN CONFERENCE

SPECIAL RULE IS MADE FOR DISPUTED PROVISION

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The senate's incorporation of export debenture legislation in the farm relief bill put up to the house today the unusual procedure of acting under a special rule to submit to conference a measure on which the two chambers are in disagrement.

One hour was taken out of the time for general debate on the tariff bill to give the membership an opportunity to discuss the plan agreed upon by the republican leaders and the rules committee looking to immediate arbitration of the farm relief disagreement.

Only a majority vote was needed for adoption of the special rule, designed to prevent a lengthy controversy between the two branches of congress over the senate's right to initiate the debenture legislation, which the house leaders regard as an invasion of their chamber's exclusive privilege of orginating revenue measures.

The rule was drafted to make clear the position of the house that it did not intend to relinquish its constitutional right with respect to revenue legislation, but was making an exception because of the emergency nature of the farm bill.

Administration leaders in both chambers have expressed confidence the conferees on the bill will eliminate the debenture provision voted into it by a 47-44 vote of the senate despite President Hoover's vigorous objections to the plan.

The house is still busy with tariff debate, with the general discussion threatening to run somewhat beyond the time limit tentatively set by republican leaders. The ways and means committee republicans who framed the measure are continuing their work on requests for amendments from eastern and western representatives whose dissatisfaction with the rate increases they proposed has held up action on a special rule to limit consideration of amendments.

The senate, meanwhile, has taken action on what some view as a preliminary maneuver in the impending contest over the proposed increases in sugar duties by adopting a resoution directing the tariff commission to submit copies of all reports on sugar production costs sent to the president prior to March 4, 1929, and not heretofore made public.

Why your mouth should water

Libby's Sweet Mixed Pickles are ideal for this purpose. Just to see those crunchy, tantalizing little onions, bits of cauliflower, and cucumbers starts your mouth watering.

Contrasts

Daily life in this country is so full of contrasts that we don't ordinarily pay much attention to them.

Sometimes, though, they're sharp enough to make us stop and do a little thinking. That's always good for us—and sometimes it results in progress.

A certain mid-western manufacturing city recently staged a week of grand opera. Its expensive public auditorium housed the event. Every night big automobiles rolled up to the entrance, and expensively clad men and women alighted, paused on the sidewalk to be seen by the less resplendent citizens, and went inside.

The opera week was a great success. It proved, first, that the city had a great many inhabitants who enjoyed good music; and it also proved that the city was very rich—for, otherwise, it could not afford to pay for a week of grand opera.

Now it happened that right across the street from the hall where the opera was held there stands another building owned by the city, and in this building the city conducts a free employment agency.

So every day, while the vari-colored canopies and resplendent signs testified to the presence of grand opera in the one building, several score of very ragged, unwashed, discouraged looking men clustered across the street and waited their names to be called by the employment clerks.

On one side of the street was a glittering display of great riches; on the other side there was a much less glittering display of great poverty.

On one side a gilt sign over a doorway read: "Dress circle;" on the other side there was a daub of a sign announcing that a dozen pick and shovel men were needed—and 40 men were jammed about it, competing for the chance to earn a few dollars.

A contrast such as that is sharper than we ordinarily see. It made at least a few of the people who saw it feel uncomfortable—for a moment, at least. And that is an encouraging sign.

It is only when such things begin to bother us that we can begin to do something about them.

Great poverty and great wealth have always existed side by side. Happiness has always lived just across the road from misery.

Once that fact begins to worry us—once we reach the realization that such a state of affairs is eternally wrong—there will be hope that a change can be made.

Then there won't be so many contrasts—or so much misery.

A Change

The present congress is going to have some knotty problems to solve changes. It will have plenty of in connection with the new tariff chances to make blunders.

Chief among these chances is that presented by the proposal to lay a heavy import tax on sugar from the Philippines.

The situation in the Philippines, thanks to the wise administration of Governor Generals Wood and Stimson, has improved immensely in the last few years. The demands for independence is no longer the sharp, acrid thing it was a short time ago. More and more the Filipinos have come to realize that the retention of the island by the United States will work for their own advantage.

To slap a stiff tariff on Philippine sugar would be to end this happy situation and bring back the old dissatisfaction. Overnight the "Philippine question" would become vexatious again. The painstaking work of conciliation would be undone.

The foreign trade of the United States in bare copper wire during 1928 amounted to $2,642,195.

THE PLAINSMAN Says

That Girl on Broadway says a fetching costume is any costume that will fetch a man.

San Angelo becomes the terminus of a new airline running there from Tulsa, via Abilene. At Tulsa connections are offered for Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, New York and, for that matter, for almost anywhere one would like to go. Lubbock, it seems, hasn't started being air-minded one whit too soon. We already have a long row to hoe to catch up with other leading West Texas cities in the matter of aerial transport.

San Angeloans may now leave their homes at 8 o'clock on any morning and whiz into Tulsa at 1:30 that afternoon. They can be in Kansas City the same day, or in St. Louis the same day if they so desire as once again the forces of man beat back the omnipotent demands of time. Southwest Texas—one of the last of America's frontiers—is linked in most modern methods with the busy marts of the middle west.

Oil operations in West and Southwest Texas will likely be given added impetus through the daily service between San Angelo and Tulsa, as the San Angelo Evening Standard defines it as "Linking the oil fields of the southwest with the oil capital of the world." Tulsa, you know, is the home of more important figures in the petroleum industry than any other place. With West and Southwest Texas "just around the corner," more of these oil executives will get down this way, personally investigate conditions and take steps to share in the profits. The line means great things for both San Angelo and to Abilene.

Lubbock is "out of line" with the Angelo-Tulsa service, which makes stops at Abilene, Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City. This city, in all probability, will never be included in that line but that doesn't mean that the road is closed to Lubbock's being linked with important cities by way of the air. Get your map and your ruler and here's what you'll find:

Lay the ruler in a northeasterly direction from El Paso—already a great air center—to Tulsa, which is the center of a network of aerial lines. You'll find Lubbock right in line between those two places, which will certainly have daily service between them before very long—a good omen.

Look over to the left and find San Francisco. Lay your ruler so that it connect Frisco and Fort Worth. What do you find? Lubbock's in line again. The same situation holds when you connect Denver with Laredo, air mail points, and Memphis and Phoenix. While we're still behind in the air way the skies don't look so dark and gloomy when you think the question over.

It won't be long until the principal cities of the national are all connected by airways. You may just as well admit it whether you believe in aviation or not. In this Sparsely populated section Lubbock still has its opportunity to count in a network of airlines. It will pay us to be looking in that direction.

HELP! HELP! HELP!

It sounds important as can be
High-powered, yet I'll venture
Not half the people in this land
Can well define "debenture!"

The Senate votes it—Hoover's beat
In his great farm adventure;
It gives us lots to read about—
This funny word 'debenture!'

The wise birds swear—they tear their hair,
Their dictionary's indenture.
But still they're dumb as oysters.
When you speak the term 'debenture.'

Whether very interesting or not, the above poem is typical of the farm relief situation as it has been and now stands. Nobody understands the needs of the agricultural belt, it seems, and few appear to care very much about them except those who hope to profit thereby. What farming needs is the same import and export protection that other big business has been receiving under the rule of Wall Street. When agriculture is given that aid business generally will be on a more stable basis.

Virginia Congressman Presents Bill To Have Members Of Cabinet Report To Congress Each Week Of Session

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Looking forward optimistically to a day when cabinet officers will all be more or less efficient, Congressman Andrew Jackson Montague of Virginia is preparing to push his bill providing for the frequent presence of heads of the executive departments on the floor of the senate and of the house.

Montague's bill proposes that the cabinet members occupy seats on the floor at the opening of the senate's sessions on Tuesdays and Fridays and at the opening of the house proceedings on Monday and Thursday, with the right to participate in debate and under compulsion to answer such questions as members might put to them. The cabinet men would be permitted to send their assistants, however, except in cases where a secretary's personal presence was especially requested.

Would Have Bothered Fall

If such a bill had become law at almost any time in the past, there probably would have been some prompt cabinet resignations. Even now, it might have some such effect. At any rate, if Mr. Fall and Mr. Daugherty had been up against such a system their lot would have been far more embarrassing. And one might rake up more than one instance where cabinet members have been shown to be ignorant about some of the most important problems in their departments.

Such a system has been working for a long time in European parliaments, and democracies which have it appear to be quite satisfied. Montague says the principle of his bill has had the support of Elihu Root, William Howard Taft and Woodrow Wilson.

A joint committee of house and senate recommended it 30 or 40 years ago. Montague first introduced the bill 12 or 13 years ago and everyone has always said it was a nice bill, but now he thinks it's time something was done about it.

'Legislation would be greatly expedited," he says. "The system would quicken the interest and increase the knowledge of the American people in the process and substance of legislation. Knowledge would be stimulated because the people would read the interpellations and the speeches of cabinet members, whereas they now pay little attention to the daily proceedings of congress.

"The intellectual qualities of cabinet members would increase almost automatically. The department heads would have to have both the knowledge and the ability to expound.

"Relations between the executive and legislative branches would be brought out in the open and we wouldn't have to depend on backstairs conferences and private sessions between individuals. We could make certain exception regarding interpellations on delicate subjects such as foreign relations and wars as might seem necessary.

"If an honest cabinet member faced an unjust accusation he would be able to come here and defend himself. If such a cabinet member were guilty of improper conduct, we would rapidly find it out. And if cabinet members were shown to be incompetent and unfit for office no president would dare keep them on the job.

"The great objection is that the department heads would be heckled, but I believe common decency and general resentment would prevent any unfair treatment.

"Right now we have what Woodrow Wilson once called a leaderless government, with three separate branches and no actual co-ordination, which is what we need."

Montague has been a distinguished lawyer. He has been governor of Virginia, dean of Richmond college law school, president of the American Peace society and a biographer of John Marshall. He was elected to the sixty-third congress from the Richmond district.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE PLAINSMAN

Having read the paragraph in your Monday column relative to the "wrangling" of the Southern Baptist convention on the question of a woman's addressing the convention, I should like to correct the impression you have of the incident.

I was present at every session of that convention which approximated thirty eight and a half hours or 2,310 minutes. Of that entire time only ten minutes was given over to the so-called wrangle.

The gentleman from Kentucky who objected to a woman's speaking was granted ten minutes to present his objections, which he did with great earnestness. At the conclusion of his remarks the chairman on order of business replied that the convention had invited Mrs. Cox to address it at that hour. The vote was put, and while no count was made I would judge that the vote stood 1,000 to 1 as opposed to the "Memorial from Kentucky" as it was printed on the program.

The "extending of the Kingdom of God" was indeed the major theme. There were present representatives of the Baptist faith, and Southern Baptist work, from Europe, China, Argentina, Brazil, Cuba, Mexico, Africa, Chili, Palestine and Syria, every one of whom had more time before the Convention than the famous question which the Plainsman called a 'silly topic. There were also representatives of our mission work in America—Jews, Italians, Indians of the Osage, Sac, Kickapoo, Pawnee, Otoe, Fox, Iowa, Ponca and Kaw tribes; spokesmen from our rescue missions; Negroes, Mexicans—all who were heard for a longer period of tmie than was given to the aforesaid 'silly topic."

Really, isn't the public "gyped" oftentimes by the "silly topics" which the press emphasizes out of all proportion?

Mary King Provence.

Study Cotton Boll Worm In This Area

Mr. Todd will make his headquarters at the experiment station here, and before the actual work relative to the boll worm is taken up he will do scouting on the South Plains in an effort to determine the danger that this section of the country is in from the southwestern corn borer.

SPUR, May 17.—The Christian church will begin a series of meetings beginning May 19, and Rev. Abbott, pastor of the local church, will conduct the services. Following this series of meetings the Baptist church will begin a meeting that will run for a ten day period. Dr. Neal of El Paso will occupy the pulpit during this series of meetings, and the church has secured J. D. Riddle of Amarillo to direct the singing.

In New York

By Swan

NEW YORK, May 17. — Each sailing of an Atlantic liner, at this season of year, represents a small fortune spent in flowers and sweets.

The stateroom of a celebrity or a popular Broadway beauty is likely to contain thousands of dollars worth of orchids and baskets of posies. They arrive, not by messenger or delivery man, but are dumped upon the docks by the truckload. The morning of an important sailing sees the piers abloom and a few hours before the final gong rings sees a score of flunkies carrying festooned boxes and didoes up the gangplank.

Certain caterers make "ship packages" a speciality, and what they charge is at least none of my business. I have been told that the gallant array of presents on an average sea giant could not be purchased for $25,000. This of course does not include the $10,000 bracelets and necklaces presented by the butter-and-eggers to their blond girl friends.

The push carts of the famous East Side make gallant efforts to keep in step with the tastes of the times.

In days agone, the wares of the push cart(were push cart wares and they were nothing more. But what with radioes, phonographs and player pianos in every tenement, the stocks have undergone a complete turnover. Displays of records and radio tubes are as common now as carts loaded with dried herring and questionable necktie.

The largest buyers of piano roll records, I was informed the other day are Italians.

There's a saying along Broadway that whenever you see a theatrical flop you'll "find an angel in the wings."

Surely theatrical 'angels" are a strange tribe. In the event that you are innocent in such matters, an "angel" is the fellow who puts up the money for certain stage ventures.

Quite frequently some stage-minded cutie talks him into putting up his cash so that she can appear in the bright lights, if only for a few nights. The bills faced bby an "angel" run well into the tens of thousands.

Generally an angel knows nothing about the stage, but because his money is involved he assumes a very wise attitude. Not infrequently they are other wise shrewd business men who have heard of the fortunes made by a few successes and are out for quick profits. They have the notion that anything with a risque situation or a sexy title is going to bring in the money. The intrinsic merits of a drama mean nothing to them; nor are they capable of understanding this all-important factor.

Few indeed of the great successes are backed by the "Shekrubic hosts"—as they are also called.

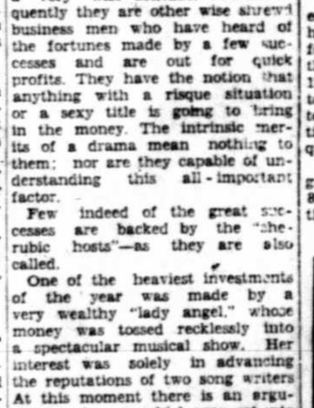

One of the heaviest investments of the year was made by a very wealthy "lady angel," whose money was tossed recklessly into a spectacular musical show. Her interest was solely in advancing the reputations of two song writers At this moment there is an argument underway, which may get into the courts, The angel claims that most of her money went into finery for the chorines and that the elegently-shaped leading lady was unable to put the songs over. The angel demanded that the leading lady be given immediate notice.

Outside of Otto Kahn, the banker—who is the town's outstanding angel — few of the investors will put money into plays with artistic merit. Kahn, on the other hand has poured several fortunes into productions which were almost certain of commercial failure, and equally certain of artistic success.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters M.D.

CONSULT A SPECIALIST IN CASE OF ABSCESSES IN YOUR CHILD'S EAR

Answers to Mothers

God could not be everywhere; therefore He made mothers.—Jewish Proverb.

Abscessed Ears in Children

"Are abscessed ears to be expected among young children? I have a child of four years who has had these abscesses since she was 22 months old, sometimes as often as every three weeks. Is this an abnormal condition? I have been advised that the removal of the tonsils and adenoids would remedy this condition? I have addition as her tonsils are enlarged and fill her entire throat. I think I'll have them removed; perhaps they will stop her head colds. Do mastoids return after having two operations on them? MRS. G."

Abscesses of the ears certainly are not to be expected, Mrs. G. Undoubtedly your child gets the abscesses so often because the obstructing tonsils and adenoids do not permit the right drainage from the eustachian tubes and permit the infections from the throat to spread to the ears.

You must see a nose and throat specialist immediately, for your little girl may have untold damage done to her from these constant abscesses—total deafness, perhaps, or infection may lead up to the brain. I don't have to tell you that this is very serious. Obstructive adenoids and tonsils are not only feeding places for germs, but they prevent proper breathing and so insufficient oxygen; the child becomes anemic and undernourished and the nose and mouth and chest may be deformed. There is also a retardment of the mental growth.

Yes, inflammation of the mastoids may recur if the original infection is not cleared up.

"I am a young mother with my first baby, and of course I want her to be a modern, model baby—or, as it is usually termed, 'raised by the book.' She is a breast fed baby and my book says to give her orange juice and cod liver oil at three months, even though she is breast fed. I asked my doctor about this and he pooh-poohed the idea, saying that a breast fed baby needed nothing extra until weaned. I hate to admit, but I don't believe him, so I come to you for advice.

"I've read too much about rickets due to the absence of sun baths and cod liver oil. If you advocate the use of orange juice and cod liver oil as early as the third month, what amounts of each shall I give and when do I increase and how much? When do I begin to give her spinach and carrots and vegetable and fruit juices, and how much? MRS. N."

I hate to admit something, too, Mrs. N., and that it that your doctor isn't keeping up with his medical literature and evidently hasn't had much practice with babies. For breast fed babies not infrequently get rickets and so they need cod liver oil to prevent it, just as they need orange juice to prevent scurvy. And they are especially liable to these diseases if the mother's diet isn't correct.

The modern baby specialist gives cod liver oil just as regularly and just as early as he does orange juice. It can be begun as early as the third month, by giving two or three drops, before feeding; then increasing a couple of drops a day until it is getting a teaspoonful twice a day. Orange juice can be begun with one-half teaspoonful (in water) and increased one-quarter to one-half teaspoonful a day until the baby is getting at least two ounces. By the time he is five or six months old, he can be having the juice of a whole orange every day. (Tomato or fresh cabbage juice answers the same purpose.)

At five or six months, the baby can begin to have some cereal and pureed vegetables. Next Friday and Saturday I'll run a feeding schedule for babies from six to twelve months of age. Watch for these, Mrs. N.

We have a list of books on the general care and feeding of children which you may have by following column rules.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and two cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters in care of this paper.

Who's Who and Timely Views

SENTIMENT DECLARED TO FAVOR SUSPENSION OF ALL IMMIGRATION

BY ALBERT JOHNSON, Congressman from Washington

(Albert Johnson was born at Springfield, Ill., March 5, 1869. He was educated in high school. He first learned the printer's trade. In 1896 he became managing editor of the New Haven (Conn.) Register. The following year he was news editor of the Washington (D. C.) Post, and then served as editor of the Tacoma (Wash.) News for eight years. Since 1906 he has been editor and publisher of the Grays Harbor Washingtonian. He was elected to congress in 1913 and has been returned every term. Since 1919 he has been chairman of the committee on immigration and naturalization. He is a Republican and his home is in Hoquiam, Wash.)

The public wants no more immigration. It is an exact fact that 80 per cent of all the men elected to the present sitting house of representatives were elected with the idea of more restriction of immigration as well as nearly all of the senators elected at the last election.

The population of the United States is increasing now at the rate of one every 20 seconds, three a minute, 180 an hour, 1,500,000 a year. You cannot solve this question simply because some people think they can bring in a little cheaper labor.

In my opinion this matter is marching along so fast that the United States chamber of commerce in its desire to point the way might just as well take a bold step and advocate a suspension of immigration from all countries, with the exception of certain close family relatives, wives, children, fathers and mothers. I think this is an inevitable step.

In my opinion after having been pretty well around the United States and after having been in a position where I receive an enormous, unbiased mail, the movement is for a complete restriction of immigration.

It has been said that the national origins provision will create a continual cleavage between our people. Why, of course, it will. In my opinion, it is creating now a cleavage which is not only religious, but political and social and racial. Why not have done with it. It has been said that we are all looking to the future. Of course, we are, and this increase in our population makes us look to the future.

I happened to be chairman of the house committee on immigration when the act of 1924 was written and amended in the house. I did not favor national origins then and I hardly favor it now.

The only demand now for immigrants by any class of people is demand for serf labor and servants.

Protein Testing Stations Sought

WASHINGTON, May 17 (AP).—A bill by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, for establishment of protein testing laboratories in wheat growing states to aid farmers in determining the full value of their crops, was passed today by the senate to the house.

Walsh explained that the purpose of the proposed laboratories was two fold: First, to make tests in connection with general surveys of the protein content of the crop prior to harvesting or during the early movement of the crop so that basic information would be available on which protein premiums might be established and stabilized; and, to provide facilities by which farmers and others may conveniently have their wheat tested at the time of marketing.

Moody Is Offered Newspaper Chance

AUSTIN, May 17. (AP)—Governor Moody has an opportunity to "team up" with Gene Howe, Amarillo editor-publisher, in the newspaper business.

Since publication of the governor's ambition to become a newspaper writer, he received many offers.

Some were serious and others facetious.

Howe advised the governor that he would go in with him and put up the money to publish a newspaper at any point he (the governor) selected.

ENGROSS JUDICIARY BILL

AUSTIN, May 17. (AP)—Refusing to postpone indefinitely a bill creating the 12th supreme judicial district, the house today engrossed the measure 72-33.

HIGHER CABLES PULL PRICES UPWARD ON OPENING

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, May 17 (AP).—The cotton market opened steady in response to higher cables than due. First trades showed gains of 5 to 6 points and July soon traded to 18.80, or 8 points above yesterday's close. Later positions, however, did not advance beyond opening figures.

Towards the end of the first hour buying became more aggressive due to indications of rains. The undertone was steady and prices were at the top.

Some selling followed publication of the government's revised crop figures construed as bearish. July eased off to 18.67, October 18.53 and December 18.65, or 12 to 13 points down from the highs.

NEW YORK, May 17 (AP).—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 6 points to a decline of 1 point, generally 3 to 6 points higher on covering and some local or commission house buying, promoted by relatively steady cables and bullish private crop reports from Texas. July sold up to 18.77 and December to 18.86 during the first few minutes or about 6 to 8 points net higher, but the market met considerable realizing and had about lost its advance by the end of the first half hour.

Trading was quiet later with prices sagging off as if influenced by a more favorable view of the weather outlook. July worked off to 18.65 and December to 18.75 or some 10 to 12 points from the high prices of the morning, with the market at midday ruling about 4 to 8 points net lower.

20 YEAR SEARCH IS REWARDED AT LAST

"I've Been Entirely Relieved Of All My Troubles Since Using Orgatone," Says Lubbock Farmer

"I have been entirely relieved of all my troubles that lasted for twenty years, and I will never cease to be grateful to Orgatone," said W. W. Watts, of 2109 Twentieth St., Lubbock, Texas.

"My health has been broken down and in a general run-down condition for a long time," he continued, "I had a chronic case of stomach trouble and until recently I did not know what it was to have a well day. Gas formed on my stomach and pressed against my heart which would palpitate so that I would feel as if I were going to smother. I was so nervous and miserable I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep. I had no appetite and when I did eat would have to force myself and then the food soured on my stomach and I would bloat up and would be very uncomfortable for hours afterward. I had a terrible case of constipation and always had that tired feeling and felt so no account when I got up in the morning.

"I read so much about Orgatone I decided to try it and one bottle has certainly restored my health and I am glad to make this statement so that others may know about Orgatone and may be relieved from the suffering I had to endure for so many years. Orgatone has given me an appetite and I eat three hearty meals a day and don't have a bit of trouble with gas or palpitation of the heart. I retire early every night, go to sleep almost as soon as I lie down and sleep peacefully. My constipation has all gone and in fact, I feel fine in every way. Orgatone is certainly a wonderful medicine and if I had found it some twenty years ago I would be a different man today and have money in the bank that I spent for doctors and medicine, so I am glad to tell the people about it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store, under the personal direction of the special Orgatone representative. Out of town customers are being supplied by mail upon receipt of price $1.25 for one bottle or 6 bottles for $6.25. Adv.

Watch Tongue For Signs of Illness

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90 per cent of all sicknesses start with stomach and bowel trouble.

Look at your TONGUE every morning!

A white or yellowish coating on your tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders. It tells you why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

And it's a sign you need Tanlac. This good old reliable medicine has helped thousands who were physical wrecks. See how the first bottle helps you.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, herbs and roots—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

PADUCAH TEAM TO BATTLE HUBBERS

Word was received here this morning from Manager Gilbert Jackson of the Lubbock Hubbers that the Paducah semi-pro baseball nine will appear in Lubbock Monday and Tuesday of next week in a series with the local aggregation.

The Paducah team is one of the strongest teams in West Texas and promise to give the Hubbers a couple of stiff games.

Sunday afternoon, the Hubbers meet Littlefield at Merrill Park. It will be the first appearance of the recently organized semi-pro outfit here.

Shipments of electrical equipment from the United States during 1928 were valued at $110,720,121, an increase of $8,213,664 over 1927.

BEST LAXATIVE THEY'VE FOUND

Black-Draught Used by Parents of Large Arkansas Family for 25 Years.

Hatfield, Ark.—Mr. G. W. Parsons, a well-known resident of near here, says:

"Black-Draught is the best all-around medicine I have ever found for constipation. We began using it 25 or more years ago.

"I have never found any other medicine as good for constipation, and that was what I suffered with till I began using Black-Draught.

"It sets on our shelf and we don't let it get out. It has been a great help to us. I believe a great deal of sickness is caused by hurried eating and constipation, and Black-Draught, if taken right, will correct this condition."

"I am the mother of eight boys and ten girls," says Mrs. Parsons, telling how useful Black-Draught has been when the children needed a laxative. "For those who didn't like to take it in the powdered form, I made a tea from it. I gave it when they had colds, would get bilious, come in with the headache, or such complaints, and it usually made them feel better. I used to have severe headaches and Black-Draught was a great benefit."
