Talco Halloween Carnival Is $4,584.81 Success

Talcoans were out Saturday night at the Talco Elementary School to bring success to the annual Halloween Carnival Fund Drive for a gross income totaling $4,584.81. The proceeds, less expenses, will provide a project for student use to be decided upon later.

The Carnival began with a Mexican plate consisting of Tacos, Enchiladas, beans and salad. Also served were Chili Dogs, Frito Pies, pies and cakes prepared by ladies of the P.T.O.

Following the supper, Halloween Queens were crowned at the coronation in the school auditorium.

Misses of Ceremonies was Stacie Parish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scooter Parish.

Scepter bearers were Jackie Reed and Admenda Stansell. They were escorted by Shane Thompson and Brian Ottinger.

Timber Producers To Meet

A county wide meeting for Timber Producers will be held in the District Court Room in Clarksville, at 7 p.m. November 6, reports County Agent Bob Moody.

Jim Chandler and Charles Slaton, forest specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will present the program. The specialist will emphasize improving timber stand for maximum production, harvesting and marketing.

A new crop, "Christmas Tree Production," will also be discussed. "There are several plantings of Christmas trees just south of us, and farmers are excited about the results they are obtaining from these plantings," Moody said.

Moody states this program will be interesting and educational to all attending.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Rivercrest Dumps Ore City 37-14

It shouldn't have been a shock to Rivercrest varsity fans when Ore City came out Friday night passing like a college team and scaring the Rebels with 14 early points. Rivercrest gained their composure for the 37-14 win, but it was in spite of 15 passes completed by Ore City for 225 yards.

The Friday night game should have made the seventh grade Rebels, who were crushed Thursday night 12-0, feel somewhat better. Ore City's seventh grade quarterback is almost as accomplished as their varsity quarterback at passing, and the eighth grade helmetsman was no slouch either. Rivercrest's eighth grade won their game against Ore City 36-0, but the tendency of the Ore City coaching staff to teach passing over the run was most evident all the way to the beginning, in the seventh grade. And even though the passing was impressive and fun to watch, it didn't win the football game for Ore City. The old rule still stands: you have to establish the run to pass successfully, and Ore City's ground game was severely lacking.

At half time Friday night it was still anyone's ball game, with the Rebels just beginning to move their offensive unit on the ground as quickly as Ore City was moving through the air.

The first Rebel possession of the game was stymied by the Ore City defense after one first down, and Ore City went to the air early, completing four passes for 41 yards in the first period, including one for the touchdown. Ore City elected to kick the extra point, and that decision enabled the Rebels to score two points after on their first touchdown and maintain their lead.

The first Rivercrest score was a surprise to everyone, following a strong drive from the Ore City 47 yard line to the five. There the Rebel were assessed a holding penalty, and were first and goal from the Ore City 22 yard line. It was a passing situation, but the Rivercrest passing game has been somewhat less than successful this season, so the run was expected. Surprise. Rebel quarterback Dale Jean connected with halfback Billy Froelich in the end zone, and made it look easy. The call was for the run to attain a one point lead, and Froelich raced around left end for the two points.

The one point lead lasted exactly four plays, and the explosive Ore City team covered 68 yards in the air to the one yard line, where a quarterback sneak iced the cake. Still not sure about their running game, Ore City again elected to kick the ball through the uprights for a single point after.

Again the lead lasted exactly four plays, when halfback Jimmy Via went through the right side, cut back against the grain and ran 23 yards for the touchdown. Via's extra point kick was good, and the Rebels led 15-14.

The next Ore City possession was shut down when Jean intercepted a pass on the Ore City 32 yard line. Not to be outdone, Ore City's split end, number one, Miltin Conwright gathered in a pass from Jean to plays later. The Ore City defense became weaker and weaker as the strong Rebel offensive line and running back went to work in the third quarter. Ore City made one first down before having to punt the ball away, and the Rebels let the punt roll to the 19 yard line.

Moving the ball was no problem now for the Rebels, as they gained 81 yards in nine plays for the first TD of the second half. Froelich was devastating around the left end and Via slipped through the middle to the five yard line, where Jean went over on a quarterback sneak.

The Rebel defense made the difference in the third quarter, when they stopped an Ore City drive on the one yard line. A passing attempt by Ore City quarterback Tommy Hooper was broken up by Gregg Norman, who pressured Hooper into making a bad throw.

The fourth quarter belonged to the Rebels, and notice of the fact was served by Froelich, who found some running room and scampered 51 yards before being cut off.

From the Ore City 26, the Rebels moved to the six yard line, when two penalties for See FOOTBALL, Page 8

Ambulance Service Incorporates

The Red River Ambulance Service, a non-profit Texas corporation, became fully operational Thursday as directors began soliciting memberships in the locally-operated organization.

Perry O'Brian, president of the new group, told directors and other workers meeting at the City Hall at 10 a.m. that the incorporation papers, carried to Austin by secretary-treasurer Bob Saint, had been fully approved by the Secretary of State, activating the organization.

"It is time to stop looking behind us at the Ambulance Service we had before," O'Brian said. "This situation is now being handled by others in the Courts. The time is here for all of the County to move forward with the new Service, looking to the future, with an objective of giving the best possible service at the lowest possible price."

Corporation officers are serving without charge and no profits, if any, from the Service can accrue to any member or officer.

Those meeting decided to begin the operational control when a minimum of funds can be obtained. The Service already owns, subject to a lien, the two ambulances being used, one stationed in Clarksville and one in Bogata with considerable equipment.

The directors agreed to continue with the present ambulance attendants who have widespread public approvals, James Vaughan and Mark Mallory in Clarksville and Roy Lee Hutson and Gene Kilmer in Bogata. O'Brian also announced that Clarksville City Clerk Rosemary Caviness has agreed to act as bookkeeper for the Ambulance Service in her spare time, being paid a nominal salary only for time actually worked.

Memberships went on sale Thursday. Membership fees will be $50 per year for the family membership, the most, popular type; $30 for an individual membership; and a graded amount for business and industries.

Businesses with employment up to 50 persons may cover those in the building or workers enroute to or from work for $100; those with 51 to 100 employees, $150; and those with more than 100 workers, $200. The fee will be for a year, in this case through Nov. 30, 1980, as the fiscal year of the corporation runs from Dec. 1 through Nov. 30.

Those persons requiring ambulance service who are not members will be charged $60 plus $1.50 per mile, one way, to the hospital of destination. Subscribers may have unlimited am-balance service as medically required up to 50 miles one way without additional charges. Trips over 50 miles will be billed at $1 per extra mile for subscribers.

The present service has been operating since Loyd's left the County on an interim basis funded by allocations See AMBULANCE, Page 8

Editor,

The Bogata News:

This Saturday, November 3, 1979, Bogata citizens have an opportunity to say YES to the proposed community clean-up campaign. As citizen and pastor, I invite one and all to turn out and "pitch in" so that good old Bogata can be a cleaner, neater place for everybody.

The key word here is PRIDE. Everyone ought to have enough pride in this town to help clean up, paint up and prune up. We have a fine town, but if people are going to notice, the weeds and grass must be cut, the trash picked up, and the dirt washed off. AND a few coats of fresh paint here and there would certainly boost everyone's spirits. Are your sleeves rolled up yet?

Sincerely,
David W. Griffin

Eighth Grade Rebels Take Victory

The Rivercrest eighth grade Rebels won their fifth game of the season Thursday night 36-0 against the Ore City Rebels. Rivercrest's eighth grade has lost only one game this year.

The Rebels took to their final outing with a vengeance, scoring once in the first quarter, once in the third quarter, and three times in the fourth quarter.

With 4:44 to go in the first quarter, Randy Galloway scored the touchdown, and Wade Cline tacked on two extra points. Cline also raced 70 yards from the Rivercrest 15 yard line to the Ore City 15 yard line, but the Ore City defense toughened, and the Rebels were unable to turn the penetration into a score. Late in the third quarter, Galloway crossed from the eight yard line for the second TD, but the extra point punt was not successful.

Cline got loose again in the fourth quarter from the 35 yard line for the third Rebel touchdown, and this time the extra point try by Cline was good. Cline repeated the performance on the next Rebel penetration, this time carrying in from the two yard line, then carrying again for the extra points.

With just seconds to go in the ballgame, Jeffery Bivins gathered in an Ore City pass and slipped down the sideline on a sixty yard run for the final Rebel score. The extra point attempt failed.

The remainder of the schedule for the junior Rebels will be junior high games, with the first contest at James Bowie at 6 p.m. Thursday.

EIGHTH GRADE Rebels, who were outwitted by their Ore City counterparts, won their game Thursday night 36-0. Quarterback Kelly Jeffery prepares to hand off to Wade Cline, who made one 70 yard run, three extra point runs and two touchdowns. (Staff Photo)

Hurry to get tender houseplants cleaned, repotted (if necessary), sprayed and inside. Nights in the low 40's can be very bad for chinese evergreens, african violets, dieffenbachia (dumbcane) and most draceana (corn plants). Give as much light as possible to plants after they are moved in. Too sudden a change from bright outside light into inside darkness causes yellowing and dropping leaves. Almost all greenhouse grown plants (except bargain cheapies) are now conditioned for a month or more in reduced light before you buy them so they will adapt without leaf loss. Most grocery store plants are shipped from growing fields in Florida to be sold without any conditioning and high losses are common as they get stuck in low light. It takes a month to change the leaves on a plant from high light efficiency to low light efficiency.

Not all plants can do this (ferns, begonias, coleus, impatiens, jew and most blooming plants never can change), but most foliage plants we are familiar with in interior decoration respond in a big way. Two of the worst offenders in the sudden light change are Ficus benjamina (weeping fig, little leaf rubber tree and little leaf fig are other names) and the Umbrella plant (Shefflera, here the dwarf one is far better than the regular tall one at adapting). These two will do fine in low light if they get used to it gradually. Otherwise you'll be greeted with a pile of leaves on the floor at the end of the first week. One note of caution low light is much, much brighter than no light! If it is bright enough to read by, the light should be adequate for most indoor plants.

Start cleaning out spent annuals and weedy beds and shrub borders during this crisp pleasant weather. Take care of as much outside work now as possible. Most outside work put off until spring will have to go undone when wet cold weather hits those weekends you have planned for working. This is the last call for feeding lawns, shrubs and trees. Get rid of any fertilizers in sheds, storage rooms and garages as it will draw damp and solidify this winter. It does more good in the yard and around plants than in the garage. Shred falling leaves with the lawn mower rather than raking and either leave to improve the lawn or rake to add to compost piles or use as mulch around plants in the yard. Leaves are the best source of organic matter for gardens and new planting areas. If you can, shred them before you work them into the soil, but if that isn't possible, just keep tilling them in all fall. By spring you'll have excellent leaf-mold. As a mulch, leave them on the surface.

HAPPY GARDENING!

Agriculture Update

By Herb Brevard
Variable oak leaf caterpillars are defoliating trees throughout East Texas according to Dr. James Robinson, area entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. These caterpillars are most prevalent on oak trees and are noticed more in the home landscape. Robinson says they do little damage this late in the year other than defoliating the tree. Control is not necessary unless the worms become a nuisance around the house.

Several months ago, Wayne Taylor, Extension area economist-management, figured the investment costs and length of time required to pay out the purchase of choice cow-calf pairs for herd rebuilding. The interest cost

Fair Reservations Still Being Accepted

Reservations are still being accepted for the annual Holiday Fair scheduled at Paris Junior College on Wednesday, Nov. 7, said June Jones, director of continuing education at PJC. The public is invited to visit the exhibits at the fair from 1 to 8 p.m. in the Student Center Ballroom. A $1 admission fee will be charged adults, and youth groups should call Mrs. Jones for special rates.

Individuals, businesses or organizations interested in exhibiting at the fair should call Mrs. Jones at PJC, 785-7661, extension 145, to reserve a space. Exhibits and demonstrations on holiday gift ideas, decorations and foods will be featured all during the afternoon and evening.

A style show by Clyde's of Paris will be presented at 1:30 p.m. that day, and demonstrations will be held at various times. Among the demonstrations will be a slide showing on Finland by a PJC student from that country at 3:30 and 6:30 p.m., ultra suede sewing by Mrs. Travis King at 3 and 7 p.m., recipes and gift items by Lone Star Gas Co. at 2 and 6:15 p.m., and a holiday demonstration by Texas Power & Light at 1 and 7:30 p.m.

Exhibits will include jewelry articles made by PJC students, flowers by a PJC Japanese student, depression glass, photographs, flower arrangements, silk flowers, handmade items, quilts, arts and crafts, and holiday gifts and table settings. A microwave cooking demonstration will be given, and gifts from the YWCA Senior Citizens Bazaar will be exhibited.

Taylor says the same applies to the principle of buying twice the number of cow-calf pairs needed and selling the bottom half. The increased interest costs will add another year to the pay out on heifers, cows, etc. This increased cost of interest could severely affect herd expansion Say, have you been in to see the art exhibition we have on display? The Texas Fine Arts Association sends these works out on tour and nearly all of the mediums are represented--oil, acrylic, photography, lithography, watercolor, and pencil drawings. Now, I want you to know that ol' Bosley spent a lot of time studying these works and even though I couldn't help a snicker or giggle here and there and a mutter or two that even I could paint that good; all in all it is really a very interesting show with a nice variety of subject matter. I hope you-all will take advantage of this show that only comes around once a year--drop by, take a look and vote on your favorite picture. Ann Black deserves thanks from us for seeing that the pictures are hung and in fact setting up the whole exhibit.

For our younger group of Red River County citizens the Texas Library System is sending three films each month and we tip our hats to Marguerite Beadle, Ann Andrews, and Jeanne Gibbs for setting up the shows for kindergarten through second grade. Those will be generally shown on Tuesdays at 4 p.m., but watch for announcements because there may be times when the films don't arrive as scheduled. Also, Carol Whitsell will be showing the films to her Tuesday morning story hour pre-school group. The films for this month are: "Dragon Tears," "A Letter to Amy," and "The Three Robbers." Doesn't that sound great? Frankly, I plan on finding me a good spot on one of the top shelves so I can watch the movies, too. Bet I'll enjoy them as much as the kids!!! Well, I'd say that we have a good bit going on down here so come on down and see for yourself. After all our library is for everyone. Happy Reading!

East Texas Eating

By Margie Rice

The pecans are a'falling! And, this fall's bumper crop promises to be a flavorful one. A few simple precautions can help to develop and maintain a rich pecan flavor and crisp nutmeat texture.

Curing Pecans: Most newly fallen pecans have a lot of what growers call "curing moisture." This high moisture content gives the new pecans a "green" taste. To properly cure the new pecans, place them in a well ventilated place so the moisture can evaporate. "Don't put them in tight sacks," one local grower advises. Stir the pecans every few days to ensure even exposure to the air. After you mash one of the meats and no water comes out, you will also find that the "green" flavor has turned into that "good" pecan flavor we East Texans relish.

Storing Pecans: Pecans may now be eaten as are, used in all sorts of foods, or stored for future use. Pecans can be kept in the shell, in a cool place, for six months to a year, or from the time harvested until hot weather sets in. Heat causes the fat in the pecans to become rancid and taste "old." Once pecans are cracked, and air can penetrate the shell, they need to be shelled and stored in moisture-vapor proof containers in the refrigerator or as cool a place as is available.

Freezing Pecans: Storage time can be successfully prolonged to a year or a little longer by freezing the pecans. Simply fill moisture-vapor proof containers with shelled pecans. Plastic freezer containers and can-freeze glass jars with lids are both satisfactory. Seal and freeze immediately.

Now, to the eating! Pecan Meringue Cookies are one of the luxuries that a good supply of pecans affords. They are superb party or refreshment cookies. These rich nuggets are also unbelievably quick and easy.

Pecan Meringue Cookies (3 dozen)

1 egg white
1 cup brown sugar
1 tsp. flour (level)
½ tsp. salt
1 cup chopped pecans
Beat egg white to a stiff froth. Add brown sugar. Continue beating. Stir in flour and salt. Stir in pecans. Drop by small teaspoonful 2 inches apart on a greased cookie sheet. Bake at 325 degrees for 10 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet with a spatula when partly cool.

HIGH ATTENDANCE DAY WAS OBSERVED Sunday at the Calvary

Calvary Baptist Old Fashion Sunday

Talco Calvary Baptist Church really had a "Great Day in the Morning" Sunday, Oct. 28, when they celebrated the Southern Baptist Nationwide high attendance in Sunday School with an old fashioned Sunday.

One hundred and one old fashioned ladies, looking as if they appeared from out of the past in their long dresses, bonnets and hats and the rugged looks of men and boys in their overalls, made the day a great success.

The Rev. Barry Jernigan, also in overalls, preached an appropriate sermon for the occasion, stating that most everything in this world has changed, but God never changes. He is the same yesterday, today and forever.

After church a luncheon was served in the Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Barbara Russell and

Talmadge Morgan were selected as best dressed woman and man. Pictures were made of the group and a special picture was made of the winning couple.

It was a fun-filled day of good christian fellowship and good food.

Rivercrest Seniors And Juniors Take Tests

Rivercrest seniors took part in a testing program on Wednesday, Oct. 17, provided by the Department of Defense called the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery (ASVAB). The tests were administered at the high school by representatives from the Armed Services with the help of Bonnie Huddleston, counselor and guidance director. The Department of Defense has developed and offers this service to interested schools both as a means of sharing extensive service experience on aptitude testing and occupational information. It can also serve as a means of stimulating student interest in exploring their own aptitudes for occupations.

Experience indicates that the results of this testing can be a valuable tool which can be used in counseling both career-oriented and college-bound high school students. Students can be informed as to their qualifications and options available in the event they choose military service as a career.

Twenty-three juniors from Rivercrest were given the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude and National Merit

System Tests (PSAT-NMSQT) on Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the high school by Mrs. Huddleston. This test was sponsored by the College Entrance Examination Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation for the purpose of helping schools obtain information helpful to students in planning their education beyond high school and furnishing students the opportunity to enter scholarship competition.

Those taking the test were: Terry Bull, Joey Williams, Robert White, Matt Jones, Freida Hall, John Jessee, Laura Vaughan, Yvette Bussell, Sandra Dunn, Jim Kain, Jimmy Smith, Stanley Anderson, Tommy Couch, Brian Harville, Scotti Wood, Judy Via, Wendy Hesch, Cindy Houghton, Ray Whitney, Barbara Smith, Janet Webb, Lisa Carroll, and Bret Davenport.

five yards were assessed against the Rebels, as well as a loss of a down. A pass from Via to Brian Harville was not enough for the first down, and the ball went to Ore City.

Ore City came out passing, as usual, but this time the effort was picked off by Gregg Norman at the Ore City 30 yard line, and the Rebels were in scoring range again. Via carried in from the one, then kicked the extra point.

Ore City's next possession when the quarterback fumbled the football, and Rebel Roger Edge recovered. The recovery set up the final score for Rivercrest from the 26 yard line, accomplished when Via passed to Gregg Norman in the end zone. Two points after were tacked on by Via. Jean again intercepted an Ore City pass late in the ballgame to give the Rebels their last possession, which ended on the Ore City 17 yard line when the clock ran out.

Leading the Rebels in rushing was Via, who carried 23 times for 197 yards. Froelich carried 17 times for 159 yards. The Rebels completed three passes against Ore City, one from Dale Jean to Froelich for 22 yards, one from Via to Harville for 10 yards and one from Via to Norman for 89 yards.

from the various cities of the county plus some private donations, but the new Corporation is expected to take over shortly.

O'Brian said that several clubs have donated to the new Service as well as a number of private individuals.

"All contributions are welcome," he added, "as we need many additional items of equipment and other supplies."

Receipt books and new membership cards were being distributed Thursday and will be in the various City Halls around the County, at the Courthouse, the Chamber of Commerce office, Televue, at a number of local industry offices, and most directors will also have membership forms available.

The president said that a number of operational procedures are now being studied and are being worked out as rapidly as possible.

The new Service will be available by phone through the same standard all-emergency number. Those on the Clarksville 427 exchange may simply dial 911 for assistance, not only for an ambulance but for any emergency service.

Those county residents not on the 427 prefix should dial the standard long distance plus one number, 1-214-427-2911, for the same response.

Residents in the Bogata area should dial 632-5115 for the ambulance based in Bogata.

The meeting also agreed to ask permission to work with the law enforcement radio's intercity frequency for ambulance communication.

The president said that the Directors will begin meeting monthly and will take a close look at developing ambulance-use regulations and Service costs.

"We are going to give good service," he reiterated, "and it will be done economically, inasmuch as no profit motive is involved."

The Board of Directors selected to head the new organization, officially to be known as the Red River Ambulance Service, Inc., represent a wide geographical area and sociological spread within the County.

In addition to O'Brian and Saint, the other elected officer is John M. Howison of Bogata.

Other directors named include: Bill Bryson, Bogata; Mrs. Sybil Coffman, Bagwell; Ed Dickson, Clarksville; Johnathan Godfrey, Clarksville; Cecil Latimer, Detroit; Charles Lewis, Bogata; Ebb Peek, Annona; James Rawls, Avery; Lucille Samuels, Clarksville.

Saturday, Oct. 27, at the Post home in Bogata. All proceeds were given to the Red River Ambulance Service to help purchase equipment. Commander Hervey presented Charlie Lewis with a check for $165.

Wendell Hervey, John English, Avret Vaughan, Donnie Strain and Charlie Lewis prepared the stew.

Ingredients were donated by Ruby Corbell, Leonard Kisner, Donnie Strain, Charlie Lewis, Wendell Hervey and Avret Vaughan.

Attending on behalf of the county were County Judge Connie Sullivan and Sheriff Avret Vaughan. Mayor and Mrs. Clifford Barnard attended on behalf of the city of Bogata.
