Kennedy Confident After Paris Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
PARIS (AP)—President Kennedy and President De Gaulle today ended their three-day talks with a communique confirming agreement on their obligations and responsibilities toward West Berlin.

The joint statement, issued on the eve of President Kennedy's departure for Vienna and a meeting with Premier Khrushchev, told of a basic agreement between the two Western statesmen.

Kennedy himself, in a talk to reporters, said his discussions with De Gaulle have given him greater confidence than ever in his approach to the Vienna meeting.

No Injuries In Explosion

An explosion and fire dislocated interior walls and blew out doors and windows from an apartment at 1200 Beaumont but resulted in no injuries at 9 o'clock this morning, Snyder firemen reported.

The blast occurred in the Campbell Apartments.

Kennedy Provides Own Identification

PARIS (AP)—President Kennedy deplaned his own introduction today at a press club luncheon.

After formal presentation, the U.S. President arose, faced the audience and said:

"I do not feel that it is inappropriate for me to introduce myself. I am the man who accompanied Jacqueline Kennedy into Paris."

Krush Arrives In Austria Today To Prepare For Talks

By PRESTON GROVER
VIENNA (AP)—Through a gate in the Iron Curtain, Premier Khrushchev entered Austria today and came to Vienna for his weekend conferences with President Kennedy, who arrives Saturday.

The Soviet leader said he is here to establish personal contact with Kennedy "and to exchange views on the main questions that concern relations between the Soviet Union and the United States of America."

"We know that one cannot settle everything at once," he observed. "If, however, one has good will, one can also achieve much within a short time."

"This is what the people want who press for an easing of international tension and for strengthening of world peace."

On hand to greet Khrushchev in Vienna were President Adolf Schaefer, Chancellor Alois Groch—bach and Vyacheslav M. Molotov. Khrushchev denied Molotov from Soviet foreign minister shortly after he signed the Austrian State Treaty in 1955. He is now Soviet representative to the Vienna headquarters of the International Atomic Energy Commission.

"The climate in Austria is always very good," Khrushchev said. "Only a few hundred residents of Marchegg turned out to see Khrushchev. A strong police guard kept them well back from the station platform. There was no cheering."

As the train pulled into the station, Khrushchev first tried to open a window but failed to do so. Then he put on a coat and stepped onto the platform followed by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. Mrs. Khrushchev stayed in the train.

Miller, generally regarded as a middle-of-the-road Republican, succeeds Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky who resigned to allow himself more time to campaign for re-election to the Senate next year.

House Panel Okays Huge Spending Bills

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today voted on its biggest spending spree of 1961, recommending $14.4 billion in new funds for the Agriculture Department and 23 independent federal agencies.

The total, included in two separate bills slated for House action next week, was $14.4 million less than President Kennedy had requested but $1.8 billion more than current year appropriations.

Most of it is for use during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee recommended $5.96 billion for various agricultural programs and $8.43 billion for the 23 independent offices, largest of which is the Veterans Administration which was given $4.88 billion.

The committee's action followed House approval Thursday of a bill appropriating $751.2 million to the State and Justice departments, the federal courts, the Civil Rights Commission and the U.S. Information Agency.

In all, 18 brought to nine the number of money bills on which the committee has acted this year. Seven of them have passed the House but only two have passed the Senate and been sent to the President.

Ernest O. Thompson, veteran member of the Texas Railroad Commission and one of the founders of the pact, said surplus oil and products and a high level of imports have dropped domestic oil drilling operations to a 25-year low.

"This slow down is a serious threat to our oil reserves for national security," he said. "We should certainly supply our military oil requirements from United States domestic production. Our security depends upon our ability to produce and deliver the oil and products wherever needed."

Hurd from Larado, is the immediate past president of the 6,500-member Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association.

Hurd said from 1956 through 1960 Texas lost 100 million barrels in annual crude market to imports and lost an additional 100 million by other producing states that expanded production greatly at the time demand for domestic crude remained stable.

"The nation of almost three million was outwardly calm, the time demand for domestic crude remained stable."

"But, somehow, the snake was changed, and the 'hand' of the market was a different hand—upward to a sharp on the motor. It was impossible to determine the variety of the snake, but it was changed."

He said the industry might develop a formula for equating market sharing by the respective producing states.

Both Sides Are Warned

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A stern federal judge today ordered four "Freedom Rider" organizations to stop their tests of racial barriers in Alabama pending further court action.

At the same time, U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. issued a sweeping no-bus-violence order at Montgomery, Ala., against Montgomery police, the Ku Klux Klan and four individuals.

And, in strong words, he threatened to jail Negro as well as white leaders if racial rioting breaks out here again.

Johnson issued a temporary injunction to compel Montgomery, Ala., police to protect "Freedom Riders" in the future.

Johnson also continued in effect an existing no-violence restraining order against two Ku Klux Klan factions and three individuals, and put a fourth individual under injunction.

Besides the police and the Klan, the court continued injunctions against two widely known Klan figures, Robert M. Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and the Rev. Alvin Horn of Talladega, Ala.

Johnson granted a temporary injunction to prohibit rider sponsors—including the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), from interfering with interstate bus travel.

In his order against Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan and Chief G. J. Ruppenthal, the judge prohibited them from refusing or failing to provide protection for segregation-challenging riders or other interstate passengers.

The Justice Department, which asked for the injunction, had accused police of deliberately failing to protect riders from a mob which attacked them here May 20. Federal attorneys also blamed the Klan for the violence here and at Birmingham and Anniston, Ala.

After a false bomb threat, seven more "Freedom Riders" sat in a white waiting room in Montgomery, Ala., today, then left 37 minutes late on a Trailways bus for Jackson, Miss.

Another group of seven was scheduled to depart for Jackson later.

Unarmed city police and sheriff's deputies kept a tight guard on the downtown bus station to prevent disorder. Some FBI men were seen in the terminal.

The four Negro and three white riders made no attempt to eat at the white lunch counter used by earlier groups of racially mixed segregation challengers.

An anonymous caller telephoned the terminal that a bomb had been put there shortly before the bus was scheduled to pull out. Police and firemen searching the building found nothing.

Numerous such threats have been made in Montgomery since racial violence broke out 13 days ago.

A spokesman for the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), who accompanied the first group to the bus station today, said two Negro women used the white restroom before leaving the terminal. There was no incident.

The CORE spokesman, Tom Garner, identified those aboard the first bus as Charles Butler, 18, of Nashville, Tenn.; Joy Leavelle, 19, of Nashville; Ruby Smith, 15, of Atlanta; and Lamar Alford, 15, of New York. Arthur McElmorn, 20, of New York; Bruce Chatman, 20, of East Rockaway, N.Y.; and Ken Shuman, 18, of New York, also were on board.

Republicans Name Miller

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William E. Miller of New York today was unanimously elected chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Miller, generally regarded as a middle-of-the-road Republican, succeeds Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky who resigned to allow himself more time to campaign for re-election to the Senate next year.

Miller, 47, is the party's 43rd chairman, and the second Roman Catholic to serve in the post since the GOP was organized in 1856. The first Catholic chairman was Thomas H. Carter of Montana, in 1892-96.

Miller supported former President Richard M. Nixon for the GOP presidential nomination last year, but says he is neutral on a 1964 candidate.

Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a spokesman for the party conservatives, all had given their approval to Miller's selection as party chairman.

A lawyer, Miller is now in his sixth term in the House. He won wide recognition last year by helping to bring about substantial GOP gains in Congress as chairman of the House Republican Campaign Committee.

As chairman, Miller will direct the party battle to carry out what Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower calls his "cold mandate" to attack President Kennedy's program.

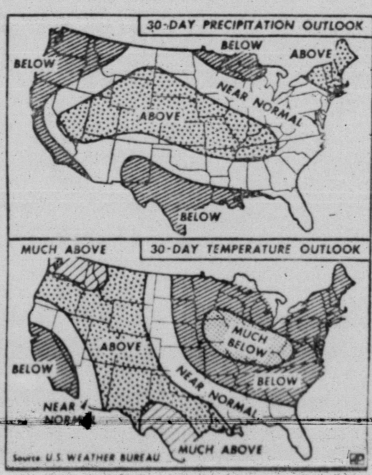

Eisenhower laid before a cheering audience of 6,000 party faithful at a $100-a-plate dinner Thursday night a battle plan under which he said "for America's sake, we take sharp issue with the leadership now in power."

The former President, 70, wearing a fresh daffodil in his buttonhole, was in rare form. He gave the Republicans a "political talking to" that he never could bring himself to do while he was in the White House.

Sounding at times like former President Harry S. Truman—in reverse—Eisenhower brought down the house with a "wide swinging attack on the Kennedy administration's fiscal policies."

As he never did while he was in the White House, Eisenhower went wholly partisan and seemed to be enjoying it as the Republican audience rewarded him with 52 applause interruptions.

This was more than he ever got with a State of the Union address in eight years.

Flag Day Proclaimed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy proclaimed Wednesday June 14 as Flag Day and directed that the nation's colors be displayed on all government buildings.

House Committee Studies Oil Imports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigators for a House small business subcommittee are busy laying the groundwork for hearings to determine whether the government's program for control of oil imports is in need of an overhaul.

The investigators are studying complaints received by the subcommittee and the records of Interior Department hearings on the program.

Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okl., chairman of the subcommittee, is expected to announce next week the date for opening the congressional hearings. They probably will start in about three weeks.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the full committee, asked Steed's subcommittee to make a thorough investigation and appraisal of the crude oil import program as it affects small business in exploration, refining and production fields.

The Interior Department, which administers the oil import program, conducted hearings last month here and in Los Angeles on operation of the program and recommendations for changes in it.

Among complaints that have reached the subcommittee is one that some inland refining companies are bartering in effect their quotas of imported oil to coastal refineries, to which the oil can be delivered at less cost than to inland refineries.

Another complaint is that oil being imported by sea from Mexico, then shipped across the U.S. border back into Mexico and re-shipped to this country overland.

Overland imports from Mexico and Canada are not affected by the import controls.

Bringing oil by sea to this country from fields in the interior of Mexico is cheaper than transporting it overland for the entire distance from the fields to the U.S. border.

Meanwhile, the Independent Petroleum Association of America has asked that crude oil imports be reduced still further. The association issued a statement saying that the Interior Department hearings here May 19 and 21 "reflect a general agreement within the petroleum industry that import restrictions are necessary in the interest of a healthy domestic industry and national security."

"The record of the hearings, the experience of more than two years under the mandatory import program, and continued depressed conditions in the domestic industry show conclusively that the level of oil imports is too high."

"All the facts have been put on the table. The issues have been studied and restudied. Increasing tensions of the cold war make the security purposes of the crude oil import program more compelling."

The statement, by Minor S. Jameson Jr., I.P.A.A. executive vice president, said there is strong support in the industry for a further reduction in imports of about 200,000 barrels a day. The statement said several associations and companies have based in a recommendation that imports be related to crude oil demand rather than to demand for finished products.

Bright, New Life Ends In Tragedy

PRATT, Kan. (AP)—Dr. Zane Gard's bright new start in life after nine years of scrambling through school, turned to tragedy in an instant Thursday night. A big-truck smashed into a station wagon carrying his wife and their five children.

Mrs. Gard was killed, along with two of the children and her father, Herbert Weseman of Mountain View, Calif. The other three children were hurt but in satisfactory condition. Three men in the big tractor-trailer truck were treated for shock, cuts and bruises.

Dr. Gard received his degree Wednesday night from the Kansas City College of Osteopathy. He and his family and his wife's parents set out about noon Thursday for Phoenix, Ariz., where he was to begin an internship at the Phoenix General Hospital.

Dr. Gard drove the station wagon, the 200 miles from Kansas City to Pratt, pulling a four-wheeled trailer loaded with household goods. He developed a headache. Weseman took the wheel of the station wagon. Dr. Gard shifted to a car carrying Mrs. Weseman and another Mountain View couple. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Mast, about five miles west of Pratt on U.S. 54, the trailer started shipping crazily behind the station wagon. Investigators said gusty winds may have caused it to jerk the station wagon across the highway into the path of the truck.

Dr. Gard rushed to the wreckage and picked his wife from one to another of his loved ones. Becky, 4, died in his arms. Mrs. Gard, Larry, 11, and Weseman were dead in a few moments. Mrs. Gard was 28, her father 57. Zane and Yvonne Gard were married 12 years ago when they were 16 and moved from California to Kansas City about 1935. Zane drove cabs and worked at a newsstand while he studied at the University of Kansas City and the College of Osteopathy.

Hope Raised For Break In Deadlock

GENEVA (AP)—The head of the pro-Western Laotian government agreed today to meet the other two princes leading his nation's two Communist-supported factions, raising some hope of a break in the deadlocked negotiations here and in Laos.

A spokesman for the royal government said Prince Bou Om, the premier of the Vietnamese regime, had accepted Prince Souvanna Phouma's invitation to a conference with him and his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong.

Souvanna Phouma calls himself a neutralist but is recognized by the Communist bloc as the premier of Laos Souphanouvong leads the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels.

Bou Om's spokesman here said no date or place for the conference had been fixed and that Geneva or Nice, on the French Riviera, had been suggested.

The East-West conference on Laos here in Geneva and negotiations in Laos between the Vietnamese government and the Communist-backed factions are both deadlocked over what to negotiate on first.

In Geneva, the West is insisting that new instructions be sent the international truce commission in Laos to enable it to stop rebel attacks that have continued on Vietnamese forces, particularly resistance pockets scattered throughout territory that is nominally controlled by the rebels.

The Communist delegates at Geneva insist a cease-fire is in force and that the political future of the Southeast Asia kingdom should be discussed.

The general hope on the West side at Geneva is that President Kennedy, at his meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna this weekend, can get the Soviets to modify their stand and that progress then can be made. The chief U.S. delegate to the Geneva conference, U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, flew to Paris today to join the President for the Vienna trip.

Nazi Justice Is Cited In Trial

By THOMAS A. REEDY

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—The Israeli prosecution implied today that Adolf Eichmann should have stopped killing Jews because Joseph Goebbels in a public pronouncement said orders from superior officers did not justify "the murder of women and children" by Allied fliers who bombed German cities.

Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner introduced the Nazi propaganda minister's statement as evidence in Eichmann's trial, and defense counsel Robert Servatius objected that it had no bearing on his client's case. But presiding Judge Moshe Landau curtly overruled him.

Goebbels' declaration, published in the official Nazi newspaper "Völkischer Beobachter" and captured fliers had forfeited all their rights "by their murder of the civilian population."

The fliers can no more deny that they are soldiers and acted according to orders," said Goebbels. "Those orders are contrary to all human concept of warfare."

The attorney general said this official opinion of the Nazi regime "should work in both directions and must also be followed in the minds of every German. The accused himself said under interrogation, 'What would I do? The orders were to exterminate Europe's Jews.' And yet here we read the words of his own government."

The prosecution also submitted a series of documents linking the Arab mufti, of Jerusalem, Haj Amin El Husseini, to the Nazi persecution of the Jews. These documents were described as active in blocking of emigration of Jews to Palestine.

Soviet Space Chief Dies

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today announced the sudden death of the political chief of its space program, Deputy Premier Mikhail Khromin. He was 59.

The announcement by the Soviet news agency Tass did not give the cause of death.

Tass said Khromin died suddenly. Apparently death occurred during the night. He was listed among the Soviet leaders who attended a reception for a visiting Somali government delegation in the Kremlin Thursday night.

Khromin was appointed to the space chief post April 8 and made a deputy premier. He was little known in the West.

Khromin worked as a messenger and a blacksmith's assistant until he joined the Red army in 1920. His army career boomed and by 1937 he was director of all Soviet war plants.

He continued administrative work in aviation and military supplies during World War II with the rank of lieutenant general.

By 1942 he was a member of the Communist party central committee.

He was a deputy premier during 1953-56, left that post to take on an important planning job—deputy chairman of the state economic commission—and became aviation minister in 1957.

He held seven orders of Lenin, two Stalin prizes and had the title Hero of Socialist Labor.

Tax Claim Is Settled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The IRS announced today it has accepted $1.94 million in settlement of tax claims against the late Bishop Charles M. Grace. Negotiations ended today, according to IRS officials as Saeed Diddy Grace, Grace' long-time head of the church known as United House of Prayer for All People, with headquarters in Washington, died in Los Angeles in January 1950.

Shortly afterward, the IRS filed claims against his estate totaling approximately $4.5 million. It contended the church leader's income taxes had been in arrears since 1943. The claims were contested by administrators of the estate in the U.S. Tax Court.

The settlement, entered in that court today, covered tax deficiencies of $967,981 and penalties of $398,901. The balance of the $1.94 million represents interest.

Gala Night Is Planned

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Even if the meetings of President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev will be mostly serious affairs, the fun-loving Austrians will see that the two leaders relax at least once.

That will be at the dinner President Adolf Schierl gives for them Saturday night in the vast and glittering grand gallery of the Schoenbrunn Palace.

The Vienna State Opera Ballet will dance, the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra will play and a top caterer will make sure they are sated and drunk properly.

The spokesman of the Austrian government said about 200 guests will be invited to the dinner. They include the American and Soviet delegations and their ladies and the Austrian government leaders and their wives.

The sprawling 1,400-room palace in the Hietzing suburb was begun in 1694 under Emperor Leopold I and was completed 55 years later in Empress Maria Theresa's reign.

Up to the end of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy in 1918 the palace served as an imperial residence. Since that time it has been used as a public showcase and for "special government" receptions.

Soviet Camp Is Guardedly Optimistic About Parley

By PRESTON GROVER

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Guardedly optimistic emanated from the Soviet camp today that many different useful might come out of the conference between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev this weekend—if Kennedy is prepared to accept the Soviet point of view on world problems as logical.

Local Communist bloc attaches who could be reached and the Soviet press in Moscow all voice the same message: That acceptance of Soviet policy offers the only chance for world peace and that the American viewpoint is not only wrong but a bit reprehensible.

Talking to Soviet officials is pretty much like reading Pravda, says that is the way it is in Vienna. Their point of view was summed up by Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper, which said: "The people of good will realize that many difficult problems have accumulated during the course of the postwar period. Obviously they cannot be solved immediately, at one meeting."

Yet the peace-loving public hopes that during the course of the forthcoming meeting of the two leading statesmen, the open expression of each other's points of view will be possible as well as the finding of points of agreement and the marking of further steps toward a rapprochement.

"Unfortunately," Pravda continued, "from the other side of the ocean voices are heard which cannot be regarded either as sober or clever."

The Moscow Literary Gazette added that "the political circles in the West are indeed amazed."

"Without taking reference to reality," it continued, "they advise President Kennedy to continue from a position of strength." Communist leaders have no intention of tolerating this state of affairs.

"They are not to be intimidated or arrested in their advance along the road to peace. They have everything necessary to unload and destroy this bomb."

The Soviet formula for Germany calls for immediate peace treaties with West and East Germany, withdrawal of the Western allies from West Berlin to leave it to a Communist-surrounded, undefended "free" city, and reunification of Germany on terms giving Communist East Germany equal status with the larger and richer West Germany.

The Western formula calls for reunification of Germany by free elections in both parts of the country, elections in which the West and apparently the Soviets are sure the German Communists would be overwhelmed.

THE CRISIS THAT WASN'T

Today, there are many quick victories over disease. Each might be described as a crisis that didn't quite happen — thanks to today's superior medicinal agents.

Modern medicines prescribed by your physician score amazing triumphs over diseases which, only a decade ago, were almost certain to become dangerously serious.

Present-day pharmaceuticals, such as the antibiotics, require complex equipment, intricate controls and highly skilled technicians for production. Although somewhat higher in cost, they actually are an investment in economy. They effect an earlier cure and cut down expensive sick-bed time.

We are staffed and equipped to fill your doctor's prescriptions promptly at prices that are fair.

Old Art Comes From Africa's New Nations

By MILES A. SMITH
AP Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — The "new" nations blossoming out on the map of Africa have primitive tribal cultures dating back many centuries. That is the gist of the message in a recently opened exhibit at the Museum of Primitive Art.

About four of those centuries are covered in this display, titled "The Traditional Arts of Africa's New Nations." Through Sept. 10 the Museum's galleries will be given over entirely to the African theme, showing about 100 objects, mostly from the Museum's own collections.

Some Unfamiliar Names

There are 20 countries represented, and some of their names are unfamiliar to many of us—Upper Volta, Mali, Chad, Malagasy. Others are better known, such as the Congo (Brazzaville) and Oingo (Lepidville), Ivory Coast, Liberia, and Nigeria.

Masks of the ceremonial type, of course, are well represented. As everyone knows, modern art owes a debt to these exotic characterizations, which became an inspiration to the School of Paris early in this century.

There also are figures of every size, from small ivory or brass sculptures to the larger ones in wood, clay and stone. The largest is an unbroken figure from the Dogon tribe of Mali, carved from

Army Officers Skeptical Of Beefed Up Reserve Program

By FRED S. HOFFMAN WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army, trying to meet President Kennedy's requirements for a combat-ready reserve, plans to intensify training of National Guard and reserve divisions ticked for quick callup in event of emergency.

But Army officers voiced serious doubts today that these measures, involving an increase in weekly drills and summer training, would be enough to get the citizen-soldiers in shape for rugged field service.

From talks with Army officials, it was evident many problems remain to be solved before realization of Kennedy's plan to mount a force of 10 Guard and reserve divisions set to move to trouble spots within a few weeks after being ordered to duty.

There was an undercurrent of skepticism that the plan ever would work out the way Kennedy outlined it to Congress.

In his special message last week, the President said the Army "is developing plans to make possible a much more rapid deployment of a major portion of its highly trained reserve forces."

When these plans are completed, Kennedy said, two combat-equipped divisions could be ready in an emergency for operations with but three weeks' notice, a total of 10 divisions with less than eight weeks' notice.

Not the smallest of the problems is re-equipping the Guard with World War II vintage.

And there is a political problem too. Army officials indicated some governors will have to be persuaded to give up strength in Guard units under their control to permit building up of divisions earmarked for the quick reaction reserve force.

Of the 27 infantry and armored divisions in the National Guard, seven infantry divisions are designated as high priority units constituting a ready reserve.

These seven divisions, whose identity is kept secret, would be the first to be drawn on for emergency duty, Army officials said.

The other three divisions for the quick reaction force contemplated by Kennedy likely would come from among 10 reserve combat infantry divisions.

Six of these reserve divisions are rated as priority units because they have higher authorized strength levels. They are the 77th of New York, the 79th of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland, the 3rd of Ohio and West Virginia, the 9th of Texas, the 102nd of Illinois and Missouri and the 103rd of Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The Army is banking on the readiness of the 10 backup divisions, partly because many of their members will have had at least six months recent active duty in the Army, or its equivalent.

But Army officers noted, too, that many of the enlisted men and junior officers in these divisions are World War II veterans — some in their 40s.

Right now, members of Guard and reserve units undergo a one-a-week drills and as many as six weekend exercises a year. They also go to summer camp for two weeks a year.

Plans now contemplate increasing the number of two-day weekend drills to permit more intensive unit field training. In many cases, the one-a-week drills actually are classroom affairs.

Also, the Army hopes to extend the summer training period, perhaps to three weeks, or a month, even with a step-up to part-time training. Army officials were dubious that the men — coming out of civilian life — would be physically ready to withstand the rigors of combat within weeks of a call-to active duty.

The Matador test and training program has ended after 10 years with the successful firing of four of the swept-wing guided missiles.

The rockets blasted off at three-hour intervals Thursday, raising to 286 the number of Matadors fired here since the first shot into the sky, June 29, 1951.

The Matador was the first missile to reach operation status in 1954 — at Cape Canaveral. Matador divisions are deployed in various parts of the world. Farmosa But technology has overtaken the 39-foot, 600-mile-range weapon, and it soon will be replaced overseas by the larger, longer-range Mace.

Few Keep Promises To Themselves

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP) — Why isn't this a perfect world today? It could be, but it isn't. I'll tell you why. People forget the promises they make to themselves.

A man who prides himself on keeping his word with others blithely and conveniently forgets to keep his word with himself. That's why the world is in the same old pickle it always has been.

Just five months ago the outlook was different. The perfect world appeared to be just around the corner.

Everybody woke up with a determination to make himself better, and if everybody really did that a better world would have had to be the natural result.

It was New Year's Day, the day when civilized man takes a long self-inventory of his faults and failings, gets out of bed, looks at himself in the mirror and says "Light!"

It was the day of national self-renewal, the day when we all highly resolve to make ourselves nobler — even if the battle takes all summer.

It was the one day of the year when a fellow is honest enough to admit his own delinquencies, and doesn't blame his plight on others.

Remember all those high-minded resolutions?

Every husband was going to quit sassing his wife, and cease sassing her from his children.

Every wife was going to make a strict family budget and stick to it.

The boss was going to figure a way to boost employee morale, and the employee vowed to buckle down and pay more attention to his work.

Everybody was going to read more good books, take more exercise, get more sleep every night.

Everybody was going to take a more active role in community affairs.

What if all these millions of individual self-improvement programs, launched last New Year's Day, had soared onward and upward to their objectives?

Why, right today we'd all be living in a perfect world, a world suffocated with "mass-virtue," a world in which we'd all be strangers to each other because none of us would be able to recognize the other fellow by his old familiar faults.

As it turned out, however, most of us didn't get our rocketing aims off the pad. We forgot to keep our word to ourselves.

Sure was a narrow escape, wasn't it?

Cubs walloped Philadelphia 10-3. The Senators were blanked on the hits for eight innings by Elmer Gagne. But when he gave up his fifth walk, to Chuck Hinton leading off the ninth, Manager Bill Rigney called in reliever Ryne Duren.

Yanks Flip Phils; Sox, Cards In Slim Wins

Don McCowan and Dalton Walton looked throwing arms here last night in a Colt League contest in the hurrying of a 4-hit 3-1 victory for the Yankees over the Phillies.

All of the Phils' four singles were landed off McCowan, who tolled the first four frames before stepping down in favor of Walton, who chucked the remaining three.

The sole Phil run was tallied in the initial frame, with Martin Betz singing and eventually scoring on an error.

Ronnie Bennett and Eddie Kirby, who worked on the hill for the losers, were even stungier with the base hits, as the Yanks collected only two for the night, both off Bennett, who tossed the first six innings. Walton drove in the final Yank run of the game with a looping single down the left field line in the fifth. James Crosson had previously played the second marker via fourth-inning sacrifice fly to center, while the remaining run—a first-inning affair—was scored on the strength of Phil defensive boobies.

The White Sox in the Little League lightened their stranglehold on second place in the standings last night by spending the Indians 6-4.

The Sox thus boosted themselves to 4-2 for the season, while the Athletics led the pack at 4-1. Buddy Powell went the distance in hurling the win, relinquishing seven hits for the night. Second sacker Tommy Chorn represented the biggest throw in his side, as he pounded out a first-inning double and a bases-empty fifth-inning four-bagger.

Kenney Haskell of the Sox doubled and singled in two appearances, and Powell helped his own cause by rapping out three singles in as many trips to power the Sox home. Benny Ward was the only other stickmen collected more than one hit, as he singled twice in four times up.

Bobby Clardy went all the way on the bill for the Indians to be tagged with the loss.

Giant Express Sidetracked By Cubs, 6-5

The Farm League Cubs "rose to the occasion" last night to knock off the previously unbeaten Giants 6-5, and in so doing gained a share of the league leadership with their 5-1 win-loss record.

Robert Casey, who came on in relief of Tommy Anger, was the winner, while Randy Owens took the loss.

The Giants made the most noise at the plate, with Randy Barnett, Bill Taylor, Jerry Boyd and Donald Copeland whacking doubles, but it was all to no avail as the Cubs plated the game-winning marker in the sixth and final inning.

The Braves rolled over the Cardinals 2-0 in the other contest of the evening.

An 18-run second inning in which the Braves made a ractrack out of the bases, sparked the festivities.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—After having fought the proposal for years, the University of Minnesota Thursday did an about face and approved renewal of the Big Ten contract with the Rose Bowl.

The reversal came by a surprise 70-42 ballot of the Senate, athletic meeting an end to the longtime 5-5 split of conference colleges on the bowl question.

Relations of the loop with the Pasadena, Calif., New Year's Day football game had been on a pessimistic basis for several years following lapse of the formal contract. Big Ten schools had been allowed to play if invited.

Like Armstrong, athletic director, said he was most happy with the result. He said it should better the method of team selection, once a new, formal contract is drawn.

Sherlock was a disappointment in both the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, finishing fifth in each. He moved up to fourth in the shorter Jersey Derby.

Navy Color Girl Counting Kisses

By BUDD THALMAN ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The 20th Navy Color Girl, nurse Betty Fears, is counting her kisses.

The kiss is a traditional part of the presentation ceremony at which Miss Fears will present the national, brigade and Navy colors to Midshipman John J. Sheehan's 21st Company.

"I guess we'll have to kiss about 15 times at rehearsal," she said as she smiled at Sheehan, whom she has dated steadily for 2 1/2 years.

Sheehan, 24, a former Marine sergeant from Rego Park, N. Y., said he had spent some of Thursday studying parade procedures but was quick to explain they involved more than the kissing sequence.

Miss Fears blushed slightly but said she won't mind kissing Sheehan in front of the entire 3,900-man brigade of midshipmen and thousands of June week visitors to the Naval Academy.

The 5-foot-7 brunette with flashing green eyes was chosen by Sheehan after his company was named the best among 24 at the academy in a year-long competition.

Miss Fears, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Fears of Balboa Canal Zone, was homecoming queen, a cheerleader and a high-scoring forward on the girl's basketball team at Cranial High School in the Canal Zone, where she graduated in 1956.

She works in the operating room at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City.

"I'm thrilled, happy, excited and all those words," she said. "Miss Fears, who measures 34-24-36, said she was glad to learn President Kennedy would be delivering the graduation address.

"He's my man, you know," she said. She voted for the President in the last election, her first as a voter, she said.

Sheehan will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps at the June 7 graduation. His first assignment will be the

Oil Companies Fines Upheld

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—The conviction of 11 major oil firms on gasoline price-fixing charges was upheld here Thursday by Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert. The companies were fined a total of $425,000.

One company, Gulf Oil Co., won its appeal of a jury trial conviction in South Bend last Dec. 30. The maximum fines of $50,000 each were assessed against Standard Oil of Indiana and Central West Oil Corp., a subsidiary of Pure Oil.

"The fines indicate the gravity of the offense," said Judge Swygert. "They should discourage future violations."

All 12 firms were originally convicted of conspiring to rig gasoline prices in the South Bend-Mishawaka area in 1957.

The judge said an estimated 7-cent per gallon increase in the Mishawaka area alone cost consumers about $50,000 a month.

Other fines were Sococo Mobil $45,000; Ohio Oil $45,000; Phillips Petroleum $45,000; Cities Service $45,000; Texaco $45,000; Shell $45,000; Hudson $30,000; Tornado $20,000 and Pacer $5,000.

But I Luvs Ya 'Still'

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP)—If the moonshiners of the mountains around here are breathing easier today, it's because Charlie Felts, 70, has retired.

Felts has been a government revenue for 30 years, 27 of them in Wilkes County, which has been described as the "moonshine capital of the world."

Two weeks before Felts' retirement Thursday, the Federal Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division honored him as the agent credited with destroying more stills than any other man in the county.

The records don't show, and even Felts isn't sure, how many stills he has confiscated. But he has made 2,500 arrests, confiscated more than 5 million gallons of mash and 70,000 gallons of illegal whiskey—equal to about $3.7 million in unpaid federal whiskey tax.

His first assignment will be the

Junior Editors Quiz on PLANTS

QUESTION: What is sisal used for?

ANSWER: Most of us have seen and handled the rough, shiny cord used for tying packages for mailing. Perhaps you have wondered where cord comes from and how it is made. Like many other products, the cord wrapped neatly in a roll and sold at the hardware store looks entirely different from the raw material from which it was made. Who would guess the thin, brown cord originally began as a plant with green leaves growing up from the base taller than a boy? That plant is called sisal, or sometimes sisal hemp. The leaf is cut at the base, the sharp spine lopped off the top, and the green outside stripped away in a machine. What's left is a clean yellowish fiber which is woven into the cord you buy at the store. It takes about 17 leaves to make a pound of fiber. The plant grows rapidly, and the leaves are cut two or three times a year. Originally the only place sisal grew was in the Yucatan peninsula. Now it is also raised in several parts of Africa and in the East and West Indies.

FOR YOU TO DO: Unravel a piece of cord to see how the fibers are put together. Then get some lengths of thin string or thread and see if you can weave a strong piece of cord the same way. Also, look at a map of Mexico and see if you can locate the Yucatan peninsula.

John Mahan of Chattanooga, Tenn., wins the $10 for this question. Address your question on postcard to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. In case of duplicate questions Mrs. Moore will select the winner. 6-2

... what is it dad? To me it seems to be a multitude of jealous people, who have forgotten God, and are experimenting with scientific formulas that could tear us apart. What does it mean — "Am I my brother's keeper?"
 What a thought for this age... for men who literally carry our lives in their hands. At best we are confused. The time-table is tipped in favor of total destruction. Why, oh why, will wise men "deaf-ear" God?
 He said, "I am the way and the truth." He gave us His church where we could learn to love each other more, but many a man refuses to be called to worship.

 and help us explain the world through love.*
