

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

FOR THE PAST 16 years or so the life of Mr. Ross Griffith, who operates a little store across from the West Ward School, has been one of blindness. The shattered nerves of his eyes have kept him from being able to see.

Recently, he heard about a new pair of glasses — the kind that come together. His neighbor, Mr. C. W. (Red) Askins, heard about it. And he told some of his friends out at the Humble Pipe Line Company offices.

Red and F. L. Campbell, Hugh Boyd, Charles Pence and J. D. White discussed the matter. The special glasses would cost $200. They sent Mr. Griffith up to Wichita Falls last week to let him try the glasses. Maybe they would help him.

After being fitted, Mr. Griffith turned his head. The first thing he saw was a lady sitting in the doctor's office, reading a newspaper or so and his vision seemed to get better all the while. The doctor said he could have 20 per cent vision and maybe better as time goes on.

That was enough for the five men named above. Monday, they started making a few calls here and there. At 4 p. m., Mr. Campbell canvassed the returns. Ciscos have gladly contributed $100 — that Ross Griffith might have the glasses and be able to see his devoted blind wife and their little daughter, whom he has never seen.

Red and Mr. Campbell and the others gave Mr. Griffith a cashiers check for $206 and a list of the contributors. It has been a long time since he has been able to read anything, and the list is the first thing he wants to try to read.

Needless to say, Mr. Griffith's attitude is blissful. He will be seeing the folks one day and soon to express it in person.

THE ANNUAL CoC banquet Saturday night was just about the finest affair that we ever attended. It was an outstanding success from every standpoint. The new junior high gym was a handy place for it. The decorations were super. The program was outstanding, and the speech by Mr. R. G. LeTourneau was very good.

We went with Mr. W. P. Guinn, Mr. E. L. Jackson and Mr. W. H. McNally over to the Breckenridge airport to pick up Mr. LeTourneau and his pilot, Mr. Bob Hannigan. They decided to land there as they would arrive after dark and the Cisco airport has no lighted runways.

They were supposed to land at 6:15 p. m. but bad weather delayed their takeoff at Longview and the plane didn't get to Breckenridge until 6:50 p. m.

WE HEARD TWO of Mr. LeTourneau's talks and talked with people who heard his other two speeches. In four addresses, he did not repeat himself and he used no notes. He speaks somewhere just about every weekend, defraying his own expenses. The weekend of Nov. 15 he was in St. Cloud, Minn. So, you see, he gets around considerably.

His pilot is a project engineer at the Longview factory. Mr. LeTourneau travels in a twin-engine Lockheed plane. It is fully equipped for all types of weather. The pilot brought the plane from Breckenridge to Cisco Sunday afternoon, and Mr. L. A. Warren drove Mr. LeTourneau out after the Sunday afternoon service.

SAW MR. ROBERT Clinton and wife at the banquet. They drove here from their home at Snyder for him to sing at the wedding of a former student, Ruth Beatty. Mr. Clinton reports that they like Snyder and that his work is going well there. Saw Miss Jane Huestis, last year music student at CJC, came to hear the CJC choir sing "Trial by Jury". The choir's performance was outstanding — a very definite credit to Director Jack Chambliss and the school. Everybody appreciated the fine organ music provided by Mrs. W. O. Wylie at the banquet. The Rev. Leslie Seymour did a fine job as the master of ceremonies.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leach visited their son, Franklin, in Austin over the weekend.

FOR A BETTER VIEW—Laborers and heavy equipment operators are working to make the quarters of the French air force officers more attractive in Rabat, Morocco. Palm trees were transplanted in order to give the men and their families something nice to see.

FREE SYSTEM OF EDUCATION IS PRAISED IN P-TA DINNER TALK

"Our free system of education — a daring venture on the part of our forefathers — has contributed much to our nation's greatness," the Rev. Leslie Seymour, superintendent of Cisco District Methodist Churches, told approximately 100 persons Monday night in an address at the annual banquet of the West Ward Parent-Teacher Association.

The Thanksgiving dinner was held at the First Methodist Church basement.

Rev. Seymour said that 4,000,000 babies are born in the United States each year. "These children come to us each year and it is a sobering thought to realize that we must absorb them into our society and teach them our way of life," he said.

"These young people accept our teachings, and we can be thankful for our free system of education," he said. He spoke out against threats of a compulsory education plan offered by some government leaders, noting that "our educational policies must remain free and left to the guidance of wise local leaders."

Education, like government, must continue to go forward, Rev. Seymour said. "Freedom has been the keynote of our nation's growth, and we must keep it free," he added.

Superintendent Arlin Birt, in a brief talk, told the audience that a successful school "is the home, the teacher and the child working together." He praised the P-TA for its interest and work in behalf of the school program.

Mr. Birt noted that last year the Cisco school had 96 first grade students, as compared with 126 this year. The system has a daily average attendance of 974 students in 1952, as compared with 1,036 so far this year.

Education costs the nation 2½% of its national income, as compared with 2½% of the income spent on tobacco and liquor, he said. Mrs. Stanley Webb and the Midway-aides of the Junior High School presented an entertainment program. The girls—Lorelei Lipsey, Jan Latson, Marge Gaudney, Janice Justice, Judy Graham, Marita Webb, Sandra Theftford, Glenda Hughes and Mary Carolyn Berry — sang several special numbers.

S/Sgt. James L. King of Waco was a recent visitor in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. King.

Mrs. B. F. Mauk and Mrs. Elma Gardner of Altus, Oklahoma, are to arrive Wednesday for a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chapman.

Mrs. M. E. Goldberg left today for Fort Worth where she will attend the presentation of her grand daughter, Marilyn Shambalum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shambalum of Fort Worth at the Crystal Ballroom at the Texas Hotel. Miss Shambalum is one of six debutantes to be presented this evening.

Mrs. Norman Rawson, president of the P-TA, introduced the officers of the organization and turned the program over to Principal Doyle Holmes, who was the master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by the Rev. J. F. Hennig, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church. Mrs. Roy Campbell led the audience in a song, and Mrs. Cy Ainsworth announced that the yearbooks were ready for distribution.

A dinner of turkey with all the trimmings was served by the women of the First Methodist Church.

Local Boy Suffers Leg Injury Sunday

Maurice Collins, 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Collins, 1604 Ave. D, was in the West Texas Clinic in Ranger today where he was taken Sunday when he received a compound fracture of a leg.

Young Collins, a junior at Cisco High School, received the broken leg while playing football Sunday with a group of other youths while visiting his grandmother some 12 miles north of Ranger.

He will remain in the Ranger hospital for several days. He is in room 13. Collins is employed by the J. C. Penney Company here after school hours.

25 MORE BUSINESS FIRMS ARE POSTING TREASURE HUNT ITEMS

Twenty-five additional Cisco business firms today posted gift items for next Monday night's annual Treasure Hunt, which will be held to open the 1953 Christmas Shopping season. This brought the number of gift items to 61 — items worth hundreds of dollars.

The Treasure Hunt will get underway at 6 p. m. Monday as the city's Christmas lights go on and other season's decorations are in place. Local stores are planning to remain open later than usual, holding an open house for pre-Christmas visitors.

Tickets for the Treasure Hunt are being given out free to every member of The Family at The Press office. The tickets will be given out until 5 p. m. Monday — an hour before Treasure Hunt time.

In order to win one of the gift items, the hunters take their numbered tickets and look in the store windows until they find their number on a gift item. A lot of people will win, and everybody will have a good time.

The new list of gift items include: Philpott Florist, $5 floral arrangement; Victor Coffee Shop, dinner for two; Lemore Pharmacy men's leather billfold; West Texas Utilities Co., automatic Toaster, value $27.50; Hooker's, service for six in Edwin

Bob Fain Found Dead; Rites Are Planned Tuesday

Funeral services for R. C. (Bob) Fain, 68, retired druggist, were to be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Cox Funeral Chapel in Weatherford. Mr. Fain, a resident of a local hotel, died Monday morning.

He was found dead in bed at 7 a. m. Monday by a nurse who was with him. The nurse had checked at 5 a. m. and he was alive at that time. He was dead when a check was made at 7 a. m. He had been in ill health for some time.

Mr. Fain had been a resident of Cisco two years prior to his death, but for a number of years was one of the operators of the Corner Drug Store at Seventh and Avenue D. He sold his interest in the store and lived in Fort Worth and other communities before coming back to Cisco some two years ago.

Following the services in Weatherford, burial was to be in the Aledo Cemetery.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Lucy Reynolds of Aledo, and a number of nieces and nephews.

The business meeting is at 6 p. m. and the banquet at 7 p. m. Election of officers for the council during 1954 will take place at the 6 p. m. session.

A Pan-o-Rama of Scouting and front curtain specialties will also be on the banquet program. Dr. T. C. Graves of Goldthwaite is president of the council and will preside at the meeting.

Over 300 Attended Chamber Banquet

Robert G. LeTourneau, known throughout the World for the earth moving machines his factories turn out and for his work as a Christian layman, told four near capacity audiences about the need and opportunities for service in addresses here Saturday night and Sunday.

The noted industrialist and church leader was the principal speaker Saturday night when more than 300 persons gathered at the Junior High School gymnasium for the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce. He made three appearances Sunday in Cisco churches.

Mr. LeTourneau told the Chamber of Commerce banquet audience that "this nation is 64 times better off than the rest of the world." He attributed U. S. leadership to "our deep religious principles — those advocated by the people who sailed to America aboard the Mayflower."

He said that "God is looking for men who will say, 'here I am, use me Lord.'" He recounted his experiences as a young man and gave his testimony as a worker for Christianity. He recalled that it was at a Chamber of Commerce dinner in Peoria, Ill., that he made his first talk.

"I told that audience what I thought a Christian layman should do," he said. "The next day, a minister called me and asked me to speak at his church. And I've been speaking at banquets and meetings and churches ever since."

Noting that his industrial activities have brought him wealth, Mr. LeTourneau pointed out "it doesn't matter how much money you have; you can only sleep in one bed at a time."

He told of establishing missionary projects in Africa, explaining that he was using machinery to demonstrate to the natives what modern methods can do. This plan, he added, was giving them respect for the ability of mechanic-missionaries "and they are listening to us when we explain Christ to them."

The speaker was introduced by President E. L. Jackson of the Chamber of Commerce, who praised Mr. LeTourneau for dedicating his life to serving his country and his fellow citizens.

Mr. Jackson called attention to a booklet at each place, outlining the Chamber of Commerce's work program and its accomplishments during the past year.

The entertainment feature for the program was the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Trial by Jury," by the Cisco Junior College choir, directed by Jack Chambliss. Mrs. Douglas Stone played the musical accompaniment.

Guests were introduced by Charles Graham. Present were civic leaders from Abilene, Eastland, Ranger, Breckenridge, Dallas, Putnam, Brownwood, Coleman, Baird, Snyder and Moran. The invocation was given by Dr. H. M. Ward, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Leslie Seymour, superintendent of Cisco District Methodist Churches, served as master of ceremonies. Dinner music was provided by Mrs. W. O. Wylie on a Hammond organ provided by Wylie Funeral Home. The dinner was prepared and served under the direction of J. D. Yardley.

Sunday at 10 a. m., Mr. LeTourneau spoke to the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church. At 11 a. m., he was the guest speaker at the First Christian Church, and he concluded his two-day appearance here with an address at a community service at the First Methodist Church.

Near capacity audiences were present for each of his addresses. Arrangements for the church programs were made by the Cisco Ministerial Alliance of which the Rev. Sidney Spain is president.

Arrangements for the Chamber of Commerce dinner were worked out by committees under the direction of D. N. Morrison, general chairman.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS

BY CISCO GARDEN CLUB

TIME TO PLANT: Established plants may be moved in the fall at the time of blooming. Spring is the best time to plant. Plants have until Autumn to build up flowering wood. Plants should be divided in the spring, after spring growth appears and the new plants have developed roots. Divisions from the outer part of the clumps are strongest.

LOCATION: Need full sun at least 2/3 of the day and good drainage. Never plant near a hedge or tree roots and do not crowd them among fast growing plants of any kind.

PREPARATION OF SOIL: Turn the soil in December if possible. This allows the ground to aerate and freezing is good for it too, killing cutworms and other pests. Several weeks before planting time cover the mum bed with 2 or 3 inches of well-rooted barnyard manure. If rabbit or chicken manure is used it should be very old and only 2" should be used. Add super-phosphate at the rate of 1/2 cup for each plant to be set in bed, and, if the soil is very light or very heavy, add leafmold or peat. This lightens heavy soil and aids light soil in retaining moisture. All of these soil conditioners, if dug into the bed to a depth of 12 to 15 inches, improve the texture of the soil, encourage deep-rooting, well anchored plants which will withstand the summer heat and resist winter injury. Alkaline soil requires the addition of 4 pounds of iron sulphate per 100 sq. ft. (We have alkaline soil in Cisco.)

PLANTING: When plants are received stand them upright in a container of shallow water and let them stand over-night in a cool place before exposing them to the sun and wind. Protect plants, after they are planted, several days until they start growing in their new home. Set plants an inch deeper than they were in the cutting bed. Press soil around each plant, leaving a saucer-like depression, which should be filled with water, repeat until water does not drain away quickly; next day fill the depression with loose soil.

SPACING: In beds, the usual distance is 18 to 21 inches between rows and about 18 inches between plants in the row. Start planting about 9 inches from the end of rows. If planted in groups place the plants not less than 18 inches apart each way. Plant extra plants in the cutting garden in rows 2 feet apart and plants 21 inches apart in the row.

FOR PESTS: For aphids or plant lice use a contact spray such as Red Arrow or Black-leaf 40. For chewing insects use a poison spray or dust, like Slug-shot or Rotenone. Triogen is also good food for chrysanthemums. Well grown mums are usually healthy but if you should have leaf spot or other foliage discoloration use dusting sulphur. If Fernate can be secured try it with 25 percent of sulphur added and use it as a spray, to keep foliage healthy, about every 15 days from the middle of June until blooming time.

DIVIDING: If you do not buy new plants use the healthy outer plants coming up around the parent plants in early spring. Plant these in a new bed or completely renovate the old bed as advised in "Preparation of Soil."

SUMMER CARE: Keep soil surface loose by cultivation after rain or each watering but do not cultivate over 1 inch deep nor close enough to plants to destroy feeding roots. Water thoroughly once a week by placing the hose in bed and leaving until soil is wet about 8 inches deep. Let water run slow and soak in good. A mulch of peat applied about June 1 will eliminate the need for cultivation and will help hold moisture. Do not sprinkle plants from overhead as it invites foliage diseases.

PINCHING: When plants have been out 1 month pinch out the tender tips. For small poms and button mums continue pinching tip from each new branch until July 15 or August 1. This makes sturdy, bush plants which need no staking and which have plenty of branches for abundant bloom. For large mums pinch out the first tip and let only four stems remain for bloom stems. REMEMBER!!! Before starting in on your collection, visit prize-winning gardens in this area and select the varieties for their hardiness, early blooming (if they are late bloomers the freeze will get them), color, excellence of bloom, form, substance, stem and foliage. It takes just as much
