MOODY WINS BY LANDSLIDE; BRALLEY ELECTED SHERIFF ALLRED TRAILS POLLARD

Smith Defeated By 1,348 Votes; Bradford Loses

Juvenile Officer Here Carries 15 Out of 24 Boxes in City and Runs Strong Elsewhere.

W. G. Bralley was elected sheriff of Wichita county in Saturday's primary election by a majority of 1,348 votes. Complete returns from all 39 of the county's boxes later Saturday showed.

The majority came in a total vote that was only about 950 less than the vote cast last month, a total of 9,567 votes being cast yesterday in 37 boxes against 10,503 last July. Of the 39 boxes Bralley carried 27 and Smith 12; Bralley took 5,361 votes, Smith 4,013.

Bralley carried 15 of 24 boxes in the city, Smith taking nine as follows: Bralley, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23; Smith 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 10; 13, 24. At Burkburnett Bralley carried all three boxes, taking Thrift or Newtown near Burkburnett and also boxes 31, 32 at Iowa Park, and losing 33 to Smith. Four boxes at Electra went for Bralley, 35, 36, 37 and 38, Smith taking 38.

The constable's race in precinct 1 appeared the closest in the county, C. L. Bradford, incumbent, losing to Frank Morgan, former constable, by a vote of 2,946 to 3,007, a majority of 61 votes for Morgan.

Bradford declared Saturday night that he would ask for a recount, believing that the small difference in the two totals would justify his request.

In precinct 2 Roy Blanchett beat his opponent, N. P. (Dad) Sanders, for the constable's post there by a vote of 622 to 541.

In precinct 3 another election is probable where of three candidates running none polled a majority. The vote was E. B. Taylor, 317; R. A. Bains, 187; Latta A. Graham, 273, Taylor and Graham of course being high men. This unique situation arose as a result of two men being tied for second place in the July 24 election.

In precinct 4 Colonel Ed C. Wilson bested his opponent, Sid Smith, for the post of justice of the peace by a vote of 585 to 529.

Fight at Electra

Saturday's elections passed quietly over the entire county, police reports from Wichita Falls, Iowa Park, Burkburnett, Electra indicated.

In Electra only were disturbances reported, henchmen of opposing candidates for sheriff carrying their grievances to the point of blows on two occasions there, it was said. In one of these a fistic battle worthy of the name developed. No arrests were made.

Husband Charged With Murder Of Wife At Denton

DENTON, Tex., Aug. 28.—(AP)—C. J. Howard, traveling salesman, was arrested here Saturday and charged with murder for the death of his wife, Mrs. Florence Howard, 30, who was found unconscious on the highway here on the night of August 1. She died yesterday.

Mrs. Howard has been semi-conscious since she was found on the road with injuries on the head. She was brought to Denton by police and placed in a hospital. She never regained consciousness to tell how she had been injured.

TO PROPOSE WITHDRAWAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP) Withdrawal of the world court will be proposed at the coming session of congress by Senator Trammel, democrat, Florida, one of those who voted for the resolution of ratification.

The Florida senator said today he had decided to make such a proposal because of developments in Europe when an international conference soon is to convene under the auspices of the league of nations to discuss the acceptibility of the reservations by which the senate ratification of the court protocol was qualified.

THAT FOR THE RAIROADS

LONDON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—St. John Irvin, Irish dramatist thus expresses his opinion of American railroads: "I crossed the Atlantic in a gale that lasted five days and not a single dish fell off the dining room table. On my first railway journey in America the engine driver was so clumsy that he was unable to start his train without throwing my dinner in my lap. There is not one engine driver in America who is fit to serve as an oiler and greaser to a British engine driver. And that's not an extravagant boast; it's a plain statement of fact."

CHASES HER HUBBY

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Emma Williams, 22, and agile, infuriated with her husband, James, chased him five blocks with a gun followed him in a climb to the roof of a one story building and shot him in the side. Williams is in the hospital and cops who can climb trees are looking for Emma.

Earthquake Shock Is Felt In Maine

PORTLAND, Maine, Aug. 28.—(AP)—An earthquake of considerable intensity, although not so severe as that of a year ago, when virtually all New England was affected shook part of the state of Maine late today. The shock was felt most in Oxford county, upper Androscoggin, Franklin and a few towns in Somerset county.

HOLD FIRST TESTS

Comal Power Unit to Be Operating In Two Weeks

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Initial preliminary tests of the first unit of the Comal Power company's new plant near New Braunfels were made Saturday and the completed plant will be in operation within two weeks, Ed H. Kifer, vice president and general manager of the San Antonio Public Service company, an associate concern, announced Saturday night.

The completed first unit of plant and distribution system probably will be in operation not later than October 1, Kifer said.

THE WEATHER

Weather conditions in Wichita Falls Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock as reported by the Wichita Falls Electric company weather bureau follows: Maximum temperature 86 degrees; minimum 58; temperature at 5 o'clock 83; southeast wind; cloudy; average wind velocity 6 miles per hour; maximum 8 miles per hour; barometer 29.28.

OKLAHOMA: Sunday and Monday mostly cloudy.

EAST TEXAS: Sunday and Monday partly cloudy, probably scattered thunder showers; light, to fresh easterly to southerly winds on the coast.

WEST TEXAS: Sunday probably scattered showers, warmer in the Panhandle partly cloudy.

Sheriff Bralley

W. G. BRALLEY

Juvenile officer of Wichita county who Saturday was elected sheriff to succeed Fred K. Smith, incumbent.

'I'M GRATEFUL,' SAYS BRALLEY

Successful Candidate For Sheriff Thanks His Friends Here

"To say that I am grateful is expressing my sentiments far too mildly. The results of the election have been a source of especial gratification to me, in that I know my friends stood by me loyally and put their stamp of sincere approval on my record.

"I thank all of those who in any way contributed to my success at the polls. I have no ax to grind; I bear no malice toward anyone and my one big wish and intention now is to serve Wichita county as faithfully, as efficiently and as honestly as it is in my power to do. I propose to act with firm impartiality and apply with reason the provisions of the statutes.

"Other than that I have nothing to say."

W. G. Bralley, juvenile officer of Wichita county and successful candidate for sheriff in Saturday's election, made the above statement to the Record News Saturday night when it was apparent he had defeated Sheriff Fred K. Smith by more than 1,000 votes.

He will assume his official duties as sheriff next January when newly elected officers over the state take their positions.

Mr. Bralley has served as juvenile officer of the county with remarkable efficiency and has established an enviable record in that capacity. He has been a resident of Wichita Falls for many years and has served as police and fire commissioner of the city in addition to his work as juvenile officer.

Sweetly in Life; Also in Death

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Aug. 28.—(AP)—"Cleve and I have lived sweetly together in life. Why not in death."

This note was left by Dr. W. S. Reinhardt, 50 years old, Sinton physician who shot his wife and then killed himself at their home near Sinton Saturday. Mrs. Reinhardt, whose first name was cleve, died in a hospital at Taft about an hour after the shooting. She was shot through the breast with a rifle, while the doctor was shot through the heart.

Despondency over ill health was advanced as the possible cause of Dr. Reinhadt's act.

TROUBLE IRONED OUT.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Despite administrative disputes which marked early preparations for their proposed trans-Atlantic flight, all discord was reported smoothed out today and Lieutenant Allan Snoby and Captain Rene Fonck continued to add to the especially prepared equipment that will be a part of the S-35's essential cargo.

$50,000 Midnight Fire Sweeps Out Iowa Park Block

IOWA APARK, August 28.—Fire of undertermined origin starting shortly before midnight in the Beazley Cash grocery here swept away almost half a block of business buildings in the heart of the city, threatened for a time to develop into a general conflagration and caused an estimated loss of more than $50,000. Fire fightjng equipment was rushed from Wichita Falls to aid in combatting the flames when it appeared that they were spreading beyond control of the Iowa Park firemen.

The blaze had gained considerable headway in the grocery store before it was discovered. Firemen were hampered rather than aided by a driving rain storm, and when the flames began to eat their way out from the grocery, an emergency plea was sent to Wichita Falls. A pumper truck and crew made the run up in a heavy storm and aided materially in extinguishing the fire.

Business houses suffering from the fire, together with their loss and insurance, were as follows:

E P. Boyd, $8,000 loss; $2,000 insurance.

Beazley Cash grocery, $6,000 loss, $3,000 insurance.

W. B. Alvey, $3 000 loss, $1,500 insurance.

Mrs. D. K. Harver, $3,000 loss, no insurance.

Jack's cafe, $3,500 loss; $1,500 insurance.

Heston building, $8,000 loss, $3,000 insurance.

Ralston cleaners, $3,000 loss; $1,500 insurance.

W. T Enlow building, $2,000 loss; $1 500 insurance.

Efforts to determine the cause of the blaze were unavailing tonight. Several theories were advanced but all were speculation.

The fire, it was declared, was the most disastrous to strike Iowa Park in years.

BUSINESS IS GOOD IN CITY

C. of C. Survey Reveals That All Lines Make Progress

Practically every line of business in Wichita Falls was better during July and August this year than last year according to a survey by the staff of the Chamber of Commerce which was finished this week. In making the survey retail merchants in every line of business were interviewed and a substantial increase reported in almost every instance. As is the usual case, July was a slow month, but August has more than made up for it with an unusually good run of business for the entire month.

"We have had to work for the business this year," one prominent merchant said, "but that was due primarily to the increase in business establishments in our line. We have more competition this year than we had last and that of course spells something."

Of the scores of business men interviewed every one reported an increase in business and the range of increase is from five to forty per cent for the entire city. This increase comes despite the addition of several new business concerns in the city during the past few months.

The survey was made by the Chamber of Commerce to show to outside people interested in Wichita Falls that the city does not go through a business decline during hot months as is usual the case with southern cities. The business men all seem to be well pleased with the summer's business and are looking forward to an excellent run of merchandising during the fall and winter.

SAVES MAN'S LIFE

Scissors Plunged Into Lung; Bleeding Is Stopped.

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—An ambulance driver probably saved the life of Harry Seymour, who fell down a stairway plunging a pair of scissors into his left lung. W. J. O'Neal, ambulance driver for an undertaking company, seized a wad of cotton and applied pressure with his fingers to the wound until a physician arrived. He then rushed Seymour to a hospital.

KILLED BY BALL

Youth Struck In Head Dies In Paris Hospital.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A pitched ball, thought at first to have caused but slight injury, was fatal to Mancel Furr, 18, of Enloe, who died last night in a hospital here.

Furr was hit in a batting practice at Enloe Thursday. Robert Ecnols, who was pitching, warned Furr to be careful as he was throwing the ball wild. The next ball knocked Furr down, but he continued playing, thinking the injury not serious. He became unconscious several hours later.

WICHITAN IN CLOSE RACE

Is 9,688 Votes Behind When Returns Are In At 12:30 o'Clock

BULLETIN

At 1:30 a. m. Sunday morning the Texas election bureau totals in the attorney general's race were: Pollard 320,838; Allred 238,777, giving the Houston man a lead of 9,041.

James V. Allred of Wichita Falls was trailing Claude Pollard of Houston 9,688 votes on the face of returns tabulated at 12:30 Sunday morning by the Texas Election bureau. At that hour the vote stood Pollard 266,759, Allred 257,071.

The race between Pollard and Allred was a see-saw affair until late Saturday night when the Houston man jumped into a substantial lead with the aid of a heavy vote in his favor from Harris county. Allred took the lead on first returns and held it in varying degree as reports came in during the early evening hours. At 10 o'clock he was 2,000 in the lead, but lost this when the Houston votes were counted in a bunch.

Allred carried west Texas almost solidly and made big gains in some southern and eastern points. It was notable that Allred was carrying the smaller communities and rural districts almost without exception, while Pollard polled his most heavy strength in the large cities. Houston swamped the Wichita Falls man, while Dallas, San Antonio and other larger points gave Pollard a good lead.

In the city watching returns Saturday night, Allred was non-committal as to his opinions on the outlook. He asserted he still believed he had good opportunity to overtake Pollard's lead on the strength of as yet unreported returns from the country sections. Most of the votes from the city were tabulated when the 12:30 returns were wired in.

PHONE HEADS CHANGE

Southwestern Executives of St. Louis Are Switched

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Four changes in the personnel of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company were announced today by Percy Redmund, general manager of the company here.

Shields R. Smith, heretofore division commercial supply at Kansas City has been appointed to the same position at St. Louis. His place will be taken by Andrew L. Edmondson, formerly district manager of the Webster Groves district will supplant Edmondson whil John H. Wishman is appointetd the new district manager at Webster Groves. The changes are effective September 1.

Governor Moody

DAN MOODY

For the past two years attorney general of Texas, who Saturday was given a landslide vote and elevated to the governor's chair to succeed Gov. Miriam Ferguson.

MOODY WEARS WIDEST GRIN

Successful Candidate In Election Pleads For Friendliness

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A call to the democrats of Texas to lay aside the bitterness of the campaign just closed was sounded here Saturday night by Attorney General Dan Moody, democratic gubernatorial nominee. With Mrs. Moody, he watched returns at a local newspaper office. Attired in striped trousers blue coat, and white shoes, "fitting Dan" wore his happiest of smiles. He beseiged reporters "not to write about my pants."

Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, declined to comment on the election. Mr. Ferguson said he might issue a statement Sunday. Mr. Moody's statement follows:

"Moody's statement: "The returns at this time indicate a substantial and decisive majority in favor of my candidacy, and this I accept with humility. I see in the resultts of the primary the complete triumph of the principles of government advocated in the campaign, and I do not regard it as a personal victory."

Electran Hurt In Machine Accident

ELECTRA, Aug. 28.—C. A. Lininger, manager of the United States Machine shop of this city, suffered a painful accident about 11 o'clock Saturday morning. He was working in the shop, when a 5-16 inch steel pipe started to fall, which Mr. Lininger made an effort to catch. He failed to catch the pipe and it crushed three toes on his right foot, and an x-Ray revealed a fracture of the big toe and the two lying next to it. He was rushed to the office of Dr. Charles Monroe for treatment.

OBSERVE GERMAN DAY.

Sesqui-Centennial Sees Flag Float at the Top.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—(AP)—German day was observed at the sesqui-centennial exposition today. The flag of the German republic was raised over the administration building for the day and also on the flag pole in the court of honor of the exposition grounds.

Dr. Hans Heinrich Dieskhoff, charge of the German embassy, and Dr. Edward Von Selzam, secretary of the embassy, were the central figures in the observance.

GET $420

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The "white powder puff" thief was added to the criminal catalogue at police headquarters today. The man robbed a grocer and escaped with $420, unmasked save by a liberal coating of white powder.

Moody Leading Fergusons By 223,035 Vote

Hatcher Running Far Ahead of Ball in Race for Treasurer; Hickman Leading Davenport.

DALLAS, Texas, August 29.—Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at 1:30 a. m. from 229 out of 252 counties in the state, including 78 complete, show the following totals for candidates in Saturday's Democratic primary election:

Governor — Ferguson 232,343; Moody 455,378.

Attorney General—Allred 311, 278; Pollard 320,838.

Treasurer—Ball 238,777; Hatcher 366,094.

Returns from 16 out of 19 counties in eleventh district, including none complete:

Court of Civil Appeals—Davenport 18696; Hickman 18631.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 28.—Dan Moody has won the democratic nomination for governor over Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson by a majority of more than 200,000 and W. Gregory Hatcher defeatetd J. R. Ball by more than 100,000 for the nomination for state treasurer, returns tabulated up to 130 this morning indicated.

The race between Claude Pollard and James V. Allred for atorney general is in doubt. These candidates changed places several times during the count, and only a few thousand votes separates them. Calculations based on complete returns from 77 counties indicate that the total vote will reach 787,000 should later returns from the present incomplete counties maintain the same ratio. Terrell was the only county to report "no primary." The vote tabulated Saturday night was larger than tabulated on any other election night in Texas, 687,721. The former record was set in August, 1924 when 627,415 votes were tabulated. In the race for associate justice of the eleventh court of civil appeals at Eastland, Davenport and Hickman are running neck and neck. The race probably will be in doubt until the last of the 19 counties of the district is complete.

'I'll Talk Tomorrow'

AUSTIN, Aug. 28—(AP)—After many efforts to get in connection with Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and Former Gov. James E. Ferguson the former governor was finally engaged in a telephone conversation and after being informed of the latest returns of the second democratic primary election, showing that the governor was far behind Attorney General Dan Moody, he declined to make a statement concerning defeat. He said, "I'll probably make a statement tomorrow."

TOO MUCH TOO LITTLE

FELLERING, Alsace, France, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Big business is considered poor business by bankers in this part of France. They claim they lose money on every loaf of bread they sell under the government's price fixing regulations. The cost of flour is higher than the price of bread, they say.

17 SHIPS IN PORT

HOUSTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Saturday found 17 general cargo vessels lined up along the ship channel.

A half dozen or more of the steamers are expected to sail Sunday, while the others will hold over until Monday or Tuesday.

A HARD TIME

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Weather prophets in New York have a hard time. The latest phenomenon illustrating their predicament: hail stones as big as grapes fell during a thunder storm in upper Manhattan while the sun was shining brightly at the Battery—which is the weather bureau's front yard.

THE LAST TWO

The vote in Allendale precinct No. 25 in Saturday's primary election was as follows:

Moody, 6; Ferguson 31; Allred, 24; Pollard, 12; Hatcher, 17; Ball, 15; Bralley, 6; Smith, 30; Bradford, 6; Morgan, 29.

The vote in box 34, Denny, was as follow: Moody, 46; Ferguson, 34; Pollard, 20; Hatcher, 53; Ball, 20; Bralley, 55; Smith 29; Taylor, 26; Bains, 11; Graham, 34.

These totals should be added to the totals given in the box below to give the final figures.

MRS. RODGERS SHOWS FAITH

Flyer's Mother Comforts Wife Whose Husband Was Injured

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A black gowned woman, the mother of Commander John Rodgers, who crashed to his death yesterday, gathered in her arms the wife of the enlisted man, her son's mechanician, on the fatal flight from Washington and comforted her.

In the quiet corridor of the hospital at the Philadelphia navy yard last night the mother who lost her son found courage to hearten the young wife who raced from her summer vacation in New Jersey to the bedside of her husband, Samuel J. Schultz.

Tears came to her eyes as Mrs. Rodgers quietly patted the young wife's shoulder and encouraged her as she waited to learn the outcome of her husband's injuries. Schultz has a broken back and lacerations of the head and face.

Leaning on the arm of a son, Robert P. Rodgers, a New York architect, and followed closely by her husband, Rear Admiral John A. Rodgers, retired, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meigs of Havre de Grace, Md., nephew and niece, Mrs. Rodgers came into the hospital to arrange for the funeral.

Rear Admiral Rodgers paced the narrow hospital passageway. Occasionally he paused, his face drawn, and then again the nervous pacing as he did a year ago when Commander Rodgers was missing on the Pacific ocean.

24 CONVICTS GO FREE

Prisoners Overpower 20 Guards at State Reformatory and Escape

IONA, Mich., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Apparently having scatered in various directions 21 of the 24 convicts who escaped from the state reformatory here this morning after overpowering 20 guards, were still at liberty tonight. Three were re-captured before noon and tonight were back in the institution, in solitary confinebent and facing the possibility of three years additional imprisonment for their short freedom.

The break, shortly after 1:30 o'clock this morning was on eof the boldest in the history of Michigan penal institutions. For a time five men, ring leaders in the escape were in virtual possession of the prison. Among the leaders were eBaton Ford and Franklin Todd of Toledo, sentenced for holding up the Hadley state bank in Laper county some months ago.

ROME, Aug. 29.—(AP)—The described scenes at Rudolph Valentino's bier in New York says Osservatore Romano "would make us laugh if they did not cause the most profound pity. It is a collective madness, incarnating the tragic comedy of a new fetichism, the last logical consequence of a materialist civilization which has given man dominion over everything but himself."

MA AND JIM BACK

Return To Austin After Voting At Temple.

AUSTIN, ug. 28.—(P)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, returned at 7:30 Saturday night from Temple where they cast their ballots.

Attorney General Dan Moody returned earlier in the day from Taylor. Statements from rival camps are expected later in the night.

FLOOR COLLAPSES

Negro M. E. Church Caves In. Three Are Injured.

MINERAL WELLS, Tex., Aug. 28.—(AP)—The floor of the negro Methodist Episcopal church collapsed here Friday night, precipitating several hundred negroes into the basement and injuring 16. Three sustained fractured ribs and one an injury which necessitated amputation of foot. The accident occurred at the Sunday school convention of the Fort Worth district of the denomination.

DIG FOR 60-YEAR-OLD BEER

Minnesota Youths Hut for Brewery Cache, 30 Feet Underground.

HENDERSON, Minn., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Forty barrels of beer, buried in a hillside sixty years ago, is the "treasure" sought by four young men of Henderson, who started digging for it today.

Charles Ney, owner of a brewery which was razed last summer, gave the men permission to sink a shaft in an effort to locate the beer.

Jacob Ritter, original owner of the beer, stored the beer in a cellar thirty feet underground sixty years ago. Soon thereafter the tunnel leading to the cellar caved in and no attempt has been made since to salvage the beer.

Old emploes of the brewery have figured out the approximate location of the beer. The youths have a rude chart showing that by diging downward for thirty feet they will enter the tunnel leading to the cellar.

AUTO UPSETS IN RUM CHASE

NEW YORK.—While pursuing an automobile from which they afterward seized 100 gallons of alcohol, three Bronx detectives drove their car early yesterday morning over an enbankment at White Plains Avenue and Pelham Parkway, the Bronx, smashed it and received injuries which necessitated their reporting sick after they had captured and turned over three prisoners.

The Prisoners said they were Carlo Paibbano Louis Duckie and Frank Taspellano.

Scores Of Dead Found In Marsh Storm Victims

MORGAN CITY, La., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Scores of bodies of victims of the tropical hurricane are reported to have been found on the coastal plain below Houma, La., today. The report also said that refugees were found floating on rafts, by a seaplane which had been sent out to search for a party from Houma.

The region where the bodies are reported to have been seen is a deserted salt marsh which extends along the Louisiana coast. Houma, in Terrebonne parish is on the northern edge of this marsh. The only inhabitants are trappers and flshermen and it is presumed here that these are the victims. Telephone and telegraph wires throughout the region are still down. Men have been dispatched from Morgan City and Schreiver, La., an attempt to verify the reports.

17 Known Dead As Result of Storm

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Seventeen persons were known to be dead tonight from the tropical storm which swooped up through southern Louisiana Wednesday night from the Gulf of Mexico.

The entire crew of the Point Au Chine fishing camp was drowned when the swirling waters of the Gulf of Mexico rushed upward over the bayou-indented marsh lands, driven by the gale and abetted by the rushing rains. Four bodies, three Creoles and one Indian were found on the prairie lands near Montegut and seven others were discovered by a naval seaplane circling over the marsh lands late today. Among the dead were said to have been Claude and Charles DuPont of Houma.

Six others were believed to have been drowned when the tug boat Patton was lost in the Mississippi near Convent, La. The body of Mrs. George Theis, wife of the captain of the tug, was recovered and searching parties were endeavoring to find the bodies of the other members of the crew and her husband.

The party for which the seaplane as searching throughout the day, a group of prominent residents of Thibodaux, including the entire family of Freddie Daigle, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Beattie, Ava Tabor, Mrs. L. C. Tabor and Preston Pugh, returned to Thibodaux after having been lost in the marshes of lower Terrebonne since Tuesday.

The bodies of the fishing crew were found by a seaplane piloted by Julius DuPont, a former football star of Louisiana State university and a brother of the two missing DuPonts.

The four bodies found on the prairie indicated that the men had made a desperate struggle for their lives. The fishing camp to which they had repaired in seeking safety, however, was shattered by the winds, only a few sacks being found on the spot by the rescue party.

The passage of the storm, stories told today revealed was marked by the inundation of the marsh lands by giant waves rulling in from the Gulf of Mexico, overturning boats and sweeping away all before them.

Members of the seaplan's crew said they viewed many small boats grounded and overturned in the marsh land and fears were expressed that other bodies would be found as the search through the bayous and outlying sections continues.

ARMED FOR WIFE

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Joseph Wall of Brooklyn took part in some of the heaviest fighting in the world war but he was so afraid of his wife that he kept three pistols ready to protect himself if she should return home. That was what he told police today when they found three revolvers in his bed room. He was held for violation of the law prohibiting the possession of fire arms without a permit.

LIONS FEAST AT KEMP CY.

Electra And Wichita Falls Men Enjoy Good Time Friday

ELECTRA, Aug. 28.—The Lions clubs of Wichita Falls and Electra enjoyed a watermelon feast at Kemp City, Friday night. The feast was held in grove of trees, about one mile south of the Wichita river. There were about 30 members from Electra and an equal number from Wichita Fall in attendance.

Attorney Ben W. Tipton, chairman of the program committee introduced the speakers of the evening, who were Dr. Bolin and Dr. Graham and Messrs. Ripley and A. B. Maples and Tol Camp, all of Wichita Falls. All made impromptu speeches, while the principal speaker of the evening was W. M. Calvert of Electra, who addressed the assembly on the subject of Lionism. After each number C. W. Coffee, banker of Electra, entertained with appropriate music, using a portable Victrola. Impromptu speakers from Electra were Ben Meyer, and E. E. Rogers, who furnished a variety of fun. Two young girls from Wichita Falls danced the Charleston, and Tol Camp also danced the Charleston by special request. The closing speech was by Ben W. Tipton, who encouraged the spirit of co-operation and better fellowship between the Lion clubs of the two cities, and advocating the continuance of these meetings with Vernon and Burkburnett being invited to join in the next get-to-gether meetings.

$1,000 CASH GOES BEGGING

Found With Liquor in Milwaukee It Remains With Prosecutor

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 28.—(AP)—At the district attorney's office here is $1,000 that no one claims.

The 10 $100 bills are spurned by two men in position to claim ownership. But the responsibility involved causeee hesitation.

The money was found in a dresser in a room adjoining the one of Mike Orzechowski. In the same drawer, Carl Henning, state prohibition agent, fuond a bottle of liquor.

Alex Kolababa, bartender, said he never had seen the liquor or the money. Orzechowski said the liquor was not his and he had no idea where the $1,000 came from.

BUILDING GOES ON SLUMP HERE

Total Permits for Week Closing at Noon are $37,000

Building permits in the city of Wichita Falls took a decided slump during the past week with only a mere $37,000 representing the total for the entire week. This figure is considerably less than the amount of last week's permits which totaled $216,900, however the entire amount with the exception of one $800 item of this weeks' totals representst building and improvements on residence, with only one business house item and not a singel industrial project.

This week's permits increase the year's total to $7,407,301 and with a number of new business projects in the offing bids fair to run to the $10,000,000 mark for tthe year.

Following are the permits issued the past week:

S. H. Kress and company, 808-810 Indiana, business house, $800.

H. G. Karrenbrock, 2804 Pennsylvania, residence and garage, $3,000.

RODGERS BODY TO MARYLAND

Heroic Commander Borne From Philadelphia Hospital

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Commander John Rodgers, U. S. N., hero of the Hawaiian flight a year ago, who was killed yesterday when his plane fell into the Delaware river at the Philadelphia navy yard, was borne between ranks of marines and sailors late today on his way to his Maryland home.

The solemn tranfser of the body was made almost on the eve of the first anniversary of his departure with four others in a flight that was to have taken him from San Francisco to Honolulu. Then the eyes of the navy scanned the Pacific anxiously for nine days, when the five members of the party were cast away on a crippled seaplane, starved and exhausted in the battle with the sea to be picked up at last when in sight of the Hawaiian islands.

Today three of Comander Rodgers' companions on that flight, who had planned in a few weeks to essay it once again under his leadership, followed the body as it was taken by motor to Havre de Grace, Maryland, the home of his parents, Rear Admiral and Mrs. John A. Rodgers.

The gray haired man and woman who had waited anxiously those nine days for word of their son, sat this afternoon with bowed heads in their car at an undertaker's establishment while the dark mahogany casket draped with an American flag carried out by two of the flier's comrades on the Hawaiian flight, aided by two sailors and two marines and placed in the limousine hearse.

It was almost 24 hours to the minute after the commander's death that the body was started on its way to his final resting place at the national cemetery, Arlington, Va. There will be funeral services Monday in his home at Havre de Grace, then the body will be conveyed to Washington for final services and burial at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

The departure of the body was delayed until the commander's full dress uniform was brought from Washington by airplane.

Three companies of marines, three companies of sailors and the navy sesqui-centennial band from the navy yard formed a guard of honor at the mortuary.

As the casket was borne out a bugler sounded present arms and as the guard of honor snapped to the command, the band played "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

Aviation Pilots Skiles R. Pope and William M. Bowlin, comrades of Commander Rodgers on the Hawaiian trip, bore the coffin with four enlisted men, two from the navy and two from the marines.

TO REDEEM NOTES

$415,000,000 Worth to be Taken Up Monday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP) Federal reserve banks were authorized today by Acting Secretary Winston of the treasury to begin on Monday redeeming the $415,000,000 in treasury notes of August 1, 1922, which mature September 15. The notes bear interest of 4 1-4 per cent and will be redeemed in cash at the holder's option at par and accrued interest.

New financing will be necessary to meet the obligations Mr. Winston has announced and it is expected the treasury on September 15 will issue new short term securities but probably at a lower rate of interest.

CAL GOES FISHING

President Making Hay While Trout Season Lasts

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP)—With the trout season ending early next week President Coolidge turned fisherman again today and went on an expedition in the heart of the William Rockefeller preserve a few miles from White Pine camp, to try his rod and line.

Realizing that it might be his last opportunity for extensive trout fishing this year, Mr. Coolidge went equipped with hip boots to wade the tumbling stream of the preserve and planned to remain until darkness put a stop to the sport. He was accompanied by guides and secret service men.

STATE BOOKS CLOSE AUG. 31

Appropriations of $17,500,000 Become Available For 1927

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Appropriations approximating $17,500,000 will become available September 1 for the support of the state government for the year ending August 31, 1927.

All unexpended appropriations for this fiscal year will revert to the general revenue fund with the closing of the books, August 31, 1926.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has authorized this fiscal year more than $2,000,000 in deficiencies. Appropriations to cover these deficiencies may be made at the special session of the legislature, convening September 13.

More than $6,000,000 will be available September 1, for support of educational institutions and $3,291,431 for the various departments.

Among other appropriations that will become available: Southwestern insane asylum San Antonio, $452,540; state lunatic asylum, Austin, $406,510; state orphan's home, Corsicana, $205,630; state tuberculosis sanitarium, Carlsbad, $353,240; State Confederatte home, $172,690; state epileptic colony, Abilene, $253,110.

LEAVE DOORS OPEN

CHICAGO, Aug 28.—(AP)—To save wear and tear on the Imperial Valley Manufacturing company's safe Joseph Kopulos, manager, announced today that in the future its doors would be left open. Yeggs cracked it five times during the past year and blew it again last night but it was empty.

FORTUNE FOR 2 SWIMMERS

Ederle and Corson May Collect Heavily As A Result

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Swimming the English channel is considered a short cut to fortune for the first two women who accomplished the feat.

Gertrude Ederle, the first of her sex to swim the treacherous waters, has had offers of exhibition engagements which indicate that she may expect to earn a million dollars in turn for the 14 hours and 31 minutes she spent in battling the waters which had defeated all previous women aspirants.

While Mrs. Clemington Corson was not known to have received any offers a few hours after her conquest of the channel today, records of the earnings of great professional athletes in this country were considered as giving assurance that she can, if she wishes, realize big returns for her 15 hours and 28 minutes of work in swimming the channel. Vaudeville booking agents and promoters of professional sport are always eager to engage athletes of either sex who gain widespread popular notice.

Wagers placed on either Miss Ederle or Mrs. Corson also were good final propositions. Walter Lissberger, who backed Mrs. Corson, won $100 000 by placing a $5 000 bet with Lloyds of London that she would swim the channel. He said he would give her $25,000 of his winnings.

Henry Ederle, father of Gertrude was reported to have won a large amount by placing a wager that his daughter would conquer the channel.

Upon his return home yesterday he denied this but other members of the family said he had bet on "Trudy" though they did not say how much.

Mrs. Lissberger said Mrs. Corson spent only $5,000 on her training and the arrangements necessary in making the swim. The exact amount which Miss Ederle spent has not been made known.

Custody of Harry J. Leahy Is Demanded By Two County Sheriffs

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Sheriffs of two counties are demanding custody of Harry J. Leahy, taken in custody here Saturday by San Antonio police on charges of murder in connection with the killing of Dr. W. E. Ramsey of Mathis. Sheriff C. E. Reeves of Live Oak county telephoned Chief of Detectives Street that he would arrive in San Antonio Saturday night with a warrant charging Leahy with murder and Sheriff Hunt of San Patricio county also notified San Antonio officers he was coming for the purpose.

The body of Ramsey was found buried in a shallow grave in the Reeves Brown pasture in Live Oak county by officers who were guided to the spot by Robert Martinez. The latter, arrested in Laredo, is said to have made a statement to officers in which he declared Ramsey was killed where the body was found and the body dumped in a shallow grave already dug and waiting.

Held In San Antonio.

Chief Street said the prisoner probably would be turned over to the sheriff of Live Oak county but would no doubt be kept in this city for the present. He expected to hold a conference with the two sheriffs on their arrival and suggest that Leahy be placed in Bexar county jail. Leahy also expressed a desire to remain in San Antonio for the present and it was said that Martinez and another Mexican prisoner probably will be brought here for safe keeping.

Leahy was taken in custody here at a house on Summit avenue which officers had been watching for several days, Street said. Leahy was found in his shirt sleeves and surrendered at once when officers appeared.

Chief of Police Miller, Chief Street and other officers went to the house. Leahy was standing in the hall when the party entered.

"Hello Ham," the hunted man remarked, shaking hands with the officer.

Street returned the greeting and asked Leahy of he was armed. On receiving a reply in the negative, Street said:

"All right, I will take your word for it. Put on your coat and let's go."

Leahy expressed a desire for something to eat and was taken to a restaurant where he ate dinner just at noon. From there he was taken to police headquarters. Leahy declined to make a statement to the officers.

Bride Stands By.

Leahy's bride whom he married last Thursday soon joined him at police headquarters and remained with him during the afternoon. Leahy was not placed in a cell but sat with his wife in Captain Street's office while officers guarded him.

Officers declared they had been trailing him since Martinez was arrested and had been closely watching the brother of the woman whom Leahy had married.

The statement said to have been made before Laredo officers by Martinez, is declared to have definitely fixed the killing of Ramsey in Live Oak county.

FORD A HEMP GROWER.

HENRY FORD has decided to grow his own hemp. A vast deal of the hemp used in America comes from the Philippine Islands. This has been true for a matter of a hundred years. In the days when Spain was the mistress of the islands Americans were largely interested in the hemp industry.

Henry has been making a close study of hemp. He has discovered that it can be grown in America. He has a farm of 2,000 acres in Ohio which is suitable for hemp culture. This farm fringes his rail road. Henry ever has an eye on freight rates. He always knows what he is doing.

He has notified his tenants to get off the land and next year he will embark in the hemp growing industry. Col. Carmi Thompson of Ohio is doing research work for President Coolidge in the Philippines. He has made two important discoveries. First, the natives will not be ready for independence for fifty years. Second there are millions of acres of land where rubber trees could be planted with great profit to the planters.

Indeed, the Ohio colonel says, that in a few years after the planting Americans could provide all the rubber for home consumption with a surplus left over that would destroy the British rubber monopoly. This makes it interesting all around.

It is proper that the British monopoly should be destroyed. It is proper that American rubber consumers should be supplied with American grown rubber from the islands of the Pacific. It is proper that the Philipino land owners should come to terms with American investors who are ready to do business.

But what of the pledge made to the natives that they should be given complete independence? This pledge was made years ago by the American government. It has never been fulfilled. More than a hundred years ago Spain promised the natives complete independence and then the Spanish broke the pledge. They ignored it.

Why should the United States follow in the footsteps of Spain? Why should the Americans ignore a pledge of independence given to a weak people who are unable to help themselves?

Is it to be rubber first and then freedom for the Philipinos.

DONAHEY IS MODEST.

GOVERNOR VICTOR DONAHEY of Ohio is a democrat. He has been nominated for a third term. He refused to carry excess baggage. Ohio newspaper correspondents declared that Donahey would be a candidate for president in 1928 if he carried his party to victory in November.

This did not appeal to Donahey. Who began life a printer and knows the printing and publishing game as thoroughly as he knows the game of politics. He killed his boom before it was born. He declared he knew his limitations. He gave it out straight from the shoulders that he was not and would not be a candidate for the presidency of the United States if he won an election the coming November.

A man who knows his limitations is wise as well as a modest man. Donahey is a dry democrat, strong with organized labor and the farmers of his state. Should he win in November there may be another story to tell in 1928. Women politicians change their mind. Why not men politicians?

Ohio democrats held a big state convention. They failed to take action on the two-third nominating rule or the unit rule. They side stepped an important issue. They should have given instructions to their national committeemen. On another issue they were not silent.

They declared for the retention of the primary system for the nomination of the candidates for office and they asked for the enactment by the legislature of a law preventing lawyers and members of the general assembly practicing before state commissions. This is a reminder to the Texas law makers to the fortieth legislature, that similar legislation might be beneficial to the people of Texas and their interests. Ohio has another favorite son in the person of Athlee Pomerene, democratic nominee for United States senator. He is said to be of presidential size.

Organized labor is against him; the drys do not like him and he voted for the nineteenth amendment under protest. Pomerene is a favorite son, a very able man, but how will it be possible for him to smash the barriers.

Ohio is a republican state when conditions are normal.

Pomerene hasn't organized labor behind him and he has no great drag on the farmers. If he wins the senatorship he will astonish the democratic world and paralize the republicans.

A ROYAL ROAD

IN this new age it is perhaps to be expected that the idea that there is no royal road to learning should be at least partially disproved. We have stood the shock of being told that George Washington probably never had a hatchet, and that he never cut down any cherry trees with it if he did. We have not been overcome at the assertion that Benjamin Franklin did not flirt with the lightning through the medium of a kitestring. We have endured many such shocks and so we will likely be able to get along all right when informed that the Prince of Wales didn't have to take examinations when he went to Oxford in pursuit of an education. The cat was let out of the bag by Prof. R. B. Mowat of Oxford, who is teaching history at the University of Washington in Seattle this summer.

"You couldn't examine a man who will be your king, you know," he said, "and besides, some one might be found who was better than his highness, and that would be very embarrasing." We had an idea that Englishmen could examine men who were their kings, let alone those who were simply due to be. It seems as though the barons put King John through a terribly severe quizzing at Runnymede, and that he failed flat without any embarrassment to anybody except himself. It is also a matter of record that more than one other English monarch, notably certain of the Stuarts, were given stringent tests, and one of them, James by name, left the throne and the country rather than face the board of examiners. Customs have probably changed, though, by this time.

To get back to the present Prince of Wales, however, it may be noted that Professor Mowat says he was a splendid student and obeyed all the rules, thereby most unquestionably missing a lot of fun. If the Prince of Wales had not learned anything of course, it would still be possible to cling to entire belief in the idea that school was one place where utter democracy prevailed, but the fact is that he seems to be a rather we shall have to let go of this tradition just as we have given up so many others.

WHY BUTLER QUIT.

NEW YORK has a population of 12,000,000 and politically speaking, it is the most important and influential of all American states in campaign years. This year there is to be a United States senator to be elected and James W. Wadsworth is a candidate to succeed himself. He is the most outstanding republican in the state of New York, he has served twelve years in the senate and his father before was a republican leader and member of congress.

Senator Wadsworth would repeal the eighteenth amendment and substitute for it the French-Canadian system of handling the liquor traffic. He is to be renominated by his party. Doctor Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, is a republican and he does not believe in the eighteenth amendment of the Volstead act.

WHERE IT CAME FROM

THERE died in New York a few days days ago a man who wrote a new word into the English, or, in any event, the American language and had it sweep from one end of the country to the other almost overnight. The word was caught up in merry equip, in professional jokes and even a poem has been written about a girl who suffered from —that—and even her best friends wouldn't tell her.

Milton F. Easley died a young man, mourned by the many friends. He has been a newspaper reporter in Chicago and in other cities of the middlewest before taking up advertising. Almost immediately he achieved a marked success in that field and by his craft he will always be known as the creator of an entirely new and revolutionary school of advertising. His sponsors went into the new venture with some misgivings —it was so personal. But Milton F. Easley invented "halitosis," and devoted his appeal to ameliorate, a condition which robbed girls of their dancing partners, which kept them from ever, ever being invited to a party again, which made young men wonder why they never, never were included in gay yachting trips or motor rides, would make a hit. Before his death he had the satisfaction of seeing his idea taken up and imitated in a rather broad field.

He Must Have Picked the Wrong Job

ED WYNN'S QUESTION BOX

By ED WYNN

"THE PERFECT FOOL"

He Knows All—He Sees All

Dear Mr. Wynn:
We are getting up a raffle for a poor man, in our neighborhood, and I have been asked to write to you to ask if you won't buy some chances.
Truly Yours,
Benny Factor.

Answer: I don't want any chances as I wouldn't know what to do with a poor man if I won one.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a boy 10 years old. I have a rich uncle but he is very stingy with his money. My birthday is next December and I asked him to get me a bicycle for a birthday present and he said it would cost too much money. Then I asked him to buy me a tricycle and he said that would cost too much too, then he said I should leave the present to him. What do you think he will get me?
Yours truly,
G. Heestite.

Answer: In as much as he says a bicycle or a tricycle will cost too much, I guess he intends waiting till December and get you an icicle.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I hear so many jokes about matrimony that I often wonder if any of the things I heard have any truth behind them. For instance, are all married people unhappy?
Sincerely,
I. Rish.

Answer: No., only the men.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a chicken raiser and my farm is located right near the city reservoir. I have been here about two years and during that time they have had three accidents at the reservoir and each time they have trouble the water floods my farm. Up to date over 300 of my chickens have been drowned. What shall I do?
Yours truly,
U. Understand.

Answer: Stop raising chickens and raise ducks.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
We are a New York family and my son, who has just graduated from high school, is preparing for college. I asked him what course he intends to study and he says he thinks there is a great field for civil engineers. Do you agree with him?
Truly yours,
I. M. A. Brakeman.

Answer: What New York really needs is civil taxi-cab drivers.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
Will you kindly settle a dispute for us? In our town there is a strike on the trolley car line, and the cars are being run by incompetent men with the result there have been several accidnts. What we want to know is this: "In case of an accident what is the first duty of the conductor and the motorman?"
Truly yours,
Violet Rays.

Answer: In case of an accident the first duty of the conductor and the motorman is to blame it on each other.

The Conductor and motorman blame each other.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a middle aged woman and have been ailing for some time. The doctor advises an ocean voyage as a cure. I am subject to sea sickness but the docter says a trip to Europe will do me a lot of good. If I take an ocean trip do you think I will feel better?
Sincerely yours,
M. I. Safe.

Answer: If you are subject to sea sickness, as you say, I think you will feel better after a trip to Europe, about two years after.

De ar Mr. Wynn:
I notice so many women keep money in their stockings and every time they need it they lift their skirts, put their hands in their stocking and pull it out. What I want to know is: How do these women get at their money when gentlemen are around them?
Truly yours,
X. Tremities.

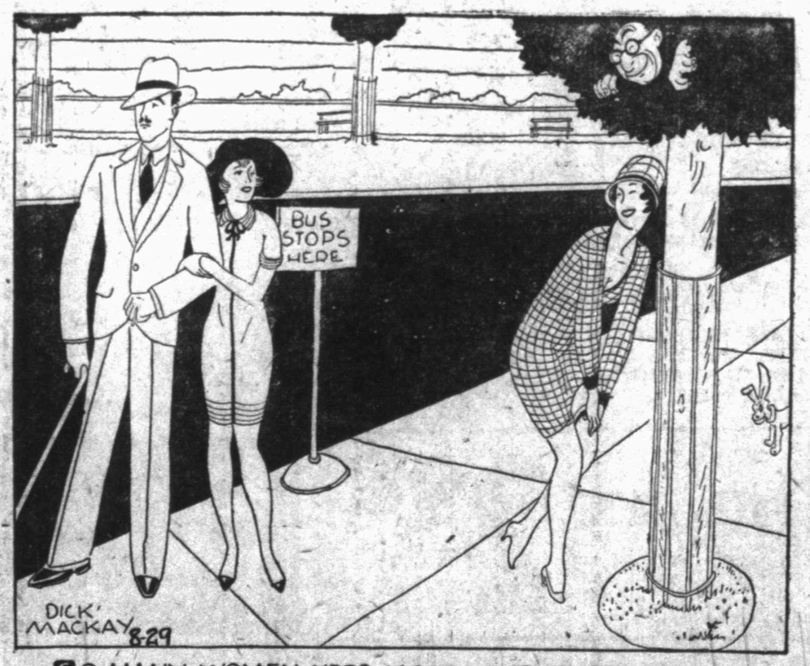

Answer: My dear friend, when there are gentlemen around, women don't have to get at their money.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
Isn't it wonderful, all these new inventions? Think of it, they can now send messages without wires. Do you think we will ever be able to travel without leaving home?
Yours truly.
F. I. Onleenew.

Answer next week.

HERMIT'S BOARD FOR GROCER

LLANELLY, Wales. — Thomas Morgan, a hermit living in squalor, left his $35,000 hoard to the grocer from whom he bought his meager supplies.

The Married Life of Helen And Warren

AN INDISCREET LETTER SHATTERS THE SERENITY OF A SUMMER AFTERNOON.

Restfully cool and dim!

After the glaring sun-baked street, the library, with its awninged windows and linen-shrouded furniture, was gratefully relaxing.

Only half-past four. An hour to rest before Warren came.

"Is this a nice cool spot?" Helen paused to stroke Pussy Purr-Mew, stretched out on the library table.

One languid paw on the afternoon mail Nora had left there.

Three circulars and a letter.

Helen scanned the opening lines before she knew the letter was not for her. Then impelled—read on!

Dear Mr. Curtis:

Perhaps you will feel I should not write you. But I shall never forget how wonderful you were to me—those happy days in your office. The lovely ring you gave me I shall always prize.

I have my divorce—after three wretched years with Mr. Turner. If only I had stayed with you and not married! Yet I did so long for a home of my own.

Of course I had to work. I got a position as filing clerk—but the concern failed and I've found nothing since. And now, after two months' dragging illness, I must have an operation—and I have only twenty-six dollars.

For the sake of the past, perhaps you will help me now.

GRACE GLEASON TURNER.

Turmoiled emotions! Her face aflame, Helen stood staring at the letter.

Grace Gleason! His stenographer! And since their marriage—for she remembered the name.

Searing phrases! "The ring you gave me...How wonderful you were to me...If only I had stayed with you and not married! For the sake of the past...."

Purring overtures from Pussy Purr-Mew. Aroused from her nap, moistly nosing the hand that held the letter.

But Helen stared unseeingly at the pile of magazines on the table.

Not Warren—. She knew him too well. And his stenographer—.

No, no, unthinkable! Yet those compromising lines. How had she dared write such a letter?

Afraid to send it to his office—his secretary opened all his mail.

The envelope! Yes, plainly "Mr." but she had to read it "Mrs." His mail so rarely came to the house.

A "personal" in the corner that she had not seen. "Personal"—underscored! Every letter of the heavily-inked word—more incriminating.

Warren! Who never looked at women. Then was it all a pose?—his indifference. His snorting contempt of men who had "affairs."

"Them melons look pretty green," complained Nora from the door. "Maybe I better keep them and open some pineapple."

"Yes, anything," mechanically.

Sick, trembling, Helen dropped into a chair. She must think—plan. Bring some order out of this engulfing chaos. Warren would soon be here. What should she do?

Dazedly she looked around the room. The same room that a few moments ago had seemed so cool and restful.

The sense of protection she had felt coming in from the hot, clamorous street! Her pity for the tired, willed woman trudging along with a suitcase had enhanced her own security. She did not pity her now. She, at least, had independence and self-respect.

What to do? Confront him with it? She couldn't! Not yet. She must pretend she didn't know.

But how? The letter had been opened. He would know it had been read.

No, the flap not torn. The sharp letter-opener had slid beneath.

With guilty care she glued it back.

Propped against his collar box—he could not fail to see it.

Helen dressed for dinner with a curious sense of detachment. Everything seemed strange—unfamiliar.

That crystal atomizer on her dressing table—Nora had broken. How she had worried over it yesterday. It had seemed a real calamity. And now—how trivial. She dropped it into the waste-basket.

Still standing before the mirror, stabbing at hatpin in the cushion, when the door slammed.

Warren!

Now! Even in her abysmal wretchedness—a swift appreciation of the theatric.

The next minute, she ran out to his where-are-you whistle.

"Hello, Kitten. Jove, it's hot out! Sticky. Think I'll take a shower. Trot out some fresh things. Where's that old crash suit?"

Grumbling, self-absorbed. Barely a glance at her.

Following him into his room, she laid out fresh linen.

The letter propper against the collar box quivering each time she opened or closed a drawer.

He would not see it until he got out his collar. Vigorous splashing from the bathroom now.

His old crash suit! Bought that summer in Maine. That joyous carefree summer. A rush of memories. Riding—canoeing. How wonderful he had looked! Tanned and Virile.

Shirts, fresh socks, canvas shoes. Everything but his collar now laid out.

Retreating to her room with a minus-a-button shirt. Grateful for something to do. Easier than idle waiting.

The door ajar, she could hear his every movement.

Dressing now. His shoes. The jingle of his belt-buckle. Whistling. Soon his collar!

With held breath she waited.

The letter! A crackle of paper as he tore it open.

More rattling. Then silence.

The first sheet. Another crackle—turning over. Again that sickening silence.

The telephone!

Automatically she hurried to answer it.

Mr. Dalton—for Warren.

He strode in. Still collarless.

"Hello, Dalton. * * * No, postponed for another week. * * *"

She did not hear the rest. Unimportant business details.

The letter! What had he done with it? In his pocket? Had he read it all?

"Dinner's ready," announced Nora.

Back to his room for his collar and coat. Then to the table with the brisk vigor fresh grooming always gave him.

"Dalton wants us to go Hopatcong Sunday. How 'bout it. Too hot?"

"I—I don't think we'd better make any plans for Sunday."

"Eh? Why not?" plainly sensing a strained note.

"Why, nothing. Only—it is hot."

"You look all in," assaulting the cold roast beef. "Heat too much for you?"

"It must be that," sipping her iced tea.

"You ought to be downtown. Hot as blazes! Got another fan for the office today—for Miss Lewis."

Miss Lewis! Helen swallowed—hard.

"You've a cinch here. Don't have to ype all day in a sizzling office," digging into the salad. "Nothin' to do but keep cool. By George, forgot that letter from Miss Gleason," casually. "Now, there's a job for you," tossing it across the table. "Read that."

"A job for me?" steadying her voice.

"Yes, the poor girl's up against it. Got to do somethin' for her. Thought we might get her into St. Mary's Hospital. Stevens's one of the directors."

The letter opened now, Helen blurred through it.

"I'm darn busy this week. Let's have some more ice in this tea. Suppose you go see her tomorrow."

"You're asking me to call on—her?"

"Why not?" spearing a pickle. "You're always watnin' to play the Good Samatitan. Tell her I'll get her into St. Mary's. Won't cost her a cent."

Still forking blindly at the cold meat on her plate.

"Look here, what's wrong with you tonight?"

"You ask me to read a letter like that—and then go to see her?" quiveringly.

"Why not? What's the matter with that letter? What's struck you anyway?"

Without a word, she pushed it back towards him.

"The ring?" glancing over it. "For the love o' Lil! That what you're sore about? Don't you remember that ring we found? Night we came from the Rawsons'. Seal ring—'G'. Paid for advertising the darn thing. No one claimed it—so I gave it to Miss Gleason—her initial. What're you starin' at?"

Her head went down on the table. Sobs. Hysterical relief.

"Great guns, did you think I'd given that girl a ring?" he snorted. "Well, of all the idotic—"

"Oh, I know—I should've known—"

"Huh, when I start chasin' skirts—it won't be anyone in my office. I'll pick 'em further away. Think I'd philander around and gum up my business? Shove over that butter."

"Oh, then it's only your business—" through quizzical tear-blurred eyes.

"Fishin', eh? Well, at any rate you don't have to worry. I'm not takin' on any more trouble. Got all I want right here. Now you dust around tomorrow and see what you can do for Miss Gleason. Darn nice girl. Married a bad egg—had a tough time."

"Oh, dear, I'd love to! The first thing in the morning—I'll do everything I can. Oh, I've so much—I'm so happy," ecstatically. "I'd love to do something for her."

"Well, go to it! But you needn't slobber all over the place squelching her emotionalism. "Now, next time get the dope straight 'fore you hit the ceilin'. Always getting steamed up over a false alarm. Here, I asked for some ice an hour ago! How 'bout it?"

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU

VIRGO

Today's planetary aspects are benign, rather than actively favorable, and are especially suitable for Sunday observances and recreations. For about two hours after noon, there are indications that your temperament may be unfavorably affected. Any outward evidence of this untoward condition can be counteracted by a small measure of self-discipline. The evening influences will contribute very largely to peace and harmony in the home.

Children born today will not cause, on physical grounds, much worry or anxiety, until they pass the age of 7 years, and then the ailments from which they will suffer will tax patience and demand care to the utmost. Once this stage is passed, the promise to develop along normal lines, and attain a vigorous adulthood. In disposition, they will be vivacious. They will not apply themselves very enthusiastically to their studies, but their alert minds will enable them to pull through. These children must be taught early in life responsibility, and some means must be devised whereby their ambition is awakened.

If today is your birthday, you derive little or no pleasure from outdoor sports or pastimes and, if left to your own devices would rarely participate in them. You are fond of music travel and art, and derive your greatest joy from intellectual recreation. You are very thoughtful and serious-minded, possibly too much so—and object to wasting your time and energy on frivolous things. This attitude does not make you uninteresting or uncongenial. On the contrary, your friends—and they are nearly all of cultured tastes—find you, at all times, both interesting and congenial. You are a living refutation of the twite saying that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy!"

You form very few close friendships and this is largely the result of your inclinations being so different from that of the ordinary man or woman. You do not seek material rewards, nor are you ambitious for them. Your reward consists in the glory of achievement.

Successful people born this date are:

Oliver Wendell Holmes, physician and author.
Anna Carroll, strategist.
George F. Hoar, senator.
James Proctor Knott, legislator.
George W. McCrary, jurist and statesman.

FLAT-FOOTED EXCUSE IS A LOSER FOR WOMEN DRINKER

NEW YORK.—Miss Harriet Lee considers herself an ill-treated woman. She said as much when she was fined after being found staggering along the street clinging to any support that came her way. "It's my feet, Judge," she explained with tears in her eyes. I'm flat-footed and have to hold onto the wall as I walk along. I'm very bad on my feet." The policeman who found Miss Lee in her wanderings agreed with her last statement, but added that the prisoner "couldn't find the wall." So, this being her twentieth appearance, Miss Lee was fined.

Santone Bumps Burns Off Hill, Segrists Clips Homer

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—San Antonio bumped Fort Worth back into third place Saturday by winning the series final, 5 to 4. The Bears knocked Burns out of the box in the second after getting three runs off him and added two more off Wachtel, including a homer by Segrist. Both the third basemen's circuit swats in the sixth and Wachtel's in the fifth sailed over the left field fence.

Tiny Owens, who has worked in more games than any other hurler in the league this season, was effective at the critical stages. He fanned five Cats and walked one.

Phipps stared in right field, saving the game twice. Because of his snappy fielding, the Panthers used extra precaution on the bases.

White Popular With Chicago Ring Fans

The Tommy White-Irwin Bige fight in Chicago Friday night was stopped during the seventh round and declared no contest, according to a wire from Dick Griffin. White, Griffin said, was winning every round hands down, but that Bige clinched and covered all the way making it a poor fight. If the squabble had been allowed to continue, White would have knocked Bige out sooner or later, said Griffin.

When the bout was halted, Chicago fandom gave White an ovation, cheering him lustily. He probably will be used on the next card with Spug Myers, said Griffin.

Clyde Hull boxed Floyd Hybert ten rounds to a draw verdict.

FAVORITE BACK IN HARNESS MONDAY

The smiling mug of Duke Tramel heavy punching Cowtown welterweight, peers out at you again this morning, for Duke's coming back after two months' absence from the local ring.

Tramel tangles with Pat Corbett of Kansas City Monday night in the 10-round American Legion fight feature. He declares he never felt better in his life and is confident of slipping over the sweet dreams poke on Pat.

Corbett, however talks the other way around yesterday solemnly averring that he will drop Tramel for the count, admitting that he knows Duke has never been knocked out, but declaring nevertheless that he's slated to kiss the canvas Monday night.

Hershal Dean, Shreveport lightheavy, and Dempsey Moore, Wichita Falls high school athlete, have been re-matched in a four-round semifinal.

Trooper Carr, Wichita Falls flyweight, tackles Young Red Wells, Fort Worth flyweight champion, in a four-rounder.

Record Shackleford, the pressman, meets Bobby Wells, Red's brother.

Kid Norford, Wichita Falls negro welter, fights Fort Worth's Black Panther in a 10-round mill. The Fort Worth biffer has won 12 straight bouts, according to Matchmaker Don Wofford.

FIGHTS SUNDAY BASEBALL

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Proceedings to halt the playing of Sunday baseball in Philadelphia were instituted in the Dauphin county court today in the form of a quo waranto action brought by Attorney General Woodruff against the Philadelphia American league baseball club.

The suit is similar to that brought by the state against the Sesquicentennial exposition commision to stop the Sunday operation of amusements and commercial features of the exposition.

The baseball club was named defendant as a corporation and was given until September 13 to answer. The court after that date will fix a later time for a hearing.

EXPORTERS COLLAPSE

BEAUMONT, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Steers won today for an even break of the series with a 6 to 4 decision. The Exporters infield collapsed in the fifth and Dallas scored five unearned runs for the triumph. Billings retired in the ninth when a foul tip injured his knee. Umpire Fanning had much trouble throughout and once halted the game to order boys from the roof of the grand stand where they had been stationed to watch foul balls. Rube Stuart, vice president of the local club was also included in the order. The official having gone to the press box to ascertain scores of other Texas league games.

Pesek Invades Wichita Falls Matdom Thursday In Match With Romonoff

Joe Pesek, 150-pound Nebraskan, who is the only man, so far as is known, who has defeated Matty Matsuda in two straight falls, invades Wichita Falls matdom Thursday night.

Defending the citadel will be Billy Romonoff the clever New orker, and more or less a favorite with Wichita Falls fans.

The match is to be a finish battle.

Pesek defeated Matsuda nearly a year ago in an El Paso ring. At the time he outweighed the Jap from seven to 10 pounds, not coming in at the welterweight limit so Matsuda's belt was not at stake.

The Nebraskan comes of sure-fire wrestling stock for he is a brother of none other than John Pesek, the 190-pounder who defeated Ad Santel at Wichita, Kan., and just the past week wrestled Heavyweight Champion Joe Stecher two hours to a draw with neither man winning a fall.

Romonoff issued a challenge to Dutch Mantell for a return match but the Amarillo grappler said he is not able to wrestle this week. It is likely the winner of the Pesek-Romonoff mill will meet the Dutchman at a later date.

Yaqui Joe, the Indian, takes on Silvio Checco, welterweight champion of the navy in a finish bout preliminary to the Pesek affair Thursday. This match is expected to be hard fought.

A DOUBTFUL ONE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Professor Myron Greese, University of Maryland, has solved the problem When is a hole in one not a hole in one?

Driving from the fifth tee of the Beaver Dam course, he hooked and topped the ball, rolling it up a hill and into the fourth hole, 125 yards away.

You Don't Have To Be "Rich" To Live In Country Club Estates

The man of moderate means, but who has ambition and a future will find here just the homesite he will always be proud to own. A $5,000 to $7,000 home may be built on the lots west of Taft street, and these lots possess every feature that makes Country Club Estates so desirable a place in which to live.

The best engineering and landscape architectural talent that money could employ, have done their best in the laying out, planning and planting of Country Club Estates. The rarest of shade trees and shrubbery have been brought from other states and planted in profusion at most strategic points. Double rows of shade trees border the paved drives and boulevards and the beauty of the place is enhanced by an artistic electric illumination system which makes every street in Country Club Estates a veritable "white way."

We are not PROMISING improvements—you don't have to inquire as to what we are going to do—we have already done it—the improvements are in—the trees are growing—the streets are paved, the sewers are in, the electric wiring and telephone lines and the sidewalks are now being laid—your homesite is ready—ready to grace a beautiful home.

And these special pre-development prices, the unusually reasonable terms of one-fifth cash—balance 1 per cent per month with 6 per cent interest prevail. Make your selection now and own a homesite of which you will always be proud. Prices will advance in the Fall.

Spuds Overcome Early Lead Defeating Dungeon Dwellers By 8-5 Count

Jenkins and Turgeon Lead Batting Attack on Henson; Lamb Taken from Game With Injury.

WACO, Aug. 28.—Wichita Falls overhauled a three-run lead, tying the score in the fifth, forged ahead momentarily in the seventh and then was forced to break another tie in the eighth, winning from Waco by the ultimate score of 8 to 5 this afternoon.

The Cubs routed Fred Fussell in the first inning when they scored three runs. Lester White relieved and hurled great baseball the rest of the game.

The Spudders pounded Henson and Freeze for 12 hits, Freeze, however, pitched only the ninth inning in which Wichita Falls scored two runs.

Turgeon and Jenkins produced exactly half of the victor's base hits, each poling out three.

Home runs were frequent. West of Waco connected for two. Turgeon and Fitzgerald of Wichita Falls each hit one over the fence.

Three runs behind in the fifth the Spudders rallied after two were out and tied the score. Lapan opened with a base on balls and went to second on White's infield out. LaFayette struck out. Turgeon singled through short, sending Lapan to third. Jenkins doubled to center, scoring Lapan. Lamb scored Turgeon and Jenkins with a single to left. Lamb sprained an ankle when taking the turn at first base. Williams replaced him, the veteran later going to right field. Benton retired with a fly to right.

Turgeon hit his home run in the seventh with the bases empty. West came back with a home run in the Waco half of the inning with the bases empty.

Fitzgerald's home run came in the eighth with nobody on.

LaFayette opened the ninth with a single off Freeze who had taken Henson's place on the mound. Turgeon advanced the runner with a sacrifice bunt. Jenkins followed with a single to left. LaFayette went to third. Williams popped out to first base. A moment latetr, Jenkins stole second. Benton singled to right, scoring LaFayette and Jenkins. Fitzgerald grounded out to second.

LET'S GO HUNTING

Bird season opens Wednesday!

But lay off the upland plover, Brethren, because there's an indefinitely closed season on these feathered birds.

Go after your doves and prairie chickens all you like. Bag limit is 15 a day, not more than 45 in a week.

If you see any ducks, don't shoot, Mister. Season doesn't begin until Oct. 16.

And by the way, don't fire at your birds from an automobile. That's a violation. Incidentally, infraction of the game laws not only incurs a fine but loss of hunting license.

Levsen Wins Both Ends of Twin Bill

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Levsen pitched and won both games of a double header for Cleveland today, defeating the Red Sox by scores of 6 to 1 and 5 to 1. In each game he allowed Boston four hits. As an added feature Burns of Cleveland equalled the big league record of 59 two-base hits in a season made by Tris Speaker in 1923 when he doubled in the eighth inning of the first game. REDS LEAD IN TEAM ATTACK

Slugging in American Loop Falters As Heavers Pep Up

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Turning into the stretch in the National league pennant race, the three clubs fighting for the lead are similarly bunched in their hitting. On the fringes of both battles stand the Chicago Cubs, while, paradoxically enough Philadelphia is bringing up the rear as games go and ranking right up with the Cubs in batting.

Cincinnati leads the slugging, figures including Wednesday's games show, with an average of .294, the Pirates being second with one of .289 and St. Louis next with a .285 figure. The Phillies and Cubs tied at .283 after a week of general recesion in the batting of the teams and leading individuals.

The Cardinals remained rather prominent in both struggles for leadership with but one among the top ten hitters while Cincinnati placed three, including the league-leading Hargrave, and Pittsburgh four. Rogers Hornsby and Southworth, however, figured with averages just out of the list to complement Lester Bell's labors for St. Louis.

Extra base hitting was not so good during the week, as indicated by the averages released today. Hack Wilson of Chicago still leads in homers, but increased his previous total of 18 but one, while Jimmy Botomley of the Cards failed to add to his 16. Bottomley devoted his attention to doubles, three of them putting him in the lead with 35, while his nearest rival, Heathcote of the Cubs, stuck at 32. Curt Walker of the Reds added two three-baggers for a leading season's collection of twenty.

Cuyler of the Pirates stole two sacks for a new leading total of 28, but watched the phenomenal climb of Sparky Adams of the Cubs. The Chicago second-sacker got away with seven for a total of 21 as Kik's chief challenger.

Rhem Wins 17.

Rhem of the Cardinals won his 17th game, his defeats remaining at five, while Mays lost his tenth for the Reds, without adding to his 16 victories. Kremer of Pittsburgh won his fourteenth and his record stood at four losing stars. Charley Root of Chicago hurled his 111th strikeout and Dazzy Vance his 101st.

Leading league hitters: Hargrave, Cincinnati, .368; Bressler, Cincinnati, .357; Stephenson, Chicago, .354; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .344; Earl Smith, Pittsburgh, .341; Grantham, Pittsburgh, .340; Christensen, Cincinnati, .338; Cuyler, Pittsburgh, .335; Brown Boston, .330; L. Bell of St. Louis, .320.

The hitting in the American league is currently about as warm as the battle for the annual team pass to the world's series.

Just now the batting of the teams as such and the leading batsmen generally is at the bottom of a slump first indicated some time ago when the Yankees dropped from the .300 class.

The Yanks lead at the end of the week closed with Wednesday's games was with a .296 average; Washington rating second with .293; Detroit third with .291, one of the two team increases durnig the period, and Chicago fourth with a .289 percentage.

Fothergill of the Tygers is holding his own after a slump, figures released today giving him a .388 average. Babe Ruth, incidentally failing to add to his total of 39 circuit clouts, during the past week dropped from .382 to .378 and Burns of the Indians fared a little less poorly than Manush of Detroit to tie in third and fourth places with percentages of .368.

Distance Hitting Gone.

Long distance slugging is conspicuous by absence, Ruth's failure to get in the proximity of the bleachers being echoed among the middle-distance hitters. Burns has added one to his doubles for a collection of 37. Two triples, however, ran the string of Gehrig of the Yankees to 18.

Hunnefield of Chicago added his 22nd stolen base during the past week, while his team-mate, Johnny Mostil, also added one and went into a tie with the 20 of E. Rice of the Senators.

Among the twirlers, George Uhle moved into the fore last week by his 20th and 21st victories, with the season's defeats remaining at eight in number. Pennock of New York did not lose any, but added only one to his previous total of 18 games won. Lefty Grove of the Athletics pitched his 176th strikeout.

Leading league hitters: Fothergill, Detroit, .388; Ruth, New York, .378; Burns, Cleveland, .368; Manush, Detroit, .368; Goslin, Washington, .362; Heilmann, Detroit, .357; Collins, Chicago, .347; E. Rice, Washington, .346, Mostil, Chicago, .345; Falk, Chicago, .345.

New York Mother of Two Conquers English Channel

SHIFTING TIDE GIVES CORSON 40-MILE SWIM

Woman Races Away From Males in 15 Hours, 28 Minutes

DOVER, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Clemington Corson of New York, 28 years old, and the mother of two children, this afternoon waded up the beach a mile east of Dover, tired but triumphant, for she had conquered the English channel.

Mrs. Corson entered the water at Cape Gris-Nez at 11:32 o'clock Friday night and reached the English shore under Shakespeare cliff at 3 o'clock this afternoon, her time being 15 hours and 28 minutes.

Several thousand people, who from the cliffs had watched the plucky American woman battle her way to the shore, rushed to the sand to greet her with cheers for her feat in many ways was as remarkable as Miss Ederle's faster swim across the channel three weeks ago.

"It was glorious! I've realized my life ambition as a swimmer," said Mrs. Corson to the Associated Press a little later. "I didn't lower Miss Ederle's time but I swam the channel and that's enough for me. I take great pride in achieving the ambition of all distance swimmers and I'm proud for the sake of my youngsters in New York and that their mother has accomplished the task she set out to do."

Glowing in reflected glory at her side stood her husband, Clemington Corson, who in a dowry rowed near his wife all across the channel, refusing to allow any one else to take the oars.

"She's the finest girl and the best swimmer in the world," said her proud husband.

Sans Tug Attendance.

Shifting tides forced Mrs. Corson to swim approximately 40 miles across the channel. Because of the criticism that followed Miss Ederle's swim, Mrs. Corson dispensed with an attending tug. The motor boat which accompanied her kept from 20 to 70 yards away and her husband in his row boat likewise was careful not to draw too near. No swimmers entered the water with Mrs. Corson at any time to pace her or for company. Her only nourishment in the whole swim was two pints of hot chocolate, four lumps of sugar and a few crackers.

Mrs. Corson not only conquered the channel but defeated two men swimmers who left the French shore before she did. The Egyptian, Helmy, gave up the attempt to cross after three and a half hours in the water while the Englishman Perks swam 14 1-2 hours before he was forced to admit defeat.

Perk started half an hour before the American woman but he was two and a half miles to the rear of her when he quit from exhaustion.

Used Trudgeon.

Mrs. Corson in her swim used a trudgeon crawl stroke from 16 to 18 a minute with machine like regularity, as steady a pace, observers said, as ever had been seen in a channel swim.

At 5 o'clock this morning when about 12 miles from the French shore, Mrs. Corson's friends considered she had a very good chance to beat Miss Ederle's record, but the ebb tide being adverse, she was carried far off her course to the west. All through the night and morning and the afternoon the swimmer was encouraged by her friends on the motor boat, 16 in number. Louis Timson of Boston, a channel aspirant, acted as cheer leader and song director and in a booming bass voice led his chorus in impromptu ballads such as "Oh! Millie, Millie, Oh! Millie How You Can Swim."

Tonight Mr. Timson seemed more exhausted than Mrs. Corson herself.

The American swimmer was much inconvenienced for a time by the wash from the big Amsterdam steamer Ulysses, which was getting so dangerously near that the accompanying motor boat was obliged to sound its siren to warn her away.

TRUDIE EDERLE CONGRATULATES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Proud of being the first of her sex to master the treacherous channel waters between Cape Gris-Nez and Dover and prouder still of the time she made, Gertrude Ederle, nevertheless expressed elation today that another American woman had gone across.

Trudie cabled "heartiest congratulations" to Mrs. Clemington Corson when she heard of the other woman's accomplishment. The news came soon after she had arisen to face a world still anxious to acclaim her. Crowds of admirers were lingering outside her Amsterdam Avenue home, guarded by two score policemen when the report came that Mrs. Corson had reached the English side. She sent a message to newspaper men that she thought it was "just great."

Miss Ederle said she remembered meeting Mrs. Corson at Cape Gris-Nez. A challenge issued by the latter's manager for Mrs. Corson to meet all comers in a swim around Manhattan island for a $25,000 purse, Miss Ederle said she would give consideration when it was received.

Ball Players Organize Union Against Old-Time 'Hard-Boiled' Managers

Prima Donna Athletes Irked by Outcome of Internal Squabbles at Giant and Pirate Camps.

By GEORGE CHADWICK.
Special Correspondent, The Record News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Baseball, by all the signs and barometers is on the threshold of a new order. The baseball player of a new day is asserting himself. He is a high-brow compared with the lights of the old timer and he has decided to draw the line against abuse and tongue lashings. That is what is behind the projected professional baseball players' union or players' benevolent or protective organization whatever it may be called.

To make the point clear it might be called the baseball players union against noble art of being cussed out. The news concerning it leaked out out prematurely. The new day players—these kids of the newer generation and maybe some of the older men—thought they would have it all fixed prematurely. The new day playlished it to the world.

Maybe the "rebellion" of a few Pittsburgh players and the case of Frank Frisch, captain of the New York Giants and a lot of other gabble that has been going on, induced someone to talk too soon.

That someone did talk too soon is certain and it is not denied that the old union of the genteel stars of the diamond is on its way again—and if there should happen to be a rival league stirring up baseball, which isn't out of question, the players might make more turmoil in the sport.

Feelings Hurt.

Tough language is at the bottom of it. There isn't a doubt of that. Steve McKeever, part owner of the Brooklyn club, has had it put straight to him by his players. True he hasn't much of a team, judged from playing success, and maybe the players would not bring a king's ransom if they were sent to the block, but they aren't deaf like an anchored jackass and they have drawn the line on words.

The player's vie point was given to the writer by one of their number who cannot be named because of his present relationship to a professional club. His is a voice from the ranks. He said:

"The ball player of today, the player who has come to the fore since the world war, the player who is less often of the sand lots, the player who goes from college to the professional game and the player who goes more often from the town team or who represents the village star, cannot be a success under the old type of slave-driving abusive, hard stuff manager."

That summed up his judgment. But the player said more:

"There are managers in all leagues who can tear to pieces the self-respect of any player who is signed to a contract and especially of those players who have not been reared in an atmosphere of crab, carp and cuss.

The Frisch Case

"Frank Frisch left the Giants. Some say he deserted. Well, then he did. I say he left because his nerves were unstrung by the assertiveness of John McGraw. I heard newspaper men say it begun last spring. A manager of much success, is McGraw, but maybe not always a wise judge of human nature. The old type of ball player he could drive, push and shove into a championship. But those old birds had no nerves. When they were told to take a man's leg off at second base they took it off. When they were told they were thicker in the dome than printers' ink and so dumb they could not talk with their fingers, they accepted it and probably played ball the harder and better.

"McGraw hasn't been picking up those kind of players in recent years. His is still the master mind but he hasn't remodeled his ways to suit his men. The reaction had to come.

Clarke an Example

"Fred Clarke an old time manager who played baseball to win on the rough basis that baseball was played in his day blurted out that the Pirates needed a centerfielder in place of Max Carey. Players whoever heard him appealed to their field boss to take a vote on whether Clarke's presence on the bench was desirable for the success of the team. I'm not making any plea for those players. But in the days when Fred Clarke was manager, there were no players on his team who would have appealed to anybody to take a vote about anything. They'd swallow whole what he said and like it."

"Do you think that ball players of the old school played better ball, razzed or not, than the players today?" the writer asked.

"I do. But why? Maybe they are not managing them right now. Maybe they are too high strung to be driven. Maybe you could lend them where you can't drive them. A ball player has got to have nerve to be a star—but if he gets nervous, he is gone."

PIRATES TAKE GIANT SERIES

New York Rally in Final Rounds Fall Run Shy Of Tie

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Pirates made a clean sweep of the three-game series with the Giants, taking the final game, 8 to 7, although outhit. The visitors assumed a one-run lead in the eighth but lost the advantage in the home team's half of the inning when Pittsburgh scored four runs. The advantage was needed as the Giants rallied in the ninth falling one short of a tie. Giant errors proved costly. Score:

CUB'S SWEEP SERIES

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Chicago made a clean sweep of the Boston series by taking the final game, 5 to 3, and running their winning streak to seven games. Benton had two bad innings in which the locals launched their blows. Osborn was wobbly at the start but settled down, pitching effectively thereafter.

Extra! Extra! "One Eye" Retires!

Champion Gate Crasher Says He's Going to Work, at Last.

By LOU E. MARSH
Special Correspondent The Record News
Copyright 1926 By the Consolidated Press Association

TORONTO Aug. 28.—(AP)—"One-Eyed" Connolly has quit the gate crashing game.

For the benfit of old ladies, hermits and others who do not know what a gate crasher is a gate crasher is an individual who by hook or crook busts his way into places of entertainment without paying it greenbacks.

Connolly has been a gate crasher and hobo for 31 years and his feats are world famous. He always has been mentioned in dispatches from sporting events.

But he is a gate crasher no longer. "After 31 years of riding the bumpers, bumming my meals and clothes, postponing some meals and missing plenty of others, I have quit the game and got myself a real, honest-to-goodness and permanent job," said Connolly today. "I'm through with gate crashers and hoboing."

The job is that of "traveling publicity hound" for a racing publication.

The fat little Irishman announces his retirement in the following poem:

"Of gates, I've crashed, you've all heard tell,
"I'll crash St. Peter then crash —"

Connolly is 52 years of age, the son of Irish-born parents. He was born at Lowell, Mass., and was orphaned at nine years of age.

"I have been hustling for myself since I was nine," says Connolly. "I sold papers and ran errands until I was 16 and then decided to become a prize fighter. I fought in the ring for four years and won most of my 180 battles. I was going along toward a championship when I lost my eye. The lace of a glove loosened during a fight and it snapped back and destroyed my left eye. I had to quit then, but I had the boxing bug so I started to hang around training camps and as I was broke I commenced gate-crashing."

Connolly's first big venture in the gate crashing line was at the Jim Corbett-Bob Fitzsimmons fight at Carson City, 20 years ago.

A big sign at the entrance read: "Free list entirely suspended." Connolly heaved in a brick to which was attached a note to "Parson Davies" the promoter.

"Let him in," said Davies to the gate keeper or "he'll bean you with the next brick and come in over your senseless body."

Here are some of Conolly's more famous gate crashing stunts:

The first Jack Dempsey-Jim Flynn fight at Murray, Utah. Connolly, bearing pail and towel, came in impersonating a Flynn second.

In the second fight at Pueblo, Colo., when Dempsey knocked Flynn kicking with the first punch, Connolly came in as a guest.

The Abe Attell-Johnny Kilbane fight of Vernon, Cal., rushed in with a handful of "phoney" telegrams bearing names of well know sporting writers at the ringside.

Johnny Coulon-Kid Williams bantam championship at Vernon, Cal., back in during a crush at the gates allowed himself to be rushed inside while shouting "Let me out, mother is dying" and apparently fighting to get out.

Dempsey-Firpo fight at New York walked by the gate carrying a steamer trunk which, he said contained extra tickets from Madison Square Garden. Ushers grabbed the trunk to carry it to the office, while Connolly raced for the ringside.

Dempsey-Gibbons fight at Shelby drove up in an expensive car, hoisted out a block of ice, yelled "gangway," and raced importantly to the gate. "Ice for the newspaper boys," he shouted, gave the ice a slide down the aisle and rode it down the aisle to the ringside. Then he made a cushion of his coat and had the only cool seat in the place.

Dempsey-Carpentier fight at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, spotted and thrown out 12 times. Finally made it bearing sandwiches and pie, for the "newspaper men." Once by the gate he ate the lunch.

Connolly proudly wears a ring which "Red" Grange, the football star, gave him for crashing his gate at Miami last winter.

"That was the last gate I crashed," said Connolly. "The next one I crash I hope will be the pearly gates where St. Peter takes the ducats. But I'll have to pull a good one to get by St. Peter. He's used to phoneys."

Hagen Captures Western Open

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Walter Hagen of Pasadena, Fla., today won the western open golf championship at Highland Golf club with a record score of 279 strokes, outstripping all other competitors by several strokes. He virtually clinched the title in the morning round by scoring a marvelous sixty-six which equaled the course record set by Harry Cooper, a few minutes before. He finished with a par 70, nine strokes ahead of Cooper and Gene Sarazen, who had led the field during the first rounds. Macdonald Smith of New York, who won the title last year at Youngstown with a score of 281, which equaled the previous record for the event set by Jock Hutchison, could do no better than 289 this year, as his shots would not hold a straight course.

The most pathetic spectacle we know of these days is the owner of one of the other clubs in the American League trying to see some good in his club as the Yanks wallop it all over the lot—at home or abroad.

The best jokes the New York scribes pulled in their minstrel show last winter were at the expense of the Yankees. Colonel Ruppert has just begun to laugh at them—the jokes and the scribes.

Sturdy Dutch Pulls "Iron Man" Stunt

Dutch Mantell was sore in body and spirit after his tough mat argument Thursday night at the Eleventh and Ohio arena with Yaque Joe, but the sturdy Dutchman turned right around Friday night and defeated Coach Thom, Wabash wrestling instructor, at Amarillo in a gruelling battle.

Mantell won in straight falls, taking Thom in an hour and seven minutes for the first fall and in two minutes for the second. Thom in reality was in no condition to return for the second fall.

It was said to be the hardest fought match ever seen in Amarillo.

Panhandle Test Opens New Territory As Feature Of Week

125 BARRELS MADE ON PUMP

Extensive Exploration Reported From All Territories

Another interesting week has just passed in the Wichita district, marked by a nice completion in wildcat territory and by some larger than usual completions in the more or less proven fields.

The No. 1 well of the Panhandle Refining company on the H. S. Griffin land, W. H. Spiller survey, about seven miles north of Dundee in south Wichita county, was brought in about the middle of the week in wildcat territory from an 1,800-foot producing horizon, making 125 barrels daily when placed on the pump and opening up a nice stretch of territory for future development.

400-Barrel Well.

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company, Maer-Staniforth and John O'Donohoe drilled in their test on the Kemp and Kempner land in block 63 of the Kemp's Wichita valley farm land subdivision, northwest of Holliday in north Archer county, and the well started off flowing naturally at the rate of 400 barrels daily from two feet of sand topped at 1,595 feet, and is still making around 250 barrels after having been in since the middle of the week. This well gives a quarter of a mile extension to the west of the Texhoma production in the same block. The Gulf company is preparing to offset the new strike to the north and the Texhoma company will igve it a diagonal offset to the northeast.

One mile west of Sunshine Hill in Wichita county and on the Frances Ann Saunders fee, A. B. & M. survey, abstract 339, R. R. Clark drilled in his second deep well in that area, an east offset to the same operator's discovery well, and the test is the best producer to be uncovered in Wichita county in a number of months, flowing over 600 barrels in 24 hours from sand at 1,858 to 1,871 feet. To the west of the discovery well Clark and Bob Waggoner found the sand low on their second well and were intending to test it Saturday afternoon. The pay was topped at 1-888½ feet as compared with 1,861 feet on the discovery well, one location east, but from the amount of sand drilled in the producing wells, the prospect is not discouraging. To the south of the first well, Pink Hammond found the oil dirt at 1,851 feet but after drilling to 1,861 feet the well did not meet expectations and a star machine was put over the hole to go further into the pay.

Look for Sand.

East of the Hammond well, Bridwell and Heywrick are looking for the sand on their No. 1 Saunders and No. 2 will be down in the next few days. Many new derricks are springing up on locations around the Clark discovery well, which has been in for almost a month and is still making 200 barrels and better every day.

The Kimmel and Dillard new well, completed last week in another part of Wichita county, on the Fasset and Tuttle land five miles southwest of Iowa Park, in unproven territory, has been placed on the pump with an output of 125 barrels daily. The Magnolia company is offsetting this well to the east and has also purchased a 60-acre offset to the south forf a $30,000.00 consideration.

Holding the spotlight at this time in Archer county, the new Simms pool on the Turbeville land in block 172 of the Carson survey, registered some unusually good completions during the last seven days and has a number of tests on the sand with the cement drying around the casing seats before drilling in. The Simms Oil company drilled in No. 5-A Turbeville, approximately 800 feet south of the discovery well and in sand at 1,513 to 1,538 feet the well swabbed and flowed 300 barrels in nine hours, making the best well so far completed in the field. The Texas company No. 3 is swabbing 350 barrels from sand at 1,502-1,505 feet and the Marland Oil company No. 3 to the west is making between 300 and 400 barrels on the swab from sand at 1,504-1,525 feet.

In northeast Young county and in the new pool opened by J. J. Moran and associates on the Stewart land in the David Dawson survey, the best well to be uncovered to date was brought in by the Roberts Oil company on their No. 1 test, a northwest diagonal offset to the discovery well. This new producer, on the pump, placed 115 barrels of oil in the tanks in the first 14 hours from sand at 804 to 829 feet.

The usual number of dry holes were reported to the oil and gas supervisor during the week, but the nice completions among the several pools more than offset these necessary evils which go with the game and make the liquid gold look more wonderful when it is found.

ROBERTS STEWART

The Roberts Oil company of Breckenridge placed on the pump its No. 1 Graham Stewart of the David Dawson survey of Young county and the well made 115 barrels in the first 14 hours from sand at 804-29 feet. This well, a diagonal northwest offset to the Moran No. 1 well, is the best so far completed in that pool.

PEELER, HANKINS

C. L. Peeler has abandoned as a dry hole at 1,205 feet his No. 1 test on the M. H Hankins land, located 150 feet each way from the northwest corner of the west 20 acres of the north 40 acres of the southeast quarter of section 200, TE&L survey, south of the Peter Kemp pool in Young county.

TEXHOMA, K-KEMPNER

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company has made location for No. 3 Kemp and Kempner land to be drilled in the southwest corner of the northeast quarter block 63, Kemp's WVFL survey in north Archer county and a diagonal northeast offset to the Texhoma-Maer et al new completion in the same block.

TIDAL FARMER

The Tidal Oil company is moving in a rotary rig for its No. 1 Farmer test to be drilled in the northeast corner of the west 50 acres of the south 100 acres of the southwest 202 acres of the W. C. Winters survey, abstract 663, near the Comac pool in Archer county.

September Holding Out Many Promises For A Busy Period In Oil

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 28.—September is right around the corner and the coming of the ninth month for 1926 promises many things for the oil men.

Crude oil producers anticipate a crisis shortly, and they look for the major purchasers to make some drastic revisions in the values to be paid for certain crude oils in isolated fields, especially oils that possess an over-amount of sulphur and paraffin. Also oils that are deficient in gasoline content.

Refiners look forward to better buying on the part of jobbers, who are willing to admit that their stocks of gasoline are low. With many late vacationers on the highways the consumption of gasoline should continue brisk throughout the month. Some refiners look fo rspot quotations to once again go back to 11 cents a gallon in tank car lots.

On September 1, in Tulsa, the Mid-Continent refiners who are seeking an organized outlet for their surplus products plan a conference at which an export oil corporation will be formed. E. E. Schook of Okmulgee, and George D. Locke of Chicago, are the prime movers in this organization.

Many oil meetings are also scheduled for September, and the several oil trade associations plan to hold more frequent membership meetings.

On September 20, as the month draws to a close, the Osage Indian agency wil hold an auction sale at Pawhuska of $30,000 acres, totalling 223 tracts. To date there have been 9,615 oil wells completed in the Osage nation, making now from one to 1,000 barrels a day. Close to 135 wells are drilling there now.

September will also see the MidContinent committe of the American Petroleum institute, which holds its 1926 convention in Tulsa on December 7, 8 and 9, begin to get active in perfecting plans for the reception, entertainment and convention itself.

All in all September promises much god and bad, but mostly good, for the oil men.

News Of The Field

HILL ANDREWS

Willard Hill has made location for a test on the W. L. Andrews land in southeast Archer county to be located 1800 feet from the south line and 800 feet from the west line of section 1826 of the T. E. & L. survey.

KRUGER TURB

Sam Kruger and Lee Wilson were preparing to spud in Friday on their test in the southeast corner of the northwest 40 acres of block 150, Turbeville land in the Carson survey in Archer county and a short distance to the west of the new American et al producers in the same block.

GULF GRIFFIN

The Gulf Production company has made location for No. 1 H. S. Griffin to be drilled 1,086 feet north and 680 feet west of the southeast corner of block 6, W. H. Spillers survey in south Wichita county and also 300 feet west and 35 feet south of the Panhandle Refining company new wildcat producer in the same survey.

F. H. E., HYNDS

The F. H. E. Oil company has placed on the pump its No. 8-A Hynds well, 300 feet north of No. 7-A in the Wall survey of the Nocona pool of Montague County and it is making 30 barrels daily from sand at 896 to 910 feet.

LANIER COOK COUNTY

C. C. Lanier has made location for his No. 2 Hyman test in Cooke county to be located 750 feet south and 150 feet east of the northwest corner of his 40-acre lease in the Moss survey, and to the west of the Hooser producers No. 3 Hyman will be drilled 450 feet south and 150 feet west of the northeast corner of the 40-acre lease and will offset to the south his No. 1 producer, recently completed.

PERKINS ET AL, TURB

Perkins, Cullum and C. P. Burton are rigging up rotary for a test to be drilled 150 feet each way from the southwest corner of the north 20 acres of the northwest quarter of section 146, Turbeville land in the Carson survey, Archer county, and to the west of the American Refining company's new pool in block 150 of the same survey.

PANDEM THOMAS

The Pandem Oil corporation has placed on the pump its No. 6 well, 300 feet south of No. 5 in block 5, Thomas land, Thomas survey in Archer county, and the new producer is placing 40 barrels of oil in the tanks daily.

M-FAIN, FLUHMAN

Murchison & Fain have a fishing job at 710 feet and are delayed for a time on their No. 1 Fluhman test in Wilbarger county, located 1320 feet from the east line and 450 feet from the south line of the south 136 acres of the west 320 acres of section 30, block 9, in the H. & T. C. survey.

GATES ET AL, THOMAS

Gates, Bacon and Lea have completed as a 60-barrel well from sand at 1,167 to 1,177 feet their No. 7 Thomas well in the northeast corner of the south 80 acres of block, 6 Thomas survey in Archer county. Their No. 8 well, 300 feet west and 150 north of No. 6, is pumping 20 barrels from sand at 1,148-67 feet.

SECURITY, SCHANFELT

The Security Drilling company (Bond et al) test on the Schanfelt land near Bryson in Jack county has quite a bit of oil in the hole from sand at 2,341 feet, and as it stands looks like a 50 barrel well although more sand will probably be drilled to try and increase the output. This oil is 43 gravity and the operators are hoping for a nice producer by drilling further into the pay.

GLOBE HUDSON

The Globe Drilling company is rigging up rotary for their No. 1 Hudson test 450 feet south and 150 feet east of the northeast corner of the east 13 1-2 acres of the north 93 acres of section 80, Harris subdivision in Archer county, and to the east of the Panhandle discovery well in that block.

MARLAND TURB

The Marland Oil company has made two more locations on its 80-acre lease in the new Simms pool on the Turbeville land in Archer county. No. 5 to be drilled 300 feet south of No. 3 producer. No. 6 will be drilled 750 feet from the north line and 150 feet from the west line of lease in block 172, Carson survey. The same company has placed on the pump No. 2-A Thomas in the southwest corner of the north 20 acres of block 6, Thomas survey, in the Pandem pool northwest of Archer city and is making 75 barrels from sand topped at 1,164 feet. No. 4-A Thomas will be drilled 300 feet north of this well.

EVANS ET AL, LOGAN

The No 3 test of Evans et al on the Logan land located 150 feet each way from the southeast corner of block 24, YCSL survey in Young county has been abandoned as dry at a depth of 650 feet.

BRIDWELL ABERCROM'

Bridwell and Heydrick have a small well in sand at 1,063 to 1,077 feet on their No. 1 Abercrombie in the southeast corner of the southeast 20 acres of the east 90 acres of the southwest quarter of block 2, SPRR survey in the Oldham pool of Archer county and the test will probably be drilled on to the 1,300-foot horizon.

M-FAIN PEELER

The Murchison and Fain Oil company is rat holing at 1,224 feet and looking for a sand on its test on the Peeler (Holly) land southwest of the Simms-Turbeville pool in Archer county and located in the northwest corner of the north 20 acres of block 24 of the Harris subdivision.

WOMAC STEWART

The Womac Oil company (Moran et al) has placed its No. 2 well on the Graham Stewart land, Dawson survey in Young county in the pump and it is making 50 barrels daily in sand at 802 to 820 feet. No. 4, 300 feet of the No. 3 producer, is in the sand at 774 to 804 feet, and will be completed in the next few days.

SHAPPEL, JACKSON

The Shappel Oil company is drilling at last reported depth of 1,520 feet on its No. 1 Jackson test in Archer county, location in the southwest corner of the south 68 acres of the east half of block 4, section 2 ATNCL survey.

UPTON COUNTY

Dixie Oil company No 4 Hughes, in Upton county, west Texas, that made 12,000 barrels as its maximum output, is now doing 190 barrels per hour. The gravity is 26. An effort is being made to choke it in.

PURE MADDOX

The Pure Oil company has completed its No. 2 C-Maddox well in the Thompson survey, Nocona pool of Montague county, and the well pumped 55 barrels the first 6 hours from sand at 885-907 feet.

CRUDE PRODUCTION.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Crude oil production to domestic fields this year to August 28, is estimated at 476,189,000 barrels by the Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter, compared with 499,237,000 barrels in the corresponding period of 1925. Production is now at the rate of 2,188,423 barrels daily against 2,110,000 barrels daily a year ago.

10 NEW WELLS IN 2 STATES

Oklahoma And Kansas Make Many Completions Past Week

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 28.—The Oklahoma and Kansas oil fields had 10 "official completions' 'this week.

There were 103 producing wells, of which 92 were oil producers, with an initial output of 28,103 barrels, and 11 gas wells making 132,125,000 cubic feet of gas a day. Failures totalled 75, 62 in Oklahoma and 15 in Kansas'

The Sooner state had 83 oil wells, that made 27,466 barrels, and the Sunflower state had but nine producers for 6,635 barrels, one of the smallest of initial output recorded there in some weeks.

The major development program in Kay, Osage, Creek, Hughes, Payne, Garfield, Lincoln, Carter and other counties, caused the Oklahoma districts to rank in the order named.

Butler county for the first time in many months led Kansas with 330 barrels initial, Greenwood being second for 270.

In Oklahoma.

The summary follows: Kay, six oil wells for 9,379 barrels, and one gasser for 38,000,000 feet; Osage, 19 oil wells for 8502 barrels; Creek, 17 oil wells for 2903 barrels, and one gas well for 8,000,000 feet; Hughes, two oil wells for 1,530 barrels; Payne, three oil wells for 1525 barrels; Garfield, five oil wells for 1135 barrels; Lincoln, eight oil wells for 1038 barrels; Carter, three oil wells for 490 barrels, and one gas well for 8,00,000 feet; Muskogee, one oil well for 175 barrels; Okmulgee, three oil wells, 160 barrels, one gas well for 7,000,000 feet; Pawnee, five oil wells for 150 barrels and one gas well for 9,000,000 feet; Grady, three oil wells, 140 barrels; Seminole, two oil wells, 125 barrels; Noble, one oil well, 75 barrels; Okfuskee, one oil well, 60 barrels; Wagoner, one oil well, 35 barrels; Nowata, one oil well, 32 barrels; Stephens, one oil well, 12 barrels; Tulsa, one oil well, 2 barrels, and one gasser for 6,000,000 feet.

In Kansas.

Butler, two oil wells, for 330 barrels; Greenwood, five oil wells, 270 barrels, and one gasser for 125,000 feet; Cowley, one oil well, 25 barrels, and Lyon, one oil well, 10 barrels.

93 New Sooner Tests.

First reports from Oklahoma oil fields for the fiscal week reveal 93 new wells starting. Seventy-nine of these were in northern and central Oklahoma, leaving 14 for southern Oklahoma.

Osage led with 15, but Seminole was right behind it with 14; Creek was third with 11; Kay had 9; Okmulgee, 8; Tulsa, 7; Carter, 5; Grady and Pawnee, 4 each; Hughes, Lincoln and Okfuskee, two each; Cotton, Garfield, Garvin, Jefferson, McIntosh, Noble, Pontotoc, Payne, Stephens and Wagoner, one each.

21 New Kansas Wells.

Sold reports from Kansas oil areas reveal 29 "first reports" for the week just ended.

Greenwood county led with 16; Butler was next with 8; Cowley had 3; Chase, Marion and Sumner, one each.

Oil Products Up

Petroleum products at all refinery centers are stronger, with the sole exception of gasoline. It is not slipping, and is in good movement, but efforts of refiners to advance the spot prices are not succeeding. Mid-continent prices for 58-60, 437, U. S. motor is still 10 5-8 to 11 cents, with Chicago prices at 10 7-8 to 11 1-8 cents.

Kerosene keeps strong, and further strength was given it by the Continental Oil company advance of 1 cent in Colorado, Wyoming and Montana, making tank wagon prices the same as of July 10, when they were lowered 1 cent. In Idaho a half-cent advance was made and a cent in New Mexico.

Fuel oil is higher than a "cat's back," using a street expression, but few refiners are selling.

U. S. Government Stimulates Commercial Aviation

Into Secretary Hoover's plans for spreading a network of airways over the U. S. and "putting wings on the American public" by stimulating commercial aviation will be incorporated some 8,314 miles of aviation routes already being utilized, largely by the air mail service. Plans of the newly created Division of Commercial Aviation established in the Department of Commerce, over which William P. MacCracken, Jr., of Chicago, has charge, contemplates 1,431 additional miles of airways, which are indicated by the light parallel lines in the accompanying map.

PIPE RUNS IN ANOTHER GAIN

630-Barrel Increase Is Registered During Past Week

The daily pipeline runs over the Wichita district registered another jump during the week ending August 28, showing a gain of 630 barrels over the figures of the previous week. Montague county shows the largest increase of 690 barrels by the completion of some nice wells in the Nocona field. Archer county is up 355 barrels, mainly on account of the new Simms pool on the Turbeville land. The most decided decrease was in the fields of Throckmorton county where the runs slumped 490 barrels daily. In the other pools the gain or loss was trivial.

Runs for the week over the district were as follows:

District	This Week Barrels	Previous Week Barrels
Electra	15,990	15,965
Burkburnett	12,110	12,105
Iowa Park	4,200	4,200
Archer County	29,900	29,545
Clay	555	575
Wilbarger	14,550	14,470
Montague	6,750	6,060
Young	8,285	8,305
Jack	215	225
Throckmorton	1,750	2,240

Cooke	185	265
Total	94,745	94,115

Daily increase of 630 barrels.

Million and Half Given n Year By The Presbyterians

KERRVILLE, Tex., Aug. 28.—(AP)—More than a million and a half dollars has been contributed to various interests and causes in the past fiscal year by the Texas Presbyterian Synod, the committee on stewardship said today in its annual report. The amount given was approximately $38 per capita.

The budget for the ensuing year called for about the same amount as in the past year.

The resignation of Rev. Brooks Dickey as secretary-treasurer of synod causes was received. He has been in charge of that part of the work for five years with headquarters in Dallas.

Dallas Sheriff's Scrap Is Delayed

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Activity in the contest between Sheriff Schuyler B. Marshall and his opponent Allen Seale in the July primary was confined today to continuing a recount of the vote. Court hearing was suspended by agreement until Monday.

By that time the lawyers hoped to have considerable of the details out of the way by tonight possible completion of the recount.

A recapitulation of the vote as recounted up to noon today showed Marshall leading Seale by 135 votes. Ballots from 88 precincts had been counted and 22 remained to be tabulated.

The grand jury was in its fourth day of investigating whether the ballots had been tampered with.

DOUBLE SHOOTING

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Dr. W. C. Reinhart, about 45, is dead and his wife is probably fatally wounded as a result of a double shooting in their home at Sinton according to reports received here late today.

A pistol bullet penetrated Mrs. Reinhart's breast while she slept. She heard another report of the gun and saw her husband fall with a bullet through his head. The pistol lay nearby.

1 SENSATION IN OLNEY AREA

Hundred and Fifty Barrel Test Brought in On Benson Estate

Olney, Texas, Aug. 28.—Madden and Hunt No. 4, which was completed for 150 barrels on the Benson estate, T. E. & L. survey, Young county, was the only sensation among the Olney district oil fields the past week.

A 23-foot sand was found at 850 feet, the same depth as that of No. 3, 300 feet to the south, which was completed several weeks ago.

After struggling with a flow of salt water for several days, the owners of Cook and Reeder No. 3 A. M. Kunkel, filed application with G. W. Tilley, deputy oil and gas supervisor, to plug the hole. The well is located on the B. B. B. and C. R. R. survey, Archer county.

Cement Is Set.

Cement was set at 1169 feet last week. At the time it was believed that the well would develop into a light producer. It swabbed oil and salt water for 24 hours before it was given up as a bad job.

Two other completions were reported in Archer county, Gates-Bacon-Lee No. 7, Thomas survey, was drilled in for 60 barrels from a 1167-foot sand, while the No. 8 well was completed for 20 barrels, with sand from 1148 to 1167 feet.

Kimmell and Dillard on the Dallas County School land survey, Archer county, is drilling at 250 feet. The well is a wildcat that was started last week. Simms and Burns No. 2, Turbeville, Archer county, has broken a 1016-foot sand and is setting six and five-eighths inch casing at 1010 feet, while Panhandle No. 1, R. O. Priedeaux, is drilling at 500 feet on the A. M. McMullen survey, A. 198, 150 feet north and 150 feet east of the southwest corner, Archer county.

The R. I. Carter No. 3, G. P. Stewart, At 6. David Dodson survey, in Young county, is reported to be rigging up rotary.

Drilling at 500.

The Simms Oil company No. 2 Routan, Young county, is drilling at 500 feet on a location in the T. E. & L. survey, section 181. The well is 300 feet north of No. 1.

Benton and Langford No. 1, Prideaux, John Dorsy survey, Archer county, is reported to be spudding at 50 feet. The location is 150 feet from the north line and 150 feet from the east line of the 35-acre lease, A. 122.

Tidal No. 2, Farmer, has made a location on the W. C. Winters survey, A. 163, 150 feet north and 150 feet east of the west 50 acres of the south 100 acres of the southwest 200 acres and is erecting a derrick.

Simms and Burns No. 2, Turbeville, Archer county, has broken sand at 1016 feet and is setting six and five-eighths.

The Texas company's No. 2, Turbeville, located in the Carson survey, block 172, Archer county, which was completed with a 1509 to 1525 foot sand on August 18, is reported to be swabbing 576 barrels per day.

Thirty drilling permits were issued last week for Archer, Young and Jack counties, comprising the Olney district, according to G. W. Tilley, deputy oil and gas supervisor.

Ask That Tice Hardy Be Held

MARLIN, Tex., Aug. 28.—(AP)—A request that Tice Hardy, held in the Marlin jail under indictment alleging murder, be permitted to see the body of his mother, Mrs. W. T. Hardy, who died this afternoon at her home near Satan, was being considered by Falls county authorities.

The plea was made by an attorney for Hardy, after a conference with his client, and was taken under advisement by officers, who did not grant it at the time. Hardy was indicted in connection with disappearance of Claude Glenn, 17, from a fishing party on the Brazos river last spring. No trace of the missing youth was ever reported. Shortly following a habeas corpus hearing at which Hardy's bond was fixed at $7,500, a shot was fired in the district court room, passing several feet above Hardy. R. J. Glenn, Sr., father of the missing youth, was relieved of pistol and he and his son, R. J. Glenn, Jr., who also was in the court room at the time, waived examining trial on charges of assault with intent to murder and were released on bail.

To Whiten Skin with Lemon

The only—harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Stock prices were whirled upward in rapid fashion during the early part of today's market but fell back sharply just before the final gong on a large volume of week-end realizing. Closing quotations however, disclosed a fair sprinkling of net gains ranging from one to five points. Trading was rather heavy for a mid-summer half holiday session. The day's sales aggregated 782,800 shares.

Bullish operations were stimulated by the publicatiton of an optimistic statement by William C. Durant, prominent operator, just prior to his departure for Europe. The encouraging tone of weekly trade reviews and publication of additional excellent July railroad earnings statements also helped to create a more cheerful feeling among professional traders despite the prospect of a dull week beforeLaborDay.

United States Steel common again resumed the leadership of the market, showing an extreme gain of over two points to 151⅝, but slipping back a point from that figure on the late wave of profit taking. Total sales in that issue ran close to 80,000 shares, or about one-tenth of the day's entire volume of business. One block of 10,000 shares changing hands at 151.

Fools were again active in a number of specialties, new peak prices for the year or longer, being attained by Amalgamated Leather common and preferred; Brunswick Terminal, consolidated Cigar, General Asphalt common and preferred; Owens Bottle, Reynolds Tobacco "B" and White Sewing Machine. Continental Baking issues were in vigorous demand, touching their highest prices since admitted to trading on the "big board."

The average of 20 leading railroad issues mounted to the highest level since 1913. Atchison was again the leader in that group, touching a new high record for all time at 153, but closing a point below that figure.

Foreign exchanges held steady in quiet trading. Demand sterling ruled unchanged around $4.84 11-16. French francs were slightly firmer around 2.58 cents on reports that the French government's stabilization scheme contemplated a new parity around the three cent level. Changes in other continental rates were nominal.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Weekend realizing in the cotton market was promoted by slightly improved weather reports today. After selling early at 17.87, December reacted to 17.66 and closed at 17.72. The general market closed steady at net declines of two to ten points.

The opening was steady at a decline of one point to an advance of two points. Active emonths quickly sold about five to nine points net higher on private reports of further showers in the southwest and in sympathy with relatively steady Liverpool cables. October worked up to 17.85 and January to 17.78 on this initial buying, but demand seemed to be readily supplied and prices turned easier during the forenoon.

The outlook for clearing conditions in the eastern belt no doubt increased the indisposition to take profits on recent purchases, but selling otherwise was restricted by the forecast for unsettled weather with local showers in Texas and Oklahoma, or the continued bullish average of private crop advices. The improvement in the weather outlook however, checked fresh buying, and the market gradually yielded to the liquidation of longaccounts.

October eased off to 17.66 and January to 17.70 in late ttrading, net declines of about 10 to 14 pointst, but the close was a few points up from the lowest on renewed covering.

Reports of improved spot demand for domestic and European account particularly for southern mills brought litle ift any trade buying in the market here. Most of the business was attributed by local brokers to the evening up of accounts to await further weather developments or the showing of the end-August crop reports.

Private cables said hedge selling had been offset by trade calling and covering in the Liverpool market, but reported buyers of cotton cloths and yarns were disinclined to operate and appeared to anticipate lower prices.

The amount of cotton on ship board awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at about 50,000 bales, compared with 58,000 last year.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The cotton market was a typical Saturday affair today with trading largely confined to evening up for over the week-end. The volume of business was comparatively light and price fluctuations were narrower than they have been in any session of the present week. Prices gained seven points in the early trading owing to much better Liverpool cables than due but as the weather in the belt was somewhat more favorable than it has been prices soon turned reactionary owing to liquidation for over the week-end ad at the lowest were eight points below the previous close. There was a moderate rally of about five points in the late ttrading on a little covering and the close was steady at net losses of three to four points for the day.

At the start tcables were better than due and first trades showed gains of six to seven points with October at 17.85 and December at 17.90 or seven pointts above the previous close. These prices proved to be the highs of the day.

The market soon turned reactionary on liquidation and before the downward trend was checked Octtober traded at 17.70 and December at 17.65, or 15 points below the earlier highs and eight points under the previous close.

The market had a slight rally in the late trading, recovering about five points from the lows on covering. The market closed steady and a little above the lows.

Exports for the day totaled 8,694 bales.

Wool Market Is Steadily Gaining

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The outstanding feature of the wool markett is a steady gradual increase in confidence and optimism. Encouragement has been contributed by better volume of business among some of the leading factors in the trade and also by a slight tendency of mills to readjust their idea of value upward. A few houses have been more active. Sales of foreign wool have been largely responsible for the increased selling. Western grown domestic wool has had a steady demand. Prices remain unaltered although the top of recently quoted ranges has been obtained a little more often.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Agressive selling broke wheat prices today. Greatly enlarged arrivals of wheat at Winnepeg were an outstanding factor and it was indicated that rectipts there on Monday will aggregate 500 cars. The wheat market here closed weak, 1 to 1½c net lower, corn ⅝ to ⅞c down, oats ⅝c to 1¼c off and provisions showing 7 to 15c gain.

Corn and oats receded on account of the fine weather and because official estimates of corn yields will automatically increase about 100,000,000 bushels this month aside from any increase due tto general improvement of the growing crop. Oats again established a new low price record for the season.

Provisions were responsive to a fresh upturn in hog values.

Few Supervisors Show Up Saturday For Election Duty

Only a few voting boxes in Wichita county attained the dignity of supervisors in Saturday's primary despite the appointment of 54 citizens to serve at such at 27 boxes in the county. At the majority of the boxes those appointed to serve as supervisors failed to appear for duty, a check later Saturday showed. At some of the others the supervisors showed up early in the morning but their credentials had not yet appeared and they were told to go see the county chairman. So far as is known none of these ever returned. They were forbidden to wait at the voting box itself by the election judges, who thus enforced the no loitering provisions of the election law.

At one box, No. 4 at the court house, just one man, J. H. Nix, showed up. No. 5 at the court house and No. 7 at Austin school had two women supervisors in Mrs. J. W. McCormick and Mrs. Ray Ballard. Mrs. A. B. Wood appeared to act as supervisor at Box 1, at the city hall.

(2) While riding as a passenger in any passenger elevator (elevator in mines excepted) in a place regularly provided for the sole use of passengers, or

(3) By being struck by lightning, cyclone, or tornado, or

(4) By the burning of a dwelling house, hotel, theatre, office building, lodge room, club house, school building, store, church or barn, while the insured is therein, and provided the insured is therein at the beginning of the fire, and is burned by such fire or suffocated by the smoke therefrom, but this clause shall not apply to nor cover the insured while acting as a watchman, policeman, or volunteer or paid fireman.

BLINDNESS

For the Loss of Sight of one or both Eyes resulting from sickness or from injuries sustained by accidental means not otherwise covered by this policy, as follows:

Total Loss of Sight of Both Eyes . . $500.00
Total Loss of Sight of One Eye $250.00

Total Loss of Sight shall mean the Entire and Irrecoverable Loss of Sight.

If the Insured shall develop the eye affection known as cataract, or if the Insured shall become blind from accident or disease and there is a possibility of restoring the sight by an operation, the Company shall have the right to provide for such operation for the Insured at a total cost to the company of not exceeding One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars. If the Insured fails to avail himself of such operation, in that event the Company shall pay to the Insured, the sum of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars in lieu of all other indemnity, and such payment shall terminate this Policy. If the Insured avails himself of such operation, and, notwithstanding said operation, the sight of one or both eyes, as the case shall be, is entirely lost, then, and in that event, the Company shall pay to the Insured the amounts provided by this Policy, less the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars so advanced for the said operation.

SECTION C

ONE-FIFTH of the original amount stated in Section A for loss of life, within the time above limited for bodily injuries, as aforesaid, and only if the injuries causing such loss are sustained by the Insured in the manner stipulated as follows:

SEPTIC POISON

(1) By a Licensed Physician, Surgeon, Dentist, or Registered Nurse while holding an autopsy or performing a surgical operation, or a Licensed Undertaker while embalming, or preparing a body for burial, accidentally cuts or wounds himself and by reason of such cut or wound simultaneously therewith is inoculated with poison; or

PEDESTRIAN

(2) While Walking or Standing on a Public Highway, by being struck, knocked down or run over by a moving conveyance (excluding injuries sustained if Insured is employed or engaged on or about the conveyance; or is stopping or attempting to stop a runaway; or if such injury results directly or indirectly from the attempt at, or the act of, getting on or off such conveyance; or if sustained while walking on a public highway, or a railroad right-of-way; or while on a railroad right-of-way in violation of law); or

AUTOMOBILE

(3) While actually riding in, operating, adjusting (including tire repair and removal while the automobile is in transit) or cranking an automobile. This insurance does not cover anyone if the injuries are sustained while the Insured is violating the law, or engaging in any race or speed contest or repairing (other than that incident to adjusting as above indicated), overhauling or testing an automobile; or

TAXI CAB—OMNIBUS

(4) By the wrecking of any public omnibus, taxicab, or automobile stage which is being driven or operated, at the time of such wrecking, by a licensed driver plying for public hire, and in which the Injured is traveling as a fare paying passenger; or

(5) In consequence of Collapse of Buildings while the Insured is therein (except buildings in process of construction, repairs or demolition).

SECTION D

SPECIAL BENEFITS

The Company will pay for loss of life of the Insured which results within thirty days from date of accident, solely from such injuries caused by any accident in or out of business if not otherwise covered by this policy, and which shall have caused continuous total disability from date of accident to date of loss, the sum of Fifty ($50.00) Dollars.

SECTION E

ANY ACCIDENT

If the Insured shall, in consequence of any accident in or out of business not otherwise covered by this Policy, be continuously confined within the house, not leaving it at any time for any purpose whatsoever, and shall be wholly prevented from attending to any and every kind of work or business, for a period of not less than thirty (30) consecutive days from the date of the accident, the Company will pay the sum of Twelve and 50-100 ($12.50) Dollars.

SECTION F

HOSPITAL BENEFITS

For loss from confinement in a public or private hospital in his home town or in a hospital away from his home town, for not more than four consecutive weeks, resulting from such injuries caused by Any accident in or out of business for which no other indemnity is provided by this policy, and which causes continuous total disability from its date, the Company will pay Twelve and 50-100 ($12.50) Dollars per week.

SECTION G

Weekly Indemnity—Any Accident

Should the Insured in consequence of any accident sustained in or out of business, not otherwise covered by this policy, be wholly and continuously disabled from attending to any and every kind of business, the Company will pay for such disablement, after the first seven days, but not exceeding three consecutive weeks, a weekly indemnity of Two ($2.00) Dollars.

SECTION H

Weekly Accident Indemnity

Should the Insured sustain injuries in any manner specified in Clauses 1, 2, 3 and 4 of Section A, which shall not prove fatal or cause loss as aforesaid, but shall immediately, continuously, and wholly disable and prevent the Insured from performing each and every duty pertaining to any and every kind of business, labor or occupation, during the time of such disablement, but not exceeding Sixteen consecutive weeks for one accident, the Company will pay a weekly indemnity of Twelve and 50-100 ($12.50) Dollars.

SECTION I

Identification and Financial Aid

The Company will register the person insured hereunder and if he shall, by reason of such injuries or sickness, while this policy is in force, be physically unable to communicate with friends, will, upon receipt of a message giving the Policy Number, immediately transmit to such relatives or friends as may be known to it, any information respecting him, and will defray any expenses necessary to put him in communication with and in the care of friends, not exceeding Fifty ($50.00) Dollars.

SECTION J

Fifty Per Cent Accumulation

Each consecutive renewal hereof without default in payment of premium will increase the amount of benefits herein provided under Clauses 1 and 2 of Section A for Death, Dismemberment, or Loss of Sight of the Insured, at the rate of Ten Per Cent. of the original amounts until Fifty Per Cent. is thus added, and thereafter so long as this Policy shall remain in force, the insurance will be for the said original amounts in addition to the accumulations.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita County: Greetings:

You are hereby commanded to summon T. C. Davis, W. W. Chorn, Charles Blair, Mrs. Margaret Frank, M. P. Kelley, C. C. Knight, by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the 30th district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls on the first Monday in October, A. D., 1926 the same being the 4th day of October, A. D. 1926. Then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 4th day of June A. D., 1926 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 18455-A wherein Oscar Talley, individually and as trustee for R. B. Saxe and S. E. Hatfield, and R. B. Saxe and S. E. Hatfield, individually, are plaintiffs and T. P. Norwood, J. P. Jones, C. C. Knight, Ed Howard, Frank Collier, M. O. McDowell, J. O. McDowell, a feme sole, R. E. Orr, J. E. Frank, E. E. Ray, J. T. Overby, Mrs. Dell Davis, and husband, T. C. Davis, W. J. Bullock, W. W. Chorn, Charles Blair, M. P. Kelly, Mrs. Margaret Frank, a feme sole, and Mrs. Dell Davis and husband, T. G. Davis are defendants, and said petition alleging.

I

That plaintiffs are now and have been for several years the owners in fee simple, of the following described tract of land, situated in Wichita County, Texas, to-wit: The North 40 acres of the west 1-2 of S. A. & M. G. RY. survey No. 1, certificate 21-200, patent 245; described as: Beginning at the northwest corner of said survey, thence east with the north line thereof, 950-vrs to west line of the east 1-2 of said survey, thence south with the east line of the west 1-2 of said survey 237 1-2 vrs for corner; thence west 950-vrs. to west line of said survey; thence north 237 1-2 to place of beginning.

II

That plaintiffs ownership in the above described tract of land is subject to certain outstanding interests owned by defendants, which said interests consist of a right to receive a part of the oil produced and saved from certain wells on the above described tract of land, such interests in said oil produced from said wells being subject to and charged with their proportional part of the cost of operating said wells and producing oil therefrom.

III

That said interests in the oil produced from said wells are owned by said defendants in the respective wells on said land in the following proportions, to-wit:

T. P. Norwood, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1, 2 and 4, respectively.

Frank Collier, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1 and 2 respectively.

W. J. Bullock, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1 and 2 respectively.

J. P. Jones, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1 and 2, respectively.

C. C. Knight, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1 and 2, respectively.

M. C. McDowell, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1 and 2, respectively.

R. E. Orr, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1 and 2, respectively.

E. E. Ray, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1 and 2 respectively.

J. E. Frank, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1 and 2, respectively.

W. W. Chorn, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from wells Nos. 1 and 2, respectively.

J. T. Overby, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from well No. 1.

Ed. Howard, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from well No. 1.

Mrs. Dell Davis and husband, J. A. Davis, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from well No. 2.

Charles Blair, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from well No. 1.

M. P. Kelly, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from well No. 1.

Mrs. Margaret Frank, 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from well No. 2.

Mrs. J. O. McDowell, 1-140 of 7-8 of all oil produced from well No. 1, and 1-70 of 7-8 of all oil produced from well No. 2.

IV

That plaintiffs since the first of July, 1924, have been operating said wells and advancing the cost thereof; that since said first of July, 1924, and up to the present time, the cost of operating said wells Nos. 1, 2, and 4, respectively, has greatly exceeded the value of the oil produced and saved from said respective wells and that therefore plaintiffs have been operating said wells at a loss that the cost of operating said wells exceeds the value of the oil produced therefrom is due to the fact, in the opinion of plaintiff, that the ownership of the oil produced from said property is divided into so many small parts; that the cost of operating said well No. 1, has exceeded the value of the oil produced and saved therefrom, during the period of time from July 1st, 1924, up to the date of the filing of this petition, in the sum approximately One Hundred ($100.00); and of well No. 2, Three Hundred ($300.00) Dollars; and of well No. 4, Two Hundred and Fifty ($250.00) Dollars, and that said cost of operating said wells Nos. 1, 2 and 4, respectively, at the the present time, exceeds the value of the oil produced and saved therefrom, on the average of Ten ($10.00) Dollars, Thirty ($30.00) Dollas, and Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars per month for said respective wells, and that this loss will continue so long as the ownership of the oil produced and saved from such property is divided into the many small interests as it is at the present time; a sum equal to that said loss in the operation of said wells which has been incurred, and which will continue to occur as aforesaid, is due and owing plaintiffs by defendants in the proportion to the ownership of defendants in the oil produced and saved from said property, together with interest thereon from date hereof until paid at the legal rate of 6 per cent per annum.

V

That plaintiffs and defendants now compose and have composed during said period, a mining co-partnership operating said wells, and that therefore plaintiffs have a lien on the interests of said defendants in said land and said respective wells, and the oil to be produced and saved therefrom, to secure them in the payment of said money advanced and to be advanced to cover the cost of the operation of said wells owing by said respective defendants.

VI

Plaintiffs say that in the event they are mistaken that plaintiffs and defendants are a mining co-partnership as aforesaid, that plaintiffs and defendants are to the extent of the interests above mentioned, co-owners in said property, and that therefore plaintiffs have a lien on said land and said respective wells to secure them in the repayment of the sums advanced for the operation of said wells, which are due and owing by defendants as aforesaid.

VII

That the above amounts owing by defendants to plaintiffs are now past due, and unpaid, and that defendants though often requested, have hitherto failed and refused to pay the same or any part thereof, to plaintiff's damage in the sums owing by said respective defendants as aforesaid, amounting to Seven Hundred ($700.00) Dollars.

VIII

That no settlement of accounts between plaintiffs and defendants has ever been made, although plaintiffs have frequently demanded that a settlement be made between them and that defendants pay plaintiffs the amount due and owing them.

Wherefore, plaintiffs pray the court that the defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition and that said partnership be dissolved and for an accounting between plaintiffs and defendants, and that after the payment of all debts and the cost and expenses of this action that plaintiffs have judgment against the respective defendants for the amounts due and owing them for said respective defendants and for a foreclosure of their liens on the respective interests of said defendants in and to the above described property, land and interests of defendants in said respective wells, and that the same be decreed to be sold according to law, and that the sheriff or other officer executing said order of sale shall place the purchaser of said property sold under said order of sale, in possession thereof within 30 days after the day of sale, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity that they may be justly entitled to.

Herein fail not, but have before said court at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 19th day of August A. D. 1926.
(Seal.)

OUR HOUSES

by inspection and comparison have earned the reputation of being the best built and most artistic that have ever been erected here. So many people have told us this that they have almost gotten us to believing it. Anyhow, we are glad that our houses are liked. We are indeed, more than ordinarily proud of them. We know how well built they are and we know how careful we are in the finer details of construction and we also know that they cost quite a lot more money to build than if we used ordinary cheap construction and materials in them. We like to match our pride of erection against the owner's pride of ownership. We think that houses should not only be well built but that they should have architectural design and beauty both inside and out so that they add to the street on which they are built and to the city's total of homes that are pointed out as beautiful and charming. If you want such a home we will be glad to build it for you on your lot or on ours and invite you to call us in this connection.

$500 TO $800 EACH
$20 CASH, $20 PER MONTH

HOLLIDAY GARDENS is located adjacent to Holliday-Park-Lake Highway, being 1,200 feet east of Holliday Street which street affords you an easy and quick inlet to the business portion of the city. Holliday Gardens on account of being so close to Bsiness District and lying in the direct path of the city's expansion, offers an opportunity that should taken advantage of. These tracts are each 130 feet by 135 feet, large enough for garden, fruit trees and poultry farm. The Streets in Holliday Gardens are wide. In each block there are six tracts, and four tracts in each block are corners.

Irrigation Water Piped—City Water—

Holliday Gardens has city water. Also Irrigation water piped from the reservoir in Holliday Gardens, which reservoir is supplied from the Large Irrigation canal that runs through this subdivision. With this Irrigation water piped, and City water to each tract, there are certainly no home sites in or around Wichita Falls at four or five times the price that are better supplied with water for all purposes.

TRACTS WITH INCOME

On account of the size of these tracts, being about equal to three city lots, poultry and garden produce, offer an opportunity for income from your home site. You have the advantage of a country home, yet live right in the city. Remember this distance from the center of the business portion of the City to Holliday Gardens is shorter than the distance from the center of the business portion of city to the Kemp home on Tenth street.

TRACTS WITH MERIT

On account of the location, improvements, fertile soil, transportation, size of tracts and the low price and easy terms, certainly no real estate in or around the City has more merit. Sound thinkers and investors quickly grasp the opportunity offered in Holliday Gardens. Buy one of these home sites while you can get your choice. A purchase of one of these tract sfor a home, or future sale, is the best and surest investment for profit making in the city. You owe it to yourself to investigate Holliday Gardens.

Texas Oklahoma Fair Thrift Tickets Go On Sale Monday Morning

BEST FAIR IN HISTORY DUE

Indications Point to A Banner Affair This Year, Is Stated

Monday the Texas-Oklahoma Fair Association will open their regular annual bargain sale of Thrift Tickets for use in attending and viewing the attractions at the fair this year. R. E. Shepherd, secretary of the fair association announced Saturday that the opening of the sale will begin Monday and last for several days, and that an opportunity would be given everybody to avail themselves of this bargain offer.

The Thrift Tickets sell for forty cents each and are good for one regular admission into the fair which is fifty cents without such tickets. These tickets are also good for fifty cents at the grand stand or any other attraction which is under direct control of the fair association.

"These Thrift Tickets," Mr. Shepherd said, "will prove a big saving for the man with a large family. They will also prove a big saving for those who plan for parties to see the fair. We are anxious that everyone who can and will purchase the tickets now as it will help the Fair Association and will at the same time help the purchasers because it means a twenty per cent saving to him. We are expecting the Thrift sale this year to set a new record."

Big Fair Ahead

Reassuring reports are coming in from every point in the Texas and Oklahoma trade area of Wichita Falls giving every indication that it will be the greatest show ever offered by the Association. "I believe we are going to have more county exhibits than we have ever had," Mr. Shepherd stated. "Indications are there will be fully fifty counties with agricultural exhibits, which will likewise mean a big attendance from each of the fifty counties. We are getting most encouraging reports from every section of both states in this trade territory and are getting ready for the biggest Texas-Oklahoma Fair ever given."

Advices received from the Wortham Shows state that many attractions have been added since the contract was made for this show organization, and according to press reports are the best attractions the Wortham Shows have ever offered. There will be many new side show and carnival attractions here this fall.

Horse Show Entries

The horse show promises to be a record breaker in the number of entries; the automobile show will be bigger and better than ever with many new cars and new drivers never seen here before. The rodeo, under the direction of "Foghorn Clancey" is expected to be the most sensational ever given in this section and there will be many sensational and almost unbelievable tricks offered during the fair.

The Pageant of Progress, a new feature for the Fair, is attracting much attention from everybody. It promises to out rival the famous Battle of Flowers of San Antonio, and to furnish something new here in the way of unique attractions.

The poultry show, according to Superintendent Ira Brown, will surpass anything of the kind ever shown here. "We are flooded with inquiries," Mr. Brwn said, "which indicates the extraordinary interest manifested in this part of the fair program. We have already listed more birds than we have ever shown before, and more coming every day. We will have four state meets and two national meets, and this means that we will also have some of the best known breeders and fanciers in the country here."

Buildings in every department of the fair have been remodeled and repaired, some have been repainted, and the ground about them have been cleaned off and beautified, and plans are all well founded for the coming event which opens here October 2nd.

County Goes In Strong Terms On Governor's Race

Wichita county said "Dan's the man" in loud and emphatic terms Saturday, registering in a total vote of about 9,500 a proportion of about two and a half to one for the attorney general—a vote of 6,682 against 2,705 for Mrs. Ferguson. Mrs. Ferguson carried but four boxes of the 39 in the county, and all of these were small, being 2,525, and 39, two in Wichita Falls, one at Allendale and one at Electra.

Moody's vote in the county was exceeded only by that of James V. Allred in his race against Claude Pollard for attorney general. The former Wichita Falls district attorney carried evry box in the county, rolling up a vote of 7,587 to his opponent's 1,775, a proportion of greater than four to one.

In the remaining state race, that for state treasurer, W. Gregory Hatcher bested J. R. Ball of Fannin county by a vote of 6,034 to 2,475.

City Enjoys One Of Its Coolest Periods This Week

Wichita Falls and vicinity have enjoyed one of the most remarkable cool periods in a number of years for the past week, during which time a small amount of rain has fallen and the thermometer has registered cool weather the entire time. The hottest day for the week was last Sunday with a mean average temperature of 85.5 while the coolest day was Wednesday with a mean average temperature of 75.5. The average for the entire week was 78.7 which is said to be a record for several years' standing for a week of August.

A heavy shower of considerable extent began early last night, and light rains were falling throughout the night. Heavy rains to the north and southwest are also reported, but in this immediate vicinity the precipitation had not amounted to very much.

Temperature readings for the past week are as follows:

Sunday 85.5, Monday 80.5, Tuesday 80, Wednesday 75.5, Thursday 76.5, Friday 76, Saturday 77.

Romance Rumored

Society in America, Paris and the more fashionable French watering places, is keenly interested in the rumor that Mrs. Adolph Spreckels, wealthy widow of the late sugar magnate, is to be married to Alexander P. Moore, former U. S. ambassador to Italy. Above is one of the latest portraits of Mrs. Spreckels and, in inset, A. P. Moore.

We'll All Hear At The Fair This Year; 'Phones Installed

The Texas-Oklahoma fair will have the distinction this year of being the first state or district fair to install a complete minature radio broadcasting station within its grounds for the purpose of announcing and giving entertainments to the visitors throughout the entire fair grounds. R. E. Shepherd, secretary of the fair association, announced Saturday that arrangements were being made to install a broadcasting set which will be capable of carrying to loud speakers which will be installed in every building at the grounds and at the grandstand.

Use of the broadcaster will be made to announce different events, to page persons wanted at the box office to give musical and speaking programs through and to provide a general means of communication to all parts of the fair grounds.

Mr. Shepherd will be able to sit in his office at the fair grounds and talk to everybody at the fair at one time. Musical programs and speaking can likewise be delivered to every person on the ground as loud speakers will be established in every part of the grounds.

This equipment is being purchased outright by the fair association and local radio experts are going to offer their services, free of charge in installing the equipment. It will be permanent property of the fair association and will be available for use every year.

In connection with this broadcasting arrangements have been made with the Phonograph Shop to install one of their Panatrope machines, the latest thing in combined radio and phonograph devices, and this company will deliver some of the finest musical programs through the loud speakers, all without charge to either the fair association or visitors to the fair.

W. C. Taylor, weather bureau man for the Wichita Falls Electric company, has returned from an extended vaction trip to Brownsville and other south Texas points.

FOUR MARRIAGE LICENSES

There were four marriage licenses issued Saturday at the county clerk's office, these going to Dr. L. E. Wiggins and Mrs. Emma Owens; to W. J. Jefferys and Miss Willard Smith, both of Electra; T. E. Cato, Electra and Lillian Bingham; C. E. Jennings, Denison and Miss Willie McWhister, Burkburnett.

Scraps of News

Mrs. S. D. Joline of the Joline hotel, will return this week from Montreal, Can., where she has been visiting with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Shields returned Saturday from a two months vacation visit in Cloudcroft, N. M., and stated that they were sure glad to be back in Wichita Falls.

Miss Marjorie Cavanaugh, daughter of Dispatcher Cavanaugh of the Wichita Valley railway, left Saturday for a vacation trip to Colorado.

Committee Meets Monday to Form Auditorium Plans

The meeting of the Auditorium Committee, which was scheduled for Saturday afternon, was postponed to 10 o'clock Monday morning by Mayor R. E. Shepherd. The mayor has called the committee to meet for the purpose of devising a plan for selecting an architect to draw plans for the New Municipal Auditorium which will be built here in the near future.

In commenting on the situation, the mayor said the plan was to spend a certain sum of money in building the new auditorium, and that considerable care must be exercised in selecting an architect who can and will carry out the peculiar needs of the city in this respect. Some architects could design a million dollar auditorium to please everybody, but as the city cannot spend that much, the architect must confine his plans to a certain cost limit.

CHARGES FILED

Charges of theft of property of over $50 value were filed in the district court Saturday naming M. T. Patterson, alleged to have stolen a quantity of plumbing materihl and pipe recently.

Snow, Rain, Wind, Lillian Gish Has Fought 'Em All

In almost every picture in which she appears Lillian Gish's frail person is pitted against the elements. In 'Way Down East,' she battled a snow storm. In "The Wind," to be made soon, she will be thrown against the fury of a wind storm. Lillian says it's a good thing she's stronger than she appears.

Motor Car Burns On Wichita Road

BURKBURNETT, Aug. 28.—The Caro Motor wrecker-car was burned last night about midnight when making a run to bring in another car that had been wrecked on the Wichita-Burkburnett pavement about two miles south of this city.

The cause of the fire is unknown as it burst into flames through the floor and body, giving the three young men in charge only time to jump. The damage amounted to about $250. The wheels and frame may be rebuilt. The fire department rushed out and saved it from total destruction.

The car to which they had been called was badly damaged, and had run into the side of the bridge or protection rail built on the pavement near this point. No particulars were obtained as to that accident and no one was hurt.

GIRL DIES

BURKBURNETT, Aug. 28.—Wanda Lee Adair, seven months old daughter of J. T. Adair, died in the General hospital early Saturday morning after a lingering illness at the home of the family on a farm near the Red river bridge. It is survived by a number of adult brothers and sisters. The funeral will take place at 10:30 Sunday morning at the Owens chapel, conducted by Rev. M. I. Hamilton and the burial will follow in the Burkburnett cemetery directed by the Owens funeral directors.

Blackheads Go Quick By This Simple Method

This is a simple method that makes blackheads go as if by magic. Get two ounces of Calonite powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub briskly over the affected parts, and in two minutes, you will find every blackhead dissolved away entirely.—Adv.

WILL FORM NEW DISTRICT

Holliday Number Three Plans to be Discussed Next Saturday

The organization of the proposed Holliday Water Impeovement District No. 3, will take definite form next Saturday through a mass meeting which is to be held at the 30th district court room in the court house at 2 p. m., at which time an organization will be perfected and a board of directors elected for the project.

The Holliday irrigation project was planned out some months ago and is destined to open something like 80,000 more acres of land to irrigation from Lake Kemp. This area added to districts 1 and 2 will almost take the capacity of the lake and will provide one of the largest irrigation areas in the country.

Officials of district 1, which has put the entire proposition over, have gone to considerable expense in the way of engineering plans and surveys to get data upon which to organize district 3, and their officials will be present Saturday to give a complete outline of the necessary steps to be taken for the organization of the district.

It will be necessary for an election to be called and the property holders in the district will have to vote bonds covering the cost of the new improvement. This cost will probably average about $35 per acre, but will be scattered over a period of forty years in payment which will give the property owners a chance to make the improvement pay for itself through increased products of the land.

The preliminary survey and engineering work has cost the officials of No. 1 district about $8,000 which amount will be added to the total cost of the new project.

The committee, composed of Otto Stehlik, Henry Ford and Luke McCrory, which is pushing forward the work, announced Saturday that is is practical to proceed at once with the project.

No Pellagra After Three Treatments

Dr. W. C. Rountree, Texarkana, Texas.

Dear Doctor:—I had Pellagra five years. I was nervous, had stomach trouble, rash on hands and arms, skin itched and turn brown, sore mouth, could not eat or sleep, lost weight and got awful weak. I tried many treatments. Took Hypodermics six months, got no relief. I took 3 of your treatments and was well of Pellagra. I wish I could influence every one who has this terrible disease to write you.

Man Struck By Auto In Storm

W. M. Fehler, who resides two miles north of the city, suffered severe bruises and some painful lacerations about the head and arms early Saturday night when he collided with an automobile while crossing the street.

The accident occurred in front of the Busy Bee Fruit Store on Seventh street. Fehler attempted to dash across the street during the rain storm and was so blinded by the rain that he did not see the approaching car, and ran into it. The car was driven by W. F. Hyder, who was unable to stop the car before it had run over the victim.

Fehler was treated at the Wichita Clinc, where his wounds were pronounced not serious.

Miss. Fay Boyd Honoree Saturday at Shower And Tea at Evans Home

Quite the largest and most elaborate affair of the week was the lovely shower and tea given by Miss Mary Evans at her home on Tenth St., Saturday afternoon complimenting Miss Fay Boyd, whose marriage to Joe Carrigan is announced to take place September 8.

The reception suite of the spacious Evans' home was profusely decorated for the occasion in cut flowers in various colors and the dining table was attractively centered with a miniature fish pond embanked with flowers.

Met By Hostess.

The guests were met by the hostess and in the informal receiving line was the honoree, her two house guests, Misses Margaret Collins and Donnella Evans and Elizabeth Jordon Fern Sides, Fay Boyd, Elizabeth Carrigan, Bernice Martin, Geraldine Massie and Mesdames J. F. Boyd and A. H. Carrigan.

An ice course, mints and punch was served.

Others present were Mesdames Carter McGregor, J. C. Straus, Jr., Harry Seevers, E. L. Fulton, Paul Hines, Almond Gates, Bob Mathis, Walter Bachman, Marshall Evans, Joe Farabee, Allan Montgomery, Stayton Bonner Britt Cranfill, Jimmy Anderson, Henry Shaw Gage McDermott, Clifford Denton, J. B. Lovejoy, O. D. McCoy, Mary Francis Robertson, and Misses Neva Black, Georgia B. Leath, Helen Knotts, Janie McCallister, Stella Winters, Catherine Marcus, Margaret Akin, Ruth Moore, Mary Colquit, Elizabeth Weldon, Jeanette Moore, Mary Tancred Fay Cameron Marjorie Bright, Mary Allison, Georgia Maxwell, Edith Maricle, Mary Ferguson, Marjorie Woolsey, Donna Mitcham, Ina Merle Robinson, Margaret Blum, Wilton Wade, Elizabeth Couper, Helen Bullitt, Thelma and Fay Fisher, Dorothy Nolen, Lillian Randle, Frances Mulligan, Edna and Olive Kay, Ethel Moran Bernice Pross Elaine Myers, Doris and Reva Rae Brown and Mary Frank Nichol of Georgetown.

Bridge Breakfast.

Another lovely party of the week, complimenting this popular and attractive bride-elect, was the bridge breakfast at the County club Friday when Misses Margaret Collins and Donnella Evans of Fort Worth, and Miss Fay Boyd, sister of the honoree, were hostesses.

A long table was arranged for the guests with green covers and centered with a large pink crepe paper rose. Pink candle holders held the pink tapers and the bride-elect's chair was designated with trimmings of crepe paper and rosebuds. A three-course menu was served and the mints were in the form of miniature wedding slippers.

In the games Mrs. Clyde Straus, Jr., won the high score and Mrs. Allan Montgomery second high. The favors, together with a gift from the hostesses, was presented to the honoree.

Twenty-one guests were present.

Anna Mae Cato Is Back From Study In Eastern Schools

Miss Anna Mae Cato, artistic dancer and teacher of dancing has re- New York where she has been doing intensive studying during the summer months. Miss Cato also took special training in costume designing while in the east, and in Chicago studied under such well known teachers as Gladys Benedick and Adolph Bolf.

For several years, this young artist has been recognized as one of Wichita Falls' most versatile dancers and able teachers, and her splendid work this summer is expected to add greatly to her ability.

Her recent course together with others she has been taking each season, gives her sufficient credits to be a member of the Chicago Association of Dancing Teachers, an organization composed of the artists who have accomplished a certain amount of work required.

Miss Cato will open her studio September 13, she announces.

Miss Grace Hard assisted in entertaining the guests, and the hostesses were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

544-YEAR-OLD LAW.

LEEDS, Eng.,—A law 544 years old was invoked to punish B. A. Taylor, who broke into a house which his tenant had refused to vacate.

"I AND GEORGE"—By NINA WILCOX PUTNAM

America's Only Woman Humorist

NINA WILCOX PUTNAM

As Chancellor Bismarck, the inventor of the Pickled Herring, once said in his How I Kept My Girlish Figure—"Since taking up baseball in a serious way, I have found that nothing keeps one's weight down like chasing flies."

And how true that is come home to me the first part of this month, when I and George, that's my husband got into a argument over having the house screened to keep the flies out. Geo. will stand for flies in rice pudding, but he draws the line at taking them in cereal or coffee. This morning he got so mad, after saving a couple from suicide in the cream pitcher, that it actually got him generous.

He says to me, Jennie, he says, for the luvva tripe why don't you get a carpenter and have this house screened decent? I can go frogs legs if I haf to, and even snails, or calves' brains but darned if I can go flies, creamed or otherwise. Get the place screened right away, get good strong ones made with padlocks so's the flies won't be able to pull 'em open when we ain't looking, he says. Get copper wire and have them electrified so's the flies will die of the shock if they so much as touch the outside of the screens, he says, especially that big blue horsefly over there, he says.

Mrs. Economy Herself

Well, but dear, I says, thinking of a new dress I had my eye on down to the Emporium, but dear, I says, that will be awful expensive. No indeed, I will order no such things, we got too many more important uses for the money. I says. Just leave it to me, I will get the flies out, and if you think I won't you're crazy!

And he says if you think you can do it without proper screens, you're crazy. Honest, the way you sometimes won't listen to reason is enough to drive me wild, why won't you do as I say and let it go at that? And I said because I am a perfectly normal wife, that's why. I'll get rid of the flies, I tell you, why don't you take my word for it?

And he says because I am a husband of long standing, but I'm not gonner stand much longer if you keep this up, you get those screens. And I says all right, I won't! And he says you're crazy, that's all, you're crazy! And then he banged on his way to the train and left me thinking about that new dress, which naturally by then I considered it as good as bought.

Well, after I had got my morning's work done, I went around the house pulling down the window shades, like there was gonner be a funeral, and that was just about what I intended having—a funeral for the flies. Then I got out several sheets of flypaper and laid 'em around on chairs and other convenient places. It was the sticky kind that cats are so fond of rolling in, and it was as hard to get apart as a coupla postage stamps that you been carrying around in your purse for a month.

Sure Death On Flies

Well anyways, when I had some of these sheets laid around, I thought then I might as well make a real good job out of it, so I looked around to see did I have any of the poison kind of flypaper, but there wasn't any. So I took a look we had in the house, it was one of them modern sex-novels and George is on the board of censors down to th library now and he had brought the book home to be sure it wasn't fit to be read. He was gonner find out for sure if he had to read every word of it.

But I beat him to that censoring job. I opened up the vol., took one look at the story, and then run for my scissors. I at once cut out several pages, laid 'em on saucers, and poured on a little water, fully realizing where it wasn't necessary to add any poison, not to them pages, I should say not! The flies would only need one taste of that type of literature to knock 'em absolutely cold.

Then, when I had the house all set, I went and got a few weapons. I got a tennis racquet, a croquet mallet, and the old shotgun which George keeps on account of the neighbor's chickens. The first fly I went after with that outfit was the big blue horsefly that Geo. had pointed out at breakfast. This particular fly had certainly got my goat, too, because he had commenced picking on me early that morning by mistaking my nose for a parking space just as I was trying to tear off those few minutes extra sleep that is so precious because we know we had ought to of got out of bed ten minutes ago.

A Personal Grudge

Well, this fly had not alone tried to park where I said, but he had sung to me about it, after. He had a loud bass voice like the fellow called Static who is so popular on the radio, but anybody who has had the same experience will know exactly how I felt about him.

Naturally, when I commenced chasing flies I aimed for him first. He seemed to kinda follow me around the room, no matter even if I shut the door he would manage to sneak in, someways or another. I begun my campaign in the living room and the first thing I seen was that brute sittin' on the top of my best china vase.

With a wild war-cry I was after him with the croquet mallet and I brought it down zowie on the spot where a china vase had stood one instant before. Also where the fly had been, but by then he was moved over to the top of the phonograph, so I merely shook my fist at him, and with a muttered "I'll get you yet," I left him be for a while, hoping that would kinda get him off his guard, see, while I went after the rest of the gang.

I had a little more luck with them, although I left off the mallet, and tried a newspaper instead. Some lady had once told me where newspapers was a splendid thing to chase flies with, one of the best, in fact. So I got out that morning's one and commenced reading aloud to the flies. Of course I chose the very worst items I could find. I read 'em all about the terrible accidents and the divorce cases and the murders, but not a single fly left the room. In fact, a few more came in.

New Campaign Plans

After a while, my throat getting tired and seeing no results, I just sat there a spell and let 'em buzz while I tried to remember what else I had ever heard of that was good for getting rid of the pests.

All of a sudden it come to me where spraying a room was supposed to be the modern way of doing the job, and at the same time I recalled my grandmother saying that molasses and arsenic was a first class cure. So I thought well, I will just combine the two. So I got out our fire-extinguisher, emptied out the stuff in it, filled it up with molasses and water and went into the dining room, all set for battle. Well, the very minute I got there what would I see only that big blue horsefly, sitting on the chandelier with his legs crossed, laughing at me.

I dropped the sprayer and grabbed the shot gun, I was that mad. I fired, and doggone if I didn't miss That is I mean to say, I missed the horsefly. I made a real good job of the chandelier, however, I didn't miss that, I did miss a few other things in that room, too, but I didn't notice until later. The big feller was out in the kitchen by then, and all of a sudden I thought of another way to catch him. I realized he was a horsefly, see and I thought maybe I could fool him. So I made a dash towards the nursery. In doing so I by accident stepped into the sticky fly paper, one piece to each foot. But I didn't stop to pull 'em off right then, not much, I was too hot after the idea I had in mind.

Can't Fool a Horsefly

I reached the nursery, and there, standing right where he had been left was Junior's rocking horse. I took it up under one arm and carried it downstairs and out onto the back lawn. Then I opened the door and left it that way, so's the big blue fly could see out good. I even went out and stood by that darn rocking horse and patted it, madly yelling, Oh see the nice horsey. But it didn't do one scrap of good. The horsefly merely set right there on the edge of the stove and picked his teeth, perfectly indifferent. This got me so furious I made a wild rush at him with my bare hands, but with that he jumped up, and beat it and I couldn't locate him any place, although I felt pretty sure he had went on into the front room, under the piano.

Well anyways, I let him go at that and tried to put him outa my mind before I went out of it my own personal self. And then I turned all attention to the rest of the flies. I tried the molasses spray, but it didn't work very good except for the house-cleaning woman which I had to hire to come in and help me un-spray the house all the next week. After that I tried a few mouse-traps, but no luck with them either, the flies went in and out like chronic drunks and ail, and never minded a bit.

And then when I was about exhausted to say nothing of my ideas being the same, I actually got rid of them flies, all but the big blue one, which was still in a state of disappearance and I concluded it had died of over-exertion.

A Stroke of Genius

I went to the phone and called up our local garbage-man and asked if his wagon was full, and if he could drive it around my way for a few moments and he says yes it was and he would. So he got around to our place in a little while, and I got him to park close as was possible to the house. Then I opened all the doors and windows up wide and in two seconds the house was completely empty of flies. They was all taking a ride down street with the garbage-man, and I was rushing around getting the doors and windows closed again before them flies was to realize they had lost a good home and try to get back in again.

After which I went and sat down in triumph and the parlour. There! I says to myself, I win, the flies is vanquished one and all, and I done it without the aid of a net or of a single window screen. And just as I was talking to myself like that I heard a funny noise over near the piano, and I looked down on the floor when what come out from under that piano only the big blue horsefly and he wasn't alone, in fact, it wasn't even a he, it was a she and she was coming straight towards me and growling, followed by six hundred young ones not over a hour old!

I left off talking to myself, then, and commenced hollering, instead, and at that minute George come in the door. For the luvva tripe, he says what's the shouting for? And I says you win, boy, you win, you're right, you said I'm crazy, send for the wagon, you may catch it on the fly!

"With a Wild War-Cry was After Him With The Croquet-Mallett."

Few Girls Born With Beauty, But Most Must Acquire Their Charm

By MADAME IDA CHERNOFF

One of a series of articles showing that charm is partly without and partly within; how beauty may be secured by improving the mind, health and personality.

A few girls are born to be beautiful and charming. A generous nature has lavishly endowed them with priceless gifts; but most of us must plan and work to asquire charm.

A wise use of your own brains will bring you all the beauty and charm that you will ever need. There are four things that the exercise of your own will may win, and these are as follows:

1. Poise.
2. Confidence.
3. Health.
4. Well-grooming.

It is hard to put these in logical order, for they are all important; scarcely is one more important than another. No woman can possess poise and carry herself with confidence who does not know she is well-groomed. But because I shall have much to say on the care of the person, I shall save this lengthier subject to the last.

Let me tell you something about poise. The other day, in a great metropolitan hotel, I watched a woman enter alone, tip the porter, register at the desk, deliver her suitcases to the bellboy, and enter the elevator, while the eyes of a score of loungers idly watched her. Scarcely could you call her beautiful; she was rather too slim and too angular of feature, but her perfect carriage, the well-bred dignity with which she treated the servants, the way in which she calmly ignored strange eyes that watched her, and her cool self-possession, left behind her in the lobby a very definite and a very pleasant impression. Poise is what made this woman charming. Poise is not a physical attribute; it is purely mental. Confidence in self is the foundation for poise, and confidence is also mental.

No Nerves Permitted

A women who lets her nerves get the best of her can have neither self-confidence nor poise; a woman who worries over little things can have neither; a woman who cannot make decisions possesses neither. I will wager that before this woman ventured into a public place, she assured herself of the correctness of her attire and knew exactly where she wanted to go and what she wanted to do, and then proceeded to do that with assurance and without the distraction of petty worries as to whether her nose was shiny and her hat properly adjusted. To a woman who frankly admits that she lacks either poise or self-confidence, I say "Sit down for ten minutes and commune with yourself; face the situation you must meet, decide just how you will dress, and plan the occasion as far as you may. If your nerves are tired, rest them and gain complete self control; proceed through a leisurely toilette, have an unhurried bath, and let the moments before your dressing-table be minutes of rest and recuperation. Then, with dignity and assurance, take your place among others with the calm knowledge that you have made the best of every advantage, and that it is wasteful to spend even a single thought in wishing that your dress or your face or your wit were otherwise. In this forgetfulness of self, you will make other people conscious of your good points, and put them at ease; and the verdict is sure to be "What a Charming Woman."

In my next article, I shall tell you how charm is a matter of health, and how health is a matter of brains.

League to Present Two Short Plays Monday Evening

Members of the Ansil Lynn league of the First Methodist church will present two one-act plays in the basement of the church Monday evening. The plays are "The Weasel" and "Who Kissed Barbara?" Mrs. Lloyd Young, well known teacher of dramatic and art and reader, will direct the first one, while Mrs. E. H. Bohmfalk, will direct the other.

Both presentations are expected to be well above the average and some of Wichita Falls' most talented artists are taking part.

Besides the two plays, musical selections will be given by Miss Thelma Guinn on the violin, and by George Taylor who will play and sing.

The cast of "The Weasel" will include Mrs. J. Truman Stevens, Miss Lucile Ballard, Harry Gibbs, M. P. Albritton, Harold White and R. W. H. McCulloch. In "Who Kissed Barbara?" will appear Misses Josephine Fisk, Valley Fern Lowery and James Williams, A. P. Jones and Harry Palmer.

Pretty Bridge Party For Georgetown Guest

Complimenting her niece and house guestt, Miss Mary Frank Nichol of Georgetown, Mrs. H. F. Sanderford entertianed with a pretty bridge party at her home Friday afternoon. A color scheme of yellow was carried out in the decorations of cut flowers and in the refreshment course.

In the games, Miss Helen Bullitt won the high score favor and Miss Elizabeth Couper the consolation. The honoree was also remembered, and the gifts were dainty silk hose.

Those present were: Misses Elaine Myer of Kansas; Mary Evans, Ruth Moore, Jeanette Moore, Reta Barnard, Marjorie Bright, Wilton Wade, Helen Bullitt, Elizabeth Carrigan, Elizabeth Couper, Reva Rae Brown, Doris Brown, Elizabeth Weldon and Mrs. Gason.

Putting Contest To Begin This Week

Beginning Thursday, putting contests will be weekly events at the Country club for both men and women, according to an announcement made last week.

Abbott, Fred Couper, D. G. Whitney, W. E. Fitzgerald, J. B. Hatchitt and Misses Dell Hatchitt and Elizabeth Weldon. In the weekly play, Mrs. Fisher won the trophy.

Business Girls Have Dinner And Party

Members of the Progressive class of the Grace Methodist church enjoyed a water melon feast at Cedar Park pool Thursday evening.

Following a brief business session, George Taylor gave several vocal numbers playing his own guitar accompaniment. Violin selections were given by C. B. Watson, accompanied on the guitar by Mrs. Watson.

Those present were, Messrs. and Mmes. D. A. Allen and children, J. D. McDowell, Eaton, George Taylor, D. R. Jackson, Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Miller and Mmes. J. T. Bentley, W. W. Sherrill, Francis Wright, Misses Josie B. Wyatt Lulu Wyatt and Fritz Taylor.

Mrs. Marie Mason of the Floral Heights Beauty shop left Saturday for New York, where she will take a course in face uplifting and purchase new equipment for her shop. She will stop at a girls' camp in New Jersey on her way home.

Rudy, in Real Life, Neither a "Powder Puff" or Sheik, But He Lacked Complex of a "He Man"

Famous Screen Star Never Content In His Marriage And Other Affairs; Resented Being Held Up As A Sartorial Model for All His Sex

BY W. G. MARSHALL.

Special Distpatch to The Record News.

Copyright 1926 by The Consolidated Press Association.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—In real life, Rudolph Valentino was neither a "powder puff," which the Chicago editor called him, nor a "sheik," a name which he brought on himself. Yet he was hardly a "he man" which he aspired to be, both in real life and the pictures.

This is the impression made by this foreign-born idol of moviedom on an American born newspaperman, during a more or less intimate acquaintanceship extending over a period of several years.

With all his success, Valentino lived a discontented life. He was neither happy in his profession nor in what, of one less famous, would be called his private affairs. He resented being held up as the sartorial model for certain young admirers of his own sex, and the worship—not always from afar—of other admirers of the opposite sex—irritated him beyond measure. The last time the writer talked to him, he expressed the hope that he would be able some day to live down his reputation as the "sheik."

Valentino was too much of an egoist to be happy in marriage. It was that rather, than any of the quality of the woman hunter in his make up, that wrecked his various adventures of the heart. He had no eyes for any other woman when he was interested in one. The second—and last marriage Valentino" was his introduction for the former Winifred Hudnut, and he meant it undoubtedly. Less than three years the second and last Mrs. Valentino as she was truly was as things turned out—was on her way to France for the "marital vacation" which was only the prelude to a Paris divorce.

If Valentino could have won the respect of men of his own age and older, he would have been content. He knew that most men of mature age held him in contempt and it hurt him deeply. For this he blamed the newspapers and this explains the fact that he was rarely civil to a reporter, which made the reporters in turn none too kindly in their treatment of him. As he grew older and listened to wise council he became more diplomatic in his dealings with the newspaper craft and they became more friendly disposed toward him, but the damage had been done. "The sheik" he had become, and "the sheik' he remained to the end of his days.

"Why do they persist in holding me responsible for these 'cake eaters,'" he wailed, on one occasion. "Do I look like one? Do I dress like one?'

No, he did not. But he did not look or dress like a "he man" either. He was a little too effiminate in appearance, a little too fastidious in his dress, ever to be very far out of the character which he portrayed on the screen. Every one admires a handsome man but Rudolph was more than handsome. He was positively beautiful. And no "he man" likes a beautiful man.

This statement is not quiet correct. Many men liked Rudolph when they knew him. He was a most likeable chap in his presence one forgot his beauty and was captivated by his personality: He was not an engaging conversationalist—he was too self-centered to be—but he had nice manners and as a host he was charming.

Valentino was a fine screen actor. Whether he had the natural ability or whether he was developed into the great star he was by capable direction, may be the subject or controversy here-

If You Want to See Real Romance, Go to Cordoba and Listen to the Hot Papas Woo Balcony Ladies

He Plays Guitar and Sings Rather Well, But for the Neighbors' Sake It Is Hoped His Object of Affection Will Name the Day

CORDABA, Spain, Aug. 28—It is worth coming here if only that forever after you can assume superior air when anyone pronounces the town with a "V". Of course, there is still more or less Cordoban leather still going the rounds in this locality, but the big thing today seems to be the Spanish custom of falling in love at first sight. It is, indeed, the chief industry of the town.

And really, it's a grand old Spanish custom, one which by its difference from the flapper-and-lounge-lizard methods makes a special appeal to all Americans who thought romance was as dead as the one horse shay.

In Cordoba, there are no flappers. Oh well, there are girls who giggle, but girls have done that throughout the ages; and the real flapper, she of the bobbed hair, the less-than-knee-skirt, and the ripe vocabulary, simply isn't. She'd be awfully unpopular.

Not a particularly quaint or attractive town, Cordoba makes up for its lack of architectural picturesqueness by the picturesque ardor of its courtships. The mantilla is not often seen, to be sure; but the duenna is visible wherever a girl of the upper classes appear. The duenna, the wrought iron grating over the window, the massive, barred gates, the general air of surveillance—all these give to courtship the thrilling piquancy of a note tossed in school beneath the very noses of teacher.

The Cordoban method has it all over the American. In the first place, it's always love at first sight. There's a glint from a senorita's eye, and Bing! The recipient is immediately, dramatically, hopelessly smitten. Nor does he allow concealment, like a worm in the bud, to gnaw at his damask cheek. Quickly he scampers home and gets out the family guitar. Then he scales walls, crops under shrubbery, watches the light in a certain window shining behind an impliecable grille. And then he lifts up his voice in song. Oh, heavens, how the lad does sing! All night, each night, with the guitar twanging and the nightingales straining every thorax to keep up with him. Not jazz music, either; slow, sweet, sentimental ballads—dozens of 'em—with a great many long tenor notes.

One of these vocal sufferers is wooing a senorita, who, unfortunately, lives right next to our hotel. By great good fortune, we happened to be almost present when Cupid's dart, speeding from her languorous eyes, made a direct hit. She is evidently one of the rather few high class damsels of the town and she was properly dumpaged, out riding in one of the few carriages which the town now boasts. Just before the carriage turned in at the paternal driveway, young Carmenoita glanced over her shoulder. Who should receive the glance, full force, but Manuelo there on the curb.

Manuela jumped as though he had been shot, as indeed he had and in a twinkling changed from a nonchalant youth smoking a cigarette to a veritable volcano erupting kisses, flinging them with both hands after the departing vehicle. When the paternal gates had swung to behind Senatoria Duenna, there lay on the curb a red, red rose, just like the light operas. Manuelo picked it up, kissed it fervently, regardless of American stares, thrust it somewhere in the vicinity of his heart, and rushed madly away.

As it developed that evening, he rushed to dust off the family guitar. Of course he plays it well, and his voice isn't bad. Still, one can't help hoping that Carmenoita, for the neighbors' sake, will name the happy day before too long.

German Airplane Service Is Safe

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Every time a traveler goes up into the air on one of Germany's seventy-five airplane routes, he is automatically insured for $6,000 at the expense of "Lufthansa's", the concern which operates these routes.
Flying in Germany is regarded quite as safe as traveling by train or motor car. The insurance companies with which the Lufthansa has contracted for the insurance of its passengers charge merely the usual accident rate, without the super charge customary in the case of "extra hazardous occupations."
According to official statistics, the percentage of safety aeroplane flights during 1925 was 99.997 per cent. Thus far during 1926 not a single passenger has been injured.

THE RECOGNIZED STYLE HEADQUARTERS OF NORTHWEST TEXAS!

STYLE! THAT ELUSIVE SOMETHING THAT CLINGS TO AN ORCHID SHOP GARMENT LONG AFTER THE PURCHASE TRANSACTION IS FORGOTTEN . . . . .

Whether it is lifted from surroundings of lavender and old lace—whether it is reflecting the sparkle of the brilliants in the ball room chandelier or the gloriously soft moonbeams of a full blown harvest moon — there is that elusive something about an ORCHID SHOP garment that stamps it upon sight as "distinctive—as stylishly different."

And small wonder for that—for ORCHID SHOP garments are not selected in assortments from the hodge-podge offerings of the eastern markets. ORCHID SHOP buyers select every garment with the sole idea of providing some fortunate person with a typical ORCHID SHOP creation. Manufacturers have ceased to suggest to us group assortments of garments—for now they know that the ORCHID SHOP standard of excellence will permit acceptance of only a few of the very best from each.

From Paris—from New York—regardless of where the style originates, ORCHID SHOP patrons are quick to grasp the unusual type of service offered by this store—They know that the choicest bits as seen in the leading style magazines of America are here as soon as they are out.

Fall styles are here in a wealth of new colors. Formal gowns, party frocks, sport clothes, coats, wraps—in fact if there is one place in Northwest Texas where STYLE is exemplified—it is THE ORCHID SHOP.

WE INVITE YOU TO CALL AND INSPECT THE FALL STYLES

News Events and Social Items of Interest From Wichita Falls Area

L. T. L. CLASS HAS PARTY.

The L. T. L. Class of the Baptist Sunday school report an interesting business and social gathering for August on the lawn of the home of Mrs. Earl E. Carley, with Mrs. R. D. Laney and Mrs. W. H. Cross as joint hostesses.

The devotional and business hour was presided over by Mrs. R. G. Wilson the prayer of the service being led by Mrs. Hattie Buchanan.

The social hour featured the gathering and several contests and informal conversations; one of the former was especially unique in that the names of the guests were given in rebus form hung on the clothesline, each being numbered. The guessing game on the pictures and articles suggesting the names afforded much interesting amusement.

The refreshments were watermelon and punch, served to the following guests: Mesdames S. J. Fears J. H. Jones, C. P. Johnson, J. A. Messer, J. G. Cheney, E. C. Cheney, W. T. Reese, Arch Frye, Mary E. NO NEW BERLIN ACTORS.

Theater Managers Are Wary of Having New Talent.

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Berlin theater owners are growing so wary of engaging new and unknown talent that the list of actors thus far booked by the leading theaters for the season 1926-27 includes almost no new names.

The only novice thus far announced is Grete Walter, whose family name at least is one to conjure with, as she is a daughter of the internationally famed musical director of the civic opera, Bruno Walter.

Assassins Don't Worry Poincaire

PARIS, Aug. 28.—"Bah," is the only reply Premier Poincare has vouchsafed his friends who, objecting to his working unafraid, at a wide open window.

The spectacle of France's new premier and minister of finances, working away at his desk in the study of his home near the Arch of Triumph has not a little surprised the passersby in that quarter of Paris—and has not a little alarmed the police. For the premier leaves his window wide open.

M. Poincare has never been treated tenderly in speech or print by the communists and anarchists and his friends are stressing without success the extreme imprudence of showing himself so nonchalantly as a possible target. They urge upon him either to close the blinds, or if he will insist on fresh air while he works, to have at least a pair of plain clothesmen outside his house.

MODEST MUSSOLINI

ROME, Aug. 28.—Modest Muiselini, an inscription on a monument at Jamiamo, where he was wounded in war, has been changed. In place of the saying that Benito in pain conceived the greatness of new Italy, the new inscription refers to many sons of Italy fighting und dying.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The most elaborate party of the week among the young people of the city was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ashley, 103 East Ida avenue Friday evening, when their daughter, Miss Preston Ashley, was honored on her 12th birthday. Decorations of pink and blue streamers were tied from the corners of the living room to the reading lamp which was shaded with a Japanese light, and the same scheme carried out in the dining room. The birthday cake with tiny white candles in pink and blue holders served as a center piece of the dining table.

The young guests were greeted by Mrs. W. H. Ray, where they were asked to register and given crepe paper caps in pink and blue, after which they were presented to the honoree. The first part of the evening was spent in dancing, after which the fortune teller booth, proved most popular. Miss Eloise Gafford dressed as a Gypsey, told each an approprite fortune.

Later in the evening a Charleston contest was held with Ralph Prince being the winner for the boys and Miss Lillie Mae George, winner for the girls. Each were presented with attractive gifts. Refreshments of cherry limes and birtday cake with favors of bottles of Colgates perfume for the girls and novelty whistles for the boys were served.

Those enjoying the affair were: Misses Preston Ashley, Dorothy Vandeventer, Ruth Deiss, Gwendoyn Garrett, Sybel Moore, Francis Orr, Lillie Mae George and Messrs. Gordon and Paul Roberttts, Denslow and J. M. Ashley, Jr., James Magee, Don Garner, Willie Jennings, Boon Macey, D. C. Priddy, Ralph Prince, Trever Bell, Morris Williams and Haskell Sandifer.

Queen Marie of Roumania and Princess Ileana plan to come to America soon—and for a number of reasons. For herself, Queen Marie hopes to meet old friends. And for Princess Ileana, it is rumored that the trip may possibly have something to do with finding her a husband. The royal visit depends, now, only on the consent of former Premier Bratiano, Roumania's most powerful man, in or out of office. Queen Marie and the Princess, inset, are pictured above.

Parisiennes Like Black and White

The black and white color scheme is a favorite with smart Parisians. This afternoon frock of georgette is a charming example of French sartorial art.

Umbrellas Shed Sombre Colors

PARIS, Aug. 20.—Umbrellas are shedding their sombre black here and are becoming quite picturesque in soft blues, delicate pinks, light water green and "dawn" yellow, colors that were the rage in the citizen kings days.

Umbrellas are covered with taffeta and edged with a broad ribbon striped in the gayest of colors. Its handle may be a crutch of light yellow or a dog's head with a collar set with colored carbuncles, or a pert monkey with a chain.

The Louis Philippe umbrella has become a formidable rival to the "Tom Thumb" umbrella, which has become smaller than ever.

BERLIN GOES IN FOR CATS.

Three Hundred Fanciers Organize Here.

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Three hundred cat fanciers of Berlin recently organized "a league for cat breeding and cat protection." It is presided over by Frau Professor Scheurig, who was enthusiastically applauded when she suggested that the organized lovers of cats and kittens make their bow to the world at a cat show to be held in December.

The Berlin example has already been imitated by Dresden, which organized, a branch on the pattern of the Berlin organization.

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE BUD

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Chance for some young man to make a great hit with a girl. What is represented as the largest perfect blue diamond that has ever come out of the earth is on sale in a Fifth avenue store for a trifle of $300,000—127.01 carats, 1 5-32 by 1 9-32 inches.

THE STYLE IN BOOTS

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Presidential boots change styles with the mode of exercise. Mr. Coolidge wore knee leather boots when haying in Vermont. Now it is hip boots when fishing.

THE LATEST ENGAGEMENTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Peggy Joyce is back from Europe with five diamond bracelets, two solitaire rings, and one sprained ankle. The only engagements she had in mind on arrival were with a doctor and a dentist.

THE RUGGED SEX

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Either Pete Sarmiento can stand a lot of battering or Phil Rosenberg can't hit very hard. It took 30 smacks from Phil's right to send Pete down for a count of four. If Pete were only bigger he could get a job taking belts from Dempsey for $200 a week.

Score and 10 Men See Last Of This World In Grim Walled Death Cell

HUNTSVILLE Texas, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A score and ten men have sat and bid the world goodby in the death chair in the dark gray room of destruction here behind the aged walls of the Texas penitentiary.

Nine death cells all in a row. Heavy steel bars cast ghastly shadows on the leaden walls of each death crib, from the lone light in the corridor, where it burns low and where the one inside warden walks slowly to and fro, from the blank and dark wall of cell number one, to the iron door of the room where thirty souls have met their God.

Huddled against the cold, steel-barred doors, white, brown and black men read their much thumbed Bibles. They cannot look "with such a wistful eye" upon anything "the prisoners call the sky," and were it not for the change of the guards and the bringing in of food, they would never know when the rosy dawn creeps over the tall southern pines and rugged walls into the prison yard.

Day by day and night by night as long hours drag by, the condemned men, slayers though they are, live in memories of the past and ponder of the life to come. They cannot hear a scaffold being built, with the nails piercing the heart of the wood with each thud of the hammer. They can only hear a faint hum of the modern electric generator, as the powerful energy known as electricity is switched on to test the chair of death.

The chair of death, in the room of destruction, stands high in gruesome silence. Of heavy timber and very erect, with black leather binders for neck arms and legs the final sitting place of killers stands a picture of persecution. Prison-made is this chair, designed and built by a prisoner, a "lifer."

Friday nights are unwelcome nights behind the walls in the Texas pen. The chaplain closes his school early. The prisoners become nervous and pace up and down their narrow cells in the faint rays of light reflected from the dim corridors into their darkened cells. Some have seen the coffin gaping open for its victim. Others have dug the grave in the desolate prison graveyard.

For centuries life was taken from offenders of society at the dawn of a new day, or at high noon when the execution was an example to the populace. But now in the dead of night, past the hour of twelve in the world-known graveyard watch, at the expiration of yesterday and at the birth of today, when all the world should be at rest, the state's appointed agent places the switch on the circuit that kills, that society may be protected.

Giants of physical strength have taken the short death march with the prayers of the chaplain echoing in their ears. With but one exception, all of the score and ten were reconciled to their fate, and walked bravely and sat with shaven heads impatiently awaiting the securing of the leather binders on neck, arms and legs. Their stares at the officials and the few privileged curious behind a large iron rail broke down the courage of the spectators, who bowed their heads in abasement at their own lust to witness the destruction of a fellow man.

The binders are not placed to prevent the condemned from escaping. They are there to hold the leaping, straining body when the electricity enters and the soul departs.

N. L. Speer, the prison warden, the state appointed executioner, takes his stand behind the chair. A curtain is drawn that he may not see the dying man, as the warden closes the circuit with the switch until the prisoner is dead.

"It is duty," so says Warden Speer, "and I try to tell myself that in the performance of duty that the executions do not hurt me, but every time I pull the switch and a man dies, a part of me also dies."

Throughout the prison, when the switch is thrown, the lights flicker and the prisoners know that fellow-sinner has joined the horde in the beyond.

"Death is justified only in the example," Warden Speer said. "Electrocution in the dead of night is a futile effort of justice, for few know and few care for the man who dies in the chair in a wasted effort to put the fear of taking another's life into the thoughts of those who might kill.

"Hanging the criminal at high noon on the public square of the community in which he committed the offense is the only solution to the problem of ending ruthless murders.

"The system that places the responsibility on one man to exterminate all the murderers of the state is not fair to the man, for as he kills, so must a part of him die. The only argument for electrocution at the penitentiary is economy."

Bandits Shouting "Long Live Religion," Appear.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Gene Eugenio Martinez, military commandant in the valley of Mexico, announces that bandits shouting "long live religion," appeared in the town of Amecameca and partially looted it.

Federal troops pursued and killed six of the bandits and captured another. The others escaped.

Offers to Wager $25,000 on Woman's Ability to Swim

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Walter Lissberg, automobile tire dealer who financed the English channel swim of Mrs. Clemington Corson, today issued on behalf of Mrs. Corson a challenge to "everybody, Miss Ederle not excepted," to swim around Manhattan island for a $25,000 purse.

Dudley Field Malone, attorney for Gertrude Ederle, when told of the challenge said Miss Ederle would consider such "a challenge when it is received."

While $25,000 was fixed as the challenge purse, a brother of Mr. Lissberger said that he would go as high as $100,000 in backing Mrs. Corson against any woman swimmer.

Mr. Lossberger wants the proposed swim around Manhattan Island to be made not later than October before the water becomes too cold. The distance would be 42 miles. He said that since he had won $100,000 on a 20 to 1 wager that Mrs. Corson would swim the channel, he was willing to risk that amount on her.

C-C TO MEET IN CLARENDON

District Session Will Be Held Monday In Plains City

CLARENDON, Aug. 28.—All committees of the Clarendon chamber of commerce have practically completed preparations for the entertainment of delegates from the entire district of the Panhandle north plains section of the West Texas chamber of commerce.

Practically every business in the entire town is fully decorated for the reception of all visitors to the meeting. The local registration committee has reported the sale of more than a hundred tickets to the huge chicken barbecue that will be served at noon.

Secretary Holcomb and Sam Braswell have charge of the reception and placing of visitors who will come on Sunday afternoon before the sessions begin Monday morning.

The program personnel has practically all accepted and with the few additions an unusually good program is assured.

Homer Mulkey president of the Clarendon chamber of commerce and Frank Whitlock have charge of the barbecue and have already made all preliminary arrangements for another of those famous West Texas special chicken barbecues which will be ready at exactly twelve-thirty for the many visitors.

C. C. Powell, director of the chamber, here, will be on hand for the registration of all visitors and will have Loyd Stallings of the Clarendon News to aid him in seeing that every person is tagged for the program and dinner.

Brewster To Wed His Film Beauty

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—(AP) The Times says Eugene V. Brewster, wealthy film magazine publisher, expects to obtain a Mexican divorce from his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Brewster of New York, the day before Thanksgiving and to marry Corliss Palmer, whose entry into motion pictures he sponsored, within 24 hours afterward.

The publisher disclosed that the state of Sonora has been chosen for the projected divorce suit. The complaint probably will charge that the couple has not lived together for more than five years. Brewster, it is said, will establish residence in the Mexican state.

U. S. Sailors Land On Nicaragua Soil

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Two hundred American sailors and marines have been landed by the cruiser Galveston at Bluefields, Nicaragua to protect foreign life and property.

The landing was made after the Nicaraguan governor at Bluefields had informed the Galveston's commander that the Nicaraguan government forces which is marching upon Bluefields.

Latest reports from American official sources indicate that the revolutionists' attack on Bluefield will be successful.

COTTON CROP DAMAGED

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28.—(AP) Reports to El Universal from Torreon estimate the cotton crop in the Laguna district, Mexico's foremost cotton area, has been damaged from 1,000,000 to 4,000,000 pesos by floods. In some section the railroad tracks have been washed away and the train schedules are all upset but no loss of life has been reported.

A POPULAR "SCHOOL UNIFORM." (MIDDY FOR GIRLS.)

5500. Here is the very latest expression of practical dress for school girls. A middy blouse, with a circular skirt mounted on an underbody. The underbody may be of muslin or lining, the skirt of jersey, flannel, wool crepe or wash fabrics and the blouse of Indian head, drill, or broadcloth.

The pattern is cut in six sizes: 6, 8, 10, 12, 14 and 16 years. To make this "uniform" for a 12-year size, with short sleeves will require one yard of 36-inch lining for the underbody, 1 1-8 yard of 54-inch material for the skirt and two yards of material 36 inches wide for the blouse. If the blouse is made with long sleeves 2 1-4 yards will be required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15 cents in silver or stamps.

GOLFING UNDER FIRE —By James J. Montague

The Thunder Helped Me Again, Cracking Right Behind My Elbow, And I Got A Three Hundred Yard Drive.

Egbert looked out of the locker room window and regarded gloomily the still more gloomy clouds that were gathering in the southwest.

"I wanted to play this afternoon," he said. "I haven't played since day before yesterday, and I'm frightfully out of practice. But dodging lightning takes a quicker man than I am. And there is going to be a lot of it out there pretty soon."

"Afraid of a little thunder, hey?" asked Bill, who indicated no intention of getting into his golf rig.

"No not fraid, exactly. But it just makes me sort of nervous. I played a round with Arthur the other day, you know arthur, he'll golf in hades if he goes there. We had a big bet on the match and there was no way to get out of it. I've taken a vow though that I'll never do it again, and I stick right here this afternoon unless those clouds blow around."

"Didn't get hit, did you?"

"No, but if I hadn't been fast with my head a couple of times one of the bolts would have got me. Three of them came so close that they singed my eyelids. I'm not afraid of them, of course. But they do make me nervous."

"Well, why didn't you come in?"

"Oh, you know how that is. ou're more afraid to be afraid than you're afraid, if you get me. And besides I wanted the money."

"We'd got around to the third hole when both of us noticed that it was getting so dark that you could hardly see to putt. When that happens right in the middle of an August afternoon it sets you to thinking."

"I looked up and saw a string of thunder clouds, all laced over with zig-zag fire and just about that time there was a terrific crack just ahead—of us and the air began to smell of sulphur.

"I suggested maybe we had better go back and wait until it was over.

"'Don't be a quitter,' said Arthur. 'Don't you know that getting struck by lightning is an easy death? You never see the bolt that gets you nor feel it.'

"'But I have three or four good reasons for not wanting to get struck,' I said. 'Two of them being important business engagements at 9:30 tomorrow morning. What do you say that we go back to the club house like a couple of sensible birds. We can play better when we aren't so nervous.'

"'I'm not nervous,' said Arthur. 'I enjoy a thunder storm now and then. Besides if you know anything about such things you know that only two men in every 11,403,687 and nine sixteenths get struck by a lightning storm. So you see there is not a chance that either one of us will be elected.'

"'Just at that time there was another bang, and the steel club I was holding shot out little sparks, and my fingers tingled.'

"'I looked around for the caddy. He had set the bag against a tree and was making a bee line for a little shelter not far away. He had good judgment, for an instant later it began to rain and hail.'

"'I supposed that would settle it and started to run after the caddie.'

"'Going to forfeit the match?' said Arthur.

"'All right, I'll play around and you can play later and we'll match cards. But I'm disappointed in you. I thought you had a little nerve.'

"Well, I'm not a coward. So I stuck.

"The rain came down so we could hardly see two feet ahead, and we had a devil of a time finding the ball after we had shot it. There was no help from the caddies. They were intelligent lads, and stayed under their shelter.

"Usually the club head would just sort of slosh through the standing water when it hit the ball, and drive it only a couple of yards. But now and then there would be a slam of thunder just as I was driving and I would undo myself.

"The worst of it seemed to be over pretty soon, but by now the course was so covered with water that we had to take out floaters and use them on the green, sort of propelling them up to the hole like you have seen loggers do prodding logs up to a mill chute. If we could stop them over the hole we called them sunk.

"There was a good many places where we had to wade of course, and once both of us while pursuing balls that had been caught by a current didn't notice that we were right over the brook and fell in pretty near up to our necks.

"I looked around at Arthur when that happened. He pulled himself out on a hummock, wrung the water out of his shirt and trousers, poured it out of his shoes and looked reflectively at the skies.

"'Going to quit at last?'

"'Quit? Hardly. I was just admiring that cloud coming up on the horizon there. It seems to be going pretty fast.'

"I looked up. He was right. It was coming fast. It was a sort of green cloud, a shade which would have been pretty on a wave, but which looked ominous somehow in a cloud. Dark green. And shot with lightning.

"As to coming fast, by the time I had got my eyes focused on it, it was right over head, and not so far overhead as I should have liked. There were long writish whiskers hanging out of it, and every two or three seconds it would split from one end to another with a crack of lightning that looked from where we stood to be about a foot wide.

"Arthur meanwhile had got most of the water out of his clothes and was teeing up on a hill that reared itself above the waste of waters.

"'I'll take a penalty here for a lost ball,' he said. 'I'm one up and there are four to go on this side. Shoot.'

"So I shot. There was nothing else to do. The thunder helped me again, cracking right behind my elbow, and I got a three hundred yard drive. The first time I ever drove over two hundred in my life.

"'Swell shot,' said Arthur. 'It takes a little thunder to put pep into you. You ought to play in the tropics where they have a lot of this stuff.'

"Funny as it may seem I won the next four holes, not because I knew how to play, but because I was in a hurry to get out of that tornado and wanted to take just as few strokes as possible getting to the club house.

"By the time we got in the wind had begun to blow, and luckily for me it pulled up two or three trees and rolled them over where they blocked the course. So we couldn't play the second nine. You fellows remember the storm. It took a week to clean the place up so we could play again.

"Well, I finished three up and won $15. I'm not what you'd call a moneyed man, but I wouldn't play in a storm again for $15,000. But Arthur—when he found we couldn't get around the second nine he went out on one of these submerged greens and practiced putting, with lightning chipping twigs from the trees over his head. He said he'd never putted on a water green before and he wanted to learn how to do it. "He wants me to play again with him some day, so he can have a chance to get even. But it will have to be in some place where they have a dry season. I'll take no chances on any more lightning games. No, I'm not afraid of the stuff, I tell you, but it does make me nervous, and those nervous spells don't do a fellow any good.'"

Lewis-Hager Co. Is Incorporated

Under a charter recently received from Austin the firm of Lewis-Hager has incorporated for $10,000—all paid in stock.

This company specializes in sheet metal work and is the authorized Armco Ingto Iron shop for Wichita Falls.

The partnership has been a very successful one according to Mr. Hager who called attention to the fact that increasing business required more room. This need was met with the erection of a new building especially adapted to the requirements of this class of business.

SEYMOUR HAS NEW SCHOOL

Crowded Conditions Force The Construction of Primary Building

SEYMOUR, Aug. 28.— Crowded conditions in the Seymour schools have necessitated the erection of another building to take care of the incoming students for the fall term that opens shortly. The building, a new stucco cottage, is being constructed in the yard of the grade school here and when finished will be used for kindergarten and primary classes. It will be ready by Sept. 13, on which date schools are scheduled to open here.

No public announcement has been made of the teaching lists for the year, but it is expected these will be reported in the near future. Several new instructors have been added, it is known, to care for the increased enrollment.

Electra Woman Is Called to Tipton

ELECTRA, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Mack Webb left Friday night for Tipton, Okla., upon receipt of a message stating that her father, Dr. J. C. Helf, prominent physician of that city, died unexpectedly at his home, death being caused from apoplexy.

Dr. Helf is well known in Electra, having visited here on many occasions. He is also the father of Claud Helf, former well known business man of this city, but who now resides in Albany, Texas.

The deceased is survived by wife and four children. The message did not give details of funeral arrangement but burial will be in Tipton.

Many Lost When Flood Sweeps Japs

TOKYO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Reports from Hakodate on Hokkaido island, say that many lives were lost, 2,500 houses were inundated and thousands of acres of rice washed away in a terrific flood there, resulting from heavy rains.

Details are meager as communication is difficult.

Hakodate is a seaport city of 80,000 population, on the extreme southern end of Hokkaido island across Tsugaru strait from Hondo, the main island of the Japanese empire.

Glass Returns to Washington to Complete Memoirs.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Senator Glass, democrat, of Virginia, has returned to Washington to put the finishing touches on a book he has written in reply to Colonel E. M. House's memoirs of the Wilson administration.

The Virginia senator, who was an intimate associate of the late president and served in his cabinet as secretary of the treasury, declared that the House memoirs misrepresented Woodrow Wilson and that his book, which is supported by documentary evidence, is designed to give an accurate account of the major events of the Wilson administration.

WHAT TO DO NEXT?

Trudie, With Million Dollar Offer, Is In Doubt.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—New York's harried "finest" today had turned from guarding the now quiet bier of Rudolph Valentino to protecting Gertrude Ederle of channel swimming fame from the outbursts of her admirers.

The butcher's daughter, who was first of her sex to swim from France and England today wants to know "what else there is to do or say?"

Vaudeville, swimming and motion picture offers that aggregated nearly $1,000,000 may help her to decide what to do next, but early today she felt that she had said enough about the "wonderful time" she had in accepting an uproarous welcome that lasted through most of the night.

FRENCH WILL INVADE NORTH

Polar Area to be Explored By Eminent Party Of Scientists

By WILLIAM BIRD.
Special Dispatch to The Record News.
Copyright, 1926, By the Consolidated Press Association.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Lieutenant Georges Darcies today announced that preparations have been completed for the French Polar expedition, which will be the most elaborate scientific and exploring expedition ever attempted in the Polar regions.

The party will sail September 15 from Havre, and expects to reach Spitzbergen just before navigation closes. After spending the long Polar night assembling and testing automobile sledges by searchlight, the expedition will set forth in the February twilight for the arduous crossing of the Polar basin.

Six motor sledges constructed by Brazier, the French automobile manufacturer, on a design originally devised by the Norwegian explorer, Sverdrup, will carry the party on a three-months' journey across the ice. They also will carry two hydroairplanes of collapsible design, with which to make reconnaisannces to the right and left of the straight track from Spitzbergen to Barrow.

The party includes numerous eminent scientists. It seeks not only to determine whether any undiscovered land exists in the Polar basin, but also to solve the problems of atmospheric, magnetic and biological nature.

Lieutenant Darcies insists that the Amundsen-Elsworth-Nobile flight could not definitely establish the absence of land, except over the limited area visible from the airplane. The French expedition will take soundings constantly and follow any indications thus obtained by aerial reconnaisance, or even by deviating the motor sledges from their straight course. A powerful wireless apparatus will keep the outside world constantly informed as to the expeditions progress.

PEACE ARMY GIVEN PRAISE

Wolters Addresses Brigade Following Intensive Training

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—"You have shown the world that the citizen-soldiers of America are prepared at a moment's call to follow the regular army to the front line defense—the best insurance against war that can be had."

These words were spoken Saturday by Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters of Houston as he addressed his command, the 56th Cavalry Brigade, Texas National Guard. The 800 citizen-soldiers had just passed by their commander at Camp Stanley in review.

Less than two weeks ago the brigade, fresh from civilian life, left the gates of Camp Stanley equipped for a march to Fredericksburg to be conducted under war conditions with daily problems involving actions with an assumed enemy in connection with General Wolters' announced objection of the 1926 encampment of the Texas National Guard.

"Our mission was to protect the flank of the second division from the enemy cavalry while the division mobilized, marched to Camp Stanley. The officers' solutions of the problems and the manner in which the soldiers executed their commands demonstrated that this command would be able to meet just such an emergency as would naturally arise incident to the commencement of hostilities between our country and an enemy," the commander declared.

The general paid high tribute to the supply department and to the medical department, mentioning that not a serious case of illness developed during the march.

KRUM LEAVES FOR ISLAND

Riff War Lord To Begin Life Exile in Far Off Isle

CASA BLANCA, Morocco, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Abd-el-Krim, once war lord of the Riffians, who for years fought stoutly against the armed might of Spain and France, departed from his native land today, banished for life to Reunion island, in the Indian ocean, off the east coast of South Africa.

The former emir, accompanied by Mohammend, his brother, and a party of 24, including women and children, arrived this morning by train at Fez, where he had been held since he capitulated some time ago to the French. Few persons turned to look at the motor car bearing him to the depot in Fez. Soldiers had been posted in the expectation of great crowds, but scarcely any one paid heed to the little group of men dressed in brown accompanied by white veiled women and children as they departed on the mid-day train.

The passage of Krim through Casa Blanca was without ceremony. He alighted from the train only after all the passengers had left the station and with the other members of the party passed quickly through the building to waiting automobiles. The crowd outside, held back by the police, moved on without a sound.

Believe Ardmore Girl, Slain In Childress, A Victim of Gun Accident

CHILDRESS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Evidence that Miss Lila Clark Franklin, young woman practicing attorney of Ardmore, Okla., whose body was found in a hotel here yesterday, had attempted to save her life after she shot herself, and that the shooting was accidental was found today.

Apparently she had swisted a bed sheet and had attempted to force it into the wound near her heart to stop the flow of blood.

Her body was found after she arrived here about midnight Thursday with Norman Spann, 24, and Carl Farmer, 22, of Headland, Ala. They were on their way to California. The body was lying face downward with a small pistol.

Miss Franklin's brother, G. H. Franklin, police sergeant at Albuquerque, N. M., arrived today and expressed the belief that the shooting was accidental, caused by the discharge of a cheap foreign made automatic pistol. Facts which Mr. Franklin has gathered show that the magazine of the pistol filled with loaded cartridges was lying on the bed beside the body. In the pistol was an exploded shell pushed half way out of the chamber. The barrel of the pistol was blown out of its socket.

It is believed by Sheriff John B. Compton and Franklin that Miss Franklin was working with the pistol endeavoring to get it to function and had removed the magazine for safety, unaware that a loaded cartridge had been left in the chamber.

She had told Spann, before leaving Ardmore, that she had loaned the weapon to a friend, who returned it out of repair.

Spann received a message last night stating that his mother was dying and requesting him to return home. He had planned on remaining here for Miss Franklin's funeral this afternoon.

Mrs. Elvira Franklin of Albuquerque, mother of the dead girl, arrived with Sergeant Franklin. Miss Franklin will be buried in Albuquerque.

G. O. P. HOLDS CONVENTIONS

Republicans In Wichita County Pass New Resolutions

Three republican conventions were held in Wichita Falls, Saturday, with hardly a tremor to mark either convening, the session, or adjournment. The conventions were held for the purpose of canvassing returns for congressional candidate, Melville E. Peters, for the senatorial candidate, L. V. Hull, and for the candidate for judge of the 30th district court, Wayland H. Sanford. Chairmen for the three conventions were named, and resolutions approving the efforts of R. B. Creager, Eugen Nolte, and Orville Bullington were passed. A resolution approving Orville Bullington of this city for the next state chairman in the event that Mr. Nolte does not seek relection was also passed.

The first convention held was that of the congressional district. O. R. Hartt was re-elected chairman and a vote of 301 in the July 24 primary for Melville Peters was certified. The congressional convention was adjourned and the convention of the 23rd senatorial district held, the convention certifying L. V. Hull of Wichita Falls as senatorial nominee. Judge S. C. Walker of Archer City was re-elected chairman of the convention convened. O. R. Hartt was elected temporary chairman and Wayland H. Sanford certified as the party candidate for judge of the 30th district court.

The resolutions passed at the meeting follow:

"Resolved that we the republicans of the 13th congressional district in convention assembled, heartily endorse the administration of our president, the Hon. Calvin Coolidge and commend him to the citizenship of our state. We further desire to express our appreciation of the efforts of the Hon. R. B. Creager, national committeeman, Hon. Eugene Nolte, state chairman, Hon. Orville Bullington, vice-chairman, and the entire state organization in their stand for the upbuilding of the republican party in Texas upon a firm and lasting basis. We believe their efforts will in time establish in Texas the two-party system which this state so badly needs. We pledge our earnest efforts to cooperate with them in getting out the vote for Col. H. H. Haines for governor as well as the entire state ticket and in continuing to further the advance of republican principles in Texas." Unanimously adopted.

Skat Congress To Meet in Santone

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Present indications are that more than 1,500 members of the Texas State Skat congress will assemble in San Antonio for a one-day tournament on September 5, Henry F. Wosnig, secretary, said Saturday. It will be the fourth annual tournament of the Texas organization.

There are now about 2,700 members of the organization, according to Wosnig, and the San Antonio tournament will be the largest ever held south of St. Louis, he said.

Skat is a game that originated in Germany and is played extensively and almost exclusively by Germans or those of German extraction, described as highly technical by Wosnig. He says local organizations over Texas send their best players to the state tournament.

Trail Drivers To Raise $77,000 Fund

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The 2,000 members of the Old Trail Drivers' association will concern themselves principally with raising about $77,000 to complete their monument in San Antonio when they come together in their annual reunion October 7, according to George W. Saunders, president.

The move to build the monument here was given concrete assurance when the association met in San Antonio in 1925 and authorized a contract for its erection at a cost of $100,000. The contract was let to Gutzon Borglum, whose model has been approved by the committee. About $20,000 has been raised.

San Antonio is committed through the chamber of commerce to raise $50,000, to be matched by a like amount raised throughout the state.

Damage Suit For $20,000 Is Filed

WACO Aug. 28.—(AP)—Alleging libel, suit for damages in the sum of $20,000 has been filed here by A. Brickman, doing business as the Home bakery, against Winfield Fisher, Joe E. Fisher, Jr., and Joe E. Fisher, Jr., and Walter Fisher, engaged in a similar line of business under the name of Fisher's Hot Shop.

It is alleged by the plaintiff that he advertised a certain character of bread, of which milk was to be one of the ingredients; that defendants in an advertisement, claimed there was only one milk bread in Waco, and that they were manufacturers of the same. The plaintiff contends that this statement meant that he was guilty of violating the statutes of Texas, which prohibit false representations in advertisements. As a result he claims that he was libeled and his reputation damaged. He asks for $10 000 actual and $10 000 exemplary damages.

Less Cotton And More Feed Is Aim Of Harvest Season

STAMFORD, Texas, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Less cotton and more feed is to be the general tenor of the season harvest in West Texas. Reports from field of the West Texas chamber of commerce, indicate that while there is less cotton the maize and grain sorghum crops are good in quantity and quality yields of a ton or more to the acre the rule, while some sections are to have bumper crops of this feed.

Around Roscoe, Nolan county, farmers report they have already gathered two tons of grain sorghum to the acre. The entire southern section has gathered a good crop and on the plains prospects are good.

AUSTIN TAKES HOLLIDAY

State House Empty As Employes Cast Votes

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The state house was practically empty today with the scores of state employes going to the polls on this, a holiday, to cast their ballots in the democratic primary run-off in which Governor Miriam A. Ferguson is seeking nomination for re-election and Attorney General Dan Moody who led her in the first primary, have played such important parts in the political scheme of Texas.

TEMPERATURE RISES

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Following three days of cool weather and some rain, the temperature began to rise Saturday here when the sun came out. The minimum temperature Friday night was 64 degrees with the maximum 74 degrees.

Man Held After Two Are Murdered

HENDERSON, Texas, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Wren Huff and his son, Kelly Huff, who reside in the southern part of Rusk county, are dead, and Will Britton, a neighbor, is under arrest here charged with the double killing.

The men were killed yesterday afternoon. According to information gathered by Henderson officers, the trouble resulted from an old feud. The son was killed when he attempted to remove his father's body, officials said. Britton it was said, was passing Huff's farm in a truck when the feud flared up anew, Britton using a shot gun at close range. Huff's son then went for a truck to take his dead father home, and in passing Britton was himself shot to death.

Officers stated that Britton then snapped the gun at another son, but found it unloaded. He then entered another farmer's house to obtain a gun and when the latter attempted to recover the weapon was threatened by Britton according to reports to officers.

FAMILIES OUT OF DANGER

24 Persons Suffering From Poisoning Recover

AUSTIN Aug. 28.—(AP)—Twenty-four persons members of families living at Deep Eddy, a supurb of Austin, suffering from ptomaine poisoning were reported out of danger early Saturday, but some were very sick. Dr. C. W. Goddard, city physician declared that the people drank milk which he believes was accidently poisoned in the handling. Samples of the milk have been submitted to the state chemist in the pure food and drug division of the state health department, for analysis. A report is expected today.

25 CONVICTS FLEE PRISON

Michigan Institution Taken Over By Rioting Prisoners

IONIA, Mich., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Twenty-five convicts from the Michigan state reformatory here were at large today, many of them armed, as the result of a sensational break in which they virtually took possession of the institution.

The plot which prison officials believe had been in the process of formation for several weeks, culminated early today in a well organized attack, in which the escaped prisoners, all housed in one of the institution's dormitories, fell on the guards there, overpowering and disarming them. They made their way into a rotunda leading off from the dormitory, rushed the guards there and likewise overpowered them.

They then charged the administration office where additional guards and officials were seized. The prison authorities were then marched back into the cells formerly occupied by the prisoners and locked there.

About 400 men were confined at the reformatory, but the escaping prisoners made no attempt to release any others than those in their own dormitory. Inmates of the institution are all young men, ranging in age from 18 to 30 years and most of them are first offenders.

A general alarm was sent out and posses were formed at a half dozen cities to assist authorities in efforts to apprehend the men.

WINE SHOPS CLOSED.

New York Rabbis Protest Action of Prohi Officers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Closing of sacramental wine shops was protested today by 600 New York rabbis.

Samuel Joseph, attorney, representing the rabbis, announced that the action of Chester P. Mills, federal prohibition administrator, in closing 250 of the shops in the New York district would inflict hardship on the rabbis and the persons of the Jewish faith and would probably deprive them of wine for the sacraments to be observed in September. The shops were closed after Mills said their privileges had been abused.

RODGERS KIN DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Serena Livingston Rodgers, widow of the late Augustus F. Rodgers, died yesterday at her home here following a year's illness. Mrs. Rodgers was an aunt of the heroic navy flyer, Commander John D. Rodgers, who was killed yesterday.

She was born in New York, but had lived in San Francisco for 33 years. She was the last of the nine original heirs to the famous Mammoth Cave in Kentucky.

PRIESTS ARE LIMITED.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28.—(AP—Reports from Guadalajara are that the state government of Jalisco has issued a decree limiting the number of Catholic priests to 167 in the entire state. Only 65 priests are alowed in the city of Guadalajara, one of the strongest Catholic cities of the country. Three other populous towns in the state are allowed ten priests each.

3 ARE KILLED.

GARY, Ind., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Two girls and a young man, all of Gary, were killed today when a Michigan Central train demolished an automobile at a crossing. The dead:

Deborah Elizabeth Betts, 20.

Who Is to Be Valentino's Successor in Filmdom?

Hollywood is wondering who will come forward to take the place left vacant by the death of Rudolph Valentino, the man whose name became a household word through his sheik characterizations. There is no actor today of Valentino's type Ronald Colman, (1) Ramon Novarro, (2) John Gilbert (3) and John Barrymore (4) are all well known as great screen lovers yet their style of acting is not that associated with the late Valentino. Above, Barrymore is seen embracing Dolores Costello during one of the scenes in "The Sea Beast," and the photo of Novarro with Alice Terry is a scene from "The Arab."

Swanson to Face "Trial" At Lodge

F. G. Swanson, well-known local bachelor and attorney will come up for trial before the Odd Fellows lodge on their frolic night August 30, on a charge of matrimonial infidelity.

J. R. Ogle and J. W. Akin will be counsel for the defense, while County Judge B. D. Sartin will handle the prosecution. Several prominent business men of the city will be introduced as witnesses for the defendant. The affair will be strictly a stag party, with no ladies present, and the guest list will include all local Odd Fellows and their friends, as well as many prominent out-of-town visitors.

Past Grand Master G. W. Backus, Sr., of Vernon; Grand Secretary E. O. Vestal of Dallas; Col. W. T. Townes of Amarillo, department commander of Texas; Lieut. Col. F. S. Profit, chief of staff, state of Texas, from Stamford, and Brig. Gen. Department Arjutant W. R. McDill of Fort Worth are among the distinguished guests expected.

The committee on arrangements, composed of W. H. Bailey, J. W. Bussey, W. S. McNeilley and Roy J. Mann will stage a surprise feature immediately following the trial, which promises to surpass even the legal battle in amusement. Local Odd Fellows are urged to be present not later than 7:30 Monday evening.

BANDITS ARE SHOT BY POSSE

Two Taken to Arkansas After Fleeing From Oklahoma

FORT SMITH, Ark., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Mathew Kimes, shot in the thigh and George Kimes, also wounded by buckshot, are in the Crawford county jail today after eluding for 14 hours officers who sought them on charges of robbing the American State bank and the Covington National bank of Covington, Okla., and for fatally wounding Deputy Sheriff Perry Chuculate of Sequoyah county, Oklahoma.

The Kimes brothers have been identified as two of the three bandits who held up and robbed the Depew National bank at Depew June 30, W. H. Morgan, assistant superintendent of the identification bureau, said today.

Photographs of the youth were positively identified by R. W. Shaw, cashier of the bank, Morgan said.

Loot of $5368 was obtained by three unmasked men who raided the Depew bank and locked Shaw and two customers into the vault. Roy Brandon was arrested as a suspect soon after the robbery.

Mathew Kimes escaped in June from the Bristow city jail where he was held in connection with the theft of a motor car, according to police reords here.

JIDU HITS CHICAGO

Hindu and His Guardian Arrive In Flowery Triumph.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Across a carpet of floers spread through the concourse of the LaSalle Street station by a throng of followers, Jiddu Krishnmurti, hailed by theosophists as founder of a new world religious era, made a triumphal entry into Chicago today.

Dismounting from a train from New York at the side of his aged guardian, Mrs. Annie Besant, president of the World Theosophical society, the 30-year-old Hindu walked impassively through a lane which police opened ahead of him, all but bending under the weight of garlands heaped about his neck and flowers tossed by the crowd ontb the heads of himself and Mrs. Besant.

NEW KNIGHT CAR COMING

European Designs To Be Incorporated In U. S. Machine

In line with the statement given out by the Knight American Patents company last week regarding the coming production of a Knight motored car of European tendencies by one of the present licenses under these patents, a leading executive in the industry stated Thursday that this car will make its appearance within the next three weeks.

Engineers for the American builder have been in Europe for some time, according to the statement and have been adapting the European principles of construction, which have resulted in notable flexibility, high operating economy, and unusual power development, to driving requirements in this country.

Prices of Highest

The European cars, of which this new product wil be a duplicate in many ways, are sold at prices well over those of our highest priced cars. This new product, it is stated, will offer the same degree of excellence and refinements which mark the most luxurious of the foreign productions. It will be essentially a car for the most exacting buyers with many features which will be new even to the finest construction units now offered.

Recent development in Knight sleeve-valve construction have resulted in greater power developments in proportion to the dimensions of the engine, than have been obtained from any other type of construction and the power plant in this new car will incorporate this high efficiency.

Acording to information available at the present time, it will be one of the fastest stock cars ever produced and at the same time will have the flexibility which has steadily been a feature of the Knight sleeve-valve motor.

No Speculations

While no definite specifications of the new car to be produced here are available at the present time, it is expected that these features will be found in its general construction. It is also definitely stated tht it will be equipped with a worm drive.

Recent developments in other price fields, among motor car manufacturers in this country who have adapted European design to American manufacturing methods and driving requirements, have produced striking results.

This anticipated development in the higher priced field will be the first time that builders in this price field have definitely followed the foreign builders. It is expected that its prestige plans to invade the luxury car class in Europe while at the same time bringing European developments to buyers here.

Automobile Safety in One Finger

Ira Vail, national dirt-track champion, demonstrating the new safety vacuum gear shift to Harry Hartz, winner of the 120 mile race at Speedway, N. J., and to racing drivers and officials. Left to right: E. L. Thompson, Chairman Contest Committee, A.A.A., Fred Wagner, starter at the big races, Ira Vail and Harry Hartz.

AFTER four years of rigid test an important safety device for automobiles has been perfected in the vacuum gear shift which makes the shifting of gears as simple as retarding the spark. By the use of a partial vacuum obtained from the engine all faults of electrical, mechanical and magnetic gear shifts are avoided.

For beginners and those nervous when driving in traffic the vacuum gear shift removes their great handicap since no complicated coordination of leg and arm movements is necessary. The full braking power of the engine may be used descending steep dangerous grades. Left hand turns and stopping and starting in dense traffic becomes a simple question of moving one finger.

The gears can be shifted by this finger without taking either hand from the wheel. It is only necessary to move the speed selector just under the rim of the wheel and then throw out the clutch as usual. A special latch makes it impossible to go into reverse and gears cannot be stripped.

A final test of the new device was recently made. Three cars equipped with the shift started from Larchmont, N. Y., and made the trip to Boston with the driver of the test car manacled to the wheel. His right hand was made fast by a handcuff which was not removed until the car reached the automobile speedway near Atlantic City. This trip was continued from Boston through Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey to Philadelphia and then to Atlantic City.

During the return trip the test car was driven by Ira Vail, champion dirt-track driver, who was manacled as the first driver had been. At Larchmont, N. Y., the handcuff was unlocked by the Chief of Police in the presence of other town officials and of George L. Sexton representing the inventor. Driven by day and by night and through two very severe storms the entire journey was without any mishap and a new safety record was made.

BIG HUP CALL FROM PUBLIC

$50,000,000 Worth Of Cars Purchased in Nineteen Months

Purchase by the public of $50,000,000 worth of Hupmobile eights in the first 19 months following that car's appearance on the market constitutes a record for cars in the fine car field, C. D. Hastings, president and general manager of the Hupp Motor Car Corporation, pointed out yesterday. The car that brought the total to $50,000,000 was purchased August 10.

"The public has never before given such rapid and overwhelming approval to a newly developed engineering principle as it has bestowed on the straight eight," he said. "And never before has any manufacturer of cars of the highest quality enjoyed such thorough acceptance of his product as Hupmobile has in the eight cylinder field.

"The success of other manufacturers of eight cylinder cars makes it appear strongly that the trend of the public is definitely toward eights, when it purchases an automobile of highest quality.

"The Hupmobile eight became the most successful car of its type ever produced almost from hte day it made its appearance. In 1925 more Hupmobile eights were bought than all other cars of its type together. This year the public is doubling its purchases of straight eight cars."

Harmonica Balancer Another Step Ahead By Oakland Motors

The Oakland Motor Car company, which has pioneered many important developments in the automobile industry, has taken another forward step through the refinement and improvement of the harmonic balancer which Oakland first adopted in its original form more than a year ago.

The Harmonic balancer is a device attached to the crank shaft which counteracts and absorbs all tendency toward torsional vibration. Its principle is best compared to a depestrian's action in automatically and unconsciously swinging his arm in a direction opposite to that in which his leg is swinging. A small bar, pivoted at right angles to the crank shaft and with its ends held by tension springs, sets up a counteracting force in the crankshaft opposite and equal to the forces created by torsional vibration. The crank shaft, like the body of the pedestrian, thus is freed from vibration or sway.

Oakland first adopted the harmonic balancer in July, 1925. This original type of balancer since has been adopted by several other motor car manufacturers.

In the new type recently pioneered by Oakland, two important changes have been made. First, the flat leaf springs which supported the ends of the original harmonic balancer have been replaced by coil springs which balance the arm more effectively. Second, the action of these new springs has permitted the use of a lighter and much more sensitive balancer arm.

The lighter harmonic balancer now user on the greater Oakland six has been found to excel greatly the performance of the old balancer because its light weight renders it more quickly responsive to any suggestion of torsional vibration. In other words, the slightest tendency of the shaft to whip or vibrate instantly sets the new harmonic balancer into action and the shaft remains quietly rigid.

Like the original harmonic balancer first adopted by Oakland, the present improved type requires no attention or adjustment.

Chevrolet Buys Peerless Sedan

The Peerless popular priced Six-80 model received the stamp of approval of one of the most widely recognized automotive experts in the world recently when Louis Chevrolet purchased a sedan of this type from the Chillson-Bohannon Sales company, Peerless distributor at Indianapolis. Mr. Chevrolet is famed for his success on the race tracks and as the builder of a number of famous racing cars.

Star 400,000 Is Built June 28th

Star car number 400,000, a sport six roadster, was built and shipped at the Elizabeth plant of Durant Motors, Inc., on Monday, June 28.

Each month of 1926 has shown an increase in sales of Star cars over the corresponding month of 1925.

The increase for the five months ending May 31, 1926, compared with same period of 1925, was 32 per cent.

This big increase is attributed largely to the superior quality of the product now being marketed and to the recent numerous additions to the dealer organization.

Unseen Sources of Long Life

The basic sources of automobile value are not always apparent to the eye.

A motor car, like a house, may LOOK a great deal more substantial than it really is.

Because of this difficulty, more and more thousands are turning to Dodge Brothers product for insurance against disappointment.

The years have proved, and each year proves anew, that Dodge Brothers are as deeply concerned with the UNSEEN goodness of their motor car, as with the seen.

The mileage it will deliver, the safety it will provide, the expense and trouble it will save the owner over a period of years, are quite as important to Dodge Brothers as the more obvious details of equipment and style.

FISHER DESIGN SETS THE PACE

The pace set by Fisher—and exemplified in the beautiful new General Motors cars now commanding public attention—is the guide for the entire motor industry.

Fisher's vast experience, Fisher inventiveness and Fisher's unapproached facilities devise and perfect the beauties, comforts and conveniences which attract you to the leading new cars in all price classes—Cadillac, Buick, Chevrolet, Oakland, Oldsmobile and Pontiac.

For instance, Fisher achieves a new degree of safety—and nothing less than a Body by Fisher can approach it even after seasons of striving.

Fisher leads the way in luxurious fitments and decorations—and all the industry follows.

Fisher creates new standards of beauty in line and finish—and those standards are the measure of value for all of the world's cars.

It is easy to see, therefore, why the foremost of the new cars in all price classes carry the emblem—Body by Fisher.

HUP TO SELL BIG IN FALL

Big Latter Part of 1926 Sale Looked For For Auto

"We are looking forward to the largest autumn sales we have ever made," O. C. Hutchinson, general sales manager of the Hupp Motor Car corporation, said yesterday, following reports received by him of business conditions in all parts of the United States and Canada.

"The entire North American continent is in a generally prosperous condition—probably more prosperous considering every branch of activity, than ever before. There are practically no evidences of inflation of over-spending. Conditions in the farm market are at least as good, probably better, than a year ago. Road construction is proceeding in good shape, affording better transportation to several hitherto rather isolated farming and grazing sections of the country than they have yet enjoyed."

Mr. Hutchinson reports that retail sales of Hupmobiles in the United States and Canada for the nine months ending July 31 were approximately 53 per cent greater than those for the corresponding period a year earlier. Factory shipment for the same period were 39,607 cars, compared with 27,134—an increase of 46 per cent. Shipments for the first seven months of 1926 were in excess of those for the entire year of 1924, and were within 6000 cars of those for all of 1926.

The company reports that its shipments of cars during August and September will more than double those of the corersponding months in 1925, and may, according to present indications, reach an even higher mark.

U. S. Fortified By Cars Against A Strike Tie-Up

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—If the United States should at any time be faced with an emergency similar to that with which the British government was confronted during the recent general strike, the organized car owners of this country would unquestionably play a very important role, according to a statement issued from the national headquarters of the American Automobile association today.

The A. A. A. statement was based on reports received here regarding the part played by British motorists in relieving the transportation crisis during the general strike.

"The fact that complete paralysis of transportation was forestalled was largely due to the timely aid of the British car owners organized under the Automobile Association of Great Britain," Thos. P. Henry, president of the A. A. A., declared.

Mr. Henry stressed the fact that the services of organized motorists in Great Britain at this crucial moment was the most striking demonstration ever afforded of the claim that motor clubs are today public utilities as well as vital service institutions.

President Henry quoted the following tribute from one of the leading London newspapers relative to the part taken by the organized motorists of the United Kingdom:

Because of their larger membership and greater resources, the 835 clubs constituting the American Automobile association could be depended on to play every bit as important a role as that played by the British club in the event of an emergency in transportation.

"Of course," said Mr. Henry, "it is to be understood that the clubs and the members thereof would play their part without taking sides in an economic or industrial controversy. But such controversies invariably afford opportunities for public spirited citizens to maintain order and confidence in the ability of the masses of the population to protect themselves from some of the worst consequences of economic struggle. It is to be sincerely hoped that the A. A. A. and its clubs will never be called to act a part similar to that played by the Automobile Association of Great Britain. On the other hand, there can be no question that in these clubs the United States possesses a very fine asset of citizen preparedness."

Studebaker Has New Designed Car

The beauty of the custom design sedans announced by the Studebaker corporation of America as additions to its line is strikingly exemplified in the Big Six Custom Brougham. Flowing lines and the graceful contour of body, swung low on the chassis, impart a suggestion of fleetness matching the spirit of Atlanta, whose silvered figure adorns the radiator.

The entire atmosphere is one of smartness and the body coloring of Knick Green and Tuchi Gray with black moulding and delicate Apple Green striping contributes appreciably to that motif.

The interior provides all the custom luxuries which the first glance at the car suggests. Seats are wide and deep with from fitting upholstery of fine Chase mohair with broadlace trim. Appointments include Butler finish hardware, dome light, toggle grips, and silken draw curtains at the wide rear windows.

Other new features make for driving ease and convenience. Instruments—speedometer, ammeter, gasoline gauge, oil pressure guage and engine heat indicator are conveniently and artistically grouped under glass and illuminated by indirect light. The no-draft ventilating windshield which may be tilted outward by a turn of a handle is an exclusive Studebaker invention and provides abundant ventilation without draft. The two-beam headlights are controlled by a switch on the steering wheel. Spark is automatically controlled. Full vision is provided by the one-piece windshield and narrow roof pillars. A coincidental lock to ignition and steering gear is controlled by the same key which operates the locks of the doors and the spare tire carrier.

Front bumper, rear bumperettes, balloon tires, disc wheels, snubbers and four-wheel brakes, which are standard equipment, insure safety and complete freedom from road shocks.

Pete Likes a Buick

Peter Depaolo, adorned with the $3,500 medal which he won as 1925 automobile speedway champion, came to Flint recently to take delivery of a Buick car.

Depaolo's new Buick, a 1927 brougham, is his fourth car of this make in the last two years. In fact, he has never owned any other make.

In explaining his preference for Buicks, Depaolo said that the valve-in-head engine, for ordinary driving as well as on the race track, proved superior to any other type. "My Buicks, with their valve-in-head engines and mechanical four wheel brakes, have given me wonderful performance and the best of service," Depaolo stated. "That is the reason why I have never bought any other make of car. Although my previous Buicks have been wonders on the road and have given great satisfaction, I believe the 1927 Buick is truly what the makers say it is, the greatest Buick ever built. It is certainly the greatest car I have ever driven. Acceleration from a creep to 75 miles an hour is literally without vibration. The 1927 Buick sets a new standard of performance for cars of any make, no matter what their price. I was amazed at the marvelous performance of this car, and at the luxury of its fittings and trim."

What Is Your Own Auto Liability? Here Is a Full Resume

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The invisible burden of responsibility shouldered by the person who takes the steering wheel or who even owns an automobile is outlined in a bulletin issued by the insurance department of the chamber of commerce of the United States on the liability of the motorist.

Many and various ways by which the driver or owner courts trouble are indicated. The driver who knocks down a street sweeper is worse off than the one who hits an ordinary pedestrian. The owner of the family car must answer, as a rule, for what the family does with it on family errands. To loan a car to an incompetent driver is to pay the reckoning for what the incompetent driver does.

These and other conclusions are based on a series of court decisions, involving general principles of liability, reviewed by the insurance department. It explains the theory of liability and contributory negligence, which may differ to some extent according to the laws of the different states, and indicates the liability of the motorist in the following typical cases:

Injuries to Pedestrians.

"Generally speaking, pedestrians and automobile drivers have equal rights in the use of the public highways. Each must use the highways with regard to the rights of the other, and exercise reasonable care to avoid accidents. The motorist is bound to exercise special care in dull or rainy weather. He has no right to compel a pedestrian to yield the right of way.

Injuries to Children.

"Particular care is required of an automobile driver for safety of children. The caution required of the driver varies with the capacity of the person in danger to care for himself. In some jurisdictions it is held that a child under seven years of age is incapable of contributory negligence. It is to be remembered that a child exercises reasonable care when he behaves as a child of his age, experience and of normal intelligence ordinarily would.

Employed in the Streets.

"A person whose duties require him to work in the street has different rights with respect to traffic than pedestrians. Drivers of automobiles are bound to take notice of laborers in the streets and to exercise special care not to injure them. A worker in the street is not negligent if so occupied with his work that he does not watch for approaching vehicles.

Railroad Trains.

"When approaching a railroad crossing it is important for the motorist to ascertain whether a train is coming. It has been held to be negligence per se to try to beat a train over a crossing. The tendency of the law is to exact greater care of those crossing railroad tracks, since the consequences of a collision between a train and an automobile are apt to be serious because of the great danger not only to the occupants of the automobile, but also to the passengers on the train.

Frightening Horses.

"It is the duty of an automobile driver when he observes the frightened attitude of an approaching horse to check his speed and otherwise take reasonable precautions to prevent the horse from getting beyond control of the driver.

Boarding or Leaving Cars.

"A motorist approaching a street car which has stopped at a usual place to take on or discharge passengers is required to be especially careful for the safety of persons boarding or leaving the car. Under such conditions, the law imposes a higher degree of care upon the motorist than upon the pedestrian.

Defective Condition.

"When an automobile is not kept in reasonably good mechanical condition and an accident occurs, due, for example, to defective brakes, the motorist is liable for any damages, unless the injured was contributorily negligent.

Owned by Municipalities.

"When an automobile owned by a municipal corporation is being operated in the exercise of a public function the municipality is ordinarily not liable for its negligent operation. When such an automobile is being used in the performance of a private corporation function, the city may be held liable for the negligence of the driver. Thus a city has been held not liable for negligence in the operation of an ambulance used in connection with a public hospital, or in the operation of automobiles in its fire and police system; whereas a city has been held liable for negligence in the operation of a car in the maintenance of a municipal lighting system.

Cars Driven by Chauffeurs.

"An automobile owner is responsible for the conduct of his chauffeur while performing the business of the owner. Between the owner of the automobile and his chauffeur, while the latter is engaged in the owner's business, the relation of master and servant exists and the rules of law applicable to that relation apply.

The Guest Hazard.

"As a rule an automobile owner is liable for negligence resulting in injuries to a guest while an occupant of his car. There are exceptions to this general rule. An automobile owner or driver may be relieved of liability on account of an injury to a guest, when the guest is guilty of contributory negligence. If a driver is operating a car in a reckless or dangerous manner and the guest having time and opportunity for protest makes none, he has no recovery against the driver. This failure to act is construed as contributory negligence. Ordinarily a passenger in an automobile has no control over its operation and is not liable for the driver's negligence, but a passenger who participates in the active management of the car may be liable for the negligent conduct of the driver.

The Family Car.

"An automobile owner is not ordinarily liable for the negligent operation of his car by a member of his family merely because of the family relationship. The liability arises when the car is being driven for the owner's purposes or those of his family, and is usually based upon an extension of the doctrine of agency. Thus it has been held that a father was not liable for the negligent driving of his son, when the son was on his own personal rather than family business. On the other hand, an owner of an automobile was held liable in case where his daughter injured a pedestrian while driving her father's automobile to get pair of her shoes.

Defective Highways.

"The owner or driver of an automobile, in the absence of plain indications to the contrary, has the right to assume the safety of the highway for driving purposes.

Liability for accidents caused by defects depends largely upon the motorist's knowledge, or opportunity of knowledge, of the existence of such defects.

Liability When Car Is Loaned.

"In the absence of a specific statute, when an automobile owner loans his car to another person, and the borrower uses the car for his own purposes, the owner is not liable. It has been held that an owner is liable when he knowingly lends his car to an incompetent person, and that person injures some one by negligent driving The owner here is negligent in lending his car to this type of person."

NEW BODIES ON CHEVROLET

Destructive Type Ready For Quality Cars Public Wants

Development of distinct types of commercial car bodies, designed and manufactured in their entirety by the Chevrolet organization now affords the public a complete line of Chevrolet-built passenger and commedcial vehicles for the first time in the company's history.

Complete trucks are available for immediate delivery to the purchaser. They are the ton panel delivery—one-ton stake and the one-ton grain carrying body.

The chassis can be furnished also with cab only suitable for mounting any special truck body desired by the owner.

Substantially the same cab is used on all bodies. The cab is entirely enclosed and weather-proof and affords the same comfort in the driver's compartment as a Chevrolet passenger car. The doors are 24 inches wide, with high-grade locks. Plate glass side windows are furnished with Ternstedt regulators as in the standard closed car. A full ventilating windshield, glass rear windows, cab lining and cushion covering of fabrikoid leather, combination stop and tail light and conveniently-placed instrument panel are features. Seats are arranged for easy handling of controls and steering wheel. The cab is Biscay green, duco striped in gold and cowl lights are standard equipment.

Each of these body types has been designed for the utmost utility, convenience and adaptability to the work for which it is designed.

With these modern advantages at an attractive price, these new trucks are expected to attain a prominent place in the favor of the commercial car buying public.

First Bale Comes In For Baylor Co.

SEYMOUR, Aug. 28.—The first bale of cotton to be ginned in Baylor county in 1926 was handled at the local gin Friday when the fleece was brought in by W. L. Crawford. It was picked near Vera and weighed approximately 500 pounds.

Mr. Crawford, who was credited with last year's first bale, also, was paid a $50 premium by local business men.

GRAHAM HAS 2-TON TRUCK

Two New Types Offered By Dodge Brothers Company

The latest aditions to the line of commercial cars and trucks being sold by Dodge Brothers dealers are two new types of two ton capacity. Like their smaller predecessors the new chassis will be supplied with a variety of bodies suited to practically every requirement. Two lengths only are made: the shorter, for 9-foot bodies, has a wheel base of 137 inches and the longer, which is for 12-foot bodies, has a wheel base of 162 inches. Both chassis are equipped only with pneumatic tires, with either single or dual rears optional. Where single tires are used 32x6 inch size are fitted in front and 34x7 inch at the rear. For dual rear tire equipment disc wheels are standard with 34x5 inch tires both front and rear.

The pressed steel frame side rails for the shorter chassis are 7 inches deep and for the larger 7 1-8 inches. Due to the lower bending moments in the short frame its thickness is 3-16 inch while that of the longer frame is 1-4 inch. Front springs on both chassis are 37 inches long, 2 inches wide and have 11 leaves. The semi-floating rear are 56 inches long, 3 inches wide and have 11 leaves. The semi-floating rear axles employ a spiral bevel gear final drive with a reduction of 6.286 to 1. Both service and hand brakes are of an internal self aligning type operating in heavy pressed steel drums at the rear hubs. The brakes are so connected that the pedal operates all four bands while the brake lever actuates only two. This feature it is declared, insures long life and even wear of the brake facings.

"This new and larger truck embodying the same well tried constructional features found in Graham Brothers one-ton and ton-and-a-half trucks," declared the local Dodge Brothers dealer, "fills a long felt need for an equally sturdy unit capable of handling heavier loads.

"The lower unit consists of the well known Dodge Brothers four cylinder engine which has given such satisfactory service in Graham Brothers trucks and motor coaches with a heavy duty truck type transmission. The heavier frame, springs and other chassis parts insure service with two-ton loads just as satisfactory as that supplied by the smaller trucks hauling the loads for which they were designed.

"Dodge Brothers 3-4-ton commercial cars and Graham Brothers three capacities of trucks with bodies specially designed to fill the requirements of over 400 diffrent vocations now meet over 90 per cent of all commercial haulage requirements."

Now-the Modern Principles of European Design

are embodied in this New-Type Car

NEW ENGINEERING

—has brought about startling improvements in automobile design.

Vital changes are here.

Great developments pioneered by Willys-Overland, have revolutionized present-day American performance standards.

DRAMATIC changes have taken place in automobile standards of design. New engineering practices from Europe made the Overland Six instantly popular in America.

It is new all through . . . brilliantly engineered as a unit . . . not an old-fashioned reconstructed chassis.

To all outward appearances this car looks very much like conventional automobiles as you know them. Except that it is a great deal lower to the ground. And smartly European in appearance.

But hidden beneath the body are scores of vital engineering improvements that have practically revolutionized its performance standards . . . improved its riding qualities . . . cut operating costs to a minimum . . . and added immeasurably to its length of service.

The Overland Six is built to meet modern traffic conditions.

You can drive the Overland Six at an average speed of 40 to 55 miles an hour without excessive strain on the engine.

Its "high-torque" power plant has ample power to master the steepest hills in high. Gear shifting has been reduced to a minimum.

It has a low gravity center. An outstanding engineering feature due to these modern principles of design. This means greater safety at all speeds. It means protection against sidesway and serious skidding.

And it means comfort such as you've never known before.

How we reduced upkeep expense

Because of these new principles of design the operating cost of an Overland Six has been reduced to the very minimum.

Gasoline expense is exceedingly low. So is oil consumption.

And due to its greater operating efficiency, repair costs have been brought to a new low level.

Thousands of owners report remarkable mileage records, with amazing trouble-free performance.

Top place in resale value. You've probably heard of the National Used Car Blue Book. It's published for the guidance of automobile merchants to help them appraise used cars wisely.

A recent issue of this book gives 1st, 2nd, 4th and 5th places in used car values among the 1925 models of 17 different automobile companies, to Overland!

So you see that modern engineering counts in used car prices. It will mean a lot to you when it's time to trade-in your car.

Don't buy blindfolded. See the Overland Six and find out how modern engineering science has contributed to the safety, security and comfort of motoring.

NOTE: 4-wheel brakes are furnished at slight extra cost.

Other Overland Six models: Touring, $895; Coupe, $895; DeLuxe Sedan $1095.

NASH DISPLAYS NEW "6" LINE

Is Heralded as Smoothest Motor in Existence

Heralded as introducing the world's smoothest type of motor, Nash today places on display nationally the newly developed Special Six line comprising five models in open and closed body styles and powered by the new seven bearing crankshaft motor termed by engineers the "ultra-modern type of six cylinder motor."

The debut of the new Special Six series has been awaited with extreme interest in view of earlier reports that Nash would disclose a significant achievement in motor engineering as well as a long list of important, new betterments with no change in prices despite the greatly increased quality and value incorporated in these new models.

The first distinguished attribute of this new motor is the superlative power smoothness achieved by the use of the big seven bearing crankshaft, in addition to great power and exceptional accelerative ability.

The exterior attractiveness of these new Nash models is artistically heightened by the use of a new duo-tone finish of contrasting colors. Both the open and the closed models are toned in superbly beautiful polychrome combinations and all models have the gracefully sculptured new winged emblem surmounting the radiator cap.

It is immediately evident that Nash has expended emphatic effort to warrant achieving new standards of engineering refinements throughout both the motor and the chassis. In these new Special Six cars—as has been standard Nash practice for some time—the motor is heavily insulated from the frame through the use of rubber insulation at the motor supports. This practice intensifies the operative quietness and the almost absolute vibrationless character of Nash performance.

Individuality In Coach Work Latest Public Demand

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—Growing interest in and demand for individualized coach work in quality cars is reflected in reports from Cadillac distributors and dealers in every part of the country, according to H. M. Stephens, general sales manager of the Cadillac Motor Car company.

"Cars which combine the greatest amount of artistry with the most distinctive color scheme and the greatest amount of individuality in design are creating the greatest amount of interest," Mr. Stephens states, "and we are convinced that, in our program of 50 body types and styles and 500 color and upholstery combinations, we have anticipated by at least 12 months a tendency which is growing in strength among motor car owners.

"Preliminary reports of the automobile salons to be held in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles during the coming season indicate that these exhibitions, which are the industry's most selective shows, will be conducted on more extensive lines than ever before. The demand for exhibition space exceeds the capacity of the various ballrooms and among the applicants for space are a prominent Parisian carroserie and a foreign car which has not been exhibited in this country for several years.

"Particular attention has been attracted to the Cadillac program because it has fostered the present tendency by creating the most extensive lines of individualized coach work ever produced by one manufacturer. Reports from our distributors and dealers disclose an intensified interest and quickened demand for the new cars. They state that the advance in the aesthetic development of the car is considered equally important with many of the company's greatest engineering achievements, and that the personalized motor car makes a particular appeal to women.

Statisticians Now Figuring Out How Whippet Saves

Now the statistician has turned to the Overland Whippet and with his sharp pencil has started to figure out the economic advantages of this type of car. With approximately 600 of these European type sedans and coupes being delivered to owners every day, and with the normal desire of the new owner to keep a record of what he is getting from his gas tank in the way of miles, figures are available from all parts of the country.

They run as high as 39 miles to the gallon over long distances. They average around th 30-mile mark and the statistician says that this is a 50 per cent increase over the average mileage for other light cars.

Based on 10,000,000 light cars now running, with an average of 9,000 to 10,000 miles a year as the total distance covered, this means a potential saving, when everyone is driving a Whippet, of $600,000,000 in gas bills alone.

Evenly distributed this would open up a market for 800,000 more Whippet cars out of gas saving alone. Spread over the individual Whippet cars, it would buy a new set of tires all around for the next year's driving. It would take the entire family on a camping vacation lasting a week. It would buy dad a new tweed suit for driving and let mother have the companion suit for herself. It would pay the car tax and help materially on full coverage insurance.

POLICE SEEK CO-OPERATION

Fewer Traffic Accidents Greatest Need of Cities Now

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 28.—Police officials in every city in America are begging for co-operation in an effort to cut down the weekly total of avoidable accident," states B. F. Everitt, president and general manager of the Rickenbacker Motor company, Detroit, Mich.

"Look well to your brakes," continues this executive, "for if they are not up to modern standards you cannot expect to have perfect control no matter what the conditions.

"The big majority of motor car makers are supplying good brakes in one form or another. Often the matter of which type of brake is a divided question, but the important thing is to make sure that you have four-wheel brakes, so that you as a driver as well as your friends, the pedestrians, have every safety factor in this regard supplied.

"The modern four-wheel brake enables you to fit into the rapid scheme of things by giving you better control and thus enables you to avoid accidents. Police departents all over the country are stressing this point. Police officials tell us that a big majority of accidents could be entirely eliminated if more cars had the right type of four-wheel brakes. They also stress inspection at regular intervals to make sure that brakes are properly equalized.

"Today even the most conservative driver finds himself in a continuous mad rush. In spite of the super highways, bigger boulevards, wider streets and automatic traffic signals, it is almost impossible to keep down the jams and crowded conditions of traffic. Motoring in the city nowadays almost consists of an uninterrupted series of starts and stops—and stopping is the most important of all.

Urges New Board Of Safety Control

A "Board of Safety Control" to urge the manufacture of safer motor cars was advocated by Fred W. Johnson, director of the Citizens' Safety council of Philadelphia, at the recent National Conference on Street and Highway Safety in Washington.

Mr. Johnson, who is known among safety authorities as "the father of safety-first," is the first expert who has made a definite suggestion that manufacturers owe a responsibility to their motoring public.

"Cars," he said, "must be made as nearly fool-proof as possible."

He particularly stressed the importance of constructing motor cars with the view of making them proof against impact. In this regard he said:

"The all steel body is one of the most important considerations in making automobiles safer. We must take a leaf from the experience of the railroads and adopt entirely steel construction for automobiles, just as this type of construction has been adopted for railway coaches."

Dodge Brothers, Inc., have been making cars along the lines suggested by Mr. Johnson for many years. Dodge Brothers was the first car to have an all-steel body, 12 years ago.

Dodge Brothers realized in the early days that an all-steel body is the finest insurance against personal injury that a motorist could have.

Most motorists realize this, although some do not realize that all bodies with an outer covering of metal are not necessarily all steel bodies. Most other bodies are built around a framework of wood which is covered with a sheath of metal. But the Dodge Brothers body is steel through and through.

The frame and the outer parts are electrically welded together into a unit. There are no wooden parts to splinter in case of an accident, nothing to warp in wet weather, and no joints to squeak.

Pierce Arrows Not Found in Used Car Lots These Days

That owners of Pierce-Arrow series eighty motor cars are appreciating the satisfaction built into these automobiles following the receipt from the factory of information regarding the small number of these cars that have been offered for resale.

This statement says that a check as made in many large cities to learn what per cent of these cars are still in the hands of the original owners since they were introduced a little more than two years ago. In many cities, the report says, 100 per cent are still with original owners, in some others 98 per cent and still others 96 per cent.

A canvass of many used car salesrooms handling cars in the Pierce-Arrow Series 80 price class, revealed a notable scarcity of these machines and when there were any offered there was but a scant reduction in price. The same proved true by watching the used cars sales columns in the newspapers in various parts of the country. Mr. Bush says the company holds this to be one of the finest tributes ever paid a motor car.

Safety Features Play Big Part In New Oldsmobiles

Appreciation of the numerous safety features incorporated in the latest Oldsmobile—and particularly the anti-glare headlights—it being voiced by motorists throughout the country, according to reports being received from Oldsmobile dealers by officials of the Olds Motor works.

Every section of the country is represented in the favorable reports on the anti-glare efficiency of the new double filament headlights, factory officials report. This feature is uppermost in most automobilist's minds at this season of the year when the warm weather induces much night driving with its consequent perils from glaring head lamps. The reports indicate that the driving public is keenly appreciative of the improved mechanical safety devices on the better automobiles, holding them fully as important in accident preventiton as are safe driving campaigns.

Headlamps with double filament bulbs are used in the new Oldsmobile to eliminate glare. With the light control switched on at the "bright" position, a strong beam of light is thrown from the lower filament straight ahead, illuminating the road far in advance. When switched to the "dim" position, the upper filament is used, and an equally strong beam of light is thrown on a downward angle on the road. This removes any possibility of glare in the eyes of approaching drivers yet gives perfect illumination of the road and side ditches. These lamps also conform to all state law requirements.

KNIGHT SETS TEXAS RECORD

Willys Hangs Up A Remarkable Speed In Long Run

Proof that the Willys-Overland company has met the change in trend of automobile design from the slow, more cumbersome type car to the more compact, low swung and responsive automobile is revealed in a record speed run recently made in Texas.

Until a few years ago speed was a minor factor in the mind of the average automobile buyer. Today the automotive world demands a car alert in acceleration and outstanding in its speed ability and endurance.

Willys-Overland sensed that trend several years ago when it started to entirely revise its line and introduce to the field its first six-cylinder Willys-Knight, the Great Six.

Closely following this model the company placed on the market the Overland Six, which since its inception has caused a stir in the lighter car field.

Both these models were designed by Willys-Overland engineers to incorporate speed, durability and road stability. They have been a sweeping success. Then, still another six-cylinder car was added to the line when in 1925 that manufacturer introduced the Willys-Knight Six "Seventy." Like its two companion cars the Seventy has established a new mark in speed merits.

The speed test in Texas is one of the most outstanding feats yet brought to light in present day motoring. A Willys-Knight Six "Seventy," a stock car, operated by Al Faquier, veteran driver, established a new record between Houston and Dallas. It completed the run of 315 miles in six hours and three minutes—the fastest run ever made in the Lone Star state.

Accompanied by a representative of a large Texas newspaper, Faquier maintained an average speed between the cities of 52 miles per hour. A remarkable record.

That run is considered by leading automobile authorities as unmistakable evidence of the speed and endurance virtues incorporated in Willys-Overland products. It displayed, under the most trying tests, the roadstability of the Seventy and its unusual flexibility. For miles the car was driven at 70 miles per hour which is evidence of the performance qualities of this type car.

Roaming The Air

By S. D. FOX.

Two-way direct contact between the polar regions and the United States have been effected for the first time with sets using ordinary dry cell "B" batteries for the transmitting of power. Communication between the "Morrissey" of the American Museum Greenland expedition and J. R. Hammond, a radio amateur at Hammond, Ind., was established a few days ago, the air line distance covered being more than 2,500 miles. The low power-set aboard the "Morrissey" uses 500 volts of "B" battery supplying a UX-210 tube.

Contesting beauties from 73 cities and several guest beauties from foreign countries will be introduced to radio listeners by WPG during the evening of September 8. The broadcast will be from the million dollar pier ballroom where the American beauty ball will be in progress. The ball is one of the preliminary events of the great beauty pageant held each year at Atlantic City. Other events of the pageant will follow on succeeding days.

"Chicago jazz" is on its way to the orient. The S-W International Radio orchestra, a popular favorite with WBBM listeners, will leave Chicago Monday for Seattle, where the members will board the S. S. President Jackson. They plan to be in Kokahama September 19, Kobe, September 21; Shanghai, September 24; Hong Kong, September 28, and Manila, October 4. The band will broadcast in every city on the route and the director will acquaint himself with musical organizations of the Orient. Returning to Chicago about the last of October the band will become the studio orchestra of WBBM.

Graham McNamee, one of WEAF's popular announcers who endeared himself to radio fans probably more through his broadcasts of last year's world series baseball games than any other one feature of his career, has turned author. He has written a book entitled "You're On the Air," which will be released in a few days. It contains the history of many of the nation's foremost broadcasting events and undoubtedly will be of absorbing interest to all radio listeners, for most of them are his friends. In a preface to "You're On the Air," written by Heywood Broun, the newspaper columnist, says of the world series games: "McNamee generated in himself the same excitement which the game churned up in the crowd." To this was the success of the broadcasts due.

A falling temperature causes a stronger signal and a rising temperature causes a drop in signal strength, according to experiments carried out by the bureau of standards, department of commerce. The experiments are part of the program of the International Union of Scientific Radio Telegraphy, which was adopted at Brussels in 1922.

Although not yet ratified, a treaty has been signed between Cuba and Mexico providing for the connection of telegraph systems in the two countries by wireless, thus making possible more direct communication. While all official messages will be carried free, the revenue from private messages will be divided on a 50-50 basis each quarter.

While the United States possesses only 6 per cent of the land in the world and its people make up only 7 per cent of the total population of the world, this country operates 65 per cent of the broadcasting stations and its citizens have 80 per cent of the radio receiving sets. The relative total is exceeded only by motion pictures, of which the United States produces more than 85 per cent of the world's total.

One of the feature attractions of the sesquicentennial exposition in Philadelphia as far as the radio fan is concerned is the navy exhibit at building 29. Here is to be found many devices of historic interest to radio, including collections of tubes, transmitters, old-style receiving sets and on the other side the latest types apparatus now in use.

Mooseheart never needs to worry about having talent for the radio programs presented over station WJJD. Last year 200 children performed for the station and this year there are more than 500 listed.

Standardized Quality
Assures Chrysler Superiority of Performance and Value in the Lighter Six
CHRYSLER "60"

CHRYSLER Standardized Quality is a fixed and inflexible quality standard which enforces the same scrupulously close limits—the same rigid rule of engineering exactness—the same absolute accuracy and precision of alignment and assemblage—in the measurement, the machining and the manufacturing of every part, practise and process in four lines of Chrysler cars—"50", "60", "70" and Imperial "80".

The sensational success of Chrysler—in each of four distinct car groups—must not be ascribed as due entirely to superiorities in Chrysler speed, Chrysler power, Chrysler smoothness and dependability of performance, Chrysler comfort or Chrysler smartness and beauty of appearance.

These superiorities are but the outward and visible signs of equally important superiorities in Chrysler design and workmanship.

For just as Chrysler has raised modern standards of design to new heights of excellence, so Chrysler has carried the principles of quality manufacture far beyond hitherto recognized limits.

It is because of this standardization of quality that the Chrysler "60" gives its sixty miles, and more, per hour; unprecedented get-away; gas economy of 22 miles and more per gallon; the smartness of Chrysler beauty; astonishing riding ease and roadability; the safety of Chrysler four-wheel hydraulic brakes; oil-filter and air-cleaner; full pressure lubrication; seven-bearing crankshaft; impulse neutralizer; road levelizers front and rear; roomy, luxurious bodies.

Advantages for the Buyer

Never before has the motoring public been offered such supreme quality and value—in the field of the lower-priced six.

For no other manufacturer has been able to achieve Quality Standardization with its inescapable advantages which enable even the inexperienced motorist to buy the highest-priced or lower-priced Chrysler with the assurance that the value in each is unquestionable.

See the lighter six, Chrysler "60". Drive it. Convince yourself that nowhere will you find a six in the lower-priced field that can begin to compare with this great Chrysler achievement.

". . . that the American family may have, at a moderate investment, a car which gratifies their finer tastes as well as satisfies their every need."

Dual Air Cleaning In this new Oldsmobile, a master air cleaner eliminates the injurious particles from two-thirds of the air before it enters the carburetor directly—while the second cleaner, in connection with crankcase ventilation, cleans the balance of the air.

Crankcase Ventilation In all internal combustion engines water is formed by condensation. Cold engines do not burn all of the fuel on starting. This water and liquid fuel pass into the crankcase and form crankcase dilution. Excessive dilution is eliminated by crankcase ventilation. It draws off water vapor and unburned fuel that may have passed into the crankcase. Crankcase ventilation improves performance and gives longer life to the engine and oil.

Oil Filter An oil filter has been added to this Oldsmobile, prolonging still more the life of the engine and the useful life of the oil. Should the filter become clogged with sediment, the lubricating system functions in the common manner. All principle parts are pressure lubricated.

Harmonic Balancer The Harmonic Balancer, developed by General Motors engineers, counteracts vibration and gives Oldsmobile a smoothness, at both low and high speeds, you will quickly recognize when you take the wheel.

Twin-Beam Light Control Head lamps have double-filament bulbs, one filament for "bright action" and one for "dim action". On "dim action" the light is bright but thrown at a downward angle that protects the oncoming driver and gives ample vision to the Oldsmobile driver.

Larger L-Head Engines, Two-Way Cooling, Three-Way Pressure Lubrication, Full Automatic Spark Control, Thermostatic Charging Control, Tapered Dome-Shaped Combustion Chambers, High Velocity Hot-Section Manifold, Special Design Light Cast-Iron Pistons, Honed Cylinders, Silent Chain Drive, Balloon Tires, Exclusive Chromium Plating, Duco Finish; new beauty of line and appointments of Fisher Bodies; many other features of demonstrated worth, at no increase in standard prices, with G.M.A.C. Time Payment Plan, if desired.

OVER the span of months and miles, in the hands of thousands of owners, Oldsmobile power and performance, dash and endurance, comfort and driving ease, demonstrated Oldsmobile's unchallengable right to the now familiar praise . . . "The car you can recommend to your best friend—it asks no favors, fears no road!"

But even that could not satisfy a policy pledged to progress.

BUSINESS IN GOOD SHAPE

Strong Undertone Reported From Financial Centers

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A strong undertone of confidence in the business and industrial situation in the eleventh federal reserve district si sensed by the federal reserve bank of Dallas as a result of prospects for the largest volume of agricultural production since 1919.

This optimistic spirit is expressed in the monthly business review of the bank for July which was released here Saturday.

The general hopeful spirit is being reflected in increased trade, bank debits to individual accounts, freight car loadings and the generally full employment of labor, states the review.

Although department store sales reported the usual seasonal decline, they were 8 per cent greater than a year ago.

The district's labor surplus has been almost entirely absorbed in general industrial activities and the increased demand for farm labor. Gains in employment were reported in many of the district's major industries.

While some cities report a surplus of building tradesmen, there was a shortage of cotton pickers in some sections. A demand for experienced metal workers in New Mexico and Arizona, is noted by the report, which says that in these states metal mining is showing unusual activity.

The review comments favorable on the increase in feed crops in this district, declaring that the farmers will have ample feed with which to make their 1927 crops.

"This will release a large portion of the returns from the cotton crop to liquidate debts and for living expenses during the coming year," said the review. The cotton plant again made rapid growth but the progress of fruiting has been disappointing. Insect activity is increasing in the cotton area with a high infestation in some sections. The damage from these insects is causing serious concern regarding the effect upon final production."

BANK BOMBER IS IDENTIFIED

Pennsylvania Police Positive In Belief He Is Known

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28.—(AP) The bomber who exploded an infernal machine in the Farmers' Savings bank here Tuesday, killing himself and a bank policeman and injuring more than a score of other persons, was identified late today by three Elwood City, Pa., police as Jim Robick, alias Dome Arabk, a well known Elwood City character.

The Elwood City officers viewed the decapitated bomber and then scanned his clothes after which they said they felt sure it was Robick.

Robick the officers said had lived in Elwood City for some time, but had disappeared a month ago. He was "queer," they said, and had been arrested there many times for threatening women when they refused to give him clothing.

HOLT HOTEL SECTION

WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 29, 1926.

THE NEW HOLT HOTEL OPENS TOMORROW

Holt Hotel, New and Modern, Added To City's Skyline

Two Wichitans Offering Best To The Public

Another skyscraper has been added to Wichita Falls to grace the skyline which already boasts a number of fine looking buildings. The Holt hotel will make its formal debut to the general public Monday morning and, while not as tall as some other buildings of the city, it boasts of a beautiful appearance from the outside and a number of modern improvements as a hotel on the inside. The new structure is located at the corner of Eighth and Ohio streets, just one block from the union depot, and practically in the heart of the downtown business district.

Henry Ford, formerly "movie king" of Wichita Falls, and George M. Holt, well known hotel man of this city, are the operators of the new hostelry and will be present in the morning to greet guests and visiting citizens alike.

Every Detail Complete

When George M. Holt was managing hotels for other owners, year after year, he listened to the doleful objections of the traveling public, from the veteran "drummer" to the newly married couple, and all of these petty complaints were stored up in his mind day by day and year by year. Finally when the time came that he was in position to design the furnishing and arrangement of a new hostelry, all these flare backs came into his mind and it was his endeavor to eliminate as many of these as possible in the new Holt hotel of Wichita Falls. "It is impossible to please everybody," Mr. Holt stated. "But I have cut out a whole lot of the objectional features of the average hotel, and believe I can give satisfactory service to 99 per cent of the traveling public, and that is saying a whole lot," he added.

Has Two Hundred Rooms

The building is eight stories high with a basement, and the hotel proper has 200 guest rooms which vary from small single rooms to large rooms with two beds in them. There is a wide variety of arrangements of the different rooms which is reflected in the variety of the rate charged, and calculated to meet the requirements of the entire public.

The first six floors are divided into regular guest rooms, including large rooms with bath, large rooms without bath, smaller rooms with bath and smaller rooms without baths, and extra large rooms with two double beds.

The two top floors are a regular bachelors headquarters. These two floors are divided into small single rooms without baths but all having access to tub and shower baths. It is the plan of the management to confine these two floors entirely to men, and they will be free to move about as they please without embarrassment.

Unique Sample Rooms

The problem of the oft-times idle sample room has been definitely solved by Mr. Holt who has a number of double rooms in the new hotel for this purpose. Two rooms are joined by large double doors. When a salesman wishes to show his samples to customers, he rents two of these rooms opens the large double doors and has plenty of room to lay out his goods. When not used for this purpose the rooms can be used as single guest rooms, thereby making them available for use at all times.

Furnishings are Ideal

Nothing is lacking in comfort, convenience and beauty in the furnishings of the rooms, yet there is not a superfluous piece of furniture in the building. Each room has an iron bedstead with a specially designed Seeley mattress. This matress is made of long staple cotton and is a combined mattress and spring affair which is the last word in luxurious comfort. There is a steel dresser, writing table and comfortable cushion chair. All furniture is finished in natural wood walnut color and is very attractively arranged. All floors, including halls and stairways are richly carpeted and all rooms are papered in appropriate designs. The baths are built in types with lavatory and tile floors. Steam heat and hot and cold water are furnished to all rooms.

Coffee Room

A first class coffee room and cafe is established in the building for the convenience of the guests and general public as well, and something new in the way of correctly designed cuisine is promised by the chef, S. M. Reynolds, late of the Hotel Driskill at Austin. The coffee room is expensively furnished with black onyx counters and tables, and the color scheme for the entire room is black onyx and Mandarin red. The kitchen has its own electric bakery, electric dishwasher, and modern service appurtenances.

High Class at Modern Prices

In fact the Holt hotel will give to the public a high class, well managed and adequately serviced hotel at modern prices which are available to all. The price range per day is from $1.50 to $3.00, with the best of service obtainable. In connection with the line of service the hotel management has made arrangements with the Kent Brothers garage to furnish parking service to its guests. A guest is given a ticket for his car and a representative of the garage comes to the hotel for the car and returns it to the hotel on a moments notice. This service will be very convenient to those traveling in cars.

The doors of the new hotel will be opened to the general public Monday morning, and the first guest will be registered there for Monday night. The management expects a large number of well wishing friends to call at the hotel during the day and will be ready to greet them with appreciation for their interest in the success of their venture.

Ludendorff Scores The Hohenzollerns

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—General Erich Ludendorff, former first quartermaster general, considers the Hohenzollerns unfit to become monarchs in Germany in the event of a change of government, according to the Bayrische Umschau, a paper which formerly supported Ludendorff, but is now bitterly opposed to him.

Apparently talking "out of school," the paper reveals a bit of interesting past war history. It charges, "In well informed Bavarian circles it is known that it was none other than Ludendorff who offered to Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria to lunch his candidacy as emperior of Germany in place of the "incapable" Hohenzollerns. And it was Crown Prince Rupprecht who declined and reminded the Prussian general of his obligations toward the house of Hohenzollern. The paper charges that Ludendorff's "political swell head" has made a tragic figure of a once famous man. To understand the paper's anger it must be recalled that Ludendorff recently published a broadside against his former comrade in arms, in which he stated that "Crown Prince Rupprecht will never become king of Bavaria nor emperor of Germany despite the efforts of his Jewish friends."

SHAW TAKEN WITH SALE.

Latest Work, a German Eulogy, Believed to Been Inspired by Royalties

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—George Bernard Shaw's eulogy of German culture, expressed to Ambassador Sthamer in return for foreign Minister Stresemann's felicitations upon Shaw's 70th birthday anniversary, is received with mingled feelings in Germany. To some readers the praise of Germany is "put on too thick" to be convincing. "Why shouldn't he praise Germany," one man of letters observed, "when he gets more royalties out of this country than of any other."

CLEAN LINENS LAUNDRY'S JOB

Ponds Selected to Keep Holt Bedding Fresh At All Times

One of the big items in the operation of a modern and up-to-date hotel is that of fresh, clean linen.

The need of keeping an adequate supply of spotless sheets, pillow cases, table clothes, napkins and other pieces used daily can be appreciated by every one, and so it is that the laundry service of the hotel is one of utmost importance.

Pond's laundry, the oldest and most well-established in northwest Texas, has been selected by the Holt hotel management for the important work of keeping Holt hotel linen in perfect condition at all times. Daily shipments, of course, will be made to the laundry where all linens will be thoroughly cleansed and cleaned in the modern and well-equipped plant.

Pond's laundry does a large and general cleaning service in the city and throughout this section of northwest Texas. It has grown from a small beginning to one of the leading business institutions of its kind in Texas.

RAPID-FIRE COURTSHIP COSTS A WIFE $205,000

HULL, Eng.—Mrs. Ivy Eileen Moore, who was wooed and won in a rapid-fire courtship lasting less than two weeks, is lots wiser, but $205,000 poorer. The dissolution of her marriage has been granted, but she will never be able to recover the money her husband squandered in four years. Mrs. Moore, who was worth a fortune, did not know until after her marriage that the husband was an undischarged bankrupt.

Buy at Home

Every contract for the building of the new Holt Hotel; every contract for the equipping of the establishment, and every deal for the furnishings throughout were transacted with dealers and contractors of Wichita Falls. This statement was made Saturday by George M. Holt, manager of the establishment.

When Mr. Holt and Mr. Ford had settled their plans for the construction and furnishing of the new business they made a business trip north and east looking over the various designs of furnishings, etc. They chose what they wanted, and then came back to Wichita Falls and placed their orders with local merchants and local men have had the building and furnishing of this whole proposition.

"This is one of the most commendable features of the new enterprise, and there will be a large number of local men on hand Monday morning to congratulate Mr. Ford and Mr. Holt, both for their civic loyalty and for the faith in the future of the city which is demonstrated in building a large hotel in anticipation of future growth and development.

African Chief's Romance Ended

LONDON, Aug. 28.—There is a romantic story of an obscure African chief's rise to fame and his recognition by the Imperial government behind the announcement of the resignation of Sir Apolo Kagwa, the Kati Kiro. or prime minister of Uganda.

Sir Apolo Kagwa was the first African native to be given the K. C. M. G. (Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George). Sir Apolo is between 70 and 80 years of age and has been head of the native cabinet for 35 years. He came first into prominence about 1886 when King Mwanga or Uganda decided to destroy the Christian faith there and to begin a massacre of Christians.

Kagwa and another denounced the king. Kagwa's companion was killed, but Kagwa escaped. He later took a leading part in the building of the present day Uganda, was native statesman, administrator and general, leading an army in many of the religious struggles which troubled the land. More than once he was a great power in the maintenance of the Christian faith and many times helped the laborers to transport clay for building the cathedral.

He came to England in 1902 as an official representatie of Uganada at the coronation of King Edward.

GUNS HISTORIC.

Twenty-One Cannon Used to Salute King George Have History.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The 21 guns used to salute King George on his arrival at Cowes Castle where he went to attend the recent regatta, once provided the armament of a large and perfect model of a battleship named the Royal Adelaide which was constructed for William fourth and sailed for his amusement on Virginia Water.

KENTS PARK HOTEL AUTOS

Checking System Ready For Convenience of Touring Public

Guests at the new Holt hotel will not lack for proper parking and storage facilities for their cars, as a contract has been made by the management with Kent Brothers garage to furnish the hotel with real service in this line.

A ticket system has been arranged whereby the garage will call for and deliver guest's cars at the door of the hotel, and no extra charge is made for this service, other than the regular parking or storage charge. In return the hotel agrees to give all the business of the hostelry to the Kent Brothers garage.

M. L. and W. T. Kent have one of the most elaborate garage and tire businesses in the city. They established themselves in the business here about seven years ago and have been constantly increasing their business until now they are in a position to give the highest grade service obtainable in their line.

Their tire station, corner Seventh and Scott streets, is headquarters here for Lee puncture proof tires and they also conduct a thorough tire repairing service. The garage and storage is at 608 Scott street, just two blocks from the Holt hotel, and their parking and storage service will be easily transacted for customers of the hotel.

Food Causes Near Rupture at Meet

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Ham and hard boiled eggs, for a moment, put a strain on relations between the senate and the chamber, just before the opening of the recent national assembly at Versailles that threatened to wreck their cordial co-operation.

In a spirit of economy, the chamber officers decided to limit food supplies to beer, lemonade, citronade and syrups. The senate officers argued that the meeting might be prolonged, and put in a request for ham and hard boiled eggs.

Slowly and reluctantly, the chamber gave way on each point, only making a real stand on the egg question.

Eventually eggs were added to the menu and cold veal as well as ham, Gruyere Cheese, yaouirt, or curdled milk, leaves of the lime tree and camomile to make these "infusions" beloved by the French whom age or infirmities bar from tea or coffee.

GERMANY TO LOSE BRIDGE.

Will Destroy Its First and Oldest Railroad Bridge.

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—Germany is about to lose its first and oldest railway bridge. When in 1830 the Prussian government constructed a railroad from Berlin to Potsdam it became necessary to span the Havel river with the Beckebruecke, then the only railway bridge in Germany. The only other steam line, which ran from Nurember to Fuerth, had no bridge.

The Backe bridge was never intended for the heavy locomotives of modern life. It must now give way to a more modern and stronger structure.

PARIS.—Mlle. Corine Valiers' hair caught fire while she was getting a permanent wave, and she burned to death.

Woman Writer Has Adventured In Many Lands

Mrs. Marguerite Harrison, newspaper woman now of New York City, has adventured in many lands. During the Russian revolution she was imprisoned as an American spy. Released she returned home and later went to Persia to make a moving picture of primitive man's struggle with nature, and more recently to study conditions changed by the war.

France's Solomon Dies of Old Age

PARIS, Aug. 28.—France's "good judge" is dead. Thirty years ago nobody would have had to ask his name, everybody would have known it was Paul Mafnaud, the judge of Chateu Thierry who acquired a world wide reputation oby acquitting a poor woman who had stolen a loaf from a baker's window.

The judgment was long and started with many clauses beginning with "Whereas" until it reached the conclusion that it was far more reasonable to acquit a thief who had acted under the irresittible impulse of hunger than one who pleaded his pathological condition as excuse for a perfectly unnecessary theft.

Cogratulations on his humane equity flowed into the judge from all parts of the world, but officially his judgment could not be accepted without protest. The public prosecutor appealed the sentence on the grounds that it was too light but so great an outcry followed both from the public and the parliament that the appeal court preferred to confirm the judgment. It has been generally said however that the judgment prevented his being promoted from his country judgeship.

He was 78 when he died and the woman whom he acquitted is still living, a zealous intelligent worker and esteemed by her neighbors.

Ford Gets Kick Out of Invasion Of Hotel World

At least one of the owners of the new Holt Hotel is getting a thrill out of the venture, for it is his first attempt at the hotel business. Henry Ford is either progressing or retrograding in the business world—all a matter of opinion—for he has proceeded from the movie business to the hotel business and is enjoying the novelty of it.

Mr. Ford came to Wichita Falls in 1919 and opened up in the moving picture business here. He developed the business to a high standard here and only recently disposed of his entire interest here to the Dent Theatres, Inc. He came here from Amarillo where he conducted theatres and also had a number of theatres in the Panhandle and West Texas.

Mr. Ford is a native of Aberdeen, Mississippi, butwas educated in Temple, Texas, and in 1905 he married Miss Aleta Bruce, a Georgetown University girl, and moved to Tulia, Texas where he began his career as a show man.

The hundreds of Mr. Ford's friends in Wichita Falls wish him the best of success in his new venture, and hope that it will be as profitable and enjoyable to him as the theatre business.

Berlin "Murphy" Beds Interest

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—Berlin editorial writers evince much curiosity over an advertisement by a real estate firm offering a group of apartment houses for rent in which "the rooms are small and the labor saving devices numerous." Such apartments are a novelty in Germany.

Before the war social rank was measured in part by the size and number of rooms to a flat. Because of the cheapness of servant help nobody thought of introducing labor saving devices.

The editors are astounded to find the advertisement offering electric coffee grinders, sewing machines, vaccum cleaners, a laundry equipped with electric washing machine, wringer and irons and hot water heating.

The experiment of this real estate firm will be watched with interest as the tendency is growing in republican Germany for the mistress of the house to do her own housework.

It's a Great Pleasure

To have such men as HENRY FORD and GEORGE HOLT as our patrons. They are men of sterling worth, interested in the city's development and worthy of the confidence of the public. In opening the

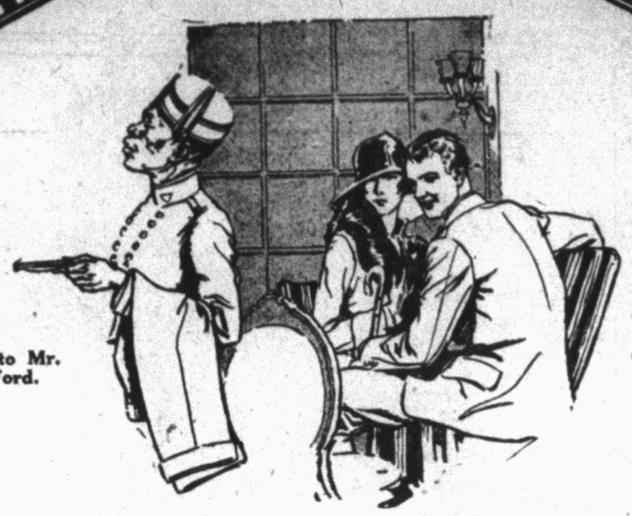

Holt Hotel

they have given Wichita Falls a new hostelry of which we may well be proud, and one in keeping with the development and growth of the city. We offer our heartiest congratulations and good wishes.

Castles & Kings

TODAY . . castles are rather passe, and kings are in the discard, but even in their heyday they could boast of no such things as you take for granted.

No king could command the services which are at your beck and call. No castle contained the comfort and conveniences which are intrinsic features of even the smallest apartment or the modest bungalow. Few even had a clock.

Yet some people today dwell in medieval inconvenience. There are hundreds of homes without a telephone!

Is your "castle" up-to-date, or do you have to run over to your neighbor's to telephone?

You will find that the cost of telephone service is much less than it is worth, so valuable that you'll wonder how you ever got along without it.

Better apply for a telephone today.

BAILEY-MOLINE SUPPLY HOTEL

Kitchen And Coffee Shop Equipment Supplied By Firm

Since their purchase of the Maxwell and Sons hardware business last May, the Bailey-Moline Hardware company has enjoyed a healthy business, but their first, big job came through the new Holt hotel when they were given the contract for the kitchen and coffee shop equipment for that institution. Mr. Moline, manager of the store, has given the contract his personal attention and has provided one of the most up-to-date and efficient kitchen and dining equipment in the south. There is nothing lacking for economy of time and labor and the designs are remarkably appropriate.

The contract called for the kitchen furnishings, utensils and cooking vessells, the coffee shop dishes, urns, fans, tables, chairs and counter, and all the hardware in the building as well as 130 electric fans.

The tables and counter are composed of black onxy tops with black wood finish in the furniture. A touch of mandarin red gives the entire design a pleasing and attractive effect.

Most of the material in the equipment was ordered from eastern supply houses and much of it was specially made to order to satisfy the demands of the hotel management. Mr. Ford and Mr. Holt have both expressed themselves as well pleased with the material furnished them by the Bailey-Moline company, and are proud to have their friends and customers inspect the coffee shop tomorrow.

Grand Duchess Hurt In Crash

PARIS, Aug. 28.—The grand duchess Nicholas of Russia, aunt of the late czar, whose husband is regarded as rightful successor to the throne by the majority of expatriated Russians, has started proceedings in a Paris police court "against an unknown person" on account of injuries received in an automobile accident.

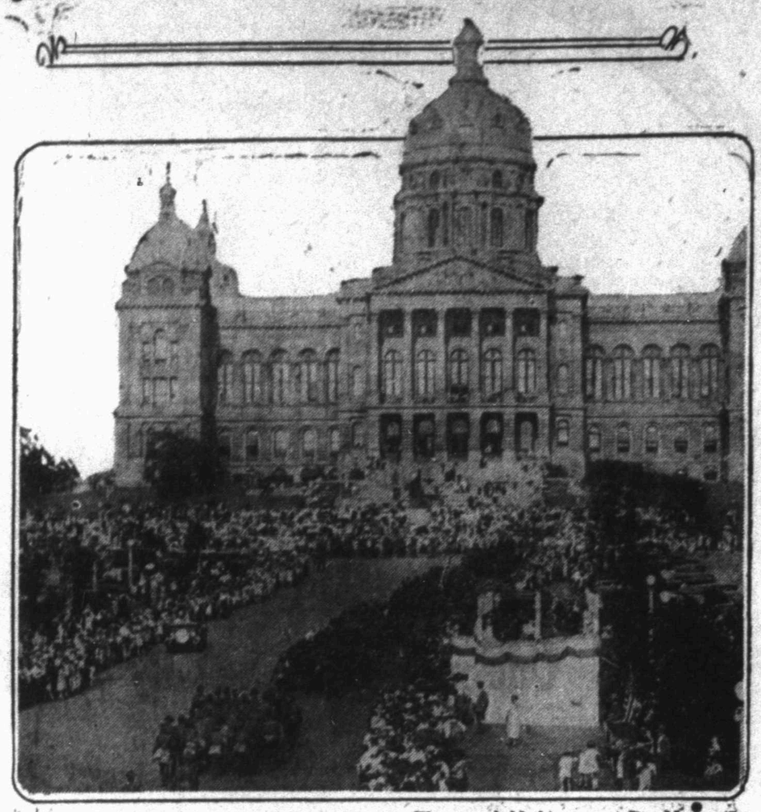

Clothed entirely in black, in memory of the late czar and his family, she wore a wide hat with large side wings, as far removed from the fashion of the day as possible. She showed marked difficulty in walking, due to the accident which occurred last April. She was then passing through the Paris suberb of Saint Maur in the automobile of General Baron Von Stael, when the chauffeur, blinded by the headlights of a car some distance further along the road ran into a motor truck standing on the road. The grand duchess suffered many injuries, notably to the leg.

The magestrate appointed a legal medical expert to report on the damages suffered by the grand duchess, and will investigate on whom the responsibility falls.

Best of Electrical Appliances To Be Used In New Holt Hotel

Many uses for electricity have developed in the past twenty years of diligent research and development in the business and a number of new applications have recently been designed which are destined to become a predominating factor in the progress and welfare of the human race. These facts are well demonstrated in the electrical equipment of the new Holt hotel, all of which was installed by the Wichita Electric company.

Efficiency an deconomy as to time and space are the keynotes of the management of the new hotel and with this in view, electrical equipment was installed as fast as possible. Practically all of the kitchen and coffee room equipment is electrically operated, and the Wichita Electric company has selected the best in the market for this contract.

The latest type Edison bake oven is one of the best articles installed. This oven uses electricity for heating and control, and in addition an electric bread mixer is also installed. There is also a large electrical refrigerator which is capable of handling all needs along that llue for many years. Waffle irons, egg broilers, toasters, coffee urns and a large dishwashing machine are all electrically operated.

Several of the famous Premier Duplex electric cleaners were also purchasd from the Wichita Electric company for the new establishment.

MINISTER GETS PASS

Loses Job Within 36 Hours but Keeps Railroad Transportation.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—To be a minister, if only for 36 hours, as was the case for the late Herriot ministry, apparently brings its consolations when those few hours are over for some ministers. Andre Hesse, former minister of public works, indicated this to newspaper men who offered their sympathy as he passed through the lobby.

"Well, I really don't know that I ought to accept your sympathy," the two-day minister replied, "I didn't entirely lose my time. Look at this." And he held out a permanent free pass good on every French railroad.

"This document in these days of dear travelling has its value," M. Hasse added. "It is a little perquisite of former ministers of public works which reached me this morning."

CAFE A BIG HOTEL FACTOR

S. M. Reynolds Secured As Head Chef of New Hostlery

A properly appointed cuisine, courteous service, and excellent cooking are promised patrons of the Holt hotel by S. M. Reynolds, grand chef de luxe, and manager of the Coffee room and cafe at the new Holt.

Mr. Reynolds first learned the difference between short cake and cake shortening at the famous McClintock's restaurant in Kansas City and has had 15 years of experience in cooking and managing cafes and dining rooms. He comes here from the Driskill hotel at Austin, where the matter of serving nine luncheon clubs each week was a mere detail.

Other famous hostelries which have known Mr. Reynolds' services are the Lee Huckins at Oklahoma City and the Fontanac at Omaha, Neb.

Get Yourself a Brand New Liver

How Dodson's Liver Tone Makes You Feel the Old Liver is Born Again

Just off the slant of Old Piedmont where it rolls away into the foot-hills of South Georgia, Bud Evans makes a good stand of cotton. A year ago he was too sick to even follow a plow. His right side seemed hard, felt as if his liver had turned to stone; belched gas all the time; couldn't hold up his head for the pain; calomel just turned him inside out. You couldn't imagine anyone sicker than Bud Evans. It just happened that an egg buyer dropped in on him one day and says: "What you need, Bud, is a dose of Dodson's Liver Tone—your liver is baked and full up so it doesn't work." And so Bud got a bottle at the town drug store for a few cents. The very first night it loosened up so much sour bile and fermenting food that the swelling went down, his whole system righted itself and he was a new man entirely before noon.

There is no question but that Dodson's Liver Tone will do more for bilious people than anything else ever known. It works easily and smoothly, without gripe or distress, and cleans out all the sour bile and sickening stuff that gives you headache, nausea, vomiting, bilious fever and all the other distresses due to obstinate constipation.

Get one bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, and if it doesn't make you feel like you had traded your old, worn out liver for a new one full of pep, go to the druggist and he will refund the price.

LINEN BOUGHT M'CLURKAN'S

Holt Hotel Demands the Best In Way of Furnishings

An item of no inconsequential nature in the furnishing of a large, modern hotel, is that of linens—sheets, pillow slips, napkins, table cloths, towels and the like. As a matter of fact, the size of this linen bill would stagger most folks unfamiliar with the needs of the big hostelries.

In addition to quantities, quality is a factor of the utmost importance. Hotel operators must know when they purchase materials that these will give long and satisfactory service; that they will be durable and lasting, while at the same time they retain their appearances.

Because the quality required was of the highest, the managers of the Holt hotel looked for the best in the purchase of their linen supplies. W. B. McClurkan and company was selected to furnish these requirements, which they have done in excellent manner.

All rooms of the new hotel will be supplied with sheets and pillow slips of highest order bought through the McClurkan store here. The bath rooms will be supplied with towels from the same firm, while the dining room and kitchen nappery and cloths also come from McClurkan's.

The firm of W. B. McClurkan and company, controlled by Marvin Smith and Lamar Fain, is one of the oldest and most successful dry goods establishments in northwest Texas.

No One at All Goes With King George

LONDON, Aug. 28.—When King George goes shooting, he takes along with him a smaller retinue than other European sovereigns. The personnel is fairly extensive, however. It includes two equerries, his valet, a brusher, footman, two gun loaders, an inspector of police and two chauffeurs.

Queen Mary's visits to intimate friends in their country houses always have a touch of formality. At meals, the host and hostess and other guests assemble a few minutes before the time the queen enters the room, and after the meal the queen gives the signal for the women to withdraw.

All the day's arrangements, hours of meals and the names of those it is proposed to invite are submitted to the queen for approval each morning. This formality is offset by the ease with which the queen is entertained.

PICTURES DONT SELL

Reason Believed To Be Tendency to Keep Only Small Ones on Wall.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—One of the reasons given for the poor sale of pictures at the Royal academy, which has just closed, is a recently growing fashion to hang only one or two small pictures in any room and to abolish them altogether from halls and stair cases.

This is not only the case in modern Mayfair flats and houses, but also in country residences, where years ago the halls of practically every room, hall and staircase were almost covered with pictures.

COTTON LESS IN WEST TEXAS

Field Reports Show That Crop Is Short In Territory

STAMFORD, Aug. 28.—West Texas is to have less cotton than was forecast several weeks ago, but the regions will suffer no feed shortage. Reports sent in by field men of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from over their territory are to the effect that the maize and grain sorghum crops are good and the quality of the crop is unusually good. Yields of one ton or more per acre are the rule, while numerous sections have made bumper crops of the feed. About Roscoe in Nolan county, the farmers have already gathered two tons per acre of the grain sorghum. The crop is already stored for the winter and the stock has been turned into the fields for pasture. The entire southern section has gathered its crop and plenty of feed is assured. On the plains the crop is uniformly good. The crop is later there, of course than in the counties below the Cap Rock but never have the heads been better filled and the grain of better quality. Harvesting has already been begun in some parts of the plains and the crop is already made and only needs more curing in the stalk throughout the entire area.

One encouraging feature is the fact that the bulk of the crop will be retained on the farms and fed. Numerous requests have come to the West Texas chamber of commerce asking that the organization renew the hog importation campaign that was carried on last year with great success by the West Texas chamber in co-operation with the Fort Worth Stockyards company and the packing houses. More than 7,000 brood sows were placed on West Texas farms during this campaign and the pig crops from these sows are already having a great effect on the section. The agricultural department of the West Texas chamber has found that the interest in hogs has grown by leaps and bounds and West Texas will regain its old position in hog production within a comparatively short time.

Plans are now being formed to greatly increase the acreage in grain sorghums for the next year. President Arthur P. Duggan of the organization stated that efforts to curtail cotton production would be along the lines of increasing grain sorghum production, which has been pronounced the back bone of West Texas agricultural wealth. Definite plans for the campaign are being made and will soon be announced.

Demonstrations Limit Tourists

PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Anti-American demonstrations in Paris and hostility shown them on the Riveria and in central France are worrying tourist conductors who are afraid that it will cause a drop in the number of Americans coming to France next year.

The head of one important agency has stated that he is returning to the United States to arrange tours in South America, the Orient and Alaska for the coming year, but that he would leave Europe and especially France out of his calculations.

Many tourist Americans declare that they never will return.

Use Airplane As Fire Detector

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—An airplane as fire detector was the role recently played by the double decker which daily takes the Berlin papers to the watering places of the Baltic.

As the pilot Herr Heft, flew over the island of Usedom, he observed how a stroke of lightning set fire to a large barn. Nobody in the nearby farm house nor in the other adjacent buildings seemed to have noticed the flames. So the pilot descended as low as possible and kept circling about the farm house in the hope of rousing the owners by the noise of his propeller.

His efforts finally were successful, for soon he saw the peasants emerging. They reached the burning barn just in time to liberate a large herd of sheep.

Berlin Flocks to See Former German Girl on Homecoming

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Seldom has an actress returning to the scene of her first triumphs been given a more wholehearted and enthusiastic reception than Asta Nielson, movie star, by Berlin theatre goers on the occasion of her reappearance after twenty years, on the legitimate stage.

Her debut in the title role of Sheldon's "Rita Cavallini" was the occasion of an endless series of ovations. After the performance admirers of the "Sarah Bernhardt of the screen" waited patiently for over an hour before the theatre in the hope of carrying her on their shoulders to her hotel. The actress was able, however, to escape by another exit.

FREEARS PUT IN NEW BEDS

Long-Established Firm Has Record of Satisfactory Furnishing Work

During the 18 years that the name Freear has been connected with the furniture business in Wichita Falls, many large and elaborate buildings and homes have been furnished though Mr. Freear's establishment, and real satisfaction must have been the result, for when the management of the new Holt hotel went to place their order for furnishings for the institution they went to the Freear Furniture company.

All the bed room and lobby furniture were placed in the new hotel by Freear. A special order was handled through them with the Simmons manufacturers and regular hotel equipment was provided. This style is known as the hotel steel type, natural wood finish material and is becoming most popular in many modern establishments.

Few people realize the difference between home type and hotel type furniture. All hotel type furniture is double strength and double reinforced. The upholstering, workmanship, material and metal parts are all of double durability and can withstand the hard usage to which it is subjected.

He was put through many varieties of "setting up" exercises until he was examy places and as a climax he was presented with two neat black eyes. Malcolm welcomed the policeman who arrested him, paid a fine and left on the first train for St. Paul, Minn., whence he came.

LIEBERMANN HIRED

Leasing Theatre Employs Dean of German Artists

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—There is much comment in art circles upon the fact that Director Heinz Saltenburg of the Lessing Theatre has engaged no less a person than Max Liebermann, Doyen of Germany's artists of rank to paint the decorations for a play by ZZuckmayr, entitled, "Der Schinderhannes" (The Marttinet), with which he will open the winter season. It is doubted whether the box office receipts will justify the expenditure.

The critic of the Montagspost points out, however, that Saltenberg is merely showing good business judgement in so doing. For, not only will "Stage decorations by Liebermann," supply a good advertising slogan, but after the play has been taken off the boards of Saltenberg need merely to put the various scenes in attractive frames and offer them to an art auction. It is estimated he will realize many times what the canvasses will cost him.

In this connection it is recalled that another Berlin producer, Victor Barnowsky, induced the late Lovis Corinth to paint some two dozen stage pictures for his production of Faust. He had three framed afterward and now boasts of having the largest private collection of Corinth pictures in existence.

Deauville Hats Made of Velvet

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Most of the hats at Deauville are of velvet, made so flexible that if they were crumpled up like a handkerchief, they would come to no harm but would immediately return to their shape. Many of them make up for the almost masculine plainness of their shape by pretty details, insertions and very small embroidery.

The richest materials that the imagination of modern makers can conceive are to be seen at the Casino. "Bengalor," into which gold, silver and copper are worked, covers the wearer with streaks of light. "Granidor," another matallic material, shows numerous shades of the same color. "Constellador" recalls the magnificent constellations of the southern hemisphere. "Luminador" as the name indicates, suggests brilliancy and the list is not exhausted for equally beautiful materials are being brought out almost daily.

Jar's Zoo Fire Leads Officials to Assure Public As to Berlin Safety.

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—A recent fire in the Paris zoo has led the curators of the Berlin zoo to asure the public that a fire is next to impossible here. Every guard and employe to whom the care of the animals is entrusted is put through a course in fire fighting and fire drills are regularly held. The zoological garden is dotted with hydrants and fire extinguishing apparatus. Wherever the main path in the gardens intersect, first alarm boxes are placed so that the city fire department can reach the scene of a conflagration three minutes after its discovery. The firemen of the nearby fire companies are taken into the gardens frequently so as to acquaint them with every nook and corner. There is even an electric arrangement by which the fire brigade can automatically open the gates to the garden.

BOOTLEGGER FIGHTS TAX ON HIS ILLEGAL PROFITS

Smith was assessed on an income of $95,000, but a Canadian court upheld his claim and the fight was transferred to London for final decision. Smith's counsel stated he had already been put to a great deal of "inconvenience" through being fined and sent to prison for bootlegging.

LONDON.—Girls, you have it on the authority of Sir Thomas Legge, senior medical inspector of factories, that your sex is much better looking than 20 years ago. Anemia now claims only 5 per cent of working girls, as against 35 per cent then, Sir Thomas told the Royal Sanitary Institute. He added: "When I visit factories I keep one eye on the looks of the workers and note them in three categories—good-looking, average-looking, and ugly. In the last factory I visited I noted that 72 per cent were good-looking—of the Rossett, Burne-Jones of Greek type—28 per cent were average-looking, and none at all were bad-looking."

MORE NOSTRUM COMING SOON

Ibanez Story Picturized By Ingram Billed For the Strand

Blasco Ibanez is the author of "Mare Nostrum," coming to the Strand theatre. This brilliant and internationally famous Spaniard is the most discussed and widely read of present day novelists. His works are translated into almost every known language and his books ran into many editions in all the leading countries of the world.

Besides "Mare Nostrum" Ibanez is the author of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "Blood and Sand," "Enemies of Women," "Queen Calafia" and many other books and short stories. He is also contributor to magazines and newspapers in the United States, France, Spain and England.

Ibanez considers "Mare Nostrum" his greatest story and it is the favorite of all he has written. One of the reasons for this is that in "Mare Nostrum" Ibanez retraces himself as a boy with all his youthful aspirations and his overpowering love for the sea. Because of his great personal interest in "Mare Nostrum" Ibanez refused to dispose of the motion picture rights until Rex Ingram was able to produce it in pictures. Ingram and Ibanez have been close friends and mutual admirers since Ingram produced "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," which made motion picture history.

Ibanez resides in the Rivera foothills near Nice, France, where many scenes for "Mare Nostrum" were filmed. Ingram was his guest on a number of occasions and the noted author was an interested visitor at the Ingram studio when some of the spectacular episodes of his story were being made.

Great Cast Aids Tom Mix In His Latest Picture

In "No Man's Gold," Tom Mix comes riding back in a part that fits him as snugly as he fits into the saddle of his wonder horse, Tony. Here again is the Tom Mix who handles a pair of fists with almost the same deadly effect that he handles his guns; does some riding that makes the heart race and then nearly stops it when he crashes down into an old shack in a tool bucket; destroying the shelter of a gang of ruffians who were after the secret of a hidden mine.

You have not seen Mix at his best until you see him in this latest Fox film, "No Man's Gold," which will have a two day's run at the Mission commencing today. Not only is he back in one of the finest pictures of the typs that gave him world wide fame, but he is supported by a cast, each one of whom is an old favorite with moving picture audiences. There is the beautiful Eva Novak, who plays the part of Jane Rogers, a rodeo star; and there is no doubting for her. She does her own riding in a way that must make many a cowboy envy her. The part of the villainous gambler, Pete Krell, is played by the husky Malcolm Waite. I one of the best rough and tumble fights ever screened, he uses everything from his fists to a saxaphone, but is at last knocked out by Tom.

Pete's henchman, Frank Healy is given a fine portrayal by Frank Campeau; and Lefty Logan, the third rate pugilist and friend of Tom, as played by Harry Gripp is there with enough humor to keep the laughs rolling.

Wat Lyman, the prospector who is killed for his secret of a gold mine, is splendidly characterized by Forrest Taylor and the part of his son, Jimmy Lyman, is played by that lovable specimen of American boyhood, the nine year old Micky Moore.

The story of "No Man's Gold" is the kind that will hold the attention of any audience from beginning to end; because it is a real story with logical suspense and many breath taking situations that come about as a natural result of plot and characterization.

It deals with the discovery of a mother lode of virgin gold far up an unknown canyon. Wat Lyman, the prospector who discovers the mine, has been followed by Frank Healy, a notorious gambler who shoots him down, intending to rob him of the map. But before he has an opportunity to do this Tom Stone, foot-lose cowboy, and Lefty Logan are attracted by the shot. They hurry to the scene to find Micky the prospector's nine year old son bending over his dying father. Lyman makes the three men, including Healy, whom he does not know as his murderer, promise to share the wealth of the mine with his boy. To protect his son he tears the map into three parts, giving each of the men one of the pieces.

Then follows a battle of wits between Healy and his fellow desperadoes on the one hand, and Tom, on the other. There is some fine action here, the siege in the canyon of gold, the capture of Jane by the gang and her rescue by Tom. Fine riding and a breakneck slide down the face of a perpendicular cliff by Tom with the aid of Tony. It all ends very satisfactorily of course; but until it does, a very exciting but pleasant time is had by the audience.

Mildred Ryan A Baby Star With Movie Company

One of the most fascinating pastimes among dyed-in-the-wool film fans is that of picking out potential stars among each new crop of actors or actresses who make their debut each season and start upward. This is not confined to the fan alone however, for there is a motion picture organization out in California—the Western association of Motion Picture Advertisers—who each year announce a list of what they call "the baby stars" for that particular season and in most cases during their past several years of predicting they have met with success.

This year there is one little ingenue type, pretty as the proverbial picture and just radiating talent, among the newcomers whose meteoric flight toward the coveted stardom is being watched with interest by fans and film folk alike. She is Mildred Ryan, just turned 18 but already playing feminine leads in support of some of the screen's most popular and famous stars. She comes here on Monday, at the Gem theatre in "The Broadway Boob," playing opposite that most famous of stage and screen luminaries, Glenn Hunter.

While it is called metroric, Mildred's career before the camera has not been exactly brief. She has served a fairly long and hard tutelage under the Klieg lights but during the past season has been fairly leaping over her sisters of the cinema in the general scramble for stellar honors. Little Miss Ryan first appeared before the camera when she was 8 years of age—ten years ago—playing a child part in a picture called "Homekeeping Hearts" which coincidentally was produced by Oscar Price, one of the powers now behind Associated Exhibitors who made "The Broadway Boob."

Her other best known screen efforts were with Johnnie Hines in "The Live Wire;" "Then Come the Woman" with Frank Mayo; "The Man Who Found Himself," with Tom Meighan and "The Little French Girl." At 14 she appeared with Gloria Swanson in "Zaza."

GLORIA HERE AT OLYMPIC

"Fine Manners" to Be Her Latest Offering In The City

Do "fine manners" make "fine ladies?"

That's the question asked in Gloria Swanson's latest film, "Fine Manners," which arrives at the Olympic today. Gloria is seen as a dancer in a burlesque music hall. With a brother, who jealously tries to guard her from the world's tawdry influences, she lives in a tiny tenement apartment.

Then—Fate—or call it what you will, has her meet a young, socially bored, society scion. He immediately falls in love with this veritable child of nature. Thinking to improve, and make her well-nigh perfect, the youth tells his sweetheart that a curse in "fine manners" will make her a "fine lady."

What happens? Certainly, this is a situation to bring forth lots of laughs and many perplexities.

Those who have already seen "Fine Manners," say that Gloria has never been better. Richard Rosson directed for Paramount. Eugene O'Brien plays the part of the fiance.

IF MA STEPS OUT, THEN???

Strand Picture Takes Up Modern Life In New Way

Have you any idea what's going on around you? What do you know about your neighbors? Are they happy? Do you ever stop to think that in this great throbbing existence of ours that we call "life" drama is being enacted daily by players who have never had any ideas about going on the stage?

For instance, in New York city, just last year, something happened which was known to only a few persons. Now—the news has come out.

Most likely, you have never even heard of Hugh Westcourts. They are a wealthy couple whose marriage seems to have gone on the rocks. Hugh and Ethel had one daughter, a crazy, Jazz-mad flapper, who liked to hit the bright lights. And her father had somewhat the same tendencies himself.

According to the story which is told, one night, while dancing with her youthful fiance, Kenneth Cobb, Kittens started to flirt with Jerry Naughton, an understanding bachelor. Of course, Kenneth became irritated, and the more he showed his annoyance, the more she continued. Finally the evening was over, but not the flirtation.

In despair, Kenneth appealed to Mrs. Westcourt for help, and she set out to put a crimp in this unknown's naughty line. But on meeting him, she, too, fell deeply in love, and he with her. So, as they say in the fable, "wasn't that a pretty dish to set before the king?"

What happened then? Did the daughter just resign or did she stay to contest her mother? How did the father take it? Did he try to bring his family together?

These are some of the things which audiences at the Strand theatre will find out on next Monday when "Dancing Mothers," a new Paramount picture, opens. Herbert Brenon directed the drama, which is an adaptation of the Edgar Selwyn, Edmund Goulding stage success. Conway Tearle, Alice Joyce and Clara Bow are co-starred as the bachelor, the mother and the daughter.

Art Acord Here In Western Film On Garden Screen

In the wilds of the California mountains, near Big Bear, was the locale where most of "The Terror," Art Acord's starring vehicle, at the Garden theatre on Sunday and Monday was filmed.

In these beautiful surroundings Cliff Smith, the director, guided his players through the action of an unusually dramatic tale of the west. Acord, with his horse Buddy, and his dog Rex, proves again that he is one of the West's outstanding horsemen as he does feats seldom performed on horseback.

Daring rides up and down the mountain side and trips along dangerous mountain roads were the daily fare of the star during the "location" trip. Had his surefooted mount slipped at times both Acord and his horse would have fallen hundreds of feet to their death.

PALACE SHOWS CATTLE STORY

"The Demon" To Be New Thriller of Screen Sunday

A rousing cattle country story with a great finish, such in brief is "The Demon," a Blue Streak Western with Jack Hoxie in the leading role, which opens today at the Palace theater. Mystery, love and excitement pass in rapid succession across the screen, with Hoxie and the Universal Ranch Riders giving us some thrilling exhibitions of rough-riding. The story is an unusual one, too, in at least one respect, for we witness the case of a heroine who at no time is rescued from danger by the hero. In this it is a relief from the average romance that finds its way into a play.

Hoxie, the biggest riding man on the screen, gives a gripping interpretation of the role of Dane Gordon, the young rancher who sets out to round up a band of outlaws who have been terrorizing the ranchers in Slocum valley. He rides as he never did before, risks his life as a member of the band for the purpose of gathering evidence against them, yet falls for the charms of a pretty stenographer in the office of the man who is engineering the raids.

Universal has provided Hoxie with a most capable supporting cast. In the leading feminine role is Lola Todd, who is doing her first big bit in pictures. Heretofore she has been seen only in smaller parts. Miss Todd has taken advantage of the chance given her and is convincing and bewitching in the stenographer-heroine role. Jere Austin, as "Bat" Jackson, is the remorseless villain. Georgie Grandee takes a small part and gets much out of it. William Welsh and Al Jennings also do some good work.

"The Demon" was produced under the direction of Cliff Smith, who has brought into it many picturesque and beautiful scenes of the ranges and plains of the cattle country.

Pappa Wimpfhimer - By FANNIE HURST

The World's Highest Paid Short Story Writer

Author of "Lummox", "Humoresque"

Copyright, 1926, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

THE Wimpfhimer family, mother and three exotic daughters with the slim exotic, Latin-looking faces of early Italian primitives, almost invariably summered abroad.

Either along the Italian or French Riviera, just outside of Paris or near Vienna.

For the sake of convenience and the cumbersome difficulties of the long syllabic name, the Wimpfhimer women explained to their American friends who stumbled across them in Europe, that they were known abroad by the simpler appellation of "Wimple". Mrs. Sigmund Wimple. Miss Eustasia Wimple. Miss Philberta Wimple. And Miss Cerise-Francesca Wimple. Maid and chauffeur. They registered that way. Simpler, you see.

Sigmund Wimpfhimer seldom came abroad with them. In fact, for over a period of two years, while the girls were completing their romance-language educations and attending schools in England, Switzerland and France, the entire family had remained in Europe, without so much as a glimpse of him.

Of course, there were punctilious letters from the girls to their father and from Hattie Wimple to her husband, but the head of foundry of so native a product as steel did not find it easy to leave his powerful business organization for these sporadic trips to Europe so indulged in by his family of women.

He was a pudgy little man, with a paunch and an accent. Not the accent that lends distinction, Italian, French or Russian, but a low-German accent. The accent of the South of Germany which Sigmund Wimpfhimer had left as a penniless boy, forty years before.

The Wimple women never mentioned it among themselves. Hattie would have been too loyal, and even the girls with their veneering of sophistication, had somewhere in their make-up too much traditional respect for parent ever to voice their sensitiveness to the external shortcomings of their father, compared to the type of husband and father they were accustomed to seeing accompany wives and daughters in the smart hotels they frequented.

There was, however, among them an unspoken unanimity of plan of action so far as their father was concerned. He was never urged to join them at the smart spas or resorts. There was always much talk in the letters that went to America of the return home and of plans then suddenly deferred, but somehow, even at those times when Sigmund intimated that he might manage to knock off for a few weeks for a flying visit to his family, those plans were invariably tossed away by a sudden decision on the part of the girls to return to the States themselves instead. A plan that seldom materialized, but which meanwhile deferred the possibility of Wimpfhimer's trip to Europe.

The girls, all three of them, spoke with a slight continental accent by now. Even Hattie had acquired something in the way of articulation that was not known to the friends with whom she had been reared in Allegheny.

Wimpfhimer, who took enormous pride in allowing his family these advantages of travel and education which had been denied him as a youth, regarded his daughters as a man might an art treasure which he owned but did not quite understand through his awe.

They were the precious objets d'art of the whole lifetime of his struggle for attainment. They were the porcelains out of his workaday life among the dross of smelting and steel. And the plain Hattie Hamburger whom he had married out of an Allegheny millinery shop had struggled her way upward along with these exotic offspring of theirs.

The Hattie Hamburger of the dark, slim, pretty face and delicate half-hesitant ways that had made him fall in love with her, was a far cry from the slim sophisticated woman of the world, who travelled about with a personal maid, a chauffeur, and in new countries a courier, to say nothing of the three dark, handsome girls who were quite the talk of the resorts they frequented.

Their sillinesses, dear sillinesses, such as the manipulation of the name, the mannerism Celeste-Francesa had of wearing her wing-black hair slick down over one ear and the other ear exposed, and dangling a long, pear-shaped diamond; the dangerous predeliction of Eustasia for aeroplane travel and Philberta's expensive trick of becoming Papa Wimpfhimer spent his best days getting money out of steel for his golden beast of a family to spend abroad—on the French or Italian Riviera, just outside of Paris, or near Vienna.

He was a pudgy little man, with a paunch and a German accent. They were beautiful women, his wife and three daughters, who spoke with a slight continental accent that suggested education, travel and a cosmopolitan sophistication.

And then came the news that Papa Wimpfhimer was coming abroad, just when his presence might do the most harm.

Papa Wimpfhimer, Prince of fathers, king of husbands.

Papa Wimpfhimer, gentleman at heart.

engaged to an impecunious Sicilian prince were tedious, of course. Even more than that if one allowed one's self to think. But Wimpfhimer did not stop to cerebrate about this complex family of his. He loved them because of their shortcomings rather than in spite of them.

It was when Philberta became engaged to the Sicilian prince, however, and put the dower proposition in writing to her father, that Wimpfhimer, staggered for even one of his largesse, decided, without benefit of cable conslutation, to take the first boat for Paris, a wireless from the boat being the first intimation his family had of the impending event of his arrival.

The situation it created among the four women was peculiar. To each, in her way, the news struck a kind of knell. Philberta herself, who had secretly planned out a hurried marriage in Paris and a subsequent introduction of her prince to her parent, was the only one of the four to display any surface emotion. She was frankly hysterical. Sobbing for two days after the receipt of the cable and denying herself to all callers, the Prince included.

Philberta had to think and think fast. Her none too personable father's untimely arrival might spoil all!

The Wimples were giving a large and important dinner just two days after the scheduled arrival of the boat. Their invitations had been out a fortnight, following the announcement of Philberta's engagement.

Even Hattie herself, confronted with the impending arrival of her husband, found herself crushing back the most incredible, the most terrifying, thoughts.

If only—if only—if only the ship would go down! It was on that thought that she leaped out of bed, that sleepness night of her panic, and began pacing the room until dawn. Shamed. Frightened. Degraded by the thoughts that raced through her brain.

If only the ship would go down. Oh, it was too horrible that she should be capable of even the thought.

And that is precisely what happened. At five o'clock of a morning as milky with fog as opal, the gigantic ocean liner that was bearing Wimpfhimer to Cherbourg crashed into an iceberg that splintered her asunder as if she had been so much egg shell!

By noon of that same day Paris had the bewildering news of it.

The Superba had struck ice! The Superba was sunk! Five thousand souls had gone down with the Superba. Those were the first street reports of the disaster.

The news came first to the four women up through the heavy Cluny lace curtains of their apartment at the Ritz.

The Superba was sunk.

Holding the first edition of the extra in hands that seemed frozen to it, Hattie Wimpfhimer and her daughters read the scare heads.

The largest ship afloat had gone down, bearing with it the most cheery giver, the most generous provider, the most chivalrous rough diamond in the world.

The father, who all their lives had given so freely and asked nothing in return; the husband, who had, through his own generosity, built up this golden beast of a household and did not mind it crushing him; this incomparable man had been drowned. This simple gentleman who was just that in the truest sense of the word.

The three frozen daughters and Hattie sitting there drenched in the horror of belated realization.

It was as if the world had turned to amber and they were sitting inside, trapped in the unreality.

Wimpfhimer, giver, gentleman at heart, prince of fathers and king of husbands, had been drowned.

No wonder that for fourteen hours these women huddled in those apartments of silver and crystal and lace, flayed to the heart.

The Superba had gone down, all right, true to the head lines, except that the Gigantic, answering her S.O.S. calls, had stood by. There was no loss of life with the exception of the captain, who jumped.

Sigmund Wimpfhimer lived to tell the thrilling tale and to walk in to dinner with his regal wife and three medieaval looking young daughters the night of the engagement dinner at the Ritz.

The young Sicilian prince, who was enchanted with him and liked to make him say "can't" for the American inflection of it, took his own mother in to dinner because Philberta would not let go of her pudgy, dear papa's arm.

In fact, long before the evening was over, Mr. Wimpfhimer had drunk a deep, a good-humored, an indulgent toast to his future son-in-law, the prince was already, and with an affection that had nothing to do with the '87 Pomeroy, addressing his future father-in-law as Pappa Wimpfhimer!
