Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

As Talker sits down for this morning's dissertation he finds himself called upon to answer a troublesome question—what to do about telephone electioneering by the wives of the candidates. Here it is put right up to Talker in a letter from "A Reader":

Dear Talker,

"It is so comforting to have some one to take all the puzzling things of life to, and get all his or her line of thought straightened out.

"The newest humorous irritating incident to claim one's attention at this time is the prevalent custom of telephone electioneering, by the wives of the candidates.

"To take one's hands out of the dishwater, or away from the frying steak, or hurriedly leaving a crying baby, and I have even had them call me in the middle of an afternoon nap, at two-thirty of the hottest summer day, would you believe it? To be interrupted in those busy, hurried hours, to stand and listen to the life-history and eulogyzation of some man you never saw—well after you get over the irritation, then the humor of it strikes your funny-bone.

"The telephone is a privilege we buy, and is it quite fair to have it constantly commercialized by advertisers and men running for office? It is on a par with running boldly through one's home, or over one's property—it is dishonest and an imposition.

"What do you think, Talker, and how are we going to rid ourselves of the nuisance?

"A Reader."

Merci! What can a poor Talker, who would like to give a pleasing answer, say? To tell Reader that she is too easily irritated would be displeasing to one who is trustful in Talker, and to tell her that she is quite right about it and that electioneering over the telephone is an unmitigated nuisance might wound the feelings of some other woman who is already overwrought over her husband's chances of election.

We'll blame telephone electioneering on woman suffrage. Who ever heard of the telephone being used to solicit votes before women voted? There are a lot of things we hadn't heard of before that time.

And if any candidate's wife can find the phone at Talker's house when it isn't giving a busy signal, it is more than Talker has ever been able to do.

Ringing the telephone in the home of somebody we don't know and who don't know us is like going up and ringing their doorbell only it can be done with a little less physical effort. But more and more, business is being conducted over the telephone. The favorite clerk in the department store calls you up to give you advance information about a sale, the civic committeewoman to tell you about a Browning lecture, the missionary society member to remind you of the ice cream supper, and how adept these women politicians are in blocking off the names in a telephone directory, asigning to each the names of those beginning with "A," "B" and so on through the alphabet, to call.

But to get back to Reader's question as to what Talker thinks about it and what can be done about it. A man simply can't get a woman's attitude in such a matter. A male is flattered at the recognition of his own importance when a woman calls him to ask him to vote for somebody. Maybe a woman ought to have some feeling of sympathy for another woman whose husband is a candidate and who joins him in the gruelling struggle of the campaign. A man could imagine the aspiration, the expectant hope, the fighting loyalty of a candidate's wife which kept her at the telephone through weary hours calling names which were strange to her. A man could, and perhaps would, let his imagination run and be tolerant and not unkindly. But it must be said that women are notoriously unsympathetic with those of their own sex and that most of them would see in such a call only another bothersome and annoying ring of the telephone.

Perhaps the man wouldn't be so good natured and polite about it if the ring was about the hundredth of the day, if it waked up the baby, called him from the frying steak or disturbed the afternoon nap.

Women are practical souls and men are dreamers and romanticists. If it wasn't for the practicality and the matter of factness of the women this old world would get all muddled up in a day.

Perhaps it might be well to discriminate between the wife of a candidate at the telephone and some woman he has hired or promised a job. A wife's solicitation ought to be, at least, a mitigating circumstance.

Talker fears he has been disappointing in his answer to Reader, or rather his failure to make any satisfactory answer, and he has a sort of sinking feeling about what he said about women in general.

LIONS EAT 20 NATIVES

NAIROBI, British East Africa, July 21. (AP)—Lions which frequently menace parts of Uganda have become unusually bold, devouring 20 natives in the Ankole and Masaka districts in the last three weeks. The government has sent hunters after the beast.

WRECKAGE SCATTERS

Mysterious Circumstances Surround Aerial Disaster

MEOPHAM, Kent, England, July 21. (AP)—Six persons including the Viscountess Ednam, a woman of rare beauty and a close friend of the Prince of Wales, plunged to death when a mid-air explosion tore to shreds an "air taxi," speeding a party of distinguished society folk to Croydon from a week-end at Le Touquet, France.

Mrs. Henrik Loeffler, another woman famed alike for her beauty and the receptions she gave at her elaborate home in Grosvenor Square, Mayfair, was a victim. Mrs. Loeffler's receptions were among the most important events of the London society season.

Village Shocked

The Marquis of Dufferin and Ava and Sir Edward Ward, who moved in the same exclusive circles; Lieut.-Col. George L. P. Henderson, an airman with a fine flying record, the plane's chief pilot and a Mr. Shearing, 28-years-old assistant pilot, completed the death role of the fearful happening.

This afternoon this picturesque hamlet four miles south of Gravesend was startled by a roar in the sky and a terrific detonation. Villagers who looked skyward saw the Junkers plane, a machine owned by the Henderson Flying school, and lent to the Walcot Air Lines, Limited, suddenly fly into bits.

The bodies of all of the occupants hurtled earthward and fell in a cluster in a garden next to a cottage. The rest of the outfit, wings, engine and cabin were flung about for hundreds of yards.

Major Disaster

Today's crash was one of the worst disasters in the history of British commercial aviation, because of the prominence of its victims as well as their number. It followed closely upon another gruesome tragedy of the air which oc-

Highest Building To Have 'Lookout'

NEW YORK, July 21. (UP)—New Yorkers who are just getting used to the Chrysler building's domination of the mid-town skyline, where its silver spire pierces the sky 1,046 feet above the street level, soon will be able to look down on the city from a platform almost 200 feet above that point.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith president of the company erecting the New Empire State building, announced that plans have been changed to include a public observation gallery at the 1,222-foot level.

The building will rise to a total height of 1,248 feet, almost a quarter of a mile above the street, an equivalent of 102 stories. It is scheduled to be completed by May 1, 1931.

Naval Flier Given New High Command

WASHINGTON, July 21. (US)—Captain Kenneth Whiting, U. S. N., naval aviator now under orders to command the U. S. naval air station at Hampton Roads, Va., today was given the additional detail of commanding the fifth naval district, with headquarters at that post.

Captain Whiting is one of the navy's pioneer fliers, and an authority on aircraft carriers.

U. S. Motor Vehicle Production Decreases

WASHINGTON, July 21. (US)—Production of motor vehicles in the United States in June totaled 335,475 as against 545,932 in June of last year, the commerce department reported today.

Plane Caravan Lands At New York For Night's Stop

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., July 21. (AP)—Lee Gehlbach, a Little Rock, Ark., entry, finished the first day of the all-American air derby with a 23-minute lead toward the first prize of $15,000 for the fastest elapsed time over a 5,500-mile swing around the country.

The race started at Detroit this morning, with a stop at Buffalo. Gehlbach came in first on both legs. At Buffalo Robert T. Quinby of Moline, Ill., was a close second with Herman Hamer of Chicago, a close third. By the time they got here, however, Quinby had dropped back to 12th place, Hamer moving up to second, and L. R. Bayles of Springfield, Mass., edging into third.

In landing at Buffalo the official derby plane and an entry piloted by John Kruttschnitt of San Mateo, Calif., nosed over in a gusty wind but no serious damage was done and both ships continued after repairs. There was almost an accident just north of New York City, when the engine in the entry piloted by S. T. Stanton of Blackwell, Okla., faltered, Stanton was about to go over the side and re-

CONOCO CUTS OIL TAKINGS

50 Per Cent Reduction In Runs Announced

In a bulletin issued Monday from the Continental Oil company headquarters in Ponca City, Okla., the company announced that effective Aug. 1, 7 a. m. a reduction of 50 per cent in its purchases of oil from the leases to which it has connections would be made. "The average runs being based on the amount of oil run from these leases during the months of May and June.

The reduction in its purchases of crude affects the counties comprising the Wichita Falls district traversed by its pipe lines. Following is the announcement:

"Effective 7 a. m., Aug. 1, 1930, Continental Oil company has directed its connecting carrier, the Continental Pipe Line company, to run for its account, from leases to which it is connected in Wichita, Archer, Young and Jack counties, Texas, an amount of oil equal to 50 per cent of its average runs during May and June of this year.

"The Continental Oil company has been reluctant to put such an order in effect but, due to our decreased requirements for crude from this area, we must more nearly equalize our purchases and deliveries.

"As in the past, the Continental Pipe Line company will accept, for tender shipment equal to its capacity, oil from any lease to which it is connected, for delivery to connecting carriers or refiners contiguous to its lines."

Woman Commits Suicide After Double Slaying

GENEVA, Ill., July 21. (INS)—Crazed by financial worries, a farm wife early this morning hacked her husband and son to death with a hatchet, set their home on fire, and then fatally slashed herself.

That is the way authorities reconstruct the scene which preceded discovery of the bodies of Mrs. Charles A. Anderson, Charles A. Anderson, 55, her husband, and Willis Anderson, 18, the son.

America Ships Fish Eggs to Chile Waters

WASHINGTON, July 21. (US)—A million salmon, trout and whitefish eggs, shipped to Chile for the stocking of rivers and lakes there as a gift from the United States to the South American country, have arrived in excellent condition, the commerce department bureau of fisheries announced today.

EARGLE ASKED TO RESIGN POST AFTER BATTLE

Bob Long's Adversary In Fistic Clash Admits 'Indiscretion'

TROUBLE CLEARED UP

University Lease Inquiry Upset by Physical Combat

AUSTIN, July 21. (AP)—Resignation of J. O. Eargle, special auditor for the university land leasing investigation committee, was asked by the committee today because of an "indiscreet" loan made to Eargle by W. R. Long, university auditor, while Eargle was auditing Long's books.

At the same time, the committee went on record as commending the work of S. M. McLaren, in charge of the special audit, and the state auditor's office, after a dozen or more charges which had resulted in a fist fight earlier in the day, had been sifted.

Bob Long in Fight

The fight was between Representative Bob Long of Wichita Falls, and Eargle when Long first made his charges of unethical conduct and Eargle threatened to throw him out the window. Subsequently both men, slightly battle scarred, testified under oath, Long making his specific charge and Eargle admitting he had acted indiscreetly.

The ensuing discussion, however, brought in the names of McLaren and Moore Lynn, state auditor, both of whom were present at the hearing, and McLaren vountarily took the stand to explain he had heard much indirect criticism of his work, and had also heard Representative Long say he "knew something" on the state auditor, "enough to hang his hide as high as a Christmas tree."

Trouble Smoothed Out

Lynn demanded to know what Long meant, and Long explained he simply was referring to the state auditor's recommendation that Long be denied the right to look over the work of the auditors until they had finished. All differences finally were smoothed over and the request for Eargle's resignation, and a note of humor crept in shortly before the session ended with the statement of McLaren:

"Politics are all new to me. I'm an auditor and auditors have to be honest."

It was brought out that the committee possibly may be able to start taking testimony by Nov. 1. McLaren was authorized to employ more men for the audit, as well as increase salaries of men employed whom he thought required a higher pay. It was learned also that the committee had discharged another employe "because he talked too much."

Burk Pastor Conducts Meeting at Fluvanna

Special to The Record News

BURKBURNETT, Texas, July 21.—The Rev. Willis Kreager, pastor of the local Church of Christ, is in Fluvanna City where he will conduct a two-weeks revival meeting. He will be assisted by the pastor of the Fluvanna Church of Christ.

Rev. Mr. Kreager closed a successful two-weeks revival meeting at Spanish Fort last week. In the absence of Mr. Kreager from his pulpit of the local church, Charles Johnson, well known evangelist worker has been in charge of the services.

U. S. Launches Survey Of Nation's Airports

WASHINGTON, July 21. (US)—A nationwide survey of airport drainage and surfacing was launched by the commerce department today under the direction of Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary for aeronautics.

The object is to determine the most economical and efficient means of draining flying fields, and the best material for surfacing them. Thousands of dollars are being wasted due to failures and unproductive experiments.

VOTER HUNTS BAND WAGON

Numerous Claims Becloud Political Outlook

(By The Associated Press)

The "band wagon" days are at hand in Texas politics and the four remaining days of campaigning before the first primary will see each of the seven stumping candidates for governor telling his scattered audiences that he is a cinch to get into the runoff.

The claims already have been made but they will be emphasized and perhaps enlarged before Saturday, the theory being that a considerable portion of the voters is anxious to "ride" a winner.

Mrs. Ferguson Strong

All the active candidates except Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson maintain headquarters at Dallas, and supporters of at least four of these aspirants to the state's chief executive post say that Mrs. Ferguson will be the "other candidate" in the runoff.

Observers see in these concessions to Mrs. Ferguson one of those three possibilities: That she will be in the runoff, that each of the other candidates would like to oppose her in the second primary because he feels that she would be the easiest to beat, or that the Ferguson strength in past elections has given a false impression of strength in the current race.

While Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, "Farmer Jim," were resting Monday, each of the other active candidates was making at least two speeches.

Miniature golf and similar game courses operated commercially passed into the category of legally regulated amusement in Wichita Falls at exactly 8:17 o'clock Monday night.

Acting with great deliberation and care but without loss of time upon an ordinance prepared during the past week by Thelbert Martin, city attorney, the city council declared that the rapid and promiscuous development of such enterprises locally during the past 30 days had precipitated an emergency, suspended the 10-day abeyance rule, and passed the ordinance unanimously upon its first, second, and third readings.

Emergency Reading

Under provisions of the measure which became an ordiance Monday night, putt-putt golf courses, driving courses, etc., may now be operated within the corporate limits only by procuring a permit from the city manager and the payment of an annual fee of $25. Owners of courses in regular operation on or before Monday, July 21, at 8:17 p. m. will be ollowed to continue operation upon payment of the annual fee as provided by the ordinance. Owners or operators of other proposed courses will be required to make application to the city manager for a permit, and will be required to show written permit of any property owners or occupants within 100 feet of any por-

CROWD CHEERS G. WILLIAMS

3,300 Hear Congressman's Speech Here

The largest crowd at a political rally this year turned out Monday night when approximately 3,300 persons heard Guinn Williams, candidate for re-election to congress from the 13th district, outline his policies on questions of local, state and national importance in an address at the Memorial auditorium grounds.

The estimate on the attendance was made by C. C. Bunnenberg, city park superintendent. The assembly was larger by several hundred persons than any which has attended an address by a political speaker here since the present campaign opened.

Crowd in Good Humor

In addition to its size, the crowd was unusual in view of the good humor and applause shown toward the speaker. Practically every one of Representative Williams' statements in connection with his stand on matters of importance met with heavy applause and after one or two statements in connection with the oil industry, persons in the audience shouted, "You're elected!" At other times, several listeners

SESSION ADJOURNED

Hoover Fails to Respond Orally to News Of Victory

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—The London treaty limiting all classes of ships in the American, British and Japanese navies was ratified today by the senate by a vote of 58 to 9.

The final roll call came quickly after a dozen reservations were overwhelmed. The militant band of opponents under Senator Johnson, Republican, California, saw the inevitable and yielded to the heat and the dominant majority.

One reservation was adopted but it requires no new negotiations among the signatory powers and with the formal ratification of the treaty by Great Britain and Japan the document will go into effect.

Robinson and Reed Present

Two of those who helped frame the agreement at London early this year participated in the two weeks debate and were present to see the formal ratification—Senators Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, and Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania.

News of the ratification was quickly flashed to the White House but President Hoover who had called the special session for consideration of the treaty withheld any statement.

With the treaty contest ended, the senate adjourned the special session sine die. It will reassamble in December along with the house for the three months short session. The next four months will be the longest time congress has not been in session since President Hoover took office more than 16 months ago.

Norris Reservation

Seven Republicans and two Democrats voted against the treaty while five others were paired against it, including one Republican, three Democrats and the Farmer-Labor member, Shipstead of Minnesota.

The one reservation which was accepted by the senate was offered by Senator Norris, Republican, Ne-

Quarry Reveals Bodies Of Three Slain Children

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., July 21. (UP)—The bodies of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Hott were found today in an abandoned quarry on the outskirts of this city. The children had been murdered before they were thrown in the quarry, police believe.

Hott and his wife were questioned shortly after the bodies were identified. They said Hott had taken the children to visit friends named Kidwell who lived in the Blue Ridge mountains, yesterday.

Police were attempting to locate the Kidwell family while detectives questioned the Hotts further. No arrests have been made.

Texan Throws Doubt On Great Age of Zaro Agha

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, July 21. (UP)—A Texan who claims the personal acquaintance of Zaro Agha, famous old Turk, tonight scoffed at the latter's boast of 156 years.

"I met him in Constantinople in 1923," said N. B. Andreas, merchant and world traveler. "At that time he said he was 115 years old and even then the customs officers laughed at him and said he was not more than 90 and had been bragging about his age for years."

One Woman Killed, Four Hurt In Series of Automobile Accidents

One woman was killed, three were seriously injured, and a boy suffered a broken leg in a series of automobile accidents at Sayre and Randlett, Okla., and at Iowa Park late Monday.

The name of the fatally injured woman was not revealed by her companion, who also kept her own identity a secret.

Mrs. Frances Williams of Iowa Park, suffered a fractured skull and other injuries when she was struck down by an automobile as she was crossing the street in front of her home.

Mrs. Cecil Cox of Walters, Okla., was badly hurt and Azell Blair, Randlett, sustained a broken leg in a head-on collision on the Lawton highway near Randlett.

Mrs. Williams and Azell Blair were rushed to the Wichita General hospital for treatment. Mrs. Cox is under the care of physicians in a Lawton hospital.

'Last Man's' Toast to Comrades Proves Old Burgundy Holds Flavor

STILLWATER, Minn., July 21. (AP)—A weary old soldier sipped a toast in bright bergundy today, faithfully fulfilling his covenant with the dead and writing the final chapter in the saga of the Last Man's club.

About the long table, which had Charley Lockwood at its head, stood 38 vacant chairs, each with a bow of black, as the 87-year-old veteran of the civil war drank wine in memory of his comrades fulfilling a vow of 45 years standing.

His thin face was touched with an expression of deep solemnity as Lockwood repeated a bit of verse and poured from the bottle set aside at the organization meeting of the club a swallow of the amber liquid. He quaffed it as the members had decreed when they first met July 21, 1885, to observe the anniversary of the Battle of Bull Run in which they fought together.

Each year there was a reunion and each year there were more vacant chairs but today was the first when only one veteran appeared. With his promise kept, Lockwood closed the records of the club and prepared to return to his home at Chamberlain, S. D., for no longer will there be reunions—the destiny of the organization has been reached.

But Lockwood made one unexpected discovery as he drank from the prize set aside for the winner of the race with death. The burgundy tasted as it should. It was neither sour nor vinegar-like as it was supposed to be. Peter Hall, who was next to the last man, could not restrain his curiosity and sampled the wine three years ago and announced it had turned to vinegar.

At Sterling's Dallas headquarters, Charlie Abbott gave out the results of three surveys which he said had been made by unprejudiced organizations. These showed Sterling and Ferguson running neck and neck with one giving third to Barry Miller and the others giving that place to Clint Small.

Abbott said motorcades would be busy for Sterling in a number of counties between now and election day. Each motorcade will make two or three precincts in the county every night, he stated.

Young to Flay Love

Dallas headquarters for Jim Young said that Young would climax his attack on Thomas B. Love in Dallas, Love's home city, Tuesday night. The move was said to be in retaliation for Love's action Saturday in using Young as his main target in Kaufman, Young's home.

Young was in Mineral Wells Monday afternoon and at Stephenville Monday night. He said he was receiving encouraging reports from the 70 volunteer speakers who were at work for him.

Love issued a statement Monday, predicting a "bed rock" total vote for him of 246,000 votes. He said his estimate was based on his vote for lieutenant governor in 1928 and on the vote for President Hoover that year.

"I believe I will receive substantially more votes than this estimated total," the Dallas senator said, "but if it should prove to be 20 per cent too high, I would still be assured of 192,000 votes which is surely 50,000 votes more than any other candidate will receive."

At Clarksville Monday afternoon, Love stressed his views on taxation and highways rather than his opposition to "Tammany."

He was booked for Paris Monday night.

Young Mayfield Speaks

John Mayfield spoke over radio station KTAT at Fort Worth for his father, Earle B. Mayfield, Monday morning. The elder Mayfield planned a radio campaign over the same station Tuesday and Wednesday mornings from 8 to 8:30.

"The past few days, I have received warmer receptions than ever before," the former United States senator said.

Harlee Morrison, formerly of Terrell but who will be with the Peacock Military academy at Dallas this fall, will speak for Mayfield at Wills Point Tuesday afternoon and at Grand Saline Tuesday night. Mayfield was at Alvarado Monday afternoon and at Cleburne Monday night.

Clint Small brought his campaign to Dallas Monday night, part of his speech being broadcast from station WFAA. He took an airplane to Jacksonville in order to fill a speaking engagement there Monday afternoon.

Murrell Buckner, Dallas county Democratic chairman, said the Panhandle senator was certain to go into the run-off unless "West Texas quits." Temple Atkins of Shamrock, Small's brother-in-law, said he had been in 16 counties west of Fort Worth and that the Wellington man would get three-fourths of the vote in the sections he visited.

Cline to Speak

Walter Cline of Wichita Falls will speak over radio station WBAP at Fort Worth in Small's behalf from 6 to 7 o'clock Tuesday night. This is one of a series of scheduled addresses for Small over that station.

County Judge Sam Lowe of Brenham notified Barry Miller headquarters at Dallas that a big rally for the lieutenant governer was planned there Thursday night. Senator A. J. Wirtz of Seguin will be one of the chief speakers, Lowe said.

A similar rally also will be held at El Paso Thursday, Miller headquarters said. Miller was at Waxahachie Monday, at Fort Worth Monday night, the Fort Worth speech being broadcast over station KTAT.

The Dallas Labor Non-Political league Monday endorsed Miller for governor as well as R. L. Bobbitt for attorney general, H. L. Darwin for lieutenant governor and Mat Patton for railroad commissioner.

Brother of Two Men Slain In Dalhart Fight Held in Jail Here

The revelation that Bert Dillinger, brother of Lon and Orrell Dillinger who were fatally wounded near Dalhart Saturday in a gun fight which cost the life of Sheriff George Alexander of Dallam county, has been a prisoner in the Wichita county jail for the past year was made here Monday by Sheriff W. G. Bralley.

Dillinger was placed in the county jail here on July 31, 1929, only a few days less than one year ago. He was brought here from Dalhart for safe-keeping while his appeal from a 25-year sentence on a conviction for white capping was pending. A motion for a rehearing was filed in his behalf recently after the court of criminal appeals had affirmed the conviction. In a previous trial on the charge, he had been sentenced to 99 years but a second trial reduced the penalty to 25 years, according to information given in the sheriff's department Monday afternoon. The original charge grew out of the alleged kidnaping and beating of a Mexican who had been called as a witness in a liquor case.

Sheriff Bralley said the prisoner here received the word of his brothers' deaths without show of emotion Monday morning. The shooting near Dalhart occurred Saturday when Sheriff Alexander and two deputies attempted to arrest Lon Dillinger for jumping a bond on a liquor charge.

Negro Held on Charge of Robbing Servant House at Judge's Home

Arthur Osborn, negro, already under indictment in connection with the theft of several automobile tires, Monday faced another charge when he was named in a complaint charging burglary of the servant house at the home of Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court, from which two rugs were taken several days ago, according to information given by Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney.

The negro was arrested on suspicion by police following an attempt to sell the two rugs which Mrs. Martin Monday identified as her property. When questioned Monday afternoon in the district attorney's office by Mr. Anglin and City Detectives F. E. Summers and A. L. Stubblefield, the negro said he had been coming down the alley behind Judge Martin's home and had found the rugs lying in the alley. In the event of Osborn's indictment, the case against him will probably be set for trial in the 30th district court, since Judge Martin could not occupy the bench in the trial of a person accused of burglarizing his own property, it was pointed out.

Sartin to Speak At Rally Tonight

B. D. Sartin of Wichita Falls, candidate for congress from the 13th district, will inaugurate his "Sartin week" in the county with a rally here Tuesday night at the Memorial auditorium grounds beginning at 8:15 o'clock, according to an announcement Monday.

The Lions club band will give a concert in the downtown section and form a parade to the auditorium grounds where they will play for 15 minutes prior to the speaking. Mr. Sartin will open his address at 8:30 o'clock. He will be introduced by R. O. Kenley while W. B. Corlett, president of the Sartin-for-Congress club, will preside at the meeting. The principal address will be broadcast over station KGKO from 8:45 until 9:45 o'clock.

Mr. Sartin spoke Monday night in Iowa Park. His schedule calls for addresses at Electra Wednesday night and at Burkburnett Thursday night, concluding his Wichita county campaign. He has made more than 100 addresses in the nearby counties since opening his campaign for congress.

Sixteen of the 18 derby planes landed here in a period of an hour and 25 minutes, but the other two had ill luck. One, piloted by Harvey C. Mummert of Hammondsport, N. Y., cracked up at Kingsley, Pa. Mummert telegraphed that he escaped injury. Edgar B. Todd of Pueblo, Colo., got off his course and landed at Norwich, Conn., with empty tanks.

Tomorrow the fliers leave for Cincinnati at 8 a. m. (E.S.T.) and the next day they go to Little Rock. There are no scheduled way stops on either of these days.

The fliers reached this field in the following order: Gehlbach, Hamer, Bayles, J. R. Wedell of New Orleans; B. B. Smith of Portland, Ore.; Stanton, Charles Meyers of Cleveland; H. H. Ogden of Englewood, Calif.; Joe Meehan of Ironton, Ohio; R. A. Hosler of Detroit; William Cahill of Cleveland; Quinby Larry Brown of Los Angeles; C. H. Codfin of Brooklyn, N. H.; Holladay and Kruttschnitt.

SAN ANGELO TO GREET CARAVAN

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 21. (AP)—Preparations were completed today to entertain the 18 fliers who started the all-American air derby at Detroit, Mich., today, when they stop here Friday. San Angelo is one of nine scheduled stops on the 5,520-mile flight.

Visit of the racers here will coincide with inaugural of night flying at the $65,000 Municipal airport.

R. L. Budlong Dies Here at Age of 60

R. L. Budlong, 60, former operator of a butcher shop here, died at his home, 1511 Twelfth street, about 6:30 o'clock Monday evening following an extended illness. The body was taken in charge by the Hines mortuary.

Funeral services will be held from the Hines chapel at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment will be in Rosemont.

Mr. Budlong is survived by his widow, who has operated a millinery shop at 905A Ninth street for some time. He had been retired from active business life for some time on account of his illness. For several years he was the owner of a meat market here.

Aeronautical exports from France last year were valued at $8,577,320.

NAVAL TREATY WINS APPROVAL

Senate Ratifies London Arms Compact

braska, which stipulated that in ratifying the treaty the senate withheld approval of any secret agreements or understandings which might exist in relation to the treaty.

This disposed of one of the big fighting points in the treaty controversy. After President Hoover had refused to give the senate all the papers and documents relating to the London negotiations, Senator Norris introduced his resolution.

Mr. Hoover invited the senate to inspect the papers confidentially and assured the senate there were no secret understandings but when he refused to send the documents to the legislators, Senator Norris, backed by a considerable group, insisted on the reservation of protection.

The heart of the treaty was regarded as the cruiser provision. Since the Washington conference of 1922 when a limitation was placed on battleships, Great Britain and Japan have far outdistanced the United States in construction of cruisers.

Under the treaty further construction in cruisers by these other two maritime nations is stopped while America builds up her fleet of cruisers to an allowed limit of 18 eight-inch gun ships and 18 six-inch gun ships.

Supported by the navy general board, Senators Johnson and Hale, Republican, Maine, the chairman of the naval committee, waged a vigorous assault on this provision. They insisted this country be allowed to construct more of the eight-inch gun cruisers which they argued were the only cruisers adaptable to American naval needs.

Titled Britons Killed in Crash

curred on July 7 when a flying boat in the Steppin-Kalmar-Stockholm service was forced down in the Baltic near Bornholm and broke into bits in a stormy sea.

Eyewitnesses were agreed that today's disaster was a mysterious one but that it occurred, not from a mishap after a forced landing but from some accident taking place while the machine actually was in flight. A queer feature was the finding of one of the plane's wings fully two miles from the scene where the bodies and engine came down.

The lieutenant colonel was breathing when villagers reached his side. He died a few minutes later in a doctor's house in the village.

Party Friends

Investigators learned that all of the passengers, well known to one another, had spent a week-end at the gay French resort. Lord Dufferin and Sir Edward had been staying over the week-end at Mrs. Loeffler's villa. Lady Ednam was paying a visit to London after attending her sick husband at Le Touquet. She had not originally booked a place in the plane but finding at the last minute that there was a vacant seat had decided to make the journey.

Charles Shearing, second pilot of the craft, was the sixth victim. Shearing was a seasoned flier.

It was stated here tonight that Assistant Pilot Charles Shearing had done much flying in America. He returned from there a year ago last October.

BLESS AUTOMOBILES

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 21. (AP)—Automobiles of the parishoners of the church of the immaculate conception here are being given the blessing of St. Christopher, Patron Saint of Travelers, by Father Bonaventure. The rite, the parishioners believe, renders the automobiles immune from accidents.

Roll Call Of Treaty Ballot

WASHINGTON, July 21. (UP)—The roll call by which the senate ratified the London naval treaty at 4:30 p. m. today, by adoption of the Borah ratification resolution with the Norris anti-secrecy amendment attached, follows;

City Regulates Golf Courses

tion of the proposed course in order to be eligible for such permit. The ordinance stipulates that the city manager shall investigate the location and surroundings, and report to the city council with his recommendations. Should the aldermen question the advisability of issuing any permit recommended by the city manager, the ordinance provides, a public hearing will be called for the purpose of obtaining testimony of all parties concerned before decision on the application is rendered.

The adopted measure further stipulates that annual licenses may be renewed upon the payment of $25 for each year of such renewal provided the applicant for renewal has not been found guilty of violating any of the provisions of the ordinance.

Section 4 of the new ordinance stipulates that such amusement courses may not be opened before 8:30 a. m., and must have all lights extinguished at 11 p. m.

Protest Filed

Regulation of play at such places was extended by the ordinance to the prohibition of gambling in any form, betting on games by either players or spectators, and to the exclusion of any musical or other sound-making device which might reasonably be caluculated to disturb the peace of the public.

Penalty for violation of any of the provisions of the measure was fixed at a fine of from $10 to $200, and cancellation of permit to operate. In case of such cancellation, no new permit will be issued to the same owner or operator until six months have elapsed.

P. F. Gwinn, justice of the peace; Col. W. S. Langford, J. H. Patton, and other citizens were present at the council meeting to protest against the establishment of more miniature golf courses in the city, and against the continuance of play beyond the hour of 11 p. m.

Al Ellis, recorder of Maskat Temple, and Odell Ballew, master counselor of Hope Chapter, DeMolay, stated that the council will be asked in September to approve the installation of local DeMolay members in all city offices for one day at a date to be selected. The practice of turning over the reins of city government temporarily to members of the order has become nation-wide during the past two years.

Alderman R. O. Harvey, C. E. McCutchen, J. H. Prothro, E. H. Eddleman, J. M. Spoonts, Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., George D. Fairtrace, city manager, city clerk W. E. McBroom, and city attorney Thelbert Martin, attended Monday night's meeting.

The French government, by decree, has eliminated foreign development of its civil airways.

YOUNG RALLY HERE CANCELED

Hudspeth Asks West Texans to Aid Candidate

The scheduled rally here Tuesday night in behalf of the candidacy of Jim Young for governor was called off Monday following receipt of word of the illness of Claude Hudspeth of El Paso, who was to have been the principal speaker, according to an announcement from C. C. McDonald.

Jed Adams and Mr. McDonald were also scheduled to speak at the rally but conflict with other speakings at the auditorium grounds and the fact that station KGKO was chartered for the speech of B. D. Sartin, candidate for congress, caused the decision to cancel the engagement, it was explained.

In notifying friends here of his illness, Mr. Hudspeth issued a statement from his sick bed calling upon West Texas voters to lend their support to Jim Young. The statement pointed out numerous instances in which Jim Young brought about legislation and government action which subsequently benefited "millions of farmers in West Texas where Small benefited probably a hundred with his bill that reserved to riparian owners a few acres of land in the bed of a creek." Mr. Hudspeth also attacked Tom Love in his statement, calling him "Thomas N. Buncombe Love."

Two Killed in Air Crash at Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 21. (AP)—T. J. May Jr., and William Morris, both of this city were killed and their bodies burned here late today when their airplane fell from a height of about 300 feet. Morris was at the controls and May was a passenger. The cause of the crash was undetermined.

Airmail service to transatlantic steamers will be speeded by lines from Cologne, Germany, and Basle, Switzerland, to Cherbourg, France.

Travel time between Milan, Italy, and Munich, Germany, has been cut to two hours and 45 minutes by airplanes.

Nash value greater than ever
EIGHTS and SIXES

Recent developments stress the fact that Nash gives more for the money

Amid all new claims and counter-claims, one fact stands out as clear and as strong as sunlight.

That is the unmistakably greater value which you get when you buy a Nash.

No other car at anywhere near the Nash price affords the pronounced advantages of Nash—including such features as twin ignition, with its greater power, speed, smoothness, and saving of oil and gas.

Such a feature as twin ignition is highly important—but it is even more important as indicative of the superior engineering and in-built value which distinguish every Nash car.

You know Nash beauty. You may be familiar with Nash performance; Nash comfort and convenience; Nash thorough-going quality.

But until you compare what the Nash is and what it does with the remarkably low cost at which it may be purchased today—you cannot appreciate its wholly unexampled value. Come in and drive a Nash today.

CECIL STOREY MAKES REPLY

Vernon Candidate Answers Moody's Charges

HOUSTON, July 21. (AP)—Cecil Storey, candidate for the Democratic nomination to the attorney generalship, issued a statement today again denying that he was a "Jim Ferguson candidate."

His statement was in response to Gov. Dan Moody's attempt to "prove" that Storey was a "Ferguson man."

Storey said he voted for the amnesty bill because "the vindication of Jim Ferguson was an issue in the campaign when Mrs. Ferguson was elected governor" and "the people elected her by a substantial majority and the passage of the amnesty bill was in obedience to the express mandate of the people and was supported by Ferguson's political friends and those who had not been."

"I opposed the resolution for the investigation of Mrs. Ferguson in the special session of the 39th legislature because I thought if there were grounds for any such actions as contemplated thereby there was only one legal way to expend the people's money, and that was by impeachment proceedings while the legislature was then in session, and did not believe that the legislature was authorized under the law to appropriate funds for such committee to carry on such investigation after the legislature had adjourned.

"I want to say to the public once and for all I am no individual's or faction's candidate, but I welcome the support of all the people of Texas, regardless of whom they may have voted for for governor in the past, or will vote for in the future, and will never apologize for any man or woman's voting for me."

Assassin Shoots Rumanian Official

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 21. (AP)—Dr. Constantin Angelescu, acting minister of the interior in place of Dr. A. Vaidavoevod, today was shot and gravely wounded by a youthful student who invaded his office.

Dr. Angelescu who headed a special Rumanian mission to the United States in 1917 in the capacity of Rumanian minister to Washington, long occupied a high position in the Bucharest government. He had been minister of public instruction, minister of the interior and of public works and was a conspicuous figure throughout the war.

He came into disfavor when King Carol returned and was ordered prosecuted on June 9 for alleged disrespectful utterances but the charges later were said to have been dropped.

Many Wounded When Brigands Rob Train

VIENNA, July 21. (AP)—One guard was shot and many passengers wounded when brigands held up a train near Constanza, reports from that town today stated.

Bandits boarded the train while it was traveling slowly up a grade, cowed the first class passengers with revolvers and took their money and jewels.

After going through the coaches the leaders ordered the train halted and the band escaped.

One of the guards who tried to overpower a brigand was shot down, the report said. Troops and detachments of police have been sent on the trial of the train robbers.

ST. LOUIS ROBBERY

ST. LOUIS, July 21. (UP)—After binding William Guckes, 71, night watchman, with rope, three bandits robbed the Tip Top Bottling company of $3,000, and escaped here today. After obtaining the loot the bandits released Guckes.

Survey Shows How Hot-Weather Grocery Bills May Be Reduced

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)—A family of four may eat well this summer for $13.72 a week, according to a summer food budget based on current prices, made public today by the American Research foundation.

"An average of $13.72 a week spent for food will provide the family of four with all the nutritional elements necessary to physical and well being and yield intriguing summer menus," asserts a bulletin from the foundation.

"Many staples are from 20 to 40 per cent below their 1929 level, while fresh fruits and vegetables offer chances to trim tidy sums off the food budget." The budget provides:

Vegetables, including cabbage, potatoes, tomatoes, spinach, radishes, lima beans, peas, celery, asparagus and onions, to cost $1.32.

Fruits, including peaches, apples, pineapples, bananas, rhubarb and dried apricots, costing 78 cents.

Meats, including pork, bacon, lamb chops, ham and beef, costing $2.77. Margarine, two pounds, 50 cents. Canned goods, including soups, tuna fish, figs, salmon and grapefruit, $1.36. Dairy items, including cream, milk and eggs, $3.50.

Staples, including bread, tea, coffee, cocoa, flour, sugar, rice, cereal, gelatin and cheese, $3.28.

Radio Distribution Change Recommended

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—Repeal of the Davis amendment to the radio act requiring equal distribution of radio facilities between states according to population was advocated in a report of an American Bar association committee filed today with the Federal Radio commission.

The report suggested distribution of broadcasting facilities among the different states and communities so as "to give fair, efficient and equitable radio service to each."

Federal Group Picks Galveston for Meet

SAN ANTONIO, July 21. (AP)—Galveston was selected as the site of the 1931 convention of the Texas Federation of Federal Employes at the final business session of the organization here today.

The meeting developed into a contest between Houston and Galveston as 1931 convention city, but the vote of the selection committee stood 9 to 1 for the latter city.

P. S. Puppo of San Antonio was elected first president Sunday at the second day's business session of the organization. William Haensler, national organizer of the national federation, also of San Antonio, was elected secretary-treasurer. The presidents of the 14 local associations in the state were elected vice presidents of the state federation.

Youth Fatally Shot Near Neighbor's Home

BATON ROUGE, La., July 21. (AP)—Clyde Williams, 18, was shot and fatally wounded on a street in Dixie, a suburb, today, and Joe Polite, 42, a neighbor, was taken into custody and held without bail in connection with the affray. Williams died on his way to a hospital.

The sheriff's office said that Williams had been shot down as he walked down the street by Polite, who was standing on the porch of his home.

MOODY GIVES FIVE PAROLES

Clemency Granted Number Of Convicts

AUSTIN, July 21. (AP)—Five general paroles and a number of other clemency acts were announced today at the office of Gov. Dan Moody. The general paroles were:

Roy Baker, convicted of felony in Tom Green county in 1927 and sentenced to seven years imprisonment, paroled for exemplary conduct.

O. G. Roberts, convicted of burglary in Hill county in 1929, and sentenced to two years imprisonment, good conduct and to assist in support of his parents.

Harris Mears, convicted of burglary in Williamson county in 1927 and sentenced to two years imprisonment, good conduct.

O. N. Hightower, sentenced in December, 1929, for prohibition violation to a year's imprisonment; paroled to obtain medical treatment.

Louis Johnson, sentenced to 50 years for second degree murder in Brazoria county in 1913; paroled on recommendation of citizens of Brazoria county.

The furlough extension of Arch Sanders, convicted of a prohibition violation in Fannin county, was revoked because Sanders was charged with driving a car while intoxicated.

Furloughs granted included:

Archie Horton, Eastland county, felony, 10 days; Jim Burns, Grayson county, pandering, one week; Joe Valentine, McLennan county, forgery, 30 days.

35 Reported Wounded In Japanese Rioting

TOKYO, July 21. (AP)—Rengo News Agency dispatches today reported four Korean peasants killed, and 26 peasants and nine Japanese policemen wounded in rioting at Tansen, Kankyonando province, Korea, last night.

The clash grew out of the arrest of peasants in connection with alleged violations of the forestry laws. A mob of 2,000 armed with clubs and bamboo spears, seized the town office and police station. The police called reinforcements and fired on the mob, which dispersed.

GIRL'S SLAYER IN CONFESSION

Denver Man Admits Death Of Sister-in-Law

PUEBLO, Colo., July 21. (AP)—Alexander English, Denver, confessed to police here, after several hours of grilling, that he last night shot and fatally wounded Miss Theresa Spanarella, 18, his sister-in-law in Denver.

English, who was arrested when he stepped from a train here, said he shot the young woman because she had cursed him for forbidding her to see his wife.

Miss Spanarella had paused on a street corner to talk to her sister and a girl friend when a man appeared suddenly from nearby shadows and fired three shots.

Charming Home Ceremony Unites Popular Couple

A wedding ceremony beautiful in its quiet dignity was solemnized at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening at the home of Judge and Mrs. H. F. Weldon on Eleventh street, when Miss Katherine Weldon became the bride of R. Q. Davis. Dr. Nat Grafton read the impressive ring service in the presence of immediate friends and relatives.

The bride was lovely in a blue crepe ensemble with pink accessories and carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds. She entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Elizabeth Weldon.

Richard E. Davis, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man Wedding music was played softly by Edward Smith.

Directly following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for a short wedding trip. They will be at home to their friends on their return at 2209 Brown street.

Mrs. Davis has carried through her social life the quality that was voted her through her school days that of being "the most popular girl." With her attractive personality she has also a reputation as a singer.

Mr. Davis is a native of Kentucky, but has been in Texas for more than three years. He completed his education in Ogden college, one of the oldest colleges in Kentucky and in the Bowling Green Business university. A son of one of Kentucky's old families, he came to Wichita Falls with a background that has made him recognized for his ability. He is now purchasing agent for the Lehrack-Ferguson company.

Many Courtesies Tendered

Since the announcement tea given by Miss Elizabeth Weldon on Saturday, July 12, the time elapsing until the marriage was filled with honors for the bride-elect, given by her many friends.

Among the functions of the past week, Miss Mildred Sherrod entertained with a bridge shower, Miss Margaret Kendall with a swim and breakfast at the Country club, Miss Dell Hatchitt entertained , with bridge-luncheon and shower, Miss Margaret Hines and Mrs. Louis Hodges gave one of the loveliest showers of the week, Mrs. A. R. Dillard was hostess at a bridge luncheon, Mrs. Jasper Ferguson entertained the bride-elect and her future husband with a lovely bridge and a kitchen shower given by Miss Miller was another pretty honor. Miss Catherine Kay and her mother, Mrs. John Kay, were hostesses Friday afternoon at a beautiful tea and the final courtesy of the week was the lovely luncheon given Saturday by Mrs. J. H. S. Bonner and her mother, Mrs. J. T. Montgomery, at the Montgomery home.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

This Chicago affair of mixed babies is almost more than we can stand. To locate a sticker on your baby with another man's name on it when you've been taking him for your own child for three weeks—!

We had believed that all mothers would have thoroughly examined a child before the age of three weeks. Three weeks old and then a bath of discovery is the thing that mystifies us.

Parents, we read, are suing the hospital. Doctors have made blood and pigmentation tests and as all tests failed they announced it is just a mixture of stickers.

Mothers are satisfied; the fathers are doing the howling.

It IS embarrassing.

Reading of so many new babies arriving in Wichita Falls, we believe it would be advisable for each mother to look her baby over before she leaves the hospital.

And have that baby bathed before he is 3 weeks old. We suggest a daily bath.

Where would one think the mothers were, not to have seen all the baby's epidermis before three weeks had gone by. Maybe it was putt-putt golf.

That's what most young people, married or single, are doing to pass the time away these days. We wonder how it will end. Ping-pong was inexpensive; mah jong, only cost the price of the set and the amount the players wanted to gamble; yo-yo was the thrill of a few months, but it meant only the price of the balls.

But "putt-putt" demands an investment on the part of the owner and 25 cents a game each time a customer plays.

We saw about 50 people at one time on a course Sunday night. And many of the other courses we passed were well patronized.

Well, Mr. Coolidge says keep your money in circulation and "putt-putt" is doing it.

But that Chattanooga man who first thought of "Tom Thumb" golf and patented so many hazards and so many ways of making a nice green, is the one who has the most money out of it.

We hope he spends freely. As freely, in comparison with all his money, as a number who spend freely playing the peppy game.

Woman's Liberty Not Worth Price, Says Dorothy Dix

"Having Gotten the Right to Work, It Looks Very Much as if Women Were Going to Have to Continue to Work, and as if Men, Having Been Emancipated by Women, Are Going to Stay That Way"

In a recent issue of a popular magazine there is a very interesting article in which the writer calls attention to the fact that women are going feminine again, not only as to hair and skirts, but as to their manners and morals and their point of view. The flat, boyish figure is giving way to curves, "Oh, fie" is replacing "Oh, hell" as an expletive on flappers' lips, and instead of boasting of their prowess in almost running down pedestrians with their automobiles, girls are swooning at the thought of danger in true Victorian tradition.

In a word, having tried making imitation men of themselves, women have found out that it's all the bunk, as we say in modern parlance, and gets them nowhere, and so are reverting to type. Furthermore, prophesies this writer, women, having fought with tooth and nail to get out of the home, are going to claw their way even more desperately back into it.

There is much evidence to support this opinion. It is not to be denied that things are seldom what they seem, and that many women have found that freedom was like a ready-made dress in a shop window. It didn't prove so alluring when they got it home and tried it on as it looked behind the glass. Nor did it fit so well, nor was it so serviceable for everyday use as they thought it was going to be, and so they are quite ready to return it to the bargain counter and get their money back.

Also, they discovered that having obtained the right to stand on their own feet and support themselves, they had to do it, and that having proved that they were as good men as their husbands and their fathers and their brothers, their male relatives simply stood from under and let Mary do it.

In reality, in the struggle that women have made for their rights they have never had the slightest idea of relinquishing their privileges. They expected to hold on to both, for no amount of logic or experience has ever been able to convince them that you can't have your cake and eat it, too.

Hence we have had the curious spectacle of women who expected parlor manners in business offices; who thought that their masculine rivals should give way to them because of their sex; who claimed to be men's equals, yet wanted to be petted and coddled and supported by them.

Finding that freedom has a price tag on it, many astute women have been figuring out that it isn't worth what it cost, and that the rights they have achieved do not offset the perquisites they have lost. Hence the back-to-the-home movement and the struggle to return to woman's sacred sphere.

But that is something easier said than done. Liberty has queer by-products, and in woman's efforts to emancipate themselves they incidentally and unintentionally emancipated men, which was no part of their original program.

Up to the time that women ceased being clinging vines, every man was simply smothered and bound hand and foot by his female relatives. It is doubtful if any man, save the most hardened, would ever have had the nerve to tear away the parasitic growth that hampered and held him and sucked his very life blood. Nor would popular opinion have upheld him in doing such a thing. But when women themselves let go their stranglehold on the men of their families and showed their perfect ability to stand alone and nourish themselves, why the poor oaks took their first long free breath and swore by all their gods to keep clear of all such burdens henceforth.

All of us who are even middle-aged can recall the drooping shoulders, the driven and harried look of fathers who had to support a household of idle daughters. We remember when brothers had to forego marriage because they had sisters that they had to provide for. I knew one man who at the end of the Civil war was the only male of his name left alive, and who had eleven dependent women left upon his hands. And he was past 50 before enough of these had died off or married off to enable him to marry the woman to whom he was engaged for more than thirty years.

Nowadays a house full of daughters is an asset instead of a liability to a father, because the girls will hustle out and get jobs and support him in better style than he is accustomed to. A brother no more expects his sisters to be dependent on him than he expects them to support him. They are just as husky and able-bodied and competent as he is, so why shouldn't they earn their own bread and butter?

Why not, indeed? And so if women are cherishing any illusions about father and brother putting their necks once more in the family yoke, they had better get rid of them. For there is nothing doing. Absolutely.

Nor are husbands going to get out the brass band to celebrate the home-coming of the dependent wife. A lot of them couldn't have had any wives if Mary hadn't kept on with her job after marriage. And certainly there wouldn't be any car, nor any bungalow being paid for, nor any chance to get some stock in the firm if Mary wasn't chipping in with the expenses.

So there we are. And, having got the right to work, it looks very much as if women were going to have to continue to work and as if men, having been emancipated by women, are going to stay that way.

world-famous chemist says:

"Colgate's has greatest cleansing action"

WHAT do you expect of a dentifrice? Dr. Philip B. Hawk tells you what you should expect. "The prime function of a dentifrice," he declares, "is to cleanse the teeth thoroughly and safely."

Which dentifrice is best for that purpose? Dr. Hawk took 10 leading products, studied their effects, found—and this, you must remember, was an independent analysis—that "Colgate's has the greatest cleansing action because of its low surface tension." There is the impartial judgment of a world-famous chemist.

Match it with the opinions of such men as Dr. Shirley W. Wynne, Commissioner of Public Health of New York City; Dr. Hardee Chambliss, Dean of the School of Sciences, Catholic University of America; Dr. Jerome Alexander, M. S., B. S., President of Association of Consulting Chemists and Chemical Engineers; Dr. H. H. Bunzell, Ph. D., University of Chicago. You will discover the amazing fact that all these men, who have been retained to render expert opinion, are in absolute agreement with Dr. Hawk.

They find that Colgate's penetrating foam floods away food particles from the crevices and fissures of the teeth in a way ordinary tooth pastes are unable to do. It really cleans. Thus it prevents decay.

This new wealth of scientific evidence just disclosed confirms the 30 years of recommendation by dentists and scientists which has made Colgate's today the largest selling tooth paste in the world.

Dr. Hawk says:

"To ascertain the relative cleansing power of some of the most popular dentifrices, I have tested and compared them. My investigation proves that Colgate's has the greatest cleansing action because of its low surface tension. This would indicate that Colgate's not only cleans the surface readily but removes decomposing food particles by reducing their tendency to remain within the tiny crevices and fissures of the teeth. Other dentifrices, with higher surface tensions, lack this capacity to cleanse as thoroughly.

"Colgate's deserves high rank among these dentifrices because of its great power to perform the prime function of a dentifrice—to cleanse the teeth thoroughly and safely."

FOUR HELD IN AX SLAYING

Fifth Man Sought in Bristow Murder

BRISTOW, Okla., July 21. (AP)—Four men were questioned today by Creek county officers and a fifth was sought in connection with the death of Clint Madewell, 45, who was beaten to death with an ax four miles north of Depew late Saturday.

John Cooper; Orville Cooper, his son; Herman Bradford, and Ison Pearson, a negro, were held in jail here for questioning. Officers were seeking A. C. (Kid) Cooper, brother of John. The Coopers, with Bradford and Pearson are alleged to have gone to the home of Mrs. Lily Jones, the divorced wife of A. C. Cooper.

They all had been drinking, officers quoted John Cooper as saying, and when they found Madewell at the home of the woman, he was attacked by some member of the party with an ax. John Cooper said he was not clear on all of the events after he started drinking.

Pearson's story implicated Orville Cooper and A. C. Cooper in the slaying. Mrs. Jones said the negro pointed a gun at her and that she ran after the attack had started.

A. C. Cooper was divorced by his wife last February. He had visited her Friday in an effort to persuade her to return to him, but she refused.

Army Beef Must Be Bought on Lowest Bid

WASHINGTON, July 21. (INS)—The army and navy must continue to buy beef for American soldiers, sailors and marines in the Philippines, Hawaii and other foreign posts from the lowest bidder regardless of nationality, Maj. Gen. Charles H. Bridges, judge advocate of the army ruled today.

Secretary of War Hurley in announcing the judge advocate general's opinion, said the department would continue to buy beef from foreign markets for its personnel on foreign posts when the foreign beef was lower priced than the American product.

West coast beef producers recently protested the policy of buying foreign beef declaring it was an injustice on American agriculture.

Fire Destroys Pier In Baltimore Yards

BALTIMORE, July 21. (AP)—A 150-foot pier of the Pennsylvania railroad was destroyed by fire which broke out this afternoon after an earlier blaze in the structure was thought to have been extinguished. Officials could not make an immediate estimate of the damage pending a check on the merchandise destroyed by the flames.

Fire boats and land apparatus responding to two alarms kept the flames from spreading to adjoining waterfront property, including a plant of the Standard Oil company. Several barges moored along the side of the pier were cut away by firemen and towed out of range of the flames.

K. K. K. Drives Viennese To Take Own Life

VIENNA, July 21. (AP)—Richard Jerabit, 48 years old, recently returned from the United States, committed suicide Saturday night by drowning in the Danube river.

Jerabit's wife in a statement to the police said his mind was disturbed by "persecutions by the Ku Klu Klan."

Jerabit, or Jerabek, as the police also listed him, was said to have lived in New York, Charleston and Miami. He was reported to be a scenic adviser at Hollywood.

Tipping of Barbers Is Passing Into Things Of the Past

DALLAS, July 21. (AP)—The custom of tipping barbers will soon be abolished, according to C. J. Adams of Austin, of the examining board which will function under Texas' new barber licensing law, who today addressed the fourth convention of the Texas Master Barbers, meeting here.

He said master barbers who are generally shop owners recognized the "evils" of tipping and were rapidly forbidding it in their establishments.

Adams said all barber and beauty shops would be forced to comply with the new license law beginning Aug. 18.

J. B. Robinson of Dallas is president of the association.

Bandit Killed in Race to Escape

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—A robber attempting to escape after a $50 holdup was killed and his companion was seriously injured today when their automobile hit a vegetable truck and a ten-ton sand truck. The driver of the vegetable wagon was critically hurt.

The two robbers, as yet unidentified, held up a chain store grocery in South Brooklyn, slugged the manager and made off with $50. They careened madly down 98th street and into a swirl of traffic. They avoided two or three cars, but crashed into Isadore Cohen's truck. As they jumped from their wrecked sedan the sand truck piled into the wreckage, killing one robber and injuring the other.

Officers Seek Slayer Of Unidentified Texan

LAREDO, Texas, July 21. (AP)—Officers today were searching for the slayer of an unidentified man whose almost decapitated body was found in the Muckelroy oil field in Zapata county Saturday. A blood-stained ax was found near by. Indications were the man had been dead for some time and it was necessary to bury the body where found. The head was hanging to the body by a slender thread of flesh.

REPORTS ATTACK

BRIDGE PARLEY SET FOR JULY 30

Texas and Oklahoma to Seek Agreement

AUSTIN, July 21. (AP)—Highway officials of Oklahoma and Texas and representatives of the toll bridge company will meet here July 30, in another attempt to settle differences regarding construction of a free bridge across the Red river at Gainesville, Gov. Dan Moody said today.

Representatives of the state highway commission were not present at the meeting here Saturday, necessitating another meeting which they may attend.

Governor Moody said that Chairman Lew Wentz of the Oklahoma commission had not returned the contracts for the bridge which the governor signed and sent him with the understanding that all disputes had been settled.

Body of Bishop's Son Reaches Houston Today

HOUSTON, July 21. (AP)—The body of Robert S. Quin, 19, son of Bishop Clinton S. Quin of Houston, who died aboard the French line steamer Cuba at Havre, July 11, will arrive in Houston at 4:45 p. m., Tuesday from New York, friends of the family announced.

Funeral services will be held at 5 p. m. Thursday.

Quin became ill of typhoid fever just before reaching Havre.

He just had completed his freshman year at Rice institute, and had lettered in two sports. He was popular in his class.

Surviving Robert are his parents; two sister, Derbe and Dorothy Quin and a brother, Clinton Jr.

33-Year Search For Negro Slayer Ends in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, July 21. (INS)—The 33-year search of Sheriff Lamartine Bouanchaud of parrish Point Coupee, New Roads, La., 125 miles southeast of New Orleans, for the murder of Dr. James Rigney, who was shot and killed in 1897 in Bayou Erfodoche, La., ended today with the arrest here of Charles Allen, alias Rev. C. E. Gugenine, a 63-year-old negro.

Dr. Rigney was shot and killed when he attempted with a deputy sheriff to collect a medical bill owed him by Allen. Allen, according to police, admitted that he was in the shooting scrape with Dr. Rigney and the deputy sheriff, but denied shooting the doctor, stating that one of the bullets fired at him by the deputy sheriff went wild and struck Dr. Rigney.

The arrest was brought about when Sheriff Bouanchaud intercepted a letter from Allen to a married daughter at Plakuenine, La., which was signed by Rev. Gugenine.

LA FOLLETTE ASKS DRY VOTE

Wisconsin Unanimous on Referendum Plea

MILWAUKEE, July 21. (AP)—The announcement of a platform by Philip F. LaFollette, Progressive Republican candidate for governor, today made unanimous party and factional demands in Wisconsin for a referendum to amend the constitution and allow state administration of dry laws.

Conservative Republicans, in convention at Oshkosh several weeks ago, inserted such a plank in their platform. Democrats, in their convention, included the same proposal, calling national prohibition a "dismal failure." The conservative Republicans merely urged congressional speed in calling a national referendum.

FRANK FOSTER MOVED TO JAIL

Smuggled Into Cell After Intensive Questioning

CHICAGO, July 21. (INS)—Frank Foster, gang gun buyer under indictment for the slaying of Alfred J. Lingle, was smuggled into a cell at the county jail this noon after being questioned intensively since his arrival from Los Angeles on Saturday.

Asked whether Foster had given any information valuable to the Lingle murder investigators, state's attorney's Detective Patrick Roche would say nothing further than "we're through questioning him."

What Roche sought to learn from Foster was how the snub-nosed gun, said to be purchased by Foster, got into the hands of The Tribune reporter's assassin and was dropped beside Lingle's body.

It was unofficially reported that Foster said a policeman took the revolver away from him when he was arrested some time ago.

Many Arrests Expected In Fashionable District

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—As many as 50 arrests are expected under a sealed indictment on authority of which federal agents last week conducted raids in four fashionable Long Island communities, arresting seven men and seizing three powerful transmission wireless sets which were used to direct liquor smuggling.

The prisoners arrested so far are charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition and radio laws.

AWAIT THE 8

AS BUICK BUILDS IT

FOUR NEW SERIES OF STRAIGHT EIGHTS ..... VALVE-IN-HEAD, OF COURSE .... NEW SYNCRO-MESH TRANSMISSION*

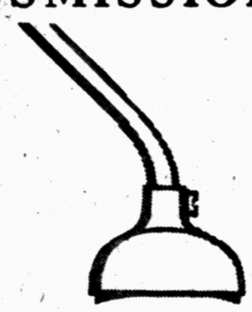

One of Buick's four new series—with new Valve-in-Head Straight Eight Engines and new Insulated Bodies by Fisher—is priced $200 lower than last year's Buick six. It is the world's lowest priced Valve-in-Head Straight Eight!

Buick, winner of more than twice as many buyers as any other maker of fine cars, will soon present the most brilliant creations in Buick's twenty-seven years of fine car building.

Four series of Straight Eights providing twenty luxurious models! With masterly new engines—all Valve-in-Head, all Straight Eights—revealing performance far surpassing even the finest previous Buicks! With new Syncro-Mesh Transmissions* assuring the highest degree of smooth, silent, non-clash gear-shifting! With new Insulated Bodies by Fisher endowed with characteristic Buick beauty and protected, like a fine home, against heat, cold and noise! Together with a host of other important improvements!

Buick is building Eights exclusively. The Eight as Buick Builds It is fundamentally a better engine. The entire chassis reveals increased size and strength to conform with the increased power of the new engines.

You are familiar with Buick's twenty-seven year record of leadership. . . . You have hoped for greater goodness and greater value in straight eight manufacture. . . . Await The Eight as Buick Builds It!

* Buick alone, of all cars at or near its price, provides the famous Syncro-Mesh Transmission. This ultra-fine, ultra-luxurious feature assures smooth, silent, non-clash gear-shifting through all gears and at all speeds. It is employed in three of the new Buick series, with Buick's fine standard transmission in the series of lowest price

Making Fit to Kill
Reviewing Television
A 'Companionship' Suit
Flying With the Baby

By EMILE CAUVREAU

Chlorine gas, which felled and killed thousands in the war, is inhaled today in special chambers by those who want quick relief from colds. Now science discovers that mustard gas will prevent cancer. In the war it was used on human beings as an engine of murder. In peace it is tried scientifically on mice. Both results are satisfactory. But curing people of disease to make them physically fit to kill each other is not much of a tribute to civilization.

One new item of the day shows you how rapidly the world is moving. The London Times assigns its regular dramatic critic to review a television production. The piece chosen is Pirandello's "The Man With a Flower in His Mouth." The critic is not much impressed with the results and thinks the process has still a long way to go. But that was also said about the motion picture by short-sighted people less than 30 years ago.

Modern ladies who wanted suffrage to prove their economic independence will be interested in the suit of a theatrical lady who asks $25,000 from a political boss for "companionship." She says he offered her $10,000 a year for life, with an additional $700 a month for pin money. The Wall street crash interferred with the arrangement and now the lady is going to court about it. Other "companions" affected by the market may get an idea out of it. Some will want to know what difference there is between these ladies and the companion of an evening who yells because she didn't get her money.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh are giving baby specialists something to think about. Not long before their famous baby was born the mother flew with her husband in a record-breaking transcontinental flight. Doctors shook their heads, but apparently the offspring was not harmed by his pre-natal adventure. Now Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh will fly to Maine and take their baby with them. This baby should take to the air like a duck takes to water. Doctors may as well accept the whole business philosophically. If the custom becomes prevalent the only people to be concerned about it should be the go-cart manufacturers.

Talking movies have become so popular in Turkey that they have broken the supremacy of American films. Now the Turks will have their talkies in Turkish, English not being understood there, where French is the second language. Most of our own stars, meanwhile, are trying to master English to keep up with the procession.

John Masefield writes a couplet to appear in the London Times, his first official contribution of poetry since he became poet laureate. It goes this way:

"Ah! Authors answer. All aid. Arrest
Britannia's bard's Brow's being bruised, but blest."

Old timers who knew him when he was better inspired in the old Greenwich village saloon will accept it as a new kind of cross-word puzzle.

Negro Indicted for Two-Year-Old Murder

HOUSTON, July 21. (AP)—The grand jury today indicted A. C. Craft, Smithville negro, on a murder charge growing out of the death of R. B. Melton, Pierce avenue street car operator, nearly two years ago.

Melton was shot and killed by a negro passenger on the night of Nov. 11, 1928. Witnesses said the negro shot Melton after an argument over a transfer.

A new broom sweeps clean, but a new dry enforcement director hardly does anything more'n git his picture in the newspapers, padlock a couple o' night clubs, resign, an' blame politics. The average length o' life in Chicago is twenty-eight years, accordin' to the front page news.

Helen Wills Moody attributes her prowess in tennis to the fact she learned to play on asphalt courts. Proving again, of course, that it's the hard knocks that get you there.

Queen Mary of England, a news item says, smokes two cigarets after luncheon every day. But she's started too late, we fear, to avoid that future shadow.

Time to Take Thought

AS LONG as times were booming, our current industrial and economic system seemed fairly easy to understand. Life was just one long process of expansion. Some new miracle had made the sky the limit for practically everything. Wages were always going to rise, sales records were always going to go higher, and business generally was always going to be better, each year, than it had been the year before.

It was beautifully simple, and it bred in most of us an optimism that was one of the prodigies of the age.

Now that things aren't doing quite so nicely, this optimism is giving way to a pessimism equally excessive. Sackcloth and ashes are having their day. The industrial system that formerly looked so simple now seems complex beyond human understanding.

A good deal of the trouble, perhaps, grows out of the fact that our mechanical processes went ahead faster than our intellectual activities. We had never bothered to try to understand this queer combination of financial and mechanical puzzles which brought prosperity. Now we are being forced to think about them; it is no longer possible simply to take the result for granted.

The upshot probably will be that we shall get back on the highway to prosperity with a much clearer idea of what the whole business is about, and consequently a much better chance of getting there, than was the case before.

For the present, however, the whole thing is very perplexing.

The chief trouble in nearly every line of business, from agriculture to the manufacture of automobiles, seems to be over-production. We have brought forth more wheat, more automobiles, more bricks, more suits of clothes than can be sold. The result—idle farm lands, and factories which are working on a part-time basis, if at all.

But what is the remedy? A strict curtailment of production all around? This means that many farm lands and many factories must remain idle permanently. More serious than that, it also means that many laborers must do the same. Is that the only way out? If so, we are indeed in a bad fix.

The optimism that carried us along during the last half dozen years must come to the rescue now and persuade us that there is a better solution. Somewhere there is a way by which we can use to the utmost our amazing facilities for producing things without, at the same time, clogging the channels of trade with a surplus. It is up to us to find this way. If the current business depression compels us to stop and take thought so that we do find it, we shall be amply repaid for the trouble it has caused us.

Texas and California

THE FACT that Texas is ahead of California in the new census returns leads one to the notion that these two states will probably be putting on a very interesting battle for honors in population, production and prosperity during the next two or three decades.

California made an amazing growth in population during the last 10 years—but so did Texas. Nature has been extraordinarily kind to California in the matters of climate and natural resources—but she has been equally kind to Texas. If more than five and one-half million Americans have chosen to make California their home state, an even larger number has picked Texas.

Each state will continue to grow. Each has an enormous amount of land. Each is fertile, blessed with mineral resources, capable of supporting many more people than it now contains. Each, in fact, is an empire in itself. It will be interesting to watch their future development.

No War for Japan

THE DISCUSSION over the London treaty has caused some Americans to drag the old Japanese bogie out of the attic and look it over again with fear-filled hearts. Before we get real panicky about it, however, we might pay attention to some recent remarks by W. R. Castle Jr., who has just returned to this country after serving as our special ambassador to Japan.

"It is amazing to me, once more at home in Washington, to find the anti-treaty people still harping on the Japanese bogie," says Mr. Castle. "Japan could hardly live except for her exports to America, amounting to nearly $400,000,000. She imports from us nearly $300,000,000 worth of goods and depends on America for cotton which she manufactures and re-exports to China. War with America, which would be serious for us, would be ruin for Japan."

That is sober sense. In the face of it, why get so worried about one or two extra cruisers in the Japanese fleet?

Hard to Get Excited

IN ALL of this business about the "secret papers" connected with the London treaty, it is hard to see any very sound reason for the extreme alarm which seems to pervade the breasts of so many senators just now.

President Hoover's offer to let all of the senators inspect these papers in confidence ought, surely, to remove all fear that our state department has secretly committed us to any agreement not plainly stated in the treaty itself. There is no other good reason for desiring to make the papers public.

One surely may be pardoned for suspecting that this whole fuss about the papers is merely another dodge resorted to by die-hards who are determined to delay passage of the treaty in the hope of finally killing it altogether.

WALTER WINCHELL

On Broadway

(Copyright, 1930, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

To a Playboy

You think you know your Broadway rather well,
They bow to you at all the ritzy clubs;
You like the fun that Broadway has to sell,
And leave the little side-streets to the dubs;
But Broadway is a stranger to you yet
A suave and courteous servant to your will,
But wait a year or two—I'm game to bet
That when you're through you'll hate to foot the bill.

When you have lived the pace that gets them all,
When you have loved—as you are bound to do,
When you have lost and had to drink the gall,
I'll drop around and have a word with you;

I'll shake your hand and look at you and say:
"Old boy, at last I think you know Broadway!"

—DON WAHN.

Is My Face Red?

A lad named Frank Ward O'Malley, who was once called "America's Greatest Reporter," has returned, it appears, after a 10-year alcoholiday in France. New York and Broadway aren't the same, he writes in the Eveworld. "Who—or what," he inquires, "is this Rudy Vallee? Right in what is left of my own Times Square I heard important mention given to gentlemen named Jed Harris and, as I recall, Amos 'n' Andy. Amos 'n' Andy what? Sam Harris, yes, but I never heard of any Jed Harris of even any slight importance in the Broadway theatrical life I so recently knew. Newspapermen spoke of one of the craft named Walter Winchell. Never heard of him."

O'Malley?

Some Pun, Eh Keed?

After thinking the controversy over, we have decided to apologize to our pal, Mockey Hellinger, for trying to make him appear illiterate. After he spelled it "monkies" in two successive columns last week we finally realized the reason. Obviously he is trying to coin a new word—to take the place of "whoopee," no doubt, probably, perhaps. The big sissy!

However, we can make up a sentence containing the word "monkies" like this: "Monkies your hand, Madam."

No Kiddin'!

"Dear Walter," affectionately writes Irving Strauss from the Rocky mountain region, "have just been through Albu—Alberq—I have just been through Pueblo and you are all wrong about the Indians—they do not make whoopee. They make pottery."

In Fewer Words

In the Duc de la Rochefoucauld manner: It is much easier to take love when one is free, than to get rid of it after having it . . . There are people whose faults become them; others whose very virtues disgrace them . . . The test of extraordinary merit is to see those who envy it most, yet obliged to praise it . . . There are few virtuous women who are not tired of their part . . . Conceit causes more conversation than wit . . . It is valueless to a woman to be young unless pretty, or to be pretty unless young . . . All passions make us commit some faults—love alone makes us ridiculous.

Broadway Gets You

Among other unusuals on Broadway, never pointed out by the sightseeing bus megaphoneys, is the lad who just ended a 12-year stretch in a prison. While a convict he pitched for the prison nine, winning most of their games, for he has skill with the pill.

Broadway has changed a lot to him, too, since he settled his score with society up there, and he is restless, standing on the corner in the 50c day in and night out. He misses the mob in the Who's Whosegow and his arm twitches when he reads how they are losing games incessantly.

Recently, they urged him to come up some Sunday and help them win a game for a change. He obliged, but he wasn't in shape—he was knocked out of the box. Dejected over his defeat, he offered a plausible alibi. "I lived right when I was in jail," he said, "but since I got back to New York it is something awful. Late hours 'n' everything, night clubs, chop suey 'n' people who dissipate. If I don't get back in that jail, I'm liable to get consumption or something. It's beginning to tell on me!"

Gag

Then there's the one about the Joosh person who was self-conscious about his dialect. He had a difficult time of it with his v's, so when he tried to compliment a singer at a party, he gummed up things by saying: "I was so gled to hear your worse."

How Embarrassing!

Doug Fairbanks, Irv Berlin, Joe Schenck, Cholly Chaplin and Chief Long Lance were swapping gab about pests who annoy celebrated movie players at public places. How some people call stars by their first name and how the stars must be careful not to lose their tempers.

Fairbanks then told how he once decided to be himself and not be annoyed by strangers who lapeled him. It happened in Rome when he toured the world with Mary. Out of the crowd pushed a man and he grabbed Doug's paw. "Hello, there Doug, old boy, how are you? Haven't seen you in years?" said the fellow.

Doug was weary and bothered with strangers so he sarcastically snapped: "I'm sorry, but I do not remember meeting you at any time or place before. Just what is your name, please?"

"I am very sorry," said the man meekly, "I didn't mean to be rude. I thought you remembered me. My name is Marconi."

Since that incident, Doug has never been surly with any one.

Huh-huh

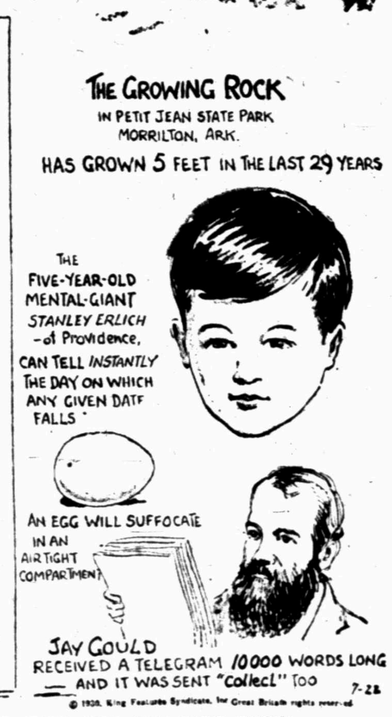

Among other warm weather paragraphs to knock you cold is this from Dr. John Hewins Kern's "Glorious Womanhood," published in 1925, the good doctor being an alleged authority on sex. " . . . the woman who has divine sex appeal is the one who blushes after displaying her calves, and, quite naturally, makes it apparent that she is embarrassed."

This ought to get a big laugh over at the Nude Amsterdam theater, where Mr. Earl Carroll is begging the police to lose their patience with him.

"STEP-CHILD"

BY ROB EDEN

Desperately searching for a clew to her identity, Kay Smith learns from a stranger, Jim Whalen, that he believes her to be Kitty Banning, confidence woman. Dane Talbot, whom Kay loves, refuses to believe it and takes her to dinner. Kay is wildly happy until she learns that they are to meet Julie Drew, Dane's fiancee, and her brother at the theater.

CHAPTER XI

Kay slipped away Saturday on the 3 o'clock train for the north. She left a note for Edith, telling her not to worry, that she would return Sunday evening. Much as she wanted to consult the nurse, she didn't. This was an errand on which she must go alone. Whatever she found out—well, she would wait until she really knew. Until she was sure.

In her seat, with the brown sheared fields whirling past her window, the trees, splashes of yellow, of red, blurring together, she tried to relax, only to find she couldn't. The thought of what she might learn, if Jim Whalen had given her the right lead, made her tense, and rigid.

She was glad and sorry that Langly only boasted a little more than one thousand inhabitants. Glad because it would make her task easier, for she had no street number. What she had to do was embarrassing for herself. She must ask where the Bannings lived. Wander around until she found them. Sorry, because in being inquisitive, she might be recognized as Kitty Banning. She wished to avoid that if she could.

For she didn't want to be this girl, Kitty Banning. Anything but that. If it turned out that she was—her nails cut into the palms of her hands desperately. What if Jim Whalen were right? What if she was Kitty Banning? At any rate, she wasn't going to be a coward about finding out. She must know. Even if it made her more unhappy than before.

A Pickpocket

Dane had said she couldn't be this pickpocket, this thief that Jim Whalen had suggested. Kind of him, but he was only reassuring her. Only being sweet, saving her feelings.

Mrs. Talbot—was it woman's intuition she had that made her think Kay might not be—so honest? The girl's cheeks flushed as she thought again of the conversation she had overheard between Julie and Dane's aunt. Perhaps Mrs. Talbot had been right after all . . . .

The train seemed to be crawling, then the next moment racing like mad. It was the way Kay's hopes were going. The wish to be there, in Langly, to find out. The dread of going . . .

She closed her eyes. Jim Whalen was staring at her, his mouth open in a broad smile. Because she had been so sure, she was going to Langly, because he apparently knew this girl, Kitty Banning, so well.

Perhaps she should have taken Dane's advice. Let him come with her. She saw it was going to be a great deal for her to accomplish alone.

There was a change here. She picked up her bag and piled out of the train, waiting in the lonely, lark station for the local which would take her to Langly. It came finally, dusty, uncomfortable, only a two-car train. For Langly was not on the main line. Red plush seats, noe too clean, her car half full of dozing, tired passengers.

Kitty Banning had traveled this train out to the big city. The Kitty she, Kay, might be. She tried to find something familiar with the car but couldn't. Too dark to see outside. Now and then a flash of light, some house, isolated, some car passing on a road nearby.

It was 9 o'clock when she landed in Langly, feeling lonely, and rather sleepy as she took a battered taxi to a hotel recommended her by the train conductor. None too prepossessing. A small place, the lobby filled with loungers. Too late, of course, to do anything tonight. She had counted on that.

The train seemed to be crawling, then the next moment racing like mad.

Shabby and Deserted

In the morning when she awakened, she looked out the window, which faced the street. It was quite deserted, very shabby. Beyond stretched a small residence section, and beyond that, the fileds.

She took the slatternly waitress into her confidence while she breakfasted in the chilly dining room.

"I'm trying to locate some people. I don't know their address, I only know they lived here, and are probably living here now. Is there some one around Langly who knows most everybody? Who could tell me just where to find them?" she asked.

The waitress yawned, but after the yawn looked mildly curious.

"Ted, the clerk here, knows everybody. Nothin' gets past him. He'll see you find 'em. Relatives?"

"No . . . Is this man on duty now?"

"Yeh. Ted Bagger. Been here for years. Born here."

In a few moments Kay was at the desk, asking for Mr. Bagger. The mild, white-haired man, to whom she addressed her question admitted he was Bagger. He stroked a stained yellowish mustache.

"I understand you know everyone in townn, Mr. Bagger," Kay spoke quickly. She wanted to get the thing over as soon as possible. "I'm hunting up some people, Bannings, and I don't know anything about them except that they live in Langly. Do you know anything about them?"

"Sure, Hiram Banning. Has the biggest place in Langly. Fine fellow. You won't find him in today, though. Think he went to New York City for the week-end."

Trash!

Kay puzzled over this. So different from what Jim Whalen suggested. Biggest place in town. Jim had been wrong . . .

"You'll find his sister there, though. He hasn't ever married. His sister, Miss Martha, keeps house for him. Fine man."

"Are those the only Bannings?" What if Jim Whalen were wrong after all? Her heart was beating wildly.

"Oh, there's some other Bannings, down in old town, by the tracks. You wouldn't want them. Trash. You couldn't be looking for them. Hiram's the one you want."

Trash! With a voice that shook, she said surely it was Hiram she wanted, and quietly asked directions to his house. Bagger gave them willingly, even stepped out on the street to point out the street she was to take. She started off bravely in the direction he had told her, only to turn at the corner, and inquire at a candy shop where old town was. The tracks. For Jim Whalen would not likely be associated with the Hiram Banning Ted Bagger had described to her.

Trash. Kitty Banning, trash. The scorn that passed over Bagger's face when he mentioned this other family of Bannings in old town.

As she plodded along, she was glad she had had the presence of mind to tell Bagger that it was Hiram Banning she wanted. That helped.

Before she knew it she was in that section of Langly known as "old town." Car sheds, for this was the end of the junction line. Hovels, hardly a decent house here. The streets, two in fact, unpaved, weathered stores, some abandoned, some unpainted for years. All old, dirty, miserable.

She wanted to turn back, to run away from it now. Twice she halted, then set her lips and went on. Only sheer bravery forced her into a garage which was open, and where she saw a man fussing with a dilapidated car.

"Could you tell me where I could find Mrs. Banning? She lives some place here in old town." She was getting the lingo, too. Old town. Glibly she repeated her question for the man did not seem to understand. He was looking at her, so intently that Kay was glad she had tucked her blond hair under her hat, every bright strand of it. Also, she was wearing a brim hat that came down far over her eyes.

Garden of Weeds

"You mean ol' Mis' Banning? She died a piece back—Joneses have her place. See, right over there?" And he indicated with a very oil stained hand a small one-story cottage, gray with age, dirty, a broken unpainted picket fence strangling around a garden of weeds.

Kay opened the gate which was falling from its rusted hinges. Had she once lived here? In this place? It was as strange to her as Jim Whalen had been. The board walk to the porch was uneven, weed filled. She found herself stumbling on the broken lumber. A sickly black cat eyed her resentfully from an old rocker on the

Q.—Is Charlie Chaplin a musician?—M. L.

A.—It is stated that Mr. Chaplin's new picture, "City Lights," is to have special music and lyrics written by the comedian. He has completed three numbers which are to be sung and is now preparing incidental music.

Q.—What recognition did the king give to Amy Johnson, the English flier?—S. B.

A.—Amy Johnson, who flew in a secondhand plane from London to Australia in 19½ days, has been made a Commander of the British Empire by King George.

Q.—Is there to be a radio station in atican City?—B. C. R.

A.—A station is almost completed and it is expected that Pope Pius XI will be heard on the air some time in July if his health permits.

Q.—What is an Irish dividend?—R. D.

A.—This is a humorous term for an assessment levied on a stock.

Q.—Does the government inspect vaccines?—F. W.

A.—The United States public health service, in connection with its inspection of biologic products as required by law, performs a service of inestimable value to the general public. Before a biologic product, such as a serum, toxin, vaccine, or antitoxin, may be sold in the United States in interstate or international commerce a license must be obtained from the public health service. The granting of a license means that inspection of the establishment concerned and laboratory examinations of samples of its products are made regularly to insure the observance of safe methods of manufacture, to ascertain freedom from contamination and to determine the purity or safety, or both, of the various products, and the potency in cases where standards exist.

Q.—Is there a good motor road from the United States to Mexico City?—H. F.

A.—The Mexican government is building a modern highway from Laredo to Mexico City and it has been completed as far as Monterey. The remainder of the road is not good at present.

Q.—Where was the first law in the United States punishing drunkenness?—A. A.

A.—The colony of Maryland passed a law in 1642 punishing drunkenness by a fine of 100 pounds of tobacco.

Q.—What kind of a musical instrument was a psaltery?—S. B. K.

A.—It was a stringed instrument shaped like the Greek letter delta. It was used by the ancient Hebrews. In medieval times a psaltery had from 13 to 36 strings and a sounding board. It was played by plucking the strings with or without a plectrum.

Q.—When was the International Peace Arch at Blaine, Wash., built?—W. F.

A.—The Portal of Peace is a massive concrete structure in the form of a gateway. It is located at Blaine, Wash., and was dedicated Setp. 5, 1921, in honor of the peace between the United States and Canada, which had lasted for more than 100 years without a break. The memorial, which cost $40,000 stands 100 yards from the international boundary where the 49th parallel meets Boundary bay.

Q.—What was the first magazine?—C. E. M.

A.—The American Library association says: "It is said that the first magazine that really deserved the name was the Athenian Gazette which appeared in London in 1691. Gentleman's Magazine starting in 1731 is the real beginning of the monthly magazine such as we know it in recent years."

Q.—Does any proper name of Indian language begin with the letter B.—D. T. R.

A.—A great many American Indian languages do not use the sound of B. The famous Aztec language of Mexico does not have it and the majority of North American Indians are unable to pronounce the sound. However, some Indian languages have the B, for example the Jamez tongue of New Mexico has a perfect B, and in California the Pomo Indians, the most expert basket-makers in the world, have it. A good example of a proper name beginning with B is Bagil, a woman heroine in Pomo mythology about whom stories are told. Her name is pronounced Bah-geel.

Q.—When will the negro gold star mothers go to France?—J. E. S.

A.—There will be two negro gold star mother pilgrimages this summer, the first sailed on the 12th of July and the second on the 16th of August.

The Record News Offers A New Booklet, The Handy Letter Writer

The first essential in writing a letter is to be able to address the envelope so that it will either reach the person for whom it is intended or be returned to you, and not go to the dead letter office of the postoffice department. That should be and is a simple thing, and yet millions of letters and packages find their way to the graveyard of misdirected communications every year.

The Handy Letter Writer not only tells all about addressing envelopes, but also all about writing the letters that are called for in business and social relations and in the more intimate correspondence classified as love letters.

No one should be without a copy and in ordering one today, use this coupon.

The Newspaper Is Supreme as An Advertising Medium

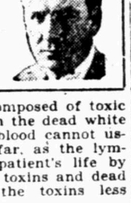

THE PUPBLISHERS OF THE WICHITA DAILY TIMES AND RECORD NEWS have gratifying evidence that the people of this community appreciate newspapers that are constantly improving in every department . . . news, features and mechanical production.

THE STANDING OF THE TIMES AND RECORD NEWS in home-delivered circulation in Wichita Falls is particularly significant. The Times and Record News have always stood high in the limited list of newspapers which could offer this prime class of circulation. The last month saw that phase of their city circulation, which is delivered right to the homes of the people by carrier, INCREASE more than 200 copies. The suburban circulation has also INCREASED over 250 copies daily.

WHEREVER YOU FIND A NEWSPAPER strong in home-delivered circulation, you find unusual response to advertising. Today The Times and Record News are stronger in this respect than ever before. Again we say—

Wichita Fall has no other advertising medium which can bring all of the merchants and so nearly all of the people into such profitable contact . . . daily and Sunday.

Fresh and Dried Apricots

The apricot is a little earlier on the market than the peach and may now be found in most markets throughout North America.

The fresh apricot is an excellent seasonal fruit, but is more perishable than some of the other summer fruits. Most of the commercial crop is raised in California and since the fruit does perish so easily the bulk of it is either dried or canned before being shipped.

If you cannot find the fresh apricots in your market you should at least learn to use the apricot in its dried form.

As much as 65 per cent of the apricot crop is dried. You will find that these dried apricots make a wholesome food if prepared properly. They should be well washed and soaked overnight in enough water to cover them. They should then be cooked in the same water for as long as possible in order to bring out the sweet, palatable flavor. No sugar should be added, as the slow cooking will bring out the fruit sugar which will make them taste more delicious than if commercial white sugar is used.

If you can obtain the dried fruit which has not been prepared with sulphur you will find it a great deal more desirable in every way. The ordinary dried fruits are treated with sulphur and some of the sulphur elements generally are left in the food. I find this tends to cause flatulence in the same way as it is caused by the sulphur in onions and garlic.

If you live where you may enjoy apricots you will find that they make an excellent fruit for the fruit fast. They always should be eaten alone or with such protein foods as nuts, cheese or milk. If they are used in this way, the skins may be eaten if well washed.

The apricot shares the excellencies of the fruit family; it gives mineral elements and vitamins, affords bulk, is a cooling summer food, may be classed as a mild laxative, and possesses the natural fruit sugar.

More than three million cases of apricots were packed in 1928-29, showing how popular this food is for a canned fruit dessert. The canned apricots are put up in a thick syrup and those with impaired digestions will find that the combination of canned apricots and any form of starch food is likely to cause fermentation. For this reason, apricot pie, made from the canned fruit, is not wholesome.

Apricots may be used for an ice cream flavor, if mashed, strained and combined with cream and a little honey and frozen.

Apricot fluff or whip is made by mashing the fruit, straining and then mixing the pulp with the whites of eggs which have been beaten very lightly. This makes a tempting dish for a hot day.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Yawning

Question—Mrs. H. asks: "Will you kindly advise me what causes yawning? I yawn all day, although I get plenty of rest. Would this condition be from weakness?"

Answer—Yawning is caused from oxygen starvation. If you will take deep breathing exercises each morning and, at first, occasionally through the day, you will supply your lungs with enough oxygen with which to satisfy the bodily needs.

Pus in the Blood

Question—R. M. asks: "Is it possible for pus to enter the blood stream, and what would be the result if it did?"

Answer—It is possible for pus to enter the blood stream, but usually the lymphatic circulation takes care of pus, which is composed of toxic material along with the dead white cells. Pus in the blood cannot usually travel very far, as the lymphatics save the patient's life by carrying away the toxins and dead cells and making the toxins less dangerous.

Feeding Baby

Question—Mrs. H. L. asks: "What is the best artificial food for a baby? How old should a baby be before he may have vegetable juice?"

Answer—After changing from breast nursing, the baby should be given nothing but Holstein milk and orange juice up to about two years of age, after which he should take a little less milk and begin using the minced non-starchy vegetables. I will be glad to forward my article on infant feeding if you will send me a large self-addressed stamped envelope.

Gas or Novocaine

Question—K. G. asks: "Which is best, gas or novocaine for pulling teeth?"

Answer—Whether a local or general anaesthetic is used by your dentist depends entirely upon the condition of your health, the teeth to be extracted, and many other factors which your dentist alone can decide.

Week-Long Strike Ends Under Secret Contract

BUTTE, Mont., July 21. (AP)—Normal business was resumed in Butte today with 1,500 employes returning to work under terms of a secret agreement which ended a week-long general strike.

The strike started June 16 with the refusal of union teamsters to accept a wage reduction of 25 to 50 cents a day. Machinists joined them upon announcement of a proposed reduction of $1 a day.

Because of their refusal to handle goods delivered by non-union teamsters, clerks were locked out a week ago, virtually suspending all business.

Trio Faces Assault To Murder Charges

NACOGDOCHES, Texas, July 21. (AP)—Charges of assault to murder were filed here today against Jake Henson, Oscar Collier and Jeff Davis in connection with the beating of Gus Cordova, Mack Cordova and Frank Lazerine Saturday. They were released under $1,000 bond each.

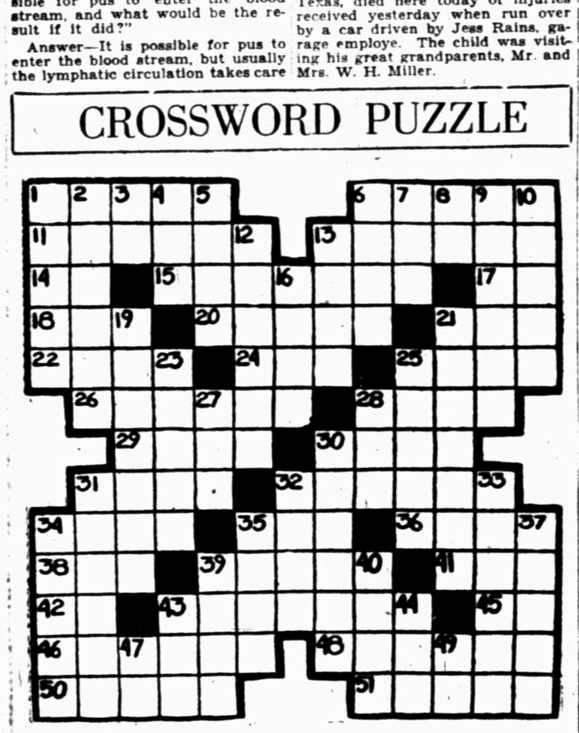

Texan Killed by Gas Fumes From Water Well

ORANGE, Texas, July 21. (AP)—W. G. Box, 55, died from gas fumes in a water well near his tourist camp six miles east of Orange today. He was cleaning out the well, about 25 feet deep, when overcome by the fumes. He had made an attempt to climb out and was near the top when he fell back dead.

Baby Crushed Beneath Wheels of Automobile

ELK CITY, Okla., July 21. (AP)—Wilbur McLemore Jr., 2-year-old son of Mrs. D. M. Aldridge, Borger, Texas, died here today of injuries received yesterday when run over by a car driven by Jess Rains, garage employe. The child was visiting his great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller.

FEDERAL DEPORTATION ORDER ENDS CARNERA'S STAY IN U. S.

ITALIAN GIANT MUST VACATE

Golden Tour of Big Boxer Terminated

OMAHA, Neb., July 21. (AP) — Primo Carnera, Italian big boy of the fight trade, and his manager, Leon See, have been ordered by Washington immigration officials to vacate American shores immediately, Frank Paccassi, business manager for the pair stated here today.

Paccassi revealed the contents of a telegram forwarded here to See and Carnera from Byron H. Uhl, assistant commissioner of Ellis Island, New York, informing the pair that immigration officials had denied their request for a six months extension of their legal stay in the United States which terminated recently.

Carnera and his manager, Paccassi said, applied for the extension while here last week for the Carnera-Bearcat Wright fight. He said they are now en route from Cleveland to Montreal, Canada and that the telegram arrived here after their departure from Omaha.

Nordstrom Leads Western Tourney

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)—A strapping Nordic from Davenport, Iowa, Lloyd Nordstrom, argued his way into the Western amateur golf championship today and then as rebuttal, shot a sparkling 72 to snatch the lead in the first 18-hole drive for the qualifying medal.

When Nordstrom, a rank outsider in championship calculations, came up to the first tee today, he was advised his entry had not been received. After a long argument, he was permitted to compete and in his alternate anger and joy he came within one stroke of taming old man par. He toured the first nine in 38 but came back with a 34, one under par, despite four putts on the short twelfth green.

Only 45 of the field of 215 were able to fracture 80 while the others either ripped up their cards or posted scores that ranged upwards to more than 100 strokes.

Alex Metzler Goes To St. Louis Club

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP) — Alex Metzler, utility outfielder, today was sent by the Chicago White Sox to the St. Louis Browns for the waiver price. Metzler came to Chicago in 1927, from Wichita Falls, Texas. He batted .319 his first season, dropped to .304 in 1928 and had an average of .275 last season.

Rain Postpones Hunt-Pantaleo Go

BOSTON, July 21. (AP)—A 10-round bout scheduled for tonight at Braves field between Babe Hunt, Ponca City, Okla., heavyweight and Paul Pantaleo, of Chicago, was postponed until tomorrow night because of a heavy shower which swept over the city early in the evening.

Five-Run Rally Saves Victory for St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, July 21. (AP)—With a five-run rally in the sixth inning, the St. Louis Browns took their second straight game of the series with Washington here today, winning 6 to 4. The Browns, however, were out-hit, ten to five. Score:

Brief Appearance Here Sunday Proves 'Old Pete's' Last Stand in Baseball

Heads of Dallas Club Get Together and Decide to End Colorful Career of Game's 'Grand Old Man'

By EARL B. STEELE

DALLAS, July 21. (UP)—The keeper of the baseball scroll marked "finis" beside the name of another great figure today as he chanted an adage: They don't come back.

After the name, Grover Cleveland Alexander—Old Pete—the scribe penned a terse comment: Released unconditionally by the Dallas club of the Texas league for reasons not announced.

Dallas baseball officials took the kindly way out of the situation. They departed early today for Houston, where the team opens a series Tuesday and left Pete in his hotel room to await their call. But Pete knew that the call would never come.

Later in the day a messenger delivered a check for two weeks salary along with a document which made Pete a free agent.

Thus Grover Cleveland Alexander slipped into the abyss of fallen idols.

Steep Descent

His descent from the apex of glory was steep. He left the Philadelphia National league club early in the season hoping for several more years in the minor leagues where he could stay with the game he loved and lend a helping hand to youngsters on their way up.

But the game turned its back on Alec. He found he was forced to battle for his berth on a bush league team. Ambitious youths, fired with the zeal of success, set a terrific pace. The road became rougher and the old veteran faltered and fell.

Last week he was placed on probation for breaking training rules. Sunday he was given a chance to make good and scheduled to appear against the Wichita Falls team in the second game of a double-header.

The first game ran into extra innings and was deadlocked in the 13th. Pete was called.

Pete's Swan Song

The unlucky 13th was his swan song. A cruel quirk of the game caused him to slip in the pitcher's box and wrench his knee. He retired in the same inning.

President Sol Dreyfus, Vice President Bob Tarleton and Manager Jakie Atz conferred early today and decided Alec was a burden to the team. They reached their decision and Tarleton and Atz left for Houston, ahead of the team.

The boys, Alec's teammates, gathered in his hotel room this afternoon for a farewell. They offered encouragement and listened to Pete's advice before leaving on the road trip.

Shades of Christy Mathewson, Rube Waddell and Ed Walsh hovered over the room. Those immortals seemed proud to greet a new one to their fold and old Alec's name will go as high as any of them in baseball annals.

"He's a great guy." That was Pete's eulogy as the boys gathered outside the room.

Alexander has no present plans. "I'd like to go to Chicago for a while, but I don't know," he said. "Maybe I will make some sort of an exhibition tour, but I'm afraid I'm through."

R. A. King of Wichita Falls Leads 100 Marksmen in Tri-State Shoot

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 21. (AP)—A Texas marksman, R. A. King, of Wichita Falls, tonight held the lead over more than 100 gunners from 16 states in the tri-state championship trap shoot with a score of 199 singles targets smashed of a possible 200.

Mark Arie, Champaign, Ill., veteran and one of the "big four" among the trap shooters, and R. L. Andrews, Munford, Tenn., tied with two professionals, Boyd Duncan, Lucy, Tenn., and Clyde Wells, Memphis, for second honors in singles for the opening day of the tournament with scores of 197.

Arie held the lead in the doubles with a score of 49 of a possible 50.

King got off to a bad start. He missed the first shot. But that didn't perturb him and he gave one of the greatest exhibitions of 16-yard line shooting ever seen here by smashing the next 199.

Cubs Pile Up 6 to 0 Decision Over Giants

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—Hack Wilson's big bat coupled with Pat Malone's steady pitching gave the Chicago Cubs a 6 to 0 decision over the New York Giants today. Wilson poled out his 28th and 29th home runs of the season off Tiny Chaplin, the Texan, in the fourth and sixth innings while Malone held the Giants to eight hits and did not issue a base on balls during the eight innings he worked. Ray Keith Victorious Over Furniture Men, 5 to 4

Ray Keith, former P. B. M. mound ace, won his first game in a McClurkans uniform Monday afternoon on Harrison field when he bested Big Boy Ridling of the Furniture Dealers in a hurling duel by the score of 5 to 4. This loss to the Furniture Dealers shoved them a full game behind the league leading Southwestern Glass and Paint company team and marked the second straight loss for the furniture men.

Only five hits were registered on each side and no man was able to break into the scoring column for the second time. The fielding of Hogan at third base for McClurkans featured the game. Hogan handled six chances without an error, several of which were hot smashes. Score:

Big Bill to Play Despite Injured Ankle

By GEORGE W. HINMAN, JR.

PARIS, July 21. (US)—Despite the handicap of a sprained right ankle, which he injured in a practcie match this afternoon, Big Bill Tilden, America's famous tennis star, will be one of the four to represent his country in this weekend's challenge round matches against France for the Davis cup.

This became definite tonight with the announcement by Fitz-Eugene Dixon, America's non-playing captain, that Tilden's ankle had responded to treatment and was much improved. Dixon said Tilden and George Martin Lott, Jr., of Chicago would play in the singles and Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Texas, and John Van Ryn, of East Orange, N. J., in the doubles.

Tilden turned his ankle severely while playing in Roland Garros stadium against Karel Kozeluh, the Czecho-Slovakian professional star, who is coaching the American team. The lanky Philadelphian was returning a lob to Kozeluh when he slipped on the wet court and went sprawling full length.

Definite Decision

Forty-eight hours of absolute rest and fine medical treatment would give the final decision on Tilden's ability to play against the French, but with the improvement of the injured ankle tonight, Dixon made his selection of the American team definite. He said:

"Tilden's ankle is very much better, and we will play him just the same."

Tilden, game as ever, winced under hours of treatment, but tonight stated:

"It's really not serious. I shall be all right tomorrow night."

Tilden's announcement that he had been released from his newspaper writing contract in order to return to the Davis cup fold and strengthen the American four against the French came as a pleasant though not unexpected surprise to tennis enthusiasts, but their joy was short-lived when news spread that the lanky Philadelphian had sprained his aknle and might be unable to play in this week-end's matches.

Scoffers Worry Him

Big Bill, whose sensational return to 1921 form at Wimbledon just a few weeks ago supplied the tennis world with gossip for a year to come, was more worried over the attitude which scoffers might take than over the injury itself. When he was being treated with the electric hot air machine, Bill's comments were:

"Gee, that hurts! That hurts!"

Questioned by reporters, Bill responded:

"If I must say something, please state that this is nothing. I shall play if it kills me—which it won't.

"I am going to play in the challenge round against my own better judgment.

"Mr. Wear (Joseph W. Wear, chairman of the Davis cup committee) and Mr. Dixon (Fitz-Eugene Dixon, American non-playing captain) urged me, and the syndicate for which I am writing is willing to release me from my contract, beginning Wednesday. Therefore, because of my personal friendship with Mr. Wear and Mr. Dixon I will do my best.

"But now, with this ankle, I wonder whether I'll be able to play at all. But for heaven's sake, don't say anything about it. There are some people who will say I'm preparing an alibi."

Despite Bill's ankle injury, American prospects are bright. The return of Tilden leaves Wilmer Allison free to carry the doubles match with John Van Ryn. Instead of being thrust too into the singles breach. Christian Boussus and Jacques Brugnon are expected to be the French pair, it was tentatively announced tonight. Allison and Van Ryn should easily defeat the Gallic combination.

Lott has improved tremendously lately, and looked in the pink against Baron de Morpurgo and Georgio de Stefani, the Italian aces, whereas Allison showed the strain of both singles and doubles play. There is one victory in Lott, and one in the doubles team, experts believe, and if there is one in Tilden—probably against Borotra, from whom Lott is expected to win—then the international trophy will again return to America's shores.

Boston Ends White Sox Winning Streak, 3 to 1

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)—Boston broke up the three-game winning streak of the White Sox today, winning the final game of the series, 3 to 1, behind Horace Lisenbee's fine pitching. Lisenbee restricted the Sox to five hits, three by Carl Reynolds, and one each by Smead Jolley and Greg Mulleavy. Al. Thomas was almost as good, holding the Red Sox to six hits, three of which, however, were bunched in the sixth for two runs. Score:

RALLY SAVES WACO VICTORY

WACO, Texas, July 21. (AP)—"Papa" Pratt came to the rescue of Waco in the ninth tonight with a home run with one on to tie the count, seven all, paving the way for an 8 to 7 Waco victory, the second in a row from Houston.

Houston twice took a commanding lead. A 4 to 1 margin was blotted out in the fifth when Bischoff connected with a home run after Reinhart had filled the bases with walks. Becker hurled for Waco. Score:

ROBINS SLIP INTO SECOND

Brooklyn Splits Pair With Cardinals

BROOKLYN, July 21. (AP)—The Brooklyn Robins relinquished the National league leadership to the Chicago Cubs today, dividing a double-header with the Cardinals while the Bruins were taking a single contest from the New York Giants.

The first contest went to the Robins, 9 to 8, but the Cardinals came back in the second to win a 17 to 10 slugfest. With five home runs rattling off the war clubs of the batters, the opener turned into a home run contest. Scores, first game.

TIGERS DEFEAT CHAMPS, 7 TO 6

Detroit Takes Eleven Hits Off Earnshaw

DETROIT, July 21. (AP)—The Tigers slugged out a 7 to 6 victory over the world's champion Athletics today, getting 11 hits off George Earnshaw, seven of which were good for extra bases. Charlie Gehringer tripled with Johnson on base in the fifth inning and then stole home. His double in the ninth frame started the rally which won the game.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under liquidation or reselling by recent buyers who appeared to be influenced by hope of a change for the better in weather conditions in the central and western belt sections, and relatively easy Liverpool cables.

Prices reached the lowest figures of the day in the late trading when July sold at 12.95 and the new December contract at 13.13. The close was barely steady at approximately the lowest prices of the day with the market showing net declines of 36 to 48 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 14 to 20 points in response to the weak showing of Liverpool and prospects for showers in some central and western belt sections. The market weakened during the afternoon when it seemed to be influenced by an easier technical position after the advances of last week and the declines in grain. The latter were accompanied by private reports of rains in Kansas which some of the cotton traders evidently thought might work down into the cotton belt and the lowest prices of the day were touched in the late trading when the new October contract sold off to 12.94 or 37 points net lower, and March to 13.34 making a net decline of 39 points.

Liverpool cables said there had been Bombay and continental selling there on the Egyptian disturbances. Exports today 4,445 making 6,780,626 so far this season. Port receipts 2,897. U. S. port stocks 1,583,895.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, July 21. (AP)—The cotton market worked towards lower levels today in moderate trading. Lower cables than due and an official forecast for showers in the western and central belts as well as easier stocks and grain continued to ease off with trifling rallies until a decline from Saturday's close of 28 points on active new crop months was shown. The market continued to rule easy in the late trading and made new lows right at the end 31 to 32 points under the previous close and closed at the bottom. The general market closed steady at net declines for the day of 30 to 32 points.

Liverpool came in 4 to 6 points lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 11 to 13 points. The market continued to ease off after the start until at the end to 13.29 or 17 to 18 points down from the previous close.

The market continued to ease off not only on the weather forecast but also on easiness in stocks and grain. October dropped to 13.01 and Dec. to 13.19 or 28 points below Saturday's close. Prices made new lows at the end with October at 12.98 and December at 13.15 or 31 to 32 points down from the previous close. The close was at or near the lowest.

Port receipts 3,391, for week 3,853, for season 8,660,784. Last season 9,502,422. Exports 2,162, for week 5,880, for season 6,598,544, last season 7,865,588. Port stock 1,592,824, last year 602,857. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 43,133, last year 52,165. Spot sales at southern markets 1,615 bales, last year 4,283.

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, July 21. (INS)—Spot cotton opened dull today with barely steady. Sales totaled 2,000 bales.

At midday, middling fair sold at 9.13d, strictly good middling at 8.68d, good middling at 8.33d, strictly middling at 8.03d, middling at 7.83d. Strictly low middling at 7.53d, middling at 6.98d, strictly good ordinary at 6.25d, and good ordinary at 5.88d.

Futures were quiet and steady with July at 7.38d, October at 7.09d, December at 7.11d, January at 7.12d, March at 7.19d and May at 7.26d.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)—The forecast for showers in the cotton belt today and tomorrow brought a decline of 1.25 per bale in cotton. With disappointing cables and lower openings in domestic exchanges, first prices were 9 to 15 points down. Further sharp losses were sustained in early trading but the market recovered slightly just before the close. Final prices were 18 to 31 points net lower.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—Cotton goods opened steady today with the demand quite well scattered for gray cloths. The American Woolen company opened lines of light weight staples, tropical suitings and flannels for spring 1931. Prices on tropicals ran from 20 cents to 36 cents a yard below those of a year ago, while serges, stripes, etc., were down from 4 cents to 27 cents a yard. Yarns were quiet and irregular. Burlaps showed little change at the opening. Raw silk opened unchanged from Saturday. Silk goods for fall were doing a little better.

Hogs lower.

Reaction Wipes Out Recent Gains As Prices Yield Before Pressure

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, July 21. (US)—An overdue reaction in the stock market took place today. Its internal technical position impaired as a result of the sustained rise of the preceding two weeks, renewed selling by bears found only moderate support in leading stocks, chiefly on a scale down. The declines were spread throughout the list and on the average were quite substantial, wiping out a good part of the gain scored throughout last week. The selling had commenced Saturday, when the market first showed signs of hesitancy. It carried over into the opening transactions today, although an effort was made to support the market in the early dealings. Renewed weakness in the grain markets, inspired by favorable weather news and perhaps raiding for its influence on stocks, undermined confidence and prices yielded before pressure. The declining tendency persisted to the close, which found most issues at their lows for the day.

For the most part, the selling of stocks had all the earmarks of a bear raid. It was said that Livermore, bear leader of many markets, had sensed the market's weakened understructure and started selling stocks on Saturday. Most speculative interests recognized that the recent betterment in the market had been chiefly the result of concerted sponsorship. And although even these interests admitted a reaction was overdue, the list maintained its strength throughout last week. A good portion of the short interest had been cancelled and a public following was not attracted. This column emphasized last week that the technical position of the market warranted a substantial correction, irrespective of the longer-term outlook. Today's break, which averaged over seven points among leading industrials, failed to bring out public liquidation, as evidenced by the volume of less than two million shares. Unless large-scale general selling is induced, the bears are little likely to succeed in effecting more than a natural reaction in the market.

All stocks were subjected to the selling, with the principal pressure against such stocks as Steel Common, Radio, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, and the Public utility group in entirety. Steel dropped almost four points to close at 162⅞. Westinghouse was off six. The speculative leaders such as Vanadium and Worthington Pump were down sharply. The Vanadium pool has had difficulty lately in attracting new buying, as it became more generally realized that comments concerning the company's earnings were exaggerations. American Can broke five points despite expectation of an important new deal to be announced in the near future.

Consolidated Gas broke five points and other leading utilities proportionately as the selling seemed particularly aimed at this group. The bears still argue that this section of the market has not been sufficiently liquidated, in view of the more recent reports from the companies showing recession in earnings, and the fact the stocks still are selling at higher ratios than other groups. The motors were likewise subjected to concerted selling, although their friends assert these stock have discounted about the worst that can be expected in the industry. Introduction of new models is expected to stimulate sales.

Notwithsanding the severity of the decline, there was a tendency in speculative quarters to regard the market's action as entirely in line with expectation. Failure to induce widespread liquidation on a large scale was accepted as indicating the sold-out condition of the market. The sponsors for the market on its constructive side achieved considerable success in their last activity and undoubtedly will renew their bullish efforts as soon as the market shows signs of stabilizing. Pivotal stocks to observe in this connection include Radio, General Motors, Standard of New Jersey, American Can, and Steel Common.

While the stock market was breaking, the bond market continued strong, with many bonds reaching new highs for the year. A maintained firm bond market would be a highly bullish development.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, July 21. (AP)—Excellent demand continued for wheat as the week opened on the Fort Worth cash grain market. Exports were bidding around 93c basis ordinary wheat delivered Texas gulf ports and mill bids were 93@93½c, basis ordinary No. 1 hard delivered Texas common points with 14 per cent protein bringing 94@94½c.

Corn was in fair demand and inquiry for sorghums was reported better in the nominal market. Oats and barley were still slow sale.

Estimated receipts for the two days: Wheat, 237 cars; corn, 9; oats, 3; barley, 5, and sorghums, 3 cars.

Bids and offers on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Corn—No. 2 mixed 97½@98½c; No. 2 white $1.03½@1.04½; No. 2 yellow $1.00½@1.01½.
Oats—No. 3 red 43½@44½c.
Barley—No. 2 nominally, 57@59c.
Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds, nominally, $1.75@1.80; No. 2 kaffir $1.65@1.70.

New crop South Texas sorghums were reported being offered in increasing volume but sales were light, only one car of No. 2 milo being listed and that at $1.75.

Dealers also quoted as follows, basis delivered Texas group one: No. 2 mixed corn 96@97c; No. 2 white corn $1.02@1.03; No. 2 yellow corn 99c@$1.00; No. 3 white oats 46@46½c, to which add one cent for delivery Texas group three.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 21. (AP)—Wheat values fell quickly today, with wheat arriving here faster than at any previous time this season and with beneficial rains and lower temperatures widespread.

The market influence of big receipts of wheat in Chicago today, 1,233 cars, was emphasized by a huge increase of the United States wheat visible supply, 8,394,000 bushels greatly exceeding that either of last week or a year ago. Official estimates were out indicating that stocks of domestic wheat at interior mills and elevators are 27,538,000 bushels in excess of a five-year average.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsteady at about the day's bottom level, 2¼@2⅜c a bushel lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 1⅜@2⅜c down, oats 1@1⅛c off, and provisions unchanged to a drop of 12 cents.

At no time did the wheat market today give any evidence of much power to rally. From start to finish, the majority of traders were responsive to the fact that rains and cooler weather both in the United States and Canadian spring crop areas had gone far to handicap friends of higher prices. Then, too, Liverpool quotations much lower than had been looked for added to the influence of enlarged selling here, and tended to offset the effect of continued European demand for wheat from North America.

Corn prices broke sharply as a result of highly beneficial rains over parts of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois. Some sections of the corn belt, however, continued to send in unfavorable crop comments. Oats eased down owing to sympathy with corn and wheat.

Provisions were also easier, responsive to downturns in hog values and in cereals as well.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Sept. 89⅝c, 92¼@⅜c; Dec. 95⅛c, 97⅜@98c. Corn, July 80c, 82¼c; Sept. 77¼@⅝c, 80⅝@¾c; Dec. 71⅜@⅝c, 75⅛c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, July 21. (US)—With 100 degrees or better registered in the last three days of the past week splendid harvest weather was encountered, Decatur advices assert. The yield of wheat and quality was said to be exceptionally good while corn on light soils or late planting is showing signs of distress, although the best corn may go another week with but little damage. Corn in the St. Louis section is showing firing and some tassels appear to be burned.

Department of agriculture statisticians at Des Moines estimate a cut of more than 50,000,000 bushels in the Iowa corn crop as the result of heat and drouth of the past two weeks.

Government estimates on stocks of wheat in interior mills and elevators on July 1 are placed at 54,031,000 bushels against 41,546,000 bushels last year and a five-year average of 26,493,000 bushels.

Former Secretary of Agriculture Jardine's prediction of a loss of 100,000,000 bushels to the wheat crop if the drouth continues 10 days more, are considered extreme by some crop experts, who assert that the winter wheat has been helped rather than hurt and trade estimates are general that the yield will exceed government estimates. A loss of 100,000,000 bushels of spring wheat would mean a 40 per cent reduction from the July 1 government estimate, it is pointed out. As a matter of fact the South Dakota crop is already largely harvested.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, July 21. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Curtailed supplies of cattle around the 11 market circuit helped to offset the depressing influence of a sluggish and weak to lower dressed beef trade. Some points reported weakness on native grain fed steers but the general market on natives was steady with some strength on well finished light weight steers and yearlings. Western grass steers and fat she stock were unevenly to 25 cents lower. Chicago had a top of $10.85 on light yearlings and realized $10.25 on best heavy steers. Plain quality Southwest grass steers at the river market ranged from $4.50 to $6.25.

Hogs were tendered an uneven decline of 10 to 40 cents, lighter weights at some centers as much decline as strong weight butchers. The day's extreme top of $9.75 was paid both at Chicago and St. Louis. Offerings were around 113,900.

The sheep supply approximated 67,200. Fat lamb prices sagged 25 to 50 cents to new low levels for the season. Best range lambs in Chicago cleared at $10.00 while at several of the river markets choice Westerns sold at $3.75. Fat ewes were scarce and mostly steady.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, July 21. (AP)—A lack of demand for all classes of cattle and calves resulted in very slow trading here today. Such morning sales as were made were about steady. Bidding a little lower in spots.

A good portion of the cattle offered were steers, but most of them were fairly plain cattle. The morning top was $7.25 paid for a load for shipment to California. Some plain steers sold to order buyers at $4.50 with packers taking some steers at $4.75.

Bulls about steady with last week's close. Common light ones sold from $3.00 to $3.75.

Cows rather slow but about steady during the morning session. Canners sold from $2.25 to $2.85 with cutters around $3.00; butcher and beef cows around $4.00 and $4.25.

While some of the calf bids were lower the morning sales were about in line with last week's close. Light calves sold at $7.00 and some heavy calves from $6.00 to $6.50. Culls continued to clear in the 300 range.

No rail hogs offered. Bulk of the day's receipts directs. Truck hogs steady to a dime higher with top of $9.00. Packing sows from $7.00 to $7.25.

Sheep steady with deck fat lambs at $9.00 and truck lambs $8.00 to $8.50. Two-year-old wethers $4.50 and aged fat wethers $4.00. Feed yearlings 25c lower with sales $4.25 and $4.75.

FORT WORTH, July 21. (AP)—(U. S. Department Agriculture.)—Hogs—Receipts 1,900; truck hogs, steady to 10c higher, shipper top $9.00; packer top $8.90; packing sows $7.25.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, July 21. (AP)—The current lull in the wool market is apparently due to the fact that the manufacturing industry is now in the midst of vacation and semi-annual inventory period, together with the fact that manufacturers due to rather liberal purchases have sufficient supply to meet requirements during this period. Prices, however, are generally firm; receipts of domestic wool during week ending July 19, amounted to 12,384,800 pounds as compared with 18,797,704 pounds during the previous week.

C. O. Aspergren, McPherson, Kan., Police judge, fined himself $1 for overparking and "warned himself" against a second offense.

An EVERYDAY
Sale of Everything!

BARGAIN hunting is inherent in most of us; when children we go where we can buy the most candy for a nickel. Necessity requires this practice through life.

Nothing provides such a fertile field for the bargain hunter as the "Miscellaneous For Sale" ads. Here people sell things they no longer need, ofttimes at remarkably low prices. Anything from a dainty bit of china to a four-wheel trailer may be purchased.

Chorus leaders included R. C. Mann, W. R. Webb, E. F. Fruechte, J. B. Scarbrough, W. N. Deaton, J. D. Holland, H. W. Powell and L. V. Abernathy of Wichita Falls; Miss Mary Sue Hansard from Thornberry; C. A. Robbins, J. D. Cooper and J. D. Robbins of Cooper; W. B. Johnston and J. S. Gore from Burkburnett.

Pianist Mrs. Hurdt was assisted by Miss Mildred Hansard, Miss Ruby Mitchell and Mrs. L. V. Abernathy of Wichita Falls; Miss Mary Sue Hansard and Mrs. S. L. Hansard from Thornberry; Blake Johnson of Burkburnett.

Special numbers on the program consisted of a quartet by J. B. Scarbrough, Mrs. J. O. Roberts, H. W. Powell and W. B. Johnston; solo by Miss Glada Fugate; quartet by H. W. Powell, Mrs. Roberts, J. S. Gore and A. K. Presson; solo by Miss Mary Sue Hansard; quartet by H. W. Powell, Mrs. Roberts, W. B. Johnston and A. K. Presson; quartet by J. S. Gore, J. B. Scarbrough, H. W. Powell and Blake Johnson; quartet by W. B. Johnston, S. Gore, H. Powell and A. K. Presson.

Delegates from the Cooper church secured the next District Singing convention which will meet Aug. 17 at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Johnston also announced that the Wichita County Singing convention would meet at County Line on the second Sunday in September.

The closing chorus was led by S. Gore and the benediction pronounced by Rev. A. F. Heusel.

$1,623,753 Bonus Added To Salary of Steel Head

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 21. (US)—Eugene C. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, received a bonus of $1,623,752 in 1929, he testified today.

This was brought out during the trial of the suit to enjoin the merger of Bethlehem with the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company.

Mr. Grace, whose fixed salary is only $12,000 a year, said that since 1925 he had received a bonus of 3,319 per cent of the net earnings of the company after fixed charges had been reduced.

Houston Leads Texas In New Export Trade

DALLAS, July 21. (AP)—Houston led Texas cities in new export business secured by Texas firms during last year through the three offices of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce with a total of $1,595,636, Sherwood Avery, head of the Dallas office, announced today. Total new business for the state amounted to $3,624,455.

Dallas ranked second with $1,181,792. Galveston was third with $197,708, El Paso was fourth with $167,100, Beaumont was fifth with $130,000 and Corpus Christi was sixth with $100,000.

Blistering July Sun Concentrates Wrath on Eastern States, Killing 7

(By The Associated Press)

The endurance contest between the sun and the citizenry narrowed down Monday to a finish fight on a battleground which reached from Ohio to the Middle Atlantic seaboard.

Rain and cooler weather revived the Mississippi river states and those farther west, and New England and the South suffered less than on Sunday and Saturday, but the July tribulations of the East were increased in proportion.

New York sweltered through the hottest July 21 on record with the temperature touching 99 to smash a record that had stood since 1885. City officials announced that sleeping would be permitted on all beaches and in parks until the crisis was past. One hundred and seventy-six street cleaning showers were placed at the disposal of overheated children.

Baltimore, where the temperature soared to 104, reported three deaths and more than a score of prostrations in Maryland. Baltimore authorities found it necessary to forbid lawn sprinkling to conserve water.

Philadelphia saw the mercury exceed 100 degrees for the second time in three days, with scant relief in sight. Four deaths and a score or more of prostrations was the toll.

FOUR HURT IN AUTO CRASHES

Pioneer Iowa Park Woman In Critical Condition

of Randlett late Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Jonathan Rich of Randlett, driver of the other car, and seven children who were riding in the two machines escaped injury.

Mrs. Cox, who has been in the employ of Mrs. Audie Clower in Burkburnett for several months, was returning to her home in Walters at the time of the accident. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kinser there. She was rushed to a hospital at Lawton where physicians said her skull was probably fractured and her left arm badly crushed. Her condition was pronounced critical.

The injured boy was taken to the Wichita Falls General hospital by his father. He was riding on the running board of the car at the time of the collision, witnesses said. A sudden dust cloud which blinded the drivers of the two machines was blamed for the collision.

IOWA PARK WOMAN CRITICALLY INJURED
Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, July 21.—Mrs. Frances Williams, Iowa Park pioneer, was critically injured about 6:30 Monday afternoon when she was struck down by an automobile as she attempted to cross the Wichita Falls highway in front of her home. Holt Green of Wheeler, Texas, driver of the car, was brought to the sheriff's office at Wichita Falls for questioning after a preliminary investigation by Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney.

He was later released under a $500 appearance bond to report back to the sheriff's office for investigation Tuesday.

Mrs. Williams, an elderly woman, was crossing the street to a neighbor's home at the time of the accident. She suffered a fractured skull and a broken leg, according to information given at the Wichita General hospital where she was rushed for treatment. Physicians there pronounced her condition critical.

Mrs. Williams has lived in Iowa Park for many years. She is the mother of Milo Williams of Childress, Paul Williams of Fort Worth, Mark Williams of Electra, Ted Williams of Wichita Falls, Miss Fern Williams of Birmingham, Ala., and Ruth Williams of Iowa Park.

MYSTERY MARKS SAYRE ACCIDENT
Special to The Record News.

SAYRE, Okla., July 21.—Authorities here were seeking the identity of a woman killed in an automobile accident four miles east of Sayre Monday night and of her companion, another woman, seriously hurt. The two were traveling along highway 66 when the car overturned.

The injured woman Monday night declined to divulge the name of herself or her companion until she had communicated with relatives of the dead woman. The body is being held in a Sayre undertaking establishment.

Boulder Dam Promoter Given Prison Sentence

LOS ANGELES, July 21. (US)—Samuel Mooes, Boulder dam land promoter, today was sentenced to a 15-month penitentiary term by federal Judge James for using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

The promoter, who was found guilty on the mail fraud charge last week, bought assertedly worthless mountain land on the eastern end of Imperial county, and sold it to settlers at from $5 to $7 an acre.

WHY ADJOURN?

Senate Room Called Coolest Place In Capital

WASHINGTON, July 21. (US)—While the rest of Washington sweltered under temperatures of above the 100 degree mark, members of the senate this afternoon sat cool and comfortable in the senate chamber as they went through the final stages of ratifying the London naval treaty.

Except possibly for two or three of the gilded picture palaces, the senate chamber was probably the coolest spot in Washington, thanks to the new ventilating and refrigerating system installed since last summer. The temperature inside the chamber was down around the 80 mark, 20 to 25 degrees cooler than outside the capitol buildings.

County Candidates Attend Church Party

Candidates for district, county and precinct offices made brief talks Monday night before a crowd of about 250 persons assembled at the Floral Heights Presbyterian church for an indoor social and ice cream party. Only four candidates out of the list of those for state senate on down to precinct offices were absent, according to Judge John P. Marrs, presiding officer.

A welcome talk was made by Dr. Grafton, who also spoke briefly on the new church building and some of the plans for the church. Following the brief talks, ice cream, cold drinks and watermelon were served at small charges to all present.

Murder Suspect Sticks To Story Under Grilling

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—Six hours of constant questioning today apparently failed to shake the alibi of Herman H. Barrere, former service man and itinerant painter, arrested in connection with the murder of Mary Baker.

As Barrere was led back late today to his cell in the little Arlington county jail, which already has housed five suspects of the slaying of the young government clerk last April, Lieutenant Edward J. Kelly, of the Washington homicide squad, said the prisoner would be questioned again tonight. He said so far Barrere's claims of innocence had not been shaken.

Nye Abruptly Halts Nebraska Investigation

LINCOLN, Neb., July 21. (AP)—A United States senate inquisition into Nebraska campaign expenditures as they pertained to the brief candidacy of George W. Norris of Broken Bow as an opponent of George W. Norris the senator, was abruptly halted here tonight by Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, to permit his immediate return to Chicago to take up threads of the McCormick inquiry.

The Nebraska probe, he announced, was not concluded but will be adjourned until he has had time to confer with other members of the senatorial committee.

Former Sooner Sheriff Gets Life for Slaying

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 21. (UP)—Joe Pounds, former Beckham county deputy sheriff, today pleaded guilty to a murder charge in connection with the mysterious shooting of Sheriff C. H. Phillips of Beckham county, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Jess Brown and Frank Griffin, charged jointly with Pounds, will face preliminary hearing Aug. 11.

porch, blinked yellow orbs, and then licked a moth-eaten coat.

She knocked, then waited. The man had said Mrs. Banning was dead. Queer she felt no grief. Nothing.

A woman poked her head out the door. A soiled, pink boudoir cap covering her graying, wispy hair.

"I'm inquiring about Mrs. Banning . . ."

"Oh!" the door flew open, and the woman invited Kay to enter. She did so with reluctance. For if the outside of the house had been disconcerting the inside was more so. A few rickety chairs, a table covered with a dirty lace cloth, some chromos on the wall, which was stained and soiled.

"Sit down, Miss," she indicated what was probably the best chair, and Kay took it. "Ain't had time to tidy up yet, so you'll excuse. Sunday, you know, and I had to get the kids off to Sunday school. Now what was that you wanted to know?"

"Poor Ol' Soul"

"I'd like to know about the Bannings. I hear Mrs. Banning died—"

"Yeh, a year ago. Poor ol' soul. I been here in this house ever since. Ain't so good and ain't so bad."

"Did you know her at all?"

"Yes, but not so good as some of the other folks 'round here. You see we only been in Langly two years. But I was with her some, when she was sick. Poor woman, she had a lot to stand. Alone when she died. Not a child around her. When she had two, too. Husky, and they could've made her old age decent, and fairly comfortable. That's the trouble bringing up kids, when they get old enough to go, they leave and never come back. I suppose my kids will do this same, only I hope not!" The woman looked very indignant. However, her indignation passed as swiftly as it had come. Sheer curiosity overcame it. Kay felt gimlet eyes piercing her.

"Who are you, now? I hear Mrs. Banning had a pretty daughter. Kitty, they say, only I never seen her. She'd been gone a long time before we come to these parts. Are' you Kitty, by any chance?"

Kay stiffened, her tongue seemed tied. Her body grew hot, then icy cold. Finally she found words.

"I—no—only a friend of the—family—"

She didn't know why she had denied being Kitty Banning.

CROWD CHEERS G. WILLIAMS

Congressman Speaks At Auditorium

shouted "You have our vote and all the rest of them. You don't have to waste breath telling us how you stand. We know. Tell us a good story."

The speaker was introduced by Leslie Humphreys. His address was transmitted to the large crowd on the grounds by means of loud speakers and broacast by remote control over station KGKO.

"I did not deceive you when you elected me in the past," Representative Williams said. "I shall never deceive you. If I ever do, I shall not ask you to elect me. I have had many an opportunity to sidestep and demagogue up there in Washington without the fear of your ever hearing about it. But I have never done that and I never shall. My integrity shall always stand above everything else, and the desire to vote for everything in congress that is to the best interests of my people shall always be uppermost in my mind.

"I have always voted for everything to bneefit the veterans of the world war. But if I know in my own mind that somebody is trying to hand the veterans a lemon, I shall vote against it and let them know why I am against it, as I have always done. My being against it may not keep congress from passing a bill which the veterans would wish they didn't have, but that would not change my attitude.

Federal Money in Texas

"You hear them talking about war loans and Williams' stand on the loan to Italy. Why don't they talk about England or France? I never voted to loan any nation money or to cancel any foreign debt. Yet they say I voted to give money to Italy and at the same time raise the rate of interest on loans to the farmers. No such thing as that ever took place. You never heard of Guinn Williams giving anything away, did you? No, he wants to collect whenever he can. I voted to collect every cent possible from Italy. All we could do was make the best settlement possible. We can't send an army to take over the resources of a foreign country that owes us a debt. We wouldn't give 10 American lives for 10 billion dollars in debts.

"Somebody said Guinn Williams was for the big bankers. I am not. I am for the banks in our communities. I oppose branch banking and any law to allow a bank in a large city to take over banks in smaller towns. I didn't get everything I wanted when they made the law governing branch banking, but I got the best that could be obtained at the time and I still oppose that form of banking.

"A man in congress is like a man in his community. He must establish confidence in the minds of those with whom he associates. I would not stay in Washington or anywhere else one minute if I did not have the confidence and cooperation of my associates.

"I have cooperated with others and assisted in getting all I could for public building programs, particularly for my own district. You people of Wichita Falls have a man in your community who probably had more influence than anyone else in bringing a public building program here. Ask him if I did not give him every support I could in furthering that project. Through my efforts the departments at Washington are sending inspectors to several other towns in the district to look over the situation in the light of constructing such buildings.

"I cooperated in securing additional funds for federal road building projects in this state. Instead of four and a half millions for federal aid in road building, more than seven millions will come to Texas next year for road projects, all through my efforts and cooperation with others in congress.

Oil Conservation

"They talk about oil conservation. I realize now after study—hard study—of all the figures and facts given us by the experts of the world that the supply of oil is inexhaustible. Oh, they told us a long time ago that the coal supply would give out. But we have electricity and steam today and billions of tons of coal still unused. The question arises, how does the tariff on oil affect the consumer? I say that the price of oil does not affect the price of gasoline. In practically every nation of the world where oil is produced, except in the United States, gasoline sells at 30 to 50 cents a gallon. And if we do not protect the independent producer, our gasoline prices will go up accordingly.

"This German invention to extract as much gasoline from poor grades of oil, like those from South America, as we can get out of our high gravity oils should be considered. Think of the effect of that. From 300,000 to 350,000 barrels of crude are imported every day. The Republicans started a protective tariff and now they have a prohibitive tariff. It was the influence of the Republican senators from the North and East that prevented you independent operators from getting relief when the oil tariff question came up for consideration. It won't be five years until the independent oil men will be entirely out of business if they don't get relief. We must protect every oil producer in this country. That German invention itself will raise our prices for gasoline and force our oil producers out within 10 years. They must have protection."

Counterfeiting Suspect Shot Down Mysteriously

NEW YORK, July 21. (AP)—James D. Sapo, 22, was shot and dangerously wounded today by a man who rode past him in an automobile as he was on his way to the federal attorney's office to confer about a counterfeiting case in which he was to testify for the government.

Although conscious for some time after the shooting, he declined to veal the identity of his attacker, whom police believed he knew.

Sapo, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of counterfeiting in the same case, was under $7,500 bail.

PARNELL TALKS OF CAMPAIGN

Wichitan Reviews Race For Lieutenant Governor

Former Senator J. D. Parnell of Wichita Falls, candidate for lieutenant-governor, Monday issued the following statement concerning his race:

"I am coming to the close of my campaign for lieutenant governor. I want to express my appreciation for the splendid support I have received from over the state. It has been necessary for me to devote most of my time to East, South, and Central Texas, believing that my friends in North and West Texas, who know my record and my interest in this section of the state, will continue to rally to my support and give me an overwhelming majority July 26.

"For the last 15 years, I have devoted much of my time to civic and industrial affairs in North and West Texas. I have given my time unselfishly and at no time did I use the ofifce I held either as a member of the house or the state senate to further my own personal gain. There is hardly a county or city in this section of Texas that I have not assisted in some manner during the past 15 years. Not a highway has been constructed but that I have not in some way joined with my support and exerted every energy in behalf of various counties of this district.

"Not one charge has ever been made and substantiated against my record as a state officer while I served in both the house and senate. The honest forward-looking citizens of this district with whom I have been associated will bear out this statement.

"I regret that I have been unable to devote much time in campaigning through this section, but I am relying upon the voters who know my record to stand by me and elect me as lieutenant governor of this state. If elected, it will be the second time in the history of Texas that this office has been held by a citizen west of the 98th meridian.

"I promise that my official conduct will be such that no voter will have occasion to apologize for his support of my candidacy."

HEAVY VOTE PREDICTED

J. D. Parnell, candidate for lieutenant governor, will lead all other candidates in the vote polled in the area extending 100 miles west of Wichita Falls, according to a prediction made Monday by John Davenport, Wichita Falls attorney, who has returned from a speaking tour of the area on behalf of the candidate.

Other reports from over the state are most encouraging, according to friends of Parnell here. He is expected to carry Travis county and also to poll a heavy vote in Southwest Texas, it was said.

John Lee Smith to Give 50th Speech Tonight

John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, candidate for congress, will deliver the 50th speech of his campaign here Tuesday night in the 78th district courtroom. Mr. Smith will open his address at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night, he said while in Wichita Falls Monday.

The Throckmorton man spoke at Seymour Monday night and will speak in Archer City at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. He will address the voters at Electra at 8:30 Wednesday night, will go to Bryson for an address at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon and to Jacksboro for another talk at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Extension of Reduced Cotton Rates Asked

HOUSTON, July 21. (AP)—A petition asking that the life of railroad rates on cotton originally designed to meet motor truck competition be extended, was presented to the state railroad commission here today. The hearing probably will require several days.

The rates which constituted a material reduction, are effective, under the present rule, until July 31. The tariff on cotton from producing points to ports is at issue.

BRECKENRIDGE AUTO DEATH

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, July 21. (AP)—Miss Pauline Treadway, 16, was instantly killed yesterday while returning from a dance at Wayland, near here, when an automobile in which she was riding went into a ditch.

Today

At the Theaters

By ELEANOR FLEMING

MAJESTIC: Dolores Del Rio and Edmund Lowe delight with song and act in "The Bad One." Comedy and talking news.

STRAND: Clara Bow in "Love Among the Millionaires." Novelties, Dixie screen song and Paramount sound news.

STATE: Jack Oakie in "The Social Lion." Paramount talking comedy and State novelties.

GEM: "The Cocoanuts," with Mary Eaton, Oscar Shaw and the Four Marx brothers. Fable comedy.

After months of ballyhoo about "promising" people and things, garish blurbs on new books and fantastic publicity about various sorts of entertainment, along comes little Mitzi Green and there is nothing new to say. All the adjectives that should have been saved for her debut were wasted on unworthies.

Her song, "Don't Be a Meanie," in "Love Among the Millionaires" is one of those moments which reward theater-goers for the hours they spend waiting for something. Before the naivete wears off and Mitzi goes the way of all spoiled children, the producers should hasten to make several good pictures.

No better running mates for the little hoyden could be found than Skeets Gallagher and Stuart Erwin. Some of their moments are worth waiting for, also, in spite of the fact that they steal Laurel and Hardy's stuff in the automobile-dismantling scene.

There will probably never be another time when as many real comedians are billed in Wichita Falls at the same time. Skeets Gallagher is seen at both the Strand and State, while Stuart Erwin appears at the Strand and will be seen in "Dangerous Nan McGrew," starting Wednesday at the Majestic. Mitzi Green, Helen Kane, Jack Oakie and the Marx brothers finish the roll.

It is amazing that the fun made by Mitzi, Skeets and Stuart should so amply make up for the heavy melodrama, the pained expression on Stanley Smith's face and those long waits in between the good moments. With their help, "Love Among the Millionaires" is boosted until it is a fairly good comedy.

P. S. A rotund damsel called Clara Bow, formerly called the "Brooklyn Bonfire" but now only the cold, grey ashes of what seemed to be quite a conflagration, is also in "Love Among the Millionaires" and doesn't quite succeed in ruining the good work of the three comedians.

New Orchestra to Play At Free Vaudeville

The feature of the free vaudeville program which will be given at the Memorial auditorium Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock will be special musical numbers by the newly organized Wichita Falls Symphonic orchestra, under the direction of Tom McCarty. Miss Louise Armstrong will also give a dance number.

The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock and will be over at 8:45 after which Senator W. D. McFarlane, candidate for congress from the 13th district, will speak in behalf of his race.

Texas Child Dies After Swallowing Kerosene

HILLSBORO, Texas, July 21 (AP)—Billie Hope Stoker, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Stoker of the Midway community, died yesterday after drinking kerosene.

CANDIDATES TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Iowa Park to Hear Talks By Office Seekers

Arrangements were completed Monday morning for the fourth political rally of Wichita county candidates at Iowa Park Tuesday night, according to an announcement from Judge John P. Marrs, chairman of the candidates arrangements committee.

Judge Marrs went to Iowa Park Monday morning and arranged for the use of the Baptist tabernacle, which provides large seating capacity in the open air, a platform for the speakers and good lighting. Each candidate, beginning with those for state senate and proceeding through the list to precinct candidates, will be allowed five minutes for his talk. An Iowa Park man will be selected to preside at the rally. Only one more county rally has been scheduled by the candidates, to be held at the auditorium grounds in Wichita Falls Wednesday night.

Absentee Voting Shows Interest in Primary

While the number of absentee votes cast this year so far has not equalled the number cast two years ago before the July primary, the total at the close of the day Monday stood at 170 for the first five days of the pre-election balloting and indicated greater interest in this year's election than has been generally believed, according to information given by Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk.

The average for each day since the county clerk has been receiving absentee votes this year is about 35, while the daily average two years ago, Miss Hall said, was almost 100. A total of 31 absentee ballots were cast Monday in the clerk's office and at the close of the day a total of 24 ballots had been received marked by persons now out of the county. Miss Hall said she expected to receive almost that number through the mails before the election. Saturday marked the high point in absentee voting, 41 persons having marked ballots in the clerk's office.

NACOGDOCHES DROWNING

NACOGDOCHES, Texas, July 21. (AP)—Ray King, 28, farmer of Chireno, was drowned yesterday while attempting to rescue Vernon Layton, 12, from a swimming pool, near there. Layton was saved by others after King had gone down.

Two of the largest Italian shipyards have been consolidated with a capital of 100,000,000 lire and three years' work ahead.

FOUR GIVEN PRISON TERMS

Suspended Sentence Plea Costly for One

Despite the advice of George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney T. P. Chambless, called to trial Monday in the 89th district court on a charge of driving while intoxicated, filed an application for a suspended sentence after pleading guilty to the charge and was thereupon sentenced to six months in the penitentiary by a jury.

Refuses Light Term

Chambless, it was explained, might have received a light sentence in the county jail here or a fine of even as little as $1 if he had not filed the suspended sentence application, since members of the district attorney's department had said they would not demand a heavy punishment. He insisted on the plea, however, but it was refused by the jury and the six-month sentence imposed. Chambless made no statement after the verdict was read.

Penitentiary sentences aggregating 18 and one-half years were imposed by juries in the 89th court Monday following pleas of guilty from four defendants, all of whom were indicted by the grand jury for the July term of the 30th district court.

W. R. (Bill) Horton was given two years in each of two cases against him on charges of forgery and passing forged instruments. The sentences were made concurrent by Judge Martin following Horton's plea of guilty.

Clifford Barrett received a five-year sentence in one case and a four-year sentence in another, both charges having been for burglary. He entered a plea of guilty in both cases and Judge Martin ordered his sentences to run concurrently.

Williams Case Delayed

J. D. McAlister, scheduled to have been tried under the habitual criminal act, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft over $50 and was sentenced by a jury to five years in the penitentiary after members of the district attorney's department agreed to dismiss the habitual criminal proceedings in lieu of a five-year sentence.

Judge Martin announced at the close of his court Monday afternoon that he would take up the civil docket for the 89th court Tuesday morning and continue the remainder of the criminal docket originally set for the week until a later term of the court. Assistant District Attorney George W. Anderson explained that illness prevented attorneys involved in the criminal cases from appearing in court for the criminal trials and that attorneys involved in several of the civil suits have urged immediate trial of their cases, necessitating continuance of the trials on indictments set for the week. Included among those originally scheduled for the week were two indictments against J. P. Williams, former Iowa Park constable charged, with accepting bribes for alleged protection of beer sellers. His case and the others, Mr. Anderson said, will probably not be taken up until September.

Tariff Commission to Study Sugar Costs

WASHINGTON, July 21. (AP)—The senate today modified its request for a tariff commission investigation of costs of production of sugar to cover only the refined product.

The modification was at the request of Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, who offered another resolution. It was adopted without discussion.

As a result, the tariff commission will investigate costs of production here and in Cuba of raw sugar, a subject of controversy for months during the tariff debate.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS KING

'Debunking' Characteristic Of Present Age

Praising the tendency of modern life to reduce problems to their elements, but deploring the inclination of most persons to be spectators rather than participants in life, Bert King characterized the present age as one of "debunking" in a talk before members of the Kiwanis club Monday noon.

Fear of criticism restrains many persons from saying and doing the things which their convictions prompt them to say or do, Mr. King said. Courageous expression of sincere opinion should accompany the analysis of problems and institutions, he added.

Members of the local Kiwanis club have been invited by the Henrietta Kiwanians to be present at their weekly luncheon next Thursday noon, according to Dr. R. H. Peterson, president. Dr. H. T. Wood, pastor of the First Christian church and a member of the local Kiwanis club, will be the principal speaker at that meeting.

Delegates to the district Kiwanis convention soon to be held at Lubbock will be elected next Monday, Dr. Peterson announced.

Vocal solos by Mrs. C. N. Cameron, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Lucille Brooks Huff, comprised the entertainment for the day.

CADET CLUB HAS ACE

Jack Frank attained the distinction of becoming the first ace in the Wichita Falls Air Cadet club Monday afternoon at the regular meeting of the club at the Memorial auditorium when his two motor twin-pusher airplane stayed in the air for 48 seconds and flew a distance of half a mile.

Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Frank, 2109 Indian Heights, and only nine years of age. He constructed the plane without any assistance. Approximately 40 members attended the meeting.

Death Claims English Soldier-Statesman

LONDON, July 21. (AP)—Lieut. Col. the Hon. Cuthbert James, M. P., died today, aged 58.

Colonel James joined the Egyptian army in 1899. He served in the first white Nile expedition against the Khalifa and subsequently became administrator of Wade Halfa. In 1904-05 he was assistant financial secretary to the Egyptian army.

During the great war he saw service in France with the East Surrey regiment and with the marines.

He was champion boxer of the army and navy in 1898. The colonel was a Conservative member of the house of commons for Bromley.
