International Law Quoted by U. S. Justice

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 20—(AP) — Justice Robert H. Jackson said today that the question of the legality of retroactive laws to fit war crimes already had been answered fully by the provisions of the charter establishing the international military tribunal and in the report he made to President Truman recently.

Jackson said that the question probably would be argued by the nazis facing trial before the tribunal here Nov. 20. Jackson is the chief American prosecutor.

Dr. Robert Ley, former head of the German labor front, raised the issue after reading the indictment charging him and the other nazi leaders with crimes against humanity.

"I don't see how you can make a law after things have been done," Ley protested. "Even God first made the Ten Commandments and judged people by them afterwards."

Jackson replied: "This is a strange statement coming from Ley and his crowd, who killed without any law. However, we aren't stooping to anything they did. Our case rests squarely on the provisions of the charter based on international law

Arnold Estimates U. S. Has World's Best Air Force

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP)—The United States today has the world's most powerful air force, greater perhaps than the aerial strength of all othe nations combined.

The estimate is General H. H. Arnold's. And in making it to a senate military subcommittee the boss of the army air forces said the AAF should have equal status with the war and navy departments in a proposed merger of the services.

Arnold based his appraisal of U. S. air supremacy in part on the fact that England is the only nation which "has a strategic air force that we know about," he explained at yesterday's hearing.

Strategic bombing with fighter escort destroyed the German luftwaffe's fuel, oil and able interceptor pilots, Arnold said. It also helped dispose of the Jap air force, which suffered too from the bypassing of planes and pilots on remote island and the naval blockade of supply lines.

The Japs became so impotent at the end the general continued, that General Carl Spaatz didn't bothe sending fighting escort with the B29 which dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima.

As for the Germans, Arnold said, they held a terrible threat to the AAF Flying Fortresses and Liberators in their well-developed jet planes but failed to make the most of it.

"We have a report that one German pilot in one jet plane was able to knock down 17 to 20 of our fortresses at one time," Arnold told the committee.

"If the Germans had concentrated on producing hundreds of these instead of many other things, it would have been mighty tough for our boys to get into Germany."

We Now Have Huge Turnips on Display

They're growing them bigger and bigger in Texas, at least that's the conclusion that News employes have come to.

Last week, a local farmer brought in a hill of sweet potatoes that weighed 18 pounds and yesterday, A. R. Harvey, 1512 Oklahoma, brought in three turnips that weighed a total of 18½ pounds.

Harvey said he grew these turnips in his own back yard and that there are plenty more where they came from.

TOKYO, Oct. 20—(AP) — High-ranking American officers riding an elevator in one of Tokyo's best hotels knew Yank GI's had been teaching the attractive girl operator English when, as she opened the door, she bowed politely and said: "Oh, my aching back."

The expression is a GI favorite in the Pacific and has varied interpretations ranging from surprise to disgust.

KKK Groups Rise Again In Georgia

ATLANTA, Oct. 20—(AP)—The Ku Klux Klan, claiming a membership of more than 20,000 in Georgia, is burning its fiery cross again and stirring up new argument over the order born in reconstruction days.

A huge cross which Klan leaders said was visible 60 miles away, was lighted atop historic Stone Mountain, a few nights ago. It was the first cross-burning since the start of World War II.

Dr. Samuel Green, the grand dragon, said the Klan is no longer active on a national basis but functions under a "voluntary" state set-up. Green said. The Atlanta Journal reported more than a year ago that national headquarters here had been closed after suspension had been decided upon by leaders in a secret meeting.

The Journal quoted Jas. A. Colescott, imperial wizard, as saying the reason for the action was not regarded as a subject for discussion "outside the Klan." The newspaper said at that time that the federal government was planning to call upon the Klan for payment of some $600,000 in corporate taxes.

"The Klan had as much right to exist as the Masons, Rotarians or any other organization," Green said in an interview. The order, he declared, is law-abiding as a group.

He listed the four main principles as "character development," "clannishness"—mixing with those who have the same ideas; "protection of the home and chastity of white womanhood" and "exemplification of a pure patriotism to the U. S., its constitution and its flag."

One of the main criticisms leveled at the organization has been that the cross-burning demonstrations and parades by robed and hooded men serve to intimidate Negroes.

Congress To Hear Truman's Idea on Military Training

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 —(AP)— Congress sauntered along today with nothing much to do except talk about scraps on tap for next week. Senate and house weren't meeting.

These scraps are in sight:

1. Universal military training.

President Truman drops in on congress Tuesday to urge some form of it. Many lawmakers don't think much of the idea. So the President may propose a mild form. Maybe more peacetime training for young men in the national guard and reserve officers training corps. He may have a hard time selling even that.

2. A combined army-navy.

Top men of the war department have asked for it this week. Secretary of the Navy Forrestal speaks up Monday. The navy is expected to oppose a merger. The President hasn't said how he stands.

A trio of reporters told a reporter today that the thing has to be settled one way or the other—and fast—because of its bearing on peace treaties and postwar defense policies.

3. Tax cuts.

The senate starts in, maybe Wednesday, on a bill from its finance committee to shave 1946

County Grand Jury To Convene Wednesday

The Gray county grand jury will convene next Wednesday, District Attorney Walter Rogers said yesterday, and the next criminal cases in the 31st district court will be heard starting Nov. 5.

On the criminal docket for Nov. 5 are the cases of George Bailey and C. R. Bolin, each charged with perjury.

Bailey was a member of the jury in the first trial of Garland Fearce, sentenced Thursday to 20 years in prison for the murder of Leonard Brown last March. Bolin was on the special venire called for the case.

Rogers said that the perjury charges grew out of answers to questions asked Bailey and Bolin in connection with their qualifications as jurors in the case.

Both men have been released on bond pending trial.

County Chest And War Fund Drive Lagging

Declaring there is a "great likelihood" that the $35,655 Community Chest-National War Fund goal will not be reached in this county, Chairman Lieb Langston is urging that all workers in the current drive contact their cards and make reports as soon as possible this week.

To the citizenry he said: "If you have not been contacted, send in a check. Send it to the Pampa chamber of commerce, to Geneva Schmidt, treasurer of the drive; or just to Community Chest drive, Pampa."

A total of $20,767.98 has been turned in thus far, Langston said. "We are about two-thirds through the drive."

Harold Wright, city commissioner and local business man who served about 30 months in the Pacific with the Seabees, said yesterday, in behalf of the drive: "I think it's as good a thing as the people can spend their money for."

Lt. Col. Lawrence McBee, Pampa, recently returned from England, said: "Time will lie heavy on their hands over there because of the lack of combat. Anything we do to lighten the load for them will be helpful."

He was referring to the entertainment features, many of which are financed by contributions to the National War Fund.

Among the various committees working on different phases of the county drive, the business district committee has turned in $2,150. The grade schools have reported $665.69, but the Junior and Senior high schools have not made a report. The industrial committee has reported $502.20, with a good deal of the work yet to be consummated.

Langston said the residential districts contributed more this year than in many previous years, according to the records. A total of $2,250 has been turned in, and the drive is virtually closed.

Advanced gifts has netted $14,900. Ranchers and farmers surrounding Pampa, with a quota of $1,000, have turned in to Huelyn Laycock, chairman of that phase, a total of $300.

A drive at McLean is to get under way this week. Drives are now being conducted at LeFors and Alanreed.

Langston said he would like to see the drive brought to a successful conclusion within the next 10 days.

Local USES Finds Jobs for Veterans

"A great number of the 132 persons who have been referred to jobs during the past two weeks have been veterans," said Mrs. Margaret Brown, local USES representative and acting manager.

There are 321 employment opportunities in the local USES area, with 59 local firms and one outside firm requesting manpower, according to USES records. "Many of the firms are giving preference to veterans," Mrs. Brown said.

Persons registered for jobs total 133, with 10 outside persons registered. Sixty persons have been reported as having accepted positions with companies to which they were referred by the office. Several were physically handicapped veterans.

Men are easily placed in suitable work but many women formerly employed in war plants in other areas are unable to find jobs here, the USES reports.

Several shops in Pampa, particularly mechanical and repair shops, are giving apprenticeship training to veterans under the GI Bill of Rights. While men are training they draw a monthly subsistence allowance of $50 if they are single, $75 if married, from the veterans administration.

By far the greatest need at present is for construction laborers, 131 being needed in this area of Gray, Wheeler, Hemphill and Roberts counties. Carbon black workers are also in demand, with 30 new open; there are 10 calls for oil refinery laborers, 12 for foundry laborers. All positions are for men.

Fighting Flares Anew In Batavia; 13 Killed

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 20—(AP)—Fighting flared anew in Batavia tonight with at least 13 persons killed as the Indonesian leader, Soekarno, called on President Truman to stop the Dutch from using American equipment to put down the independence movement.

The new flash came after three days of comparative quiet in the capital. The dead were all Indonesians. Two British Indian troops were wounded.

Foreign Minister Soebardjo of the Indonesian Republic announced that 11 Dutch officers attached to the organization for the relief of Allied prisoners of war had been killed by a mob in the mountains between Batavia and Bandoeng. This was not confirmed by any other source.

The foreign minister of the "republic," in a message to U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, said his government had the "enthusiastic support of the entire population in all parts of Indonesia" and added "the whole civil administration is in Indonesian hands."

Eyewitnesses told of "terrible slaughter" of Eurasians on the north-central coast of Java by Indonesian extremists, the news agency Aneta said.

Other disturbances were reported on Billiton island, off the east coast of Sumatra.

Nippon Atrocity Trials Planned Within 60 Days

TOKYO, Oct. 21—(AP)—Five hundred Japanese are in custody as war-criminal suspects and the first military atrocity trials in Japan will begin within 60 days, Col. Alva C. Carpenter, chief legal officer of General MacArthur's staff, reported today. As many as 4,000 suspects may be tried.

The Japanese cabinet meanwhile studied election reforms, but Japanese sources said it had decided to let the next government—"more representative of the people"—deal with the dissolution of family-controlled big business monopolies.

Finance Minister Viscount Keizo Shibusawa announced in an interview that the cabinet was asking permission to import 4,000,000 tons of food next year—some of it aboard American ships.

"We will not wait until all are arrested to begin the trials. We could start with class 3 cases (small-fry, accused of actual commission of crimes, usually at the direction of superiors) within three weeks," Col. Carpenter elaborated.

Within a month 1,000 persons will be at work preparing for the trial. They will be held "in the largest suitable places," the legal officer

Cavalry Clearing Out Revolutionists

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 20—(AP)—Violent fighting broke out in the streets of Caracas tonight and the revolutionary junta declared it was using tanks and artillery against government forces.

(Radio San Cristobal in Western Venezuela said President Isaias Medina y Angarita had been reinstated in Caracas, after government cavalry had cleared revolutionary forces from Miraflores palace.

(The broadcast said its information came from Radio National in the hands of anti-revolutionists in Caracas.)

The revolutionary junta warned citizens to remain indoors.

Earlier the revolutionists had announced seizure of the country's main arsenal and declared they had enough power to crush anti-revolutionary forces reported marching upon Caracas, the capital.

(Radio San Cristobal, still in the hands of forces loyal to President Isaias Medina y Angarita, announced that loyalist troops still were fighting revolutionists "street by street and house by house" in Caracas. The broadcast was heard in Boston.)

Facilities Tied Up at Shipping Ports on Gulf

By The Associated Press

Shipping facilities were tied up at the Texas Gulf ports of Houston and Galveston yesterday (Saturday) by a work stoppage of International Longshoremens association union (AFL) members.

Meanwhile, two Houston shipping concerns were granted temporary four day court orders restraining longshoremen from picketing their offices.

Approximately 1,000 union warehousemen walked off their jobs in Houston Friday as a result of wage disputes and about 2,000 longshoremen stopped work in a sympathy walkout, bringing shipping to a standstill.

In Galveston Ila steamships clerks and checkers employed on the wharves failed to report to work yesterday. They established picket lines which 500 longshoremen refused to cross, thereby stopping ship loading operations.

Cause of the clerks' walkout was not immediately determined.

At Houston, District Judge William M. Holland granted the Gulf Atlantic Warehouse company and the Manchester Terminal corporation temporary injunctions against Ila Locals 1330 and 1331 restraining them from picketing the two companies.

In their petition, the company said members of Locals 1525 and 1580 with whom they have contracts will not cross picket lines set up by Locals 1330 and 1331. Each company asks $5,000 damages against the defendant unions.

The warehousemen's dispute arises from wage rates. Ports are reported to have agreed to pay 90 cents hourly. Workers have indicated they would accept 95 cents plus existing differentials at various ports.

J. Russell Wall, port director, indicated the port commission would not continue negotiations until the men return to work.

Recreation Center Being Planned for Local Teen-Agers

Plans relative to the opening of a proposed teenage recreation center in Pampa through the sponsorship of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars organizations were announced yesterday by H. A. Wright, chairman of the movement.

Announcement of the opening date will be made in the near future.

The cooperation of all civic organizations is requested by Chairman Wright to help with the completion and materialization of plans.

Proposed plans include that the center be located on the ground floor of the American Legion and VFW building at the corner of Russell and Foster streets. Recommended open hours are from 4 to 8 p. m. on Monday, Tuesdays and Thursday, and from 4 to 11:30 p. m. on Fridays.

Use of the hall by the teen-agers was suggested to be subject to cancellation by special Legion and VFW activities.

Activities to be held at the center will include a variety of games and social functions, with additional specific activities and facilities added on popular request.

CHEMICAL PLANTS ARE SEIZED:

U. S. ARMY MOVES TO DESTROY FARBEN STRANGLEHOLD ON GERMAN INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21—(AP)—The United States army has seized 45 plants, 45 sales offices and four miscellaneous installations owned by I. G. Farben in a first move "to forever destroy" the giant chemical corporation's stranglehold on German industry.

The war department announced this today and said another early step will be a proposal that the Allied control council for Germany outlaw cartel arrangements in general.

In de-nazifying I. G. personnel, 896 officers and employees have been fired and some key directors imprisoned.

"Actual seizure of posession, direction and control of substantially all known I. G. plants, properties and assets in the U. S. zone has been accomplished," General Dwight D. Eisenhower said in a 32-page report.

He described the company, whose assets are estimated at 6,000,000,000 reichmarks, about $2,400,000,000, as "the largest corporation in Germany and the largest chemical corporation in the world."

Here are some of the things the investigators found out about "interessengemeinschaft Farbenindustrie A. G." (which translated literally means "community of interests of dyestuffs industries:"

Its own plants employed more than 400,000 people during the war.

It had some form of financial control in 613 companies.

It was the "greatest participant in international cartels" and through such alliances with competitors, it regulated in effect the production and sales of a great many companies" over which it had no financial control. It was party to more than 2,000 cartels.

I've never exactly understood why Niagara Falls is so popular for honeymooning. Maybe it associates romance with the sound of rushing water. Then in later years, the wife can still feel romantic hearing the same sound in her washing machine.

And what bride would want her groom to compare her with such glamor girls as one whose name I could mention if I weren't so modest?

It was Germany's greatest war producer. It was supreme in the field of research. It's inventions were protected "by the most elaborate patent system known to the world.

"Vast power resulted from this extraordinary concentration of war and industrial productive capacity, scientific research, technological excellence, patent protection, cartel dominance, England financial resources, management ability and masses of workers. The most apt description of this power lies in the phase 'a state within a state,'" the report said.

The American group has decided it would be an "interminable proces" to go after each of I. G.'s 2,000 cartel agreements.

"Therefore it has been decided to seek legislative action on the part of the control council outlawing cartels and simplifying their dissolution," said the report.

In tracing the growth of I. G., the report said that "an additional event in 1927 was the agreement concluded with the Standard Oil of New Jersey regarding an I. G. process based on the use of crude oil, which was the forerunner of many agreements between the German and American firms." In 1930 new agreements were reached with Standard on hyrogenation technique which gave to I. G. and Standard "the control of the rights in the process for the whole world."

A complete description of its activities, it was stated, "would have to include the explosives field, where I. G. by agreements with I. G. I. G. and Standard whereby Standard agreed to stay out of the chemicals business."

The report said that the "regulation of the great Chinese market in Indigo and sulphur black was accomplished by agreement upon quotas and selling prices with American companies — Dupont, NACCO and Dow chemical. The Japanese market in Indigo and other products was subjected to similar control by agreement with NACCO and certain Japanese producers."

Radar Is Reported On Its Way Out---

DAYTON, O., Oct. 20—(AP)—Radar, one of the most bizarre and useful developments of the recent war, is on its way out as a "weapon" of conflict, in the opinion of army air force electrical wizards at Wright field.

Its successor, says Major J. G. P. Callahan, chief of the instrument and navigation branch of the air technical service command's equipment laboratory, may lie within the earth's cosmic rays or in its magnetic field.

Major Callahan discussed radar and its future as tens of thousands of persons from al sections, of the nation thronged Wright field to view the "AAF Fair,"—a $1,300,000,000 war exhibit covering more than 700 acres. The fair closes a nine-day stand tomorrow, with today's progrom centered about a homecoming welcoming to Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney. Will Atomic Energy Be Used To Light the Future Home?

Development of the atomic bomb, used so effectively upon Japan, is causing many persons to wonder if atomic energy will some time in the future be used as a cheap source of light, power and heat, points out the Better Vision institute.

"Theoretically it would be possible to hang a bit of energy-generating substance from the ceiling and have lights for generations," says the institute. "But predictions in the field of optical physics are hazardous. Just 50 years ago the late Albert A. Michelson, Nobel prize winner famous for his measurements of light, came to the conclusion that physicists had learned nearly everything to be learned about matter. 'It seems probable', he said, 'that most of the great underlying principles of physical science have been firmly established,' adding that there was very little room left for new discoveries. Soon after radio, X-ray, radioactivity and other marvels of nature were discovered.

"Although the use of atomic power for light and heat seems to lie in the remote distance, it would be foolhardy to try to predict now the use of atomic energy. However, it is important to point out the immediate need for protection and conservation of vision, whatever the source of artificial light supplied to our eyes. Human eyes are not improving. Statistics reveal that one of every five children has visual defects upon graduation from grammar school. By middle age more than half have poor vision. In the light of these facts," concludes the institute, "a person should be concerned with his eyes so that they will give a life time of service. Science can aid eyes to better seeing yet millions of persons whose eyes need attention fail to obtain professional aphthalmic service, thereby living in a half-seeing world."

New Faculty Member Added at Shamrock

SHAMROCK, Oct. 20.—Made possible by an increase in scholastics, a new faculty member has been added to the Shamrock high school and a complete physical education program will now be offered to all students, Supt. Elmer J. Moore announced this week.

The new instructor is Arthur Wells, a veteran of World War II, who will teach Texas history, general science, algebra 1, physical education and possibly supervise one study hall.

By taking over these classes, Wells will relieve Coach Bob Clark of two classes and the superintendent of one of his classes. Coach Clark, with the assistance of Wells, will be able to offer physical education to all children in school. Physical education will be required of all junior and senior high school students, Supt. Moore said.

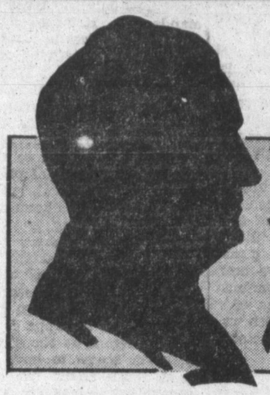

Those students who have a doctor's permit, will be excused from the exercises and drills that might be injurious to their health, but will still be required to take health lectures, studies and corrective exercises.

For the time being, Shamrock will be handicapped by inadquate facilities and equipment, the superintendent said.

MEN WHO WOULD RULE THE WORLD

The Hitler gang had a little meeting this past week. It was rather informal, and there was not the old-time enthusiasm of "today Germany, and tomorrow the whole world" that there was back in 1931, '32, and so on.

Nearly everybody was there this past week except the big boy himself, Adolf. Of course—we forgot: Himmler and Goebbels weren't there either. They couldn't be present: they decided lon gago they could not face such music as they knew they must face. They "took a powder," as the expression goes in the movie crime stories these days.

What we are saying is, in case the reader did not know, that the Allied military tribunal read indictments against some two dozen German militarists, industrialists, and financiers who boosted Hitler in his crime campaign of lies and deceit.

They are going to be brought to trial for their lives the latter part of next month.

And so the worm has turned.

These men who once had the world—almost—at their feet have been brought into court of justice for their crimes against humanity. They are not crimes, we must not forget, against the German people alone. They are against Man. Thit is a fact we must never forget. But the German criminals, it is evident, thought that we would forget, if we won, even before we began to think. If Lloyd George had hanged the Kaiser the other time, perhaps these men would not have been led to think that we would forget just as soon as the shooting had stopped.

In this polyglot of guilty men, we see the dross of a monstrous misconception. The idea that the world was neither ready nor willing to fight for its rights had been nurtured and reiterated into the conscious being of the German fighting machine. These men were the brain power behind that movement. An idea had grown into a Frankenstein. It could happen here in America, or anywhere else, where people think as thy do.

Take, for instance, an idea like this: capitalism and free enterprise have failed; therefore, the government must institute planned economy. That sounds perfectly harmless. Hitler's cry that the German people "merely" needed more living room sounded perfectly harmless, too.

The idea that heads of states and their officials ar not responsible for acts growing out of war—that idea is lost. Indictments against these guilty officials set a precedent—and we go in a new direction. Men in high places are responsible to the people. And the world might take note of what is happening to these once-potential conquerors of the world.

THE PEOPLE
(Detroit Free Press)

CIO union officials graciously permitted the Mayor of the City of Detroit and the Police Commissioner to consult with them concerning what they considered a sufficient supply of gasoline for vital municipal necessities.

These union leaders magnanimously agreed that gasoline might be used by the municipal bus lines, the fire and police departments, the Health Board, the hospitals, airports and United States Government agencies, such as the postal system.

Doctors, nurses, undertakers, clergymen, food agencies and newspapers were also granted special dispensation.

As a patriotic gesture, men and women in the armed services were told they might have some.

All such grants, of course, were declared subject to change in the judgment of the union.

It was to be taken for granted, of course, that the CIO candidate for Mayor, Richard Frankensteen, would have what gas he might need for his big limousine, to careen around the city proclaiming the blessing of the New Order.

But you, if you are just an ordinary taxpaying citizen, are in a different classification.

You have no more personal liberty or individual rights than a political slave in a communist factory of Russia.

You will take no rides into the country, go to no football games, nor even go to work unless you are willing to pay a terrific price on the black market for YOUR supply of gasoline. This is dangerous as the goon squads may smash both your car and your head for violating CIO orders.

If this is not dictatorship then Hitler was a democrat.

THE CROWLEY RESIGNATION
(The Los Angeles Examiner)

President Truman has given the public another Washington mystery to ponder over by accepting two resignations from Mr. Leo T. Crowley when, according to the White House public record, Mr. Crowley had formally tendered only one.

Washington gossip in the last several days has it that Mr. Crowley submitted two letters of resignation, including a resignation, from the Federal Economic Administration, but that the President "did not like" what Mr. Crowley said about the parleys with Lord Keynes and Lord Halifax,

Japanese Forces Are Moving From Korea

TOKYO, Oct. 20—(AP)—All Japanese military forces on Korea will have been withdrawn to Japan by Nov. 1, General MacArthur's headquarters reported today.

Japanese ships removed 180,000 troops from Korea in September and are repatriating 50,000 weekly from Korea to Moji, Hakata and other ports in western Japan, an operations officer said.

In addition, American LSTS (landing ships, tank) which took Yanks from the Philippines to Korea returned 28,000 Japanese to Sasebo.

Repatriation of 470,000 Japanese civilians from Korea is another problem, depending on available shipping.

New Civil Service Positions Listed

The United States civil service commission has announced new examinations for positions as dentist, student dietitian, and psychiatric and medical social worker. Because a sufficient number of eligibles cannot be obtained from among veterans entitled to reopen examinations, those examinations have been opened to the general public, and all persons who qualify may apply.

To qualify as dentist, $3,640 a year, applicants must hold the degree of D.D.S or D.M.D., must be licensed in a state or territory, and must have had one year's dental internship or active practice after graduation. Positions are located throughout the country, chiefly in veterans administration hospitals and clinics.

Student dietitians begin at $1,704 a year and after six months of satisfactory service are promoted to $1,902 a year. Deductions are made from the salary when quarters or subsistence are provided. Positions are located throughout the country. Those who compete their training in a war department hospital are eligible for appointment in the army as medical department dietitian, with the rank of second lieutenant at $1,800. Students who complete one year's training at Veterans Administration or U. S. public health service hospitals are eligible for appointment as staff dietitian at $2,100 or $2,320 a year. To quality for student dietitian appointments, applicants must have completed, or expect to complete within 6 months, at least 36 semester hours of appropriate study in a college or university, and must pass a written general test.

Positions in Veterans Administration facilities as social worked (psychiatric and medical) pay $2,980 and $3.640 a year; and as supervisor of social work (psychiatric and medical), $3,640 and $4,300 a year. To qualify, applicants must have had appropriate education and social case work experience in a health or welfare agency. For higher grade positions, experience in psychiatric or medical social work in a hospital or clinic is required. See the announcement for information on the substitution or additional education for experience.

Announcement and application forms may be obtained from the commission's local secretary, R. W. McPhillips, located in the post office basement, or from most first- and second-class post offices, from civil service regional offices, or from the United States service commission, Washington 25, D. C. Applications should be sent to the United States civil service commission, Washington 25, D. C., and will be accepted until further notice.

Who's Sorry Now?

News Behind the News

The National Whirligig

By ALBERT LEMAN

MORATORIUM—Just before Eric A. Johnston left Washington for Hollywood, where he succeeds Will Hays as "movie czar," he proposed to President Truman a new plan for curbing strikes.

He urged that:

1. Wage disputes be referred back to "grass root" collective bargaining setups instead of being thrown at Washington.

2. The administration announce at once that all controls on prices, except rents, will be lifted on a definite date—say, next May.

These steps would make possible a moratorium on walkouts and give business time in which to estimate post-reconversion costs.

If industrial strife continues to spread there is a strong possibility that President Truman will present his case to the people in a radio speech outlining conditions and suggesting remedies.

PRODUCTIVITY—Most businessmen as well as the administration think that wages should be raised wherever possible without boosting prices and setting loose an inflation that would harm white collar people, farmers and, eventually, union members.

There is a tendency among government and private economists to rely on high productivity to assure mass purchasing power and high wages. But high productivity is not possible until business knows where it will stand after reconversion and what the whole competitive picture will be.

By a revival of collective bargaining at the lowest level, Mr. Johnston believes that labor can feel assured that its case will have immediate attention and it can lay aside its strike weapon. By promising removal of federal controls on a specific date, management can know that it will not be prevented from raising prices later to cover any contemplated wage adjustment.

REGIMENTATION —The president of the chamber of commerce of the United States is convinced that the time has come for the nation to stop looking to Dr. government first for an immediate cure for every economic headache.

This habit developed during the war. Then there were many sound reasons for it. But it piled executive desks with unfinished business and all parties to a complaint were exasperated by the delay in decisions. The arrangement gave birth to coercive measures and regimentation which no one wants perpetuated.

We are now going to the free enterprise system. Segments of our economic system should now try to work out difficulties before dropping them into the lap of Washington.

PANACEA—During the war, local machinery for collective bargaining and conciliation went to rust. Mr. Johnston contends that it should be utilized at once and that practically all industrial disputes be presented to it.

Some big business executives and certain federal policy makers lately have toyed with the idea of a blanket pay raise—say, fifteen percent—and an increase in prices to offset it—say, five or ten percent. An objection to this seemingly simple solution is that industry as a whole is extremely diversified and all of its branchees cannot readily be treated in the same way.

An even stronger argument against the panacea is that it would take reconversion director Snyder's already overloaded office several months before it could complete studies and devise proper price ceilings. In the meantime, employers and unions would be hung up by uncertainties in a period of mounting emotional strain.

STATISTICS—By opening the channels for conciliation in communities and in specific industries, as Mr. Johnston recommends, local conditions which might affect agreements could be fully explored.

The question of whether a corporation is in a financial position to warrant pay boosts without lifting prices could be answered in part by an examination of the books. Labor accountants read the official statistics of the vast profits made by many firms during the war; they maintain that on the basis of these figures, business economists are wrong in insisting that their companies cannot afford to increase wages.

But, in "grass root" collective bargaining management would have the opportunity to show costs of reconversion and future production in relation to the firm's actual "nest egg," and labor in self-interest might be willing to give the company a chance to catch its breath.

PROGRESS—Temporary wage increase might be granted which would stave off strikes. The door could be left open to both parties for further negotiation after industry gets into the stride of full production.

Of course, there is always the possibility that labor in its present highly emotional state would not be satisfied with any raise, regardless of its size. Its leaders might still be unable to check wildcat strikes.

But, in Mr. Johnston's opinion, a sincere endeavor by all who have the public welfare at heart to revive the neglected machinery of collective bargaining at the low level—and not pass the buck to Washington—might bring about more progress toward reconversion and prosperity than a capital-and-labor fight to exhaustion.

Pigeon Feeders Baffle the Cops

PHIADELPHIA, Oct. 20—(AP)—Philadelphia resourceful pigeon feeders baffled the cops today, which is to say the pigeons ate despite a new ordnance providing for $5 fine or 10 days in jail for feeding the virus-infected birds.

An old lady dropped a paper sack of corn, murmured, "oh, I'm sorry, it was an accident," and left a city hall policeman scratching his head.

Two boys throwing corn in the courtyard, practically right under the mayor's nose, shouted:

"We're not feeding pigeons—we're having a corn fight."

There's no ordinance against corn fighting.

David Lawrence

DAY-BY-DAY COUNT ON WASHINGTON'S ACTIVITIES GIVEN

WASHINGTON — Perhaps the most curious phase of present-day suggestions as to policy in respect to other nations is the insistent demand coming from various quarters that the United States should immediately give up the secret of the atomic bomb to all nations irrespective of whether their diplomatic relations with this country are satisfactory.

Lawrence

No fact stands out more prominently than the lack of understanding between the United States and Russia. Although this relationship has been unsatisfactory during the war and was equally unsatisfactory at Potsdam, yet the argument is being made that refusal to give up the atomic bomb is the real reason for the estrangement.

Just why so great a number of American commentators should insist that this weapon be immediately given to other countries is not clearly explained, though it is being hinted that if the atomic bomb secret is given to Russia it would remove a lot of the latter's distrust of us.

There is also the contention that Russia will soon have the bomb secret anyway. But it might well be asked whether the American people would ever approve a handing over of the secret to any nation even if other nations were sure to get it some other way. The reason is that, despite the varying comments of the scientists, the atomic bomb has actually not been manufactured anywhere else but in this country and there are grave doubts as to whether any nation would be willing in the present state of post-war finances to begin to spend the huge sums needed for the development of the discovery.

The theory that Russia would immediately abandon her nationalistic policies and would grant freedom of the press and freedom of speech as soon as the atomic bomb secret is divulged is not likely to be accepted in view of the fact that Russia has thus far shown herself anxious to pursue a unilateral course in world affairs and has resented the proposals of her allies that she open up her sphere of influence to other countries and make a settlement of the pending issue related to permanent peace in Europe.

The final decision about the atomic bomb is likely to be made by congress. Public sentiment in America would never approve the giving of any secret weapon to any foreign country, even an ally, except possibly in the midst of war and in secrecy as well. The atomic bomb has become an open subject for debate and policy making. The member of congress who votes to give the atomic bomb to Russia, or any other country for that matter, will find himself in an awkward dilemma. For the American people, while anxious to enter wholeheartedly into plans for international cooperation, are interested primarily in their own defense and security. Any proposal which could conceivably weaken that security for one instant will herdly be sanctioned.

President Truman has proposed that the use of the atomic bomb be outlawed. It is significant that not a single statement has since been issued by Russia or any of the other foreign governments indicating that if they had the bomb secret they would be willing to forbid its use in war. It would appear that those who are advocating that the United States give up the secret should first persuade the other governments of the world which want it to proclaim their purposes. When that is done, and it is apparent that nationalism among our allies is truly on the decline and a measure of mutual trust and faith is being built up, then the time will come for consideration of what shall be done with the atomic bomb.

Meanwhile, it will only serve to intensify the fear of Russia's misuse of the bomb if those who advocate giving away the secret continue to blame the President and the American government and accuse both of starting a wave of distrust in the world.

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Unless general expectations are verthrown, France will decide today to make important changes in er governmental system, take another turn to the left internally, nd, at the same time, lean more oward Britain and the United tates in world affairs.

When de Gaulle signed his pact rith Russia and French provincial lections showed a distinctive turn o the left There was considerable ye-brow lifting, even though de Gaulle pointed out that the fact was parallel to the Russo-British pact igned during the war.

Sinlce then the socialists headed y Leon Blum, who have been accused of putting their ideas of economic reform ahead of the military preparedness which was so disastrously lacking in 1939, have been bitterly assailed by the communist party for supporting the idea of "western nations family," which was considered by the reds as pointed against Russia.

The Blum group displayed a trength more than double that of he communists in the provincial lections last month.

Internally, there seems no question that the new assembly will be nstructed by the referendum also being held today to revise the 1875 onstitution, order governmental lections next spring, and dissolve tself, giving France the opportunity to wipe out the last vestiges of the impermanence which has surrounded all government activities for ive years.

The new constitution is expected o provide for election of the French president by universal suffrage as in America, instead of having him chosen by the senate and hamber of deputies. The senate tself probably will be elected in imilar fashion, instead of by an lectoral college as before.

The assembly to be chosen today will be instructed, if the referendum does favor a new constitution as expected (four of the five contesting parties support it as a de Gaulle administration measure). To draw up the new constitution and dissolve within seven months.

Extensive nationalization of industry and public services is expected to gain renewed momentum from today's voting. The communists and socialists are agreed on that point, and the de Gaullists, represented in the election specifically by the M. R. P., already have been extending nationalization in fields such as mining, aviation, public utilities and automobile manufacture.

HOLLYWOOD.—Harpo Marx will speak on the screen for the first time in Ben Hecht's "Specter of the Rose." He'll have four lines of dialog, playing the bit role of a bus boy. . . . ESME OF PARIS by Esmé Davis

MY MARRIAGE DOESN'T TAKE

XIV

I WAS soon plunged up to my eyebrows in English society, in which I felt like the proverbial fish out of water.

I found out that my husband placed his career above everything else. He had a splendid record from the World War and intended entering the diplomatic or intelligence service, since his left arm had been badly shattered when he was wounded in France. He had had several unsuccessful operations on it which eventually led to his being invalided out of the army. He had many fine qualities, but when I married him, he seemed far older than his 26 years, and his nerves had suffered, like those of many other men who had been in war. He was a stickler for punctuality and decorum, and an excellent officer, but he wanted everything done with military precision, and I don't think he could possibly have found anybody less adaptable than I was to his way of life.

We moved to a beautiful apartment in Buckingham Gate, just in front of the guards' barracks, which Leslie had rented furnished from Lady Mary Burton, a relative of his late mother's.

I used to cross the road from the apartment to the guards' riding school and talk to the old sergeant major about dogs and horses. He was a nice old soul and taught me a lot about horses and their care. In the course of these visits, I told him about the circu and showed him some tricks I could do on a horse. This got back to my husband and was the cause of one hell of a row, in which he told me I was ruining his career.

AS the weeks went by, I saw less and less of my husband. He was a club man and liked the society of other men. Unfortunately we had nothing at all in common besides hunting, and it was very dull for me. I missed my work and did not know what to do with myself.

So what with one thing and another, I began to suspect our marriage had been a mistake but tried to put up with it all to the best of my ability. Then one day my old friend, Sergeant Major Carruthers from the guards' barracks, gave me a female bull puppy. To avoid arguments, I told Leslie I had bought the dog.

She was a big awkward creature and not house-broken, which was an unfortunate combination with the pearl-gray carpets of Lady Mary Burton's apartment. The gallant captain (as I sometimes called my husband) simply could not be patient about her shortcomings and hit her brutally several times. We had a nasty row, and I told him that the best way to get on the wrong side of me was to interfere with my dog. He stormed and sulked and that evening got all dressed up in tails and went out somewhere, not returning till after I had been asleep for hours.

The puppy, who was sleeping on my bed, heard him come in, and remembering the blow he had given her, she flew at him and bit him through the wrist. Of course it had to be the one that had been injured and had just come out of the cast. The next morning he said she had to go, and insisted upon knowing where I had bought her—so I told him frankly that she was a present from Sergeant Carruthers and that I had no intention of giving her back. That really started something, for he raved at me for my lack of respect for his position in accepting a present from a sergeant.

That afternoon I took my puppy and my belongings and went to a hotel near mother. This was one of many bad rows, and in the end I had to go back, for both my mother and my father-in-law carried on to such an extent that there was nothing else to do.

THEN we went to a place called Tring, where Lord Rothschild's stag hounds hunted till late in the season. There we stayed with some friends of Leslie's at the hotel for the last meet. My husband intended to follow the hunt from point to point in the friends' car. We were having breakfast in the coffee room with them, when I happened to look out of the window at the stable yard and saw a drunken groom, who was holding a horse by the bridle, close under its mouth, striking the animal again and again with his clenched fist, full on the muzzle—the most sensitive part of a horse. The animal was rearing and bleeding, and this was too much for me. I was out of the door like a shot before any of them knew what was happening, picked up an empty bucket, and whanged the groom over the head with it. The narrow rim of the bucket cut his head open, and he started yelling blue murder.

Everybody ran out of the hotel and stood gaping at me open-mouthed. My husband was horrified, and the groom brought an action for damages for "assault and battery," which of course had to be paid. There was considerable gossip about the petty, stupid affair, and some of my husband's friends said—I quote Leslie—"What can you expect from a gypsy?"

This decided me, for with all the unpleasantness I'd had more than enough and honestly felt I would be doing him a favor to leave him. I told him exactly how I felt about our situation; also that, as a married woman, I was legally of age and therefore intended leaving at once for Buenos Aires to fulfill my contract with Camillo Bonetti.

● Peter Edson's Column:

EVERYBODY SEEMED TO BE VERY HAPPY

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Washington Correspondent
(Peter Edson Is Ill)

WASHINGTON. — Mississippi big-wigs have been worried about the bad publicity their Senator Theodore Gilmore Bilbo and Representative John Elliott Rankin have been getting. Regardless of what they thought about these men personally, they believed that their antics were giving the state a bad reputation.

So these state leaders back home got together and decided to come to Washington and explain to folks —particularly newspapermen—that there are some pretty solid citizens in and from Mississippi and the place is pretty good generally. They raised close to $5000 and decided to give a fancy party at the swanky Statler hotel as the vehicle for their explanation.

Of course, they couldn't come out openly and announce their reason for the affair, but no guest was in doubt as to why he was there. The sponsors called it a testimonial dinner for Gov. Thomas L. Bailey. Naturally, Mississippi was the motif.

SIX FEET OF JUMBO SHRIMP

Before the dinner there was a cocktail party. In addition to the spirits, a table piled more than six feet high with Mississippi jumpo shrimp, which retails here at $1.38 a pound, was extremely popular.

When the guests were feeling a warm glow of friendship the serious eating of the evening started. There were many empty seats, but none at the speaker's table. Senator Bilbo, extremely sour, sat a table No. 10, close to the door, and Representative Rankin was hidden back in the crowd at table No. 14.

Fried chicken was the principal dish. Not Mississippi style. Strictly Statler style, which isn't bad. The bar was kept open during the meal and received considerable attention. The eating went without a hitch except for a small interruption when one of the women correspondents missed her chair by a fraction of an inch as she attempted to sit down.

After dishes were removed the notables at the speaker's table were introduced. Then the toastmaster looked around and said, "Oh, yes, we have others from Mississippi here, too. Let me call out their names, but will those persons in the interest of saving time, please refrain from making speeches."

Then he called Bilbo's name. The senator hunched himself up briefly and forced a smile. There was light applause. Then he asked Rankin to stand. There may have been a little more applause.

VERBAL TOUR OF STATE

Governor Bailey was the main speaker. He started by saying:

"The State of Mississippi is sometimes misunderstood . . ."

The assembled reporters looked bored during the governor's recital of the wonders of the state. Several looked skeptical when he alleged that not one hour had been lost in the State of Mississippi during the war due to strikes.

The assembled press corps became considerably more interested toward the end of the speech when he announced that a gift kit consisting of a $5 cotton shirt for the men, a $7 cotton dress for the women and other good items produced in Mississippi would be sent to the guests if they filled out some cards.

Eight giggling girls who were said to be from Mississippi modeled the frocks.

With perfunctory thanks to the guests for coming, the toastmaster announced the bar would be kept open for further sociability. There was a wild rush for it. Eight English journalists who had been invited reached it first. They were loud in their praise of Mississippi hospitality. Everybody — hosts and guests—appeared to be very happy.

The number of farms in Carson county as shown by preliminary returns of the 1945 census of agriculture was 403, as compared with 493 in 1940, and 614 in 1935.

Total land in farms according to the same returns was 609,815 acres, as compared with 589,384 acres in 1940 and 573,600 in 1935.

The 1945 figure on land in farms exceeds the land area of the county due to the fact that the entire acreage of a farm is credited to the county in which the farm headquarters are located.

Carson county chapter, American War Dads, reported a total of $4,126 received for the World War II Memorial fund.

Elmer Padget, former high school teacher, has been employed as Carson county veterans service officer, and has opened an office in the court house.

Howard Lane purchased the 45-foot lot north of the First National bank from the city of Panhandle for $500 plus the assumption of state, county and school taxes. His was the only bid received by the city council. Sale of the property was dependent also on his erection of a building to cost about $7,000, City Manager H. M. Campbell said.

Fire which broke out in the U. S. mail truck enroute to Childress from Wellington Friday night, Oct. 12, destroyed approximately one-half of the south-bound first class letters and a small part of the parcel post packages.

No registered mail was lost. Henry Davidson, driver of the truck, received serious burns on his right hand with minor burns on left hand and knee.

The fire was discovered about three or four miles out of Childress by a motorist who passed the truck, notified the driver of the blaze and stopped to help. By that time the fire had a good start. After as much mail as possible had been removed from the truck it was driven to Childress where the fire department was called to put out the blaze. The truck bed needed to be replaced.

Miss Monnie Kemp, Perryton high school librarian, was at a loss to know how to grade one test paper turned in recently at the close of a four-day library course. A fellow with vision, Junior Gene Stinson, turned in a theme "Some library regulations and why they are important." The following paragraph was the chief source of indecision of grading the paper "F" or "A".

"Library regulations are important for many reasons. For one thing if you had no regulations there would be no order and with no order you would never get your book. Without any books you would get no learning, without learning you get no job, without any job you get no money, without any money you get no wife, and if you get no wife you have no children. Without children you have no happiness, and if you have no happiness what is life anyway?"

The good ship Pickaway and her crew, technically are still at war.

Clarence Morris of Sherman is serving on the Pickaway. He wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Morris, that the Pickaway has observed neither V-E nor V-J day.

Last May when the Germans surrendered, the westward bound Pickaway was in mid-Pacific and crossed the international dateline on May 8th, skipping V-E day.

When the Japs surrendered, the Pickaway was again crossing the dateline and missed V-J day.

Reconversion was pretty simple for W. C. Knight of Perrin field.

Knight got out of the army while serving at Perrin field, and promptly got his civilian job back.

His old job was in the army post—at Perrin field.

But the end of the war has brought a unique reconversion to border cities.

The $2 bill has disappeared.

That was about the only kind of folding money found on the border during the war, because no one was allowed to cross any other type of bill into Mexico.

Came peace, and the ban on ones, fives, tens and bills of other denominations was lifted. Somehow the twos vanished.

James A. Ward of Corpus Christi, a sailor man, writes home that money really isn't important in Japan. All the boys need are cigarettes.

Ward says the American cigarettes are worth $1 each for barter purposes.

Ward, four and a half points away from discharge, writes that he's stocking up on souvenirs.

Any time now someone is liable to come up with a dog that can cook.

Many things have been claimed for man's best friend but Bill Roberts of Golthwaite is said to have a dog named Mack that can sing. On top of that, Mack can dance, too.

Mack is half spitz and half fox terrier, eight years old. And Bill Roberts, who carries the mail between Golthwaite and Caradan, has taught Mack to carry a tune.

The dog stands on his hind legs, points his nose to the sky, and with Bill leading, joins in the melody.

But R. L. Engelking of Houston says this man's best-friend business is overdone.

Mr. Engelking is a taxi driver. Early one morning he delivered two passengers, bade them a cherry goodnight, and before he could close the door a very, very large English bulldog came galloping out of the blackness of the night and leaped into the back seat.

"The animal," said Mr. Engelking, "had front legs like hams and a whole face full of teeth."

All efforts to persuade the dog to leave failing, the cab driver eased himself cautiously into the front seat and drove hurriedly to a police station. The police removed the non-paying fare.

Then there is Mickey, and the strange arm of coincidence.

Mickey is a seven-year-old fox terrier belonging to Jackie Martyn of Lubbock. Jackie was visiting in South Dakota, wanted his dog with him. So his dad, C. D. Martyn, crated him up and put him on a train.

But Mickey didn't like crates. He chewed his way out, escaped from the train at Fort Worth. Three weeks passed. Then one day Mrs. Harry Sapey of Fort Worth, who often visited the Martyns in Lubbock, was shopping for groceries and felt a tug on her dress. It was Mickey. He had recognized her.

Only One Nipponese Luxury Liner Left

TOKYO, Oct. 20—(AP)—Japan's great prewar fleet of luxury liners was bulit for rapid conversion to aircraft carriers and cruisers, it was disclosed today, and only three of its best known ships are still afloat.

The only NYK (Nippon Yusen Kaisha) liner surviving is the 11,622-ton Hikawa Maru, formerly on the Tokyo-Seattle run.

The OSK (Osaka Shosen Kaisha) line has left only the 9,192-ton Horai Maru of the Formosa run, damaged in Java waters, and the Takasago Maru, which was converted into a hospital ship.

NYK was building three 18,000-ton vessels for intended liner service between Yokohama and San Francisco when the war broke out. The Nitta Maru was converted to the aircraft carrier Okitaka, the Yawata Maru became the carrier Kumotaka, and the Kasaga Maru served as the carrier Otaka—all went to the bottom.

Two 26,700-ton luxury steamers intended for European service, the Kashiwar Maru and the Izumo Maru, were in the blue print stage at the war's outbreak, and were redesigned as carriers. The Kashiwara became the Hayataka and the Izumo the Tobitaka. Both participated in the battle of Santa Cruz before they were sunk.

America . . . became a country where the worst times are better than most of the world's best times by offering unparalleled opportunity and reward for individual effort under free enterprise with minimum government interference. —Newburg, N. Y., News.

Texas Longhorns Smash Sluggish Razorbacks 34 to 7

Hubert Bechtol, Byron Gillory Gang Up on Befuddled Porkers

By CARL BELL

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 20—(AP)—An alert University of Texas football team utilized Arkansas' futile aerial attack to cash in on a 34 to 7 victory over the sluggish razorbacks before 15,000 onlookers here this afternoon.

The Longhorns successfully opening a drive for the Southwest Conference football championship they are favored to win intercepted four Razorback passes and turned each of them into touchdown drives.

Texas, although badly outgained in the first half, racked up 17 first downs to Arkansas' 11 and gained 257 yards by rushing and passing to the Porkers' 203, stealing the statistical advantage after Arkansas became listless in the second half.

Dana Bible's Lone Star-staters tallied in every quarter.

Big Hubert Bechtol, stellar Longhorn end, accounted for two of the Longhorn's touchdowns, all but one of which came via Texas' classy aerial circus.

Slippery-hipped Byron Gillory, 140-pound tailback with plenty of get-up-and-go, stroke into pay dirt once, End Dale Swartzkopf snared a pass for a fourth-six-pointer and John Ring, a reserve tackle, pounced on a Texas fumble in the end zone for the final marker.

Guard Tom Harrell place-kicked the points after four Steer counters.

Arkansas' lone touchdown came in the first quarter as Mike Schumchyk raced 14 yards on an end-around play. Hoffman booted the point.

Gillory, touted as a combination Jack Crain and Pete Layden, Texas greats of a few years ago, lived up to his reputation in every way but the invaluable aid of the biggest and perhaps the toughest line in the southwest.

The Gargantuan Texas forwards opened big gaps in the Arkansas line, but it was their work in protecting Longhorn passers and rushing the Porker flingers off their feet that really counted.

Arkansas began making fatal mistakes before the game was five minutes old.

After receiving the opening kickoff and garnering two successive first down by rushing, the Razorbacks took to the air—the type of strategy which beat them in last week's game with Baylor.

Directors Meet Of WT Chambers Set November 5

ABILENE, Oct. 20—The West Texas chamber of commerce announced today it was advancing by two days—from Wednesday, Nov. 7, to Monday the 5th—its 1945 Directors and Referendum assembly, to be held at the Abilene headquarters.

The change, explained WTCC president E. W. Hardin in letters to affiliates, was made necessary by discovery of a conflict in dates with a large church group. The Northwest Texas Methodist Conference months ago arranged to hold its annual meeting in Abilene for five days beginning Nov. 7, preceded by committee sessions on the 6th. In consequence, Hardin said, "rooms in Abilene hotels for our WTCC delegates would have been impossible to obtain during that midweek. In order not to discommode the delegates the Officers Committee has moved up the assembly, the windup of the 1945 referendum convention season, to Monday the 5th of November. Early delegates, those from a distance, will leave their homes Sunday afternoon the 4th and will find room accomodations in Abilene reserved for them."

The regional assembly as usual will be a one-day all-business session adjourning at 4 p. m. The annual noon luncheon will be a freight rate victory celebration with Olin Culberson, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, the speaker.

The assembly agenda also calls for the formal termination of the WTCC's inter-county agricultural production and improvement contest with award of $1,000 in cash prizes to four winning West Texas counties. The contest has been in progress two years, having been launched at the 1943 referendum.

Irish Roar Back To Triumph Over Pittsburgh 39-9

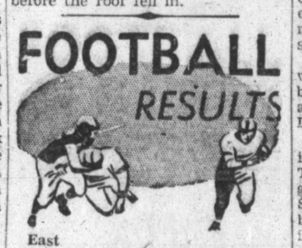

By GAYLE TALBOT

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20—(AP)—Fought virtually to a standstill for two periods by a heated-up Pittsburgh eleven, Notre Dame proved its class by pouring across four touchdowns in the second half and winning going away, 39 to 9, before a packed crowd of 65,000 in Pitt stadium today.

The Panthers, barely on the fringe of big-time football these days, amazed even their own supporters by holding the undefeated Irish to a 12-2 score at the half and actually outplaying the South Benders through the greater part of the second quarter. Not, in fact, until after the final period opened was Coach Hugh Devore of the Irish able to relax and withdraw the star who makes his team click, Frank Dancewicz.

But for Dancewicz, with his dazzling runbacks of kicks and his unerring passing arm, Notre Dame might have been given a genuine fright. Only the fact that he passed for two of the Green's first three touchdowns and set up the third with a peg to the one-yard line enabled Notre Dame to stave off Coach Clark Shaughnessy's inspired scrappers through the early part of the contest and set them up for the knockout in the closing period.

The Panthers, who entered the game 30-point underdogs, ran up a net gain of 251 yards from scrimmage against 316 for the victors, and their total of first downs was 11 compared to Notre Dame's 14. At the finish they were a tired, well-beaten crew, but they gave the big crowd a genuine run for its money before the roof fell in.

Crusaders Trample Brown in 25-0 Rout

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Taking full advantage of six Brown fumbles, Holy Cross' undefeated Crusaders gained their fourth win by topping the slippery-fingered Bruins, 25-0, today to square their 22-game New England series.

Brown, drawing its first packed 25,000 crowd since 1932, dismayed its supporters by bobling away the ball almost every time it managed to enter enemy teritory.

Lubbock and Plainview will clash in another thriller at Plainview. The latter team has an un-crossed goal line—the latest victim being Sweetwater by a 21-0 count. Lubbock dropped a 12-6 decision to Abilene Friday.

Pampa meets Brownfield in the other conference tilt. Brownfield will be playing its second district affair—having lost to Amarillo 42-6 two weeks ago. The Cubs got back on the winning trail Friday by trouncing Hobbs, N. M., 12-6.

Army Defeats Melville Team

By JOE REICHLER

WEST POINT, Oct. 20—(AP)—Paced by its touchdown twins—Glenn Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard—Army's mighty football team got going after a slow start today and ran all over the previously unbeaten Melville (R.I.) motor torpedo boat training center to defeat the night raiders 55 to 13.

Davis and Blanchard each scored three touchdowns, Davis accounting for his on runs of 41, 77 and 25 yards, while Blanchard ploughed over twice from the one and sprinted 25 yards for the other. Tom (Shorty) McWilliams, former Mississippi state star, scored once and end Clyde Grimenstein, on a pass from Bill Gustafson, tallied the other cadet touchdown.

Purdue Surprises Ohio State 35-13

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers put an end today to Ohio State's 12-game football streak with a brilliant 35 to 13 victory over the Bucks. It was the fifth straight triumph for the unbeaten and untied Boilermakers.

ALABAMA 25, TENNESSEE 7

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 20—(AP)—Alabama ran over three touchdowns in the first half today to knock Tennessee out of the unbeaten ranks, 25 to 7, and take a leading place in the race for the southeastern championship. A sellout crowd of 25,000 saw the game.

Scott's ScrapBook

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

There were perhaps four things that Charlie Boyles, one of Pampa's all-time football greats, loved best—his family, his country, football, and his dog "Ching."

In every letter home since he has been in the navy, Charlie has asked about "Ching", a harmless little chow dog that he had raised from a puppy.

But "Fuzzy" Boyles, Charlie's father, told us yesterday that he is going to have to write his son that "Ching" is dead—poisoned by some unscrupulous person who had absolutely no thought of anyone but himself.

We think there is nothing lower than a person who will set out poison for a dog—any dog. Of course, there are some strays that roam loose about the city but their number is far overshadowed by those that belong to some boy like Charlie.

"Fuzzy" Boyles is, in our estimation, the Number One football fan in Pampa and he more than proved that Thursday night when he treated the football team, the coaches and school officials to a banquet that hasn't been beat in a long time.

It was your writer's first experience at eating elk and we were too full to even thank "Fuzzy" at the time.

Looking over the football games Friday, Amarillo will take Borger but the Bulldogs are going to give the Sandies a run for their money.

Lubbock plays at Plainview and will probably come off with another defeat. Plainview is going to be hard to stop this year and Lubbock just doesn't have the strength to do it.

As for Pampa and Brownfield, we are going out on a limb to say that the Harvesters will win but it's going to be close. Brownfield has yet to win from Pampa and they are going to be out for blood.

IOWA 27, NEBRASKA 7

AMES, Ia., Oct. 20—(AP)—Iowa State college treated a home-coming crowd estimated at 13,000 to a victory today as the Cyclones swept to a 27-7 triumph over the Nebraska Cornhuskers. It was Iowa State's first big six conference victory.

TULSA 40, NEVADO 0

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 20—(AP)—Clicking in the air and on the ground for the first time this season, Tulsa's hurricane outclassed a heavier Nevada eleven 40-0 today for its fifth consecutive football victory.

OKLAHOMA 39, KANSAS 7

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 20—(AP)—The University of Oklahoma football team ran over the University of Kansas 39 to 7 here today for its second big six conference victory of the season.

WISCONSIN 7, ILLINOIS 7

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Wisconsin and Illinois packed all their scoring into the first period of a big ten conference football game today and then battled through three periods in a bitter defensive contest to wind up with a 7 to 7 tie.

Game To Be First Conference Affair for Local Grid Team

Undefeated and untied in five non-conference games, Pampa's Harvester football team enters conference play here this week when they play the Brownfield Cubs Friday night.

Although they were idle last week, the Harvesters had little rest as Coaches Coffey and Whittington put them through repeated tough scrimmage sessions.

Brownfield, youngest member of the conference, will still be in the market for a victory over the Harvesters. Pampa took a 25-6 decision there last year.

The Cub attack is sparked by Elcke, a 150-pound scat-back who can run, pass and kick, and by Chambliss, a regular halfback last year who has since moved to quarterback.

Although the Brownfield backfield is fairly light, the line boasts two brothers—Donald and Jerral Price, who weigh 200 and 218 pounds respectively. Both boys are tackles.

Another big boy in the Brownfield line is Dalton, 170-pound center, and also a regular last year.

Pharr and Adams are guards. Pharr, a very fast player, weighs 150 while Adams hits 170.

Ends Bond and Bailey weigh 150 pounds each but both are rangy and very fast.

The Cubs use a lot of spinner plays until they get inside their opponent's 20-yard line, then Martin, 170-pound fullback, takes the ball and crashes on straight power. Excellent blocking is furnished by Franks, a 150-pound wingback.

The entire Harvester squad is in good shape and ready to go, Coach Coffey reported yesterday.

Quarterback Wimpy Vaughn, who has been out with an injured back but is ready to go and Fullback Bill Washington, hurt in the Norman game, is working out and will be in good shape for the Brownfield game.

The Harvesters will scrimmage Canadian under the lights Monday night and Tuesday the reserves will go against Shamrock in another scrimmage.

Defense aaginst power plays will be stressed in practice sessions this week. Most of the Harvester opponents to date have used the "T" formation—also used by Pampa—but reports indicate that the conference teams this year are relying mainly on the single wing.

Brownfield uses the single wing with an unbalanced line.

Frogs Outlast Aggies 13-12

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 20—(AP)—Texas Christian triumphed 13-12 over a Texas A. and M. team that could do everything except hold the ball here today, staving off three drives that penetrated the Horned Frog 5-yard line in a finish that left a crowd of 23,000 limp.

It was a repetition of history but in a new setting.

Last year TCU beat the Aggies at College Station when A. and M. fumbled ten times and lost the ball on nine of those occasions.

Today the fumblers were fewer but they were just as tragic. Twice they cost the cadets touchdowns as A. and M. came back in the last half to thoroughly outplay the Frogs and virtually camp on their goal line until the final gun.

Not only did the Aggies fumble away touchdown chances but it was a cadet fumble that set up the first Horned Frog score early in the first period. Rob Goode dropped the ball on the A. and M. 18 as he attempted to punt. He recovered but it went over to the frogs as it was fourth down. Jesse Mason raced wide around right end for a touchdown and Harry Mullins, the injured backfield ace, came in to kick the extra point. He did it—and that eventually decided the game.

Five minutes later the Frogs got their second touchdown, a blocked punt setting it up. The Aggies had the ball on their 25 when John Cooke crashed through and partially blocked Goode's punt, the ball bounding outside on the 14-yard line. Mason raced around right end to the three but fumbled and Leonard Dickey recovered for the Aggies.

Goode kicked to Leon Joslin who skipped back 12 yards to the 21.

Joslin lost four at the line and an offside penalty set the Frogs back but Joslin passed to Mason in the flat for the touchdown. Mullins missed the conversion.

The Aggies took the second half kick-off and marched 64 yards for a touchdown with Preston Smith circling left end 14 yards for the score and shortly afterward got another when Bob Butchofsky picked a fumble by Tom Hudgins out of the air and raced 34 yards. But Goode missed one try for extra point and the other was bolcked by charging TCU linemen.

MISSOURI 41, KANSAS STATE 7

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 20—(AP)—A sharp and alert Missouri Tiger eleven scored in every quarter here today to gain a 41-7 Big Six victory over the outclassed Kansas State Wildcats. Six Tigers shared in making the touchdowns. It was Missouri's second conference win.

PENN STATE 46, BUCKNELL 7

LEWISBURG, Pa., Oct. 20—(AP)—The Nittany Lions of Penn State overwhelmed Bucknell, 46-7 today before a crowd of 7,500. The Lions scored their avalanche of touchdowns on long marches through the Bison line.

Sandies, Marshall Fall; Dozen Grid Teams Undefeated

By The Associated Press

An even dozen undefeated, untied teams remained today as the Texas schoolboy football campaign reached the half-way mark.

Odessa removed Amarillo from the list 20-13 and Highland Park (Dallas) shoved Marshall out 26-0 in feature games of the week.

Odessa's victory last night was something of an upset as the Bronchos came from behind to win in the last minute of play with J. W. Thompson, star fullback, keeping his habit of turning in at least one long run per game as he roped 60 yards to tie the score then raced seven for the deciding touchdown.

At Dallas Highland Park capitalized on Marshall fumbles for early scores and showed superiority throughout in turning back the East Texas powers.

Wichita Falls won an important conference game by trimming Electra 20-0 and becoming overwhelmingly favorite to cop the District 2 crown. In the Dallas district Crozier Tech crushed Woodrow Wilson 34-9 to edge to the fore, while Lufkin gathered steam by smashing Athens 66-7 in District 12.

Leaves From A Correspondent's War Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

DEN PASAR, Bali—(AP)—"The Past Paradise," as the tourist folders used to describe Bali, is an earthly heaven for Japanese troops having one last gambol in this isolated East Indian sanctuary.

The less than 3,000 Japanese here have lived the proverbial Life of Riley for many months in this corner of the Netherlands East Indies where no serious native unrest has arisen.

From all external evidence, Bali apparently accepted the Japanese rule as lackadaisically as it did the European, the Balinese just not giving a darn who runs them.

After spending a few days among this simple native people, one has the uneasy feeling that in their barefooted way they may have developed a system that in many senses is superior to that of the Occident. There is an almost irresistible impulse to drop the white man's burden, don a loin cloth and join the little brown people in the sun.

The only thing that kept me from joining was the knowledge that my figure was a bit too plump for public display and that I sunburn easily; but for anyone who would like to end his days whittling monkey figures out of lemon wood, or perhaps betting on a few cock-fights, this is the best address.

Except for a couple of bombing raids against Japanese planes based there, no echo of the war ever penetrated Bali's calm.

Hopelessly stranded and with nothing to do but wait for the finish, the Japanese here relaxed in comfortable billets and ate a rich diet of meats, fruits and vegetables which they will recall longingly in future years, when they are back in their bleak homeland.

The several Japanese attempts to recruit Balinese for the army resulted in a force of about 1,000 men, who were drilled regularly but never saw any action.

Despite the lazy way of life, the Japanese commander stoutly insisted that the Balinese would make good soldiers, saying, "Their discipline was as good as that of Japanese troops and I believe they'd fight as well."

The few Europeans on Bali doubt this very much, one of them remarking, "The only thing these people ever fight over is a love affair, and usually the weather is too hot even for that."

Maley Leads SMU To 21-18 Victory Over Rice's Owls

By MARVIN BRAU

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. —(AP)—Led by fleet-footed Red Maley, the Southern Methodist Mustangs nosed out a fighting band of Rice Owls, 21 to 18, in the initial southwest conference game of the season for both teams here today.

A shirt-sleeved crowd of 10,000 watched the Mustangs combine a running and an aerial attack in their effort to outscore the Owls.

Big Pete Kotlarich, whose accurate toe has won quite a number of games for the Ponies, again was the difference between victory and defeat. Three times the S. M. U. right tackle dropped back from his line position to plant three tries for the point after touchdown between the uprights.

Huey Kenney, starring for the Owls, scored two of his team's touchdowns. Bruce Bradbeer scored the other, going over on a pass flipped from the SMU 15. Bob Nemir's first two tries for the point after touchdown were wide and his third was blocked by the hard-charging Mustangs.

The Mustangs scored once in the first period and twice in the third. Rice scored once in the first and twice in the fourth.

The Mustangs had the best of it in statistics. They registered 18 first downs to ten for Rice. On the ground they gained 218 yards to 116. They completed 10 passes for 114 yards to six good for 101 yards by the Owls. Rice intercepted three passes to none for the Methodists.

LSU 32, GEORGIA 0

Surging Columbia Defeats Colgate

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Columbia's resurgent football machine took advantage of every Colgate mistake today to pole-tax the hocus magicians from Colgate, 31-7.

Not since the balmy days of 1932 has a Columbia team swept its first four starts, a feat fully appreciated by the overflow turnout of 35,000 who jammed Baker field with its biggest crowd since Sid Luckman hung up his uniform.

Opportunists was the word for the Lions who yielded a touch-down to the Red Raiders in the first seven minutes, came back to tie, scooted ahead on a third period field goal by Len Will, a 27-year-old war veteran, and ran hog wild in the gloaming of the fourth period on fumbles, pass interceptions and punt runbacks.

GOPHERS 30, WILDCATS 7

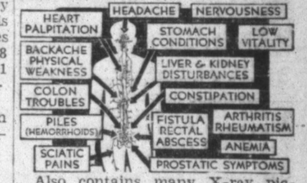

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 20—(AP)—Minesota came through its first Big Ten test today by handing Northwestern a 30-7 thumping before a homecoming crowd of 56,000 fans. Minnesota's power and deception was too much for the Wildcats, whose lone score resulted from a pass.

UPTON CLOSE:

The Communits And Minorities, Japs and Others

The New York Lawyers association has resolved that Mr. Samuel Dickstein, at present congressman but standing for office as Judge in the New York City elections, lacks the judicial experience and it implies that he lacks the temper to be a judge at the bar. This raises the question of Mr. Dickstein's experience and judgment as chief administration voice on the immigration committee.

Mr. Dickstein's most recent activity of the more sensational sort has been to recommend that a second chance be given all the alien and American-born (nisei) Japanese who swore fealty to the Mikado and damned the country where they were making their money, at the time the Japs seemed to be winning all over the Pacific. These persons, says Mr. Dickstein, may now have changed their minds and might like to stay here. (I should think they might have!) Quite a few of them, despite Mr. Dickstein, have already, I'm told, been loaded aboard C54's heading across the Pacific to bring back Yank soldiers. These Japs have already been dumped back in the Nippon which they choose to give loyalty. The remainder are in Tule Lake detention camp, northern California, awaiting their turn. Mr. Dickstein of the house immigration committee wants to save them for us.

Mr. Dickstein's brainstorm just preceding this last one was a campaign, public and behind the scenes, to have the European refugee aliens who have been kept at the Lake Ontario camp expressly as guests, given in some way the right to remain in the United States permanently, although this would circumvent the immigration law made by congress which Mr. Dickstein's immigration committee should strive to uphold. Just what could be accomplished by bringing in such a limited number of refugees has never been made clear, anyway. Mr. Roosevelt, who ordered it, called them a "symbol." Symbol of what—if no more are to come? It surely must have been most difficult to avoid favoritism—if favoritism were avoided—in selecting and admitting the chosen 1,000. (The public is told that the number was limited to 1,000. No information is available as to whether many more have not entered, stayed a bit, and been allowed to pass into the population.)

But, to return to the yet more amazing Dickstein proposal that we give Japs who renounced this country, violently and bitterly in many cases, and who asked to be sent back to Nippon, a chance to change their minds, and pick the United States to live and multiply and die in: You ask why a lawyer and congressman and would-be judge would take such a line—indicating neither judicial sense nor a sense of public feeling? The answer is that it is party line—the communist party line, to which Congressman Dickstein seems sensitive and even obedient. This strange championship by Congressman Dickstein goes right back to one of the fundamentals of Marxist strategy: to infiltrate and play up to minority groups. The communist organs among us make no secret at all of their program to infiltrate and win and use the following minority groups in particular: The Negroes, the Jews and the Japanese nisei.

When our military ordered all Japanese, whether American-born or not, removed from the Pacific coast the Marxist strategists in the United States picked the relocation service which took charge of Japanese concentration camps as their special charge. Probably more left-wingers per dozen bureaucrats populated this service than any other branch of our left-wing-ridden new deal government. Communist writers began to turn out books and pamphlets and to conduct a press service in defense of the removed Japanese, and in condemnation of our authorities. Left-wing organizations stirred up and assisted suits against the government to compel release of these Japanese, which failed. Left wing groups now are assisting with suits to collect damages and get reparation money for resettlement of the now released Japanese. Communists and left-wingers in and out of the relocation service were behind every case of violence and trouble in the camps, and every instance of coddling that made both Uncle Sam and his Japanese wards look ridiculous.

What is the result? The result is that the released nisei (American-born Japanese) population now almost without exception looks to the radicals, and specifically to the communist party, as its champion. The result is that in Chicago, which has become the largest Japanese center and in Salt Lake City and other places which they have coagulated you will see well-meaning, earnest little Japanese youths attending the communist school misnamed "Abraham Lincoln" and other communist run or infested institutions, and running about the streets with communist books in their book straps. The result is that if any trouble or violence should come on this minority group due to public irritation or majority intolerance or economic pressure, the communists can make capital of it, posing as the defenders of decency against brutal capitalist Americans.

The Japanese are the least of the three minority groups picked for this strategy. We shall be wise to look into the parallel strategy among the other two, as well.

which empowers this tribunal to define crimes and empowers the court to impose sentences."

Article 27 of the charter provides: "The tribunal shall have the right to impose upon a defendant on conviction death or such other punishment as shall be determined by it to be just."

In his report to President Truman Jackson said he developed fully the legal basis of the case. This development falls into three major categories, he explained. They are:

"1—Atrocities and offenses against persons or property constituting violations of international law including the laws, rules and customs of land and naval warfare. The rules of warfare are well established and generally accepted by nations.

"2—Atrocities and offenses, including atrocities and persecution on racial or religious grounds committed since 1933. This is only to recognize the principles of criminal law as they generally are observed in civilized states. These principles have been assimilated as part of international law at least since 1907. The fourth Hague convention provided that inhabitants and belligerents shall remain under the protection of the rules of 'the principles of the laws of nations as they result from usage established among civilized people from the laws of humanity and the dictates of public conscience.'

"3—Invasion of other countries and initiation of wars of aggression in violation of international law or treaties. Persons to be reached by these charges will be determined by the rules of liability common to all legal systems; that all who participate in the formulation or execution of a criminal plan involving multiple crimes are liable for each of the offenses committed and responsible for the acts of each other. All are liable who have incited orders, procured or cunselled the commission of such acts or who have taken what the Moscow declaration describes as 'a consenting part therein.'"

The 24 defendants named in the war crimes indictments are:

Hermann Wilhelm Goering, reichsmarshal, No. 2 nazi and air force chief.

Joachim von Ribbenstrop, foreign minister.

Rudolph Hess, No. 3 nazi.

Robert Ley, nazi labor front leader.

Wilhelm Keitel, field marshal and chief of the high command.

Alfred Jodl, colonel-general and chief of the army staff.

Karl Doenitz, grand admiral and commander-in-chief of the German navy.

Erich Raeder, grand admiral and former commander of the navy.

Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, industrialist.

Hjalmar Horace Greeley Schacht, former economics minister and reichsbank president.

Walter Funk, former nazi press chief and reichsbank president.

Franz von Papen, the "Grey Fox" of nazi diplomacy.

Ernest Kaltenbrunner, chief of the nazi security police.

Alfred Rosenberg, chief prophet of the nazi philosophy.

Hans Frank, governor general in the Polish occupation.

Martin Borman, storm troop chief, Hitler's deputy.

Wilhelm Frick, nazi "protector" for Bohemia and Moravia.

Fritz Sauckel, SS and SA general.

Albert Speer, nazi munitions minister.

Arthu Seyss-Lnquart, gauleiter for the Netherlands.

Julius Streicher, number one nazi Jew-baiter.

Hans Fritzsche, propagandist.

Constantin von Neurath, "protector" for Bohemia and Moravia.

Baldur von Schirach, Hitler youth chief.

All those named are in custody except Bormann.

quarters declared the Indonesians had been holding 1,100 prisoners, mainly Dutch nationals, at Buitenzorg, 45 miles southeast of Batavia, since Oct. 11 under conditions equalling those of the notorious "Black Hole of Calnurabaja," Java naval base, where a tense situation was reported.

Soekarno, president of the self-proclaimed Indonesian government, charged in a radiogram to President Truman that some of the Dutch troops fighting in the Netherlands Indies were wearing American uniforms and were using American arms, munitions and trucks.

He said the Dutch had recruited an army from Dutch prisoners of war and Eurasians and that these troops were terrorizing the population by "shooting at innocent passersby," by "kidnaping and maltreating—even killing — captives" and by "robbing private belongings.

"Protests have been made to Allied military headquarters without satisfactory results," Soekarno asserted.

(In New York John Carter Vincent, director of the state department's office of Far Eastern Affairs, said the United States did not question the sovereignty of the French in Indo-China or the Dutch in the East Indies, but that the U. S. government would be willing to participate in attempts to settle difficulties in thoses territories.

"('It is not our intention," he said, "to insist or participate in enforcement measures for the imposition of control by the territorial sovereigns, but we would be prepared to lend our assistance, if requested to do so, in efforts to reach peaceful agreements in these disturbed areas.") taxes by $5,629,000,000. Senator George (D-Ga.)—he runs the committee—predicted today a campaign to chop down to prewar size taxes on such things as whisky, movie tickets, rouge and fur coats. The house voted to do that. George and his committee are against it.

4. Un-American activities.

The house has a special committee to investigate them. Some congressmen want to do away with it—particularly since it's talking of investigating newspaper columnists and radio commentators. The drive is under way already.

5. Atomic power.

The senate may set up next week a special committee to handle atomic legislation. The house military committee already is handling it. It may do something soon about a bill to develop and control atomic energy in this country. Mr. Truman wants the bill. Many leading atomic scientists don't. It's too early to pick a winner.

One thing the house committee won't do anything about:

A proposal from some unidentified idea man who wants a crop of test tube babies to become guardians of the atomic bomb. The daddies would be united nations leaders. The mothers would be picked for eugenic value, heredity, health and leadership.

explained.

"The Japanese, I believe, are extremely interested in the proceedings," he remarked.

He said that "almost all the defendants we are looking for" will be captured—"provided they are not dead."

U. S. Eighth army headquarters at Yokohama meanwhile reported that 20 ships were due within the next month to return nearly 58,000 troops to the United States.

General MacArthur's headquarters said that all Japanese military forces in Korea would be returned to Japan by Nov. 1. Repatriation of 470,000 Japanese civilians from Korea remains an unsolved problem.

MacArthur forbade American personel sending home any money except that "legitimately acquired" as pay or allowances; it was an order designed to discourage possible black market profiteering.

ure of the arsenal at Maracay, 60 miles west of Caracas, gave the revolutionists enough planes, tanks, artillery and troops to suppress quickly any resistance by the forces of President Medina.

The radio station at Tachira, apparent center of forces loyal to Medina, claimed a force of 16,000 men under Gen. David Lopez Henriquez was marching from the western state upon Caracas some 400 miles away. The station said Medina was not a captive, but was fighting with loyalists in Caracas.

The junta maintained that the strongest resistance was being encountered from troops led by Leon Jurado, president of the western state of Lara.

He was estimated to have 5,000 troops in the port city of Coro, 200 miles northwest of Caracas, but the junta announced it would send tanks and planes against them if they did not surrender.

The United States embassy said its building was hit about 100 times by machine gun and rifle bullets yesterday, but no Americans were harmed. There were no reports of other foreigners hurt.

Looters, who ranged through the presidential districts attacking homes of Medina government officials, respected foreign property.

Board of Inquiry Investigate Crash

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 20.—(AP)—An army board of inquiry was named today to investigate a spectacular crash last night which killed the commanding general and deputy commander of Geiger field and three others aboard a C-45 transport plane.

Geiger field public relations authorities said no explanation of the terrific crash into a knoll six miles east of here as the plane prepared to land would be forthcoming until the board completed its inquiry.

The field went into mourning for Brig. Gen. Stuart C. Godfrey, 59, of Washington, D. C., base commander descibed in a memorial service as "the father of the aviation engineers," and for the deputy commander, Col. James W. Park, 35, of Tacona, Wash.

Knox Kinard Is Guest Speaker For A. A. U. W.

"What Post - War Curriculum Should the Secondary Schools Sponsor" was the question Knox Kinard, superintendent of the Pampa public schools, discussed when he was guest speaker at the American Association of University Women's regular meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the city club rooms.

In his talk, Mr. Kinard asked such questions as: What knowledge is of the most worth? Is a program that follows the lines of general culture best? How well did the pre-war curriculum meet the needs of the war emergencies? Was the war a testing of the school's program?

Miss Hart Anderson, a member of the Woodrow Wilson faculty, sang, "The Hills of Home" by Oscar Fox and "One Alone" from "The Desert Song." She was accompanied by Miss Mildred Martin. Miss Lillian Mullinax, educational chairman of the A. A. U. W., arranged the program.

First Play of Season Is Presented By Local Cast at Little Theater

"Each character portrayed his or her part more than adequately," was the concensus of opinion concerning the presentation of the play, "Bread," which was seen by members of the Little Theater when the group met in the City club room Friday evening.

The one-act play, the first of the season, marked a good beginning of the year's activity for members of the local organization, and was presented by a local cast under the direction of Leonard Belden.

The cast included: Elsie Hall, mother; Albert M. Hunt, son; Denzel Besse, their son's wife; Gene Smythe, their son; Clara Lemm, their blind daughter; Ruth Huff, a daughter, and Helen Huff prompter.

The plot of the play related the story of a poor farm family during the depression, and how the mother and two daughters had saved a sum of money from the sale of butter and eggs to buy a piano. The action of the play was increased when the horse died, and the father wanted the money to replace the horse, only to find that the son had lost it gambling. At last the blind girl admitted that she has saved a sum secretly, and the end of the play showed a grateful family, glad and thankful for "bread to eat."

Rowley, of Amarillo, head of the Howley, of Amarillo, head of the speech department of West Texas State college, Canyon, who gave a scene from the play, "The Importance of Being Earnest". She also described a number of Broadway plays which she attended recently in New York.

One of the plays the speaker recommended was, "Harvey." Mrs. Rowley also presented an humorous skit of a doting mother coaxing her little son to repeat "Little Jack Horner."

The speaker, upon request, gave constructive criticism concerning the play which was presented by the group, and stated that it was extremely good for an opening event, and that the group showed much promise.

Mrs. Rowley talked at length concerning Little Theater work, and she emphasized, "You cannot have a successful organization unless every member is taking part and working."

Mrs. Raymond Harrah, president, was in charge of the business session, and a committee was appointed to repair and improve the stage in the club room in the near future.

Next play to be presented will be, "The Flattering Word," directed by Miss Clara Mae Lemm.

Red Cross Supplies Information And Varifications for Requests

Recent conversations between the War Department and the American Red Cross have resulted in the resumption of Red Cross service in army discharge requests involving dependency and undue hardship in cases where Red Cross is asked by the military to provide verifying and supplementary information, Mrs. F. M. Culberson, home service chairman of the Pampa Red Cross, said today.

Pointing out that the chapter acts only on request of the military, and that such requests are made on a selective basis, Mrs. Culberson said that the resumed service in no way changes Red Cross' traditional position of neither recommending discharges nor applying for them.

Verified "home conditions" reports are provided by Red Cross in connection with dependency discharge applications only in cases where the facts are not sufficiently clear to the military to warrant their making a decision, Mrs. Culberson said. The only direct contact between the serviceman seeking discharge and the Red Cross occurs when the former needs aid in filling out the necessary discharge application forms or when he is unable to obtain the necessary statements to accompany his discharge application, in which instance the local chapters will help dependents to obtain them.

The serviceman, however, must make out his own request for discharge and either he or his family should obtain the necessary affidavits, statements or recommendations from individuals in the community relative to need for discharge.

The serviceman's dependents are expected to prepare a communication to the enlisted man stating the situation at home and asking that he request discharge. Mrs. Culberson pointed out that such a communication must come from the family and not from the Red Cross chapter.

In cases where an application does not contain adequate information or the information is not sufficient to justify further consideration, the commanding officer with discharge authority will retuurn the application to the enlisted man as disapproved. The Red Cross in such cases does not make an investigation or report. If the application information justifies a discharge without further verification and the discharge is approved by the commanding officer, the Red Cross is not requested to make either an investigation or a report.

Mrs. Culberson warned residents of Gray county not to confuse the resumption of army discharge service with the service rendered by Pampa Red Cross chapter in applications for emergency furloughs. Red Cross still provides verified health and welfare reports and "home conditions" reports which the serviceman and his family may ask it to provide and forward in connection with emergency furloughs or other emergency situations requiring communications service.

Assistance to officers, warrant officers or flight officers asking relief from duty because of undue hardship will be given on the same basis as Red Cross service to enlisted personnel. Requests for dependency discharges from the marine corps involve the same Red Cross procedure, Mrs. Culberson concluded.

Fred MacMurray Portrays Famed Flier in Fox's 'Captain Eddie'

Fred MacMurray and Lynn Bari as Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Rickenbacker in a love scene from the thrilling, tender "Captain Eddie," with Charles Bickford.

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

A picture that America has been waiting for a long time comes to the LaNora screen starting today and it has fully lived up to all its advance notices.

Fred MacMurray plays the finest role of his career as the immortal Eddie Rickenbacker in Fox's "Captain Eddie" and the film boasts a supporting cast that has seldom been surpassed — Lynn Bari, Charles Bickford of "Song of Bernadette," Thomas Mitchell, Academy Award winner; Lloyd Nolan, outstanding in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" and James Gleason, a wiry little guy with a dynamic punch.

"Captain Eddie" is a picture the whole family can enjoy—a motion picture you're not likely to froget.

Forty years of Rickenbacker's exciting life as an auto race driver, a manufacturer of cars and a flier are covered. It's an excellent respite from the good but innumerable war pictures you've been seeing.

Something new and good in entertainment is "It's in the Bag," showing at the Rex, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

From start to finish it's completely crazy and one of the funniest parts is the introduction—or credits—in which Allen reels off who produced it, directed it, wrote the music and everything else.

Many of Hollywood's top stars make appearances in this Allen vehicle. There's Jack Benny, Don Ameche, William Bendix, Binnie Barnes, Rudy Vallee, Victor Moore, Robert Benchley and many others.

Van Johnson is showing at the Crown theater Sunday and Monday—but there'll be no special Ladies' Day prices.

This time, the handsome hunk flashes his bashful grin in Gloria De Haven and Marilyn Maxwell in "Between Two Women." That grand old man of the screen, Lionel Barrymore, plays his lovable Dr. Gillespie and Alma Krueger is still trying to get him to drink his glass of milk.

Keenan Wynn, son of the great Ed Wynn, lights it up with a few brief scenes and Keye Luke, fine Chinese actor, is still in the hospital as an interne—he's getting in a rut.

Chevrolet Dealer Sees Preview of '46 Model

Frank Culberson, Chevrolet dealer here, has returned from Oklahoma City where he attended a preview of the new 1946 Chevrolet at the company's zone headquarters.

He said he expected the formal announcement and public showing of the new car to be at an early date.

Following the same policy as in former years, the new model will be displayed simultaneously in dealers' showrooms throughout the country, Culberson said.

Radio and local newspaper announcements will be made, telling prospective customers may see the new car for the first time.

Throughout the war period, car owners have been forced to get along with their old automobiles. At the same time dealers have expended every effort to service these cars, and to keep them rolling for the duration.

Mr. Culberson stressed car care, with the warning that motorists should not expect the 1946 Chevrolet to be available in great quantities immediately.

Young Panhandle Service Man Dies in Action for Country

It was just when the worst of it was over for the 78th Lightning division on its drive to the Rhine that Pvt. Bruce Daugherty, 19 year old infantryman, was among those hit by mortar shell fragments.

He died last March 2nd of the wounds received in action in Belgium, 35 miles from the Remagen bridge on the Rhine. He was the son of Mrs. Twila Daugherty of Hoover.

Daugherty was a replacement who joined Co. C of the 78th division in February. He had helped secure the Schwammanuauel dam, a vital military objective, and had gone with his regiment, the 311th Timberwolf, to the north and northeast to help clear and maintain the Nideggen - Abenden - Hausen road, keypoints on the way to the Rhine.

Hausen was stubbornly defended. The streets had to be cleared of German soldiers by street and house-to-house fighting. Daugherty came out of it alright, went on to Heimback on a route which almost completely encircled the dam, and was on his way to an easier time of it with the Timberwolves when he was injured March 2.

"That evening when the wounded were brought off the hill," recently wrote David Frazor of Electra to Mrs. Daugherty, "he was brought into the same dugout that I was in at the time. I heard our platoon medic ask him how he felt. He said he felt okay, that it wasn't hurting him much. He felt cool though and wanted some blankets to put over him.

"We all thought that Bruce had gone back to a hospital until about the last part of May when one of the boys heard his name read off on a list of the men from the company who had died in the line of duty."

Bruce Daugherty

Mrs. Daugherty received her son's posthumously awarded Purple Heart medal. His name is on the State of Texas honor roll script.

His commanding officer, C. M. Willingham, wrote Mrs. Daugherty, " . . . During the period that Bruce was a member of my command his conduct was of the highest. Shortly after he became a member of this regiment he was awarded that Combat Infantryman's badge for his exemplary conduct in action against the enemy. Had he been with us this day Bruce would undoubtedly have been promoted to a higher grade. We, who have been privileged to know and serve with your son, share your loss but we share too the pride you must feel in him."

The war department has informed Mrs. Daugherty that her son is interred in the United States military cemetery, Henri Chapelle, Belgium, approximately seven miles southwest of Aachen, Germany.

Daugherty entered the service Sept. 4, 1944, at the age of 18, completed his training at Camp Wolters, Dec. 30, and sailed from Orangeburg, N. Y., Jan. 25. When he was sent to the front line he joined a company in which six of the original members were left.

Prior to entering the service Daugherty helped on the Daugherty wheat farm in Hoover, was known as "Doc," which stuck in the army. Friends and acquaintances knew him as a fellow whom people liked to both see and know because of his humor, wit and fun. Daugherty played the piano and guitar by ear, headed for a piano whenever he saw one.

He was converted in his early youth to the Nazarene church of Hoover under the pastorship of the Rev. W. E. Bond.

At about the same time he served as mascot to the Hoover baseball team, wearing a midget-sized team uniform and attending all the games with the team.

When the Hoover baseball team broke up as its members left for service, the team gave its old Essex to Daugherty. The Essex didn't have a top, it was held together with a lot of wire, but Daugherty kept it going until he left too.

In the meantime he was in a couple of accidents, dashed around on a motorcycle, played baseball on the Hoover team, and participated in sports and played in the band when he attended the Pampa high school. He was a junior when he left.

allow me to introduce myself. My

His mother tells of his as being a reserved and tolerant cheerful young fellow, and a good worker who could plow as straight a row at night as in daylight. Former instructors speak of Daugherty as being bright, mischievous and exceedingly likeable.

Daugherty has two brothers, Leon, a flight officer stationed at Lincoln, Nebr., and Frank, who is home. He has two sisters, Vera, who is also at home, and Mrs. George Esposito of Brooklyn. His father was killed several years ago in an accident.

Last summer a service friend of Daugherty's wrote Mrs. Daugherty: " . . . before I go any further allowe me to introduce myself. My name is Martin L. Farkus (Hazelton, Pa.) I'm in the same platoon your son is a member.

"First I want to tell you how I came about writing this letter. I was in the mess kit laundry line waiting my turn to clean my mess kit. A boy from your home town, I don't even know his name, you probably know who I mean? He was in front of me. I knew he was your son's buddie so I ask him about 'Doc.' I was under the impression he was on the road to recovery. But he told me the sad news. I couldn't believe it.

"I'm sorry for refreshing your memory on something you're most likely trying to forget. But when 'Doc's' buddie told me you would like to hear from any of your dear son's comrades I just had to write.

"I'm very sorry to hear of your son. May his soul rest in peace.

"The day it happened I asked the medic how he was and he said he would be OK. I was glad for him because he was going back and would pull through OK.

"It's funny the way things work. Why we must have wars I'll never know . . . "

$3,142,000,000

of Political Medicine Yearly in the United States

What does this mean for:

SICK PEOPLE
PHYSICIANS
THE PUBLIC

WHEN THE GOVERNMENT "SOCIALIZES" MEDICINE

Political Medicine for America

On May 24, 1945, Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York—for himself and Senator James E. Murray of Montana—introduced in the Senate, Bill 1050. On the same day, Congressman John D. Dingell of Michigan introduced an identical Bill in the House of Representatives—H.R.3293. This proposed legislation is known as the Wagner-Murray-Dingell Bill.

If the recommendations in this Bill are enacted into law, they will destroy the effectiveness of medical care in the United States.

The Bill proposes to raise annually by taxation—from payrolls mostly—approximately Eight Billion Dollars. Of this sum an amount estimated at $3,142,000,000.00 is to be allocated to provide medical, dental and hospital care by the Federal Government.

What Political Medicine Will Do to Your Physician

Physicians would be paid by the Federal Government. Presumably they would work eight hours per day instead of twenty-four hours.

There would be little incentive for your physician to become more skilled in the art of medical practice. His advancement would depend upon his influence with politicians rather than on his skill or the character of his work.

Your physician would not develop initiative—he would have to adopt the methods and prescribe the treatments and medicines determined by superiors.

State Medicine—political control of medical service—always has, always will develop doctors who are politically amenable, who cater to the ward "boss" or the precinct worker rather than to the needs of human beings who are their patients.

What Does Political Medicine Mean for Sick People?

It means that they must depend upon a doctor who:

Is paid by the Federal Government—is presumably working eight hours per day;

May not be the doctor of their choice, but the one that has been assigned by a political bureaucrat;

Cannot have a personal interest in patients who come to him because they are compelled to do so;

Must follow methods and prescribe remedies that are fixed by his bureaucratic superiors:

Is more interested in appeasing his political bosses than he is in curing his patients.

Often human life depends upon a physician's skill—shall he be made subservient to politicians?

What Does Political Medicine Mean for the Public?

$3,000,000,000.00 annually of extra payroll taxes—an average of about $120.00 yearly for each family;

150,000 additional bureaucrats to tell patients where to go and doctors what to do and how to treat human beings who are sick;

The sacrificing of the highest level of health and the most effective medical care ever known;

Doctors—to care for loved ones—who are first political stooges and henchmen instead of self-respecting human beings and—

It is understood that, if the Medical Profession is regimented, it will represent a decisive step forward toward establishing centralized Federal Control of all the professions and industry, and the destruction of Freedom of Enterprise in the United States.

Be sure to write to your Congressman and te ll him how to vote on this important issue.

This Issue Must Be Decided by the People—the Voters of the United States. Make Your Decision Now! Talk or Write to Your Senators and Congressmen

Student Opinions On Compulsory Training Asked

"I think it would be fine if boys were required to have one year of military training," said Wimpy Vaughn in a student poll last week.

The seniors, who will be the most immediately affected by compulsory military training have these opinions:

Curg Clauder said, "I do not like the idea."

Ronald Rice thinks it would be good.

Don Losher would like to see it go through if the boys wishing to go to college could do so.

The junior class, which would be affected to a certain extent, voice these replies:

Bill Cole thought it would be all right.

Tom Darby positively did not like the idea.

Danny Williams declared, "Let boys finish high school and if they want to go to college, go to college. Then a year of military training would be good for them.

Truett Bullington stated, "This is a free country; therefore I would not like it."

The sophomores, who would not be affected as soon as would the two upper classes, seem to like the proposal.

Morris Spencer agreed to the affirmative by saying, "I would like it because with compulsory military training, an army would be more of our having a small military service again."

Wayne Smith has the same opinion as Morris. He feels there would be less chance of another war if the boys had this kind of training.

Bill Buchanan said, "With this training an army would be more easily mobilized. I like the idea."

Duke Menefee thinks the physical training in it would help all boys.

The freshmen, the class which would be least affected by such a program think in both the positive and negative terms.

Louis Stallinge would not like thet proposal, but Gene Howell thinks it would be good.

Rogers Speaks To Teachers Association

Charles Rogers, president of the Texas State Teachers' association and superintendent of schools in Amarillo, spoke on teacher retirement at a joint meeting of the Gray Roberts and Pampa classroom teachers' associations at Sam Houston school Thursday night.

Bill Nellis, Councillor at Large, Chosen First Junior Rotarian

Billy Nellis, councillor at large, Tuesday was elected Junior Rotarian for the month of November by members of the student council.

Billy is the first high school Rotarian to be elected this year. Any senior boy in good standing with ability to speak well is qualified for this award. The job is more than honorary — requiring that the student have ability to represent the school. The council will elect a Rotarian each month

Bill will meet with the Rotary Club members during their regular weekly luncheons and business meetings in November.

He is vice president of the Great Plains District of the Hi-Y. Bill has been active in all Hi-Y work since he was in junior high school. He served as parliamentarian of the student council last year and is now councilor at large. He also heads public relations committee of the council. He has been acclaimed one of the best speakers in high school. Bill was in the junior class play last year.

The council passed a rule stating that all school organizations sponsoring social activities should file the date, time and place with the social committee. A school calendar will be posted listing all school activities in advance. This is to prevent two or more organizations from planning parties on the same dates.

One-tenth of Students Absent in Average Day

In an average day in PHS, 94 students—nearly one-tenth of the number enrolled—were absent or tardy, G. L. Allison, assistant principal, said. Two or three of these were unexcused.

On Friday, Oct. 12, 200 students were absent because of the Norman game. An unusual number had unexcused absences.

"Unless a very good reason is given, all tardies will be unexcused," Allison announced. Tardies caused by the following will always be unexcused, he said: being late the first period and at noon, not getting up on time, missing the bus, and the alarm clock not ringing.

The most common excuses for absences have been sickness, work and parents taking students out of town.

Remember, only 12 more days to buy an annual for $2.50! Buy Now!

Lockers Play Big Part in PHS Life

If a student's books look battered and his coat bedraggled, it's because each student in Pampa high school can have only 94 percent of one locker this year. Only 1,000 are available and 1,060 students are enrolled.

Lockers play an important and interesting part in the life of all students in PHS.

The most common use for lockers is for storing books, coats and lunches; but extracurricular uses sometimes seem more important.

Girls use them for repainting stations, gossip collectors, storehouses for gooey love letters and pictures of favorite movie stars.

Since they don't cover themselves with paint, boys have other uses for their lockers. Pictures of luscious pin-up girls brighten the dull insides. Also, if a boy happens to find pencils, pens or notebooks, he merely sticks them into the inner recesses and forgets them until school is out.

Some special lockers have the juiciest gossip sessions—the girls discuss their latest love affairs and the boys discuss football. These meetings usually take place before school and during lunch hour, but at any time two people meet, a gossip session ensues.

Harvester Reserves Travel To Shamrock

Harvester reserves traveled to Shamrock last Tuesday and came away with a 13-0 win over the Irishmens' A team.

Not having a scheduled game last week, the green and gold gridsters are sweeping through their practices with plenty of spirit and fire in preparation for the Brownfield game.

The Brownfield boys have lost only one game and that was to the powerful Amarillo Golden Sandies.

Pampa was ranked tenth in the top teams of Texas this past week. After the Brownfield game, the boys hope to go higher up the list.

Women Replace Men Driving School Busses

Eight drivers of the 18 Pampa school busses are women, Joe Shelton, superintendent of the busses, his announced.

Approximately 1,050 students ride the busses every day. Eleven of the vehicles serve high school students, transporting them to and from school every morning and evening.

So far this year, the busses have run 35 school days and averaged 670 miles per day. Two busses are used to carry the football boys and the band to out of town games. Three busses have new motors and 11 have been completely overhauled recently, Shelton said.

The drivers are Mrs. Lavon Mobley, Mrs. Mildred Bond, Mrs. Virginia Dean, Grover Stark, Elmer Whitson, Joe Brown, Mrs. Ora Jarvis, Henry Helms, Joe Shelton, Mrs. Ellen Kretzmier, Mrs Lola Garrison, Mrs. Pauline Beard, Tom Anderson, Mrs. Lois Steward, Frank Chapman, Joe Patterfield, and Bill Jarvis.

Football Teams Play Two Games Monday

Pampa football teams will play two games tomorrow. The Harvesters meet Canadian in a night game at Harvester park and the Gorillas will journey to Lefors for a return game with the hard-hitting Pirates in the afternoon.

205 To Have Party

Miss Lee Sullivan's home room —senior room 205— is going all out for a skating party. It's going to be Thursday November 1. Everyone will be there with their best on. Of course, it will be levis and plaid shirts.

Lefors Pirates Beat Gorillas

The powerful Lefors Pirates overcame the 14-point lead of the Gorillas Monday at Harvester park and came out on the long side of a 20-14 triumph.

The Gorillas struck early in the first period when Laffoon's long pass to Grace clicked for a touchdown. Quickly after that, Laffoon skirted right end for 60 yards and another score. Both teams settled down then and except for a 70-yard punt return by Laffoon which was nullified because he stepped out of bounds, there was no excitement.

Everything looked rosy for Coach John Rankin's boys then; but they were suddenly brought to life when Cooper took the ball on an end-around for Lefors and ran 40 yards to pay dirt and 6 points. The ball split the uprights and the game stood 14-7, Pampa. Williams of the Gorillas made several nice gains, but Lefors took over on downs.

From that point a 45 yard punt was fumbled by Laffoon on the Gorilla 10 yard stripe. Stracener took over several plays later from the 5 for another Pirate touchdown and a 14-13 count.

In the fourth quarter Stracener again broke loose from the 50 to the Pampa 20. A goal line stand from that point failed and Lefors powered over to surge out in front 20-14.

The Gorillas—far from beaten—rallied and two straight passes from Laffoon to Jones from the midfield line placed it on the nine with seconds remaining. A do-or-die pass was intercepted by Clemmons and returned to the 35 when the final gun sounded.

Outstanding line play was shown by Cooper and Davidson was crackerjack at defense for Pampa.

Competition In Girls' PE Starts

Competition between girls' physical education classes in tennis and archery will begin within the next two weeks, Miss Dorothy Hoyle, physical education teacher, has announced.

Both singles and doubles will be played. Although definite arrangements are pending, the contests will be held after school.

Girls interested in these class tournaments are urged to contact Miss Hoyle.

She has urged outside practice in tennis to develop skill, and reports that the girls are learning rapidly. The present tennis class is for beginners, but intermediate classes will be set up later this year.

Girls taking tennis have finished the forehand, backhand and serve, and have learned how to keep score. Actual playing began last week in class.

D. V. Biggers Takes Sgt. Rankin's Position

D. V. Biggers, who has been discharged after four years of service in the army, will replace S/Sgt. John Rankin as boy's physical education instructor and Gorilla football coach.

Mr. Biggers coached at Lefors before entering the service. He will begin classes Monday.

Sgt. Rankin, who left Wednesday to return to the army to receive his discharge, is going into a water softener business in Pampa.

A Cappella Choir Gives Program

Solos by Jack Dunham and Miss LaNelle Scheihagen and songs by the boys quartet and the girls' trio highlighted the program presented by the A Cappella Choir in assembly Wednesday.

The program—the first given by the choir this year—received enthusiastic response from the student audience.

"If you knew Susie like I know Susie

Oh, oh—oh, what a gal"

was the quartet's novelty number which found wide approval among the student body. The four boys —Bill Hutchinson, Charlie Beard, Jack Dunham and Jimmy Terrell —also sang "Lights Out."

"Paper Moon" and Once in Awhile" were sung by the girls' trio, which is composed of Sybil Pierson, Libby Sturgeon and Beverly Candler.

Jack Dunham, reaching into the past, sang "The Wedding Bells are Breaking up that Old Gang of Mine" and "Side by Side."

Upon request of Johnny Campbell, S 1/C, who was president of the student council last year, director LaNelle Scheihagen sang "Remember."

"Ezekial Saw the Wheel," "Rain in the River," "Bells," "Rio Rita," "Heavenly Light," and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" were presentations of the choir.

The group led the audience in "The Bells of St. Mary's," "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and "There's a Long, Long Trail A Winding."

Johnny Campbell acted as master of ceremonies.

Price of Yearbooks Skyrockets to $3.00

Inflation has set in! Prices are soaring!

After Oct. 31, PHS Harvesters will cost $3.00 instead of the present $2.50.

Eight more days in which to save 50 cents! Buy from Tommy Chisholm and Lawrence Baines in the hall any morning between 8:30 and 9.

Smith's studio will take make-up pictures for juniors and seniors this week. Teachers are to complete having their pictures made this week, also.

Animals Win Favor

Some animals in this school have won more favor among the teachers than have most of the students.

For instance, there is the little gray and black kitten that was being carried very affectionately by Mrs. Lou Davis down the front hall several days ago. This self-same kitten can be seen roaming the halls during class, when not a student can work such a feat. This little feline friend comes and goes to class just like the students, only he does not keep regular hours as they do.

Although he likes the halls, his main "haunts" seem to be the Little Harvester office and the cafeteria. Perhaps the cafeteria's attraction for it is food, but who knows why it comes to the Little Harvester office? Maybe it would like to have a write-up.

BILL BUCHANAN JOINS GUARD

Bill Buchanan joined the medical detachment of the State Guard at their meeting Tuesday.

Fashion Flashes

By MARTHA KELLEY

For the past week Bill Spear has been trying to convince us that his cute hat isn't just a plain sailor hat died green. Oh, well!! Speaking of Bill, he has a reddish pair of socks, too.

Beverly Candler's hair has looked so nice because a man hair stylist gave her a permanent Tuesday. Lucky girl!

The choir surely looked sharp in assembly Wednesday. That was the first time they had worn their green and gold robes this year.

Miss Jones has a wonderful pair of brown wedge heeled shoes, and she walks so quietly in them that no one knows when she is coming.

I'm sure it is the unanimous opinion of the students that Erma Lee Kennedy, Frances Jean Gilbert, Mildred Overstreet, Ginger Bassett and the models at the dance looked "chic."

C. L. Farmer has a navy blue suit with a white pin-stripe that fairly makes C. L. a definitely handsome boy.

Here is our school of fashion:
P—padded shoulders
A—ample amount of sweaters
M—millions of bows
P—patterns for the dressmaker
A—always neat as a pin

H—hair shining
I—"in the swing of things" (style)
G—gorgeous hands
H—heels according to dress

6th Victory Aim Of PHS Gridsters

In their third home game of the season—Oct. 26—the Harvesters will be facing the fast charging Brownfield Cubs. The Cubs, who wear solid red uniforms, have won four games and lost one. They were defeated by Amarillo Oct. 12, 42 to 6; although the score at the half was 12 to 6.

The mainspring of the Cubs' single wingback formation is Eicke, No. 15, a triple threat back. Eicke's punts averaged 40 yards in the Amarillo game. He also passes and is always dangerous on end runs. Norton is their plunger and shows much power up the middle of the line. Some of the Cub's outstanding linemen are Jake Rice and D. Price, tackles and Adams, guard. The Cubs use a 6-2-2-1 defense and have a heavy line. They have several regulars from last year.

The Harvesters are expected to be at full power after an open date. Billy Washington, scatback, is expected to be back in the lineup after being out with an injured knee.

Jazz and Dinner Music Featured by Orchestra

Playing everything from jazz for high school students to sweet dinner music for Pampa's businessmen is the job of Dick McCune and the members of his high school band.

The band played regularly for the non-commissioned officers club before it closed, and plays once a month at the Country Club dinner dance.

Dick and his boys played Thursday night at the fourth quarterly Chamber of Commerce banquet which was held in the cafeteria. Approximately 400 persons attended.

Former leaders of the band are Earl O'Brient and Gene Lively.

Members of the band are Dick McCune, trombone; Orlin Allen and Wesley Geiger, saxophone; Bob Keller at the drums; and Lowell Stark on the trumpet. Barbara Vaughn is the pianist.

Mrs. Stange Leaves PHS Math Department

Mrs. May Stange, who has taught math in PHS for the last two years, left the faculty Wednesday. Her husband, who has been stationed at PAAF, received his discharge, and the couple returned to Pittsburg, Kansas.

After staying in Kansas for several weeks, they will go to Colorado, where they plan to make their home.

Lt Robert S. Carter, former Pampa junior high teacher, will take over Mrs. Stange's math position the last week in October after he receives his discharge from the service. A substitute teacher will be here until Lt. Carter arrives.

English Department To Publish Magazine

Plans for publication of a literary magazine are being formed by the English department of PHS. It will be the first of its kind to be published here.

The best poems, essays, art and articles of all kinds will appear in it. Anyone wishing to contribute his or her talent can take his work to an English teacher for consideration by the department.

The plans are now rather indefinite, but the department hopes to have the magazine published by the latter part of this school year, Miss Anna Louise Jones has announced.

Fashion Show Proves Successful At Quill and Scroll Sponsored Dance

Mildred Overstreet was crowned fashion queen by Jimmie Terrell, president of the student body, Friday evening as a conclusion to the Quill and Scroll fashion show.

Ginger Bassett, Frances Jean Gilbert and Erma Lee Kennedy, the other nominees, served as her attendants.

The delirious sailor, Wimpy Vaughn presented Mildred with a bouquet of a dozen red and white roses as Jimmie Terrell crowned her.

The floor show began with Wimpy Vaughn, a dreamy sailor, riding in his USS Boat. Jimmie Terrell, master of ceremonies, interpreted Wimpy's dream followed by Libby Sturgeon singing "Dream."

Jimmie then presented the ten girls representing five dress shops in a fashion show. Wanda Gordon furnished subdued music for the styling.

Frances Jean Gilbert wore a black wool skirt with black sweater and red camel's hair coat, and Mildred Overstreet a tomato red and black evening dress; both girls' clothes were from Gilbert's Ladies Store.

Blonde Beverly Candler in a white net and taffeta evening dress and Ginger Bassett in a black alpaca date dress trimmed with turquoise and fuschia were from Behrman's.

Murfee's was portrayed by Ida Ruth Taylor in a date dress of purple with gold buttons and Bertha Mae Killion with a black velveteen party dress.

Red haired Georgiana Groggins featured a blue wool jersey with black beads from Bentley's. Also from Bentley's was Pat Miller in a red, green and black plaid skirt and flaming red sweater topped with a white camel's hair coat.

Erma Lee Kennedy in a green three piece suit and Martha Kelley with a creme-yellow dress spotted with silver nail heads represented Smartwear.

Immediately following the crowning of the queen a pick up dance started things rolling as the models and their partners then repeated this until everyone was dancing.

Committees consisted of refreshments, Mary Frances Jones; decorations, Bob Parkinson, Erma Lee Kennedy, Frank Stallings and the entire Quill and Scroll. Door attendants were Alberta Williams and Kathryn Rose. Script writer was Anna Merle Cox.

Sponsors for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Knox Kinard, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Savage. Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Steele, Mr. Glenn Allison, and Miss Claris Glick, Quill and Scroll sponsor.

Sgt. Flathers Sends Letter To PHS Students

Sgt. Jennings H. Flathers, a former Junior Hi teacher now stationed in England, keeps up with news of Pampa through writing his English students. Several of his letters have recently been read in a senior English class.

During his time in England, Mr. Flathers has seen and visited many interesting places. In a recent letter to a student, he tells of seeing seven plays, among them some of Shakespeare's.

Senior English students liked his description of his visit to Westminister Abbey.

Mr. Flathers writes: "I did a lot of interesting things while on my leave. Among them was to attend Sunday morning services in Westminister Abbey. I found everything quite impressive in spite of the ceremony that lasted for some time. After considering the number of dead people in Westminister, one might wonder how there would be room for a congregation, but the abbey is huge.

"Parliament, which is just across the street, is a beautiful building that dates back almost a thousand years. Westminister Hall is the oldest portion and was built in 1097 by the Norman kings. The building covers eight and one-half acres and houses a great many parts of the British Government. I was fortunate to get to go through the building, Supreme Court and even sat in Churchill's seat in Commons. The court was in session, and I found it interesting to see the wigged and robed members."

Mr. Flathers also visited Windsor Castle, Eton College and other places of interest.

Matheny Tri-Hi-Y President for 1945-'46

Ramona Matheny was elected president of the Tri-Hi-Y for the 1945-'46 school year when the members held their first meeting of the year in the high school cafeteria Thursday.

Other officers elected were Joyce Pratt, vice president, and Erma Lee Kennedy, secretary.

The next meeting will be held tomorrow at 8 p. m. at the high school.

Members of the Tri-Hi-Y are: Ramona Matheny, Erma Lee Kennedy, Patsy Miller, Joyce Pratt, Libby Sturgeon, Beverly Candler Elva Jean Anderson, Anita Lane Jean Pratt, Drucilla Boyd, Jeannine Conyers, Patsy Pierson and Lucille Smith.

Sponsor Chosen For National Honor Society

Miss Anna Louise Jones, head of the English department, will be sponsor for the National Honor Society this year, F. W. Savage announced last week.

Members of the society now in school are: Kathryn Rose, Beverly Candler, John Lee Walls, Doris Shackleford, Bernie Brown, Quebell Nelson, Elva Jean Anderson and Elsie Ruth Graham.

No meeting plans have yet been made.

Keep Up With the World

Are you keeping up with world events? Do you know what is happening in other parts of the world today?

Most average high school students would answer these questions with a flat 'no.' When the war ended, the screaming headlines and special newscasts ceased to blare out the important news in papers and over the radio, and now entertainment programs can continue uninterrupted.

It is left up to the student himself to decide whether he keeps up with the news or not. After World War I the same thing happened. The lack of sensational news made the people forget the papers, and they lost contact with the winning of the peace. The people didn't know how important the winning of the peace was; so in the long run we lost it.

Every student in Pampa High should try to be interested in the news, so that whatever happens in the present can be sure to mean something in the future. Read the newspapers and listen to the radio every day and see what is going on all around you.

—F.. S.

Cafeteria Is Not So Bad

Although derision is an old American custom, if you feel the urge to deride the cafeteria service, stop and think of those thousands of gaunt, starved, disease-ridden Americans who are the victims of the Nipponese and Nazi atrocities. How many of these people who have been devoid of necessities—much less the luxuries which you and I think of as commonplace—would hesitate to exchange places in the cafeteria line with us?

Everyone understands that the cafeteria has a number of inconviences, but few realize how fortunate they are as compared with their fellow Americans.

Lycurgus Brown Clauder, better known to most of us as Curg, was born in Mercedes July 27, 1927. Curg has attended Hopkins and Pampa schools. Math and science are his majors while his ambition is to become a petroleum engineer "if he ever finishes physics." Curg states that he is shy of pretty girls and strict teachers. His hobbies include dancing and football games.

Charlotte Jeo Carnes lists doing commercial work as her ambition and plans to attend college at B.T.S. in Sevierville, Tenn. Charlotte has attended schools in Dodd City, Trinity, Amarillo and Pampa. She is majoring in math and English. Charlotte's hobbies are swimming and sewing.

Oscar Randall (Randy) Clay, born in Shamrock May 30, 1928, has attended school in Pampa and Shamrock. Randall chooses to attend either the University of Texas or Oklahoma A & M. He is majoring in math, English, science, history and band. To be a mechanical engineer is Randall's ambition. His activities are along the athletic and musical lines. He has played football, basketball and entered track each year since he entered high school, and has always been in the Harvester band. Randall's honors seem to outnumber those of most students. They follow: All-district honorable mention in football and basketball in '43; all-district second team in '44; first team all-district in basketball '44; fifth place at state meet in '43; state champion in discus throwing in '44; and honorable mention on all-state football team in '44. Randall's hobbies consist of playing football, basketball, track and dating girls.

Cleo "Junior" Coffey, 185 pounds, has blue eyes. He has attended Hopkins, Lefors and Pampa schools. Junior wants to be a doctor and plans to receive his education at Baylor university. Cleo lists singing and blondes as his hobbies. Junior was in the run-off for pin-up boy in 1943-44.

Sagebrush-- by the Sage

According to information gathered from Wimpy Vaughn, he can't make up his mind between any of the PHS girls. I know many of them would like to help him decide but Wimpy says a brunette in Tulsa heads the list. Girls?

Johnny Campbell and Wanda Jay, '45 graduates, were seen in the halls this week. Welcome back, kids.

Sage would like to have some information regarding with whom Bill Hutchinson is going steady. This must be a rumor, since we've seen him around with a lot of different girls lately.

Seems a petition is being passed around by a prominent teacher, trying to get Jimmy Terrell to do away with his beard. Sage for one would like to see this occur.

Patti Sue Horton and Max Hukill have been seen together lately. Pat says Max gave her quite a rush over the weekend.

Gene Howell seems to have somewhat of a crush on Wilma Tubbs from the looks of her desk fifth period.

Wonder why Richard Schieg has not been captured? Sage thinks he's awfully cute and would like to see him going steady. Sage isn't the only one, by the way.

Margie Lawrence has proclaimed November 2 as D-Day. Reason—Dee Griffin is going to call her.

Who is that cute junior Carol Keyes has her eyes on? Could it be Gene Cummins?

Anita Lane and Warren Jones are falling for each other again.

Are Nicki Fraser and Rusty Neef going steady? Any information on this subject would be welcome.

It seems some people are spreading false rumors. Patsy Pierson got it straight from a friend that the Gorillas were playing Borger instead of Lefors. She surely was disappointed.

Bobby Boyles and Ida Ruth Taylor just couldn't seem to stay apart in study hall last week. Mrs. Davis finally put them in opposite corners.

Off the "foot loose and fancy free" list goes Bernie Brown. He has been squiring Beverly Candler to and from classes lately.

Who are Jack Dunham and Randall Clay going with now? Sage has heard some girls saying, "It just is not fair for those two males to be unattached for such a long time."

Sage was glad to welcome Ensign "Chief" Carlisle and Captain Wayne Fade back to the halls of PHS. Both boys are just back from overseas and are former PHS students.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—(AP)—The stock market attracted selective support today after an early extension of Friday's late retreat.

Losses of a point or more were widely distributed in the first hour. A number of steels, rails and specialties converted declines into modest plus marks. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

Investment demand still was an important prop for issues with good earnings and dividend prospects. Optimism over tax cuts voted by the senate committee inspired some purchasing. The improved strike situation and inflation psychology persisted as market aids.

Industrial rayon common was a favorite, starting on a 2,300-share block, up two points. Ahead at one time or another were International Telephone, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Southern Pacific, N. Y. Central, Woolworth, U. S. Rubber, American Telephone, International Harvester, J. I. Case, North American and Standard Oil (NJ).

Occasional stumblers included Great Northern, Northern Pacific, General Motors, Boeing, Union Carbide, American Can, Anaconda, Air Reduction and Montgomery Ward.

Bonds and commodities were uneven.

Shamrock School Will Have Annual

SHAMROCK, Oct. 20—The senior class of Shamrock High school will sponsor the publishing of a year book this year for the first time since 1931, Supt. Elmer J. Moore announced this week.

The book will be adequate for individual pictures of all high school students, teachers, honor students and possibly of major sports. In addition to these, there will be group pictures of all other classes and organizations in the school.

The annual will be financed without the sale of any advertising whatsoever, the superintendent stated. On the contrary, funds will be raised through a Hallowe'en carnival, plays and other programs. It is hoped that patrons will patronize all of these entertainments and that many out-of-school people will purchase an annual, price of which will be $2 or less. If enough books are needed, the selling price may be reduced from the $2 maximum.

Superintendent Moore stated that work on the annual is starting now. A committee is making a survey to determine how many books should be published. A Hallowe'en carnival, with the greater part of the proceeds going to the year book fund and the athletic fund which showed a deficit of $1,100 at the close of school last year.

All clubs, classes and other organizations that will have concessions will receive all the profits therefrom, but money raised through the general admission charge and that from the Queens race and booths sponsored by the seniors and the Shamrock Lettermen club will go to those organizations.

The Queen candidates will be elected in the near future and the carnival queen will be elected as in the past by a penney for each vote. Everyone in town will be eligible to vote and will probably be solicited by one or more candidates or their managers.

Grand Canyon Mules Leading Dog's Life

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., Oct. 20—(AP)—The mules at Grand Canyon are leading a dog's life these days.

At this time of the year normally the mules that carry visitors down the steep and narrow trails into the canyon get their annual rest.

But this year with the tremendous post-war influx to the canyon the mules are working every day and there are long waiting lists of tourists who want to make the mile-deep trip to the Colorado river.

This situation has become so acute that John Bradley, trail foreman on the south rim, has left for Wichita, Kan., to purchase two carloads of mules.

Pampa Girl Scout Troops To Observe National Week With Special Activity

Pampa Girl Scouts will begin this week a round of activity that will extend through November 3, it was announced yesterday by the local Girl Scout commissioner, Mrs. K. E. Thornton.

Girl Scout Week Oct. 28—Nov. 3

Scouts throughout the nation, numbering more than a million, will formally take note of the organization and its activities during the week Oct. 28-Nov. 3. Local scouts will join in that observance.

The highlight of activity here will be a banquet at the Senior high school cafeteria. Mrs. Gretchen Kidd, national Girl Scout staff member, will be the principal speaker. She will discuss scouting in all its phases. Tickets for the event, which is open to all those who have an interest in scouting movements, may be obtained from Girl Scouts. Mrs. Albert Reynolds is in charge of sales. The troop selling the most tickets will be awarded a prize.

On Thursday morning, Mrs. Kidd will conduct a council training course for all board members at the Scout room at the City hall.

Another highlight of local activity will be the Court of Awards, which will be conducted on November 2.

"Girl Scouting — Citizenship in Action Around the World" has been adopted nationally as a theme. As an adjunct to the program for active citizenship which has been adopted, all Pampa Girl Scouts have been urged to attend the church of their choice next Sunday.

The scouting program, international in its scope, aims at world friendship and peace, development of the awareness of the responsibilities of citizenship in a democratic society.

This will be the first observance of Girl Scout week since the war with Japan began.
