

A SPRING LOOK IN SALT FORK SCD

This is a familiar scene in Salt Fork Soil Conservation District this spring—and a primary reason why co-operators have won for it recognition as one of the outstanding districts of the state. Saturday night, Salt Fork SCD will receive the award as the outstanding district of Region 1 in the Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program. This terracing scene was on the farm of E. W. Clement 9 miles west of Wellington. Red Bluff, an early day land mark, is in the background.

Outstanding Farmers Get Awards in Save the Soil Banquet Saturday

Wellington will be host to the 14th annual Region 1 Fort Worth Press Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards banquet Saturday, May 16, at 7 p.m. to honor winners in that program—one that is unusual in the United States in giving recognition to leaders in soil conservation.

Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, through its boards of supervisors, is the host. Walter Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press, who originated and carried out the "Save the Soil and Save Texas" Awards Program, will be here to conduct the presentation of awards, as will Marvin Garrett, who directs the program for the Fort Worth Press. Approximately 350 men and women will attend from the 51 Panhandle and West Texas counties making up Region 1. The banquet and awards program will be in the community building.

Presentation of the awards will make up the program, which follows immediately after the dinner, Zook Thomas, chairman of the planning committee, said. "Some of the major regional awards will come to Salt Fork Soil Conservation District," Thomas said.

The district itself was the regional winner as the outstanding district—for the third time. On behalf of the district, W. O. Vaughan, chairman of the board of supervisors will receive the $30 cash award.

J. F. McIntush of Quail won the Come-back farmer award, which goes to the farmer who does the best job of rebuilding a worn-out farm. McIntush is a dairy farmer who was forced into beef cattle production when the milk route which served the west part of the county was discontinued. He will receive $100.

David Baumgardner will be one of 14 men to receive plaques presented by the Lions Club as the outstanding district farmer.

State winners from Salt Fork SCD will be recognized.

These will be the six Coleman brothers, named the outstanding group in the state-wide Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards program. The group composed of Al, Coleman, Frank Coleman, Wood Coleman, John Coleman, Dee Coleman and Jesse Coleman, receive their $500 award at the state awards program dinner in Fort Worth May 2.

Presentation of one state award is due to be made here, the savings bond and plaque to J. C. Hartman Jr., as second place winner in the state-wide GI Farmer of the Year contest, also a part of the Save the Soil program in co-operation with the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

These are the other winners who will receive their awards here Saturday:

Outstanding farmer: James D. Mabry, Route 1, Friona, from the Farmer County Soil Conservation District, $100.

Outstanding service by Business professional man, Edd C. McLeroy, Dimmitt, from the Running Water Soil Conservation District. He will receive a plaque given by the Fort Worth Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

The one woman to be honored is Mrs. Clarence Davis of Quanah, Regional Homemaker of the Year. She will receive a silver tray given by the Knights of the Round Table of Texas. Mrs. Davis is from the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District.

Fourteen men will receive Lions Club Awards as the outstanding farmers of their districts. The plaques are awarded usually by the Lions Club nearest the winner, and that which Baumgardner will receive comes from the Samnorwood Lions Club.

Others receiving Lions Club Awards will be Don Anderson of Crosbyton, Crosby County SCD; R. L. Faith, Route 1, Idalou, Lubbock County SCD; Horace Hutson, West Star Route, Baileyboro, Blackwater Valley SCD; Carl

Pastor Reports Much Work Under Way Through Cuba

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles written by the Rev. Russell Pogue for The Wellington Leader about his two weeks trip to Cuba. He returned to Wellington Friday, May 8.)

What is visible in Cuba economically at the present would bring many memories of the depression days of the United States. The effort of the government of Fidel Castro resembles much of the efforts of the U.S. in 1933-1936.

Bautista, according to their record, is the biggest thief ever known. Of tax money gathered, very little was used by the government for the good of the people. Most of the money spent by the Bautista regime was spent to build show places: the 27 story monument to the memory of Jose Sarti, a tunnel under the Havana Bay, a super 4-lane highway around Havana.

Outside Havana no money was spent. It has spent in Havana to impress the "American tourist" that much was being accomplish-

With Time Warrants

Commissioners Approve New Jail in Monday Meeting

The commissioners court passed a resolution Monday, May 11, proposing the issuance of $60,000 in time warrants to build and equip a new county jail. These warrants would bear 4 per cent interest and the maturity date would not exceed 20 years.

This was only one action in the day long session in which the commissioners did not complete their work but set Thursday, May 14, to finish the meeting.

The four commissioners were unanimous in their vote for the resolution and they requested Judge C. C. Bishop to vote on the measure also. He cast a vote in favor of the time warrant issue.

The court proposes to use plans and specifications paid for several years ago when a proposed bond issue failed. These were drawn by Centrall-Burns-Whitaker and Associates of Lubbock.

Further action on the jail is due when the court gets together Thursday.

The court organized as a board of equalization and members took their oaths, but no work was done on tax equalization.

Four claims were turned down as the commissioners considered the bills presented.

A claim for $600 was rejected which Louise Fulcher, tax assessor-collector, had submitted as expense incurred in assessing taxes, and another claim for $56.25 she submitted as expense of a trip to the State Tax Assessors-Collectors convention in Mineral Wells.

The court also rejected a telephone bill of $19.37 submitted by Sheriff John Rainey, for his home telephone. The court paid the telephone bill as long as the sheriff lived in the jail, abandoned a short time ago because of its dangerous condition. However, the court voted to authorize Rainey to put in his home an extension from and named the jobs. With the pastor's help, I was able to identify more than 20 of these items that I had seen under construction. All work is by hand, shovels, wheel barrows, picks and axes. The people are being employed.

Since the people feel that there is hope they seem not to mind the privations. Only one-third of the school age children can go to public schools, because there are not enough teachers or school buildings. Private schools are numerous and quite expensive, but the people use them because of their desire for their children's education. All young people are anxious to learn English. Better jobs are available to proficient English speaking Cubans.

The May Day celebration on May 1 was the largest ever, with the longest parade in the History of Cuba. It marched past one point in 14 hours.

Cubans are anxious to know the American way of life and progress. They are anxious to get a

Trash Pick-up Set for Three Days in Drive

Wellington residents are reminded that this is Clean-up Week and that all premises should be cleaned and cleared of weeds, trash and fire hazards. The drive will continue through this week and into Next Week until the work is completed.

It is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, with Mrs. A. J. Fires as chairman.

The city has put its garbage collection equipment into the drive and pick-ups will be made Thursday, Friday and Monday of all trash that is piled in the alleys for them.

"Residents are urged to lend all possible co-operation by having their trash ready and in boxes or sacks if possible so that it can be handled easily," Mrs. Fires urged.

Dr. C. E. High Dies in Pampa of Heart Attack

Dr. Clifton E. High, who practiced medicine in Wellington 12 years before moving to Pampa about 1936, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home, 721 North Summerville, about 2 a.m. Sunday, May 10. Dr. High had been going about his usual work Saturday.

He was a brother-in-law of J. B. Castleberry and uncle of Bobo Castleberry, and a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Ellis of Rhome, who formerly lived here.

Funeral services were conducted at 10 a.m. Monday at First Methodist Church, Pampa, by the pastor, the Rev. Woodrow Adcock. His body was taken to Rome, where services were held Tuesday in the First Baptist Church and burial was in Aurora Cemetery in Rome.

Dr. High was born February 24, in Dallas. He attended the University of Texas and was graduated from Baylor University Medical College.

Before he received his degree, however, he came to Wellington and worked as pharmacist for the late Joe Hardy. After completing his studies, he returned here to begin the practice of medicine.

He was married in 1925 to Miss Ann Bobo a teacher in the Wellington schools, whose home was at Rome.

Dr. High, an eye-ear, nose and throat specialist in Pampa, did general practice here.

He was a veteran of World War I, serving in the Army at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C. and Fitzsimmons Hospital in Denver.

Learning what was new to him was a part of Dr. High's nature, and in addition to his being a doctor, he was also a farmer and rancher. He was an airplane pilot and a musician, having continued the study of organ in Pampa. He was an enthusiastic gardener and spent part of Saturday working in his garden. He recently had completed the study of accounting and received his diploma.

Dr. and Mrs. High were building a home in Rome, to which they planned to move and he would curtail the practice of medicine.

Surviving Dr. High are his wife and one son, John High of Moses Lake, Washington; a grandson of

Rotary Hears Altus AFB Man

T-Sgt. Eugene Duncan of Altus Air Force Base was guest speaker for the Wellington Rotary Club Tuesday, May 12, telling members of the Armed Forces Day program planned for Saturday, May 16.

Sgt. Duncan invited Rotarians and other Wellington citizens to visit the base on that day "to see what your tax money is going for."

He spoke briefly on the Strategic Air Command (Altus is a SAC base) and its importance in the world situation against aggressors, in case of international conflict.

Altus AFB has military personnel totaling approximately 4,000, and total personnel of around 5,000. The base brings to Altus annually more than $11,000,000, Sgt. Duncan said.

Only jet planes are based there, B-52 heavy bombers and KC 135 tankers, and altogether, there is more than $358,000,000 worth of aircraft on the base.

Accompanying Sgt. Duncan here was S-Sgt. Thomas Annandale.

Addition to Norwood Gym Gets Under Way

A 40x80 foot addition to Samnorwood gymnasium is under construction with most of the work due to be completed by the end of the month, Supt. Orville Cunningham announced. Cost of the section will be approximately $10,000.

The addition is at the front of the gym and will provide boys and girls dressing rooms with a 35x48 foot foyer, which will hold overflow crowds in the gym, house concessions, and serve for any community activity whose need it fits, Cunningham explained.

It will be used also as a visual education room for the school.

Construction is of haydite blocks on a concrete floor, with a sheet iron roof. The exterior will be painted to harmonize with the rock construction of the older building.

Horton and Harwell had the contract for the floor and foundation and Earl Tompkins for the masonry work. Bids are being accepted on the roof contract, Cunningham said.

He added that it is hoped the building can be finished except for interior decoration in time for the commencement May 28.

The building being financed out of local funds of the district.

Second in State

Hartman in State Conservation Award

J. C. Hartman Jr., who farms three and one half miles west of Wellington, has been selected second place winner in the GI Soil Conservation Award program for 1958-59, a state-wide contest sponsored by the Department of Texas Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Notice of the award came from A. M. Armstrong, department adjutant, to Louis Berg, commander of Glyn Moore Post No. 6439.

Hartman will receive a United States Savings bond in the amount of $50 and a plaque. If these arrive in time, they will be presented to the young farmer at the Save the Soil Texas Awards banquet in Wellington Saturday night, May 16.

"It seems wholly proper to say also that your post is the outstanding post in Texas in the participation in this particular program and you have enjoyed winners for three or more years to this writer's memory. Certainly it is an activity in which you can be justly proud of having been one of the leaders," Armstrong wrote Berg.

First Collingsworth man to win the award was Wood Coleman of Dozier, who placed first. Others winners have been Herbert Bearden, Wellington, and Walter Camp, Dodson, both of whom placed second.

Recognition Comes to Outstanding Farmers in Wellington Saturday

A group of distinguished farmers will be in Wellington Saturday evening to take part in the Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards Program and Banquet.

They are distinguished because they have done the everyday job of farming in a remarkable manner. These men, along with one homemaker and several teen-agers, are highly individualistic, but they have one thing in common—a strong belief in soil conservation and the practice of this belief.

The recognition that comes to them is deserved. They participate in an unusual program, "Save the Soil and Save Texas," an awards program begun by newspapermen in the blacklands of Texas some 15 years ago.

Walter Humphrey, who put the program in operation, will be in Wellington for the meeting Saturday.

Now editor of The Fort Worth Press, he first had the idea for the awards program while he was editor of The Temple Telegram. It was successful on a local scale.

When Humphrey became editor of the Scripps-Howard newspaper in Fort Worth, he took the program with him and it went under the sponsorship of the Scripps-Howard newspapers in Texas, along with 25 industries and organizations, in cooperation with the soil conservation districts of the state. Those having representatives in Wellington are Lone Star Gas Co., Traders Oil Mill, Inc., the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railway, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

But it was the far-looking mind of Walter Humphrey who saw that Texas, with all its industrial wealth, must save the soil if it was to save itself.

Those who receive awards here Saturday night are of like mind. These awards will range from $300 received by the district itself as winner for the 51-county Region One, down to trophies to the boys and girls who wrote the best essays on this year's subject, "Conservation and Citizenship."

What this has meant was summed up by Mr. Humphrey: "Thousands of worn-out Texas acres have been restored to fertility since The Fort Worth Press began its conservation awards program. Credit goes to the farmers and ranchers, soil conservation districts, the Soil Conservation Service and many others. As a result, our nation is stronger, more productive."

Good Advice from the Secretary of the Treasury

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson laid some facts of life on the line recently.

It would be immoral, he said at the annual meeting of the Associated Press, to postpone paying off part of the national debt in prosperous times. Failure to reduce the debt in good years means passing the burden on to future generations, which we have no moral right to do, he added.

Anderson is entirely correct. He is right, too, when he says that debt repayment is one of the steps that must be taken to head off further inflation.

Now let the administration as well as Congress follow the treasury secretary's advice. This is one of those good years. Despite an unemployment level that is still high—out dropping—business is good. It looks as if government revenues will be as high as the President forecast. The time to start reducing the debt is now—not the next good year that comes along.

Too Much Cotton?

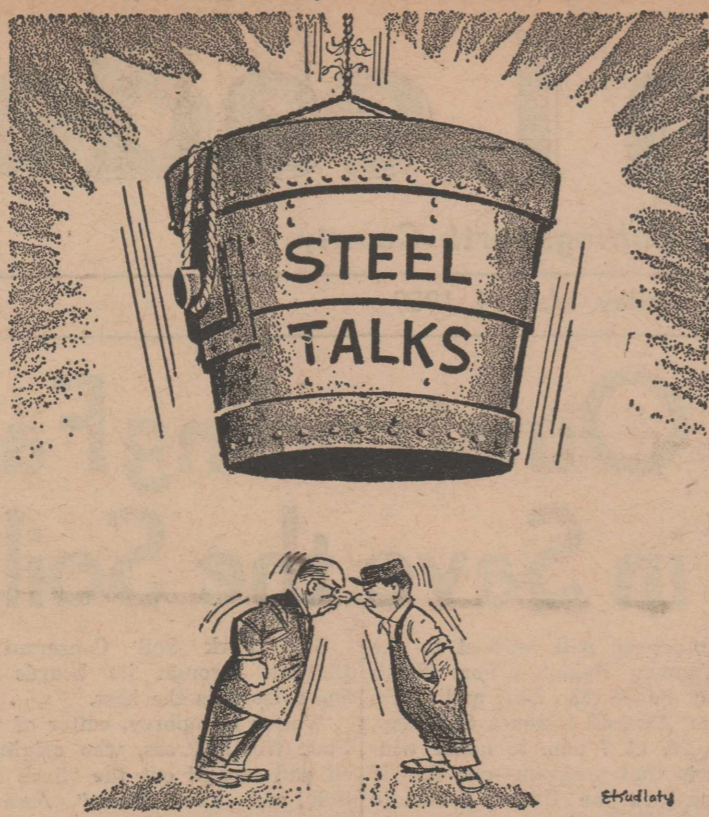

The present glut of farm surpluses may be changed to acute shortages before the nation knows it, warns Rhea Blake, vice president of the National Cotton Council. That is why he and others at the 20th Annual American Cotton Congress at Waco call for no letup in agricultural research pointed toward more intensive crop production.

ASTOUNDING yearly increases in human population are the reason for the prophecy. The number of mouths to be fed and backs to be clothed is mounting at a staggering rate. That is true not only in our country but throughout the world as well.

This fits in with the recent estimate of a noted world authority who happens to live in Dallas. He named 1965 as the date when United States and world consumption of cotton and other crops would exceed present production.

CROSSROADS

REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where ambassadoring hobbyist Mrs. Clare B. Luce claims that Senator Wayne Morse was once kicked in the head by a horse.

My parade-horseman neighbor says it's not fair to blame just any problem that comes up on some defenseless horse, and he feels like Mrs. Luce has got this case figured wrong.

Says it don't stand to reason that Washington big-headitis is caused by injury of this nature, as it surely would have got in the papers if our horse population had been doing that much head-kicking.

I see where Texas legislators heard there was a nudist camp in the state and they have been thinking about passing a law on the subject.

My tax-stripped neighbor says it might be they couldn't agree on what new rule this calls for because everybody wanted on the committee to go and investigate.

Says the boys had better be careful about legislating in the raw hide field, else they will be up against a mighty tough lobby — bathing beauties, baton twirlers, strip teasers, shorts wearers, and other members of semi-nudist cults.

I see where steel company and steelworker union ramrods are getting together to figure out how much more bite to put on us customers, and how to split same.

My worst-expecting neighbor says everywhere he looks these days there is another bunch of congressmen, or bureaucrats or business-labor cahoots making plans to spend some more of his money their way.

And says when he comes home from a hard day on the coffee circuit, likely as not he finds his wife doing the same thing over the ladies' harness section of the mail order catalog.

I see where the Russians have got the installment virus and Red citizens are starting to use up now what they hope to take in over the next two or three years, just like Americans.

My $1-down neighbor says it looks like some sneaky American saboteur has finally got in a good low blow for democracy.

Says now if we can just stall off war with the Reds a couple of years, by then they ought to be so busy making payments they won't have time to start a flight.

I see where there is spotted symptoms of a down trend in the spending fever among some of our less flipped Washingtoners.

My ex-wastrel neighbor says maybe this apparent character shift is due to the trouble being had with moneyed people who don't much want to buy any more of Uncle Santa's IOUs.

Says he recalls it took only a little while for a coalition of no-bankers and credit men to cure up a very bad case of spenditis he once had.

Queen Isabella, Columbus' sponsor, always insisted her name be beside her husband's on public proclamations.

BOBBY McALLISTER, Manager

A Further Follow-up Letter to the Honorable Commissioners' Court

In view of the past it is hardly a fair criticism to say that our April 27th letter only talked in general terms of Tax Reduction without specific details on how to carry it out. If so, we remedy that here. The 1959 Budget has been amended and re-amended so many times it is a bit difficult to arrive at exact figures, but after much investigation the following figures are believed to be correct:

1959 SPENDING PROPOSALS	Commissioners' Court Budget Spending Proposal for 1959	The Goal of Taxpayers Group Spending Proposal for 1959
Pay on Old Lease Purchase Debts	$ 2,500.00	$ 2,500.00
To Service Road District No. 1 Debt	.00	5,080.00
Roads	106,771.50	93,500.00
Commissioners' Salaries and Mileage	11,904.00	4,000.00
Salaries of Other Officials	46,206.00	40,000.00
(This item was $36,806.14 in 1958)
Other General Fund Expense	28,000.00	28,000.00
Sinking Fund	26,956.00	26,956.00
Court House and Jail Operation	9,710.00	9,710.00
(This item was $8,053.23 in 1958)
Jury Fund	4,415.00	4,415.00
TOTAL SPENDING PROPOSAL BY COMMISSIONERS	$236,462.50
TOTAL SPENDING GOAL OF TAXPAYERS GROUP		$214,161.00
THIS MEANS A SAVING
To the Collingsworth County Taxpayers of		$ 22,301.50
To the Road District No. 1 Taxpayers of		5,080.00
To County Taxpayers on the amount sent to Austin (even assuming a valuation as high as $8,000,000 rather than $7,000,000 we might hope for)		9,450.00
TOTAL BENEFITS IF THE TAXPAYERS GROUP GOAL IS REACHED		$ 36,831.50

For the year 1959 there is still time for the Honorable Court, sitting as a Board of Equalization, to set different Valuations, and as a Commissioners' Court in charge of spending to re-examine expenses for the remaining months of 1959 and save the Collingsworth County Taxpayers from the awful fate that otherwise awaits them. Lest someone think that lower taxes means more debt, rather than true economy, we call attention to the County's Debt Status for 1956, 1957, 1958 and for 1959 under both the Commissioners' Budget Proposal and under the Taxpayers' Group Proposal.

	For Lease Purchase Machinery	Other Debts	Total Year-end Debts
Total Debts Outstanding Dec. 31, 1956	$27,900.00	$267,800.00	$295,700.00
Total Debts Outstanding Dec. 31, 1957	14,300.00	200,850.00	215,150.00
Total Debts Outstanding Dec. 31, 1958	5,000.00	166,000.00	171,000.00
Under the Commissioners' Budget Proposal the Total Debts outstanding Dec. 31, 1959	2,500.00	149,000.00	151,500.00
Under the Taxpayers' Group Suggestions the Total Debts Outstanding Dec. 31, 1959	2,500.00	149,000.00	151,500.00

It can readily be seen that under the Taxpayers' Group Proposal the same reduction in debt would be made as under the Commissioners' Budget. The ONLY difference, if one wants to put it that way, is that the taxpayers would be $36,831.00 better off as detailed above.

Actually, honestly, morally, financially, and from every other yardstick, WE FEEL THAT THE TAXPAYERS ARE ENTITLED TO THE RELIEF ASKED FOR—certainly to a large portion of it.

Again,
Respectfully Submitted,

Water Heating Contest Draws Local Interest

TULSA, OKLAHOMA — In a unique "showdown test" supervised by famous U.S. Testing Laboratories here, two water heaters—one gas, and one electric—are about to run 24 hours a day delivering 160-degree hot water for one full month, to see which of the two heaters will deliver the most hot water.

When the final result of the test is certified by U.S. Testing Laboratories, it will cause some rejoicing to a family in Wellington, because it will mean they've won $50 in groceries, because of an unusual contest run by Holton Gulf Station local distributors of Gulfthane.

As far as is known, the two major kinds of home water heaters have never been operated side by side in an impartially-conducted test of this type to see just exactly what each can do. During this month, local people are invited by Howard Holton to look over the facts about the test, figure out which of the two will deliver the most hot water, and estimate that the LP-gas water heater will beat the electric by so many gallons.

"The Gulfthane-fueled water heater will beat the electric by a good country mile," says Mr. Holton "the only question is how many gallons the gas water heater will deliver than the electric—and that's where the contest comes in. You just read the ad in this paper—or—better yet come in and pick up an entry blank that gives you all the information you need. Write down one figure, and there you are. Nothing to buy, and nothing to write. Somebody within a few miles of here is going to win, and it could be anybody."

In most kinds of contests, some human judges pick the winners. In this case, the winner will be picked not by a human being but by two water heaters!

SEE YOUR QUALITY BUICK DEALER... AND Get inside the clean winged beauty of Buick '59

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Watch Dale Robertson in Tales of Wells Fargo on NBC-TV Monday Nights

Along with the most talked about style on the road today goes performance new even to owners of previous Buicks . . . and too great for you to miss.

Buick '59 is livelier yet smoother, more powerful yet thrifter, as any previous Buick owner will tell you. And credit goes to the turbine smoothness of Buick transmissions, plus the new responsiveness of Buick "Wildcat" engines.

At the wheel, too, you'll find new handling ease and finned-brake sureness that owners put high on their "most liked" list.

But that's far from all these owners tell us. They talk about new operating economy from the most efficient power plant on the road today. About quality of finish and detail, and of quietness that even beats the best of Buick heretofore. They speak of reliability . . . and they speak of the pure pleasure of owning a Buick '59 . . . in ways that warm the heart.

DISCOVER FOR YOURSELF WHY 190,000 FAMILIES HAVE ALREADY MADE THE MAGNIFICENT CHANGE TO BUICK '59

But the best spokesman for Buick '59—and what it can do for you—is a Buick itself. Why not go to your Buick dealer and get the inside story, today?

We Congratulate

each winner in the
"SAVE THE SOIL AND SAVE TEXAS"

Awards Program

and especially our own
SALT FORK S.C.D. and INDIVIDUAL WINNERS

We are proud of each winner in the 1958 Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards Program, and we bid you and your friends welcome at the annual awards banquet Saturday night. We extend congratulations, too, to Salt Fork Soil Conservation District and the individual winners of the district who will be among those honored.

You and conservation farmers like you are vital to the continuation of our farming economy.

We believe cotton is the most vital part of the farm economy of many of the conservation districts represented here Saturday, and that conservation is the most vital part of cotton farming.

This gin is ready to go all the way with the cotton farmer. Ginning is only the end of the year's work, for you and us. We urge you to begin by working with your conservation district on a sound conservation program. Then let us help you with the fertilizer you need and later with the insecticides that are now a standard part of farming. It is only after this has been done that we will gin your crop and help you market it to the best advantage.

Is County Top in Hog Breeds?

Does any county have more breeds of registered hogs than Collingsworth?

Nine can be counted. And for a county that only a few years ago had practically sold itself out of hogs, that is something of a record, believed Jim Jacobs, vocational ag teacher at Samnorwood.

Jacobs, one of those who have taken the lead in rebuilding the hog business in Collingsworth, says if any county can beat this, he'd like to hear about it.

Registered hog breeds now to be found here are Berkshire, Chester White, Duroc, Hampshire, Poland China, Yorkshire, Minnesota No. 1, Landrace and spotted Poland China.

"Most of these registered hogs have come into the county from the leading breeders in Oklahoma, Missouri, Illinois and Iowa," Jacobs pointed out, "and most of them have been champions or reserve champions in major shows, or they are bred from championship stock."

CARD OF THANKS

We are grateful to our many friends who were so kind and thoughtful of us in our grief from the loss of our precious Pollyanna. We especially thank the ladies who brought and served the food, for the many beautiful cards of sympathy, the lovely flowers, which all in their way showed your love for Pollyanna. Your concern for her family has helped us so much, and we know that in your hour of sadness your friends will stand by you and that God in his heaven, where our Pollyanna now is, will comfort you. May his richest blessing be with each of you.

Social Security Book Available for Farmers

Farmers, accountants and income tax people interested in farm social security information, now have a factual booklet available to them, Hal S. Geldon, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, stated today Geldon explained that a large number of questions concerning farm income and payment of both self-employment and social security on farm employees are received each day in his office.

Some of the farmers are failing to file social security reports on employees who worked in 1958 and who were paid at least $150.00 or who worked on 20 different days during the year. These reports are not optional, and failure to file them can result in severe penalties.

The booklet described is entitled "Farm People and Social Security" and can be obtained by letter, card or telephone call to the Amarillo, Texas, Social Security Office located in room 324, New Post Office Building, Amarillo, Texas. The request should specify booklet number 25f, Geldon states.

Welcome to Wellington

We are pleased to welcome the Winners in The Fort Worth Press's Save the Soil and Save Texas to the District Meeting in Wellington May 16.

We extend our sincere congratulations to all the winners.

Your Soil Is Money

We are proud of the outstanding work that has been done through the years by the cooperators of our own Salt Fork Soil Conservation District.

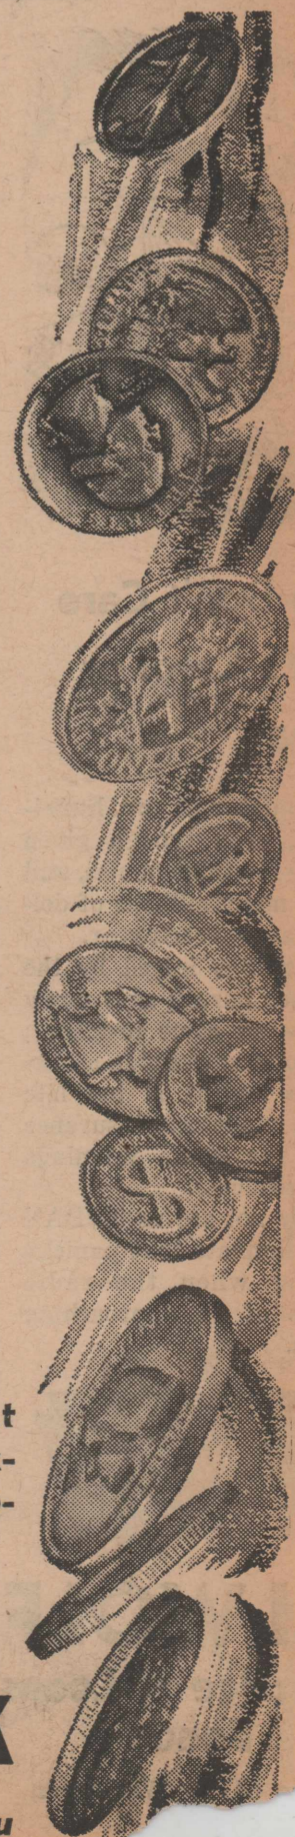

This Bank is vitally concerned with both soil and money. Without fertile, productive soil neither we nor any individual customer could prosper and grow financially.

This alone is reason enough for us to be, in fact and in spirit, an agricultural Bank and as such we extend you a cordial invitation to visit us with your problems as they pertain to farm financing.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Wellington will be host this Saturday to the winners in The Fort Worth Press' "Save the soil and save Texas" contest. The benefits this program has brought to the people and the land in Texas cannot be measured accurately, but they are great. The contests have provided an added incentive to the co-operators in the various soil conservation districts as they strove for better methods of preventing soil erosion and building up the fertility of their land. The program of The Press has highlighted the work of the most successful farmers and ranchers, both men and women, and this has been an inspiration to others to try to improve their own land and homes.

Here to present the awards will be Walter R. Humphrey editor of The Fort Worth Press who has had a distinguished career as a newspaperman, civic leader and public spirited citizen. Starting on The Temple Telegram in the early twenties, he rose to become the editor of that paper where he won state and national recognition for his work, and even in those years he was keenly interested in the problem of soil depletion, flood control and erosion. About twenty years ago he became editor of The Press and soon after he started the "Save the soil and save Texas" program.

Our own Salt Fork Soil Conservation District has been outstanding in the number of winners and the quality of the work they have done. But there is far more soil conservation work that needs to be done in the future than has been done in the past.

The remarkable thing about our May rains was not that they have mounted over the five inch measure already, but practically all of the water went into the ground even on the pasture land. What wheat there is in this rolling plains area will produce much more than was expected and the conditions are ideal for planting.

Windstorms or hurricanes, even though given pretty feminine names, still cause many millions of dollars damage each year.

Warnings issued by the weather bureau save many lives—and some property; but nothing can stop a hurricane and it is too late to get windstorm insurance after the storm warnings are broadcast.

Why not see us TODAY and eliminate that panicky feeling when the radio warns of an approaching storm.

finding a solution to the states financial problems. But before we criticize them too quickly we need to pause and think that we as citizens and voters are confusingly divided on what kind of a tax or taxes should be levied to raise the required money. Most of us are so sick of taxes that actually we are opposed to any kind of a tax at all even if we know that the money must be raised somewhere somehow. We need to clarify our own thinking and if we do we can expect action out of the special session that has been called.

Three Charged on Forgery Counts Here

Three charges of forgery were filed by law enforcement officers last week, Sheriff John Rainey reported. One couple, the man a former county resident, is wanted in at least three other Panhandle towns; and a Mississippi man has admitted a series of forgeries through Kansas and the Eastern Panhandle, he continued.

Arrested Thursday in Shamrock and taken in custody by Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hodge were J. W. Morris, 24, and his 16-year-old wife, Jerry Lee. They were arraigned before Judge Raymond Horton, justice of the peace, and are now being held in Childress County jail in lieu of $2,500 bond each. The two checks totaled $61.

The pair is charged with forging the name of J. C. Hartman Jr., prominent farmer living west of Wellington, to checks passed to Steve Owens and City Grocery Wednesday, May 6.

City Grocery turned its checks over to Deputy Hodge early Thursday and a radio alert was sent out on the couple.

Morris formerly lived in this county, officers said, but the entire family moved from here several years ago. The couple has been living in Amarillo, Dumas, and Dalhart, Deputy Hodge was

* Trash Pickup

Private citizens can help by hauling off their own trash, it was pointed out.

There are many things you can do to help clean up Wellington, Mrs. Fires pointed out. Homes and garages can be cleared of those things that make them fire hazards. Health hazards should be checked. Litter, that has been described as a blot on the face of America, should be cleared away.

"As our community improves in appearance, health hazards are reduced and fire losses go down, resulting in lower insurance rates. These are only two of the reasons there should be a town-wide clean-up drive," Mrs. Fires continued.

good education, but most of all they are anxious for American friendship.

Funeral Homes and Flower Shops

Cuba offers many contrasts from our American way of life. In funeral homes and flower shops I find the greatest contrast. A lady related to some families here in the church passed away and they asked the pastor and me to go pay our respects. We did, and this is the contrast.

The deceased lady was quite old and had been sick for a long while. The undertaker had apparently picked the body up and placed it in the casket without having touched it. I am quite sure that the hair was not combed and that her face had not even been washed. The lining of the casket was pulled from around the wall and was laid over the body of the deceased. A small glass opening in the casket was the only view. The head was wrapped in a scarf so that only the face could be seen. The pastor was in the states last year and speaks often of the fine way undertakers prepare the funeral services here.

Now flower shops are quite different in Cuba. The family selects a casket piece and then orders one very large arrangement, what they think the friends will pay for, and there are only two arrangements of flowers at the typical funeral.

Flowers are very inexpensive and you can order an easel arrangement with 100 gardenias and 6 dozen gladioli with daisies mixed in for a very small sum.

Customs differ, but this one was remarkable to me.

Coffee and the Cafe

Almost every corner is an open coffee shop. There the people rush up for a cup of coffee, drink it down and walk on. The amazing thing is that the cups will hold about three tablespoons and it has two teaspoons of sugar in it and is luke warm. But believe me, the reason they walk off is that they are afraid to stand still. That coffee is strong as cement. I have had coffee, but this is out of this world. A cup of Texas coffee would be worth a lot right now.

Two Quail students and two from Dodson took honors late last week in the state interscholastic league meet in Austin, a week after they won the right to compete in the regional meet.

Doris Blasingame, Quail senior who represented Region 1 in the state Interscholastic League journalism contest, placed second in editorial writing and fifth in feature stories, Supt. Herman Moseley said.

Neal White, also a senior at Quail, received a medal as second place winner of the best editorial submitted by a school newspaper during the year. This award was given by the Interscholastic League Press Conference, affiliated with the Interscholastic League
