Subs Take Toll On Jap Shipping

By LEONARD MILLIMAN Associated Press War Editor
British submarines sank 32 Japanese vessels in a series of daring forays to take the heaviest toll of enemy shipping in the Indian ocean yet reported, the admiralty announced in London today.
They slipped into Japanese controlled Port Owen in southern Burma and sank two gunboats lying at anchor, shelled oil tanks on Christmas Island off Java and ranged as far as Sunda Strait between Java and Sumatra.
Java thus became the first meeting place of the striking arms of Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's Southeast Asia air forces and Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Southwest Pacific command.

Batavia, capital of Java lying 60 miles from Sunda Strait, was strafed for the first time Sunday when MacArthur's reconnaissance planes made a 3,200-mile round-trip flight from Australia. They caught the Japanese completely by surprise in a low level attack.
Other Southwest Pacific bombers sank three freighters in sweeps reaching up to the southern Philippines, 1,500 miles northeast of Batavia.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' Pacific forces carried the air war north and east from there. They struck a dozen Japanese islands in a triangle reach from Palau 3,100 miles north to Paramushiro and 2,400 miles east to the Marshalls, including Truk, Marcus, Wake and Iwo.
Nimitz reported 8,537 Japanese have been killed in the Palau islands. He said only two pockets of the enemy remained on Peleliu, largest island of the Palau group invaded so far. For the first time he reported "rapid progress" on Peleliu.

The Red Cross announced Japan holds 29,250 American prisoners, including nearly 10,000 civilians.
Japan, preparing for the day the British fleet will strike at Singapore and the American fleet at the China coast, speeded up its offensive in southeast China. A new column drove northwestward from Kwantung province to trap Chinese troops below captured Wuchow. Other forces virtually completed encirclement of Paoching. Nipponese divisions between these two points were reinforced for a drive on strategic Kwellin.

Collection Here Continues Slowly

Collection of serviceable new and used garments for distribution to destitute peoples in liberated areas in Europe continues at a snail's pace in Big Spring this week, but hopes are still high that by Sunday a large shipment will be ready for transfer to district headquarters in Fort Worth.
Mrs. Bernard Fisher, chairman of the local council of church women, which is sponsoring the drive, said Thursday that even though garments must be clean, they do not necessarily have to be pressed.
Donors are asked to leave clothing at their churches, but main depot for the supply has been designated at the First Methodist church.
Men's vests, which often outlast suits, are pointed out as good donations along with these garments; outer coats; men's and boys' woolen goods (jackets, suits and woolen underwear); men's cotton goods (shirts and undershirts); women's and girls' woolen goods; women's and girls' cotton goods (dresses and underwear); infant garments of all kinds and bedding.
Winter brings pressing problems to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration along with liberating armies, or in every occupied village and town are people who must be helped.

Campaign Opens To Obtain Funds For Iron Lung

The Ray E. Fuller post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Thursday opened a campaign to raise sufficient funds for purchase of an iron lung and fired a $200 shot in support of the drive.
This action carried with it an appeal for others to make voluntary contributions to the fund through The Herald. Every gift, regardless of how large and how small, will be acknowledged as it is received.
Checks should be made payable to "VFW Iron Lung Fund."
All moneys collected will be held separately until enough has been collected to secure an iron lung for emergency service to patients in the Big Spring area.
Only recently Big Spring had to call upon Midland for an iron lung in order to save a girl stricken with infantile paralysis. On other occasions in recent years iron lungs have been brought from other points to save the lives of local people.
Although the fund will be called "VFW Iron Lung Fund" in recognition of the organization which started this campaign for it, all individuals and business concerns in the Big Spring area are urged to have a part in it because it is strictly a public undertaking.
Gifts should be brought or mailed to The Herald as soon as possible so that the fund may be quickly raised. Champe Phillips became the first individual donor, adding a dollar to the cause.

Retreat From Riga Cut Off By Russia

By DANIEL DE LUCE
MOSCOW, Sept. 28 (AP)—Soviet military analysts described as strategically hopeless today the position of German troops attempting to withdraw from the Latvian port of Riga along a hotly strafed coastal escape road.
The Russian drive, enveloping an additional 200 Latvian settlements yesterday, approached close to Riga on the northeast. The German command decided apparently to move the bulk of its troops out of the Riga pocket, rather than risk entrapment by a possible Russian breakthrough west of the Latvian capital.
Front dispatches told of rear-guard actions outside Riga and heavy enemy movements westward on the Tukums road leading to western Lithuania and East Prussia.
Meanwhile other Red army forces, outflanking the key Uzek pass through the Carpathian mountains, reached the soil of eastern Slovakia. The decisive moment seemed near for the fourth Ukrainian army, led by Col. Gen. Ivan Petrov, to crack the tough German and Hungarian defense zone along the crest of the Carpathians in that sector.
Petrov's command, which includes units of the First Czechoslovak army, won dominating high ground along the border six miles west of Uzek Pass.
(A Moscow broadcast heard in London Monday said Russian forces were reported to have penetrated 25 miles into Czechoslovakia through Lupkow Pass, northwest of Uzek Pass, and captured Humenne.)

Burns Tells Story Of Women Snipers

JEMPLE, Sept. 28 (AP)—Pvt. Sam Burns, infantryman from Big Spring, today added to the stories of German use of women as snipers when he was returned to McCloskey General Hospital.
"One day we captured a sniper who turned out to be a woman about 23 years old," he said. "Boy, was she mad when we got her. Maybe it's a good thing I don't understand German or French. She had plenty to say. She wore a regular German camouflaged sniper's suit."
Burns, who is the son of Mrs. Nellie Burns, 407 Bell street, was wounded near Avranches on July 26. He wired his mother last week that he had arrived safely back in the states after being evacuated from France and that he hoped to be assigned to a Texas hospital.

Verdict Given For Hattie Morgan Case

Wednesday morning the jury of the 70th district court returned a judgment of $20 for 360 weeks in the case of Mrs. Hattie Morgan et al versus the Texas Employers Agency.
The case had been in court since Tuesday.

Churchill Warns Commons War With Germany May Run Into 1945

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill warned the house of commons today that the war against Hitler might well continue into 1945.
"I depreciate very much people being carried away into premature expectations of an early cessation of the fighting," he declared in a full-dress report on the Quebec conference and the war in general.
"I shall certainly not hazard a guess as to when the end will come. Many persons of the highest technical attainment and knowledge and responsibility have good hopes that it will all be over by the end of 1944. On the other hand no one—certainly not I—can guarantee that several months of 1945 may not be required."

Russian Agency Denies Reports Of Peace Plans

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The official Russian news agency Tass denied today that the tripover European advisory commission in London is considering cutting up Germany into small states upon her unconditional surrender.
In a Moscow broadcast, the agency said, "the problem is often raised in the British and American press concerning the possibility of Germany's dismemberment into several independent small states. Projects of this kind, however, have not been and are not considered by the European advisory committee."
Soviet Russia, the United States and Britain are represented on the commission.
The Russian news agency said that the following conclusions on the results achieved by the European advisory commission could be drawn from available reports out of London:
(1) The committee has "approved the most important document, namely, on Germany's unconditional surrender."
(2) Representatives of the big three powers agreed on the procedure for disarming Germany. Tass said the agreement "also points out that Germany must be demilitarized in the interests of the preservation and insurance of peace."
(3) The commission approved a document on the procedure of the occupation of Germany. Tass said, "according to the draft of occupation elaborated by the European advisory committee, Germany shall be divided into three zones of occupation. The eastern part of Germany, including also East Prussia, shall constitute the zone of occupation by the Soviet and armed forces."

War Chest Gets Good Response

Response has been generally encouraging to special gift workers for the community war chest of Howard county, campaign leaders announced Tuesday.
Although total amount contributed during the first day was not available, estimates placed it above $1,500.
"In the majority of instances those contacted expressed appreciation that several fund drives are being combined into one," said Pat Kenney, publicity chairman. "Most of those contacted either wrote out checks covering their combined contributions to national war fund, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts last year, and not a few have increased the total amount."
He suggested it would save time for both workers and for those contacted if business and professional men could ascertain in advance what the combined figure is and if possible to increase it as much as possible to help meet the $28,970 goal of the chest.
Special gifts are due to be completed this week so the main drive can be launched on Oct. 10.

Greek Generals Agree To Allied Command Orders

ROME, Sept. 28 (AP)—Two generals commanding Greek guerrilla forces have agreed to "full acceptance of the orders of the Greek government and the supreme Allied commander," under whose direction the Greek government has placed all Greek forces operating in the homeland, Allied headquarters announced today.
Regaining the heights lost in a fierce Nazi counterattack two days ago, the Americans also seized Mount Carnevali, southeast of Castel Del Rio.
British and dominion troops in the Adriatic sector enlarged their bridgehead over the Rubicon to a two-mile depth over a 10-mile front and closed in on the town of Savignano.
On the Adriatic sector Canadian troops of the Eighth army captured Bellaria, a small seaside town eight miles beyond Rimini. Bellaria was found in possession of Italian patriot forces.
Other Fifth army troops in the central sector occupied Castiglione Del Peppoli and Bruscoli, five miles due east. Both are approximately 20 miles below Bologna, with Castiglione on a main highway leading directly to the big Italian city.
Fifth army troops on the west coast sector captured Querceta, six miles below the important town of Massa, and Vallecchia, east of Querceta, despite stubborn resistance and intense artillery fire.

Rayburn Says New Party No Threat

DENISON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn, who returning to Texas today, said he did not think the Texas Regulars anti-Roosevelt party would constitute a real threat in the presidential election and predicted Roosevelt's re-election by a large majority.
Rayburn, who arrived here from Washington, said he believed Texas was "still as democratic as ever" and would strongly support the president's re-election.
He predicted the democrats would control the seventy-ninth congress with a heavy majority.
The Texas said he was planning to be in the state three weeks and would make some speeches in behalf of the democratic nominees, the dates and places to be chosen by the national democratic speakers committee. He added he planned to confer with Texas party leaders as soon as he recovers from a severe cold.
"Mr. Dewey's not making too much of an impression," was his comment on the republican nominee.

Officers Seek Ax Murderer In State

HARLINGEN, Sept. 28 (AP)—Officers today sought a second suspect in connection with the ax slaying Tuesday night of a laborer, while one suspect was held in Cameron county jail at Brownsville.
Apparently Torivio Balderra, about 25, was instantly killed. Rosendo Abrego, about 24, loaj an ear and suffered a deep gash in the head.
An ax with hair adhering to the blade, was found near the scene of the crime, committee during a heavy rain. The victims were sleeping in a worker's settlement near here and the house was tracked with mud.

Bussey Decorated For Heroism At Cassino

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, ITALY — The second highest honor bestowed by the United States Army, the Distinguished Service Cross, has been awarded to Technical Sergeant Charles H. Bussey of Big Spring, Texas, for extraordinary heroism near Cassino, at the beginning of the Fifth Army push in Italy.
Bussey at that time, a private first class with the 34th "Red Bull" infantry division. He was acting squad leader in an attack on Hill 382, when his first scout was wounded, and took over and led the attack up the hill. Near the top, advancing under heavy fire, he came upon an enemy radio man who was directing German artillery against the advancing units.
"He took this man prisoner, thereby depriving the enemy of vital observation," the citation stated. "Upon reaching the top of the hill Sergeant Bussey observed a machinegun position which was holding up the advance of his squad. Maneuvering into position, he threw a hand grenade into the nest, killing one man and seriously wounding another."
"He then brought up his squad to a small ledge and led his men into an attack in the face of heavy enemy small arms fire. The assault was successful in driving the enemy from the crest of the hill. The action of Sergeant Bussey enabled his squad and platoon to take the hill which was the company objective."
Bussey, going to Anzio, later took part in the offensive on Rome. His rifle company was one of the first units to enter Rome. In the drive which resulted in the liberation of the important port city of Leghorn he distinguished himself by participating in a brilliant maneuver which drove the Germans from the fortified hilltop town of Resignano, scene of heavy fighting.
His company had been held up before Resignano for two days, advancing only 1,900 yards. A night advance was made over an open wheat field and up a rocky trail behind the Germans. Bussey and another man volunteered to act as scouts and through their capable work the entire company reached the German rear without a shot being fired. He and one comrade captured a three-man

Loss Of Bridge Slows Victory

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Allies' Nijmegen lifeline widened today into an offensive wedge which was within 25 miles of walling off in western Holland perhaps 200,000 Germans who may be added to the nearly 1,000,000 already written out of the battle of western Europe.
But the loss of the Allies only bridgehead across the Rhine at Arnhem in Holland by British First airborne division troops, whose 2,000 remnants trickled back through the corridor, apparently had dispelled hopes of a quick victory over Germany.
Against the reverses, First army Americans burst through the pill-box-studded six-mile wide Hurtgen forest, 14 miles southeast of besieged Aachen, on a powerful effort to tear open the blocked way to Cologne.
Canadian soldiers attacked through the canal lines around Calais on the channel coast. They worked across the western flats into the factory area, converted into a stronghold, toward the port district.
Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey meanwhile built up his south-bank hold along the Dutch Rhine to at least five miles wide south and west of Arnhem.
Silence blanketed the bulge to the east where American parachute troops had pushed into the Reichswald forest of Germany within seven miles of Kleve. The British held a five-mile hold along the Maas (Meuse) river thirteen miles southwest of Kleve, and Belgians were along the Maas beyond Maeseyk, 28 miles farther south.
That bulge covered the left flank of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' battle to open the Aachen crack in the Siegfried line into a gap for the assault on Cologne.
The communiqué said the American First army was meeting stiff opposition from pillboxes and gun-bristling concrete strong-points near Hurtgen, eight miles southeast of Stolberg. The village is in the eastern fringe of the forest itself, and the fact that the Yanks were in the vicinity meant they had battled through some of the stiffest defenses of the Siegfried line.

American Heavy Bombers Hit At War Factories

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP)—More than 1,000 American heavy bombers today attacked German war factories at Magdeburg, Kassel and Merseburg. The railroad yard at Magdeburg was also hit.
The American bombers swept over the Reich for the fourth straight day, close on the heels of RAF heavies which carried the non-stop air offensive against German transportation through the night with a heavy attack on Kaiserslautern, important industrial city in the Saar.
The night raiders also made a side job at Kassel, one of the four places attacked in daylight by American heavies which constituted about half the estimated 2,500 Allied planes over Germany yesterday and last night.
Probably close to 2,000 more fighters and bombers pounded enemy troops, railroads and fortifications in the low countries and along the coast making it one of the best air days of the month.
The German airforce, while greatly outnumbered, showed more life than usual and made several rough swipes at the attacking forces but at high cost to themselves. At least 90 German fighters were destroyed, including more than 60 in the air. Allied losses were 44 heavy bombers and 16 fighters.

Dumbarton Oaks Conference Ends

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Officials of the United States, British and Russian governments wind up their world security planning at Dumbarton Oaks today without reaching the complete agreement they had hoped for weeks ago.
Under Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., chairman of the meeting, summed up the 90 per cent of agreement he said had actually been accomplished as extremely satisfactory progress toward reaching a basis for a world organization.
The main point left over is whether one of the great powers, if accused of aggression, should have a right to vote in the proposed world council on whether the accusation is to be sustained or rejected. Russia is understood to have favored such a right while the United States, and apparently the British also, argued against it.
The second phase of the Dumbarton Oaks talks is scheduled to begin tomorrow afternoon, after issuance of a joint news release tomorrow morning on the conclusion of the first phase. This concluding period will consist of talks by the British and American delegates with a Chinese delegation on the same points covered in the Russian conversations and any others the Chinese wish to bring up.
The Chinese conversations are expected to last about 10 days.

Surgical Room Needs Helpers To Fill Quota

The Red Cross surgical dressing room over Wacker's store is still averaging around ten workers each day, according to Mrs. Bernard Fisher, chairman of the local unit, who is urging local women to heed the call for helpers, and assist in reaching the quota for this area.
The process of folding bandages has been simplified since patterns are distributed and only requirements are that workers must wear cotton dresses or smocks, a head-dress while folding bandages, and must not wear nail polish which is apt to flake off into the dressing.
Beginners are taught the procedure by experienced captains, and every local woman is urgently needed to help.
The Red Cross unit at the Big Spring Bombarrier school rolled bandages Wednesday from 9 to 10 o'clock at the post. A local bakery contributed a cake decorated with a red cross.
Those present were Mrs. Mop Lee, Mrs. Jim Burdick, Mrs. Edith Schmidt, Mrs. Lois McGurder, Mrs. Jerry Dickson, Mrs. Ruth Paulson, Mrs. Marie Stewart, Mrs. Jean Tolle, Mrs. Susan Frazier, Mrs. Babs Lebin, Mrs. Liz Sullivan, Mrs. Marie Holt and Mrs. Etta Wheeler.
Vaughn's will donate pastry to the unit every morning.

Sergeant Relates Havoc Caused By Paratroops During Invasion

HEADQUARTERS 101st AIRBORNE DIVISION . . . It was quiet at his rest camp. Sgt. Robert A. Shurter sat back against the side of a Nissan hut, chewed on a straw and told of the havoc Paratroop Infantry raised behind the German lines, hours before seaborne assault forces stormed onto the Normandy beaches.

Slowly he recalled the events of those first days of the invasion, when his company captured Carentan. He was back to normal army condition now. The noise and the hell were far away. He could chew on his straw and talk.

"Our company jumped at 1:17 a. m., five hours before the actual invasion started," he began. "We landed six and a half miles north east of St. Mere Eglise. We all knew our missions. Roads leading to the beach had to be cleared of known machine gun nests, pill boxes, and 88's and we had to secure the high ground in the area

Class To Hear Former Student At AAF Make Graduation Talk

"When members of the class go out after enemy targets, it will be a job well done," the cadet wing commander of the second class of graduates to leave the Big Spring Bombardier School vowed in his response address back in January 1943.

That bombardier, now 1st Lt. L. E. Dixon, of St. Louis, Mo., who made good his promise and has returned here as an instructor after spending ten months blasting Nazi targets from Africa and Italy, will be back on the stage of the post theatre Saturday morning, September 30, at 9 o'clock — this time to deliver the graduation address to members of class 44-13.

A pilot who soloed at the age of 13, Lt. Dixon chose to fight as a bombardier because he thought a bomb did more damage than the chattering machine gun of a fighter ship. Besides enemy installations in Italy, Austria, Germany and Greece that have felt the weight of his bombs, three FW 190s and one Me 109 have gone down in flames before his own guns.

Wounded three times, the lieutenant holds the Purple Heart with two clusters, the Air Medal with six clusters and a Presidential group citation, earned during 52 missions in the enemy's skies.

An instructor here for several months after his graduation, Lt. Dixon went overseas in July 1943, landing first in England and joining his squadron a short while later in Tunisia. From then on, he was regularly making runs to Rome, Genoa, Turin, Pisa, Foggia, Bologna, Frascati, Athens and Wiener Neustadt.

Col. Ralph C. Rockwood will award the silver wings of bombardiers after the oath of office has been administered by Capt. Pierre W. Curie. Chaplain Thomas J. McDonald will give the invocation and benediction, and the post orchestra will play "La Marseillaise" and "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Responding for the class will be cadet wing commander and president of the honor council, R. J. Willhite of Mission, Kans.

Other class officers are M. R. Clemons of Beardon, Ark., wing adjutant; W. F. Rosener of San Francisco, Calif., wing supply officer; H. S. McGlinchey, East Hartford, Conn., senior member cadet honor council; J. R. Faris, Bloomington, Ind., squadron commander; R. G. Boehm, Jasper, Ind., squadron adjutant; R. L. Wilson, Geff, Ill., first sergeant; H. J. Feagan, Astoria, L. I., New York, supply officer.

Texasans graduating with the class are Henry I. Dunlap, 509 Ellsworth St., San Antonio; John K. Griswell Jr., Seibold Hotel, Fort Worth; Thomas C. Reed, 3902 Hamilton, Houston; Preston Skinner, Refugio; Robert C. Flowers Jr., Charlotte; Eugene Harrison, 800 N. 6th St., Crockett; Burnel C. Selden Jr., 3120 Golfcrest Blvd., Houston; Carl C. Waltz, 548 Goliad St., San Antonio.

Guest tickets for the exercises will be available at the Herald office on request.

Hymn Of Praise To Be Presented At Post

Frederick Wick's cantata, "Hymn of Praise," will be presented Sunday at 11 a. m. at the Big Spring Bombardier School chapel, according to an announcement made by Chaplain James L. Patterson.

The chapel choir of 28 voices will be under the direction of Sgt. Edmund Finck. The cantata will bring 45 minutes of solos, trios and choruses.

Soloists will be Mrs. Fred Schmidt, A-C Paul Larsen, Mrs. Jim Franks and Sgt. Joe Kling.

USO Objectives Sketched By Bell

Basic objective of the USO and some of its activities locally were sketched before the Lions club Wednesday by Howard Bell, USO director.

Musical entertainment was furnished by Cpl. Bill Mavromatis, an accordionist, who topped his performance with a request series.

Bell told how the United Service Organizations was set up to prevent duplications and to promote more extensive and efficient service to those in the armed services, both to men and women and irrespective to rank.

The club here has had an attendance of more than 187,000 he said and over 8,000 hostesses have volunteered their services. One of the most popular features is the hospitality hour on Sundays when the women of local churches furnish home prepared food to the club visitors.

Above this, the unit offers mail service, radio, classical music, stationary, travel aid, housing aid, contacts Red Cross, distributes religious materials, operates a snack bar, sews buttons, etc. Activities include, among many others, singings, dances, arts and crafts classes, painting, post hospital visits, ping-pong, pool and various games; dramatics, folk dances, etc.

In addition there are many other special activities during the year, said Bell.

Lions Participate In Zone Meeting

Nearly a score of Lions and their wives, representing the Big Spring club, participated in a zone meeting Tuesday evening at Lorraine.

Addressing the group, Lee Johnson, Wink, governor of district 2-7, the largest geographically in Lions International, told of a 124-member gain in the first two months of the new fiscal year and said the objective was to show an over-all gain of 10 per cent for the year.

Everywhere activities are on the increase, he said, and this was reflected in reports from the Lorraine, Colorado City, Big Spring and Odessa clubs with services from providing glasses to underprivileged children, to carnivals, cemetery improvements, sending delegates to the international convention, increasing membership, buying war bonds, etc. included. The Lorraine club reported it had bought and paid for its own meeting place.

In the absence of Fred Gage, Odessa, Joe Pond, past district governor, presided over the business session of the meeting. Big Spring's invitation to entertain the next meeting was accepted.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 28 (UP)—Add Dodger doings: When Stan Musial of the Cardinals made a spectacular catch of Ed Stanky's short fly in the sixth inning of yesterday's Cards-Dodgers game, Bobby Bragan was doubled off first without the player or the bag being tagged. TODAY ON THE HOME FRONT
 (Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series on Veterans' benefits, ranging from demobilization to jobs and pensions.)

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Who gets mustering out pay? How much? Who doesn't get it? Who else can claim it?

Here are questions and answers on this gift from Uncle Sam to veterans of this war:

charged from active service on or after Dec. 7, 1941. This includes the male and female personnel of army, navy, marines and coast guard.

Q. What is amount of mustering out pay?

A. There are three different kinds of pay:

Three hundred dollars—to anyone who has less than 60 days' active service. The full payment of $100 is made at time of discharge, and $100 one month later, and $100 one month after that.

Two hundred dollars—for a person who has been in active service 60 days or more—but has spent all of it within the continental United States. It is given in two equal payments: $100 at time of discharge and $100 one month later.

One hundred dollars for a person who has less than 60 days' active service. The full payment of $100 is made at time of discharge.

Q. Do all persons who have been honorably discharged from the military service since Dec. 7, 1941 receive mustering out pay?

A. No. There are exceptions. Here are some of the main ones:

1. Anyone above the rank of captain in the army or marines or above the rank of lieutenant, senior grade, in the navy gets no mustering out pay.

2. No mustering out pay goes to anyone who is discharged from active service on his own request to accept employment if he has not served outside the continental limits of the United States or in Alaska. But—anyone who has served overseas will get mustering out pay even though he is discharged at his own request.

3. Only those members of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps (WAAC) who were honorably discharged on account of disability are entitled to the payments. The WAAC, not part of the army, was the forerunner of the Women's Army Corps (WAC) which became part of the army Sept. 30, 1943.

So women—except those honorably discharged for disability—who were in the WAAC but did not remain to serve in the WAC are not entitled to mustering out pay.

Q. Between Dec. 7, 1941 and Feb. 4, 1944, when mustering out pay became law, 1,300,000 persons were discharged from the military services. Are they entitled to mustering out pay?

A. Yes, if they met the conditions which entitle any veteran of this war to the payment.

Q. If they haven't applied for the payment, how would they go about getting it?

A. By applying to the branch of the military force in which they served.

Suppose a veteran was discharged after Dec. 7 and, after leaving the service, died before receiving any portion or the full amount of mustering out pay. Would that veteran's survivors be able to claim his—or her—mustering out pay?

A. Yes, if the veteran was entitled to it under the conditions outlined above.

Q. Is mustering out pay tax free?

A. Yes. And it is not subject to the claims of a creditor.

(Tomorrow: When the veteran arrives home.)

Ramblers Could Be Too Bad Or Record Too Good

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Randolph Field's Ramblers open the season against Rice Saturday night with this football future:

1. If they're too successful they may not get to play in the Cotton Bowl.

2. If they're not successful they won't get into the Cotton Bowl.

It appears No. 1 is what they'll have to aim at—and maybe pull for some team other than Rice, Texas or Southern Methodist to win the Southwest conference championship.

Trouble is Texas is the favorite and Rice and Southern Methodist are rated top challengers. And the conference champion is the host team in the Cotton Bowl.

Randolph Field, boasting one of the finest squads ever to tread a gridiron in the southwest—is said Coach Frank Trittico can't make up his mind which of his three teams is the best—plays Texas, Rice and Southern Methodist.

Now is Randolph beats all three and one of them wins the conference title, would Randolph be invited to play a team in the Cotton Bowl it already had defeated?

Coach Trittico says he wants to bring Randolph back to the Dallas bowl where it played Texas a 7-7 tie last Jan. 1 He adds that's also sentiment of Col. Walter C. White, Randolph's commanding officer.

Trittico says he may pull for some other team to win the conference title. "However, if we play a close game with a team that ultimately wins the conference, what would be wrong with a return engagement?" he asks.

Raiders Search For Pass Attack

LUBBOCK, Sept. 28 (UP)—Building a passing attack is the major objective of the Texas Tech Red Raider work-outs this week in preparation for the invasion of San Antonio and a football date with the Texas Aggies Saturday night.

Passing has been something sadly missing from the Red Raider offensive this season. They unveiled one of the fast-breaking running games seen here since the war started in the game with Lubbock Army Air Field Saturday night.

The loss this week of Hoot Gibson, flashy running backfield star from Paris, will be greatly felt. Gibson had earned a place in starting lineup, and looked like a great prospect when he came up with a broken collarbone that will keep him out of the game for at least six weeks.

It All Proves You Can't Whip The Irish; Not Even Discourage Them

By WALTER CRONKITE
(Representing the Combined American Press)

WITH U. S. AIRBORNE TROOPS NEAR VEGHEL, Sept. 26 (Delayed) (AP)—The special saints who smile on the sons of the Emerald Isle must have been riding with Patty McRory when he waged his series of one-tank battles against the Germans, for that fighting Irishman has come through it and lives to fight another day.

Patty has got little right to be alive and even less right to be with this American airborne outfit. He's actually attached to a British tank regiment but when his old Sherman finally broke down his commander told him to go to the rear.

Now, Patty's idea was you don't tell a McRory to go to the rear during a fight.

Patty fussed and fumed with his tank till he got it going again. Without ceremony he attached himself to the American airborne forces, where he again was told to get himself and his crippled tank to the rear.

But he hung on and found himself a crew—a gunner, Staff Sgt. Stanley F. Czarniak, Millbrook, N. Y., and observer Staff Sgt. Roy W. Nickrent, Saybrook, Ill.

When the Americans attacked, McRory attacked.

First, his 75 knocked out a sniper's nest which was holding up the entire advance. Then, the Germans attempted to counter-attack Patty's tank. In the fight Nickrent dived into the ditch and came up with four German prisoners.

During the day's operations Patty's tank crew killed 50 Germans, silenced two anti-tank guns and knocked out one German anti-aircraft gun. And they also contributed to the 55 prisoners taken by the company.

McRory should have let it go at that, but when the roar of fire announced the Germans had cut the corridor, Patty climbed into his tank, buttoned down and took off—all alone.

He reached a little lane where he decided he'd open up shop for business and was just making his way down that lane past a house when his motor gave up the ghost.

for god. A few minutes later McRory discovered there was a German 88 mobile gun on the other side of the same house. So for 24 hours McRory and the 88 sat there pinning each other down without firing a shot while Patty cursed over the radio and the doughboys who didn't have their fingers on their triggers kept the cross for him.

Neither the Germans nor Patty were within each other's range. The Germans were afraid to move and Patty couldn't move.

Finally, an American battery knocked out the 88, showering Patty's tank with shrapnel in the process.

McRory stepped out, kissed his tank and came back to the Americans. He spent the whole of this afternoon trying to fix that tank up again.

Farmers May Market Grain With More Profit By Feeding

By DURWARD LEWTER
County Agent

Farmers who raise hogs can conserve available grain sorghum in this area and receive higher price for their feed. With only a little effort many of our grain sorghum producers could feed out hogs and receive a fair price for their grain through the hogs.

From experimental results, it has been found that for pigs weighing less than seventy-five pounds a mixture of various grains, or of grains and mill feeds, is better than any one single grain.

For pigs weighing about 75 lbs., coarsely ground or wheat is equal to corn, and good ground barley can replace corn. Grain sorghum are about 95% of corn, and are equal to corn if a small percent of heavy ground oats is added to the grain mixture. The ground oats should not exceed 25% of the mixture.

The feeding of supplements containing adequate protein minerals, and vitamins will save grain and require less feed to make one hundred pounds of pork. When pigs are not on pasture a liberal amount of good quality, leafy legume hay should be fed. Probably the best hay would be alfalfa in this section, as our hog pastures are very scarce.

Good pasture will save fifty percent of the protein supplement for growing and fattening hogs. The largest possible use should be made of the current abundant supply of grain sorghum.

New Water Repellent Fabric Due On Market After End Of War

By RHEBA MERLE BOYLES
Co. Home Demonstration Agent

A new water-repellent fabric which will be on the market after the war likely will be of great interest to farm homemakers. It is called zelax. . . z. e. l. a. n. Right now this fabric is being used for army jackets and other military garments. But after the war you can expect to see it in slip covers, shower curtains, and yardage.

This fabric and others similar have real promise for farm homes. A farmer might relax in a comfortable chair waiting for his noon-day meal without wondering whether his work clothes would soil the cushions. . .

Even after laundering this new fabric retains its soil and water repellency. And the manufacturers say it will mean less washing and longer wear.

You might be interested in knowing how such fabrics prove themselves. Well, a New England family, including a small boy and a black dog, gave zelax a good test. After six months of constant use, the white background sofa cover needed washing, but the draperies were as fresh as ever. And still the test goes on.

Of course, you can't expect to be able to buy these excellent new materials just yet. So I suggest two courses of procedure. . . First, take the best possible care of slip covers, drapes and your them fresh and keep them mended. Other household fabrics. Keep ed. And second, buy all the war bonds you can. That way you'll have more to spend on household furnishings after the war is over and peacetime production is begun.

Honey Good Sugar Substitute For Your Fruit Cake

If you are baking and canning fruit cakes not for shipment in overseas Christmas boxes, you may want to know about using honey as a sugar substitute.

Yes, you may substitute strained honey for half of the sugar called for in the recipe. However, be sure to reduce the liquid in the cake batter by about one fourth. The reason is that honey has some water in it, and honey both retains and absorbs moisture.

Incidentally, you'll find that fruit cake made with honey may stay moist longer.

Waco Native Tells Correspondent How Nazis Were Dug From Shelter

By BARBARA WACE
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

WITH U. S. INFANTRY DIVISION INSIDE BREST, Sept. 12 (Delayed) (AP)—Today from inside the city I watched hundreds of Germans surrender while the story of how these Nazis literally were dug and burned out of their holes was told to me by Sgt. Mark Barron, former Associated Press drama critic in New York, and a native of Waco, Tex.

Barron, who wanted to see something of the street fighting himself, had reached one block from the American front lines when a sniper started shooting at his jeep from a four-story building on Avenue Jean Jaures, Brest's main street.

"We jumped out of that jeep faster than you would believe possible," Barron said, "and made for the houses on the other side of the street. Incidentally, the owner of the house had the most wonderful library of wines—that I had ever seen. That hour went quickly."

Barron told how mortars had been called up by Lt. Col. O. M. Barsanti, of Tonopah, Nev., while our tank destroyers poured shells to blast Nazis from the church fortifications. Shells from a small pocket of German resistance on the Crozon peninsula landed in the streets.

"I sure wanted to get at that sniper," Barron said. "But you can't get near when they get into one of those high buildings. They hide themselves with a full vision of the street and the only way you can move them is by shellfire."

Barron described how army engineers with bulldozers were keeping right up with the infantry to clear streets of debris so that troops could follow quickly.

Groups of battered Germans taken as prisoners passed by every few minutes. They had been rounded up from nearby houses. I talked to prisoners who said they would have surrendered earlier but their officers kept them covered with pistols.

Barron told me that when a German machine-gun nest caught fire today GI's went in to help them escape, taking some to a

Keeping American Homes Intact

We're great home lovers in our town. Family folk—like most Americans. So when war came, and the boys left in uniform, and the girls went into war plants, folks began to shake their heads.

Take Ben Ryder's family, for instance—all doing something different. Young Ben's in the Navy, and his sister's in the airplane plant. Ben's foramen at the tool shop, and Ma spends her days at the Canton.

A broken home? Don't you believe it! When Ben relaxes with his evening glass of beer, and Ma and Ma sit at down to write their daily letter to Ben Jr., they're closer together than ever... bound by a strong and common purpose—to keep their family, their America, intact.

From where I sit, the strength of American lies in that family spirit—in the tolerance and mutual respect and understanding that have made the American family a strong and vital force for good!

State Title Favorites Will Be Clearly Defined During Weekend

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

This is the week when state title favorites are clearly defined in Texas Schoolboy football. Every section has a game that could with considerable reason be termed the No. 1 battle.

Such standouts as Amarillo, Vernon, Breckenridge, Marshall, Waco, Greenville and Tyler get major tests — tests that will show which way the wind is to blow in rating the top outfits.

Amarillo meets Vernon, and that takes care of two of the big shots at one crack. Breckenridge goes to Wichita Falls. Brock long has been one of the favorites; Wichita Falls has shown it must be classed with the best.

The Marshall - Waco game at Waco could be rated No. 1 in the state with little argument. Marshall has a team many think is better than the 1943 outfit that won the district title. Waco is stronger than it was at the same period last year and the Tigers won the district gonfalon in 1943.

Or maybe the Greenville - Tyler battle is tops. These are a couple of newcomers to the title picture. They aren't given much of a tumble in pre-season forecasts.

But both have shown signs of greatness.

There are 61 games on the week's schedule, 11 of them conference affairs. However, 28 inter-district battles far overshadow the intradistrict tilts.

In addition to the top-rated games heretofore mentioned, San Angelo battles Denison in an im-when San Angelo lost to Lubbock and Denison to Waxahachie, but San Angelo still must be ranked No. 1 in its district and Denison, while taking a back seat to Greenville in its sector, isn't to be ruled far off the beam.

There are 47 undefeated, untied teams left in the field of 105 but it wouldn't be surprising if this list were trimmed to 35 this weekend.

The schedule by districts:
1 — Friday: Electra at Plainview, Vernon at Amarillo, Central (Oklahoma City) at Pampa, Canadian at Borger, Seminole at Brownfield.

2 — Friday: Breckenridge at Wichita Falls, Poly (Fort Worth) at Graham, Hollis, Okla., at Quanah, Bowie at Olney, Wellington at Childress.

Servicemen's Series Goes To Navy Nine

HONOLULU, Sept. 28 (AP) — Navy's team of former big league all-stars held the "servicemen" world baseball championship today by virtue of its four-game shutout of the Army, but the balance of the seven-game series will be played out so more fans may see the major leaguers in action.

Ten thousand uniformed fans saw the Navy win the mythical title yesterday by pounding four Army pitchers for 11 hits and a 10-5 win.

Big Spring Host To Uprising '44 Cinderella Kids

By MACK TURNER
Lubbock Avalanche Sports Editor

LUBBOCK, Sept. 28—The Lubbock Westerners, the Cinderella Kids of 1944, will roll into Big Spring Friday afternoon, shooting for their third straight win of the season and third in a row over District 3-AA eleven.

Tied to the belts of the Westerners are the scalps of the vaunted San Angelo Bobcats, state champions of Texas, and the team voted as the most likely to succeed the Bobcats as district champions, the Odessa Bronchos.

On the heels of these two upset victories, the Westerners have been hurried into the limelight in Texas after starting the season as a possible third choice in District 1-AA and an also-ran in the state.

The Westerners used only 12 men last Friday night in turning a trick that no team had turned since the state playoffs of 1942, and over a span of fifteen grid games in a row—beat the Bobcats.

Among those twelve "iron men" are seven who won letters last season, four who were on the squad, and one who graduated from the Cowhorns, the "B" team at Lubbock.

An alert secondary, made up of linebackers Charles Pressley and R. W. Moyers, halfbacks Johnny Davis and George Brewer and safety man Johnny Cole, has shown a great pass defense in the two games to date, and against two of the top teams of District 3-AA have intercepted more passes than have been completed against them.

The forward wall of the Westerners has proven to be a stubborn nut for an offense to crack, and has been led by Johnny Pearson, one of the greatest little guards in the history of District 1-AA. Pearson has been an outstanding performer to date, and is co-captain of the team along with Clinton Benefield at end.

The other lettermen on the squad are Johnny Davis and R. W. Moyers in the backfield, Billy Bob Harris at end, O. C. Foster at tackle and Charles Pressley at center.

Charles Crawford at guard was a Cowhand last season, and is playing his first year with the Westerners. Eldon Giles at tackle was a squadman last season. Johnny Cole, quarterback, was also a squadman.

Jim "Pinkey" Lowery, who alternates in the backfield, is the Westerners' "twelfth man" and was also a squadman last season.

The Westerner offense is built around a pair of excellent seat backs in George Brewer and Johnny Davis, aided with the power lunges of Moyers. Brewer and Davis both work on passes, and Davis does the kicking.

Davis' great kicking this season has played a large part in the success of the eleven.

Moyers has been slowed down this season because of a bad knee, but has gone through two tough games to date without serious trouble from the knee, and has relieved the worry of Coaches J. Mule Davis and Dixie White, and has played a great game this season as a blocker, linebacker and general defender, but his offensive play has been greatly handicapped.

Washington Meets Detroit; Yanks Finish Schedule Battling Browns

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Washington's maligned Senators, picked to win the pennant in March but destined to be a gloomy last in October, hold the key today to Detroit's first pennant bid since 1940.

Granted the Bengals may find the last four steps the steepest after beating the Nats 15 times in their first 18 meetings, but the two opposition candidates, St. Louis, one game back, and New York, three lengths off the pace, will be clashing in a dog-eat-dog series that can easily eliminate both.

With four games to go all around, Detroit's one-game lead looks good because the schedule is breaking in their favor after a long uphill struggle. Steve O'Neill's overworked duo of Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout are not down for duty today but either or both will be on call.

As long as the Tigers get pitching and hitting like yesterday's 4-0 victory over Philadelphia, nobody can get close. When the Yanks and Browns chased one another from April to mid-September, everything seemed to hinge on their closing clash but the Brownies' loss to Boston last night took some of the edge off.

Rain in St. Louis almost turned things upside down yesterday but the Browns, after moving the Boston finale from afternoon to night and delaying the start for an hour waiting for the drizzle to stop, finally played and were sorry. It was the end of a 7-game St. Louis winning streak and a 10-game Boston losing string.

Pinky Woods, a surprise nominee, took the decision, 4-1, his fourth of the year, but gave way to Red Barrett after a wild spell in the eighth. Denny Galehouse was lifted for a pinchhitter in the fifth, trailing, 1-0, and his relief pitchers failed as the Browns muffed repeated opportunities in the late innings.

It was Newhouser with win No.

8 for the Tigers in the shutout of the A's, boosting the Newhouser-Trout total to 55 victories, tying the old mark held by Cleveland's Jim Bagby, Sr., and Stan Coveleskie.

New York kept its foot in the door and breathed life into its whisper of a chance by trimming Chicago, 7-1. Cleveland showed Earl Henry, a lefthander from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and the recruit beat Washington, 6-4.

Cincinnati's Buckey Walters picked up his 3rd National league success by topping New York, 8-1, thanks to Steve Mesner's grand slam homer. Freshman Clyde King hurled Brooklyn to a 3-shade over St. Louis. Boston held on to nose out Pittsburgh, 4-3 and Chicago came up with two in the 11th for a 5-3 edge over the Phils, in other senior circuit games.

ORIOLES MEET BEARS

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28—The Baltimore Orioles, one back in the International league final playoffs, meet the Newark Bears tonight in the second game of the four-of-seven series for the right to play Louisville, winner of the American association playoffs, in baseball's little world series.

Air Giants Facing Stiff Test Saturday

AMARILLO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Any complacency coaches Dan Seibold and Steve Sebo of the Amarillo Air Field Sky Giants might have had about this week's game with Lubbock Army Air Field was shattered Saturday night.

They saw LAAF beat Texas Tech 27-13 and here's what Sebo said:

"That Lubbock bunch is tough, they've got a guy named Buster Dixon who looked good. And they had plenty of reserves and substituted frequently. They will give us plenty of trouble; they charge hard and kick good."

And so the Sky Giants lost no time in getting down to hard work this week.

The Sky Giants play Lubbock Air Field at Lubbock Saturday night.

Colonels Will Play In Junior Series

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 28 (AP) — Louisville, which finished third at the end of the regular season, will represent the American association in the Junior world series.

The Colonels won the right to uphold the honor of their league against an International league team by scoring their fourth consecutive victory, 3 to 2, over St. Paul here last night.

Hold On To Your Bonds

Come Monday the general public will be faced with a new temptation to invite inflation and to undo a lot of good which has been done already.

We have reference to the new procedure which makes it more convenient for the general public to cash war bonds. As of Monday the job may be done through local banks, authorized by the federal reserve system.

This ought not to make any difference in the holding of these issues, but unfortunately the handier the temptation, the easier it is for humans to yield. To offset this, we believe that people ought to reexamine the basic reasons for buying and then holding these bonds.

In the first place, investment in bonds is a good way to draw off the demand "posit surplus" and thus to least lengthen the fuse to the omnipresent explosive ammunition dump of excessive and overly active money. In short, it is an effective way, along with stiff taxes, to fight off runaway inflation.

The second reason is like unto the first in that investment by the public enables the government to slow its commercial bank borrowing, which in the end is inflationary because it does not reduce the demand deposits.

In the third place, no person can buy and hold a bond without being conscious of the fact that he or she is having a direct part in the war. It makes no difference that the money might be raised otherwise, for the investment gives the investor a sense of personal participation. It is a means of expression—perhaps in the best means known outside of actual service in the armed forces.

A fourth reason for buying and holding bonds is that while it combats inflation (and inflation is that monster which could wipe out the value of every saving you have should it get out of hand), it also creates a backlog of purchasing power and savings against rainy days.

Thus, it may be readily seen that there is no more honorable and no more sensible a performance of patriotic duty than by buying bonds. To cash them for anything short of most unusual circumstances or emergency reasons is to defeat the whole purpose of your act. If you want to be a better citizen, hold on to your bonds and become an apostle of the doctrine of holding them.

We Still Are Winning

Now that the allies have been forced to give ground on sections of the Holland and Italian fronts, it would not surprise us to see a mile wave of pessimism sweep among some of those who follow the war with excessive emotions.

There is no reason to believe that either of these is of any more lasting concern than the irregular graph line rising to prosperity. The miraculous thing about our entire all-out campaign against the Germans is not so much with so very few reverses.

This thing itself gives us the real assurance of early victory. Together with this is the calm confidence which comes from allied commanders. Just as they warned against over optimism, they now give every assurance that the German army is beaten, is out on its feet and that the end cannot be too far away.

Washington— Pamphlet Issued For Farmers-To-Be

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON — For every GI Joe dreaming away in some rain-soaked foxhole or on a hospital cot about the perfect little farm when he gets out of all this, the Department of Agriculture has just issued a pamphlet that is an absolute must.

It has the simple title: "Shall I Be a Farmer?" It recognizes the fact that thousands of GI Joes who are fed up with war and muck and blood are dreaming of the day when they can settle down in a nice little house, with a loving wife, healthy kids, friendly neighbors, a big barn and enough acres to raise whatever they want.

Make no mistake about this. The Department of Agriculture isn't out to shatter any GI dreams. Secretary Wickard, in a preface, states unequivocally that the government and his department are out to help make those dreams come true. It's just that they don't want the boys coming back and jumping off the deep end with their heads full of dreams and nothing else.

"Shall I Be a Farmer?" is about the most realistic and helpful of the small government publications I have seen. It's only 33 pages and smaller than the pocket-size magazines by half.

It emphasizes that that GI dream farm can often be a nightmare; that farming is a darned hard way of making a living; that it takes capital — lots of it — and experience; that the cash returns are often painfully small. But through the whole little booklet there are implications of compensations that aren't so different from those GI dreams if a man is willing to face the realities and hardships.

The authors of the pamphlet think about the worst thing a future farmer could do would be to plunk his savings down for a farm if he has no knowledge of farming. To get this experience they suggest hiring out for a couple of years on the type of farm in mind. For those who haven't finished their education, there are agricultural schools. For those who have, there's the department's extension service.

After all, a potential farmer has to decide what kind of farming he wants to do, where he wants to do it, and how he's going to pay his way getting started.

The pamphlet lists by states the approximate costs of family farms. These range all the way from $3,500 in some southern states to ten or twelve thousand dollars in Texas, Iowa, Illinois and some western states.

It also points out that investments in equipment and stock may range as high as the original farm cost and that it may take from $400 to $2,000 to buy seed and feed before any profits begin to roll in.

That alone may knock a lot of Joe's dreams. However, it's also

The War Today

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR. (Substituting For Dewitt Mackenzie)

Just as expected, the defeat at Arnhem and Allied failure to walk through the Siegfried Line has resulted in widespread belief that the war has gone to pot. Forgetting how we glossed over defeats two and three years ago, we are now "success-conditioned" and every temporary setback becomes a major catastrophe.

It was true at Cassino, and when the Germans and bad weather delayed us a little while in Normandy, and now again when we have lost in a dramatic episode, fewer men than have the Germans in many actions which failed even to make the front pages. It is a reaction from a few weeks ago when the German army was "broken" and speculation was rife as to whether it could make even a halfway decent stand on the Rhine.

Now we are talking of a winter war of frustration on the western front. Churchill, naturally taking the opportunity to overcome any possible remaining overconfidence, reminds that it could be, but carefully abstains from saying it will.

Well, it could be. People fighting with backs to their homes often upset the best military calculations. On September 28, 1941, there were few who considered the Russians any chance to stop the Nazis before Moscow.

It would have been very helpful to the western front campaign if the airborne troops could have held the Rhine bridge at Arnhem. But the jobs back and forth up and down the front are only the warm-up rounds in the real battle for Germany. Delay now, as at Caen, means only that once again Eisenhower is sending no boys to do a man's job. The German campaign will start when he is ready to start it, and that probably very soon.

Try praising your wife, even if it does frighten her at first.

The powder that goes off with a bang is far more valuable today than that which goes with a puff.

It is not always best to say what you think unless thinking properly.

Smiles are far more attractive than frowns, and they take less muscular effort.

When a man has been away a long time many will not remember him when he returns, and some will not know he has been away.

More people die of loneliness than starvation.

It doesn't mean anything to aim right unless you know when to pull the trigger.

pointed out that all this money doesn't need to be in the bank. Farmer Joe is told where he can go to get the balance he needs. A brief sentence explains the amount of work and confinement to duty necessary to maintain them, with some indication of the returns that may be expected.

Blackland Suffers Loss Of Eight Men

WACO, Sept. 28 (AP)—Blackland Army Air Field is working for its game with Bryan Air Field at Bryan Saturday night without the services of eight of the original squad. These men left Monday on 15-day furloughs and will be lost to Blackland for the Bryan and Ellington field games.

However, the Eagles have three newcomers this week, all promising to materially bolster the team. Included is Lieut. Wilmer B. Green, 200-pound guard who played with Texas Tech from 1936 to 1939.

Blackland defeated John Tarleton college 24-0 in the season opener last week.

Ernie Pyle: Fighter Pilots Forgotten Men In War; Losses Higher Than Bombers

By ERNIE PYLE

ANOTHER FORWARD A I R-DROME IN FRENCH NORTH AFRICA, January, 1943 — It happens that my best flying friends in this war have been bomber men, but I wish somebody would sing a song, and a glorious one, for our fighter pilots. They are the forgotten men of our aerial war.

Not until I came up close to the African front did I realize what our fighter pilots have been through and what they are doing. Somehow or other you don't hear much about them, but they are the sponges that is absorbing the fury of the Luftwaffe over here. They are taking it and taking it and taking it. An everlasting credit should be theirs.

In England, the fighters of the RAF got the glory because of the great Battle of Britain in 1940. But in America our attention has been centered on the bombers. The spectacular success of the Flying Fortresses when they went into action made the public more bomber-conscious.

There is still rivalry between the fighters and the bombers, as there always has been. That in itself is probably a good thing. But of late it has sort of slipped out of the category of rivalry — it has developed into a feeling on the part of the fighter pilots that they are neglected and unappreciated and taking a little more than their share on the nose. Their ration of losses is higher than that of the bombers, and their own losses are higher.

There have been exaggerations in the claims that the Fortresses can take care of themselves without fighter escort. Almost any bomber pilot will tell you that he is deeply grateful for the fighter cover he has in Africa, and that if he had to go without it he would feel like a very naked man on his way to work.

Our heavy bombers now are always escorted by Lockheed Lightnings (P-38s). It is their job to keep off German fighters and to absorb whatever deadliness the Nazis deal out.

It means longer trips than fighters ever made before. Sometimes they have to carry extra gas tanks, which they drop when the fight starts. They mix it with the enemy when they are already tired from long flying at high altitudes. And then if they get crippled they have to navigate alone all the way home.

The P-38 is a marvelous airplane, and every pilot who flies it loves it.

But the very thing that makes the Lightning capable of these long trips — its size — unfits it for the type of combat it faces when it gets there.

If two Lightnings and two Messerschmitt 109s get in a fight the Americans are almost bound to come out the little end of the horn, because the Lightnings are heavier and less maneuverable.

The ideal work of the P-38 is as an interceptor, ground strafing, or light hit-and-run bomber. It would be a perfect weapon in the hands of the Germans to knock down our daylight bombers. Thank goodness they haven't got it.

Convoying bombers is monotonous work for the fighter pilot who lives on dash and vim. These boys sometimes have to sit cramped in their little seat for six hours. In a bomber you can move around, but not in a fighter.

The bomber has a big crew to do different things, but the fighter pilot is everything in one. He is his own navigator, his own radio operator, his own gunner. When you hear the pilots tell all the things they have to do during a flight it is amazing that they ever have time to keep a danger eye out for Germans.

Although our fighters in North Africa have accounted for many more German planes than we have lost, still our fighter losses are high. I have been chumming with a roomful of five fighter pilots for the past week. Tonight two of these five are gone.

Hollywood— Musical Background "Makes" Scenes

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Actors are supposed to be nice to their cameramen and their sound mixers, because both can make or break them. I've just learned that actors had better be nice to the musical director, too.

Arthur Lange, who directs music for the new International Pictures, told me why. Lange, who is quite a character with his wild hair and his huge, oval spectacles, is a Philadelphia-born composer, long engaged on film music.

"Music," he said, "can steal a scene from any actor. Easily. How? Well, suppose the star is walking stealthily across the room to pick up a revolver. It is a dramatic moment. Suppose the musical accompaniment goes clunk, clunk, clunk with each of his footsteps. He's a dead duck. The dramatic moment is comic, and he's ridiculous."

"Once I scored a short subject which had been previewed without music. The audience merely sat, indicating scant interest. The picture was neither comedy nor drama, not one thing nor another. They gave it to me to score. How? I asked, did they want it taken? Should the audience cry, or laugh? They said they didn't care, that I should do with it as I pleased. I chose to make it funny. I 'corned' it up musically, burlesqued it. The next time it was shown the audience howled. That was a perfect example of the importance of scoring."

"Music under a scene can throw it in one direction or another. It can make a love scene effective when, without the music, the scene seems underplayed, perhaps not even well acted. Suppose we have a scene of a man in a prison cell. The music we use can make him a sympathetic character, or it can make him a menace. That is why we have to be careful — if we're not, we run the risk of making the music too important."

I went to a projection room with Lange to see — and hear — "Casanova Brown," the Gary Cooper-Teresa Wright comedy which he scored. Try it some time, seeing a picture and consciously listening to the music, noting when the musical accompaniment dies out entirely, when it surges anew, how it accents comedy and gives mood to the serious scenes.

Lange describes his score (in marginal notes) with quaint terms. The romantic theme, which incidentally he has made into a popular song forthcoming soon, he labels "embers." The passages covering the antics of Frank Morgan, who plays a crotchety father, are called "pixie-pop" music. The score for the baby scenes—there's quite a bit about babies to the plot — is "baby chatter," the hospital scenes are labeled "quiet, please" music, and so on.

Of course, stars don't really have to worry about music's stealing their scenes. A musical score which does that is likely to have been written by an ex-musical director.

Cotton Farmers Due Excellent Returns

AUSTIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—Texas farmers will pocket an estimated $270,000,000 for the 1944-45 cotton crop, says A. B. Cox, university of Texas professor of cotton marketing.

Biggest contributing areas to a total estimated crop of 1,605,000 bales, said Dr. Cox, will be the Black and Grand Prairies with 640,000 bales, the Abilene - Haskell area with 540,000 bales and the Lubbock - Lamesa - Tahoka-Levelland areas with 425,000 bales.

Today And Tomorrow German Ruin, Reconstruction

By WALTER LIPPMANN

In discussing what should be the Allied policy toward German industry after disarmament, many of us assume that there will be left a powerful and workable German economic system. Reasoning from this premise, some say we must weaken the German war potential by dismantling many of the heavy industries, and others say that they should be conserved in order that the German people may earn a living and also in order that they may pay reparations.

Before we argue about theories, let us realize the conditions that will exist. Almost certainly, it seems to me, we shall find that the German economy is a ruin. We shall, therefore, find that the main question of Allied policy is going to be not whether we should ruin it still more or should not ruin it, but how we should permit, and even assist, a radical reorganization and reconstruction of the elements and character of the German economy. The basic fact is that after this war there will not be any such thing as a healthy, normal, German civilian economy. For there was none before the war. There has been none since the last war. If ever there is to be one, it will have to be planned anew and then created and developed.

Imagine the mildest conceivable terms of peace, and Germany will still be in economic ruin. Incapable in her existing industrial structure of employing all her people, incapable of supporting a tolerable standard of life. Imagine no loss of territory, reparations, no military occupation, no interference with the internal administration, and the full benefits of the Atlantic Charter; suppose that the only demand of the Allies is that Germany disarm and that she should not take any steps to rearm for the next fifteen years. Post-war Germany would nevertheless be an economic ruin.

How do we know this? We know it from what happened between 1919 and 1939—namely, that after the first world war Germany never achieved a workable civilian economy. During the twenty years of peace Germany was kept from an economic collapse first by foreign loans, which turned out to be grants-in-aid, and when these dried up, by Hitler's armament program. The German economy is such that it has been able to provide adequate employment only when it received enormous subsidies from the Allied peoples, or when it was made by Hitler as a war-making machine. Forbidden to rearm and without subsidies from us, the present German economic structure will be incapable of employing the civilian population.

The German recovery after the last war began in the autumn of 1924. Before that the Germans were in chaos and misery. For about seven years after 1924 Germany borrowed twice as much abroad as she paid out in reparations, and this inflow of foreign capital enabled Germany to restore and modernize her industrial plant, to build great electrical power systems, to rebuild her whole merchant marine, and to surpass by a wide margin, in spite of the loss of Alsace-Lorraine, the Saar, and her colonies, her 1913 exports.

But—and this is the important point—as soon as the foreign loans stopped, as they did after 1931, the artificial German economy at once collapsed. In the winter of 1932-1933, when Hitler came to power, there were six million registered unemployed—nearly one-third of the whole working population. Hitler cured this unemployment. Whereas the Weimar Republic had solved unemployment by receiving foreign loans, which were not repayable, and were therefore gifts, Hitler cured unemployment by his armament program. By 1938, as the arming of Germany was approaching its peak, and Hitler was ready for war, there were only 164,000 registered unemployed in Germany.

As a matter of fact, the German economic system which will come out of this war will be still more desperately unsuited to civilian uses. It was unsuitable enough before Hitler, but now it has been still more radically altered. Capital investment under Hitler has been according to the principle of "guns rather than butter," which means that millions of Germans are employed in industries that are wholly uneconomic in civilian life and designed only for war.

This means not only the whole German industrial plant devoted to the air force, the submarine force, to ordnance, and the like. It means also the industrial plant devoted at great cost to making Germany immune to blockade—the plant devoted to such things as synthetic rubber and synthetic fuel, as well as the metallurgical plant which in many branches will be altogether excessive for any civilian use. What we call in this country "reconversion" will in Germany have to be a radical reconstruction.

Under any conditions of peace, the Germans face the gigantic problem of transforming their economy so that it is capable of civilian use. But of course, even this system, unworkable though it is, will be enormously damaged by the bombing, and now by the ground fighting which will reduce to rubble much of the transport, the electrical power, and many of the chief cities.

If this is a correct preview, and I do not think it can be questioned seriously, then we do not need to debate how much more it is desirable to ruin a ruin. The economic house which the Germans inhabit is ruined and is unfit for civilian occupancy, and will have to be redesigned and rebuilt. The very fact that we debate it, that cabinet officers are said to be taking sides about it, will place upon us the onus of a catastrophe which will happen anyway.

What we have to discuss is how we shall permit, and how we shall assist, the Germans to redesign and rebuild their economy. If it is not successfully converted, the German population will sink to a level of misery and disease where it will be a fearful menace to the peace and the social health of mankind.

We shall have, therefore, to decide among the Allies how Germans are to be permitted to re-fashion their economy, and how we will assist the Germans who offer plans we can approve.

For let us bear in mind the core of the matter: Germany is an industrial economy geared radically for war, and its arsenal dismantled, it must collapse and produce enormous unemployment and misery. It will be how the Germans are to rise from the ruins. This question will be before us as soon as the occupation begins, and it will become more pressing month after month. We shall be without a policy if we waste our energy now disputing over the false premise that Germany will be a going concern which, if we want a "hard" peace, we shall wreck, if we want a "soft" peace, we shall tolerate. For our real problem will be what to do about the economic wreck which post-Hitlerian Germany will certainly be.

Nazi Surrender Will Turn Germany Into Classroom For Bombing Japs

By JAMES J. STREIB
Associated Press Aviation Editor
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28—Nazi surrender will open Germany as a classroom for an advanced course in how to batter Japan from the air.

The lessons will be those which the Germans are getting from American and British bombers day after day, the damage being offered as exhibits in how the job could have been done better—if it could have been.

Regulars Renew Plea To Voters

AUSTIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—Leaders of the newly-organized Texas Regulars, who have reportedly been trying to persuade the republicans to withdraw their presidential electors from the Nov. 7 ballot, today renewed their appeal to anti-Roosevelt democrats for votes.

Merritt H. Gibson of Longview, whose name has been mentioned as a possibility for director of the regulars' statewide campaign, said here that the September convention "did not hesitate to embarrass and attempt to sabotage the most popular and statesmanlike governor Texas has had in many years, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson."

At Brownsville, R. B. Creager, Texas' republican national committeeman, said his party would not withdraw its electors, and predicted that many of the regulars would ultimately come out for Dewey because of their opposition to Roosevelt.

Several leaders of the new party disavowed any efforts to bring about a coalition of forces opposed to Roosevelt. Among them were E. B. Germany of Dallas and Roy Sanderford of Belton, the latter chairman of the regulars' convention.

Creager said, however, that the regulars would like to see the republican electors withdrawn.

Autopsy Conducted On Noted Evangelist

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 28 (AP)—An autopsy will be conducted here this morning on the body of Aimee Semple McPherson, 53-year-old world famed evangelist, to determine the cause of her death in a hotel room yesterday.

Mrs. McPherson, known as Sister Aimee to her thousands of followers, died shortly after she was discovered, gasping for breath and nearly unconscious, by her son, Rolf. Her death was ascribed to a heart attack at the time.

Shortly before she had ridden to an Oakland auditorium in a horse and buggy with a customary display of showmanship for which she gained fame in 34 years of evangelism and delivered a lecture on "The Foursquare Gospel."

Last night she was to have appeared before another audience but instead 300 men and women gathered to take part in an informal memorial service.

They were listed as Ollie Lee Pane, Eulimo Reyes, and Robert Virgil Cobb.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of these men or leads through which they might be contacted is urged to report the information to the board so that the names will not have to be turned over to authorities for action as delinquents.

Richard Barry Clark
Born September 23

A son, Richard Barry was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark on Sept. 23. The infant weighed six pounds and three ounces, and was born in the Cowper Clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ramsey are the parents of a son Burton Earl. The infant weighed eight pounds and nine and one half ounces and was born Sept. 26 in the Cowper Clinic.

Mrs. W. L. Meier of 711 Runnels received a letter from her son Lt. Billy Meir saying that he is to attend school in New Foundland for two months. Bill is in the Air Traffic Control of the Air Transport Command.

Three names have been added to the list of men reported as "missing" by the Howard county selective service.

They were listed as Ollie Lee Pane, Eulimo Reyes, and Robert Virgil Cobb.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of these men or leads through which they might be contacted is urged to report the information to the board so that the names will not have to be turned over to authorities for action as delinquents.

Army experts are traveling close behind the liberation forces to study the effectiveness of United States Eighth, Ninth and Fifteenth air forces work over Europe.

By coordinating their reports on damage with the amount and disposition of explosives and incendiaries by the bombers, lessons in destruction are being sent home for use in planning and training for future assaults.

More bad news for Japan is that the United States, having passed up the kind of flying bombs tossed at England by the Germans in favor of development on a broader scale, is driving at a controlled bomb which would have a maximum of effectiveness.

The German flying bombs traveled in a straight line at low and medium altitudes. This made them subject to ground fire in addition to attacks by fast fighter planes.

A high-flying maneuverable bomb would be extremely difficult for both anti-aircraft guns and fighter planes to knock out.

Cubs of pack No. 13 will be treated to a visit to the line at the Big Spring Bombardier school Friday evening as a feature of the monthly pack meeting.

D. M. McKinney, cubmaster, stressed the importance of all Cubs being at the recreation hall at Ellis Homes at 6 p. m. Friday. Trucks will leave from that place promptly on time to visit the line and to permit boys to actually look inside of bomber trainers.

At 8:45 there is to be a brief Cub program with songs, handicraft exhibits and a midget act by Arnold Seydler, troop No. 3 scoutmaster, and scouts. Following dinner, there will be short talks by the Rev. Jimmie Moore, J. B. Bruton, county juvenile officer, Elra Phillips, troop No. 6 scoutmaster, Jurgen Cecil Collings and P. V. Thorson, area executive.

Forty-eight awards to Cubs will be presented by Bill Dawes, Rev. Dick O'Brien, Rev. Moore and H. D. Norris, field executive. Parents are urged to attend.

Secretary of State Hull disclosed today that neutral nations had been warned they would lose American friendship "for years to come" should they give sanctuary to Hitler or other axis leaders after the war.

Hull himself brought up the question raised frequently at previous news conferences as to whether Hitler actually is on the last of war criminals already drawn up by a special Allied commission in London.

Any suggestion Hull said, that Hitler or any other axis leader has been or is about to be overlooked is answered by the year-old declaration of Moscow providing that (1) war criminals guilty of specific actions against people shall be returned to the scene of those actions for trial and (2) "those accused of more general crimes against nations or civilization itself shall be punished by joint action of the Allies."

Labor's Education Planned At Meeting

AUSTIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—An educational program for labor to "counteract the negative, unhealthy, and anti-labor propaganda being fed by reactionary forces" was adopted here yesterday by the 47th convention of the Texas State Federation of Labor (AFL).

"Workers' education has ceased to be the stepchild among labor activities; it has ceased to be the sole province of so-called dreamers and intellectuals; it has ceased to come from the fringe of the labor movement. It now comes by the very heart of the trade union movement itself," said J. M. Parker of Houston, chairman of the educational committee.

The program includes: a speaker's bureau to educate both union members and the public, discussing conferences, radio and visual aids, a one-week officer training school, and a campaign of letter writing in order to present labor's side of the production picture.

Dr. Homer Price Rainey, president of the University of Texas, told the workers: "When the history of this war is written, the great miracle of it will be the miracle of production."

Gov. Coke Stevenson touched briefly on post-war plans with which labor will have to deal in a state progressing from an agricultural to an industrial emphasis.

He praised workers for their "valiant giving of the life and energy" during the war, and said that in his opinion Texas has the best labor record in the nation.

In preliminary nominations, Andrew S. McBride of Houston was renominated by acclamation as president and Harry Arceman of Austin, secretary-treasurer.

Pvt. Enrique Parras, who was wounded in action in the Southwest Pacific area in May, 1944 wired his mother, Mrs. Victoriana V. Parras of Big Spring, that he had arrived in the states and had been sent to a San Francisco, Calif., hospital for treatment. "Am feeling fine and it's really good to be back" Parras wired.

Pvt. Cecil Reeding, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Reeding of Big Spring has completed his mechanical training at Kessler Field, Miss. and is en route to an advanced base in California for further training.

The Northern Ordinance No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, deep Borden county test in section 32-31-4n, T&P, was reported at 9,499 feet in black shale while Northern Ordinance No. 1 J. C. Spaulding, northwest Howard exploration, was in the black shale at 6,959 feet. Location is in section 7-33-1n, T&P.

Leasehold In Harris County Goes To Court
AUSTIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—A 79-acre leasehold in the Bammel Field, Harris county, was under jurisdiction today of a 98th district court appointed receiver.

The state, through the attorney general, yesterday asked appointment of the receiver in order to compel compliance with a railroad commission order designed to quell the wild, burning F. M. Corzelius - Wild Gasser No. 2 gas well.

The wild gasser is an lease owned by Corzelius.

Shicks Have Guests Without Invitation

The Nat Shicks have an unusual, highly-perfumed and unwelcomed guest in their home. Shick discovered the visitor Wednesday morning when he went to his basement workshop. It was waiting and he made an exit somewhat more gingerly than his entrance.

The Shicks love visitors, but they admit advice on how to persuade this one to leave would be welcome. The situation is touchy and will require much care and tact. How else can one deal with a polecat?

Final Session In Scout School Today
