Bad Weather, As Usual, Greet's Stock Show

CHAMP AND RESERVE—Teresa Helm, left, showed the Overall Grand Champion Market Lamb in the lamb division of the Winters Junior Livestock Show Sunday afternoon. Allison Allcorn, 10, showed the reserve market lamb.

When dates are set several months in advance for the annual Winters Junior Livestock Show in January, chances are that the weekend picked will turn out "bad weather." At least that's the way it has been for many of the years the show has been produced.

This year was no exception. This year's show was planned for Sunday afternoon and Monday, Jan. 7 and 8 . . . and freezing rain began falling Friday evening, to slick up the roads and highways in the area, and make transportation of show animals very difficult. However, by Sunday afternoon, when the first part of the show opened—the lamb judging—the ice had begun to clear to some extent, making driving a bit less hazardous—and the show did go on, even in the face of a slight hint of snow and sleet about noon Sunday.

In the lamb show, 117 animals were judged Sunday afternoon. Teresa Helm, 18-year-old Winters High School senior, showed one of her lambs to the Overall Grand Champion Market lamb award, while Allison Allcorn, 10, showed the reserve market lamb. Miss Helm is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Helm, and Allison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allcorn.

Doug Bryan, 18, a senior FFA member, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bryan of Winters, showed the third-best overall lamb, a 100-pound Hampshire-Suffold cross. He also had several top placers throughout the afternoon.

Terry Gerhart, 18, also a senior, showed the fourth-best overall lamb. He had the first place heavyweight mediumwool and a first-place lightweight cross. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gerhart.

Bill Bredemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bredemeyer, showed the champion fine wool lamb. He is a junior student.

Nathan Tekell, 18, also a senior, showed the reserve fine wool cross. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Tekell.

In the capon show, Francine Miller, 14, a freshman, and her sister Dawn, 16, a junior, showed the champion and reserve champion capons as well as the champion and reserve champion pen of broilers. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Miller of Winters.

Suzanne Spill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Spill, a 4-H Club member, showed the champion doe in the rabbit show. Greg Bedford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Bedford, had the reserve doe and reserve buck.

David Martin had the top buck in the rabbit division.

On the second day of the show, Monday, Teresa Helm added to laurels won in the lamb show Sunday, by showing the grand champion market steer. She showed a 1,200-pound Limousin crossbred to the championship. Miss Helm then came back to be awarded the Overall Showmanship trophy open to all livestock divisions at the conclusion of the show.

Jay West, son of Mr. and Mrs. James West, showed the top heifer, and Rusty Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Allen, showed the reserve heifer.

A sixth grader, Allison Allcorn, 10, showed the reserve steer, a 1,020-pound Hereford steer. She had previously showed the reserve champion sheep Sunday.

SWINE SHOW

In the swine show Monday, the Lancaster Brothers, Scott, 12, and Brent, 14, showed the grand champion market hog among 71 hogs. They led a heavyweight Hampshire, 235 pounds to the honors.

James Blackwell, 18, showed the reserve grand champion hog.

Camille Lancaster, 9, showed a Hampshire to the reserve Hamp trophy and won the third best Overall Market Hog in the show. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Lancaster, and sister of Scott and Brent.

The fifth best hog in the show, a Yorkshire, was shown by Janet Jacob, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jacob.

Report Shows City's Cash Position

Although the City of Winters went out of the business of producing and selling electricity a year ago next Tuesday (Jan. 16, 1978), the books of the city have continued to include a "Light Plant Fund," kept separate until all business has been completed.

However, Mayor Homer Hodge told the City Council Monday night, the "Light Plant Fund" will be closed within a short time, and all funds remaining therein will be transferred to the General Fund.

Sale of the City Light Plant was completed with the acceptance of a check for $250,000 by the City from West Texas Utilities Co., the company which purchased all assets of the city's light plant facilities. At that time, according to information then released, there was a bonded indebtedness of $170,000 against the department. No formal announcement or report has been made in the months since the final transaction, reflecting the financial condition of the "Light Plant Fund," until Monday night when the council was presented an informal "Band Balance" and list of "Certificates of Deposit" and list of "Certificates of Deposit."

Thieves Steal Oil Field Equipment Saturday

About $20,000 worth of oil field equipment was stolen from two workover rigs in the yards of Winters Construction Co. Saturday night. The

Farmers Union Member Drive Now Completed

Fifty-one new members were added to the rolls of the Runnels County Farmers Union during a recent three-day drive, according to spokesmen for the farm organization. Several teams worked on the campaign, to bring the county enrollment to about 190.

Several county members are attending the FU state convention in Lubbock Jan. 11-13, including Randall Conner, county president, and Mrs. Conner. Robert Parramore, vice president and Mrs. Parramore, secretary; Rodney Faubion, director, and Mrs. Faubion; and Richard, Doyle and Dewaine Lange, directors.

equipment stolen included oil well pipe elevators, bails and slips, and other equipment.

Griff Brown, president of the company, said Winters Construction Co. is offering $1,000 reward for arrest and conviction of person or persons responsible for the theft.

The theft occurred at a time when roads and streets still were icy and slick from Friday night's freezing rain spell.

Work On Teen Center Is Progressing

Cold and icy weather did not deter volunteer painters Saturday, as they painted the inside of the Teen Center on West Dale, to bring the opening date a little closer.

L. T. McGinnis and Charles Wearden contributed their time and machines to paint the inside of the building.

Some of the game machines have arrived for use in the Teen Center, it

The theft is being investigated by local, area and state law enforcement agencies.

IT'S A BUMMER—For the second consecutive weekend, area motorists were troubled with icy road conditions, and several fenders—and car sides—were bent during the bad weather. This one, about the first of at least a half dozen in Winters, occurred Friday night after freezing rain had covered all streets with a sheet of ice. John Bedford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Bedford, lost control of his car on the ice and slammed into a pole, skidded back onto the street, and the car came to rest with the rear wheels against the curb. Everyone who came to work this accident was forced to walk gingerly on the slick icy street. No one was injured in this ice-caused accident, but it was probably the worst in the half dozen reported by the police department. Damage was extensive to this vehicle, and it had to be towed from the scene on West Dale St.

The Abilene liquor election was voted the top Big Country story of the year by editors at the Abilene Reporter-News, according to the December 31 newspaper.

Abilene elected to go wet but only six days afterwards, the election was plunged into a courtroom controversy from which it has yet to emerge.

The battle between the wet and dry forces seems to go on forever without being resolved as in the case of an election held in Runnels County in March of 1911, when Rowena citizens erected a monument to the death of their liberty.

The county was voted wet in 1894 and dry in 1911. According to a story in the Ballinger Daily Ledger of May 2, 1911, there was a large public gathering in Rowena on April 28 to dedicate the monument. The county had voted dry by only 300 votes out of a total of 2,700.

The lusty German and Czech-American farmers of the Olfen and Rowena areas were very upset at being deprived of their beer—they voted wet 169-13 at Rowena and 40-1 wet at Olfen.

On Friday, April 28, 1911, a crowd of about 500 men marched to the public square in Rowena. J. J. Henkhaus carried a miniature coffin in his arms at the head of the parade. Then P. J. Baron of Rowena and John P. Maddox of Ballinger made speeches, and the whiskey was buried under the monument.

A hole had been dug in the public square and a monument erected with the following inscription engraved on the face "There lies our Liberty, died April 28th." On top of the tombstone was placed a bottle of whiskey and a bottle of beer which was stolen that night.

The Rowena Brass Band played a funeral dirge, the bottles were buried, and guards were set to watch through the night. In the sad circumstances, it was only natural that the guards should take to grave robbing to console their sorrow. By morning, guards, "corpses" and marker had all disappeared. Later, some boys swimming in Rocky Creek found the marker, but Rowena's bottles of "Liberty" were never seen again.

A state election to dry up Texas failed in June 1912, and Rowena was wet until 1913 when a county election voted all alcohol out.

Mr. Baron had a very personal reason for making a speech at the monument erected to the death of Liberty for he was owner of the Silver Dollar Saloon. In addition he and P. O. Ewald were associated in the firm known as the Rowena Grocery Company. They were also cotton buyers.

Arriving by railway from Granger in 1898 with his family, Mr. Baron, born in Czechoslovakia in 1870, was the first settler at Rowena Station. On Nov. 22, 1898, he and his wife, Mary, dedicated a townsite of some twenty-nine acres (eight blocks centering on a public square) which they named Baronsville. Baron set up a land office and contacted people to come to Runnels County.

One of his first sales was to Gustav Schuhmann, a German merchant from Waldeck in Fayette County, who arrived early in 1899 to become the second settler in the town.

With a railroad station named Rowena, and a town called Baronsville, matters were further complicated when Schuhmann was appointed postmaster in 1900, for a post office named Bolf, to be located in his general merchandise store.

So, the town of Baronsville, located at Rowena Station, had a post office address of Bolf! This odd situation continued until March 26, 1901, when the post office name was changed to Rowena. However, it wasn't until 1904 that Baron was persuaded to change the name of his town to Rowena.

Runnels County stayed dry until another county election in February 1934. At that time the Rowena and Ballinger precincts voted beer in. August Zetner ran a beer parlor in Rowena from March 1934 until December 1935, when the whole county again went dry.

However, for the next 25 years, there was a series of skirmishes between wets and dries in Runnels County. Elections were held in February 1936, April 1937, July 1938, August 1938 and August 1938, but they were all replays.

Rowena stayed dry until September 25, 1959, when the legislators provided for wet precincts in dry counties and the Rowena precinct voted for the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages.

While Rowena maintained its Liberty, the Liberty tombstone was stolen again and never recovered the second time. Nothing was done about it until the city celebrated its 75th anniversary.

On Thursday, November 15, 1973, a new Liberty marker was erected on the public square to replace the one lost.

The new marker, like the original, contains in its base a fifth of whiskey and a bottle of beer. The marker is set in a deep base of concrete with a slab of concrete and four posts surrounding it. The Rowena Lions Club and the Rowena VFW ordered the replacement which was donated by Jim Jones of the Ballinger Memorial Company.

While Rowena keeps its Liberty there continue to be local option elections in other parts of the county. The last was in justice precinct No. 2 in Winters on Dec. 5, 1977, for the legal sale of beer and wine for off-premise consumption which failed to carry.

Synthetic Suede Care 'Knowhow'

Easy-care "knowhow" makes synthetic suede one of today's "main attractions" in fashion, says Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist.

Synthetic suede combines the plushness of suede with the easy-care properties of synthetic blends.

Suede look-alikes will machine wash and dry—and they boast resistance to wrinkling, shrinkage, spotting and fraying.

But be careful, she warns. Miss Brown is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

READ LABELS
Laundering and drying instructions vary, so read care labels and follow instructions.

DON'T SQUEEZE THE SUEDE

When sudsing suede synthetic by hand, take care during the rinse not to squeeze or wring the items.

To remove excess moisture, roll the garment in a towel. Lay it flat or hang it to dry.

TRAVEL CARE
Synthetic suede travels easily due to its wrinkle resistance.

For touching up, iron it. Using a low-heat setting, press it on the wrong side—and use a press cloth. Brush it lightly in one direction to restore the nap.

Works Of Art On Display In Bank Lobby

The public is invited to view the works of art by Ruth Norton on display in the lobby of the Winters State Bank.

Mrs. Norton was born in Ballinger, Texas and received her B.S. degree from Abilene Christian University. Mr. and Mrs. Norton are now living in Kerrville, Texas. Their two daughters, Holly and Shana, are students at ACU.

Abilene Chamber of Commerce selected Mrs. Norton to be the artist-of-the-month for December and her paintings were displayed throughout the month at the Abilene Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Norton is a member of the Hill Country Arts Foundation and the San Antonio Watercolor Group. She paints with transparent watercolors, and sometimes combines ink and watercolor.

Water Permit Hearing Date February 2

City officials, including the mayor and some of the councilmen, will meet with the Texas Water Rights Commission in Austin Feb. 2, to present formal application for a permit for additional water for the city of Winters. Application has been submitted, but the public hearing will determine what action the state commission will take.

The permit is necessary before final application for permits to construct a new dam, and to make application for grants and/or loans to finance the project.

Mayor Homer Hodge said Monday night the engineering firm employed by the city will appear before the Water Rights Commission to state the case for the city.

In other business at the regular meeting Monday night, the council approved purchase of a maintainer from Swindle Equipment Co. of Menard, for $10,000. The bid from Swindle was the only one received in answer to the advertisement for bids on the equipment for the street department.

Vera LaFoon, executive secretary for the Housing Authority of the City of Winters, the department in charge of the low cost housing units, made an annual report to the council. She reported that all 46 units are occupied, and there is a long waiting list. She also said she receives many calls from persons wishing to rent housing here.

Some favorite subjects are the old Sunday Houses and barns that remain from early days in the Hill Country and the wildflowers and hummingbirds that are abundant each summer. A recent trip to Europe has also created an interest in castles, churches and street scenes of Europe.

Casa Linda Gallery and Restaurant in Kerrville exhibit Mrs. Norton's pictures. Two pictures were recently hung in the juried Hill Country Fine Arts Trail exhibit in Ingram, Texas.

Mrs. Norton has studied with Lucille Randall in Summit, N. J. and Clay McGaughey of San Antonio. Workshops with John Pike, Edgar Whitney, Charles Reid and Zoltan Szabo have widened her interest in subject matter and styles and techniques.

Sunday Night Fire Destroys Bradshaw Home

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Willborn in Bradshaw Sunday night, and left the family without household furnishings and clothing.

Winters firemen responded to the call, but were hampered by icy roads and shortage of water. However, firemen indicated, the fire in the frame house was going so strong by the time the firemen rolled out of Winters it would have been next to impossible to save it.

Mr. and Mrs. Willborn and two children escaped from the house and no injuries were reported, although they lost everything they had, it was said.

The frame home, located in downtown Bradshaw, was built in 1909 by W. B. Dankworth, and was considered a community landmark, Opal Hunt, of Bradshaw said.

The accompanying photograph of the informal financial report shows the cash position of the City of Winters as of Dec. 31, 1978, which was the end of the first quarter of the city's fiscal year, beginning Oct. 1, 1978. Area IV Young Farmer To Be Honored 19th

A 29-year-old Ballinger farmer, Larry V. Schwertner, is being honored January 19 as the Area IV Star Young Farmer during the 25th annual convention of the State Association of Young Farmers of Texas in Abilene.

He will be honored at the Young Farmers annual awards banquet at 6 p.m., January 19, at the Abilene Civic Center. More than 600 persons are expected to attend.

The area award winner is selected on the basis of the farmer's inventory; cropping and livestock practices; soil and natural resource conservation practices; contributions to community, state, and nation; as well as general information on the success of his farming operation.

Schwertner rents 1,497 acres. His crops include cotton, milo, and wheat. He also has 1 bull and 13 pairs of cows and calves.

In the Ballinger Young Farmer chapter, Schwertner has served as president, secretary, and treasurer.

The State Association of Young Farmers is an educational organization sponsored by the Texas Education Agency for persons under 35 years old who are involved in agriculture. The association has 4,000 members in 200 local chapters.

Tools Stolen From Pickup

Tommy Burton reported to the police that tools and equipment costing about $500 were stolen from his pickup sometime Saturday night. The pickup was parked in the driveway of his home on Paloma St. Police are investigating.

Swine Expert Will Speak To Producers

Dr. Bob Cohen, area swine specialist from Lubbock, will speak at a meeting of the Runnels County Swine Producers Tuesday, Jan. 16, at 7 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank of Ballinger.

Michael Deike of Wingate, chairman of the swine sub-committee, has encouraged all persons interested in swine production to attend this program.

Dr. Cohen, a native of Llano County, has extensive experience with hogs, and will speak on types of production systems and also hold a question and answer period.

We should initiate programs in our community to plant trees in our home yards, parks, public grounds and many of the so-called waste lands, contends the landscape horticulturist.

When planting a tree, give some thought in selecting varieties and species suited to the area, advises Janne. Too frequently people are impatient and want immediate results, so weak, fast growing varieties are used. All too often the silver maple, cottonwood, Siberian elm and other rapidly growing trees grow, mature and die out in one or two generations. For permanent plantings select oak, pecan, magnolia, bald cypress, Deciduous cedar and similar species.

"Remember, Texas Arbor Day occurs during the prime tree planting season. The cold, usually moist soil at this time allows tree roots to become established before top growth occurs. Trees are usually in prime condition for transplanting at this time and the chances for success are greatest," says Janne.

Serve cheeses at room temperature to bring out characteristic flavor and texture, recommends Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Texas Arbor Day Is Jan 19

Texas Arbor Day, the day traditionally set aside to plant trees, will be observed this year on Jan. 19.

"What better way to aid in preserving our environment than by planting a tree adapted to our area of this great state," emphasizes Everett Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Arbor Day was once a special event in the lives of many Texas citizens. In many communities, the trees that are so admired today are the direct result of the labor and attention given so readily by children and interested adults of by-gone generations, notes Janne.

"In recent years, much has been written about the value of trees for purposes other than to provide lumber and shade. Research reports indicate that tree barriers can reduce noise levels as much as 50 percent. They also serve as giant air cleaners filtering out the dust as well as using the carbon dioxide in the air to produce the lumber and shade we need," says Janne.

"Too often we take the majestic beauty of our trees for granted; we forget the benefits they give us. As a gift to future generations,
