TERIBLE DAMAGE BY HAIL NORTHWEST PART OF COUNTY

GOOD WHEAT; LOOKS LIKE AN EARLY WHEAT HARVEST

In the past five days, exactly 2.58 inches of rain has fallen in Perryton and the immediate vicinity. The rainfall started Saturday with .15 of an inch. Then on Monday afternoon, the precipitation was .56 inch. Early Tuesday morning the forecast kept by Attorney Jack Allen registered a downpour of .33 of an inch.

TEXAS-LOUISIANA EXPANDS

FOUR NEW DIVISION MANAGERS WILL HEADQUARTERS IN PERRYTON AFTER FIRST OF MONTH

C. E. Whippo, manager of the Texas-Louisiana Power Co., announces that four new division managers will be located in Perryton after June 1. Perryton is district headquarters for the Texas-Louisiana with utilities at Farnsworth, Waka, Spearman, Guymon, Goodwell, Tyrone, Forgan, Beaver, Huntington, Booker, Darouzet, Pollett and Higgins. Through a new policy of the company, much of the business formerly transacted in the general office at Fort Worth, will be transferred to the division offices.

Nathan Bryan comes to Perryton from Fort Worth as manager of the commercial department. Mr. Bryan will supervise all merchandising and selling. A number of salesmen will be employed by this department.

C. H. Jenkins comes here as district manager of all line work. Crews will be maintained working out of here for the construction and maintenance of both high tension main lines and local distribution systems.

J. L. Cougar will have charge of all meter work in the district. He will make his home in Perryton. J. A. Jackson, division engineer, will make his permanent headquarters in this city also. Mr. Jackson is an electrical engineer of more than usual ability.

The Texas-Louisiana Power Co. is a real asset to Perryton. They render a light and power service that they are constantly striving to better. Without question, their's is the largest payroll in the city. Perryton citizens are proud to have an institution like the Texas-Louisiana for they are town and community builders. Many utility companies have as their policy, take all and give nothing and the public be damned, but such is not the case with this corporation.

Lions Banquet Tuesday

Ladies Will be Guests at Attendance Banquet at New Hotel Perryton Coffee Shop

The ladies will be guests of honor at the Lions Club banquet which will be held at the New Hotel Perryton Coffee Shop on next Tuesday evening at eight-thirty. This banquet is being tendered to those of the club, who headed, by W. B. LaMaster, won the attendance contest, which closed with the Tuesday luncheon. Captains of the two losing teams were R. T. Shindler and Sam Hergert.

The Tuesday luncheon of the club will not be held next week on account of the banquet. A special program is being arranged for this gala occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hooper and mother from the southwest part of the county were Perryton visitors Wednesday. Mr. Hooper has recently purchased a farm near Dalhart, Texas, and has been spending a greater part of his time there getting it ready for a crop this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hatchett were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jones.

WHEAT GROWERS NEW ELEVATOR

LEE SHORTER SAYS CONTRACT FOR 125,000 BUSHEL ELEVATOR HAS BEEN LET; BUILD AT ONCE

The Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Growers Association has just let a contract for a 125,000 bushel elevator to be erected in Perryton at once, according to Lee Shorter, who has just received a wire from the Endicott.

The association recently purchased a site which contains two and a fourth acres and has 1,000 feet of track space. Work will be rushed to have this big elevator completed in time for the 1930 wheat crop, according to Mr. Shorter. This will give Perryton three new elevators for extra storage space over that of 1929.

Places Second in State

Margaret Rogers of Farnsworth Wins Second Place in State Wide Essay Writing

To Miss Margaret Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Rogers of Farnsworth, goes the honor of being the first pupil from Ochiltree county to ever place in the Essay Writing department of state wide Interscholastic League contest. Margaret is a member of the 9th grade class at Farnsworth. She received a very beautiful medal as a reward.

The Farnsworth school, under the able and efficient direction of Mr. and Mrs. Burns, has received many honors this year. They have been out in the front ranks, both in scholastic and athletic attainments. It speaks well for the teachers, for the pupils, and for the loyal and enterprising patrons of the school.

Fire at George Home

S. R. George Receives Painful Burns in Extinguishing Fire at Farm Home

S. R. George was painfully burned about the face and head on last Monday morning while fighting a fire which threatened to destroy his fine farm home located just west of town. The fire was discovered about six o'clock in the morning in a closet on the second floor, and only through the heroic efforts of Mr. George and his son, Lawrence, who was called from his home nearby, were the flames extinguished without serious loss.

Attempts were made in vain to call the Perryton fire department but central did not answer. The fire was confined to the closet and one bedroom. The damage, which was several hundred dollars, was fully covered with insurance.

GOODWELL COLLEGE PUTS OUT BULLETIN ON LAWN

So much cause of difficulty has been apparent in lawn making in the Panhandle that this subject has been investigated by F. T. Eshbaugh, Horticulturist at the Panhandle Experiment Station at Goodwell, Oklahoma. The reasons for failure in starting a lawn and unsatisfactory results obtained after the grass has been established, are discussed by Mr. Eshbaugh in a recent publication of the station entitled "The Building and Maintenance of Lawns." ICE CREAM AND BUTTER PLANT

SCOTT CITY MEN BUY LAMASTER BUILDING FOR NEW CREAMERY; INSTALL MACHINERY SOON

Perryton is to have a modern ice cream factory and butter plant, a thing that has been needed for some time to give farmers a better price for their cream.

F. M. Kump, an experienced creamery man from Scott City, Kan., has purchased the LaMaster building formerly occupied by King's Clothing Company, and will start at once the installation of modern machinery for the new plant. Mr. Kump's son is a graduate in making of ice cream and will be associated with the father in the business.

These men made a trip to Perryton three weeks ago and since that time have inspected a number of towns in several of the neighboring states.

The dairy business has been growing steadily for the past few years, and the new ice cream factory and butter plant is expected to lend impetus to the dairy business in this whole section.

DAVE SHANKS ATTENDING STATE LIONS CONVENTION

Dave Shanks is representing the Perryton Lions Club at the state convention this week. He left last Saturday, accompanied by B. C. Hurn of Higgins, who is representing the new club of that city.

Shanks was the first president of the Perryton Club and is very active in Lions work. He, no doubt, will get a number of new ideas at the state meet which will be beneficial to the members of the Perryton club.

The opening of the new Plaza Hospital in Perryton on next Saturday will be an event which has been looked forward to for many years by citizens of the community who have long realized the need and urgent necessity of such an institution. Dr. J. C. May is to be commended for the spirit which has prompted him to make such an outlay of capital so that the people of

NEW HIGHWAY THRU PERRYTON

PERRYTON AND BORGER START ACTIVE CAMPAIGN ON THE "CARLSBAD CAVERNS CUT-OFF" ROAD

The Chambers of Commerce of Borger and Perryton have started an active campaign for the designation and marking of a highway running from Nebraska to Carlsbad, New Mexico, to be known as the "Carlsbad Caverns Cut-off." Through this immediate section, the route would be through Hutchinson, Kansas, Meade and Plains, Kansas, Forgan and Beaver, Oklahoma, Perryton, Spearman and Borger.

From the Nebraska line to Amarillo, the proposed route would intercept nine transcontinental east and west highways, which would serve as feeders and attract the thousands of people who annually visit the Carlsbad Caverns, America's greatest natural show place. An added incentive for tourists to travel this highway would be the opportunity of going through the heart of the world's greatest oil field.

C. C. Granville, manager of the Borger Chamber of Commerce, has made a trip over the route, and he says that it is very feasible. Mr. Granville and Geo. M. Perry and T. D. Moss of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce held a conference this week, and plans were laid for starting work at once on the proposition. Active support has already been pledged by a number of towns.

This is probably the most important and highway that has ever come before Perryton. It has unlimited possibilities for attracting tourists who go in greater numbers every month to Carlsbad.

R. M. A. Is Success

"Hot" Check Artists and the Dead Beats are Fewer Since Organization Started

The Retail Merchants Association which was organized here in March is proving a big success. A number of checks have been collected and several accounts that were long past due have been taken care of. Business men here state that the number of hot checks have been reduced materially since the Association was formed.

The organization helps to establish the credit of people who are deserving and has been instrumental in ironing out a number of mistakes, but it also serves as a protection to the business men against those who ignore their bills and float "hot" checks promiscuously.

More than forty business firms have already joined the association; the Sheriff's department has been cooperating in a nice way; and agencies in other cities are cooperating through the State Association.

Although we may be inconsistent in many things, we stand loyal by our prejudices.

New Plaza Hospital Opens Saturday

operating rooms, wards, kitchen, dining room, etc. A heavy noise proof rubber mat is laid on all of the corridor.

The building has a total of thirty-four rooms, every room and all outside entrances being connected with a central annunciator system. The site, building and equipment represents an investment of approximately $50,000, and all materials for the structure were purchased in Perryton. One of the outstanding features of the hospital is that all living rooms, offices, bedrooms and wards, have the walls papered in pleasing honey wall papers, with cheery drapes at all windows, thus getting away from the cold whites and grays so often found in hospitals.

The building has twelve private rooms, with a large public ward and a special room for the care of infants. The bookkeeping system is so arranged that a complete and permanent record of all cases will be kept. The medical supply and laboratory contains complete equipment for all necessary chemical and clinical work. Nurses quarters are on the second floor. There are special living quarters provided for the chief of the nursing staff and for the matron. The kitchen is a marvel of culinary perfection, gas ranges, electric refrigeration and other modern conveniences, adding to the efficiency of this department. The dining room for the staff adjoins the kitchen.

Two large bathrooms are located in the building. A number of large roomy linen and storage closets have been built in. The entire building is steam heated, using gas for fuel. The heat will be kept at an even temperature through the use of an electrically operated thermostatic automatic heat control. A separate laundry building will be constructed at once for the exclusive use of the hospital.

The operating room is of ample this section may have the very best in the latest of modern hospital building and equipment for the care and attention of the sick.

The doors of the beautiful new thirty-four room hospital will be thrown open to the public for inspection at ten o'clock in the morning and will be open for reception of visitors until ten in the evening. Drs. May and Budd, under whose direction the new hospital will be operated, have arranged for flowers as favors for all the ladies. Punch, through the courtesy of Jack Lusher of the Perryton Coca-Cola Co., will be served to all visitors.

Dr. Garnet J. Budd, who is now associated with Dr. May, both in general practice and in the operation of the hospital, is a new man in Perryton. He comes to Perryton from Ambrose, North Dakota, where he operated a large hospital. He is a graduate of the University of Manitoba and a post graduate of the Mayo Hospital, the New York Hospital, and the Misericordia Hospital at Winnipeg, Canada. Dr. Budd's mother, Mrs. S. E. Budd, will be matron of the Plaza.

Dr. May needs no introduction to our readers. He has long been a resident of Perryton and old Ochiltree and is one of our most enterprising and progressive citizens. In addition to being one of the outstanding members of the Panhandle medical profession, Drs. May and Budd will continue to keep their general office in the May medical building on Main Street.

Miss Ethel Wilson, late of Winnipeg, Canada, comes to Perryton to serve as chief of the nursing staff of the Plaza. Other nurses will be Miss Sara Louise Kelsy, formerly with the Plainview hospital at Plainview, Texas; Misses Sallie Mae and Lucille Wall, Vernon, Texas. Mrs. Mary Buster will have charge of the office and the keeping of all books and records.

Perryton is indeed proud of this splendid new institution which has been built and equipped at a cost of approximately $50,000. It has a capacity of twenty-five beds, most of them in private rooms. The operating and X-ray rooms are the latest word and the very latest and best equipment that is known to the medical profession. Drs. May and Budd announce that the hospital will be open at all times to any and all reputable physicians. Everyone is cordially invited and urged to attend the formal opening on Saturday.

AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY MEETS MON.

The next regular meeting of the Perryton American Legion and the Auxiliary Unit will be held at Legion Hall next Monday, May 19, at 8:30 p. m. Important business will come before both organizations and a full attendance of all members is desired.

WATER RECEIPTS DOUBLE

Water receipts for the month of April, this year, were more than double the same period last year, according to City Clerk J. C. Beaver. Receipts for last month were more than $1,700, while they were less than nine hundred during April, 1929. This increase was caused by the development that is now under way.

The longer a broody hen is allowed to sit on the nest, the longer it takes to get her back into laying condition. As soon as a hen is seen to remain on the nest at night, she should be removed and put in a broody coop; that is, a coop with a salt bottom so that the air circulates underneath and tends to keep her from sitting. While confined in the coop she should be fed and watered regularly.

For several years rival groups of gangsters in Chicago have fought each other for the rich money rewards of organized crime. This gang warfare has been carried on with almost unbelievable savagery...

Now, according to report, the two most powerful gangs have effected a merger to bootleg, rob and racketeer in concert, reserving their bullets for such law officials and citizens as may interfere with their program.

The new arrangement may mean greater comfort and profit for the bandits, but it does not promise much advantage for the general public. It is not likely, however, that the truce will continue very long. Gunmen will be gunmen.

WORLD WAR LEADERS

Reviewing what has happened to the great leaders of the World War, a recent writer notes the fact that among them all Hindenburg alone today occupies a high place in world affairs. Rounding out five years as president of the German republic on April 26, he is still active at the age of 83, with two years more to serve.

Among the political figures of 1914-1918, only Lloyd George is still active and he no longer holds an important office. President Wilson, Czar Nicholas, Emperor Francis Joseph, Premier Asquith, Premier Clemenceau and Chancellor von Bethman Hollwig are dead; Kaiser Wilhelm is in exile.

Thus briefly runs the story to date of those who guided the movements of more than 65 million mobilized fighting men of whom 10 million died and 20 million were wounded, in a struggle which changed the map of the world.

HOME HINTS

Hollandaise sauce, made with egg yolks, butter and lemon juice, is a delicious accompaniment for asparagus, and it enriches the meal in respect to both minerals and vitamins.

Never boil new peas; let them simmer. Salt the water lightly. Some cooks add the salt when the cooking is half done. Do not cover while cooking, and do not cook longer than necessary for tenderness.

When first teaching a little boy to dress himself, it is a good plan to make all his trousers exactly alike so that he will always find the buttons and buttonholes in the same positions. The Bureau of Home Economics has a great many practical suggestions to help little boys' clothing should be made.

The flavor of whipped cream used as a sauce may be varied. Add two tablespoonfuls of dry powdered cocoa to one-half pint of whipped cream which has been sweetened to taste and flavored slightly with vanilla. Or add a small amount of caramel sirup. Or crushed fruit pulp such as strawberries. Whipped cream flavored in different ways may be served on sponge cake for an emergency dessert.

In preparing buttered crumbs for the tops of various dishes such as those given the name "au gratin", melt the butter in a pan first and mix the crumbs and seasonings with it. Many "au gratin" dishes have also grated cheese in the sauce or sprinkled over the top.

Do not wrap your ice in paper or cloth. Melting ice saves food by reducing the temperature of the air in the refrigerator.

If it were necessary to have a reason for eating watermelons, there is one. Scientists have found that ripe red watermelons of the Tom Watson variety supply abundantly at least two of the vitamins, and contain two others in detectable quantities.

Add about a tablespoon of acid—lemon or vinegar—to the seasoning when starting a mayonnaise dressing then add the egg yolk and begin beating. Add oil a little at a time, beating steadily, and when the mixture begins to get thick add the remaining acid and oil.

When vegetables or fruits are cut for a salad, the pieces should be large enough so the salad will not be mushy after the dressing is added. All ingredients should be crisp and cold, and with no water clinging to lettuce leaves. Add dressing just before serving for dressing tends to wilt the vegetables and salad greens. Potato salad is an exception to this rule.

Hang up a card in the kitchen and note on it the quantity of vegetables, fruit, eggs, poultry, etc., you bring from your garden for family use. At the end of the month you can estimate what the value would have been if they had been sold. You will then have some idea of what the poultryyard and garden contribute to your family living.

Make for the littlest children several two-piece out-fits, consisting of bloomers or panties on a sun suit top, and matching dress to slip on over the sun suit when the sunning time is over. At first sun baths are given for short periods only, until the child's skin is accustomed to the strong ultra-violet rays. The little overdress will also be useful in taking a child through the streets to a neighbor's or to a playground where the sun suit part can be worn suitably.

TREES MUST HAVE WATER

Trees need enormous quantities of water to keep them in a healthy condition, says the United States Department of Agriculture. An apple tree 30 years old gives off approximately a barrel of water a day in summer, and a good-sized birch tree gives off nearly two barrels of water on a hot day. A single oak tree is known to have given off into the air in the form of vapor more than 100 tons of water in a single growing season.

MARRIED? IF NOT, YOU MAY GET IN ON THIS

If you are single and hopeful and eligible also, you can now take out marriage insurance, relates the May 15 Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman. No, the insurance company won't find you a husband, but under certain circumstances you can collect insurance money after you get married.

The plan works like this: When you join you pay a $15 fee. After that you pay $6 a year dues. Then you don't get in a hurry to marry, but wait a year, you can collect $1,000.

To get the $1,000 the company puts you in a circle with 999 others.

When one in the circle marries, the others are required to plunk down $1.25 each. The company gets 25 cents.

This is the same old circle insurance idea. The only difference is the $15 membership fee which comes pretty high, and the dues which will amount to a goodly sum for the promoters.

In one case you must die to get your money; in this case you must get married.

But the joker lies in the fact that folks who will take out such insurance expect to get married within a reasonable time. They all expect to get married in just a few years, and a large number will.

This means that calls for $1.25 will be numerous. Every week one or more calls will come in. These continued calls will soon cause a lot of the members to drop out. Then the remaining members who get married will get a far smaller sum than they expected. In a little while the thing will blow up just as such schemes do sooner or later.

On the fact of it this appears a chance to get something for nothing. It isn't. Every time the entire circle pays one of its members $1,000, the company collects for itself $250. And for organizing a circle of 1,000 members the company and its agents will collect $15,000. Then for conducting the circle the company will collect as dues $6,000 each year.

For the promoters this is a fine scheme. For the joiners it is just as bad in proportion.

FATALITY OF DISEASES

If you were told that you must have any one of the well recognized diseases and take your chances on recovery, which would you choose? According to two eminent physicians who have studied the percentage of fatalities from various maladies, your best bet would be to choose having measles.

For they have found that only four-tenths of one per cent of cases of measles prove fatal. On the other hand, the most deadly of acute diseases is lockjaw, which is also one of the most horrible.

Yet lockjaw is not necessarily fatal, as many may believe. In fact, it is nowadays fatal in only 41 per cent of cases, considerably less than one-half.

Among the more common diseases, pneumonia is the most deadly. Still, even in this most serious malady the mortality rate is only 17 per cent.

These figures, we assume, are based upon the assumption that no other complications are present. As a matter of practical experience, a very great number of deaths are due not merely to the acute disease which may be the preponderant factor, but to a combination of causes.

As a substitute for sheet lead, an effective shield for X-rays is made from a newly developed rubber compound.

Stone Mountain, near Atlanta, is said to contain relatively large quantities of radium.

MOUNT VERNON

In 1932 the nation will celebrate the 200th anniversary of Washington's birth. It has been suggested that this occasion be marked by the purchase of Mount Vernon, his home and last resting place, by the government.

This national shrine was saved for posterity by the patriotic efforts of the Mount Vernon Ladies Association which took over the property in 1859. It is maintained with its priceless historical relics through the charge of a small fee for visitors who view the premises in great numbers each year.

Only by this means could the priceless heritage of Mount Vernon have been preserved, in view of the negligence of the government. But it is now the greatest of all American shrines of the whole nation, and who desire to visit it should be permitted to do so without payment of even the smallest charge.

It is not that anyone objects to the fee, but a pilgrimage to the home of Washington should be a suggestion of Congress should purchase Mount Vernon outright and give the nation and to the Washington's 200th anniversary.

CONGRATULATIONS

To

Drs. May and Budd

They Are Helping to Build Perryton

This organization offers congratulations to Drs. May and Budd upon the completion and formal opening of the Plaza Hospital and pledges its loyal support to the success of this great undertaking. Perryton and this entire North Plains area should feel proud of this splendid institution.

The building of the Plaza Hospital is in keeping with the outlined program of this organization—to make Perryton the center of the commercial and business interests in this great section of the Panhandle. It is entirely fitting that it should likewise be the center of medical science and surgery.

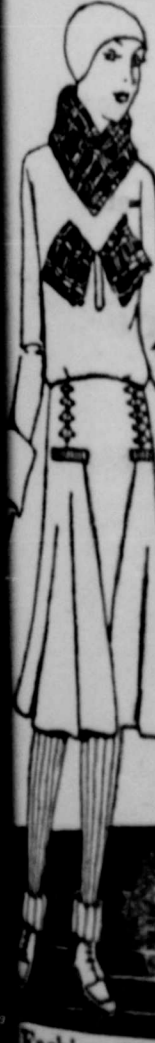

We hope that some day in the future, Perryton will become the distributing center of this great section—that this territory will look to Perryton to supply their needs in foodstuffs, farm machinery, and the like. That it will become an educational center as well as a commercial center. The new Plaza Hospital is a step toward this goal, a move in the right direction.

We wish the builders and operators of this great institution—Drs. May and Budd, every success in their undertaking. May the Plaza Hospital prosper and grow with our Panhandle country.

min C. All recent instructions on vegetable cookery stress quick-cook- ed methods. Canning often destroys vitamin C. In the case of acid foods like tomatoes destruction is not so extensive. Tomatoes seem to retain most of their vitamin content either cooked or canned.

On diets deficient but not entire- ly without vitamin C, children be- come irritable and lacking in stam- ina, do not grow normally, and are less resistant to infectious diseases. Shortage of vitamin C is thought to be an important factor in the prevalence of tooth decay and of much of the so-called rheumatism in children and adults. When vitam- in C is entirely lacking, scurvy de- velops. This used to happen on long sea voyages before it was known that lemons and certain portable foods contain vitamin C.

In testing foods for vitamin C in the laboratory, guinea pigs are fed a basal diet complete except for this vitamin, and then given measured amounts of the food in question. If the animal thrives and grows well, the food is probably a good source of vitamin C; if the animal develops symptoms of scurvy—sore, stiff joints a tendency to hemorrhage, sore gums, loosening of the teeth, and fragile bones, the food under test probably is deficient in vitamin C.

Similar symptoms are found in hu- man beings whose diet has lacked the foods that supply this import- and vitamin.

POPPY DAY, SATURDAY, MAY 24, 1930

Saturday, May 24, is National Poppy Day in the United States, and on that day, in Perryton, the American Legion Auxiliary will dispose of fifteen hundred poppies which have been made by disabled war veterans who are now in the government hospital at Kerrville. The Auxiliary is making a special appeal to the big hearted people of Perryton and vicinity, who have heretofore been very liberal in their support of this worthy cause, to go stronger and dig deeper this year than ever before. Every cent received from the sale of these poppies goes into direct relief work among veterans, their wives and dependents. Every year sees a greater call for assistance to ex-service men and their dependents. The hospitals are filled to capacity and thousands are on the waiting lists. It is to help these poor destitute men, many of them both physical and mental wrecks, that this sale is held.

KNOW TEXAS

In 1929 the State of Texas appropriated $22,780,193 for its public schools—this exclusive of local and district school taxes.

On road building and maintenance and administration of the Highway Department Texas in 1929 spent $34,530,847.

Texas is not among the leading states in metal production, but in 1929 its mines produced $28,000 worth of gold, 1,050,000 ounces of silver, 1,000,000 pounds of lead and 400,000 pounds of copper.

There are 254 counties in Texas, ranging in size from 149 square miles (Rockwell) up to 5,935 (Brewster). Georgia, with 160 counties, comes next.

size to take care of any kind of a minor or major operation. The walls are finished in white with white tile floors. The entire south side of the room is solid plate glass admitting an abundance of natural light. The electric lighting on the ceiling of this room is a circle, thus providing a shadowless lighting system. There are built-in cabinets for the instruments and surgical dressings and supplies. The drum system for the sterilizing of all operating supplies is used. In the sterilizing room, which adjoins the operating room, is the large pressure sterilizing battery system. The room is wired so that electrical equipment can be attached at any convenient point. In the instrument cabinet will be found an amazing array of all the latest tools known to the science of surgery and medicine.

In the X-ray and Physio-Therapy room will be found over five thousand dollars worth of equipment. Complete apparatus for all kinds of X-ray diagnostic examination, picture and fluoroscope, and superficial therapy is included. The room is also equipped with stereoscope diathermy, quartz lamps, Jones metabolism apparatus, and electric vision test type for eye work. The X-ray developing room is built-in with developing tanks and screened cassettes for the holding of pictures. Special equipment has also been installed for cystoscopic examination.

All of the above equipment is installed and ready for operation. It will be a revelation to the many who will visit the Plaza on opening day and see the vast amount of costly and delicate instruments and apparatus with which this wonderful hospital has been equipped. Much thought, time and expense has been made by Drs. May and Budd in the furnishing of the hospital. Don't fail to attend the opening.

SPEARMAN LIONS HURLS BASEBALL CHALLENGE TO PERRYTON LIONS CLUB

The Spearman Lions Club has just challenged the Perryton Lions Club to a baseball game to be played in Spearman within the next two weeks. Tail Twister Walter Beck of the Spearman Club made the challenge. The game would be followed by a banquet. Leaders of the local club have taken this under advisement and will probably decide at the next meeting whether the game will be played. The locals have a number of former ball players who might don uniforms again for this game if they decide to accept the challenge.

Abandonment of Wheat

Abandoned Wheat Land Should be Cultivated at Once to Conserve Moisture, Etc.

Regardless of whether land on which wheat has failed is to be summer fallowed or used for growing small crops, early abandonment is important.

In certain localities there are considerable acreages where wheat has suffered serious damage from drouth and where the stand has been destroyed by cut worms about which it is already known that abandonment will be necessary. If the stand of wheat remaining is too thin to retard weed growth, there is every reason for abandoning it immediately and beginning the cultivation which will be necessary to prepare the soil for summer use.

Straggling patches of wheat which can be of no further use are just as destructive of moisture and fertility stores as so many weeds would be. Even though the first growth of weeds has not yet appeared, cultivation may in many cases already be needed to control the remnant of the wheat stand.

Fields which are intended for summer crops such as sorghum grains or forages should be given immediate tillage to kill the wheat and enough subsequent cultivation to control weeds until planting time in June, if the best possible fertility and moisture conditions are to be provided for the crop. In case the use of summer crops may not be advisable and it is planned from the outset to summer fallow in preparation for another wheat crop, a deeper initial tillage can well be recommended for the effect it will have on the fertility condition of the soil. Plowing to a moderate depth with a turning plow at this time will give the added advantage of burying weed seeds which will enable the summer tillage to be performed successfully with the least possible number of operations.

It should always be emphasized, however, where plowing is used it must be done as long as possible before seeding time in order that a good seed bed condition may have ample time for restoration. Deep cultivation with a one-way disk would be the next best substitute for plowing but more frequent after tilling is required to keep down weeds.

If the best possible usage of available moisture supplies is desired during the summer, the indications which may be safely followed are discussed in Panhandle Bulletin No. 6 under the title "Relation of Soil Moisture to the Summer Use of Land" which may be had by addressing a request to the Panhandle Agricultural Experiment Station, Goodwell, Okla.

TRUTHFUL ADVERTISING

Usually the argument is made that every business concern should advertise. Generally speaking, this is true, but there are exceptions. In fact, some concerns hardly dare to advertise, because they can not make good according to the requirements of modern business practices.

When advertising is untruthful or misleading it does more harm than good. Only an enterprise which fulfills the promises made in its advertising can stand the spotlight of publicity. Hence, when we find a store or other business establishment boldly advertising its wares or service, month after month and year after year, we may generally conclude that it can and does give real values.

Observing the advertised businesses of any community, large or small, will enable one to identify the most dependable concerns in that community. Only efficient and reputable establishments dare to advertise.

NO COWS ALLOWED TO PASTURE ON SCHOOL GROUNDS

School authorities of the Perryton school have requested that no cows be pastured or tied on the school grounds at any time. This is done because of the fact that the board is trying to keep the school grounds neat, clean and free from litter of all kinds. They ask your cooperation in this matter. We feel sure that no true citizen of Perryton will violate the above ruling, for it is with pride that we point to our beautiful school buildings and campus. Let's keep it slightly and a place of beauty and not a public cow pasture.

Successful Feeding in the Panhandle

The following article, prepared and written by T. D. Moss, secretary of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce, appeared in a recent issue of "Farm and Ranch."

Beef cattle can be fed and finished right here in the Panhandle on home-grown grains, as profitably as anywhere in the country, according to H. C. Brillhart, stockfarmer of Perryton, Texas, and this man has fifteen years experience back of his statement.

"It takes a little longer, and the right care must be taken in the selection of the cattle, but the feeding game is profitable and more of the farmers should practice it," he says.

Brillhart is now feeding 450 head of Herefords for the market and is using a ration composed mostly of home-grown grains. Ground barley, cottonseed meal, a molasses feed, and ground bundles of maize, kafir and oats are mixed in the feed trough, and nothing is wasted. The cattle were placed on full feed the first of March and will be ready for the market in June. He has been grinding the bundles of grain sorghum and oats to mix it with other feeds for the past four years and finds this better than using the whole bundles, or threshing and using only the grain. There is less waste and a better mixture can be made.

This man was born and reared in Ochiltree county, and today he is known as one of the successful farmers of this section. He has 1,000 acres of wheat and plans 500 acres of row crops. "An all-wheat program is dangerous for the farmer and should be mixed with stock feeding, dairying or poultry and hog-raising. The farmer must raise his feed through and he should make a careful study of the business he is in," Brillhart says.

The visitor does not have to ask if the farmer is making money. His farm is evidence. He has a fine country home with all the modern conveniences. Electricity is secured from a high line for power and lights. Well-kept barns, feedlots and granaries with a storage capacity of 30,000 bushels of grain, all tell the tale of prosperity on this farm. He keeps about 100 laying hens and a few milk cows for home use, and devotes his spare time to the feeding game. He has been practicing stock-feeding for fifteen years, but says the farmer should have the side line which he likes best.

Brillhart has served two terms as county commissioner and is out for re-election without an opponent. He is known as one of the successful "business farmers" of the Panhandle. I like to use the term "business farmer," because this man makes farming a business and studies it, keeps records just as any business man should do, is making it pay, and is not worrying about hard times. He is setting an example that others would do well to follow.

CITY TREES OFTEN GASSED

Shade trees need pure air just as people do. Trees are often killed by illuminating gas from leaky pipes in the soil, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Recent experiments show that gassed trees may be saved, if they have not been exposed too long, by forcing air or oxygen under pressure, through a specially constructed nozzle, well into the ground at different points around the tree so as to displace the gas. It will be necessary, of course, to find and stop the gas leak or the procedure will have to be repeated.

THE AMAZING LINDY

Another epoch-making feat of aviation must be credited to Charles A. Lindbergh, who on Easter Sunday covered the distance of 2,536 miles between Los Angeles and New York in 14 hours, 45 minutes and 15 seconds, beating all previous transcontinental records nearly three hours. He was accompanied by Mrs. Lindbergh.

One stop was made at Wichita, Kan., for refueling, which took 22 minutes. The average flying speed was 175 miles an hour, and the flight was made at unusually high altitudes of from 10,000 to 15,000 feet.

While Lindbergh's latest accomplishment does not compare in daring with his great flight from New York to Paris which first brought him world acclaim, it again demonstrates his undisputed right to the title of king of the air.

If his fame rested solely upon his New York-Paris flight, it might be thought that he was merely lucky in performing a spectacular stunt. But his subsequent performances have been convincing of his consummate skill, which has been put to the severest tests time and again.

U. S. FREE FROM MANY LIVESTOCK DISEASES

The status of livestock diseases in the United States and means of reducing losses from them are discussed in a recent statement by Dr. John R. Mohler, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. The statement, which is available in mimeographed form, shows that the United States is free from many livestock maladies which are widely prevalent in the world, and that it is eradicating or controlling most of the others.

MEATS THAT ARE EASY TO SERVE

As the superior quality and time saving advantages of ready cooked and canned meats have become more generally known, there has been a growing demand by the public for these meats. They are ideal for the week-end motor trip and picnic, or as emergency meats for unexpected guests, says Inez S. Wilson, home economist. Ham, tongue and corned beef are only a few of the canned meats offered on the market.

Sausage is made in so many different forms, each with its characteristic flavor, size and shape, that we could serve it once a day for two months without using the same kind twice. Sausage is an economical meat, too, for it is not only high in food value, but relatively low in price and practically without waste.

Frankfurts Are Popular

There is no sausage better known or more universally popular than frankfurts—particularly for the out-of-door activities of summer. New on the market are skinless frankfurts. The prepared meat mixture is stuffed into vegetable casings and after the smoking process is completed, this casing is pulled off, leaving an appealing frankfurt which enjoys growing popularity. These skinless frankfurts are sold in one-pound cartons. Frankfurts combined with sauerkraut and with beans are also marketed in airtight cans, ready to heat and eat.

Beef or ham bologna makes a delicious hors d'oeuvre served with sliced tomatoes, pickles, radishes, or celery, or it may serve as the main dish of the meal, as filling for sandwiches, or as the basis for a crisp meat and vegetable salad. Heated, bologna is equally delicious.

CHILDREN WILL LIKE COLORFUL MAY PICNICS

The month of May is such a delightful time for a picnic with the early spring flowers blooming and all out-of-doors calling us. Why not plan a picnic for the youngsters, or for the grown-ups, for that matter, to be served either in-doors or out, depending on the whims and vagaries of Mother Nature. Miss Inez S. Wilson, home economist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, makes these suggestions to the hostess.

To carry out the picnic idea and the May Day idea, pack the lunch in individual baskets and make them look just as flower-like as possible. Get as many gay, light colored baskets as there are guests. They need not be expensive; probably the dime store will have exactly what you need; or if you like, most attractive lunch baskets may be made at home by covering boxes, such as shoe boxes, with gay crepe paper and equipping each with a handle of ribbon.

Wrap the different articles of food in pink, and yellow, and green paper napkins. Instead of making flat little packages out of the sandwiches, wrap them up as you would an apple or an orange, fluting the paper to make it look like the petals of a flower.

Since May Day is the time to hang baskets, you could do the same thing at your party; only the baskets, each marked with the name of a guest could be hung on the different door knobs around your house. It would cause a lot of merriment, each hunting for his own, and the children would love it.

Let the refreshments be those which seem to make a picnic—sandwiches, olives, pickles, nuts, little cakes, and if the picnic is served in the house or on the porch or in the yard, ice cream in appropriate molds may be served separately.

Here are recipes for two sandwich spreads which are dainty enough for a party, but which are hearty enough to satisfy the hunger.

Ham Sandwich Filling

To 1 cup of chopped ham add enough vinegar to moisten, also 1 tablespoon peanut butter. Season with a dash of celery salt, salt, and pepper. Mix well and spread between thin slices of bread, cut in rounds.

Tasty Sandwich Spread

Put 3 hard-cooked eggs, and one-fourth pound crisply fried bacon, and 1 small onion through the food chopper, moisten with mayonnaise.

There is head cheese, a sausage product which is most tasty sliced cold and served with a dash of prepared mustard or catchup. Several slices cut in small pieces and added to the potato salad make it delicious. It is attractive, too, sliced and arranged on a platter with a crisp cabbage and tomato slaw, or any other vegetable salad, piled in the center.

If you are handy with the pastry tube, decorate the little cakes with flower forms, made from delicately colored frosting. You can make these little cakes look like miniature May baskets.

FEWER NAPS IN CHURCH

Religion is gaining ground if church building is any gauge, for rickety shells that once housed the faithful are passing, and some of the splendid new structures outdo old world cathedrals in beauty.

A nation-wide survey just completed by C. A. Dunham company, international heating engineers, reveals some interesting facts. For instance there are now about 167,000 church buildings, not counting convents, religious schools and parsonages. One-fourth are obsolete, the replacement calling for 1,600 new churches yearly. It is estimated that $218,000,000 will be spent this year.

Most new edifices are modern from basement to steeple, when there is a steeple. An interesting suggestion is made to the effect that scientific heating and ventilating are correcting the habits of pew slumberers. Preachers will doubtless agree with this further statement:

"Stagnant air and overheating have caused more naps in church than dull sermons. Churches in small towns as well as in cities are installing differential vacuum heating systems which keep temperatures uniform regardless of outside weather conditions. The large fuel saving of such scientific methods is an inducement, of course, but the comfort of discriminating congregations is perhaps the uppermost thought."

The large amount of church building under way or planned for 1930 will be an important contribution to the relief of unemployment conditions.

DO YOU KNOW?

A little fresh liver added to left-over meat in making hash adds decidedly to the dish.

The flavor of veal is developed by slow and thorough cooking and the addition of fat.

Lamb or mutton may be roasted on a bed of tart apples.

Cheese melted in the sauce of creamed chipped beef is a good addition.

Creamed ham should be highly seasoned. A teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce to one cup of white sauce gives an added zest.

A thick slice of veal baked in milk is very good.

An oyster placed in the center of each sausage cake is a surprise dish.

A cup of currants cooked with a pot roast makes it delicious.

It is a good idea to place a bay leaf in the pan with roast pork.

Ham is good baked in pineapple juice.

CHEESE RECIPES

The most valuable food substances of milk are found in concentrated form in cottage cheese. Cottage cheese can be served in many different ways and since it is rich in protein is especially good as a meat substitute for dinner. Here are recipes suggested in the May 15 Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman:

Cheese Mold Salad—A cheese mold salad with gelatin foundation is an attractive dish. For this use 1 pint of cottage cheese, 1 cupful of milk, 2 tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatin, 4 tablespoonfuls cold water, 2 teaspoonfuls salt, one-half cupful pimento or green pepper chopped fine, one-fourth teaspoonful cayenne.

Soften gelatin in cold water for five minutes, then dissolve over hot water. Add all ingredients. Mix well and place in mold. When firm, slice and serve on lettuce leaf with dressing.

Stuffed Prunes or Dates—Prunes and dates stuffed with cheese make a delicious salad. The prunes are most successfully used when they have been soaked and cooked. In using these fruits, the stones are removed and they are stuffed with well seasoned cheese. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing.

Green Pepper Rings—A cheese and pepper salad is very attractive as well as tasty. For this, remove pulp and seed from the green pepper. Stuff pepper with cottage cheese well seasoned. Chopped olives may be added to the cottage cheese. Let stuffed pepper stand several hours and slice crosswise. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Cheese and Nut Loaf—A popular main dish for a lunch or supper is a cheese and nut loaf. For this use 1 cupful cottage cheese, 1 cupful finely chopped nut meats, 1 cupful stale bread crumbs, one-fourth cupful melted butter, 1 tablespoonful finely chopped onion, 1 teaspoonful salt, dash of paprika, milk, hot water, tomato juice or meat stock to moisten.

Mix all ingredients together and moisten. Bake in a bread pan in a moderate oven 50 minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.

SILENCE OF THE GRAVE

Before Harry Houdini died, that greatest of magicians agreed with his wife that he would try to communicate with her from the spirit world, although he had long scoffed at spiritualism. Ever since his death in 1926 his widow has watched and waited for a message.

A few days ago Mrs. Houdini confessed that she had abandoned hope of ever having a communication from beyond the grave, and said: "The silence is impenetrable; there is only a void."

On the same day that she made this statement, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, one of the most eminent of living spiritualists, resigned from the Society of Psychical Research because the learned members of that body refuses to accept as authentic any of the many reported messages from the "other world."

After 48 years of painstaking investigation of thousands of alleged communications through mediums and relatives of deceased persons, the society has not found a single one which has stood the test of scientific examination.

AFTER THE PIGS ARE WEANED

After the pigs have been weaned the sows should be placed on pasture and given a small quantity of grain. Sows two years old and over which have weaned spring litters and which are not bred for fall farrowing may be carried successfully on good alfalfa or clover pasture without grain for two or three months. Very thin sows and gilts weaning their first litters should be separated from the others, placed on good pasture, and given a liberal grain ration. The thin sows will generally gain rapidly enough to be taken out in a month. It is well to feed the gilts some grain during the whole period between the weaning of their first two litters.

FOLLY, you say, for a person to try to cross the ocean in a sailboat.

And yet many business men, in Perryton, are practicing the same inconsistency. In their efforts to gain the buying favor of this trade territory, they are checking their own progress by trying to sail their own craft—by wasting many advertising dollars on questionable schemes.

When it comes to advertising, too many business men seem to lay aside the keen judgement which brings them success in buying and selling merchandise. They do not buy advertising on a basis of value received for each dollar. To play the role of "good fellow" they often divide their advertising appropriation into bits, wastefully spattering a little here and a little there without due consideration of whether or not each advertising dollar is bringing the maximum return.

Farmer Jones of the Sleepy Hollow school gets a ten dollar contribution under the guise of an "advertisement" on the new curtain for their school auditorium. Another ten dollars is spent for a space in a cook book or a hotel directory or what have you, which can attract the attention of comparatively few people—and as a sales stimulant is worth about as much to Mr. Merchant as the attention he would get by walking down Main Street attired in his B. V. D's.

Mr. High Pressure then comes along with a souvenir proposition or calendar which he paints as a great builder of good will for Mr. Merchant—and a few more ten dollar bills are charged to the advertising account without a chance of profit in sales.

During the course of a hundreds of dollars may be spent "schemes" charging all the while, of course, to advertising. The who includes these and other wasteful ways of spending his advertising program, business under a serious. This plan is about as sensible as trying to cross the ocean in a sailboat. His loss in unproductive sales reaches a total which reaches heavy inroads on his profit. He cannot hope to keep pace with the sales organization, powerful advertising program which yields maximum returns for every dollar invested.

Check over your spring advertising program now. Make sure you are a winner in the race for business by concentrating your advertising in newspaper advertising. Buy by leading merchants every day. The most economical, most profitable and most thorough means of advertising your sales message. Buy newspaper advertising space. Buy the "sugar coated" proposition of buying advertising on the basis of results alone.

Junior-Senior Banquet

To add to the spirit of festivity, lively music was furnished by the Junior orchestra and much fun and noise was derived from the horns and confetti until one was made to wonder if there was not need for an S. O. S. message.

MOODY IS OUT FOR GOVERNOR

ENTERS RACE TO BEAT FERGUSON AND MAYFIELD; FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT LATER

Austin, May 9.—Gov. Dan Moody will be a candidate for governor, he said Friday noon. His words were: "I am figuring on getting into the race."

"The prospect," he added, "of being forced to choose in the runoff between James E. Ferguson, a demagogue for corruption, running in his own name or the name of somebody else, and Mayfield, a political quack, and a demagogue, is not inviting to the people of Texas."

Governor Moody will seek election for a third consecutive term. He will not issue his formal announcement, it is known, until after he has made a number of commencement addresses and filled other non-political engagements, that might be "embarrassed" by his being a candidate.

The six issues he recently enumerated as requiring the attention of the people in the next two years, were expected to be his main platform though he will favor other things as well and will be "against some things," it was known. These six things were: Adjust taxes to relieve unjust burdens on farms and real property; modern prison system; lobby-free legislature; public utilities control; extending power of state board of education to equalize opportunities in poor districts.—Amarillo News.

THE VAGABOND KING

King in the Paramount All-Talking, All-Color Production "The Vagabond King"

Plays Important Role

Sharon Lynn Plays Featured Role In New Musical Talkie, "Crazy That Way"

Sharon Lynn, who has a featured role in the Fox Movietone production, "Crazy That Way," is the joy of a film director's heart because of her many attributes. It will be presented at the Ellis Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. In the first analysis Miss Lynn is a beautiful girl, wears smart clothes divinely and abbreviated garments alluringly, has auburn hair and is versatility personified for she can lead a singing and dancing ensemble as those who have seen and heard "Turn On the Heat" in "Sunny Side Up" may testify to and then turn about and give a pleasing interpretation of an in- genue role.

As a young society girl, thrilled over her first divorce, she has a most engaging role in "Crazy That Way," directed by Hamilton MacFadden, former New York stage producer, whose first contribution to the talking screen was "Harmony at Home."

In the audible screen version of Vincent Lawrence's successful stage play, Joan Bennett and Kenneth MacKenna are co-featured with Regis Toomey, Jason Robards and Lumsden Hare in important roles.

MANY SONG HITS IN "THE ROGUE SONG"

Two famous composers are an integral part of the success of "The Rogue Song," introduction to the talking screen of Lawrence Tibbett, the famous opera star. Tibbett sings songs by Franz Lehar, who wrote "The Merry Widow," and Herbert Stothart, famous American composer, in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer all color drama which comes Friday and Saturday, May 23 and 24, to the Ellis Theatre. Lionel Barrymore was the director.

DENNIS KING THRILLS FANS

GLAMOROUS YOUTH FORSAKES LEGITIMATE STAGE FOR SCREEN OFFER

Dennis King, who for the past two or three years has been hailed by critics as the greatest singing star of the Broadway musical comedy stage, will be seen and heard for the first time by movie audiences at the Ellis Theatre when "The Vagabond King" comes there on Friday and Saturday. "The Vagabond King" was the vehicle for Dennis King's greatest singing achievement. It had a sen- sationally long run of more than a full season's duration in New York and made an impressive tour in other cities afterward. King's rise to fame was meteoric. As a lad he was fascinated by the stage. His first bit parts were with John Drinkwater's repertory theatre in Birmingham, England. He came to the United States in the English company of "Monsieur Beaucaire" after he was wounded in service in the British Expeditionary forces.

Later he played in Jane Cowl's New York company of "Romeo and Juliet," achieving great fame in the role of Mercutio. His friends persuaded him to de- velop his singing voice, and this brought him an engagement in Rose Marie, which established him as a leader in romantic singing roles. Then came the sensational and glamorous "The Vagabond King." The music for "The Vagabond King" was written by Rudolph Friml, whose long and successful career as a composer began in 1912 with "The Firefly." Other musical comedies and operettas which he has written music for are "Katinka," "Sometime," "Rose Marie" and "The Three Musketeers." The thrill- ing Friml songs of the original pro- duction have been carried to the all- talking screen in Paramount's gorgeous all-color screen version of "The Vagabond King."

AT MIDNIGHT HE STOLE INTO HER ROOM

A song on his lips— his blood afire—who could resist him?

Miss Nobody from Nowhere

BY ELIZABETH JORDAN

"Yes," he told her, thinking it out as he spoke. "We can do it like this: I will get out of the cab a block from the hotel and walk the rest of the way. When you reach the Garland, go to the desk in the main hall, and ask the clerk if there's any mail for you. If there is, it may give you all the information you need. Anyway, it will give you your name. If there isn't any mail the clerk may mention your name as he tells you so. In any case, go from the desk to the writing room at the left of the entrance and sit down at one of the double writing tables. I will come into the hotel just behind you, and after you have left the desk, if I see that you haven't got anything, I'll ask Robinson, the day clerk, who you are and where you're from. He'll tell me. He's a nice chap and we've talked a lot since I came. Then I'll come in and sit down opposite you at the desk you have chosen and if there's any one else in the room I will cater to convention by asking you to lend me a blotter or something of that sort. We can fall into a low-voiced chat, and I'll tell you what I've learned."

"You think of everything," she assured him, with relief; and again there was a faint suggestion of a smile around her mouth.

There was no trace of a smile ten minutes later, however, when the clerk, having greeted her with evident recognition but without mentioning her name, turned from his inspection of the mail rack to tell her there were no letters. It was a heavy blow, but she left the desk without signs of its effect. The hotel was strange to her.

Nothing she saw suggested that she had ever been there before, except the attitude of the clerk. He had gone to the mail rack with the assurance of one who knew exactly what he was looking for, and he had also run over a few letters on his desk. On a second thought she turned back to him.

"My key, please."

He took a key from the rack and handed it to her, and when she had found the writing room and sat down at a table she looked at the number on the brass tag. One hundred and twenty-eight. So the young man with the nice face was right that far. She was a registered guest at this hotel, and the hotel itself, though a trifle passe, was reassuring in appearance and atmosphere.

Her slight delay had caused her to pass her new acquaintance in the lobby and he stepped aside to make way for her, raising his hat with conventional courtesy as he did so. She responded with an almost imperceptible negative sign, but he saw it and approached his friend Robinson.

"Who is that girl?" he asked casually, nodding at the slight retreating figure, as he lit the match he had asked for and applied it to a cigarette. "She sits at the table next to mine."

Robinson gave him an understanding grin.

"Easy to look at, isn't she? Her name is Parsons, I think—Miss Eve Parsons. At least it's as much like that on the register as like anything. She begins a word with one big clear letter and goes on with a wavy line. But we've called her Miss Parsons ever since she came and she answers to it," he added philosophically, "so I guess it's all right."

"Where's she from?"

"The young man lounged against the desk in the manner of a visitor to the city, talking without much interest but to kill time; and the clerk good-humoredly bore with him, having nothing else to do at the moment."

"That's another queer thing," Robinson remembered. "I can't make out her home town, except that it begins with N. I meant to ask her, but I forgot. Jenkins, the night clerk, was here when she registered three night ago, and he did not pay much attention because she said she was leaving again the next morning. I suppose, she changed her mind, the way women do," he ended with large tolerance. "Anyway, you see she didn't go."

"How about her letters? They would settle the matter of the name, at least," the guest suggested.

"She hasn't had any yet."

"I wonder if I could make out the names. I'm rather good at reading scrawls. Do you mind letting me look at the register?"

Robinson produced the book, turning back two pages with a smile.

As he talked he ran a finger down the short list of entries, but his companion, whose interest seemed deeper now, found the name they wanted, before the clerk did.

Here it is," the guest exclaimed, adding absently, "that's odd," as he studied the wavy line of the last word.

"Can you make out the town?"

The clerk was beginning to think there might be more in this than appeared on the surface. The guest's face took on its most matter-of-fact expression, and he glanced at his watch as if abruptly reminded of the flight of time. "It seems to be Nipert," he indifferently suggested, "one of those small towns one never hears of unless one lives in them."

"The young man strolled away into the writing room. It was empty except for the girl, so he wasted no time but went directly to her and seated himself in a chair beside hers.

"Good afternoon, Miss Parsons," he began.

She drew a quick breath.

"Is that it?"

"No, but that's what they call you here at the hotel."

She looked confused and puzzled.

"It doesn't mean anything to me," she bleakly admitted, "but what makes you think it isn't right?"

"Because I happen to know a little French."

As she waited uncomprehendingly, he took a card from the desk rack, wrote a line on it, and laid it before her.

"Your signature on the register isn't very legible," he explained,

"and the hotel people interpreted your name as Parsons. But this is what it looked like. Does that mean anything?"

She shook her head.

"Evidently you know French, don't you?"

"I think I do. I'm not very sure about what I know and what I don't know."

"Then let me write it more clearly as I interpret it. Does this mean anything?" He wrote another card and she read it in a low voice.

"Miss Eva Personne, Nulle part."

"Miss Eva Nobody, Nowhere," she slowly translated and looked at him with a whitening face. "What does it mean?"

There was a note of actual hysteria in her voice, and he quieted her with a quick gesture.

"Don't be frightened," he begged. "We're getting our explanation, but we've got to do some guesswork. It may mean that you were rather desperate when you came here. Perhaps you were afraid of a nervous breakdown and felt it coming; perhaps you were hiding from some one; anyway, you certainly registered in a way that gave no clue to who you are."

"Then we're just where we were!" she cried out. "What shall I do?"

He found his card-case and taking a card from it, laid the bit of pasteboard beside the two already on the desk before her.

"First of all, remember that this little episode won't last long. Then remember that I'm here to see you through," he said comfortably. "I am your friend and brother for the time, if you will have me." It was hard to see that look of terror in her eyes. "Memory may come back any minute you know, as suddenly as it left," he again reminded her.

To steady her he pushed his card directly under her eyes and went on talking.

Club," he read aloud, and added the penciled word "Chicago" to the address. She gathered up the three cards without comment and dropped them into her hand-bag.

"Evidently I have a room in this hotel," she said. "Perhaps when I go to it I shall find some papers or other clues in my luggage."

He looked at his watch and casually added that he had a suggestion to make. He had been thinking hard.

"It's a quarter of six," he said. "Suppose we dine here together at seven. You must eat something, you know, to keep up your strength. Then, if you haven't found any more clues in your room, I shall ask you to let me look up the best psychiatrist in town and have him come here this evening."

As she began to protest he raised his hand.

"Just hear me through," he begged. "I know a little about such cases, and my theory is that you will be all right in a day or two, or in a few days at the most. I mean to stand by till you are. But I want to find a reliable man, and have him see you, and give him all the facts we know and show him my credentials, so that he'll let me act as your counselor and friend. If you insist, we will wait till morning to send for him. If you seriously object to a doctor, we won't have one. I am not going to risk losing by officiousness, any confidence you may have in me. But I've simply got to tell you what I think we ought to do, and then let you make your own decisions. You see that, don't you? I wouldn't be worthy of your trust in me if I didn't do it."

She drew a deep sigh that was half a groan.

"It's amazingly kind of you to take all this trouble. I wonder if I've ever had an attack like this before.

Somehow I feel that I haven't I know you are being a Good Samaritan. And," she slowly admitted, "I suppose you are right about sending for the specialist."

Mr. R. Stephen Carrick, who dropped in at eight o'clock with the casual air of one making an evening call, was as human as he was distinguished. He listened patiently to Hamilton's preliminary recital, asked a few leading questions, and made a thorough examination of his patient in a manner that was not too impressive. He left Miss Parsons very much encouraged—they had decided to adopt the hotel's name for her, but when he found himself alone with Hamilton in the hotel waiting room his manner was less care-free.

"It's a case one can't safely make any predictions about," he confessed. "If we knew what had caused the condition, or what the patient's previous life has been, we could do some guessing; and one man's guess would be about as good as another's."

"Her general health seems to be good. She's a highstrung, temperamental creature, but she has dignity and poise, even in this condition, and I'd wager she's kept herself pretty well in hand all her life. I'm guessing the some big jolt caused this—something that just about sent her off her head."

On the whole, their talk left the Good Samaritan glad he had shared his responsibilities; and later, in Miss Parson's upstairs sitting-room, he gave her a carefully edited report of Carrick's conclusions.

"He thinks, as I do," he robustly announced, "that it's merely a temporary matter. He told you that, himself. Your memory may return any minute, or it may not come back for some time—possibly not for several days," he optimistically added, observing the quick change in her expression.

"As I expected, he wants a nurse with you at night," he went on, "and he will send a good one within an hour. He knows of just the right person. I'll stay with you till she comes. She is an understanding, tactful woman, and she realizes that she is engaged simply as a companion."

When he stopped she rose and walked to a window of her sitting room, where she stood for a moment with her back to him, staring out at the night. He had too much understanding to speak or even to approach her. But he could watch her and he did.

She was very slight and girlish, and in the rather dim room the light from a gold-shaded bulb near her gave her bobbed bronze-tinted hair the effect of a halo around her small head. Her situation moved him profoundly. Life was a queer thing, he told himself as solemnly as if the discovery had been unique. Last night at this time he hadn't known that girl was on earth. Tonight she was his biggest interest, his greatest responsibility.

When Will Daniels of Kern Co., arrived at his new home he discovered that, during the night, thieves had stolen all the wiring from the building.

To Take Care Of The Lawn

FEEDING OF THE PLANT FOOD

tal region. Bermuda grass is considered best for all soils. There are, however, sections in the middle Southern states and special conditions where good mixtures of the harder grasses have produced satisfactory results.

The usual practice is to start Bermuda lawns in the spring, either with seeds or stolons. They can, however, be started at any time after warm weather begins and until late summer. Probably STAOINN late summer. Properly fed with a complete, well balanced plantfood, a Bermuda lawn will retain a beautiful dark green color throughout the summer.

Kentucky Blue Grass and mixtures of the harder grasses are best suited to the upper mountainous sections of the South.

St. Augustine grass, also known as Charleston grass, and carpet grass, are well adapted to the sandy soil of the coastal region and will thrive where few other grasses will grow.

Where seeds are grown, it is doubly important to keep the seedbed moist until germination takes place; the young grass should not be allowed to dry out.

If the lawn is properly made in the beginning, it will be necessary only to mow, water and feed it with a complete, properly balanced plantfood to keep it in prime condition for an indefinite time.

Regular feeding with a complete, properly balanced plantfood will take care of the entire food requirements of the lawn, and will also take care of the sumus requirements by producing a thick extensive root system, a part of which will normally decay each year as new growth takes place, the humus content of the soil thus being maintained.

Chas. Gunnells, Dallas, visited Sunday night with his mother, Mrs. H. D. Gunnells, and with his sister, Mrs. F. A. Edwards.

When the soil is properly prepared, apply a properly balanced plantfood evenly on the surface, about one-half to one pound to every 100 sq. ft. (10 ft. x 10 ft.). Work it into the surface soil with a rake or level off the surface after planting by the vegetable, as the case may be. If the soil contains all the nutrients, as it contains all the nutrients, the worst of weeds—those that are not to be considered trouble the weeds later on.

Best seed obtainable and sow enough. Sow seed in rows. Good distribution can be obtained by sowing one-half the seed in one row and the other half crosswise.

When the seed, go over the surface with a roller to firmly pack the seed in the soil; then water.

Grass Recommended

Kind of grass, for the soil, except in the upper section and sandy coasts.

Vaccines

Some time ago I attended a meeting of my medical society, the program being a sort of symposium—"What I Know About Vaccines"—all members were to participate in the discussion. After several interesting talks, one physician, noted for his terseness and pointed expression, arose and said, "I can tell you in very short time what I know about vaccines—not a damn thing!"

Nevertheless the vaccines have come to stay. With their judicious and timely use, typhoid fever has all but become a thing of the past. We have learned to depend upon immunizing effects of certain vaccines, and thus prevent colds and like respiratory infections. It is believed that we can immunize against influenza, and I am perfectly sure that I have done so in many instances. Just how long the immunity holds good we do not know very definitely.

It is not to be wondered at that we don't know a very great number of things, such as the invisible line of immunity; but we do know that certain vaccines keep off certain diseases; the principle has been proven in our rather crude method of vaccinating against smallpox. With diligent safeguarding we have almost banished that scourge from our shores.

Some individuals have complained to me that "as soon as winter sets in I get a cold that stays with me till warm weather comes again"; and this very season I have vaccinated several that missed their "colds" this year so far. Your own physicians if you consult him about it, will do his utmost to prevent your getting sick; and he will know the best preparation to employ in your case. Of course there are many worthless preparations made to sell; that is the case with every branch of the health game. A vaccine, or immunizing preparation, made by a reliable, well-known manufacturer, is dependable.

Undoubtedly many additions will be made to this nucleus, and some of the books will be less read than others, but there are many among them which will never die. In the list are such great American classics as Mark Twain's "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn", such truly great books as Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" and Kingsley's "Westward Ho" as well as many of the great histories, biographies, books of travel and of poetry, in addition to the best of the works of the writers of today.

Leaving out the moderns, whose work still has to stand the test of time, and limiting it to books more than twenty-five years old, this library contains within itself all the elements of a complete, well-rounded education. I can think of no better way to bring up young folks to a high standard of morals, honor, courage and duty than to turn them loose when children in the company of the great masters of literature.

TELEVISION

The other day I sat in a little room on Bethune Street, New York, and talked face to face with a man in another room on Dey Street, three miles away. I could see him and he could see me, as plainly as if he were in the same room. The conversation was as if we were talking across a table—no telephone instruments to speak into or to hold to the ear.

That was the first public demonstration of two-way television. It works. The electrical engineers who explained it told me that it will work over ten thousand miles by radio as easily as over those three miles by wire.

It is still very expensive to install and maintain. It will be cheapened. Very soon there will be little rooms in every important center of population, like the ones Mr. Campbell and I sat in, to which anybody can go and for a fee talk to people hundreds of miles away, seeing them as if face to face.

Television is another age-old dream come true.

"Believe it or not" Ripley could hardly get away with this yarn: The New Hampshire legislature forgot to appropriate money for the members' pay before adjourning.

And speaking of relativity again, Dr. Edna Heibredner declares that "an insane person is just like a sane one—only more so."

Persons who feel the urge to open a new filling station might well consider the opportunities in Ethiopia. In that country gasoline is selling for 91 cents a gallon.

half of the 30,000 annual automobile accidents in the United States occur where highways cross tracks on the same grade. States have begun work on projects of eliminating every grade crossing, compelling the railroads to bear most of the cost. The Federal Government is taking an active part in this movement. In the United States roads which are built with a grade of 1.5 percent are eliminated on all roads.

It is not always necessary to build a bridge over the railroad or a subway under it. Only 995 of these crossings were eliminated in that the others were abolished by simple means of relocating the tracks.

Some of the things that is going to be done in America is a high-speed system in which this cause of death and death will be absent.

At the White House as future Presidents will have a good reading matter for leisure hours, if any. A committee of the American Booksellers Association has selected a library of hundred volumes which has been presented to the United States White House library.

The Way of Life
by BRUCE BARTON

What Makes a Job Good?

One morning the elevator starter was breaking in a new elevator boy. At noon the new boy was running the car alone. He had on a uniform, and was starting and stopping with the confidence of a veteran.

From apprentice to professional in a couple of hours.

What thoughts are in that young fellow's head as he receives his instructions from the gray-haired veteran?

How can he fail to look forward and see in the older man a picture of himself twenty years from now. He is taking up a low paid job—a job with no future. Twenty years from now he will be just where he is today—only older, with a grasp on the job somewhat less secure. His experience will count for nothing, because it is experience that any other man can gain in a couple of days.

He may from time to time, force an increase in his pay. But the increases will not be large. Why? Because he learned the job in two days. And in any other two days the company can find plenty of men who will learn just as fast and take the job away from him.

Recently I met in a hotel restaurant a friend of mine who has just come back from England after taking special work in surgery under some of the greatest men in the world.

He is thirty-one years old; it is fourteen years since he entered college.

For ten of those fourteen years he has been in medical schools, in hospitals, and in foreign countries studying.

Fourteen long years of hard, uninterrupted study. Years made more difficult by the necessity for self-support; and filled sometimes with questionings, as he has seen his college class-mates moving forward to their place as well as paid physicians, and he lingering still in school.

Yet with what result? He has acquired a specialized training such as only a few other men in New York possess.

He will begin life with an income of several thousands; he will pay back his educational debts in a couple of years; in ten years his income will be tens of thousands.

Fourteen years of his life went into the mastery of his profession. But he need have no fear of losing what he has gained. No other man can displace him, except at the cost of fourteen years of work.

And when he said it he epitomized the philosophy of business.

The job that the gods sell for two hours' training is worth just what it costs.

Only that job is worth much which has tied to it the price tag of constant, unceasing study and work.

"I had a very bad case of stomach trouble and liver disorders," he continued, "that knocked me out so I hardly felt like working at times. My stomach was in such an awful fix everything I would eat disagreed with me and made me miserable all the time. I would have heart burn so I could hardly stand it in fact, for a whole month before taking Argotane I just felt completely worn out."

"I commenced to read in the papers about several Amarillo people who have been taking Argotane and getting a world of good out of it, so I began to feel better from the very start and before the week was out I was feeling more like nothing had ever been the matter with me. WHAT DR. CALDWELL LEARNED IN 47 YEARS PRACTICE

A physician watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the system and is not habit forming. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for anybody's system. In a practice of 47 years he never saw any reason for their use when Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope, but go to the nearest druggist and get one of the generous bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BOYS AND GIRLS

Mitzi Green, 9-year-old movie star, recently arrived in New York from Hollywood, carrying a big doll as a part of her luggage.

Leonard Adams, 6-year-old Nebraska boy, about to be overtaken on a trestle by a railroad train, saved himself by clinging to a girder on the edge of the structure until the train passed.

Sammy Kramer, 14 of New York, has gained considerable fame as a violinist and has been awarded a valuable music scholarship.

Billy Meredith, 8 months old, was operated on at an Albany, Cal., hospital. Now his parents are suing the hospital, claiming that the surgeons worked on the wrong boy.

Joe Miske, 11, made a phenomenal bowling record during the past season at a Milwaukee bowling alley owned by his father.

Dorothy Compton, school girl of Warwick, R. I., shot 49 field goals in a basket ball game which is thought to be a world's record.

Recently it was noted that a New Carlisle, O., hearse bore the gloomy inscription "Doom Brothers, Undertakers." Now Abilene, Tex., counters with "The Laughter Undertaking Company."

Buy your paint on the job basis . . . and save

SWP—the world's best house paint—costs less on your house than cheaper paint. This is because its wonderful body thoroughly covers more square feet of surface per gallon. Therefore its slightly higher price per gallon is more than made up by the fewer gallons needed for the job. That is why you should buy by the job—not by the gallon.

The beautiful, weatherproof SWP colors and its tough film last twice as long as cheaper paints. That means that you save from 50% to 60% on repainting when you use SWP. It is the world's greatest house paint bargain. Note the many Friday and Saturday Suggestions we offer this week.

A Pigmy Does A Giant's Work— Metal Hercules Proves Great Aid

A metallic Hercules—weighing 7,700 pounds—can lift 10,000 pounds with the utmost ease and glide about the cable factory of the Western Electric Company at three miles an hour indefinitely, without once pausing for breath.

This prodigy is the answer to a problem which made factory engineers knit their brows. The question to be solved was how reels of lead covered cable could be transported from one part of the factory to another without the use of overhead cranes. When these huge reels leave the lead presses there are several additional operations required before they are ready to be shipped to their proper destinations in the Bell Telephone System. What was needed was a vehicle that could squeeze through narrow places with a maximum of ease.

For some time no solution to the problem was offered. The reels were taken through the various processes by laborious hand rolling methods not only difficult and awkward but very slow and considerably wearing on both the reel and the man rolling it.

In the early part of last year the answer finally appeared on the floor of the cable plant; an electric truck, run by storage batteries—with a lifting capacity of 10,000 pounds—and no projecting beams or elaborate mechanism to take up badly needed space.

After a trial the new truck went into regular use in the cable shops and since that time has become indispensable in handling cable. During a year an average of 20,000 reels of lead covered cable is packed up three times and carried a total distance of 500 feet. This is the equivalent of lifting one reel weighing 10,000 pounds seventy-eight thousand times and carrying it a distance of approximately twenty-five hundred miles.

CHAMP WOMAN LOOPER

Another remarkable airplane feat by a woman was performed a few days ago when Miss Laura Ingalls of New York made 344 consecutive loops over a field at St. Louis, setting a new world's record for women.

But that was not all. After replenishing her gasoline from a reserve tank while in the air, she made 66 additional loops before landing, but these did not count for record. The total of 410 loops was made in an hour and 45 minutes at an altitude of about 8,000 feet.

Upon landing Miss Ingalls expressed disappointment that she had to stop to refuel, as she had set out to make 400 consecutive loops. Her great record was an official one, however, as her performance was checked by representatives of the International Aeronautic Federation who used field glasses and a counting machine to verify the number of loops made.

Miss Ingalls is 25 years old, and recently received her transport pilot's license, being the 13th woman in the United States to qualify under the rigid requirements for such a license.

The courage and skill of the rapidly increasing number of women flyers compels the highest admiration.

ANIMALS KEEP SUNDAY

An interesting fact concerning the lions, tigers and leopards in the New York Zoo is related by the director of the park.

Describing the feeding of the various animals, he states that these big representatives of the cat family are fed only red, raw meat, with an occasional dash of cod-liver oil. Beef is generally used, but horse meat is also given them at intervals. But the interesting thing concerns the day of fasting these animals.

Lindy's Blind Double

Folks who know Diedrich Ranke, this 21-year-old senior student at Louisiana State University, say he not only looks like Col. Lindbergh, but that he matches him in courage and popularity. For young Ranke is stone blind, but he did not let that handicap hold him back. He ranks third in class standing out of 221 students and has been elected valedictorian by his admiring classmates.

TO POLE UNDER ICE

Men have reached both Poles by land and air. One more means of reaching them remains to be tried, by submarine. Sir Hubert Wilkins, noted British aviator and explorer, proposes to try it.

According to his audacious plan recently made public, he will submerge at Spitzbergen and attempt to navigate under the ice across the North Pole and bob up again on the coast of Alaska.

Ordinary mortals can not imagine what it is that drives daring adventurers to undertake such hazardous exploits. But when the urge to high adventure gets into the blood it seems that nothing can eradicate it. The idea of doing something no other man has ever done before holds a fascination which for many is irresistible.

And to this unconquerable spirit of adventure the world owes most of its progress from the earliest times until now.

BUYING PIGS IN A POKER

There is an old-time warning to the effect that one should never buy "a pig in a poke." But a lot of French people have been doing something like that, or worse, according to a press dispatch.

A concern called "French Porkery, Limited," put on a strong advertising campaign for investors, with such slogans as "Buy less stocks; they are paper. Buy more pigs; they are meat." "When your pig grows up we sell him at the very highest price. In the meantime we pay you from 10 to 12 per cent interest."

Thousands bought pigs they had never seen, and for a time received their interest. Then the sad news came to all investors alike: "Your pigs have died; we could not sell sick pigs."

Then the investors—not the pigs—began to squeal. Promoters of the scheme will be tried for swindling.

"I want diamond rings, not plain ones," grumbled a robber who stopped Mrs. Kathleen Coros in Chicago. She had turned her rings on her fingers, thus hiding diamonds worth more than $1,500.

When Merle Todd fell between two moving freight cars at Cadillac, Mich., his body broke the air hose connection and the cars came to a stop before their wheels touched his body. He was only bruised.

North Plains Mutual Hail Insurance Association

TRUE COOPERATIVES will cooperate with each other. The Farmers Cooperative Society and the Perryton Equity Exchange will cooperate with the North Plains Mutual Hail Insurance Association in its effort to solve the Hail Insurance problems in Texas, north of the Canadian River.

Likewise, the banks in Perryton, whose bank deposits will be increased in proportion as their customers patronize the above Mutual Hail Insurance Association, will cooperate with us in an effort to reach our $300,000.00 reserve by the first of August, 1930.

The North Plains Mutual Hail Insurance Association is patterned after the Planters Mutual Hail Insurance Co. of Pampa, Texas, a company that has paid all its hail losses during the last twelve years, and reserve deposited in the banks of Roberts, Gray and Carson counties $162,000.00.

This service was rendered by the Pampa Mutual at an average of four and three-tenths per cent for overhead expense and actual hail loss plus an average of two per cent additional for reserve, or a total of six and three-tenths per cent per annum during the last twelve years shown by the books of the Pampa Mutual.

Farmers! What have you been paying for hail insurance? Fall in and watch your own business grow. The rate, no matter whether you come a member now or hereafter, will be ten per cent payable on the 1st of August of each year, unless you find it advisable to plow up your land due to continual drought conditions.

Barring the above conditions, this premium will be collected from members, the first year, in order to build up that necessary reserve. In your first year, the premium you pay, will be dependent upon the actual hail loss sustained, which based upon the Pampa Mutual, will not exceed on the average, six and three-tenths per cent per annum.

For any information concerning the North Plains Mutual Hail Insurance Association, inquire at the home office at Spearman, or see G. Leatherman, G. M. Cooper, Geo. M. Perry or C. E. Woods of Perryton.

A Bully Idea

See that your bull gets plenty of exercise. A bull that is soft in muscle and wind is more susceptible to disease and death than one in vigorous health and full of energy. A good plan for any bull not mean or vicious is to hitch him with one of the horses, or even alone, and put to work as a horse now and then.

There is a century of service back of every McCormick-Deering farm machine—it goes free with the purchase.

The addition of chopped alfalfa hay and oilmeal to a ration of yellow corn and tankage for hogs increases the efficiency of the feeding.

A reliable implement dealer is a valuable asset to the farm community. If this service is satisfactory he is entitled to a living wage—that's all we ask.

GERM-PROCESSED
 FACIOUS
 FILM . . .

... Compared with Popular
 Oils at Pike's Peak . . . Reveals 76.4% Less Motor Wear! . . .

We sincerely believe that this disclosure alone will cause you to begin using CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil . . . such decided reduction in motor wear . . . such triumph over the savage attack of friction and heat . . . such positive supremacy over the oil you have been using, all have a definite appeal to your pocketbook and judgment.

Charts prepared from the Pike's Peak Test records indicate a longer life for your motor by lubricating it with Germ-Processed Oil. Too, you will save substantially on your gasoline cost, and in oil expense, by using this oil. And the fact that Germ-Processed oil penetrates metal surfaces means, that after starting your car on a cold morning you can safely drive at top speed with less likelihood of damage . . . for CONOCO'S film is already on the job.

Less Carbon—Less Cost—More Mileage and Less Heating—More Compression. All these things mean a better all-around motor. It is truly unusual for a motor oil to so excel competition as CONOCO did in the Pike's Peak Tests. Tested out on the Pike's Peak Highway, scene of many famous automobile tests, was a memorable struggle for supremacy . . . On the one side, three of America's representative and popular oils—on the other, Germ-Processed oil. And CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil won, by all tests applied.

Only CONOCO can make Germ-Processed oils. CONOCO can give you these new motor oil merits, including penetrative lubricity. We hope to serve you soon, at stations displaying the Red Triangle.

SEND NOW for the new Free Booklet which describes in detail the story of the Pike's Peak Tests. Illustrated with photographs and charts. Address Continental Oil Company, Ponca City, Okla., or at the station with the Red Triangle.

In spite of all the warnings given, and in the face of the appalling waste of life held daily before our eyes.

The pitiful part of this continuous tragedy is that most of these casualties are entirely unnecessary, and might be prevented by the exercise of ordinary common sense. They are due either to an insane desire for speed or an utter disregard for the most elementary rules of safety.

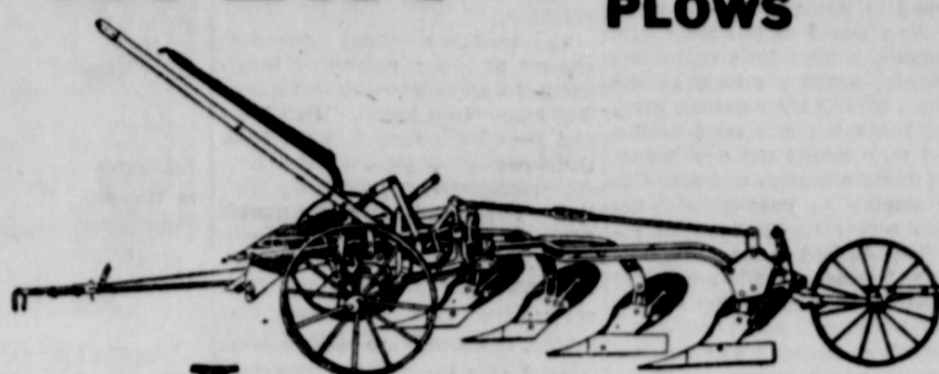

Many of the victims are helpless passengers, whose lives are at the mercy of criminally reckless or incompetent drivers. Some accidents are apparently unavoidable, of course, but in the vast majority of cases they are the result of pure carelessness on the part of both motorists and pedestrians.

And even the most careful driver is often helpless when he encounters a fool on street or highway.

AVERY SERIES 20-30 TRACTOR MOLDBOARD PLOWS

Let us show you the most remarkable of all tractor-drawn PLOWS!

We want you to come in and see the important labor, time and money saving features on the new Avery Series 20 and Series 30 Tractor Moldboard Plows. The most profitable investment in modern, efficient, up-to-the-minute plowing equipment a farmer can find anywhere. Light draft, ease of operation, unusual durability and special construction combine to give it good-plowing qualities that place this tractor-drawn plow in a "value" class all by itself.

The Series 20 is for two- or three-furrow plowing; the Series 30 can be equipped with three or four bottoms. But the smashing big feature of both series is the new power lift device. Completely does away with the setting and resetting of hand lever at the end of every furrow. Regardless of the hand lever and regardless of soil condition it keeps the plows always thrown the same distance above the ground.

This new labor-saving device is one of the most practical ever invented even by Avery. There are many other good points about these plows you will find equally interesting. Do you want to cut plowing costs? Come and let us show you how it's done!

Other items of interest in AVERY Series 20-30

- Roller Bearing Coulters
- "Figure Four" Rigid Hitch
- Extra large wheels
- Balanced Plow Bottoms

So The People May Know!

Competition is the life of business. It insures better value, better business methods and last, but not least, better psychology of satisfaction between buyer and customer.

Business concerns overcome competition in two ways—by the offer of good sound quality at prices consistent with that quality and to yield a fair profit. "Caterpillar" having the immense resource and the experience of many years in the manufacture of fine machinery, coupled with the direct method of distribution, through only one service dealer, are able to offer quality at a price that has been a revelation in the machinery world. This fact is evidenced by the direct fight that practically every machinery dealer is making on every conceivable phase of our business. They are not in a position to offer the value and therefore are attempting to sell on the basis of discredit to "Caterpillar" products rather than on the merit of their own lines.

Consider the frequent statements made to you; weigh them for correctness, then analyze why it is necessary for the majority to combine against the policies of one concern. We are attacked not by the visible comparison of specification; not by the comparing of reputation; not by the yardstick of machine dollar and cents value; not by the comparison of upkeep and cost of like repair units. Why? Because they realize antiquated methods of manufacture, indirect methods of selling and excessive discounts to absorb excessive trade allowance, high pressure advertising and unbusiness-like credit risk, will not permit such comparison.

Compare the unit price asked you for a tractor, grader, or harvester, at your railroad station in comparison with factory list price. Is the freight figured on actual carload rate basis? Are you asked to pay only the freight paid? Is the setting up and handling labor charge reasonable? Are you asked to pay more for the use of your entitled credit than if you paid cash and in addition asked to pay interest? What is the cost of repairs in comparison with the factory list with that you are asked to pay locally?

Compare these points with "Caterpillar" policy of charging the customer factory published list price plus actual carload freight. Compare setting repairs on the same basis and if you elect to use your entitled credit, you pay exactly the same cash price and are charged 8% interest for the actual time you use this credit. You are not asked to pay the bad debts of poor credit risk. We do not have an added margin to absorb these losses. We carry stocks for the actual needs of our customers, for their reasonable needs of good service and not as a matter of advertisement, or for the promotion service and not as a matter of advertisement, or for the promotion of our products on the basis of merit to other companies; do not sell on discredit of their established policies and do not attempt to use reputation as a substitute of value and quality.

We do not sell machinery as a side line; do not do business for only a short period of the year, then close up till next season. You are not asked to pay a profit on one line used a short season of the year sufficient to carry us till the next. We are established and doing business on the basis of good business dictates, operating full 12 months of the year, operating in twenty counties large enough to distribute executive costs properly, yet not large enough to lose close touch with our customers, so essential to meeting the demands of the trade.

Our employees are seasoned, well versed in your needs and in our ability to supply them are strategically located to serve you, and are substantial citizens of their respective territories.

We sell on the basis of quality and value, on our ability to serve you. We feel it is just as important to choose the company from which you buy as the product. A long successful career is a safer index to the character of the product than its mere represented design. The only sound guarantee of satisfaction is the character of the men who dominate the companies' policies. The "Caterpillar" organization, as well as the dealers organization, is in the management of men who are capable of directing the policies of the Company in such a manner as to build a record of friendly relationship with our customers and stay in a position to definitely maintain our policies of service and the integrity of our products. These are the fundamental principles which have characterized business success from the beginning of business and are valid grounds and principles on which we respectfully solicit your business.

JESUS TEACHING IN THE TEMPLE
 Matthew 22:15-22; 34-40
 Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

After the Triumphant Entry into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday Jesus returned to Bethany for the night and came again to the Holy City on Monday. This time there was no special acclaim except as the children, true to their nature, played at procession and sang praises as did their adults the day before. When Jesus' attention was called to their singing as unseemly in the Temple courts He declined to rebuke them. Indeed in Jesus the children, and women, too, have found their best friend in all the history of world leaders. Again the night was spent at Bethany and another return made to Jerusalem on Tuesday. Then the withered fig tree was noted which because it showed only leaves and no fruit the previous day had been blighted for its mere pretention for in Palestine the fruit would come before the leaves.

This last day of public teaching is clearly divided into two parts. Read Matthew 23-24 and 25 for the instructions of that day. Chapter 23 gives the morning lessons. In the afternoon He went to the Mount of Olives (24:3).

Those who hated each other intensely united in their program to entrap Jesus. The Pharisees, Herodians and Sadducees were in opposing groups of thinkers, but they form a coalition against the One they regard as their common enemy. False flattery was used to get Him off His guard if possible. Then a trick question was propounded, which they thought would ensnare Him no matter how He might make reply. The Jew hated the Roman government and had to pay tax thereto. Shall tribute be paid to Rome was the query.

This time reply is made through an acted parable, something akin to pageantry that is very popular for teaching purposes in our day. Jesus asked for a roman coin. Of course none would be found within the temple area and recourse was possible made to one of the money changers, whose table had been overturned by Him the previous day. Think of the waiting company, and then note their interest as a denarius was held aloft and the question asked: "Whose picture and insignia?" In amazement the Herodians and Pharisees heard the injunction to do full duty both to the government in power and to Almighty God as well. Obligation was recognized to pay taxes to the authority that provided roads, safety and other values that come from the nation. At the same time the King of kings must receive the loyalty that belongs unto Him.

The Sadducees then tried their trick question about the resurrection state, in which they did not

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; of diarrhea checked. A vegetable product, a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that baby becomes fretful, or restless, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

ILL 12 YEARS KONJOLA WINS REAL VICTORY

Stubborn Case Soon Yields To Power Of New Medicine—Grateful Lady Eager To Tell Others

MRS. LILLIAN LORANE

"I suffered for twelve years from kidney trouble and nervousness," said Mrs. Lillian Lorane, Mablevale, Ark., near Little Rock. "My kidneys were in a very bad state and I was forced to rise many times each night. This naturally made sleep difficult. My nerves were in very bad condition and this seemed to affect my eye sight. I could scarcely go about my work and I was worried and discouraged. I seemed to have no energy for anything.

"I tried a great many medicines and treatments but nothing seemed to do me the least bit of good. I finally decided to give Konjola a trial and the benefit which I received from this medicine is almost unbelievable. Konjola built up my health until I am in better condition than I have been in years. My kidneys are normal and I can sleep without interruption. My entire system seemed to respond to this modern medicine and my friends all remark upon the improvement in my appearance."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. Taken after meals over a period of from six to eight weeks, this great medicine has made a remarkable record in the most stubborn cases.

Konjola is sold in Perryton, Texas, at the Perryton Drug Company drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

A BLOODLESS WAR

War has broken out between Russia and Rumania, according to a cable dispatch, but it is a bloodless war, confined so far to radio attacks and counter-attacks, such as we are becoming accustomed to in this country.

Declaring that the Russians have been employing their broadcasting station in Odessa for the purpose of disseminating Soviet propaganda inimical to Rumanian interests, Rumania has established a station at Chisinau for the purpose of counteracting the Russian communistic doctrine.

In order to make its defense more effective, the Rumanians are using the same wave-length as the Russians, so it is likely that neither will be heard to any great extent.

Radio listeners will doubtless promptly tune out both stations when the interference makes them unintelligible, so that the war of propaganda will probably end in a draw.

It might be disconcerting to some radio speakers if they could see the number of dials that are turned when they begin.

A Clean Thresher and a Grain Saver

Sectional View of the McCormick-Deering No. 8 Harvester-Thresher

12 Important McCormick-Deering Points

1. Adjustable to cut low. Gets lodged and tangled grain.
2. Continuation of grain-tight platform canvas forms lower elevator canvas. No grain lost at end of platform. Large capacity, wide elevator carries all grain to feeder.
3. Chain and slat feeder carries grain, heads first, into the cylinder. Direct front feed.
4. Spiked beater in feeder assures positive feeding and controls delivery of grain to cylinder.
5. Ninety per cent separation at cylinder. Straw and grain thus separated never mix again.
6. Four-section straw rack. Extends entire length of thresher from cylinder to straw spreader. Combs straw apart, drops it three times, thoroughly shakes out all the grain.
7. Extra long chaffer and cleaning sieve thoroughly cleans grain.
8. Revolving weed screen takes weed seeds out of threshed grain and bags them. Saves doctage and reduces spread of weeds.
9. Platform folds for transportation—does not have to be detached. No transport truck to buy.
10. A pioneer of small combines—backed by 99 years of practical harvesting-machine experience and by field tests under difficult conditions in the harvest fields of the world.
11. Expert service on the entire machine by permanent dealers and Company-owned branches.
12. Handles a variety of crops under a variety of conditions and seasons.

THE McCormick-Deering No. 8 Harvester-Thresher is noted among experienced threshermen for its ability to thresh cleanly and save all the grain. Elevator men write that grain threshed with the McCormick-Deering brings top prices and is free from weed seeds and stems, shriveled wheat kernels, and other trash.

The McCormick-Deering is designed according to the accepted principles so successful in stationary threshers. The continuation of the grain-tight platform canvas forms the lower elevator canvas. No grain is lost at the end of the platform. A large-capacity, wide elevator carries all the grain to the feeder. Direct front feed is assured on the McCormick-Deering. A chain and slat feeder carries grain, heads first, into the cylinder.

High Efficiency, Ball-Bearing Cylinder

A spike-tooth cylinder, the recognized type for clean threshing, is mounted on ball bearings, high enough to permit immediate separation of the grain by gravity through the concaves and grates. The grain separated here never mixes with the straw again. The feed throat has a capacity of 48 square inches—ample to handle any crop that can be successfully combined. Practically 90% separation occurs at the cylinder McCormick-Deering.

The straw delivered to the straw rack in it. Nevertheless, straw of extraordinary capacity are provided. It travels and is agitated over a separation of 100 inches by 37 inches. The straw rack is the four-section type, equipped with rakes which comb the straw apart, tossing it repeatedly until all the kernels are out. The cleaning area is unusually large. A sieve is 38 inches by 37 inches. A revolving screen separates and bags the weed seeds from the grain clean and reducing the spread in the fat by means of two knives until all is reduced to a fine powder. Add the cold water slowly and just enough to make the dough stick together. Put out on a floured board and roll thinly into circular shape to fit the plate. Fit it loosely into the plate, allowing it to come a little over the edge, as it shrinks when baked. Trim edges.

Although Robert Wadlow of Racine, Wis., is only 10 years old, he is 6 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 250 pounds.

If two crusts are used, moisten the edge of lower crust before placing upper crust and then press edges together to prevent juice from escaping.

Having mastered the pasty part of the pie, the next thing is to make the pie itself. Here are some suggestions for it:

Butterscotch Pie

Have ready one crust and make the filling as follows:
Two cups milk, two eggs, three tablespoons butter, two tablespoons cornstarch, one cup brown sugar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon vanilla.

Scald the milk in a double boiler. Mix the cornstarch and sugar; add to the milk. Stir until thick and cook for fifteen minutes. Add the butter and salt, then the lightly beaten egg yolks. Return to the double boiler and cook for one minute. Cool, add vanilla to flavor and fill crust with the mixture. Have ready the beaten egg whites combined with a tablespoon of sugar and make a meringue for the top of the pie. Return to the oven and bake until the meringue is brown.

Remember that one-crust pies are delicious in summer, when the filling may consist of fruit. Berries of all sorts, with whipped cream, make a delicious filling. And so do raw cherries, slightly sweetened after being pitted, with a soft custard poured over them in a pastry shell. Peaches are as good as berries with whipped cream in a one-crust pie.

Ranched Early Near Beaver

Settler Tells of First House Here and First Post Office in Strip

From August, 1911, to May, 1930, is a long time for newspaper "copy" to await publication, but such was the fate of the article printed below. It is from the pen of A. H. McCoy, under date of September 13, 1924, who wrote from his home in Cuthbert, Ga., to Fred C. Tracy, then Mayor of Beaver, and enclosed the article with this explanation: "In cleaning out an old desk I ran across a rough outline of an article I think I sent in 1911 to your editor, which was prompted by an article I chanced to see in the St. Louis Republic. Not being certain I sent it, I was prompted to re-write it and add some things that came to my mind, and send it to you knowing it sometimes is hard to get first hand facts of early history." Mr. McCoy went on to say without boasting, he believed he was one of the best posted men in this country in those days on what was going on.

Mr. Tracy received the manuscript and being busy, laid it in his desk for consideration later. He just got around to give that consideration last week, when, like Mr. McCoy, he was cleaning out a desk. So here is the much delayed bit of history:

In an article published in the Republic of July 27, on "No-Man's-Land," the writer began with 1826. There is a great deal of interesting history previous to that. And as I am able to go back a few years farther I will endeavor to give you an outline in a rambling way.

I think that it was in 1878 that Towers and Gudgeon and a man by the name of Ford established ranches on Coldwater Creek near the line between No-Man's-Land and Texas. The winter of 1878 and 79 a firm of livestock commission merchants of St. Louis, (Hunter Evans and Hunter) had a small herd from the old Chism ranch in New Mexico wintered on Hackberry, a small tributary of the Palo Duro; and Reed Word and Biler a southern Texas firm had a small herd wintered on the Beaver.

They had their dug-out at the Red Banks which is about four miles west of the town of Beaver. They both moved out in the spring of 1879. In 1878 Bartholomew Crawford, who was a native of Illinois and an old-time buffalo hunter, built a two room picket house on Sharps Creek at the crossing of the old Fort Bascom trail. He kept a little store and took care of the traveling public; what was usually called a "road ranch." In July, 1880, Hardisty Bros., men with a herd of cattle that they moved down from the Arkansas River and the writer got in on the Beaver between Sharps Creek and the Palo Duro at the same time. They were the first two ranches located on No-Man's-Land that expected to try to stay.

That same late summer or fall, E. C. Dudley and Son, located on the Beaver, west of Coldwater, and Hooley and Sons and Tool Cover located on the Beaver below Clear Creek. That winter the writer stayed in an old sod house that some buffalo hunters had built on Bull Creek and that winter 1879 and 80 I built a dug-out at the lower end of my range, which was on a small creek about a mile west of the crossing of the Jones and Plummer trail. The timber that was needed I got out of the sand hills at the Red Banks. In 1880 Arnold Bros. located a small ranch on Hackberry which is a small tributary to the Palo Duro and in 1881 Kramer Bros. located on the Beaver and Clear Creek and built an abode house about one mile west of the crossing of the Jones and Plummer trail, very near where I built my dug-out.

Beaver's First House
In the fall of 1879 a young man came out from Dodge City and built a small one room sod house just outside of the sand hills near the Jones and Plummer trail, north of the Beaver to use as a road ranch, but only stayed a short time and gave it up. I think that it was in 1880 that Nelsoe Cary and James Lane came out from Dodge City and built two sod houses of two rooms each, they lived in one room and kept a little stock of goods in one room of the other, and used the other as a public sleeping room. A stock of goods then consisted of a few underclothes, boots, pants, shirts, cards, beer and poor whiskey and tobacco. The bed for the traveler was generally one or two pairs of blankets, and some of buffalo robes, (as they were only worth about two dollars each then), and no pillow, as there was no "goose hair" in that country then. At this point is where the town of Beaver is built.

As to the good behavior of the people living in the strip at that time, I want to say that I do not believe that the U. S. ever had a section of frontier country with as many people in it, and as badly scattered, where the people were as well behaved, as to the reason I will leave the present generation to draw their own conclusions. Although it would seem that after the breaking up of many of the large ranches in 1885 and '86, that some of the former "punchers" became badly demoralized. Among them seemed to have been one they called "Longhairs," his name on my books appears as John Halford. He worked for me in 1884 and '85 and for the ranch in 1886. With me he was a quiet inoffensive kind of a boy. While young Olive was naturally wild and the son of a wild father who was killed by a quiet puncher in 1885, either at Trail City or Coolidge, Kansas. The old settlers of southern Nebraska of about the year 1887, '88 and '89, can give his record, and it would be by no means an enviable one.

The First Post Office
The No-Man's-Land was surveyed into townships in the winter and spring of 1881 and '82. In 1889 there was a Star Mail Route established from Dodge City, Kansas, to Tascosa, Texas. We got a post office established at Crawford's Ranch on Sharps creek with B. Crawford, post master. They would not give us one in No-Man's-Land, but they finally gave us one and listed it as being in Texas. So our office was called Tarbox, Texas. So this was the first post office in the strip. Although it was not listed as such. For some time this was as far as the mail was carried, but the ranch people at the head of the Palo Duro finally got an office established there, and called it Zulu, Texas, and they then had to go on through there with the mail. I think that it was carried through to Tascosa, but a very small part of the time. Tarbox was the first post office in the strip, but for some reason they would not list it as being there, and B. Crawford was the first post master.

In 1881 there was another Star Route established through the strip, from east to west, from Camp Supply, Indian Territory, to Springer, New Mexico. On this route one man made one trip through on horse back. Then for a time he would go from Camp Supply up the Beaver to some of the cattle ranches, loaf a few days and go back. For this service it was claimed that the government was paying one hundred thousand dollars a year.

During the years 1879, '80 and '81 there was a band of "horse rustlers" headed by a man who went by the name of Charlie Stevens, that worked from New Mexico to the horse and one pack horse, to go on up the the Beaver and decide where I wanted to pitch camp. I stopped at noon to eat a lunch and let my ponies rest, at a little patch of scrub cottonwood trees that stood near the creek and just below the crossing of the Jones and Plummer trail. In looking around to take in the surroundings, I discovered a bunch of perhaps fifty head of buffalo laying down at a point which would have been about one hundred yards west of where Carey and Lane built their sod houses. A few months after that I was riding along on the north side of the creek and about two miles west of the J and P trail and I ran onto and killed my first panther. He had evidently been down to the creek for water, and was on his way back to his hiding place in the sand hills, and the high grass obstructed the view, and he did not see me until it was too late. In 1879 there was quite a few buffalo scattered around over the plains. But they had become very wild, but I would succeed in killing one occasionally. It would seem that they finally got together in one bunch about 1881 and stayed on the plains between Beaver Creek and South Canadian River, west of the head of Coldwater Creek. They got so wild that they would only go into water at night and then only about every second or third day. There was some of these left as late as 1886 and I do not know how much later, as I left the country that year. You could rope a small buffalo calf and let the mother get out of the herd, then turn it loose with the herd and it would steal enough milk from the domestic cows to keep alive. As a rule the cows would not let them do such, but occasionally they would find one that did not care. In 1883 we had a pair of very fine ones at the old rock ranch on the Cimarron about twelve is to boil them and let them cool, then chop them or cut them into small dice, put in a buttered dish, cover with milk, season well and bake slowly until they are rich and creamy and brown on top.

Creamed potatoes are also good made of old ones. Again there are several days of cooking them. One is to make a good cream sauce and heat the diced or sliced potatoes in the sauce. Another is to dice the potatoes, roll them in flour, and then heat in a double boiler in milk to cover them. The flour thickens the milk. Both sorts should be well seasoned.

Creamed Potatoes

Creamed potatoes may then be poured into a buttered, shallow dish and browned a few moments in the oven, or carefully, in the broiler. Or they may be poured into a dish and sprinkled with buttered breadcrumbs and grated cheese and then baked until they are brown. Minced parsley may also be sprinkled over creamed potatoes to add to their taste and appearance.

Various sorts of fried potatoes are tempting at this time of year. You can French fry raw potatoes, or pan fry boiled potatoes. You can make latticed potatoes or German shoe strings—that is, firmly cut raw potatoes cooked like French fried. You can fry boiled potatoes in thin slices with a little onion, and thus make a sort of Lyonnaise potato.

The point is, if the old potatoes are not now very good and the new potatoes are still expensive, to cook the old ones in a way to bring out their best points and minimize their worst ones.

COMMENTS AND CRITICISMS

By W. S. Goodland

Senate bill 1468 by Senator Smoot proposes to place tobacco and tobacco products under the control of the National food and drug act on the plea that the health of the people is endangered.

It also places the control and censoring of advertising of these products within the power of this bureau.

Passage of this act will mean a very broad extension of bureaucratic power in this department.

Interpreted in the light of the growth of bureaucracy in government and its assumption of power this will undoubtedly mean that there will follow direct supervision of and interference with the advertising policies and departments of some of the nation's great business organizations. It may also be interpreted to extend into advertising agencies and even into newspapers and magazines.

It would be hard to imagine a more dangerous and provocative extension of power in the national government. This bill confines this extension of power to food, drugs and tobacco. Who will predict that it will not ultimately be extended to all business activities?

The preamble of the bill states that its purpose is to "protect the public health and welfare of millions of our population."

This presumes, of course, that the health and welfare of millions of our people are endangered.

That is a ridiculous assumption and cannot be established by facts. There is now a national food and drug bureau, there are in probably all the states, similar bureaus with broad powers, there are laws against false advertising, fraud and deception fully adequate to protect the public.

Is it true that the public health is in any danger under the laws and conditions as they exist today? It is apparently an inexcusable and unnecessary attempt to greatly extend the powers of government over great business and industrial organizations and should be scotched in its inception.

It is another development of the paternalistic theory of government that assumes that the people are not capable of self protection and must be coddled, shielded and defended by an all benign government represented by a lot of all wise bureaucrats.

It is also presaged upon the theory that modern business is unscrupulous and that fraud and deception are a part of its practices.

It is a fact, that Senator Smoot ought to know, that the ideals and ethics of modern business are probably as high and clean as those of the United States senate.

There is no doubt of business that stoops to questionable methods in their dealings, but there are adequate laws, if enforced, now on the statute books to control them.

It cannot be justified, because of these few, to place a great body of business organizations under the thumb of a bureaucratic department at Washington.

The entire business organization of the nation ought to be solidly arrayed against this proposed law and prevent its passage.

Texas Junks Cars

Over Twenty Thousand Cars to be Junked in Texas by National Automobile Association

Sixty-nine thousand unfit automobiles will be removed from the highways of the South during the coming year in an effort which is part of the national Highway Safety Plan undertaken by various companies in the automobile industry, as announced by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. The program will involve the expenditure of approximately $2,000,000 in the Southern States. Nationally, the motor companies plan to scrap 400,000 old automobiles in 1930, at a cost of about $15,000,000.

The number of cars which it is estimated will be scrapped in each of the Southern states is as follows: Virginia 6,060, North Carolina 6,640; South Carolina, 3,240; Georgia, 4,260; Florida, 3,960; Alabama, 5,490; Louisiana, 4,490; Mississippi, 3,760; Tennessee, 3,360; Arkansas, 3,620;

Texas, 21,210.

The program is characterized as "perhaps the greatest single safety move in industrial history," by Alvan Macauley, president of the Automobile Chamber, and former chairman of its Street Traffic Committee.

"This widespread experiment will strike right at the heart of the unsafe vehicle problem by eliminating a huge block of those cars which are in the poorest condition," says Mr. Macauley.

One of the hazards of the highway situation has been the rattle-trap car which keeps re-appearing on the road after it has presumably been sent to the discard. The aim of this program is to guarantee the actual scrapping of the vehicle. The plan will be worked out by each company participating, in line with its general sales policies and the volume of its production.

R. H. Grant is chairman of the committee which planned this program. Other members include: C. H. Bliss, J. E. Fields, Paul G. Hoffman, H. W. Peters, Courtney Johnson, Edward S. Jordan.

Three litters every two years is a satisfactory average for a good sow. This plan probably meets the requirements of most farmers and shows the best net profits in the end.

Chinese now want to have another civil war, but other nations will probably refuse to let them have it in peace.

If Bordeaux mixture is used often and in quantity, it is more convenient to keep on hand concentrated stock preparations of copper-sulphate solution and milk of lime in separate containers. These stock preparations will keep indefinitely if the water that evaporates is replaced.

Mineral production in the United States last year had an estimated value of nearly six billion dollars.

Prohibition in India means war on Mahatma Gandhi and his salt runners.

The site of the house in which Georges Clemenceau lived in New York in 1870 has been marked with a memorial tablet. The Sheridan theatre now occupies the spot.
