Injunction Is Issued To End Dock Workers Strike

HOUSE GETS A NEW ENTRANCE—Four-year-old Judy Lynn Shepherd made an experiment when her mother, Mrs. Roy Shepherd, left her in the family car in the driveway of their Big Spring, Tex., home. Judy somehow pulled the gear lever and stepped on the accelerator. The car, in reverse, shot across the street and almost completely into the living room of the V. W. Kemper residence. No one was home, and Judy was unhurt—but not the house.

FOR GRAHAM GAME

Football Tickets On Sale Tuesday

There'll be plenty of tickets available for the Snyder-Graham bi-district football game, but all except 975 of them coming to Snyder will be for standing room.

After wrestling with the problem for most of the day Saturday, the Snyder school board voted to put 975 reserved seat tickets on sale in the high school gymnasium Tuesday at 7 p.m. These tickets will be sold on a first come, first served basis, with a limit of two to a customer.

The game will be played next Saturday at 2 p.m. in Graham, where the school stadium seats only 3,900 persons. Graham won a coin toss Saturday morning in Abilene.

Graham school officials said they would send about 1,075 reserved seat tickets here. The Snyder school board agreed to "pull" two tickets for each varsity player on the Snyder squad to assure that parents of the players would be able to obtain reserved seats. In addition Snyder is obligated by the Interscholastic League to make tickets available to coaches of other schools in its district. Thus, about 100 tickets will be "pulled" leaving 975 to go on public sale.

The Snyder board also voted against "pulling" reserved seat tickets for themselves, or for local school administrators. Several board members said they planned to buy general admission tickets and "run the sidelines." Others said they might be in line when the ticket sale starts Tuesday evening.

Graham school officials said there was plenty of standing room, but little sitting room, at their football field. They said the layout was suitable for throngs of standees to get a good view of the game.

The reserved seat tickets will sell for $1.75 each, while general admission (standing room) will sell for $1.25 each. In addition Graham will send 600 student tickets here which will be sold in the schools at 50 cents each. There will be no student tickets or reserved seat tickets sold at the gate.

The Snyder school board discussed the possibility of giving season ticket holders here first call on the reserved seat tickets. However, over 1,400 season tickets were sold here this year and the allotment from Graham was not enough to go around.

At the meeting of Graham and Snyder representatives in Abilene Saturday morning, Supt. H. A. Hefner of Graham called the coin toss correctly as a hotel bell boy flipped the coin.

The coin toss not only decided the site of the game, but the date as well. Graham wanted to play the game on Thursday afternoon, since the school system there is observing that date as its Thanksgiving holiday. Snyder preferred the Saturday date.

After considerable discussion, the representatives of the two schools decided to toss the coin with the understanding that the loser of the game site would have the privilege of setting the date. Graham won the coin toss and elected to play the game on its home field, and Snyder, in turn, set the date for Saturday at 2 p.m.

Snyderites sitting in on the meeting included Supt. Cecil Yarbrough, Coaches John Conley, Hal Battle and Horrace Bostick, Principal T. D. Wiman Jr., Business Manager Art Nicholas, Board Members E. H. Williamson, Clyde Godwin, Bill Grimmett and Dr. Wilton Jones, and Dan Cotton, president of the quarterback club.

All Work To Resume

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government today obtained a 10-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley law to halt the dock strike that has crippled ports from Maine to Texas nine days.

A full-scale resumption of work was expected Monday.

The government will seek before the 10 days expire to have the order extended by agreement for the full 80-day "cooling off" period provided for in the law.

President Eisenhower initiated the action to halt the strike on the ground its continuance would "imperil the national health and safety."

Federal Judge Frederick van Pelt Bryan issued the temporary order on application of Asst. U. S. Atty. Gen. George C. Doub, who flew here from Washington.

The International Longshoremen's Assn., independent, notified the court through its counsel, Louis Waldman, that it had no objection to the 10-day order.

The walkout of 60,000 ILA members from their cargo-handling jobs immobilized 200 or more ships along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

The strike started Nov. 15 in a contract dispute between the union and the New York Shipping Assn., representing 170 shipping and stevedoring firms.

At issue were the questions of whether the contract would cover both the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, as the union wanted; the length of the contract, wages, and various other items.

Doub said he requested a 10-day temporary order to avoid a lengthy hearing and afford "immediate relief" in the strike.

He expressed hope all parties concerned would agree by stipulation within the 10 days to extend the injunction by 70 additional days to comprise the 80-day "cooling off" period provided for by the Taft-Hartley law.

If there is opposition to the extension, he said, a hearing would be held next week before Judge Bryan in an effort to obtain it by court order. Bryan set next Friday as the date for such a hearing, if one is needed.

The application for the injunction listed 13 defendants, including the ILA, the shipping association, and various other Atlantic and Gulf Coast employers.

Defendants include: The Portland Shipping Assn.; Providence, R.I., Shipping Assn.; New Bedford, Mass., Stevedoring Corp.; Steamship Trade Assn. of Baltimore, Inc.; Boston Shipping Assn.; Philadelphia Marine Trade Assn.; Hampton Roads Maritime Assn., Inc.; South Atlantic Steamship Co. Miami Steamship Assn.; Mobile Steamship Assn.; New Orleans

United Fund Cleanup Drive Set Wednesday

Wednesday will be "Cleanup Day" for the Scurry County United Fund campaign.

United Fund directors and campaign leaders scheduled the event at a meeting Friday. During the session they expressed concern over progress of the campaign, which now stands approximately $6,000 short of its $36,900 goal.

During the course of the meeting these points were discussed:

1. If the United Fund survives here, steps must be taken to meet the 1957 budget before the Christmas season arrives.

2. If the budget is not subscribed, then other steps must be taken to support the nine participating agencies.

3. Every citizen in Scurry County must be given an opportunity to participate.

To meet the problem head-on the group decided to call all campaign leaders and workers, along with any others who can be recruited to a meeting at the Hilander on Wednesday at 7 a.m. At that time cards that have been returned "unworked" and others which have been added to the list of prospects since the drive started will be distributed to the workers.

The workers then will be asked to make calls promptly so that final reports can be tabulated without delay.

"If we can get a contribution for each prospect card we have, this campaign will reach its goal," said H. A. Johnson Jr., campaign chairman.

It was noted that contributions had lagged considerably under those of previous campaigns in some divisions. For the most part, however, the deficit stemmed from the fact that contacts had not been made properly.

It was agreed that every effort would be made to carry the campaign to all citizens as a community problem, one that urgently needs a solution before the end of the month.

All workers in all divisions are being urged to attend the meeting Wednesday morning. Campaign leaders said they hoped to enlist the assistance of other citizens so that the cleanup operation could be carried out without putting a heavy burden on any one group of workers.

"These nine agencies are depending on us to provide support for their operations next year," Johnson reminded. "The work of these agencies affects every citizen of Scurry County, either directly or indirectly. Therefore every citizens should shoulder some of the responsbility for keeping them in operation."

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS nine important organizations in Snyder and Scurry County are depending upon the United Fund for financial support to carry on vital programs in our community during the year 1957, and

WHEREAS The Scurry County United Fund's annual financial campaign is $6,000 short of its goal, representing funds necessary for the nine participating agencies to operate properly in 1957, and

WHEREAS The United Fund has proved to be a successful organization for saving manpower and at the same time providing adequate support for the various agencies it serves,

NOW, therefore, I, Harold Bennett, Mayor of the City of Snyder do hereby proclaim Wednesday, November 28, "UNITED FUND G-DAY" and urge all citizens of Snyder who have not already done so to contribute to the United Fund campaign so that its goal can be reached and the nine participating agencies can embark upon their respective programs for 1957 with adequate financial support for their important operations.

SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By WACIL McNAIR

Snyder has celebrated Thanksgiving, an enjoyable one so far as we know, but some Scurry Countians will be observing next Thursday as "Turkey Day." Schools in Ira and Fluvanna elected to take their holiday on the last Thursday in November, which is known as the "Texas Thanksgiving," while those on Snyder and Hermleigh took the fourth Thursday, observed by some Texas points and all other states.

Nowadays Thanksgiving is closely associated with football, and somebody on teevee suggested the other day that Texas was running the split-T on this holiday business.

• • •

After Thanksgiving, the attention turns to Christmas, and Snyder already has acquired the Yuletide spirit. Our street decorations are up, and merchants have Christmas decorations in their show windows.

Christmas means a busy season for everybody, particularly for the crew down at the post office. They must handle all of the Christmas cards and parcels, both incoming and outgoing, and the volume seems to increase from year to year. And in Snyder they must handle the heavy Christmas mail in the same old cramped quarters.

• • •

Santa Claus himself will make his first appearance of the season in Snyder on Tuesday. He and his reindeer will be in a parade and then Santa Claus will be on hand for a brief visit with the youngsters.

• • •

Snyder's firefighting equipment got a workout Monday. First there was a mixup on an address for one alarm and firemen went to the wrong place. They hurried back across town to the correct address. Meanwhile, another alarm came in from another part of town. The fire engines had traveled over a good portion of the city before they got back to the station.

• • •

We can't close out today without taking note of our district champion football team. Our boys like to play this game of football, and their obvious desire, as well as a winning season, speaks well for our school athletic program.

The "scouts," those fellows who spend their weekends watching future opponents, hope the Tigers can go all the way so that they can watch the Tigers play a game. Several thousand others join them in this desire.

Light Units Arrive Here

All traffic signal light control units except the master control unit for synchronizing traffic lights has arrived and installation will begin in the next few days, Roy Dunlap, city manager, said.

Nine down-town area traffic signal lights will be synchronized to permit a smoother flow of traffic through Snyder, Dunlap said.

Four lights on Twenty-fifth Street from Avenue Q to Avenue W, four on Avenue S from Twenty-fourth Street to Twenty-seventh Street, and the one light on the southeast corner of the square will be included in the synchronization plan.

"When the lights are set properly traffic can drive all the way through town at a set speed without stopping," he said.

Another feature of the light synchronization set-up will be emergency "all-red" setting which can be used when fire trucks are making a run. A button in the fire station can be pushed and all lights in the system turned to the red stop signal in all directions to permit free movement of the emergency vehicles, while all other traffic is stopped.

Rites Pending For Lindsey

Tom B. Lindsey, 52, of 2205 Avenue O, died suddenly at about 5 p.m. yesterday while working on an oil rig near Post.

Mr. Lindsey, a resident here several years, was employed by Robinson Drilling Co. He was born April 10, 1904, in Kaufman County.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Bolger Funeral Home. Burial is to be at Corsicana.

Survivors include his wife and one son, Tom Earl Lindsey, both of Snyder. Other relatives live in the Corsicana area.

Chamber Of Commerce Banquet Date Is Set

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual membership banquet on the night of Jan. 25, 1957, it was announced Saturday.

Chamber of Commerce officials said the date had been cleared with high school officials, and no conflicting events have been scheduled here on that Friday night. The banquet meal, as in former years, will be served in the high school cafeteria, with the program to follow in the high school auditorium.

Arrangements for the banquet program are expected to be completed early in December. A special banquet committee already is working on plans for the annual event.

UN Takes Action In Mid East Row

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. Nov. 24 (AP)—The U.N. Assembly overwhelmingly called on Britain, France and Israel again today to withdraw from Egypt and gave Dag Hammarskjold wide powers to deploy the Middle East police force.

The Assembly renewed its demand despite an Israeli announcement that she had withdrawn two brigades, roughly 6,000 men, from Egypt and a British announcement moving up by 48 hours the departure of the first British battalion to be withdrawn from Port Said.

The Assembly voted 63-5 in favor of a resolution by 20 Asian-African countries calling once more for the withdrawal of the invaders and noting with regret previous Assembly demands were not obeyed. The United States voted for this resolution.

Then the Assembly voted 65-0 in favor of a resolution by Canada, Colombia, India, Norway, United States and Yugoslavia authorizing the secretary general to go ahead with his arrangements for building up the police force in Egypt and using it.

The Soviet bloc of nine countries abstained on this resolution.

The voting brought out sharply the continued split between the United States and its Western partners, Britain and France and wound up three days of acrimonious maneuvering for votes.

The United States, after wavering yesterday toward an abstention, came out firmly today in favor of the Asian-African resolution. This added to the bitterness of the British and French delegates against the United States.

Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand and Israel were the five countries voting against the Asian-African resolution. Belgium, Canada, China, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Portugal and South Africa abstained and Nicaragua was absent.

The resolution giving the secretary general the powers he wanted to direct the emergency force also authorized him to go ahead with exploring practical arrangements and negotiations of agreements for clearing the Suez Canal. He has been talking with Danish and Dutch salvage firms and is ready to get to work immediately on a survey of the task.

U.S. Appears To Be Backing Egypt

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The United States appears to be backing Egypt's demands for swift withdrawal of British, French and Israeli invasion forces without developing any real trust for President Nasser's Middle East policy.

In the view of top officials, the Egyptian leader deservedly faces a bleak, uncertain political future unless he drastically changes his near-fanatic efforts to rally the Arab world around him with Russian support.

This government has lined up behind Egypt in this case, they emphasized, because it is opposed to aggression by anyone—even its closest allies—not because Nasser's conduct of the past few weeks has changed the basic suspicion of him.

Despite what are considered to be surface appearances to the contrary, many officials here have concluded that Nasser's prestige and power is on the downgrade in areas where it counts.

Temporarily, they agreed, Nasser probably has slightly boosted his standing in the eyes of Arabs who credit him with mobilizing enough foreign support to block Britain and France from seizing the Suez Canal.

Offsetting this, however, is believed to be new opposition, most of it under cover, which has developed both within Egypt and among leaders of Nasser's wary Arab allies nearby.

Important Egyptian army leaders are reported to have complained bitterly about the conduct of the short-lived fight against Israeli, British and French forces. Some Egyptian businessmen are reported increasingly alarmed at the prospect of where Nasser's policies are moving Egypt, especially his dealings with Russia.

Several important Arab leaders who publicly have supported Egypt's policies have privately expressed serious alarm to American diplomats over Nasser's behavior both before and particularly after the fighting.

The main aim of the Eisenhower administration seems to be to forge a policy of dealing with Nasser until it averts the immediate threat that the Middle East crisis may erupt into a bigger war.

2 Killed, 14 Hurt In Fire At Dallas

DALLAS, Nov. 24 (AP)—Two men burned to death and 14 suffered injuries with a thunderous explosion and fire turned the Southland Feed Mills elevator into a pillar of flame today.

The blast knocked out power lines and shock a large section of North Dallas at 3:40 a.m.

Flames, touched off by the explosion, billowed up through the 135-foot elevator and were visible for miles.

The 14 men — 12 employes of the mill and two switchmen for the Katy railroad—fought their way out of the flames and smoke.

One was critically burned and many of the others were painfully seared.

The bodies of Bill Brown and Eugene Shives, both of nearby Waxahachie were recovered from the smouldering ruins.

Nineteen pieces of equipment and 80 firemen battled the flames for two hours before bringing them under control.

Firemen D. W. Hampton was overcome by smoke.

The interior of [illegible] burned out. Feed, rain and equipment was destroyed.

Fire Chief C. N. Penn estimated damage to the elevator at $150,000. Twelve box cars on a siding were destroyed or damaged. The side of the adjoining Lofland Steel Co., building was caved in by the explosion.

Supt. E. E. Franklin of the Dallas Terminal for the Katy Railroad said that the blast apparently was caused by dust, a frequent cause of elevator explosions.

"There was no telling where the explosion came from," R. L. Powell, 49, night foreman, said. "It knocked me to the floor. The whole place was filled with fire and smoke. I crawled out on my hands and knees."

Powell said the night crew was sacking and loading feed when the blast occurred. Most of the employs were Negroes.

The explosion sent a heavy fire door flying through the air for 150 feet and pieces of sheet metal were hurled hundreds of feet away. A window in a pharmacy a block away was shattered.

Many men had all their clothes burned away as they fought their [illegible] through the flames. Several were hysterical from pain and shock. One man had to be dug out of the rubble.

Demand Made For Return Of Former Premier Of Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 24 (AP)—The General Workers' Council of Greater Budapest demanded tonight that the kidnaped former Premier Imre Nagy be brought back and installed as head of the Hungarian government.

(This coincided with a demand by Yugoslavia that the Hungarian government live up to its promise and either permit Nagy to return to his home in Budapest or take up refuge in Yugoslavia. President Tito's government said it did not believe Nagy went to Romania of his own free will, as the Hungarian government declared.)

The council claims to represent all the workers' of the capital and 65 per cent of those in the rest of the country. It asked Premier Janos Kadar's government to disclose through Budapest radio Nagy's present whereabouts and "the true circumstances of his departure."

The council requested that a three-member delegation be permitted to visit Nagy personally "wherever he is."

Council members scoffed at the government version of Nagy's "voluntary" departure for Romania, saying they didn't believe a word of it.

A five-member committee investigated Nagy's disappearance and reported that the version published by the Yugoslav press apparently was correct.

"If this is true, the Hungarian workers will give a resounding answer," a member of the council added.

He said the workers are clinging to all their demands on the Kadar government including the reinstatement of Nagy and the withdrawal of Russian troops from Budapest.

"We want to know where Nagy is and when we find him, we want him to return as prime minister," the council member said.

But the council advised workers not to launch another strike because "workers have to live."

Leaders of the counci said Hungary loses about 27 million dollars a day when production is at a complete standstill and "ultimately that."

"We have proved to the world where we stand with the unprecedented general strike of the entire industry of the whole nation," leaders added.

Russian tanks and guards disappeared from their posts before the gates of the Yugoslav Embassy.

Persons in close contact with the embassy said that the departure of Nagy and his group followed "top-level discussions" between Yugoslav diplomats and representatives of the Hungarian government.

They said Nagy knew about every step although he did not participate in these talks. With Nagy's approval, the Yugoslavs presented alternate plans.

Red Strength In Europe Faltering

ROME, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Hungarian tragedy has knocked communist strength in Western Europe to a postwar low, a 12-nation Associated Press survey showed today.

Suppression of the Hungarian freedom fighters by Russian guns disillusioned many who believed in the Communist dream.

Thousands of West European Communists have turned in their party cards in Italy, Britain, Austria, Sweden, Switzerland, Holland and Denmark. Rank and file defections have been fewer in France, West Germany, Norway, Belgium and Finland. The reason AP correspondents explained, was that Red parties in those countries already were down to hard core.

Fellow travelers are breaking away all across the Continent with angry denunciations of Soviet action. The most important defection has been that of Pietro Nenni's Italian Socialist party, which polled nearly 3½ million votes in the last general election and which had toed the Communist line.

The Soviet cause also lost many of its most prized sympathizers—writers, artists and other intellectuals whose fame served Communist propaganda well. Among those who have denounced Russian imperialism in Hungary are French playwright - author Jean Paul Sartre, Swiss artist Hans Erni, Italian novelist - painter Carlo Levi and Italian artist Renato Gottuso. Even painter Pablo Picasso is unhappy, although he has not broken away.

Circulation of Communist newspapers has slumped in France, Britain, Austria, Sweden, Denmark and Italy.

The London Daily Worker lost a quarter of its editorial staff and a third of those on Denmark's "Land og Folk" — Country and People — quit. Budapest correspondents of both papers resigned with charges that their eyewitness reports were altered for propaganda purposes.

The Communist version of Hungarian events remained generally the same throughout Europe: Russia intervened because "reactionaries and Fascists" launched a counterrevolution against popular governments. Andre Stil in L'Humanite of Paris went so far as to write from Budapest that Hungarian children were playing happily atop Soviet tanks. Vast numbers of Leftists were unconvinced.

Within the central committees which dictate national Communist policies sharp divisions of opinion were reported in many countries.

mediately after the vote that he has asked Gen. R. A. Wheeler, retired U. S. Army engineer and engineering consultant to the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, to assist him in the technical organization of the work. Wheeler has served as engineer of maintenance of the Panama Canal and chief of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

John J. McCloy, chairman of the board of directors of the Chase Manhattan Bank, New York City, will assist him on the business negotiations, and Col. Alfred G. Katzin, of South Africa, a deputy undersecretary general, will work with him on the secretariat side.

Before the final vote on the Asian-African resolution, the Assembly beat down an amendment offered by Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium. It would have softened the restlution by deleting any reference to regrets and simply expressing the hope they would expedite the withdrawals. It was defeated 37-23. There were 18 abstentions. The United States abstained on that ballot.

In the closing stages of the hot debate, Abba Eban of Israel told the Assembly of the withdrawal of the two brigades.

Eban said thousands of Israel's armed forces have not only been withdrawn from Egypt but have been withdrawn from active military duty and sent back to their homes.

In two communications to Hammarskjold, Eban said considerable numbers of Israeli troops and equipment which were in Sinai on Nov. 7 are now back in Israeli territory. He said the "equivalent of two infantry brigades have been withdrawn." He did not give figures but informed sources said there are about 3,000 men in an Israeli brigade.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd announced that the first battalion of the Queens Own Royal West Kent Regiment was leaving Port Said tonight and would arrive in Cyprus tomorrow afternoon.

The United States position on the resolution proposed by most of the Asian-African group was understood to be that it was mild and not condemnatory. It was also the U. S. view that an abstention would raise the question whether there was a change in U. S. policy.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., in a second reversal of U. S. policy that left the British and French deeply embittered, told the Assembly the United States would vote for the resolution.

He said the United States does not think the resolution is necessary but would approve it because it "expresses sentiments which are in every respect consistent with our policy."

The Lodge announcement came in the midst of strong speeches by Soviet and Asian-African bloc members hammering away at Britain, France and Israel to withdraw. They noted the British announcement that one battalion will be withdrawn Monday, and the French announcement that one-third of the French forces have been pulled out.

Selwyn Lloyd, British foreign secretary, told the delegates he would not vote for the resolution because Britain would not express "regret" at what she had done, because "forthwith" was not practicable, because the proposal did not mention the U. N. emergency force being built up in the Middle Eeast and because it did not take account of the developments on troop withdrawals announced in the last 24 hours.

Vincent Broustra of France, announced he would oppose it because it attributed to France "ulterior motives." He renewed the pledge that the Allied command will continue its withdrawal operations as the U. N. force is expanded.

The British went into the Assembly this morning professing stain on the resolution. They said that Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. assured the British ambassador in Washington, Sir Harold Caccia, yesterday that the United States would do so.

The U. S. policy on this situation has taken some turns this week which left a number of delegates puzzled and some of them downright angry.

THANKSGIVING REUNION IN HOSPITAL—The Thomas Pattie family of Gainesville, Va., all wearing casts as a result of an automobile accident six days earlier, gave thanks as they were reunited for Thanksgiving Day dinner at an Arlington, Va., hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Pattie ate their dinners from beds while Sharon, 8, and Tommy, 9, ate from wheelchairs. The hospital arranged to have the four moved from separate rooms and floors into one room for the reunion.

Air Experts Puzzled At Plane Crash

PARIS, Nov. 24 (AP)—Air experts were puzzled today by the mysterious crash, seconds after takeoff from Orly Field of an Italian Airlines (LAI) plane en route from Rome to New York.

The four-engined DC6B, apparently failing to make altitude, sliced off the roof of a suburban villa, plowed into another and burst into flames early this morning, killing 33 of the 35 persons aboard. Among them was famed Italian conductor, Guido Cantelli, 34, protege of Arturo Toscanini.

Two Italians, employes of the airline, were thrown out of the wreck and were in grave condition at a nearby hospital. A 19-year-old resident of one of the houses also was hospitalized.

Fourteen of the dead were believed Americans, but identification was incomplete.

Maurice Bellonte, early transatlantic flyer and chief inspector of civil aviation, took charge of the investigation. Police sealed off the site, barely 100 feet from where a new extension of Orly Field is being built. Police said one reason for this was to prevent interference with a search for documents from an Italian diplomatic pouch they said was aboard the plane.

Preliminary examination and questioning produced no explanation for the crash.

The scene of the crash presented a pathetic sight. Draped across a bush was a white wedding dress which somehow escaped the flames.

Badly burned and twisted by the fire was a moving van loaded with goods which neighbors said belonged to the injured youth, Jacques Cramoisy, who was to have moved today.

STRIKE

Steamship Assn., and J. Ross Dunn, Galveston, Tex.

Doub said he considered the union the "principal defendant." Of the others, he said: "I doubt very much if they object to this order."

Doub arrived at the Federal Building at 2:35 p.m. to make the application and found Judge Bryan waiting.

Also present at the hearing were U.S. Atty. Paul Williams; Alfred Giardino, counsel for the New York Shipping Assn., and Waldman, the union counsel.

Doub read a memorandum, declaring that Eisenhower pursuant to the Taft-Hartley law had found that extension of the strike would imperil health and safety.

Doub quoted an affidavit by L.S. Rothschild, acting secretary of commerce, saying continuation of the walkout would do "irreparable injury" to national defense, foreign, intercoastal and coastal trade and to the domestic economy at a time when the nation and free world would face "the threat of Communist aggression."

Waldman told the court the ILA would raise no objection to the temporary restralning order.

He said, however, the union was not prepared at the moment to agree to extending the order for another 70 days. The union may seek changes in the languages of the order before agreeing to an extension.

Bryan told Waldman the union could move for modification of languate within the next several days.

Doub was dispatched to New York after a board of inquriy, appointed in conformance with the Taft-Hartley law, reported to President Eisenhower on the contract dispute.

The report made no recommendations, being confined by the law to a factual report on the issues.

One of the chief points of contention had been removed from the strike by a court order earlier this week. That was the demand by the union that the contract cover the entire Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, as opposed to separate contracts for each port.

Merits of this order, also issued by Bryan, are due to be argued in a hearing Wednesday, when the order will either expire or be affirmed.

Other issues:

CONTRACT DURATION: The employers want a three-year agreement; the union wants a two-year pact.

WAGES: The union asked a 30 cents-an-hour increase over the present average of $2.48. The employers agreed to that figure by step increases over a three-year period, but the union demanded that the figure be met in two years. Wages, however, are not considered a major issue.

SLINGLOADS The union wants their weight limited as a safety measure. A limit, meaning smaller loads, would increase the number of loads and consequently the number of jobs.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY: The union first asked that a man hired in the morning be guaranteed eight hours' pay regardless of whether there was enough work for eight hours. It reduced this to a demand for four hours pay for morning and four hours if he is hired for the afternoon. Presently, those hired get a four-hour guarantee for the morning and a two-hour guarantee in the afternoon.

The British expedition which climbed Mt. Everest, world's highest peak, carried food in tubes. They lived on tubes of milk, honey and bouillon.

Yield Signs Slated Here

Many of the stop signs on low traffic volume intersections in Snyder are being replaced with yield-right-of-way signs.

Roy Dunlap, city manager, said that 50 of the new yield right of way signs have been installed, and that probably 100 more will be installed this year.

The new signs do not grant the right of way to the driver on the street they control, but they will permit the driver on those streets pass through the intersection without coming to a complete stop if there is no opposing traffic, Dunlap said.

He warned all motorists that the only legal method of going through the intersections controlled by the yield right of way signs is to slow to 10 miles per hour so that he can be prepared to stop immediately to permit safe passage of cars on the street with the right-of-way.

"Drivers of cars on the yield-right-of-way streets are still responsible in cases of accidents, and will be issued driving violation tickets in cases of intersection wrecks in which they are involved," he said.

Officials Clamp Down Hard On Rebel Forces In Hungary

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government of Premier Janos Kadar—propped up by Russian guns—tightened its grip tonight on rebellious Hungary.

Speaking in a tougher manner with Imre Nagy out of the picture, the Kadar government lashed out at the United States with a charge that the U. S. Embassy in Budapest is operating an illegal radio transmitter.

Radio Budapest clamped a blackout on news about Nagy, the only Hungarian political figure with enough popular support to bring the country out of the chaos left by a month of revolt against a Moscow-imposed dictatorship.

Kadar's government announced last night that Nagy, former premier and independent Communist leader, had left his place in refuge in the Yugoslav Embassy to go to Romania.

The Yugoslavs, who had a promise from the Kadar regime that it would not molest Nagy or his followers, charged the Russians kidnaped Nagy and his 51 companions in violation of the pledge. Yugoslav newspapers carried the accusation and a government spokesman said this represented the official attitude of President Tito's government.

Romania is under strict Soviet control. Nagy left the Yugoslav Embassy Thursday. The announcement about his departure for Romania was made more than 24 hours later.

Radio Budapest said nothing in response to Yugoslavia's demand for an explanation of how Nagy fell into Soviet hands after being promised he would not be molested.

The new atmosphere in Budapest was apparent in the sharp protest delivered to the U. S. legation. A note presented to U. S. Minister Edward T. Wailes, accused him of operating two receivers and transmitters illegally and ordered him to stop at once.

Snyder Man Is Injured

A Snyder man was injured late Friday when his car overturned on U. S. Highway 180 about 12 miles west of Snyder.

He was Cecil Wesley Green, Jr., 26, of 417 Thirty-fourth Street, who was on his way to the Snyder-Lamesa football game in Lamesa and had as passengers his wife, 25, and her sister, Carol Palmer, 14, of 123 Twentieth Place. The accident occurred at about 6 p.m. Friday.

Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman, said Green, driving a 1956 Ford coach, attempted to pass a car and met another. His car hit the left shoulder, missing the oncoming car, but it swung back across the pavement and overturned on the other side of the road, rolling about one and one-half times.

Green and the two passengers were taken by Bolger ambulance to Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Although his injuries were not believed very serious, a total of 75 stitches were taken in cuts on his head. The other two were X-rayed and then released.

Story Denied By Peeress

MCALLEN, Tex., Nov. 24 (AP)—Lady Mayre Rous, a friendly young peeress who was reported broke and stranded in Houston, said here today the story was mostly the figment of a Houston reporter's imagination.

Lady Mayre, who said she left her money in a taxicab in New York shortly after coming over here from England almost a year ago, has been traveling the country and working at each place she stopped to get enough money to continue her tour.

She said a chance remark made in Houston started the publicity. Lady Mayre said she had planned to leave Houston and had quit her job there with a textile firm but had been persuaded to stay "a few more days."

Lady Mayre said she mockingly made the remark that she had spent her bus fare to New York at a dinner where a friend of a newspaper reporter was present.

The adventrous young lady said she was not mad about all the publicity and did not blame the reporter for building up the story. She said, "I see her point. It made a wonderful story."

Object of the search is Beverly Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brooks Jr. They are believed to be en route to Albany, Tex., or Houston.

The Odessa Health Department said the child needs immediate medical attention.

Hot Check Writing Scandal Uncovered

FORT WORTH, Nov. 24 (AP)—A government agent has involved the Home Guaranty Abstract Co. in a $664,000 hot check writing scheme that led to collapse of River Oaks State Bank.

The charge came from Surrie Fenlaw, auditor for Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which took over the defunct bank Oct. 15.

Fenlaw told of the bogus check writing operation in testimony late yesterday in 153rd District Court where he was a witness in a suit over claims against the abstract company.

He was supported by testimony from O. L. Witt, manager of the Fort Worth National Bank bookkeeping department, who said he had been watching operations of the abstract company before the bank failure.

Fenlaw said many hot checks were written by attorney J. C. Mount, secretary - treasurer of the abstract firm.

The auditor said the bulk of the checks were written on the abstract company's trust account at Fort Worth National Bank and some were drawn on the firm's escrow account at the River Oaks Bank.

Most checks were written during Oct. 9-12, four days prior to the bank failure, Fenlaw said, adding that most of the checks were cashed at the River Oaks bank.

His investigation discloses Fenlaw said, that:

1. When the checks were rejected by Fort Worth National they were returned to River Oaks for payment with the amount totaling at least $664,000.
2. The Fort Worth National Bank was stuck with $76,600.
3. The abstract company's escrow account was short $48,981 at River Oaks bank.
4. Only a few of the checks involved "legitimate" real estate transactions and indication that the money was used for other enterprises.

Fenlaw said many checks involved were made out to a number of persons including those who have been named in other lawsuits involving the bank failure.

They are Burton Ellis, R. L. Preissinger and W. E. Johnson.

Fenlaw said Mount and Robert Keller, Fort Worth lawyer killed in an airplane crash last summer, had authority to sign checks on Home Guaranty.

Talk Of Shivers Future Set Off

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—Gov. Shivers' chat yesterday with President Eisenhower revived talk here that the outgoing Democratic governor may have his eye on an appointive post under the GOP.

Shivers was the key man in the second successive presidential campaign that swung Texas out of the once - solid Democratic South into the Republican column.

The defeat of Adlai Stevenson in Texas gave back to the retiring governor much of the political status he lost last spring when Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn won control of the state's delegation to the Democratic national convention.

Shivers apparently retired into the background after that defeat. He staged a swift political come back by jumping into the presidential campaign with both feet. He again urged Texans that their best interest lay not with the Democratic party, but with Eisenhower — just as he did in 1952. In both instances he defied tradition, saying principle was more important than party, and made it stick.

Shivers clings to the position that he is a Democrat, and that Eisenhower is a "better Democrat" than Stevenson and many of Stevenson's backers.

Speculation was that naming of Shivers to some vital national post, as a Democrat, would serve to let the Eisenhower administration tell other rebellious Southern Democrats that the new administration is fully aware of its political obligations. Also, it would help the GOP in future assaults against the weakening Democratic solidarity in the South.

Washington newsmen were told that the Eisenhower - Shivers talk was a mere exchange of "hellos" and that the Texas governor dropped by to see the President among other friends in the capital.

They were told that the current Texas senatorial fuss between Shivers and Sen. Price Daniel, the governor-elect, was not even discussed.

Shivers, always a fighter, is now in the midst of a struggle with Daniel over the senatorial succession. He has refused to accept Daniel's future resignation. Daniel is insisting that the election be called soon enough to send his successor to Washington by the time Congress convenes.

Time for any such move is rapidly diminishing. Daniel has said he will be there himself to help the Democrats hold their narrow margin in organizing the Senate. Congress meets Jan. 3. Daniel becomes governor Jan. 15. Shivers has said that such a move on Daniel's part would be contrary to Senate custom and tradition.

When Shivers retires Jan. 15, he will have been governor longer than any other in Texas history — more than seven years.

He has not said what his plans are.

Recently he and Mrs. Shivers bought the old Pease Mansion in Austin, indicating they plan to make Austin their home. They also have homes at Sharyland in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and at Magnolia Hills, near Shivers' boyhood home at Woodville.

Polio Is On Its Way Out In U.S.

By DAVID L. BOWEN
AP Newsfeatures

Now that the traditional mid-fall peak of the polio season has passed there is clear, unmistakable and graphic evidence that crippling polio is on the way out in the United States.

The charts show as words cannot how the cruel profile of polio has been drastically altered this year, cut in half by the immunity supplied through the Salk vaccine to 43 million persons.

The main graph traces the number of polio cases reported to the U. S. Public Health Service week by week. As usual, polio this year slumbered through the early half of the year, with about 100 new cases reported across the United States each week. In recent years, the case number always began a steep climb in early June and reached a tragic climax in August or September — when new case reports flooded into Washington at the rate of 2,000 and more per week.

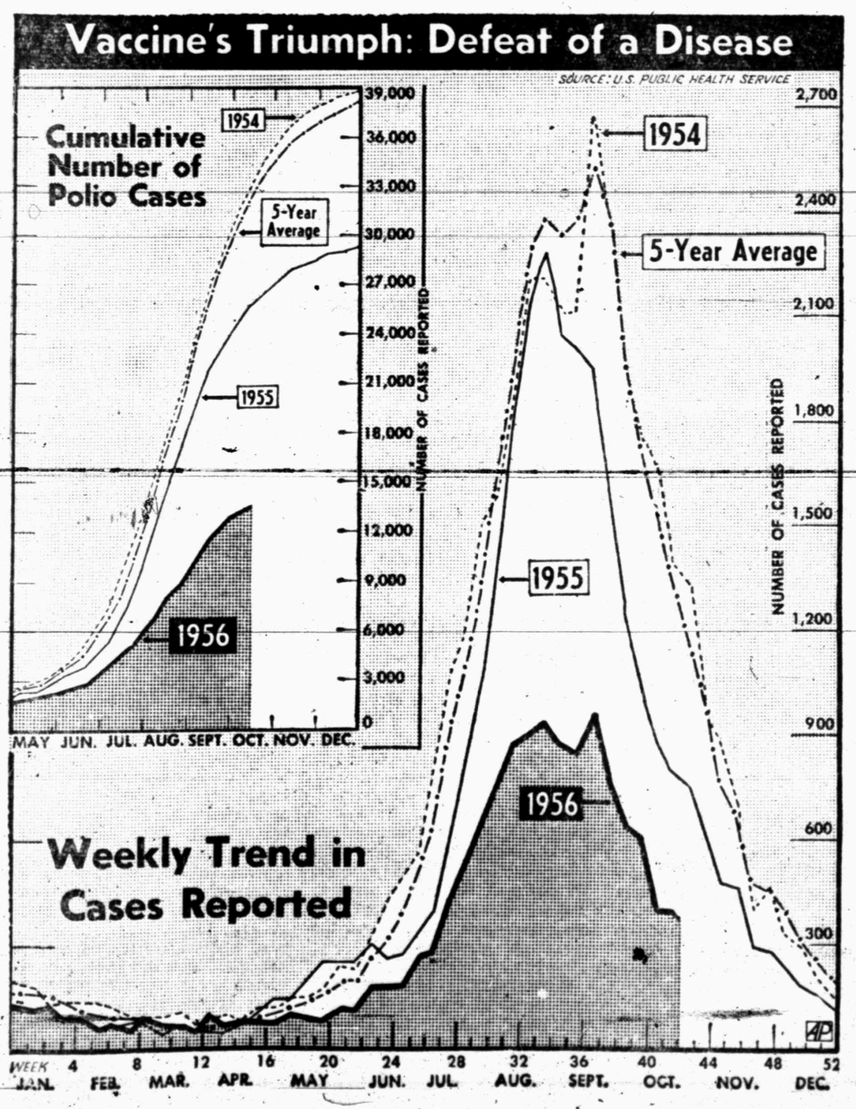

This year the flood was stemmed. At its worst, the 1956 polio season produced less than 1,000 new cases a week. The total score for the year — as traced on the chart — is leveling off now. Apparently total cases will be in the neighborhood of 15,000. This is less than half the total for 1954 and the average of the past five years.

This year was the first in which the Salk vaccine was available throughout the polio season. A limited amount was used in 1955.

"If all hands join in using the vaccine to its full availability before the next polio season," says National Polio Foundation President Basil O'Conner, "we can eliminate polio as an epidemic disease in 1957."

The foundation reports that while 43 million persons have received at least one vaccination, only seven million have received the series of three injections necessary for fullest protection. he age group in which vaccination is most nearly complete comprises 5 to 9-year-olds. Particularly important targets now, according to the foundation, are very young infants, teen-agers and young adults.

Vaccine shortages of the aast year and the past spring have been overcome and sufficient vaccine is reportedly available for all who want shots.

The average retired worker benefit from Social Security in 1955 was $61.37 a month, 20 per cent higher than in 1954.

Air Of Impending Disaster Is Hanging Over Middle East

By WILIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Nov. 24 (AP)—You cannot escape a feeling of impending disaster.

It is as if this part of the world waits helplessly for a stream of senseless events to explode in a fury of suicidal insanity.

The whole fertile crescent area—Lebanon, Syria, Iraq, Jordan—is in ferment. Plot moves against counterplot until the distinction between friend and enemy is blurred.

Sinister forces work in the shadows. Moslem against Christian, Arab against Arab, all of them professed enemies to the death of Israel.

Rumors fly on the winds of gossip—rumors of religious strife in store for half-Christian, half-Moslem Lebanon and elsewhere in the Arab Near East; rumors of activities by agents for the Russians, agents for the British and French, agents for Egyptians, Syrians.

Grim soldiers stand guard night and day, not only over British and French installations, the likely targets of terror attacks, but over installations of their own Arab allies. Nobody knows when or where violence might explode like a sudden storm. There are so many cross purposes in this confused and tortured Arab world that almost anybody can be the target.

This lovely city of Beirut, normally a Mediterranean pearl of peace, has come to fear even the appearance of calm. Looking westward, Beirut senses danger in the solution of a dangerous problem—just one more of the paradoxes which bedevil the Middle East.

Lebanese expect the British and French will get out of Egypt under the pressure of the United Nations. What happens then, when this dangerous problem is solved? Another one arises:

Israel already has said she will not give up the Gaza Strip, from which the Egyptians were driven in the invasion last month. She is not likely to want to give up the two Tiran Islands which control the Gulf of Aqaba.

If she does not, this must mean war. Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, if he is to save face and remain leader of Egypt and the Arabs, must move against the Israelis. War then promises to spread through the Near East.

Lebanese hopes are pinned on President Eisenhower—hopes that he will be able to persuade or force the Israelis back to their armistice lines.

In a situation where public emotions have been so stirred to passion, Arab leaders find themselves in the position of having to follow the masses. When an intimidating demonstration is needed in Damascus, for example, demonstrators are brought in by the busload. Leaders are paid. Some demonstrators might receive a few piasters each, but for the most part, out of the boredom of youth, they go along for the joyride.

The same is true of Iraq and Jordan. The potential for violence and for pressure on governments is enormous.

In Lebanon, an emergency government, predominantly Christian, rules with a firm hand and with the intelligent cooperation of the army under the new and able defense minister, Gen. Fouad Shehab. His biggest job is to prevent acts of terror from burgeoning into widespread and uncontrolled violence. His army, reportedly swelled now from its former 6,000 to 10,000 men, seems capable of doing the job.

But in a sense every Near East country is at the mercy of what happens in the other Arab countries. This is the source of this prevalent sense of foreboding.

United Responsibility

The Scurry County United Fund faces a crisis.

The campaign for funds to support nine agencies is about $6,000 short of the amount needed for 1957 operations, despite the fact that the drive already has extended nearly three weeks beyond the date campaign officials had hoped to bring it to a close.

Fortunately, however, campaign leaders and United Fund officials are not ready to throw in the towel. Instead of giving up, they plan to make one more gigantic push beginning next Wednesday in an effort to put the campaign over the top.

In a preliminary analysis, it was determined that the campaign this year has suffered from a familiar malady. Not enough citizens have participated.

Campaign leaders hope to remedy this with the big cleanup event beginning Wednesday at 7 a.m. Workers will be asked to contact persons who have not contributed. They hope to do it promptly and make their final reports before the end of the week.

The campaign this year has faced many problems, but probably no more than similar activities in many other cities. Still, the local campaign differs from some others because no "professional" help has been engaged. In other words, the entire campaign is being carried on by local citizens, and none receives a dime for his or her services.

Possibly some citizens were not aware of this, and possibly it will become necessary to bring in professional help in future drives. This year, however, local people are carrying the load, and they need the cooperation of their fellow citizens. Not everybody can work in the campaign, but everybody certainly can cooperate with those who do work actively by responding to the appeal to support the nine United Fund agencies.

If you are one of those who have not been contacted, remember that one of your fellow citizens must take time from his business or his profession to make a personal appeal to you. You can save your fellow citizens some time by calling the United Fund office (3-3853) and giving notice that your contribution is ready. Or, better still, drop by the United Fund office on the northwest corner of the square (old bank building) and leave your contribution.

You have as much at stake in the United Fund as any worker in the campaign.

The Curtain Expands

While the world is preoccupied with Hungary and Egypt, what's going on in other critical areas where, willynilly, American interests are involved?

Plenty, according to a round-up by U. S. News & World Report, a magazine that lives up to its name.

We can do no better than report that publication's summation of the trend of events, as follows:

"In Korea: Communist build-up for war is going ahead rapidly under protection of a U.N. truce.

"Off Formosa: Red Chinese military build-up is far along, being pushed fast for a showdown.

"In Indo-China: Communist forces being enlarged, behind the screen of a truce, for a future war.

"In Singapore; Communists preparing for future control.

"In Burma: Red Chinese infiltration, local Reds active, hoping for eventual take-over."

What all this means, USN&WR sums up, is that "Red Russia and Red China work together to keep the world in turmoil, exploit turmoil to bring about domination of the world by Communists."

It isn't by accident that these events fall into a pattern, but by design. Korea kept things going for three years. Then Formosa took the stage. Then Indo-China. Then Egypt and the Middle East. Then Hungary, momentarily to distract world attention from the far graver threat to the West posed in the Middle East.

World communism has the world on a merry-go-round. Not by coincidence or accident, but by design, by deliberate manipulation, by long-range planning in pursuit of communism's aim of world conquest by stages, by degrees.

Let it be thoroughly understood that there will be no discharge from this war of communism versus freedom and democracy as long as powerful Communist governments like that of the Soviet Union and Soviet China exist.

It will go on until from within or from without that philosophy or system of government is destroyed.

One of communism's greatest recent victories was the driving of a wedge, temporary though it may be, between the United States and two tried and steadfast allies—Britain and France.

Who Has Won In East Europe? Everybody Has Victory Claim Except United States

By HOLMES ALEXANDER

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "Which of us has won?" asked the dying Alexander Hamilton as he looked up from the turf of the dueling ground at Aaron Burr. In the same dazed manner, though perhaps not as close to death as Hamilton was, we seem to be asking the same question today. Who has won in East Europe? Who has won in the Middle East? Which of us, indeed? Here are some conflicting answers that are going the rounds:

Sir Anthony Eden, British Prime Minister, has won for two reasons from the British viewpoint. First, Eden has triumphed over the Dulles policy, which was one of meek submission to the Egyptian dictator. By returning in force to Egypt, accompanied by France and Israel, Sir Anthony has seized the initiative from the morals — mumblers in the United States and Great Britain. He has put the steel to the enemy ribs and re-established British rights in Egypt from where he will not be easily dislodged. Second, Sir Anthony has won — and the State Department thinks he is entitled to this much credit — if he has done nothing more than entice the United Nations to send an international force to the international Suez Canal.

Comrade Bulganin has won for at least two reasons from the Russian viewpoint. One, Bulganin's regime has accomplished a mission at which all previous Russian regimes have failed. He has gotten a firm foothold for his country in the rich, strategic area of the Middle East. If the Russian "volunteers" turn out to be shock troops, as they were 20 years ago in Spain, they will not go home until militarily defeated. If they are no more than good-will ambassadors, they will serve as living proof to the whole Moslem world that Moscow represents a force-in-being against American-backed European colonialism. Two, there's no doubt that the Bulganin regime, whether by luck or good management, was in power at the time when the Grand Alliance of the Atlantic Community began to run off in different directions.

Nasser has won for more than one reason from the Egyptian viewpoint. He has so maneuvered as to put a UN buffer between himself and the hated Anglo-Franco-Israeli alliance. He has played the game cleverly so that Russia, whether she marches into the Middle East or merely rattles her saber, has checkmated the Western powers. If Nasser lives and stays in power in Egypt, he has the chance of the century to make Pan-Arabian history.

Tito or Titoism has won. Independent Communism has seen in Hungary that the Kremlin represents nothing more than Red Fascism. The Communist parties in Austria, France, Great Britain and the United States have all recoiled at the Hungarian slaughter and, at least in the early stages, have refused to condone what happened there. All this adds proof to the Tito doctrine which says, roughly speaking, that Communism is best practiced in isolation and behind national borders.

Nehru and neutralism have won. With Russia in Hungary and Britain in Egypt both shooting up native populations, Nehru as the psychological moment for preaching "a plague on both your houses." Nehru's triumph, carried to a logical conclusion, would result in a slipping away of the so-called uncommitted nations on the American alms-list.

Such is the roll call of possible winners, but there is a catalogue of losers too, headed, and maybe monopolized, by the United States. We have lost from one viewpoint because, as the story goes, President Eisenhower frightened Eden into drawing back before the Franco-British conquest of Egypt was an accomplished success. Had Ike waited, had he pooh-poohed the Russian threat of putting England under "rocket" attack, Sir Anthony would have deposed, and maybe liquidated, Nasser, thereby doing the Western World a great favor. We have lost from another viewpoint because, as the fatalistic observers see it, we are trapped once more into helping England and France win a war which they started but cannot win without us.

The winners? Well, briefly, anybody but us.

Change In Youth Fiction Provokes An Argument

By INEZ ROBB

Although I am fearful of being identified with Whistler's Mother, I would like to ask if any modern parent can keep his face straight and his child still long enough to read aloud "Hiawatha"?

Now the season is upon us when the literary supplements of every publication are telling anxious parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins what books to buy for Mary and Johnny, who supposedly can't read anyway.

Nowhere in the various lists have I yet found mention of Longfellow's noble red man, whose exploits sent me right out of this mundane world when Papa read them aloud in the sweet long ago.

Of course, that was before the day of Hopalong and Hi-Ho. What has happened to Longfellow since since the invention of horse opera shouldn't happen to a cattle-rustlin' varmint. But it has. Why, the very name "Minnehaha" is enough to break up the modern moppet.

In vain, I search the 1956 lists for old favorites as "The Nuremberg Stove" and "A Dog of Flanders," both by Ouida. How I loved that Flanders dog! Better even than "Beautiful Joe." Now both have been consigned to some literary pound, even as "Black Beauty" has gone over the literary hill to the glue factory.

I have always regarded Elsie Dinsmore as a sniveling nimcompoop. But never did I dream the depth of her sugary villainy until I talked the other day with an old friend, Leo Lerman, editor, critic and authority on children's literature, past and present.

Leo is of the opinion that Elsie's pious idiocies, endlessly detailed in 42 syrupy volumes, gave to all children's literature of the 19th and early 20th Centuries and undeserved reputation for a high saccharine content.

On the contrary, says Leo, most of the fictional kids of that period were full of spunk and vinegar, as prone to mischief as any normal brat. Leo feels that Elsie has put an unmerited double whammy on such old favorites of mine as "The Little Colonel" and "The Five Little Peppers," whom Leo assays as lively and full of the Old Nick.

This authority has two other interesting observations on the youth fiction of what we like to think of as a more innocent and happy, home-loving age. If homes were so all-fired happy, why is children's fiction of that time so full of child runaways? The literary roads were crowded with kids on the lam from home and hearth, he says.

Furthermore, Leo, a real student of the subject, says that fiction for young people in the 19th and early 20th Centuries is much more full of horror than similair fiction today. He insists that people, meaning me, forget this facet of their early reading and remember only their favorite stories.

Probably all this mooning over old books, like mooning over Clark Gable, dates me. But the truth will out.

Prospects Still Dim For Settlement Of Larger Issues In The Middle-East Crisis

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The situation in Egypt is still in a state of crisis and there is as yet no present prospect of a settlement of the larger issues. The immediate business in hand is to get enough of a truce to keep the conflicts at the canal and over Israel from expanding and exploding. Keeping our fingers crossed, it looks as this is written, that the diplomatic action of the U. N., which is being conducted by Dag Hammarskjold, has made progress.

For one thing the threat of open and large Soviet military intervention has, it would appear, passed. This has been followed by another threat which is very serious indeed. It is that Egypt, with Russian prompting and packing, will think it good policy to let the reopening of the canal be delayed for a long time, long enough to bring about an oil shortage not only in Britain and in France but in the rest of Western Europe. If Col. Nasser can stand the squeeze on his own revenues from the loss of the canal tolls, he has in his hands a most powerful instrument for squeezing the whole Western world. There have been many signs, it seems to me, that this is in his mind.

It is now reported that Col. Nasser has reached some kind of understanding with Mr. Hammarskjold about allowing the U. N. to participate in the clearing of the canal. This is very good news if it can be taken to mean that Egypt will cooperate actively in the enormous task of opening the canal. For without Egyptian cooperation, there is no telling how long the work would take.

• • •

Presumably, there will be some British-French-Israeli withdrawals now that the U. N. police force is beinging to build up in Egypt. For the effectiveness of the U. N. force does not depend on its size. It is not an army meant to be able to fight a war. The power of the U. N. force lies not in its numbers or in its armaments but in its presence in Egypt. Just by being there, at the canal during the clearing of the wreckage, on the Egyptial-Israeli frontier until there is a treaty, the U. N. policemen will be visible guarantee that fighting will not be resumed.

As soon as the basic operation has been started — the U. N. coming in and the British, French and Israelis going out — Washington should take in hand the problem of the threatened oil shortage in Western Europe. This problem can be solved, though it will take effort and money, and no time should be lost in making it plain to the world that we mean to see that the problem is solved. This is something about which the President can speak in plain and unmuffled words.

• • •

He ought, not, it seems to me, to stop with an emergency program to deal with the shutting off of oil shipments through the canal and through some of the pipelines. This whole unhappy affair has taught us that the Western nations are dependent to an unnatural degree upon an area of the world where their enemies are stronger than their friends. There is no greater task for the Western nations than to draw up a program and to take the measures which will free them of this dependence.

Bazaars Turn Into Big Business In Washington

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Bazaars are big business in the nation's capital. You can literally "shop around the world" buying exotic delicacies and art objects donated by the foreign embassies and officialdom. You can see most of the town's big-wigs and actually have fun while contributing to charity.

Folks had a chance to try out chopsticks while eating oriental shrimp, chicken and rice dishes at a Japanese embassy style benefit for the Japanese International Christian University of Tokyo, which graduates its first class next April. Ladies of the embassy in colorful kimonos greeted visitors.

Among those assisting with the tea-pouring were Mrs. A.D.P. Heeney, wife of the Canadian ambassador, and Mrs. William J. Sebald, wife of the deputy assistant secretary of state. Seen wielding the chopsticks were Mrs. Sherman Adams, wife of the President's assistant, and Mrs. Harold Burton, wife of the associate justice.

Mrs. Charles Thomas, wife of the navy secretary, was in charge of the bazaar's foreign foods committee and garnered for the sale such items as sardines from Portugal, Christmas cakes from Norway, candied fruits from Cuba and chocolate from the Netherlands.

Among the scads of other bazaars was the annual benefit for the American Friends committee and a foreign exchange student program of the Sidwell Friends School, where many prominent papas and mamas send their youngsters. Mrs. Ernest E. Dematitis, wife of a diplomat, was bazaar chairman. Among those contributing unusual gifts were Mrs. Amaral Peixoto, wife of the Brazilian ambassador, both of whom were honorary chairmen.

Latest Dodge Of Soviets Follows Same Old Pattern

By ED CREAGH

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Do the Russians really think they're kidding anybody?

This latest dodge of theirs, for instance They'll pull their troops back from Eastern Europe if the United States and its allies will tear down their "foreign" bases.

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri T. Shepilov cast this artificial bait before the United Nations General Assembly yesterday.

He told the Western powers — meaning us, for the most part: "As soon as you withdraw your troops from Western Germany, as soon as you liquidate your military, air and naval bases on foreign territory, we shall also withdraw our troops from the countries where they are stationed under the Warsaw treaty."

Well, as an American commander told some Nazi-bossed Germans when they asked him to surrender in World War II

Nuts.

The Warsaw treaty of 1955 was a shotgun marriage, if ever there was one. It talked about "mutual friendship and assistance" between the Soviet Union and seven stooge countries. But Hungary is one of those countries, and the Russians are slaughtering Hungarians under that treaty of "friendship and assistance."

Replying to Shepilov, U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said the U.S. overseas bases were less a menace to peace than was Soviet military activity in Hungary.

The question always boils down to: What are the Russians up to?

And what do we do about it?

With a lot of luck, we may not have to do anything. The Russians may shoot themselves to pieces.

V. M. Molotov's appointment to a new post could mean a step back toward Stalinism, although officials in this country don't think so.

Molotov, as Russian foreign minister, made something of a career out of hating the Western world. Meaning us, for the most part. He got fired from the post, in favor of Shepilov, a little more than six months ago, though he continued as first deputy premier.

Now he's back in still another role.

Is the old guard climbing back into the saddle? Or is this new job — minister of state control, as they call — just a gentle way of brushing the ill-tempered old Bolshevik out of sight?

If so, will he put up with it? Will the other tight-lipped old Stalinists, with their ignorance and distrust of the Western world, go along with him? Could they stir up a revolt? Could they get the Red army behind them?

Our government's best information is that no revolt against the current Soviet regime is in sight, by ex-Foreign Minister Molotov or anyone else.

Still, our planners don't abandon the possibility — especially when events in Hungary are still undetermined.

Woman Will Be Governor

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—State Sen. Neveille Colson of Navasota will be governor Dec. 11, the second time in the state's history a woman has held the chief executive post.

Miriam Ferguson was the first woman governor.

Mrs. Colson will serve as governor for a day — an honor accorded her as president pro tempore of the Senate.

The veteran legislator was in the House 10 years, prior to being elected to the Senate first in 1948. She is author of the farm to market road laws. The longest girder-type bridge in Texas near the historic Washington-on-the-Brazos has been named in her honor.

Mrs. Colson is the first woman elected president pro tempore of the Senate and the only woman to have served in both Houses.

If Snyder's football fans fail to eat Bulldog meat for Thanksgiving supper, it won't be because this town is laying down on the job of supporting its high school Tigers. For when the Stamford-Snyder battle begins Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, on the Bulldog field, those fighting Bengals will be sidelined by enough fans, band boys and pep squadders to make their championship march sound like a big parade.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

OFF THE BOOK BEAT — Now is the time to get a good grip on the seat of Junior's pants and the collar of his shirt, haul him away from that TV set and plank him down in front of a book.

You can do this for at least a whole week and get official approval, or connivance, for the 38th annual celebration of National Children's Book Week begins tomorrow. Not that the Children's Book Council, and its member organizations, would necessarily endorse such drastic action, for part of the council's services includes radio and TV programs made available to your library or school; but it has been my experience — and I am a book editor — that the entertainment and informational quality is infinitely higher per line of a book than per flicker of a film.

The council provides managerial and promotional aids on how to run a book fair; it supplies books, records, films, kinescopes. Lists of recommended reading are prepared by libraries.

The council recommends as one process that children borrow books from the library and then buy the ones they want to keep. In a time when books are expensive, parents don't have money to waste on inconsequential reading. On the other hand, there's much to be said for possession, and I remember that as a kid I thought a lot more highly of a book I owned than of one I borrowed, and more of one to which I was committed by choosing it myself than one acquired more calculatingly. A big part of the reading habit is the owning habit. But however the child collects them, a shelf at home is incomparably more valuable than all the shelves in the library.

Oil Imports Are Blasted By Official

ABILENE, Nov. 24 (AP)—The president of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Assn. blames excessive oil imports for a "grave weakness" in gathering and transportation facilities of crude oil in West Central, West and North Texas.

Bruce Street of Graham wrote Arthur Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization this week that this weakness was brought sharply into focus at the last Texas Railroad Commission proration hearing.

"The weakness in our transportation system is the direct result of importation of excessive crude into this country," Street said.

"The major purchasers are, or expect to be, large importers of crude, and in their long-range planning have not provided for the expansion of gathering and transporting facilities to keep pace with the supply or potential demand that would arise if foreign imports were cut off."

Street said some purchasers requested 20 producing days on the Gulf Coast and 16 days for the rest of Texas. They justified the requests on the basis that pipelines out of North, West Central and West Texas were inadequate to accomodate more than the oil that could be obtained from 16 producing days each month.

Street urged Flemming to "proceed with the formulation and implementation of a long-range policy to control importation of oil so that when another emergency arises our country will have available to it the oil that is so vital to our national defense."

More Speculation On Oil Price Hike

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Middle East crisis has revived speculation that domestic crude oil prices will be increased.

Industry sources said, however, the rumors primarily are based on "wishful thinking." They said the Suez dispute and its disruption of oil supplies would have to continue several weeks longer before affecting the domestic crude price structure.

Considerable crude has been shipped to Europe since the crisis began but domestic stocks above ground still are excessive. Of greater importance, the tanker shipments have not affected the high level of gasoline being held in storage.

A Houston broker summed up the situation this way:

"Western Europe still is buying on a selective basis. They want only crude for their refineries. The situation will become serious when they start taking gasoline, crude or anything they can buy."

The high level of gasoline stocks has been the primary reason for recent cutbacks in domestic crude production. Talk of a crude price hike was very strong three months ago but gasoline stocks were a major factor for failure of a price hike to develop.

Refiners have been major spokesmen in behalf of crude price hikes, emphasizing the margin between gasoline and crude prices at present is extremely narrow.

U.S. daily crude production last week averaged 7,158,750 barrels daily. This was only 25,000 barrels daily below the all time high set nine months ago but was only 300,000 above a year earlier period.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

CONGRATULATIONS ARE in order to the 1956 Tiger footballers upon nailing down their second straight district title and for bringing Snyder High School its first undefeated season in the school's history.

By unbeaten season we mean the regular schedule. Never before has a Tiger team swept through its regular slate undefeated.

The playoffs are part of the overall season, of course, and we're confident that the Tigers, if they can shake off their fumbleitis "disease," can keep right on winning in the playoffs.

The going, to be sure, will be extremely rugged from here on in. Mistakes will have to be held to a minumum to succeed in the playoffs.

There will be no reason for the Tigers to let up the rest of the season. It's been extremely difficult the past few weeks to get Tigers "up" against the oft-beaten clubs they've been meeting.

But the teams that will be competing in the playoffs will all have winning seasons. Consequently, the Tigers know they'll have to bear down to win and as result they should be geared up for what games are left to be played.

Every team the Tigers have played this year, it seems were "fired up," principally because the Tigers have been unbeaten all year and because of their high-ranking in the state polls.

Despite it all, the Tigers have mowed down the opposition week after week in one fashion or another.

Fumbles Fail To Dampen Tiger Spirits

Fumbles have slowed the Tiger offensive attack the past few games but there is a bright side of this picture which, perhaps, many fans haven't thought about, and that is the fumbles have never seemed to rattle the Tigers. Many times a fumble at a crucial point ruins a team's spirit and oft times it leads to defeat.

But we've never seen the Tigers "fold" when a bad break went against them. They keep coming right back at you and it's been paying off, as their 10-0 record will attest.

One thing that was brought out in the Lamesa game Friday night was that it showed what the Tigers could do when they got behind. The 6-0 lead Lamesa held from late in the first quarter until early in the third was the first time this season that the Tigers have been behind.

After going to rest at the intermission trailing 6-0, the Tigers pulled themselves together in the second half and virtually ran the Tornadoes out of the stadium.

We've never seen the Tigers look so sharp all year as they looked in the second half, especially in the third quarter. For all practical purposes the game was wrapped up in the third when the Tigers shot ahead, 14-6.

Even Pros Commit Costly Fumbles

Getting back to that bad word, fumbles, it's something that will happen to the best of 'em, including the professionals as you probably have noted in watching the pro games on television each week.

Only last week, the Green Bay Packers, trailing 17-16, were driving downfield late in the game against the 49ers and after driving inside the 49er 20, the Packers fumbled and the 49ers recovered. The 49ers then took over and ran the clock out.

Fumbles ruined Levelland Friday night, too, against Littlefield. Littlefield won the game, 13-7, by taking advantage of Levelland bobbles. One of the Littlefield touchdowns resulted directly from a fumble when a Littlefield player grabbed a fumble in the air and raced 55 yards to a touchdown.

Then Levelland, trailing by that 13-7 margin, drove to Littlefield's 11 yard line with second down and six late in the game, lost the ball on a fumble.

There's one thing you can be sure of, the Tigers don't fumble on purpose. It hurts them more than it does anyone when they fumble. Sometimes the kids may be trying too hard to keep from dropping the ball.

As long as the Tigers keep fighting back as they have done in the past when things go against them, you've got to hand it to 'em for their fine spirit.

The Tigers are a fine bunch of kids and don't think for a minute that they aren't giving their all for Snyder High School.

TCU Clinches Cotton Bowl Berth

TIGER ON THE LOOSE—James Vincent, Tiger halfback, is shown enroute on a 49-yard punt return in the second quarter of Friday night's game at Lamesa. Vincent was finally shoved out of bounds on the Lamesa 21 by safety John Middleton. The Tigers proceeded to the one where the Tornado line held. Leading interference for Vincent above is Milton Ham, No. 85. Israel Hinojos, No. 41, of the Tigers is pictured in the background. The Tigers defeated the Tornadoes, 20-13, to clinch their second straight district championship. (Lee Watson photograph)

Frogs Rally For 20-17 Victory

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Texas Christian sputtered for two quarters against an aroused Rice team and then roared back behind the second half passing of quarterback Charlie Curtis and running of fullback Buddy Dike to clinch a New Year's Day trip to the Cotton Bowl with a 20-17 victory over the Owls.

The Horned Frogs, 10-point favorites, trailed throughout the first half but came from behind twice in the third period to grab a second straight trip as Southwest Conference host at Dallas.

The victory also retained TCU's chances for a tie with Texas A&M for the conference championship but a tie would require a Texas upset of the Aggies and a TCU victory over SMU next week. NCAA probation makes the Aggies ineligible for the Cotton Bowl.

Rice jumped into a 10-0 lead before Dike climaxed TCU drives of 82 and 79 yards to move the Frogs ahead, 13-10. Quarterback King Hill passed to halfback Ken Williams for 35 yards and another Rice touchdown to make it 17-13 but the Frogs came right back for a 60-yard drive with Curtis plunging over from the one with less than two minutes remaining in the third period.

Fullback Raymond Chilton ended a 79-yard first quarter Rice drive with a four-yard run and fullback Jerry Hall made it 10-0 in the second period with a 25-yard field goal.

Hall also kicked two extra points. End Harold Pollard and fullback Vernon Halbeck converted for TCU.

TCU clinched the Cotton Bowl trip in that the victory guaranteed the Frogs no less than a tie for second place with Baylor in final conference standings. In that the Frogs defeated Baylor, 7-6, the Dallas bid is automatic.

Curtis and Dike overshadowed the efforts of Jim Swink, TCU all-America halfback. Curtis, a 200-pound senior from Gainesville, completed 10 of 18 passes for 185 yards. Seven out of nine passes were completed for 120 yards came during the three touchdown drives.

Dike had a net of 107 yards in 21 carries for the day with 12 tries and 73 yards coming during the scoring surges. His first touchdown was from the two, the second from the one.

Both teams were geared for offense, the Frogs posting a total net offense of 456 yards, Rice 382 yards.

Swink ran his season rushing total to 604 yards, netting 64 yards in 12 carries. He also received four Curtis passes for 67 yards.

Morrow Is Hoping For Triple Win

MELBOURNE, Nov. 24 (AP)—Bobby Morrow, new 100 meters champion of the Olympic games, said today he felt confident about his chances of becoming the first American triple gold medalist since Jesse Owens won four in 1936.

"I was worried about the hundred," the tall, handsome sprinter from Abilene Christian College said. "I think I am better in the 200 meters. I pace myself better. And I hope to pick up a third medal in the 400-meter relay.

Morrow, who beat teammate Thane Baker of Elkhart, Kans., at the wire in 10.5 seconds, said he never felt confident about his chances of winning until yesterday.

"I have not been running well," he said. "But yesterday in the heats I felt that I had refound my form and today I was really confident, although with these guys you can't make a mistake."

Morrow said he got off to a good start and figured he could win the race when he reached the 50 meter mark. "After that I never had a doubt. I figured I was about two feet ahead at the finish."

Baker was second in a photo finish with the same time. Australia's Hector Hogan beat out Ira Murchison of Chicago for third.

Morrow said, although he was a bit tired and the track was a bit soft and there was a head wind, he thought he would run the race in better time. "I thought about 10.4," he said. "But I don't care about the time as long as I won."

Baker said he knew Morrow had him nipped at the wire and added, "I leaned a little at the finish trying to make up lost ground but it was too late."

Sophomore QB Leads Baylor By SMU, 28-0

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Nov. 24 (AP)—Baylor turned loose its sophomore backfield with versatile Buddy Humphrey as the ring leader today and the Golden Bears smashed Southern Methodist 26-0 to put Texas Christian into the Cotton Bowl.

Baylor thoroughly dominated the Methodists, who only got past midfield under their own power just once during the afternoon.

Texas Christian beat Rice 20-17 at Houston today to clinch the host spot in the Cotton Bow. SMU was the last team with a chance of beating out TCU.

Humphrey passed for one touchdown, scored one and pitched in heavily in the drive that brought a third. He was aided in his impetuous conquest by Larry Hickman and Farrell Fisher, a couple of pounding sophs.

A crowd of 28,000 watched the game played in Indian summery weather in the Cotton Bowl.

The Bears, led by the hard-driving sophomores, rolled up 269 yards on the ground and passed for 93. Southern Methodist was held to 52 on the ground and 49 passing.

While Baylor, in clouting SMU, was eliminating itself from the Cotton Bowl, it was furthering its bowl hopes just the same. The Bears are believed in line for a spot in the Sugar Bowl if they finish the season without defeat. They have won seven and lost two.

Next week Texas Christian plays Southern Methodist at Dallas able to clinch second place in the conference race by beating SMU, the Horned Frogs could wind up in a tie for the championship should Texas A&M lose to Texas next Thursday at Austin. A&M is on NCAA probation and ineligible for the Cotton Bowl.

Fumbles handed two of the touchdowns to Baylor but mainly it was the smashing Bear backs and an unyielding, overpowering line that pushed SMU thither and yon that told the story.

Humphrey made the first Baylor score with a 2-run run around end. Hickman got the second with a 1-yard plunge. Bobby Peters whirled around end for two yards and the third and Humphrey passed 9 yards to end Bill Anderson who went two more for the final counter. Donnel Berry converted after two touchdowns.

Hickman and Fisher wound up with 51 yards rushing apiece but the leading ground-gainer was Del Shofner, who made 96, failing, however, to score. Shofner made a couple of long runs in the last period.

Duke Slips By Tarheels

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 24 (AP)—Duke struck for two second-period touchdowns and added a fourth-quarter clincher behind the clever quarterbacking of Sonny Jurgensen to defeat North Carolina, 21-6, today and remain in the running for the Orange Bowl nod from the Atlantic Coast Conference.

A shivering crowd of 36,000 saw Duke draw first blood in the second quarter when halfback Wray Carlton swept right end from the 11 to climax a 78-yard drive.

Shortly before the half, Bernie Blaney romped over from the 7 for Duke's second touchdown.

North Carolina, sparked by the hard running of halfback Ed Sutton, scored in the second quarter with quarterback Curtis Hathaway sneaking over from the 1.

Duke, which finished with a 5-4-1 record, scored its other touchdown in the fourth quarter when Jurgensen plunged over from the 1-foot line.

A 37-yard run by halfback George Butrow set up the score.

Blaney converted two of the Duke extra points and Buddy Bass the third.

Clemson is the leading ACC contender to go to the Orange Bowl but Duke and South Carolina are still in the running. The ACC will send its most representative team.

Ohio State Loses, 19-0 To Michigan

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 24 (AP)—Michigan buried Ohio State's Big Ten co-championship hopes under the cleat-torn turf of Buckeye Stadium today, with a 19-0 conquest which was more convincing than the score indicates.

The Buckeyes, two-time Western Conference champions, were shorn of their chance for a third straight crown in last Saturday's 6-0 loss to Iowa and were a frustrated ball club today. They banged in futile fashion at the stalwart Wolverine defenses most of the day.

Ohio needed this one to tie Iowa for the title, but the Bucks didn't have a chance. Michigan scored the first time it had the ball, going 78 yards in 14 plays with quarterback Jim Van Pelt tossing a 1-yard scoring pass to Terry Barr. Two minutes later Barr was in the end zone again on a 4-yard run after he had recovered an Ohio fumble on the 9.

The Wolves wrapped it up midway in the last period with a 74-yard, 6-play drive in which halfback Jim Pace reeled off a 47-yard dash over tackle and caught a 24-yard pass from Jim Maddock. Maddock scored the touchdown on a 1-foot plunge.

Ohio made only one threat, marching 58 yards to Michigan's 4 as the fourth quarter opened, but Michigan took the ball on downs.

Huskies Decision Wash. State 40-6

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 24 (AP)—With its big line chewing wide gaps in the enemy defenses, Washington University's Huskies romped to six touchdowns and a 40-6 Pacific Coast Conference football victory today over pass-conscious Washington State.

The game was into the second quarter and Washington had a 21-0 lead before State scored. The first counter came on Washington's third play, when the Huskies sprung Mike McClusky over right tackle for 58 yards.

In another half-minute the score was 14-0 when end Bruce Claridge smothered a Cougar fumble behind the Cougar goal. Washington added its third tally in the second period when Dean Derby smashed the final 3 yards of a 58-yard march.

Houston Slips By Raiders, 20-7

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 24 (AP)—Houston used crushing ground power and a brilliant defense in the second half to stop Texas Tech cold for a 20-7 victory over the Red Raiders before 15,000 fans here today.

Quarterback Don Flynn scored twice and halfback Hal Lewis went over once, but it was the bruising power of fullback Donnie Caraway that proved the difference.

Caraway carried 16 times and picked up 77 yards to grind down the Raider defenders. He was the key figure on offense and his defensive play did a lot to contain the Raiders.

Tech, trailing 7-0 after one period, went off the field with a 7-7 tie at half time when halfback Hugh Fewin raced 20 yards at 13:25. Quarterback Don Williams tied up the game with his conversion. Flynn kicked both of Houston's extra points.

The Cougars lost little time scoring in the first quarter, capitalizing on a break when Tech fullback Gene Bentley fumbled on the Raider 21. Six plays later, Flynn rolled around left end for the touchdown at 4:10.

Tech came to life in the second period. Fullback Doug Duncan set up the opportunity with a 37-yard run. Houston held but Williams returned fullback Owen Mulholland's punt to the 37. Eight plays later Fewin slipped 20 yards around left end for the touchdown.

After Houston had held Tech following the second half kickoff the Cougars opened a 67-yard drive with Flynn going one yard for the winning touchdown at 13:25.

The Raiders started a drive that ended on another break for Houston. Fewin fumbled on the Tech 41 and center Billy McIlroy recovered.

It took the Cougars only seven plays to send Lewis eight yards over left guard into the end zone at 3:49 to settle the game.

It was the Cougars sixth victory and the sixth loss for the Raiders.

Wreck Rips Florida 28-0

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 24 (AP)—Georgia Tech combined Florida mistakes with Ken Owen's smashing power up the middle and Paul Rotenberry's sweeping speed for a 28-0 Southeastern Conference football victory today.

The Engineers convinced a Gator Bowl capacity crowd of 36,000 they are every bit as good as their No. 5 national ranking and worthy of being invited back to play in the Gator Bowl game five weeks from today.

This sixth conference victory also kept alive Tech's title hopes, dependent on a Tennessee loss to Vanderbilt next week.

Florida escaped without punishment on its first fumble midway the first quarter. But a minute later, Jimmy Dunn's bobble gave Tech an opportunity from the Florida 17.

Owen blasted over the middle on a series of short plunges and Toppy Vann sneaked a yard for Tech's first touchdown.

Florida was playing a waiting game in the second quarter when Jon May punted on first down and the strategy backfired. The kick died at the Florida 25 and on the seventh play Rotenberry was escorted by four Tech blockers into the end zone.

Held to one first down in the first half, Florida opened up after intermission but had too little to dent Tech's defense, while the engineers added touchdowns on a 49-yard sustained drive and a short ramble after a blocked punt.

Tiger Gridders Capture 2nd Straight District Title

To Meet Graham In Bi-District

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

It was "bring on the Graham Steers" for the Tiger footballers today after the Bengals overcame the first half jitters Friday night to defeat the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, 20-13, to clinch their second straight district championship.

The win enabled the Tigers to finish their regular 10-game schedule unbeaten.

The Tigers will now meet the Graham Steers at Graham next Saturday at 2 p.m. in a bi-district game. Officials of Snyder and Graham met in Abilene yesterday to arrange the playoff site and date with Graham winning the coin toss.

The Tigers found themselves behind for the first time this season Friday night at Lamesa when the Tornadoes turned a Tiger fumble into a touchdown late in the first quarter to take a 6-0 lead.

The 6-0 margin stood up until early in the third quarter when the Tigers came roaring back after the intermission to drive the Tornadoes to cover.

Almost before the Tornadoes knew what hit them the Tigers had built up a 14-6 lead, which, as it turned out, was sufficient for the victory.

For good measure the Tigers added a touchdown early in the fourth to boost their margin to 0-6. Lamesa's second touchdown came with 20 seconds left in the game on a 14-yard pass play.

The Tornadoes, playing inspired ball in the first half, stunned the crowd of about 4,000 fans when they went to rest at halftime with a 6-0 lead.

Tigers Catch Fire

The Tigers were not to be denied, however, as the Black and Golders caught fire in the third quarter to take the lead and hold it the remaining distance.

After a 24-yard return of the second half kickoff to the Tiger 29 by Bobby Joines, the Bengals marched 71 yards to paydirt in nine plays to tie the score at 6-6 and then take the lead on Joe Reaves' perfect placement.

Fullback Bill Fowler, who got off runs of 17, 6, 4, 3 and 15 yards on the drive, scored the touchdown on the latter run only 4:17 minutes deep in the third period and Reaves' kick made it 7-6.

The Tigers scored the next time they got their hands on the ball to put the game virtually on ice. After holding Lamesa on downs following the kickoff, the Tigers took over on their own 25 and drove quickly to their second touchdown.

Tommy Prichard electrified the crowd with a 54-yard run on the first play, finally being hauled down on the Lamesa 21. Lamesa's star back, John Middleton, did a good job in preventing Prichard from going all the way.

The drive was temporarily halted when Prichard was caught for a 3-yard loss and the Tigers drew an offsides penalty back to the 29.

Mickey McGrew hit the middle for a yard to the 28 from where Berry faked a jump pass and then faded and threw perfectly to end Milton Ham who caught the ball on the dead run at about the Tornado 5 and then raced over standing up.

Reaves' second straight placement was perfect and the Tigers hiked their lead to 14-6 with 3:40 minutes still to go in the third.

The Tigers were touchdown-bound again the next time they got possession but a fumble stopped the march deep in Tornado territory. The Bengals took over on their own 35 and proceeded to the Tornado 16 where Fowler, after a six-yard pickup, fumbled and Lamesa recovered.

Fowler Scores Again

The Tigers got the ball back minutes later after forcing Lamesa to punt and this time went 64 yards in six plays for their final touchdown. Bobby Joines got nine yards and Prichard 17 for a first on the Tornado 38 from where Fowler scampered to a touchdown only to have it nullified by a clipping penalty at the 3.

The penalty moved the ball back to the 18 but the Tigers proceeded right on to touchdown land on a 13-yard pass from Berry to Ham, a two-yard run by Berry and then finally a 3-yarder by Fowler for the TD.

Reaves' kick was wide but it made no difference as the TD virtually iced the game for the Tigers, putting them ahead 20-6 with 6:40 minutes left in the game.

The Tigers threatened again the next time they got the ball when they took over on the Lamesa 37 after a gamble for a first down by the Tornadoes failed.

Prichard dashed 21 yards to the Tornado 16 before a holding penalty pushed the ball back to the 31. Joines fumbled to stop the threat as Lamesa recovered on the Tornado 32.

With time running out, the Tornadoes drove 68 yards to their second and final touchdown. Middleton featured the Lamesa drive as the great Tornado back ripped of gains of 3, 9 and 11 yards and caught a pass for 22 more.

Sam Jones passed 14 yards to Doyle Goolsby for the touchdown with just 20 seconds left in the game. Jones kicked to make it 20-13.

Lamesa attempted an onside kick but Bill Jennings killed the ball on the Lamesa 47 for the Tigers. Reserve quarterback Ronnie Smith then downed the ball on the final play and ran out the clock.

After Frank McKinney sneaked over from the one to climax a 47-yard Lamesa drive for its first TD late in the first quarters, the Tigers drove inside the Tornado 20 twice in the second but were unable to locate the doublestripe.

Tigers Threaten Twice

Early in the second the Tigers drove from their own 29 to the Lamesa 14 where Middleton stopped the march by intercepting Barry's pass on the 5.

The Tigers were in business again a few minutes later when James Vincent returned a Tornado punt 49 yards to the Lamesa 21.

Prichard blasted his way 14 yards to the 7. Fowler picked up 5 and 1 yard gains to the one. But a pitchout backfired as Prichard was dropped on the eight. A fourth down pass then fell incomplete and Lamesa took over.

The first half ended shortly thereafter with Lamesa holding tenaciously to a 6-0 lead. But it was all Tigers in the second half as they raced to victory with a three-touchdown splurge to overcome the Lamesans.

Prichard was the game's leading ground gainer with a net of 181 yards in 15 carries. Middleton paced the Tornadoes with 89 yards in 21 trips.

Tiger linebacker Joe Reaves was the top defensive man in the game, making 12 tackles and assisting on six other for a total of 18.

Tackle Joe Hamilton was in on 16 tackles to lead the Tornadoes.

Navy Picked Over Army

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24 (AP)—Navy will be slightly favored when the Middies clash with the Black Knights of West Point before a sellout crowd of 102,000 at Municipal Stadium next Saturday.

But — and that's a great big but — the unusual can be expected in the 1956 renewal of the service classic, just as it has in every Army-Navy game.

The Middies have a 6-1-1 record with only a 7-7 tie with Duke and a 21-6 loss to Tulane marring their record.

The Cadets have dropped three games in eight but were three points more effective against the two teams' only common opponent — William and Mary. Army whipped W&M 34-6; Navy turned the trick 39-14.

The 1956 version of Army-Navy football fare may well become a contest between Navy's pass attack and the "caissons-go-rolling" running game of the Cadets' Bob Kyasky, Dick Murtland and Co.

The Navy club will be guided by quarterback Tom Forrestal, a 19-year-old who has been trying with some success to take the place of George Welsh.

Army admittedly doesn't have the aerial game boasted by the Middies but could come up with a surprise attack — such as the Oklahoma - style swift getaway from the huddle that stood it in good stead against Penn State earlier this fall.

Among the guests certain to attend are Defense Secretary Charles Wilson, Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker, Navy Secretary Charles E. Thomas, and Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles — whose branch is still working up to big time academy football.

It has not been determined whether the tense international situation will permit President Eisenhower to absent himself from Washington to attend the game.

Dartmouth Upsets Princeton By 19-0

PRINCETON, N.J., Nov. 24 (AP)—Dartmouth capped its first winning season since 1949 with a 19-0 football upset of Princeton today as bold quarterback Mike Brown scored a record three touchdowns.

Princeton, which hadn't lost a game until last week, was favored by two touchdowns in the Ivy League finale.

But the Tigers never recovered from Dartmouth's masterful ball-control in the first half and three damaging penalties at the start of the second.

Brown, son of the Cleveland Brown's coach, plunged 1 yard in the second period, 2 yards in the third and 1 in the fourth for a Dartmouth single-season scoring mark of 10 touchdowns.

The Tigers appeared sluggish from the start after their 42-20 trouncing by Yale a week ago, and the Indians didn't give them a chance to get untracked.

Sul Ross got its lone tally in the second quarter on a 36-yard pass from W. C. Polson to Sam Potts followed by a one-yard sneak by Polson.

It was Purdue's only Big Ten victory of the season in which it outgained every opponent from scrimmage. It gained two ties. Indiana won one Western Conference game.

HERMLEIGH TO MEET ROCHESTER THURSDAY

The Hermleigh Cardinals, who took their bi-district championship here Thursday in a 12-7 win over Van Horn, will meet Rochester Thursday in the Region II-B title match at Haskell.

The game was set at 2:30 p.m. Thursday by officials of the two schools yesterday after Rochester drubbed Gorman 51-7 in a bi-district game.

Coaches Ray Isaacs and Willie Bigham and Supt. O. B. Paty represented Hermleigh at the meeting with Rochester school officials.

Since Hermleigh hosted Rochester in a regional playoff game two years ago, Rochester had choice of the site of the game this time. Thursday is being observed by Rochester as Thanksgiving, while Hermleigh took last Thursday. Hermleigh students, however, will be turned out of school Thursday in time to travel the 87 miles to Haskell for the game.

The Haskell stadium will seat some 2,000 persons. Tickets will go on sale early this week, possibly by tomorrow, in Hermleigh at the high school. Student tickets will be 50 cents, general admission $1.25, and reserved seats $1.50.

LSU Upsets Porkers, 21-7

By W.B. RAGSDALE JR.

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 24 (AP)—Fullback Jimmy Taylor led a rugged Louisiana State ground attack today that thrashed favored Arkansas 21-7 without completing a forward pass.

For the fourth year in a row, the Tigers upset a favored team. Razorbacks haven't beaten LSU since 1929.

It was the second victory for LSU against seven losses, while Arkansas now has a 6-4 mark.

Taylor gained 170 yards on 20 carries, including a 75-yard sprint off tackle for LSU's first touchdown and a one-yard buck for the final tally.

The second LSU score came in the second quarter when guard Bob Ziegler snatched a wobbly pass by hard-pressed Arkansas quarterback Don Christian and trotted 27 yards for the touchdown.

LSU scored a safety in the fourth quarter when end John Wood and Billy Smith nailed Christian in the end zone. LSU quarterback M.C. Reynolds had put Arkansas in a hole by punting out on the Razorback one.

After LSU jumped to a 13-0 lead, Arkansas took the next kickoff and marched 68 yards in seven plays for its touchdown. On the scoring play, fullback Jerry Ferguson cut off right tackle 14 yards, then tossed a lateral as he was tackled to halfback John Titschel, who raced over for the touchdown. The play was good for 39 yards, with Ritschel going the last 25 yards.

Some 26,000 fans saw the contest in cool, clear weather at State Fair Stadium.

Neither team completed a forward pass in the first half. LSU defeated Arkansas at its own game—controlling the ball with a running attack.

The Tigers also took advantage of three Razorback fumbles and an intercepted pass.

For the first time this season, the LSU ground attack rolled smoothly throughout an entire game, losing the ball only once on a fumble.

The 197-pound Taylor, with a fat 8.5 average, led LSU ball carriers who piled up 295 yards rushing. He had a lot of help from his halfback running backs, J.C. Brodnax and Joe May. Brodnax pounded 69 yards in 17 tries for a 4.1 average, while May carried 16 times for 62 yards and a 3.9 average.

Taylor's long-scoring run came on third down with less than a yard to go for first down. While Arkansas bunched its defense, the husky fullback slanted outside right tackle and broke into the clear with the aid of a key block by Wood.

A few minutes later, Wood hit Underwood hard as the Arkansas quarterback turned loose the pass intercepted by Ziegler.

LSU's final touchdown came after Earl Leggett recovered an Arkansas fumble on the Razorback 23.

The drive appeared stalled on fourth down and four to go on the 8, but an Arkansas lineman broke off side when Taylor got back to try a field goal. The penalty moved the ball to the 3. The Tigers scored two plays later.

Arkansas marched 60 yards with the next kickoff but the drive stalled on the LSU 9 when Christian completed the first pass of the game to halfback Donnie Stone for six yards, two short of a first down.

The Shorthorns added another touchdown midway of the second period after recovering a Fish fumble on the Aggie nine. Dowdle scored from the nine on an end sweep.

Volunteers Top Kentucky

By ESCAR THOMPSON

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 24 (AP) — Little Johnny Majors gave 45,000 football fans a brilliant display of running, passing and kicking today as he piloted Tennessee to a 20-7 victory over Kentucky in a Southeastern Conference game.

With Kentucky scenting a 7-6 upset of the unbeaten and untied Vols, Majors rallied his mates to a two-touchdown burst in the final quarter to hand Tennessee its ninth victory in a row.

Majors scored two of the Vols' touchdowns and had an indirect hand in the other.

The first Tennessee score came on a freak play in the opening period when tackle John Gordy grabbed Majors' fumble on the Wildcat 6 and raced over the goal line. Sammy Burklow missed the extra point.

Kentucky came back after the half with a tremendous burst of power to march 65 yards in 18 plays for its touchdown, quarterback Delmar Hughes sneaking from the 1 and converting. Hughes directed the Blue Grass boys brilliantly for 60 minutes.

The Wildcats thus became the second team this season to forge ahead of Tennessee, the nation's No. 2 team in The Associated Press poll. And they gave the sellout partisan crowd plenty of anxious moments before Majors began the fancy stepping midway of the fourth period.

A booming 69-yard kick by Majors, coupled with a 15-yard penalty, shoved Kentucky back to its 12 early in the fourth stanza. The Vol line held, and Kentucky tackle Lou Michaels, another great 60-minute performer, kicked to Majors on the Tennessee 47.

Then the great little Vol tailback went to work, and in seven quick plays he skirted right end from the 3 for the game-winning touchdown. Burklow converted.

Kentucky wasn't through and started another drive of its own with 4 minutes to go. But halfback Bob Cravens fumbled and Bill Johnson recovered on the Tennessee 44 to nip the final Wildcat threat.

Again Majors proved equal to the occasion, and in three running plays the Vols smashed 56 yards for a score. After Tommy Bronson picked up a short line gain, Majors burst off right tackle and raced 22 yards to the Wildcat 31. Then he cut through left tackle and outran the Kentucky secondary for his second touchdown.

Majors ran 23 times for 143 yards, completed three of four passes for 41 and kicked three times for a 51-yard average.

Kentucky's scoring drive was achieved on sheer power plays with bruising fullback Bob Dougherty carrying the ball 11 times. Dougherty was the leading Wildcat runner with 88 yards in 23 rushes.

LAMESAN GALLOPS — Roger Shipp is shown ripping off his longest gain of the night for the Lamesa Tornadoes in Friday night's game with the Tigers, a nine-yard gain in the first half. Bud Morgan, No. 32, who was partially blocked out on the play, made the tackle. The Tigers rallied in the second half for a 20-13 victory. (Lee Watson photograph)

Alabama, MS Knot Score

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 24 (AP) —Two long touchdown runs by sophomore R. L. Dickinson gave Mississippi Southern a 13-13 tie with favored Alabama before 15,000 thoroughly chilled football fans today.

Dickinson, a 212-pounder who runs like a scatback, broke loose for 38 yards for a second-period marker, and then rambled 37 in the third period for another.

Those two dashes matched two touchdown passes from 'Bama's sophomore quarterback, Bobby Smith. His first one, to halfback Don Comstock, covered 52 yards. The next, to end Ralph Blalock, was good for 15, and put 'Bama ahead 13-7 in the third period.

Halfback J. C. Arban blocked Alabama's extra point try after the second touchdown. That gave Mississippi Southern a shot at a game-winning point after their second score, but Billy Rains, 'Bama guard, blocked that one to make it 13-13.

The Southerners had another shot at victory with 30 seconds left, as Dickinson lined up for a field goal try from the 'Bama 20. The snap from center was fumbled, and that was the ball game.

Chilled hands helped hold down the score. Time after time pass receivers dropped balls thrown into their hands.

Garland To Play At Gainesville Friday

DENTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Gainesville was selected here today as the site of the bi-district playoff game between Garland and Gainesville. Garland won the 5AAA fotball title and Gainesville took 6AAA. The game will be played Friday at 2 p.m.

World population will double from 2.7 to 5.5 million in the next half century, it is indicated by current growth rates.

Pitt Held To 7-7 Tie By Penn State

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24 (AP)—Penn State's Milt Plum missed a 13-yard field goal in the fourth quarter and the Nittany Lions had to settle for a 7-7 tie today with a favored Pitt team that had hopes for a bowl bid.

A crowd of 51,123, sitting in chilly 30-degree temperature, saw two of the East's top quarterbacks —Milt Plum of Penn State and Corny Salvaterra—put on a running, passing and kicking duel. Both figured in their teams' touchdowns. Both teams scored in the second quarter, with Penn State drawing first blood on a 3-yard scamper offtackle by speedy Billy Kane that capped a 60-yard drive in 11 plays. The key plays in the drive were a 16-yard toss by Plum to Doug Mechling and an 11-yard heave to his favorite target, Les Walters. Plum converted.

With Salvaterra calling the option play with split-second timing, the Panthers took the next kickoff and drove 75 yards in 10 plays, with the clincher an 18-yard touchdown pass by Salvaterra to Bob Rosborough in the end zone. Bugs Bagamery converted.

Salvaterra, with a key block from Jim Theodore raced 60 yards to Penn State's 20 early in the third quarter for the most sensational play of the game. He cut through center and broke for the left sideline before Jack Farls, a junior end from Freedom, Pa., knocked him out of bounds.

It was the third deadlock and the 56th meeting between the two teams and the first tie since the 0-0 game at Pitt Stadium in 1921. Both entered the game with identical 6-2 records.

Auburn Passes Over Florida State 13-7

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 24 (AP) — The passing combination of Howell Tubbs to Jimmy Phillips gave Auburn the winning margin today as the Tigers defeated tough Florida State 13-7.

It was Auburn's 14th consecutive winning appearance at home and the sixth victory of the season against three defeats. A crowd of 10,000 fans watched the game, chilled by a raw wind despite sunny skies.

The victory added a dramatic climax to Tiger fullback Jim Walsh's career. He plunged over from the 3 in the third period for the first touchdown in four years at Auburn.

Auburn held the Seminoles scoreless for three quarters despite several threatening penetrations, but the visiting Floridians were determined to go home with at least one touchdown. It came after a 65-yard drive when fullback Joe Holt caught a pass in the end zone from quarterback Len Swantic.

Phillips, an All-America candidate in his junior year at Auburn, scored first on a 67-yard pass from Tubbs. The big, red-haired end took the ball on Auburn's 65 and raced 55 yards to score. Tubbs added the conversion.

Walsh's scored climaxed a 49-yard scoring March.

South Dakota Wins NAIA Cross-Country

OMAHA, Nov. 24 (AP)—Ray Manion, 24, of Redlands University, Redlands, Calif., lead most of the way today to upset favored Bill Tidwell of Emporia College, Emporia, Kan. in the first annual NAIA cross-country run.

South Dakota State College of Brookings, S. D., finished first among the teams with a 77-point total. Fort Hayes was second with 88 and Howard Payne of Brownwood, Tex., was third with 94.

Hawkeyes Smash Irish By 48-8

By L. E. SKELLEY

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 24 (AP)—Iowa's Rose Bowl-bound Big Ten football champions put a golden touch to the best Hawkeye season in 35 years with a spectacular 48-8 rout of Notre Dame today.

Iowa, stabbing Notre Dame with dazzling long runs, kept its partisans in the crowd of 56,632, huddled in slightly below freezing weather, wild and warm throughout the afternoon with by far its best offensive show of the season.

The Hawks, headed for a New Year's Day Rose Bowl duel with Oregon State, ended their regular season with an 8-1 record and they picked up their first undisputed Big Ten championship since 1921 as a result of Michigan's 19-0 victory over Ohio State.

Iowa had a 5-1 conference record, landing the Hawks in first place for the first time since a share with Michigan in 1922.

Iowa, whose fans had feared there might be a letdown after last week's bowl-clinching 6-0 victory over Ohio State, dispelled all those thoughts in the first half by racing to a 28-0 lead under the expert direction and individual play of quarterback Kenny Ploen.

Ploen went 10 yards for the first Iowa touchdown and set up the second with a 32-yard spurt to the Notre Dame 1-yard line. He got himself a second touchdown in the second quarter on a 41-yard run.

Ploen's advertised duel with Notre Dame's Paul Hornung failed to materialize because the handsome Irish star was sidelined with 6 minutes left in the first period. Bothered by two bad thumbs, he didn't make another appearance.

Notre Dame didn't score until Iowa had a 35-0 lead on Fred Harris' 61-yard break through the Irish line.

The first Notre Dame points came in the third period when Frank Geremia tackled Harris in the end zone for a safety. Notre Dame followed with a touchdown on a 14-yard pass, Larry Cooke to Bob Ward who made a one-handed catch on the Iowa 3.

Sooners Rout Cornhuskers By 54 To 6

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 24 (AP)—Unbeatable Oklahoma methodically rolled to its 39th straight football victory today, overpowering Nebraska 54-6 with an eight-touchdown barrage that closed out a decade of Big Seven Conference domination.

The No. 1 ranked Sooners lacked some of the razor-edged sharpness that beat Missouri 67-7 for the Big Seven pennant last week, but team speed and a crushing line shattered the Cornhuskers of Pete Elliott, who was an assistant at Oklahoma last year.

For the record book, the 29th consecutive victory tied the all-time college record of Washington back in 1908-1914. Since 1947, when Bud Wilkinson took over as Oklahoma head coach, the Sooners have not lost a league tilt.

The Sooners, with 55 boys playing, scored in every quarter, going through the air and on the ground on long gains as they mixed their split-T attack with single wing and a back-in-motion flanker.

Tommy McDonald, Oklahoma's All-America, quarterback Jimmy Harris and alternate halfback Carl Dodd each scored two touchdowns with David Brown and Dale Sherrod each making one. Brown's came on a 53-yard run.

Nebraska, using the style of play Elliott learned as a Sooner coach, made its only touchdown at the start of the second quarter at the end of a 79-yard drive in 16 plays. A 9-yard pass from Gordon Englert to end Clarance Cook over the goal was the payoff.

Nebraska threatened again at the start of the final quarter when a recovered O.U. fumble gave the Cornhuskers the ball on Oklahoma's 17. Nebraska moved to the 1 but was stopped cold.

Defense Is Key To Win For Payne

ABILENE, Tex., Nov. 24 (AP)—Bob Byerly and Cecil Elkins, Howard Payne defensive men, combined talents today to give Payne a 20-12 victory over Abilene Christian College.

Byerly recovered an ACC fumble on the Abilene 12 which set up a touchdown and Elkins blocked an extra point kick which gave Payne enough for the victory. Payne added an insurance touchdown in the final period, however.

Eddie Campbell of ACC scored first on a five-yard run in the first period to climax a 70-yard drive.

Payne came back after the kickoff and Jack Cromartie scored on a four-yard run after seven plays.

Two plays later ACC fumbled and Byerly recovered for Howard Payne on the Abilene 12. Cromartie scored three plays later on a six-yarder.

David Walls kicked the extra point to make it 13-6.

Don Harber went one yard for an ACC touchdown in the second period. The extra-point try was blocked by Elkins and that would have been enough.

Late in the final period, however, Walls passed eight yards to end Harold Carms for the final Payne TD.

Tulsa Gets Past Wichita By 14-6

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 24 (AP) — Tulsa's speedy Dick Hughes raced 29 yards for one touchdown and scored another on a 30-yard pass from George Cagliola as the Golden Hurricane subdued a stubborn Wichita team today, 14-6.

It was an upholl battle for the victorious Tulsans as Wichita, a 3-touchdown underdog, outplayed the Hurricane practically all afternoon. The Tulsa triumph closed out a football season in which Coach Bobby Dobbs' team, in the second year of its comeback program, won seven games, lost two and tied one. It also enabled Tulsa to tie Oklahoma A&M for second place in th Missouri Valley Conference.

The Wichita loss snapped a 3-year dominance over the Hurricane and ended a Wheatshocker schedule in which they wonfour and lost six. Their conference mark was 1-3.

Spartans Grush K-State, 38-17

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 24 (AP)—Michigan State knocked in four touchdowns in the third period today to assure a 38-17 victory over Kansas State in a football game marred by a rash of fumbles by both teams.

The MSU Spartans, trailing 3-0 at one point in the second quarter, fumbled seven times in the first half alone and lost the ball on five of the miscues.

Ben Grosse kicked a field goal from the 30-yard line to give the Kansans their early three-pointer. Michigan State had only a slender 6-3 halftime lead, the touchdown coming on a fourth-down pass from the 5-yard line by third-string quarterback Mike Panitch to Larry Harding.

After a halftime scolding, Michigan State started playing scoring football in the third period.

The touchdowns in the third stanza came on a 39-yard, pass-run play from Don Gilbert to Sammy Williams, a 2-yard plunge by Gilbert, a 6-yard run by Dennis Mendyk and a 41-yard, pass-run play, this throw from Panitch to Harold Dukes.

In the third-quarter scoring, two of the MSU touchdowns were made after Kansas State fumbled and one followed a pass interception.

Mendyk went over from the 1 for the final MSU score in the fourth period.

In the final period, with less than four minutes left, quarterback Dick Corbin passed to Gene Keady in the end zone while Kansas State was on the 7 for one consolation touchdown and Ralph Pfiefer added another on a plunge from the 4.

Wisconsin, Minnesota Tie 13-13

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 24 (AP) — Wisconsin deprived Minnesota of sole possession of second place in the Big Ten Football Conference today by holding the Gophers to a 13-13 tie with a giant-sized assist from a pass interference penalty called against Bobby Cox.

A crowd of 54,149 huddled in frigid Camp Randall Stadium to watch the Badgers register their third tie of the Conference race without a victory. Wisconsin finished ninth.

The Gophers and Michigan wound up second behind Iowa.

The play setting up the touchdown that knotted the score came with two minutes and seven seconds remaining.

Quarterback Sid Williams threw a long pass from the Gopher 28, aiming for Dave Howard. Guarding Howard in the end zone, Cox appeared to stumble over the Badger end, sending him sprawling. Pass interference was called against Cox, who up to that point had prodded the Gophers to two touchdowns in the third quarter and a 13-7 lead. The Badgers were given the ball on the one.

Williams snaked over for the touchdown that tied the score.

Ex-Spartans Coach Shrimp Bowl Elevens

GALVESTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Michigan State influence will be in evidence in Galveston's eighth annual Shrimp Bowl football game Saturday night, Dec. 8.

Coaches of both teams —the Fort Hood Tankers and Bolling Air Force Generals — spent time with the Spartans either as player or assistant coach.

Dick Tamburo, Fort Hood coach, was center on the national championship Michigan State team of 1952. George Makris, coach of Bolling, was head boxing coach at Michigan State from 1951 o 1955 and also was assistant freshman footbal coach.

Both use the multiple-style offense.

The Shrimp Bowl will be the only major service bowl in the nation this year.

Yale Rips Harvard For Ivy Crown

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 24 (AP) —Touchdown twins Dennis (The Menace) McGill and Al Ward ended their college football careers in sensational fashion today as Yale overpowered hapless Harvard, 42-14 in winning the first formal Ivy League championship.

McGill and Ward, speedy, elusive halfbacks seeking all-Ivy honors for the second straight year, turned in sparkling running performances in the 73rd Yale-Harvard football meeting before a packed crowd of more than 38,000 at the stadium.

McGill, a 170-pounder from North Bergen, N.J., scored Yale's first touchdown on a two - yard buck and then tallied the second on a 78-yard sweep around end.

Ward, a 174-pounder from Glencoe, Ill., who also stars in track, returned a Harvard kickoff 77 yards for a touchdown and was a workhorse in Yale's all-senior backfield.

Quarterback Dean Loucks, a slick ball handler and passer, and fullback Steve Ackerman also were outstanding. Loucks passed to Ackerman for a 13-yard scoring play as Yale surged to a 38-7 half time lead.

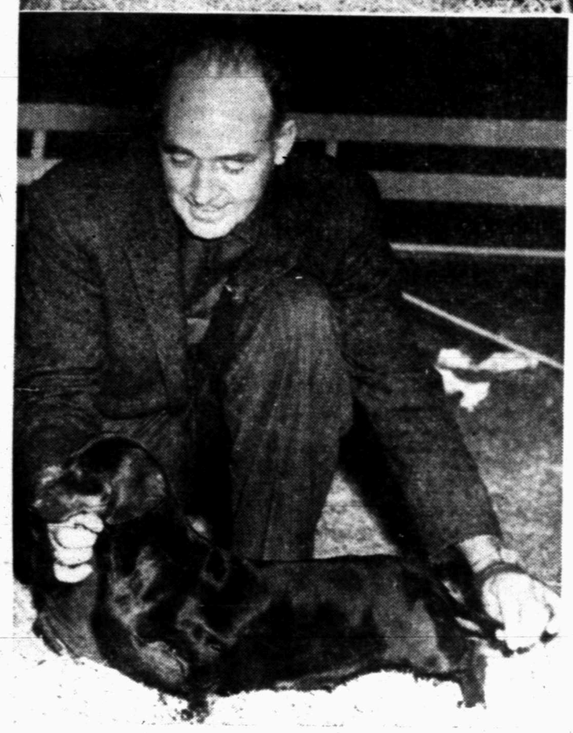

Harvard held the Elis scoreless in the third period, but Yale reserves added two more touchdowns in the final quarter. Dick Winterbauer connected with a nine-yard pass to Paul Lopata in the end zone for one of the tallies, and Herb Hallas sliced two yards off tackle for the other.

Harvard, a three - touchdown underdog, scored its first touchdown after McGill's long run. Jim Joslin, a shifty halfback, made the tally on a 39-yard run after bursting through left tackle and slipping two Yale defenders.

The Crimson's only other touchdown was scored in the third period after Tony Gianelly intercepted a pass on the Yale 26. Johnny Simourian, on fourth down and a yard to go for a touchdown, weaved through tackle into the end zone.

NEARING CHAMPIONSHIPS in the American Kennel Club are two dachshunds owned by Mr and Mrs. M. M. Keeble, SACROC 2 Camp. Both are shown here with Woodie Dorwood of El Monte, Calif., handler. At top is Red Locket Romulus (Romie), lacking only two points to become a champion, and at bottom is Red Locket Parisian (Frenchy), lacking only one point.

Dream Win Posted By Local Dogs

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Keeble, Snyderites who live at the SACROC 2 Camp here, have finally achieved the dream of all dog exhibitors — winning a double.

Two of their dachshunds recently took major wins in the Two Cities Kennel Club Show at Yuba City, Cal.

The show, judged by Fred Davis, gave Red Locket Parisian (Frenchy), one of the Keeble dogs, winners bitch, best of winners for a three-point major win, best of breed, and fourth in the hound group. Another Keeble dachshund, Red Locket Romulus (Romie) was winners dog for a three-point major, and best of opposite sex to best of breed. This was a clean sweep of the dachshund classes.

In four straight shows in California and Nevada the Keeble dachshunds came up with either winners dog and reserve winners bitch wins or winners bitch and reserve winners dog.

All class winners must enter the "specials only" class, which is for champions. The class winners must compete against the champions for best of breed and best of opposite sex to best of breed.

At the Yuba City show, two male champions and one female champ were in the ring against Romie and Frenchy, and all three went down to the two Keeble dogs. This is an unbelievable win in exhibitors' circles, since most breeders class a win such as this as a "once in a lifetime" event.

A few days ago, at the Hemet, Cal., Riverside Kennel Club show under Judge Forrest Hall, Frenchy won her class and went on to take winners bitch, best of winners for a two-point major, and best of breed. Romie was not entered in this show.

Frenchy now has 14 points and two majors, lacking only one point becoming a champion, while Romie has 13 points and two majors, lacking only two points.

To become an American Kennel Club champion, a dog must have 15 points and two major wins under different judges, so it will not be long before both dogs are champs.

Local Club Seeks Toys

Bob Crowell, Kiwanis Club president said all types of toys will be welcomed in the drive.

Meanwhile, Kiwanis Club members are selling tickets to their annual pancake supper scheduled for Tuesday evening in the High School cafeteria. Funds derived from this event will be used to purchase food, etc., for the clubs Christmas program for underprivileged families.

Senator Hopeful On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) today pooh-poohed the idea that Senate Democrats will get into a fight over civil rights in the next Congress. He forecast a good chance for legislation in the field.

Mansfield is slated to be his party's new Senate whip. He told newsmen "I think you will be disappointed in all the headlines you anticipate" about a row among Democrats over civil rights.

"I think it is not at all improbable," he went on, "that a fairly good civil rights bill will meet with the approval of this Congress."

In this connection, the Montanan said it would be important to note the makeup of the Senate Judiciary Committee in the 85th Congress convening on Jan. 3.

This committee, which handles civil rights bills, is headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), a strong foe of such legislation. His committee buried the administration's civil rights measure which passed the House.

Mansfield declined to speculate on the new members of this committee. It has been reported that two "liberals" might be named to the group who would support a civil rights bill.

There will be one vacancy on each political side of the committee. Sen. Daniel (D-Tex) will leave the Senate in January to become governor of Texas. Sen. Welker (D-Idaho) was deeated for re-election.

Mansfield said he expected support for a civil rights measure from both Democrats and Republicans in the new Congress. But he said he was not ready to say what form the legislation should take.

On this and other matters he said he felt Democrats should wait until President Eisenhower submits his program in January.

It is expected the President will offer again much the same program as the one which passed the House this year. This calls for a bipartisan commission to investigate civil rights complaints, power for U. S. attorneys to seek injunctions to prevent infringement of civil rights such as denial of the right to vote, and creation of a special division in the Justice Department to handle civil rights cases.

DATE DATA

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

"Give us some advice on how to break dates," chorus both boys and girls. One might expect to hear this plea once in a while, but when it becomes frequent, something is wrong. Not everyone is in an "unavoidable situation." Someone is not being honorable in his (or her) dating tactics.

Advice on how to break dates? I'd much rather offer you some advice on keeping them.

Glibly making and breaking dates is not only poor dating tactics, it's rude and shows a poorly developed character. A person with real strength of character is reliable and stands one hundred percent behind his (or her) word.

Right now you are forming your habits. Today they are flexible; tomorrow they will be a steel, unyielding mold imprisoning you. What sort of person will you be? You're deciding right now, whether you realize it or not.

If you would make it an iron clad policy never to break a date (well, almost never unless you have a super dooper excuse) then you may be sure you would think twice before making any.

When you do obligate yourself, the chances are exceedingly good that you'll look forward to the evening with eager anticipation and not dread because you will have given the matter some thought and will be sure the date is what you want.

Sometimes, after agreeing to a date, we realize we could have done better. Too bad. We made a mistake, but that's our fault, not the person we're dating. To keep the date, even though we would rather not is the only fair and noble thing to do. Are you a gentleman or a lady? Then act accordingly.

Legitimate sickness, family tragedy, etc., constitute good excuses for date breaking, and when you have a justifiable excuse breaking the date is no problem that requires special advice.

You simply dial the number of your date, explain the situation, apologize, ask pardon and a rain check on the date.

It's easy when you're on the right side, isn't it?

(Boys: What do girls say about you? Send today for your free copy of "My Rate As A Date." Score yourself and see how good a catch you are. Enclose a 3c stamp to cover mailing.)

PWO Officer Course Set For Tuesday

On Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock the Presbyterian Women's Organization will meet in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church for a study course for its officers.

Those who will hold office for the forthcoming year are earnestly urged to attend this most important meeting. All present officers are expected to attend to assist in this training program.

The meeting is open to any interested members of the organization as the study is conducted on "Who We Are, What We Do, and What Is my Specific Job".

Mrs. W. R. Everett, Mrs. James Babcock, Mrs. J. T. Hendren, and Mrs. James Kincaid will lead the study and discussions. All members are urged to bring their handbooks and a copy of planning 1957.

At the close of the morning session there will be a "pot luck" luncheon. A nursery will also be provided.

At the Prayer and Praise Service held Nov. 20, a collection of $33 was taken, and anyone who was unable to attend the meeting and wishes to make a contribution should contact Mrs. Macon Raine, treasurer. This special offering is to help provide extra mission work which the church would not otherwise be able to undertake.

Altrurian Club Holds Its Annual 'Love Feast' Dinner

The Altrurian Club met Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the Martha Ann Clubhouse for their Thanksgiving Dinner. This is the 33rd annual "Love Feast" which the club observes.

Hostesses for the occasion were: Mrs. A. C. Alexander, Mrs. Ross Blanchard, Sr., Mrs. Hugh Boren, and Mrs. J. W. Leftwich.

Twenty-one members were seated at a large festive table, beautifully adorned with fall flowers, berries and cornucopias. Miniature turkeys served as place cards.

Following the feast a program led by Mrs. H. G. Towle was held. Title of this being "Reminiscing", of which every member took part. It started back when the club was first organized 48 years ago. There are six charter members of the club and it proved to bring back such memories as one member being a proud owner of a surrey with fringe on top. It was brought up by some of the members how they walked to the meetings pushing a baby carriage, driving buggys, wagons, and etc. Comparison was made to the modern day when baby sitters are just a common thing, along with fine cars.

The articulate accomplishment of the Snyder women, in being able to have such a completely ultra modern place in which to hold their meetings and entertaining was a long thought of dream from the olden days.

Mrs. Brown Gives Mental Health Talk

The Altrurian Daughters met for their regular meeting Wednesday at Martha Ann Clubhouse. The president, Mrs. Melvin Blackard, presided for the business meeting in which members voted to send a representative to the safety meeting to be held Thursday noon. The club also voted to send small Christmas gifts and wrappings to the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

The program for the afternoon was given by Mrs. Harold P. Brown and Mrs. Harry Ward. Mrs. Brown directed the group in a discussion on mental health.

She began by asking members their definition of mental health. Some defined it as the ability to function effectively and happily as an individual, others as a matter of good relationship with oneself and others. Another expressed it as "just doing the best you can with what you have".

To be mentally healthy, Mrs. Brown explained, there must be an amount of self understanding on the part of the individual, and he must come to think in terms of the other individual, rather than in self-centered manner. Mental health suggests harmony with environment; shaping it when possible and adjusting to it when necessary.

We must learn respect for other peoples differences and capabilities, remembering that each person is normal unto himself. We are successful and happy partly according to our own mental health.

Mrs. Brown futher stated "mental health is more a state of feeling and emotion and is hard to express verbally. One might ask oneself "Do I solve my daily problems in a wholesome and constructive manner?".

The group concluded that democracy, religion and mental health work hand in hand to make a good team; that we should learn to accept criticism and remember to ask spiritual guidance.

Mrs. Ward showed a film entitled "Preface to a Life", which was on loan from the State Health Department. A short discussion of it was held afterward.

Mrs. R. E. Patterson, hostesses for the group, served refreshments to the 14 members present.

Here's New Idea For Wood Siding

Random width siding is gaining favor in giving homes a new and different look. Bevel wood siding in widths from 4 to 10 inches is used. A 4-inch width of ⅝-inch siding forms the bottom level with 6, 8 and 10-inch widths following up in that order. The rotation is then started over again with a 4-inch strip.

Other effective combinations use only two widths, 4 and 8-inch, or three widths. Some economy works in by using the narrow widths.

Random width vertical siding can be equally effective.

You Should Encourage Your Child To Believe In Santa

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE
AP Newsfeatures

"THERE REALLY ISN'T any Santa Claus, is there, Mommy?" asked 7-year-old Arlene. Mother was surprised at the question because before supper Arlene had laboriously printed out a letter to Santa Claus and it was now lying on the harth in front of the fireplace.

"No, dearie," said Mother, pushing back the dark curls from the earnest little face. "Santa Claus is just a game we love to play."

"That's what I thought," said the child. "He is a nice game, and we're going to play him always, aren't we?"

Children just grow up to understand that Santa Claus is not a real man and the disillusionment comes slowly and painlessly when the child is mature enough to accept it.

Occasionally parents worry over telling children "what isn't so," lest the child lose faith in them when they discover "the truth."

The myth about Santa Claus isn't like a real falsehood. The spirit of the game behind Santa Claus is something that lasts throughout life—the kindly giving spirit that makes people enjoy making others happy. In early childhood this spirit is personified in the jolly fat old man with a big white beard and a red suit. Later the personification slips away and just the spirit remains.

Some children become interested in Santa Claus at about 2 although many 2-year-olds are a bit frightened by Santa Claus. But between 3 and 5 most children believe in him implicitly and are interested in every detail. These are the real Santa Claus years. The joy and excitement of Christmas are some of the most precious landmarks of childhood.

During these faith-in-Santa-Claus-years you need have little fear that the child will find out that the story is a myth. He loves the story and wants to believe. If he is told that Santa Claus is only a fairy tale he very likely will pay no attention. He won't "hear" what he doesn't want to know. To him Santa Claus is a very real person, who lives in a real house and likes oatmeal for breakfast. Riding through the sky with a team of reindeer is just as sensible as the aeroplanes he sees. The notion that these fantastic trips are for the purpose of making children all over the world happy is a lovely idea.

Encourage your child to believe in Santa Claus—play the game with him and through his joy and wiggles of pleasure all of you will absorb the real spirit of Christmas.

By the time your child is 6 he may begin to have some doubts about the reality of the Santa Claus myth but he will want to play the game just the same, but he may be 7, 8, or 9 before aSnta Claus slips into outgrown beliefs of early childhood.

KAFFEE KUCHEN
...Adds Special Touch

FOR GOOD EATING

Doesn't it give you a sense of satisfaction when your dinners get the clean plate treatment? Some foods always bring forth these pleasing results. For instance, the flavor team of kraut, pork 'n' apples is popular with just about everyone and sure to produce cries for seconds.

Take advantage of the Kraut, Pork 'n' Apple Dinner Season, October 15-November 30, and stock up on your supplies of canned kraut and ready-to-use apple products, such as apple slices, apple sauce and apple juice. Combine them with any one of the fine pork buys now available at your market and you'll have a dinner that's tops in flavor and easy on the budget.

What could be more appetizing than any one of these savory kraut dinners on a crisp cool night? Pilgrim Treat uses convenient brown-and-serve sausages, with kraut and apple sauce. Pork tenderlion is prepared in an interesting new way in the Kraut Porkwich Bake while sure-to-please pork chops get a flavor boost from bacon in the Krautumn Casserole.

1 1-pound 3-ounce can sauerkraut
1 1-pound can baked beans
2 cups canned apple sauce
1 tablespoon molasses
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup catchup
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 8-ounce package brown-and-serve sausages

Cook bacon over medium heat until lightly browned; add sauerkraut, baked beans, apple sauce, molasses, brown sugar, catchup and mustard. Mix well and turn into greased 2-quart casserole. Arrange sausage on top. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour.

Kraut Porkwich Bake
(Makes 6-8 servings)

2 1-pound 3-ounce cans sauerkraut, drained
2 cups canned apple sauce
2 tablespoons finely chopped celery
¼ teaspoon salt

COFFEE CAKE:

1 package or 1 cake compressed or dry yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
½ cup scalded milk
¼ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
2½ to 3 cups sifted enriched flour
1 egg, beaten
½ cup raisins
1 cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

FILLING:

Cherry preserves
Peach preserves

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Use warm water for dry yeast. Pour scalded milk over sugar, salt and shortening; stir occasionally until shortening melts. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in 1 cup of flour and beaten egg. Add softened yeast, raisins and oats. Add enough flour to make a soft dough.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 40 minutes. Brush ropes with confectioners' sugar glaze; fill squares with cherry and peach preserves.

New Jewelry Design Gets Atomic Look

THE NATION'S jewelry designers are catching up with the atomic age.

Winners of the recent Diamonds U.S.A. awards exhibited modernistic tendencies employing motifs suggesting neutrons, protons and electrons arranged in decorative effects.

Fifteen jewelry designers from all sections of the United States received citations this year for orignial and effective designs in diamonds, gold, platinum and other precious ingredients. The winning pieces ranged from necklaces and bracelets to rings and earrings and covered a price range from below $500 to six figures.

One jeweler designed a pendant of more than 100 diamonds combined with rubies, sapphires and emeralds in a pattern inspired by the particles of the atom. Other winning designs took ideas from outer space in the form of stars, planets and crescent moons.

Among women award winners was Marianne Ostier of New York, whose prize entry was a pair of earrings in diamonds and pearls shaped like crescent moons to fit both the top and bottom of the ear.

A winning watch design called "Saturnalia" hid the time mechanism within a miniature Earth of blue enamel seas, platinum continents and diamond equator.

Use Fabrics To Suit Your Personality

Choose cottons suited to your own personality. That's the advice given by decorators to the housewife who wonders where to start in her home redecoration project.

Not all fabrics suit everyone, and not all are suited to every kind of family life. Your redecoration analysis of your individual requirements.

Sturdy cottons like denim and corduroy are best for active households where the homemaker hasn't the time to bother with special handling of materials and where fabrics take a beating from irrepressible small fry.

Elegant cotton organdy, voile and sheer laces are fine for the family which demands fastidious surroundings and is willing to make a slight extra effort to give these materials the care they deserve.

Both rugged and elegant types of fabric are prescribed by high-style interior decorators, and both kinds reflect good taste in contemporary American interiors.

Most homemakers come to a successful compromise between their desire for elegance and their need for possibilities with hundreds of different weaves and textures. Each kind of fabric retains the relative advantages in its own category of the cotton fiber's own properties — unusual strength, washability and attractive appearance.

Both formal and informal cottons can give an ordinary home the freshly redecorated air of a showplace, according to the National Cotton Council. In the selection of fabrics in a room should have about the same degree of formality.

If you combine two printed fabrics in one room, there should be a distinct difference in scale, with one pattern, it's best to use solids or stripes for other fabric.

When shopping, bring home swatches of the fabics you like and compare them with the old fabrics you intend to keep. Buy new fabrics only after trying all the samples together in the room.

Sweater Is Adding Glamor To Men's Fashion Picture

Suddenly, the sweater man is the most glamorous - looking "thing" around. He's the American male "for whom the bell tolls" — and, with bell-sleeved sweaters no less! Those modern gadgets he insists be part of his home and life's convenience, are now matched in get-up-and-go sweater fashions by his own personalized he-manning.

Vanity is no feminine exclusive. Not any more, now that American men have "seen the light." There's as much self-expression in men as in women, and wool sweaters bring it out in both.

The Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady," gave American women Cecil Beaton's rekindled fashions and Rex Harrison — something to feast on. Harrison, true to fashion in his own fashion, gave the wool coat-sweater back to American men to make them look like King of Hearts.

Irresistible American woolknits, too wonderful for words, make men so handsome they "ought to be in pictures." They've done more to take men out of wardrobe doldrums than any other item of apparel that has come to life in more than a decade, including the sport shirt.

Nothing beats that indefinable air of ease and elegance so typical or resilient knitted wool around town or country, ski-gathering, or just plain loafing, suburban manner. The line-up weaves a new spell of masculinity with sweaters, car coats, weskits, turtle bibs - all made of 100 percent unadulterated real American wool.

They're winter warm-ups that give man a cherry look, and for the first time, give him a fashion identity. Newest and most imaginative of all the he-men sportswear is the "baggy shag," cleverly style to rephrase the cardigan but with no sacrifice of the rugged he-man overtones. Comfortable full sleeves, and they ARE full and bell-like, are snugly cuffed in a wide rib.

Slightly reminiscent of the old-time villain, his silk ascot changes to the removable wool turtle-neck dickey that's worn to fill in the deep streamlined v-neck, buttoned low at the waist — an women too, depending on how you look at it.

The wool sport shirt-sweater, one the most popular, now adds collars that go from a low-V to the classic convertible, the double collar that changes from Italian to crew, club, turtle, and ascot.

The wool sweater coat, thanks to Rex Harrison, with three or four button closing, is fast taking the preferred spotlight as the ideal topper. Scandinavian woolknit stripers, told in more ways that you can imagine, add their colorful influench to the sweater scene, its pathway strewn with rugged beauty and provocative he-man sophistication.

So, go Man, go! The All American wool sweater look, with its newly acquired athletic, outdoorsy Herculean handsomeness — is all yours!

Oklahoman Is Veteran At Winning In County Fair

CUSHING, Okla. (AP) — Forty-one years ago when Mrs. J. C. Smith was 11 years old she started entering her handiwork in fairs.

She had immediate success and today her home is filled with thousands of grand champion and blue ribbons.

In the last Payne County fair, more than 50 per cent of her 70 entries got blue ribbons. At the Cushing Free Fair she usually scores about 85 per cent first prizes and this year was no exception.

At state fairs in Oklahoma City, Tulsa and Muskogee her blue ribbon average runs about 25 per cent with about half of those winning entries also good for the grand champion ribbons.

Mrs. Smith was born in the rural community of Glencoe in Missouri but was brought to Oklahoma by her parents when she was three.

She acquired an interest in 4-H Club work at the age of 11 when she exhibited her first efforts.

Mrs. Smith enters mostly the canning and sewing divisions although at times she also takes over the garden products and poultry classes.

She lives in a pleasant, natural rock home north of here with her husband and two daughters and besides canning and sewing also cares for a garden and chickens. There usually are a half dozen dogs barking around the house and she also cares for eight cats.

A visitor to the Smith home can find hundreds of ribbons of all kinds without ever going into the closets. Mrs. Smith makes a practice of putting all ribbons three years old away.

One of her daughters, Roberta, made a novel spread entirely from her mother's blue ribbons.

Both Roberta and her sister Donnelda also have won many state and national 4-H awards.

What does the champion's husband think about all the blue ribbons?

"Those ribbons clutter up the place some times," he admitted, "but that prize winning food will be great this winter."

WE DON'T KNOW EVERYTHING, BUT—
Only a few decades ago most people thought that everything would soon be known; that everything would be discovered; and that all scientific data would be recorded in its proper place. The fallacy of this has become evident. The more people know and learn, the greater becomes the unknown. When compared with the sum total of all knowledge, pharmaceutical knowledge seems insignificant indeed. However, when a prescription must be compounded to restore health or to save life, pharmaceutical knowledge surpasses all other things in importance. We do not pretend to know all things, but when it's medicine you need we are prepared to meet every emergency.

Jackie Cooper Finds New Ways To Move Up In Acting

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I got to be 25 and I was scared. My mother had died and I had lost my father when I was young. When I discovered there were men younger than me in the business, I lost all confidence. I had always been the youngest of anyone I worked with."

This was the testimony of Jackie Cooper on the evolution of a child star. He has found more fame as an adult than have most performers who found fame early. But it hasn't been without a struggle.

When Jackie returned from the service, he found little demand for his services in Hollywood. He wanted to stay in the acting business, but realized he needed to know more about it. As a youngster, he had just acted naturally. As an adult, he had to do more.

"So I packed up and went to New York, he said. "For nine years, I worked in the theater and live TV. Luckily I had saved my money when I was a kid, because I averaged about $150 a week in those nine years.

"But they were a good investment. I learned my business, and I think I'm equipped to handle the future now."

Jackie is the star of "The People's Choice," which is enjoying its second year on NBC-TV. This season he is also directing, and that's part of his plan for the future.

"I've always resisted doing series," he said. "They wanted to make a series out of Skippy and later Henry Aldrich, but I would not. Just after the war, Jackie Coogan and I were offered a series that would have brought us $50,000 a year. Jackie was mad at me because I decided to go east instead.

"I've always thought you're dead after you do a series. Producers won't cast you because you are too identified in one role.

"I turned down several TV series until I found the deal I wanted. This is it. I figure I can do this one for three years, then start my own company to direct and produce a series."

Jackie has long been preparing for the switch to directing. He directed plays in summer theatres and also did some shows for CBS.

Presley Film Set To Show Here Soon

Elvis Presley, presently a sensation among rock 'n roll music fans, will be introduced to theater audiences in the new movie, "Love Me Tender," which will appear in Snyder soon.

The Twentieth Century Fox Cinemascope production stars Richard Egan and Debra Paget, introducing Presley and his guitar.

The story is set against the background of the Civil War and the rehabilitation period that followed. It has an interweaving love story.

Egan, Presley, William Campbell, and James Drury play the four Reno brothers, three of which return from war to their Texas farm to find that their younger brother, played by Presley, has married the oldest brother's childhood sweetheart, played by Miss Paget.

Songs introduced by Presley in the film include the already-popular "Love Me Tender," "We're Gonna Move," "Poor Boy," and "Let Me."

Normal Teenagers Like Rock 'n' Roll

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If your youngster is a rock 'n' roll addict, he's normal by current Hollywood standards.

Producer Edward Lewis, who is making "Young Lovers," a story about "average teen-agers," says any prospective applicants for the predominantly teen - ager movie will be considered normal if they admit to a liking for the rhythm and blues fad.

GERMAN ACTRESS Marianne Cook makes her American acting debut in the new film, "Four Girls In Town," which co-stars George Nader, Julie Adams, Elsa Martinelli, and Gia Scala. Miss Cook is shown here in a scene with Sydney Chaplin.

Marshall Little Theater Tries New Angle

By MARSHALL COMERER
The Associated Press

The Marshall Little Theater hopes its difficulties are only growing pains and not a slow withering away.

The amateur theatrical group embarked on its fourth and most ambitious program this season. It leased land at the Marshall airport last summer, moved a house to the site and began work on what it hoped would become a permanent home.

But only 22 persons renewed membership this year. So the three play season planned for this year was cancelled and the money was refunded to the few persons who had bought associated membership.

The executive board decided to give its first production of the season, "The Tender Trap," free to test reaction.

The play, which opened, Nov. 15, drew an appreciative audience. The board has now decided to make another membership drive after the holiday season.

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," Gian Carlo - Menoti's Christmas opera about the miracle in the life of an improverished mother and her crippled son at the time of the birth of Christ, has been scheduled for at least four Texas groups during the holidays.

The Opera will be a feature of the Corpus Christi Symphony Orchestra Dec. 3.

The East Texas Symphony Orchestra will give its performance in Tyler on Dec. 11.

The Lubbock Little Theater and Texas Tech Music Department will give their performance Dec. 19-20.

It will also be given as part of the program at the Alma Thomas Fine Arts Center at Georgetown, Nov. 27.

The North Texas State College Supper Theater presented its second Shepperd's Play," Thursday and Friday. The Christmas play was presented unusually early this year to permit the cast to appear in the college players pre-holiday season show.

Scotch Girl Learns Secret To Success

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Pamela Duncan is a Scotch girl from New York who took three years to find out what Marilyn Monroe and Jayne Mansfield knew long ago. And that is:

A 38-inch bosom is more important than talent.

New York trained and a veteran of live television drama, Pamela came out here three years ago. She made the weary rounds of casting offices and got herself a living in better than 100 television dramas.

"I did lots of work over at Columbia's Screen Gems, picked my check up each time with not even so much as a thank you.

"Then a few weeks ago I had to put on a bathing suit for a show with George Sanders. When the show was completed the Columbia front office decided that I looked too censorable in a bathing suit, so the scene had to be shown over.

"Now all the producers go out of their way to be nice to me. I am now offered parts instead of searching for them."

Jose vasquez, prominent Mexican conductor, received an enthusiastic response from the audience and orchestra Monday night as guest conductor of the Austin Symphony.

Making Film In Rome Has Drawbacks

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 24 (AP) — Moviemaking in Rome is filled with pitfalls, says Dewey Martin, especially when you're costarring with another Martin — Dean.

The two Martins — no relation — are in "10,000 Bedrooms," recently returned from shooting in Rome.

Fortunately, Dewey has an understanding wife in singer Peggy Lee, else he might be known as her ex-husband.

While Dewey was in Rome, Peggy was appearing in Las Vegas, Nev. One doesn't get much sleep anyhow in Las Vegas but one night after her last show, she stayed up for eight hours trying to reach her husband by phone in Rome.

When the connection finally was made, the operator at the hotel in Rome put the call to Dean's room. Dean asked the operator to find out who was calling. Back came the word, "Mrs. Martin." Dean took a look at his own wife in the hotel room and told the operator to refuse the call. The information was relayed to Peggy 7,000 miles away.

"After a day or two," Dewey says, "Dean got to thinking that maybe the call was for me instead of him."

Salesmanship Good Training For Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dean Jones, young Metro bobby sox idol, believes the best training for movie stardom is a good course in salesmanship.

"It's more important than a diploma from the Actors Studio," he argues.

Dean, under contract for more than a year to the big studio and its subsidiary, MGM Records, says that a contract player who waits for the front office to hand him parts is well on the road to becoming a has-been before he even gets started.

So far, the handsome singer has landed parts in "These Wilder Years," "Tea and Sympathy" and "The Great American Pastime," each one bigger than the last, strictly on his own salesmanship.

SCHEDULED HERE Tuesday is the big Santa Claus parade, which will start at 5:30 p.m. Santa Claus and his reindeer, who always draw large crowds of children and adults. He is coming here by special arrangement with the Chamber of Commerce merchants committee and the Downtown Lions Club. Floats are being entered in the Christmas parade by organizations to compete for prizes of $50 and $25, and other floats are also being entered by businesses. After the parade rounds the courthouse square, Santa and his reindeer will stop for a visit with children, and the Lions will aid him by distributing candy.

Father Kills His Wife And Her Mother

MARYSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A 50-year-old father of two children, who were born crippled, shot and killed his estranged wife and her mother last night as his terrified children watched.

Police arrested John Forney about three hours after the shotgun slayings. He was found cowering in his bed, covered with blankets.

Killed by shotgun blasts in the chest were Mrs. Sarah Mae Forney, 45, and her mother, Mrs. William Shoue, 59.

Douglas Forney, 4, scooted out of his grandmother's house shortly after the shooting began and took refuge in a neighbor's home.

James Forney, 19 months whimpering, was found huddled next to his grandmother's body inside the house. His mother's body was on the front porch.

Marysville is a small rural community about 10 miles north of Harrisburg, the state capital.

Police Chief William Sheppard said Forney was free in bail pending outcome of nonsupport charges filed recently by his wife. He said that records also showed that Forney had been arrested previously on charges of beating his wife.

Fire Damages Sport Shop

Fire of undetermined origin badly damaged the Sport Shop, 2413 Avenue S, early yesterday morning.

The fire was reported to the fire department by two city policemen who were making a routine night patrol at about 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

D. A. Porter, fire chief, said that the floor, ceiling and interior of the shop, and the contents were badly damaged by the fire.

"No estimate of the total amount of loss has yet been made," he said.

He indicated, however, that the loss would probably be high.

Owner of the Sport Shop, Wayne Stephens, was said to have been in South Texas on a hunting trip when the fire occurred.

The building is owned by A. B. Casstevins.

Porter said that apparently the fire started in a shop room in the building but spread to the floor and ceiling of the rest of the building.

There was smoke and water damage to all the interior of the building and slight smoke and water damage to the Grill Cafe, owned by Gordon Goss, next door.

Large Jewel Theft Probed

DALLAS, Nov. 24 (AP)—A middle aged man who hurridly left the Statler Hilton Hotel after claiming some possessions from the vault was sought today in a $60,000 jewel left there.

Police Lt. T. B. Leonard said the man fled without paying his bill. The jewels belonged to a New York salesman and were taken from a safety locker in the vault.

The loss was discovered by hotel officials and Harold Rosenthal, the salesman, when the latter went to the vault yesterday.

The sample case which held the 11 trays of fancy watches and jeweled rings was found yesterday along a highway near Canton. Rosenthal set the $60,000 value on the jewelry.

Inflation Is Regarded As Grave Hazard

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government's new economic policy boss sees inflation both as an immediate hazard and as the country's No. 1 economic problem for some years ahead.

Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, chosen by President Eisenhower to be chairman of the President's three-man Council of Economic Advisers, shares Eisenhower's view that price advances "must be stopped."

Inflation can be licked, Saulnier said in an interview today, but not by government alone. Industry and labor must help sit on the lid, he said, if the country is to resist the high pressures generated by almost-full employment and near-capacity production.

The government has a heavy responsibility, he said, to use its resources not only to counteract recession but to "resist inflationary developments."

Right now he is understood to be concerned with the need for easier mortgage credit, to counteract the slump in home building. He also is known to favor some form of tax relief for small businesses.

But Saulnier avoids public pronouncements on specific issues. He holds that the council should "express its views very firmly within the administration" and let others wage the public debate for their adoption.

Patrol Increased On State Campus

AUSTIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—Police increased their patrol today around the University of Texas campus area where students have complained about additional parking meters.

The order followed damage earlier to parking meters installed on another street bordering the university. The meter posts, imbedded in still-wet concrete, were kicked or pushed over during the night.

The controversy started a week ago when an effigy of Mayor Tom Miller was hanged from a tree near the new parking meters. The effigy carried a sign: "Take your meters back to City Hall."

Plot To Kill Bootleggers Is Revealed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 24 (AP)—A plot, described by police as fantastic, to kill at least five Oklahoma City bootleggers was disclosed by authorities late last night.

Officers said the plot was part of a plan to grab control of Oklahoma County liquor traffic. Oklahoma still has a prohibition law.

Three well known Oklahoma County bootleggers were jailed on complaints of conspiracy to commit murder. Their arrests touched off a two-state hunt for four other men police said had been paid from $3,000 to $10,000 apiece for each of the five bootleggers' lives.

Arrested last night in the alleged conspiracy were Grady King 37, and two of his associates, Jay Wilson, 36, and F. W. Wilson, 31.

Gene Norris, 34, was arrested at Lawton, Okla., and later transferred to the Wichita Falls Jail. Three other men in the reported conspiracy are being sought in Dallas and Fort Worth, authorities said.

The plot was disclosed by police, the Oklahoma Crime Bureau and the Oklahoma County sheriff's office after three weeks of undercover work.

Roy Bergman, Oklahoma City police chief, said evidence has been obtained indicating a mass-murder plot was conceived in Dallas. He said a group of Oklahoma County bootleggers met Texas hoodlums and agreed to pay $3,000 "a head for assassinting a list of five men."

He said plans were made to discuss expanding the number of victims.

"The plan was to bring organized crime into Oklahoma County with a series of paid murders," Bergman said.

Officers identified the marked bootleggers as Red Holt, Ray Rainey, Seth Stone, Harold Ford and Billy Fields, all operating whisky companies here.

Officers said their tip came from a man hired to kill and a personal friend of one of the intended victims.

The bootleggers, police said, learned of the scheme and concocted one of their own. They planned to lead the conspirators to believe they had been killed—disappear two weeks—then reappear and claim part of the money paid for their deaths.

Police said Holt actually got $2,225 of the $3,000 paid to his "killer" who showed the conspirators Holt's belt buckle and wallet as proof that the job had been accomplished.

The Crime Bureau said the group that plotted the deaths learned they had been double-crossed and hired another man for $10,000 to kill Holt.

A Crime Bureau agent learned of the second planned attempt on Holt last weekend and warned the bootlegger. Officers said they later discovered three men suspected of being hired killers had attempted to rent a motel cabin which commanded a view of a cabin occupied by Holt. The men carried a high-powered rifle, police said.

Investigators were checking the possibility that the disappearance of Orville Chambless last summer may have been part of an assassination plot to eliminate bootleg competition.

Norris is a former associate of Chambless, officers said. Chambless has not been found. Both Chambless and Norris, along with Floyd Hill, were indicted four years ago in a $248,000 robbery at Fort Worth of two Cuban revolutionists trying to buy arms.

Hill was the only one convicted.

Deer Bagged The Hard Way

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 24 (AP)—It ws a crazy, mixed-up way that William E. Brown and R. E. Smith bagged a deer on the James River Thanksgiving Day.

In the first place, Brown and Smith weren't even hunting deer. They were duck hunting. Then again, they bagged this deer without even firing a shot.

The two men were sitting waiting for ducks when they heard the baying of dogs. Moments later, out of the woods popped the deer with the dogs in hot pursuit.

The deer jumped in the river and drowned.

Brown and Smith guided their boat to the scene and pulled the deer out of the water.

Later they turned the deer over to the game warden because, said they, it probably wasn't a "fair kill."

M-P Transportation Company May Be Sold

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Missouri Pacific Transportation Co., a bus-operating subsidiary of the railroad, may be sold shortly, Railroad President Paul Neff said yesterday.

The bus firm, which operates 170 vehicles in 9 states, has been losing money since the war and in 1955 had a deficit of $453,389.

"Negotiations are going on, and there may be a sale in the next few days," Neff said. Prospective buyers were not named.

Attention Is Focused On Negro Group

CLINTON, Tenn., Nov. 24 (AP)—The 12 Negro children who attended classes at Clinton High School are no longer the objects of mob threats. They are now the focus of protective interest from a few white Anderson County residents, of bitter hatred from a larger group, and of a deep sense of frustration on the part of the great majority.

The first two weeks of integration under a federal court order were filled with mass protest and violence that finally was quelled by the Tennessee Highway Patrol and the National Guard. From mid-September until early this month, "everything went smoothly at the school," according to Principal D. J. Brittain Jr.

But the first two weeks of November were marked by "an increase in little incidents," he said. "Ink was poured in the locker in which one colored girl had her books. There was an increase in insulting and intimidating side remarks. Somebody painted 'coon, go home,' in one of the rest rooms."

Most Clinton and Anderson County residents, particularly outside the federal reservation of Oak Ridge, strongly object to integration in the classrooms. But most of them have accepted, after a five-year battle that went to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, the final decision of the courts. In general conversation, they make it abundantly clear that they wish the followers of John Kasper, the articulate young segregationist from Washington, D.C., would do the same.

Deep South Freeze Seen

ATLANTA, Nov. 24 (AP)—Extra blanket temperatures were forecast for most of the Deep South tonight, after a day of fair chilled weather.

Freezing or subfreezing temperatures were expected to reach from the Carolinas westward across Georgia and along the Gulf states to Louisiana.

Florida farmers checked to see whether overnight cold that gripped the state had harmed growing crops. Their concern was mainly for winter crops of beans, tomatoes and potatoes in South Florida mucklands.

The citrus crop in Central Florida was expected to weather the cold. In North Florida, most produce liable to frost damage was killed in the Nov. 10-12 freeze.

Cold winds yesterday drove most bathers off the Florida beaches.

Kiwanis To Big Spring

Officers and committee chairmen of the Snyder Kiwanis Club are scheduled to participate in a division organizational conference this afternoon in Big Spring.

Several high officials of the Texas-Oklahoma District, Kiwanis International, are expected to attend the session, which is an orientation for officers and committee chairmen of Kiwanis Club's in Division 22.

Among Texas-Oklahoma District dignitaries due to attend are Paul J. Files of Paris, district governor, and Bailey G. Choate of Sweetwater, past district governor, Frank Wilson of Snyder, lieutenant governor elect for Division 22, will preside at the session.

The Rev. John Reaves, president-elect of the Snyder club said all officers and committee chairmen here have been urged to attend. The meeting will begin at 2 p.m. in the Settles hotel.

In addition to Snyder, delegations from clubs in Odessa, Midland, Colorado City, Andrews and Big Spring, are expected to attend.

Reminder Given Here On Drill At Lubbock

Officers of the Snyder Army Reserve unit today reminded members of the unit that they will attend drill in Lubbock tomorrow night.
