Winds, Rain Sweep In With Storm

THE season's first cold front swept over the South Plains early today, moving in on strong winds and bringing a forecast of heavy, low clouds and drizzling rain.

The front passed the Weather Bureau station north of Lubbock at 12:45 a. m., rolling along on winds of 23 miles an hour with stronger gusts.

The unusually early cold weather, which dumped more than a foot of snow over some Montana areas and sent temperatures plunging as low as 20 degrees at Cut Bank, Mont., rolled into the Panhandle early Monday night. After hitting the Amarillo vicinity about 8 p. m. —and sending temperatures tumbling from a high of 81 at 7:30 p. m. to 56 degrees at 11:30 p. m. —the cold front moved on into the South Plains.

Rain Is Forecast

Full force of the blast was expected to blanket the South Plains by dawn. Low-hanging clouds, drizzling rain and winds up to 24 to 30 miles an hour were accompanying the front. Some dust rode in on the first part of the cold front.

The Weather Bureau station north of Lubbock said early today that the cold front was expected to keep its grip on the area throughout today and most of tonight with a slight warmup forecast for Wednesday. Scattered drizzling rain and showers were forecast for the area Today.

A low of 50 to 55 degrees was forecast here this morning with a maximum of 70 degrees or under during the day. Lowest reading here since last May was a 67 recorded during last week's rainy weather.

Sharp Drop At Amarillo

The breath of winter that moved over the Great Plains states hit Amarillo Monday at 8:17 p. m. It dropped the mercury 34 degrees from the afternoon high of 90 degrees. Lubbock's maximum reading Monday afternoon was 92 degrees.

By a strange coincidence, the low last year on Sept. 13 was 50 degrees—the same as that forecast for today. However, the cold front moving into Texas this year is of much greater force and covers much of the nation.

Midwest Readings Low

The front was expected to hold temperatures to a high of 68 in Amarillo today. A northeast wind averaging 24 miles an hour, with gusts up to 36, along with dust, also struck Amarillo. By Tuesday night, the forecast indicated, the cool air mass may spread over top parts of East Texas, the Associated Press said.

Meanwhile, the northern Midwest states shivered in what amounted to a real winter blast. And still more snow and killing frosts were forecast for the Great Plains area last night, the International News Service reported. Farmers were warned to "take

Jury Pushing Vote Probe

(By The Associated Press)

ALICE, Sept. 12—A special grand jury today subpoenaed Kellis Dibrell, investigator of last year's Aug. 28 Demcoratic primary for former Governor Coke Stevenson.

The San Antonio attorney said he would be in Alice tomorrow, leaving San Antonio late tonight or early in the morning.

The call for Dibrell—who had said he would welcome a chance to appear before the jury—was one more intimation it was delving into last year's senatorial voting.

Stevenson lost the Texas Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in the Aug. 28 primary. Lyndon Johnson beat him by 87 votes, was elected, and seated.

Several Persons Heard

The former governor charged 200 votes were "fraudulently" added in precinct 13 at Alice after the polls had closed in the primary.

A number of persons were heard today by the jury, and its sessions continued tomorrow.

Dibrell had said he wouldn't be surprised "if there were an investigation of the election business. I would welcome an opportunity to go before the grand jury at any time that I can."

Dibrell was here last week but did not appear before the grand jury, called into session to investigate the slaying of radio commentator W. H. (Bill) Mason. Dibrell returned to San Antonio.

The grand jury indicted former Deputy Sheriff Sam Smithwick Friday for the Mason shooting, and then were believed to have

Union Rejects M-P Proposals

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12. (AP)—Union leaders tonight turned down a company proposal to end the four-day-old strike against the Missouri Pacific railroad.

At the same time, however, they agreed to meet again with railroad officials at 1 p. m. (CST) tomorrow.

The company's plan to end the strike was submitted to the four striking brotherhoods at a meeting arranged today by a newly-created citizens' committee.

Union Rejects Terms

Union officials went into separate closed sessions at 2 p. m. and considered the proposal until 3:30 p. m., when they announced they could not agree to the railroad's terms.

The proposal asked that:

1. The striking brotherhoods and the railroad establish a permanent method of settling claims in the future.

2. The strike be ended when a system was agreed on.

3. Past claims, over which the union is striking, be liquidated in future negotiations.

Reasons Not Given

R. E. Davidson, assistant grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers, said the unions could agree only "in part" on this plan. He would not elaborate.

The proposal was presented to the unions by Guy A. Thompson, federal trustee for the Missouri Pacific.

Elmer E. Hilpert, professor of constitutional law at Washington university and temporary chairman of the citizens' committee, said both sides appeared in "a conciliatory attitude."

The strike began Friday afternoon as a climax in a dispute over 282 individual claims by the union members against the railroad. Most of the claims involved interpretation of union rules.

So far nearly 25,000 employes of the railroad have been laid off in the 10 state area served by the Missouri Pacific. This is in addition to the 5,000 operating employes on strike.

Mahon, Izzard Speak At Hale Center

400 Persons Attend Farm Bureau Meet

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

HALE CENTER, Sept. 12.—"The farmer is just beginning to realize what a power he is," J. Walter Hammond, Tye, president of the Texas Farm Bureau federation stated here Monday night.

Hammond spoke before more than 400 persons attending the second annual Hale County Farm Bureau banquet. Designated as "Ladies' night" the farm bureau members and their families also heard Congressman George Mahon, representative of Texas' 19th District and Wes Izzard, editor of the Amarillo Globe-News.

The banquet was staged in the high school gymnasium. The dinner was prepared and served by the "Service" class of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school. In addition to the speakers there was a musical program and the selection of a "queen" to represent Hale county at the Dallas fair.

The program began at 8:30 p. m. with Raymond Akin, Edmonson, acting as master of ceremonies. Akin introduced the out-of-town visitors, members of the Farm Bureau and guests.

Mahon Is Introduced

He introduced Mahon as a "working congressman who always had the interests of the farmer at heart. He praised Mahon for the work he has been doing for the district.

Mahon spoke briefly and congratulated the Hale county organization for its rapid growth. "When I spoke to you a year ago you were a splendid group but you have expanded tremendously since that time."

Mahon drew considerable applause when he said: "There are many good things ahead for agriculture. But there are also lots of difficulties to be faced too. It behooves all of us to work together on these farm problems."

TFBF President Hammond said that the farmer had "lost a lot of good things in the past because he did not recognize the powerful influence he weilded."

"People must have food above all things," Hammond said. "In this respect the farmer has the edge over all other persons. Farmers, through their organizations,

Senator Defends Aiken Farm Act

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Senator Aiken (R-Vt) said tonight existing law provides for high price props for wheat and cotton and those who tell farmers otherwise are guilty of misrepresentation.

In the face of a new administration drive to force a farm bill through Congress, Aiken defended in a statement the flexible support law he helped write in the last congress. It is due to become effective next Jan. 1.

He said he thinks that law requires 1950 support of wheat and cotton prices at from 83 to 90 per cent of parity.

Misrepresentation Claimed

He called this "a far cry from the misrepresentation of those who tell the wheat and cotton growers that they will get 60 per cent support under the 1948 act." Aiken named no names.

Parity is a calculated price designed to give farmers a return, in relation to things they buy, equal to that in some past period favorable to agriculture.

The government supports farm prices by buying up surpluses, by making direct loans to farmers and other methods. Portions of the cost not recouped by resale of purchased commodities are made up by taxes.

While Aiken said the possibility

Lubbock County Farm Leaders Form Rural Roads Organization

By KENNETH MAY

"RURAL roads and other permanent improvements are necessary if Texas is to remain a great state."

With those words Col. Joel I. McGregor of Temple keynoted a meeting of Lubbock county farm leaders in the courthouse Monday night for the purpose of organizing a rural roads association here in connection with a movement currently spreading all over the state.

Charging Texas' natural resources are fast being exhausted, the Rural Roads association is carrying its fight to the state legislature for a severance tax on all such products. Money so raised would be used only to build roads and other permanent improvements in the state.

Electing R. O. Short of Lubbock as president, the Lubbock county organization will join with 35 previous county organizations and the ultimate goal of every county in the state in fighting for improved farm roads.

Ten-Point Plan To Aid Britain Is Announced

By JOHN SCALI
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 — The United States, Britain and Canada today announced a 10-point program which Sir Stafford Cripps said would bring Britain's dollar crisis under control and pave the way for her economic comeback.

The program, announced after an emergency conference, includes steps to give Britain a freer hand in spending Marshall plan dollars and open the doors of Canada and the United States a bit wider for British goods. The aim is to permit Britain to earn more dollars and conserve those she has.

Agreement Hailed

The last British reserves had dwindled to around $1,400,000 before the conference began last Wednesday — $600,000,000 below the British "minimum" safety level.

Cripps saw the agreement as an important aid to winning the cold war.

In announcing their agreement, however, all three governments reaffirmed anew that their plan of action is based on the "assumption that extraordinary aid from the North American continent would have to come to an end by the middle of 1952."

Marshall Plan To End

This put Britain and the other western European governments on notice that the United States intends to end the multi-billion dollar Marshall plan on schedule and that they must take immediate steps to become financially independent by then.

The 10-point program for attacking Britain's dollar crisis involved four immediate trade concessions to the dollar-short British by the American and Canadian governments. The other six were in the form of promises by the two countries to review and consider changes in such touchy economic policies as tariff, shipping, and general purchasing programs.

To Increase Buying

The first four steps are:

1. Permission from the United States for Britain to use its Marshall plan dollars for a "wider range" of products. Britain had

PLAN TO 'WRECK' NAVY CHARGED

Admiral Halsey Urges Support For Naval Officer In Dispute

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. Five-star Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey, Ret., today called on "all naval officers" to rally to the help of Navy Capt. John G. Crommelin, has charged that U. S. naval power is being wrecked by top brass in the unified defense setup.

Halsey, whose wartime carrier task forces dealt smashing blows against the Japanese, attended a private luncheon with several other Navy officers at Crommelin's home, and later told newsmen:

"Having read Capt. Crommelin's statements and comments, I feel very strongly that he is attempting to do something for the good of the country and that he has shown wonderful courage in jeopardizing his career by doing this.

"I feel he deserves the help and respect of all naval officers."

SOVIETS GIVEN BLUNT WARNING

Tito Scores 'Interference' In New Thrust At Kremlin

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager INS

BELGRADE, Sept. 12.—Marshal Tito boldly challenged the Kremlin's interpretation of fundamental Communist policy tonight and indirectly warned Russia that Yugoslavia is an "invincible fortress" capable of withstanding any attack.

The Yugoslav premier carried his struggle against Russia to new ground in one of the strongest statements he has made since his break with Premier Stalin.

He told the Kremlin that "bayonets" would not create "progressive socialism" in his country, which has been fighting against Kremlin domination since Tito was expelled from the Moscow-directed Cominform in June, 1948.

The statement, loaded with defiance of Moscow, made it clear to Soviet leaders that the Yugoslav people and no one else will change the leadership of the Belgrade regime.

Moscow and her satellites have been urging Yugoslavs to rebel against Tito's so-called "nationalist" and "deviationist" policies.

The statement, released by the information ministry, was based on remarks by Tito yesterday at a meeting with representatives of mining and motor workers in the critical production category.

Distortion Implied

Tito implied that Stalin had distorted and corrupted the teachings of Communism's early leaders by denying equality of rights to socialist states.

Tito condemned what he called the "attempt to revise the doctrines of Marx and Lenin" and added:

"Our party deserves credit precisely because it showed this whole thing is a matter of theoretical distortion and revisions.

"It is a credit to our party and that it had the daring to say 'no, this way is wrong. It is necessary to go the way we are going because of new conditions existing after the war.'"

Tito Is Blunt

Tito refused to heed Moscow's pleas to have his country concentrate on supplying Russia and her satellites with raw materials, rather than industrializing Yugoslavia.

Tito said Yugoslavia had "taken what was positive from the great October revolution" in Russia and had "rejected what was negative."

He declared Yugoslavia "will allow no one to disrupt this new el-

Clovis Polio Victim Wheels Within 110 Miles Of New York

(By International News Service)

CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 12.—A 43-year-old infantile paralysis victim, determined to travel from New Mexico to New York City in a wheel chair, rolled into Chester today—only 110 miles short of his goal.

The wheel chair traveler, W. C. LeBow, left Clovis, N. M., last March 4 in the hope of collecting funds to combat polio "back home."

To date he has clocked off 2,226 miles—every inch of it in his hand-propelled wheelchair—and is about a month ahead of his estimated schedule.

People Are Kind

(LeBow stopped in Lubbock March 12 just after he had started on his long trip. After spending the night here, he resumed his journey toward New York by way of Dallas and other southern points.)

"Lots of folks have been awful kind to me and offered me lifts. They just can't understand why I turn them down," he said.

LeBow was stricken with polio as a child. Some months ago, a west coast business firm asked him to "wheel" his way from Los Angeles to New York to advertise its product.

"I turned them down, but then I talked to some of the boys in Clovis, and we thought it would be a good stunt for some worthy cause," he said.

LeBow isn't sure how much he's collected to date.

"I think I've taken in a couple of hundred dollars since I left Savannah, Ga. Some places you get a lot, some places you don't get anything. I'm not much of a promoter."

Management, Union Extend Strike Truce

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12. — CIO Steelworkers gave up their fight for a fourth round wage increase today and called off a strike set for tomorrow midnight.

The big union accepted both President Truman's request for a 11-day extension of the strike truce and recommendations of a presidential fact finding board aimed at solving the steel wage dispute.

President Philip Murray of both the CIO and the United Steelworkers told Mr. Truman in a telegram he gave up the wage increase demand "with profound regret" but agreed to the board's recommendations "in the interest of concluding a prompt settlement."

Willing To Bargain

Republic Steel corporation of Cleveland was the first steel company to reply following the CIO action. Tonight a spokesman said Republic is willing to bargain with the steelworkers on pensions with a view to completing a study of the entire problem by March 1, 1950.

President Truman didn't comment immediately on the day's developments. However, a top White House associate said the President views the agreement in the steel controversy as a forerunner of widespread peaceful settlements in industrial disputes.

Answers Awaited

Six of the nation's major steel producers have accepted the truce extension request. No company has yet given its answer on the board's formula.

President Truman's three-man panel suggested that workers forego a wage increase and that both sides agree to a 10-cent hourly increase package covering insurance and pensions. The steelworkers asked a 30-cent package also including the wages.

The union's decision was made in day-long meetings of its executive board and wage policy committee at Hotel Sheraton. The acceptances were made in the form of a resolution which Murray said was adopted unanimously by

Four Are Hurt In Area Wrecks

Three members of a Post family were injured and a Lubbock youth hurt in two wrecks reported in the area Monday.

The victims are Mr. and Mrs. Clark Barton, of Post route 1, and their 18-year-old daughter, Helen, hurt when their late-model Pontiac coach was demolished in a collision with a butane tank truck near Southland about 4:15 p. m., and Fred A. Sudduth, 20, of 1420 Ave. M, whose car was involved in a wreck on East Broadway near Lubbock about 6:40 p. m.

The Barton family was brought to Lubbock by a passing motorist, and all were reported in good condition at Lubbock Memorial hospital early this morning. Driver of the tanker, William Franklin Tipton, 23, of the Levelland highway, near Lubbock, was not hurt. The truck is owned by the Caddenhead Butane company, located on the Levelland highway.

Hospital attendants said Miss Barton had suffered a possible back injury. Extent of her injuries will not be definitely known until X-rays have been studied. Barton, 41, was treated for a broken bone in the right foot and for numerous lacerations and bruises. Mrs. Barton's injuries were described as minor bruises over the body.

Highway patrolmen said the Barton car was traveling southeast on U. S. Highway 84 about three miles south of Southland in

SCURRY WELL COMPLETED FOR PRODUCTION

Drilling Is Slated On New Prospectors In Snyder Field; 12,600-Foot Garza Wildcat Is Started

Drilling is to be started at once on two long south stepouts from production on the southeast side of the North Snyder field.

Both the prospectors are more than a mile from the nearest completed oil wells in the North Snyder field.

L. M. Glasco, Fred Chambers, R. J. Zonne and Olson Drilling Company No. 1 Jess Green will be 660 feet from the north and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 157, block 3, H&GN survey.

That makes it two miles south and three quarters of a mile east of the W. A. Moncrief, sr., Bob Hope, Bing Crosby and Paul Teas No. 1 Huckabee, recently completed southeast extension to the pool.

7,500 Feet Contracted

No. 1 Green is contracted to dig to 7,500 feet unless it gets a test of the producing ability of the Canyon lime before reaching that point.

L. M. Lockhart of Corpus Christi No. 1 B. M. McHaney will be 467 feet from north and west lines of a 160-acre lease in the northeast part of section 177, block 3, H&GN survey. It is four miles north of the town of Snyder, and about one and one half miles south of the closest completed oil wells on the southeast side of the North Snyder field. It is slated to go to at least 6,800 feet to explore Canyon lime.

Extension Sought In Gaines

An effort to extend the Clear Fork-Permian production of the Flanagan field of central-south Gaines county slightly more than one mile to the west is to be undertaken at Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 H. T. Wolfe.

The prospector will be Magnolia No. 1 H. T. Wolfe. It is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 7, block A-23, psl survey.

Drilling to approximately 7,100 feet to test the Clear Fork is to begin at once. The venture is about 12 miles south and a little west of Seminole.

It is one mile west and one-quarter of a mile south of Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, the discovery well of the Flanagan field. That well was completed from the Ellenburger.

However it showed for production from the Clear Fork. Up to now three producers have been completed from the Clear Fork in the Flanagan field and a fourth is now in process of being finished as a dual-completion, from the Clear Fork and from the Devonian. Only the discovery of the pool has been completed from the Ellenburger.

R. S. Anderson of Midland, and associates are to start operations at once on their No. 1 L. A. Nance, which is to be a 12,600-foot wildcat in south-central Garza County, to explore into tthe San Andres lime of the Permian.

It will be 330 feet from north and west lines of section 42, block 6, HGN survey. That makes it three and one-half miles west of Justiceburg. It is one mile south of an old dry hole drilled to 3,415 feet in 1921, as Post Development company No. 1 Payne.

That venture had some interesting shows in the San Andrews, and drilled on into the Clear Fork, and failed to get any indications of petroleum in that formation. It was plugged and abandoned.

The No. 1 Nance is one and three-quarters of a mile northwest of the P. W. Anderson, and others No. 1-A Miller, which was plugged a few days ago on total depth of 2,617 feet in the San Andres. That zone made water and carried no possibilities of producing from any of the formations it penetrated.

No. 1 Nance will be drilled with cable tools.

The Superior Oil company has staked location and is to start drilling soon on its No. 8 F. M. Addison on the west side of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of southwest Scurry county.

It is to be a direct north offset to Thomas W. Doswell of Dallas, Henry Ford II, and others, No. 1 C. W. Addison, three-quarters of a mile west extension to the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field now in the process of completion.

The No. 8 F. M. Addison will test for production from the Canyon reef pay zone at 7,500 feet. Drilling will be with rotary tools.

The drillsite will be 2,033.7 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey and 12 miles southwest of Snyder.

Completion Reported

Completion has been made by Gene Goff of Midland and others, at their No. 1 Fred C. Ohlenbusch, one and one-quarter mile northeast extension of Canyon lime production in the Kelly field of central Scurry county.

Flowing natural through a 12/64th-inch tubing choke, the new producer made an initial daily production of 156.97 barrels of 41-gracity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 1,096.1.

The production was from open hole section between the top of the pay at 6,793 feet and the total depth at 6,804 feet. Five and one-half inch oil string was cemented at 6,786 feet.

The new well is 330 feet from north and west lines of tract 50, section 38, Kirkland & Fields survey and one and one-half miles southwest of Snyder.

George P. Livermore, Inc., Lido Petroleum company and Milner Oil company, have completed their No. 1 J. E. Woodson as a natural flowing producer from the Canyon reef lime for a one-mile northeast extension to the Kelly field in central Scurry county.

It made a 24-hour potential of 433.32 barrels of 42-gravity oil, flowing through a five-eighths inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 842-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 170 pounds and the flowing casing pressure was 1,050 pounds.

The production was from pay section between the five and one-half inch oil string cemented at 6,716 feet and the total depth at 6,756 feet. Top of the pay was 6,712 feet.

The new source of oil is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 209, block 97, H & TC survey.

Lone Star Producing company has staked location for its No. 1 O. C. Rosson as a stepout to production from the Canyon lime on the northeast side of the Kelly field in central Scurry county.

It will be slightly more than one-half mile east of Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Eicke, a completed producer on the north side of the Kelly field.

The drillsite of the venture, which will drill to 7,000 feet with rotary tools, is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey and four miles west of Snyder.

Stanolind Oil and Gas company No. 2 E. C. Holt, north offset to the same company's Devonion discovery producer in the Landon multiple-pay field of southwest Cochran county, washed perforations at 11,741,794 feet in Devonian with 500 gallons of mud acid and then treated that section with 500 gallons of regular acid.

Then after swabbing out load oil and acid water into pits, operator swabbed 231 barrels of new oil in 17 hours, cut with an average of 12 per cent drilling mud. There was no water. It is continuing to swab.

This prospector is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block L, psl survey.

Borden Drilling Slated

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware is to start drilling immediately on its No. 6 T. J. Good in the Good field of South Borden county, six and one quarter miles north of Vealmoor.

Using rotary tools it will drill to 8,100 feet the contracted depth.

The new prospector will be located 540 feet from north and 780 feet from west lines of section 33, block 33, TP survey.

An autpost from Spraberry production in the Spraberry deep field of southeast Dawson county is to be Seaboard Oil company of Delaware and other's No. 3-D S. E. Lee, which is to drill to 7,000 feet with rotary tools.

The drillstie is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 47, block 34, TP survey, and about 16 miles southeast of Lamesa.

The Pure Oil company has dually completed its No. 8-SE--B E. P. Cowden as a natural flowing producer from the Ellenburger and the Silvian in the Dollarhide field of southwest Andrews county.

Flowing through a 15/64th-inch tubing choke, the new well made an initial daily potential of 662 barrels of 44.3-gravity oil from the Ellenburger with a gas-oil ratio of 483-1. There was no formation water.

Flowing productior was from between 7-inch oil string cemented at 9,752 feet and the total depth at 10,088 feet in the Ellenburger.

The new oil is 660 feet from east and 661 feet from north lines of the lease in section 24, block A-52, psl survey.

From perforations between 8,270-8,671 in the Silurian, it made a daily potential of 516 barrels of 41.6 gravity oil. There was no formation water. Gas-oil ratio was 239-1. Flow was natural.

Suspect Admits Slaying Cellmate

OGDEN Utah, Sept. 12. (INS)—The self-confessed "want-ad" slayer of two women in Utah and Montana today reportedly confessed a third slaying—that of a cellmate in a Jamestown, N. D., jail.

Sheriff Mac Wade said Roy Dempsey Gardner, 29, who previously wrote confessions on the sex slayings of a teen-aged baby sitter and an older woman, wrote another statement in which he confessed choking the cellmate to death.

Gardner said he did not know the cellmate's name or the exact date of the crime, but placed it sometime in July, 1941.

He told Wade the slain man's death was laid to a heart attack. He gave no reason for the crime.

Questioning Planned

(At Jamestown, police said they had no definite information on the crime at present.)

Meanwhile, Wade planned to question Gardner in connection with three sex slayings in Fort Wayne, Ind., which occurred between February and December, 1944.

Several weeks ago a truck farmer, Franklin Click, confessed the sex slayings of Wilhelmina Heata, 38, Anna Kuzeff, 19, and Phyllis Conine, 17. These are the slayings Gardner is to be questioned about.

Confession Is 'Surprise'

Another man, Ralph Lobaugh, already had confessed, then repudiated, the slayings of the three women. He is sentenced to die for the murder of a fourth woman.

(Fort Wayne police said they also wanted to question Gardner in connection with these murders.)

Gardner's confession of the North Dakota slaying came as a "surprise" to Wade and he and deputies were attempting to clear up a "few loose ends" in Gardner's previous confessions.

Saturday night Gardner signed a statement admitting the murder of 17-year-old Shirley Gretzinger, who he lured from her home on the pretext of hiring her as a baby sitter.

His confession of Shirley's murder came exactly a week after he led police to where he shot and killed Miss Sue Horn, 39, near Butte, Mont., Aug. 9.

Israeli Police Block Assassination Effort

TEL AVIV, Israel, Sept. 12. (U.P.) Israeli police today blocked an attempt to assassinate members of the government.

A youth carrying a Sten gun burst into the parliament chamber but was overpowered by police before he could start shooting. Premier David Ben Gurion was in the chamber.

"Why did you let Jerusalem slip through your fingers?" the youth shouted in the direction of the premier as police overpowered him. "We gave our blood for that city."

Military Planes Drop Flowers Over Grave Of Flyer Bill Odom

COLUMBUS, Miss. Sept. 12. (U.P.)—Flower petals dropped by military planes today marked the grave of Bill Odom, whose brilliant flying career was cut short Labor Day in a crash at the Cleveland air races.

Odom, who at 29, held five world aviation records, was buried yesterday at Friendship cemetery near the ranch where he had wanted to live when his flying days were over.

A Veterans of Foreign Wars burial team fired a rifle salute while 22 Mississippi National Guard planes from Meridian roared an overhead tribute and sprinkled flowers over the rolling countryside.

Odom, who gained fame as pilot of the globe-circling Reynolds Bombshell, crashed to his death in a renovated F-51 which he was flying in the Thompson's race at Cleveland. Milton Reynolds, owner of the plane which trimmed 18 hours from the round-the-world speed record, attended the funeral.

Odom, a wartime pilot with the British ferry command, recently purchased a cattle ranch for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Odom. His former wife and two children of Ithaca, N. Y., also survive.

Finnish Premier Foresees Little Danger To Nation From Strikes

BY SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

HELSINKI — Premier Fagerholm of Finland minimizes the danger to his country from strikes inspired by Communists. Perhaps he can afford to minimize them, at least for the time being. The backbone of the Communist inspired strike which has gripped his country in recent weeks was broken this week, just as he predicted several days in advance that it would be. In discussing the affect of the strikes on his country, he released information on some conditions under which Finland's Social Democratic government operates.

In a press conference set up in truly American style, which we were informed was a special dispensation here, the prime minister answered questions freely put to him by a group of American and British newspaper women and only shied at about two of the queries.

He discounted a recent Communist demonstration, saying the Communists had claimed an attendance of 35,000 persons when police counted only six or seven thousand. His own party, the premier said, had a Social Democratic festival at a hall which would hold 8000. The place was packed with persons who had paid admissions, he pointed out.

The Communist parade was an impressive and almost frightening demonstration. Thousands marched totally silent, carrying pictures of dead strikers killed in riots at Kemi paper mill plants. There were young people and children in the line of march. The silence was broken by playing by three bands.

Fagerholm said he did not think the workers would have the courage to strike any more. Soon after he made this prediction, another Communist rally was held at which Herta Kuusinen, leader of the Communist party, said: "Victory is not achieved with one blow. There will yet be many phases in our struggle, retreats, perhaps even partial defeats."

More Taxes Likely

Fagerholm said the strike had cost the workers 350,000,000 marks to say nothing of the loss to the whole country in production. More taxes will have to be paid by the Finns as a result. Part of the strikers' production would go to pay Russia reparations. Whether these regular payments will now have to be delayed or not and result in fines for Finland, he could not say, as reparations is computed on an annual basis, but he admitted the strike might cost the country more in the long run as the loss in time may mean payment of overtime to workers in the end. In Finland, overtime pay is double.

The northern Finns will suffer more. They will be out of work to some extent this winter. The cold weather will be coming on soon and thus shut off operations which normally would have been completed but for the strike. This will slow down factory operations in the paper mills. This will mean more relief payments, for Fagerholm said: "We can not let those people starve and suffer — we shall have to help them."

Russia Made No Demands

He pronounced the strikes as not a sincere effort to get better economic advantages for workers but as purely political on the part of the Communists.

Asked about a possible Russian connection, he said Russia had made no demands connected with the strike in any way. He also said Russia does not very much love this government in Finland.

Asked if the government planned to improve conditions of the workers as a guaranty to avoiding future strikes, he said: "The government is trying at all times to improve conditions for the worker. However, it is impossible to give the strikers the wage increases they are asking for. It would take 26,000,000 marks (It takes 158 Finn marks to equal $1.) and employers' profits total only 5,000,000 marks. Besides wage increases would only cause more inflation and help nobody."

Did Fagerholm think the profits too high? He said largely he felt they were reasonable but there might be some exceptions. He added that in Finland there are so many cooperatives and the state has many factories in its own hands so that it would be easily a matter to control if profits should get out of hand.

What is being done to relieve the horrible situation in Finland whereby if a family has more than one room to each adult other persons or even whole families may be assigned to live in their home?

He readily admitted that housing is the biggest social problem in Finland. At least 10 years will be required to settle it. He said his government has a large-scale housing program including substantial subsidies to builders of more feats.

Asked if he would like to have great hordes of tourists sweeping through Finland bringing dollars into the land of 60,000 lakes, he said: "While we would like to have the dollars, we can not at present take care of them. We are not yet ready for tourists. It would be extremely difficult to place them in hotels. But we will be ready by 1952."

That is when the Olympic Games will be held in Helsinki.

Slaying Suspect Reported Hiding In Mexico

Laredo Residents Wonder If Accused Man Will Beat Rap

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAREDO, Sept. 12. (AP) — "Will George Ochoa beat the rap?"

This border city buzzes over the question, six weeks after two men were sensationally murdered in a downtown hotel.

Ochoa, a suave, handsome, prosperous Laredo business man, disappeared into Mexico the day of the slayings. Many acquaintances think nothing will budge him. One said today:

"Old George has become an international figure. If Mexico wishes to find and extradite him, it probably will do so. But George is wealthy and has great influence south of the border."

Local authorities who expressed great confidence Ochoa would be brought to justice, have quit talking.

Break Is Expected

But at San Antonio today, an FBI spokesman said:

"We are working on the case and expect a break in the first few weeks—maybe sooner. We do not known where Ochoa is, but presume he is still in Mexico."

The FBI entered the case after a federal charge of "flight to escape prosecution" was filed. In Washington, the State department has a request for Ochoa's extradition.

Ochoa, 38, is accused of murdering Henry D. Whittenburg, 31, South Texas ginner, and is wanted for questioning in the slaying of Cpl. James Lindsay, 30, of Oneida, Tenn. Whittenburg lived here. Lindsay was visiting in town. Both men were slain with the same pistol on separate floors of a Laredo hotel July 31.

Motive Believed Jealousy

George knew Lindsay but it has not been established that he ever met Whittenburg. The slain men were acquainted and both knew Mrs. Rosa Maria Ochoa, George's beautiful wife, District Attorney E. James Kazen said.

The motive?

"I think there was a motive of jealousy," Police Chief David O. Gallagher said. He declined to elaborate.

Sporty "Gavo" Ochoa was quite a guy in this town, a polished gentleman when sober and an accomplished barroom fighter when drunk. He was a gay caballero, blue-eyed and smiling, a favorite with men and a devil with the ladies. He was well-educated, clever and witty and he had a strutting pride in his great, deep chest and the muscles that rippled over his trim, 190-pound body.

Accused Good Sportsman

Born in Laredo, he inherited the prosperous customs brokerage business established by his father. He was a flashy dresser, drove fine automobiles. He was a marvelous swimmer and diver, a crack shot, an expert boxer and a very good golfer. He hunted from Mexico through northern Canada and he had the finest arsenal of pistols and guns in town. George had a private gymnasium at his Laredo home and "worked out" daily.

Four hours after the two slayings, Ochoa began a golf game at the Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, country club, across the river from here, with five of his friends. He played all day, was in fine form, and won all the money. Word of the slayings reached the country club and several persons mentioned to George that he was being hunted. George just laughed.

Disappeared From Club

"What are you doing here, Gavo?" Dr. Leopoldo Garza, Nuevo Laredo physician asked him. "They are looking for you across the river for killing a man."

"This is the last straw," George chuckled. "What are you trying to do—hang a dead man on me?"

Ochoa drank beer at the country club bar in the early evening, visited a couple of Nuevo Laredo night spots, and disappeared.

A week later Chief of Police Gallagher announced that Ochoa was living in leisure on a big northern Mexico ranch. He was extending him an invitation to come home and face the music, said Gallagher.

Ochoa didn't accept the invitation.

Today, the FBI reported he is no longer at the ranch.

Parents Told Not To Delay School Because Of Polio

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis says the polio epidemic should not make parents afraid to send children back to school on schedule.

Regular operation of schools during a polio epidemic is "not regarded in itself as hazardous," but keeping schools closed can be dangerous, the foundation said yesterday.

Keeping schools closed because of polio "often has resulted in public panic," Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, the foundation's medical director, said.

Dr. Van Riper asserted school openings never have caused an increase or decrease of cases during an outbreak.

Today's "American Frontier" is right on your own Main Street!

• YES, for every man and woman there are still opportunities freely open for the taking!

To know that this is so, look about you . . .

At the young shipping clerk who took two years of night school in mechanics, and now is a tune-up specialist down at the garage . . .

At the drug clerk who turned the idea of home permanents into a nation-wide industry . . .

At the woman whose health-building recipe for bread put her into a successful business and made jobs for many of her neighbors . . .

At the fellow down at the mill who took the trouble to learn more than his job required, and last week was made a foreman!

These folks and many millions more—whatever their politics and backgrounds—simply don't believe American frontiers are closed. They've found their opportunities right on Main Street! And they don't believe the "do-it-yourself" spirit is out of date. Not now . . . or ever!

Not if we recognize one plain fact:

America is what it is because it sees more in the "do-it-yourself" spirit than in a spoon-fed security!

In other countries people are coming to wait for things to be done for them. But in America we HAVE much more because we DO much more for ourselves! In no other place is there so much that is worth working for . . .

Seeing the evidence of this all around us, we keep on developing new skills, new occupations, new ideas. We make new inventions, develop new materials, organize new services. This means that our opportunities are constantly expanding! These are today's "frontiers." They are open to all of us. But for some there is need to re-affirm that the ceiling in America is still unlimited . . . to prove it by the stories of those who have the stuff to grasp their chances.

Hence this new series of advertisements . . .

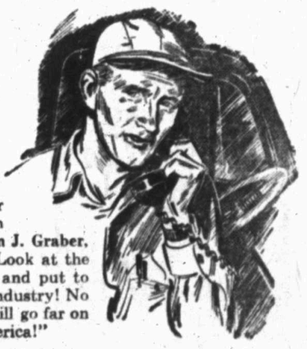

For life insurance itself is a natural expression of the do-it-yourself spirit. It is itself an aggressively competitive Main Street institution. Life insurance has grown big because the need is big, because 78 million American policyholders depend on it. Some 584 life insurance companies actively compete to meet this need.

Each year more Americans of their own choice turn to life insurance for the security that helps free our minds from worry . . . that releases us to make the most of our opportunities. In this, the country's more than 150,000 life insurance agents themselves contribute significant service. It is their specialized knowledge which helps make life insurance do the most for the individual.

Yes, the growth of life insurance is in itself outstanding evidence of the continued vigor of the do-it-yourself spirit that still is America. People believe in life insurance, because they've seen it help so many people, so many ways!

INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE

"There are plenty of chances to hoe your own row . . . now more than ever before," says Donald M. Clark, 25, owner of an aerial crop-spraying business in Delaware. "That's the great thing about this country—you can make your own opportunities, and make 'em pay off!"

"Anyone today has a better chance to get ahead than his father did," says Glenn J. Graber, Hartville, Ohio, farmer. "Look at the new things to be learned and put to work on the farm and in industry! No reason why a man can't still go far on his own steam here in America!"

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

NINE times out of ten, instead of asking: "What do you think about the situation?" It would be more appropriate to ask: "How do you feel about the situation?"

SEEING YOURSELF AS OTHERS DO

IF MORE people could see themselves as others see them, maybe they'd mend their ways and be happier. For one thing, more girls might find husbands and more husbands might be able to hold their wives, says Wally A. Moen, vice president of a camera company.

"Some people actually are shocked when they see themselves in home movies. They just can't believe they look and act so silly. Sometimes they try to persuade themselves that the camera is at fault, that is runs too fast or too slow and write asking for advice."

ONE MAY benefit by the little flaws that show up in these home movies, says Mr. Moen. For girls who would like to give themselves screen tests and profit by them he lists the following types and faults which show up in movies taken at bridge parties, teas, breakfasts, dinners, receptions and at play:

1. The woman who blows cigarette smoke in her bridge partner's face, or talks with a cigarette in her mouth, or flicks it nervously and incessently on the ashtray.

2. The girl who twists her mouth to one side when she talks, or who pops her eyes in wide-eyed amazement at everything that is said, or who "bounces" chewing gum around in her mouth.

3. Unladylike poses such as sitting or standing straddle-legged or with legs and arms akimbo or with knees crossed high above the thighs.

4. Grooming faults such as crooked stocking seams, slips that hang below dresses, rundown heels.

5. Bad makeup jobs which include the two-well-built-up lips and eyebrows, heavy eyeshadow and gooey mascara.

OVERWEIGHT girls can profit by a peek at themselves on a movie screen. You will almost always catch the fat person nibbling on sweets at parties. The best idea is to have your best friend take the movies. Then you will get a fair appraisal of yourself.

If someone should catch you fishing in your handbag for cosmetics, cigarettes, keys or letters, that really will be something to see, says Mr. Moen, who believes that women's worst traits are revealed when they go rummaging in their handbags.

And, of course, it would be wonderful if someone would trail you when you are dressing or undressing. You might be surprised at the unprettiness of it.

Town Talk

MRS. H. FEHLEISON, Tahoka highway, will be hostess at tea in the Lubbock Country club Tuesday, Sept. 20, at 2 p. m.

To be presented in a book review is Mrs. Charles White of Dallas.

Happy anniversary to members and management of the new Lubbock Country club. This week marks the first year of the club's successful operation, since its opening on Sept. 20, 1948.

Mary Conley Jones, brunette dark-eyed daughter of Mrs. E. Murray Jones, 1915 Sixteenth, has been working in Midland for some time, but recently made the news with a nationally known celebrity.

Don Ameche of Hollywood fame has been in Midland buying oil leases recently and during his stay there decided to entertain with a party. Pretty Mary Conley was among his guests, and an account of the event was carried with pictures in the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Griswold, former Lubbockites, are now living in Dallas, where Jim is a student at Southwestern Medical school. She is having lots of fun keeping house at their home in the Colonial apartments.

The couple spent the summer in Cowles, N. M., in the summer home of Jim's father. On their way to Dallas, they visited several days here in the home of her mother, Mrs. Nellie G. Bray. Mrs. Griswold is the former Hermanell Bray.

Mr. and Mrs. R .R. Struve of Lubbock, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry von Struve, jr., of Abernathy, spent the past week at the Lubbock couple's cabin at Cowles.

They especially enjoyed the autumn colors in the mountains, the fishing and horseback riding.

Mrs. Erle Thompson, 1916 Sixteenth, her daughter, Lola, and son, Terry, left Sunday on a trip to her old home, Missouri. They will visit in Kansas City and St. Louis for the most part.

The Lubbockites plan to be gone ten days or two weeks.

Women Alter Charter

Lubbock Women's club, at its semi-annual mass meeting held Monday afternoon at the newly purchased clubhouse, 2020 Broadway, amended a part of its constitution in order to promote the possibility of making financial gifts to the club deductible from the contributors' income tax.

The club's purpose and object, according to the adopted resolution, are to promote, support and maintain assets and energies, for charitable, literary and educational purposes, for member clubs and the city.

Gifts to the club will be deductible if the desired amendment is approved in Austin.

Mrs. James G. Allen, president of the board of directors, presided at the meeting which was attended by approximately 100 women, and announced new standing committees. Mrs. Harmon Jenkins made a treasurer's report and Mrs. Ivy Savage, secretary, read the amendment resolution as drawn up by a local law firm.

A list of prosposed projects for the club was discussed by Mrs. George Berry who also reported that the organization has set a fund-raising goal of $10,000 for 1949-50. Those attending voted to accept a plan submitted by Corcorran's Drive-In Cleaners whereby Lubbock Women's club will sponsor tours of the establishment each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon for the next ten weeks. The club is to receive $1 from the cleaning establishment for each person who makes the tour; approximately 20 women may make the inspection at each of the semi-weekly tours.

The organization will sponsor a House Beautiful clinic Sept. 24-25 as its first fall project. The advisory committee has approved a plan to sell a "Salad Bowl Cookbook" this spring.

Mrs. J. C. Rigney reported that the maximum number of life members, which is 100, has been reached. She stated that annual memberships, with dues of $10, are available.

Various needs for the clubhouse were listed by Mrs. Arch Underwood, co-chairman of the gifts and donations committee.

Recipes Are Provided For Readers

Miss Clara Pratt, county home demonstration agent, has made various recipes for jam and marmalade available for newspaper readers. They are made with fruit that is on the market at present, and are as follows:

Peach Jam

Peel 18 peaches, cut in halves and remove seeds. Put peaches and 5 whole oranges through food chooper, using coarse blade. Measure fruit; add 1½ times as much sugar as fruit. Cook until mixture sheets from spoon as for jelly. Add 1 cup chopped maraschino cherries. Pour into sterilized glasses, cover with parafin. Makes about 5 pints.

For a perfect seal, paraffin twice. Pour over a thin coat of paraffin immediately after filling glasses. Cool and apply a heavier second coat, rolling glasses so paraffin seals along the sides. For the jelly, "sheet test" lift a full spoon high. Pour slowly. Two drops of jelly will join to form a thin sheet and shear away from spoon. Repeat test two or three times.

Plum Conserve

Wash 2 quarts Damson plums, add small amount water, cook until tender. Remove seeds and chop; measure 6 cups plum pulp. Add 4½ cups sugar, juice and grated rind of 1½ lemons and 1½ oranges; 3 cups seeded raisins, cook until thick and clear. Add 1½ cups chopped nut meats; pour into sterilized glasses, cover with paraffin. Makes 24 6 ounce glasses.

Washington Prune Jam

4 cups chopped Italian prunes
3 cups sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon
Juice of 1 lemon
½ cup of almonds, if desired

To the stoned, chopped Italian prunes, add the sugar, grated lemon rind and juice. Mix together and bring slowly to boil. Boil rapidly until thick. If desired ½ cup blanched, chopped almonds may be added to jam 2 or 3 minutes before removing from heat. Pour into hot, sterilized jars and seal at once.

Spiced Purple Plum Jam

6 cup Washington Italian prunes (2½ to 3 lbs)
3 cups sugar
¾ cup vinegar
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon cloves
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon mace
Wash, halve and pit the prunes.

Combine the fruit with the remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil and cook gently until the consistency of jam. This will require about 45 to 60 minutes. When thickened to proper consistency pour at once into hot sterilized jars to within ¼ inch from top of jar. Seal at once. Makes about 6 half-pints.

Minted Pear Marmalade

3½ cups diced Washington Bartlett pears
¼ cup lemon juice
1 package powdered pectin
4½ cups sugar
¼ teaspoon mint extract
Few drops green coloring

Wash and sterilize jars. Measure sugar to be added later. Peel and dice Washington Bartlett pears. Mix pears, lemon juice, and powdered pectin. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add the sugar and bring to a rolling boil. Boil four minutes. Add mint extract and green coloring. Stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal. Makes about 8 jars.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcentrate has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcentrate from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

Two County Fair Appearances Slated

'Mrs. America' Starts Out To Earn Carfare To California

By CLAIRE COX
United Press Staff Writer

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 12 —Frances L. Cloyd, 23, the new "Mrs. America," squeezed into her bathing suit today and started out to earn her carfare back to California by reciting her favorite recipes to veteran housewives at county fairs.

Mrs. Cloyd, a five-foot, six-inch, blue-eyed blonde, is the wife of Arthur T. Cloyd, jr., San Diego garage mechanic, and the mother of three small children, one only seven weeks old. She won the 11th annual Mrs. America contest last night over a field of 30 married beauties after placing fourth last year.

"Mrs. Florida" Second

She also won the contest title of "most beautiful mother in the U. S. A."

Runners up for "Mrs. America" were "Mrs. Florida," Laura O'Banion, 31, mother of a 12-year-old girl, who placed second, and "Mrs. Columbus, O.," Mrs. Mary Rippel, 26, wife of a 51-year-old building contractor who placed third.

"Mrs. Cincinnati," Mrs. Lavonne Bond Breyer, was voted by her co-contestants as "Mrs. Congeniality of 1949," for being so nice to everyone during the two-day grind. She also got the biggest cheers from the audience in convention hall.

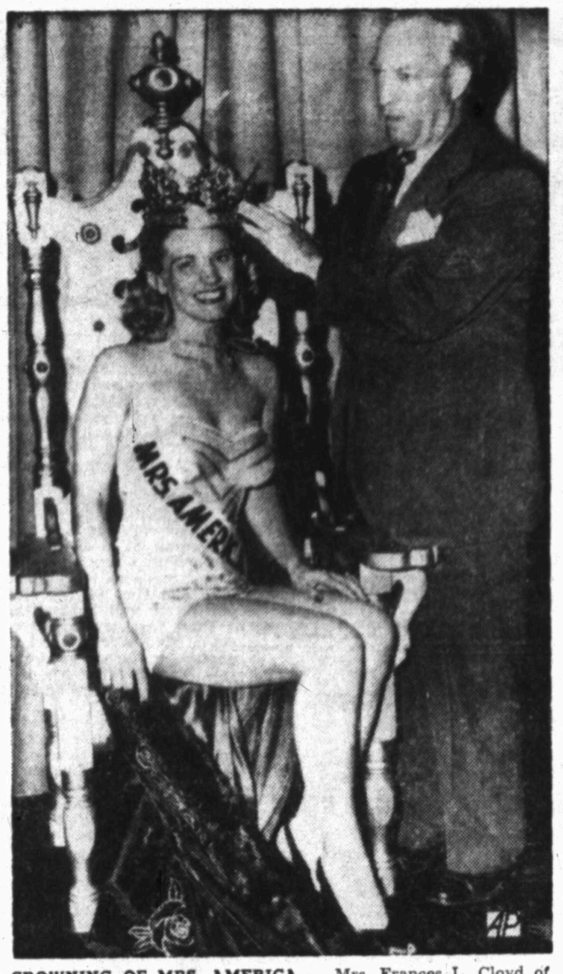

The winner was chosen 50 per cent for beauty and 50 per cent for wifely skills. Mrs. Cloyd brought a towel and a wash cloth with tatted edges and a pot-holder she made. She said her cakes were real good, too.

Slates Two Appearances

After losing out last year, when she came from Denver as "Mrs. Colorado," she was determined to come back and take home the 1949 truckload of prizes, she whiled away the time by having a baby, and then found there was no Mrs. America contest in California.

So, she packed her bag, bought a ticket to New Jersey and found three other California girls to vie with her in a contest at Palisades Park while her husband changed diapers. From California Cloyd's only comment was that he'd be glad when his wife got home.

Now she's going to earn her fare home at county fairs. Part of her prize was a week's engagement at the Reading, Pa., fair for $100, and a week at the New Jersey fair for $75. She will tell housewives exhibiting pickled pigs feet and dandelion wine how to make lazy-dazy cakes and the tastiest way to serve donuts—and hope a movie talent scout offers her a screen test.

CROWNING OF MRS. AMERICA — Mrs. Frances L. Cloyd of San Diego, Calif., blue-eyed mother of three children, is crowned Mrs. America by Mayor George S. Smock, 2nd, of Asbury Park, N. J. The 23-year-old winner who acquired her third child only seven weeks ago, competed as Mrs. California. She won fourth last year competing as Mrs. Colorado. (AP Wirephoto.)

Crossing Of Atlantic Foiled By Fuel Line

LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 12. (AP) —Two Italian fliers attempting to fly the Atlantic in a single-engine plane were forced to turn back early today and landed safely at Lagens airfield in the Azores.

Airfield authorities here said they had been told the plane headed back to the Azores when the pilot, Capt. John Brondello, found a gas line obstructed.

Brondello and Capt. Camillio Barioglio of the Italian air force had hoped to make the 3,500-mile flight to New York in 26 hours.

Their aim was to be the first to cross the north Atlantic east to west non-stop in a single engine plane.

The Italian fliers were piloting an American-built 185-horsepower Beechcraft Bonanza.

Tech Plans Release Of West Texas Wool Industry Bulletin

A condensed bulletin on the wool industry in West Texas which was 18 months in the making is scheduled to be released by the research committee of Texas Technological college today.

Compiled from a selected biography of readings from the best authoritative sources, the bulletin carries a condensed version of the opportunities in the wool industry in this area.

Funds for the study were made available under the joint sponsorship of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Santa Fe Railway industrial committee.

On the research committee compiling the report were Prof. R. G. Sidwell of the geology department, W. C. Holden, dean of graduate studies, and R. C. Goodwin, dean of arts and sciences.

Purpose of the survey as set forth in the bulletin is to provide data pointing out the advantages of West Texas for wool textile manufacturing. The pamphlet shows that this area produces 25 per cent of all wool produced in the United States, including 90 per cent of the mohair.

Advantages of the central location of this area to manufacturing is brought out, plus the fact that Tech is the only textile engineering school west of the Mississippi river.

The bulletins will be placed in the hands of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for distribution.

Grand Jury Indicts Spurned Suitor For Dallas Murder

DALLAS, Sept. 12. (AP) — Keith Peterson, 21-year-old Southern Methodist university student, was indicted for murder by the Dallas county grand jury today.

Peterson admitted to police the killing of Carolyn Schofield, 20, in the office where she was employed on the fourth floor of the Southland Life Bldg. Sept. 2.

Peterson told police who arrested him in the office building that he and the girl had been engaged, but that she had told him she planned to marry someone else.

Man With Restored Memory Plans To Remain In Orange

ORANGE, Sept. 12. (AP)—Yancy Quitman Caldwell, 50, whose memory was restored here Saturday following a lapse of more than one month, said today he will make Orange his home.

"The people and the police of Orange have been very kind to me," Caldwell told a reporter, "and I hope to be able to find some sort of a job here as soon as I am physically able and later take out a license to practice law in this state."

Caldwell was picked up here early last Wednesday, wandering dazedly, footsore and hungry about downtown streets. He was penniless and dressed in ragged clothing which carried two laundry marked names other than his own.

He still was under treatment by physicians today for shock and the effects of an undetermined period without food.

Caldwell told the reporter he received a bachelor of law degree from Vanderbilt university in 1921 and a doctor of law degree from Columbia university in 1923. He said he practiced law in his home town of Paris, Tenn., and served as city attorney (1926-30), state representative (1931-33) and state senator 1933, 35.

Caldwell said he moved to New Orleans in March 1948, and worked there and at Alexandria, La., for an insurance adjustment firm until he lost his memory the latter part of July.

He refused to disclose any details of the accumulation of "personal difficulties" on which he blamed his condition.

Caldwell was identified through fingerprints sent to the Federal Bureau of investigation in Washington.

Smithwick Trial Moved To Belton

ALICE, Sept. 12. (AP)—Sam Smithwick, former deputy sheriff, will be tried at Belton, on a charge of murdering radio commentator W. H. (Bill) Mason.

The transfer was ordered today after the portly, 60-year-old Smithwick pleaded innocent to a murder indictment returned last week by a county grand jury.

District Judge Paul Martineau denied motions of both state and defense attorneys for a change of venue and ordered the case moved from this South Texas county seat to Central Texas on his own initiative.

Feeling Runs High

The judge said feeling is still too high in this area for a fair trail in an adjoining county seat.

Mason, 51, newspaper man and radio commentator, was shot down in an industrial section of Alice July 29. Shortly before, he had singled out Smithwick in criticism of the sheriff's office.

Smithwick will be tried before Judge Wesley Dice of 27th district court at Belton. District Attorney Sam Reams said the case will be handled by District Attorney James K. Evetts with County Attorney Homer E. Dean of Jim Wells county probably assisting.

Heir To Grocery Chain Fortune Marries Former Cigaret Girl

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12.(INS)—Huntington Hartford, heir to the A & P grocery fortune, disclosed today that he and Marjorie Steele, former nightclub cigaret girl, were married last Saturday at Gardnerville.

The millionaire said that he and his bride first met about a year ago while she was attending the Actor's Lab in Hollywood.

The new Mrs. Hartford peddled cigarets at Ciro's, swank night spot, to earn tuition for the dramatic school. She recently completed a picture, and Hartford declared:

"She will continue her career. We plan ambitious things for her in the future."

Hartford previously was married to Mary Lee Epling, who now is Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, jr.

LATIN-AMERICANS SURPRISED

Truman Experiences Greatest Thrill Of Entire Political Life

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Sideglances:

President Truman spoke off the cuff at a small luncheon given to him by Philadelphia businessmen before he addressed the American Legion convention.

He said that on his way to the luncheon he had experienced the greatest thrill of his political life.

"As our car sped past the Union League club I noticed several window - sitters get up from their leather chairs and applaud," he grinned. "Nothing like that ever happened to me before."

Informality Astounds Latins

Eddie Rickenbacker and Arthur Godfrey, fresh back from an 18,000 mile swing around ten Latin American countries in one of Rick's Constellations, created more good will down that way than a dozen U. S. diplomats.

The Latins were astounded by the informality of the American party, which included aviation technicians, three top pilots and a couple of newspapermen. They had reason to be.

Godfrey, usually, was the first person off the plane, which was met at every stop by top officials of the various governments.

Diplomatic Starch Lacking

From either short or long association with U. S. emissaries they had come to expect (and give back) enough starch to jell the Caribbean. But Godfrey proved an all-time loosener - upper of convention and protocol.

He'd come down the steps from the Connie wearing a huge straw sombrero and a bright red poncho. From under that poncho he'd whip out a battered old ukulele and sing a number for the startled dignitaries in his ruptured baritone. As for Rick, instead of bowing from the waist and saying something pat about hands-across-the-borders, he'd shake hands warmly and suggest that it might be nice to go some place, sit down and have a drink.

The American group didn't try to sell anything except friendship and a little good fellowship. While some of our State Department people looked on a bit apprehensively, the boys mingled with presidents, cabinet ministers, top businessmen and ordinary blokes.

Rick's seminars on the future of aviation in Latin America, the coming of the prop-jet and later the full jet transports, and the enormous opportunities for development at hand, fascinated his audiences.

Some of the most important men below the border sat back, loosened their belts and engaged the Americans in the frankest kind of talk about our relations and their future. Presidents pumped Rick for stories about his World War I experiences, his ordeal on the raft in the Pacific, and his rugged philosophy on private enterprise.

Our man Jimmy Kilgallen, who made the trip, introduced a new term into a fairly static language, Spanish. As he and the others in the party were leaving a president's house one midnight (after a 5-to-7 cocktail party in their honor) he poured the president another drink of the prez's scotch, poured one for himself, clinked glasses and said, "Lets have one last el belto."

"El belto...?" the prez asked, and then his face lighted up. Jimmy has been calling a drink an el belto for 40 years, man and boy, and was a bit astounded when the term was instantly recognized by the official. But he is happy to report that it is now the required slang in Latin American social circles, and will lead to a new concord among the Americas.

Newsmen Tour U. S.

Speaking of good will, one of the best efforts of them all is now being made by American Overseas airlines, which has brought over 50 European publishers, editors and writers for a look-see around the states.

They are getting a chance to meet top governmental, business, military and civic leaders wherever they go: San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Fort Worth, Detroit, Washington, and New York. For most of them it will be a re-discovery of America and our chances of getting a better press abroad will be increased.

Sign Distracts Thought

UN has asked a famous cola company to douse the big neon sign it has on the opposite side of the East river from the site of the permanent headquarters of the world organization. They fear it will distract the deliberations of the delegates.

If UN is that rickety, you'd better start shopping around for a lead-lined bomb shelter.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP) — Cotton futures continued to move over narrow ranges in quiet dealings today. Most of the activity centered in nearby positions where hedges against new crop movement were absorbed by commission houses and textile mills.

Spot cotton sales in the south continued heavy, but, notwithstanding, commmission houses and the cotton trade in general were awaiting freer movement before taking market positions.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12 (AP) — Cotton futures declined here today under long liquidation and scattered hedge selling.

Closing prices were steady 20 cents to 45 cents a bale lower.

Wall Street

STOCKS TAKE STRIDE

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—Stocks took a big stride forward today in optimism over a settlement in steel.

Enthusiasm was not dimmed by the lack of an announcement whether the CIO steelworkers had accepted the President's proposal for extension of the strike truce.

Also ignored was a downward revision of the steel operating rate to 80.4 per cent of capacity as against 84.2.

Prices advanced by fractions to more than a point generally. Oils, steels and rails got most attention. Trading 1,580,000 shares, the best since Aug. 18.

That rising volume with advancing prices took on the flavor of the summer rally which stumbled and slid down within the last month. Today's gain put the market within shouting distance of the year's high of early this year.

U. S. Steel was the second most active issue, up ⅝ at 23¼. Bethlehem Steel gained 1 at 27⅛.

Commonwealth & Southern topped the list unchanged at 5⅛. It opened on a block of 26,500 shares. A number of utilities made new highs. The group was at the best level since last November.

Oils were high in the list of heavily traded issues. Sunray was up ⅛ at 11⅛. Sinclair up ⅝ at 24¼. Standard Oil (NJ) was up ⅞ at 70½. Others with gains of a point or more included Texas Co., Richfield, Gulf Oil, Phillips Petroleum, and Ohio Oil.

Higher prices and heavier volume were attained in the broadest market since Aug. 10. Of 1,038 issues traded, 596 advanced and 187 slipped.

The Associated Press average gained .4 of a point at 64.9. The high for the year is 66.2. Industrials made the best showing with a rise of .5 of a point. Rails and utilities advanced .3 of a point each.

Here is what some market leaders did on the upside: Chrysler up ⅝ at 82¼, Santa Fe 1⅜ at 90¾, American Telephone ⅝ at 145¼, Phelps Dodge 1¼ at 42⅜, International Paper 1⅛ at 54½, Coca Cola 2¾ at 158¾, Radio ⅛ at 11¾, Caterpillar ⅞ at 34, Montgomery Ward ⅛ at 53, and Du Pont ⅝ at 82⅛.

Higher on the curb were Arkansas Natural gas "A," Kirby Petroleum, United Light & Railway, Louisiana Land & Exploration and Cities Service. A little lower were Niagara Hudson Power and Aluminum Co. of America.

Bonds were generally lower with rails, utilities and industrial loans all down. U. S. government issues were unchanged to lower with long term issues down.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP) — Grain and soybean prices dipped, climbed and then fell again today on the board of trade.

Wheat and corn were mixed most of the time, although occasional rallies pushed prices higher. The distant July contract fell below the previous seasonal low mark of $1.84⅝. Large country receipts of 269 cars of corn was a depressing influence in that grain.

Grains rallied again near the close at or near the best levels of the day.

Wheat closed ⅛ to ¾ higher than the previous finish, September $2.06¾-⅞, corn was up ¼ to 1⅜, September $1.28½-¾. Oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher, September 69. rye was up ⅛ to 1⅜, September $1.45½.

Admiral Says 'Cheap' Defense Is Dangerous

DALLAS, Sept. 12. (U.P.)—A rear admiral told the International Association of Police Chiefs today that "too much emphasis has been placed on the dollar savings of unification."

Rear Adm. Edgar A. Cruise said the emphasis had been misdirected "almost to the point of forgetting that what we are striving for is a more effective military establishment."

Cruise, attached to the air warfare division office of the chief of naval operations, spoke on the United States organization for national security.

"Wars are not won with balance sheets but with men and material," said the naval officer. "Both cost money, a cheaper—a second best — military establishment is not good enough.

"In time of war, when lack of adequate planning and integration can result in a disastrous waste of precious resources in manpower and material, the ultimate benefits and the real economies of unification will be realized."

There were several other speakers on today's program of the 56th annual conference of the association. The four-day meeting opened yesterday and concludes Thursday.

Other speakers included E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California highway patrol, who discussed police and public relations. "Every police department, large or small, has its public relations, be they good, bad or indifferent," he said. "We may attempt to disregard or refuse to recognize the fact but it is inescapable. Public relations even though an intangible element, can often make or break a department. To be successful the police agency... must render a service which the public considers worth the money which it costs," said Cato.

B-36 Called 'Incredible' War Machine By European Newsmen

FORT WORTH, Sept. 12. (U.P.)—A group of 49 European journalists agreed today that the giant B-36 bomber was an "incredible" war machine dwarfing the B-24 Liberators and B-29 Superforts that soared over their homelands during the war.

In Fort Worth for a 36-hour glimpse of military facilities and industrial development, the newsmen from 14 western European nations toured Carswell Air Force base escorted by Maj. Gen. Roger M. Ramey, commanding general of the 8th Air Force.

Following a reception at the base, they were to be entertained tonight at a barbecue sponsored by Fort Worth publisher Amon Carter. Tomorrow they leave in an American overseas airlines stratocruiser for Detroit on another lap of their "American discovery flight" designed to acquaint them with the United States.

All Payments Made To Tech Loan Fund

All payments have been made to the freshman loan fund at Texas Tech for loans made during the 1948-49 school year, Dean of Men James G. Allen reported Monday.

Fifty-five students made use of the "emergency loan fund" during the year, Allen stated, borrowing a total of $1,889.30. All but one $10 payment has been returned, with interest, and that single payment is not due until Oct. 1, he said.

The freshman loan fund is made up from a portion of the proceeds each year from the sale of freshman caps by the Hemphill-Wells company. Although designated for first-year students, Dean Allen said the fund is used to help any student over a temporary financial set-back.

Average length of time for the loan is six weeks, at five per cent interest, he said. However, no interest is charged if payment is made within a few days. Around $35 is the average amount of a loan, with as little as $5 and as much as $65 sometimes being made.

Lamesa Overcomes Four-Run Deficit To Drop Dukes, 5-4

Manager Hershel Martin Protests After Ninth Inning Double Play

LAMESA, Sept. 12 (Special)—The surprising Lamesa Loboes overcame a four-run deficit and stopped a ninth-inning threat with an unusual game-ending double play to defeat the Albuquerque Dukes, 5-4, here tonight and take a three and two game edge in the West Texas-New Mexico league series.

Duke Manager Herschel Martin protested the game in the ninth inning when D. C. Miller dropped Martin's looping fly ball to left with the bases loaded, then fired it to Dan Pinto for the second out. Pinto relayed the ball to Hank Melillo at second base to retire the side.

Martin Protests

Martin protested on the ground that each put-out was a separate play.

Eulis Rosson registered his second win of the playoff series, holding the Dukes to 10 hits before he was replaced by Bob Upton with one out in the ninth and runners on second and third.

Frank Shone suffered the loss while allowing eight safeties. Rosson and Shone notched 10 strikeouts each in the crowd-pleasing duel witnessed by 2,552 fans. The attendance at the three games here was 7,491.

Albuquerque built up a 4-0 lead with a brace of runs in each of the first two frames. Allen Maul pounded a home run after Dick Dawson had singled in the first inning.

The Dukes scored two more in the second on a walk to Len Attyd, consecutive singles by Ray Hamrick and Dawson and Glen Selbo's error on a grounder by Tommy Fox.

Shone Retires 12

Shone retired the first 12 batters in order, six of them via the strikeout rout, but he weakened in the fifth.

Miller opened this frame with a single. Leon Mitchell smashed a home run. Jay Haney singled and Frank Calo pounded a one-baser and Haney scored as Pinto forced Calo at second.

The Loboes staged their game-winning rally in the seventh, the same quartet of players banging out base hits. Miller opened the inning with a single to left. Mitchell singled to right but was thrown out at second as Miller reached third. Haney brought Miller home with the tying tally on a double to right-center and scored the winning run as Calo slapped a ground single to left.

Then came the hectic top-half of the ninth. After Dawson struck out, Dick Gyselman, batting for Fox, drew a walk. Cliff McClain singled to center and raced to second as Gyselman beat Jim Sinovick's throw to third. Upton came on to replace Rosson on the mound for Lamesa at this point, and Maul was given an intentional pass to load the bases.

Martin looped a fly ball to short leftfield which Miller dropped on the run from his leftfield position. Miller recovered the ball quickly, threw to Pinto at third forcing McClain and Pinto fired to Melillo at second to force Maul and the ball game was over.

Hamrick Stars

Hundreds of fans milled on the field as Martin lodged an official protest with plate Umpire Bill Frank.

Hamrick, Duke shortstop, was the game's hitting star with three singles in four trips. Miller, Mitchell, Haney and Calo collected all Lamesa safeties with two hits each.

The two clubs meet in the sixth game of the best four-of-seven series in Albuquerque Tuesday night. Jack Guiterrez will hurl for Lamesa. He beat the Dukes Saturday night. Lefthander Tom Breisinger or Nimo Barnise will go for Albuquerque.

Aggies Out To Smash Villanova

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 12. (AP)—The Texas A. and M.-Villanova football game Saturday night may have more heat than September in Texas can produce.

The Aggies are burned up at Villanova and probably are planning on taking it out on the Wildcats.

Villanova has the men to take it, however. Nobody can see how sophomore A. and M. has much chance to bat the veterans from the East.

But this slow burn business is something else.

Coach Harry Stiteler says Villanova agreed not to start fall practice until Sept. 1, the rule in the Southwest conference.

The Wildcats hit the gridiron in Mid-August and Stiteler says this gives them an advantage.

Stiteler says he asked Villanova about it. A new coach, Jim Leonard, came in this year, succeeding Jordan Olivar. Leonard didn't know about the agreement, Stiteler was told.

But Harry's still burned up. Chances are his team will hear about it this week. It might cause the boys to fight harder.

Anyway, A. and M.'s largest opening game attendance is certain as the Aggies, who last year lost nine and tied one in a 10-game slate, take the field with a rebuilt team. Sophs will do most of the playing. One, Glenn Lippman, may do more than Villanova would like. Lippman is considered the greatest runner to come along in the Southwest conference in years.

Aggie officials predict more than 20,000 will be in the stands when Villanova, with its 19 lettermen from the team that won eight, lost two and tied one last year, takes on A. and M. Villanova beat the Aggies handily last season.

Hurler Hank Wyse Draws Suspension

HOUSTON, Sept. 12 (INS)—Henry (Hank) Wyse, former pitcher for the Chicago Cubs, who was cut and bruised in his Houston jail cell Sunday, expects to go before the Harris County grand jury and tell how he was hurt.

His attorney, M. H. Mulitz, said that Wyse told him he was cut by two other prisoners, and also was beaten by police. Police Lieut. P. L. Hynes, in charge of the jail at the time, said all the trouble was with other prisoners, and Wyse was not with officers.

About 50 stitches were required to close slashes in Wyse's arm and back but he was able to go to Shreveport, La., today.

Wyse was arrested early Sunday and charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated and not having an operator's license. After several hours in jail he posted bond for $800 for appearance to answer the charges.

The management of the Shreveport club of the Texas league suspended Wyse and said he would not be the starting pitcher for Shreveport in the playoff series starting tomorrow, as had been planned.

Civil aviation is booming in Switzerland, and Swissair, a private enterprise, recently made its first scheduled flight to the United States.

Cotton Belt Winners To Play Leaders In Cottonbelt League

The Wolfforth Wolves, winners of the Cotton Belt baseball league, will journey to Ralls Sunday to play the winner of the Cottonbelt league.

It may sound like double talk, but there are two baseball leagues in the area with the same name. The only way to distinguish between the two is in the spelling, one league is two words and the other is one word.

Wolfforth won its league Sunday with a double win over Cooper, taking the games by 3-0 and 3-2 counts. Ralls, meanwhile, was plastering Idalou, 11-0, to win its league.

CONFUSION, INC.

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Virginia Teeh's football squad is furnishing sports announcers with plenty of headaches this season. There are four Johnsons, three Smiths, and two each of the Spruhan, Denardo, Thomas, Taylor, Wilson and Anderson clan. The Spruhans, Thomases and Denardos are brothers, but the others are unrelated.

CARDS GET PAY BOOSTS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals have been going so well that five players received new contracts with pay raises during June. They are Howie Pollet, Al Brazle, Tom Glaviano, Harold Rice and Gerald Staley.

James, Rose Meet In Semi-Final

Henderson O'Neal Fight Here Tonight

Boxing will be the main bill of fare on the Lubbock sporting scene tonight, with a 28-round card set for 8:30 p. m. at Sled Allen's arena.

Appearing in the main event will be Lightweight Bill Henderson of Levelland and Texas Tech, and he faces Jeep O'Neal of Oklahoma City in the 10-rounder. Heavyweight Gene James will go against Buddy Rose in the semi-final event for six rounds.

Tickets are on sale at Hilton hotel today, with prices at $2.50, $2 and $1.50.

O'Neal is the main attraction on the visiting team of fighters from Oklahoma City, and he has been appearing on the West Coast in main events.

Formerly a Golden Glove and A A U bantamweight champion, O'Neal has shown up well in the professional circles and is a clever, hard puncher.

Henderson is well known in this area and has a fine record in fights thus far, winning 23 of 25 pro bouts and winning fans wherever he has appeared for his determination and good sportsmanship.

A Lubbock product, James will be seeking his 10th consecutive victory, and he has an unblemished record, taking all his previous bouts with knockouts. Rose's record is unknown, but he is expected to put up a good battle against James, and this bout is likely to take some of the limelight away from the main event.

Three four-round preliminary events will set the pace for the remaining bouts, and in the top fight on the card Leonard Duncan of Hale Center will take on Noble Banks, an experienced middleweight from Oklahoma with a record of good performances.

Charlie Neff will appear against Baxter Horne in another lightweight bout. Neff has been fighting in this area for some time and needs no introduction to local boxing fans. Horne is an engineering student at Oklahoma City university and was Oklahoma's first national Golden Glove flyweight champion.

Billy Brackeen, who has appeared in only a few professional fights, takes on G. R. Jones in the other lightweight preliminary.

Benefit Game Boosts Floydada Band Fund

FLOYDADA, Sept. 12 (Special) The Floydada High school band equipment fund netted some $200 tonight from a special benefit softball game in which the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal team defeated Builders Mart of Floydada, 1-0. A near-capacity crowd of some 500 fans saw the contest.

All proceeds from the gate, concessions and sale of a special souvenir edition of The Lubbock Evening Journal went to the band equipment fund. Sale of the papers, which featured pictures and stories of the two teams, brought in approximately $40, while gate receipts approximated $80.

All concessions were operated by members of the Floydada Band Parents association.

M. W. Kattner, director of the 57-piece Floydada band, expressed his thanks to everyone who had a part in staging tonight's successful benefit program.

A second game between the same teams, with proceeds to go to the band equipment fund, will be played Thursday night at Lockney.

Lubbock's Garner Vardeman and Floydada's Bobby Robertson hooked up in a tight pitcher's duel which saw both clubs go scoreless until the seventh, when the Avalanche - Journal crew tallied on Lindle Bailey's single, a Floydada error and Royce Jones' line double to left field.

Vardeman, a southpaw, gave up four hits, to Phil Steen, Earl Cooper, James Robertson and Bobby Robertson.

Bailey, Jones and Delton Tapp hit safely once each against Robertson.

Rutgers University Is Chosen As Site Of Sports Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Rutgers university at New Brunswick, N. J., where the first college football game was played 80 years ago, will be the site of the sport's Hall of Fame.

A committee of leading grid authorities picked the spot where Rutgers and Princeton clashed Nov. 6, 1869 for the national shrine.

The selection was approved by the American Association of Football coaches and the National Football Writers association.

Tech Frosh Open Football Practice

Texas Tech freshman gridders went through the first day of practice Monday, but little was accomplished since the majority of the boys were tied up with entrance exams.

The real workouts will begin at 4 p. m. today, and from that point the drills will be stepped up considerably.

A large squad of approximately 39 boys turned out the first day, and more may show up later.

Included among the first-day football candidates are some of the top schoolboy backs and linemen in the state in 1948. The list includes:

BACKS—Jerry Killian, Holliday; Carl Madison, Atmore, Ala.; Waldo Young, Monahans; Joe Sandlin, Paducah; Gene Doss, Arlington Heights, Fort Worth; Don Seale, Idalou; Kenneth Cochran, Paschall, Ft. Worth; Don Decker, Lubbock; Joe Calloway, McAllen; Duane Carter, Tahoka; and Bud Haynes, McKinney.

Also Bill Bridge, Lubbock; Ronnie Miller, Albany; Carroll Drye, McAllen; Hudson Routh, Olney; Jim Turner, Olney; W. H. Barker, Colorado City; and Chuck Reynolds, Atlanta, Ga.

ENDS—Ted Wallace, Lubbock; James Clark, Sundown; Gerald Thompson, Breckenridge, San Antonio; Alton Linnie, Monahans; James Thames, Alvarado; and Hollice Davis, Olney.

TACKLES — Edward Briggs, Shamrock; Marland Ribble, Arlington Heights, Ft. Worth; August Meynig, Colorado City; George Krohn, Wichita Falls; Joe Harrison, McAllen; Charles Prestidge, Bell High school, Galveston; and Harold Harris, Masonic Home, Ft. Worth.

GUARDS—Don Gray, Breckenridge; Neil Rogers, Abilene; and Vernon Barron, Temple.

CENTERS — Jimmy Williams and Sam Jones, Temple.

BEARS STRESS DEFENSE

WACO, Sept. 12. (AP)— Baylor went through two light workouts today and Coach Bob Woodruff said it was the last two-a-day drills for his football squad. Much emphasis was placed today on pass defense. Light contact work finished off the afternoon practice.

Westerners Face Childress Friday

A layoff over the weekend seemed to have slowed down the Westerner offensive Monday afternoon at Chapman field, and on many occasions the defense rose up to stymie the drives in a rough scrimmage session.

By Friday night, when the Westerners go up against the Childress Bobcats, however, the team is expected to be working with the precision and speed which has marked previous scrimmages.

Left Halfback Wayne Stroud was slowed down with a slight cold and sore throat picked up over the weekend, and Morris Turner and Mack Taylor were alternating at that position through most of the day.

Center Douglas Wienke and End Billy Wright are still on the injured list, but neither is expected to be sidelined on Friday. Wienke favors an ankle which was weakened by a sprain, and Wright has a heavily bandaged right forearm from an infection.

The ends and linemen went through extended blocking exercises under Coaches Fred Taylor and Billy Floyd, and in the scrimmage the defense was especially tough. Freddie Gray, Curtis Roberts and Sammy Modrall were making lots of tackles, and Taylor looked good on defense.

Tickets for the Bobcat game are on sale and may be bought at the Athletic office at Lubbock High school. Reserved seats are listed at $1.50 each.

The remainder of the week the drills will deal mainly with sharpening the offense and defense, with practice on the style of play used by the Bobcats.

Passing, punt returns and kick-off returns will probably come in for attention the last two days, with the last hard workout this afternoon.

Coach Pat Pattison will not want to take a chance on having a player injured before the game, and speedy drills are expected, although lacking in heavy contact work.

Gonzales Moves Up In Pacific Tennis

LOS ANGLES, Sept. 12. (INS)—National champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales moved into the quarter finals of the 23rd annual Pacific Southwest tennis tournament today, but he had to fight for it.

Gonzales defeated Arnold Saul, former University of Southern California ace, 9-7, 9-7, after a fierce match in which Saul was at point set in each of the sets. Faced with defeat, Gonzales steadied and turned on the power.

Felicisimo Ampo, the Philippine champion, also advanced into the quarter finals and will meet the National titleholder in that round later in the week.

After being baffled by southpaw George Richards' style in the first set, Ampon went on to beat him, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

The field of foreign contenders was narrowed further today when the Italian Davis Cupper Giovanni Cucelli was eliminated by Herb Flam, 7-5, 6-3.

Maxie Docusen Wins 10-Round Decision Over Joey Barnum

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12 (AP)—Maxie Docusen, 135-pound New Orleans lightweight, won a unanimous 10-round decision over Joey Barnum, 138, of Los Angeles, here tonight.

Docusen used left hooks and right uppercuts to the body. The Los Angeles lightweight received cuts over both eyes from the fourth to the tenth round. He was staggered several times but there were no knockdowns.

BRAVES SIGN SCHOOLBOY

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 12. (INS)— The most sought after schoolboy baseball player in New England has been signed by the Boston Braves. Joe Andrews of Fall River signed a contract with the Braves to play with their Owensboro (KY) club of the Class D Kitty league. His mother also signed the agreement. Andrews, only 17, was a catcher on the Durfee High school nine and also starred in football and basketball for the past three years.

Samuels, Fry To Lead Longhorns

Tech Seeks Defense To Stop Steer 'T'

Texas Tech's Red Raiders went through an uneventful football workout Monday afternoon, and if there was any complaint of a poor showing Saturday night it was not "made up for" with an extra-heavy session.

Two drills a day are still being experienced by the Tech team, but they are expected to taper off to one-a-day starting Wednesday.

Emphasis was on defense and offense in preparation for the second game Saturday afternoon in Austin with the Longhorns of the University of Texas, and Coach Dell Morgan is apt to push his boys pretty hard for that encounter.

Defensively the Raiders were practicing to stop the "T" as run by Longhorn Mentor Blair Cherry, and the players were being corrected on mistakes made in last week's game.

Aside from a dummy scrimmage and play practices the Raiders practiced on punting and passing, with emphasis on a passing attack which was not unlimbered Saturday against ACC.

From down Austin way some reports that co-captains for the Texas Tech tilt have been named. Halfback Perry Samuels and Errol Fry of Anson were named to lead the Steers.

The Austin eleven is making its first appearance this year against Tech and a strong passing attack is expected to vie with the ground game for offensive honors for the day.

Monday the Longhorns worked on offense the two practice sessions, and after today only one drill will be held each day. All practices will be behind closed gates.

12 Crewmen Jump To Safety From Burning B-29 Bomber

SAN JOSE, Calif., Sept. 12 (AP)—All 12 crewmen parachuted to safety from a burning B-29 today.

The huge bomber crashed shortly after noon on the first range of hills five miles east of Milpitas and about 35 miles southeast of San Francisco. Howard White, a San Jose pilot who flew over the scene, said the plane then bounced to the edge of a reservoir lake.

Within a short time, all 12 men aboard on the training flight from Fairfield-Suisun air base had been rounded up and taken to the Santa Clara county alms house at Milpitas.

The armed forces press information office in San Francisco reported the crew abandoned ship when one of the plane's four engines caught fire. The engine dropped off.

RAN 105 YARDS

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Howard Turner, backfield star of North Carolina State, chalked up last season's longest intercollegiate grid dash when he trotted 105 yards against Duke at Durham. Turner was chosen All-Conference the last two seasons.

Arizona Returns From Drill Camp

TUCSON, Ariz., Sept. 12. (Special)—"We won't win them all, but we'll get our share." Such was the forecast of University of Arizona football coach Bob Winslow as the Wildcats returned to the university campus today after nine days of early fall training at Fort Huachuca, where at an altitude of 5,200 feet temperatures averaged 15 degrees cooler than in Tucson.

Workouts at the Fort were on a twice-daily schedule for the approximately 65 varsity and 90 freshmen gridders.

As evidence of the advanced physical conditioning acquired by the Wildcats at the Fort, Winslow ran both varsity and freshmen candidates through daily scrimmage sessions after the first four days of practice.

A preview of both 1949 varsity and frosh teams will be held in Arizona Stadium Sept. 17, a week before the varsity's opening game with New Mexico A&M. The two squads will be broken down into teams and stage intra-unit scrimmages under game conditions under the lights.

In addition to the top physical condition attained by the players in their first nine days of practice, Winslow also expressed approval of the showing made by several Junior College transfers.

At the shallow Wildcat end positions, three transfers, Dick Carter and Vern Langager, both of El Camino, Calif., J. C., and George Masterson of New Mexico Military Institute, turned in top performances. Carter is 6-feet-two-inches and weighs 200 pounds, Masterson is 6-feet and weighs 195, and Langager is 6-1 and weighs 190.

In the backfield, the Wildcats are shaping up as one of the fastest units in the nation with the addition of Fred Batiste, negro transfer from Compton J. C., and Jack Graham, San Diego J. C. sophomore. Batiste, running at right halfback, is a 9.8 sprinter, and Graham, a fullback, is only slightly over 10 seconds.

Other speedsters in the Arizona backfield include fullback Charley Hall, left half Eddie Wolgast, and right half Fred Hodges, all of whom have been clocked around the 10 second mark, and left half Bill Ayres, another 9.8 man.

At the key quarterback spot in the T formation, work of John Kelly of Bisbee and Dan Russell of Mesa, both first year varsity men, has been outstanding. The passing of both and that of Paul Palmer, left handed signal caller from Chicago, was a highlight of the early drills.

In the running department Wolgast, Batiste, right half Oscar Carrillo, Hall and Graham have all given threat of bidding strongly for All-Conference or higher honors.

While the emphasis at Fort Huachuca was on offense, Winslow said defensive systems would get first attention as practice shifted back to the University campus. The Arizona coach said that while the Wildcats will not employ a full two-platoon system, it will use offensive and defensive units.

Following their opening game in Arizona Stadium Sept. 24 with New Mexico A&M, the Wildcats will entertain Utah, favorite of the Skyline Six, Oct. 1. On the following three Saturdays, they meet the top-rated teams of the Border Conference, Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons and Texas Western. Denver, another Skyline Six title threat, is the sixth Arizona opponent and is followed by New Mexico University and Arizona State of Tempe, both conference opponents. Michigan State of the Big Ten, and Kansas University of the Big Seven Conference, close out the 10-game schedule.

A Cuban company will drill its first deep-hole oil test well in Cordenas Bay.

Robinson Leads National Batters

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—With three weeks to go before the season ends, Jackie Robinson faces a double-barreled threat from Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals in his bid for the National league batting title.

Robinson, Brooklyn's star second baseman, still holds the lead with .347, an eight-point edge over Slaughter's .339. Now Musial, moving up five points in a week, is a threatening third at .331.

It's strictly a three-man race down to the wire, with Robinson playing all but two of his remaining games on the road and his two rivals seeing plenty of home action.

After Musial, there is a 21-point drop to New York's Willard Marshall, fourth at .310.

Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh, on a new home run rampage with a total of 46, is seventh in batting at .305.

Musial also is a new threat in the runs batted in race. Closing with a rush he has taken over third with 105. Robinson still leads with 115, and Kiner's 108 is good for second. Stan is second in homers with 32 behind Kiner's 46.

Although Robinson is threatened he still tops five individual departments—batting, runs batted in, hits, doubles and stolen bases. He has 187 hits, 35 doubles and 32 stolen bases.

WILLIAMS, KELL, DILLINGER TOP AMERICAN BATTERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—The same familiar names—Ted Williams, George Kell and Bob Dillinger—stayed at the top of the American league's batting honor roll last week.

But there was a slight change in their percentages in statistics through games of Sept. 11. Williams, of Boston, dropped one point from the preceding week to .352. Detroit's Kell, in second place, lost two points, to .339, and Dillinger, of St. Louis, one point, to .319.

There were two new entries into the leaders' circle during the week, Bobby Doerr of Boston and Hoot Evers of Detroit. Doerr went into a tie with Johnny Pesky of Boston for seventh place with .305 and Evers into a tie for tenth with Roy Sievers of St. Louis with .297.

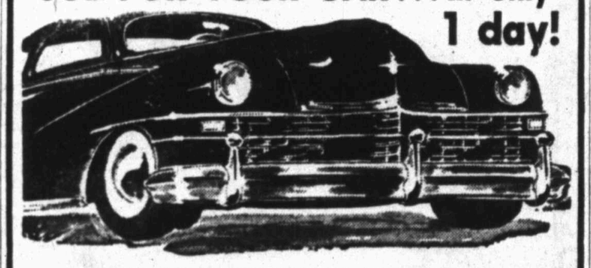

Don DiMaggio of Boston held on to fourth place with .314.

Vern Stephens of Boston dropped from the leaders during the week but continued to lead in most runs batted in—146.

Williams led in four other departments: most runs, 136; most hits 182, most doubles, 38, and most homers, 37. Mitchell's 22 triples was tops.

Amherst Faces Tough Grid Road

Veteran Backs To Bolster Squad

BY CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

AMHERST, Sept. 12. — Amherst's football hopes this fall will be riding largely on the shoulders of three veteran backfield performers, and on the grid "know-how" of two new coaches.

The Bulldogs last year scored only one victory in District 3-B competition. Chances are they won't make too big a splash in the conference puddle this season, although they definitely expect to better their below-par 1948 record.

A. D. Shaver, a West Texas State college product who was at McLean last year, is the new head coach here, with Texas Tech's Jack Noyes as his assistant. Together, they hope to turn out a club that will climb at least to the halfway mark in the conference standings.

Face Tough Road

On paper, it looks like a tough road ahead for the Bulldogs. They open their nine-game conference slate Thursday night at Dimmitt, and in Coach J. W. Blaine's Bobcats they will be tackling one of the toughest Class B outfits on the South Plains. Dimmitt last week came through with a startling 12-7 upset of Class A Sudan which immediately stamped the Bobcats as "the team to beat" in the 3-B loop.

The Amherst backfield, with three two-year lettermen returning, should hold its own, but prospects in the line are much dimmer. Up front, the Bulldogs will be short on both experience and reserves. Moreover, they'll be extremely shy on weight through the middle of the forward wall.

Wright Expected To Star

Tailback Bill Wright is expected to be the team's ace offensive threat. At 158 pounds, he has enough power for line thursts, and is fast enough for running end sweeps. Clearing the way for him much of the time will be Bobby Davis, solidly-built, 185-pound blocking back. Fullback Roy Bryant, 167-pounder, will be the team's signal caller. Wright, Davis and Bryant have earned two letters each, and doubtless will spark the Bulldog attack this fall.

The picture in the line is still unsettled, with wide-open battles in progress for starting assignments at several positions. Outstanding linemen in pre-season practices have been Guard Elvin Joe Chafin and Tackles Willis Blair and Harold Roberson, all one-year lettermen. Freshman Connie Baird also has been developing rapidly at end.

The complete Amherst schedule, in which all games are conference tilts, includes: Sept. 15, Amherst at Dimmitt; Sept. 23, Olton at Amherst; Sept. 30, Anton at Amherst; Oct. 7, Amherst at Friona; Oct. 14, Hale Center at Amherst; Oct. 21, Spade at Amherst; Oct. 28, Farwell at Amherst; Nov. 4, Amherst at Springlake; Nov. 11, Amherst at Whitharrel.

The Squadmen

The Bulldog squad, with respective weights' classifications and years — if any — as lettermen, includes:

ENDS — Lee Clay (160, Sr., 1L); Connie Baird (144, Fresh.); Gary Dale Tollett (145, Sr.); Joe Sullivan (150, Sr.); Tommy Patterson (140, Jr.); Jerry Tucker (140, Fresh.).

GUARDS — Elvin Joe Chafin (130, Jr., 1L); Russell White (135, Jr.); Mickey Pickrell (140, Soph.); Raymond Purdy (150, Soph.); Jarrell Tharp (118, Jr.).

ALTERNATE BACKS — Pat Blessing (120, Soph.); Dick Brantley (132, Soph.); John Edd Blessing (105, Fresh.).

They don't know it, but some of Lubbock's baseball fans probably have fallen victims of a unique bit of trickery.

Many fans are not aware of the fact that daily play-by-play broadcasts of major league games carried by several West Texas radio stations are not eye-witness accounts. The gent who "describes" these tilts so enthusiastically actually is sitting in an air-conditioned studio at Dallas, taking his information from a wire report.

Moreover, the broadcast runs at least one hour later than the game itself, and this is where the skullduggery comes into the picture.

Inning-by-inning scores are received via teletype here at The Avalanche-Journal long before they are given over the radio. Judging from the increasing number of afternoon phone calls pouring into this office requesting up-to-the-minute information on the day's baseball results, some persons have rigged up a new version of "the old skin game."

By getting the scores hot off the teletype wires, then using these results to advantage in making bets with other persons who are listening to the radio broadcasts, a smooth operator easily could—well, just use your own imagination!

A recent rumor has it that Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, has offered Babe Ritchie $10,000 for the contract of Gene James. My personal opinion is that this one must have come out of "Grimm's Fairy Tales" or some other such book for children with easily-impressed imaginations. So far as I've been able to learn, Kearns never has laid eyes on James, and if old Jack is the cagey customer that he's reputed to be he certainly doesn't go around making "sight unseen" offers of $10,000. James is an earnest youngster who's developed well in recent months, but it takes a lot of fights in the Southwest to get back a $10,000 investment, and it's a long, long trail from Sled Allen's arena to Madison Square garden.

Some fireworks are in the offing when the American Ryder cup team arrives in Britain for this year's matches with the English pro stars. British sportsmen still are huffy—and rightly so, it seems—for the treatment given Bobby Locke by the U.S. PGA . . . Coach Blair Cherry of Texas will have 20 "first stringers" this year, the AP reports. Cherry will have what he terms a first string place-kicking team, kickoff team, kickoff return team and goal-line defense team. . .South Plains grid officials say that the new substitution rule, designed to limit the number of substitutions, doubtless will bring many penalties during the early stages of the season, until coaches become accustomed to the chanegover. . .Looks as though Harry Stiteler is sitting pretty at Texas A&M, despite last year's miserable won-and-lost record and this season's mediocre prospects. As one Aggie alumnus official puts it, "Stiteler came to A&M as one of us. He didn't claim to be a big shot. He didn't want to tie us down with a long-term contract. He chose to sink or swim on his merits. Of course, he must win eventually, but he has no worry about it now. He could go on for several years without a winning team. So long as the exes know he's doing his best with what he has they'll be satisfied." It's encouraging to see alumni take this outlook—and the sooner the exes at all colleges quit demanding simply an all-victorious season, the better. Much more emphasis should be placed on a coach's fairness in handling his players, and on his part in building student and alumni spirit.

Texas Loop Playoffs Will Open Tonight

FORT WORTH, Sept. 12. (AP)—The Fort Worth Cats, straight-race winners and the 14th club in Texas league history to score 100 or more regular - season victories, will open their bid for the "official" championship here tomorrow night.

They meet fourth-place Shreveport in the preliminary play-off round. Winner of this series will tangle with survivor of the Tulsa-Oklahoma City series.

For the first time in 14 years, Tulsa and Oklahoma City Texas baseball league teams will meet here tomorrow night in the opener of their Shaughnessy playoff series' first round.

The battle between the interstate rivals is expected to draw around 6,000 fans.

Tulsa's Oilers, the league's second place finishers, bested the third place Indians 15 out of the 22 times the clubs met during the regular season.

Tomorrow night's game will be the first in a best of seven series.

Pancho Gonzales Says He Will Definitely Turn Professional

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12 (INS)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, U. S. Amateur singles tennis champ, says he definitely will turn professional but added he has not made any commitments as yet.

The Los Angeles net ace told a Southern California sportswriters meeting today:

"The time of my turning pro depends on how much money I'll get."

Pancho, currently playing in the Pacific Southwest tennis tourney in Los Angeles, said he had been approached with a proposal by professional Bobby Riggs.

"But I just laughed at this offer," Pancho declared.

RACE SET AT DOWNS

ARLINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—A 100-mile stock car race Oct. 2 at Arlington downs was announced today by promoter Babe Stapp. He said he was cancelling a 100-mile big car race at the Downs Oct. 23 because of a conflict in dates with other AAA events.

British 'Beef' Hit By Hogan

GANTON, England, Sept. 12. (AP)—Ben Hogan said today he is "sick and tired" of harping by the British press on the half-ton of meat brought to England by the American Ryder Cup golfers.

"Everytime I pickup a paper I read about that meat," the little U. S. captain declared." I can't even find any golf news. Next time I guess we'll have to leave our clubs at home and just have a meat show."

The Ryder Cuppers brought 600 steaks, a half-dozen hams, 12 sides of beef and four boxes of bacon with them.

British reporters told Hogan they considered food the biggest news in these tightly rationed islands at the moment.

"Maybe so," Ben declared, "but you don't go around every day printing what lord so-and-so had for lunch, or tea or dinner and I don't get your angle. Those steaks and hams have been in your papers for 12 days now.

"We brought it over for our own table and to entertain the British golfers and their wives," he said. "I'm sorry they've made such an issue of it."

The Americans all played at least 18 holes over the Ganton course. All the British players went the full 36. The International matches starting Friday will be 36-hole affairs.

Ben, Bob Smith Win Father-Son Tourney

Ben Smith and his son, Bob, were the winners of the father-and-son tournament concluded Sunday at Lubbock Country club with a low net score of 70.

The winning pair barely nosed out Chick Trout, sr., and John who posted a gross score of 74 on Saturday, with a net of 72 for runner-up honors.

Dr. J. T. Krurger donated the trophy for the tournament, and it will be a permanent trophy to stay in the trophy case at the club. Each year the winners of the event will have their names engraved on the award. Other prizes will also be awarded to the winners.

Other scores registered Sunday were Roy Cooper and Al, 74, and R. H. Bean and Ed, 73.

Previous low net scores included Don and Ross Mitchell, 73; J. A. and John Raley, 73; C. W. and Bill Tatum, 76; Olan and Orville Stewart, 76; Frank and Jimmy Bass, 77; Bob and DeWitt Harvey, 77; Dr. R. T. and George Canon, 76; Cecil and Joe Horne, 82; O. A. and Rex Terry, 79; Dr. E. G. Porter and Chick Trout, jr., 82; and Ted and Jack Whitehead, 75.

Texas Grid Stars Named

DALLAS, Sept. 12 (U.P.)—Passing combinations dominated the first schoolboy weekly honor roll compiled by The Dallas Morning News from throughout the state.

Aerial wizardry played a big role in last weekend's opening games.

Probably the most sensational was Bill White, Denton back, who caught a 40-yard pass and then threw two—good for 37 and 22 yards—all in the last minute of play to cover 99 yards and salvage a 7-7 tie with Graham. Charlie McNeill caught the last two passes.

Freddie Montalvo and Brady Garcia, San Benito's brilliant passing combination, accounted for four touchdowns in San Benito's 41-18 win over Kingsville.

Black Tosses For TD

Richard Black tossed a touchdown pass to End Brooks Ziegler and then hit him with a toss good for 54 yards to set up another score as Hillsboro beat Mineral Wells 13-7.

Charles Grantham of Grand Prairie pitched three touchdown passes to give his team a stunning 26-7 upset victory over highly-regarded Gainesville.

Dean Curren and Bill Furrh of Henderson formed the "battery" for the Lions with Curren pitching two touchdown plays of 25 and 35 yards as Henderson beat Jacksonville 32-0.

Jack McMurry of Marshall accounted for 210 yards, 169 on 22 rushing plays and completing four of eight passes for 41 yards as his team beat Shreveport's Fair Park 14-7. One of the passes was a 20-yarder for a touchdown.

Other schoolboy stars included: Bobby Warren, Austin, netted 102 yards in 23 carries as Maroons beat San Antonio Jefferson 27-6.

Billy Hooper, Sweetwater back, completed a 70-yard touchdown pass to help turn back Vernon 14-0.

Johnny Linney, Longview back, carried Longview inside Lufkin five-yard line three times with fine passing, but Lobos fumbled away all three chances and settled for scoreless tie.

L. G. Dupree, Texas City back, ran 80 yards for the touchdown that gave Texas City a 7-0 win over Beaumont's South Park.

Browns Buy Two Righthanded Hurlers From Baltimore Nine

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12 (INS)—The purchase of two right-handed pitchers from the Baltimore Orioles of the International league was announced today by the St. Louis Browns.

The hurlers, Al Widmar and Vernon Taylor, will report to the club in the spring.

The Browns said they paid $12,500 for Widmar, who was with them last season. The price tag on Taylor, who worked mainly in relief roles, was $15,000.

Sophomores Fill Quarterback Roles

Strong, But Green Arkansas Squad Seen

By CARL BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 12 —"Brutally strong but mighty green" is Coach John Barnhill's own evaluation of his Arkansas Razorbacks.

This only non-Texas team in the Southwest Conference is both strong and inexperienced for the same reason—the presence of perhaps the finest bunch of sophomore football players in Arkansas' history.

First-year men are beating some of the 30 lettermen out of first and second-string jobs, especially in the forward wall.

That can only mean the Razorbacks will be more powerful than they were last year, but it doesn't mean they should be included among the title favorites.

Arkansas probably will improve as the season progresses. With its youngsters becoming battle-scarred, the cardinal and white may be the toughest by the time it plays Rice and Southern Methodist—the two top-ranked clubs of the conference.

The Razorbacks can't be expected to master their new T formation early in the season. Making that job tougher is the fact that the three sophomores will be the quarterbacks. The key under-center spot will be manned by Don Logue of Fayetteville, a slick ball-handler; Charlie Temple of Brinkley, rated as the best passer in the hill country since the days of Jack Robbins and Dwight Sloan, and Jim Rinehart, former Oklahoma all-stater.

These kids, however, will have the help of a huge line—the department which has Porker fans hepped up—and seasoned backfield mates.

Working in the first backfield probably will be Capt. Alvin Duke and Ray Parks at halfback, and Leon (Muscles) Campbell at fullback, with Ross Pritchard, the Razorback's fastest performer and best pass receiver, as a utility hand.

Secondary Still Fast

Behind them wil be such veterans as Louie Schaufele, Tracy Scott, Billy Bass and Stacy Looney; transfers Sammy Furo from Magnolia A. & M., and Billy Gilbreath from Alabama, and sophomore Joe Baldridge.

The secondary is just about as fast over all as it was last year, despite the graduation of Clyde Scott.

Competition for line positions is terrific, but right now it looks as though the starters will be lettermen Billy Hix and Soph Frank Fischel of Helena at ends; Letterman John Lunny and Soph Fred Williams, Little Rock, at tackles; Theron Roberts, a great player back in harness after riding the bench with an injury last year, and either letterman Don Reiderer or soph Dave Hanner, Parkin, at guards, and John Ferguson, a regular last year, at center.

At least two more full lines will see plenty of action, and the linemen average 212 to 213 pounds three deep.

All of which is assurance that no team is going to run roughshod over the Razorbacks, though they may be slow in developing their offense.

A tough schedule confronts Barnie's men. They'll play Vanderbilt, Tulsa, and William and Mary in addition to six conference foes and the season opener with North Texas State at Little Rock, Sept. 24.

GETS GRAHAM MEMORIAL

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — Bill Renna, Santa Clara athlete, is the first recipient of the Charles Graham Memorial trophy. The award was named in honor of the former president of the San Francisco Seals who was a star athlete at Santa Clara 50 years ago. Renna captained the baseball team last spring. Renna, an outfielder who hit .369, is playing for the Twin Falls, Idaho Cowboys, a New York Yankee team in the Pioneer League.

Texas Woman Wins In Golf

ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—A slim young matron from Dallas, Tex., practically speechless with amazement at her feat, today made certain that a new champion would be crowned in the 49th Women's National Amateur golf tournament.

She is Mrs. Joanne Barr Tracy, and nobody was more surprised than this 26 year old Texas mother when she eliminated defending champion Grace Lenczyk, one up, in the first round of the all-match play event at the Merion Golf club.

The victory of Mrs. Tracy, who is playing in her first National tournament, highlighted a day which saw the elimination of at least two other highly regarded performers and a futile battle against par on the part of all 128 entrants.

Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, runner up in the Western Amateur this year, was defeated by Mrs. James Ferrie of Long Beach, Calif., 3 and 2 and Beverly Hanson of Fargo, N. D., a semi-finalist in the National last year, bowed to Betsy Rawls of Austin, Texas, 3 and 1.

Other favorites for the most part breezed through their first round matches.

Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., didn't harm her standing as she trounced Mrs. Cecil Gooderham of Long Branch, Ontario, Canada, 6 and 5.

Pro Yankees' Halfback Lowell Tew Suffers Torn Knee Ligament

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (INS)—The New York football Yankees announced today that they will be without the services of Halfback Lowell Tew in Sunday's All-America Conference game at Cleveland.

Tew, who scored the tying touchdown in the fifth quarter of yesterday's 17-14 Yankee victory over Buffalo, suffered a torn ligament in his right knee a few minutes later.

Lou Kusserow, former Columbia university All-American, will replace him at right half.

Rural Roads Meeting Held

bers to force the state legislature to pass a severance tax. A bill presented in the last session failed by only one vote, due, according to the road association, to "the efforts of 534 lobbyists of the gas, oil and sulphur interests."

"A tax of one cent per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas would have netted the state between $60,000,000 and $80,000,000 during the last year alone," Col. McGregor asserted. "Over 81 per cent of that would have been paid outside of Texas," he added.

The rural roads proponent pointed out that Lubbock county would have netted some $350,000 from that amount. Under a compromise plan designed to head off the organization now apparent all over the state, this county received enough funds to build eight miles of rural roads—$92,000, he reminded.

'Big Hearted' Texans Scored

Many efforts have been made in past years to levy severance taxes on natural resources. Proponents of such a plan have without exception failed, due, they say, to the heavy pressure the big companies can exert.

"We big-hearted Texans sit back and say 'Look, we've got a lot of natural resources and we don't want anything out of it. Take all you want tax-free. Of course we'll be glad to pay all your manufacturing taxes and any other charges you may want to tax us for your products,'" McGregor said.

The Bell county farm and civic leader emphasized his organization, of which he is vice-president, was definitely not wanting to tax natural resources for current state operating expenses.

All-Weather Roads Goal

"We want taxes on natural resources to go into improvements which will remain and will make Texas the greatest agricultural area in the world when our resources are largely exhausted within the next 50 years or so," he declared.

Seeking at least 1,000 members in every county throughout Texas, the program of the Rural Roads association calls for the construction of permanent all-weather roads, state buildings, farm improvements and other projects such as flood control to be undertaken by money raised from the severance tax.

"A tax of two cents on every 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas, 10 cents on every barrel of crude oil, and a reasonable tax on sulphur would net this state enough to give every mile of road in Texas an all-weather surface, terrace every farm that needs it, and construct flood control dams on every stream that needs it," Col. McGregor declared.

Claim Resources Drained

A little later he pointed out that the proposed tax on natural gas, for instance, would cost the average user in Texas an extra six cents per month. He also emphasized that experts are predicting the problem of water conservation will be the greatest in the world within a few years.

"Our resources are being drained from us without the people getting any return from them whatsoever. After those are gone, there will be nothing left unless we take actions now by getting the people of Texas behind this movemnet," the farm road official urged.

He gave as an example Limestone county, formerly one of the richest oil producing areas in the state, which he said is now drained and has nothing left but worn out roads. He charged further that today's youth is leaving the farm because it offers little future. When there are no farms left, there will be nothing, he said.

Other Officers Named

A general antipathy on the part of the thirty-odd persons present at the meeting toward work on the project was at first evident even after they had voted to form a rural roads association here. Enthusiasm mounted, however, toward the end of the meeting.

J. H. Brewer of Slaton was elected vice-president of the county association, Louie F. Moore, Lubbock, secretary, and Jim Ashburn of Shallowater, treasurer.

Directors were named three from each commissioners' precinct and included: W. T. Martin, M. T. Daniell and S. A. Durham, all of Lubbock, from precinct one; E. R. Legg, Judge C. Smith, and Joe Walker, sr., all of Slaton, from precinct two; G. L. Jackson of Abernathy, Bruce Gentry, New Deal, and W. C. Baze, Idalou, from precinct three; and Buford Gregory, Lubbock, Ercell Givens, Abernathy, and H. V. Newman, Shallowater, from precinct four.

Others present at the meeting included: George Green, Joe Grabber, Slaton; J. B. Meador, Lorenzo; Foy Hudson and Ottis Ison, Idalou; S. A. Newsom, C. W. Meyers, R. L. Stewart, P. J. James, H. J. Kendrick, Dave Sherill, Clyde McGrummen, R. S. Short, and G. W. McCleary, Lubbock; and D. D. Webster, New Deal.

Community meetings are expected to be held by each director before the second Monday of October, which will be the next county-wide meeting of the association. Dues to the organization is $1, a part of which goes for literature and bulletins to each individual.

The association is a non-profit organization set up solely for the purpose of improving the State of Texas and building it towards a greater state through the use of funds collected from its own natural resources, Col. McGregor declared.

McGregor was introduced Monday night by Walter C. Foote, Petersburg rural mail carrier and district director of the rural roads association.

Funeral Rites Set For Wreck Victims

Funeral plans were announced Monday for two men killed in a truck-car collision nine miles south of Tahoka Sunday night.

Rites for James William Hunter, 29, of 204 Uvalde, have been scheduled for 3 p.m. today in the Central Baptist church in Lubbock, with burial to follow in Tech Memorial cemetery.

Funeral services for William Clary Putman, 51, of the Draw community near Tahoka, have been set for 3 p.m. Wednesday in the O'Donnell Baptist church, with burial in the O'Donnell cemetery.

Arrangements for both funerals are under the direction of the Stanley Funeral home of Tahoka.

The Rev. Jack Welch, pastor of the Central Baptist church, will conduct services for Hunter, assisted by the Rev. M. M. Walker, pastor of the First Assembly of God church in Lubbock.

There remained a possibility that services for Hunter might be postponed until Wednesday to await the arrival of a brother, Raymond A. Hunter, who is serving with the U.S. Navy.

The O'Donnell services for Putman will be conducted by the Rev. Tom Allman of Hubbard.

adequate precautions."

The Weather Bureau at Kansas City, Mo., issued a warning which read:

"Much colder weather advancing southward through the central Great Plains will bring light snow to northwest and extreme western Nebraska this afternoon and early tonight with freezing temperatures in that area tonight...."

The bureau warned that killing frosts were expected in Nebraska, heavy to killing frost in West and north central Kansas and light to heavy frost in the northwest part of Oklahoma tonight.

No Frost In Area

The Weather bureau in Lubbock said farmers should not worry about the mercury dropping to dangerous levels yet. The cold front was not expected to send the temperature anywhere near the frost stage. The average time for killing frost in this area is around Nov. 1, with the earliest about Oct. 15.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press reported a total of 12.4 inches of snow at Helena, Mont. The snowfall extended east to Rapid City, S. Dak., but snow at Rapid City later turned to rain.

The cold wave swept into the U. S. from Alaska. The snowfall in the Helena region damaged thousands of trees, knocked down a power line and slowed traffic. It was the heaviest September snowfall in Helena on Weather bureau records. The temperature was below freezing throughout the area.

Over Texas, the Associated Press gave the following account of conditions late Monday:

Most Of States Hot

All Texas was hot Monday. Laredo's 101 degrees led the parade of maximums reported to the Dallas weather. Wichita Falls and Presidio had 100; Fort Worth and Mineral Wells 99; Dallas, Childress and Wink 98; Waco, Midland, and Del Rio 97; Houston 96; Tyler, Clarendon, Victoria, Austin, and San Antonio 95; Galveston and Beaumont 89, and Marfa 84.

Showers fell at Beaumont, Midland, and Marfa.

More scattered showers were in prospect. The official forecast indicated the cool wave may be short lived. It called for warmer in the Panhandle Wednesday.

The season's coldest weather overspread Montana, Wyoming, and the Dakotas, sending the temperature as low as 20 degrees at Cut Bank, Mont. A storm threat developed along the eastern seaboard.

Eastern Storm Seen

An Alaskan storm spread more than a foot of snow over some Montana areas and moved into Wyoming and the Dakotas.

The Weather bureau advised shipping and residents along the east coast Monday night that a "typical winter time" blow was moving northward about 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras, N. C.

The Bureau said the storm, of "considerable importance," was not a hurricane but would stir up coastal gales and high seas along the beach areas from Virginia to New Jersey. Winds were not expected to become dangerous, however.

The cold air in the western sector was moving eastward in a modified form and was expected to send temperatures in the Midwest down to around 50 degrees by Wednesday.

In contrast, warm weather continued in Oklahoma and Texas and in the southern states, with Yuma, Ariz., registering 100.

ALVIS VANDYGRIFF
Explains Land Program

Veterans' Land Program Praised

The $25 million Veterans' Land program is one of the most beneficial ever enacted in Texas, Alvis Vandygriff, executive secretary of the Veteran's Land board, told more than 400 veterans in Lubbock last night.

Vandygriff explained provisions of the program at an open-air meeting held on the east lawn of the Lubbock police station, behind the Allen Bros. American Legion Post No. 148 which sponsored the meeting.

Although no land has yet been sold by the Land board to veterans, Vandygriff reported that approximately 2,000 bonafide applications are now on file with the board in Austin.

Program Explained

"Veterans may secure land for a moderate down payment, low rate of interest and for a long term," Vandygriff said.

He explained that veterans do not purchase land from the owner, but secure a commitment from the owner to sell to the Veterans' Land board, which in turn resells the land to the veteran at the same price.

However, the veteran is required to pay only 5 per cent of the purchase price, and the balance is liquidated over a 40-year period at 3 per cent interest.

Application blanks are available at the Legion post, the Veterans administration and the Veterans Affairs commission in Lubbock.

Requirements Given

While veterans are required to secure at least a 90-day option from owners of the land they intend to purchase, Vandygriff recommended that options of 120 days be secured if possible. He explained that the initial rush of applications now underway might delay action by the Land board.

Veterans are required to enclose 5 per cent of the purchase price and $50 with their applications. The latter amount is to cover title examination and filing fees. All money will be returned if the application is not approved.

There is no maximum limit on acreage of land to be purchased by the veteran, but it must be larger than 20 acres, and the Land board will not expend more than $7,500. The board will consider tracts up to $10,000, but the veteran must pay the difference.

Bonds Yet To Be Sold

Applications are subject to personal inspection of the tract by an appraiser. Vandygriff said the appraiser for this area is Clark Chandler, now working in the Plainview area.

The program is open only to World War II veterans who were Texas residents when they entered military service and at the time of their application.

Vandygriff said that no deals have been with veterans on the program which went into effect on June 13. He explained that bonds to finance the program have not been sold, but added that Bascom Giles, General Land office commissioner, will go to New York next week in an attempt to secure a lower rate of interest on the bond sales.

He said that the Land board has not yet secured tracts of land on its own authority for re-sale to veterans, and that veterans must locate their own land. However, the board may later acquire land for sale to veterans by competitive bidding.

Four Persons Hurt

Garza county, when the truck, going northwest, swerved to avoid another vehicle parked beside the highway. Barton swerved his car in an effort to avoid the collision, officers said, and the two vehicles collided about four feet off the paving on the southwest side of the road.

Damage Is Heavy

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,250. The left side of the truck was smashed for the entire length of the cab and trailer. The truck did not burn.

Sudduth, who was injured in the mishap east of Lubbock, was given emergency treatment for a small laceration of the forehead at West Texas hospital and released. Neither his companion, Barbara Joe Robertson, 16, of Fortieth and Ave. J, nor the driver of the other vehicle, Elmer Lee Cecil, 40, of 1611 Ave. O were injured.

Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred when Cecil, driving a 1941 Mercury club coupe, pulled onto East Broadway from the south side of the road about a mile east of the city. He had stopped at a point about eight feet from the center of the artery when Sudduth, driving a 1939 Ford coach, saw the other car, and swerved, his Ford sideswiping the Mercury.

The front of the Ford and the side of the Mercury were badly damaged, officers said.

Parker Harden, 33, of 1113 Ave. O, was dismissed Monday from Price hospital in Lamesa, where he was admitted Sunday night for treatment of minor injuries received in a car-truck collision nine miles south of Tahoka. Killed in the accident were James W. Hunter, 29, of 204 Uvalde, and W. C. Putman, 51, of the Draw community near Tahoka.

Two Burglaries Are Probed Here

Officials Monday were investigating burglaries of a concession stand in the county courthouse and the J. T. Hutchinson school in southwest Lubbock.

R. C. Bolton, courthouse custodian, and D. M. Hopper, blind operator of the stand, told investigators they believed only a quantity of cigarets was taken in the courthouse offense.

A board was pried off by intruders, they said.

R. E. West, city detective, said nothing had been reported taken from the school.

The principal's office was ransacked, a window was broken, the cafeteria was prowled through, and several purses, described as lost and found articles held for owners, were gone through.

Three youths who were arrested in a Slaton dry goods store shortly after midnight Saturday were charged with burglary today.

They were Fred Orvel Self, 19, of Lubbock route 7, Doris Franklin Leflar, 19, and Charles Edward Whatley, 21, of Levelland. Bond of $1,000 was set for each in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace.

James I. Ray, 33, who gave as his address a small hotel here, pleaded guilty of drunk driving and was fined $75 and county court costs. Beckham Lowell Vernon, 21, of Levelland pleaded guilty of theft of a $6 check made out to another person and was fined $10 and court costs and sent to county jail for one day, officials said.

Farm Bureau Meet

are beginning to make their power felt and are now getting a larger share in the good things of life."

The principal speaker of the evening was Wes Izzard who has recently returned from a two months tour of Europe. Izzard related a number of anecdotes concerning problems to be faced in European travel.

More people are going to Europe this year than are trying to swim the English channel," Izzard said. "You see Americans everywhere abroad."

"Actually, people are people. They are pretty much the same wherever you go," the Amarillo editor said. "The people most like the Americans were some Russians we ran into."

Izzard explained that his contact with the Russians came in Austria while riding a train toward Rome. He had misplaced some of his papers and had difficulty in dealing with six Russian soldiers who followed orders to the letter and made him return to Vienna. "They were most like Americans in their behavior," Izzard said.

From first to last the program was interspersed with musical numbers. E. E. Masters gave the invocation and was followed by two accordian solo numbers played by Mrs. Pauline Swain accompanied by Miss Christine Ross. Mrs. M. D. Trout gave a whistling solo with accompaniment by Mrs. J. D. Blackburn. Charles Signor, Plainview baritone, sang two numbers. Miss Evelyn Dean was his accompanist.

Hale County Agricultural Agent Manuel Ayers made a few brief remarks on the growth of the Hale County Farm Bureau. He spoke for B. C. Goree who was unable to talk because of a cold.

1,200 Members In Group

Ayers pointed out that the Hale county unit now has some 1,200 members to rank in third place in Texas. Work of the organization has received state and national attention, Ayers said.

Mahon, who arrived at his home in Lubbock from Washington only last Saturday, is scheduled to speak at a bi-district Farm Bureau meeting in Plainview Tuesday morning at the city auditorium. Mahon will also speak before a similar meeting in Lubbock at the Lubbock hotel Wednesday morning. Hammond will also be present at both meetings.

Officers of the Hale County Farm Bureau who were introduced at the meeting Monday night are: John I. Bowling, Hale Center, president; E. E. Masters, vice-president; Virgil Brown, secretary-treasurer; and, William P. Shannon, service agent.

All proceeds from the banquet are to go to the construction of a recreation center for the community. The money will also be used to purchase playground equipment.

CONG. MAHON TO SPEAK IN PLAINVIEW TODAY

Mahon will speak at a bi-district Farm Bureau meeting which opens at 10 a. m. today in the Plainview city auditorium. His address is scheduled for 11 a. m.

On Wednesday, Mahon will appear at a similar meeting to be held in the main ballroom of Hotel Lubbock. The meeting also opens at 10 a. m., with Mahon to speak at 11 a.m. Hammond will speak at 2 p. m. at the Lubbock meeting Wednesday. All sessions are open to farmers and others interested in farming problems.

Mahon goes to Big Spring on Thursday, where he speaks at another Farm Bureau meeting on the same time schedule. The Big Spring meeting will be held in the Settles hotel.

Miss Betty Ray Karrh of Hale Center, was named "Queen" for Hale county. Other contestants were: Joyce Bain and Wanda Harris, Edmondson; Louise Wilson, Happy Union; Wanda Barrett and Ruby Cannon, Cotton Center; Kay Clements, Plainview; Joy Garvin, Abernathy; Janell Thompson and Dorothy Terrell, Bellview; Lela Terry, Halfway; and Emma Applewhite, Hale Center. Halsey Asks Support whose statement denouncing "landlocked" ideas about national defense was a weekend sensation.

The other was Rear Admiral Austin K. Doyle, chief of the naval air training program.

Halsey declined to say who else was present at the strategy-mapping luncheon at Crommelin's Washington residence this noon.

Besides drawing support from his fellow officers, Capt. Crommelin also learned that a full-scale congressional inquiry is virtually assured.

He told newsmen that so far "nobody has said boo" to him as to possible punishment or rebuke over his charges that the Navy's offensive power is being "nibbled" away in the Pentagon, U. S. Defense headquarters.

The office of Navy Undersecretary Dan A. Kimball denied a report that Kimball wanted to fire Crommelin but was persuaded by Admiral Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, not to act hastily.

Military Silent

Official military reaction was guarded to the point of a tight lockdown as an aftermath of Crommelin's voluntary statement Saturday, in which he demanded a wide-open investigation contending the armed forces are dominated by the Army general staff to the detriment of naval efficiency. The Air Force until two years ago was part of the Army.

Senator Defends

is growing that no new farm bill will be passed in this session of Congress, an administration leader who asked not to be quoted by name said every effort will be made to change the Republican-sponsored law.

This senator said administration leaders will seek Senate approval of a compromise measure drafted by Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture. With administration senators and representatives in control, they then will try to salvage some of their own ideas in a conference committee which will have to compose Senate-House differences.

Anderson Bill Studied

The Anderson bill, on the Senate calendar with approval of its agriculture committee, provides for price supports on basic commodities—wheat, cotton, corn, rice, tobacco and peanuts—at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity.

New Hearing Ordered On Rival Radio Applications In Lubbock

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—The communications commission today ordered a new hearing on two rival Lubbock radio applications. A hearing date will be set later.

At issue is whether the Lubbock County Broadcasting Co. or the Plains Radio Broadcasting Co. is better qualified to operate a standard radio station on 790 kilocycles with power of five kilowatts day, one kilowatt night.

The commission some time ago issued a construction permit to the Lubbock County company to operate with that frequency and power. The U. S. Court of Appeals, however, held the grant should be set aside on the ground the record in the case was insufficient for such a decision.

The Plains Broadcasting Co. now operates stations KFYO on a frequency of 1340 with a power of 250 watts, unlimited time.

Hale Center Residents Give School New Athletic Plant

HALE CENTER, Sept. 12 (Spl.)—Hale Center people, farmers and townfolk alike, have given the Hale Center high school an athletic plant costing about $10,000.

Work was completed this week on two stadiums and a fence around the Jefferies Memorial athletic field, the final part of a four-year project which began with installing lights for the field.

All of the improvements were paid for by public donations. The project was sponsored by the Hale Center Lions club, assisted by the Hale Center American Legion post. Bill Shook, grocer, was chairman of this year's drive to raise funds for the two stadiums.

Union Abandons Wage Demands

the 170-member committee.

The tone of the union sessions was calm and orderly. Only sporadic bursts of applause were heard through the tightly closed doors of the hotel ballroom.

At the conclusions of six and a half hours of sessions, Murray gave newsmen copies of the resolution and the telegram sent the White House.

Murray told a news conference following the wage policy committee meeting that his union will be ready to resume collective bargaining with the steel companies "as early as tomorrow morning."

A spokesman for the United States Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steel producer, said there will be no comment from "big steel" tonight. U. S. Steel took the lead in the development last summer which led to a stalemate in negotiations.

U. S. Steel Corp. and other companies flatly refused the union's demand for a 30-cent package. That brought on union plans to strike last July 16.

President Truman stepped in with a proposal for a 60-day truce while a fact-finding board investigated the dispute. It was the recommendations of that board which the union accepted today.

Involved in the contract negotiations are nearly 1,000,000 steelworkers, employed by some 57 steel companies and their subsidiaries.

Decision of the steelworkers to forego a fourth round of wage increases since the end of World War II may dash the hopes of millions of workers in other industries for a pay hike this year.

Negotiations in the auto, rubber, electrical appliance and other industries have been marking time for weeks, waiting to see the outcome of steel contract talks. Even a Pittsburgh parking lot followed this course.

The negotiations in coal also might be speeded up as a result of a quick steel settlement. President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has been dickering with coal operators since May 25.

Steelworkers union sources see in the board's recommendations two distinct gains on their side. They point to the board's suggestion that companies set up pension programs and to the fact that the board advised companies to bow to union demands that the employers bear the cost of both pension and insurance setups.

The biggest gain to the companies, steel men here agree, is the board's agreement with them that wage increases should not be made this year.

TO CONSTRUCT BUILDING

HALE CENTER, Sept. 12 (Spl.)—Lewis Wilkes, Hale Center jeweler, said this week he plans to construct a two-storied business building on a lot he has secured in downtown Hale Center. It will be located midway between the First National bank and the Pix theatre on U.S. highway 87. Wilkes said the building will be started this fall and may be completed in time for occupancy this winter.

Waves Of Golden Objects Reported Flying Over City

A resident of South Lubbock last night reported to The Morning Avalanche that she, with some neighbors, had observed more than 100 gold-colored high-flying objects traveling at great speed over the city.

The woman, Mrs. Filmore W. Hendrix, of 2305 Twenty-first, said the objects appeared between 9:30 p. m. and 10 p. m. at an estimated elevation of 5,000 feet.

"They came in waves," she said. "There were about 50 in the first bunch, 40 in the second, and fewer in each of the succeeding groups." One of the objects was reported to have disappeared after shooting "straight up into the sky," Mrs. Hendrix said. She added that one of her neighbors who witnessed the spectacle thought she heard noise at the time, but was uncertain because of the noise of passing traffic. The objects were said to have been visible for about five seconds, crossing the city from north to south.

British Aid Plan

urgently requested this permission, particularly for purchase of Canadian wheat which it has been buying with its own scarce dollars. Under present rules Britain must confine its Marshall plan purchases of wheat to the United States.

2. A pledge by Canada to increase buying of strategic tin and rubber from British area and a United States promise to review its stockpiling program to see if is can do the same.

The United States also said it is prepared to modify present rubber regulations in order to give Britain's natural rubber exports a greater market in this country.

3. A streamlining of America and Canadian customs regulations to eliminate "red tape" which Britain claims has hindered her shipments of goods.

Co-operation Cited

4. An implied promise that the United States might permit Britain to discriminate temporarily against American imports in favor of goods from non-dollar areas. This would require relaxing article 9 in the 1946 British loan agreement and article 5 in the Anglo - Canadian financial agreement.

The United States apparently refused Britain's request to cancel entirely the "non-discrimination" aspect of this article but instead agreed to consider each British import restriction as it comes up.

British Foreign Minister Bevin, who headed the British delegation, joyfully hailed the results of the financial talks as proof the Western Allies can co-operate as effectively in the economic field as they do in the political arena.

Other Steps Outlined

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, the top American delegate, took a more cautious line. He said the discussions marked a "substantial advance in approaching a solution" of Britain's economic problems.

Secretary of State Acheson, when asked to speak by Snyder, said he agreed with everything that Bevin had said.

The other six steps agreed upon by the three Western Allies as "long range" help for Britain are:

1. Overseas investments — a three-nation committee will be set up to outline ways for increasing the flow of private and government bank funds for investment in British areas.

2. Tariff policy — a statement by the United States that its policy is to seek further tariff cuts within the framework of the reciprocal trade act — a hint that Britain might expect duties on some of her goods to be lowered.

3. Further discussion of ways in which Britain could earn more dollars by use of its merchant fleet to haul exports.

4. More discussion of plans for Britain to buy oil with sterling instead of dollars, thus relieving the drain on her dollar supply.

5. A further study of ways in which Britain can handle the $13,500,000,000 war debt it owes the sterling countries.

6. An agreement by the three governments to continue consultation on Britain's economic problems.

Senator Attacks Trade Pacts As 'Importing Unemployment'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)— Senator Malone (R-Nev.) said today the United States is "importing unemployment" under the 1934 trade agreements program.

In a speech he said he will make in the Senate tomorrow opposing the renewal of the trade agreements act, Malone said "the State department has adopted a selective 'free trade' policy . . . without regard to the differential of the cost of production due principally to the wage living standards.

Trade Pact Scored

"We have management, labor unions and many organizations constantly striving to improve the standard of living among the workers of this nation. So we adopt a policy of importing the man-hours of cheap labor from abroad and displacing our own workers. We are importing unemployment."

Malone contended that the term "reciprocal trade" is merely a "catch phrase" which does not even appear in the 1934 trade agreements act.

"Any form of reciprocity in trade relation with foreign nations of the world is generally impossible under the 'most favored nation' clause," he said, "since any benefits from the so-called trade agreements are automatically available to all other nations on exactly the same basis, without their being required to give any real benefit in return.

Claims Wage Floor Lowered

"The result of the attempts to make such agreements—lowering our tariffs and import fees—has been severe unemployment in certain industries and it is certain to continue its demoralizing effect in many fields. Such procedure is in effect a lowering of the floor under wages."

The Nevada senator declared that trade and tariff matters are domestic policy and should be separated entirely from the nation's foreign policy.

"The alliance of our trade and tariff policy and our foreign policy —an alliance created by the State department—is a hybrid program," he said. "It is designed to average our standards of living with the low-wage and slave labor foreign nations."

Malone said Great Britain's current money troubles were caused by placing "various different fictitious values" on the pound sterling to gain trade advantage throughout the world.

"There is only one answer to the so-called 'dollar shortage,'" he said, "complete and honest interchangeability of foreign currencies at their current market worth in relation to the United States dollar. Until we make that requirement the basis for any further aid abroad, we must consider ourselves a party to the deception, to the dishonesty, and to the fraud that it really it."

Malone said anyone would "just as soon have an English pound sterling in their pocket at the real value of $2.10, but it would certainly be a great disappointment to be forced to receive an English pound in exchange for $4.03, since the recipient would simply be losing approximately $1.93 on every transaction."

Texas Liquor Board Chief Resigns Post

AUSTIN, Sept. 12 (U.P.)—John Lawhon, administrator for the Texas Liquor Control board, today resigned as head of the state enforcement agency.

In a letter to board Chairman Leonard B. Brown of Dallas, Lawhon said he would continue in his position until a successor was named.

Coke Stevenson, jr., assistant administrator under Lawhon, has been mentioned as a likely successor.

Lawhon noted in his letter that he had "been in the employ of the board for almost three years and prior to this I had practiced law for 25 years. For quite some time I have had a desire to re-enter the practice in Smith county, my former home, and have now made arrangements to fulfill this desire at such time as you may relieve me."

Stevenson, also an attorney, has been with the board for two years.

Capitalism Doomed By War, 'Peace' Congress Proclaims

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12. (U.P.)—The continental "peace" congress told the Aemricas today that the capitalism of the United States and the Communism of Russia can exist together but war eventually will come.

The six-day conference which ended yesterday held that capitalism and Communism must and can co-exist but that capitalism eventually will disintegrate, thereby causing war.

Joseph Endicott, a Canadian minister delegate who referred to "Yankee imperialist atom-madmen" said there was "no doubt the congress was party line."

The conference approved unanimously a series of resolutions to be known as the Mexico City manifesto. The document held that "monopoly capitalism" is making Germany and Japan war centers, an "atmosphere of terror" exists in the United States, cooperation between the U. S., Russia and Great Britain is absolutely necessary, and atom bombs must be prohibited.

It also called for the repudiacondemned fascism, colonialism, and all attacks on labor, and called for repudiation of "all preparation for war."

The conference also held that the Catholic church has no right to "meddle" in political affairs by use of devices such as excommunication.

Reception Given For Freshmen

Over 5,000 prospective students had made pre-registration plans at Texas Technological college through Monday, officials reported.

No definite count on the number who have indicated they will enter the college this fall was available, but indications in the various deans offices and in that of the registrar were that more than 5,000 have already gone through the pre-registration procedure.

The estimates came as approximately 1,200 freshmen students converged on the campus Monday for a three-day counseling and orientation program which extends through Wednesday.

Reception Is Held

Tests and group counseling begun Monday was scheduled to continue through today, with individual conferences between each new enrollee and student counselors scheduled for Wednesday.

A reception for the freshmen students was given by President and Mrs. D. M. Wiggins Monday night in the recreation hall. It will be followed tonight by an address by Dr. Wiggins to the students on the administration building green and the showing of "Futures Unlimited," a film about Tech life.

Registration officials estimated another 1,000 more students will ask for admission to the college before enrollment begins Thursday. A few of those who have already pre-registered will drop out, they said.

Features of the ROTC campus program will be explained to men students at 8 a. m. Wednesday. Climax of the counseling program will come with separate addresses by the dean of men and dean of women to students at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Monday night's reception was given in order that "the president might meet all the new students," Frank Junell, assistant to the president, stated. It was a part of a week of social activities which will include an open house by most Lubbock churches for students Thursday night.

Official registration begins at Tech Thursday. An added requirement is that each student must sign the loyalty oaths set up by the last legislature for all students and instructors in state institutions.

The oath consists of a statement that the signee does not advocate the unlawful overthrow of the United States government.

SURGERY SAFER NOW

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—When you enter a hospital for major surgery you have 96 chances out of 100 of coming through safely. Your grandad back in 1900 had only 88, Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, associate director of the American College of Surgeons, said here.

Court Transfers County Surplus

Lubbock county commissioners court Monday, in a semi-monthly meeting, voted that $28,418.77 held as a surplus by the Board of County and District Road Indebtedness, be sent to the Lubbock county treasurer for use in construction and improvement of lateral roads and right of way.

It also ordered that $56,914.19 in special accounts be paid, and transacted other business.

Welfare Fund Boosted

Of that figure, $53,536.37 represented first estimates of The Anthony company and Robert E. McKee Construction company, for work done to date in building a new courthouse.

Other bills were for advertising, printing, machinery parts and repairs, and installation of lights for the Child Welfare organization office here.

The court also approved bonds of Lloyd Rooker and W. F. Jackson, both public weighers of justice precinct 1; authorized purchase of a new cook stove for the old folks home, at a net price of $200 after an old stove turned in was accredited; selected Sept. 19 for setting the county budget; transferred $9,345.96 from the lateral road fund of precinct 1 to an escrow fund for payment of the county's part of a paving project on Thirty-fourth from Ave. Q to Monroe, width to be 64 feet; and contributed $1,000 to the City-County Welfare fund, with the understanding it will be matched by the City of Lubbock.

Increased Purchases Of Texas Crude Oil Indicated By Buyers

AUSTIN, Sept. 12. (AP)—Oil purchasers have indicated they will take 2,419,516 barrels of Texas crude daily in October, Ernest O. Thompson of the railroad commission reported today.

Advance nominations were 53,919 barrels per day higher than they were for September.

The current daily production allowable is 2,099,405 barrels.

Irrigation Firms Oppose Application

Abilene's Water Bid Temporarily Delayed

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 12—Public hearing on Abilene's application to take water from a Brazos river tributary was halted temporarily today pending possible private settlement of controversy over the request.

Abilene seeks a permit from the State Board of Water Engineers to appropriate 90,000 acre feet of water per year from the Clear Fork of the Brazos.

Firms Oppose Application

Three irrigation companies, the American Canal Co., Briscoe Irrigation Co., and the South Texas Water Co., opposed the request. They feared the withdrawal of that much water would endanger the supply they need to irrigate farmer's rice fields in the coastal area.

After nearly two hours of private conferences this afternoon, the applicants and opponents asked the board to recess the hearing subject to call.

Mayor Hudson Smart of Abilene said it might take six weeks to work out an agreement which would result in Abilene's getting the 90,000 acre feet without protest. He declined to say what the basis of agreement might be.

Authority Disputed

However, A. J. Eastham of Houston, attorney for American Canal, told reporters it was his understanding that Abilene would try to work out something with the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation district.

"They want to see if they can get the water, probably on some basis of releasing it when needed by appropriators further down stream," Eastham said.

He indicated his company would withdraw its opposition only if it were guaranteed water "when needed" to meet its irrigation contracts.

The three water companies had argued earlier today that the Brazos river water district, rather than the state water board, has authority over diversion of waters from the river and its tributaries.

Conference Planned

R. D. Collins of Mineral Wells, general manager of the Brazos river water district, said the district board would confer with Abilene officials Sunday or the following Sunday.

"Our sympathies are with both groups. We don't want to deny anyone water if they need it. We are just trying to coordinate water uses for the whole watershed," Collins said.

During the morning hearing, S. W. Freese of Fort Worth, a water engineer representing Abilene, testified that the requested 90,000 acre feet yearly would meet an average need of 30 million gallons daily for the next 30 years.

He estimated Abilene population at 47,500 now and 180,000 in 1980, based on the rate of growth since 1890.

Five Points Raised

Main points of opposition raised by the water companies were these:

1. The water board is without authority to grant the permit; the Brazos river water district should decide such questions.

2. There is no unappropriated water in the Clear Fork, all its flow being needed to fulfill present contracts.

3. The proposed use of the water sought by Abilene conflicts with existing water rights of the companies and the rights of property owners along the banks of the river.

4. The city could not make beneficial use of the amount it seeks.

5. If the application were granted, Abilene should not be allowed to pump any water during June, July and August, the heavy irrigation season for rice farmers.

Problems Seen In Europe Discussed

By MARGARET TURNER
Avalanche Staff Writer

Overpopulation, unemployment and inadequate salaries present the greatest social problems in European countries, Rev. William F. Blakeslee, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Catholic church told a luncheon meeting of the Lubbock Social Welfare association Monday noon at the Hilton hotel.

Rev. Blakeslee recently returned from a tour of France, Italy, Switzerland, England and Ireland.

Italy Making Comeback

Although real poverty exists in much of Italy, that country shows greater indication of recovering from devastations wrought by the recent war than other places, he suggested. Even so, Italy's problems are staggering because of her overpopulation, her loss of colonies and restrictions on immigration.

Although Rev. Blakeslee's party was told that a terrible condition existed in Dublin's slums, they found that the government was trying to do something to provide better housing conditions.

Social conditions in England appeared more distressing than on the continent, the pastor said, with taxation, food rationing and the present form of government cited as possible causes for the dark picture.

Tribute Paid To U.S.

Rev. Blakeslee said many of the persons with whom he talked in his travels paid tribute to the United States for their "liberation" and felt if Communism would be held at bay and another war averted, Europe may recover in due time.

Mrs. L. E. Settle, president of the association, presided. William Robertson, social case worker with the Salvation Army, was introduced as secretary to succeed Elliott Adams, who is leaving Lubbock.

Mrs. Myrtle Rochelle who is with the Texas Employment commission, was introduced as a new member.

VERDICT IS GIVEN

EL PASO, Sept. 12. (AP)— Justice of the Peace J. S. Daugherty, has rendered an inquest verdict that Lt. Edward Helmsetter "was struck and killed" by Pvt. Charles Meloche. Helmstetter was from Cumberland, Md.; Meloche from Long Island, N. Y. Both were stationed at Fort Bliss.

Senate To Start Night Sessions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—Administration leaders today called for overtime night sessions of the Senate in an effort to drive the reciprocal trade agreements bill through by the end of the week.

Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois scheduled the first night session for tomorrow.

He said he hopes the Senate will agree to vote on Wednesday on the so-called peril points issue, regarded as the major test on the bill.

House Okays Request

Debate was to have resumed today, but the Senate met for only 25 minutes and then recessed until tomorrow in tribute to Associate Justice Wiley B. Rutledge of the Supreme court, who died in Maine on Saturday night.

The 15-year-old reciprocal trade agreements act, an important and hotly disputed phase of the country's foreign policy, permits the President to cut U. S. tariffs in exchange for cuts other countries agree to make on imports of U. S. goods.

The House has already agreed to accede to President Truman's request and voted to extend the act without the peril points provision which was written in by the Republican-controlled Congress.

This provision requires the tariff commission to determine the points beyond which tariff cuts cannot be made without endangering domestic producers. If reductions beyond those peril points are made the President is required to inform Congress of the fact.

GOP senators generally are expected to vote in favor of keeping the provision.

But Lucas said he thinks the administration will win the fight to keep the peril provision out of the bill.

Japanese Credited With More Liberal Labor Laws Than U.S.

TOKYO, Sept. 12 (INS)—Occupied Japan was credited today with "more liberal" labor legislation than that enjoyed by unions in the United States.

Chester W. Hepler, Gen. MacArthur's outgoing labor director, declared that under such policies Japanese labor has matured enough to engage in international labor organizations.

In a farewell message in Tokyo Hepler estimated that 7 million Japanese workers hold membership in labor unions.

He will leave Thursday for his new post as chief of the manpower section of the international labor organization in Geneva.

The labor expert declared that he is going to "do all I can to facilitate the migration of unemployed Japanese" to other countries in Asia.

CONSTRUCTION WORK PUSHED

Home At Girlstown Is Sought For Many South Plains Girls

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

One to four girls from different localities of the South Plains are being taken to Girlstown near Whiteface daily by their parents, county judges, county attorneys, sheriffs, or probation officers, Miss Amelia Anthony, founder and director of Girlstown, said during a visit in Lubbock Monday afternoon.

A home in Girlstown is being sought for the girls, and Miss Anthony is urging that temporary places be found for them until Girlstown's new residence now under construction is completed.

Construction Is Speeded

Speeded by the aid of many persons, construction is ahead of schedule and Miss Anthony still expects the building to be completed by Nov. 13.

A cornerstone laying ceremony will be conducted at 3 p.m. today. The first newspaper clipping pertaining to Girlstown, published Jan. 9, 1949, and a picture of Marie, youngest resident of the town, will be sealed into the cornerstone. The photograph of the young resident was made on Aug. 13, when ground was broken preparatory to construction.

Nine children from Girlstown have enrolled in Whiteface school. Levelland Junior Chamber of Commerce gave a check for $405 to Girlstown to provide lunches for the nine children for the entire school year. They asked that Miss Anthony let them know when members of the Girlstown family increase, so Levelland Jaycees may attempt to make arrangements to provide money for lunches for all 64 girls who can live in the building now under construction.

Many Applications Received

In addition to the visits to Girlstown being made daily by one to four girls from the South Plains, numerous letters are being received. Since Girlstown opened, applications have been received from 47 states.

If space had been available in Girlstown Sept. 4, "we would have enrolled 100 girls in school in Whiteface rather than nine and they would have been girls from the South Plains," said Miss Anthony.

R. B. Morse of Levelland several days ago provided five trucks to haul 6,000 pumice blocks and 2,000 bricks to Girlstown. Several

Navy's New Viking Rocket May Be Forerunner Of Space Ships

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN
United Press Staff Writer

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M., Sept. 12. (U.P.) — The Navy's $300,000 "Viking" rocket may be the forerunner of interplanetary space ships even though it fizzled out only 33 miles above earth on its second flight, a spokesman said today.

The Navy revealed that the sleek pencil-shaped projectile burned out its fuel prematurely during an experimental firing. But even so, it was traveling 1,775 miles an hour when it hit its peak altitude of 33 miles.

Model Climbed 50 Miles

On May 3, a similar Viking launched in secrecy for the first time by the Navy's rocket research laboratory climbed 50 miles above the earth and reached a speed of 3,450 feet per second, it was disclosed.

Milton Rosen, head of the laboratory said that in last week's firing the rocket burned up its alcohol and liquid fuel mixture in 49 seconds instead of the expected 70 seconds.

Rosen said the Viking was lighter than the bulky German V-2 bomb it was designed to replace.

He said the entire rocket program "leads toward the business of inter-planetary travel."

Radar Tracks Rocket

Observers crouched behind concrete and earthern barricades last week as the second Viking was launched by remote control from the proving ground's main blockhouse.

Lifted by 20,000 pounds of gas pressure, the 46-foot projectile lifted majestically. It moved fantastically slow at first, then picked up speed until it disappeared from sight. A huge steam cloud boiled out of a water pit beneath the launching site.

Elaborate electronic tracking equipment followed the Viking's flight through the atmosphere, enabling observers to "watch" it climb, make its "break-over" and then fall back to earth.

Because of its abbreviated flight, the rocket did not clear earth's atmosphere.

The electronic devices noted exactly where the rocket fell so technicians who sped to the spot in jeeps, could retrieve cameras and other instruments it carried on its flight.

Red Danger Greater In Asia Than In Europe, Official Says

MANILA, Sept. 12. (INS)—The chairman of a House expenditures sub-committee on a tour of the far East said today that Communism is more dangerous in Europe than in Asia.

Rep. Walter B. Huber, (D-O), minimized the Communist threat and said the democracies must "stop fearing Communism and start laughing it out of school."

Huber said "Communism can get a stronger foothold" in Europe more quickly than in the Far East.

Speaking before a news conference in Manila, Huber and all the committee members agreed that the rich resources of the Philippines have been overlooked and that increased American investments in the island republic may be expected in the future.

Braniff Airways Wins Court Fight For Pan-American Line

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (U.P.)—A U. S. Court of Appeals today gave Braniff Airways, Inc., a go-ahead for its new service between Houston and South American points.

The route operates by way of Havana, the Canal Zone, and points on the west coast of South America to Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires. It was approved by President Truman May 22, 1946. Under the authority, Braniff became the first competition in this area of Pan-American-Cace Airways, Inc., (Panagra) and Pan American airways.

In 1947, Panagra and Pan American asked the Civil Aeronautics board to revoke Braniff's authority on grounds that changed economic conditions rendered the service no longer necessary. The board dismissed their complaints. It said further investigation of the competitive situation is not justified.

Panagra took the case to the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, which today backed up the board's decision.

Elderly 'Love Pirate' Jolted By New Suit For $200,000 Damages

By VIRGINIA KACHAN
INS Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 12. — Dapper Sam Engel, elderly admitted love pirate who loved 'em and left 'em, went a-courtin' again today but wound up on the short end of the deal.

Someone else beat him to it.

Looking suave and poised after 2½ months in jail, Engel visited Federal Judge Walter J. Labuy to get a reduction of his $40,000 bond on two charges of swindling women.

New Suit Filed

He smiled confidently, brushed his stylish gray checked suit and adjusted his tie as Judge Labuy cut the bond to $12,500. Attempts for a further reduction, however, failed.

Then, unknown to Engel, the house caved in.

1. Widow Reseda Corrigan of Chicago sued Engel for $200,000 in superior court. She claimed $100,000 damages alone for "maliciously damaging my feelings, social and pecuniary status." The other $100,000 was for punitive damages.

2. Engel's age, which he had set at a sprightly 74, was revealed as 82 by a San Francisco birth certificate. The paper was dated June 23, 1867.

More Money Found

3. Evidence claiming that Engel had been a "psychopathic personality patient" in New York's Dannemora State hospital was brought back from the East by Assistant State's Attorney James Brown.

Mrs. Corrigan claims the dapper Lothario wooed her and beat her out of $8,700 instead of the $5,000 he returned to her the day after his arrest last June 24.

She also asked that the sheriff's office be restrained from releasing any of Engel's money—including the $7,000 jailguards found in his underwear shorts recently.

(Sharply contrasted with the turn of events in Sam's life was that of Jess Thornton of Roxboro, N. C. The 30-year-old farmer who told police he was a "country boy beating city women out of their dough," was sentenced to one year in prison for swindling.

(One of several women who told authorities they entrusted him with their money on promise of marriage had filed the charge.)

Mrs. Corrigan alleged in her suit that she was forced to sleep on a park bench when she followed him to New York City after he disappeared like "a phantom in the night." She also charged Engel with using "pusilanimous, dastardly and wicked intent in defrauding her.

English Boy Killed In Mid-Air Collision From Diving Board

SHEERNESS, Eng., Sept. 12. (AP) —Robert Fray dived off the high board at the local swimming pool today just as John Gage dived off the low board.

They collided in the air. Fray, 17, was thrown off balance; hit the bottom of the pool and died of a broken neck. Gage, 16, is in a hospital with concussion.

Police Arrest, Question Two Lubbock Youths In Robbery

Police said Monday they had arrested and questioned two Lubbock youths, 19 and 17 in connection with the claim of W. E. Smith of 1601 Twenty-first that he had been robbed of money and his automobile early Saturday.

Smith had told officials that he met three youths at a cafe on College Ave. and invited them to ride with him.

One of them knocked him down after the car had been stopped on the Shallowater highway, he said. Police were told that they demanded money but that when he had them drive him home his wife declined to give him money, whereupon he knocked down one of the three youths.

All got away, however, in Smith's car, Smith said.

A former Lubbock mayor, Ross Edwards, who gave his address as Fourteenth and Ave. L, said a 98 Mauser rifle had been stolen from him.

J. C. Flynt of 1524 Twenty-sixth reported theft of an electric motor, a band saw, miscellaneous tools and other properties in a burglary that happened since Sept. 4.

North Texas Printers Consider Advice To Enter Political Arena

FORT WORTH, Sept. 12 (U.P.)— North Texas printers today considered the advice of their international chief that labor "is not going to get anywhere until you get into politics up to your ears."

Woodruff Randolph, president of the International Typographical union, spoke here yesterday before nearly 300 persons at the semi-annual meeting of the North Texas Typographical conference.

He termed the Taft-Hartley law as a challenge of "whether we exist or whether we don't." He accused those who enacted the law of attempting to deprive free men of their right to strike—not by legislation against it but by legislation "controlling the right to strike."

Amarillo was named as the site of the conference's next meeting on April 1. Joe E. Moody of Dallas, North Texas conference president, presided at the meeting here.

Ground-Breaking Is Held For Building

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Methodist Student center were held at 6 p.m. Sunday at the building site in the 2400-block Fifteenth. Approximately 250 persons attended.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Overton, through whose generosity the $100,500 structure is being built. They were the first to break ground.

Marion Baumgardner, president of the Wesley Foundation, Methodist youth organization, was master of ceremonies.

Invocation was offered by Dr. J. O. Haymes, Methodist district superintendent. The benediction was given by Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, retired district superintendent.

Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor of Asbury Methodist church, gave the Old Testament scripture, while the New Testament scripture was read by Rev. H. H. Bratcher, pastor of St. John's Methodist church. Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church, offered the prayer of consecration.

Ira Joe Hart, president of the First Methodist youth group, made a statement of appreciation at the ceremony.

Mexican Geologists Check Reports New Volcano 'Born'

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12 (U.P.)— Government geologists flew to the state of Chiapas today to check reports that a new volcano is being born there.

Lava and hot stones spouted from a vent in the earth near the village of Amatan, 200 miles southeast of Mexico City, ranchers said.

The National Seismological institute said the mountains in the area were right geologically for forming a new volcano but they said any new formation probably would be small.

A new volcano reported in Mexico two weeks ago turned out to be a burning underground peat bed.

La Porte Constable Gets Moral Support In Lieu Of Cash Aid

HOUSTON, Sept. 12. (U.P.)— Constable Dale Richardson got a glad hand but empty palms today when he asked the county to help finance his anti-gambling crusades with an outlay of $4,000.

The drawling La Porte officer paid a visit, as promised, to county Auditor Harry Washburn as an aftermath of last week's raids in which Richardson carted off 70 one-ball marble boards and stored them in a warehouse.

Cooperation Promised

By noon Saturday, Richardson and three deputies were exhausted, physically and financially. He said he would ask the county for help.

The constable revealed Auditor Washburn promised his "wholehearted cooperation." Washburn suggested, however, that Richardson's plan be put in writing and placed before the county commissioners court.

"I think it's a good idea. That's why I didn't go before the court today," Richardson explained.

He said the $4,000 would help him completely clean the county of the one-ball "coaltown" machines, and would guarantee his helpers some pay, too.

Operating Fund Wanted

"I want to finish my fight against the rackets," he said. "There are still a few scattered marble tables around—not many, because the syndicate is broken. I've broken its backbone," the young officer claimed.

Constable Richardson said his idea was that he should have an operating budget—"Like the sheriff."

"The sheriff has a big operating fund—a budget, he calls it. I don't know why I shouldn't have a few dollars, too. I'm doin' a lot of good," he said.

Chile's Minister of Finance recently took charge of the functions formerly handled by pawnbroking shops in private lands.

Damage Action To Be Resumed Here Today

The 99th District court of Judge G. V. Pardue was recessed overnight at 6 p. m. Monday in the $35,000 damages action of W. E. Brownfield against Bud Olin Foreman.

The action, a result of an Aug. 1 collision of two automobiles approximately three and a half miles northeast of Lubbock on the Idalou highway, was brought by W. A. Brownfield, next friend, for W. E. Brownfield, a minor.

Counsel for plaintiff had called six witnesses, including the defendant, to the stand before court was recessed.

The jury is composed of R. S. Williams, Jack Diamond, J. M. Daugherty, R. I. Marr, D. D. Boyle, C. R. Smith, Ed Maeker, R. V. Ater, R. E. Myers, John T. Burton, O. H. Pope and W. W. McDonald.

The plaintiffs are represented by the law firm of Burks and McNeil. The law firm of McWhorter, Howard, Cobb and Gibson is counsel for Foreman.

TAKES NEW POST

HALE CENTER, Sept. 12 (Spl.) —Rev. John Hall, pastor of the Hale Center Foursquare church the last two and a half years, has accepted a call to be pastor of the Wichita Falls church of that faith, he has announced. He and his family will move there next week. His successor here has not been named.

ACCIDENT "JAMS"

Improvement Needed

IT is one of the most common of human characteristics to congregate at the scene of an accident, fire or other excitement. An example was supplied by a traffic mishap on Avenue Q at Twenty-seventh street a few days ago. A traffic jam piled up within a few minutes.

The curious at such scenes help no one. At a fire, they are likely to handicap the firefighters. At an accident they create an added hazard and have been known to cost lives which might have been saved if the injured could have been hospitalized more swiftly.

Those who congregate at the scenes of excitement are not malicious. They simply are thoughtlessly curious. And nearly all of us are guilty of that sort of thoughtlessness on occasions, even though we know that it would be best for everyone if we would keep right on going.

This is a trait which won't be changed. When something unusual happens, people will flock to the scene. Experience has demonstrated that the best way to prevent such congestions is to get uniformed officers there to keep traffic and the curious moving.

With two-way radio cars, it usually should be simple to concentrate as many officers as are needed at any particular spot rather speedily. The patrolmen who answered the call to the wreck at Twenty-seventh and Q doubtless did the best they could. But the traffic jam there was ample proof that more officers were needed. The experience obviously calls for a study of police operational methods to the end of coping more efficiently with the problems of such emergencies.

It will help, too, if more people will bear in mind on those occasions that the most helpful thing they can do is to obey promptly the instructions the officers at the scene may give them.

Political Meddling

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S upset victory last November gives ample warning that it will be risky to belittle the value of his personal influence in the congressional contests in which he may interest himself next year. Indications are he will be interested in a good many.

But if his personal preference should prove a major factor in electing any considerable number of the candidates he favors, or defeating those he opposes, it will be another "first" for Harry Truman as President.

Almost invariably in the past, the attempts of Presidents to intrude in senatorial and representative races have been a kiss of death for the favored candidates. This was the experience of Woodrow Wilson. Franklin Roosevelt did not succeed in a single key contest in his attempts to "purge"—in perfect dictator fashion—those who had aroused his ire in Congress.

Mr. Truman, himself, has had at least one similar experience. His influence was credited with defeating for renomination the representative from his own Missouri district in 1946. But, in the general election, the Truman candidate was swamped by his Republican opponent. This happened in a normally Democratic district.

It is a characteristic of the American people, proved times without number, that they resent the attempts of any outsider, no matter whom he may be, to dictate how they should vote in congressional elections.

This may not happen when Mr. Truman takes the stump—as he says he intends to do—in some of the more important contests next year. But until he proves otherwise, the presumption based on experiences of the past must be that that his support will be more of a liability than an asset. It is likely to cost the candidates he favors more votes than it will gain.

The average person has carefully stored in his memory an assortment of prefabricated lies, excuses and "alibis" from which he can quickly select one to fit almost any exigency which may arise.

There ain't no justice. A Westerner who killed his mother-in-law for meddling in his personal affairs was convicted of manslaughter instead of being awarded a medal.

(THE STORY: Until Barry Bainbridge's millions saves the life of Gaynel Tearee younger sister Fat, Gaynel could not persuade herself to accept Barry's proposal of marriage. However she has just about reached a decision in spite of her fondness for Fritz Freyman, who is by no means wealthy. Fritz invites Gaynel for an evening out—away from Detroit where they live. They start out for Canada and are stopped by a police officer for a traffic violation. By pretending to be eloping, they win the officer's sympathy and he lets them go.)

"YOU know," Fritz said, after they had passed the customs and slowed down to almost a crawl through the tunnel, "I was scared stiff you'd let me down and refuse my offer to make an honest woman of you, instead of accepting it. Then, second, I was afraid you had accepted, that the officer would want to go to the wedding. Third, I feared it might occur to him—except that he was almost too mad to think straight—that two American citizens cannot elope to Canada to get hitched or unhitched, either way."

"What's the fourth?" Gaynel interrupted. "We broke four laws, he said. Don't you suppose, silly, I was afraid of all those things, too? I was so afraid I squeezed out a real tear. . ."

"Rather than see me in jail! What a pal!"

"Rather than go myself!" Gaynel retorted. "I was afraid he'd take me right along with you—and after that fibbing I did, I probably deserved it. I think that anyone who drives like you should be locked up."

Fritz said, "Just for that I won't tell you that fourth reason you asked about. It was a honey, too. It was a little surprise I had planned to top this evening."

She made a face at him as she got out her vanity to endeavor to straighten her hat. "Next time," she promised, "I'll let you go to jail, even if I have to serve a sentence, too."

The sea food was as good as Fritz had guaranteed. The drive along the lake was lovely, and Jaloppee was on her best behavior, as a lady should be. The moon was full and Fritz was a jewel—and such a gentleman—that Gaynel could hardly believe it was he.

"You are spasmodic," she said, "just as you told me that first night we met. But you do make things more fun than anyone I know, Frederick Fitzroy."

SHE sighed in blissful contentment, putting her head to one side so that it could rest on his shoulder. It was after midnight; she was gloriously tired and happy; they were headed toward the tunnel and their own country.

"Atta gal," Fritz said, "just lean on me. I can take it, baby. As for fun, isn't that the best thing you can get out of life? The only thing you're sure of, really. You know," he drove a little more slowly, "I've a good notion to change my mind, after all, and tell you the fourth reason. The real reason why I brought you along tonight."

Fritz was mysterious. "I'm going to bring back a few things—a bottle among them—for a pal of mine tonight. That's one of the reasons for this trip. If this bottle does the work with this pal of mine, you'll know the answer to the riddle."

Gaynel said, "Go on. . . I'm listening. I knew you'd tell me if I didn't ask you."

"Oh, you did!" He snorted at such feminine sagacity. "Just for that I think I'll change my mind again and hold out awhile. Besides, you're not listening. You're half asleep."

"You seem to exert that influence over me," she reminded. "Remember the night at The Goat's Nest? And by the way, how is Johnny, and Jimmy, and Joe?"

"In the pink, thank you," Fritz returned. "Three nice little cell buddies, Jimmy and Johnny and Joe. Don't make 'em any better. And say, did they think you were something to write home about! That's why I haven't risked taking you to the Nest again. But I'm thinking of trying my wings—a nest of my own—breaking up with the boys!"

She said, "I wish you talked straight English. I'm no good at riddles or anything like them."

He said, "If you'd cultivate patience, Madome. Don't you know the longest way is sometimes the shortest? I'll get there in good time, in my own way. To the top, in fact."

"YOU see, it's like this." He practically gave Jaloppee her head now, settling back deeper into the seat, throwing one arm around Gaynel's back.

"There's a pal of mine who's going to do a favor for me. We started as cubs together in our first pairs of long pants. He got to the top in a jiffy and now he's going to give me a little jerk and yank me up a step or two, for old-time's sake. In straight English—unless you've fallen asleep and aren't listening—he's going to pull me a job, like a rabbit out of a hat, with the outfit he's with. A real job! One that will take me places, the West Coast, down South, maybe even to China. You know how I like to get around."

"But China's a long way round," Gaynel said. She did not feel so sleepy. She sat up a bit straighter, tried to look up into Fritz's face to see if he were serious.

"The farther the better," Fritz said. "I'd go to the moon, if I ever got the chance." Barry had said that was where he would take her. "The point is," Fritz went on, "if you'll give me time to get to it, my love, that if I land the job I'll land a very neat salary along with it. I'll be set. So pretty that I. . .

"I say," he sat up straighter, too, gave Gaynel a little push back down, "here we are at the customs."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

YOU al know about Pompeii, that ancienty city in Italy which was destroyed by ashes and pumice spewing from Mount Vesuvius in 79 A.D.

You know of its glamour and glory discovered when archeologists began to explore the ruins almost seventeen hundred years later and found that it had long been the very heart of Roman and Greek culture and civilization.

BRANDEIS

You may even have read the letters written by Pliny the Younger in which he told Tacitus about the death of Pliny the Elder, soldier and author, who perished in the city's disaster.

But there is another Pompeii of which you probably have never heard.

In this Pompeii, a little community of 300 in the State of Michigan, there also was a disaster just recently, and a hero also perished in that disaster.

Like many other places in our country poliomyelitis struck this little town of Pompeii in Michigan and eight youngsters became its victims.

A young doctor from Tulsa, Okla., had just taken over the practice of another physician who had died after 50 years of work in that little town.

A navy veteran of the last war, 27-year-old Dr. Karl E. Jones, Jr., labored day and night with these eight polio cases, and day and night he visited the people of Pompeii and nearby farmlands to keep the disease from spreading.

Exhausted from his labors, his resistance weakened, he himself contracted the dread disease.

He was rushed by ambulance to the Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, where he died a week later.

No epic will be written about the hero named Karl Jones.

No archeologists will ever explore the remnants of Pompeii, Mich., 1700 years from now, and if they did they would probably find little of great historical value.

They would unearth no magnificent palaces, no gold-encrusted villas like those the explorers found in that other Pompeii. They would find no Temple of Heracles, no Via Appia, lined with tombs of the famous and the wealthy.

BUT in the hearts of the citizens of that little Pompeii in Michigan there are monuments to Influence In Capital

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — Although government procurement officials in the armed and allied services regard Major General Harry Hawkins Vaughan as a bumbling, lumbering and interfering individual, none believe that he did anything illegal or even unusual in wangling favors for personally or politically friendly contractors.

TUCKER

They draw this conclusion against the vast panarama of wartime and postwar Washington, when almost every civilian and military figure of importance was favored, feted and influenced by local representatives of many of the nation's greatest corporations. As is true of private business, government transactions are often facilitated across a dinner table, beneath the cocktail palms or on the nineteenth hole of a swank and expensive country club.

CLUBS: When officers and officials visited contractors' plants away from Washington, they enjoyed the best of service from the moment they arrived until they left, and not at their expense. Their wives frequently were given costly favors at dinner parties and receptions.

Rarely has there been a White House aide or secretary who did not intervene with a department for his friends or powerful politicians. Rarely has there been a White House aide who was not admitted to certain clubs where the initiation fee amounts to $1,000 or $2,000, with commensurately high dues, and they did not pay those sums out of their $10,000-a-year salary. And almost every member of these clubs, at one time or another, seeks a favor or fast action in high places.

TIP: Five per cent is only a tip by comparison with the salaries which these lawyers, lobbyists, salesmen and representatives receive. Some are hired by the job, but most of them insist on retainers and get them. As noted here recently, some who have profited most heavily were Franklin D. Roosevelt's violent New Dealers.

"Jimmie" Cromwell, an erstwhile Rooseveltian favorite, recently brought suit for a fortune which, he said, was promised him by the government if he could negotiate an oil deal in the Near East. He lost, but there are others who were paid six-digit amounts for obtaining these and similar concessions for Uncle Sam.

PARTIES: During the war and afterward, corporations handling billions in contracts leased luxurious homes in Old Georgetown, or engaged expensive hotel suites on a semi-permanent basis. These were the nightly scenes of sometimes sybaritic parties for the officers and officials with whom they dealt.

It was good, clean hospitality, but it was also a subtle and successful way of cutting red tape, making friends where they count and it paid off. But the percentage these moguls paid was far more than five per cent, especially after they were "renegotiated."

TIME: There is, however, something to be said for these manufacturers. In view of the complexity of their orders and the frantic need for haste, it was necessary that they have intelligent and personable men at Washington.

The time and money which a Henry J. Kaiser, the two C. E. Wilsons, Louis B. Reynolds, Andrew Higgins, Glenn Martin, Walter Chrysler and Donald Douglas would have spent in commuting from their plants to the Pentagon Building would have amounted to far more than they paid for their establishments here.

LIAISON: Small manufacturers drawn into the war's whirlpool could not afford these elaborate and extravagant setups, not to mention the bourbon and scotch and caviar. But they had to have somebody at Washington to look after their interests, to police their contracts and to keep liaison with the government's procurement experts.

It was this field that men like Five Per Center James V. Hunt filled, and if they could make friends with the mighty and influential, so much the better for them and for their employers. No questions are ever asked of success.

There isn't a worthwhile industry in the country that does not have its "association" at the Capital, with able and well paid staffs to handle their business with the government, whether it be in oil, railroad shipments, airplanes, foodstuffs, houses, tobacco or ladies underwear. Their help was often invaluable to Uncle Sam.

And there isn't a single manufacturers' "representative" in the lot who doesn't wish that he was on deep-freezer terms with General Harry Hawkins Vaughan.

RETREAT: Grumbling members of Congress are hoping that Defense Secretary Louis A. Johnson's backtracking on two daring reforms will now extend to his order closing down scores of Army-Navy-Air installations throughout the country and getting rid of 135,000 civilian workers. They doubt whether he can or will stand up under the barrage of resentment over his economy decree.

Despite cover-up denials, the West Virginian did issue instructions that all correspondents visiting the Pentagon must get clearance from his centralized press office. When editorial associations and Washington newspapermen protested that this was a form of indirect censorship, he beat a retreat.

REVERSAL: There was also the fact that other Congressional groups were using or had been promised service planes for foreign trips. This made it appear that Mr. Johnson, and possibly President Truman, were taking revenge on the Senate Appropriations Committee, which has been extremely anti-Administration, personally and collectively, on many key issues.

Thus, so figure members from districts with forts built to fight Indians in Custer's day, and with coastal forts erected to repulse Admiral Cervera's fleet in the Spanish-American War, they may force Secretary Johnson to abandon his latest economy crusade.

Political strategists are surprised at the reversals. They had just about concluded that the ambitious Cabinet Member was playing a bold game in the hope that his courage and his economies would commend him to the populace for the 1952 presidential nomination. But these charges and retreats make them wonder because, as a shrewd politico commented recently: "That's a---of a way to run for anything."

FCC Runs Into Pressure Groups

By SEN. MARGARET CHASE SMITH
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — Unlike most regulatory agencies of the federal government, the consideration of the Federal Communications commission is not limited merely to the public and industry regulated. Reaction to the recent FCC ban on give-away radio and television programs is a graphic illustration of this.

The FCC must deal with (1) the listening public, (2) the broadcasters, (3) the advertisers, (4) pressure groups and (5) Congress, its life source. Approval of any action of the FCC by all of these parties is practically impossible. Their interests are diametrically opposed.

SEN. SMITH

FCC Is On Spot

Commercial broadcasters criticize the FCC for being too harsh. Pressure groups declare it is not strict enough. The commission is much like the man who attempts to give fair portions of an amount of ice cream to selfish and hungry children convinced of their priority over one another. The FCC is between five demons and the deep blue air.

Radio and television broadcasting are young, superbly sharp tools in the shaping of public opinion. They possess the advantages of speed, receptivity, and easy accessibility. As a result, there is constant tugging and pulling between the five major groups that the FCC has to deal with on radio and television broadcast problems.

THE role of the listening public in this arena of activity is most obvious and significant. Because the broadcast spectrum is the property of the public and not that of individuals, radio and television regulation and legislation have been adopted to protect the interest of the public. The welfare of the listeners and viewers has been the paramount consideration of the FCC in its administration. It has fully realized the legal right and duty imposed in it by Congress to control the use of the privilege of broadcasting as it was intended for the use in the best interest of the community, not the powerful individual.

Broadcasters are subjected to pressure from the advertisers and to criticism from the public and pressure groups. The broadcasters are dependent upon the revenues to be obtained from the advertisers. But since the success of the broadcasting station is dependent upon public acceptance, commercial sponsorship has made the listening and viewing public the basic economic determinant of broadcasting policy.

Groups Worry For Officials

Close examination of an underlying paradox of American broadcasting sheds some light on the plight of the FCC. The individuals and corporations making possible the advertising prosperity of broadcasters—the advertisers—are substantially the same individuals and corporations who understandably do not want government regulation and some who so picturesquely berate the government—the thread of life of the broadcasters.

Pressure groups are potentially the greatest worry of the FCC because of the very nature in which they operate. They usually espouse one principal cause or objective, but in most cases they represent only a very small segment of the public for which the FCC administers—and the commission has to regulate in the interests of all people instead of just the few of a pressure group. Also, the FCC is subject to the whim of 435 congressmen and 96 senators who are somewhat sensitive to pressure groups.

THE real crux of the commission's difficulty of administration is found in the human fallacy of most of us. We cherish "freedom of expression" in this democracy of ours. Yet, at the same time we demand that expression which violates our own individual standards—whether they be founded on logic or not—be prevented and the expressor punished in some manner.

It is like the situation of the man who votes for a new schoolhouse and against the necessary taxes to raise funds for its construction.

Third Gas Blowout Reported In Marion County Jefferson Area

MARSHALL, Sept. 12. (AP) — A third gas blowout in the Jefferson area of Marion county was reported today.

Mayor W. F. Meyers of Jefferson said he was advised that the blowout, a minor one, occurred in the Black Cypress bayou near the Texas and Pacific railway bridge, 16 miles north of Marshall. It is between the other two blowouts.

Geologist Dave Flesh, warned that other blowouts might occur until pressure in the gas-charged water strata 330 feet down is relieved.

Girlstown Project

Foundation Is Laid

The foundation has been laid and walls now are being constructed. The cement floor is to be poured Saturday and Sunday. Next week, interior work is to open on partitions. Workmen expect the construction to have progressed in 30 days to the extent that one may have a complete picture of what the building will look like when finished.

Miss Anthony visited Lubbock Monday to seek 1,110 sacks of cement and about 100 yards of sand and gravel combined.

She announced need for two women to join the Girlstown family. "We are in need of help of two women genuinely interested in the welfare of young girls, who have an understanding of our program," she said. College degrees will not be required. They would live at Girlstown and would be paid salaries in line with their qualifications, said Miss Anthony.

Looking At Life

And in the hearts of millions all over the world there are monuments to their own unsung heroes — to the doctors who risked and often lost their own lives to save others; to the nurses who took similar risks; to the boys who went overseas and died to save their country; to the policemen and firemen who braved crime and flames and sometimes perished in the service of their fellow men.

There is a bit of the hero in every one of us.

Britain Matches U. S. Concessions In Washington Dollar Conferences

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The main result of the tri-power financial conference in Washington seems to give Britain dollars to spend elsewhere, instead of Marshall plan credits to be spent in this country.

For example, she will turn to Canada for much of the wheat she has been buying in the United States, which has a surplus. Other American exports will be hit, just as they already have been hit by Britain's austerity program.

Mutual Concessions Made

Thus the United States appears to be working, in a way, against its own self-interest.

This is frequently justified by the argument that by taking such losses the United States not only preserves western Europe against Communism and bolsters her chief ally in Britain. She also preserves her best market against economic collapse, when it might have no value at all.

In the Washington agreement, however, the United States is not making all of the concessions. Britain is offering a quid for quo which in the long run may more than balance the temporary American sacrifices.

That is her agreement to open the way for American investment in the empire.

One of Britain's great sources of income in the old days, before she had to liquidate them to pay her war expenses, was from foreign investments, especially in the United States. With a few well-placed troops (in a day far different from the present when they mean little) these investments constituted the foundations of her empire. A move into this field by the U. S. may have more far reaching results than can be foreseen now.

The London Daily Express, jealous guardian of empire, is all upset. It talks about a "sell-out" and "dumping our valuable undeveloped assets into the lap of the Americans." Other London papers, except the Communist Daily Worker, disagreed and generally considered it a good deal.

Czech Bishops Issue Demands Needed For State-Church Peace

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 12 (U.P.)—Defiant Catholic bishops have told the Communist government it must cease the persecution of priests and restore the freedom of Archbishop Josef Beran if it wants a church-state agreement.

The bishops agreed on "peace" conditions at a meeting at Trnava, Slovakia, Aug. 14, church sources disclosed today. They gathered there for the consecretion of two new bishops at a ceremony unauthorized by the government.

Letter Outlines Demands

They sent the government a letter outlining demands that it hardly could meet without making a major retreat. Thus, while the letter called for peace and agreement, the overall sense was not conciliatory.

Meanwhile the state secret police were reported by church sources to have imposed a "security guard" on the residence of Archbishop Josef Matocha, the No. 2 prelate in Czechoslovakia.

Informants said the police reported that the guard at the archbishop's residence in Olomouc, Moravia, was posted for the prelate's safety, and that he was not permitted to travel without a police escort.

State Blamed For Unrest

The bishops sent their defiant memorandum to the Czechoslovak government. It said the government, not the church, was to blame for unrest and disorder in Czechoslovakia.

Declaring they had shown "our desire for agreement," the bishops said the government, through Justice Minister Alexei Cepicks, had "confessed to a series of anti-church steps."

"We warn the government that it will be very difficult for the state if it passes laws which it would be impossible for us or our priests to accept," the bishops said.

"We will have peace between church and state when the government attacks against the freedom of the church and her authority have ceased."

The memorandum was signed by Archbishop Josef Matocha of Olomouc and all the Czechoslovakia hierarchy except for Archbishop Beran, who said he was "interned" in his palace.

Functioning like a traffic policeman in a one-way street, a new television antenna has been developed which will receive signals from only one direction at a time. It will improve reception in fringe areas which lie between two stations on the same channel.

Attacks On Britain Called Propaganda

LONDON, Sept. 12 (U.P.)—The Labor party newspaper The Daily Herald today published a letter from an American charging that a recent series of dispatches about Britain by Edward T. Leech, Scripps Howard senior editor, was "simply organized propaganda put over by the wealthy monopolies."

The Herald published the 500-word letter from F. W. Hemsley of South Berendo street, Los Angeles, Calif., on its editorial page under a two-column headline reading, "A Good Friend Writes To You."

"Leech's efforts are simply organized propaganda put over here by the wealthy monopolies against the strides of socialism which is making considerable strides among the people of the U. S. A.," Hemsley wrote.

"The Republican party (our Conservatives), through their press and radio, neglect no opportunity to place all of Great Britain's present government in an unfavorable light, constantly reminding readers and listeners that the 'ever-increasing tax load of the United States citizen is due in considerable part to the loans and gifts our government makes to help keep Britain floating—not that it is to be expected any of these loans will ever be repaid.'

"Some swallow that stuff, not knowing that the majority stock is wielded by very few."

Court Action Taken By Lubbock Residents

A hearing will be conducted in the district court of Gillespie county Feb. 6 on a plea of privilege by which Betty Roos Leasure and others, of Lubbock county, seek to defend themselves in a damages action in their own county of residence.

A hearing was conducted there last week in which two cases growing out of the March 14, 1948, death of Roy Leasure and Leon Settles, both of Lubbock, in a Gillespie county roadside crash were consolidated. Their car struck a tree.

The cases consolidated were those of:

Mrs. Ethel Settles and others against Betty Ross Leasure, individually and as independent executrix of the estate of her late husband, and Mrs. Carl Slaton. Mrs. Slaton was described in the suit as an insurance partner of Leasure.

Betty Ross Leasure against H. L. Davis and Son, general agents of San Antonio.

The first suit asks damages of $100,000. The second, which since has been announced settled, asked judgment of $270,000.

Winston Brummett represents Mrs. Leasure in her individual capacity, and is co-counsel for Mrs. Slaton.

He said last week's pre-trial hearing in Fredericksburg also disposed of certain legal points necessary to joining of trial issues.

Petra Korhanler, 38, a Turkish woman jailed at Leeds, England, on an immigration charge, was said to have used 20 different names since 1943.

Gulf Ports To Seek Settlement Of Rate Of Charge Differences

GULFPORT, Miss., Sept. 12. (AP)—The Gulf Ports association will attempt to settle its differences on charges for government cargo here this week.

Port officials from Brownsville to Tampa, Fla., will be here Thursday and Friday for the association's sixth annual meeting.

In a bid for more government business, some of the smaller Gulf ports recently broke away from the standard 15-day free time allowance, and made concessions of longer free time for outbound government cargo.

Free time is the period a port allows for storage of cargo without imposing storage charges.

The concessions set off heavy competition among the ports for government business, and free time periods now range from 15 days to unlimited time.

The association also will go into a discussion of other special services and privileges allowed to induce movement of cargo, and will review the foreign trade picture.

E. H. Thornton of Galveston is president of the association.

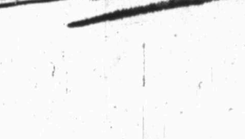

TRIAL IS POSTPONED

CARTHAGE, Texas, Sept. 12. (AP)—The trial of L. T. Prince, charged with slaying his wife, was postponed today until Oct. 3. Prince's wife, Lorraine, 28, was shot to death May 25 at their home south of here.
