President Promises Cut In Excise Taxes

Other Tax Cuts Too Are Hinted

ATLANTIC CITY , N.J. (AP) — President Johnson told a bell-ringing, cheering crowd of labor union members today that he will recommend a cut in excise taxes next year. And he hinted at other tax cuts if prosperity continues.

This was Johnson's first flat disclosure that he favors lower excises — taxes on the retail prices of such items as lipsticks, auto tires and telephone calls.

Johnson, returning to Convention Hall where he was nominated by last month's Democratic National Convention, addressed some 3,500 delegates to the 12th biennial convention of the United Steelworkers Union.

ENDORSED

Minutes before his arrival, the delegates unanimously endorsed his candidacy.

Talking of bread-and-butter issues, Johnson sought to associate the Republican party with "voices of doom and despair." Although he did not mention the GOP, the President said these voices have been using "the same worn-out phrases against progressive legislation from Social Security through the war on poverty."

He said the public hears — but will not heed — "the same old arguments in the same old way, written, I imagine, by the same old man."

Turning to tax policy, Johnson had this to say:

"We will 4th graf

"We will continue a fiscal policy which expands purchasing power to meet our power to produce. The tax cut was a part of this policy. In the future, we will not permit federal revenues to become a drag on our economy. Next year, we are planning to cut excise taxes."

HINTED

By pledging that revenues would not be allowed to drag down the economy, Johnson hinted at further tax reduction. The 1964 tax cut, for example, was based largely on the theory that revenues were putting a brake on the economy.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential candidate, already is on record as favoring new tax cuts. Goldwater earlier this month proposed income tax reduction of 5 per cent for five years, contingent on tight budget control.

Johnson, returning to Convention Hall where he received the Democratic nomination on Aug. 26, emphasized bread-and-butter issues in his text for the steelworkers.

Hailing current prosperity, Johnson said, "America cannot afford a recession." He went on to paint this picture:

RECESSION

"A recession today, like those of the 1950s, would mean a loss of $20 billion a year in production—a loss of 1½ million jobs—a 40 per cent rise in unemployment."

In addition to avoiding recession, Johnson said, the nation must "extend prosperity to all Americans" through stronger unemployment compensation and minimum wage laws, through medical care for the aging under Social Security and through "equal opportunity for every American of every race and color and belief."

In his one prepared reference to civil rights, the President said: "No one has anything to fear from increasing opportunity for all Americans. History proves and reason confirms the more Americans take a productive place in our society, the greater the prosperity of all.

ONLY DANGER

"The only real danger to any is the failure to use the skills and labor of all."

Another national challenge, said Johnson, is to "harness the forces of enlarging technology and expanding population to improve the life of our people."

He said he would encourage expansion and modernization of industry "through tax' incentives and increased research."

Flood Waters Rout Del Rio Residents

By The Associated Press

Flood waters routed about 350 people from homes at Del Rio on the Mexican border during the night, and intermittent showers kept other Texans uneasy in deluged areas as far as 400 miles to the north today.

A hard thunderstorm which tapered into a steady downpour sent small San Felipe Creek out of banks at Del Rio, where it boosted the rainfall measurement to more than 10 inches since Saturday night.

MUDDY CRESTS

Muddy crests rolled down other streams, meanwhile, from the swollen Trinity in the flood-plagued Dallas-Fort Worth vicinity to the Rio Grande, which flows 3 miles outside Del Rio.

Rains measuring up to 12.10 inches stopped in the area around Dallas and Fort Worth and flash floods subsided.

Widely scattered showers and occasional thunderstorms persisted in early morning, however, north and west of a curving line between Sherman, San Antonio and the southeast corner of New Mexico.

Cloudbursts which first struck during the weekend in remote areas of far Southwest Texas, pouring an unofficial 17 inches of rain onto watersheds of the Rio Grande and Nueces rivers, left a vast cleanup job.

TORRENTS

Rushing torrents swept away several highway or railroad bridges and deposited costly layers of mud in several hundred homes across a broad section.

At Del Rio, San Felipe Creek spread from a normal width of eight to 10 feet in the east and south parts of two to 150 feet wide. Water surged into at least 100 houses, swept a driverless car downstream and blocked most bridges over the creek for a time.

Volunteers using high-wheeled vehicles evacuated occupants of flooded Del Rio homes. Rescue workers reported about 350 were taken to spend the rest of the night in the city's San Felipe High School and Sam Houston Elementary School.

Laughlin Air Force Base outside Del Rio sent blankets and a mobile kitchen to feed the evacuees.

It was in the Brackettville area, 30 miles east of Del Rio and on the Nueces River watershed, that a 17-inch deluge was reported during the weekend. Heavy cattle losses were reported in some isolated areas. Springs which went dry a month ago started flowing again.

The level of the Rio Grande dropped late Monday at Eagle Pass, where about 100 persons fled to higher ground two days ago. Eagle Pass is 58 miles downriver from Del Rio.

Police kept close watch as the Trinity River climbed to 34.10 feet at Dallas and threatened to rise into part of Roosevelt Addition in the south edge of the city. They estimated early today that a crest of 36 feet would be reached by late afternoon.

Gladys Poised Off Coast Of Carolinas

MANTEO, N.C. (AP) —Hurricane Gladys brushed against the Atlantic Coast with winds up to 65 miles per hour today after becoming almost stationary off the North Carolina coast.

The big storm, which switched directions during the night to become a threat to the U.S. mainland, showed signs of intensification and was expected to drift slowly northwestward.

The Weather Bureau said hurricane force winds might reach the upper North Carolina coast late Tuesday night.

Sea water washed ashore by high winds and tides up to three feet above normal flooded a fishing village on North Carolina's sand banks and sent water over highways from Cape Hatteras, 50 miles south of Manteo, was flooded by water sweeping in from the ocean. The highway patrol said 18 to 24 inches of water was rushing through some of the village's streets.

The patrol said the sea was breaking over the coastal highway north of Buxton, another small village near Cape Hatteras, making the road impassable.

At Nags Head and Kill Devil Hills, two feet of water gushed over U.S. 158, which runs near the beach line.

A hurricane watch was ordered from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to Sandy Hook, N.J. Gale warnings were up from Wilmington, N.C., to Provincetown, Mass.

Early today Gladys was 225 miles east - southeast of Cape Hatteras. Highest winds of near 100 miles per hour extended outward about 50 miles, mainly to the north of the center.

Pushing gale winds across an area 650 miles in diameter, Gladys brought gusts up to 65 m.p.h. at Manteo, N.C., as it moved north-northwest up the North Carolina coast.

High tides and sustained winds of 35 to 45 m.p.h. pushed six to eight inches of water on to the sandy banks along North Carolina's coast, flooding roadways in the Nags Head beach area and forcing cancellation of schools.

A school at Kitty Hawk was opened as an emergency shelter.

The Weather Bureau warned that tides three to four feet above normal could be expected from Cape Hatteras to the New York City area.

Trains Chug Past Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's trains chugged past another major strike threat today after a scheduled daybreak walkout was postponed indefinitely.

There appeared little likelihood of a renewal of the strike threat by 150,000 shop workers after negotiators announced a "tentative settlement" of their job security dispute.

The announcement Monday came about 14 hours before the scheduled 6 a.m. strike deadline and ended the second major threat of a virtually nationwide rail tieup since April.

"We have reached an agreement on four of the major issues involved and feel certain we will be able to complete the agreement very soon," said Michael Fox, spokesman for six shop craft unions.

The unions had called the strike against most of the nation's railroads except the Pennsylvania and Long Island railroads, the Southern Railway System and the Florida East Coast.

Ollie Williams Dies Suddenly

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Ollie L. Williams, 62, water well service company operator here, died suddenly in his office north of Colorado City at 7:45 p.m. Monday.

Funeral rites will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Kiker and Son Chapel in Colorado City. Burial will be in the Coahoma Cemetery.

Mr. Williams was born April 28, 1902 in Coahoma. He came to Colorado City in 1953. Prior to that time he had lived in Big Spring, providing oil well and pump service. Later he launched his water well service business.

He was married to Miss Ruth Johnson, Dec. 24, 1922 in Eastland County.

Survivors include his widow, one son, Dwain Williams, and one daughter, Betty Williams, all of Colorado City; three sisters, Mrs. Ed Jennings, Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Otis Salter, Del Rio; and Mrs. Zula Patterson, Santa Ana, Calif. There are four grandchildren.

Mr. Williams was in the office, which is adjacent to his home two miles north of town, when he was stricken. He had suffered several years with a heart involvement.

Fiery Giant Blaze Almost Under Control

CALISTOGA, Calif. (AP) —A monster forest fire that marched 18 miles in 15 hours, charring 90 square miles of timber and brush and endangering two cities, neared control by firemen today.

Like a fiery giant in seven-league boots, the blaze strode across the rugged mountains separating the Napa Valley resort town of Calistoga and Santa Rosa, seat of adjacent Sonoma County.

TWO DAYS

By dawn, weary firefighters appeared to have beaten back the fire 1½ miles southwest of exhausted Calistoga after a siege of two days.

The meandering blast furnace that hopscotched the tops of lofty pines over the mountains into Santa Rosa also was contained, but only after three fiery fingers had laid waste to some 25 homes, forced evacuation of about 2,000 persons and threatened a hospital and a convent.

Whipped by high winds to express-train speeds, the fire started on its devastating trek late Monday afternoon.

Earlier in the day, it had swept into Calistoga, destroying or charring 50 homes and putting half the population to flight.

TURNED BACK

Beaten off once, the fire spread eastward from Calistoga, only to turn once more on the beleaguered city ahead of a shifting wind.

Again firefighters blocked the path of the blaze. And again a capricious wind sent it eastward.

The fire crackled into Santa Rosa early this morning.

Burning out of the mountains and across fields of tinder-dry brush, the fire first threatened Lomita Heights, a new subdivision of homes in the $50,000 to $100,000 range.

Firemen saved the subdivision, but the blaze then sped toward the 150-bed Sonoma County Hospital. As city buses stood by to evacuate patients, the fire ran out of fuel at bulldozer-gouged fire lines just 200 yards from the hospital.

The fire burned along the ridges on both sides of Rincon Valley, where most of the damage to homes occurred.

JOIN FIREMEN

Some 200 city employes manning bulldozers and steam shovels joined firemen in throwing a protective ring around the fire's next threatened target—the Ursuline Convent housing 116 students and 16 Catholic nuns.

By early morning, the convent was believed out of danger.

And officials in both communities — despite the devastation —were thankful.

"It was a miracle there were no major injuries," said Kent Bathurst, assistant city manager of Santa Rosa.

Most serious injury reported was a shoulder separation suffered by an unidentified youth who tumbled down the side of a canyon while fighting the fire near his home.

Heightening hope the fire will be controlled today is the anticipated use of borate bombers provided by the California Division of Forestry.

DANGER PASSED

The danger point also appeared to have passed in Napa, 30 miles south of Calistoga at the opposite tip of the wine-rich Napa Valley.

Acid Fumes Kill Engineer

Fumes from a tank of fluid being used in acidizing a well on a lease 12 miles south of Big Spring took the life of a young oil field engineer at 6 p.m. Monday.

Dead is Stanley Price Hulen, 23, Colorado City.

He was an employe of the Dow Chemical Co., and was on top a 500-barrel tank checking the rise of fluid in the tank at the time he was asphyxiated.

The mishap occurred on a lease to the west of US 87 opposite the Forsan turnoff. An ambulance frim Big Spring was called to the scene. Fellow workers removed Hulen from the tank and administered mouth-to-mouth respiration. All of the way to the Cowper hospital, ambulance attendants continued rescue efforts with artificial respiration. However, physicians at the hospital said that Hulen was dead on arrival.

Hulen's body was taken first to Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home and then removed to the Bell-Seale Funeral Home at Snyder. Services are pending there.

Mr. Hulen was a July graduate of Texas Tech. He is survived by his widow, Colorado City; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Hulen, Snyder; one sister, Mrs. R. A. Garden, Olney, Ill.

He was born May 18, 1941, graduated from Snyder High School, and joined Dow on Aug. 1. Mr. Hulen was married to Danny Calloway in August 1962.

Goldwater Attacks LBJ Policies In Viet Nam

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today President Johnson has "hundreds of lives and hundreds of lies to answer for" as a result of his policy for South Viet Nam.

The Republican presidential nominee described the fighting in South Viet Nam as "a conflict without end and without apparent purpose."

"The situation in Viet Nam seems to have deteriorated from confusion to chaos in the past 24 hours," Goldwater said, in a speech prepared for the first stop of a two-day campaign swing through the Southwest.

He added: "Reports of collapse and crisis along the fighting front, in the government, in the cities and in the villages have poured in."

Goldwater began his campaign swing on his 30th wedding anniversary. The trip will take the Arizona Senator and his wife through Texas and New Mexico, then back through the Midwest to New England, winding up Saturday in Michigan.

He hit the campaign trail again after taking a day off Sunday and spending most of Monday taping a television show in Gettysburg, Pa., with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. It will be shown tonight on a nationwide hookup.

Mrs. Goldwater stayed behind Monday night when the senator flew down to Charlotte, N.C., for his third stop in that state within a week.

More than 12,000 cheered and applauded in the Charlotte Coliseum as Goldwater challenged President Johnson to a television debate.

"I challenge my opponent, the interim President Lyndon Baines Johnson, to face the issues," he said. "I dare him to face me before the world. I ask of him — debate."

The prepared text had said, "I demand of him — debate." Goldwater changed "demand" to "ask" in delivering the speech.

So far, President Johnson has sidestepped the question of ary debate with Goldwater on nationwide television.

In his Tulsa remarks, Goldwater challenged the administration to provide full information to the American people about the situation in South Viet Nam.

"After a weekend marked by a shooting incident in international waters that took more than a day even to partially explain, the new onrush of events remains unenlightened by a full report from our government," he said.

LOCAL REPUBLICANS TO ADD VOICES TO AREA'S WELCOME

Howard County Republicans will add their voices to the big welcome at Odessa this evening for Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential standard bearer.

Bill Sheppard, county GOP chairman, said at least 200 Republicans are expected to gather at party headquarters at 410 E. 3rd for a motorcade to Odessa. The group will move out at 5:30 p.m.

Sen. Goldwater will arrive in Odessa at 5 p.m. and attend a fund-raising dinner. The big rally at W. T. Barrett Stadium, which will accommodate 20,000, starts at 7:10 p.m. Several members of the Young Republican group in Howard County will be on hand to assist as ushers for the event.

The senator comes to Odessa from Albuquerque, N.M. where he spoke at 2 p.m. At noon he was in Amarillo for the Tri-State Fair. Wednesday morning he will fly to Fort Worth, then on to Dallas to address the American Legion convention at 1 p.m. and a major rally in Dallas Wednesday evening.

HCJC Signup Breaks Record

George E. Whitaker, staff member of the United States Experiment Station, had a pleasant surprise when he registered Monday evening for a class at Howard County Junior College.

His tuition and fees were on the house. Whitaker happened to be the 873rd person to sign up for classes, thus breaking the record of 872 last autumn. This year's total includes 55 additional full time students, said Dr. W. A. Hunt. Registration continues through this week.

'Never Too Late' Termed All Night Laugh Show

One day in 1956, Sumner Arthur Long was walking down a Hollywood street when he noticed a woman, who seemed past 50, obviously pregnant, and seemingly radiantly happy. He was struck with an idea for a play.

Writing it was one thing, but getting it produced was another. Finally it saw the light of day as "Cradle and All," but critics and fans rocked it to sleep. Finally, after two successful summer runs, George Abbott directed it on Broadway in 1962, and since then it has been the hottest thing thing not only in New York but on tour. Moreover, it has been produced in over a dozen countries.

"Never Too Late" comes here as the second of the Big Spring Concert Association current series on Dec. 1 with Lyle Talbot and Penny Singleton in the starring roles.

MANTOVANI TOO

The season opens Nov. 4 with Mantovani and His Orchestra, and will conclude in the early spring of 1965 with Lois Hunt and Earl Wrightson, currently one of the top vocal duo favorites in the country. Admission is by membership only; no single admissions are sold at the door. Season memberships may be had from any of the Concert Association directors or by calling the Herald or Zack's, or writing to Mrs. James Duncan, 1300 W. 16th.

Time magazine called it "an all night laugh show," and critics on every hand have given it top billing, some apologizing for enjoying it to much.

The story centers around Harry Lambert, a sixtyish businessman, who is stunned by the good news from his fiftyish wife, that "I'm going to have a baby." Immediately his reign over the household is shattered, along with his morale. But his reaction is mild compared to that of their daughter and her husband, a favorite target of dislike by Harry Lambert. Mama remains radiantly happy through it all, and there is never a dull moment.

VETERAN PLAYERS

Lyle Talbot is a veteran of about 150 motion pictures, innumerable TV shows. For years he was the neighbor next door to "Ozzie and Harriett," later a buddy of Bob Cummings. In private life he is father of four and nearing Harry Lambert's age.

Penny Singleton also is a veteran of pictures, having waded through over 30 Blondie series and many others. She also has been in several musicals such as "Good News," "Follow Through," "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," "Bells Are Ringing," "Call Me Madam" and others.

Meanwhile, "Never Too Late" continues merrily into its third hit season on Broadway. This is the second year that a company has been on tour with it also.

Oil Production Shows Decrease

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Oil production in the United States last week dropped 10,010 barrels a day from the previous week, to an average of 7,571,810 daily, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma output of 533,240 barrels daily was down 11,560 a day.

Figures for other states, with the previous week's output in parentheses, included Arkansas 74,000 (73,800); Louisiana 1,527,550 (1,527,550); New Mexico 307,100 (307,100); Texas 2,628,350 (2,628,350).

Two Locations Picked For Mohole Drill

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A hole designed to tap for the first time the area beneath the earth's crust will be drilled either east of Antigua in the West Indies or north of Mauri in the Hawaiian Islands.

Just where the six-mile-plus penetration into the earth will be made is to be determined late this year or early in 1965.

The site for Project Mohole, a $70-million venture, has been narrowed to two locations, it was revealed Monday before the Geophysical Society of Houston. Lloyd Paitson, a Houston geophysicist for the project, said Puerto Rico once had been considered as a possible site but now had been abandoned.

He described the project as "worth more per dollar spent than any trip to the moon," pointing out that only one per cent of the earth's volume has been explored.

Either location, Paitson said, would require going through at least 12,000 feet of water before drilling into the earth's crust.

At the Atlantic site the hurricane season and distant ports of supply must be taken into consideration, he said, but the treasured mantle is believed to be at less depth off Antigua than off the Hawaiian Islands.

Scientists believe the mantle extends 1,800 miles into the earth.

After that there is an outer core, thought to be liquid, that goes in another 1,360 miles and, finally an inner core, believed to be solid, which extends 815 miles.

Paitson was asked if a deep land hole was considered rather than one over water. He said it was, but generally it is believed the mantle lies deeper under continents than under oceans.

Records indicate the deepest hole thus far drilled on land is less than 26,000 feet. It is not unusual, scientists believe, for the mantle under continents to be 20 miles down.

Under oceans, such as the two sites being considered, the mantle is about six miles down.

Paistson said in an interview several benefits may accrue from Project Mohole in addition to the extension of scientific knowledge.

One is development of a drilling platform that would operate in deep oceans without anchors. Another is that the project also may help open up mining of ocean waters.

Project Mohole gets its name from the transition zone that is believed to separate the bottom of the earth's crust from the top of the earth's mantle.

Andrija Mohorovicic, a Yugoslav scientist, discovered the zone in 1909.

To Retain Seats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats in the Senate have made it possible for Sen. Strom Thurmond to retain two committee seats despite his decision to switch to the Republican party.

IN MARYLAND

Persuasion Replaces Bayonets, Tear Gas

By GORDON BEARD

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — Friendly persuasion has replaced bayonets and tear gas on the streets of Cambridge, where racial turbulence kept National Guard troops on duty for more than a year.

The Guard still is represented, but it's a detachment composed solely of Capt. William A. Harris.

The work of the 44-year-old Negro has been so impressive his tour of duty has been extended twice, and Harris now is to remain until after the November elections.

Gov. J. Millard Tawes agreed to the latest extension, requested by Dorchester County State's Attorney Awdry C. Thompson and by Clarence Miles, who heads a special commission named by Tawes to promote interracial harmony in the community of 12,200.

Harris was relieved as deputy U.S. marshal at the request of Maryland Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan and sent to Cambridge May 19 as a member of Gen. George Gelston's staff. His assignment: Work with the Negro community to find out their chief desires and needs.

When the last troops were removed July 11, one week after the federal civil rights law was enacted, Miles asked the governor to keep Harris in Cambridge as a liaison man between the white and Negro communities.

"Capt. Harris is like a chemical catalyst," says Maurice Rimpo, editor of the Cambridge Banner.

"If someone like him had been here two years ago to keep open the lines of communication, we may never had had serious racial trouble in Cambridge. He speaks the language of both sides."

During the day, Harris literally lives in the streets, where he can reach more people. He has a nodding acquaintance with many residents. Some call him by name; others wave as he passes.

Harris organized Boy Scout troops and recreational activities this summer to keep Negro youths off the streets. They were active in demonstrations last year.

But his work hasn't been confined to the youngsters. Harris took a group of Negro senior citizens to Baltimore, where they visited a public housing project to see how activities for older people could be organized.

"I'm interested in cultural contacts," Harris said. "Some of the older people had not been out of Cambridge for 20 years. They must be exposed to the outside, to get a different insight on life."

May Lose Air Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Texas cities of Borger, Paris and Galveston were listed Monday among 72 across the country that failed during the last fiscal year to generate sufficient airline traffic to meet minimum standards set by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The CAB has authorized airlines operating at those cities to discontinue service. The criterion for retaining service is the generation of at least five passengers a day.

"Unless adequate use is made of the air service, its cost to the government is not warranted," the CAB said, "and continuation of the service would not be in the best interests of the public."

Airlines serving Texas and affected cities are:

Trans-Texas: Galveston, Tex., Morgan City, La., and Santa Fe, N.M.

Central: Borger and Paris, Tex., Dodge City, Garden City and Goodland, Kan., Guymon, McAlester and Muskogee, Okla., and Lamar, Colo.

Percy Kilbride Struck By Car

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Percy Kilbride, known to millions for his film role as Pa Kettle in "The Egg and I," was recovering today from serious injuries suffered when he was struck by a car.

Kilbride, 76, was walking with retired actor Ralf Belmont, 72, who was killed in the accident Monday night.

Officers said Kilbride suffered head injuries and abrasions.

The driver of the car, Gerald Beckhahn, was held on suspicion of manslaughter.

57 Years of Merchandising In Big Spring By the McDonalds!

J. D. McDonald

GENERAL MERCHANDISING

Opened 1907

J. D. McDonald came to Big Spring in 1907 and immediately opened a new and used general merchandising store in the vicinity of 3rd and Main. Early day settlers could buy most any kind of household equipment from this frontier store.

Opened 1912

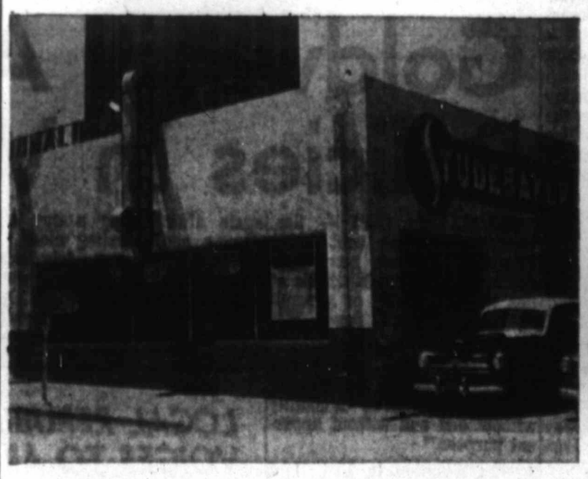

"Shorty" McDonald purchased the old two-story opera house at 307 Main Street. He converted it into the Tourist Garage, with his family's living quarters on the second floor. "Shorty" also operated the stage line to San Angelo and sometime later Mr. and Mrs. McDonald acquired the Hudson & Essex Automobile Agency.

AUTOMOTIVE SERVICE
STUDEBAKER AGENCY
Opened 1939

Cecil McDonald was born in Big Spring in 1912, where he grew up and was educated. He has worked for various businesses here, including Cosden Refinery. Cecil then went to California where he worked for Chicago Bridge and Iron, Westinghouse Electric and was with Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. at their manufacturing plant for five years. Mr. McDonald married Miss Helen Mae Wagy in California, where their daughter, Cecelia Mae, was born. The family moved back to Big Spring in 1939 and Cecil opened his first business—McDonald's Automotive Service, and later acquired the Studebaker Agency. Mrs. McDonald was the office manager and bookkeeper. After a tour of duty in the Navy during the war, Cecil returned and built a new Studebaker Agency in November, 1947. John Stewart and J. C. Eudy associated themselves with the business that same year and are still with the company. Ten years later Cecil signed a contract with American Motors and acquired the Rambler Agency . . . giving him a dual line. Mr. McDonald has finally realized a lifelong dream of a beautiful, spacious automobile agency equipped with the newest and finest equipment to make the service department one of the finest in the Southwest. This new plant covers one city block at 1607 East 3rd St. There is a 12-car showroom, numerous sales offices, over 3,000 feet in the parts department. You'll find many features for your comfort and convenience, including a 110 sq. ft. coffee lounge . . . all this in complete air-conditioned comfort. William (Bill) McDonald, Cecil's son, is now associated with the company as sales manager. Big Spring has been his home since birth. Bill will most certainly carry on the McDonald tradition. Come in tomorrow for a friendly visit and see the sensible new Rambler displayed in Cecil's new plant. All plans, specifications and construction by Cecil McDonald.

McDonald Rambler Sets Open House

McDonald Rambler holds open house Wednesday in its new spacious home at 1607 East Third Street.

With over 16,000 square feet under roof in the main plant and 2,200 in auxiliary buildings, the modern facility is geared to Big Spring 10 years from now and designed as a springboard for expansion to match the city's growth.

Included in the new plant are a large show room, general and special offices, parts and service manager areas, and a huge service center area. It is envisioned to provide service to any automobile owner, and especially to those who drive Studebakers and Ramblers.

Cecil McDonald, owner, planned the building himself and directed its construction. It is all steel frame which is welded together. Glass, masonry and enamel steel supply the exterior. Floors are waxed concrete except for carpeted offices.

The showroom required about 3,500 square feet, and the two office sections are divided by a hallway wide enough to drive two cars past to the service center. On one side is McDonald's office. Separating this section and the service manager's private office is a refreshment bar for customers and employees. The other side contains general office, plus separate offices for salesmen and other personnel dealing privately with customers.

In addition to a large parts department, there is a second-story storage of 2,000 square feet for heavy items.

At the rear of the building is the wash area with equipment for hot water or steam cleaning, plus a section for cleaning motors and still another for the center's machine shop.

Novel Features Incorporated In New Plant

Many special features are incorporated into the new McDonald Rambler home at 1607 East Third, features born of experience in the automotive business.

Cecil McDonald, owner, designed the plant as well as built it. Thus, he made the show room amply large for displaying several cars at once. He also provided a hallway to the service center so that cars can be driven through without any problem at all.

Offices open off the hallway so that customers may have utmost privacy in their visits with customers. Also opening off the hallway are a refreshment bar and a show case for parts or special displays, and a cashier's window in the parts department.

PARTS DEPARTMENT

The parts department also opens on the service center for convenience of mechanics and customers.

Parts bins were designed and made by McDonald, using perforated angle iron so that compartment depths may be regulated without effort. Upstairs McDonald has provided space for mechanical equipment, record storage and ample room for heavy, builky items such as fenders, panels, frames, radiators, etc.

There will be none of this cramped quarters for mechanics, for over half of the building is in the service center, which has all new equipment which is made to meet the latest changes in automotive, mechanical and electric systems.

AUXILIARY AREAS

At the rear of the building are separate wash rooms for shop personnel, plus wash room for cars and trucks with hot water or steam. There also is a partitioned area into which motors, extracted from cars, will be rolled by crane, for cleaning.

The entire operation covers more than a city block, or 300 x 330 feet to be exact. Much of it will be paved as soon as weather will permit. All the area outside of the main building will be enclosed in chain-link fence.

Two On Staff Since Company Started

Two of the members of McDonald Rambler have been with him since Cecil McDonald constructed his separate building for the studebaker agency in 1947.

They are Johnny Stewart, general manager, and J. C. Eudy, parts manager. They, of course, continue in these capacities with added responsibilities in the new plant. Service manager for the company is Coy Connor, well known to automobile owners in this area. Billy McDonald, his son, is sales manager.

McDonald Has Grown With City, Bets On Its Growth

For almost three score years there has been a McDonald in business in Big Spring, and Cecil D. McDonald is making plans for the family to be around a lot longer to have a part in the community's future.

From the time his grandfather, J. D. McDonald, opened a general furnishing business here in 1907 until now, McDonalds have been buying and building and betting that the city will grow to new facilities.

"We've built 40 per cent larger than we need right now," said Cecil McDonald. "But I'm betting Big Spring will grow to this within 10 years. I bet this way when I built our superservice center in 1939 and again when I added the building for McDonald Motor in 1947. Sink or swim, we're with Big Spring."

He could have added that he's been betting a lot in other enterprises in the growth of the city—enterprises which have played a key role in development. For instance, he has developed both Douglass No. 1 and No. 2 additions, building most of the homes in them. He also launched Avion Addition, and then got the massive Kentwood Addition under way on a section of land he acquired for a major residential development many predicted would never come to pass. He also has operated a lumber yard and building supplies building and many auxiliary businesses.

But his first and main love is the automobile business. This is why the new McDonald Rambler is such a pride and joy. Because automobiles have been part of the family for three generations, he delights in making his a family business.

FAMILY AFFAIR

Of course, his mother, Mrs. W. D. McDonald, is his good right hand, and his wife, Helen, he freely admits, does most of what he is supposed to do, including much of the business administration. His father-in-law, W. C. Wagy, a veteran in automobile service, has been his dependable advisor. His son, Billy McDonald, is sales manager, and a nephew, Bobby McDonald, is manager of his construction operations. Cecelia McDonald Adams, his daughter, and Annette (Mrs. Billy) McDonald are handling advertising.

When J. D. McDonald came to Big Spring in 1907 to open his new and used furniture and household goods business near the corner of Third and Main, where Zale's now stands, his son, W. D. (Shorty) McDonald, helped in the operations. New fangled horseless carriages were putting in their appearance, and the automotive bug bit Shorty. He bought a Kissel Kar and began operating a stage to San Angelo. He acquired a Ford, dismantled and reassembled it, and from then on he was hooked for the trade.

He and Mrs. McDonald, who had been his childhood sweetheart back in Alabama and whom he wed in Memphis, Texas in 1911, acquired the old, two-story frame opera house in the 300 block of Main where J. C. Penney Company now operates. They maintained an apartment upstairs while he ran his garage business below.

THIS MARKED HIM FOR AUTOMOTIVE CAREER
Cecil D. McDonald and his first car

ESSEX AND HUDSON

Soon he had the Essex and the Hudson agency, and he built racers. He took one of his products to the West Texas Fair in Abilene and there beat the famed Red Shaffer.

After World War I he bought the Penix property at Third and Johnson and put up a service station-garage (now the Courtesy Service opeated by the Petty Bros.) on the budding Bankhead Highway. In 1924, while on a fishing trip to the Pecos, he drowned.

His young widow took over and ran the business. She's been active ever since and now is accounted dean of Big Spring realtors (having received her 35-year certificate last week.) When their son, Cecil, went to California to work for Chicago Iron and Bridge, Westinghouse, and five years as millwright superintendent for Firestone Rubber, Mrs. McDonald went to visit and stayed for a few years. When Cecil was married to Helen Wagy in Los Angeles, Mrs. Mac came back home and began selling and trading.

CHURCH FOUNDER

She took a fancy to the real estate business because it provided a wonderful way to help people. A radiant person, she has been a member of the First Methodist board of Stewards for over 30 years, helped to found Wesley Methodist (she housed and fed the first minister at her own expense) and Park Methodist Churches. At one time, she was on two boards of stewards at once. She has been active also in the Woman's Society for Christian Service and in the Order of Eastern Star.

So long as he could remember, Cecil McDonald has been used to the smell of exhaust and the hum of motors. His parents gave him a toy car when he was a tot, and like his father he has been interested in cars since.

After his marriage, he and Helen went to Alabama, but there were too many trees for a native West Texan. He went back to California briefly. (Cecelia was born at South Gate), then returned to Big Spring to put down roots for good in 1939. During 1944-45 he was in the U. S. Navy.

COMMUNITY BUILDERS

He built McDonald Automotive, a service center at Third and Johnson in 1939, serving also as the storage place for Settles Hotel patrons. He took on the Studebaker agency in 1939, and when he returned from service, he built a separate building for McDonald Rambler. In 1957 he added the Rambler agency to the business.

McDonald has been a Mason since he was 21 and is a member of its bodies, a past potentate (1956) of the Shrine Suez Temple, area membership chairman for the Scottish Rite for many years, holder of the relatively rare Knights of the Court of Honor degree. He also was a member of the Downtown Lions, served two terms on the city commission, was a member of the Optimists, served twice as chairman of the First Methodist board of stewards. He has been a residential and commercial builder, has had interests in oil and farms, runs a rental service (27 units), has been a sub-divider and developer. But most of all he is an automobile man and an incorrigible believer in Big Spring.

Humphrey Releases Audit Of His Assets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey has made public his assets down to the dollar and turns out to be last — or first, depending on how you look at it — in the presidential and vice presidential financial derby.

The Johnson, Goldwater and Miller returns already were in when the Minneapolis accounting firm of Touche, Ross, Bailey & Smart reported Monday that Humphrey and his wife have total assets of $171,396.

This is within striking distance of the $260,730.57 in net assets credited to Republican vice presidential candidate William E. Miller and his wife. But it's a long way distant from the $1.7 million in net assets GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater listed for himself and his wife and the $3,484,098 an auditors' statement credited to President and Mrs. Johnson.

A shower of criticism greeted the Johnson figure when it was made public last month because the assets were on a cost basis — perhaps one-third or less of present market value. Some estimates on the Johnsons' worth ranged up to $14 million.

Humphrey's report, on the other hand, was made on the basis of present market value — a "basis of reporting we believe to be appropriate in the circumstances," the accountants said in a statement.

To arrive at the final figure of $171,396, liabilities of $19,887 were subtracted from total assets of $191,283.

The liabilities included an $8,887 mortgage on a home in Waverly, Minn., and household bills totaling $1,000.

Among the assets were $20,140 in the U.S. Civil Service retirement fund, government notes and bonds of $45,913, stocks and bonds worth $40,389 and $7,341 in cash in banks.

Real estate in Chevy Chase, Md., and in Waverly was listed at a total market value of $64,000.

A registered pharmacist, Humphrey has a $3,900 stock interest in the family pharmacy in Huron, S.D.

Before the report was released, the Democratic vice presidential nominee predicted it would show he is eligible neither for aid from the poverty program nor for membership in the millionaires' club. But, he said then, "There'll be enough there to take care of Mother."

Postcards To Be Updated

CULPEPER, Va. (AP) — This northern Virginia town of 2,500 is going to get updated — on postcards.

For some time many residents and businessmen have complained about the 1930 vintage postcards sold here, showing Stutz and Essex automobiles parked before rustic shops. The manufacturers said estimated sales didn't justify a new issue.

Monday night the Chamber of Commerce got good news. A local photographer agreed to furnish cards showing Culpeper with its 1964 clothes on.

Officers Searching For Eustace Bank Robber

ATHENS, Tex. (AP) — East Texas officers continued their search today for a lone gunman who robbed the First State Bank of nearby Eustace of an estimated $18,000.

The robber, who wore adhesive tape patches on his face, was described by his victims Monday as about 30, 6-feet-2, slender and having hazel eyes.

He fled the Eustace bank in a small green car driven by a waiting companion. The automobile was later found burned in what officers said was "a wild, uninhabited area" between Payne Springs and Houston. Investigators said the car had been stolen earlier at Mineola last Thursday.

Joining in the robbery investigation were four Texas rangers, five agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and six units of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Dist. Atty. Mack Wallace made the estimate of the bank loss.

Mrs. Ross Chambers, the bank's cashier said the man came into the bank Monday morning and asked to cash a check. She said he then pulled out a pistol, handed her a pillow-slip and demanded that it be filled with money.

Bullets Fired At Mexican Train

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico (AP) — Bullets spattered two cars of a Mexico City-Nuevo Laredo passenger train Monday but no casualties were reported. Damage to the train was slight.

Railway officials said the train, with approximately 3,500 passengers aboard, had just left the station at Laventanill, near here.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Trouble Not New To XB70

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The nation's biggest bomber ran into trouble its first time up, but trouble is nothing new to the XB70, a breed of plane regarded by some as an absolute must and by others as an obsolete bust.

Off the drawing boards the better part of a decade, the 185-foot-long monster finally got off the ground Monday, and:

—First off, developed either instrument or mechanical trouble and went through most of its 65-minute maiden flight with one of its six engines dead.

—Developed landing gear trouble, and, as a precaution, kept its wheels and its speed down the rest of the flight.

—Landed with a fiery splash, burning two tires that apparently were held rigid by a locked brake.

The Air Force brushed aside these annoyances, expressed satisfaction with the flight, and said it expects the triangular-winged craft to carry on as a research vehicle — a role somewhat less dramatic than the one in which the XB70 was originally cast.

The XB70, which has a slender fuselage and looks like a flying serpent, was designed to go as fast as 2,000 m.p.h. and as high as 80,000 feet.

Monday it was expected to reach 700 or 800 m.p.h. and about 35,000 feet, but the malfunctions held the speed to about 375 m.p.h. and the altitude to 16,000 feet.

About $1.2 billion has already been sunk into the XB70 program. Before the testing is over the investment may be $1.5 billion.

The Air Force issued a requirement for such a plane in October 1954. North American won a design competition the next year.

The first flight was to have been in December 1962, but there were technical delays.

Fire Truck Has Very Little Value

GALVESTON (AP) — A used fire truck doesn't have much value, except perhaps to a fire department.

A Galveston tavern operator wouldn't even take one in trade for a case of beer.

Elmer Scates, 48, was charged with felony theft after police found a missing truck from the airport fire station parked in front of a tavern Monday.

Officers summoned to the tavern asked who was driving it. Scates said he was and told them he had tried to trade it for a case of beer at another place but had been refused.

He said he found himself at the airport without transportation back to town. At the time firemen were away on fire prevention inspections.

Gorillas Can't Take A Hint

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Woodland Park Zoo's Frank Vincenzi is tired of hearing jokes about his two unmateable gorillas, Bobo and Fifi.

He asked a Tacoma couple, Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Johnston, to bring over their baby gorillas Monday in hopes the young ones might give his charges romantic ideas.

Despite the babies' rompings, Bobo tossed garbage, and Fifi turned a cold shoulder.

UNCLE SAM'S ATTIC CONTAINS OODLES OF SURPLUS ITEMS

Surplus And Salvage Rates As Big Business At Webb

They call it Uncle Sam's attic. After taking a stroll through the area you can see why. The Redistribution and Marketing Activity, a part of Webb Air Force Base Supply Services, is the more enlightened name for what used to be known as the salvage yard.

Excess, surplus and obsolete items to the base mission are collected in this area and are disposed of in accordance with Department of Defense and Air Force regulations.

You may find such items here as obsolete aircraft parts of all kinds, ambulances, buses, trucks, rubber, plastic and metal scrap, items of Air Force uniforms, flight helmets, oxygen masks, tools, dental equipment —you name it, they've got it.

Why is there military surplus? The Department of Defense retains only usable property for which there is a current or foreseeable requirement. Property is declared surplus when it becomes excess to military requirements because of changes in defense needs or unsuitable because of wear and tear or obsolescence or when it cannot be used by any other Federal agency.

In conformance with these provisions, materials and equipment received at Redistribution and Marketing are first offered as donations to Federal Government activities in the area who might have a possible use for them.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the Veterans Hospital, Civil Air Patrol and others have been recipients of surplus items in the past. The Boy Scouts and other boys clubs are also offered items that could prove useful in their craft work.

Only after items are offered for donation to other Federal agencies are they put up for sale to the general public. A retail sales store is operated at Webb AFB (Bldg. number 661) from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday where these items may be inspected, bid on or purchased.

Items of equipment or supplies with a value of $250 or less may be bought outright. Material with an original acquisition value of over $250 must be purchased through sealed bids.

In 1963 the value of donations, transfers to other Federal activities and outright sales of merchandise amounted to a half million dollars. At this date income from these same sources amounts to $301,085.00. Cletus H. Piper, disposal officer, hopes to reach the one million dollar mark by Dec. 31.

Politics Makes Series Debut

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Appropriately enough in this highly political season, a television series about politics had its CBS network debut Monday night.

Perhaps it is the marked contrast to the endless inanities of the raft of new comedy shows or perhaps it is the welcome change from the sad personal problem series, but "Slattery's People" seems like a most attractive and intelligent addition to the schedule.

The central character, Slattery — no first name — is the minority leader of the lower house of a state legislature.

The first episode had a veteran legislator with a fine record accused of using his position as chairman of an important committee to smother a bill without a vote by his committee.

Before the hour was over, we had some idea of the workings of a state legislature, the pressures on its senators and assemblymen, all in addition to an interesting problem in political morality.

Richard Crenna, who hitherto has been seen almostly entirely in rather silly comedy roles, comes on strong as a hard-headed, tough-minded idealist.

It was a well-made, thoughtful program with dramatic values.

Earlier, there was the debut of a CBS comedy, "Many Happy Returns." The series is the brainchild of Parke Levy who once gave us "December Bride." His new effort originally was called "December Groom," which is a clue of sorts.

Also on CBS Monday night, Steve Allen took over Garry Moore's old job on "I've Got a Secret" with a program that practically abandoned the long-playing show's format. This was rather welcome for a change, but the panel of four looked a little put out because it had so little to do.

Lucille Ball started her new CBS comedy season on roller skates and wound up in a fish pond, indicating that there, at least, it will be funny business as usual. Miss Ball is still the funniest female in television.

Foes Working On Film Together

CAMP DRUM, N.Y. (AP) — Two generals who were foes in the Battle of the Bulge nearly 20 years ago are working together at this northern New York Army training center.

Retired Gen. Bruce C. Clarke of the U.S. Army and Gen. Hasso E. Von Manteuffel of Duesseldorf, Germany, are advisers for a motion picture about the World War II battle.

Flying Doctors Set Meeting

Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Lurting and daughter, and Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Talbot Jr., will fly to the tenth annual meeting of the Flying Physicians Association in Palm Springs, Calif., Sept. 27-Oct. 2. Dr. Lurting is a director of the international organization.

The Lurtings will leave Howard County Airport Saturday afternoon, and will spend the night in El Paso, before continuing to California. The Talbots will leave Big Spring Sunday morning.

The association was founded to promote general aviation safety and to assist in the nation's Civil Defense effort. The members are organized and prepared to fly to any part of continental United States to provide medical aid and assistance in the event of a major disaster. The association has more than 1,600 members, with 127 in Texas.

"The continuing theme for the scientific portion of the program will be the importance of safety in the operation of private aircraft," Dr. Lurting said.

Some of those selected to appear on the program are Dr. Theodore J. Curphey, chief medical examiner-coroner of Los Angeles County, Dr. Stanley R. Mohler, director of the Civil Aeromedical Research Institute, Oklahoma City; Dr. M. Samuel White, Federal Air Surgeon, Federal Aviation Agency; and Dr. Albert H. Schwichtenberg, director of the Department of Aero-Space Medicine and Bioastronautics, Lovelace Foundation, Albuquerque, N. M.

Bring out the beauty in your home . . .

with modern light for living . . .

The lighting in your home can do much more than merely dispel darkness. Good light in the living room, for example, can add an atmosphere of charm and cheer. It can bring out the beauty of your furnishings. It can make the room a hospitable background for entertaining . . . and an inviting center for your family's leisure hours. To enjoy both beauty and eye comfort in the living room, you need three kinds of light: (1) general lighting for overall room illumination; (2) local lighting at chairs and sofas for close visual tasks; (3) accent lighting for decorative purposes. Your lighting dealer will gladly help you choose the lamps and fixtures you need for modern Light for Living. Or call our office and we'll send a lighting specialist to help you with suggestions.

For close visual tasks, like reading or sewing, portable lamps should be a part of each furniture grouping. The average living room needs from three to five portable lamps.

Overall lighting adds glamour and spaciousness to rooms. A lighted valance like this provides indirect light on the ceiling plus dramatic downlight on drapes and wall.

Accent lighting with recessed or exposed downlights brings out focal points of beauty. Lighted wall brackets may be used for the same purpose.

Couple Pledges Vows In Fort Worth Rites

LAMESA (SC) — Miss Mary Lou McCreless became the bride of Kirk Douglas Wiggins in a candlelight ceremony at First Methodist Church of Fort Worth Saturday at 8 p.m. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. James B. Ansley, chaplain of Harris Hospital, Fort Worth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McCreless of Fort Worth, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Wiggins of Lamesa.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white bridal taffeta with a circlet neckline appliqued in Venice lace, with short sleeves and a dropped waistline. The circular-shaped skirt was softly draped in garland fashion with motifs of the lace to enhance the sweep of the train. A satin and lace pillbox embroidered in pearls held the butterfly silk illusion veil.

The church altar was decorated with large arrangements of white gladiolas with side arrangements of two large candle trees flanked by columns of greenery. On the floor level were four pairs of votive candelabra and the choir rail was lined with votive lights.

Miss Margie McCreless of Dallas served her sister as maid of honor. Nat Self of Lamesa was best man. Bridesmaids were Miss Jane Landreth, Miss Kay Sealy, Miss Libits Potter, and Mrs. Bob Seymour, Fort Worth; and Miss Jane Shotts of San Antonio.

For traveling the bride chose a royal blue wool suit with floral silk blouse, black alligator accessories and a black velvet pillbox hat. The couple will be at home at 3403 Binkley, Dallas, after a short wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of Arlington Heights High School and is enrolled at Southern Methodist University. The bridegroom is a graduate of Lamesa High School and Southern Methodist University. He is a credit-management trainee of Sears-Roebuck.

AT COLORADO CITY

Methodist Guilds Meet For District Convention

Martha Wesleyan Service Guild of First Methodist Church was represented by 21 members at the Big Spring district meeting, held in First Methodist Church at Colorado City, Sunday afternoon.

Following the hymn service, Mrs. Gary E. Williams, district secretary, Colorado City, extended a welcome to the guilds. Mrs. Bert Affleck gave the devotion, "Dynamic Discipleship."

Singing a cappela the hymn, "Lift Thine Eyes to the Mountains," were Mrs. Frank Derigibus, Betty Garrett and Mrs. Darris Egger. Mrs. S. Gorman called the roll of guilds, with a record attendance of 77 from Andrews, Big Spring, Colorado City, Lamesa, Midland, Coahoma, Snyder, Sparenburg and Stanton.

Workshops were conducted for chairmen of spiritual life, promotion, missionary education and Christian social relations. Mrs. Merle Stewart met with guild treasurers to discuss finances.

Mrs. Williams spoke to the group on "New Purpose of the Guild." Also, she read the poem, "Discovery."

An invitation was extended by members of Trinity Methodist Church, Snyder, for the spring district meeting.

Following the benediction by Mrs. Affleck, refreshments were served in Fellowship Hall.

AAUW Guests Hear Mrs. Percy J. Pace

Heading the receiving line Monday evening at a seated tea given by the American Association of University Women was Mrs. Percy J. Pace, San Angelo, the guest speaker. Joining her were Miss Mary Foreman, president of the local chapter, and Mrs. Gary Sims, first vice president.

MRS. PERCY PACE

Guests were registered by Mrs. W. H. Hallmark, membership chairman, and she was assisted by Mrs. Harlan Huibregtse.

Refreshments were served from an ecru lace covered table centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and cattails. Silver tea and coffee services were placed at each end of the table. Miss Nell Brown and Mrs. Dan Shockey served.

Miss Foreman and Mrs. Sims made the introductions, and the area topics of study were presented. Mrs. John Harley introduced "The Occident and the Orient," saying that this group would meet Oct. 5 at her home at 2607 Cindy Lane at 7:30 p.m. The second topic, "The American Family in A Changing World," will be studied by a group meeting with Mrs. Reagan Easley, 613 Bucknell, at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 6.

Mrs. Pace, state implementation chairman, spoke on the subject, "Changes, Concerns and Challenges of the American Family." She spoke of the knowledge explosion of our era and the adaptability of women to change, especially in causing higher standards of living.

She said that there are fewer girls in college today than there were 10 years ago in relation to the population and called this human erosion. In referring to drop-outs, she said they were unschooled, unskilled and unemployed.

Mrs. Pace gave aspects of change, saying that women are to expect change, accept change, assume responsibility for the direction of change, and see oneself in the change.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Unaccustomed as they are to rain and cloudy days, our morning glories, backward about blooming all summer, stayed open all day Monday waiting for the morning sun to come up so they could close up. This day that starts our autumn season found the willows taking on the appearance of ballerina dancers whose frilly skirts were wilted by rain. They have hardly moved a leaf; the tree seems to be waiting for the cold and windy days that will shake it clear of its foliage.

The ROY SMITHS were glad to be back home from their enjoyable trip to New York. They, like all the other vacationers, were excited about all the interesting sights and shows, but home always looks good.

The Smiths have been in New York to visit Smith's son and daughter-in-law, MR. and MRS. ROY D. SMITH. He is an architect and she is a television model.

Time didn't hang heavy with the couple who attended the World's Fair, two baseball games, toured the American Museum of Natural History, saw the Ice Capades in Madison Square Garden and took a boat cruise around Manhatten Island. Also they attended a performance of "The Merry Widow" at the New York State Theatre in Lincoln Center and saw the Rockettes at Radio City Music Hall. When they saw a production of "Concentration" Mrs. Roy D. Smith had a part.

C. W. DICKERSON is in Kansas City to visit his daughter, JAN, and to help her with her ailing horses. Jan, a feature writer for the Kansas City Star, has a goodly number of fine horses which are her great and good hobby. She had planned a trip to Big Spring to see her parents following an assignment in Chicago. However, when she returned to Kansas City she found several of her mounts had "dew poisoning" which, I understand, to a horse is a very serious thing.

Before returning to Big Spring Mr. Dickerson plans to visit his 90-year-old father, C. R. Dickerson, who lives in Braman, Okla.

MARK TAYLOR, young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor, is in Roby to spend the week with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cave. He accompanied his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Taylor, to Roby over the weekend when they went to see Roby play Loraine. Granddaughter Jane Cave is a Roby cheerleader.

When the Taylors left Roby they went to Abilene to attend the annual gathering of NTS exes of the 1913-14 era. There were eight of the old time students at the Saturday afternoon get-together.

• • •

MR. and MRS. PAUL SLEDGE took the weekend off to visit their children and grandchildren. In Canyon they were with MR. and MRS. JERRY SINK and their three children. Saturday they came down to Lubbock to be the guests of MR. and MRS. CAREY KING and their small child.

As a guest of the AAUW group Monday evening, I was impressed by the number of states represented by the young women who are living in our city presently while their husbands train at Webb AFB. Most of them will be joining the local branch of the association and study with groups, but if they only attended meetings, the exchange of sectional interests and customs should be an education within itself.

Bi-County Council Sets P-TA Plans

Plans for the year were made at the Howard-Dawson bi-county council of the Parent-Teachers Association meeting held Monday at Howard County Junior College. Mrs. M. A. Dunagan was in charge of the session.

Plans of work, programs and projects for the year were reported by each local unit president. The meetings will be held at a different school each month, and Midway school will be the host Nov. 16.

A committee was named to select a new recipient for the council-sponsored scholarship at Howard County Junior College. The committee members are M. B. McFall, Midway and Darrell Flynt and W. M. Romans, Forsan.

The workshop Oct. 10 to be held at Sands School in Ackerly was discussed and details planned.

Attending the council session were representatives from Midway, Sands, Forsan and Forsan Junior High.

George Dawsons Visit With Family

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Dawson and children, Mark, Karen and Steve, of Albuquerque, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Dawson and son, Larry Don, Fluvanna, were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Dawson recently. Mrs. Dawson accompanied the Weldon Dawsons to their home for a week's visit, returning home by plane this week. The George Dawsons visited the L. M. Dawsons Wednesday.

ABWA Group Hears Mrs. Hila Weathers

Mrs. Hila Weathers, volunteer coordinator at the Big Spring State Hospital, was guest speaker at the Monday meeting of the Cactus Chapter of American Business Women's Association. Her program, "Gateway to Service," dealt with the work done for the patients and their families.

She noted that 37,194 volunteer hours had been given by social and civic clubs in the area to aid the hospital.

Mrs. Eunice Hickson was named delegate to the national convention to be held in Minneapolis, Minn., in October.

Mrs. Hickson reported on the Friendship Tea given by the chapter Sunday. The party was held in the home of Mrs. Ray Caudill, 607 Edwards Circle.

House party members were Mrs. Caudill, Miss Hickson, Mrs. C. O. Trantham and Mrs. A. C. Moore. Approximately 25 members and guests called. This was a part of the national organization's membership drive, and chapters from all over the nation met on Sunday at these get-acquainted affairs.

The refreshment table was decorated in the club colors of gold and black. A gold lace cloth over black satin covered the serving table, and a dried arrangement completed the decor. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Mrs. Tubbs Hosts Airport HD Club

Mrs. Henry Tubbs, 601 State, was hostess last week to the Airport Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. Fred Jones was elected treasurer and Mrs. Marshall Brown named council delegate.

Mrs. Ila Mae Dunning had charge of the meeting and conducted roll call on "Some Mistakes I Have Made in Planning." Mrs. Brown gave the devotion. Secret pals were revealed by the 13 members present.

Guests were Mrs. Gayle Hodges, Mrs. R. P. Morton, Mrs. Edward Mikolajczyk, Mrs. Dale Ditto and Mrs. Larry Phillips.

Mrs. Dunning will be hostess at the Sept. 18 meeting at 1209 Runnels when Herb Helbig will talk on landscaping.

New Age Studied By WSCS Group

Mrs. Cliff Hale presented the program, "New Purpose For a New Age," at the Monday meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service at Kentwood Methodist Church. A salad supper was held for 21 members.

Mrs. Henry Parmenter presided and announced fund raising projects would include the sale of vanilla and a rummage sale. The group will hold a game party for patients at Bennett House on the second Tuesday of each month.

A workshop will be held Thursday at the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Weldon Nuckolls worded the closing prayer.

Mrs. D. F. Carlisle To Join Husband

Mrs. Donald F. Carlisle will leave Saturday for California to visit relatives prior to a move to Okinawa where she will join her husband, Airman 1. C. Carlisle, who is stationed at Naha Air Force Base.

The couple will remain in Naha until next summer. Mrs. Carlisle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Jones, 3007 Cactus.

when you call Grandmother

...YOU DON'T EXPECT TO REACH TIMBUKTU

Naturally, when you call Grandmother's phone, that's the one you expect to get, and you do. But that's not as easy as it sounds.

Your call must work its way through all sorts of interconnections, wires, cables, switches and so forth until, finally, it picks the right phone out of some 83 million in the U.S.

Yet, out of all the possible chances for mistakes, your call goes where you sent it . . . in town or out-of-town, to Grandmother, wherever she is. This sort of reliability is the result of service improvements that keep increasing the convenience and personal value of your telephone.

KRAZY OR CRAZY, IT ADDS TO ONE BIG DAY OF SALES

Crazy man, and getting crazier by the minute.

This is the way the Krazy Sidewalk Sale for Monday (Sept. 28) shapes up for Big Spring retailers. Initial contacts produced 24 stores as participants, and operators predicted it would be one of the best united efforts of Big Spring merchants in many years. Only about a third have been contacted so far and many others are expected to sign this week.

Object of the Krazy Sidewalk Sale will be to stage "one great day of selling."

Stores will display merchandise out on the sidewalk in front of their business. Hot leader specials will attract lucky customers who get there early for best selections.

Newspaper, radio and television outlets will keep people informed about this big sale spectacle a week hence.

Everyone Has Fun In Legion's Parade

DALLAS (AP)— Rain poured down and dripping American Legion bandsmen from Valley City, N.D., marched along tootling "Somewhere Over the Rainbow."

Along came a Hutchinson, Kan., drum and bugle corps doing a lusty "Row, Row, Row Your Boat."

And as a group of Brownsville musicians struck up "September in the Rain," a couple of matronly women spectators stepped off the curb and danced gaily in the street.

Everybody had fun Monday as the Legionnaires, many now portly and graying, marched between motor units carrying old soldiers no longer able to keep pace and assorted beauties.

Actually, the rain didn't fall throughout the five-hour parade, which was a prelude to today's first general sessions of the 44th annual convention of the ex-servicemen.

The procession began in sunshine, showers grew into a near-cloudburst and then the sun popped out again in about 30 minutes. Near the end Legion national commander Daniel Foley, who stuck to the reviewing stand through the deluge, remarked: "It's a lovely afternoon."

Formal sessions began today for Legion delegates. After a morning of committee reports, they were to hear a keynote address by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara. He was invited after President Johnson declined an invitation.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, will speak at the convention Wednesday afternoon.

By police estimates more than 100,000 spectators viewed the giant parade. Gov. Pedro R. Dizon of Bataan Province in the Philippines was among guests on the reviewing stand.

Miss Lena Nearn of Memphis, Tenn., drew applause as she marched in her World War I nurse's uniform.

Trudging with the Oklahoma delegation was Clarence R. Kneedler, 70, of Kaw, Okla., in his 1918 private's uniform with moth-eaten puttees.

Adam T. Raczkowski, 69, of Southington, Conn., strode along in full field pack, likewise of World War I vintage.

Clouds Bring Little Rain

Slow and intermittent rain fell over Howard County Monday, with measurements showing from a trace to .60 of an inch. Low, heavy clouds kept the air moist and brought a heavy dew this morning, but there were no hard rains reported.

The Big Spring Experiment Station gauge showed .21 of an inch; Texas Electric Service Co. switching station gauge, in northeast Big Spring, showed .15; College Park area .30.

Area reports showed Otis Chalk .50 of an inch, Forsan .26, Ackerly .30, Knott, up to .30 and .50 in the surrounding area, Coahoma .25, Lomax area slow drizzle, Lees Store .60, Moss Creek Lake sprinkle, Leland Wallace ranch 9 miles northeast .40 at the ranch house, Elbow .20, Fairview not enough to measure. The fall was heavier on the E. S. Crabtree farm between Fairview and Big Spring, although no measurement was made.

At Vealmoor where .90 of an inch fell early yesterday morning around 9 o'clock, only a drizzle was reported through last night.

None of the rain ran off and it may aid pasture grass, even though it is late for most crops.

Texas Electic reports from east of Howard County indicated the rainfall was heavier. Colorado City had .51 of an inch, Morgan Creek plant .25, and Sweetwater 1.48 inches.

EXIT OLD MAN SUMMER, AND WHO MOURNS HIS PASSING?

There should be some changes soon.

Old Man Summer, who certainly has made things rough on Howard Countians this year, has been fired and will officially be out of the picture as of 6:17 p.m. this date.

He will be replaced by Autumn who may be a little easier on folk than her predecessor.

Autumn seems to have been trying out her tools the past few days. The temperature has been milder, nights have been cooler, and clouds have provided light showers.

Autumn holds sway hereabouts until 1:50 p.m. Dec. 21. On that date, Winter officially begins.

Meantime, Tuesday morning's low temperature of 56 degrees gave the citizenry a taste of how nice things can be in West Texas in the early fall.

Dawson's Fair Opens Wednesday

LAMESA (SC) — The annual Dawson County fair begins a three-day stand here Wednesday.

Dairy cattle, agricultural exhibits, ladies' exhibits, sheep, poultry, rabbits, beef cattle and commercial steers are scheduled to go before the judges on opening day. The swine show is slated for Thursday and special events on Friday.

Sponsored by the Dawson County Fair and Livestock Association, the fair is open to agricultural products and livestock grown or processed in Dawson, Terry, Lynn, Garga, Gaines, Borden, Andrews, Martin, Howard counties.

Mrs. V. W. McGee is general superintendent of the women's division, while L. E. Griffin and Mrs. Welton Blair are co-general superintendents. Other superintendents: Monte Griffin, livestock; Vernon Bratcher, cattle; Stanley White, swine; Ralph Beach, sheep; and A. B. Cohorn, bantams and poultry; Gail Harris, agriculture; F. J. McCauley, exhibits.

A featured art show and flower show are headed respectively by Mrs. George Hart and Mrs. Charnell Jobe. Judging in those divisions is set Wednesday.

Twenty-one civic clubs are sponsoring booths, concessions and rides at the community carnival arranged by the Lions and Band Boosters.

Dawson Chest Goal $33,500

LAMESA (SC)—The Dawson County Community Chest has adopted a budget of $33,500 for the 1964 campaign which begins here next month.

Nine participating agencies are supported by the Chest. Their alloted shares of the Chest include Goodfellows $1,500, cystic fibrosis $250, Lamesa Boys' Club of America $12,500, Girl Scouts $4,000, Boy Scouts $4,500, Texas United Fund $750, Volunteers of America $500, Salvation Army $3,100, American Red Cross $5,000. Expenses were pegged at $1,400.

Welcome Of Air Tour Topic For Ambassador Meet

Members of the Ambassadors Club will plan this evening to roll out the welcome mat to the All - Texas Air Tour on Oct. 3.

Approximately 175 guests are expected to be on the air tour. Several of the Ambassadors will be delegated to go to Temple to get acquainted with the pilots and passengers at the beginning of their week - long tour of the state.

Elmo Phillips, president, said that new members would be welcomed to the meeting of the club at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Cosden Country Club. A challenger for new member recruitment, issued by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, will be discussed.

Plans for the club's annual Christmas party also will be aired at today's meeting.

KEITH PITNER

Joins Lamesa Bank Staff

LAMESA (SC) — Keith Pitner, formerly of West Texas State Bank, in Snyder, has assumed his duties as vice president and cashier of Lamesa National Bank, E. D. David, president has announced. Pitner succeeds Gene D. Adams, who moved to Plainview.

A graduate of the University of Texas, Pitner has had 5½ years of banking experience. He has senior status in the Southwestern Graduate School of Banking at Southern Methodist University and has completed a number of banking short courses. He captained the cross-country track team and was a 3-year letterman on the varsity track squad which won three straight SWC track titles.

While in Snyder, Pitner was a member of the Optimist Club, a director of the American Field Service, treasurer of the Goodfellows and director of the Snyder Boys' Club.

Married to the former Chiva Sue Boss of Snyder, the couple has a one-year-old son, Trevlyn.

Jury Ready, Case Settled

Twelve jurors selected Monday afternoon to try a suit for compensation scheduled in 118th District Court found themselves with no work to do when they reported to Judge Ralph Caton at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

They had been told to go home after being seated in the box and to return today. Meantime, attorneys for Thomas Horn Jr., plaintiff, and the Home Indemnity Co., defendants, conferred Monday night and agreed on a settlement.

Judge Caton told the 12 jurors to come back at 10 a.m. Wednesday with their fellow jury panel members. Another compensation case, styled Donald Gene Bagwell vs. Liberty Universal Insurance Co., is slated for trial at that time. The original second case, as announced Monday morning when the docket sounded — John A. Smith et ux vs. Maude Knight Lumpkins, damages— has been passed by agreement, Judge Caton said.

Thursday, if the Bagwell matter is out of the way in time, the court will try either the case of A. D. Blount Jr. vs. Noel D. Marsalis, damages; or that of A. L. Martin vs. Convoy Armored Car et al. This is also a damage suit. Both cases were announced ready on Monday.

Air Tour Plans To Be Mapped

Finishing touches on plans to entertain the Texas Air Tour will be made when the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce meets at 5:15 p.m. Thursday at the conference room. Details on welcoming and entertaining the flying delegation, containing possibly 175 planes, will be discussed.

Cub Meeting

Work on games and crafts as the monthly Cub Scout project was continued by eight boys of Den 1, Pack 48, in a den meeting at the home of Mrs. Ben F. Johnson Jr., den mother, Monday afternoon. The group also discussed a a field trip planned Monday to a local dairy. Theme of the month's Cub Scout project is "Come to the Fair."

Child Injured As Door Opens

A seven-year-old girl, Patricia Ann Rodriquez, was reported in good condition at Cowper Clinic-Hospital this morning after she fell from a car driven by her mother. The mishap occurred at the intersection of North Birdwell Lane and Hilltop Road about 5:45 p.m. Monday.

The girl was taken to the hospital by Big Spring Ambulance Service and was to be released today, according to hospital officials. Ambulance attendants said the Rodriquez car was apparently turning onto Hilltop Road from Birdwell Lane when the car door came open and the youngster shot out. Texas Highway Patrolmen investigated the accident. Parents of the youngster are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rodriquez, Gail Route.

Three other minor traffic accidents were investigated by Big Spring police Monday. A one-car accident at Ninth and North Gregg Streets involved a car driven by Emma H. Cevallos, Coahoma. An accident at Fifth and Nolan Streets involved cars driven by Joe Lee McCormick, Sweetwater, and Julia Kay Raines, 603 State St., and a collision at Fourth Street and Birdwell Lane involved cars driven by Lonnie Carl Nichols, Route 2, and Edgar Chiv Gee, 222 3rd St.

Y Indian Guides Organize Today

Hays Stripling Jr., chief of the Y-Indian Guides Longhouse, has announced an organizational meeting for 7:30 p.m. today at the YMCA. Stripling said the meeting would be for boys in the first, second and third grades at school, and their fathers. The boys have to be youth members of the YMCA, but their fathers do not, he said.

Snyder Man Denied Place On Ballot

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Supreme Court denied today a request by Roy Martin of Snyder to hear arguments on whether Martin's name should be on the ballot as an independent candidate for district attorney.

Lomax 4-H Club Holds Meeting

A program on electricity and a report on the recent county swine judging contest were presented to 13 members and 10 guests of the Lomax 4-H Club Monday night at the Lomax community center.

James Eiland, Stanton, presented a film on electricity, and Gary Posey discussed the recent judging contest. David Adkins, appointed a nominating committee, composed of Danny Fryar, Freddy Newman and Linda Long. Mrs. James Eiland, home demonstration agent for Martin County, was also a guest of the club.

Theft Reported

One theft was reported to police Monday, with police activity otherwise in a momentary lull. Carl Ellis, 814 Hugh St., San Angelo, reported two tires and wheels and a hydraulic jack were taken from his pickup bed while the vehicle was parked in the 400 block of Runnels Street Monday afternoon.

Rotarians Consider Ways To Strengthen Clubs

About 150 Rotarians from the south half of District 573 gathered at the Big Spring Country Club at 9 a.m. today for an all-day institute under the direction of Hicks Allen, Snyder, district governor. Big Spring Rotarians attended the luncheon, held at 12:30 p.m. for institute personnel, in lieu of the regular 12 weekly meeting.

Strengthening clubs through various avenues was the theme of the institute, and counselors, along with the governor's resource men from over the district, took part on the first half of the program.

Membership growth was featured through efforts of the classification committee, discussed by David C. Casey, past president of the Lubbock Rotary Club. The role of the membership committee was handled by the Rev. Don Hungerford, vice president of the Big Spring club, and the roles of other committees discussed by William R. Sewell, president of the Midland Rotary club.

The strengthening of clubs through assimilation of new members featured two speakers. The role of the information committee was brought out by Tommy Morris, president of the Odessa Club, and what the club bulletin editor can do, by Aubrey Webb of the Big Spring club.

The work of the Rotary information committee was outlined by J. B. Nance, past president of the Odessa club.

The afternoon program featured group discussions with Rotary officials and past district governors taking part. Elmo Wasson, Big Spring, led one group; Burnett Roberts, Levelland, led the second; Alton Chapman, Amarillo, Rig Edwards, Sweetwater, also spoke. Gov. Allen summarized the meeting and touched on plans.

Stanton To Host Cancer Meeting

STANTON—Delegates from 20 counties in this area are due to participate in the District 2 meeting of the American Cancer Society on Thursday.

Featured speaker will be Irving R. Rimer, assistant vice president for public education and information. He will address the noon luncheon of the gathering at the First Baptist Church.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and the Rev. W. H. Uhlman, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will give the invocation and Mayor Stanley Wheeler will extend the welcome.

Reports from units, district directors, and the nominating committee will highlight a business session in charge of Mrs. Leo Turner. This will be followed by panels on publicity, campaigns, service and education.

Dr. Berry N. Squyres, Denver City, will preside at the luncheon session, and Elmore Johnson, minister of the Church of Christ, will offer the prayer. During the afternoon Mrs. Sam Joyce, Snyder, will preside over the report session.

Counties from Yoakum to King and from Midland to Nolan will be represented.

American Destroyers Leave Gulf Of Tonkin

WASHINGTON (AP)—American destroyers were reported out of the Gulf of Tonkin today but what they hit there—if anything—remained a mystery.

Informed sources said the two vessels which fired on radar-spotted targets Friday have been pulled out of the gulf between Red Chinese and North Vietnamese coastlines after finishing their patrol on schedule.

The general strike in Saigon was called off today. Labor leaders claimed a "complete victory."

Communications were restored. Electric power and water came on Monday night. Petroleum plants, tobacco factories, most dock facilities, textile factories and municipal buses were still idle but were expected to be back to normal Wednesday.

Government sources said the strikers still out had been given the rest of today as a holiday.

MRS. JESSIE LEE STULL, age 55. Passed away Saturday. Services Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Baker Chapel AME Church, Tenth and N. Lancaster. Interment at City Cemetery.

MRS. ALMA REINLI, age 78. Passed away Sunday in Big Spring. Services pending.

These New '65s Go On Parade In Big Spring This Week

Oldsmobile

A newcomer to the Oldsmobile line for 1965 is the Delta 88, a deluxe companion to the Dynamic 88. The Holiday Coupe shown is one of three models offered. All are powered by Oldsmobile's new 425 cubic inch Super Rocket engine with an optional Turbo Hydramatic transmission Olds has come up with graceful new lines to match engineering improvements, and the 1965 models may be seen at Shroyer Motor, 424 E. 3rd.

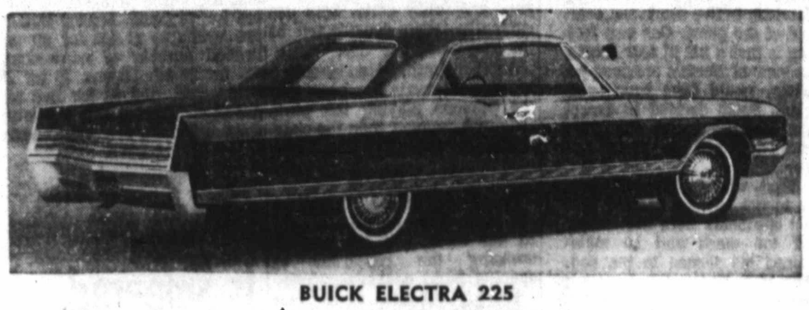

OLDSMOBILE DELTA 88 HOLIDAY COUPE

PONTIAC CATALINA 2 PLUS 2 (Sports Coupe)

Pontiac

An entirely new body design is offered on all 1965 Pontiac Catalina, Star Chief, Bonneville and Grand Prix models. An exciting option for 1965 is the 2 Plus 2 in Pontiac's Catalina Sports Coupe. The option is also available in the Catalina convertible. Another new car in the Pontiac line is the four-door LeMans Sedan. Features of the 1965 Pontiac may be seen beginning Thursday at Farris Pontiac, 504 E. 3rd.

BUICK ELECTRA 225

Buick

Long horizontal lines accentuate the length of the 1965 Electra 225, Buick's luxury series among the several lines sporting attractive modifications this year. A more gently sloping roof line, high crown rear fenders and a sloping rear deck enhance the styling of the all-new roomier body with its curved glass windows. Buick's Super Turbine torque converter transmission and the 401 cubic inch V-8 engine comprise the power train for the Electra 225. Buicks for 1965 are gracing the showrooms of McEwen Motor, 403 Scurry.

Rambler

The luxurious Rambler Ambassador has been completely restyled for 1965 and offers a full selection of models, including two and four-door sedans, hardtops, station wagons and a convertible for the first time. The Ambassador offers a wide selection of engine choices. Front disc brakes are optional on two models. Shown is the Ambassador 900 two - door hardtop. Ramblers for 1965 will be displayed at McDonald Rambler, 1607 E. 3rd.

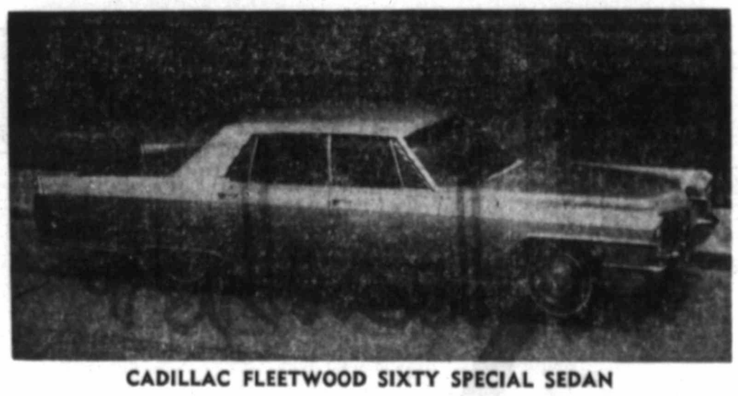

RAMBLER AMBASSADOR

Continental

Improvements in the engine, chassis and body attain for the 1965 Lincoln Continental new standards in roadability, reliability and passenger comfort. The classic Continental line prevails, but there is a new hood with slightly raised panel to emphasize the long front sweep. Luxurious interiors also mark the Continental, offered at Truman Jones Motor Co., 511 Gregg.

LINCOLN CONTINENTAL

CADILLAC FLEETWOOD SIXTY SPECIAL SEDAN

Cadillac

This 1965 Cadillac Fleetwood Sixty Special is four inches longer than last year. The extra length, exclusive to this model, is realized almost entirely in the rear passenger compartment. With vinyl - covered padded roof, the Sixty Special is designated as the Brougham. Many changes are noted in the Cadillac line, to be shown at McEwen Motor, 403 Scurry.

FORD GALAXIE 500 LTD

Ford

The 1965 Ford is the most-changed in the 15-year history of Ford Division. Some of the distinctive features are shown here in the luxurious new Galaxie 500 LTD, top of the big Ford line. This car has an interior of style and quality previously obtainable only in higher priced cars, and luxury styling is combined with a much quieter engine performance. The complete line of 1965 Fords — two and four-door hardtops, sedans, convertibles and station wagons — will be shown this week at Shasta Ford, 500 W. 4th.

Mercury

An entirely new car unlike any predecessor in its 26-year history, Mercury for 1965 is three inches longer and features styling and imparts a look for formality as illustrated by this Park Lane four-door hardtop. Note the combination of gently curving side glass, sculptured panels and bold, clearly - marked character lines. The Mercurys are being shown at Truman Jones Motor, 511 Gregg.

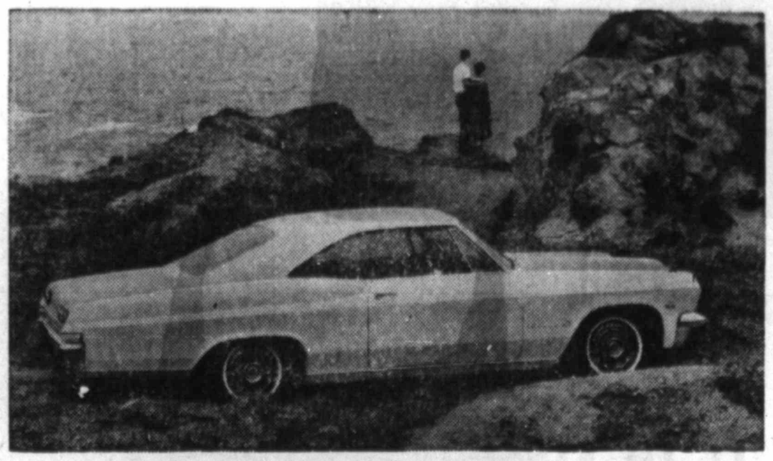

MERCURY PARK LANE FOUR-DOOR HARDTOP

Dodge

Dodge's new styling is exemplified in this Custom 880 four-door sedan highlighted by six side windows. The Dodge line for 1965 includes a new Polara, bigger and more luxurious with 121-inch wheelbase. New styling emphasizes greater width and length and roomier interiors. Engineering refinements include much more quietness, better steering action and larger windows. The wide variety in the Dodge line will be noted at showings at Jones Motor, 101. Gregg.

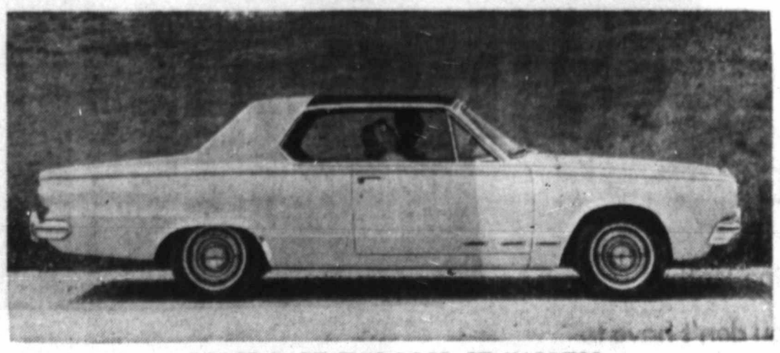

DODGE CUSTOM 880 FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

CHEVROLET IMPALA SPORT COUPE

Chevrolet

Chevrolet's Impala Sport Coupe has new flowing lines, new roominess and a sharp new profile. The roof lines and the curved side windows blend with the contoured rear quarter panels. The Impala convertible this year features an inward-folding top with tempered glass rear window The regular size Chevrolet is available in 15 models in four series. There are many other Chevrolets, also, to be shown at Pollard Chevrolet, 1501 E. 4th.

DODGE DART TWO-DOOR GT HARDTOP

Dodge Dart

Dodge's sporty new Dart GT hardtop for 1965 features an optional black or white vinyl covering for the roof which gives it a Landau effect. The GT hardtop is one of 20 six and eight-cylinder models offered in the new line of family size compacts. The new Dart will be shown at Jones Motor, 101 Gregg.

Civic Theatre Members Polishing Production

The story of four "ugly corporation directors" whose plans to operate their firm hinge on giving themselves $100,000-a-year raises, and how those plans are thwarted by one little old lady with 10 shares of stock, will be unfolded on the Municipal Auditorium stage Oct. 2 and 3 with the production of "The Solid Gold Cadillac." Big Spring Civic Theater began rehearsals for the production, the first of five this season, Sept. 1.

The cast of 14 persons, whose acting experience ranges from none at all to Hollywood road shows and New Orleans and San Antonio little theater, is now rehearsing two to three nights a week and on Sunday afternoons in Prairie Playhouse.

The play's scenes are in three different business offices, meaning the production involves some difficult set changes, since each of the 14 scenes in the two-act play are fairly brief. Sets are currently being constructed at the Playhouse.

Another problem encountered in the rehearsals has been that the persons playing the parts are much younger than the characters in the play, Mrs. Norman Spencer Jr., director of the production, pointed out.

Plans are moving along for the play, Mrs. Spencer reported this week, with the cast increasing the rehearsals as opening night nears.

Playing the roles as the four corporation directors are Bill Anderson, Carl Davis, Clark Frayser and Ed Dale. Anderson, formerly of Lovington, N. M., has six years of little theater experience, in addition to a year of study at Dallas Theater Center under Paul Baker, former Baylor University drama director now at Trinity University, San Antonio.

Davis, a computer programmer and retired Air Force officer, held a part in "George Washington Slept Here," produced here last year, but otherwise lists as his only acting experience parts in grade school and high school productions. One of several Big Spring High School students in the play, Frayser writes music in his spare time and has appeared in several previous productions here.

The other director in the play, Dale, is an Air Force officer from Memphis, Tenn., also without previous acting experience.

The lead part is played by Mrs. Christine Tatum, who majored in speech and drama at the University of Georgia. Mrs. Tatum plays the lady who topples the four director by becoming "director of stockholder relations" and exposing their salary-hike ideas. Jack Richards, a former drama major at Sacramento State College with Broadway road show experience, plays the head of the firm, whose absence in the beginning of the play allows the four directors to assume control and hatch their self-benefitting ideas.

Additional parts are played by Mrs. Betty Kasher, Marshall Cockrell, Jo Ellen Fiveash, Hilary Sherrod, Jerry Kasher, Don Boyd, Bob Tatum and Sally Carr. Producer is Lewis Loveless, Coahoma.

Mrs. Spencer, a graduate of Tulane University, has two seasons of summer stock theater experience, at San Antonio and in New England, and little theater experience at New Orleans. She is a teacher at Runnels Junior High.

Tickets to the productions will be $1 per person, with students and Air Force personnel admitted for 75 cents. Season tickets are available at $25 for an unlimited number of admissions, $15 for 20 admissions, $8 for 12 admissions, and $5 for five admissions. Tickets are available from members of Civic Theater or by calling Carr.

West handled himself in a highly commendable manner in defending against South's six heart contract. The admirable restraint which he displayed thruout the deal led to a richly deserved profit for his side.

South opened the bidding with one heart and North, who had a sound opening bid himself, and therefore contemplated an eventual game contract, was content nevertheless to bid one spade. South now felt obliged to make a display of strength and, tho his suit was not very imposing, he jumped to three hearts. It should be observed that there was no ideal rebid available to him.

North made a further temporizing call of four clubs at this point, sensing a possible slam. South was not certain of his partner's intentions, but he decided to temporize himself by bidding four diamonds with the expectation that North would clarify matters shortly. North now invited a slam by jumping to five hearts, an overbid of the game. Our own feeling is that a bid of four hearts, in view of North's previous activity, would have been sufficient. South decided to accept the invitation with the hope that North had good heart support.

West, who had listened closely to the auction, decided that his opponents were not too far off the mark and he maintained his silence to the end. The risk involved in locating his high card strength to the declarer did not justify the slight increase in revenue which he might obtain from a double.

Inasmuch as he expected the king of hearts to be in South's hand, since the latter had jumped in the suit, West decided to open the ace of hearts to inspect the terrain. If his queen were located behind the king, it would still be protected.

When the king of hearts appeared in dummy, West was keenly disappointed for his second trump trick had apparently disappeared. He concealed his feelings, however, and realizing that South was in no position to be certain of the actual distribution, West calmly continued with the six of hearts at trick two.

Declarer was admittedly confronted with a difficult guess. He finally decided that his opponent was not apt to lead the ace of trumps from a holding which included the queen. South accordingly played the king of hearts from dummy and thereby sealed his doom.

Negotiators Boost Efforts

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union stepped up their bargaining efforts today to prevent a threatened nationwide walkout at the auto industry's biggest company.

Prodded by two strike deadlines, negotiating teams were expected to hold lengthy sessions this week and next to thrash out both a new contract for 354,000 UAW - represented employes and to settle local grievances.

UAW President Walter Reuther served a double strike notice on GM Monday, threatening to pull assembly-line workers off the job at 10 a.m. Friday unless a new national agreement is reached by that time.

Simultaneously, the union advised the giant automaker that even with a national contract on economic and noneconomic issues, there will be walkouts one week later if no settlement is forthcoming on more than 18,000 local at - the - plant demands.

Such a strike would affect 129 GM plants in 71 cities.

The UAW made its move as GM came up with a new economic offer virtually matching the agreements reached by the union earlier this month with Ford and Chrysler.

Claims He Is Smeared

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller said today he is the target of "sleazy, unsubstantiated smears" and charged that the Johnson administration apparently had given tax and other records to "favored columnists and the Democratic National Committee."

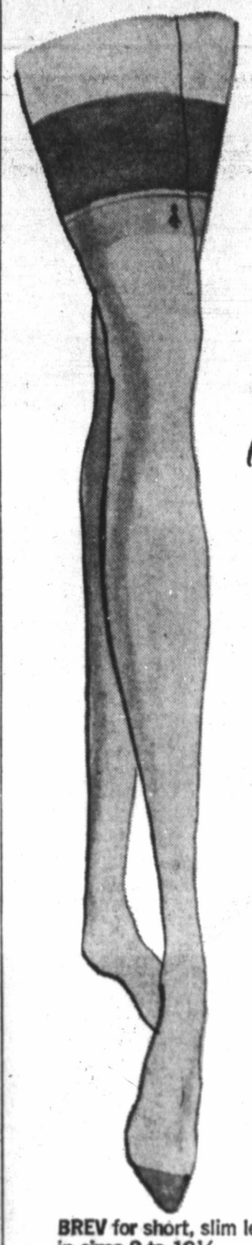

But, said the Republican vice presidential candidate, "combined they cannot come up with any evidence which reflects on my integrity and character."

He volunteered to testify if a full-scale investigation is opened into alleged irregularities in the House of Representatives. Such an investigation does not appear likely at this point.

Miller said the Johnson administration apparently "has placed at the disposal of certain favored columnists and the Democratic National Committee all of the facilities and records of the Internal Revenue Bureau, the Department of the Army and other agencies."

As for allegations against himself, Miller said he would devote no further campaign time to answering them.

'Alas, Poor Yorick'

Richard Burton speaks one of the memorable lines from Shakespeare's "Hamlet," to be presented at the Ritz Theatre here Wednesday and Thursday, with performances each day at 2 and 8 p.m. The film is being shown simultaneously at more than 1,000 theatres over the nation, and is a faithful presentation of the stage play as it was enacted. The film is made possible through a revolutionary new process called Electronovision.

FILM OF STAGE PLAY

Burton In 'Hamlet' To Be At The Ritz

Richard Burton in "Hamlet," one of the greatest attractions in the history of the New York stage, will be presented Wednesday and Thursday at the Ritz Theatre under an unusual arrangement.

There will be four performances only, during the two days, with showings at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. each day. An advanced price prevails, and tickets may be purchased in advance at the Ritz boxoffice.

The showings here are simultaneous with those in more than 1,000 theatres from coast to coast, so that people throughout the country will be seeing at the same time the John Gielgud production which recently completed its smash Broadway engagement and will not be seen again.

The film presentation is made possible under a newly developed process called Electronovision, and through this the film is a direct reproduction of the stage play, so that it is virtually a "live" presentation.

As many as 15 special cameras were used in photographing the play as it was enacted. Lighting innovations also were employed, and images from the cameras were transmitted to a specially equipped monitoring board, from which sound and sight impulses were sent to stations for instant recording and transmission.

The motion picture engagements over the nation are replacing a "road" tour of the play, acclaimed by critics as an outstanding work of Shakespearean art.

Starring with Burton in "Hamlet" are Hume Cronyn, Alfred Drake, Eileen Herlie, William Redfield, George Rose and George Voskovec.

War Of The Wash Now Ironed Out

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — The war of the wash in Richfield Village has been ironed out.

Today no wet wash laundry dots the landscape of the village, a complex of two-story garden apartments housing 1,200 angry housewives and their families.

Wednesday, the Brunetti Corp., owner of the apartments, will send crews to put back the poles and restring the clotheslines they tore down last Thursday.

A truce between the housewives and the corporation was negotiated Monday night by a bipartisan team, Democratic committeeman Robert Hughes and Republican committeeman Ted Breene, of Passaic County. Both live in the development.

Hughes, son of Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, hesitated to call the agreement a victory.

"Let's just say that we have a nice spirit of cooperation and rapport established now between tenant and landlord," he said.

The power struggle began in the dead of night last Thursday when the owners sent maintenance men to tear down the clotheslines.

"What burned me up was that they came through at 4 and 5 in the morning to take the lines down," said Mrs. Robert Graves. "Why can't men face women about things like this?"

Brunetti Corp. said the clotheslines were unsightly. Furthermore, it wanted the housewives to use newly installed automatic dryers — at 10 cents a whirl.

"The old American Monday morning wash is a pretty established thing," said Hughes. "I don't think there's anything unsightly about wash."

Besides, said the housewives, sunlight is infinitely superior to automatic dryers — and free, too.

The wives decreed that if they couldn't hang wash on lines, they'd just have to use what was available. Suddenly every bush and tree in Richfield Village bloomed with wet underwear, towels, sheets and diapers. New lines were strung — from door knobs to trees.

The owners sued for peace.

Comedian Rests In Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Mort Sahl is in New York's Columbia Presbyterian Hospital for treatment of a back injury.

A hospital spokesman said today Sahl's condition was good, but that he would remain in the hospital for several weeks. Sahl was admitted Sunday night after he fainted while riding in a taxicab and injured four vertebrae, the spokesman said. Doctors said the comedian suffered from extreme fatigue.

Booth Plans Talked

ACKERLY—Plans for booths at the annual Dawson County Fair, to be held Wednesday through Friday of this week, were discussed at the regular meeeting of the Ackerly 4-H Club last night. President Robert Herren presided at the meeting held in the Sands High School cafeteria, with 30 members present. He announced the next meeting for Oct. 26.

Surround Heating Units With Plenty Clear Space

A breeze blows curtains over a hot burner on a nearby kitchen stove. Result: Fire.

Fire Marshal A. D. Meador pointed out this fire source in discussing hazards in the home, part of preparation for Fire Prevention Week Oct. 4-10.

"If there is one item in the home that should stand alone in solitary grandeur, it is the home's heating equipment," Meador also stressed. "Noting, not even incombustible materials, should be near it. Once clear space is established, the home is safer."

Space between a heated device and combustible material allows air movement to take away radiated heat. However, without such space, an incombustible barrier or shield can be placed between the heated device and the combustible material.

Toasters, griddles, percolators and other similar appliances are also heated devices.

"If you use them on wooden tables or under wooden cabinets, feel the wood after they have been in use a short time. If it is too warm to touch, protect the wood with a heat resistant pad," Meador warned. Electric irons also need metal stands with air space beneath.

A fire screen should also be placed before the living room fireplace to prevent sparks from being cast out onto rugs. Adults should be certain the screen is always in place when the fireplace is used.

"Almost anything in the home will burn," Meador said. "Look at every item and ask one question: Is any source of heat or anything that can become heated that can reach this object and heat it until it eventually bursts into flames?"

Some form of fuel, plus air and heat are the only ingredients need for a fire to begin, he emphasized.

Academy Could Be A Forerunner

If the Texas Legislature gives its blessing next session to plans of several Texas law enforcement groups, the law enforcement academy which began here Monday at Howard County Junior College will be a forerunner of many other such schools in Texas.

A committee of law enforcement officials will prepare a draft of a bill to go before the Texas Legislature next year to provide funds for the schools.

Plans are to ask that such training eventually will become a requirement for commission as a law enforcement officer in Texas.

"This is a move toward police professionalization by establishing minimum standards of training," Police Chief Jay Banks said. He represented the Texas Police Chief's Association in sessions in Austin last week when representatives of numerous law enforcement groups agreed to work toward the enactment of the proposed bill. Working with the groups is the police training division of Texas A&M University, which is coordinating the academy at HCJC.

The draft of the proposed bill will include 120 hours as a minimum training requirement, Banks said. The Southwest Academy at HCJC provides 160 hours.

Goal of the law enforcement groups is twofold, Banks pointed out. First, the proposed bill will provide state appropriation of money for additional academies in the state. Second, a later state law will require that before an individual can be commissioned as a police officer in Texas, he will be required to pass the minimum training course and receive a certificate of completion.

Several states, including California and New York, now have such a system of state-supported police schools, Banks said.

Three academies are being operated now in Texas in addition to the school which began this week at HCJC. Others are at Weslaco, Arlington and College Station.

While in Austin, Banks also attended a meeting of the major crimes committee of the TPA, which planned three regional seminars to begin early next year, including one probably to be located at this area.

Local Democrats To Open Offices Wednesday

Howard County Democratic Headquarters will be open and operating by Wednesday noon, Cecil Riordan, county campaign manager for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket, said today. However, the exact location is yet to be determined.

"We want a room on the first floor of the Settles Hotel," he said, "but we have to get word from Florida before we will know about that location. However, we will have a headquarters going by Wednesday noon and it will be somewhere downtown on Third Street."

Riordan discussed plans for the campaign with members of the Howard County Democratic Club Monday night. He said that he was assured of cooperation by the party members.

He said he had named campaign chairmen for the leading Democratic candidates in the county and that he, assisted by others, would head up the drive for votes for Johnson and Humphrey.

"I have asked Robert W. Whipkey to take care of the campaign of George Mahon, congressman," he said. "Roscoe Cone and Roger Brown will be in charge of Governor Connally's drive for votes. Wayne Basden will be county manager for Waggoner Carr, attorney general and Frank Hardesty will head up the work for Senator Yarborough."

He said he has contacted state Senator David Ratliff; Preston Smith, lieutenant governor, and all other Democratic candidates, asking them what the headquarters can do in their behalf. He added that all county Democratic candidates are invited to let the headquarters serve them any way it can.

The headquarters, he said, will be open six days a week. It will have a telephone and all Democratic candidates on tour will stop there. The general public is urged to make any use of the services of the headquarters that may arise.

"I am most encouraged by the spirit of cooperation and harmony I have encountered," said Riordan.

Resigns His Post

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Capt. Ronald John Robertson, who commanded the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne when it collided with a destroyer last Feb. 10, has resigned from the navy.

The destroyer, Voyager, sank with the loss of 82 lives.

A Devotional For The Day

Seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you. (Luke 12:31.)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, who judges us not by our external appearance but by our heart's goodness, help us to look inward so that we may undergo a spiritual X-ray of our hearts. Help us to chart our lives by the course Thou has set before us; through Christ Jesus, our Lord. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Alternative To Collision

Sen. Jacob Javits of New York has introduced a note of calmness, reason and restraint into the highly emotional argument over the composition of state legislatures. He has reminded his colleagues that "we must appreciate that when we deal with the Supreme Court of the United States we are dealing with a completely coordinate branch of government."

In summary, Javits argued that Congress may not order the Supreme Court to do anything, any more than it may order the President to do anything. To do so is to challenge the fundamental constitutional separation of powers, the carefully studied device by which the framers of the Constitution diffused the powers of the federal government by creating three separate, coordinate branches.

Javits favors a constitutional approach to this problem, one that would avoid a potentially disastrous confrontation between the legislative and judicial branches of government. He has offered a simple constitutional amendment reading as follows: "Nothing in the Constitution of the United States shall prohibit a state having a bicameral legislature from apportioning the membership of one house of its legislature upon the basis of factors other than population, if such apportionment has been submitted to the qualified voters of the state through a statewide referendum held in accordance with law and with the provisions of this Constitution, and such apportionment having been approved by a majority of those voters in that referendum."

This approach avoids the obvious unfairness of calling upon a malapportioned legislature to perpetuate unequal representation. It would return to the people the ultimate choice of how representation in their legislatures should be governed.

Javits conceded that this amendment could not be debated fully in the waning days of this session of Congress. But he promised to reintroduce it during the next session convening in January.

Thoughtful men should welcome this alternative to a struggle which might destroy our federal system.

Profits In Utopia?

A recent issue of the official Russian newspaper, Pravda, carried a remarkable, even a revolutionary, article. In it the economist, Vadim Trapeznikov termed the Soviet economic system "obsolete" and argued for the return of the "profits" system.

What kind of heresy is this? Is this just a Russian version of letting more flowers bloom, a form of Trojan horse operation to provoke public debate and thereby identify dissidents so they may be dealt with? Or does it suggest that the orientation of the Soviet economy is to be changed from centralized management to a decentralized one?

By a process of reasoning which leaves most foreign economists gasping for breath, Russians blandly insist that the return of the profits system would not mean a return to capitalism. They have used this thesis to justify a system of "incentives" to increase production, particularly in agriculture.

To the Western historian and economist the profits system is clearly identified as one of the main way stations on the road to capitalism. The investment of private capital in private business is the next and final evolutionary step.

No Western observer can pretend to have an answer to the questions raised by the Pravda article. But Kremlinologists will add this item joyfully to their files in a continuing study of a mystery wrapped in an enigma.

TOUGHER AND TOUGHER TO CONCENTRATE

Around The Rim

Only Know That It Happens

During World War I, when thousands of Englishmen were being killed daily in the trenches in France, a mousy little man, as colorless as he was devoid of character, went on trial for murder.

For some strange reason, the trial of this nondescript hoodlum engrossed the attention and interest of all of England and spread across the seas to this country. Literally the trial of this unimportant, no-good character pushed the blazing stories of a world war off the front page of most newspapers.

The man's name was Smith, he had married a number of old maids possessed of small estates. He took out small insurance policies on these luckless women and then, when all was set, he drowned his victim in a bath tub. Each homicide was a carbon copy of the first—a factor which led to his arrest and later to his hanging.

Invariably, he would file claim for the insurance he had on his late wife. If the insurance company was a little slow to respond, he would bombard their offices with violent demands that action be speeded up.

Had he deviated from his fixed routine perhaps he might have continued to carry on his grim operations indefinitely.

However, what I started out to discuss is the strange way the public reacts to certain crimes and criminal trials.

The Smith case is only one of a great many similar examples. There have been hundreds of evildoers who have committed murders for the same reason that impelled this little English bounder. Their chronicles and their fates have been publicized, but the public has paid no attention.

Why was the one case so interesting to newspaper readers and perhaps another is not.

There is a certain sameness to many crime reports. Smith used a boarding house bathtub to rid himself of his wives. Another criminal used arsenic found in an insecticide and a third caused the death of his wife in "accidental" fires which trapped them in their homes. In each, the basic theme was the same—a sorry little scheme of an immoral and heartless individual to garner a little money.

What is the difference?

I have long since realized that what I may regard as an interesting and exciting news story may very well turn out to be of no interest at all to the newspaper readers. I have also often found that some item which seemed to me to be utterly colorless and devoid of interest has caught the attention of the public and stirred a demand for more and more detail about it.

I cannot explain the reason for this, these things occur. I only know that any veteran newspaper reporter has seen such inexplainable development many times.

Warming Up Trend Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — Perhaps now the 1964 presidential campaign, bumping along with little fire and less light, will finally get heated up.

The day after he got the nomination Sen. Barry Goldwater predicted there'd be some "brickbats flying around all over the place" in this campaign.

He has been flinging some at President Johnson who has tried to ignore most of them by using this tactic:

STAY ABOVE the strife, avoid personalities, talk generalities, and don't say anything to antagonize Republicans who don't like Goldwater and might come over to his side.

This has made for a dull campaign, although the tactic is understandable.

Since Johnson is away ahead of Goldwater in the polls, without any slam-banging on his part, he can ask: "Why tamper with success?"

But the restraint must have galled him for now he has announced he will campaign all over the country.

Goldwater started roughing Johnson during the Republican convention when he called him a "faker" and a "phony."

BUT, AS IF he had never told this, a few hours later Goldwater was saying:

"I intend to conduct a vigorous campaign. It will not be a personal attack. It will be waged on issues solely.

"I've never believed anybody enhances their position or their beliefs by delving into rumors and gossip about the opponents."

But time passed and Goldwater was complaining about Johnson's broadcast to the nation that he had ordered retaliation against North Viet Nam for attacks on U.S. ships in the Gulf of Tonkin:

"I cannot imagine a Republican president warning the Communists in advance of an action such as that recently taken in response to the attacks on our ships. Certainly the element of surprise was shattered by the advance warning."

UP TILL NOW it has been Johnson's vice presidential running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who has had to do the in-fighting for the Democratic ticket, either with mockery or direct swipes at Goldwater.

Some Democratic senators, like J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, have pelted Goldwater, and so have some Cabinet members like Dean Rusk and Robert S. McNamara, secretaries of state and defense.

It was at this same instance that Johnson made perhaps his severest public criticism of Goldwater.

HE ACCUSED HIM of making "loose charges without any shadow of justification," thereby "doing disservice to our national security and disservice to peace and, for that matter, a disservice to the entire free world."

Monday night Goldwater, a few hours after Johnson said he would now really start campaigning, stuck another needle in him.

Goldwater "dared" Johnson to debate him — "I demand of him — Debate."

—Although in delivery he changed the "demand" of his prepared text to "ask."—

Only last January Goldwater said he wouldn't debate an opponent if he was president.

"I wouldn't debate him," Goldwater said. "Why buy his audience? Let him get his own."

Goldwater Yet To Hit His Stride

WITH GOLDWATER IN DIXIE—You've flown with Candidate Goldwater from Washington to Tampa, heard him make half a dozen speeches in three Southern States, and he leaves you wondering.

BY ALL THE expectations, Goldwater should start a Southern stampede. But today in four separate cities he punched at Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey without landing a staggering blow. Sometimes his grammar limped. He expressed thanks "for my wife and I." He split infinitives from top to toe: "I want to in closing say again." And sometimes his wit was weak. He joked overmuch about the President's Southern accent, and about Bobby Baker and beagle hounds. He pecked away at Secretary McNamara with little point to his barbs, and failed to bring off an intended satire on Humphrey.

AT A FORMAL evening address with a prepared script in hand, Goldwater did read a strong indictment against the Administration for its alleged ethical laxity and its failure to declare war on crime. But, after all, the Johnsons have only been in the White House ten months, and the crime wave started climbing long before that. The Supreme Court, which Goldwater castigated, also predates the present Administration. You couldn't help thinking that the Senator should have been flailing the Eisenhower presidency for its weak leadership and its appointment of Chief Justice Warren — for Goldwater has been just as hard on his own party in 1964 as on Democrats.

ALL DAY long Southerners cheered his frequent reference to "freedom" through States' Rights. But never once did he hint at race relations, and it's plain that he does not intend to exploit it. By "freedom" Goldwater means a relief from Federal taxation, a return to the States of unspecified functions of government, a relinquishing of authority in Washington.

All this is something that Southerners want to hear—and are ready to cheer—but it is difficult for an orator to express, and Goldwater is no orator. You feel that he is attempting what is almost impossible, and is refraining from something that would come much more easily. He is trying to be a Republican and yet to sell himself to Democrats. It would come far more naturally to him to drop the partisan role and to be only himself, the man who is really not much of a politician at all.

GOLDWATER must have said a dozen times in one day that he doesn't know exactly what's wrong with the country—but he does know that something's wrong. He says this, and the people respond. They, too, know that things were not right under President Eisenhower and did not improve under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson. They seem to feel that the Senator is not really a partisan candidate, and that he begins to labor whenever he tries to praise Republicans and blame Democrats.

Campaign Without A Punch

WASHINGTON — The Presidential campaign has thus far developed little that was unexpected and the six weeks remaining promise more of the same.

What is lacking is a sense of engagement—candidates joined in discussing the central issues of the day. While this may be a naive expectation, it has happened in earlier campaigns when debate has served to illuminate the road ahead. This year they are running on separate tracks that seem quite unrelated.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is being chieftain, kindly father, of all mankind. His appeal for unity is calculated to get a warm response from a people who have seen too much of turmoil and change in the past year. But, standing on the high elevation of his office, he is above the battle and a little remote.

Sen. Barry Goldwater is pitching his campaign on denunciation — on scare and scandal. The moving target is hard to hit. And when the Republican candidate is wide of the mark, as in his charge that President Kennedy staged the Cuban missile crisis to win votes in the Congressional election of 1962, he makes a really whopping and spectacular miss.

WITH SO LITTLE engagement on issues attention focuses on the side shows. The polls are No. 1. George Gallup reports that never in his 29 years of political polling has he found such an imbalance—Johnson 65, Goldwater 29—at a comparatively late stage in the contest.

Under these circumstances organization attracts a disproportionate amount of interest. If President Johnson wins by the landslide the polls currently indicate, it will be in spite of the disarray of the Democratic National Committee. With certain activities excepted—the efficient way news is being funneled out to radio and television stations—it is confusion worse compounded.

AFTER GOLDWATER'S nomination in San Francisco a whole new Republican team was sent in. The old team had not been noted for its aggressiveness or its brilliance. But at least they knew who the paying customers were and how to find the locker room.

Whether the dedicated and intensely hard-working new men can on a national scale do what they did beginning in 1960 to capture the Republican party is questionable. The impression is strong at times that this is a rehearsal—it is skull practice in preparation for cementing their hold on the party and expanding their national base for the election of 1968.

IN SHORT, for the Goldwaterites it is an interim operation. No one is likely to admit this in the heat of a campaign. But as the new men quietly cinched the nomination for Goldwater, with moderate and liberal Republicans scarcely aware of what was happening, so their determination to hold and remake the whole party structure for the long pull cannot be discounted.

Trouble Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that lead to nothing but trouble:

"My daddy can lick your daddy."

"The two blondes down at the other end of the bar look lonesome. Whaddaya say we buy 'em a drink and tell 'em the story of our lives?"

"Of course, it's really none of my business, but—"

"Other wives seem able to get by on their household budgets. What makes you so different?"

"I don't think there's any other car coming around the bend. Go ahead, speed up and pass him."

"Well, I wouldn't mind sitting in the game for a while if the stakes are small."

"Since none of us seem to agree on politics, why don't we discuss religion?"

"Take it or leave it."

"Put up or shut up."

"Put your money where your mouth is."

"I'm feeling pretty good today. Let's play for a buck a hole."

"Are you just going to stand there and let a total stranger talk like that to your wife, Rodney?"

"What do you mean you gave me the best years of your life? If they were the best, I'd hate to see the worst."

"Look, I've handled guns since I was a kid — and I know this one isn't loaded."

"My wife would never suspect me in a thousand years."

"This time I'll carry the ball, and you kids try to stop me. I'll show you how we used to do it at old Siwash U."

"Gentlemen, I couldn't help overhearing you arguing, and I wonder if you'd be intersted in a couple of constructive suggestions from an outsider?"

"If they don't like what I'm doing, they can always fire me."

"You're not just talking to a nobody. I'm a taxpayer."

Richard Starnes

Not Enough Name-Calling

WASHINGTON — The notion that this is to be the roughest election campaign in modern history continues to enjoy great currency, although it is already plain that no such feast of eye-gouging is in prospect.

The baby - kissing season is a fortnight old, and no candidate has yet had the wit or fortitude to say what he deems the simple truth about his opponent to be.

A CANDIDATE gifted in the arts of political invective would long since have alleged that Mr. Johnson is endowed with business ethics that fit him only for a career of selling salted diamond mines; or that Mr. Goldwater simply isn't very bright; or that Mr. Humphrey is a tedious bore; or that nature clearly intended Mr. Miller to spend his peak years running a fixed kewpi doll wheel at a hick carnival.

But no such luck—what we get is Big Daddy disgorging platitudes at a rate fit to gag a bull Sunday School superintendent, and Sir Barry replying with incomprehensible patriotic declamations of a caliber to cause mass catalepsy in a panel of judges of an American Legion oratorical contest.

THE SECOND string is no better. Mr. Humphrey has distinguished himself so far by telling various ingatherings of rapacious agronomists that their cut of the American consumer is all gristle and fatback, and that they should have more. Mr. Miller very nearly violated the tenets of tedium by seeming to suggest that Mr. Humphrey had been the Grover Cleveland Bergdoll of World War II, but he ruined it by stoutly asserting that he would never say such a vile thing and that he was only quoting FDR Jr.

IT IS A sorry display and one even can wish for a reprise of the pool-room barbarisms that President Truman used with such effect in 1948. Mr. Truman understood his audience, and he understood that when they came out to see a political faker at work they wanted to see him wave the bloody shirt and allege that his opponent's mother had been a full sister to Rin Tin Tin. Winston Churchill was cut off the same bolt of coarse cloth; when Nye Bevan had him on the hook in a debate, Sir Winston dismissed the question by calling his old enemy "a bloated bladder of lies" and a "flatulent generalizer."

POLITICAL ORATORY nowadays reminds us of Sen. William McAdoo's description of the speeches of President Harding: "His speeches leave the impression of an army of pompous phrases moving over the landscape in search of an idea. Sometimes these meandering words would actually capture a straggling thought and bear it triumphantly a prisoner in their midst until it died of servitude and overwork."

Try honing up a paragraph like that today and some character with the overpowering aura of Madison Avenue will point out that it is a great line, chief, but you got to remember that TV-wise we're dealing with a nation of half-wits. And we probably are.

Emphysema A Problem Of The Lungs

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain emphysema. I gather it has something to do with smoking.—E. I.

Emphysema comes from a Greek word meaning inflation. The emphysema with which we are concerned healthwise means that the lungs do not inflate and deflate properly.

Smoking greatly aggravates emphysema; what really starts it is not known. Anyone with emphysema should give up smoking completely. Emphysema isn't something you can cure; your goal is to prevent it from getting worse.

* * *

Dear Doctor: What can you suggest other than quitting smoking for a person with emphysema? Is there any exercise? Any medicine?—W. L.

Yes, there are nearly a dozen things that can be done, but emphysema treatment can be complex and the best regimen must be individualized to suit each patient. The degree to which he is affected by the ailment makes a great deal of difference. How much difficulty does he have in getting his breath?

Simple breathing exercises can be helpful by encouraging the greatest possible use of the lungs and not leaving all the work for the power parts.

Positive pressure breathing equipment and oxygen are used to good effect in some cases. Sometimes using oxygen once or twice a day makes a noticeable difference.

A variety of medications are effective, too. Again, remember that this is not a matter of "shotgun medication." The right drug must be used for the particular type of difficulty.

Among those frequently used are bronchial dilators; medications to loosen phlegm and other secretions in the lungs and respiratory passages; inhalants to relax spasm in the respiratory system if that is a significant part of the problem.

Yes, giving up smoking is a vitally important part of the treatment, and that is something you can and must do for yourself.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: The doctor says my husband has arteriosclerosis. Is this the same as atherosclerosis?—MRS. L. B.

They are both forms of hardening of the arteries. Atherosclerosis usually refers to thickening of the inner lining of the small arteries as in parts of the heart, kidney and eye. Arteriosclerosis implies a thickening of the wall of the larger arteries, such as the aorta (main artery leading from the heart) and the large arteries of the legs.

The fatty deposits which accumulate in the lining (atherosclerosis) are more liable to obstruct circulation by causing formation of clots.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I have arthritis of the spine and hips. I get relief from warm baths, and am thinking of buying a whirlpool device that I can use in my tub. Would it give longer-lasting relief?—MRS. R. K.

A whirlpool bath is an accepted form of physiotherapy, and such devices are now available for home use. I would expect this to help you. It can be used as often as necessary for relief. Whether it will make relief longer lasting is hard to say, but probably yes.

Billy Graham

I have had a physical impairment which has left me depressed and incapable of serving and helping. What can I do to overcome these feelings of depression?

G. C.

The experience of handicapped people has shown that physical handicaps need not rob one of usefulness and effectiveness.

Fanny Crosby was blind, but she gave us some of the most inspiring hymns and Gospel songs of all time.

Beethoven was stone deaf when he wrote his beautiful Ninth Symphony.

Steinmetz, a twisted, hunch-back cripple, was one of our most creative scientists.

No one wonders when a bird with two good wing flies, but when a bird with a broken wing soars through the air, the whole world marvels. Your handicap can only handicap you if you allow it to. If your heart and attitude are right, you can rise above your impediment, whatever it may be.

Helen Keller, blind and deaf, once said: "I have walked with people whose eyes are full of light, but see nothing in wood, sea, sky, nothing in city streets, nothing in books. Their souls voyage through this enchanted world with a barren stare."

Slug Plague

MONTREAL (AP)—What is it that a Canadian can legally carry around with him, but an American can't?

The answer is a slug, those thin moon-shaped things so handy for using in coin machines. Slugs are a constant headache to such men as J. P. E. Seguin, security chief of the Bell Telephone Company in Montreal.

The company is plagued by people who use slugs on pay phones.

"In the United States, merely being seen with slugs is illegal," says Seguin, "but in Canada slugs can be bought and the only illegal thing is the use of them."

Antique Overflow

MONTREAL (AP)—Frank Higgins opened an antique shop to prevent himself from being crowded out of his house by his personal collection.

"The collecting was getting to be too much. At one point I had a kick on old clocks. Before I knew it I had 25. It was getting ridiculous.

"Something had to be done," Frank said. His friends came to the rescue. They started buying some of the pieces. When a store two doors away became vacant, he was in business.

The chamber pot is the best seller.

"Most people want them as planters," said Frank. "But I knew one woman who used it to serve potato chips at a party."

Came, Went

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—A windstorm broke a large limb from a tree and it crashed onto Willis Risley's automobile.

Risley investigated during a hard rain but couldn't assess damage because of the leafy boughs.

A half-hour later, when rain subsided, Risley went out to check on his car and found that the storm had carried the limb off to parts unknown.

Most Of Texas Has Some Rain

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Rains spread across much of Texas this week. They brought some relief.

John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the moisture will hasten small grain planting in the more favored areas and aid ranges. Harvesting was delayed.

Much more rain is needed, he said, to build up subsoil moisture for lasting effects.

Moisture helped wheat planting prospects in the Panhandle in areas receiving heavier amounts. The area is short on subsoil moisture and before the rains, most farmers were waiting to seed wheat. Range conditions were poor and feeding started in some counties.

SOUTH PLAINS

Showers fell in parts of the South Plains but generally moisture is short to very short. Feeding and marketing are increasing. Cotton harvesting was gathering momentum before the showers. The grain sorghum harvest was fast but yields were below normal. Some wheat and oats were up and much planting was being done.

Rolling Plains work before the showers was largely the harvesting of cotton and planting of grain. Boll weevil and bollworm activity increased in some counties and web worm damaged some alfalfa.

Most of North Central Texas reported moisture short before some good rains at midweek. Most farmers had been waiting for rain to plant grain. Peanuts are still in fair condition.

Rains helped Northeast Txeas but were too late for crops. Yields of corn, cotton, sorghum, hay and vegetables were a third to a half normal. The sweet potato harvest is at its peak; army worms are causing damage; temporary pastures were being planted with some up to good stands.

PROMOTE GRASS

Light to heavy rains improved the moisture situation in far West Texas and will promote some late grass growth but ranges are still very short. Livestock numbers are still being reduced and calves and lambs are going to market. The cotton harvest is on. Alfalfa is being baled and prices were excellent.

Showers and cooler weather brightened grass prospects in some parts of West Central Texas but pastures generally are poor. The cotton harvest is picking up but yields are poor. Pecan crop prospects are only fair. Livestock were in fair shape with culling heavy and some breeding stock being sold.

The cotton harvest is 70 per cent complete in Central Texas. Major activities were completing the harvest, preparing land and seeding grains. Grass is short and scarce but livestock are in fair to good condition.

In East Texas, the cotton and corn harvests were pressed. Hay is being baled but army worms are reported in Sabine, Montgomery, Madison, Nacogdoches and Trinity counties. The pecan crop will be short. Pastures are below average.

LATE RICE

Except for late and second crop rice, harvesting in the upper Gulf Coast and Southeast Texas is about complete. In general, crop yields were good. Farmers are destroying stalks, plowing and baling hay.

South Central Texas ranges are mostly poor but livestock are in fair to good condition. Considerable feeding is necessary. Hay is in good supply; the harvest is about over; and yields have exceeded expectations.

The cotton harvest is down to the scrapping stage in the Valley and Coastal Bend. The sorghum harvest is complete. Planting of vegetables was slow and ranges were below average.

CONRAD ALEXANDER

Alexander Transferred

Conrad Alexander, personnel management specialist at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, has been transferred to the VA center in Shreveport, La. and will take over similar duties there Oct. 12. He will leave Big Spring in early October.

A native of Lamesa, where he graduated from high school in 1955, Alexander spent four years in the Navy, mainly at Camp Lejeune in North Carolina, as a hospital corpsman, third class. Upon being honorably discharged after a year on the U.S.S. Forestal in Norfolk, Va., Alexander attended Howard County Junior College and worked as an attendant at the Big Spring State Hospital.

He served in the fiscal division of the VA Hospital for one year here, beginning September 1, 1960, and then transferred to his present position.

He is secretary-treasurer of the Big Spring Personnel and Management Association.

Alexander married his wife, formerly Joyce Denton of Big Spring, in June, 1960. They have no children.

HARGRAVE REFRIGERATION SERVICE HAS FOUR MEN
Hubert Donald Barber Jr., left; Elgin H. King, Frank Timmins, and Cecil Hargrave

New Refrigeration Firm Is Located In Big Spring

"If it refrigerates, we repair it."

That is the service motto of Hargrave Refrigeration, 201 Benton Street, Big Spring. The firm also has a plant in Lamesa, 213 N. 1st.

The company features sales and service on all types of air conditioners, meat display boxes, freezers, ice makers, drink dispensers, vegetable cases, and market, drive-in, and cafe equipment.

Cecil Hargrave, owner, says the firm also sells ThermoKing truck air conditioners and truck refrigeration units, and services all makes. He maintains 24-hour service for refrigerated trucks on the highway, and a call will bring a service man in a hurry. The Big Spring night phone is AM 4-8068.

Four men are employed at the Big Spring plant. In addition to Hargrave, is Frank Timmins, Elgin H. King, and Hubert Donald Barber Jr., a part time student. A salesman, on the road at all times for both the Big Spring and Lamsea shops, is Floyd Kile.

A complete line of Admiral household equipment and appliances and modern designs in refrigerators, deep freezers, and television sets, are featured.

Other brands of equipment sold and serviced include Recoa drink dispensers, in which the syrup is placed for ready-mixing at the touch of a button; Carrier automatic ice makers, Freeze King ice cream freezers and shake servers: Day and Night refrigerated air conditioners.

Air conditioning equipment is sold and serviced for both residential and commercial purposes.

"The Freeze King ice cream freezers and shake servers are ideal for drive-ins," Hargrave said. "The Recoa drink dispensers are almost indispensable for these places also, because all that is needed is a gallon of syrup on the top. The water, carbonation, and everything else is automatically mixed in the exact proportions when pressure is released over the glass or cup. This saves a lot of time for the waitresses. The ice cream and shake machine is operated the same way."

For service that is service, call Hargrave Refrigeration at AM 4-5196 in daytime or AM 4-8068 at night for emergency.

Use Lustre For Rugs

From Maine to California, and from Old Mexico to Alaska, housewives everywhere are voting Blue Lustre their favorite candidate for cleaning carpets and upholstery.

Whether it's the dust from wind blown prairies or the soot and smoke of city air that causes carpet soil, the best answer to this cleaning problem is Blue Lustre. This premium quality carpet and upholstery cleaner is the sure and inexpensive way of cleaning fine home furnishings.

So that housewives can clean their own rugs and carpets easily and quickly, Blue Lustre dealers have a handy and efficient electric carpet shampooer that helps get the job done in little time. You don't have to buy one. You can rent this machine for only $1 per day with the purchase of Blue Lustre Rug Shampoo.

Blue Lustre shampoo instantly brightens colors and provides deep down cleaning for all types of rugs and carpets. It is a liquid concentrate, and only one half gallon is sufficient to clean three 9x12 rugs. Blue Lustre is handy to keep around the house to clean those soiled traffic lanes without going over the entire carpet again.

More and more housewives are saving money by doing their own carpet cleaning with the easy-to-use Blue Lustre electric shampooer available at Big Spring Hardware.

Ruiz Steals Home With Winning Run

Chico Ruiz, Cincinnati Reds' infielder, steals home with the winning run in the sixth inning of Monday night's Reds-Philadelphia Phillies' game in Philadelphia. Catcher Clay Dalrymple watches the ball bounce off backstop as Ruiz comes home on pitch from the Phils' Art Mahaffey. Umpire Stan Landes calls the play as batter Frank Robinson watches. The Reds won, 1-0. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Steal Of Home Again Upends Philadelphia

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's taken 150 games but the National League-leading Philadelphia Phillies finally have revealed a weakness.

All the opposition has to do is get a man to third base. Then it's all downhill.

Cincinnati's Chico Ruiz reached third in the sixth inning Monday night and promptly became the second player in three games to beat the Phillies by stealing home.

Ruiz' theft and John Tsitouris' six-hit pitching gave the Reds a 1-0 victory and pulled second-place Cincinnati to within 5½ games of the Phillies, who were beaten by the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3 Saturday night when Willie Davis stole home in the 16th inning.

In the only other game scheduled Monday, Rusty Staub drove in two runs and Ken Johnson pitched a four-hitter as the Houston Colts defeated San Francisco 3-1 for their fifth straight victory — and the third under new Manager Luman Harris.

The loss left the fourth-place Giants seven games back of the Phillies with only a dozen games remaining. The Phillies tangle with the Reds again tonight, seeking to move closer to their first pennant since 1950 sending Chris Short 17-7, against Jim O'Toole, 15-7.

The American League pennant race resumes this afternoon when second-place Baltimore meets Detroit. The Orioles, one game behind the front-running New York Yankees, will start Milt Pappas, 15-5, against the Tigers' Hank Aguirre, 5-10.

The Yankees are scheduled for a twi-nighter at Cleveland while third-place Chicago, trailing by two games, is at Los Angeles for a night game.

Tsitouris, who brought his record to 8-11 with his first shutout of the season, was locked in a scoreless duel with Art Mahaffey, 12-9, until Ruiz darted home.

Chico led off the sixth with a single, moved to third on a single by Vada Pinson and, with Mahaffey pitching to Frank Robinson, suddenly broke for the plate. Mahaffey's throw was wide of the plate and skipped by catcher Clay Dalrymple.

Ruiz, however, was officially credited with his seventh steal of the season on a play that admittedly surprised everyone involved.

Johnson, now 11 - 16, was tagged for a homer by rookie Jim Hart in the fourth inning, then shackled the Giants on one hit the rest of the way.

Staub tied the score in the Colts' half of the fourth when he homered off Bob Bolin. Houston scored the tie-breaking run in the fifth on a single by Jim Wynn, a sacrifice and John Bateman's double.

The final Colt run scored in the eighth on a walk, Joe Morgan's single and a sacrifice fly by Staub.

Jimmy Brown Backs Views Of Muslims

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pro football star Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns says he is not a member of the Black Muslims but supports the views of the Negro organization.

"Some people may not like what I have to say," the Negro fullback said Monday in explaining some statements he made on racial discrimination in this week's edition of Look Magazine.

"That doesn't matter to me," he went on. "The things had to be said. As far as football goes, it won't make any difference. If I can produce, it won't matter. And if I can't, then it doesn't matter either."

A spokesman for the National Football League club declined comment on the article, which is from a book authored by Brown entitled, "Off My Chest."

Among the things Brown, a $50,000-a-year player now in his eighth season with Cleveland, touched on:

—White racial attitudes — "I protest prejudice, but I am a prejudiced man. The white man has forced me to be prejudiced against him. . ."

—Ex-coach Paul Brown — "Although I was billed as Paul's star performer, I had no relationship with him. I wanted to, but his aloofness put him beyond approach. . . my six years under Paul Brown were as much as I could stomach. . ."

On the racial issue, Brown wrote:

"The first thing the white man must understand is the depth of our protest. Does he realize that the Black Muslim's basic attitude toward whites is shared by almost 98 per cent of the Negro population."

The Black Muslim sect is a Negro group that advocates separation of the races and preaches a theory of Negro supremacy.

"I am not one of the Muslims," Brown said. "Yet I'm all for them because we need every possible element going for us. The more commotion, the better. Do I sound bitter? I am not in the least bitter. You don't have to be bitter to fight. If people throw rocks at your home, you don't have to be bitter to come out ready for action."

Game At Sands Moved Forward

ACKERLY — Starting time for the Sands-Roaring Springs football game Friday night, which will be played here, has been moved forward to 7:30 p.m., coach Eddie Gill of the Mustangs has announced.

The Ponies will be seeking their second win in three starts. They tied Three Way in the opener and then came back last week to topple Bula.

AS IS ENTIRE BUFF TEAM

Steer Trio Honored

An entire team that showed a 100 per cent improvement . . . and two defensive lads that were standouts. These were just three of the honorees as the Big Spring Daily Herald's Player of the Week Award was given for the third week.

BIG SPRING

Line—Sam Evans, a senior quick guard and defensive left tackle, was chosen after the Steers' well-earned 13-6 victory over El Paso Ysleta Bel Air for his overall hustle and effort which was rated the best on the team. His defensive work was especially outstanding as he did a terrific containing job on the Ysleta backs who were ranked as some of the finest the Bovines have met in several games.

Back—A pair of seniors, Johnny Hughes and Rickey Earle, were chosen jointly this week as their combined efforts were a big factor in Big Spring's close victory. Hughes, a halfback with tremendous speed, looked excellent blocking and running with the football, but his true value to the team came on passes and punting. He caught several key passes, while his punting was over the 40 yard mark. Earle, also a starter in baseball for the Steers, scored the final touchdown of the night on a 30-yard reverse and then came up with good pass defense as the rugged Bel Air team threatened to switch the final results. Both boys drew nothing but praise from Big Spring mentors.

SANDS

Line—Head coach Eddie Gill chose two linemen this week as both boys were the most distinguished Ponies on the field in Sands 18-6 victory over Bula. Alton Richter, a senior defensive guard, gave a consistently fine performance all night while Randy Hambrick, the left linebacker, intercepted one pass and proved a thorn in Bula's side throughout the contest.

TAYLOR ETCHISON

Both boys played an exceptional game.

FORSAN

When the Forsan Buffaloes scored a touchdown in the final quarter Friday night to slip past the Gail Coyotes, head coach Oscar Boeker was so impressed that he decided to honor the entire team for their great winning effort. It was the Buffs first win of the season in two starts.

STANTON

Line—Wayne Woody, a 205-pound left tackle who goes on both offense and defense for the Buffaloes, was honored this week in Stanton as his 11 tackles during the Coahoma game was indicative of the type of all-out play he showed throughout the contest. In commenting on his play; head mentor Bill Milam said: "He gives us a good effort all the time."

Back—Johnny Swanson, a 140-pound halfback who shows good quick moves and a desire to make that last inch, was the pick for back of the week. It was a good choice. The little speedster ripped off a 55 yard run against Coahoma, the longest run from scrimmage throughout the game, and he continued to make the most of the openings that were his in the line. "If we had 11 Johnny Swanson's, we'd really have a great team," Milam said after the game.

COAHOMA

Line—A senior 201-pound right guard for the Bulldogs, Ted Cearley, gets the nod this week as he recovered three fumbles against Stanton in Coahoma's 36-7 victory and led all defensive men in the coaches' post-game grading. He actually recovered a fourth fumble, for a touchdown in the Stanton end zone, but the play was called back because of a Coahoma clipping penalty.

Back — Tony Butler was the obvious choice at Coahoma this week. The junior 184-pound fullback chewed up 155 yards in 23 carries, a 6.7 rushing average, as he thundered to two touchdowns on runs of five and 36 yards. In proving to be one of Coahoma's finest runners in the past several years, Butler showed a marked improvement over the first game of the season when the Buffs ripped past Rankin, 24-13.

GARDEN CITY

Line—Michael Hoch, a junior linebacker who tips the scales at 155 pounds, was just one of two defensive standouts named by Jack Woodley this week. In showing heads - up play consistently on from a linebacker position, he made seven tackles and intercepted one pass. Since this is his first year to play football, the effort was particularly outstanding.

Back—Taylor Etchison, defensive safety and offensive left end of the Bearcats, was picked on his defensive actions as he intercepted three passes and chalked up three tackles. One of his interceptions proved to be very valuable as his 40 yard runback set up a Garden City touchdown.

Three Yanks Win Easily

SANDWICH, England (AP)— Three American Curtis Cup stars swept into the second round of the British Women's Amateur Golf Championship, with easy triumphs on the windswept 6,017-yard, par 73 Prince's Course today.

The Americans led the charge of 90 top women players from 11 countries competing for the title, held by Brigitte Varangot of France.

Barbara Fay White of Shreveport, La., polished off England's Elizabeth Collis 7 and 6.

Carol Sorenson of Janesville, Wis., had an equally easy time, defeating Maria Luisa Martinez of Mexico City 7 and 5.

Seventeen-year - old Peggy Conley, of Spokane, Wash., the baby star of the American cup victory over Britain, turned in a tidy 4 and 3 win over Mrs. R. Denison Pender of England.

Raider Game Will Tell Royal A Lot

By The Associated Press

Coach Darrell Royal of Texas can't make up his mind whether his 1964 team is as good as his 1963 national champions.

He says he's going to have to investigate further, like, say a game with Texas Tech.

But Texas Tech coaches, in the spirit of helpfulness, are ready to give him their opinion so he can decide now and get out from under the pressure.

Coach J. T. King of Tech says there's no question but that Texas is No. 1 in the nation.

Scout Berl Huffman of Tech is even more helpful. "Texas looks 10 points better than last year's national champions," he ventured.

Royal entered into the spirit of the thing and said Texas Tech is particularly dangerous. "They think they can beat anyone in the conference if they get the breaks," Royal said in a most complimentary way.

But, getting back to the question of condition for the big one —the opening Southwest Conference game Saturday night at Lubbock—both coaches found their squads in good shape, with no new injuries from last week's opening games.

Tech doesn't expect defensive tackle John Carrell to be back but King found that his replacement, sophomore Bill Adams, did a very fine job against Mississippi State.

Rice had tailback Paul Piper practicing with his broken hand wrapped in tape and gauze and Coach Jess Neely thought he would be able to play against Louisiana State Saturday night. "I think he'll be able to do everything except catch the ball," said Neely.

The Rice coach said his team looked better than usual.

Baylor got down to tough work as the Bears prepared to open the season against Washington at Seattle. Pass protection and defense were stressed, indicating Baylor plans to throw plenty against Washington, meanwhile preparing for a counter-attack.

Southern Methodist was cheered when quarterback Danny Thomas and halfback Jim Taylor reported for practice in full gear Monday. Both were hurt in the game with Florida Saturday as McClendon unveiled a new pro-type offense with end Doug Moreau converted to a flanker back. Screen, a junior, got 116 yards passing plus another 67 rushing.

Later in the day, Neely was asked at Houston what was the difference between the LSU team that beat the Aggies and the one the Owls defeated 21-12 last year in Houston.

"Screen," said Neely, with a fixed stare.

Reminded that Screen had quarterbacked the Tigers at the start of last season until injured against Miami, Neely continued, "sure, but he didn't pass against us until the fourth quarter."

Neely Wants Pat Screen To Stay Home Saturday

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The gray-haired football coach got on the elevator to ride down from the press box in Tiger Stadium after watching Louisiana State nudge Texas A&M 9-6.

"What did you think, coach?" asked a sports writer.

"Nice game from a spectator standpoint," replied the coach.

"I mean, what did you think of LSU's new offense?"

"Boy, it sure was hot tonight."

Jess Neely has been coaching football for 38 years — 25 at Rice University. "That's one year more than I'm old," says LSU Coach Charlie McClendon, who takes his team to Houston Saturday night to play the Owls.

Jess Neely wasn't talking much last Saturday night. He had a few things more to say Monday.

Talking via long distance to the New Orleans Quarterback Club, Neely said "Tell Mrs. Screen to keep that boy of hers at home this Saturday."

Mrs. Screen's boy, Pat, guided the Bayou Bengals last

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

JAMES WILLENBORG, the Texas A&M gridder, when asked how he wound up at College Station when three members of his family are now at the University of Texas:

"I really don't know. Just lucky, I guess.

* * * *

TOMMY CAUGHRAN, senior back at SMU:

"This team is mentally and physically ahead of the teams I've been associated with . . . Just because you can't go to a bowl is no reason to lay down and die. You don't play football to go to a bowl. That's gravy on the potatoes."

M. WRIGHT

* * * *

JOE LOUIS, former heavyweight champion:

"The best thing that could happen to boxing would be to get a federal commissioner to regulate it, like the late Senator Kefauver suggested when they had all those hearings in Washington. Nobody ever approached me from any racket guys about doing business on a fight. My conscience is clear here. But if you had one national law to fit the whole 50 states, you might get people to talk about the boxing game as the 'manly art of self defense' instead of the 'fight racket' . . . My two favorites for the job are Jersey Joe Walcott and Jim J. Braddock . . . I think the heavyweight champion should have to defend his title only once a year."

* * * *

AL DAVIS, coach of the Oakland Raiders of the AFL:

"I'm a passing coach. I don't believe in a balanced offense. I wouldn't enjoy coaching a balanced offense. I enjoy the passing game. It has a science I like."

* * * *

BUDDY PARKER, coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers:

"The Los Angeles Rams (who intercepted five passes and returned them 138 yards against Pittsburgh in their NFL opener) don't even need a defensive secondary with that defensive line they used against us."

* * * *

MICKEY WRIGHT, leading money winner on the women's golf tour:

"It's always been my belief that photographers without zoom lenses, so they can get far enough away, should not be on a golf course. If they would start their cameras when you start taking your club from your bag, it gives you an extra five seconds to get used to the noise so it doesn't bother you . . . If I can stay off smoking six weeks, I'll give my ulcer a chance to get good and healed. I want to get back to eating and other things I enjoy."

* * * *

CHI-CHI RODRIQUEZ, pro golfer:

"I hope to take some more singing lessons some day. I am a very good singer. In October I am supposed to do a recording with Mitch Miller. Sometimes I think I might work up a night club act for Chi-Chi. I would like to be in show business."

* * * *

PAUL DIETZEL, Army football coach:

"Tommy Nobis is the best linebacker I've seen in college football, bar none. It was Nobis, more than anyone, who beat Navy. He was all over Staubach."

Snyder Report Due At QBC

A scouting report on Snyder will be given during tonight's meeting of the Big Spring Quarterback Club, scheduled to get under way in the High School Cafeteria starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Coaching aide Allen Simpson was on hand to chart the strategy the Snyder team employed in its game last week with Stamford and will give the report.

Many fans who were deprived of the opportunity of seeing the Big Spring Steers in their winning effort over Ysleta Bel Air last week will get an opportunity to watch the contest on film tonight.

Head coach Don Robbins will narrate the movie. Big Spring won the game, 13-6, but only after a terrific tussle.

The coaching staff is due to touch briefly on Saturday night's contest between Coahoma and the Big Spring team, which will be played in Coahoma starting at 8 o'clock.

Each team will enter that contest with an unsullied record. Coahoma has looked impressive with wins over Rankin and Stanton. The Big Spring B squad has picked up momentum with triumphs at the expense of the San Angelo Sophs and Snyder.

J. D. Stiehl and Frank Sabbato, co-captains of the QBC, will be in charge of the conclave.

BSGA To Stage Grand Tourney

The Big Spring Golf Association has scheduled its second annual grand tournament for the next two weekends.

This end-of-the-season tournament is set up as a bonus for those members who have competed in five or more tournaments sponsored by the association since the last grand tournament in July, 1963. There is no entry fee and $132 in prizes are being offered in each of two flights. The club champion will also be crowned and will receive a trophy.

This will be a 36-hole event with full handicaps allowed. The first round is scheduled for Saturday or Sunday at 1:00 p.m. The finals will be held Sunday, Oct. 4 at 1:00 p.m. The club champion will be determined by low gross score for the 36 holes.

The following golfers are eligible to play in this tournament:

"A" Flight — Eddie Acri, Charles Bailey, Dan Bustamante, Jess Buchanan, Loy Carroll, Farris Hammond, Jimmy Harper, Doug Hill, Dan Lewis, Paul Mosley, Jimmy Newsom, Bill Patton, Joe Peay, Bernard Rains, Armando Torres, Marvin Williams, Novis Womack.

"B" Flight—J. P. Allen, Roy Anderson, Richie Arnold, Rex Bishop, Spot Cockrell, Bill Crooker, Sherrill Farmer, G. F. Gideon, J. P. Gordon, Garland Helton, Jesse Hernandez, Jack Lee, Bill McRee, Melvin Newton, James Petty, Don Reynolds, H. C. Spivey.

White Is Named Prexy Of QBC

STANTON (SC) — Stanton White has been elected as president of the Quarterback Club for this school year. Assisting White will be R. O. Anderson, vice president and Paige Eiland, secretary-treasurer.

Howard Jenkins and Sonny Curry were elected directors for a new term at the recent meeting. Holdover directors are Bob Haislip and Glenn L. Brown.

The next meeting will be tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. At that time films of the Buffaloes' preceding game will be shown and high school coaches will discuss the game and also give a rundown on the next opponent to be faced.

Anyone is eligible to hold membership in the club and new members are invited. Membership fee is $5 and includes all members of the family.

Membership of the club at the present time stands at 120.

Yankees Will Give Mick All The Help They Can

CLEVELAND (AP) — The American League-leading New York Yankees, so set for their final road trip that the most pressing problem is deciding which outfield position is closer to the bench, tackle the Cleveland Indians tonight in the first of a pair of twi-night doubleheaders.

The Yankees, leading Baltimore by one game and two games on Chicago with only a handful remaining, have their pitching rotation all set for the entire seven-game road trip and have had their lone problem solved by a couple of architects.

The one problem is Mickey Mantle, the slugging outfielder with the slipping underpinnings who has volunteered to play the outfield position "which is closest to the bench, Just a matter of having less running back and forth."

The Yankees didn't even have to buy a ruler. The ballparks at Cleveland and Washington — the next stop—are symmetrical, so Mantle was able to have his choice of positions. He chose left field.

On the mound for the Yankees tonight in the first twi-nighter will be Mel Stottlemyre, who has compiled a 7-2 record in the five weeks he has been with the club, and ace left-hander Whitey Ford, 15-6. The Indians' will counter with Dick Donovan, 7-8, and Sonny Siebert, 7-6.

Meanwile, the Orioles and White Sox, both in a precarious position, will be at Detroit and Los Angeles, respectively. The Orioles will send Milt Pappas, 15-5, against the Tigers' Hank Aguirre, 5-10, while the White Sox will go with rookie Bruce Howard, 0-0, against the Angels' Fred Newman, 12-9.

"We're not counting on them to lose," said Yankee Manager Yogi Berra. "We have to win on the field. We must keep the edge in the loss column."

In the loss column, the Yankees have a formidable edge — three over the Orioles and four over the White Sox. The Yankees have 14 games remaining, the pursuers 10 each.

Besides the advantage in the loss column, the Yankees apparently have another big plus in momentum, having won five straight, seven of eight and 20 of their last 27 in the pennant push.

Dumas Returns To Top Spot

DALLAS (AP) — Dumas, which won back-to-back state championships in 1961 and 1962, has returned to the No. 1 spot in Class AAAA schoolboy football.

The Demons beat Borger 34-15 last week and that shot them into first place, knocking Pharr-San Juan-Alamo down to seventh.

Otherwise, the Dallas News poll of schoolboy football remained much the same with Garland and Spring Branch 1-2 in Class AAAA, Phillips and Ballinger 1-2 in Class AA and Hull-Daisetta No. 1 in Class A.

McKinney, which scored an impressive victory over Athens last week, moved into second place in Class AAA, with Vidor holding No. 3 and Brownwood No. 4.

Petersburg, the defending champion of Class A, continued to move up. Petersburg now is No. 2.

Rankings by classes:

Class AAAA—1, Garland; 2, Spring Branch; 3, Amarillo Tascosa; 4, Galent Park; 5, Victoria; 6, Dallas Hillcrest; 7, Pasadena; 8, Houston Lee; 9, Tyler; 10, Port Arthur.

Class AAA—1, Dumas; 2, McKinney; 3, Vidor; 4, Brownwood; 5, Clear Creek; 6, Palestine; 7, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo; 8, Andrews; 9, Kermit; 10, Austin Lanier.

Class AA—1, Phillips; 2, Ballinger; 3, Rockwall; 4, Hondo; 5, Crane; 6, Denver City; 7, West; 8, Iowa Park; 9, Paul Pewitt; 10, Palacios.

Class A—1, Hull-Daisetta; 2, Petersburg; 3, Ingleside; 4, Albany; 5, Idalou; 6, Seagraves; 7, George West; 8, White Oak; 9, Jefferson; 10, Waller.

Ducats Will Go On Sale

Ticket sales for the Big Spring-Snyder football game Friday night in Memorial Stadium begin Wednesday with the ducats being on sale from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. at the school business administration office, 602 E. 13th. Sales will continue through Friday until 2 p.m. at which time ducats will only be available at the gate.

While all adult ducats are $1.50, student tickets will be 50 cents if bought from the schools. Any student waiting to buy at the game will be charged 75 cents. The ducats will be available in the schools Thursday.

Don Crockett, assistant business manager, sent 1,134 adult tickets, located in the east center section, to Snyder, while 500 of the student variety were also sent.

Season ticket sales continue to mount as a new all-time record has already been set. This year's 883 five-game booklets already sold breaks last year's 854 figure.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF HEARING TO APPROPRIATE PUBLIC WATERS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

No. 2162-A

Notice is hereby given to whom concerned that the application of COLORADO RIVER MUNICIPAL WATER DISTRICT, P.O. Box 869, Big Spring, Texas, was received on the 17th day of July, 1964, in the office of the Texas Water Commission. Applicant seeks to amend its Application No. 2162, granted June 20, 1960, as follows:

(1) To change the location of the dam from the point proposed in Application No. 2162 on the Colorado River in Mitchell County, to a point on the Colorado River in Coke County. The new location sought for the dam is approximately 2 miles west of Robert Lee, Texas, with station 74 plus 00 on the centerline of the proposed dam located S 1 degree 05 minutes E 10,645 feet from the southeast corner of Section 412, H&TC RR Co. Survey, Block 1-A, A-1676, Coke County, Texas;

(2) To increase the storage capacity of the dam and reservoir by a total of 85,060 acre-feet (from 403,700 acre-feet at the original Mitchell County dam site to 488,760 acre-feet at the proposed Coke County dam site);

(3) To divert the water to be appropriated at a point which bears S 15 degrees 10 minutes W 2011 feet from the southwest corner of H&TC RR Co. Survey, Block 1-A, A-1676, Coke County, Texas, on the left bank of the Colorado River, approximately 3.2 miles northwesterly from Robert Lee, Texas, and to increase the rate of diversion by 30,000 gallons per minutes (from 40,000 gallons per minute authorized under Application No. 2162 to 70,000 gallons per minute);

(4) To change the amount of water authorized to be appropriated under Application No. 2162 for industrial use from 5,000 acre-feet of water per annum to 2,000 acre-feet of water per annum, and for mining use from 5,000 acre-feet of water per annum to 8,000 acre-feet of water per annum, but not changing the amount of 40,000 acre-feet of water per annum authorized to be appropriated for municipal use nor the total amount of 50,000 acre-feet of water authorized to be appropriated annually under said Application No. 2162;

(5) To add as an additional authorized use, the use in place in the reservoir of the total amount of water impounded therein for the purpose of recreation.

The place of use of the waters used for municipal, industrial and mining purposes will be in the following counties in the Colorado River watershed, but only in those portions thereof within the watershed of the Colorado River: Coke, Ector, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan, Runnels, Scurry and Sterling counties. Notice of this fact is hereby given to record appropriators in the Colorado River watershed, both within the watershed as a whole and within those portions of said watershed in the above-described counties in which the water is to be introduced and used.

Water which is diverted for municipal use but not consumed as a result thereof will be returned to the Colorado River and its tributaries at sites of the sewage treatment plants of cities served by the District within the above-named counties. Water which is diverted for industrial use or mining use but not consumed as a result thereof will be returned to the Colorado River or its tributaries within the above-named counties.

Applicant further proposes to construct a system of low-flow pollution control diversion works in the channel of the Colorado River in Scurry and Mitchell counties, and to use as part of its appropriation for mining purposes polluted waters there occurring, consisting of the salt water, oil field brine and commingled salt and fresh water.

Said application was accepted for filing by the Texas Water Commission on the 17th day of August, 1964, as Application No. 2162-A, and a hearing thereon will be held by the Texas Water Commission, in the office of the Commission at Austin, Texas, on MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1964, beginning at ten o'clock a.m., at which time and place all parties interested may appear and be heard. Those opposing the granting of said application should file written protests with the commission and the applicant at least five days prior to hearing date, giving their reasons therefor and such other information as is required by Commission Rule 305.2. Such hearing will be continued from time to time, and from place to place, if necessary, until such determination has been made relative to said application as the said Texas Water Commission may deem right, equitable and proper.

Given under and by virtue of an order of the Texas Water Commission, at the office of the said Commission at Austin, Texas, this the 17th day of August, 1964.

Signed:
JOE D. CARTER, Chairman
TEXAS WATER COMMISSION

Burn Institute For Children Being Built

By The Associated Press

GALVESTON—By this time next year, the burn institute of the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children will be in operation here.

The sponsors call it the first of its kind in the world, and the Shriners are planning others in Boston and Cincinnati.

The institute here will be the first civilian installation devoted exclusively to burn treatment. The military has a burn center at San Antonio to which servicemen burn victims are flown from throughout the world.

The Shriners have budgeted $10 million for the three burn centers.

The arrangements for operation of the center here were described recently by Dr. Curtis P. Artz, who will head the center.

"The Shriners will provide funds and guidance of the institute and the University of Texas Medical Branch will assemble the professional staff and assume the responsibility for the technical operation," he said.

The center, in addition to treating patients, will conduct research and teach.

Dr. Artz said that the military burn center at San Antonio has "established the fact that a complete team of people from various medical disciplines such as surgery, nursing, anesthesiology, chemistry, dietetics and physical therapy is necessary for study and care of a complicated burned patient."

Dr. Artz described extensive burns as "one of the most complex illnesses to which man is liable," adding that "a knowledge of almost every principle taught in surgery is required for treatment.

He said that many medical authorities have called burns the greatest hazard of childhood.

Among other things, the institute plans to study why so many children suffer burns and what can be done to prevent such accidents.

The center here will contain 30 beds and will be operated on an annual budget of $1.2 provided by the Shrine's 830,000 members.

FOUR OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST ELEPHANTS
Oscar Christiani to put his pachyderms through paces at Shrine Circus

Shrine Circus Features Variety Of Animal Acts

Elephants, monkeys, chimps, trained quadrupeds, dogs, ponies and fighting lions, will be featured at the Suez Temple Shrine Circus scheduled to set up at the rodeo arena Thursday. Two performances, at 3:15 and 8:15 p.m., will be provided to enable all school children and adults to attend.

Through the efforts of the Shriners—the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Association in contributing its facilities—the outstanding entertainment is provided for all who enjoy the fun of a circus.

Merchants are cooperating to make it possible for junior high school and elementary age children to receive complimentary tickets for either performance. Webb Air Force Base airmen will be admitted for 50 cents at any performance.

Advance sale tickets are available for children at 50 cents and $1 for adults. The gate price will be 75 cents for children and $1.50 for adults. Tickets are available from Shriners.

Shriners contribute the proceeds from the circus to their burn institutes and hospitals all over the nation.

Some 16 different acts are to be performed at the circus, including aerial ballets, Ellery Hooper's Band, trained animals, clowns, contortion and balancing, tight wire performance, trapeze artists, flying return trapeze, and many others.

DEAR ABBY

Learning Manners

DEAR ABBY: My name is Dickie and I am ten years old. I went to Montana to visit my aunt and uncle for two weeks this summer and I had a very good time. They own a ranch and they let me ride a horse. They don't have any kids of their own and they let me do just about anything I wanted to do. When I got home, my mother said I had to write them a bread-and-butter letter. This is a letter saying thanks for the good time. Well, I started about 100 of these bread-and-butter letters and they all ended up sounding so stupid I tore them up and called them long distance on the telephone and told them thanks again for the neat time. The call came to $6.70. I didn't think it would cost that much but that is what it came to on the telephone bill. I want to draw $6.70 out of my savings account but my mother won't let me. She says that was no bread-and-butter letter and I have to write one anyway. Do you think this is fair?

DICKIE

DEAR DICKIE: Your mother is trying to teach you something that everyone should know. It is necessary to write a bread-and-butter letter after you've been a guest. Your short-cut showed refreshing (if extravagant) ingenuity, but it did not do the job of a "bread-and-butter" letter. Mind your mother, Dickie.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I just had the biggest fight of the year. We have two children, one and two, and I am expecting again. My husband wants to move to the country to a two-room house. It isn't even a modern house and you have to carry water a full block. The closest neighbor is 15 miles away and the store is 35 miles away. We have only one car, which he takes to work. There is no phone in the house and he says he isn't putting one in. (What if one of the children needs a doctor?) He says we will have no TV and not even a radio as I will have plenty to keep me busy. He says I'll have to make a vegetable garden so we can have fresh vegetables. His reason for all this is that I have too many friends. Abby, I have only one friend and she lives in my block. I visit her maybe an hour three times a week as she is an invalid. And I always take both children with me. My husband lets me go to the store only once a week and as soon as I get home he asks me who I talked to, what they looked like and what we said. His mother says I am his wife and it is my duty to live where he wants me to. Can you help me?

TRAPPED

DEAR TRAPPED: If your explanation of your husband's reasons for a move to the country is accurate your hubby is a candidate for the couch. YOU don't need help—HE does! So help me.

Warren Report Due Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission's report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will be unfolded to the world next weekend.

The commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, which has been probing the Dallas tragedy of last Nov. 22, will submit its findings to President Johnson on Thursday, the White House announced.

Press secretary George Reedy said the report — a volume of a quarter of a million words, plus 20 or more additional volumes of testimony and evidence — will be made public over the weekend. He did not specify the day or hour.

Reedy said he did not know who would deliver the report, but commission sources said they expect Warren and his six colleagues to visit the White House personally late Thursday morning.

The six other members who have been working with Warren for the past fortnight to complete the 10-month inquiry, are:

Allen W. Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency; John J. McCloy, lawyer, banker and former high commissioner for Germany; Sens. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.; and Reps. Hale Boggs, D-La., and Gerald Ford, R-Mich.

They have worked for utmost secrecy and under heavy security precautions, but are understood to have found no substantial evidence to refute the original conclusions of Dallas authorities and the Federal Bureau of Investigation — that:

Lee Harvey Oswald, 24-year-old Marxist, marksman and unstable ex-Marine, planned the slaying alone and executed it from a sniper's perch in the Texas School Book Depository overlooking the presidential motorcade.

And that Jack Ruby, the Dallas night club owner convicted of murdering Oswald two days later, was not linked to any plot or conspiracy of the left or right.

Launching Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first of five light-reflecting satellites, to be used for more precise mapping of the earth's surface and gravitational field, may be launched in the next week or two from the Pacific Missile Range in California.
