Murder A Day In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas had an average of a murder a day in May, police said today.

The 16.4 per cent overall crime rate increase over the same month last year marked the 22nd consecutive monthly increase. Crime was up 18.1 per cent the first five months of this year compared to the same period in 1974.

Murder soared 77.8 per cent with 32 cases, compared to 18 in May 1974.

Police said robbery was up 57.1 per cent for the month. Of the seven major crime categories, only rape declined. May statistics showed 46 rapes, compared to 53 the same month last year.

There were 36,663 crimes reported to police the first five months of 1975, compared to 31,040 for the same period last year.

The report showed a May crime clearance rate of 27.7 per cent, a 3 per cent increase over May 1974.

Life Term Is Paroled

Eugene Mallonee, who was sentenced to life for rape when Harry Truman was President, has been released from state prison on parole.

Given the extremes of five years and the death penalty, a jury assessed Mallonee's punishment at life on Dec. 2, 1950. District Judge Charlie Sullivan presided at the trial over the Sept. 4, 1950, incident. C. C. Balch was jury foreman.

Mallonee was convicted for raping a girl under 18 years old.

Reunion Is July 12

STANTON — The annual Old Settlers Reunion in Martin County will be held this year on Saturday, July 12.

"Golden Olden Days" will be the theme, and the event will include a parade and barbecue.

Bob Sale, president, named committees including parade, Omer Kelly, Billy Houston, Cliff Hazlewood Jr. and Mike Black; reunion location, Terry Franklin; publicity, Jo Cox; lemonade barrel, Fiddler Estes; program, Mary Brown; mystery rider, Eldon Welch; food, Myrl Mitchell and finance, O.B. Bryan.

Others include lights and chairs, Bob Haislip; window display, Opal Jones and Lila Flanagan; special recognitions, Nelda and Johnny Lou Hazlewood; flowers for shut-ins, Sandra Pinkerton and Kay Mims; costume and parade judges, Jendo Turner and Mildred Eiland; recognition of settlers, Bess Stewart, games for children, Tom Ed Angel and special music, Dan Saunders.

George Shelburne heads the memorial service.

Cosden Announces Recall Of Furloughed Workers

The economic picture in Big Spring and environs, if indeed it was ever blighted in recent months, continues to brighten with the announcement that Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. is recalling 25 furloughed people effective this coming Sunday and Monday.

Company officials stated that business conditions have improved sufficiently to allow this action.

Will Admit Political Refugees From Chile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will soon begin admitting hundreds of political refugees from Chile, according to State Department testimony made public today.

Asst. Secretary of State William D. Rogers told a closed meeting of the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday that Chileans would be admitted "on a case by case basis."

There was no official estimate how many might be resettled, but committee aide Dale S. deHaan said there are about 1,200 Chileans and their families now in Argentina and Peru who want to come to the United States.

In addition, Chilean Chief of State Augusto Pinochet has said he would release some political prisoners under the auspices of the Red Cross and the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration, a private group which aids refugees worldwide.

DeHaan said there are up to 6,000 known political prisoners now jailed in Chile, some of them since the overthrow of Socialist President Salvador Allende in a right-wing coup in 1973.

Based on Rogers testimony, deHaan said, "Presumably they (the Chileans) could start coming here in a number of days."

The plan to admit Chileans was first reported by the Boston Globe which quoted Rogers as saying known Communists would be screened out.

Brezhnev Urges Pact To Outlaw 'Terrible' Arms

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev proposed today that the great powers sign an agreement outlawing "new types of weapons of mass destruction."

Brezhnev, while not saying such weapons now exist, asserted that modern technology has developed to the point where "there appears a serious danger of creating even more terrible weapons than nuclear ones."

"The wisdom and conscience of humanity dictates that we set up an insurmountable barrier to the appearance of such a weapon," Brezhnev said.

Escapee Once Patient Here

A one-time patient at Big Spring State Hospital, Danny G. Parker, 21, formerly of Bronte, turned up in the Oklahoma State prison at McAlester after Taylor County officials searched futilely for Parker, a forger suspect, for more than a year.

Hospital officials here inadvertently released Parker but neglected to notify the Taylor County sheriff's office of their decision.

Parker escaped from the Oklahoma prison last Sunday, though lacking only 22 months of a four-year term — also dealt him for forgery.

Parker and a fellow inmate, Lonnie Johnson, 25, of Meeker, Okla., were recaptured. Now Parker faces up to 20 years for escape and for kidnapping a hostage who later was released unharmed.

Plan To Spur Building Of New Power Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford unveiled today proposals designed to spur the building of new power plants through liberalized tax write-offs and tax-deferred treatment of utility dividends that are reinvested.

Ford, in a statement, said he accepted and endorsed all recommendations on the subject presented to him by his labor-management committee that studied ways to hasten utility plant construction and the conversion of oil and gas-fired plants to use of coal as a power source.

Secretary of Labor John Dunlop told reporters the proposals would result in a tax break for utilities in fiscal year 1976 of between $500 million and $1 billion. He said members of the labor-management committee would carry the proposals to Congress personally.

At a briefing, Federal Energy Administrator Frank Zarb said the amount of energy the nation generates from nuclear power could increase from 2 per cent to about 20 per cent by the late 1980s "if we can get this program and solve other problems such as

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has signed a $15-billion supplemental money bill, freeing delayed GI education checks for 219,279 veterans and $50 bonus checks for 34 million persons on the Social Security and railroad retirement rolls, a White House spokesman said today.

The checks had been delayed for up to two weeks by a Senate-House fight over how much to spend for rehabilitating railway roadbeds and other rail facilities.

House Avoiding Threat Of Gas Guzzling Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is continuing to vote on amendments to the energy tax bill, although its main features to encourage conservation already have been eliminated.

"We can't call it a major bill now," said Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., on Thursday although "it still has some worthwhile things in it."

Wright, who directed the original House Democratic energy task force in a search for alternatives to President Ford's proposals, spoke after proposals to tax automobiles with low gasoline efficiency were defeated.

The House, which resumes debate on the bill today, voted for auto fuel economy standards enforced by civil penalties after rejecting a tax on gas-guzzling autos.

Rep. Joseph L. Fisher, D-Va., proposed strengthening the gas-guzzler tax in the bill reported out by the Ways and Means Committee. His amendment was defeated 235 to 166.

We must "lean gently but

The week-long dispute over Nedzi's knowledge of CIA misdeeds and his failure to act on them came to a head Thursday when he resigned.

Nedzi contended the misdeeds "were history" when he learned of them and he did not act on them because he was concerned at the time with current allegations of CIA involvement in Watergate.

CIA Involvement In Plot To Assassinate Dictator

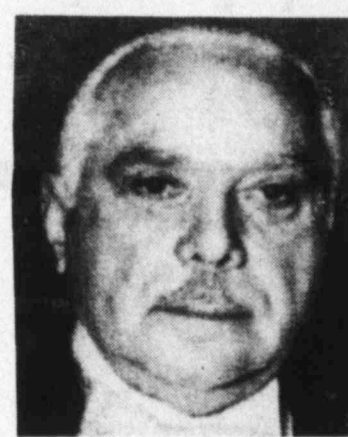

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the House intelligence committee say they were told sketchy details of CIA involvement in an assassination plot against the late Dominican Republic President Rafael Trujillo but some members were uncertain whether that was the plot that ultimately led to the dictator's murder.

Only one of five members interviewed said Thursday that a very brief report to the panel last week would support a statement by Rep. James V. Stanton, D-Ohio, that the CIA was involved in the successful assassination of a foreign leader.

Rep. Ronald V. Dellums, D-Calif., contending that what the panel was told about the 1961 Trujillo assassination would support Stanton's statement, said Trujillo's killing "could be traced to actions that were taken by the CIA."

He declined to give details, and Stanton refused to say whether he knows more than the committee was told in a secret session last week or whether he in fact is referring to the Trujillo assassination.

Trujillo, a long-time dictator of the Dominican Republic, was shot down by assassins as he drove outside Santo Domingo. Former CIA agent Philip B. Agee, in his book "Inside the Company," quotes a former CIA official as saying the agency was "deeply involved in planning the assassination, which was done by Cuban exiles from

GEN. RAFAEL TRUJILLO
Miami using weapons we sent through a diplomatic pouch."

But another member of the House panel, Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., said that if Stanton's statement is based on what the committee was told last week "it cannot be supported."

Without giving details, Harrington said the committee was told of a litany of past misdeeds uncovered by the CIA itself in a housecleaning investigation in 1973.

Harrington said the account to the committee was so sketchy that "no conclusions could be drawn from any of it."

One member said the briefing lasted about three minutes and was given by a committee attorney on the basis of information he had seen at CIA headquarters.

He said it was not a prepared briefing but was given during a heated session in response to a question of what Chairman Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich., had been told a year before and had not passed on to other congressmen.

Nedzi has confirmed that he and chairmen of other committees were briefed on misdeeds uncovered by the CIA in 1973 and has tacitly confirmed they included unspecified involvement in assassination plots.

Food Stamp Allotments Change Ordered By Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is under court order to draw up a new food stamp plan that will allow all recipients to obtain a nutritionally adequate diet.

The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Thursday that the present formula for food-stamp payments to 19.6-million participants is invalid because it fails to provide such a diet to all recipients. It gave the Agriculture Department 120 days to draw up a new plan.

However, the court allowed the present rules to remain in effect pending department action because of "the critical importance of the allotment regulations to the functioning of the entire food stamp system."

"For a family that needs a loaf of bread, the offer of a slice is poor comfort," the three-judge court said in an opinion written by Judge J. Skelly Wright.

The ruling is "the most far-reaching legal decision ever rendered in the anti-hunger area," said Ron Pollock, an attorney and director of the Food Research and Action Committee, which brought the suit.

"For the first time it signals that poor people will have an opportunity to obtain nutritionally adequate diets as a matter of entitlement."

The department has not decided whether to appeal the decision further, said Edward J. Hekman, administrator of the Food and Nutrition Service in the Agriculture Department.

The court said that 1971 amendments to the Food Stamp Act marked a major shift in the policy of the law, a shift from supplementing the diets of low-income households to guaranteeing those households an opportunity for an adequate diet.

The plaintiffs, who included members of low-income households, the City of New York and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, claimed that the Economy Food Plan on which food stamp allotments are based does not provide a nutritionally adequate diet.

They also claimed that even the Economy Food

Plan costs more than the food stamp allotments provided under the current schedule.

The court said it would not render judgment at this time on the adequacy of the plan.

The current figures allow $46 a month to a family of one person, $154 for a family of four and $266 for a family of eight. For each additional family member above eight, $22 is added monthly.

IT ONLY SEEMS THAT WAY Friday The 13th Isn't All That Bad

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Today is the day that acute triskaidekaphobics fear the most. But one psychologist says Friday the 13th will turn out unlucky only if you think it will.

"We call it 'selective perception,'" says Dr. Charles Verschoor, a psychologist at Miami-Dade Community College. "Every single day of your life, something pretty adverse happens. On Friday the 13th, you get your mind tuned up to notice."

According to a recent article in Psychology Today magazine, American business loses half a billion dollars a year because many people stay home from work on Friday the 13th.

Authorities say triskaidekaphobia — fear of the number 13 — has been around since the days of early Greece. There were 13 persons seated at Christ's Last Supper, and Friday the 13th is the traditional day for witches to hold black masses.

Numerologist Vincent Lopez says 13 is generally disliked because it includes the numbers one and three, which add up to four. He said four "is a factual, realistic number. It's a tough number. People don't like to face facts."

Most apartment houses and hotels don't have floors or apartments numbered 13, and many airplanes don't have seats with that unfortunate designation.

But all that isn't stopping Robert Spedding, 20, of Miami and Carol Capp, 18, of Tampa from getting married today.

"We wanted a day that sounded unusual, and we didn't want to wait until July 4th," said the prospective bride, who apparently is a careful sort. "According to my horoscope, it's good luck today."

Put Morality In Policy

Some way or other, the United States needs to put morality back into its foreign policy even though we might seem to stand alone in this respect. We need to offer emerging nations something more than just opposition to communism. There should be a positive to which we can point as well.

In South Vietnam, we supported a questionable regime, simply in opposition to a Communist government. We are doing the same thing in Korea, where President Park rules as a dictatorship. The same applies in the Philippines, where PRESIDENT Marcos has shut down Congress and rules with an iron hand.

The governments we support are not necessarily good governments, nor democratic ones, nor honest ones. They are simply non-Communist ones, and we need to go beyond that.

What have we got to sell the peoples of the World? Even the finest salesman in the world can't make a living peddling a negative line of goods. We can't make international capital doing it either.

We support freedom; we desire it for people everywhere. That is our claim. But what is the evidence we show to the world? There is moral justification for our cause. Freedom is incomparably better than communism; man should not be dictated to by the state. The rights of the individual should be paramount. But we must practice what we preach. We must not always elect the pragmatic route; that makes a lie of our own high-sounding words.

Kind Of Shakes Your Faith

Mack M. Murray, write-in candidate for mayor of Jacksonville, Fla., has a complaint that needs investigation. He said that 13 members of his immediate family live in Precinct 14G, all of whom said they voted for him, but he was credited with only three votes in that precinct.

Murray may just regret his call for an investigation, though. When 13 relatives claim they voted for you and only three votes are counted for you officially, some relatives may not be telling the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Or take the experience of a former game warden who worked in the Big Thicket of East Texas who ran for sheriff of Polk County and got only three votes. Folks knew that he voted for himself and his wife voted for him, but they never could figure out where the third vote came from.

Or the dismal experience of the late Bailey Jackson who ran for mayor of Aransas Pass. On election day he hired taxicabs to take 143 voters to the polls. But he got only 83 votes. He never recovered his faith in the electoral process after that.

Circular Surfaces

Around The Rim

John Edwards

When Mary Thomas successfully ran for the city commission in 1967, she distributed a circular attacking the city manager form of government.

THE CIRCULAR SURFACED again when Mrs. Thomas and her husband had a libel suit against former Police Chief Jay Banks and others dismissed. Banks, they contended, libeled her when he responded in a written statement broadcast after the election.

Launching general critique of the city manager form of government in the circular, Mrs. Thomas listed eight specific faults she found with city government here:

"The Governor of the State of Texas has an annual salary of $25,000. Your City Manager's annual salary scale is $17,280 to $18,000. In addition to this, he is paid $1,080 annually ($90 a month) for 'car allowance.'"

Now, Gov. Dolph Briscoe, as the elected leader of 11 million people makes $65,088 yearly. His travel expenses for state business are paid by the state. Briscoe gets no other travel allowance, a state spokeswoman said.

Present City Manager Harry Nagel, who serves a city of 29,500, draws $21,708 yearly. The city provides him with an automobile.

In her circular, Mrs. Thomas also quoted the city budget showing funds donated to charity, hospitals, prisoners, entertainment and other seemingly inappropriate uses.

"OF THE 2 1/2 MILLION dollars plus—spent by the City—your City Commissioners actually have no control over, or supervision of the expenditures, except to approve the Annual Budget and Annual Audit," the circular states.

An audit showed $100,000 worth of water, the city purchased, lost. During the budget year of 1965-66, the city spent $31,083 on the auditorium and got net rent income of $900, Mrs. Thomas claimed.

But, Mrs. Thomas argued, the voters cannot directly blame these faults, if they are, on the elected city commissioners and mayor. The candidate reasoned: "PECULIARLY, IN A DEMOCRACY, the persons who actually govern in our city administration are people you do not and cannot vote for, selected and appointed by our five-man elected City Commission (2 elected each odd year and 3 each even year)."

"Your City Commissioners are, for all practical purposes, nonpaid policy makers—who can only attempt, in the limited time they can give from their own business, vocation or profession, to lay down broad policy—which is often times not effective in the absence of selecting properly dedicated people as department heads."

"THE WHOLE THEORY behind a City Commission form of government, in making the actual executive officers of our City government non-elected, is to relieve them from the political pressures inherent in a more pure Democratic system."

"However, unless the Commissioners themselves are willing to give freely of their individual time and attention to actual expenditures, personnel problems, day-to-day conduct of its various departments, officers, employees and policemen, the City Commission type government not only protects the city officials from political pressures, but many times abets and encourages an imbedded and self-perpetuating bureaucracy—a bureaucracy responsive to the actual public welfare, needs and desires for economy as it is insulated from the expression of the public will at the polls."

"This allows complaints by citizens or groups of citizens to be referred by the City Commission to the department head of the responsible department—whose actions and/or policies are the ones being complained of—for action. Which, in so many cases, results in the citizen obtaining no relief whatsoever except vague words of 'consolation.'"

My Answer

Billy Graham

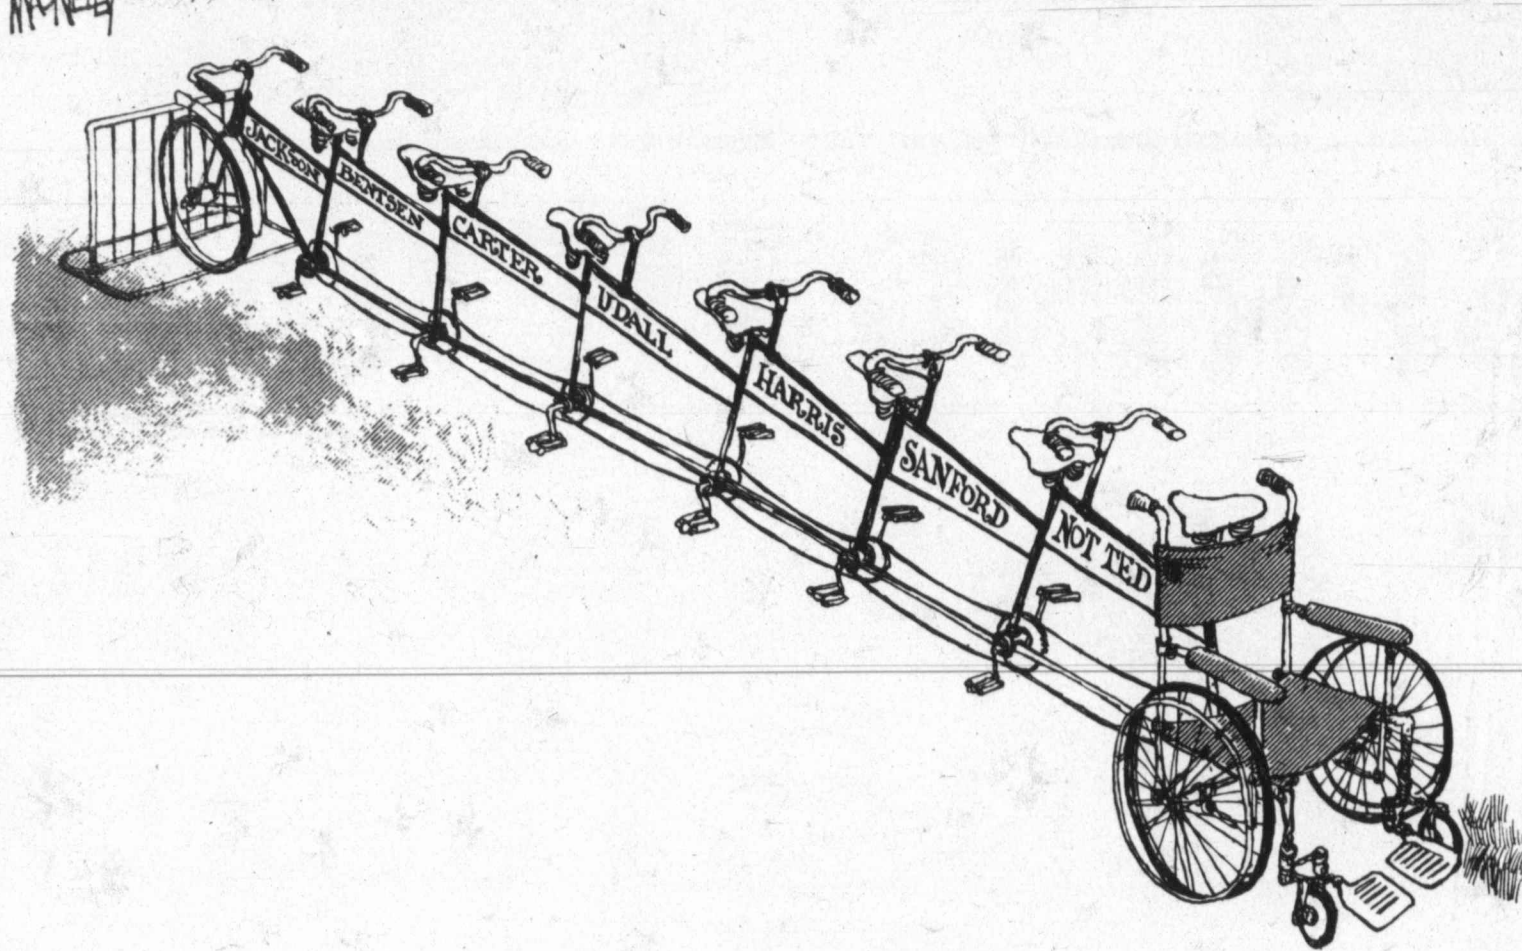

Someone gave me THE LIVING BIBLE, and I've really enjoyed it—after decades of the King James version. But I'm puzzled by something. The Old Testament shows God as vengeful, cruel and demanding. In the New Testament, however, He's loving, generous and tolerant. Why the change? B. S. B.

I don't think you can say that the New Testament assigns new attributes to God. Because Malachi 3:6 says that God does not change.

What is different is a new relationship to man through Jesus Christ. No longer is God the particular leader of the nation Israel. The Hebrews who might have thought of Jehovah as a war god assuring them of the conquest of Canaan (Exodus 15:3) reflected the moral language of the age. In the New Testament, He is the God of all the earth, and, as Peter learned, no respecter of persons. The self-revelation of God moving through the Bible books is a progressive one.

In the Old Testament, you see the judicial role of God, as He used judges, priests and prophets. God's face of love and grace was always there, but relatively obscured in those early days of man's training. God has always been as Exodus 34:6, 7 put it, "Jehovah, the merciful and gracious. God, slow to anger and rich in steadfast love and truth... forgiving sins."

Anomaly Of Iran

Marquis Childs

ISFAHAN—Within the cavernous quiet of the great mosque of Shah Abbas, the clamor of the outside world is shut out. It is the past, the splendid colors of the dome and the minarets, as brilliant as when this shrine of Islam was first dedicated early in the 17th century. Yet it is the present, too, as hundreds of worshippers, many of them young, gathered in the early dusk at the muezzin's call.

This is the anomaly of a nation caught up in the turbulence of a time of troubles along with almost unprecedented technological change conflicting with the deep undercurrents of a conservative religious origin.

HOW TO RECONCILE the power of established order with the upsurge of dissidence, unrest, the demand for the widely advertised good things of life, for what is defined, however vaguely and fuzzily, as freedom? It is a riddle written large not only for Iran but West and East alike.

One response is terror and that is also a worldwide phenomenon whether it be the so-called Weathermen in the United States or the syndico-anarchists on trial in West Germany for the terrorist attack on the German embassy in Stockholm.

Whatever the crude ideology, Maoist, Moscow Communism or anarchist, bringing down the established order is the common objective.

THE GROWTH OF A NEW middle class—well-paid technicians, professional and businessmen—together with student dissidence and the unrest of the young has inspired a movement to try to broaden the political base. This is the creation of a single party, the National Resurgence party of Iran, to mobilize middle-class participation in the decision-making process now confined to a narrow managerial group in descending rank from the shah.

Minister of Commerce Fereidun Mahdavi is the chief promoter and inspirer of the Rastakhez party. As he explains it with the enthusiasm of an apostle for a new political life, the single party will contain, within the framework of the monarchy and the constitution, forces from left to right of center. They will be free to contest the issues of housing, education, pensions, social welfare as in the parliamentary election soon to be held.

MAHDAVI IS CONDUCTING forums with professors, students, middle-class managers and others who have hitherto taken no part in the political process. They will be persuaded, he believes, that under the umbrella of the one party they can help to shape the direction of the country. Within a decade, a flourishing political system will have come into being.

In a recent address to the task force assessing Iran's problems in the aftermath of the shah-people revolution, the shah gave his blessing to the party. It would provide, he said, candidates of disparate views to be passed on by the electorate.

Bobbing Along

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market these days is bobbing along on conflicting currents without moving in any sustained direction. One of these days a strong current might catch it, but nobody knows when.

The lack of direction isn't difficult to understand when you survey the news that is said to move the market. The news itself is conflicting.

The most basic force behind the economy is the general economic outlook, and in recent weeks the consensus seems to be for a gradual upturn. But few forecasters believe the recovery will be pronounced or immediate.

Several forecasting units have noted in recent days that we might be premature in declaring the recession over.

While the majority of forecasters expect business activity to be on the upgrade in the second half of the year, there is little evidence that the upturn actually is beginning. First National City Bank observed Thursday.

Blyth Eastman Dillon, a brokerage house, had a similar comment. Alan J. Miller, vice president said:

"The basic problem, we think, is that economic forecasters have tended to blur the distinction between the evidence of an economic recovery and evidence of developments which must, of necessity, precede any economic recovery."

"To be sure, there is plenty of evidence of the latter, and it is on that basis that the consensus forecast has been developed. Maybe that's enough. But there's scant evidence of the former, and that is disturbing."

Assurance is hard to find. There is relief that the oil exporting nations' delayed increasing the price of oil until Oct. 1. Then what? An increase then would hurt profits.

The entire Mideast situation brings a chill to the market, and any statement by either the Arabs or Israel is said to leave its impression on the stock market tape.

Improvement in the liquid position of investors as they build up their bank accounts and pay off their debts is said to be a positive factor for the market. But who says these people will invest their cash? They seem reluctant to.

If nothing else is able to push the market firmly in one direction or another, politics might. Incumbent administrations generally try to get the economy moving before an election, and improving economies usually move the market.

The elections therefore could be the next big wind of change.

He Needs 10 Hours Sleep

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son and his wife live upstairs. They have a five-year-old son. The little fellow is allowed to stay up every night until 10:30 p.m., later on weekends.

I tell my son the child doesn't get enough sleep, because I can hear him arise early. By the end of the day he is very irritable and cries easily. My son tells me I'm old-fashioned, that his son doesn't require a lot of sleep. Please advise.—Mrs. R. R.

I don't know what you consider "early," or whether the boy gets a nap during the day, so I can't settle anything. However, generally, a child of five should get approximately 10 to 12 hours of sleep each day.

True, some children can adapt to adult sleep routines but I don't think it is wise to encourage this. In your grandchild's case, the testiness can be attributable to fatigue if he isn't getting the rest I mentioned above.

This might be fine now, but it could lead to some real problems if continued on into his early school years.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I used to be able to spend all day in the sun without any adverse effects other than a little sunburn. Now, two or three hours is enough to give me a severe headache and make me feel very weak.

Could something serious be involved?—Mrs. G. B. D. You don't mention ever having had a severe sunstroke, which would have been an event sufficiently memorable for you to mention, and a possible explanation of your photosensitivity.

Changes in your tolerance can also be attributed to medicines, including certain antibiotics or the Pill. Where you do your solar-bathing can be another factor—if, for example, you have changed residence from an area of high-smog conditions to where pollutants are relatively low. It can mean that the sun's rays are more potent, being less filtered. This can account for the severe reactions among some city-dwellers vacationing in the clear-aided sun-worshipping centers.

Also, people tend to become more sun-sensitive as they grow older. One study noted a decided change after 40. And women seem to be more affected than men by a three-to-one ratio.

Knowing your present intolerance, you should alter your sunning methods. Three hours at a time is far too much. Try 15-minute exposures, front and back and, if necessary, increase time gradually. If you try this and your reactions continue, then you will have elsewhere for the cause. You may have to change your method of contraception if you are now on the Pill.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A while back you answered a lady with a bladder problem (incontinence) and you suggested some exercise. I think if every woman did this simple exercise, there would be less incontinence in old age.—N. K.

The exercise you refer to, the Kegel exercise which consists of contraction of the muscles of the perineum. In females, this is the area between the scrotum and the anus.

The exercise, quite simply, is the alternate contraction and relaxing of the muscles repeatedly as if to stop urination. If you urinate, then stop purposely, that will give you an idea of what the exercise can do. But in cases of urinary tract infection or structural disorder of the pelvis, the exercise will not help.

For a better understanding of colitis and other intestinal ailments, their causes and treatment, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 3999, Elgin, Ill. 60120 for a copy of his booklet, "Colitis and Kindred Complaints." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Demoralized Demos

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON—Deepening demoralization within the majority in Congress reached a climax last week just before the House voted to approve a $1.3 billion housing bill viewed by middle-road Democrats as the probable victim of another successful presidential veto.

REP. THOMAS (Lud) Ashley of Ohio, a longtime housing stalwart on the House Banking Committee, privately put this question to House majority leader Thomas P. (Tip) O'Neill: "How long do we have to take the gas, Tip, before we begin to hurt?"

In one form or another, that question is being asked by every Democrat in the top-heavy Democratic Congress as President Ford consolidates his control over the divided federal government, gives his party its first taste of political cheer since Watergate and watches the Democrats' dream of congressional government go down the drain.

THE POINT OF ASHLEY'S question was this: the housing bill had become hopelessly loaded down with questionable high-cost subsidy programs after the original House version went to conference with a far broader Senate housing bill. Ashley, a House conferee, refused to sign that conference report. He then carried the battle to the closed-door House Democratic caucus last week.

But Rep. Henry Reuss of Wisconsin, House Banking Committee chairman, never really joined battle. Reuss simply read to the caucus a letter signed by Speaker Carl Albert, O'Neill and Rep. Jack McFall of California, the majority whip, in which the leadership appealed to every Democrat to vote for the swollen bill.

IN THE HOUSE vote that passed the bill the next day, 43 Democrats broke away from the leadership and voted against the subsidy-rich housing bill—a defection from party ranks that would virtually assure the House upholding President Ford's expected veto of the bill. Indeed, Democrats voting "no" nearly doubled the 22 Democratic defectors who made it possible for Mr. Ford to win his spectacular fight against the House attempt to override his veto of the jobs bill last week.

INDEED, THE 43 Democrats who rejected the Albert-O'Neill-McFall leadership should have sent shivers down their spines. Rep. Edward Boland, an intimate Massachusetts colleague of O'Neill, voted with Ashley and against the veto-targeted housing bill. So did Washington's Rep. Thomas Foley, chairman of the Agriculture Committee and past chairman of the liberal Democratic Study Group, Rep. Sam Gibbons, a bonded liberal from Florida, and Rep. Robert Giampo of Connecticut, a liberal with close ties to the leadership.

WHAT THIS ADDS UP to is crisis for the Democratic leadership on Capitol Hill and what one Republican strategist calls "the decisive competitive edge" for Gerald Ford as he rolls a Democratic Congress unable to find or assert a collective will. That "competitive edge" is now spreading far beyond Capitol Hill, displaying a political maturing in President Ford which is enhancing his prestige nationally.

National Debt Of Egypt Soars

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Egypt will find only slight relief for its financial woes in the revenue collected from the reopened Suez Canal, according to economic analysts here.

The national debt, still going up, now stands at more than $72 billion and President Anwar Sadat is having a hard time borrowing enough money just to pay the interest on money he has borrowed before.

His biggest problem is feeding 36 million Egyptians who are multiplying at the rate of one child every 40 seconds.

"It is a vicious circle," said one foreign economic analyst. "You're paying money you don't have to import food for people who produce more people who need more food."

Egypt hopes to earn $450 million a year in transit tolls from the Suez Canal reopened last week after being shut down since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

But doubts remain about how many ships will use the canal as long as there is no permanent Arab-Israeli peace settlement.

Maritime insurance carriers are charging three times the going rate for war coverage on ships planning to use the waterway, and most of the world's oil tanker fleet is now too big to fit into the canal.

Suez will have to be widened and deepened to attract the tanker trade. This will cost $1 billion and take eight years, according to experts here.

Already there are squabbles between the Suez Canal Authority and other hard-pressed government ministries about who gets how much of the canal revenue. Egypt has no clear priority rating for its many projects.

"The fruits of the canal might only be apparent in two years," said one diplomatic observer, "and in that time the economy will probably get worse before it gets better."

Barry Burk, a veteran contestant from Duncan, Okla., is in good shape getting down on this steer in the exciting event of steer wrestling. Like many of the top names in rodeo, he has been a contestant in former years in the Big Spring show. Barry, or some other top steer wrestlers will be in town next week for the annual event.

Extender Completed

A northeast extender, separated by a depleted producer, has been completed in the Big Spring Fossilman field.

Tejas Energy Exploration No. 1-35 Christian, eight miles northeast of Big Spring, finished for 334.5 barrels of 38.8-gravity oil, 59 barrels of water and gas-oil ratio of 500-1. Production was half-inch choke through perforations at 9,631-641 feet, acidized with 4,000 gallons. Bottom of hole was 9,698, plugged back to 9,657 with 5 1/2-in. string set at that depth. Location is 2,068 from the south and 330 from the west lines of section 35-31, 2N, T&P.

In northwest Howard, Coquina No. 1 Wolfe made hole below 4,244 feet. In northeast Howard, Sterling Company No. 1-29 Shaffer, 1,800 from the south and 660 from the east lines of section 29-25, H&TC, 20 miles northeast of Big Spring, plugged at 7,584.

HNG Oil No. 1 G. H. McEntire, abandoned test which topped the Fossilman at 8,865 and Ellenburger at 8,940 on an elevation of 2,449, will be re-entered and cleaned out to 8,000 in an effort to complete as a Canyon gas producer in the Credo East field, which produces oil from the Wolfcamp. Location is 660 from the south and east lines section 27-23, H&TC.

In Borden County, Lario No. 1 Murphy was below 3,639, and in Dawson Coquina No. 1 Holton was below 10,664.

Denies $10,000 Handed Lawmaker In Men's Room

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A spokesman for Rep. L.A. "Skip" Bafalis denies that the Florida Republican received $10,000 in illegally raised campaign funds three days before his election in 1972.

Jack McDavitt issued the denial following testimony Thursday from James L. Groot, one-time chief aide to former Sen. Edward J. Gurney. McDavitt said Bafalis cannot discuss the matter because he may testify at the trial in which Gurney and three others are charged with bribery and conspiracy.

Groot told a federal court jury that on Nov. 4, 1972, he met Bafalis in a men's room and handed him $10,000 — money from Gurney's safe that prosecutors say was raised illegally by Gurney fund-raiser Larry Williams through shakedown of Florida builders.

Groot, a former defendant in the four-month-old trial who switched his plea to guilty last week, said the exchange took place in a men's room at a Vero Beach political rally just before the general election. Groot said he never told anyone about the transaction. Nor did Bafalis report it, he said.

"I'm well aware Mr. Bafalis denies it adamantly," Groot told the jury. "But I want to assure you, I gave Mr. Bafalis the money."

But McDavitt said, "We didn't get any money from Sen. Gurney or Jim Groot or anyone connected with the safe."

During cross-examination, Gurney's lawyer, C. Harris Dittmar, asked, "Mr. Groot, are you sure you didn't just keep the money and not give it to Mr. Bafalis?"

"Absolutely sure," Groot replied.

Gurney, ex-aide Joseph Bastien and former federal housing officials K. Wayne Swiger and Ralph Koontz are charged with conspiracy to raise an illegal slush fund from Florida builders by peddling Gurney's influence with the Federal Housing Administration.

Groot said he had been receiving complaints from Bafalis' campaign that Gurney forces were not keeping their promise to help them.

Groot said he learned that Earl M. "Duke" Crittenden and George Anderson, former state GOP officials and former Gurney campaign officers, had made the pledge.

Groot said that after the election, Bafalis and aide Dick Nelson visited Gurney in Washington and said they were grateful for the assistance.

After they left, Groot said Gurney asked, "Those guys are really happy. What did we do?"

Groot said he him, "Well, we raised $10,000," admitting that he misled Gurney by not telling him the money came from the safe. Nelson denied Groot provided any help in the Bafalis campaign.

Ex-School Officials Hit With Duval Indictments

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — A Duval County grand jury has returned 12 indictments against one current and four former officials of the Benavides Independent School District.

Named in the indictments returned Thursday were former school trustee Rogelio Guajardo Jr., 33, of Benavides, four indictments charging official misconduct; and one charging theft; former school trustee Luis Elizondo, 45, of Benavides, three indictments alleging official misconduct; school trustee Diego Saenz, 46, of Freer, one indictment charging theft; former Freer School Supt. Eunice E.

Powell, two indictments alleging official misconduct; and former San Diego School Supt. Bryan Taylor, one indictment charging theft.

Powell and Taylor are now serving one-year federal prison terms for conviction of federal income tax evasion charges.

They are reportedly due to be released in August. Guajardo is a nephew of District Court Judge O.P. Carrillo.

Indictments were presented to District Court Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Premont because Judge Carrillo, who normally would accept the indictments, was in Austin attending a House hearing on his possible impeachment.

These were the second in a series of indictments since the grand jury began what Dist. Atty. Arnulfo Guerra called an extensive investigation of Duval County in February.

In March, Guerra enlisted the aid of Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill who sent investigators into the county.

Investigators have included Texas Rangers, Department of Public Safety intelligence officers, assistants from Hill's office and Texas Education Agency accountants.

Tuition Debts Hearing Slated

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An effort to dismiss the attorney general's suit against Carl D. Wehling, San Antonio, owner of a group of proprietary schools, was set for hearing in 73rd District Court today.

Wehling once operated 13 proprietary or vocational-technical schools, many of them attracting veterans recently discharged from the service and drawing federal educational benefits.

Last December, Atty. Gen. John Hill filed suit claiming that Wehling had defrauded the federal government, banks and other lending institutions by claiming students were enrolled or planning to enroll in a school when they already had dropped out or indicated they did not plan to enroll.

In an answer to Wehling's request for a summary judgment of dismissal of the attorney general's suit the state filed an answer in the San Antonio earlier this week claiming that two of the schools named in the suit still owe $101,000 to students in unpaid tuition refunds.

The state's answer said that Parrish Draughon's Business College and Technical Institution of San Antonio owes students $20,000 in refunds, according to state audits, and Southwestern Business College in Houston owes $81,000.

The attorney general asked the San Antonio court not to drop the two schools from the suit despite a request from a group of San Antonio investors.

Find Partly Mummified Body Of Elderly Woman

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Police are looking for a family that was evicted from a home where the partly mummified body of an elderly woman was found two days after they left.

Chesley Erwin, Milwaukee County medical examiner, said the woman had been dead two or three months when the body was found Thursday. He said an autopsy had attributed the cause of death to probable heart failure.

The body was found wrapped in plastic and covered with charcoal and ashes in an uncovered wooden box that was 5 feet long, 2 feet wide and 2 feet high.

Erwin said the hands, forearms and head were becoming mummified from the charcoal and ashes. He said the entire body would have eventually been mummified, while the covering retarded odors and breakdown of tissues.

Neighbors said an elderly woman had lived at the home but had not been seen for several months.

On Tuesday, sheriff's deputies evicted Shirley Weinberg and her two children, Craig and Gail, both 20, from the first-floor flat. The family protested the eviction, which was ordered when they refused to let workmen inside to make repairs.

"She just didn't understand why she was being evicted," said Deputy Steve Kuzmick. "She was very confused, as were all three."

After spending an hour trying to explain the eviction, deputies took the three into custody and sent them to a county Mental Health Center. They were released Wednesday after a psychiatrist determined they were not mentally ill, but police could not locate them after the body was found.

RETIRED GENERAL DISCLOSES:

Army Conducted LSD Tests

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Ret. Army Gen. S. L. A. Marshall says the LSD drug research conducted by the Central Intelligence Agency was similar to one conducted by a Defense Department panel in 1955, but the two had different purposes, although the department used data uncovered by the CIA.

Marshall made his statement in a telephone interview in which he criticized the recent Rockefeller report on the CIA drug investigation. He called the report "unfair to the CIA, because it did not get to the heart of the matter."

Marshall, now a military historian living here, said he was a member of an ad hoc Defense Department panel that included "members of the medical profession, especially in the field of psychiatry."

He defended the investigations, saying, "You must remember this is in the 1950s, the years of the Cold War," at a time when reports indicated that the Soviets were grabbing most of the supply of LSD coming from the only known source, a Swiss laboratory.

The investigations were "legitimate missions," he said. "The Defense Department was interested

Pogo To Die On July 20

NEW YORK (AP) — Selby Kelly, who took over the Pogo comic strip when her husband, Walt Kelly, died two years ago, says she is dropping it.

Mrs. Kelly informed the New York Post the comic strip possum will fade into oblivion July 20 because newspapers have been shrinking their comics in recent years to save space.

Walt Kelly started Pogo in 1949, basing it on a minor character he had drawn in the 1920s for a comic book. At its height, it appeared in more than 400 newspapers. That number is down to about 200, Mrs. Kelly said.

"The detail that's put into the Pogo strip doesn't warrant its being shrunken down so small," she said.

in the tactical aspects of LSD, not in the intelligence aspects, while the CIA had been looking at the possible use of LSD as an instrument of government." He noted the CIA investigation started a year earlier than the Defense Department study.

He explained the CIA purpose noting that the agency was interested in the possible use of the drug by the Soviets for "brainwashing" and other aims.

Marshall took issue with reports by medical experts Wednesday that at the time of the CIA research there was enough information available publicly on the drug, its use and possible effects.

"All I know is that we had medical experts on our panel," Marshall said, "and they knew there was not enough information available. We received information from the CIA on what the agency was doing and the data were very frank about what had been done. They never tried to hide anything."

"I was aware at that time," he added, "of the chap who jumped out of the window and also of another experiment which involved two preachers who took the drug voluntarily and were later put in a room to observe their reactions."

This was a reference to an employee of the Army who was given the drug without prior knowledge while at a meeting with CIA personnel discussing the drug project. He was told of the dose 20 minutes afterward and developed serious side effects.

The report said that several days later he jumped from a 10th-floor window and died.

He said the preachers "acted like characters from the waterfront — all inhibitions were gone."

Asked if the CIA provided the information on the preachers' experiment, he said, "At that time it could not have come from any other source."

The Rockefeller Commission said the CIA experiment was intended to find out reactions by persons administered the drug without their knowledge or persons taking the drug willingly.

What has astonished me is that the Rockefeller report makes it appear that the CIA people were wild-eyed and reckless adventurers doing this thing on their own," Marshall said.

He said the British government was conducting research on the drug at the same time and the Defense Department panel also exchanged information with British officials.

HANCE SPEAKER At Seminar

LAMESA — State Senator Kent Hance of Lubbock will give Dawson County citizens a first-hand look at how the 64th Legislature arrived at the public school financing bill in a seminar set Monday, June 16.

It begins at 1 p.m. in the high school auditorium. "I think it is time we inform the public directly about the events taking place in their state capitol," Senator Hance stated.

The panel will include representatives from the Texas Education Agency and the Texas State Teachers Association.

Mary Martinez On 4-H Trip

Mary Martinez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Martinez of Buford Community near Westbrook is among 23 4-H'ers from throughout the High Plains embarking on a heritage tour to Washington, D.C. and points in between.

She will be participating in a six-day National Citizenship Short Course in the nation's capitol.

In Washington, they'll participate with other youths from throughout the nation in a six-day citizenship short course.

In all, the trip will cover 15 days travel to and from the nation's capitol by charter bus.

The 94 Texas youths and their leaders left Dallas Tuesday and will arrive in Washington Sunday. The excursion will take them through Tennessee and Virginia, with visits to historical sites at Gallinburg, Tenn., and other points.

They will return via Christburg, Va., and Oakridge, Tenn., touring other historical sites en route home. The group will return to Dallas July 24.

Taylor's Detox Unit Is Closed

The Taylor County alcoholic detoxification center is temporarily closed due to a cutoff in funds from the Big Spring State Hospital.

The hospital formally furnished $1,700 monthly for the Taylor facility but shut down the detox center in Abilene because of a financial squeeze of its own.

Taylor county commissioner hope to have the center operating again by Sept. 1, with the start of the new fiscal year.

Mayor Evers Wins Mistrial On Charges He Evaded Taxes

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Government attorneys promise new efforts to convict black leader Charles Evers on federal income tax evasion charges after a mistrial lamented by both sides.

"We thought we were so close to victory that we hate to see it tainted in this way — we wanted a verdict," said defense attorney Michael Fawer.

Michael Ahlen, who headed the team of lawyers prosecuting the Fayette mayor on charges he evaded $52,593 in taxes in 1968, 1969 and 1970, said the government is "awaiting a new trial whenever a new trial date is set by the court."

U.S. District Court Judge Dan M. Russell Jr. declared a mistrial in the four-day-old trial Thursday after an exchange between Fawer and revenue agent William J. Sykes, the final government witness. Sykes suggested Evers may have used political campaign money to increase his net worth.

Fawer had repeatedly questioned Sykes about sources of Evers' income in 1968. First, Sykes told him, "I don't know." Finally, he said, "I think he ran for Congress," a reference to Evers' unsuccessful 1968 campaign for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. House.

Fawer reacted, "This is outrageous. The government specifically disavowed any political sources."

Fawer moved for a mistrial. During a discussion in chambers, Russell agreed Sykes' remark was "highly prejudicial and would be hard to wipe from the jury's mind" and said he was inclined to grant the motion.

Fawer then asked Russell to hold it up until he had discussed it with Evers, because he said it would be unfair to subject Evers to another trial. But Russell said then that he had already granted the motion and it could not be withdrawn.

Later, Evers, 52, shook hands with government attorneys and said he will begin his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the state Senate. He said he was "glad to get it off my neck — the next step is up to the lawyers."

Take Stand On Vital Issues, Speaker Says

"We need to stay wide awake and keep a watchful eye. We need to stand up and be counted every day on important issues. Forces both within and without the insurance business are attempting to shoot us down under the guise of consumerism," O.C. Jackson, CLU, president of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters, told a group at the Big Spring Life Underwriters Association Thursday night.

Jackson added, "Some of the attacks against the insurance companies look good in print, but if you study the facts, you soon discover that their proposed doctrines hurt the policy holder most of all."

The state president is stomping across the state proposing the idea of "An agent will call" as a motto and pointing out that the individual service of an agent is still the best deal for the person desiring coverage.

He pointed out that careful evaluation will show that "honest and honorable service by an individual agent will top any mail order or quick TV insurance, and certainly will beat many of the proposed costly national medical hospitalization and health insurance plans."

Jackson blasted the Kennedy plan and backed a plan advanced by Cong. Omar Burleson which "is not as costly and approaches the problem in a businesslike manner."

Jackson also installed new officers of the local organization, including John Bennett, president; Bob Whatlington of Snyder, vice president; John Hale, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Melba Soles, Bob Wilson, Ray Weir, Joe Dunn and Walter Stroup, directors.

The group elected Whatlington and Dunn as their delegates to the state convention. Members were present from San Angelo, Roscoe, Snyder, Lamesa and Big Spring. The event was held at the La Posada Restaurant.

ELECTION SETBACK Prime Minister Gandhi Faces Uncertain Future

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Leaders of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's Congress party today began organizing public support for her decision to remain in office despite her conviction of election law violations.

However, Mrs. Gandhi's political stock was depressed further by the announcement of a decisive defeat for her Congress party in the election of a new legislature in Gujarat state. The party won 140 of the 168 seats in the legislature three years ago, and she campaigned vigorously for Congress candidates this year.

But her party won only 74 seats to 86 won by a coalition headed by 79-year-old Morarji Desai, a foe of Mrs. Gandhi since they battled for control of the Congress party in 1969 and split the party.

The voting took place last Sunday and Wednesday, before Judge Jag Mohanlal Sinha found Mrs. Gandhi guilty of illegally using government officials in her 1971 campaign for Parliament and banned her from holding public office for six years. Judge Sinha stayed the sentence for 20 days to allow the prime minister to appeal.

and she was expected to ask the Supreme Court to extend the stay until the appeal was decided. Her political foes demanded that she resign at once, but Mrs. Gandhi announced that she would await the verdict of the highest court.

Her lawyers announced that they would need a few days to study Judge Sinha's opinion before filing the appeal. Meanwhile, Congress party officials said demonstrations and other special meetings were being organized throughout the country to support Mrs. Gandhi.

In New Delhi, buses from the government's transport service and trucks from the municipal corporation carried persons to Mrs. Gandhi's residence for a rally in her behalf.

Opposition leaders charged that Mrs. Gandhi was continuing to use government officials and facilities to further her personal political ends.

WTCC Opposes Corps' Stand

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has informed the Army Corps of Engineers of its opposition to Corps recommendations which it says would expand the Corps' control over water resources.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Fri., June 13, 1975 5-A

This would, said a letter to the chief of engineers, further erode private property rights. "None of the four proposed regulations developed by the EPA and Corps is acceptable to WTCC, said Bob F. Scott, Fort Worth, chairman of the chamber's water development committee. Any one of the proposals would shift power to the federal government and away from state and local governments, he added.

Kissinger Due To Resume Shuttle Diplomacy Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is likely to resume his Middle East shuttle diplomacy next month if differences between Israel and Egypt on a Sinai settlement can be narrowed further.

Sources said the visit of Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin has improved chances of reviving negotiations, but a final decision by President Ford awaits post-summit deliberations in Jerusalem and Cairo.

Kissinger is said to be reluctant to board the shuttle again unless he is 90 per cent certain it would produce an agreement. His last effort collapsed three months ago.

Ford expects to know within the next two weeks whether terms for an Israeli withdrawal in Sinai can be arranged.

A key factor in plotting administration strategy is Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam's visit here next Friday. Egypt and Syria are pressing for a prompt withdrawal of Israeli forces on the Golan Heights, but Israel doubts that a deal can be struck with Damascus.

"Especially between Egypt and Israel there is a possibility of gradual change," Rabin told a news conference on Thursday.

The prime minister also emphasized that there will be no agreement with Egypt until Israeli cargo is permitted to pass through the Suez Canal. A test of last year's secret understanding on passage of Israeli cargo is expected within the next few weeks.

Rabin said he believes "there is a basis for

U.S. Officials Support Bringing Back $2 Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — With inflation having eroded the dollar, a decision will be made within a month or two on whether to bring back the $2 bill in 1976, says Deputy Treasury Secretary Stephen S. Gardner.

"Personally I favor the idea, and I think the secretary favors the idea," said Gardner. Treasury Secretary William E. Simon recently said he tends to support it.

Gardner said the $2 bill may be more useful to people now because of changes in price levels in recent years. The bill was removed from circulation in 1963 on the ground that it was not being used.

A recent survey conducted for the Federal Reserve Board by students at the Harvard Graduate School of Business concluded there still is not much public support for a $2 bill, a board spokesman said.

The Harvard survey said a "considerable marketing effort" would be required to gain public acceptance for the $2 bill.

But Gardner said in an interview that he doesn't not work," he said. Kissinger was guardedly optimistic.

"We have the impression there is a certain parallelism on both sides," he said. As for prospects of his returning to the region, Kissinger replied: "A trip is not excluded."

Meanwhile, Syrian President Hafez Assad and King Hussein of Jordan called on Arabs to "consolidate and mobilize" because of "persistent Israeli refusal" to withdraw from occupied Arab lands.

The Treasury Department will probably make the final decision by midsummer, but the Federal Reserve Board's opinion is considered important because the board would be responsible for putting the bills into circulation.

If a decision is made to go ahead with it, Gardner said one reason for printing the bill in 1976 is to overcome past public resistance by tying the bill to the nation's bicentennial observance.

A controversy would be almost certain to develop over whose portrait the bill should carry. There is some sentiment in Congress for a woman, such as the late suffragette, Susan B. Anthony.

However, Gardner said there also will be support for using the portrait of Thomas Jefferson, the third president, whose portrait was used on the old $2 bill. Proponents of Jefferson argue he would fit the Bicentennial theme.

Rosson Is Appointed

AUSTIN — Former state Rep. Renal Rosson of Snyder has been named by Gov. Dolph Briscoe as one of three members of the newly-created Health Facilities Commission.

Rosson served as a state representative for eight years and acted as Briscoe's "legislative analyst" during the last legislative session. His term on the commission will expire Feb. 1, 1979.

The commission will oversee the Texas Certificate of Need program which regulates new construction and modification of health care facilities in the state.

The program was begun due to federal requirements. It will work with, but is not part of, the State Department of Health Resources (formerly the State Department of Health).

Also appointed Thursday by Briscoe were Melvin Rowland, former Uvalde mayor; and Bolin Mahaffey of Corpus Christi, who resigned from the State Depository Board to accept the nomination.

Big Homecoming At Eastland

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP) — At a meeting of directors of the Eastland High School Alumni Association Monday night plans were completed for what is being billed as the "largest homecoming in Texas."

The event, scheduled for June 20-22, will include a spaghetti supper, a barbeque, dances, and open house at the new Eastland Centennial Memorial Library and Eastland Civic Theater.

for 1967-74, a Carrillo family trust administered by the judge and Carrillo's own tax returns for 1967-70. Mitchell already has submitted Carrillo's tax returns for subsequent years.

Oscar Kirkland, an Allice accountant, testified that Carrillo's federal income tax return for 1970 included as income $4,000 in rent from the Zertuche store.

Speaker Bill Clayton told a news conference Thursday that if the committee recommends impeachment of Carrillo, he would expect to reconvene the House in "the latter part of July" to take action. If the House impeaches the judge, the Senate then would return to try him.

In testimony Thursday, Mrs. Lauro Yzaguierra, a Benavides grocery store owner, was asked about the Zertuche store.

"I've never known of it being operated," she said.

Classes that are offered are, nursery study class, pre-schoolers, middle children, older children, intermediates, and youth. The school's director is Rev. J.B. Shewmake, pastor.

Power Should Be Ample In Texas This Summer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission says electric power should be adequate this summer in Texas and the rest of the country as long as there is no disruption in the availability of fuel to run generators.

In a report released earlier this week, the FPC specifically mentioned the Texas situation in saying there should be enough electric power even if the summer is somewhat hotter than usual.

The FPC said the Electric Reliability Council of Texas, which serves only that state and is interconnected with the Southwest Power Pool area, supplied the commission with data about the summer outlook.

The council said its systems have an estimated reserve margin of net dependable capacity resources over non-coincident peak demand of 6,259 megawatts, or 24 per cent of the estimated 1975 summer peak load of 25,992 megawatts.

Also it said an additional 225 megawatts of new steam capacity and 409 megawatts of combustible turbine capacity are scheduled for service between June 1 and Aug. 31.

The FPC said it was learned that the Texas council utilities have lowered their 1975 estimated summer peak loads by 1 to 2 per cent from their projections of a year ago.

"This is due in part to voluntary energy conservation, reduced customer usage due to higher costs and they did in 1974," the FPC said. "It was learned during recent visits to the utilities that they are making spot purchases of natural gas from intrastate supplies and that industrial users of natural gas have cut their requirements because of the economy — thus increasing the supply of natural gas available to utilities this summer."

"Supplies of fuel oil for generation appear adequate at this time."

general economic conditions in the area," the FPC said. It added that in the Texas area about 88 per cent of the energy generation will be fueled by natural gas, 3 per cent will be fueled by oil, 8 per cent by coal and 1 per cent will have hydroelectric energy as a source. There are no nuclear generating stations in the area, the report said.

"Major utilities may not have as much natural gas curtailment this summer as they did in 1974," the FPC said. SULFUR DROPLET FROM MOUNT BAKER — This is a sulfur droplet, magnified 460 times, one of many different types of particulate material being ejected from fumaroles on Mount Baker, Washington. This droplet is less than one-one hundredth of an inch in diameter. Since about mid-March, the 10,778-foot normally quiet volcano has been geologically restless with unusually large amounts of steam and ash clouds coming from the Sherman crater on the south side of the mountain's summit. The activity has spurred a special monitoring program by scientists of the U.S. Geological Survey, the University of Washington, and the U.S. Forest Service, to try and determine the cause and nature of the activity at Mount Baker, and to define the potential hazards that could develop if an eruption should occur.

Biking 'Almost Mystical Experience' For Writer

By JACK SCHREIBMAN

Associated Press Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bicycling wasn't even in the picture, that day years ago when my doctor pumped a few times on the bulb attached to the valve and fiddled with the valve.

"It's a little high, bambino," he announced airily. "But nothing we can't take care of. We have high blood pressure licked these days." Life passed before the eyes like a "B" movie.

So there were the pills, and the admonitions to get the fat off, cut out the vino, eat sensibly and exercise.

I tried jogging—not so satisfying, I found. It takes 90 per cent of your output and the terrain is always bouncing in front of your eyeballs. All hygiene and no fun. Then I got a 10-speed bike.

Among all those wheels within wheels, tapered aluminum tubes, delicate gear changers, spidery cables, spokes, levers and sprockets, a fading bachelor found love. Sorry, girls.

Shortly, the patient was huffpuffing on the lovely, steep hills of this lovely city. Five, 10, sometimes 15 miles a day, learning to work the fore and aft derailleurs gently without getting the drive chain hung up; getting used to the spearlike seat, the bentover position, the toe clips, the motorists trying to destroy you.

Together, man and bike impart stoutness of heart and lung, and strength to the roughest muscles. With a leisurely view of the countryside in the bargain.

And so the patient became one of the some 100 million American bike freaks who rejoice on two wheels for whatever: transportation, fun, exercise; this is the exhilarating "youth machine" of Dr. Paul Dudley White, who lived well into his eighth decade, cycling all the while.

From strictly local trips around town we, bike and I, expanded beyond the city limits.

Within a year, buddy Bob Wiebusch and I were casually cranking out 75-mile round trips in a day.

In two years we learned something about hills. They're not really such ogres to the cyclist, if you psych up—put your head "in a different place."

A 15-degree hill can be murder on a bike even in the lowest gear, if you fight it. I used to use major force on the pedals to get it over with, then stand on top of the hill, heart banging, sucking in air like a crazy man. No more.

On the hill, I go as slow as possible, eyes on the road right in front of the wheel, breathing deeply, excluding all thoughts except of the machine under me, of how it too was making the supreme effort matching stroke for stroke, all parts in dynamic tension. I think about the bike and what it is doing.

The power of my muscles press down on the pedals, forcing the cranks to revolve the sprocket and turn the drive chain with its hundreds of moving parts. Round go the ball bearings, round go the wheels, on torque delivered through spaghetti-thin spokes. The bike moves slowly, slowly up the hill. Stroke, pedals, bearings, chain, spokes, tires. All good friends, working very hard. Instead of jamming the pedals down, they are caressed, heel down at the bottom of each stroke.

Soon we, bike and I, are on top of the hill. Incidentally, doc says the blood pressure is fine these days.

My position has changed because the tenor of the examination has changed and now we are trying him for federal income tax evasion. I feel I can change my mind because of the shift," Mitchell said angrily.

Hale said the records were needed to establish whether Carrillo had received any income from the Zertuche General Store. Previous witnesses have said the store was a fiction, used to sell merchandise to Duval County that the county already owned. Checks allegedly were written on the store's account to the Farm and Ranch Store, owned by the judge and a brother. Records covered by the subpoena include those for the Farm and Ranch Store

POSSIBLE MOVE TO IMPEACH Counsel Withholds Tax Records Sought By Solons

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The lawyer for State District Judge O. P. Carrillo of Benavides has refused to honor a subpoena for tax records, issued Thursday by the House committee investigating alleged misconduct by the judge.

Arthur Mitchell of Austin, Carrillo's attorney both in the House impeachment proceeding and in a federal income tax evasion case, said he would not honor the subpoena "unless ordered by a court."

Mitchell renewed a position he had taken earlier that the committee formed to determine whether impeachment articles against Carrillo should be submitted to the House, has no legal standing.

Supplying the records also would violate Carrillo's right against self-incrimination in a pending federal income tax case, Mitchell said.

The committee did not react officially at once, with Chairman DeWitt Hale, D-Corpus Christi, saying Mitchell's invoking of the 5th Amendment "does raise serious legal problems."

It recessed its proceedings until June 23.

Mitchell previously had agreed to provide the committee whatever tax records it wanted but said his mind had changed.

"My position has changed because the tenor of the examination has changed and now we are trying him for federal income tax evasion. I feel I can change my mind because of the shift," Mitchell said angrily.

Banquet Guests Turned Off By Dirty Jokes

DEAR ABBY: My husband was recently master of ceremonies at a banquet that about 300 people attended. Many of the town's leading citizens were there.

Well, my husband stood up there and told one dirty joke after another. (He never told me those jokes at home.) Some in the audience laughed, but I noticed the looks on the faces of some of the others, and they seemed shocked and somewhat disgusted. I was embarrassed, to say the least, and could hardly hold up my head.

Afterward, when I went to the powder room, none of the women there even spoke to me.

Abby, why would an educated man like my husband get up before a group of men and women, and tell filthy jokes?

I can't have you sending your reply to the house since my husband gets the mail first and I don't want him to know I wrote to you.

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: Your husband probably thought he was being entertaining. It was simply a case of bad judgment. Let him know that you were disappointed in him. He may learn from it.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother. She is usually a very sweet and considerate person, but when we take her to the movies, she hoots and howls and talks out loud. This is not only annoying to the other people in the theater, it is also very embarrassing for my husband and children.

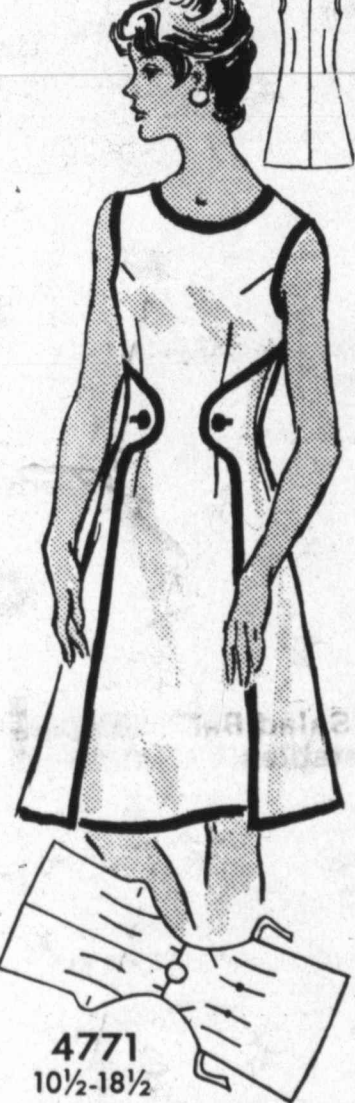

We really love Mums and wouldn't hurt her feelings for the world, but taking her to a movie is a hassle.

Please give us any suggestions you might have since Mums is coming again soon and she loves to go to the movies.

Newcomers Craft Club Makes Fabric Flowers

Mrs. Jean Denton and Mrs. Charlotte Risner became members of the Newcomers Craft Club at a meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Karen Wallace, 531 Scott. Mrs. Connie Scasny showed the group how to create crepe paper roses and carnations and also how to make flowers from fabric. Mrs. Estella De La Paz, president, presided, and Mrs. Suzanne Curotto was elected secretary-reporter. The next meeting was scheduled for 7 p.m., June 24 when Mrs. Denton will demonstrate the making of plaster of Paris logs. Persons interested in joining the club are asked to contact Mrs. De La Paz, 263-8169, or Mrs. Scasny, 263-8336.

SUSAN AND ANSEL — Susan Ford, 17-year-old daughter of the President, talks with a friend of photographer Ansel Adams (in background) at a meeting with the press this week at Yosemite Village. Susan is enrolled in Ansel's photography workshop and will be spending the next week in classes that include portraiture, architectural and nature photography.

Summer Program At Center Is Expanded

Joe Dawes, new president of the Westside Community Center board of directors, presided when the board met Tuesday to hear reports on the facility's summer program.

Officers serving with Dawes are Mrs. Ben Boadle, vice president; Miss Jamie Chavez, secretary; and Mrs. Billie Smith, treasurer. New board members are Jerry Yarbrough, Miss Virginia Lujan, Mrs. June McDaniel, the Rev. Harland Birdwell and Mrs. Gladys Calnan.

The center plans to have a float in this year's parade parade. Miss Chavez was named to head the project, and a limit of $50 was put on expenses for the float. Miss Chavez is also in charge of a July 4 dance which will be held on the center's tennis court. The dance is open to the public at a charge of $3 per couple, and music will be provided by The Challengers from Pecos.

It was announced that the summer schedule for the center and playground includes a sewing program, with several homemaking students making use of the machines. Thursday evenings. Also, the library is open Thursdays, and Mrs. Ernest Bauch, center director, said the wading pool has been repaired for use this summer.

Julian Patterson, chairman for the Day Care Center, reported that it is operating at its full capacity of 30 children, with others on a waiting list.

Boy Scout Troop 249, sponsored by the center, will leave Sunday for the camp at Fort Davis, accompanied by the leader, Richard Acuna.

Club Planning Annual Picnic

Plans were made for the Sew and Chatter Club's annual picnic when the women met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ervin Daniels. The picnic will be held July 23 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H.V. Crocker and will feature a Bicentennial theme. Guest speaker will be the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, who will discuss religion in the early days of West Texas.

During the afternoon, the women worked on sewing, knitting and crocheting. Mrs. Lawrence Robinson, 604 E. 17th, will be hostess for the next meeting at 3 p.m., June 25.

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: No. You were not the hostess. You only agreed to have the party in your home.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Guests Here

Mrs. Shelton Ashley and son, Jeremy, of San Angelo are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Drake, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Moad. Shelton Ashley will arrive here Saturday, and the family will be guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyndell Ashley.

Parent Causes

Child abuse often occurs during times of crisis when a parent is angry and upset, Mrs. Ilene Miller, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, points out.

Lodge Will Donate To Rest Home

The John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge 153 met in the IOOF Hall Tuesday with Mrs. Juanita Hamlin presiding and Mrs. Patricia Kelmer, past noble grand of Rebekah Lodge 91, Midland, as a special guest.

It was decided that members will donate wash clothes to the retirement home, in Ennis next meeting. Eight visits were reported, and Mrs. Ralph LaLonde presided over a memorial service.

Mrs. Elmo Martin presented Mrs. Ellen Coots a Certificate of Perfection.

Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 will host the Stanton Lodge and John A. Kee Lodge June 24, when the speaker will be Mrs. Pat Jones, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas.

Women Meet For Breakfast

The Friendship Breakfast Club met at Coker's Restaurant Tuesday morning with Mrs. M.B. McFall giving the devotion and being hostess. Thoughts for the day were given by each member, and the club prayer was repeated. The next meeting will be at Coker's July 8, with Mrs. J.C. Pye as hostess.

Good Buys In Food Market

COLLEGE STATION — Special prices on turkey is one supermarket highlight this week, but pork supplies have slumped to a 10-year low, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

"Frequently featured turkey is one of the better high-protein buys today," the consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted.

"However, pork prices are higher after a decline during supplies. Best values include shoulder roasts and steaks, picnics and pork liver."

Beef prices are slightly higher after a decline during past months—with best values, generally, on chuck roast and steaks, round steaks.

Duncanville Spots Five On 4A Team

AUSTIN (AP) — State baseball champions Duncanville and Brenham each placed five players on the 1975 University Interscholastic League's all-tournament team.

Those from Duncanville, the Class 4A titlist, were pitcher Keith Creel, second baseman Normal Boss, shortstop Dave Milnes, third baseman Mike Fowler and outfielder Larry Long.

Others on the 4A team were pitcher Robert Rodriguez and outfielder Mike Stein of runnerup South San Antonio, catcher Tommy Knox and first baseman Frank Dishongh of Deer Park and outfielder Randy Newton of Plano.

Brenham, which won its second Class 3A crown in five attempts, placed pitchers Ronnie Wellbrock and Mark Kuecker, first baseman Robert Bockhorn, second baseman Nelson Seilheimer and catcher Wayne Schmidt.

Others on the 3A team were outfielder Willie Salone and third basemen Sterling Dunlap from second-place Sinton; outfielder Brad Bass and shortstop Glen Vrba of Waco Connally and Iowa Park's Mack Carter.

There were no repeaters from the 1974 team.

Aero Sale Close By

HOUSTON (AP) — A spokesman for a Houston group who plan to purchase the Houston Aeros says the deal should be completed no later than June 23.

A contract for the sale of the World Hockey Association club to the Houston group was approved Thursday by U.S. Bankruptcy Judge John Blinn.

PALMER TOSSES 7-HITTER

Rangers Strike Out

By The Associated Press

Hank Aaron finally came home to Milwaukee Thursday night . . . with a home run.

It was Aaron's sixth of the season and 739th of his career, but his first regular-season homer in Milwaukee County Stadium since he connected off Philadelphia on Sept. 20, 1965.

"I knew eventually it would come," said Aaron, who spent the first 12 years of his career in Milwaukee with the Braves and walloped 398 homers, 185 of them in County Stadium. But since the Braves moved to Atlanta in 1966, Aaron's only Milwaukee homer came in an exhibition game two years ago.

Aaron's solo blast off Vida Blue helped his new team, the Milwaukee Brewers, defeat the Oakland A's 9-7.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Chicago White Sox trounced the Boston Red Sox 9-2, the Kansas City Royals edged the Cleveland Indians 2-1 in 10 innings, the Baltimore Orioles whipped the Texas Rangers 7-1 and the California Angels trimmed Detroit 7-1 after the Tigers got the final three outs in the suspended second game.

WHITE SOX 9, RED SOX 2
Home runs by Deron Johnson and Bob Coluccio helped Jim Kaat to his ninth victory, although the Red Sox reached him for 11 hits. By losing for the fourth time in the last five games, Boston's lead over the idle Yankees in the East Division was chopped to one-half game.

ROYALS 2, INDIANS 1
Jim Wohlford raced home from third base with the winning run on a passed ball by Cleveland catcher John Ellis in the 10th inning, giving Steve Busby the victory over Eric Raich, his former teammate on a College World Series winner at the University of Southern California.

ORIOLES 7, RANGERS 1
Jim Palmer notched his 10th victory with a seven-hitter and Mark Belanger knocked in three runs. Palmer's victory gave him a 10-3 record, best in the American League. He ran his scoreless streak to 30 innings — his last outing was a one-hitter against Kansas City — until the Rangers scored in the eighth on singles by Cesar Tovar and Mike Hargrove around a walk.

ANGELS 3-7, TIGERS 5-1
Joe Lahoud drove in four runs with a pair of homers, including a three-run shot in a six-run third inning, as California beat Detroit. Earlier, John Hiller got the last three outs to complete a

TITLE GAME NEXT Longhorns Crush South Carolina

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — There'll be no third- or fourth-place finish for Texas this time around in the College World Series.

The Longhorns have finished in those disappointing positions five of the last six years.

"We came here with the idea of winning the national championship and our job is not over," said Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson after his team crushed South Carolina 17-6 with an 18-hit attack Thursday night.

"We hope to complete our mission Saturday night," South Carolina's initial defeat in the tournament left three teams once-beaten. The Gamecocks battle Arizona State tonight to decide Texas' title game opponent.

Arizona State, 61-12, used a masterful four-hitter by John Poloni and Bob Pate's 11th-inning run-scoring single to eliminate Oklahoma 1-0 in the night's other game.

Texas, making its seventh series bid in eight years, received a bye into the finals in a drawing among the three survivors after its battering of South Carolina.

Texas, 55-6, captured series titles in 1949 and 1950.

but since it's been with a title game chance only frustration — 14 series trips in 1953.

Word has been received that R. J. Engler, former Big Spring steer and Texas Aggie standout, has moved from the AAA farm team of the Phoenix Giants to AA status at Columbus, Ga.

Engler, who patrols centerfield, was batting .250 (20 for 80) at Phoenix since the start of the season. His current batting average is a crisp .400.

Report indicates Columbus is rated as a higher plateau of achieving major league status than some AAA affiliates. Engler is still under contract by the San Francisco Giants though Houston owns Columbus.

Odessa High's Richard Wortham has carved out pitching records for three years at the University of Texas, Austin, 11-0, 10-4 and this year 14-0. Wortham will be a senior next fall. He was drafted in the fifth round by the Texas Rangers in 1972, but decided to go to college.

The Longhorns are currently competing in the college World Series. The Texas Rangers, home for a three game series with Cleveland starting tonight, have laid out special plans for honoring dad on Father's Day Sunday.

The second annual Polaroid Color Photo Night is scheduled and each father and his children who enter Arlington Stadium before 6:50 p.m. will have their picture taken with one of the Rangers.

In addition, each man entering the stadium will receive a Gillette Trac II razor.

There'll be a slight change in format for Sunday's racing at Ruidoso Downs. Instead of the usual 1:30 p.m. first post, the starting time was changed to an early 1 p.m. in deference to the telecast of the Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity.

The event will be carried as the 10th race rather than the usual 11th shot.

WHAT IS IT WORTH DEPARTMENT — Though it's old news for some but new news for others, the American Little League baseball park pressbox, rated one of the best in the state, has a telephone hookup to both dugouts.

This arrangement is to notify the public address announcer of lineup changes. The American field layout bears out a miniature resemblance of the Midland Cub ball park.

Elsewhere around the league, Midland bumped San Antonio 6-2, Lafayette downed Jackson 7-2 and El Paso edged Shreveport 12-11.

Midland exploded for three runs in the top of the first inning and used seven-hit pitching by Bernie Beckman for its triumph. Joel Green and Al Monteil collected three hits each for the winners. San Antonio's Dennis Kinney took up his second loss against two victories.

Mike Champion collected three RBIs for Alexandria and Dave McAllen picked up his fourth mound victory against one loss. Stan Butkus, 2-2, was tagged with the loss.

Popejoy's Pitching Is Super

The International Little League Talons dropped the Starfighters, 11-7, and the American Major Pirates socked the Colts, 4-0, Thursday.

Glenn Popejoy, Talon hurler, recorded his third victory of the season. He fanned 11 Starfighter batters and gave up only three hits.

The Talons have now won four in a row. Todd Underwood of the Talons hit two homers, his fifth and sixth of the season.

John Wilson checked the Colts on five hits and fanned nine.

Astros Tagged With 10th Loss In Last 12 Games

By The Associated Press

Gary Nolan doesn't want to set the world on fire — he just wants to put a little heat on the opposition. "I have no special goals," says the Cincinnati pitcher. "All I'd like to do is go out every fifth day and keep us in the ballgame. That's my only goal."

For a fellow who's won six straight games, including Thursday night's 10-1 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals, that's a pretty modest goal.

In the other National League games, the Montreal Expos beat the San Diego

Padres 3-2 in 15 innings; the Philadelphia Phillies stopped the San Francisco Giants 4-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates trimmed the Houston Astros 4-2 and the New York Mets blanked the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-0. The Atlanta Braves beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in the first game of a doubleheader and their second game was suspended after eight innings because of a curfew with the Braves leading 6-2.

Nolan not only gave the Reds some pitching Thursday night, but some hitting as well. He doubled home two runs in Cincinnati's seven-run sixth inning. Nolan's double followed two-run singles by Tony Perez and pinch hitter Joe Morgan. The seven-run inning tied Cincinnati's high for the season and made it easy for Nolan, who allowed three hits in six scoreless innings before being replaced by Will McEnaney.

The Cardinals scored on McEnaney in the seventh on a double by Ted Simmons and Ken Reitz' single.

Loser Lynn McGlothen, 6-5, left for a pinch hitter in the top of the sixth and the Reds unloaded their big inning against veteran Ron Bryant and rookie Ryan Kurosaki.

EXPOS 3, PADRES 2
Mike Jorgensen's double delivered Pete MacKanin with the winning run in the 15th inning as Montreal beat San Diego in a marathon game. MacKanin walked with two out and roared home with the tie-breaking run as Jorgensen belted his base hit to right.

PHILLIES 4, GIANTS 1
Left-hander Steve Carlton fired a four-hitter and aided his cause with a pair of singles, boosting Philadelphia over San Francisco. Carlton, who has allowed only two runs in his last three games, raised his record to 6-5 with his fourth straight victory.

PIRATES 4, ASTROS 2
Rennie Stennett doubled across the tying run in the fifth inning and scored on Manny Sanguillen's single as Pittsburgh beat Houston.

METS 2, DODGERS 0
Jon Matlack pitched a threehitter and Felix Millan drove in a pair of runs with doubles to pace New York over Los Angeles.

BRAVES 5, CUBS 4
Darrell Evans scored when third baseman Bill Madlock booted Larvell Blanks' grounder with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning, enabling Atlanta to beat Chicago in the first game of their doubleheader.

Sullivan Gains Industry Honor

AUSTIN — Membership in the Texas Leaders Round Table, an organization composed of the life insurance industry's leading underwriters in Texas, reached a total of 976 for the year 1975.

W. Dawson Boone, Jr., CLU, of Corpus Christi, president, revealed that the membership list this year includes 151 new members.

Life Underwriter in the Big Spring area qualifying for the first time is Guy L. Sullivan. Meeting life member qualifications are Jerry E. Mancil, Ernest W. Sears, Walter W. Stroup, CLU, and Robert H. Watlington, CLU while Louis E. Stallings is a regular member.

Instructor Is Fired By OC

ODESSA — A language instructor at Odessa College, Dr. Jaroslav J. K. Piskacek, has been fired by the board of trustees at the school.

Gerald Fugit, attorney for the professor, said the decision may take the board into the courtroom.

Piskacek had only 29 students in his classes last year. Odessa College teachers are required to instruct at least 75 students a week.

Convention Spending, Attendance Keep Pace

By LEE MITGANG
Associated Press Writer

Professional and trade conventions, a $3-billion-a-year business for the nation's hotels, restaurants, retailers and meeting halls, have gotten a lift in many cities from the recession. But officials fear an eventual downturn if economic problems persist.

An Associated Press spot check of major convention cities and interviews with convention trade officials shows that attendance and spending at business gatherings has kept pace with recent years, or gone higher.

A survey of 500 trade and professional associations just conducted by the American Society of Association Executives—ASAE—showed 45 per cent had improved convention attendance over last year, 37 per cent had little change, and 18 per cent were lower.

Trade figures also show that inflation in most convention cities has not caused delegates to watch their pennies, nor has it led to "no-frills" conventions.

Delegate spending in most cities surveyed has risen 10 to 15 per cent in the past year. In Washington, D.C., for example, a delegate now will spend $233 for an average 4.4-day convention stay, $264 in Las Vegas, $275 in Atlanta, Ga., and $313 in New York.

Charles Gillett, president of the New York Convention and Visitors Bureau, says New York City hosted 825 conventions in 1974, a figure he expects to equal this year, and up slightly from 820 in 1973. The 3.2 million delegates attending those meetings spent $406.3 million, he said, up from the 3.1 million who spent $402 million in 1973.

Warren H. Erickson of the Miami Beach Convention Bureau also predicts his city will equal this year the $47 million spent by 350,000 delegates in 1974.

One reason cited for the surprising support conventions have had so far this recession year is that many trade and professional gatherings provide a chance for businessmen to discuss their problems and scout around to see how their competitors are coping with their economic difficulties.

Another reason, applying especially to professional groups like librarians, teachers or economists, is that conventions serve as a job-hunting site for those without jobs or looking for better ones.

But responses to the ASAE survey as well as interviews with city convention officials indicate trade groups for some of the more troubled industries such as housing, automobiles and apparel manufacturing, are cutting down or cancelling conventions.

In the ASAE survey 49 per cent said if the recession continues into 1976, member involvement in trade association activities including conventions would suffer. Another 40 per cent said a prolonged recession would have no effect, and the rest were undecided.

Drilling Pace Still Brisk

Oil well drilling in the United States on June 9 was running 13.38 per cent ahead of the same date a year ago. There were 1,612 active rigs, according to Hughes Tool Company's report to the International Association of Drilling Contractors, up 190. In Texas there were 622 rigs turning, a gain of 132 over a year ago, or up 26.93 per cent.

The hallmark of an expert is his ability to keep calm in the face of disaster and to look for a possible distribution that will allow him to make his contract rather than hit the panic button.

North had visions of a grand slam after his partner opened the bidding with one spade. He started his investigation with a jump shift, and then could afford to show simple preference at his next turn. Though South did no more than bid game, North still did not give up hope. When he found out that his side had all the aces, he checked on his partner's trump quality with a grand slam force of six clubs. Had South held the king of spades instead of the king of hearts, he would have accepted the invitation.

West's club attack hit declarer's soft spot, and South realized that he would have to take some chances if he were to make his contract. He had a certain trump loser, so he could not afford to tackle trumps before taking care of his club loser. Therefore, he won the ace of clubs at trick one and immediately played three rounds of diamonds, sluffing a club from his hand as both opponents followed. Next came the ace of spades, and East's king was a shock to declarer, who now faced the danger of losing two trump tricks.

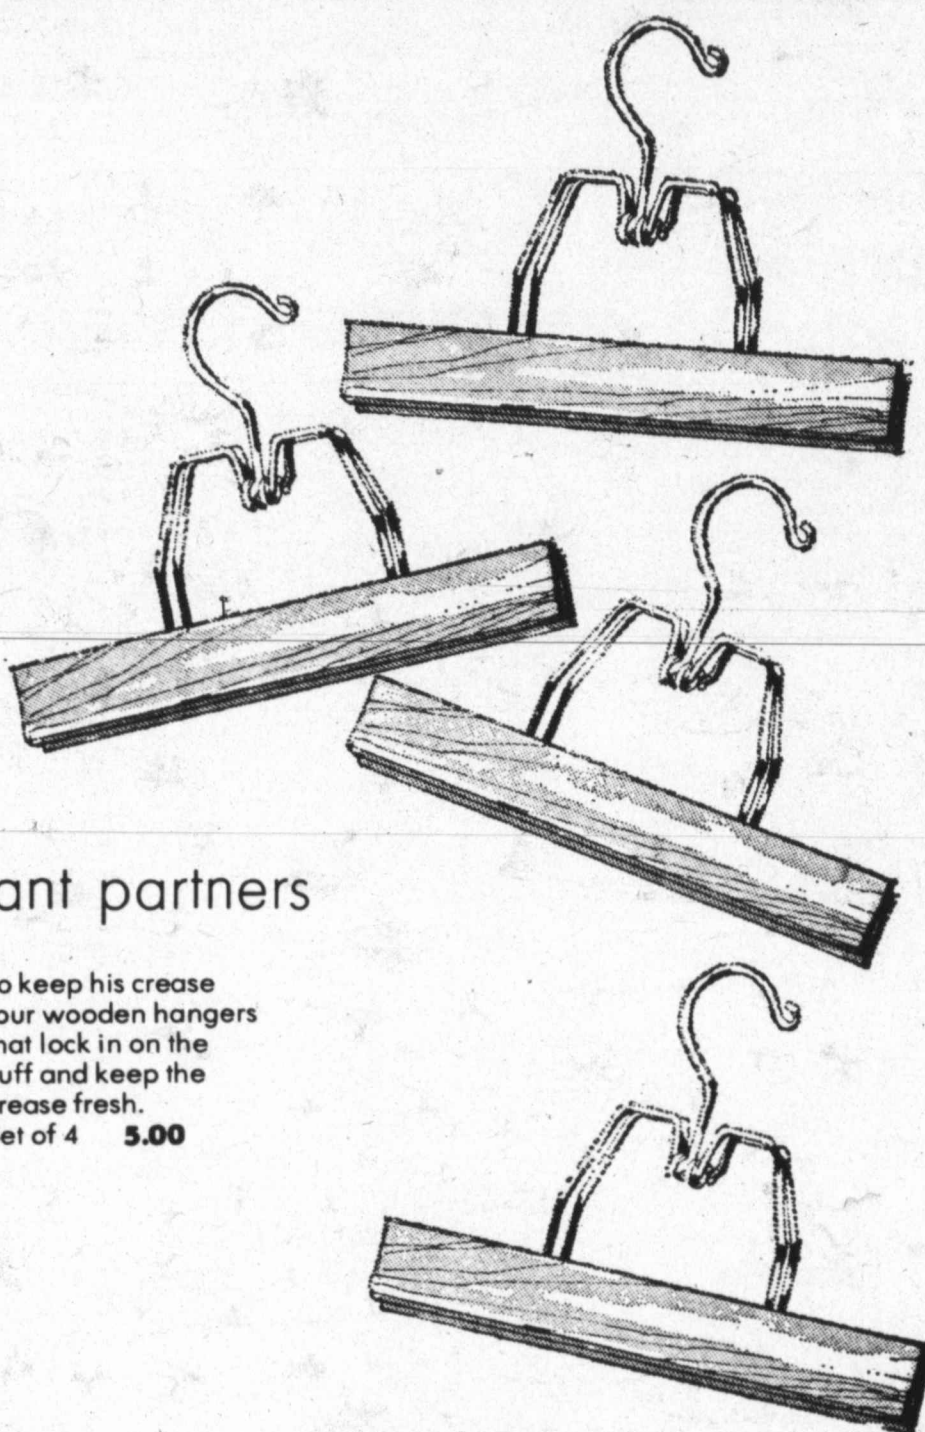

After some thought, declarer found a way to make his contract if West's distribution was specifically either 4-3-3-3 or 4-4-3-2, and South could guess which holding he had. South's first step was to ruff a club in his hand and cash the ace and king of hearts.

Then he continued with the queen of hearts, and when West followed with the jack, declarer decided to treat this as an honest card and play West for 4-3-3-3 distribution. He ruffed the heart in dummy, ruffed another club and led his remaining heart. West, down to the J-9-8 of spades, was forced to ruff and return a trump into declarer's tenace. South lost only one trump trick to bring home a well played slam.

Had West's distribution been 4-4-3-2, declarer would have to cash all three high hearts and ruff a heart in dummy. Then he would lead a trump, playing low from his hand, and West would again have been endplayed.

FOR CHILDREN — Vacation Bible Schools last week in Big Spring were held with special training for many local children. The First United Methodist Church has an ideal playground at their new education unit, complete with a childcare playground.

Leadership Recognition Set At First Christian

During the morning worship services Sunday at First Christian Church, two plaques will be dedicated. They were commissioned by the official board of the congregation giving special recognition to outstanding leadership among the congregation of one of Big Spring's oldest churches.

One plaque of bronze and wood names nine men to the distinguished office of Elder Emeritus. Those men so named have served in various positions of leadership in the congregation from officers on the Official Board to outstanding leadership as the "spiritual heads" of the church. The first man to be distinguished as Elder Emeritus was a founding member of the congregation meeting in his home until a permanent structure was built. That was "Elder" I. D. Eddins. Today, "Elder" Eddins' grandson, Brown Rogers, is still an active member of the congregation, currently serving on the board of deacons.

In various degrees, descendants and relatives of most of the nine Elders Emeritus are still actively involved in the life and ministry of First Christian Church. The last three to be distinguished, being named posthumously, are Byron Lillie, Chester Cathey, and Justin Holmes. The plaque honoring these men of outstanding leadership to their church and community reads: "Elder Emeritus, First Christian Church, Big Spring, Texas, I. D. Eddins, B. Reagan, George Owen, J. L. Milner, George Dabney, Hudson L. Bohannon, Byron Lillie, Chester Cathey, Justin Holmes.

The second plaque to be presented to the congregation and dedicated as a part of the worship service is of cast bronze, and is dedicated to the memory of Byron Lillie. The plaque bears the following inscription: The Lighting in this sanctuary is in Memory of Byron Lillie.

Members of the congregation will recognize descendants and relatives of these members as they are being honored as a part of this worship service on Father's Day. It is entirely fitting that the "faith of our fathers" be elevated on Father's Day. The worship service will end with the well-known hymn of our faith, "Faith of our Fathers, Living Still."

St. Mary's History After 1952 Related

The history of St. Mary's Episcopal Church in the early years was featured at a recent date on this page. The history after 1952 is related here.

The church building remained the same until the growth of the city of Big Spring, and consequent enlargement of communicant strength pointed to an urgent need to consider ways and means of securing a new plant at a new location. Accordingly, in 1952, there was a building campaign which eventuated in St. Mary's moving from Rannels and Fifth streets to our present location at Goliad and Tenth. The Rev. William D. Boyd was Rector at that time. Our present beautiful plant, modeled after monasteries of the Middle Ages, was designed by Harwell Hamilton Harris of Dallas. The bell, which was cast for "Ecclesia Sancta Maria, Big Springs, Texas" in 1899, was removed from the belfry of the old church and installed in the Bennett Memorial Garden.

The first service was held in the new church on Sunday, February 23, 1958. About one month later the first Annual Council of the newly established Diocese of Northwest Texas convened in the Church of St. Mary the Virgin.

The Rev. Donald N. Hungerford, the "Little Shepherd" came to St. Mary's December 6, 1958. During his time of service, he was assisted by two curates, M. Gayland Pool, and later, Charles Boyer. They are now both ordained priests.

St. Mary's Day School was started in 1960 with one kindergarten class of thirteen children. The present school has two pre-kindergarten classes, three kindergarten classes, and grades from first through third with one hundred and fifteen children.

On Sunday August 7, 1966, the new Nave and Sanctuary was dedicated by Bishop Quarterman. This building was the completion of the original plans by the architect. It closes the fourth side of the patio. The first Nave and Sanctuary became the Parish Hall.

The Rev. Mr. John Payne came to St. Mary's and served until 1968. Our present Rector, the Rev. Harland B. Birdwell, came to St. Mary's in August 1968, and is still serving the church.

Again, I think some mention must be made of the Women of the Church, Episcopal women over the nation are known and noted for their devotion and diligence. They work in many fields for the benefit of their church.

The women of St. Mary's have tried every money-making scheme there is. Back in the 1930's they had an annual Style Show and every merchant in town was proud to be represented. They even had an automobile show! There were bazaars, bake sales, and tasting teas.

For about six years they had what was called a Talent Fund. Each woman taking part, was put on a list to be broadcast in every way possible, advertising her talents. There were cake bakers, bread bakers, Mexican food cooks, babysitters, and one woman who is still active in the church, would paint walls!

In 1968 it was decided that there was a need to separate "Women's Work" and money making - or at least to broaden the concept of women's work. There was the feeling by many that our guilds should devote some time and effort to study, devotion, and worship. And so a new money-making venture was begun, leaving more time for the less mundane concerns of the Women's Guilds. This new venture is a second-hand shop called "The Bargain Box!"

It was opened for business November 2, 1968, and is a very successful and remunerative project which is entirely managed and operated by volunteer women. The proceeds from the Bargain Box paid the last $4,000 of the mortgage on the new church building. This was celebrated at a festive supper in the Parish Hall - the dramatic burning of the mortgage was done before all of the celebrants. Other gifts included $5,000 toward the purchase of a new pipe organ - with still more projects going to add to the organ fund.

This pipe organ, built by Casavant in Quebec, Canada, will be a fifteen rank organ, German classic in design, with the console in oak to match the Altar furniture. The installation date is tentatively set for November, 1974.

St. Mary's has provided both lay and clergy leadership beyond its own borders. We have had numerous people who have been active in diocesan and national church affairs, and reflecting a national trend, evident in St. Mary's, there has been more lay participation in performing the worship services of the church.

Message Of Hope Goes To Vietnam

NEW YORK—A message of hope is being rushed by the United Bible Societies to Vietnamese people recently relocated at various centers in the United States and overseas.

In response to requests from Christian clergy and laypeople among the refugees, the American Bible Society is printing 50,000 copies each of two Scripture Selections in Vietnamese on the theme of "hope." The first contains Psalms 27 and 55 and 2 Corinthians 2:1-13. The second is the 14th chapter of the Gospel of John. These are being shipped by air to chaplains at military bases in the United States where Vietnamese refugees are temporarily housed—Camp Pendleton, Calif., Fort Chaffey, Ark., and Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

The United Bible Societies' production center in Hong Kong is rushing a printing of 10,000 Vietnamese New Testaments, 20,000 copies of a Scripture Portion containing the life and teachings of Jesus, and 50,000 additional Vietnamese Scripture Selections on the theme of "consolation" for shipment to Guam, the Philippines, Wake Island, and other refugee centers around the world.

Gifts Sought

The American Bible Society, is soliciting gifts for a new program, "Good News for New Readers." John D. Erickson, executive secretary, said $6 will pay for 120 Scripture literacy selections at the first reading level; $15 will put 300 of the selections in hands of people hungering for "God's Word." Gifts of any amount may be mailed to "Good News for New Readers," America Bible Society P. O. Box 5640, Grand Central Station New York 10017.

Courtneys Now Train At Center

GLORIETA, N. M. — Ragan Courtney and his wife Cynthia Clawson will serve as celebration leaders for the Church Training Youth Conference at Glorieta Baptist Conference Center June 7-13, 1975. Courtney, a lyricist from Dallas, and his wife, a concert singer, will be in charge of the celebrations for approximately 2,600 youth. "Bright New Wings" will be the theme for the week. Conference is designed to offer youth fresh approaches in group work and worship expressions based on the biblical creation. In Christ a new creation. Worship services will include more youth involvement than in a conventional preaching format.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A good day for you to extend your activities beyond present boundaries. It's an excellent time to contact the right persons who are able to help you get ahead. Be more practical.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A good time to make plans for the future. Do whatever will make your mate happier. Take time to improve your surroundings.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study ways to have increased abundance in the future. Consults experts for the advice you need in a business transaction.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have fine inventive ideas that should be presented to others without delay. Do some entertaining tonight. Be poised.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Talking with experts now can pave the way for added success and happiness in the future. Relax at home tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Personal interests should be uppermost on your mind today for gaining happiness you have not had in a long time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get together with one who has much experience and gain the knowledge you need now. You can make much progress now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take time to improve your appearance. Joining a group affair at this time can help you advance in your career.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Show more loyalty to those in high position and you can benefit greatly in the future. Improve your surroundings.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Make new contacts and obtain the data you need for a new project. Be sure to be fair in all your dealings.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Using your intuitive faculties will help you today in a business matter. Improve your relations with loved one.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try to reconcile with one who opposes you. Us tact and all is fine. A new contact can give you valuable data now.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have many chores to do now but do the most important first for best results. Take no chances with your reputation.

DRAFT LEGISLATION

Make It Crime To Assassinate

WASHINGTON (AP) —
The Ford administration is reviewing draft legislation making it a crime for a U.S. citizen to assassinate a foreign leader anywhere in the world.

Such legislation might provide a basis for prosecuting
any Central Intelligence Agency employee for plotting or carrying out the assassination of a foreign leader in the future, Justice
Department officials said
Thursday.

But even if enacted, the measure could not be applied to prosecute those involved in alleged CIA assassination plots in the past.

The proposed bill, drafted by the Justice Department in cooperation with the State Department, would set a mandatory penalty of life in prison for murdering a foreign chief of state, any other foreign official of Cabinet rank or above, and certain other "internationally protected persons" such as diplomats and their families.

Murder is a state crime,
although there is provision for federal prosecution in an assassination of the president.

CLAYTON WILL RUN

Heavier Sales Tax Load For Texas Consumers?

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Bill Clayton said Thursday that he is all but elected to a second term and indicated this might mean a heavier sales tax load for Texas consumers.

Clayton told an hour-long news conference that "without any encouragement on my part," more than 90 of the 150 House members had already pledged him their votes for reelection as speaker.

PERSONAL CLOUT

The speaker's tax philosophy is important because he can heavily influence the course of tax legislation in 1977 by his standing committee appointments, parliamentary rulings, personal clout and his selection of five members of the conference committee on a tax bill.

Some estimates of next session's revenue needs have run over $1 billion, but Clayton said, "We are looking realistically at $400 million to $500 million and probably even less than that."

"If asked which tax I would prefer to pay and to vote for, it would be a sales tax—an increase in rate or removal of exemptions...there are a lot of ways you can play with it," he said.

Other possibilities, he said, include a tax on oil refineries, a tax on coal and lignite production and possibly a means for taxing Texas-produced goods sold out of state.

STRIP MINING

When asked about a corporate income tax, Clayton replied, "I haven't looked at it."

Despite his use of his parliamentary and appointive powers to further several legislative goals, Clayton said he had not abandoned his pre-session philosophy that the speaker should not push a program.

He defended his use of the gavel to delay final passage of a strip mining control bill in a vain effort to remove uranium mines from its provisions. He said the "economic burden" imposed by the land restoration requirements could shut down the state's largest uranium mining operation, in Karnes County.

Clayton said his close friend, Pioneer Gas Co. president Tex Watson, had shown him figures to prove this would happen. Pioneer owns uranium rights in Karnes County, he said.

READ THE WIND

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has indicated that his concern over the Karnes County situation might lead him to veto the bill.

Clayton said he stacked the conference committee on public utility regulation in favor of a weaker bill than the one originally approved by the House because that was the only way to get the Senate to accept any bill.

"You've got to read the political wind to really sense this sort of thing," he said.

Clayton also defended his use of the speaker's power to set up the select committee inquiry that could lead to impeachment of District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo of Benavides.

The resolution was in-

TO RUN AGAIN — House Speaker Bill Clayton, at a news conference Thursday tells reporters he will again be a candidate for speaker when the next session of the legislature begins and added he had enough pledges to assure his election.

roduced by Rep. Terry Canales, D-Fremont, a member of the Parr faction that is battling Carrillo for political power in Duval and adjacent counties. Clayton said he did not believe this would set a precedent for the use of impeachment resolutions to pursue vendettas against political enemies.

"I feel we have an obligation to do this if there is a feeling of wrongdoing.... We would be neglecting our responsibilities and duties if we didn't look into it.... Mr. Canales was very ardent about it. He felt it was the only way he could get justice," Clayton said.

Clayton said his cooperation with Canales did "not necessarily" represent a change in viewpoint from the days when he opposed attempts in 1971 to set up a House investigation into alleged misconduct by Speaker Gus Mutscher, a political ally of Clayton.

Mutscher later was convicted of conspiracy to accept a bribe.

"We were slow in this situation and we were slow in this situation," Clayton said.

Clayton was told that his new rule requiring reporters and the public to obtain clearance from each of the 150 representatives to look at their payroll and expense records had not worked in several cases. The Fort Worth Star-Telegram found that some House members had left town without delegating employees to provide the records.

"If a member is not available or has no designee, I'll provide the information myself," Clayton said.

He confirmed that he has asked House Administration Committee Chairman Pete Laney, D-Hale Center, to look into the possibility of cutting off funds for the House Study Group. His concern, he said, is "whether the group's activities are a proper use of tax dollars."

The study group consists of several representatives, mostly liberal ones, who hired a staff to evaluate pending bills. Reports issued by the group on several occasions branded measures as "bad bills" that should be defeated in the public interest.

Representatives, liberals and conservatives alike, traditionally have been allowed to chip in to hire staff members in common.

In his prepared statement, Clayton said the House had passed "every piece of major legislation placed before it" and was marked by several firsts. These, he said, included the first black committee chairman (Craig Washington, D-Houston, of the criminal jurisprudence committee).

City Manager Devore Quits

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — City Manager Ken Devore's resignation has been unanimously accepted by Beaumont's five-member city council, which named Devore's assistant as acting city manager.

Tuesday's action by the council came in the wake of criticism by three council members last week of Devore's performance.

Hookers Or Therapists?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Golden Gate Foundation reopens the doors of its elegant mansion this week to raise funds for the defense of its employees charged with prostitution.

Known locally as Kitty's Place, the foundation claims it is a legitimate sex therapy and counseling service. Police call it a bordello.

"Other businesses accused of crime are permitted to operate until guilt is proven and we feel we have the same legal right," said Michael Harris, who says he is the foundation's research director.

The foundation is housed in a 15-room Victorian mansion. Miss Desmond says the building with its marble fireplaces, paneled walls, canopied beds and lush carpets is a more realistic and effective setting for emotional therapy than a clinical institute.

She said the foundation is legal because the law has no definition or standards for sex therapists.

Philip G. Zimbardo, a psychology professor at Stanford University, said Miss Desmond once lectured to his class. He said the trial of her foundation may be a legal landmark.

"This is really a challenge to the definition of both prostitution and sex therapy," he said.

Police raided the alleged house of ill repute May 8 after two months of surveillance and arrested seven women. A preliminary hearing is scheduled June 27.

Kitty Desmond, identified on the foundation's business cards as its executive planning director, has organized three reservation-only champagne parties to raise funds for legal expenses.
