Sadness Replaces Hope And Prayer In Human Hearts As Kathy Is Found Dead

(By The Associated Press)

SAN MARINO, Calif., April 11.—The world is a little sadder today. Little Kathy Fiscus was brought up dead from her well tomb after 52 hours.

All mothers and fathers shared in some measure the grief that overcame David and Alice Fiscus when the body of their tow-headed three-year old was found lying in water, wedged about 100 feet down in the 14-inch pipe.

The announcement of death by drowning, at 8:58 (PST) last night brought to a tragic end the tireless digging of weary rescuers and the anxious waiting of sympathizers everywhere.

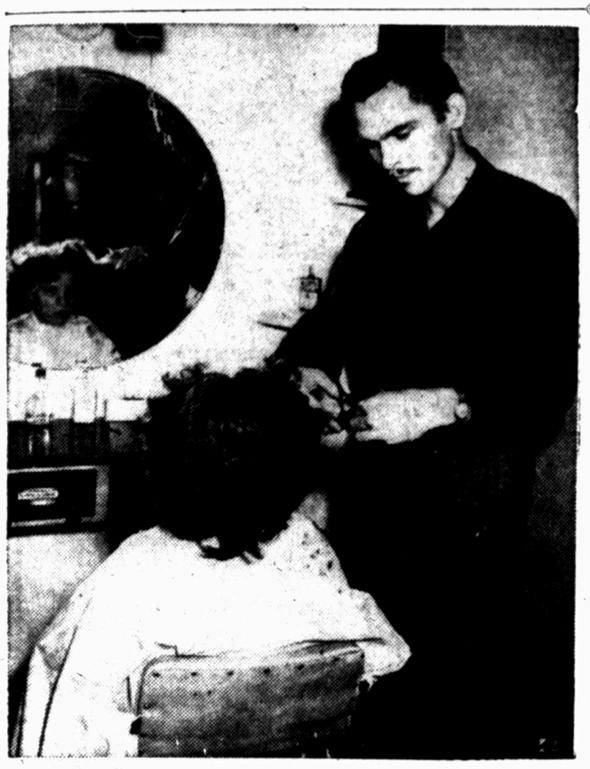

Since sunny, little Kathy, running at play, stumbled into the weed-covered well opening last Friday afternoon, accounts of the attempt to reach her had stirred the nation, and the rest of the world, as few stories have in years.

Even though nothing had been heard from the child since about an hour after she plunged into the abandoned old casing, hope and prayer filled most human hearts. How else account for a crowd of more than 15,000 which watched final rescue efforts?

Those efforts took, in all, 52 hours; but it would have been the same if she could have been reached in two hours.

Dr. Robert McCullock, family physician, said Kathy had been dead "since last heard from Friday afternoon." Then

Urge City Co-Ops

Lower Living Costs Sought

Extension Of REA Principle Is Plan

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 11 — A proposal that the government make "sound business-like loans" to launch city folks' cooperatives was advanced today by Murray D. Lincoln of Columbus, Ohio. He is president of the Cooperative League of the United States.

Lincoln predicted that the current softening of business will be "further aggravated" and could end in collapse unless steps are taken to strengthen consumer buying power by lowering living costs.

Many Fields Included

He urged that the principle of the Rural Electrification administration—loans to farm power co-ops at the cost of the money to the government—be extended to co-operatives providing "any commodity or service which is in short supply or monopoly-priced."

"This would certainly include such fields as power, public health, steel, petroleum, housing, fertilizer, money and credit, and distribution and processing of food commodities," Lincoln told the Cooperative League's economic conference here. The group is holding a three-day conference.

"Lack of capital should not be deterrent to groups of people anywhere in this broad land who have the will to form themselves into mutual help corporations for the purpose of solving these economic problems for themselves," said Lincoln.

Through cooperatives, he said, city dwellers can combine their power as consumers or producers and provide themselves with better services and goods at lower cost.

At a pre-conference dinner last night, Senator Aiken (R-Vt) told the league that cooperatives are the best defense of "the farmer and the little fellow" against monopolies.

President Truman sent a message to the meeting declaring the topics under discussion "include some of those about which I am concerned and have submitted programs to Congress." He added:

"Specifically, I share your immediate concern about more efficient distribution, expanding basic production, and conserving natural resources. I will await with interest the results of your conference."

Showdown On Aid For Europe Near

Democrat Sponsors Proposal For Cut In Recovery Fund; Early Vote Sought

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 11—A Democrat stepped up today to sponsor a 10 per cent fund cut as the House pushed toward a showdown on the new European recovery program.

That gave the campaign in the House for a cut a bipartisan tint. But backers of the second installment on the Marshall plan insist they have the votes to block any major slash.

Rep. Preston (D-Ga) told reporters he is going to try for a reduction of around 10 per cent, or about $500,000000. Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis) already had announced he would attempt a similar cut applied a little differently.

There were similar efforts in the Senate to cut the $5,580,000,000 authorization but they failed.

Even the House people who want to lower the amount say they favor aid to western Europe for another 15 months. And many of those who are against a bill of any size concede they are going to get licked.

The House moved today's session up an hour, to 10 a. m. (CST), to polish off 50 minutes of debate and then start the bill through

Tech Board Okays Plans For Pantex

BY C. W. RATLIFF
Journal Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 11.—The board of directors of Texas Technological college today voted to accept the contract granting the 17,000-acre Pantex ardnance plant, near Amarillo, to the college.

The grant will be the largest ever made by the War Assets administration. The Pantex plant has more than 400 buildings.

Structures on the Pantex property range from temporary wooden structures, some small, to permanent structures made of steel and concrete. Networks of railroad tracks and utility lines are located on the land.

Research Is Conducted

Texas Tech began farming about 8,000 acres of the land on lease basis in 1947, operating a research project on wheat poisoning.

The application from Texas Tech board of directors to the War Assets administration for the Pantex plant was dated March 3, 1948. Prior to that time, however, negotiations preparatory to the application had been underway.

The move to accept the contract was made by Leon Ince, of Houston, and seconded by Kyle Spiller of Jacksboro.

To Study Maintenance

After voting acceptance of the contract, Tech board members set up plans for a committee to study current maintenance needs of the giant ordnance plant. The committee will report to the board later, recommending action on disposal of some of the equipment and buildings at the plant.

The contract under which Tech receives the Pantex installation contains 21 specific stipulations regarding the college's ownership rights, but it was accepted today

Annual Dairy Show Opened

PLAINVIEW, April 11 (Special)—The 22nd annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show opened this morning at 8:30 with a new record in sight for official entries. The list had topped 400 Sunday and was well on the way to besting the figure of 435 established back in 1946.

Raymond Lee Johns, show manager, said that the entries began arriving as early as last Thursday and came in a steady stream after that. Saturday 8 p. m. was the official deadline at which time all entries were to have been in the barns. It was not learned whether the deadline was extended to take care of late arrivals.

Jerseys Lead List

In the early count Jerseys led the entry list with 137. They were followed by Milking Shorthorns and Guernseys.

Manuel W. Ayers, Hale county agent and general superintendent of the dairy show, said that a

Co-Operative Tax Is Held Illegal

AUSTIN, April 11. (U.P.)—Legislation levying a tax on Texas co-operatives was bounced back to the Senate today with a note from the attorney general that it was illegal.

The measure, the attorney general's department ruled, was unconstitutional.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Keith Kelly of Fort Worth, would have required that co-operatives pay tax and licenses fees equal to those paid by private firms engaged in the same line of business.

Master Sergeant Is Victim Of Suicide

WICHITA FALLS, April 11. (U.P.)—An Army master sergeant, in full dress and wearing all his military decorations, shot himself to death on a Wichita county road this morning.

Five witnesses told Sheriff Hammet Vance they saw him walk down the road, come to a stop, put at pistol to his chest, and pull the trigger.

Authorities identified him as Milton Wyatt, stationed at Fort Sill, Okla. He was dead before an ambulance could reach him. H. M. Newman, justice of peace, returned a suicide verdict.

The sheriff, himself a veteran of World War II, identified several of the decorations worn by Wyatt as overseas combat awards.

Plea For Special Session Is Refused By Governor Jester

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, April 11—Gov. Beauford Jester today rejected a plea that he call a special session of the legislature to consider the controversial Gilmer-Aikin proposals on educational reform.

The governor turned down a House-sponsored proposal that would have postponed all action on the sweeping reform proposals, holding the debate-laden issues over for consideration by a special session.

The governor read his answer, a two and one-half page statement, to a committee of House members headed by Reps. John Crosthwait of Dallas and Jimmy P. Horany of Archer City.

Consideration of the measures has virtually stopped all other business in the House, resulting in a legislative log jam threatening to block enactment of a score of other bills.

The legislature is now two-thirds of the way through its normal 120 day session.

Neither side has shown any indication of giving way.

The main controversy centers at the present time around one of three Gilmer-Aikin bills which would abolish the job of Dr. L. A.

Michigan's Grand Old Man Suffers Stroke

Ex-Governor Gravely Ill After Marrying Adopted Daughter

(By The Associated Press)

POULAN, Ga., April 11—Michigan's ex-Gov. Chase S. Osborn, who married his adopted daughter Saturday, remained in critical condition today.

His doctor, J. J. Crumley, said yesterday the 89-year-old friend of nine presidents was near death. A few hours later, however, he reported Osborn had made another of his amazing rallies and was resting comfortably.

Crumley said the aged philanthropist made a miraculous response to a blood plasma transfusion and a glucose injection. But he added Osborn still is in grave condition.

"Michigan's grand old man" married his adopted daughter, 55-year-old Stellanova, Saturday in his Georgia retreat, Possum Poke in Possum Lane. Mrs. Osborn said the adoption was dissolved shortly before the ceremony for sentimental reasons.

Osborn, a semi-invalid for years, became seriously ill last October. He spent two months

Mass Funeral Services Are To Be Staged

Forty-Seven Hurt As Explosion Rips Through Building

(By The Associated Press)

MARION, S. D., April 11.—This small South Dakota town today planned a mass funeral for the six Holy Week worshippers killed Sunday as a blast demolished St. Mary's Catholic church.

Bishop William O. Brady of Sioux Falls, diocesan head, tentatively set Wednesday for the mass rites for the elderly victims who died as they knelt in prayer. Forty-seven other persons were injured, several critically.

Church Is Shattered

The brick church was shattered by a basement explosion a few moments before the 9 a. m. Palm Sunday mass was to begin. Only the entrance bell tower remained standing. A small fire that followed was quickly put out.

Church officials attributed the blast to escaping bottled furnace fuel gas. Phil Waghendorf, a parishioner, said "everything blew up" when he threw a furnace switch.

Although buried in the wreckage and suffering from injuries and serious burns, Wachendorf was able to free himself and crawl out.

Others Pinned Under

Others were pinned under bricks and timbers which had to be pried loose to free them. The church had a seating capacity of 250 but only about 75 worshippers were in their pews. Many others stood in small groups outside while waiting for the mass to begin. They escaped injury.

The priest, Father Joseph Zimmermann, 73, was preparing to enter the palm banked altar. When some of the parishioners complained the church was cold, Wachendorf volunteered to turn on the furnace. A moment later the church was in ruins.

Miss Agnes Kleszak, rectory housekeeper, said she was leaving for church when she heard the explosion and saw the walls crumble, the roof cave in.

Calls For Doctors

"I started putting in calls for doctors," she said.

Attracted by the explosion, townsmen rushed to the church to help with the rescue work. Screams of victims helped guide

Airport Zoning Board Okayed

Another detail paving the way to a call for bids for Lubbock county's proposed $1,250,000 six-story courthouse building was being worked out this afternoon.

The county commissioners' court went into conference with a Southwestern Bell Telephone company engineer at 1:30 p. m. to discuss in detail the planning of a private branch exchange system for the building.

Best unofficial estimates now call for the plans and specifications for the project to be released shortly after May 1. Bids would be opened several weeks later.

Zoning Board Explained

Convening at 10:35 o'clock this morning in a jury room in the courthouse, the commissioners heard City Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson and Ed Colby, the city's airport director, explain the purposes of a joint city-county air zoning board required by the Civil Aeronautics authority to regulate building heights within a radius of three miles from the center of Municipal airport.

They approved a resolution submitted by Wilson authorizing the board. A similar resolution adopted by the city commission last Thursday resulted in appointment of Robert J. Walker and Ray F. Hinchey to the board. The commissioners court appointments had ASHLAND, N. J., April 11 (UP)—Fire Chief Richard G. Swope resigned today.

He said he was sick and tired of trying to get his volunteer firemen away from the firehouse bar long enough to fight a blaze.

"Liquor and fire fighting don't mix," he said. "The fire company's morale has been ruined since the bar was installed 28 months ago."

The last straw was Saturday. Four of his men walked away from a fire and two others refused to help fight it, Swope said.

Attlee Claims Kremlin Bosses 'Divide World'

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 11. (AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee declared yesterday in a bitter attack on Russia that the "rulers of the Kremlin" had divided the world.

The chief of Britain's Labor government spoke at a party rally in this shipbuilding center, where Communists have much of their strength in Britain.

He described Russia as a police state with "no freedom of speech or even of thought." He added that Communists are "more reactionary than some of the old tyrannies which we knew in the past."

Nazis Line Recalled

Attlee declared the vast majority of Britons favored the Atlantic pact, which he said is "purely defensive."

Those who are against the pact, he said, "are the Communists and their fellow travelers, and a few eccentrics whose hostility to the United States blinds them to reality."

"Those who attack it as offensive do so from a bad conscience.

"They take just the same line as the Nazis did when every attempt by the nations to get together was denounced as the encirclement of Germany."

Attlee said Russia had used the veto in the United Nations to stop all action "which was not completely in accord with what the Soviet government wanted."

Economic Aid Refused

"If we cannot get an effective all-in collective security," he added, "we must get what we can."

Attlee said the nations of eastern Europe would have been welcomed into the European recovery program but Russia vetoed participation by her satellites.

"The responsibility for dividing the world rests squarely on the shoulders of the rulers of the Kremlin," he said.

"We do not give up hope of reuniting the world, but it can only be done if the Communists give up their ideological imperialism, their attempting to bring the whole world into line, to confine every single person within the strait-jacket of Marx-Leninism."

Board Against Union Demand On Railroads

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—A presidential emergency board today recommended against granting union demands for an additional engineer on multiple-unit diesel locomotives.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers had made a demand on most western railroads for the additional engineer. It threatened a strike if the demand was not granted.

A strike was called for Jan. 31, but President Truman stepped in with appointment of the board to investigate the dispute. Under the railway labor act, the union was required to hold off a walkout pending the board's study.

Communist Violence Predicted During 1949 But Without War

NEW ORLEANS, April 11. (U.P.) Dr. John E. Kieffer, an associate professor of political science at Tulane University who can predict international events with almost phenominal accuracy, said he does not expect war with Russia in 1949.

That was one of Dr. Kieffer's 20 predictions for this year. He made a similar list of predictions last year and hit 87.5 per cent. Two of his predictions in 1948 were the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia and the death of Jan Masaryk.

Dr. Kieffer, who is 39 and was a colonel of infantry in the last war, said there is no mystery about his predictions. His method, he disclosed, is to: (1) build up an intensified background of the history of governments; (2) subscribe to and read thoroughly the publications distributed by the embassies of various countries, and (3) balance the information.

Students Do Well

Several of Kieffer's graduate students used his methods and a few improvisions of their own to draw up lists of predictions that averaged 80 per cent right last year. Kieffer said his whole system is based on the theory that "chance favors the prepared mind."

He did not predict the election of President Truman. He said he predicted that a Republican would win, largely on the ground "of wishful thinking."

His 1949 predictions:

1. If American troops are completely withdrawn from southern Korea, the area will be overrun by Communists from north Korea and made part of a Communist state in six months.

2. No satisfactory peace treaty will be achieved for Austria.

3. Russia will increase its demands on Finland and try to drag that nation behind the iron curtain.

4. Marshall Tito will swing into the western orbit.

De Gaullists To Gain

5. The De Gaullists will increase their power in France at the expense of the Communists and left wing parties.

6. Norway, Sweden and Denmark will join actively with the western powers in the North Atlantic alliance. When this happens, Russia will absorb Finland politically or militarily and sieze Norwegian territories in the north.

7. There will be a Communist spy expose in the United States that will "dwarf" all previous exposes.

8. Russia and its satellites will conduct an open drive to eradicate all religious forces behind the Iron Curtain and will abandon all pretense of arresting clergymen as "spies."

Russia To Shift

9. Russia's main effort will shift from western Europe to Scandinavia and the east. Intensified Communist effort, penetration and armed violence may be expected in India, Indo-China, Burma, Siam and Indonesia.

10. The Malan government in South Africa will collapse because of troubles between the Zulus and Indians.

11. The Communist menace will decline sharply in France and Italy, but increase in the form of underground activities in Spain.

12. "Tolerated parties" and coalition governments will disappear in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Bulgaria. The Communists will appear as the only legal party.

13. Russia will try to annex neighboring satellites by "admitting" them as Soviet republics.

14. The Communists in China will not establish a government as Communist as Russia would like.

15. The Dutch will not meet the United Nations timetable for granting independence to Indonesia.

16. All attempts to change the veto power in the Security Council of the UN and admit more nations to the UN will fail.

17. The Latin-American scene will be dotted with revolutions in Paraguay, Costa Rica and Bolivia. There will be riots and some bloodshed in Peru and Chile. There will be marked changes in the Argentine government.

18. There will be a definite attempt to woo France into the North Atlantic Alliance with economic concessions and considerations.

19. The Berlin crisis will not be solved. The air lift will continue and violence and Communist penetration into the democratic zones will be intensified. Look for a marked increase of American, French and British troops on duty in Berlin this summer.

20. There will be no war with Russia in 1949.

Dr. Kieffer has declined to predict the date of a war with Russia, although he believes the United States and Soviet will meet some time on some "world street corner" and fight it out.

Former Nazi Found Guilty

NUERNBERG, Germany, April 11. (AP)—An American court today convicted the first of 21 former Nazi officials upon whom it is pronouncing judgment in the final American war crimes trial.

Baron Ernst Von Weiszaecker was convicted of plotting aggressive war against Czechoslovakia. He was state secretary in Hitler's foreign office and one time Nazi ambassador to the Vatican.

Weiszaecker was the chief defendant among the 21 Nazi diplomats and government officials on trial.

Sentences Due

A capacity crowd turned out to hear the final judgment in the same courtroom where Hermann Goering and 11 other high Nazi leaders were sentenced to death by an international military tribunal in the first war crimes trial in 1945.

The judgment in the final case, which rings down the curtain on one of history's greatest legal dramas, runs 833 pages. It will take four days to read in court. Sentencing, therefore, will not come before Thursday.

The defendants are charged with various crimes. Among them are planning and launching of wars of aggression; murder and ill-treatment of belligerents and prisoners of war; atrocities against Germans on political, racial and religious grounds; atrocities against civilian populations of conquered countries; plunder and spoilation of those countries; forcing hundreds of thousands into slave labor.

MORE SELF-GOVERNMENT ASKED

Allied Pact Offer To Germans Is Hit

(By The Associated Press)

BONN, Germany, April 11.—The western allies have given Germany a treaty returning a measure of self-government to that defeated country. But the Germans say it doesn't give them enough freedom to run their own affairs.

The treaty—called an occupation statute—was handed Dr. Konrad Adenauer, president of the German parliamentary council, yesterday by representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France.

The parliamentary council is charged with writing a constitution for a German republic composed of the occupation zones of the three western powers. The occupation statute would become effective as soon as this new German government is set up. This may be by July 1.

Dr. Adenauer and other political leaders have agreed to withhold comment on the treaty for 48 hours, but the German press lost no time in attacking it.

The newspapers object particularly to provisions giving the Allies continued control of German science and foreign trade relations.

The Berlin Sozialdemokrat, organ of the Social Democratic party, called Allied control of scientific research "intolerable" and declared "the German economy will be able to compete on world markets only if it is allowed to develop its industries technically."

Allied control of research was intended to prevent German development of any new means of war potential.

Review Is Pledged

Under the statute the Germans will have full independence in domestic matters others than those specifically reserved to the three western powers. They will have a free legislature, executive and control of their own law courts.

The occupation powers pledge respect for the civil rights of Germans against arbitrary arrest, search, seizure and unfair trial. They also pledge to review the statute after a year.

The three western countries will continue to handle Germany's disarmament and foreign affairs; they will rule the Ruhr—iron and steel center which was the German arsenal in the last two wars—and decide what big business trusts should be broken up; displaced persons will continue an allied responsibility as will the custody of convicted war criminals.

House Committee Slashes Half Billion From VA Appropriation

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON April 11 — A half billion dollar cut in Veterans' administration funds highlighted a $7,576,886,231 multi-agency money bill approved today by the House appropriations committee.

The bill carries funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1 for 28 so-called independent agencies, including $5,145,431,940 for the Veterans' administration and $1,090,120,397 for the atomic energy commission.

Reduction Is Shared

Every agency in the bill shared in the overall reduction of $734,680,599 from the presidential budget requests for $8,311,566,830, but the Veterans' administration took the deepest slash.

The bill's total includes $7,101,571,603 in cash and $472,314,628 in contract authorizations for which future appropriations may be required. The President had asked for $7,775,566,830 in cash and $536,000,000 in contract authority.

Not only did the committee upset the President's budget on the money items, but it refused to follow his budget bureau's recommendation for cancellation of $277,000,000 in previously authorized veterans' hospital construction.

Budget Group Cut

It even cut th budget bureau's own budget.

But even with the overall $508,750,060 reduction, the total VA fund would be $14,977,940 more than Congress gave the agency this year. However, the committee said, the VA will have about $800,000,000 less to spend next year than it had this year because some of the new funds will be used during the remaining months of this fiscal year.

In explanation of the big cuts in VA funds, the committee said there is no way to determine accurately the exact needs of some of the programs.

Atomic Commission Slashed

In refusing to go along with the budget bureau in cancelling $237,000,000 in hospital building authority for which the money has not yet been provided, the committe said the President could decide what part of the construction program should go ahead.

The atomic energy commission's share of the bill is $1,090,120,397, consisting of $702,930,769 in cash and $387,189,628 in contract authority. The President wanted $740,000,000 and $427,000,000 in contract authority.

About one-third of the commission's program for next year involves weapons and reactor development which the committee said should not be cut because they deal with "our first line of defense."

There was no further explanation.

Burial was in Hale Center cemetery.

Survivors include four daughters, two sons, 18 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Follow good neighbor Reece Around the Clock

AMERICAN FAMILY CLOSE-UP
As they go, so goes the nation!

From 4 to midnight, Sanford M. Reece works at a South Bend radio station—the high spot of his busy day's program!

You'll see how to get a lot of living out of 24 hours of day!

How to support a family in spite of high living costs . . . how to become a good neighbor in an "adopted city". . . how to make the kids tolerant, useful citizens—These were the problems that faced Sandy Reece when he moved to South Bend, Indiana, four years ago.

To solve them would be a large order. And like everyone else, he had only 24 hours a day to do it in! Was there a way to make every minute count? Could he find time to earn extra money, help out in community projects, be a good father, too . . . ?

From 9 to noon, Sandy writes radio shows at home. Such free-lance jobs, plus extra broadcasts, radio writing class at Notre Dame, add $1250 a year to his regular pay as announcer. Wife Ginny handles files, helps schedule his time.

Afternoons, Sandy devotes time to his town! He helped arrange YMCA's adult education program, produced school pageant. "Working with your neighbors, you feel more at home," he says.

"Puppet time" for Sandra and Buddy! They're making puppets of their own, and planning a show for neighborhood kids! The Reeces believe that doing things as a family helps the children feel secure.

Between his shows at the radio station, Sandy is active in South Bend's little theatre group. It's a big source of inexpensive fun for him and Ginny. A drama major when he was at college, Sandy directs, Ginny acts, they build the stage sets together . . . and South Bend citizens get good plays!

Like their hours, they "stretch" their money! By such things as smart use of leftovers, Ginny feeds the whole family on $20 a week. House costs $65 a month. Their life insurance program is budgeted at $60 a month. It was planned with their life insurance agent to include "college fund" for Sandra, Buddy and little Robin. By planning this future for his family and arranging his time to do more than just his job, Sandy Reece is a good neighbor—and a good citizen!

Time for fun with the kids is in Sandy's program too! He's an amateur movie fan. In time to come, his family hopes the novel he's writing will be a best-seller!

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

The Reeces, like other American families, prove to all of us that the only way we really solve our problems is by our own efforts!

These stories of real families much like yours also show how much more success, how much more happiness is possible when you have peace of mind . . . the sort of peace of mind that comes from wise management of money now, and from knowing that future security has been adequately provided for.

The Life Insurance Companies and their Agents bring you these American family close-ups because what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

Mary Haworth's Mail . . .

Married Man Is Unable To Make Decision When Former Sweetheart Appears On Scene

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: In 1945, at the close of the war, I was in Europe, and was assigned to the military government as an interpreter. There I met Martha, then 19, one of Europe's unfortunate "displaced persons." She was absolutely alone in the world, our jobs brought us together, and for three months we were constant companions.

I soon realized that I loved her, and she professed love for me, but I couldn't induce her to marry me, not even when I was ordered home. She said if she married me then, some day I might think she had used me to get passage out of the country; but she asked for my home address and said that we would meet again; and then, only then, could we be married.

A year passed with no word from her and all my letters were returned unclaimed. Then I married Jean, a girl I had recently met. I believed I loved her and I knew she loved me, but our marriage wasn't happy. We stayed together but I sensed I didn't love her; and shortly after our second anniversary I got a letter from Martha, who had finally made her way to Canada.

HE FEELS "LOST" AFTER REUNION

MARTHA TOOK into account that I might be married now and merely expressed a desire to see me again. When I answered her letter I didn't tell her I was married, and after seven months I managed a trip "to see an old friend." It was a matter of minutes after we met before all my old love for Martha came rushing back. I knew then why my marriage wasn't a success; and without hesitation I told Martha what had happened in the intervening years.

Martha said the decision was mine to make; I must decide the future course of my life. But I am lost; I have no idea what to do. Should I ask Jean for a divorce, as my heart suggests? Or should I stay with her, and devote my life to her welfare, even though I do not love her? I am enroute home as I write this; and I must have disinterested advice.

Signed: E.G.

A VICTIM OF CORN, CONTINENTAL STYLE

DEAR E. G.: Inside truth of Martha's pedestal-pose is that she didn't accept you four years ago when the offer was open, for the simple reason that she didn't want you as a husband, although the idea of using you to get out of the country was tempting.

She found your devotion valuable and your largesse a luxury in the bleak European situation, no doubt; but you didn't appeal as a life companion. She figured there must be some other, less tiresome way of solving her problems than catering to your infatuation; and having reached that decision, she turned you down.

But in doing so, she deftly earmarked you for future reference, in case of emergency, with her theatrical speech about meeting again some day, then to be married, fate willing, maybe. This was pure corn, continental style, and after she filed the address, I daresay she forgot you, more or less, until she reached Canada and began to explore the new terrain.

GIRL'S PEDESTAL POSE IS PHONY

HER LETTER was an adroit come-on, regardless of the circumstanced in which it found you, and your response has been a mixture of heel and sucker. Martha's line that you must decide the future course of your life is more expedient corn. She still doesn't know if she wants you or not, or if possibly she can do better; but by implication she gives you carte blanche to discard Jean and come back courting if you wish.

If Martha were as full of honor as she pretends, she would have taken the decision out of your hands, rather than let you go in headless-tailless distraction of mind. She would have said, in effect, "You are married and that is that. If you aren't happy, that is a matter between you and your wife. I missed the boat, so count me out; and no more crying over might-have-beens."

Since she wasn't big enough, good enough or honest enough for that, my advice is to spill the whole story to Jean and let her lead. She may act promptly to set you free; but think carefully! —Is that what you'd want in the final analysis? I rather doubt it. I believe you're poor husband-material in any case; and that Jean at least will deal openly in trying to help you grow, whereas Martha's technique is to dope you with "charm" and make cynical use of you. M. H.

Drums Sounding For Taft-Hartley Fight

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—Congressional friends and foes of the Taft-Hartley act maneuvered today toward real action in the battle over repeal of the law.

CIO unions were under orders to drum up "additional and badly needed support" among congressmen for the administration's labor bill. Two Republican senators planned extensive alterations for the measure when it hits the Senate floor.

Capitol Hill's big labor debate of 1949 is scheduled to begin April 26 in the House. Due to a jam of business, the Senate probably will not join in the tussle until several weeks later.

The week-end produced two important developments:

1. Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Ives (R-NY) tentatively agreed on a bundle of amendments they plan to offer to the administration bill.

2. CIO President Philip Murray called for faster action on repeal of the law almost unanimously opposed by labor unions, and branded as a "foul concoction" a proposed substitute for the administration's repealer.

Western Nations Predict Red Propaganda Offensive In UN

BY DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 11—The western powers expect Russia to start a major propaganda offensive in the United Nations, it was learned today.

This was disclosed by UN sources as the 58-nation political committee prepared to resume hearings on proposals to dispose of Italy's former African empire. Count Carlo Sforza, Italian foreign minister, was expected to appeal for return of the colonies to Italian trusteeship.

Pact Fight Seen

The first full-scale Russian attack on the west during the current UN session is certain to be unleashed this week when the assembly decides whether the case of Balkan church leaders shall be added to the agenda. This may kickoff Andrei Gromyko's first major assault on the North Atlantic pact.

Despite Soviet objections, the assembly is certain to vote debate on the East-West church issue. The first full assembly meeting to consider the agenda will start Tuesday.

Previous Attacks Light

An informal poll of top-flight western delegates disclosed widespread surprise that the vituperative, slashing Soviet propagnda attacks levelled against the West in previous UN sessions had not reached normal crescendos. As one official put it—"The same old notes are being played, but not so loud."

But experienced delegates said the West was not going to be caught off guard. They felt that the "moderate but not conciliatory" tactics of the Russians so far were only a prelude to an early propaganda offensive keyed to the trial of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty and the Bulgarian clergymen.

Sniping Subdued

Of major interest in UN circles is the way the Soviets have only sniped briefly and obliquely at the North Atlantic pact. Gromyko and his partner delegate, Jacob Malik, have referred to the pact on two occasions, but each time only in passing during arguments related to other East-West topics. Delegates had anticipated before this time a formal Soviet demand that the assembly debate the pact as a UN charter violation.

Farmer Is Sued For Letting Land Blow

Does a farmer have the right to work his land with whatever type plow he chooses?

That may be one of the issues associated with the damages suit of Charlie Hooper against G. K. Horton, a jury for which was selected this morning in the 99th district court of Judge G. V. Pardue.

The men farm adjoining tracts of land in Deaf Smith county, Hooper's petition alleges. But, the plaintiff said, his land was damaged by blowing sand in 1945 through 1947, because of Horton's alleged failure to farm" in a reasonable way and manner and in accordance with good farm practices prevailing in the area of said land in Deaf Smith county."

Testimony will get underway this afternoon, it was expected.

The jury is composed of John J. Christman, J. D. Stennett, Frank D. Herron, K. D. Martin, J. M. Locklar, H. V. Feazell, Virgil Cocanougher, W. M. Ryan, N. Harold Munn, W. E. Belcher, W. H. Waln, and Earnest Marquis.

The Lubbock law firm of Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam, and two Hereford attorneys, James Witherspoon and John D. Aikin, represent Hooper. Counsel for Horton are the Lubbock law firm of Nelson and McCleskey and two Hereford attorneys, O. L. Bybee and W. H. Russell.

The case was removed here on a plea of privilege, Lubbock county being Horton's residence.

Rent Control Back On Some Properties

Landlords who have property that was decontrolled because of not having been rented for any successive period of 24 months between February 1, 1945 and March 30, 1948, areadvised by area rent director Roy B. Carnes that these properties are now under control again.

If the units were registered before decontrol, owners need not re-register them. Owners must show registration statements to present tenants, Carnes said. Landlords cannot charge more than the maximum rent shown in the registration statement, plus or minus approved adjustments.

All property coming under the rent control act for the first time must be registered. The office of the area rent control director, 1108 Fourteenth, will assist landlords in preparing necessary statements, or forms will be mailed if they call Carnes at 8591.

Mystery Tune Prizes Overwhelm Couple

DONORA, Pa., April 11. (U.P.)—Mrs. Frieda Perry was awaiting a windfall of $23,000 in prizes and a four-ton circus elephant today for identifying the "Stop the Music" mystery tune as "St. Paul's Steeple."

The 44-year-old housewife and her husband, Anthony, $75-a-week steelworker, had some definite ideas about how they would use the merchandise prizes—including a 1949 automobile and a $3,000 diamond ring.

But about Jump, they weren't so sure.

"Gee. I don't know what we'll do with an elephant," Mrs. Perry said. "That thing wouldn't even fit in our garage."

The Perry's modest home overflowed with neighbors and other well-wishers last night.

"I just don't know what to think about it," Mrs. Perry said. "I've never won anything before in my life."

Abilene Blue Sox Drop Lamesa, 3-2

LAMESA, April 11 (Special)—Abilene's Blue Sox edged the Lamesa Loboes, 3-2, in Abilene Sunday afternoon, handing the locals their second defeat in three exhibition starts.

Nearly 1000 fans saw the practice battle between the two West Texas-New Mexico league clubs.

The Blue Sox came from behind to win, counting three runs on three hits and as many walks in the eighth frame off righthander Paul Cooke. Lamesa's Lefty Bill Jones shut out the Sox on three hits in the first five innings.

Lamesa's pair of tallies came in the first inning on doubles by Right fielder Leo Rheingans and Manager-Center fielder Jay Haney.

Both teams collected seven hits in the well-played contest. Rheingans and Left fielder Dan Pinto paced Lamesa's attack with two hits each, while Abilene's George Lopez, second baseman, was the day's hitting star with a perfect three for three.

Lamesa meets the San Angelo Colts in San Angelo this afternoon.

Aly Kahn And Rita Leave For Riviera

PARIS, April 11. (U.P.)—Prince Aly Khan and Rita Hayworth left today for his villa on the Riviera where they plan to be married in about a month.

The wealthy Indian playboy and the red-haired movie star set out on the 600-mile trip in his gray Packard convertible. His chauffeur-bodyguard was the only person traveling with them.

Friends said they still had not set a definite date for the wedding. French law, under which the prince won a divorce last week, provides a wait until mid-May before remarriage.

The ceremony was expected to be a quiet affair in the Riviera villa, the Chateau de L'Horizon, where preparations were being made to receive the prince and his bride-to-be.

After the civil ceremony they were expected to go through a Mohammedan wedding. which probably will be performed by the prince's father, the Aga Khan, spiritual leader of Moslems.

Truman "Fair Deal" Program Endorsed By ADA Convention

CHICAGO, April 11. (AP)—The "Fair Deal" program of President Truman has the convention endorsement of Americans for Democratic Action.

In a statement of policy adopted at the closing convention session Sunday ADA said:

"Best For Liberals"

"We recognize that cooperation with the Democratic party in carrying out the Fair Deal program offers the best opportunity on the national level for the achievement of liberal purposes."

In the same statement, however, ADA said it "should continue its political and organizational independence" of either of the major parties and reaffirmed its view that formation of a national third party now "will be injurious to liberal purposes."

The organization said "we shall continue to work for the nomination and election of candidates of whatever party when their records were consistent with the principles of ADA."

The statement recommended continued negotiation with Russia "on questions where genuine agreement is possible," but declared that "the free world continues to face its most massive external challenge from the Soviet Union and its international communist instrumentalities."

The convention urged "strong measures to raise the average income of labor and farmers," including a minimum wage of "at least" 75 cents an hour. It also pledged support of the Civil Rights program, including FEPC, abolition of the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities, and academic freedom.

Veteran Confined To Bed Builds Business

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., April 11 (U.P.)—Joseph Press, Air Force veteran, returned from World War II with a chestful of decorations—but without the use of both hands and both feet.

Nevertheless, Press became a successful business man.

Despite his handicaps, which resulted from a broken neck, Press conducts a $1,000,000 import-export business from his bed in the Veterans Administration hospital here.

Aided by a hired secretary, he deels with agents in India, Brazil, Japan and France, importing and exporting perfumes, bamboo, prefabricated houses and galvanized pipe.

Corsicanan Named Hi, Tri-Y Leader

CORSICANA, April 11 (AP) — Charles Roy Birstow of Corsicana is the new president of the Northeast Texas dwistrict of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y.

He was elected on a write-in campaign Sunday at the close of the district conference here.

Other officers are Ann Kidd, Tyler, first vice-president; John Welch, Tyler, second vice-president and Adah Clark, Gladewater, secretary-treasurer.

Planes No Novelty In Banana-Growing Honduran Republic

TEGUCIGALPHA, Honduras, April 11 (U.P.) — In this almost primitive country the commercial airplane has become as ordinary as the rural bus line in the Ozarks of Arkansas and Missouri.

The reason? No roads. None, that is, that an automobile can travel faster than 12 miles an hour.

No railroads either. None, that is, except 400 miles of narrow gauge track which is used almost exclusively for hauling bananas down to the port towns.

Teguciagalpa is the only national capital in the world without a railroad. It is too far back in the mountains to produce bananas, so it doesn't need a railroad.

Americans visiting Honduras these days are amazed at the way the natives use airplanes. The country has a population of only 1,000,000 and a fast airplane can fly all the way across it either way in less than an hour.

No Reservations

Yet Honduras has 15 airports. Except for the big international airport here in the capital, they look more like bus stations in rural America—just a wooden shack beside a pasture that's been ground to dust by the traffic.

The Hondurans rarely make a reservation in advance. They just go out to the airport and wait for a plane they can get on. On the TACA line (DC-3's) freight, baggage and passengers all ride in the same compartment. A typical cargo might be eight passengers, two crates of live chickens, a coffin, several 100-gallon drums of oil and innumerable pieces of household furniture.

Fares are low, distances short and passengers pile on and off as casually as Americans using buses in the farm country. Seats in the planes are removable. If a pilot doesn't have a full load of passengers he takes out the extra seats and fills the space with freight

In one generation Honduras went from mule-back to airplane.

British banks in India have made a joint donation to the Gandhi Memorial Fund.

Mushrooms Grown In Czech Bomb Shelter

PRAGUE, Czechslovakia, April 11 (U.P.)—The damp underground corridors of the bombed-out Bata shoe factory buildings in Gottwaldov (formerly Zlin), which during the war served as air-raid shelters, have been converted to a peaceful purpose: growing of mushrooms.

Early attempts have met with success, and with laboratory and other scientific help, mushrooms are now being grown on an area of 1,000 square meters.

It was expected that toward the end of the month the Bata plant, which is running the project, would reap a harvest of 100 to 160 pounds of mushrooms daily.

The All-America Conference posted a mark of 93.8 percent on 330 conversions out of 352 point after touchdown attempts in 1948.

POOR PALEFACED POLLY!

*Maybe her paleness comes from a Borderline Anemia

Girls who look pale and unhealthy are usually more pitied than popular. And their energy and their dispositions seem to suffer, right along with their looks.

That's true—but did you know that faded red blood cells are often the cause of fading color and vigor? If you're too pale and tired, you may have a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency. Medical studies reveal that up to 68% of women—many men and children—have this tiring blood condition.

Weariness and pallor have many causes—always consult your doctor regularly. But if you have this Borderline Anemia, remember: Ironized Yeast Tablets can help you reclaim your vitality and healthy good looks. They are specially formulated to help build up faded, shrunken and fagged-out blood cells. To feel better—to look better—to act more alert and alive—try IRONIZED YEAST TABLETS!

Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.*

Douglas DC 3, Wonderful Old Hunk Of Tin, Rates Obituary

NEW YORK, April 11.—If the old, sturdy, dependable T-model lizzie had a counterpart in the air, it was the Douglas D-C 3. The Army called it a C-47. The Navy called it an R-D-4. The British called it a Dakota.

RUARK

But she was a wonderful old hunk of tin, no matter what you called her, and she rates an obituary. This tearful outburst is sponsored by American airlines' retirement, after 13 years of noble toil, of its last DC-3. No stouter steed ever was turned out to graze.

From a standpoint of the ordinary customer, the old three was the clincher in converting the land-bound boy to a casual acceptance of the air as a safe and practical avenue. For the past 13 years, peace and war, she took 'em up and brought 'em down. Pilots have told me that, even with only two soupbones to spin her along, she is still the soundest crow in the sky.

Small And Slow

She was small and she was slow, but after they got her in production she was never cranky or apt to blow up in a crisis. She took off quick and landed easy. She could climb the hump from India to China as well as the next lady. She flew oceans as steadfastly as the fancy jobs with the four props. And she logged more miles than all the marching Chinese.

I have ridden on a three which had no vestigial remain of the original ship in the air. At one time or another everything but her personality had been replaced. It is possible that her type might have flown forever, after careful overhaul and replenishment of worn part. But her steady slogging at about 165 mph rules her out of today's fancier and swifter competition.

The seventh DC-3 built was American's battered old gal, The Newark. She worked from New York to Los Angeles from 1936 until the war. Six years later she went to war, and logged 2233 hours here and abroad. It took only a month to whip her back into shape for commercial service. Back to the plow she went with nary a wheeze.

IT IS funny how you can get to trust a particular brand of machine. I am scared livid, for instance, of nearly everything that flies. But not the old three. We went steady together too long. We climbed mountains and crossed water and once one of the ladies sat me down at midnight in an unlit airfield with no radio direction in a tiny bald spot in the New Guinea jungle. And she came in just as pretty as if it had been high noon at LaGuardia. You can't hate a gal like that.

If the liberty ship was the symbolic vessel of world war twice, the three was its airborne sister. They requisitioned all they could find for the forces, and then they built thousands of new ones to the old specification. They all flew as serenely in the Arctic as on the equator. They carried everything from paratroops to poodle dogs. They formed the thick backbone of both the Army and Navy transport services.

Never More Insulted

Never were fine ladies more insulted than the threes. They thrived on a steady diet of neglect and overwork. They flew with sand in the carburetor and managed to survive a sketchy maintenance that would whiten the hair of a modern airlineman. They were maintained by cannibals and aboriginals and untutored products of all nonmechanized races.

They were flown by frustrated combat pilots who buzzed freight trains and they were operated by the bust-outs from the combat academies, and still they stayed in the air. They rattled and they banged and they jumped and they bounced, but by and large they flew.

I have a tender feeling for the three, and it is situated in the vicinity of my hip pockets. Maybe I was unlucky, but on the ones I drew during the war, even a bucket-seat was a luxury. I always rode the ones that were full of sharp-edged machinery, on which you were supposed to sit. Softest couch I can remember was a mailbag, and it was full of books with hard corners. After a couple thousand miles, I hated authors.

I suppose when everyone is scooting around on rockets the DC-3 will be forgotten by most. But not by me. I carry a permanent memento on the seat of my pants.

English Alley Cats Setting New Records

LONDON, April 11 (U.P.)—Cecil Yeates, England's abdicated king of cats, shed a tear for the Persians and other Fancy Dans among the cat population which are fast disappearing from the English hearth-side.

Yeates said that despite the herculean efforts of himself and some other breeders, the alley cat was racking up new birth records in the feline census bureau while the registered breeds were losing their grip on English carpets and sofas.

The 74-year-old Yeates, who attended Sandhurst, England's West Point, with Winston Churchill, said sadly:

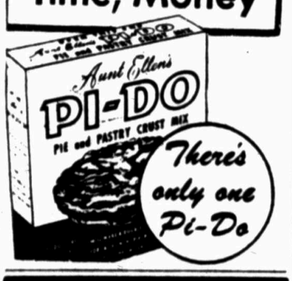

"You wouldn't believe it, but all the registered breeds in England don't total half the alley cat population."

Yeates headed the Cat Fancy Council for two years. He quit the other day because of bickering among the breeders of various registered felines, he said.

Yank Teams Split Two Games

Byrne To Face Dallas Today

DALLAS, April 11 (U.P.) — Southpaw Tommy Byrne was the nomination of Manager Casey Stengel to pitch for the New York Yankees against Dallas of the Texas league today.

The Yankees split their squad yesterday, one team beating Austin of the Big State league, 10 to 7, at Austin, while the other outfit absorbed a 4 to 3 defeat at the expense of Greenville of the Big State league at Greenville.

Joe DiMaggio faced the Greenville Majors and hit safely once in two trips to the plate. He played only two-and-a-half innings.

RED SOX WIN

ATLANTA, April 11 (U.P.) — The Boston Red Sox, who beat Birmingham, 7 to 5, yesterday, today continued their series against Southern association clubs by facing the Atlanta Crackers. Bobby Doerr's homer helped Tex Hughson to victory at Birmingham yesterday.

DODGERS LOSE TWO

ASHVILLE, N. C., April 11 (U.P.) —The Brooklyn Dodgers were busy on two fronts today, one squad opposing the Ashville Tourists here and the other Dodger team meeting the Greenville Spinners at Greenville, S. C.

Both Dodger teams lost yesterday, the "A" squad bowing to Atlanta, 8 to 4, before 25,221 fans at Atlanta, and the "B" squad losing to Valdosta, 5 to 3, at Valdosta, Ga.

BRISSIE GETS VICTORY

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 11 (U.P.) — Prior to the spring training season, Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics said he had the best pitching staff in the American league and today there was mounting evidence that he is right.

Lefty Lou Brissie was the latest member of the Athletics' pitching staff to turn in a standout performance when he limited the Memphis Chicks to five hits at Memphis, Tenn., yesterday and led his team to a 5 to 1 victory. Taft Wright and Joe Astroth each homered for the Mackmen.

Today, the A's meet the Chattanooga Lookouts.

BRAVES OPTION PLAYER

BALTIMORE, Md., April 11 (U.P.) —The Boston Braves today optioned Infielder Jack Weisenburger to their Denver farm of the Class A Western league, subject to 24-hour recall. Weisenburger is a former Michigan football and baseball star.

The Braves "A" squad beat Richmond of the Piedmont league, 12 to 7, at Richmond, Va., yesterday while the second squad bowed to Baltimore, 4 to 2, despite Jeff Heath's home run. Boston meets the Orioles again here today.

CHISOX BEAT SPORTS

MOBILE, Ala., April 11 (U.P.) — The Chicago White Sox, who are beginning to evidence some long-distance power, inaugurated the first of a two-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates today.

Successive home runs by Infielder Gene Markland and Outfielder Dave Philley were instrumental in Chicago's 5 to 4 verdict over the Shreveport Sports of the Texas league at Shreveport, La., yesterday. The White Sox erased a four-run deficit to win.

Buffs Successful In Spring Training

Houston Will Need Aid From Cards To Make Strong Race

By DICK FREEMAN
Sports Editor Houston Chronicle

HOUSTON, April 11. (AP)—As usual this time of the year, you can put a big question mark alongside the Houston Buffs.

The club has been successful in spring training exhibitions, looks better than it did this time last year, when it clung on to third place at the end of the season after a good start.

WILBER

But it is not complete. It's up to the St. Louis Cardinals and the two AAA clubs in the chain—Rochester and Columbus. From them must come some help or the Buffs won't go.

It will come. Last year, for instance, the Cards came to town for their exhibition series in April and left behind Cloyd Boyer, a young right-hander who turned out to be the strike-out king of the league. Year before last it was Tommy Glaviano, third sacker, and Al Papai, knuckle-ball expert, who helped the Buffs along to the Dixie championship.

This year, Eddie Dyer is expected to leave some more help.

The way the team shapes up now, it doesn't have too much power at the plate, has looked fine defensively in the infield and outfield, and strong enough on the mound, with an addition or two expected there.

At short, Bernie Creger, who was with Rochester last season, looks like a certainty. A fine fielder, not too lusty with the stick. At first right now it's Don Bollweg, who hit only .239 for the Buffs last year, has power, and may improve.

At second it was Lou Ortiz, six-foot-two youngster who played some with Houston last year, and has shown vast improvement this spring. A sore arm, which proved to be an elbow chip of several years' standing, may cut him out, but if it doesn't he will stick around either at second or as utility.

At third, a youngster by the name of Jack Cusick, drafted from Portland, Me., in the Class B New England league, looks great defensively, but hit only .272 last season. If his hitting improves, he'll make it.

In the outfield it's Hal Epps, the Buff standby, in center; Mike Conroy, a speedster who hit .3111 with Omaha last season, in left, and Eddie Knoklauch, the veteran, at the other spot. Lou Colombo, trumpet-tooting product drafted from Newport News in the Piedmont league, is looking pretty good.

Behind the plate it will be Manager Del Wilber, power-hitting right-hander with the Cards the last two years, and Gerald Burmeister, vetern Buff receiver. Seventeen-year-old Harold Smith from Barling, Ark., is tabbed as a real comer.

On the mound Eddie Green and Johnny Grodzicki are back from last year. Ross Grimsley, a southpaw from Columbus, Ga., last season, has looked fine. Glenn Gardner, the veteran who was with Richester, looks as if he can win. Newcomers are Mike Clark, a six-foot-four chunker from Columbus, Ga.; Nelson Nocheck from Lynchburg and Augie Zandie from Columbus, all show promise.

And there will be additions.

The team figures to land in the top division, and if such men as Jack Creel and Solly Hemus are returned by the Cards, it will be a definite top-place threat.

Brooks Picked For Top Spot

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

ATLANTA, Ga., April 11.—The National league race figures to be a wide open six-team battle with the Brooklyn Dodgers having the best chance to win the pennant.

Only Philadelphia and Cincinnati appear out of it. All the others, including the Chicago Cubs, last in 1948, rate a tumble. Pittsburgh, the big surprise of last year may well nip the Dodgers.

Here's the way the finish looks, to the writer, in advance of the opener:

1. Brooklyn.
2. Pittsburgh.
3. Boston.
4. St. Louis.
5. Chicago.
6. New York.
7. Philadelphia.
8. Cincinnati.

Despite their third place finish, behind the champion Boston Braves and St. Louis Cards, it looks like the Dodgers for the pennant from this corner.

Brooklyn has no sure 20-game winner like Boston's Johnny Sain but in Ralph Branca and Rex Barney, they have a pair who could be tops. Manager Burt Shotton's pitching with Joe Hatten, Preacher Roe, Harry Taylor and young Carl Erskine to back up the Branca-Barney combination, rates with the best. Perhaps St. Louis has a little more class but its pitching staff is strictly southpaw.

Bill Meyer may be cooking up the surprise of the year for Pittsburgh. He made the experts look bad last year by leading the underrated Pirates into fourth place. Off season deals for Pitchers Murry Dickson, Hugh Casey and Bob Muncrief strengthened the club. Meyer says the improvement is 25 per cent.

Picking last year's pennant winner for third place is risky business. Manager Billy Southworth has the same club that won in '48 with the addtion of Pete Reiser, veteran Dodger.

For the Braves it's still Sain and Warren Spahn as the one-two pitching punch. Eern Bickford, Bill Voiselle and possibly young John Antonelli, the bonus kid who has been hit hard this spring, round out the staff of starters.

One again, St. Louis has the best regular lineup in the league but there will be too many days when the aging regulars won't be in there It's a good club that is getting old and weak in reserves.

Snead Tourney Winner

Lloyd Mangrum Is Runner-Up

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 11. (U.P.)—Samuel Jackson Snead, a changed man with a changed putter, sported the coveted Masters title today in support of the argument that he is tops among current golfers.

His supporters have always argued that whammin' Sammy had the best drives and—sometimes—the best putts. Over the weekend, he had those putts consistently. And, even more, the power-knocker from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., carried on with a supreme confidence.

The result was a total round of 282, within three strokes of the tournament record set by Ralph Guldahl in 1939 when the second man at 280 was one Sampel J. Snead.

Snead shot 67 yesterday and he had the same score the day before. He played a dominant game throughout, always shooting for that pin when he was close enough. With Snead, 300 yards is close enough.

Snead, who has probably won more piddling tournaments in the last 12 years than any golfer still shooting, had as his main rival Lloyd Mangrum.

Mangrum was shooting for glory to go with all that cash he has amassed in the last two years. But a two-day tangle with the No. 16 lake hole cost Mangrum three strokes—and that was the margin by which Snead won.

Mangrum wound up tied for second at 285 with handsome Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh, who shot four days of consistent golf while nobody was looking.

The victory was worth $2,500 to the balding but still-slim-at-34 Snead and a lot more in prestige. Mangrum and Bulla got $1,000 apiece.

Snead gave his new putter and a slightly changed stance full credit for his victory. He had putts of eight, 13, 18, and 22 feet in the pile of seven birdies that gave him the crown despite two dismal bogeys on the back nine.

Third-day leader Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., and strong-shooting Jim Turnesa of the famous New York state golfing family tied for third at 286; picking up $400 apiece.

The rest of the field was strong pretty far back, with Charley Coe of Oklahoma City and Johnny Dawson of Los Angeles sharing the top amateur honor with 295's.

Between The Lines...
By Joe Kelly

GREENVILLE — Cotton Russell and Don Hensiek worked the Hubber's game against Paris Friday night and turned in good mound performances. Paris is the same club that beat Greenville 9-8 last week and which has a team loaded with veterans. In fact, they are in worse shape than the Hubbers, who stall have the problem of what to do with two veterans facing them. But the Paris bats weren's particularly damaging against the brand of hill work thrown at them by Manager Jackie Sullivan's club.

Russell had his usual bad inning, something that plagued him all last year. He was wild in the first inning, but not the type of wildness exhibited by rookies. He hit three men to load the sacks, but retired the side without a run. Starting the second, he hit the lead off batter and then went on to escape damage. In the third, five hits, two walks, an error and an infield-out sent six runs across the plate and it looked bad.

Bill Walker was pitching superb ball, setting the Hubbers down in order for the first three frames and facing only 13 men in the first four innings. Then the Hubbers found the range, four hits—including a double and triple—sent in three runs and we were back in the game. Four hits and four runs in the seventh gave the Hub City nine a lead and after Paris tied it on a walk and a triple, the Lubbock team jammed over the winning run.

First impression of the Hubbers as a team, making allowance for the fact that Sullivan wasn't in the lineup, is that it is a first division club. It's impossible to tell whether it will be first, second, third or fourth, but it certainly gives the impression of a well-balanced unit. The outfield of Chick Fowler, Joe Wisniewski and Lloyd Pearson is a first rate picket line. All three can hit, they possess good arms and they can field.

Jim Prince is no fancy dan around the initial sack, but he covers the position capably. Besides, he wields a potent stick at the plate. There isn't any use in talking about Jackie Sullivan; everyone knows what the can do. Jackie Wilcox at short won't bust down any fences, but he'll get his share of base knocks and he's a dependable fielder. Moreover, he teams with Jackie to give the best sort of protection on the double play. Mike Dooley is established as a catcher and shows no signs of having slipped at all.

Frank McAlexander at third is having the best spring camp he's ever had, but it seems doubtful that he will remain with the Hubbers. Frank is a class man and two of the class men have to go. He's one of the more logical selections. If the Hubbers can get a limited service man of almost equal ability to replace him. The other probable player to be cut off the Lubbock roster is Oscar Kuver, the hurler who was scheduled to work Saturday night.

George Schepps, who's busier than a one armed paperhanger with the hives in fly time, in in the midst of a big deal with Shreveport. He and Salty Parker, Sports manager, had their heads together for a long time Thursday night and everything has not been completed yet. But when it does, Sullivan's worries as to players will be over. The deal is sure to come off before the Hubbers climb aboard the bus to begin the return home today.

Don Hensiek is built along the lines of Bob Clodfelter, but he appears to have more stuff, more control and more savvy. He picked a runner off first base Friday with as neat a throw as you'll ever see and he trapped another man off second with intelligent fielding. He's willing to learn and is working hard. From what we've seen, he'll win a lot of games. Cotton Russell said after Friday's game that he felt certain he had found himself. He had a world of stuff and, after a streak of wildness, had fine control. If he is right, he'll win a lot of games this year.

THE ROUNDUP: Eddie Skrabacz, former Lamesa fielder, is with Paris and having a good spring . . . Bob Smith, former WT-NM loop umpire and now in the Texas league, umpired the Greenville-Dallas game Friday . . . Joe Fortin, Texas Tech student, who was in Lubbock until February, and ex-Pampa Oiler, is with the Shreveport club — barely . . . Paris writers think that Borger, which trained in Paris, has a world power, but not much else. . . . Herby Pitts, the full-blooded Osage, is the clown of the Hubber club. Always laughing — and making it infectious.

Rookie Don Hensiek May Be One Of Hubs' Top Pitchers

(This is the first of a series of articles describing members of the Lubbock Hubbers. The information was gained while the Lubbock team was in spring training).

BY JOE KELLY
Journal Sports Editor

GREENVILLE—Some people are born with a silver spoon in their mouth, but Don Hensiek's first recollection of this world is of a baseball bat in one hand and a fielder's glove in the other.

Hensiek is one of the pitchers on this year's Hubber squad who is almost certain of winning consistently. He was obtained by George Schepps, Hubber general manager, in the winter draft and was one of the top prizes Schepps was after.

Hurler Is 21

The tall, dark-haired hurler, to start with facts, is 21 years old. He stands six feet three inches and packs 190 pounds on his frame. There isn't any fat nestled on his large-boned body and he's in tip top shape. Part of that is due to his basketball activity during the winter.

Hensiek, a quiet sort of player with a ready smile, comes from a baseball family, accounting for his early remembrance of the baseball bat and glove. His father, Phillip Hensiek, was in the game for 13 years and the son remembers vividly the life a professional player leads.

The family now is settled in St. Louis, Mo., but until the head of the home retired from the game, Hensiek's memory is of hotels, trains and ball parks. The wife and small son of the major and minor league chucker went with him most of the time. In fact, Hensiek was 10 years old and living in Montrael, Que., Canada, when his father finished his last season with OB.

Starts In Legion

Before then baseball had been kind to Phil Hensiek and he had had his share of the glory in the majors, as well as the minors. He broke his son in on baseball and he has followed his career since then. From earliest memory, Don has been given gloves and bats, to say nothing of instruction from a man who was better than average.

Don started his pro career after playing American Legion Junior League ball and municipal league ball in St. Louis. His first season was spent with Pittsburgh, Kansas, of the KOM League, and Marion, Illinois. He won two and lost the same number for Pittsburgh before being shipped to Marion. There he won six and lost four. He also played the outfield.

Drafted During Winter

In 1948, Hensiek went to Belleville, Illinois, where he won nine and dropped 11, while also playing the outfield. He finished the season with Wassau of the Wisconsin State League and won two and lost two.

He was drafted during the winter and is looking forward to life in the West Texas-New Mexico loop.

It won't be his first visit to Texas, though it may be his most pleasant. He was stationed in El Paso from February 1946 until November of that year, while in the Army.

Don was signed by Jack Frenere of the St. Louis Browns, throws and bats right and goes into another season with a definite goal of going up already established. Hubber fans are likely to find themselves cheering his fast ball and his curves, although he has been warned about the WT-NM loop atmospheric conditions.

Satchel Paige and Bob Feller each yielded only two hits to beat Oklahoma City of the Texas league, 3 to 0, at Oklahoma City, Okla., yesterday.

The Giants, meanwhile, also were getting brilliant pitching from Larry Jansen, who outtwirled Murry Dickson of the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2 to 1, at New Orleans. Bob Thomson's single and Pete Milnes' triple broke up a 1-1 deadlock in the eighth.

TIGERS DROP LITTLE ROCK

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 11 (U.P.)—The Detroit Tigers were developing a brand, new home run threat today in Third Baseman George Kell, already regarded one of the finest hitters in the American league.

For the third successive day, Kell blasted a home run yesterday, a grand-slammer, at that, to help Detroit walk over Little Rock, 16 to 4, at Little Rock. Virgil (Fire) Trucks checked the minor leaguers on nine hits. The Tigers play Memphis here today.

NATS COP CHATTANOOGA

SPARTANSBURG, S. C., April 11 (U.P.) — Stocky Eddie Yost, supposedly a fine fielder but a streaky hitter, led the Washington Senators in batting today with a healthy .409 percentage. Yost's 14-game consecutive hitting streak was broken yesterday when he went hitless in four trips as Washington defeated Chattanooga, 7 to 3, behind Sid Hudson and Dick Weik.

Texas Women Retain Lead

EL PASO, April 11. (AP)—Marks chalked up a week ago by Grace Haskin and Iris Peters of San Antonio appeared to be good for championships as the supply of Class A bowlers dwindled in the women's state bowling tournament.

Only a scant handful of top-average keglers remain to roll in today's final session.

Take Second Spot

A determined assault by Betty Wise and Frances Buster of Dallas gained them second place and a third respectively in class singles yesterday and gave Buster and Florence Schick of Dallas a tie for third in doubles.

But Baskin remained secure atop the singles and all events stack and with Peters unconquered leaders in doubles. Baskin's all-events total is 1754 and her singles score 606.

Wise racked up a 562 for second place and Buster hit 558 to share third with Mary K. List of San Antonio.

Buster and Schick countered 1054 for third place in the doubles.

Team Lead Changes

The team lead, however, took a general battering Saturday, with Mustang Sheet Metal of Dallas emerging on top early yesterday with a 2566, just 11 pins ahead of Hap Morse bowling alleys of Dallas.

In other changes in the standings yesterday, Peggy O'Neal and Bonnie Wright of Clovis, N. M., finished with 1045 to take the lead in Class B doubles.

Jane Talley of San Angelo and Ina Ehlo of San Antonio moved into second 1014.

Class C doubles leaders are Jo Durks and Sadie Walton of Odessa with 991.

The Class C team leader is Comal of New Braunfels with 2,309.

Joe DiMaggio is the latest to join the American League "300 Home Run Club." The others are Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Lou Gehrig, Hank Greenberg and Al Simmons. Ted Williams needs 78 more.

Big Tournament Is Visited By Pilots

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 11.—A couple of jet pilots—humans, not the race horse—blew in here from Phoenix, Ariz., the other day to see a little golf. . . Col. Bob Scott, leader of the delegation, insisted that flying one of those hot jobs was just like hitting a good brassie shot—"it just goes up nice and easy and keeps going," he explained. . . Maybe some of the golfers here would like jet-propelled golf balls that would be sure to go that way. . . The pilots, incidentally, needed only about three hours to fly from Phoenix to Macon, Ga., by way of Florida. It took them a half hour longer to drive from Macon to Augusta. . . That's just ordinary business to them. They usually play at Riverside, Calif., because its quicker to reach the golf course there than to drive through town to their Phoenix club.

Locke Is Disgusted

All in the viewpoint:

Bobby Locke walked into the clubhouse at the Augusta national the other day, growling and cussing to himself about his terrible round. . . Gene Sarazen sympathetically asked: "What did you have, Bobby?" . . . "It was awful, a 74," said Locke. "What did you have, Gene?" Sarazen admitted he also had a 74. . . Locke broke into a grin: "why, that's fine, bully-o," he exclaimed.

Fairway clippings:

Lloyd Mangrum, tabbed as the Gaylor Ravenal of pro golf, pulled a masterpiece of understatement yesterday after he hit into the water on the 16th hole for the second day in succession. . . "I used a No. 5 iron, my favorite club," he explained, "and that aggravated me a little." . . . Mangrum was standing on a platform by the scoreboard when Johnny Bulla missed a putt for a birdie and second place on the 18th green. Lloyd, seeing $1100 almost reduced to about half that amount, salaamed without saying a word. . . When big Johnny Bulla, who is a good amateur hypnotist in addition to being a professional golfer and a professional airplane pilot, started out yesterday, O. B. Keeler, asked: "Who are you going to hypnotize today? You have about 30 guys who could win." Tall John replied: "I think I'll hypnotize myself." . . Maybe he did when he made that eagle three on the tough eighth.

Players Said Unhappy

Monday matinee:

Georgia's 61-man football squad next fall will include only nine seniors. No statistics available now on how many Georgians. . . Michigan's Fritz Crisler, a recent Atlanta visitor, admits that some of his players object to the two-team system. "Many of them are taking physical education with the idea of becoming coaches," Fritz explains. "They figure they may go through their entire college course and never learn to play offense." . . . Louisiana State U., which has won 13 of 16 Southeastern conference track championships, never has won the mile, the first event on the program. . . Schoolboy Rowe, another recent visitor, says he figures Luke Appling will be the next White Sox manager "if anything happens to Jack Onslow" . . Isn't that setting a new early season record for firing a manager?

Coast League reports say Bucky Harris, ex-Yankee manager, is getting $22,500 for piloting San Diego this season.

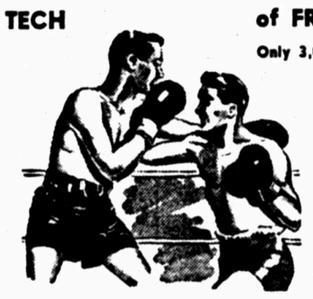

Lockney Boxers To Battle Plainview

LOCKNEY, April 11 (Special)—Lockney High school's undefeated boxing team will play host to an independent Plainview aggregation tonight in a fifteen-bout match.

The Plainview squad, coached by Bud Dean, is expected to give Lockney's fast-stepping team a busy night.

Feature bout on the card probably will be one pitting Calvin Pyle, hard-hitting Lockney schoolboy, against Leonard Duncan, rugged Plainview light-heavyweight.

Farm Program Drive Starts

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 11—The Truman administration began a campaign today to sell its new farm program to a Congress that has been slow to accept it.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan was called as the first witness at a meeting of the House agriculture committee today, to answer questions about the plan. He sketched the program at a joint meeting of the Senate and House agriculture meeting last Thursday.

The big question is: "how much would it cost the taxpayers?"

Aims Two-Fold

In his committee appearance last week, the secretary was unable to give an answer, but he expressed belief it would cost less than the present program under identical conditions. But some lawmakers said they believed it would be much more costly and as a consequence require higher taxes.

The proposed program has a two-fold aim: (1) cheaper food prices for consumers and larger supplies, and (2) a minimum income designed to keep farmers fairly prosperous.

It would make two major changes from the present programs. It would stop government purchase of meats, milk, poultry products, and of some fruits and vegetables to keep producer prices at levels determined to be fair.

Parity System Abandoned

Instead, it would allow prices to move up and down freely under influence of supply and demand. When the price failed to bring the producer the desired return, the government would pay him the difference in the form of a check.

It would keep, however, the present plan of withdrawing surpluses from the market to hold up producer prices of storable commodities, such as grains, cotton, tobacco, dry beans and peas, oilseed crops, and wool.

The other change involves abandonment of the parity system for determining farm price standards. In its place it would set up a farm income standard from which price goals of the new program would be derived.

Dairy Show

full week of events have been planned and readied to take care of several thousand exhibitors and visitors. More interest has been shown in dairy cattle during the post-war years, he said. Ayers also predicted that the quality of the cattle this year would be better than in previous years.

Schedule For Today

Today's schedule includes an FFA judging contest at the Shelter House, a special luncheon for FFA and 4-H club boys also at the Shelter House, judging of entries from the club boys and in the evening at 7:30 a pageant, "Cavalcade of Stars" will be held at the City Auditorium.

Tuesday has been designated Guernsey day, Wednesday Jersey day, Thursday Milking Shorthorn day and Friday is Holstein day. Each of these special days will include judging of entries in the various classes, breakfasts or banquets for the respective breeder's associations and a variety of entertainment for all attending the show.

Added Attraction

An added attraction will be a showing of Holstein-Freisian dairy cattle, all top-quality registered stock, which will be auctioned off after the Holstein sale on Friday. The breed is being brought to Plainview from Watertown, Wis., the greatest distance traveled by any entries. There will be two bulls and seven females in the group. The breeders, Piper Brothers Farm, Wisconsin, are owners of the bull that was grand champion of its breed at the Texas State Fair in 1946 and 1947.

In addition to Ayers and Johns, other officials include: Albert Garrett, Plainview, president; Ben J. Baskin, Bryan, ringmaster; D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent, Jersey department superintendent; Calvin Tolcomb, Swisher county agent, Holstein superintendent; R. L. King, Castro county agent, Guernsey superintendent; Frank F. Weil, Hale Center, Milking Shorthorn superintendent; Richard V. Keim, Nampa, Idaho, and F. W Atkeson, Manhattan, Kan., judges; Wayne Thomas, Perryton, head of the production contest; A. L. Hartzog Floyd county agent, dairy calf club show superintendent; L. M. Hargrave, Texas Tech, dairy cattle judging contest, and, Dr. J. J. Willingham, Texas Tech, superintendent of the dairy products judging contest.

Extra Session

Woods, state superintendent of public instruction.

Crosthwait was a supporter of the bill. Horany was a leader of the opposition.

The two agreed on the unusual procedure of asking intervention by the governor in attempting to break the flood of legislation being dammed by the educational issues.

The governor thanked Crosthwait and Horany for "asking my opinion."

But in unmistakable language, he rejected their request with the statement, "I cannot conscientiously join in this course (of postponing action for later consideration by a special session) . . ."

The governor pointed out that he had submitted the legislation as an emergency measure.

"In so doing," he said, "I recognized the necessity for a prompt decision on this plan . . ."

"Each passing day," he added, "merely magnifies the emergency."

He said it was "the plain duty and responsibility of state government . . . to continue to give immediate attention and to hasten final action on the legislation."

"While the governor realizes that House consideration of the Gilmer-Aikin program is delaying action on some other important matters, he is not ready to concede either that this legislature is ineffectual or that the House is hopelessly deadlocked."

MARKET DRIFTS LOWER

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP) — The stock market drifted from fractions to around a point lower today with mild buying interest centered in only a few issues.

Rock Island Railroad fell loff nearly 2 points on the announcement that Blyth & Co., and Bear Stearns & Co., expected to offer 225,000 shares as a secondary distribution after the market closed. The offering, however, was indefinitely postponed because of market conditions. Rock Island recovered some of its loss near the close.

Stocks moving higher included White Sewing Machine, Pepsi-Cola, Pullman (on a good earnings report), Admiral Radio, Air Reduction, and Johns Manville.

On the downside were Nickel Plate, Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Pure Oil, Standard Oil (NJ), Superior Oil of California, Pan American Airways, General Electric, Eastman Kodak, International Paper, Alaska-Juneau, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, and Paramount Pictures .

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP) — Cotton futures were steady today on trade buying and short covering. Part of the demand for the old crop deliveries was credited to covering against export sales. The declining trend in certificated cotton stocks imparted firmness to nearby May, while old crop July was supported on better export prospects after Congress votes more funds to ECA.

Ex-Governor

in an Albany hospital, fighting a lung disease. He returned to his plantation home near here New Year's day.

Last week he came down with pneumonia, but battled his way back to near normal health. He got up from his sickbed for his marriage.

Dr. Crumley said Osborn suffered a heart attack shortly after the wedding. A series of hemorrhages followed. Excitement over the wedding had nothing to do with his decline, the doctor said.

Since her adoption in 1937, Mrs. Osborn has been the rugged old Republican's constant companion, nurse and biographer. They have written several books together.

Osborn built two great fortunes from timber and iron ore. Most of his wealth has been given to schools, charitamle institutions and friends in recent years.

Kathy Dead

her terrified screams drifted faintly up to her mother, efforts to have her grab a rope failed, and all was silent. There was still water in the old well after 45 years.

The body was finally found on a warm Palm Sunday as O. A. Kelly cut through the tough old casing. He called up for a doctor to come down the 100-foot shaft and see what he thought. Dr. McCullock said Kathy had not lived long after her last screams.

There was sadness in the sweat-and-dirt streaked faces of the 50 or more volunteer workers as Bill Yancey, one of the heroic diggers, came up the cable with the body wrapped in a gray blanket. A black hearse was waiting.

It spelled "finis" to the two-day and two-night vigil for the distraught parents, who had received hundreds of telegrams from well wishers, many offering suggestions how to rescue the child. The Fiscuses appeared to take the result "beautifully," said a physician. But their grief was deep inside.

"There is nothing we can say bue merely thank all the people who have been helpful," said the mother and father. Fiscus is San Marino branch manager for the company which sank the well. Only last week he had urged enactment of a state law to cap up all old wells.

Rescue workers knew they were in for trouble when a water table was struck at about the 40th hour of operations. However, hopes were kept up in the belief that the child was trapped above the water level. Besides, they reasoned, the well had been abandoned as dry.

But when the rescue team of Kelly and H. E. (Whitey) Blickensderfer dug through mud and water and cut into the pipe, they found Kathy lay below, not above, the cut.

The actual discovery and determination of death were made some two hours before the announcement was made public. Engineer Raymond A. Hill, supervising operations, clamped on the secrecy ban. Later it was explained this was "to ease the blow for the parents." But it was tough on newsmen and a waiting world.

To the crowd pressed 30 deep against fences and police ropes bordering the field came finally an announcement over the public address system. In level tones, Dr. Paul Hanson, friend of the family, said:

"Kathy is dead and has apparently been dead since she was last heard speaking on Friday.

"He family has been notified and we are now notifying you."

He then read a message from the family:

"There is nothing we can say to fully thank the many people who have helped us so unselfishly. Many of these people have gone home to much-needed rest. Our heartfelt gratitude goes out to them for their sacrifices beyond belief'."

The parents had received the news at home. And soon the crowd, numbering hundreds of other parents, began breaking up silently.

Thus culminated the most concerted rescue attempt of an individual since Floyd Collins was fatally trapped in a Kentucky cave in 1925. That lasted days, this hours that seemed like days.

It started after Kathy, running a footrace with her elder sister, Barbara, nine, and a cousin, Gus Lyon, five, fell behind in the dash across the vacant lot on the corner of her block. When the older children turned around, there was no Kathy.

They called and looked, and Gus almost fell into the concealed well-hole himself when he heard a faint scream coming up from below. The kids ran for their mothers.

Mrs. Fiscus called to her youngest. Frenzied screams, "yes, yes, yes," came up in answer to all the mother's questions.

The fire department and police were summoned. A rope was dropped and Kathy tried to grip it. But she couldn't fasten it around herself as firemen hoped. The rope went loose as Kathy slipped into her tomb.

From all of Southern California men came with equipment to free the tot from the narrow pipe. But Kathy's plight soon became the common problem of folks everywhere.

The men and machines worked without sleep, stubbornly determined to lift Kathy into the bright sunlight above ground.

Tech Board

with the understanding that these stipulations need not be adhered to too closely.

The board, which met after early-morning difficulty in obtaining a quorum, also acted on other routine matters.

It approved black-topping of an area immediately south of the college administration building to make a parking space which will accommodate 383 automobiles. The complete job, including surfacing, curbing and surrounding gutters, will cost $13,000.

The board also approved an appropriation of $25,000 to be used for general repairs on the textile building at the college, and on other buildings prior to Aug. 31.

An additional $5,000 also was appropriated to the maintenance fund for all buildings on the Tech campus this year.

Board members this afternoon were discussing long-range building plans under the new College Building amendment. They had voted earlier today to meet May 10 in Lubbock for further discussion of these plans.

Will Be Dinner Guests

The May 10 meeting will come the day after formal inauguration of Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Tech president. On the night of May 9, all board members and their wives will be dinner guests in the president's home, which recently was remodeled and redecorated at a total cost of $65,000.

Present at this morning's meeting were Chairman Charles C. Thompson, of Colorado City; Ince; Spiller; Charles Wooldridge, of Dallas; O. B. Ratliff, of Lubbock; and Robert Price, of El Paso. Three members, A. G. Mayse of Paris, Mark McGee of Fort Worth, and Chanselor Weymouth of Amarillo, were unable to attend today's session. Mayse was ill, McGee was occupied with legal business, and Weymouth reported that he had been unavoidably detained.

As a result, Chairman Thompson experienced considerable difficulty in gathering a quorum for the meeting—thanks largely to the failure of Gov. Beauford Jester to appoint new members to the board since Feb. 19. Those members whose terms have expired showed reluctance to attend meetings, and particularly to act upon important matters such as the Pantex contract.

Terms Have Expired

Members whose terms have expired are Kyle Spiller of Jacksboro, Robert Price of El Paso and O. B. Ratliff of Lubbock.

No word has been forthcoming from Jester's office regarding the Tech appointments, but the grapevine report says Price is due for reappointment and Blake Smith of Mexia and Raymond Pflueger of Eden have the inside track for posts now held by Ratliff and Spiller.

Reports also say that Senator Kilmer Corbin of Lamesa has tangled with Jester over the appointments and has declared he will oppose Col. E. H. Spence of Big Spring for appointment to the State Board of Water Engineers unless he (Corbin) is given some recognition in the Tech appointments.

Austin Hotels Jammed

Senator Corbin today confirmed reports of his difficulty with Gov. Jester regarding the appointments.

As the board got underway in its meeting, Austin hotels were lobby full with members of the Texas Farm Bureau federation here for mass lobbying for House Bill No. 59, levying three-fourths of a cent tax on 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas for building of farm to market roads in Texas. Wearing their green and white buttons, the farm bureau people were making themselves heard in support of the measure.

Also present at today's meeting were three Tech administrative officials. They were Dr. Wiggins; W. B. Gaston, business manager; and Frank Junell, assistant to the president.

Aid Program

the amending process.

A vote on passage was possible late today, and that was the goal. But many members figured the decision would go over at least until tomorrow.

Then there will have to be a compromise with a $5,580,000,000 bill passed by the Senate Friday. And after that the cash must be supplied in a separate appropriation bill.

Over the week-end, a move developed in the Senate to take a $1,000,000,000 whack at the program when it reaches the appropriation stage;

The House bill would authorize the spending of $5,380,000,000 or $200,000,000 less than the Senate. Of the total, $1,100,000,000 would finance the Economic Cooperation administration until the end of June and $4,280,000,000 would be for the following year.

the rescuers to the injured.

Among first on the scene was Dr. A. P. Reding whose mother, Mrs. Peter Reding, was among those killed. Joined by Dr. W. E. Heib, he gave first aid to the injured. Both made a house-to-house canvass later to make sure none of the injured had gone untreated to their homes.

Those killed, besides Mrs. Reding, were Mr. and Mrs. John Marso, Mrs. George Bittner and Mrs. Philip Luke, all of Marion, and Charles McGinnis of nearby Monroe. All were in their 50s or 70s.

Special Train Used

The injured were taken to nearby Mitchell, Sioux Falls and Yankton hospitals. A special mercy train was sent from Mitchell by the Milwaukee railway to carry some of the injured to the Mitchell hospital. Private cars and ambulances from other cities were used to transport the others.

Despite a broken rib and other injuries, Father Zimmermann helped direct rescue work.

Mrs. R. F. Kratz, a member of the choir, described the explosion.

"We had taken our places. The altar boys were getting ready to light the candles and Father Zimmermann was in the sacristy putting on his robes. Suddenly there was a blinding flash. The walls appeared to bulge out and then in. Then they collapsed. After a few seconds people began to scream. The roof over the choir sort of folded over, not coming clear down, so no one was seriously injured among the choir members."

Marion is in eastern South Dakota, about 40 miles from Sioux Falls.

Commissioners

not been announced early this afternoon.

Payments Authorized

In order to be eligible for federal funds for airport improvements, a joint air zoning board is required by CAA. The board controls no other aspect of buildings other than heights within the three-mile radius.

Colby pointed out that $6 million is already invested in Municipal airport and that uncontrolled building near it might well render runways nearly useless.

Other business this morning was routine.

The commissioners authorized payment of the following obligations:

Transfer from the general fund to charity fund, $500; payment for two duplicators purchased from Hester's Office Supply company, $300; periodical payment to the City-County Welfare association, $2,000; payment to Fred Gentry for paint and painting at Shallowater park, $650.

Payment of two bills totaling $381.56 and $1,700 to Fred Berryhill Equipment company and Conley-Lott-Nichols for parts and storage tank, precinct 2; payment of $7,894.44 for purchase of a maintainer, from West Texas Equipment company for precinct 3; an old maintainer having been traded in for $4,000; and payment of $8,646.49 to Berryhill and $1,295.89 to W. T. McClure Machinery company for a maintainer and parts and repairs for precinct 4. An old maintainer was traded in for a $3,500 allowance.

The Baker company was awarded a contract at $30 a year to maintain a calculating machine purchased by the county a year ago.

A plat of Circle addition, located just west of the traffic circle on Tahoka highway, was approved upon request of the developer, M. A. Sanders. The city planning commission had previously granted its approval.

County Judge Walter Davies presided at the meeting, attended by all four commissioners: R. O. Short, precinct 1; George G. Green, precinct 2; Otis Isom, precinct 3; and Pat Corley, precinct 4. Louie F. Moore, county clerk, and J. Y. Boyd, auditor, also were present.

The word "restaurant" was first used for a Paris eating place, established in 1765.

HAPPINESS IS IN SIGHT—Blind since birth, 5-year-old Bonnie Lee Kirchen, of Grand Ledge, Mich., started saving the red "tear-open" strips from cigaret packages when she heard a false rumor that a tobacco company would give her a seeing-eye dog if she collected 40,000 of them. When Michigan residents heard of her plight they donated a puppy. When Bonnie is 12, they will give her a real seeing-eye dog. But until then, Bonnie is having a wonderful time with her playful pup.

El Pasoans Sought On Lake After Gale

EL PASO, April 11. (U.P.)—Three El Pasoans were sought today on Elephant Butte lake after they failed to return to the boat docks last night following a severe storm.

They are: J. E. Bannister, manager of White's Auto stores; Fred R. Muerdter, vice president of the Rollins Motor Co., and A. R. Munoz vice president of the Rugel Motors, Inc.

The three men went fishing yesterday in a 14-foot cabin boat on the lake. A severe windstorm arose at noon.

PIGLET OVER-EQUIPPED

ROCKPORT, Ind. (U.P.)—A sow or the Leroy Parker farm farrowed a litter of 11 pigs. Ten of them were normal but the 11th had one head, four ears, four front feet, four hind feet and two tails.

Sixty newspapers from P-X Book store and one bundle of newspapers from Mark Halsey Drug store No. 3. Police were informed that such thefts have happened at those places before.

Nathan Cox of 3701 Van Buren said four unknown Mexicans blocked North College Ave. with their heavy car late Sunday night and that when he asked them to move their car so his car could pass one of them struck him with metal knuckles and another broke glass of his car with rocks. Two companions were not injured. Efforts to locate the assailants had not been successful.

Truman Has Made Little Progress In Four Years Toward Carrying Out "The New Deal"

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April, 11.—Four years ago tomorrow, April 12, Harry S. Truman became president when President Roosevelt died.

What has he done in those four years, and what has happened to him, us and the world?

No man who ever became president had to shoulder so many responsibilities so suddenly.

His four years have been years of climaxes, increasing tensions, prosperity, and preparation against war.

When he moved into the White House, war with Germany was ending. Japan was soon to be crushed with the atom bomb, an event that changed world history.

The United Nations was created in the hope it might keep peace. Four years have shown its failure.

Controls Lifted

And in his first few months in office, the United States had to be set spining back into peacetime ways. It was done with jolts and jerks.

Wartime controls were ripped off, some too fast. Strikes sprouted, holding up peacetime goods.

The mood in Congress, as the months passed, was to ditch price controls, let prices run free. Mr. Truman warned against it.

His own Democrats were in control of Congress but, spearheaded by the Republicans, they cut the legs from under OPA. It soon died.

Prices shot through the roof, bringing the country a great inflation. They're still skyhigh, may be coming down a bit now.

Mr. Truman had tried a honeymoon with Congress in his early days as president. But that ended in a bust and never has been patched up.

Demos Make Comeback

Voters, fed up with the Democrats, gave the Republicans control in 1946. It was Mr. Truman's worst defeat.

He reversed that in 1948 with his own election, biggest surprise in American political history. And the Democrats won control of Congress again.

But Congress doesn't seem to be paying much attention to his wishes, at least for things at home.

Long ago he had made it plain he wants to carry on Mr. Roosevelt's new deal. He has used the name, the fair deal.

He's made almost no progress with that in four years. There's no accurance he'll make much more in the next four.

Yet, in spite of his difficulties with Congress, Americans are making more money than ever before. The land is rich, teeming with money, goods, and food.

But meanwhile the skies have darkened beyond the shores. His hopes of getting along with Russia have gone down the drain.

As he watched the Russians swallow eastern Europe, his mood hardened. He set up the Truman doctrine: A policy of blocking Russia whereven it tries to make a thrust.

Under that policy we've helped Greece and Turkey, created the Marshall plan for helping western Europe, and now we've entered the Atlantic pact with western Europe to stop Russia with steel if need be.

We've put so much money into military preparations and stopping Russia, all of which means jobs and production here, it's a question of whether he could afford sudden good relations with Russia.

For that would mean cutting billions upon billions off our defense spending. And what would that do to jobs and production and prosperity here at home?

As Mr. Truman goes into his fifth year in the White House, only four years away from World War II, the air is full of talk of new war. Where we go, no one knows, not even Mr. Truman.

Thomas H. Connolly, umpire-in-chief of the American League, is a nativeof Manchester, England.

Czechoslovak Fans To See U. S. Films

PRAGUE, April 11 (AP)—Czechoslovak film goers finally have been promised they can see "The Best Years of Our Lives" which won a prize for direction at the Czechoslovak film festival last summer. It is one of the ten American films earmarked for showing here after recent conversations of Eric Johnston, of the Motion Picture Export Association, during a brief stopover in Prague. The pictures will be shown under a loose agreement extending an old pact until a new agreement can be signed.

Others include Robin Hood, Gulliver's travels, Arabian Nights, and Rene Clair's "It Happened Tomorrow." The first three are color films.

The negotiations deadlocked over the principle of reciprocity, Czech film sources said. Since Czechoslovakia is a film exporting country itself, it would like an even exchange.

Venezuela now takes the profits of all petroleum and mining enterprises.

Capital Faces Press Strike

WASHINGTON, April 11. (AP)—The capital's four daily newspapers faced another strike today.

Publishers said AFL pressmen and stereotypers sent word they were failing to show up for shifts until further notice. Both unions have been locked in contract disputes with publishers.

The pressmen went out on strike last Wednesday but ended their 25-hour walkout on orders of their international officers after a complete shutdown of the capital's newspapers.

Today radio stations scheduled frequent, expanded newscasts to keep the busy capital abreast with world news in the absence of the newspapers. One station planned to read all the regular comic strips over the air.

Offer Refused

Publishers said both unions refused their offer of a $6 weekly raise, and a third week of vacation to employes with five or more years service—terms similar to those accepted by the AFL printers and photoengravers.

They said the pressmen held out for an $8 increase, along with reduction of the present 7½ hour day and 37½ hour week to a 7 hour day and a 35 hour week, plus an increased manning of the presses.

The publishers' statement said the sterotypers asked a $9 weekly raise and a reduction in the work week from 33½ hours to 32½ hours.

The statement said the pressmen had refused the publishers' offer to arbitrate their dispute.

The stereotypers' contract expired last December, the pressmen's last Feb. 7.

Last week's strike was timed to hit the two morning papers, the Post and Times-Herald, first. Today's strike was scheduled (for 8 a. m., EST) to apply first to the afternoon papers, the Evening Star, the News and the Times-Herald, which also publishes afternoon editions.

The IC4A outdoor track championships will be decided at Randall's Island in New York City on May 28.

Arrest Of Dancer For Indecent Exposure In Tyler Carnival Very Revealing To Officers

TYLER, April 11 (U.P.)—Better look twice, gents, before you get excited over Sadie the strip. She might be a he.

That's what officers learned when they arrested for indecent exposure one of the "girls" from a sideshow in a carnival which left here yesterday.

When they started to put the dancer in the city clink with the other women, "she" protested that "she" was a man and asked to be placed in the men's cell block.

Physician Called

Somewhat uncertain, officers summoned a physician to ascertain the truth of the matter. And sure enough, "she" was a he.

However, when the strip teaser was arraigned before corporation court Judge Frank McClendon, he found that being a male was not a mitigating circumstance.

McClendon ruled that indecent exposure was still indecent, whether by man or woman. He assessed a fine of $25.

Detective L. L. Sides asked that the defendant be allowed to put on the act in the courtroom in order that the judge might be further convinced.

But the strip artist declined the invitation. He figured $25 was a pretty steep price to pay for the privilege.

"GOD, SAVE MY LITTLE GIRL!"—David Fiscus (center) turned his eyes to the heavens to ask protection for his 3½-year-old daughter, Kathy, who was trapped deep in a well shaft. But the father's prayer's were unanswered as the child's body was brought to the surface last night. She was dead, a victim of drowning.

Parents Advised Of Child's Death

Family Under Doctor's Care After The Finding Of Body

SAN MARINO, Calif., April 11. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. David Fiscus heard the news that their little Kathy was dead a few minutes before it was announced to the world.

Dr. Paul Hanson visited the parents—under sedatives in their modest, darkened home—at 8:45 p. m. Sunday night. Then the doctor walked the short distance to the vacant lot—focal point of a waiting world—and made the public announcement that the three-year-old was dead.

Long Vigil Ends

It ended a long, nerve-shattering vigil for the parents. Much of the time during the long rescue operations, they had sat in a police car in front of their home. Nearby were motorcycle police—all ready for a speedy dash to the hospital should the little girl come out of her underground prison alive.

After Dr. Hanson left the house, the family minister visited the couple. Later, they issued a statement thanking all the workers.

Ironically, the father is San Marina superintendent of the California Telephone and Water Co., which had built the abandoned well 45 years ago.

Recently, the father had appeared before legislative committees in the state capital, Sacramento, asking that laws be passed to compel the capping of abandoned wells.

There is no doubt but that the old abandoned well near the home—that was to swallow his Kathy—accented his pleas to the legislature.

As the doctor left the parents the glare of giant searchlights and photographers' flash bulbs whitened the sky from the home down the slope toward the once weed-covered well.

But the only one of the Fiscus' household watching now was Jeeper, a little black and white dog, waiting for his little mistress to come home.

TOO MANY STAMPS

SALT LAKE CITY, (U.P.)—The Utah Philatelic Society reports the deluge of commemorative stamps from post office printing presses has made mail clerks even dizzier than the public. The society said many letters went through the Christmas mails with Christmas seals as the only stamp, and that in rush periods virtually any old stamp can pass for a post office commemorative issue.

New Bomber Tactics Planned

Range Of B-36 Brings Change

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The Air Force is working out a completely new bombing attack technique to fit its ultra-long range B-36 strategic warplanes.

One of the problems came to light today in testimony of an Air Force general to the House appropriations committee in recent hearings on the military appropriations bill.

Because the six-engined, B-36 intercontinental bomber operates so high and so far it was necessary to build an aerial camera which could take pictures at altitudes of more than eight miles to show targets and attack results on those targets, Maj. Gen. C. B. Stone of the USAF's Air Materiel command disclosed.

Strategy Trend Marked

He explained that with the new K-40 cameras the B-36s could "come in, take a picture and go out without being caught." Stone's published testimony showed no further discussion of B-36 tactics. But, taken together with previously disclosed information, it served to point to other probable trends in B-36 strategy.

No other existing plane in the USAF can fly as far as the B-36 (it was designed for 10,000 miles and some airmen believe it eventually can exceed 12,000). Therefore only a B-36 can be used for the reconnaissance essential to any strategic attack. In bombing attacks a preliminary flight is made by a plane to photograph and study with radar the prospective target. Then the bombing mission itself is made. This is followed by another reconnaissance flight to determine the result of the attack and show whether further bombardment is needed. In World War II, the Air Force, with plenty of other planes to match the performance of its bombers, converted some of them into photographic reconnaissance aircraft. They could match the range of the bombers.

Bombing Force Reduced

But now the Air Force is confronted with the fact that it must divert part of its B-36 fleet from bombing to reconnaissance missions. The effect of this will be to cut the size of the actual bombing force available at any one time.

The Air Force has announced plans, up to now, for only four B-36 wings. With these wings at the newly planned strength of 30 planes per wing the Air Force would have a total of about 120 B-36s. Because of the demands for reconnaissance less than half of the force might be available

Red Smash Toward South China Seen

NANKING, April 11 (AP)—Communist forces edged closer to Nanking today while Nationalist generals pondered a repjly to Red demands to surrender by tomorrow.

The sound of artillery fire was audible in Nanking last night. Red troops attacked a Nationalist bridgehead on the north side of the Yangtze six miles from the city.

The capital was jittery. The whole Yangtze front extending from the sea inland 650 miles looked for the Communist smash southward. Scattered engagements were reported along the far flug front.

Reply To Reds Expected

The Communists have announced the operation is a softening up process for the river crossing into south China. Military observers still found no indication of how soon the major assault would take place.

There were persistent rumors here that a cease fire order may yet come before the Tuesday deadline for meeting the Red terms. But most observers considered this wishful thinking.

The government's final reply to Red surrender demands will be made sometime within the next 24 hours. Nanking long since has been deserted by most of those who can afford to get away.

Newspapers said Communist leader Mao Tze-Tung was taking an active part in peace at Peiping. They said Mao conferred Friday with Nationalist delegation chairman Chang Chi-Chung and with other Nationalist negotiators an Saturday.

Bridgehead Sought

The main point being discussed by Nationalist generals here today was concessions to be made on the Communist demand for joint reorganization of the army. Only Gen. Tan Gen-Po, supreme commander of the Hangchow-Nanking-Shanghai area, was not present. He was at Chinkiang directing the defense of the vital Kwachow bridgehead, 40 miles northeast of Nanking.

Communist troops still were attacking east from Icheng toward Kwachow. Capture of the bridgehead would give the Reds artillery positions that would allow them to disrupt traffic on the railroad to Shanghai.

On the Hankow front the military news agency said the Communists had captured Kuanchi, 90 miles southeast of Hankow. The agency reported also that another of Red Gen. Lin Pia's Manchurian armies had arrived at Hsinyang, 110 miles north of Hankow in an advance down the Peiping-Hankow railroad.

Chinese press dispatches reported other attacks against government north bank bridgeheads opposite Wuhu and Anking, 140 miles west of Nanking.

A number of Communists manned sailing boats were said to have attempted a river crossing east of Anking. National artillery fire reportedly turned back the boats.

Bakers At One Time Were Real Big Shots

CHICAGO, April 11 (U.P.)—The American Bakers association dug up these items about bread:

Bakers were officials of state during the Roman empire, and if a citizen married a baker's daughter, the law required him to become a baker.

An old German law fined a murderer of a baker three times as heavily as an "ordinary" murderer.

Remnants of bread baked over 5,000 years ago have been found in Egypt.

Triangular loaves of bread baked in ancient Thebes 3,500 years ago can be seen today in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York City.

More Romantic Type Of Dancing Is Seen

CHICAGO, April 11 (U.P.)—When skirts were short, dancing meant lots of leg action, but for longer women's skirts, one expert predicts more romantic dancing.

Since ballroom dancing has always conformed to skirt length, contends Donald Sawyer, New York dance master, the 1949 dance steps will be slower, smoother, better for romance.

Sawyer told mid-west members of the National Dancing Masters Association here that the jitterbug went out with the short skirt.

Cossacks Lead Anti-Red Riot

MUNICH, Germany, April 11 (AP)—American military police used tear gas Sunday to break up a riotous demonstration against Russia.

An estimated 10,000 persons, most of them reported to be Ukranian displaced persons, took part in the demonstration which wound up with an attempt to break into a building housing a Soviet liaison mission.

Protest Persecution

German police said the crowd was protesting "Russian persecution of churches." Many Ukranians outside Russia have opposed the Communist regime since its beginning.

The demonstration started with a mass meeting. Whipped up by two hours of oratory, most of the participants set out in an unorganized procession. They were led by seven Cossacks carrying a Cossack flag.

They got into a fight enroute when they spotted some "known Communists." After the melee they continued on to the Russian mission.

Witnesses said American military police with armored cars prevented the crowd from breaking into the mission building.

Americans Stoned

The displaced persons grabbed stones from ruined buildings and stoned the Americans Then the MP's used tear gas in routing the demonstrators.

At least five persons were reported injured. Several persons were detained for questioning.

A U. S. army spokesman said the MP's had been given permission only to hold a religious meeting.

Amish Sect Wants Better Cab Service

LANCASTER, Pa., April 11 (U.P.)—The Amish want improved taxicab service in the rural areas of Lancaster County. Their church forbids them to own automobiles.

A delegation of Amish appeared at a state public utility commission hearing and explained their plight. Taxi service in and around Lancaster proper is adequate, the petitioner said, but they have a hard time getting to weddings, funerals, sales and visits in the country district.

"I'm afraid to drive my wagon on Lincolun Highway," Amos Esh said. He referred to the large number of accidents recently between automobiles and horse-drawn carriages in which most Amish travel.

TOUCH OF SENTIMENT

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (U.P.) — Patrolman Christopher J. Aspall, who claims heissues more parking tickets than any other law officer in the world, became sentimental on St. Patrick's Day. Aspall, who wrote out 32,000 parking slips last year, observed the Irish saint's birthday by using green chalk to mark the tires of parked automobiles.

Overnight Diaper Production Starts

CLEVELAND, April 11 (U.P.)—A wealthy Cleveland inventor, H. James Rand III, has come up with something new in three-cornered pants.

The new-type diaper is specially designed to keep baby dry and unsoiled, and already has passed rigid tests at Babies' and Children's Hospital here.

Rand's diaper has a lightweight built-in waterproof container. He said an infant could go through a night in its crib without a change and without suffering any discomfort. His creation utilizes more intricate use of highly-absorbent material than the average diaper now on the market.

Rand said the diaper prevents infection and is in the process of large-scale production by a pharmaceutical house. He said it will be used in hospitals before being placed on the public market.

Mexico Declares War Against Tough Bands Of Cattle Thieves

By EUGENE S. STAPLES
United Press Staff Writer

MEXICO CITY, April 11—Angry ranchers are oiling their shooting irons along Mexico's last frontier, the great mountain ranges, in what they promise will be a showdown with tough, well-trained bands of cattle thieves.

Marauding outlaws have been sweeping down like locusts out of the lonely mountains, cutting thousands of cattle out of the vast herds which supply most of Mexico's meat.

The governor of Guanajuato ordered "war without quarter" against the bands in his state. He announced a well co-ordinated plan in full cooperation with military units for the stamping out of the outaws.

Fines for cattle thieving went up to $10,000. Penalties were raised to 10 years in prison.

Robber Band Hunted

But the probable end for a lot of the bands, in the best wild west fashion, will be a bullet between the eyes and a wooden coffin

In the hot, rough sierras of Guerrero State to the South, officials discussed war plans against "Los Chiveros"—the goat-herders—a "perfectly-organized" band of 30 outlaws, who have raided and terrorized the state for years.

The "Chiveros," once run by a picture-book mustached bandit named Concepcion Marquez, live as nomads in the remote passes of the Guerrero mountains. They have families, and move with a herd of several thousand animals, all stolen, informed sources said.

Soldiers Routed

Led by their current leader, a renegade army lieutenant, they attacked and defeated an army platoon last month, killing several soldiers.

"Up in those hills," a Mexico City official said, "one man can hold off a thousand. And those boys know their country as well as they know their guns."

State officials are now distributing guns and ammunition to small county seats to step up the fight against the band.

The campaign against the "Chiveros" is temporarily being held up for peace negotiations, it was learned. Officials believe a good many lives can be saved if the outlaws will give up their depredations peacefully.

American Killed

No one really expects the band, which carries the price of the murder of several travelers and soldiers on its head, to give up that easily. But its days are numbered. The joint Mexican-American commission fighting the hoof and mouth disease is ready to move into the region, north of the southernmost quarantine line, to begin vaccinating cattle.

With the commission, which already has a casualty list of nine Mexicans and Americans murdered in the performance of duty, goes the Mexican army.

President Miguel Aleman told United Press the commission will have "all the army protection it deems necessary."

Today the father and four other members of the family were under arrest. Police said they had strangled Tsunezo with his own belt while he was taking a bath.

April Male Just A Little Bit Giddy

Men Are Given Tips On Just What Tie To Wear At Easter

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 11 — The gaudiest necktie in the Easter parade may mark the man whose wife used up the budget on her bonnet, a necktie salesman said today.

The improbable pink, yellow and lavendar neckties and the pastel shirts that go with them are the only big sellers in the men's departments this spring, Harold B. Green, assistant sales manager in the cravat department of Cheney Silks said.

Most of the buyers are women, Green said.

April Male Is Giddy

He surmises they buy them "to compensate their husbands for not leaving enough in the budget for his new suit."

Cheney's own best-selling spring ties attest to the giddiness of the April male.

One of the hottest numbers is a simple gray silk tie with polka dots so red they dance in the dark.

Another job that's wowing them at the necktie counter is a screaming yellow one decorated with three handsomely elongated raindrops in pale and darker blue.

But lavender, by all odds, is the greatest surprise of the season.

Generally speaking this firm has toned down the violent violet by teaming it with nice ordinary dark colors like brown and navy blue. (Peachy pink is given the same treatment.)

Here's A Gay Number

One gay little number features a bevy of golf balls—some with wings on—in lavender on a navy blue ground.

In addition to trotting out the pastels, the tie designers have gone in for some violent shades of other colors, like turquoise, robin's egg blue and true fire department red.

Green says there are right and wrong ways to wear these things, and "we hope the men will pay a little attention to it."

One thing, Green says, if a man wears a colored shirt a different color from his suit, the tie should match the suit. It's all right if it matches both, however. That's where the lavendar and navy blue, frequently with a touch of gray comes in.

Green displayed another Easter seller—a gaily colored peacock baying against the moon.

His own tie was a moderate red with navy blue and white figures in it—handsome, but conservative.

"From our next fall line," Green explained.

Mongolians Making Economic Progress

MOSCOW, April 11 (AP)—It is a larger country than England, France, Germany and Italy taken together and yet it is inhabited by less than one million people.

It is on the average four thousand feet above sea level. Its annual average temperature is below freezing. It has the highset per capita population of camels, horses, cattle and sheep in the world.

That is the little-known Mongolian Peoples Republic (formerly known as Outer Mongolia) between China, Manchuria, and the Soviet Union and is the fifth largest country in all Asia.

More and more becomes known about the Mongolian Peoples Republic from books published in the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union maintains close relations with the Mongolian Peoples Republic.

Recent Soviet books report that the Mongolian Peoples Republic is inhabited by nine hundred thousand people, almost all Mongols by nationality.

Soviet sources report that the overwhelming majority of Outer Mongolians continue to be nomads who move with their herds and live in "yurts" which are substantial tents.

Soviet sources say that improved standards of living of the Outer Mongolian nomads find expression in iron stoves, gramaphones, chinaware and even iron cots which, it is stated, are now commonly found in most Mongolian "yurts" although they were unknown there except to the most wealthy a decade ago.

"My husband announces that we're dining out; I lay out his clothes and go dashing about undoing pin curls while I hunt for his hat; his shoe lace is broken, but I can fix that. I slap on my powder and hitch up my hose. Finally he's ready—out the front door he goes. And while giving me looks of withering scorn, plops himself in the car and starts blowing the horn!" (Genevieve Starr).

Not bad. Not bad.

YOU'VE heard a million stories about how proud parents insist upon boring everyone in sight about the prowess of their youngsters, but we've come to the conclusion that the average young couple is no prouder of its first child than the average dog owner is of his pooch.

A guy's dog may be a mixture of 17 breeds with the worst predominating, but that doesn't make any difference to the owner. His dog is super-duper, in one or more ways, and he'll tell you about it at the drop of a codliver oil capsule.

We just realized this queer quirk of human nature recently, since we've had a new dog out at our House.

This new dog of ours is something special in the way of dogs, especially in this part of the country.

Black as the ace of spades, cute as pork pie and smart as a whip, Our Little Dog—name of Gypsy Rose Lee—is a dog everybody ought to hear and know about.

But every time we try to tell somebody about Our Little Dog—a Labrador Retriever, by gosh—we get interrupted by the other fellow telling us about his dog—or one he used to have.

It's all very discouraging.

IT looks like people would be especially interested in Our Little Dog, if for no other reason than that there aren't many like her in this part of the world.

We got Our Little Dog courtesy of W. C. Boyd and in-so-far as we've been able to find out the only other Labrador Retrievers anywhere around here are the other 10 puppies in Our Little Dog's litter and their mother. The mother, named Dusty and a Canadian prize-winner, was bought in Ontario and shipped in here about a year ago by Mr. Boyd.

The male that sired Our Little Dog is over in Roswell and if there are any more Labrador Retrievers in all this section of the country, we have yet to hear about them.

If this isn't something extra-special, we don't know what is and we can't understand why people we try to tell about Our Little Dog won't keep quiet about theirs until we get through.

Our Gypsy Rose Lee, undoubtedly, is the smartest pup that ever was. For instance, she has to have some codliver oil every day to grease up her innards and also to make her coat shine.

The first two mornings we had her, one of the Brats held her mouth open while The Little Woman sprayed in the codliver oil.

But what happened on the third morning?

Why Our Little Dog saw The Little Woman approaching with the syringe so she sat down, opened her mouth and took the spraying without any help or urging!

What do you think of that for two months old?

Smart dog, hey?

FURTHERMORE, Gypsy Rose is probably the only pup in history—modern history, anyway—that was taken from her mother and her litter and never yiped a bit the first night.

Highly intelligent, she immediately realized that she had a good home, was in friendly hands, so was philosophical about her change of residence.

Of course, the fact that the Littlest Brat insisted on keeping her in his room the first few nights—to the almost complete destruction of the rug!—may have had something to do with it. But we doubt it, since Gypsy Rose has shown herself to be of such unusual intelligence otherwise.

After all, maybe she's a Presbyterian and realizes that what is to be will be, therefore understood there was no point in getting upset over cutting family ties.

Never having been to Labrador, we don't know much about Labrador Retrievers.

However, Mr. Boyd tells us they will retrieve anything retrievable, so we confidently expect to have Gypsy Rose going out after our morning paper every day pretty soon.

If she does that, she'll be worth the destruction she is wreaking on the rugs, by chewing through lamp cords, shoes and other items left carelessly about.

After all, there comes a day when a guy gets a little self-conscious about running out into the front yard every morning clad only in pajamas and the chances are the neighbors, as well as passers-by, will prefer to look at Our Little Dog, anyway.

IF anybody wants to hear more about Our Little Dog, we invite him to come by the office, just any day.

We may not have time to get a haircut, or work on some kind of an uplift drive, or even talk about the weather. But we will have time to tell anybody everything he wants to know about Our Little Dog.

We understand, of course, that there are lots of good dogs in Lubbock and environs; that many of them are so smart they understand conversation and that some even anticipate their owners' wishes.

But we're quite sure they are not quite as smart, or quite as cute, as Our Little Dog and we feel like it's nothing short of a public service to pass the word around!

Yet in case a car is stolen, officers don't have much chance to locate it with exact information . . . Dealers in various parts of the country also are pulling out some of the price padding they slipped in for themselves during other days.

BY DREW PEARSON: RESOLUTION TO PROBE LOBBYISTS IS STYMIED IN U. S. SENATE

American Enterprise Association Is Big Lobby

WASHINGTON.—The late and lamented 80th Congress was widely publicized as one of the most lobby-ridden in many years and probably deserved that reputation. When it was thrown out of office last November, Democratic leaders announced that the 81st Congress would immediately start an investigation of lobbyists, and to that end conscientious Senator Kilgore introduced a resolution calling for a sweeping probe.

PEARSON

That resolution is still stymied in the Senate judiciary committee where Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, Republican, is staging a one-man filibuster in the subcommittee.

Meanwhile the new 81st Congress is just about as lobby-ridden as the old—possibly more so. There is one big difference, however. This time the lobbyists have been smarter. They work in disguise. One device is to pressure a few key business friends in a congressman's home district. Another amazing device has just been uncovered.

Most senators and representatives don't realize it, but one of the most adroitly organized lobbies in Washington supplies them with an analysis and summary of pending bills every morning.

What most of the congressmen don't know is that this lobby is financed by some of the most powerful manufacturers in the U. S. A., which means that big business has arranged to have its own nutshell digests of pending legislation placed on the desks of senators and representatives every morning.

Since congressmen are harrassed and busy people, and since it is extremely difficult to keep up with all legislation, it is a great convenience to have legislation summarized and digested. However, any slanting of those digests or any questions asked in the memos accompanying the digests can influence the entire Congress on important issues.

The lobby which concocted this extremely clever way of swaying Congress has adopted the dignified and all-embracing name of the American Enterprise association. It also hides behind some high-sounding camouflage about being an "educational and non-partisan body . . . tries to be impartial in its work . . . takes no stand either in favor or against proposed legislative measures."

Yet its contributors and officers are some of the most influential big businessmen in the country, most of whom support the militant National Association of manufacturers and the Foundation for Economic education, crusaders against rent control, aid to education, the national health program and other measures which might increase corporation taxes.

The officers include: Lewis H. Brown, board chairman of Johns-Manville; ex-senator Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts, president of United Carr Fastener; Robert L. Lund, past president of NAM; Fred A. Poor, president of Poor and company; and N. Baxter Jackson, president of Chemical Bank and Trust.

Among the more active trustees are Alfred C. Fuller, founder of Fuller Brush company; Edward H. Little, president of Marshall Field; Henry P. Bristol, president of Bristol-Myers; B. E. Hutchinson, financial chairman of Chrysler; Wilfred Sykes, president of Inland Steel; Thomas Drever, president of American Steel foundries; and Henry D. Sharpe, president of Brown and Sharpe.

This is the group which every morning interprets legislation for some 500 members of Congress.

GUIDING genius of the American Enterprise association is Guy Wyatt, former advertising sales manager of American foundry equipment. The association's Washington representative is Malcolm Hardgrove, formerly with the Irving Trust company at No. 1 Wall street.

Hardgrove is not registered as a lobbyist yet he admitted to this column that he visits "twenty to fifty" members of Congress daily. He also seems to be about as skillful at getting his ideas across to Congress and getting information out of congressmen as anyone in the game.

Among other things Hardgrove pays a negro in the office of ex-speaker Joe Martin, named William Patten, to slip him material Patten, when interviewed, admitted slipping material to Hardgrove, but swore it was stuff Martin was "through with." Patten also admitted taking cash for the job but wouldn't say how much. Other sources indicated that Hardgrove slipped the negro $20 from time to time and charged it up on his expense acount as a "contribution."

This astute backstage wire-puller also has a close friend in Joe Martin's office who arranges contracts with other congressmen. He is the ex-speaker's assistant, Jim Milne. When interviewed, Milne said he hardly knew Hardgrove.

"I've met him five or six times," he shrugged. "He came into the office about the first of the year."

"What did he want then?"

"He wanted us to subscribe for the bill analyses."

Milne had already mentioned the fact that Joe Martin had been taking the lobby's legislative analyses for some time, so Milne was asked why it was necessary to subscribe again.

"Well," Milne faltered, "Hardgrove wanted to make sure we renewed."

"And what did he want when he came to see you the other four times?"

"He wanted to make sure we were getting the legislative analysis," Milne alibied.

"You mean he keeps coming in just to make sure you're getting the service?"

"Yes," said Martin's assistant, feebly.

Ties With Real Estate Lobby

Actually Hardgrove not only influences congressional thinking by analyzing pending legislation for congressmen but writes speeches for them and furnishes them with various material.

He also has secret ties with the real estate lobby through Eddie Carr, former president of the National Association of Home builders, and used to meet on the Q. T. with the real estate committee, made up of Carr, Waverly Taylor, Clark Daniel and Joe Deckman, all big builders.

This group wanted Hardgrove to handle "public relations" against the Taft housing bill, rent control, slum clearance etc. However, Hardgrove couldn't afford to get tied up with the real estate lobby openly and discuss running the show for them through a front man. Later the idea was dropped.

The American Enterprise association usually plays the Republican side of Congress but it also has been smart enough to woo friends on the Democratic side. In fact, it has done one of the cleverest jobs this columnist has ever seen in many years of keeping check on lobbyists. Perhaps the lobby's Democratic friends are one reason why Senator Kilgore's resolution to probe all lobbying doesn't even get out of the judiciary committee.

Resurgence Of Vaudeville Is Threatened By Ancient Gags

BROADWAY Stardust — "Detective Story" by S. Kingsley, which opened at the Hudson Theater, is the "Mr. Roberts" of the N. Y. Police Dept. A robust melodrama played with authenticity by Ralph Bellamy, Horace McMahon, Meg Mundy and an expert cast of tomorrow's somebodies . . . Robert Garland, the Journal-American's drama oracle, deciphered his phrase, "a large small audience," as meaning a big crowd in the tiny theater . . . Another tip-top tinkler from "Tales of the South Pacific" is called "A Wonderful Guy," which 'll make your Spring fever springer . . . 'Okay! I'll Just Say You Were Against It!'

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"MY HUSBAND does practically nothing around home. I don't expect him to help with my work, the dishes, scrubbing, etc., but don't you think he ought to make small repairs around the house, and take care of the yard? He doesn't refuse when I ask him. He just says he'll do it the first chance he gets. Or he makes it sound as though I'm nagging by asking: "Does it HAVE to be done right this minute?"

MILLETT

There are probably many wives who can sympathize with the woman who wrote that complaint in a letter to me. There are probably also some who could give her a few helpful hints on how to get the work done that her husband is always putting off until tomorrow.

One helpless-looking wife I know gets her husband out of his easy chair and working on the job she wants done by starting in to do it herself. When she calls on him for help or advice he can't resist the masculine impulse to belittle her efforts and in no time at all he's showing her how the job should be done. Then she's right when she wants to be — standing by, admiring his efforts.

COMFORT AS INCENTIVE

ANOTHER wife says when her husband keeps letting a repair job go, she tries to think of some way to make him inconvenienced by the repair need. When he kept putting off fixing the door on her oven, for instance, she quit talking about it and stopping trying to bake in the oven. When he wondered aloud why they hadn't had a roast lately, or any pies or cakes, she told him sweetly the oven couldn't be used until the door was fixed. It was fixed in a hurry.

Another strategic move, of course, is to remind a man two or three times about a job—and then hire someone to do it. If he complains about the cost, the wife can say in a reasonable tone of voice that she thought he wasn't going to get the time to make the repair or mow the lawn, or whatever it might be, and it had to be done.

If the husband doesn't like paying to have a job done that he could do himself, then chances are he'll not procrastinate next time.

If he decides he'd rather spend the money to hire the job done than be worried with it—then both he and his wife are satisfied.

So the problem can be worked out; but by strategy—not by nagging.

"Try And Stop Me"

BENNY GOODMAN, rehearsing for one of his occasional classical recitals with conductor Tom Scherman, inadvertently addressed the latter as "Mr. Stokowski." "Golly, I'm sorry, Mr. Scherman," he hastened to apologize. "To get square, you can call me Harry James."

J. P. McEVOY, covering a big story, was rooming with a correspondent who kept him awake by moaning and tossing in his bed. "Whassa matter?" demanded McEvoy. "I promised to pay the INS man next door the hundred dollars I owe him first thing in the morning," explained the roommate, "and I haven't got it."

McEvoy went to the window and hollered. "Hey, Considine, wake up." Considine appeared rubbing his eyes and grumbled. "What's up?" McEvoy explained, "I just want to tell you my friend here can't pay you that $100 tomorrow. He hasn't got it." Then he shut the window and said, "Go to sleep, pal. Now Considine can worry."

Reader Urges Cleanup Of State Mental Hospitals

HELP FOR HELPLESS

Editor, The Journal: The writer has, of recent years, read many articles from persons who have visited concentration camps in foreign countries. No doubt many now reading this have also read those articles. Most of us have also read what an accredited investigator has written about our mental hospitals in Texas. I ask you if the conditions described as existing in these concentration camps in Russia and elsewhere are any more revolting that those described as existing in our mental institutions in Texas?

What are we going to do about it?

Telling our neighbors and associates that those unfortunate people imprisoned in these asylums should have more and better food, better beds, more doctors and nurses and more adequate housing and better general care, and letting it go at that, seems to be the general behavior of most of us. In my mind, the question arises, is there anything we can do about it? If there is anything we can can do, let's do it. Understanding, as we all do, that ours is a government by the people though our elected representatives, these men ask us to let them hear from us. Our trade with them is that they will carry out the wishes of the people they represent. Are we letting them know how we feel about the extreme need of remedying these conditions?

The investigator found that in one of these asylums the inmates were being fed on as little as 21c per day per person, while sleeping on naked straw mattresses, in stench and vermin. There are two to three times as many people in each of these buildings as was planned to take care of and they are becoming more crowded every day.

Because of not having funds to employ enough doctors, in many cases, one doctor has to look after 300 to 400 patients. Outrageous as this is, can we, as Christian citizens, maintain our self respect if we continue to neglect?

Many of these are old men and women whom you and I have known—and forgotten. Their only crime, they have lost their mental balance. These people are sent there by our courts and are forced to starve and endure. They are incapable of doing for themselves toward any kind of remedy. They are depending on us who are more fortunate, we can through our representatives bring about a remedy.

If enough people back home let our representatives know that we believe no legislation is even comparable important at this time, I am sure they will be pleased and will do all in their power to help remedy this situation.

"Are we our brothers keeper?" If we are not, we ought to be. Let's all who care tell our lawmakers at Austin—a short letter or postcard will do.—Write Preston Smith, Representative, and Kilmer Corbin, State Senator, in care of the State House, Austin.

OLDTIMER WRITES

Editor, The Journal: It seems like some of the newcomers to Lubbock can find a lot wrong with this city. One said, ladies in Lubbock are not treated with too much respect. I differ with him on that. In fact, all ladies in the South are shown more respect that they are in the North.

As to our policemen he talked about, I think we have some good ones. I haven't seen them letting any gangsters run around here.

We, in Lubbock, don't try to stop the wind, sand and other things Our Maker rules. I didn't know they did that even in St. Louis, or other Northern cities.

After you go all over this great United States and come back to Lubbock, you will say that you still take Texas, and Lubbock if you are to live in the West.

I have enjoyed 50 years of Texas' Western hospitality and like it, so do the others from other states who see the light of Texas and Lubbock.

DOLLARS AND "DELICATE FEELINGS"

Nearly everyone has heard the expression which runs, in gist, "You can't send a million dollars to prison in the U. S." Of course it isn't true. But things happen now and then to cause cynicism.

In Florida, a former New York bank official recently was charged with stealing $884,000. His bond was set at $100,000. In Wichita Falls, a small town bank official was charged with thefts exceeding $100,000. He was released under $10,000 bail. The board in each instance was very small, considering the amount of the theft alleged.

In each case, arraignment proceedings were conducted in ways to "protect" the defendant from publicity. In Wichita Falls, it took place behind locked doors. The magistrate didn't want to "embarrass" the accused.

The incidents don't suggest that money usually can buy immunity from justice in the U. S. But some wondering is justified whether the officials in Florida and Wichita Falls would have been solicitious of the delicate feelings of defendants accused of stealing smaller sums.

Homes For $6,500 Or Less Now Possible By Careful Planning

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 11—Wherever you live, you ought to be able to buy a house for $6500 or less and pay for it at the rate of $43.50 a month, or less. That payment should cover interest and amortization, taxes, and both mortgage and hazard insurance.

There is one hitch. You've got to revise your pre-war ideas of what a $6500 house is like.

"There are no white rabbits to be pulled out of a hat," says Howard Leland Smith, technical director of the government's Economy Housing Program.

Standardization Needed

"An economy house demands careful, intelligent planning. It demands conservation of materials, with room dimensions that will permit use of standard materials without much cutting on the job and without waste. It demands conservation of labor."

All over the United States, from coast to coast, in big towns and small, in every type of climate, private builders have been providing small homes for less than $6500. They have done it on their own, without government help.

Now, in an effort to encourage the building of homes that the average worker can afford, the Housing and Home Finance Agency and the Federal Housing Administration have studied the plans and figures on a lot of such houses. NEA Service has analyzed the specifications. From these studies it is possible to say, quite positively, what you can count on getting for $6500 or less in a house of your own.

Selling prices, carrying charges and other details vary. The houses look a bit different on the outside and, at first glance, the arrangement of rooms seems different. But through them all, from $3,995 in Ypsilanti, Mich., to $6000 in Baltimore or $6500 in Evansville, Ind., there is an astonishing sameness to what you can get in this minimum-price good house.

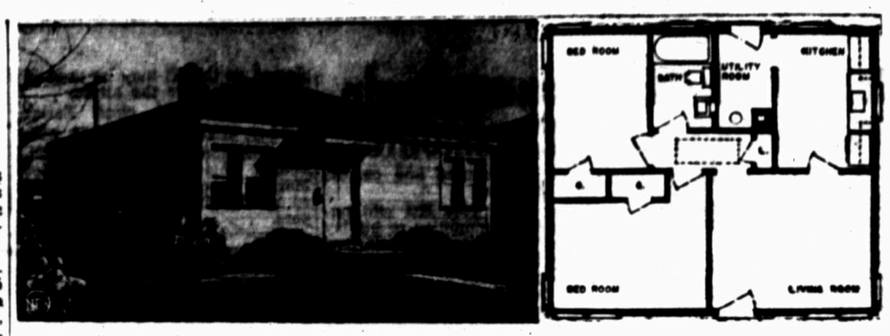

Changes Possible

It will have four rooms. Probably it will be on one floor—though the $4300 house at Smithtown, L. I., has an attic that might be finished later into a couple of small rooms; and the Baltimore house, by changes that would add under $1000, could probably be given another room upstairs.

It will be a frame house, conventional in appearance, built on the site. It will have no basement. It will have an asphalt roof in solid or blended color, fire resistant and economical. Exterior walls will consist of gypsum board or wood sheathing over wood siding. Probably the interior walls will be of gypsum board, except for some plastering in the bathroom. There is a fair chance it will have insulation in the ceiling and walls.

The heating system will depend on climate, but in most cases it will be there, burning oil. There will be a gas or electric water heater with 20- or 30-gallon tank. Piping may be copper, steel or galvanized, and fixtures will be of enameled iron. There will be no refrigerator or range in the purchase price.

This is not a theoretical picture of a $4000 to $6500 house. It is a composite picture of what private builders actually provided during the late months of 1948 in the cities mentioned, plus Tucson, Ariz.; Columbia, S. C.; Jackson, Tenn.; South Whittier, Calif.

This $6500 house in Evansville, Ind., meets the typical "economy home" ideas of Howard Leland Smith, technical director of the FHA's Economy Housing Program. Its over-all dimensions are 28 by 24½ feet; its living room, 13½ by 11½; its biggest bedroom 12 feet 10 inches by nine feet.

A remarkable feature of the study is the genuine similarity of the floor plans used independently by the eight contractors—none of whom had been briefed, so far as can be learned, by anybody or had talked it over with any of the others. By coincidence, this basic floor plan is almost identical with one that Smith had worked out as a theoretical ideal, to give the most house for the least money.

The economy house is 24 feet wide and 24 to 28 feet long, a simple box divided into living room, two bedrooms, kitchen and bath. In climates where heating is necessary there is a utility room, stolen from the kitchen, for heating and hot water plants.

Kitchen and bathroom are back-to-back to save plumbing costs. Each builder seemed to find space for two clothes closets and one for linen.

The living rooms average 13½ feet by 12 feet eight inches; kitchens average 9½ feet by nine feet seven inches; bedrooms average 10 feet nine inches by 11 feet three inches.

All were built in groups, ranging from 13 in Evansville to 500 in Tucson. Neither location, size of development nor climate seems to measure the price.

Carrying charges range from $28.20 on the Ypsilanti house to $43.50 in Tucson.

Man-Wife Team Hits $45 Million Jackpot

CLEVELAND, April 11 (U.P.)—A young husband-wife engineering team has won a contract to build a $45,000,000 blooming mill at the National Tube Co., at Lorain, O., after being in business only five years.

The couple, Robert and Lorraine McDowell, started in business here with 14 employes and landed $90,000 worth of contracts during their first year.

In 1948, they handled more than $3,500,000 in construction jobs while employing 200 persons.

Trees Join Weather Forecasting Ranks

PHILADELPHIA, April 11 (U.P.)—Trees have joined the ranks of weather forecasters along with wooly-bear caterpillars, groundhogs, rheumatism and corns, an industrial engineer reported here.

By using a device known as an electronic potentiometer to measure the electrical impulses given off by trees, scientists working con-currently at three universities have discovered that trees react to storms days in advance of meteorological distrubances, an engineer of the Brown Instrument Co. disclosed.

Complete facts are not yet known, he said, but the electrical impulses are believed to be caused by the reaction of cosmic rays on the growth cells of the trees.

Many Publications Banned By Czech Regime In War On Press

PRAGUE, April 11 (U.P.)—Nearly 1,500 issues of 150 foreign magazines and newspapers have been confiscated in Czechoslovakia, a two-months tabulation of the Official Gazette revealed.

Swiss periodicals were the hardest hit, with 325 issues of 33 different periodicals banned. The Swiss National Zeitung had 40 issues banned in two months.

Austria was second on the banned list with 221 issues of 37 magazines and newspapers on the forbidden list in two months. The Weiner Kurier was most unpopular with the censors, with 28 confiscations.

Each confiscation must be confirmed by a court order. The court calendar has been so jammed with confiscation orders from the police that some orders have taken seven months to put through.

Paris Papers Hit

France was third on the list, with 94 issues of 15 periodicals banned—of which the Continental Daily Mail and the Paris edition of the Herald Tribune accounted for 43 of the confiscations.

The United States had 62 issues of 16 periodicals banned; British, 61 issues of 12 periodicals; Belgium, 11 issues of four periodicals.

Italy, Germany, Denmark, Sweden and Luxembourg also had newspapers and magazines confiscated.

In addition, 37 foreign periodicals have been banned completely. They include The Chicago Tribune, Time-Life, La Croix du Dimanche and Le Matin from France, Die Tat from Switzerland, and the Daily Mail, Catholic Digest, Catholic Times, Catholic Herald, Daily Sketch, and Londynske Listy, a Czech language paper, from London.

A detailed list of the banned Swiss periodicals showed:

Neue Zuricher Zeitung with 34 issues, Basler Nachrichten with 34 and Die Tat completely banned at the end of October.

Also affected were Das Bund with 30 issues, and the Neue Zuricher Nachrichten with 20. Also on the list was the weekly Die Weltwoche, with five issues banned. The 33 periodicals included local journals such as the Thurgauer Zeitung, which lost 14 issues, the Emmenthaler Blatt, Berner Tagwach and the Freir Aarguer.

Other Austrian confiscations were:

The Weltpress with 25, the Wiener Tageszeitung with 22, and the Arbeiter Zeitung with 21. The Austrian list also included a host of minor provincial papers and some religious periodicals such as the Salzburg Klerusblatt.

Legal Drunk Needs Six Hits From Jug

CHICAGO, April 11 (U.P.)—You aren't legally drunk until you've downed at least six ounces of whiskey, an expert reports.

James H. Oughton, Jr., director of the Keeley Institute for Alcoholics at Dwight, Ill., said a person must have .15 per cent of alcohol in his blood to be drunk from the legal point of view.

It takes six one-ounce shots to reach that condition, he said.

Air Strategy

for bomb-carrying missions.

There is a compensating factor, however. The B-36 is intended to attack with atom bombs. The average target will require only one or two of these mass-destruction missiles.

Thus, strategic attack with B-36s may be made by very small missions or perhaps by only single planes, as in the case of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

It is to be expected that where more than one B-36 is used against a single target the actual bombing "runs" above the target will not be made in formation, as was done in the conventional-bomb strategic attacks of the last war.

Flying at extreme altitude (because with an atomic bomb pinpoint hits are not essential) the B-36s would come in over the target from different approaches at different times.

Holy Week Observances Begin With Palm Sunday Ceremonies

VATICAN CITY, April 11. (AP)—Holy week observances are underway here commemorating the "cruxifion" and resurrection of Christ.

More than 40,000 Roman Catholics jammed St. Peter's Basilica yesterday—Palm Sunday—for the start of the week-long ceremonies. Mass was sung by Monsignor Ferlinando Prosperini at the rites commemorating the triumphal entery of Christ into Jerusalém almost two thousand years ago.

Communion Set

From that city in the troubled Holy Land came reports that Palm Sunday passed as just an ordinary working day. United Nations officials continued their meetings to implement the recent truce between Israel and Trans-Jordan.

However, the traditional Palm processions were held in the Garden of Gethsemane and on the Mount of Olives.

Today Pope Pius XII will impart Easter communion to his lay aides at the Vatican; ecclesiastical aides will take communion Holy Thursday.

Ceremonies Planned

On that day also the holy oils, produced at the Vatican, will be blassed and the great alter of St. Peter's will be washed with special oils and wines.

Cardinal Tedeschini will lead the age-old services of sorrow on Good Friday from 12 to three—the hours during which Christ suffered on the cross.

On Saturday a fire in the entrance of the Basilica will be blessed so that it may be used to light candles for the altars.

Holy week will close Easter Sunday, after special masses, with the traditional procession of St. Peter's. This is called the "Three Maries" procession and is followed by the singing of solmen vespers.

Chris Just Can't Stay Out Of News

HOUSTON, April 11 (U.P.)—Chris J. Christensen was back in the news again today—and again not by his own choice.

The 47-year-old former San Francisco jeweler and city supervisor, who made headlines last month when he was found here a year after he supposelly jumped off the Golden Gate bridge, told police he put too much faith in a fellow-worker.

Christensen has sold Bibles since his discovery. He filed a felony theft charge today against another Bible salesman, Jerry Weston, 24.

Christensen said Weston came to him Saturday, without funds and looking for a place to sleep.

He said he allowed the younger man to share his room. Saturday night Weston disappeared with two suitcases loaded with $600 worth of colthing, Christensen claimed.
