Germans Poke Fun At Ship's Stealthy Trip

BERLIN, March 7 (AP) — In jocular mood concerning the voyage to New York of the new British liner Queen Elizabeth, authorized German sources today commented:

"The stealthy trip into a United States harbor does not speak well for British confidence in victory."

CHURCHILL IS HAPPY

LONDON, March 7 (AP)—The first official comment of the British government on the Queen Elizabeth's daring voyage to the safety of New York harbor came today from Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty. He said:

"Splendid! Very good work, indeed."

Finland Calls More Troops

(By The United Press)

HELSINKI, Finland, March 7.—Finland called its youths of 20 years into the army today to join their fathers in the desperate fight to stop the Russian red army.

How many of the youths would be mobilized was not yet known, because thousands of 20-year-olds, and 19-year-olds, were fighting already as volunteers.

Notices Are Posted

Notices were posted this morning calling the youths, the army conscript class of 1920, to the colors. Previously the government had called to the army all classes from 1919 to 1896 inclusive, men of from 21 to 44 years old.

Patrol units from towns all along the southeastern coast were hastened today toward the western shores of Viipuri bay, armed with machine pistols and hand grenades for hand to hand fighting, in hope of repulsing a ferocious Russian attack across the bay ice.

Airplanes Give Aid

Airplanes were detailed to support the patrols by bombing and machine gunning Russian troops, and seeking to blast holes in the ice to trap them. They flashed radio directions to coastal big gun batteries as to the best targets.

The Russians were attacking on ice which now was about three feet thick. They had taken islands in the bay area as stepping stones, and from these bases had sent out tanks and armored sledges to support their

Gracie Allen Faces Convention Trouble

HOLLYWOOD, March 7. (U.P.)—Campaign headquarters of Gracie Allen, "surprise party" candidate for president, had convention trouble today.

The Omaha, Nebr., Chamber of Commerce wanted her to hold her convention during the city's Golden Spike days, May 15-18. Omaha promised a torchlight parade with 25,000 bearded and costumed men.

"We'll plaster Omaha and the entire midwest with 'Gracie Allen for president' placards," she was promised.

She also had received offers from Topeka, Kan., to hold her convention in the city's new $2,000,000 city hall during the week of May 12.

The National Women's press club invited Miss Allen to attend its annual dinner March 16 in Washington as guest of honor. Marie Jones, of the Washington Times, who extended the invitation, promised her that she would meet Mrs. Roosevelt and the wives of all presidential candidates.

Mr. McLean, 49, died Tuesday.

Rev. J. Hoyt Boles of Fort Worth was to officiate, assisted by Rev. Robert L. Butler of Abilene.

Interment will be in Dimmitt cemetery.

Car Is Stolen By Fugitives At Seminole

South Plains Officers Post Lookouts On All Highways; Escape Made Late Wednesday

(Special To The Journal)

SEMINOLE, March 7.—Official lookouts were posted on the network of South Plains highways and lateral roads this morning when Sheriff John Sartin of Gaines county warned that two former convicts had broken jail at Seminole.

Coupled with the warning was an official report that an automobile had been stolen here after another had been recovered.

Escape Late Wednesday

Sheriff Sartin reported to Lubbock police for shortwave broadcast purpose that the men broke jail late Wednesday. Soon afterward a green sedan stolen here was recovered near Seminole's city limits, but another car almost immediately was found to be missing.

Sheriff Sartin refused information of the break to the press, but reporters obtained details through checking agencies so far away as Austin.

In Austin it was learned through state police that the men were Pat Powell, 36, and Clay Hoffman, 21, and that the automobile stolen belonged to A. L. Duff, jr., of Seminole.

Described As Dangerous

Furthermore, the leased wires reported to newspapermen throughout the state that the men had been described in a police bulletin as "dangerous."

And, further giving details of the break, Austin reported that the exconvicts broke to freedom through two bars that earlier had yielded in another jail break from the Seminole jail.

Other officials of the South Plains told the press that Powell was 6 feet 5 inches tall, well dressed and a 'four times loser.' They said Hoffman was 6 feet tall, weighs approximately 160 pounds and was dressed in khaki clothing.

The other officials informed

Store Owner-Very Disgruntled Fellow; Robbed Three Times

PITTSBURGH, March 7 (AP) — "Here we got a one-store crime wave," moans clothing dealer Leonard Goldstein, "and the cops can't do anything about it."

He's a very disgruntled fellow because the same slim bandit three times in three months has raided his place of business and walked off with a total of $1,100.

"It's got so that when this guy comes in now he doesn't need to say anything," declared Goldstein. "We know who he is, so he just pulls the gun and we give him the dough."

Small Craft Warnings Along Louisiana Coast Are Given

NEW ORLEANS, March 7. (U.P.)—The U. S. weather bureau, in an 8:30 a. m. (CST) advisory, today ordered small craft warnings hoisted east of Port Arthur, Texas, to Pensacola, Fla.

The bureau warned of fresh to strong west and northwest winds this afternoon and tonight on the Louisiana coast and fresh to strong south and southwest winds shifting to northwest early tonight east of New Orleans to Pensacola.

New Queen Of Sea Safe In New York

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 7.—With the "red duster" Union Jack proudly flying at her mast, Britain's new $28,750,000 liner Queen Elizabeth—the largest, fastest ship afloat—arrived within the safety of New York harbor waters today at the end of her bold dash 3,000 miles across the Atlantic.

Painted a drab gray, the 85,000-ton liner passed Ambrose lightship shortly after 8 a. m. (CST) and headed toward the narrows, past winter-deserted Coney Island, with the skyline of New York 20 miles distant.

Misses Morning Tide

She missed the morning slack tide, however, and most likely will drop anchor near the old quarantine station, Staten Island, before proceeding up the bay late this afternoon to her pier at 50th street.

A war-time fugitive, fleeing the dangers of German bombing assaults in her Clyde river berth in Scotland, the Queen Elizabeth successfully evaded the threat of German undersea attack and triumphed in its risk of a mortal blow against British claims of supremacy of the sea.

Planes first sighted the Queen "looking like a dirty gray whale" off Fire island, cutting up a mile-long wake as her giant engines turned up apparently close to her top speed of more than 32 knots.

Few Figures On Decks

Only a few figures were seen on the decks, and not until a TWA plane made a second circle did the ship make her nationality known when crew members broke out the Union Jack and some of the crew waved.

The Queen Elizabeth suddenly straightened out from her previous zig-zagging course and cut a direct line for New York harbor—apparently sure, now that she was in safe

LaFollette To Stay Neutral

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Reliable sources disclosed today that Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) has decided to play a lone hand in this year's elections.

With his own political career at stake, the sole representative of the Progressive party in the Senate has adopted a "hands-off" attitude on the presidential race after actively supporting President Roosevelt in the 1932 and 1936 elections.

Has Kept Silent

Friends of "young Bob" pointed out that he not only has kept silent on the third term argument, but has made no definite announcement as to his own candidacy for re-election.

They said he would stay clear of both Democratic and Republican battles until after the major parties have selected presidential candidates. The Wisconsin senatorial primary will not be held until September.

Most capital politicians expect La Follette to seek re-election under banners of the Progressive party.

Watchman Burned To Death In Explosion At Kansas City

Cause of the explosion was not known.

Bold Young Male Campaigns For Queen Of May At Rice

HOUSTON, March 7 (AP)—A bold young male campaigned today against eleven co-eds for queen of the May at Rice institute because he is "fed up" with women invading fields once open only to men.

J. P. (just call me Petunia) Miller was nominated in a petition presented to the Rice's women's council.

"I'm getting fed up with women invading all branches of business and competing with men," Petunia said in his opening campaign statement. "So I'm going to get even."

The election is Monday.

Sons Of Old Eli Threaten To Shed Blood For Ann Sheridan

(By The United Press)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 7.—The sons of Eli threatened today to shed blood over the slur cast on Ann Sheridan, red-haired "oomph girl," by the Harvard university Lampoon.

Yale-Harvard hostilities are perennial but the Lampoon's choice of Miss Sheridan as the "movie actress most unlikely to succeed" incited the Yale men to a frenzy. A stormy session was held on the campus last night by the board of the Yale Record and afterward, Roy S. Fox, jr., the Record's editor, sent a telegram to J. Russell Bowie, editor of the Lampoon, challenging him to a duel.

"European code," Fox specified, "in the interests of American womanhood and the American ideal of feminity . . ." "Your ungentlemanly attitude toward Miss Ann Sheridan I find unbearable and unbecoming an intelligent person," he added. "Statement you made concerning Miss Sheridan's histrionic ability obviously untrue . . . re-

Mysterious Injuries Are Fatal For Man

Without regaining consciousness and with the manner in which he was injured still a mystery, J. Lewis Cagle, about 35, of Tahoka died in a sanitarium here this morning.

He had been rushed to the sanitarium Sunday night after he was found lying unconscious in the underpass on North Avenue H. A physician said it was possible Cagle suffered the injury by falling, his head striking the walk.

The body will be sent to Lohn, McCullough county, this afternoon. Burial will be in Lohn cemetery Friday afternoon, Rix Funeral home reported.

He had been living in Tahoka about 6 months. He was a cook.

Survivors include the wife and a son, Doyle Kent, of Taylor county; two brothers, W. H. Cagle of Valera and J. A. Cagle of Ballinger; three sisters, Mrs. Paul Schmidt of Lohn, Mrs. J. G. Ketchersid of Nocona and Mrs. Lottie Mae Moore of Lohn.

Mr. Cagle died at 5:58 o'clock.

Police began an investigation following the finding of the man in the pass.

FORT SUMNER, N. M., March 7.—The breakup of a swindle of eastern New Mexico cattlemen, who were duped into joining an allegedly fraudulent cattle theft protection agency, was announced today at the conclusion of an investigation by officers of New Mexico and West Texas.

One man was under arrest as the result of the probe, which officers said revealed cattlemen had been induced to pay from $10 to $25 for "protection" in the organization.

Paid Varying Amounts

About 35 cowmen of De Baca county alone told officers meeting here this week they had paid varying amounts to the agency, which ostensibly operated at Lubbock, Texas.

Texas Rangers Hugh J. Pharies and Pat Taliaferro of Lubbock, declared they had visited the Lubbock address given, but had found no one there.

Sheriff's officers of three New Mexico counties, state policemen and inspectors for the New Mexico cattle sanitary board joined the rangers in conducting the investi-

Strange Death Of Woman In Flames Being Investigated

ARTESIA, N. M., March 7 (U.P.)—Authorities today were investigating the death of Mrs. Fred Tucker, 50, who died after she was found in her front yard with her clothing in flames.

She had been at home alone, neighbors said. A search of the buildings on the premises did not reveal how or where the fire started.

17 Changes In Wagner Labor Act Proposed

Prompt Creation Of A New Three-Man Board To Act Merely As Judge Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Prompt creation of a new three-man labor board to act "merely as a judge" in collective bargaining disputes topped a list of 17 amendments to the Wagner act recommended to Congress by a special House committee.

Freedom also for an employer "to discuss labor situations with his workers" within limitations was included in the changes proposed by Chairman Smith (D-Va) of an investigating committee. The committee majority advocated that the present board, headed by J. Warren Madden, be tossed out of office at this session.

Quick Action Necessary

Smith said his amendments represented "imperative things that need immediate attention." Aligned with him were Representatives Hallack (R-Ind) and Routzohn (R-Ohio).

The minority, Representatives Healey (D-Mass) and Murdock (D-Utah), protested against the amendments as "emasculatory" and threatening to "the principles, purposes and objectives of the act."

Healey and Murdock said the changes "propose to sacrifice vital rights of labor."

Would Separate Functions

In proposing to separate judicial and prosecuting functions, the majority suggested that an administrator, to be appointed by the president and to have no connection with the board, should prosecute complaints against employers.

This amendment apparently was based on charges that in some cases the board had acted as judge, jury and prosecutor.

One amendment would forbid the payroll reinstatement of any employe who had engaged in wilful violence during a labor disturbance.

Eliminate Dissatisfaction

The suggested changes, Smith said, are not intended to affect the fundamental principle of collective bargaining in the Wagner act but, he said, would define the work of the new administrative body more clearly and eliminate cause of some of the dissatisfaction expressed about the present board.

Board members now are Chairman J. Warren Madden, Edwin S. Smith and William M. Leiserson. Madden and Smith have been the particular targets of criticism in the course of the Smith committee's hearings since last September.

Amendments Are Outlined

The committee's amendments would:

1. Abolish the present board and

Welles Visits French Chief

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, March 7.—President Albert Lebrun on behalf of a France avowedly determined to crush the present German regime received Sumner Welles at the Elysee palace today.

A company of the republican guard stood smartly to attention as the automobile bearing Roosevelt's emissary rolled into the courtyard.

Has Ceremonial Visit

Welles immediately entered the president's office for a ceremonial visit before going to the war ministry to see Premier Daladier.

Newspapers emphasized France's war intentions by recalling the nation's "mistake in thinking Germany was a nation of poets and philosophers despite the terrible proof of the World war and the rise of nazism."

After an hour and 22 minutes with the president, Welles, accompanied by Robert D. Murphy, United States charge d'affaires, went to the war ministry for an interview with Daladier.

Later he was to visit August De Champetier De Ribes, French undersecretary for foreign affairs.

Man Dies Of Bullet Wound; Woman Also Fatally Shot

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7 (AP)—Leo Ignoff, 35, died shortly before midnight from a bullet he fired into his head yesterday after fatally wounding Mrs. Vera Frederick, 28, on a downtown street.

Mrs. Frederick, an expectant mother, was shot down before scores of horrified home-going workers.

Police Lieut. Mike Mitchell said Ignoff walked up to Mrs. Frederick, tapped her on the shoulder and showed her a citation for disturbing the peace, mailed to Ignoff after the woman had complained of his attentions. The shooting then occurred.

Resources Of Rumania To Be Thrown Behind Army

Higher Taxes To Be Levied

BUCHAREST, March 7. (AP)—King Carol II opened parliament today with a declaration that all the resources of Rumania would be thrown behind her army as a "supreme guarantee of our independence and of the integrity of our borders."

Disclosing that taxes would be materially increased to bear the cost of keeping 1,600,000 men under arms, the monarch said:

Will Accept Sacrifices

"I am sure my people will accept such sacrifices for the sake of the country and peace."

Strict neutrality, he declared, will be continued even in the fields of foreign commerce "in order to assure the essential flow of supplies to our army and our people."

Carol's statement was approved in a long session of the crown council last night amid signs of an even sharper struggle between Germany and the British-French Allies for Rumania's favor in exports of raw materials.

Relations Are Good

In a declaration that relations between Rumania and other nations are good, the king specifically mentioned only Italy and Bulgaria.

Meanwhile, Viroel Tilea, Rumanian minister to London, was reported on his way home to deliver a British proposal that Great Britain be accorded equal treatment with Germany on Rumanian exports, including oil, the most coveted product.

On the other hand it was reported that German pressure on Rumania now included a demand for the country's entire 1940 wool crop.

The economic tug-of-war over Rumania's products was seen by diplomats to be pushing King Carol's government closer than ever to the necessity of dropping neutrality and picking a side in the European war.

Rumanians express fear that if Germany finds herself unable to get all the oil she has been promised or needs she will be tempted to come to Rumania to organize for herself.

Dairy Judging Team Chosen

Selection of a dairy products judging team, fourth to be chosen to compete at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth, was made Wednesday afternoon at Texas Technological college, said Mart G. Pederson, associate professor of dairy manufactures and team coach.

In addition to the four teams, Texas Tech will be represented by several faculty members officiating at or attending events in connection with the show and by the livestock exhibit sent by train and truck Wednesday and Thursday.

Members Listed

Members of the dairy products judging team are Nathaniel Nelson of Clifton, Paul Kiser of Sylvester, Howard Strawn of Clarendon and Clayton Roach of Lockney.

The students and coach will leave Monday and will compete Tuesday. The team will judge milk, butter, cheese and ice cream.

Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, associate professor of animal husbandry, is coach of the meats judging team. Members are Stewart Sewell of Jacksboro, John Wright of Breckenridge, David Kritser of Amarillo and Lewis Nance of Justiceburg. The team will compete Tuesday.

Ray C. Mowery and Casey Fine previously had announced membership of their teams, the junior livestock judging and dairy cattle judging teams, respectively. Mowery and his team will leave Friday and the students will compete Saturday. Fine will leave Sunday with his team, which will compete Monday.

Stangel To Serve

Ray L. Chappelle, head professor of agriculture edutation, T. L. Leach, assistant professor and itinerant teacher trainer, and O. T. Ryan, area supervisor of vocational agriculture with headquarters at Tech, left Wednesday. They will attend a conference of supervisors and teacher trainers today. The state Future Farmers of America dairy products and meat identification contests are to be held Saturday.

K. M. Renner, head professor of dairy manufactures, is to judge the state FFA milk judging contest.

W. L. Stangel, head professor of animal husbandry, will serve as superintendent of the Aberdeen-Angus department and will judge a new horse department.

Texas Tech Students Are To Attend Meeting At Austin

Man Joins Army To See The World But Doesn't See It

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 7. (U.P.)—Eighteen years ago C. P. Anderson joined the army "to see the world."

At that time he lived in Murray, Utah, four miles south of Salt Lake City. He enlisted and was sent to Fort Douglas, on the eastern outskirts of Salt Lake City, for training. He remained there 14 years and 11 months, working his way up to sergeant. Then he was transferred to East high school, in the center of Salt Lake City, to coach an R. O. T. C. rifle team.

Sergeant Anderson says he's gotten used to all this traveling around.

WINTER HUSHES A WATER FALL—The prolonged cold snap of early 1940, turned the pretty waterfall of Dripping Springs in eastern Scurry county into a fringe of icicles. Dripping Springs, one of the beauty spots of West Texas, is tucked away on a tributary of a small creek on the Harral ranch. The falls is 75 feet wide with a drop of approximately 50 feet. Facing north, the Arctic blasts of winter changed the falling water into pillared columns of ice as large as barrels. The springs, which flow the year around, were known to the Indian because of the tonic quality of the water derived from a deposit of alum.

Sixteen Scientists Are Hard At Work In Effort To Find New Uses For Products

NEW ORLEANS, March 7 (AP)—The government's $1,464,750 southern research laboratory here still is in the concrete-pouring stage, but 16 scientists attached to it already are busy in its work of finding unsuspected uses for southern farm products.

Their present job is to search the huge literature of chemurgy—publications of individuals, societies, universities, governments—to make sure what foundations already exist, whatfields still are unexplored, what would be mere duplication and which lines of research give most promise.

Then they must design their equipment, because much of what they will undertake will be so new the tools do not now exist.

"We want our program completed and approved, our physical setup ready, so when the building is completed we can go right to work," explained Harry P. Newton, technical assistant to the director.

"The cold spell and then the rains have slowed down construction, but we still have good hopes of having the building completed on schedule in late fall. We don't want any lag then because of lack of preparation, so we're not losing any of the intervening time."

The program will not be announced piecemeal, he said. This much is known, however, that the first three materials assigned as subjects for research are cotton, sweet potatoes and peanuts. Ultimately anything that grows in southern soil will be eligible for consideration.

Staff To Be Expanded

When the laboratory opens, the present nucleus staff of 16 specialists and 14 other employes will be expanded to 200. They will have an annual appropriation of $1,000,000 to work with.

Their problems, as Newton described them, will be "economic as well as technical."

In charge of the laboratory here will be D. F. J. Lynch, as director.

Newton, born in Waco, Tex., studied at Baylor, Chicago and Georgetown universities and was an industrial chemist before joining the agriculture department in 1927.

Jones Seeking Complete Rest

TUCSON, Ariz., March 7. (AP)—Sam H. Jones, governor-nominate of Louisiana, arrived here today for what he described as "a complete rest after the hardest five and a half months of my life."

The future chief executive, who overthrew the Louisiana political dynasty founded by the late Huey P. Long, said he and Mrs. Jones probably would remain here "a couple of weeks," but he declined to outline their plans during the vacation.

Mrs. Jones' parents live in Tucson.

Jones told interviewers that he would "be talking all night" if he attempted to describe his reform plans for Louisiana, but said the elimination of waste "in the most extravagant state in the union" was the No. 1 item on his program.

"We'll have to start by cutting out the deadheads, the double-uppers and the triple-uppers," he said. "I don't know what you call them in Arizona, if you have them, but we mean people holding two or three jobs on the public payroll."

The 42-year-old attorney who defeated Earl Long for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said the campaign was "a holy crusade to stamp out the most corrupt dictatorship ever seen in any state."

Bonham Representative Will Be Candidate For Judgeship

AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Representative A. S. Broadfoot of Bonham has announced he will run for the district judgeship of Fannin and Lamar counties.

He said here yesterday he would not seek re-election to the legislature.

HERMAN JONES

TO OPPOSE RE-ELECTION—Herman Jones, 29, associated with the law firm of former Gov. Dan Moody, announces he will devote three weeks this spring to a series of addresses opposing re-election of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel "as a matter of public service." He says he will endorse NO candidate nor ask anything political for himself.

Below Freezing Temperature Is Recorded At Airport

Below freezing temperature was recorded at the Municipal airport when the mercury dropped to 27.5 degrees. At 6:30 o'clock it had risen to 28 degrees.

Main line station of West Texas Gas Co., reported a minimum of 31 degrees at 7 o'clock and 37 degrees two hours later.

Fruit buds were not damaged by the freeze according to O. B. Howell, professor of horticulture at Texas Technological college, because the freeze was not of a long duration. No fruit trees at the college had begun to bloom, it was reported.

Some Chinese elms have put out flowers, but apparently no damage was done to them. Budding this year is later than for several years it was pointed out.

Extent of the damage to wheat by the wind and blowing out of growing roots was to be checked Thursday. There was some damage by previous winds.

'The Drunkard' Opens Tonight

First of three performances of "The Drunkard" is scheduled tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the armory, Tenth street and College avenue, as a benefit for the boys' club building fund.

The audience will sit at tables, hiss the villain and cheer the hero and may come prepared to eat peanuts, drink soda pop and be comfortable, said Dr. Marshall Harvey, president of the Lions club.

Tickets Go Fast

The Lions and American Business clubs will sponsor the production. The Workshop theater is in charge. Mrs. Jack Mistrot is the director.

Tickets had been sold for about three fourths of the seats for tonight's showing when the cashier's desk closed in the Hilton hotel lobby Wednesday and many tickets had been sold for Friday and Saturday night presentations.

Acts of the uproarious production will be interspersed with singing, dancing and comedy. The audience will join in after show singing.

Charles Maedgen, jr., will play the part of the villain in the show. The part of Mrs. Wilson will be played by Mrs. Harvey; Mary, Mrs. Wilson's daughter, by Burline Boynton; Edward Middleton, the drunkard, by Marvin McLarty, jr.; William Dawton, the drunkard's pal, by R. B. Parkinson; Agnes, William's sister, by Sarah Jones; Drover Stevens, by Alton Taylor; the minister, by C. M. Stanley, jr.; the landlord, by Dayle Vannoy; barflies, by Pete Cheaney and Clayton Mallett; Arden Rencelaw, by K. N. Clapp; Julia, little girl, by Judy Pierce; Archibald, a farm boy, by Ralph Knight; policeman, by Fred Primm.

Hugh Dunlap will be master of ceremonies.

Between acts harmonizing will be presented by the Singing Waiters' quartet, led by George Dale. Quartet members are Bert Pinson, R. D. Shinkle, Wilmot Eaton and Hugh Anderson.

A "can-can" chorus will dance and various other acts will be presented. Ed Donelson will be the pianist.

Labor Board

create a new one of three members, with not more than two belonging to the same political party.

2. Separate the prosecuting and judicial functions of the board and create a new office of administrator to handle many of the board's present functions.

3. Permit the board to function only as a judge, with the exception that it would continue to have the power to order a collective bargaining election.

Would Issue Subpoenas

4. Make mandatory the issuance of subpoenas for appearances at hearings upon request either of an employer, worker or union.

5. Permit court review board decisions in representative cases.

6. Forbid the board to initiate determination of collective bargaining units; only the employer or employes could request that action.

7. Once an election is held, forbid other elections in the same plant for one year.

Relax Prohibitions

Relax present prohibitions, to permit an employer to discuss labor situations with his workers, provided that discussion did not involve acts or threats of coercion, intimidation or discrimination.

9. Apply the usual court rules of evidence to all board procedure.

10. Provide that, in court review of any board decision, the board's findings would be conclusive if based on a preponderance of evidence and unless they were "clearly erroneous."

11. Revise the declaration of policy in the Wagner act so that the board would not be encouraged to "unionize" employes against their will.

Penalty For Violence

12. Forbid the board to reinstate any worker who wilfully engaged in violence or unlawful destruction or seizure of property.

13. Revise the definition of the phrase "bargain collectively" so that neither an employer nor a union would be compelled to reach an agreement or make counter proposals. (The committee majority did not touch on the question of whether a signed contract was necessary to show good faith in collective bargaining.)

14. Provide that the intermediate report of a trial examiner become final, without any further board action, unless one of the parties to the proceedings took exception to it in 20 days.

Exclude Farm Employes

15. Exclude employes of farm cooperatives from the act's application.

16. Forbid the board to entertain any charge of a violation of the Wagner act more than six months after the violation occurred and decree that back pay could not be awarded to any worker for more than a six-month period.

17. Abolish the economics division, presently headed by David Saposs.

CMA Artists Are Listed

With the membership campaign for Civic Music association half through, artists under consideration for the 1940-41 season were announced this morning from local headquarters. South Plains residents are being reminded they may purchase memberships for five dollars through Saturday evening, at which time the books will be closed for another year.

Artists who would be available for local appearances include Donald Dickson, top ranking baritone with a popular Sunday radio hour; Argentinita, Spanish dancer, and her ensemble; Erica Morini, woman violinist; Nathan Milstein, violinist; Josef and Rosina Lhevinne, duo-pianists; Elizabeth Rethberg, Metropolitan opera soprano; Ezio Pinza, Metropolitan opera basso; John Charles Thomas, baritone; Lina Pagliughi, described as "the new Tetrazzini"; Jarmila Novotna, Metropolitan opera glamour star; Anne Jamison, coloratura soprano who appeared here two seasons ago; Giovanni Martinelli, world famous tenor; Jan Kiepura, opera, movie and radio tenor; Artur Rubinstein, pianist; Ania Dorfmann, Russian pianist and Kerstin Thorborg, Metropolitan opera contralto.

Headquarters are room 307 of the Hilton hotel.

Miss Pratas Weds Today

The marriage of Miss Marguerite Pratas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pratas of 1611 Eighteenth street, and James Christe of Dallas took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Father Methodios of San Angelo performed the Greek marriage ceremony.

The bride wore a pale dusky rose costume suit.

The couple left later in the afternoon for Dallas where they will make their home.

Plains Officers Are Asked To Watch For Littlefield Auto

Littlefield authorities this morning asked officials of the South Plains to watch for an automobile stolen there.

Sam Hutson, sheriff, said a 1939 Chevrolet coach, green and having license plates 784-914, had been stolen there.

Lubbock officials did not speculate over whether two former convicts who had broken jail at Seminole and stolen a gray 1939 Ford sedan soon after another car had been abandoned there might have figured in the Littlefield theft.

Directories Of Interest To Business Men Are Available

Several directories which may be of interest to business men of various kinds have been added to the directory library of the chamber of commerce the past few days, according to information given by officials of the organization this morning.

The most recent, they related, is a directory of wholesale firms published by the bureau of business research of the University of Texas which suggests that a new survey of such firms is needed in Lubbock.

Listed among the wholesale firms in the directory are 127 in Lubbock. However, that list has not been revised since 1938. Several other wholesale firms have located here since that time, chamber officials said. They suggested that if operators of such firms not listed will advise the chamber of commerce, the information will be forwarded to the bureau of business research for inclusion in any supplemental reports which may be issued.

Other new directories added to the library are the Thomas National Directory of Manufacturers and a directory of federal and state officials in Texas.

Mrs. Martin Taken Home—Mrs. D. D. Martin was taken to her home, 1626 Broadway, Wednesday night to convalesce from a serious illness. She was a patient in West Texas hospital. Mrs. Martin is the wife of the city auditor.

Water Pumpage Increased—Lubbock water consumption during February totaled 61,800,000 gallons, an increase of 6,500,000 gallons, or 12 per cent, over the 55,300,000 gallons in February, 1939, according to report from the city engineer's department this morning. Of the increase, 2,990,000 gallons was due to the 29th day in February this year.

S. C. S. Men Here—Four men from the Amarillo regional office of the Soil Conservation Service were in Lubbock today conferring with O. T. Williams, head of the area office. They were here to address farmer meetings last night. Fred Sykes, of the agronomy division, B. H. Hopkins, head of the project planning division and D. A. Dobkins and Herbert Cabet of the planning group were here.

Back From Kansas—Southwestern Kansas wheat farmers are still drilling wheat said Harry Malone, druggist, who has returned from a trip to Liberal, Kansas. The wheat area, he said, had more moisture now than it has had for years, but the wheat acreage is smaller, due to the fact that seed planted dry last fall did not come up.

Simmons In Dallas—George Simmons, manager of Lubbock Cotton Oil mill and president of the Texas Cotton Seed Crushers association was to attend a meeting of a special group in Dallas today, at which Texas and Oklahoma groups were to work out plans to secure an increased cotton acreage. Simmons went to Austin for a business visit Wednesday. Other farm groups, including ginners, warehouse men, cotton firms, farm organizations and shippers, were to be represented.

The mourning dove feeds its young with food prepared in its own body. The food called pigeon milk, is regurgitated by both the male and female parent birds.

Former Judge Goes To Jail

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, March 7—Martin T. Manton, until a year ago the nation's highest ranking jurist outside the United States supreme court, started to prison today.

Manton, a social celebrity once rated a millionaire, gave himself up to federal authorities at 9:30 a. m. to begin a two-year term in Lewisburg (Pa.) federal penitentiary for selling judicial decisions from his position as senior judge of the United States circuit court of appeals.

He Arrives Secretly

The former jurist arrived at the federal building secretly and surrendered to the U. S. marshal. He slipped into the building where he once held court by an elevator reserved only for agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He was accompanied by his son, David, and his lawyer, Edmund D. Wilson, who yesterday gave authorities a certified check for $100,000, the amount of Manton's fine.

At first Manton was affable and cheerful.

"I have no statement to make," he said.

Dewey Farm Plan

tration "politiculture has triumphed over agriculture."

Warning that he knew "of no single scheme that will solve the farm program overnight," Dewey set forth these eight points as "part of any proper agricultural program:"

1—"Establish a fair parity between agricultural prices and industrial prices." (This, he said, can be achieved "by raising agricultural prices" and "by reducing industrial prices . . . The practical idea is a combination of both.")

2—"Provide government crop loans at reasonable levels." (Dewey asserted in this connection that "agriculture, like industry, is entitled to adequate credit")

3—"Adopt a direct program of soil conservation." (He charged that under the present administration soil conservation "has been used as a devious method" of exercising crop control.)

4—"Convert sub-marginal land to more economic uses."

5—"Extend the farm cooperative movement."

6—"Continue and extend the program for marketing agreements."

7—"Preserve the American market for American agriculture." (Dewey said that "in seeking to expand our foreign trade we must make no concession which tends to depress domestic prices or subject our own producers to unfair competition from abroad.")

8—"Broaden research in the use of agricultural products."

In addition, Yale students notified Miss Sheridan they would be honored to have her as guest at their junior prom this weekend. John C. Nemiah, retiring chairman of the Record, messaged her: "Representing the Yale undergraduate body, I am enraged at Harvard's scurrilous attitude toward you and your charms. I would like to show you that Yale men are yours. Will you come to the Yale junior prom as my guest. I and 2,000 other admirers hope with all our hearts that you will accept."

Texas Highway Maps Being Distributed In This Area

More than 400 copies of the 1940 spring edition of the Texas Highway department's beautifully colored and illustrated maps have been distributed in this district, George Garrett, engineer, said today. The supply sent here is almost exhausted in the first week, but additional copies will be secured from Austin as the demand justifies, he said.

The map has been revised up to date and data and information on the condition of all highways in the state are included in the edition. The maps are made of heavy linen paper and are printed in excellent colors. Included in the illustrations of educational institutions and places of interest is a photo of the administration building of Texas Technological college.

Anyone desiring copies of the map may make their applications at the district highway department headquarters on east Broadway.

Stock Market

SPECIALTIES IN SPOTLIGHT

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—Specialties took over the rallying play for the stock market today while many of yesterday's speedy leaders rested.

The direction was moderately upward at the start with dealings active. Profit taking on Wednesday's bulge, however, soon stemmed the advance and slightly mixed prices predominated thereafter. The pace slowed after the opening and transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

Despite the obvious desire of some traders to cash in on the theory the market was hardly ready yet for any sustained push, selling was well absorbed throughout with weakness rare in virtually all departments.

While Wall street, generally, was still skeptical of a quick switch in the recently receding economic trend, cheer was derived from signs of a flattening out of the curve. At the same time there was hopefulness for good news from the national political front and a lift in European war purchasing.

Talk of Swedish mediation in the Russian-Finnish conflict buoyed a number of foreign dollar bonds and domestic corporation loans improved. Strengthening of major commodities also served to restrict stock offerings. European securities markets steadied.

Again there was an assortment of new tops for the year among shares. These included Dow Chemical, Du Pont, American Telephone, National Tea, United Drug, Thermoid Common and Preferred, Bendix and Eastern Air Lines.

Holding their own most of the day were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, N. Y. Central, Loft, Anaconda, Cerro De Pasco, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Johns-Manville, Allied Chemical, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry and Eastman Kodak.

Inclined to lag were Western Union, Consolidated Edison, U. S. Steel and Westinghouse.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 7 (AP)—Wheat prices rose about two cents today to the best level in two weeks as a result of buying inspired by pessimistic crop reports and improved export business in north American grain.

Export sales included more U. S. Pacific coast wheat to Russia and 350,000 bushels of Canadian to continental Europe.

Wheat closed 1-1 ¾ cents higher than yesterday, May $1.04 ⅝-½, July $1.02 ⅜-¼; corn ⅛-¼ up, May 57 ⅛, July 57 ⅝; oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher.

Hope Is Lost For Third Term Fight

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7. — Sen. Rush D. Holt (D-W Va) has abandoned hope of a majority for his anti-third term resolution but said today that he would introduce it to compel Senate discussion of the propriety of President Roosevelt's possible re-nomination.

The third term movement continued to expand in statements of Mr. Roosevelt's political friends and preparations in primary states to obtain convention delegations pledged to his candidacy.

Satisfaction Is Shown

On the Republican front there was satisfaction with returns from a congressional by-election in Iowa's sixth district. The district remained Republican, as was expected. What cheered the GOP here was a comparison of percentages of Republican and Democratic votes in the past five elections of which Democrats won once, in 1934. Here is the Republican share of the vote: 1932, 58 per cent; 1934, 48 per cent; 1936, 53 per cent; 1938, 59 per cent; 1940, 61 per cent.

The capital still is speculating on the effect of Mr. Roosevelt's failure at his first press conference since returning from a fishing vacation to confirm or deny statements directly attributed to him practically endorsing Secretary of State Cordell Hull for the 1940 nomination and ruling Postmaster General James A. Farley off the ticket because of religious prejudice in the United States. Farley's repeated statement to his friends that "I won't be kicked around" was being recalled here in that connection.

Sentiment Is Subsiding

Holt, who is aware that Senate anti-third term sentiment is subsiding, told the United Press:

"I certainly am going to introduce that resolution to express the sense of the Senate in opposition to a third term."

He said there was both Republican and Democratic pressure to prevent Senate debate of the question but that he was determined to force it despite his certainty that the resolution would lose.

He expects the resolution to be disposed of by a motion to send it to committee where it would be shelved. But Holt contends that the vote on reference to a committee in effect would be a test of sentiment in which members would have to go on record whether the Senate should have an opportunity to express itself.

Queen Of Sea

waters.

Below the water-line, the ship showed dark red and along the water line there were patches of black under the gray paint, indicating her "war paint" had been hastily applied for the audacious voyage to this country.

Meanwhile, preparations were made to greet the Queen Elizabeth at her new berth at pier 90, at the foot of West 50th street, where two dredges have recently been deepening the north side of the slip for her huge bulk.

The newcomer will lie in a $113,750,000 maritime "Klondike" on the New York waterfront, alongside the $60,000,000 French liner Normandie and the Queen Elizabeth's sister ship, the $25,000,000 Queen Mary.

Police On Guard

A police detail of 250 men was stationed in the pier vicinity, and not even newsmen or photographers were allowed to enter the piershed.

In completing her strange maiden voyage, the Queen Elizabeth wrote a new chapter in war-time drama.

For the voyage of this largest potential target for an enemy warship was:

1. Made without an alarm, and
2. Not disclosed until late yesterday.

Secret Was Kept

"Thousands of Clydeside people knew the Elizabeth had left her berth nine days ago," exulted the British Press association in London. "Yet the secret was kept."

The secret was kept until the new queen of the seas was safely within the American neutrality zone.

The liner came to New York as a self-exile from England to take refuge from the worries of war and to join the company of the other great liners too valuable to risk in submarine-infested waters.

The trip was—besides a dash to safety from bombings at home—obviously a British reply to German claims of submarine power.

gation.

All of them said the Lubbock organization had been conducting a swindle and warned stockmen against signing up with the agency for "protection" against cattle theft.

Sheriff Claude C. Moncus of Quay county, last night arrested one man, accused of being the De Baca county solicitor for the agency, and indicated he would be held for district court action.

Man Is Given 35 Years For Robbery Of Arkansas Bank

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 7 (AP)—George Preston Vautrot, 41, Church Point, La., was sentenced to 35 years in prison yesterday when he pleaded guilty to six counts of armed robbery in connection with the $3,139 robbery of the Merchants and Planters bank at Sparkman last November 9.

Vautrot was indicted with Otis Ewing, 34, Port Arthur, Tex., and Bert Trammell, 22, Beaumont, Tex.

Man Goes A Little Too Far With Individual Initiative

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 7. (AP)—Lee Becker, a strong believer in individual initiative, went just a little too far when he made his own license plates.

Policemen, attracted by the brilliant lustre of the tags and an early series number, arrested Becker who told them he had fashioned the plates out of a stove pipe.

Building Permit Total For City Given Another Boost

Six building permits issued Wednesday afternoon and this morning added another $13,050 to the city's new construction totals, according to records in the office of the city building inspector.

The permits included: Harold Medlock, owner, and J. E. Ligon, contractor, residence at 2006 Thirtieth street, $4,100; Raymond C. Womack, owner, and Harold Biffle, contractor, residence at 2616 Twenty-fifth, $3,500; Joe Cooley, owner, and M. E. Stone, contractor, residence at 1515 Twenty-seventh, $3,200; and A. G. Somers, owner, addition to residence at 1915 Eighth street, $1,500.

Permit total for the week was boosted to $41,045, for the month to $44,545, and for the year to $949,959.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED

LOS ANGELES, March 7 (UP) — Mrs. Betsey Cushing Roosevelt today was granted a divorce from James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president. Superior Judge Thomas C. Gould granted the decree after a one-minute hearing.

MUTE EVIDENCE FOUND

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands, March 7 (AP)—An empty life raft and some wreckage bearing the name Grutto found in the North sea today were interpreted as mute evidence of the loss of the 920-ton Netherlands freighter Grutto with a crew of 18.

TWO BANDITS SOUGHT

HAMLET, N. C., March 7 (AP)—Officers are hunting two youthful bandits who attempted to hold up a party of motorists on a highway near here but, when another car approached, sped away into the darkness—on bicycles.

HALE POLL TAXES

PLAINVIEW — Hale county's voting strength for the 1940 elections is 4,403 according to an announcement here. There are 4,235 poll tax receipts issued and 168 exemptions.

Rites For J. J. Harris Are To Be Conducted On Friday

Last rites are to be conducted at 10 o'clock Friday morning for J. J. Harris, 72, who died Wednesday afternoon at the home of a daughter, Mrs. H. W. Bell of route 1.

Services will be conducted at the Church of the Nazarene, with Rev. J. R. Wood, Methodist pastor of the east Lubbock circuit officiating.

Sanders Funeral home announced burial would be in Lubbock cemetery.

Pall bearers include: J. W. Lemon, C. R. Stiles, Luther Green, M. M. Stiles, B. A. Wilson and Wilbur Lemon.

Mr. Harris, who had lived with his daughter three months, is survived by his wife, three sons, J. A., of 709 Fifteenth street, D. J., of Hagerman, and J. T., of Hendrix, Okla., and two daughters, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Ona Coats of Hagerman.

Semi-Annual Dokey Ceremonial Will Be Staged On April 24

Dokeys Wednesday night set the date for a semi-annual ceremonial for April 24.

At that time, it was indicated, approximately 15 candidates for initiation will be here, five of them from the Spur lodge affiliated with Lubbock's Boabdil temple No. 185. Approximately 100 Dokeys, 25 of them from other South Plains cities, are expected to attend initiations.

A dance was played by a Mexican orchestra after installation of officers.

New officers: Royal Furgeson, royal vizier; Emmett Kerr, grand emir; Alvin R. Allison, mahedi; Acle Cope, sheik; O. W. Ribble, mokanna; G. K. Taylor, satuk; H. C. Brock, secretary; Estell Hendrix, treasurer; L. L. Watson, satrap, and A. C. Sanders, sahib.

Increased Cotton Acreage In Texas Sought At Meeting

DALLAS, March 7 (AP)—An increased cotton acreage for Texas will be the objective of a campaign to be planned here today by representatives of farm organizations, gin co-operatives, warehouses, shipping firms, banks and business and trade associations.

Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the state-wide cotton committee, called the meeting.

"It is not the purpose of this meeting to launch any fights on the government program," he said. "Our purpose is solely that of securing more cotton acreage for the state of Texas, which we are entitled to under the laws. It is a matter of record that Texas has been grossly discriminated against in cotton acreage allotments."

Former Texas Ranger Found Shot To Death In Austin

AUSTIN, March 7. (AP)—J. W. Aldrich, 68, a former Texas ranger, was found mortally wounded today at the home of his brother, R. W. Aldrich, a ranger captain.

Peace Justice Sam Rogers returned an inquest verdict of death by gunshot wound self-inflicted.

Friends said the former ranger had been in poor health.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Oscar Vitt Says Bob Feller May Become The Greatest Pitcher In Baseb

Richard Menchaca Is First Golden Gloves Champion For Texas

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, March 7—Texas hailed its first Golden Gloves champion today—smiling Richard Menchaca of Port Arthur, who blasted his way to the top in the 118-pound division.

It is the fourth season for Texas to participate in the national tournament.

Last night the Lone Star state had three boys in the semi-finals. One of them, Tommy Attra of Austin, was decisioned in three rounds by Otto Stowe of Springfield, Ill., in the 160-pound class.

But Menchaca came through with a three-round decision over Jimmy Blake of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Morris Corona, also of Port Arthur, defeated George Hayes of Lenox, Iowa, in the 147-pound division.

Menchaca defeated Jimmy Joyce of Gary, Ind., in the finals, but Corona lost to Savior Canadeo of Chicago. It was a hairline decision.

The Port Arthur 118-pounder was not extended in the three-day tournament last week or in last night's matches. He was a star of the entire 24-bout show, his boxing cleverness and clean fighting getting him the favor of the crowd.

Corona was awarded the Barney Ross sportsmanship trophy.

Attra's loss to Stowe was decided by only a few points. The decision was just, however, as Tom just couldn't match the tall Stowe's boxing ability and couldn't get him penned up long enough for any sort of a sustained drive. One good flurry for Attra would have turned the decision, but Stowe was too smart to be drawn into any such engagement.

The Misplaced Dictionary

By Collier Parris

NEARLY EVERYBODY who comes into our cubbyhole, after stating his business, if any, and after glancing at the pictures around the walls, invariably spends the next few minutes reading and laughing at an old newspaper clipping underneath the glass on our desk.

The clipping was put there maybe a year ago, maybe back of that, but it's still a treat to newcomers to the office. Since all of our readers (we hope) haven't visited this office within the last year or so, and since some of them get such a bang out of it, we are herewith reproducing a column written by Dan Parker, sports editor of the New York Daily Mirror (Winchell works for that paper, too) and widely read magazine writer. Living in New York, Parker is, of course, familiar with the "tongue" of that particular part of the civilization; he hears all the languages of the U. S., which are as varied as the inter-planetary languages, and which especially feature Brooklynese.

You may have to stop and say the words over, out loud to yourself, before you grasp the full meaning, but here's Dan Parker's column, more than a year old, entitled: "The Lexicon of a Fight Manager." The same lexicon might apply to men and women in other walks of life, but anyway here's your dictionary lesson for the day:

TONSURE—A little red thing in your throat.

POTABLE — A typewriter that sports writers use at ball games and fights.

CRYPT — Crawled, as in "he crypt to his corner."

ACQUISITIVE — Always asking questions.

SENSUAL—Having lots of common sense.

COLLEAGUE—A disease horses get, something like the "group."

SCANT—Looked over quickly, like "He scant the sport pages to see if his name was there.

AUGMENT—What you'd better not start with Gen. Phelan at the Boxing Commission.

DOGMATIC—A small pistol used by veterinarians for killing dogs.

REITERATE—To annoy or make feel uncomfortable.

LYMPHATIC—When you're very positive about something.

NONAGENARIAN — A nobody, or unimportant person.

PARTITION—What all fight managers signed to abolish license fees.

SUMPTUARY—One who has weak lungs.

TACTICS—What kids make noise on window screens with on Hallowe'en night.

PROMENADE—Grease or oil to make the hair stay down.

GASTRONOMY—Looking at the stars through a telescope.

DESECRATE—Hitler was desecrated with an Iron Cross during the war.

CONTEMPORANEOUS—Anything that is worthy of our contempt.

CHITTERLINGS — Black birds brought over here from England that are always chittering.

EXCERPT—Greenpernt talk for except.

HYBRID—A member of the upper crust of society.

LABIAL—Something you paste on a medicine bottle.

PAPOOSE—The red car at the end of a freight train.

SEIZURE—His first name was Julius and he was head man in Rome.

RUBISCUND — A River Julius crossed.

SEDIMENT—The sediment of the American people seems to be against the New Deal purge.

PROSAIC—Inlaid tile work.

MASSIVE—A large dog, like a Newfoundland.

MARTINGALE—A sweet singing bird that comes out at night.

FIASCO—Someone you're engaged to marry.

BIGAMY—Religious prejudice.

EROTIC—Some of your shortstops are inclined to be erotic.

CORPUSCLE—This bird wears two stripes and acts like a major.

SURGEON — Three-striper and thinks he's a general.

PROWESS—The front end of a boat.

SPERM—To reject; Tommy Farr is sperming all Mike Jacobs' offers.

NAUSEA—The patron saint of Princeton university, otherwise known as P. U.

GUTTURAL—Some of the language fight managers use is very guttural.

NIMBLE—To take a teeny-weeny bite.

QUINCE—When your throat is dry you drink something to quince your thirst.

STOIC—A club where all the sports columnists hang out.

DAUB—When a guy knows from nee-awthing, you say he's a big daub.

GUILLOTINE — A jelly-like substance used for dessert.

LANGUISH—That which we speak.

OCELOT — Yussell Jacobs ocelot.

DUDGEON—A hole in the ground used as a jail.

BUMPKIN—A big round yellow vegetable, used at Hallowe'en time.

APPARITION—Having your appendix cut out.

CARICATURE — A person has either a good caricature or a bad caricature.

PESSIMIST—A Russian farmer.

OPTIMIST—An eye doctor.

Four Cage Battles Scheduled At Cooper Tonig

Two Hub City Squads Meet For Feature

For the second consecutive night, Lubbock's Jaywalkers — one of the better independent cage aggregations of the area—will make a desperate bid against another Hub City crew to remain in the running for the district T. A. A. F. basketball championship.

The Jaywalkers, triumphant twice, loser once, tangle with Peel Meat company at 7 o'clock tonight in one of two feature games of a four-tilt program in Cooper High gymnasium, scene of the district tussles, to determine three finalists which will return next Monday night to settle the playoff.

Jaywalkers Nip Refiners

Winner of the finals then will be sent to Waco on an expense-paid trip to represent this section of the state in the all-Texas tournament.

Edging out the Panhandle Refiners by the scant one-point margin of 26 to 25, the Jaywalkers just managed to stay in the running Wednesday night, the game between the Lubbock delegations being a "sudden death" affair as both had lost a decision and two defeats automatically eliminates any contender.

Idalou Takes On Ropes

Thus the set-up for tonight's feature between the Jaywalkers and Peel players.

Another elimination game tonight will get under way at 8 o'clock, Idalou tackling Ropes. Winners of those first two games then will return at 10 o'clock to determine one of Monday's finalists, the loser fading from the scene. Therefore, though victorious in opening games tonight, double tests await winners of the initial two contests.

Tahoka Plays Ralls

Fourth battle and the other topnotcher on the evening's promising program sends Ralls out against Orange Crush of Tahoka, the latter being the favorite of the tournament, the former being the big surprise. They clash at 9 o'clock, neither having lost a game thus far and both already having earned berths in Monday's championship drive.

Dunnagan Sales of Whiteface faded out of the picture last night when Idalou measured the Cochran county crew easily, 45 to 32.

Orange Crush kept its record unblemished by squeezing out a close yet convincing 35 to 28 decision over Ropes.

Stars Spark Tahoka

Pacing the favored Tahoka machine are two of the best independent cagers in the Southwest, Moon Mullins, of the Tulsa Diamond Oilers, and Leroy Crews, former captain of the swashbuckling Texas Tech Red Raiders. J. Snodgrass led the Tahoka scoring attack over Ropes, counting 14 times, Crews adding sevent points.

The Jaywalkers' victory was gained only after a spirited rally in the fading seconds was smothered.

Jaywalkers have captured both their triumphs by narrow margins.

GABBY TO SEE ACTION

AVALON, Calif.—Gabby Hartnett, the Chicago Cubs' veteran catcher-manager, is going into action sooner than he expected—all because of the Finnish war. He hadn't planned to play until the Cubs reached San Antonio, Texas, en route home, but agreed to appear along with eight other members of his team in a game at Los Angeles Sunday for the benefit of the Finnish relief fund.

FIRST GAME SET

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Manager Ray Blades split the St. Louis Cardinals into two squads today for the first game of the training season. Meanwhile both Joe Medwick (in St. Louis) and the management waited for somebody to make the first move in their contract troubles.

GHOST OF SERIES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — The ghost of the last World series reared itself in the New York Yankees' first intra-squad game. Lefty Lee Grissom who was obtained by the champions from the Cincinnati Reds this winter, was pitching airtight ball until Charley Keller tripled with a man on base.

Tech Track Squad Bids For Honors

Determined to make an impressive showing among the best the Southwest has to offer in the way of thinly clads, Coach Berl Huffman's Texas Tech trackmen this morning started their trek to Laredo and Friday's one-day Border Olympic extravaganza.

Eight Scarlet and Black standard bearers will participate in preliminaries of the promising Olympics, first major track and field show of the year, when the starter's gun signals the opening event Friday afternoon.

Finals Friday Night

Championship contests in all events will be reeled off Friday night, getting under way at 8 o'clock. The Red Raiders will return to Lubbock Saturday.

Hampered in their practice for the affair by inclement weather, the classy Crimson clad aggregation never-the-less was expected to make a better than average showing, the best bet for a title or even a new record being placed on the capable shoulders of James Foster, holder of the Border conference 440-yard dash record, top man on the Tech team. Foster has been very impressive in early season workouts and may topple the Border Olympics record of 50.1 seconds. His Border conference time is 49.8 seconds.

Holmes Is Threat

Also expected to do some fast clipping at Father Time's fleeting heels in the sprints is Indian Bobby Holmes, one of the greatest all-round athletes ever to attend Tech. Holmes' specialty is the century dash, but he will compete also in the javelin and on the 880-yard relay quartet.

Norman "Red" Ledbetter, a man-mountain who is likely to play a lot of tackle for the Raider football team next fall, will fly Tech colors in the discus throw. Ledbetter has been getting plenty of distance in practice.

Huffman learned last night that Joe Mason, scheduled to compete in javelin throw, would be unable to make the trip because of a sprained ankle. This leaves only Holmes to compete in that event.

Tech's entry list follows:

440-yard run: James Foster and J. R. Caldwell.

100-yard dash: Bobby Holmes and Robert Duncan.

Javelin throw: Bobby Holmes.

High jump: Bauman Roper.

120-yard high hurdles: Bauman Roper.

Discus throw: Norman Ledbetter.

880-yard relay: James Foster, Robert Duncan, E. J. McKnight and Bobby Holmes.

Half-mile run: Barkley Meadow.

More Control Now His Only Requirement

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 7.—Oscar Vitt, the old Detroit infielder, isn't yet dead certain that Bob Feller is destined to be baseball's greatest pitcher, but Oscar has his suspicions.

The Cleveland pilot's blue eyes light up when the subject swings around to the big boy from the corn country. He is getting a thrill out of handling Feller, watching the youngster steadily develop.

Will Be Greatest

"Bob won 24 games last year and lost 9," he said, impressively. "I think I had to pull him from only three games. If he gets a little more control of his curve ball nobody will beat him. He'll be the greatest we ever saw.

"Some days now he is just as fast as Johnson ever was, and he has that curve that Johnson didn't have. If he had Derringer's control they would be lucky to get one hit a game off the kid. But he's putting that ball where he wants it better all the time, and he's only 21 now. Honest, I hate to say how great a pitcher he's liable to be."

Handled Like Veteran

Feller, despite his tender years, is handled like a veteran pitcher by Vitt. He has no routine to follow in the training camp, and is left almost entirely to his own devices.

Next to Feller, Oscar has no doubts about who is the best pitcher in the American league—or in baseball, for that matter. He says its Red Ruffing of the Yankees, and he agrees that the big right hander never has been given full credit for his ability nor his proper share of credit for the success of the Yankees.

"If he ever wears out the Yankees are going to have a lot of trouble taking up the slack. Pitchers like that guy don't come along very often."

Wood And Ex-Prote Vie For Rich Priz

BY LARRY ROLLINS
Associated Press Sports Writer

CORAL GABLES, Fla., March 7.—Eight years ago Craig Wood watched an obscure young professional golfer finish near the top in several tournaments.

"This boy is going places," Wood said to himself. "I would like to have him as my assistant."

So the youngster, who was and is Dick Metz, worked with Wood for two years at the Hollywood golf club, Deal, N. J.

He Indeed Went Places

Metz indeed went places. In fact, he and Ky Laffoon play Wood and Billy Burke here Saturday in the postponed finals of the $5,000 international four-ball tournament.

All of which brings to mind that Wood has been mentor to more fine golf professionals than any other man in the business.

Before Metz it was Paul Runyan. Wood discovered Runyan at Little Rock, Ark., and took him to his club at Bloomfield, N. J. After a year Runyan moved up to White Plains, N. Y., where he has been ever since.

When Metz left Wood for broader fields, Craig took on Vic Ghezzi as his assistant. Ghezzi in turn went his own way, and won many a tournament.

Good Assistant Helpful

"A good assistant," said Wood, "makes money for a professional. He creates interest in the club, gets the members to playing more, and helps push the sale of merchandise."

Wood's interest in young golfers, however, is not altogether commercial. He is proud of them.

Wood has come as close as a man possibly could without winning a title. He tied in the British and United States opens, only to lose in the playoffs, and was once runner-up in the Augusta national.

The big blond belter is still trying at 38, but if he never comes through he will still be one of the most popular men in the game. There isn't an envious inch in his six-foot frame.

SANTA FE, N. M.—Members of pioneer families of New Mexico always have been "split" over "Billy The Kid", and their descendants probably always will be. In the days when the wraith-like "Kid" was "slinging lead" in the bloody wars of Lincoln county, there were those who condemned him for a lawless, vicious killer — and there were others who said he was no worse — if as bad — as those with whom he fought.

Here in Santa Fe, 81-year-old former Governor Miguel Antonio Otero belongs among the latter group — and has always sided with it.

"Billy killed a lot of men," says this one-time "Little Emperor of (NOTE TO READERS. This is the fourth of a series of articles on the widely publicized city of Santa Fe, and one of New Mexico's historic families, the Oteros, for generations prominent in the life of the state. Information for the articles was picked up by The Plainsman on a visit to Santa Fe last week.)

New Mexico," "but I never heard of him killing anybody who didn't need killing."

Governor Otero is one of the best-posted men alive — if not the very best posted — on the life and activities of the most notorious of all Southwestern gunmen.

The governor has written a widely read book on the fragile killer and, what is more, knew "The Kid" well at the time he was shooting a bloody trail up and down New Mexico.

BORN William Bonney, on the riotous East Side of New York City, "Billy The Kid" came to New Mexico "for his health" when a stripling of 16. A man had insulted "The Kid's" mother and "The Kid," a hellion if there ever was one, promptly stabbed the man, who up and died. William Bonney turned up a few months later in New Mexico and there made a name for himself, however good or bad it might be.

By the time he was 21, and dead of a pistol wound inflicted by Pat Garrett, former Kansas cowtown marshal and then a New Mexico sheriff, Young Mr. Bonney was accredited with having slain 21 men. Without a doubt, he was the best one-man firing squad the country had seen or heard of up to the days of prohibition and Machine-Gun Jack McGurn, a playmate of Mr. Al Capone.

One time during his tumultous career in New Mexico, "The Kid" was captured and brought to Santa Fe. (He later was taken to Old Lincoln, where he was tried, sentenced to hang and then escaped).

It so happened that Governor Otero and his father, then the delegate to Congress from the Territory of New Mexico, were on the train with the kid and his captor and were conversing with the officer. "The Kid" and another prisoner when the train reached Las Vegas.

As the train stood on the Las Vegas tracks, the governor recalls, the word got around that Billy was on the train and a bunch of the boys decided to have a lynching party. But they were forestalled.

Governor Otero's father, the first of the Miguel Antonio Oteros, made speeches to the mob in both English and Spanish, urging the men to be peaceable. The officer in charge of the men put a final quietus on the subject by telling the mob:

"These two men are my prisoners. Nobody's going to take them from me. Before I'll let them be taken, I'll arm them and turn them loose."

And that was the end of that!

GOVERNOR OTERO rode in the same seat with Billy from Las Vegas into Santa Fe and remembers the incident as well as if it were yesterday.

"The Kid," he recalls, "was very slight of frame and had unusually small hands and feet. (He made his escape from the Lincoln jail by slipping the handcuffs over his small hands). He also had unusually noticeable protruding teeth.

"I've always said, though," the governor told The Plainsman, "that 'Billy The Kid' was more sinned against than sinning."

Off and on for years there have been rumors going the rounds that the man Pat Garrett killed as "Billy The Kid," and who was buried as "Billy The Kid", wasn't "Billy The Kid" at all, but a dupe for the outlaw. The rumors go on to say that after the shooting and the burial, the real Billy fled to Old Mexico.

Every once-in-awhile it is whispered in the Southwest that the original "Billy The Kid" is living quietly somewhere, an old and broken man and the Amarillo News, less than two years ago, trotted out a one-eyed Mexican up in the Panhandle who babbled such a yarn.

Governor Otero says the rumor is not true. It's just another one of those recurring fables, he says, which frequently surround the deaths of such men as "The Kid," and John Wilkes Booth.

"I knew the man in whose house 'The Kid' was shot," the governor told The Plainsman. "I knew the Maxwell girl with whom he was in love. I knew the men who 'laid him out'—who prepared his body for burial. Pat Garrett killed 'Billy The Kid' and those rumors are false."

WHILE he was friendly to "Billy The Kid", whom he denies was "mean", Governor Otero does not criticize Sheriff Garrett for shooting Billy from ambush, when Billy was not wearing his guns.

"You or I would have done the same thing," says the governor. "Bill was a dangerous man, and Garrett didn't know whether he was armed or not."

Although Billy wasn't armed with a gun when he was shot, he did have a butcher knife in his hand, the governor says. "The Kid" had gone to the Silva house — not knowing the sheriff was hiding there — to get some meat from a calf that had been killed that day. He was sitting on a bed, the butcher knife in his hand, when Garrett "let him have it," is Governor Otero's story.

Governor Otero says beyond a doubt, "Billy The Kid" was the finest shot with a pistol that New Mexico ever saw.

"Shooting was natural with him," the governor recalls, "and he didn't shoot like most men. He simply pointed his gun, without sighting, and let go. And he didn't miss.

"'Billy The Kid' could shoot a bird or a rabbit with a pistol while riding along on a horse."

That is testimony of a man who knew "Billy The Kid" and who, as the author of a book about the outlaw, studied his career with great care.

NEW MEXICO is celebrating its quarto-centennial this year; has more than a hundred different celebrations planned — among them a re-enactment of the life of "Billy The Kid" at Old Lincoln next June. The state is doing all it can to attract its greatest tourist crop this summer and, no doubt, will be successful.

With all this in mind, it seems strange to The Plainsman that the New Mexican quarto-centennial people don't mark the road to the grave of "Billy The Kid" just east and south of the town of Fort Sumner.

The Plainsman dropped by to look at the grave just the other day and all but needed an Indian guide and a troop of Boy Scouts to find it.

Among New Mexico's tourists this summer will be hundreds of persons who will want to see the outlaw's grave and — if they can find it — they're going to be shocked at what they see.

The grave is located on a wind-swept knoll behind a vacant 'dobe store building, in a weed-grown cemetery filled with half-forgotten mounds.

The big, soft-textured white stone which marks the grave of "The Kid" has been whacked at and chiseled at by vandalistic visitors until much of the inscription has been cut away. The thin slice of cement covering the outlaw's mound is cracked and broken and by the time a few more simple-minded visitors work on the layout there'll be nothing left to see.

Incidentally, the stone marking Billy's grave, and a plot about 10 feet square lined off in concrete, also bears the names of two of the gunman's pals, Tom O'Folliard and Charlie Bowdre.

The pals, however, are not lying by the side of "Billy The Kid," as the visitors might suspect by reading the stone.

Governor Otero says they're buried in the same graveyard — but 'way on the other side of the grounds from where Billy lies.

Yesterday: Dawson is almost certain that Douglas killed Benthorne and Joey. Ara comes to plead for Douglas. She was in the passageway when Benthorne was killed, saw di Torio come out. She insists di Torio was the killer. Dawson agrees to spread the rumor that Ara also saw the killer, in an effort to make the murderer strike again.

CHAPTER XIX

A feeling of sincere admiration for this courageous girl swept over Dawson as he watched her leave. She knew that she might soon share Tony's fate, but he was sure she would meet it chin up and smiling. For the first time in her life she had found love—and now nothing else mattered.

She was so sure that Douglas was innocent that Dawson thought of searching his case against the youth for possible loopholes. But there were more important things at hand.

It would not be difficult to drop a few hints that Ara knew as much and possibly more than di Torio. A couple of questions, even a knowing nod, would tell all he wanted the others to know. Flynn and Krone were old hands at creating just this type of situation. Dawson stepped to the study door and called Flynn. The officer came into the room alomts immediately.

"Flynn, I want the others—Mrs. Benthorne, Alston and Douglas—to get the idea that Miss Johnson knows the identity of the person who killed Arnold Benthorne, and also that she saw Tony's murderer. You and Krone can manage that—"

Flynn nodded knowingly, and Dawson continued: "In the meantime release Douglas, and permit all of them to go about the house as before. But don't, under any conditions, let that girl out of your sight. You will be responsible for her safety. I believe this killer will try to get her out of the way, just as Joey was eliminated. It's your job to see that the attempt—if one is made—does not succeed. Keep your gun handy. Understand?"

"Sure, Captain. But supposing this girl did the killing herself," Flynn suggested. "Then who's going to take a shot at her?"

"We'll have to wait and see. In the meantime, keep your eyes on the girl."

Dawson pondered Flynn's suggestion, after his assistant had left. Could Ara have been the murderer? How about the others? Methodically, with the precision of a judge, the detective began to mentally weigh the evidence of the five named in Benthorne's note.

Ara. She had a motive—hate. She had admitted she came to the house determined to kill Benthorne, and only the untimely arrival of Mrs. Benthorne had prevented her. She might even have had the intention as she left the taxicab and returned to the passageway. Was it she, whom di Torio had seen as he peered around the doorway?

There was no argument in her favor—time. Dawson recalled Krone's report that he had started running toward the front of the house with the sound of Flynn's whistle, and had not yet reached the front of the house when he heard the shot. It was unlikely that Ara could have turned the corner in the cab, run to the passageway door, and made it to Benthorne's study—all in the same space of time that it took Krone to run around the house.

She was definitely in the cab when Flynn blew his whistle. She had to move quickly to make it inside the passageway, as she had said. No, time was a conclusive witness for Ara's innocence.

As to Mrs. Benthorne . . . She had been the first to reach the locked study door. Had she come down the front stairs, shot her husband, then hurried back upstairs again, giving Joey his chance to escape?

If she did not love Benthorne as much as she wanted Dawson to believe—and he was certain that she did not—was the discovery of Benthorne's daughter and the fear of the damage a scandal might do to her social position, and to her pride, sufficient motive for murder? Dawson wondered. Murders were committed for more insignificant reasons.

Then there was the second shooting. If Helen Benthorne had suspected Joey knew too much, could she have gone up the back stairs, crossed the hall to the head of the front stairway and shot Joey from there? She had been panting, as if she had been running. Dawson recalled, when they collided on the back steps.

Panting far more, he realized now, than if she had just run up the few steps from Jameson's quarters. But her shortness of breath might be attributed to excitement.

How about Alston? There was little love between him and his son-in-law. Granting that his heart was not as bad as he had suggested, Alston had had ample time to run from the back entry to the study in the interval between the time he left Krone and the firing of the shot. Then up the back steps, a pause on the landing and a slow descent down the front stairs.

But there was the problem of Joey again. Alston had taken at least two and possibly three sleeping pills. And two of those pills would make a Rip Van Winkle out of any man. The old man had been sound asleep when di Torio was killed.

It all came back to Douglas. Douglas with a motive, however old—the slaying of his uncle, "Big Red," and the theft of the mine. Douglas at the window; Douglas climbing in the window, threatening Benthorne, finally killing him.

What was it Joey had said he heard?

Douglas hiding in the hall after coming through the passageway. But he had said he didn't know about the entrance. . . .

Douglas listening in the study as Joey recounted what he had seen. Douglas shooting di Torio, dashing down the passageway to get rid of the gun and return to the study. Douglas—with mud on his shoes.

What about the blocked door? Had Douglas been inside the study while Flynn and Krone tried to break down the door? Dawson stepped to the door again, shouted: "Flynn, bring Douglas in here!"

* * *

"I'm giving you one last chance to give us your side of the story, Douglas," Dawson announced when the young man faced him. "I've been lenient with you—I haven't demanded too many explanations — and you've dont just as I expected you to do—talked yourself into a jam. Right now there are half a dozen

THE SUNDAY FUNERAL PROPOSITION

There was nothing callous in the decision of ministers and funeral directors of the city the other day to discourage as much as possible the conducting of Sunday funerals when they can be conveniently set for another day.

Large numbers of cities have ordinances forbidding such funerals. Most others discourage them.

One objection to Sunday funerals is that they occur on the busiest day of the week for most ministers. Another is that they add to the traffic hazards of the week-end—and those hazards already are too numerous, as evidenced by the tolls of dead and injured invariably listed in Monday newspapers. A third is that many people make necessary out-of-town trips during week-ends, thus making inconvenient or impossible their last tribute to someone who has passed on.

Of course, the rule is one to which exceptions must be made, but as a general proposition, Sunday funerals should be avoided as best for all concerned.

Census Is A Headache To Congress, Too, The Boys Don't Like Voting Their Jobs Aw

BY BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 7 — The Constitution says we take a census to find out how many congressional seats each state ought to have. It orders Congress to reapportion seats after each census.

But whatever interesting data the coming census reveals, it probably won't result in any reapportionment.

Congress hates reapportionment. It means that some members are likely to vote themselves out of jobs. Recognizing its own frailty, it passed in 1929 a law making reapportionment automatic.

Catton

According to the present law the President should have given Congress the census figures the first week of last January. But the census isn't even started yet. That's because the Lame Duck amendment shifted dates around since the law was passed.

Don't Expect Anything

It may make the law inoperative this year. Congress had plenty of warning, of course. Last year Senator Vandenberg got through the Senate a bill to set the dates right. But the House committee tabled it. Early this winter President Roosevelt got Representative Matthew Dunn of Pennsylvania to bring the bill out again, but it's still in committee, and the committee is unfavorable.

The bill's chances are not rosy. Of course the next Congress can take the 1940 census figures and reapportion on that basis. "They could—but would they?" asks Dunn grimly. He favors it.

Up to 1920, Congress always obeyed the Constitution and reapportioned every 10 years. But it did it simply by increasing the number of congressmen. To have done that in 1929 would have created a House of 520 members—too big.

So, since 1920 Congress has just forgotten about the Constitution. Even if the belated Vandenberg proposal is acted on now, reapportionment would not be effective until 1944—the amendment gives the states that long to do the necessary re-districting.

Direct Primary Dying Out

The direct primary is rapidly becoming a dead letter.

Once praised as a great reform that would let the rank and file have a say on presidential candidates instead of the party bosses, the direct primary is sidetracked. Not half a dozen genuine presidential primary fights are in sight in both parties.

In Wisconsin, voters get a choice between Dewey and Vandenberg; in Illinois, Dewey is all alone and there's Garner and a vague Roosevelt entry; New York, Dewey and Gannett; and New Jersey and Ohio may have a choice. That's about all.

Choice In 15 States

No state gives its voters a primary ballot with the names of all candidates. In Illinois, Democrats may pick Roosevelt or Garner, but what if they like McNutt or Hull? That's too bad. But even that choice is more than counts of sound, circumstantial evidence against you—and that's enough in this state. You'd better talk fast and tell the truth. Nothing else will do you any good.

"What about Ara?" Douglas queried, guardedly.

"She's in this as much as you are!" Dawson shot back. "She knows plenty. . . . And don't try any heroics—like lying to save the girl. You may only get her more involved."

Douglas studied the detective intently. Perhaps Dawson was right. If he told all he knew now, Ara might be protected. He looked straight into Dawson's cold, penetrating eyes, smiled, and asked: "What do you want to know?"

"Were you in this room before or after Benthorne was killed?"

"After—I climbed in the window a half minute after Benthorne's murderer closed the door!"

(To Be Continued)

During 1939, automobile dealers sold 40.29 per cent more new passenger cars than they did during 1938. The figures were 2,653,377 for 1939 as compared to 1,891,021 for 1938.

PHILANTHROPY IN BLOOM—Not even winters inclement weather kept Representative Sol Bloom of New York, from his daily philanthropy in Washington. As pictured above, he puts a new penny on the Capitol steps, where it will be seen and picked up by some passerby.

Firemen Have New Quarters

City firemen have completed the removal of equipment from the old space in the city hall to the newly completed $44,700 structure across the alley at Tenth street and Avenue J.

Ten years ago Chief W. E. Twitty drew plans for the building. It was erected with but one change—the architect said he could save the city money by placing the furnace room on the first floor, rather than in a basement.

Among Most Modern

The structure is one of the most modern anywhere; in fact, it has some distinctions not found anywhere, department members have been informed by salesmen for fire equipment supplies.

For instance, there are guards to prevent a sleepy fireman from stumbling in the darkness to a dangerous position above the hole used in sliding down the shiny brass rails. And the holes in the slab through which the rails extend are covered so that drafts will not be occasioned, or warm air from below spill into the second story rooms.

The lower floor has a large area for parking the six pieces of equipment and the chief's automobile. One section of this area is 74 feet long, or longer than any equipment now built. The chief incorporated that feature into his plans so that the city would be building "for the future," against the possibility Lubbock might decide to purchase heavier, longer fire-fighting equipment.

Also on the lower floor is an opening to a hose and practice tower; the boiler room; a recording room with its public address system enabling the operator on duty to summon firemen from all over the building and in the police station, and electric switches to operate the big automatic doors allowing the heavy equipment to leave or enter the building, and a large "garage" and machine repair room.

The upper floor, connected with the lower by concrete and steel stairway, is divided into a room set aside in the future for automatic fire signal equipment, but to be used until then as a reading room; the chief's office; a guest dormitory room; a 34x62 dormitory room that will accommodate 30 beds; a dressing room just off the modern shower compartment, and a "school room" that is lighted from windows suggesting a sun porch.

Two Trees Removed

Withal, the place is admirably equipped as to lighting and heating, and makes intelligent provision for other essentials of construction not only for the moment, but for the years ahead.

The facade is of gray model brick trimmed with gray cast stone.

Only two trees had to be removed from the park to make room for the building, said the chief.

Typing Expert Will Be Presented Here

Barney Stapert, former world's amateur typewriting champion who was featured at the New York World's fair, will demonstrate his typing skill in Lubbock Friday before students of Draughon's Business college and business administration students of Texas Technological college. Stapert is being brought to Lubbock through the cooperation of M. B. Hilburn of the Lubbock Printing company.

Stapert will demonstrate his typing ability before Texas Tech students at 9 a. m. and to Draughon's students at 10:15 o'clock.

Stapert's official record in the international typewriting contest held in Toronto, Canada, was 136 net five-stroke words a minute for one solid hour of typing. During the hour's grind, he struck 42,773 keys giving him an average of almost 12 keys for each of the 36,000 seconds.

During his demonstration on typing form, Stapert emphasizes finger rhythm on the keyboard, proper posture, concentration and the elimination of waste motion. While writing, he carries on a conversation and answers questions of different persons. His remarkable power of concentration enables him to recite the states of the Union and their capitals in less than a minute while writing at full speed.

He is a representative of the educational department of the Underwood Elliott Fisher company.

Pet Chinese Pheasant Proves Source Of Worry To Police

Unless a certain Chinese pheasant conducts itself somewhat more carefully, it is liable to get hurt.

Its antics already have worn the patience of loca' police just about threadbare, the most recent of several calls concerning it have been received today.

Several days ago it was discovered in the vicinity of the city hall. Several firemen and policemen participated in a pheasant chase, but to no purpose. Among other calls from various residential sections have been that boys were shooting at the bird with "nigger shooters" and that dogs were chasing it.

The latest of the calls was that it was dodging automobiles in the several blocks of Broadway approaching College avenue. One complaint was that a collision was narrowly averted when a driver swerved sharply to avoid hitting it.

Supposition of police is that the bird is a pet gone astray.

Cash Asked To Develop Royal Air For

Admiralty Is After Union

LONDON, March 7. (AP)—Confronted with the German innovation of night raids on shipping, Air Secretary Sir Kingsley Wood went before the House of Commons today to ask funds for developing the Royal Air Force, upon which both the admiralty and the army are casting covetous eyes.

The house, having disposed of the Palestine problem at least temporarily by voting 292 to 129 in favor of restricting Jewish land purchases, turned to hear Sir Kingsley recount the feats of his air force as an independent branch of the armed services.

Fight Has Been Waged

Behind a serene front of easy cooperation, a fierce fight has been waged to obtain what amounts to army and navy control of the RAF.

The air minister believes he has won his point over the army and is bracing himself against the admiralty's bid for a slice of the air force.

"Nothing in the progress of the war has shown that there is any reason for dividing the air force," Sir Kingsley said in an interview.

Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, wants the RAF coastal patrol placed under admiralty rule.

This force, assigned to ward off German raiders, acts in liaison with the navy, but opposes any closer union.

Its problems were extended last night when German planes made the first nocturnal raids of the war. Two German planes bombed and machine-gunned the 965-ton British tanker Sehibrit II, and a lightship off the Norfolk coast broadcast an SOS during a similar attack.

Annual Smoker For Men Students Held

Second annual smoker for members and pledges of the seven men's social clubs of Texas Technological college was held in Hilton hotel Wednesday night.

Main speakers of the evening were J. F. Findlay, dean of men at the University of Oklahoma, who was introduced by President Clifford B. Jones, of Texas Technological college, and Don Lesher, secretary of fraternity affairs at the University of Oklahoma. Lesher has had charge of the Annual Regional Inter-Fraternity conference which Tech delegates have attended for the past three years.

Dean Findlay was honored with a dinner preceding the smoker by members of Men's Inter-Club council and past presidents of men's social clubs.

After the speeches, James G. Allen, dean of men at Texas Technological college, spoke, giving recognition to outstanding club men on the campus and pledges of each club. He also awarded a scholarship plaque to the College club, the organization which had the highest scholastic average for the fall semester.

Dean Butler, president of the Men's Inter-Club council, had charge of the program and music was furnished by Bernie Howell at the organ. Receiving line was composed of Butler, Dean Findlay, President Jones, Dean James G. Allen, and Lesher.

Wheels Of Justice Turn Very Fast; Man Gets 18 Months

TOWSON, Md., March 7. (AP)—Arthur R. Harbaugh, 20, of York, Pa., saw the wheels of justice turning so fast today it made his head swim.

He was accused, indicted, arraigned, convicted, sentenced and sent to the state penitentiary—all in a little more than two hours.

Harbaugh, charged with bigamy, will have 18 months to think it over.

TEXAN IS CHOSEN

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 7 (AP)—John Ellis, 215-pound guard from Sherman, Tex., last night was elected captain of the Vanderbilt football team for 1940. Ellis is a senior.

DAUGHTER IS BORN

ROME, March 7. (AP)—A daughter was born last night to Signora Gina Ruberti Mussolini, wife of aviator Captain Bruno Mussolini, Il Duce's second son. The child, their first, was named Marina. The Bruno Mussolinis were married Oct. 29, 1938.

Man Who Robbed Aged Woman Is Married In A Jail Cell

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., March 7. (AP)—Walter A. Wiese, who confessed he robbed an aged invalid woman of $149 so he could have money to get married, was married today—in jail.

The ceremony was performed just before he was taken from the jail here to the state prison to begin serving a 10 years prison sentence. The bride was Milija Karvonen.
