Parade permit approved

It took two days, but the Colorado City Council Tuesday approved a request for a human rights "march" planned in Colorado City for Dec. 1.

Oscar Ortiz had asked the city for a parade permit, but because the length of the parade route will require extra expense in traffic control, City Manager Brenda Hammond presented the item to the council for approval.

A special meeting was called for Monday, but because a quorum of the council members was not present, the three who were in attendance considered the request and said they would recommend to the full council that the permit be granted. Monday's meeting was recessed until Tuesday at which time there was a quorum.

At Monday's meeting, Hammond estimated that the cost of the manpower to provide traffic control would be $850 with all eight police officers working as well as members of the volunteer fire department.

Mayor Jim Baum said the city's only concern is traffic control. "We don't expect any problems except traffic control," he said.

Ruben Sandoval, attorney representing the family of Sammy Gomez, was in attendance at Monday's meeting and said that the number of marchers could range from 250 on up, but added that "we can help police ourselves...we can designate people to work with the police officers."

The march is expected to last

Hospital reports heard

The Mitchell County Hospital District board of directors Tuesday heard reports from hospital administrator Jim Bullard and nursing home administrator Marsha Rickard.

The hospital district is nearing the end of its fiscal year, and Bullard noted that the district's finances have improved considerably in the last few months.

The board approved a resolution setting the stage for repaying $550,000 to City National Bank once tax monies start coming in in October.

A plaque of appreciation was presented by board chairman Marion Bassham to former board member Gus Armstrong, and a 10-year service pin was presented to Helen Payne, laundry department manager.

Board member Jay Craddock presented the ambulance service report and said that the service is considering a proposal by the hospital to take over the operations of the ambulance service. A formal proposal will be presented to the ambulance service committee and to the three entities - Mitchell County, City of Colorado City and the Hospital District - which help fund the service.

Craddock said the ambulance service had 32 runs in August with 111 year to date. The service showed a profit of $16,918 in August and a year-to-date profit of $14,712.

Hubbard wins football contest

The winners of the Record's Jackpot Football contest sponsored by local merchants for the weekend of Sept. 21-23 were, first place - Chip Hubbard, who missed four games; second place - Bob Standley, who also missed four games, yet Hubbard's prediction in the tie-breaker was closer; third place - Grace Rivera, who missed five games. Ten contestants also missed five games, but due to the tie-breaker, Rivera won.

Hubbard will be awarded $25 in football bucks, Standley - $15, and Rivera - $10.

This week's Jackpot Football contest can be found on page 6.

Industrial development program is presented

Members of the Colorado City Industrial Team, the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce and the Mitchell Board of Economic Development heard a proposal Monday morning detailing one way to possibly attract new industry to the area.

Lionel J. Nowotny, vice president of Private Database Systems, Inc. of Oklahoma City, told those present at the meeting hosted by the Industrial Team that member cities are exposed to companies who make site selections for manufacturing companies.

Nowotny said that many of the larger companies hire other firms (called engineering firms) to make site selections for new plants.

Nowotny said his company has a listing of the engineering firms and provides them with information about the member cities in order to find the best possible site. The cost per member city is $5,000 annually.

"Historically, engineering companies are very private about how they do their work," said Nowotny. "Engineering firms need a lot of sites over a year's time. Cities would love to be exposed to these companies, but can't get in the door."

He said member cities provide the data and that his company provides the data to the engineering firms.

"We promise the engineering firms their privacy," he said.

Private Database Systems provides a direct link between the cities and the engineering firms "and you deal with them one on one when they come to visit," he said.

In addition, the engineering from 1-5 p.m. and the route is some 40 blocks long - starting at the courthouse, going south on Oak Street to Second Street, east on Second to Hickory Street, north on Hickory to 17th Street, west on 17th to the Mitchell County Cemetery where Gomez is buried and then back south on Oak to the courthouse.

"We have demonstrated we can be orderly and non-violent," said Sandoval, referring to a previous march held in Colorado City.

Gomez was killed over two years ago in a police shooting. His family and members of the League of United Latin American Citizens have said Gomez was killed without cause and have repeatedly asked for a federal investigation. Two grand juries have failed to indict former police officer Billy Ray Williamson who shot Gomez who was being arrested as a suspect in a rape case.

The Gomez family has since filed a suit against the city and the police department as well as Hammond, Police Chief Bobby Sparks, Williamson and police officers Patrick Taylor and Tim Atkins. The suit alleges Gomez's civil rights were denied and charges the defendants with alleged murder, assault and battery and negligence.

Other council members present at Monday's meeting were Bob Reily and Eric White. They and Baum, as a committee, Tuesday recommended to the other council members - Rex Thackerson, Brian Bassham and Gary Redwine - that the permit be granted. Dee Hearn was not present. It takes four council members to be a quorum.

In other business, the council: - agreed to seal coat that part of Oak Street which is in need of repair following the installation of a new water line. Nobles Construction was awarded the bid for $22,560.

- approved an ordinance abandoning right of way at 140 West 10th Street;

- approved an ordinance setting charges for tires at the landfill.

A request from Pack Rack Container Co. to use the city's landfill was referred to committee for further study.

He said his company is concentrating on a 12-state region, and that only about 25 territories will be selected for membership.

Nowotny said his company is concentrating on cities with populations between 10,000 to 200,000, but said that Colorado City/Mitchell County "might compete well for certain size plants".

He said the interstate highway, the railroad, and Colorado City's proximity to Abilene, San Angelo, Midland, Odessa and Lubbock are all assets that many other towns don't have.

No action was taken on Nowotny's proposal, but Nowotny said he would be happy to meet again with them or provide additional information if needed.

Why have my carpet professionally cleaned?

Here's just two reasons:

FIRST, clean carpet lasts longer. Soil, dirt, and particulates in a carpet act like sandpaper upon carpet fibers. They pit the carpet, break down its resiliency, make it easier to stain. Cleaning the carpet extends the carpet investment.

SECOND, carpet filters dirt, grease, pollutants, bacteria, odors and allergens right out of the air. It's a collection center. All of these contribute to an unhealthy indoor environment. These can be removed through proper carpet cleaning.

Why wait any longer? Call the knowledgeable professionals at Pioneer Maintenance 728-5636

Negative attitude

TO THE EDITOR: Talk about foolish and stupid things that have been done in this town. The action of our Chamber of Commerce about selling drinks at the fair and other events is just one more example of the negative attitude of so many people here.

We can remember when we had a good fair worth going to every year. The last few years it's been "dying on the vine" as the saying goes, as it has gotten smaller and smaller with less and less competition in all categories.

Lack of competition does a lot of damage.

This negativism of a couple of groups here has already and is doing so much damage that one would think the Chamber of Commerce would want to promote good relations and help instead of hinder.

When there's a possibility that some of the needy, the sick, the handicapped and underprivileged children may be denied some things because of their actions, then it's time to do something.

Mammograms can help reduce death rates

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of every ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime during her lifetime. Every year over 37,000 women die as a result of breast cancer.

According to a spokesman from the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital in Odessa, Texas, "the death rate from breast cancer could be drastically reduced if women would have mammograms done before a problem exists." By using modern state of the art x-ray equipment, breast cancers can be found when they are about the size of a grain of rice and well before the cancer can be felt.

A woman who is diagnosed with breast cancer at this early stage has a 90%-97% survival rate.

However, a woman who is not diagnosed until a lump can be felt has approximately a 50% survival rate in five years.

In an effort to find cancers at the earliest possible stage and prevent unnecessary deaths, a mobile breast cancer detection unit will be made available to local women on Thursday, October 4th.

The mobile unit will be parked at Mitchell County Hospital, 1543

So it's Tuesday again and the sun is shining. I hope it stays out for two or three weeks at least. Maybe we'd get caught up.

Our roof started leaking last Thursday and kept it up as long as it rained. We think all the wind and water together caused it. We think this roof had never leaked, because when we came up here about 13 months ago, there was not a spot of any kind on the ceiling and then it started last week.

The lightning also got our TV and the water damaged our drapes in the living room so you see we need to get some warm, dry weather for a while.

Pray for patience for the Phillips, we have about run out.

Mrs. Allene Baird and friend Mrs. Tommie Butler of Big Spring visited Ida Baird on Tuesday and she returned with them and visited until Saturday.

Also here with them was Leona Hughes who visited her aunt, Mrs. Ella Walker.

Jimmie Jacks and Effie Wheeler spent the weekend in Waco visiting the James Jacks family.

James is Jimmie Jacks' son and Effie's grandson. I am sure most people who have been here a while remember James.

The other day a lady and two children stopped by to see if I was the "paper lady" and if so did I still want names and addresses of our service people.

We talked on a while and the young daughter asked if we might do the yellow ribbon thing. I told her I didn't see why not, it would be one thing we old fools, and children could help with and let our people know that we are behind them and are praying for their safe return. Those who don't come back might be near and dear to people in our town.

So if you are interested, just get your yellow ribbon and tie it where passers-by can see it. I don't know how alarmed you are but it really frightens me. I remember about the last two or three wars and a lot of Mitchell County folks do also.

I would like to have names of your friends and loved ones who have gone and those who are likely to go.

Jim Bob, you and I will get our game in one Friday. I hope we are correct this time. Be sure and bring Jennifer with you. This game is Loraine and Grady, Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Our junior high kids will play Hermleigh at 6 p.m. on Thursday on Bulldog Field. I am sure it will be a good game. This same group cleaned-up on Trent last week on their field. We'd like to have two victories this week so to all grandparents come out and root for your kids and his team. I am sure both sets of cheerleaders, cheering section and the band will make you glad you came.

Hollis Chandler will be buried in Snyder this afternoon. He is Irene Kidd's brother, the second one she has lost in a short while. He was in a hospital in Lubbock where he had undergone several surgeries. May God bless this family.

The Booster Club had a bake sale in downtown Loraine last Saturday in the rain but they made good money and that was the purpose of it. Thanks to everyone who bought or sold.

Saw Lela Bowles in the store on Saturday. She was here to visit her parents Ted and Lula Lefevre. I think she took them to Lubbock for a check-up. Anyway they are doing pretty good at this time.

Our school board, their wives and the superintendent and his wife were in Houston the weekend on school business. The Sanders also visited their daughter and family in Sweeny while they were gone. I was told all the trustees went except L. R. Webb and George Martin.

Kenneth and Juanice Butler are home after Kenneth spent time in the Mitchell County Hospital. Glad you are able to come home.

Homer and Gladys did not get out when the Butlers did. Homer has been real sick also with a chest congestion of some kind.

I have also been told that Bruce Hart is real sick also. Hope he is better at this time.

Saw Krystal Butler at the store this week helping her grandmother Juanice replenish the grocery supply.

We were glad to have our Marcie back last Sunday. She has been ill since vacation and now it is Bro. Brantley's turn. He is to spend three days with his doctor this week to find out if he has any problems. We sure do hope nothing is wrong.

The Brantleys are out of Sweetwater and are serving as our interim pastor and wife for the time being.

Charles and Mary Rose Bowe-- Jr. Green and I talked to your son on the fire phone Monday afternoon. He rang three times before we could hear each other. He wanted to confirm our mailing address here. I guess he is going to give us a bunch of money or a new truck or something nice. Anyway when we finally got a clear connection he told us who he was and who he belonged too, then got off the line in case someone needed it. Annie Bell may have been on the line also.

This son of the Bowens lives in California. I really don't know what he needed other than a confirmation on the address. I was glad I had met him so I could know who we were talking too.

My youngest grandson in Abilene plays ball for the 8th grade red team from Mann Middle School. I decided to look for their score Saturday morning as they play on Thursday night. Well, the print was so small it took me forever to find it. It was on two short lines and didn't even tell anything about it except who they played and the score and it was almost too blurred to read. I didn't learn much for my effort. Anyway Stace, I found your group.

I could not get a report on Judy Price as she and Sue are still in Louisiana as far as I can find out. Hope she is much better when she comes home.

The Lester Richburgs went to Weatherford last Sunday to visit their daughter and grandson Jana and Jon. It was Jon's birthday and they needed to see him so they just made a trip to Weatherford and had a delightful day.

Sheriff presents program to homemakers

The North Loraine Homemakers met at the Loraine Senior Citizen's Building at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, September 19 for a regular meeting. Veida Gage presided.

The club creed and prayer were recited in unison--the roll call was answered with "My Favorite Accessory."

During the business a review of fair obligations was given, and other reports made.

The program for the meeting was given by the Mitchell County Sheriff, Wendell Bryant. He spoke on Abuse of Women, Children and the elderly. The group was enlightened on the role of "Noah's Project" in Snyder. Even though some men are abused he said about 99% of those cared for at "Noah's Project" are abused women and children. He said his department has very few cases of abuse of the elderly.

Some detail was given on the way abuse cases are handled. The program was very informative and timely.

Billie Schroeder and Effie Wheeler served refreshments to the following members: Veida Gage, Nina Meadows, Darlene Hamrick, Jimmie Jacks, Eva Wells, Margaret Brame, Elaine McMichael and Mildred Rose and the guest, Sheriff Bryant.

Wolves face former district opponent Friday

The Colorado City Wolves will try to even out their football record at 2-2 on Friday night against an old district opponent, the Merkel Badgers. The Badgers should prove to be a worthy adversary, as the team is still looking for their first victory of the season with a 0-3 mark.

The Badgers return 10 lettermen - 2 offensive and 3 defensive. From the early outlook, this season will be another rebuilding season for Merkel as the club went a dismal 1-9 last season because of the slow start. So far, the Badgers have only scored 7 points in three games which does not even average out to be a field goal a game.

Although the Badgers are 0-3, the defense is not playing as bad as every one may believe. Merkel is only allowing a little more than 14 points a game while the Wolves' offense is averaging 14 points in what should be a defensive battle.

In the years past, the Wolves and Badger games have been too close for comfort. In 1988, the Wolves were reluctant to win by a score of 6-0, and last season, the Wolves won in the fourth quarter by a score of 15-13.

As the game approaches, Coach Tom Ramsey is hoping that the Wolves can utilize the Wolf passing attack in Friday night's game. "We need our passing game to get going like we had against Ballinger." He added, "Because we'll need it (the passing game) for district play."

For the defense of the Wolves, "We can't allow the big play," stated Coach Ramsey. If one recalls, the Tigers had one play for 90 yards which resulted in a TD, a 36 yard TD pass in which a Tiger got behind the secondary of the Wolves, and on a couple of third down and long situations, the Wolves gave up the first down on the big play.

If the Wolves can put up one game of consistency, the Wolves just might indeed, have their own blow-out against the Badgers.

CMS squad competes in tourney

The Colorado Middle School 8th grade volleyball girls traveled to Big Spring, Saturday, September 22, for the Runnels Volleyball Tournament. There were eight teams entered from Snyder, Sweetwater, Andrews, Runnels, Monahans, Pecos, Brownfield, and Colorado City.

Colorado City played Snyder for their first game and won with the scores with 15-11, 15-13. High point servers were Christina Mendoza with 9 in match one, and Emma Molina had 5 points in match two. Also playing well in the victory were Kamie Lamb who had good hits, Bethany Bridgford and Jeanette Ceballos set well.

Andrews was the next team the Lady Wolves faced which turned out to be an excellent game as the Mustangs won 16-18, 11-15. Each team had good passes, sets, hits, and serves as the Lady Wolves just made a few more errors. Lamb served for 9 points in match one and Mendoza had 5 in match two.

Hits by Mendoza, Lamb, and Misty Hall kept the Lady Wolves in the match, as did good sets by Bridgford, Ceballos, and Alvarez. "All the girls did a great job," commented Coach Linda Mathis.

With the loss, the Lady Wolves were in the game for third place against the Monahans Lobos. The game took three matches as the Lobos won 13-15, 16-14, 4-15.

"Our girls played well and I'm proud of them," said Coach Mathis, "we tried to use all the skills of volleyball such as passing, finger tip setting, hitting, and over-hand serves."

CMS teams win 3 out of 4 matches

The Colorado Middle School Lady Wolves played the Sweetwater Mustangs on September 24 in four games of volleyball in which the Lady Wolves came home with three victories out of four.

In the 7th B game, the Lady Wolves won 15-8, 15-8 as Kim Russell recorded 8 points in the first match, and Adria Rivera had 11 in match two.

The 7th A-team were not as fortunate as the Mustangs won in two matches; 11-15, 4-15. Shelly Galey was high point in match one with 5 points while Betsy Myers had half of the points in match two.

In match two of the 8th B-team, Cretia Carpenter had 12 points in the 15-2 romp in match one, while Lori Dockrey came up with 9 points in game two as the Lady Wolves won 15-13.

The 8th grade A-team virtually no problem with the Mustangs as Amanda Alvarez had 7 points to aid in the first match, 15-1. In match two, the Lady Wolves won by a closer margin of victory, 15-10 with Christina Mendoza and Nikia Jackson having 8 points each.

Bulldogs fall 48-0 to state-ranked team

On Friday night, September 21, the Loraine Bulldogs suffered their third loss of the season to state-ranked Aspermont by a score of 48-0.

Aspermont has been playing consistent football all season and Friday was no exception as they gathered 300 yards of offense in the first half, while the Bulldogs are still founding it difficult to get a ground game going as the Bulldogs only had 77 yards of total offense, "we have to get a ground game going," said Coach Bob Loy. Yet, the Bulldogs are suffering on the defensive side of the ball as the defense had 26 tackles against Aspermont.

The Bulldogs have been playing inconsistently, but Coach Loy feels his football players are going into the games with a healthy attitude, "we have a lot of talent and ability, the attitude is great game after game."

The Bulldogs will host Grady Friday as Grady is coming off a victory over the Ira Bulldogs by a score of 22-12. Game time for the Bulldogs will be at 7:30 p.m. in Loraine.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00 + $4.50 S & H.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

While there they went to the Allen High School football game.

Sarah Cocke, J. D.'s granddaughter performed at halftime with the high school drill team.

After leaving Allen, J. D. and Mary went to Talco to visit J. D.'s sister that lives there.

Then the Igleharts returned home for a few days before leaving from Roswell, New Mexico to visit with Mr. Pierce Humble who is Mary's brother. Mary and J. D. say they had a great time, but it's good to be home.

Medina apple growers bring new life to town

(MEDINA)--Texas apples have not only brought new life to your community, they also promise golden, delicious opportunities for the agricultural economy of our state," Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said here.

Hightower made the remarks during the opening ceremony of the third annual Texas International Apple Festival, which last year drew a crowd of over 20,000 for the one-day event.

"I am proud to stand before Hill Country apple growers here and salute you as modern-day pioneers of Texas agriculture," Hightower said. "You are the people who are out there doing the hard work it takes to widen and deepen our state's agricultural economy. Your perseverance and commitment to building a Texas apple industry shows the same kind of entrepreneurial spirit that launched cattle, cotton, citrus and other major agricultural commodities in this state over the last century."

"Like those early agricultural entrepreneurs, you have been willing to take risks and to try new approaches. By using an organic growth regulator produced right here in Medina, Texas, you are also proving to be pioneers not only in buiding a new industry, but in adopting innovative, environmentally sound agricultural practices."

"The men and women of the Texas Department of Agriculture have been privileged to work alongside you these last few years, believing you are the best hope for a more diversified and profitable agricultural economy in our state," Hightower said.

"As a result of your hard work, the apple industry is blossoming in Texas. Apple orchards are sprouting up across the state, from Alpine to Wharton."

"Here in Medina, the apple industry has given local residents new hope for a brighter economic future. This is the kind of development our state needs to regenerate our rural economy," Hightower said.

Genie Strickland, Apple Festival coordinator, says the apple industry has turned around the Medina economy.

"I can't tell you what a dramatic rebirth our town has experienced since the first apple tree was planted here in 1984," said Strickland. "We were a dying ranching and farming community, and most of the town was boarded up. Since 1984, six new businesses have opened up, which is a pretty dramatic turnaround for a town with a population of 250. The whole community has caught 'apple fever.' My family has been here for over 100 years, and after leaving for 20 years, I have been able to come back and make a living."

Strickland says that between July 1989 and July 1990, 150,000 apple trees were planted within a 150-mile radius of Medina, which has been dubbed "The Apple Capital of Texas." Apple tree acreage is expected to at least triple in the next five years, from a little over 700 acres to nearly 2,000 acres.

"By 1995, we hope to have 1.2 million apple trees planted," Strickland said. "We will be able to set our own price for whatever we can produce, because our apples will be harvested earlier than in anyplace else in the United States. We're already seeing phenomenal interest in Texas apples just in this state alone."

Through the newly formed Texas Apple Marketing Cooperative, apple producers in South Texas and the Hill Country will be able to process and market what they grow directly to grocery chains and other retail and wholesale buyers throughout the state. Several grocery chains, including H-E-B and AppleTree, have already expressed interest in buying all the apples the co-op can produce.

"This marketing co-op is one of 15 that TDA has helped Texas producers establish as a way to increase their profits through direct sales," said Hightower. "The one-two punch of selling a new crop directly to retailers should really help these producers make a good profit and get the apple industry off the ground."

"Texans are beginning to discover a sweet secret: Some of the best-tasting apple varieties can be grown right here in our back yard. They're sweeter, and they're fresh off the tree at a time when last year's crop is still being shipped from storehouses in traditional growing areas in the East, Midwest and Pacific Northwest. The first local Mollie's Delicious, Winesaps, and Hollands are off the trees by July 15, and harvest is over in most places by late August or early September. Our climate is also better for some more exotic apple varieties, like Fuji and Jonagold.

"One of the biggest barriers to the success of the apple industry may be that these apples don't have the deep red colors we've been taught to associate with apple quality. But once consumers learn otherwise, they'll discover that the beauty of these apples is not only skin deep. It goes all the way to the core."

"The word is beginning to get out to consumers that the prettiest piece of produce isn't always the sweetest, the freshest, or the best choice."
