New Pastors For Four Churches

Four Methodist Churches in Mitchell County have new pastors.

Westbrook Methodist, Loraine Methodist, Dunn Methodist and Buford Methodist all have new pastors as assigned Friday at the conference of the Northwest Texas Methodist Church Conference.

Rev. Larry Lee Sullivan will replace Rev. Thomas Hatcher at the Westbrook Church, Hatcher becomes the pastor at the Cec Vee Methodist Church near Childress.

Assigned to the Dunn and Buford churches was Rev. Luther J. Helm. He comes to the churches from Park View in Brownfield and replaces Rev. Bob McMillan.

Rev. Frank Story comes to the Loraine post from Silverton. He replaces Rev. Merrick H. Abbott, who has been at

Following is the text of her winning essay:

"Four score and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation — conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal." These were the memorable words of President Lincoln, four score and eight years ago at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. Contrary to his prediction, the world has not done what we did and said there, and it has noted also that our "government of the people, by the people, and for the people," has not perished.

"Why, then, haven't we, the people, our government, and our way of life fallen? Why is it that the dreams of Americans have not been dreamed in vain, that they have not joined the multitude of other men's dreams that vanished into dust, like the men from whom they came? How did we rebel with success against England and establish a way of life that won the respect and envy of the world, while countless other nations have rebelled and succeeded, only to fail in their independence, and be brought under the yoke of an oppres-

ON LAKE CONTRACT

City, Texas Electric Near Agreement

Mayor Glenn R. (Bob) Robinson told City Council in its Special meeting Thursday night that progress had been made between Texas Electric Service Co. and the city concerning a contract on Champion Creek Lake.

Robinson, City Manager Earl Keaton and Beeman Fisher, newly elected president of the utility company, were in conference last week for about 4 hours discussing the contract.

Robinson reported that the following points had been unofficially agreed upon in the conference:

The minimum cost to the city would be $22,000 for the first year, $24,000 for the next 2 years and $25,000 each year thereafter.

A franchise of 30 years under the contract.

The city would regulate the use of the recreation area by the public except for the portion reserved by the plant.

The city and the company to have the expense of construction of a park fence at the site.

An initial 5-year lease on the lake park and then a year-by-year renewal. (The same as the contract on the park at Lake Colorado City.)

That the 32.19 acre park was to be used for recreational purposes only.

The city could not sell water outside its corporate limits unless okayed by Texas Electric — except treated water to those presently pur-

City Changes Tornado Alert

Colorado City has a new warning signal in the event of a tornado.

The new signal will be a 1-minute sustained blast by the city's fire whistle followed by a short 15-second blast.

The change was made by city officials this week following the confusion caused recently when the siren stuck during a heavy rain. The sustained blast was caused by a wet relay in the warning system, but, nevertheless, sent many residents scampering to storm shelters.

There will be no change in the siren fire alert whistles, for Colorado City Fire Department, city officials reported.

Savings Seen On Water Work Cost

City Council Thursday night authorized City Manager Earl Keaton to advertise for bids on the city's water department improvement project and signed a new 5-year rural fire fighting contract with Mitchell County.

The special session was called in City Hall to allow the immediate advertisement for the bids on the water project. The Council's next, regularly scheduled meeting is Monday, June 12.

The motion to advertise for the bids was made by Dr. John H. Chinn and seconded by Martin Weaver.

Clarence Cooper, Lubbock engineer hired by the city, stated that his firm would send out plans and specifications on the project Monday. The bids will be opened and the contract let at a Council meeting Friday, June 23.

Cooper told the Council that the present was the best time in the last 4 years for this type of project. "I think you will get some darn good prices," he noted.

Cooper estimated the contract figure for the improvements would be approximately $310,000 or "maybe less." Bonds totaling $385,000 were voted for the project.

The work will include additional storage at the city's filter plant southwest of the city and the laying of additional lines from Lake Colorado City into the city limits.

The engineer estimated that actual work on the project would begin within 20 days following the letting of the contract — or about the second week of July. Completion deadline will be April 1, 1962, but should be earlier, Cooper commented.

All bids must be in before 2 p. m. on the 23rd.

Cooper explained to the city body that each bidder would specify the type of pipe to be used under each bid, they could bid 2 or 3 ways, just as long as the bid is on approved pipe, he stated.

The engineer estimated a large number of bids on the project. "I expect a lot of bids," he said, "probably over 10 and maybe as many as 16 or 17."

Cooper explained that he had looked into the problem of drainage on 10th Street as far back as 1943. The statement was made in a reply to a question by Sam L. (Buzz) Majors, Jr. concerning the problem.

"Storm sewers are 'very expensive' Cooper told H. I. See COUNCIL, pg. 7

RHYME WINNER

Cash Prize Goes to Mrs. Barry

Plenty of persons are missing a chance for extra cash. There's $10 every week to be given away free in the Record's special Ad-Rime jingle writing contest.

And while some citizens are hesitant to enter their rhyming jingles, others are grabbing the prizes more than once.

Mrs. T. P. Barry, realtor at 144 E. Eighth St., is one of those who likes the contest and the prize money, too. She won early in the weekly series and repeated this week for her second $10 award.

Her shop-at-home theme in the winning rhyme was:

"Local merchants merit trade,

"They have the best, the highest grade."

In No. 2 place was another Ad-Rime enthusiast, Joe Earnest, who also has won the top cash prize in other weeks. His runner-up jingle advises:

"Local merchants merit trade;

"Don't spend your coin in 'foreign aid.'"

In third place was Mrs. Evelyn C. Smith, housewife at 919 E. 13th St., with this timely rhyme:

"Local merchants merit trade,

"Let's buy at home; that's how cities are made."

Fourth in this week's contest was Mrs. H. E. Wallingsford of Loraine's Route 2. She wrote:

"Local merchants merit trade,

"Spend your 'dough' at home and a town is made,"

IT'S OFFICIAL

Blakley Big Choice Of County's Voters

It's official, William (Bill) Blakley carried Mitchell County in the Saturday runoff election to fill the unexpired U. S. Senate term of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Conservation Democrat Blakley defeated Republican John G. Tower by almost a 3-to-1 margin in the county as only 1,310 county voters went to the polls.

Blakley, although he was defeated by Tower over the state by about 10,000 votes, polled 924 of the county total while Tower amassed only 384.

Mitchell County Commissioners made the figures official Friday morning in a canvass of the ballots.

U. S. Rep. Jim Wright, who carried this county in the April 4 special primary, received 1 write-in vote. Wright led the county in April over approximately 65 other candidates with 508 of 1,467. Blakley ran second and Tower third.

The Saturday vote was 1 of the lightest in recent years in the county. Only 1,310 voted.

E. S. Redwine Dies Here at Home of Son

Funeral services for Edward Samuel Redwine, 73, were held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Methodist Church in Sidney.

Redwine died, apparently a victim of a heart attack, at the home of his son, Heston Redwine, early Thursday night. The Redwine home is 8 miles southeast of Colorado City.

The retired farmer was discovered by his son and family just before 10 p. m. when they returned from a Little League ballgame in Colorado City.

Redwine, a member of the Sidney Methodist Church, had made his home here with his son for the past 2 months. He had formerly lived in Sidney and Winters.

AT BASEBALL PARK

Concession Stand Entered by Thieves

Bold thieves struck the second time in 3 days at the Little League baseball park concession stand in Ruddick Park Friday.

Friday's entry was made sometime between 12:30 p. m. and 2:45 p. m. The same concession stand was also entered about 10:30 p. m. Wednesday night.

Entry both times was gained through the rear and only door to the stand.

Friday's bold burglars apparently kicked in the door, tearing its inside hinges from their position in the wall. Wednesday the door was entered by twisting off the lock secured latch on the outside.

Police reported that an attempt had been made Friday to rip off the latch, but was unsuccessful due to a newer, stronger one installed since Wednesday's crime.

H. C. Blocker, custodian of the Little League playing field and area, discovered the break-in. He left the park at 12:30 Friday and discovered the second entry upon his return just before 3 o'clock.

The first burglars reloaded in only some chewing gum to parted stolen to police. (See main part left in the school Monday.)

made off with 3 1/2 dozen packages of hot dogs, several packages of hot dog buns, 3 20-package cartons of chewing gum and an undetermined amount of other candy, potato chips, corn chips and gum.

The cases are being investigated by Colorado City Police Department and the Mitchell County Sheriff's department.

Frank Motor Co., 245 Chestnut St., reported Friday the theft of several articles from its used car lot.

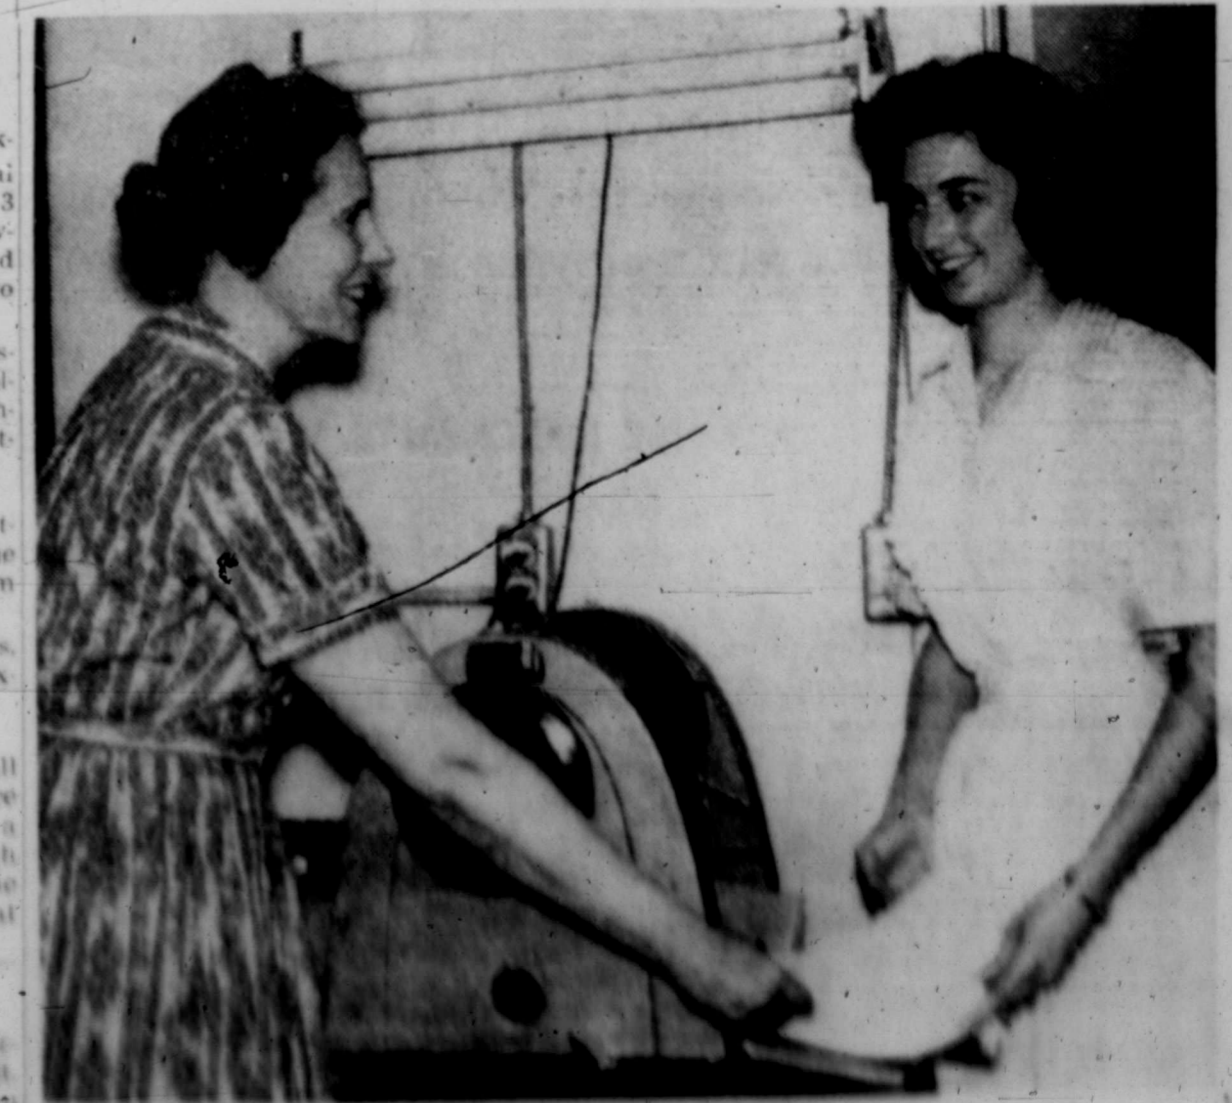

Missing were 2 used tires, 1 battery, inside auto light fixtures and 5 hub caps.

Frank Neal, 715 Marshall St., reported to city police Friday at 6:23 a. m. that a rock had been thrown through the picture window in the front of his residence at that address.

MONDAY THROUGH THURSDAY

Chamber of Commerce Membership Drive Opens

"It Takes 2 — Your Chamber of Commerce and You," says Dr. Seth E. Cowan, president of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce.

That is the theme of the Chamber's membership drive which opens here Monday and continues Thursday.

Cowan made a personal appeal to more than 150 prospects for Chamber membership Friday with a letter which stated:

"Let's look at the facts. As much as we hate to say it, Colorado City has not grown and prospered in recent years as we would have liked. You and I cannot prosper in a town with declining population and income."

The Chamber of Commerce is dedicated to getting Colorado City going forward. Now is the time that we must build together. A Chamber of Commerce is a vital part of any town's progress. Now before it's too late, let's get together and build a greater Colorado City."

The 4-day drive, which opens at 8 a. m. Monday, is being conducted by the Membership Committee of the local Chamber under the direction of Cowan and Chamber Manager Dick Kendall. Paul Boyd Hunter, Membership Committee chairman, is spearheading the drive.

Committee members Dr. Kenneth Cowan, Mrs. Morris Kirschbaum, Bob Katoff, Mrs. Lena Poeter, Byron L. (Barney) Wren and Evelyn Kelley will captain the 4 teams of drive workers.

Chamber members working on the teams are R. J. Hoback, James Boyd, Leonard Henderson, Jeff Taylor, Bob Hyatt, Henry Lewis, Bob Carter, Arlene Morris, James Dink, Ralph Lee, Joe Hamm and H. I. Bettman.

The campaign workers have conducted a "week in review" campaign in an effort to "sell" the Chamber's plan to build a better Colorado City.

Colorado City.

The pre-drive campaign was aimed at the some 150 prospects for membership — many of which are past members of the organization. The Chamber's present membership "blueprint" the goals of which are past membership is approximately 250.

We think membership in the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce is a bargain for all businessmen, chairman Hunter said, because of what the Chamber is.

"It is the only organization in Colorado City organized solely for the purpose of making this community a better place in which to live and make a living. The Chamber is dedicated to moving Colorado City ahead."

It is a reputable reputation working for the entire city and a salesman selling Colorado City as an ideal location for business, investment and pleasure. See CHAMBER, pg. 8

Double-Ring Rites Unite Loraine Couple in Marriage

Following a honeymoon trip to New Mexico and points west, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Owen will reside in Loraine. The couple was married Saturday night in Loraine First Methodist Church.

The bride, formerly Miss Teena White, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. White of Loraine. Owen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlie Owen, also of Loraine.

Rev. Merrill Abbott, pastor of the church, read the double-ring rites before an arch covered with greenery and decorated with a white satin bow. The arch was flanked by seven-branch candelabra and baskets of stock and gladiolus.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Gilda Cary at the organ and Miss Glenda Richard, who sang three selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of chantilly lace with an over-skirt of brocade satin, fashioned with long sleeves pointed over the wrists and a scalloped neckline. Her veil of illusion was attached to a pearl crown and her bridal bouquet consisted of an arrangement of white and red roses.

Maid of honor, Miss Gail Liles of Loraine, wore a dress of ice cotton satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and bell skirt. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Bridesmaids were Misses Barbara Mahon, Katrina Wells, Carla Britton, all of Loraine, and Linda Oliver of Midland, and Janie Martin of Abilene.

They wore dresses designed identical to that of the maid of honor and each carried one long stem rose.

Candlelighters were Lynn Emfinger, niece of the bride, and Gaye Green, cousin of the bridegroom.

David Redwine, cousin of the bride, served as best man. Groomsman were Tommy Ferguson, Winters; and Billy J. Long, Gary Parnell and Larry Young, all of Loraine.

Ushers were Don Redwine, cousin of the bride, and Gerald Owen, brother of the groom.

A reception was conducted immediately following the wedding in fellowship hall of the church. Decorations consisted of the bridesmaid's roses and the maid of honor's bouquet.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Garlin E. Emfinger, Mrs. C. A. Hughes Jr., Mrs. William Chappell and Mrs. Gene Britton.

The bride wore a beige dress with basque waist and a full skirt for her going-away ensemble. Bone shoes and purse and orange hat and gloves completed the costume.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Loraine High School. The groom is a 1959 graduate of L.H.S. and is a junior at Tarleton State College.

Out-of-town guests attended from Dallas, Midland, Seminole, Sweetwater, Lovington, N. M., Colorado City, Roscoe and Lubbock.

Conservation Work Mapped in County

Cooperators in the Mitchell County Soil Conservation District have recently been assisted by Soil Conservation Service technicians in carrying out numerous conservation practices planned in their Basic Conservation Plans and Great Plains Conservation Program contracts, reports A. V. Sheppard, head of the county office in Colorado City.

G. W. Geiger of the China Grove community is seeding 26 acres of blue panicum and weeping lovegrass as one phase of his conservation cropping system under a GPCP contract.

Floyd Merket, also of China Grove, plans to construct a system of new level ridge type terraces which will help control erosion and better utilize the rainfall on his grain land.

J. C. Hale is constructing a level terrace system on his farm south of Colorado City. Travis Branch, who operates part of the Wallace Estate, south of Loraine, has recently constructed 27 miles of level terraces and one mile of diversion terrace under his GPCP contract.

Several district cooperators, including J. M. Sterling, L. S. Girvin, Jr., Howell Mayse and R. C. Womack have recently used aerial sprays to control mesquite and reduce the competition suffered by grasses for our limited moisture supply.

Others who plan to use the aerial spray method of brush control are Lance Sears, O. A. Ruffin, Francis Winn, I. L. Elwood and Spade Ranch. Cane bluestem is coming up the waterway seeded on the E. B. Hale farm. Grass seeded in waterways prevents erosion and may become a valuable source of hay, pasture or grass seed after a good stand is established.

T. L. McKenney of Westbrook and Charles (Buster) Stevens of the Carr community have recently constructed farm ponds on their places to get better distribution of livestock grazing on their rangeland.

Talk

By PEGGY BELVIN

That great American custom, the "coffee break" is very much in practice in our fair city.

The leisurely 15 minutes (for common employee), 25 minutes (for department head, manager or editor) or 45 minutes (for boss) are priceless as a busy morning or afternoon pick-up.

The gab session over a steaming cup which is universally known as the "coffee break" has a magnified importance in the businessman's life. There is the story told of one businessman who skipped his vacation because he couldn't bear to miss his coffee-breaks.

This week I hid behind an old edition of The Record to inconspicuously observe the coffee-drinking habits of some of Colorado City's businessmen (?).

Of course, the first two persons who entered were none other than our own TAYLOR-MADE and Chamber of Commerce manager, DICK KENDALL.

These 2 at coffee is one of the most rewarding and most humorous escapades this writer has witnessed in a long time.

It seems that KENDALL hadn't eaten in some while, because he immediately began to devour everything in sight, including the ice in his water glass, while TAYLOR-MADE very unsanitarily stirred his coffee with his thumb.

It is amazing to witness to what lengths these 2 will go to get out of paying for coffee. They asked an unprejudiced witness to write a number on a slip of paper, and then they both took one crack at trying to guess the number. The unlucky one who was farthest off the track ended up with the bill. But I am sure they both have legitimate reasons for being tight with their coffee money.

To illustrate just how popular this coffee-drinking custom is, we asked BERTHA IGLEHART, of the Baker Hotel staff to fill us in on some details. Bertha informed us that there are approximately 42 pounds, or 200 gallons, of coffee, 10 quarts of cream and 35 pounds of sugar consumed by the approximate 1800 coffee-drinkers who visit the COLORADO ROOM each week.

This writer can imagine the badgering that comes out of the unlucky guessers who pay for those 200 gallons!

Miss Shirley Mashburn Wed to Skeet Dunn in Church Rites

MRS. HUBERT (SKEET) DUNN nee Shirley Mashburn

Calvary Baptist Church in Henderson was the setting Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Shirley Ann Mashburn to Hubert (Skeet) Dunn.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.R. Mashburn, 1304 Price St., Henderson, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Dunn, Rt. 1, Colorado City.

Rev. Chester L. Guinn, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony before an altar of greenery and white flowers surrounded by two baskets of white gladioli and two seven-branched candelabra. Centering the arch on white satin ribbon were names of the bride and groom in gold letters. Family places were designated by fluffy white satin bows.

Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Joe Kersh of Troup, soloist, who sang "Always," "Because," "The Lord's Prayer" and the traditional Lohengrin and Mendelssohn. She was accompanied by Miss Reed of Henderson, pianist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown in colonial style of white bridal satin and French chantilly lace. It was designed with scalloped neck sleeves with scalloped points over the hands. Sleeves and back closed with tiny satin covered buttons.

The full-length sweeping skirt was fashioned with white bustles of bridal satin with underskirts flowing from the bustles to the floor of chantilly lace and tapering in the back into a long lace train. The back waist was completed with a large bustle.

The bridal crown was studded with pearls and iridescent sequins and an elbow flowing veil of bridal illusion. The bride's gown is of original design and completion of the bride and her mother.

Bridal bouquet consisted of white frenced carnations with white tulle and satin streamers with lovers knots on a white Bible.

Miss Kay Herrington of Henderson was honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Miss Joyce Williams of Lufkin and Miss Virginia White of Henderson. They were attired in identical ensembles created from crisp crystal silk in a soft sky blue color. Dresses were designed with full skirts and rounded necks. Hats and satin shoes completed their attire. They carried nosegays of white pompoms accented with blue ribbon.

Flower girl was Miss Robin Nail, cousin of the bridegroom, of Rt. 1, Colorado City. She carried a white basket with blue ribbons.

Miss Kay Hendley of Taylor and Miss Carolyn Smith of Henderson were candlelighters. They were dressed identical to other bridal attendants.

Serving the groom as best man was Teddy Taylor of San Antonio. Groomsmen were Williams Ashby of Henderson and Larry Nirth of Houston. Ushers were Arthur Rousseau of Henderson and Hubert Williams of Lufkin.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mashburn wore a blue lace dress with matching hat and white accessories. Her white shoulder corsage was of carnations. Mother of the groom, Mrs. Dunn, wore a blue lace jacket dress with white accessories and shoulder corsage of white carnations.

The reception, which followed the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, carried out the blue and white theme. Table was laid in white linen and was arranged of blue and white with two candles and wedding bells, and a dish of mints. The triple-decked wedding cake and punch were served by Mrs. James Holland and Mrs. Neal Rogers, both of Henderson.

Miss Beth Barrett presided at the registering table, which was covered with white net and centered with a floral arrangement and bridal book.

For a wedding trip to Galveston and back to western parts of the state, the bride chose a blue silk linen box suit with flowered silk blouse with matching lining. She wore a matching hat, patent accessories and white gloves. Her going-away corsage was of white carnations.

The couple will reside at 5225 19th St. in Lubbock.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of Henderson High School and attended Kilgore Jr. College and graduated from Tyler Commercial College with a major in business administration. She has been employed for the past year by the People's National Bank in Tyler.

The groom is a 1959 graduate of Snyder High School and was graduated from Tyler Commercial Electronics College and is a first class licensed technician. He is now attending school at Texas Technological College in Lubbock and is working on his degree in Electrical Engineering.

By The Way...

By PAULINE CORNUTT

June came in bright and sunny Thursday and it looks like it's going to be that way all month.

This hot weather doesn't seem to agree with everyone but then, most C. Citians have been sitting in front of their air conditioners all week.

A number of people are still hoping for more rain but the weather situation is so unpredictable... we might get more... and we might not.

Everyone is starting to take an interest in summer sports and recreation. Most weekdays and every Saturday and Sunday, the lake is swamped with numerous boats, water skiers, swimmers and of course... fishermen.

The local swimming pool at the park opened recently along with the Baker pool. Working people now have the opportunity to swim too, because the pools are keeping pretty late hours this year.

Those who like the outdoor games are enjoying golf carts and miniature golf this summer. The only drive-in movie in town is now open for the summer months.

Everyone should really make an effort to get out and enjoy themselves this summer. There are plenty of things here to do for pastime and recreation and you don't have to look far to find them. Summer is the best time of the year to take part in sports... we may need some type of recreation to make us forget about the heat—it looks like it's going to be a long, hot summer!

Speaking of June, this is not only the month of recreation, but for an entirely different kind of "game"—the marrying one.

If you haven't got your good suit pressed... you better watch out... because you're bound to get an invitation to at least one wedding before the month is over.

We're told it's this way every year about this time because every girl wants a June wedding.

Anyway, I think it would be safe if you fellows sort of watch your step... these girls mean business.

Guests of Hodges

Son Alton Hodges and family of Odessa, daughter Mrs. Jack Biggs and family from Lake Jackson and son Bennie Ray Hodges and family of Lake Jackson were here as guests of their parents. All are graduates of this high school.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Earl Golding, the prolific outdoors writer from Waco, makes some interesting observations.

The News-Tribune columnist, who also writes for the Austin Statesman, notes that there seems to be a "pattern" of lake fishing, employed by anglers fishing the different lakes in Texas.

Once you stop to think a bout it, fishing styles do follow a trend and these tendencies vary in different sections of the state. Lake Travis fishermen, for example, employ methods quite unlike those used on Falcon. Fishing on Lake Belton differs from that on either Travis or Falcon.

Earl's research reveals that fishermen from the same town often fish alike. They sort of have their own trade mark.

It's very likely a case of "follow the leader" — or copying the ideas of the most successful anglers. Exhibit "A" could well be the fast growing popularity of jig and reel fishing on Lake Buchanan.

for example. When a certain type of lure, or a certain type of gear, or a certain method of taking fish from their habitat "clicks" with an angler, he's likely to stick with it religiously. Only person who can change that pattern is a more successful fisherman.

That's when styles change, that's when even the better fishermen adopt a new method. And if it does prove more productive — mhm, most everybody switches to it — whatever it may be.

Golding's studies of the various fishermen, their habits, like and dislikes, and their method of fishing, enables him to tell where an angler usually fishes.

If you meet a tall fellow sitting atop his gasoline powered outboard motor and working his troll motor with his foot — he's a Lake Austin fisherman. This motor-riding procedure is an Austin trademark. See a fellow with a cushion on his big outboard riding it like a saddle, and you can figure he stands a mighty good chance of being from the capitol city.

On Belton, if you see a spin fisherman, you can almost be sure he's from Temple, as Temple is about the only town around the lake with an abundance of spinners. Most of the other boys are strictly casters.

And, if you see a guy with his troll motor on the front of his boat, and him sitting in one of those little low-hanging swivel chairs, out over the bow and just inches off the water, you know he's from Waco.

Nearly all the plug fishermen from Waco consider the chairs standard equipment. All this just goes to show you that fishermen are different. They differ in both their ways and their means of fishing.

"If you're a good fisherman, you won't laugh at any of them," says Golding — referring also to the flat-bottom boats the Wacoans use; and the bigger, broader, higher craft used by the Austin boys — because a good fisherman knows that he can learn something by observing others.

Rav Creel, one of Waco's top fishermen, who moved to Zapata a few years ago, learned some new tricks when it came to fishing Falcon Lake.

He discovered that when the weather was cold and the wind was high the fish went to the bottom and gathered around the thorny hulsache (wee-satch) shrubbery.

To get to the fish you had to glide alongside one of the trees, wrap a towel around the hulsache bush's thorns, then pull up. Next you dropped a plastic worm down into the water, right alongside the tree — to the very bottom — then jigged the worm.

If no success at that spot you'd try another tree.

So, from these various versions it's quite evident that the way to success in fishing the numerous lakes in Texas — as Scribe Golding points out — is to follow this rule: "When in Rome, fish as the Romans do!"

Journey to Abilene

Mrs. W. H. Narrell and Katrina Wells, both of Lorraine, were recent visitors in Abilene.

Miss Wells visited in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mendeshall.

Mrs. Narrell visited her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Narrell. Her granddaughter, Dian, returned for a short visit in her home and returned to Abilene last Sunday.

COINCIL

Berman after a question.
The Council on a motion by Majors and a second by Weaver, voted to sign a 5-year rural fire fighting contract with Mitchell County.
The contract, signed more than a month ago by Mitchell County Commissioners, goes into effect Jan. 1, 1962 and runs until Dec. 31, 1966.
The contract calls for the county to continue to pay the city fire department a minimum of $1,500 per year for fighting rural fires. The county agrees to pay an additional $60 per fire starting with 26th fire of the year and each one thereafter.
In addition, the county agrees to pay the city $1,000 per year each year of the contract for the purchase of special equipment to fight rural fires.
The first $1,000 payment will be made during 1962 and 11 payments each year during the contract - a total of $3,000.
The contract also allows the city to use the special equipment in fighting its fires in the city limits of Colorado City.
The present contract, which was extended earlier this year through Dec. 31, 1961, is for a minimum of $1,500 per year and a $60 per fire payment for each fire over the first 25.
The action was taken upon the urging of Keaton who stated that "we need to do something" so the county can include the contract in their 1962 budget - which will be first drafted this month and finished in August.

CONTRACT

chasing it outside the limits.
And that the city may contract to sell water from its wells, but only if it is not piped through any pipes used to distribute water from the lake. "I am not real pleased on the right-to-sell-thing," Robinson noted. "But," he quickly added, "we get our water at 5 and 10 cents per 1,000 gallons where most area cities pay a much higher price - Snyder pays about 18 cents, I think."
The Council agreed to further study the contract and investigate the best means of constructing a road into the park area before taking action on the contract.
Texas Electric and the Council have been negotiating the contract since the lake was completed last year.
Different proposals have shuffled back and fourth between the city body and the company in an effort to speed the contract agreement.
The progress reported by Robinson apparently is the most made in the negotiations in several months.
In other business, the Council asked time to consider a request by Earl R. Richardson, owner of Lakeview Camp, to repeal the city ordinance prohibiting the use of whole rough fish as bait on Lake Colorado City.
Richardson told the body that the ordinance was driving away out-of-town fishermen and was unnecessary.
It is unnecessary, he stated, due to the fact that the lake is well stocked with both bass and yellow cat who feed on rough fish and because a recent survey by the State Game and Fish Commission showed the lake to contain only 5 per cent rough fish.
"I have invested $25,000 in my fishing camp at the lake," Richardson noted, "and I would not want to harm the lake in any way or drive away fishermen for that reason."
He stated that rough fish, mostly goldfish, were being used whole as bait by some fishermen, "but they don't broadcast it," he continued. "The present ordinance allows the use of rough fish as bait only if they are cut into pieces."

...sive government again? These questions are not wholly answerable, because the answers in part would be something rather indefinable; it has been termed destiny before, but it seems to be more of a belief and trust in something that all men are incomplete without... God. All the brilliant Constitutions and great leaders in the world would be nothing without it. So would America.

"America was made by men who dared to dream. When our fathers established this nation, they had a vague and wonderful dream... America was to be a new Eden... here would be built a society unlike any the world had ever known. It would stand for the natural equality of all men, the inalienable dignity of every soul, the sacredness of conscience, the worth of labor, and the obligation of those who govern to manage for the common good the offices entrusted to their care."

"After the American Revolution, the people of the United States were slow about their establishment of a government. Independence, for a while, was enough. They were a little confident in their abilities; they had hacked through a strange wilderness and found the freedom they were searching for; they stayed in the careless, brutal country when others would have turned ed back. They had founded a brand-new nation and they knew it. No more government and taxes and bosses for a while, please, we'd like to sit back and enjoy it. But soon dissatisfaction set in—the Articles of Confederation were weak and infirm, the people were once again unhappy. So a convention was held and wrangled for three months, until finally they presented the fruit of their labors to the American people—the Constitution.

"The Constitution was to be the supreme law of the land for generations upon generations to come. Every phrase was written in slow carefulness and thought for the future. But even the writers did not know what a timely and near-perfect paper they had written until much later. After the Constitution came the Bill of Rights, and America had carefully laid out her "dream" and the years to come. The strength and symmetry of the Constitution's handiwork have been the admiration of the world ever since, and have had a profound influence in many parts of the globe.

"Our 'way of life' was beginning. But a definition of 'our way of life' is not complete without the trademark of a free people—free enterprise. Now we say, 'what is free enterprise?' It is the basis of our economy. It means that we permit people who wish to organize part of our economic activity to do so. A free enterprise economy is one in which 'the role of the government is strictly limited to protecting its citizens from physical or legal violence, from the abuse of monopoly power, from fraud, from libel, and from breach of contract. Government may also be responsible for the enforcement of certain minimum standards dealing with conditions of work, such as safety measures in mines and factories which apply to all industries in a given category.'

"The theories of Communism differ harshly with the American concept of free enterprise. The people of Soviet Russia are now being told that they are in the advanced stages of Socialism, and soon they will be in the haven of Communism, where each man will be provided with goods according to his needs and without regard to money. But meanwhile, Soviet citizens live in sub-standard housing, they line up in droves to buy food and shop—supplies in the stores are scanty and it often takes days to find simple household articles. Russian young men are assigned a job, and everyone, young and old, is required to work for the state a certain number of hours a week, whether he has a job or not. It is impossible for a son to go into business with his father, for his father cannot have a business. It is illegal to sell anything for profit. Most of the radios are fixed with the dial set on a Communist propaganda station. Work is encouraged by the Soviet leaders, but it is a different kind of competitiveness than that enjoyed by the United States. If a worker works extra well, extra long, and sometimes given small bonuses. If the whole family works, then by saving the money, they might be able to buy a car.

"Socialism means that the government is the owner of all production. In Communism the government seems to have ownership of the soul, too. All things are done with an eye to the State. If a man is a little richer than his neighbors and has a better house, say with a private bathroom for his family, then he has the almighty State and Communist party to thank for his good luck, not himself and the goodness of God.

"In Communist countries the slogan is 'work.' Their leaders tell us that they can already make more things and better things and that they can do anything we can do. Then they tell their people that they must work with extra fervor and reverently follow the seven-year plan or the five-year plan, and at the end of the seven years or five years, Russia will be the supreme power of the world and a giant step closer to grand and glorious Communism.

"When any government takes over the peacetime planning of the economic affairs of its people, it becomes the high executioner of individual freedom and opportunity. In Russia's economy all resources are used at the discretion of a single authority—the government. Only in wartime is a capitalist economy such as ours able to impose controls approximating those of the Soviet State to determine the use of resources. Ordinarily the investment of a capitalist nation's steel and lumber and oil, owned by privately owned enterprise is determined, at least in part, by the desires and demands of the population. In Russia the assignment of resources is decreed by what Soviet authorities deem right and proper.

"The Communists have not been able to provide both rockets and refrigerators. Here are some comparisons between the United States and U.S.S.R.—The United States has only 7% of the world's population and 6% of the land area; yet it has 1 telephone for every 5 persons, 1 automobile for every 4 persons, 1 radio for every 3 persons, 46% of the electricity, 32.2% of the world's total production, and we consume 70% of the world's wealth. On the other hand, Communist Russia, the other great power of the world has a population of 8.8%, land area 14% of the world's total, and has only 1 telephone for 188 persons, an estimated 5% of the world's productive capacity.

"Soviet Russia's statistics aren't good, but they are getting better. The Communists boast a yearly growth rate of more than twice that of ours, and we are a rapidly expanding country. They are not saying empty words when they cry, 'We will bury you.' It is their recognized and boasted intention to infect Europe and the eastern countries with the ever-growing cancer of communism—until the western world and our government of the people, by the people, and for the people is surrounded and isolated by a tyrannical, atheist government, which stands against all that we have laid down as right and just, against the way of life our fathers established eight score and fifteen years ago, and that we have fought for eleven times. Then, the Communists visualize the downfall of the great American empire—when she rots at the roots with the spread of 'inevitable' Communism.

"The basic premise on which the Declaration of Independence rests is that men are 'endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable
