Legislature Presses Program For Reform; Reorganization Of Honolulu Police System Is Believed Near

(By The Associated Press)

HONOLULU, Jan. 20.—A motion asking dismissal of the police court complaint charging Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three navy men of the murder of Joseph Kahahawai was filed in circuit court today by their attorney.

Basing his motion on constitutional grounds, the attorney, Montgomery Winn, charged the right of the defendants to a speedy trial had been prejudiced and that the city and county attorney would not ask the grand jury for an indictment tomorrow as originally promised.

Held Without Bail

Mrs. Fortescue; her son-in-law, Lieutenant Thomas H. Massie, and E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, navy enlisted men, are being held without bond in custody of naval officers at Pearl Harbor for the slaying January 8 of Kahahawai, suspected attacker of Mrs. Massie.

Winn asserted City and County Attorney James P. Gilliland would not present an indictment to the grand jury tomorrow because "he is attempting to secure outside counsel to prosecute the case and that in the event he does not succeed in the attempt he will postpone action until a public prosecutor is chosen under a proposed act of the territorial legislature now in session.

Gilliland has been under fire in the recent investigations and re-

Bandit Makes Haul Of $125

Santa Fe Agent At Plainview Is Hijacked By An Unmasked Man Late Wednesday; Money Taken From Safe

(Special to The Avalanche)

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 20.—A lone, unmasked bandit tonight held up R. E. Knowlton, Santa Fe ticket agent here, forced him to open the railway company's safe and escaped with about $125.

As Knowlton, second trick operator and agent, was locking up the office at 10 o'clock, he was accosted by the armed hijacker. At the point of a gun, he was forced to reenter the building and unlock the safe. The bandit was described as about 25 or 30 years old, weighing 150 pounds and being five feet and ten inches tall.

A new automobile was stolen at about 8 o'clock from downtown and officers believe the two crimes are connected. The way in which the bandit made his escape was not known. Officers in South Plains and Panhandle towns were informed of the hijacking.

"It" Girl's Rule Now Ended

Beauty Of '32 Must Possess 'Soignee'

(NEA Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—American girls take heed: 1932 is setting new standards of beauty!

The "It" girl is dead and gone. The obvious, flamboyant type is no longer the rage. New gowns with their gracious, feminine lines have imbued modern girls with an urge to be lady-like, sleekly-groomed, quietly seductive!

A new goal for beauty emerges. The French have a word for it! Today a girl must have "soignee" or she just can't get there!

Modern girls have made the mistake in not differentiating between distinction and obtrusiveness. Too many have yearned to be exotic. Their idea of being exotic is to attract attention, to rise above their surroundings and be pointed out with envy by friends. One may go in for extreme coiffures, another paint her lips too brilliantly and in too hard a line, against a mask of too much powder, still another may wear her gowns somewhat snugger than good taste permits. This, to them, means being exotic!

The Secret Of Beauty

The trick today is to stand apart from your surroundings by virtue of exquisite taste in clothes, makeup and posture. This makes a girl distinguished! Along with her looks she should be gracious, lady-like, poised and sparkling—that is what 1932 demands! For the girl who has

Words Of Scorn Are Sent Lover

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—From Sing Sing's death house Francis (Two-Gun) Crowley, due to die tomorrow night for the murder of a policeman, sent words of scorn today to his 17-year-old sweetheart, Helen Walsh.

"To hell with Helen Walsh, she wants to sell her story to the papers," the 21-year-old slayer told Warden Lewis E. Lawes, when informed the girl had applied to the Brooklyn supreme court for an order to permit her to visit him in the prison.

When the warden transmitted the message to the court, Justice Byrne denied the proceeding brought by Crowley's foster mother. The girl wept when she heard the decision.

Oil Operator Weeps In Jail While Wife Fights For Life

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 20. (AP)—Mrs. La Vina Parker, estranged wife of a wealthy Wichita Falls oil operator, continued to hold her own tonight against the ravages of two bullet wounds, inflicted early Tuesday morning as she stood in front of her home. Physicians at the Wichita Falls clinic hospital said her fate would not be known for another 24 hours.

Meanwhile the husband, James E. Parker, charged with the shooting, still wept aloud in his cell in the county jail, making no effort to obtain bond in the assault to murder charge. His brother, Roy Parker, charged with him, was released under a $1,500 bond this afternoon.

Delay In Reparations Meet Certain; May Be Called Off

LONDON, Jan. 20. —The British government, bowing to the inevitable, announced tonight in a foreign office statement it was "evident" the Lausanne reparations could not begin next Monday, as originally had been planned.

The announcement raised doubts among responsible commentators about whether the conference would be held at all, and on this point the official statement was extremely guarded.

Former Inmate Of Federal Prison Held After Escape

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 20. (AP) — The source of the weapons with which seven inmates of the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., forced their way to temporary liberty last December 11, was believed by United States investigators to have been discovered today with the arrest in Windsor of Harold Fontaine, a former inmate of the prison.

Fontaine was released from Leavenworth in November after serving a sentence for smuggling aliens across the Detroit river.

Section Of Postal Act To Be Repealed By Bill Passed In Senate; Sweeping Changes Given Opposition

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The atmosphere on the floors was calm today in comparison with the rustle and bustle of recent sessions but conferees labored intensively on the reconstruction corporation measure.

They reported agreement late in the day. The senate and house tomorrow are expected to complete final action on the $125,000,000 federal land banks bill.

The wide range that characterizes committee deliberations found the senate finance committee concerned with state department correspondence and the house ways and means committee busy with the subject of taxes.

The senate committee formally asked Secretary Stimson to give it for open perusal communications from the American legation in Bogota, Colombia, dealing with the Barco oil concession.

Secretary Stimson formally refused. The controversy is an outgrowth of the committee investigation of the sale of foreign securities in the United States.

Shaping a tax program which it promises by February 1, the house committee heard testimony that the Canadian sales tax system would be applicable to this country. It also heard Postmaster General Brown advocate a sweeping increase in pos-

Man And Wife Go To Death In Automobile Clasped In Each Other's Arms; Note Is Left For Daughter

(By The Associated Press)

SOUTH FREEPORT, Me., Jan. 20.—Clasped in each other's arms, Mr. and Mrs. John Ineson, both about 68 years old, went to their death in a double suicide today as their automobile plunged into Casco bay.

A few minutes earlier the couple had mailed letters at the local post office to their daughter and a brother of Ineson which indicated they planned to take their lives. They then headed the car down short, steep Wharf hill. The bodies, with arms about each other, were found in the machine when it was hauled from the ten feet of water a few hours later.

A letter addressed to their daughter, Mrs. Hugh Smith, of Stephenville, Texas, and opened by the authorities said: "Daughter: mother and I are gone. Don't come. Your uncle will take care of things. Father."

'Straw Vote' Total Goes Past 500 Mark; Leaders Cling To Vantage Points

Hoover And Thomas Show New Strength As Roosevelt, Garner And Murray Hold On

THE Avalanche-Journal's South Plains-wide Presidential "Straw Vote" zoomed past the 500-ballot mark yesterday but, aside from the injection of two new candidates, saw standings change but little. Chief feature of yesterday's voting was the new strength shown by Norman Thomas, Socialist, and Herbert Hoover, Republican, both of whom moved up a notch or two in the standings to surpass such Democratic favorites as Alfred E. Smith and Newton D. Baker.

The two new candidates put forth were Will Rogers, Oklahoma humorist who could be elected to any office in his home state without opposition, and Tom Connally, Democratic Junior United States Senator from Texas. Rogers got two votes and Connally one.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, governor of New York, continued to show the way as he has done since the first tabulation made Monday evening, and John Garner, foremost Texan in national affairs, held his same second place. William Henry Murray, Oklahoma's chief executive, stayed with third place and the Socialist hope, Norman Thomas, was fourth.

Prohibition, the bugbear of both major parties, also got a call in Wednesday's balloting, two voters noting on their ballots that they "will support the nominees of my party if they are dry." Both ballots were cast in favor of President Hoover and Democrats, thus far, are "laying off" the mooted question of liquor, yes or no.

Vote Narrows Down

The 'straw vote' has apparently narrowed down between Roosevelt and Garner, with Murray still holding an outside chance to forge into leadership. Thomas is undobtedly the choice of all Socialists and President Hoover, in spite of his loss of popularity, is still the bell-wether of the GOP's.

Jokesters have sent in a hatful of ballots, various Tech students, Eddie Cantor, The Plainsman Journal columnist and Amos 'N Andy all coming in for mention. One admirer of Dr. W. A. Jackson, head of the department of government at Texas Tech and probably the best posted man in West Texas on political procedure, voted for the college man. Lubbock Communists either don't care for 'straw votes' or have no candidate to offer. Not

Texas Cotton Law Attacked In Test Case

State Brings Proceedings For Injunction Against Farmer And Arguments Are Heard In Franklin Court

Rights Are Argued

Court Is Recessed And Judge Will Hear Evidence Today; Decision Is Expected To Be Given In Short While

(By The Associated Press)

FRANKLIN, Jan. 20.—Constitutionality of the Texas cotton acreage reduction law was attacked in district court here today.

Virtually all the afternoon was occupied with arguments of attorneys on demurrers to injunction preceedings brought by the state against Fred L. Smith, a farmer of Calvert.

County Attorney T. L. Tyson of Franklin sought the injunction on grounds that Smith planned to plant more than the 30 per cent of last year's acreage allowed by the law.

Courtroom Jammed

The hearing was before Judge W. C. Davis of the 85th district court and was attended by crowds of farmers, ginners and others who jammed the court room.

Arguing for Smith were W. E. Terrell of Waco, J. Felton Lane of Hearne and R. E. L. Knight of Dallas. Assisting Tyson was C. L. Matthews of Franklin.

The basis of the attack on the law was contained in several demurrers to the petition for injunction, which set forth that Smith had shown in a crop mortgage that he planned to plant 1,100 acres out of 1,350, or about 85 per cent, to cotton.

One demurrer asserted the defendant had made contracts with

Oklahoma Official Says That Threat Of Death By Bandit Will Not Alter His Course In Big Manhunt

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 20.—The acting governor of Oklahoma was threatened today by an anonymous letter which apparently purported to be from Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, young machine gun desperado who is the object of an eastern Oklahoma manhunt.

"Robert Burns, acting governor—you will either withdraw that $1,000 reward at once or suffer the consequences—no kidding," said the note, mailed from Altus, in the southwestern corner of the state, yesterday afternoon. "I have robbed no one but the monied men."

After conferring with Adj. Gen. Charles F. Barrett of the national guard, who is directing the hunt for the bank robber and accused killer, acting Gov. Burns turned the note over to the postal authorities and declared he had no intention of withdrawing the state reward for Floyd's capture.

Amarillo Mayor Enters Race For Congressman-At-Large; Completing Third Term In Public Office

(Special To The Avalanche)

AMARILLO, Jan. 20.—Col. Ernest O. Thompson, completing his third year as mayor of Amarillo, his first public office, today announced his candidacy for congressman-at-large in the Democratic primary.

A student of finance and politics, Colonel Thompson said the paramount need of the country today was a definite policy on international affairs and particularly on its financial phases.

To Aid Farmer

Decrying "gamblers who bet on the want and misery and suffering that comes from depressed prices," he pledged "to fight the cruel concentration of the wealth of our nation in New York City where it has been used for wild and reckless gambling and speculation."

The Amarilloan proposed, if elected, "to assist in working out a better distribution of our farm products," to insure "a fair price for what we produce," and to work for "a more liberal policy in the issue of currency."

Opposes Moratorium

Declaring "we have been the sucker long enough," Colonel Thompson said he would "stand unalterably against any further meddling in European affairs" and expressed opposition to "any fur-

Work To Continue In Borger On A Competing Gas System

BORGER, Jan. 20. (AP)—Work on a competing natural gas system was to be resumed here after attorneys for the Panhandle Power and Light company today withdrew an injunction petition in district court at Panhandle to stop the laying of mains.

The utility company's action followed a meeting of the city commission here which refused to call an election on the competing gas franchise unless 500 qualified voters signed a petition. There were more than 400 names on a petition presented.

President Hoover Facing Big Problem; Many Names Given For Consideration; Selections To Be Delayed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Slowly filling a list of major vacancies, President Hoover today named the 37-year-old attorney of Porto Rico, James R. Beverly, to be governor general of the island.

Comparatively young for so important a post, Beverly will succeed the only slightly older Theodore Roosevelt, whose strong indorsement he carries. Roosevelt, now in the capital, will sail shortly to be governor-general of the Philippines.

Problem Is Unsolved

Despite the fact he has named four men to as many major posts since yesterday, the president tonight found his appointment problem far from solved. He is finding some difficulty in the selection of a man for the supreme court seat suddenly left vacant a week ago by Oliver Wendell Holmes, White

Graduated From Dalhart In 1913

DALHART, Jan. 20. —William Beverly, 77, Democrat father of the new governor of Porto Rico, is proud of his Republican son.

"James was always a studious and ambitious boy, and his mother — now dead five years — was ambitious for him," the father said when advised of his son's newest appointment. "His success may be attributed in great measure to his mother." Beverly, a retired rancher, is a staunch Democrat. His friends have "razzed" him frequently in recent years about his "Republican son."

"James deserted the party in 1924, when his devoted friend, Dr. George C. Butte, made the race for governor against the Fergusons," Beverly said. "He had been a good Democrat until then." The new governor of Porto Rico graduated from the Dalhart High school as an honor student in 1913, and the same year was elected principal of the school. He left the University of Texas to enlist in the army on the day the United States entered the World war.

House officials said today an appointment for this high post was not in immediate prospect.

Within a short time seven suggestions of new names for the court were placed before the chief executive for his consideration. More than a score of others already had been laid before him.

To Hold Conferences

Indication was given at the executive mansion during the day that probably the second most important vacancy, the ambassadorship to Great Britain, might not be filled immediately. Ambassador Dawes resigned definitely yesterday to become president of the $2,000,000,000 reconstruction finance corporation.

The president also announced yesterday he would hold conferences with Democratic and Republican leaders before naming other directors to his finance corporation. Ber-

Blame For Murder Of Two Women In Arizona May Be Shifted; Hint Of Accomplice In Trunk Slayings Explodes Like Bombshell In Packed Courtroom; Fight Opens Today

(By The Associated Press)

COURTHOUSE, PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 20. — Slender Winnie Ruth Judd, once-confessed slayer, will begin in earnest tomorrow the battle for her life, with a phanton co-defendant awaiting possible materialization when the horde of witnesses begin their parade to the witness stand.

Whether this ghost of a three months old murder investigation, brought into open court today by defense counsel in questioning of prospective jurors to try Mrs. Judd for murder of Agnes Anne Leroi, ever will be embodied in the present case will depend, it was indicated, on the trend of testimony during trial.

In addition to the present case, in which first witnesses will testify tomorrow, Mrs. Judd is accused of slaying Hedvig Samuelson, tubercular convalescent friend both of herself and Mrs. Leroi.

A jury panel of 29 and an alternate panel of four was seated, according to Arizona law, before Judge Howard C. Speakman's Maricopa county superior court adjourned today. Overnight, opposing counsel were to decide upon the names to be stricken by peremptory challenge, to be prepared to produce the trial jury of 12 men immediately after court convenes tomorrow. One alternate will be seated. The prosecution may exercise 10 peremptory challenges and the state seven.

The broad hint, placed on court records by Herman Lewkowitz, attorney associated with Paul Schenck in the defense, of plans to endeavor, should cir-

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

OH, HOW some men would love to live in Corwin, Ohio! There isn't a man in the court house there, unless he stops by for a visit. In Corwin they have petticoat rule. Moreover, it seems to be a success—the petticoaters got elected back to their places this year.

Sounds like a Utopia, too! Money in the treasury, lawlessness very rare, no more bickering than other governing bodies have, no dust in the city hall, flowers on the table in the council chamber (just another of those things that some men would practically strangle over), a new concrete base about the town pump, new signs and other steps of progress. Everything looks beautiful for Corwin but we haven't heard from the men! A model government but we are willing to wager no ordinary city, run by men, is going to send delegations there to study the methods!

And with all of this talk of women and their careers, in spite of all this promotion that goes on in The Woman's Angle, I just have to admit that there are a lot of things in this world that the men are welcome to do. It is all well and good for women to vote, to hire someone to wash the dishes and scrub the floors, to get friend hubby into the kitchen to help cook breakfast, to write, help with the government and do the thousand and one things that women do today and could not do half a hundred years ago. All of this is very well, but there is a lot left for men to do. Take it from one feminist!

As long as there are tires to be changed, nails to be driven, flower beds to be dug, livings to be made, murderers to be sought and a lot of other such things to be done, this one feminist wants the men to stick around. It is all very well to have the privileges but I would hate to see women left with everything to do. What we want is the right to do anything and the right to choose what is to be done!

MORE DEFENSE!

WE'VE heard from a man about that editorial quoted last week and concerning the President's choice of Miss Woolley as the only woman delegate to the Disarmament Conference.

"If that editorial writer wanted to jump on women, why didn't he pick out some of these women who do nothing except sit around and play bridge all afternoon and night and neglect their homes," he stormed at me.

Joining the ranks of the Plainsman! Tsk, Tsk! This thing must be getting a lot worse than I had suspected. Seems like, to hear 'em talk, that the women aren't staying at home with their knitting at all. Yet we are always getting stuck in a bunch that talk constantly of the "wedding ring," the "flower garden", "around the world" and "the Dresden china plate." On Monday afternoons we catch several hundred women going down to study foreign missions and learn more of the Bible. Almost any day there are meetings of readings. Occasionally, we hear of bridge parties but we don't always tell the world. Men like the Plainsman and members of his cohorts might hear of it. Also, the woman who, incidentally, heard of it the day before at that other party, might read the story and weep over the typographical error that omitted her name!

Anyhow, the tables are turning. A few years ago, as we are told, the men were wondering why women didn't stay at home and play checkers or 500 or whatever it was instead of getting out and trying to make a living. This old idea of being useful was a thing to make them snicker up their sleeves.

But now with the old usefulness idea hitting along, the cry goes up about how women are wasting their time sitting around pursuing those allegedly feminine pursuits! Somethin's got to be done about it.

THAT RESOLUTION

NOW THAT all my favorite columnists have sprung the question first, it is about time this one asks the question: How about that New Year's resolution? Or those New Year's resolutions, in case you were feeling optimistic.

So far I've managed to forget the ones I made except the one to save money this year. That is a good old standing resolution that may work one of these years.

Matadors Take To Road; Will Meet Cowboys Tonight

Ten-Day Jaunt Over Texas And Oklahoma Sees Matadors In Games With Leading Teams Of Four Athletic Conferences

Mentor Morgan and his Matadors are scheduled to depart early today on the first leg of a ten-day trip that will carry them through six basketball centers of Texas and Oklahoma. They open their road show tonight at Abilene in the first of a two-game stand with the Simmons University Cowboys, Texas Conference leaders. Other conferences in which the Matadors will play are the Southwest Conference, Oklahoma Collegiate and Big Four.

They have played six games, have the Matadors, and have won half of them. Not such a high winning average but they were not due to win two of the three lost. The West Texas Teachers practically had a pair of victories in the sack before they arrived in Lubbock for games last Monday and Tuesday nights. The Matadors divided a series with A. C. C. and swept a stand with the Wayland College Jackrabbits.

Play Cowboys Two

In Simmons' Cowboys, the Matadors face a band of cagers who are intent upon walloping thunder out of the Matadors and thereby gain a measure of revenge for the football defeat dealt them on Thanksgiving. The Tech lads are just as anxious to keep the winning streak going and they are due to put up a couple of great scraps in Taylor county. On a recent invasion of Central Texas, the Cowboys took victories over Howard Payne and St. Edwards to gain a good lead in the Texas Conference race.

Coach Morgan is taking ten men along. They will travel by bus all the way. Captain Tad Tadlock, Harvy Dunn, "Bulldog" Hale and Emmons, guards; Leon Fisher and Harold Crites, centers and Clarence Hodges, Alvin Crews, Haden Moody and Aud Darr, forwards, will make the trip.

Following the Simmons series, the Matadors will continue on to Fort Worth where on Saturday night they meet the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs, defending champions of the Southwest Conference.

The trek toward Oklahoma starts Sunday and the Matadors will meet four Sooner institution teams before turning back to Lubbock. They meet the Southwestern State Teachers college Bulldogs at Weatherford, Oklahoma City University Gold Bugs at Oklahoma City; East Central Tigers, leaders in the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference, at Ada and the Southwestern State Teachers college Savages at Durant before returning home.

Golf Said To Require Most Of Skill, With Rowing Taking Most Strength; Football Is Most Strategic

(Note: This is another of a series of stories analyzing results of the Associated Press sports editor's poll of newspaper opinion on sports facts, fancies and recollections. It answers the query as to sports involving the most skill, stamina, strategy and luck.)

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. — Even though this may serve only to intensify the points of argument among the country's sport experts, the fact is they have voted golf as the sport requiring the most skill as well as involving the most luck. Baseball is next on each count.

In this respect the Associated Press athletic poll reveals a house sharply divided against itself. Otherwise there is substantial agreement that rowing requires the most strength or stimina and that football calls for the most strategy.

Only three sports, football, basketball and boxing, are voted for each of the four major factors considered.

Here are the results of the national poll showing the first five sports in each category, the number of votes for each, also the approximate percent of the element involved, as figured by those who gave detailed answers:

1. Sport requiring most skill:
Golf, 24 votes (80 per cent).
Baseball, 19 votes (70 per cent).
Tennis, 17 votes (68 per cent).
Billiards, 10 votes (1" per cent).
Boxing, 8 votes (60 per cent).

2. Sport requiring most strength or stamina:
Rowing, 27 votes (76 per cent).
Wrestling, 18 votes (63 per cent).
Boxing, 14 votes (45 per cent).
Football, 12 votes (40 per cent).
Basketball, 4 votes (50 per cent).
Marathon and distance running 4 votes (82 per cent).

3. Sport requiring most strategy:
Football, 17 votes (44 per cent).
Baseball, 14 votes (36 per cent).
Boxing, 4 votes (25 per cent).
Tennis, 4 votes (45 per cent).
Chess, 2 votes (100 per cent).

4. Sport involving most luck:
Golf, 34 votes (30 per cent).
Baseball, 15 votes (40 per cent).
Horse racing, 12 votes (80 per cent).
Football, 10 votes (30 per cent).
Basketball, 7 votes (30 per cent).

Max May Lose Title Without Lifting A Glove; N.B.A. Threatens With Rule

Members Of Body To Vote On Vacating Heavy Throne

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (AP) — Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight champion, faces the possibility of losing the title without throwing a glove.

This was indicated tonight as the result of a poll made by the Associated Press of members of the National Boxing Association, who will vote on a proposal to vacate Schmeling's championship because of his failure to defend it or to sign to defend it within the six months time limit prescribed by the N. B. A.

General John V. Glinnin, president of the N. B. A., dispatched ballots to the membership and expects them to oust the German title holder.

"Should Follow Rules"

"The rules are made by the membership of the N. B. A.," General Clinnin said tonight, "and I expect them to be followed out to the letter. That, at least, has been the procedure before when the membership has been asked to vote on questions of vacating a champion's title."

General Clinnin said the complete balloting would not be available until probably the middle of February, as the votes must come from twenty-nine states, several boxing commissions in Canada, from Cuba, Porto Rico and Mexico and from affiliations abroad.

Texas-Arizona League Asks Pacific Coast Loop To Help

OAKLAND, Jan. 20. (AP)—Directors of the Pacific Coast League, in annual spring meeting here today, discussed the split-week series plan, and talked over formation of a state league to be used as a farm for Coast League rookies, but failed to take any action during the morning session.

Cleont Knapp, of Bisbee, representing the Arizona-Texas league, appeared before the directors and asked support from the Coast league in helping to maintain his circuit. No action was taken, and Knapp was informed any interested club would let him know soon.

Four coast league teams helped Arizona-Texas league clubs last season. The San Francisco Seals used Globe as a farm, while the Missions helped out Tucson. Los Angeles sent players to Bisbee, and Oakland assisted Phoenix.

There were no player deals this morning.

Tunney Writes Own Biography

Former Champ "Cannot Express Affection For All Elements That Make Up Boxing"; His Story To Appear Soon

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—If he were 21 again and faced with the choice of a career, Gene Tunney would follow his original course and pick boxing, he said today.

Ever since his retirement as heavyweight champion of the world, Tunney has insisted that when the time came for his autobiography to be prepared, he would write it himself. He has dictated 85,000 words for this purpose and Collier's Weekly will publish his story.

"Independence is the goal of all ambition," he wrote. "Fortunate men occasionally find the way to independence without much search. Wise men select the medium for which they are best equipped by nature and training.

"In my case though the ladder was short, the climb was sheer."

Tunney said he had no intent to discredit professional boxing in his series of articles and had no vindicative intent if he happened "to step on the toes of the great or the small."

"I have only told the circumstances as I remember them and as I reacted to them at the time," he said.

"But, although I am an ardent devotee of the sport, it could only be with my tongue in my cheek that I could express affection for all the elements that make up the profession."

Tech Schedule Is Changed Again; 2 Games Added

Latest announcement from the athletic offices of Texas Tech has it that the Matador gridsters of 1932 will open their intercollegiate season on September 17 with the Western Oklahoma Aggies. It is understood that a contract has been signed for the game, which is to be played in Lubbock.

Another definite announcement was made relative to another date, hitherto unsettled. The Austin College Kangaroos, formerly coached by Pete Cawthon, will play the Matadors on the Tech field October 7. With the exception of Burl Huffman, assistant high school coach, every mentor in Lubbock with the college and high school once attended and played football at Austin College, Sherman, Texas.

Morgan With N. M. Ags.

Efforts to procure a game with the New Mexico Aggies failed when Coach Jerry Hines of the Las Cruces school announced his schedule complete with the exception of one date, and that date conflicts with one of Tech's games already under contract.

It was also necessary to cancel plans for a game with Oklahoma A. and M., since open dates could not be found to correspond.

The Tech schedule is still not complete. November 4 is still open, and it may be that a game with one of the Border Conference schools can be arranged. Tech's membership in the Border Conference becomes effective in September, but the Matadors have only three games scheduled with Border loop teams. Rules of the conference do not stipulate the number of conference games a school must play.

The 1932 schedule, with its revisions, was announced yesterday as follows:

Sept. 17—Western Okla. Aggies, at Lubbock.
Sept. 24—Texas A. and M. at Amarillo.
Oct. 1 — Southern Methodist, at Dallas.
Oct. 7—Austin College at Lubbock.
Oct. 15—U. of Arizona at Lubbock.
Oct. 21—Colorado Mines at Denver.
Oct. 28—Notre Dame "B" at Lubbock.
Nov. 4—Open.
Nov. 11—Baylor University at Lubbock.
Nov. 18—U. of New Mexico at Albuquerque.
Nov. 24—Simmons U. at Lubbock. (Possibly a post-season game with Texas School of Mines).

Rice-L. S. U. Grid Clubs May Tangle At Beaumont

HOUSTON, Jan. 20. (AP)—The possibility the Rice-L. S. U. football game of October 1, 1932, would be played in Beaumont, rather than in Houston, appeared today.

Vin Burke, Beaumont Enterprise sports editor, told Rice officials the Young Men's Business league of Beaumont would underwrite the game in Beaumont.

Coach Jack Meagher announced the Texas Arts and Industries Javelinas of Kingsville had been added to the Rice 1932 schedule.

Earl Combs Not A Holdout But Suffers A Little Cut

RICHMOND, Ky., Jan. 20. (AP) — Earl Combs, New York American outfielder, indicated at his farm near here today he would sign his contract. He said he had received it just recently and had not had time to think it over. "I'm not a holdout," he added, "though I got a little cut."

Frogs Defeat Steers, 52-32!

AUSTIN, Jan. 20. (AP)—A scrappy University of Texas basketball team took a hard one on the chin here tonight, losing a Southwest Conference game to Texas Christian University, 52 to 22.

The only time Texas was on a par with the Horned Frogs was at the start of the contest. There was no doubt of Christian's superiority after the first tipoff.

The half ended 20-14 with the Christians leading. Texas ran its total to 18 shortly after the second half opened, and the Christians took time out. Before Texas scored again the Christians had made their total 51.

Sumner opened for the Christians with a free throw, and was followed closely with field goals by Green, Walker and Sumner himself. The Christians then were off to the races and soon had the score 16 to 13.

Although closely guarded, Dietzel scored 15 points on five field goals and five free throws. They ran his conference scoring total to 48.

Sumner and Brannon each made 12 points. Kubricht, Texas center, scored eight, making his conference total 41.

Thirty Teams Register For First Lubbock High School Tournament; First Round Games Are Announced

Lubbock High school's first attempt to stage a basketball tournament for rural and high school boys' teams will get under way at 8 o'clock Friday morning on the new gymnasium floor at Lubbock High school. Play will begin at that hour and run without intermission until 11 o'clock Friday night.

Chamber of Commerce Helps

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce has cooperated with the high school and Coach Swede McMurry in making the tournament possible, and the chamber of commerce, through Garnet Reeves, announced yesterday the drawings for first round games.

Thirty teams have entered the tournament. In order to make it impossible for a team to draw a bye toward the windup of the joust, two teams have drawn byes at the outset, and will not play first round games. These are Wilson and Big Spring.

Drawings Made

First round games and the time of day at which each team is asked to report to Coach McMurry at the high school gymnasium are as follows, though the time mentioned here is not the time at which the games will be played:

Abernathy vs. Carlisle, 8 A. M.
McClung vs. Hurlwood, 8 A. M.
Hardy vs. Meadow, 9 A. M.
Lubbock A vs. Hale Center, 9 A. M.
Slaton vs. Bula, 11 A. M.
Levelland vs. Wellman, 11 A. M.
Monroe vs. Dickens, 11 A. M.
Lubbock B vs. Wolfforth, 12 Noon.
Shallowater vs. Littlefield, 12 Noon.
Grovesville vs. Ropesville, 1 P. M.
Sudan vs. Anton, 1 P. M.
Ralls vs. Kress, 2 P. M.
Spring Lake vs. Estacado, 2 P. M.
Friona vs. Morton, 4 P. M.

Wilson and Big Spring are requested to report at the high school gymnasium at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

It is especially important that representatives of the teams report at the hour named above. Failure to report at the given time will mean forfeiture of the game, it is announced.

Second and third round games will be played Saturday morning, with the semi-finals and final game scheduled for Saturday afternoon and Saturday night respectively.

Business men of Lubbock have subscribed generously to a fund to be used in purchasing trophies for winners, runners up, individual leaders and performers and a tournament prize. The trophies have been ordered and will be ready to distribute at the close of the tournament.

Campus Teams Play Saturday

Four Intramural Teams Enter Scheduled Play With Doubleheader Saturday Afternoon; 100 Players Equipped

With approximately 100 youngsters of assorted ages, sizes, weights and classifications having been equipped with full football regalia and entrusted to the coaching principles of veterans of the game as Texas Tech plays it, the annual intramural football season at Tech gains headway daily.

On Saturday of this week the teams, all four of 'em, open their double round-robin schedule with two games. One will start at 2 o'clock, the other at 4 bells. The Ables and Engineers play the first game, with the Liberal Artists and Army in the nightcap of the doubleheader.

Old Lettermen Eligible

The intramural ranks have been strengthened considerably during the last week due to the eligibility rules which permit upperclassmen who have played on previous varsity squads or who did not letter during the 1931 season to play. "Professor" Butts of Waco, Jay Maltby and Murphy, who played with the Matadors before the regular schedule ensued, are eligible. Walton Nixon, a former guard and letter man, is also eligible. Murphy and Maltby have lettered on previous teams.

A list of officials have been approved by the athletic board and will divide time in the intramural games. W. B. Chapman, Burl Huffman, "Mule" Davis, J. H. Goodman, "Dude" Lassiter, Bill McWilliams, Ben Condray, Del Morgan, Clarence Hodges, Tad Tadlock, Ross Ayers, Ed Hambright and H. C. "Gray Eagle" Pender have been approved as officials.

Varsity letter men are coaching the four teams, each team using a different style of offense.

The teams probably will play on each Saturday afternoon for the next five weeks. On January 30 the Liberal Artists will meet the Aggies and the Army will play the Engineers. The following Saturday will find the Army and Aggies playing the first game with the Engineers and Liberal Artists following up. Afterwards, the same schedule will be played over again.

Teachers' Salaries Again

A little more than a week ago, The Morning Avalanche commented favorably upon refusal of Amarillo school teachers to voluntarily cut their salaries 10 per cent until some of the frills and furbelows were similarly whacked off the Amarillo school system. In decrying the curtailment of salaries of already underpaid pedagogues, we commented at the time that we didn't expect the position to be popular but that we were taking it, just the same.

Imagine our surprise when the editorial elicited no adverse criticism but, on the other hand, was commended by numerous persons, not half of whom were teachers. The occurrence was heartening. It disclosed that not all citizens were in favor of hurtful, ruthless salary slashes in the name of "retrenchment" and "economy."

Taking a position the same as our own, The Editorial Digest, published in Houston, has since printed a similar editorial. The Digest is a publication printing comments of its own and including, pro and con, comments of Texas newspapers on the same subjects. In regard to teachers' salaries The Digest declares:

"Houston school teachers, by 'official agreement,' will take a 10 per cent reduction in salaries. The cut, in line with a policy of strict economy being followed by the Houston school board in an effort to cut a million dollars off the 1932 budget, will affect some 2280 teachers and employes, and represents a saving of about $355,000.

"Unquestionably, there is need for better regulation of the financial resources of our public institutions depending upon tax monies for revenues, if they are to remain solvent. Tax collections are below normal in most cities this year and frugality should be the watchword of every public official. But there is some question as to whether the interests of the people will best be served by practicing such economies among those upon whose shoulders rests so much responsibility.

"It is said the average student spends about one-sixth of his period of training under the control of public school teachers. That training is important—more important, in fact, than any other period of training except that received in the home. Consequently, the teacher must be the highest type of citizen. He or she must be of high moral character, must be well-groomed, and must meet all financial obligations. Because of these things, the teacher's standard of living is required to be high.

"Yet the average annual income of the teacher is lower than the average annual income of all gainfully employed persons. And this despite the fact that educational salaries have risen during the past two years.

"Far better would it be to eliminate some of the frills than to impair the efficiency of those into whose hands our children are entrusted by further reducing their pay."

The Digest, we believe, restates in other words the ideas of The Morning Avalanche along this important line. While we're not kidding ourselves into believing that all Lubbock citizens agree with the stand taken, we do believe—and are glad to believe—that the majority sounds a silent "aye."

If Texas cities are to continue to get the right kind of teachers they're going to have to pay for them—and they should have to pay for them. A good teacher has the same right to a fair stipend as a good lawyer, a good doctor or a good carpenter. Whenever the public decides to offer inferior pay, the public will get inferior teachers.

TOO MANY CANDIDATES

Announcement made today that Col. Ernest O. Thompson, mayor of Amarillo, will seek election as one of Texas' three Congressmen-at-large gives rise to the thought that the North Plains and the Panhandle is after national representation in a big way. With Congressman Marvin Jones, of Amarillo, certain of re-election from the 18th district, and Mrs. Phebe K. Warner seeking an at-large seat from Claude, Colonel Thompson makes the third candidate from that same general section.

Everyone knows that State Senator Pink L. Parrish, of Lubbock, will seek an at-large post in the House of Representatives unless he changes his mind between now and election time and there is always a possibility that some other aspirant will likewise bob up. Thus we face the first primary with four Congressional candidates, only one of which has a practically certain chance of election and the other three of which have weakened each other's chances in the state-wide poll.

The Panhandle-Plains region, entitled to a second Congressman-at-large, should get together on one strong candidate and put the pressure on the rest to retire from the lists. Until we learn that politics is a science, rather than a game, we're going to have a hard time getting what we ought to have—and if we don't get our just deserts we've no one to blame but ourselves.

Chicago Well Equipped

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Chicago, after all, logically is the best place in the United States for national conventions.

Even New York is no better equipped to take care of the crowds and no other city is nearly so well equipped. On an average, it is the most convenient point in the country for all the delegates to get to. And it is representative of more kinds of Americanism than any population center elsewhere in the land.

Chicago Stadium

Emissaries from the lakeside metropolis at the Republican and Democratic national committees' respective meetings in Washington frankly were eagerer for the Jeffersonian gathering starting June 27 than for the G. O. P. event scheduled to begin June 14.

It is true, they admitted, that the G. O. P. performance undoubtedly will be a stem-winder, should a really resolute fight develop to prevent President Hoover's renomination, but this they did not regard as likely enough to merit serious consideration. On the opposite hand, the Democrats are relied on to furnish at least a four or five-day spectacular performance.

HENCE the willingness of Chicago business men to put up $200,000 to cinch the Democratic blow-out, in comparison with the $150,000 which sufficed to secure the Republicans'—though the latter were considerably mortified when they learned of the harder bargain their political rivals had driven.

This dicker, indeed, was a very neat thing all around for the Raskob management of the Jeffersonian national committee.

Folk may talk all they please of the perfect harmony which is officially declared to prevail between the Smith-Raskob and Franklin D. Roosevelt groups in the Democratic party, but the fact remains that Governor Roosevelt's friends desired Kansas City chosen for the convention, with San Francisco as their alternative preference, deeming the atmosphere unfavorable to the New Yorker's nomination alike in Chicago and Atlantic City, which also was suggested—whereas the Smith-Raskobites seemed singularly enamored of Atlantic City or Chicago. They not only got their way, but an extra $50,000 out of it.

HARD TIMES appear to have had much to do with the matter.

Had times been as good as in 1928 the competition between cities unquestionably would have been livelier. Being what they are, "K. C." and "San Fran," from all accounts, experienced such difficulty in obtaining guarantees of a $150,000 fund each (the sum specified as the minimum necessary to win the convention) that it was evident they both would have to drop out at the first increase in the bidding.

With the situation thus delicately poised, some influence or another induced Atlantic City to ante an additional 25 per cent. Chicago "saw the raise," "K. C." sat back, baffled, the voting promptly shifted so strongly to "Chi" that nothing was left to the Rooseveltites but look pleasant and make it unanimous—and the Windy City corners the major party conventions of 1932 for a total price of $350,000.

IT WAS only a psychological defeat for Governor Roosevelt.

It may or may not be true that Chicago sentiment is predominantly against him, and if it is it does not follow that it will have much effect upon the convention result; the delegates, not the city where the convention is held, name the candidate.

Still, there is something in psychology.

The choice of Chicago was a jab at the governor, and was so intended. Despite denials, everyone at all familiar with politics knows it.

The existence has been disclosed of a Democratic element which is hostile to him—and sufficiently powerful to have drawn first blood. It is a revelation which cannot but weigh with Democrats who, though not unfriendly to the New Yorker, yet care more for party victory than for his particular personality, and who realize that party victory is jeopardized by a candidate against whom, within his own ranks, there is too much opposition.

The governor's initial defeat perhaps will prove not to have amounted to much, but it certainly has not helped him.

Practical Health Problems

KEEPING TEETH HEALTHY

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

THE people who live in northwest Greenland live chiefly on meat. They have remarkably good teeth. The people who live on the Island of Tristan da Cunha, as pointed out by Dr. E. V. McCollum, live chiefly on a vegetable diet and they also have remarkably good teeth. Obviously, it is not safe to say that either a meat diet or vegetable diet is the perfect diet for good teeth.

There are numerous factors concerned in the human diet—not only organic substances but also the inorganic salts and the vitamins. It is known that deficiencies of vitamin A seriously damage the cells which give life to the teeth, and it is known that these are also likely to be injured by a lack of vitamin C. It seems possible that any injury to the tissues which give life to the teeth and which hold the teeth in position may permit infection from the blood and thereby bring about further damage. It is well known that vitamin D controls the handling of calcium by the human body and that an insufficient amount of vitamin D will prevent calcification.

ONE investigator has shown that a large dosage of vitamin C in the form of orange and lemon juices will increase resistance to dental caries. Dr. E. V. McCollum believes that deprivation of vitamin C for 20 days will bring about visible damage to the tooth pulp, and that it is possible therefore that a deficiency of vitamin C may be particularly responsible for dental caries. On the other hand, there rae some races of man which have a very low incidence of dental caries whose diets are not particularly rich in vitamin C. Moreover, rats which seem to have the ability to develop vitamin C in their own bodies show marked decay of the teeth.

IN investigations made on the pig, whose constitution more nearly resembles that of man than does the constitution of the rat, Dr. McCollum found that a diet given to the mother before birth of the offspring which did not contain the materials to prevent rickets, had little effect on the teeth of the offspring; but if either the mother or the offspring received such a diet during the suckling period, the teeth were likely to develop defects in structure and disease.

There is evidence that numerous factors are involved in proper development of the teeth. Apparently vitamins A C and D are important.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THREE DEAD-HEATS IN SUCCESS:
One of the greatest thrills of the turf was produced in a race at Newcastle-under-Lyme, England, in which four horses participated. They were handicapped by Dr. Bellyse, a famous turf figure of that day. "Taragon," owned by Sir William Wynne, and "Handel," owned by Mr. Mython, dead-heated three times during the same race. In their third attempt the two horses ran on until they reeled like drunken men and could scarcely carry their riders to the scales. "Astbury," owned by Sir John Edgerton, a third participant, finally won, although he had been beaten by the dead-heaters by a neck in the first heat.
JOHN DEWITT:
The life of John DeWitt, 78 years of age, has been filled with adventure and peril on both land and sea. Although he has been the victim of fifty accidents, ranging from sea-hurricanes and battles with sharks to a seven-story fall down an elevator shaft, he has had the good fortune to never sustain a broken bone. Mr. DeWitt lives at the Y.M.C.A. Portland, Oregon.
THE RIFLE FIRED 285,000 TIMES:
To test a newly created special cartridge, a firearms company took one of its stock .22 caliber rifles and fired it 285,000 times without cleaning the gun barrel. After the test the gun was found to be in good condition with no corrosion, pitting, or leading in the barrel.
This is attributed to the cleanliness of the cartridges used in the experiment.

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

©1931 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GYPSY McBRIDE 19-year-old typist in a New York office, is miserable and lonely when she finds that ALAN CROSBY, just returned from a year and a half in Paris studying art, no longer cares for her. Crosby is infatuated with MRS LANGLEY, wealthy divorcee, who considers herself a patron of art. Gypsy becomes disgusted with her job and when she is criticized for carelessness impulsively resigns.

She accepts an invitation from her wealthy cousin, ANNE TROWBRIDGE, to take the place of another guest at a formal dinner. The party is a bore. She leaves to get her wraps and go home, hears a noise in the next room and opens the door to see a man climbing in the window. He is JAMES WALLACE, guest of the Trowbridges, who has entered by the fire escape to avoid the dinner party guests. Wallace tells Gypsy he has just been jilted by his fiance. She admits she has had the same experience. To spite the girl he cares for Wallace asks Gypsy to marry him. She first refuses but later accepts.

They are married next morning and take the train for Forest City, arriving in the evening. At Jim's home they are greeted by his aunt, MISS ELLEN WALLACE, Who makes no secret of her hostility to the girl.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

Gypsy moved restlessly and frowned at the sunbeam that had progressed from her chin to her left eye. The sunbeam remained. She blinked the other eye, shut it again. Suddenly the girl sat bolt upright. Heavens—it must be after eight o'clock! She would never reach the office. What had happened to the alarm clock—!

She turned and stared at an unfamiliar piece of furniture—a chair upholstered in blue plush. Then, remembering everything that had happened yesterday, she sank back against the pillows.

Judging by the sunlight which streamed into the room it was the middle of the morning. Everyone else in the household had probably been up long ago. Gypsy lay still thinking about her marriage, the train trip, Jim Wallace's face last night in the fire-light, that fearful woman, Aunt Ellen.

It wasn't a dream. It had all been true.

When she finally arose the girl bathed and dressed quickly. She put on the jersey frock she had worn to the office, got out her oxfords and then changed them for the brown pumps. Instead of pinning up her hair she brushed and fastened it at the back of her neck so that the ends curled, giving her a childish look. Gypsy had not thought of this. She was trying to save time.

In the bright daylight for the first time she really noticed the furnishings of the bedroom. It was easy to see that it had been kept as a "guest room." The furniture was walnut of ornate Victorian design and each piece stood stiffly in its proper place. At the windows there were blue draperies. Blue and tan rug on the floor. Blue and tan on the dressing table. Not a single trace of anything personal—not even a cheerful bit of chintz in sight. And blue and tan were colors Gypsy always avoided.

She shut the door on the gloomy room and hurried downstairs. There was no one in sight either way she looked from the hall. Gypsy went through the living room into the dining room. Still no one in sight. As she neared the kitchen she heard voices.

Harriet who was at the stove, turned as Gypsy opened the kitchen door. "Good morning, Ma'am," she said.

"Good morning, Harriet. Is Miss Wallace about?"

"Miss Wallace's gone to market, Ma'am. She left about half an hour ago. Would you like your breakfast now? I'll get it right away."

The person to whom Harriet had evidently been talking was a small man down on his knees working at the lock of the outer door. Carpenter's tools were spread beside him on the floor.

"Any time will do," Gypsy told the cook. "I'm in no hurry."

She returned to the dining room and the view from the board windows caught her attention. The windows looked out over the sun porch. There was a garden behind the house. Gypsy thought it must be very attractive in summer. Now the trees and shrubs were bare and the grass was a faded brown. Gypsy wondered if the bushes in the dis-

County Librarian Reports Children Are Better Readers Than Are Adults

"Children are better readers than adults; they like real things," Miss Rutillia Eubank, Lubbock county librarian commented, after reporting that 30 per cent of the juvenile circulation was non-fiction as compared to only 6 per cent of the adult circulation from the main library in December, "an average month" here.

Fourteen per cent of the total circulation was of non-fiction, consisting principally of travel, biography, history and works of instruction and counsel. The interests of children seem to be broader and more heterogeneous in book selection, Miss Eubank said. Adults, however, the librarian has pointed out in the past, are displaying more interest in writings which will help them in liveaday affairs. Forty per cent of the December circulation, she said was juvenile works.

One person in three in Lubbock has a library card, she said. The average for most public libraries is about one in five, according to the librarian.

An increase in borrowers has been evident since the main county library was moved from City hall to the second floor of the courthouse, and the library is crowded all of each Saturday. The circulation last Saturday, 607, was the largest for a single day in the library's history, Miss Eubank said.

Abilene Man Named Captain Of West Texas Highway Area

Martin N. Koonsman, Abilene, a lieutenant in the state highway patrol, has been promoted to captain and placed in charge of the supervision in district No. 3, known as the West Texas division.

Eighty three counties comprise the division, from Quanah west to the state line and south through Sanderson and Del Rio. The South Plains and the Panhandle, and all of the territory west as far as El Paso is included in the area.

Captain Koonsman will continue to make his headquarters in Abilene. He will have 18 men in his command.

Widening Of Caprock Started In Dickens County Sections

Widening of the caprock in Dickens county on highway 24 was begun yesterday by maintenance department employes, Joe H. Caldwell, maintenance engineer for the state highway department announced.

The present highway is to be widened an average of six feet making the width about 30 feet or a little more. Guard rails will be moved back three feet on each side. The road is a gravel-asphalt surface.

Cotton Cotton Rallies in Late Trade — Livestock Short Feds Are Lower Wednesday — Grain Wheat Price On Swift Increase

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 20. (AP)—Cotton after ruling quiet and lower all morning rallied in the afternoon owing to a sustained advance in stock, closing the day with net declines of only 3 to 4 points.

The market became quiet active in the late trading and price advances sharply owing to continued strength of stocks. Active months advanced 10 to 11 points from the lows to new highs for the day at 6.70 for March, 6.80 for May and 7.08 for July and closed at or near the top. March closing 4 points net lower for the day and May and July 3 points net lower.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—After selling off during the earlier trading, cotton steadied in the last hour on trade buying and covering promoted by the late firmness in grain and stocks.

March contracts after easing off to 6.52 or 12 points net lower, rallied to 6.70 and closed at 6.67, with the general market closing steady at net losses of 4 to 7 points.

January sold up to 6.61 and July to 7.03 or about 6 to 9 points from the lows of the day, but closing prices were slightly off from the best.

Another demurrer said the law amounted in effect to taking property of the defendant and was in violation of the due process of law clauses of the constitution.

Other demurrers said the law violated provisions of the federal constitution which guaranteed equal protection of the law to all citizens, was discriminatory and was a price-fixing, rather than conservation measure.

Argues For Rights

Mr. Terrell made the chief argument for the defense. He declared property consists not altogether of ownership, but also embraces the right to "use, enjoy and dispose of."

"When you take away the right for a man to use his property in legitimate business," he said, "you deprive him of property in the meaning of the constitution."

After the arguments, Judge Davis recessed court until tomorrow morning, saying he would give attorneys opportunity then to introduce evidence, and, if they had none, would render a decision shortly.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP)—After vainly waiting for something to turn up, the stock market took the bit in its teeth during the last hour today and helped itself to a fairly active rally.

The late move followed an interval of extreme dullness which, in turn, had succeeded an early, temporary advance of 1 to 3 points. These gains, mostly made at the opening, were gradually dissipated, but the market's inertness while the decline was in progress discouraged sellers and helped pave the way for a flourish of short covering. Resumption of the rise in wheat and strength of some foreign bonds were factors influencing the turn. Transactions totaled 1,176,415 shares, nearly 50 per cent of the total trading occurring in the final hour and a half.

Tobaccos were stimulated by declaration of the usual $1 extra annual dividend on the Liggett and Myers stocks.

Trunk Slayings

cumstances permit, to establish "reasonable doubt of the connection "of Mrs. Judd with the slayings, and "the possibility the crime was committed by another party," harked back to the early days of the murder investigation.

The state at one time bent its investigation on the theory Mrs. Judd was not physically able, without aid to commit the slayings and ship the bodies to Los Angeles in trunks. Later the prosecution abandoned that tack. Shortly before the trial, the state was reported to have pressed again its investigation of possible accomplices, but the office of County Attorney Lloyd J. Andrews declined to confirm it.

Mrs. Judd, however, is known recently to have made new statements to her counsel, which are and may continue to be held secret, unless the trend of the trial allows defense attorneys to produce them to the defendants' advantage.

The defense hint as to possible shifting or division of the burden of guilt fell like a bombshell in the courtroom in the form of a question addressed by Lewkowitz to a prospective juror.

"If you find human life has been taken," asked Lewkowitz, "and there is no direct evidence showing connection of this defendant with the taking of human life, and the court instructs you as to circumstantial evidence and the value thereof, and the evidence raises in your mind a question as to the possibility the crime was committed by another party would you vote not guilty?"

Assistant County Attorney G. A. Rodgers interrupted the question with an objection, but the talesman was allowed to answer he would so vote, after a conference of counsel and reframing of the question by the court.

Fire Causes Heavy Loss In Plant Of Kansas City Star

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20. (AP)—Fire originating in the library of the Kansas City Star did damage estimated by officials of the newspaper at $35,000 late today and for a time threatened the southwest division headquarters of the Associated Press.

The flames, of undetermined origin, swept through a portion of the library and burned one of the broadcasting studios of WDAF, the Star's radio station; from which musicians had fled a few minutes earlier. The fire was confined to the third floor of the Star building.

A white leghorn hen in the fifth Florida national egg-laying contest laid 320 eggs in 365 days.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 20. (AP)—Short fed cattle ranged mostly 50 lower as compared with yesterday's general trade. Some centers reported as much as 75 less on medium to near choice weighty steers. Receipts at eleven markets totaling 39,300 were about 5,000 greater than last Wednesday.

Hogs were taken at steady to 15 lower figures at most markets with St. Louis scoring the day's top of 4.15.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

"It" Girl

this ideal maturity holds no terrors—for she is tomorrow's distinguished sophisticate.

The exotic girl, on the other hand, must realize that youth is her great forte, for there is nothing so painful as to witness the antics of a woman in later life attempting to be exotic. She is pitiful!

Only a fine line, but a hard one, separates the distinctive qualities of being distinguished or exotic. Some few are exotic and gloriously so. Leading the list of exotic blond actresses today comes Jean Harlow of the platinum locks, sensuous figure and revealing clothes. Greta Garbo is mildly exotic, but more distinguished. Claire Luce, on the other hand, is one of the most distinguished young women on the stage or screen. She selects exquisitely simple clothes with a connoisseur's hand, clothes that enhance her slim figure but are never very revealing. Her pale gold hair is always groomed to perfection but never exotic. She has no ostentation but is very individual.

Some Beautiful Contrasts

Two Mexican beauties give a perfect illustration of the difference between being exotic and distinguished. Lupe Velez is exotic, adorably so; Dolores del Rio is tremendously distinguished. On the stage we have Lenore Ulric, exotic brunette, and Adele Astaire, distinguished. Greta Nissen, Scandinavian actress, may be catalogued as exotic; Gloria Swanson, whose forebears also were Vikings, is distinguished. Fifi D'Orsay and Lily Damita, both French, have natural exotic allure. Irene Bordoni, another Frenchwoman, is most distinguished, with real soignee, if any woman ever had. Beatrice Lillie and Gertrude Lawrence are two more distinguished women.

Among notable Hollywood stars, the predominating number are distinguished, rather than exotic. Norma Shearer, Ina Claire, Ann Harding, Ruth Chatterton, and Joan Crawford all set standards for the 1932 American girl in what real distinction is.

tal rates to make up for the large deficit in his department.

With miscellaneous bills before it, the senate passed one to repeal the section of the postal act under which Brown had asked the interstate commerce commission to advance postal rates. Senators contended the section was not intended for any such sweeping changes as Brown has proposed. The measure went to the house.

The senate agreed to vote tomorrow on a proposal by Senator Bingham, (R., Conn.) who has sponsored the beer measures, that it go on record as favoring that governors call referenda to get the sentiments of their states on prohibition.

nard M. Baruch and Angus McLean, former North Carolina governor, both Democarts, have been suggested as fitting running mates to the Republicans, Dawes and Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, already named.

Beverly originally was a Texan and learned his Spanish in sections close to the Mexican border. He was graduated from law school there also.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Jan. 20. (AP) — Cash grain demand, fair.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate or group three points:

Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 60@61; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 61@62; 14 per cent 64@66; 14 per cent 69@70; 16 per cent 71@72.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 68@70; No. 2 kaffir 67@69.

Delivered group one points: Corn, No. 2 mixed 42@44; No. 2 white 44@46; No. 2 yellow 47@48 1-2.

Delivered group three points: Oats, No. 2 red 24@25.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (AP)—In a sudden outburst of buying wheat prices made a lightning-like advance at the close today.

Quick changes of front on the part of speculative traders appeared to be chiefly responsible for the day's net gain in wheat values. Earlier, the market had been oppressed by reports of heavy chartering of vessels to carry grain from Russia and Argentina.

Wheat closed nervous at the day's top level, 3-8 to 1 above yesterday's finish, corn 1-8 to 1-2 up, oats unchanged to 1-8 off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2 cents.

NEWS BRIEFS

About two feet of drop cord were destroyed when the cord shorted out at 2114 Avenue O about 7:35 Wednesday morning. The fire department was called. No damage resulted except to the cord.

Construction of 20 miles on highway No. 137 between Seminole and Seagraves is expected to start soon, Harry N. Stone, in Lubbock Tuesday, said. Stone is editor of the Seminole Sentinel. Highway engineers have moved into Gaines county and the contractor is looking over the ground.

Theodore Scruggs, a negro arrested in Sweetwater as a suspect in theft of several men's suits here and subsequently shot when he tried to escape the Nolan county jail, has been returned here and is being held in the hospital ward of the Lubbock county jail.

Ted Roy Gray Wednesday filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in federal court. Gray lists his liabilities at $1,272 and his assets at $10,862. He claims all the property exempt.

Several Lubbock residents attended a Four-H club meeting Wednesday night at Grovesville, when awards won by club boys and girls were given out. Attending were District Attorney Durwood Bradley, County Agent D. F. Eaton, R. F. Humphries, Harley Kelley, L. O. Abshier, J. H. Brock and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Blair.

form movements growing out of criticism of law enforcement. The bill before the legislature would relieve him of criminal prosecutions and place that task in the hands of an assistant to the territorial attorney general.

Winn's motion also charges that Gilliland gave to the newspapers statements allegedly made by Mrs. Fortescue and Jones, thereby prejudicing the rights of all four to a fair and impartial trial.

The defense counsel also alleged that Gilliland had completed the investigation upon which the murder charge was based but was postponing grand jury action pending appointment of a special prosecutor or enactment of the bill transferring the prosecution to another official.

Program Is Pushed

Pressing on in its effort to clean up Hawaii and further shield women against the possibility of criminal attack, the territorial government advanced its reform program another notch.

The house of representatives passed and sent to the senate a bill to reorganize Honolulu's police department.

Governor Lawrence M. Judd submitted to the special session of the legislature a bill eliminating from the present law a provision barring juries from convicting men of criminal attack on the uncorroborated testimony of a woman.

It is said that the 300,000 tons of material used in constructing the Empire State building in New York contained about $17,000 worth of radium.

Two New Candidates Added To List As 'Straw Vote' Passes 500 Total

a single Communist vote has yet been received.

"Stand Pats" In Lead

Incidental to the Presidential poll, being conducted by The Avalanche-Journal at the request of James A. Farley, chairman of the New York State Democratic committee, is a tabulation bearing upon party loyalty. In the vote thus far the 'stand-patters' are continuing to show a healthy lead over their undecided and more independent brethren.

Of the votes thus far, 290 will support their party nominees regardless of whom they may be; 103 flatly refuse to promise loyalty to any party and 141 declined to comment on whether they would or would not 'stand hitched'. Two others said they'd support their party (Republican judging from the votes cast for Herbert Hoover) providing the nominees were drys.

Interest Is Natural

Considerable interest is attached to the party loyalty angle of the 'straw vote', due to the fight waged over the Democratic party pledge in this area in 1928 and the fact that Texans bolted the party to put their state in the GOP column for Herbert Hoover. Judging from Mr. Hoover's short vote thus far and coupled with the over-powering lead of the 'stand-patters', Texans generally will 'stand hitched' in the coming elections.

Vote To Continue

The 'straw vote' will be continued throughout this week or as long as any ballots continue to come in. Any resident of Lubbock county or the South Plains, or any visitor here, whether they be male or female, is permitted and urged to cast a 'straw vote' ballot.

Merely clip the accompanying coupon on the front page and bring or mail it to "The Straw Vote Editor", care The Avalanche-Journal, Lubbock.

NOTICE TO 'VOTERS'

It is not necessary for any voter to sign his name to any ballot in this 'straw vote', although he may do so if he wishes.

A vote may be cast for any person whom the voter considers worthy of the Presidency, whether his name appears on the front page ballot, or not. There is a space on the ballot where the name of a candidate may be written at the volition of the person casting the ballot.

The part of the vote pertaining to supporting the nominee of either party may or may not be included in any ballot, at the volition of the individual voter. That part of the ballot is in no sense a pledge and is included merely for statistical purposes and at the request of Chairman James A. Farley, of the New York State Executive committee.

Birthday Of Southerner Is Observed At Rotary Meeting

The birthday of General Robert E. Lee was observed at the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday at Hotel Lubbock in a program presented by the Lubbock chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Jack Randall was in charge of the program.

A brief history and purpose of the U. D. C. was given by Miss Della Wilkinson and Mrs. Sue McMurry, 76-year-old member of the chapter, made "her first public appearance" in reading a paper on Robert E. Lee. Others on the program included Mrs. L. C. Tatom, Mrs. A. W. Evans, Mrs. H. O. Waters and Mrs. Sue Griffith.

Visiting Rotarians were: R. C. Donald, Slaton and P. J. Mims, Midland. Other visitors were: C. G. Feirabend, Amarillo; Frank Elkins, Bob Martin, M. C. Ulmer and J. C. Miles, Midland.

Resident Engineer Will Be Stationed In Garza County

A resident highway engineer for Garza county, to be stationed at Post and who will prepare plans and specifications for the construction of highway No. 7 across that county, will be selected this week, said Guy R. Johnston, construction engineer for this district, Wednesday.

The proposed new road will shorten the distance between Post and Lubbock.

"Our biggest problem is obtaining a right of way across the corner of Lynn county from Lubbock county to Garza," the local engineer said. It is now planned to shorten the present distance between Slaton and Southland, as well as between Southland and Post.

The state is sending Mr. Johnston a list of available resident engineers of the department. From this group he will select one for the post in Garza county. This week the engineers and the commissioners court of Garza county met to discuss final plans.

Local Drive For Members Started

Lubbock's drive to secure its quota of 250 memberships in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was launched at a meeting at the local chamber Wednesday morning, but no report of the first day's results were available last night.

Eight team captains, directing the work of 54 lieutenants, attended an instruction meeting yesterday morning and then began solicitation of memberships. Homer D. Grant is general director of the campaign.

The campaign will be continued today and first reports to be compiled are expected. Twenty cities affiliated with the organization have reported their membership drives completed late yesterday, Wilbur C. Hawk of Amarillo, first vice-president and chairman of the general campaign, said.

Drives in the larger cities where the bulk of the $45,000 budget will be raised were late getting underway. Fort Worth is raising the largest quota, $16,000, under the direction of Amon G. Carter.

Another Bank For Plainview Talked

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 20. (Special)—The Plainview Board of City Development has been informed by Bob and Nick Alley that they desire to open a bank in Plainview.

Bob Alley, Hale Center rancher and banker, is associated with his brother and others in the First National bank of Hale Center, in which the two recently increased their holdings to strengthen it for the larger business it is developing.

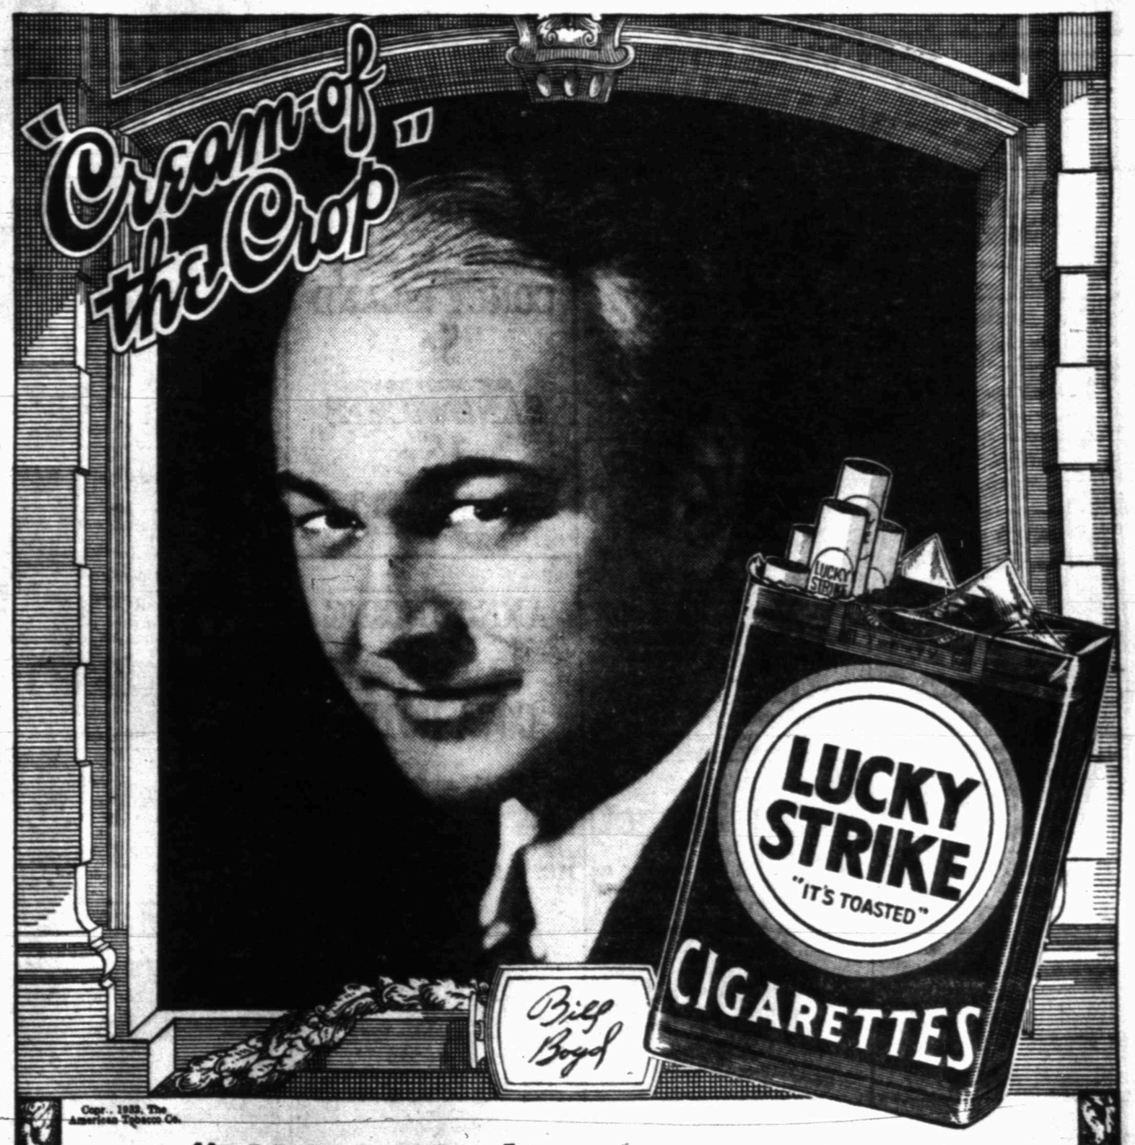

"I hope to be able to dispose of a large part of my ranch holdings and to be able to devote more time to banking interests," Mr. Alley told the board.

The Alleys have made application to the comptroller of the currency for a charter for a national bank here with a capital stock of $50,000. "If this is granted, we are ready and when the deposits reach $500,000 we will double the capital stock making it $100,000."

Don't neglect a COLD

DISTRESSING cold in chest or throat—that so often leads to something serious—generally responds to good old Musterole with the first application. Should be more effective if used once every hour for five hours.

This famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. Musterole gets action because it is a scientific "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain. Used by millions for 20 years. Recommended by doctors and nurses.

Keep Musterole handy—jars and tubes.

To Mothers—Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Cochran Test To Be Plugged

Oil And Gas Division Of Railroad Commission Orders Activities To Cease; Is Fifth Test In County

Finis has been written to the fifth oil test in Cochran county by order of the oil and gas division of the Railroad Commission of Texas to plug the Penn No. 1 Slaughter on the Carrie B. Slaughter lands three miles south and west of Lehman.

The order to plug was issued after the hole had been bottomed at 5,052 feet, fifty feet below where a "good showing" of oil was found recently and 52 feet below the contract depth.

An inspector of the division was to have given instructions to well employes to plug the hole this week.

Sulphur water was found at 4,917 feet the Saturday before Christmas. Several hours later Robert R. Penn, who with Glenn Black was drilling the test, died at Bledsoe from accidental wounds received when his shotgun was discharged, caused by a car jolt.

Mr. Black continued the drilling to the contract depth of 5,000 feet. He then decided to drill 50 feet further as oil showings were reported good. When these failed to increase below that depth the decision was made to plug the hole. Permission was granted by the oil and gas commission.

Gas estimated at between 50,000 and 100,000 cubic feet was found at below 4,700 feet. Oil showings, including a rainbow, also were picked up. Oil men estimated the showings were not enough to indicate satisfactory production quantities.

A radio broadcasting station at Pensacola, Fla., is to be sold at auction.

H. W. Hollyfield For Precinct Post

H. W. Hollyfield, a resident of Shallowater for the past thirteen years, Wednesday announced his candidacy for public weigher of precinct four subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Mr. Hollyfield is an experienced man in the handling of cotton and says he feels capable of serving the people of the community in an able manner. It is his first time to run for office.

Mr. Hollyfield moved to Lubbock county from Jack county in 1919.

"I will appreciate the vote and influence of all my friends and will endeavor to fulfill the duties of the office to the best of my ability," Mr. Hollyfield said.

Plans For Cochran Paving Checked By State Engineer

Plans for paving and caliche work in Cochran county between Morton, county seat and Whiteface, are now in Austin being checked by the state engineer's office according to Guy R. Johnston, construction engineer for the district.

Meantime the attorney general's department has taken up the matter of condemning right-of-way for the road. What action has been taken is not known here.

County commissioners have purchased approximately 40 per cent of the necessary right-of-way, it is understood. Some of the larger land owners are said to be asking higher prices than the commissioner's court is so far willing to pay.

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

tance were lilac. She had always wanted a garden with lilac bushes and old-fashioned hollyhocks and poppies. There at the left was a sun dial. Yes, it must be a lovely place in summer time. Two months, Jim had said, before the trees would begin leafing out.

Two months would be in May. Gypsy, wondering absently what the date might be, suddenly started. Yesterday, her wedding day, had been March 5. Surely she should have remembered.

Harriet entered the room and as she heard her Gypsy turned. "How good everything looks!" the girl said.

The cook smiled. "I hope you'll like it, Ma'am." She put the tray down and set out the dishes. There was a plate of curling bacon and an omlet, golden-brown, that sent up steaming, delicious odors. Under a folded napkin was the toast and beside it a dish of honey. Harriet poured the coffee and at the first whiff of its fragrance Gypsy realized she was hungry.

The food was good. Gypsy had finished the last crumb of toast and was drinking her second cup of coffee when she heard a noise in the front part of the house. Someone had come in. The girl straightened, every nerve taut, then pushed back her chair and rose. She went into the living room.

On the threshold she faced—not Miss Wallace as she had expected—but Jim.

"Why—good morning—"

Jim laughed. "Good morning," he said, "You look as though I surprised you. Had breakfast?"

She said she had just finished.

"Then how about coming for a drive? I thought you might like to have a look at the town.

"I'd love to!" I can be ready in just a minute!"

"Fine. I decided to take the day off. Think a man ought to when he gets married, don't you?"

Gypsy had not known until the minute she saw Jim how much she had been dreading a day with his aunt. "I certainly do," she said. "I think it's a grand idea."

She hurried away to get her wraps on. Half way up the stairs she heard Jim calling and stopped.

"Better bundle up in something warm," he warned her. "The sun's shining but the wind is cold."

She agreed and went on. When she came down again she wore her suit with a yellow sweater under it. The little brown hat slanted at a debonaire angle across her forehead.

Jim was not in sight. For an instant the girl was puzzled. Then she stepped out on the porch. Out in the driveway was a long, dark green roadster and Jim Wallace was at the wheel. He waved and the fox terrier beside him yelped at the sight of her.

Gypsy ran forward.

"What a beautiful car!" she exclaimed. "No wonder you're so proud of it. Phil's eyes certainly would open to see this."

"Like it? Suits me pretty well. Are you ready?"

Gypsy hesitated. "Shouldn't I leave some word so your aunt will know what's become of me?"

"I'll do that. You get in."

While Jim was in the house Gypsy used the time to become further acquainted with the little dog. He was willing to let her stroke his head and rub the under side of his neck but Pat could not be persuaded to move from his post next to the driver. Evidently this arrangement was official.

The girl was coaxing him to no avail when Pat straightened and barked. Wallace was coming toward them.

"I told Harriet we didn't know when we'd be back," he said, climbing into the car. "Here, Pat, what's this nonsense—"

The dog quieted and sat up very straight between them.

"Does he bother you there?" Jim asked. "I'll make him get down on the floor. Get down, Pat."

Gypsy objected. "Let him stay", she said. "He's all right." To emphasize the fact she rubbed the black place between the dog's ears.

Wallace started the engine and without further delay they moved down the driveway. It was a clear spring morning—bright but with a chilly nip in the wind. To the right and left of the Wallace place were houses with the same deep lawns and hedges in place of fences.

"Why—it's just like a park!" the girl declared. She was looking at the tall trees on either side of the street. Some of them were huge, stretching their branches over the sidewalk.

"I like this street," Wallace agreed. "Summer evenings about six o'clock when you come along here the sun is down behind the trees and the light shines through the leaves. They look almost like pure gold then. That's when I like it best."

"It must be lovely," Gypsy said. "Oh, look at that beautiful house—"

"You mean the brick one? Hendersons live there. Sally Henderson came home from college last spring and fixed the place up. Sally's a nice girl. I'm sure you'll like her. Of course this isn't really the show part of town. The newer places are out on Gilford road. Sam Meyers, who owns the cosmetics factory, lives out there. Willis, president of the First National bank, has just built a new house they call an Italian villa. We'll swing out that way if you'd like."

The tour of inspection included a drive past the Italian villa and its imposing neighbors. They rode on to the Glendale Club which was the more exclusive of Forest City's two country clubs, then took a side road and came back past the Golf and Tennis where Jim said he played golf whenever he could spare the time.

Gypsy marveled at the level distances stretching off to each side of the road. It had been such a little while since they started and here they were in what must be country!

"Jackson's Creek is off that way," Wallace said with a wave to the right. "Used to swim there when I was a kid. Skate, too. Do you like to skate?"

"I've never tried it," Gypsy admitted. "The only sports I had much experience at as a kid were jumping rope and playing hop-scotch. That's about all you can do on a city sidewalk." She laughed.

Jim turned toward her. "Say, that must have been tough! I'd forgotten you've always lived in New York. Wait a minute—there's something I want you to see—"

He turned the car and they drove in silence until presently he pulled up at the side of the road.

"Now, then," said Jim, "look at that!"

To the left across a low valley lay Forest City. The girl had not realized they had come so far. The towers of its half dozen high downtown buildings stood out boldly. In either direction stretched lower structures, straggling city blocks with occassional dark patches that were trees or open spaces. Beyond this nondescript skyline, reaching over and above them, was the bluest of blue skies, flecked here and there with fleecy cloud masses. The cold yellow sunshine gave the panorama brilliance.

The girl's eyes were fastened on the azure distance. "It's wonderful, Jim," she said.

"I always like to come to this place," he told her. "Discovered it myself." He began to point out municipal landmarks, when suddenly he stopped.

"You're shivering, Gypsy. Why didn't you tell me you were cold? That little coat you've got on isn't enough to keep you warm. Why, didn't you say something?"

She insisted she was not cold. There was no robe. Wallace started to take off his own coat but she indignantly refused it. He turned the roadster back toward the city.

"We'll stop at the Carlton," he announced. "Get you warmed up there and have lunch. No use to drive clear out to the house."

The Carlton was Forest City's best hotel. Jim was greeted by several acquaintances as they walked through the lobby and Gypsy felt eyes upon her. The head waiter called Jim "Mr. Wallace," and was solicitious about their luncheon.

It was an excellent meal. The warm room flushed Gypsy's cheeks becomingly. After the morning out of doors both of them were in good spirits and hungry.

Jim had been telling her about an amusing law case and the girl was laughing when she noticed two women across the room. Mother and daughter they seemed to be Gypsy saw that the older woman was watching them and resented her scrutiny.

"Jim," she said finally, "who is that woman across the room? She's been watching us."

Wallace turned his head, glanced back quickly. "Someone I don't care to meet," he said in a lowered voice. "Let's get out of here."

It was too late. Already the couple had arisen and were walking toward them.

Youth Tells Of Being Held By Kidnap Band And Released; Mistaken Identity Given As Cause Of Escape

AMARILLO, Jan. 20. (AP)—Warrington Durrance, 23, who came here four days ago from El Paso, told police he was "taken for a ride" last night and escaped only because of doubt concerning his identity.

Durrance said he was forced by two armed men to enter a motor car on a down town street and was taken to a house where he was identified by several men and two women.

"They kept asking me about somebody I didn't know," he said.

After being guarded by armed men for three hours, Durrance said he was taken into the country about 10 miles, stripped of most of his clothing and released. He was brought to town at midnight by a ranchman.

Police said they believed Durrance was mistaken for a "stool pigeon" in a recent Panhandle bank robbery.

First Course Of Caliche Finished

The first course of caliche on highway No. 7 between the Mullican caliche pit and the Hockley county line has been finished according to Joe Caldwell, maintenance engineer of the highway department. Distance is about three or four miles.

A second course is to be added. Just as soon as the section between the county line and Shallowater has had two courses of caliche, traffic will be turned onto the road.

Thirteen and a half inches of caliche, in two courses, is being spread. This, when watered and rolled, will make about ten inches of base. Plans call for a nine inch base, but engineers believe that the base will be at least ten inches.

Seven pits are located along the right of way. The caliche found so far has been of a better hardening quality than had been expected.
