Death of 14 Children Blamed on Poisoned Bread

TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI) — Authorities worked frantically today to isolate the source of bread poisoned by a liquid pesticide called parathion that has killed at least 14 children and jammed hospitals with 100 other persons.

Police banned the sale and distribution of bread and other flour products in this border city and interrogated five men connected with the local bakery industry in a race against death.

Two antidotes to parathion are Known—apropine and another drug nicknamed "pam." Doctors in the city's crowded hospitals and clinics were advised of the treatment but it was not known whether the life-saving drugs were available locally.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Hector Valdivia, the official in charge of the emergency, said 14 children had died so far from eating the poisoned bread. Many others were in critical condition and not expected to live.

More than 220 persons, most of them critically ill children, were treated at hospitals Monday and Tuesday, but by early today the number of patients in hospitals, clinics and sanitariums had declined to about 100.

The poison was traced by chemical analysis of a single slice of bread sent to the California Department of Agriculture in Sacramento Tuesday.

Robert Z. Rollins, chief of chemistry for the department, said parathion was present in the slice and said it was possible the deadly pesticide was spilled on bags of flour in a warehouse or in transit to bakeries.

Public health officials here at first believed contaminated milk was responsible for the deaths because of what they were told by the mothers of the stricken children.

Rollins said, however, no contaminants were found in samples of the suspected milk or in water samples sent to Sacramento.

Newspapers, radio and television stations advised listeners to refrain from eating bread and flour products. Bakeries were ordered to halt production and distribution of bread until further notice and store owners withdrew stocks of bread from their shelves.

Parathion, an organic phosphate, is widely used as a pesticide in agriculture, particularly on vegetable and cotton crops. It is also used as a rat poison.

Symptoms of the poisoning were vomiting, foaming at the mouth, convulsions and fever. Death usually followed within two to four hours in the severe cases.

Worst Appears Over As Flood Waters Hit Crest

GRAVESITE of the late President Kennedy (arrow) is now in its permanent surroundings with the completion of landscaping at the Arlington, Va., cemetery.

Forty-One Known Dead From Floods

HARLINGEN, Tex. (UPI) — The Arroyo Colorado, whose floods from Hurricane Beulah spread over one-fourth of the Rio Grande Valley town reached a crest today and officials hope the worst was over in Texas most severe floods in history.

"It looks like we have reached a crest," Arthur Moore, project director for the International Boundary and Water Commission said today.

"Late this afternoon or tonight, we might see a drop, but this is problematical." He said the flood water volume is so great that even with a crest, the decline would be drawn out.

More than 10,000 persons—about a quarter of the population of Harlingen, a south Texas city of 41,000—were out of their homes as flood waters from Hurricane Beulah, raged up to the roofs of houses. Another 40,000 Texans were homeless for hundreds of miles up the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, ravaged for a week by Beulah's winds, tides, tornadoes and floods.

Mexico was awash from the Gulf Coast to the Pacific in the most extensive floods of the 20th century in that country.

Beulah had killed 41, driven hundreds of thousands from their homes, and inflicted $1 billion damages on 1 million people as the great floods—last chapter in the disaster—entered their final stage.

"The picture is brightening," Moore said, adding that diversion tactics in northern Mexico hold promise that Matamoros, sister city of Brownsville, Texas, will escape severe new flooding.

Some had feared the Arroyo Colorado, a "safety valve" floodway for Rio Grande floods, might crest as high as 50 feet, but the reading was 44.3 this morning and even showed a fractional drop in one reading.

Police in Harlingen ordered the evacuation of Millerborg's Nursing Home to St. Anthony's school.

A water main broke today at the Arroyo Colorado and Baptist Valley Hospital was without fresh water and had to call for 2,000 quarts to be delivered to it.

Evacuation of western parts of Harlingen was completed without incident or loss of life. picku 6th pgh: Meanwhile,

Meanwhile, some 160 miles north of the valley, the Nueces River, boiling to four miles in some places, pushed its huge flood crest into Corpus Christi Bay and the Gulf f Mexico.

General Drive For Pampa's UF To Open Oct. 5.

The general drive for Pampa's United Fund will open Oct. 5 and run through Oct. 19, it was announced today by J. C. Roberts, chairman of the UF general solicitations division.

Thirty-five majors and captains of the division met yesterday with Roberts at the Boy Scout assembly room and set plans to kick off the campaign with a 7 o'clock Early Bird breakfast at Coronado Inn on the morning of Oct. 5.

Roberts said a fast moving program has been arranged for the breakfast meeting of general solicitation workers.

"We'll be through by 8 o'clock," Roberts said, "in order that workers can get started on their solicitation of more than a thousand prospects."

The following majors and captains are recruiting workers. George McCarroll, major of Boy Scout section, with captains Jimmie Thompson, Robert Karr, Harold Chapman, Norman Shaw, Kenneth Dunn, and William H. Tuke.

John McCausland, major of the Girl Scout section, with captains Kay Fancher, Mrs. A. S. Bonner, Mrs. Fred Dunn, Mrs. Jack Miller and John McCausland.

Major Rev. Walter White, with captains Mac Woffard, Charles Duenkel Jr., Marion N. Roberts, Wayne Hampton, and L. D. Langford.

Major Jim Hughes, with captains, Bill Adams, Norman Frotzler, Cameron Marsh, Doil Douhit and Don Williamson.

Major Ray Duncan, with captains Ray Thompson, Harold Miller, Verl Hagaman, John W. Warner, and Archie Maness.

Major Harold Dougherty, with captains Bill Weatherbee, Dorothy Holcom, Mrs. Gene Barber, and Charles Stewart.

The American Red Cross and the Salvation Army also are recruiting captains and workers, Roberts stated.

The 1967 United Fund goal is $82,000.

Young Teacher Stabbed, Killed By School Dropout

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—A young high school football coach was stabbed to death Tuesday by a dropout who came to the scrimmage field to heckle the freshman team.

Thomas Prinz, 21, a first year teacher and coach of the freshman team at Wilbur Wright High School, was stabbed repeatedly by a youth who had been "riding" the coach and his team during practice, police said.

Willie Dixon, 19, was held for investigation.

"We had been scrimmaging with another team," player Paul Greger said. "This kid had been riding Mr. Prinz and our team for not doing well in a scrimmage.

"When the coach asked the kid to leave, he pushed Mr. Prinz," Greger said. He said Prinz then tried to escort the youth off the field.

"That's when the kid pulled what looked like a butcher knife out of his pants and started stabbing—Mr. Prinz," Greger said. "It all happened so fast. I think he was stabbed about eight times. Mr. Prinz fell on the kid and was bleeding pretty badly."

"There had been about 60 of us (players) standing around real close, but everything happened so fast. When we realized what had happened everybody went over and grabbed the kid and started beating him up."

Prinz was pronounce dead on arrival at Miami Valley Hospital, the same hospital where Dixon was treated for a cut under his left eye suffered in the fracas with the players after the stabbing.

Prinz, a June graduate of the University of Dayton, was on his first teaching and coaching job.

He was married less than two months ago.

Arab Terrorist Groups Stopped

United Press International

Israeli authorities said today they have broken the backs of two Arab terrorist organizations that have carried out sabotage raids against Israeli villages near occupied Jordan in the wake of the June war.

Israeli army officials disclosed a sweeping operation that has so far netted at least 113 members of the El Fatah and Palestine Liberation Front (PLF) sabotage groups. One of the suspects was Afa Khamayes, an alleged leader of the PLF.

As part of the operation Israeli army troops Tuesday blew up three Arab houses in Israeli-occupied Jordan said to have been bases for the sabotage gangs. Spokesmen said footprints from Israel's Galam starch and glucose factory, damaged by a terrorist bomb Sunday, led to the three Arab houses.

In addition Israeli authorities said they seized arms caches and ammunition in four other Arab houses.

Officials said the Arab terrorists may be put before Israeli military courts with authority to mete out the death sentence.

The stern measures announced by Israeli authorities did not seem to deter another terrorist organization, the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), whose chief, Ahmed Shukiery, said in a Cairo interview with the Algerian news agency APS that his agents would continue raids against Israel.

Swimsuit Doesn't Quite Cover It

DALLAS (UPI) —When the swimsuit was bought at a discount store June 24 "there was an implied warranty that it would clothe and cover the various parts of the anatomy a swimsuit is meant to cover," the irate Grand Praire Tex. father said in a lawsuit.

"Shortly later," the suit in Justice of the Peace Tom Naylo.s court sa.. "while at an outing at the public swim area at Grand Prairie Lake . . . she (the daughter of the irate father) noticed a group of people pointing in her direction and laughing."

It was then, the 13-year-old girl discovered, that when wet the swim suit became transparent, the suit said.

"It was revealing and displaying all her maidenly charms in toto," the suit contended.

Lawyer Samuel Paternostro asked $190 in damages.

Grand Jury Probing Plot to Free Hoffa

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A federal grand jury, looking into an alleged conspiracy to free Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa from a jury tampering conviction, was to continue its investigation today.

U. S. Atty. Louis C. Lacour would not comment on who was to appear at today's hearing.

Walter Sheridan, an investigator for the National Broadcasting Co., Zachary A. Strate, Edward M. Baldwin and Pershing Grevais appeared before the jury Tuesday.

After Tuesday's hearing, Sheridan denied that he offered to help free Hoffa in exchange for aid in discrediting the Kennedy assassination investigation in New Orleans.

Sheridan was an aide to former U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy during the investigations by the Justice Department which led to Hoffa's conviction.

The NBC investigator said he met Strate because he had been told he could obtain information concerning Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's assassination investigation.

Sheridan said Strate wanted to get Hoffa out of jail with information he could give him about bugging and wiretapping during Hoffa's jury tampering trial at Chattanooga.

"I told him there was no bugging in Chattanooga," Sheridan told newsmen.

Strate was convicted along with Hoffa on charges of conspiracy and fraud in 1964. He testified in Chicago last month that Sheridan offered to help in return for aid in discrediting the Kennedy investigation.

The investigation started when it was reported that Baton Rouge, La., Teamster official Edward G. Partin had been offered a bribe to change his testimony at the Hoffa hearing.

Partin, who testified for the government at the jury tampering conviction, has reportedly been offered $1 million to testify that wire-tapping evidence had been used to convict Hoffa.

Pampa Taxpayers Get Bills Under New Rate

The $1.72 city tax rate set by the Pampa City Commission yesterday will be collected on a total assessed property valuation of $48,994,950, it was revealed today by City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones.

The 1967 property valuation figure, set by the City Tax Equalization Board, fixes real estate assessed value at $39,076,970 and personal property at $9,917,980.

The city's 1966 total assessed property valuation was $47,453,760. The increase in the 1967 tax roll amounts to $1,541,190. The tax rate adopted yesterday is a 12-cent increase from $1.60 to $1.72 on each $100 of assessed valuation.

Jones said the new tax rate on the new property valuation establishes a levy of $672,123.88 on real estate and $170,589.26 on personal property for a total tax levy of $842,713.14. The 1966 total tax levy was $759,260.16.

Notices to city taxpayers went into the mail yesterday, Jones stated.

Payments can be made from now through Jan. 31, 1968, without penalty or interest.

Taxes will become delinquent on Feb. 1, 1968, when a 2 per cent penalty plus one-half of one per cent interest will be charged, based on 6 per cent per annum. On March 1 the penalty goes to 4 per cent, on April 1 to 6 per cent and on May 1 the maximum of 8 per cent penalty goes into effect.

Sheriff's Officers Probing Burglaries

Gray County Sheriff's officers were investigating today four burglaries that apparently occurred late Tuesday night or early this morning, all on Price Road.

Hardest hit was International Harvester, where $238.85 was taken out of a safe.

First hit was Waukesha Co. where tools were taken, then came the I. W. Tinney Lumber Co. where hammers and screwdrivers were missing.

The burglar or burglars then went to International Harves-

PRESIDENT BRAINWASHED?

Morton Calls for De-escalation of War

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Thruston B. Morton, breaking with other Republican leaders, today called for a sharp de-escalation of the Vietnam war, including a halt in U.S. bombing of the north and an end to "search and destroy" missions.

The Kentucky senator, a former national party chairman, charged that President Johnson had been "brainwashed" on Vietnam as far back as 1961 by the U.S. "military-industrial complex". President Eisenhower warned against in his farewell address.

"I believe he (Johnson) has been mistakenly committed to a military solution in Vietnam for the past five years—with only a brief pause during the election campaign of 1964 to brainwash the American people," Morton said in a speech prepared for delivery before the National Committee of Business Executives Move for Peace in Vietnam.

The newly organized group, headed by Baltimore insurance executive Henry E. Niles and Los Angeles industrialist Harold Willens, was holding a day-long conference to mobilize opposition to the war among the nation's businessmen.

Morton, who said he had been wrong to support escalation of the war in early 1965, contended that a "crisis of confidence and credibility threatens to undermine the nation's hopes for economic and social progress here at home."

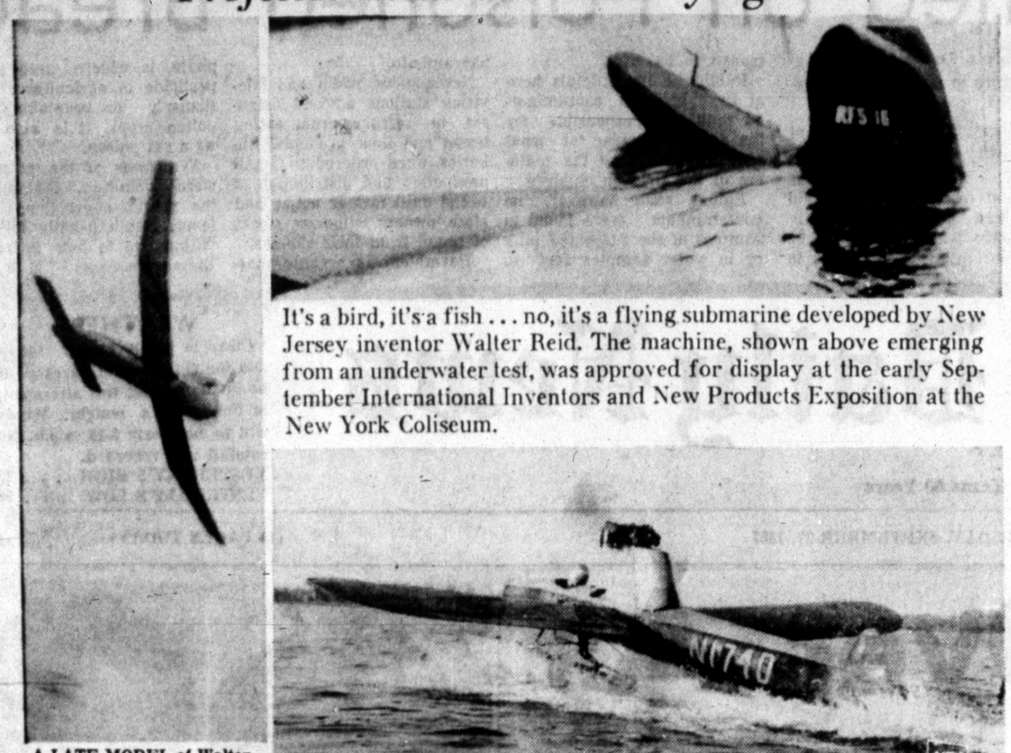

He said, "Vietnam stands in the way" of the No. 1 priority of U.S. foreign policy—"to reach an accord with the Soviet Union"—and makes American principles and programs suspect in the eyes of the world.

Morton's speech came less than 24 hours after Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., sharply criticized another GOP senator, Clifford P. Case, N.J., for attacking the President's conduct of the war.

Referring to Case's speech, Dirksen told newsmen it is "not a very happy thing to say, but when you're engaged in mortal, bloody conflict, you don't give the enemy any comfort—not a bit." He and House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford, Mich., have taken a hawk stance on the war.

—Morton, who was an assistant secretary of state when President Eisenhower first decided to send a small group of U.S. military "advisers" to Vietnam in 1956, said that unless the United States "gradually and, if necessary, unilaterally" reduces its military involvement it may destroy the society it sought to save.

Professor Reid and His Flying Sub

It's a bird, it's a fish . . . no, it's a flying submarine developed by New Jersey inventor Walter Reid. The machine, shown above emerging from an underwater test, was approved for display at the early September International Inventors and New Products Exposition at the New York Coliseum.

A LATE MODEL of Walter Reid's flying sub, designed with gull wings, is shown in a test flight. Reid's brain child derives airborne power from single prop mounted atop the fuselage.

FLYING SUBMARINE skims over the water in a test run made by inventor Walter Reid, who says his machine is capable of both flying and submerging, and that it reacts to commands in a manner similar to a Polaris missile. Tests were made on the Shrewsbury River near the Asbury Park airport.

Johnny Still Singing

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Whatever happened to the crying singer, Johnny Ray?

"That's the question everybody asks me—'whatever happened to you'?" Ray recounted the other day.

"I've been touring the world, playing every country this side of the Iron Curtain. My agents and managers booked me out of the country, so I was a star almost every place but at home.

"Back in 1953 when my records were big hits I didn't expect international recognition. And at first I thought the screaming teen-agers were fun and that I'd n ever get 10 minutes older.

"Now I know better. I spent almost the entire year of 1965 in Spain doing nothing because I was tired of working and traveling. I even began writing my autobiography just for something to do."

Ray moved back to Malibu, Calif., last year and found the going tough. Elvis Presley had come along. So had all the far-out singing groups that are currently the rage.

Johnnie still plays an occasional nightclub to keep the larder filled. But he is aiming for anew career as a dramatic actor.

"His last movie was a creaky old-fashioned musical, "There's No Business Like Show Business," at 20th Century-Fox back in 1954.

Now, 13 years later, he plays a cop in a low budget Paramount film, "Rogue's Gallery," starring Roger Smith. It only amounted to a couple of days work, but Johnnie considers it a beginning.

"I got rid of all my managers and agents," he explained. "I never wanted to be a singer in the first place. I feel as if I'm starting all over again in Hollywood."

Ray is stall, slender and wears his blond hair shaggy. His voice sounds the same, but he has lost the baby-faced quality that once had teen-agers squealing at the sight of him.

Ray likes to think there is a parallel between his career and Frank Sinatra's. It was Frankie's oscar-winning supporting role in "From Here To Eternity" that revived Sinatra's waning career and brought him back to the top.

Ray hopes the same lightning will strike him.

Services Slated for TU Regents Wife

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Frank C. Erwin Jr., wife of the chairman of the board of regents of the University of Texas, died Tuesday at her home following a long illness. She was 48.

Carson County Historical Dedication Set for Oct. 10

PANHANDLE (Spl) — The dedication of the Carson County Square House Museum and the Opal Weatherly Purvines Annex is expected to attract large crowds in Panhandle on Tuesday, Oct. 10. Mrs. Ralph E. Randel, chairman of the Carson County Historical Survey Committee, stated it is expected many Texans, and others, will travel long distances for the occasion.

The special session for pioneer families, a tea to be held in the War Memorial Bldg. in Panhandle at 1:30 p.m. has created much interest in many areas. The Carson County Federated Clubs will sponsor the tea with Mrs. Minor Simms in charge.

At 2 p.m., attending officials of government, private enterprises, educational institutions and others will be entertained at the Randel home with a tea. Co-sponsors with the Ralph Randels will be the Harold O'Neals and the O. M. Spurlocks. Among those who have indicated their intentions of being present and to take part in the dedications are Dr. Dorman Winfrey, Texas state librarian; Dr. and Mrs. Newton Robinson of Amarillo, Joe Woodward of Dallas, a national director, and Director C. C. Michel of Odessa.

Immediate Past President of the Texas Historical Survey Committee, John Ben Shepherd, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and former attorney general of Texas, will be the guest speaker and will participate in several of the day's features.

The formal dedication will take place at 3 p.m. on the East Lawn of the Carson County Courthouse. Following the dedication, a barbecue will be held at the Carson County Agricultural Bldg.

NEW YORK (UPI)—C.B. Richard, Ellis & Co., says most of the market seems headed into new all-time high territory. The analyst says that while buying should be done, "selectivity" should be the "key note."

The Dines Letter says the trend of the market for the near term is still upward even though "it is moving into a speculative peak area." The investment adviser says it has little doubt the Dow Jones industrial average "will make a good stab at the 1000 level before the year is over."

Bache & Co., says signs of growing market speculation are apparent. In view of this, the company says it would maintain a constructive near term market approach with particular stress on selectivity.

McCullough Tool Co. was broken into but nothing was found missing.

Deputies D. L. Day, C. L. Wallace and Texas Ranger Bill Baten investigated the burglaries.

Civil Air Patrol Planning Drive For New Members

Two films, "Wake Turbulence" and "Aircraft Safety" will be shown when the Pampa senior squadron o the Civil Air Patrol meets at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Cibola Room of Coronado Inn.

Capt. Ralph Prock, commander of the Pampa CAP squadron, said a business meeting will follow to outline plans for a membership drive.

"This will be an all out effort," Prock said, "to encourage new members who can give a significant percent of their time and effort to aid the promotion of aviation and the Civil Air Patrol."

Plans for November also will be discussed, Prock stated. These will include a Fall party for members and a dinner at which time local awards will be made and an honorary membership will be presented to Congressman Bob Price of Pampa.

Arrest of Pair Solves Burglaries

Pampa police were expecting to clear up several more burglaries today after talking with two juveniles, arrested in Amarillo Monday night.

The pair, one 16 and the other 15, were arrested by Amarillo police after breaking into two coke machines.

According to police the boys admitted entering the Village Cafe on E. Frederic Saturday night and taking $22 and 83 packages of cigarettes from the cigarette machine and 60 packages of gum from a car parked in front of the Hughes Building on Kingsmill.

"We think after we talk to these boys we can solve a few more burglaries," Chief Jim Conner said.

DWI Bond Set

Bond of $1,000 was set today by Justice of Peace E. L. Anderson for Carmon Thomas Ferrell, 56, of 621 E. Foster, on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Ferrell was arrested by Pampa policeman Lt. Preston Bailey about 6:45 p.m. Tuesday.

Gray Cancer Group Hears Talk on Disease

Types of Cancer, problems of diagnosing the disease, as well as its treatment, were discussed by Dr. Royce Laycock at a directors meeting of the Gray County Unit of the American Cancer Society this morning in the Coronado Inn.

Dr. Laycock stressed the importance of early detection of the disease through regular physical checkups. He also said that the percentage of cures rises sharply when cancer is diagnosed at an early stage.

In other business, District Director Mrs. Kermit Lawson presented the Unit with a "certificate of authorization" from the Texas Division.

Unit president D. V. Biggers presided.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM, COMFORTABLE, TOO

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow of 52 and have nine children. Eight boys and one girl. My daughter is the youngest. She is now 14 and should be a young lady, but she has been around boys so much she is just like her brothers.

She doesn't know how to act like a girl and doesn't want to learn. She doesn't have any girl friends and has never played girls' games. She prefers baseball and football, and plays with the boys.

The girls at school make fun of her and call her "Sam" but it doesn't seem to bother her. She just tackles them and beats them up. I am constantly being called by girls' mothers about such maters. I've tried to talk to her, but it hasn't helped. Is there anything I can do to make my only daughter a girl instead of another boy? Or am I too late?

SAD MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If your daughter is a healthy, normal girl, even though here environment has done much to make her boyish, she will instinctively "shape up."

Don't pressure her. And don't scold or shame her. Keep an eye on her, and if she continues to prefer being one of the boys, consult a school psychologist, if one is available. Otherwise, get some counseling on your own.

DEAR ABBY: Every morning when I go to work I wear gloves to cover my wedding band because I am ashamed of being a working wife.

We have no family as yet and I would like to quit working, but my husband wants me to work because my paycheck comes in handy in paying our bills.

I really believe that when a woman marries she should stay home and be satisfied to live on what her husband earns. I am, but my husband has other ideas. Am I wrong to feel ashamed?

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: What you feel is resentment against your husband. If you are "ashamed" — it's not of yourself — it's of your husband.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "TOO BUSY" could have been written by my ex-daughter-in-law. She was another one of those who had the idea that a man should look after all his own needs. When my son moved here at the time she instituted divorce proceedings, I had to lend him some of his Dad's clothes, as everything he had was in such bad shape.

He was wearing two suits of underwear with holes in different places, so he was covered. I remember once, she got as mad as a wet hen because she had just cleaned out the bathtub to take a bath, and HE beat her to it. Now I keep all his clothes in order, even though I am,

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

FOR THURSDAY, SEPT. 28

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until midafternoon you had better check closely any writings you send out as well as any spoken word you utter since you may intend to use one word or phrase and inadvertently an inappropiate one slips out instead. Late afternoon and evening find you with a real chance to gain the good will of most everyone.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) —Catering to wishes of family is best until 3 p.m.; rid yourself of whatever stands in the way of your getting ahead. Today's work can pave the way for a happy evening. Be courteous with others.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) —Get rid of those boring tasks that have to be done sometime in a.m. Then find some clever ways to increase regular income. You can have a pleasant time with family in the evening, if you are kind and thoughtful with them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) —You are able to get more financial backing if you show benefactors that you have some good reason for wanting it. Then be economical. Out to some social affair in p.m. where you meet the right kind of persons.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Know what you want in a.m. but don't be forceful with others so that you gain your aims. In p.m. monetary matters are much improved. Be more willing to get important bills paid. Do not retire too late tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) —Give that annoying situation your full attention in a.m. so that later you can go out and be sociable. State your aims to others. Assist one in trouble first, however. Then dash about, be happy.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — You must see many persons during day who could be boring, but tonight can be a happy time in the romantic sense. Try to please good friends in a.m., also. But the evening is entirely yours to enjoy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Do nothing that can cause others to be critical during day, but evening is more relaxing and you have a wonderful time. Get your work done properly. Making new friends is easy in p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) —Cultivating new friends is wise even though they may seem too busy and worried. Be cheerful and you please them. Some letter could vex you, if you permit. Forget it and go out for fun in p.m.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Being sure to keep promises made, getting obligations out of the way without fail is imperative now. Then make the acquaintance of new and interesting persons. Your intuition works better in p.m. Follow it then.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Keep your distance from an attachment who is emotional and avoid a royal tirade during day. There are problems that need to be handled with discretion, also. Then the evening can be enjoyable with closest ties.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) —Try not to argue with partners since they are using this method to force you to do what they prefer. By evening all is fine. Although you would prefer not to work, it is important, so get it done.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) —Concentrate on persons who admire and will assist you but don't expect backing until p.m. Do much work then. Do not overspend during daytime or you ruin your budget. Get surroundings improved.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those young ones who, early in life seems to be too emotional, but this is good, since lessons are learned when young and uponmaturity a fine, poised citizen will emerge. Once having come up the hard way, as it were, nothing will seem difficult for your progeny and duties will be carried out to the letter.

The coming-on color for fall footwear is brown in every shade from beige to deep chocolate. Brown shows in light and dark combinations too. Next come green, plum and red and black is the perennial.

Beta Sigma Phi Group Sponsors 'Surprise' Party

Pale faces and bleary eyes were the order of the day for members and guests of Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi recently at a "Come As You Are" surprise breakfast in Mrs. Charles Potter's home.

"Culprits who raided homes in the predawn hours, dragging guests from their beds, were Mmes. Jack Byrd, Jack Stafford and Weldon Carter," Mrs. Potter said.

Breakfast was served from a table featuring a wig set with several ill-placed curlers for a centerpiece.

A special guest of Mrs. Potter was her mother-in-law, Mrs. W. W. Potter.

Rushees attending were Mmes. Kenneth Heflin, Ronald Fox, E. C. Jenkins and Edward Orsak.

Members attending were Mmes. Robert Brogdin, Fred Epperly, Kenneth Freeman, D. L. Hinkle, Scott Nisbet, James Ownsby, Price Smith, B. L. Stephens, Charles Swart, Jr., Potter, Byrd, Stafford and Carter.

Area Youth Club Members Plan to Observe 4-H Week

LEFORS (Spl) — Members of Lefors 4-H club will join about 2½ million other 4-H'ers to spotlight Good Citizenship again this year as national 4-H week is observed Sept. 30-Oct. 7. "Join 4-H: A world of opportunity" is the theme.

Mignon Nickel, Cindy Youngblood and Vicki Cochran will assist in the Gray County activities as they arrange displays in store windows and make posters. Mrs. Luther Welborn will be interviewed as the representative of Lefors 4-H leaders.

The Lefors 4-H club has a monthly business meeting and recreational period in the civic center and invites any boy or girl between 9-19 to join the organization.

They may chose from one to 100 4-H educational experiences. The Lefors group will study units this year on money management, rifle safety, clothing, cooking, range management, livestock production, entomology and electricity.

Adult leaders include Mrs. Boyd Smith, Mrs. K.L. Nickel, Mrs. Burt Smith, Mrs. V. C. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Welborn, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Youngblood.

The local club will enter the annual Top O' Texas livestock show, 4-H foods show, style show and dress revue and better bake show and will compete in a grass judging contest and as a rifle team.

4-H is the youth program of the national educational system of the Cooperative Extension Service in which the U.S. Department of Agriculture, State Land Grant Universities, and counties share. The federal Extension gives state leadership.

Professional extension agents conduct programs based on local needs. Mrs. Gail Nunez and Ben Johnson are the Gray County assistant extension agents who supervise the 4-H program.

Area Woman Honored With Birthday Party

SKELLYTOWN — Mrs. Tom Spence, Skellytown, was honored Thursday evening with a surprise birthday party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neal McBroome, hostesses, with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lovinggood as co-hostesses.

After the honoree opened her gifts, refreshments were served from a serving table spread with a white lace cloth appointed with a pink floral arrangement as the table centerpiece.

Attending were the honoree and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spence; Messrs. and Mmes. Marshall L. Giesler, Irvin Brown, Walt Barnett, M. L. Mercer, Ed Kliebrink, Neal McBroome, Jerry Lovinggood, Mrs. Edna Dunivin and Mrs. C. W. Spence.

"YOU'RE GOING ON A SWANKY CRUISE. So what if it's in birch canoes," is just one of the fortunes created for the romantic fortune hunter, the kookie fortune seeker and those who are fashion oriented. Twelve new shades of lipstick ranging from pale pink to warm coral to vivid red have a fortune imprinted in the case. You can pick your favorite shade and see what the future has in store for you.

Rose Society Plans October Field Trip

Dr. and Mrs. Weldon Adair entertained the Pampa Rose Society in their home recently, with Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Carruth as co-hosts.

Mrs. H. H. Boynton, vice-president, presided over the business meeting. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and the 1968 dues were collected. The "Proof Of The Pudding" rating sheets for ARS roses were passed-out to each couple. The group decided to have their next meeting at Lake Meredith for the October field trip.

Mrs. Milo Carlson gave "This Month In Our Rose Garden". Mr. and Mrs. Dan Glaxner presented the program consisting of colored slides and narration of the 1967 Tournament Of Roses winner floats, scenes from the Pennsylvania rural Amish Communities, wild flowers of the west and local floral scenes.

Refreshments were served to Dr. and Mrs. Weldon Adair, Messrs. and Mmes. William A. Bennink, H. H.Boynton, D. A. Caldwell, Milo Carlson, A. B. Carruth, Dan Glaxner and Holly Gray.

HOW'S YOUR NOSE FOR NEWS?

A big news story broke recently in each of the spots marked on the map below. As a reader or student, check your memory and your knowledge by identifying the news events. The clues given in the box below will help.

What occurred where? Study the map and match the numbers with the events listed in the box at right. Score yourself 10 points for each correct answer.

A score of 50—you're fairly hep. A score of 70—you're pretty sharp. A score of 90 or more—congratulations to a real news hawk!

Two PHS Students In National Merit Semis

Two Pampa High School seniors have been named as semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship Program.

Stanley J. Cable and Stephen C. Walls were among more than 14,000 high school seniors who advanced to the second step in the 1967-68 competition for about 2,900 Merit Scholarships, valued at more than $8 million.

Cable, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Cable of 1005 Terry Road, and Walls, son of Mrs. Lorita Walls of 1003 Fisher, advanced to the semifinals after being named among the highest scorers in Texas on the qualifying test given last February in 17,609 schools across the country. Semifinalists constitute less than one per cent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the U.S.

"We're real proud of these boys," Principal Cameron Marsh Jr. said, "and we wish them the best of luck in advancing to the finals."

Both Cable and Walls have been active in organizations at Pampa High School, and both have won many awards. Cable won the chemistry award last year, has been a first place winner in the local Optimists Oratorical Contest, has been a consistent winner in science fairs, and attended the Nuclear Science Symposium at the University of Texas in June. He is a member of the band, the Junior Classical League, and the Tri-Science Club. Walls has been president of the National Honor Society, a member of the Key Club, a member of the basketball team, and president of his home room. Both have taken a number of accelerated and advanced courses.

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for Merit Scholarships. All winners are selected from the finalist group. Semifinalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, taking a second examination, and submitting information about their achievements and interests.

Only finalists wil be considered for one of about 2,400 four-year Merit Scholarships financed by some 400 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals, and by the National Merit Scholarship Committee itself. In addition, about 500 one-time National Merit $1,000 scholarships will be awarded for the first time in 1968.

Winners of four-year Merit Scholarships may receive up to $1,500 a year for four college years, depending on their individual needs. Winners of the National Merit $1,000 scholarships will receive one-time grants of $1,000 upon enrollment in college.

High school grades, accomplishments, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities, and school citizenship of the finalists are evaluated, along with test scores, in selecting Merit Scholarship winners.

Names of the Merit Scholars in the 1967-68 Merit Program will be announced by early May 1968. More than 15,900 students have received Merit Scholarships in the twelve annual programs to date. Over $52 million in financial assistance to Merit Scholars and their colleges has been expended or committed through the Merit Program to date.

LBJ Asks US To Help Asia

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson asked Congress today to authorize a U.S. contribution of up to $200 million in new special funds for the Asian Development Bank, over a four-year period.

The bank now has subscriptions of $1 billion from 31 nations in so-called ordinary capital which is used for Asian development projects with a relatively rapid and direct return on investment.

The special funds, the President explained in a message to the House and Senate, are needed for longer-term loans at lower interest rates to finance such Asian projects as schools and roads which do not yield immediate financial returns.

U.S. participation in the Asian Development Bank, proposed by President Johnson in 1965, was authorized by Congress in the spring of 1966. The bill provided $100 million in U.S. funds, to be spread over five years, and allowed U.S. loans of another $100 million.

Elections Nothing to French?

By ALLAN A. PRIAULX

PARIS (UPI)—Except for the Communists, few Frenchmen seemed to care what happened in the current round of home town elections.

The elections for canton council seats can be compared roughly to balloting for town council seats in an American community. The first round of voting was last Sunday and runoffs will be held next Sunday.

Voters shrugged their shoulders for the most part, although the Communist party campaigned hard to gain seats for its candidates.

Of 15 million eligible voters, only 56 per cent turned up at the polls.

The Communists, of course, turned out in force.

Gain 23 Per Cent

Consequently the Communists picked up 23 per cent of the total vote.

The Leftist Federation pulled down 22 per cent and other leftists outside the federation had another nine per cent.

The Gaullists landed only 17 per cent of the vote, other conservative candidates had 11 per cent and the Democratic Center party had 10 per cent.

The Communists had entered candiates in nearly all the cantonal districts.

The daily independent newspaper Combat, analyzing the elections, said that the Communist showing proved that the party is "the only really structured force which can stand up against Gaullism."

Push Stronger Stand

Combat went on to say that the Communists "may incite Communist leaders to be even more rigid" in dealing with their parliamentary partners, the Leftist Federation.

About half the new council seats in the Paris area will be put up for second round balloting, indicating that political patternsi n these new areas have not yet been settled.

Another sidelight on the election was the nearly unanimous success that all "personalities" in the balloting enjoyed.

Seven of President Charles de Gaulle's cabinet ministers ran. Only two, Information Minister George Gorse and a secretary of state failed to win outright. They are leading in the runoffs, however.

Others who were elected councilors on the first round were former Premier Antoine Pinay, leftist leader Francois Mitterrand, Senate President Gaston Monnerville, and Agricultural Minister Edgar Faure, whose policies have been under fire recently.

WORKERS TO VOTE

DALLAS (UPI)— Braniff International cargo and clerical employes will vote within the next month on whether to change union representation from the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks to the Teamsters. Some 4,500 employes will vote.

Two Die, Judge Hurt in Shooting

RAPID CITY, S.D. (UPI)—A routine divorce action — the judge ordered $3,000 in alimony paid—was coming to a close when the small courtroom became an arena of death. Two persons were shot to death and a third was wounded.

"You've had your say! Now I'll have mine!" witnesses said Ray Bivins, the man ordered to pay the alimony or go to jail, screamed Monday. Four shots exploded out of a snubbed-nosed pistol.

Marie Bivins and her attorney, Samuel Brady, a former deputy state's attorney, were killed. Circuit Court Judge Thomas J. Parker was seriously wounded by a bullet through his abdomen.

Bivins, a 70-year-old former Texan who operated a "fun house" for the Black Hills tourist trade, was being held today on preliminary charges of "suspicion of committing a felony (murder)."

ASSESS CHURCH DAMAGE

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) —The Baptist General Convention of Texas said today it appears most Baptist churches in South Texas escaped serious damage, but there was widespread minor damage. The convention sent a relief team to the Rio Grande Valley to help churches and missions there and also asked churches to contribute clothing and food for relief work.

PREDICT RIVER CHANGE

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI) — The U.S. Commissioner of the International Water and Boundary Commission predicts the extensive flooding brought by Hurricane Beulah will change the course of the Rio Grande. Joseph Friedkin made the prediction in Corpus Christi Monday but said he doubted the changes would bring any territorial disputes with Mexico.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS

TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

McNamara's Shift on ABM

First came the "missile gap," then the "credibility gap" and now McNamara's "common sense gap."

The most recent flaw in the defense secretary's logic was his announcement that construction of a skeleton defense system against intercontinental ballistic missiles will begin late this year. The deployment of the Nike X will be on a limited scale to provide a defense against accidental attack by the Russians or a strike by Red China.

Why a skeleton system? Because a major system would be a "profitless waste of resources," McNamara said. The cost will be approximately $5 billion while a full deployment would cost about $40 billion. To spend more would be a waste, McNamara said, since the Soviets could build a more advanced system.

Whether it would be a waste to spend additional sums strictly for defense may be subject to question. Frankly we'd rather see money spent strictly for defense than to see the billions of dollars being poured down the drain on foreign and domestic giveaway programs.

Why the sudden switch in plans? Some newsmen have pointed to increased congressional criticism as well as pressure from the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Both undoubtedly played a role in the change, but the barbs from the two sources have been flying for quite a while. The Joint Chiefs wholeheartedly endorsed the Nike X in early 1965, and Congress overwhelmingly recommended appropriations for the system in May of this year. The House passed the measure 356 to 2 while the Senate agreed 81 to 1.

More likely, the decision to proceed came from LBJ who sees his valued "consensus" crumbling on all sides and his popularity dipping by the day.

That brings up the question of a limited system. This would give the U.S. the ability to defend against an accidental Soviet attack or a less sophisticated Chinese assault. That is fine provided you rule out the possibility of an all-out Soviet first strike. Full deployment would be designed for defense against such an attack with the capability of a full-scale response.

The U.S. obviously is counting on a nuclear control agreement with the Russians although Moscow has shown little interest so far. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is in New York for the U.N. session and met with Secretary of State Rusk yesterday. It is possible the U.S. will use this planned ABM system as a bargaining point to reach an agreement.

McNamara hinted at this when he appealed to the Soviets to negotiate a "properly safeguarded agreement" which first would limit and reduce both offensive and defensive strategic nuclear weapons of both countries.

Hope seems to spring eternal among those in the Establishment at Washington. Great stress is laid on reaching another "agreement" with the communists, despite the record of the Kremlin in failing to keep agreements not in the interest of the Soviet.

There'll Always Be an England

It was a script any Hollywood screenwriter would have been proud of:

A drugged Russian physicist, spirited out of the Soviet embassy in London and forced into a limousine.....the race to the airport where a Red airliner awaited.....alert British police surrounding the plane to prevent its departure. . .Bobbies tussling with the crew and finally rescuing the man. . .another Commie plot foiled.

It happened like that in London the other day. Only not quite like that. Instead of a cliff-hanging Hitchcockian climax to a thrilling spy drama, it turned out to be a Foreign Office boobooof intenational proportions. ions.

The young Russian was not a would-be defector, as the British thought. He was mentally ill and had been given a sedative, not a sinister injection. He really wanted to go back to Commieland, he told examining physicians.

The Kremlin is outraged and Downing Street is embarrassed, though still peeved at the cheeky way the Russians handled the whole affair. We trust, however, that after an exchange of diplomatically indignant notes, the Case of the Purloined Physicist will be forgotten and Anglo-Russian relations will get back to normal.

But it is comforting, even a little inspiring, to think that Her Majesty's bureaucrats would stick their stiff necks out in such a manner, risking who knows what repercussions to rescue one individual—and a foreigner at that—whom they had reasson to believe was being kidnapped by the forces of totalitarianism.

It is not that they did it badly but that they did it at all.

Good show, we say. Even if Alfred Hitchcock didn't write it.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Though President Johnson has spoken out strongly against racial outbreaks of violence, new studies indicate that his federal government programs to prevent race riots may be missing the mark.

In fact, this new data suggests that some of the major government programs may actually increase Negro unrest and the chances for future Detroit, Watts and Cambridge-type upheavals — however sincere the men may be who operate these programs and however important the programs may be for humanitarian reasons.

Most major federal race riot-prevention programs are based on three major premises:

—That as Negroes rise in socioeconomic status they will become stable moderating influences on the Negro community, help put the lid on riots and work for steady, gradual, peaceful solutions to the problems of Negroes.

—That integration, that is, close association with white people — in school, at work and where they live — will give Negroes the feeling they are making progress for equality and thus make them less inclined to violence.

—That by providing more job and educational opportunities the government will produce in the Negro community a feeling they are achieving their goals by peaceful means.

Unfortunately, the recent studies, and interviews by this reporter, seem to show that these very achievements—rising status, integration and greater educational and job opportunities—tend to produce an intense desire for even more opportunities and even greater strides toward equality . . . and a widening of the belief in the efficacy of violence.

What a recent college study made of those who live in the area of the Watts riots of 1965 seems to point up is that as the Negro moves up in society and attains more opportunities, his eyes are opened to even more unachieved opportunities. The more contact the Negro has with white people, the more he sees that he wants. He sees riots as an effective way of achieving what he wants.

This group of investigators found in Watts:

—Educated Negroes interviewed were more likely to be in favor of the riots than their less-educated fellows.

—This was not a riot by dropouts. Negro high school graduates and those with some college eudcation were more active proportionately than Negroes with only a grade school or "some high school" education.

—Negroes in the good residential areas had a higher percentage of people who favored the riots than in any other residential groups.

—Forty-three per cent of the male Negroes interviewed believed the riots had helped the Negro cause. Only 23 per cent believed the riots had hurt.

—More than half the Negroes interviewed believed the riots had made white people more sympathtic to Negro problems. About a third believed the riots had caused no change in white attitude.

The university men who led this Watts survey concluded:

"The more fortunate members of the (Negro) community . . . have made social and economic gains, but along with their mobility have gone rising levels of expectation.

We have seen that the amount of social contact with whites increases with improvements in socioeconomic status. But we have also seen that discontent increases as social contact increases.

"We would expect .. .continued contact with white persons by those Negroes who have made economic gains would serve to increase their impatience and frustration at not being able to enjoy the same freedom of movement and opportunity taken for granted by white persons."

These findings suggest that before the federal government develops any new programs for riot prevention the government's investigators had better spend considerable time and effort to find out what the Negroes' problems actually are and what new problems the programs will create, so that steps can be taken in advance to anticipate and forestall any racial eruptions or riots likely to occur.

SHOULD THERE BE A TAX HIKE?

The big argument for an income tax increase now is one taken from Lord Keynes: during a boom the government should raise income taxes in order to "sop up excess purchasing power" and prevent inflation. There are many fallacies in this argument for a tax hike.

The first problem is in identifying the current economic scene as a boom. The point is, if we look at such key indicators as corporate profits and investments, we are STILL in a recession. Everybody expects an upturn soon, but the upturn hasn't occurred yet. And even if if does, the boom will still be so weak that a 10 per cent income tax increase may well be just enough to break the boom and precipitate a really severe recession: because tax increases lower the incentive to save, invest, and produce.

But apart from this problem of timing and forecasting, there are more serious errors in the Keynesian call for a tax increase in a boom. The main problem is that price rises are brought about by inflation of the supply of money — and in our virtually nationalized banking system totally under the federal government's control, this means that the government has pumped more money into the economy. The effect is something like diluting a power chemical mixture: if you pump more dollars into the economy, then each dollar will be worth less in purchasing power. In short, prices will go up. The trick is this: FIRST the government creates new money, spends it or has it loaned out to its favorite groups; THEN, when the new money inevitably results in higher prices, the government turns around and denounces all sorts of social groups for SPENDING this new money. The blame for the "excess purchasing power" is thus cunningly taken from the shoulders of the real culprit —government — and placed onto the shoulders of various groups in the economy. In fact, dfiferent groups are encouraged to quarrel among themselves with, for example, labor unions blaming businessmen for the higher prices and businessmen attempting to blame the demands of trade unions. All this time the real culprit—government — takes on the mantle of the saviour of society from all these greedy price-increasing groups. In its role of saviour, government then comes up with the notion of a tax increase to "sop up" the purchasing power.

Look at what government is doing: FIRST it burdens the citizens by inflating the money supply and thereby raising prices; THEN it imposes a double burden by turning around and taxing away much of the new money. The people are skewered twice.

The theory of the tax increase implies, furthermore, that taxes are no burden at all, certainly no burden in comparison with a higher price. If the price of a good or service goes up, however, while this may be unfortunate, AT LEAST we're still getting the useful good or service for our money. But if a TAX goes up, to save us from the bad old price increase, what have we gotten in return for this burden? Nothing, since no one can pretend that the "benefit" we get from goverment increases proportionately to the tax. In fact we get a negative return from government, since the government will only use the new income to regulate, harass, and otherwise push us around.

Finally, not only is a higher tax worse than a higher price, but a government deficit, contrary to the Keynesians, is not necessarily inflationary. It is only inflationary if the deficit is financed by the banking system; if it is financed by selling bonds to the public, it will have other unfortunate effects, but it won't increase the money supply or raise prices. So don't let Keynesian sophists fool you. Higher taxes means higher robbery and that benefits neither the public nor the state of the economy.

$2.8 Bilion 'Make Work' Program for City Ghettos Facing Opposition from Administration As Competition With '68 Plan

ROBERT ALLEN — PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—There are political as well as economic reasons for President Johnson's vigorous opposition to the Senate Labor Committee's controversial $2.8 billion federal emergency employment program for the big city ghettos.

He wants no new spending proposals until Congress acts on his request for a 10 per cent surcharge tax boost. But also the President wants no congressional approval of "Make-work" programs until he can unveil his own "new approach" to the growing problem of Negro unemployment.

The administration's still secret legislative proposal won't be ready for submission to Congress until early in 1968—presidential election year.

In his backstage lobbying against the committee's proposal, the President is taking the hard line that no spending program of that magnitude should be approved until after his special commission on the recent civil disorders makes its report next January.

By that time, the President stresses, the administration's new ghetto employment program, which the commission is being asked to support, will be ready to go to Congress.

Its target: those jobless inhabitants of the big cities who feel beaten down, who have given up trying to better their lot, and who don't care any more.

As outlined in a series of White House briefings for Democratic senators, the administration's new program will recommend a double use of incentives—for employer and employes:

It will propose federal subsidies for on-the-job training for industries establishing plants in ghettos to employ local people.

And to motivate the jobless, a new type of community organization in the cores of cities would be formed with federal aid to induce the unemployed to make an effort once again.

REASON FOR DELAY— The President contends that if Congress should approve the Senate Labor Committee's huge spending proposal at this session this would rule out congressional action next year on his "new approach."

While most of the legislators attending the White House briefings agreed with this assessment of what Congress would do, the majority took the position that a federal emergency employment program is needed now to forestall more riots next year. Several pointed out that since 1966 three presidential commissions have recommended emergency employment for the ghettos.

These commissions, all appointed by President Johnson, and the dates of their recommendations are listed in the Senate Labor Committee's report as follows:

"National Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Programs, February 1966; White House Conference 'To Fulfill These Rights,' June 1966, and the National Advisory Commission on Food and Fiber, July 1967."

THE APPROACHING SHOWDOWN — The critical test on whether the multi-billion dollar federal emergency employment program will be launched this year or next will come later this week in the Senate.

The showdown vote will be on an administration move to strip the controversial $2.6 billion "make-work" program from the legislation giving the Office of Economic Opportunity $2.2 billion for its war against poverty.

The two anti-poverty measures were linked together earlier this month by members of the Senate Labor Committee, led by Senator Joseph Clark D—Pa., who supports both programs.

If their effort to shelve the Labor Committee's emergency program fails in the Senate, administration officials plan to carry their fight to the House, where the anti-poverty measure is being considered by the House Labor Committee, and try to block all attempts to add the committee's "make-work" program to the anti-poverty bill. If this strategy succeeds the administration could kill the program in conference.

FEDERAL PROGRAMS— During its first two years the National endownment for the Arts has granted $6.5 million for programs and $2 million to state arts councils. For fiscal 1968, the budget will be 4.5 million for programs and $2 million for states. Chairman Roger L. Stevens feels that congressional support for the endowment is growing despite the pressure for economy on other domestic programs .....The Senate is expected to approve the administration's full request for $295 million for the Job Corps. However, the Job Corps will be restricted to spending no more than $7,300 on each trainee.... Some 5,000 "unintentionally forgotten" Americans are going to be remembered. Democratic Senate-House leaders say Congress will enact a law this session establishing a national center for deaf-blind youths and adults.

Word About Riot Control

By D. R. SEGAL

We're pleased to think of ourselves as the smartest kids in the block. American "knowhow" stands at the ready to solve problems we aren't smart enough to have invented yet. But there is one field where our neighbors to the south are way ahead of us, and that is in riot-control.

It's a shame to take a back seat to a bunch of people who can't even speak English, but it's a fact. In Mexico and in Argentina there are special squads of police trained to do nothing but (1) prevent riots or, failing that, (2) stop them. We've had reports that almost nobody in this country knows how to stop a riot, and we are not learning fast. We're still doing the same things we did in Watts, Calif., a couple of years ago. No progress at all. We have seen the National Guard go into action and it has been pretty well agreed that this was a military operation as soundly conceived as the one at Little Big Horn a few years back.

Perhaps the dandiest anti-riot quad in the Hemisphere is the one in Buenos Aires. The men are chosen for extreme ugliness, size and truculence. They are armed with truncheons and tear gas bombs which they wear on their belts.

Their favorite weapon is the high-pressure water hose which squirts dye on the rioters. The purpose of the ploy is to be able to identify the rioters days later when he's dispersed and taken to the hills.

Yangui ingenuity? Wasn't no yanqui thought of that one!

Now, the reason the Mexicans and Argentines make us look like bush league riot-controllers is that they've been at it longer than we have. Do you realize we hadn't mounted a dozen really first-rate riots in our entire national history until a few years ago? How can you stay in practice with skimpy material like that?

It seems as if we're going to have to make a mightly important decision pretty quick now.

Either we're going to have to go back to our reactionary old methods of showing displeasure, like booing or firing off hot letters to editors and congressmen or threatening to turn the rascals out—or we're going to have to adjust ourselves to the newer methods of arson, looting, murder and assassination.

If we go this latter route we are going to have to study up on anti-riot methods which we can learn from those progressive countries which are far ahead of us in the art of controlling their citizens.

Come to think of it, is it purely coincidental that those countries which have exercised—or tried to exercise—the most control over their citizens are the ones which have had to have the best riot control methods, eventually?

What a crazy idea!

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: Do you believe teachers in non-tax-supported schools would threaten to strike to get their salaries increased? If not, why?

ANSWER: Teachers who are selling their services on a free market, on a competitive basis, we believe, would not strike or even threaten to strike. The reason is that they know that it is wrong to injure any other person, and they also know that part of their compensation is the satisfaction they get from trying to instill in the youth of the land that there are moral absolutes that apply to the individual and to the group as well, and they know that the example they set by their own actions is a more powerful instructor than their lectures. It is doubtful whether even any teacher in tax-supported schools would think that it would be right and just and fair to quit without giving reasonable notice so that the employer could replace him or her.

It seems that some teachers in government schools who strike or threaten to strike believe in a double standard of right that the group or the state has a right to do something that would be unjust and immoral and unfair if done by any individual.

The House Committee on Un-American Activities is one of the few authoritative sources where you can get the background for answering some of the questions our fellow Americans are asking these days — questions like:

Why are we fighting the communists in Vietnam on the one hand and helping them with increased trade on the other, when some 80 per cent of the wherewithal to kill and maim our Servicemen is supplied by communist block countries? What steps are being taken to halt the build-up of missiles and missile sites in Cuba, and to stop the training of guerrillas and saboteurs now being sent by Castro to stir up revolutions in our neighboring Latin American States? And what part does Castro play in our Civil Riots? Who or what organization is arranging for giving up both ownership and control of our Panama Canal? If economic sanctions via the United Nations are imposed on friendly, peaceful Rhodesia, why aren't we demanding equal sanctions against Ho Chi Minh's brutal aggressions in South Vietnam?

The HCUA — the Committee which caught up with Alger Hiss—has long been a prime target of the Communist Party USA, as even a casual reading of THE WORKER and other Red publications will show. Is it not strange that those who would abolish the Committee should find themselves lined up with those who are actively trying to destroy our Country?

Why does the Communist Party USA want to abolish the Committee?

Is it, perhaps, because the Committee has been so effective in exposing and publicly spotlighting the communists and their sinister influence in our schools and colleges, churches, communication media and so on? Having attended some of the Committee's hearings, studied its reports and seen at first hand the infinite patience used in questioning uncooperative, 5th Amendment witnesses, I would have no hesitation to appear before it to answer any questions it might put to me. NO CITIZEN WITH A CLEAR CONSCIENCE NEED FEAR IT!

Let us give to the House Comties the patriotic support which it so richly merits.

GROPING IN THE DARK

Well, Look Who's Complaining

(Chicago Tribune)

The latest complaint against the circulation of communist propaganda in the United States comes from, of all places, the Soviet Union. The propaganda that offends Russia does not come from Moscow, of course; it comes from Peking.

An article in Moscow's Literary Gazette charges that Peking is pumping newspapers, magazines, and political pamphlets into the United States by way of Hong Kong, and it says that much of this literature is anti-soviet. The article also cites a television program in which it quotes a camera man as saying he had "done everything to present the Red Guards in an attractive light."

Moscow views the Red Guards in anything but an attractive light. They have demonstrated at the soviet embassy, ridiculed soviet policy, roughed up the captain and crew of a soviet merchant ship, and paraded with anti-soviet banners. Russia thinks that the United States, as a loyal partner in co-existence, ought to clamp down on this sort of propaganda.

Well, we hardly know what to say first. There isn't the slightest doubt that Peking is playing its propaganda in the United States, and some of it may be anti-soviet. But a great deal more of it is violently anti-American, such as the leaflets written by an expatriate American Negro named Robert F. Williams, published by Peking, and sent thru the United States mails, calling America "the enemy land" and urging Negro soldiers in Viet Nam to "eliminate" their white colleagues "so that these racists will not be able to return home."

But if there is little the postoffice department can do about this poisonous mail, it is largely because of the efforts of the Russians themselves, who are the champion propagandists of all time, and of their "liberal" sympathizers in this country.

During the Korean war, in 1951, the postoffice undertook to screen incoming mail for communist propaganda. It acted under the authority of a ruling issued by Atty. Gen. Robert H. Jackson in 1940 with respect to Nazi propaganda. The screening policy remained in effect for 10 years.

But the very same "liberals" who approved of this policy when it was aimed at Nazis turned against it when it was aimed at Communists. As a result of pressure from them President Kennedy stopped the policy as soon as he took office.

In the following year, 1962, the House voted overwhelmingly to restore the anticommunist protection in an even stronger form. It voted to forbid the postoffice to deliver any propaganda financed or sponsored by a communist regime. And again the "liberals" went into action. Despite testimony that Moscow had given one publisher $240,000 to distribute soviet pamphlets in the United States, the Senate watered down the measure until there was little left. And what little did remain has since been virtually nullified by rulings of the Supreme Court.

So while we fully share Moscow's revulsion at the poison coming from Peking, we are not tempted to shed any tears for the Kremlin. If Russia's indignation evokes any response, it is the chuckle that comes from seeing a man hoist with his own petard.

Communists Using U. N.

By REED BENSON AND ROBERT LEE
(American Opinon)

One of the major tragedies of the contemporary foreign policy of the United States is its reliance on, and support of, the Communist-controlled United Nations Organization. Since its founding in 1945, the United Nations has been used consistently as one of the most important tools of the International Communist Conspiracy.

Why don't more Americans realize this?

One major reason, of course, is that our news media have given us an incredibly one-sided picture of the United Nations, largely ignoring sincere and well-founded criticisms of the world body. Another is that many of those who favor the United Nations have not hesitated to distort and falsify the facts concerning the nature and make-up of the organization as they do their best to mislead Americans into supporting it. A classic example of this latter approach is the absurd charge that the Communists are actually trying to destroy the United Nations, and that therefore it is essential for the United States to rally to the U.N.'s support. This false argument is further used to imply that conservative Americans who oppose the United Nations are actually working for the same end as the Communists. What is the truth about how the Communists feel —and have always felt —about the U.N.? Let's look at a sampling of the record.

Political Affairs is the monthly theoretical journal of the Communist Party, U.S.A. In April of 1945 —two months before the San Francisco Conference at which the U.N. was founded —this journal told its readers:

Great popular support and enthusiasm for the United Nations policies should be built up, well organized and fully articulate. . .The opposition must be rendered so impotent that it will be unable to gather any significant support in the Senate against the United Nations Charter and the treaties which will follow.

In June of 1945, Alger Hiss (who had been described by Time magazine in its issue for April 16, 1945 as "one of the State Department's brighter young men," and who was later convicted of perjury for lying about his activities on behalf of the International Communist Conspiracy) presided as Secretary General of the San Francisco Conference. And shortly thereafter, under a barrage of Leftist propaganda, the U.S. Senate ratified the Charter with only two dissenting votes. The opposition had been rendered impotent.

On March 23, 1946 Joseph Stalin was quoted by Pravda as having stated: "I attribute great importance to U.N.O. since it is a serious instrument for preservation of peace and international security," and in November of 1946 the Soviet publication Bolshevik (No. 22, Page 51) asserted that "The masses know that peace is possible only on the basis of cooperation among the existing states. . .The Soviet Union is fighting to have the United Nations as effective as possible."

Defended U.N.

By November 21, 1954 we find the Communist Daily Worker pointing out to its readers that ". . .it's not the UN that merits your scorn and active opposition, but the policies that have undermined the U.N. . ." That is, the U.N. must be consistently supported by Communists unless specific notice is given to the contrary. This attitude on the part of the comrades began to be even more forcefully presented in 1961. For by that time opposition to the United Nations in the United States was beginning to grow and —more important to become effective. Instead of remaining diffused, opposition to the U.N. was being mounted in a manner that was causing real concern to those running the United Nations Organization. And so, on October 7, 1961 the Westcoast newspaper of the Communist Party, People's World, carried an editorial entitled, "Save the UN." It declared, in part:

The UN commands a great reservoir of support in our country. This support should now be made vocal.

People should write President Kennedy, telling him—

Do not withdraw from UN.

Restore UN to the Grand Design of Franklin Roosevelt —the design for peaceful coexistence.

And on January 21, 1962 The Worker (no longer a daily) carried an article by Mike Newberry headlined, "Birchers Take Warpath Against UN Peace Hopes," to tell the Comrades:

The John Birch Society has instructed its members to prepare a hate campaign against the United Nations. In his secret "bulletin" for members, Robert Welch. . .orders his followers to place this anti-United Nations drive at the top of their 1962 political agenda. . .It was in the spring of last year that the ultra hate campaign to destroy the United Nations actually began. The origins of this insidious business can be traced to. . .a so-called 'United States Day Committee,' the purpose of which was to replace United Nations Day with 'United States Day.'

In late 1964 and early 1965 the Xerox Corporation sponsored a television series to present blatant U.N. propaganda. In commenting on one of these programs the Communist People's World for January 23, 1965 asserted:

It's not a little horrifying that in our country at this time a pitch is needed for the UN and for peace, but that is the case, and we're all for figuratively hitting people over the head with the message. The (Xerox) program did that.

Just A Sample

And on June 27, 1965 Mikhail Sergeyevich Lvov, an official Soviet spokesman on U.N. affairs, told a Moscow radio audience:

There can be no doubt that with the United Nations constituted as it is at present, the consistent line of the Soviet Union in pressing for the United Nations to face fully up to the problems of strengthening peace and ensuring freedom is producing more and more positive results.

This is just a sample of the mountain of evidence which establishes the support which the Communists have given the United Nations from the very beginning. So institutionalized is Communist support for the U.N. that even the Preamble to the Constitution of the Communist Party, U.S.A., states that the Party believes "the true national interest of our country and the cause of peace and progress require. . .the strengthening of the United Nations as a universal instrument of peace." With evidence such as this on the record, it is rational to suspect, as more and more people are doing, that the United Nations was conceived by Communists, created by Communists, is controlled by Communists, and operated to constantly further the objectives of the International Communist Conspiracy.

Progress Depends On Inequality

By HOWARD E. KERSHNER
(The Freeman)

Most of us are conscious of the fact that the world contains multitudes of men who are far abler than ourselves. Far from making us jealous or unhappy, we are exceedingly grateful for them. We enjoy great music, but we could not write it, as Beethoven, Bach, Brahms, Chopin, Tchaikovsky, Schubert, Mozart, Verdi, and a host of others have done. We can play a few instruments, but not like Liszt, Paderewski, Kreisler, Heifetz, Rubenstein, and many oth immortals who have brought heaven down to earth with their superb excellence.

Our libraries are filled with good books, the treasuries of history, literature, and culture. We take a great delight in reading Shakespeare's plays and Tennyson's poetry, but we could not have written such marvelous works. We are fortunate that they could. Suppose we had no great minds such as these! How fortunate that we can ride along with them, enjoying their creations as if they were our own. Why should we be jealous of them? Rather we should be thankful and pay tribute to them.

Our devotion and spiritual perception is vastly inferior to that of a Saint Paul, a Saint Francis of Assisi, a Saint Augustine, or a Saint Thomas Aquinas, but we can soar up into the heavens on the spiritual power generated by a host of saints and prophets.

We enjoy our automobile, riding about the world in jet planes, our radio, television, and stereophonic music. We could not have developed the great industrial giants of our country that have lifted the burden of toil from our backs and emancipated us from the handicraft age into a degree of luxury unknown by kings a few centuries ago, but we can enjoy the results of the efforts of the great men who created these things for our enjoyment.

When taking a loved one to the hospital, who wants a common, average surgeon? We all want a doctor, not only with superior skill, but a conscientious, honorable man whom we know has spent many long years developing the knowledge and skill required to save the life of the dear one we entrust to his care.

We don't want equality. If there were no men in this world superior to ourselves, no men capable of earning more than we earn, no men capable of preaching finer sermons, organizing greater businesses, developing greater skill in medicine, in the arts, and in literature, and no men of great devotion or spiritual insight, it would be a poor, drab world in which to live. Let us have done with the cult of the common man and begin to recognize and appreciate worth, talent ability, and devotion wherever we find it. Gifted men have carried the world forward on their shoulders. Whatsoever progress we have made, we owe to them. Let us acknowledge it and be grateful for it, and not try to clip their wings and reduce them to the level of mediocrity.

Rescue Mission Turns Into Rescuers Being the Rescued

(Editors Note: Kenneth Englade, UPI's bureau manager in Edinburg, Tex., went out on a rescue mission in a "marsh buggy" and got a look at some of the human stories of the Texas floods. Here is his personal report.)

By KENNETH ENGLADE

HARLINGEN, Tex. (UPI)—A policeman, a cosmetics salesman and I went out on a rescue mission today and wound up having to be rescued ourselves from flood waters in this Rio Grande Valley city.

We were on a "marsh buggy"—A tractorlike vehicle with huge balloon tires. We were going to Lee Taylor's house in Fenwood Heights to pick up some of his possessions. He said he got out on the first warning of floods and did not take enough with him to last out the flood. He has five children, including a five-day-old child and he wanted to get diapers and other things.

We went part of the way and it got too deep. The marsh buggy started floating. Tarantulas were in the water and clinging to trees. We drifted against a tree. An Army amphibious vehicle came by and threw us a line. Taylor and I got on it and went to Taylor's home. He waded in thigh-deep water to his home to get some clothing and blankets and a bassinet for his youngster. He said things were floating all around his home.

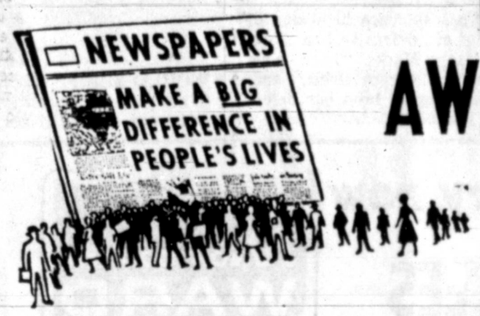

He got his stuff and his Chihuahua dogs—Chica and Bambi —and got back in the vehicle.

There were three wild rabbits perched on rafters of his porch.

The family in the rescue craft were Alex Westbrook and his wife and two teen-aged children.

John's Gone But not Forgotten

By RON CROSS

WHITE DEER — Ask just about anybody in this football crazy town why they were upset by the Claude Mustangs Friday night and you get the same answer.

"We lost John Paul in the first quarter," comes the quick answer.

Who is John Paul you might ask.

John Paul i. John Paul Guinn who WAS the Bucks leading scorer and ground gainer. He still is for that matter but coach Sherrill Bottoms hopes he doesn't end up the leading scorer and ground gainer.

John Paul Guinn broke his leg in the first quarter of the White Deer-Claude game Friday night and won't play at his tailback position, probably for the rest of the season.

That's why Bottoms hopes Guinn doesn't end up being the Bucks leading scorer and ground gainer this season.

If Guinn can't play and nobody takes up where he left off, then things won't turn out so well for White Deer in District 1-A.

"I only wish I had 22 boys like John Paul, then I'd set home Friday night and not have to go to the ball game," Bottoms offered.

"He was the key to our offense. He was a power runner, he's fast and very smart," the coach said.

Through two games and a few minutes Guinn had gained over 315 yards, scored three times, caught a pass for 15 more and had a punting average of 44 yards per boot.

"You just can't say enough good things about a boy like John Paul. He's a good broken field runner, has good overall ability and is one of the best boys I've ever coached," Bottoms allowed.

Guinn was taken to Groom hospital following the accident on the field but was back home Saturday and in school Monday.

Rambling With Red

RON CROSS

"I have to sit in class with my leg on achair and it feels kind of funny," said the soft spoken youngster, "I know I am gonna miss playing but I'll either be helping on the sideline phones, keeping stats or doing something. I just can't be out there without doing something."

Guinn, who doctors say should be out for six or seven weeks, feels he'll be back, kicking extra points, long before that.

"I hope I'll be well enough by the Canadian game to be back punting anyway," said the No. 10 jerseyed lad.

Guinn, who had touchdown runs of four and seven yards and both scores against Clarendon two weeks ago and ran a 60-yarder in the opening win over Boys Ranch.

The 160-pound senior had set a goal for himself this season. He wanted to beat All-State Buck back Vernon Marlar's 1966 scoring and rushing record.

Through two games last year Marlar had 285 yards rushing and three touchdowns. Marlar finished with 15 touchdowns and three conversions for 96 points.

Guinn had gained 19yards on two carries Friday night before he threw a block and got hit just above the ankle bone.

In 1966 Guinn was a quarterback. He was the Bucks field general, scoring nine touchdowns and eight conversions for 70 points. He also threw 10 touchdown passes.

John Paul may not be back in time to run anymore touch downs for White Deer, which is good news for the Bucks' opponents but he has a brother David, a freshman, who wears No. 10, same as big brother and plays quarterback, same as big brother did and almost runs as fast.

That's bad news for the folk White Deer play.

Twins Up Lead to 1 Game

By United Press International

Eddie Stanky's "walking zombies" just could be the "livest" team in the American League by nightfall.

The Chicago White Sox, who gained ground Tuesday night by not playing, could be in a position to take over sole possession of first place when they face the Kansas City Athletics in a Wednesday twi-night doubleheader.

Two victories over the Athletics would give the White Sox a 91-68 record—and a half-game lead should the Minnesota Twins lose their afternoon game to the California Angels. The Boston Red Sox will have a 91-69 mark if they win their afternoon game with the Cleveland Indians.

The Detroit Tigers, who kept their flickering hopes alive with a 1-0 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night, are idle and can only hope that all three of the other contenders lose. They are in fourth place, 1½ games from the lead with only four games to play.

The Twins gained ground on two contenders and time on the White Sox with their 7-triumph over the Angels Tuesday while the Indians knocked the Red Sox into third place with their 6-3 win. The Washington Senators beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-1 in a "so what" game that rounded out Tuesday's AL shcedule.

In the National League, Houston beat Philadelphia 3-2, Chicago topped St. Louis 8-7, Cincinnati shaded Atlanta 4-3, Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 3-1 and San Francisco scored an 8-3 victory over New York.

Harmon Killebrew—his 42nd and 43rd of the season—hit two homers and Bob Allison homered, tripled and singled to lead the Twins' 11-hit attack on Jim McGlothlin and three relief pitchers. Killebrew's first homer gave the Twins a 4-3 lead and his second completed their scoring.

Buffaloes Prepare for Pacific

After bracing for the exploits of Montana State's Little All-American tailback Don Hass and Utah States Don Lane, the West Texas State Buffs face their third great back Saturday. He's fullback Jack Layland, Pacific's leading rusher. Last year Layland boomed for 830 yards to rank 15th in the nation in that department. In two games this year he's gained 255 yards in 45 carries for a yield of 5.7 yards per carry.

"I imagine we'll make several defensive changes before our game with Pacific," said Buff head coach Joe Kerbel after the Utah State game. "There's just no substitute for experience, and that's what our defense lacks. We're playing with three new linebackers, two new cornerbacks, and two new defensive lineman and they just haven't gained enough experience to know how to react against every situation."

After crushing Idaho 42-6 in their season opener, Pacific was upset 24-20 by a determined University of California at Santa Barbara team Saturday night.

"I've never seen a team as fire-up as Santa Barbara," confessed Pacific's sports information director John Marks. "They had us down 17-7 at the half and added another third quarter score before we started playing."

When the Tigers did start playing in the fourth quarter it was the passing of second team quarterback Rand Bergstrom that put them back in the game. Playing behind starter Bob Lee, Bergstrom connected on eight of 14 passes for 78 yards. He has completed 14o f 25 aerials for 146 yards this season. Lee, who completed 12 of 22 passes for 166 yards against the Buffs last year, has hit on eight of 14 pass attempts for 69 yards this season.

Favorite targets for Pacific passes are split-end Bob Ricoli, who led Tiger receiver with 29 catches for 416 yards last year, and rugged tight end Bruce Coslet. Coslet presently leads Pacific receivers with six catches for 83 yards and one touchdown. Ricoli has caught seven passes for 71 yards.

Complementing Layland's inside power thrusts against the Buffs will be the outside running of halfback Tom Kilmer. Kilmer missed the Santa Barbara game with flu but he's expected to be ready for West Texas State. In his first game, Kilmer gained 53 yards in three carries.

Defensively, Pacific sports one of the top rush lines on the West Coast. The Tigers' front four consists of tackles Jeff Banks (6-1, 225) and Bob Locatelli (6-2, 220) and guards Bob Heinz (6-6, 260) and Larry Anderson (6-2, 220). All but Anderson started against West Texas last season.

"Pro scouts are high on all four of our defensive line starters," says Marks. "They are all seniors except Heinz, and, so far, they've been our defensive backbone."

WORLD SERIES TICKETS are coming off the presses in Minnesota's Twin Cities just in case the American League Twins, embroiled in the four-way battle for the pennant, come out on top. If not, the pasteboards will make nice, if sardonic, souvenirs.

Bucks, Mustangs Face Crucial Tests

By a Staff Writer

Can Wheeler remain unbeaten? Can White Deer come back? These are the two questions on the lips of most Top O' Texas area football fans this week.

White Deer had several things happen to them last friday that weren't very nice.

They lost their leading scorer and ground gainer, tailback John Paul Guinn, they lost their first regular season game in two years, they had a touchdown scored against their defense for the first time in one season and two games.

Friday night the Bucks host McLean, who is more than just defense-minded. The Tigers are downright stingy about giving up touchdowns.

They've only given up three in three games and despite their 1-2 record have a pretty good team. They beat Lefors 32-12 last week and now may have found an offense.

The 10 points Claude scored against the Bucks last week in the 10-8 loss are the only ones the Bucks have given up this season.

Another tough defensive team, Wheeler, will get their first true test of the season Friday when they journey to Wellington to test an unbeaten club.

The Mustangs, 3-0, have given up just 12 points thus far, but have played only Class B Lefors and Groom and Class C Erick, Oklahoma.

Wellington, 3-0 also, is in District 2-AA.

Miami shoots for the victory circle for the third time when the Warriors open eight-man conference action at Patton Springs.

Perryton, also unbeaten at 2-0, tests another 3-4A team by going to Amarillo to play Caprock Saturday. The Rangers have beaten Pampa and Woodward, Okla.

Lefors tries another Class A foe, unbeaten Silverton on Pirate field and Groom continues to test the Class A field when the Tigers go to Clarendon.

Canadian shoots for their third straight victory and third shutout in a row by hosting another Class B team, Vega.

Plainview Eyes Pampa

By RON CROSS

When Pampa and Plainview met in 1966 the Bulldogs came to town with an 0-3 record but what was emven worse they had not scored a touchdown.

Things looked bad. They were meeting the best football team Pampa had fielded in 10 years. The Harvesters were 2-1 and had both an adequate offense and defense.

After Pampa had gone to a 13-0 lead midway in the second period the Bulldogs suddenly woke up.

They scored the next three times they got the ball for a 21-13 lead. Pampa pulled the game out 34-20, however.

Coach Don Williams is probably looking forward to playing the Harvesters this year.

Pampa will go to Plainview with 0-3 record. They've scored only twice and have given up more points than the White Sox have all baseball season.

Plainview is 2-1, has scored heavily and thumped Tulia, 36-12 last week.

The big thing the Bulldogs have going for them is experience, size and speed, speed, speed.

"They've probably got one of the fastest backfields in the district and the line speed is terrific too," said Pampa coach Eural Ramsey.

In Pampa's 34-20 victory last year, one Bulldog stood out among the rest.

He was 160-pound quarterback Tommy McBee. The senior signal caller ran the Bulldogs first two scores, a 78 yard kickoff return and a two-yard plunge.

Most observers feel he's even better this year.

"He's a good passer and hits his targets well and is very fast," said Harvester assistant coach Bobby Stephens.

Back also is Joe Don Martin, 155-pound halfback who scored on a 14-yard run against the Harvesters last year.

Martin is supposed to be the fastest of the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs fell behind 12 points early last week but came bouncing back as the experience at every position paid off. They gained over 300 yards on the ground and over 100 in the air as McBee connected on eight of 11 passes.

While the Bulldogs will average about 180 pounds per man in the line, they can move just about as fast as the backfield.

"They have great overall team speed, probably the best in the district," Stephens said.

The Harvesters, meanwhile, will now have four players on the sideline nursing injuries.

Fullback-extra point kicker Hal Calbaugh and center Steve Heath were both injured in separate car accidents Sunday and will miss Fridays game.

Still out is quarterback Steve Summers and defensive gem Dickie Henley.

"We've just got to overcome our mistakes, you just can't get four passes intercepted and give up two or three fumbles and expect to win," Ramsey

One thing about it, the Pampa defense has been getting a lot of experience.

HARVESTERS OF WEEK are, left, Gary Parrish for outstanding offensive and defensive work against Rider last week and guard Mike Tyler. Parrish made 14 tackles in the game and ran good from his halfback spot. Tyler wins the award for his second time this season. He made seven unassisted tackles Friday.

Injury Talk Around SWC is Good and Bad

By United Press International

The injury talk was good and bad around Southwest Conference football workouts Tuesday.

The University of Texas Longhorn's sophomore quarterback, James Street, worked out at full speed for the first time Tuesday, having snapped out of a pulled muscle injury that had bothered him since summer baseball season. The Longhorns studied the patterns of Texas Tech, Texas' opponent of this Saturday. Coach Darrell Royal was encouraged by the team's condition, calling it the best so far this season. Only defensive lineman Chris Young is considered a doubtful starter for Texas' Saturday game.

At Fort Worth, Texas Christian University had a 20-minute scrimmage that worked out well, but coach Fred Taylor is worried about starting back Ross Montgomery, still ailing with a bruised hip from the Iowa game of last week. Taylor hopes to have Montgomery back full speed for the game Saturday against Georgia Tech at Atlanta. He moved up Pat Walker to top defensive left end and Ted Fay into a safety spot. Both are sophomores.

Rain fell on Lubbock Tuesday and soaked the Texas Tech Red Raiders in their preparations for Texas. The Raiders worked nonetheless, polishing goal-line and short-yardage situations. Sophomore kicker Don Sanders was booting them 40 yards with accuracy for field goals in the rain. Coach J. T. King thought tackle Gene Darr, guard Richard Grigg and linebacker Ed Mooney shore on defense. And King had a good injury situation — all his key men will be ready for the Saturday game. Junior kicker Kenny Vinyard is recovered from an injury against Iowa State.

At Houston, Rice left center Wayne Kennedy and defensive tackle Gene Auldridge took the day off, but the team had contact drills and took aim at Navy, Saturday's opponent.

Dallas Defense Best in League

DALLAS (UPI) —The Dallas Cowboys' Doomsday Defense, the National Football League's best against rushing, presents such a problem for the opposition that in the first two games their rivals have tried to run the ball only 29 times.

The Cowboys' front four of Bob Lilly, George Andrie, Willie Towns and Jethro Pugh have yielded but 87 yards on the ground (11 by the Cleveland Browns and 76 by New York) and 46 of those yards came on one play when the Giants' Homer Jones caught them off guard.

Their closest rivals are the Philadelphia Eagles, who have held two foes to 156 yards.

The Cowboy defense, bulwarked by an occasional linebacker blitz, has thrown the opposing passer for losses on eight occasions, one less than pace setting Washington, and the 74 yards in losses they have inflicted is only one yard less than leading San Francisco's 75 yards.

Dallas' overall defense has allowed 487 yards, fourth best in the league but well behind Pittsburgh's 378-yard figure.

Offensively, the Cowboys rank second in total yards (784) third in rushing (359 yards) and fifth in passing (425 yards).

Lee, PJH Ninth Eye Next Foes

While the Pampa Shockers take the week off Pampa's six junior high teams will see action this week and hope things turn out better than they did last week.

Out of seven games played last week only Lee seventh could claim a Pampa victory.

Pampa Junior High ninth shoots for its first victory in three outings when the Reapers play Highland and Pampa Junior High eighth plays Houston of Borger at Borger.

Lee ninth hosts Panhandle B at 4:30 p.m. and Lee eighth plays Austin at Borger.

All of the above games are Thursday affairs and Lee seventh shoots for victory No. 2 Wednesday at Perryton. Pampa seventh plays at Borger Houston on Friday.

Rusk, Gromyko End Meetings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko have discovered that their positions on the Vietnam war are so opposed that discussion for the moment has become useless, U.S. sources said today.

Consequently, according to an American delegation source, the two high officials avoided Vietnam and spent a considerable part of their dinner meeting Monday night on one of the few positive aspects of East-West relations: the draft treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons.

Rusk and Gromyko were meeting again tonight at a dinner given by U.N. Secretary General Thant and including the two other "big four" foreign ministers—George Brown of Britain and Maurice Couve de Murville of France.

Pushes Nuclear Trea ty

Soviet sources indicated that Gromyko is most eager to complete the treaty which is now being negotiated at the 17-nation Geneva Disarmament Conference by settling the disputed article concerning international safeguards.

Days ago, the Soviet Union presented a compromise formula for policing an eventual accord. But objections from America's European allies over the role of policing agencies has continued to hold up agreement.

It was believed that Gromyko was seeking U.S. aid in g/ing West Germany, in particular, to come to terms.

Informed sources said the inclination in diplomatic quarters was to let the Geneva negotiators hammer away at the Soviet compromise, which now was reported to have progressed to draft language.

Dispute Policing

The primary issue is how much of a role, if any, the European nuclear community Euratom is to have in policing arrangements and what its relation should be to the policing functions of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), a U.N. group.

Rusk, who reportedly wanted to know if the Soviet Union now is prepared to set a time and place for negotiations to limit deployment of Antiballistic Missile (ABM) systems, apparently came away from the dinner disappointed. Indications were that the Kremlin has not yet formulated a firm position on how far to pursue, or to limit, the construction of its costly ABM shield.

Highlights and Sidelights From the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Constitutional Revision Commission is busy revising or rewriting the basic document which has governed Texas since 1876.

Before it could start, it rounded out its membership by naming five senators.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith refused to name the Senators. He says the Commission was not legally authorized. It was created by a simple House resolution and theSenate did not concur.

Senators chosen by the Commission itself were A. M. Aikin of Paris, Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, J. P. Word of Meridian, Don Kennard of Ft. Worth and Henry Gover of Houston.

Gov. John Connally opened the Commission's meeting by urging its members "to make some very profound recommendations about the structure of Texas government without removing fundamental safeguards."

Connally said the commission should "eliminate those portions (of the Constitution) which are outmoded and no longer applicable".

Commission Chairman Robert Storey, a Dallas attorney, said the 25-member commission, which will report to the 61st Legislature in 1969, should try to write a brand new constitution.

Recommendations of the Commission must go first to the Legislature. If two-thirds of the lawmakers agree that the proposed revision is worth submitting to voters, a statewide election will be required before any changes can go into effect.

Larry Temple, executive assistant to Governor Connally, was designated secretary and chairman of the drafting committee. San Antonio Mayor W. W. McAllister was named vice-chairman.

Legal or not, the group will devote 14 months to the project. Eight committees were named to study various parts of the Constitution — executive, legislative, judicial, political subdivisions, bill of rights, education, revenue and taxation, and drafting.

HURRICANE ACTION — All available federal aid will be sought by Governor Connally for Rio Grande Valley and Texas coastal areas ravaged by Hurricane Beulah.

Small Business Administration early declared SBA relief loans were available to firms in the hurricane-devastated sections.

State Insurance Board dispatched experts to the Valley to help interpret the fine print of policies. Insurance companies, which paid out $120,000,000 in Hurricane Carla losses six years ago, moved to implement "catastrophe plans" for speeding claims handling.

Board officials advised that Texas insurance policies do not cover losses due solely to flood waters or wave damage, although some do provide coverage against wind-driven rains, as well as wind damage.

Source of controversy surrounding Carla policies mainly involved losses caused by both wind and water and assessment of that portion attributable to hurricane winds.

Railroad Commission delayed setting oil allowable for October pending a survey of how Hurricane Beulah affected Gulf Coast refining capacity.

GOOD WATER FOR BAD—A new federal government policy demanding commitment of water in order to control state stream pollution may leave Texas no water for its cities, industry and agriculture.

Governor Connally told a conference on regional planning and development that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers wants the state to guarantee release of 1,400,000 acre feet of water per year into the Red River for the next century so as to upgrade quality.

A head-on clash between the state and federal government arose over a contract for the Cooper Dam and Reservoir in Northeast Texas. Corps of Engineers demanded that the state allocate 63,370 acre feet of water a year from Lake Texarkana to control Red River pollution.

At the time the contract was signed, Texas Water Development Board informed President Johnson that the state faces potential permanent loss of 192,000 acre feet from the Red River area below Lake Texoma and possible ultimate loss of 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 acre feet from all Texas waters to federal jurisdiction if the Corps policy stands. Board claimed the policy would further invalidate any planned major redistribution of the state's surface water supply proposed in its $3,600,000,000 water plan.

"If that policy stands," Connally said, "There will be no water left for cities, industries or agriculture. If the water quality controls that Texas is asked to guarantee are put into effect, all present and prospective dams on the San Antonio River would not meet these requirements, let alone needs of the San Antonio area."

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — House Bill of the 60th Legislature, which would repeal certain fees for attorneys and physicians under court appointment, is unconstitutional, says Attorney General Martin.

It is void, he says, because the title of the bill did not conform to the body of the bill, and the Constitution requires that both say essentially the some thing.

In other opinions Martin held that:

—State water quality Board has authority to enforce water control standards adopted last June by its predecessor agency, the State Water Pollution Control Board.

—Law setting fees for county clerks and recorders did not repeal provisions for state apportionment of funds to county officers salary funds for services rendered.

—Four years is the limit for deficiency determination and suit to collect state sale tax.

—State is required to pay filing and recording fees on tax liens.

BOARD APPROVES TRACTS —Texas School Land Board has approved several tracts for sealed bid oil and gas leasing on November 7 with the stanadrd one-sixth royalty and annual rental requirements. Oil and gas lease sale will include 163 tracts of 146,000 acres in the Gulf of Mexico, 222 bay tracts of 119,000 acres, 53 upland tracts of 20,000 acres in West Texas and 42 riverbed tracts of 3,500 acres.

Board also will offer for sulphur leasing one 50-acre tract in Brazoria County and 23 upland tracts in Reeves and Culberson counties.

APPOINTMENTS—Reps. Bill Rapp of Raymondville, Charles Finnell of Holliday, Gerhardt SCHULLE OF San Marcos, Tone Dramberger of San Antonio and Bill Pickett of Karnes City were named by Speaker Ben Barnes to House Interim Committee on Importation and Grading of Eggs.

Dr. H. R. Eyers of Texas A&M University, Plainview farmer F. F. Calhoun, Southern Methodist University Law Professor Dr. Howard J. Taubenfold, State Sen. J. F. Christi of El Paso and Dallas Engineer George M. Parker were appointed to the Water Development Board's Weather Modification Advisory Committee.

Reps. Carl Parker of Port Arthur, Fred Orr of DeSoto and David Crews of Conroe are new members of House Interim Committee on Uninsured Motorists.

New Marines Have That Look

By THOMAS CHEATHAM

DONG HA, Vietnam (UPI)—They were young men, fresh out of school and boot camp. Now they were on their way to battle as Marine replacements.

Their first taste of combat would come near the embattled outpost at Con Thien. The battalion to which they had been assigned was operating near that hill of death and fear. But no one had told them yet.

You could tell they were new. Their utilities were clean and starched. They were clean shaven and had close haircuts, and they each had the yellow manila envelope with their orders inside.

They arrived in Da Nang from Okinawa last Friday, about 30 of them, all privates first class.

The Marines told them what battalion they would go to, but the replacements said they still didn't know where it was. Just report to Dong Ha Saturday, were their orders.

Board Plane

They boarded the C130 transport plane and were bunched together three abreast, on the floor. They had read the papers and knew what was happening at Con Thien, Gio Linh and Dong Ha.

Some of them sat and stared. Others tried to joke with each other. Some tried to sleep. Their faces were glistening with sweat. It was hot inside the plane.

The airplane's crew warned that if mortar or artillery rounds were hitting the Dong Ha base when the plane landed, that it would stop fast, let the passengers out on the run, and be on its way.

"It isn't really that bad up there, is it?" one of the replacements asked another, who shrugged.

It was quiet when they arrived at Dong Ha.

Without helmets or flak vests —"they'll give them to us there, I guess," one of them said—they jumped off the plane.

Nothing Said

Marines being rotated out, caked with dirt, unshaven, needing haircuts—the veterans —met the new men silently. Then the oldtimers boarded the plane and headed south to safety.

"Well, here we are. I guess it's what we asked for," said Jim Hoskins, 19, of Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have some buddies in this area who I went to high school with. I wonder if they'll be around?"

One of the young Marines went inside the small plywood-walled terminal and phoned the number they were supposed to call.

Some trucks arrived, the men put their sea bags inside and hopped aboard.

It was a drizzly day at Dong Ha, and still no one had told the replacements that their battalion was a mile from Con Thien. They would find out soon enough.

KILL FELLOW INMATE

BARCELONA (UPI)—Spanish police Tuesday reported convicts in a Barcelona jail tied a fellow inmate between two mattresses and burned him to death for refusing to join in a revolt. Eighteen prisoners attacked two prison guards and barricaded themselves in a cell until police and firemen arrived to quell the revolt, a spokesman said.
