Iranian chief offers to help hostages

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - The pro-Iranian kidnappers of Joseph Cicippio gave the American hostage a reprieve but set new, tough terms for Israel to meet to save him from death.

Iranian President Hashemi Rafsanjani, meanwhile, offered today "to help the White House find a solution to the hostage crisis," the Tunisian news agency reported from Tehran.

The captors, who call themselves the Revolutionary Justice Organization, said they would give Israel several days to meet their demands. They did not say what would happen if the Israelis refused.

In Jerusalem, Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin said Israel would examine the new demands "on a positive basis." Four top Israeli leaders, including Rabin and Prime Minister Yitzkhak Shamir, met today in Jerusalem to fashion a response to the Shiite radicals' demands.

The New York Times, quoting unidentified administration sources, reported that President Bush had "all but decided" to attack terrorist strongholds in Lebanon, including one occupied by Iranian militants, if another American hostage had been killed.

During a morning sermon at Tehran University, Rafsanjani said "the liberation of the hostages and the problems of Lebanon have solutions which will have to be found by dialogue and not by force."

The original threat to kill Cicippio came on Monday, the day another group in Lebanon said it had hanged hostage Marine Lt. Col. William Higgins in retaliation for the abduction of a Shiite Moslem cleric one week ago by Israeli commandos.

At that time, the Revolutionary Justice Organization demanded the release of Sheik Abdul Karim Obeid in return for sparing Cicippio, who was kidnapped nearly three years ago. The new terms announced Thursday include release of unspecified "Palestinian and Lebanese" guerrillas.

It said lists of them are to be prepared within days and presented to the Red Cross.

Agreement made on S&L bailout

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush's $159 billion bailout of the savings and loan industry awaits final passage, with administration and congressional negotiators in a fragile agreement on how to finance the landmark bill.

Treasury Secretary Nicholas Brady and Budget Director Richard Darman joined negotiators at the bargaining table late Thursday night, giving the pact their tentative approval and all but lifting a veto threat from Bush.

"Obviously we've only had an opportunity to make a quick review, but based on that review ... and in the spirit (of compromise) in which the president sent us here ... we accept," Brady said.

The Senate was scheduled to take up the agreement today, with leaders of both parties predicting it would win the 60 votes needed to clear a procedural hurdle before adoption.

House action was to follow, but Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., the powerful chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and others on his panel declared their opposition to the pact.

Democrats said Republicans would need to compensate with a strong showing to ensure passage in time to allow Congress to complete work and leave for a month-long vacation.

The administration and Congress long ago agreed on the most important elements of the landmark bill, which will close or merge hundreds of insolvent savings institutions hemorrhaging losses at an estimated $20 million a day.

It also contains a series of what Bush labeled "never again" provisions designed to prevent the recurrence of what analysts describe as the worst financial crisis since the wave of bank failures in the 1930s.

In the key reform, savings and loan owners will be required to raise billions of dollars of their own capital to discourage risky investments and act as a cushion between future losses and government deposit insurance funds.

Thrift institutions will be channeled back into home mortgage lending and away from speculative commercial real estate ventures and high-yield, high-risk junk bonds.

The bill also gives the Justice Department $75 million a year to root out fraud at financial institutions, permits banks for the first time to buy healthy institutions in the rival thrift industry, and enacts the most sweeping restructuring of the regulatory bureaucracy in five decades.

The agency overseeing S&Ls, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, will be dismantled, with one piece wrapped into the Treasury Department and the other coming under the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which insures commercial bank deposits.

While taxpayers will bear most of the bailout, the savings industry also is contributing through higher deposit insurance premiums.

A dispute between the White House and congressional Democrats over how to account for the taxpayer funds was the last snag.

Shrugging off a morning veto threat, the House at midday voted 221-199 to approve the legislation with its own financing plan. But by evening, the bill bogged down in the Senate.

Senators voted 54-46 in favor of the House financing proposal, but fell six votes short of the 60-vote majority required under the Gramm-Rudman deficit-reduction law.

Catch a good truck deal?

A truck owned by Scott Downings was still visible during a trip downtown Thursday despite the camouflage netting draped over it. The surplus World War II netting was placed over the truck to air out after spending years in storage. The netting was recently purchased by Gene Zinser from a military warehouse where it was stored following the war.

Local county salaries are similar to others in area

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

A comparison of Deaf Smith County's elected officials' salaries with other county officials in the state shows that most of the local salaries are in the same range as those paid in similar positions, in similar counties, in the state.

Deaf Smith County commissioners turned down a five percent pay increase for all county employees.

While that decision may save money and avoid a tax increase, it will likely mean that county elected officials will slip in their ranking among what other officials in similar positions make in other portions of the state.

The comparison is in a pamphlet, 1988 County Officials Salary Survey, published by the Texas Association of Counties.

Among counties with a population between 10,000 and 24,999, Deaf Smith County Judge Tom Simons receives one of the highest salaries, but also has a bigger workload than many other county judges.

Simons' total pay, including allowances, is listed at $37,483. Higher salaries and benefits are paid to the county judges in Chambers ($37,768), Fayette ($49,200), Ward ($38,196) and Winkler ($38,928) counties.

In several of the counties listed in the same grouping as Deaf Smith, there are county "court-at-law" judges, and the county judge is the county administrator. In others, including Deaf Smith, the county judge also hears legal cases as well as serving as the county's top administrator.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Joe Brown's total renumeration is listed at $29,211, plus a county-furnished vehicle, for coordinating law enforcement in one of the largest counties in the state.

There are several other counties that pay their sheriffs more for covering less territory (in most cases) in the same population group, including Andrews, Calhoun, Chambers, Pecos, Reeves, Ward and Winkler counties.

Deaf Smith County commissioners are in the bottom third in pay. Their listed 1988 salary was $18,094, plus a $900 travel allowance.

Fifty-two of the 72 counties listed in the same population category paid their commissioners more, and many list a county-provided vehicle or larger travel allowance along with the higher pay.

Other elected county officials (excepting District Attorney Roland Saul) made $25,005 this year. Pay for county officials in counties with population similar to Deaf Smith County ranged from a high of about $34,000 in Andrews County (not all county officials made the same), to less than $17,500 in several counties.

Officials in 20 of the 72 counties listed made more than Deaf Smith County officials.

In counties which are usually used in this area to compare Hereford and Deaf Smith County with others in the region, Deaf Smith county is, again, in the middle.

In Hutchinson County (the comparable city is Borger), the county judge makes $39,161 plus $3,600 travel allowance; commissioners earn $19,470 plus $4,200 travel allowance; and most elected officials make $29,727 plus travel allowance of $3,600. Commissioners there make $19,470 a year plus a $4,200 travel allowance.

In Gray County (Pampa is slightly larger than Hereford), the county judge earns $39,340, $3,600 for serving on a juvenile board, an $1,800 travel allowance, and longevity pay. Commissioners earn $21,852 a year plus $1,800 in travel allowance and longevity pay. Most other elected officials in Gray County earn at least $32,229, plus longevity pay.

Randall County (Canyon is the county seat) officials' pay varies from $13,788 for commissioners (Randall County commissioners are not responsible for road maintenance, but also receive a $2,400 travel allowance) to $40,800, plus a $2,400 travel allowance, for the county auditor.

The pay scale is also skewed in Potter County (Amarillo). Potter County Judge Elisha Demerson earns $41,868 a year, including travel allowance. Potter County commissioners earn just over $16,000 a year, and other elected officials make from $27,288 for the county treasurer to $42,264 for the county auditor. Potter County Sheriff Jimmy Don Boydston earns $44,100 a year.

A survey of what non-elected employees make across the state was not available.

Court hears weed district election suit

A hearing has been set for 2 p.m. today in Amarillo district court to determine a request seeking an injunction to stop an election here Saturday on the Deaf Smith County Noxious Weed District.

Hereford attorney David Clyde, who filed the suit on behalf of J.W. McMorries Jr., said District Judge Don Emerson will conduct the hearing in the 320th Judicial District court. District Judge Wesley Gulley of Hereford was out of town.

Combest slates meeting here

U.S. Rep. Larry Combest (R-Lubbock) will hold a "town hall" meeting at 9 a.m. on August 10 at the Hereford Community Center.

Combest will be holding the meeting here along with five others in his 19th Congressional District.

Olney S&L tabs Harris as manager

Olney Savings & Loan Association has named Bill Harris as branch manager of Olney Savings & Loan in Hereford.

Prior to joining Olney Savings, Harris was branch manager of Security Federal S&L here. Harris attended Texas Tech University and Amarillo College. He is past president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

His community involvement includes being president of the United Way and a past chairman of the Hereford Day Care Board. He is active in the Lions Club and he and his wife, Mary, are members of the Central Church of Christ.

Officials of Olney Savings recently announced the reorganized thrift will move its corporate headquarters from Olney to Bryan. Matt Landry, president, said a name change is being considered.

Olney Savings has 80 branch offices throughout West Texas and has assets of more than $4 billion.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says most of us can forgive and forget; we just don't want the other person to forget that we forgave.

A father was asked what his son was going to be when he got through college. "Old," he answered.

George Washington never told a lie. Of course, he never played golf or filed an income tax return either.

We've had a number of class reunions in Hereford in recent weeks, so it seems a good time to pass along a story from Roy McQueen at the Snyder newspaper.

Two guys had been close friends in school but hadn't seen each other since graduation. One had borrowed his brother's sports car and had just enough cash to make it back for to the old home town for a reunion. His friend was driving an expensive car that he obviously owned, a hand-tailored suit and was beaming with success.

Asked the unlucky fellow: "You've got it made, and I've had nothing but failures. "I'm behind on my bills; my banker is breathing down by neck, and my wife just ran off with a traveling salesman. Tell me your secret, how did you make it?"

"I got religion," he replied. "Right after high school, I was just getting by. Then one night I went to a tent revival and took the preacher's message to heart. I went home and asked for a sign. Then I opened my Bible and closed my eyes and I put my finger on the page. I looked down to the book of Joshua and my finger was pointing to the word 'horse.'

"The next day," he continued, "I looked in the paper and a horse named Joshua was running at 100-to-1 odds. I took every cent I had and bet on him. I took the winnings and bought some horses and opened my own stable.

"But there's more," said the successful classmate. "I took down my Bible again, closed my eyes and pointed. My finger was on the word "cattle." That very day I bought half interest in a ranch. Another time my finger landed on the word "oil," and we've never hit a dry hole."

The unlucky classmate listened to this success story, and left the reunion early. He rushed back to the motel and found the Gideon Bible. With trembling hands, he closed his eyes, opened the Bible and put his finger on the page.

He opened his eyes, looked down where his finger was pointing and read, "Chapter 11."

Texans not too friendly about slogan change on license tags

DALLAS (AP) - Newspaper surveys from around the state suggest that Texans are anything but friendly ...

... Friendly, that is, about a Texas Highway Commission proposal to include "The Friendship State" on a license plate redesign.

Almost 94 percent of the 3,098 readers responding to a ballot published in the Longview News-Journal rejected the slogan in favor of "The Lone State State."

Thirty-one readers - 1 percent - voted for "The Friendship State."

"I was born in Texas, educated in Texas, married a Texas girl, and live in Texas," wrote Jim Connor of Jacksonville. "Why change?"

The response was much the same in Fort Worth and Houston.

Tommie Pinkard, director of public information at the state highway department, said Thursday her office has received about 2,400 responses from a Fort Worth Star-Telegram survey and another 1,700 from a poll conducted by The Houston Post.

Ms. Pinkard said staff members have only begun to sift through the responses but it is already evident that respondents overwhelmingly oppose the proposal.

The Dallas Morning News and the Austin American-Statesman also are soliciting responses, and a Dallas Times Herald call-in poll showed strong opposition to the "Friendship" motto.

"Had this been expected, it would have probably been handled differently," she said. "I think nobody ever thought there would have been this much emotion, this type of response."

The result? The highway commission has requested the issue be addressed at its Aug. 29 meeting. Ms. Pinkard said the results of the newspaper surveys will be presented at that time.

Other News-Journal readers attached letters to their ballots.

Mrs. Wendell Pickering of Longview wrote: "No honest-to-goodness-dyed-in-the-wool Texan would give up his or her 'Lone Star State' license plates for a 'Friendly State.'"

But Lois Johnson of Longview wrote: "I don't agree that it was 'probably a Yankee' that came up with the 'Friendship State' motto ... there are a few Texans whose elevator doesn't go to the top floor."

Local Roundup

Gun used in threat

Charges have been filed against a juvenile male following an incident in the 200 block of Fuller. Reports indicate that the juvenile called the complainant from his home and into the street where the juvenile then threatened the man with a gun.

A threat with a knife was involved in a disagreement between juveniles investigated by the Hereford Police Department Thursday. After interviewing the juvenile males involved in that incident, police were unable to determine whom it was that drew the knife.

Other incidents investigated by city police were:

A suspicious person reported in the 700 block of Ave. G; a prowler reported in the 600 block of Ave. I; the theft of a tool box from a pickup reported at the Hereford Independent School District administration building--stolen property valued at $500; criminal mischief reported at Blue Water Garden Apartments; a domestic dispute reported in the 900 block of S. Julian; and criminal mischief reported in the 1000 block of E. Third with damage estimated at $200.

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office investigated two reports of criminal mischief, both at the Labor Camp. One report involved juveniles throwing rocks and a second included damage to a car--also involving juveniles--with damage estimated at $250.

City police issued eight citations and investigated two minor accidents.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department received one fire call, a false alarm to Golden Plains Care Center.

Band Boosters gather

The parents of members of the Hereford High School band are encouraged to attend a meeting on Monday at 7 p.m. in the high school choir room.

The Mighty Maroon Band will begin its summer practice at 6 p.m. on Monday in the high school band hall.

Child Welfare Board meets

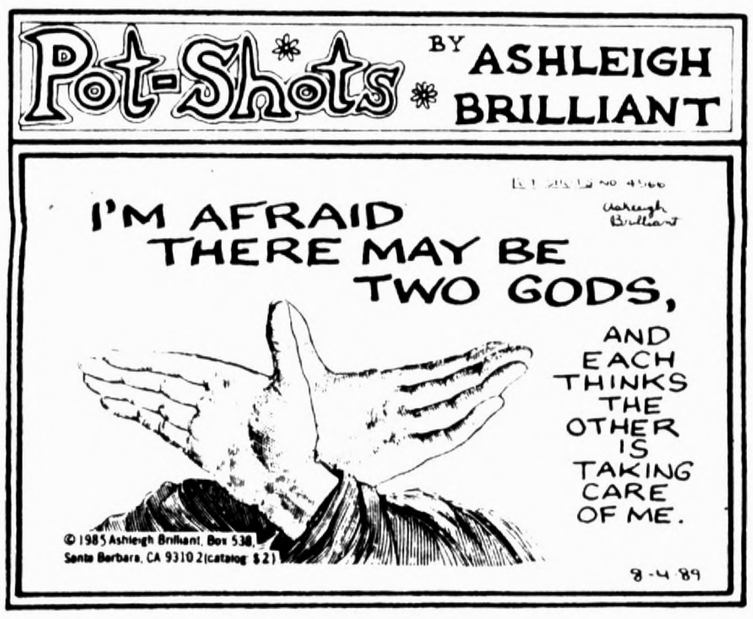

A regular meeting of the Deaf Smith County Child Welfare Board will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the commissioner's courtroom of the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

Road rally races

The Jubilee Road Rally will begin today (Sunday) at 2 p.m. in the Community Center parking lot. The registration and entry fee is $25 per car. The public is invited to attend an award ceremony to be held at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in the ballroom of the Community Center.

Fair weather forecast

The forecast for tonight is fair with a low in the upper 60s and a south wind of five to ten mph. Saturday should be sunny and very warm with a high in the mid-90s and a west wind of ten to 20 mph.

Today in history

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, August 4, the 216th day of 1989. There are 149 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On August 4, 1735, freedom of the press in America won an important victory as a jury acquitted John Peter Zenger of the New York Weekly Journal of a charge of seditious libel brought by the royal governor of New York.

On this date:

In 1790, a U.S. naval task force known as the Revenue Cutter Service was formed. It would later become the Coast Guard.

In 1830, plans for the city of Chicago were laid out.

In 1892, Sunday school teacher Lizzie Borden was arrested in Fall River, Mass., charged with the hatchet murders of her father and stepmother. (She was later found innocent.)

In 1914, Britain declared war on Germany and the United States proclaimed its neutrality during World War I.

In 1916, the United States purchased the Danish Virgin islands for 25 million dollars.

In 1944, Nazi police raided the secret annex of a house in Amsterdam and arrested eight people - including 14-year-old Anne Frank, whose diary, after her death, became a classic depiction of the holocaust.

In 1948, a five-day filibuster by southern lawmakers succeeded in thwarting a bill in the Senate to abolish the poll tax.

In 1964, the bodies of missing civil rights workers Michael H. Schwerner, Andrew Goodman and James E. Chaney were found buried inside an earthen dam in Mississippi.

In 1977, President Carter signed a measure establishing the Department of Energy, the first cabinet-level department created since the Department of Transportation in 1966.

In 1982, as the result of a trade, Joel Youngblood became the only major-league player to get hits for different teams in different cities on the same day, playing for the New York Mets in Chicago, and for the Montreal Expos in Philadelphia.

In 1987, the Federal Communications Commission voted 4-0 to rescind the Fairness Doctrine, which required radio and television stations to present balanced coverage of controversial issues.

Ten years ago: Italian Christian Democrat Francesco Cossiga formed a temporary government to end a seven-month-old political crisis.

Five years ago: Carl Lewis won the gold medal in the 100-meter dash at the Los Angeles Summer Olympics, the first of four medals he won.

One year ago: U.S. Rep. Mario Biaggi, D-N.Y., was convicted of charges that included conspiracy, extortion, tax evasion and acceptance of bribes in the Wedtech corruption scandal. (He was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $242,000.)

Today's Birthdays: Britain's Queen Mother Elizabeth is 89. The dean of the White House press corps, Helen Thomas of United Press International, is 69. Track star Mary Decker Slaney is 31. Baseball pitcher Roger Clemens is 27.

Thought for Today: "Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter." - Thomas Jefferson (1743-1826).

BABBLING BROOKS

By John Brooks

I have decided that most scientific discoveries were made by bachelor men cleaning out their refrigerators.

Maybe not all of them were bachelors, but likely most had an extended single life at one time or another.

I came to this conclusion after my semi-annual cleaning out of the refrigerator over the weekend.

We all know that Dr. Alexander Fleming discovered penicillin. From moldy bread. If Dr. Fleming hadn't discovered it, I would have.

Some of you may not know that Black Holes exist not only in the outer reaches of the universe, but also develop after green peppers have been left in the bottom of the crisper for a few months. Some astronomer probably was trying fix Green Pepper Steak one day, saw what was wrong with his peppers, and the theory for all of those places without stars flashed through his brain.

During my cleaning, I also saw what had to be the original idea for latex.

Rubber, not latex, grows in trees. If it hadn't been for latex, there's no telling what would have happened to the world. If it hadn't been for latex, we wouldn't have things like, uh, tires.

I discovered a latex-type substance in a dish I had been missing for about three months. I think it originally contained chicken breasts or something. Whatever it was, I tried my best with several utensils to dig it out of the dish. I think it might have grown to the dish. I'm not sure.

I finally had to take it out with my fingers. If God had not already given someone the talent to invent the Superball, I could have invented it with those gnarly chicken breasts. Unfortunately, it was already invented. Probably by some confirmed bachelor who found some chicken in his refrigerator one day.

Some people wonder what would happen to exposed skin on the Moon. No doubt, it looks like the freezer-burned roast I found in my freezer.

According to the sticker I purchased that roast sometime last March; however, knowing the store I bought it from, I may or may not have bought it before the expiration date.

The roast looked like it had already turned into beef jerky.

I also found something that I think was some chili I made last winter.

Knowing everything I put into my chili, it's probably well preserved. If I remember my chemistry right from the King Tut exhibit, that chili should be good for another 3,000 years.

Gov. Clements signs law to to protect U.S., Texas flags

AUSTIN (AP) - Gov. Bill Clements signed into law legislation protecting the United States and Texas flags but the fate of 20 state employees remains uncertain under another signed bill that one state official said represents a personal vendetta.

The flag law signed Thursday makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by up to a year in jail, to burn, mutilate, destroy or deface the state or U.S. flag.

Lawmakers rallied to protect the flag after the Supreme Court ruled in favor of Gregory Johnson, who burned a flag in protest at the 1984 Republican National Convention in Dallas.

After the decision, President Bush urged passage of a constitutional amendment to ban flag burning.

But Sen. Craig Washington, D-Houston, filibustered for 12 hours and 20 minutes, against a resolution calling on Congress to exempt desecration of the U.S. and Texas flags from the constitutional protection of freedom of speech.

Washington finally relented, saying he had made his point with the public against tampering with the constitution.

In addition to the flag bill, Clements signed a measure to convert the Texas Aeronautics Commission into the Texas Department of Aviation.

The fund raiser will begin at 8 a.m. and will last until most items have been sold. Georgia Riley, BB/BS secretary, at right, is organizing the goods with Little Sister Carla Betts.

Emerick named to honor roll

The University of Dallas, a private Catholic-affiliated liberal arts institution in Irving, recently released the names of its undergraduate students whose spring semester grades qualified them for the honor roll.

In order to achieve this honor, a student must maintain a grade point average of 3.0 and carry a minimum of 15 academic credits in a semester.

Kimberly Jill Emerick, a freshman at the University of Dallas majoring in chemistry, is among the students on the honor roll for the spring 1989 semester.

The student is a graduate of Hereford High School and is the daughter of David Emerick of Hereford and Sylvia Emerick.

OLD ENGAGEMENT CALENDARS

Dear Heloise: Convert old, but oh so pretty, engagement calendar booklets into specialized recipe collections. Copy in bold print each of your favorite recipes on an appropriate size blank card and then paste the recipe card over the used page of past engagements.

By arranging recipes alphabetically or by general subject, treasured recipes can be kept in an attractive fashion. — Polly Chandler, Del Rio, Texas

LARGE RUGS

Dear Heloise: Have you ever wondered how to clean those area rugs that cannot be put into the washer at home or in a laundromat because they are too big? Scrubbing the spots, whatever their source, just makes the rest of the rug look worse. After some time, the only solution seems to be to discard it and purchase another one.

If the area rug is washable, a trip to the car wash will do the trick. The high-pressure hoses, dispensing soap in one wash and rinse water in another, can clean the rugs to look like new again. No scrubbing is even necessary. Solve the problem of bringing the wet rugs home simply by rolling them up and placing them in a large plastic garbage bag. You can dry the rug at home over a fence or couple of sturdy clotheslines.

So next time you take your car to the do-it-yourself car wash, take along your washable soiled area rug and give it a new, clean look. — Sandra L. Quinn-Musgrove, San Antonio, Texas

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) - Millionaire Percy Ross, who has made a pastime out of giving away part of the fortune he made in plastics, suddenly found himself with no cash to dole out.

"I've run out of money. I'm broke," Ross said during a visit to Charleston on Tuesday. "I guess I gave away too much yesterday in Huntington."

1989 Property Tax Rates in Deaf Smith County

This notice concerns 1989 property tax rates for Deaf Smith County. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

		General Fund	Farm to Market/ Flood Control Fund	Special Road/ Bridge Fund
	Last year's tax rate:			I & S
	Last year's operating taxes	$ 1,991,233	$	$
+	Last year's debt taxes	$	$	$ 300,563
-	Last year's total taxes	$ 2,291,796	$	$ 2,291,796
:	Last year's tax base	$ 487,927,681	$	$ 487,927,681
=	Last year's total tax rate	$ .4081 /$100	$ /$100	$ .0616 /$100
	This year's effective tax rate:
	Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 2,288,281	$	$ 2,288,281
÷	This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting taxes on new property)	$ 483,107,681	$	$ 483,107,681
=	This year's effective tax rate for each fund	$ .4682 /$100	$ /$100	$ .0623 /$100
	Total effective tax rate	$ .5305 /$100

A county that adopted the additional sales tax in a 1989 election must include the following lines:

-	Sales tax adjustment rate	$ N/A	/$100
=	Effective tax rate	$	/$100
×	1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ .5464	/$100

	This year's rollback tax rate:
	Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 2,261,910	$	$ 2,261,910
÷	This year's adjusted tax base	$ 483,107,681	$	$ 483,107,681
=	This year's effective operating rate	$ .4682 /$100	$ /$100	$ /$100
×	1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .5057 /$100	$ /$100	$ /$100
+	This year's debt rate	$ /$100	$ /$100	$ .0623 /$100
=	This year's rollback rate for each fund	$ .5057 /$100	$ /$100	$ .0623 /$100
	This year's rollback rate	$ .5680 /$100

A county that imposes the additional sales tax must include these lines, regardless of when it held the election:

-	Sales tax adjustment rate	$ .0565	/$100
=	Rollback tax rate	$ .5115	/$100

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at Deaf Smith County Appraisal District

Steelers lead Hall of Fame inductees

CANTON, Ohio (AP) - Mel Blount, Terry Bradshaw, Willie Wood and Art Shell are to be inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame this weekend as the Buffalo Bills face the Washington Redskins in the annual Hall of Fame exhibition game.

Blount didn't fit the cornerback mold when he was picked by Pittsburgh for that position in 1970, his college coach recalls.

"Up to that time, most people felt a cornerback had to be short to be mobile and agile enough for the position," said Al Tabor, Blount's coach at Southern University.

"Mel was the first big cornerback. That's probably why he wasn't drafted higher," Tabor said.

The Steelers picked the 6-foot-3, 205-pound Blount in the third round of the college draft. He went on to finish his 14-year career with 57 interceptions, setting a team record and placing him seventh on the all-time list.

"Every player coming out of college thinks he's the No. 1 pick, and I was no different," Blount said. "But I was happy just to be drafted."

Former Steelers quarterback Terry Bradshaw played the same 14 seasons for Pittsburgh as Blount. The two own rings for victories in the 1975, 1976, 1979 and 1980 Super Bowls.

Wood, a Green Bay Packers defensive back, becomes the 18th Packer and fifth free agent to make the hall. He intercepted 48 passes in his 11 seasons with Green Bay and led the NFL in punt returns in 1961.

"When I think about Willie Wood, I think about how many plays he made to turn a game around," former Packer linebacker Dave Robinson said. "He was just a shy person, just a small guy, an average guy, but when he made those types of plays, it would fire the team up."

Shell, an Oakland and Los Angeles Raiders offensive tackle, had 15 seasons with the Raiders starting in 1968 when he often weighed in at 300 pounds or more.

"Art was like a big Coke machine with a head on it," former halfback Pete Banaszak said. "Running backs used to like to run behind him and Gene Upshaw because 99 percent of the time there was a place to run."

Angels blank Seattle, move past A's

By The Associated Press=

American League teams are drawing a blank when they try to beat the California Angels.

The Angels pulled back into first place in the West after a two-day absence when Kirk McCaskill beat Seattle 6-0 with a seven-hitter Thursday night.

It was California's second consecutive shutout over Seattle, following Bert Blyleven's 7-0 win on Wednesday.

"The guys are throwing exceptionally well," California manager Doug Rader said. McCaskill, 11-6, yielded seven hits and struck out three.

In other AL games, it was New York 8, Minnesota 1; Cleveland 4, Boston 2; Detroit 9, Texas 6, and Kansas City 5, Toronto 0.

Johnny Ray and Devon White each hit two-run homers to support McCaskill.

After an RBI single by White made it 1-0 in the third inning, Seattle starter Randy Johnson, 5-3, issued a leadoff walk to Dick Schofield in the sixth. Ray hit Johnson's next pitch over the left field wall.

Indians 4, Red Sox 2

Cleveland moved into second place in the East, 2{ games behind Baltimore, as right-hander Rod Nichols beat Boston despite allowing 10 hits in seven-plus innings.

Cory Snyder drove in two runs with a single in the third inning after Joe Carter was walked intentionally to load the bases.

Nichols, 2-1, was relieved by Doug Jones after Nick Esasky's two-run homer in the eighth. Jones got the last six outs.

Royals 5, Blue Jays 0

Tom Gordon continued his strong bid for Rookie of the Year honors with a three-hitter for his first career shutout and complete game for Kansas City, allowing only one Toronto runner to third base.

Gordon, 12-5, who struck out eight and walked two, allowed a single in the second and a double in the eighth to Fred McGriff and a seventh-inning single by Kelly Gruber. McGriff advanced to third on a groundout in the eighth before Gordon struck out pinch-hitter Lee Mazzilli.

Danny Tartabull led off the fourth with a single, the first hit off Jimmy Key, 7-13. Pat Tabler followed with a double and Bob Boone drove in Tartabull with a sacrifice fly for a 1-0 lead.

Yankees 8, Twins 1

New York hammered Rick Aguilera in his debut with Minnesota and Chuck Cary pitched a five-hitter.

Aguilera, acquired by the Twins from the New York Mets in the Frank Viola trade on Monday, gave up 10 hits and six runs in four-plus innings.

Cary, 2-0, who pitched 16 consecutive scoreless innings before Greg Gagne homered in the ninth, struck out five and walked none.

Tigers 9, Rangers 6

Detroit and Texas each issued eight walks before Alan Trammell broke a 6-6 tie in the eighth inning with his second RBI single of the game.

Mike Heath started the eighth with a single and Gary Pettis walked. After Kenny Rogers relieved Cecilio Guante, 5-5, with a 2-0 count on Trammell, Rogers got the count to 3-2 before Trammell singled, scoring Heath with the go-ahead run.

White Sox 6, Athletics 4

Chicago ended Oakland's four-game winning streak on Ron Karkovice's first career triple, breaking a sixth-inning tie.

Dan Pasqua led off the inning with a walk off Bob Welch, 11-6, and scored on Karkovice's two-out triple off the wall in right-center.

Rickey Henderson became the first American League player to steal 50 bases in nine different seasons when he swiped second in the fifth inning.

Reds launch Astros, 18-2

By The Associated Press=

Batting practice for the Cincinnati Reds lasted a little longer than the Houston Astros expected.

The Reds set a major-league record with 16 hits during a 14-run first inning and routed the Astros 18-2 on Thursday at Riverfront Stadium.

The first inning took 38 minutes to play, and then it took the statisticians almost as long to figure out the records.

"It was amazing," Cincinnati infielder Todd Benzinger said.

Seven Reds had two hits off Houston starter Jim Clancy and reliever Bob Forsch in the first, breaking a century-old record. The previous record for most batters with two hits in an inning was set by Chicago against Detroit in 1883.

The Reds fell one run short of the National League record for most runs in one inning, set by Brooklyn in the first inning against Cincinnati in 1952.

The previous one-inning hit record was set by the Boston Red Sox, who had 14 against Detroit in 1953. The NL record of 12 hits in one inning was held by the St. Louis Cardinals, who did it against Cincinnati in 1925. The Reds' 12 singles in the first inning set another record.

Elsewhere in the NL it was Los Angeles 6, San Francisco 3; St. Louis 6, New York 5; Chicago 2, Philadelphia 0; Pittsburgh 1, Montreal 0 in 12 innings, and San Diego 6, Atlanta 5.

Dodgers 6, Giants 3

Orel Hershiser beat San Francisco for the 15th time in 19 career decisions, leading Los Angeles past the injury-plagued Giants at Dodger Stadium.

Eddie Murray sparked a four-run fourth inning with a two-run triple and Mike Marshall capped the rally with a two-run homer off Russ Swan. It was Swan's major-league debut.

Cardinals 6, Mets 5

Tom Pagnozzi's run-scoring single broke a sixth-inning tie and Milt Thompson matched his career high with four RBIs.

Pagnozzi lined a two-out run-scoring single in the sixth inning off reliever Jeff Musselman, who lost his NL debut.

Cubs 2, Phillies 0

Greg Maddux, Mitch Williams and Les Lancaster combined on a six-hitter.

Williams relieved Maddux, 12-8, with one out and runners on first and third in the seventh inning. He struck out Len Dykstra and got Tom Herr to fly out.

Damon Berryhill hit his fifth homer leading off the fourth.

Padres 6, Braves 5

Tony Gwynn helped visiting San Diego complete a three-game sweep with two run-scoring singles.

Gwynn's single broke a 4-4 tie in the fourth, scoring Bip Roberts, who had doubled and advanced to third on an infield grounder.

Gwynn's first-inning single also scored Roberts, who had walked and advanced to third on Roberto Alomar's single.

Pirates 1, Expos 0

Pinch-hitter Benny Distefano's run-scoring single with two outs in the 12th inning broke a scoreless tie.

Andy McGaffigan, 3-5, the Expos' fourth pitcher, retired the first two batters in the 12th before Rafael Belliard singled to left. Belliard stole second, and Distefano lined a shot into right-center field.

Fatherhood, football challenge Bates

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - On May 24 something happened to Bill Bates that was like being blindsided by a tight end, fullback, and guard on the same play: He became the father of triplets.

"It's just another challenge in my life," said the Dallas Cowboys strong safety who is battling Vince Albritton for a starting job.

The challenges read from left to right on your depth chart: Graham, 3 pounds, 12 ounces, Brianna; 3-2, and Hunter 3-7.

"They were so premature that they were in the hospital for eight weeks," Bates said. "They were only home three weeks before I had to come to training camp. It's been wild. It's been a big circus like the one in training camp. There hasn't been all the sleep in the world."

Bates dreaded coming to camp. He wanted to be around while his wife, Denise, got back on her feet.

"Gosh, she was big, bigger than Nate Newton," Bates said. "But she's doing fine now."

Bates said his mother-in-law and parents had been helping out.

"I had a little personal rebellion because I didn't want to leave the babies," Bates said. "I had never been a father before. I didn't want to go and I think any father would understand. I'm with the program now but I still wish I was back in Dallas."

Bates came to camp at a slim 199 pounds because of his long days and nights, helping Denise take care of the babies.

"I think I may be a little quicker," said Bates, who is noted for his hard tackles. "It will be a challenge to beat out Vince. I guess it will all come down to who has the heart."

Bates was one of former coach Tom Landry's favorite players, and Landry once said, "If I had a team full of Bill Bateses I wouldn't have to worry much about anything."

Bates even went to the Pro Bowl one season as a special teams player thanks, in part, to Landry's praise.

"I miss coach Landry a lot but I can see some good things in the new coaching staff, too," Bates said. "They get you enthused and thinking positive about what you're doing. If you have talent and it isn't enthused then you won't have as good a team."

Johnson has been heaping effusive praise about Albritton's work in practices.

Bates knows.

"If I don't start, I'll still be the best special teams player in the NFL you can bet on that," he said.

Meanwhile, Bates is settling for nightly telephone reports from Dallas about his triplets.

"Denise puts them up to the telephone and I can hear them breathe," Bates said. "It's just like talking to them."

Folsom prefers 'Pokes job to glory

THOUSAND OAK, Calif. (AP) - If you ran a name identification game for Dallas Cowboys' players, Steve Folsom likely would top the chart for the least familiar.

Yet, he could be the starting tight end for the Cowboys when they open Jimmy Johnson's new era on Sept. 10 in New Orleans.

"Nobody's heard of me but that's alright," he said. "The other guys can have the glory. I just want a job."

Folsom was originally drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles, spent a brief time with the New York Giants, and played for the Philadelphia Stars of the United States Football League.

After the USFL folded, Folsom was out of football for two years.

In a chance call to the Cowboys, Folsom got a job last year.

"Jim Erkenbeck was my coach in Philly and I called him to congratulate him about getting a job with the Cowboys," Folsom said. "I told him to call me if he heard of work. He said the Cowboys could use me."

Folsom played for the Cowboys last year behind Thornton Chandler but caught only nine passes for 84 yards. However, two of the catches were for touchdowns.

He also developed a reputation as a solid blocker.

Erkenbeck was swept out in the new coaching change but Folsom's stature has been strengthened under Tony Wise and the new Cowboys' coaches.

"Things are kind of at the opposite end of the spectrum the way it was last year," Folsom said. "Practice is more intense. I haven't seen anything like this since college (Utah). This is a new situation and a great opportunity for me."

Folsom has drawn praise from Johnson who says "he's a hard worker, catches the ball well and isn't afraid to block. His only drawback is lack of speed."

Folsom earned the starting tight end job before training camp began.

"I walked into the practice field and one of the trainers told me 'well, you're the starting tight end,'" Folsom said. "I couldn't believe it. Then they told me Chandler hurt his wrist (fracture) playing basketball.."

Although Chandler may be ready by the regular season, Folsom has gained a big edge in training camp.

"I've got a big chance and I want to take advantage of it," Folsom said. "Every play and every scrimmage is my chance to show them I should be their starting tight end this season."

Switzer visits Thousand Oaks

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Former Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer visited the Dallas Cowboys' practice field on Thursday but said he's not eager to get back into collegiate or professional coaching.

"I'm just on vacation in California with my kids," Switzer said. "I just got out of coaching and I don't want to get back in it. I'm relieved to be out of coaching."

Switzer resigned from the head coaching job at Oklahoma amid controversy over NCAA penalties against the team for rules violations and the arrests of five players on criminal weapons and drug charges.

Asked if Switzer had applied with the Cowboys, Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson said "I don't think he wants any coaching jobs right now."

Switzer met with Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson and joked, "I just wanted to see if Jimmy was messing up Troy Aikman." Aikman, the Cowboys first-round pick, played for Switzer for two years at Oklahoma)."

Switzer was accompanied by his two sons, Gregg and Doug and daughter, Kathy.

Johnson said Switzer's visit was a surprise.

"It was good to see him. It was good to see him in good spirits. I don't guess he's had very many vacations this time of year," Johnson said.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.80 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN.
1 day per word	.14	2.80
2 days per word	.24	4.80
3 days per word	.34	6.80
4 days per word	.44	8.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines-those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

JO LINKER

Jo Linker to be honored Sunday at dinner

An all-church dinner in First United Methodist fellowship hall after the morning worship service Sunday will welcome Jo Linker, who comes to the church this week as director of Christian education and youth ministries. Each family is asked to bring a covered dish for the noon meal.

Mrs. Linker and her family moved from Lubbock this week and she began her duties Aug. 1. She has been minister of visitation and programing at Forrest Heights Church in Lubbock since the first of 1988 and was previously educational assistant there.

The daughter of Rev. J. Carl and Betty Hudson of Lubbock, she has grown up in West Texas, has attended Texas Tech University and McMurry College at Abilene and done graduate work at Perkins Theological Seminary at Dallas and Garrett Evangelical Theological Seminary at Evanston, Ill., as well as numerous continuing education courses and lay chaplain's training at Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

Her husband, Curtis Linker, is a certified public accountant with the Methodist Hospital. They have two daughters, five-year-old Cara Lynn, and three-year-old Leigh.

1989 Property Tax Rates in Deaf Smith Hospital District

This notice concerns 1989 property tax rates for Deaf Smith Hospital D. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

	Last year's tax rate:
	Last year's operating taxes	$ 607,150
+	Last year's debt taxes	$ -0-
=	Last year's total taxes	$ 607,150
÷	Last year's tax base	$ 487,279,361
=	Last year's total tax rate	$ .1246	/$100
	This year's effective tax rate:
	Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 606,217
÷	This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting taxes on new property)	$ 482,479,361
=	This year's effective tax rate	$ .1256	/$100

A city that adopted the additional sales tax in a 1989 election must include the following lines:

-	Sales tax adjustment rate	$ N/A	/$100
=	Effective tax rate	$	/$100
×	1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ .1293	/$100
	This year's rollback tax rate:
	Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 607,150
÷	This year's adjusted tax base	$ 482,479,316
=	This year's effective operating rate	$ .1256	/$100
×	1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .1356	/$100
+	This year's debt rate	$ -0-	/$100
	This year's rollback rate	$ .1356	/$100

1989 Property Tax Rates in Walcott I.S.D.

This notice concerns 1989 property tax rates for Walcott I.S.D. . It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

	Last year's tax rate:
	Last year's operating taxes	$ 175,930
+	Last year's debt taxes	$ -0-
=	Last year's total taxes	$ 175,930
÷	Last year's tax base	$ 25,741,054
=	Last year's total tax rate	$ .6800	/$100
	This year's effective tax rate:
	Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 175,039
÷	This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting taxes on new property)	$ 25,826,025
=	This year's effective tax rate	$ .6777	/$100

A city that adopted the additional sales tax in a 1989 election must include the following lines:

-	Sales tax adjustment rate	$ N/A	/$100
=	Effective tax rate	$	/$100
×	1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ .6980	/$100
	This year's rollback tax rate:
	Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 175,039
÷	This year's adjusted tax base	$ 25,826,025
=	This year's effective operating rate	$ .6777	/$100
×	1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .7319	/$100
+	This year's debt rate	$ 0	/$100
	This year's rollback rate	$ .7319	/$100

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at Deaf Smith County Appraisal District
