MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

By H. N. F.

"Henry Ford is strong with the business men of Chattanooga," said Jack Barnard of P. B. M. Co., to H. N. F. "His proposition to the government to take over the dams and nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals appeals to them. On my way home from New York and other eastern markets I visited Chattanooga and the chief topic of all classes in that city and surrounding territory was the Ford proposition and what the high officials of the government intended to do about it. A Tennessean by birth, of course I take more than a passing interest in all that concerns the Old Volunteer State. During the war our government made a large investment at Muscle Shoals. There are millions represented there, and the business men of Tennessee feel that if Henry Ford became the directing spirit of this gigantic project it would develop the resources of the state as never before. Regardless of politics I found the business men overwhelmingly on the side of Ford and his proposal and all are hoping that the government will accept it. They feel that if Ford, the wizard, would go and handle the plant he would make millions for himself as well as for the government and that he would furnish a cheap yet valuable fertilizer to the farmers of Tennessee and other states. Really the genius of the man in constructive enterprise and his remarkable success convince the people of Tennessee that his success would be just as great in handling the Muscle Shoals project as his other ventures have been. There are valuable deposits of coal and iron ore in Tennessee and those who have developed them sell vast quantities of their output to the Detroit manufacturer. All these men are hopeful, like the other business interests that Henry Ford will get what he is after from the government. New York wholesalers and large jobbers and the agents of the big manufacturers or mills are watching and waiting. They are not taking large orders and the mills are not turning out large orders. They don't talk much. They are slow as well as cautious. The trade does not rush things in New York. They go to their offices at 10 in the morning and close their offices at 3 in the afternoon and go to the links. On Friday they close until Monday. They make up week end parties far from "the maddening crowd." While they may be hopeful they never chatter. Congress is grinding. They are watching the tariff and the tax bills introduced by members and the hearings given to experts and others who appear before the important committees of congress. This is mid-summer and fall and winter are approaching. They don't appear to mind it a bit. While away I visited St. Louis and Chicago as well as New York. Grain crops are moving in the West. This has made business brisker in the grain centers or cities of the country. Wholesalers are not placing heavy orders either in the East or the West. They are waiting developments. Boston firms are shipping orders direct to St. Louis and southern points. These firms may have been heavily overstocked. They had the goods and when the merchants of the west and the south landed their orders were filled. Golf is a popular recreation or sport in the East. No, I am not a skilled player and one day when a scientific player asked me to go to the links in Westchester country I declined and witnessed a ball game. Wonderful lovers of outdoor exercise and all outdoor sports are the New Yorkers, either native or adopted, who never seem to let business interfere with the sport or game known to the crude or facetious as 'cow pasture pool.'" Mr. Barnard isn't a pessimist. He has faith and hope and vision. Neither is he an extravagant optimist in speaking of conditions as he found them while on Manhattan Island. He knows that there are periods of depression after periods of wild prosperity and that the old world jogs along and always comes back. It has been jogging along for centuries and it will jog along for centuries to come with its fat years and its lean years and its days of gloom as well as its days of joy. This is the way it has been written by the historian of the past and the present and this is the way it is inscribed in the Book of Destiny. Mr. Barnard admitted that the merchants in fact all business men of Wichita Falls, have a grievance which H. N. F. insists should be removed. It is the giving of checks which are not worth the paper on which they are written in payment for goods or by men who do the rush act for ready money and give checks on banks where they have no deposits. It is said the merchants of Wichita Falls, in fact business men in all the fields of trade or endeavor, carry many souvenirs in the shape of worthless checks which were returned to them with this notification "No Funds." Law makers of Texas enacted a statute several years ago which covers all the ground. It is penitentiary offense for a person to pass a spurious check or checks with itnent to defraud. If a person draws a check on a bank in payment for goods or for cash received and has no money on deposit at the bank he is guilty of a criminal offense and should be prosecuted in a court of justice and, if convicted, sentenced to a term in the penitentiary for flagrant violation of the laws of the commonwealth and he should not be given the benefit of the suspended sentence law. A honest man will not draw a check on a bank knowing that if he has a deposit there it has been exhausted and it is ten times more flagrant for him to draw a check on a bank where he never had money deposited. A man who will do this is a criminal at heart and has no scruples of going about it in a deliberate fashion to defraud his fellowmen. It may be inconvenient to be broke financially but it is no disgrace.

TAX LEVIES MAY BECOME MUCH LOWER

House Leaders on Ways and Means Committee Agree to Decrease in Several Classes.

Changes Even More Drastic Than First Proposed by Mellon and Others of Republican Party.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Even more extensive changes in tax levies than were agreed upon at the White House conference between President Harding and republican leaders of the house of representatives were voted tentatively today by the majority members of the ways and means committee. As summarized in a formal statement, the committee action included:

Repeal of the excess profits tax, effective January 1, 1922.

An increase of the income tax on corporations from 10 per cent to 15 per cent with the $2,000 exemption retained, effective January 1, 1921.

Repeal of all taxes on the transportation of freight and passengers and on seats and berths, effective January 1, 1922.

An increase in the exemption to heads of families on account of dependents to $400 for each dependent, instead of $200 as at present, effective January 1, 1921.

Will Repeal Luxury Taxes

Repeal of the so-called luxury taxes on clothing apparel, effective January 1, 1922.

Exemption from income tax on the first $500 of income from stock held in building and loan associations.

Repeal of the tax on fountain drinks and ice cream and the substitution of a flat tax of 10 cents a gallon on all fountain syrups to be paid direct by the manufacturer or maker.

Repeal of the stamp taxes on perfumes, extracts, tooth paste and other toilet preparations and proprietary medicines and substitution of a manufacturer's tax of 5 per cent on the sale price.

Removal of the 15 per cent manufacturers tax on cereal beverages and the levying of manufacturers tax of 15 cents per gallon.

No Levy On Grape Juice

Substitution of a manufacturers tax of 2 cents a gallon for the present 10 per cent on the sale price of unfermented juice beverages and carbonated waters or beverages or other soft drinks sold in containers.

The levying of a manufacturers tax of 2 cents a gallon on certain classes of grape juice and 2 cents a gallon on other classes in lieu of the present tax of 10 per cent on the sale price.

It also was agreed to levy 5 cents a pound on carbonic acid gas sold to manufacturers of carbonated gases.

Members of the committee estimated roughly that these changes would result in a net reduction of $555,000,000 in the total yearly tax bill. This is $45,000,000 below the estimate reached at the White House conference, but it was explained that the estimated revenue from corporations would be $45,000,000 greater than heretofore, reckoned by reasons of the repeal of the excess profits exemption of $3,000 plus an amount equal to the 8 per cent of the invested capital for the taxable year.

May Go to Caucus

The tentative changes agreed upon today constitute the great bulk of these proposed to be made, and house leaders were more confident than ever tonight that the bill would be completed in time for presentation to a caucus of house republicans next Monday. Some other minor changes in levies are understood to be contemplated and after all finally have been voted upon there will remain the physical task of rewriting the present law.

Several new proposals were put through today and other changes made were quite different from those agreed upon at the White House conference, particularly the repeal of all of the transportation taxes next year instead of half of them.

The question of lightening the burden of men having small incomes was brought up by Representative Barcharach of New Jersey, who proposed that both single and married men whose net income was below $4,000 be granted additional exemptions of $500 a year, or else the rate on their incomes be lowered from 4 to 3 per cent.

This proposal was voted down, but tentative agreement was reached to increase the exemption of heads of families to $2,500. This action was reconsidered later, however, and the exemption for dependents was doubled.

Members opposing the other changes were understood to have argued that this would relieve those more in need of relief than would the other proposals.

BUILDING SLUMP NEARING END.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Preliminary returns on July building indicate that the long expected expansion in the building industry is close at hand, Bradstreet's announced today.

Reports from 147 cities, it was stated, showed the value of structures for which permits were granted, in that month was $141,635,525, a gain of 32.5 per cent over July a year ago, and 4.2 per cent in excess of the total in the same cities in June this year.

SMALL SCORES "ENEMIES" WHO MADE CHARGES

Governor Spends First Day Since Arrest at Desk in Capital, Conferring With Attorneys.

Illinois Seethes With Interest in Announcement That Chief Executive Plans "Exposure."

By Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 10.—Offers by States Attorney Mortimer of a change of venue for Governor Small, a vicious assault by the governor upon his political enemies in Sangamon county, and announcement that state treasurer Edward E. Miller had turned in $385,071.21 interest money to the treasury for the first six months of his term were the principal developments of today in the seething capital of Illinois.

Governor Small announced another list of appointments during the day and indicated that he expected to leave Springfield tomorrow.

The governor's first day since his arrest by Sheriff Henry Mester on charges of embezzlement and conspiracy was spent at his desk. He conferred with attorneys and political allies until late in the day.

Although he assailed his Sangamon county foes, declared that he had been falsely arrested and maintained his innocence, the governor announced no plans for continuing his fight, except to threaten his enemies with "exposure."

"Daylight must be admitted," the governor said "to the corrupt channels through which this conspiracy has flown. All the ramifications of protested vice and crime supplementary to my prosecution must be exhibited to public view."

State Treasurer Miller's semi-annual report on interest earnings was an interesting feature of the governor's arrest on a charge of defranding the treasury while he was at its head.

Mr. Miller's statement of earnings dated back to January 9, four days after he was sworn in as successor to Fred E. Sterling, who on January 5 became lieutenant governor of Illinois.

Governor Small was expected to announce another list of appointments before he leaves the capital this week.

ACCIDENTAL FIRING OF PISTOL FATAL TO M. P. HARWOOD, JR.

Special to the Record News.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 10.—Struck in the left temple by a bullet from a revolver, which fell fro mhis pocket to the foot board of an automobile, which he was loading with pears, M. P. Harwood, Jr., 40, died this morning at a local hospital, where he was rushed following the accident. The accident occurred on the Harwood farm, near here on the Dallas interurban.

Harwood was well known here politically and socially. He was city secretary for four years during the terms of office of Mayors E. T. Tyra and Bob Milam.

LEGISLATURE DIVIDED ON APPROPRIATION

House Adopts Amendment to Bill Instructing Conference to Adhere to Pope Measure.

Solons Kill Resolution Designed to Extend Ku Klux Klan Speaker to Address Special Session.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 10.—By a vote of 79 to 47 the house of representatives adopted a motion by Curtis of Tarrant to "instruct the house free conference committee on the eleemosynary institutions appropriations bill "to adhere to the Pope amendment" to the bill. This amendment provided that funds shall be expended only as appropriated and all unexpected funds shall revert to the state treasury.

The two committees probably will meet tomorrow to work out a compromise to meet agreement in both branches. The senate committee is composed of Senators Bledsoe, Dudley, Richards, Hertzberg and Woods. Speaker Thomas appointed Representatives Quaid, Adams, West, Thrasher and King on the house committee today.

May Need Another Session

This action by the house is taken by leaders in both branches to necessitate the governor calling another special session immediately following adjournment of the present one next Wednesday. The senate leaders say the upper branch will not agree to the Pope amendment while the house committee has instructions not to recede from the amendment. It is expected that a deadlock will result and that the appropriation bill will not be disposed of by next Wednesday. Then the educational appropriation bill is still in the house engrossing room and it also bears the Pope amendment. As a result leaders say that another special session is inevitable.

The Witt-Willis senate bill providing that the court of criminal appeals shall not reverse cases on technicalities was killed in the house today when a motion to print on a fested. However, this motion was later reconsidered and the motion to print carried by 58 to 43.

The resolution by Miller of Dallas proposing an investigation of the operations of certain large oil corporations in the mid-continent oil field as to violation of the anti-trust laws in forcing down the price of refined and crude oils was adopted in the house by a vote of 107 to 9. The measure now goes to the senatefor action.

Provide Park Survey

The senate adopted the house concurrent resolution proposing a committee to investigate the feasibility of establishing a state park in the Davis Mountains.

A resolution inviting Dr. Caleb A. Ridley of Atlanta, Ga., who is scheduled to speak in Austin next Friday night on the Ku Klux Klan, to use the hall of the house of representatives was defeated in the house when Representative Patman, anti-klan leader in the house, moved to table. His motion carried.

The house passed finally the senate bill authorizing the board of control to lease the Kerrville tubercular hospital to the federal government. The afternoon was devoted almost entirely to consideration of local bills.

The bill proposing appropriation of $879,000 for the penitentiary system for the next 14 months came up in the senate today. A majority report that only $135,000 of this sum be allowed with which to pay land notes and a minority report allowing the entire sum requested were submitted. Action on the reports was deferred until tomorrow.

Approve Prison Welfare

The senate passed finally the Hertzberg bill creating a board of three members to look after the welfare and living conditions of the convicts of the state prison system, making quarterly reports to the governor.

AVIATOR PLUNGES FROM FOURTH FLOOR TO DEATH

By Associated Press.

PORTLAND, Maine, Aug. 10.—A young man, believed to be Schuyler Adams, an aviator, was fatally injured by a plunge from the fourth floor of a hotel here today. He had registered as "H. S. Adams, Boston, U. S. N." Papers in his suitcase indicated he had been in the air service at Fort Worth an dother places. Schuyler Adams was a member of the 1914 hockey team at Harvard and later an aviation instructor.

CONGRESSMAN INSTRUCTED TO "SHOW SPEED"

President Harding Prods Both Branches in View of Proposed Thirty Day Recess After August 20.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Speeding up orders were given in congress today late today under an agreement between President Harding and republican leaders for a thirty-day adjournment of both house and senate about August 20, providing that in the meantime the agricultural credits measure is enacted and the house passes the tax revision bill.

Under the tentative plan, the railroad debt, funding the allied debt, nd other bills will go over until September. Enactment of several other important measures before the recess date, however, is contemplated.

The recess and legislative program was arranged more definitely by the president at a luncheon today with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, republican leader and Senator Curtis, Kansas, assistant leader, after the president's discussion yesterday with house leaders.

Representations by Senator Lodge and Curtis that tariff tax and railroad funding legislation would actually be expedited by the proposed recess were said to have figured largely in the president's assent to the thirty-day vacation. The senators said that the senate finance committee by working uninterruptedly during the recess period could make much greater speed in the tariff and tax bills.

The speeding up process, it was pointed out, rests with the house where the tax and agricultural credits bills are pending. The senate has before it only minor bills and plans a week end recess beginning tomorrow.

Before the recess leaders expect to complete enactment of the Capper-Tincher grain anti-gambling bill, the shipping board deficiency appropriation bill and the Wilhs-Campoell anti-beer measure. The new republican bill to extend the Fordney emergency tariff law until the permanent bill is enacted, it was indicated, probably will go over until after the recess.

EXPECT SALE OF IRRIGATION BONDS SOON

J. A. Kemp, District Chairman, Asserts Work Should Begin Early in Month of September.

Final Action of Legislature on Bond Question Leaves But Little Chance for Delay.

Disposal of the irrigation district bonds and the letting of the contract for the work is expected by not later than one of the early days in September, following passage Wednesday morning of the amendment of the irrigation law—curing a technical defect which was holding up sale of the bonds. J. A. Kemp, chairman of the board for the first district, expects to leave Colorado Springs, where he has been spending a vacation with his family, for an immediate conference with interests who have been negotiating for the bonds.

The passage of the measure in the house Wednesday morning proved quite a relief to those connected officially with this district, as delay in securing final house action threatened fora while to hold the measure as it was without final action, which would have delayed the beginning of construction for months.

The amendment asked for places a limit on the amount of bonds which may be voted by a district for bonding purposes—a safeguard which the bond buyers required. Judge Starley, counsel for the irrigation district, held that the statutory action was unnecessary as the same limit was fixed in the constitution, but on insistence of the buyers the same limit was enacted in the statute.

Senator Bledsoe secured the passage of the bill under a suspension of the rules in the senate immediately after the matter had been submitted by Governor Neff early in the special session, but Representative Johnson was unable to secure this action in the house. Nearly ten days has elapsed since the bill passed in the house on its second reading and officials of the district had begun to grow uneasy as the time for adjournment approached with final action yet to be taken.

It is considered a certainty that Governor Neff will sign the bill without delay, as his favor toward the measure was indicated by his willingness to submit the measure early in the special session.

A favorable condition in the bond market, with indications of conditions rapidly becoming more favorable, is expected by Mr. Kemp to give a particularly pleasing turn to the negotiations in progress with bond buyers. It is expected that the sale of the bonds and the letting of the contract for the consrtuction will come almost simultaneously.

SOLUTION OF MURDER STILL BEING SOUGHT

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—The mills of justice ground slowly today in separating the wheat of truth from chaff of rumor in the investigation of the shooting of J. Belton Kennedy here last Friday.

Neither Arthur C. Burch, held on "suspicion of murder" nor Madelynne Obenchain held as matreial witness, was subpected to any extended questioning today. Mr. Obenchain, the young divorcee was with Kennedy on the steps of his summer home in Beverly Glenn, when he was killed.

Burch, her former college classmate, was taken to the district attorney for a brief conference with that official and two deputies.

Late today it was announced that the evidence in the case would be presented to the Los Angeles county grand jury tomorrow and that indictments would be requested.

Fifteen witnesses have been summoned. The funeral of Kennedy was held today from the chapel of an undertaking firm here.

Deep sea divers began a search of the ocean floor just off the shore that flanks the base of Santa Monica canyon, looking for a shotgun in the belief that the men who shot Kennedy had thrown the weapon into the sea.

Another development relating to Mrs. Obenchain was the receipt at the district attorney's office from a San Francisco hotel of a large black bag almost the size of a steamer trunk that originally was addressed to her at the hotel where she lived.

The district attorney said he did not deem it proper to make a statement regarding the bag.

Dick Parsons, the automobile rental agent who supplied Burch with a car several times before Kennedy's death, told the officers that Burch had a woman companion on some of his trips. Mrs. Obenchain was asked whether she was Burch's companion on any of the rides but declined to discuss the matter.

It was said at the district attorney's office today that the evidence in the case to be presented to the grand jury include only a portion of that at hand, just enough to make preliminary case against those implicated. It was stated that neither Burch nor Mrs. Obenchain would be called, under present plans.

SHEPPARD SAYS BILL WILL RAISE BONDS TO PAR

Texas Senator Tells Upper House His Measure Will Advance Securities to Premium.

Scores "Shackled Postal Savings Bank" for the Small Returns Paid to Investors.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS, Record News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Liberty and victory bonds would be advanced to par or to a premium within six months, Senator Sheppard told the senate today, if his bill widening and enlarging the scope of the postal savings bank, is passed.

The senator declared that the postal savings bank has been shackled by law since January 1, 1911, by limiting interest returns for depositors to 2 per cent.

The present law permits the funds now in the postal savings bank to be loaned to banks at 2 1-2 per cent, the Banks loaning it to the government and the people at anywhere from two to four and five times that rate, said the senator, and yet at no time has the market price for money than three and a half to four per cent and today, is six and a half to eight and nine per cent.

OBREGON SENDS FLORAL OFFERING TO ROBLES' BURIAL

By Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 10.—The funeral of General Jose Alessio Robles, who was shot and killed last Monday evening, was held this morning. Floral offerings included one from President Obregon and others from a number of cabinet officers.

A search is being made for Federico Trevino, brother of General Jacinto Trivino. The latter gave himself up to the authorities after General Robles death. The brother is said to have been in the automobile with General Jacinto at the time of the killing. General Jacinto's preliminary testimony before a police judge indicated that he will plead self defense.

The tragedy has provoked much newspaper criticism of the military classes who are accused of using their weapons too freely.

GARNER OPPOSES PROPOSED CHANGES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Representative Garner, Texas, ranking democrat on the ways and means committee, today issued a statement attacking the tax revision proposals as agreed upon att the White House meeting last night.

"Most of the taxes the republicans propose to repeal are the rich man's taxes," he said. "I favor repeal of all the miscellaneous war taxes but probably would continue the excess profits tax for this calendar year and possibly for next year, to take care of the war aftermath emergencies."

WESTERN TARIFF "BLOC" FORMED IN SENATE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Formation of a western tariff "bloc" within the recently organized and unofficial agricultural group in the senate was announced today by Senator Gooding, republican, Idaho. The new group is composed entirely of republicans from western states, Senator Gooding said, allied to fight for "fair treatment for the west," in the tariff bill.

Mr. Baird said he based his estimate on the number of thefts alleged to have been admitted by C. Gordon Blalock, former sales manager of the wholesale department at Armour's in a statement signed yesterday.

TEXANS FAIL IN EFFORT TO OBTAIN HELP

Committee Representing Cattle Raisers Hopeful, However, That War Finance Plain Will Benefit.

Kell Unsuccessful in Endeavor to Convince Officials Stock Industry Different From Agriculture.

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS, Record News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The committee of four representing the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, who came to Washington to secure legislation to relieve the live stock industry, made plans tonight to return home with varying feelings of failure and success. They were in accord, however, that they had accomplished all that was possible to attain from the administration and that they must stand their chances of securing relief from the provision written by Eugene Meyer, Jr., director of the war finance corporation, which is embodied in the agricultural relief bill, already passed by the senate.

The Texas congressional delegation also is divided as to the results that can be obtained from this provision. Representative Parrish declares that, with the promise of director Meyer to make $50,000,000 available for loans to the live stock industry, added to the $50,000,000 wall street pool, that the industry is bound to be beneficially affected.

On the other hand, Representative Garner is emphatic in the belief that the provision cited by Meyer will not help the live stock industry at all, and declares the people of Texas should face this fact and not live under false hopes that will later be dashed to pieces.

Frank Kell, one of the Texas committee members, was unsuccessful in his attempt to convince Director Meyer that the cattle industry should be treated differently from agriculture. Kell insisted that the ranches were being depleted of cows and calves and that the future of the industry was imperiled.

"It will take at least five years to build it up again, he said, whereas in the cotton or other agricultural industries, a failure one year can be overcome by a good crop the next year, since the soil is still there.

COWAN APPEALS FOR AID FOR CATTLEMEN

Special to the Record News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Judge Sam H. Cowan of Fort Worth, representing the American National Live Stock Association, appeared before the joint congressional commission of agricultural inquiry today and urged the repeal of section fifteen A of the transportation act of 1920. He declared that under the present system the railroads were destroying themselves.

Congress has required the railroads he said, to guess at their valuation which had been fixed by the commission for the western group at eight billion one hundred million dollars, or an average of sixty thousand dollars a mile, and fixed rates which were supposed to bring a minimum of five and a half per cent on the valuation.

Unless something is done, he said, the railroad system will crumble because rates are now so high that business will not move, and being without business the roads will be unable to make a fair return.

Hogs are being shipped to the St. Joe market and sheep to the Omaha market in automobile trailers while alfalfa mills are closing along certain railroads because operation under the freight rate is impossible, Judge Cowan said.

He declared that the live stock producer in many instances cannot obtain his costs at the market, and in many other cases, cannot make cost and freight charges in reaching the market.

When asked what could be done for the live stock producer, Judge Cowan suggested that freight rates be reduced and as further aid, to furnish him credits so he could hold his young herds, and not force them on the market in competition with the stock that is ready for market.

BANKER DECLARES POOL BENEFICIAL

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 10.—J. Z. Miller Jr., governor of the federal reserve bank here, said today that the $50,000,000 livestock pool recently organized to make long time loans raisers to market cattle to better advantage was working very satisfactorily, according to information he had received from Mead McClure, livestock man, who is at the head of the pool.

The pool has been in operation about a month, Governor Miller said. It makes 30-month loans on livestock paper, through local banks in livestock producing sections.

"Mr. McClure told me," Governor Miller said, "that livestock men are beginning to avail themselves of this credit scheme and that the industry is gaining advantages in consequence."

YANKS SPEND DAY DRESSING THEMSELVES UP

By Associated Press.

REVAL, Aug. 10.—The six Americans released from Moscow prisons who arrived here this morning passed a happy day outfitting themselves after shedding their prison clothes and undergoing the cleansing necessary to comply with the health regulations.

The men who have received their freedom are Captain Emmet Kilpatrick of Uniontown, Ala.; William Fitch, H. J. Lamar and Dr. W. B. Estes of New York; N. B. Kalmatiano of Racine, Wis., and Russel Pattinger of San Francisco. All decided to remain in Reval for several days before going to Riga and sent cablegrams to relatives in the United States asking for replies in care of the Red Cross at Reval.

Relieved of their shaggy beards, fur caps and bedraggled Russian uniforms, the Americans assumed a different appearance. They were all greatly reduced in flesh and ravenously hungry and were unable to pass a food shop without stopping in apparent amazement.

The Russian bolsheviki sent the Americans by special car from Moscow to Narva, where the barbed wire gates divided the soviet republic from Esthonia swung open and permitted the car to be transferred to Esthonia territory. When the disheveled and ragged Americans looked from the car windows and saw the half starved bolsheviki guarding the east side of the line, while well fed and well uniformed Esthonians contorlled the west side, they chaffed the bolsheviki, telling them that that is what communism does for people.

By courtesy of the Esthonian government the Americans were not stopped at the border, but were brought to Reval for cleansing by the American Red Cross, which will care for them until they are rested and ready to travel home.

The Americans are unanimous in their belief that no group is developing strength likely to upset the bolshevik government, but that famine may achieve its overthrow because the masses belittle the government for the reason that it has abandoned the first principles of communism and failed to execute its decrees.

HARVEY TELLS COUNCIL ABOUT RELIEF PLANS

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The American ambassador took part twice in today's sessions of the supreme council, once in replying to Premier Lloyd-George that he agreed that America's traditional policy gave traders the right to sell arms to either belligerent in the Near East and again, in reply to inquiries of the premier regarding Secretary Hoover's Russian relief plans.

M. Briand, the French premier, began the discussion of the Russian famine by saying that the "Russian people who had fought with the allies in the beginning of the war, might justly look to them now for help."

"I propose that all the allies join with the United States and the other nations who are interesting themselves in the administration of relief through Red Cross societies and other private sources," said M. Briand.

"I heartily agree to this," exclaimed Lloyd-George. "But I wish to point out," he added, "such efforts could not reach many of the sufferers." The Red Cross cannot perform the miracle of the five loaves and the two fishes. Relief must be organized immediately on a great scale, not only for the sake of Russia but for the sake of the world, because typhus, cholera and other plagues incident to famine would cause more losses than the last war.

"I have no admiration for the soviet government," Mr. Lloyd-George continued, "but relief is impossible without its co-operation inasmuch as it controls transportation and all the official machinery. I think for this purpose and for this purpose only, the allies should make some arrangements with the soviet government."

Mr. Lloyd-George said he had been informed that some of the Russian provinces had surplus grain, but the peasants would not release it except in exchange for goods which they requested. He suggested that the supreme council consider at once whether steps could not be taken to obtain grain in this manner for the famine areas. The question was not a political, but a "humanitarian one," he added.

Viscount Ishii, of Japan, Signor Bonomi, the Italian premier and M. Jaspar who was present for the first time in behalf of Belgium, agreed that a committee should be appointed at once to report to the present assembly the best means of allied co-operation.

Lord Curzon, who as viceroy of India, directed the feeding of seventy million famine stricken people brought out the fact that by strange chance it had been Russian wheat from the present famine areas which was contributed largely to India, Lord Curzon said.

"I deem three things essential: First, assistance of the soviet government; second, formation of some international relief authority; third, enlistment of men of experience."

The French point of view as indicated by Premier Briand, while favoring international co-operation, proposed that "the allies join great humanitarian societies, such as the Hoover committee without however, such participation being official."

He suggested that the allies associate themselves with the American relief associations and enter into relations with Russian people through the assistance of the Czecho-Slovak government.

The experts at work on the Silesian problem were not able to complete their task today but will report on the boundary to the council, which will meet at 5 o'clock tomorrow evening.

CAT NURSES MOTHERLESS PUPPIES AS HER OWN

"MATILDA" AND HER PUPPIES

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. —Who was asking where he could find the old fashioned mother who stayed at home and raised a large family?

Matilda is such a mother.

Until a month ago Matilda was just an ordinary pussy cat. Now she is taking care of three small Pomeranian puppies, worth $150. She loves them as much as her own kittens, who were drowned a few days ago.

Figi, a pedigreed Pomeranian owned by John Klein of this city died when her three puppies were a week old. Matilda, also a mother of three, lost her kittens about the same time.

Mrs. Klein tried feeding the puppies with a medicine dropper, but finally was forced to bring in Matilda.

There was a puzzled expression on Matilda's face when the small puppies first started to suckle, but she made no objection.

She was still more puzzled when she looked around and saw a short tail where her kittens had waved a much longer one. There was something wrong, but Tillie didn't know just what it was. So she immediately started giving all three a bath.

Betty, King Dodo and Figi, the three puppies, were somewhat puzzled, too. This wasn't mother. It was an improvement over mother.

Matilda doesn't run away at meal times like their real mother did when the Klein family car started up. Their new mother doesn't want to go motoring and permits them to go through dinner without interruption.

One thing even peaceful Matilda will not countenance. That is interference from Bubbles, father of the puppies.

So Bubbles, mindful of domestic peace, watches from afar while an alien paw and mouth care for his three children.

Alice Robertson Flays Texans for Lack of Interest in Babes

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Record News Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—In a statement issued today explaining her opposition to the Sheppard-Towner maternity bill Miss Alice Robertson of Muskogee, Okla., the only woman member of congress, goaded Senator Sheppard and the state of Texas for laxity of interest in child welfare. The census says that Texas raised 26,552,113 chickens and produced 77,845,047 dozen eggs, said Miss Robertson. We cannot find out how many babies were produced, because Texas does not record them, nor can we for the same reason, do more than surmise the mortality of mothers and babies in Texas. We do know that in states which recognize the rights of the new-born and keep a record of them the mortality among negro mothers and babies is appalling and that the highest death rate for white mothers is that of native born Americans. Without exact percentage worked out it is probable that 20 per cent of the population of Texas is negro and that about 75 per cent of the white population is native born I believe that Texas only needs to know about this to act, quickly and decisively and to protect its helpless new-born.

Whether happily or unhappily born, they have rights. There are questions peculiar to certain states, of which Texas is one, to which I do no more than hint. This one query I make, chickens or babies? Which, Mr. Senators?

Miss Robertson attacked the work of the children's bureau, and said the bill does not provide medical or nursing attendance, or milk or baby clothes. Its salient feature is not tangible help of the kind that the general public infers would be given, but the establishment of an autocratic, undefined, practically uncontrolled, yet federally authorized, center of propaganda. She expressed the belief that time should be allowed for the unheard majority of women who as yet know nothing of the bills and proposed legislation to learn the facts and speak for themselves.

"I refuse to work," she concluded, "under the demoralizing compulsion that has been used in this instance. I accordingly face being ridiculed, persecuted and eliminated, but face it fearlessly."

DO YOU WANT TO BE BEWITCHED?

"When the trunk came which contained the Game of the Bewitchments, Aunt Esta had it taken right up to her room. It was a big trunk. The expressman swore a little. My father tore his trouser knee. My mother began right away to revarnish the scratches on the bureau."

Then "the rich man" arrived. He was the one who had wished to have a new game invented for his little daughter "with-the-sick-bones."

Aunt Esta, she who is "thirty years old with very serious air," had undertaken to invent the game. And now it is being delivered and tried on the family. Father and mother, who have almost forgotten how to play, the children and the new minister, too—are all soon bewitched.

No matter how far you have wandered from this Never, Never Land, nor how practical, grown-up and world weary you have become, you will find yourself loth to leave the land of bewitchment conjured up for you by Eleanor Hallowell Abbott in the August issue of Good Housekeeping.

It is altogether a delightful number: Verses by Martha Haskell Clark, Jessie B. Rittenhouse and Mary Stewart: fiction by I. A. R. Wylie, Frances Hodgson Burnett, Mary Brecht Pulver, Emma Lindsay Squier, Charles Johnson Post; and in the way of serious articles about the Woman Who Should Marry, the Country Woman's Place in the Procession, Letters from a Senator's Wife, a way to diagnose your boy's mentality, along with Dr. Wiley's League for Longer Life and the departments of fashions, decorations and furnishings, cookery, entertainment and the cut-outs and dwarfies for the children, and still others that I don't recall.

SOUTH'S CROP OF STAPLES IS REPORTED GOOD

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—With general favorable weather conditions prevailing during the week past, southern crops, corn, tobacco, potatoes, rice, sugar cane, citrus fruits and peanuts, made a good showing, the reports ranging from "fair" to "ideal" for the majority of them, according to the national weather and crop bulletin issued today by the weather bureau.

While the crop was reported good in a few sections, cotton generally made a poor showing, such terms as "rank" and deteriorating" appearing in the condition report to the bureau. Abnormal temperatures with "moderate to rather heavy showers" had a bad effect on the crop, it was shown.

The weather was "ideal" for harvesting corn in Texas while early corn has reached maturity in the extreme southern states, the report said.

Tobacco showed the effects of "dry weather" and harvesting made satisfactory progress.

Frequent showers slightly held up harvesting of potatoes in some sections of the southwest but generally the weather was "favorable."

The weather was "ideal" for rice harvesting in Texas while that crop made "good progress" in Arkansas.

Condition prospects for cotton by states follows:

Texas: Warm dry weather is causing shedding and killing some plants and fruiting is poor. Crop deteriorating in some localities on account of scant moisture and hot winds, progress is generally fair.

Arkansas: "Rainy weather favored increased weevil activities." Progress ranging generally from "poor to fair."

Louisiana: Showing some improvement under generally favorable weather conditions.

Wee-vils were less active in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, but were increasing in many localities elsewhere, the report said.

Oklahoma: Although crops reported deteriorated in some localities on account of scant moisture and hot winds, progress is generally fair.

TWO NEW PRODUCERS IN K. M. A.

The 1500 foot sand on the west side of the Kemp Munger Allen pool furnished two good completions this past week, reports from the field showing the C. W. Wallace No. 1, Lewis, Lease A, making 130 barrels on the pump, and the Gulf Production Company's No. 3, Potter Lewis, a hundred barrel well, also on the pump.

New wells are now under way on both tracts. The Gulf has two nice producers in the south part of their lease in Block 23, and the Wallace interests also have met with success in drilling for the swallow sand on the west side.

DALLAS, Aug. 10.—Movie operators in this city have agreed to accept a wage cut, as proposed by the managers, it was announced today.

The details of the agreement have not been worked out, according to the announcement, but it is generally understood that the cut will amount to about 10 per cent.

BANDITS KILL THREE, TRYING TO GET ROLL

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 10.—Police and sheriff's deputies of half a dozen Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee counties were searching tonight for members of a band whose unsuccessful attempt today to rob an employee of the Ford Motor Company of payroll funds amounting to $8,500, resulted in the death of three policemen and the wounding of five other men.

The holdup took place at the entrance to the assembling plant of the company on Union avenue, in a busy industrial section shortly before noon. Those killed were Vincent Locarini, a police lieutenant; Howar L. Gamble, an employe of the Ford Company, deputized as a special officer, and Polk A. Carraway, a patrolman.

Carraway and Gamble, who were guarding Edward McHenry, the clerk in charge of the money while returning from the bank, were shot to death, when four masked men drove alongside the car and opened fire with shotguns and pistols and demanded the money. McHenry stumbled as he jumped from the car and escaped the volley of shots. Regaining his feet, McHenry darted into an entrance of the plant and reached the company's office in safety with the money intact.

Ask Police to Hunt E. Wright

Police were asked Wednesday to assist in a search for Earl Wright, formerly of Sherman, whose small baby is reported to be seriously ill at the home of Buck Harrison, who lives about four miles from Wichita Falls on the Archer City road.

Mrs. Wright is said to have come to Wichita Falls expecting to meet her husband here.

Recover Four Bodies From Burned Train

LAKE CHARLES, La. Aug. 10.—Four bodies, two of negroes and two charred beyond recognition, have been found, thirteen oil tankers were burned and five cars of merchandise were destroyed in the wreck of Gulf Coast Line freight train No. 32, near Reeves, La., Monday, a telephone message this afternoon stated. Ten persons were injured, the message added. The accident occurred while the train was crossing a trestle.

OLD INDIAN SCOUT PAYS A VISIT TO THE WIDOW OF "BUFFALO BILL"

Chief Red Wolf of the Sioux tribe recently paid a visit to the aged widow of the late W. F. Cody, known to the present and past generations as "Buffalo Bill." The Indian ran away from his tribe when a small boy and became attached to Colonel Cody, who raised him and taught him the language and ways of the white man. They scouted together for many years.

A five passenger Buick automobile, stolen Tuesday night from its parking place near the William Mary Hotel was found Wednesday at about noon on Third street about the 1300 block, according to Police Chief Morgan. The car was the property of D. D. Fuller of Seymour.

RUSS FAMINE BEYOND HELP OF CHARITY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Famine in Russia is beyond the reach of charity and will recur yearly until that country's economic system is changed, Secretary Hoover declared in a cable to former President Ador of Switzerland, made public here tonight.

Mr. Hoover's cable was in reply to an invitation sent by Mr. Ador to all associations interested in Russian relief for a conference at Geneva, August 15. The American relief administration would endeavor to send its representatives to the meeting, he said.

In the discussion of measure for the relief of Russian famine "is to become of fruitful result," Mr. Hoover asserted, the real issues involved must be faced frankly.

"The famine in Russia," he said, "is of an extent entirely beyond the resources of all available private charities of the world, especially in these times of economic hardships. Even were funds available for food for relief of Russia involves the rehabilitation of transportation, of agriculture and industry, necessitating measures again beyond the reach of charity."

Secretary Hoover's plans for famine relief in Russia has as yet been outlined in only virtually general form officials said today in commenting upon despatches from Par is stating that Ambassador Harvey had agreed to present the plans to the allied supreme council. It may be months, they added, before final details of the methods to be employed are worked out.

Two Hogs Burn With Hay Barn

Two large hogs were lost in the fire which destroyed a hay barn at the east end of sixth street at about 9:30 Wednesday morning, according to the report of Fire Chief McClure.

Firemen who were summoned to fight the blaze reported that they were unable to render assistance because of the distance to the nearest fire plug. The barn was located a short distance north of the baseball park. The loss was estimated to be approximately $700, according to firemen. Firemen were unable to learn the name of the owner or if the property was protected by insurance.

PLACING THE RESPONSIBILITY.

Eugene Meyer, Jr., is the managing director of a war finance corporation. He is of the opinion that the corporation would have ample power under the agriculture relief bill to grant financial relief in the form of loans to the live-stock producers. This bill is pending in the house.

Members of the Texas delegation in congress have promised their support to the legislation desired by representatives of the livestock industry. There are representatives of the industry from the states of Texas and Oklahoma and Kansas in the city of Washington.

The representatives, headed by Frank Kell, have appeared before the war finance corporation, the controller of the currency and the house banking and currency committee. They have urged the claims of the cattlemen of the country. They have placed all the facts before the powers that be. They have told those high in authority that this relief should be extended to take care of the young stock band and the breeding cows so that the industry may be saved.

If this relief is not granted, they have pointed out that it means a heavy decline in the meat supply of the nation in 1922 and this will result in the increased price the consumer will be required to pay.

All these are self-evident facts. They are known to Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, to the war finance commission, to the house committee on banking and currency and to the members of the senate and house committees on agriculture.

This financial aid is not asked to cover the losses of the past. It is asked to take care of the young stock and breeding cows in order that the meat producers of America may weather the storm and insure a larger meat supply for the American consumer.

They are asking not for alms. They are not asking for charity. They are asking for a chance to prevent the depletion of the meat animals of the country, including the breeding cows, in order that the industry may not perish.

There is upwards of a half billion dollars invested in the livestock industry in Texas alone and Texans are vitally interested in the preservation of the industry and the American meat consumer in being assured meat prices which shall not climb to the sky in the future.

THEY DEMAND ACTION.

This is the Fordney program which was sandbagged by Secretary Mellon: Repeal of the excess profits tax and reduction of the income surtaxes to 40 per cent. Secretary Mellon would order an increase of 5 per cent in the tax on the net incomes of corporations and the lifting of the present two thousand dollar exemption; repeal of the taxes on soft drinks, ice cream and cosmetics; reduction of the transportation taxes by half and the repeal of these taxes in 1923 and lastly a flat tax of ten dollars per annum on the ten million motor vehicles in the United States.

All the republican tariff and tax builders of the nation are up in the air.

Many of them say that a revenue of three billion three hundred thousand dollars will be sufficient for the needs of the government. Secretary Mellon who knows a cold-blooded proposition when he sees it says it will take four billion five hundred million to conduct the government this year.

Business men demand quick action.

Farmers demand quick action.

Men engaged in the livestock industry demand quick action.

Forces of finance and commerce demand quick action—in fact, all the people except the officeholders are demanding quick action.

They were pledged low taxes. They were promised prosperity. They voted for a change to get these concessions they said. Now they are willing to vote for another change unless pledges and promises are redeemed without delay by the administration forces. Jones is a fickle chap.

Rotarians of McKinney declared against salary reductions at Austin. Rotarians everywhere are opposed to salary reductions at Austin but the retrenchers, thus far, have won the fight. Lawmakers who are politicians are ever in the field for office. They know that the Jones family controls 75 per cent of the votes of the commonwealth. They believe that Jones is for salary reduction and they are going to stay with Jones, hoping that later along Jones will stay with them. Politics isn't a game; it is a science and the professional politician is a scientific player.

VINDICATION OF SENATOR NEWBERRY.

Senator Trueman H. Newberry of Michigan will be given his seat. He defeated Henry Ford. His contest cost him five hundred thousand dollars. He was given a term of ten years in a federal penitentiary for conspiracy and bribery of voters.

His conviction was set aside by the supreme court of the United States and the federal primary election law was invalidated. Like the bird with a broken wing, Trueman H. Newberry will never fly high again.

He lost his reputation; he spent his money; for a time he faced a prison cell; he was vindicated on a technicality and now he will be permitted to resume his activities in the upper house of the American congress.

He was not the first offender in the camp of Opulence. Many millionaires by the use of money had won seats in the American senate. Nor was the practice of lavish expenditure confined to the republicans.

Three or more democrats, mining kings, representing Western states, spent millions in political contests and Ohio had at least two democratic senators who are said to have made free use of the money bag as well as the sandbag to satisfy their political ambitions.

It should be a crime for a man to buy his way to high places, but it isn't. Trueman H. Newberry was known as a man of integrity as well as millions before he became a candidate for United States senator. He hasn't enjoyed peace of mind since, and he will be pointed out to sightseers as the man who defeated Henry Ford by the lavish use of money. It may be a distinction but it is not a high honor to be known as "a dollar-mark statesman."

CARUSO WILL CONTEST ORDERED.

Now there is to be a long drawn out contest over the estate accumulated by Caruso. A will made by the great tenor has been filed in Italy. It was executed in 1919 and it is invalid under the Italian law, since no provision was made for little Gloria, the daughter of Caruso by his American wife. This will make the brother and the two sons principal heirs to the estate. Now the American widow has filed an appeal against the terms of this will in behalf of herself and her child. A greater part of the estate is in Italy, but not the rich royalties on phonograph records. Mrs. Caruso will take up her permanent residence at Naples, in order to be always near Caruso's tomb. They always say that in the early days of crepe wearing but the beautiful American widow may be an exception to the rule. Caruso boasted that he was a business man as well as the world's most glorious singer and an amateur cartoonist second to none in the land. Regardless of this he failed to correct the will drawn in 1919 and now the courts of Italy and the courts of America must adpudicate the claims of all concerned. Man proposes; the courts do the rest.

A NEW DEAL FOR WEST TEXAS.

As the measure finally passed the senate the senatorial redistricting act becomes effective April 1, 1924. On final passage only two senators (Doyle and Fairchild) voted no, but the lineup on important amendments was 15 ayes and 13 noes. It may interest the readers of the Record News to know that the bill finally passed was the substitute for the house bill by Hill of Wheeler. Wichita county is in the 24th senatorial district and the following counties comprise the new district: Hardeman, Foard, Knox, Wilbarger, Baylor, Wichita, Archer, Young and Clay. In the Sunday issue of the Record News the full text of the substitute bill was given space. Senator Bledsoe of Lubbock was the chief sponsor of the bill. He fought the Wood amendment which provides that the act shall not go into effect until 1924, declaring that it might affect the constituality of the measure. Attorney General Cureton has ruled otherwise. Partial justice has been done to the people of West Texas but perhaps a half loaf is better than no loaf.

WHY SMALL DISMOUNTED.

Governor Len Small of Illinois surrendered to the sheriff and signed a bail bond. In America a governor of a commonwealth eats corn beef and cabbage just like a ditch digger and if he has any sense he bows to the processes of law as becometh a citizen of the republic. Governor Small blustered and bullied like a ward boss in a Tammany district. Then he dismounted and all the world laughed. He may be a governor but he is a dead one and when he went down he carried with him the "Big Bill" Thompson machine and the machine organization throughout the state of Illinois. A wise and courageous old district judge, when told that Governor Small considered himself immune from arrest made this declaration: "There is no man above the law in Illinois; the governor of Illinois is not a king who rules by divine right alone. Small must surrender to the sheriff and make a bail bond for his appearance, like any other citizen of the state. This is the law and the law shall prevail." And the inevitable happened.

WHERE OPTIMISM REIGNS.

Two symrosiums conducted by leading banks of Chicago shows business is most interested in freight and tariff. These reports say crop conditions are now good enough to warrant anticipation of reasonable activity. In a general way the letters of contributors show that business averages some sixty per cent of that before the collapse of 1920. Raw materials are plentiful, prices lowering and stock of retailers low. The Chicago Tribune says the spirit of letters from contributors is good. There is shown an understanding of conditions, with no pessimism and a calm confidence that time is the remedy. The fall of 1922 is given usually as the time when business activity will become general and the turn toward real prosperity will be made. The broader view that if this country desires foreign trade it must buy as well as sell is not infrequent, with a conclusion that the tariff should be adjusted to this purpose. All the Chicago bankers are optimistic as to the future.

An American consul at Peking seized a ton of opium and it was necessary for American marines to land to guard the consul. For a century the Chink hit the pipe. He hates to have it taken from him. He is very much like the Kentucky colonel who had his mint bed ruined and his jug emptied by the coming of the eighteenth amendment.

ANOTHER CRUSADE.

This world will be a better place when peanuts are not sold; they are a menace to the race; they're causing grief untold, they bring us ruin and disgrace, and troubles manifold. Our children let their grammar slide, and jeer at all it tells, refuse their teacher as a guide, although she's wearing bells, while sacks of peanuts they divide, and pelt her with the shells. I've organized a band of guys to fight the peanut curse, and shortly you will see us rise and put in a hearse; and if you think the crusade wise, produce your ample purse. We cannot run this big crusade upon the modern plan, unless you promptly give us aid, and shell out all you can; dig up the roubles with a spade, and send them in a van. We can't alone by tongue or pen wipe out this glaring wrong, for evil will rise up again, unless our blow is strong; we need all kinds of iron men to help the work along. We have a high and noble aim, our purposes are broad, but we can't queer the peanut game and place it 'neath the sod, unless the reader, gent or dame, will send along a wad. We know not when we'll reach our goal—it may not be this year—but soon or late the bells will toll the peanut's doom, that's clear, if you will but produce your roll, and send a sample here.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

MIRRORS OF WASHINGTON

(From the Kansas City Star.

"The Mirrors of Washington," an anonymous series of character sketches of President Harding, Secretary Hughes, Secretary Hoover and ten other Washingtonians, published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, has recently made its appearance. It is modeled on "The Mirrors of Downing Street," a plain speaking compendium of British political personages, which achieved wide vogue in Great Britain.

Like his prototype the American author has painted the luminaries of our public life with a merciless brush. There is a sting in every punch he puts across. It is not a good natured book and his delineation of the character of some of his subjects, particularly of that of President Harding, is extremely harsh. The other mirrors reflect the personalities of Col. E. M. House, Bernard Baruc, Elihu Root, Robert Lansing and Senators Penrose, Knox, Borah and Johnson.

Whatever the identity of the author, there is no doubt about his frankness nor is the familiarity of the writer with men and affairs concerning which he writes an escapable fact. He brings in with great frequency the remarks of public figures to point his characterizations—remarks that certainly were never made for public print. For instance, he fastens an aphorism on Senator Brandegee of Connecticut. Explaining the Harding nomination at Chicago in 1920, Mr. Brandegee is quoted as remarking:

"There ain't any first-raters. We've got a lot of second raters and Warren Harding is the best of the second raters."

"People who insist upon having their politics logical demand to know the why of Harding," the author continues. "Why was a man of so undistinguished a record as he first chosen as a candidate for president and then elected president?

"As a legislator he had left no mark on legislation. If he had retired from congress at the end of his term his name would have existed only in the old congressional dictionaries, like that of a thousand others. As a public speaker he had said nothing that anybody could remember. He had passed through a great war and left no mark on it. He had shared in a fierce debate upon the peace that followed the war, but though you can recall small persons like McCumber and Moses and Kellogg and McCormick in that discussion you do not recall Harding. To be sure he made a speech in that debate, which he says himself was a great speech, but no newspaper thought fit to publish it because of its quality, or impelled to publish it in spite of its quality because it had been made by Harding.

"He neither compelled attention by what he said nor by his personality. Why, then, without fireworks, without distinction of any sort, without catching the public eye, or especially deserving to catch it, was Warren Harding elected president of the United States?"

Another of the hitherto unpublished Harding anecdotes, quoted in "The Mirrors of Washington," is attributed to Senator Knox, who, commenting on the fact that President-elect Harding's post-election traveling compainion to Texas were Senators Frelinghuysen, Hale and Elkins, is reported to have said: "I think he is taking those three along because he wanted complete mental relaxation."

Another of the author's flings:

"Every time we elect a new president we learn what a various creature is the typical American.

"When Mr. Roosevelt was in the white house the typical American was gay, robustious, full of the joy of living, an expansive spirit from the frontier, a picturesque twentieth century middle class cavalier. He hit the line hard and did not flinch. And his laugh shook the skies.

"Came Wilson. And the typical American was troubled about his soul. Rooted firmly in the churchgoing past, he carried the banner of the Lord, democracy, idealistic, bent on perfecting that old incorrigible man, he cuts off the right hand that offends him and votes for prohibition and woman suffrage, a round head in a Ford.

"Eight years and we have the perfectly typical American, Warren Gamaliel Harding, of the modern type, the square head, typical of that American whose artistic taste is the movies, who reads and finds mental satisfaction in the vague inanities of the small town newspaper.

Secretary Hughes is described as "prevailing not merely by his virtue, but his intelligence. His is the best mind in Washington; to this everybody agrees. Mr. Hughes is the most democratic secretary of state this country ever had. He takes the people into his confidence, telling all that can be told as soon as it can be told. He makes no step without carrying the country with him. He comes as near conducting a daily referendum on what we shall do for our 'interests' as in a country so big as ours can be done; and that is democratic control of foreign relations, initiated by the senate, for its own undoing."

Secretary Hoover is portrayed as the man who might have been president if he were more "human," says the author:

"He has little personality. On close contact he is disappointing, without charm, given to silence, as if he had nothing for ordinary human relations which had not profitable bearing on the task in hand. His conversation is applied efficiently engineering; there is no lost motion, though it is lost motion which is the joy of life.

From this point the cabinet grades down to the secretary of labor, who when Samuel Gompers, Jr., his chief clerk, addressed him before visitors as "Mr. Secretary," said "Please don't call me Mr. Secretary, Sam. Call me Jim. I'm more used to it."

And the author concludes, "'Call me Jim' is the mental sea level of the administration."

Perhaps Mr. Lansing is referred to as contemptuously as any person discussed in "The Mirrors of Washington," but, curiously enough, Woodrow Wilson and Henry Lodge are bracketed as targets for sharpened missiles.

"A friend in touch with Mr. Wilson since he left office describes him as 'watching with supreme contempt, the activities of President Harding. He is credited in gossip with devising the phrase 'the mungalow mind' to apply to the president. He is also said to have remarked that 'I look forward to the new administration with no unpleasant anticipations except those caused by Mr. Harding's literary style.'

"Elihu Root might have been so much publicity and has been so little that a moral must hang somewhere upon his public career," the author writes. "Distrust has always barred his way, distrust of a mind and character to which problems appear as exercises in ingenuity rather than questions of right and justice. His greatest opportunity for constructive statesmanship was offered in the making of the New York state constitution. But when it became known that Mr. Root had dominated the constitutional convention that the proposed constitution was Mr. Root's constitution, that was enough; the voters rejected it at the referendum."

Senator Hiram Johnson of California is portrayed as "cold, hard and selfish." His quarrels are numerous, with the campaign managers of the Armageddon fight, with his own campaign manager of 1920, with the newspaper correspondents. He is habitually pessimistic."

"There are only three men in the world whom I trust," Senator Johnson is quoted as saying. His attitude toward his associates in the senate is defined by the author as this: "If I were crossing a desert with any one of them and there was only one water bottle, I should insist upon carrying the bottle."

THORNTON GINS FIRST COTTON

THORNTON, Texas, Aug. 10.—The first bale of the new cotton crop here was ginned today and auctioned off by Mayor G. W. Black, bringing 12 1-2 cents a pound. The cotton was raised by Comp Johnson, negro, at Big Hill, eight miles from here. Wilson Brothers, a local firm, was the purchaser. A premium of more than $12 was raised.

Germany produced only about 30,000 tons of crude petroleum from domestic wells last year.

The hearing regarding claims against five wells in the Frederick Delano receivership which has been in progress before Frederick Tyler of Waskington, special commissioner appointed by the supreme court of the United States since Monday will be continued this morning. Contrary to expectations the hearing was not completed Wednesday.

A large part of Wednesday was taken up in attempted agreements among attorneys representing interested clients regarding the claims. Agreements had been reached in some cases as to the amount of the claims.

Since the hearing opened it has been found that a large number of claims had been settled and that the claims on which no payments have been made do not exceed $40,000. The hearing arises out of the fact that at the time Frederick Delano, federal receiver, returned the five flood plain wells concerned to their owners there were a large number of claims against the wells arising previous to the time that he took the wells over.

He refused to pay the claims and at the same time refused to turn over to the owners the $42,000 that he holds from the production of the wells while he operated them.

The hearing is to adjust the claims and determine against whom they lie there having been changes in the ownership of the wells before and since the claims arose.

MICHIGAN FOREST FIRES BLAZE AGAIN

ESCANABA, Mich., Aug. 10.—Forest fires which yesterday were apparently under control were fanned into a fury again today and menaced thousands of dollars worth of crops.

The fires destroyed four houses and all the farm buildings on four farms near Ford river yesterday and farmers were loading their household goods on wagons and starting toward the city.

Many of the best men the world has ever known have been poor in pocket but never in credit or conscience. It is a disgrace as well as a criminal act to pass bad checks or to obtain money or goods under false pretence. There ar business men in the city of Wichita Falls who are said to have accumulated during recent years collections of bad checks. They were defruded of their money or their goods—robbed of their property so to speak. Prosecuting attorneys should handle these phoney check passers without gloves; grand jurors should return indictments against them; jurors in the trial courts should promptly convict them if the evidence of their guilt is conclusive and they should be sent over the road to the prisons at Rusk or at Huntsville or the state prison farms to pay the penalty of law violation and wrong doing. It is a crime against the confidence of a fellowman as well as a violation of the laws of the state and public opinion should demand drastic action on the part of those who represent the law and are charged with its enforcement. It may be a long jump from Henry Ford and his hundred million dollar proposition to the predatory minnows who utter or pass spurious checks away down here in Texas but the bad check crooks of society and the state needed a panning and H. N. F. is willing to do his part in this column to stamp out the practice or to send the culprits over the spiked road to the penitentiary. They have it coming to them and they should be forced to take the journey.

Who's Who

MAJOR GENERAL SIBERT.

Wealth that makes his former pay as a major general in the United States army look like mere pocket money has recently come to W. L. Sibert, major general, for many years prominent in the development of Western Kentucky and well known in Lexington, Louisville and other cities of the Bluegrass State.

GEN. W.L. SIBERT

General Sibert is now leading the life of a busy civilian on his farm near Bowling Green, Warren county, Ky., and has been made rich by the development of oil on his farm there. Major General Sibert first went to Kentucky thirty-two years ago, when the United States government took over the control of the locks and dams on Green and Barren rivers.

To General Sibert, as United States engineer, was entrusted the task of rehabilitating the navigation system of those two rivers. Under his supervision locks and dams were rebuilt, the rivers cleared of obstruction and otherwise improved, and navigation was made free to all craft, resulting in the rapid development of the business of that section.

Later General Sibert was transferred to duty in the Panama Canal Zone, and remained there until a year before the United States entered the world war. While stationed in Panama he paid a visit to Kentucky, and, stopping at Bowling Green, purchased a farm of 235 acres, situated on Barren river, with the intention of making this farm his home upon his retirement to civilian life. Soon afterward he was made head of the chemical warfare division in the world war, but, returning to the United States after the armistice was signed he shortly afterward retired from active service and went back to Warren county, Ky., to lead the simple life of a farmer.

General Sibert was persuaded to lease the mineral rights on his farm, and within a short time twenty wells were on the pump on the farm, one of which is said to be the largest producer in Warren county. This well was gushed at a sixty barrel an hour rate when it blow in, and a month later was producing 960 barrels a day. One-eighth of the value of all the oil produced on the farm comes to General Sibert in the form of a check semi-monthly.

CONSTABLE NAMES TWO NEW DEPUTIES

W. A. Miles and B. P. Patton have been appointed deputy constables, according to an announcement Wednesday by Constable Frank Morgan. The appointments follow the recent resignations of Lenley Humphris and Art Blasingame, now members of the city police force.

Both Miles and Patton have had previous experience as officers in this city.

POLICE HUNT NEGRO ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Police Wednesday were searching for a negro reported to have stolen $20 in currency and a pair of shoes from a negro shack at 2007 Tenth Street.

A white woman and a negress are reported to have seen the negro as he left the shack and fled down the street. A good description was furnished officers.

LARGE CROWD OF BABIES AT CENTER

The largest number of babies and young children that has ever been in attendance at the Health Center at the courthouse was there Wednesday morning. Cars were sent after those who called the Red Cross office and the small patients also taken home after examination. Those who volunteered their services as drivers and also furnished cars this week were Mrs. T. F. Hunter and Mesdames L. F. and W. F. Hamming. Last week Mrs. D. J. White and C. J. Shumake furnished cars and drove them.

The children were registered by Mrs. C. Y. Tully as they were brought in and as they left they were given tags showing their weights and measurements and the kind of food they required to bring them to the correct weight.

A donation of $3 per month for the benefit of the clinic was pledged by W. C. Heath of Heath and Company.

The regular staff of specialists and Misses Mary Quinn and Dorpat, Red Cross nurses, were in attendance at the clinic Wednesday.

USE LITERATURE TO TEACH IDEALS

Literature is not propaganda. Ideals are not bought by the gallon. They are not hoarded for private convenience or public exploitation.

The teaching of literature is not the skillful anipulation of a phychological machine, the worn cogs of which can be replaced and the proper oil for which can be compounded in an up-to-date psychochemical laboratory.

The world is learning once more that propaganda is its own antidote. The strain of swallowing half truths results now as in the past in disillusionment, pessimism and callous indifference. Frothy patriotism stirred by sentimental publicity conceives its own vicious brood of unrest, dissatisfaction, low-brow horizons and earthly excesses.

Ideals cannot be taught through literature at a hundred dollars per month. The devotion to the teaching of literature that can be measured in terms of a monthly check, small or large, is worthless. During a period of public education in the necessity of reasonable compensation for teachers, of ideals through literature are charged with supreme responsibility.

There is in American life "a spotted actuality" as well as "a golden reality." Multitudes of American citizens see at any one time only the one or the other. Literature sees life steadily and sees it whole. The ability to enjoy such a view of life is itself highest satisfaction. The cultivation of this ability in literature classes is the effective teaching of the noblest ideal of citizenship in a democracy.

We have taught literature as biography in a gossipy fashion; we have taught literature as history; we have taught literature as technical scholarship. The teaching of ideals through literature involves in the simplest, most human manner the teaching of boys and girls how to read literature, and reading it, to love it.—San Antonio Express.

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE ACCUSATIONS MADE

"Lo, there, Cherry. Naughty girl to run away from us so long," called Ned as he caught sight of his wife. Then he ran down the steps to kiss her. Cherry felt herself suddenly indifferent to his caresses, as she remembered, but there was no need to betray her state of mind to Jack, so she did her best to play up to her husband's mood.

"Been having a gorgeous time over at the Hamlens," she assured him, as she lifted her lips to his. "They are the kindest people ever."

Here Jack did a disappearing act, after first giving Cherry a meaning look, asking not to mention his affairs of the heart to Ned. Left alone, the husband and wife stared at each other tensely for a moment before going into the house.

"Mother was upset at your absence. She seems to think that that young fool of an Arthur has some sort of an attachment for you."

"She would," sharply from Cherry. "And there are so many other unpleasant things that your mother does and would like to 'think' about me that this one does not in the least surprise me. If she only 'thinks,' what need for her to give utterance to words. Her thoughts are far better off in her own heart and head. At least they are not destructive to anyone but herself there, and I'm not in the least bit interested in what she thinks about me, anyhow, anymore than she lets my thoughts of her worry her for one instant. I'm off to bed. Ta."

"No need to be so snijjy, Cherry. If you give her ground for criticism you must be prepared to get it."

"Oh, really? Well, I wonder that your mother has not taken the time to look about her more thoroughly —in your direction, say—for I feel sure that she might have a great many more 'thoughts.' I know that even I have had a few in the last 24 hours," said Cherry, now thoroughly aroused.

"I have nothing to hide from either you or mother. And what you are trying to insinuate only you yourself know," answered Ned indifferently. These scenes were becoming very regular in their midst.

"And I don't wish to know anything about you or what you do. I'm sick to death of routine and suspicion. I want a chance to be myself. To talk as I like and not have to fear that my every word is being weighed by people who can never, never understand me. I never dreamed that a man could be satisfied to have his wife bossed around by his mother the way I have been ever since I came here. Do you think I had to marry you, Ned? Do you think that I need stand for every mortal thing that goes on here? No, indeed, I don't. Let me assure you of that."

"And do you think that I need to stand by and watch another man, my friend at that, kiss my wife?" whipped Ned angrily, as he felt himself cornered.

"Oh! So you followed me last night. You spied? You had your own fun with Arline, but watched me all the same? Well, I'm glad that you saw. I have no explanation to offer. Take the news to your mother and get her verdict on me and my character. I don't care. But don't forget to tell her about your own two-hour disappearance with Arline and the empty car standing in the road this afternoon when Mr. Hamlen and I passed by. Where were you and she then?" And with a final hiss of anger Cherry dashed up the stairs to her room.

BEAUTIFUL WIFE OF FAMOUS AUTHOR PROVES THAT WOMEN CAN DIRECT SCREEN PRODUCTION AS WELL AS MEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—It used to be an old saying that the husband and wife couldn't both be inordinately bright. This seemed to be especially true where literary talent was involved.

Mrs. Lillian E. Chester

But Mrs. George Randolph Chester has proved that there is nothing to that notion. For the last 9 years Mrs. Lillian E. Chester has collaborated with her talented husband in all of his books and stories. It is the only case on record of an international author working in complete collaboration with his wife.

It will probably be of interest to thousands of readers to know that Mrs. Chester aided her husband in writing the famous Wallingford stories. It now develops that Mrs. Chester put many of the peculiar twists into the very original character of "Blackie Daw."

In one of her husband's stories there was a wealth of detail regarding the girl's dresses, and many readers probably remarked that "no mere man could write all these details about a pretty girl's clothes." And it now develops that it was Mrs. Chester who supplied the feminine touches.

When George Randolph Chester decieded to picturize his stories several years ago and learn the technical part of the silent drama Mrs. Chester also decided to take up scenario writing and the making of movies in the studios. Like her husband she became a pupil in screen and studio technique, and they have several screen successes to their credit.

While American women are entering all fields of activity and enrolling in positions formerly held sacred to mere men, it has been left to Mrs. Chester to set up a new record for women in motion pictures.

In collaboration with Mr. Chester she recently wrote the story and scenario of the final episode of the Wallingford series.

Then she accompanied her husband to a California studio and with him personally directed the screening of the story. Mrs. Chester carefull guarded every detail, as if she were rearing a child instead of a celluloid classic.

After all the scenes were "shot" she accompanied her husband to a New York studio, and with him is now titling, editing and cutting their film.

"Mrs. Chester and I work together as one person," says her distinguished husband with enthusiasm. "We make an ideal combination for we really collaborate, and she should have the credit for it."

KEEP THE NECK LOVELY

Snowdrifts and swans are just as popular a comparison, where throats are concerned, as they were in the days of Annie Laurie. Every woman if she could, would have a throat as white as a snowdrift and a neck as slender and supple as a swan. The throat and neck, however, are the first places that advancing age attacks and incessant care is necessary if the lovely lines and soft fairness of youth are to be retained.

Twenty years ago young women used to rub cocoa butter into their necks over the collar bones to induce plumpness. But bones are no longer considered a detriment. Indeed the thin neck—if it has the soft curves of youth—is deemed more beautiful now than the well padded one. But the thin neck of youth, unless it takes on padding as years advance, is apt to become shriveled, and the bones stock out and make unlovely angles. On the other hand, a too-fat neck is quite as ugly, with a double or triple chin efect in front and a cushion at the base of the neck in the back. The fat neck also loses that graceful line from ear to shoulder; it looks short and chunky and the head looks larger.

Keep the lines of youth in your neck by doing proper exercises once a day at least. Keep down the cushion at the back by faithful massage—and by standing up straight. Don't bend your head forward when reading or sewing; bend the waist instead, and keep the head straight and firm on the end of the spine. In summer time when sun and wind tan and burn the neck guard toughening skin and a lack of snowdrift fairness later on, by frequent applications of cold cream at night. Before you don your bathing suit, or go sailing in an open-necked blouse of sheer material, rub vanishing cream all over your neck and then dust with talcum. This will help to preserve the snowdrift fairness that is so desirable in witer with dance frocks.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WINNERS OF MUSIC TEST PLAN TOURS

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—The National Federation of Music Club is planning a concert tour for the four winners of its national contests held earlier this year. Its aim is to give a musical hearing as well as recognition to young American artists.

"The accomplishment of such a tour is made possible by the co-operation of the hundreds of music clubs belonging to the federation," said Mrs. Helen Harrison Mills, of Peoria, Ill., chairman of the federation's department of publicity, here today.

"Giving these young Americans a chance to appear on their programs during the coming season, the clubs will make a string of engagements reaching from the north to the south and from coast to coast.'

This is the second tour of the kind sponsored by the federation, the first one following its 1919 biennial convention. As a result of that tour the young artists appeared before a large number of the clubs, and at the end of the season each had several hundred dollars clear.

Artists to take this year's tour are Enrique Ros, pianist, New York; Herman Rosen, violinist, Cleveland; Devorah Nadworney, contralto, Bayonne, N. J., and George G. Smith, barytone, Evanston, Ill.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Prices from 30 per cent to 50 per cent lower than those asked by Americans are quoted by German business men for machines and tools for the Japenese market.

"SUMMERTIME" MUSIC IN VOGUE

"Summertime music" is now the watchword of the National Federation of Musical clubs, and as a result plans are in operation for providing communities with pageants, open air operas, community sings and outdoor festivals in various localities where music clubs are found. The club seaso no longer begins in the fall and ends in the spring, but continues on through June, July, August and into September, bringing music to many more people than could ever be reached through the indoor programs of the wintertime.

The first and simplest of these activities is the community sing, which, contrary to general belief, is not dead nor even sleeping. Fundamentally it is so natural that the people of a nation should sing together and the people themselves so enjoy doing it that it may safely be predicted that the community chorus has come to stay. Easy of accomplishment, always successful with a good leader, community music is used by the clubs as a steppingstone to the more pretentious forms of outdoor programs and as a nucleus for a civic chorus.

As to pageants the beautiful Peterboro Pageant, given at the eleventh biennial convention of the federation at the MacDowel Colony, Peterboro, N. H., in 1919, was the direc tsource of inspirttion to the clubs, which has resulted in numerous pageants being staged here and there in the smaller towns. There must be a great deal of effort expended in the production of a pageant, there is work for all, and it is thus that the community spirit is engendered, which makes the project successful and co-operative—and also facilitates bringing music to large crowds of people without the usual and more conservative concert atmosphere.

The same applies to the production of community opera except that here is a somewhat wider field. So many operas lend themselves to outdoor performance, and community opera companies have been lately organized for the purpose of helping with the venture if desired.

Then, too, each state has a list of its own music artists of the federation from which to draw for solo parts. The chorus is ready for the director's baton; the temporary orchestras formed often result in established civic organizations, and altogether the community opera idea is taking a firm place among the people generally.

In the matter of open-air festivals, while no such affair as the North Shore Festival or that of Lockport can be attempted, these more elaborate functions serve as guides and all festivals are planned along the same general lines, drawing talent and co-operation from the community itself in so far as is possible.—Los Angeles Times.

ASK ME

Blue Bird—Owen Moore played the lead in "A Divorce of Convenience." Harriet Hammond is playing an important role in Marshall Neilan's "Bits of Life."

Sally—You have asked me at various times why George Eliot's books were never adapted for the screen. Now it seems that they are to be done. The first one will be "Silas Marner."

Leslie—Pearl White is no longer married to Wallace McCutcheon. She is soon to make a picture under the Fox banner. She also has a new director. Kenneth Webb, formerly director of the Whitman Bennet productions.

Chas.—Eva Tanguay has never appeared in pictures to my knowledge. There was a report at one time that Dorothy Phillips was to return to the stage. This seems to be an erroneous rumor, as May Phillips is at the present time busily engaged on her next photoplay.

Mully—Dick Barthelmess is playing in "Experience." His next picture was to be "Hol'able David," a Joseph Hergersheimer story of the Virginia mountains. Gladys Huiette plays opposite him. Of course he is married. I supposed the whole world knew that. He married Mary Hay. He has black hair and brown eyes and is 26 years old. I quite agree with you, he is a fine actor. He just naturally inherits some of his ability to act. You see his mother is Caroline Harris, a well known actress on the legitimate stage.

George—"Scratch My Back" was written by Rupert Hughes. Monte Blue played opposite Mary Miles Minter in "The Cumberland Romance."

Myrtle Stone—"The Copperhead" was first produced as a play, later it was adapted for the screen. Eddie Polo was a circus performer before going into pictures.

Carlotta—Pearl White has no children. Vivian Martin is married. Constance Talmadge's newest picture is "Good for Nothing," which will be released some time in the fall. Norma's next picture will be "The Wonderful Thing." Mrs. Lydig Hoyt, a New York society woman plays an important role in this picture.

Valerie—Ethel Barrymore is playing in "The Twelve Pound Look," a one-act play by Sir James Barrie.

Ho.—Frank Mayo is married. Pauline Starke's latest picture is "Wife Against Wife," a Whitman Bennett production.

Sherburne—Dan Mason is the "Skipper" in "Toonerville Tolley." Bertram Grassby is a wiley villain (on the screen) otherwise he's a fine chap and very much in love with his wife.

With a view of reducing her weight, a young woman of Uniontown, Pa., hiked up a three-mile mountain road every morning—and gained thirty pounds.

THE TRIALS OF A HOUSEWIFE
How They Have Been Endured and How Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Experience of a Providence Woman

Providence, R. I.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a female trouble and backache. It began just after my baby was born, and I did the best I could about getting my work done, but I had awful bearing-down pains so I could not stand on my feet. I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the good it was doing other women, and I have got dandy results from it and will always recommend it. You can use these facts as a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. Herbert L. Cassen, 18 Meni Court, Providence, R. I.
Ohio woman for three years could hardly keep about and do her housework she was so ill. Made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound:
Fayette, O.—"For about three years I was very nervous and had backache, sideache, dragging-down pains, could not sleep at night, and had no appetite. At times I could hardly do my housework. I got medicine from the doctor but it did not help me. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in a newspaper and took it with good results, and am now able to do my housework. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. Chester A. Ball, R. 15, Fayette, Ohio.
An Illinois woman relates her experience:
Bloomington, Ill.—"I was never very strong and female trouble kept me so weak I had no interest in my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or sweep a room without raging with pain. Rubbing my back with alcohol sometimes eased the pain for a few hours, but did not stop it. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and six bottles of it have made me as strong and healthy as any woman; and I give my thanks to it for my health."—Mrs. J. A. McQuitty, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.
The conditions described by Mrs. Cassen, Mrs. Ball, and Mrs. McQuitty will appeal to many women who struggle on with their daily tasks in just such conditions—in fact, it is said that the tragedy in the lives of some women is almost beyond belief. Day in and day out they slave in their homes for their families—and beside the daily routine of housework, often make clothes for themselves and for their children, or work in their gardens, all the while suffering from those awful bearing-down pains, backache, headaches, nervousness, the blues, and troubles which sap the very foundation of life until there comes a time when nature gives out and an operation seems inevitable. If such women would only profit by the experience of these three women, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the natural restorative for such conditions it may save them years of suffering and unhappiness.
There is hardly a neighborhood in any town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been restored to health by this famous medicine. Therefore ask your neighbor, and you will find in a great many cases that at some time or other she, too, has been benefited by taking it, and will recommend it to you. For more than forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine hasbeen restoring suffering women to health and strength.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

"CADDY" WORKS BREAKS UP BIG JAM WITH HOME RUN WALLOP; SPUDS GRAB OPENER 11 TO 10

By C. F. CARTER

Oh, that wild and wicked error
That you made in inning four;
When you let a Hampat Patter
Homeward with the leading score.
Will we e'er forget it, Caddy?
Well, we may—but this we KNOW
We ain't gonna f'gitt in a hurry
THAT TERRIFIC FOUR-BASE BLOW.
(Signed)—The City of Wichita Falls.

Caddy Works today is just about as popular with Dallas fans as a skunk at a lawn party—but if he ever wants to run for President, he can count on every vote in Wichita county. Caddy won a ball game for the Spudders yesterday (Oh, man, how we needed that ball game, too!) and he turned the trick in the seventh inning by smashing the first ball pitched by Snipe Conley over the right field wall with Cecil Griggs on first base. Final score, Spudders 11, Marines 10.

That blow was only the second home run Works has made this season—and each of them was delivered in a pinch, and each cost the Dallas Marines a ball game—and Caddy simply made a place for himself forever in the hearts of local fans with his blow of yesterday, because it showed a fighting spirit that was beautiful. In the fourth frame Caddy dropped an easy throw from Danny Clark that permitted the Marines to score one 5 to 4—but instead of becoming discouraged, as many young ball players would have done, Works stayed in the game to a battling, slugging, peppery finish.

Yea, bo, Caddy Works not only wins the solid leather carving set, but he can also call at this office and collect second and third prizes, a beautifuly fur-lined cuspidor and a hand-painted inner tube.

Words Fail Us

Fellers, we just don't know how to describe that battle at Athletic Park, honest we don't. What in tarnation can you say about a battling ball club that refuses to be licked when it enters the seventh inning five runs behind? Are there any words of praise compiled by old man Webster that are too strong? No, sirree—just tell the whole world that the future Dixie Champions, finding their own twirlers being knocked to every corner of the lot, abandoned the defensive game, spat on their war clubs and started out to make good on the offensive. And when the Spudders start to hit, jus' pucker, honey, and kiss 'at ol' ball game farewell!

Hollingsworth and Swartz were groomed particularly for the opener yesterday of a series fraught with considerable importance—and these two twirlers, two of the best in the old loop without question, were hammered so hard it was pitiful! Lefty Swarz lasted only one inning, the Spudders landing on him for two hard-hit singles and a triple in the opening frame and bagging four runs. Holly worked four innings, during which time the Marines gathered five runs, and nicked the Speed Ball King for eight wallops, including a home run by Bobby Stow and two doubles.

Rube Also Knocked Out

Rube Marshall fared even worse than Holly, the Marines making five hits and five runs off the Reuben in two-thirds of an inning. Knadler, the big right hander from Oklahoma, traveled three and one-third innings, showed a lot of stuff and held the Marines to three hits and no tallies. He was pulled in the eighth, however, when Dallas got the tieing run on third base, and Knadler began to show slight symptoms of wildness—a wild pitch, or a passed ball at that stage of the game would have been disastrous—and Skipper salm, after a confab with Kitch, pulled the new comer and rushed in Abe Bowman, who put up a wonderful exhibition during his brief stay. Abe fanned the first three men who faced him—which was a world's record for yesterday, we'll say.

After the Spudders had grabbed a four-run lead in the first, Dallas began a steady bomardment of the Spudder twirlers, scoring 1 in the second, 2 in the third, 2 in the fourth and showering them on Rube for 5 tallies in the fifth canto.

The Spudders made their total 5 by pushing one run over in the sixth on an error by Jim Galloway, a double by Griggs and an infield out—and then came the hectic seventh when the fans went wild.

Some Seventh Inning.

Knadler singled over second base for a starter, and went to becond when Bischoff poked a one-timer to left. Buddy Tanner popped to Bobby Stow, but Tex McDonald brought Knadler home and sent Bisch to third with a single over second. Clark forced Tex at second base, Bischoff scoring on the play. Jake Miller doubled to the left field wall, sending Danny to third. Snipe Conley was rushed to the mound by Ham Patterson—and Griggs welcomed him with a single to center that scored Clark and Miller. With the locals one run behind, and with one man on the paths, Caddy Works leaned on the first ball Snipe pitched to him, and the apple soared high and far over the right field barrier.

To say that the crowd went wild is to phrase it mildly. Cushions were hurled throughout the stands, straw hats were pulled to shreds, while the uproar was deafening. The seemingly impossible had happened, and the crowd acted like stark, staring, raving lunatics! Kitchens struck out to end the frame, but the yells, cheers and general uproar continued.

Dallas Punch Gone.

The Marines made a desperate effort to tie it up again, but the punch was missing. Palmer opened the eighth with a single past second, and advanced on Robertson's sacrifice. Somebody pulled a bone for Dallas, Palmer attempting to steal third and being caught in the act, Kitch to Tex. Bobby Stow walked, stole second and went to third on a passed ball. At this point Knadler was derricked, and Abe Bowman closed the inning by fanning Segrist.

In the ninth Big Abe struck out Wilson and Falk in succession, and forced Skiner to roll one to Danny Clark for the final out.

Today you can throw the names of the pitchers in a hat, draw out one and guess he'll work. Our guess is that Mitchell will start for Dallas and Dorough for the Spuds—but it's only a guess, remember. We do KNOW one thing; that you'll get your money's worth of baseball every day that Dallas is our guest.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Babe Ruth hit his 42nd home run of the season today in the third inning of the Yankees game with Chicago. One man was on base. Hodge was pitching for Chicago.

The hit made off Hodge put Ruth four days ahead of his 1920 record, when he made his 42nd home run off Shaw of Washington on August 14. The Yankee slugger has 52 games in which to make 13 home runs in order to surpass last year's record. If he continues hitting at his present rate, he should obtain about 63 home runs for the season.

AFTER THE BATTLE, MOTHER

Say, lissen! Let's win today's game 1 to 0, with each team using only one pitcher. These 11 to 10 slugfests, with seven pitchers working—well, how'd YOU like to have to make out a box score on yesterday's battle?

H. S. ("Mac") McCoy, sport scribe of the Dallas Journal, is with the Marines—and Mac was strolling 'round in a state of coma last evening, completely dazed and unable to understand it a-tall. We don't blame him; if the Marines did that to the Spudders, we'd be in the same bewildered condition.

When the two leading clubs of the loop tangle in a game where terrific slugging is the order of the day; where one twirler after another is rushed to the center of the diamond, with still another being kept warmed up on the side; where first one team can't hold a four-run lead, and then the other can't win the a lead of five runs—well, call up the Ku Klux Klan and tell 'em there's dirty work afoot in Wichita Falls.

Not only did Caddy Works hit his second home run of the season, but Bobby Stow startled everyone also by lambasting his third home run in two and one-half seasons of baseball. Bobby got a big hand from the fans on his first appearance at the plate. "Mac" informed us that Dallas paid $2500 and one player for Bobby, and the Marine management figures Stow brought in that much, at least, at the gate during his first two days in a Dallas uniform.

Knadler has a lot of stuff on that ball. He fanned Stow and Segrist in succession in the sixth. He may weaken, but on his showing yesterday he looks like a winner. He's got confidence, we'll say, if nothing else.

'Bout ninety-nine million fans 'phoned us last night to get the low-down on Skipper Salm's action in pulling Knadler in the eighth and sending in Abe Bowman. The fans were strong for Knadler at the time, and wanted him to continue—but Salm did the wise thing.

Kitchens was catching a new man whose stuff he had never handled before, and who was none too familiar with the battery signals—and it wasn't the easiest job in the world. With Bobby Stow on third base, and two men out, a wild pitch or a passed ball meant a tied score again. Knadler had walked Stow, and was showing a tendency to break the ball into the dirt at Frank's feet. Kitch, if we noticed the play correctly, called for Bowman and then held a conference with Skipper Salm. The Skipper agreed with Frank's judgment, yanked Knadler and sent in Abe. Bowman promptly made good by striking out Segrist. It was good judgment, good baseball, and no reflection at all on Knadler's ability as a twirler.

Kitchens had a great day back of the plate, picking off four Dallas runners who tried to steal. Frank failed to get a hit, but his pegging sure was deadly.

Bob Bescher confined his activities to catching—but we're glad to announce the accident to Bob is not as serious as at first thought, and we expect to see him back there in the outer garden before the series ends.

Danny Clark handled nine chances without a bobble—just ate 'em up.

Buddy had little to do on the defense, but he was there when needed. He made a beautiful grab of Palmer's smash in the third, with Skinner on third base and two out.

Jake Miller drew a life in the opening frame when Robertson failed to collect his high foul back of the plate—and Jake heard Opportunity knocking at the door immediately thereafter, and proceeded to bust the apple against the center field fence for three cushions.

NEW NAME AND TRAINING IN WAR GIVES HIM START

Johnny Karr.

Before the war a youngster named Kid Karpinski was trying hard to win fame in the ring. But his name and style handicapped him. Then he went to war. Came back stronger and tougher and reentered the ring as Johnny Karr. Now he's in line for a title bout with Welterweight Champion Jack Britton. Jimmy Dunn is managing him.

"LEFTY" SWARTZ SOLD BY MARINES TO NEW YORK YANKS

DALLAS, Aug. 10.—George Swartz, star left hander for the local club, has been sold to the New York Yankees and is to report at the end of the Texas League season, it was announced today.

The deal was made through Nap Rucker, Yankee scout, who was here during the Marines' home stay.

COCHRAN UP FRONT IN BIG GOLF CLASSIC

Tommy Cochran, star of the Wichita Falls Golf club and one of the sweetest players in Texas, is one of the eight golfers remaining today in the big trans-Mississippi championship tournament being played over the links of the Denver, Colo., country club.

Cochran furnished one of the biggest upsets of the tournament yesterday afternoon, when he eliminated Harry Legg of Minneapolis, five times champion and four times runner-up in the trans-Mississippi. Tommy defeated Legg 3 and 2, outclassing the veteran star decisively. Ealrier in the day Cochran had defeated Bagby of Wichita, Kan., 5 and 4.

Dudley Golding, also a member of the Wichita Falls club, likewise gave this city some athletic publicity. "Dud" qualified in the championship flight, but was beaten in the opening round of match play. In the consolation flight, Golding also lost to Bob McKee, present holder of the trans-Mississippi title, 3 and 2, but "Dud" made the champion travel fast to return a winner.

Bill Norton, who returned to this city yesterday after attending the opening day of the tournament, told the sporting editor of The Record News last night that Tommy Cochran has a splendid chance to bring home the bacon.

"Tommy's qualifying score, like many others," he explained, "was high, due to the excessive speed of the greens. Before the match play started, however, the greens were watered, making it possible to pitch approach shots to the pin with a chance of the good shot holding. The course is heavily trapped and bunkered and I persuaded Tommy to discard his wooden clubs and follow a policy of stricking 'em straight down the middle with an iron. In a telegram he sent me this evening, he says he's still using only his irons and going good."

By Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 10.—State champions, former champions and veterans went down in defeat before comparative unknowns in the first and second rounds of the annual trans-Mississippi Golf association tournament at the Denver Country club here today. The afternoon round saw the elimination of Alexander Graham, Kansas state champion; Blaine Young, Nebraska, state champion, and Harry G. Legg, five times champion and four times runner up in trans-Mississippi tournaments.

Eight golfers from five states remained in the championship running after the second round of the tournament tonight. They were: J. C. Ward and J. C. Stuttle of Kansas City, Mo., George Von Elm of Salt Lake City; J. A. Kennedy of Tulsa, Oklahoma; T. B. Cochran of Wichita Falls, Texas; and A. H. Warner, L. D. Bromfield, and L. G. Palmer of Denver.

Two distinct upsets occurred in the second round, the first came when A. H. Warner of Denver, carried Alexander Graham of Wellington, Kan., state champion, to the 18th green and defeated him one up. The second surprise of the afternoon was furnished by T. B. Cochran of Wichita Falls, Texas, when he defeated the veteran, Harry G. Legg of Minneapolis, three up and two to go. Both Legg and Graham had been figured as almost certaintities for the semi-finals.

WILSON MATCHED TO MEET DOWNEY IN RETURN BOUT

BOSTON, Aug. 10.—Marvin Killilea, manager of Johnny Wilson, announced tonight that Wilson had been matched by Tex Rickard to meet Bryan Downey in a 12-round no-decision bout at Jersey City on Labor Day. In the recent bout at Cleveland, the referee awarded the decision to Wilson on a foul, but the Cleveland boxing commission announced that it had overruled the decision and would recognize Downey as middleweight champion on the ground that he had actually scored a knockout. The Massachusetts boxing commission has refused to recognize the action of the Cleveland body.

PUT CROPPER ON PUMP AND GET 50 BBLS.

After several days on the swab, the Laning and Moninger, No. 1 Cropper, just across the road from the Burk-Tex production on the Rexford, has been put on the pump, and was making 50 barrels, according to reports from the owners Wednesday.

This well affords an eastward extension of the new sand in the north Texhoma pool. The sand depth is reported around 1330 feet, and the oil is said to test 48 gravity.

The No. 2 Cropper is to begin drilling immediately.

These same operators have drilled an oil sand around 1,000 feet in their No. 4 Dodson, further south in the original Texhoma pool, which is in process of testing, according to the Wednesday reports. This lease has already produced nice oil wells and a good gasser.

KATY LOADS 3500 MORE WHEAT CARS

A heavy increase in grain loading of cars on the M. K. & T. lines was reported during the month of July, an increase of 3,500 cars over the same month of last year, being noted by railroad officials. Despite the heavy loading the freight car situation is said to be much easier and more grain cars are available for late loading than during August of last year.

The Katy road reports that it has on hand sufficient cars to take orders for grain cars approximately two weeks ahead without counting the cars under load which will be empty by the middle of August. Bad order cars are also being repaired as fastly as possible to put them into the field to take care of late movement of wheat.

It is believed that by the end of August the Katy will have moved 8,000 cars of grain in excess of the figure for the months of July and August of last year.

The movement of cotton and oil was also heavier in July than in any of the months immediately preceding, the report says, and was heavier than during July, 1920.

Traffic on a whole, the Katy officials state, gives promise of considerable improved business and is taken as an indication that the clouds of depression and slack business are giving away to the sun of prosperity and renewed confidence.

Stamford Tax Rate Lowered

STAMFORD, Texas, Aug. 10.—The city commission of Stamford has reduced the tax levy this year 31c on the hundred dollars, at the same time has ordered a nelection for a bond issue of $125,000 with which to complete the waterworks system, rather than purchase or build a distributing plant in the city of Stamford. The election order states that only as much of the issue will be sold as is actually needed for the purpose stated.

The commission has during the past few months retired $36,000 of outstanding bonds before they became due, which adds very materially to the bonding ability of the city. It is figured that when the new bond issue is voted, that it will take about 31 cents or place the tax rate next year at the same as it is at this time, this is 2.21 cents on the hundred dollars. Of this amount, 40 cents is for the general fund while the balance is interest and sinking funds on the various bonds of the city.

It will be seen by this that the citizenship of Stamford believes in bond issues, the outstanding bonds at this time being for street improvement, sewerage and waterworks bonds, the latter being the principal amount. The street improvement bonds come next, the city hall bonds and then the sewerage bonds.

The valuation this year as shown by the tax rolls is $3,200,000.00 which is, in round numbers $100,000 over last year.

TEXAS WOMAN THOUGHT SHE'D NEVER RECOVER

"It is the most wonderful thing I ever saw the way Tanlac took hold of my troubles and restored me to health," said Mrs. Addie Bryan, 2113 Crockett St., Houston, Texas.

"I had suffered agony for fifteen long years and was told that an operation was the only thing that would save me, and none of my people thought I would ever get up again. This is the very condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac. I suffered all the time with indigestion and my appetite left me entirely, for there was nothing I could eat that wouldn't torture my stomach and bring on an awful spell. I just dreaded to see bedtime come, for it only meant another night of restless misery to me and I grew thinner and weaker every day. The last spell I had kept me in bed for two weeks, and that was when they said I would have to be operated on, for there was no hope for me. I was in despair myself, for everything else had been done for me and every medicine that we had found had failed to help me.

"I tried my first bottle of Tanlac as an experiment and it improved me so much I kept on taking it. My appetite has come back and my digestion is perfect. I sleep like a child every night, my rest strengthens me and I have already gained eighteen pounds in weight. All my nervousness has disappeared and I'm happy to think what Tanlac has done for me. It certainly is the best medicine ever made."

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store; in Electra by Tarlton Drug Store; in Burkburnett by West End Drug Store, and by all leading druggists.—Adv.

Miss Your Collar? Blame Marines

If anybody in Wichita Falls has to go without his clean shirt today he can blame the Spudders and Marines.

Wednesday afternoon while the driver of a laundry wagon watched the nerve racking exhibition of baseball staged by the two clubs fire broke out in the clothing in his wagon, and according to Mounted Policeman Colvin destroying several articles of wearing apparel, some of which was cleaned and some of which was soiled.

The fire was extinguished by persons outside the park, before it gained serious headway, Officer Colvin said.

Boy Hero Rescues Two Negro Men

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 10.—"It wasn't much. I just did it," and that's the way Buxler Jackson feels about going fifty feet down in a gas-filled well to rescue two men, both negroes. He risked his own life without the slightest hesitation after half a dozen full-grown men had declined, and sent both to the surface before he would permit men at the top to haul him up. One of the men lived, the other died.

The boy, barefoot, freckle faced and pug nosed, as is proper with boy heroes, told the story while undoubtedly thinking about a slice of watermelon, a game of marbles, the swimmin' hole and a half dozen other things of far more importance in his mind.

"The negro working on my father's well," he said, 'went down there early to draw out some water. Mother was there and after a while she couldn't make the negro answer when she called.

"She came after my father and after a while a crowd gathered round the well, and then it was seen the negro was unconscious. We could smell the gas then. Another negro was let down on a rope to bring out the other negro.

"Ellis (the second negro) must have got scared. He couldn't fasten the rope around the other negro.) He wouldn't talk to us. Then he fell over. I told 'em I would go down with a rope. I wasn't afraid. Why should I be afraid?"

Fire Chief Cody of Atlanta's fire department, said it was the bravest act he had ever seen. He has recommended the boy for a Carnegie hero medal.

RECEIVE FIRST BALE IN BAYLOR COUNTY.

Special to the Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Aug. 10.—Baylor county receives her first bale of 1921 cotton here today, which is eight days earlier than any previous year. The bale graded middling and brought 12.10 on the local market.

It was produced on the W. H. Snyder farm, five miles southwest of Seymour by Pink Fife.

Woman "Relativity"

However profound Prof. Einstein may be about penetrating into the mysteries of "relativity" (whatever that may be), he is rather dumb about applying it to woman. He comes to America, observes and classifies us as some rara avis. He overlooks the fact that the woman instinct in Germany, in America, in Mother Eve and in the latest born baby girl is the eternal woman instinct. We always have been, are and will be Woman. We love mate, children and home, and our life is an expression of this love. Conditions may vary its manifestation, but the prime motive will remain unchanged. Know the woman nearest to you and you know Woman. There is a "relativity" between us.

Young Women Rural Leaders

Maine is selecting each year a hundred young women rural school teachers and fitting them, by means of summer work, to become rural leaders in their communities. They study organizations for the improvement of country life, rural surveys, hygiene and sanitation, recreational education, dramatics and gymnastics and games. All this benefit they aim to pass to the home community when back in the schoolroom another year.

INJUNCTION GRANTED TO AUTO OWNER

Judge H. F. Weldon of the 30th district court Wednesday morning granted an injunction asked by R. H. Stevens in a suit filed late Tuesday against Charles Bebout, local representative of an anti-theft bureau. The order of the court returns the Ford automobile to Stevens from whom it was taken by Bebout on Tuesday.

According to the pratntiff's petition the defendant Bebout confiscated his automobile when he left it parked on the streets of this city. Bebout alleged that it was stolen. The plaintiff also asked for $3,000 damages.

SPANISH ENVOY DENIES REPORTS OF MOROCCANS

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The Spanish ambassador here, Alfonso Merry-Del Val, announced today that he was authorized to deny rumors describing the situation at Melilla as desperate. The ambassador stated a telegram from Madrid Tuesday night said reinforcements were continuing to arrive in Melilla from Spain, that the defenses of the city were being extended toward the interior and that preparations were being made for a Spanish advance.

Order continued to prevail in Spain, the message added, and the departure of additional troops for Morocco was occurring amid scenes of enthusiasm on the part of the public and the men themselves.

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

MURPHY DECLARES COUNTY AUDIT TO BE UNNECESSARY

Declaring that he could see no reason why the county should spend approximately $10,000 for an audit of county books at this time Pat Murphy, county auditor, said Wednesday that he nevertheless would not oppose the audit if the county can lawfully pay for it.

The statement follows the action of the county commissioners' court Monday in passing an order calling for the audit. No time was set for the audit to begin and no concern has as yet been employed to do the work.

Mr. Murphy's statement indicated that he did not believe that the audit was necessary, the books kept by his office and others in the courthouse being sufficiently detailed and comprehensive.

Beating Wife Was Customary

"Five of you policemen couldn't have done this if we had been across the Mexican border," an alleged Mexican wife beater is reported to have told Police Officers Jimmy Gonsales and John Thomas when he was taken into custody late Wednesday afternoon.

The arrest was made following investigation by officers of complaints made by neighbors that the Mexican was accustomed to whip his wife. The officers reported that the woman was found covered with bruises and that she declared that her husband whipped her with a heavy leather belt.

The Mexican, who is employed as a section hand on the Katy railroad was arrested Wednesday as he stepped from a hand car, after finishing his day's work. He offered no resistance, the officers said.

Plumber Complains Was Attacked With Iron Pipe Wrench

Alleging that he had been struck on the head with a two-foot pipe wrench and with blood streaming down his face, P. G. Williams, local plumber, apeared at the police station Wednesday morning and declared that he had been attacked by three men.

Bob Elliott, one of the proprietors of the Elliott Supply Company, sixteenth and Lamar streets, was taken into custody shortly after the affair by Officers Howell. According to Officer Howell, Mr. Elliott asserted that only one man was engaged in an affray with Mr. Williams.

The case is slated for trial in the city police court Thursday morning.

TRADE STICKY IN SHEEP AND PACKER LAMBS

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 10.—Everything except sheep and lambs had to sell lower on today's livestock market. The trade was sticky and the demand seemed to be more than amply supplied. Receipts amounted to 5000 head of cattle, 2000 hogs and 2500 sheep.

Steers dragged at a decline of 15 to 25 cents, cows, heifers and yearlings lost 25c, bulls declined 10 to 15c and the calf market was 50c down. Steers sold around $4.85 to $5.60. Cows went at $3 to $4, heifers brought $4 to $4.75, yearlings cleared around $3 to $4.50; bulls were slow at $2 to $3.65, and $5.00 was the early top on choice light calves.

Hogs were sold to weak demand at a decline of 25 to 35c, the top being $10.70 with bulk of sales at $10.25 to $10.60. Pigs remained steady at $8 to $8.50.

Sheep and lambs were bought early. Good lambs brought $7.75. Quotations:

Cattle: Beeves, $3.00@6.50; stockers, $2.50@4.50; cows, $3.00@4.25; canners, $1.00@2.00; heifers, $3.00@5.00; bulls, $2.00@3.75; calves, $1.00@5.00; yearlings, $3.00@4.75.

NEW YORK COFFEE

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The market for coffee futures showed the effects of a firmer technical position following yesterday's decline and reports of a steadier tone in Brazil. The opening was 4 to 16 points higher and active months sold 15 to 19 points above last night's closing figures with December contracts touching 6.90, compared with 6.73 at the low point of the previous day.

December closed at 6.88 bid, with the general market 13 to 19 points net higher. Sales, including switches, were eliminated at approximately 100,000 bags. Close: September 6.43, October 6.58, December 6.88, January 7.01, March 7.9, May 7.49, July 7.69. Spot coffee was reported in fair demand at 6 7-8 for Rio 7's and 8 3-4 to 10 1-2 for Santos 4's.

NEW YORK SUGAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—There were no changes in the local raw sugar market today with Cubas and other sugars offered at 3 1-4 cost and freight, equal to 4.86 for centrifugal. Trading was light. Raw sugar futures were a shade lower. Closing bids were 1 to 7 points lower. September 3.22, December 3.05, March 2.81, May 2.87. The refined market was unchanged at 6.00 to 6.15 for fine granulated.

FINES FRIENDS $5.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Aug. 10.—Punching each other in the face is claimed to be the customary friendly greeting of two Lawrence foundrmen, one of whom, Thomas Norton, appeared in court for such an assault on Thomas Dooley. In lieu of a handshake Norton struck Dooley playfully. The police did not approve of the idea and a court apearance for both men resulted. Dooley explained to Judge J. J. Mahoney, saying: "Captain, be easy with Norton. It is our usual way of greeting each other, only perhaps this time Norton was a bit rough." The court made the fine $5.

COTTON RISES TO NEW HIGH PRICE ON NEWS

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—An early advance on bullish crop and trade advices was checked by increased offerings as prices approached the 14.00 level for December contracts in the cotton market here today. Later deliveries sold into new high ground for the movement, but after touching 13.94 December broke at 13.67, closing at 13.71.

The market opened steady at an advance of 8 to 11 points on higher Liverpool cables, reports of increasing New England mill activities and continued complaints of droughty weather in the southwest. There was some Liverpool and southern selling, but it was readily absorbed and buying probably was promoted by rumors that preliminary returns to a southern authority pointing to a midmonth crop condition of only 59.4. There also was covering or fresh buying in anticipation of a bullish weekly report from the weather bureau and at one time during the morning prices were 17 to 20 points net higher with October selling at 13.48 and January 13.95.

Offerings showed a tendency to increase at these figures, however, and became still heavier during the early afternoon. The weekly weather report was bullish but no more so than anticipated, and its failure to create new buying was evidently a disappointment to holders of contracts around the ring. Liquidation also was prompted by Manchester cable advices complaining of goods trading depression owing to absence of export business and that there might be a renewed stoppage of machinery. The yow private condition figures mentioned early were questioned and some spot public selling was reported on the break which carried October off to 13.15 and Januarp to 13.64. Closing prices were a few points up fom the lowest on renewed covering, the detailed weather report showed continuation of high temperatures in the southwest, but the forecast was for cooler weather, and if anything the references of the weekly report to weevil damage in Texas was less bullish than expected. Exports today were 6,750 bales, making 97,532 this season against 66,172 last year. Port receipts 9,496. United States port stocks 1,321,367.

SPOOKS KNOCK ON PANELS AT NIGHT

MANCHESTER, Mass., Aug. 10.—When a spooky, angry, great white ghost stands across the street from you in the wee sma' hours and shakes his fist—why, naturally you're nervous.

And when a great, white, heartless spirit grins in your doorway and knocks down your nine best drinking goblets and starts playing tunes and records on your pet grafanola, and chases your cat, and breaks your clock and runs off with half the works and knocks between your partitions—why, you send for the police.

This is the way a ghost has been treating three lone, lorn women here in Machester. The women are Mrs. Mabel Morrill, Mrs. Abe Allen and Miss Frances Stewart. Now the ghost, as Miss Stewart more than a little surmises, is her dead grandfatrer, George F. Bosher, late wealthy real estate operator, of Manchester.

In the meantime nearly all Manchester, except the police, now believes in ghosts, and three terrified women get their sleep by day and wonder how long they're going to be haunted by night. Mr. Allen says she was disturbed twice and Miss Stewart fourteen times by count. Mr. Allen avows they are going to vacate the house.

ASK RUSSIANS FOR CAST OFF CLOTHES

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—The socialist national executive committee through Chairman Otto Branstetter today issued an appeal to socialists to send clothing and food for the relief of Russian famine sufferers. The statement pointed out that "capitalist governments, including our own" had started relief work, but asked the socialists to send their donations independently, through the party.

HEAVY PROFIT TAKING SENDS WHEAT DOWN

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Heavy profit taking sales more than wiped out in the wheat market today advances due to the government crop report. Prices closed weak 1 1-2 to 2 1-4 net lower, with September 1.21 3-4 to 1.22 and December 1.24 3-4 to 1.25. Corn lost 1 3-8 to 2, oats, 5-8@3-4 to 7-8@1c, and provisions 5 to 80.

The volumes of offerings caused values to move down grade during almost the whole session despite export purchasing here of about 500,000 bushels and not withstanding that 20,000 barrels of flour had been taken at the seaboard, partly for Russian relief. Some interest was shown in a British estimate putting the world's probable import needs at 632,000,000 bushels as against an estimated exportable surplus of 664,000,000 bushels.

Enlarged country offerings weakened corn. Oats fell in sympathy. Sharp breaks in the price of hogs pulled down provisions.

USE OF PAREGORIC BY MOTHERS GIVES SEED TO DRUG ADDICTION

BOSTON, Aug. 9.—Widespread traffic in drugs between New York and Boston is charged by State Director of Registration William S. Briry. Children become introduced to drugs through the administration of paregoric by their mothers, according to Briry.

"It is an attracive 'ge rich quick' scheme,' he said, referring to the illicit traffic. "An investment of $10 buys one ounce of morphine and if sold hypodermically on the streets of Boston nets $1,748. Is it any wonder that men and women prey upon the young people when so great a revenue is easily made?

"In one square mile in Boston, it is estimated by officers, that from thirty-five to forty men and girls peddle dope, and we find it concealed in all manner of ways, such as baby carriages and crucifixes. Estimates by detectives and officers are that from 250 to 300 men and women are engaged in the illegal sale of opium, morphine, heroin and cocaine on the streets of Boston.'

He declared an auto express line is in operation between New York and this city.

"Chliroform addicts are also found in Boston,' he declared. "The habit commences in babyhood. It is a dangerous habit to give children paregoric and good meaning parents little realize that it is an opium preparation."

TRADING IN STOCKS UNDER SOME PRESSURE

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Trading in stocks was broader and more active today with steady pressure on the list. At the close substantial losses were recorded. Various issues reached new low points for the year, including American sugar, which sold off 3 points to 62 1-4; Western Union, which broke 6 3-8 to 76, and General Electric, the recession in which amounted to 2 3-8 forcing it down to 114 5-8.

The government crop report prompted selling of the grain carriers, although the representative rails fared well by comparison with the industrials. Passing of the American sugar dividend was folowed by a slump in the stock which showed that the directors' action had not been entirely discounted. A further cut in motor car prices unsettled the motor and tire group.

Oil shares were affected adversely by announcement of additional price reductions. Independent steels were heavy but there was little change in the price of United States steel.

Foreign exchange again showed a reactionary tendency with sterling losing about a cent.

In the bond market declining prices were the rule. The was increased selling of foreign government issues, particularly United Kingdom's of 1937. Liberty bonds were mixed.

INVENTOR LIVED DUAL LIFE, WILL CONTEST SHOWS

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 10.—Eli Hilles Larkin, inventor and late millionaire vice president of the national Amonia Company, for 44 years lived as a bachelor in one home and as H. B. Thompson, maintained another home as the reputed husband of Harriet Belle Thompson, unknown except to a small circle of friends, it was asserted in a deposition filed in a legal contest of Larkin's will.

Mr. Larkin, 81 years old when he died in April of 1920, was the inventor of the anhydrous amonia shipping cylinder, which, it is said, made possible the operation of isolated amonia type ice making and refrigeration plants throughout the world.

SHERIFF'S SALE.
THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF WICHITA.
By virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the Honorable Thirtieth District Court of Wichita County, Texas, on the 14th day of July, A. D., 1921, by A. F. Kerr, District Clerk of Wichita County, Texas, against D. L. Baggett and Ruth Baggett and R. P. Birrell as principals, and M. A. Noble and L. E. Nash as sureties, for the sum of five thousand, three hundred, thirteen and no-100 ($5,313.00) dollars in favor of the Wright City Bank of Wright City, Missouri; against R. P. Birrell, D. L. Baggett and Ruth Baggett, as principals and L. E. Nash as surety for the sum of one thousand, sixty-two and 16-100 (1,062.16) dollars in favor of M. A. Noble; against D. L. Baggett and Ruth Baggett as principals and R. P. Birrell as surety for the sum of five hundred, eighty-six and 66-100 ($586.66) dollars in favor of the State National Bank of Albuquerque, New Mexico; and against D. L. Baggett and Ruth Baggett for the sum of two hundred, thirty-four and 66-100 ($234.66) dollars in favor of Mrs. J. C. Glass, together with all costs of suit in cause No. 10529-A in said court, styled the State National Bank of Albuquerque, New Mexico vs. R. P. Birrell, D. L. Baggett and Ruth Baggett. Wright City Bank intervence, and placed in my hands for service, I, Fred Smith, as sheriff of Wichita County, Texas, did on the 14th day of July, 1921, levy on certain real property situated in Wichita County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

Lot No. 14 in Block No. 64 of the Floral Heights addition to the city of Wichita Falls, Wichita County, Texas, as shown by the map or plat of said addition of record in the map or plat records of Wichita County, Texas, with the improvements thereon located; and levied upon as the property of said D. L. Baggett and Ruth Baggett. And on Tuesday, the 4th day of September, A. D., 1921, at the court house door of Wichita County, Texas, in the city of Wichita Falls, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. I will sell said real estate and property at public vendue for cash to the highest bidder as the property of said D. L. Baggett and Ruth Baggett by virtue of said levy and said order of sale.

And in compliance with law I give this notice by publication in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale in the Wichita Falls Record News, a newspaper published in Wichita County.

Witness my hand this the 10th day of August, A. D., 1921.

FRED K. SMITH,
Sheriff Wichita County, Texas.
H. C. DAKAN, Deputy.

SHERIFF'S SALE.
THE STATE OF TEXAS
COUNTY OF WICHITA

By virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Wichita County, on the 8th day of August, 1921, by A. F. Kerr, District Clerk, against Harry Walker et al for the sum of $3734.30 and costs of suit in cause No. 9175-A in said court, styled George C. Hall vs. Harry Walker, George V. Nesbitt, H. L. Thompson, Ranger Refining Co., E. F. Mulligan and Mulligan & Hays, a co-partnership, and placed in my hands for service, I, Fred K. Smith, as sheriff of Wichita County, Texas, did on the 8th day of August, 1921, levy on certain real and personal property situated in Wichita County, described as follows, to-wit:

One Johnson rotary rig; one Mogul boiler; one Struthers engine and one National pump; one National crown block and other equipment of the Johnson rotary rig; also one oil and gas mineral lease, the same being located in the northeast corner of Block 69 of the Red River Valley lands, Wichita County, Texas, and levied upon as the property of said Harry Walker et al and on Tuesday, the 6th day of September, 1921, at the court house door of Wichita County, in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. I will sell said real and perconl at public vendue for cash to the highest bidder as the property of said Harry Walker et al by virtue of said levy and said order of sale.

And in compliance with law I give this notice by publication in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale in The Record News, a newspaper published in Wichita County.

Witness my hand this the 9th day of August, 1921.

FRED K. SMITH,
Sheriff Wichita County, Texas.
H. C. DAKAN, Deputy.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF WICHITA COUNTY, GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Wichita county, a copy of the following notice:

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To All Persons Interested in the Welfare of the Estate of John B. Bilyeu, deceased.

Know ye that Jessie Bilyeu was by the County Court of Wichita County, Texas, on the 2nd day of August, A. D., 1921, duly appointed Temporary Administrator of the said estate of said deceased, which appointment shall become permanent unless the same shall be successfully contested at the next term of said court, commencing on the first Monday in October, A. D., 1921, the same being the 3rd day of October, A. D., 1921, at the court house thereof, in Wichita Falls, at which time all persons interested in the welfare of said estate may appear and contest such appointment if they so desire.

Herein fail not, but have you before said court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 2nd day of August, A. D., 1921.

W. T. HARRIS, Clerk
County Court Wichita County, Texas.
By M. F. YEAGER, Deputy.

TOM MIX SAYS OF NEW YORK

"My tongue is all sunburned from gaping up at the tall buildings. Then I went up in the Woolworth tower and singed my neck looking down at 'em.

"I don't belong in New York. It is too big. Seems to me the trails are just as high as they are long. The only way to see the town right is to lay on your back and look up.

"So this is the Woolworth tower! What I'd like to know is where they got a rope long enough to yank up these elevators.

"Say, it is a wonder to me some of these girls I see dressed for the doings at the big hotels don't get confused and go to bed by mistake.

"I was down to the stock exchange. All I see is a lot of guys with books in their hands makin' passes at one another and callin' each other names. Any minute I expected to see a scrap come off; but I guess the referee sittin' in the big chair had 'em all buffaloed.

FILE CHARGES AGAINST MEN PILOTING BOAT

By Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—Charges of negligence contributory to the wreck of the steamer Alaska, with heavy loss of life, last Saturday night, will be preferred by government officials following an official inquiry today.

Thirty-eight persons, at least, lost their lives in the sinking of the Alaska, it appeared certain today after the lists of missing and known dead had been carefully checked and corrected.

The list of dead total twenty, eighteen of whom have been identified. The list of missing contains the names of eighteen persons, all of whom are presumed to have been drowned.

Evidence that the alleged inexperience of the crew militated against effective rescue work was given by passengers to the official government inquiry while ship officers testified that the crew was efficient and handled the emergency well.

The inquiry was secret.

C. E. Villim, Chicago, a passenger, praised Captain Hobey for his coolness and his apparent disregard of danger while trying to assist the passengers.

Second Officer E. Dupree testified that the crew members were at their posts and acted as cooly as could be expected in the emergency.

Fred Helmer, boatswain, testified that he was forced to dismiss nine of the fourteen men under his charge to other duties when they showed inability to launch the life boats.

DETECTIVE LEARNS LIFE NOT LOVELY

City detective John Boone was fully convinced Wednesday that the life of an animal trainer is filled with woe, sorrow, grief and bitter disappointment.

The conviction was brought upon Detective Boone through his efforts to familiarize relatives at Houston with animals of the western country. A few days ago hepurchased a badger from a friend near Wichita Falls, placed it in a well built cage and forwarded it to Houston.

Wednesday he received a telegram from Temple, saying that a wild animal he was shipping to Houston had broken its cage and asking for $4 to provide a new crate.

Detective Boone gave the money to his brother asking him to forward it to Temple, saying: "Well, I did intend to send 'em a couple o' prairie dogs ,but if it takes all this trouble to get one badger there they can just come out here and see the prairie dogs in the wild."

Hints that possibly the badger is making the trip safely and that Detective Boone is the victim of a well-planned hoax were heard about the police station late Wednesday afternoon.

OCEAN CURRENT IS BAFFLING TO PACIFIC SEAMEN

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—A baffling phenomenon of ocean current tendencies, just discovered, probably accounts for the loss Saturday of the steamer Alaska and 47 lives on the California coast, it was announced here today by Colonel E. Lester Jones, director of the coast and geodetic survey. Winds driving parallel to the Pacific coast, he said, set up new currents which, unsuspected by navigators, drift inland, instead of exactly in wind direction.

The tendency and some of the principles governing it have been developed by observations from lightships along the Pacific coast, Colonel Jones said, and probably can be worked out further by research for the protection of navigation. The influence has probably been a factor, he declared, in the loss of a hundred ships along the Pacific margin in the last twent yyears.

These waters drift toward the mainland, Colonel Jones pointed out, affect a vessel navigating north or south along the coast, move it gradually nearer and nearer land, when its officers have charted their course out into safe deep waters. If fogs or bad weather intervene to hinder their usual observations the vessel may be piled upon a reef and even her wireless calls for help would be confusing, because the location her captain gives will be miles away from the actual location.

If the observation studies of the current can be continued, Colonel Jones said, current tables serving to protect the navigators may be built up.

COUNTY ATTORNEY GOES TO AUSTIN WITH TRANSCRIPT

E. L. Fulton, county attorney, left Wednesday for Austin where he will present the transcript of the $75,000 bond issue voted in June for the construction of an extension to the General hospital here. The transcript was completed by W. T. Harris, county clerk, on Tuesday.

The work on the construction of the addition to the hospital which is being done jointly with the city has been delayed pending the approval of the bonds by the attorney general's department. Money will be available from the bonds as soon as they are approved, due to the fact that the county will purchase them.

The $100,000 bond issue voted at the same time for the construction of branch hospitals at Burkburnett, Electra and Iowa Park has not been submitted to the attorney general's department for approval as yet.

LOCAL DETECTIVES GIVEN HIGH PRAISE

Wichita Falls can lay claim to as fast a set of detectives as any city in the country, in the opinion of G. C. Harkins, conductor on the Wichita Valley Railroad, who ten minutes before time for his train to leave Wednesday morning found his leather hand bag and clothing missing.

The disappearance of the property was telephoned to the police station. Detectives Humphries and Hembree answered the call and the train delayed for two minutes while the detectives recovered the hand bag and clothing. They took Morgan True, teamster, into custody.

POSTHUMOUS CHILD OF LATE KING TO GET TITLE FROM GRANDFATHER

Queen Sophia of Greece and the child, her granddaughter.

It is reported that King Constantine of Greece plans to confer a title upon the infant posthumous son of the late King Alexander of that country, who was Constantine's son. The child's mother is Madame Manos. The baby was born seven months after Alexander's death. The royal family for a time looked with disapproval on Madame Manos, who is neither titled nor wealthy, but apparently this attitude has changed.

TO BREAK UP PRACTICE OF HALTING CARS

Declaring the practice dangerous to life and limb and a constant source of annoyance to automobile drivers, Police Chief Morgan issued orders Wednesday to motorcycle oficers to arrest all boys caught attempting to halt autoists.

The practice, Chief Morgan asserted, is especially dangerous and annoying on the principle streets, where the boys are reported to some time be so thick that automobile drivers can scarcely pick their way through them. They dart in and out between cars, and keep motorists in a constant tremble for fear of striking one, or swerving into another car.

The police department intends to take decided steps until the practice is stopped, according to the announcement.

PUT THIS IN YOUR "ALIBI" BOX

KANSAC CITY, Mo., Aug. 10.—An extracted tooth, produced as an "alibi,' won the sympathy of the court and caused Judge Kennedy to be lenient toward T. A. Nicholson.

Nicholson was haled before the court charged with violation of the parking ordinance.

"I parked too long, it is true," he said, "I went to a dentist's office because my tooth hurt. It took him longer to pull it than I thought."

Nicholson laid the 'evidence" on the judge's bench.

"Discharged,' said Judge Kennedy.

FINED FOR MAKING BOYS DRINK "CORN"

Found guilty of carrying a pistol F. G. Dow, arrested Tuesday night by city and county officers, was fined $150 by Special Judge W. L. Bibb Wednesday in the county court at law. Dow, according to testimony introduced at the trial, Tuesday night forced two boys at the point of a pistol to drink sufficient corn whiskey to cause them to become intoxicated. He is also alleged to have compelled two other boys to chase jack rabbits near Lake Wichita.

E. L. Fulton, county attorney, who presented the case before the county court at law, asked that the accused by given a $500 fine and 30 days in jail. In connection with his arrest Tuesday night Dow also pleaded guilty to drunkenness in justice of the peace court.

A Bath (Me.) hackman, standing by his weary steed in front of the postoffice, was seen to take a can of violet toilet powder from his pocket, lift the collar from the horse and liberally sprinkle the animal's neck with the cosmetic. "Horses like powder just as wel as the women," he said with a smile.

Charles Snow, a diver, went down on Marblehead's harbor bottom to examine some underwater moorings. When he came up he had a bottle of Martini cocktails under his arm.
