Spy Charge Is Denounced

Diplomats Of U. S. To Leave Czech Capital

Acheson Preparing Strong Protest For "Trumped Up" Move

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—Secretary of State Acheson said today spy charges brought by Czechoslovakia's Communist government against U. S. embassy employes in Prague are "obviously trumped up."

He announced, however, that the United States had "acceded to the request" to withdraw two accused American diplomats and their assignments in Prague. He said that the embassy is attempting to see a third American representative, who lacked diplomatic status and who was imprisoned Friday by the Czech government on spy charges.

Protest Prepared

The two regular diplomats whose recall the Czechs demanded on 24 hour notice are John G. Heyn, assistant attache in the political department, and Isaac Patch, the political attache. The man thrown into prison is Samuel Meryn, embassy clerk, who has been held incommunicado since Friday.

Acheson disclosed that the State department is preparing what he called a communication—evidently a strong note of protest—to be delivered to the Czech government but he said that no protest had been made yet.

The government's efforts, he said, have been directed toward getting an embassy representative into prison to see Meryn.

Acheson opened his news conference by reading this statement:

"The recent charges of the

More Tax On REAs Opposed

EL PASO, Oct. 26 (AP) — Gov. Allan Shivers said today he opposes new or increased taxes for rural electrification co-ops.

The governor also said he could not foresee any necessity of state regulation of power rates paid by farmers and ranchers who have banded together in an electric co-op.

"I see no reason to fear that the members of REA co-ops will try to overcharge themselves," Shivers said in a speech prepared for delivery at a meeting of REA's from Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

Shivers said the argument had been advanced that because the REA is big business in Texas and getting bigger, it should have to pay more taxes.

Tax Basis Different

"Insofar as the state of Texas is concerned, I know of no advantage that is now being enjoyed by the REAs. Each REA pays a franchise tax of $10; other private corporations pay according to the amount of capital invested in the business," Shivers said.

"But these other corporations are organized to make a profit so they can pay dividends to their stockholders. By requirement of the constitution, the Rural Electric cooperatives pa yad valorem taxes just as do other private corporations. I am opposed to raising REA taxes, or to the levy of a gross receipts tax on the revenues

"Bad Girl" Is Disowned By Her Parents

17-Year-Old Accused Slayer Will Face Trial For Assault

(By The United Press)

SAN SABA, Oct. 26. — A 17-year-old Massachusetts girl disowned by her parents as a "bad girl" goes on trial today as a juvenile on charges of aggravated assault.

For comely Sandra Peterson today's courtroom activity may be only a prelude to more serious legal action growing out of the roadside slaying of motorist Lewis Patterson of Brady last August 25.

Claims She Is 17

The tough-talking Massachusetts girl claims she is only 17 and therefore cannot be tried on anything but juvehile delinquency charges until she reaches her majority in December.

Specifically, the state in today's action alleges that Sandra and a pretty 15-year-old hitchhiking companion, Loretta Fae Mozingo, forced Miniford McCoy of Merkel at pistol point to drive them to San Saba after hitching a ride with him at Lampasas.

Today's action before San Saba County Judge Jack Miller is connected only indirectly with the state's charges that Sandra killed Patterson and left him to die in a clump of weeds outside Brady, McCulloch county.

The ride with McCoy preceded the one the state alleges the two girls took with Patterson.

NEW "FLOOR" SET AT 75 CENTS

Minimum Pay Hike Signed By Truman

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—President Truman today signed legislation boosting the minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75 cents.

The new pay "floor" for workers in interstate commerce becomes effective in 90 days. Congress members have estimated the 35-cent-an-hour increase in the minimum rate will hike the pay of up to 1,500,000 workers now getting less than 75 cents an hour.

They figure the increase will raise the wage bill of employers around $300,000,000 a year.

Wage Hikes Seen

William R. McComb, wage-hour administrator, estimates that direct wage increases caused by the law for workers now getting less than 75 cents will average between five and fifteen cents an hour. His office expects the larger increases to go to southern workers, so that half the $300,000,000 total increase will be in the south and southwest.

Mr. Truman had asked Congress not only to raise minimum pay to 75 cents an hour, but to broaden coverage of the present law.

Congress met the President's request for a 75-cent minimum, but it narrowed the law's coverage instead of broadening it.

At present about 22,600,000 workers are protected by the statute. The House voted to exclude about 1,005,000 of those, and the Senate only about 200,000.

Workers Are Excluded

The compromise worked out puts the total number excluded somewhere between the House and Senate figures. Sponsors of the bill have said it probably will take years, including court actions, to find just how many workers have been removed from protection.

The narrowing of coverage results mainly from a new definition of the word "produce" in the law. At present the act applies to workers, among others, who are "necessary to" the production of goods moving in interstate commerce.

The House changed that phrase to "indispensable to," and it fig-

Trinity River Rising Slowly

(By The Associated Press)

Temperatures were rising and sunshine covered most of Texas today.

Except for the Trinity river at Dallas, flooded streams were receding.

Low temperatures this morning ranged from 30 at Dalhart—the only below-freezing mark in the state—to a mild 62 at Brownsville.

Other minimums were 38 at Amarillo, and in Southwest Texas —38 at Junction, 39 at Marfa and 37 at Ozona.

Rainfall Is Light

Rainfall for the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a. m. today was .55 an inch at Victoria and .11 at Texarkana.

At Dallas the Trinity had reached 34.3 feet this morning and continued to rise slowly. It was expected to crest around 35 feet sometime today. Flood stage at Dallas is 28 feet, but high levees prevented any flooding.

Sunny skies and quickly drying fields allowed the mammoth South Plains cotton harvest to resume slowly again this morning.

Temperatures To Rise

The Weather bureau in Dallas said there shouldn't be any rain anywhere in the state today. In Lubbock, the Weather bureau expected a maximum temperature in the low 70's this afternoon, following a minimum of 41 degrees this morning.

This morning's minimum, while

Slayer Doesn't Want Death Commuted To Life Sentence

(By The Associated Press)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 26. — "People just naturally take a hate toward me."

A 20-year-old convicted murderer says that's why he doesn't want his death sentence eommuted to life imprisonment.

Reed Leroy Hatton, who is in the Florida state prison, wrote to Gov. Fuller Warren to explain why he wants to die in spite of his family's efforts to get him a commutation.

"All my life I've been fouled around," he said. "People just naturally take a hate toward me. The only thing what makes me feet bad is all my mother is trying to do.

"I do appreciate it but in time my mother will see its is for the best. I am not sad at all because all my life has been unrest, now it will be rest."

Marshall Plan Countries Will Get Ultimatum

More Self-Help Is Uncle Sam's Goal In European Aid

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—Paul G. Hoffman heads for Europe today reportedly armed with an ultimatum to Marshall plan countries that they speed up their recovery progress—or else.

Persons who should know said Hoffman has ready some "get tough" proposals which would tell western Europe, in effect:

Must Help Themselves

"Show more self-help among yourselves and more determination to achieve recovery—or else risk loss or sharp cutbacks of multi-billion dollar aid now flowing to Europe under the Marshall plan."

Secretary of State Acheson and Hoffman held a closed-door conference late yesterday.

Officials said they huddled for half an hour on recommendations Hoffman will carry to Paris to lay before the 19 Marshall plan countries when they meet next week.

The economic cooperation administrator is scheduled to address the Canadian Chamber of Commerce tomorrow in Montreal after which he will fly to Europe by way of New York.

Officials Are Silent

Hoffman's office and State department authorities were tight-lipped about the approach the ECA administrator will take when he sits down with Europe's Marshall planners during a three-day session of the OEEC—ECA's overseas counterpart in administering the aid program.

It was reported reliably elsewhere, however, that Hoffman plans to place before the Europeans an ultimatum keyed to the necessity of immediate hard-hitting action on the part of the beneficiary countries themselves.

It is understood that the recovery director's program will embody at least three main proposals:

Remove or relax trade barriers between western European countries to permit a free flow of com-

Thousands Of Employes Are Losing Wages

New Violence Is Reported; Labor Picture Is Dark

(By The United Press)

More than 60,000 railroad workers were idle because of the coal strike today, while thousands more were forced into unemployment by the steel walkout.

Meanwhile, two small steel companies in the Pittsburgh area asked that President Truman's fact-finding board be recalled to "clarify" its stand on the pension issue which precipitated the steel strike.

Joined By Others

The two firms, Crucible Steel Co., and Allegheny Ludlum Steel Co., later were joined by others.

In the coal walkout the Western Kentucky Coal Producers association sent letters to 5,000 striking miners in the area inviting them to return to work voluntarily. There was no immediate response from the striking United Mine Workers.

A spot check of unemployment across the nation showed that railroads, forced to cancel about 600 trains because of dwindling coal supplies, were hardest hit. The Pennsylvania and New York Central each had laid off 15,000 workers, the Baltimore & Ohio had furloughed 13,000 and the Louisville & Nashville 5,500.

Pittsburgh Hard Hit

Of the major industrial cities, Pittsburgh appeared most adversly affected. In addition to striking steelworkers themselves, an estimated 24,000 workers were idled indirectly, with railroad and truck line employes forming the biggest bloc.

Gross sales in Pittsburgh department stores for the week ending Oct. 22 were more than 30 per cent below those of the comparable week last year.

New violence was reported in the week-old strike of 380,000 soft coal miners. A dynamite blast destroyed a $10,000 steam shovel at a non-union strip mine near Coupon, Pa. No one was injured.

Final Effort Made

Federal Mediator Cyrus Ching resumed meetings with U. S. Steel Corp., officials in New York in a last-ditch effort to settle the 26-day old steel strike without intervention by President Truman. Ching said he was "not optimistic" and observers believed the President would be forced eventually to act.

Negotiators for John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers began their sixth month of negotiations with coal operators at Bluefield, W. Va. The mine owners said they were no closer "than when we started" toward replacing the old contract that expired last Many.

One bright spot in the labor picture was the settlement of a

Four Killed As Plane Crashes

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., Oct. 26. (AP)—A private plane plummeted out of an overcast sky and crashed into the side of a hill last night, killing four persons, including H. L. Straus, a wealthy horseman.

The plane was owned by the American Totalizator company, of which Straus was president.

Others Identified

Others aboard were identified by state police as A. J. Johnson of Baltimore, general manager of the company; Wally Mayer of Palm Beach, Fla., the pilot, and Delton R. Osborne of Palm Beach, co-pilot.

The twin-engined plane left La Guardia field, New York City, about 5 p. m.

A watch found in the plane wreckage had stopped at 6:17 p. m., indicating the time of the crash.

Bits of twisted wreckage were strewn over the hill and an adjoining field. Parts of the plane were left dangling in trees on the hill.

Straus was president of Tropical Park race track in Florida. He also developed the American totalizator, used at tracks throughout the country in computing track odds and prices.

Returning To Home

He owned a large string of racing horses and maintained a breeding farm in Worthington valley, north of Baltimore. He was returning to his showplace home

Fourteen Persons Injured In Dallas Apartment House Blast

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 26.—Fourteen persons were injured, three seriously, when an explosion late last night ripped apart a four-apartment building in a housing project.

The blast and what residents of the stucco structure called a flash of flame left it a mass of debris—caved-in walls, smashed furniture and crazily crumbled roof.

Buildings Are Racked

Buildings in the five-block area were rocked by the explosion about 10:45 p. m. It threw some persons in nearby units in the Cedar Springs housing project in North Dallas out of bed. Everyone in the building was hurt.

Battalion Fire Chief J. W. Owens said he had no idea what caused the explosion.

Leroy Shannon, 28, said the blast occurred in his apartment. He said he had smelled gas for several days and had reported it to the maintenance man.

Shannon said "workmen repaired the stove in Mrs. Ballard's apartment today."

Had Smelled Gas

Mrs. Herbert Staton, another of the less seriously injured, said she had been smelling gas for several days in the housing unit.

Mrs. Ruth T. Morrel, manager of the project for the Dallas housing authority, said that she knew of no complaints about leaking gas in the apartment building.

Shannon, 28, said the explosion "knocked us down and covered us up with wreckage. It blew my boy up in the air."

The blast lifted the roof off the building and dropped it back, completely wrecking all four apartments.

Shannon, his wife and child were in the apartment. They were not seriously injured.

Lubbock Impresses "Future Sandies"

Add Amarillo - Lubbock stories, which we think is the best one yet to come out of last week's 47-7 thumping administered the now-lowly Sandies by the Lubbock Westerners.

From Putt Powell's column, "Putting Around" in the Amarillo Daily News, we quote:

"A SANDIE FAN" writes:

"I have a 12-year-old son who plays on a Kids, Inc., football team. Friday night we saw Lubbock slaughter the Sandies.

Now, my boy, and most of the other athletically-inclined lads with whom he runs around, has always dreamed of the day he'll be a Sandie. He's wanted to be a Sandie ever since I can remember.

"Sunday, his Kids, Inc., team had a game. His team was ahead, 21-0, at the half. When they trotted off to the sidelines, what do you think my boy and several of his teammates who have always wanted to be Sandies were doing?

"They were strutting off the field with their chests out yelling 'We're Lubbock, we're Lubbock' We're really mowing 'em down!"

DISCHARGES WILL BE OFFERED

Senator Declares Draft Act Wasted

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) said today that plans of the army to release its draftees shows the 1948 peace-time draft act never was needed in the first place.

He referred to the disclosure by Secretary of the Army Gray that beginning Dec. 1, the army will offer discharges to 24,000 draftees and 6,000 21-month enlistees as soon as they have finished 12 months of service.

"That certainly is positive proof that the present draft law never should have been enacted," Johnson told a reporter. "It never was necessary and I was quite convinced of it at the time but could not prove it."

Extension Opposed

What's more, the blunt spoken westerner suggested that top military and civilian leaders abandon all plans for extending the peacetime selective service act when it expires next June 24.

"I have been and still am opposed to a peacetime draft," Johnson said. "There is no forseeable need for it in the future."

Secretary Gray, in announcing the discharge plan, said it was proof that the army would not abuse the possesson of a peacetime draft law on the books. He urged that the law be continued, for use if needed.

However, Johnson predicted that the next session of Congress would turn down any extension of the law. Another congressional veteran, Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah), said he will support an extension if the administration asks for it.

Matter Of Choice

"I think Congress prefers selective service to proposals for universal military training," Thomas said in a separate inter-

Lubbock's Naval Reserve Training center, representing an investment of $150,000 in the building and an estimated $750,000 in radar, radio and other specialized equipment, was formally acuivated in commissioning ceremonies at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The center, on Texas Technological college campus at Eighth street and College Avenue, was completed last year. Installation of electronic equipment was completed recently.

Officers Are Here

Lubbock civic leaders, club presidents and Lubbock Air Force Base officers were guests of honor at the ceremony, conducted along the same lines as the Navy's commissioning for ships.

Capt. L. E. Coley, USN, director of the Naval Reserve in the Eighth Naval district, represented the commandant, Rear Admiral L. F. Reifsneider, at the program. Other officers from New Orleans, La., included Comdr. F. J. Sabathier, assistant director of the Naval Reserve for Texas; Comdr. R. D. Hutchins, district commander of the Naval Air Reserve; and Comdr. A. H. Ashton of the commandant's staff.

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of Texas Technological college, and Mayor W. H. Rodgers spoke briefly. G. C. (Mule) Dowell, a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, was master of ceremonies.

Four High School Girls Held After Kidnaping, Auto Theft

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—Four knife-wielding high school girls tried their hands at kidnaping and car theft yesterday but ended up in the juvenile home.

They told Capt. Walter Healy that they were playing hookey from school and wanted an automobile ride because "it was such a nice day."

Mrs. Dorothy Hurley, 41, wife of a packing company executive, told Healey the girls forced their way into her car in front of her southside home. She said one of the girls pressed "something sharp" against her side and instructed her to drive west.

About five miles away, she said, the girls showed her a knife with a three-inch blade and ordered her out of the car. Mrs. Hurley snatched the keys from the car and ran, screaming for help.

The girls also ran into an alley but were seized by police.

Police withheld names of the girls because of their ages, but they said one is 16 years old, the others 15.

Gov. Allan Shivers Favoring Omnibus Tax Bill For State

(By The United Press)

EL PASO, Oct. 26.—Gov. Allan Shivers said today in an interview he favored an omnibus tax bill and that he would call a special session of the Texas legislature in January to provide funds for eleemosynary institutions.

The governor, here to address the regional convention of the National Rural Electric Cooperative association, repeated an announcement he made in Mexico City last summer that he would run for governor in 1950.

Shivers recalled that Gov. Beauford Jester vetoed bills appropriating $18,000,000 for state institutions, and said a start must be made on construction of new buildings needed by the instiutions.

"We need more money," Shivers said. "A detailed study is being made. We want to do it in a business-like way."

He said he favors raising extra money by means of an omnibus tax bill to spread any increase in taxes "over a wide basis."

POLITICAL DISPUTE STALLS GROUP

Plan Pushed To End UN Fight Over Prisoners In Greek War

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 26 (AP)—American diplomats took the lead today in backstage negotiations aimed at disposing of two of the toughest political problems before the United Nations.

The U. S. was reported sponsoring talks on ending the three year Greek-Balkan conflicts. The U. S., Argentina, France and Ethiopia met in secret, informal negotiations in what was called a final effort at the current U. N. assembly to find a workable solution for the future of Italy's prewar African colonies.

The political committee has been stalled over the dispute between Greece and her Balkan neighbors by the acid east-west fight over death sentences for political prisoners in Greece's civil war.

Colombia tried to resolve the dispute yesterday by proposing that the U. N. ask all nations to suspend death sentences indefinitely in political cases such as those reported almost daily from eastern European countries.

The Colombian plan came up today but concrete action on it was doubtful. An informed western source expressed the opinion the proposal was too broad to be of much use.

The American-sponsored talks were said to be based on a tentative draft resolution which would continue the U. N. special commission on the Balkans (UNSCOB), blame Albania for the recent failure of a special U. N. conciliation committee to end the conflict, and recommend that the conciliation group be prepared to resume its work if the situation looks promising for peace in the Balkans.

Colonial Question Up

The United States also was reported considering a fourth point to cover the question of amnesty for political prisoners of the Greek war. No decision has been reached yet but the final draft probably was expected to take note of an indicated willingness of the Athens government to be lenient with its war prisoners.

A western informant said it was felt the U. N. might not be the proper place to ask the Greeks to make concessions on this point and it might be taken up through direct diplomatic channels.

Meetings with representatives of other delegations continue today and tomorrow in hopes of adding to the list of sponsors for the resolution.

The secret meetings on Italy's colonies were proposed yesterday by China in the 21-nation subcommittee dealing with that problem.

The move came after the group found itself deadlocked over the future of Eritrea. The subcommittee had set today as the deadline to complete it srecommendations for disposal of Eritrea, Libia and Italian Somaliland.

The deadlock is over whether Eritrea should attain independence in some form or be united with neighboring Ethiopia.

A representative of Italy—not a U. N. member—was invited to take part in the talks, since there are 21,000 Italians in Eritrea.

Another "Lost Generation" In Styles?

Female Fashions May Go Back To '20s, But Men Hold Joker

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Lady, say it isn't so. Please say it isn't so, lady.

Say it isn't true—this report that female fashions are going back to the 1920's for inspiration.

No, no, No! Not that! What have we done to deserve such eyeball punishment?

Result Surprising

Don't trade the "new look" for the "gunnysack look." I'll admit there was a lot of foolish male yammering abainst the "new look" a couple of seasons back just because it was novel. Every man was surprised to see it turn out better than he had feared.

They call the 1920's period "the lost generation" and blame it on the disillusionment of the first world war. But it wasn't the men who were lost; it was the women. It was the time when girls would be boys. No wonder the the boys refused to grow up and act like men.

Remember now? Remember how the girls drove men out of their last refuge—the barbershop —to get those close-cropped boyish bobs. Remember the short, shapeless dresses, the hats that fitted like a shield?

It was the fond ambition of every fashionable lass then to look like a soda straw, but natural feminine architecture too often decreed that the result should resemble a gunnysack full of sugar on stilts—or piano legs.

And if women do, men will have to dress like the 1920's, too. Recall a thing called "the cake-eater?"

The "cake-eater" wore a jaunty hat, dangling sideburns, a waist-tight coat jacket and floppy, bell bottom trousers that were the closest the American male ever came to skirts. Over it all he wrapped a raccoon coat, presumably a manly gesture because it was hairy. The result: a vertical caterpillar.

Would you like to have to go out on dates again escorted by something like that, lady? No? Well, save us from your 1920's look—and we'll keep the cake-eater under glass. It's a fair bargain.

Idaho Places Ban On Shipping Pheasants

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 26 (U.P.)—The Idaho fish and game commission has put a damper on certain epicurean tastes.

It has decreed that effective Oct. 25, there can be no commercial shipments of upland game birds—especially pheasants — for out-state consumption.

The reason is that the pheasant crop in Idaho is considerably reduced from last year. And a lot more bird-hunters are expected in the field this season.

Texas Oil Business Produces $3 Billion In Annual Revenues

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—One-fifth of all the energy utilized in the United States originates in the vast oil fields of Texas.

Constant demand for petroleum for powering vehicles, heating homes and feuling generating plants has given the nation's largest state a fabulous market for its "showcases" of oil and natural gas.

The Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association reported that petroleum production and refining yields more than $3,000,000,000 a year for the state's economy.

In 1948, the annual flow was 903,000,000 barrels. During the year, 99 Texas refineries processed 599,496,000 barrels of crude oil, bringing $185,000,000 in wages and salaries to 45,000 oil workers.

Landowners Profit

The booming oil and gas industry continues to bring wealth to landowners.

Texas royalty owners received $354,000,000 from oil and gas operators, while landowners pocketed $80,000,000 for leases and bonuses.

There was a slackening of demand for crude oil in 1949 because of mild winters in the north, which always has been a great market for Texas fuel, but production started picking up again as the industry entered the final quarter of 1949.

Successive cuts were made in Texas allowable oil withdrawals by the all-powerful Texas Railroad Commission, which uses strict conservation laws to keep production in line with demand.

Cuts Partly Restored

Parts of the cuts have been restored, however. Production from new wells was added to proration schedules, permitting two increases in allowables.

On Sept. 17, Texas wells were pumping 1,983,350 barrels of crude oil daily. During December, 1948, when the flow reached an all-time high, production averaged 2,552,800 barrels a day.

Production increase in 1948 was 10.1 per cent greater than 1947 and it was believed that the output of crude oil would move up during 1950.

RELUCTANCE TO USE LABOR ACT IS EVIDENT

President Truman Has Power To Stop Strikes For Only 80 Days Under Taft-Hartley Law

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—The coal strike started Sept. 19, the steel strike Oct. 1. What can President Truman do to stop them?

No law gives him power to stop them altogether. He can interrupt them—at most for 2½ months—by using the Taft-Hartley law.

Which means: he could get the strikers back to work for 80 days. But at the end of that time they'd be free to strike indefinitely.

Couldn't the President use T-H all over again to interrupt the strikes another 80 days and so on?

No. The T-H law doesn't give him that power. Once used in a strike to delay or interrupt it, that's all that can be done with T-H.

Mr. Truman probably would be very reluctant to use the T-H anyway. He dislikes it intensely and campaigned against it for re-election.

Philip Murray, leader of the striking CIO steelworkers, and John L. Lewis, leader of the coal miners, hate T-H.

If he uses it, Mr. Truman probably would lose the friendship and backing of Murray who supported him in the 1948 elections.

Over the weekend Murray said he thought Mr. Truman would be unfair to use T-H to force the steelworkers back to work, interrupting the strike.

Why? Because, Murray pointed out, before his strike started Oct. 1, he had postponed it three times, or 77 days, without use of T-H and merely by agreeing to Mr. Truman's request for delay in the hope of a settlement.

Suppose Mr. Truman decides to use T-H. This is how it would work.

First, he must decide the steel and coal strikes have forced the nation into a national emergency, that its health and safety are in danger. It's a question whether that point has been reached yet.

Then he'd appoint a fact-finding board, one for each strike, to examine the dispute and report to him on the facts. Such a board cannot recommend anything.

Emergency Key Point

The next step, if there's still no settlement: Mr. Truman tells the attorney general to ask a federal judge for an injunction—court order—to stop the strike for 80 days at the most.

The strikes can't be interrupted at all—and nothing further can be done under T-H—unless the judge agrees there's a national emergency and is willing to issue the injunction. Let's say that he does that in these cases.

The strikers are supposed to go back to work. Then the companies and the unions are supposed to try to reach an agreement.

At the same time the President calls back his fact-finders. Within 60 days they must make their final report to the President, particularly on the latest offer made by the companies.

Then the National Labor Relations board (NLRB) steps into the picture, arranging for a vote by the workers.

They vote — no matter what their leaders say—on whether they want to accept the companies' last offer. If they vote to accept, that's the end. The strike is over. Agreement is reached.

Second Strike Possible

This vote must be completed within 15 days after the fact-finders make their final report, mentioned above, to the President.

Five days after the vote is taken, The NLRB must make the result known to the attorney general. Then he must ask the judge to end the injunction. The attorney general has no alternative. The injunction is lifted. It could not last more than 80 days under the law.

But suppose the vote was against accepting the companies' last offer. Then the workers are free to strike again. There is nothing further the President can do under T-H to stop the renewed strike or interrupt it once it starts again.

But, under T-H, he can lay the whole case in Congress' lap. Possibly then Congress might pass some special law to stop the strike.

Another Law Available

If Mr. Truman started the T-H wheels going today, it might be some time in November before his fact-finders reported back and the President was able to get an injunction interrupting either strike.

At the end of 80 days, if there were still no settlement, the strikes would be resumed, this time in the dead of winter. But by that time Congress, which returns in January, would be back in session.

Under the draft law the government can seize an industry which is failing to fulfill government orders for materials. The strike-forced shutdowns in coal and steel undoubtedly are interfering with such fulfillment.

Some people argue the President could use this law to seize the coal and steel industries and smash the strikes. Others argue this way:

That law wasn't meant to stop strikes but only to be sure companies fill government order. It's unlikely the President would resort to such a law since strike-stopping powers are not clearly stated.

MECHANICAL BENEFITS

Increasing farm mechanization since World War I has freed 55,000,000 acres formerly devoted to growing feed for horses and mules, and has made them available for production of human food and fiber.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Mother Humors Son's Wish To Drink, Smoke At Home But Father Is In Huff About It

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Will you be so kind as to settle a difference between my husband and myself regarding our son who will soon be 16? The dispute concerns smoking and drinking beer.

Althoug it appears that nearly all the high school age boys and girls in our community smoke, we had held back from giving our son permission to smoke. But one night he definitely asked our permission to smoke at home and honestly admitted that he had been smoking on the outside.

There was quite a bit of hurt and argument when we heard this, but in the end — and against my husband's wishes, despite his knowing Phil was smoking elsewhere—I gave in to the boy's request, because of his honesty, and now he smokes at home.

FATHER RETIRED TO BED IN HUFF

TONIGHT my son asked for a glass of beer and his father refused him, yet Phil admitted that once in a while he drinks a bottle of beer outside. And since in this, too, he came home and told us of his actions, I said that he could have one glass but I didn't want to hear of his ever indulging too much, as he is too young.

In disapproval my husband rose from his chair and retired for the night, and when I tried to reason things out with him he wouldn't talk and became really peeved. Which of us is wrong? I earnestly want to please my husband and my son, too, and personally I don't aprove of teen-agers smoking and drinking, but when all seem to indulge, how can a few parents hold their children in check?

Just last week my husband and I attended a school picnic where all the boys and girls of Phil's age were drinking beer and dancing. Our son met a girl there, they danced and when I bumped into them unexpectedly they were drinking cokes, so I don't think he goes out of bounds, as we both try to teach him the good and bad of things. We shall abide by your kind advice and if I am wrong I want to be corrected.

Signed—K. R.

WADING INTO A TOUCHY SUBJECT

DEAR K. R.: Ordinarily it is a thankless risk to venture an opinion (even when asked) about smoking or drinking, because these are touchy subjects, due to the fact that the majority of abstainers tend to be vehemently emotional in condemning such use of nicotine and alcohol.

Those opposed are strongly of the opinion that the dangers to health and self control inherent in smoking and drinking are so obvious that it doesn't make sense to entertain dissenting ideas or a compromise platform, or to humor self indulgent inclinations on the part of anyone — but youth most particularly.

Which is preliminary to saying that in this discussion I'm not going into the medical and moral hygiene aspects of the proposition, because I figure the individual who is open to teaching on that score will turn to his doctor, minister and school educators for it. And in all probability he will receive a variety of cautiously worded views; and in the summing up will have to develop his own stand "against," if it is to represent his true conviction and become a constructive example to others.

FATHER IS BIGGER PROBLEM THAN SON

AND speaking of example, it is indeed a potent influence in molding habits; and for this reason conscientious parents begin early to try to provide their children with the standards they want them to live by. This they do by trying to perfect their own example, by overcoming any faults they wouldn't want the children to copy; and also by doing their utmost to give the child access to constructive associates — i.e., praise-worthy neighbors, friends and playmates.

As you say, where parental wishes run contrary to the general practise, it is seldom possible to restrain youth from experimenting, —unless of course the parents' behavior is so fine, and so shines by contrast to mas sexample, that children follow it without need of sales talk. And I gather that Phil's father isn't a beacon light on that score, and that smoking and beer drinking are habits of his at home (and elsewnere).

The significant problem here isn't Phil's dabbling with smoking and drinking, although I grant these are foolish false gestures at being grown-up — but rather the father's unconscious jealousy of his son's symbolic attempts to assert manhood, which make papa also jealous of your troubled sympathy with the lad's precarious striving. If your husband can get wise to himself and act really mature in unity with you, as regards the boy's floudering, all will be safer and happier.—M. H.

Approximately 60 persons attended the first part of a two-day flower show judging school Tuesday at Lubbock Women's clubhouse, 2020 Broadway. The classes are being taught for District 1, Texas Garden clubs, Inc., by Mrs. John R. Salois and Mrs. Steve Barrett of Dallas.

Beginning at 10 o'clock this morning, Mrs. Barrett will talk on flower arrangements, emphasizing combinations of colors and rhythm in color and arrangement.

Tuesday, Mrs. Salois discussed various types of flower shows, educational exhibits in flower shows, and civic project shows. The speaker, an authority on horticulture, spoke, also, on bulbs, including daffodils, narcissus, tulips and iris.

Women from as far away as Roswell, N. M., attended the Tuesday lessons. Examinations on the course are to be given today.

Dance Will Be Given By Club Patronesses

DFD Patroness association met Tuesday at 12:45 p. m. in the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel for a regular luncheon and business session. Attending were 14 members.

Plans were discussed for the first formal DFD active club dance which is to be held on Nov. 18, under the sponsorship of the patroness group.

Carolyn Zachary Has Honor On Birthday

Carolyn Zachary was honored on her ninth birthday when her mother, Mrs. Bobbie Zachary, entertained Tuesday afternoon in their home, 2223 Twenty-third. A Hallowe'en motif was featured.

Twenty-five children attended in costumes. Five mothers were present.

The honoree's aunt, Mrs. D. G. Zachary, cut he cake.

From Lou.. To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: Pat Marquis recently received an engagement ring from Lonnie Balch of Lubbock. The central stone is flanked by two smaller diamonds set in a gold mounting. The couple, who has been dating about a year and a half, has set no definite wedding date. The attractive Lubbock girl works at the Veterans' Administration . . . Don Crow and pretty Peggy Prince are one of Tech's most eye-catching couples . . . Three Lubbock boys have been pledged to Phi Chi fraternity. Lamar Jackson, who is attending Baylor medical school in Houston, is one of the new pledges. Milton Butler and Td Forsythe, both in University of Texas medical school in Galveston, are also "pledge brothers."

FURTHER FANS

Still rejoicing over the "big football event" last Friday night in Amarillo are Westerner fans. Mrs. O. A. Woody took her daughter, Wanda, and some other LHS girls to the game. In the group were Joan Brown, Wanda Curry, Jennie McGouirk, Karie Ann McMannus, and Arbie Lee Freeman. Doryl Sandlin and Arbie Lee were seen at the game together . . . Triple-daters leaving Lubbock Friday afternoon to witness the annual tilt were Buddy Reed and Nell Peel, Bo Harvey and Ann Reed, and Dick Phillips and Bettye Thomson. Buddy and Ann are brother and sister . . . Also seen in the "Sandie" city were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Little, Jackie Martyn, Heath Ramer, and Ruby Stewart . . . Douglas Ross sent Ernestine Gammill a Westerner "mum" for the game . . . Rossi Stiles met Mabry Peel, ex-LHS student now at NMMI, in Amarillo and attended the event together . . . Another twosome at Amarillo were Elizabeth Mitchell and cheerleader Tommy Raney. She is wearing his letter jacket.

TOWN TRIFLES

Monty Wallace and cute Faye Stanfill were Sunday night dinner-daters. Faye is a southern-accented Tech freshman from Tennessee . . . Dave Fawcett and Jean Gillam were a twosome at a recent dance . . . Jo Ann Scott and Tommy Fisher are among the newest daters . . . Lota Dagley and Eddie Goetze, Tech freshman, are a cute couple . . . Seen in church together Sunday night were Joe Brock and Bettie Brown . . . Men's Rush week, which began at Texas Tech Oct. 17, ends tonight with the Wrangler function.

LOVE,
LOU.

Testimony Of Widow In Engel Trial Amuses Crowd In Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (AP)—A Chicago widow, red-haired and demure, told a jury yesterday how she lost her heart and her $8,700 savings to Sigmund (Sam) Engel.

An overflow crowd in criminal court rocked with laughter at much of the widow's testimony about her romance with Engel, the self-admitted master in wooing women.

Mrs. Reseda Corrigan, the 39 year old witness, did not intend to be funny. But the crowd roared as she went into details about the month-long fervid courtship by the 73-year-old white-haired Engel. She appealed repeatedly to the dapper ,little Romeo during her testimony to back up her recollections.

Telling of incidents in their faded summer romance, Mrs. Corrigan often turned to Engel, saying: "Isn't that so, Sam?" or "You remember that, don't you Sam?"

Judge Is Amused

Engel, whose attorneys objected to many of Mrs. Corrigan's answers, claiming they were not responsive, appeared to greatly enjoy her testimony. Often he laughed with the crowd. Judge George M. Fisher who is hearing the case before a jury of six men and six women, sometimes chuckled discreetly behind his hand when Mrs. Corrigan's answers brought objections. She would turn to Judge Fisher and say:

"It's all right to tell that, isn't it, your honor?"

Mrs. Corrigan, the state's first witness against Engel in his trial on a charge of operating a confidence game, told of Engel's love-making.

"He kissed each of my fingers and my ears and neck," she testified. Then, blushing and laughing, she said Engel kissed her feet.

"He said he was mad about me. He told me he never loved anyone like that before," she said.

Engel represented himself as a 55-year-old wealthy movie producer, Mrs. Corrigan testified. He pressed his courtship with dinners, flowers, candy for her two daughters and other attentions. He told her of his 35-room home in California, with orange groves, two cooks and "the blue Pacific in the front yard."

Showed Four Checks

She testified their marriage was set for June 7. A week before the date Engel showed her four checks, two for her totaling $55.000 and two for her daughters for $2,000 each. He was to mail them to California. Then they went to a bank and she withdrew $5,000. Earlier, she said, she had given him $3,700 she had at home.

Engel disappeared June 6, she testified, and she did not hear from him until June 12 when he telephoned from New York asking her to meet him there. She hunted for him eight days before returning home. She did not see him until June 2 when he was arrested in Chicago. Later Engel returned $5,000 to her but refused to return the $3,700.

The state in opening statements told the jury of Engel's association with four other women who have swindling charges against him. One, Mrs. Annette Kubiak, 36, South Bend, Ind., was ready to testify. First, however, Mrs. Corrigan's daughters will be called.

Negro Gets Sentence Suspended In Murder

Fred Hammonds, 32-year-old Lubbock negro, Tuesday was given a five-year suspended sentence following his plea of guilty to a charge of murder without malice in the Aug. 21 slaying at Acuff of another negro, German (Preacher) Fisher.

G. V. Pardue, 99th District judge, presided at the hearing.

The defendant entered the plea of guilty after the original charge of murder had been reduced by the court on agreement with the district attorney's office.

Hammonds had admitted shooting Fisher twice after Fisher allegedly threatened the defendant's brother with a knife during an altercation.

Grand Jury Called At Morton Today

MORTON, Oct. 26 (Special) — Judge Dan Blair of 72nd district court signed an order Tuesday providing for convening of a grand jury here this afternoon to consider "such matters as may legally come before it."

Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr, who was to come here from Lubbock to work with the grand jury, said the grand jurors would be asked to inquire into the fatal shooting Oct. 14 of 28-year-old Mrs. Leo Nichols at the Nichols home near Whiteface. Her husband, 37, has been held since the shooting in lieu of $20,000 bond on a charge of assault with intent to murder, awaiting action of the grand jury. Body of Mrs. Nichols was buried Tuesday.

Methodists To Hold Banquet

Members and friends of Forrest Heights Methodist church will attend a banquet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in Fellowship hall of First Methodist church.

A highlight of the gathering will be the presentation to the church congregation of the plans for the new church structure which is to be built at Thirty-third and Monroe Ave.

Rev. H. D. Seago, pastor of the First Methodist church of Seminole, will be principal speaker at the banquet.

To Plan For Drive

Another feature of the banquet will be the presentation of plans for a fund-raising campaign to finance construction of the church building. However, no solicitations will be made at the dinner meeting, Rev. Burgin Watkins, pastor, said.

Short talks will be made by church officials, and a brochure on the new church structure will be presented to members and church friends. Dr. J. O. Haymes, Methodist district superintendent, will be among the guests.

Forrest Heights Methodist church was organized last spring and currently has a membership of more than 130 members. The church is to be built on a site given by the late S. Lamar Forrest. The first unit of the building to be constructed will cost in the neighborhood of $80,000, and will be used for educational purposes after the church sanctuary is built at a later date.

The building is of contemporary design. Plans were drawn by the architectural firm of O. R. Walker.

Banquet Committees

Mrs. O. R. Copeland general chairman for the banquet. Committees and their members are as follows:

Arrangements, Mrs. Perry Craddock, chairman, Mrs. Paul Brenneman and Mrs. W. C. Warren.

Capital Of Ancient World Is Located After Eight Centuries

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — Scientists reported today the discovery of one of the capitals of the ancient world which has stood untouched in the Afghanistan "Desert of Death" since its 100,000 inhabitants abandoned it eight centuries ago.

Walter A. Fairservis, director of an American Museum of Natural History expedition to Afghanistan, said his party last August "stumbled" on the imperial city of Peshawarun once an outpost of Alexander the Great.

Called Great Find

The anthropologist said the perfectly-preserved city covering a 30 square mile area may be one of the greatest archaelogical finds of recent years since the residents left most of their possessions behind.

He said the desert where Peshawarun is located was once a fertile valley of the little-known kingdom of Afghanistan, which is wedged between Pakistan, Russia and Iran. He described the city as one of the "great crossroads of central Asia," conquered successively by Alexander the Great and the armies of Mohamet.

Saw City Rising

"We were riding in our jeep across the lifeless desert when suddenly we saw a great city rising on the horizon with massive walls, towers, and domes of Mohammedan mosques," he said.

"We thought it was a mirage because it wasn't on our maps, but it was a real city, soulless and silent. The only living thing we ever saw there was a desert snake."

Fairservis explained that Peshawarun had been "lost in the mists of antiquity" and existed only as a native legend which historians had never been able to prove. He said it evidently was deserted about 800 years ago, perhaps because of a drastic change in climate dried up the city's water supply.

Of all known diseases suffered by mankind, approximately 80 per cent gain entrance into the body through the mouth.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blint disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

10 pounds lost in 10 days

Mrs. M. C. Britton, 306 W. Wildwood, San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I am a faithful user of Barcentrate. I had dieted for weeks without your product and needed so badly to lose 10 pounds, so I started using Barcentrate and my worry was over for I lost the 10 pounds in 10 days. I now weigh 123 pounds.

"I eat most anything I want and hold my same weight."

Ex-Convict Unable To Make His Way In Outside World; Wants Back In Prison

WACO, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—A man who identified himself as an ex-convict unable to get along outside the walls surrendered to the sheriff last night and asked to be sent back to prison.

He confessed burglarizing a Pauls Valley, Okla., jewelry store in February, 1948.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Jack Hackney, to whom Allison King, 33, surrendered, said he checked with Pauls Valley officers and found that such a burglary had occurred.

Pauls Valley officers were enroute to question King, who listed Paris, Tex., as his home.

"I just can't make it on the outside," Hackney quoted the man. "I've had several jobs, but every time they find out about my prison record, out I go. So I may as well go somewhere where they will take care of me."

He said he had been in prison thus far 13 of his 33 years "and might as well serve the balance."

Woman Killed, Three Hurt In Auto Mishap

CORSICANA, Oct. 26 (AP)—One woman was killed and three others injured in an automobile wreck about half way between Rice and Alma yesterday.

Mrs. W. P. Thomas, about 50, of Forney was killed instantly.

Her three sisters were brought to a Corsicana clinic.

Movie Males Dislike Wearing Toppers

England's Hat Makers To Get No Comfort From Film Survey

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (AP) — British hat makers can expect little help from Hollywood stars in a campaign to make men more hat-conscious.

A recent dispatch from London reported that lidless teen-agers are alarming the hat manufacturers. The same is undoubtedly true in this country.

The Britons asked film stars, as arbiters of fashion, to help popularize the wearing of hats. The AP Hollywood forum selected a cross-section of Hollywood men to answer the question: "How do you feel about wearing hats?"

Robert Ryan—"I'm afair I can't help the hat industry. I never wear a hat. Blame it on casual California living."

Burt Lancaster—"I never wear 'em, but I'm not prejudiced against men who do."

Bogart Goes Hatless

Dick Powell — "I'm not a hat man. I think you'll find that men in California, in Florida or Hawaii seldom wear hats because the climate doesn't call for them. In New York, a man has to wear a hat to keep the rain and smoke out of his hair. Come to think of it, if Los Angeles' smog continues, I might wear one."

Robert Cummings—"I own 15 hats, but they are primarily to wear in pictures. I never put one on outside the studio. I will use one when I'm in New York, but I generally lose it."

Lee Bowman—"I wear a hat all the time. I got in the habit when living in the east. I think a man looks smarter in a hat than bareheaded."

Humphrey Bogart—"I've got a houseful of hats that I never use. I always buy one in New York then bring it home and forget about it."

Yuletide Personal Touch On Florida Mail Said Illegal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP) — That little personal touch added each yuletide to letters mailed from Christmas, Fla., may be missing this year.

It's a tiny green Christmas tree stamped along with the postmark spelling out the town's name, and the post office department says it violates a regu'

Senator Holland (D-Fla) is undertaking a postman-spare-that-tree campaign. He wrote Postmaster General Jesse Donaldson that the official attitude makes him wonder if the spirit of St. Nicholas departed "along with the two cent stamp."

15-Year-Old Custom

"There must be some way in your maze of regulations to authorize continuance of this long-standing custom of the little Christmas tree cachet," the senator suggested.

The person most interested in the outcome is Mrs. Juanita S. Tucker, who started the practice 15 years ago when she became postmaster at Christmas. She's been stamping the tree on thousands of letters each year since.

Ruptured Men Get $3.50 Gift for Trying This

Kansas City, Mo.—Here is an improved means of holding rupture that has benefitted thousands of ruptured men and women in the last year.

Inconspicuous, without leg straps, elastic belts, body encircling springs or harsh pads, it has caused many to say, "I don't see how it holds so easy. I would not have believed, had I not tried it."

So comfortable — so easy to wear—it could show you the way to joyous freedom from your rupture trouble.

You can't lose by trying. It is sent to you on 30 days trial. You receive a $3.50 special truss as a present for your report.

Write for descriptive circular. It's free. Just address Physician's Appliance Company, 4998, Koch Bldg., 2906 Main, Kansas City, 8, Missouri.

Teachers To Gather In City Friday; Program Is Drafted

Interest will be centered on reading when teachers of junior and senior high schools and colleges in District IV of the Texas State Teachers association meet Friday and Saturday at Senior High school.

A detailed program in which various phases of the reading problem will be discussed has been announced by Miss Glennys Honey, program chairman.

Leaders Are Chosen

Discussion leaders have been chosen to present the point of view of junior and senior high school and college teachers and other educators concerned with the problem of reading.

A session will be held from 1:30 to 4 p. m. Friday in Lubbock Senior High school auditorium, followed by presentation of 'Twelfth Night" by Tech speech department and Alpha Psi Omega in the speech auditorium on Tech campus, and by a dinner and program opening at 7:30 o'clock at Luby's cafeteria, 2410 Broadway. The final session will be held from 9 a. m. to 12 noon Saturday in the high school auditorium.

Music During Registration

Gerre Hancock will present organ music during registration opening at 1 p. m. Friday. In the afternoon session, Dr. W. B. Gates of the Texas Tech faculty, president of the Texas Conference of College Teachers of English, will welcome visitors. Kline Nall of the Tech faculty, chairman of the session, will present the theme, "Problems of Reading Comprehension."

Discussion topics and leaders will be "An Over-All View of the Reading Problem Confronting Teachers of English," Mrs. J. L. Teal, Lubbock city schools; "The Slow Reader," Mrs. Mary W. Blomshield, Big Spring Junior High school; "Vocabulary Development as an Aid to Reading Comprehension," Dr. Everett A. Gillis, Texas Tech; "The Non-Directive Approach as a Means of Interesting Students in Reading," Dr. L. C. Hutchins, Texas Tech; "Visual Problems as Related to Reading Comprehension," Dr. J. Davis Armistead, Lubbock optometrist.

Miss Cecilia Thompson will direct "Twelfth Night," to be presented from 4:15 to 5:45 p. m. A 75-cent admission charge will be made.

Films To Be Presented

Educational films suitable for teaching of reading are to be presented Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, through courtesy of the extension department at the college.

J. Herbert Priddy of the O. L. Slaton Junior High school faculty will be chairman of the Friday night dinner program, theme of which will be "Quantity and Quality of Students' Reading." R. C. Janeway, librarian at Texas Tech, will speak on "The Role of the Library in the Improvement of Reading." Discussion topics and leaders will be "Increasing athe Quantity and Quality of Students' Reading," Mrs. Gladys Sims, Carroll Thompson Junior High school; "What Is Now Being Done in the High Schools," Mrs. L. H. McElroy, Seminole High school; "Guidance of Free Reading and Individual Class Reading," Mrs. R. Briggs Irvin, J. T. Hutchinson Junior High school; "Reading Guidance for Superior Students," suggestions and discussion by Dr. Alan L. Strout and H. N. White of the Texas Tech English department and others.

Topics And Leaders

Mrs. Nils Akeson of Plainview High school will be chairman of the Saturday morning session, in which the theme will be "Development of Critical and Judicial Reading Attitudes." Discussion topics and leaders will be: "Critical Reading of Newspapers," Mrs. James G. Allen, of the Texas Tech faculty; "Critical Reading of Books," Mrs. Robert Dobson, Wayland college. State committee recommendations concerning the Association of Childhood Education English cooperative test and remedial reading program will be presented by Dr. Alan M. F. Gunn of the Texas Tech faculty. A question period in which all teachers present are to participate is to be led by Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education in Lubbock public schools. A business session from 11:30 a. m. to 12 noon will conclude the program.

More than 125 teachers are expected to attend the program.

Dawson Leads Area Harvest

South Plains cotton ginnings, slowed by a late-maturing crop and wet weather, totaled only 42,163 bales on Oct. 1, compared to 57,040 bales at this time last year figures of the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce, revealed Tuesday.

The ginnings were reported by 15 counties of the 19 cotton counties of the South Plains area, no reports on ginnings in Floyd, Parmer, Castro and Briscoe having been compiled.

Dawson Leads Report

Dawson county, with 13,616 bales, was leading the area, compared to 4,723 bales at the same date last year. Only three other counties, Scurry, Garza and Gaines, reported more ginnings on the same date this year as last year.

Ginnings in the area were just beginning to start on Oct. 1, however, and the next report is expected to see a substantial increase over the 1948 figures, cotton men said.

Reports of ginnings by counties for this year and last follow:

Ackerly Man Charged With Shotgun Attack

LAMESA, Oct. 26 (Spl.)—Robert Murray, about 25, of Ackerly about 25 miles south of Lamesa has been charged with assault with intent to murder as the result of the wounding of several Mexican cotton pickers from a shotgun blast.

Murray, a gin worker who is at liberty under $1,000 bond, allegedly fired several shots from a 12 gauge shotgun into a group of Mexicans as they were climbing into a truck near his apartment in Ackerly about 11:30 Sunday night.

Three of the harvest hands were hospitalized at Big Spring where 13 shots were removed from one man and nine from another. None of the group were seriously injured.

County Attorney Vernon D. Adcock and Deputy Sheriff Sam Floyd investigated.

A new leper hospital is to be built on the Isla de Pascua, off Chile's coast.

Two Men Charged In Kidnaping Of Girl

LAMESA, Oct. 26. (Special)—Two men have been charged with kidnapping in the case of a 13-year-old Lamesa girl who was missing from her home for over 24 hours before officers in Big Spring picked up the trio there late Monday.

Nolan Reding, 19, and his father, J. E. Reding, were charged on a joint complaint signed by Paul Forsan, father of the girl, Mayedell Forsan, County Attorney Vernon D. Adcock reported.

Adcock said the girl left home about 2:30 p. m. Sunday with young Reding, and that the youth told the girl's mother that they would return by 7 p. m.

A description of the pair and of Reding's car was broadcast over radio Station KPET Monday. Forsan reported to local officers that his daughter was missing Monday morning.

Adcock said that the father and son told him they had been "all over Texas" before coming here from Post. The senior Reding said that he had formerly been an REA employe. They were living in a tourist camp here as are the Forsans.

He said the penalty for kidnaping was 5 to 25 years in the penitentiary or a maximum fine of $2,000.

Large Crowd Attends Program Of Symphony

Lubbock Symphony orchestra played to a near capacity crowd Tuesday night at Senior High school auditorium in the second performance of their opening 1949-50 season concert, starring Met baritone Leonard Warren, renowned opera singer.

William A. Harrod, conductor of the Lubbock Symphony orchestra, alternated symphonic arrangements with classics. The program opened with Overture from "Abu Hassan" (Weber) and closed with "Chicken Reel."

Solos were offered by Fred Herring on the French horn and William A. McClatchy on the clarinet.

Warren earned the applause of the pleased concert-goers and their many encore requests with the ease with which he sang selections such as "Eri Tu" from Verdi's "The Masked Ball", the popular prologue from the opera "Pagliacci" (Leoncavallo), the aria, "Largo al Factotum," from Rossini's "Barber of Seville," and "On the Road to Mandalay."

He was accompanied by William Sektberg on the piano.

Conference Games Top Class AA Schedule

Henderson To Test Marshall

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The surprising Henderson Lions, who have gone through six games undefeated and untied and yielded only seven points to the opposition, get the acid test this week in the feature of Texas schoolboy football.

The Lions, a quick-striking outfit, meet Marshall at Marshall Friday night and if they hurdle that one they'll be top favorites for the District 9 championship of Class AA.

Henderson is one of six unbeaten, untied elevens in the state. Marshall lost the first time last week and it was a surprise, too. South Park of Beaumont took them down. But Marshall still is the most formidable team for Henderson.

Corsicana Meets Waco

Another of the teams with unblemished records also gets a rugged test. Corsicana, just as surprising as Henderson, takes on Waco Friday night and the District 13 championship is on the line.

Other unbeaten, untied teams appear in little danger. Wichita Falls plays Quanah, Lubbock marches against Lamesa and Port Arthur against Orange while Grand Prairie rests.

Among the unbeaten but tied, Reagan of Houston plays Milby of Houston in District 3 of the City conference. Baytown engages Pasadena in a District 12 conference game in Class AA. Neither is expected to lose.

There are 49 games in the state this week-end with 38 of them conference affairs. They involve 18 of the 20 districts of the City conference and Class AA. It is the first week for conference games to predominate.

Schedule Is Given

The week's schedule by districts (conference games except where indicated otherwise):

Class AA—

District 1 — Friday: Elk City, Okla., at Borger (NC), Ysleta at Amarillo (NC).

District 2—Friday: Graham at Electra, Childress at Vernon, Wichita Falls at Quanah.

District 3—Friday: Lamesa at Lubbock, Midland at Odessa.

District 5—Friday: San Angelo at Brownwood, Abilene at Sweetwater.

District 6—Friday: Cisco at Mineral Wells, Stephenville at Breckenridge.

District 7—Friday: Denison at Paris, Sherman at Greenville.

District 8 — Friday: Highland Park (Dallas) at Denton, Sulphur Springs at McKinney.

Henderson At Marshall

District9—Friday: Henderson at Marshall, Gladewater at Kilgore, Beaumont at Tyler (NC).

District 10 — Friday: Nocogdoches at Conroe, Bryant Jacksonville, Lufkin at Palestine.

District 11—Friday: Port Arthur at Orange, South Park (Beaumont) at Port Neches.

District 12 — Friday: Galena Park at Freeport, Texas City at Galveston, Pasadena at Baytown.

District 13—Friday: Ennis at Hillsboro, Temple at Cleburne, Corsicana at Waco.

District 14 — Friday: Corpus Christi at Kerrville.

District 15—Friday: Lanier (San Antonio) at Kingsville (NC)., Harlingen at Alice (NC), Corpus Christi College-academy at Robstown (NC), St. Edwards at Laredo (NC).

District 16—Friday: Edinburg at McAllen.

Violation Of League Rules To Be Probed

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Evidence in a reported violation of Texas Interscholastic league rules by New London and Gladewater will be heard by the league today.

The TIL said it had been informed that B teams of the two schools had played football against ARP, suspended last January because of failure to submit "correct and complete" information in certifying player eligibility.

If the alleged violation is substantiated, both the offending schools may be suspended from football play until 1951.

The TIL state executive committee, in a session at 2:15 p. m. today, will hear officials of the two schools and make a ruling.

Expected to appear before the committee were E. D. Cleveland, superintendent of schools at Gladewater, and Allen Kavanaugh, New London superintendent.

Four hundred thousand Americans regularly are engaged in crime, according to estimates.

LAMESA BOASTS PASSING ATTACK

Offense Stressed In Lubbock Drill

A high-spirited Westerner football squad settled down to even heavier concentration yesterday on preparation for the important Friday night game here against Lamesa.

The Lubbock High school squad, victors in six straight games, went through a long practice drill at Chapman field yesterday and the heavy emphasis was on offense.

The offense will have to be at peak Friday night against a Golden Tornado eleven that is rated one of the better teams in the state. This will be the first District 3-AA conference game of the season for the Westerners and it presents a tough challenge. Coach Bob Harrell has surrounded himself with a good squad and the Tornadoes have been impressive this year.

Coach C. R. Pattison of the Westerners has plenty of respect for Harrell and for Lamesa. He says that the Friday night visitors will come here with the fastest backfield that the Westerners have faced so far, one that rivals Odessa in speed.

Moreover, the Golden Hurricanes have one of the state's better quarterbacks in Bobby Hawkins, younger brother of Ernest Hawkins, Tech's signal caller. Hawkins is a fine passer, completing 19 of 40 attempts last week against Pampa.

Several of the Hurricane linemen are rated among the best in the state and they may give Lubbock's line more trouble than Amarillo did. Certainly, the first conference test for the Westerners will be one of the hardest and Coach Pattison is working the squad hard to guard against overconfidence.

The Westerners came through the Amarillo game in good physical condition. Billy Wright, Westerner right end, suffered a slight charley horse in his left leg, but was working out yesterday and taking his regular turn. Otherwise, the squad will be in peak condition for its first conference test.

Full Time On Offense

Yesterday's workout was similar to Monday afternoon. Coach Pattison, along with Coaches Bill Floyd and Fred Taylor, worked the first team full time on offense, polishing plays that have proven to be successful this year. The second team was used on defense and gave more than token resistance with the scrapping getting heated at times.

After a long drill for the varsity, the reserves were sent through a good scrimmage, with emphasis on timing and blocking assignments. The Westerners looked good, although there were still a few rough spots.

The quasi-scrimmage followed a long session on punting, passing and running, all designed to keep the Westerner squad in top condition. Finally, in the quickly increasing darkness, the squad was sent in.

More of the same, with more emphasis on defense, is in store for the Westerners again today.

Getz Battles Parks Tonight

Sled Allen's arena comes up with a new villian this week, a stranger from out California way known only as "The Grey Mask."

The masked man, not to be confused with the former Masked Marvel, will exhibit his wares in the semi-final event, leaving top billing to a pair of old hands, Al Getz of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Herb Parks of North Bay, Ontario.

The Grey Mask meets Alex Kasaboski in the semi windup, while Charley Carr of Shreveport, La., takes on Salvador Flores of Mexico City in the preliminary.

An advance ticket sale is being held today from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. at the arena. The first match is scheduled to start at 8 p. m.

Getz and Parks will meet in a two out of three falls match with a one hour time limit. It's the main event and should be a good one. Getz was challenged by Parks last week after the Canadian had watched Getz get no better than a draw with Kasaboski.

Dutchman Mad

The durable Dutchman, who never wears thin and whose ring behavior is that of a skilled Thespian with a touch of roughneck, is said to be made over Parks' challenge. Getz said that he resents the challenges, as though he were slipping. He claims that he's better than ever and will be out to prove it tonight.

The Grey Mask is an unknown quantity. He's been wrestling on the West Coast and has a good reputation. Allen said that he didn't know his identity and would have to go on press clippings, which shows the grappler to be more than able to hold his own.

Kasaboski, the mad Russian, returned to local rings last week and showed up well in holding Getz to a draw. It was a free scrap and Kasaboski more than held his own. He says that he will take the masked man apart.

It will be a two out of three falls match with a 45-minute time limit.

Carr returned to the local ring last week after a long absence and made a good showing against Bill Brooks, whom he beat in 15 minutes. This week he gets a sterner test in Flores, who has been wrestling here for a long time. It was be a one fall or 20-minute time limit match.

Wolffarth Team Is Winner In Circuit

George Wollfarth schoolboys won their crucial flag football game with McWhorter school, 33 to 0, at McWhorter schoolgrounds Tuesday afternoon.

By winning Tuesday's game, the Wollfarth men, copped the championship of their quatrant and will meet Sanders school for the north half title of the city.

High point men for Tuesday's game were, Harvey Cooley, who racked up 3 touchdowns and Norman Womack, with two touchdowns.

In another Tuesday game, Coach Clyde Gee's Central Ward team downed Cottage school, 26-7, at Roscoe Wilson field. Central Ward piled up a 20-0 halftime lead, then coasted to triumph.

Penn Guard Named Lineman Of Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—John "Bull" Schweder, University of Pennsylvania guard, gained national recognition today by being selected lineman of the week.

Winner of the fifth Associated Press poll, Schweder took top honors for his play against Navy on Franklin field, Philadelphia. Penn won 28-7, principally because of a better line.

James "Froggie" Williams, Rice end, last week's lineman, almost did it again with his performance against Texas. He booted a game-winning field goal with only 10 seconds left. On two other occasions he bumped a Texas runner out of bounds on the Rice two for no gain and intercepted a fourth down pass when Texas again was on the Rice two.

Other nominations included:

Ends—Morris Bailey, Texas Christi, Dick Callender, Texas A. & M. Carl Wallace, Southern Methodist.

Guard—Chuck Stone, Baylor.

Attendance At Tilts Boosted

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—The college football boom continues with a four per cent attendance increase for the first half of the 1949 season.

A survey by the Associated Press of 303 games played by 111 teams in all sections of the nation reflects a nine per cent decline in the East but gains in all other sectors including an eye-catching 29 per cent upswing in the Southwest.

Michigan Tops List

Michigan tops the list with 219,717 for the first three sellouts at Ann Arbor where the stadium capacity has been increased from 87,039 to 97,239.

Ohio State packed in 219,189 for three home dates and California's unbeaten Golden Bears played to 233,500 in four home appearances. Television apparently has made little appreciable dent in their drawing power.

Southern Methodist, playing its games in the 72,000 capacity Cotton bowl, has drawn 229,000 for four games. Stanford's total is 258,000 for five games and Southern California, the other school in the 200,000 class, has been seen by 209,005 in four home appearances.

Gophers Are Leaders

Minnesota also belongs up with the leaders on averages for the Gophers drew 115,325 for two home games.

Pennsylvania, which usually sells out Franklin field, dipped from 190,000 to 137,000 for its first three home starts. Columbia and Yale also dropped off at the gate in early season with losing teams.

The 111 schools, probably about a fourth of all those playing intercollegiate football, totalled 7,088,050 for the 303 games. Although these include most of the top teams in the nation, it is likely that at least 10,000,000 fans saw college games in the first half of the season.

The increases range from 29 per cent in the Southwest, to 3/10 of one per cent in the midwest. The Far West was up seven per cent and the South two per cent.

New Mentor Doesn't Expect "Miracles"

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Raymond "Buddy" Parker, the tall slim, Texan who became head coach of the Chicago Cardinals yesterday, doesn't expect any miracle from his ball club, but he hopes that its luck will improve.

"We don't expect to perform a miracle," he said today. "As for as I'm concerned this starts a new season.

"There'll be no drastic change in play personnel, but we might make some position shifts."

Parker, noting that he was in his 13th year as a member of the Cardinals, said that he "hopes that isn't unlucky."

"We've already had our fill of that," he said.

Determined Raiders Emphasize Attack In Practice Sessions

Texas Tech has a little matter of a game Saturday afternoon in Houston against Rice, a game in which they are figured on as providing the minimum competition needed to keep the Owls in good shape and on their toes.

But if that is the case, someone neglected to tell the Red Raiders that. They know that Rice beat Texas last week 17-15 and they remember only too well that the Longhorns beat them 43-0. At the same time, the Raiders think that they have an excellent chance this week and no one will be able to intimate differently.

The Raiders figure that this is the best possible weekend of the season on which to play the Owls. They hope that the Texas victory will lull the Houstonites into a trustful disposition and that they can sneak up on the Owls. Others may sell the Raiders short, but the Raiders aren't selling themselves the same way.

In keeping with that thought, Coach Morgan yesterday spent all afternoon sharpening the Raider offensive, trying to put teeth into it. Not all the emphasis was on running. Quarterbacks Ernest Hawkins and Bill Lyman threw a lot of passes and the Raiders were mixing up their plays well.

Given any kind of a break Saturday, Tech could play Rice a tough ball game. They will be outweighed heavily by a stout Owl forward wall and the Raiders can't match the Rice backfield in speed. But if the Owls still are gloating over the r victory over Texas, Tech might slip up on them.

The squad is in better physical shape, with Halfback Bill Barbee ready to go again and other backs over minor bruises and sprained ankles. The line also is in good condition, and return of End Jack Davis to full time participation strengthens the passing attack.

Rice won't be at full strength. Last week's game with Texas was a bruising clash and out of it they lost four players for indefinite periods.

Van Ballard, right halfback and one of their top backs, broke a collarbone, Gerald Weatherly, the big center who caused Tech so much trouble here last year, badly sprained an ankle. Guards Carl Schwartz and S. J. Roberts both have injuries bothering them. Schwartz is out with an extremely sore knee and Roberts has a rib separation. End Bill Howton of Plainview, a reserve, also has a knee that probably will keep him out of action.

But Rice still has Quarterback Tobin Rote. Fullback Bobby Lantrip, Halfback Gordon Wyatt, Center Joe Watson, End Froggy Williams and a host of other players. Most of them were prominent in the 14-7 defeat of Tech here last year.

Top Horses To Bid For Crown

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26 (AP) — The Pimlico Special on Friday is going to be a pure case of deciding which horse can run the faster.

Sheer speed is the only question to decide since Calumet's Coaltown and Greentree's Capot will be the only starters.

There'll be no such racing complications as pace or worrying about being shut off. And both Coaltown and Capot have displayed plenty of speed so that the Special should prove one of the most sizzling duels in years.

Coaltown Sets Marks

Coaltown always has been stamped as fast, threatening time records every time he stepped on any track. He set a new world's record of 1:34 for the mile at Washington park last summer. Previously he tied the world's records for a mile and an eighth at Hialeah park and a mile and a quarter at Gulfstream park so the fact the four-year-old Calumet star never has raced at Pimlico isn't likely to make any difference.

He showed that in a workout here Sunday when he went a mile in 1:37 2-5, one fifth faster than the track record.

Coaltown has shown he can run fast on any track and at almost any distance. He has better times for the ¾ mile, one mile, mile and an eighth and 1¼ miles than either Citation, his illustrious stablemate, or the immortal Man O' War.

Capot Likes Track

The Pimlico Special is a mile and three sixteenths and both Coaltown and Capot can tear that distance.

Capot particularly has shown a likeness for the Pimlico strip. In winning the Preakness here last spring, his time of 1:56 was two fifths faster than the previous track record for the mile and three sixteenths.

Last fall the Greentree colt ran a mile and a sixteenth in Pimlico track record time also, only to be disqualified.

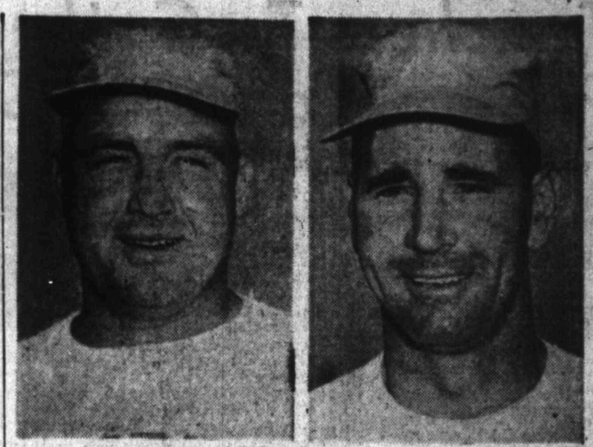

What's more, Capot proved he can beat Coaltown in a mile at least. He did it in the recent Sysonby mile in New York, coming from behind to turn the trick which only Star Reward had been able to do previously this year.

Bosox Not In Market For Bonus Players

BOSTON, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—The Boston Red Sox, like several other major league clubs, went on record today as saying they have all the bonus ballplayers they want.

Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin declared his club "is not interested in any more bonus players." Cronin made the policy statement in answer to a query as to whether the Red Sox would be interested in bidding for Lt. Glenn Davis, former Army all-America with big league aspirations.

Principal bonus player with the Red Sox is Pitcher Chuck Stobbs, 20-year-old southpaw given a $20,000 bonus for signing in 1948.

Goldman Chalks Up Triumph Over Telford In City Meet

The 1949 City Open golf tournament will have a new champion. Lindsey Telford, the defending titlist, bowed out of the current tourney Tuesday when he lost to Jimmy Goldman, 2 and 1.

Goldman pieced together a brilliant 32-34—66 over the Lubbock Country club layout to win the quarterfinal match from Telford, who posted a 34-33—67.

Except for a double-bogey six on No. 15, Goldman might have tied the course record of 64, held jointly by Don Schumacher, Reynolds Smith, Lofton Burnette and Gene Towry. His scorecard listed seven birdies.

Goldman held a two-hole lead at the turn, and stretched his margin to four-up after 11 holes. The diminutive Telford rallied to win 12, 13 and 15, but Goldman bounced back to win 17, ending the match. Playing out the final hole, both carded birdies.

The triumph moved Goldman into the semi-finals of the 32-man bracket, where he will meet the winner of the Al Holton-R. J. Dempsey match.

Other championship flight quarterfinalists are Dick Jennings, Manson Allen, Chick Trout, sr., and Raymond Marshall.

Tourney results not published previously include:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

Al Holton over Kay Bradshaw, 1 up; R. L. Dempsey advanced to quarterfinals, default; Dick Jennings over Bobby Martin, 4 and 3; Manson Allen over Fred Hinson, 6 and 5; Chick Trout, sr., over John Bell 1 up; Raymond Marshall over Murrell Tripp, 2 and 1.

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT CONSOLATION

Roy Cooper over Jimmie Cole, default; A. R. Allderidge over G. W. Warden; R. F. Detman over Frank Wilson, default; P. N. Burton over Eldon Rawlings; Clyde Fortune over J. F. Nicholson; Jack Trammell over Bob Harvey, 1 up, 19 holes.

FIRST FLIGHT

Joe Horne over Cecil Horne, 1 up; E. A. Hindman over Major Steed Rountree, 7 and 6; S. W. Tinsley over O. A. Brock, 3 and 2.

FIRST FLIGHT CONSOLATION

H. R. Rankin over C. S. Mitchell; Sid Claibourne over D. C. Horrin, 2 up.

SECOND FLIGHT

A. C. Jackson over R. H. Hinsley, 3 and 2; Ira Carpenter over Chuck Agee, 2 and 1; Jack Cole over Jack Stone, 2 up; Cole over A. C. Becker, 1 up.

SECOND FLIGHT CONSOLATION

Capt. H. W. Gilmer over Jack Burke, 4 and 3; M/Sgt. Leo Hess over Jim Holly, default; Jack Crawford, advances to semi-finals, b/e.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

Before the football games of the past weekend fade entirely into oblivion, there are three short anecdotes to pass on. Friday night Amarillo players attempted to taunt Lubbock players with such cries across the line as "So this is the great Westerner team, huh? Next state champions, huh?". The Westerners grinned goodnaturedly at all such remarks and replied: "Look at the scoreboard, girls." Arizona attempted the same thing against Tech Saturday afternoon and met with the same retorts from the Raiders.

• • •

But the payoff was at Roswell, N. M., where the "heavy" rain cancelled the Tech Freshman-NMMI football game Saturday night. Tech first year men are bitter about that cancellation. Several swore that it didn't rain enough to wet the bottom of a washtub and Tech's practice field Monday afternoon, they said, was wetter than the field in Roswell. Roswell High school prohibited the game on the grounds that the field was too wet and would get torn up. Seems strange, since they didn't have a game scheduled for a week and what are football fields for but to play on? Anyway, when Tech refused to play Sunday, some of the NMMI players came to the Picador hotel and began to razz the Techsans for not playing Sunday. Joe Harris, the 260-pound tackle, stood it as long as he could. Finally he sauntered over and said: "We came here to play football on Saturday, when it's supposed to be played. If you can't play Saturday, we aren't interested in beating you Sunday." That broke up the session.

• • •

We noted with interest that Abilene and Roswell did not change places in the West Texas—New Mexico and Longhorn Leagues, as had been planned originally. Both were eager to make the swap, primarily because travel distances would be reduced for each materially. Abilene stood to gain the most by moving into the Longhorn league from the standpoint of distance; Roswell stood to gain the most by advancing to Class C designation. Now that that deal has fallen through, it will be interesting to see whether El Paso makes the attempt to get into the league that it is repored trying. There's only one way for he Border City to do it and that is to talk one of the present loop teams into getting out. Not much chance of that.

• • •

Lamesa officials declare that they are building a new park and definitely intend to remain in the WT-NM circuit. Clovis, N. M., is making plans for a bigger year and the Deans, especially Paul, appear certain to return. Pampa, Borger, Amarillo, Albuquerque, Abilene and Lubbock all intend to strengthen their clubs this winter. It looks very much as though El Paso would go begging. We'll find out more about that at the Nov. 6 meeting of the league officials here in Lubbock. Milton E. Price, league president, has set the time and place and the Hub City again entertains the league. It's not expected to be an explosive meeting, although a few changes will be proposed. Among them probably will be raising of the veteran limit.

• • •

Speaking of the Deans, this is lifted from The Sporting News: "Those Deans get smarter and smarter. Dizzy's wife, Pat, is conducting a fruit cake business in the off season, and Dorothy, Paul's missus, is the new business manager of the Clovis club. In announcing the change, Mrs. Paul reported Ray Winkler was no longer business manager, adding: 'All news hereafter will come from the writer'. Incidentally, Clovis, Paul's property, is one of the few clubs which has been given an outright working agreement with the Chicago Cubs". That's from Oscar Ruhl's column. Another item in the same journal relates that Pitcher Jack Hellendrung, with Los Angeles' Angels last year, has been optioned to Clovis.

• • •

Other business transactions reported in Majors-Minors deals included the following: Hartford (Class A Eastern League) has bought Pitcher Frank Shone from Albuquerque. That's good news to WT-NM batters . . . Hartford is the same club to which Nelson Davis will report . . . Denver (Class A Western League) has recalled Pitchers Steve Lagomarsino and John Joslin (also a first baseman) from Amarillo. Naturally, they also recalled Pitcher Tom Butler for Lubbock . . . Conflicting item from Greenville (Class B Big State League) has bought Joe Wisniewski from Corpus Christi, but Joe was owned by Lubbock and is to report here for spring training . . . R. C. Otey, former Pampa second baseman and Keystone sacker with Little Rock this season, is playing winter ball for the Balboa Brewers of the Panama Professional League . . . Manager Hershel Martin has signed to manage Albuquerque again.

• • •

Looking over the Rice record for the year, you get some idea of what Texas Tech is up against this Saturday. Rice has gained 1,029 yards rushing, 692 yards passing, for a total of 1,721 yards, compared to the opposition's 882-637—1,519 yards. The Owls have completed 47 of 98 passes for a .479 average, compared to the opposition's 46 completions in 105 attempts, a .438 average. Rice also has intercepted nine passes, while having only three intercepted. The Owl punting average is 34.5. Gordon Wyatt and Bobby Lantrip are the leading ball carriers. Wyatt has carried 65 times, gaining 383 yards, and Lantrip has 248 yards on 55 carries. Tobin Rote has completed 29 of 63 passes for 482 yards and five touchdowns without an interception. Wyatt is the top Owl punter with an average of 35.7. Froggy Williams has caught 10 passes for 200 yards and three scores and is the leading team scorer with 37 points. That's pretty awesome.

Jack Kramer Scores Win Over Gonzales

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—Stamina and savvy sent big Jack Kramer speeding to the west today still king of the tennis professionals but sitting on a shaky throne.

Starting slowly, Kramer kept pounding away at the nervous efforts of national amateur champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales for a 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, victory last night in the first match of their international tour. Kramer's stick-to-it tenacity and his pro polish wore Gonzales down.

But in the match were grim forebodings for big Jake. There were signs that this scar-faced kid from Los Angeles will be mighty hard to lick once he gets over the jitters of his professional debut.

A crowd of 13,357 at Madison Square Garden saw Kramer squeak through the first set and lose the second before he got his big game going. Just before that, Pancho Segura of Ecuador scored the same sort of victory over Frankie Parker—a 6-3, 6-4, decision partly the result of Parker's nerves.

The two Panchoes teamed to beat Kramer and Parker, 8-6, 6-4, in the doubles.

Bell Is Named Coach Of Week

BY CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 — Things looked so bleak when he lost his all-America backfield star three days before meeting an unbeaten powerhouse that folks were saying he would wind up as coach of the weak.

They weren't quite right. Instead, he is the United Press coach of the week, Madison (Matty) Bell, who has been turning out winning teams at Southern Methodist ever since he took his first one to the Rose bowl in 1936.

Nowadays when the Mustangs get a bowl bid they can't even leave town for they are committed to play in their own Dallas, Tex., Cotton bowl if they win the Southwest conference title.

And after what they did to Kentucky Saturday in the "game of the week," nobody would bet they wouldn't be right back as hosts in that sociable come Jan. 2.

SMU was a seven-point underdog even before all-America Doak Walker, the team's mainspring for three seasons, suffered a severe attack of influenza that put him out of the lineup indefinitely.

But the silver-haired Bell, who has been coaching college football teams for exactly 30 of his 50 years, took that calamity in stride. With help from the boys who decided to go out and win this one without Walker Kentucky took a 20 to 7 shellacking.

Rote Is Praised

Powerful Kyle Rote, described by losing Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant as "the best running back I've seen this year" took over the big end of the offensive chores while sophomore Fred Benners, who will probably replace Walker next year anyway, got busy with the pin-point passing. Steaming back after trailing 7 to 6 at halftime the Mustangs engineered such a drive Kentucky never knew what hit it.

Bell thinks the big secret of the victory was that he is coaching a team that has "heart."

"I've found down through the years that it doesn't make any difference how much ability an athlete has," he said. "If he doesn't have the heart he won't go anywhere. I'd rather have a boy with the heart to play and only mediocre ability than vice versa."

He goes along with Bryant's views about Rote as a fine running back, but "of course he isn't the all-around man Walker is."

"Doak does everything," he said. "Rote doesn't play often on defense."

Although Bell insists he doesn't key up his team for any one game —"We have too many tough ones to do that" — they seem to win the big ones pretty consistently. A major reason for that is Bell's advance strategy. He has the ability to devise special defenses and offenses for any given foe, changing them from week to week so that the opposition never knows what to expect.

Star conference today. Fred Wichlep of the conference news service said Adams had amassed a net of 624 yards on 97 plays to Engle's 604 yards on 136 plays.

McMurry To Clash With Austin Team

(By The Associated Press)

Austin College, which won its first game of the season last week, meets powerful McMurry at Sherman Saturday night in the feature game of the Texas conference this week.

It will be veteran coach vs an up-and-coming new one.

Morrison, whose Southern Methodist university teams made the football world "Razzle-dazzle" conscious, heads Austin college. Wilford Moore is skipper of the fast-moving McMurry eleven.

McMurry's season record (4-2) and conference record (2-0) is superior to that of the Kangaroos, who Saturday night won their first game in five starts. It was a non-conference affair, 33-0 over Southwestern Missouri.

Southwestern university is favored over East Texas Baptist in a game at Georgetown, but Howard Payne and Texas A. & I. have tough assignments.

Payne, in second place, meets Trinity university of the Gulf coast conference in San Antonio. A. & I. goes to Alpine to play Sul Ross of the New Mexico conference.

Abilene Christian is open.

Morton, Seagraves Junior Teams Tie

SEAGRAVES, Oct. 26 (Special)—Junior High school football teams from Morton and Seagraves battled to a 6-6 tie here last night before a slim crowd.

Seagraves drew first blood in the third quarter when Buddy Johnson plunged two yards for the score after a march down the field.

Morton came back the same period to deadlock the count when they pulled the illegal "sleeper" play. Wayne Bush hid out on the sidelines and took a short pass, running 40 yards for the tally.

Post Junior High school will play here Monday night with seventh and eighth grade teams meeting in a curtain raiser.

CALIFORNIANS LEAD

AUSTIN, Oct. 26. (U.P.)—California is the hot bed of badminton just as it is of tennis, the new national rankings of the American Badminton association confirmed today. Paced by Dr. David Freeman of Pasadena, top-ranking men's singles star, Californians swept all but one of the No. 1 spots announced by Cal Newton, national information chairman of the ABA.

Whales have a larger amount of blood in proportion to their size than other mammals, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Dalhart, Hereford Tangle This Week

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

The eyes of Class A schoolboy football followers will be on the Panhandle for the second straight week end this week as Dalhart meets Hereford in the No. 1 contest among an even dozen top-flight games on the card.

Five of the 12 big games will, for all intents and purposes, decide district or sub-district titles, while the others could have a big bearing on their respective races.

The game at Hereford matches undefeated, untied teams with the winner almost certain to win the 1-A title and advance far in the state race. Hereford, scored on only in one game this season, will attempt to turn a trick the potent Phillips Blackhawk failed to accomplish last week.

Dalhart Is Impressive

Dalhart rolled over the Blackhawks 39-20 last Friday night, but Hereford kept its undefeated, untied pace with a 32-0 win over Perryton. The winner of Friday night's contest at Hereford was expected to win 1-A.

Other decisive games on tap will send Ballenger to San Angelo against Lake View High in a 7-A title affair, Ranger to Hamilton to settle the 8-A dispute, Henrietta to Bowie to a 10-A battle of the leaders, and Franklin to Mexia to settle the supremacy squabble in 20-A west.

Ballinger got by Brady 14-7 last week to match Lake View's previous margin over that club; Ranger stopped Commanche 30-12 and Hamilton beat De Leon 20-0; Henrietta downed Nacona 20-0 and Bowie stopped Jacksboro 34-0; Mexia blanked Teague 18-0 and Franklin whipped Groesbeck 6-0.

Kermit Tests Monahans

There are other important games on the scredule, such as:

Kermit vs. Monahans in 5-A. Defending state champ Monahans has lost two games and is out of the race, but could put a halter on Kermit's unbeaten march inside the district.

Dekalb vs. Mount Vernon in an interdistrict headliner in East Texas, Both are undefeated, untied to date in Districts 14-A and 15-A and Mount Vernon is rated as a possible state finalist. Each has won six straight, although Mount Vernon's game with Pittsburgh was rained out last week.

Leveretts Chapel at Center in 16-A. Leveretts Chapel is undefeated while Center is once-beaten, but rapidly is developing into a threat.

Rosebud vs. Killeen in 21-A. Rosebud and Cameron are tied for the lead here after Cameron knocked off Killeen last week 20-6, and this week's game will offer a good comparison.

CIVIC CLUBS HEAR COMMANDER

United States Aid To China Urged By Navy Officer Here

"The United States should help China" was the message delivered today at a joint luncheon meeting of the Rotary and Exchange clubs at the Hilton hotel by Navy Commander A. H. Ashton, public information officer for the U. S. Navy's 8th district reserve program.

However, Commander Ashton did not profess to be an expert on China and hence did not offer any solutions to any of China's scores of problems.

"After all, I only spent 21 months in China," he pointed out "and a person could not become an expert in that vast country even in 21 years."

Stay Is Reviewed

The U. S. Naval academy graduate reviewed his stay in the Oriental hot spot which began in 1947 and ended in March, two months before the Communists entered his home port base of Tsing Tau.

"Despite their hardships, the people of Tsing Tau did not grumble and were happy," Commander Ashton said. He added that the city, which was built in the latter part of the 19th century by the Germans, was originally built to accommodate 250,000 persons but was crammed with a population of 1,200,000 when he departed.

He said many Chinese had been driven to the port city from the inlands by the Communists. When he first arrived there, an American dollar would bring 80,000 Chinese dollars. "The ratio had increased to 8,000,000 to one when I left," he explained.

Commander Ashton also revealed there was no evidence during his stay in China that the Communists were receiving any aid from another nation—namely Russia.

Some of China's woes were attributed by the officer to China's dependence upon foreign protection in its port cities and because the Chinese had failed to deviate from the narrow pattern of "family thinking" to group or community thinking.

The information specialist said industrialization in certain areas of China had changed this pattern of thinking but intimated it wasn't on a great scale.

"But as I said before," he closed, "I don't know how but I think the United States should help China."

Another Navy spokesman here from New Orleans for the commissioning of the Lubbock Naval Reserve Training center at Tech this afternoon was Capt. L. E. Coley.

Goals Are Discussed

He discussed briefly the history and goals of the Naval Reserve program. "We have improved the program 1,000 per cent in the last two years," he said, "but it is only 25 or 30 per cent of what we want."

Guests at the meeting were Don Morris, president of Abilene Christian college; Carl Dunlap of Compton, Calif.; Lloyd Pratt of Fort Worth; Roy Abel and Bob Baird of Ralls; W. M. Craig, Densel Dean, H. C. Vincent and Kenneth Bell of Amarillo; J. S. Hilliard of Littlefield; Bentley Baize and Clemens Von Roder of Snyder. They were introduced by J. B. Rhea of the Rotary club.

Other Navy guests were Commanders R. D. Hutchins and F. J. Sabathier of New Orleans and Lt. J. E. Ruzic, commanding officer of the Lubbock Naval Reserve program.

Guy Victory, president of the Rotarians, introduced M. B. Hilburn, jr., president of the Exchange club. Dr. Charles Wagner gave the invocation.

Some witnesses said the plane caught fire in the air and exploded. Others said the explosion and fire came when the plane hit the hill.

The crash scene was within a mile of the woods where a big airliner crashed on Memorial day, 1947, killing all 53 aboard.

State police stationed a guard about the twisted wreckage. Investigators for the Civil Aeronautics administration were to go through the charred debris today for some clue as to the cause of the accident.

Daily Market Report

Stock Market

STOCKS NEAR 1949 HIGH

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP) — The stock market hovered around its 1949 high today.

Buying interest got off to a late start but final prices were just about the best of the session.

Gains ranged from fractions to an extreme of around 2 points.

The market moved sluggishly until forenoon although a handful of shares affected by corporation news stepped out on thei rown.

Some quarters in the financial district linked the improvement with what had the earmarks of a revival of efforts to settle the steel strikes.

Volume expanded when prices startd to curve upward. Turnover hit a rate of around 1,500,000 shares for the full session.

Highs for 1949 were hit by — among others — U. S. Steel, General Motors, and Dupont.

Jones & Laughlin made a substantial comeback after dropping more than a point on word that directors had decided to postpone dividend action.

Westinghouse Electric slipped a bit, in the face of news that a 65-cent dividend would raise 1949 payments to $1.40 a share from $1.25 paid last year, but later rallied.

Higher prices were paid for Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Studebaker, Geodrich Tire, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Emerson Radio, Zenith, American Telephone, American Smelting, McIntyre Porcupine, International Paper, Standard Oil (NJ), Barnsdall Oil, and Celotex.

Railroad stocks were inclined to hold back.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular today with old crop deliveries firm on mill and southern buying, with hedge selling light. New crop positions eased on profit taking. Some traders expressed the opinion that the cotton crop may fall short of the last government's forecast because of the slow rate of ginnings.

Futures closed unchanged to 60 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Noted Custodian Of Lincoln Tomb Dies

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 26 (UP)—The friendly stooped figure who had tended Abraham Lincoln's tomb for 28 years was missing today.

And collectors of Lincolniana had lost one of their leaders.

Herbert Fay, custodian of the tomb since 1921, died suddenly last night in his home, a scant hundred feet from the great emancipator's last resting place. He was 90.

Meeting Of Block Captains For Yule Decoration Slated

Block captains for the downtown Christmas decorations program were named this morning and they were called to meet at 10 a. m. Thursday at the chamber of commerce.

They are Miss Pauline Myers, John W. Broome, C. D. Abbott, A. A. Goldstucker, B. Ridgely Mills, James Chandler, Russell Wilkinson, C. A. Gammill, jr., L. C. Peveto, Abe Kelner, E. A. Manning, J. E. Griggs, Frank Campbell, B. H. Beaird, Harry Lipshy, William T. Bradbury, Jess Walters R. J. Neary, Ronald Duncan, J. W. Mallory, Joe Thomas, Marvin Hendricks and Harry G. Urguette.

Each will head a committee to collect the merchants' share of the cost of decorating downtown streets from Tranksgiving through the New Year.

The cost will average about 65 cents a front foot for the business places on the decorated streets, members of the committee have been advised by Ruel Martin and O. W. Ribble, co-chairman.

They emphasized the merchants will be asked to pay only the actual cost of the decorations. The city will erect them and supply the electricity for thier illumination.

threatened strike by 15,000 AFL truck drivers which would have cut off milk to 11,000,000 consumers in metropolitan New York, northern New Jersey and southern Connecticut. The drivers won a new contract based on the recommendation of President Truman's steel fact finders—the companies agreeing to provide a welfare and pension plan equal to 10 cents an hour per worker.

More and more railroads were cutting their schedules in line with an Interstate Commerce Commission order to take such emergency action when their coal stocks dropped to a three weeks' supply.

The latest railroad to cancel runs was the Chicago and Northwestern which dropped 24 through passenger trains and suspended 24 suburban trains in the Chicago area.

The twin strikes were threatening to strike deeply at the everyday lives of persons far removed from the affected industries.

Chicago Public Works Commissioner Oscar E. Hewitt said coal for the city's water pumping stations was "critically short."

"I'm not shouting calamity," he said, "but I'm sweating out a terribly critical situation."

Some of the stations, which provide water for 4,146,000 persons in the area, have only a 15-day supply, he said.

Warn Of Catastrophe

The New York Public Service commission scheduled a hearing Friday on the Brooklyn Union Gas company's warning that coal reserves were so low that 3,000,000 residents faced a "catastrophe" unless the mines re-opened within two weeks. The Consolidated Edison system which supplies most of the electricity for the New York area, however, said it had coal supplies to last until the end of the year.

Detroit faced possibly one of the worst periods of unemployment in history as auto companies prepared to shut down their production lines for lack of steel.

General Motors said it would not lay off workers for at least 30 days and no general rush of unemployment was expected in the industry until Nov. 15. After that, however, the number of workers laid off was expected to increase rapidly.

Spy Charges

Czechoslovak government that certain employes of the American embassy have been engaged in espionage activities resulting in the demand for the immediate departure of Mssrs. Isaac Patch and John G. Heyn, assistant attaches of the embassy, and the arrest of Samuel Meryn, an embassy employe, have been obviously trumped up in order to intimidate further the local population and lay the grounds for further trials of the kind which is now common in the Communist dominated territories of eastern Europe.

"The charges are alleged to be based on 'irrefutable proof' and 'confessions' of Czechoslovak citizens. This government has sufficient knowledge of the police methods and practices employed by the present regime in Czechoslovakia to know how much credence should be placed in 'confessions' and 'irrefutable proof' in political inspired propaganda cases of this kind.

Arrests Arbitrary

"In the past, Czechoslovak citizens are known to have been arrested and questioned by the secret police simply because they visited the library of the United States information services or because they visited the embassy on routine matters. This government can not admit the principle that mere contact by its officials abroad with the citizens of a friendly country constitutes espionage.

"Although in conformity with usual practice, this government has acceded to the request for this withdrawal of the officers concerned, the unusual and drastic demand for departures in 24 hours is typical of the disregard of usual international courtesies by the Communist regimes of eastern Europe."

James W. Webb, 31, already in jail on what was described as a felony swindling complaint, was charged this morning with forgery of a $58 check, Justice of Peace D. W. Robertson and the district attorney's department announced.

Charles M. Gaddy, about 30, was being tried before County Judge Walter Davies and a jury today on a charge of drunk driving, Sept. 6. The state, which had introduced testimony from several witnesses, including State Highway Patrolman Jim Riddles and City Patrolman W. C. Johnson, planned to rest its case early this afternoon. Ben Kucera, counsel for Gaddy, had not indicated how many witnesses he would call. The state is represented by Dudley Brummett and Travis D. Shelton, assistant county attorneys.

Large Crowd Attends Variety Show For LAFB Men, Families

Lubbock's hand of welcome went out to personnel of Lubbock Air Force base Tuesday night, with the Allen Brothers American Legion Post No. 148 presenting a talent-filled variety program in the base theater.

More than 600 airmen, their wives and children gathered in the theater for the "Welcome to Lubbock" program, which was followed by coffee and doughnuts in the base service club.

"Better than a USO show," was the comment by Col. George H. Blase, base executive officer, who took the stage to thank the Legion and the Lubbock visitors.

Highly informal throughout, the program had Joe Meador and Charles Whitacre alternating as master of ceremonies.

Night-flying planes roared over the base during the show, but the noise was considerably less than the applause that approved several numbers.

Maxine McCollum, her red hair flying, was a three-point hit with her energetic impersonation of Betty Hutton.

A hillbilly singing skit by three Lubbock High school students was another high point, drawing heavy applause for Rossi Styles, Don Hancock and J. C. Chambers.

Miss Lubbock Sings

After one false start, Joyce Wendborn, Miss Lubbock of 1949, came through with a couple of songs, but whistles and wolf calls from healthy young men indicated a large portion of the audience was doing more looking than listening.

The American folk classic, "Frankie and Johnnie" was sung by Bob Parkison, Tech student, and the audience demanded more, which it got when he returned for "Harvest Moon."

The Noteables, local quartet, was encored back to the stage. The quartet is composed of Tiny Jones, Jim Black, Ray Dickey and Dick Richards.

At the piano for the performers was Lawrence Ivey.

Brief Talks Made

Appearing on the program were Robert W. Sisson, Veterans administration chief of the Lubbock regional office; Sid Lowery, state Legion service director; Wayne Groce, Legion post commander; J. A. Raley, jr., and Mrs. Orville Drake, Legion auxiliary president.

Colonel Blase, who occupied a front row seat with his wife, also spoke.

The program began at 7 p. m., and adjourned to the service club at 8:30 p. m. for coffee and doughnuts, with the Legion post members serving.

As is customary at military installations, the airmen automatically fell into a long line for refreshments.

However, one rebel in uniform took one look and headed for the PX, saying: "That's the first line I ever passed up."

State Attorney General Richard Ervin is studying the commutation appeal from Hatton's family. The death sentence already has been upheld by the Florida Supreme court.

As former chairman of the Senate military affairs committee, Thomas helped ease through the 1940 draft act which preceded the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

That act was used as a basis for obtaining manpower for the armed services during the war and until Oct. 15, 1946 when inductions halted. The wartime act expired March 31, 1947. The vast selective service system was on a going-out-of-business basis until the present act was pushed through a reluctant Congress in June, 1948.

Short Enlistment Junked

It required men from 18 through 25 years old to register, with those from 19 through 25 subject to induction for 21 months service. Youths of 18 could volunteer for one year of service and avoid induction or for 20 months and reduce later reserve training.

Acting on requests from military leaders, Congress had previously junked one-year enlistments.

The 1948 act was urged on Congress as necessary to help build up the Army. The air force and navy reported enough volunteer enlistments without a draft act.

Selective service figures show that since the end of hostilities about 10,000,000 young men have been registered and classified in addition to the 50,000,000 registered during the war. The last government employment survey showed 3,732 persons on selective service payrolls in August.

Texas Couple Die In Car-Train Collision

GRANBURY, Oct. 26. (UP)—A Granbury stock farmer and his wife were killed instantly today when their car was hit by a Santa Fe freight train.

Sheriff Dick Umphress said the accident occurred in front of the fog-shrouded depot here.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Isam Brandt.

Ching Foils Watch Of News Reporters

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP) — Reporters covering the steel-coal strike news, lost track of government mediation chief Cyrus S. Ching for several hours yesterday.

One, calling his home, got Mrs. Ching. She was sympathetic but no help in locating her husband, a man 6 feet 7 inches tall weighing 230 pounds.

"It's like losing a bass fiddle, isn't it?" she laughed.

Assault Charged In Shooting At Morton

MORTON, Oct. 26. (Special) — Jimmie Johnson, 38, negro cotton puller from Waxahachie, was charged Tuesday with assault with intent to murder in connection with the shooting of another negro near here Monday night.

The victim of the shooting, James Rocher, 30, remained in West Plains hospital here in "good" condition. The one bullet hitting him broke his left arm and lodged in his left lung.

Johnson remained in jail here, in lieu of $5,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Alvin O'Pry. Sheriff H. D. Crockett of Cochran county was the complainant.

Gideon-Williams Agency Announced

Formation of the Gideon-Williams Insurance Agency by E. R. Gideon and R. S. Williams is being announced. The agency, which handles general insurance, hospitalization and accident and life insurance, is located in the Sanford building, 1009½ Texas avenue.

Gideon, who formerly operated a grocery here, has been in Lubbock 18 years and in the insurance business about 2½ years. Williams has been a resident of Lubbock since 1926 and has been associated with varous local firms before going into government work prior to the war.

The firm is general agent for th Continental Casualty Co., and represents only old line stock companies in other insurance.

CAR BURNED

A 1948 Lincoln automobile was destroyed by fire on a country road northeast of the city shortly after 7 p. m. Tuesday, records of the fire department showed.

The car was reported stolen from its owner, Herman Scarbrough, of Dallas, a short time after the fire was discovered.

Mrs. Virginia Ballard, 28, shock and burns.

David Ballard, 7, head injuries.

The others were held for observation, though not considered badly injured.

Boy Gets Airplane Ride Promised By His Dead Father

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26 (AP) — Joe Johnson took an airplane ride on his tenth birthday, just like his dad, Lt. E. Lloyd Johnson, had promised him he could.

However, Joe's dad didn't get to pilot the plane yesterday nor enjoy the youth's thrill. Joe's father died July 16, 1948 from cancer while on duty as an instructor at Randolph Air Force base.

Keeping the father's wish was Lt. Col. William N. Hensley, commanding officer of the 182nd fighter squadron, Texas National guard, and former commanding officer of Lieutenant Johnson.

Joe took his ride in a B-26, the same ship his father piloted during 65 missions over Europe with the Ninth air force.

Hensley said the National guard bureau in Washington readily waived regulations so Joe hight have his father's promise become a reality.

Joe's mother went along.

Lubbock Men Named For Posts On Board

Lubbock directors on the board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce were nominated at a meeting of directors of the local chamber this morning, but their names were withheld pending their acceptances.

Homer D. Grant, president of the local chamber, said however that none of the present WTCC directors was renominated. They are Earl B. Collins, Joe Nislar, Harry Morris and Grant. All requested that they not be returned to the WTCC board, local officials said.

The directors also authorized Grant to name a committee to arrange an open house for the recently completed chamber building, Ninth street at Texas avenue.

Deadline In Houston Bus Walkout Nearing

HOUSTON, Oct. 26 (UP) — A strike of Houston bus drivers and mechanics still appeared possible today after two days of contract negotiations produced no agreement.

Federal labor conciliator J. O. Hubbard said "headway" had been made toward settling differences between the Houston Transit Co. and some 1100 CIO employes, who have set a strike vote for 2 a. m. Friday.

Hubbard said the discussions would be in recess today. The threatened walkout would leave some 300,000 daily bus riders without transportation.

Clothing Is Tested In Attacks On Girl

LA PORTE, Oct. 26 (UP)—Blood stained clothing, believed to belong to the accused attacker of a 10-year-old La Porte school-girl, was turned over to state laboratories today for analysis.

The suspect, Allen Conway Williams, 38-year-old seaman, has already been charged in the criminal assault of the child. He has been held in jail without bond since arrest Friday.

The little girl was taken on a wild ride after she left a theater Thursday night, and was assaulted twice on lonely roads before she managed to break away.

Sheriff's deputies found the clothing in a closet at a house where Williams once lived. The seaman has denied any implication in the crime.

Three Questioned In Pistol Slaying Case

HENDERSON, Oct. 26. (UP)—Three men were questioned here today in connection with the fatal shooting of George Boyd Gee, 27, who died yesterday in an Overton hospital.

Two of the men jailed by Rusk County Sheriff Gordon Strong brought the wounded Gee to the hospital, a gunshot wound in his left side. Strong said. The third man, he added, had been with Gee shortly before he was shot.

The sheriff said he recovered a .44 caliber pistol from one of the three men.

It was believed that Gee was shot while seated in an automobile. He lived one hour after reaching the hospital.

CLUES TO ORIGIN TAKEN FROM EARTH ITSELF

New Theory That World Created From Dust Instead Of Fire Posed By Atomic Scientist

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 26—A theory that the earth was created from dust instead of fire was unfolded before the National Academy of Sciences today by one of the world's foremost chemists.

The author of the new theory is Dr. Harold Urey of the University of Chicago — eminent atomic scientist, Nobel prize winner and discoverer of heavy water.

Urey did something unique. He looked with a chemist's eyes at the earth beneath our feet to find there the signs and clues to its origin.

The first thing he found was the temperature which had to exist in the top crust of earth about a billion years ago to form the present chemical compounds of the ground. That temperature was nearly 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Earth Once Cool

But that temperature was not the creator, he reasoned. A billion years still earlier the earth was cool, just a huge aggregation of dust gathering into a ball as the sun passed through one or more vast dust clouds in space.

This primeval dust contained every kind of chemical, including a lot of radioactive dusts. The temperature of the dust ball began rising, due to the heat from this radioactivity, and the heat pressure of gravitation as the dust got denser. Thus it rose to nearly 2,000 degrees.

Iron and everything else was uniformly scattered through this dust ball. That would be impossible according to former theories, which required a liquid ball of fire in order for iron to concentrate in the core of the earth, where it now is.

But chemist Urey sees an easy way for the iron to sink to earth's center while the earth was still a large, hard ball of dust. He names the chemical condition necessary, by which melting iron slips in little rivulets along silicate paths.

Mysteries Explained

Urey's idea of iron sinking to the center of a solid earth explains a lot of mysteries. It explains he Pacific ocean, the continents, their drifting apart, the lost continents, the tropical climate of Antarctica, the great glacial periods, and the fluctuating length of the day.

It explains how water formed from the incoming dust and how originally waters probably lay literally boiling upon the whole face of the earth. As the iron sank, it displaced the lighter material at earth's center. This material rose on the side of the earth—where Europe now stands—as the first land. On the opposite side a compensation depression formed, which now is the huge basin of the Pacific ocean.

Chemist Urey calculates the heat that sinking iron's gravitational squeeze must have produced.

That heat energy, he says, is 10,000 times more than enough to lift to a vertical height of six miles a layer of earth covering the entire earth six miles deep.

Continents Drifted

Plenty, he says to account for the drifting of the new world continents westward when they split off from Europe and Africa. Plenty to move South America, Africa, Australia and Antarctica from their present locations, through tropical climate and back to arctic climate, and then return them to the temperate zones—except Antarctica which was left in the arctic circle.

Enough, too, to heat the ocean bottoms at times so that the seas warmed up and more water vapor formed, resulting in precipitation enough to make the glaciers.

All this, he says, is explained because the heat energy did not rise uniformly but thrust up here and there to melt the deep underground an ddisplace the land or sea above. Thus the lost continents are accounted for. They rose or sank slowly.

And finally the fact that the length of the day changes by a few thousandths of a second occasionally, Urey says, is explained by the changes in inertia due to shifting mass or weight deep in the earth pushed about by the heat rising from the iron core.

This same chemistry accounts for Mars' scarcity of water and oxygen, and for the planet Venus having not a drop of water with an atmosphere of carbon dioxide.

Mars and Venus both were dustballs similar to earth, Urey theorizes. But Mars had a cooler temperature than earth and Venus a warmer, which made the differences in their atmospheres.

Ancient Dictionary Being Put Together

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Scientists expect the world's oldest dictionary, now being compiled at the University of Pennsylvania Museum, to help clear up some of the mystery surrounding a civilization as ancient as any now known.

The early civilization, Sumer, flourished in pre-Babylonian times between the Euphrastes River and the mountain slopes east of the Tigris, in what is now Iraq.

Prof. Benno Landsberger, University of Chicago Assyriologist, is assembling the hundreds of pieces of hardened clay inscribed in cuneiform which makes up the work. They were unearthed 50 years ago by a University of Pennsylvania expedition at Nippur, near Bagdad.

The Spanish Government is reported being hard-pressed to maintain food rations.

Complainant Weds Defendant In Case

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 26. (AP)—The commonwealth of Massachusetts lost a case yesterday because, a prosecutor said, the defendant "stole" the complainant's heart.

The superior court granted a request of Dist. Atty. Alfred B. Cendella that a larceny charge against Clarence E. Harrington, 25, of West Warren, be quashed.

Harrington had been indicted by a grand jury on a charge of selling the automobile of Miss Theresa Valente and keeping the proceeds of $1,450.

"The defendant married the commonwealth's chief witness and she now refuses to testify against her husband," Cendella told the court. "He is charged with stealing her money and gets away with it by stealing her heart."

The streamlined train, Zephyr, ran the 1100 miles from Denver to Chicago at an average speed of 78 miles an hour.

Assignments Under Reserve Training Program Available

Mobilization assignments under the air reserve training program are now available at Lubbock Air Force base according to information released by Capt. J. H. Powers, wing air reserve coordinator.

Personnel in the Lubbock area who hold reserve commissions are eligible to fill the 209 positions made available in the table of distribution for this base. Reserve officers meeting the qualifications of grade and military occupational specialty, will be eligible to receive training pay for 48 training periods a year and 15 days active points toward promotion and retirement.

Eight Hours Weekly Available

Those selected for the mobilization assignments, will take their training at LAFB and may utilize as many as eight hours per week "on the job" for training purposes.

In addition, two weeks active training will be taken at the base at the option of the individual concerned and the department with which he trains. This training of reserve officers is to maintain their efficiency so that in the event of "M" day (mobilization day) these officers will step into their duties with a minimum of difficulty.

Among the job specialties urgently needed are those of medical officers, including: doctors, dentists, veterinarians, dieticians, physiotherapists, medical administrative officers and nurses. Reserve officers in these categories are urged to apply under the provisions of the career compensation act. Medical officers in the above categories may still apply for transfer to the Air Force and then secure mobilization assignments with the 3500th pilot training wing, Lubbock Air Force base.

Mobilization assignments will start at LAFB on or about Nov. 15. Already approximately 150 reserve officers have been assigned to the training program. Further information on assignments and training may be received by calling Capt. Powers or one of his assistants, Master Sergeant L. Halpern and Staff Sergeant W. M. Wood, at extension 143-J or visiting in person the reserve office in building 146.

Alaskan Ears Get Longer With Each Prospector's Story

There May Be Gold In Them Thar Hills, But No Women; And Nugget Fever Not Warming

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Oct. 26. (INS)—They're tenting tonight on tundra at Fishwheel, but gold and the gilded gals were at opposite ends of the rainbow.

From weather-wise sourdoughs, calmly back from the strike scene, came this report:

"There may be gold but there aren't any women, and not even gold fever can keep a gambler warm."

At Fishwheel, where about 100 men shivered in 15 degree below zero weather, there were a few nuggets.

But in the Yukon riverbank tents there were a lot more rumors than gold sluiced out of Saturday's reported strike.

But the rumors at Fishwheel couldn't keep pace with fiction flashed to the states that prostitutes and gamblers were flocking to Fishwheel, 150 miles north of Fairbanks.

Claims Staked

Here is the picture of the "gold" camp given by returning prospectors:

A few seasoned mining men, equipped with tents, stoves and the gear to grub for gold.

A mob of construction workers, ill-clothed and ill-equipped and unable to spot "color" if they did find it.

The construction workers and Alaskan Indians—their seasonal work ended for the winter—were quick to stake claims, but not wise enough to know that their claims are invalid unless they can find gold.

It all started when Clifton Carroll found a gold nugget about the size of a pea, 20 miles down the Yukon river from the town of Circle.

Some of the old-timers have started panning, but they stopped talking long before they ever went to Fishwheel. When they find something, they'll bring it back first and talk about it later.

Good For Guffaws

Meantime, stories that prostitutes and gamblers were rushing to Fairbanks by taxicab brought gusts of laughter in Anchorage.

Mrs. Barbara Baker, dispatcher for the Anchorage Cab company, said hiring a cab for the 250-mile trip to Fairbanks would be silly.

She pointed out that first class railroad fare is only $25 and a plane ticket costs only $35 from Anchorage to Fairbanks. She said:

"There have been no prostitutes or gamblers hiring cabs for the trip to Fairbanks. One of our drivers, an old-time prospector, went up—but he went by plane."

In saloons, cafes and on street corners, residents of Fairbanks keep on talking about Carroll's discovery.

Down in the Golden North hotel lobby, the nuggets weigh more with each telling—but retelling doesn't produce more nuggets.

Oldtimers Wisened

Sourdough Dave Davenport, the day clerk, had his ears spread both ways from the desk. Dave opines:

"Maybe there is and maybe there isn't any gold up there—in pay quantity, that is. No how, nobody will know for sure until the spring thaw loosens the ground and warms up the weather-wise old-line placermen."

But old timers who hit the Dyea trail in the days of '98 and the grizzled northerners who panned the beach at Nome, don't want any part of the tent city at Fishwheel.

Instead, they loaf in hotel lobbies and agree with Dave, who says:

"Can't possibly be any deposit there.

"Way back in the rimrock, up in the gold country, last winter's ice knocked off a little gravel and carried maybe a hundred miles or two.

"The rimrock, that's where your nugget came from—and that's the place to look."

Joe Heidman, 70, a gnarled veteran of the Klondike rush, shrugs it off, saying:

"No use staking a claim there now.

"Fifteen degrees below zero, no grub and damn' poor living conditions—they kin have it."

As a matter of fact, nobody in Fairbanks quite believes the gold story—but everybody's anxious to.

And most of the excitement centers in steam-heated rooms, because the Alaska-wise prospectors are letting the tenderfoot "cheechakos" break the trail to the banks of the Yukon.

Meanwhile, despite reports that airplane prices were skyrocketing, it still was possible to charter airplanes for $90 for the round trip to the frozen Fishwheel mud flats or $50 one way.

Open House For Tech Exes Set At Houston

An open house for all ex-students of Texas Technological college will be staged in the Shamrock hotel at Houston Saturday morning prior to the football game between Tech and Rice Institute there, according to D. M. McElroy, executive-secretary of the ex-students association.

The informal get-together will be held in the Normandy room of the Shamrock. Another open house for Tech exes will be held in El Paso Nov. 5 before the Tech-Texas Western football tussle, McElroy said. Time and place of that reception will be announced later.

Lubbock Group Will Attend Austin Meet

The Lubbock Personnel association will send four representatives to the Texas Personnel and Management conference to be held in Austin on Oct. 27-28 under the auspices of the University of Texas.

Nat Kizer, personnel officer of the Lubbock Veterans Administration regional office; Mrs. Mabel Chapman, of the Texas Employment commission; Mrs. Jean Jenkins, executive secretary of the placement service of Texas Tech; and R. M. Sheehan, instructor in economics and management of Texas Tech; will be the Lubbock representatives.

Gov. Allan Shivers will be one of the conference's principal speakers. His subject will be "Managing the State's Business."

Dwayne Orton, director of education for the IBM corporation, will speak on "Human Relations In These Technical Times." Another key speaker will be Harold F. North, industrial relations manager for Swift and Co. of Chicago.

On Thursday afternoon, C. D. Williamson, vice-president and general manager of Williamson-Dickie company of Fort Worth; Fred A. Replogle and W. S. Lowe, executive vice-president of the A. P. Green Fire Brick company, will deliver addresses.

The conference will be concluded Friday, Oct. 28, with an address on the "Economic Forecasts for the Southwest" by W. D. Gentry, first vice-president of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas.

C. Read Granberry, assistant to the president of the University of Texas, will be chairman of the conference.

The first radio telegraph service over water was set up in 1912 between San Francisco and Honolulu.

Run-Offs Will Be Necessary To Decide Texas Tech Elections

Run-off elections will be required for all but three honorary positions for which primary balloting was held Tuesday by students at Texas Technological college, the elections committee said Tuesday night.

Names of the three winners plus those who win in the run-offs to be held Monday, will not be released until a later date, perhaps until the student yearbook, La Ventana, is released next spring.

Candidates for junior and freshman boy favorites and Mr. Texas Tech were declared elected by sufficient margins following a ballot counting which lasted into the night Tuesday. Acting Elections Committee Chairman Bob Salem, Sudan, announced that all other favorite positions, two vacancies to the student council and Miss Texas Tech must be filled by the run-off election.

Area Students Included

Barbara Scott, Shamrock, and Margaret Clark, Van Horn, will campaign for the Miss Texas Tech position in the Monday elections, to be held from 8 a.m. until noon. Ben Willis, Dallas, and Brodie Hutchinson, Littlefield, will fight for a student council vacancy from the Arts and Sciences division, while Tommie Jean Wall, Waco, and Janet Crandall, Lubbock, will battle for the home economics position.

In the senior class boy favorite run-off will be Bill McCasland, Lamesa, and A. J. Bishop, Winters. For the girls, second-primary candidates will be Alice Hicks, Abernathy, and Katheryn Witty, Hamilton.

Lubbock Girl In Finals

In the freshman girl favorite run-off will be Albertine Foster, Lockney, and Pat Montgomery, Lubbock.

Twenty-one per cent of the student body voted in Tuesday's balloting, compared to about three per cent last year, according to La Ventana Editor Roy Grimes, Lubbock. Winners of the favorites and Mr. and Miss Texas Tech honors will be featured in the 1950 edition of the yearbook.

Present plans are to keep final results of the elections secret until the yearbook comes out next spring, according to Grimes. However, that policy could be changed should the student council vote accordingly, he said. The Monday run-offs will be staged in all the main campus buildings during the morning only, the elections committee announced.

Columbus City Hall Plans New Addition

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 26 (AP)—Columbus city officials figure it will take about $55,000 worth of "dough" to fill up the "hole in the doughnut"—the city hall building.

The structure housing city departments was built in two sections in 1928 and 1935.

Until construction workers moved in recently with their equipment the building completely encircled about 5,000 square feet of empty space.

With downtown office space at a premium in Columbus, the city fathers decided to erect a building within a building to house their city income tax department.

EXAMINATION IS QUICK PROCESS—Miss Lois Cone, above, secretary to the dean of agriculture at Texas Technological college, is shown at the state health department mobile X-ray unit as she completed her X-ray examination in the agricultural auditorium at Texas Technological college. Exactly five minutes after she entered a door of the auditorium, she had completed the examination. The process included giving information for a record card, removing a necklace and standing against the machine a few seconds while a state health department technician made the X-ray examination. She was one of the college employes taking the examinations Tuesday, the first day of the Lubbock county X-ray survey to locate tuberculosis cases. (Staff Photo).

SOUTH PLAINS OIL ACTIVITY

New Producer In Scurry Completed

Lion Oil Company has completed its No. 1 Frank Strom as a one-mile west extension to the proven limits for production from the Canyon reef lime in the Diamond M field of Southwest Scurry county.

This new producer was finished for a daily potential of 352 barrels of 43.4 gravity oil, flowing through a 16/64th inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 702-1.

Production Natural

The production was natural and came from perforations in the casing at 6,686-6,710 feet. Total depth is at 6,715 feet. Casing is cemented on bottom.

Top of the Canyon reef was at 6,686 feet, which was 100 feet low to the closest completed oil wells in the Diamond M field.

The well is 662 feet from south and 1,836 feet from west lines of section 198, block 97, H&TC survey.

It is an old dry hole to 2,903 feet drilled in 1946, which was re-entered and deepened to the Canyon.

SHOWS OF PRODUCTION REPORTED DEVELOPED

L. H. Lockhart of Corpus Christi No. 1 B. M. McHaney, one mile south of the nearest completed producer on the southeast side of the North Snyder field in north central Scurry county developed some shows of possible production in a drillstem test at 6,830-70 feet.

The tool was open two and one-half hours. Gas of an unreported amount showed at the surface in 20 minutes. Recovery was 900 feet of heavily mud-cut oil. There were no signs of water.

The project is slated to drill a little deeper and then run another drillstem test.

Location is 467 feet from north and west lines of the lease in section 177, block 3, H&GN survey.

Glasco, Chambers, Zonne and Olson Drilling Company No. 1 Green, wildcat to test the Pennsylvania, two miles south and three quarters of a mile east of the southeast side of the North Snyder field, and two miles north of the town of Snyder had reached 7,393 feet in lime and was making more hole.

This project has been logging streaks lime and then streaks of shale for a considerable distance. Up to now it has not reported having logged any possibilities of production.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 157, block 3, H&GN survey.

School Expansion Is Planned

New Sites To Be Inspected

Advance plans for inevitable additional expansion of the Lubbock public school system were made last night by the board of trustees of the Lubbock Independent School district at its regular meeting in the school business office, 1007 Texas Avenue.

The building committee of the board was authorized to inspect possible school building sites in several different sections of the city with an eye to necessary expansion of the school system within the next few years.

At last night's meeting, incidentally, a seven-year precedent was broken. It was the first regular meeting of the board since October, 1942, at which there were no resignations of teachers reported or new teachers elected.

Routine business occupied board members during most of last night's session. The board accepted Supt. R. W. Matthews' statistical report for the month of school and attended to routine financial matters for the school district.

Dr. Joseph A. Chatman appeared before the board as spokesman for numerous property owners in Carver Heights who want the new negro elementary school to be constructed on some site other than immediately south of the Dunbar school.

He cited facts and figures to prove the need of a school some other part of the Carver Heights area, and submitted alternate sites for the consideration of the board.

Face Two Proposals

Since the property adjacent to the Dunbar school is completely settled, the board is faced with the alternative of purchasing outright the necessary property from the owners or going through condemnation proceedings.

However, the board felt that the most practical plan is to build the new school on the site south of the Dunbar school even though it may involve heavier costs, since it will place the negro school plant close together and reduce future operating and maintenance costs.

The board also authorized A. C. Jackson, school district business manager, to accept bids for landscaping of grounds of the O. L. Slaton and J. T. Hutchinson Junior High schools and the P. F. Brown and M. C. Overton elementary schools.

Work To Start Soon

The planting and landscaping is to be done within the next few months during the proper season for such work.

The board also authorized a paving project between the sidewalks and the streets surrounding Lubbock High school. The paving will

OVERTON AND McWHORTER SCHOOLS PLAN PARTIES

Hallowe'en Carnivals Scheduled On Thursday

Hallowe'en entertainments will be given Thursday night in two public schools.

Overton school will entertain with its first Hallowe'en carnival and McWhorter school will conduct a "fun night" program. Both will be sponsored by Parent-Teacher associations of the respective schools.

Time of the Overton school carnival has been changed from 7 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. Program features will include a children's movie, kitchen bazaar in which aprons, dish towels and other items will be sold, minstrel show, making of photographs, the "biggest baby in town", fortune telling, wishing well, Hawaiian serenade and others. Sandwiches, cookies, cakes and bottled drinks will be sold.

Rooms have been decorated elaborately by students. Drawings, posters, cut-out cats and witches and other Hallowe'en symbols and pack-o-lanterns will be included in decorations. The event will be open to the public.

At McWhorter school, "fun night" features will open at 7:30 o'clock. They will include a talent show in which children will participate; a "house of thrills;" negro minstrel; Hallowe'en parade through halls and the school

THE QUESTION

If you had your choice between a college education and $10,000, which would you take?

THE ANSWERS

C. S. STAMBAUGH, Rhodes Heights, salesman for Ehrsman Bros. Meat Co.: "I believe that the college education would be worth more to an individual. I think it would give them the background to make a lot more than $10,000."

E. D. MANER, Slaton Highway: car salesman: "I'd rather have the college education. It probably would be worth $100,000 in the long-run. A man that has a college education has a lot higher income potentialities than one who doesn't."

MRS. ALFRED BROOKS, Levelland, housewife: "I'd take the $10,000. I'd take the money, because the mother of two children has little use for a college education."

MRS. WESLEY HART, Puckett Addition, housewife: "I'd take the college education, because a person can really do more with an education than with money. I think that a college education would enable a person to make money."

HAROLD LASSITER, Puckett Addition, employe of Furr Food Stores: "I think I'd take a college education. I would be better off with it, I think. With a colege education I think it would enable me to make more money later on."

THURMAN LEWIS, 3206 Maple, post office clerk: "I'd take the money. There's a lot of people that have gone to college, and after they have gotten out have had a hard time getting a job. If you take the $10,000, you could get a start in a business of your own."

Mine Violence Flares Again

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 26. (AP)—Violence broke out anew in Pennsylvania's soft coal fields last night as a huge steam shovel was dynamited.

The shovel was blown apart at a strip (surface) mine owned by Henry Kenner at nearby Coupon, Pa.

Another dynamite blast several weeks ago wrecked the Tipple (coal screening plant) at a deep mine also owned by Kenner. The deep mine recently was unionized, but the United Mine workers had approved its continued operation despite the coal strike because it supplies schools and colleges.

Investigation Started

Kenner estimated last night's damage at $10,000. Robert Hill, who was in charge of the stripping operation, said between 200 and 225 sticks of dynamite apparently were used.

The explosion left only the steam shovel boom intact as wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

State police rushed to the scene to begin an investigation.

Actual Prices Said Better Than Parity

ST. PAUL, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—A University of Minnesota farm economist believes farmers made more money under actual price conditions in the past few years than they could have done by following the parity formula planned to go into effect next year.

W. C. Waite said comparisons of income received from 18 principal agricultural commodities to the returns they possibly would bring under the new formula show a two per cent edge in favor of actual income for the period 1940-44.

Actual income increased steadily over parity during the next three years, with a high of 25 per cent above possibly parity reached in 1947, Waite said.

TRUMAN TO BUCK NEXT SESSION

New Demand For Civil Rights Bill Faces Senate Filibuster

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The Senate seems likely to face an endurance contest early in its next session as a result of President Truman's new call for action on civil rights legislation.

With the President making it plain he intends to renew his demand for passage of such laws, aides of southern Democratic senators were reported already working on filibuster material.

Senator Myers of Pennsylvania, the assistant Democratic leader, conceded frankly that a filibuster is in prospect when leaders try to call up anti-poll tax, anti-lynching and anti-job discrimination bills.

Myers told a Philadelphia audience yesterday he doesn't think a new Senate rule will operate to cut off the continuous talk with which Dixie senators in the past have prevented action on any civil rights, proposal.

The Senate now has in effect a rule under which 64 of the 96 senators must be present and vote "yes," to adopt a petition to close debate. If only 63 voted "yes," the proposal would lose. That's what the southerners count on in their preparations for a filibuster.

Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) already has served notice that he will talk until he drops to prevent passage of any of the bills on the civil rights program. Senator Long (D-La) has indicated he also plans to unlimber his vocal chords in this connection.

President Truman laid the background in a New York City speech this week for an enlarged appeal to Congress to act on the civil rights question.

Mr. Truman said in his United Nations speech that the countries behind the Soviet iron curtain are suppressing human rights and freedoms. He added that nations "have learned that disregard of human rights is the beginning to tyranny and, too often, the beginning of war."

He said, too, that "we believe strongly that the attainment of basic civil and political rights for men and women everywhere—without regard to race, language or religion—is essential to the peace we are seeking."

The President's friends in Congress are expected to expand the argument that this country is being hampered in its conflict with communism because some segments of the American population are denied equal rights in the practical application of democracy.

In the next session, the administration is expected to center its efforts on attempts to enact anti-lynching and anti-poll tax bills into law.

A fair employment practices commission measure is pending on the Senate's calendar, but Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) told reporters he doesn't think it ever will be passed.

Kefauver said this bill is opposed not only by southern Democrats but by northern members of both parties who contend it would put the government in a position to tell employers all over the country who they should hire and fire.

The Tennessee senator said he thinks the Senate might accept an anti-poll tax bill but believes the states ought to be allowed to handle the lynching problems.

The ranks of the southerners won't be solid in opposition to all of the bills proposed by the President.

Senator Graham (D-NC) already has come out for anti-poll tax and anti-lynching measures. Senator Pepper (D-Fla) has broken with his Dixie colleagues on some of the issues in the past and is expected to do so again.

Customers Ask For Pretty Waitresses

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26. (AP)—A Philadelphia restaurant has removed its suggestion box for customers after a two-day trial.

The reason:

Of 35 notes deposited in the box the first day, 34 suggested prettier waitresses. On the second day, 38 of 40 made the same recommendation.

Not one suggestion menfioned the food being served.

Child Escapes Death In Brush With Truck

SUDAN, Oct. 26. (Special) — Haynes Lee Melton, two-and-one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Haynes Melton of Littlefield, miraculously escaped death when run over by a heavy dual-wheel truck here about 1 p. m. Tuesday.

Taken to South Plains Cooperative hospital at Amherst, the youngster apparently had no more serious injuries than severe bruises on his legs and lower body and a possible fractured pelvis.

Attendants said the child was resting well, but would be kept several days for observation.

Mrs. Melton, mother of the child, was in a laundry on Main street when Haynes Lee slipped out and ran between parked cars into the street.

The rear dual wheels of the truck, driven by E. L. (Bud) Whitmire, passed over the body of the child.

Melton is a farmer near Littlefield. Mrs. Melton was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hardy, who live north of Sudan.

Dedication At Matador Held

MATADOR, Oct. 26 (Special)—Motley county's new $250,000 courthouse was formally dedicated here Tuesday night with District Judge Alton B. Chapman delivering the principal address.

More than 200 county residents and visitors gathered in the district court room of the new courthouse for the ceremonies.

The courthouse was completed in August to replace the former building which burned on Sept. 29, 1944, 40 years to the day after the cornerstone was laid.

Pictures Are Presented

Judge Chapman presented to the county framed pictures of all former district judges who have served Motley county since it was orgahized in 1891. The pictures will be placed in the district courtroom.

District Attorney John Stapleton of Floydada also gave an address. C. E. Hamilton, pioneer attorney of Motley county, gave a history of the county.

The program opened with J. R. Whitworth leading group singing of "America." Invocation was by the Rev. R. L. Jameson.

County Attorney Speaks

County Attorney Howard Traweek gave the welcome address. County Judge C. W. Giesecke, jr., recognized guests and the official court family.

The Matador High school a cappella choir under the direction of Mrs. L. D. Wilkerson presented three numbers.

Benediction was by the Rev. W. B. Vaughn.

The group observed a moment of silence in tribute to the late County Judge W. R. Cammack, who labored for construction of the fireproof courthouse with two stories and a basement.

Among the visitors from Floyd county were County Judge G. C. Tubbs and three commissioners, Fred N. Clark, W. N. Counts and T. L. Hart.

Hamilton, in his history of the county, pointed out that the only known picture of Dr. William Motley, for whom the county was named, had been destroyed in the 1944 fire. Dr. Motley, a native of Kentucky, died of wounds received in the battle of San Jacinto.

Later, Douglas Meador, editor of the Matador Tribune, informed Hamilton that the newspaper would attempt to reproduce a picture of Dr. Motley from a zinc engraving of the war hero, believed to be the only likeness of Dr. Motley still in existence.

MURRAY CONFRONTS LABOR SPLIT

CIO Leaders Confident About Booting Out Pro-Communists

By HAROLD W. WARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26 — CIO leaders were cocky today about their ability to quell any left-wing revolt at the annual convention next week —and to boot out any pro-Communist rebels if necessary.

CIO President Philip Murray announced a hand-picked slate of committees which will pass on the controversial left-wing issues which threaten to tear the 14-year-old CIO right down the middle.

At least 11 unions led by so-called left-wing leaders could be tossed out of the CIO. However, most delegates assembling for the convention starting Monday believed only two or three unions actually would take the brunt of the anti-Communist feeling which has built up in the CIO since V-J day.

Bridges On List

The 11 leftist-led unions are: United Electrical workers, United Public workers, Office and Professional workers, International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, Marine Cooks and Stewards, Farm Equipment workers, Fishermen and Allied workers, Fur and Leather workers, American Communications association, Food, Tobacco and Agricultural workers, and Mine, Mill and Smelter workers.

The unions against which the CIO delegates feel strongest are the United Electrical workers, headed by a leftist-dominated coalition, the weak "white collar" unions led by Abram Flaxer and James Durkin, the West Coast Longshoremen under Harry Bridges, and the Mine, Mill and Smelter workers.

One way the unpopular union leaders could be disciplined by the convention would be to enforce te back-dues clause in the constitution. That would catch the low-treasured white collar and agricultural unions, at least. Two months is the maximum credit leeway—even though it has never been rigidly enforced by Philip Murray.

Backing Lehman

The CIO leader planned to leave here tonight for New York, to take part in the political rally of former New York Governor Herbert H. Lehman, a candidate for U. S. senator.

Murray said he would return to Cleveland in time to prepare for the 11th annual constitutional convention of the CIO starting Monday.

Murray is preoccupied with the steel strike, he admits, but he also will be tossed into the middle of one of the worst splits in labor ranks since he and John L. Lewis helped create the CIO from a group of mass-organization enthusiasts in the AFL.

Lewis and Murray split over CIO affairs, and the mine leader took his coal diggers out of the CIO. But recently they have been almost polite to each other as a result of their parallel srikes. Lewis' miners struck Sept. 19. Murray shut down the steel mills on October 1.

Reuther Grabs Ball

Lewis offered to help Murray to the tune of $250,000 a week from the mine union treasury. He wanted William Green and the AFL to match that contribution, however, as a gesture to a labor union rival. Green said that wasn't "practicabble," and Lewis said he wasn't surprised. The shaggy-browed mine chief said Green—also a former miner—was full of "anxious inertia."

But Walter YP. Reuther, youthful head of the United Auto workers, grabbed the ball from Lewis last night. He proposed that auto workers put up $100,000 as starter toward a giant CIO strike fund. He said Wall Street had dictated the industry refusal to Murray's demands.

Irving S. Olds, chairman of the board of U. S. Steel corporation, said Murray would be responsible if a depression hit the nation now.

Olds said his company had tried to avert a strike, but that Murray had forced it on the 558,000 steelworkers.

She said "only" instead of "but." She wouldn't have, she said, if she hadn't been tired and if she spoke English better.

Greenville Approves School Bonds Issue

GREENVILLE, Tex., Oct. 26 (AP)—Greenville Independent School district voters approved a proposal for issuance of $650,000 in bonds for building purposes in balloting here yesterday.

The measure passed by a 687 to 290 count.

The money will be used to supplement an unused bond fund of $375,000 voted in 1945 and make a building program of $1,025,000.

★ ★ ★

Well, Mr. Barkley's romance has done one thing for us, anyhow. At long last it has given us a Vice President it's not possible to be unaware of!

★ ★ ★

EXACTLY six years ago, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt were ruthlessly slain in the bedroom of their home in Littlefield.

Today, a half-dozen years later, law enforcement agencies of Lamb county, of this section of the state and of the whole State of Texas are nowhere nearer to bringing the murderer to brook than they were on the morning the bodies were discovered.

Jim Thomas, a man with a criminal record as long as from here to there was twice tried and twice sentenced to death in the electric chair. Today, however, he is a free man, due to reversals by the Court of Criminal Appeals. Guilty or innocent, Thomas apparently will not be tried again—which means that officialdom is much more satisfied with the status of the Hunt case than citizens who have the queer idea that it is the business of law enforcement agencies to stay busy on cases of this kind until they are solved and the guilty punished.

Allan Shivers, the present governor of Texas, should call State Police Boss Homer Garrison, jr., into his office and say something like this:

"See here, Colonel. I'm not satisfied with your department's record in the matter of cleaning up murder cases. What's even more important, the people of Texas aren't satisfied, either. You'd better get some of your bright boys on the job of solving the Hunt case, and the many others like it, and keep 'em on the job until they get results. If they can't get results, then maybe you'd better get some who can. Why out in West Texas there must be 10 such cases—including the nine year old Bownds murder and bank robbery case at Lorenzo; the Tex Thornton murder already more than three months old; and the year-old Raymond Shook killing between San Angelo and Midland. There may be some 'perfect crimes,' Colonel. But from your department's record, one would think nearly all of 'em are 'perfect.' And that doesn't make sense."

And every succeeding governor should say the same thing to every head of the State police, whoever he may be, and he should say it about every unsolved murder in Texas.

This business of letting cases "cool off" and be "forgotten" is no good.

It is an affront to every taxpayer who has a right to expect service for his money. It is an affront to all people who cling to the quaint belief that murder is a serious matter. It is an affront to every citizen who believes there should be efficiency in law enforcement.

EVERY state legislator who has an unsolved murder in his district—and that would take in most, if not all of them—should make it his business to see that the State Department of Public Safety is built into the sort of organization Texas needs, or else refuse to vote another dollar for its operations.

Every voter, when asked to cast a ballot for a candidate for sheriff, should ask himself: Which man would I like to have as my sheriff if my county had a Hunt case? If no candidate measures up, then citizens should get themselves a candidate who will measure up—and then elect him.

While the Hunt case is not alone—not by a long shot—as an example of police inefficiency in Northwest Texas, it is the outstanding example. Perhaps it never can be solved after six years of failure, but people will at least feel better if they can see and hear of some efforts being made to solve it.

ARCHIE UNDERWOOD, the distinguished cotton man, banker, politician and football fan, is back home from Washington with a new wristwatch.

It's about the fanciest gadget you ever saw and among its features is an alarm attachment which gives off with a "burrr burr burrr" at any minute for which it is set. It's for busy guys who have many appointments and who must be punctual— and Mr. Underwood's having one has caused his friends no little glee. He's one citizen who has no more respect for time than a goat has for grand opera and five'll getcha 10 he'll be late for his own funeral.

Anyhow, Mr. Underwood has got this fancy watch, albeit he admits he hasn't yet mastered all its angles.

Fact is, he's thinking about going out to Tech and taking a course in engineering, so's he can control it. The way it is now, he gets himself waked up two or three times every night and he's got to master it—or keep it in the garage between sundown and sunup!

Every box of "go-fer" matches ever packeted bears the warning "close cover before striking match."

But very few people pay any attention to the warning and, as a result, the darn things are always exploding. They burn fingers, and in some instances, stick to the hands and cause a lot of pain.

It seems to us that some bright guy—maybe the one who figured out the atom bomb, or radar—would design a "go-fer" match packet with the emery on the back, so sparks could not possibly jump to the match heads!

Might help.

NOT long ago, Chas. H. Read, the insurance fellow, whispered in our ear that the Broadway Church of Christ building would make a fine public library; that it could be bought, remodeled and furnished much cheaper than the city-and-county can buy other property, build a new building, etc.

Since Mr. Read mentioned the subject to us, so have several other people and since it won't be long until the Broadway Church of Christ will be moving to its new home, it certainly wouldn't be out of line for the proper officials to look into the possibilities.

Of course, the present church building would have to be done over and the high steps removed (or an elevator installed) for the benefit of aged and infirm citizens.

But it is very well located; its architecture is right—and the possibilities for saving to the taxpayers are enticing.

BY DREW PEARSON: INTERNAL REVENUE NEEDS BETTER INCOME-TAX ENFORCEMENT

Many Big Tax-Fraud Cases Delayed Or Sidetracked

WASHINGTON. — President Truman's warning that there must be a tax increase recalls the fact that bureau of internal revenue experts estimate they could collect close to a billion dollars annually without increasing taxes — if they had better income-tax enforcement.

PEARSON

Two years ago the 80th Congress chopped off a huge army of income-tax examiners, a group of hard-working, underpaid public servants who have the unpleasant but necessary job of checking on people's income taxes. While part of this cut personnel has been reinstated, the tax examiners are still woefully understaffed and able to inspect only a fraction of the returns.

On top of this has developed another tax-payment deterrent—namely, delays and wire-pulling in the prosecution of tax frauds.

When the average taxpayer sees certain big shots getting away with spectacular tax violations, naturally he figures he is entitled to do the same.

This is not the fault of the treasury tax examiners nor the prosecution officers of the Justice department, most of whom are diligent public servants.

But when tax frauds are sent to U. S. district attorneys for criminal prosecution, interminable delays sometimes develop. Some district attorneys just do not want to prosecute. Sometimes local politics are involved, and since U. S. district attorneys are appointed under a political spoils system on the recommendation of local senators and congressmen, they are sometimes more inclined to take orders from congressmen rather than from the Justice department.

• • •

Delayed Cases

But whatever the reasons, here are some tax-fraud cases which have been delayed or sidetracked between the Justice department and the district attorneys in the field. In some cases no politics may be involved; but in any case the effect on the rest of the tax-paying public is bad.

Just outside Washington, D. C., the T-men found that the sheriff of Prince Georges county, Md., Earl Sheriff, had collected about $49,000 from gamblers during four years though he reported a total income of only $8,400. But when the Justice department sent this case to U. S. Attorney Bernard Flynn in Baltimore, he sent it back with advice that it was a difficult case to prosecute.

Again out in Kansas City, Kan., the T-men caught an eminent doctor, Herbest Hessler, failing to report as income 1,000 fees received from patients during three years. The Justice department sent the case to U. S. Attorney Lester Luther in Topeka for criminal prosecution, but Luther wrote back that he did not want to prosecute, because Dr. Hessler was too prominent in the community. The Justice department instructed him to proceed anyway, however, and he is now doing so.

ANOTHER SIGNIFICANT case, reported in this column as early as 1943, was that of Mrs. Eleanor Patenotre and her son over concealed profits made from the sale of the Philadelphia Inquirer, whereby the Patenotres paid a tax of only $1,567 in 1930 when they should have paid around $200,000. Thanks to the diligence of one or two treasury agents and a series of exposes by this column, the Patenotres were finally indicted in August 1948.

However, the significant fact is that the Justice department had all its information available in 1945, and that Raymond Patenotre was in this country from 1945 on. Yet thanks to Patenotre's ability to hire one of the shrewdest tax attorneys in Washington, Ellsworth Alvord, no indictment was brought until 1948. Meanwhile there were libel threats against this column.

Even after the indictment, however, another year dragged by, with much legal haggling over a compromise. Finally it was arranged that Madame Patenotre would plead guilty and pay a $2,000,000 cash settlement if she did not have to go to jail.

Most folk, of course, can't afford top lawyers or such big cash settlements.

West Virginia Gambler

Another interesting tax-fraud case was that of Bill Lias, well-known Wheeling, W. Va., gambler who originally pleaded guilty to cheating the government out of nearly $1,000,000. After he entered his guilty plea, however, a considerate judge allowed Lias to withdraw his plea and face a jury.

At the subsequent trial, U. S. Attorney Lee Spillers not only bungled the case, but was put in an extremely bad light when it was disclosed that he had once received a large political contribution from Lias. Incidentally, the Justice department had wanted to try the case with a special prosecutor, but Spillers insisted on handling it himself.

In the end, Lias was acquitted, even though he once had pleaded guilty.

Latest tax fraud case which has come to the attention of this column is that of W. J. Hardy and F. McKenzie Davison, the Arlington, Va., asphalt kings who were recommended for criminal prosecution by the Justice department last July. This decision to prosecute came only after one year's delay, and various discussions with attorneys which included one conference with Senator Byrd, plus talks with other Virginia politicians.

Four months have now passed since the Justice department's recommendation for criminal prosecution reached U. S. Attorney George Humrickhouse at Richmond, and no prosecution has begen. However, when this column recently raised a question as to the reasons for the delay, Senator Byrd issued the following statement:

"Drew Pearson has by false statement attempted to involve me in a tax-fraud case. He is a master of the technique of smearing public men by lying innuendo. . . ." After denying that he had intervened on behalf of Hardy and Davison, Byrd continued:

"Pearson has made other false charges against me and too frequently has made me a target of insidious innuendos. But I do not intend to have him maliciously create in the public mind the impression that I am involved in a tax-fraud case.

"If Pearson does not adequately correct these lies, insinuations and innuendos, I intend to sue him for libel."

This columnist has believed that, no matter what else might be said about him, Senator Byrd has always stood for honesty in government. Therefore a statement from the senator that he has intervened with the U. S. attorney to hasten prosecution, rather than a negative statement that he has not intervened on behalf of the tax violators would be much more welcome from him.

A mere neutral attitude regarding tax collection and tax evasion is not enough if we are to avoid higher taxes next year.

"Why Fix The Roof? 'Tain't Rainin'"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"SCHOOL teachers are a serious cause of maladjustment for children," charges Dr. Dugald S. Arbuckle of Boston University.

Parents, I'm convinced, should take that charge seriously. Too many conscientious parents figure that they have to back up a teacher no matter what.

If Junior dislikes his teacher so much that he dreads to go to school—his parents in all likelihood stand up for the teacher in Junior's hearing, whatever doubts about her abilities they may have secretly, and dismiss the matter with the hope that he'll draw a better teacher next year.

MILLETT

Meanwhile, if Junior's teacher really isn't at fault, he is learning to dislike and distrust the fairness of teachers, to hate school, and to feel insecure in his work-day world.

In one instance I know about parents who let a mean-tempered teacher shake and slap their children around for almost a year. No one wanted to be the parent to "stir up trouble." But just before school was out, that teacher hit the wrong boy—or rather she hit a boy with the wrong mother.

GOT QUICK RESULTS

THAT mother wasn't afraid to "stir up trouble." She stirred up so much trouble over the incident, and with the backing of the other parents who had been timid about doing anything on their own, she got the teacher out of the school.

It seems to me that parents ought to make it their business to find out what kind of teachers their children have. They should do a little investigating when they suspect a teacher is unjust or abusive or mean-tempered, instead of shrugging off the matter as though it is a situation that can't be changed.

As one teacher put it to me: "If parents only know the weight their legitimate protests carry, they wouldn't put up with letting their children be taught by teachers who haven't any business guiding children."

Fortunately for Junior there are many more good teachers than bad ones. But one really bad one is one too many in any school.

"Try And Stop Me"

ADOLF HENNEKE is a miner in the Soviet Zone of occupied Germany who has won the hatred of his fellow-workers by exceeding his daily quota so frequently that Soviet overlords not only have singled him out for special honors, but are seriously thinking of upping the quota for all other miners. Resentful associates laud him in public but ridicule him in private.

A favorite story is that he went to a dentist to have a tooth pulled. When the anaesthetic wore off there was a huge gap in the front of his mouth. "You idiot," he roared to the dentist. "You've pulled eight teeth instead of one." The dentist answered pointedly, "I too can exceed my quota, Herr Henneke!"

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Writer Is Awed By Sensitive Nose Of Perfume Firm Head

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—Monsieur Alfred Weill is not one of the big noses in the perfume business. He is, perhaps, one of the smaller noses, but his nephew Jean-Pierre, he is one of the big noses. There are only 10 big noses in the world.

RUARK

Since talking with M. Weill, whose firm, Parrums Weill, put out a variety of scents including one called Cobra, I have become extremely nose-conscious. While I will never be a big nose, in the expert sense, there is some hope for me, because I can smell music. Monsieur Weill says any man who can smell music is not-entirely insensitive.

"The French writer, De Maupassant," says Weill, "never knew whether he was hearing perfume or smelling music. That is the true sensitivity."

When M. Weill says nose, he dies not mean your nose or my nose or just any old nose. He uses the word nose in the sense baseball fans say Babe Ruth. In the perfume business a big nose is one which is capable of sniffing, sniffing, sniffing, maybe for months, until suddenly the nose says to its owner "voila! We now have an odeur to drive men wild."

• • •

Perfume Use Scorned

Noses, M. Weill tells me, are vastly superior to tea-tasters, cognac testers or even dress-makers, since the work is so demanding of perfection. To be a nose is nearly to rule the world, since M Weill is sure that love makes the world go round, and perfume makes love go round.

Monsieur Weill's slightly jaundiced gallic eye looks dimly at the American woman's use of perfume, as part of her bag of feminine tricks.

"Poof!" says M. Weill. "A dab behind the ear to soon evaporate. The use of perfume which does not fit the personality. Too much perfume. Too little perfume. Zut! The American woman has no idea of the potentiality of scent.

"Only the other day a woman pass me on the street. I do not see her face. I do not know her name. All I know is she smells good. For me, for a moment in this mad world, there is a pause—a brief moment of escape. To me that is a lovely woman, even if she is as ugly as a crow."

• • •

"THE American man," says M. Weill, "have a great sensibility of mood. You know he buys 85 per cent of all the perfume that is sold? And so he take it home to his wife or his sweetheart and she let it sit on the bathroom shelf in a bottle. What good is perfume in a bottle? Perfume is no good unless it is on a woman."

Monsieur Weill took a dropper and spilled a little scent on my hand.

"Watch," he said. "You will notice that you raise your hand to sniff at it, and as you sniff you will relax. You will feel pleasant. Your nose will lead you to relaxation.

"We do not place enough importance on the nose," M. Weill continued. "Man often thinks through his nose. Women lead men around by the nose. Decisions are made from the sense of smell. The nose is as important as all the other senses, maybe more so. Aha! I see you smell your hand and as you sniff you smile!"

• • •

Importance Is Stressed

Monsieur Weill contemplated his cigar, sniffed appreciatively at its smoke, and then sniffed his highball glass.

"I know a true story once about a man who give his girl friend many francs to buy a beautiful diamond bracelet," he said. "She goes to the jeweler and she look at the bracelet and then she says she will go away and return later to buy it. She never come back.

"Two years later she meet the jeweler and he ask her why she does not buy the bracelet and she say to him that for lunch he had been eating les escargots—the snails—with garlic sauce and she smell it on him and decide not to buy the bracelet because he does not smell nice. You see? You cannot underestimate the nose."

"When you see a lovely woman in a mink coat," M. Weill said, "you do not care whether she got the coat to keep her warm or to keep her quiet. In a way, it is like that with perfume. There is no mystery, no real drama to perfume. It is just that a woman who smell good is nicer than one who does not smell at all."

I believe I mentioned before that M. Weill, while not a big nose, does sell perfume, and might be a trifle prejudiced in its favor.

PARDON OUR YAWN

This is National Smoke Abatement week with national Honey week just around the corner. So now, perhaps, is as good a time as any to pass along a few tidbits of information appropriate to these occasions.

Smoke in excessive quantities can be quite a nuisance. Someone has figured that an excess of smoke costs Chicago $30,000,000 a year. That may come under the heading of Chicago's worry but, anyway, that's what the smoke experts say. Maybe it is a good and sufficient reason why each of us should do a little smoke abating in our own way this week.

Now, touching upon National Honey week: Honey production in the United States this year is expected to total 229,751,000 pounds. That, it seems, is too darn much honey. Stocks on hand exceed 115,000,000 pounds, as compared with an average of about 51,000,000 pounds. The idea behind the week seems to be this: If everyone can be persuaded to rush out and buy a few pounds of honey, the surplus would go down and the price would go up. Perhaps you would like to help out.

But regardless of that, the information is passed along with this admonition: Don't celebrate Smoke week too enthusiastically. Honey week is just ahead. Hold something in reserve for that observance lime and chert at its No. 1 J. G. Whatley, central-north Scurry county wildcat, three miles north of the northwest side of the North Snyder-Canyon field.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

New Producer Is Completed In Scurry; Locations Are Staked

The latest shows were in a drillstem test at 7,980-8,080 feet. The tool was open two hours and 30 minutes. There was a good blow of air throughout the period.

Recovery was 3,600 feet of free gas in the drill pipe; 55 feet of slightly gas-cut drilling mud. There were no signs of water.

The prospector drilled ahead to 8,138 feet in lime and chert and was preparing to run another drillstem test.

NO SUCCESS NOTED AT GARZA WILDCAT

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 OS Ranch, (Connell) Southeast Garza county wildcat, 15 miles southeast of Post, has failed to develop any indications of production in the Ellenburger in the section so far drilled of that formation.

Tentative, unofficial top of the formation was called at 8,034 feet.

A drillstem test was run at 8,014-59 feet. The tool was open for one hour. Recovery was 30 feet of gas cut mud.

Another drillstem test was taken at 8,059-8,084 feet. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud, with no show of oil, gas or water. The tool was open for one hour.

Location is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 2, block 5, GH&H survey.

LOCATIONS FOR THREE TESTS ARE MADE

Standard Oil Company of Texas has made locations for three new explorations to test the Canyon reef lime in the North Snyder field of north-central Scurry county. All are to drill to 7,000 feet, using rotary tools.

The company's No. 11-7 J. W. Brown is to be located 680 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of the south half of section 450, block 97, H&TC survey, and 11 miles north of Snyder.

Standard No. 2 L. N. Periman will be 467 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 394, block 97, H&TC survey. That puts it 7 miles north of Snyder.

The drillsite for the third project will be 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 393, block 97, H&TC survey and nine miles north of Snyder.

Drilling is to begin in the near future on these operations.

NEW PRODUCERS IN SCURRY COMPLETED

Three new producers from the Canyon reef lime have been completed in the North Snyder field of north-central Scurry county.

Barnsdall Oil Company finished two of the projects and the other completion was made by Standard Oil Company of Texas.

Flowing natural through a three-quarter inch tubing choke, Barnsdall No. 2 O. C. Rinehart, made a calculated 24-hour potential of 1,560 barrels of 43.2-gravity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 900-1. It also made nine-tenths per cent drilling water and basic sediment.

Flowing casing pressure was 110 pounds and the flowing tubing pressure was 300 pounds.

Completion was from open hole between the 5½-inch oil string set at 6,670 feet and the total depth at 6,828 feet.

Location of the new well is 467 feet from south and west lines of section 26, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

Barnsdall No. 8 A. L. Wren was completed for a flowing 24-hour potential of 1,344 barrels of oil, plus eight-tenths per cent drilling water and basic sediment. Gravity of that oil was 42.9 degrees and the gas-oil ratio was 833-1.

The flow was natural through a three-quarter inch tubing choke.

The production was from open hole between the 5½ inch oil string cemented at 6,767 feet and the total depth at 6,905 feet.

The well is 467 feet from north and west lines of the lease in section 20, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

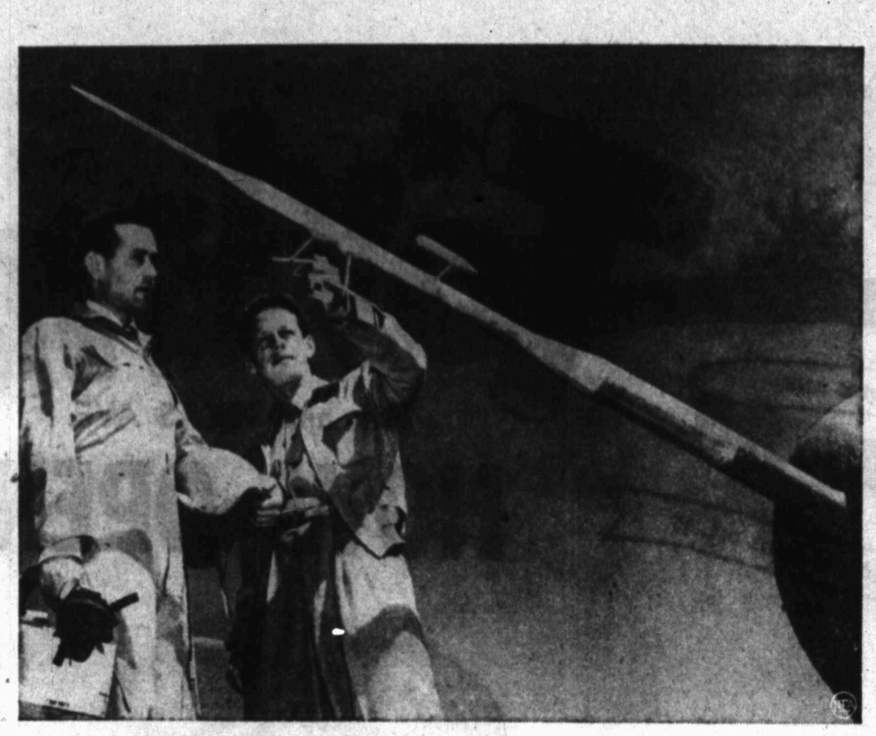

Standard completed its No. 10-1 J. W. Brown, 1,880 feet from east and 680 feet from south lines of section 450, block 97, H&TC survey, for a daily potential of 1,560 barrels of 43.5-gravity oil and no water.

Gas-oil ratio was 970-1.

It completed from open hole between the 5-inch oil string set at 6,729 feet and the total depth at 6,917 feet in the Canyon reef.

FEWER SCHOOLS THEN

GOSHEN, N. Y. (U.P.)—School bells never rang for Charles Storms, now 100. Storms, a county welfare home inmate, said there were "hardly any schools around when I was younger."

INSTRUMENT MAST PROBES AHEAD OF THE JETS—Two test pilots at Hawthorne, Calif., inspect the newly-designed "instrument mast" which probes the air ahead of the supersonic plane to make the necessary instrument readings. The air around such high-speed planes is so turbulent that it is useless for instrument readings. The new mast picks up air speed, temperature and other more technical data, and also serves as a radio aerial.

Police Check Story Confessing Murder

ST. LOUIS, Oct 26. (INS)—Los Angeles police were asked today to check the story of a sobbing Indianapolis youth was confessed a year-old murder because he was haunted by visions of the victim.

The youth identified himself to St. Louis police as Frederick Walter Pope, 22. Officers said he had signed a detailed statement describing the killing and that he had surrendered a 5½ inch knife which he said was the murder weapon.

Police said the statement identifies the victim only as a man named "Bill." The slaying is said to have occurred after an argument on a lonely road outside Los Angeles and the victim's body reportedly was buried at Santa Monica beach.

New Baptist Station To Go On Air Friday

DALLAS, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Baptists' new radio station will go on the air officially at 2 p. m. Friday.

The $75,000 station, MYBS, has been testing the past week. Its main studio is in the Baptist building here and its transmitter is 23 miles southwest of Dallas.

The station will be operated by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Shouting Might As Well Have Been In Greek

Jimmy Durante Rubs Elbows With Social Elite At Opera

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—Jimmy Durante went to the opera last night and was he mortified—he "couldn't unnerstand a woid."

The Schnozzola startled first-nighters at the opening of the San Francisco Opera company's season here by appearing among the minked and ermined crowd. The music-lover, dapper in a tuxedo and specially bought black hat ("cost me 20 smackers") claimed he recognized several barber friends in the lobby.

Acoustics Bad?

Perched attentively in his aisle seat, Durante complained in the middle of the first act, "I can't unnerstand a thing they're saying—is the acoustics bad in here!"

It was explained the opera, "Manon Lescaut," was in Italian.

"Might as well be Greek," he shrugged.

He was amazed at the shouts of bravo for an aria by Jussi Bjoerling. "They're shouting bravo and they don't even know what he's saying!"

Durante said he rubbed elbows with the Los Angeles socialites in the bar during intermission. "I had to rub elbows, nobody would shake hands with me," he added.

Live And Let Live

He claimed he detected some strains of "inkadinkadoo" in the score of the second act. "I could sue that guy (Puccini) for plagiarism!" he said excitedly. "But I'll let it go. Live and let live, I say."

He was intrigued with part of the second act. "It's just like a burleyque show," he said. "They were running in and out of closets and waving swords. But where are the dancing girls?"

Summing his review of the performance, Durante declared: "In the overture all eyes were on the conductor. In the first act all eyes were on the soprano. In the second act all eyes were on me. No wonder—I was asleep!"

The board discussed, but took no final action, on a plan to employ a crew of repairmen to refinish and repair old-model school desks and tables which are still usable.

Supt. Matthews reported that the final application for the Foundation Program was submitted to Austin earlier this month and has been tentatively approved.

Would Realise Gain

Under this Foundation Program a net gain of $425,955 on total scholastics would be realized by the school district over the old scholastic plan.

The net gain would be divided as follows: To teachers, increase in salary, $105,185; savings to local taxpayers, $320,770, or the equivalent of 45 cents per one hundred dollars increased tax rate.

In other words, the $320,770 would be a saving to local taxpayers in that this amount would keep the tax rate from being raised.

A resolution also was passed commending Mrs. Ross Ayers, school publicity director, and Dora Nell Carroll, director of cafeterias in the Lubbock schools, on an article. "Cafeterias By the Dozen," describing the local school cafeteria system, which was recently published in The Nation's Schools, national school magazine.

Board members present at the meeting were Clyde G. Tatum, president, Don L. Jones, G. C. Dowell, W. H. Evans, Glenn Woody, Ruel Martin, and A. C. Jackson and Supt. Matthews.

UNIFICATION PROBLEM STUDIED

Rumor Has It Administration Planning To Oust Navy Chief

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Speculation around the Pentagon today was that the administration is trying to figure out just how to remove Admiral Louis Denfeld from his command of the navy.

Those doing the speculating took it for granted that a top level decision has been reached to drop Denfeld. A Pentagon huddle yesterday was followed by a meeting between President Truman, Secretary of Defense Johnson and Secretary of the Navy Matthews.

Out of these meetings grew the speculation that the problem now had become one of the method by which Denfeld would be relieved—and whether there might be other changes. There are a number of other highly-placed naval officers who, like Denfeld, quarreled with the way service unification works out for the navy. They, too, were witnesses in the House armed services committee hearings on the military forces' quarrel.

No Recent Precedent

There was no immediate indication of how the administration might go about asking for Denfeld's resignation or directing his ouster. Friends of Denfeld said the admiral so far has given every evidence of intending to remain until removed, that he doesn't intend to resign from his job as chief of naval operations, to which he had just been reappointed for another two-year term.

There is no recent precedent for ousting a military officer of Denfeld's rank and position. Like the chiefs of staff of the other services, he was appointed by the President, with confirmation by the Senate. Thus, it would take presidential action to remove him.

Significance was seen in the fact that when Johnson called a meeting to consider "lessons to be learned" from the House committee investigation he invited only the civilian heads of the armed forces and his own deputy and assistant secretaries. No uniformed members from the quarreling joint chiefs organization—among them Denfeld—were invited.

Johnson Cautious

From this Pentagon meeting Johnson and Matthews went almost directly to the White House to talk with the President.

Emerging from the meeting, Johnson was cautious in talking to reporters. He disclaimed responsibility for the widely circulated reports that Denfeld was to be fired—and insisted that "I am saying nothing now that could support or deny it."

But if Denfeld and Gen. Omar Bradley—who at the hearings deplored "Fancy Dan" admirals who wanted to run unification their own way—didn't meet in Johnson's office they did come face to face over a conference table in the afternoon.

The joint chiefs of staff then held its first meeting since Denfeld's criticism and Bradley's sharp-tongued reply shook the hearing chamber.

"Normal Meeting"

When the three hour and fifteen minute meeting was concluded Bradley was asked by reporters if it was harmonious. The general replied with one word:

"Sure."

To another question, Bradley said he had no comment about whether the joint chiefs discussed the Capitol Hill testimony they gave. Bradley said "it was just a normal meeting."

It looked as though, whatever ill-feeling may have developed between Bradley and Denfeld, the general doesn't feel the same about all admirals.

He came out of the conference room with an arm thrown over the shoulder of Rear Admiral Arthur C. Davis, director of the joint chiefs, grinning and talking to him.

Police Seek Bandit In Grocery Holdups

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Washington police are seeking a bandit who four times this week has held up business houses after asking for (1) bologna, (2) strawberry soda, (3) cigarettes and (4) greens.

Now being dubbed "The Bologna Bandit," the man struck three times Sunday, getting a total of $172.

He pulled his requests, in the above order, before robbing each place. He never showed a gun but kept his hand menacingly in his pocket while announcing he wanted money.

Last night in the fourth robbery, he got $60 from a market's cash register while the proprietor was in the back room filling the order for greens.

Guglielmo Marconi, Italian inventor, first began to experiment with wireless in 1890. He obtained his first English patent in 1897.

Interesting Story Of National Affairs Journalism Is Related By Top Writers

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—The way Cabell Phillips, the tough editor, looked at it, he might as well be as mean with the big shots as he was with cub reporters. He was.

That's the way good books are made. And Phillips, a Washington correspondent for the New York Times, has put together a good one in "Dateline: Washington."

So for the first time, we have the complete story of national affairs journalism. There are 18 interesting chapters, under some of the most famous by-lines of our day, and tracing the developing of national affairs reporting from the days shortly before the turn of the century up to now. The focal point is the history of the National Press club, where newsmen meet to eat, grab a short one between deadlines, and discuss the fate of the world.

Deadline Is Set

Phillips, with the best of the best under his editorial thumb, snapped his galluses and kind of ho-hummed when he got the assignment as editor of "Dateline: Washington." How could the man miss?

He missed.

He set a deadline for copy. Most of the chapters run up to 5,000 words. Most of the men who wrote them are used to meeting deadlines. Six or seven a day. Not a man made the first deadline. Doubleday and company, which was doing the press club a favor by putting out the book in the first place, got a little unhappy.

The editor got out his bat. The copy came in. A lot of it, from the big shots, who were busy making other deadlines with columns and books was—to quote somebody—lousy.

Most of it went back.

The big shots were shamed, or something, into turning out one of the finest books of its kind ever to see black type. It starts off with an introductory note by Arthur Krock of the New York Times. Next is a chapter by Duncan Aikman, whose assignment has been the U. S. and Latin America for years.

One of the best essays is by the dean of the press coop—Bascom N. Timmons, who corresponds for a string of Texas papers and who can sell a piece to almost any magazine he wishes. (He re-wrote his, too.)

He wrote about reporting in Washington as it used to be.

The placid twenties are described graphically by Fletcher Knebel of the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Scott Hart, associate editor of "Changing Times" magazine, described how the press club happened to come into being. Theodore F. Koop, of CBS, told about the part radio has played in the changing Washington scene. Homer Joseph Dodge, author and now correspondent of the committee for constitutional government, recited how wet Washington, and the press club, were during the dry years. The story of the building itself was written by Hugh Murrow of the Saturday Evening Post. Washington in pictures and the history thereof was told jointly by Howard L. Kany of the AP and William C. Bourne of the INS.

Lyle C. Wilson, chief of the United Press bureau in Washington, wrote about the war years during the second world conflict. It is a chapter which starts off with graphic description of how the newsmen were jarred off their chairs by Pearl Harbor and ends with the National Press club mourning its dead—which were many.

There are other chapters—about censorship, the problems of Wallace R. Duel of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in reporting the diplomatic scene, Fred Othman of United Features in trying to be funny in an unfunny world, and Tom Stokes of the same syndicate in telling us how it is to cover Washington today.

It's swell book.

Judge Throws Loan Case Out Of Court

DETROIT, Oct. 26 (U.P.) — Andrew Soyak will have to go somewhere besides court to collect the money he loaned Alfred Galle at 180 per cent interest.

He charged Galle, a resident of Austin, with larceny by conversion in failing to repay $5,000 he loaned him, plus interest he estimated at about $25,000.

Judge Joseph A. Gillis threw the case out of court after Soyak said he loaned the money at 15 per cent compound interest a month, or more than 180 per cent a year.

Old Age Pensioner, 107, Is Found Dead

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 26. (AP)—An old age pensioner, believed to be 107 years old, was found dead in his rooming house here yesterday by police.

He was Howard Degood, who is believed to have come here six weeks ago after he ran away from a Lima rest home.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, and police officers determined his age from identification cards found in his pockets. No known relatives could be located, police said.

According to Mrs. Jennie Mahon, operator of the rooming house, he came to her home "about six weeks ago and became ill a few days later."

Mrs. Mahon said Degood's favorite pastime was sitting in the back yard counting a "huge roll of paper money." When police inspected his room yesterday they found the nestegg. All but $40 of the roll was play money.

STRIKING SOUND

The ticking sound made by a death-watch beetle, popularly supposed to presage death, results from the beetle's striking its head against a hard surface, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

IN HOLLYWOOD: BY ERSKINE JOHNSON

It's Top Secret, But Deanna May Be On Comeback Trail

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (NEA)—It's a top secret at M-G-M so don't mention it to anyone but Deanna Durbin may hit the film comeback trail under the guidance of the man who made her a star, producer Joe Pasternak.

Deanna and Joe have had several secret huddles since expiration of her UI contract. Joe is convinced he can duplicate with the adult Deanna all those wonderful films he made with the child Deanna.

She is convinced, too, so watch for an announcement.

Add George Montgomery's name to the list of movie tradition breakers — he always kisses the leading lady in his westerns.

"I've got a safe formula," he told me. "Three dead cattle rustlers, two Indians, two chases, one stampede and one kiss."

Xavier Cugat is talking a term deal with Warner Brothers . . . Sonny Tufts' kid sister, Jeanne, is working with an experimental theater group in Boston . . . Lucille Ball, the inveterate party giver, topped herself the other night then she gave a kiddie party in honor of her mother. Lucille explained: "She gets younger every year." Next year, I suppose, Lucille will host a baby shower for her grandmother . . . Frances Gifford turned down three roles as a sweet, helpless maiden because she claims she isn't.

There was a subtle ulterior motive to that recently published list of Hollywood's 10 worst-dressed men.

It was inspired by a studio trying to counteract recent publicity that one of its top he-man stars really is a dandy. The star conveniently was placed on the list.

CARRYING ON

Before his death, Frank Morgan purchased a large area of beach frontage near Ensenada, Lower California, with the idea of starting a sort of Mexican Palm Springs. His widow, Alma, tells me she'll carry on the project. Which reminds me:

The Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce clapped hands with glee over news that a week of the Joan Crawford film, "The Victim," would be filmed on location there. But the smiles have turned sour. In the film the town will be called Desert Springs.

Talking about a certain play girl actress, Barton MacLane said: "She has a lot of hidden charms—trouble is she gives too many clues." . . . Joan Blondell is being paged for a road company of "Born Yesterday." . . . Bill Williams nixed $30,000 in U. S. money to do a film in Italy which would have cast him in another bobby-sox role. Says he wants only he-man roles from now on.

Unfilmed drama: Pat O'Briend with a lump the size of a watermelon in his throat when 91 - year - old James Goodfriendly, an ex-Alamaba slave, showed up at his home—to thank him for being nice to his grandson at a USO base during the war.

Ida Lupino has turned director for her second independent movie, "Never Fear." Other day she was shooting a scene in front of a Santa Monica real estate office and went in to explain the action to the owner. His secretary was alone.

• • •

"DOESN'T HURT A BIT"

"All I want," Ida told the girl, "is for my leading man, Keefe Brasselle, to walk up as far as your door."

The secretary took a long, lingering look at Keefe, standing beside Ida, and replied:

"As far as I'm concerned he can come right through the door. I'd love it."

Bing Crosby bought a big cattle ranch in Idaho for $75,000. With his luck, he'll probably find oil on it . . . "Diamond City," the first British western ever made, will be premiered in the U. S. I can hardly wait to hear the leading man say, "We'll head 'em off at the gulch," in an English accent . . . If things go right, Marilyn Maxwell will be picked up her fan mail at UI for the next seven years.

Hollywood is taking another financial beating in Australia because of the devaluation of the English pound. Hollywood revenue has been cut by 30 per cent. If things get any worse, one independent producer I know has it all figured out. He 's going to fill his swimming pool with dirt and raise potatoes.

U. S. Boys Say They Prefer French Girls

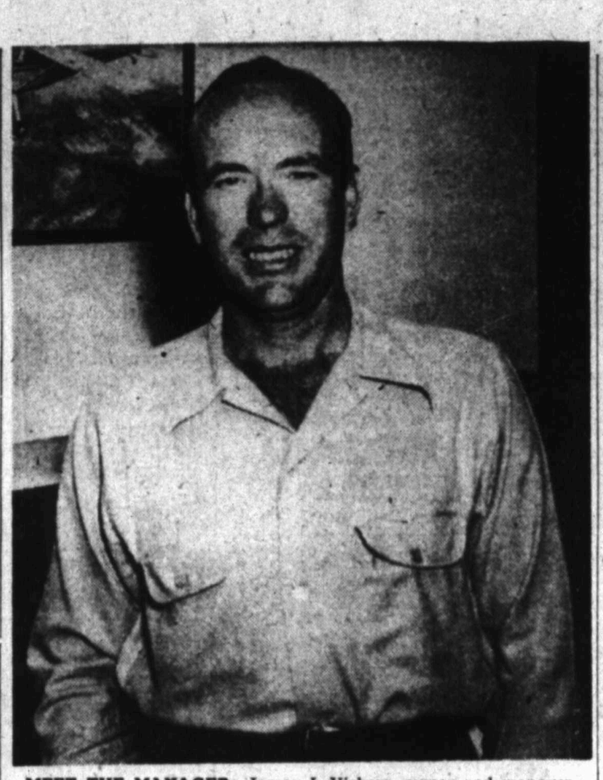

ENDICOTT, N. Y., Oct. 26 (U.P.)—French girls respond more readily to the "friendly" approach than American girls and don't play "hard to get," in the opinion of two Endicott College students.

Richard A. Ives and Richard J. Powell also observed that:

"They (French girls) make better companions—you can talk to them more openly. They're more athletic.

"They wear less make-up, are more mature emotionally and intellectually—they're more feminine.

"They make better housewives because they like the work and aren't worrying about careers."

MEET THE MANAGER—James J. Vickers, owner and manager of Vickers Aircraft at Municipal airport, Cessna distributors, was born in Lubbock April 1, 1920. He grew up, attended Lubbock public schools and was graduated from Lubbock Senior High school in 1937. He attended Texas Technological college four years, then became a civilian flight instructor for the Army Air Corps at Brady. He then joined the Air Corps and became a pilot with the Army Transport Command in 1943, serving as a pilot in the Ferry command, with duty in the China-Burma-India theater of operations. He was released as a first lieutenant in December 1945, and he returned to Lubbock to establish the Cessna distributorship, sales, service, parts and flying school business, which he has operated ever since. His hobbies are his business, flying and photography. Mr. and Mrs. Vickers and two daughters, Molly, 3½, and Rebecca, six months old, live on the Plainview highway. (Staff Photo).

Brain Machine Okay But It Can't Think

AUSTIN, Oct. 26 (U.P.)—Relax, advises a University of Texas professor. There's still no substitute for the human brain.

Scientists have developed a complex machine, bearing the name of multiharmonigraph synthesizeranalyzer, which is used to solve highly technical problems.

However, said Dr. S. Leroy Brown, University of Texas physics professor, the "brain machines" react to stimuli but don't think.

The machines work out problems that would take years of manpower, but the problems first must be worked out by the human mind. One of the machines will be used to analyze 1950 U. S. census date.

There's no chance that the "brain machine" will take its place alongside the television set in the front room. They're still so expensive only the government can afford to build them.

Japan hopes to develop a good export market for small cars.

Negro Facing Death Penalty

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26 (AP)—The shadow of the electric chair again hangs over Aaron Turner, convicted slayer who was granted a stay of execution last June by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Turner, 28-year-old negro, was charged with slaying Frank Endres during a holdup of a Philadelphia broom company in December, 1945.

After he was convicted on a murder charge, the Supreme Court voted five to four to grant him a new trial. The high court ruled Turner's constitutional rights were violated in that trial because he was held for a long period of time without being permitted to consult his family or attorney.

Coercion Charged

During his new trial, which ended yesterday, Turner testified detectives attempted to beat a confession out of him after his arrest. This was denied by the detectives named.

The state was prohibited by the Supreme Court from introducing a purported confession by Turner, around which the first trial had been built.

After deliberating only 20 minutes yesterday, the jury of four men and eight women again found Turner guilty of murder in the first degree—a verdict that carried with it a mandatory death penalty.

The verdict may be appealed, however. Defense Attorney Edward P. Rome was granted the usual four days in which to file a motion for another trial.

STATUE HITS BACK

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U.P.)—Even the sculptor faces occupational hazards. Romeo Puccini suffered a broken ankle when a six-foot, half-ton religious statue toppled over on him while he was working on it.

Ex-Production Exec Of Films Seeks Job

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26. (AP)—A man who once made a half-million dollars a year in the movies now is advertising for a job.

He is B. P. Schulberg, who between 1925 and 1932 was managing director of production for Paramount studios. He han full-page ads in filmland trade papers yesterday, citing his third of a century service to the films and adding: "Industry loyalty is a two-way street."

In one ad he said: "Some of my friends who are not top executives tell me that doors are closed because I have in my time talked back to some of the big boys.

"This is the only business I know. I am able to work as hard as anyone in it, and as proficiently as most."

Asked about his financial status, Schulberg told a reporter: "I'm not broke. But I need to start being active in business—and right now, too."

Five Out Of Family Of Six In Hospital

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 26. (AP)—The Patrick Naughton family could almost hold a reunion without leaving the Mid-Valley hospital at nearby Peckville.

On Monday, Naughton's three sons—Joseph, Patrick, and John—were admitted to the hospital for tonsillectomies.

Later in the day, their mother was taken to the same hospital and presented the boys with a brand new sister.

P. S. Mr. Naughton is doing fine—at home.

CEREMONIES CONDUCTED AT SITE

Ground Broken For Community Clubhouse By Sundown Lions

By EMMETT SHOCKLEY
Journal Staff Writer

SUNDOWN, Oct. 26—The Sundown Lions club Tuesday officially undertook a major community project, one that will require hard work and co-operation from every member and fom the community as well.

In a bief groundbreaking ceremony shortly after noon, Lion Pres. R. P. Brouthertin turned the first shovelful of earth at the site where a new $8,000 Community house is to be erected within a year.

Officials Attend Ceremony

The ceremony was attended by Mayor Lester S. Dudley, Bill Hall, superintendent of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing company, which donated the land; several officers of the three Sundown women's clubs who have pledged their support to the project, and members of the Lions club.

To be located in the southeast part of town, the Lion-sponsored project, when completed, will have an auditorium forty feet square, a kitchen, rest rooms, and a storeroom. The building will face north with space remaining on the east side for additions later on.

Lion Hugh Elledge will supervise construction of the building. He will be aided by members of the building committee, E. G. Black, Enloe Thomas, E. E. Smith, and Herb Nunnelly.

The Women's Garden club headed by Mrs. L. L. Buck, the Women's Study club headed by Mrs. Lester Dudley, and the Women's Music club headed by Mrs. Terry Stark, plan to take an active part in the erection of the building.

Brouthertin said it would be necessary for the entire community to take an interest in the erection of the new Community house, and to help in its completion in order to assure the success of the project.

He said the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing company which already has donated the land, was prepared to donate 300 sacks of cement to the project, and indications are that a considerable amount of lumber to be used in the building also will be donated or provided at a very low cost.

The idea for the project was brought up in July when Brouthertin first took office as president of the club.

Ladies present at the ceremony were Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Dudley, Mrs. Elledge, and Mrs. Brouthertin.

Lions present and not including those already mentioned were O. W. Gordon, Matt Thomas, S. D. Glascock, Ed Oden, J. G. Blevins, Charlie Akin, Leroy Nix, R. E. Horne, Royce Womack, J. W. LaMar, and Billy Key.

Spaghnum (peat) moss is antiseptic and objects like logs, cloth and even bodies buried in it are prevented from rotting and sometimes preserved for centuries.

Hallowe'en Motif Will Be Stressed

Food and decorations stressing the Hallowe'en motif will be enjoyed by children in Lubbock's 14 cafeterias for the next four lunch periods, according to Mrs. Dora Nell Carroll, cafeteria director.

Cafeteria managers and helpers are using seasonal decorations in most schools, and some are even wearing Hallowe'en hats and aprons. At K. Carter school the sixth grade room of Mrs. L. C. Cravens is taking the decoration of the cafeteria as its project.

Menus beginning this morning and continuing through Monday will be as follows: Wednesday, swiss steak, parsley buttered potatoes, spiced apple sauce, muffin, open face raisin pie with cheese pumpkin, one-half pint milk, and butter; Thursday, chicken croquettes with cream gravy, buttered potatoes, prune and cheese salad, hot rolls, orange and chocolate layer cake with orange frosting, butter, and milk; Friday, Italian spaghetti, buttered English peas, glazed carrots and raisins, orange muffin, chocolate pie with orange whip topping, butter and milk; Monday, beef noodle stew, buttered green beans, hot buttered peaches and prunes, tomato biscuit, honey raisin cake square with orange frosting and raisin face.

Special appetizers, salads and desserts to be served throughout the week will include: sliced orange with raisin face, doughnut shaped orange jello with prune filling, peach halves with clove faces, orange juice, mixed orange and prune juice, congealed carrots and raisin salad, orange jello faces, ambrosia in orange cups, orange pear salad, and prunes and orange cocanut.

Drilling Firm Sold To Ford Interests

SNYDER, Oct. 26 (Special) — Thomas W. Doswell, Henry Ford II and associates today announced the purchase of the Caraway Drilling company, formerly operated by Bud Caraway of Big Spring.

Doswell, with his associates, has opened a vast new area of canyon reef pay in the Knapp community 18 miles southwest of Snyder.

He announced that the group also is taking over the Bud Caraway well, an old test drilled four years ago in Borden county. This well will be carried to 10,100 feet from the present depth of 8,750 depth.

The old Caraway well will be renamed the No. 1 Cantrell wildcat project. It is located in the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 22, block 32, T6N, E. L. and RR company survey.

The test is located 15 miles northwest of Gail and four miles northeast of the Sinclair Ellenburger discovery, No. 1 Sterling Williams.

Drilling operations are to commence immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Doswell and T. M. Pettigrew, spokesman for the Kanzler-Ford interest, left Dallas this afternoon by plane for New York City. They plan to return to Snyder early next week.

Night illumination at the 1933 World's Fair in New York City was 30,000,000,000 candlepower, according to estimates.

Parents, Pupils Attend Exhibit

Large numbers of both parents and students are attending the art exhibit being held this week at the O. L. Slaton Junior High school and sponsored by the Lubbock schools, assisted by the Parents-Teachers associations. The exhibit is open each day this week from 2:45 until 5 p. m. and from 7 until 9 p. m. Special programs are being presented by host schools during the exhibit hours, according to Miss Dorothy Lomax, general chairman for the exhibit.

On Monday afternoon students of K. Carter school, directed by Miss Bernice Bay, gave a vocal concert, while students, parents, and teachers at George M. Hunt school were hosts.

Slaton students acted as hosts Monday night when students from George R. Bean school presented a pantomime of Gilbert Stuart's George Washington, with choral reading by students from the sixth grade room of A. H. Smith. The program also included a reading by Rose Ann Blackwood, with piano accompaniment by Sybil Marion; a violin solo by Garl and Brock; piano solo by Sandra Bean; steel guitar solo by Billy Gibson; piano solo by Jo Marie Booth, and a violin solo by Denevee Turner.

McWhorter School Gives Program

Tuesday afternoon teachers and parents from Walter Posey school were hosts and a program was presented by McWhorter school. Mrs. Ernest Wilpitz furnished background music during the afternoon.

Picture posing by students of Senior High and Dupre was a feature on Tuesday evening. Students in the Dupre chorus, directed by Mrs. Leon Tabor, and in the Senior Girls A Capella choir, directed by J. H. Penn, gave special selections. Pictures posed by the schools with background music by Gerre Hancock were: Le Benedicite by Charden, posed by Suzanne Alderson, Evelyn Cross, and Catherine Lane. Richard Strout, Senior High, posed for Whistler's portrait of Thomas Carlyle, and Carol Ham posed for Huldah's Girl in Pink Hat.

Pictures to be posed by Dupre students are: Boy With Rabbit by Sir Henry Raeburn, posed by Dan Knight; Virgin on Step by Titian, posed by Carolyn Hill; Pinkie by Lawrence, posed by Jane Bagett; and Boy Samuel by Reynolds, posed by Alta Ada Cates.

Other Schools Plan Programs

Sanders and Overton schools are to be hosts this afternoon, with a special program to be presented by students of Miss Ethelyn Schmidt and Miss Grace North. Pictures are to be featured which lend themselves to seasonal songs, songs about pets, Indians and lullabies, and the chorus will sing appropriate songs to go with the pictures.

To open the program tonight the band from J. T. Hutchinson Junior High, directed by Harry Born, and the chorus, directed by Miss Nell Goodloe, will present several numbers. Following the musical concert 15 students from Roscoe Wilson school will present picture poses each six minutes.

Thursday afternoon Cottage, Central Ward, and Special School are to be hosts. A play is to be given during the afternoon by students of O. L. Slaton. Thursday evening P. F. Brown and Carroll Thompson Junior High will be hosts. Students of Brown school have planned a program of poetry to accompany featured pictures. Sleepy Hollow Road by Schwarz will be shown as Jeanette Wilbanks reads Trees by Kilmer. As the picture October Sunshine by Kautzky is featured Lewana Hilburn will read Augumn's Mirby by Samuel M. Peck. Nan Kelly will read the poem Columbus by Joaquin Miller as the Landing of Columbus by Pietchman is shown, and Helen Smith will read The Sea by Cornwall as the picture High Tide by Wood is shown.
