Attlee Decries Palestine Blast

50 Wounded Victims Of King David Hotel
Are Treated In Jerusalem Hospitals

LONDON—(P)—Prime Minister Attlee told the House of Commons Tuesday that "of all the outrages in Palestine, many and horrible in the past few months," the blasting of the King David Hotel in Jerusalem Monday was the worst.

Attlee said his latest figures for "this insane act of terrorism" were 41 dead, 52 missing and 53 injured.

(Dispatches from Jerusalem said 48 were known dead and 50 were unaccounted for.)

The prime minister said all available information was to the effect the perpetrators of the crime were Jews.

"As this house knows," Attlee continued, "his majesty's government are at this moment in consultation with the government of the United States with a view to arriving at proposals for a just settlement of the Palestine problem, which will be placed before the representatives of both Arabs and Jews."

"His majesty's government has stated and stated again that they will not be diverted by acts of violence in their search for a just and final solution of this problem."

Eden Urges Prevention of Recurrences

Anthony Eden, speaking for the opposition, asked Attlee for assurance that the Labor Government intended to take "every step in its power and provide the local authorities with every sanction they might need" to prevent recurrences.

"Certainly," replied Attlee.

Majority Leader Herbert Morrison announced later the government would accept debate on its Palestine policy next week, probably on Wednesday.

Laborite Samuel Silverman asked Attlee if there was credible evidence that the terrorists were Jews and whether the government "appreciated" that the continued detention of Jewish leaders left the land free for others.

"Mr. Silverman does injustice to members of the Jewish agency in suggesting that arrests made of certain number of persons included the whole responsible leadership of Jewry itself," Attlee replied. "It is quite untrue."

20 Jews Held As Death Toll In Hotel Bombing Reaches 48

JERUSALEM—(P)—A police spokesman announced Tuesday the detention of about 20 Jews in connection with the terrorist bombing Monday of the King David Hotel which left 98 persons dead or missing.

The known dead mounted to 48.

Military rescue crews who toiled in the debris of the hotel, the seat of British army headquarters and the secretariat of the Palestine government, reported that 41 bodies had been recovered and seven others located. Fifty persons were unaccounted for.

The police spokesman said that, although most of the party which planted milk cans of explosives were Arab dress, all the evidence indicated they were young Jews.

Eyewitnesses said the attackers spoke Hebrew. The spokesman said a search was "going on right now in the old city of Jerusalem."

A truck and a taxi, both stolen, which were abandoned by the attackers were searched for fingerprints and other possible clues.

Workers moved 200 tons of debris under floodlights during the night, and the officer in charge said the job was less than half completed.

Hospitals reported that 50 persons were still undergoing treatment for injuries and that dozens of others had been treated for minor wounds.

The Palestine government said the missing included 12 senior British officers of the government secretariat. The names of British victims were being withheld pending notification of their kin.

Palestine civil service workers held a 15-minute memorial of silence at noon Tuesday for the workers killed in the blast.

A curfew imposed shortly after the explosion was lifted at 5 a. m. except in the immediate area of the $1,000,000 hotel. Nevertheless, all Palestine continued tense.

Resentment of both Arab and Jewish communities rose noticeably following publication in The Palestine Post of the names of Arabs and Jews who were killed.

THRESH FIRE EXTINGUISHED

A fire alarm was sounded Monday from the Tasty Grill, where city firemen extinguished a trash fire, which did not damage the building.

State Will Combat
Bubonic Plague Threat

AUSTIN—(P)—The State Department of Health is preparing to combat threat of bubonic plague in West Texas.

The disease has not yet struck a single victim but discovery of the infection has been made in fleas taken from rodents over an area of 300 square miles near Morton in Cochran County, State Health Officer George W. Cox reports.

The infected fleas were found to be carried by ground squirrels, prairie dogs, rats and mice in low-lying valley areas by United States Health Service research workers.

State laboratory findings here verified the diagnosis as bubonic or syphilis plague. The two diseases are considered identical.

Anti-Poll Tax Bill On Senate Calendar

WASHINGTON—(P)—The anti-poll tax bill landed firmly on the Senate calendar Tuesday.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) promised that before Congress adjourns he will call up the measure to outlaw state poll taxes as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

Barkley's pledge was made after Senator Morse (R-Ore.) tied the Senate in knots for two hours Monday by offering the poll tax repeal as a rider to legislation to give the states title to ocean tidelands.

When Southerners headed by Senator Russell (D-Ga.) threatened a filibuster, Barkley moved to piggyback Morse's rider. The Senate responded with a 54 to 23 vote to put it on the shelf.

But Barkley said he will help proponents get the measure up on its own merits in a few days.

Southerners who oppose it said they expect to talk as usual until supporters—who claim a majority favors the bill—finally decide they can't get a vote and give up.

The House passed the legislation more than a year ago. It is directed at poll tax laws in these seven Southern states: Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

City Closes Pool

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Chairman Mead (D-NY) of the Senate War Investigating Committee demanded Tuesday that the War Department "discipline" high-ranking Army officers in the Garsson munitions case. He specified those shown to have travelled on official military orders during wartime to a gay wedding party for the daughter of a munitions maker.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Barring last minute changes, the earth's fifth atomic bomb explosion will occur at 4:35 p. m. Wednesday, EST. Seventy-five ships in Bikini Lagoon are ready with the battleship Arkansas and the carrier Saratoga near the detonation center.

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—Reports from Asuncion indicated Tuesday that Paraguay was undergoing a change of government as a result of the successful civilian revolution in Bolivia, her neighbor to the northwest. There was no word of violence, but President Higinio Morinigo was said to have asked permission from the armed forces to resign and leave for Brazil.

MAY IGNORES TUESDAY MEETING —

Stenographer Asserts Freeman, Garsson Asked Her To Be 'Hazy' In Testimony

WASHINGTON—(P)—Red-haired Jean Bates, former secretary in the Washington office of a munitions combine, said Tuesday that Joseph Freeman and Henry Garsson had asked her to be "hazy" in testifying before the Senate War Investigating Committee.

She testified that Freeman and Garsson, officials in the combine, attempted to "play upon my sympathy" when she met their request with a refusal to "perjure myself."

They were particularly anxious, she said, to prevent her from telling the committee, under oath, that she had seen Albert Jacobson, $9,975-a-year War Department consultant, in the combine's Washington office.

The conversation with her former employers, she related, took place on July 12—the same day she appeared before an executive session of the committee to tell what she knew about the affairs of the combine.

She said that Mrs. Freeman had called her away from her brother's birthday party to the Freeman home where she met both Freeman and Garsson.

They asked her first what she had told the committee in private session, she said, and then quickly got to the point of Jacobson.

The committee meanwhile held out to Representative May (D-Ky.) an offer to meet "morning, noon or night" so he may testify in the munitions case without interference with his duties as a legislator.

Chairman Mead (D-N. Y.) extended it after Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) suggested that an early morning or night session might accommodate May.

"The committee," Mead told reporters, "will extend every courtesy in its power by setting a date convenient to the chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee. I hope that he will put in his appearance very promptly. We will meet morning, noon or night to be as cooperative as possible and to accommodate his convenience."

The committee sent May a subpoena to appear Tuesday, but instead of his appearance it got word that he was "too busy" with legislative matters to comply. As a member of Congress, he can ignore the committee's subpoena with immunity, at least while the lawmakers are in session.

May said he might be able to appear "at an early date."

Senate Passes Bill
To Give Tideland
Title To States

WASHINGTON—(P)—Congress appeared ready Tuesday to dump the politically explosive tidelands bill on President Truman's desk.

But even legislators who think they sometimes know the White House attitude in advance admit they are puzzled about its fate.

Granting the states clear title to oil-rich tidelands extending three miles or more into the ocean, the bill involves a long-standing controversy between Edwin W. Pauley, and former Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes.

Despite the vigorous opposition of Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) the Senate passed the measure by a 44 to 34 vote Monday and sent it back to the House for expected early agreement on its final form.

Barkley said he hopes the President will veto it.

But any such action would be a slap at Pauley, California oil man who favors state ownership. It would be a feather in the cap of Ickes, who has been critical of the President since he resigned from the cabinet.

The ending bill would also give states undisputed possession of lands beneath navigable rivers within their borders—something which was declared in debate never to have been questioned. It has nothing to do with control of navigation on these rivers.

Funeral For Polio
Victim Set Tuesday

Funeral services for Wilma Ethel Dunbar, 32, employee of Standard Oil Company of Texas, Midland's first polio victim who died Sunday in a Big Spring hospital, were scheduled in Houston Tuesday.

She recently had spent a two-week vacation in Houston. She suffered the attack eight days ago and was rushed to Big Spring Friday night.

Survivors include four sisters, Mrs. L. H. Mitchell of Houston, Mrs. Bertram Grosbeck of Washington, D. C., Mrs. B. E. Jones of Clarendon and Virginia Dunbar of Midland.

Negroes Seek Austin
As University Site

AUSTIN—(P)—The Supreme Court was asked Tuesday to consider a mandamus seeking to compel the board of regents of the University of Texas to establish a branch for negro students in the state capital.

Everett H. Givens, Austin negro dentist, filed a motion for leave to file a petition in the latest court move involving negro higher education in Texas.

Givens' petition recited that an election held in 1882 directed that the constitutionally authorized branch of the university for the education of negro youths be established in Austin.

Tuesday Is Deadline

Chinese Communists Protest

Area 'Invasions' By Marines

NANKING—(P)—The Communist New China News Agency said Tuesday that Communist General Yeh Chien-Yi has protested to Peiping executive headquarters the repeated "invasions" of Communist-controlled areas by U. S. Marines.

An agency dispatch reported that Marines along the Peiping-Mukden Railroad entered more than 10 villages near Changne, with 300 in a group. It said that on July 14, the outskirts of Changne were "invaded by 150 Marines while seven American warplanes were overhead. The dispatch came from Tsunhua, Hopei Province, in a sector where seven Marines were kidnapped by an armed band of Chinese on July 13, precipitating widespread Marine searches.

The agency also alleged that on July 11 Marines stationed at a railway bridge sent nine tanks into the area near Tachuan, destroying many paddy fields.

The agency said that Communists regarded such activities as "an unreasonable challenge of Chinese sovereignty" and warned that the Communists would take defense steps if they continued. It added that "if conflict occurs," the responsibility lies with the Marines.

When the OPA died June 30, the Agriculture Department immediately stopped purchasing meat and wheat for foreign relief.

The withdrawal was due in part to the desire not to add to demand at a time when there were no ceilings and in part to not knowing whether foreign governments would pay the higher costs.

In a special report Monday, the department said indicated an improvement in the corn crop of about 146,000,000 bushels and of 42,000,000 in wheat.

With OPA's future still uncertain, the Agriculture Department official said no decisions had been reached on relief buying.

Prospects Increase
For White Bread,
Larger Loaves

WASHINGTON—(P)—Prospective record-smashing crops of corn and wheat raised the possibility Tuesday of whiter bread, larger loaves and, perhaps, more beer, once the harvests are in.

At the same time the bumper crop outlook put pressure on government officials to decide soon whether to resume buying of grain for famine relief.

An Agriculture Department official close to policy making told a reporter it is possible there may be some easing of domestic restrictions on consumption of grains if the excellent crops prospects are realized. He asked not to be quoted by name.

Fogelson Wildcat Test In Southwest Ector County Said To Be In Silurian

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor

E. E. Fogelson and Cosden Petroleum Corporation No. 1-D-C University, Ellenburger wildcat in northwest quarter of section 1, block 35, University survey, in the Powell shallow field, in Southwest Ector County, was making hole below 7,903 feet, in Silurian time, topped at 7,815 feet, according to call of some geologists.

High And Low

Elevation is 2,910 feet. On the basis of that mark the project is correlated to be 450 feet low to Phillips Petroleum Company, et al, No. 1 Eldon, Ellenburger discovery about two miles northwest. On the same basis it is said to be 48 feet high to the top of the Silurian in The Texas Company No. 29 Connel, Ellenburger failure a short distance to the west.

This wildcat had previously been put in the Silurian, by some observers, and then found to be still in Devonian. The call this time is said to be definite.

Cities Service Oil Company, et al, No. 1 Parker, Central Ector County exploration, in northeast quarter of section 20, block 44, TP survey, T-2-S, ran a 12-hour and 37-minute drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 12,485-488 feet, through 15 casing perforations.

Flowed Some Oil

The packer was set just above 12,485 feet. Gas showed at surface in 45 minutes; mud flowed at surface in four hours and 22 minutes and oil started flowing in four hours and 32 minutes and it flowed by heads to pits for two hours and five minutes.

At that time it was turned to tanks, and a six-hour flowing test was taken. Recovery during that time was at the rate of 33 barrels of fluid per day—of which 20 per cent was oil—and the other 80 per cent was sediment and water.

The zone tested was reported to be at about the oil-water contact in the Ellenburger. Operator is to squeeze off those perforations and will perforate and test near the top of the formation which was picked at 12,450 feet.

Made Oil And Water

Skelly Oil Company No. 1 Huddleston, Southeast Fisher County wildcat, about three miles west of the Noodle Creek field, is flowing ahead from 4,347 feet, in the Canyon lime, after a drillstem test for three hours and 25 minutes at 4,306-47 feet.

Fort Worth Man Wounds Vel Son, Commits Suicide

FORT WORTH—(P)—Walter T. Scott, Sr., 53, former acting secretary-treasurer of the Texas Electric Service Company, critically wounded his 20-year-old son with a shotgun blast and then killed himself at his Fort Worth residence Monday night, Justice of the Peace Frank Hurley said.

The son, Richard W. Scott, Navy veteran discharged last Saturday, is in a critical condition from wounds in his chest and abdomen.

Hurley said the father fired one shot from the first floor of the residence as his son was coming down the stairs. Hurley rendered a verdict of suicide in the death of the father.

Scott resigned from the utility company several years ago because of ill health.

During the tea hour, the hostesses, Mrs. John Drummond, Mrs. Richard Peters and Mrs. W. B. Standefer, served refreshments to 21 members.

Daughter Of Mine

By
R. Louise
Emery

Copyright, 1946, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Cecily's wedding is over at last. But never will I forget the cruel thing I did to her. How can I explain to Corinna and Robert that they—my daughter and my husband—have been cheated all through the years for Cecily's sake? And that she wasn't worth it? Della? Della hates me for what I've done to Cecily's life.

CHAPTER II

YOU have to know Della before you can understand Cecily. Della always had a fair cut of the world's goods, but some peasant strain in her still remembers a generation when a penny or a crust of bread meant life or death. She is the most unpredictable mixture of parsimony and pound-foolishness I've ever met. She resigned from the Women's Club when they raised the price of their monthly luncheons from thirty-five to fifty cents. She said she couldn't afford to pay that much. She grieved for weeks that time the P. T. A. asked her to donate two cakes for their sale to raise money for a Christmas party "honoring" the Marlin district children.

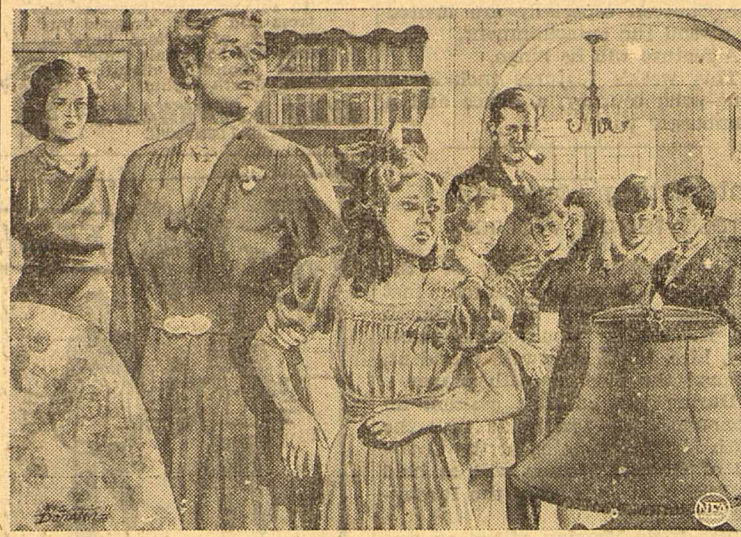

Della told me exactly how much she was out of pocket for those two cakes—and she figured in the amount of electricity used in the baking, and her time on a union wage scale. Then, when the cakes were auctioned off they sold for less than Della figured they had cost her—and of course the P. T. A. pocketed the money.

Della was so mad that she gave a party herself for the children from across Marlin street, just to show the P. T. A. up. She was afraid to give it in her home because the kids might smash some of her lamps or scratch her furniture, so the youngsters came to our house.

Della had ordered ice cream in molds and two huge decorated cakes and there was an expensive toy for each guest as a favor. Of course there was a Christmas tree—a towering silver spruce, since the P. T. A. had bought a mere cheap pine for their party.

But in spite of all its trimmings the affair would never have gotten started if it hadn't been for Robert. Even our modest cottage above the children from the hand-to-mouth district, and the beautifully appointed table in the dining room made them ill at ease and somehow resentful. Cecily, eight years old, looked like the Sugar Plum fairy in a short frock that was all pink silk net ruffles and pale green satin ribbons. No one else—certainly not Corinna—wore anything remotely comparable to it.

THE kids from across Marlin street wearing their scuffed shoes and pitiful patches, took one wild look around them, read the condescension on Della's countenance, and huddled with their cohorts near the door, planning to make a bolt for it. Only Robert's entrance with an armful of wood for the fireplace circumvented them.

Della took her out of the game for fear her dress would be torn. Cecily started to cry and I bit down hard on my lip for fear of saying what was in my heart.

They all knew Robert. He had organized clubs for their after-school hours and had talked the city council into buying a playground for them.

Before long he had all of Della's guests interested in the games he had planned for them. Even Cecily got in on London Bridge and had a hilarious time until the moment arrived for the final tug of war. Then Della took her out of the game for fear her dress would be torn.

Cecily started to cry and I bit down hard on my lip for fear of saying what was in my heart. Val saved the moment for us. He extended his hand to Cecily. "Come on," he invited, "we'll work a jigsaw puzzle in the game room Mr. Wynne lets us use."

Della opened her mouth to object as they started off together, but Robert called her to assist him with a new project and between us we kept her so busy all afternoon that Cecily was given a measure of freedom. Robert was not as unobtrusive as he sometimes seemed.

Thanks to Robert's talents the party was a masterful success and the children were grateful. But although we told them that their gifts and goodies had come from Della, the youngsters all thanked Robert and me when the party was over. Della didn't like it and when an item appeared on the social page of the town newspaper the next day beginning, "Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wynne were hosts at a children's Christmas party in their home yesterday"—and listing Della and Cecily among the guests, she was furious.

SHE telephoned me immediately and accused me of having given the information to the paper. "Good heavens, Della, I never thought of such a thing," I said. "It's mighty funny!" Della declared. "You and Robert were taking credit for everything all afternoon—I suppose it would do Robert some good around town if people thought he had enough money to give a party like that."

"Don't be childish, Della," I wanted to shake her. "Robert's position doesn't depend on the social page."

"Who else do you think would be interested in putting in a notice?" she demanded.

"Probably the mother of one of the children," I said. "Wanting to see her youngster's name in print."

"Then you certainly must have given the mothers the impression that you were paying for everything," Della insisted.

"You sent the invitations," I reminded, tempted to slam the receiver down.

"Have you called the paper to tell them what a bone they made?" Della asked. "That's the least you could do if you really wanted to be honest and square about it."

Anger welled up in me until the blood sang in my ears. "What difference can it possibly make?" "It makes a difference to me," Della retorted. "I wanted Myrtle Ralston to see that notice."

"Then YOU gave it to the paper," I said.

"I didn't give it the way it was printed," Della denied angrily. "Somebody evidently called in and had my information changed."

"Della," I tried to control my exasperation. "Nobody else called in. Reporters get so many stories in a day that they can't just remember all the details. Somebody wrote the story in a hurry, saw that the party was held at our house and assumed—"

"Well, I'm good and burned up about it!" Della said. "I spent all that money just to show Myrtle Ralston that I don't have to raise money from other people's cakes when I want to throw a party—and you get all the credit for it."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

The Eastern delegation which flew out to California for the first real bridge competition between the East and West had to be satisfied with one national championship. The national mixed pair event was held in San Francisco and won by Harry J. Fishbein of New York and Mrs. Paula Bacher of East Orange, N. J.

Returning on the plane, Fishbein complimented Mrs. Bacher on the exactness of her defensive play, which she demonstrated in today's hand.

At most tables South was able to buy the contract at four spades and in most cases made five. However, when declarer won Fishbein's opening club lead with the ace and returned a spade, Mrs. Bacher (East) won the trick with the ace and shifted to a diamond. Now declarer had to lose a diamond and a heart.

Had Mrs. Bacher made the mistake of returning her partner's suit, a club, declarer would have ruffed, picked up the other trump, cashed the ace and king of hearts and then led a small heart. Now all Mrs. Bacher could do would be to get her queen of hearts, as the losing diamond would be discarded on declarer's good heart.

Mrs. Bacher knew from the bidding, especially the five-club bid, that Fishbein held six clubs. If declarer's side distribution was hearts, as it was, she realized that if they were ever to get a diamond trick, she had to establish it immediately.

World Series Money Inspires Cards, Dodgers And Cubs In Homestretch

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
World Series money will be dangling in front of the Cardinals, Dodgers and Cubs Tuesday as they open important engagements in the National League pennant race.
The Boston Red Sox are about "in" if they can play 500 ball the rest of the way in the American League, but the senior circuit still is wide open. St. Louis and Brooklyn come east in an exact tie for first place with identical 53-34 records, and the defending champs from Chicago are only five games back and coming strong.

Inability to beat the lowly New York Giants consistently has been as embarrassing to the Cards as failure to top St. Louis has been to Brooklyn. Mel Ott's gang has trimmed the Red Birds 8 out of 13, and the Brooks have copped only 3 of 12 from Eddie Dyer's crew.
St. Louis, fresh from a successful home stand in which it beat the Eastern visitors in 10 of 13 starts to pick up five full games on the faltering Dodgers, opens its next-to-last long road tour in the Polo Grounds. Three dates there, followed by another trio with the Braves in Boston leads directly to a July 30-31-August 1 set at Ebbets Field.

Despite the disastrous jaunt, on which they dropped 8 of 13, the Brooks came home with a four-game victory string. Durocher has juggled his lineup into some semblance of stability with Rookie Bob Ramazotti installed as the regular third baseman. The ex-GI is hitting .325 for 10 games.
Chicago, like the Dodgers, has been plagued by failure to down St. Louis but has managed to stay in the race by picking on the Giants in 11 of 14 meetings. They're all even with the Dodgers in 14 games and can't afford to drop the series opening in Brooklyn Tuesday night.

City Bus Downs Burl's, 20 To 11

Ahead at one time, Burl's One-Stop "Dead-End Kids" dropped a 20-11 softball decision to City Bus Monday night.
The Bismen finally got the range and started the bats booming and went on to win.
The victory gave Petty's nine a .500 per cent rating in the Red league, down below the big three of JayCees, Oil Scouts and MAAF. Tonn of City Bus hit three consecutive homers and singled on his fourth appearance. Whitson of Burl's hit a four-bagger.

Exploration for oil is underway in the Bahamas, although none has as yet been found.

Wilson's 66 Dubs Elder Chevrolets

Wilson's 66, successor to O'Neal's, won a ball game very convincingly Monday night, 13 to 10, over Elder Chevrolet.

The boys hustled and gave Bud Wilson, new owner of service station and ball club, a victory.
Wise pitched the winner and hit two homers in addition. Stolenberg and the rest of the gang were right with him.
Elder came along strong in the latter stages of the game.
