VOLUME XXII No. 22.

LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1921

PUBLISHED TWICE A WEEK

LUBBOCK'S RESPONSIBILITY INCREASES AS SO. PLAINS DEVELOPS

WE STAND TODAY IN THE LIMELIGHT OF ALL TEXAS IN POINT OF PAST AND PRESENT DEVELOPMENTS

LUBBOCK ACKNOWLEDGED PLACE FOR FAIR

The Chamber of Commerce Has a Great Amount of Work in Connection With the Growth of Our City and Every Progressive Citizen Should Contribute to Its Maintenance.

"Responsibility Accompanies Position" is an old saying in reference to a man's obligations to the world and his fellowmen as he rises in the financial, literary or ecclesiastical world. It is the old, old story of the man with the One, Two and Five Talents.

Lubbock stands, today, in the limelight of all Texas in point of past development, present opportunities and future responsibilities. She is spoken of as among those towns in the entire Southwest who are doing things. "The Hub of the Plains" is not an empty phrase coined alone for advertising purposes but is a very apt figurative expression of the responsibility Lubbock owes, not only to herself but to the entire South Plains Section with which she is surrounded.

Greater demands are being made upon Lubbock businessmen, Lubbock Civic and Commercial Organization in point of unselfish effort, leadership, time, financial support and foresight. There is not a businessman in the city that fully appreciates his obligation to the city and this section that does not give more than one-fifth of his time to the various Civic, Commercial, Religious and similar public progress of this city. This is addition to continual subscriptions of money to support such organizations. These are the men that are responsible for the fact that Lubbock stands foremost in the minds of the State as a city of Progress and Opportunity. And it is thru their efforts, and large expenditures of time and money that the chronic grouch continues to see his property advance in value and the city become a more pleasant place in which to live in spite of all his efforts to the contrary.

There is just one difference between Lubbock County with her approximately 15,000 prosperous citizens, her good schools, strong towns, improving highways, increasing land values and boundless opportunities for peace, progress, renowned and prosperity and the great waste of Hockley County with their meager population, one school, and small renowned and that difference is folks. As a citizen of Crosbytown very aptly expressed the situation, "It may be a beautiful country, but you can't do business with a beautiful country." It takes folks!

It seems to those of us intimately in touch with the problems and demands of the city that it is just one soliciting committee after another, one problem to follow a dozen more, one thing each day that demands more time and effort and attention until it with absolute reluctance that the directors of the various organizations call upon their membership to give more of their time and money to the various matters that come up. And yet there can be no going backwards. We have committed ourselves as one of the leaders of the State in point of progress Development, and a Habit of Grabbing every Opportunity that comes our way for improving our town and it is just up to us to keep digging and doing—one thing right after another.

When asked to write a short story as to why the British were able to defeat the Spanish Armada back in history, one boy turned in a fourteen word story that covered the case better than many pages might have done: "The Defeat was caused by the Spaniards' lack of three Ships: Seanship, Markmanship and Leadership."

Lubbock's future position in the State depends likewise upon three Ships: Workmanship, Friendship and Leadership.

And today is the opportunity presented to us and the obligation required of us to not only take this Leadership, but to actively maintain it. The Fair proposition is one of these responsibilities and we have no real choice in that matter. The Plains is looking to us to hold this lead that we have taken. Amarillo attempted a Tri-State Fair that was a Tri-State Fair and its failure was due, according to one of the Amarillo papers, to lack of support on the part of the businessmen of that city. Now they are trying to stage another exhibition in the way of a Poultry Show and have as yet only been able to raise $1,000 as against Plainview's budget of $3,000. It is up to us to show with Plainview in the Poultry Show and to bring the entire Panhandle to show with us in our Fair.

Our Chamber of Commerce Membership must be increased in proportion with the growth of our town. There are less than six men members of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce who should increase their subscription one cent. There are more than 200 men who should be members of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

There is one hotel in the city that is a member of the organization and they first of any other individual business in the city receive a benefit from the activities of the organization.

There are three wholesale houses out of the entire fifteen who are members of the organization and they received more direct results from the activities of this organization than any one other business activity in the city.

On the other hand practically 95 percent of the retail business houses and professional men of the city are members and are carrying as much as they should carry in the organization.

Preparation is being made to give publicity to those men who are supporting the city thru this organization, thru the Red Cross and the other public activities of the city. They are entitled to the more favorable consideration of every citizen of the city that is interested in the growth and development of the city and section.

Towns Do Not Happen—They Are Built.

This organization and this city is no better or worse than the folks, just like you, that go to make them. Your advice and assistance is needed—hence this call.

Until you put as much time, thought, money and effort into the upbuilding of the city and the organization as the best worker in either of them—You really haven't any right to criticize. When you do put that much of yourself into the city and the organization, you will understand the difficulties too well to criticize.

"Are You a Citizen, or do you Just Live Here?"

Two New Brick

Residences Being

Finished on Ave N

Our local town builder, contractor S. R. Jackson, is just about to complete the residences of Mesdames Jesse Summers and Eva Knight, on sixteenth street and N Avenue. These two homes are a credit to any town, and are well located, and the fact that they are on the same block makes that section loom up to the pedestrian who happens to walk that way. These homes are being built at a total cost of about thirteen thousand dollars. We are proud of the work of our builders, and when we look about the town and see the rapid progress they have made in filling the contracts for modern homes we are glad to know that they are backed up by as fine country as was ever cultivated. The homebuilders part in the progress of this country is not lacking in any way, and at the rate they are now working, Lubbock will soon have the reputation of being the site of the most beautiful homes anywhere. Please notice that all our homes and other buildings are being built of the most substantial materials, a characteristic of everything that is made or manufactured on the Great South Plains.

REPORTS OF COTTON RECEIPTS FROM VARIOUS SECTIONS OF THE STATES SHOW RECEIPTS ARE LIGHT

Comanche.—Cotton sold Monday at 16 cents per pound. Seed $30. Receipts four bales.

Lampasas.—Cotton sold Monday from 15 to 17 3-4 cents. Cottonseed $32.

Colorado.—Cotton sold in Colorado Monday 17 to 18 1-4 cents. Receipts 42 bales.

Marshall.—Cotton sold Monday 16 to 16 1-2 cents. Receipts by wagon 35 bales. Total 3,060 for season. Cottonseed $28.

Vernon.—Cotton 16 3-4 to 17 cents. Receipts 100 bales. Cottonseed $24.

LaGrange.—Monday's receipts 17 bales. Midding 17 1-2 cents. Cottonseed $28.

Temple, Texas, Nov. 7.—Gins of Bell County ginned 24,968 bales prior to Oct. 18, as compared with 70,147 for the same period of last year. This bears out first estimates of a 25,000-bale crop, as the cotton is 95 per cent ginned in the county.

The crop will be one of the smallest in history, compared with that of last year, over 100,000 bales, which was a record breaker.

Iredell, Nov. 7.—There were 582 bales ginned here this season. This is the smallest amount that this county ever has ginned. The country continues dry, and the prospects for a grain crop another year are doubtful.

M'Alister, Okla., Nov. 7.—To Oct. 15 in Pittsburg County there had been 9,631 bales ginned. It is estimated there are about 2,000 bales yet to be ginned. All the same time last year the county had ginned 18,766 bales, and had scarcely started as the season ran over 42,000 bales.

One-third of the difference is said to be due to the cut in the acreage, and the balance is due to the ravages of the boll weevil.

Marshall, Texas, Nov. 7.—The gin report for Harrison County shows 7,983 bales ginned up to Oct. 18, as against 13,541, for the same date last season, or a decrease of 5,558 bales.

Lockhart, Nov. 7.—Small lots of cotton are being brought in. The main crop for the year has been gathered and ginned. The wagon receipt will show 17,747 bales, about half of the number marketed last year.

Seymour, Nov. 7.—Eight thousand bales have been compressed at Seymour this season, and indications, despite the short crop, are favorable for a 20,000-bale run. With the help of a strong local market Seymour has become one of the big cotton concentration points of West Texas.

Bangs, Nov. 7.—After one of the shortest ginning seasons on record, the local gins have closed for this year. About 2,116 bales were ginned this year, as compared with 5,980 last year. Most of the cotton has been sold to date, little remaining in the hands of the growers. About 400 bales are being held here by local buyers.

Ablene, Nov. 7.—Cotton received in Abilene to date totals 7,700 bales, which is a slightly higher record than anticipated. The staple continues to come in slowly, but the bulk of the crop has been gathered. Much of it is being held for better prices. Little has been done about Fall plowing, because of the prolonged dry spell.

In speaking of plans to be followed in regard to the estate, Mr. Ralls said it was the request of his brother that the estate be held intact, and that the job of boosting and building up the properties would be continued with the same policies maintained by him since Ralls was first laid off as a town site.

NATION NOW AT PEACE WITH THE WORLD

Since Last Thanksgiving Day Many Changes Have Been Wrought In Our Land and the Country Is Gradually Working Back to a Normal Condition, No Calamities Visited Upon Us.

O. L. Slaton Is Back From War Finance Board Meet

Mr. O. L. Slaton, president of the Lubbock State Bank reports that completion of the Agricultural Livestock Finance Corporation was made in Fort Worth and the charter applied for Monday, and that the officers and directors are now ready to meet the demands of the organization in relieving the financial situation of our farmers and stockmen. Mr. John Sparks, president of the Stockyards National Bank of Fort Worth was elected president and the board of directors has been appointed with Fort Worth men, that a quota can be easily assembled in case of the need of a rushed meeting.

The organization's attorney found that under the laws of Texas only twenty one men are required to make the quota for a board of directors of an organization of this nature, and as there were originally forty-eight directors appointed the remaining directors were formed into a special Advisory Committee that will be very effective in helping solve the problems of this worthy organization.

West Texas has three men on this special committee, who are now busy with application blanks helping the farmers of this section receive attention of the organization. O. L. Slaton of Lubbock, W. H. Fuqua, president of the First National Bank of Amarillo, and Bob Underwood, cashier of the First National Bank of Plainview, are the West Texas members of the special advisory committee.

The organization accepted the first application Wednesday and Mr. Slaton was ready with a list to be sent in from this place, and says the far reaching effect of this assistance on the farmers and stockmen of this section, like all other sections of Texas, will increase the optimistic feeling that has been so conspicuously absent from the local markets for the past few months. Mr. Slaton in his eagerness to serve the people of this community was unwilling to wait for applications to arrive from the main office of the company, and had the Avalanche print a special form that he may be enabled to render service at the first opportunity.

REVIVAL MEETING AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

A revival meeting was opened at the Baptist church Sunday morning by Rev. F. S. Evans, field man of the Seminary at Fort Worth and Singer Payne, of Abilene, assisted by the local pastor, Rev. Evans is a very instructive speaker and the people of Lubbock are proud to have the opportunity of hearing him talk at this meeting, and with the assistance of Mr. Payne, we are sure the meeting will be a success. The doors of Lubbock open to these men, and we hope they will feel that the entire citizenship wishes them well in the revival.

LAMB COUNTY HAS DESTRUCTIVE PRAIRIE FIRE

A prairie fire started on the Fred Schreier place south of Olton, Lamb county, Monday night, and spread into the south end of the Soade Ranch, destroying about sixty-five sections of fine grass. Men of Olton, assisted by almost the entire male population of Littlefield, worked several hours with brooms before the flames were brought under control. This is the second fire of this nature within the past month, and owing to rank growth of grass there is constant fear of its recurrence, and it is believed there will be more teams and plows employed in making fireguards before another such destructive fire is started.

MARKETED 434 POUNDS OF TURKEYS WEDNESDAY

E. E. Nix was here Wednesday from his farm, nine miles south of town, with a load of fine turkeys, thirty-four of which weighed the nice total of four hundred and thirty-four pounds. Turkeys do well in this climate, and the price paid on local markets makes their raising a profitable business.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Campbell, of Littlefield, were here yesterday. Mr. Campbell is going to open a garage in Abernathy, where he is well-known and has many friends. He is a mechanic of unquestionable ability, and we are sure that the people of Abernathy will appreciate his services.

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Harding issued a proclamation Monday night designating November 24, as a day of thanksgiving, devotion and prayer and urging the people to give thanks "for all that has been rendered unto them," and to pray "for a continuance of the divine fortune which has been showered so generously upon this nation." The proclamation follows:

A Proclamation. That season has come when, alike in pursuance of a devout people's time-honored custom and in grateful recognition of favoring national fortunes, it is proper that the president should summon the nation to a day of devotion, of thanksgiving for the blessings bestowed and of prayer for guidance in modes of life that may deserve continuance of divine favor.

Foremost among our blessings is the return of peace, and the approach to normal ways again. The year has brought us again into relations of amity with all nations after a long period of struggle and turbulence. In thankfulness, therefore, we may well unite in the hope that Providence will vouchsafe approval to the things we have done, the aims which have guided us, the aspirations which have inspired us.

"We shall be prospered as we shall deserve prosperity, seeking not alone for the material things but for those of the spirit as well; earnestly trying to help others, asking, before all else, the privilege of service. As we tender thanks anew for the exaltation which came to us, we may fittingly petition that moderation and wisdom shall be granted to rest upon all who are in authority in the tasks they must discharge. Their hands will be steadied, their purposes strengthened, in answer to our prayers.

"Ours has been a favored nation in the bounty which God has bestowed upon it. The great trial of humanity, though indeed we bore our part as well as we were able, left us comparatively little scarred. It is for us to recognize that we have been thus favored and when we gather at our altars to offer up thanks we will do well to pledge, in humanity and all sincerity our purpose to prove deserving. We have been raised up and preserved in national power and consequence as part of a plan whose wisdom we cannot question. Thus believing, we can do no less than hold our nation the willing instrument of the Providence which has so wonderfully favored us. Opportunity for very great service awaits us if we shall prove equal to it. Let our prayers be raised for direction in the right path. Under God, our responsibility is great; to our own first, to all men after, to all mankind in God's own justice.

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States, hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-fourth day of November, to be observed by the people as a day of thanksgiving, devotion, and prayer; urging that at their heart's desire and their altars, they will give thanks for all that has been rendered unto them, and will pray for a continuance of the divine fortune which has been showered so generously upon this nation.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the seal of the United States of America.

"Done at the capitol of the United States this thirty-first day of October, in the year of Our Lord, nineteen hundred and twenty-one, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundredth and forty-sixth.

"WARREN G. HARDING.

"By the president: Charles E. Hughes, Secretary of State."

GOV. NEFF CONTRIBUTES FLOWERS TO UNKNOWN DEAD

Austin, Nov. 8.—A floral offering consisting of a Lone Star emblem has been ordered by Governor Neff from a Washington florist to be placed on the grave of the unknown soldier who is to be buried in Arlington cemetery on Armistice Day.

Austin, Nov. 8.—Receiving by wire today from Secy. of State Hughes a copy of President Harding's proclamation declaring Armistice Day a holiday, Governor Neff issued a statement urging the people of Texas to observe the two-minute silent prayer that President Harding requests in proclamation. From 12 o'clock noon on Armistice Day to two minutes after that hour Governor Neff urges that the people observe this request of the President as a silent tribute to those who lost their lives in the World War.

Nearly twice as strong

Make your old home
new with Upson Board

LOOK up at your ceilings! Are they cracked and unsightly—broken in spots—dangerously sagging—likely to fall and damage your furnishings?

There is an easy way to make them better than new—without irritating muss or bother.

Your carpenter or contractor can quickly nail big, strong, sturdy panels of Upson Board over the old broken plaster of walls and ceilings.

UPSON-BOARD

Do not confuse Upson Board with ordinary wall-board. It is different! It is nearly twice as strong, as proven by actual tests.

It is also harder and stiffer, and, on account of its smooth, non-absorbent ready-primed surface, it takes paint better than ordinary wall-board, and costs $5 to $15 per room less to decorate.

So in spite of the slightly higher first cost, Upson Board is by far the cheapest board in the end.

MR. SHEELY PLEASED WITH THE AVALANCHE

W. O. Sheely, one of our prize farmers was in the Avalanche office Monday investigating his standing on the mailing list to be sure of missing no issue. Mr. Sheely has been on our list a long time, and had many encouraging things to say about our rapid growth that made us feel like we sure enough were doing something with the efforts put into this paper. We are proud of every reader we have and are always glad to hear of their being pleased with the Avalanche. Besides making a practice of harvesting a bumper crop every year, Mr. Sheely raises a fine flock of thoroughbred chickens that are bought at a profitable price by local dealers, and he has found the sale of eggs from these flocks a paying proposition.

Mrs. Shaw Wants To Make Armistice National Flower Day

Mrs. Simeon Shaw, of Canyon, wife of the pastor of the Methodist Church, was in Amarillo yesterday in behalf of her International Flowers Day plan. She has just returned from Kansas City, where she attended the national convention of the American Legion. Referring to the presentation of the flowers to General Pershing and Marshal Foch, she said that they came from Amarillo. Mrs. Shaw was honored with a splendid write-up in the magazine section of the Fort Worth Record Sunday. This article told of the hard fight that she has made in behalf of her dearest ambition. International Flower Day for former service men, both living and dead. She urges that flowers of some kind be worn on Victory Day, November 11.

Mrs. Shaw will be in Amarillo on Victory Day. Her work in the Panhandle is drawing to a close as she and her husband will leave for Tennessee on November 15 to make their home—Amarillo News.

WAS SURPRISE OF HIS LIFE, HE SAYS Oklahoma Business Man Says Tan- lac Restored Him A Year Ago —Still Feels Fine.

"I endorse Tanlac from the bottom of my heart, for it set me right a year ago and I have enjoyed the best of health ever since," said Claude E. Anderson, 290 Garfield St., Sand Springs, Okla. Mr. Anderson is a member of the firm of Anderson and Day, and his standing and influence are too well-known to require further comment.

"I hadn't been in good health," he went on, "for some two years and was so run-down generally I could hardly take care of my business. What little I ate did me more harm than good and I felt tired out from morning till night. I was nervous and restless and my whole system seemed to be out of order. I didn't know what it was to feel good, and I was worried over where it would all lead to."

"I saw Tanlac so highly recommended that I made up my mind to try it, and nothing ever surprised me more than the way I picked right up. Three bottles simply put me to feeling like I had been wanting to feel, and to this day I have been in good health as I ever was in my life. Tanlac certainly proved its worth in my case and there is no question about its being a great medicine."

Tanlac is sold at all leading Drug Stores.

Amarillo Contractor Is Missing From His Home Town, Report

According to the Amarillo Tribune, M. W. Easum, contractor of Amarillo, has mysteriously disappeared from his work, on a job in that city.

Easum was last seen in Amarillo Wednesday evening, Nov. 2, about 3 o'clock according to J. S. Bittle, foreman for Mr. Easum on the building for George Willingham. Mr. Bittle stated Monday afternoon, that Mr. Easum drew about $500 from the bank Wednesday and that he had some other money on his person which he was going to take to Adrian to use in paying the men he has employed there in tearing down a brick building. Easum was last seen according to Bittle when he entered an automobile in front of the Smith & Parks Tailoring Company's place on East Fifth Street.

Thursday morning, a telegram was received from El Paso, according to Bittle, signed by M. W. Easum, stating, "Arrived in El Paso all O. K. Going into Old Mexico."

Friends of Easum state that they do not believe that this telegram was from Mr. Easum, since it is believed that it was hardly possible for him to have reached El Paso in the time that had elapsed since he was last seen in Amarillo and the hour of the sending of the message.

Howard Lauder, son-in-law of Mr. Easum, left for El Paso Friday afternoon to ascertain whether or not the message was from Mr. Easum, and according to Mr. Bittle nothing has been heard from him as yet.

Mr. Easum was about 60 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall and would weigh about 135 pounds according to his friends.

George W. Willingham and several other friends of Mr. Easum are in the surrounding country searching for him, according to Mr. Bittle.

W. O. ROGERS AND MR. PRIMM RETURN HOME

Our good Missouri friends, W. O. Rogers, and his son-in-law, Mr. Primm, were in to see us Monday afternoon. They have been spending a few days here the past week, looking after the farm property of Mr. Rogers, and were preparing to start back to their home in Missouri, Tuesday morning. Mr. Rogers is well pleased with the conditions of this section, as to crop productions, but is not pleased with the prices obtained for the products of the farm. This condition is not local however, as the same trouble is experienced with the farmers in Missouri.

AMERICA'S ANSWER

Rest ye in peace, ye Flanders' dead!
The fight that ye so bravely led We've taken up! And we will keep
True faith with you who lie asleep,
With each a cross to mark his bed,
And poppies blowing overhead
Where once his own life blood ran red!
So let your rest be sweet and deep
In Flanders' fields.

Fear not that ye have died for naught,
The torch ye threw to us we caught!
Ten million hands will hold it high,
And Freedom's light shall never die!
We've learned the lesson that ye taught
In Flanders fields.

As a Rural Mail Carrier Sees the Farmers

For the past three years I have been a rural letter carrier, and until this year I have not farmed any. I have a small crop of corn, planted late. It had no rain for nine weeks from time of planting. I could not get labor at the proper time to cultivate it, and I can't say that I am very proud of it.

I have carefully observed the methods of many farmers, whose farms I pass daily. Some of them are real up-to-date farmers who are making their farms pay. They practice early breaking and planting, rapid and shallow cultivation, and plant peas, velvet beans and peanuts to build up their land and for feed for their hogs and cattle.

These farmers have their farms well improved. They have nice, comfortable homes and large, roomy barns. Their horses, cattle and hogs are kept in good condition. They keep busy the whole year building and repairing houses, fences, etc., through the winter months.

Some of these farmers are going to market in their automobiles, and all of them have bank accounts. Almost all of them are subscribers of the Southland Farmer, and other good farm papers, and many read the daily newspapers. Such farmers are with their country and their government contented with their occupation, ment.

There is another class of farmer, that is well represented here. They are the ones who do not believe it is necessary to prepare their land until time to plant, and are afraid to plant early, as the old weather sometimes causes them to have to plant again, and they say that their labor is lost. They believe in laying by their crops early, and often neglect important cultivation to go fishing. One can hardly see their crops for the bushes and briars along their fences. About the only work they do in the winter is getting wood to build fires to sit by.

They do much grumbling about the high cost of living, however, and think it is awfully bad to have to pay high prices for meat, land, flour and corn meal, chops and oats for horse feed, and other farm products that most of them could easily raise. They blame the capitalists for all their troubles, and their local merchants "gets his" too.

They criticize the government from constable to president, and cannot give any real reason for doing so. They all say the same things in the same way, and it is easy to see they are not original. They are very discontented, and unhappy, and small wonder. The only papers they read are calculated to arouse discontent and prejudice, and as they believe them to be the only papers not influenced by "big interest," and therefore the only ones that publish the truth, it is enough to make pessimists of them. I am glad to say that some of this class of farmers are beginning to subscribe for good farm papers, and if they read them they can not fail to be benefited.

CALOMEL SALIVATES EVEN WHEN CAREFUL

Treacherous Drug can not be Trusted and Next Dose may Start Trouble

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue, and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

Railroad Rates

Deter Producers In Every Line

Why did the Inter-State Commerce Commission in July, 1920, order a horizontal freight rate increase of 35 per cent, effective as of August 26, 1920?

Who asked that such an increase be made?

The answer to the first question is that the commission was importuned into doing it, and by whom?

The railways. When the Denver live stock freight rate hearing was had before Examiner Disque, a hearing in which the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange participated, through its attorney, Walter Farrar, and in behalf of the shippers, too, the railways denied that present rail rates were hurtful to the live stock industry. The same contention was had at the Chicago hearing on the same phases of the rate situation. The railways contended that rates were not too high on live stock and asked the commission to stand by its guns and maintain Ex Parte No. 74, the 35 per cent horizontal rate increase.

Examiner Disque, following the Denver and Chicago hearings, reported to the commission that his findings indicated that live stock rates were unjust, inequitable, and unfair to the live stock shippers. This formed the basis of the final hearing at Washington, and the roads vigorously denied every one of Examiner Disque's findings.

The commission, the body that had granted the 35 per cent rate increase because it was capoled and brow beaten into it by the attorneys for the railways, ruled against Examiner Disque and the shippers, and sided, again, with the railways. There was nothing confiscatory or unfair, unjust or inequitable in present live stock rates, the commission ruled in effect.

Then it turned around and recommended a 20 per cent reduction on the long haul where the live stock rate was more than 50 cents a hundred pounds. Farcial? Yes, but no more farcial than Mr. T. DeWill Cuyler's statement to the public for the railways to the effect that agriculture cannot pay the rates imposed on its products.

The whole thing has developed into a damnable farce. The Inter-State Commerce Commission knows that it is a farce. The railways and Mr. Cuyler know that it is a farce. Each knows that the other had made a fool of it, and that public resentment can no longer be restrained.

When did Mr. Cuyler find out that agriculture can not bear the burden of freight rates imposed on it? Mr. Cuyler is the Peter the Hermit of advanced freight rates. He is head of the American Association of Railway Executives, and is a man well informed and able, but he and his association, after stampeding the Inter-State Commerce Commission into the leading role in the 35 per cent rate increase farce had to keep up a bold face. Naturally the commission hates to reverse itself. It hates to admit that Cuyler and his crowd made a fool of the commission and battered the commission up to staying on the deck of a burning ship. What fools these mortals be!

The curtain is about to be rung down on the farce. The farmers of the country are going to take a hand in matters. It may result in the abolition of the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has demanded the abolition of the Adamson act, the Railway Wage Labor Board act, and the villainous Eel-Cummins act. This is the most sensible thing, as a farmer interviewed in the Telegram yesterday said, that has come out of this chaos of bunk and bombast.—Drover's Telegram.

SENATE VOTES DOWN THE SOLDIER BONUS BILL AGAIN

Washington, Nov. 6.—After a hot partisan fight, bristling with dramatic clashes, the Senate voted down early Sunday morning, and attempt to tack the soldier bonus feature to the pending tax bill.

By a vote of 28 to 35, the Senate rejected an amendment by Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, providing for payment of the bonus out of the excess profits taxes.

LOCAL TELEPHONE MAN A REAL BOOSTER

H. D. Phillips, manager of our telephone system, returned Tuesday from a trip to Dallas and Fort Worth where he spent last week. Mr. Phillips went to Fort Worth to attend a meeting of The Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, and while there took the opportunity to make a visit to his mother, who lives in Dallas. He is not at all timid in expressing his opinion of the difference in the country surrounding Lubbock and that of the places visited, and we are sure he was on the job boosting Lubbock, the entire time he was away. We admire men like Mr. Phillips, and to the spirit of his life, we attribute a large part of our progressiveness. Lubbock and West Texas is a going concern, and such men as Mr. Phillips are the cornerstones of our structure.

FOOT BALL GRIDS

Canyon City, Nov. 5.—Floydada High School football team lost to the Canyon High School squad by a 7 to 0 score here this afternoon. The first and only score being made after the first seven minutes of play. Canyon got its touchdown when Moore passed the ball from the fifty yard line to Brown who carried the ball over Floydada's goal.

The Ralls High School football team went over to Floydada Friday afternoon where they met the Floydada eleven. The game at the start looked like Floydada was going to have an easy victory, and at the end of the first quarter they had scored three touchdowns, but at the end of the first half the score stood 20 to 0, and finally ended in a score of 20 to 7 in favor of Floydada. Our boys, while young and a little light, are fast making a reputation over the Plains, and it is our firm belief that before the season is over we will have one of the fastest teams on the Plains. We understand that a return game will be played at Ralls on the 11th of November.

Littlefield, Lamb Co., Texas, Nov. 5.—Marvin Childers had the misfortune to have a leg broken while playing football on the school ground here this week. This is the first accident that has happened here in connection with football.

Abilene, Nov. 5.—West Texas State Normal College lost to Simmons College by a score of 28 to 0 here this afternoon.

Tulia, Nov. 5.—The Tulia basket ball girls defeated the Hereford High School basket ball girls by a score of 30 to 20 here today.

Hereford, Nov. 5.—The Farwell High School football eleven was defeated by the Hereford High School squad by a score of 7 to 0 here Friday afternoon.

Hereford lost to the Farwell aggregation by a score of 21 to 7 about three weeks ago.

J. B. Strawn was here Wednesday transacting business. Mr. Strawn has a fine farm seven miles north of town, and reports his crop a complete success this year.

LIVESTOCK SALES

H. D. Beal bought of J. C. Dorward last Friday 50 head of calves. J. C. Dorward bought one car of calves from Will Reed and shipped them to market Tuesday from Big Spring.

R. M. Clayton will ship several cars of cattle of Kansas City tomorrow. C. L. Keen will ship sixteen cars of cattle to the Kansas City market Saturday.

J. C. Dorwood bought of J. B. Miles 100 head of calves last week and shipped them to market last Friday from O'Donnell.—Gail Gazette.

Messrs. C. B. Snyder and Will H. Roach are now making preparations to ship ten cars of Shackleford county calves to Kansas City. These calves will be on exhibition at the Kansas City Royal Show, one of the largest stock shows in America. Then they will be placed on the market and sold to the feeders of Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska.—Albany News.

Dalhart, Nov. 7.—J. T. Sacra of El Paso has purchased for cattle feeders of the Imperial Valley in California 700 head of two year old steers from W. B. Mitchell of Marfa, Texas, at 5 cents a pound. These cattle have been on pasture near Dalhart. For the past year many fat cattle and hogs have been shipped from the Texas Panhandle to California for slaughter, recently cattlemen of that section have been coming to this section to buy feeders as they have discovered that the quality of the Panhandle cattle is equalled by none.

Girard, Texas, Nov. 3.—Raldo New man, who owns a large ranch near this city has sold his 1921 calf crop, consisting of six hundred head of steer and heifer calves, to Missouri cattlemen at $25 a head. This is said to be the highest price that calves have brought this year. Cattlemen are jubilant over the increased activity that is being displayed and they are sure that the cattlemen will come into his own again soon.

Brownfield, Nov. 3.—R. Brownfield of this city has purchased from local parties five hundred head of steer and heifer calves at $17.50.

J. H. Bradfield of Olpe, Kan., has bought 440 head of steer calves from the A. B. Robertson Estate of Slaton, at $23.75 a head. This is said to be one of the highest prices paid for calves in several months.

The Double U Co are having their last roundup of the season this week. Mr. Hartford reports turning over to J. W. Jackson and sons one hundred and fifty calves this week making in all two hundred and seventy of the Double U Co. cattle on feed. They are also feeding six hundred and forty lambs.

We wish Mr. Jackson all the success that is coming to him for starting this wonderful industry in this country. Mr. Hartford also reports the feeding of the Double U 2 year old steers doing most excellent.

Mr. Lon Cross, north west of town delivered to the Double U Co. feeding men, thirty-three good feeding hogs. Ren Cross delivered twenty-two to the same place.

It is reported there are three thousand cattle on feed near Post City and reports are good.

Last week G. M. Boren shipped a car of finished heifers to the Kansas City market.

J. B. Slaughter also shipped several cars of calves to market last week.—Post City Post.

Colorado, Texas.—Range cattle are in excellent condition, and are entering the winter under most favorable circumstances. John Brown, manager of the Reynolds ranch, stated here today. Brown reported that while the range was dry and in some instances surface tanks were becoming low, the physical aspect of the cattle industry is good. Rain will be needed however, Brown continued, and that within the next few weeks, if the cattlemen of this section are to have guarantees of carrying their range herds through the winter without loss. Because of the hot, dry weather prevalent here during the Summer and early Fall month the grass is becoming very dry and is now losing its nutriment fast.

MR. BUSH PROVES CROP AVERAGE IS BETTER HERE

J. W. Bush was here Wednesday with a bale of cotton from his farm, seven miles west of town, on which he is making an average of one-half bale to the acre, having gathered thirteen bales, with three or four more to be gathered off thirty-two acres. Mr. Bush has made a success with this crop of course, but did not depend upon it, and it is just that much to the good, as his row crop, poultry, and hogs are all big payers this year. He has relatives in the best cotton producing section of East Texas, who have not made near so good an average on crops for the last three years as has been made on his farm here. Take the plains country for any one given year, and there may be land somewhere that will produce as much per acre as can be raised here, but in a series of five years the plains land cannot be equaled with an average from any standpoint.

LUB-TEX MOTOR CO REAPING BENEFITS FROM ADVERTISING

F. N. Payne, manager of the Lub-Tex Motor Company, and prominent among our town boosters went to Amarillo yesterday in an attempt to secure more Overland Automobiles to take care of the sales of his company.

Mr. Payne has been very liberal in the use of printers ink in placing the merits of his cars before the buyers of this section, and that under this system his business has been on the top of the list with a nice bunch of sales, the reward for his efforts is only natural. The following sales were made this week:

Cox Brothers, Lamesa, Overland touring. J. R. Moorehead, Lubbock, Cleveland touring. H. H. Vineyard, Abilene, Overland coupe. J. E.

Rogers, Amarillo, Overland touring. R. H. Martin, of Martin's Bakery, Lubbock, Chandler Dispatch.

LUBBOCK AUTO COMPANY RECEIVES NEW FORDS

The Lubbock Auto Company received a shipment of eight new Fords this week, to replace cars sold during the past few days. These men are real Lubbock boosters, and are reaping the good of their boosting along with the other men who are willing to place a few dollars out ahead to pay for advertising that will blaze way for new business. This company has been among the most consistent advertisers in the city, and that their sales are constantly increasing is only more evidence of the sound business judgment backing their undertakings.

Mr. C. H. Quinley is having another modern residence, and other farm buildings erected on his farm four miles south of town. Within the past twelve months there were four homes and kindred improvements made on Mr. Quinley's land, all being of substantial material and beautifully arranged. Mr. Quinley has, through sound business judgment, made investments in holdings in the Mexico oil field, that have made big returns, and he is proving his confidence in the plains country by helping with the building program that must be carried out in advance of the people who are seeking homes in this country.

Mrs. C. C. Chase returned Monday from Amarillo, where she has been the past ten days visiting a sister, Mrs. Geo. L. Dotson.

ROYALTY MOTOR COMPANY DOING GOOD BUSINESS

Another progressive automobile house, the Royalty Motor Company, is doing a good business, which is clearly seen from the distribution of cars they have made within the last week. These men are hustlers, and are at all times in the job doing something for Lubbock, and in the meantime have established a reputation for looking after the automobile sales of the Company. This week they have sold and delivered a Dodge touring car to W. E. McLaughlin, of Ralls; Dodge roadster to Mr. Rin, with a wholesale candy company of Kansas City, and a Dodge touring to J. D. Powell, of Spur.

Judge M. Fulton made a business trip to Amarillo Monday.

Eugene Emory Will Gather Bale of Cotton to Acre

W. C. Vaughn was here Tuesday from his farm ten miles north of town, marketing two bales of cotton. Mr. Vaughn was unfortunate enough to have had his crop hailed out in the spring, so that the yield was short, but a near neighbor, Mr. Eugene Emory was not in the hail, and from ten acres has gathered nine bales of cotton, and the second picking is sure to make the other bale to make the bale to the acre crop. These men are good farmers and failure is never known on their places as when one crop happens to miss there is another that will be a heavy-weight, which is shown in the fact that the Mr. Vaughn's cotton was not normal this year his row crop has been very good, and the live stock he has been enabled to feed thereon is profitable.

CATTLE AND HOGS LOWER; LAMS ARE HIGHER

Kansas City Stock Yards, Nov. 7. —Though cattle receipts were larger than a week ago they were less than a year ago, and not excessive for this season of the year. Receipts elsewhere were liberal and the general tendency at all markets was downward. Here the liberal per cent of the offerings was stock and feeding grades that came from a wide area. Chicago had 47,000 hogs, the largest run for some time, and with prices there lower the market here eased off moderately. Sheep and lambs were strong to 25 cents higher, and the light supply sold readily.

Today's Receipts
Receipts today were 26,000 cattle, 7500 hogs, 3500 sheep, compared with 16,000 cattle, 4000 hogs, and 2500 sheep a week ago, and 27,000 cattle, 10,500 hogs, and 10,000 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle.
Trade in beef cattle opened slowly with lower bids. After killers had established a 15 to 25 cent decline on plain and medium quality classes, trade became active. Nothing choice to prime was offered in fed steers, and short fed classes brought $7.25 to $8.25. Grass fat offerings from Kansas and Missouri, were the plainest of the season, and the low quality is an indication that a close clean up is being made. Cows and heifers were weak to 15 cents lower and veal calves weak to 50 cents lower.

Stockers and Feeders.
Thin cattle were in liberal supply and while there was a fairly good demand, prices were 15 to 25 cents lower. Good Panhandle and New Mexico calves, yearlings and two predominated. A good many orders that were held up by the light run

ROPEVILLE FARMER BRINGS NINE BALES TO LUBBOCK

J. D. Crow and G. W. Perritt, of Ropeville, were here Tuesday with nine bales of Mr. Crow's cotton that had been ginned at Meadow. It is nothing of interest to local people of course to mention the fact that this cotton was loaded on only two wagons with only one team to the wagon, but we are telling this for the benefit of our friends in other localities where the cost of transporting farm products is almost prohibitive. It's a fact that this country has more advantageous points for its farmers than anywhere else, which is one reason why our people are all so prosperous.

PIONEER FARMER HAS COMPLETE CROP THIS YEAR

L. O. Burford, one of our pioneer farmers, living three miles east of town was here Wednesday morning, and reported he would have five bales of cotton to bring to the local market soon, having ten acres that is proving to be one half bale to the acre calibre. Mr. Burford has as fine farm as was ever cultivated anywhere, and his home and other farm buildings are a monument to his progressiveness, and the crop he has raised this year is a reward for the labor expended in its cultivation as it is just as good as if could be, as there is not a foot of land in the entire field but that is producing absolutely every ounce of feedstuff that has room to grow" is a statement made by Mr. Burford.

W. L. Boyd, reported to have the reputation of raising the best crop of turnips that was ever grown, was here again Wednesday with a load of fine ones to be sold on the local market. Large yellow cornfield pumpkins were also in the wagon, a picture of which would decorate the walls of any home appropriately at Thanksgiving time.

LUBBOCK THE LIVEST TOWN ON THE PLAINS

"Lubbock wants an oil mill," says the Avalanche. Lubbock ought to be able to get this enterprise. A Mother's Story

Young Mothers Should Read This Advice

Rienzi, Miss.—"When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicines I was all wrecked and run-down until I was not able to do anything, but now I am getting along well and have a big, fine, healthy baby boy. Tongue could not tell how much better I felt after taking these medicines. I took both the Favorite Prescription and the Golden Medical Discovery, also two vials of the Pleasant Pellets and had practically no suffering. I will always praise these wonderful medicines. I would never try to go through expectancy again without Favorite Prescription."—Mrs. Mary Owen.

Get Doctor Pierce's remedies at any drug store and you will soon feel their beneficial effect.

SUDAN RANCHER IS HERE

LOOKING AFTER BUSINESS

Henry Crosby, of Sudan, was here Tuesday transacting business. Mr. Crosby is one of the men who were big minded enough to see opportunities in this country some twenty years ago, and is now realizing the wisdom of his early transactions. Remember, however, that it is not yet too late to make a start in West Texas, but men like Mr. Crosby will tell you that when they have seen as many more years here as they have, these opportunities to get hold on land here will be a thing of the past. Come to Lubbock now.

H. J. Graham, of Lamesa, was here Tuesday. Mr. Graham has traded his interests at Lamesa to Mr. C. S. Inman of this place, taking the farm of Mr. Inman two miles west of town, where he will make his home. We are glad to learn of his intentions to move to Lubbock, and hope to see him make a success on the new holdings.

Abernathy Is To Have Newspaper In A Few Days

S. J. Redman, who has been reporting for the Avalanche the past few weeks, and who is an experienced newspaper man, will launch a newspaper at Abernathy soon. The first paper will make its appearance about the middle of this month. The Avalanche has the contract to print the paper here till a plant can be placed there for that purpose.

Abernathy is one of the fast growing little towns of the South Plains. It is located right on the line of Hale and Lubbock county. Part of the town being in each county, and the country around it is fast being settled by good farmers and the agricultural possibilities of that section are very great and promising.

It is located on the Santa Fe railroad between Lubbock and Hale Center, and bears the distinction of having the only prospective oil well right close to it, of any South Plains town. It also has something else that few South Plains towns can boast of and that is a flour mill, that being the location of the Union Milling Company, which recently established a mill there.

We are sure that Abernathy is going to make a thriving town, and that the Review, which will be the name of the new paper will be of great help to the people in pushing that town along, and letting the people on the outside know really what is doing around Abernathy.

We wish Mr. Redman the greatest success in his new field, and we congratulate Abernathy upon their success in getting a man of Mr. Redman's experience and capabilities to locate there and begin the publication of a weekly paper for them.

County Commissioner Talley Makes Statement of the Money Spent on Road Work in His Precinct

The following statement of Judge P. F. Brown, made in address before the Rotary Club of Lubbock concerning the roads of the county, was published in the Avalanche of last week. It is quoted below:

"On the other hand he (Brown) referred to the road between Lubbock and Slaton, and stated that it was about as bad a road as we had in the county, and it should be the best as there is much more travel over it. He did not blame the commissioner for it, and explained that all the money assigned that precinct for road work had been used on the hill on the canyon near Slaton, and expressed the opinion that this was about as bad place as could be found on the canyon to put a road and did not believe that it would ever be made a good road without the expenditure of a tremendous amount of money yet, and while he did not say so, the general tone of his address on this subject was that it was also useless as Slaton had a good road north across the canyon, also east, and that this money might be better spent on other roads, where more people would be served."

Below Mr. Talley gives the figures on the amount of money he has spent on each road in his district. Inspect them closely, then you can draw your own conclusion as to whether or not "all the money assigned that precinct had been used on the hill on the canyon near Slaton." Glance at these figures:

Grading road from Lubbock to County line, 22 miles	$900
Puget Sound highway, commencing at Singer St., Lubbock	$550
Work on road S. E. of Lubbock, adjoining townsite	$200
Nine miles of road N. W. of Slaton	$640
Work on canyon hill	$745
Grubbing and working lakes, repairs on machine, about	$400
Grading and grubbing 2 miles road Puget Sound highway	$190
TOTAL	$3435

H. D. TALLEY, Commissioner. According to the statement in the Avalanche the most important roads in the county are in the Slaton district, which is a FACT, yet Mr. Talley states that he has spent less money on his roads than either of the other three commissioners. He says he did this in an effort to keep the county out of debt and to avoid the payment of ten per cent interest on time warrants, such as have been issued for road work in other sections of the county.

The Slatonite wants to compliment Mr. Talley for the efficient service he is rendering the county. He applies the same conservative business methods to the county's affairs that he does to his own private interests, which accounts for the fact that he has been able to accomplish so much for the county with so little money. —Slaton Slatonite.

ARMISTICE TODAY

This is Armistice Day! Three years have passed since the tremendous sacrifices of our men and our allies, and the extraordinary efforts of our entire country was crowned with victory. On each recurring anniversary the day has been celebrated. It is already apparent that it has become one of our most important and greatest holidays.

This year Armistice Day has an especial significance. It will be marked at Washington, the capital of our nation, by the meeting of the International Conference of that which is to make a sincere effort to compose the misunderstandings among nations that threaten, even though remotely, to disturb the peace of the world in the Pacific, and to find a way to relieve the race of the burden of costly armament that it is now obliged to carry. At Arlington, Virginia, the body of an unknown soldier is to be buried with impressive ceremony in the National Cemetery, and this nation expects to have as our honored guest on that occasion, Marshal Foch the generalissimo of the Allied armies. Far and wide, in city streets and rural communities, the day will be remembered with public exercises. In the million of homes from which the young men of America went forth some of which were from homes in our own city and South Plains country, to play their part in the great struggle, this day will be observed in the deepest emotion; here in proud, and loving yet sorrowful memory of one who gave the last and greatest gift, his life, to his country; there in thanksgiving for a son or a husband, spared by the truce of the armistice, to return again to the family circle and the ways of peace.

The Stars and Stripes should fly from every staff in the country on this day. It would also be a touching and beautiful recognition of the meaning of the day if all the service flags that were displayed so proudly from church or factory or office building or home during the weeks of hard fighting three years ago should be hung out once more to remind us—prone as we are to forget—of all the courage and all the sacrifice and all the devotion to duty that those flags with their stars of blue or of gold symbolized. It would be a simple thing to do; it would ask a minimum of effort from any one person; and yet nothing else would impress more deeply on our hearts the lesson of the day, or yield more graceful tribute to the brave men, living and dead, who answered in those trying days the call of their native land.

THE DROUTHY WEST

"Reynolds Brothers shipped ten cars of cattle this week, west, did not learn destination, but hunting water."

The Avalanche found the following article in a newspaper printed way east of here. This must indeed be a peculiar news item to those people back there where they have been taught from infancy to look upon the West as a dry, parched, waterless country. That editor is going to have a "peach" of a time trying to harmonize this statement with some of the editorial utterances of the past in regard to the "drouth stricken West." Fact of the business is, there will be nothing doing, and his people will learn sooner or later that the West is really the garden spot of the Lone Star State and that Lubbock is right in the middle of the garden. Last summer when the delegation of farmers from different sections of the State were here in attendance upon the Farmers' Union State meet, they were taken on an auto ride about the city and into the rural communities. They were taken to the city's big well and the pump started up, and one could of almost scraped their eyes off with a stick. They were amazed, most speechless and it was a hard job to get some of them away to resume the trip.

THE WAR TAXES

There is complaint about the burden of war taxes and there will be such complaint for many years to come. There is also complaint about the long time it takes for business to get back to normal. While you are making your complaints, try to keep these facts in mind: The war was a tremendously expensive thing. All the nations went into debt in order to pay their share of the cost of the war. The war was not only expensive but it was destructive. It stopped the creation of wealth for the time being and it destroyed wealth already existing. A few individuals may be richer because of the war but the world as a whole is vastly poorer. Now the nations will have to pay the cost of the war and will also have to replace or pay for the wealth that was destroyed during the war. And all this is going to take a long time. Congress will be levying taxes to pay for the World War when all the people now living are dead and in their graves.

Opening new territory has been the most common pastime of the people of the South Plains during the past twelve months. The big ranches are fast falling before the demands of the farmers who are coming to this great country to follow their chosen vocation, and as a result of this the South Plains has produced by far, more of nearly every crop that will grow in this section, and the fact that this country is an ideal farming section is being more clearly demonstrated than ever before. Just at this time arrangements are being made to subdivide some other large tracts, which will mean the opening of many rich productive farms, in this section.

Armistice Day will probably be the most universally celebrated of all holidays. From reports from every part of the country it seems that almost every hamlet and city will have some kind of a celebration on that day, or observe the day in some befitting manner.

A HORRIBLE MURDER

It has not been so very long since a terrible tragedy occurred in Lubbock, one that stirred the indignation of the people throughout the South Plains and caused the people of the nation to take notice, and that was the killing of the depot ticket agent at this place. A repetition of this crime, or may be even worse, will occur here if the people do not tackle this gambling condition, and clean up this town of that class of cattle. Men do not usually commit crimes of that character unless they are grossly ignorant, or given to despretation, and the latter is sure to occur when the smooth gamblers strip the boys of all the money that they have and get their I. O. U. for a lot more. These I O U's must be paid, and after one makes them they are not usually so particular how they get the money to pay such debts. One crime-brings about another, as a natural consequence. The people stand aghast then, and marvel at such a calamity befalling what they believe to be a city pure and undefiled. The time to stop such, is "before it gets started," but since the gamblers are said to be running it over the town, then the next best time to stop it is now, before it gets any worse. Some of we people who have boys, will be brought face to face with humiliations some day, and cry out in horror, just because we closed our eyes to the conditions that now exist and ignore the pleadings of a few who seem to be interested in cleaning up the town. A word to the wise should be sufficient.

ONLY ONE THING TO DO

Lubbock has no choice in the matter of school building. There is only one thing to do, and that is to get busy and vote a bunch of bonds to erect a sure enough high school building in Lubbock. Our present equipment is antiquated as wess as inadequate for the present needs of Lubbock, to say nothing of the future. Lubbock is at a point in school matters where there must be a decided advance or we will feel something slipping. Our school buildings are overflowing, and our equipment will no longer do justice to the large number of pupils who are attending. There is absolutely no inducement for others to come here next year to educate their children under the present conditions. The school is full up, but at this time this condition can easily be corrected and Lubbock made the brightest spot on the Plains, and in West Texas as for that matter, from an educational standpoint. No time must be lost, however, in attending to this matter, and we understand that petitions are now being circulated calling for an election for the purpose of voting bonds sufficient to take care of the needs of the schools. Every citizen of this city, and within the Lubbock Independent School District, should have their name on this petition, and vote solidly for the bonds when the time comes to express your desire at the polls. As we said in the beginning, Lubbock has no choice in the matter! We must have increased school capacity.

A BIGGER FAIR NEXT FALL

A better investment could not be made than to invest a few hundred dollars in Fair Association stock. The building up of the fair at this place will mean a great deal to Lubbock and to the entire South Plains. Lubbock, beyond doubt, is the proper place for this permanent fair. We have the only permanent buildings and grounds of any town in the Panhandle and South Plains, and the people of other counties are enthusiastic to make this the big fair of the West. When the people of adjoining counties are enthusiastic over this proposition there certainly should be a desire on the part of the people of the "Hub of the Plains" to make it as great as the people around here would have it be. When the committee comes to you to sell you more stock in order that the capital may be increased to twenty-five thousand dollars, do not hesitate a moment, but put your subscription down so that the stock will be quickly subscribed, and the work that must be done to increase the capacity of the fair for next year may be worked out and business pick up.

WHY ARE PEOPLE INDIFFERENT?

Amarillo voted $220,000 for school buildings last Tuesday, which is a most commendable thing for that city to do. There is one thing about it, however, that seems to be common with school propositions and that is the people did not vote. Only 200 votes were cast, and in a city that claims twenty thousand population, and on a matter of as great importance as a school building. We cannot understand why so many people are so utterly indifferent in school matters, but they are. Lubbock is no exception in this matter, but we must pep up, and push the coming bond issue over in grand shape.

It would seem that now is about the best time in the world for people who are going to build homes, to do so. There are a number of men who are in need of the work, and are willing to work cheap. Material is now cheaper than it has been for months. If you are contemplating building, why not get busy now? It will be to your interest and at the same time help a lot of fellows who want to make an honest living for their families to do so. Make business!

There certainly should be some marketing arrangements made in this city before another garden season comes around. We are not capable of suggesting a plan, but we urge those who are in position to figure out these things to make an honest effort along that line and be prepared to buy the produce offered for sale here next year. Let it be said that "it can be sold in Lubbock."

The South Plains is about the best equipped of any section of the State for schools. People need not fear to come from the crowded and jammed East to the beautiful, fertile Plains Country on account of the schools.

Good churches and school buildings will aid in the building of a city about as fast as any other two things. Lubbock has both; and for that reason Lubbock is bound to make rapid progress.

There is a great demand for more rent houses.

WITHOUT FURTHER COMMENT

A Plainview high school teacher says the reason she is quitting her present boarding place, is because the gray is so thin it escapes through the pores in her plate.—Plainview Herald.

You may fight the schools, but let them run down and you will quickly see how important they were when they were in first class order. Schools and churches are two very important things in the upbuilding of the community, yet some folks consider them nothing.—Lubbock Avalanche.

The school is the most important institution we have. The question of providing sufficient facilities to carry on our schools is a most important question that confronts every town and community in the Plains country. Our scholastics have grown faster than our values, hence we haven't the money to provide buildings and necessary facilities to carry forward the school work as we should. The Legislature wisely provided a method to overcome these difficulties when it arranged by a constitutional amendment to allow the people the privilege of taxing themselves in greater sums to overcome the present difficulties. But we have men in all communities who are short-sighted enough to vote against an increase in the tax rate in order to save themselves a few measly dollars. Lockney last spring defeated the proposition to increase the tax rate. Those who voted against this proposition were short sighted indeed, and in their action our school has suffered. We are short on rooms and teachers. Every room in our school building is crowded to an unhealthy degree. We have heard the same argument put up as a reason for voting against the tax increase. They don't like this or that teacher, that our school system is a failure, etc. Such argument is a stall, and is put forth to justify their selfish actions. The reason underlying their action is the fact that they want to hoard up their measly dollars. This line of conduct is not only manifested in the schools, but in our churches. Men want give or help this or that cause. They object to this or that plan. The main reason of this lack of co-operation in school and church affairs is that they are worshipping of the Almighty Dollar. They love money better than they do the education of their children or their religion.—Lockney Beacon.

Creosoted Fence Boards make the most practical barn lot, corral and feed lot fences.

Come in and take a load of these posts home. You'll find our stock of lumber and building supplies complete. We will be glad to help you figure your needs and quote you our lowest prices.

When is a Battery Old?

Some men are young at eighty—others are old at forty. It's about the same way with batteries.

Their usefulness depends on the care they have had, the amount of work they have had to do, how they have been used, and most important of all—on the original quality of the battery.

There are many good reasons back of the decisions of the manufacturers of 173 makes of cars and trucks to use Willard Threaded Rubber Batteries.

COUNTY AGENT AND FARM BUREAU DEPARTMENT

J. W. JENNINGS, Agent

The Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association reports the sale of 14,000 bales of cotton at prices ranging from 19 3/4 cents to 24 cents per pound middling basis. This cotton is actually netting two or three cents per pound above the basic price. When the price of cotton dropped below 20 cents the Association withdrew from the market and will not offer any more cotton for sale till the cotton goes back to 20 cents or better, unless the conditions should indicate a permanently low market.

The Association expects to handle more than 150,000 bales this season at a selling expense of approximately $2.00 per bale, this expense to include storage, insurance, sales, and general overhead. This small volume of business this season is occasioned by the loss of much South Texas cotton that had to be released this year on account of the Association not being ready to receive it when it was ready for the market. All this cotton will come through the Association another year.

A blanket insurance policy is carried on all Association cotton which is in effect as soon as the cotton is rolled from the press. A few bales of Association were lost in a fire near Dallas recently. The Insurance Company offered to settle for this cotton on middling basis. Upon investigation the officers of the Association found that the cotton from that gin was averaging better than middling and demanded and received an additional $10.00 per bale. This was not of so much consequence in such a small fire, but it established a precedent that may at some future time be of much value.

An instance is on record in Dallas County where a farmer was offered 22c for a bale of cotton by a local buyer when the market on that date was only 19 cents. This aroused the suspicion of the farmer and he took the sample to the Farm Bureau office to be graded and stapled. A proper grading and stapling of this cotton proved that this bale was actually worth 25 cents per pound that day which was a 3 cent per pound more than the market on that date and a 6 cents per pound more than the farmer was offered. The farmer joined the Cotton Association.

The Association is occupying two upper floors of a building on Commerce street in Dallas as sample rooms. Their classes is being checked by a War Finance Corporation classifier, so that an absolutely correct grade and staple is guaranteed. Two samples from each side of the bale are taken, two are sent to the buyer of the cotton, and duplicate samples are retained in the office for future reference in case of a dispute.

The Association is handling approximately $200,000 worth of business per day and is enjoying the absolute confidence of the Banks and other agencies furnishing the finances.

Some dissatisfaction has developed in this county on account of some of the members not complying with the rules for drawing the advance on the cotton. If these rules are closely complied with little delay will be experienced in getting returns. When the cotton is delivered to the compressor or railroad company draw a draft through your local bank for $40.00 per bale and attach the compressor receipt on the bill of lading as the case may be. When the sample is received and the balance of the money will be advanced provided application is made in writing for the balance. The Association only borrows what money the members need and unless the balance of the advance is asked for it will not be paid.

There seems to be a false impression that new members will not be received now. This is a mistaken idea. Anyone desiring to join the Farm Bureau Cotton Association may do so by calling at the County Agents office, or contracts may be obtained from Ed Overstreet at Idalou, or from the Secretaries of the Farm Bureau locals, M. G. Leverett, at Slaton, Sam Gentry at Posey, and Lynn Wylie at New Hope.

November is the last month in which culling can be done with any degree of certainty. A half days culling will net the average farmer from $25 to $50. A good layer may be told by the following characteristics: The late molter is a good layer; hens with

Cotton Acreage Will be Increased In Lamb County

Littlefield, Texas, Nov. 6.—The weather has been almost perfect for the picking of cotton and harvesting of crops here this fall. Cotton is turning out splendidly, better than expected; the grade is fine, and there is no question about the acreage being increased next year. ELK LODGE NO. 1348 INITIATES 2 CANDIDATES

Lubbock B. P. O. E. Lodge No. 1348 held a meeting Tuesday night and initiated Homer Hensley and John Spikes, local men into the order. A splendid time is reported by all present, and considerable interest was shown in the work. A Plainview brother was a visitor, and the members here were invited to attend a meeting of the Plainview Lodge Friday, November 18th. A friendly feeling is growing into a flame of friendship between members of the lodges, and local members are proud indeed, to become associated with the brother lodgemen.

Some men see hard times because they try to keep their hands soft.

LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER IS PREPARING FOR COMING YEAR DEMANDS HEAVY ON THEM NOW

The Directors of the American Red Cross of the Lubbock Chapter met with representatives from each of the Civic and Commercial Clubs and Organizations of the city Monday night at the New Merrill Hotel for a discussion of the problems confronting the local Red Cross Chapter and to lay plans for the coming year.

Geo. W. Briggs, Local Chairman, acted as Toastmaster and reports and talks were made by the heads of the various departments of the local chapter work. Sixteen were present and a very enthusiastic meeting resulted in plans being worked out to carry the coming Red Cross Roll Call thru to a successful completion.

The following stories, taken in detail from last week's activities in the local Red Cross give a slight indication of what this Red Cross work means in the city of Lubbock. These are just a few high spots of the work as it is needed day after day and it is believed that if the citizens of the city can do the actual situation existing here that they will come to the support of the organization with the $3,000 necessary to successfully carry on the work for another year.

The Peace Time Program of the Red Cross is Ex-Service Assistance, Civilian Relief, Health Crusades, Educational work along Hygienic and Care of Sick Lines, and Maintenance of Rest Room.

A full time Secretary is maintained in the local office, which is combined with the Rest Room for the investigation of all cases and the direction of all the activities of the organization. The following cases give you an idea of the scope of the work as it comes up from day to day. These are from one week:

"Dear Mary: I am tired of spending my money on you, buying you medicine and clothes and everything. I am broke and am leaving it with you. Do the best you can for I am gone."

That was the substance of a note brought to the Red Cross Secretary this past week by a young woman about 28 years of age, leading two little dirty, half-dressed children and with tears in her eyes, begging for $15 or $20 to get back home to her parents. After questioning she said her parents lived somewhere in Oklahoma, gave the name of some town there, and her father's name. She was told to come back after a little and something would be done for her.

A telegram was sent to the town she named, asking if her father was able to send for them—and it was found that no man by that name had ever lived there. The Secretary went to the hotel where the lady was supposed to have been stranded—unable to pay her room rent and all that sort of thing—and found that she and her husband had checked out in the morning before she went to the Red Cross office and that they had left together on the noon train.

And yet that same story told around on the street would have gotten her from fifty cents to five dollars from every business man she could have repeated it to—together with the little note she had as evidence.

There is more money wasted in Lubbock each year thru senseless giving to fake misery and professional begging than is required to intelligently meet the charity demands of the city and there is but one remedy.

That is to liberally support the local Chapter of the American Red Cross in their drive for funds, and then refer all solicitors of whatever nature to them for attention.

"A man just gets so hungry before he uses a lead pipe or something else to get something to eat. I was never a radical or a disgruntled workman until now that I can't get any work to do. I am a painter and I can paint and I want a job but I have been unable to get one for more than a month. I have sold my household goods, my bedding and now I am trying to sell my painting tools. When that is all gone I don't know what I am going to do—but I do know that I am not going to starve."

And I ask you "What are you going to say to a man like that? That is not an imaginary case, but an accurate summary of a conversation with a young man, an Ex-Service man, around 26 years of age one day this week in the Chamber of Commerce office.

There will be at least 5,000 floating laborers thru this town within the next sixty days. Cotton pickers, men out of work, and men who don't intend to work. They are already presenting a grave problem to not only this city, but to every city in the United States.

More than a dozen such cases came before the local Red Cross Chapter this past week. Some of them had merit and needed assistance. Some of them were pure fakes. What are we going to do with them?

There can be but one answer—support the local Red Cross Chapter in the coming drive for funds with which to carry on their year's work.

"We are on our way to Roswell, N. M., to go into a government hospital" said an Ex-Service man in the Red Cross office last week, very evidently suffering from T. B. Upon further questioning he admitted that he didn't know whether or not there was a governmental hospital in Roswell or whether, even if there was such, he could get in after he got there. He had his wife and two children with him, driving thru in a car, and was camped at the Tourist Park. He didn't have any money, nothing to eat and was unable to do work, even if he could have gotten some.

What are you going to do with him? Turn him down and let him take a hat on the street and become a common beggar? Throw him out and let him starve—or take the alternative of becoming a Hi-Jacker on our streets? Disagreeable choices any of them—but the Red Cross way offers a constructive solution of such a problem as is shown by the following facts:

The Red Cross Chapter wired his former home town to see if the Red Cross Chapter there would lend him some money. They wired back that they had already let him have more than he ever intended to pay back they had already let him have more than two months on the road—traveling around over the state getting $10, $15 or $20 here and there just as he could make his tale stick in the sympathy of the various communities.

The Secretary then went thru the Dallas office of Ex-Service Rehabilitation Bureau and secured transportation for him to a government hospital in Houston. He sold his car, and he together with his family will be sent to a Houston hospital as soon as his transportation arrives.

Who else could have better solved that problem? Is it worth your support?

A Mexican man, around thirty-five years of age, came into the Red Cross office this past week, suffering with the last stages of T. B. His temperature was around 104, he was coughing with every breath, so weak that he could scarcely stand. He wanted help. He had been sent here from one of the little towns on one of the branch lines out of Lubbock—given just enough money to pay for his ticket here and told to call upon the Red Cross office—an unfair thing to do, of course, but what are you going to do about it?

Refuse him attention and have him die on our streets or give him such attention as is possible in such cases as long as he lives? Who is going to pay for such attention? He had not been in the county six months and is therefore not a charge of the county? The public health officer won't take care of him—and the Red Cross did—afterwards soliciting the assistance of Judge Brown, and he was finally placed with a Mexican family to be looked after.

The Mexicans made up money among themselves and sent him to friends in New Mexico, where he would be taken care of until he dies.

All of these are disagreeable cases to consider and three out of four folks don't know such things happen in Lubbock—but the American Red Cross of this city handled 157 soldier relief cases last year. They handled more than one hundred civilian cases such as the Mexican. They found employment for 53 separate cases and answered inquiries for more than 1200 people as to lost boys, missing parents, etc., etc., and superintended the Rest Room that was used by more than 6,000 ladies during the year.

Is $2500 or $3,000 too much to pay for the intelligent handling of such cases? Fifty cents out of your $25 goes to National Headquarters—the balance stays in Lubbock to carry on such work, under the supervision of a trained worker who gives all of her time to seeing that worthy cases are taken care of and that unworthy cases are gotten rid of.

Last year the Red Cross Roll called netted the local Chapter approximately $1350 and the national headquarters something like $300. In view of the good work that this chapter had done thru the war and the especially efficient service they were rendering to Ex-Service men following the war the National office returned the local Chapter a check for $1,000 to help them carry on this work.

Great good has been accomplished with that money within this past year. Not only were charitable cases taken care, but were intelligently relieved and in most cases given an opportunity to help themselves instead of accepting charity.

More than 150 Ex-Service cases were handled by the Secretary thru whose efforts many thousands of dollars were secured the Ex-Service men as Compensation for Disabilities, back pay and such obligations as the government owed them. The United States Government in appreciation of the efficiency of the Red Cross organization handles practically all of the claims of service men for compensation, back pay, allowance, etc., thru the Red Cross. If the Lubbock Chapter is not maintained, Ex-Service men in this section will be forced to go to Plainview, Amarillo or some other city that does maintain an active chapter.

You may not believe that it is much trouble to get an adjustment with the government for disabilities suffered as a result of the war, but that is because you have never tried to fill out the innumerable affidavits, forms, medical examinations, etc., that are required even before a case can be considered. There were more than 75,000 such cases handled in the seven Southern States that compose this Red Cross District last year. Lubbock handled 157 and there are as many more yet to be handled as each week's developments prove.

The American Red Cross Fund raised in Lubbock each year is the most efficiently spent fund, dollar for dollar, raised in the town during the year. Investigate and then donate!

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. Nature will then throw off or diaspel the worms, and the child will be to perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

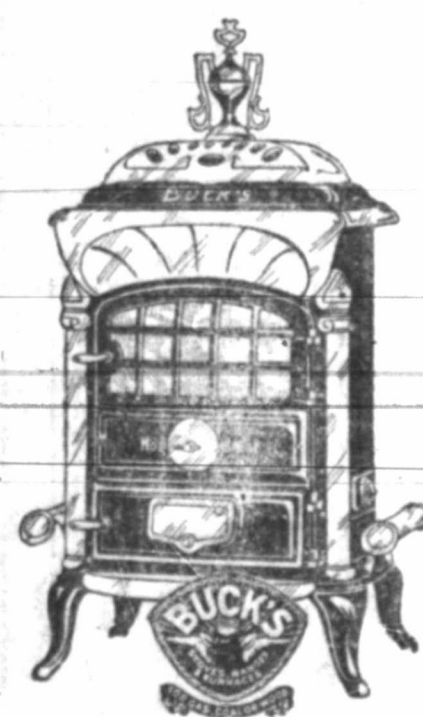

PROMINENT OKLAHOMA FARMERS COMING HERE

Messrs Roy and Troy Albright, of Hollis, Oklahoma, were here Wednesday looking for a farm and ranch proposition, as they have a place near Hollis that can be sold at this time, and they will take this opportunity to locate on the Great South Plains. These men have a nice lot of live stock that they expect to find grazing land for, and as their farming machinery is modern, they can handle a very large farm, and we are sure that Lubbock county is securing two men of genuine ability in their making this their home.

OKLAHOMA FARMER WILL LOCATE NEAR LUBBOCK

R. L. Mitchell, of Greer County, Oklahoma, is here at the Wilson Hotel, where he will stay until a favorable location is found for farming another year. Mr. Mitchell is a progressive appearing man, and we are sure that in his locating here we are gaining another farmer who will help to keep Lubbock county on top.

DWIGHT L. BROWN TO PLAY PALACE PIPE ORGAN IN DALLAS ACCORDING TO REPORTS FROM THAT CITY

Many Dallas theater-goers will greet the announcement that Dwight L. Brown has been appointed organist at the Palace Theater with a great deal of pleasure as the young Dallas musician has made many friends while playing in Elm street theaters.

The appointment of a Dallas man to the organ post at the Palace is a compliment to his ability and the musical standards of this city. Mr. Brown is a native of the State and was raised in Dallas. He is a graduate of Forest Avenue High School. He studied at Fairmount Conservatory and later under Professor Julius Albert Jahn.

Brown entered upon his professional career three years ago at the Hippodrome as assistant organist. His ability was so marked that he was soon made organist at that theater. He was sent to Houston by the Hulsey management to take charge of the music at the Queen Theater in that city. He came back to the Hippodrome several months later and remained at that theater until he was transferred to the Old Mill. While at the Old Mill he was a member of the original Old Mill Jazz Band. He was appointed assistant organist at the Palace Theater when that playhouse opened last spring. After a few months he was placed in charge of music at the Queen and comes from that theater to the Palace as organist.

The musical program at the Palace this week gives promise of being one of the best that playhouse has offered. As an organ selection Dwight Brown has chosen "Hungarian Lullaby" (Kella Bela). This piece is of rare beauty and gives ample opportunities for coloring and will give Mr. Brown many opportunities to demonstrate his mastery of the instrument he plays.—Dallas News.

Dwight L. Brown is well-known in Lubbock, and the people here remember with much pleasure his playing while in Lubbock on many different occasions. He is a brother of Mrs. W. E. Robinson and Raleigh Brown of this city. The Avalanche is glad to see this young man rise in the circles of his profession, and receive the promotions to which we are sure he is richly deserving of.

Mr. Hall is well-known in this territory, and the company is indeed fortunate to have secured his services. He is greatly pleased to be associated with the new manufacturers and through their cooperation will keep a Lubbock product before the local buyers of his territory.

H. B. Burns came in Wednesday from his farm nine miles west of town to market a bale of cotton. Mr. Burns will make about one-third of a bale per acre this year, and has as fine a row crop as could be raised anywhere. C. P. Jerome, representative of the DeLaval Cream Separator Company, of Chicago, was here Thursday and sold a large power separator to the Clover Leaf Creamery Company, of this city. Contractors Squyres and Walker have the foundation laid, and are working on the frame work for a seven room modern home on avenue, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, for S. H. Dysart. When completed this home will be a very beautiful structure, and will add much to the looks of that part of the town.

Chas. Nordyke, manager of the Lubbock Business College, returned Wednesday from Marlin, where he has been in the Bule Clinic for treatment for rheumatism. Mr. Nordyke suffered a severe attack some time ago, and has been in Marshall the past four weeks and feels much better at this time. We hope he will continue to improve.

Neal Douglas, Sr., and H. P. Edwards, of the realty firm of Edwards & Douglas, passed through Lubbock Wednesday enroute to Ralls on business. They were accompanied by Mr. Douglas' father, who visited Wednesday and Thursday with his grandparents here.

M. C. Altman, of three miles west of town, was here Wednesday with a bale of cotton. Mr. Altman had not sold the last four bales ginned, and samples of the five bales were shown to local buyers Wednesday, who were well pleased with the grade.

NOTICE
Wanted to buy Second-hand scales, platform or counter; also small show case and other store equipment; inquire at Avalanche. 22-14p

G. P. Barkhill was here Wednesday from his farm twelve miles southwest of town. Mr. Barkhill marketed his thirteenth bale of cotton, and has several bales in the field. He will average about one-third bale to the acre.

W. A. Clark is having a modern six room residence erected on his lot on 12th street. Olem Franklin, local contractor is doing the building, and it will be made of the best material and fixtures obtainable.

The regular meeting of the board of directors of the West Texas Hospital was held Tuesday evening. The new building was inspected thoroughly, after which a banquet was given at the Manhattan parlor.

HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE FIRST OF WEEK

It was reported here Thursday that the home of John Brusby, of Iowa Park, was destroyed by fire the first of the week. Mrs. Brusby and two children were in the house when the fire started, and were badly burned before they could leave the building. Mrs. Brusby was burned so severely that nothing could be done to relieve her, and she died there Thursday. The children are in a serious condition, but there is hopes that their wounds are not fatal.

Mrs. Brusby is a sister of Mrs. Hardy Montgomery, of Barrier Brothers Dry Goods Company, of Lubbock.

T. A. Bowers was here Wednesday from his farm eight miles south of town.

A. A. Trimian, of Littlefield, was here Wednesday on business.

10,000 BALE CROP ESTIMATED IN DAWSON

Four gins are running 24 hours out of every day and a 10,000 bale crop is in sight on less than 20,000 acres. Over 600 extra cotton pickers have been busy getting out this crop. This is a light crop as a bale per acre is a fair crop. But there are no bolls weavels and when a single hand can cultivate and produce 30 to 40 bales of cotton, it opens the eyes of these eastern pickers. When they pick it and know the facts they all want to rent and stay. A drouth every 8 or 10 years don't compare with boll weavels every year and at best only 5 to 10 bales per year east. This land is worth today more than any $200.00 black land because a single hand can cultivate 8 times as much and make twice the crop every year.—Dawson County News.

G. E. Anthony was here Thursday from his farm nine miles south of town.

LOCAL ITEMS FROM THE LORENZO ENTERPRISE

Two young men who gave their names as Womack and Turner were arrested here Thursday afternoon on a charge of attempted swindle and were placed in the city jail. One was a "short change artist and tried to short change a number of our merchants and was caught while trying to swindle Miss Bessie Lay out of change. They were carried to Crosbyton and placed in the county jail.

They had been here something like a week or ten days and one had worked a little at Kerby's Barber Shop. Mr. R. E. Abel has purchased the J. J. Kerby home in the central part of town and will move his family here from Mineral Wells in the near future. Mr. Abel has been in business here for the past month, having bought the filling station from Fred Robb and during that time has made many friends. We are glad to welcome them as residents here.

Mr. J. E. Haynes has been employed as book-keeper by the A. G. McAdams Lumber Company for their yard at this place. Mr. Haynes was formerly with a big lumber concern at Lubbock and comes here well recommended. He succeeds Mr. E. O. Jordan who was removed to the Plainview yard a month ago.

Mr. Dudley Arnett of Lubbock visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Arnett over Sunday.—Colorado Record.

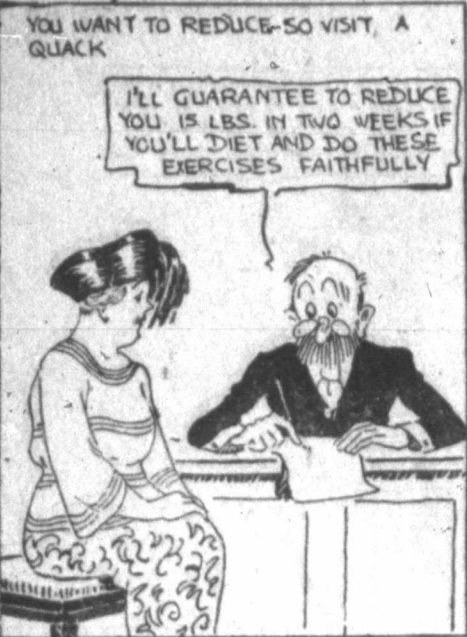

J. T. Pugh, who has made a success of cotton raising on his farm six miles east of town was here Thursday on business.

V. E. Cathey, living one mile north of town, was here Thursday transacting business.

J. C. Cromer was here Thursday from his farm five miles southeast of town, transacting business.

AW, WHAT'S THE USE

WITH LUBBOCK BUSINESS MEN

Evidently the American Legion boys from Texas had a great time at the recent convention at Kansas City according to reports made by Harold Griffith of the Rix Furniture and Undertaking Company who returned Friday morning.

The Texas boys, according to Mr. Griffith, got in a bunch and went to the stockyards where they proceeded to purchase an old brindle bull. A long rope was tied about him and with about forty boys held of the rope and as many as could crowd about him, they proceeded to take their bull on a visit to the best hotels. He was given right-of-way through the main thoroughfares as well as in the lobbies of the hotels.

When the boys tired of him he was checked at a car station where he yet remains unless disposed of other than those who purchased him.

In the midst of the crowded street a fluent speaker among the boys from Austin made a great speech to the crowd and ended it by pulling from his pocket what appeared to be a bottle of old "corn" and drank it.

The Lubbock High school football team deserved all the praise they received by the defeat of the Plainview team. Howard Wheelock, who refereed the game deserves congratulations for his fair decisions and from the expression made by John Boswell, Secretary of the Plainview Board of City Development who attended the game, every decision made was fair and the game "as a whole" was the clearest and most sportsman-like game of the season.

A. B. Conley, Jr., and Mr. Willeford of Darby & Willeford, as well as many mature business men of Lubbock played a hard-sideline game at Friday's game.

Business men on "off" streets of Lubbock advance the argument that just because other business is located "on the square" is not sufficient evidence that they are always on the "level."

While those on the square retort by saying that if those businesses located off the square were on it, the square would soon be "off."

F. N. Payne, manager of the Lub Tex Motor Company is planning a test for overland cars. The test will be made, according to Mr. Payne for the purpose of finding out just how many miles a man can travel on one gallon of gas. An extra tank, holding exactly one gallon, will be fitted on each car entered into the test. The date which this test will be inaugurated will be announced in the Avalanche in the near future.

If you are a consistent advertiser, we believe you possess the following qualifications, not necessarily compelled to, but we believe they are universally characteristic of advertisers:

You are among the first to subscribe liberally to the funds for the erection of churches, or other public institutions built by popular subscriptions.

You are the man who lives in a house that does not need painting.

You are one of the men who give to towns beautiful lawns, closely cut, neatly trimmed hedges, flowers and vines.

You vote for bonds in your district for the purpose of building adequate school facilities.

You pay your taxes promptly, thus affording relief to County, District and State treasuries.

You bear the brunt and gladly so for payment on the first paying contract.

You believe that the church should pay the pastor a living salary.

You are proud when your home town is a winner, no matter what the competition may be.

You want good roads throughout the county and are the first to agitate for them.

In other words, in our opinion, the man who advertises looks forward—never backward, believing that the future depends upon the progress made in the present.

Not every non-advertiser possesses the following characteristics, but more of them do than those who believe in the practice an investment in advertising:

You put off until "times get better" to paint the house suits you very well painted or not.

You haven't time to have a neat lawn, flowers and shrubbery, are not profitable in your opinion.

Unless you are forced, you believe that a dollar held back from tax paying is a dollar you can selfishly use for personal advantage.

You don't see any use of such fine school buildings; the fact that you, yourself, studied in a log house, sat on benches, convinces you that brick

Grand Jury Made Report on K. K. K. Parade at Lorena

Waco, Nov. 6.—Severely condemning methods employed by Sheriff Bob Buchanan and Deputy Sheriff M. Burton in endeavoring to stop the recent Ku Klux Klan parade at Lorena, which resulted in the death of Louis Crow of Waco and injuries to others, the McLennan County grand jury Saturday returned no indictments and concluded its investigation of the Lorena tragedy.

"This grand jury has not returned a bill of indictment," says the report filed with District Judge Richard I. Munroe, "believing that the best interest of society at large will thus be served. However, we do desire to go on record as severely condemning the methods employed by Sheriff Buchanan and Deputy Sheriff Burton in the discharge of what they conceived to be their duty."

"A preponderance of the evidence that has been introduced before us convinces us that they grossly violated every law of humanity in their acts upon that occasion, and that they have conclusively proved themselves to be temperamentally unfitted for the high offices they occupy."

Purpose of Report. "This grand jury does not presume to record itself as a defender of the knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and our sole purpose in submitting this formal report of our findings is that the public may be apprised of the conclusions to which our investigation has led us."

SOME ITEMS FROM THE PLAINVIEW NEWS TUES.

Oscar Collier and E. L. Miller of the South Plains Poultry association are circulating a subscription list to raise funds with which to hold the fourth annual poultry show, which will be held in December. It will require about $2,000, most of the money to be used for premiums.

The annual poultry show here has grown to be one of the most successful in the entire Southwest. Last year there were more than 1,900 birds on exhibition, and the quality was very high. The show contributes much to encouraging the growing of more and better poultry on the Plains.

The Chamber of Commerce Buick touring car stolen at the Dallas fair was found at Arlington, about fifteen miles east of Dallas, last week. It was not much hurt, the only damage being a stripped differential, which doubtless caused the thieves to abandon the car. John Boswell went to Arlington and brought the car back.

CHURCH NOTES.

Announcements.
F. R. Pickens will preach at Grovesville Sunday morning, 13th at 11 a. m., Shallowater, 3 p. m.; Carlisle, 7:30 p. m. Be glad for all who can to attend these services. He reported another good day at New Hope, Woodrow, and Slide. Church services were well attended, and had some more fine singing at Slide Sunday night.

Representatives of the quartette, Music Company were there with some good specials.

Last Monday the Women's Missionary Society carried out the work of prayer program at the Methodist church. Those who did not attend this meeting missed a treat. A splendid luncheon was served at 12 o'clock and most thoroughly enjoyed. At the close of the program, Mother Adams took the chair and gave a most beautiful talk. We are always glad to have this good woman with us. Her life is an inspiration to all who know her, and our earnest prayers are that she will be spared many years to meet with us on this annual occasion.

The Society was then called in regular business session, opened with prayer by Mrs. Butler. Reading of minutes of former meetings, read and approved.

Officers present made reports.
As we near the end of the year these reports show all work up and a splendid year's work done. The membership campaign committee made an interesting report, many homes being visited and quite a few members added to the roll. We earnestly desire to get every woman of the Methodist church a member.

A motion prevailed to celebrate "Harvest Day" early in December, and a committee appointed to arrange program. Mrs. Maedgen, chairman; Mesdames Boyd, Spencer and McKinney.
A letter of greeting and farewell from Mrs. J. T. Griswold was read by the Secretary.

The President appointed a nominating committee to select our "new" officers. Mesdames McCaskell, Shearer, Copeland, Rylander and Lynn.

The Society was dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Ferguson.

The Sunday School of the First Christian Church will give a program "The Open Bible," at the church on Sunday evening, preceding Thanksgiving. All most cordially invited to attend.

Of all the great lands of the Orient there is none so inscrutable to the Westerner, none whose thoughts and ideals are so far from Western thoughts, as India. In this land of mystery there dwells about 350,000,000 souls or one fifth of the human race—nearly three times the population of the United States, in less than half the area. It is a land subdivided in an unreal degree by religion, language, race, caste, social condition, government, and convention.

There are twelve languages, each spoken by at least five million people, and more than two hundred lesser languages and dialects. India thus presents a far more complex linguistic situation than if each state of the American Union had a different language. However, the geographical boundaries of these tongues are not sharp, but develop each other. India needs what China is securing—a simplified written alphabet.

India seems to baffle understanding. Vast, mysterious, crowded, at times drab, at times colorful, beleaguered, yet poverty-stricken, filled with Oriental wisdom, yet pitifully illiterate, now amazingly cured and indifferent, now rising to enviable heights of religious devotion.

India is more unlike China and Japan than they are unlike America. Prof. W. B. Hill, skillfully contrasts Japan, China and India thus: "Japan is picturesque, dainty, toy-like, its tremendous strength and seriousness can with difficulty be realized; China is overpowering, externally attractive, problematic; India is mysterious, religious, sad."

In Japan everybody smiles as a matter of politeness, an empty form; in China many smile from good nature and good feeling; in India nobody smiles—life is too hard and man too insignificant. In Japan the dominant impulse is patriotism concentrated in adoration of Mikado, as divine head of the Empire; in China it is humanity, a recognition of a neighbor's rights, a comradeship in his joys and sorrows; in India it is religion, the dwelling on things unseen and eternal, the devotion of oneself to powers divine. Japan is a child in a new school—curious, elated, self-confident; China is a child in the old, dull home, toiling, patiently, good-naturedly at familiar tasks; India is an orphaned child—lonely, hungry, full of fear, lifting its hands in prayer to the vast sky.
