Arizona Awarded Priceless Water Source In Decision

By LEIF ERICKSON
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Arizona wins from California a priceless source of one million acre feet of water in the recommended decision for the massive Colorado River water trial.

More than a treasure, the disputed water is indispensable to life in a Southwest desert area experiencing explosive population and industrial growth, said Simon H. Rifkind, special master for the Supreme Court of the United States.

Rifkind's draft decree and report, made public Sunday in New York, still must be approved by the Supreme Court.

Campaign Ending In West Virginia

By CHARLESTON, W.V. (AP) — Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today wind up the bitterest presidential campaign of this young election year.

Some 470,000 registered Democrats will have much to say Tuesday about the political future of both.

Sunday night Kennedy openly disavowed what probably is the biggest single factor in this vigorous month-long contest, his Roman Catholic religion.

"I have not been able to convince, apparently the people that I have the same convictions they do," he said in the Constitution.

"If any Pope attempted to influence me as president," he added, "I should tell him it was completely improper."

West Virginia has 4.5 per cent Catholics. The rest can be considered Protestants, even though only 28 per cent have formal church ties.

This is the first time a Catholic has been entered in a presidential primary in West Virginia since

Solons Mum On Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fourteen Republican House members had breakfast with President Eisenhower today and, by prearrangement, none asked him about the American spy-plane episode.

Rep. Robert Wilson of California told newsmen that the House did not bring the matter up.

The breakfast session was one of a series that the President has been giving for GOP members of Congress.

The first question reporters put to today's group afterward was whether there had been any discussion of the incident, which was capped over the weekend by U. S. admission that the pilot of an American plane shot down over the Soviet Union was on an espionage mission.

"We purposely agreed to advance to stay away from that subject unless the President brought it up, and he didn't bring it up," Wilson said.

Ramsey said that "throughout the campaign I tried to stay away from the subject, but I was asked to do so."

Few Voters Tell Choice

WITH WVA PRIMARY
CHARLESTON, W.V. (AP) — Most of the 108 West Virginia Democrats who want to represent the state at the national convention decline to say who they will support for president, the Charleston Gazette reported today.

The Gazette polled all the candidates, and 74 said they were undecided or wouldn't identify who they would support.

Twelve said they favored Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) who is opposing Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) in Tuesday's primary.

Twelve others said they would vote for Adlai Stevenson, whose name is not on the ballot.

Humphrey was favored by only two of the delegates. Four said they would support Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, and four favored Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

The 25-vote West Virginia delegation to the Democratic National Convention is not obligated by Tuesday's primary.

President Is Bitten

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has a small welt on the side of his head today. He laughingly reported he was bitten by a mosquito while fishing.

Eisenhower had breakfast at the White House this morning with a group of Republican congressmen. When he posed with the group for photographs, newsmen noticed that a patch of the President's hair above the left ear was discolored a bit by something which seemed to be medicine.

Rep. Robert Wilson of California explained it to reporters afterward.

He said Eisenhower gave this account:

When he was playing football years ago at West Point and another youth cracked their skulls together. The accident cut Eisenhower's head above the left ear and quite a while redeveloped after.

While fishing this weekend—apparently in the small pond at his Gettysburg, Pa. farm—the President was bitten by a mosquito in the scar area.

The area apparently has remained sensitive, and Eisenhower reported that the mosquito bite raised a welt.

of the summit conference runs into difficulties."

London's leftist Daily Mirror declared the Powers flight was "sheer insanity." The liberal News Chronicle called it a "crass blunder." The Western leaders will start the summit conference with the knowledge that their "most powerful member has been outwitted with painful ease."

The State Department's explanation of the flight brought mixed reactions.

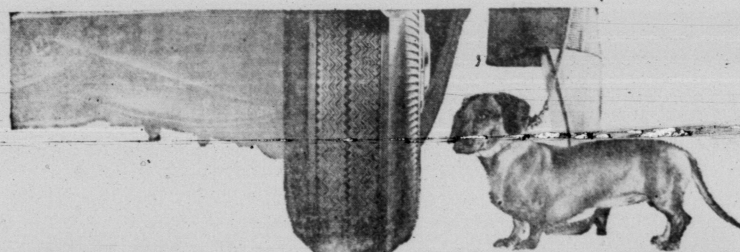

Kennedy Zilliacus, a leftwing member of the British Parliament, said it was "the classic excuse of the young lady who pleaded that her legitimate baby was only a little one. The fact that the President apparently knew nothing of the dispatch of the spy plane makes matters, if anything, worse."

Germany's influential Frankfurter Allgemeine said: "You don't make things better by claiming that the other side's exaggerated sense of security morally justifies the flight."

But the Straits Times of Singapore said: "The American government has done the proper thing to keep things in proportion by admitting—or all but—that their aircraft was seeking information."

The newspaper said it was Khrushchev's luck that the American plane had been caught "when its becoming clear that Soviet jet bombers are flying regular sorties at high altitudes in Japanese airspace."

Victor Hugo, Thomas Jefferson, Anatole France and H. G. Wells all lauded Napoleon. Jefferson said that Napoleon was "a cold-blooded, calculating, unprincipled usurper without a virtue; no statesman, knowing nothing of commerce, political economy or civil government, and supplying ignorance by bold presumption."

BEATNIK PARTY—Members of the Rainbow Girls gathered at the home of their sponsor, Mrs. R. B. Sears, 2210 Thirtieth Street Friday evening for a beatnik party and wiener roast. Various forms of lamps lighted the back yard of the home, giving it the atmosphere of eeriness. The group played games, danced to a hi-fi set up in the yard and reported a very enjoyable evening.

Library Notes

This year marks the 150th anniversary of the birth of Chopin, the musical genius of Poland. The interest in Chopin has never lagged, and during the last sixty years 180 Chopin piano works have been recorded all over the world. Two recent Chopin records added to Scurry County Library's record library are "The Waltzes of Chopin" recorded by Dinu Lipatti, and his "Polonaise Fantaisie in A Flat Major" and "Mazurka in F Sharp Minor" all included in "A Piano Invitation to the Dance." Ann Schen, pianist.

New collections include "The Art of Grace Moore" featuring numbers that shape up into a pretty good tonal portrait of the soprano. "Entr'acte Caruso, Vol. 2," should bring gratification to many music lovers—whether they listen for sheer pleasure in the beauty of the human voice or whether they bring to their listening a connoisseur's special interest. John McCormack in Opera and Song represents the recorded legacy of the eternal boy from the banks of the Shannon who gave definition to the phrase "Irish Tenor." One of the opening numbers of "The Art of Kirsten Flagstad" is from the music with which Madame Flagstad first electrified America. In "The Art of Paderewski" the artist plays Chopin, Debussy, and Liszt.

Two anthologies are recent additions to the library—"Music of the Middle Ages" and "Music of the Renaissance." Nothing could defeat the general misconception of the dark and mysterious Middle Ages more than the realization that amidst somber Gothic cathedrals and serene monasteries there grew an art which reflected the light-hearted and amorous sentiment that prevailed behind the walls of stern looking castles.

Over three hundred years of history and tradition are represented in the "Soviet Army Chorus and Band." The folk music of Israel is recorded in "Night on the Desert," a record of unusual sound and emotions, and intimate blending of two voices and two ancient instruments.

Music has been said to be "the handmaiden of religion" for music has in itself the power to carry man to exalted heights. "Holy, Holy, Holy" by the Roger Wagner Chorus beautifully expresses the universal spirit of Christianity. Other selections chosen for this record are "Ave Maria," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," and "The Holy City."

Charlotte Heston writes that "If you're going to play Moses, the way to begin is certainly to read the Five Books of Moses." Music on this album is by the Robert DeCormier Chorus.

"Evangelina," a tale of Acadie read by Harry Fleetwood, "J. B.," a gallop prize play in verse by Archibald MacLeish, presents Christopher Plummer, Raymond Massey, James Daly, and Nan Martin, with music composed and conducted by David Amram.

Try Noodle Snacks With Beverages

At small dinner parties the smart hostess serves a few appetizers which quicken the appetite and blend well.

If you are a bride, you would do well to keep the appetizers extremely simple, preferably the made-ahead kind so that you can give your full attention to last minute preparations. The time to delve into the intricate, serve-immediately tidbits is when you are completely at ease in your kitchen.

Chow Mein Noodle Snacks
Spread 2 cups of La Choy chow mein noodles in a shallow pan. Combine 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1/4 teaspoon onion powder, 1/4 teaspoon soy sauce and 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan-type cheese. Pour over noodles, stirring noodles gently with a fork to coat them well. Heat in a 250 degree oven for 30 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Miss Sturdivant Presents Program At Art Guild Meet

The Art Guild met recently at the Martha Ann Woman's Club. Mrs. Ivan Gatlin was hostess and Mrs. Billie Youree presided in the absence of the president.

Miss Estelle Mae Sturdivant whose subject was "Historical Doll Collections" said that doll-like figures go back to prehistoric times. Tombs of wealth, ancient Egyptians held toy furnishings and tiny carved figures representing every kind of work, cooking and music making. Early Greek and Roman dolls are considered to be religious offerings buried with children. These little figures made of ivory and jointed limbs and resembled our modern dolls.

The Pueblo Indians of America attached religious significance to their Kachina dolls. Children received them to learn about tribal rites and spirits.

In the latter part of the 14th century men and women began to use dolls to show the latest fashions in dress, millinery and hair styles. France was the style center of the world. Later France and England shipped fashion dolls to India and to the American Colonies. They took the place of our modern fashion magazines.

Doll making as an industry began about 1800. Most dolls represented women and were dolls made of rag, wood, china, leather or wax. Germany was the center of making china dolls. Not until the 20th century did manufacturers make dolls in the likeness of real children and babies.

Mary E. Lewis tells in her book "The Marriage of Diamonds and Dolls" how she started her collection of dolls which consists of 1600 dolls, some of which are less than an inch long and the largest in the size of a six year old child.

The National Doll Collector Club consists of members who have the common interest of collecting dolls, especially those dressed in authentic styles of certain periods. Miss Sturdivant also read a portion of a recent humorous article on dolls by Inez Robb and showed some dolls from the collection of Mrs. Estelle Wylie, who was a guest for the evening.

Seventeen club members attended.

POLITICAL PANTY RAID EPIDEMIC

British Have Quaint Ideas About Chessman's Execution

By INEZ ROBB

LONDON. — Last week, in the midst of reporting the royal wedding, I did not have time to blow a gasket over the coverage of the Caryl Chessman execution by the London press—although my blood pressure shot through my hat at the time and has not yet subsided.

The execution was the excuse for the most deliberate and incessantly vicious anti-American bashing—there has been my misfortune to encounter abroad. Granted that 90 percent of London papers practice a type of yellow journalism unknown at home, it was still a remarkably gaudy demonstration.

For 48 hours before the execution, the vast majority of London papers all but forgot the royal wedding in mauling, sensational accounts of the last hours of this tortured, harried innocent whom we depraved American torquemadas were about to tie to the stake.

Any uninformed reader of nine out of 10 London newspapers would have presumed that the American gestapo was executing an innocent Boy Scout who had been convicted of nothing more serious than pinching a cherry pie off a kitchen window sill. And certainly, one got the impression that the savages were delivering this cherub Chessman to the auto-da-fé solely for our own pleasure and diversion.

At no time were any facts relating to Chessman's unprintable crime, the kidnapping charge or the tragedy that one of his victims, a young woman, was driven insane as the result of his unnatural sexual attacks upon her, ever printed or allowed to sully his purity. Perish the thought that he was any kind of the poor victim condemned-to-life-in-an-insane-asylum.

No, Chessman was the victim throughout. No mention was made of the fact that he had fought with the strength of a tiger and the skill of Blackstone to postpone his just sentence time after time after time.

And on the day of the execution, what loving details of Chessman's "agonies" as appeared in London's press! Unfortunately, the sensational libel suit against the Duchess of Argyll broke at the same time, and the London press had a hard time deciding which story would sell the most papers, Chessman or chess.

But Chessman won the round in the end.

"I am glad tonight I am not an American," boasted reporter Jeffrey Blyth of The Daily Mail, who was at San Quentin, weeping his heart out on the day Chessman was executed.

Well, I was glad and proud to be an American that day. It will require a great deal more than the execution of a degenerate like Chessman to make me tear up my passport.

Only one British newspaper that I saw, The Manchester Guardian, carried a dispatch pointing out that Chessman was guilty by fair trial of heinous crimes.

"In any Western country that inherited Roman law," wrote its correspondent Alastair Cooke, "the just penalty for the Chessman's frightful crimes is death."

Cooke continued: "He is also a man with a tormented record of crime, whose final act is punishable by death according to the strict laws of the state. As such, the case of Caryl Chessman is not a miscarriage of justice or an affront to the law. It is simply a natural tragedy."

And, may an angry American ask, what in the world was the American warden of San Quentin doing his duty or his publicity puff—when he allowed morbid English reporters to talk ad in-

Bargain In Patent Sells For 25 Cents

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you like odd souvenirs, Uncle Sam will sell you a copy of the biggest patent ever issued—620 pages—for the bargain price of 25 cents.

The patent office paid $13.32 for each copy printed. What's more, the 25-cent price tag doesn't even cover the cost of mailing which the government also pays.

The bulky patent No. 2,925,257, was issued Feb. 23 to Amos E. Joel Jr. of South Orange, N. J. It covers an automatic telephone billing system developed for the Bell Telephone Laboratories, New York City.

Joel has invented a device which automatically keeps track of all calls made from individual telephones, together with the charges. At the end of each month, it produces a carefully tabulated bill for each phone.

Most patents contain about six pages but Joel's includes 354 pages of diagrams plus 266 pages of printed material. It weighs four pounds, two ounces. The text runs about 390,000 words, or the length of five average novels.

By law, anyone may buy a copy of any patent. The standard charge is 25 cents. For the average six-page patent, this charge permits the government to recover much of the printing costs. However, no provision is made for increasing the fee in an exceptional case like the Joel patent.

The Joel patent had an initial printing of 204 copies and this job cost the government $141.60. Joel paid a standard fee of $30 to help defray this cost so Uncle Sam actually was out of pocket $4.11, 60—or about $20.15 for each copy printed.

A second printing of 200 copies cost only $1,351.60 since the type was already set. The text run that boosted the government's total expense for 404 copies to $5,463.20, or $13.52 a copy.

Krush Sets Stage To Ridicule Ike

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was just the beginning when the Soviet Union, with the world watching, booby-trapped the United States on the American spy plane it said was shot down over the Soviet Union.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev, if he wishes, has prepared the stage for embarrassing the government and President Eisenhower before, during and after the summit meeting which opens in Paris next Monday.

Without condemning Eisenhower at all, Khrushchev has already projected an image of himself as a leader much more alert to what's happening than the resident.

He let it be known he was the one who gave the order to shoot down the plane while it was over his territory. Up to this moment the American government has insisted Eisenhower didn't know about the plane or its mission.

Since Khrushchev is shrewd, a the actor and a superb propagandist he could easily pull a switch that would present him to the watching world as a man of vast good will.

He could do it by ordering the release of the captured American filier—30-year old Francis G. Powers—just before the summit conference begins.

The American government walked into Khrushchev's trap with about as much sophistication as a 10-year old who lost his mama.

It was clear Khrushchev wasn't telling the whole story Thursday when he announced an American jet was shot down while traveling over the Soviet Union. For instance, he didn't reveal the fate of the pilot.

There was a chance he didn't know any more than he said. But he left so much unsaid, it could be suspected he knew much more than he revealed. In view of this uncertainty, the United States could have played smarter.

WHERE'S THE ACTION—This group of Snyder Tiger backers was caught off-handedly during Friday night's State Track and Field Meet which was held in Austin's Memorial Stadium. CHI GAINS LEAD

Staley Superb As Sox Crush Yanks

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Gerry Staley not only is making a monkey out of the American League hitters, he's making the experts eat humble pie. He's also the reason the Chicago White Sox are in first place today.
Staley pitched in 67 games last year. His earned run average was the best relief pitcher in the league in 1959 but this was another year after all he was approaching 40. He couldn't possibly be as good.
Surprise! Staley is better. Manager Al Lopez has called on his aged right arm eight times in 18 games and the opposition still has to score a run off him in 17 2-3 innings.
Staley gave a demonstration of his excellence to 10,505 Yankee stadium spectators Sunday as the White Sox wrested first place from the New York Yankees in 10 innings, 8-3.
It was the only game played in the American League All the others were postponed because of rain. In the National League Philadelphia defeated Los Angeles 4-2 and Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 5-2. The Milwaukee-Chicago game was postponed because of rain.
The White Sox were leading 3-1 and Billy Pierce had four hits as the Yankees came to bat in the last of the ninth. The veteran southpaw was clipped for a quick run when Mickey Mantle doubled and Roger Maris singled in Game Staley.
Bill Skowron hit Gerry's first pitch for a double and Elston Howard was given an intentional base on balls.

Deciding Tilt Re-Scheduled

Chicago's game with the Milwaukee Braves, announced the re-setting of a date for the deciding Colorado City-Snyder district encounter, along with the addition of two other games which will be played this week.
The game which was to have been played in Colorado City tomorrow has been postponed until Thursday with no change in the site. This game represents the final district game of the season for both teams, and the winner will be crowned the district champion at each presently stands 2-1 for the campaign.
Games against Rotan and Lubbock Monterey have been added to the schedule.
The Tigers will travel to Rotan Wednesday for a 4-15 encounter, while Monterey will come here Friday for a 3 o'clock tilt which will be played at the Towle Park Field.

Tryouts Begin In Farm Loop

Farm League tryouts are beginning today, with the 17 and 12 year old youngsters slated to start the ball rolling.
Those out for the American League teams will try out at the old rodeo grounds with the National League's youngsters, their trunks at Stanford Elementary.
Tryouts in both loops will begin at 5 o'clock each evening.
The schedule for the remainder of the season is as follows: 9 year olds, Thursday, 9 year olds, Friday, 8 year olds.

Steers Take 12th Title Under Falk

By The Associated Press
Texas, with the Southwest Conference baseball championship safely packed away, cleans up the loose ends this week with a couple of games against Texas A&M.
The Texas A&M team, which was the runner-up in the conference, wind up the regular season. The Longhorns captured two games from Southern Methodist last week, clinching their 12th straight title under coach Bibb Falk.
Falk, who coached the Longhorns for 33 years, and have won a total of 33 over the years along with three other titles.
Rice enters SMU and Baylor hosts Texas Christian Friday and Saturday in the season finales. Baylor won three games last week, beating Rice 6-0 and the Aggies twice, and moved into a tie for second place with the Owls.
Both have 8-5 records.
The Longhorns, 11-2 in the conference and 19-2 for the season, have nothing to lose but their dignity against the Aggies. A&M is a second place holder of the cellar, having won only one of 10 league games.

Palmer Pick In Colonial Links Circus

PORT WORTH (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the year's leading money winner by a mile, is favored to add the $30,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament to his string.
Palmer was the choice of the writers to take down first money of $5,000 in the tournament starting Thursday.
Ben Hogan, five-time winner and defending champion, was second choice while Don Finsterwald was next and Ken Venturi was the fourth choice.
Only a few of the 54 players who will compete in the tournament had arrived over the weekend but most of them will come in today with the close of the Las Vegas tournament.
Among those tuning up on the tour, 35-35-70, 7-9-1 yard, Colonial Country Club, Course was Jim Forrester of Crystal River, Fla. who shot a 3-under-par 67. It has been the best practice score.

Schloredt In Second Fiddle Role At Wash.

SEATTLE (AP)—Even an All-American quarterback can be replaced.
As the University of Washington football team resumed spring practice today All-American Bob Schloredt was the No. 2 quarterback. Bob Hyman was running the first string when Washington completed its first week of spring work Saturday.
The switch is not new for either of the junior quarterbacks. Hyman opened the season last fall as the varsity signal-caller. He broke a finger in the opening game against Colorado and Schloredt took over.
Under his leadership the team capped a 9-1 season with a 44-8 victory over Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl.

McElhenney Signs
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Hugh McElhenney signed up today for his ninth season as a San Francisco 49er fullback.
He is the second leading ground gainer in 49er history.

Garden Head Dies; Marks Era's End

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—You never can tell what might pop up at Madison Square Garden—muscle-bound wrestlers and graceful ballerinas, Brahms bulls and Liberales.
The same chameleon character might have been attributed to the big, snow-haired man who pulled America's most famous sports arena out of the red and guided its destiny for more than 20 years.
Gen. John Reed Kilpatrick, the general chief of cancer Saturday at the age of 70. This marked the end of an era in American sports.
General Kilpatrick was a phenomenal athlete back in the days before World War I, a Phi Beta Kappa, a successful industrialist, military officer and leader in politics.
But more than anything else, he always will be known as the man who occupied the red-carpeted, walnut-paneled president's office at the Garden and led the big, baroque arena on Eighth Avenue through its rockiest and most colorful periods.
The general liked many sports, but hockey was his favorite. The New York Rangers were like adopted children. He bled and suffered with them through their travails in recent years—moving restlessly from his seat in loge 37 to his television set.
Frequently he visited the Rangers during intermissions and lectured to them like a football coach.

Barber Tops At Las Vegas

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Erie golfing club headed for Texas today and the National Invitational at Fort Worth. And the happiest of them all was Jerry Barber.
The little Los Angeles veteran walked away from the field to win the $42,000 Tournament of Champions. And since the Barbers have five youngsters, the $100,000 Jerry won was quite a Mother's Day present for his wife Lucille.
Barber, at 44 and 5-foot-5, the oldest and smallest in the field, went into the final round at the Desert Inn Country Club with a shaky two-stroke lead over Julius Boros and three in front of Jody Hotel.
Jerry is a club pro and doesn't play as much tournament golf as he used to. But he soon dispelled any idea that he might crack under pressure.
He birdied the first hole and went on to shoot a 63-67 for the par 36-72 test and won up with a 72-hole score of 268. The total was seven shots better than the previous low here — 275 by Stan Leonard in 1958.
It was also 20 strokes below par for the distance.
The final round was something of a 21-thing circus involving the 21 players.
There was Barber turning at the oldest and smallest in the field, and there was Herbert out-gunning Boros in the battle for the runner-up $5,000 purse.
Herbert settled the issue on the 35th when he hit a shot from the center of the fairways over a towering tree. It stopped 30 inches from the pin and led to an eagle three.

Miss Seventeen Photographed By Wolfe In 'Dream' Dresses

Snyder girls are Miss Seventeen on their seventeenth birthday compliments of Wolfe Studio and Rogers Department Store.

Every young lady would like to be a model and have her portrait on display, so Wolfe and Rogers have worked out what they think is quite a birthday gift. Whatever her leanings, frills and fancy or sleek sophistication, a girl may on her seventeenth birthday pick any dress at Rogers for her portrait by Wolfe. Naturally, the dress is bought only for the portrait.

Then, Snyder's Miss Seventeen portrait is hung in the window of Rogers Department Store next to a model of the dress of the month as advertised in "Seventeen" magazine.

This portrait is done in black and white and remains forever. Scott, who resigned from the local Chuck Wolfe, owner of Wolfe Studio, still does outstanding in that field although he is widely known as one of the foremost natural color photographers in this area. Natural color portraits have come in to prominence in the last few years and the demand for color photographs for decorating has increased, that Chuck Wolfe is dividing most of his time to color.

1. To develop skills and to learn better methods of production and marketing.
2. To keep informed on all matters affecting farmers and ranchers.
3. To provide wholesome social and recreational activities.
4. To plan and carry out activities to improve home and community.
5. To plan and carry out a program to recognize outstanding achievements in agriculture.
6. To support the Future Farmers of America and other groups working to improve agriculture.

Legislators Are Ousted In Primary

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Staff Writer

Report of runoff races resulting from Saturday's balloting on Texas legislators show that the tone of the 1961 Legislature won't be decided until the June 4 second primary.

Complete unofficial results announced Monday by the Texas Legislative Service show 15 House members were defeated in their reelection tries and 32 House posts are tied up in runoff campaigns.

Three prominent senators were defeated and another has a runoff. The casualty list includes such prominent "veteran" legislators as Sen. Bill Fly, Floyd Bradshaw, and Bill Wood and Reps. Max Smith, Frates Seelinger, Tony Genogio and Louis Anderson.

Here are the unofficial, all-comprehensive results of the contested legislative races as of Sunday night by district:

1. Sen. Neville Colon, Navarro, defeated Rep. J. C. Zerk, Liberty, by a vote of about 6,000 to 4,000. Zerk, a liberal leader in the House, carried only his home county.
2. Sen. Bill Wood, Tyler, apparently lost his reelection bid to Oklahoma's Caldwell. Tyler by about 2,000 votes.
3. Sen. Doyle Wills, Fort Worth, coasted to an easy victory over Liberal Claude Lakin, Fort Worth.
4. Sen. J. J. Davis, Dallas, Temple won reelection over Godfrey Sullivan Jr., Wills.
5. Sen. William P. Victoria, lost at most 2 to 1 to William Palmer, Garza.
6. Sen. Philip Bradshaw, Weatherford, lost to Thomas Creighton, Mineral Wells, by about 2,000 votes.
7. Sen. Henry Gonzalez, San Antonio, liberal, apparently is headed for a runoff with conservative R. Bobi Strickland, former conservative leader in the House. The count showed Gonzalez with 37,000, almost 3,000 out of a majority. Strickland, 22,300.
8. Rep. Robert Madson, Brownsville, led former Rep. Jim Bates, Edinburg, by less than 1,000 votes in Bexar County.

Abilene Has Big Gain In Population

ABILENE, AP—Abilene's population has nearly doubled in the last decade. The city now has 89,428 residents, according to preliminary census reports made public today.

That is a 96.24 per cent increase from the 1950 census count of 45,576.

Taylor County, officially designated as the Abilene metropolitan area, reached 100,216, ten years ago the county at 63,376. The percentage gain is 58.14 per cent.

Census supervisor Max Mossbolder said Abilene is probably the only city in Texas that will be completely happy over its figure.

Most other cities are falling short of local census predictions, he said.

The preliminary figures may of course be changed by headquarters calculations but the figures are expected to increase, instead of decrease, Mossbolder said. The figures do not include a search of the records for persons who believed they had been missed.

The county increased Taylor County's person per square mile from 69 in 1950 to 110 per square mile now. The average per electric meter, which is a basic figure for calculating population, is 3.41.

World Of Science Moves Along Rapidly

WASHINGTON, AP—President Eisenhower recently sat at a dinner—between scientist—Vannevar Bush and Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America.

Johnston turned to Bush and asked, "What's new in science?"

Before Bush could reply, Johnston reported later, the President quipped:

"How does he know? He's been here an hour, and he's out of context."

Sen. Johnson Pleased With Endorsement

By DAVE CHEADERS
JOHNSON CITY, AP—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson returned to Washington today exhausted with Texas' warm endorsement of his presidential possibilities.

Some of his close advisors felt Johnson's easy leap over the first hurdle toward the nomination brought him considerably closer to a general declaration that he is a candidate.

That would not be possible, they said, without hearty approval from Texas Democrats as a favorite son and a first team contender for the nomination.

"I am deeply grateful for this generous expression of confidence. I will do everything that I possibly can to justify it," Johnson said in comment on his sweep of the Texas precinct conventions Sunday.

This led to immediate speculation that his deeper meaning was that he will follow up with an intensified bid for party favor between now and the national convention at Los Angeles in July.

Conventions in 24 Texas counties Saturday are expected to confirm the action of the precinct meetings where unexpected unity pleased the Johnson forces. They were quick to note that the liberal party element led by Mrs. R. D. "Frankie" Randolph, Houston, Texas' national committee woman, had not made much progress in the grass roots sections where they had been regarded as a threat.

The state convention June 15 is now expected to be an enthusiastic Johnson rally. It will name him as the delegation chief and give him any other weapons they have to offer in the battle of Los Angeles.

"I know that we will be able to select a delegation of able, prudent, progressive and forward-looking men and women who will give our state the effective voice that it should have at the national convention," Johnson said.

"And I know it will be the kind of delegation that will not only be an effective force, but will return to the state and work for the Democratic Party."

"It is important to Texas that we unite the Democratic Party and march forward with closed ranks for our state and country."

Muffled Blasts Undetected

WASHINGTON, AP—Muffled nuclear blasts with five times the punch of the first atomic bombs can be exploded underground without detection until new monitoring systems are developed, American scientists have predicted.

They said it probably will take several years to develop the new system.

The time estimate was made Sunday by the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee in a summary based on testimony by physicists and other scientists during hearings last month. Among those testifying were Dr. Hans Bethe, Dr. Edward Teller, Dr. Harold Urey and Dr. Alvin C. Graves.

The summary was made public a day after President Eisenhower announced the United States would start a new series of underground nuclear tests, possibly before the end of this year. However, the congressional report was prepared some time before the White House announcement.

Eisenhower said the tests would be for peaceful purposes of atomic energy, including development of a detector system.

The United States has conducted no nuclear tests since the fall of 1958. Before that, only one U.S. underground shot had been touched off which could be used for detection estimates.

The congressional summary said "it seems that for the next several years and possibly thereafter there could be a race between improved means of concealing and muffled nuclear tests."

It also pointed out the great difficulty of determining the difference between underground nuclear blasts and natural earthquakes.

Northeast Has Damp Cold Spell

By The Associated Press
More rain and cold put a damp chill over the northeast part of the country today and temperatures dropped to unseasonal levels in most of the South.

Heaviest rainfall was in central Pennsylvania, with more than five inches in some areas and falls of three and four inches in several cities. Heavy rains also drenched Maryland, causing some flooding in western sections.

Rain fell over much of the upper Ohio Valley and Great Lakes region Sunday night but appeared diminishing. Snow fell over the weekend in parts of Wisconsin, Michigan, Montana and Idaho, measuring up to 12 inches in Ironwood, Mich.

The cold air dipped as far south as the southern tip of Florida. The 61-degree reading in Miami was near the record low for the date.

Temperatures were 12 to 18 degrees lower than Sunday morning from western New York southward through Pennsylvania and the coastal states to southern Florida. Readings were mostly in the 40s and 50s.

It was chilly in the upper Great Lakes, Illinois and Indiana and the extreme northern Rockies, with temperatures in the 30s.

Rain was indicated along the West Coast from central California northward into western Washington.

Three persons died in a head-on car collision near Jasper Sunday night boosting the violent death total in Texas during the weekend to 24.

Traffic accidents claimed 14 lives and four persons drowned between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Killed in the two-car collision about six miles west of Jasper were Billy Holmes, 21, of Houston, Gloria Jean Jordan, 16, of Woodville, and Eugene Swan, about 50, of Liberty. Six other persons were injured, four critically.

G. T. Horsley, 45, of Dallas, died in a car accident seven miles west of Sulphur Springs Sunday night. Mrs. Juanita Chapin, 54, of Edinburg, died Sunday when hit by a car in Edinburg.

Jersey City is celebrating its 100th anniversary today for the second time in 30 years. Another such celebration is expected in 1960.

The city kicked off a yearlong observance Sunday with a parade. But in 1930, the late mayor Frank Hague led a parade after declaring that the city sprang from a 1630 village later wiped out by the Indians.

The present city officials count from the founding of the first permanent white settlement in New Jersey in 1600.

And Jersey City itself wasn't incorporated until 1820, so there'll probably be a third-tercentenary celebration in 2120.

Wyatt Earp Has Trouble With Guns

SAYANNAH, Ga. (AP)—The man who plays the fast-drawing Wyatt Earp on television is having a lot of bad luck with his gun work.

Hugh O'Brian has had trouble with his shooting from two days in a row. First he suffered powder burns while attempting his draw, then he wounded a fellow performer slightly when a cartridge was placed in a pistol by mistake instead of a blank.

The latest accident occurred Sunday before some 2,000 persons attending O'Brian's western-style show.

The big fight scene was on O'Brian drew his pistol and fired. "Earp" Exley, 22, promptly collapsed on the stage and writhed in pain just as called for by the script.

But he wasn't supposed to continue to toes and groan.

Investigation showed the pellets came from a special target-shooting cartridge placed in the pistol by mistake.

At Wilmington, N. C. Saturday, a blank cartridge exploded in his pistol as O'Brian was practicing his draw. The show was delayed while he was treated for powder burns on his right thigh.

Pioneer V Now Using New Voice

WASHINGTON, AP—Nearly two months after its launching, the Pioneer V space probe has a new voice.

Radio signals sent more than eight million miles switched on Sunday the 150-watt transmitter which had been silent since Pioneer's March 11 launching from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Until Sunday a five-watt transmitter had been sending back a wealth of detail on cosmic radiation, charged particle energies and magnetic field phenomena. More than 100 hours of broadcast data had been received.

But as distance increased, the smaller radio's signals became harder and harder to pick up, and the long-planned changeover was made as Pioneer reached a point 8,000,000 miles from the earth.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the new radio provided "a good, clear transmission, lasting about a minute and a half." But because it drains the space probe's batteries so much faster, it will be used only sparingly.

NASA officials declined to predict how long the more powerful radio will work. They said some mechanical troubles have turned up in the space probe in the weeks which could cause increasing difficulties.

For one thing, NASA said there has been some slight deterioration of the sun-powered batteries, possibly the result of leakage in the vacuum of space. It noted also that a minor component failure had been reported earlier.
