HAIL TO GRANDPARENTS...

Hail to grandpa and grandma... Sunday is designated as their day. To this group of people we want to tip our hats in tributes of praise. We think grandparents are wonderful and as parents we believe they had an undefinable quality. Their lives were governed by love, compassion, tolerance and good old common sense—not by psychologic relationships that exist between adults and children today. Children were taught to respect the things that go to make up family life. To us psychiatry in family life is something like a pressure cooker. It lets mother and dad go out to play bridge and golf and lets the kids grow up on short cuts and self expression. Give us the family life of the good old fashioned cooking pot and old fashioned rod.

When people feel sorry for the way our grandparents had to live we fail to get all worked up. Despite the fact that they had it rough without all the labor saving devices of today, they had a family unity that included all members of the family and we know that they were happier than families are today. They had no income tax blanks to enter them, they didn't have to trip over the alphabetical conversation that keep our conversations all muddled up, they didn't have to listen to hundreds of commercials and politicians and no government bureaus were telling them in every breath that they were downtrodden and underprivileged. Give us the good old days where grandpa and grandma were the head of the family and the key to a wonderful way of living.

DELUGE OF PEDDLARS...

Word has gotten around that this section of the country is "ripe" and that the "pickins" should be plentiful. With this misconception about our bountiful crops in the minds of migrant peddlars, Post is due for a deluge of door-knocking solicitors any day. At this time of year we are always troubled with teams of men and women who are working their way through college, trying to win enough points to enroll in nursing schools, or win for themselves a free lot and house in some Utopia setting with a name never heard of before.

The solicitors have started a little early this year. Just a few days ago a number of business men were "hooked" on a high school advertising deal that upon investigation was entirely without authorization from the high school officials. By the time investigations got under way, the solicitors were gone and had left no trace. Several teams of magazine peddlars are acting like Arabs in that they are arrogant and angry if the housewives do not sign on the dotted lines.

Citizens are urged to ask for credentials and to look them over carefully if solicitors are not known. Many people will be knocking on your doors and if they have the proper credentials they will graciously let you inspect them. Don't get "hooked" by high and mighty solicitors who are here to make a "killing." Save your subscriptions and such for home town folks who pay their taxes here and who are interested in the welfare of the town.

Texans In WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY,
Associated Press Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic congressional candidates in strong two-party states won't get the help this year that a couple of seasoned Texas congressmen usually lend in the November election campaigns.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham and Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana will have their hands full in Texas, what with the Republicans threatening their re-election.

"It's the first time since 1928 that we've needed to get out and work for the Democratic ticket in Texas," said Patman.

"I think Texas will stay Democratic, all right, but we must get out and work to prevent a repetition of the Herbert Hoover debacle." Democratic congressmen maintain an organization dedicated to helping against a Republican. Such close states as Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio, where some candidates are constantly in need of help, send out an S.O.S. for a big name Democrat to come in and speak on their behalf.

Rayburn and Patman are always in top demand in such emergencies, not only to put in a friendly pat on the back for their individual Democratic candidate but for the party ticket generally.

So close does the presidential race appear in Texas this year that all of the Texas members of Congress are on the spot as to whether they will actively support Stevenson.

Stevenson's coming out for federal ownership of the "tidelands" messed up things for the Texas legislators.

When an individual Texas congressman decides what to say or do about supporting Stevenson, he has to keep in mind not only the way his choice sets with constituents but its effect on his standing in Washington.

Getting down to the current situation, top Democratic congressional leaders are keeping an anxious eye on the Texas congressmen.

Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), author of the states ownership tidelands bill, has called on Texans to stand by the party notwithstanding Stevenson's position on that issue. He dropped what may be interpreted as a hint that some of the support Texas, Louisiana and California got on the tidelands fight might not be forthcoming in the future if they desert the party.

Around the Capital:
The heaviest federal court criminal dockets in the entire nation are in Texas, according to a report just issued by the Administration Office of the United States Courts.

Prosecution of "wetback" Mexican aliens for violating immigration laws is responsible. There were 6,394 criminal cases filed during the year ended July 1 in the Southern Texas federal district and 5,901 in the one involved "wetbacks." There were 5,211 criminal cases in the Western Texas federal district, including 4,334 immigrant cases.

The hunt of handling these cases was borne by U.S. Judge James V. Allred in the Southern district and U.S. Judge Ewing Thomson in the Western district.

There were 520 civil suits filed in the Eastern Texas federal judicial district during the year ended July 1; there were 365 such cases pending when the fiscal year began on July 1, 1951, and 378 pending when it ended.

ROGER W. BABSON WRITES THIS WEEK

Unless Big Manufacturers and Labor Leaders Reduce Their Costs Their Days Are Numbered

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Much has been written recently about the need for salesmen to sell. They say sales are down because salesmen have forgotten how to sell. Is this really so?

How Much Money Do People Have?

Much has also been written about the savings people have accumulated since World War II. We have been told that people have more money to spend than ever and that, if they would only spend it, business would be good. Sales managers have long sung the tune that the ability to buy has not fluctuated so much as the desire to buy; that people aren't buying because they are not being sold! The fact is, however, that most sales statisticians overlook the way in which savings are distributed among our people. Federal Reserve Board figures for 1950 estimated that the $20 billion in savings were distributed as follows: the top 10 per cent of our population held 73 per cent of the net savings; the top 20 per cent owned 93 per cent of the net savings; the top 20 per cent owned 93 per cent of the total net savings. This leaves the bottom 80 per cent of the population with but 7 per cent of the savings, operating pretty much on a hand-to-mouth basis.

If the average income of this 80 per cent is $3,000 (and this is a high estimate), then how, I ask, can you expect salesmen to sell to people who just haven't the money? If you don't believe a $3,000-a-year worker doesn't have the money, then take your pencil and figure roughly—after deducting Federal, State and Local taxes—what you yourself pay for rent, light, heat, water, gas, telephone and repairs. And to this, food, clothing, charities, insurance and miscellaneous. Then do the same for the $3,000-a-year worker, married and with two children. I am sure you will then begin to wonder where the mass market is for $2,000 automobiles, $200 refrigerators, $75 vacuum cleaners, $10 shoes, or even 9c-per-pound potatoes! I believe in more intensive selling and more intensive advertising; but labor must reduce costs so people will have the money to buy more.

Why Do They Buy?
The one thing since World War II when business conditions were relatively normal was in the early months of 1950. The great backlog of demand was beginning to be satisfied for those who had the money. Then, bang, came Korea! War scares and talk of shortages prompted a mad rush of scarce buying. According to a recent sampling study of about 10,000 families by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, a good cross section of our population, from almost a hundred large cities to small towns, the 1950 buyers were upper middle-class families with a net income, after taxes, of about $4,300. But their spending spree put them in the red to the tune of $400 that year!

Keep in mind that these were people with net earnings of $4,300—an appreciable cut above the average worker with gross earnings of $3,000. Even so, they not only had to dip into savings but go into the hole for the purchases they made. Why did they spend? Their wants were spawned primarily by war hysteria and cries of shortages. There were those who were afraid that if they waited they wouldn't be able to buy that new car, or washer, or suit of clothes; or that, if they did wait, prices would skyrocket. In other words, many of these people had their hands forced by fear.

Pricing Yourself Out of the Market

Sales managers can talk all they want to about the need to sell and sell hard, but if the consumer can't afford the price tag, how is he going to buy? We've watched the recent potato fiasco change the dietary habits of a number of people. Potato sales still haven't fully recovered, while the sales of rice, macaroni, and spaghetti remain high. When bus companies raise fares too fast, they lose 10 per cent of their riders.

Whatever happened to natural rubber—and butter—and the silk industries? The answer to this question explains why the automotive industry is in the peculiar economic paradox of having both a shortage of cars and a shortage of buyers. The history of American industry is filled with the ghosts of overpricing. Either industry doesn't know the history of overpricing, or else it is operating with its head in the sand. Unless the manufacturers and labor leaders who depend on mass markets reduce their costs to fit the mass pocketbook, their days are numbered.

Getting Out On The Limb

by EDDIE the editor

SUDDEN THOUGHT: The safest way to knock a chip off a fellow's shoulder is to pat him on the back.

Seems everybody's got a special fund, or two or three, except me. The Democrats are contributing to Republicans and, of course vice versa. The newspapers the past two weeks have been full of politician's accounts, as audited by CPA's and which make no sense to me.

The amount of income taxes paid by Messrs. Ike, Adlai, Dick and John are not of the slightest interest to me. I presume they paid all they owed or else they would have been sent up along with some of the racket boys who forgot to account for all their earnings.

So far as I'm concerned the candidates can keep their private finances to themselves. What interests me is what they are figuring on doing about mine.

This Dadgum Tax situation is rough, and getting rougher, and Harry's 16-car Pullman entourage across the continent isn't bringing about any signs of prosperity, according to my stupid way of figuring things out. Some of the big boys in Washington say it's alright, because the whole party, from President on down, will be attending to its "usual business" even while away from Washington.

So far as I'm concerned the Republicans can run their special train from now until next election because it isn't costing any of my tax money and I am not kicking in on any kind of Republican campaign fund.

Now the way the experts have it figured out the 13-day "whistlestop" tour of Mr. Truman and Company will cost the government, pardon me, taxpayers some $11,000 or $12,000. The Democrats will be out $7,800 on "give 'em hell, Harry's tour."

The breakdown in figures reads something like this:

The government is paying the expenses of secret service men and Civil Service workers who are accompanying the President. The rest of the check is being picked up by the Democratic National Committee. Reporters, photographers, radio and television men are footing their own freight. There are twenty persons in Mr. Truman's official party. About half the number are non-Civil Service employees. The official party is made up of secret service body guards required by law to travel with the president, Truman's appointment secretary, press secretaries, two or three speech writers, a mimeograph operator and other help.

Railroad fare per head, including the President's big fat one, is $315. Total $6300, paid for by the Demos. Food for non-Civil Service employees at $12 per day is also a part of the Democrat's expense. Secret service men and Civil Service workers are eating off the tax payers on a $9-a-day expense allowance.

The government's, there I go again, taxpayer's share of the show bill will be $1170 for the 13 days, while the Demos will pay out $1560 to feed their boys. We tax payers will pay well over $10,000 in salaries to the trippers while they are away from Washington, which may be pretty light at that, not knowing how much they would cost us if they had stayed in Washington.

The President gets a salary of $100 grand per annum, which is close to $275 per day and adds up to $3575 for the 13 days. Some of the top secretaries and aides draw $18,000 a year, or fifty bucks a day. Each of these assistants will draw $650 during the outing. Salaries of the others in the party will range from $15,000 down to about $4,000. At an $8,000-per-year average, these people will cost us about $4,000 all told.

So what, the whole party from the President down, will be attending to "business as usual" and who can doubt that.

THE WOMEN, God Love 'Em
—One woman shopper to another... "I just LOVE charge accounts, they go farther than money."

The little woman tells me that plastic bathtubs are to be next on the list of new things on the market. The new tubs can be carried under the arm they are so light, yet they will be as strong as steel. Sounds like we are heading back to the good old days of the old No. 3 that I used to bring in from the woodshed on Saturday night. Doubt that I will like the new plastic job since one of the materials used in it is cold tar acid. Might tend to rub off on one's posterior.

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Showdown

Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

What A Move!

It seems to us that the most unusual things have been happening during the past week. It may be, of course, just because we have been moving. We have moved into a penthouse located atop a three-hole garage. There's a Republican on one side, a Democrat across the street—and the Kaufman-Dallas pavement in the rear. Right now, it's rather difficult to figure which of the three has the hardest head. We think the pavement is running a poor third. Our moving into the new neighborhood isn't going to simplify matters. The stalwart Republican will appreciate the vote we are going to cast for Eisenhower, but he'll class as a fair weather friend. The Democrat will regard us as a deserter because we'll not vote under the column headed "Democrat." Then, we'll think both of them are giving us a raw deal—because if the Democratic clique continues to offer what it has been offering in platforms and personalities, it is our firm conviction that we are voting the Democrat principles of our grandfathers by voting for the candidates under the Republican column. — The Kaufman Herald.

Weekend Law Violations

A situation exists in Littlefield now that has gotten out of hand. We refer to the situation wherein a large proportion of merchants in Littlefield are keeping their stores open on Sunday in direct defiance of State laws which limit the types of business which can engage in commerce on the Sabbath. State laws tell us that grocery stores may stay open on certain hours Sunday, provided they do not sell anything but milk and ice cream. Filling stations may remain open all day, provided they do not sell auto supplies. Drug stores may stay open, provided they sell drugs only. A city ordinance prohibits the selling of merchandise on any day if that merchandise is displayed on public property such as the sidewalks of the city. Thus we find that not one but two laws are being violated in Littlefield every weekend.—The Littlefield County-Wide News.

Trying to Figure It Out

Every once in a while I get the feeling that I should open up and dish out some profound political advice but after listening to experts like Stevenson and Ike over the radio I come to the conclusion that if they cannot do so far there is no use in my knocking myself out for myself. If anyone can explain in any way the financial mess that Nixon and Stevenson are in to me, I'd be very much obliged. I'm still trying to figure out who got those eighteen thousands that they both passed out to their friends.—The Slaton Slatonite.

Bless His Heart

Why, bless his little old dedicated heart, Gov. Shivers is going to issue a proclamation as to how he is going to vote come November! This is all Texas has been waiting for, for our leader to take us by the hand and lead us safely into the Dixiecrat fold. You may be sure that this decision was reached after conference with Jesse Jones and the boys who put up the money for the governor's office. We recall that Shivers was all set to run for Tom Connally's Senate job until he went to Houston for a session with Jesse Jones. Jones allowed "the boys" would string along with Old Tawm, so Shivers declined to run. For further insight on the handsome governor's politics, see this week's issue of TIME. In the meantime relax; the governor is fixing to fix it so you won't have to worry about how to vote.—The Ralston

They Got Caught

Street lights have been fair hunting for boys even before Edison replaced the old hand-lighted oil lamps with the modern incandescent bulb. But the mode of hunting has changed in the past few years from rocks, to slingshots, to B-B guns, and now to 22 caliber rifles. But we think we are safe in saying that three boys will transfer their hunting grounds to more primeval surroundings in the future. You see, they had the misfortune of getting caught this week. — The Crosbyton Review.

Improve Road

Workmen this week placed a new coating of asphalt and chat on Highway 389 from West Point east to Tanoka, the project being financed by the State Highway Department. Lynn county people hope the Department will not wait too much longer before doing something about the rough pavement on the same highway east of Tanoka.—The Lynn County News.

CRASH SERVICE—Crashing into and through a building, this car went beyond the spirit of advertising on a roadside cafe near Kermit, Texas, and went right into the building. No one was injured seriously in the accident since the cafe was closed for the night, but a Kermit man, Carl Woolsey, the car's driver, was charged with driving while intoxicated. The operator of the cafe, E. B. Andrews, said his loss would be high—not only from the wrecked building but from looters who entered the building later and took merchandise from the building.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

Check List For Men Going Into Military Service

What about your civilian affairs if you are called into military service? You may save yourself and your family a great deal of difficulty and worry by considering right now some of the problems that may arise.

All during World War II and in the present Korean conflict, a special committee of the State Bar has handled literally thousands of disconcerting legal entanglements for servicemen. Members of the group say that many of these difficulties could have been avoided if the soldiers involved had taken a few simple precautions before leaving civilian life.

After you enter the service, keep in mind that this group, the State Bar committee on Legal Assistance to the Armed Forces, stands ready to help when necessary. Every county in the state has a Legal Assistance Chairman whose responsibility is to look into local matters when requested by a serviceman. The committee and the county chairmen may be contacted through State Bar of Texas, Austin, 15, Texas.

But before going into service, here is a partial list of things to do to protect yourself and your family:

Execute a power of attorney in recordable form if you want someone to be able to act for you in your absence.

Rent a safety deposit box, collect your important documents and store them in it.

Have a will prepared, or revised to suit any changed conditions.

Arrange for payment of outstanding bills or loans. The Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act protects you against entry of judgment while in service.

Check your life insurance. Be sure the beneficiaries are correct—if the beneficiary is to be paid in monthly installments, is the amount now adequate in the light of the present deflated dollar? Arrange for premium payments.

If you have a lease on your business or residence arrange to cancel or sublet; provide for getting premises back when you return. If you give proper notice the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act may save you from further liability under leases after your departure.

Check your fire and personal property insurance policies for expiration dates, proper coverage and address. Get a rebate if you cancel.

Be sure your automobile license and insurance are available and in the name of the proper person. If your car won't be used for business purpose you may be entitled to a reduced premium.

Leave with some person, other than your wife, complete data as to yourself, where you are, how you are to be reached. Keep that person informed of changes while you are away, so he can reach in an emergency.

Consolidate your bank accounts and open a joint account. Arrange for statements, allotments, etc. Check your credit resources and arrange for your family to obtain credit or loans in emergencies.

If you are under 26 and called in the reserves, notify your draft board. File a change of address card with the post office and have your mail forwarded to some responsible person.

If you have a mortgage or land contract arrange with the lender for deferment of principal payment, if necessary. Check GI loan provisions and the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act.

With replacement costs for buildings, machinery and equipment high and in some cases in short supply, agricultural producers, says Lewis Herron, county agent, cannot afford to let fire hazards go unnoticed on their properties. Herron points out that 90 per cent of all farm fires can be traced to one or more of the following hazards: improper storage and use of gasoline and kerosene; unsafe wiring; overloaded electrical circuits; failure to replace worn cords and defective electrical appliances; defective stoves and furnaces; careless smoking habits; spontaneous ignition of hay or other stored materials; sparks from chimneys or bonfires falling on flammable roofs; defective chimneys and failure to protect buildings with lightning rods.

Periodic checks of all farm buildings should be made, says Herron, to make sure that the stage isn't being set for a destructive fire. Finding the hazards, however, is not enough, they must be removed.

Prevention should be the number one item in any program aimed at reducing the number of fires but despite all human efforts fires may strike and provisions should be made for these emergencies, says the county agent. Fire-fighting equipment should be available and in good working order. Such equipment as hand extinguishers, water containers, ladders, hose, shovels, swatters, rakes and the power sprayer, if it is portable, all should be kept in readiness. Make sure, however, says Herron, the water pumping equipment isn't put out of commission by a fire in the wiring of a farm building; and have plans for utilizing the water supply stored in tanks or ponds when located near buildings.

Fire prevention is the job of every member of the family and to be most effective community action is needed. Herron suggests that much can be accomplished through community organizations. He points out that a good fire prevention program will supplement a farm accident prevention program because many of the same hazards that cause fires also cause accidents. More fire fighting equipment is needed in the rural areas and organizations already in existence are urged by Herron to consider undertaking projects that will eventually result in the securing of the needed equipment and trained leaders to operate it. He says it can be done because such equipment is already in operation in some areas. Fewer destructive fires and accidents on the farms and ranches of the state, says Herron, will leave more dollars that can be used for further improving rural living and agriculture.

JACK FREES TREED BOY

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A woman called police when she heard Gerald Grande, Jr. screaming from his 12-foot-high perch in a nearby tree. When the emergency squad arrived they found Gerald's right knee securely wedged into a crotch of the tree.

Candidate Wanted: Must be efficient, honest, experienced. Pay and term of office uncertain, since public will vote every day to see if candidate stays in office.

We bet you don't want that job of being forced to get elected every day. Yet it's a reasonably accurate description of what a manufacturer must do to hold his job.

Every day at the sales counter, millions of women and men vote General Electric in or out of a job.

When you stop to think of it, we don't hold office for four years—or even two. We have a daily fight on our hands.

Hands at the sales counter pick up G-E products—hold them, turn them over, inspect them, try them against competitive articles for value and price—then decide for or against.

The only way we can win the election is by constantly improving our product. Thousands of engineers are paid to think up ways to improve, redesign, simplify. We use every known device of mass production to deliver more for the money. And our employees are as keen on winning our daily "public election" as is the salesman at the counter.

Manufacturers sell products on the basis of "be good every day—or get out of office." The result is the American public has the world's highest standard of living.

BITS-OF-NEWS

Mrs. W. J. Shepherd and Gertrude and Linda Ward spent the weekend at Floydada with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Day and daughter, Debra.
Joycelyn Milligan left Saturday for Gaffney, S.C., where she will visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray Kiker.
Eddie Ray Baker, who is attending the University of Colorado in Boulder, spent Saturday here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Baker.
Lost but Found... after twenty-five years Mrs. John B. Faulkner can repeat these words, An Elgin watch given to her about forty-nine years ago by her late husband has been lost all of twenty-five years. The watch, which is a gold engraved fob-style, was found by a son of Sol Davis who is living on the Faulkner ranch. The child found the watch near the lot. Mrs. Faulkner said that her husband had borrowed it as his watch was out of order. She reported that it seemed to be in fairly good condition despite the fact that the lid was missing and the stem was quite rusty. She plans to have it repaired and to keep it as an heirloom.

Fort Worth Men To Be Among Guests At Church Convention

The Rev. Almon Martin, pastor, has announced that the First Christian church will be host for the District Convention October 16. The meeting will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning and sandwiches and coffee will be served to the crowd, at the church at noon. The afternoon session will begin at 1 o'clock, and the evening session at 7:30 o'clock.

A barbecue has been planned for 6 o'clock, at the church. The pastor said that a registration charge of $1.25 will be made for the barbecue, and that the public is invited to attend.

Among the distinguished visitors at the convention will be Dean Roy C. Snodgrass of Texas Christian University's Brite College of the Bible, in Fort Worth. A former president of the International Convention, Dr. Snodgrass was pastor of the First Christian church in Amarillo from 1930 until his TCU appointment in July 1950. During his two decades at Amarillo, he became known for command of English in the pulpit and his wide reading.

Dr. Snodgrass received his B.A. degree from the Western Normal College in Iowa, and did graduate work at Drake Bible College in Des Moines and Valparaiso University. He was awarded the L.L.D. degree from Texas Christian in 1937.

Patrick Henry of Fort Worth, who has held the position of State Secretary for the Texas Christian Missionary Society for the past 20 years, will also be a guest at the local convention. He formerly served as minister of the Christian church in Arlington, the Southside Christian Church in San Antonio and the Highland Heights Christian Church in Wichita Falls. He is a native Texan.

He was a member of the State Legislature from Wichita Falls in 1913. He is the author of the first juvenile court law passed in Texas, and also led in the establishment of the Girls' Training School at Gainesville, both laws were enacted by the Legislature in 1913.

In his capacity as State Secretary, he directs the organization of new churches, the evangelistic program and renders counsel and service in the erection of church buildings for the Christian Churches of Texas.

Movies Of The Week

With the World Series of 1952 recently over, the picture of the week, "THE WINNING TEAM," makes a timely appearance at the Tower, Wednesday and Thursday. This is a baseball drama, which traces the life of Alex the Great, a pitcher who almost single-handedly won the World Series of 1926. The stars for this movie are Doris Day, Ronald Reagan and Frank Lovejoy. Reagan portrays Grover Cleveland Alexander, the pitcher; Lovejoy has the role of one of Alex's contemporaries and Miss Day does a memorable acting job as the wife of Alexander. The plot of the film is about a Nebraska farm boy, who mangled the king's English and pitched his way into the hearts of a baseball loving public.

If you enjoy tense drama, comedy, and the excitement of the baseball world, you will enjoy "THE WINNING TEAM." See it Wednesday and Thursday at the Tower!

Outdoor adventure movies of earlier days in America have an appeal to all movie goers. Sunday and Monday's movie, "LURE OF WILDERNESS," is such a film. This picture is photographed in Technicolor in the Okefenokee Swamp of Georgia. Jean Peters and Jeffrey Hunter are the stars of this movie telling the story of a girl forced to live with her fugitive father in the treacherous swamp for eight years and is suddenly faced with the bewilderment of returning to civilization. How her father and the young Georgian, who falls in love with her, bring her back to the civilized world provide the drama and suspense of the story. Walter Brennan, winner of two Academy Awards, and Constance Smith are the featured players of "LURE OF WILDERNESS."

Stories of the "old west" are still the most loved by West Texas movie patrons. "THE HALF-BREED," showing Friday and Saturday, is such a story. Photographed in Technicolor and telling the tale of a young half-breed Indian who is trying to work out a common meeting-place for peace and understanding between the two races. Gold is discovered on Apache lands and politicians of the old days (and they haven't changed much) work schemes to get this land and the gold. The angry Apaches are about to go on the warpath, while the half-breed and a local gambler attempt to stave off the threatened uprising. A romance between the gambler and a singer with a traveling troupe, complicates matters and results in a fast-moving and vivid piece of film fare.

Jack Buettel, Robert Young, and Janis Carter are the stars of this highly entertaining picture.

Who found Sally's lunch box? Who gave McCarthy a black eye? Who got Grandpa out of bed? Who put the punch in Danny's gloves? If you can't answer these questions, then see "SALLY AND SAINT ANNE" at the Tower, Tuesday, for all the answers. Sally is the gal who has the "drag" with a saint. This is a wonderful story of a miraculously funny family and a gorgeous gal who had personal "pull" with Saint Anne. This hilarious story of the riotous O'Maynes stars Ann Blyth, Edmund Gwenn, John McIntire, and Palmer Lee and promises to be fun and entertainment for everyone from 6 to 160 years of age. Don't miss it!

Coach and Mrs. Vernon Ray might enjoy seeing the movie of the week, "THE WINNING TEAM," if so, two tickets are waiting for them at the box office and they are good for any performance.

YOU CAN STILL GET RICH— E. I. (Rommy) Thompson, independent oil operator and executive vice-president of the Texas Independent Operators and Royalty Owners Association, says you can still get rich in the oil business without a penny to start on. He says he's spent 30 years trying, but never quite made the grade. He'll continue though because "it's a matter of percentage."

Polo Game Costly Entertainment

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two 14-year old boys had an afternoon of expensive amusement playing polo with coal trucks inside the yard of the Fahrland Fuel Co., in Brookside Park.

Police were called by a witness who saw the boys colliding with each other in separate trucks.

Authorities said a total of seven trucks had been damaged. Most of the vehicles' fronts had been bashed in. One truck was saved by two oak trees from going into a creek. Another was driven halfway up a huge pile of coal. Damage was estimated at more than $500.

Cancer Workers Are Urged to Attend Meet

Garza county cancer drive workers are urged to be among the representatives of 21 West Texas county units of the American Cancer Society which will meet October 22 in Lamesa.

The district meeting will be held at Bart's Restaurant on the Seminole highway. Talks will be given by county, district and state ACS leaders, and two cancer films will be shown.

Counties comprising District Two are Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Dickens, Ector, Fisher, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Howard, Kent, King, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Stonewall, Terry and Yoakum.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchinson and children of Albuquerque, N.M., spent Friday and Saturday in the W. B. Sanders home. Mrs. Hutchinson is the former Miss Ella Faye Sanders of Close City.

Miss Pearce Gives Report On Trip 4-H Girls, Sponsors Made To Fair

Editor's Note: The following account of the local 4-H girls' trip to the State Fair in Dallas over the weekend was submitted by the home demonstration agent, Miss Jessie Pearce:

"The report from the 4-H club girls that made the trip to the Dallas Fair could be summed up as no one lost, no casualties and a wonderful time was had by all."

"As soon as the ballgame was over here Friday night 29 girls and nine adults armed with blankets, pillows and lunch sacks climbed aboard a T&M&O bus and headed for Dallas and the State Fair of Texas. For the first two hours the girls, talked, giggled and ate but it wasn't long before more and more heads dropped over on their pillows and everyone got as much sleep as possible. We rolled into downtown Dallas about 6 a.m. and stopped at radio station WFAA to hear the "Early Birds." After witnessing the antics of Mr. Hack, Little Willy, Bob Shelton and the rest of the Early Bird gang, we climbed back on our bus and made the last lap of our trip—destination, the State Fair of Texas.

"When we unloaded on the fair grounds each adult took four girls to be in her care and we split up into small groups. We felt that we could get over the grounds easier and see more of the fair and come nearer not losing any of the girls.

"I had four girls in my group and the first stop was the midway. There were so many things to see and do that we spent quite some time looking over the midway and trying some of the rides and games.

Mrs. Lee Bowen and son, "Butch," spent the weekend in Hobbs, N. M., with Mr. and Mrs. John Sutton and children. They also visited in Seminole before returning home late Sunday afternoon.

Jerrald Bowen took his grandmother, Mrs. B. K. Bowen, and his aunt, Mrs. Mel Pearce, to Brownwood Saturday where they will visit for several days. He was accompanied by Susie Bowen. Jerrald and Susie returned Sunday.

Oscar Graham returned home Saturday from a National REA meeting in Phoenix, Ariz. Graham, a director of Lyntegar REA, accompanied Garland Pennington, manager, and John Heck, president, to the meeting which began Wednesday and closed Saturday.

Mrs. L. P. Kennedy, jr., spent the weekend in Littlefield with the Gaylon Young family.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Day and daughter of Floydada, and G. R. Day of Lockney were among the spectators at the Post-Rails football game Friday night here.

"We made our way across the grounds to the Electrical Building, the general exhibits and met 'Tex' the giant cowboy. We were in front of the main gate when the 'ancient autos' entered the grounds. They were complete with passengers dressed in the mode of the era of the auto in which they rode.

"As we were hunting the agriculture building we met up with some of the others in our party and decided to have lunch together. We bought fried chicken in a box and ate it sitting on Coke cases in the shade of the building. There were so many things to do and see that my girls and I soon started on toward the agricultural building, this time knowing where it was!

"The Story Book of Agriculture" was all that the advance publicity had indicated. This exhibit was made up of displays by each of the Extension Districts of Texas, giving the principal agricultural products from each one and was concluded with a display by the Negro Extension Service. By the time we had seen all of the exhibits there, it was time for the planned meeting in front of the Hall of State. We all wanted to be present for the drawing for the $100 prize and miracle of miracles, we won! Each county agent signed an attendance card and deposited it at the 4-H booth. Then one card was drawn from the lot and the lucky county won $100. This was one time Old Lady Luck was riding with Garza county.

"After a nice rest on the lawn back of the Hall of State we were ready to resume our tour, destination being the Museum of Natural History, the Museum of Fine Arts, the Aquarium and the Woman's building. When we got through sightseeing here, it was 6 p.m. and time to meet the group.

"We made another trip down the midway as I had promised the girls we would go again. After the rides and a little food it was time to go see the Ice Follies. The costumes were fabulous and the changing lights made you think of fairyland. This production was complete, even to Lucifer and the Mice.

"It was 11 o'clock by the time the Follies were over, and almost midnight when we got loaded onto the bus. We weren't half way through Dallas when we all fell asleep.

"We arrived back in Post at 8 a.m. Sunday, a tired but happy group of 4-H girls and sponsors."

The following Garzas made the trip: Sue Stephens, Patricia Wheatley, Nancy Robinson, Norma Ritchie, Ruth Ann Long, Karen McGehee, Sharon McGehee.

Patsy Boykin, Karen Gail Pennington, Peggy Romines, Loretta Blodgett, Jean Winkler, Shirley McBride, Marilyn Steel, Linda Bartlett, Frances Barron, Barbara Blacklock, Donetta Ellis, Alice Joy Nichols, Juanelle Nichols, Linda Livingston, Sandra Sue Ray, Beatrice Klesel, Sharon Jobe, Gwen Copple, Jackie Sue Mason, Drura Ann Hughes, Judy Gossett, Sandy Cross, Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. Nan Dyer Mrs. Donald Pennell, Mrs. A. Texas Democrats want TEXAS-BORN IKE

"RESOLVED... that it is the recommendation of the Convention that every Democrat in Texas vote and work for the election of Dwight D. Eisenhower for President and Richard Nixon for Vice-President..."

TEXAS STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION
AMARILLO, TEXAS  SEPTEMBER 9, 1952

A MAN OF PRINCIPLE WHO THINKS AS WE DO

You can be a Democrat without being a Trumanite. Your party's state convention in Amarillo on September 9 passed the resolution quoted above. Texans who believe in the time-tried Jeffersonian principles of the Democratic Party are going to vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower on November 4. If you are tired of Trumanism and want to help elect Eisenhower, send in the coupon. Be a Texan—not a Trumanite—vote Ike.

Six Presidential Candidates To Be Listed On General Election Ballot

Garza county voters will mark a saddle blanket size ballot in the General Election on November 4th, H. M. Snowden, county judge, announced Monday. This ballot will be an eight column page with six candidates for president listed on it. The overall size of the sheet will be about the same as a full page of the Post Dispatch.

General Douglas MacArthur has the privilege of being listed for president on both the Christian Nationalist Party and Constitution Party. The usual Democratic and Republican columns will be on the ballot with Adlai Stevenson and Dwight Eisenhower heading the list.

For or against the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of cities, towns and villages space is on the ballot.

The other constitutional amendment to be voted on is an amendment providing for the establishment of a State Medical Education fund from which grants, loans, or scholarships may be made to students desiring to study medicine.

Absentee voting will start October 15 and continue until three days before the election of November 4th, Ray N. Smith, county clerk, reported.

Garza county ballots will have the Democratic Party in the first column and will contain this list of nominees:

For President: Adlai E. Stevenson.
For Vice President: John J. Sparkman.
For United States Senator: Price Daniel.
For Congressman - at - Large: Martin Dies.
For Governor: Allan Shivers.
For Lieutenant Governor: Ben Ramsey.

For Attorney General: John Ben Shepperd.
For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 1: Frank P. Culver.
For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 2: Graham B. Smedley.

For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 3: W. St. John Garwood.
For Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 4: (unexpired term): Clyde E. Smith.
For Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals: Kenneth K. Woodley.

For Railroad Commissioner: Olin Culberson.
For Comptroller of Public Accounts: Robert S. Calvert.
For Commissioner of the General Land Office: Bascom Giles.

For State Treasurer: Jesse James.
For State Commissioner of Agriculture: John C. White, candidate for State Commissioner of Agriculture, name will appear only in the Democratic column.
The nominees of the Republican Party column includes the cross-filing of most of the Democratic candidates for state office, with one exception, John C. White, candidate for State Commissioner of Agriculture, name will appear only in the Democratic column.

For President: Douglas MacArthur.
For Vice President: Vivien Keliens.
In Garza county B. A. Price is a candidate for Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector on the Independent Party ticket.

The voter may select his preference by placing an X in the square beside the name of each candidate, or he may vote for the candidate of his choice in each race by scratching or marking out all other names in the race. In the Constitutional Amendment voting the For or Against may be marked out or the entire sentence may be scratched out.

REDS CROP CLAIMS CONFUSING
HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists claim spring rice and wheat crops in Southern China in 1952 exceeded those of the previous year by 5 to 20 percent. No tonnage figures were given.
The report was carried by the New China News Agency. A few days earlier the Reds complained in a Peiping dispatch that some areas were making erroneous and exaggerated crop reports.

Scrounging around, he procured an old electric stove and a skillet. His fame as a cook spread and the fish fries now are a weekly institution.
"The secret, I guess, is in the spices I use," says Freeman. "Some natives on Okinawa gave me some rare spices when I left and I use them in small amounts. I also fry in pure bacon grease for a sort of counter-flavor."

Circus Will Play in Post Saturday

Cole & Walters Circus, one of the nation's leading big-time shows, will be in Post, Saturday, with two performances, 2 and 8 p.m. under the auspices of Post Volunteer Fire Department.
Featured in the 20 act show will be the Jackson Trio, champion teter-board acrobats; the Wells Bros., trampoline artists and jugglers; Al Commors Duo, anti-cyclo and balancing team; Miss Shirley Cole and her aerial review; Bob Grubbs' trained horses; Joe Simpsom's trained capels; famous performing elephants in all three rings and a host of clowns for the kiddies. There are many other acts in this two hour program that are planned to please everyone, the chance man for the show, stated. He also said that an elephant parade would be given in downtown Post at noon, Saturday.
The circus will be located south of the city on the park site and spectators are invited to watch the unloading and setting up of the group, early Saturday morning.

Third Division Wins Top Honors in Korea

With the U.S. 3rd Division in Korea (AP)—Men of the U. S. 3rd Division's 7th infantry regiment have won five Congressional Medals of Honor, the nation's highest decoration, and 2,210 other awards in 22 months of fighting in Korea.
The Distinguished Service Cross, second highest award, has been bestowed on 14 soldiers of the regiment since it was committed to action in November, 1950.
Other decorations include 326 Silver Stars, six Legions of Merit, 13 Soldiers Medals, 676 Bronze Stars with "v" device for valor, 977 Bronze Stars for meritorious service and 201 commendation ribbons.

DISTANCE makes the Heart grow Fonder

You'll discover this about a Buick:
The more you drive it, the more you like it; the longer your trip, the louder your praise.
That's what people tell us. And we'll tell you why.
You can drive a Buick three, four, five hundred miles in a single day, and feel fresh enough to keep right on going.
You can romp up high hills, cruise straightaways, ease through traffic-tangled towns, clock off hour after hour of relaxed and pleasurable driving—and be no more tired than a neighborhood jaunt would make you.
How come this comfort-rich ground-covering ability in a Buick?
There's the ease of deep, soft seats for one thing—and plenty of move-about room for arms, legs, shoulders.
There's the Dynaflo Drive* taking all the chore out of driving, and giving your whole ride a satiny smoothness without trace of jerkiness or driving tension.
There's a hoodful of thrilling, tireless power from a high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball 8 Engine that whips out miles like a tarpon reels off line.
There's the soft, steady, solid, swerve-free going of a coil-spring-cushioned ride that's well worth the million-plus dollars it cost to engineer.
There's all this and more—much more—that makes your heart grow fonder of this trim and thrifty traveler.
But words can't do justice to a Buick in motion. Only you can.
When will you come sample this experience yourself?

Bargain Rates On Daily Papers Are Announced

It's annual bargain rate time on West Texas daily newspapers and to renew those popular ones you have been reading all these years, all that is necessary is to drop by, or mail in your check to the Post Dispatch, and your renewal, along with a receipt will be properly made out.

The dailies are offering substantial savings during their bargain rate period, the closing date of which has not been announced.

If you are a Star Telegram reader, you can save $4.05 on your year's subscription by buying it during the bargain days. The regular rate of the Telegram, 7 days per week, is $18.00, but if you subscribe or renew now you can get the newspaper for

If you do not care for the Sunday edition of the Telegram, you can buy the six-day publication for $12.60.

Rate on the Lubbock Avalanche, 7 days per week, is $12.95, but you can buy the week day publication, without Sunday's edition, for as little as $11.00.

And while you are subscribing, or renewing your daily, you can receive the Dispatch for another year for $2.50. If you have the Dispatch mailed outside Garza County it will cost you an additional one dollar.

Bring or mail in your check today.

Carter Talks On Fire Prevention

Bill Carter, member of the Post Volunteer Fire Department, was the principal speaker at the regular Lions' Club, Tuesday night.

The theme of the speech was "Fire Prevention in Observation of Fire Prevention Week." Carter quoted statistics from national records showing that at least half of the fires in the United States were caused from carelessness, and then gave the members present suggestions on ways of eliminating fire hazards in their homes. Carter stated that Garza county was one of the five counties in the state to have a 25 per cent insurance rating. This means that the premiums paid by fire insurance policy holders are at a lower rate than in some of the other counties of Texas. If too many fires, caused by carelessness, took place in the county, the percentage rate will be lowered, he said.

After the regular meeting was adjourned, Carter gave a demonstration on the way the new fire truck operated. With the assistance of some of the Lions, he ran the booster pump, which is operated off the gears of the truck.

"This pump will be beneficial in fighting grass fires or fires in the rural areas of our county," Carter said.

Pointers Given On Overseas Mailing

Harold Voss, local postmaster, has just announced that the period for accepting parcel post Christmas packages for members of the armed forces abroad is October 15 to November 15.

Air parcel post packages may be mailed up to Nov. 25.

Early mailing is vital to insure delivery by Christmas, Voss said. Packages for Navy and Marine Corps personnel in remote parts should be mailed not later than October 15.

Some special instructions that should be followed in mailing overseas, are pointed out by the postmaster:

The parcel can not be over 100 inches in length plus girth. A duplicate address should be enclosed in the parcel. Use no labels, but print address on wrapper. Tie with 4 strong cords and knot all crossings.

The parcel can not weigh over 70 pounds, Voss concluded.

Annual Sales Are Now In Progress

The advertising committee for the Post high school annual, "The Caprock", has started selling ads for the 1953 edition of the yearbook. The members of the committee in charge of advertising sales are Jimmy Ferguson, business manager and Joyce Short, assistant business manager of the annual staff.

Mrs. Ray N. Smith, faculty advisor of the project, announced that the estimated cost of the books are $1350 and around 225 copies are sold each year. The sales do not pay the entire cost of the publication and advertising must meet the difference, Mrs. Smith stated.

A sale drive is now being sponsored by the staff, the first payment of the annual may be paid by the first of November and the final payment must be made in April. Each of these payments will be $1.75 or half of the price of the books. The business manager and his assistant are in charge of these payments, Mrs. Smith said.

The books are being published by the Steck Publishing company of Austin and should be delivered before school is out in the spring. The Steck company sponsors an annual clinic in Austin every fall, for the preparation of the coming year's editions. Mrs. Smith reported that five of "The Caprock" staff members and one sponsor attended the meeting last week. The members attending from Post were Margaret Welborn, editor, Stanley Nixon, assistant editor; Maxine Baylis, art editor; and Travis Everett, co-sponsor.

Mrs. Smith said that the edition this year would have 104 pages in it, and that this is the second year that the staff has published an annual this large. Work is progressing rapidly this year and the deadline, November 20, for the first shipment of copy is expected to be easily reached, she said.

The yearbook project is listed as an extra-curricular activity of the school program and the work is done by students under the supervision of Mrs. Smith and Everett. Darrell Stone is the staff photographer and will make all the pictures for the snap shot section of the annual and some of the sports pictures, Mrs. Smith said. The entire staff is composed of 17 members, most of them are seniors.

Mrs. Smith announced that anyone interested in buying an annual is asked to contact either of the business managers or the sponsors.

Mrs. L. A. Barrow is in Lubbock with her brother, Russell Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Antelopes Journey To Rotan For Game With Yellowjackets

The Post Antelopes will journey to Rotan for a non-conference tilt Friday night, with the Yellowjackets in the fifth game of the 1952 season. The Antelopes are in District 6-AA with Slaton and Tahoka. Spur is in the lead for the district with a 3-0 record. Post rates third and Tahoka last.

The Rotan team is in conference competition with Stamford, Anson, Hamlin, Merkel, and Colorado City of District 5-AA. All these teams are powerful contenders for the district championship. Anson was the winner of the district in the 1951 season and went to the semi-finals of the state play off. Rotan is one of the strongest contenders for the district crown this season, with a three win and one loss record. Stamford and Anson are still the top teams with no losses.

The Antelopes' "Hooper" rating of District 6-AA has been raised since the start of the season. The Antelopes have been predicted low team of the district because of the lack of experience and weight of the squad. Since the fighting spirit and determination shown by the boys have been revealed to the public, hopes are high that the prediction may be upset. Bill Edwards, president of the Antelope Booster club, stated:

"Proud for pound, we have the best club in the district," Edwards added.

Friday, the Antelopes will meet another team that is heavier than they, and a more experienced squad, also. The Yellowjackets will be the fifth team that the Antelopes have met this season, who have more weight and experience. The Antelopes will be hindered with the old injuries of some of their team. Darrell Stone, the quarterback that threw all the passes in last week's game, will be ready for offensive work only, Coach Bing Bingham reported. The Yellowjackets weigh in at 17 pounds per man more than the Antelopes and boast one of the fastest clubs in their class of teams. They work exceptionally well with offensive passing. Bingham stated, The winged T and spread are the formations they make the most use of. The Antelopes are full of fight after dropping a game to Ralls last weekend. The season standing for the Post boys is two wins, Sundown and O'Donnell; and two losses, Ralls and Floydada. Rotan has three wins, Roscoe, Cisco, and Hamlin, and one loss, Throckmorton.

The Post Dispatch SECTION TWO

Jackrabbits Are Victorious In Game Against Post Antelopes

The Post Antelopes dropped an 18 to 13 non-conference game to the Ralls Jackrabbits, Friday night, at Antelope Stadium. The Jackrabbits won the tilt after a fighting struggle and some bad breaks against the Antelopes. This game marked up the first win for the Jackrabbits and second loss for the Antelopes. The Floydada Whirlwinds have defeated both teams, Ralls lost to them last weekend, 32-0, and the Antelopes were defeated 32 to 7 in the season opener against the "Winds. The Rabbits lost to Spur, while the Antelopes defeated O'Donnell and Sundown.

The passing of Darrell Stone, Antelope quarterback, and the offensive and defensive playing of Charles James, Jackrabbits' end man on defense and back on offense, could be classified as the outstanding or spectacular plays of the game. Buddy Caylor caught most of Stone's passes to mark up yardage for the Antelopes, and the driving power of James and Alvin Morrison, quarterback for the Jackrabbits, was the yardage credit for Ralls.

In comparison of the teams, Ralls was the heavier, outweighing the Antelopes 17 pounds per man. Ralls fielded an experienced team, most of the men played against the Antelopes in the 21-20 game last year. The Antelopes were handicapped with the injuries of some of their players and by the fact that they have no experience throughout the squad. The winners excelled in their driving runs while Post stepped out in front with their passing gains.

Morrison, 150 pound quarterback, started the scoring by picking up a block kick and racing 18 yards for the first tally for Ralls. The extra point attempt failed. Caylor took a pass from Stone to place the ball on the three yard marker, and L. W. Evans, speedy halfback for the Antelopes, sprinted over for Post's first touchdown. The conversion try failed and the first quarter ended in a tie.

Morrison shot a short pass to Max Dyess from the three yard line for the third scoring play of the game. The kick for extra point by James was no good. Late in the second quarter James made the longest run of the game and had raced 50 yards downfield before being brought down by Darrell Ray Norman, bright sophomore prospect for the Antelopes. The Rabbits stood out in front at the end of the half, 12 to 6.

Billy Campbell started the scoring in the second half, when he took the ball around left end for a run of 15 yards and a TD. Once again the Rabbits failed to convert for an extra point. After this play the Antelopes went into action with the passing of Stone. They drove downfield with a pass to Evans, then Stone made a faked play for considerable gain and then another pass to Caylor marked up a 45 yard gain. Caylor caught a pass in the end zone from Stone, who was on the 20 yard stripe, for Post's second score. Evans kicked the extra point.

The remainder of the game consisted of struggling attempts and failures to score by both teams. Ralls drove steadily downfield until the Antelope line became a stone wall and the ball went over to Post on downs. Post was in possession of the ball when the four minute signal was given. The Antelopes were marching goalward with their passing offense, when a Rabbit intercepted a pass and made a 26 yard return. Post got the ball again, but failed to score before the final whistle.

The weather was perfect for football and the attendance was the best of the season, with around 3,000 spectators in the bleachers.

THE POST DISPATCH SPORTS

— FROM A STRICTLY LOCAL ANGLE —

OUTSTANDING PLAYERS OF RALLS GAME: The two Antelopes pictured above have been chosen by the Antelope Booster club as the players, who were outstanding in the game against Ralls. Darrell Stone, left, quarterback for Post team, completed 11 passes for 186 yards gain against the Jackrabbits. Pete Hays, guard, is the man who was in on almost all the tackles and a principal figure in stopping the Rabbits' drives. Bill Edwards, president of the Booster club stated.

Fish Squad Meets Spur October 16

The Post high school freshman football team will play their first game of the season next Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock in Antelope Stadium. These boys will meet the freshmen from Spur for that tilt.

Coach Bing Bingham stated that he had some bright prospects among the freshmen, for the future Antelopes' "A" team. Most of the boys played football last year in the eighth grade and during other seasons for the grade school teams and have a "fair" knowledge of football tactics, but some of them are playing for their first time, he said.

Bingham reported that a probable starter for the first game would be: Novice Pennell, center; Ted Tatum and Gene Suggs, guards; Dick Beggs and Audie Teaff, tackles; Ernie Popham and Tommy Bird, ends; Moody Graham, quarterback; Homer Cato, left half; Norman Washburn, right half; and Tommy Murray, fullback.

Other scheduled games for the team are with the Slaton "B" team in Slaton, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of October 20; a return match with Slaton will be played here on the afternoon of October 31; and a return game at Spur will be played at 3 p.m. on November 6.

Little Antelopes Lose To Eagles

The Post's sixth and seventh graders suffered their first loss in a game last Thursday night with the O'Donnell grade school squad. The Little Antelopes have defeated Slaton and Tahoka in previous games of the 1952 season.

Jackie Odom was the outstanding player for the Post team. He made all the points, by running 45 yards for the first touchdown, then 50 yards for the second tally. He also ran the ball over for the extra point conversion.

Tonight the first home game of the season will be played at Antelope Stadium at 6:30 o'clock. The proceeds of this game will be used to buy new jerseys for the team.

Southland Eagles Defeat Dickens In Conference Game, Friday 54-32

The Southland Eagles defeated the team from Dickens in a six-man tilt at Affton, last Friday night, with a score of 54 to 32. This was the second win for the Eagles of the season, they defeated Roaring Springs 22 to 20, in the game of September 19.

The scoring started on the second play after the kickoff, when Dickens recovered a Southland fumble on the 15 yard line and Swearington plunged over for the tally. Southland's first touchdown was made by Jackie Haire on a 30 yard run through the middle. The conversion was made by Jack Haliburton.

The Eagle line became a stone wall after the kickoff following the touchdown and Dickens was forced to punt and Southland returned the ball to their own 40 yard line. A pass from Donald Basinger to Ronald Huddleston sent the Eagles marching downfield, another touchdown was marked up after a lateral to Junior Becker. Haliburton made the kick for the extra point. Becker made a 70 yard run for the third Eagle touchdown, but the try for the extra point failed.

The remainder of the first half was composed of long runs and scoring plays by both teams. Huddleston recovered the ball on a fumble behind the goal line for the first score in the second quarter and the conversion failed.

ed, Dickens took the ball on the kickoff and marched the length of the field for the tally. The extra point attempt failed.

Haire took the ball on the kickoff and ran the length of the field behind a wave of blockers for the longest scoring run of the game. Haliburton converted for the extra two points allowed by six-man football rules. At the end of the half Southland was out in front 36 to 12.

A 40 yard pass from Haire to Harley Johnson was the first scoring play of the third quarter. Dickens received the ball after the kickoff and their offensive team could not be stopped and they marched on to score again. Haire made another long run, on the kickoff, for a Southland tally, extra point try was no good. Dickens scored again in the fourth quarter and picked up an extra point on a pass into the end zone. Haire ran 30 yards on an end sweep for an Eagle score and the conversion attempt failed.

Thomas scored for Dickens and then a pass to Degraw marked up the extra point. Southland was in possession of the ball when the final whistle blew. Final score reading was 54 to 32 in favor of the Eagles.

Southland will be host to the football squad from Peacock, Friday night, for another conference game.

Industry To Stress Safety And Economy

Car owners will soon see new developments in automotive products, according to a survey from auto accessory dealers in Post. The new developments will feature safety and economy.

A passenger tire has been developed and is now being tested at speeds as high as 135 miles an hour. The new tires are low pressure, cushion type, and apparently do not sacrifice comfort, but provide maximum riding qualities at top speeds. The theme of these new tires is safety in operation, and safety is brought about by increased adhesion between tread and carcass as well as by special reinforcement which reduces tire flexing causing heat, the worst enemy known to rubber.

A new dry-type storage battery has been introduced. The battery is being shipped dry and the battery acid is being shipped in plastic bottles. The battery acid is being added at the time of purchase, thus insuring buyers a perfectly fresh battery instead of the type now in use. These batteries are being distributed in some states already.

Another new automotive development is an improved method of chrome plating which is designed to save copper and nickel, both of which are in short supply. Instead the new method uses lead and antimony. The new process, if adapted generally, would eliminate the possibility of the blacked-out appearance of automobiles due to the shortage of materials now used in chrome trim.

Texas Voters Do Not Have To Register

Radio broadcasts on national networks are confusing a lot of Texans who want to vote in the November election, Carl Rains, Garza County tax-assessor-collector, reports.

Rains says that many persons think they are required to register as in some other states. In Texas, he pointed out, there is no registration of voters, but the voter must have a poll tax, issued before the deadline, last January 31. The Tax Collector believed that those persons trying to register have been listening to radio broadcasts originating out of the state where everyone is urged to "register and vote."
