Klan's Use Of Terror Emphasized

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan has struck the fear of death in persons over wide areas of the South, Donald T. Appell, a congressional staff investigator, testified today.

Appell, sent by the House Committee on Un-American Activities to gather information on the invisible empire, was the first witness at the committee's public hearings.

CITES FEAR

He said he and other investigators attempting to collect facts about the Klan were hampered by the terror of prospective witnesses.

"These people fear harassment, telephone calls, cross burnings on their property, beatings, bombings and, yes, even death," he said.

Before Appell took the stand, Chairman Edwin E. Wills, D-La., issued a warning against any attempt to intimidate or injure witnesses. He said he would see to it that any such attempts were punished.

Committee members have said that many persons who have been questioned in closed preliminary sessions have expressed fear of Klan retribution of one kind or another.

IMPERIAL WIZARD

The first Klan witness was was scheduled to be Robert Shelton, imperial wizard of the biggest of all the federations of Klansmen, the United Klans of America.

The committee plans to give a lot of attention to Shelton's treasury as well as the finances of other Klans. It wants to show where the money goes from Klan dues, initiation fees, basket passing at rallies and the sale of robes.

CHARTS, FILMS

In setting the stage for the hearings, the committee investigators have prepared charts and films to map the tentacles and labyrinths of the Klan organizations, trace its history and explain the mystic nomenclature.

After weeks of questioning behind closed doors, committee members tell of hearing about night rides, secret "knock off squads" and "holy terrors" committing racial violence.

LONG HEARING

All this they say they intend to make public in their investigation of the Klan, the organization that President Johnson labeled the "hooded society of bigots."

Although Congress is grinding toward adjournment, the Klan hearings look as if they'll go on and on, and may still be running when Congress opens up again next year.

Committee investigators reportedly have lined up more than 200 witnesses and are prepared for hearings that could continue for as many as 13 weeks.

Copter, Dogs Added In Hunt For Fugitive

DAVIDSON, Okla. (AP)—Determined officers called on bloodhounds, a helicopter and more manpower this morning as they beat the fog-shrouded Red River brush country near here for Delbert Garmon Jr.

The 26-year-old Texas ex-convict has kept one step ahead of state, local and federal agents for the past 14 days, during which he has held captive or abducted 18 persons and stolen at least six automobiles.

Officers felt Monday night they had stumbled onto the brightest lead yet in their often frustrated efforts to lay hands on Garmon. They found the car he took from a Custer County farm family last Thursday at an abandoned farm house only a short distance from the Red River on the southern Oklahoma border.

BACK COUNTRY

Later they found footprints which, while perhaps not made by Garmon, led officers to call for a bloodhound and they began a hunt through the sandy, wooded back country. A helicopter was put into use at daylight.

"It looks like he's running blind out here," a highway patrol trooper said. "We've found where it looks like he ran into a fence."

Joe White, who owns the abandoned farmhouse, found the stolen auto and notified authorities.

CAR CAMOUFLAGE

An FBI agent said Garmon did an expert job of camouflaging the car, using green roofing paper and limbs from trees to disguise its shape and smearing the chrome with mud to prevent reflection.

Officers said the car was hidden sometime before rains soaked the area Sunday but they couldn't say how long before.

Sixty to 75 officers were taking part in the hunt, directed by Lee Teague, agent in charge of the FBI in Oklahoma. They included Texas Rangers, Oklahoma highway patrolmen and sheriff's officers from Custer and Tillman counties.

STAKEOUT ORDERED

A stakeout was ordered at a North Texas home where Garmon was known to have relatives. Wichita Falls, Tex., police once more went on the alert to protect Garmon's wife, as it appeared he might be moving in a complete circle. Wichita Falls is about 50 miles southeast of here.

Judge Rules Voting Rights Act Illegal

SELMA, Ala., (AP) — An Alabama judge has ruled that the 1965 Voting Rights Act, which resulted in the sending of federal voting examiners into a score of Southern counties to register Negroes, is unconstitutional.

Circuit Judge James Hare, in a ruling Monday, declared the law to be in violation of the "equal footing of states" doctrine of the U.S. Supreme Court, and of the provisions of the U.S. Constitution allowing the states to establish their own voting requirements, "so long as there is no discrimination."

After handing down the ruling, Hare remarked, "I'd say this is just the opening round.

APPEAL SEEN

An appeal of the decision is practically a certainty, but there was no immediate announcement by the Justice Department.

Hare made the ruling in granting an injunction requested by the state to prohibit Dallas County Judge Bernard Reynolds from certifying as voters those applicants approved by federal examiners operating in Selma.

Most of the hundreds of applicants are Negroes.

The motion for the injunction was filed more than a month ago by Montgomery attorney Frank Mizell on behalf of Gov. George C. Wallace.

"VIOLATES DOCTRINE"

Hare noted that the law, which has sent voting examiners into seven Alabama counties, provides for action only in those states where less than 50 per cent of the voting-age population was registered or voted in 1964.

This, he ruled, violated the doctrine of "equal footing" applied by the nation's highest court. That doctrine of political equality of states was applied most notably in the tidelands oil controversy of several years ago.

ANOTHER POINT

Here held that the recently enacted law also enables the federal government to "inflict penalty or punishment on the entire population of the state without judicial trial for statutorily presumed past malconduct."

In holding that the law violates the constitutional right of the states to establish their own requirements for voters, Hare said the Constitution makes no provision for universal suffer-age.

Canada Backs N-Curb Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Canada gives strong support in the United Nations today to the United States proposal to halt the spread of nuclear weapons. But it was expected to sidestep the controversial companion issue of a NATO nuclear force.

Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canada's chief negotiator at the Geneva disarmament talks, was to outline his government's position before the General Assembly's 117-nation Political Committee late today.

Canadian sources said Burns would point out that the rival proposal advanced by the Soviet Union rules out any nuclear force within the Atlantic alliance which would give West Germany a voice in Allied nuclear strategy and weapons control.

Reds Ready War Exercise

BERLIN (AP) — Sources in West Berlin report that Warsaw Pact nations will practice the deployment of tactical atomic weapons in maneuvers to be held in Communist East Germany near the West German frontier.

Travelers on the autobahn between West Berlin and Frankfurt in West Germany said they observed large troop units assembling on both sides of the superhighway in Thuringia, East Germany's most southwestern state.

The travelers told West Berlin customs officers they saw tanks, trucks and mechanized infantry on the move. Armed guards were reported at autobahn intersections.

Alabama Trial Testimony Due To Start

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Attorneys in the second trial of a young Ku Klux Klansman charged with murdering a civil rights worker attempt today to agree on a jury and begin calling witnesses.

Selection of 12 jurymen bogged down Monday when state prosecutors, headed by Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers, conducted a grueling quiz of 39 men listed on the jury panel and failed to qualify 30 as required by state law.

TEN MORE

With only 27 white men and two Negroes tentatively agreed upon — and several of these almost certain to be struck by the state — Circuit Judge T. Werth Thaggard drew 10 more names from a box and added them to the jury list.

Fifty-five prospective jurors had been called to hear evidence in the trial of Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, Fairfield, Ala. Sixteen were excused for legal reasons permitted by Alabama law and 10 were disqualified for saying they had fixed opinions in the case or that they did not believe in capital punishment.

Wilkins, whose first trial ended in a hung jury six months ago, sat quietly through the proceedings. He kept his attention on the jury panel and smoked cigarettes one after the other.

DETROIT HOUSEWIFE

The Klansman is being tried for the murder of a Detroit housewife, Viola Liuzzo, who was shot through the head last March 25 while ferrying civil rights workers from Montgomery to Selma after a massive four-day march to the Alabama capital.

The other two under indictment, Eugene Thomas, 42, a steel company worker, and William O. Eaton, 41, a retired steel employe, both of Bessemer, were in the courtroom.

Flowers, who allowed Asst. Atty. Gen. Joe Breck Gantt to question the jurors, said he intended to call state witnesses today as they become available.

FBI INFORMER

The key witness is expected to be Gary Thomas Rowe, who was revealed as a paid FBI informer on the Klan during Wilkins' first trial. Rowe, 35, testified that Wilkins shot Mrs. Liuzzo as she drove along US 80 about nine miles east of here on the night of March 25. Rowe said he was in the car with the Klansmen.

He quoted Wilkins as saying after the shooting, "Baby brother, I don't miss."

Rowe's whereabouts since the earlier trial have been kept secret.

Wilkins' attorney, former Birmingham Mayor Arthur J. Hanes, challenged none of the jurors who appeared Monday and questioned few.

Bank Figures Show Sharp Gains Today

Loans Pegged At Record High

	Oct. 13, 1965	Oct. 1, 1964	Gain
Loans and Discounts	$23,549,907.05	$22,109,463.39	$1,431,633.66
Deposits	40,473,702.58	34,599,140.06	5,874,562.52
Cash	7,089,808.98	6,921,122.90	168,686.08
Total Resources	44,817,310.54	39,074,775.62	5,742,534.92

Bank figures showed sharp gains here Thursday in response to a call of condition by the U. S. Comptroller of Currency as of Oct. 13.

Deposits were up $5,874,262 over the comparable call date (Oct. 1) a year ago, or 16.98 per cent. However, the bulk of this gain was attributed to heavy deposits of bond funds by the Big Spring Independent School District and by the Howard County Junior College District. These two agencies had something over four million on time deposit pending the time it will be needed for contract payments.

ALL-TIME PEAK

Loans and discounts reached $23,549,907, which is a new all-time peak. It also is up 6.47 per cent over the comparable time a year ago, or $1,431,633 to be exact.

Cash amounted to $7,089,808, which is $168,686.08 more than a year ago.

Total resources stood at $44,817,310.54, up by $5,742,534 from last year at the same time, an increase of 14.7 per cent.

The banks had $9,068,878 in total bonds, including $4,710,798 U. S. bonds and $4,358,080 in county and municipal bonds. There were nearly four million more in some guaranteed issues.

While the jump in deposits was largely due to the bond funds, there was nevertheless a substantial gain of other deposits. This was considered significant because virtually no harvest money is yet reflected in the totals.

UP FROM JUNE

The report today showed loans up from the June 30 call when there were $22,971,865 outstanding. Deposits on June 30 were $40,689,969, cash $7,641,182, and total resources $44,881,022.

The breakdown by banks showed:

FIRST NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $12,831,100.14, deposits $21,908,269.97, cash $3,580,798.46, total resources $24,194,129.24. The bank had $1,532,956.80 in U. S. bonds, $1,409,201.74 in county and municipals, plus $3,889,950.26 in guaranteed bonds.

STATE NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $6,540,655.38, deposits $11,379,659.46, cash $2,163,178.13, total resources $12,534,850.74. In addition, the bank had $1,263,152.55 in U. S. bonds and $2,469,359.99 in other bonds.

SECURITY STATE — Loans and discounts $3,067,657.95, deposits $5,692,609.31, cash $1,143,895.06, total resources $6,354,622.56. In addition, the bank had $1,528,479.69 in U. S. bonds, $479,698.29 in county and municipals.

COAHOMA STATE — Loans and discounts $1,110,493.58, deposits $1,493,163.84, cash $201,937.33, total resources $1,733,658. In addition the bank had $326,000 in U. S. bonds.

Big Contribution

The special gifts division of the United Fund passed the halfway mark of its $10,000 goal today, helped by the $600 gift from the Big Spring Wholesale Beer Distributors Association. Don Bohannon, president of the distributors, turned in the gift to campaign headquarters Monday. Mrs. Roy New (left) and Mrs. Gaston Lackey added the totals, and reported this division now has $5,827. The total of all divisions has pushed the annual effort to $45,613 this morning, nearer the $99,964 goal. The beer distributors had 100 per cent participation, as they have for a number of years. Lake Block Try Dropped

AUSTIN (AP) — West Texans have dropped their suit to block construction of the $20 million Robert Lee Dam in Coke County.

The suit to nullify the construction permit was dropped after the plaintiff, Colorado City and the defendant, the Colorado River Municipal Water District reached a settlement.

The settlement, approved by Dist. Judge Herman Jones, guarantees that the water district will provide water to Colorado City on a service basis equal to that of cities within the district.

The dam dispute broke out in September when Colorado City filed suit against the water district and the Texas Water Rights Commission.

The suit sought nullification of the permit to construct the Robert Lee dam which had been granted by the commission Sept. 1.

Publisher At Laredo Dies

LAREDO (AP) — William Prescott Allen, president, publisher and editor of the Laredo Times, died at his home today after a long illness.

A colorful figure on the Texas-Mexican border and in American newspapering until he became ill, Allen was 69 at his death.

A cerebral hemorrhage suffered in 1958 reduced his activities.

Services were pending.

Allen developed a great attachment to Mexico from the time he arrived in Laredo in 1915, and he spent a good part of his life working to improve U.S.-Mexican relations.

Deposits Show Texas Cities' Economy Rosy

By The Associated Press

The Texas economy is robust and growing, and its future looks bright.

That view emerged today as the state's banks reported record deposits for the third quarter of 1965 compared to last year.

The figures were made public in response to a call from federal and state banking authorities for a report on the condition of banks on Oct. 13.

Dallas, Abilene, Denton, Midland, Orange, San Angelo and Waco reported all time record deposits.

RECORDS REPORTED

Dallas banks reported deposits of $3,823,916,022 compared to $3,764,852,599 a year ago.

Abilene bankers attributed all time record deposits there to good crops, good livestock prices, an increase of 6,300 to 6,500 students at the city's three colleges and to increased federal spending at Dyess Air Force Base.

They forecast one of the best cotton crops in years.

ALL TIME HIGH

It was the twentieth straight quarter that Denton banks reported an increase in deposits. The current deposits in both the city's and county's banks reached an all time high.

Bankers at Orange said the record funds on deposit were the result of new business, funds for industrial construction and funds deposited for future building of industrial facilities.

The two banks at Levelland reported an increase in deposits although they were not a record. Bankers cited as reasons increased oil activity and better grain crops.

Firing Erupts In Dominica

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A man was killed early today in another flurry of shooting between Dominican troops and rebel partisans in the heart of Santo Domingo.

The firing quickly subsided, but bands of angry civilian youths, most of then unarmed, ranged the downtown area.

President Hector Garcia-Godoy canceled an order sending additional troops into the city in a weapons recovery operation. He also ordered a cutback in the number of tanks that swept into the rebel sector Monday night to occupy Ozama fortress and protect troops guarding the tense dock area.

The fortress, renamed Constitution Plaza by the rebels, overlooks the river and harbor facilities. Five of the 10 tanks in the fortress were removed but a full battalion, about 400 battle-ready troops, remained.

Maj. Humberto Trifillo, the battalion commander, told newsmen his orders were to not shoot unless fired upon.

The battalion moved into the fortress Monday night following a clash between two rival port unions resulting in the killing of a labor leader.

Negroes Out Of School In Protest

BOGALUSA, La. (AP)—School officials tried today to get Negroes back into classes and off the racial demonstration front.

More than half of Bogalusa's 2,332 Negro pupils skipped school Monday in a protest movement which included demands for improved educational facilities and progress.

More Stocks Reaching Peak

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advance continued early this afternoon with trading heavy as the list moved further into record high ground.

Favorites among electronics, aerospace and airlines issues which have featured the post-Labor Day rise were again in demand.

Selective blue-chip strength gave the popular averages a lift, enough to improve the historic closing highs already established in the previous session.

MORE AHEAD

Motors, rubbers, oils and nonferrous metals moved ahead moderately while steels and tobaccos showed little change.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 at 351.5 with industrials up 1.8, rails up .2 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.93 at 950.77.

The averages were helped by Eastman Kodak, up more than 3; Texaco, up nearly 2, and Du Pont, up another point.

Also bolstering the averages, Standard Oil (New Jersey), General Electric, American Telephone, Goodyear and General Motors made fractional gains.

MAIN INTEREST

The main interest of the market was focused in faster-paced issues. SCM Corp. was bought heavily, advancing 2 or better. Fairchild Camera made a 3-point jump, then halved it. Boeing held a 3-point rise.

Polaroid and U.S. Smelting slumped more than a point each. Zenith and Control Data were fractional losers.

Prices were generally higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds were higher.

Yanez Trial Begins, Henry Due Up Next

A jury was being qualified at noon today in 118th District Court to try Clarence Yanez Jr., charged in an indictment with assault with intent to commit murder.

A jury panel shrunk until Judge Ralph Caton found himself with only 31 panel members, when actual selection of the 12 persons to try the case was at hand.

The state, represented by Wayne Burns, district attorney, agreed to waive one pre-emptory challenge. This made it possible to proceed with the case without bringing in talesmen.

Each side is allowed 10 pre-emptory challenges under normal court procedure. The state will go to trial with only nine. Thirty-two is the minimum number of panel members normally permissible in a criminal case trial.

Yanez is the first defendant to face the court in this week's jury docket in 118th District Court. He is accused of firing a shot at Avery Falkner, a city police officer. The alleged incident occurred April 22, 1965.

Burns announced today that he planned to call up the case against Elmo Henry Thursday. Henry, charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the shooting of his wife last March, had sought to evade trial by a claim presented Monday that he was ill. The court instructed Norman Spencer Jr., his attorney, to obtain a doctor's certificate supporting Henry's claim of illness. No such certificate was forthcoming and the defendant was ordered to be ready for trial Thursday.

A third assault with intent to commit murder case is on tap for Friday. Raymond Oliver is the defendant, and he is accused of shooting Lorenza Jackson in the heart last summer. Burns said it is possible the court could get to this case, if the Yanez and Henry matters move at good speed.

Three defendants on the current jury docket waived jury trials Monday, and entered pleas of guilty before Judge Caton. All were granted probated sentences by Judge Caton.

Charles Meacham pleaded guilty to writing a felony worthless check. He was sentenced to three years in prison with the sentences probated on good behavior.

Eusebio Ruby Ramirez, charged in two indictments with DWI second offense, pleaded guilty to one of the indictments. He was ordered to pay a fine of $250 and serve 18 months in jail with the jail portion of his punishment probated. Burns indicated that if Ramirez lives up to the terms of his probation the second DWI complaint will be dismissed later.

B. W. Hicks, charged with DWI second offense, pleaded guilty and was fined $250 and sentenced to a year in county jail with a probation applied to the jail sentence.

TOWER DINNER

About 75 Residents Will Hear Dirksen In Midland

Approximately 75 persons from Big Spring have tickets to the appreciation meeting in Midland for Texas' Republican Senator John Tower at 8 p.m. Thursday, Bill Sheppard, Howard County Republican chairman, said today. Sen. Everett Dirkson of Illinois will speak to the assembly and appear at a reception later at the Racquet Club.

Tickets were limited to the public meeting since Lee High School auditorium will seat only 1,700 on the main floor. Door ticket sales will be limited to some 430 balcony seats, Sheppard said.

"We originally turned in a request for 55 tickets," he said, "but later managed to up the number available. Several from Webb Air Force Base were interested in securing tickets, and a telephone call to Midland enabled a number from the base to attend.

"Tickets for the open meeting at the high school were $10 each, while those for the reception will be $25," the chairman continued. "The original plans for the Tower - appreciation meeting called for an all-day affair, with the dinner in Midland and the open meeting, with Sen. Dirkson speaking, in the Odessa Coliseum. The senator could not let us know in time for this because some three weeks notice and arrangements would have been necessary for the all-day meeting."

Advance ticket sales ended Oct. 15, but interested persons, hoping to get balcony seats, may appear at the Lee High School auditorium door Thursday night, Sheppard said.

OIL REPORT

Shallow Pay Section Found

A. E. Walker Jr., Big Spring, has discovered pay in the York and Harper part of the Permian system, when he drilled an old depleted producer to 1,829 feet and set 5½-inch casing at 1,770 and perforated at 1,648-94 feet.

After acidizing with 250 gallons the well pumped 80 barrels of 29 gravity oil, with two per cent water.

The old well was drilled to around 1,400 feet and produced from regular pay in the Durham field three miles southwest of Sterling City. It was formerly the R. L. Dameron No. 2 Hunt.

The Sterling County discovery was spotted 990 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west lines of section 2-T, T&P survey.

COMPLETIONS

HOWARD

D. L. Darland, No. 8 H. R. Clay, spotted 330 feet from the south and east lines of section 139-20, W&NW survey, pumped 67 barrels of 32 gravity oil, with no water, from perforations at 2,257-2,570 feet. Total depth was 2,601 feet, and 5½-inch casing set at 2,587 feet.

Many Eligible For New Benefits

There are hundreds of people in Howard County eligible for the new health insurance program, even though they may not be entitled to monthly social security benefits, Erven Fisher, manager of the Big Spring Social Security office said. These people may sign up for the new health program now.

Some of these persons could possibly be receiving part of their social security benefits during the year, even though they are still working, he added.

"There are two important reasons for a person to complete application for social security now if at least 65 years of age," said Fisher. "The first is that he is eligible for the new social security health insurance program even though he may not be entitled to monthly benefits. The second is that it is just possible he may be losing some monthly social security payments even though regularly employed."

Johnson's Recovery Might Take Longer Than Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's recovery from surgery now is expected to take longer than anyone thought it would, although his doctors reportedly are not dissatisfied with his progress.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers coupled this assessment of prospects with an assurance there have been no physical complications since an operation Oct. 8 to remove Johnson's gall bladder and a kidney stone.

Moyers said as a guess that the President might remain in Bethesda Naval Hospital the rest of this week and perhaps his recuperation would extend beyond six weeks. That would extend both the hospital stay and recovery period beyond what Johnson's doctors say is average — 10 to 14 days for the one and six weeks for the total.

SOME DISCOMFORT

Johnson has experienced pain, discomfort, weariness and sleeplessness since the operation.

Just before Moyers was saying it would take the President longer than anyone thought to get back to a peak of activity, Johnson took a half-hour stroll on the hospital grounds under doctors' orders.

He walked slowly and cautiously. While his color was good, he appeared considerably thinner than when he entered the hospital. Moyers said "he is slightly under 200," whereas he was 202 shortly before the operation.

The President said he felt "pretty good." But there was little conviction in his voice.

"Following his lunch," Moyers said, "he read over some papers, signed some mail, and then because he was experiencing some gas pains and also because he needed the exercise, the doctors suggested that he take a somewhat extended walk of about a half hour."

HOLD HANDS

This he did. Mrs. Johnson accompanied him. They held hands now and then and admired the trees and flowers. A swarm of reporters and photographers trailed along part of the way.

The White House sent someone out later to retrace the route. Word came back that it was 4,723 feet or .894 mile.

Johnson was in colorful, cheerful attire: a checked, olive-colored sports jacket, lime green slacks, black loafers, and matching socks and knit, pullover sports shirt in blazing red. The shirt collar was up and the shirt tail was out.

Moyers said Johnson told him along the way: "It takes something to take these steps."

But after the walk and an outing on the hospital sun deck, the President and First Lady came back outside for another shorter stroll.

At this point Moyers was being asked at a briefing whether the chief executive had reached a turning point.

"I wouldn't describe it as a turning point," Moyers answered.

REGAIN STRENGTH

"The President told me going up in the elevator a minute ago that walking tired him very greatly, but that the doctors felt he needed this exercise and needed to force himself to do it in order to retain his strength.

"I still observe that the President is wearied by his activities, whether they are of a peripatetic nature, as this afternoon, or signing bills or reading reports or affixing his signature to mail at his desk.

"I think the doctors are not dissatisfied with his progress and feel that his progress, including up until today, is as they predicted.

"I also think that it is going to take the President longer to regain his strength and to recover and to return to the peak of activity he had reached prior to his operation than anyone thought."

"You say you think this," a newsman broke in. "Did he discuss this with you?"

"Yes," Moyers replied.

"How about the doctors, Bill? Did they say they think it will take longer than the original six weeks estimate?"

"You remember that the six weeks estimate was generally in the terms of the average patient as applied theoretically to the President's situation," Moyers reminded. "I do not think the doctors would dispute my reflection of the feeling that it will take longer than they had earlier anticipated for the President to regain his full strength."

Downed Jet's Secrets Kept From Enemy

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the Navy's newest jet attack bombers, shot down inside Communist North Viet Nam, was pulverized by other U.S. Navy warplanes to prevent its secret electronic equipment from falling into Red hands.

Sources disclosing this today said the incident involving an A6A intruder occurred in mid-July, shortly after the first of the advanced bombers began operating against Communist North Viet Nam from the carrier Independence.

The Intruder apparently was struck by antiaircraft fire. Its two-man crew parachuted and was rescued.

The airplane, after the crew bailed out, continued on and finally crashed. Although badly damaged, sources said, enough of the fuselage was left to raise the possibility that the Communists might be able to salvage from it some of the electronic "black boxes" which make the Intruder able to operate in all kinds of weather, day and night, and to pinpoint moving or fixed targets.

With this in mind, U.S. commanders sent other warplanes to destroy the remains of the downed Intruder.

Two other Intruders have been lost in operations against North Viet Nam, it was said. There was no indication that either of these had to be given the same treatment as the first plane.

School Boycott In Second Day

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Civil rights boycott of Milwaukee public schools entered its second day today with fewer pupils participating than did in a similar protest last year.

School Board President John F. Foley called the higher classroom attendance "indeed gratifying." State Assemblyman Lloyd A. Barbee, head of the protest movement, described the boycott as a success in the face of "pressure and intimidation."

BISHOP'S BAN

Roman Catholic Auxiliary Bishop Roman R. Atkielski had banned use of parish facilities to aid the boycott.

School officials said 12,637 pupils — about 10 per cent of the total enrollment — were absent Monday. They listed this as about 7,300 above normal. In a one-day boycott May 18, 1964, officials reported 21,394 absent, about 11,500 above normal at that time.

The pupils were not listed by race, but most of the absentees were from schools in the city's "inner core" where its Negro population is concentrated.

CITES OPINION

Bishop Atkielski in his order to Catholic clergy cited the opinion of Dist. Atty. Hugh R. O'Connell that the boycott was illegal and said persons aiding it would be subject to arrest.

The Rev. James Groppi, a vice chairman of the boycott committee, led a rally outside St. Boniface Church Monday and lectured at "freedom" schools where substitute secular instruction was provided pupils.

Cool Front Spurs Rains

By The Associated Press

A balky high pressure system centered in the Northeast has stalled the normal west to east progression of the weather and most areas received more of the same today.

A cold front stretching across the Plains from the Dakotas into southern Texas has brought thunderstorms and heavy rains the last few days.

Western Kansas was hit by 5 to 7 inches of rain over the weekend and thousands of acres of unharvested milo, corn and cane are likely to be a total loss. Experts said the water can't seep away before winter.

A 120-foot span of the Kansas 27 bridge north of Elkhart was washed out Monday night by the flooding Cimarron. Pumping equipment at two oil wells in the river bed were also washed away.

The southeast coast was also struck by heavy rain with more than 3 inches reported at Charleston, S.C.

Redistricting Foes Triumph

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Foes of new districting set up by the legislature for Oklahoma congressmen apparently had succeeded today in suspending effectiveness of the measure.

A bi-partisan committee filed with Secretary of State Jim Bullard Monday an initiative petition which the committee said contained 96,520 signatures, far more than the 47,467 required to force a statewide vote on the measure.

If no protests are filed by Oct. 29, it then will be up to Gov. Henry Bellmon to call an election on the redistricting act.

Faculties Give TSTA Support

COAHOMA (SC)—Faculties in the Coahoma and Forsan schools and in Howard County Junior College, which comprise the Howard County unit, are 100 per cent in membership in the Texas State Teachers Association.

This was announced at the first meeting of the unit this year at the Coahoma High School. Darrell Flynt, Forsan superintendent, was named delegate to the state meeting Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Corpus Christi. The association is urging voters to take part in the referendum Nov. 2 on 10 proposed constitutional amendments.

Mrs. Phil Wynn presided over the meeting, and M. B. McFall, Midway principal, gave the invocation. Mack Alexander introduced the music, which was a flute trio by Karen Moore, Angie Tidwell and Dianne Rodman, all of Forsan, and a trumpet duet by David Mathis and Larry Latson, Forsan teachers, accompanied by Mrs. Mike Porter.

Ed Fisher, chairman of the Howard County Historical Survey Committee, addressed the group, giving insights into the "big spring" and other historical points. He urged teacher support in stimulating interest in local and area history.

Solicitors Are Bilking Residents

Some magazine solicitors are bilking local citizens, according to a number of complaints local officers have received, Jay Banks, police chief, said Tuesday.

"These people are sneaky," Banks said. "They telephone residents and ask them a question to which there is no wrong answer, and tell them they've just won a prize. They use that as an excuse to wrangle their way into citizens' homes and sell magazine subscriptions.

"But the magazines never arrive. When the people stop paying their dues, they get threatening letters dunning them for money."

Anyone who has fallen for the scheme should report it to police, Banks said. The solicitors are clever, Banks warned. At least one policewoman was a victim of the fake subscription racket lately, he said.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Aren't the Morning Glories showing off their prettiness now that the more glamourous flowers have bloomed and passed on. While our place doesn't boast many . . . we've tried for years to have our back fence covered with what we dreamed would be big, blue beauties with little luck . . . we do have some now that are giving us great pleasure. The ones that pleasure me most are the little ones that have made a special spot of their own. Several years ago MRS. C. O. HITT gave us a little redbed switch which we transplanted in a temporary spot. As it thrived we dug it up and gave it what we believed would be a better permanent home. Alas, it didn't survive our tender care and it eventually withered away.

But even in its dead state it still maintained a nice shape so we just left it standing. Now the Morning Glories that have come up voluntarily have wound themselves about the dead limbs and have transformed the pitiful little tree into a lovely floral piece . . . that is to say, to me it is a pretty substitute for the redbed blooms that I had anticipated.

AMENDMENTS — 1

Property Tax Hike For College Building

(This is the first in a series of 10 articles on the proposed amendments to be voted upon by voters Nov. 2—Ed.)

AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amendment No. 1 is a proposal to increase the State's tax on property from the present 42 cents to 47 cents per $100 of county valuation, with the income from the additional five cents being earmarked for the college building fund.

This proposal — to increase state and valorem taxes — runs counter to proposals made during the last session of the Legislature by the Governor and others to abolish the state ad valorem tax. Also, voters will want to take note of the fact that the wording of the proposed amendment which will appear on the ballot may be misleading in that it makes no reference to the fact that a tax increase is being imposed thereby. The wording is as follows:

"FOR (or, AGAINST) the Amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Section 17 thereof, providing a method of payment for the acquiring, constructing and other permanent improvements at certain state institutions of higher learning."

INCREASE TAX

The method referred to in the quoted ballot wording is to increase the state tax by five cents per $100 of county valuation.

Since 1951, the State of Texas had levied a tax on property at the total rate of 42 cents per $100 of county assessed valuation. The 42-cent tax is composed of three distinct rates levied for the following purposes:

Available School Fund	$.35
College Building Fund	.05
Confederate and Ranger Pension Fund	.02
Total	$.42

Prior to 1951, the State of Texas also levied an ad valorem tax in support of the State's general revenue fund. This tax, levied at the rate of 30 cents in 1950 and 35 cents in earlier years, was abolished for general state revenue purposes in 1951.

In the State's fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1964, the ad valorem tax produced $46,108,954. Of this amount, $5,474,024 went into the college building fund from the five-cent tax rate earmarked by the Constitution for that purpose.

DOUBLE REVENUES

The proposed amendment would increase the state ad valorem tax to 10 cents per $100 of valuation, thus doubling the revenues to support the building program at designated state colleges.

The five-cent state ad valorem tax has been imposed since 1948 and the proceeds from the tax used for the support of the building programs at the following colleges and universities: Texas Southern University, Texas Women's University, Texas A&I, Texas Tech, Lamar Tech, East Texas State, North Texas University, Sam Houston State, Southwest Texas State, Stephen F. Austin, Sul Ross State and West Texas State.

The moneys collected under the tax are not subject to legislative control. The State Controller is responsible for allocating the revenues from the five-cent tax to each participating college. The trustees of each college are authorized to issue bonds and notes to finance buildings, with the bonds and notes secured by future tax revenues. This tax is due to expire in 1978, when all of the bonds issued under the present provisions of the Constitution are scheduled to be retired.

The proposed amendment to the Constitution would make three changes:

1. It would raise the rate of the tax from five to ten cents.
2. It would add five schools to those now participating in funds received through the ad valorem tax now levied. The added schools are Arlington State College, Midwestern University, University of Houston, Pan American College and San Angelo State College.
3. The amendment removes the time limit upon the power of participating schools to issue bonds. Hence, imposition of the proposed 10-cent tax would be permanent until such time in the future as the Constitution might be amended to provide for abolition.

DUPLICATION

Other institutions of higher learning have their building programs provided for through Section 18 of Article VII of the Constitution, and one of these — Arlington State College — is included in Section 18 as well as in the proposed amendment. To eliminate this duplication of financial support for Arlington State College, another proposed amendment, SJR No. 39, was approved by the Legislature this year, but will not be voted on until the election to be held in November, 1966.

If Amendment No. 1 should pass at the Nov. 2 election this year and SJR No. 39 should fail to pass at the November, 1966 election, a duplication of fund allocations to Arlington State College would result. On the other hand, if Amendment No. 1 should be rejected by the voters and SJR No. 39 approved by the voters next year, then Arlington State College would be eliminated from paritication in building funds as provided by the Constitution.

Texas' Turbulent Weather Calms; Areas Remain Damp

By The Associated Press

Wild weather stirred up by a wet northern calmed across Texas today. Some east and south areas still were damp.

A tornado menaced a rural area near Mission in the Valley and torrential rains blocked a number of farm roads, severed a railroad and interrupted electric power and telephone service in some sections.

BREAKING UP

By morning the cold front triggering the deluges appeared to be breaking up after pushing to a line from Sherman to McAllen.

The twister dipped down seven miles west of Mission to flatten a farm shed and snap power lines Monday evening. It also felled a couple of trees and flung them across US 83. There was no word of injuries.

Heavier rains late in the day included an estimated 4 inches at Banquete, about 3 inches at Beeville, and official 2.27 at Alice, 2.35 at Victoria and 1.49 at Palacios.

Runoff from the sudden downpours caused the closing for a time of Farm Roads 665, 1352 and 1930 in the Alice vicinity and Texas 123 and Farm Road 1681 near Nixon.

Earlier Monday up to 7 inches of rain drenched the West Texas countryside around Rotan and Camp Springs, east of Snyder. Muddy water rose into a Rotan home and some business places.

5-INCH RAIN

West of Quanah a 5-inch deluge ripped out a stretch of railroad track. Rains nearly as heavy at many points brought moisture welcomed by farmers and stockmen.

By early today the rainfall had tapered into a few showers near the dying cool front in the extreme eastern and southern parts of Texas.

Skies cleared behind the front. It was cloudy elsewhere.

Forecasts called for the showers to dry up during the day except along the coast, where scattered sprinkles were expected through Wednesday.

San Angelo Man Killed By Officer

SAN ANGELO (AP) — An eight-block chase by rookie policeman Joe Arzate ended in the fatal shooting of a speeding motorist Monday night.

Two pistol bullets struck Noe Rodriguez, 30, of San Angelo in the chest and killed him after he stepped from a car in the edge of the business district.

"He ran that red light," said Arzate, pointing to a signal outside the San Angelo Standard-Times building. "He pulled over to the side and jumped out of his car and started toward me. He was reaching in his back pocket. . .

"I told him, 'Noe, I'm going to have to shoot you if you don't stop.' He kept on coming. I had to shoot him."

Other officers said a knife fell from Rodriguez' hip pocket as ambulance attendants lifted the body onto a stretcher.

Oil Discovery Pace Declared Falling Short

FORT WORTH (AP)—A Texas official said today the petroleum industry must give increased emphasis to finding new oil reserves.

Byron Tunnell, a member of the state's oil and gas regulatory commission, said demand soon will dwarf experiences of the past but the current rate of new discoveries barely matches production.

"More simply stated, our record of finding new liquid hydrocarbon reserves simply has not kept pace with demand in recent years," he said.

"There is every indication we are fast approaching the same condition with respect to gas reserves."

POLITICAL CHANGES

Railroad Commissioner Tunnell addressed the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, a 4,000-member trade group representing all segments of the state's petroleum industry.

The oilmen also were told political changes make it necessary the industry develop viewpoints that represent a consensus of industrywide leadership.

"Public officials don't like to be required to choose among factions within our industry," said James Sewell, association president from Dallas.

"In the face of today's rapid changes, there's a tremendous premium on our ability to project ourselves as an industry, rather than as squabbling factions or competing companies.

"For the good or bad, the trend of the times seems to be a preference for a consensus."

WILL INCREASE

Tunnell said recent studies indicate demand for liquid hydrocarbons will increase from 4.2 to 6.5 billion barrels a year by 1980 and annual requirements for natural gas will jump from 14 to 25 trillion cubic feet.

"In order for Texas to continue to maintain its position in supplying these greatly increased needs, the task must be accomplished in two ways—finding new reserves and increasing recovery efficiency of present and future reserves," he said.

"And in so doing, a regulatory climate must be created which will enable the oil and gas industry in Texas to compete on a global and sectional scale, and in the public interest."

Tunnell pledged cooperation in two areas.

"We shall continue to aid you by permitting temporary wide well spacing to allow you to evaluate newly discovered reservoirs sooner," he said.

"We shall encourage the drilling of new reserves, so needed in the near future, both onshore and offshore, by encouraging wider spacing with fewer wells and granting allowable incentives to enable you to realize a fair and reasonable return."

A Devotional For The Day

"Ask and you will receive; seek, and you will find; knock and the door will be opened. For everyone who asks receives, he who seeks finds." (Matthew 7:7, NEB)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, lead us always to look to Thee in Faith. Help us to know what to do. Give us strength to overcome evil and be victorious over life. In Jesus' name we ask. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Can We Do Something?

We lift our voice once more to urge that our public agencies, and indeed all other organizations and individuals concerned with safety, get their heads together to see if there isn't something that can be done to curb our almost unprecedented number of traffic fatalities.

Already we have 18 deaths in Howard County this year, and six of them within the corporate limits of Big Spring. Is this the same city which a few years ago went nearly a year and a half without a traffic fatality?

What are the prime causes of these traffic mishaps? Are our legal requirements for driving not exacting enough? Is there any way in which enforcement can be tightened toward the effective reduction of collisions? Are there ways in which private groups can assist law enforcement officers? Is there anything we can do?

Limited Rights

FBI agents arrested David J. Miller, 22, for not being able to produce the proper draft papers when they accosted him. Miller had burned in public what he claimed was his draft card.

Those registered for selective service are required to keep their draft card with them, or be able to produce it upon authorized demand. If, indeed, it was his draft card that Miller burned, small wonder he was unable to produce it.

If he was unaware of the consequences of his act, then he must stand publicly indicted for ignorance. If he knew, then he is in the process of reaping a harvest he sought.

In our country, anyone has a right to protest, to speak out, to petition, to assemble peacefully. But this right does not carry with it a right to break other laws.

Johnson All The Way

WASHINGTON—The scoreboard for the session of Congress coming to an end shows most of the runs racked up for the star player, Lyndon Johnson. How much of this is performance, how much public relations and how much the big Democratic majorities pulled in by last year's landslide the historians will sort out.

But however it is judged, the score is as impressive as any in this century. New legislation has meant advances in every field from the arts to medical care to highway beautification. The program has been the President's, bearing his stamp to an extent unequalled since the hundred days of the New Deal.

GIVEN THE Johnson approach as a master maneuverer, it was in the cards that one of the few figures to emerge with stature is Senate Minority Leader Everett McKinley Dirksen. When Mr. Johnson led the majority in the Senate the two men worked in complete harmony and friendship. That relationship has continued, with the President talking with his friend Ev whenever either man wants to discuss a given situation or just have a good political gossip.

IF THERE IS resentment among some Democrats who feel they are on the outside looking in while the head of the opposition has the latch key to the White House, that feeling is reflected even more strongly when it comes to the score of the pressure groups with a special stake in legislation. Organized labor is at the bottom, having failed to get any of the measures on the AFL-CIO's prescribed list.

The bitterest blow was the failure of the Senate to join the House in the repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartly Act. This is the section that permits states to adopt so-called right-to-work laws. Dirksen is the front and center villain of this piece since he put together the old alliance between Republicans and Southern Democrats to block cloture and allow "prolonged debate," or a filibuster, to go on in the stale, end-of-the-session atmosphere of the Senate.

BUT THE TARGET of labor's wrath is not so much Dirksen—he was just doing what comes naturally—as the Administration. And the blame is shared out between Mansfield and Vice President Hubert Humphrey, with the President more or less home free. Besides the collapse of the attempt to repeal 14-B, labor failed to get an increased minimum wage and a revision of the unemployment compensation law setting standards in the states.

ON CIVIL RIGHTS the President more than the rights leadership scored a personal credit. And with the shakeup in the civil rights setup in the government and the abolition of two major civil rights units, Humphrey is taken entirely out of what had been for the Vice Presidency for a decade an important field of activity. With authority decentralized and diffused through the departments, the President's personal power is enhanced.

BUSINESS SCORED with the elimination of most excise taxes. With a booming economy, profits soaring as never before and the full treatment from the White House, business had little to ask for. While organizations such as the U.S. Chamber of Commerce opposed medicare, aid to education and other parts of the Johnson program this seemed to be a reflex out of the past. The familiar prescription, relax and enjoy it, was the attitude.

ON FOREIGN POLICY the session started with a number of vociferous critics of the Administration's policy on Viet Nam. Almost without exception those critics have been silenced. The President has had his way and a steady buildup of American forces in South Viet Nam goes on with the total expected to reach 200,000 by the year's end or early in 1966.

It is Johnson, Johnson, Johnson all the way. And it is hard to see what new triumphs can equal those of the first two Johnson years.

LBJ's Batting Average Assessed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's batting average with the 89th Congress now pressing for adiournment of its first session will compare favorably with the best of any of his predecessors.

But it won't show all hits and runs. There are going to be some major bills left on base.

Probably no other president got so much so quickly from a Congress heavily dominated by members of his own party.

But not even Johnson got everything he wanted. He still could, for this is only the first session of the 89th, and all unfinished business carries over to next year when Congress takes up where it leaves off in 1965.

TOPPING THE list of deferred legislation are two bills close to the heart of organized labor which supported Johnson in 1964 elections.

One is the controversial measure to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. This section allows states to ban inclusion in labor-management contracts of provisions requiring all covered employes to belong to or contribute to a union.

The House passed the bill July 28. But the measure ran into a filibuster in the Senate. So the Democratic leadership took the bill off the calendar and laid it aside until next year.

LABOR'S OTHER top-priority bill got sidetracked in the House after being approved by the Education and Labor Committee in much more liberal form than the President wanted. It would raise the minimum wages of workers in interstate industry and extend coverage to millions of additional workers.

Also still high and dry is the President's proposal for home rule for residents of the District of Columbia, for whom Congress has been acting as a city council for years. The Senate went along with the President on this legislation but the House passed a much different bill calling for a referendum of capital voters to decide if they want a home rule charter. The two branches haven't been able to get together on a compromise version.

ON SOME of the things he did get from Congress, the President got more than he wanted. This was true of the military pay raise bill and the bill setting up a program of health care for the elderly within the Social Security System.

He might get another setback before Congress goes home. The House has refused to approve funds to put into operation the rent subsidy provision of the new housing law. The Senate may restore some of the money. If it does, there is certain to be another hassle in the House.

Only The Horn Keeps Cars Moving

NEW YORK (AP)—Mr. Barnes and all his traffic theories and patterns to the contrary, there is only one thing that keeps New York City's traffic moving—the horn.

On a good day New York's traffic flows like cold lava. On a bad day, things get worse.

Rising up the canyon walls of every street are the beep-beep and honk-honk that brings joy to a traffic policeman's life. These are the animal sounds of progress on wheels.

THE HORN is the one piece of equipment without which Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes' dominion would fall apart at the seams. Without it, New York would have to pave over the jammed-up vehicles and start all over again.

You could rip off the bumper. Its only use is to nudge the slowpoke ahead of you to let him know the light is about to change from red to green.

TEAR OUT the motor. Anyone adventurous enough to brave New York's traffic would find a way to overcome this handicap.

Even the taxi meter could go. The only thing it's good for is to remind the passenger to count his change.

But the horn—it's very sound waves send traffic surging.

The horn is at its best beneath the nimble fingers of the cabbie. Wielding it like a rapier, he fences his way through the insurmountable barrier of vehicles.

OBSERVE how the cabbie uses the horn:

—Somebody tries to cut in front—wise him up with a blast.

—The light is about to change to green in a minute or two—get set, honk.

—A pedestrian walks in front as he's turning—make him jump a little.

—He's got the street all to himself—blast away, somebody somewhere is bound to hear it.

Horns come in all sizes and sounds. A no-nonsense horn is best, but be certain it's tuned up enough to short circuit a hearing aid at 20 paces.

Driving schools might do well to throw in a course in horn blowing.

Deer Re-Stocked

LAKE CITY, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission keeps the state's deer population restocked at the expense of game violators.

From fines imposed by the courts, the game commission buys deer from Texas and places them in areas where other deer were killed illegally.

Violations range from killing deer out of season to taking doe deer. Fifteen Texas deer were recently released in the northeast Florida region.

NAME CHANGED—

Billy Graham

I have a friend who says that no one can be converted unless the Lord permits it. What do you think about this? T.J.

Although it appears from the Scriptures that God is not going to be surprised when certain people are converted, it is still a basic truth in the New Testament that God has given to every person complete freedom and the power to make his choices with respect to Jesus Christ. If this were not so, then every gospel invitation would on the face of it be a fraud. When Jesus said, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest" we would either have to conclude that your friend is wrong or that Jesus was insincere. I cannot believe that Jesus was ever insincere, and yet He invited men to come as if they had the power to do so.

The Apostle Paul in II Corinthians 5:20 describes himself as an ambassador on behalf of Christ, and he says, ". . . we beseech you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God." The urgency of Paul's expression indicates that he was talking to people who had the power to repent in response to hearing the Gospel. This is a great privilege, but it is also a tremendous responsibility for every person. For every man must settle his own eternal destiny in the light of his acceptance of, or his rejection of Christ.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The relative influences of the extreme left and the extreme right have been debated for years. Both ends of the political spectrum are quite willing to shed light on their political ideas and targets, from the harsh red of the Marxists to the deep blue of the chauvinists.

But what about the "dead center," which includes the vast vegetable majority that is heard from only when someone steps on its toes, endangers its personal security or interrupts its moral and political siesta? The left and the right speak with relative candor and attempt to amplify their voices with the standard techniques of the demagogue. They gather all the splinters they can find in discontent to make a spearhead against Government policies.

The inert mass at dead center, however, believes in "immunsism," which is the art of avoiding responsibility. The dead-center group represents far greater long-term danger to the nation than any minority with a special cause to plead. The dead center permits minorities to rule by default. The sign, "Don't disturb," hangs on the door of every "immunist" until some national emergency shocks him out of his shell of insulation. He has a symbol, "DGI," which means "Don't Get Involved."

Minorities, good and bad, left and right, are the prods of civic conscience against the majority's lethargy. It is the dead center we must worry about.

Nicotine Adversely Affects The Body

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please describe how nicotine affects the body—liver, pancreas, nervous system, etc.

I have cirrhosis of the liver and have been told that I am likely to get nicotine poisoning if I don't stop smoking.—B.D.

We'll start with the nervous system, the "autonomic nervous system" over which we have no voluntary control. At first nicotine stimulates it; more nicotine can to some degree paralyze it.

This translates into such things as a rapid heart beat, feeling of faintness, jitters, spasm of blood vessels.

People vary enormously in their tolerance to nicotine, and hence the point at which they suffer nicotine "poisoning." I have known more than one person, novices at smoking, to faint from the effects of a single cigaret.

I've seen others who were so sensitive that two cigarets would cause capillary blood vessels to clamp down and prevent blood from flowing—these are the tiny vessels close to the surface of the body, and they give our skin its pinkish tinge. Nicotine can sometimes make these capillaries clamp down so rapidly that you can see the skin lose its pinkness. (That's why tobacco is absolutely verboten for someone with Buerger's disease or other conditions which limit circulation to the extremities.)

As to the organs you mention, the liver and pancreas, I would suggest that the heart (palpitation) is more sensitive. The liver and other organs are significant in that they play a part in ridding your system of such nicotine as you take in.

Cirrhosis of the liver doesn't make you, basically, any more sensitive to nicotine poisoning, but it certainly restricts your ability to withstand the nicotine. Keep on smoking, and your liver is required to do that much more work. If your circulation is impeded, your liver is under that much added handicap.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am a recent bride. Is there any way I can be sure not to become pregnant for at least three years? I cannot ask neighbor women as we live out in the country. I want to continue to work a while longer. I am 23. — MRS. N.C.

The birth control pills are as certain a means as exists. Just about as sure results are obtained by a diaphragm, a method that has been in wide use for many years.

In either case, you don't need neighbor women; you do need your doctor. You must have a prescription for the pills, and also need the physician's advice in case (as occasionally happens) there may be some side effects, although they are rarely of any great consequence.

Around The Rim

Comments About A Coming Comet

Comets, while numerous astronomically speaking, are seldom spectacular enough to stir more than passing interest by lay observers.

Most comets are reported as telescopic and are visible only with high magnification. Being such, they are hard to find in the expanses of the sky and are observed mostly by professionals.

WEDNESDAY morning (or perhaps Thursday morning) a comet is due to be visible without telescope in the southeast skies. The time, according to reports I have read is about an hour before dawn. According to the weatherman sunrise is around 6:51 a.m.

The confusion hinges on the way the story about the comet was written. It states that the comet called Ikeya-Siki will be closest to the sun during a five hour period starting at 7 p.m. CST Wednesday. It will be at its brightest two to three hours prior to 7 p.m. which will be about 4 or 5 p.m. The sun will be up at these hours and the chances of seeing the celestial wanderer are not good. The story goes on to say the best time to see it will be about an hour before dawn in the southeast skies.

WHEN?

Wednesday morning, if the story is taken in its general form. Thursday morning, if it is brightest at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Anyway I will be up and taking a look-see on both mornings. Things like this have always fascinated me. I have developed cricks in my neck on other occasions trying to see comets. Occasionally I have been rewarded by spotting one.

Unless you are an astronomy buff, most comets are disappointing. Usually they are faint blur of whitish light, often no larger than a good-sized star. Sometimes they have dim tails; sometimes not.

YEARS AND years ago, I remember being roused from my warm bed, here to go out in the yard and look at the night skies. My parents had awakened me.

They pointed to the eastern heavens and there, spreading half way up the sky, was one of the most spectacular comets of all times. I was just a small boy but I can still see, in my memory, that fanshaped spread of whitish light and the awesome irregularly shaped ball of brighter, whiter material at its top.

At the skyline, the horizon was turning pink. In a few minutes the sun would appear. As dawn broadened the tail dimmed. Even after the sun had peeped above the horizon, you could see the head of the comet like a small gleaming cloud.

THIS WAS on the occasion of the last visit of Halley's Comet. This visitor shows up about every 75 to 85 years. There are historic records of its visits for countless centuries. It will be back again in 1986 unless Jupiter, that eater of comets, hasn't destroyed it.

In the old days Halley's Comet used to scare the daylights out of lots of people. Even in 1910, many superstitious citizens read in its awesome form a symbol of universal disaster. Some believed the world would come to an end and sold or gave away all of their property so that they might be ready for the grand finale.

Several thousand, as I recall, gathered on top a high hill — all clad in white robes to watch the end of time. When time failed to end, they began to disperse, sheepishly slinking away.

COMETS FOLLOW established orbits. This particular comet of Wednesday I understand is "new." That is to say it is new in that its orbit is so vast that this is the first time civilized man, with the astronomical knowhow to identify it, has had a chance to see it.

Very probably this same celestial rover has passed in sight of this earth hundreds of times in the past. The only thing — so many centuries elapse between visits that no one was able, on its previous round, to record its visit.

Lindsay On The Couch

WASHINGTON — You could tell by the cut of his jib that the handsome young man on the psychiatric couch of Dr. Clarence W. Couchmaster was the most mixed up candidate who ever ran for Mayor of New York. Dr. Couchmaster, who had treated many an unhinged politico, summed up this one as ambitious and ambivalent, liberal and lachrymose. But Dr. Couchmaster, who is paid for listening to other men's woes, gently asked:

"Congressman, what's the matter?"

"I JUST can't stop crying," sniffled the Congressman from the Silk Stocking District of Manhattan. "I can't kick the habit. For years I wept and wailed about the plight of the underprivileged, the disadvantaged and the disoriented. And now I'm crying about myself."

"Candidates often weep when they're losing," observed Couchmaster. "Tell me more."

"IT'S THAT William F. Buckley Jr.," sobbed the Congressman. "Bill's a Republican like myself. But he's in here with the Conservative Party endorsement, and he's cutting me to pieces with his ridicule."

"But last year you cut Barry Goldwater to pieces when he was the Republican national candidate," said Couchmaster soothingly. "If Buckley's endorsed by the Conservatives, you're endorsed by the Liberal Party. What could be fairer than that?"

"WHAT'S SAUCE for the goose is something else for the gander in the liberal credo," sobbed the ambivalent, ambitious, mixed-up young candidate. "It's all right for Senator Tom Kuchel to call his California opponents Fascists, but it's all wrong for them to call him a Commie. That's how we ellightened Liberals look at things."

"But, surely, there are plenty of Liberals in New York to come to your rescue. There's Senator Javits, and former Governor Dewey, and Governor Rockefeller."

"ROCKY!" howled the lachrymose candidate. "Don't mention that ingrate to me. All he ever gave me was money. Why doesn't he give me his political support?"

"But, Congressman," said Couchmaster in his kindliest tone, "what do you expect of Nelson Rockfeller? There never was such a rule-or-ruin man as Rocky. Look how he sabotaged Nixon in 1960. Look now he mutiliated Goldwater in 1964. Would you expect him to be any different in 1965? Rocky, like the Turk, as the poet wrote, brooks no brother near the throne. He doesn't want you for a rival Republican in New York politics."

"I LOVE everybody, but nobody loves me," sobbed the Honorable John V. Lindsay. "How do I stop weeping for myself?"

"The voters of New York City will provide the cure," said Dr. Couchmaster, who had diagnosed this typical case of bleeding heart liberalism. "They'll send you back among the Silk Stocking Leftists where there's so much weeping that nobody will notice."

In Pursuit Of Extremism

WASHINGTON — Oh, pity the poor John Birch Society. Everybody is knocking each other over to disavow its members. First Sen. Thruston Morton, then Sen. Dirksen and Congressman Gerry Ford, followed by Dick Nixon. And even Barry Goldwater of the famed "extremism in the pursuit of" line has urged the John Birchers to resign from the society and work for the Republican party. Finally, William Buckley's conservative National Review devoted an issue to the John Birchers and found them wanting in all departments.

IT MUST BE very lonely to be so far out of touch with everyone in the United States and, when I read of all the disavowals, my first fear was that the John Birchers might disappear from the American scene, which would be an incalculable loss to the way-out fringe of the country.

But as luck would have it, I sat next to a man on a plane who said he was a member of the Communist party. I mentioned to him how depressed I was by the people who were attacking the JBS and he said, "We'll take 'em if nobody wants 'em.

"You'll take them?"

"WHY NOT! The Communist party has never turned down a nut yet."

"But they are sworn enemies of the Communist party."

"Are you kidding? They maintain that 60 per cent of the U. S. government is made up of Communists. Even the Soviet Union has never claimed that. The John Birchers can find Communists in the United States where no one knew they existed. They make us look pretty good back home."

"What do you mean by that?"

"WELL, ALL we have to do is send back to Moscow John Birch literature and our bosses read it and say, 'Our people in the United States are really on the ball.' According to this stuff, there are Communists everywhere. I was given a raise just by sending the Kremlin a pamphlet which proved the State Department was composed mostly of Soviet secret agents."

"I could see where Moscow would be impressed," I said. "But how would you propose taking the John Birchers into the party?"

"We'LL GO TO them and say, 'Look, comrades, apparently no one wants you in the United States and nobody wants us. But we need each other. You can't raise any money without Communists, and we can't get credit for infiltrating the whole framework of the American government alone. So let's join forces. Between the two of us we can knock the pins right ouf the American system. We'll look good and you'll look good.'"

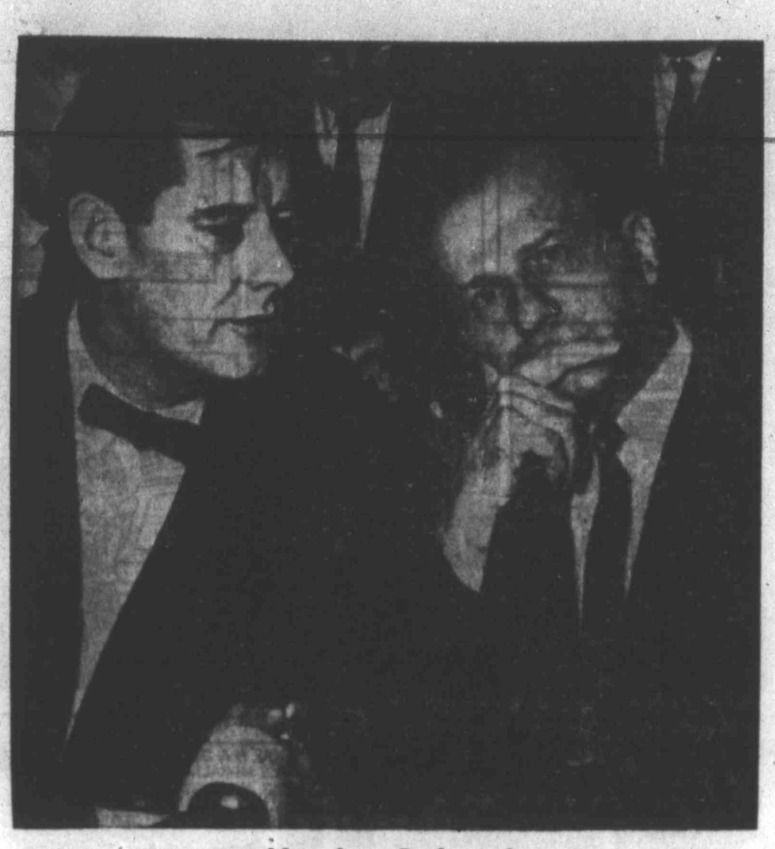

"How would you work?"

"THEY'RE PRETTY good at infiltrating the P-TA's, police departments, and boards of education. We work more with juniors, universities, and Fair Play for Cuba movements. If we combine forces, we'll be unbeatable."

"I have my doubts, sir," I said. "The John Birchers may be beyond the fringe, but they would never knowingly cooperate with you people."

"Perhaps you're right. And maybe it's better if they didn't. They're helping us so much now that I'd rather not do anything to disturb them. Say, it is really true that most newspapermen are pinkos and Commie dupes?"

Mekong Delta Seen Cong's Main Target

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Mekong Delta and its rich rice fields may be the Viet Cong's new No. 1 target.

The Communist guerrillas have been attacking more frequently in the delta during the past few weeks and have been operating in battalion strength. A battalion may range from 500 to 1,000 men.

The guerrillas staged mortar attacks on 10 South Vietnamese military posts and watchtowers during the past few days but made no attempt to advance on them. Government casualties were reported light in the attacks in Chuong Thien and Phong Dinh provinces, 75 to 125 miles south of Saigon.

In the central highlands there are two U.S. Army divisions, but there is no large U.S. force deep in the delta. The area, with about 5.5 million people living alongside canals, rivers and rice fields, is important to the South Vietnamese economy because of its rice production.

HARD CORE

The main hard core of Viet Cong forces traditionally has come out of the delta. Some estimates say the Viet Cong control 65 per cent of the region.

Elsewhere in the war, U.S. Marines killed eight Viet Cong Monday night in a fight 13 miles north of Chu Lai. No Marine casualties were reported.

The 2nd Battalion of the 3rd Marines was flown into the area at the Boc village complex by helicopters. With South Vietnamese troops they rounded up 25 Viet Cong suspects.

Chu Lai is a large American supply complex in Quang Nam Province, about 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

Radio Hanoi claimed that North Vietnamese forces brought down five U.S. planes Monday, including an unmanned reconnaissance plane. The broadcast said several American pilots were captured.

674 DOWNED

This brought to 674 the number of U.S. aircraft shot down over North Viet Nam since Aug. 5, 1964, the broadcast said.

The North Vietnamese claimed earlier they had shot down 11 U.S. planes Sunday. The United States acknowledged the loss of five planes.

Radio Hanoi also claimed that a group of American or South Vietnamese fighter planes and a four-engine bomber attacked a Cambodian village Oct. 15 and killed seven civilians.

It was the second time in two days that Radio Hanoi claimed planes from South Viet Nam had intruded into neighboring Cambodia.

Communist China warned that if provocations against Cambodia continue, "the Chinese people certainly will not stand idly by."

Puzzle of Monday, October 18, Solved

Business Pace Slackens But Rush Is Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—That slackening of the business pace predicted for early summer is just now making its belated appearance. But many businessmen expected it to show up sooner or later and say they discounted its efforts in advance.

How long the present slackening will last is the real question as business gets ready for the rush of holiday activity, and then for the spring rush for which plans must now be laid.

Inventories, credit and prices are the things they're watching. Trends in those areas will set the timetable for late 1965 and early 1966.

STOCKS BUILT

Stocks on hand have been built high in many industries. The big boom in steel production earlier in the year was in part due to this rush to stockpile metal against a strike which did not materialize. Now customers are living off these inventories and withholding new orders. Steel production has dropped.

Stocks are high in many other industries. At the end of August inventories for all business stood at $116.6 billion. This buildup gave a healthy glow to industry in general while the new orders poured in. The question now is: Will business hold stocks at the present level, cut them back, or build still higher?

The trend in credit has two aspects. First, the demand for business loans has climbed sharply in the last two months. The total of consumer credit also has gone on climbing to record highs. The question is how high can business and consumer debt mount before it becomes a matter of concern.

INTEREST RATES

Second, the growing demand for credit has put pressure on interest rates. They continue to rise on a selective basis, although the lending fraternity so far has heeded the plea of the Johnson administration to hold the line on the basic interest charge, the prime rate of the banks.

The question here is will interest rates continue to climb selectively and credit become tighter than today. If so, will this put a crimp in the expansion plans of business, in the buying intentions of consumers?

There is the further question of whether the government will step in, either to pump more money and credit into the market so as to hold interest rates down, or to tighten up if speculative forces get boisterous in the stock markets.

PRICES CLIMB

The price trend at the moment also is upward, although like interest charges the increases are selective. Many industrial materials and products have been increased in price in recent weeks. Producers say the pressure to increase others is strong. Aiso, many actual prices have gone up without public announcement. This is done by cutting off free services, tightening discounts for cash payments, adding to the charges for extras such as dominate many industrial markets.

Will the government step in with penalties for those who disregard its price guidelines? Or on the other hand, will it perhaps liberalize these guidelines?

Atheist Weds Retired Artist

AUSTIN (AP)—Mrs. Madalyn Murray, the atheist who is fighting extradition to Maryland on charges she assaulted a policeman, was married Monday to Richard O'Hair, a retired artist she met six months ago in Mexico.

They ducked newsmen after the wedding. Word was relayed to reporters later that the couple had cancelled a promised news conference.

Before the ceremony, performed by Justice of the Peace J. H. Smith in the county courthouse, the couple said they had no plans for a honeymoon except to stay in Austin. This will be their "semi - permanent home," they said.

Mrs. Murray, 46, met O'Hair, 52, in Valle de Bravo, Mexico, where she fled from Hawaii, seeking asylum from the Maryland charges.

O'Hair arrived in Austin last Wednesday.

Mrs. Murray, married previously and divorced, has two sons. She brought a suit resulting in a U.S. Supreme Court ban on compulsory school prayers.

While her lawyers prepare an appeal of Texas Gov. John Connally's order that she be sent back to Maryland, she is free under $1,000 bond.

She was arrested Sept. 25 in San Antonio after being deported from Mexico.

Taxi In Tokyo Now Has Voice

TOKYO (AP) — The latest gimmick in taxis belongs to Masuo Sato, 36, a Tokyo cabbie who has a tape recorder that switches on when the door opens to let in a passenger.

"Please give your directions to the driver clearly," says the voice. "Please do not litter the floor with cigarette butts, and don't forget your belongings when you leave." Then the voice signs off with: "Thank you for riding with me."

Now They Are Well

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

Two weeks ago we started a little different type of column and we can give you a little more of the same complaints and results of just some of the new patients who came to this office for the first time this past week.

This 64-year-old man came to this office at the suggestion of his son suffering from extreme low back pains radiating down and into his right leg. He complained of a 2-year history of trouble with the current attack even hospitalizing him for eight days. Even with the first treatment he felt immediate relief and is rapidly having the condition and CAUSE corrected. No. 2989.

This young oil field worker also complained of low back trouble with pains running down and into the right leg also. Although he had received prior treatment the disability continued. We first gave him a thorough orthopedic examination and X-rayed him, which revealed the source of the trouble. After just the second treatment, he reported being pain free and trouble free. No. 2991.

This gentleman came to the office suffering with an extreme headache which was increasing in frequency and intensity. Routine examination found the CAUSE and with just the first treatment, relief came. No. 2992.

This young woman came to the office at the suggestion of a family friend. In spite of all treatment received for the past two months, a low back condition persisted. With our routine orthopedic examination and X-rays, we located the CAUSE and almost immediate help came to this young patient. No. 2994.

Prisoners Seize Hostages, Voice Complaints Of Bias

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Four Negro prison inmates, two reportedly crazed by narcotics and all brandishing knives, held four hostages for several hours Monday while they complained to a reporter about discrimination.

The inmates seized a supply of drugs in the hospital at Southern Michigan Prison and they barricaded themselves into a corridor in the surgical suite on the hospital's fifth and top floor.

"Talking is what finally got them out of there—no question about that," said Prison Inspector Joseph Dembosky, 58, who was held hostage for nearly six hours.

INVESTIGATION PROMISED

The four were assured their complaints would be investigated and no harm would come to them.

After releasing the hostages unharmed, the inmates were placed in isolation cells while prison officials considered whether to file charges.

During the siege, the four demanded to see a reporter to make their complaints public.

Officials brought in Don Durst of the Jackson Citizen-Patriot. Durst eported the four accused officers of mistreating them and said all Negroes could expect in the prison stamp plant was assignment to the "bull crew" (manual labor) while whites were assigned to machines.

FREE HOSTAGES

The inmates — including two serving life terms for murder— released Dr. W.R. Latchaw, 62, after about four hours and released Dembosky and guards Ron Thompson, 22, and George Hutchins, 47, two hours later.

Thompson said the inmates alternately threatened and reassured their hostages and at one point, "two of them got real wild."

"They were all doped up and I was sure they were going to kill us. But the other two guys didn't take much dope at all and they were pretty sane," he added.

Officials identified the inmates as Milton Thomas, 20; Otis Adams, 27; Alvin Shaw, 24, and Edward Whitehead, 27. Shaw and Whitehead are serving life terms for murder.

Warden George Kropp said the inmates rushed in on Joe Johnson, a hospital supervisor, and forced him at knife point to open a locked drug cabinet.

Engineers To Meet In Odessa

Permian section of the Association of Industrial Chemical Engineers will have its monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the First State Bank, Odessa, Oct. 26.

L. O. Sullivan, chief engineer of Sivallas Tanks, Inc., will speak on the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, with emphasis on problems of unfired pressure vessels. Because of the wide application of the vessels throughout the industry, all interested engineering personnel are invited to the talk.

DEAR ABBY

Children's Parties

DEAR ABBY: Last week I gave my nine-year-old daughter a birthday party. The invitations were mailed two weeks in advance. A photographer was hired and our house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Some of the children came in nice party clothes, but others showed up in their soiled play clothes, barefoot! (One little girl had curlers in her hair.) All these children are from a high-class neighborhood and had nice party clothes to wear.

When the gifts were opened, several of the little guests said, "Mother said to tell you she didn't have time to buy a present, but she will when she gets time."

When the colored pictures were developed, the hair curlers and dirty bare feet stuck out like sore thumbs. The party was supposed to be from 2 P.M. until 4 P.M., but the first guest arrived at 1 P.M. and the last one left at 5:30 P.M. How can I prevent this from happening at the next party?

DISGUSTED IN DIXIE

DEAR DISGUSTED: You can't. There have always been mothers who don't have time to bathe and dress their children and send them off properly to a party and, regrettably, there always will be.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I realize that there are more earth - shattering problems, but this is something that gripes me to no end. I am a mature bachelor-girl in my mid-forties, and I am rather conservative in my behavior. I am willing to be friendly, within reason, but tradespeople (sales clerks, service station attendants, beauty operators, etc.) invariably call me by my first name if they find out what it is. Sometimes they even ASK me what it is, like the mechanic where I took my car to be serviced. I never laid eyes on this boy before. He was at least 20 years my junior. What can I say to nip this sort of familiarity in the bud? Or am I being a —

STUFFED SHIRT (?)

DEAR STUFFED: If someone asks you your first name, and you feel that he is being unduly familiar, reply, "It's Mary, but I'd rather you call me Miss Hosenfeffer." Your reply may not endear you to that person, but you'll have put him in his place. And that's your objective, isn't it?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This letter is to thank you for helping me, even though I carried your letter for two years before I actually took your advice.

I am a woman who had the gambling fever so bad I even tried to commit suicide because of it.

I did all the unbelievable things, like writing checks with no money in the bank, using household money for gambling, putting my jewelry up for a loan, and making loans everywhere, signing my husband's name wherever possible. Getting money to gamble with was all I ever thought of.

Your suggestion that I write to GAMBLER'S ANONYMOUS, P.O. BOX No. 17173, Los Angeles, Calif., was the biggest favor one human ever did another. Thank you.

FINALLY WON

Farmers Insurance Group Sells Reciprocal Policies

Did you ever stop to think what insurance really is?

Insurance is a social device for spreading the losses of an unfortunate few in a fair and equitable manner over a large number of more fortunate people who could possibly have similar losses, but who do not have them. These losses are covered by funds accumulated from premiums paid by those insured, by reserves, and a minimum cash surplus, as required by law.

A. J. Pirkle, with offices at 201 E. 2nd Street, is the agent for the Farmers Insurance Group. The reciprocal group includes Farmers Insurance Exchange, Truck Insurance Exchange, Mid-Century Auto Exchange, Farmers Fire Exchange, Mid - Century Fire Exchange, and Farmers New World Life.

He has been in the insurance business for 12 years. Two years were in the office of the Howard County Farm Bureau, and the last 10 years on the northeast corner of the intersection of Scurry and East Second.

"The home office of Farmers Insurance Group is in Los Angeles," Pirkle said. "Our state office is in Austin. Other offices, for the convenience of patrons, include regional offices, branch claims offices, resident adjusters offices (seven in Texas), and independent adjusters (agents also do adjusting and Pirkle handles claims in Big Spring).

The Farmers Insurance Group is not, as commonly believed because of the name, purely for farmers. It is for everybody and includes workmen's compensation, general, liability and all kinds. The Mid-Century branch is a stock company, while all others are reciprocal.

The reciprocal or inter-insurance, called "modern insurance," came into being in the late 80s. Laws require reserves, and a minimum cash surplus, on the same basis as other insurance companies, with strict supervision by state authorities. Reciprocal insurance means "joint action or inter-insuring." This is simply a group of people insuring each other through premiums paid, with no profit. There is also a minimum cost of administration.

Membership is limited to preferred risks which include, good citizenship, accident history, ability to drive, use of the automobile, and condition of the automobile.

Since 1928, when the Farmers Insurance Exchange came into being, $212 million in claims and adjustments have been paid; $52 million have been paid in adjustments since 1935 for the Truck Insurance Exchange, and $3 million paid in claims and adjustments for fire insurance since 1942.

The group has adopted the "continuing form" policy which may be renewed semi-annually by mail simply by paying the premiums.

History of insurance shows that the reciprocal method of insuring property began about 1,000 B.C. When the people of Rhodes, skillful mariners, put money "in a pot," so to speak, to pay for any ships lost. The present insurance, as known today, came about following the great London fire in September of 1666, and since that date more kinds and methods of insurance have developed.

The Farmers Insurance Group, however, instead of charging rates for a profit, returns surpluses in the form of dividends or lessened premium costs.

Clyde McMahon Concrete Products Cover All Needs

Those big white ready-mix concrete trucks you see so often around Big Spring are not rolling just for the fun of it. They are all busy pouring concrete into foundations, bridges, curbs and gutters, sidewalks, driveways, and many other forms built for businesses or homes.

The old-time electric motor-powered or gasoline engine-powered concrete mixer used alongside construction jobs is no longer seen except for the small do-it-yourself jobs around the home.

McMahon's big fleet of trucks can pick up a load of material, mix it to the exact specifications needed for a job, and keep the finishing crews busy until the job is finished. They pull alongside, or back into the area, run the concrete down a chute, or into huge buckets picked up by cranes to be lifted to an elevated job, and keep this up continuously until all the concrete is poured.

Clyde McMahon also carries a full line of concrete blocks in various sizes and shapes, concrete joint materials, flower bed and garden borders, and other finished products made of concrete.

Then there is a line of vibrators and finishing machines, concrete and masonry tools, and re-enforcement.

There isn't any need of the old back-breaking job of mixing concrete for a patio or driveway or sidewalk with the old mortar box, a tub or wheelbarrow and then wheeling it into place a "spoonful" at a time.

But, if you do want to mix your own, McMahon has washed sand and gravel, and the tools for doing the job.

For information about the amount of concrete needed ,the cost, and date of delivery to your form, call Clyde McMahon at AM 4-6348.

Who's The Winner?

Photo finish camera seems to show it was a triple deadheat in Monday's first race at New York's Aquaduct race track — but judges declared Flighty Piper (1) the winner. Judges first declared that Flighty Piper and Swiss Song, on rail, was a deadheat for first and that Jim Shot, center, had missed by a hair. Stewards later placed Swiss Song in seventh place for having fouled another horse at the sixteenth pole. Flighty Piper, Manuel Ycoza up, ran the sen furlongs in 1:26 2-5 and paid $18.80 to win. Great Comeback Ups Porkers Into Lead

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —Arkansas vaulted to the top in the Associated Press college football poll Monday after posting what Coach Frank Broyles termed the "greatest comeback in the history of two great football teams."

The Razorbacks, attaining the No. 1 ranking for the first time ever in the AP poll, drove 80 yards and scored with 1:32 remaining in a 27-24 come-from-behind triumph over Texas.

Arkansas got 28 first - place votes and 468 points in the balloting of 50 sports writers and broadcasters throughout the nation. Big Ten power Michigan State moved into second place with 14 votes for the top spot and 420 points while Nebraska, last week's No. 2 team, tumbled to third with 393 points. The high-scoring Cornhuskers were named No. 1 on eight ballots.

"Everybody had so much respect for Texas, a great team, and when we were able to win, I think it impressed some people," Broyles said.

"It impressed me," he added.

Arkansas scored three early touchdowns here Saturday in taking a 20-0 lead over the top - ranked Longhorns. Texas staged a gallant comeback of its own and held a 24-20 lead with 4:06 remaining.

Then a poised Jon Brittenum engineered an 80-yard scoring march, completing six passes for 74 yards. End Bobby Crockett caught five for 68 yards, the last being a 14-yarder to the Longhorn one. Brittenum scored on the next play and touched off the wildest football celebration in Arkansas that anyone could remember.

Broyles said the credit of his team's success belonged to people all over the state, "too numerous to mention.

"At the end of the year is the time to be No. 1. I think the team feels that way," he said.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and total points based on a 10-9-8 etc. formula:

1.	Arkansas (28) 5-0	468
2.	Michigan State (14), 5-0	420
3.	Nebraska (8) 5-0	393
4.	Southern California 4-0-1	268
5.	Texas 4-1	253
6.	Purdue 4-0-1	239
7.	Notre Dame 3-1	192
8.	Florida 4-1	139

Three Giants Are Included Among Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Francisco Giants, runners-up to Los Angeles in the National League pennant race, placed three players, one more than the Dodgers, on The Associated Press' Major League All-Star team today.

Outfielder Willie Mays, first baseman Willie McCovey and right-handed pitcher Juan Marichal represented the Giants while the Dodgers chosen were World Series stars Sandy Koufax, lefty pitcher, and Maury Wills, shortstop.

Only two American League players were chosen in the voting by 331 sports writers and sportscasters. They were outfielder Tony Oliva of Minnesota and third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore.

Rounding out the 10-man team were outfielder Hank Aaron and catcher Joe Torre of Milwaukee and second baseman Pete Rose of Cincinnati.

Koufax, a 26-game winner in the regular season, was a near-unanimous choice. He collected 330 votes. Whitey Ford, the New York Yankees' southpaw, drew the other one.

Mays had the second highest number of votes, 320. Then came Rose with 257, Oliva 230, Robinson 190 and Torre 173.

Marichal captured the right-handed pitcher's position in a close vote. He had 88, nine more than Jim Grant of Minnesota and 11 more than Don Drysdale of the Dodgers.

The balloting for the shortstop spot also was extremely close. Wills had 166 votes while Minnesota's Zoilo Versalles collected 155.

The second team consisted of pitchers Grant and Ford, Versalles, outfielder Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, first baseman Ernie Banks and outfielder Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs, third baseman Deron Johnson of Cincinnati, outfielder Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, second baseman Bobby Richardson of the Yankees and catcher Earl Battey, Minnesota.

Wilson Leads SWC Backs

By The Associated Press

Tom Wilson, Texas Tech's flinging quarterback, threatens to move out of sight in total offense and passing as the Southwest Conference football campaign reaches the halfway mark.

Steve Landon of Texas Christian edges up on Harry Jones and Bobby Burnett of Arkansas in ball-carrying.

Wilson has racked up 992 yards on 153 plays to lead total offense by 459 yards over Marvin Kristynik of Texas.

Wilson has completed 77 passes in 129 attempts for 997 yards and nine touchdowns and is away ahead of runner-up Harry Ledbetter of Texas A&M. Ledbetter has 45 connections in 96 throws for 535 and four touchdowns.

Texas held Jones to 31 yards and Burnett to 26 Saturday and when Landon gained 89 against Texas A&M, he got within 16 yards of Burnett and 79 of Jones.

Jones leads with 417 yards on 54 runs and Burnett has 354 on 195. Landon has carried 65 times for 338.

Donny Anderson of Texas Tech has taken over the lead in pass-receiving with 31 catches for 390 yards and four touchdowns. Which means the Texas Tech star is only three receptions off the pace of Lawrence Elkins of Baylor. Elkins set a record of 70 catches in 1963.

David Conway of Texas leads the punters with an average of 41.8 yards. Tommy Trantham of Arkansas tops in pass interceptions with three for 158 yards. Guy Griffis of Texas Tech leads in punt returns with 15 for 162 yards and Anderson tops in kick-off returns with 13 for 397 yards.

Nail Has Gains Of 173 Yards

In Big Spring High School season football statistics printed in the Daily Herald Monday, end Wayne Nail should have been credited with 13 receptions for gains totaling 173 yards and Robert Jackson with one catch, which went for a gain of 16 yards.

Jackson was credited with a 58-yard reception which should have gone to Nail.

Farley, Baird Register Wins

Don Farley and J. B. Baird won singles matches from representatives of the San Angelo YMCA last weekend.

Doubles combinations of Farley and Baird and Schiell and Baird won doubles matches, while Lts. Wieland and Howell lost one to San Angelo's doubles representatives.

Local handball players are being urged to enter the ladder activity at the YMCA preparatory for the fall singles tournament to begin on or about Nov. 1, and doubles meet, which will follow immediately. Registration time for these tournaments will be announced.

Mutual Admiration Society Enlists 2

By The Associated Press

Coaches Hayden Fry of Southern Methodist and J. T. King of Texas Tech sure are great admirers of each other's team.

To hear them tell it, neither has much hope of stopping the other, which would create quite a situation.

SMU and Tech clash at Dallas Saturday in the top game of Southwest Conference football. SMU is undefeated in conference play, Texas Tech needs to win from SMU to stay in the race.

SMU CAN RALLY

Coach King observed Monday that Southern Methodist has more speed than any other team Tech will face this year. He also said Southern Methodist was good at coming from behind just like his own Red Raiders.

King also was a little worried because ace halfback Johnny Agan has a hip injury and may not be able to play against SMU.

Fry said Texas Tech had one of the finest teams in the United States and probably the most explosive backfield in the conference. He added that Donny Anderson was the most complete football player in America.

But he didn't have any injuries to worry about.

Baylor and Texas A&M clash at College Station and Texas and Rice meet at Austin in other conference games on the schedule Saturday.

All the coaches expressed great concern but the worryingest one was Darrell Royal, who said he had to quit thinking about last week's 27-24 loss to Arkansas so he might put in a full quota of worry over Rice.

"That team puts out a superhuman effort against us," said Royal gloomily. He also mentioned the fact that Texas had trouble snapping back after its Arkansas loss last year and barely managed to beat Rice.

"That's partly my fault—I didn't snap back," said Royal. "I don't know about the team this year, but the coaching staff is back up much, much faster."

RICE HURTING

Rice had a couple of starters out with injuries to worry Coach Jess Neely. They were offensive center Stan McDonald and defensive tackle Neal Branscum.

Coach John Bridgers of Baylor said his team was still badly crippled although ends Ramsey Muniz and Tommy Smith had returned. He also said he probably would go with Kenny Stockdale at quarterback against the Aggies although he has been in only one college game. Mike Marshall was the quarterback when Baylor was walloped by Arkansas two weeks ago.

Texas Christian worked out in the mud Monday preparing for its invasion of South Carolina to play Clemson. Coach Abe Martin shook his head over scouting reports that Clemson has a young, tough team that had just finished upsetting Duke and would be playing TCU on homecoming day.

Arkansas, the conference leader, didn't even practice Monday but will be back at it hot and heavy today. The Razorbacks play North Texas at Little Rock Saturday night.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

GEORGE TARASOVIC, Philadelphia Eagles' defensive end, after picking up a fumble and returning it 62 yards for a touchdown against the Dallas Cowboys recently:

"I felt like a bomber with a fighter escort. It felt like 200 yards with someone on my back."

* * *

JOHN McKAY, football coach at USC:

"In this age of automation, a football coach must wear a variety of hats and personalities. He needs to be a psychologist, a teacher, a public relations man, a salesman, an administrator and executive and a sort of father-confessor to his players."

* * *

TOMMY SANDS, youthful actor:

"I've always wanted to play a boxer in a movie. I'd play it to the hilt. Boxing's my favorite sport. There might have been racket guys in it at one time. But as long as I've been around it I've met some real nice citizens. I carry the water bucket and stand in the corner for some of the fighters in their bouts. But I just listen. There's a lot to learn. More than most people think."

GENE STALLINGS

* * *

JOE DON LOONEY, the Detroit Lions' ace ball carrier, who hails from Fort Worth:

"I quit reading newspapers after what they said about my man, Barry Goldwater. They didn't tell the truth about him, either."

* * *

JIMMY CANNON, New York columnist:

"The people in San Francisco come on strong when they get around to telling a stranger how much whiskey they drink to defeat the chill of the fog. I won't argue about how much they consume. It's a lush city, all right. But I suspect the tourists do all the buying . . . It has to be like this if you case them off their stinginess about buying tickets to the ball games. There's no doubt about it. They're interested in baseball, but they don't like to take money out of their pocket and buy their way into the park. They're very positive about baseball, too. I imagine they know more about it than the Los Angeles buffs. But the difference is that in L.A. they listen to it on the radio only when they can't buy tickets or business keeps them away. In San Francisco they prefer to get it on the transistor."

* * *

COOKIE GILCHRIST, thunder runner for the Denver Bronchos:

"If my talents are utilized, there's no question about my gaining 1,000 yards a year rushing the ball."

* * *

GENE STALLINGS, Texas A&M coach, discussing the decision of his former boss, Alabama's Bear Bryant, to return to one-platoon football:

"He just doesn't have as many good football players as most people think. I talked to him last week and he said it was just silly to play two-platoon. At a crucial point in one of his games, he had five or six of his best players sitting beside him on the bench. I know he hasn't lost a game since he changed."

* * *

ORLANDO CEPEDA of the San Francisco Giants, when told that teammate Willie Mays may ask for $150,000 in salary next season:

"Willie's worth $200,000. Movie stars make that kind of money and Mays is bigger than the biggest movie star."

Most Of Golf Standouts To Play At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The autumn golf season continued here today as most of the nation's top golfers competed in the $111,111.11 Sahara Invitational Tournament.

It was the second day of the professional-amateur play, and Wednesday the pros shoot at the $20,000 top prize in the 72-hole regulation tournament.

Jack Nicklaus was the main contender for the high money. The defending champion of the Sahara was Dick Sikes, the young pro from Paris, Ark. Sikes led from start to finish a year ago and collected what was then a winner's purse of $12,000.

Also in the line-up was Bill Casper, who finished one stroke back of Sikes last year. Sikes carded a 275. Nicklaus tied for third at 277 last year.

Nicklaus won the tournament in 1963 with a score of 276.

Arnold Palmer, a previous winner, is not entered.

At the halfway point of the 36-hole pro-amateur competition, teams led by professionals Ken Still, Jay Dolan and Frank Beard led with best-ball scores of 56. Individual scores of 67 were shared by Dolan, Beard, Bert Martingale, Charles Coody and Bert Weaver.

Rash Is Still In Bad Shape

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Charles Rash, a University of Tennessee assistant football coach, remained in critical condition today — the victim of a car-train collision which killed two other Volunteer coaches.

William B. (Bill) Majors, a defensive backfield coach, and Robert T. (Bob) Jones, end coach, died Monday when a passenger train rammed their small car at a crossing here.

The three young coaches were en route to help Head Coach Doug Dickey begin planning strategy for Saturday's scheduled game with Houston.

Bob Woodruff, Tennessee athletic director, said a decision would be made today on whether the Houston game will be played as scheduled. Tennessee's Monday practice was canceled, and Dickey was too upset to discuss plans for today.

Dear Allison,

"How can I keep people from mooching my Half and Halfs? They can't resist that rich aroma."

Dear Smoker,

"Who can? May I have one?"

PLAYERS OF WEEK

Jackson, Herzog Gain Awards

Five of this immediate area's six varsity football teams posted victories last weekend. Only Big Spring failed to come up with a win.

Here are some of the players who helped those teams. All have been named Players of the Week by the Daily Herald and will be forwarded properly engraved certificates, attesting to that fact.

ROBERT JACKSON

DEAN BOHANNON

BIG SPRING

LINEMAN — Gerald Wilson, senior tackle, was chosen for his consistent effort in the Midland game. His aggressiveness kept Midland's devastating scramble from working on his side, and he showed real grit in rushing the passer.

BACK — Robert Jackson, junior middle linebacker, was one of the few defensive luminaries in the Midland game and got the nod as back of the week. He was in on numerous tackles, and playing split end on offense, he caught one pass that nearly gave Big Spring another touchdown.

COAHOMA

LINEMAN — Playing by far his best game of the year, Dean Bohannon was named the top lineman. An all-district end last year, Bohannon only hit his real potential last week as a tackle. Starting both way, he was a star both ways and led the defense scoring chart.

BACK — Tony Butler, fullback on the offense, played an exceptionally fine game, keeping the opposition off balance with his expert faking and keep-and-carry play that went for 177 yards in eight plays. On defense he was rugged, consistently turning in plays and bottling the sweeps.

SANDS

LINEMAN — Randy Hambrick, 165-pound junior, was the choice on the strength of his outstanding defensive play, plus an unusually fine job of blocking on offense. He got no less than 17 tackles last Friday.

BACK — The honoree is primarily as lineman, but Robert Bagwell, 160-pounder, earned his spurs as a back. The team's regular punter (he averaged 37 yards Friday), he faked a kick on a fourth and six situation and turned in the evening's most spectacular run of 50 yards. He also showed on defense as middle linebacker.

GARDEN CITY

LINEMAN — Lonnie Short, offensive and defensive guard, played his best game of the season to get the award as outstanding lineman. He made eight tackles, did a fine job of blocking, was aggressive all the way and did his team's kicking.

BACK — Wayne Halfmann, reserve back, carried the ball four times for 55 yards — a right respectable 13.7 yards. One of his runs was for a touchdown. The junior left halfback showed great promise as an offensive back.

FORSAN

LINEMAN — Freddy Willis, who plays halfback on offense but guard on defense, played a major role in helping Forsan win its first 11-man game in history against a varsity opponent. Willis led his team with 15 tackles. On offense, he carried the ball three times for a total of nine yards.

BACK — Freshman Clayton McKinnon, a 152-pound, six-feet halfback, gets the nod for his all-around play against Loraine. He gained 22 yards carrying the ball and wound up with 60 yards net on pass receptions.

STANTON

BACK — Who else but Dink Polson, who ran for three touchdowns for the Buffaloes against O'Donnell as Stanton chalked up its first conference win. Polson gained the astonishing total of 275 yards carrying the ball, much more than the entire O'Donnell team put together.

LINEMAN — The nominee is Karl Herzog, 165-pound sophomore tackle who plays both defense and offense for the Buffaloes. Karl went out "looking for someone to hit" in the O'Donnell game and came up with 14 tackles. Coach Milam had a word of praise for all his players, who he said had a "fine attitude."

Antidraft Demonstrators Hit: 'Furnishing Fodder To Reds'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Antidraft demonstrations which touched off thundering denunciations in the Senate appear unlikely to lead to any new legislation at this time to deal with the demonstrators.

Senator after senator arose Monday to denounce the young men who have destroyed draft cards and have joined in instructing their youthful colleagues on how to avoid military service by taking drugs or feigning illness as a protest against U.S. policies in Viet Nam.

The consensus of the Senate speakers was that these individuals not only were disgracing the country but were giving Hanoi and Peking a false impression that there is significant opposition to President Johnson's course.

VIEWPOINT ECHOES

The President took this viewpoint and it was echoed at the State Department.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said the country was paying "a terrible price" for the freedom to demonstrate. He added that "we must find some manner to deal with it."

He offered no new proposal beyond recent legislation making it a crime to destroy draft cards.

Sen Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, called for action on his bill to make it a federal crime to interfere with "the performance of duty by any organization, unit or member of, or shipment or transportation of any supplies or materiel to or for the use of, any of the military or naval forces of the United States."

ON RAIL TRACKS

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., noted that demonstrators had thrown themselves on railroad tracks in attempts to prevent passage of troop and supply trains in California. He announced support of Lausche's bill.

There was no immediate answer from Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach to a suggestion by Sen. Donald Russell, D-S.C., that those who provided lists of ways to avoid being drafted be prosecuted under existing laws.

Russell said in a letter to Katzenbach he believed this can be done. He said if the attorney general doesn't think the law is broad enough to cover the matter, he would be glad to sponsor new legislation.

With Congress moving toward possible adjournment this week, there was no sign that it would act at least until next year.

Most of the senators who voiced criticisms of the antidraft demonstrators were careful to say that they recognize the constitutional right of peaceful assembly, petition and free speech.

But Kuchel said the demonstrators and those who advised on how to beat the draft had gone "far beyond the pale of reasonable or rational constitutional discussion or opinion."

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the critics were "furnishing fodder to Hanoi and Peiping" and were undermining Johnson's efforts to bring about a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam.

Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the demonstrations were "enough to make any person loyal to his country weep."

SENATOR "SHOCKED"

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., said, "It shocks me."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said the demonstrators are not promoting peace since they are fostering hope in the Viet Cong that a substantial segment of Americans does not support the U.S. course in Viet Nam.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball said Communists might misinterpret the American public's support of U.S. policies in Viet Nam and this might lead "to a prolongation of the war."

Opponents of the President's policies on Viet Nam went ahead with plans for a Nov. 27 "march on Washington for peace in Viet Nam."

One weekend demonstrator, David J. Miller, 22, of Syracuse, N.Y., was arrested Monday by the FBI in Manchester, N.H.

CARD BURNED

Agents said he publicly burned his draft card Friday in New York City.

Miller was charged with destroying his draft card, a felony punishable by up to $10,000 in fines and five years in jail. He entered no plea and was held in lieu of $500 bail.

Congress made the destruction of a draft card a felony earlier this year following similar reported incidents.

FBI Confirms Testimony By F. X. Morrissey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI says Francis X. Morrissey was truthful in Senate testimony on his nomination to be a U.S. district judge in Massachusetts.

The FBI's findings on its investigation into Morrissey's testimony were made public Monday night on the eve of scheduled Senate debate on the controversial nomination.

The nomination was to reach the Senate floor despite the urging of two Republicans that it be sent back to the Judiciary Committee for further consideration.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said Monday night that the FBI check had led him to conclude "that there is no basis whatsoever to question either Judge Morrissey's credibility or his recollection of the events surrounding his studies in Georgia."

BOSTON JUDGE

Morrissey, 55, and a long-time friend of the Kennedy family, now is a Boston municipal judge.

His testimony concerning a law diploma won in Georgia had been disputed by the American Bar Association and questioned by some members of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The committee ultimately recommended confirmation on a 6-4 count, with 6 members not voting.

The requests for a delay in Senate debate on the nomination came from Republican Sens. Jacob K. Javits of New York and Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts. They urged that the nomination be sent back to committee.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois planned to report on the case at a meeting today of all GOP senators. He wouldn't predict whether his party might take a united stand against Morrissey.

Newsmen asked White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers Monday whether the President intends to withdraw the Morrissey nomination.

Moyers' first reply was a flat "No," but when asked to repeat the question and answer, Moyers said: "The question was, does the President intend to withdraw the Morrissey nomination, and the answer at this time is no."

The weekend FBI check centered on the length of Morrissey's 1933 residence in Georgia, his attendance at a two-room, two-teacher law school in Athens, Ga., and the background on the now defunct school which Dirksen has called a diploma mill.

Morrissey testified that he had taken a three-month cram course, was admitted to the Georgia bar, and remained in Georgia for several months trying to establish himself. Georgia then admitted lawyers to practice on the basis of a diploma only.

When he failed to get enough legal business, he returned to Massachusetts, where he previously had failed the state bar exams.

Morrissey said he didn't try to use the Georgia diploma to win approval in Massachusetts. He flunked the Massachusetts bar on a second try but passed the next time.

Benefit Set For Deputy

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Colorado City Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a Forrest Smith Benefit Barbecue and Dance tonight beginning at 6 p.m. according to Commander Warren Goode.

Both the barbecue and dance will be held at the VFW Post home on College Avenue, with the proceeds going to the Forrest Smith fund, set up to aid the wounded deputy sheriff shot recently in the line of duty. Smith was near death for several days in the Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene, but has returned home and is making satisfactory improvement.

West Texas bandsman Hoyle Nix is donating his services for the dance, and local merchants and cattlemen are donating the meat and other needed items for the barbecue. VFW members and the auxiliary will serve the barbecue.

Hike Reported In Enlistments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department says a boost in the draft has triggered an increase in voluntary enlistments.

A special report covering July, August and September shows increases ranging from 32 per cent for the Air Force to 54 per cent for the Marines.

The Navy and Army had boosts of 41 per cent and 46 per cent respectively.

A build-up in the regular forces by 340,000 men was announced in July.

Donates To H-SU

ABILENE — The Jennings family has donated a substantial amount of cash to Hardin-Simmons University to establish a memorial in memory of their late parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Jennings Sr., prominent Abilenians and church leaders. Dr. Lee Hemphill, vice president of endowment and promotion, said the total amount would exceed $10,000 in cash.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Nine of ♠

East applied a delicate touch in defending against South's four-heart contract. In order to protect his partner's club trick, East found it necessary to conduct an elaborate campaign to prevent the declarer from obtaining a spade sluff. A false step at any point by East would have handed the decision to his opponent.

East opened the bidding with one spade and South overcalled with two hearts. North had the high-card values and distribution to proceed directly to game, but he feared that his king of spades was badly placed and he bid only three hearts. South went on to four himself.

West opened the nine of spades, North played the five. East put up the queen and South dropped the jack, a false card. East paused to survey his prospects which were not very bright. If South had a singleton spade, then East could take only two tricks in spades and diamonds and, from the appearance of dummy and declarer's bidding, it seemed too much to hope that West could win two more in clubs and hearts.

East decided that the only chance for the defense was to find West with a singleton spade. However, East must proceed with great care to avoid establishing an eventual sluff for the declarer in that suit. East accordingly retained the ace of spades and led back the seven which West ruffed.

Inasmuch as the seven was the highest outstanding spade other than the ace, West interpreted his partner's card as a suit preference signal requesting the return of the higher ranking of the two plain suits —clubs and diamonds. He, therefore, led a diamond. East played the ace and came back with another small spade.

South ruffed in with the jack of hearts and drew trump; however, in the end he was forced to surrender the setting trick to West's king of clubs. Observe that, if East cashes the ace of spades prematurely, South can ruff high on the third round of spades and, after he draws trump, the king of spades is available in dummy for a club sluff.

Draft Boards See No Organized Dodge Try

By The Associated Press

Draft board officials across the nation say they have detected no signs of an organized effort to avoid the draft.

An Associated Press survey shows the draft proceeding normally following a weekend of anti-Viet Nam demonstrations and disclosure of a movement to help youths escape military service.

"Everything is normal as far as we are concerned. We have had no reports from local boards of anything unusual," said a spokesman at Selective Service headquarters in Maine.

The response from Maine was typical of that from other states.

ACCEPTANCE RATE

As far as deferments and rejections are concerned, the Maine spokesman said: "If anything, our acceptance rate is going up; it was a little higher last month than it has been."

The draft boards also were asked if they had many deferments or rejections for unusual reasons. Such an unusual reason recurring at many boards could indicate an organized movement.

Without exception the boards answered "No."

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, director of the Michigan Selective Service, said: "I realize from reading the papers that there have been indications there would be group meetings of certain students to have them file conscientious objector requests, but I am unable to find any cases of this except from those who would normally file, such as Quakers."

Col. Howard E. Reed, Colorado director, said, "There seems to be more interest among those who think they should be deferred, probably because of increased calls."

STUDENT DEFERMENTS

In Boston, Col. Paul F. Feeney, deputy director for Massachusetts, said more student deferments are being given than any other type. But, he noted, this is the time of year for that.

Utah draft boards are going to take a hard look at any student deferments given to youths who participate in anti-Viet Nam demonstrations.

The Utah director, Col. Evan P. Clay, said local boards have been instructed that if a deferred student takes part in the movement then there is "a question if it is in the national interest that he have this deferment."

In Miami, there was a flurry of registrations by older men. They said they had heard of the arrest of two men in their 40s who did not have draft cards.

JFK Death Gun Measure Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill, authorizing the government to acquire and preserve the rifle used to kill President Kennedy in Dallas, was sent to President Johnson Monday.

The bill would authorize the attorney general to designate, by publication in the federal register, which items related to the assassination would be acquired.

Weather Aids Farm Work

AUSTIN (AP)—Clear weather last week gave Texas farmers a chance to harvest some crops and plant others.

Prior to weekend rains, field conditions were good for tilling soils, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said in its weekly crop report Monday.

"Range and livestock conditions continue favorable," the department said. "Stock water is generally adequate in most areas."

Wheat farmers made good advances in seeding their crops, with moisture generally adequate for germination. Oat seeding is 61 per cent complete, compared to 63 per cent last year at this time.

Cotton harvest is about on schedule with 1964. Sorghum combining is 78 per cent finished.

On the High Plains, lettuce is moving in good volume and carrot volume is expected to increase soon.

Court Ruckus Brings Arrests

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — Thirty so-called civil rights demonstrators were jailed Monday after they refused to stop shouting and singing outside the courtroom where charges were being read against companions.

County Judge Amos Gates scheduled hearings today for the group. They are charged with disturbing the peace and contempt of court.

Judge Gates was trying to read an unlawful assembly charged to Roy Moton, 18, while the demonstrators stomped and sang in the courthouse lobby for nearly 45 minutes.

The ruckus was presumably in protest of suspension of 28 pupils who wore sweatshirts bearing the insignia of HAYOU (Huntsville Action For Youth), a local civil rights protest group.
