The meeting is not being promoted locally by any particular group, although a number of farmers have expressed some interest in the project. The purpose of the meeting is to find out how the rain making experiment operates.

The cost of rain making has been estimated at one cent an acre. Representatives of the rain making corporation do not guarantee more moisture than would normally fall in the area, but

Rural Telephone Question Is Opened Again

The Ochiltree County Chamber of Commerce has opened up an old question with the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co.

Lee Little, C. of C. secretary-manager, wrote at the request of the board of directors to Ray F. Red, general commercial superintendent of the company at Dallas, to find out the company's plans regarding rural telephone service for this area.

Also mentioned was the problem of getting telephones to certain areas of Perryton now without telephones.

It was pointed out that a number of rural residents have paid in deposits to the company for rural line construction and that T. M. Rogers, district manager, had promised that telephones would be erected into the rural area on a basis of one phone for each 1 1/2 miles of line to be erected.

Red's reply stated, in part, "In our previous discussions regarding rural telephone development problems, we have told you that rural service under present rates and conditions, at the best, was no more than a break-even basis between actual expenses and revenue from the service."

We also stated that, in general, other services such as city service has to provide enough surplus earnings to make rural service possible, both for existing service and new service.

"I think you will agree that, with the tremendous increases of all kinds and with the moderate adjustments in rates both for city and rural services, there could be little if anything left for subsidizing of rural service. However, despite the fact that company earnings continue to be inadequate, we have devoted a large amount of new construction money to rural telephone service."

"Our aims are to continue building rural telephone service just as fast as it is financially and physically possible to do so, giving fair and impartial spread of the service. Despite the installation of dial service last year and the slight increase in rates, we lost over $3,500 on our 1950 operations in Perryton."

"Of course, an adjustment in rates is necessary at Perryton, and we have no doubt that we will have the full support of your organization and cooperation of the city with correction of this situation as requested. We must quickly correct the downward trend of our earnings if we are to continue not only rural but also city expansions."

Texas Rebel Vet Observes 105th Birthday

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—One hundred and five candles on a big white birthday cake.

They are for Thomas Evans Riddle, a spry little man with a thatch of wavy white hair, bushy eyebrows and blue eyes.

He will be 105 years old April 16.

And he's one of three Confederate veterans still living in Texas.

Riddle is the only veteran who makes his home at the Texas Confederate Home for Men at Austin. He spends his days playing dominoes with his attendant, listening to war news on the radio and taking a slow stroll, aided by a cane, around the yard.

He isn't the oldest veteran. Walter W. Williams, who served in Hood's brigade, is 106 and lives on route 5, Franklin.

The other veteran J. H. Whitsett, 101 who served in the 2nd Missouri Cavalry, lives at Bonham.

Riddle was a private in the 12th Tennessee Infantry and fought under Gen. Robert E. Lee at Gettysburg.

You can call him colonel now. He grinned and pointed to the framed commission making him an honorary colonel on the staff of the governor of Texas, Gov. Allen Shivers issued the honorary rank to the three Confederate veterans last year.

His honorary rank hangs beside his bed in a big sunny ward of the hospital at the Confederate home. In a nearby closet hangs his coat with the two medals he's proud of pinned to it. One is for the 75th anniversary of Confederate soldiers who fought in the Battle of Gettysburg and the other for the 50th reunion of United Confederate Veterans.

His birthday party will be held in the ward so Riddle can rest on the bed if he prefers.

His birthday isn't until Monday, but the party is Sunday so more of his friends can visit him.

There'll be a big birthday cake with 105 candles, punch, music and gifts. Mrs. J. A. McCutcheon (cp), wife of the superintendent of the home, arranged the party with the Austin chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Riddle is so deaf that he hears only when a person gets close to his right ear and shouts, and sometimes he doesn't hear then.

But once he catches a question, he likes to talk about it.

"I remember the war," he said. "You know, there isn't a grown person living who doesn't remember a war."

"I remember General Lee; fought with him at Gettysburg. People still argue about that battle. Some say as many as 2,000 were killed. But I know how many were killed—thirteen; that's all. I was there and we buried every one of them right there on the field."

When Riddle first came to Texas he lived in Grayson county for 23 years.

"I was a stone mason, and I also rented a farm," he said.

"Then for three years not one drop of rain fell. The next year we had rain but the boll weevil and the worms ate up the crops. Next year it was the grasshoppers. By that time I had a batch of kids to look after so I moved over to Clay county."

Riddle farmed in North Texas until he moved into town to Wichita Falls 11 years ago, he said. He came to the Confederate home in January of 1950.

He has three children—Mrs. Cora Thomas of Glendale, Ariz., Mrs. A. L. Williams of Wichita Falls, and Hy (cp) Riddle of Santa Paula, Calif.

"I enjoy it here, enjoy everybody I've met here," he said.

He lives in the home and draws a $50 a month pension. Whitsett draws $100 a month. Williams draws $150 because he is married.

Half of the non-farm single-family homes in the United States in 1950 were estimated to be worth $7,400 or more.

Composer Harlow Has His Song Published in N. Y.

Coke Harlow, Perryton pianist and assistant bank cashier, has had a song published which has "great possibilities" according to a New York booking agent.

Harlow's song, "Loving You the Way I Do," was introduced over New York radio station WLID on April 7 by disc jockey Larry Fuller, dancing star of the Broadway musical, "Kiss Me Kate." It is being introduced in the Miami, Fla., Clover Club by singer Janice Kay.

Armie Anderson of the William Morris Agency in New York has had recordings made of the song and is sending the recordings, as well as sheet music, to radio stations throughout this area.

Coke got acquainted with Anderson quite by accident while Mr. and Mrs. Harlow were in New York on a trip won as first prize in an amateur hour at Liberal. Coke took the song with him on the chance that he might meet someone who could get it introduced. After Anderson heard it, he seemed quite enthused and had Coke send him a copy of it after returning to Perryton.

The song, music and words, were written by Coke in 1944 while he was with the Army in Eupen, Belgium. It has been kicking around home ever since, although he has played it a few times in public. He had the foresight to copyright the song and even has a complete orchestration made of it for 12 instruments.

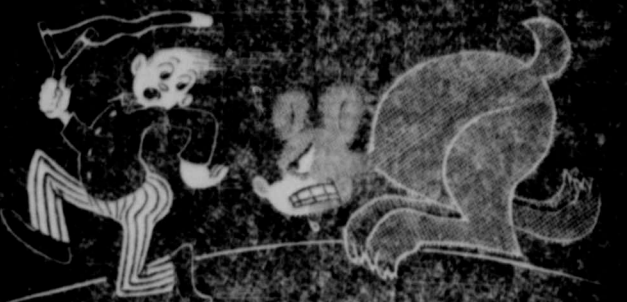

Anderson says the song definitely has possibilities and he is plugging it right along. Coke, however, is keeping his fingers crossed, knowing quite well how luck or accident enters into public reception of a song, determining whether it is a hit tune or an also-ran.

Powell Shines On OU Grid

Raymond Powell, ex-Perryton Ranger great, is going great guns in spring football practice for the Oklahoma Sooners. Powell, who will be a junior when the 1951 season rolls around, scored a touchdown and sparked the ground gaining as his team, the Whites, trimmed the Reds 24-6 in an intra squad game last Saturday.

To quote Glenn Wilson, Daily Oklahoman staff writer:

"It was an afternoon for newcomers Saturday as Raymond Powell, Jack Ging, Jack Santee, Larry Grigg, Harry Lee and veteran Billy Vessels turned in the outstanding backfield performances."

"Powell was the standout of the afternoon, which saw Gomer Jones parade a wealth of football talent."

"A comparative unknown last season, Powell reeled off four runs of more than 20 yards and bulldozed his way on several shorter ones. He also picked up six points for the White cause."

Top Quality at Low Cost Grown in Well-fed Garden

In the home vegetable garden and flower borders, fertility need not be a problem. A deep black loam is a joy to work, and will grow beautiful plants, but any porous top soil into which an adequate amount of commercial plant food and what humus we can obtain are spaded will do as well, even though it is not black.

Four to six pounds of a balanced plant food mixture to each 100 square feet of garden area will be sufficient in most cases. To give an extra finish to the crop, do not hesitate to use more, applied as maturity approaches. If during the season plants show signs of deficiency, this should be corrected.

Deficiency symptoms include the following: When leaves turn light green or yellow, but do not fall off, nitrogen is lacking. When leaf margins brown, especially the lower leaves, potash growth probably need more phosphorus.

It is rarely necessary to get a soil test for a small garden. A complete plant food will take care of deficiencies without giving a harmful overdose of any, if used according to instructions. The point is being stressed that well-fed crops do not reduce the amount of humus in the soil, since more humus is produced by the roots of plants than by their tops. A heavy crop, fed by any sort of plant food, will leave more humus than it found.

The heaviest application of plant food should be made at the beginning of the season, and here commercial plant food has a distinct advantage. It is available to plants at low temperatures and will stimulate growth during the cool weather.

Organic plant food has to be broken down by bacteria before the plants can use it, and this requires a temperature of at least 70 degrees.

To get the most out of plant food, the following methods of application are recommended by researchers:

1. On soils which are acid, testing below pH6, plant food should be concentrated in bands or pockets, not touching plant roots but within easy reach.

2. On sweet soils, testing above pH6, spade plant food thoroughly into the soil, evenly and deeply.

To apply the first method stretch the line to mark the row in which weeds are to be planted. Then not less than two inches away on either side make a furrow four inches deep. Pour plant food into each furrow at the rate of one pound (or pint) for 50 feet, and cover it with earth. Then make the drill in which seed are to be sown and proceed with planting as usual.

The standard application of a balanced plant food is 4 pounds per 100 square feet (a space 10 x 10 feet square). You may figure one pound per pint, so an area 10 by 10 ft. requires two quarts. One quart will feed 50 square feet and one pint 25 square feet.

Where smaller quantities are required, use a rounded tablespoon per square foot.

Chemical Plant Food Is Quickly Available to Plants When Applied in Trench on Each Side of Row.

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC?

Chiropractic is a science, art and philosophy of things natural. It is a system of adjusting the segments of the spine for the correction of the spinal cause of disease.

WHAT DO CHIROPRACTORS DO?

Chiropractors locate the place or places in the spine where the nerve energy is blocked off, on its route from the brain to all parts of the body and its organs. They adjust these places, removing nerve pressure and allowing the Natural forces within the body to correct the disease.

DO CHIROPRACTORS GIVE DRUGS?

No. Prescribing drugs and medicines are not within the realm of Chiropractic. When such is necessary, they leave it to doctors who do this.

ESSENTIALLY, WHAT IS THE BASIS OF CHIROPRACTIC?

We believe that all the body and every part of it must have 100% nerve supply, that it may be shut off along the course of nerve trunks as they leave the spine. Then disease often results within the body and the person is aware of pain or other distressing symptoms.

Thirty Million People Go To Chiropractors

Read what these two have to say about this remarkable new method.

NERVOUSNESS—

To Whom It May Concern: Seven years ago my daughter, Patricia, was born. Following her birth I began to ache all over, was nervous and generally felt bad. As time went by, I became worse. I took all kinds of medicines, pills and shots—nothing helped me. A friend suggested I try Chiropractic. I consulted a Chiropractor who examined my spine, found nerve pressure and x-rayed my spine to locate the exact trouble. Before a month's adjustments I felt much better, could sleep on my side, which I hadn't done for years. In six weeks my neck, shoulders and back were almost completely free of soreness and I am much less nervous. I recommend that others try Chiropractic—for better health.

Signed,

SCIATICA—

To Whom It May Concern:

About three years ago I began suffering from what is called "Sciatic Rheumatism. Very little relief was obtained until I consulted a Chiropractor who was very highly recommended. After the first adjustment I was free from pain. Four months later I returned to work, feeling like my old self again. After my experience I would not hesitate to recommend Chiropractic to anyone.

Chiggers Make Summer Evenings Quite Unpleasant

AUSTIN, Texas—With a few well placed bites a tiny little six legged animal, so small it's hardly discernible without a microscope, can make a red-eyed, itchy insomniac out of a sound sleeper.

Whether you call them red bugs, harvest mites, chiggers or Eutrombidium alfreddugesi, their scientific name, State Health Officer George W. Cox warns you're due to meet them this spring and summer, especially in lawns of Bermuda grass.

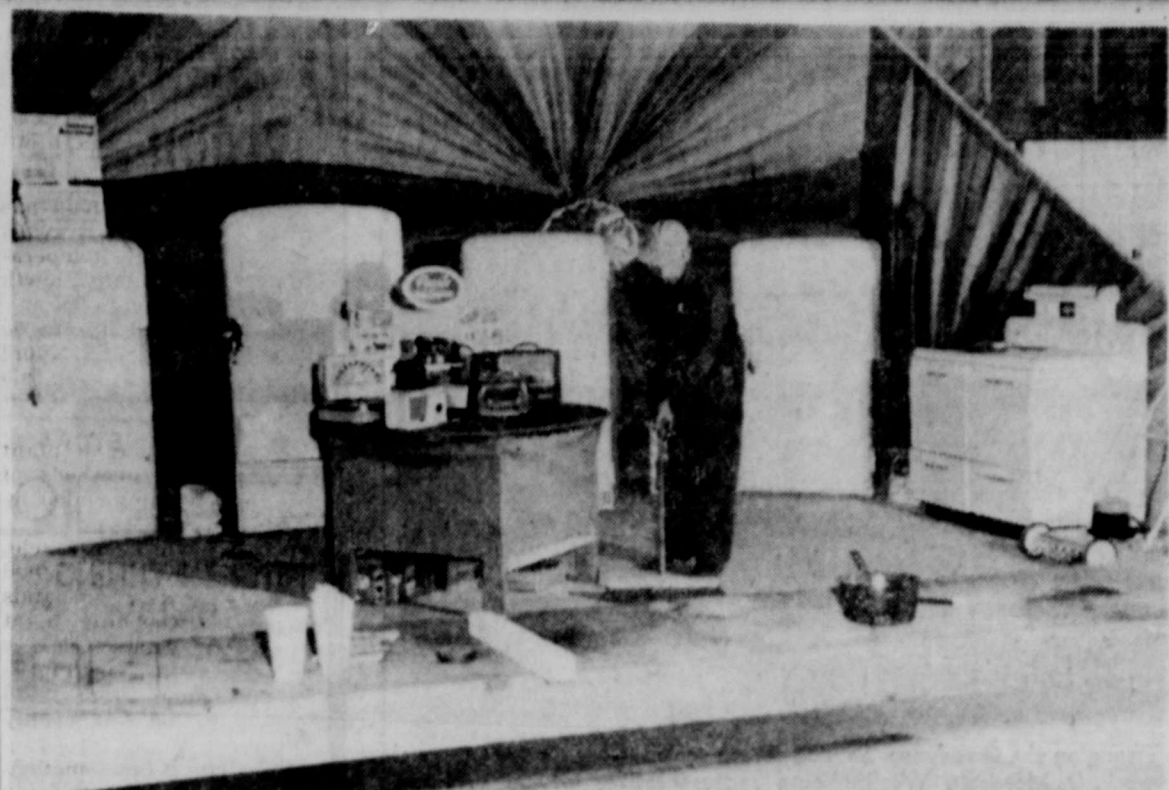

Chiggers, Dr. Cox says, can spot an unkept lot a block off, and take to those places like a hungry chicken takes to corn.

When you're enjoying a lounge outside on a balmy spring evening, they'll go to work. The itching starts at bedtime, and continues all night.

Seems as though chiggers have declared open season on humanity beginning about May and lasting until cold weather of fall and winter reduces their (the chiggers') numbers. Contrary to common belief, Dr. Cox says they do not burrow into the skin, but merely attach themselves by their mouthparts and suck blood until they're engorged.

That severe itching is caused by an anti-coagulant material they inject into their host, according to the health official. Favorite spots seem to be feet, hand and stomach. Secondary infection in the form of boils and sores results from persistent scratching.

Dr. Cox says chiggers are tough to control in heavily wooded sections, but in lawns, camp

JURY SERVICE EXCUSES NIXED—Jury Service Month will be co-sponsored, in May, by the Texas Press Association and the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar of Texas. Discussing the project with Fred Massengill, Jr., Terrell Tribune publisher and president of the press association, are Ernest E. Sanders, left, Fort Worth attorney, and Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd, right. Shepperd is chairman of the American Citizenship Committee and Sanders is chairman of the bar's Jury Service Month sub-committee. Prime objective of the program is that no Texan will ask to be excused from jury service during the month of May. The press association and the bar are inviting churches and civic organizations to participate, by urging their members to take renewed interest in preserving our system of free courts by willingly accepting jury service. Many civic clubs will have Jury Service Month programs with lawyers as speakers.

sites, and picnic grounds where grass can be cut close, the job can be done inexpensively and without much trouble.

He recommends dusting or spraying the area with crude benzene hexachloride at the rate of 2 to 5 pounds per acre.

"Your summer will be more pleasant for the effort," the doctor advised.

Draft Call for May Cancelled

The May draft call has been cancelled, meaning that the 10 men called for induction and the 20 men called for physical examination in May will not have to go until later from local board No. 99.

Mrs. Norma G. Phelps, clerk of the board, said that the state Selective Service office notified all local boards of the cancellation last Friday.

The state draft call for May was for 3,112 men and there were to have been 6,807 men given physical examinations. Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, said that he could not say whether a call for June induction would be received or not. He said that monthly calls for induction normally are received about 60 days in advance.

Seven men were inducted at Fort Sill, Okla., on Friday, April 13. They were Thomas McGuire, Spearman; Buddy Dillingham, Perryton; Edward Dear, Perryton; Wendell Peckenpaugh, Perryton; S. B. Sheets, Spearman; Billy Gene Albright, Perryton; and Joe Newman, Spearman.

Results of the 25 men who reported to Amarillo on the same day for physical examination have not been received by the local board.

Joe Champion Is Hired as Junior High Principal

Joe Champion, former Dumas coach, has been hired by the Perryton school board as junior high principal for the 1951-52 school term. Champion will also be athletic director of junior high and will coach football this fall, assisted by Bob Gibson and Jim Wright.

The school administration will revert back to the system of three principals instead of two. Kenneth Precise, who is now junior high and elementary principal, will continue as elementary principal. Precise has specialized in elementary administration and stated that he preferred to be the elementary principal.

Champion was head coach at Lefors before going to Dumas three years ago. He has achieved a widespread reputation, especially with his Lefors teams, but has stated a preference to enter the administrative side of the school profession.

He will finish out the present term at Dumas.

Gene Autry Is Texas Ranger After Outlaws

Gene Autry is back in his home state, riding his horse Champion, in a Texas Ranger western, "Texans Never Cry," which comes to the Ellis on Friday and Saturday.

Ranger Gene and Champion beat the odds of their lives as they track down counterfeiters to their secret lair. Autry proves that he is worthy of the title, "World's Greatest Cowboy," as he rides, fights and shoots his way through the greatest adventure of his screen career. The amazing intelligence of Champion, the world's wonder horse, is a great help to Gene in seeing that justice is done.

Autry fulfills a perilous do-or-die mission for both Texans and Mexico in "Texans Never Cry." As a sergeant of the Rangers, Gene becomes involved in the investigation of the counterfeiters when he saves a family from eviction because of default on a mortgage, only to discover that its money went into the pur-

Squeeze On Corn Supplies Expected

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa production and marketing administration says that a total U. S. corn supply of about 3,990,000, 000 bushels is expected in 1951, but that heavy feeding operations and industrial needs may put a real squeeze on corn supplies to develop.

At the same time that Gene's investigation gets under way, a Mexican police official who is tracking down the counterfeiters is murdered. When Autry persists in his efforts, the criminals import a vicious killer to do away with him. Gene is captured and brought to the counterfeiters' hideout, facing the long odds of his life.

"Texans Never Cry" winds up in a furious gun-battle climax that is tops in blazing action.

Rocky Lane Is State Ranger In New Film

"Night Riders of Montana," which stars Allan "Rocky" Lane in the role of a State Ranger, comes to the Pertex on Friday and Saturday. Lane is appointed by the governor to help a group of ranchers catch the rustlers who have been stealing their herds. As state funds are short, the formation of a company of State Rangers depends upon the ranchers supplying the rangers with horses.

All agree except young Steve Bauer, played by Myron Healey, who hasn't as yet been troubled by rustlers, and, therefore, doesn't want to contribute.

The town gunsmith, Roger Brandon (Arthur Space) who secretly heads the gang of rustlers sees his chance to use Steve in his nefarious plans, and talks him into changing his mind about joining up with the ranchers. Enroute to the ranchers' meeting place, Steve falls into a trap unintentionally created for him by Brandon's trigger-happy henchman, Brink Stiles (Roy Barcroft). To keep his presence in the vicinity from being reported to the ranchers by Steve, Brink kills kindly rancher Sam Foster from ambush in such a way that Steve Bauer is blamed by Sam's hot-headed young son,

Q. Could I get a GI business loan to help out my brother, who is having a hard time making a go of his restaurant? I am not connected in any way with the restaurant.

A. You may not obtain a GI business loan for such a purpose. One of the provisions of the law is that you must play an active part in the business for which you need the loan.

Q. I dropped my National Service Life Insurance as a civilian, and now that I am returning to active military duty, I would like to reinstate my policy. Will the armed forces do this automatically for me, or are there any steps that I have to take?

A. The armed forces will not renew your policy automatically. You either must apply to reinstate your old policy, or apply for a new one.

Q. As a member of the National Guard, I receive drill pay for short period of training each week. I intend to enroll in school under the GI Bill. When I do so, must I report my drill pay as income, in order for VA to determine the amount of subsistence allowance I will get?

A. No. Remuneration for such National Guard training is not considered as income from productive labor and need not be reported, for it has no bearing on the amount of subsistence you will receive.

Q. I am a veteran paralyzed from the waist down, and on my own I bought a home a few years ago. May I obtain a housing grant to be used to remodel my home with ramps and other special adaptations, so that I can get around more easily in my wheelchair?

A. Yes, if you meet the eligibility requirements of the law. Application may be made at any VA office.

Silage Is a Basic Feed

COLLEGE STATION—Silage—“fodder, either green or mature, converted into succulent winter feed for livestock through processes of fermentation.” This is Webster's definition.

Silage means much more than this to R. E. Burleson, associate dairy husbandman for the Texas A. & M. Extension Service. To Burleson, silage is a basic feed. It is insurance against pasture failure.

He believes a dairyman should plan to put up from three to six tons of silage for each cow in his herd—six tons if possible. For a dairyman with a 30-cow herd, 180 tons may seem like a lot of silage, but Burleson points out that this feed can be produced at a very low cost.

Atlas sargo, one of the recommended silage crops for Texas, produces 15 tons of silage to the acre. From this crop, 180 tons of “canned pasture” can be produced on approximately 12 acres of land. Any crop that is used for forage can be made into silage, says Burleson.

If a dairyman does not own the equipment for making silage, or have a neighbor who can do his custom harvesting, Burleson believes he should make arrangements for obtaining the needed equipment. In his opinion, providing silage is just as much a part of a dairy program as milking or providing any other equipment needed by the herd. He says a dairyman cannot afford to be without silage.

Plastic Pipe Seen Gaining In Favor For Farm Systems

STILLWATER—With existing copper and steel shortages, state farmers planning new farm water systems received encouraging news today from Elmer R. Daniel, Oklahoma A. & M. College agricultural engineering professor.

“Plastic pipe is becoming more popular with every installation. K. R. Burch, manager of a state firm distributing farm water systems, has recommended plastic pipe for use with his pumps. Vocational agriculture students, studying farm water units, have installed plastic pipe with ease on several local farms with excellent results,” Daniels reported.

Plastic pipe, a by-product of the oil industry, has many desirable characteristics. Prices of the pipe compare with copper and steel, and the plastic will not rot, rust or be subject to electrolytic corrosion.

The new pipe will match connections with existing pipe, and can be exposed to freezing temperatures without damage. Tests have shown that three-quarter inch pipe will withstand 350 pounds pressure before rupturing. Life expectancy is almost double that of steel or copper.

“We do not recommend plastic pipes for hot water although the pipe will withstand temperatures of 120 degrees before distorting. The pipe will melt but will not support combustion. Manufacturers have encouraged plastic pipe for exterior uses only,” Daniel explained.

“Plastic pipe can be buried. However, we recommend installation in a soil that will not pack. Pipe surrounded with sand could be buried in the tightest clay without damage,” Daniel concluded.

Additional information concerning dealers in the pipe can be obtained by writing to Elmer R. Daniel, Quonset 5, Oklahoma A. & M. College.

50,000 Miles-No Wear

says H. T. Fitzgerald, Newspaper Man, St. Louis, Missouri.

"50,000 MILES-NO WEAR!" - PROVED HERE:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence. . . in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

Legislators Get Enough Pay, Regardless of Amount

Here are the questions that have now been repeated in two surveys, in 1949 and again this year, followed by the answers from qualified voters:

"Do you think members of the Texas Legislature are paid too much, too little, or about the right amount?"

	1949	Now
Too much	12%	8%
Too little	22	25
About right	41	43
No opinion	25	24

Total 100% 100%

"Do you happen to know how much a member of the Legislature is paid now?"

	1949	Now
Correct answers	17%	18%
Incorrect answers	11	13
Don't know	72	69

Total 100% 100%

When we look at the replies from all the adults interviewed—not just the qualified voters shown above—this latest survey shows 9% think the lawmakers get too much, 19% say pay is too low, 38% say it is about right, and 34% don't know. Among the general public the lack of correct information on the subject is, as usual, greater than among voters: 77% admit they don't know the amount paid legislators, 10% give wrong answers, and only 13% answer correctly.

The people who are informed correctly, who know legislators receive $10 a day are more inclined to say this is too low. Those who are misinformed are more inclined to say the pay is about right. And even among those who admit they don't know what the salaries are there are many who will opine whether they are high, low, or about right; most of them say they are about right.

Pending in both houses of the Legislature now are new attempts to submit to the elector-

From the Grandstand . . .

Statistics prove that basketball is the most popular sport in America, though this might be subject to a little static in New York City now.

Not one to dispute statistics—for figures do not lie—it would seem the Southwest, or more rightly, Texas, might not be aware of the fact.

This is reasoned by a look at the winners of the annual sports awards voted by Texas sports-writers. Just one basketball coach—O. P. Adams of Lon Morris Junior college—has ever won one. As a matter of fact, no one else but football coaches, players, or referees have won anything.

The top award, "The Southwesterner of the Year," has gone to two University of Texas coaches—Dana X. Bible and Blair Cherry—to two Southern Methodist University football players—Gil Johnson and Kyle Rote—and to a football referee, Jack Sisco.

It is interesting to note that the Oklahoma-Texas football game has been the reason for two awards.

Sisco won it for his conduct after the 1947 game, when a near riot resulted over a decision by the referee, and for his forthright statements about "sore-headed" fans the remainder of the season.

Cherry was honored this year for his conduct after the Oklahoma-Texas game, when the grandstand critics howled because the Longhorns didn't win.

Feeling was so high after the 1947 game, that much talk was heard of transferring the tilt from Dallas and putting it on a home and home basis. Such talk has long since died, and supporters of both institutions are just as glad nothing ever came of it.

It does point up the fact that this game is probably the high spot of the Southwest football season, though you'll get argument from those who point to the SMU-Texas; Texas-Texas A & M; and SMU-TCU games.

But for sustained interest, you can't beat the Longhorn-Sooners tilt.

And Ed Price, the new Univer-

Taxing Natural Gas

For many years there has been a movement in Texas to tax the natural gas being piped from this state, but until this year, efforts to levy such a tax have been quietly smothered. Now, however, with the support of the Farm Bureau and other rural groups, the tax is up for serious consideration, with a good chance of being passed.

The Sewell Bill, now pending in the Texas House, would impose a tax on natural gas now being exported, and the money from this measure would go one-fourth to the schools, one-fourth to the cities for their streets, and one-half to the building of rural roads.

While the gas companies say the tax will merely be passed on to the consumers, that is not quite true. It will be passed on to the consumers in the east and middle west, where the price of Texas natural gas is now, in many instances, cheaper than it is at home.

Natural gas is an expendable resource, and is being piped out in ever increasing quantities. When it is gone, there is little chance that the east will shed any tears for Texas and the Southwest, but they will be glad to sell us coal when our gas is gone. In fact, Texas gas is being pumped back into the ground in the east, into depleted reservoirs, for future use. It is conceivable that the east will be burning Texas gas after Texans no longer have any.

The Texas bill provides for the levy of one cent per 1000 cubic feet of natural gas. In Texas, the wellhead payment is about 5 1/2 cents per 1000 feet, which compares with 7 cents in Oklahoma and 8 cents in Kansas.

This tax cannot hurt the gas companies, as we see it, especially since the state ad valorem tax on pipeline properties goes off this year. If anything, the proposed tax is not steep enough.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Both Truman and Mac May Be Wrong

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher puts in his two-bits worth on the current Truman-MacArthur argument which may be an over estimate on its value.)

Dear editor:
I found a copy of the Amarillo News which some town bird had dumped out along with his trash in a roadside ditch out here last night. I've been tryin' to get some of my neighbors to get together and us all haul a few loads of trash and maybe a few dead hens for good measure into town some night and dump it there, just to let the folks know how it feels, but don't suppose we'll ever get around to it.

At any rate, I took the paper home and got out of earshot of my wife and read some more about the Truman-MacArthur controversy.

I'm frank to say I can't make heads or tails of it, that is, I've heard lots of opinions expressed, by both the open-minded and the Democrats and Republicans also, but I can't put my finger on the right answer. My nephew, who fought in the last war, at least he served anyway, said it didn't make any difference whether MacArthur was right or wrong, he just wasn't supposed to say so. "Thunder, I was right lots of times when I was in the Army," he said, "but I always got K. P. for sayin' so."

After reflectin' on the matter for a few days, I have come to the conclusion it's barely possible neither Truman or MacArthur is right. In fact, if you know of anybody who is right about the present world situation, I would appreciate you tellin' me his name.

Here we've just emerged victorious from the worst war in history, only to wind up in worse danger than before, and if there's anybody who knows what's gonna happen next and what to do about it, he hasn't been pointed out to me. Has he to you? As I see it, there ain't nobody much who knows what to do about Korea, what to do about China, what to do about Russia, what to do about Europe, what to do about Argentina, what to do about Washington, and I know blame well there ain't nobody who knows what to do about the crop of greenbugs out here on Wolf Creek, except maybe me, and I don't mind sayin' I don't intend to do it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Ask Raise In Parity Price On Sorghums

Formation of a Great Plains Sorghum Growers association was carried out on April 9 at a meeting of landowners at the Guymon Chamber of Commerce rooms at the Hotel Dale. Objective of the association is to get parity payments on grain sorghums up to the same level as payments on wheat and corn.

Copies of the resolutions calling for this to be done was sent to Department of Agriculture officials and to Oklahoma Congressmen.

The association hopes to enlist farmers from the wheat belt in this project.

The following telegram was sent to Washington officials:

"Owing to the deterioration of the 1951 wheat crop of the great plains of western Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, and eastern New Mexico and Colorado, which leaves millions of acres bare, unprotected and subject to blowing, we, the committee, feel that all this land should be planted to grain sorghums. However, owing to the present government loan statutes which is far below corn and wheat, the

Ethiopian DPs Stir Dispute

ADDIS ABABA (AP)—The Ethiopian Government has complained that certain displaced persons in Ethiopia have been engaged in "subversive activities" within the country and have maligned Ethiopia abroad.

The charge was made in an official statement, which said:

"It is regrettable that such humanitarian efforts (on the part of Ethiopia in accepting them) should have been recompensed with calumnies on the part of certain groups of these refugees who so readily accepted our hospitality. They have not only sought to malign Ethiopia abroad, but also have engaged in subversive activities within."

(In Cairo, last January, an informant reported about 100 DPs established in farms in the semi-wild interior south of Addis Ababa had fled to the capital after demonstrations by shouting natives brandishing spears, sickles and other weapons. The informant said IRO was seeking exit visas and transport back to Europe for the DPs.)

grain sorghums cannot profitably be grown.

"We, therefore, respectfully petition the congress to raise the loan rate to 90 per cent of parity which would place the sorghums on an even basis with corn and other similar feed crops.

"We the committee, feel that sorghum crops should be grown as they are necessary for national defense and the control of wind erosion and consequent preservation of the country's national resources."

The U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, located in the Ochiltree courthouse, has announced the enlistment of Carl E. Hurter and Warren Neld of Booker on April 11.

Both boys enlisted in the U. S. Air Force and are now undergoing processing and training at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio.

Waka News
Mrs. J. R. Stump

Those of you who remember the Walt Prestons who now live in Huntsville, Ark., will be interested to know that they have had the misfortune of their house burning on Dec. 11. They managed to save a few things. Their good neighbors have helped them through the terrible disaster. They are now living in their granary, but are planning to rebuild.

Walt's eyes are not so good. His good eye is as bad now as the one he had operated on just before moving to Arkansas. They are milking seven cows, have hopes of a good plum and peach crop. If you are interested in writing, their address is Huntsville, Ark., Rt. 4.

The Women's Work Group of the church met Thursday with Mrs. LeRoy Reeves. Plans were made for the District Women's Rally April 24. Those present were Mesdames H. N. Elledge, Alvin Klotz, Harold Simpson, David Burger, Dean Leighnor, Roy Leicht, Marvin Groves, Jerry Burger, Irvin Molesworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Klotz and family visited in Borger Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. George Aull and family and Mrs. W. E. Burroughs. Then Sunday afternoon, the Borger people repaid the visit in the Klotz home.

Mrs. Jack Hendrix entertained Friday night with a birthday supper in honor of her husband. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Dacus, Spearman, and Orlando Reynolds, who is home on furlough.

The Boys Ranch program Friday night was well attended and one and all agreed that they gave a most interesting program. Sherm Harriman and Mrs. Funk accompanied the boys. Following the program, a box supper was held with Archie Morris, Gruver, the auctioneer. Thanks go to him for helping make this occasion a very successful one, netting $278.76. The Boys Ranch received $120 of this. Each boy spoke for himself that he truly enjoyed our hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, Pampa, were up for the box supper and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Harley Elledge.

This should make headlines and certainly relieve a few headaches. The PTA is out of the red—the rest rooms are completely paid for and money laid aside for the cesspool. We got out of the hole Friday night at the box supper and Saturday another $42 was raised from the food sale in Spearman. Thanks go out to one and all for your loyal support and especially to the PTA executive board for their undying efforts.

The home demonstration club met Wednesday with Mrs. Alvin Klotz. Mrs. Junior Dunnahoo baked some very delicious home-made bread. The next meeting will be May 2. The hostess will be announced later. Roll call will be "My favorite sewing machine attachment."

Junior Dunnahoo and Dean Leighnor were in Amarillo Tuesday on business.

Mrs. Fred Ashley, who has spent the winter in Oregon, was in this week looking at her wheat. For the ones who so willingly contributed to the baked food sales, four in all, a sum total of $259 was raised. This isn't to be sneezed at, it took time, effort and willingness to make these a success. Thanks to all.

(Ed. note: Mrs. George H. Kollmar is the former Miss Rosemary Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Boston, former Perryton residents. The Kollmar family have been in Costa Rica since January, preparing for their work as Baptist missionaries.)

April 5, 1951

Dear Friends,

Many of you have probably been waiting for some word from us since we arrived in Costa Rica, the first of January, and we are happy to greet all of you once again. We hope the news of our family, of Costa Rica and other things we have to say are the things you have been waiting to hear.

First of all, Costa Rica (literally, Rich Coast) is a country of many charms. It harbors something under a million people in a fertile land no larger than the Florida peninsula. In the heart of the Americas it borders Panama on the south, Nicaragua on the north, and in its narrow terrain, hardly a hundred miles across, mountain peaks ascend to nearly 10,000 feet. The population is concentrated within fifty miles of San Jose, where the mountains give a temperate climate compared to the hot tropics of the coastal plains. Most of the people in San Jose dress and appear like average North Americans, but out in the country where there is much poverty, the dress is very beggarly in appearance. However, within this modern city of nearly 100,000, relics of the past are common. Beautifully decorated ox-carts, as illustrated, are everywhere, and the rumble of their wooden wheels echoes through the main roads and downtown streets from before dawn to sunset. The poor run about barefoot, and beggars greet one everywhere. The vendors of chances in the national lottery, which in large measure supports the charitable institutions, appear on every corner. The intermingling of old with new is quaint and interesting.

The week before Easter was one of much celebration. Processions began on Thursday and ended Sunday morning. Thursday, images of Christ on the cross, and of the Virgin, were carried through the streets. Women in black bore the statue of Mary, while men carried the one of Jesus. Friday morning the scene depicted Christ carrying the cross. The images of Christ and Mary met on a corner, kissed each other, and the procession then joined and proceeded together back to the cathedral from where it started. That afternoon Christ was shown in the tomb, (a large beautiful golden casket with glass sides permitting the image to be seen) which was borne through the streets followed by the Church dignitaries and statues of Mary and John. Other processions Saturday and early Sunday morning concluded the days of lent. Most of the scenes were sad, and we noticed several women weeping as the processions passed. The processions are certainly deep in the culture of all the peoples of Latin America from what we have been able to observe and find out.

Three months in a new country is hardly enough to allow more than early impressions. They have been days of much observing and listening, besides a time devoted almost expressly to language study. It is of course for that principal purpose that we are studying here in Costa Rica. We hope to learn the ways of Latin America people, their language and customs, and to identify ourselves with them as much as possible, in order to better prepare ourselves to make known to them the rich truths that our own hearts have found in Christ, our Lord and Savior.

Our experiences, since the day of our appointment the 7th of December as missionaries of the Southern Baptist Convention, are pleasant to recall. The Lord's guidance in our lives has been more vivid than at any other time. We are happy and thankful that we have been able to begin our work, after so many years of waiting and preparation, with the assurance that His will has been accomplished in our appointment, and that His presence is assured us in whatever lies ahead. Never before have the words, "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose," been so real in our lives.

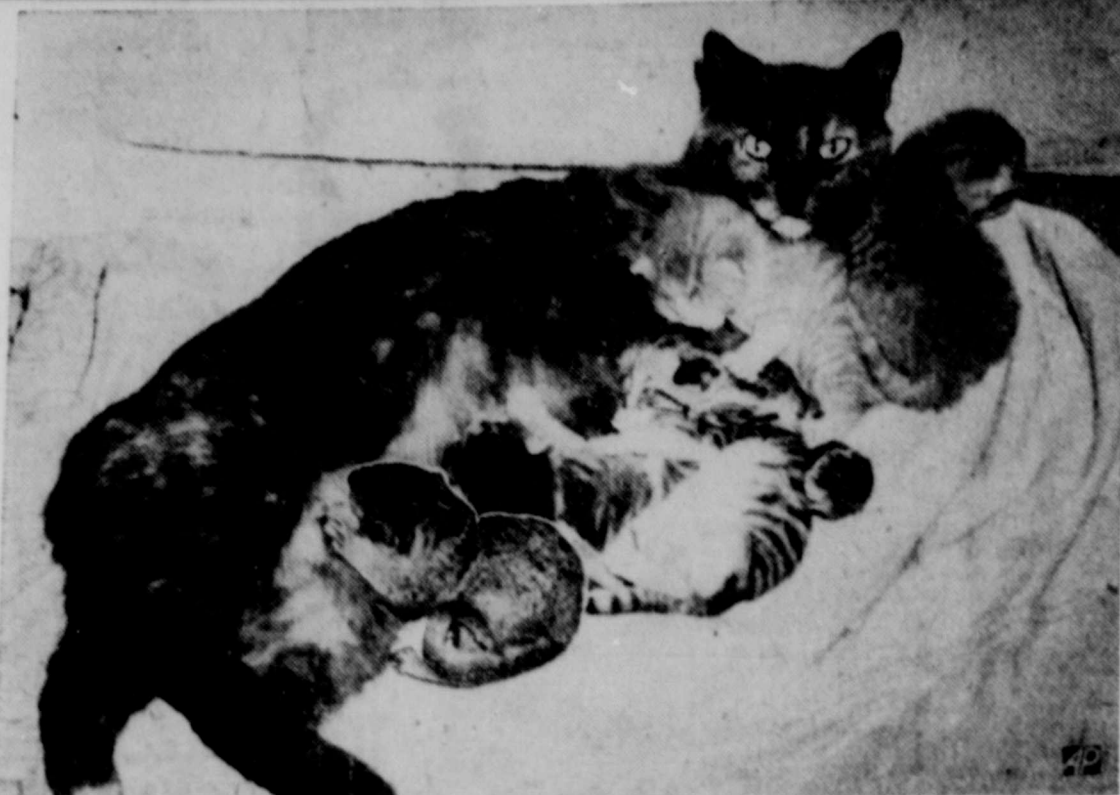

Perhaps you have concluded that we are to work in Costa Rica, which is not the case. We anticipate going to Barranquilla, Colombia, where a new Baptist Hospital is being constructed, and the need for a surgeon has arisen. However our entry permit has not yet been secured, and there is some possibility that it may be quite difficult to obtain. You may be interested in knowing that I succeeded in passing the first part of the American Board of Surgery examination and it looks as if this might help us gain an entry permit for Colombia.

Costa Rica is a very pleasant country for residence. The government is liberal and democratic, and evangelical work flourishes, particularly here in San Jose. Our Baptist work is only a small part of the work of evangelicals here, but it is prospering. There are about three thousand members of the church in Costa Rica, and there are two churches here in San Jose, besides a mission. The pastors are very capable and compare favorably with pastors at home. They are native Central Americans, each quite well educated. There is also a Baptist seminary here which began this year with an enrollment of nine students. This branch of our work appears to be very profitable, for native converts, who are best suited to labor among their own people, are trained in this way.

Our family remains well. Karen and Martha each attend kindergarten, while Mommy and Daddy go to school in the mornings to study Spanish. Deborah is now six months old, and appears to be developing well. I find some time to attend the hospital clinics, conferences, and surgery a few days a week. Rosemary's time is mostly occupied with the children, when she is not in school or studying. She has a Bible class for the domestic employees of the students, and each Saturday morning also teaches an English Bible class for the children of the language students.

We hope that this little insight into our activities, and what has happened in our lives in the province of God, has been of interest to you. Even though our time does not permit writing each of you as we might like to, be assured that our thoughts are often with you. We would enjoy hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,
Rosemary, George, Karen,
Martha and Deborah

Self Employed File SS Return Once a Year

If you work for yourself and are planning to include your name on the quarterly social security tax return you will file for your employees in April, don't. So says John R. Sanderson, manager of the Amarillo social security office.

Sanderson says that many businessmen who come under Social Security as self-employed are under the impression that they should report their net income quarterly in the same manner that their employees are reported. This assumption is incorrect. A self-employed individual comes under social security only if the net income from his business is $400 or more per year.

In most cases, it is not possible to determine the amount of net income from a business until the end of the year, since profits in earlier months may be offset by losses occurring later. For that reason, the self-employed are required to report only once each year. This report will be made at the same time the annual income tax return is filed. A form for this purpose will be furnished by the Collector of Internal Revenue along with the income tax forms.

Although the self-employed

Why not give your Pride a Break?

Let's see what it means to own a ROADMASTER.

It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skilfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflo Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadweight buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner.

It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

There's the sumptuous softness of cushions, the custom excellence of fabrics and interior trim, the grace and charm of every line and contour.

So if you've dreamed of sometime owning a car superbly fine, there's no time like the present—and no car like ROADMASTER for making dreams come true.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Your Car Is Greater Than Ever.

Television-Dental Tieup Noted

BALTIMORE (AP)—Television's role in the development of youngsters has gained new prestige here. The visual medium recently got a kindly pat on the antenna from the Baltimore Dental Society.

At a meeting here dentists noted that there is an increase in the number of youngsters who want their front teeth deformed. They claim that youngsters are quick to notice deformities of performers on TV, particularly the chipped-teeth variety which appears on small-screen programs. Children today feel such deformities divert attention from their talents.

There is found to be infected, and treatment is started at once, it is very likely the child will never be touched by the disease," the health official advised.

Longer Lives For Young People Today

AUSTIN, Texas — Young people getting married in 1951 have much brighter prospects of living healthier, longer lives together than their grandparents had, State Health Officer George W. Cox has optimistically disclosed.

He also said that many health safeguards offered to young people today "assures a better chance of raising their children to healthy adulthood unmarked by disease."

"Constant supervision by health officials keep food, milk and water supplies pure and wholesome," the health officer asserted, "and communicable disease are controlled better today than ever before through the efforts of an intelligent citizenry, the medical profession, and public health workers."

Children born into today's world are protected by immunizations that were unheard of two generations ago, and the common sense measures that parents take to protect their own health also protect their children, the doctor indicated.

A complete physical examination, including a blood test, before marriage is "part and parcel of better family living," in the mind of Dr. Cox.

"Blood tests are sensible precautions against the possible spread of syphilis. More and more people are displaying their natural intelligence by taking blood tests."

Also part of planned living, he believes, is for every expectant mother to have her blood tested as required by law. This could entirely eliminate congenital syphilis, because the diagnosis would be made early.

"Competent care is all that is necessary to prevent the birth of a syphilitic child. If the mo-

Living Fish the Acre of Hard

STATION—Farmers fish by the acre of water they grow beef by the grassland. This is the R. E. Callender, expert in wildlife of Texas A. & M.

Callender, from 500 pounds of fish to the acre have been produced and he adds, many of the 100,000 farm and ranches in Texas, which are primarily for stock raising, are suitable for growing of food produced in the water will depend upon the fertility of the land over which the water flows. Fertile land means a fertile pond of water.

Here are Callender's recommendations for fertilizing fish ponds.

As first choice he suggests using a mixture of 400 pounds of cottonseed or soybean meal and 200 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate to the surface acre of water for one year. Broadcast half of this amount over the pond early in the spring, and apply the rest in 100-pound applications at four to six week intervals.

Callender's second choice is 500 to 600 pounds of any high grade fertilizer such as 4-12-4 or 5-10-5. Apply half of this early in spring and follow with 100-pound applications at three or four week intervals until the amount for the year is broadcast in the pond.

Horse and cow manure also may be used as fishpond fertilizer. Apply 500 pounds to the acre at monthly applications, using two to three tons a season.

Weather-damaged alfalfa hay also makes a good fishpond fertilizer when applied at the rate of 500 pounds to the acre at monthly intervals.

Callender warns that the fertilization program should be completed before extremely hot weather arrives. A heavy application of fertilizer late in the season may cause the fish to suffocate by bringing about a rapid decay of submerged vegetation which uses up the free oxygen supply in the water.

He suggests that farmers contact their county agent for more information on fertilizing fish ponds.

Colorado chose the white and lavender columbine as its state flower in 1899 because—according to local authorities—the blue represents western skies; the white, snowy mountain ranges and gold, the mineral which first attracted settlers in 1838.

Cooling Hungry Horse Dam

HUNGRY HORSE, Mont. (AP)—Nature isn't doing the job, so engineers are running cold water through 900 miles of pipe to cool off the Hungry Horse Dam.

Actually, the weather doesn't have much to do with it. Engineers put the pipes in the concrete as it was being poured, knowing that it would take nature about 25 years to cool off the 3,000,000 cubic yards of concrete going into the dam.

The dam is about one-third complete. Engineers will fill the cracks expected to appear next month. Concrete shrinks slightly after it's cooled.

Rainmaker Spirit Brings Trouble

KHARTOUM, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan (AP)—The villagers in Tonj, Bahr El Ghazal province, lost their local rain-maker. He died. In the southern Sudan it is believed that when a rain-maker dies, his spirit enters into the body of someone else in the neighborhood.

So the Tonj villagers waited to see who would inherit his magic powers. Days passed and nothing happened. Then one villager got the idea: What if the spirit entered the body of a passing stranger and left the village altogether?

That brought action. A number of people passing by were set upon with sticks and spears. Twenty people were injured. Police called in to restore order reported the rain-maker's spirit was still on the loose.

India Pledges Clamp On Red Violence

NEW DELHI (AP)—India's Government has announced there will be no change in its "get tough" policy against Communists who preach a seizure of power through violence.

With the death of Vice-Premier and Home Minister Sardar Patel, who fought the Communists tooth and nail, fears developed that without his leadership the Indian Government might relax his program.

But his successor, aging C. Rajagopalachari, appealed before parliament for "fresh defensive tactics" against the Communists and said that "those who work in secrecy and indulge in violence have no place in our political organization."

Let's Solve Your MONEY PROBLEMS

By WESLEY DAVIS, Ph.D.

(Written for OCHILTREE NEWS)

When you insure, you substitute a definite small loss for a possible greater loss. Thus, when you buy fire insurance on your home or car, the premium you pay the company is the definite small loss you substitute for the greater loss you would otherwise suffer if your property were destroyed by fire. This illustrates the principle behind each and every type of insurance.

When you buy insurance, you buy protection. You buy a guarantee that you will not have to bear a total loss, even if worst comes to worst. In 99 cases out of 100, thus, the individual's problem is not one of "whether" he needs insurance. Instead, his problem is one of deciding "what kind" and "how much" insurance he needs.

What kind of insurance should you buy? The answer here will vary with things such as your age and sex, with the number of your dependents, with your income and property, and with your need and interest in buying things in addition to the protection of insurance.

Guard Against Calamity
Suggest you ought to have fire insurance on your home and car and household effects. Try to insure against any loss which would strike you as a calamity. As for liability insurance, it's a great peace of mind to know that your insurance company will pay or defend any claims against you for your damage to the person or property of others. Liability insurance is not expensive, whether you buy it merely on your car or also on your home. Such insurance took care of the claims against a friend of mine for a neighbor's child who was injured by running into a rosebush. It's a comfort to know you can take care of the medical expenses on any child's injury where you are responsible.

Health and accident insurance while fine to have, is frequently rather expensive. If you ever have a chance to buy it under the low rates of a group plan, be sure to do so.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield are the names of popular plans sponsored by hospitals, for group insurance on hospitalization and medical care. Buy all you can of both at the first opportunity for both you and your family. You can hold on to the policies even though you may change jobs.

Life Insurance Is Vital
The last thing to round out your insurance program will be life insurance on yourself and possibly small policies on the rest of the family. The subject of life insurance has so many angles, however, that we shall devote a separate discussion to it.

I can't tell you exactly how much of any one kind of insurance you ought to buy. Each man's insurance needs depend on many things. But I do say this: Stop buying insurance at the point where the next dollar you might spend on it will give you more satisfaction if spent for food, clothes, or something else. We can't spend all our money to buy protection against the future. We also have to live now.

Find yourself a good insurance man, and discuss your problems with him. The smart agent will not oversell you, be-

Irrigation On Texas Farms Shows Gain

Irrigated farming now occupies an important place in Texas agriculture. During the nine-year period, 1940-1948, the area under irrigation increased from 1,045,000 to 2,885,000 acres, according to figures cited in a new publication recently released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Most of the expansion in irrigated land resulted from the development of wells by individuals and partnerships. Wells accounted for 1,369,000 acres, while an increase of 463,000 acres resulted from utilizing surface-water supplies.

Nearly 1,000,000 acres were developed between 1946 and 1948, almost three-fourths of which came from wells developed in the High Plains area.

In 1948, 30,000 Texas farms were partly or wholly dependent upon irrigation for their production. Approximately 10 percent of the total acreage harvested in 1948 was from irrigated land. And crops from irrigated land accounted for nearly 30 percent of the total farm value of all principal crops grown in Texas that same year.

Miscellaneous Publication 59, which gives the historical development and the present status of irrigation in Texas, is available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

Luzon "Snail Fever" Declines

IROSIN, Luzon (AP)—A government zoologist reported that outbreaks of "snail fever," which afflicts more than 600 persons a year in this small South Luzon community have been lowered one-half in the past six months.

The disease is spread by snails which inhabit nearby streams. It is known medically as schistosomiasis, a type of liver fluke. Zoologist Benjamin Santos said there were three fatalities among the 600 cases reported.

KARACHI, Pa.—A resolution passed by the East Pakistan Moslem League Council urging that Arabic be adopted as the official language of Pakistan has been endorsed by the English daily, "Evening Times" of Karachi.

The paper said that Urdu is not spoken by the majority of the people of Pakistan and that provincial languages are widely spoken in rural areas. "We should insist that Arabic be provided full opportunity for dissemination and that efforts be made to allow Arabic to grow into the system of our life," the paper said.

May Designated Jury Service Month by Governor Shivers

AUSTIN—May was officially designated as Jury Service Month in a proclamation issued today by Governor Allan Shivers.

Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd announced plans for observing the event. Shepperd, who is chairman of the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar of Texas, revealed the statewide program as a joint project of the bar and Texas newspaper publishers, represented by the Texas Press Association, of which Frederick I. Massengill, Jr., publisher of the Terrell Daily Tribune, is president.

The governor's proclamation followed the passage of a joint resolution by both houses of the Texas Legislature, which stresses the importance of the right to trial by jury and the dependence of this right upon willing service as jurors by all eligible citizens.

"The primary objective of the event," Shepperd stated, "is to give new life to the jury service system so that our democratic process of free courts will survive."

General objectives are: (1) that no Texan will ask to be excused from jury service during the month of May; (2) to make a study of the types of individuals asking to be excused; (3) to urge employers to insist that their employees accept jury service; (4) to urge lawyers to insist that their clients accept jury service; (5) to find new and better ways to encourage eligible jurors to serve; (6) to make the public conscious of the fact that seeking to be excused from jury service will, in time, cause them to lose that right.

In discussing "Jury Service Month," Shepperd said, "Apathy and unwillingness to serve on a jury are a real detriment to our free court system. A man who tries to be excused from serving on another's jury is in a measure denying him the right to trial by jury.

Civic clubs and schools over the state are being invited to conduct jury service programs during May. Local lawyers will appear by invitation before school, club and church groups. Jurors serving on petit-juries during the month will be given special recognition and will be presented with certificates of service upon completion of their jury duty.

"The Texas Press Association willingly accepted the State Bar's invitation to participate in the Jury Service Month project since the newspapers of Texas have long been interested in the jury service problem of our court system," explained Massengill. "It is hoped that through this endeavor we can impress upon the people of Texas as the need for willing jury service on the part of everyone."

As a part of this activity, the American Citizenship Committee has conducted a survey among District and County Judges and District and County Attorneys over the state. Results are expected to provide ideas for elimination of some of the practices that are a detriment in obtaining qualified jurors. Information received through the survey will be released upon completion of statistics. The questionnaire sent to the judges and attorneys asked for information concerning the types of jurors asking to be excused, the excuses most often given, the percentage of jurors seeking to be excused; ideas for discouraging jury service excuses; question of women serving as jurors; those exempt by law; and methods for increasing incentive to accept jury service.

The committee is further endeavoring to get ideas for making jury service more desirable through a layman's questionnaire which Bar Association presidents are distributing over Texas.

The Jury Service Month subcommittee of the State Bar includes Ernest E. Sanders of Fort Worth, chairman; Charles E. Pratt of Corpus Christi, vice-chairman; Judge Alton B. Chapman, Floydada; Thomas H. Law, Fort Worth; Frank D. Stubbs, Midland; Martin Dies, Lufkin; J. Cleo Thompson, Dallas; and David W. Heath, Dallas.

Eddie Price gained over 1100 yards in each of his last two seasons as backfield ace for Tulane University.

Frozen Peas Are Favorites

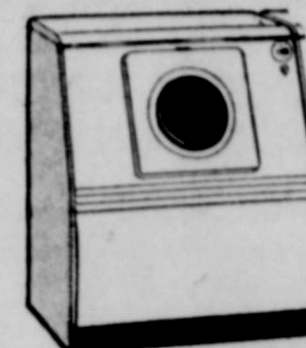

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Green peas are by far the most important single vegetable, according to the Department of Agriculture. In 1950 frozen green peas set a new record of more than 1,000 pounds, the department said.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics notes that the production of frozen peas in the United States has cut into the demand for fresh peas, particularly in the winter harvest of southern truck areas.
