Project Is Secured To Improve Powell Field

Construction of bleachers and a field house for Powell Field has been approved by NYA officials, John Harper, secretary of the Wellington School Board, revealed here Saturday. Work will likely begin within the next 30 days, and plans are to complete the project before the opening of school in September.

The bleachers will extend along the west side of the football field, and the field house will be immediately behind these.

Both the field house and the stadium will be of native rock.

According to present plans, the bleachers will be in two divisions, each 75 feet in length and five seats in height. Between the two will be an alley leading to the field house. The back and sides of the bleachers will be walled with rock, and the space underneath the concrete seats will be filled with sand.

The field house will be equipped with dressing rooms, lockers, showers, gas, water and lights, and will accommodate both the A and B teams, as well as visiting teams for games played here.

Although the project has been approved, it has not been set up, and the total cost has not been definitely set.

Sixty-two men, eligible for NYA work, will be employed on the project.

Boy Scout Drive Opens Thursday By Local Clubs

Financial Support Offered To Help Formation Of New Scout District

The first intensive Boy Scout finance drive in Wellington since 1936 opens with a Kick-off Breakfast Thursday morning, May 2, when workers of the two opposing Scout "ranches" gather for final instructions. The drive will last only one day, and all business firms and many other individuals will be contacted.

This drive is being made in connection with plans for a new Scout district, including this county, which will be able to bring Scouting to a much larger group of boys here than it is now reaching.

To promote this drive, a plan of two opposing "ranches" has been worked out, with Dr. E. W. Jones, president of the Rotary Club as foreman of the Milliron Ranch, and Cameron Beam, president of the Kiwanis Club, foreman of the Rocking Chaire Ranch. Under each, will be four wranglers, each of whom will in turn work four cowboys. The rancher of the losing side will have his shirt-tail clipped by the winner.

The Scout troops in Wellington are sponsored by the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs.

In Wellington during the past few days to assist with this drive have been Fred Roberts, executive of the Adobe Walls Council, Pampa, Troy Israel, field worker from the office, and Earl McClure, representative from the regional office at Dallas.

"Under the present set-up, the Adobe Walls Council serves fifteen counties in Texas and Oklahoma. It is a physical impossibility for it to devote much time to each of these counties," Mr. Roberts told local men. "Under the

Clean-Up Campaign Opens Here Monday

Clubs Sponsor Annual Drive For Improving Town's Appearance

"A cleaner Wellington" will become the slogan Monday, May 6, as four study clubs combine to sponsor Clean-Up Week here. The campaign will continue through Saturday, May 11.

Although this is an annual event, it is being held approximately a month later this year than usual, in the belief that yards, lots and alleys cleaned at this time can be kept in that condition better.

Sponsoring the event are the 1924 Study Club, the Excelsior Club, the Domestic Science Club, and the Belles Lettres Club.

"This is an event of city-wide importance. In the past we have had splendid results, and we hope for even better ones, and more lasting ones at this time," Mrs. J. N. Wallace said Tuesday.

"To achieve this, however, we need the co-operation of everyone in Wellington. Not only do we want all the yards cleaned, but we need to have the vacant lots and alleys cleaned up, too. It is our sincere desire to have a cleaner and more attractive Wellington when this Clean-Up campaign closes on May 11."

Assisting the women in this work is the City, which will furnish one of it's trucks to haul trash which is piled in containers and placed in the alleys where it can be picked up by the truck.

One To Two And Half Inches Is Report Recorded

Lightning Destroys Two Houses In West Part Of County Thursday

Slow rains again drenched Collingsworth County Saturday night and early Sunday, April 27 and 28, giving an excellent planting season for the next few weeks.

This rain was preceded by heavy showers in several communities in the western part of the county Thursday, April 25.

One and one-tenth inches of rain was recorded in Wellington by J. M. Strong as the result of the fall Saturday night and Sunday. This was lighter than reports received from the northern and southern parts of the country, where as much as two and one-half inches was measured.

Although no measurement of the rain was given, the fall in the Dodson area was reported as heavier than at Wellington. Two and a half inches was reported on the W. D. Durfey farm at Loco, while the amount at the W. V. Whitley farm in the Rolla community was approximately an inch. W. A. Anthony of Swearingen stated that between an inch and an inch and a half fell at Swearingen. This, he added, will not only put a planting season in the ground, but will improve pastures in that vicinity.

Approximately two inches was reported by Mrs. G. W. Thomas of Lillie, and a similar amount from the Quail area. H. M. McCaskill, who lives ten miles northwest of Wellington, stated that rain falling in a pan at his farm measured one and three-eighths inches.

In the extreme northern part of the county, approximately one and three-quarters inches was reported.

Thursday's shower brought surprising damage, when two houses in the southwestern part of the county were struck by lightning

Ella School Is Closed April 19

Ella School closed a successful year Friday, April 19. On Thursday evening, the students were presented in a program under the direction of Miss Jewel Harrison, teacher, before a large crowd, including in addition to patrons and friends from Ella, visitors from Wellington, China Grove, and Texola, Okla.

The program included dialogues, plays, songs, and poems by the students. Between-act entertainment included old southern songs, by Lela Belle Moore, Floyd Moore, and Clint Moore. A negro dialogue, "Coon Crick Courtship," by Miss Harrison and Miss Moore, concluded the program. Following this, refreshments were served to those attending.

Although Ella is one of the smallest schools in the county, many activities have been engaged in throughout the year. A box supper was sponsored which netted $25. This was used to buy lamps for the school, instruments for a rhythm band and to sponsor the community Christmas Tree.

During the latter part of the term, a three-act play was presented in Texola by the patrons of the school.

Although there were only nine pupils, ranging in age from six to thirteen years, six of these students were entrants in the Interscholastic League Meet held in Wellington in March. The spelling team, consisting of Gene Moore and Kenneth Davis, won second, and a place was also won in the track meet.

"Although Ella is a small community, I don't think I have seen a more energetic and co-operative group of people," Miss Harrison states. "I wish to thank each of them individually who had any part in making the year a successful one for the children, as well as for myself."

"Gloss over" your engine's age — Change now to OIL-PLATING

"Full-time lubrication" is the good description of OIL-PLATING given by a garage man. He was letting a customer see why to change to patented Conoco Germ Processed oil, which is the way to have your engine OIL-PLATED.

"Now part-time lubrication," explained the garage man, "is from oil-film draining down every chance, like a liquid. But this Germ Processed oil, besides its swell oil-film, gives OIL-PLATING, which is up through your engine every minute, full-time."

"Never drains down, not even parked?" the customer quizzed.

"Right! That's what's special about Germ Processed oil. It's made to OIL-PLATE lubricant on engine parts in a regular close partnership —this way"... and grunting forcibly the garage man made his fingers interlock.

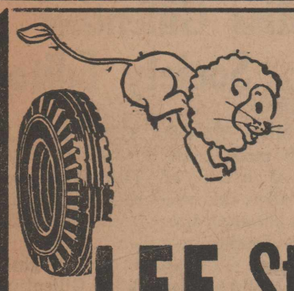

The customer allowed that OIL-PLATING must be as drain-proof as chromium-plating, and he added, "So all I've heard about starting up with the oil drained down, wouldn't be a worry any more with the engine's insides OIL-PLATED?"

"No it wouldn't. OIL-PLATING outsmarts heavy starting wear—and other wear, too—and that's why you wouldn't guess the age of an OIL-PLATED engine from the way it keeps giving oil mileage."

"I'd like to see how much mileage is meant by Your Mileage Merchant sign, but I've only got five or ten minutes"... which proved ample for changing to Conoco Germ Processed oil, and the customer drove off with his engine being promptly OIL-PLATED. Continental Oil Company

Dodson Hardware Man Praised For Customer Contact

Duard Scott Writes From Memory Names Of 135 In Demonstration

D. E. Scott of the M. P. Scott Hardware Co., Dodson, recently took part in a demonstration being carried on in different parts of the Middle-West and Southwest by Lewis A. Lincoln, Kansas City business paper editor, calculated to dramatize the fact that merchants in farm towns know their customers so much more intimately than city merchants, they have a great field of opportunity in newspaper advertising far surpassing that enjoyed by the merchants in large cities.

Following out the plan and rules laid down by Mr. Lincoln, Mr. Scott summoned Jack Davis, superintendent of schools, Dodson; S. H. Davis and Edwin Crowder, to act as witnesses to the fact that Mr. Scott wrote the names of as many farmer customers as he could recall in a period of fifteen minutes without the aid of lists or other assistance.

The business paper editor says that, because of this intimate knowledge possessed by the farm town merchant in customer acquaintance such a merchant can advertise in newspapers about twice as effectively as the city merchant.

Mr. Scott in a period of not more than the allotted fifteen minutes, according to the witnesses named, wrote from memory the names of the following farmer customers:

Howard Forbis, Clyde Alexander, Gilbert Hunt, W. F. Chandler, Daro Camp, Claude Lewis, Ralph Hudson, R. J. Holland, W. C. Harwell, R. B. Scott, Frank Thomason, C. B. Balch, E. C. Crawley, W. F. Vaughan, Roy Scott, John Reynolds, Bob Hightower.

Fish Forgot To Stay With The Lake

Fish a brain food? Maybe so. But if these fish had had more brains in their own right, they wouldn't have found themselves in this sorry state. A strong wind pushed Lake Meredith, near Sugar City, Colo., about half a mile beyond the shore line. The fish came along. But they forgot to follow the lake back when the water receded. Millions of them, mostly carp, like those being examined by Rancher Ray Lees, above, were left high and dry, and—obviously—lifeless.

New Cottonwood School Plans Are Submitted To WPA

Plans for a proposed $4,000 WPA school project of the Cottonwood district have been submitted for approval, it was stated early this week by Logan Cummings, county superintendent.

The proposed stucture will be of native rock, consisting of two class rooms, one of which will have a raised platform for programs; cloak rooms; a dressing room and an office. The present building is one of the older ones in the county. It will be utilized in the new school.

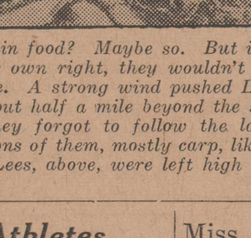

"This school will be one of the most modern small schools in this section, and we hope to have it completed by the time summer school opens," Mr. Cummings said. The project, if approved, will provide work for about 30 men. The cost to the school district, according to the county superintendent, will be about $800, and no bond issue will be necessary.

Announcement has been made that 1940 cotton yields under the AAA program will be established so that the yield set for each farm will reflect the average yield for the farm for the last five years.

This notice was received in the local office from state AAA officials this week.

"In other words, they tell us that the yields for the AAA program will be set up according to what the actual yield on the place has been during this yeriod," C. V. Griffin, administrative assistant, said Tuesday.

It was announced at the same time that a series of educational meetings will begin late next week in which community committeemen will explain the working of the program to the operators of the various communities, and assist them in filling out the farm plan sheets, which are being required this year.

In these meetings efforts will be made to see that each farmer this year operates under the program so as to earn the maximum payments.

Bean Hill Voters Approve Tax Rate Hike In Election

By a vote of 13 to 3, patrons of the Bean Hill School district approved the raising of the tax rate of that district to meet requirements of the state so that state aid may be qualified for in the form of high school tuition, transportation, and salary aid. This election was held Saturday, April 27.

Heretofore, the tax rate has not been sufficient for the district to qualify for state aid, according to Logan Cummings, county superintendent, hence parents were called upon to pay for the transportation of their children to the Wellington High School. Now the state will pay high school tuition and transportation on high school students attending school elsewhere.

MEMBER TEXAS PTA PRESS ASSOCIATION

YOU, TOO, CAN HELP SUPPORT THE SCOUTS

This week Wellington and Dodson go to bat for their Boy Scouts. For one day, Thursday, a drive will be waged to raise money to help finance scouting work during the coming year.

In the past, the Adobe Walls Council has consisted of 15 Texas and Oklahoma counties, with headquarters at Pampa, under the supervision of one director and one field man. Despite their highly commendable work, it was utterly impossible for them to do many of the things they wanted to do, and which need to be done, for scouting in this and other counties.

A plan now on foot will divide the Adobe Walls Council and place this county, along with Wheeler, Donley and Hall counties and McLean in Gray County, in a separate section.

Naturally, money will be needed to support the section, and this is the purpose of Thursday's drive.

No drive for funds to help support the Boy Scouts has been made in Wellington since 1936, according to Scout officials here. Splendid support has been given the two Wellington troops by the business men here, and the Dodson troop by the people there. In spite of this, Scouting still reaches only a very small per cent of the Collingsworth County boys who are eligible to become members. One of the main objects of the new set-up will be to bring under the influence of scouting many of the other boys—boys on the farm as well as in town. Efforts will be made to bring into the troops boys who are generally known as underprivileged, and to whom the training in citizenship they receive will be of utmost importance.

This drive is not for the business men of Wellington and Dodson alone, but for every person who is interested in the continuance of the good work of Scouting in Collingsworth.

MOTORISTS' DECALOGUE

An exchange prints the following Ten Commandments for motorists, which we think worth passing along to our readers:

Thou shalt have one driver, and that one a good one, at the wheel.

Thou shalt not make false traffic signals, false laws nor serve them, but shalt obey all traffic signals and the law. Stop, look and listen.

Thou shalt not study the law in vain, for thou shalt not be held guiltless if thou art ignorant of the law.

Remember every day to drive carefully. Be courteous to all sons, daughters, servants, animals and strangers, that every day may be free from accidents.

Honor thy fellow, motorist, that thy days may be long upon the highway which the state giveth thee.

Thou shalt not injure, kill, be unjust or inconsiderate.

Thou shalt not muddle thy brain with intoxicants, sleep, carelessness or any other enemy that hinders thy alertness.

Thou shalt not steal thy fellow motorist's part of the road.

Thou shalt not bear down upon thy fellow motorist or pedestrian unawares nor blind him with glaring lights.

Thou shalt not covet thy fellow motorist's place or anything that belongs to him. Safety first takes no chances on sorrow. Mind your own business for conscience's sake, and above all, be courteous.

WOMEN STUDY TAXES

Women of the country have lately begun to take a greater interest in the working of government, particularly as it affects their home economy, and are asking questions about public expenditures which may give officials and candidates food for thought.

For example, women in many communities are meeting once a month to study the impact of taxes on the family budget and to find means of easing the load through improved efficiency of local governments.

These study groups, as they are called, are affiliated with the National Consumers Tax Commission, a non-partisan and non-profit organization of women with units in about 5,000 cities and towns throughout the country. National president is Mrs. Melville Mucklestone of Chicago, former president of the American Legion Auxiliary, who recently said:

"Economy like charity begins at home, and we believe that our groups are performing a genuine service by studying means of municipal betterment as the first step of tax reduction.

"We are encouraging the women to find out through friendly surveys the costs of services and materials in each locality and then to pass that information on to the women in other cities. We are confident that a comparison of costs and expenditures will point the way to many savings."

A monument is proposed for the man who invented postcards. An appropriate inscription would be "Wish you were here."

We have been told that $1,000 bills bear the portrait of Salmon P. Chase, but this is only hearsay so far as we are concerned.

The trouble is that after the worm turns it is just about as helpless as before.

Strangely enough, daylight saving time is in effect during months having the greatest amount of daylight.

Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance

(Editor's Note: The following is the sixth of a series of articles prepared by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Board field office, to be published in this newspaper. The information contained in the articles is educational and of interest to the public in general and the wage earners in particular. For additional information concerning the federal old-age and survivors insurance program, our readers are requested to contact the Social Security Board field office, located at Amarillo.)

PROVISIONS FOR THE WIFE OF AN ANNUITANT

In 1940, when monthly old-age and survivors insurance benefit payments begin, the wife of an annuitant may also receive monthly payments if she is 65 years old. Her monthly payments will be one-half of her husband's benefit. Example: Mr. Brown, now 65 years old, retires in 1940 from his job in a mill and qualifies for old-age insurance benefits. His wife is 62 years old. This means that she must wait about 3 years before she can receive benefits. If the husband's benefit amounts to $30 a month, his wife will receive $15 per month after she reaches 65.

If the wife, as well as the husband, is an insured wage earner, she may qualify for benefits on her own account when she reaches 65. In that case, she will receive whichever benefit is the larger—either that based on her own wage record, or that to which she is entitled on her husband's account.

Example: Suppose Mrs. Brown has a job in covered employment. She reaches age 65 and files a claim for old-age insurance. On her husband's account she would be entitled to a supplementary benefit of $15 a month—that is, half the amount due him. If the benefit based on her own wage record is found to be only $10, she will get the $15 supplementary benefit because it is larger. But if she is entitled to $20 in her own right, she will get that full amount.

Scouting Calls All Boys

THE BOY IN SCOUTING

In the majority of other programs for boys, the boy is treated as simply a member of a group. In Scouting each boy is treated as an individual.

In Scouting we insist that character building can be accomplished only after a study of each individual boy and his needs. It cannot be accomplished by placing the boy in the group and having him participate in mass activities—on the contrary, that is only the start. Each boy is encouraged to absorb in his life the ideals of Scouting, to learn for himself the particular skills of a Scout. The Program of Scouting does not consist of a meeting a week of a group of boys, but things to do and things to be, if properly promoted and administered by a wise leader, may influence every waking hour of the boy's life, whether at home or in school or on the playground, whether alone or with others.

Scouting caters to the capacities of each individual boy. The slow has as much chance for a full Scout life as the quick. The less gifted boy has as much chance of achieving—within his capacities—as the gifted boy. Thus every individual is aided in his growth toward becoming a happy, healthy, helpful citizen.

Prophets' Words Are Borne Out

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for May 5.
Text: Isaiah 55:1-11.

The words of the prophet, addressing the Jewish exiles in Babylon and urging them to seek God's mercy and partake of His grace, today ring with the same strength and sincerity with which they were voiced generations ago.

He is a bold man who will presume to speak for God, but his boldness is justified if he speaks from nearness to God and from knowledge of God's character, will, and purpose. Moreover, his words will be tested, and their truth will depend upon that testing, and not merely upon the boldness or authority of the man who uttered them.

These great prophetic sayings that we are studying are not made great because the prophets uttered them; they are great, and the world honors the prophets who uttered them, because their spiritual worth and soundness have been proven in thought and experience. Time and experience soon separate the false prophets from the true.

God's invitation is "to every one that thirsteth." It is expressed in a modern hymn, "Whosoever will may come," and the rich supply of God's grace is compared to a boundless and ever-flowing stream of living water, both in the New Testament and in the words of another hymn:

"It's streams the whole creation reach,
So plenteous is the store;
Enough for all, enough for each,
Enough forevermore."

What God has to give to man cannot be bought. It is without price. Yet Jews compared it with the pearl of great price which it was worth a man's while to sacrifice everything to possess.

Aa a matter of fact, there is a price for God's grace, but it is not a price in worldly coin. The wealthy, and the learned, and the powerful have no more means of possessing it than have lowly souls who come with nothing but penitence and the heart's devotion.

God's promises and gifts are not without conditions. His covenants are everlasting, but man may forfeit his place and part by failing to live according to the covenant.

God's invitation is for men to forsake their evil ways and their unrighteous thoughts. Man can control even his thoughts, and those who accept God's invitation and who follow His ways will find themselves renewed in heart and mind, with a new consciousness of peace and a new strength to love and do the right.

I SAW

By V. A. R.

One local club designated a Boys' and Girls' Week recently, but it looks like it's going to be Boys' and Girls' Month, with scouting, graduation, senior and junior and sophomore and freshman parties and picnics, and all the rest, coming into prominence. With these activities just beginning, I SAW

Mrs. Bryan Denley showing her small daughter to an admiring friend downtown one day.

Mrs. Pete Brock carrying home a brand new baseball bat. It would be a safe bet that there'd been some pressure brought to bear from one of the young sons of the family.

S. F. Hughs, for several days astounded friends by telling that he had set a hen at home, and the result was a 100 percent hatch. And then the truth was out—there was just one egg under the hen, and it really did hatch.

Harold Maddox, Boy Scout, found a lonesome little dog the other day whose leg had been broken. Ever so carefully he bandaged and splinted the leg so it would heal. Jimmie Leggitt and Patsy Mannin sitting in the bright sunshine on a curb talking just as seriously as if they were grown-ups.

Mrs. B. W. Boarman and Mrs. Dick Sweat, neighbors who live north of town, doing their shopping together one day recently.

Mrs. Annie Barker walking downtown, and close at her heels the big gray German Police dog that is so familiar to everyone in the business part of town.

Wilnulcer School Closes April 19

The Wilnulcer School closed a successful term Friday, April 19. Special features of the year's work included extra-curricular activities and individualized instruction.

Among the worthwhile activities were a Citizenship Club, an Audubon Bird Club, a Harmonica Band, manual training instruction, and excursions for the purpose of studying trees, rocks, wild flowers, and birds.

The individualized instruction made it possible to promote every child in the school to the next year's level. "This could not have been attained within the short school term if all grades had been represented with a normal quota of pupils," J. O. Thompson and Mrs. H. A. Wynn, teachers, stated. "However, we desired to give full measure for value received and worked hard to have the pupils reach the goals of achievements necessary for promotion."

A closing day program was rendered featuring the Harmonica Band, vocal music, declamations, dialogues, and playlets.

Mr. Thompson gave a farewell address, expressing his pleasure at the association he had with the patrons and pupils. Mrs. Wynn also spoke, choosing as her subject, "One To Grow On," using the analogy of a birthday lick for each year in a child's age and one to grow on. Mrs. S. B. Jackson, a patron of the school, gave an encouraging and helpful talk.

Sylvia Faye Keith, youngest of the school students, made an impromptu speech concerning the closing of school. This brief talk was unrehearsed.

What Does Your Baby's Diet Mean To Us?

First, we love all babies; but we love health, happy smiling ones best. When we first started in the food business, folks didn't know nearly as much about how important diet is to infants and growing children. And frankly, we didn't realize that babies would grow to be such an important part of our business. But now, every modern mother does her best to know just what foods are necessary to make her child grow up healthy and strong . . . and we've had to learn all about it too! You'll find that our selection of baby foods and specially prepared foods for growing children is as complete as possible.

Colorful Scenes Provide Background For Singing Of Folk Songs

Tracing the history of music in America from the primitive chants of the Indians to the widely sung tunes of today, students of the Wellington Junior High School were presented in a colorful pageant, "The March of Time in American Music," Thursday evening, April 25, before a large crowd of patrons and friends.

Each of the six scenes was original, and depicted some phase in the musical history of the country. Climaxing the evening was the presentation of every child in the junior high in songs typifying the spirit of America of today. More Cotton For Mattresses Here

An additional 22 bales of cotton for use in making mattresses for low income farm families in this county has been received and distributed to the mattress centers over the county, according to Miss Rose Erisman, county home demonstration agent.

This is enough to complete 220 mattresses in the experimental project, which is sponsored by the AAA through the Surplus Commodities Corporation, and supervised by the extension service.

We Have Come A Long Way

Since - - - - Rob't Fulton's First Steamboat

And There's A Reason

For years inland transportation was restricted to wagon trains while our rivers lay idle because sail boats couldn't sail upstream or against the wind. During many of these years young Robert Fulton had an invention perfected that was destined to open the gates to new frontiers and sweep the ever decreasing wilderness far west of the Mississippi . . . . that invention was the steamboat.

The reason for this great delay was lack of capital and credit facilities. Had a modern bank been available Fulton's worries would have been over and commerce and industry would have moved west earlier.

The development of a town is influenced largely by the credit made available by the local bank. Your merchants are able, through timely purchases and mass buying with the aid of adequate credit, to bring greater selections and lower prices on merchandise. Homes are built and businesses are expanded through credit made possible by this bank. We are always happy to render such services to our community.

Boys Eager To Join Scouting

A survey of 325 Wellington boys of Scouting age, taken in connection with the Boy Scout campaign, which will be held here Thursday, revealed that 216 of the group were not members of the group, but would like to become Scouts. Only 109 boys expressed no desire to become members of the organization.

Eighty-two boys in the local ward schools expressed a desire to join the Boy Scouts when they became old enough. Only ten showed no interest. In Junior High, 36 boys, not now members of one of the troops, were anxious to become members, and only five did not wish to join. The lowest percentage came in the high school, where 73 wanted to become members and 91 did not. Of this latter group, however, it was pointed out that a number were beyond the age where they can join the Boy Scouts.

The survey was conducted under the direction of J. L. Beard, superintendent.

the privilege of students and the general public to enjoy the masterpieces of music and literature for generations; but an enjoyment of the masterpieces of art has, until very recently, been restricted to those who were wealthy enough to travel throughout the world, visiting the museums in which the original paintings hang.

"Recent improvements in color photography and printing now make it possible to bring the art of the world to even our smaller towns and villages through the medium of faithful reproductions. These reproductions are true to the originals in all respects, with the possible exception of size. Even the most delicate variations in color are maintained. In most instances the brush strokes in the original picture are clearly discernible.

"I feel that we are fortunate indeed to be able to bring to Wellington a collection of these splendid pictures."

The Scouting Way — And Otherwise

To respect his flag—as a symbol of his country's ideals—is the first step taken by the new Scout, it was emphasized in Wellington this week in connection with the Boy Scout finance drive. The boy is taught the flag's history and significance, and the meanings and traditions that lie deeper than drills, parades and flag waving.

A way for youth which embodies none of the traditions of Scouting is that practiced by the young boys of Russia, raised on purges, guns, and bayonets. Pictured above is a group of boys, all of scouting age, who are instead, learning military tactics.

that will raise enough money to pay the full amounts provided for by these constitutional amendments.

"I favor such legislation as will invite and encourage the establishment and development of industries in Texas to the end that our farm and ranch products may be processed within the borders of Texas, and thereby save transportation costs and provide more jobs for Texas citizens.

"The truck load limit of 7000 pounds net is too low to meet the transportation needs and demands of our territory. I favor raising this limit to meet our needs.

"I will support a strict budget law for the State government. The $22,000,000.00 overdraft in the State's General Revenue Fund is the result of overspending in the general operation of our State government. This is a responsibility of the Legislature and can be remedied only when the Legislature compels a balance to be maintained between income and necessary expenses.

"Home ownership is the very cornerstone of a stable democracy. I favor full cooperation between the State and Federal governments in aiding tenant occupants to become home owners."

Students To Take Part In District Music Festival

Approximately 150 children from this county will take part in the district music festival to be held in Childress Friday, May 3.

Going from Wellington will be the Junior high school choir, the high school choral club and the drum corps. The melody band will be sent from Dodson, and the Samnorwood school chorus from that place.

Although the other schools to send singers to the festival had not been indicated definitely, it was expected that a number would be represented.

and completely destroyed.

The Rube Mitchell home, one and a half miles southwest of Swearingen, was struck about 6:30 o'clock, and the entire structure was in flames before members of the family could save more than a few articles. Faye Mitchell, a young daughter, was lying on a bed within a few feet of where the bolt of lightning struck. She was slightly burned.

The second house was that of I. M. Smith, on the Mat Lane farm fourteen miles west of Wellington. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were in Memphis at the time, reports reaching here said. Louie Smith, 17-year-old son, who was with the younger children, was slightly stunned by the bolt which struck the house. The group rushed to the cellar, and upon looking out a few minutes later, discovered the house in flames. Nothing was saved from the building.

Rainfall at this time was estimated at about an inch from the Buck Creek community west to the county line.
