A meeting to initiate the Cooperative Rangeland Grasshopper Control Program in Hansford County will be held Tuesday, June 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the Extension Homemakers Clubroom in Spearman.

A large number of acres in Hansford County are infested with the grasshoppers according to Layton Barton, County Extension Agent.

Everyone is encouraged to attend this meeting.

Wheat begins to turn color

WHEAT BEGINS TO RIPEN IN COUNTY FIELDS-This picture was taken at Dee Jackson's farm and is typical of the wheat fields throughout the county. Harvest will be late this year due to the cool and wet spring weather.

Hansford County wheat is turning in color from spring green to summer bronze. Wheat harvest 1980 will be late this year, and although area farmers are not as enthusiastic as last year, this year's crop is thought to be average or a shade above.

Most farmers would like to see some warm sunshine to let the wheat ripen. Many irrigation wells have been idle this spring due to the abundant rains.

Some of the wheat over the county has been damaged by hail but prospects for a better than average wheat crop look good.

While farmers are waiting for their wheat to ripen, they are busy just now getting their milo into the ground. Some fields have been too wet, but the milo needs to be planted now.

As for prices, there is no good news to report. The price of wheat has been hovering around $3.35 and there has been a steady decline for the past couple of months. Last year at this time, prices were at $3.28 but by the end of the month had rebounded to over $4.00. Price of wheat in 1979 topped out at just over $4.25. County farmers are wondering what this year will bring.

Interest Increasing For "Alternate Energy Symposium"

Regional, state-wide, and local interest is increasing for the "Alternate Energy Symposium" scheduled for June 19 and 20 in the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center, according to Brent Magers, manager of the Public Affairs Department of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

"We have received inquiries from Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, and reservations from as far as Arkansas, Kansas and Florida," said Magers. "We are anticipating excellent attendance for the meeting."

The symposium is designed to present information regarding the practicality of the use of various energy sources, such as ethanol, methanol, wind, solar, and biomass. The Lubbock Chamber is cooperating with the Small Business Administration, Texas Farmers Union, and Texas Tech University in sponsoring the meeting.

"The objective of the symposium is to provide interested individuals with empirical data on various energy sources and to dispel misinformation," said Magers. "Primary consideration was given to presenting useful information that can directly and immediately benefit the farmer, businessman, and society in general."

During the symposium, workshops are planned on wind energy, solar energy, and use of biomass with noted specialists in each area conducting the sessions. Individual topics slated to be covered include research on solubilizers that allow less than 200 proof ethanol to be mixed with diesel or gasoline - a major breakthrough in ethanol technology. A workshop on a small-scale ethanol production plant with the capability to convert starches and cellulose to ethanol is planned. Also included is a workshop on new developments in crop suitability for energy conversion.

In addition to the technical material that will be presented, a detailed look at business considerations such as capital requirements, return on investment and accounting procedures will be provided by selected experts. One workshop is designed to provide the latest information on federal and state policy affecting the alternate energy field.

In total, eight workshops will be held, in addition to the general sessions each day. Twenty-six speakers will participate during the symposium. Several displays, demonstrations, and information booths have been reserved for the Civic Center Exhibit Hall, for viewing before and after the scheduled sessions.

According to the organizers, the cost is modest considering the quality of speakers, exhibits, and printed material that will be distributed during the conference. "We've compared the cost of this symposium with similar efforts being conducted that cost the participants several hundred dollars," said Magers. "It's a bargain if a person has an interest in the subject."

Pre-registration for the symposium is $20.00 per participant or $30.00 at the door. Additional information is available at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Deadline for pre-registration is June 16.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas is bucking the federal government again.

Last month the US Justice Department filed a court motion asking that it and the state be included as defendants in a Houston school system desegregation lawsuit.

Texas Attorney General Mark White last week filed his suit to keep state government out of the lawsuit and to prevent the Justice Department from dismantling 23 Houston-area school districts.

The Justice Department wants a court-appointed administrator to combine the 23 school districts to achieve racial balance, and White considers their court-jockeying as "interference and disruption."

This particular Houston desegregation suit actually began 24 years ago when the original complaint was first filed against the Houston Independent School District.

Since that time, White said, great strides have been made to achieve desegregation. The latest federal action, he said, will combine school districts and affect local tax structures, and is therefore unconstitutional.

Noting that schools in the Washington, D.C. area are among the most segregated in the nation, White said he would like to ask Justice officials why they have not filed desegregation suits in districts where the children attend schools.

Texas Challenged

The nomination of State District Judge H. F. Garcia of San Antonio to a federal court was challenged by Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kansas, during Senate Judiciary Committee hearings last week. Dole delayed by one week the vote to approve Garcia and Judge Fred Shannon, also of San Antonio.

Garcia was questioned by the committee about the speed with which he handled his cases. He was praised by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and two Texas Congressmen.

New Braceros?

Texas Governor Bill Clements says he wants to work out a program whereby more Mexican nationals can obtain temporary work permits here, but Hispanic leaders say his proposal is just a warmed-over version of the controversial 1942 bracero program which was branded as a form of modern-day slavery.

The Governor, as the founder of a large oil well drilling firm SEDCO, is more interested in Mexico's oil and natural gas reserves, said Ruben Bonilla of Corpus Christi, national president of the League of Latin American Citizens. The outspoken Bonilla is not known for pulling his political punches, nor is Clements. Clements wants to legalize the status of Mexican workers in the U.S. to make them less vulnerable to exploitation by unscrupulous employers... and to provide a minimum wage and decent working conditions.

Better Than Jail

Convicted former Texas Supreme Court Justice Donald B. Yarbrough, who is appealing a five-year sen-ment to prevent patronage and profiteering rampant during the Reconstruction era.

The world's largest operating windmill sits on a 150-foot tower on a North Carolina mountain. Built for the Department of Energy, it uses wing-shaped blades 200 feet in diameter to generate up to 2,000 kilowatts of electricity. It provides enough power for about 500 homes.

Yarbrough was convicted in 1978 for lying to a grand jury about telling a former business associate how to forge a car title.

Clements and Reagan

Governor Clements has offered the use of his 45-acre Virginia estate, once owned by President John F. Kennedy, to apparent GOP presidential nominee Ronald Reagan. Reagan will be moving to the Washington area later this month to begin the second phase of his campaign: running against probable Democratic nominee President Jimmy Carter.

The ranch-style house has a swimming pool, tennis court, stables and a bomb shelter. Next-door neighbors are Sen. John Warner and his wife, actress Elizabeth Taylor.

Farm Labor Study

A Texas House subcommittee on farm labor spent last week in California studying that state's agricultural labor laws.

They are researching how a similar law would work in Texas.

This issue was probably the most controversial among farm issues in the last Legislature. Advocates want a higher wage for farmworkers. Opponents argue that low market prices do not allow many farmers to break even, much less support a wage increase.

High Court Ruling

The Texas Supreme Court ruled last week the Constitution allows state agencies to run their own print shops, and over 140 of them do. The court reversed a civil appeals court ruling that would have required all printing to be contracted from private bidders. At issue was a section of the Constitution that directs most printing be given to the lowest bidder, but the High Court argued the section was

Is getting enough iron a problem? It can be, especially for young children, teenage girls, and women of childbearing age.

Therefore, ensure that your daily diet includes enough dietary sources of iron.

Food iron sources include two major forms known as the "home iron" from hemoglobin and myoglobin in meat, poultry and fish and "nonheme iron" in grains, vegetables and fruits as well as in smaller amounts in foods of animal origin.

The availability of dietary iron is affected by the nature of iron and the combination of foods eaten in a meal as well as the amount supplied.

The absorption rate of nonheme iron, which is the greater source of iron in the diet, is low. Including a food source of animal origin (heme iron) and ascorbic acid (vitamin C) in a meal increases the rate of absorption of the nonheme iron as much as four times.

Therefore, remember that meats are reliable sources of iron and everyone needs at least two to three-ounce servings of meat daily.

Whole grain and enriched breads and cereals, dry beans and dry peas are also reliable sources of iron.

Consumers need four or more servings of bread and cereals daily.

The body can make the best use of these foods from vegetable or grain sources if they are eaten along with a good source of vitamin C (oranges or orange juice) or along with meat.

We can learn a lot about the idea of being gentle with ourselves from those who are nearing the end as they look back on their lives. Consider, for example, these thoughtful words about living from an 85 year old woman named Nadine Stair who lives in Lewisville, Kentucky.

If I had my life to live over I'd dare to make more mistakes next time. I'd relax. I would limber up. I would be sillier than I have been this trip. I would take chances. I would take more trips.

I would climb more mountains and swim more rivers. I would eat more ice cream and less beans. I would perhaps here more actual troubles. But I'd have fewer imaginary ones.

You see, I'm one of those people who live sensibly and sanely hour after hour, day after day.

Oh, I've had my moments and if I had it to do over again, I'd have more of them. In fact, I'd try to have nothing else.

Just moments one after another, instead of living so many years ahead of each day. I've been one of those persons who never goes anywhere without a thermometer, a hot water bottle, a raincoat, and a parachute. If I had to do it again, I would travel lighter than I have.

If I had my life to live over, I would start barefoot earlier in the spring And stay that way later in the fall. I would go to more dances. I would ride more merry-go-rounds. I would pick more daisies. Golden Spread Center is located at 14 S. Haney, and is open to all people, fifty-five years of age or older, to help them put more zest or gusto into their later years, without discrimination as to sex, color, race, religion, politics, or handicap.

Collard Attends Rotary Convention

CHICAGO--John R. Collard, Jr. of Spearman, Texas was one of approximately 20,000 Rotarians and their guests from some 100 countries who attended Rotary's 75th anniversary convention, 1-5 June in Chicago, Illinois, U.S.A., where Rotary was founded in 1905.
Mr. Collard, a member of the Rotary Club of Spearman was accompanied by wife, Marjorie P. Collard.
The convention theme was "Let Service Light the Way" -- representing Rotary's concern for the welfare of others. Special presentations and workshops encouraged Rotarians to be more active in helping others in need within their communities and in promoting international understanding.
The story of Rotary's worldwide development, highlighting Rotary service in the Americas, Europe, Africa, the Pacific and Asia, was featured at the special celebratory convention. New activities -- including The Rotary Foundation's Grants for the Health, Hunger and Humanity (3-H) Program which is currently funding a nationwide polio immunization project for Philippine children -- contrasted with historical reflections.

Speakers at the convention included Rotary International President James L. Bomar, Jr., of Shelbyville, Tennessee, U.S.A.; Dr. Albert Sabin, developer of the oral polio vaccine; and John W. Mellor, director of The International Food Policy Research Institute, Washington, D.C., U.S.A. The U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) presented a special program on the terrestrial impact of space technology. Advances in monitoring and conserving earth's resources, and developments in medicine and industry, were among the examples depicted.
First of the world's service clubs, Rotary International has more than 18,600 Rotary clubs with more than 860,000 members in 154 lands worldwide. "Service Above Self" is a Rotary motto.

Veterans To Play Leads In "TEXAS"

Canyon, Texas -- Seven veterans will play the seven leads in the 1980 "TEXAS" production which opens in the theatre in the Palo Duro Canyon on Wednesday, June 18. They have attended seven schools, work in seven places and bring seven different viewpoints to the show.

The leading lady is Cindy Anderson who was the understudy for Elsie last year. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Anderson of Lovington, New Mexico, Cindy was the star of the "Silver Dollar Saloon" sequence in last fall's production of "STARS" and will always be remembered for her singing and dancing there. Her early college training was at New Mexico College and West Texas State University, and among her many roles was that of Maria in "West Side Story." She has traveled for the USO on the Caribbean. This year Miss Anderson has been at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City and has sung many roles there.

Opposite Miss Anderson will play Danny Alford who understudied Calvin last year. He received the Samuel French Award for the title role in "Luther" in State competition. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Doyle Alford who were stationed at Boys' Ranch during his high school years, and he received his early training in the outstanding program in theatre there. In the last few years he has been responsible for key roles in productions at Wayland College - which he attends - and at the Plainview Community Theatre. Last year he played Bert Barfield in "TEXAS". He comes to "TEXAS" rehearsals from a tour in Ireland with "Godspell."

Jerry Williams returns to the Pioneer Amphitheatre for the thirteenth season in his role of Tuck. A favorite of Panhandle audiences, he will bring his great gifts as a comedian to the stage again. During this past winter, he has returned to his earlier career as teacher at the Amarillo Speech, Hearing and Language Center. In the summers he works as a potter, appraiser and auctioneer. A graduate of WTSU with graduate work at TCU, Mr. Williams has appeared at the Country Squire Dinner Theatre in "A Thousand Clowns," "Wait Until Dark," "Right Bed, Wrong Husband" etc. Mr. Williams is the son of Pauline Williams and lives in Canyon.

Opposite Tuck is Kate, and Carla Swartzell will play the role. Like Calvin and Elsie, she understudied it last summer with such skill that she was asked to carry it this year. A fine singer, Miss Swartzell had chorale and show choir experience and appeared in the operas and musicals during her years at West Texas State. This year she had been working and singing in Austin at the University of Texas and is taking post-graduate work in voice. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Swartzell of Canyon.

Duncan, Oklahoma is the home of Mickey Best who returns to the "TEXAS" cast, this time as Dave Newberry. Last year he played Seton Cates, and the aged father, Jesse Armstrong, and understudied Tuck with such skill that few people realized that the same actor was carrying the roles.

He has been attending Southwest Oklahoma State University at Weatherford and appeared in the principal productions there. In its premiere season. Best played Jim Bowie in the outdoor drama in Galveston, "The Lone Star." Best is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Best of Duncan.

Lois Kirkpatrick Hull will be playing Aunt Anna for the fifth season. Daughter of two people who met while studying opera in Italy, Mrs. Hull inherited a fine voice and a love of music. Granddaughter of one of the women who fought to preserve the Alamo, she also has a strong sense of community responsibility. She is president of the South Randall County Hospital District Board and was in charge during the construction of the new Palo Duro Hospital. She is president of the Lone Star Ballet Inc. and of the Friends of the Library at West Texas State University. Mrs. Hull is a graduate of the University of Texas and lives in Canyon.

Last, we mention one of the key figures in the show, Uncle Henry, who acts as Master of Ceremonies in addition to carrying his own role as cattleman and first settler in the area. For the second year, David Yirak will carry the role. He comes from Lubbock and is a graduate of Lubbock Christian College. He appeared in many Community Theatre and Dinner Theatre productions in Lubbock, and went there from Almira, Washington. He also played the villain in summer melodrama for several years.

To see these actors, and the tremendous production, "TEXAS" they appear in, write "TEXAS," Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2181. It is well to make reservations in advance.

Hightower Sees Need For Strong Immigration Policy

(Washington, D.C.)--Congressman Jack Hightower stressed the urgent need for a "sound, sensible, understandable and enforceable immigration policy" in a speech before the House of Representatives on Tuesday.

Hightower's statement reflected not only his concern over the vast numbers of Cuban refugees that have poured into this Country over the past few weeks, but also the lack of a clear policy dealing with the entire spectrum of immigration problems.

The Texas Congressman reflected, "The great and generous hearts of freedom loving Americans are now beginning to ask: How long can this continue? How many more?" "I call on this Administration to work with the Congress and develop a policy that will provide new and enforceable guidelines for the Immigration and Naturalization Service," said Hightower.

The Appropriations subcommittee that reviews the Immigration agency's budget, on which Hightower serves, has heard the problems the agency faces in dealing with the numbers of illegal, undocumented men, women and children that pour across our border to the South. Hightower pointed out that the Immigration and Naturalization Service seems powerless to do anything to stem the tide.

Hightower concluded his statement by declaring, "we must have a national policy and the policy must be spelled out in the law and enforced by the proper authorities."

Unhelmeted Motorcyclists Are Taxpayers' Burden

In its report to Congress on motorcycle safety, the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) said that lower helmet use rates are resulting in more severe head injuries and longer hospital stays for crash-involved motorcyclists.

The argument that failure to use a helmet results only in harm to the individual is wrong, NHTSA said. In a review of hospital cost data in six states, studies revealed that not only are hospital stays longer for unhelmeted riders, but the cost to taxpayers is significantly higher since many are uninsured.

Out of 71 motorcyclists hospitalized at the Denver General Hospital, only 38 percent were covered by commercial insurance or workmen's compensation. Fifty-nine percent of the unpaid bills were borne by taxpayers.

Another study, conducted at the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Shock Trauma Center, found that the average cost (not counting doctors' fees) for treatment of motorcycle injuries was just under $10,000 in fiscal 1977. Of 65 patients studied, 26 (40 percent) did not pay their bills. Between June 1977 and April 1978 the average bill for injured motorcyclists rose to $11,038. Out of 57 patients admitted, 16 (25 percent) were uninsured. In both years, NHTSA reported, the combined unpaid bills amounted to $433,200, all of which had to be absorbed by taxpayers.

That estimate was conservative, NHTSA said, because the study did not review costs for patients who were transferred to other hospitals for continued treatment or rehabilitation.

If you think well of those who think well of you the score is even.

Hightower Highlights

THE JOB OF BALANCING THE FEDERAL BUDGET has become the primary activity of Congress this year. The House of Representatives passed the First Budget Resolution with a "surplus" of $2,000,000,000.

The Senate version of the First Budget Resolution includes revenue from the Oil Import Fee to achieve a balanced budget which was not included in the House measure. The conference committee is meeting at this time to work out differences between the resolutions. Until agreement is reached it is only speculation to say that the final figures will be and what programs will be cut.

I supported the balanced budget resolution as passed by the House. It did not have everything I would have liked in it and it did not cut everything I would have liked to see cut. It did say the Federal Government would live within its means. This is a vital first step if we are going to bring inflation under control.

There were several amendments offered on the floor of the House. I did not vote for any of the amendments because to do so would have jeopardized reaching the balanced budget goal.

Even when agreement is reached between the House and Senate on this resolution, the Congress must then appropriate for 1981 and pass a second budget resolution by September 15th. We have taken a small step, but it is farther than we have been in a long time.

A balanced budget for one year will not automatically solve inflation. The price of imported oil, low productivity, and costly government regulations remain major factors.

THE FLOOD OF CUBAN REFUGEES has placed long term immigration problems on the front pages. It has underlined the fact that we do not have a national policy on immigration. Meanwhile illegal aliens pour into this country from the south and no one seems to notice or care. I have made floor speeches, and talked to administration officials about the need for an enforceable, sensible, immigration policy.

The people of this country are humanitarians. We are a nation of immigrants but we must be realistic about what we can do and how many people we can absorb. The State Department gets four million visa applications a year from people wanting to make the United States their new home.

THE OIL IMPORT FEE OF 10 cents PER GALLON on gasoline has been the subject of much controversy ever since it was proposed by President Carter. I opposed it at that time and I continue to oppose any tax of this type. It is inflationary, clear and simple.

The measure would provide an estimated ten billion dollars in additional revenue but it would mean additional costs to many who have no way to cut back on gasoline consumption.

The Senate Finance Committee and the House Ways and Means Committee have voted to repeal the fee. The repeal must pass both Houses and undergo a possible Presidential veto. A Federal District Judge has ruled that the President exceeded his authority in imposing the fee. That decision is being appealed.

THE FIGHT TO KEEP RAIL SERVICE TO areas previously served by the Rock Island Railroad continues without much visible progress. H.R. 6837, legislation that would provide for additional directed service on the Rock Island and for the Federal Government to assume the labor retraining and income protection provisions of the current labor agreement has come out of Conference Committee but has not been acted on by either House.

I have continued to work with shippers affected and with possible rail carriers. With wheat harvest just around the corner, time is very short.

THE EARLY RETURNS OF THE 1980 CENSUS for our area show a very high percentage of questionnaires already sent back. I have been concerned since learning early last year that the "long form" would be sent to every other household in rural areas. Farmers and ranchers had only recently finished filling out the 1978 Agricultural Census. I think we have over done the information gathering business to a point that everything is statistics and the government forgets that it is dealing with people.

I hope both citizens that have had problems and census workers that have suggestions on how to improve the process will give me the benefit of your comments on how we can improve the existing law.

PROBLEMS IN THE FARM SECTOR continue tight with credit low prices, and escalating fuel costs, we are seeing more farm sales than ever. Cattle-men are losing as much as two hundred dollars a head and often cannot get loans without additional security.

The suspension of grain sales to Russia is in my opinion a major factor in the problem although it is by no means the only factor I have stated in speeches on the floor of the House, in testimony before the House Committee on Agriculture, and directly to the Administration officials, that the Administration has not made good its promise that the farmer would not suffer more than the average taxpayer from the suspension of grain sales. I have also discussed this at length with Secretary of Agriculture Bergland and expressed it to the President.

There are several bills that have been passed by the Agriculture Committee that would be helpful but the fight over the budget has kept those bills off of the floor of the House to this time.

Whole-wheat pasta is the new rage.

EDA Sets Public Hearing

A public hearing has been scheduled in Amarillo, Texas, by the Economic Development Administration of the U.S. Department of Commerce to determine the scope of an Environmental Impact Statement being prepared on the Six-State High Plains-Ogallala Aquifer Area Study that is funded by EDA.

The hearings are being conducted by EDA to determine environmental and socioeconomic issues that are of concern to the public, local and state officials, and special interest groups and that must be addressed in the EIS. Although a brief presentation on the High Plains Study will be made, the major purpose of the hearings is to receive testimony from those who live or are interested in the future of the Ogallala area.

The scoping hearing will be held at the Best Western Villa Inn, Acapulco Room, 3118 East Interstate 40, Amarillo, Texas, on June 24, 1980 at 2 p.m.

The High Plains Study is a $6 million research project to examine longrange economic development alternatives for sections of Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas which are currently dependent on declining water resources in the Ogallala Aquifer. The High Plains research project was authorized under Public Law 94-587 by a special act of Congress and is being carried out under the direction of the High Plains Study Council, composed of governors of the six states and their representatives.

The aquifer area produces 40 percent of the Nation's grainfed beef and is a major contributor to the agribusiness economy of a broad region that includes such cities as Denver, Kansas City, Albuquerque, and Tulsa.

The major development alternatives being considered are:

- Continuation of existing water policies and trends.
- A program to encourage conservation through incentives
- Application and uses of new technology to assist in conserving existing supplies.
- Expansion of water supplies in local communities through such practices as weather modification, land and vegetation management, artificial recharge, snow pack and evaporation management, and desalination.

- Transfer of water within subregions where feasible.
- Transfer of water supplies between major regional interbasins where feasible.

The draft Environmental Impact Statement will consider the impact of each development alternative according to the information available. The final impact statement will focus upon those alternatives recommended by the High Plains Council.

Various parts of the research program are being conducted by the six states, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and a consortium of consulting firms selected through competitive bidding. Camp Dresser & McKee Inc., of Austin, Texas, serves as the lead firm and provides overall project management.

Other scoping hearings are being held in Clovis, New Mexico, on June 24 and in Guyton, Oklahoma, and Garden City, Kansas, on June 26. Hearings have already been held in Denver, Colorado, Omaha, Nebraska, and Washington, D.C.

Questions about the scoping hearings or comments should be addressed to: Andrew E. Kauders, Special Assistant for the Environment, Economic Development Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, Room 7217, Washington, D.C. 20230, Telephone -202/377-4208

First Baptist Church History 1920-40

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH,
SPEARMAN, TEXAS

HISTORY 1920-1940

(This history was compiled by Fred J. Hoskins in 1957. He in turn gives the credit for the history to Rev. Sam Malone. "This church is forever in the debt of Rev. Sam Malone for compiling most of this information in an issue of The Spearman Reporter, August 31, 1947, and to Mrs. R. L. Bailey for preserving the paper.")

My first recollection of any Baptist work in Hansford County was about the age of 10 or 11 years when a Rev. Baird, an itinerant Baptist preacher, sometimes preached in the school house in Lucerne. This was in 1909 or 1910 while we lived there. About 1911, my family moved from Hansford County in May 1926. However, the historians have, through memory and other recorded facts concerning the early beginnings of our church made certain information available.

The Santa Fe railroad placed their tracks east of the town of Hansford, changing the course of County history. In 1919, the residents of Hansford moved their homes and businesses to the site and formed a new town called Spearman.

By 1920 the Baptists living in Spearman had found each other. We learn that on March 14, 1920 the First Baptist Church came into being in Spearman after a series of services held by W. L. Tubbs and W. H. Younger. With Mr. and Mrs. H. E. James, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burran, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Barbour and son, Herman, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Black, Mrs. Eva Wilbanks, and Henry R. Waldrop (eleven in all) the church was organized under the Declaration and Covenants of Pendleton Church Manual and was named the First Baptist Church of Spearman; they then, petitioned Trans-Canadian Association for membership. The first Trustees were Bro. A. W. Fetchner and family, who served the church while we were worshipping in the school auditorium for a short time in 1926. It was during this time that the church constructed a pastor's home.

In 1927, Bro. J. H. Richards came to hold a meeting for us and we called him as our pastor. He and his family moved to Spearman in September and the church accepted the invitation of the Presbyterians to share their building which we did until our basement was completed and we moved into our own church. The Deacons were Dwight Holland, H. E. Barbour, C. V. Main, and Melvin Jackson. I, Fred Hoskins, and Otis Parker were ordained as Deacons in 1927 under Bro. Richards. Ed Read was ordained as Deacon in 1928. Carl Hutchison moved to Spearman in 1929 and was added to the list of active Deacons. During Bro. Richards ministry, Bro. B. R. Crimm held two revival meetings for us. It was Bro. Crimm who called our basement church "The Hole in the Ground," and chided us for our pride in it. At the time Bro. Richards came to us in 1927, the church had 42 members. When he resigned in March 1, 1933, after five and a half years of faithful and loving service rendered by Pastor Jim and Sister Tee Richards, the church had grown to 300 members.

On June 1, 1933, came Bro. and Sister A. F. Loftin with their family, and for the next five years labored as a team among us. Many things stand out as milestones in their five years of faithful and unstinting service rendered by these two Saints and their family, but time will permit the mention of only a few. On November 19, the church bought a two room frame structure to add Sunday School class rooms at a price of $75.00. Mrs. Loftin served as President of the W.M.U. and as a teacher of Sunday School Class for ladies. Mrs. Loftin became church pianist and also served in volunteer capacity as "Director of Youth." From the records of actions taken, the church was in poor circumstances financially. The church voted on February 11, 1934 to "raise the Pastor's salary from $65.00 to $80.00 per month." During Bro. Loftin's pastorate in Dec. 1935, we began planning to construct a new church building on top of the basement. The basement was found to be inadequate as a foundation. Planning proceeded with the appointment of a building committee. Bros. C. V. Main, Dwight Holland, F. J. Cheney and H. H. Stevens were appointed to "investigate the possibilities."

In 1936 at the close of a meeting, the church adopted a budget totaling $1,758.00 of which $1200 was for the Pastor's salary. In October, 1936, we ordained H. H. Stevens to the gospel ministry. Our Church Treasurer, Attorney Richard H. Sewell was killed in a car wreck in January, 1937. Our beloved Bro. Loftin resigned this church to take a similar work at Line Avenue Church, Amarillo, on June 1, 1938.

I quote from the minutes of June 29, 1938, "The Spearman Baptist Church in conference on Wednesday evening, June 29, 1938, extended an unanimous call to Rev. Doyel (Matthew) of Arnett, Oklahoma." Rev. Doyel assumed his duties on August 1, bringing with him his mother and sister to keep house for him. He was a very personable young man and the youth of the church responded to him immediately. The parsonage was to become the home of his bride, Eileen Stewart from Arnett and later the home of their first son, Charles David.

In November 1939, the matter of a new building was seriously discussed. It was decided to get blueprints of the building drawn, and a finance committee was appointed. The records reflect $75.00 in the building fund, and that the proposed new building would cost $12,000. Rev. Doyel constructed a model of the proposed building to inspire the raising funds. In February 1943, the records disclose that the church named: H. E. James, E. H. Barbour, W. A. Burran and A. M. Black. H. E. James was elected Treasurer and A. M. Black was elected Clerk.

This same year the Townsite Company gave the Church 3 lots, providing the Church would put them to use in two years. The "Shack" was purchased and located on church property. This was a rudely constructed, unlovely tar paper covered building, but was the beginning of a series of structures that housed the congregation. "The Shack" was torn down and the material in it was incorporated into another building called "The Tabernacle." This building was destroyed by a windstorm. Parts of the building wrecked a small house killing the man inside. Following this disaster, the Church met in the School Auditorium, a small frame church building belonging to the Presbyterians, and finally in 1927 a basement structure was built by the Church. The basement was to be the foundation of a subsequent building.

The first Sunday School was organized on March 21, 1920, with 10 children and with Mrs. A. M. Black as leader. The ladies sold ice cream and bought about 50 songbooks with the proceeds. A lantern was donated.

On July 4, 1920, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burran and their daughter, Bernice, were received.

Minutes of July 25, 1920, tell of a very successful revival held by Bro. L. R. Byrd during which Mrs. Fred Brandt, Mrs. R. L. McClellan, Miss Ethel Deakin, and Albert Burran were received, and Mrs. Tom Burgess was received as a candidate for baptism (the first candidate for baptism of the Church.) An offering of $95.39 was taken for Bro. Byrd.

On August 2, 1920, the Church elected delegates H. R. Waldrop, E. H. Barbour, A. M. Black, with alternates, Miss Ethel Deakin, Mrs. Fred Brandt, Mrs. A. M. Black, to carry the petition for membership in Trans-Canadian Association with an annual letter.

The records are vague, but other members must have been added on September 27, 1920 women's work was organized. The charter members of this organization reflect names not mentioned above. Mrs. Fred Brandt was elected President, Mrs. R. L. McClellan was elected Secretary and Mrs. Oran Kelly was elected Treasurer.

The last record for this first eventful year appear under the date October 20, and tell of a series of services led by Br. D. W. Rigg, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Raney and their daughter, Lura Belle and a Mrs. Turner were received into the church. The minutes were signed by Zeppa E. James, Clerk.

Bros. Tubbs and W. H. Younger served the church until 1923. The church minutes of November 25, 1923, record that the following were received by letter: Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wilcox, Miss Della Landers, Mrs. J. C. Hinton, Prof. O. L. Savage, Alma Silver, and Hazel Wiggins. At this meeting the church voted to go half-time and to call Bro. W. E. Hand as pastor at $75.00 per month.

On February 17, 1924, the church adopted their first budget and the minutes say "Miss Wiggins, and Mesdames Brandt and Collard are appointed to solicit the budget," and when I came of Spearman in May, 1926 the women were still "soliciting the budget" every morning. The Church records were not preserved too well during this early period but I do recall a pastor had raised $2,375.00 and had purchased $1100.00 in Bonds.

The Associational year 1944 came to a close with the third meeting conducted by Rev. B. B. Crimm and the resignation of Br. Matthew Doyel.

HISTORY of WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION

SPEARMAN, TEXAS
by
MRS. FRED BRANDT

Spearman Baptist Church was organized and operated for several months before there was any W.M.U.

Our family moved here from Old Hansford in May, 1920, after this town was started in the fall of 1919, and after I joined the church, several of us women decided to organize a W.M.U.

The charter members were as I remember, Mrs. W. E. Townsend, Mrs. O. C. Raney, Mrs. Hugh James, Mrs. R. L. McClellan and myself. I am the only one of this group now as Mrs. Townsend withdrew and joined the Union Church but is now not living; Mrs. James moved away and Mrs. Raney and Mrs. McClellan joined other churches in this town.

I have the honor of being the first W.M.U. President, but I'm afraid that I wasn't a very good one. None of us knew anything about the work or what to do when we met and had our Bible Study anyhow. Mrs. Townsend was a good Bible student and we enjoyed our lessons.

As our church began to grow we had some good faithful members to join in with us, but our going was hard. We made money the hard way by serving dinners, having food sales, etc. as we needed all we could get just then. Though we were few in number we met regularly each week, even through the summer months and always enjoyed our work.

Our first pastor was Bro. Hand; his wife served as president of our W.M.U. while they were with us.

In the meantime Bro. A. H. Wilcox and family moved to town as he was to be our Supt. of Public Schools. They were good sure enough Baptists and Mrs. Wilcox, who is Mrs. Loftin's sister, was elected President of W.M.U. and served their stay in Spearman from 1923 to 1929.

She made an excellent president. Every Wednesday we would expect Mrs. Wilcox to gather the members in her car and bring them to the meeting. All children went along with us and enjoyed themselves while we were in session. We had no baby-sitters for them. We always met in our homes. Bro. Fetchner was our second pastor but was only with us a few months. Guess things out here were too grim for him and he went elsewhere. This was a gloomy field at that time and we couldn't blame him for leaving.

Mrs. R. L. Bailey came to us about this time, as I believe they moved to Spearman in 1924. She has been a great help in every way and I don't know how we could have done without her.

Bro. J. H. Richards came next as pastor and our W.M.U. continued to grow as our town was growing all the time.

Then came the Loftin family and with Mrs. Loftin as President, the whole time they were with us, which was from 1933 to 1939. We grew in number and interest and did good work.

When they left and we had Mrs. Loftin no more to depend on, we felt helpless but then we had to get busy ourselves.

Through the following years several of our women have served as Presidents and have made good ones such as Mrs. R. L. Bailey for three terms at different times, Mrs. Rex Sanders, Mrs. Mabel Edwards, Mrs. Carl Hutchison (deceased), Altha Groves, Mrs. R. E. Vaughn, Mrs. T. R. Shirley, Mrs. C. A. Castleman, Mrs. Fred Holt and now Mrs. Jimmie Crawford. In this way we found that we could work if we really had to.

Our W.M.U. has been financed by its members giving by donation or by money being earned in some way such as bake sales, dinners, or even quilting in early days. Just in recent years have we ever received funds from our church treasury each month.

Our members have always been willing to help in any way when called upon when they saw that help was needed. They have visited the sick, have extended hands of sympathy to those we have known of, we have sent flowers in times of sickness or death, sent cards, money, clothing and food when needed.

Our W.M.U. has been sending $5.00 per quarter to an old retired minister for so many years that I fail to remember just when we first began.

We help three Orphan Homes each with $3.00 per month beside extra boxes of clothing, both new and used, and even extra gifts at other times—Christmas and graduation.

I feel that our W.M.U. has grown and accomplished much in the years we have been working. We began with a small paper-covered shack where this building now stands and have now come to this lovely and comfortable church and a large W.M.U. It proves that our labors and efforts have not been in vain.

I sincerely pray that we will continue to grow in strength and number and that the young women will carry on the good work through years to come. The going now will not be so hard for them as it was with us who came to this vacant space and found so little to work with.

No greatness exists unless it's based upon principle and not upon profits.

Controlling Weeds In Home Gardens

Weed control in the home garden depends on garden size, kinds of vegetables being grown, and types of weeds, says Layton Barton, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Weeds (any unwanted plants) compete with vegetables for soil moisture and nutrients. They have extensive root systems and flourish under variety of conditions.

Effective control of weeds depends on how they spread, says Barton. Crabgrass and other annual weeds survive by seeds. Perennial weeds such as bermudagrass and johnsongrass survive both by seeds and underground plant parts.

Seeds are transmitted by wind, water or animals. They may also reach the garden in improperly prepared compost, manure or other organic matter added to the soil.

Barton notes that some weed seeds remain viable in the soil for years. They and underground storage parts contain stored food reserves to support weed seedlings until they emerge and are exposed to sunlight.

Herbicides or chemical weed killers are the least desirable home garden weed control, contends Barton. While they are a necessity in commercial crop production to reduce labor and achieve maximum yield, there are not enough chemicals with a wide enough margin of error to be used safely and successfully in home gardens. Also, most herbicides are effective on specific weeds in specific crops, and most gardens contain a variety of vegetables. Furthermore, herbicides are expensive; a gallon can cost $70 or more.

Barton thinks the best method is "hoebicide," or using a sharp hoe. Most gardens are small enough to be weeded with a hoe or by hand pulling. This is most effective when done regularly and when weeds are small.

Mulching makes weed control easier, points out Barton. A three-inch mulch layer (after it settles) controls annual weeds from seed and preventing many weed seedlings from reaching light. Also, those that do push through are easier to pull.

Several types of mulches can be used. Grass clippings work well but make sure they do not include weed seeds. Paper can also be used effectively. Black plastic is effective except against nutgrass which readily penetrates it. Clear plastic is ineffective since it allows light to reach soil.

Planning garden crops so as to avoid excessive space between plants also helps control weeds, adds Barton. Open areas readily become infested with weeds.

Good management, prior planning and a little hard work all add up to an effective weed control program. The fewer the weeds, the better the yield, says Barton.

Flattery is the art of describing others as they see themselves.

Unique Commodity Brokerage Office Opens

AMARILLO -- FGL COMMODITY SERVICES - AMARILLO, TEXAS, INC., an affiliate of Farmers Grain and Livestock Corporation (FGL) of Des Moines, Iowa opened a retail commodity brokerage office recently.

According to Gary Culp, president and general manager of FGL Commodity Services, his company's affiliation with FGL provides a unique concept in the commodity brokerage business. "FGL" has been in the farm marketing advisory business for seven years," explained Culp. "By constantly monitoring world-wide information that affects prices for all commodities, FGL is able to provide consultation and marketing advice to more than 8,000 clients. The objective is help the American farmer market his products more professionally through education and by encouraging him to think profit and not price."

Culp pointed out that in early

1979 FGL added a new dimension to its advisory service by opening branch retail commodity brokerage offices. "This makes the FGL concept unique," emphasized Culp. "because FGL is the only marketing advisory service that also is in the commodity brokerage business, enabling us to offer the FGL advisory client a vehicle to execute FGL recommendations that involve the futures market."

While specializing in hedging commodities in the futures market, FGL commodity Service also provides investment opportunities in futures trading through managed trading accounts and investment partnerships.

Owners of FGL Commodity Services include Gary Culp; Tom Garrison of Tulia; Monte Stephens and Danny Mayfield of Quitaque; Jerry Criswell of Canyon; Bovina Feeders, Inc. of Farwell; McCloy Feedlots of Morse; Mark McCloy, Bob Tolleson and W. C. "Dub"

In Helen Steiner Rice's collection of her poems "Someone Cares" she includes a good one about fathers.

FATHERS ARE WONDERFUL PEOPLE

Fathers are wonderful people too little understood, And we do not sing their praises as often as we should... For, somehow, Father seems to be the man who pays the bills, While Mother binds up little hurts and nurses all our ills... And Father struggles daily to live up to "HIS IMAGE" As protector and provider and "hero of the scrimmage"... And perhaps that is the reason we sometimes get the notion That Fathers are not subject to the thing we call emotion, But if you look inside Dad's heart, where no one else can see, You'll find he's sentimental and as "soft" as he can be... But he's so busy every day in the grueling race of life, He leaves the sentimental stuff to his partner and his wife... But Fathers are just WONDERFUL in a million different ways, And they merit loving compliments and accolades of praise, For the only reason Dad aspires to fortune and success Is to make the family proud of him and to bring them happiness... And like OUR HEAVENLY FATHER, he's a guardian and a guide, Someone that we can count on to be ALWAYS ON OUR SIDE.

Gross 1979 Sales Said Up In Texas

Gross sales in Texas totaled some $213.8-billion in 1979.

That is the word from the office of the state comptroller last Friday.

That is up $27.8-billion over the previous record of $186-billion transaction in 1978.

More than half this annual gain was made in the last calendar quarter of 1979 when gross sales of $66.9-billion were $14.4-billion over the third quarter of 1979!

While economic observers disagree on the existence of a recession or not, they do agree that inflation has not accelerated at a speed nor reached a point where any significant percentage of the fourth quarter, 1979, gain could be attributed to the inflation spiral.

These were in-state sales reported from 329,405 outlets about the state.

From almost six thousand reporting outlets outside the state comes a total of $5-billion our-of-state transactions for the same period.

The "quality quartet" of the high plains -- Hansford, Hutchinson, Moore and Ochiltree counties--reported gross sales totaling $337.1-million for the fourth quarter of 1979. Of this, Hansford County reported $15.2-million gross sales for the period.

The surprise of the statistics was Moore County with $215.6-million gross sales transactions for the fourth quarter of 1979 compared with $68.3-million for Hutchinson County.

Ochiltree County had $38-million in gross sales for the period.

The comptroller's office gave no comparison figures for the same period in 1978 except for metropolitan areas in Texas.

These were Harris (Houston) County, $19.7-billion; Dallas County, $10.7-billion; Bexar (San Antonio) County, $3-billion and Tarrant (Ft. Worth) County, $4.3 billion for the fourth quarter period.

Traveling Exhibit At Panhandle

"Children of Many Lands Came to Texas," a traveling exhibit produced by the University of Texas Institute of Texan Cultures at San Antonio, will be on display at the Carson County Square House Museum from June 10th to July 11th.

The faces of more than 100 children from 30 ethnic backgrounds will remind all Texans that Texas is a blend of many cultures. Sixteen larger-than-life portraits, 26 smaller photographs and 15 text panels tell the story of the children whose parents brought them to Texas.

Life for frontier children was drastically different from the abandoned old world experiences. A new language greeted them, new songs were sung, new games and new toys were encountered. New skills were required to survive this rough new land. Old customs and traditions were not forgotten, however, and families never missed a chance to recreate and share their cultures with their new neighbors.

Through this institute exhibit, viewers can understand how pioneer children learned the old and the new. The experiences of Texas children were as diverse as their background.

The Comanche Indian boy became a man when he returned from his first successful war party. To celebrate his adulthood, the boy's father quite often arranged a "Giveaway Dance." At the celebration, the family gave away some or all of its possessions to other members of the tribe. This act showed that, because a boy had become a man, the family had strong powers and could obtain more material goods.

Very different were the accounts of the lives of the twenty-two children of the 16 families of Canary Islanders who founded the village of San Fernando de Bexar in 1731. The village grew into the city of San Antonio.

Like all Texas children these youngsters were an important part of The Texas family, and often an economic necessity, working in shops and on farms and ranches. Children were the future of Texas, as they are today.

These multi-national children became Texas' farm wives and cowboys, poets and lawyers, blacksmiths and opera singers, farmers and teachers, sailors and millionaires, grocery clerks and railroad workers, librarians and revolutionaries.

"Children of Many Lands Came to Texas" is one of a dozen different exhibits available from the Institute of Texan Cultures for display. As a learning and communications center for Texas history, culture and folklore, the Institute also produces slides shows, videotape cassettes and books.

Little League Baseball Summer Camp

Little League Baseball takes pride in announcing the opening date for its eighth Annual Summer Camp Program on the beautiful and historic Baylor University Campus.

The camp offers a variety of activities including swimming, tennis, badminton, and volleyball but with special emphasis on baseball. All of the latest equipment and techniques for training in the skills of baseball will be used, including daily use of batting cages, pitching machines and other items approved by the Research Department of Little League. Basic and advance training is given in all baseball skills, for boys ages 9 through 15 years, in Junior and Senior Divisions. Applicants need not be Little League members.

The first of three two-week sessions begins on June 22. Applicants are still being accepted for all three sessions. Full information can be obtained by calling Waco 817-756-1816, or by writing Little League Baseball, 1612 South University-Parks Drive, Waco, Texas 76706.

Grasshopper Control

AMARILLO--The cooperative program to control grasshoppers severely threatening 6.5-million acres of Texas rangeland is being explained in meetings being scheduled throughout the Texas High Plains and South Plains. Several meetings already have been held, said Dr. Carl Patrick, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Farmers and ranchers wishing to know more about these meetings and about the grasshopper problem should contact their county Extension agent, Patrick said.

This summer, the entomologist explained, the grasshopper infestation can cause economic loss not only to the Texas rangeland, but to an additional 25.7-million acres in 16 other states.

"The grasshoppers have begun to hatch and the numbers per square yard are running quite high in many areas," Patrick said. The hatching will continue through early June, he said, adding to the grasshoppers already present.

Grasshoppers compete directly with wildlife and cattle for rangeland vegetation. Some rangeland species of the insect will also attack crops.

Eight grasshoppers per square yard of rangeland is considered the economic threshold, or the point at which the cost of chemical treatment is offset by the damage done by the infestation. Over 10 acres, an infestation of eight grasshoppers a square yard will consume as much forage as a beef cow, Patrick noted.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture Animal and Plant Health Inspection (APHIS) and the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) cooperate in the rangeland grasshopper control program. As long as budgeted money is available, the two agencies share equally the cost of the control program in an area that meets specified requirements.

The criteria for the cost-share control program are: That at least eight grasshoppers per square yard exist, that rangeland acres can be blocked in 10,000-acre units or an area that totally encompasses the infestation, and that the treatment must be applied before the majority of the grasshoppers reach maturity and egg laying begins.

These requirements are intended to reduce forage damage and migration over several years at a reasonable cost, and with insecticides that have minimal environmental impact, the Extension entomologist said.

Cropland, which is the area that is planted with the intention to harvest, is not included in the control program because the rates of malathion or carbaryl insecticides applied are too low to be effective in the denser crop foliage, Patrick said. There can be exceptions to the rangeland-only rule, he noted.

The cost of the program is estimated at approximately $2.10 an acre. This is shared equally, 70 cents an acre, by the landowner, TDA and APHIS.

Farmers and ranchers interested in learning more about the program should see their local county Extension agent and attend one of the many scheduled grasshopper control meetings, Patrick urged.

Host Families Needed

WANTED: American Families Interested in Sharing Their Lives with International Exchange Students During the 1980-81 School Year.

In a world filled with chaos and uncertainty, it's hard to imagine how you can change things for the better. But you can make a difference - by becoming a Host Family through Youth for Understanding's (YFU) international student exchange program.

Host Families share their homes and daily lives with international high-school students for six-months or a full year while the student attends the local high school. This unique homestay experience enables international exchange students to get to know real American families by sharing in daily life as a family member, not as a guest.

YFU, a non-profit organization, has arranged exchanges for more than 70,000 students from 24 countries since its inception in 1951. Students (aged 14-18) are carefully selected and matched with quality Host Families, and regional representatives provide services, support and guidance during the course of the exchange.

Host Families provide room and board and are eligible for a monthly deduction while the student attends school.

Program fees and personal expenses are provided by the student's natural family and YFU receives partial funding from the International Communication Agency of the U.S. Department of State.

It's an experience that lasts a lifetime - why not yours? For more information, contact your Regional Office: David F. Lintner, Regional Director, YOUTH FOR UNDERSTANDING.

Paine's Bones

One of America's early political and folk heroes was Tom Paine. His writing prior to the Revolution greatly influenced leading men in the Colonies to break away from mother-country England.

When Paine died June 8, 1809, his remains were buried in New Rochelle, N.Y. But they were removed for burial in his native England--which, however, denied him a burial place. Where his body went after that has since been a mystery.

Near Tivoli, N.Y., recently a machine clearing land uncovered a monument to Tom Paine. Does it mark the location of the famous writer? The experts have investigated and now think Tivoli is not Paine's burial place.

Tom Paine was an original thinker in the political field and in many other areas, including conservation and theology.

Texans Reminded Of Right To Appeal Tax Values

AUSTIN--The State Property Tax Board (SPTB) today reminded Texans of their right to appeal before local boards of equalization to appeal values assigned to their property for ad valorem tax purposes.

SPTB Executive Director Kenneth Graeber noted that "the right to appeal before the board of equalization is the single most important remedy available to taxpayers regarding the value placed on property."

"The board of equalization is the taxpayer's opportunity to be heard in an informal setting and without incurring expensive court costs," Graeber added.

He pointed out that each local government which collects property taxes must have a board of equalization (BOE) to hear taxpayer appeals on values, and that most BOEs meet in the period ranging from May until about mid-July.

Taxpayers who rendered their property to the local assessor must be notified of the time and place of the board of equalization meeting if the assessor raised the value rendered.

Even those who did not render still have the right to appear before the BOE, but persons in this category will have to learn on their own when the board will meet.

Graeber pointed out that BOE meetings are open to the public, and the time and place must be posted in the administration office of the jurisdiction and with the appropriate county clerk. A city BOE, however, is not required to file notice with the county clerk.

The information is also available from each local tax office by phone; and, at least 10 days before the board meets, notices must also be published in a local newspaper.

Graeber said there are two basic situations in which taxpayers are entitled to receive an adjustment in their tax value:

If it exceeds local market values--If you can find and submit to the BOE the kind of evidence which indicates that the value assigned to your property is too high, then you would be entitled to a reduction in its valuation.

If it is higher than similar property--Regardless of what other property like yours is selling for, the value of your property on the tax roll should be about the same as the value for all similar properties in the jurisdiction.

The State Property Tax Board director reminded taxpayers that the BOE's sole authority is over the value of property. "The board must limit the taxpayer's discussion only to matters concerning property values. Discussions regarding the amount of taxes or the injustice of taxation merely waste the taxpayer's time."

"These complaints should be referred to the appropriate governing bodies," Graeber added.

Descendants Of Early Settlers Sought

AUSTIN--The Texas Department of Agriculture is looking for Plains farmers and ranchers that are descendants of the earliest area settlers. Their property may qualify in the Family Land Heritage Program.

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown acknowledged that it will be some years before there are many applicants from the Plains and West Texas areas because they were settled late. "We want people to be aware of the program in case there are some whose families have been farming or ranching for a century, Brown said.

The registration period for the 1980 program opened this month and will extend through August 15.

The Department is entering its seventh year in sponsoring the program to honor those who have maintained continuous agricultural production on the same land for 100 years or more.

So far there have been 1,294 families who have qualified. The county farthest west in the program is Howard, Brown said. The Roberts Ranch in Big Spring qualified in 1977.

Those who qualify are honored in state ceremonies and receive a certificate and a copy of the Family Land Heritage Registry, in which are printed old photographs of the family and homes as well as a brief history of the land.

We have had excellent cooperation from county historical commission chairpersons and from county judges who have helped to locate people in their areas who might qualify," Brown said.

Basic requirements include the following: Continuous agricultural production on the same land for 100 years, ownership of the land remaining in the family, complete operation or supervision of the farm or ranch production by family members, and a size of at least 10 acres with a minimum of $250 income from farm or ranch products. If all of the land has ever been rented out, the property is ineligible. Timber and recreational leases do not qualify. The Texas Department of Agriculture is the final judge of eligibility.

Persons who meet the basic qualifications and wish to enter the program can obtain an application from the county judge, county historical commission chairperson, the nearest Texas Department of Agriculture district office, or they may write the Department, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Father's Day

Mrs. John Bruce Dodd is generally thought to have done more to originate Father's Day than any other American. The idea occurred to her in 1909 when she was living in Spokane, Washington. She suggested it to the ministerial association and proposed that fathers be honored on the third Sunday in June.

In June of 1910, the first observance was held in Spokane and slowly the day came to be recognized in other cities, some thinking they were the first to do so. Most of the impetus for observing a day for fathers came from women, as did the custom of wearing red or white roses on the day.

This year Father's Day falls on the 15th and is especially appropriate in view of the recent flood of literature and films picturing old dad as a money-mad chauvinist out of touch with his children.

Fortunately, that's an exaggerated protest, and the ties and cigars father receives on the 15th will, in most cases, have earned the hard way.

June Dates

The last half of June contains notable American dates. The 20th is West Virginia Day--dating from 1863, when that state entered the Union as an independent state, having seceded from Virginia.

The Constitution was ratified on the 21st in 1788, when New Hampshire became the ninth state to ratify it. On the 22nd in 1874, Dr. Andrew Taylor Still, a Kansas physician, began the medical system of osteopathy. The 24th is St. John's Day; the 29th, St. Peter's Day and the 30th, St. Paul's Day.

On the 25th, in 1876, General George Custer and two hundred and eight U.S. soldiers were wiped out on the Little Big Horn in Montana. On the 26th, in 1917, the first U.S. troops landed in France in the first of two American rescues of that country in this century. The 27th is the birthday anniversary of Helen Keller, born in Tuscomb, Alabama, in 1880.

On the 28th, in 1914, the dreadful carnage, World War I, which would end a way of life and produce Communism, was sparked by an assassination at Sarajevo--a war which also produced World War II twenty-one years after it ended.

The Last Invasion

June is a famous month in the annals of military history, if for no other reason than that the weather limited armies in earlier months. June was often the first month suitable for campaigning.

Midway, the naval battle that turned the tide of the war in the Pacific in 1942, came on June 4th. D. Day, the amphibious invasion of western Europe, came on June 6, 1944.

In the Civil War, the last effort of General Lee to win independence for the South by invading the North began in June, 1863. The Confederate Army, newly formed into three corps, started northward June 5.

Its famed Stonewall Brigade (General "Stonewall" Jackson had been killed at Chancellorsville the month before) marched through Spottsylvania, on to the Rapidan, then to Gaines's Crossroads. On the 12th, the brigade was at Cedarville, with other divisions near Winchester and Berryville. On the 15th, the Confederates defeated Union forces occupying Winchester and captured many cannons and supplies.

On June 17, the Confederate Army camped at Shepherdstown and then crossed the Potomac into Maryland and moved on to Hagerstown. A few miles further along a Marylander named John Bloom barred the Confederate Army at a toll gate at Tilghmanton, demanding to know who would pay him!

The army crossed into Pennsylvania and at Chambersburg, General Lee issued his famous order to his troops to respect all private property, stating that the army sought battle only with armed forces. On to Shippensburg and to Carlisle--and then Gettysburg, and disaster for the Confederates, and retreat to the highwater mark of the last Confederate invasion.

Robert C. Byrd, (D-WV) Majority Leader, on budget: "I support the budget resolution and hope that the House will adopt it..."

Cooking Out

Americans traditionally cook outdoors, in the early American tradition. The charcoal grill, in fact, has in recent years enjoyed great popularity. And the best grills, at the best price, are American-made.

But there is much argument about how and when to cook steaks, or chops, etc. One of the most often asked questions is whether steaks and other meats should be salted and peppered before grilling.

The answer: salt meat after it's cooked. (Salting before grilling draws out natural juices, which end up in the fire.)

Ezer Weizman, Israel's outgoing Defense Minister, in resignation to Begin:

"Instead of striding toward peace, we are marching in place. You had a great opportunity. You missed it."

Gerald R. Ford, former President: "I have always supported the Republican nominee."

Summer Camps

Many parents send their children to summer camps unaware that safety regulations governing the operation of such camps are often almost nonexistent.

In New York State, one parent, who lost a son at summer camp, recently, began a campaign to acquaint parents of this danger--and government officials at the state and county level.

Summer is, of course, the best time for outdoor living, and summer camps offer many benefits to young and old. Like every other facility dealing with the public, however, they should be required to conform to safety and health regulations--carefully designed regulations enforced by authorities.

Build Homes Near Water?

WASHINGTON -- The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is promoting an old way to reduce flood damage.

The idea today is to minimize development on the flood plain--the low, flat area next to river or stream beds. Instead of a subdivision or an industrial center, there can be a wildlife preserve or a recreation area.

These uses give a community valuable open space most of the time that can survive flooding with minimal damage.

This approach to flood-fighting may sound like a turnabout for an agency building flood controls. But flash floods--those that come within a few hours of heavy rains or perhaps a levee failure--are the nation's top weather disaster.

In 1979, such floods killed 100 persons and caused an estimated $4 billion in property damage. During the 1970s, according to the National Weather Service, an average of 200 people a year died in flash floods, or triple the rate of the 1940s.

Decade by decade, the death and property toll is rising, largely because more development is taking place on flood plains. No state is immune--not even Arizona, well-known for its desert climate.

President Joins Fight Against Multiple Sclerosis

President Jimmy Carter and Mrs. Frank Sinatra have joined in the fight against Multiple Sclerosis.

Barbara Sinatra, pictured here in a tomato red three-piece Arnold Scasuit with a white lace blouse represented her husband, chairman of the society's 1980 Hope Chest campaign at ceremonies honoring Mrs. Ann Howell of greater New Orleans as Mother of the Year and Mr. Rick Douglas of Wilton, Conn. as MS Father of the Year.

Multiple Sclerosis, also known as MS, is a disease of the central nervous system, usually diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 40. The progress of MS is unpredictable, but it frequently causes crippling and disablement and can affect vision, speech and coordination.

The National Multiple Sclerosis Society is the only agency supporting worldwide resources to find the cure for MS. The Society also provides funds for patient services.

Progress On Energy

The American taxpayer is accustomed to the slow pace of Congress and that leisurely pace recently produced an unmistakable advance in the effort to make this country less dependent on foreign oil.

After six months of haggling, a conference committee representing both houses agreed on a multi-billion dollar program to develop synthetic fuels. The bill would also build up the U.S. oil reserve.

The staff of the conference committee is not even expected to finish its final draft of this bill until mid-June. Then it will go to both houses for final passage and to the President, afterward, for his signature--making it law.

This bill is very much in the public interest and should have been on the books years ago. Such countries as South Africa are already producing about a third of the oil needs from synthetic plants, utilizing coal. The United States has vast coal reserves and the technology to build efficient synthetic plants. Germany did so in World War II--forty years ago.

President Carter is correct in viewing this legislation as one of the keys to America's energy future and has rightly criticized Congress for being so tardy in agreeing on a compromise bill. Voters across the nation should let their congressional representatives know, in no uncertain terms, that they favor speedy enactment of this vital energy independence legislation.

Hightower Asks For Increased Loan Levels

(Washington, D.C.)--During opening day testimony of hearings of the House Committee on Agriculture, Congressman Jack Hightower called for the Administration and the Congress to come to the aid of the farmer by increasing commodity loan levels as soon as possible. Hightower also expressed support for H.R. 6815, recently reported by the House Committee on Agriculture and the subcommittee on Agriculture of the House Committee on Appropriations, that would tie commodity loans to 65 percent of parity.

In commenting on efforts to lessen the impact of the suspension of Russian grain sales, Hightower commented, "If we could have had two billion plus dollars that has been spent on grain buying and contract purchases over the past months, to use on price support programs, in my opinion a lot more good would have been accomplished."

The House Committee on Agriculture hearings, called by Committee Chairman Tom Foley of Washington, were called to review the entire Agriculture situation, including the embargo of Russian grain sales. Hightower, recognizing the need for long term solutions, told the Committee, "I hope these hearings will reflect and develop a consensus as to the long term direction of farm policy that will take us out of a perpetual crisis situation."

Dogie Days Week!

Countdown toward the 1980 Dogie Days celebration is underway with the largest turnout in the history of the 32-year-old event predicted.

Dumas Noon Lions, sponsors of the annual celebration, have 7,500 pounds of prime meat all wrapped and seasoned for the Saturday noon barbecue, and a record crowd is predicted.

The 3-day celebration begins officially on Thursday, with opening of the Strates Midwest Shows carnival and accompanying game and food booths at the midway to be located at Pioneer Park.

This year's events will begin on a musical note with a country and western group to tune up at the midway Thursday afternoon at 6 p.m.

Following the midway opening

Noon Lions will have a $100 cash drawing at 9 p.m.

Friday's events include a jaws of life demonstration by members of the Dumas Fire Department at Pioneer Park at 6:30 p.m. immediately preceding the midway opening. The midway opens again at 7 p.m. and another cash drawing will be along the midway at 9 p.m.

The first of two Dogie Days dances will begin Friday night at 9 p.m. This event will be held at the Moore Community Building, adjacent to Pioneer Park.

Saturday will be the day Noon Lions put the big pot in the little one.

Events begin early with registration on the Villa Mercado parking lot opening at 10 a.m. for the Dogie Days gallop. Over 400 possible contestants have been contacted for this event.

The Dogie Days Gallop, a 3 1/2-mile mini-marathon, will wind up at Pioneer Park.

Dogie Days parade will begin unwinding down Dumas Avenue at 10:30 a.m. followed by the annual barbecue, at Pioneer Park, beginning at noon. A crowd of 10,000 is expected.

The barbecue will move inside the Community Building in case of bad weather.

Activity along the midway will will crank up at noon and barbecue lines will close at 2 p.m.

Festivities at Pioneer Park will continue throughout the afternoon with the drawing for a 4-wheel drive Scout at the midway area at 9 p.m.

The final dance will be held at the Community Building beginning at 9 p.m. to climax the 3-days of festivities.

Tickets which allow the holder an opportunity at both $100 drawings, plus the Scout vehicle and a plate of Dogie Days barbecue are already on sale at $3 each. Tickets will advance in price -- to $3.50 each -- on Saturday.

"We encourage everyone to get their tickets early, and have their name in the pot for all the drawings, plus the barbecue, as soon as possible," says Keith Christie, chief wrangler for the 1980 Dogie Days events.
