

Deskins Wells Speaks Before Panhandle Groups

A visit to practically every section of the Panhandle has been completed by Deskins Wells, Wellington editor, and a candidate for Congressman from the 18th Congressional District.

In addition to visiting with his hundreds of friends and acquaintances over the entire Panhandle, Mr. Wells has during the past week appeared as a commencement speaker before three school groups. He also was introduced at the Matador Rodeo, one of the outstanding events of its type in this section of the country.

Mr. Wells' first address last week was given before the graduating class of the Miami High School Thursday evening. Miss Oleta Camp, a resident of this county, is a teacher in that school system.

On the following evening he appeared before the Bovina graduates, in the extreme southwestern part of the Panhandle.

Saturday, Mr. Wells was a guest at the Matador Rodeo. Here he rode in the arena along with stars of the event, and was introduced to the crowd attending.

His first address of some time in Wellington came Tuesday night, May 21, when he was principal speaker at the county-wide rural seventh grade graduation exercises.

This does not, however, conclude Deskins Wells' appearances before groups of this type, since two other commencement addresses are scheduled for this week.

Graduates of the Allison High School will hear Mr. Wells on Thursday evening, May 23, while on the following evening, he will speak before Hereford seniors. John William Peebles, formerly of Wellington, is now a faculty member in the Allison system, and a large number of former residents of this county now live at Hereford.

Miss Brickey In Cotton Week Fete

Miss Billie Voca Brickey of Wellington, a student in Baylor University at Waco, was chosen by the Baylor Chamber of Commerce to represent the body in the National Cotton Week as their nominee for Cotton Queen.

The festivities began Saturday morning with a parade, in which Miss Brickey was accompanied by Pete Cresey, Frank Latham, and Fred Bidespache, "Chamber of Commerce members. Preceding her car was Joe College, the Baylor Bear.

On Wednesday she is to be presented on the stage of the Waco theatre along with other contestants. On Saturday, the nominees are to be entertained with a tea dance at the Shrine room. Selection of the queen, and the coronation will take place that night at the Cotton Palace in Waco.

Miss Brickey's costumes during the week are as completely of cotton materials as is possible.

Dodson Alumni Association To Hold Banquet

Announcement was made Wednesday afternoon of the Dodson Alumni Association Banquet, to be held at the Dodson High School Friday evening, June 7, at 8:30 o'clock.

Invitations have been mailed to many graduates of the Dodson school as could be located, but officers of the body added that any graduate who failed to receive an invitation should consider themselves invited.

Those planning to attend were urged to notify officers whether or not they will attend by June 1. Officers of the Alumni Association are Paul Scott, president; J. Crowder, vice president; and McKinney, secretary.

80 Seniors Awarded Diplomas Wednesday

Vacation Bible School Opens Here June 3

The second annual Vacation Bible School will open at the First Baptist Church in Wellington on Monday, June 3, and will continue for two weeks, Rev. J. P. Neal, pastor of the church, announced Tuesday.

Enrollment in the school will begin Saturday, June 1, at 4 o'clock, and immediately following this, the entire group will parade over the city in cars.

"All children of Wellington, regardless of denomination, between the ages of 4 and 16 years, are invited to attend this school," Rev. Neal said. "The program consists of devotional study, story telling, Bible, handwork, woodwork, and recreational features. This is a school that the children enjoy and many are looking forward to it."

Two hundred fifteen children were enrolled in the school last year, and Rev. Neal stated that he is expecting a larger number this time.

The Bible school will be held (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Salvation Army Explains Means Of Knowing Workers

Lieutenant Ruth Linden and Mrs. Tommy Owen of the Pampa Salvation Army were in Wellington Tuesday contacting local business men in the interest of their organization. This county is in the Pampa district.

In view of the number of organizations soliciting funds, some of whom dress their members in uniforms similar to that of the Army, (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

In an address embodying all his widely known skill as an orator, the Hon. Pat Neff, president of Baylor University, reminded seniors of Wellington High School that man stands at the top of all created beings, but that it is only through the use of his intelligence that he maintains this place that divides mankind from other animals. Mr. Neff was commencement speaker here Wednesday evening, May 15.

This event closed all activities for this group of boys and girls, composing one of the largest graduating classes here in recent years.

The group had previously been paid tribute by Rev. Rawlins Cherryhomes, pastor of the First Christian Church, in the baccalaureate service, Sunday, May 12. Presenting Christ's disciples in a modern light, and from a youthful viewpoint, Rev. Cherryhomes told of the service which would be required of their lives.

Between a thousand and fifteen hundred persons were present to hear Mr. Neff, who had spoken in Wellington several times previously.

The commencement exercise was opened by numbers by the Skyrocket Band, followed with the invocation by Rev. J. Edmund Kirby. Songs were rendered by the high school girls chorus. Miss Leota Finley, second high ranking student of the class, gave a brief salutatory address, followed by Hall Wells, valedictory speaker. Boyd Williams, president of the class, paid a short tribute to Mr. Neff's life and work before introducing him to the audience.

Sitting on each side of the seniors at this exercise were members of the seventh grade graduating class, who, since they had no formal graduation this year, were recognized at the commencement.

Diplomas were presented by L. A. Manzer, while Fred Pepper, president of the junior class, and Mr. Neff wished each senior farewell. Rev. J. P. Neal, pastor of the Baptist Church, closed the commencement with the benediction.

5-Year Perfect Record Is Set

During the entire five years of her schooling, Zorene Oldham has not missed a day's attendance, nor has she been tardy a single time. Zorene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Oldham.

"This is the first time I've seen this record accomplished either by a teacher or a pupil," Miss Effie Childress, principal of the East Ward School, said.

Each year the girl has been awarded a small certificate for her perfect attendance record. This (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Missionary Baptist Workers Meeting Here May 27, 28

Announcement has been made of the program for the Workers Meeting, to be held with the Wellington Missionary Baptist Church in Wellington Monday and Tuesday, May 27 and 28. Rev. R. L. Porter will be charge.

The meeting will be opened Monday evening, with a preaching service conducted by Elder L. Stonecipher, at 8 o'clock.

Tuesday's session will open at 9:30 a. m. with the devotional led by Bro. Joe Staggs. Following this, Elder E. M. Grigsby and Elder V. A. Hansard will discuss "Why Do Christians Lose the Joy of Salvation?" and "How May This Joy Be Restored?" Elder W. S. Crawford will preach the morning sermon at 11 o'clock.

Lunch will be served on the (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Red Cross Drive To Continue Say Local Officers

The Red Cross drive for European War relief will continue indefinitely, due to the devastation now going on in Europe, local Red Cross officials have learned.

Although no donations have yet been made toward filling the $520 quota set for this county, Miss Katherine Boverie stated that intensive work would get under way within the next few days, and that a person-to-person drive was now being considered.

Dewey Ellis, Roll Call Chairman, said earlier this week that he believed there would be no difficulty in raising the quota set here.

This drive is nation-wide in scope, and already, supplies are being rushed to war sufferers in Europe by airplane, it has been learned here.

Progress of the drive here will be announced from week to week.

City Teacher Hurt In Wreck

Miss Aldah Young, teacher in East Ward School in Wellington, and her father, J. H. Young of Arlington, were painfully injured when their car overturned three miles east of Oklahoma Friday afternoon, May 17.

They were en route to Arlington where Miss Young is to visit with her parents.

The accident occurred about 1:30 o'clock, while they were driving on muddy pavement. A blowout on one tire caused the car to swerve into the ditch, where it overturned.

Miss Young received deep cuts on her arms, a severely bruised shoulder, and other bruises on her body. She was taken to an Electra hospital, where she remained until Sunday.

Mr. Young, although he received back and neck injuries, went on to Arlington. He is still confined to his bed however.

The car was completely demolished.

The Young family resided in the Lutie community for 30 years, before moving to Arlington last year. Three children still live at Lutie, Mrs. Rufus Sweat, Mrs. Jack Lowry, and Jason Young. Mr. and Mrs. Sweat left for Electra immediately after learning of the wreck, to be with Miss Young until she was taken to Arlington.

F. H. Royal Gets Diploma 54 Years Old

At the same time this year's graduates at Wellington were receiving their high school diplomas, a diploma which he received 54 years ago came back into the hands of F. H. Royal of Wellington.

Mr. Royal, a pioneer of this county, came here in 1889, only three years after he received the diploma from Corsicana High School.

"I didn't know what had become of it. Then I got this package from my sister at McCamey and I wondered what in the Sam Hill it was, but when I opened it, there my diploma was," Mr. Royal said.

Mr. Royal was 18 years old when he graduated. There was only one teacher in the high school, he recalls, and all three of the high school classes were in one room. "We didn't get up and move around to have our lessons," he comments.

"I guess I'll have to frame my diploma," Mr. Royal said as an afterthought.

Farm Measuring Date Set

1,400 Farm Plan Sheets Completed On County Farms

With the signing of farm plan sheets under the AAA practically completed, C. V. Griffin, AAA administrator here, said Wednesday that work would begin in the immediate future preparing for the farm measuring, which is due to begin June 15.

Work is now under way establishing the 1941 wheat yields, which will be determined in the same manner as are the cotton yields—actual production on the farm. The county committee, W. K. Cottingham, county agent, and Mr. Griffin will confer with district officials in Amarillo Saturday relative to the yield and insurance phases of the wheat program.

In connection with the farm measuring, Mr. Griffin announced that Clyde Brown of the Lillie community had been appointed county performance supervisor, and will be directly over all measurers and acreage calculators. Mr. Brown has worked with the AAA program in this county for several years. This appointment was made in order that Mr. Griffin may devote more time to the administrative duties of the local office.

"We expect the measuring and calculating work to go off faster this year, and more accurately, than for any year in the past since the AAA program has come into effect," Mr. Griffin said.

Examinations for those wishing to be measuring supervisors will be held early in June. These will be conducted in a manner similar (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

County Women Honored At Tech

Five Wellington girls were selected for recognition at the annual Texas Technological College Women's Recognition service recently. One hundred sixty-eight outstanding women students were recognized.

A sixth county girl, Miss Erlene Dowell of Quail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Dowell, was selected to act as page in the event. Pages were selected from freshmen women students with a grade average of C or above.

Receiving recognition were Miss Argen Hix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hix, for having maintained a scholastic average of A minus during the past semester and for membership in Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary home economics fraternity; Miss Virginia Glenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Glenn, for membership in Alpha Chi, national honorary scholastic society, and in Women's Press Club, honorary organization.

Miss Vernene Franks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Franks, was cited for having earned 57 points (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Club Sponsors Pie-Box Supper

A combined pie supper and box supper will be held at the Samnorwood gymnasium Thursday evening, May 23, it has been announced here.

Sponsoring the event are members of the Samnorwood Home Demonstration Club, and proceeds will be used to send a delegate to the Short Course at College Station later in the summer.

"We extend a cordial invitation to the people of the entire territory to attend this event," the sponsors said. "We promise you lots of good clean fun—and in addition, lots to eat."

The event will begin at 8 o'clock, with Bedford Harrison as auctioneer.

Colorful Graduation Held For Rural Students

Approximately fifty boys and girls from practically every rural school in the county took part in the third annual county-wide rural school seventh grade graduation exercise held Tuesday evening, May 21.

Speaker for the occasion was Deskins Wells, editor of The Wellington Leader.

This event was the most colorful in the history of the rural seventh grade graduations. For the first time, the students participating wore scarlet caps and gowns, the color generally accepted for seventh grade graduates.

J. D. Jenkins of Cross Roads gave the invocation, opening the exercise. This was followed by the class song. Ella Ruth Hall of the Needwood school gave the (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 1)

Saturday Is Set As Wellington Straw Hat Day

Saturday is official Straw Hat Day in Wellington!

For the first time in recent years, local men will officially observe this day, and for the occasion, merchants are featuring their new summer straws in their Leader advertisements and display windows this week.

"It's high time for Wellington and Collingsworth men to take a day unto themselves and come out in the traditional spring regalia," the merchants said. "We want to see all the men in Wellington Saturday—and we want to see them all in straw hats."

Kiker Wins FFA Award

Melvin Kiker, 18-year-old Wellington school youth who was graduated Wednesday night, was picked as the winner of the $25 cash award offered for the Future Farmer of the local chapter showing the most improvement between April 1 and May 15. The award was given by L. A. Manzer, Wellington banker and honorary FFA member.

Kiker was chosen by a committee from the approximately 80 boys in the local chapter.

He has lived on a farm all his life.

Winner of the award was picked for improvement on five points, general appearance, scholarship, attitude toward parents, citizenship, and natural ability.

Thomas Family In Unusual Accident Near Plainview

Mr. and Mrs. Zook Thomas of Lillie are recovering from head cuts received in an unusual accident in which a barrel bounced from a truck they were meeting, struck the hood of their car, and bounced on to the car top, and off into the road.

Santa Monica, Calif.
Wellington Leader:
Editor,
Dear Sir:

We have been reading The Leader most every week. Frank Fuson and Mrs. W. S. Fuson send it to us, and of course we enjoy reading them very much. It is the best way we know of getting the news of Collingsworth and surrounding counties.

We noticed that Deck Wells is running for Congress. We surely wish him the very best of luck. If you will send us a ballot we will vote for him, Ha.

Joe Terry and family visited with us last summer while they were vacationing in California. The visit was enjoyed very much. We would be happy to have anyone from Wellington to visit us if they ever come to Santa Monica. This is a nice place to spend one's vacation. Santa Monica is at the termination of highway 66 on the beach.

We see where the farmers have taken over the publishing of The Leader, with Bud Manzer and F. O. Masten as editors. Well, it seems like you are doing pretty good. When we save up enough money we intend to subscribe.

You said in the last paper that any letter written in would be published in the paper. You are welcome to put this one in.

Wishing every one a happy and prosperous year, we remain your enthusiastic readers,

Mr. and Mrs. John Fuson and daughter,
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher and son,
Wayne Fisher.

Mr. Fred Browning
Denworth, Texas
Dear Brother:

I am sure you are busy these days, with the children finishing their school work, and that lovely daughter finishing her high school work.

I am taking this privilege to write you a few words in regard to our candidate for United States Congressman, our own fellow townsman, Deskins Wells. He has been our neighbor for a number of years, and as you know, J. K. has worked for him on the Leader force for four years, and we know he is a man that will keep his promises. He has promised to do what he could to keep us out of war. He is honest, sincere, and has the ability to do these things that need to be done.

We are asking you to help us elect Mr. Wells with your vote and influence.

Love,
Mrs. R. L. Porter.

Boyhood Of A Great American

Starred in the first juvenile biography ever to reach the screen, Mickey Rooney comes to the Ritz Theatre starting Sunday, as "Young Tom Edison," heart-stirring drama of a typical American boy who was to become the Wizard of Menlo Park. In the cast are Fay Bainter, George Bancroft and little Virginia Weidler, under the direction of Norman Taurog of "Boys Town" fame.

up here the last time. Maybe you will be someday where you won't have those old aches and pains.

Wheeler has been out in the country on a case this week. Came back Sunday evening, Mother's Day. She was awfully given out, just like she always is. Seems like each of us has to work hard to get along but we just put our eggs in one basket.

Ganny came down Saturday night. Got here around 11 o'clock. There was a call for him when he got here from his boss. He had to go right back to Amarillo with the truck. They had received an order from Pampa for something, I don't know what, so he went out and saw his mother a few minutes and gave her his little gifts. I was afraid he would go to sleep driving, so I went along to keep him awake. Came back Sunday night with some boys that were up at Amarillo.

Get everything ready, I'll be down to go on that fishing trip with you. I went down to Lake Pauline May 4. There were seven of us in the party. This is my story, I didn't catch anything! It doesn't hurt for a fellow to tell the truth.

When you answer my letter, send it to The Wellington Leader and it will be printed and sent to me. Tell me how many big ones you caught.

Write soon.
Your loving brother,
D. M. Blanton, Sr.

By MRS. C. W. FRITTS

The school carnival at the gymnasium Saturday night was fairly well attended. The proceeds from the carnival go to the new grade school building fund.

Mrs. Hazel Bretz and son, Don, spent the week end with Dr. Bretz in Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ireland of Hereford visited their daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth, in the Walker home. Miss Ireland teaches in the grade school.

Mrs. Clarence Morrow has been ill for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bockman visited Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gates Sunday.

Billy Lee Roark and Maxine Tucker visited Betty Sanders Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Fritts and sons moved last week to Hutchinson, Kans., to make their home. Oscar Payne is farming the Fritts place.

Mrs. Rhoda Fritts is visiting her son, Alvin Fritts, and family in Amarillo.

Mrs. E. G. Sanders was moved to her home Saturday before last from a Wellington hospital where she had been confined since March. She is suffering from a broken leg received in a car wreck. She is doing nicely, but will be confined to her bed for several months.

Farmers are busy planting cotton and feed.

County Seniors Graduating At Vinson, Okla.

By NOMA LEE HIVELY

Three Collingsworth County students, all residents of the Shinnery community, will graduate from the Vinson, Okla., high school this week. They are Bertie Keesee, Lavon Hively, and Dorothy Joe Hughey.

The graduation week exercises opened Sunday with the baccalaureate service.

A short sketch of the life of each of these graduates follows:

BERTIE KEESEE

Bertie was born May 16, 1923, in the Shinnery community. She is the daughter of Mrs. E. R. Keesee.

Her grade school days were spent at Shinnery. Here she took active part in baseball. She spent three years of high school at Wellington, and her senior year at Vinson. At the latter place she played both baseball and volleyball.

Bertie's favorite study is Home Ec., and she plans to take a beauty course.

DOROTHY JOE HUGHEY

Dorothy, better known as Dot, was born January 18, 1922 at Mangum, Okla. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hughey.

Most of her grade school days were spent at Reed. Dot attended high school at Kirkland for two and a half years, and one semester at Wellington. Her senior year was spent at Vinson.

She was active in volleyball at Kirkland and basketball and baseball at Vinson. While at Kirkland she was a member of the 4-H Club for three years.

Dot's favorite subject is typing and she is planning to attend Draughan's Business College at Wichita Falls.

LAVON HIVELY

Lavon was born at Cross Roads, Ark. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hively.

Lavon's school days were spent, for the most part, at Widman, Ark., Madge and Shinnery. Three years of his high school work were at Wellington, and his senior year at Vinson. While at Shinnery he Sponsors of the Junior Class of the Wellington High School during the 1939-40 year were Miss Minnie Atchley and John C. Hooper. Miss Atchley was also pep sponsor and Mr. Hooper was band director.

SHINNERY

By NOMA LEE HIVELY

The farmers have been busy this past week planting cotton.

Those attending the graduation of students from Shinnery at Vinson Sunday afternoon were: Jack Ermdeen Keesee, Valarie White, Audie and Noma Lee Hively, Reda Jane Hughey, Keesee and Dale and Bonnie Gay Hively.

Mrs. Minnie Blessingame, Mrs. Drury Lacy, Lillie May Sorrells, Mrs. Cloe Harrison, Mrs. Darrell Manney and Mrs. Seivern Bayless, Mrs. Bill Powell have visited with Mrs. E. L. Hively this past week. Mrs. Hively has been on the sick list and is improving slowly.

Mrs. Curtis Hughey was rushed to the hospital Thursday night on account of hemorrhage of the nose. She returned to her home Friday evening where her condition is reported to be improving.

Lavon Hively, Dorothy Joe Hughey and Bertie Keesee returned last Sunday evening from their senior trip to Turner Falls at Sulphur, Okla. One of the interesting events of the trip was a visit to the Deaf and Dumb School. The group reported a nice time.

The 4-H Club met at Mrs. E. L. Hively's Tuesday morning. Miss Rose Erisman discussed the cutting of garments to the girls.

THE FORD WAY OF DOING BUSINESS

The Ford Motor Company was founded by a working-man for working-men. Its present officers began as employees of the Company. It was the first company to pay a minimum wage, beginning in 1914, at the then astounding figure of $5 a day. That was double the prevailing wage of the time. The Ford minimum is now $6 a day for all employees engaged in production work. And from that, the wages rise to $10.80 a day, with the average wage $7.25, exclusive of salaried employees.

The Ford Motor Company was the first large company to establish the 8-hour day—also in 1914. And the 40-hour week was inaugurated by the Ford Motor Company in 1926, years before any such laws existed.

The Ford Motor Company employs men without regard to race, creed or color. It is common knowledge that working conditions in the Ford shops are the best that science and constant care can make them. A square deal, a just wage and stabilized employment for a large proportion of our employees—and as fully stabilized for all as conditions will permit—enable our men to retain their personal independence.

In consequence of these policies the Ford Motor Company has one of the finest bodies of employees in the world. The larger proportion are mature men of long service with the Company—sober, decent family men. Hundreds of them have been with the Company for more than 25 years—thousands for more than 15 years. Their health record, home ownership and citizenship records are good.

All this is reflected in Ford products, whether cars, trucks or tractors. The work is honestly done. Materials are the best that can be made or procured. Less profit to the Company and more value to the customer is known throughout the motoring world as "Ford's way of doing business."

Ford Motor Company was the first to make a motor car within the means of the average family—quitting the manufacture of what was then the largest selling model in the world to do so. Its chosen field in all the 30 years since that time has been the average American family—for which it has consistently provided car facilities which formerly only the wealthy could buy.

It is the policy of the Ford Motor Company to share the benefits of advanced methods and management with workers and public alike. Increased wages and employment over a period of many years have resulted in

A 300 per cent increase in the built-in value of the Ford car and a 75 per cent reduction in its price.

Henry Ford and Edsel Ford keep daily personal touch with all phases of Ford manufacture. In a conference with his staff, Henry Ford often says: "Go ahead—I'll sit here and represent the public."

Athletics Popular With Quail Boys

Considering the age and inexperience of the boys, Quail's basketball team feels that this year has been a successful one.

First blow to the team came when it was learned that five veterans, who were to make up the team, were ineligible, due to a clause in the Interscholastic League rules. This excluded from the team Norman Morgan, Cleo Robinson, Buford Graham, Emmett Palmer and Edwin Sanders.

With this, a group of boys who had had no competition except in intra-mural play, began training. Consequently, they lost the first half dozen games before they broke into the win column, and after mid-term they began to function in a manner that the year ended with a 500 per cent average for the entire season.

However, a team of veterans will be back for next year that will compare favorably with the Quail teams of the past. Lettermen and squadmen that were carried over are R. B. Johnson, Harold Hammitt, Whit Pate, Johnnie Crawford, and Burlin Wilson, who were lettermen; James Sessions, Leroy Robinson, John W. Carson, and Roland Wilson of the squadmen. New boys expected are Palo Cummings, L. M. Wigginton, Raymond Creed, Lowell Dennis, Harold Barton, Wendell Graham, L. J. Jones, and James White.

The track team had about the same success as the basketball team, winning second in the county meet. These boys also made a good showing considering their age and lack of experience. All the boys will return next year except two. Returning are R. B. Johnson, Whit Pate, Roland Wilson, Burlin Wilson, James Sessions, Lowell Dennis, John Wesley Carson, Leroy Robinson and Harold Hammitt.

Intramural games also proved popular at Quail. This brought into action boys who had never attempted to play on a high school team. These games include softball, tennis, volley ball and basketball.

Company Employees Given Picnic At Country Club Friday

Employees of the Starkey Electric Company were entertained with a picnic at Riverside Country Club Friday night. Swimming and games formed the evening's recreation. A delicious picnic lunch was served to the guests.

Attending were: Messrs. and Meses. Gordon Williams, Harry Galbreath, Misses Mary Clark, Evelyn Doolen, Juanita Clark, Aries Burt, Doris Williams, Messrs. William Worth McClaskey, Robert G. Williams, Wayne Culp and Betty Jo, Janie and Jimmie Culp, Lylal Gene and Vida Lois Williams, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Starkey and son, Doolen.

Regular Meet Held At Loco By W. M. U. Members Tuesday

The Loco W. M. U. met Tuesday, May 14, at the First Baptist Church. After a brief business session, the regular program was presented.

Those attending were: Mesdames W. C. Minter, T. H. Rainer, Dick Scott, Silas Crawford and Bill Harbin.

Martha J. Henry Is Vice President Of University Group

That Miss Martha Jeanne Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Henry, has been elected vice president of the Town Club at the University of New Mexico, was learned this week. Miss Henry is a freshman student.

Town Club is one of the most popular campus organizations. Throughout the past year, many social activities have been enjoyed by its members. Lovely formal dances, skiing parties and outings have been part of these. On Mother's Day, the club entertained with a tea complimenting mothers of the girls belonging to the organization, at which time Miss Henry was on the program for two vocal solos.

Mrs. Henry, Miss Henry and Silas Henry, will return soon to their home here.

Paint Pushers - 4 Minutes Per House

It was a painting time of 8 minutes and 30 seconds set on a house in Memphis, Tenn., that brought out this crowd of workmen in Omaha. And you see only a few of them. One hundred ten painters covered this nine-room house in four minutes, 14 seconds, thereby clinching the record.

Hoe First Used Here Spreads For Tree Cultivating

WICHITA FALLS.—"The grape hoe introduced in Texas for row cultivation of shelterbelts has spread to the other five states in the Prairie States Forestry Project," reported State Director W. E. Webb, recently.

This tool is particularly important as it has reduced the amount of hand hoeing in the rows and around the individual trees by fully two-thirds. Texas has sixty-four of these cultivating tools located at Vernon, Quanah, Childress, Memphis, Paducah, Turkey, Wellington, Shamrock, Wheeler and Clarendon, available for loan to the farmers to assist them in cultivating their shelterbelt trees.

The grape hoe may be drawn by a single horse or with a tractor. The weeding blade is guided by moving one handle attached to a coultter every time the tool approaches a tree. It is one of the most important and expensive tools for row cultivation.

Middles between the tree rows are cultivated with ordinary farm tools such as sweeps, discs, harrows, etc.

WPA Open House Draws Praise From Visitors

Enthusiastic praise for the non-construction WPA work done in this county has come from the many visitors to the projects during the first two and a half days of the Open House week, Mrs. J. W. Peeples, county chairman, said Wednesday.

Now on display is the work of the sewing room in Wellington, the work of the librarians in the high school, junior high school, east ward and at the county library, the historical research project. Due to the closing of school last week, the work of the school lunch rooms under the direction of Mrs. A. C. Boverie, and the matrons projects was visited by a number of patrons.

Work done by the various librarians, in addition to the regular issuing of books, is being shown in the county library. In charge of this are Mrs. Doyle Aaron and Miss Myrtle Davis of the high school; Mrs. Grace Foster of the junior high; and Mrs. Dora Ryan of East Ward.

Mrs. Winnie Davis Hale, in charge of the historical research project, is in the office of the county treasurer, and is during this week explaining the work of the project to all those interested.

On display in the sewing room, under the direction of Mrs. Peeples, is clothing made by the women employed here, and includes garments for men, women, boys, girls and infants.

"We extend a cordial invitation to the people of Collingsworth County to visit one or all of these projects," those in charge of them said. "The projects will be open until Saturday evening, and we shall be glad to answer any questions and to explain fully the work of the rooms."

Horse racing at night, which was first tried in St. Louis in 1900, will be revived this summer.

MISS HATTIE D. WELLS served as Dean of Girls in the Wellington High School during the year which has just been completed. In addition, Miss Wells was sponsor of the Girls Service Club.

Mrs. Wilcie Davis, Sam Anglin and Everett Anglin left Monday for Paducah to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Charlie Anglin, which was held Tuesday.

Mrs. Yolanda Fabbrey, 24, of Chicago, was recently awarded a bronze medal for saving the life of a father and daughter—Edward Drensen and his daughter, Patricia, age two, from drowning.

Fred W. Barney, 74, recently began serving his 49th year as town clerk in Grafton, N. H.

Important for Women

A weak, run-down condition often gives a foothold to functional dysmenorrhea, causing much periodical distress from headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain for women. CARDUI so often helps in such cases, for it sharpens appetite, boosts flow of gastric juices; so improves digestion, helps build physical resistance. CARDUI, taken a few days before and during "the time," is another way to help periodic distress. Used 50 years.

Feed Values For Ensilage Vary

COLLEGE STATION.—This is the season of the year when the farmer starts figuring on what feed crop to plant for silage.

Some crops are high in per ton value; others in yield per acre.

The problem is further complicated by the fact that the value on a per ton basis differs for various kinds of livestock. R. E. Dickson of the Spur Experiment Station found that red top sorghum has the same value per ton as hegari for fattening two-year-old steers. Most authorities agree that hegari has a greater feed value than red top for dairy cattle and horses.

What the farmer wants is the crop that will return the most dollars per acre.

The following figures, compiled by E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, may help farmers pick the most profitable crop for silage intended for dairy cows:

The crops are rated on a per ton basis as follows: corn, grain sorghums, sweet sorghums, sudan grass, johnson grass. The difference in per ton value is about 10 per cent for each class. Thus, if corn silage is worth $5 per ton, grain sorghum silage would be valued at $4.50, sweet sorghum silage at $4, sudan grass at $3.50 and johnson grass at $3.

The average per-acre yield of Texas runs about like this: four tons of silage; grain sorghums, six tons; sweet sorghums, seven tons; sudan grass, six tons; and johnson grass, five tons.

Using the assigned per ton value and the average yield, corn would return $20 an acre, grain sorghum $27, sweet sorghum $28, and so on. Since farmers have a pretty good idea of the yields of their different feed crops in their communities, the problem is one of multiplication.

Babies now eat twice as much as their parents did when infants, according to a leading dietician.

Buck Creek School Will Close May 24

The Buck Creek School will bring its 1939-40 term to a close with the annual community picnic. The year has been one of the most successful in the history of the school. This has been possible through the hearty cooperation of the patrons, the teachers, Ed Brown and Mrs. Weldon Thomas, say.

The pupils are preparing a closing program to be presented on Thursday night, May 23. The following pupils will be presented in two short operettas, "Rainbow's End," and "Tomboy Jo."

Taking part in "Rainbow's End" are Rose Patterson, Betty Jean Souder, Edwina Brown, Wanda Lou Hartman, Betty Jo McBride, Dorothy Frances Blades, Odessa Jones, Iowena McGuire, Marorie Howard, Kenneth Gosnell, Earl Patterson, Bobbie Lancaster, Kenneth Patterson, Toby Lancaster, Johnny Patterson, and Clifton Hartman.

Appearing in "Tomboy Jo" are Ruby Dell Souder, Cecil McBride, Robert Aduddell, Ernestine Gosnell, and Jack Aduddell. In addition to these, there will be several special numbers.

Six students will graduate from the seventh grade, Edith Gosnell, Vernon Gosnell, Cecil McBride, Bob Lee Sessions, Leon Hartman and Leon Patterson.

Noticable improvements made during the year are the addition of cloak rooms and cabinets built in each room, giving each child a locker of his own. A radio receiving set was purchased, enabling the students to participate in radio education. New electric lights were installed.

During the year there was organized a Parent-Teachers Association. Officers for the year were:

Weldon Thomas, president; E. Brown, vice president; E. H. Hartman, secretary-treasurer. The organization met each month during the school term. Outstanding accomplishments sponsored by the PTA were setting out of trees and shrubbery, the community Christmas tree, and health examinations for the children. Officers for the following year will be Mrs. Thomas, president; Mrs. Alfred Patterson, vice president; and Mrs. Brown, secretary-treasurer.

Practically all students in the school took part in the Interscholastic League Meet. Several first places were won, including chorusing, arithmetic, and spelling. Trustees for the last year were E. Aduddell, J. A. Lancaster, and E. Gentry. The board for the coming year will be Mr. Aduddell, J. Lancaster, and Elmer Hartman.

Teachers this year were E. T. Brown, principal, and Mrs. Weldon Thomas, primary teacher. Both have been in the school system for past six years and have been elected for the term of 1940-41.

Johnny Rucker, New York National's rookie outfielder, has been elected to the semi-pro Hall of fame. He is the second to be so honored, Freddie Hutchinson having been the first.

SOPHOMORE SPONSORS

Farm Security Notes

By EDNA PETTIT

GOOD NUTRITION ON LOW FOOD BUDGET

No financier makes more important investments than does the woman who spends the weekly food allowance. She sees the results of her money management reflected, not in financial loss or gain, but in the health and happiness of her family.

Homemakers the country over are well aware of the importance of adjusting the family diet to the family income. The recent studies of family living show that many families could improve their diets without adding much to the present cost.

How can a family get the most for its food money? Of course, the more limited the amount of money available for food, the more important this question becomes and the more difficult it is to provide all of the essentials that go to make up an adequate diet. It is most helpful to plan for a good diet at a minimum cost.

The secret of success along this line is to make use of the most nutritious of the inexpensive foods. Milk and cereal foods are mainstays. There must be enough vegetables, fruits, eggs, and lean meats to supply the vitamins, minerals, and protein not furnished in sufficient quantities by cereal and milk. Fats and sweets are used to round out calories.

The low-income family that lives in a town or city and has to buy all the food it eats, must do some smart shopping. The housewife must choose the inexpensive but no less nutritious cuts of meat. She must take advantage of food bargains, and know the kind of green vegetables and fruits that are at the height of their season and good buys. The economical shopper will buy cheap and nutritious cereals that furnish minerals and vitamins as well as calories.

On the other hand, a family that lives in the country may be able to get a moderate-cost or even a liberal diet for the same amount of money required for the city family to purchase a balanced diet at minimum cost. A vegetable garden, a cow, some chickens, and home cured meats will furnish more of the protective foods that make the difference between an ordinary adequate diet and a very good diet.

In the liberal and moderate-priced diets there are larger amounts of milk, eggs, leafy green, and yellow vegetables, and meat. There are smaller amounts of cereals and starchy vegetables.

To make sure that the family gets all the nutritive values that come from the store or the farm means that the homemaker has to "follow through" with good cooking. This is true no matter how expensive the diet, but if there is a minimum of money to spend it is even more important. By skillfully using inexpensive seasonings the homemaker can make low-cost meals most attractive and seemingly more varied than they really are.

Luker Infant Buried Monday

Funeral services for Frances Ann Luker, four-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Luker of Levelland, were held from the Kelso Funeral Chapel in Wellington Monday afternoon, May 20, with Rev. J. E. Kirby in charge.

The child was born in Wellington May 15, 1940, and died May 19, at 11:45 p. m.

Mrs. Luker formerly lived in Wellington and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Singley.

Survivors include the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luker, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Singley of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Luker of Levelland, and a number of other relatives.

Hymns for the funeral included "Nearer The Old Olive Trees" and "Speak To My Heart," by the Kelso Girls' Ensemble.

Interment was in the Wellington Cemetery with the Kelso Funeral Home in charge.

Spearman Editor Is City Visitor

Bill Miller, editor of The Spearman Reporter, was in Wellington Saturday in the interest of the candidacy of Max Boyer, who is asking the post of State Senator. Mr. Miller, who is known throughout Panhandle newspaper circles as "Honest Bill," made the acquaintance of a number of local people while here.

Want Ads Bring Results Twice In A Row

Twice in a row, Jack Phipps, who lives northwest of Wellington, got results from Wellington Leader Want Ads, after his ad was run for the first time!

This was Mr. Phipps' comment Tuesday when he stopped by The Leader office to say his present ad need not be run any more.

Mr. Phipps had advertised cottonseed for sale, and two days after the paper went out on the routes, he was sold out.

"The other time I advertised, I sold out right off the reel, too," he commented.

Miss Sarah Maybee of Huntington, N. Y., retired after teaching school continuously for 57 years, during which time she was absent from duty only one day.

Babe Ruth's record of 714 home runs in his baseball career likely will stand for all time. Next to him is Lou Gehrig whose total was 494.

School Year Closes At Shinnery Fri.

By NOMA LEE HIVELEY

The Shinnery School will close the year's work with a program to be given Friday night, May 24. The program will consist of readings, plays, and musical numbers. The rhythm band will give a number, accompanied at the piano by Peggy Jean Yarbrough, while Gay Reeves will play a piano solo. Every child in the school will be represented in the program.

This has been one of the most successful years in the school's history. Shinnery entered in most of the Interscholastic League events and won a number of ribbons.

At Christmas, the school sponsored a Christmas tree and program. Programs were also held at Valentine and Easter.

"The children have shown interest in all phases of school work, and we feel that they have accomplished much," Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Manney, teachers, stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Manney have been active in many phases of community work during the year. Mrs. Manney served as assistant 4-H Club sponsor. Both teachers were teachers in the Sunday school, and Mr. Manney was president of the B.Y.P.U.

Following the close of school, Mr. and Mrs. Manney will leave for Colorado, where they will attend school.

Legion Auxiliary Social Meeting Thursday Evening

The regular social meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary Unit will be held Thursday evening, May 23, at the Legion Hall.

Hosts for the occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horn, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Moss, and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Harper.

This meeting is being held a week later than the regular date, due to the graduation activities being under way last week.

Paul Moore, ace runner for the Stanford University track team, recently set a new world record for the three quarter mile run when he went the distance in 2 minutes 58 7-10 seconds at a dual meet in Palo Alto, Calif.

Fires-Vaughan Engagement Revealed Saturday At Tea Given By Mrs. C. Fires

Announcing the engagement of Miss Margaret Ann Fires to John Vaughan of Dallas, Mrs. Chester Fires, mother of the bride-elect, entertained Saturday with a tea. Mrs. Ed Ward, mother of the groom, Mrs. Bill Leach of Canadian, the groom's sister, the hostess and the bride-to-be were in the receiving line.

A color scheme of pink and orchid was used, and bouquets of roses decorated the entertaining suite. The punch, presided over by Mrs. Tom Campbell and Mrs. J. N. Wallace, was in a huge block of ice in which a beautiful arrangement of snapdragons and oriental poppies had been frozen. Guests were served heart shaped molds of ice cream and white frosted cakes topped with lilies of the valley from a table which was covered with a linen cloth with Venetian lace inserts. The centerpiece was a bowl of sunburst roses and white baby breath lighted by tall white tapers. Also assisting in the dining room were Meses. Charlie Garrison, Emory Hunter and J. F. Johnson.

Mrs. Sam Miller of Childress presided over the guest registration. Miss Jeanette Adams, also of Childress, presented the announcement cards bearing the words, "Margaret Ann and John, June 16, 1940," printed in gold ink.

Approximately fifty guests were present.

County Housewives Favorite Recipes Will Appear Soon

With the June 6th issue of The Wellington Leader, a new society page feature will begin. One, and probably more, well tested and proven recipe from a county housewife will be printed each week. Due to lack of space, all of the recipes received cannot be used, but the feature will continue to appear in the paper until early fall.

Won't you contribute a favorite food for your neighbor's county-wide table?

Mrs. E. A. Box Entertains For H. D. Group

The North Wellington Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. E. A. Box on Tuesday, April 21. The meeting was called to order at 2:30 o'clock. After a short business session, the county home demonstration agent, Miss Rose Erisman, gave a very interesting demonstration on removal of spots and stains.

A food sale will be held by the group on June 1. As yet, no place for the sale has been decided on, but the place will be announced later.

The following ladies were present: Meses. Fred Kersten, Roy Mims, R. E. Bagwell of Lockney, Cecil Masten, R. D. Oldham, T. T. Fain, Bill Dickson, Bruce Hite, C. D. Buerger, W. D. Aldridge, J. W. Masten, Miss Erisman and the hostess, Mrs. Box.

The club will meet with Mrs. Bruce Hite on Tuesday, June 4, at 2:30.

Joe Parker Will Wed Miss Lee Williams Of N. M.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Lee Williams, to Joseph Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Parker of Wellington, was announced recently at a tea at which Mrs. Robert Williams was hostess at her home in La Posada, N. M. Mr. Parker is now a resident of Santa Fe.

The announcement was made with a recording made by Robert Williams and which was unexpectedly played after the guests assembled.

Miss Betty Zook and Mrs. Graeme Sizer presided at the tea tables, and assisting with the serving were the Meses Josephine and Margaret Eckert and Mrs. Cecil Rushing.

Among the guests was Mrs. John Parker of Albuquerque, sister-in-law of the bride-elect. Over thirty others attended also.

The couple's wedding date is indefinite but plans are for an early June ceremony.

Roxie M. Graves Weds Bill Hill Saturday Evening

Miss Roxie Maye Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Graves of the China Grove community, was married Saturday evening, May 18, to Bill Hill of the Needwood community. The ceremony took place in Hollis, and officiating was Rev. Herbert E. Getti, pastor of the Methodist Church. The marriage was held in the parsonage.

Mrs. Hill graduated from Texline High School, attended John Tarleton College at Stephenville, and was also a student at New Mexico Normal at Las Vegas, N. M. For the last two years she has been employed as a teacher in China Grove School. Her parents have lived here for a number of years and are prominent residents in the north part of the county.

Mr. Hill was educated in the county schools, and is the son of H. E. Hill, one of the county's old settlers. The family has lived in the county more than thirty years, and are prominent residents in their section.

The bride wore a navy blue chiffon suit and had navy accessories. Attending the couple were the brother and sister-in-law of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hill.

The couple will make their home at Needwood, where Mr. Hill is engaged in farming.

'Kick-Off' Supper Opens Week's Observance Of W. P. A. Work In Community

As an opening event for "This Work Pays Your Community Week," observance of W.P.A. non-construction work, a "kick-off" supper was given Monday evening at the American Legion Hall. County chairman of the professional and service divisions is Mrs. J. W. Peeples.

Rev. J. E. Kirby presided as toastmaster for the supper, and Rev. J. P. Neal gave the invocation. The group singing of "America" was followed by Negro spirituals given by a colored choir.

L. A. Manzer gave the principal address of the evening. Mr. Manzer stressed the value of the projects to the community, relating how $90,000 had been spent here since 1935. Non-construction work only was used in this estimate. Also an interesting and revealing fact was the statement by the speaker that 116,698 yards of material had been used in the sewing rooms of this county. Fifty-three thousand four hundred ninety garments have been made, according to the local supervisors.

A group of students from the Junior High School gave two numbers, "Virginia Reel" and tumbling act, both of them being specialty acts. Mrs. Ernest Elliott was in charge of the community singing, and Mrs. John Harper was the piano accompanist.

Tables for the occasion were beautifully decorated with pink roses, baby's breath, larkspur and blue corn flowers. The dinner was served at a charge of only four cents per person, and was prepared by ladies of the various projects. The following menu was served: pressed turkey, cranberry jelly, giblet gravy, buttered carrots, potato salad, parker house rolls, butter, green beans, gingerbread and iced tea.

Both Mrs. Peeples, county chairman of the menu committee, and Mrs. A. C. Boverie, who is in charge of the school lunchrooms, took active parts in preparing for the dinner.

Various committees and their chairmen were: Place, Mrs. Dick Richards, chairman, assisted by Miss Katherine Boverie; Menu, Mrs. Peeples, county chairman, Mrs. W. D. Hale, chairman, and Mrs. Boverie; Program, Mrs. Peeples, chairman, assisted by Miss Boverie; Radio, chairman, Mrs. Peeples; Ticket, Mrs. Dick Richards, chairman; Purchasing, Mrs. Boverie, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Hale; kitchen, Mrs. Boverie, chairman; table, Clyde Davis, chairman; decorations, Mrs. Richards, chairman, Mrs. Marie Ball and Mrs. Faye Cooper; guest book, Mrs. Julia Muse, chairman, Miss Naomi Ford; serving, Mrs. Hale, and assistants.

Two hundred persons were present for the dinner.

Also initiating "This Pays Your Community Week," was a supper given for Negro workers Monday evening. Buster Barker was chief speaker for the event, and his address concerned the benefits to the community of W.P.A. work. The supper, which was given at the school building of the colored, was attended by fifty guests.

Rapid Growth Of Wellington FFA Reviewed

By HALL WELLS

The Wellington Vocational Agriculture Department and the Future Farmer organization are very proud of their accomplishments during the school year of 1939-1940. For old departments in schools, each of this section and the state as a whole can show more for their time than the first year agriculture department of Wellington.

Last September, 114 boys asked to take vocational agriculture training. Out of this large number, all except 19 lived on farms. Besides, ten of this nineteen belonged to families who either rented or owned farms although living in town. We were all very when informed that only twenty-five boys could be allowed to take the agricultural course.

Seventy-five boys still was the largest number in any department in Area 1 of West Texas, including eighty-one departments. This enrollment did not keep the farm boys from soon organizing. The organization was called the Wellington Chapter of the Future Farmers of America. The following officers were elected:

President, Marshall Baxter; vice president, Bill Kelly; treasurer, Thad Trew; secretary, A. J. Fires; reporter, Hall Wells; watch-dog, Calvin Adcock; parliamentarian, Bill Langley; band leader, Frank Cook; song leader, Tommy Austin; historian, Jack Stafford.

These officers, under the leadership of their sponsor, Ronald Davis, and their president, Marshall Baxter, have done an excellent job of piloting seventy-five farm boys to a grand success as an organization of young men who are interested in the future of farming. Two chapter sweethearts were elected, Clarice Harper and Mildred Stafford. Miss Stafford was also elected district FFA sweetheart. Not only this, but in addition car stickers, jackets, and overalls showing the Future Farmer ensign were purchased. Each sweetheart was presented a book from the chapter.

The Wellington Future Farmers have even more to do than keeping highly active organization going they must also meet the requirements of their vocational agriculture classes. In the agriculture class, each boy must spend less than one and one-half hours daily studying and practicing farm jobs. Every student carries home projects on which neat and accurate records are kept and turned in to the teacher. Besides one and one-half hours class work each day, carrying on home projects, and keeping records, each boy is required to do at least ten hours on his farm which will make home a more desirable place in which to live. Having completed above requirements, the student earns not one, but one and one-half credits in high school work.

Many accomplishments have been brought about as a vocational agriculture class and Future Farmer chapter combined. The boys are at present raising hundreds of good blooded, high bred stock and have bought more than two hundred dollars worth of fostered hogs since September. The average investment in farm projects of the boys amounts to more than $65 per boy, which is a record for a chapter. Some boys have invested as much as $300 and $400 in livestock. Neat, accurate records are kept by each student and filled in the vocational agriculture room. The records show exactly what each boy paid, fed, and gained on his project.

The Future Farmers have done a great deal of class work and field work. They broadcast one radio program over the Vernon station. About twenty boys were presented on the program. They have given two interesting and worthwhile chapel programs using not less than twelve boys in each program. Also, they have put out a livestock judging team to judge in the strict livestock judging contest. This team are Marion Baumgardner, C. A. Crawford, Benton Berry, Jack Dyson, and Bob Scott. All seventy-five boys entered expository speaking in the contest held by the local chapter. The winner from the chapter reached the top rung of the ladder by taking first place in the regional FFA contests. This year was C. A. Crawford, who is an outstanding speaker. The local chapter also won first at the regional meet in the chapter conducting contest in the junior division. The team ranked second in competition with the senior teams in the Leadership Contests.

QUAIL SENIOR SPONSORS

The year 1939-40 has been one long period of activity. The Wellington chapter is almost certain it will have the honor of becoming a Lone Star Chapter. Many old chapters strive but never make the grade without intensive effort. To become a Lone Star Chapter requires leadership, cooperation, much work and a hundred other things that must be done before the eight hundred required points are made.

The chapter of Wellington began with 100 percent of its membership fees paid early in the school year. The boys have made much improvement on the school grounds and have helped beautify the football field. They planted approximately one hundred trees on the football field, pruned the trees and shrubs on the camps of the high school and east ward school, and terraced around the base of all the trees on the high school campus.

As a group of seventy-five, the boys took shovels, hoes, farm levels, tractors and trucks and worked on the pasture land belonging to Mrs. Lucy Wells. They removed cacti, contoured and listed twenty acres of pasture land. The same number of students participated in a well-organized pest eradication program conducted by Marshall Baxter, Bill Kelly, and Mr. Davis. Thousands of starlings were killed, along with several hundred rabbits, and a number of coyotes, rats, mice, hawks, sparrows and skunks. Over one million points were turned in. Calvin Adcock won highest honors by turning in 524,300 points.

Beside what has already been mentioned, the farm boys had a debating team and entered the one-act demonstration contest at the district FFA meet. Robert Baumgardner won third place in public speaking also at the district meet. Having completed so many beneficial things, the chapter has earned and has been granted one and one-half affiliated credits. Yet they still have several goals which they hope to obtain in the near future at the proper time. A charter has already been obtained from the state headquarters in Austin.

A boxing team was organized under the direction of Leo Thompson, chairman of the recreational committee. Two boxing tournaments were held—one with Memphis and one at Clarendon. The money earned in this was used to put on a successful Father and Son banquet, held April 15. Some 200 fathers, sons and guests were present.

The local Future Farmers chapter has also sponsored a string orchestra this year. This is a source of good entertainment for meetings and other social gatherings where that type of music is appropriate.

Eight honorary members have been elected by the chapter. They are Dr. E. W. Jones, John L. Beard, John Harper, Sr., Fred Cox, Sr., L. A. Manzer, Willard Reneau, Tom Campbell and Deskins Wells.

Besides their regular curricula of activities, the FFA boys are striving to obtain certificates of merit which are awards given the students doing outstanding work in certain fields. Those who entered the regional meet at Childress will be awarded certificates of merit. They are C. A. Crawford, Hall Wells, Fred Cox, Marshall Baxter, George Stafford, W. D. Aldridge, Thad Trew, Bill Kelly, George Crawford, Dane Sisk, and A. J. Fires. Benton Berry and Melvin Kiker and several others are trying for one of these awards in technical fields of agriculture. These certificates of merit are highly prized by any FFA boy.

The accomplishments of the Wellington Future Farmers which we have mentioned were planned at the first of the year and have been carried out through the cooperation of the members. A few of the objectives yet to be finished before next September are:

- (1) Send two boys to Houston to the State FFA convention.
 - (2) Send two boys to the American Royal at Kansas City, Mo.
 - (3) Put up large signs at the entrance to Wellington on each highway.
 - (4) Continue having our regular monthly meetings during the summer.
 - (5) Enter a softball team in the Wellington Softball League.
 - (6) Try to take a summer vacation together, going as far as the Gulf of Mexico and seeing some of the scenic spots of Texas.
- The boys also plan to boost their honorary member, Deskins Wells, who is a candidate for Congress by writing to other chapters in this congressional district.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Claunch and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Farmer and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Claunch over the week end.

Those attending the quarterly conference at Salt Fork Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pierce, Mrs. Noal Pierce and Wynoal, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pearson and Hazel, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Winegeart, Ina Mae, Oletha Ruth and Juanita Winegeart.

Miss Annie Fern Dorsey of Wellington spent the week end with Ina Mae Winegeart.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Depauw and son, Bryan, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pierce. Mrs. Depauw and son were on their way home from Oklahoma City, where Bryan is under the care of a doctor because of a broken arm he received several weeks ago.

League services were not held Sunday night on the account of the graduation services at Quail. Everyone is invited to come for services on the coming Sunday night.

Mrs. Bert Weaver and Barbara Bess visited with Mrs. J. W. Pearson and with Mrs. E. G. Pierce Friday afternoon.

LILLIE

By MRS. G. D. THOMAS

Most everyone in Lillie community was present at the grade school program at Quail Friday night. School will close this week at Quail.

Miss Lorene Young of Petersburg, Texas, is visiting this week with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Maxwell.

Mrs. C. S. Graham was taken to a hospital Tuesday for medical treatment. She was brought home Thursday. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Long visited in the G. D. Thomas home Sunday evening.

Miss Wanda Carrender of Bray spent Wednesday night with Delia Pearl Bell.

Mrs. Lon Johnson of Hamlin, Tex., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brown this week end.

Mrs. G. D. Thomas and son returned Tuesday from visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ashton of Abernathy, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lowe and Mrs. J. M. Lowe and Miss Novia Lowe attended the graduation exercises at Wayland College Saturday. Miss Letha Lowe finishes there this term.

Cliff Allen went to Wichita Falls Sunday night to enter a hospital, where he will receive medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Woodman of Rolla visited in the G. F. Bell home Sunday.

Mrs. Zook Thomas returned Sunday from Ralls, after visiting with her mother, Mrs. Bennett, for the last week.

Community Picnic Will End Lone Mound School

Lone Mound School is celebrating the closing of school with an all community picnic Friday, May 25, at the Elm Creek picnic grounds. A crowd of more than a hundred patrons and pupils is expected to attend this annual event, according to G. L. Stanley, principal.

Outstanding among the school's activities this year was a trip to Amarillo two weeks ago in which all of the students and a dozen patrons went through more than twenty commercial plants and other business institutions. The group also rode a modern train to Canyon, Texas, where they visited the Panhandle Plains Historical Society Museum. One of the train officials, acting as a guide, took the group entirely through the train and explained the modern transportation facilities available.

Through the combined efforts of Earl Barber, Cortez Barnett, and Rufus Massey, members of the Lone Mound School board, and the county superintendent a WPA grant for a new school building was secured. Construction will begin immediately upon the close of school so that the building will be completed in time for the fall school term. Arrangements are also being completed for a Rural Electrification Project line and a water system.

Five hundred trees including apricot, Chinese elm, desert willow, and ash were set out on the school grounds by the Reforestation Service. Plans for landscaping including terracing, rock curbing, resodding and the construction of tennis and basketball courts will be completed next year. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Stanley have been re-elected for next year.

Girls Active In Athletics

In basketball, the Quail girls started with only one player who lettered the previous season, Janice Grigsby. Twenty inexperienced players, ten of whom were Freshmen, tried for places on the team.

In spite of losing ten out of eighteen games, and being outscored 195 points to 165 points per game, the team showed wonderful improvement and was winning frequently, if not constantly, by the close of the season.

Highlights of the season were the wins over the strong Kelton team, and a one-point margin over the state championship Allison sextet. This was the first win for Quail over Allison in history of their competition.

Stronger teams were scheduled during the past season than usual, including Briscoe and Allison, the 1939 A.A.U. state champions, and consolation winner of Nation tournament. The Quail girls participated in three tournaments, Kelton, Canadian and Quail.

All except two of the entire squad will be eligible next year and twelve will have at least two more years of eligibility.

Eight girls were awarded letters which is the customary number although each player was crowded by one or more aspirants for their positions who did not letter. Fifty-four girls participated in the intramural contest in which the Freshmen won first, Sophomores second, and Juniors third. This proves that good material is coming.

In volleyball the entire squad was lost, but about fifteen inexperienced players are being developed. Two intramural volleyball tournaments were held.

In playground ball, the girls won second, losing to Wellington.

An intramural tennis tournament is now in progress. About 25 girls are participating. Considerable interest is being stimulated in tennis and in two or more years Quail is expected to have some winning tennis teams.

Red Rockets Beat Irish In Slugfest Sunday

The Wellington Red Rockets cut loose Sunday with a batting assault that took them for an 11 to 5 win over the Shamrock Irish baseball team on the Wellington diamond at the old fair grounds.

This was the first scheduled game for the season. Although the playing was somewhat wild in the early innings, it soon settled down to a type of playing which reminded local fans of ball teams here in former years.

Outstanding players on the team came into evidence early—Pitcher Tabers from Dodson, getting back into his old style of winning. Son Strong caught a good game, throwing out two runners on second and collecting four hits for four times at bat. One of these was good for a home run.

Pee Wee Miller at shortstop also was perfect, getting three runs for three times at bat, including a homer. Lewis Morris and Ira Brisbin played their regular style of ball.

The box score for the game is as follows:

	ab	r	h
Brisbin, m.	4	2	2
W. Wilson, 2	5	2	2
Stafford, 1	5	2	2
Morris, 3	5	2	3

on the cut-off road between Floydada and Abernathy.

John Alf Thomas, 14-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, was sleeping behind the seat of the car, a late model coupe, and although the glass from the shattered windshield fell over him and his bed, he escaped without scratches.

Mr. Thomas stated that the barrel bounced off the truck just as the two vehicles were even. Although highway officers investigated the case they were unable to learn the identity of the driver of the truck.

Fourteen stitches were taken in Mrs. Thomas' head, and she was confined to a Plainview hospital a day and a night, and to her bed at home for five additional days. Six stitches were taken to close the cut in Mr. Thomas' forehead.

1,400 Farm Plan - to last year.

To date, an estimated 1400 farmers of Collingsworth county have used the assistance of AAA committees in working out farm plans to cover their 1940 farming operations, according to Mr. Griffin.

"The farm plans already worked out indicate that small farmers, more than ever before, are taking advantage of the conservation provisions of the AAA program to carry out the practices most needed on their farms," Mr. Griffin said.

"AAA payments made to farmers to help them carry out conservation practices do not begin to represent the true value of such practices," Griffin added. "For every dollar paid out for soil-building practices under the AAA farm program, it is estimated that the farm income will be increased by several dollars as a result of the increased productivity of the soil."

Census Report For District 23 Is Given

That only four of the 31 incorporated towns in Census District 23 have increased in population during the last ten years was revealed late last week in a report from the district office in Pampa. The four towns are Borger, Canadian, Matador and Roaring Springs.

The population count for Dodson was released at this time, with a total of 354 residents, as compared to 426 ten years ago.

The preliminary county for the towns of this district, including the 1930 and 1940 figures follows:

Norwood Seniors Visit Fort Worth

Their annual outing this year took the seniors of the Samnorwood High School on a trip to Fort Worth, Dallas and Denton, and included a two-night stay in a cabin at Lake Worth, as the guests of business man of that town. They left Friday, May 10 and returned the following Sunday.

Accompanied by their sponsors, Mrs. Dee Coleman, the high school principal, Paul Morris, and their bus driver, L. C. Pharis, the seniors spent most of the time in Fort Worth, where they visited botanical gardens, zoo, Fort Worth Star Telegram, a radio station, the packing house and airport. Only brief stops were made at Dallas and Denton.

Making the trip were Ima Willoughby, Victor Deger, Louis Berg, Oliver Wischkaemper, Erma Fae Jeffers, Maxie Honeycutt, Mae Jean Fritts, John Harold Cunningham, Estelle Clay, Eugene Morrow, Lorin Jolley, Naomi Clark, Lillie Mae Honeycutt, Ruby Hiett, Juanita Robertson, Louise Montgomery, Lora Hill, Ola Honeycutt, Joe Alex Coleman, Pauline Hiney, LaVona Willingham, Edgar Wischkaemper, and Norman DeBord, seniors; and Mrs. Coleman, Mr. Morris and Mr. Pharis.

Neff Honors American Flag

Paying tribute to the American flag and explaining its meaning and significance, the Hon. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University, spoke before members of the Rotary club and their guests, at a luncheon meeting Friday, May 17.

Mr. Neff stated that the United States was the only country whose flag had never during its history changed.

More than a million men have their lives in defense of the American flag in the seven wars which the United States has waged.

Referring to the world political situation, Mr. Neff urged a great respect for the flag by citizens of the country.

The American flag does not represent the American soldier, it represents the American people. (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

SAMNORWOOD GRADUATES FOR 1940

The last group of seniors in the county to get their diplomas will be the Samnorwood boys and girls, whose commencement exercise is set for June 3. All of the regular senior activities, plus a trip to Dallas and Fort Worth, have been a part of their graduation. Pictured in the top row are, left to right, Pauline Rainey, Margaret Ellen Cleveland, Victor Deger, Juanita Robertson, Eugene Morrow, Mae Jean Fritts, and Louis Berg. DENTON.—Miss Frances Stevenson of Wellington is planning to attend Texas State College for Women for the coming school year 1940-41, according to college authorities who have entered her room. (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

Members of the faculty for 1940-41 were announced late last week by E. G. Sanders, superintendent.

Mr. Sanders had previously been elected for a two-year term.

In addition to Mr. Sanders, the faculty will include Mrs. Jeanette Ellerd, primary work; Miss Kathryn McMinn, second grade; Mrs. (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

O. C. Allen Will Teach In Pampa

O. C. Allen, commercial arts teacher in the Wellington High School for the last four years, has resigned his position here to accept a similar place in the Pampa system, it was announced. (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

L. C. Hill Will Receive Degree At University Of Texas

Luther Creed Hill of Wellington is one of the two hundred sixteen candidates for the degree of bachelor of business administration to be conferred at the June 3 commencement of the University. (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

Closing Activities Of Three Schools Listed

Closing activities of three consolidated and independent schools of the county will fill the remaining days of May, announcements from the various superintendents indicated early this week.

All Wellington school activities have ended, one each of the other three high schools will close during the coming three weeks.

Highlights of each of these is the senior commencement. First of these commencements scheduled is that at Quail, set for Thursday evening, May 23. Dodson's commencement is set for Friday evening, May 31, while on Monday, June 3, the commencement will be held at Samnorwood.

County One Of Group Getting Wheat Indemnity

COLLEGE STATION.—Indemnity payments on wheat farms suffering total losses of their 1940 crops are underway, according to reports from the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation state office in Amarillo.

Six claims for adjustment have been received in the office and the insured farmers have collected their indemnities, Earnest Duke, state supervisor, has announced. Their crops were totally destroyed by drought, wind erosion, or other insurable hazards, he explained, the loss resulting from forces beyond the control of the producers. Other claims have been received and are under consideration.

The territory which apparently is suffering the greatest number of losses includes Collingsworth, Wheeler, Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Sherman, Moore and Hansford county, the supervisor said. In most cases the wheat did not receive sufficient moisture to get the wheat up prior to the snows in the latter part of December with the result that it came up, if at all, in the latter part of February and the first of March.

I. M. Smith House Replaced Near Quail Community

The house occupied by I. M. Smith, who lives south of Quail, which was destroyed by fire when struck by lightning April 25, has been replaced by a house moved to the farm from Memphis by Mat Lane, owner of the place.

The house is now being modernized.

Mr. Smith, with his family, moved to this county two years ago from Rome, Ga. He is working the Lane place for the second year.

Saying that he likes to live here much better than in Georgia, Mr. Smith added, "I never want to move back east where you have to walk behind a Georgia Stock. It's much cheaper to farm in this country because you don't have to buy fertilizer."

Thirteen Births Listed In April

Thirteen births were listed in Collingsworth County during April, a check of the office records of Justice of the Peace H. A. Phillips revealed.

Of these births, six were girls and seven boys. One birth reported was that of a colored child.

The list of births includes:

Wanda Ray Goforth, to Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Goforth, April 1; James Glen Warrick to Mr. and Mrs. Velman Warrick, April 2; Bennie Ray Reeves, to Mr. and Mrs. George B. Reeves, April 13; Alburn Wilson Wheeler, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wheeler, April 1; Raynold Wayne Cummings, to Mr. and Mrs. James Fred Cummings, April 24; Nancy Ellen Allen, to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Allen, April 25; Curtistine Fulcher, to Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Fulcher, April 24; Reginald Lee Scott, to Mr. and Mrs. Ocie L. Scott, April 22; Jerry Lee Ware, to Mr. and Mrs. Artie Lee Ware, April 24; Jerry Don Crews, to Mr. and Mrs. Mose Calvin Crews, April 26; Jamie Margaret Martindale, to Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Martindale, (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

Baccalaureate services for the Quail seniors were held Sunday night, May 19, with Rev. Joe Findley, pastor of the First Christian Church in Memphis as speaker. Seventh grade graduating exercises of this school are set for Wednesday evening, May 22, with Rep. Eugene Worley of Shamrock as speaker, according to Carl Chaudoin.

The senior graduation will be held Thursday evening. Dr. Harris M. Cook, Dean of Men of West Texas State College, Canyon, will be the principal speaker. Details of this program were announced last week.

Rev. E. Brand, pastor of the Baptist Church at Dodson, will deliver the baccalaureate address at that place Sunday evening, May 26. The program for this event is now being worked up, and in addition to Rev. Brand's talk, special music will be rendered.

The Dodson commencement is scheduled for Friday evening, May 31. A speaker for this occasion has not been definitely decided upon, but will include some outstanding personage from this section. Special music will be given. R. A. Covey will deliver the valedictory and Miss Ruby Hodel the salutatory address. Special awards will be given out by Louis Spencer, while Gilbert Hunt, president of the school board, will give out the diplomas.

Preceding these senior events, the grade school graduation exercises will be held Wednesday, May 29, with approximately 20 students taking part. On the following day, Thursday, a school picnic has been planned, according to Jack Davis, superintendent.

A school picnic, scheduled for Friday, May 31, will be one of the important events of the Samnorwood closing activities. E. G. Sanders, superintendent, has announced. On Friday evening, members of the seventh grade class will receive their diplomas. Alan Kavanaugh, county superintendent of Wheeler County, will be the principal speaker at this occasion.

The senior baccalaureate services will be held Sunday, June 2, with Rev. Vernie Pipes, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Shamrock as the principal speaker. Other numbers on the program will include:

Processional, Miss Elizabeth Ireland.

Invocation, Rev. Bill Bruce.

Song, "Awakening Chorus," by the choir.

Scripture reading, Rev. O. C. Coppage.

Song, "Come Thou Almighty King," Choir.

Seniors Visit Medicine Park On Annual Outing

Members of the Quail Senior Class made their regular annual outing over the week end when they visited Medicine Park, near Lawton, Okla. The group left Friday and returned Sunday.

Fun was provided by swimming and skating, and Saturday evening the group was entertained with a dinner on the roof garden of one of the hotels.

Accompanying the seniors were Mrs. Ira Morgan, Mrs. Harry Palmer, Mrs. Horace Hyde, H. A. McMinn, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chaudoin.

QUAIL SENIOR SERIES

Billye and Bennye Dodson

The Dodson twins, Billye and Bennye, have lived in the "big city" of Quail most all their lives. They were born at Lane April 24, 1923.

Although they are supposed to be twins, their friends can hardly believe it because they are as different as night and day.

Billye, our Quail tomboy, has now turned her interest to commercial work. Her favorite subject is typing. She has a broad smile for everyone and is an inspiration to all who have the pleasure of knowing her.

Bennye, like her sister, has her good points. However, Bennye's mind is not exactly in harmony with that of her sister. She is interested in music and has a beautiful voice. She is active in school work and church work. Her greatest desire is to attend Kansas City Conservatory.

As to what college they will attend, they have not definitely decided.

Norman Morgan

Norman Morgan is the all-important fellow of the Senior Class. You see, it just happens that he is the president of his class and is also president of the Student Council.

Norman was born July 25, 1922. He has brown hair and eyes and is six feet tall. He has never attended any school but Quail. He has not fully made up his mind as to whether or not he will attend school next year, but if he does, he will go to Texas Tech, in Lubbock.

Sylvia Brown

Are all of you acquainted with the midget of the senior class? She is very small, has blond hair and gray eyes. Of course you know who we are talking about. It is none other than Sylvia.

Sylvia was born in Petrolis, Texas, October 4, 1922. She has attended three different schools, Wellington, King, and Quail. She is going to do nothing but rest the first year she is out of school and after that she will plan for the future.

Beatrice Ewing

If you see a teeny-weeny little girl with dark brown hair and hazel eyes hanging around the commercial room, that's Botchy. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ewing and she was born at Proctor, where she spent the first eight years of her life, including two school years.

In 1930 the family moved to McKnight where Beatrice went to school for the sum total of two months. The family then moved to Quail, and except for the two above schools, Botchy has gained her education in the Quail schools.

After graduating from high school she plans to enter business school—and she won't be a "green hand" at it either.

Nelmer Riley

Are you acquainted with our girl sports reporter? It is none other than Nelmer Riley. She came into this world July 22, 1922. Although she is a senior, she has never ventured into but two schools, Central View and Quail.

Nelmer has blond hair, blue eyes, is five feet seven and one-half inches tall. Her pet subject is civics. Nelmer's plans for the future are to attend a beauty school and prepare herself to be a beauty operator.

Farrel Rippetoe

On November 12, 1923, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Rippetoe of the Cottonwood community, seven miles north of Wellington. This son was named Farrel. This same son, this year is valedictorian of the Quail senior class.

In 1929, he entered school at Cottonwood. After attending that school a year, he went to school at Wellington half a year, then back to Cottonwood, where he went until Quail was consolidated. The seventh grade and all of his high school days were spent at Quail.

He doesn't know what he wants to do, but he says radio is mighty tempting.

Bennie Rea Bass

Everyone knows the big blue eyes. She is the daughter of Mrs. H. A. McMinn. She was born in Childress County October 6, 1921.

She attended school at Kirkland seven and one-half years.

Bonnie is one of the outstanding heart-breakers of Quail High School, and she was also selected one of the students to be in Who's Who among Texas Seniors. She likes all of her subjects, but her favorites are typing and civics.

Bonnie hasn't decided what she will do in the future, but if she attends school it will be at Texas Tech.

Bill Depauw

On April 29, 1920, one more life was added to the many thousands of this world. He is rather an interesting person when you come to know him.

Bill has attended school at Ma-rella and Quail. He thinks that school is a little dull and says he will try to farm instead of going to school next year. Well, after all, Bill, everything isn't learned in a school room.

Edwin Sanders

In the senior class there is a boy who answers to this description. He was born April 25, 1921. He attended school at Dozier, Wellington and Quail. He has light brown hair and blue eyes and is very fond of sports of any type. His greatest desire is to become a college coach.

His plans are to attend school next year, but he is undecided as to where he will enter.

From these bits of information you would readily guess that Edwin Sanders is the subject.

Vonceil Rippetoe

Vonceil was born March 17, 1920—a St. Patrick's Day baby. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Rippetoe. She has attended school at Cottonwood, Wellington and Quail.

Vonceil thinks that planning the future can be left to some future date, but we'll bet that whatever she does will be something worthwhile.

Inez Proctor

Inez Proctor, one of our most individual seniors, came to Quail from McKnight last fall. She spent her freshman year in the Dallas schools and held the office of class president. The last two years she has spent in the Hedley High School. She was class reporter in her sophomore year and Homemaking reporter and assistant literary editor of the "Sombrero" in her junior year.

This is her first year at Quail but she is holding her place among the headlights of her class, having been chosen parliamentarian for the FHT, given a place to work in the office, and chosen as a character in the senior play, and then as a crowning event elected Literary Editor of the "Echo."

Inez is seventeen years old, weight 110, is five feet seven inches tall. She has dark blue eyes, red hair and a few freckles which she is very proud of.

Inez usually has a sweet disposition, but when she does get mad things begin to "pop."

Gerald Carmack

He is very short with dark hair and blue eyes. He is a senior in high school and seems to be doing pretty well in every way.

He is active in sports. He plays baseball, tennis, basketball and many other games.

I don't know of anyone who doesn't like him because he is a good sport, and is considerate of others. He usually has his fun in one way or another.

He is one of the busiest boys in school. He writes articles for four papers. He was elected managing editor of the Echo for this year.

This big-little boy is also salutatorian of the senior class. He plans to attend college at Texas Tech.

He is the baby of the senior class. Do you know whom I am referring to? You guessed it. It is Gerald Carmack.

Novia Lowe

Everyone likes beautiful brown eyes. You'll like the owner of those eyes too—Novia Lowe. She has a marvelous personality, brown hair, is 18 years old, weighs 108 pounds, is five feet tall. She is very active in her school work, especially homemaking.

Future plans are to be a beauty operator, and she hopes she will have a shop of her own.

Wanda Cavender

Have you met the secretary of the senior class? She hails from Bray and no one in school can beat her in handwriting. She is 18 years old, is five feet three inches tall, has blue eyes and blonde hair. She has been a faithful worker and we want to say, Wanda, keep sailing on.

Doyle Messer

Who is that handsome senior boy that has won the hearts of all the girls in high school? He has brown hair, blue eyes, weight 135 lbs., is five feet eight and one-half inches tall and is 17 years old.

He likes pretty girls and sports. He dislikes sandstorms and gossip. He plans to attend school at Lubbock.

Oh, yes, I forgot—his name is Doyle Messer.

Ada Lee Gladnev

Look down the senior class roll and see if you can find a girl that this description will fit. She has black hair, brown eyes, is five feet seven inches tall, weighs 137 pounds, and hails from Cottonwood. Certainly! It is none other than Ada Lee Gladnev.

She likes music, art, and poetry—and, well, she doesn't dislike anything. Her future plans are to attend a business college.

Hillary Weaver

Hillary was born December 25, 1920. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Weaver. He is five feet, eight inches tall and has brown hair, green eyes and weighs 140 pounds.

Hillary likes agriculture and has taken great part in agriculture, having represented Quail on the judging team.

He dislikes English. He does not know what he will do in the future but would like to go to college.

Cecilia Harris

Cecilia was born March 27, 1924, at Hedley, Texas. Ring and Quail have been her only alma maters. Cecilia is better known as Punk at Quail High. She has lovely blue eyes and brown hair. She is sixteen years of age, five feet four inches and weighs 104 pounds.

She likes handsome boys (especially one), shows, parties and she dislikes gossip and sandstorms. She says her next alma mater is going to be Tech, but we know better than that for she is going to settle down and raise a family.

Pete Dowell

Who is this large boy in the school who has a smile for everyone? It is none other than Pete (Continued on Page Seven)

SAMNORWOOD SENIOR SERIES

Ola Lue Honeycutt

"There's our chapter sweetheart," boast the F. F. A. boys. She not only is but also held the same position last year.

Ola Lue Honeycutt was born October 13, 1922, to Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Honeycutt at Shamrock.

Although Lone Mound gave Ola her first year of high school work, Samnorwood has rounded off the rough place in the other three. Ola was treasurer of the Sophomore class and vice president of the junior year. She has been reporter to the school paper two years, member of F. H. T. and served one year as student council representative. She has spent three years playing basketball and was one of the senior candidates for the queen of Samnorwood Basketball Team of 1940.

Ola plans to attend West Texas State Teachers College in the future, but her plans are not complete. Regardless, Ola, we wish your future to be as bright as your past.

Lora Hill

On June 29, 1920, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hill became the proud parents of a girl, Lora. Since then Lora has changed a wee bit from her baby stage to a popular member of the Senior Class of 1940.

During this time Lora has played four years of basketball, was secretary of Freshman class and has decided Home Making is her favorite subject.

Although she has not as yet decided upon her vocation for life we are all sure Lora will be a tremendous success at whatever she may undertake.

Burnice Louise Montgomery

Louise, one of the little girls of our class, was born March 4, 1922, to Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Montgomery of Samnorwood, Texas.

Porter, New Mexico, Plymouth, and Samnorwood are responsible for the education that Louise has received.

The Glee Club has claimed Louise one year, while the Home Making Club has claimed her two years, vice-president one year. Although Louise's favorite subjects are English, Home Making, and history, she plans to go to the Business College at Dallas, Texas, and major in Business Administration and become, (I'll bet you can't guess) a secretary. Louise, when you get to be secretary to some "Big Man" we will ask for an appointment.

Thelma Juanita Robertson

Although she is not a native Texan, Thelma Juanita Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Robertson, is certainly a loyal scout to her school. She was born at Granite, Oklahoma, September 27, 1923. Buck Creek, Aberdeen, and Samnorwood are responsible for her education.

Juanita is a member of Student Council from the Senior Class. She favors Commercial Law and Commercial Arithmetic, and General Business. She played basketball and playground ball in her Freshman year.

Although her college plans have not been completed, Juanita wants to enter Civil Service as a profession. So go luck and when you become a "big shot" in Washington, D. C., we'll all be up to see you.

Ruby Pearl Hiatt

On July 22, 1922, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hiatt received a blessing in the form of a baby girl whom they named Ruby Pearl because she really was a little gem.

Ruby went to school seven years at Lone Mound and one and one-half years at Wellington and then three and one-half years at Samnorwood. Her favorite subjects are English and typing.

She has been a member of the Glee Club at Samnorwood one year and the Home Economics Club at the same place, and the Good English Club at Wellington.

Ruby plans to attend a business college at Dallas next year and major in Business Administration, and then become a secretary for her life's work.

We all know she will make a success of her life if she gets along with everybody else as she has with the boys at Samnorwood. When speaking of Ruby the boys say: "She must have been a beautiful baby for baby look at you now!"

Lillie Mae Honeycutt

Here is "big sister" of the Honeycutt girls. Lillie Mae Honeycutt began her career on April 5, 1921 at Shamrock, Texas. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Honeycutt of Dozier, Texas. Samnorwood claims the honor of giving Lillie her high school education while Lone Mound claims her other years of work. Home Making and English are her favorite subjects while basketball is her favorite sport in which she participated two years.

New Power Source

With this complicated apparatus, a mass spectrometer, Dr. Alfred O. C. Nier, 27, above, University of Minnesota, physicist, isolated "U-235," one of the forms of uranium. It explodes with a force 30,000,000 times that of TNT.

West Texas State Teachers College seems to be Lillie's chosen college where she plans to major in Home Economics. Lillie says she wants to be a home maker. Whether to be a teacher or a wife we wish you success.

Naomi York

And here's Samnorwood's St. Patrick candidate for queen. Naomi York, that jolly girl with the ready smile, was born May 31, 1923, to Mrs. Dollie Fletcher at Shamrock. Other than Aberdeen, Samnorwood has been her home for education.

Typing and Home Making seem to be Naomi's favorite subjects. But athletics have claimed her attention also. She has spent two years at basketball and playground ball and has quite a swing for volley ball also. She has several lessons in music, and is the pianist for the Senior Class. She has spent one year in the Glee Club and two years in Declamation at Aberdeen.

Naomi plans to attend Wichita Business College where she will train to become a secretary. May all your plans be fulfilled.

Agnes Lorine Jolly

The blond member of the Senior Class, Agnes Lorine Jolly, was born February 8, 1922, at Lutie, Texas. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Jolly.

Lorine is also one of the smartest members of the class. She was the valedictorian of the seventh grade. She has come to Samnorwood for four years. Before entering high school she went to Nicholson for two years, and to Lutie for three years.

Lorine has taken part in many sports during her high school years, playing basketball for four years, and playground ball for one year. While she has been a member of the Student Council for two years, the secretary for one year. She has also been a member of the Glee Club for one year, of the Homemaking Club for three years, and vice-president of F. H. T. Chapter, all of these at Samnorwood, Texas.

Lorine's college plans have not been completed yet, but here's hoping her success and luck in whatever profession she chooses.

Eugene Morrow

Eugene Morrow, who became the big detective who was caught napping in the senior play, was born July 16, to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Morrow at Alba, Texas.

Gene has attended school at Fairview and Cottage Hill, Texas, besides his year and half at Samnorwood.

Agriculture and science are his favorite subjects, he is a member of the F. F. A. Chapter at present.

Gene plans to attend A. and M. College where he shall study for his chosen profession—aviation. The most we can say, Gene, is "Happy Landings."

Estelle Lee Catherine Clay

Estelle Lee Catherine Clay was born October 10, 1923 at Lone Mound, Texas, to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Clay. Estelle went to school one year at Shamrock, two years at Wheeler, and three years at Dozier. Her high school work has been done in Samnorwood. Her favorite subjects are English and algebra.

She has been a member of the club, piano student, and historian of the F. H. T. Club at Samnorwood.

Estelle plans to attend West Texas State College at Canyon, majoring in elementary education.

John Harold Cunyngnam

On January 4, 1922, at Leonard, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Cunyngnam were presented with a fine boy whom they called John Harold.

John went to school at Wellington one year, Lela four years, Dozier two years, and Samnorwood four years. He was president of the Freshman class of 1936-37, vice-president of the sophomore class in 1937-38, and secretary of the Senior class of 1939-40.

John is studiously inclined and therefore his favorite subjects are English and civics. He was a member of the local chapter of the F. F. A. for two years and was vice-president of the F. F. A. chapter one year. He played basketball three years and football two years at Samnorwood.

He intends to go to Texas Technological College and major in radio engineering with the intention of becoming a radio technician.

Avis Mae Jean Fritts

Avis Mae Jean Fritts was born October 29, 1923, three miles south of Samnorwood. She went to school to Plymouth seven years and to Samnorwood four years.

Mae Jean has been an "A" student all during her school career. She was salutatorian when she graduated from the seventh grade and has been awarded scholarship medals for her Freshman, Sophomore and Junior years. She was reporter of the Senior class; reporter for the school paper for two years.

She was chosen in "Who's Who Among Texas High Schools" for two years.

Mae Jean plans to attend the West Texas State College, majoring in elementary education. Teaching is her vocational choice.

Maxie Honeycutt

Maxie Honeycutt was born at Shamrock, Texas, on March 19, 1924, to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Honeycutt. From then on she has spent most of her time in and around Samnorwood, having gone to school eight years at Lone Mound and three years here.

She played basketball and softball one year each at Lone Mound and at Samnorwood she played softball two years and basketball three years. Maxie was in the Glee Club at Samnorwood two years.

Her favorite subjects are English, spelling and typing. She plans to attend school at Draughn's Business College at Lubbock, majoring in typing and shorthand, and make stenography her life work.

Erma Fae Jeffers

The treasurer of the illustrious Senior Class of the Samnorwood

High School was born on July 6, 1923, at Quail, Texas, to Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Jeffers. They immediately named her Erma Fae and she has been called that ever since.

She has attended school eight years at Plymouth and four years at Samnorwood.

Erma Fae has capably filled the offices of R. O. H. Club, secretary in 1938 and 1939; F. H. T. Club, president in 1939-1940, and treasurer of the Senior Class of 1940.

Her favorite subject is English. She played softball two years; volleyball three years, and basketball two years and was captain of the basketball team in 1940.

Erma Fae plans to attend West Texas State College where she will major in commercial art.

Oliver Wischkaemper

Oliver Wischkaemper came into the world at Shamrock, Texas, on September 7, 1923. He attended school at Shamrock for six years; Nicholson two years, and Samnorwood four years.

He was secretary of the F.F.A. Chapter for two years, and was secretary of the Sophomore Class in 1936-37. He was vice president of the Senior Class in 1939-40. His favorite subjects are English and typing.

Oliver played Junior basketball and playground ball two years.

He plans to attend the Agricultural and Mechanical College at College Station and intends to major in economics.

Lewis Edward Berg

Louis Edward Berg was born Nov. 13, 1921 at Rhome, Texas, to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Berg. His father works on the railroad so Louis has attended several schools. He has gone 2½ years each at Bowie and Alvord and one year at Prairie View. He received his high school education at Samnorwood. Louis has been treasurer of the Samnorwood F.F.A. Chapter for one year. His favorite subjects are English, civics and history. He has played two years of Junior softball and two years of Junior basketball at Samnorwood.

Victor Deger

Victor Deger was born on Sept. 25, 1921 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, but he soon decided he liked our fair state better and came here to start to school at Lutie. He went to school there four years, and finished his elementary schooling with three years at Nicholson. He received his high school education with four years at Samnorwood.

Victor is leaving a shining record when he leaves high school. He was reporter of the freshman class and president of his sophomore, junior and senior classes. He was vice president of the F. F. A. Chapter one year and president of the Student Council one year. He wasn't lagging on the athletics either. He starred in basketball four years and in track three years.

But now his mind is running to more serious subjects he is going to school at Texas Technological College next year, where he intends to major in science.

Ima Virginia Willoughby

Here's another who is not a native of Texas, but we accept her as one of us. Ima Virginia Willoughby was born January 22, 1921, at Kim, Colo., to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Willoughby, now of Shamrock, Texas.

Ima has attended school at Samnorwood all of her school years. Her favorite subjects are English and home making.

Ima has also participated in sports, playing basketball and volleyball, each one, four years.

Ima does not plan to attend college and has not made up her mind which profession she will make her life career. But we know that whatever she does choose it will be a success.

Margaret Ellen Cleveland

From Wellington one and one-half years ago, Margaret Ellen Cleveland came to us. Of course we were proud to welcome her into our class but we did not realize just how much Wellington had lost.

Margaret Ellen was born July 6, 1923 to Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Cleveland at Wellington, has spent her school days at Wilnucker, Dodson and Wellington. During this time she was secretary and reporter of her sophomore class, secretary of F.H.T. this year, secretary and president of the 4-H Club at Wilnucker.

She plans to attend Draughn's Business College to major in typing and bookkeeping, later becoming a secretary. Good luck but beware, and don't marry your boss.

Joe Alex Coleman

Here comes a farmer for you. Joe Alex Coleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Alex Coleman, was born March 10, 1922, at Dozier, where he now resides.

Joe has gone to school at either Samnorwood or one of the ward schools all his school days.

As you have already guessed (or you should have) Joe's favorite subject is agriculture, and then English. This year he is president of the F.F.A. chapter.

He has participated in sports some, as he played basketball and playground ball. He plans to at-

Dallas, Texas, May 18 — Diversified scenery and industries of Texas as well as its historical sites are included in the 2,000 mile tour of the state which will be given forty-three school children of Texas by the Dallas Morning News and the Texas Almanac starting from Dallas on June 10. The children, including Cora Elizabeth Clark, Wellington, are winners of the Know Texas Contest sponsored by the News and the Almanac.

tend A. and M. College and major in agriculture. Good luck, Joe.

Asa Pauline Rainey

The brunette of the Senior Class, Asa Pauline Rainey, was born December 17 at Shamrock to Mr. and Mrs. Ace Rainey.

Pauline has honored Samnorwood by attending school for four years. She was secretary-treasurer of the junior class and treasurer of the home making club.

Polly has been one of the leading athletes at Norwood, taking part in basketball three years, playground and volley ball two years each. She is also somewhat of a beauty, being the Junior Class Queen, New Year's Queen and one of the candidates for Basketball Queen of 1940.

She has not decided which college she will attend, but intends to major in typing. Here's hoping her success and happiness wherever she attends school.

LaVona Willingham

LaVona Willingham, daughter of Mrs. H. K. Willingham (and incidentally the baby) arrived April 28, 1922, at Lutie. She is now living at Aberdeen.

She has spent all her school years in the Samnorwood district. She has been an active member of the Home Economics Club and Glee Club for one year. Her favorite subjects are typing and home economics.

LaVona plans to attend a business college and major in general business. She intends to make secretarial work her life's profession. Here's hoping her success.

Edgar Wischkaemper

Edgar Wischkaemper, son of Edgar Wischkaemper, was born April 13, 1922, at Shamrock.

Edgar has attended school at Shamrock, Nicholson and Samnorwood.

Edgar doesn't have any favorite subjects. He likes them all. He has played basketball and playground ball for one year.

He plans to attend A. and M. College, but has not made up his mind what profession will be chosen as his life career. Good luck, whatever it may be.

Norman Dale DeBord

Another of Samnorwood's outstanding seniors is Norman, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. DeBord, of Dozier Route, Shamrock.

Norman was born Sept. 16, 1923, at Snyder, Okla. He has attended school at Fairview, Okla., and Plymouth before coming here five years ago.

Literature and history are his favorite subjects, but he has gone in extensively for sports, including four years of softball and four of basketball.

For his chosen profession, he names aviation, although he hasn't decided just where he'll get his training in this line.

California fig trees were a failure until the state imported a Southern European spider that would do the pollination.

West Texas Utilities

FORTY years ago there were few women who didn't know the back-breaking misery of doing a family washing over a tub and a washboard.

Today, few women have that experience.

What made the change? First of all, someone said,
"Something ought to be done about it."

In those words you have the real slogan of America.
Great inventions, great industries, great social benefits result from Americans' deep desire for better living. The electrical industry, for example, was founded by Thomas A. Edison, a man who spent his entire life looking for better ways to do certain things; and today the people of your electric company carry on in the Edison tradition. They belong to the great army of workers—engineers, scientists, linemen, managers and many others—who give the United States the finest, cheapest electric service in the world. Yet they continue their tireless efforts to improve the quality of electric service and to reduce its cost.

Within the last fifteen years, these employees have done their work so well that this company has been able to cut the unit price of electricity just about in half. That means you can now use electric light, a radio, electric refrigerator, washing machine, vacuum cleaner and toaster for a total operating cost very little, if any, higher than you used to pay for light alone.

The aim of your electric company's employees is always to give you better service at less cost. Foremost in their minds is the thought,
"Something ought to be done about it."

Invite a Visitor to West Texas in 1940

We have many things of which to be proud in West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity." Agricultural and industrial growth; sites of scenic beauty and historical significance; great natural resources; fine highways; splendid educational institutions, and a delightful all-year climate. When you write friends in other states, invite them to visit West Texas on their 1940 vacation trip.

SANNORWOOD

The Supervised Practice Program is divided into divisions in the Class of Vocational Agriculture, the Project Program and Supervised Practice Jobs. The Project program is intended to give practical means of learning the vocation of farming and a way to grow into farming. The Supervised Practice jobs are those jobs extra of projects that are a means of learning improved practice application. The Samnorwood Chapter has been very fortunate during the last few years in developing the project program. It is the desire of the writer at this point to give a report of one outstanding member's project program, namely Frank Gully of the Lurie community.

In 1936 Frank entered the Vocational Agriculture class full of life and expecting life to be a path of roses. Frank had two possible vocations picked out for life. To become an electrical engineer and second to become a farmer. Many people discouraged him in both. The writer tried to give him the good and bad sides of both vocations, saying, "Frank, you will have to decide which, as I do not know which you should do."

Frank started 1936-1937 school year off with the following project program, Cotton for Lint 3 acres, which he completed.

By the second year Frank began to grow in his liking for the profits from his first year and planned a better project program which consisted of pigs for pork, 8, one gilt for pigs, and milo for grain, one acre. Frank was again blessed with some profits which gave him a new enthusiasm for better planning for the third year.

By the end of the third year Frank completed six projects for a labor income of $379.03 and had done dozens of supervised practice jobs for experience. The projects completed were two calves for beef, fifteen shoats for pork, 30 acres cotton for lint, 25 acres milo for grain, twelve acres sorghum for roughage, and sixteen acres sudan and johnson grass for grazing for his cows.

This set of projects is possible because Frank rented nearby land. The labor income of $489.28 is very short of the requirements for the American Farmer degree. Frank hopes to complete the requirements and make application next year. A boy must have made $500 for the American Farmer degree.

The project program that Frank has planned for the 1939-1940 year are given below:

Cotton for lint, 36 acres; milo for grain, 30 acres; sorghum for bundles, 20 acres; cows for calves, Jerseys, 15; calves for cows, Hereford, 2; cows for calves, Hereford, 10.

It is possible for many of the boys to have been successful and grown into farming as Frank has if they study the Agricultural situation and take advantage of the opportunities as they come and look for some if they do not appear. Then some dads can proudly say as he is saying, "My son is making more off his farm than I am off mine, and I am proud of it for I want my son to do better than I." It is by settling the young life on the farm that we can reduce the relief need of the city. We need rural leadership and these young farmers are to be the leaders of tomorrow and must learn young how to do many of the things that we as parents have not had the opportunity to learn early in life. I have in mind the problem of Record Keeping. Frank knew he made the labor income for he had the record of the expense item by item. Figuring the per hour pay he received from his projects we find that he was paid an average of $1.46 cents per hour for each hour that he put in on his projects.

W.H.S. Senior Class Prophecy

In the year 2000 A. D. the most popular vacation spot anywhere in a radius of 8,000,000 miles from the earth was the planet Saturn, particularly in the spring and summer when every member of the solar system was shining as only a yellow 2000 A. D. planet or star could shine. So it is not difficult to determine why after pushing various switches and gadgets, I was prepared to take a vacation myself. On the night of April 19, to the light of a full moon, I boarded a huge silver rocket ship and shot gaily over the horizon toward Saturn.

Imagine my surprise in stepping from the plane to find Billie Jean Smith the head air hostess, who did the parachute jumps for her personal enjoyment.

In an ultra-modern beauty salon Helen Kelly and Lillian McKinney gave permanents to Mexican hairless dogs.

Charles Ray Carpenter, failing to realize his ambition as a theatre manager, owned a marionette show.

Irene Ball finally decided to drive a yellow cab instead of a yellow pickup—there was more profit in it.

Eugene McGuire's latest book was "Milly of the Mountains," as great a success as "Gone With the Wind."

Juanita Fulton taught a class on the "Value of a Sense of Humor." Howard Gholson had just finished the designs for an automobile, which was highway-cop-proof—unless you got caught.

S. A. Combs and Ed White were mechanical engineers in a toy factory.

Denzil Bevers and O. D. Holton were the most popular picadors at the bull fight.

Edna Joyce Gribble wrote the weather report for the "New York Times."

A. J. Fires and Ray Watson owned two famous dude ranches. Loeva Koen was a teacher of Home Economics in the Saturn High School.

Boyd Williams and Sam Lindley were coaching a troupe of trained fleas in football and basketball.

R. W. Cunningham owned a fine string of polo ponies.

Clara Frances Dunson led an all girls' orchestra promoted by Keith Smith, called "Smith's Specialties."

Tommy Austin was a physical education instructor in an insane asylum.

Antoinette Thomas was pictured in an advertisement for a blond hair rinse.

After a 30 years' engagement, John Calvin and Audie decided that they were meant for each other.

other.

At a "Silly Symphony" the piano playing of Hall Wells was featured.

Jeanette Johnson and Helen Pierce were two secretaries who had the reputation of never falling in love with the boss.

Marshall Baxter sold henna hair dye, telling the ladies that it was through this wonderful solution that he obtained his colorful crown.

The orchestra leader, R. L. Porter, had just written a Hit-Parade song, "Symphony in X, Y, Z."

Frances Stevenson controlled a library where a complete edition of Rhymes by Mother Goose was available.

Quinton Brewer was commonly known as the "man who wouldn't frown."

Jimmy Cochran was a famous doctor who believed only in patented medicines.

Bette Ellis was teaching a troupe of jitterbugs how to walk.

Robert Belew was working in the patent office so he could keep up with the times.

Elise Childress was a famous comedian.

To my surprise J. E. Warrick was teaching public speaking. J. E. certainly got plenty of practice in school.

Joe Smith at last found that you can't get along with ten girls at once, so he was going with only nine.

Clarice Harper's smile was seen in current magazines in tooth paste advertisements.

A gust of wind passed by. Someone said it was Cloice Roberts on his super-speed motorcycle.

Pearl Ford had finally realized her ambition as the tallest living lady.

Joe Willoughby had a stand on the corner where for five cents an hour he would argue with anybody who felt like arguing. Could he possibly have got any practice with the teachers in W.H.S.?

At a Believe It Or Not exposition Margaret Higdon was featured as the girl with lightest blue eyes.

Thad Trew owned a popcorn machine which made a clear profit of five dollars a week.

Mona Faye Easter was a famous sculptor. She had just returned from a tour of Europe.

George Stafford was an office boy in the business firm owned by Edmund Riley. George was expecting a promotion at almost any time.

Mary Brown and Ruth Brown were owners of a firm called "Brown and Brown—Information." They could tell you anything you wanted to know on several subjects.

H. L. Peters wrote a column to the lovelorn in a weekly publication edited by Alvin Roy.

Jean and Louise Anderson were popular radio stars. They were planning a personal appearance tour of the United States.

Pete Moulton was a bouncer in an amusement joint.

Loretta Blandford and Willie May Davis were two milliners who actually made hats that looked like hats.

Melvin Kiker was a vocational agriculture teacher.

Wanda Handley was a chemist in a laboratory that she couldn't remember the name of.

Curtistine Gray was a telephone operator. That was one place where she could speak to everybody.

Audrey Yarbrough spent all of her time telling people that she was herself and not her sister.

Odin Killingsworth sang and played his guitar over a broadcasting station controlled by Olan Thomas.

Freda Wall and Cressie Davis owned a restaurant where they served excellent food.

Behind a door with the inscription James Robert Maddox, Attorney at Law, sat Bobby Maddox.

Aaron Hurst and Bill Langley were the figures in the news, having just made a non-stop flight around the world.

Calvin Adcock was a news commentator.

Beatrice Hawkins and Lora Frances Jones ran a hot dog stand on the college campus.

Deward Cook was a band instructor. R. W. Duke was his engagement manager.

Helen Nelson was the wife of a stock broker.

Imagine my surprise at finding Bobby Genusa and Elmer Carter fire chiefs. Bobby seemed to think more of his badge than he did of his job.

Olene Fuson was a popular hostess at dinner parties.

J. C. Hartman was a bookkeeper at a stock exchange building managed by Bill Kelly.

But wait—where was Helen Sue Singley? Helen Sue? Oh, between threatened trips to Reno she was living happily in Indianapolis.

Princess Anita de Braganca, whose husband was the pretender to the throne of Portugal, owns and operates a photographer's studio in New York City.

Homemakers Active At Quail

A review of the activities of the Quail homemaking department during the year reveals that this is one of the outstanding girls groups in this section.

Quail was host to the Future Homemakers of Texas for Area 1, comprising 22 Panhandle counties, at the area meeting in September. The day was spent entirely in recreation. Miss Pazdral, state advisor, was present.

In February the chapter sent 25 girls to Memphis to the district meeting of Future Homemakers. Janice Grigsby was elected president of the district. Next fall the Quail chapter will have charge of the program when the district meeting of Future Homemakers. Janice Grigsby was elected president of the district. Next fall the Quail chapter will have charge of the program when the district meets at Hedley.

In April three contestants and one chapter representative were sent to Dallas to the State Homemaking Rally. In June, 40 girls will go on their annual encampment. The Quail chapter has received much recognition for their encampment, as it is unique in its plan and the participation of such a large per cent of chapter members. The encampment for the last two years has been held at Childress, and plans are to hold this year's encampment at the same place.

With the homemaking cottage open for the second year, it is fast becoming an entertainment center of the community. Each group using the cottage donates a game. These may be borrowed for parties in the community. This year some more dishes and silver have been added. Sixty people can now be served with the china and silver in the cottage.

In April the department was honored with a visit by Miss Ruth Huey, State Director of Homemaking. With Miss Huey's visit, the department has had a visit each by the state director and state supervisor of homemaking this school term.

Despite her handicap of blindness, Mrs. Prudence Patterson of New York City will receive a bachelor of arts degree at New York University in June.

Mrs. Ruby Keeler and two daughters were guests in the home of Mrs. J. C. Breeding and Mrs. W. R. Breeding the last week.

Rev. O. C. Coppage and Mrs. Coppage were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Kincannon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Breeding and Mrs. Keeler attended a show in Shamrock Saturday night.

Wellington People Attend Veterans Hospital Opening

A group of local Legionnaires and Auxiliary members were among the 2,500 persons from five states who attended the dedication of the new million dollar Veterans hospital in Amarillo Sunday of last week.

The group heard Congressman Marvin Jones and Col. Louis A. Johnson, assistant secretary of war, in the dedication addresses. Both men had planned to be present, but the war crisis kept them in Washington at the last minute.

The hospital, according to Dr. O. E. Herndon, manager, has the best equipment known to medical science.

Among those going from here were Mrs. Guy Clay, Miss Neva Clay, Ernest Lewis, Frank Hajek, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. Lee O'Neil, Deacon Blanton.

For the 29th consecutive year we congratulate our GRADUATES

We are mighty proud of you and all you represent. We are glad that our taxes have in a measure helped to build our fine accredited school system. Your school, its faculty and the community in which you live should be congratulated for such a splendid group of young men and young women as the class of 1940. May the same courage and determination that has successfully guided this institution throughout its 29 years, be the indomitable power that motivates your life in the years to come.

PRIZES FOR THE TRUTH

At a time when truth is shackled around the world and the freedom of public utterance muzzled on every hand, it is significant that America still offers prizes for digging up the facts.

These prizes are the annual Pulitzer awards, this year given to a Waterbury, Conn., newspaper for its expose of graft in city administration that resulted in conviction of several city officials, and to a New York reporter for his stories about a judge who accepted money from litigants before him.

There was also a prize for John Steinbeck's sensational novel, "The Grapes of Wrath," spotlighting one of the countries most difficult and symptomatic problems, that of the migratory worker.

You can't imagine anything like the Pulitzer awards in Germany or Italy or Russia today where the state is the press and the "truth" is whatever the state wants it to be. Can you conceive of a German newspaper exposing Nazi graft or a Russian sheet complaining about Soviet justice?

Of course, we take the Pulitzer awards for granted here, along with "life, liberty and a pursuit of happiness." But there are signs that we have been taking too much for granted. Recently, there have been attempts to limit the freedom of the press by courts and statutes. This is a warning of the sort of thing that can happen, even here. There are people here, too, who feel there is too much freedom.

That is something to remember every time you pick up your paper. The founding fathers didn't guarantee a free press as a mere gesture, and it will take more than gestures to keep those guarantees.

SPEED IN FALLING

If one should fall from an airplane or balloon at a height however great, his velocity would never exceed 118 miles an hour at any point before reaching the ground, according to the conclusions of the Army Air Service as a result of experiments made with dummies.

This is contrary to the belief formerly held by most persons that a body continually increased its speed when falling from any distance. The fact is that this rapid increasing speed in the case of a body similar to that of a man continues only until it has fallen about 1,200 feet, after which it maintains a constant rate, due to the resistance of the air.

This discovery also explodes the theory that a person falling from a great height would lose consciousness and perhaps be dead before striking the ground, for it is well known that aviators have driven their planes more than 400 miles an hour on a straight-away course, and at much greater velocities when diving.

The knowledge that falling speed is limited is not of much practical benefit to one who falls from a great height, however, for the 118 miles an hour possible of attainment is quite sufficient to effectively put him out of business when he strikes the earth.

A LONGER LIFE SPAN

Man's span of life is growing longer. About a hundred years ago the average length of human life in America was 41 years. Today it is 60 or better, according to a survey by the research division of the Battle Creek Sanitarium.

Taking for granted that one must inevitably grow old and die within a definite span is no longer the modern conception of living, the survey indicated. This battle against human decline has made remarkable progress in recent years through important corrective and educational work.

"The so called 'wearing-out' types of diseases really are not diseases at all," Dr. Charles E. Stewart, official of the Sanitarium says in discussing the survey. "Back of a large percentage of heart trouble stomach disorders, or an inefficient liver is a deliberate or unconscious carelessness on the part of the individual in forming of life along well-ordered physical and mental living habits."

"One favorable point in progress of longevity of Americans is the realization that vacations need not and must not be overenergetic if tired nervous systems are to be properly revitalized. Mountain climbing for example, or portaging a heavy canoe is of no benefit to one who has not gradually become accustomed to the strain in advance."

A rest-vacation as advocated by the medical authorities includes outdoor sports for guests and patients who desire them. Under direction of a year round well known physical director, these sports include golf, horseback-riding, swimming and fishing.

Someone has suggested a "Think More" week. A fine idea if it would encourage folks to think more intelligently.

The Russian novelist Feodor Solobub didn't help matters much when he chose as his pen name "Kazmich Teternikov."

When a fellow gets the idea that the world owes him a living it's a pretty good sign that it doesn't.

Ab Biling of Columbus, O., told a policeman he wanted to be kicked for being drunk and the policeman obliged him.

An expert diver says a blow on a shark's dorsal fin will put it to flight. Which may be true for all we'll ever know.

A real executive is one who can handle people who knows more than he does.

Problem of Migrants Is National in Scope

WASHINGTON.—With decision of the House to conduct an investigation of the migrant worker question, the problem of the "Grapes of Wrath" people is at last recognized as national.

The House will study the situation in all states and recommend legislation.

Dust and depression and mechanization of farms first focused attention on the migratory problems several years ago. Thousands of families poured into California alone. It was their plight which inspired the best-selling novel by John Steinbeck, "The Grapes of Wrath," which has just been given the Pulitzer prize, still another recognition of the national character of the problem.

Consider the aspects of the question.

The Farm Security Administration estimates there are at least 350,000 American families, representing more than 1,000,000 persons, now living in the "deplorable" conditions of the migrant worker. These migrants are in every state, but their problem is especially acute in the truck and fruit farming sections of Florida, California, Texas and New Jersey; the cotton growing regions of Texas, Arizona and Missouri. The problem is likewise acute in the sugar beet areas of Colorado, Oregon, Idaho and Washington.

There is no "hired man" relationship between these migrants and their employers, often big-time corporations with cable addresses and skyscraper offices. When the job's done the migrant is expected to move on. The big farms say their responsibility ends with the job, but the migrants have no place to go. So they stick, and often there is violence.

Wherever the responsibility lies, the life of the migrant is hard. Jobs are scarce, short-lived. A study by the Resettlement Administration showed the average annual earnings of the migrant about $250, and between $450 and 500 for a family. A study of 750 migratory cases in California revealed an average annual income of $289.

Nor is the low income the chief factor. The perpetual moving is especially hard on children who must miss school and community relationships. Moreover, when migrants move into a community likely they will be treated as outcasts.

Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance

(Editor's Note: The following is one of a series of articles prepared by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Board field office.)

WHO GETS LUMP-SUM DEATH PAYMENTS?

The revised old-age and survivors insurance program provides for lump-sum death payments under certain circumstances. If a wage earner who was insured dies after January 1, 1940, and leaves no survivor entitled to a monthly benefit at that time, a lump-sum death payment may be made to the widow or widower or children or parents. It must be remembered that when an insured worker dies leaving a widow who is then 65 years old or older or a younger widow with minor children in her care, she will receive monthly benefits at once, and therefore will not receive the lump-sum death payment. If the fully insured worker leaves no widow or child, but does leave parents who are then over 65 years of age, and they were dependent upon him for support at the time of his death, they will receive regular monthly benefits, and therefore no lump-sum death payment will be made.

If there is no relative entitled to monthly benefits, a lump-sum death payment of not more than 6 times the monthly benefit may be made to certain relatives or to the person paying the funeral expenses. Example: A young woman who had been working in a store for several years dies, leaving a husband as the sole survivor. It is found that her basic monthly benefit would amount to $20. Therefore, the widower would receive one check from the Government for $120 (six times $20).

Covenants Fundamentals In Life

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for May 26.

Text: Jeremiah 31:31-37.

It is the fact that so much in the religious history of ancient Israel is universal in appeal that makes the Old Testament a living book, a book of significance at all times. You realize this in this lesson of the New Covenant which is not merely an incident in the life of the Jewish people.

Covenants, in some form or other, implied or specific, have had a fundamental place in human life. They underlie all that is honest and sacred in human relationships. Business could not be transacted without men covenanting with one another to fulfill certain obligations. Specific covenants have played a large part in the religious life of the race.

One thinks of the Covenanters in Scotland and of their representatives and descendants who came to this country. One has in mind the Compact, or Covenant, in the cabin of the Mayflower, and the place that the Covenant has had in the organization of Congregational and other churches in this country. The Covenant has been the bond of Christian fellowship.

But this Covenant in modern churches is very definitely related to the Covenant in the life of ancient Israel. This was a Covenant not only between man and man, but a Covenant between God and people. The Old Covenant, in contrast with what is here called by Jeremiah the New Covenant, was the Covenant with the people in bondage in Egypt—the Covenant that found its expression in the leadership and laws of Moses.

But the Covenant went back even beyond that, for we have the story in Genesis of a very definite Covenant made between God and Abraham, looking forward to the building up of a great race of which the faithful Abraham was to be the head.

This Old Covenant, in Jeremiah's thought, had been abrogated not by God, but by the people themselves. Through their unfaithfulness, they had forfeited the privileges of the Covenant.

Were they then hopelessly estranged from God? Was there no recovery for a people who had backslidden and lapsed through idolatry into moral decadence and defeat? Not so, says Jeremiah. This stern prophet, even in his sternness, is the prophet of a righteous and merciful God. He says that God will make a New Covenant with the people—that it is possible for people with the law of God in their inward parts and in their hearts to enter into an alliance with God. He sees a great day of religious revival, in which all men shall turn in sincerity to God. It will not be necessary for man to teach his neighbor, for all shall know God from the least even unto the greatest. All these blessings of the New Covenant are to be based upon an experience of forgiveness and restoration.

Who is this God who thus covenants with man, It is the God of the whole earth, the God who giveth us the sun by day and the moon and stars by night. It is the God whose presence and power are manifest in the whole universe. "Jehovah of hosts is his name."

(Sept. 7) E. H. Blain and family of Abilene have been visiting J. M. Fuson and family this week.

R. C. Martin, who lives in the north end of the county, was a county seat visitor the first of the week. He thinks crops in his end of the county could not be better.

W. H. Goforth returned last week from Colorado Springs, Colo., where he and his family spent the summer. Mrs. Goforth was improving so well he left her to stay there a few more weeks.

Dr. Blanton of Wise County last Saturday visited his sisters, Mrs. J. N. Griffiths of the ranch known as the Col. Ellison ranch, and Mrs. E. A. Wells of this city. He was accompanied to Wellington by Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths.

Misses Lenora Sherwood and Eva O'Neil of Wellington visited friends in Shamrock last week.

Misses Louise Gilbert of Plainview, Ernie Allsup of Bosque, County, Tillie Finklea of Amarillo, and Grimes of Fort Worth arrived last week to attend the institute this week. They will teach in the Wellington School.

(Feb. 19) Morris Rymer returned from a three day trip to Oklahoma City last Thursday. He was accompanied back by Joe Hemphill, who had been visiting in Norman and Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and Cullen Reynolds of the City Drug Store were called to Plainview to attend the funeral of their grandmother who died last Sunday.

R. E. Cox of Kansas City was here last week visiting his sister, Mrs. J. A. Goodson. Their father, E. T. Cox, who had been here some two months visiting returned home with him.

Mrs. A. L. Nowlin, Miss Doris Leggett, and Mr. Kern Aldridge attended the district meet of high school basketball teams which was held at Vernon last Friday and Saturday.

(July 3) Miss Margaret Goforth, Miss Margaret and Alfred Emanuel returned after a three weeks vacation in Rogers, Ark., and different points in Missouri.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Irene Tarter to E. M. Teakell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tarter of Wellington.

I SA

By V. A.

Come to think haven't been many this spring, and none ly bad ones that several ago we regarded as a part of our life. And as Saturday's dust brought forth all sorts of unfavorable comment, I SAW

Bill Melton and his small son, Billy Rogers, down a country road rabbit hunting.

George Neal doesn't believe in skeletons in the closet! One day recently he drove down the street with one in his car, took it out, and carried it down the sidewalk by its backbone, and up to a doctor's office where it belonged. It was the same one that's been reposing on his desk down at high school for the benefit of some of his science classes.

Little LaJuan Wilson ordering the biggest, 'brightest orange soda pop she could find, and looking very pleased over the bigness and brightness of it when she got her hands on it. Don Leach, seventh grade student, carrying home an end table, evidently one made at school this year.

Jack Boverie displaying a fresh haircut all ready to sit with the rest of his seventh grade class at the commencement, but adding that he was going to wash the smudges off his face for the affair.

Paul Starr sitting out in front of a country store talking with friends.

Mrs. J. A. Lowe and her daughter, Hughtta, visiting with Mrs. Ellen Ingram, a former neighbor, from the Midway community.

John Stephens of China Grove community, bringing in a cane he had found on the street. "I expect someone needs this," he commented.

Helen Kelly, new graduate, saying, "I'm glad to be out of school—but I'm a little sorry too."

Sue Singley rushing to buy stamps so she might mail a whole handful of letters, and getting to the post office just two minutes after the window had closed. They looked like the kind of letters all graduates have to send out after a deluge of presents.

Dr. John Cecil up on top of the Hughes E-state office fixing the aerial of his radio. His friends say that with his short wave set, he can talk to other short-wave enthusiasts all over the United States.

J. O. Hartman looking through his new school annual—and Elmer Carter the same.

Miss Lora Mae McFarland introducing her parents to local friends. They'd come to take her home for the summer.

Mrs. L. A. Hunt and her little grandson from Amarillo window shopping before a display of toys.

Luther Gribble, well dressed for the street but minus foot apparel, out on the sidewalk in front of his home getting the morning paper.

Tim Hatch trying to think of something to do now that school is out. On having something suggested, he said, "Naw, I want somethin' easy, somethin' like goin' swimmin'."

ODD BITS OF NEWS

When Eugene Nott, 47, was arrested in Goldendale, Calif., for pelting a group of school-teachers with rocks, he explained to the judge: "I guess I jus' always have hated teachers."

B. J. Bolus, unsuccessful candidate for municipal judge in Omaha, filed this campaign expense account with the election commission: "Item—Ten cents for aspirin the day after election."

Arnold Maurer of Canton, O., hasn't missed a day from work in the 25 years he has served as the city electrician.

Burglars who stole the fancy beer display from John Girard's tavern in Kansas City, Mo., discovered that it consisted of 84 quarts of water tinted to look like beer.

Theft of nine bridges, each weighing a half ton, puzzles police in Reading, Pa. The bridges were used for loading automobiles on freight cars.

C. Houk of Satill, Miss., has transplanted more than 100 on his front lawn.

Dowell, who was born in Tecumseh, Okla., Oct. 1, 1923. He attended school at Lorenza before he came to Quail. He is basketball manager, president of the F.F.A., and has the third highest average of the senior class of 1939-40. He plans to attend college at Tech and major in agriculture.

Louis Allred

Louis was born in 1923 at Quail, Texas, has attended school there all of his life. He is five feet eight and a half inches tall, weighs 133 pounds, has brown hair and green eyes, and a smile when he is happy.

He likes to go to Memphis, freshman girls, and parties at Lillie. He dislikes English, hard work and class meetings at noon.

He is among those who have high ranks in the records at Quail. He does not know what occupation he will follow and has no future plans.

Val Gene Carmack

Val Gene Carmack was born January 14, 1921, at Marella, Texas. He dislikes girls but doesn't plan to be a bachelor.

He has black hair, green eyes, weighs 126 pounds, and is five feet nine inches in height and plans to make one of the greatest rural mail carriers this county has ever known.

Paul Allred

We now come to a boy who is by no means short of stature. Just six feet, three inches tall and weighs 150 pounds. His name is Paul Allred. His favorite hobbies are: writing poetry and horse-back riding.

He has attended school at Quail and is undecided whether or not he will attend college.

Marie Harwell

Marie, our senior who hails from Dodson, is 19 years old, five feet four inches tall and weighs 129 pounds. She likes parties, picnics, sports and shows. Dislikes history and grouchy people. Her future plans are to go to C.I.A. and major in homemaking. She has brown hair and grey eyes.

Emmett Palmer

Who on earth is that fellow from Quail High School that acts as if he owned the school and was master over all its students? Why it's Emmett and that is just his way of saying, "I like you." Emmett is 18 years old, weighs 195 pounds, is six feet tall and has brown hair and blue eyes. He complains about English IV being such a burden but he plans to attend college next year and continue the dear old subject.

Imogene Martin

Imogene Martin is 17 years old, is five feet and four inches tall, weighs 115 pounds, has dark brown hair and blue eyes.

We have not had the pleasure of having Imogene with us all of our senior year but we were glad to spend a part of it with her. Imogene likes football, and we'll be surprised if some football star doesn't capture her heart.

Lola May McMinn

There is a girl in the senior class that can be found by this description. She is eighteen years old, weighs 106 pounds, is five feet tall, has blond hair and bluish grey eyes. She has a very charming personality. From these bits of information you would soon decide that Lola May McMinn is the subject.

Floyd Aycock

Floyd Aycock, who has attended probably more schools than any other Q.H.S. senior was born at Quail January 22, 1923.

Floyd went to school at Marella his first five years in school; then moved to Wichita Falls where he attended school one year. He then moved back to Marella and was attending school there when the school consolidated to form Quail Consolidated School. He has attended school here since the consolidation. He has been active in athletics, served as sophomore president, and has been active in other extra-curricular activities. Floyd plans to study engineering in the future.

Robert Gosnell

Robert Gosnell was born in Scott county, Arkansas, on December 20, 1921. He attended school there for three years. He then moved to Texas. Since then he attended school at Ring, Buck Creek and Quail.

He likes pretty girls if they are not silly, economics and playing the guitar. He dislikes English, public speaking and junior business training.

He plans a musical career. He states that if he can't follow a musical career he will just be a hobo.

Guy Owens

Guy Owens, the morning glory of our senior class, is 18 years of age, has brown hair, weighs—well he's large enough to take care of himself. Guy says there are certain things he dislikes very much and one of these is Mr. Carter's office. Guy is a very jolly person to have about you and we know that he has the ability to accomplish great things.

MARELLA

By HAZEL PIERSON

Many people attended the Mother's Day program and the dedication of the new Salt Fork Church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Pierce spent the past week in Oklahoma City with Bryan Depauw, who is under a doctor's care there. Mr. Depauw has a broken arm.

Mrs. W. T. Cherry, Tommie and Pauline Cherry and Miss Juanita Pettitt attended the baccalaureate exercises at Wellington Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Z. Bartlett and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bartlett of Loco Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleck Bannister and family visited in Clarendon Sunday.

Mrs. Charlie Young and children visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Ogletree and Trudie.

Mr. and Mrs. Pennie Gilbreth of Abilene spent the week end with F. Gilbreth, who is seriously ill.

Many of the farmers have started planting this week.

Mile-Dial Is Introduced By Oil Company

PONCA CITY, Okla.—A device by which motorists can quickly and accurately measure their gasoline mileage is being introduced by Continental Oil Company in a nationwide newspaper advertising campaign which includes The Wellington Leader.

The "Mile-Dial" is a simple device which keeps count of the number of gallons of Conoco Bronz-z-z gasoline purchased and the number of miles traveled during the test, and automatically calculates the miles per gallon by a simple turn of the dial.

The dial, which can be obtained free at service stations selling Continental Oil Company products, can be attached to the dash without marring the surface or can be carried in the glove compartment of the car. With it the motorist can make frequent checks of the mileage he obtains from Conoco Bronz-z-z gasoline and can at the same time easily accumulate his purchases and miles traveled, so that an average miles-per-gallon over a long period can also be determined.

The Mile-Dial was invented by Continental Oil Company engineers, and its mathematical accuracy has been certified by F. A. Bergen, chairman, mechanical engineering department, Washington University.

A new thermometer that can measure cold down to 259 degrees below zero Centigrade has been perfected by the United States Bureau of Standards.

Looking back over their year's work, seniors of Quail High School can see a great deal of lasting importance which has come out of their efforts.

After selection of their officers, shortly after the opening of school, their first action was to select their senior motto and rings.

Shortly afterward they sponsored a musical program in chapel, presenting two well known musicians with a traveling show. This enterprise was not only entertaining, but profitable as well.

Later the senior play, "Under Western Skies" was presented. The cast of characters included Norman Morgan, Lola Mae Mc-

Hens Go In For Unusual Eggs Again

An egg that proved itself unusually large was found Thursday, May 16 by Wash Roberts, who lives two and a fourth miles northeast of Wellington.

The egg measured eight inches by five and three-fourths inches around.

"This is the largest egg I've ever found from my flock," he commented. Mr. Roberts raises Buff Orpington hens.

At Christmas one of the year's most interesting socials was held—a party given by Mrs. Carl Chaudoin and Mrs. G. S. Dowell. The juniors were also guests at this party. Humorous gifts were distributed.

One highlight of the school year was the selection of three members of the class for Who's Who. As a result of voting, Billye Dodson, Bonnie Rea Bass, and Ada Lee Gladney were selected for the honor.

The most lasting contribution of the class, in a material way, was the buying of thirty new lockers, which have been installed. These will be used by the junior class. The selection of a gift was in keeping with a custom for the graduating class to leave a gift to be used by the school.
