Verdict Upheld Burditt Appeal Denied

Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin has upheld the verdict of Mitchell County Court, and denied an appeal by Jim Raymond Burditt, convicted here of second degree negligent homicide.

Jury sentenced Burditt to 18 months in jail in a trial with County Judge Elmer Martin presiding and Frank Ginzel, county attorney, as prosecutor.

Burditt was convicted Nov. 27, 1967, of killing J. T. (Jim) Nunn in a collision, with excessive speeding cited as the unlawful act. Mr. Nunn was a longtime farmer in Buford Community. James Baker of Perryton represented the defendant.

On Nov. 28, 1967, Burditt asked the court for a probated sentence which Judge Martin denied. Burditt then asked for a new trial. That request was denied Aug. 7, 1968.

Burditt appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals to reverse the county court's opinion but the court in Austin affirmed the ruling of the lower court.

Ginzel went to Austin, Oct. 9, for the hearing. According to the Mitchell County Attorney, Burditt has 15 days in which he can file for a re-hearing by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Novel To Be Reviewed By Mrs. Arnel Smith

Book Review by Mrs. Arnel B. Smith is announced for Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the Hesperian Room at Mitchell County Public Library.

"The Source," novel by James A. Michener has been chosen by the reviewer who is speech teacher at Colorado Junior High School and charter member of Colorado City Playhouse.

The review is another in the series being presented each month under sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce Cultural Activities Committee, headed by Mrs. James F. Kelley with Mrs. G. D. Foster as book review chairman.

Michener's "The Source," said Mrs. Smith of the book to be reviewed, "is a magnificent novel. Its story is woven around the archaeologists who go to the land of Israel to excavate Tell Makor, uncovering objects which identify, level by level, the various periods which have come and gone since the first man arrived there."

Makor is fictional but is founded solidly on historical research and facts established by exploration of many actual sites in Israel, Mrs. Smith pointed out.

"What happened at Makor is the history of the Holy Land itself. And what happened in the Holy Land is intimately bound up with the development of western civilization," she said.

"The Source, by a master storyteller, is the story of our universal heritage from the past—a story of human strivings for law and justice, love and faith. It is a book to ponder as well as to enjoy," Mrs. Smith concluded.

Series of book reviews are free and open to the public. Refreshment and social hour follows each review, said Mrs. Kelley.

Merket Has Reserve Champ At State Fair

Mitchell County 4-H Club youths hauled four steers to State Fair of Texas and the least of their awards was a third place.

Eddie Merket led the Mitchell exhibitors with his reserve champion shorthorn steer of the State Fair's Junior Show.

His steer, a 965-pound animal bred by P. A. Hawkinson of Frankfurt, Kan., was the second place heavyweight.

Merket, 13, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Kenneth Merket of Loraine, also showed the first place junior yearling shorthorn heifer.

In addition, the youth was one of the Dallas fair's top exhibitors in each the steer and heifer judging to compete for showmanship awards.

Eddie's brother and sister also were in the parade.

Jeff, 9, exhibited the first place lightweight steer. The animal also bred by Hawkinson.

Becky, Loraine High freshman student, showed the third place heavyweight angus steer, bred by McMurry Brothers of Mt. Hope, Kan.

Pam Sanford, 4-H member at Loraine High, exhibited the second place medium weight shorthorn steer. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanford and her animal came also from the Kansas breeder.

The fifth Mitchell 4-H exhibitor at the state fair, Renee Belights, exhibited the sixth place Shropshire lamb and the 50th place Hampshire lamb.

Two Loraine Future Farmers also exhibited at the Dallas show — Ken Graham with sixth and 19th place Hampshire barrows, Richard Hill with 12th place southdown crossbred lamb.

Eddie Merket received 80 cents per pound for his reserve champion shorthorn in the State Fair sale.

2 Cases Reported Screwworm Here

Mitchell County reported two screwworm cases Friday.

The infestations were reported on separate sides of Colorado City in a cattle herd owned by Ronnie Feaster, 2 miles southwest of the city, and in a horse owned by Jose Orona at the east city limits.

Both were reported to County Agent Bobby Lemons by the Laboratory of Southwest Animal Research Foundation in Mission.

It was the first screwworm cases for Mitchell County in two years. Last year a case was discovered across the county's line and in the previous year, 1966, two cases developed here.

Lemons immediately urged all stock owners to treat all animal wounds, take samples for screwworm testing and to intensify efforts to hold the infestation in check until cold weather eases the threat.

The county agent said sterile flies would be dropped in the county during the next week — some probably by plane and some by automobile.

Samples from which the two local cases were determined were sent to the Mission laboratory Oct. 10.

Confirmed cases are only in two animals — one in the flank of an animal in the 50-cattle herd of Feaster and in the fetlock of Orona's horse.

Other cases reported with the Mitchell County screwworms were two in Menard, one in Mills, two in Nueces, three in Pecos.

Earlier, cases have been found in Coke, Sterling, Howard, Glasscock, Fisher, Taylor counties.

Girl Scout Fund Drive Chairman And Captains Named

Annual Girl Scout fund drive will be launched here Monday, said Trevlyn Kelley, chairman, Saturday.

Team captains for the concerted drive are Corky Houston, Charles Goodlett, Dick Wistrand, Lawrence Ruddick, Tom Rees, Lacy Boles, Bob Ratliff, S. R. Wilkinson, Dr. John Chinn, and Mike Wadlington.

They will be assisted by 50 other workers.

Girl Scouts in Colorado City, under the leadership of Mrs.

Corky Houston, participate in a twelve month program covering activities in the arts, the home, the out-of-doors. Troop activities include cook-outs, hikes, badge work, service projects, parties, songs and games.

"Girl Scouting provides girls with an opportunity to learn to share with others in their troop, and in their community. In learning to share, they learn to care," said Mrs. Houston.

"It is through troop program that girls learn troop management, health and safety standards and good citizenship. They learn to identify themselves in their relationship to others," she said.

"Camping is a popular activity which teaches a girl self-reliance, ingenuity and good citizenship. The democratic process becomes a reality in a camp setting," Mrs. Houston added.

The girls in Colorado City participated in a week long day camp program this summer, under the leadership of Mrs. Leon Light. Several local girls went to established Camp Boothe Oaks in Sweetwater.

Colorado City Girl Scouts are a part of the West Texas Girl Scout Council which serves sixteen counties in this area.

District Judge Austin McCloud is board president with Mrs. John Morgan, Jr. serving as secretary.

TESCO To Honor Wilkinson

S. R. Wilkinson, operator at the Morgan Creek plant of Texas Electric Service Company will be welcomed into membership of the company's Quarter Century Club at a dinner Monday night in Civic House.

Wilkinson completed 25 years with the company last summer to qualify for membership in the club. He will be presented a club award watch at the meeting by company President Burt B. Hulse Jr. The meeting is held annually to honor members of the Quarter Century Club, and more than 350 employees and guests from Colorado City, Snyder and Sweetwater are expected to attend, according to Don Benson, manager of the company's office here.

Hulse will address the group following the dinner.

Other members of the Quarter Century Club from Colorado City are E. A. Landry, G. W. Massengale, A. L. McSpadden and L. E. Petty.

Wolves Fall To Dunbar

Dunbar High's 1968 football club came into its own Friday night.

And, Coach Truman Nix's Colorado High Wolves are still counting their bruises.

The Panthers, humiliated the week before by their crosstown Lubbock rival, Estacado, erupted with a devastating ground attack here to sock 'it to the Wolves, 14-40.

It was a surging turnabout for Coach James Hillier's Dunbar team.

One week earlier, they had floundered out of top contention for District 3-AAA championship by falling to Estacado, 28-0. There in Lubbock they ended with a minus-two yards rushing and A. G. Perryman, their 215 tank of a fullback, managed only 17 yards for a night's work.

But this Friday night in Wolf Stadium, with a coking pall of dust hanging over the proceedings, the Panthers were as different as cannon and sling shot.

Mr. Perryman roamed the premises for 141 yards, stormed C-City's defenses for three touchdowns.

Fullback Roy Davis, 185-pound senior back in the lineup after being out most of the season with a broken hand, cashed his travel ticket for 143 yards on 11 carries.

At the helm, a new quarterback by the name of Earnest Davis, put together a basic offense of inside and outside stuff with just a smattering of flat passes — to put the victory show on the road.

Mrs. Bassinger Reviews Book For Zeta Delta Study Club

A review of the book, "Presidential Elections", highlighted a recent meeting of Zeta Delta Study Club in Medallion Room of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative building.

The book, written by Nelson W. Polsby and Aaron B. Wildavsky, was reviewed by Mrs. Hubert Bassinger.

Mrs. Bassinger explained that the book is about the winning of the office of president and methods of determining the winner of the office.

"There have been two major political parties for 100 years," she said.

"The republicans draw high turnout groups which are people with more education and more wealth - the democratic draw large city groups and campaign as being for the working man.

"Interested people vote," she continued, "non-interested people do not."

"Most people vote according to the party rather than the candidate," the group heard.

Mrs. Bassinger explained that party affiliation is generally passed down from family member to family member. Three-fourths of the adults identify with a party.

"These run three to two democrat over republicans," she said, "but the democrats do not turn out at polls as well as republicans."

Presidents and vice presidents have been elected together since 1804, Mrs. Bassinger reported.

"A vote for one is an automatic vote for the other."

The speaker concluded her review by saying, "Presidential elections are important to keep our political system open and competitive and in keeping our public officials responsible to the preferences of the general population."

"Few people are satisfied with the framework within which presidential elections are held," Mrs. Bassinger said, "but even fewer have devised ways of making the system better without making it worse at the same time."

"Presidential elections are important to the public because they determine who will guide our future."

"They will remind us of our heritage of political responsibility and freedom - a heritage of which in a troubled world seems increasingly precious."

Mrs. Dave Sanders presided in the meeting. Mrs. Dennis Wright led the pledge to the flag. Mrs. Bobby Nobles accompanied the group in the singing of "Star Spangled Banner".

Don Benson, chairman of Colorado City Chamber of Commerce Industrial Development Committee, was guest speaker for a recent dinner meeting of Business and Professional Women's Club in Civic House.

Benson, who recently attended a six-week study of community development, discussed ways to encourage industry in the local area.

He explained that members of the local Chamber Industrial committee are now working on various projects to promote Colorado City.

The group was told that at least 432 companies were recently looking for locations of expansion in a 12-state area.

"There were 5,000 agencies trying to obtain those industries. Texas got 88 - mostly developing in large cities.

"Only 11 located in towns under 12,000 population."

In listing some of the advantages Colorado City has to offer new industry, he named recreation, Little Theatre, own railroads, good schools, harmony among local residents and businesses.

Benson said that in the industrial committee survey, members found that Mitchell County had 110 laborers available for work and 342 persons who are employed in other counties.

He concluded by encouraging B&PW members to get involved in the industrial effort of the Chamber of Commerce.

Following his talk, Benson showed a film "Where Will Johnny Live?"

"Rosemary's Baby" Opens Here

Zetagathian Study Club Chooses Project for Year

Project for the year was chosen Oct. 10 by Zetagathian Study Club during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Bob Rely.

Project selected by the group will be the giving of club service to Root Valley Fair Lodge, Denson Rest Home and McKnight Hospital.

Program theme for the first regular meeting was a brief look at history of the reason behind parliamentary procedure.

Mrs. W. S. Rhode, who presented the program, explained that Thomas Jefferson wrote the first set of rules for the Continental Congress, basing them on rules used by the British Parliament.

Robert Cusing converted these rules into lay usage in 1844. Because he had to preside at many meetings and had no set order to follow, Gen. Henry M. Robert in 1876 wrote a set of rules which have been the main standard for over 75 years.

"These rules have been revised both by him and by his family from time to time since then."

Quoting from an article in the Abilene Reporter, Mrs. Rhode said, "People cannot take part in the exchange of ideas which is so necessary to enlightened decision-making without orderly procedures with 'rules of the game' which are eminently fair to everyone."

"Procedures which are automatic, high pressure and roughshod lead all too easily to bad decisions because the people - you and I - have not taken part in decision-making."

"In the preface and introduction to Robert's Rules of Order," the speaker explained, "It is said that General Robert developed the principles that the majority must rule, that the minority must be heard, that the rights of individuals must be guarded, and that justice and courtesy must prevail."

"To illustrate, to protect all of these groups against hurried alteration of an organization's fundamental rules amendment of the constitution or by-laws requires both previous notice and unless otherwise specified two-thirds vote.

The basic principle here is that while the decision of the majority as the decision of the assembly has long been recognized, it has been found that an assembly sometimes needs protection from itself - a safeguard against itself - against hasty or repeated change of previous action, the parliamentary requirements for changing action previously taken are greater than those for adopting it in the first place."

In concluding her remarks Mrs. Rhode asked that club members examine the Zetagathian constitution to see what they have been doing to or with their use or misuse of the rules and to look at some unwritten rules of the organization.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Sam L. Majors Jr., Mrs.

Visit Mrs. Longley
Guests last week end of Mrs. J. C. Hooker were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Longley of Andrews; and a nephew, Jim Standefer of Clifton.

Standefer also attended homecoming activities at Roscoe High School.

He preaches nightly in bars and clubs along Bourbon Street.

His trademark is a red tie, red socks and Bible in hand.

The public is invited to attend the Snyder services, according to Frank Prewitt, minister of music and education of First Baptist Church here.

Guild, WSCS Conduct Charter Meet for United Methodist

Fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church Monday evening was setting for a joint meeting of Wesleyan Service Guild and Woman's Society of Christian Service of the church.

The Service of Celebration was a charter meeting for the organization of the two groups in the United Methodist Church, formed this year by the uniting of Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren dominations.

Mrs. Billy Wilkinson was leader for the program. Miss Nelda Garrett reviewed a brief history of the two organizations within the Methodist Church. Mrs. B. A. Jackson spoke about organizations related to the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Scripture was read by Mrs. Woody Crabtree. Music was presented throughout the program by Mrs. W. C. Hooks pianist, and Mrs. J. C. Garrett, soloist.

Program was concluded with The Agape Feast, led by Rev. Billy Wilkinson, church pastor.

Twenty-six women signed the charter for Woman's Society of Christian Service. The Guild had 25 charter members.

October marks the 93rd anniversary of the Women's Society of World Service of the former Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Purpose of the society is "to unite all women of the Evangelical United Brethren Church in a Christian fellowship to make Christ known throughout the world and to develop a personal responsibility for the whole task of the church."

CONVERSATION CORNER

WHO WOULD ever have thought that earthlings like us would go calmly about the business of living while three American Astronauts orbit in space and stage television shows?

Remember when John Glenn made the first trip by an American into outer space?

My, oh my! The whole world stopped to hold its breath in absolute awe.

The man at the bus ticket window in Tulsa, Okla., that day, held up a finger for silence while he listened via radio to the take-off. And that bus station was as still as still. Nobody moved or spoke during the countdown.

It was hard to get waited on in any store during that first orbit. And nobody talked about anything else a-tall.

BY COMPARISON to that first orbit, the one in progress for a week (at this writing) is being received with what amounts to public nonchalance.

That just proves how adaptable is the race of man. The new wears off fast. People get used to scientific achievement and all too soon take for granted miracles which only yesterday had them standing in open-mouthed wonder.

People just go about the business of living. . . talking football. . . the weather. . . the election. . . and Jackie Kennedy's marriage to the Greek billionaire, Aristotle Onassis, ex-friend of Maria Callas, Italian opera singer.

People, the earthlings, get used to anything.

BUT NOT used to everything.

Though I'm still around at the age of Methuselah shall never get used to shoulder-length hair on men—in spite of the fact that our ancestors admired men in long, powdered wigs and lace cuffs.

Never shall get used to dresses way above the knees. Keep clinging to the old theory that says what goes up must come down—sooner or later. Am aware too, that about the time all us little women have a closet full of short dresses there will burst in bloom mid-calf clothes. 'Twas ever thus.

Never shall get used to the take-over by computers. . . the slow death of passenger trains. . . war. . . or the idea of a man on the moon instead of the old man IN the moon!

MAIL CALL brought a letter from Mattie and Jesse Pidgeon who moved to Austin about 18 months ago.

Jesse writes with nostalgia, as he renews their Record subscription, "It is surprising to see more new names than old ones in the news."

His wife is at home after a stay in the hospital and a recovery period in a convalescent home.

Mr. Pidgeon visited the HemisFair with daughter Mary Elizabeth Pendleton and saw Dr. Bill and Naomi Rhode there.

"You can tell our friends we are doing fairly well," the letter says.

A note from May Jordan (Mrs. Jack Jr.) of Dallas says "Yea Wolvest We're proud of you! Also like the new face lifting the Record is sporting. Best wishes to our C-City friends."

SEEN LATELYS this time were Kack Price McClellan (Mrs. Fred) at the Down Town. . . Frank and Carol Prewitt, too.

Hettye Wallace Branch, author of the "80 John" biography with her father as subject, was an office drop-in.

The Ellis Ponds, here from Biloxi, Miss., for the Old-Timer celebration and for Ellis' 1918 class reunion came by to say "Adios" until next year. They're a friendly couple and are staunch Record readers.

Ruth Grantland was with Betty and John Worrell at the lunch hour. Saw Schell McFrill on the shopping scene.

EMILY BARRY, downtown on Second St., was saying the Barry son Pat has been at home recovering from an illness.

Former editor of the Record during the summer of 1962, Pat works and writes for an Austin paper under the name Tom Barry. That's fair enough in the light of the fact that his name is Thomas Patrick Barry, same as his father Tom's.

FAMILIAR FACES various places belonged to Mary E. Tiller and her daughter Annie Brown. . . Dera (Mrs. E. H.) Winn. . . Mrs. Dalton Conaway of Conaway Community.

Spied Jan Blassingame, wife of Murrell, and Wynone Jameson, wife of Myrle. Wynone was showing a clipping from the Amarillo paper saying that Colorado City business men should get credit for settling Amarillo.

Quoted as source of that information is Ernest R. Archambeau, historian who is currently writing a history of Amarillo.

Speaking of newspapers, did you read in the Dallas News that Governor John Connally, who leaves office in January, is to join the Houston law firm of Vinson, Elkins, Weems, and Searls in which Robert A. Shepherd is a partner?

The Wolves, with their hospital list ever increasing, didn't really fall until the second half.

Like those spirited efforts which had kept them in championship contention with 4 triumphs against only one loss, they rallied emphatically in the fourth quarter, too.

They couldn't over come the damage, though.
Randy Nix, Don Safford, Johnny Mathews, David Garcia, Mike Maines, Leslie Ellis, Charles Morton, Jerry Stansel, Nick Molina, Kenny Key and Steve Hill stiffened their backs and knocked down Dunbar offensive thrusts repeatedly.

All total, the Panthers gained 399 yards in 56 running plays. Their offense lengthened to 485 yards with 86 more by completing 6 of 13 passes.

Dunbar forced C-City back to its 10 with the Panthers' first punt of the game. Steakley made five on the first play, but the ball squirted loose in the Wolf backfield on the next try and Dunbar defensive back Edward Johnson recovered.

Then, a flakey fourth down field goal attempt, thwarted by a C-City rush and Dunbar Postmaster A.M. Morris Saturday reminded postal customers that higher parcel post and catalog rates went into effect this weekend.

Rate increase will average 10.5 per cent and in most cases will mean an additional ten cents postage per parcel.

The higher rates were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission in July.

Under the new rates the minimum charge for local parcel delivery will go from 40 to 50 cents. The minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50 to 60 cents.

about 138 yards less than the Dunbar splurge.
In the encounter - punishing for both teams - two Wolves were carried to the hospital.
Maines, the fullback who ripped for 16 and 15 yards in two fine charges up the middle, was lost with a broken foot. Safford was felled by a mild head concussion.

Scouts and Coach Nix warned days before that Dunbar has a tremendous team in the making, but that it had not reached its real potential.

Coach Hillier explained it as "we just decided to play". "We've got mostly a young team. We changed quarterbacks, some of our injured were ready and we stuck mostly to seven or eight plays."

"After being completely down for Estacado, we got ourselves ready for this one."

Ball control had a lot to do with it, too.
The Panthers, jumping to a 14-0 lead in the opening half, controlled the ball on 45 plays while the Wolves managed to hold the ball only 13 plays.

When the Wolfpack did rebound with effective rally they reversed the pattern. Hurred to two quick touchdowns, controlled through 26 plays while limiting Dunbar to only 9.

Count that last Dunbar touchdown, which made it 14-40, something gratis. The Wolves, with an all or nothing strategy, tried for a first with fourth and 20 yards from their own 12-yard line with 1:32 remaining.

Still, after the final quickie Dunbar score, the Wolves were roaring back with a first down on the victor's 11 yard down at final whistle.

First time they got the ball, Dunbar traveled 60 yards, to score, with Perryman getting the final seven yards in two tries. Halfback Ronald Kinner kicked the first of a string of extra points.

What probably did the most to chill the Wolves came late in the second quarter with 4:17 remaining.

Dunbar forced C-City back to its 10 with the Panthers' first punt of the game. Steakley made five on the first play, but the ball squirted loose in the Wolf backfield on the next try and Dunbar defensive back Edward Johnson recovered.

fumble, ended with Frank Melton picking up the free ball and converting the try into a 15 yard touchdown scamper. Kinner added the extra for a 14-0 halftime lead.
Perryman ran six yards at the end of 54 yard march at 7:24 in the third quarter to make it 20-0. The Wolves blocked the extra point.

Kinner with an 8 yard end romp at 3:10 in the third and Kinner's kick made it 27-0.
Roy Davis raced around right yards to score and Kinner kicked for 34-0 to open the fourth quarter and place Dunbar in commanding lead.

Colorado City's first score climaxed a 66 yard drive that began with Key catching a Grubbs pass which had been tipped into air by a Dunbar defender. Grubbs quickly followed with a completion to Garcia and a first on Panther 40.

Grubbs completed to Parker on the 30 and the big back quickly lateraled to Steakley who ran to 15. However, a clipping penalty shoved the Wolves back to the Dunbar 43.

Two losses put 'em back on their own 49, before Garcia raced to the 38 and a repeat of the Grubbs-Parker-Steakley pass, this time on the opposite side, put C-City on the 20 with a first.

Next play, Steakley scooted for the touchdown. Parker's two-point pass was broken up, but the Wolves were on the scoreboard 6-43, six minutes to go.

The revived Wolves chilled Dunbar's next offensive try and took their own 37 after a punt. Eight plays, three first downs later, the Wolves climbed to 14-34.

Garcia knifed over guard for the touchdown while Grubbs dived for two points.
In that last quarter, the Wolves registered 12 first downs to Dunbar's 7 as they took the play away from the Panthers.

For the night, C-City had 18 first downs - 0 in first period, 5 in second, 1 in the

Rates Going Up On Parcel Post

Postmaster A.M. Morris Saturday reminded postal customers that higher parcel post and catalog rates went into effect this weekend.

Rate increase will average 10.5 per cent and in most cases will mean an additional ten cents postage per parcel.

The higher rates were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission in July.

Under the new rates the minimum charge for local parcel delivery will go from 40 to 50 cents. The minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50 to 60 cents.

This accounts for more than 80 per cent of all parcel post. Postmaster Morris pointed out.

There will be a 15-cent hike on most parcels now charged between $1.10 and $4, and a 20-cent increase on parcels now charged over $4.

Parcel post rates for the delivery of packages and catalogs are required to bring revenue from this type of mail within four per cent of operating cost, as required by law, Postmaster Morris explained. The higher rates are designed to put parcels and catalogs, which are fourth-class mail, on a break-even basis.

Additional revenue is needed from parcel post catalogs to offset higher costs resulting from pay increases approved last year for postal employees.

Thinking Spiritually Your Hometown Minister Speaks

WE NEED THE BIBLE
Calvin Gustin

Billy Graham has said, "Today there is a movement afoot to take away the authority of the Scriptures. When the Bible goes down, then anarchy and confusion will take its place. This condition will be followed by a savagery such as the world has never known. This generation must face the appalling fact that it is either back to the Bible or back to the jungle."

More and more, we are hearing less and less of "thus saith the Lord." Too often our pulpits present pious platitudes when modern man in his confusion, frustration and bewilderment comes to hear preachers who preach with authority the Word of God. The world is weary of our doubts, our theological conflicts and our pious platitudes.

Munity on the Bounty, a thrilling saga, has been retold and popularized in newspapers and books for years. However, there is one incident of this true story that is rarely told. The mutineers sank their ship and landed with their Polynesian women on a lonely island. There were nine British sailors, six other men, ten women and a girl of fifteen. One of the sailors discovered a method of distilling alcohol and the island colony became debauched with drunkenness and vice. After a time only one of the sailors who had landed still survived, surrounded by women and children. This sailor, Alexander Smith, found in one of the chests taken from the ship a Bible. He began to teach his fellow exiles its principles, with the result that his own life and ultimately the life of the

Youth To Speak To Baptists

An invitation is extended to the public to attend the program by the church pastor, Rev. Glenn Roenfeldt.

Mrs. Gillenwater To Seattle, Hawaii

Mrs. Eugene Gillenwater left Saturday for Seattle, Wash., where she is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gillenwater.

She will travel via plane to Honolulu, Hawaii, next Saturday to meet her husband, Warrent Officer Eugene Gillenwater, who will be there during a rest and recreation leave from Phu Bai Vietnam.

David was raised from the dead according to my gospel. Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, even unto bonds; but the Word of God is not bound.

When the Word of God is proclaimed with authority or read with sincerity, it is not bound. It can transform an individual, a family, a community, a nation, as it did Alexander Smith and his fellow exiles. God's Word is not fettered or bound and those who have professed a knowledge of Christ as Savior must use it. We have bread for a hungry world; we have water for parched souls; we must continue to cry out, "Ho, everyone that thirsteth, come ye to the waters!" (Isaiah 55:1)
