Burkett Water Loan Gets First Approval

Tentative approval was granted in Temple Friday by the state office of the Farm Home Administration for a $48,500 loan to build a community water distributing system at Burkett.

Announcement of the action was made Monday by John Curry of Coleman, who serves as FHA administrator for Callahan and Coleman Counties.

Plans are to build a modern water distributing system with filtration plant, elevated storage tower and mains of adequate size to accommodate a growing community. Specifications call for 54 homes in Burkett community to be served. Pecan Bayou, which runs along the western edge of the town, would become the source of supply. Sanitation requirements of Texas Health Department would be fully met.

Engineering work for the project is being done by Yates and Decker of Abilene. Attorneys are Hal Woodward and Don Johnson of Coleman.

The local organization at Burkett, which raised $2,500 to launch the water improvement project, is presently in the hands of a steering committee of which Gilder Adams is chairman. Ultimately, though, it will be incorporated.

"Of course, all things are not yet certain," said Curry Monday, "however, barring unexpected complications we believe construction will be started in December."

The Burkett project complies with FHA's recently broadened program, one which extends aid to small rural communities battling the problems of stagnation and deterioration.

"We hope to enlist the cooperation of each student, parent and citizen of this district in helping make this year an exceptional one in our school history," Whitton said.

Announcement was made that schools will dismiss Monday, Sept. 7, in observance of the Labor Day holiday.

50 Acres Of Grass Destroyed By Fire

Quarterback Club Maps Year's Work

Quarterback clubbers met in the high school study hall Monday night and mapped plans for enthusiastic support of the Buffalo football team during the approaching season.

Comparative Statistics Show Callahan Farms Over Average

For Callahan County's farm population, 1963 proved to be a better year, by and large, than it was for farmers in many parts of the country.

Although some local operators barely held their own in the year, others, especially those with well-equipped, commercial-sized farms, ended up on the plus side.

They were able to raise more livestock and produce a larger volume of crops than before, despite the smaller amount of land under cultivation.

Much of this gain was offset, however, by the drop in prices for farm products and cattle.

Details on the year's operations for the local area and for other sections of the United States, are contained in the annual survey report released by the Standard Rate and Data Service.

It shows that Callahan County farmers accounted for gross revenues of $6,131,000 in 1963. This is a gross figure — before taxes and before deductions for operating costs.

Included in it are the cash proceeds from farm marketings, government payments and "income in kind," which is the value of products grown and consumed on the farm.

While the average American farmer has been able to boost his production and thereby increase his gross receipts, he has not succeeded in turning this gain into added net income. The price squeeze has been against him.

As a result he has failed to share in the prosperity enjoyed by the country as a whole. Only because there are fewer farmers than before to share in the income has per capita earnings gone up.

For the farm population of Callahan County, the gross income, $6,131,000, was at the rate of $3,065 per capita. This compares with $3,040 per capita in the United States.

Despite the difficulties connected with farming, it continues to be the nation's largest single industry, providing jobs for more than 6,500,000 people.

Gross income from farming amounted to over $41 billion.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

Community Development planning requires ANALYSIS of the Community Survey

Making a Community Survey of factors which influence community and economic development is the starting point for a soundly planned program.

What is done with and about such a survey is the next crucial step. We must assess and evaluate all the facts in microscopic detail, for results can come only from a thorough and realistic analysis.

We should ask ourselves . . . what are our advantages for economic and civic growth? How can we utilize them for community and economic development? Are there civic factors which need improvement to compete with our neighboring towns? How can we best make such improvements? And, is the entire citizenship cooperating with community organizations whose initiative and aggressive leadership can accomplish our objectives?

Analysis of a Community Survey is another PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

WTU's area development representatives will assist growth-conscious communities in planning a thorough analysis of its Community Survey for economic development. This service is available on request through your local WTU manager.

Fireballs Falter In Brownwood Meet

Fireballs, Cross Plains' representatives in the Brownwood Women's Softball Tournament, suffered their first defeat at the hands of a Comanche club Tuesday night, losing by a score of 10-7.

The local ladies led 2-1 as the first inning ended and the score remained close until the fifth. But a Comanche uprising then left the Fireballs four runs light.

Comanche scored again in the last two innings and two more Fireballs completed the circuit, but the game ended, the score stood and Cross Plains lost its first match in the double elimination tourney.

Barbara Renfro started on the mound for the Fireballs and Peggy Purvis relieved.

The locals were to have played a make-up game with Stephenville Monday night, because of a rain-out Saturday.

Joe Weiler left Sunday to visit a while in the home of his son at Baytown.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wood of Smyer visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tunnell here last week end.

And That's The Caution Signal To Look For Children Crossing Streets And Buses Stopping To Load And Unload

DRIVE WITH CARE; SAVE A LIFE

With another school term about to begin, motorists are urged to be on the look-out for children. Superintendent Paul L. Whitton of the Cross Plains Public Schools urges all motorists to use every caution when nearing a school bus on city streets, county roads or state highways. State law requires drivers to stop, whether meeting or following a school bus, if the blinker lights are flashing.

Each day numerous motorists fail to observe this law. Whitton states that bus drivers report from one to ten motorists a day pass buses without regard for the safety of the young passengers.

Watch for school buses. Innocent children expect you, the motorist, to stop for them because state law says you must stop! Don't endanger the lives of children by passing a school bus when it is loading or unloading!

Time is not as valuable as human life.

Electric Rates Reduced

A company-wide $1,000,000 annual reduction in electrical rates was announced Tuesday by West Texas Utilities Company. One hundred and sixty three towns and communities served by the Utilities Company will benefit.

The revised schedule of electric rates was filed with the City of Cross Plains by Bill Button, WTU local manager. The new rates will be effective with meter readings made after August 31.

These new rate schedules result from a reduction in the company's income taxes due to recent changes in the federal income tax rates and the increased usage of electricity by present customers, together with greater company operating efficiencies and economies.

"These rate reductions," Si Phillips, WTU president said, "are evidence of our policy of reducing the cost of service to customers whenever we can. The $490,000 direct reduction in our federal income taxes, plus the improved operating efficiencies of new generating equipment we have recently put into service, as well as the new facilities now under construction, make it possible for us to pass on again real savings to our customers. Based on 1963 sales, the new rate schedules will represent a reduction of about three and one-half per cent."

Approximately $390,000 of the annual savings from the reduced rates will go to residential customers. Phillips said that with the new rates the average residential customer will get about one-third more electric service for his money than he did at the end of World War II.

In addition, the new rates will mean a saving of $274,000 for commercial lighting customers. The cost of service to combination general power and commercial service customers will be reduced another $221,000. Phillips said that churches, schools and smaller commercial customers will particularly benefit from this rate change.

Large light and power customers will have a saving of $140,000. "All customers," Phillips pointed out "will share in the $75,000 saving resulting from lowering the fuel clause adjustment factor made possible by improved power plant efficiencies."

In addition to the general reduction which affects virtually all customers, the new rate schedules provide an extension of the residential and commercial electric space heating rate from four to six months. Presently WTU electric space heating customers buy electric heat at a base rate of 1c per KWH.

T. T. NICHOLS WILL TAKE OVER LOCKER

T. T. Nichols has resigned as market manager at Foster's Grocery here and will go to Earth to take over either operation or disposal of a food locker plant there.

Mrs. W. P. Baum spent last week in Houston where she visited in the home of her daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Kilough.

Mayor Suggests Change Of Title

Mayor M. E. Roth points out that a city ordinance enacted Nov. 19, 1940, created the office of chief of police and abolished that of city marshal.

"We are prone to call our chief of police, a night watchman," he says, "which calls to mind the picture of an old man with a clock slung over his shoulder, going through a large building and punching the clock at designated stations."

"Let us call our officer, chief of police," he suggests, "rather than night watchman, and give him the respect his office deserves. After all, did you ever hear of a night watchman giving tickets for violations or chasing offenders until caught and bringing them to justice?"
