Red Attacks Allies' German Occupation

Charge Made By Head Of Soviet Zone.

U. S. Commander Says Russian Knowingly Lies

BERLIN, Nov. 22. (AP) — Soviet Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky denounced the Western Allies' occupation policies in Germany in a 10,000-word attack published today, and charged United States and British authorities with promoting "intensive propaganda for a new war."

Promptly Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American commander, described the charges of Russia's chief in Germany as a "misrepresentation of known facts."

The bitter Soviet blast almost on the eve of the foreign ministers conference in London apparently foreshadowed, in the opinion of many observers, another fruitless four power wrangle over the fate of Germany.

Sokolovsky's accusations, made formally before the allied control council yesterday, paralleled nearly word for word the charges which he made just before the convening of the foreign ministers conference in Moscow last March. That conference ended in a deadlock which has remained unbroken. Official allied quarters described the attack as signaling the opening of a new Russian propaganda drive.

Speaking for nearly two hours before the allied control council yesterday, Sokolovsky accused the United States, Britain and France of violating the Potsdam and Yalta agreements and other accords on demilitarization, demilitarization and reparations.

He claimed American and British occupation authorities were maintaining German units and officers corps to build "strongpoints to support the Anglo-American campaign of imperialism in the center of Europe." Americans and Britons, he declared, were promoting in their zones and in Berlin "an intensive propaganda for a new war" under the name of "a campaign against communism."

Clay, the American counterpart of Sokolovsky, told a news conference that the Soviet Marshal's statement appeared "based on a misrepresentation of known facts."

Asked if he considered this "misrepresentation" "willful," Clay replied:

"I can only say that no request was made for any explanation of the facts."

Declaring he did not intend to increase "already strained relations" by engaging in recriminations just before the foreign ministers convene their meeting on Tuesday, Clay said: "I prefer to let the record speak for itself."

He said all actions in the American and British zones of Germany were open for all to see and that repeated efforts to obtain similar information from the Russian zone had failed.

Reviewing The

Big Spring

-Week-

Joe Pickle

Tuesday the service clubs of Big Spring will have a joint meeting in honor of one of its citizens—Toots Mansfield, a real champion. Toots held the world's calf roping title four times and is just returned from a triumphant round at Madison Square Garden and Boston rodeos. During the season he sacked up several matched events, took top roping honors in several rodeos and then topped the big steer-roping event at Cloyis, N. M. It will be a fine gesture for a fine fellow.

Our pretty autumn seems definitely at an end. Only once during the week was there a break in the overcast, and temperatures came tumbling down. With mist and low readings, some icing was not impossible. Since it stopped raining dead still, we might as well have received more rain to compensate.

However, the 79 of an inch, following on the heels of a 27 of an inch shower, plus the prolonged overcast, did sprout some winter grasses and weeds. Perhaps the cattlemen will get relief from the

ONE GIFT FOR FIVE

Community Chest's 'Big Push' Monday

The third big push of the Community Chest campaign was due to shove off Monday at 2 p. m. when the general canvass gets underway from the Settles hotel.

Two groups — the large gifts committee and the special gifts division — already were in the field.

Seeking to complete all contracts before reporting in, these committees had given no indication Saturday as to what scattered returns from several teams indicated a good response.

More than four score workers had been committed to report for the general canvass kick-off Monday afternoon, and effort will be made to make a maximum number of contacts as quickly as possible. A special group of division captains is being held in reserve for clean-up work, possibly toward the end of the week.

Objective this year is an over-all $36,000, embracing the budgets for the Salvation Army, the YMCA, the Boy Scouts, and Girl Scouts. In addition the Chest, now set up as a chartered and permanent organization is included for $2,000 for various contingencies, and to have a working balance for any emergencies during the year. A like item for maintenance of facilities for the local Alcoholics Anonymous unit is included, but none of this goes for program.

Grand Jury Action Is Asked Against Meyers, Probe Ends

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. —The justice department signalled today for grand jury action against Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers after Senate investigators heard Meyers' wartime chief, General of the Army H. H. Arnold, denounce him as a "rotten apple."

Arnold also branded as "absolute falsehoods" Meyers' testimony that he had discussed some of his wartime stock transactions with Arnold, former head of the Army Air Force.

Then the Senate war investigating committee concluded its sensational investigation of Meyers and turned the case over to government prosecutors to pursue in the light of statutes against "fraud, corruption, tax evasion and perjury."

Attorney General Clark announced that evidence would be presented swiftly to a grand jury, beginning next week.

Faintest Hope Held Out For Big Four Meet

Austrian Treaty May Be One Of Accomplishments

LONDON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Diplomats gathering for the Big Four foreign ministers conference opening Tuesday found at least slender hope today that this latest effort in the long series of peace meetings may prove to be a little better than a complete washout.

The outlook is as grey as London's November skies, but some officials feel that it need not be considered black.

There is hope for completion of an Austrian treaty—to restore Austria's independence, and get occupation troops out of that country. There is hope also that the great powers may reach at least a better understanding of their conflicts over the future of Germany. But diplomats express belief that there is no real hope, barring miracles, that any substantial decisions can be reached on the central problem—the political and economic unification of the defeated Reich.

Odds are that the conference will last about a month and end at Christmas time. Contrary to the deep pessimism felt in the United States over the future of East-West relationships, British officials say the breakup of the meeting need not mean the end of all Big Four peacemaking efforts.

Where the popular expectation in Washington is that this may be the last of the Big Four meetings, Londoners say it may be "almost the last."

Secretary of State Marshall, who arrived here Friday, is going into the sessions with what his associates call an "open mind."

Preparations for the meeting have been dismally unsuccessful. The United States, Britain and France have consistently lined up against Russia. This split even extended to the question of how they should report their disagreements to the foreign ministers.

If the London conference fails, as expected, to make any real progress in solving the German problem all signs indicate that the Western powers will begin early next year to form as complete a German government as they can without Russia.

Honeymooners Kept Indoors By Rain

ROMSEY, England, Nov. 22. —Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip—referred to by some Romney residents as "the honeymooners"—remained within the walled Broadlands estate today, but apparently longed to go horse-back riding when the weather clears.

The second full day of the royal honeymoon was a rainy interlude on Earl Mountbatten's estate. Residents of this marketing town, recalling Philip's energetic nature, began referring to the couple as prisoners.

HOUSTON, Nov. 22. —W. Albert Lee, Houston hotel owner, said today he has submitted his resignation as a member of the board of Directors of the Texas prison system to Governor Beauford Jester.

Lee, who said he mailed his letter of resignation at 3:30 p. m., becomes the second board member to resign since the group's November 3 meeting at Jasper when the resignation of Maj. D. W. Stakes, general manager of the system, was accepted after a stormy session.

L. T. Murray of Waco sent his resignation to Jester November 6. Lee and Murray were the only board members openly opposing acceptance of Stakes' resignation.

Only Communists Oppose Schuman

PARIS, Nov. 22. (AP)—Robert Schuman, 61-year-old Lorraine lawyer of the moderate Popular Republicans party, won parliamentary approval of his designation as Premier tonight on a pledge to act "quickly" against a strike movement that is crippling France.

Schuman, who has been finance minister since 1946 and who lived in hiding among resistance forces during the German occupation, won nearly two thirds of all National Assembly votes after Socialist Leon Blum had failed by nine votes last night to get the green light to form a government.

Needing 309 votes, he received 412 from Socialists, Radical-Socialists, Popular Republicans and many rightists. Only the votes of 184 Communists opposed him. The DeGaullists either voted for him or were among 21 deputies who abstained.

Schuman, appealing to the assembly for support, declared he would "defend the republic" and distinguish between the legitimate demands of labor and "the synchronized enterprises of sedition throughout Europe."

He said he expected to form a cabinet tonight to deal with the labor crisis.

Under guidance of the communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor, the number of strikers passed the 750,000 mark, and truckloads of mobile guardmen armed with tommyguns moved into the city in preparation for any outbreak of disorder which some Frenchmen feared would come Monday.

The nation's railroads and merchant marine were partly tied up by the growing wave of strikes which now include metallurgical and building workers, coal miners, dock workers in southern France and school teachers in the Paris region and flour millers.

Railroad service in southeastern France and Paris' Lyon station was shut down completely. Suburban traffic was tied up north of the capital. Police arrested a number of strikers in the Grenelle section of Paris for beating up non-strikers.

Merchant sailors went out at Marseille, Bordeaux, Nantes, Rouen and Sets, joining dockworkers already on strike in all but Bordeaux. Stevedores in Le Havre were scheduled to strike Monday along with civil servants in Paris.

The strike of coal miners in northern and central France spread to the Lorraine basin where 20,000 joined the 146,000 miners already out.

Commodities Still Soaring

By The Associated Press

High-soaring wholesale prices of major commodities set an all-time altitude record Saturday for the third straight day.

Higher were cocoa, corn, wheat, oats and cotton. While the prices of some commodities remained unchanged, none declined.

The Associated Press wholesale price index of 35 basic staples jumped .71 of a point to 202.26. The index uses 1926 prices as 100. The 1947 low, set January 25, was 164.05.

Cotton futures closed 40 cents a bale lower to 45 higher in New York and $1.20 a bale higher to 30 cents lower in New Orleans.

On the Chicago Board of Trade, wheat for future delivery closed 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 cents a bushel higher, December, $3.06 3/4-3.07. Corn was 3/4 to 2 cents higher, December, $2.53 1/2-2.52; oats were 1/4 higher, December, $1.24 1/4-1/4, and soybeans were 2 1/4-3 1/4 lower, March, $3.85 1/4.

Area Swept By Chilly Mists

Chilling rains dampened the ardor of football fans over most of Texas Saturday, biting cold chilled the Panhandle, and weather was generally disagreeable in this area.

Except in the extreme west, rains were general over the state. The fall here was confined to a mist, which had persisted for most of three days and accounting for .03 of an inch precipitation. This brought the November figure to 1.09 inches.

In the northwest tip of the Panhandle, Dalhart had two and a half inches of snow and the mercury dipped to one-above zero, the coldest reading of the winter.

Freezing was general over the Panhandle and South Plains and the snap was in store Saturday night. In North Texas, rain had ceased Saturday night.

Planes of American Airlines made scheduled flights Saturday morning, but weather had closed in during the afternoon. Pioneer and Continental were similarly affected.

Surprisingly, after a seige of crashes at the outset of the spell, few traffic mishaps had been reported as a result of weather. Fans, feeling their way through a thick fog in the Lorraine-Sweetwater area Friday night, sighted a small airplane which had made a landing on the highway.

Local Ham Scores Two Radio 'Firsts'

Dick Hooper, an indefatigable worker among Big Spring radio hams, came up with two "firsts" for Texas Saturday.

He worked two-way contact, using the 50 megacycle (million cycles) band, with Alaska and England, being the first amateur radio operator in the state to exchange clear signals with these two countries.

The distance was all the more impressive because before the war it was considered that propagation of such frequencies would not much exceed vision—or the horizon. These ultra-high frequencies have a tendency to continue their tangent straight into space.

However, under certain conditions the high frequency waves are deflected back to the earth by ionospheric bending. Hooper contacted 34 states under a condition known as sporadic E, representing deflection by the ionspheric layer nearest the earth. At the end of the week, as the ionospheric blanket began to open, he penetrated to the outer layer, F-2, and managed his contacts with Alaska and England. He also heard, but was unable to make direct contact, with a station in the Netherlands. Hooper thought he heard, but could not distinguish, West Coast stations contacting an operator on resenting the greatest distance such contacts have been made.

Until recently, when Britain granted amateur operators permission to work on the 50 megacycle band, U. S. operators could not make contacts. However, Hooper had contacted England, the Netherlands, Estonia and Denmark on a 28 megacycle hook-up.

He operates from a lower power unit, developing possibly a four or five output from his antenna.

ROBERT W. SISSON

VA Manager Will Address Legionnaires

Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans Administration's Regional office in Lubbock, will deliver the principal address at the 19th District American Legion Convention this morning at the Big Spring Legion hall.

Sisson is a veteran of World War I and has been active in veteran's affairs since 1919. He has been a continuous member of the Legion since that time and has served the organization as department adjutant, department commander, chairman of the National Rehabilitation committee and executive director of the special committee which prepared and submitted the GI Bill of Rights to Congress.

Sisson also served as special representative of Gen. Omar Bradley, administrator of veterans affairs, prior to accepting management of the West Texas Veterans Administration Regional office early in 1946.

Delegates of both the Legion and the Auxiliary are to attend the morning session, which opens at 10 a. m.

Delegates began registering Saturday afternoon, and others were expected to arrive this morning. Early estimates indicated that between 300 and 400 Legionnaires and Auxiliary members would attend, but unfavorable weather Saturday afternoon threatened to shrink the attendance figures.

Convention activity opened at 7 p. m. Saturday with a post officers' meeting. The session was followed by a dance in the Legion hall.

Another feature of this morning's program will be a memorial service to be conducted by Rev. Alan Harvey-Brooks, Department of Texas Chaplain from Borger. Others on the morning program include Lawrence W. Barber, Sea-graves; Mrs. Harry McCain, Plainview; J. B. Gleason, Fifth Division commander; Harold P. Steck, Big Spring; Mrs. T. A. Thigpen, Big Spring; Ira L. Thurman, Big Spring.

The convention business meeting is scheduled for 1:30 p. m. following a luncheon.

Escapee Believed To Have Drowned

SANDY POINT, Nov. 22. (U)—One of two Darrington prison farm inmates who attempted to escape yesterday was believed to have drowned in the muddy Brazos river.

Prison officials said the two men were Harlan W. Knapp and Carlos R. Montague.

Capt. Dave Coers said that after Montague was recaptured he told him Knapp tired of swimming in the middle of the river and sank. No trace of Knapp was found in a search of the river banks.

Knapp, 24, was serving 30 years for forgery from Williamson county. Montague, 26, is serving seven years for robbery from Matagorda county.

... flight ends — and German widow changes mind.

PRETTY, BLOND GERMAN WIDOW SWITCHES SWEETHEARTS SUDDENLY

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. (U)—A pretty, blonde German widow, whose air passage to the United States was paid by one ex-soldier sweetheart, today flew into the arms of another, who won her heart while helping her write letters to her first suitor.

As Mrs. Mariele Strauss, 28, was being warmly kissed by Fred Lutz, 29, a Chicago bakery operator, her eight year old daughter, Helga, danced excitedly along side them.

The gay, early morning greeting at the municipal airport meant only bad news to Charles Schumaker, 40, of Strong City, Kans., who had expected to participate in a similar scene himself in Kansas City.

Schumaker, a railroader, met, wooed, and became engaged to Mrs. Strauss; the widow of a German officer, while he was on occupation duty in Bavaria. He paid the $700 passage for her and Helga.

"He'll get his $700 back," Lutz said with a firm nod of the head. "I won't owe money to anybody."

At a special hearing of an immigration and naturalization board yesterday in New York, Mrs. Strauss was granted the right to make her permanent residence here.

In Kansas Schumaker commented that he did not know Lutz, but he would "like to meet him face to face when this is all over."

Mayor Faces More Trials

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. Nov. 22. (U)—Additional trials of charges of mis-conduct in office against former Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin were continued today until after January 1.

McLaughlin, mayor here for 20 years, was acquitted last night in Mt. Ida, Ark., of a charge that he accepted poll tax payment authorization blanks from bamblers in return for "protection." The case was tried there on a change of venue.

State and defense attorneys conferred here today with Judge Maupin Cummings, Fayetteville, on trial plans and agreed to the continuance.

Prosecutor Sidney McMath, who spearheaded an ex-serviceman's group which ended McLaughlin's leadership in Garland county, said he would notify the defense in advance which of 15 remaining charges he would call for trial.

The acquittal last night by an all-male jury, composed mainly of farmers, came after an hour and fifteen minutes deliberations.

Rites Set For T. C. Williams

Wichita Falls Celebrates Its Soft Water

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 22. (U)—Wichita Falls celebrates over its new soft water supply today and prospects of rain and cold failed to dampen plans for the dedication of Lake Kickapoo, source of the new water supply.

A petition was filed yesterday in district court by Assistant District Attorney Kearby Peery asking $151,374 damages against a McAllen map publisher for alleged slurs on the taste and softness of Wichita Falls' water.

The petition was approved with apparent seriousness by the city council. It set forth that the map publisher, J. R. Beard, had "damaged" this city's reputation in his "a Texan's map of the U. S. A." in which Wichita Falls was referred to as having the "world's worst water."

The petition claimed this was no longer true and asked the court for an injunction against further publication and distribution of the map.

Peery reported that Beard had contacted city officials offering an apology, but defending his map as being correct at the time of publication.

Peery admitted that this offer from Beard probably would result in the city not pressing the damage suit.

Study Underway On Dental Decay

HOUSTON, Nov. 22. (U)—A 10-year study to determine an effective means of controlling dental decay is underway at Marshall, where fluorine is being added to the city's water supply, Dr. Willard Ogle of Dallas, secretary of the State Dental association, told the Houston District Dental Society today.

Ogle explained that one part of fluorine, a chemical of the chlorides family, is added to about 1,500,000 parts of water "to ascertain how effective the procedure is."

"It will be several years, however, before we will be able to gauge the effectiveness of fluorine in halting dental decay," he added.

Ellenburger Deep Outpost Has Show

By John B. Brewer

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 22.—Showing of Ellenburger oil by a northwest outpost to the Nelson field in western Andrews county, a heavy oil flow by a northeast outpost to the Jordan Ellenburger pool in southern Ector county and completion of a discovery San Andrew line pumper in Hockley county were among principal West Texas oil developments this week.

Shell No. 1 Evelyn Lineberry in western Andrews county, C NE NE 1-40-40-pd recovered 1,680 feet of oil and 240 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud on a drillstem test from 10,309-360 feet in Ellenburger topped at 10,265 feet. It cemented 5 1/2-inch casing on bottom at 10,410 feet in granite wash and was to test open hole. No. 1 Lineberry is one mile west and half mile north of Shell's opener of the Nelson (Ellenburger) pool.

Gulf No. 20-E-B W. E. Connell in southern Ector county, which indicated production from the Tubb added the Fusselman section of the Silurian to its pay list, flowing 110 barrels of oil the last hour of a drillstem test from 7,530-80 feet. It drilled ahead to explore the Ellenburger, being near the C SW SE 26-E16-pd, 1/2 mile northwest of the Jordan Ellenburger discovery.

Seaboard of Delaware No. 1 C. M. Wrenchey in Hockley county, two miles northwest of the Leveland (San Andres) field registered a daily pumping potential of 176.60 barrels of 31 gravity oil for completion from acidized San Andres at 4,758-4,802 feet. It is 680 feet out of the southeast corner of labor 25, league 733, State Capitol Lands survey.

Slick-Urschel No. 1 Plymouth-D. L. Alford, wildcat near the center of the east line of Upton county, in section 50 1/2-Y-P. B. Scott, was to run 5 1/2-inch casing for cementing on bottom at 12,002 feet and perforating in an attempt to develop discovery Ellenburger production. It entered the Ellenburger at 11,201 feet, 4,332 feet below sea level, and showed heavy gas, spraying distillate, to 11,312 feet. Packers failed to hold on most attempts to drillstem test below that point.

IN CHINA

Nationalists Losing Battle For Railroads

NANKING, Nov. 22.—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in his struggle with the Chinese communists is winning the war of cities but losing the battle of the railroads.

A study of the past three months of civil strife indicates that while the government defended its Manchurian strongholds and recovered some cities below the great wall, its most vital communication lines have been ripped and torn apart by skillful communist attacks.

Military experts, reviewing the struggle both in Manchuria and in China proper, agree that at least the first phase of the autumn campaigns have ended with the balance sheet in favor of the communists.

On paper—and on maps showing regions generally controlled by the government—it appears Generalissimo Chiang's armies have made important progress in their fight to quell "the communist rebellion."

But maps fail to show the blasted bridges, the mile after mile of burned rail lines, the nightly guerrilla raids by which Red bands have practically driven the national army into defending strong-points and allowing the enemy to roam the countryside at will.

"DIFFERENT" BOOK

Ray's Memories Of Texas Politics Make Good Reading

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—Worth S. Ray's memories of Texas politics carry him back to the post-reconstruction speeches of Richard Coke. His active participation began with Tom Campbell's administration as governor.

Ray is editor and publisher of the Texas Supreme Court Reporter at Austin. He is still very much on the job in the scramble for opinions each Wednesday in the supreme court clerk's office, but he has taken time out to share these political memories and others in an unique volume entitled "Down in the Cross Timbers."

Worth Ray's book is "different" for several reasons.

So far as he knows, it is the first volume picturing life in the cross timbers of Texas through a string of incidents stretching from the days following the War Between the States to the well-known atomic present.

Ray notes that hundreds of books have been written about the plains, the pine-burr country of East Texas, and "at least one writer has wasted reams trying to heavenize what is called the brush country."

"But our region, we would have them know, was different from all those, where the hackberry and blackjack grows, and the Trinity, Elm and Clear Fork flows."

The book is unique and refreshing in appearance. Printed off-set, it is for the most part typewritten, with illustrations by Ray. Recently published in a limited edition of 500 copies, it seems more like a conversation with the author, or a personal letter from him, than what most of us consider "a book."

"I had been raised up to vote for Joseph Weldon Bailey, right or wrong, which I always did, both in the elections at the polls and as a member of the legislature after he had been investigated," Ray writes. "I loved him and his friends and despised and hated his enemies, who were just as strong against him."

Ray refers to the Texas Almanac's geographical location of the cross timbers as "narrow ribbons of upland timber, composed chiefly of blackjack and post oak trees, which cross the prairies of the state in a north-south direction." But his anecdotes of the effect of the bull-tongue plow, the country merchant, the cross timber barbecue, the old brass kettle and "square dances and play parties", are more than geographical in definition.

He locates the cross timbers in one phase of the history of Texas with these words:

"The sandy land section of Texas and the cross timbers were Jim Ferguson's strongholds. For 25-years the hired hands and farmers (particularly the tenant farmers) flocked on every available occasion to hear Jim deliver his fiery, sarcastic diatribes."

And coming more up to date is the caption of one illustration: "As a sandy land farm hand in the cross timbers around Tlaga, Gene Autrey was a good guitar player."

Then there was the story of Bud Carson's efforts under Professor Luce in a cross timbers school to parse the sentence, "See the dog run after the cat." Bud—described as one who later became "editor-in-chief of a certain well-known Fort Worth newspaper"—managed to write: "Dog is a noun."

There, he stuck until inspiration flowed, and he came up with this:

"A dog is a noun
He runs round and round—
His tail sticks up
And his head hangs down."

And so it goes, for 160 pages of choice, grass-roots talk of Joe Sterling, Jim Ferguson, Col. Bill Sterrett, Sam Bass, Jim Hogg, Cone Johnson, country editors and all the other cross timber men.

Worth Ray, who came to the legislature 40 years ago from Denton county, knows. He was there.

Whitney Discusses Coming Election

Sketching the two questions to be voted on in December in a special election called by the city commission, Herbert Whitney, city manager, addressed members of the American Business club at noon Friday.

The election, said Whitney, is in connection with management of the fire and police department over the state. To affect the local units directly will be the Civil Service provision for establishment of a local Civil Service Commission which will regulate hiring and dismissal of police and firemen. The act also stipulates that examination is necessary to fill offices in either department, and requires that a list of eligible appointees be made up to provide for the proper filling of vacancies. The bill would also prohibit members of either department from striking.

The second article of the bill concerns a minimum wage for policemen and firemen. Big Spring townspeople must also vote on this issue, said Whitney, although wages of local officers and firemen is considerably above the minimum requirements.

The ABC club voted to sponsor an appearance of the California Redheads' basketball team here in March. C. Y. Clinkscales, president, announced that the club would attend a joint meeting of civic groups at Hotel Settles Tuesday noon.

Lone Star Steel May Buy Mines

DALLAS, Nov. 22. —Lone Star Steel company executives met yesterday to consider plans to purchase outright the Eastex iron ore mines, the plant facilities at Dainierfield and Oklahoma coal mines, now under lease from the War Assets Administration.

One plan included an offer by a large motor corporation to invest $2,000,000 in the company in exchange for nonconvertible debentures.

Action on the various plans will be taken after November 25—the deadline for preferential sale of 1,000,000 shares to present stockholders, officials stated.

The company's executive committee Friday also authorized a program to provide permanent housing for plant officials at Dainierfield and approved a plan requested by employees which allows their participation in the ownership of the company.

Hopes For Review Of Tariff Pact

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. —Russell Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, said today he hopes the Senate will review the Geneva tariff agreement announced earlier this week by the State department.

"The principal reduction in the new set of agreements which take in numerous countries is on gasoline," he said in a letter to Merle Becker, president of the organization. "Congress put a duty of 2½ cents a gallon on this product in 1932 and it had remained unchanged. The Administration has now cut it in half, effective January 1."

City Commission Schedules Meet

ANNUAL SHOW CLIMAXED

Twenty-Two Pigs Are Sold For $3000.79 At Auction

Climaxing the annual Howard county 4-H club and FFA pig show, 22 animals sold for $3,000.79 at auction in the former AAF motor pool warehouse Friday night.

Topped by the $1,064 a pound paid by Cosden Petroleum Corp. to Jimmie White for his grand champion barrow, bidders averaged paying $136.39 a head for the prize animals.

Second high was the reserve champion barrow entered by Ann White, which was purchased by Lone Star Chevrolet Co. for $900.

The auction marked the official termination of the show, although animals were still on exhibit in the warehouse Saturday.

In Friday afternoon judging, Dean Forrest exhibited the grand champion gilt, while Lloyd Robinson's entry took reserve champion honors. Perry Walker was winner of the showmanship award in the gilt class.

Howard county entries edged Martin county animals in the Sears Foundation district breeding show, which was held in connection with the regular county event. The gilt shown by Dean Forrest was judged tops in its class in the Sears show.

Runners up were shown by Felix Russell of Martin county. Delbert Davidson exhibited the champion boar in the Sears competition, while the reserve champion was shown by John Dale Kelly of Martin county.

Judging contests scheduled Saturday for 4-H club and FFA members were postponed due to weather conditions. The contests will be conducted as a field day event at a later date, County Agent Durward Lewter said.

The show was sponsored by the Big Spring junior chamber of commerce. The Jaycee agricultural committee, composed of Harvey Wooten, Henry Bugg and Lewter, was in charge of arrangements.

Other purchasers at the auction, with price paid and name of feeder, follows: Knapp Slaughter house, 44-cents; Jimmie White; John Davis; Feed store, 45-cents; Wayne White; Lone Star Chevrolet, 45-cents; Ronnie Davidson; Crawford Coffee Shop, 45-cents; Wayne White; Dr. Lee Rogers, 41½-cents; Dean Forrest; Bugg Wholesale Co., 46-cents; Delbert Davidson; Big Spring Locker Co., 42-cents; Rosetta Williams; Barrow Furniture, 52-cents; Ann White; Creighton Tire Co., 40-cents; Delbert Harland; Planter's Gin, 51 cents; Perry Walker, 51-cents; Planter's Gin; Big Spring Hardware, 40-cents; Charles Williams; Malone-Hogan Hospital, 50-cents; Burrell Hull; Safeway store, 40-cents; Murphy Daniels; Repps Guitar, 52 cents.

PICKING UP PIECES

Britain's New Voice Is That Of Mediator Between Goliaths

An English Princess married last week, in almost traditional splendor.

The England she symbolizes is not the mighty empire of Victoria nor the growing realm of an earlier Elizabeth. This England is picking up the pieces, living austere and in some confusion in the midst of change. This England speaks less loudly abroad.

Britain's new voice in the world is that of a mediator between the two Goliaths of postwar power, the United States and Soviet Russia.

Peace may depend much on how skillfully England plays this role, and on what support she musters from other members of the global cast.

A still more spectacular proof of Britain's altered role was provided in San Francisco last week. A passing Chinese official found kind things to say about the British.

This is historic, because 20 years ago Chinese disliked Britain worse than Japan. They scoured their vocabularies for nasty things to say about the Britannia which still ruled the waves and carried the self-assumed "white man's burden" in Asia.

The anti-British movement in China may have started Britain on her new course. She gave up a concession in Hankow, and followed years later with more Asiatic sailing as World War II drew near and almost swamped her ship of state.

Now England and the peoples she once dominated around the world are mutually worried that the two young and inexperienced giants of the postwar world may never settle down without a fight.

So it is that China's chief delegate to the United Nations, Dr. T. T. Tsiang, can say of England: "What England has done in India and Burma is magnificent, wonderful. We find the British the most reasonable people in the world today—Americans and Russians the most dogmatic. British delegates are the quickest of all to meet us half way."

Both countries could become grist between two millstones in any future world war. Both are old, experienced powers.

They are the two most influential of the many secondary powers around the world who have nothing to gain and everything to lose in another war—cold or otherwise.

October Postal Receipts Are Up

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (U)—Texas postal receipts in October were $2,885,964, ten per cent better than the same month a year ago, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported.

Dallas led in dollar figures, totalling $843,766. Edinburg and Del Rio led in percentage increases between September and October, each registering 60 per cent jumps. Corsicana had a 57 per cent gain. All other cities reported advances except Orange, where a 5 per cent setback was registered.

Advertising Space Is Up In Texas

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (U)—October advertising linage in Texas newspapers rose 14 per cent over September totals, the University of Texas bureau of business research reported today.

October's total was 28,804,184 lines, 25 per cent above figures for the same month a year ago. Only two newspapers reported advertising figures showing a monthly decline, the bureau said.

U. S., Mexico Planning New Labor Contract

EL PASO, Nov. 22. (U-P)—A proposed new migratory labor contract between the United States and Mexico was still in preliminary stages as an international labor conference entered its third day here today.

Among several specific points to be discussed is the attempt to have Texas removed from Mexico's labor blacklist. Early this fall the Mexican government refused to allow more Mexican workers to enter in Texas, claiming discrimination against them.

At Mexico City last night the foreign office said Mexico would continue its policy of refusing to authorize contracts for Braceros (agricultural workers) to U. S. states "where discrimination has occurred against Mexicans or persons of Mexican parentage."

It was also announced that all future contracts must contain a clause stipulating "wages equal to those paid other workers for similar work in the respective region."

One new contract change discussed in the El Paso meeting would require U. S. employers to post a $40 cash deposit for each worker—a guarantee that the laborer can pay his transportation home. Last year's contract called for a $30 deposit.

Dallas Man Heads Obstetricians

FORT WORTH, Nov. 22. (U-P)—Dr. Warren E. Massey of Dallas assumed the presidency of the Texas Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists in the closing session today of the 18th annual meeting.

Dr. Arthur Farris of Houston was named vice president; Dr. George Adams of Houston, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. Julius McIver, Dallas, president-elect for the next term.

Dr. J. E. Kanatser of Wichita Falls, outgoing president, and Dr. H. O. Smith of Marlin were named new members of the executive council. Other members are Dr. Allen Stewart of Lubbock, J. H. Burditt of Abilene, Allen McMurrey of Houston and G. H. Beavers, Jr., of Fort Worth.

'CIVILIAN WEST POINT'

Texas A&M Called Valuable Cog In National Defense

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (U-P)—Eight "civilian West Points," including Texas A. and M. College, are recognized by the Army as invaluable cogs in the national defense organization.

Maj. Gen. Willard S. Paul, Army personnel chief, says that for an "indefinite" period civilian colleges must constitute a prime source of officer material.

"By the sheer size of our officer procurement problem," he says, "we must realize that West Point itself can no longer provide us with all or even most of our officer material. More and more we must depend on the Reserve Officers Training Corps for a steady flow of regular lieutenants."

Besides Texas A. and M., the "civilian West Points" are Norwich University at Northfield, Vt.; Pennsylvania Military College, Chester, Pa.; Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va.; Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg, Va.; Clemson College, Clemson, S. C.; The Citadel, Charleston, S. C.; and North Georgia College, Dahlonega, Ga.

A. and M. is the only one of the eight west of the Mississippi River. All the others, except Norwich and Pennsylvania Military College, are in the Old South.

While more than 150 colleges now are giving ROTC training, only these eight are classified by the Army as "MC" or "military college" institutions. The standards set by the Army in determining an "MC" rating are described, officially, as follows:

"Military colleges and universities which grant degrees, which graduate students at an average age of not less than 21 years, which normally require all students to pursue military training throughout their course at the institution and require all ROTC students to be habitually in uniform, which constantly maintain military discipline and which have as objectives the development of the student by means of military training and the regulation of his conduct in accordance with disciplinary principles."

The "CC" rated—civilian colleges—institutions offer four years of ROTC training, but usually leave the last two years of military training optional with the student.

Between World War One and World War Two, according to Army figures, the eight "civilian West Points" supplied the Army with one-eighth of its reserve officer strength, notwithstanding the fact that they comprise only one-twentieth of the overall ROTC system.

Under present Army policy, several hundred students designated each year as honor graduates of various ROTC schools will be offered regular army commissions. Still others, ordered to active duty as reservists, may be invited after a period of duty to join the regulars.

While graduates of Texas A. and M. at present are eligible only for commissions in the Army, a plan which has been under discussion here lately by officials of the college may lead eventually to the Air Force.

In Washington attending a meeting of land-grant college officials, Dean H. M. Barlow and Dean Frank Bolton discussed the possibility of inaugurating a flying training program at College Station as a part of the ROTC system there.

The record that Texas Aggies made in World War Two is an enviable one. Five of them won Congressional Medal of Honor.

Plainview Woman Heads Peace Group

DALLAS, Nov. 22. (U-P)—Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, Texas, chairman of the Woman's Action Committee for Lasting Peace, announced today a membership campaign would be launched immediately.

She said a state organization meeting was held here yesterday. Vice-chairmen elected included Mrs. Theron J. Fouts, Denton; Miss Helen Swift, College Station; Mrs. Ruth Godfrey, Dallas; and Mrs. Claude Watts, Austin. Mrs. Faye S. Gordon, Amarillo, was named secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the committee, Mrs. Walker said, "is to unite American women to work for full participation by the United States in the United Nations in order to build a world of peace and justice under law."

CAB Says Weather Didn't Cause Crash

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (U-P)—The Civil Aeronautics Board's safety bureau reported today that weather did not contribute to the crash of a United Air Lines DC6 passenger plane in Bryce Canyon, Utah, last Oct. 24, fatal to the 52 persons aboard. It also noted there was no failure of engines or propellers.

The preliminary statement of facts, required by law, stated no conclusion on what caused the crash, but the plane which preceded the crash, it said, hearings will be reopened soon to consider technical information now being completed.

PROCLAIMS SEAL MONTH — Urging Texans to fight Tuberculosis by their generous purchase and use of Christmas Seals, Governor Beasly today signs a proclamation designating the period from November 24 to December 25 as Christmas Seal Month in Texas. TEXAS POLL

Most Texans Have A Bible In Home

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. — If the Pilgrim Fathers could come back Thanksgiving Day, it would be pretty hard for them to find a Texas home without a Bible in it.

In 94 out of every 100 homes at which they called—homes in the country, homes in the little towns and villages, and homes in the big cities—they would find the book which was the source of their spirit of Thanksgiving. They would find it in the homes of the low and high, the educated and uneducated, the young, the middle-aged and the old.

And if the Pilgrim Fathers probed into the Bible reading habits of adult Texans, as The Texas Poll has done in its latest statewide survey, they would find a little more than a third of the population reads it every day or week and another third reads it occasionally. They would find that about a fourth of the people admit they read it seldom or almost never.

Sixteen out of every 100 adult Texans indicate they read the Bible every day and 20 out of every 100 say they read it each week, according to the results of the survey. Thirty-five out of every 100 say they read it occasionally, 11 out of every 100 say they seldom read it, 15 out of every 100 say they almost never read it, and three out of every 100 give no answer.

To find out if the Bible is available for reading in homes and how many people read it, interviewers of The Texas Poll throughout the state asked a representative cross-section of the adult population the following two questions:

"Do you have a Bible in your home?"
People in Rural Areas	People in Towns	People in Cities	Over 80,000
100%	94%	96%	92%
100%	100%	100%	100%

"How often do you read the Bible—every day, every week, occasionally, seldom, or almost never?"
People in Rural Areas	People in Towns	People in Cities	Over 80,000
Every day 14%	14%	15%	15%
Every week 26%	24%	24%	24%
Occasionally 35%	36%	36%	36%
Seldom 10%	10%	10%	10%
Almost never 15%	14%	14%	14%
No answer 4%	5%	5%	5%
100%	100%	100%	100%

People of the upper income group indicate that they have more Bibles in their homes than do people of the lower income group. Ninety-nine per cent of the upper group say there are Bibles in their homes as compared to 91 per cent in the lower group. The reading habits of both groups, however, are comparatively the same.

Analysis of the survey indicates that the regular readers of the Bible are predominantly women while the groups which read it seldom or almost never are predominantly men. Analysis also shows that, the older people get the more they turn to the Bible

Freedom Train To Be In Texas

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (U-P)—The Freedom Train's tour of 119 major cities in the nation includes stops in 14 Texas cities during January and February, the Texas State Bar announced today.

William J. Mark of Austin, state bar secretary, said the Freedom Train's Texas schedule is as follows:

Denison, Jan. 29; Dallas, Jan. 30; Fort Worth, Jan. 31; Waco, Feb. 1-2; Tyler, Feb. 3; Beaumont, Feb. 4; Houston, Feb. 5-6; Galveston, Feb. 7; Harlingen, Feb. 8-9; Corpus Christi, Feb. 10; Austin, Feb. 11; San Antonio, Feb. 12; Del Rio, Feb. 13; and El Paso, Feb. 14.

The Bar association, in co-operation with the American Heritage Foundation which is directing the project, has written presidents of local bar associations in cities on the train's schedule, requesting their active participation.

Park said towns and cities where the train does not stop are also urged to participate in the celebration by planning pilgrimages of public officials, school children and patriotic groups to the nearest town where the train stops.

Local celebrations in the 14 Texas cities were suggested to center around the mayor's official designation of "re-dedication week," including the day of the train's stop.

Martin County Looking Toward Big Stock Show

STANTON, Nov. 22. (U-P)—Martin county 4-H club members are planning what promises to be the largest junior livestock show ever held here, County Agent James Eiland has announced.

Club feeders have pigs, lambs, steers and capons lined up for projects in anticipation of the event, which probably will be held late in February.

Eiland said 37 pigs were placed on feed recently by various 4-H club members, and a dozen lambs and 14 beef steers will be groomed for the show.

In addition, several boys are raising capons, which they will enter in competition.

Martin county boys participating in the Sears pig breeding program attended the district Sears Foundation contest at Big Spring Friday. The Sears event was held in connection with the regular Howard county club pig show.

State Construction Total For Week Is Over $8,000,000

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. (U-P)—A one-million dollar apartment hotel on which construction was begun in Houston sparked the state's residential construction awards this week to a total of $8,728,450, the Texas Contractor, construction industry news publication, reported today.

The Houston hotel is to provide 144 family units, the report said. Construction was also reported to have gotten underway during the week on other residential projects throughout the state to provide another 1,082 one-family units.

Biggest share of the total went into residences costing less than $7,000. There were 938 homes in this category at a total cost of $6,596,500. Sixty-four more expensive residences costing $831,950, other apartments costing $219,000 and 10 duplex apartments costing $81,000 were included in the week's activity.

Silks that have just been laundered should be hung indoors and rolled for ironing before they become entirely dry.

'SLOWDOWN' COMPLAINT

Labor Board Charges ITU With Unfair Labor Moves

By The Associated Press

A formal complaint charging the International Typographical Union (ITU) with unfair labor practices has been issued by the National Labor Relations Board as labor disputes involving members of the ITU disrupted normal operations in newspaper plants in Chicago and Detroit.

The complaint, based on charges filed by the American Newspaper Publishers association on Oct. 7, accused the ITU of violating the Taft-Hartley labor-management law with its "no contract" policy.

Action by the NLRB was announced last night as Chicago's two morning newspapers, the Tribune and the Sun, said operations in their composing rooms had returned to normal, at least temporarily, after several days of "slowdown tactics" by composing room employees.

The Chicago newspaper publishers association, which represents six major daily newspapers, has charged the local ITU with repeated "slowdowns" since the union's contract with the association expired on Oct. 21.

In the complaint issued by the NLRB, the ANPA, which represents 400 of the nation's newspapers, charged the union with insisting on continuation of the closed shop clauses in new contracts although the Taft-Hartley law prohibits the closed shop. The ITU also is charged with "slowdowns," "featherbedding," and refusal to bargain collectively.

The complaint will be heard by a NLRB trial examiner on Dec. 9 in Indianapolis, the ITU's national headquarters.

The ANPA said that ITU, which claims about 85,000 members throughout the country, had contracts with 239 daily newspapers in 185 cities which either had expired or will expire by Dec. 31.

In Chicago last night first editions of the Tribune and Sun were three hours late, but later spokesmen said composing room operations returned to normal as employees returned to their jobs on orders of Randolph Woodruff, ITU president. The two newspapers had reported seven consecutive days of "slowdown tactics" in the composing rooms.

The Sun's first edition was 16 pages from photo-engraved plates of typewritten sheets, but a second

Found Unconscious In Roadside Ditch

WACO, Nov. 22. (U-P)—Found unconscious in a ditch at the edge of the city limits, Raymond B. Roberts, Jr., 24, of Waco, was in a serious condition here today.

Police officers said they believed he was a victim of a hit and run driver.

The man was found in a five-foot ditch by Arthur Springle. His clothing was soaked by a cold rain.

Leader Stripped Of Citizenship

WARSAW, Nov. 22. (U-P)—The council of ministers announced today that Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former vice premier and leader of the Polish peasant party, had been stripped of his Polish citizenship. The opposition party leader fled Poland for London last month.

U. S. Ambassador Stanton Griffiths issued a statement last night denying reports current in Warsaw that he might have had knowledge of how Mikolajczyk managed to flee.

Griffiths also denied rumors that Second Secretary Munro Williams Blake of the American embassy might have been involved in Mikolajczyk's flight and that Zygmunt Modzielewski, Polish foreign minister, had told Griffiths that Blake should be recalled.

He also said First Secretary George Andrews of Chattanooga, Tenn., was not involved in any way in the Mikolajczyk case.

To Marry Texan

NEW YORK, Nov. 22. (U-P)—Among 607 passengers arriving here today aboard the steamship Marine Falcon was Miss Phoebe Jenkins, 19, of Swansea, Wales. She said she was to meet and marry William C. Kutch, 21, of Wellington, Tex., whom she met when a merchant ship on which he was a radio operator was grounded off Wales.

Arab Challenge

JERUSALEM, Nov. 22. (U-P)—Har-yeen (freedom) Clandestine Arab organization today challenged the Stern group, underground Jewish organization, to a battle in the orange groves near Rannana, where five Arabs were slain Nov. 20.

The challenge was contained in posters appearing in the old city.

Bell To Train For The Highway Patrol

Charles Bell, who resigned his job as deputy sheriff here the past week, leaves within the next few days to enter training for Texas State Highway patrol work.

Bell, who succeeded Miss Katie Gilmore as office deputy for Sheriff Bob Wolf some time ago, will probably be assigned to radio work with the patrol. He served as a radio technician with the Army Air Forces in Europe in World War II. He will undergo his training at Camp Mabry, Austin.

Bell has been replaced in Wolf's office by Cecil Ligon, who moved his family from Odessa recently. Ligon is a native of Falls county.

Engineering Reserve Schedules Meeting

Third meeting of its new training series is announced for the local battalion of the Volunteer Civil Engineering Corps Reserve, the session to be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the court house.

Reservists will study chapter 3 of their seminar course, "The Continental Shore Establishment." A sound movie also will be shown. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Student Injured

Harold Jeffcoat, Big Spring high school student, suffered a severe lip cut and bruises Friday afternoon when he slipped from a concrete banister and fell on steps leading to the city hall basement in Abilene. He was given treatment at the Hendrick Memorial hospital and released. Harold had gone to Abilene for the Big Spring-Abilene high school football game.

BEST MANNERED — Ella the Elephant is one of the best-mannered characters who will parade here On Parade of more than 50 figures will bob and on Parade of more than 50 figures will bob and trundle over a mile-long route. The entire procession of humorous and weird figures will be escorted by more than 100 costumed attendants. Although Ella requires only four handlers, the Giant Balloon Train that also appears in the parade will be propelled by a contingent of about 30 large boys.

ON DECEMBER 4

Variety Of Entertainment Is Planned For Big Spring

Thursday, Dec. 4, will bring a variety of festive entertainment to Big Spring, with a long parade featuring the famous Jean Gros balloons scheduled for the climactic event in an afternoon trek through the business district.

In addition to the balloons, however, a number of floats and other entries sponsored by local organizations will participate, and six high school bands will march and furnish music for the occasion.

The bands will be competing for $250 in prizes, with $75 first place awards to go to the winning aggregations in two divisions and $50 each for runnersup. Bands with 60 or more musicians will comprise one division, while the other group will be made up of units with less than 60 members each.

The bands will gather here in the morning, however, to attend a clinic, and their activities will not be concluded until completion of a special night performance in the Municipal auditorium. Members of all bands are scheduled to play simultaneously at the auditorium.

Thousands of people from surrounding points are expected here for the afternoon parade to witness the march of the Jean Gros balloon characters, which include balloon animals and other figures. Exceptionally large crowds have lined the streets in other cities of the Southwest where the balloon parade has been staged. A parade in Amarillo drew an estimated 150,000 persons, while some 80,000 turned out at Lubbock and 100,000 at Abilene when the Gros organization appeared.

Meyers

port and recommendations. Instead the bushy-headed investigator announced that the entire hearing record would go to:

1. The Federal district attorney here for study of the testimony in the light of perjury statutes.

2. The Attorney General for study by the justice department's criminal division regarding Federal law prohibiting fraud and corruption on government contracts.

3. Federal tax collection officials who handle tax fraud and evasion cases.

4. The standing Senate banking committee for a wider probe of "margin" deals in government bonds. Meyers testified he and his family bought $4,000,000 of these during the war with a relatively small down payment and large resulting "paper profits".

Arnold said he appeared voluntarily because the "wartime air force and I as its responsible head are under attack x x x". "Let not the air force suffer beyond its deserts," Arnold pleaded. "Let not public confidence in the integrity and high purpose of those who served and will serve in the air force be destroyed. Mistakes are inevitable in big organizations like the army, navy and air force."

The Week

spell. They'll need it, considering the acutely short feed supplies.

Apparently the War Assets Administration is preparing to withdraw completely from the airport tract, surrendering the land to the city. This leaves unanswered for the moment the disposition of some buildings and other facilities not yet definitely disposed.

Howard county 4-H and FFA boys staged a creditable pig show last week. Entries were far more numerous than ever before and the quality definitely was up. The effects of good breeding and good feeding were apparent. Total sales of $3,000 put a successful climax to the event, sponsored by the Jaycees and aided by the chamber of commerce and merchants.

Elevation of Douglas Orme to a vice-presidency with Cosden Petroleum Corp. is well received here. In addition to having earned esteem for his participation in community affairs, Orme has earned respect among traffic circles for his work. He did much of the groundwork in the "pipeline on wheels" rate experiment, which seemingly is proving out for the TP and Cosden.

This week the Community Chest will be in action on all fronts. Most everyone wishes this important undertaking well, and this feeling can be translated into action by giving, and by volunteering to assist in solicitation. With a generous people and willing workers, the job can be done effectively. Don't wait to be called upon, send your generous gift to headquarters at Empire Southern Gas company.

Something definitely different and big is in store for Dec. 4 when the balloon parade is held here. This extravaganza is so large that it will require about an hour to pass a given point, and it will be a treat for adults and children alike.

Seeking to get at some needed projects, the chamber of commerce is setting up some special committees charged with specific jobs, among them improvements for the state hospital and follow up work on the Veterans Hospital.

Approximately 1.5 million long tons of U. S. grain and grain products were exported during April of this year, according to estimates of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Chest

Chest and the necessity for the programs involved under it, Ira Uhrman, general chairman, urged that donors bear this in mind when making their contributions.

"Contributors will not be contacted repeatedly during the year," he said, "and therefore we appeal to all people to consider the good that will result to the entire community in making their gifts and pledges."

In this connection, he called attention to the opportunity for pledging, for "many cannot have the part on a cash basis that they would like to have in such a wholesome and worthy venture as is represented by the agencies aided by the Chest. Pledges are urged as a means whereby such individuals or firms can participate on the basis they would like."

Meanwhile, those who find it convenient or who are missed inadvertently on the canvass are urged to mail or to leave at the headquarters in Empire Southern Gas company their contributions.

Latex Continues Work On Pipeline

The Latex Construction Co., which is operating crews of workmen out of Big Spring is continuing work on a pipeline contracted jointly by Shell Oil Co. and The Texas Co.

The pipeline is charted across the southern part of the county, crossing Highway 87 several miles south of Big Spring.

The Latex Co. has obtained warehouse facilities from the city at the former Army Airfield, without downtown office space at Fourth and Johnson.

Rogers Purchases Morris System, Merges Stocks

Purchase of the Morris System grocery, 504 Johnson, by Rogers grocery was announced Saturday by F. D. Rogers.

Rogers has been operating the food store bearing his name, at 608 Gregg street, and was moving from that location to the larger Johnson street store over the week end. Stocks of the two stores are being merged there, and effective Monday, it will be the Rogers grocery at 504 Johnson.

Highway Collision May Bring Charges

Driver of one automobile involved in a collision near the west city limits on Highway 80 early Saturday night is due to be charged with driving while intoxicated, state highway patrolmen reported.

The vehicle in question collided with an out-of-state car, whose driver was not identified. Officers said no serious injuries resulted from the crash, although a woman who was riding in the out-of-state machine suffered bruises.

Driver of a third automobile, who approached the scene too swiftly according to officers, also was put under arrest. He probably will face a reckless driving charge.

Three Charged With Disturbance

W. C. Connell, Willie Barrington and John Turner, booked in justice court Saturday morning on charges of having created a disturbance Friday night, were released on $100 bail each later in the day and were to return for questioning before the grand jury.

The trio allegedly were involved in a fight at a west-end tavern Friday night. One of the principals claimed he had been beaten over the head by a shot-gun. The arrests were made by Deputy Sheriff C. E. Kiser.

Truckmen Go Back To Work

DALLAS, Nov. 22. —Striking AFL truck drivers and warehousemen went back to work at the Safeway stores here today although the seniority dispute over which they struck has not yet been settled.

The disagreement, which involved the position of a truck driver, James P. Griffin, Jr. will be submitted to arbitration within the next 10 days, said F. C. Hanna, president of AFL Teamsters Local 535.

The four-day old strike was called off last night after a meeting of the drivers. Pickets at company warehouses and bakery were removed Friday afternoon, after District Judge W. L. Thornton granted Safeway and the Fairfax bread company a temporary injunction prohibiting picketing.

DAMAGE UNCERTAIN

Mist, Rain Bring Gins To A Halt

Howard county cotton gins found little demand for their services during the past week, as most of the unharvested crop remained dripping in the fields as a result of virtually unbroken damp weather.

Gins were at a standstill by Saturday after a new blanket of clouds moved in with colder weather producing a steady, fine mist.

Estimates at the end of the week indicated that possibly 400 to 500 bales had been ginned in the county, or approximately one sixth of the previous week's total.

The weather also is expected to affect the market once picking crews can take to the fields again.

Damage during the past week alone might lower the classification at least one grade, some observers speculated. Ginner said the grade of the remaining crop would be uncertain until it is ginned. When the water soaked bolls now open in the fields are mixed with those yet to open, unpredictable grades may result.

Estimates on total ginnings for the year stood at approximately 27,000 bales at the end of the week.

Cut roses placed in a cool place for several hours, or overnight, will help them keep longer.

MITCHELL AND MARTIN SHARE

Pair Of Locations Highlight Oil Activity As Weather Halts Work

Two locations, one for a deep test in northeastern Martin county and the other for a shallow exploration in northwest Mitchell stood out in a fairly inactive week of oil developments in this area.

Weather kept practically all drilling in this section at a standstill. No completions were reported.

H. S. Moss, Dallas, staked his No. 1 P. K. Mackey, a 3,150-foot venture four miles northwest of the Westbrook pool and six miles north of Lufkin, approximately half way between the Westbrook and Coleman Ranch pools. Exact location was not learned immediately, although it may be in section 14, northeast diagonal section from the Jones (22) section where Ted and Al Groebel drilled an exploration several years ago.

Sun Oil Company announced location for its No. 1 J. E. Hale, et al, an 8,000-foot venture to test the lower Permian in northeastern Martin county, 20 miles north of Stanton and 25 miles northwest of Big Spring. It is to be 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of section 36-35-3n, T&P, and on a 10,000 acre block held by Sun, in northwestern Martin county the wildcat Standilind No. 1 J. E. Maybee, 660 feet out of the southwest corner of tract 87-258, Briscoe school survey, drilled below 8,850 feet in lower Permian lime and shale.

Seaboard Oil No. 1 Caldwell, a deepening project from the Brown & Karcher No. 1 Caldwell, section 32-32-3n, T&P, extreme north-central Howard county, continued to rig up. The exploration is to be taken from 6,700 feet to 10,000 or Ellenburger at a lesser depth.

Sun Oil completed its No. 4 Homer H. Jameson in the Jameson (Strawn) pool of northwestern Coke county as the 11th producer in the field, as operations pointed to a brisk pace in that area. The No. 4 Jameson flowed 206 barrels of oil and 10 barrels of basic sediment and water in 20 hours through a quarter inch choke, bottomed at 6,537 feet. It is near the C SW NW 253-1A, H&TC. Sun announced plans to drill 13 other tests in the area, all inside or offset operations to a depth of 6,500 to 6,600 feet.

Skelly Oil confirmed a discovery in its No. 1 L. E. Adrian, southeastern Nolan wildcat, but on a much less restrained basis than previous unofficial reports: The test was said to have topped the Ellenburger at 6,538 feet, drilled to 6,430 feet before setting packer at 6,400 feet for a drillstem test that yielded salt water and oil and gas-cut mud. Then casing was cemented on bottom and pipe from 6,368-88 perforated with 120 shots and from 6,340-64 with 144 shots preceding injection of 1,000 gallons of acid. After it returned 37.63 barrels of oil in seven hours, 3,000 gallons were injected and the test returned 68 barrels in 34 hours. Location is in section 53-20, T&P, 10 miles southeast of Sweetwater.

Exploration Drilling Co. No. 1 J. H. Withers, three miles southeast of Sweetwater was a new location in Nolan being 1,890 feet from the north and 660 feet from the east lines of section 66-21, T&P, and projected for 7,000 feet.

SOUR NOTES NOW HUSHED

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 22. (AP)—All is harmony again with the Long Beach municipal band. Dissonant notes that had been marring its daily concerts have been stopped.

Band Director J. J. Richard told Neal Harrington, assistant city manager, yesterday that a feud had developed between clarinetist Levine Lariotti and Oboist Harry Tafarella.

Richard said that whenever Barloti undertook a clarinet solo Tafarella accompanied him with "low, unseemly sounds" not written in the oboe score. The other musicians became amused and were unable to pucker properly, the director added.

Harrington had a long talk with Barloti and Tafarella. The clarinetist and oboist shook hands, and all was harmonious during the concert that followed.

WEEK'S BUSINESS

'47 City Construction Work Tops Million Dollar Mark

Construction work in the city for the current year passed the million dollar mark by the end of the week, as several new residential units were contracted and development of surplus buildings from the Army Airfield continued. Smaller projects, however, topped the week's list, with approximately three-fourths of the 21 permits issued carrying estimated costs of less than $1,000 each. Total cost figures for the week amounted to $29,425, a slight gain over figures of the previous week. Cost total for the year reached $1,006,355 Saturday.

Ten warranty deeds were filed in the county clerk's office during the week, approximating the average of the past few weeks. Property involved in the transactions recorded last week sold for a total of $25,613, which boosted the 1947 total to $1,763,352.

As usual, passenger automobiles topped the list of new motor vehicle registrations at the county tax assessor-collector's office. Licenses were issued during the week for 18 cars and for two trucks.

Weather conditions occasioned declines in volume at local livestock auctions, with some 800 head accounted for in two sales. Most prices were steady, however.

WINGS OVER B' SPRING

Pair Make Tour Of Mexico At Travel Cost Of $32 Each

J. D. Church, district airport engineer for the CAA returned Thursday from a tour of Mexico in his Cessna 120. He was accompanied by A. L. Witt, Fort Worth architect, and they went as far south as the Guatemala border visiting Victoria, Mexico City, Acapulco, Oaxaca, Tehuantepec, Tuxtla Gutierrez, Villa Hermosa, Coahuacoalcos, Tuxpam, Tampico, and Matamoros. Landings were made enroute at a number of isolated jungle airstrips.

Travel through Mexico by private plane was found to be easier and less expensive than by other means. Border clearances at Brownsville required less than 30 minutes in either direction and cost nothing. Throughout Mexico the two were accorded extreme courtesy by government and airport officials and at no place detained to show papers. Plenty of airports were available and the terrain no more difficult than many parts of the U. S. In one week they covered 2,600 miles (air line) through Mexico at a total travel cost of only $32 each.

N. W. Lepeard, assigned to the control tower here, has gone to Fort Worth to bring his family to Big Spring. Robert Tiernan, also a tower operator here for the past two years, has been transferred to Richmond, Va., but will not leave until around Dec. 1. M. B. Shafer and J. D. Stone, radio technicians for the CAA, department of commerce, have been installing approach traffic controls for the tower.

George Callas had plenty of cause to be upset about the weather, which was responsible for requiring five days flight from California to Big Spring—and him with 4,000 gardenias aboard. He hoped to be able to get to Dallas sometime this weekend to avoid complete loss on his precious and perishable cargo, intended originally for Louisville, Ky. Callas managed to dispose of some of his flowers, including some orchids he had aboard, in Big Spring.

Commander Denham of the Navy ferrying command spent Tuesday at the Muny airport. During the week the Army's latest liaison plane, the L-13 Consolidated Vulture, which has an almost unbelievably low landing speed, put down here.

Ellis Hall, Abilene oil man, and W. W. LaForce, Midland oil men, have had their crafts in at Big Spring Flying Service for minor repairs.

L. V. Ward, Garden City, Kan., vice-president of the national Flying Farmers organization, has been in this area during the week, having flown here on a cattle purchase expedition. He had been inspecting herds south of Colorado City until the weekend.

Mule Kayser flew Dan Rogers to Dallas last week, and Bill Edwards flew W. G. Ray of Sun Oil company on an emergency hop to Dallas.

Weather also hampered operations at Hamilton Field, northeast of town, where operations were restricted to a few transients during the week. Weather cleared enough Friday that Clarence McCleskey got in his solo. Approximately 20 students had to confine their activities largely to ground work.

Malaise Opens Cage Drills At High School Nov. 28

Johnny Malaise's Big Spring high school basketball team will begin seasonal workouts Friday, Nov. 28, for a campaign of play that may carry them to two invitational tournaments as well as through a double round-robin with District 3-A teams.

Malaise, who did a brilliant job with mediocre material last year, may take his troops to tournaments at either San Antonio, Odessa or Abilene or any combination of the three.

The Abilene show, which is booked to be held in the new Hardin-Simmons university field house, comes off Dec. 12-13 while the Odessa meeting is set for Jan. 23-25.

If the Longhorns don't make the Abilene trip, they will probably open their campaign Dec. 12 in a non-conference game with Lubbock in Lubbock. The two teams play here again Dec. 19.

Hopes for a championship quintet are built around Eddie Houser, captain-elect. Eddie was all-district last season and is due to be better than ever this time out.

Houser lost his brilliant running mate, Horace Rankin, but big Delmar Turner is due to fill the gap in part. Houser and Turner are returning lettermen along with Ike Robb, guard; Jim Bill Little, forward; Harold Berry, guard; and B. B. Lees, guard.

First four teams in final 3AA standings will be eligible to take part in the district tournament, which will be played at a site yet undetermined Feb. 20-21. San Angelo was host a year ago while Abilene's Eagles won the crown and represented the league in bi-district play, where they lost to El Paso.

The Steers led the district during regular play but lost out to San Antonio.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Our Town's Pepper Martin and J. K. McClain are not trying to hide the fact that they would like to have the managerial post of San Angelo's new Longhorn baseball league club... Pat Stasey, the local skipper, would release either of his contract should one get the chance... Martin, incidentally, had a chance to play in the Evangeline league in 1948 but turned it down... Joe Pate, the former WT-NM league umpire who is well known here, has applied for the San Angelo skipper's post, sending along as recommendation his ability to line up a working agreement with a major league club... Floyd Martin, brother to Pepper, will probably never again participate in strenuous athletics... The doctors at Temple told him he would have partial use of the leg injured in a scrimmage play in the Big Spring high school football camp but he would have to take it easy... Young Martin will make the trip to the hospital this weekend... He was a great diamond prospect... Contract of Steve Kolesar, the Ballinger flinger, has been transferred to Jackson, Miss... Dick Samek, a catcher with Sweetwater for a spell, may wind up with Pampa... Last name of Armando "Tony" Trauspuerto, Big Spring's backstop the past season, is actually Picot... Claude Gray, the Midland hurler, gets a tryout with Ogden, Utah, in the spring along with Hank Ramsdell... Ronald Murphy, the Sweetwater flycatcher, goes to Kilgore... Ron Harrison and Roy McMillan, the Ballinger regulars, may wind up with Tyler... The Big Spring Bronco skipper, Pat Stasey, will make the trip to the Minor league convention at Miami with Howard L. Green, Longhorn league president... Father of R. T. Smith, Sr., the Sterling City football star, resides here... A note to the local football coaching staff: Dave Reeder, one of the best grid prospects to bob up here for some time, may shortly move to San Angelo... He has three years of eligibility in front of him.

T-Bone Home-Sick For Adopted State

Mario "T-Bone" Varona, the Cuban who played outfield for the Big Spring baseball Broncs last season, writes from Havana that he is "home-sick" for Texas... Ed Robnett, one of our newer citizens, liked professional football better than the college brand. He was with the San Francisco 49ers, a team that is having financial difficulties at the moment. Several of the gifts that are distributed there... Gonzaga university, which gave to the football world George "Automatic" Karamatic and Ray Hare, will field a grid team again in 1948... That's Big Crosby's alma mater, incidentally. Jim McWhorter, the departing Big Spring Junior high school coach, says Aubrey Armstrong, a Yearling end, is one of the finest grid prospects he's ever handled... Despite his dentals, Frank Leahy, the Notre Dame coach, will probably part company with the Irish either before the 1948 season or immediately after it... One of the Los Angeles professional teams has dangled an attractive offer before his eyes, one that he reportedly cannot turn down... Notre Dame officials are said to frown on playing Texas college teams because of the open recruiting carried on down this way... Most of the Texas teams use Texas products, exclusively, however, whereas the personnel that make up the Notre Dame squad hail from 20 different states... Two of them (Coy McGee

Frogs Miss Two Opportunities

FORT WORTH, Nov. 22. — Rice used a first quarter Texas Christian fumble as a springboard to a 7-0 victory here today. Five-thousand persons braved cold, rainy weather to watch Rice score with less than four minutes remaining in the first period, then cling desperately to the advantage. Pete Stout fumbled when hit by S. J. Roberts on the Horned Frogs 27 yard line. Five plays later, Huey Keeney cut inside his own left tackle and romped 14 yards for the touchdown. James Williams kicked the extra point.

Led by Stout, Carl Knox and Lindy Berry, the Horned Frogs repeatedly surged deep into Rice territory, reaching the 18 yard line twice—once on an 80-yard fourth quarter drive.

Coach Jess Neely kept his work-horse backs—Keeney and Tobin Rote—in the ball game all the way and substituted sparingly.

The big blue clad Owls stiffened every time TCU got in scoring position. But soft footing and a slippery ball ruined two touchdown chances for the Frogs.

Once in the second quarter Back Charlie Jackson dropped Stout's pass on the three yard line. Again in the third the ball slipped away from him in the end zone.

"Fumbles and inability to catch those two passes hurt more than anything," TCU Coach L. D. "Dutch" Meyer said after the game.

The Frogs made one of their strongest showings in the waning minutes of the third period. Stout—who powered his way for 64 yards during the game—and Berry—who picked up 51—brought the ball down to the Rice 18 before Rice held for downs. The drive carried from the Frogs' 32-yard line.

Rice's only chance at scoring was the one it made pay. The Horned Frogs wouldn't yield but 108 yards on the ground and Keeney gave a fine punting performance.

Knox matched Keeney's punting on every occasion, one quick kick going 75 yards.

A wide, spread formation brought Texas Christian its most success on the ground, particularly in the last quarter, as it was, it gained 228 yards on the ground.

Tarheels Triumph

DURHAM, N. C. Nov. 22 (A)—Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice, the Asheville Flyer, sparked North Carolina to a 21-0 victory today over Duke, dispelling the gloom of a rainy, cold day in Duke stadium. North Carolina alumni all season have been waiting for Justice to gallop, and today in the Tar Heel aggregation got its reward double.

Texas, Sooners To Play Annual Game At Dallas Through 1950

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. —Plans were announced today for continuance of the Texas-Oklahoma football series at Dallas for three more years. Then to move it to a home-and-home arrangement in Austin and Norman. The arrangement was disclosed in a joint announcement by Texas Athletic Director D. X. Bible and at Norman, Okla., by Charles Wilkinson, acting athletic director at Oklahoma university. The agreement follows bitter controversy over the traditional Dallas fair site for the series after a flare-up at this year's game in

Texas Favored To Clip A & M Again Thursday

AUSTIN, Nov. 22. —The University of Texas and Texas A. and M. college meet for the 53rd time in their annual Thanksgiving Day rivalry Thursday at College Station.

A victory over the Longhorns would go a long way toward brightening the Aggies' rather dismal record of five losses in their past seven starts.

Texas needs a victory to keep alive its hopes for a share in the Southwest Conference championship.

A Texas triumph would give the Longhorns their ninth victory against their single-point loss to S. M. U. And would make them strong candidates for a post-season bowl game.

The Longhorns have broken the ancient Kyle Field jinx in their last three invasions of Aggieland and have run their consecutive-victory streak over A. and M. to seven. Texas initiated this domination of the series with a 7-0 upset of the great 1940 Aggie eleven led by John Kimbrough.

A. and M. is perhaps in a good psychological position to knock off Texas, but the Longhorns have indicated in previous games that they are not inclined to suffer letdowns.

Thursday will be a sad day for Texas coaches and a glad day for the rest of the southwest conference coaches on one score. The Turkey day tilt will mark final conference action for blond Bobby Layne, one of the most brilliant passers and one of the shrewdest quarterbacks in the southwest football history. Other Longhorns playing their last game include Co-captains Max Bumgardner and Ray Jones and Guard Jo Magliolo.

The Frogs made one of their strongest showings in the waning minutes of the third period. Stout—who powered his way for 64 yards during the game—and Berry—who picked up 51—brought the ball down to the Rice 18 before Rice held for downs. The drive carried from the Frogs' 32-yard line.

Rice's only chance at scoring was the one it made pay. The Horned Frogs wouldn't yield but 108 yards on the ground and Keeney gave a fine punting performance.

Knox matched Keeney's punting on every occasion, one quick kick going 75 yards.

A wide, spread formation brought Texas Christian its most success on the ground, particularly in the last quarter, as it was, it gained 228 yards on the ground.

Denton Eagles Romp On East Texas, 12-6

COMMERCE, Nov. 22. —Bill Cromer of Denton ran 60 yards in the final period here today for a touchdown that gave the North Texas State Eagles a 12 to 6 win over the East Texas State Lions and the Lone Star conference championship.

Frank Smith of Fort Worth set up the Eagles' first score in the first period by carrying the ball 61 yards to the East Texas nine. Tries through the line placed the ball on the four from where Fred McCain of Gainesville ran right tackle for the touchdown. Billy Dinkle of Marshall failed to make good the extra points.

East Texas' score came in the second period. It climaxed a 43-yard drive which included two passes, one for 11 yards. James Batchelor of Plano to Harold Watkins of Dallas, and another for 12 yards. Batchelor to Tom Ramey of Sulphur Springs. This carried to the North Texas nine from where Batchelor carried over for the score. Bobby Griffin of Garland failed to kick the point.

Each team made ten first downs, but North Texas ran up 293 yards rushing while the Lions made only 86. East Texas completed eight out of 17 pass attempts for 41 yards while North Texas completed one out of four attempts for a loss of three yards. The Eagles intercepted two passes and the Lions one.

The Lions had the ball on the North Texas 25 when the game ended.

Sterling, Fort Davis Play To 13-13 Tie

FORT DAVIS, Nov. 22. — Sterling City's Eagles and the Fort Davis Indians fought to a 13-13 deadlock in a six-man football championship involving the champions of District Seven and Eight here Saturday afternoon.

No winner was declared, the coaches having agreed beforehand not to decide tie games on penetrations, first downs etc.

Sterling led in first downs, 15-7, and in penetrations, 5-2. Coach George Tillerson's Eagles from District Seven tried three running plays from inside the Indian three-yard line within the last minute of play but could not bull their way across.

Sterling scored in the initial quarter when R. B. Mitchell dashed across the double stripes. Harold Baker missed the try for point.

In the second round, Bill Kooner galloped 55 yards for a Fort Davis score after taking a pass and Pancho Cerero put the Tribe ahead by making good the point.

In the third, Fort Davis widened the gap when Cerero broke loose for a six-pointer but Jackie Tweedle, Sterling's all-district back, plunged across for a touchdown in the final round to put Sterling back in the game and Baker rammed across for the score.

The Eagles wound up the season with a record of seven victories as against a single loss and the tie.

Mrs. Dozier wound up in the runnerup spot in Class B singles behind Myrtle Wheat, Dallas. Mrs. Robertson copped first place in Class B All Events with 1,531. Two local teams competed in the Fort Worth show the week of Nov. 3.

Methodists Pull One Out Of Fire With Last Quarter Stampede, 10-0

Walker Boots Field Goal

WACO, Nov. 22. (AP)—The great Doak Walker pulled another one out of the fire today as he led Southern Methodist in a last quarter assault that brought the Methodists a 10-0 victory over Baylor to clinch a tie for the Southwest Conference championship and the best spot in the Cotton bowl.

The Mustangs battered at the burlly, fighting Bears for 54 minutes of the game without coming close to scoring before Walker raced in as the Methodists made their deepest penetration — the Baylor nine yard line. Calmly the chunky little man place-kicked the ball between the goal posts from the 16.

Then Walker sparked a 57-yard drive that crashed in with a touchdown with only 35 seconds to go. It was Walker's 24-yard dash down the sidelines that put the ball on the Bear seven. Paul Page then sped around left end for the touchdown. Walker kicked the extra point—his seventeenth out of nineteen tries this season.

Walker was in the game all except three plays. It was shortly after his reentry that the scoring came.

A crowd of 12,000 sat in biting cold and watched the struggle on a gridiron ankle deep in mud down the center. For three days and nights it had rained here and a high school game on the field last night had reduced it to a virtual quagmire.

It was Southern Methodist's ninth straight victory and kept the Methodists in the ranks of the nations undefeated and untied.

Baylor never got closer than the SMU 38-yard line and in the second half only once advanced past midfield. That time the Bears rolled to the Methodist 48.

But while the Mustangs never were in danger they found the Baylor defense tough to crack indeed. It looked until the fading minutes as if the game would end in a scoreless tie, which would have been bad for SMU since it then would have to defeat Texas Christian next week to win the conference title while at loss would give it to Texas, provided the latter beat Texas A. and M. Thanksgiving Day.

Southern Methodist rolled up 11 first downs to four for the Bears and gained 113 yards on the ground to 72 for Baylor. In the air SMU connected in four passes for 28 yards while Baylor completed none out of four—in fact had all four attempts intercepted.

Walker was the game's leading ground gainer with 46 yards on 16 runs. Teammate Page got 32 on nine and Ben Hall of Baylor made the same yardage on 13 carries.

Gil Johnson tried 11 of SMU's

12 passes, completing four. At the game's close a spectator rushed on the field and threw his arms around referee Ray McCulloch from behind but an SMU player pulled the man off before any blows could be struck. They argued briefly before leaving the field.

Baylor held the edge in the first half mostly because of the great punting of Jack Price. A fumble gave Baylor its only chance to threaten the SMU goal line in the second period when

Bobby Griffin pounced on the ball as it squirted out of the hands of Page on the SMU 36. But Price tried a pass that Dick McKissack, Methodist fullback, intercepted on the Mustang 16. In the third quarter the SMU offense finally started moving. SMU had a chance to score early in the final quarter when a weak punt by Price carried only to the Baylor 34. But Hall bobbled up to intercept a pass and ran out to the 41. Shortly afterward, with on its 29 yard line a clipping penalty against Baylor sent the Mustangs to midfield and a pass from Johnson to Folsom carried to the Baylor 40. But George Sims intercepted Johnson's next pass on the two, ran into his end zone and then out to the Baylor 11. However, the Bears were penalized back to their one for clipping. Price kicked dead on the Baylor 26 and from here SMU went to its first score, a pass from Johnson to Dick Reinking carrying to the 11.

Abilene Roars Through Big Spring, 19 To 0

Dobbyn Stars For Eagles

ABILENE, Nov. 22.—Well heeled in reserve material, which they used liberally, the Abilene Eagles bowled over the Big Spring Steers, 19-0, in drizzling, cold weather here Friday night.

Pat Murphy's troops time and again fired their Sunday punches at the lumbering Eagle line but the offensive apparently was out of bullets. Only twice did the Bo- vines move past midfield and on neither occasion could they find the enemy 40-yard stripe.

With Jim Dobbyn and Lloyd King setting the pace, the Flock five times camped deep in Big Spring territory.

However, the Birds had to wait until a minute before the first half was over before getting their initial six-point and might have been trying yet had not the Big Spring pass defenders looked battered at that particular moment. It was King's wobbly pass to Dobbyn in the left flat that caught the Big Springers napping. Dobbyn maneuvered under the aerial on the 17 and outraced the Big Spring secondary to the goal line.

A straight drive downfield from their own 37 paid off for Abilene deep in the third period. King split the line from the one for the marker and the Eagles led, 12-0.

In the fourth, Charley Preston recovered a Big Spring fumble on the Steer 36 and the Flock smeared everything aimed in his direction save one time and then it took half the Abilene blockers to move him out of the way.

Offtimes, Edward would slide in behind the defenders and spear the Abilene ball carrier from behind. Abilene made 11 first downs as compared to two for Big Spring, picked up 115 yards on rushing plays to 23 for Big Spring, and added another 55 yards through the air while holding Big Spring to 26.

The game might have been much more one-sided had not Eddie Houser rose to the heights. Eddie smeared everything aimed in his direction save one time and then it took half the Abilene blockers to move him out of the way.

Southern Cal Edges By UCLA, 6-0

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22 (AP)—Playing before a record smashing crowd of 102,050 frenzied fans, Southern California's powerful Trojans defeated UCLA 6 to 0 today to win the Pacific Coast Conference championship and roll on to play mighty Michigan in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

Climbing their tenth visit to the famed Pasadena bowl, the Cardinal and Gold scored its lone touchdown in the second quarter, and as the sell-out crowd — largest to see a college football game in the nation this year — thundered in excitement, staved off an Uclan threat to tie the score in the final two minutes of the game.

The Trojans thus wound up their conference season with a perfect record. As tie with Rice, 7-7, in intersectional play was the only blot on their record.

OPINES COACH WOODRUFF

Clipping Penalty Turning Point Of SMU-Bear Tilt

WACO, Nov. 22. (AP)—Coach Bob Woodruff thought maybe his Baylor Bears had the Southern Methodist Mustangs by the tail this afternoon.

You could tell by his attitude after the game that he felt the Bears could have come away with a victory—or at least a tie.

He left no doubt that he thought a clipping penalty against Baylor for hitting Dick Reinking after he dropped a pass deep in bear territory was the turning point of the game, which SMU won 10-0. "I'm not going to beef about the officiating. It doesn't get you anywhere," Woodruff commented. He forced a smile. "Just say we got some tough breaks."

Adair was dismissed as manager of the San Antonio club last year by Bill DeWitt of the St. Louis Browns. After his dismissal, he entered the Philadelphia Athletics baseball organization and managed the Savannah, Ga., club in the Sally league. The team was in seventh place when Adair arrived but finished in second place, a game and a half back of the top, then proceeded to win the pennant playoff.

Burns To Face Szasz At BSAC Monday Night

AL SZASZ
... Meets Fat-Man

Helena, Montana's gift to the wrestling world, chubby Robert Burns, moves back into the spotlight at the Big Spring Athletic club Monday night.

Burns is taking on Al Szasz of St. Louis, Mo., quite an assignment for a tin-eared even as respected as the Montanan.

Szasz, uncovered a lightning wrist lock that caused Ace Abbott to yell "uncle" in last week's preliminary and looked so good Promoter Pat O'Dowdy immediately elevated him into the main event.

In Burns, Szasz faces a different type of grappler than the men he ordinarily meets. Burns owns little wrestling finesse. In fact, he looks out of place in the ring.

However, he moves with surprising speed and agility for a man who wears an inner-tube around his middle. Robin can take a lot of punishment and is always most dangerous when he is in trouble.

The 8:15 o'clock preliminary pits Abbott against newcomer Otto Nickovich, who has worn the nickname "the Russian Bear." Little is known of Nickovich's ability save the fact that he is strong as a bull and durable as a grizzly.

Bearcats Lose To Buena Vista

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 22. (AP)—Garden City's Bearcats suffered a 56-20 defeat at the hands of a strong Buena Vista six-man football team at Buena Vista Friday afternoon.

The home club led by a score of 20-12 at half time, but opened up after the intermission to settle matters for once and for all.

The contest closed the 1947 season for the Garden City team.

BROWNS, SENS SWAP PLAYERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—The Washington Senators today traded and "a lot of cash" to the St. Louis Browns for Second Baseman John Berardino.

President Clark Griffith of the Senators declined to say how much cash went to the Browns other than it was "a lot."

The Browns recently have traded off most of their stars, generally getting little known players in return, but large amounts of cash.

Northwestern's Don Burson, outclassing Moss in the air, hit Ed Tunniff for 25 yards, then Stan Gorski for 20 as the Wildcats moved to the 8. At the outset of the second quarter, Burson fired a five-yard touchdown to Gorski and Jim Farrar booted his first of four extra points.

Gilmer Shines As Alabamans Defeat LSU

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 22. (AP)—Harry Gilmer, Alabama's great passing star, pitched the Crimson Tide into the Sugar Bowl today with a 41-12 victory over a highly regarded Louisiana State eleven.

The announcement that Gilmer and his mates had landed the New Orleans plum against a team to be named next Saturday came shortly after a happy homecoming throng of 25,000 sat through damp weather to see the tide win its fifth consecutive victory over Southeastern conference opposition. Alabama accepted the bid.

Gilmer, who became a father yesterday, ran 92 yards for a touchdown with the first LSU punt, and the invaders never got back in the game. The little Alabama halfback ended the scoring with a 31-yard pitch to end Rebel Steiner, and generally made himself obnoxious to the invaders all day.

Alabama rammed across two more quick touchdowns in the first quarter, following Gilmer's great run, and then scored one in each of the following periods.

The LSU Tigers rallied against the Alabama substitutes in the second half and saved something from the rout as Fullback Rip Collins drove across for their two scores, but the issue had long since been decided.

Irish Tounce Tulane, 59-6

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 22. (AP)—Undefeated Notre Dame, exploding for five opening period touchdowns, rolled up its eighth straight victory and its largest score of the season with a 59-6 rout of bewildered Tulane today.

With Coach Frank Leahy in Los Angeles scouting Southern California, Notre Dame's only remaining hurdle in its bid for a second straight national crown, the Irish plainly were swinging to replace Michigan at the top of the Associated Press National poll. The Wolverines last week unseated the Irish with a 40-6 rout of Wisconsin.

After scoring 32 points in the first period, mainly on Tulane mental lapses, the Irish banged across two more touchdowns in each the third and fourth periods. Seven backs figured in the Irish scoring with Fleet Terry Brennan, who was carried from the field in the third period, his knee badly wrenched, and Emil Sitko, each scoring twice.

Assistant Coach Ed Krause mercifully yanked the Irish first stringers after they ran themselves dizzy in the first period scoring spree. It was against Notre Dame reserves that Tulane pushed across its only score in the second period with Back Ed Price smashing over from the one-foot line to cap a 73-yard march, that was the day's best offensive showing of the engulfed Green Wave.

Jackets Defeated By Ackerly Five

ACKERLY, Nov. 22. (AP)—Ackerly's high school cagers defeated Spensburg, 29-3, in a practice game here Friday night.

Dwain Williams paced the Eagle scoring with 15 points while Forrest Criswell and Gerald Rogers had six each. Clint Lauderdale also edged into the scoring column with two points.

Spensburg's girls gained a measure of revenge, winning a 21-10 decision from Ackerly with Truitt losing in 11 points for the victors.

The Ackerly boys' B string thumped the Spensburg reserves, 7-1, with L. D. Seely, Pete McKee and Dickie White setting the pace.

Crimson Tide To Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22. (AP)—The New Orleans Midwinter Sports association announced today it had selected the University of Alabama to play in the Sugar Bowl football game here New Year's Day.

The announcement said Alabama's opponents would be selected Nov. 29.

This will be Alabama's second appearance in the Sugar Bowl in the past four years. On Jan. 1, 1945 the Crimson Tide defeated Duke university 29-26 as its star passer Harry Gilmer completed eight consecutive passes to spark the attack.

The invitation to Alabama to be host team and Southeastern conference representative in the Sugar Bowl was extended following 31-12 triumph of the Tide over Louisiana State university today. Gilmer spearheaded the attack in which the Tide won its sixth straight game.

DIFFICULT TO IMAGINE

Escapee From Soviets Tells Of Police State Horrors

By JOSEPH ALSOP

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—It is difficult for free men even to imagine the dark night of the soul, which is the terror of the police state. But for our own sakes, in our own hard political interests, some understanding of this night of the soul is a necessary thing. There follow, accordingly, three bald selections from personal narratives of the few fortunate ones who have escaped the Soviet terror in eastern Germany. These stories come from the mass of data, as impressive as it is horrifying, collected and checked by American officials here.

The man who will be called Hans Kunze is a twenty-seven year old former American prisoner of war who lives in Hamburg. In the fall of 1945, he visited Berlin. M.V.D. agents immediately picked him up on the Friedrichstrasse corner of the Unter den Linden, took him to M.V.D. headquarters at Kupfergraben, and there charged him with espionage. Kunze is a puzzled little man, like the hero of the pre-war novel, "Little Man What Now." He had no notion that the Soviets regard the mere accident of having been a prisoner of the Western Allies as a deeply suspicious fact, for which it is estimated that tens of thousands have been arrested. Bewildered and terrified, Kunze denies the charge.

After three interrogations, the M.V.D. agents lost patience. Kunze was thrown to the floor of the interrogation chamber and beaten with truncheons and empty beer bottles, while a radio blared to drown his screams. He persisted in his denial of espionage and was interrogated in this fashion every night for ten nights.

Between interrogations, he was kept in a dungeon in a cellar of the M.V.D. headquarters. This place was unheated, windowless and without plumbing facilities. As many as twenty-five suspects at a time, the majority socialists of former Western prisoners like Kunze, were crammed into this filthy hole. On Sundays there were no interrogations, since the M.V.D. officer took the day off. But on these days the M.V.D. guards brought their women into the prison for a drinking bout. When drunk, the guards amused themselves by entering the dungeon and whipping the prisoners with wire cables.

After nearly three months of this life, Kunze was transferred to Sachsenhausen. As under the Nazis three rings of guards encircled the camp; as under the Nazis the prisoners received a diet of water soup, a little bread, and a little half rotten potatoes. The Russian commandant of the camp, Lieutenant Colonel Rudenko, even had a former Nazi S. S. man as his assistant. The place was the same as in the old days, except that there were no gas chambers or death ovens. The Soviet terror is certainly more complete, and perhaps more ruthless than the terror of the Nazis, but differs from it, at least, in this respect.

None the less, there was cruelty enough. At Sachsenhausen thirty-five to forty prisoners died daily, many of them under punishment. Three classes of punishment were used. The lightest was the "kazer"—solitary confinement without food. Medium punishment was the "bunker"—being placed in an open hole in the ground from fifteen to twenty five feet deep where offenders had "to stand in their own filth" for ten or fifteen days. Most of those who experienced the "bunker" died before release. Yet the punishment for the worst offenders was not the "bunker" but being sent to the M.V.D.'s labor camps in the Soviet Union.

From all this, Kunze escaped by good fortune. The prisoners were organized on military lines, in battalions, companies and platoons. Two-thirds of the battalions were too under-nourished to work. One-third worked within the camp and got small extra rations. Special groups were "aussekommados" used for work outside the camp. To one of these Kunze was assigned, and somehow got away.

FLIGHT OF ARMY MAN TO BEDSIDE OF SON MAY HAVE HAPPY ENDING

DALLAS, Nov. 22. (AP)—A flight halfway around the world to be at the bedside of his critically ill infant son may have a happy ending for army Captain John D. Josey of Abilene.

Josey said last night that his three-month-old son, whom he had never seen before, was recovering from a brain ailment and that specialists have told him an operation probably will not be necessary.

The captain is stationed on Guam and his wife was unable to communicate with him after the baby was stricken Nov. 6. Mrs. Josey finally appealed to the Abilene Reporter-News, which carried a story of her plight Nov. 9.

An Abilene amateur radio operator, Richard Hensley, saw the story and succeeded in getting a message to another operator in Hawaii, who relayed it to Guam.

Josey received the message Nov. 16, left Guam the next day and arrived in Abilene three days later.

The child was brought to St. Paul's Children's hospital here Monday.

WHAT, NO EATS?

Is Thanksgiving On Wane As Feast Day?

For Goodness sake what's happening to Thanksgiving?

That's the question being asked these days when the majority of people slack off for Thanksgiving dinners and go all out for Christmas.

Grocers recall the good old days when families regarded Thanksgiving with the same emphasis as Christmas, and housewives spent the pre-holiday week cooking up wonderful, palate-tickling delicacies to delight her family on Thanksgiving day.

Mind you the grocers are not complaining about business for it's at a peak now, but pre-holiday baking and planning have eased off to find a holiday with a dinner somewhat more bountiful than regular Sunday fare, but practically nothing compared to years ago.

The general indication Saturday was that housewives were stacking up on staples and sales were brisk on the sugar, canned pumpkin and cranberry sauce shelves, but as a whole, shoppers were waiting until next week to do their Thanksgiving buying.

Rev. Gage Lloyd Will Give Review At AAUW Meeting Monday Night

The Rev. Gage Lloyd will review "Human Destiny" by Lecomte du Noy at the meeting of the American Association of University Women in the basement of the Presbyterian church Monday night.

An executive meeting at 7:30 will precede the book review which begins at 8 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend the review.

Dr. du Noy is an internationally known French scientist and came to this country during the War to speak to the soldiers to build up the morale.

The book is hailed as the greatest written during this generation and it inspired the article written for the March issue of the "Reader's Digest" entitled, "God's Near-est Witness."

"The book deals with the origin of man and looks forward to destiny. It re-interprets the theory of evolution in the light of modern physics. Human destiny argues that strictly militaristic theory of the universe, and of man, is no longer tenable.

Dr. du Noy contends that science finds a purpose evident in history of life which rises above the laws of matter.

The AAUW held an executive meeting on Monday night at the Howard County Free Library and discussed their annual project.

LOST 42 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcetraste DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcetraste, the original grapefruit juice recipe takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is Proof
"When I started taking Barcetraste, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcetraste in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was unable at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcetraste are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old. "Before taking Barcetraste I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcetraste my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcetraste so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcetraste is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me." — Mrs. Zola Whitehead, 509 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Drugists
The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcetraste. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

PHARMACOLOGIST PERFECTS AN AMAZING FORMULA FOR SICK PEOPLE

Works Quickly To Overcome Conditions Which May Have Been Causing Untold Misery Over A Long Period of Time aided many people back to better health.

It has been found by researchers that many physical discomforts often arise from the accumulation of poisonous waste matter in the system and from the lack of certain health-giving elements supplied in plants by nature.

Penicillin is made from mold, a plant growth; serums are made from animals raised on grass grown in mineral rich soil.

A pharmacologist has now perfected an amazing formula for sick people which contains 25 ingredients—mostly herbs, roots and other plant growths of mother nature. This medicine, called Mertz, gives you the needed ingredients to help tone up your system; eliminate poisonous waste matter and supply the health and energy giving ingredients so necessary to your well-being, so that you can get about your daily tasks with a new feeling of energy.

This medicine goes to work quickly to help overcome the torturing pains of rheumatism. It tones the bowels into a more rhythmic action. Gas and bloating, indigestion, sour stomach are quickly relieved. Kidney and bladder troubles are helped so that the annoying, broken rest from having to get up frequently at night is lessened. Dissinens and run-down feeling is overcome quickly. Mertz can be taken by every member of the family. It contains no narcotics, opiates or calomel and will not make you sick or nauseate you in the slightest degree. You can now get Mertz from all well stocked druggists in Texas in 6 ounce bottles.

Pharmacology too, has contributed its share to scientific advancement and proprietary medicine has

WHAT GIVES 'ROUND TOWN

By Leatrice Ross

At the junior college this week students are making plans to enter a float to represent the school in the town's Christmas balloon parade to come off Dec. 4. First hand info says the entry will sport a snow scene of sorts topped with a frame house covered with icicles. And—riding astride the brick chimney will be an obese Jayhawk—the school's mascot — attired in a Santa Claus!...The HCJC Spanish club will ride in the parade in Bob Dickerson's convertible, draped in Latin-American flags.

Preston Denton is to pilot the jeep which will pull the Jayhawk float. One way to spend these wet evenings: Johnny and Evelyn McIntosh, Jackie Jeranian and Chuck Gressett sat about a radio in the State grid Friday night listening to the Steer-Eagle game. Evelyn and Johnny, Betty and Gene Nabors went out after ducks Saturday afternoon. Ray Dunlap will try his shooting irons early this week.

Just what is there about a duck that gives everybody such a thrill? Attention lovers of baseball: Bert Baer, one of the Browns' pitching arms, is on his way back to Big Spring from Havana. And he brings a 'hello' to all who 'remember him' from Jose Cindan.

Dewey Stevenson, McMurry man, was home for the weekend. Congrats from us to Betty Lou McGinnis, Betty Jean Underwood, Jack Martin and Zack Gray, who were tops when ballots were counted Saturday in the HCJC election for favorites. Runner-ups were Joyce Sewell, Betty Ray Nall, Don Richardson and Ladd Smith.

Couples in the movies Friday evening: Mamie Jean Meador, Neil Fryer, Joyce Sewell, Ted Fowler, Erva Smith, Kenneth Barnes, Bob Hightower, Weldon Covert, Ann Meador, Gene Smith, Patsy Ann Tompkins, Joe Robert Boadle, Marjorie Moore, Phil Grozier. Ah, a step toward perfect educational system! This week at the junior college, a complete carnival was set up not 100 yards from the classrooms.

Those of the crew who went to Abilene Friday night for the game tell us of running onto Patsy Sue McDaniel, former Big Spring girl, and James Duncan, who was down from Tech for the evening. Some of the high school crowd on the special bus: Ann Crocker, Pat McDaniel, Dot Wasson, Jack Ewing, Katie Lou Jones, Beth McGinnis, Wendell Stacey, Fred Harrington, Kenneth Cannon, Marilyn McCormick, Gerald Burrow, Chubbby Jones, Donnie Reeves, Howard Jones, Peggy Lamb, Dot Cauble. Also in Abilene were Ike Davidson, Jimmy Talbot, Arthur Morton, Ernest Potter, Olney Thurman, Billy Satterwhite, Kimball Guthrie, James Eppler, Lillian Tamsitt, Helen Montgomery, Jerre Bankston, Gil Barnett, Ray and Wanda Clark, Sarah and Hi Alexander, Gloria and C. G. Griffin. Hear it said that the high school plans a bonfire for Wednesday eve, setting off the Thanksgiving game with Sweetwater and closing grid season for the Steers.

Jimmy Peden is given credit for composition of words for a Howard County Junior college school song, thus far the only one attempted. As to Words:

Hail to the Jayhawkers, we love thee true—

We'll always praise thy name, and honor you.

Look on toward glory; strong ever be—

We'll keep on loving you, H. C. J. C.

East 4th Revival Ends With Good Enrollment Record

Total enrollment reached 111 in a training union revival which closed Friday evening at the East Fourth Baptist church under the direction of the Rev. Ralph Perkins of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

Average attendance at meetings conducted Monday through Friday was 66 and during the period several goals were accomplished in church plans.

A new training union to be known as the Dorcas union was started and beginners and primaries were separated. Several new workers were enlisted and plans for a new method of visitation were outlined.

Through inspirational 30-minute programs conducted each evening has grown the plan to initiate monthly program planning meetings. On Dec. 31 in connection with watch night services, a special program will be conducted.

A rhythm band has been organized with accommodations for 30 persons. The instruments will be used in Sunbeam and elementary programs.

Thanksgiving Day is our country's public recognition of the power and providence of God. It is peculiarly an American institution, which has no counterpart in other lands.

On this day the people of our country, led by the government itself, express their humble and heartfelt thanks to God for His protecting care and the abundance of His provisions for our comfort and welfare.

The day itself is a wholesome influence in American life. It means a great deal when the people of a great nation lay aside their material concerns and gather in family groups to express gratitude for divine providence.

The Thanksgiving dinner may be a feast of delicacies or an unpretentious meal of simple fare. But those who partake of it should do so with thankful hearts and understanding minds.

"Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord," sang the Psalmist. And in thousands of churches and millions of American homes this Thanksgiving Day, grateful people will bow in humble recognition of God's matchless goodness.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) for the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

BAD HARVESTING

Fire Is Not No. 1 Killer Of Forests

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—What's the biggest destroyer of American forests? Fire?
 No.
 It's the most spectacular, but it ranks only fourth among the major enemies of our dwindling national woodpile.
 No. 1 long-range menace, according to U. S. forest service records, is the harvesting of timber without providing sound methods for its replacement. Service officials say reasonably good management of the forests would double the tree growth.
 Second biggest drain is waste in logging and manufacturing. Only 43 percent by weight of the wood we cut or destroy in logging or import appears in products other than fuel. Some 35 percent is not used at all. The remaining 22 percent is used as fuel, much of it inefficiently.
 Third biggest drain is damage by insects and diseases. The loss from these is estimated at $22,000,000 cubic feet a year, compared with an average annual fire destruction of 400,000,000 cubic feet.
 Every year the cut and kill of saw timber in the United States is one and a half times as large as the growth. The current annual growth of saw timber is 35,301,000,000 board feet. The "drain" is 53,893,000,000 board feet.
 The current pressure for increasing output of forest products needed for housing, paper manufacture and other uses aggravates the problem.

CLEANERS IN GERMAN WHEAT FIELD—German city dwellers swarm over a freshly harvested wheat field near Helmstedt, in the British zone, picking up leftover grain by hand in an effort to ward off hunger.

The forest service says one way to get "a reasonable commodity cut from the forest" is to take as much of the harvest as practicable in the form of poor and partially defective trees and in trees of the less desirable species. This would leave more of the straight and more desirable trees for future growth toward high-quality products.
 A survey by the forest service shows that 71 percent of the owners of small woodlands cut their trees in such a way that the cut-over land has no timber value left, or almost none.
 The small owners' poor cutting practices are so serious because three fourths of the private commercial forest acreage is in 4,200,000 small holdings of less than 5,000 acres. The average size of these woodlands is 62 acres.
 Reforestation under the best conditions is slow business. It is estimated that 75,000,000 acres of denuded and poorly-stocked forest land will have to be planted to trees if it is to grow timber within the lifetime of present-day children. The total forest acreage planted since 1926 totals 6,483,000 acres.
 Besides providing lumber, pulpwood for the manufacture of paper, plastics, chemicals and other wood products, forests build up the soil and improve the climate. They steady the supply of water and help prevent floods which gully fields and wash away valuable topsoil.
 There has been much more progress in protecting the forests against fire than in timber-harvesting practices.
 Burned-on food may sometimes be removed from an aluminum saucepan by filling the pan with water and boiling for 10 to 15 minutes, then scraping off with a wooden spoon.
 Leftover cereal such as hominy or farina may be poured into a pan, chilled in the refrigerator and then sliced and dipped in flour and sautéed in bacon drippings, butter or fortified margarine.

TO 4-H FFA

Upton County Agent Gives Fine Points On Pig Feeding

Boys and girls who have engaged in 4-H and FFA pig feeding demonstrations were given some fine points on the business by W. O. Adams, Rankin, Upton county agent at the Sears Foundation dinner at the Settles.
 Adams, who was judge for the Sears show, held coincidentally with the Howard county show, advised boys and girls from Howard and Martin county to take particularly good care of gifts at time of breeding and farrowing.
 He recommended full feed for the gilt for two or three weeks following breeding, then tapering off to give as little feed as necessary for good flesh. A week before farrowing, he recommended a bran mash with a teaspoon of salts included, and on the day of farrowing nothing but clear water in the pen.
 The project operator should be on hand at time of farrowing, removing pigs to a box or basket as they are born. The sow's udder should be bathed in a mild solution of disinfectant before the pigs are allowed to suckle (runts should be put on the good teats). Feeding should be on a three-hour basis for the first two or three days, then it is safe to leave them with the mother. He advocated swabbing around the tail to prevent its loss in event of infection.
 Adams stressed that money was made or lost at farrowing, and that the demonstration could not be justified if boys let a good part of the litter die.
 Lloyd Wooten, president of the junior chamber of commerce, sponsor of the show, expressed appreciation to boys and their parents for interest to Sears for its gift program; and to Culin Grigsby, Hack Wright, Bob Hodges and Harvey Wooten for soliciting prizes.
 Mrs. Olive Murphree, local Sears manager, lauded boys and girls for their work and hoped that co-operation would continue to further develop the program. Others who spoke briefly were Frank Campbell, assistant manager of the chamber of commerce, Joe Pickle, Marion T. Jenkins, Coahoma VA teacher and James Eiland, Martin county agent.

 Durward Lewter, Howard county agent, said that eight Sears gilts littered 73 pigs, of which 57 were raised last year. Five other counties obtained all or part of their gilts for their Sears program from Howard, he said. The remainder were sold for feeding projects.
 Others attending were Dean Forrest, W. J. Rogers, Lloyd Robinson, T. M. Robinson, Ronnie Davidson, Clyde Denton, Delbert Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Davidson, Donald Denton, Perry Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Walker, Roger Brown, J. E. Brown, Bill Wilson, Fred A. Wilson, Jimmy White, Ann White and Mary Sue White.

Library Plans Schedule Shift

The Howard County Free Library will shift schedules slightly beginning Monday, Mrs. Kay Collins, librarian, has announced.
 Hereafter the library will be open from 10 a. m. to noon and from 1 p. m. to 6 p. m. Monday through Saturday. The changes are being made to give employed people an opportunity to use the library for a short period each day after working hours.
 Fifty volumes of late fiction have been placed on the library's shelves by two contributions during the past few days, Mrs. Collins said. Shine Phillips contributed 13 volumes, while another gift of 37 volumes came from Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Bennett.

VA SERVICE

Most Vets Get Checks On Schedule

A survey of all student-veterans attending colleges in West Texas showed that 97 percent of the ex-GI's received their VA subsistence allowance checks for Nov. 1 square-ly on time from the Veterans Administration Regional office in Lubbock, Robert W. Sisson, regional manager, announced Saturday.
 Subsistence allowances paid college veterans on their first pay day for the fall term amounted to $889,240.
 Sisson explained that those who were not paid on Nov. 1 were delayed because of late enrollment information was not available to delayed because of late enrollment, transfer of records from other VA Regional Offices, change of educational objective requiring VA advisement, and in some instances complete enrollment information was not available to the Regional office.
 Two-thirds of those who were delayed already have been placed on supplemental payrolls, and VA checks should have been received by this time, Sisson added. This brings to total delivery of VA checks to 99 percent of all veterans attending colleges in West Texas.

Let's Face Truth About Taxes

The task of paying off the huge war debt, the increased burden of armament made mandatory by a world in turmoil, and the necessity of providing the sinews of world recovery will inevitably make for an onerous tax burden on the American people.

Congress has been extremely reluctant to stare this fact in the face. On the contrary, the greatest bulwark has been the efforts of the tax-cutters to ward off the snickerings on the tax structure, quite without regard to present and future needs.

Everybody hates to pay high taxes. Everybody would like to shove the burden off on somebody else. But it is going to require a vast amount of tax revenue to discharge this nation's obligations to itself and to the world at large. It has always been axiomatic that the time to get tax money into the till is when the level of prosperity is high. Comes a depression, and tax revenues are hit first and hardest — at the very time they are needed most.

Tax "economies" effected at the expense of necessary functions can do enormous damage. Ignoring pressing needs in order to lighten the tax burden can lead to waste. For instance, Congress cut down the appropriation for the treasury's tax collecting bureau, forced the discharge of several thousand employees, and thereby opened the way for the loss of additional millions of dollars in revenue that might have been collected, but will not be collected because of inadequate and inexperienced employees called "bureaucrats" and "tax-cutters" for vote-making purposes.

The new budget message submitted to the British house of commons recently shows how people really have to get down on their bellies when economic disaster overtakes a country. A sharp increase in the sales tax, which drove the levy on some items up to 125 per cent of value, was asked for. The profits tax was doubled up to 25 per cent. These are mere samples, and yet there was a great outcry because, of all things, the increases were not more!

Our Investment In The Future

To those who still may be pondering a gift to the local Community Chest, whose fund solicitation currently is going at a brisk pace, we respectfully suggest that any remittance may well be regarded as an investment rather than a "gift."

The word investment is used advisedly, and for this reason: A glance at the makeup of agencies which will share in Chest distributions shows that the great bulk of funds raised here this year will go to youth-building programs. If we are not ready to invest generously toward the upbuilding and strengthening of our coming generation, then we are admitting complete disinterest in the community's future.

Major participants in the Chest distribution will be the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA and Salvation Army. The great work of character development achieved by the two Scout organizations is too well known and too widely admired to have to be reviewed here. The YMCA, although comparatively a young organization in our city, is reaching hundreds of young people by providing wholesome outlets for youth's exuberance and energies, and giving needed direction at the same time. The Salvation Army is placing great emphasis on its Youth Center, and is providing — and will provide more — supervised recreation and training for a great many boys and girls who never have access to any other such program.

We worry a great deal about juvenile delinquency, and talk at length about a "cure." It is axiomatic that the best cure is strong prevention, and in the youth development programs being carried out by these four organizations there exists about the strongest "prevention" that this community has been able to achieve.

Advantages Of Cutting Tarriffs

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The United States and 22 other countries this week made known a big deal on trade, or tariff, agreements.

They had agreed, after many months' work, to cut down the tariffs, or import taxes, on many of the goods they buy from one another.

Back in the early 1930's the Republican Congress passed tariff laws—that is, taxes on the goods coming into this country—which were high.

When the depression of the 1930's hit, it became clear that high tariffs were shutting out world trade and hurting us and other nations.

Why hurting us? Because other nations, since we had high tariffs, put up high tariffs on the goods we shipped to them.

The result was simple: Our high tariffs shut out our goods from them.

That hurt them and us because it meant we manufactured less, and so employed fewer people, to make goods for them. The same thing happened to them.

In 1934, under the urging of Secretary of State Hull, the Democratic Congress passed the Reciprocity Trade Agreements

Act. That act meant this:

The President, upon the advice of his experts, could cut the tariff on goods imported here by 50 per cent of what they were before the act was passed. The act was to hold good for only a couple of years. But each time Congress renewed it.

The last time, in 1946, Congress decided the President, to help world trade, could cut tariffs as much as 50 per cent under what they were in 1934.

Came World War II and the quiet days after the war. A lot of countries were flat on their backs.

But before World War II was even over this country suggested a world trade meeting to do something about tariffs.

The United Nations, through their economic and social council took us up on our suggestion.

Finally the council called a world trade conference in Geneva, Switzerland, last April. (The Soviet Union was invited to send delegates and take part but it refused.)

But the United States and other countries sent delegates. We sent about 120 experts there. This was the problem:

We'd cut tariffs if other nations would do the same so more goods could be exchanged among the 23 countries.

The delegates, experts from the 23 nations, worked until about Oct. 31 and then announced a general agreement.

Among them the 23 nations agreed to cut tariffs on about 45,000 different items that they imported from one another. (The United States agreed to cut tariffs on 3,500 items.)

Does Congress have to approve what our delegates agreed upon? No. They acted under the same reciprocal trade agreements mentioned above.

March Of Commerce

NEW YORK, (AP)—The onward march of commerce:

A war surplus store off Broadway is disposing of Army bugles at $10.88—cheerful sign of peace. On the other hand, the same store is featuring U. S. Navy paperweights at three for a quarter, which may or may not indicate the admirals are stripping decks for action.

David Flexer, a 38-year-old Memphis, Tenn., film exhibitor, doesn't lay claim to the invention of electric bottle warmers for baby's milk, but he does say he is the first to introduce them into outdoor drive-in theaters.

"The mother just reaches out of her motor car, pushes a button and an attendant brings her the bottle warmer," he said.

This is just one of many new services added in a campaign to glamorize drive-in theaters, which are entering a nation-wide boom.

Biggest innovation has been the "in-car speaker," which is a voice box contraption hung inside each parked car and permits the occupants to control the volume of the film's dialogue.

No friend of the baby sitters, he plans a 150-foot playground in his theaters between the giant 65-foot-wide screen and the first row of cars. Customers can turn their children over to the care of playground attendants while they watch the picture from their cars.

Another Memphis entrepreneur, William R. Gause, came here to promote a new national "pin-up" club for expectant fathers. In cooperation with Red Cross groups he arranges demonstration lectures teaching dads-to-be on how to hold, feed, burp and diaper their offspring.

By one of the amazing coincidences of history Gause is also president of the National Institute of Diaper Services. But he said the Expectant Fathers' Club was more of a good will gesture than a drive for more business.

"We don't care," he drawled, "whether the expectant fathers we teach send them their diapers. They can wash them themselves if they want to."

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Truman Asked To Soften Speech

WASHINGTON. — Inside fact is that before the President delivered his militant message demanding price controls, four members of his cabinet remonstrated with him against it. They were: Secretary of National Defense Forrestal, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and Secretary of Commerce Harriman.

This cabinet quartet felt that Truman should have laid greater stress on the fact that he didn't intend to use the compulsory price and wage controls which he requested of Congress, unless voluntary measures failed. This was their main criticism of the speech. Otherwise they were along.

Anderson and Harriman were particularly outspoken. At a White House session on Sunday, the day before the message was delivered, both argued that the two chief ghost-writers — Clark Clifford and Leon Keyserling of the President's economic council—had gone too far in pressing the need for compulsory controls.

"This is going to make Congress sore," complained the Secretary of Agriculture. "Some of us who will have to go up to the hill and fight for enactment of the program will have a tough job if the message is delivered the way it's written now."

Commerce Secretary Harriman also suggested that the message be revised along "more conciliatory" lines.

"You ought to make it very clear that while you are asking for authority to control prices and wages, you do not intend to use them unless voluntary controls fail," Anderson told Truman. "I gathered from what you have said in our cabinet meetings that that was your idea also. But this message does not read like it."

STICKS TO GUNS

"That is my idea," replied the President, in substance. "I hope I never have to use these powers and I still believe it won't be necessary if everybody cooperates in keeping prices through voluntary methods."

He added, however, that he didn't want to raise any false hopes by minimizing the chances of price and wage controls being invoked, because it was impossible to tell at this time that they won't be necessary. This would not be fair to the public, the President said.

The President explained that he couldn't promise absolutely that compulsory measures would not be taken; therefore, it was better to have this authority even though never used, than not to have it and take a chance on economic collapse.

Late Sunday afternoon the President's message was changed somewhat to meet the Anderson-Harriman objections. But something else was added that the cabinet members still don't like, though, being good soldiers, they will not admit it publicly.

The original draft of the Truman message called for controls on only food, clothing, fuel and rent. However, at the last minute, Truman added a catch-all phrase: "Vital commodities, or short supply that basically affect industrial production."

This takes in virtually every consumer commodity, and Anderson and Harriman have told intimates that it will make the Truman program that much tougher to sell to a hostile Congress.

The Anderson-Harriman prediction is now fully confirmed. Republican leaders are seething. Undaunted, the President still believes his policy was right. Federal price compulsion won't be necessary, he believes, because the psychological effect of having compulsory powers, plus voluntary cooperation, will be enough to do the trick.

He estimates that about 90 per cent of American industry will voluntarily agree to police prices in their own fields, while the other 10 per cent can be whipped into line by the threat of compulsory controls—that is, providing Congress gives Truman the power he wants. DON'T WAIT

Inside strategy, however, is to get voluntary price controls in full swing immediately without waiting for Congress. As an initial step, Harriman will call in the nation's top industrial leaders for a "showdown" conference on prices.

Secretary Harriman believes he can induce the industrialists to get together to reduce prices, providing they will not face prosecutions under the price-fixing code of the anti-trust laws. To guarantee this, he may ask Congress for changes in the laws to deal with the present emergency.

Harriman is especially anxious to persuade the big steel companies to crack down on the notorious "gray market," where steel is selling for two and three times the manufacturers' list price. The soaring cost of steel is perhaps the biggest hurdle the government must overcome in the war on price inflation, and President Truman personally believes the steel companies could stop these soaring prices without half trying—if they wanted to.

Note—Another likely step will be the continuation of meatless Tuesdays and the entire program of food conservation until after the European emergency. SCRUBBING FOUNDING FATHERS

Before the special session of Congress opened, George Washington was given a special scrubbing behind the ears; so also Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, William Jennings Bryan and 69 other notables.

Monuments to these historic figures stand in the capitol's hall of fame, and it is the job of Capitol Architect David Lynn to put them in good condition before every session of Congress. This is no easy matter. The monuments require a special cleaning fluid, carefully analyzed by the bureau of standards.

Stewart And Wyman Are Stars In Drama Of Small Town Life

Starring James Stewart and Jane Wyman, the new Robert Riskin dramatic comedy, "Magic Town" opens today at the Ritz theatre.

"Magic Town" is Mr. Riskin's first screenplay since before the war, when he wrote such memorable stories as "It Happened One Night" and "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" and he is again at the head of the hit parade with "Magic Town."

The picture tells the story of a typical, small American town that is suddenly thrust into world-wide prominence when its "sensationally average" qualities are discovered by a public opinion poll expert. What happens when the people of the community become self-conscious, and how they are brought back to reality and peace by the pollster and a newspaper woman is the story's theme.

Stewart's role and performance as the undercover public opinion expert, are on a par with the best he has had in films. Miss Wyman, in her full stature as one of Hollywood's finest entertainers, displays fully her romantic, comic and dramatic abilities.

The two stars receive handsome support from a cast that includes Kent Smith, Ned Sparks, Regis Toomey, Wallace Ford and a host of others.

William A. Wellman directed "Magic Town." It is a production rich in cast, story and entertainment.

Psychiatry Given Pleasant Treatment In Story At State

Psychiatry, handled as heavy and somewhat mysterious stuff by producers up to now, is given a convincing and somewhat pleasant treatment in "The Guilt of Janet Ames," with Rosalind Russell and Melvyn Douglas in the leading roles.

The picture opens today as a first run attraction at the State theatre.

No time is wasted in getting down to the nub of the plot in which Miss Russell plays the war widow jealous of five buddies of her husband who he died to save, and Douglas plays one of the five.

The story opens with Miss Russell approaching a cafe where the first of the five men whose names she has listed on a slip of paper is employed. She steps in front of a truck, is taken to a hospital unconscious and there is identified by the fifth man on her list, a reporter addicted to drink.

When she recovers consciousness she is unable to walk although doctors say there is no physical injury. The reporter, deciding that her case is mental, sets out to overcome what he perceives to be her conviction that the five men whose lives her husband saved at the cost of his own were not worth the sacrifice.

The script is by Louella MacFarland, Allen Rivkin and Devery Freeman out of a story by Lenore Coffee. Henry Levin directed.

Bob Mitchum, Mary Anderson Star In Guild Radio Program

Robert Mitchum and Mary Anderson will be co-starred in Eugene O'Neill's tragic drama, "The Straw," when it is presented by the Theatre Guild on the Air this evening at 8:30 over KBST.

The broadcast will originate in Birmingham, Ala., and will be seen by an estimated 3,000 in that city's Municipal Auditorium.

In "The Straw," playwright O'Neill looks into the tragic history of a young couple in a sanatorium, one of whom is convalescing and the other whose malady is incurable, and probes the nature of a love affair that must end on a sad note. As the story develops, the convalescent boy is cured and leaves the sanatorium, a circumstance that brings utter despair, to the doomed girl who is hopelessly in love with him.

Latest Rogers Movie Filmed In Trucolor

Trucolor has been used to film the latest Roy Rogers vehicle, "The Bells of San Angelo," which is scheduled for the Lyric theatre screen beginning today.

The movie also introduces gravel voiced Andy Devine as Roy's buddy. The round comedian will be a permanent fixture in the regular Rogers cast. Dale Evans rounds out the trio of top talent.

"Bells of San Angelo" is said to be tops in music, thrills and comedy, all ably interspersed in an especially well written plot. It combines outdoor action with mystery, these elements building to an exciting climax.

Roy enacts the role of a criminal investigator who has the mission of restoring peace to a small community suffering under the domination of a vicious band of silver smugglers. Roy discovers that the gang is using an abandoned silver mine to cover their activities and he sets out to break up the racket by catching them redhanded.
