Aransas County shrimp boat values cut

"Local people" with expertise in the field should be retained for the next appraisal of Aransas County boats for tax purposes.

That's the recommendation of the county appraisal review board at the end of a long summer of hearings during which board members concluded that 1982 commercial boat appraisals were not in line with the local market and lowered values accordingly.

Following hearings and evidence from boat manufacturers — plus a look at San Patricio Appraisal District action — the Aransas County ARB reduced original appraisals by 20 percent on gulf shrimpers and 50 percent on the smaller bay boats.

The Aransas County Appraisal District (ACAD) about a year ago retained a Brownsville marine appraisal company, Sproull & Crandall Inc., to appraise boats in the county. When hearings began last June before the appraisal review board (ARB), a large number of boat owners appeared to protest that appraisal values on their boats were too high.

"Percentage-wise," according to Cam Leonard, chairman of the ARB, "the protest from boat owners was larger than from any real property owners in the county."

State property tax laws, Leonard emphasized, require that all property is to be assessed at 100 percent of fair market value. After hearing protests from boat owners, the ARB was not satisfied that the values set by the Brownsville firm accurately reflected "fair market value" in Aransas County.

"In an attempt to determine market value," Leonard said, "we made several long distance calls to boat manufacturers. We found that in Aransas County, there was a very limited market for any shrimp boat, bay or gulf."

"Because the shrimp industry was suffering," he said, there was no demand for boats. "If you can't sell the boat, there is no market value."

Based on the current "lack of marketability," the ARB adjusted the initial value on all boats, bay and gulf, by a 20-percent one-year depreciation. This was in line with action by the San Patricio Appraisal District which had automatically granted a 20 percent depreciation off the original values set on commercial craft in its district.

Following this action, bay boat owners appeared before the board to protest that values placed on their boats were still too high. In the words of ARB member Mick Ladner, "The bay boat owners felt they were overvalued. So did we (the review board)." This was followed by a further reduction in values set on bay boats — to a total of 50 percent off the values originally set by the Brownsville firm.

According to Jack Groseclose, Aransas County chief appraiser, the total value of commercial boats in Aransas County, following the ARB action, amounted to $21,141,984.

Groseclose said the Brownsville appraisal firm has submitted a bid for doing appraisal work on boats for the county next year. Groseclose added the appraisal district board of directors will make the final decision on who will do the 1983 boat

Leases hound ACND

By TED NORMAN
Managing editor

"Gentlemen, I think we left our sign up too long," said Aransas County Navigation District Chairman Bobby Landrum as a heated discussion began on yet another bait stand lease request at the ACND special meeting, Thursday, Oct. 21.

Marshall Dawson requested that ACND lease him a portion of lot 43 at Cove Harbor for the purpose of building and operating a bait stand.

Commissioner Hal B. McKnight told the board, "I don't think we should lease one man an area for a bait stand then lease another man property across the boat ramp for the same business."

"That's certainly a change of heart, Mr. McKnight," said Commissioner Kirk Holman in an apparent response to the ACND commissioners voting in their April 6 meeting to grant Gary Dreiss remission to lease property for a bait stand in Fulton Harbor near Commissioner Holman's bait stand.

During that meeting ACND Commissioner Hillis Dominguez said he believes the navigation district should give everybody the right to have a bait stand. "I think we need more bait stands in Fulton Harbor," said Dominguez.

In the May 6 meeting, McKnight said he would like to see more bait stands in the harbor.

During that meeting Landrum told the board, "Personally myself, I believe we need boat stalls and the more bait stands we put in the harbors just takes up boat stall area."

Dominguez said, "Mr. Chairman, I have to disagree with you. If we give one man a right to have a bait stand I think we should give anybody that same right."

The bait stand lease request from Marshall Dawson follows a request from J.E. Lawhon during the Aug. 23 ACND meeting for a lease on lot 43 in Cove Harbor for a bait stand. Lawhon's request was later approved a lease signed and Lawhon is now in the process of building a

With or without cards Registered voters can cast ballots

Those registered voters who have mailed in voter registration cards with address corrections or verifications and have not yet received their corrected certificates will still be able to vote in the general election Tuesday, Nov. 2.

Those registered voters without certificates will be required to sign an affidavit that their cards are still in the office of the registrar. The county clerk's office regrets any voter inconvenience, however the law requires residence addresses on registration certificates in order to determine correct precincts.

Those voters whose cards show only a post office box or rural route address, and who have not received form letters from the county clerk's office should not be concerned, as the mailing is not yet complete.

Aransas 139th in '81 petroleum market

Aransas County ranked 139th among Texas' 254 counties in value of its marketed petroleum production in 1981, according to information released last week by the Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Officials with the Association said figures are not available on how the county is faring so far this year.

Last year, sale of crude oil and natural gas from Aransas County wells accounted for $51.6 million of the $44 billion value placed on 1981 Texas petroleum production. Figures include condensate and casinghead gas.

Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association reported that Aransas County wells in 1981 produced 663,875 barrels of crude oil, valued at $22.9 million, and 16 billion cubic feet of natural gas valued at $28.7 million. Owners of royalty in the county received $6.4 million as their share of the output.

"Although the oil and gas industry is suffering through a slowdown in drilling — attributable in large part to a worldwide decline in demand for petroleum products — it continues to be the cornerstone of the economy of Texas and many counties," according to Association President Avery Rush Jr. of Amarillo.

He added, "Oil and gas producers operating in Texas remain committed to the drilling of every well that is economically feasible."

In addition to local, county and state property taxes, producers in Aransas County last year paid production taxes totalling an estimated $3.2 million, according to Association officials. Crude oil tax amounted to $1.1 million, while natural gas levies came to $2.1 million.

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, the oil and gas industry employed 275 people and had a payroll of $5.9 million in 1981.

In the search for new petroleum reserves last year, oil and gas operators spent a reported $13.3 million in the drilling of 22 wells including seven wildcat, or exploratory, wells. Two oil wells and 10 gas wells were completed during the year, although an estimated $3.7 million was lost in the drilling of 10 dry holes.

As of April 1, 1982, Aransas County had 177 producing wells — 60 oil and 117 gas.

The county has two natural gas processing plants with total daily capacity of 76.6 million cubic feet of natural gas and one carbon black plant.

Warriors ambush Pirates 26-0

If the Pirates and fans of Rockport and Fulton didn't know who Charlie Long was before Friday night's game, they know him now. Long pounded the Pirates' defense for 169 yards and scored three touchdowns on the way Tuloso-Midway's 26-0 romp over the local Pirates.

As has been the case when the Pirates have lost this season, the early part of the game dictated what would happen later, and Friday night the Pirates got in trouble early when a punt traveled only eleven yards to give the Warriors excellent field position at midfield.

The Warriors used a grind-it-out offense all night to control the football and keep the ball out of the Pirates hands. On their first drive, the Warriors plugged away for 46 yards in 11 plays before Long blasted into the end zone. With the extra point, Tuloso took the early lead, 7-0.

The Pirates moved the ball well on their next possession, but an interception of a Mark Cory pass shut off that effort, and the Warriors took advantage of the gift.

Despite good plays by some of the Pirate defenders, the Warriors used their only pass completion of the night to set up the score which would follow. This time the Warriors needed only seven plays to cover the distance with Richard Reyes pushing the ball in from the 1-yard line. In the second quarter, "Superback" Dwayne

Walls entered the contest to test his ankle for the first time since the opening series of the Refugio game, and the second time he touched the ball he broke loose for a 24-yard scamper, still seeming to lack a little of his old power, but making a fine run nonetheless. Once the Pirates got to the 8-yard line, Simon must have told the Pirates to go backward, because in the next two plays they lost 12 yards, and turned the ball over to Tuloso. For the third time, the Warriors began a bit-and-piece drive, but good enough to cover 69 yards to set up Long's second TD run, giving the Warriors a 19-0 edge at the half.

Tuloso began to march with the ball on their opening drive of the second half, and the Pirates' Bobby Dingenary did something no other Pirate had done in the game up to that point — he stopped Long for a loss behind the line of scrimmage.

That play by Dingenary seemed to fire-up the Pirate defense because on the next play the Warriors went to the air and David Cochran stepped in front of the ball and intercepted for the Pirates and carried the ball back to the Pirate 44-yard line.

Rockport moved the ball well only to have it turned over on a fumble by Walls after he had picked up a sizable gain down to Tuloso's 17-yard line.

The defense for the Pirates wasn't through, however, because Peter Nichols pulled off another interception for the Pirates and gave the ball to the Pirates at the Warriors' 34-yard line. The Pirates could not take advantage of the situation and turned the ball over on downs to the Warriors, and that was the last real threat for the Pirates.

Rockport gave up another TD before the game was over as Long popped into the end zone from five yards out.

The Pirates offense had little to show for the night's effort. Dwayne Walls did pick up 71 yards in 18 tries, and Trinelle Walls carried the ball for 52 yards in 10 attempts.

Because the Warriors held the ball for so much of the game, the Pirate defenders collected a huge amount of tackles. Demetrius Lewis played only sparingly in the first half and led the team with 16 hits on defense. Mark Pruitt had 12 tackles, and Charlie Ochoa, Matt Logan, Ramon Romero and Dominic Dominguez all had 11 tackles each. Joe Cantu finished the night with 10 tackles.

Pirates hope for rebound Friday

Rockport-Fulton will be out to get things back into the win column Friday night as they visit Beeville to play the Beeville Trojans in a District 15-4A contest.

In Beeville the Pirates will face a team much like themselves in that they have not seemed to jell as a team for one reason or another. Many people around the district felt that the Trojans would be challenging for the district crown, but like the Pirates, they have been their own worst enemy, losing to Flour Bluff 14-7 in the last quarter after leading that contest after three periods 7-0. The Trojans have also lost in district to Calallen. But after a week off to get ready for the Pirates, the Trojans will be extra tough on their home turf.

The Trojans feature two exceptional backs in Guy Garbe and Joe Trevino. Trevino can also go to the air and his favorite targets are big Jaspar Clay and Ringo DeLeon. On defense, however, the Trojans have suffered about the same fate as the Pirates. As a unit, they haven't really been able to stop anyone.

The Pirates have bounced back from injury problems, and except for James Tumlinson who fell to an injury Friday night, the Pirates will field a sound team. Dwayne Walls made a comeback in the Tuloso game, and after a quarter or so, he was running in his fluid style of old again. The Pirates will have to be more consistent on offense however, and cut down on turnovers. Turnovers added to their misery this past Friday as they turned the ball over to the Warriors on four occasions, each time costing a possible score. In addition, the Pirates must convert those key plans to keep possession of the ball. They failed against Port Lavaca and they failed against Tuloso. The result was the same — a loss. Game time will be 8 p.m.

Warriors scalp R-F Frosh

Tuloso-Midway unleashed their 195-pound running back on the way to a 16-6 win for the Warriors over the Rockport-Fulton Freshmen.

The Warriors fielded one of the biggest teams at the Freshmen level ever assembled in South Texas, including a 195-pound running back who scored the first two times he touched the football. On the first scrimmage for the Warriors, George Smith broke 21 yards for a touchdown after Pirate punter Brent Boone had been nailed following a poor snap from center.

When the Pirate offense was unable to move the ball on their next possession, the Warriors called on Smith again, first for a halfback pass good for 40 yards, and then Smith capped off the effort with a run of 13 yards.

The Pirates gave up the ball on a fumble, and the big man traveled 19 yards for the third score in the first period for the Warriors.

Rockport's defense stood tough and stopped the next Warrior attempt, but the Pirate offense could not generate any forward progress, and the ball was punted away to Tuloso. The Warriors added their fourth score of the first half midway through the second period, taking a 28-0 lead before the half.

The Warriors turned a Pirate pass into an interception, and then scored again with three minutes gone in the second half. Smith again was the man on the spot as he lofted a pass to a receiver for the touchdown.

Later that period when the Warriors seemed destined to score another TD, Terry Palmer and newcomer Manuel Cabano led a defensive charge which shut down the Warrior attack. Pirate quarterback Mark Garcia took control of the offensive attack for the Pirates and played his best of the night in the plays which followed the defensive play by Palmer and Cabano. Garcia started things off with a 21-yard pass to Boone who made a tough catch for the first down. Garcia ran a keeper and picked up another first down at the Warrior 13. After three attempts to gain yardage, Garcia passed to Mark Dennis in the end zone from 13 yards away. The Pirates had two chances at the extra point try, but both chances were stopped. The Pirates missed regular snapper Russell Lee who sat out the game with an injury.

Dennis Jenkins recovered a Warrior fumble to give the Pirates another chance at scoring, but the offense could not make the best of it and Garcia was intercepted for the second time in the game.

The Pirates had their offense stopped cold, except for the drive for their lone score. The defense played well after the first quarter. Manuel Cabano and John Hattenbach, along with Terry Palmer, led the Pirate tacklers, all with more than 14 tackles. Dennis Jenkins contributed 10 tackles and recovered a fumble.

The Pirates will play in Rockport this week against Beeville.

R-F Pirate defense halts Warriors

Safety cost JV Pirates 9-8 loss

After fighting back to take an 8-7 lead in the third period, the Rockport-Fulton JV had a good break go sour, and a high snap out of the end zone gave the Tuloso-Midway Warriors a safety with less than two minutes to play, resulting in a 9-8 win for the Warriors.

The Pirates had played well, but a fine defensive play by Rodney Simmons ended up working against the Pirates as his interception of a Warrior pass was knocked in the air a few times before he gained control at the Warrior three-yard line. The Pirates tried to run the ball out of trouble but found themselves in big trouble. When punter Rudy Soliz was back to receive the snap, the ball sailed over his head, and the Warriors received a two-point gift.

Even at that, the Pirates did the impossible by getting the ball back again with a minute to play when linebackers Doyle Parr and Shawn Johnson crashed over the center to knock the ball loose, and by the time everyone had tried to pick up the elusive football, the Pirates recovered the ball at the Warriors 34-yard line when Todd Platt finally scooped up the ball.

The Pirates tried to strike fast, and the ball was picked off the halt any Pirate hopes.

Rockport had started the game in big trouble as the Warriors struck up the middle on the second play of the game, good for a 41-yard touchdown. With the extra point, the Warriors assumed a 7-0 lead with less than a minute gone.

The Pirates put together a 65-yard march before the Warriors stopped Parr on a fourth-down try. The officials did not measure to see if the ball was short, setting off quite a controversy. The Pirates came out on the short end and the Warriors took over at their own 10-yard line.

Rockport got another good drive going, but an interception stopped that drive. The Pirates' William Schmidt recovered a Warrior fumble to give the Pirates another try, but again the interception caused that effort to be stopped.

A Pirate fumble stopped the next Pirate attempt at a score early in the third quarter. Bill Mott got the ball back for the Pirates when he recovered a fumble by the Warriors, but the Pirate attack was halted and the team was forced to punt. Johnson got another recovery for the Pirates at the Warrior 29-yard line, and this time the Pirates cashed in on the mistake. With the help of a pair of penalties, the Pirates got down to the 7-yard line. Simmons skirted his left end to score on the quick-pitch. Then Soliz drilled a strike to Mott who made a fine catch in traffic at the back of the end zone for the two go-ahead points for the Pirates.

The Warriors brought on the end-of-the-game situation when they got the ball with a little over three minutes to play when the Pirates failed to convert on fourth down and two. The Warriors went to the air and completed their only pass of the night for 16 yards, and then the pass came which was intercepted by Simmons after he had bobbled the ball at the 12-yard line.

The Pirate defense shut down the Warriors after that opening drive. Forcing six turnovers, the defense allowed only 80 yards total offense after the touchdown run. Parr was the spearhead of the Pirate defense with 13 tackles, and Johnson was close behind with 11 hits on defense, along with a recovery and an interception of a pass after Mott had blasted the passer.

Simmons was the only substantial ground gainer with 71 yards in 19 trips.

This week the Pirates will be at home to host Beeville on Thursday.

Low Prices On Quality Merchandise Every Single Day!!

Is it really root stimulation or not?

By Ted Brice
The Garden Editor
Recently while visiting several nurseries in Dallas and Houston your Garden Editor observed clerks telling customers that this product and that product was a root stimulator and that was the best product on the market. Had I been the customer I would have been so confused after listening to the clerk I would not have known what to buy.

A true root stimulator works on the roots of the plant and not on everything else surrounding the plant.
A root stimulator is basically a sugar product.

I picked up several products that the clerks in these nurseries were calling a root stimulator and read the label of ingredients very closely to see if the product was a true root stimulator. One of the products contained natural seedweed extracts that adds extra benefits of increasing fruiting and blooming thus making for a healthier plant. With the proper trace elements an additive will act as a catalyst to increase microbial activity in the soil. This will make the soil more mellow and promote a larger root system. Also it will make the fertilizer more available and produce more hormones to promote better growth and yields.

This product was described by one of the clerks as a root stimulator when instructions on the label also outlined the use for foliage feeding and also listed the addition to a compost pile for faster decomposing of the compost. Also listed were the directions for using this product a root stimulator where it was much more than a root stimulator in the various type of applications that did not concern the roots of the plant.

This product has been available for many years and is one of the most proven products by the commercial growers as well as Horticulture universities throughout the country and no one refers to it as a root stimulator.

You may have figured out by now the product was "Medina" that the clerks at these nurseries were calling simply a root stimula-tor. I have used "Medina" for many, many years but never have I used this product as a simple root stimulator.

The nurseries carry top quality plant material as well as products but they need to instruct their clerks better, to help their customers on the use of various products and exactly what a product will and will not do.

If you would like additional information on
"Medina" please write the "Garden Editor" c/o this newspaper.

Good gardening until next week from your Garden Editor, Ted Brice!!!

Consumer skills used

With careful planning and management of household resources, families can get a jump on rising costs and ever-increasing time pressures by setting goals and being a smart shopper. 4-H members in the consumer education and home management programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service save money by timing purchases.

In the home management program, youth learn that management is based on four steps: goal setting, planning, acting and checking to see if the goal was reached. Boys and girls also discover how one decision can affect other decisions as well as present and future goals. They also learn to be responsible for their decisions, says Kathy Farrow, county extension 4-H program coordinator.

In the consumer education program, 4-H members use management and economic principles in making consumer decisions. They learn how social, economic and political systems affect consumers as well as how personal values, goals and available resources affect consumer behavior.

Members learn to time purchases. For example, in August and September, watch for car and back-to-school sales, "white" sales and final storewide clearances. Men's and women's clothing, coats, swimwear and furs also usually are good buys at this time. For the home, this is a good time to buy furniture, linens, major appliances, floor coverings, lamps, paints, housewares, gardening equipment and outdoor furniture.

In September, watch for Labor Day sales, home improvement sales and farmer's market fruits and vegetables.

Awards and incentives, provided by Montgomery Ward and Beatrice Foods, program sponsors for these projects, are available to 4-H members who excel in the consumer education and home management programs.

Elementary safety unit finished

Rockport Elementary School first graders visited the Rockport Police Department and Rockport Volunteer Fire Department. This field trip was an enrichment activity to culminate the completion of their Safety and Community Helpers units.

Doc Thomas and Bill Woods led the tour and discussions of the different fire trucks and safety rules concerning fire protection. The children were allowed to explore the fire truck and use the water hose.

Andy Valdez was our policeman on duty to explain the jobs of a police officer and schooling involved to become and stay a policeman. He discussed safety rules, signs and things not to do that would be harmful to children.

The children were allowed to explore the police car and hear the sirens.

The men presented the children with lollipops and balloons as a special good behavior award.

The Rockport Pilot Youth Program under way for gifted

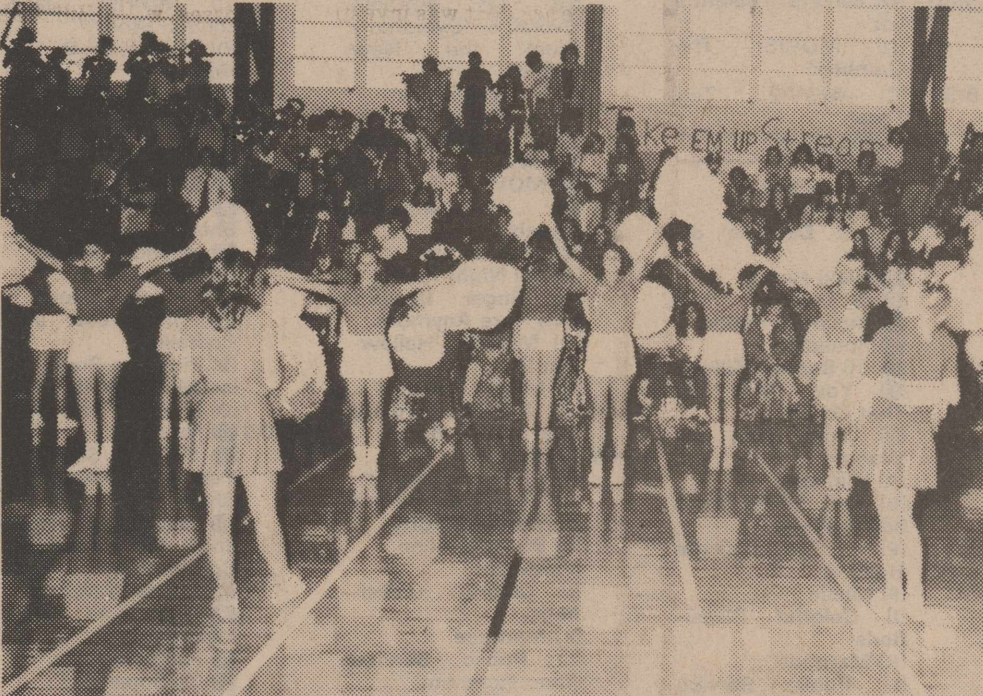

The Aransas County Independent School District has completed the screening and selection of students to participate in the 1982-83 Allegro Program. A total of 38 students representing three percent of the enrollment in grades three through five and the junior high school were selected for the program. Students were chosen by a committee consisting of four principals, the junior high counselor and one classroom teacher from each elementary school and the junior high campus.

According to William

Ratliff, program coordinator, competition for the program was great when considering the total number of talented students in grades three through eight. Students selected to participate in the program will be instructed in the use of high level cognitive skills. Participants will be required to maintain a high average in their regular classroom as well as fulfill requirements of the Allegro Program. The instructional phase of the program began Monday, Oct. 18, with Sofie Perkins as the instructor.

Elementary students visit aquarium

Kindergarten students at Rockport Elementary School took a field trip to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Marine Aquarium Monday, Oct. 18. The trip to the aquarium was of special interest to the children, since they had just completed a two-week social studies unit on sea life.

Accompanied by several of the children's mothers, the students and their teachers, with the help of the Rockport Police Department, walked to the marine aquarium.

The children were very impressed with the aquarium inhabitants. Among their favorites were the live seahorse and the hermit crabs. Teachers for the four kindergarten classes are Marianne Gould, Donna Janota, Mary Jane Moltz and Mary Jim Morrison.

A&M to host 'Water For Texas Conference'

COLLEGE STATION — A&M University, will address major water issues facing the state: planning, financing, understanding and managing water resources. "Water Issues for Today, for Tomorrow" will be the theme of the conference, the eighteenth to be held by the Texas Water Resources Institute.

Texas legislators will face many important issues dealing with water in the next legislative session which opens in January, points out Dr. Jack R. Runkles, Institute director. The Institute funds statewide research to manage and conserve water resources, and is a special unit of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the state's agricultural research agency.

"Federal funding for water development and for water and wastewater treatment has literally 'dried up.' Additionally, water users from throughout the state — in cities, on farms, in energy and industrial development — all are pressing the legislature for a statewide effort to assure adequate water in the future," Runkles explains.

Participation in the Water for Texas Conference is expected from many diverse groups.

Among speakers will be state agency heads, river authority managers, attorneys, engineers, water users and several state senators.

Keynote for the conference, which opens at 9:30 a.m. Nov. 18 in the Rudder Theatre, will be State Senator Grant Jones of Abilene, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. His subject will be "Water Issues Facing Texas."

Conference sessions will continue through noon Nov. 19.

More details about the program are available by contacting the Texas Water Resources Institute, College Station, Texas 77843.

Theatre volunteers needed

Encore Theatre Corporation, a Texas non-profit corporation and Corpus Christi's alternative community theatre, is seeking members to help continue the progress of theatre in Corpus Christi.

ETC needs volunteers to help change a costume, change a scene, change a lightbulb, pull a curtain or push a ticket sale. It is difficult to imagine any activity of the human race that couldn't be helpful in the mounting of a theatrical production.

If you have the time, can find the time, or will make the time to volunteer, please call us at 887-6556.

Mullins to eight years in the Texas Department of Corrections — probated with a $1,500 fine after he was convicted of attempted rape and aggravated assault. Mullins had pled guilty to the charges. District court was held Monday, Oct. 25, at the Aransas County Courthouse.

Burgner was sentenced to five years with the Texas Department of Corrections.

In other court news, James Simmons was sentenced to five years with the Texas Department of Corrections after pleading guilty to burglary of a habitation. Jerry O'Neill Richard and Mike Hinton had their pre-trials reset for 9:30 a.m. Nov. 15. Each is charged with burglary of a vehicle.

Thomas Joseph Meath was given a three-year sentence — deferred after he was convicted on felony theft charges. David L. Davis, also charged with felony theft, had his trial reset for 9:30 a.m. Nov. 15.

Lamon Johnson, who is charged with murder, had his trial reset for 9:30 a.m. Dec. 13.

Over 150 dedicated volunteers throughout the county meet at night to train and to take care of some very impressive equipment. Together the five fire departments operate 14 fire trucks including a 1,000 GPM attack pumper and one equipped with the "Jaws of Life" for gaining access to trapped victims. Since 1938 this non-profit organization has had one goal: to save life and property in Aransas County.

Rockport council adopts 28-cent tax rate

The 28-cent city tax rate tentatively approved by Rockport's city council last month became official in a special meeting of the council at 2 p.m. Friday, Oct. 22, at City Hall.

The council in other action during the meeting accepted a re-appraisal of Jenkins Street between Linden and Cherry that knocked some $20,000 off the original appraisal and set a new value on the land at $60,000.

The council called an executive session following the special meeting but no action was taken. The session, to discuss personnel matters, was recessed, according to City Secretary Helen Braffett.

Action relating to 1982 city taxes included, in addition to setting the 28-cent tax rate, the setting of a discount for ad valorem taxes paid in advance and penalty and interest charges on delinquent taxes.

City officials will give discounts of three percent off taxes paid in November and two percent off taxes paid in December under current city timetables that call for tax notices to be in the mail by Nov. 15.

No discounts will be given on taxes paid after Dec. 31.

The council reviewed a letter from Paul J. Koepke of the Corpus Christi firm of Koepke & Associates that set a new appraisal value of $60,000 on a 400-foot strip of Jenkins Street.

The firm originally set a value of $80,000 on the 100-by-400 foot strip of right-of-way and city officials called for a review by the firm following protests by adjoining property owners that the value was too high.

In a letter to city officials dated Oct. 11, Koepke said his firm, in making its appraisal, "erroneously overlooked your instructions to estimate the market value of the subject property as an 'easement,'" and the property was valued as fee simple estate.

After review of the property, the firm re-evalued the property at $1.50 per square foot — 25 percent less than the original appraisal — for a total of $60,000.

The property will now be offered to adjoining property owners at the re-appraised value. The appraisal was originally requested last August after a request was placed before the council that the street be abandoned by the city and closed.

Although a 100-foot right-of-way was originally dedicated to the city, only a center 20-foot strip was ever shell-topped.

appraisals and will consider both the Brownsville firm's offer and the ARB recommendation in a future meeting.

No meeting date has been scheduled at this time for the appraisal district board.

The ARB action regarding values of the shrimp boats was essentially no different from its actions on other property in Aransas County, Leonard observed. In one instance involving real property, he said, an entire area of Rockport was "depreciated" from original appraised values because that area of the city is not served by sanitary sewer.

He added the board found — and adjusted — "several carry-over errors" in property assessments in which property owners have been assessed taxes, sometimes for years, for improvements that did not exist or added less value to the property than was shown on the tax rolls.

He added except for the shrimpers, the ARB was asked to schedule "very few hearings from businesses."

Leases

bait stand at the Cove Harbor boat ramp.

At Thursday night's meeting Lawhon said, "We don't mind him (Dawson) coming in; we welcome competition, the more the better."

Holman said that he didn't believe the two bait stands could make it at the Cove Harbor boat ramp, and Lawhon replied, "We're not like you, Holman. We like to share."

Lawhon then said that if the board does grant a lease for a second bait stand they should do something about the cars of several businesses that park on the parking area reserved for the boat ramp users.

Lawhon made several efforts to avoid saying whose cars were parking in the area, then when prodded by Landrum he said,

"I'm talking about Mr. Little, if you want to be personal about it."

The commissioners agreed that something should be done about the car problem and they also discussed the problem of shrimp boats hauling out at the ramp and being stored there for weeks, or even months in several cases.

The commissioners agreed that some parking barriers should be installed and set a policy that any boat hauled out at the Cove Harbor boat ramp could have three free days, then they would be charged $25 per day.

Commissioner Dave Maguglin said he felt a wrecker should be sent out to tow away any unauthorized cars.

After a discussion, the commissioners agreed to table the Dawson lease request for a workshop meeting. They also agreed to hold their November meeting on Nov. 9 instead of Nov. 2 because of the election.

Recall

members were present at Monday's session, including J.C. Harlan, chairman of the subcommittee responsible for Article VI, and Richard McMakin, chairman of the subcommittee on Article VII.

Also at the meeting were Marty Renfro, Pat Brown, Tommy Griffith, Dick Lilly, Ralph Winkelman and Mary Lou Tiner.

Among provisions approved on Article VI in Monday's meeting (the first six sections were approved by the commission on Oct. 18) was a requirement that petitions for recall, referendum or initiative must be certified by the city secretary within 10 days after their presentation. If the petition is certified "sufficient" (meeting the requirements set down in the charter), the city secretary must present the petition to the city council at the next regular session.

If the petition is certified insufficient, the chairman of the petitioners committee must be notified by registered mail. The committee can still request that the petition be reviewed by the city council which will make the final determination on whether the petition is sufficient or insufficient. A along the lead 125 feet of the property under the proposed ordinance.

Most park owners received the news with surprise, saying they weren't aware of their options under the proposed ordinance. Many withdrew their requests, and Belaire reread the proposed ordinance to clear up further questions. He hailed what he called "the re-establishment of the lines of communication" between the committee and the park owners and apologized for any misunderstanding.

George Griffith, representative for Seachase Condominiums, told the committee that 125 feet is not enough space for business frontage, and that property owners would be limited to the type of business they could put in by limitations of space.

The committee responded by saying that the property is not now being used for general business and by sticking with the 125-foot recommendation the future zoning board would be able to exercise some control over what was put in there. The committee said that if a property owner came before the board with specific plans for a project that needed more than the 125 feet, the board could extend the 125-foot limit, although they could not guarantee that the request would be granted in each case.

petition that has been certified insufficient may be amended once under provisions of the proposed charter.

Following a petition for recall of an elected official, under the charter provisions, the official whose recall is being sought has five days in which to request a public hearing. If such a request is made, the city council must order a public hearing within the next five to 15 days.

If the elected official whose removal is sought does not resign, the city council would be required to call an election within 25 to 35 days after the petition is presented to the council or from the date of a public hearing, if held.

No recall petition can be filed against any elected official within six months after his election or appointment nor within one year of a recall election that fails to remove him from office.

An official removed from office by recall election cannot serve in an elective office of the city within three years from the date of the election in which he was removed.

Other provisions of this ordinance, relating to initiative and referendum would require the city council to "promptly consider" any proposed initiative ordinance if the petition has been determined sufficient, or to reconsider a referred ordinance by voting its repeal.

If the council fails to adopt a proposed initiative ordinance "without any change in substance" within 60 days or to repeal a referred ordinance within 30 days, the proposed or referred ordinance must be submitted to city voters.

An initiative ordinance approved by a majority of qualified city voters will be considered adopted on certification of the election results. Such an ordinance may not be repealed or amended by the city council for two years following an election.

The proposed Article VI provides that if the city council fails to act on a petition for initiative, referendum or recall, if the petition meets the requirements of the charter, "any qualified voter in the city" may seek "judicial relief" against the council.

McMakin briefly summarized proposed Article VII to members of the charter commission at Monday's meeting, pointing out that his subcommittee proposes no substantial changes from the city's current budget procedures. The fiscal year will run from Oct. 1-Sept. 30 as at present and the city manager will be responsible for presenting a budget to the city council on or before Aug. 5 of each year.

McMakin pointed out that certain budgetary procedures are regulated by state and federal laws and need not be incorporated into the city charter.

One significant change in the proposed charter article would require a two-year capital improvement program to be submitted by the city manager with the annual budget.

In the 1979 city charter, the charter commission at that time wrote a provision for a five-year capital improvement program to be submitted and updated annually.

McMakin observed that, with existing economic conditions, "It's difficult to project more than one year into the future."

County treasurer

I want to thank the voters of Aransas County for your support in my campaign for county treasurer. It will be an honor to serve you when my elected term begins Jan. 1. Even though I am unopposed in the Nov. 2 election, I will greatly appreciate your continued support and your vote.

The voters and taxpayers of Aransas County will always be foremost in my mind while I am your treasurer, and I will strive to do the job in a manner which is worthy of your confidence.

Your vote is important, not only in electing a person to office, but also as a way of expressing your opinion office and am honored to be allowed to serve.

Although I am on the ballot unopposed, I would appreciate your vote on Nov. 2. May God bless all of us. Please vote for the candidate of your choice.

the commissioners will increase the productivity of our present crew.

This can be done by increased leadership and supervision that I can provide by my construction and management experience.

We need to set grades, cut some ditches and fill others to meet grades. Some areas need new drain pipes and others cleaned.

We need to clean the weeds and debris from those ditches to allow the water to flow.

We need to change the way we fix our holes in the roads in order not to have to redo the same ones every month.

I believe in being fair and equal to Fulton, Lamar and Holiday Beach. The crew and equipment is to be rotated each month to these areas.

I have learned that our county is a government of the people, for the people and by the people. I want to serve the people of Aransas County as the commissioner of the people in Pct. 4-4A.

First, I want to thank The Rockport Pilot for providing this opportunity for the citizens of our community to review the qualifications of the county candidates before the Nov. 2 election.

It is my opinion that our county commissioners court is presently conducting its business in a reasonably sound fiscal manner. However, I also believe that it has been influenced more by tradition than by progressive and innovative actions on the part of its present commissioners.

My past experience in top business management and the Aransas County Navigation District gives me the qualifications to perform in this most important office of county commissioner from Pct. 4-4A, and to bring new and progressive opinions and decisions before the Commissioners Court of Aransas County.

To direct my statements to specific areas, I will work to remove the ACND from the tax rolls. This entity in county government is required, by state law, to be self-supporting and self-liquidating. The ACND can survive and expand on the income they should be receiving from the properties they manage.

I will search for county funds to update our volunteer fire departments' equipment without increasing the overall tax base.

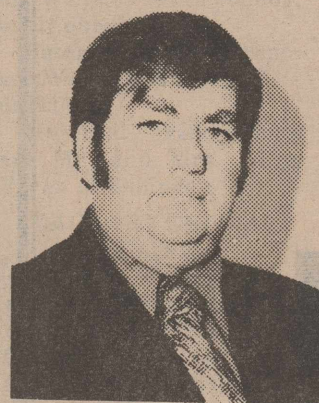

I plan to research our county's method of road construction, maintenance and drainage to determine what can be done to improve the traditional system that has existed throughout the history of Aransas County.

And much more, but I am approaching my 200-word limit that was offered for this statement.

Let's all get out and vote on Nov. 2.

CITIZENS OF

ARANSAS COUNTY

Ken Riley and Bill Harrison have both served one term in the Texas House of Representatives. Let's look at their records:

RILEY

As a freshman member of the House of Representatives, Ken Riley failed to pass any of the 25 bills he introduced.

Riley admits to voting for other legislators claiming he doesn't see anything wrong with casting a vote for a colleague.

Riley was named as one of the unanimous "TEN WORST" members of the Texas Legislature.

The Dallas Times Herald editorialized: "State Rep. Ken Riley exhibited to all the citizens of the state how a legislator can place private gain ahead of public good and then pretend that he has done nothing wrong... in his opportunism, we believe, Rep. Riley displayed an abysmal disregard for both the public welfare and the performance of his official duties as an elected representative of the people."

HARRISON

As a freshman member of the House of Representatives, Bill Harrison passed more than 50% of his legislation.

Harrison's position is clear... "It is not only unethical to vote for another legislator, it is also clearly against the rules of the House of Representatives."

A fellow legislator said of Bill Harrison: "You'd never know he was in his freshman term. What he did and how he did it had all the marks of a veteran legislator."

A friend who has known the Harrison family for years, talks about Bill: "He looks upon legislative service as a public trust. He was brought up to obey the Christian values of ethics and fair play. Bill is an outstanding product of our area and he will do us proud in Austin."

By comparison, it's Harrison.

Difficult times demand wise decisions... and strong decision-makers like Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Texans are facing some difficult times. Now, more than ever, we need experienced, compassionate leaders in our state government.

We need a leader like Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby who has our interests at heart. Here's how Hobby stands on the issues concerning Texans:

EDUCATION.

HOBBY will not be satisfied until our education system is the best in the nation. His efforts to improve the quality of public education for your children and grandchildren begin in the classroom. He is for improving teacher salaries and benefits. He is for giving more control to local school districts.

JOBS.

HOBBY is working to create more and better jobs for Texans. He is making sure jobless Texans receive their full unemployment benefits. He is working to increase the efficiency to the Texas Employment Commission. He is stimulating economic growth and new jobs through responsible state spending and one of the lowest tax rates in the nation.

CRIME.

HOBBY is for strong laws and certainty of punishment of criminals, backed by better training and pay for our police officers. He is helping upgrade our courts to speed up trials of accused criminals. He is for improving our prison system and parole system.

Re-elect Bill Hobby

As a candidate for justice of the peace of Pct. 4-4A, I believe I have the qualifications with which to serve our community well. Licensed to practice law in Texas after graduating from St. Mary's University School of Law, I practiced law as an attorney for the Texas Department of Human Resources, trying child support cases for welfare recipients. Our purpose was to recoup some of the tax money going to the children on welfare by enforcing child support decrees against absentee parents. Thus, I have already demonstrated a desire to serve the public by the type of work I chose after law school.

My husband Mark and I are now buying our own home in Fulton and have two little girls, Kara and Amber. I do not presently have an active law practice because my husband and I both feel it is important for Justice of the peace precinct 3

On last April 28, I spoke in another article in this newspaper about the duties that make up the job of justice of the peace.

You may recall the statement that fewer than 10 percent of the JPs throughout the state of Texas were licensed attorneys.

There is, being prepared for submission to the 1983 legislature, a bill proposing that all JPs be licensed as attorneys, a requirement more and more states are enacting every year. There is a reason for this.

Bill Walston

Each year the citizens of Texas spend millions of dollars training newly elected non-attorney justices of the peace. This training requirement also makes it necessary for those same JPs to return to school each year for refresher courses.

BILL PATMAN FOUGHT FOR SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS FOR TEXANS. AND WON.

When the Republicans tried to eliminate minimum Social Security benefits last year, your Congressman fought back and won.

Bill Patman voted against the Republican bill that eliminated minimum benefits. He then co-sponsored the measure that restored benefits that had been taken away from 3 million senior citizens—many of whom were poverty-stricken women over 70.

On three other occasions, Congressman Patman co-sponsored bills designed to strengthen the Social Security system, making him one of the strongest fighters in Congress on behalf of retired Americans.

You know where Bill Patman stands on Social Security and on the other issues crucial to our community.

For 22 years, he's stood firmly on your side. If you really want to do something to protect older Texans from being cheated out of benefits they've earned, you'll have your chance November 2nd.

Re-elect your Congressman, Bill Patman.

Claude Pepper Speaks Out For Patman

"Congressman Patman is one of the strongest supporters of senior citizens that we have in Congress. He has been particularly effective in the fight to keep Social Security, Medicare, and Medicaid strong. We need Bill Patman for the fights ahead on these important issues. I strongly endorse his re-election."

—Claude Pepper, Chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging.

J.J. "Jake" Pickle Supports Patman

"Bill Patman has proved he fully shares the goal of preserving the Social Security System and keeping it strong. We need to keep him in Congress." —J.J. "Jake" Pickle, Chairman, Social Security Subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Joe Wyatt Says He Would Have Voted To Cut Off Benefits

In a letter to voters, Republican Candidate Joe Wyatt says he would have voted for the Republican bill that cancelled minimum Social Security benefits if he had been in Congress.

In a recent series of grossly misleading ads, Wyatt has gone on to play games with the crucial issue of Social Security benefits. He even implies that he, as a Republican, will be a better friend to Social Security than Bill Patman, the Democrat. Joe Wyatt knows as well as anyone that this is an outrageous lie.

I have served Pct. 3 and Aransas County for six years as your justice of the peace. In this capacity, I have performed service for the needs of all the people with integrity, honesty and fairness.

I ask for your vote and support next Tuesday, Nov. 2, and if re-elected I promise to continue my representation of all the people to the best of my ability.

I am running as the Democratic candidate for justice of the peace, Pct. 3.
My wife, Penny, and I have lived in Aransas County for the past 32 years. I recently retired from the Aransas County Independ-

Phillip Baldwin

ent School District after teaching in the Rockport-Fulton High School for 31 years. I have four daughters and two grandchildren.

Since I am now retired, I can be a full-time justice of the peace, which I think this position requires.

If elected, I pledge my full cooperation with the city and county officials, especially the law enforcement officers.

I would appreciate your vote and support.

An effective voice for education

"Public education is the most important responsibility state government has to its citizens. Yet we face an immediate shortage of classroom teachers because government has not made the commitment to solve the problem. As State Representative, I've fought for better salaries for our teachers, to attract and retain highly-motivated and trained professionals in the classroom.

As your State Senator, I'll continue that fight because education is our best investment in our own fu-

State clamps down on abusers of Medicaid program

AUSTIN — New procedures designed to clamp down on excessive and unnecessary use of Medicaid services have been put into effect by the Department of Human Resources, which administers the Medicaid program in Texas. DHR Commissioner Marlin W. Johnston said that computer print outs are being used to identify Medicaid recipients whose high use of physician and pharmacy services is medically unnecessary. If these individuals do not voluntarily reduce their use of unnecessary services, they are restricted to one physician and one pharmacy for non-emergency Medicaid services. This procedure is called "lock-in."

Medicaid expenditures for recipients placed in lock-in status are controlled by making payments only for services provided or authorized by the designated physician or pharmacy. Johnston said savings for the first year of the new process could amount to $2.5 million and should increase each year thereafter.

Since September 1, the department has placed 34 recipients in lock-in status with a physician of their choice. It is expected that 55 more will be limited to designated physicians by the end of this month. Lock-in to designated pharmacies will begin in December.

The department issues a special Medicaid identification card to individuals in lock-in status. It has "LIMITED" printed across it, and identifies the type of provider from whom the recipient must receive medical care services.

A recipient remains in lock-in status for at least six months. Once lock-in status begins, the department does not pay for certain types of Medicaid services unless they are provided by the designated physician or pharmacy. However, a recipient in lock-in status may receive emergency services.

Johnston said that people who are candidates for lock-in abuse the program mainly by making excessive and unnecessary visits to doctors' offices or to hospital out-patient clinics.

and financial aid director

Before working at Bee County College, Brown held jobs in advertising sales for a bi-weekly newspaper and as a lab technician in a uranium plant.

Most of Brown's undergraduate work was done at Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos, but her senior year, she transferred to University of Texas, Austin, where she received her bachelor's degree in marketing.

For her master's, Brown attended night school at CCSU and received her MBA with an emphasis in management in December 1981.

Brown is a member of the Texas Association of College and University Student Personnel Administrators and the National Association of College and University Business Officers.

Experts offers options for agricultural turnaround

COLLEGE STATION — Everyone knows that the agricultural industry is currently in a severe slump. But there are few answers for a turnaround.

Dr. Ron Knutson, economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System, offers three options for reviving agriculture.

"One option is to buy our way out of the current slump through production control programs," he says. "These programs cost either money or producer freedom. They cost money if you pay farmers to retire their land from production. This is currently going on, but land retirement levels are not high enough nor are the programs tight enough."

Mandatory production control programs would be effective, but farmers would have to give up substantial amounts of freedom to produce, Knutson points out. For many Texas farmers that are on the brink of bankruptcy, survival is more important than this loss of freedom.

The economist says that economic recovery would be another option to ending the agricultural slump. But recovery from this nation's recession is coming slower than most economists had predicted.

"We're still months to a year away from an improved economy in the U.S. while the worldwide recession may not be over for another two years or so," says Knutson. "Many farmers cannot wait that long. They tend to favor more decisive action in the form of production controls."

A third option is to let economic forces take their toll — to let farm prices and incomes fall to the point where the excess capacity is weeded out. This "survival of the fittest" option would force more and more farmers out of business. Bankruptcies would be even higher and land and used farm machinery prices would fall even further. Removal of excess agricultural resources would bring higher farm prices — after considerable agony, notes the economist.

"Among these three options, the choice seems easy enough — economic recovery," says Knutson. "But that recovery may not come fast enough to avoid falling into the economic forces of the third option, that of a reduction of agricultural resources."

THE CHOICE FOR CONGRESS IS CLEAR. RE-ELECT CONGRESSMAN PATMAN.

Both Congressman Bill Patman and ex-Congressman Joe Wyatt have had a term in Congress to prove themselves. Here are the results.

GIVING YOU YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

CONGRESSMAN BILL PATMAN, DEMOCRAT

- Spends the bulk of his Congressional office allowance on serving and communicating with the people in our District.
- When he travels from Washington, has traveled back to the District.
- During his first term, has held 37 town meetings and helped 1,432 individuals and communities cut through red tape to solve problems with the Federal government.
- Has consistently opposed Congressional pay raises, tax-breaks, and other personal benefits.

JOE WYATT, REPUBLICAN

- Took junkets to more foreign countries at your expense, during his term, than any other member of the Texas delegation. Most of this travel took place (to 15 countries in 22 days) after he had withdrawn his name from the ballot while under a cloud of scandal.
- Missed 116 votes in less than 2 years.
- In his first 9 months in office, voted 3 times to raise his own pay.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING AND FOREIGN AID GIVEAWAYS

PATMAN:

- Co-sponsored and worked for the Balanced Budget Amendment to the U.S. Constitution voted on Oct. 1st. Has supported a Constitutionally mandated balanced Federal budget since 1978.
- Supported a 1982 Federal budget that cut Federal spending $2 billion more than the President had proposed.
- Has consistently opposed foreign aid giveaways.
- Opposed the Foreign Aid Bill that funneled more money overseas in 2 years than American farm commodity programs got in 4 years.

WYATT:

- During his term in office, missed votes involving $16.6 billion in Federal appropriations or authorizations.
- Voted to spend $5.2 billion on Foreign Aid programs in fiscal 1981.
- Voted against transferring $2.3 billion from foreign assistance programs to general revenue sharing funds for our country.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

PATMAN:

- Fought back and won when the Republicans tried to eliminate minimum Social Security benefits last year.
- Co-sponsored the measure that restored benefits that had been taken away from 3 million senior citizens—many of whom were poverty-stricken women over 70.
- Congressman Claude Pepper, Chairman, House Select Committee on Aging, endorsed Patman as "one of the strongest supporters of senior citizens that we have in Congress."

WYATT:

- Says he would have voted for the Republican bill that canceled minimum Social Security benefits.
- Has played games with the issue of Social Security benefits during the campaign, lying to senior citizens—in a series of grossly misleading ads—about the Patman position on Social Security.

INTEREST RATES

PATMAN:

- For 22 years, has been Texas' strongest fighter against high interest rates.
- Fought and killed a bill in Congress last year that would have erased state controls and sent rates even higher.
- Wrote and sponsors the bill that makes the Federal Reserve Board accountable to Congress when it jacks up interest rates.
- Stopped six different bills in the Texas Senate that would have raised interest rates.

WYATT:

- Voted against a proposal to lower interest rates on homeowner loans.

If you really want to do something for responsible government in Washington, you'll have your chance November 2nd. Re-elect your Congressman, Bill Patman.

Now we have a Congressman we can trust.
Let's keep him fighting for us.

Small businessmen endorse Joe Wyatt

Former congressman Joe Wyatt Jr., candidate for Congress 14th District of Texas, was endorsed by a trio of Rockport Businessmen last week.

Rockport pharmacist Richard Beck and businessmen Bill Janecek and Jim Cox noted in their endorsement that Wyatt has received the endorsement of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. "More than 85 percent of the U.S. Chamber's members are in the small business category," Beck said.

The trio urged small businessmen to compare the voting record of incumbent congressman Bill Patman (D-Ganado) with Wyatt's.

Janecek said, "While serving in Congress, Wyatt compiled a 97 percent rating on issues monitored by the National Federation of Small Business. Patman's NFIB rating during his first year in Congress was zero."

The volunteer efforts of the trio included stops in Taylor, Georgetown, Round Rock, Seguin, Beeville and Refugio.

Collins announces campaign chairmen

AUSTIN — Senate candidate Jim Collins today commended the hard work of his volunteer campaign organization. Heading up the Collins' campaign in Corpus Christi are: Stanley Cohen, divisional director; Millie Thodos, regional Laird F. Schaller (Calhoun County), Doris Stipp (Aransas County), Pete Lowrance (Refugio County) and Ann Venditto (San Patricio County).

"Our divisional, regional and area chairmen are the driving force behind our volunteer organization. They are enthusiastic and dedicated while working for the conservative principles that made our State great. Their leadership represents the Texas spirit at its best. I am delighted to have them as a vital part of our winning team," Collins said.

Ware to speak at coffee in Fulton

James Everett Ware, Republican candidate for Texas Senate, 18th District, will be guest at a coffee from 10 a.m. until noon Wednesday, Oct. 27, at Charlotte Plummer's annex across from her restaurant on Fulton Beach Road.

Ware is seeking the post formerly held by the late Senator John Wilson. Due to time factors, Wilson's name will still appear on the Nov. 2 election ballot.

Dr. Ware has been practicing medicine in Victoria since 1964 — except for a two-year period with the U.S. Army — and resided in Houston from 1962-64. He became active in the Republican party during the 1976 presidential campaign and describes himself as "very much a conservative."

Broadway is my beat

With Joey Sasso
Superstar Raquel Welch is on the verge of middle age and hasn't made a hit movie in years — yet the stunning actress is on top of the world. Raquel, basking in the glory of her hit Broadway musical "Woman of the Year", spoke candidly about her new-found happiness and inner peace. "I'm the happiest I've been in a long time," she says. "This is a new beginning, a new phase in my career and my life. It's taken me many years to be accepted for who I am and to be seen as more than just a body. "I'm delighted that I'm 41 years old because you don't use the sex symbol label at that age." Raquel credits her husband Andre Weinfeld, for much of her joy and contentment. "We're both glad we got married," she says. "We are very compatible and having a lot of fun. There is no clash of wills between us because Andre is not possessive and doesn't feel he has to know what I'm doing every minute of the day." Weinfeld interjects: "Raquel is everything to me — wife, girlfriend, lover, mistress, daughter and mother. And I'm everything to her, too." "A few years ago, I had sworn off marriage," Raquel admits. "I had decided it wasn't an institution for me. I felt I could not combine being an actress, sex symbol, housewife and mother. "But then I met Andre. He was polite and charming and didn't force himself on me. Many people I meet think that because of my screen image I'm a pushover off-screen. But Andre was not like that at all. "He may not be the handsomest man in the world, but I am in love with him and he makes me laugh — what could be more important than that?"

Danny Thomas announced at the Italian Pavilion that he is launching an all-out drive to raise $100 million for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis. Danny, who founded the hospital 20 years ago, says it gets $10 million in endowments but has an annual operating budget of $36 million. "I would like to have every American and anyone else in the world for that matter, send the hospital one dollar every year for five years," Danny says. "We treat children from all over the world who suffer from leukemia-related diseases. We don't ask which country they are from and we never ask if they can pay. We take them all, simply because they are children."

Dropping his sober pose for a moment, Danny says if the public does not come through with the money St. Jude's needs they are going to suffer a terrible fate. "They will have to deal with the fact that I will still be around telling jokes," he smilingly noted. "I am not about to die until the hospital is free from money worries. So, citizens you have been warned."

Sylvester Stallone has made millions with his new "Rocky 3" movie, so why is he selling his luxurious Beverly Hills home for more than $2 million? Possibly to by an even larger one with a whopping $5 million price tag.

Ahead And Behind the Headlines

Marilyn Monroe's secret love diary is a sensational and explicit goldmine of information about the star's extraordinary sex life, reveal insiders. Still very much alive today are confidantes of the late movie queen who share tantalizing glimpses from the controversial Little Red Book which was removed from Marilyn's Los Angeles home and subsequently vanished from the medical examiner's office after her mysterious death in 1962.

"Sex? — yes. Intrigue? — very little. Muckrakers interested in complex political conspiracies will not find much in Marilyn's diary," revealed a former 20th Century Fox publicity department assistant and one-time confidante of the blonde bombshell.

"Marilyn was heavily into men. She didn't give a hoot about their political opinions. She was an earthy, guileless beauty. She was no dumb blonde, but she was too much of a romantic to sit down and record details of political intrigues for posterity."

Channel Views

Larry King, the most-listened-to late night radio personality in America will host a 90-minute Sunday night series beginning early 1983.

TV stations may elect to carry the programs live by satellite or broadcast on a taped delay basis. MCA TV and Post-Newsweek Video Inc. are joining forces to bring "The Larry King Show" to TV on an advertiser-supported basis.

The announcement was made today by Don Menchel, president, MCA TV and Alan Perris, president, Post-Newsweek Video Inc.

Larry King is currently heard nightly by an audience of millions on 252 radio stations coast-to-coast on the Mutual Radio Network. Post-Newsweek Video Inc. will produce the weekly 90-minute show. MCA TV will be in charge of station clearances and advertiser sales.

"The Larry King Show" will capture a sense of immediacy and topicality as it is satellite-fed from Washington, D.C. every Sunday night.

In what promises to be the largest assemblage of all-time great athletes in one place at one time, the "Greatest Sports Legends" nationally-syndicated television program will celebrate its 10th consecutive year on the air by hosting a unique reunion of past series subjects and other notable sports figures Oct. 21-23 at Bally's Park Place Hotel Casino in Atlantic City.

More than 50 athletes, managers, coaches, sportscasters and wives of deceased legends from nearly a dozen different sports already have accepted invitations to attend the three-day bash.

Activities will include a two-day golf tournament, elegant cocktail parties and a lavish banquet emceed by the show's current hostess, Jayne Kennedy.

All of the legends will be introduced at this 10th Anniversary Dinner via film clip highlights of their careers from past "Greatest Sports Legends" shows, and "Greatest Entertainment Legend" George Burns will perform at the banquet.

Talking Real Estate

By Juanita Wagley
President of the Rockport Area Board of Realtors
TOPIC: The Advantages of the Multiple Listing Service

"Tell me why do Realtors say that having my property listed in the Multiple Listing Service is an advantage?"

That's a question that Realtors answer frequently, and even though most of us in the real estate profession are so aware of what MLS means to our clients, we need to realize that not all people even know what takes place when a listing goes into this service.

It's a fact that the idea, in one form or another, can be traced all the way back to activities in the 1880s and 1890s. But, it was in the 1920s that the technique of multiple listing really came into its heyday. What Multiple Listing Service amounts to is that it establishes a means of making possible the orderly dissemination and correlation of listing information to its members so that Realtors can better serve the buying and selling public.

Instead of one salesperson working on a listing, the client could have every member of the MLS working on the property. Since MLS members have duplicate descriptions of the listed properties, they can more efficiently line up the proper customers or buyers.

Encouraging members to work smoothly with each other is a very good thing. That's what the MLS system does. Here are some of the important advantages of a MLS activity:

Buyers and sellers receive the benefit of cooperation between Realtors rather than being restricted to the offerings of a single agent or series of agents.

Sellers of property, while retaining the professional services of a single agent, have access to the marketing facilities of all Realtors who participate.

Buyers, by contacting only one Realtor, may have access to the listings of all Realtors who participate.

The needs of the buyer and the seller are more readily matched, thus serving their interests, and saving time in more readily acquiring or disposing of property.

And negotiations are carried on under rules of procedure designed to assure effective practice, thus furthering the interest of clients and the public.

If you have property for sale, give it the fullest exposure by listing with a Realtor who is a member of MLS. A listing with a Rockport Area Realtor who is also a member of the MLS means the information is made available to every member in Aransas County and also in Corpus Christi and San Patricio County. Not every Realtor is a member of MLS so for fullest exposure of your property to many, many progressive sales offices, be very sure to list with a Realtor who is also a member of MLS.

Most Realtors, as well as the buying and selling public, are convinced that "MLS Means More".

To TexansSalvation Army means service

The Salvation Army offers Texans a variety of statewide services. For example, the Army maintains a fleet of 16 emergency canteens strategically located across the state. Each canteen is stocked with supplies and kept on alert 24 hours a day. When a disaster strikes anywhere in Texas, one or more of the canteens can be dispatched to the scene immediately. Each canteen is staffed by trained, experienced Salvation Army officers and volunteers who perform many disaster-related functions.

In addition to serving food and coffee to disaster victims, rescue workers and emergency personnel, the Salvation Army also arranges housing, clothing and, in cases of flood or fire, furniture. The Army also relays messages to and from disaster scenes. They report on conditions in the affected area and answer inquiries from distant friends and relatives anxious for news of loved ones. Salvation Army officers also comfort the bereaved, ride in ambulances with the injured, and try to ease the burdens on survivors and rescue workers alike.

Another area of endeavor that is beneficial to all Texans is the corrections services by the Salvation Army. The Army provides counseling for the prisoner and his family. The purpose is to maintain communication in order to keep the family together while the prisoner, usually the breadwinner, completes his sentence. The counseling process is a continuing one, preparing the prisoner for his return to his family as well as society. The Army also has programs for parolees, offering employment counseling and assistance. In addition, The Salvation Army operates a prisoner visitation program. Nominal fees are charged for the families of inmates to travel by bus to various Texas correctional facilities for visits. Here again is an example of the Salvation Army commitment to keeping families together.

The Salvation Army is involved with young people all over the state by sponsoring character building youth activities in a variety of forms. The Army has a fully equipped 380-acre camping facility near Midlothian. Through its various camping programs, the Army invites some 4,000 deserving kids to Camp Hoblitzelle every year. They receive instruction in craft classes, participate in athletics, and get to know others their own ages from around the state. Other programs designed for young people include boys' and girls' clubs and Boy Scout activities. The Salvation Army is well acquainted with the needs, desires, and problems facing young people today and strives to prepare them to be good citizens.

Another public service offered by the Salvation Army is the Missing Persons Bureau. Through its worldwide organization, the Army is in an excellent position to conduct searches on behalf of people seeking missing relatives. The Army has been instrumental in re-uniting many families, finding runaways, and assisting refugees.

The Salvation Army in Texas is truly a statewide organization. With 40 corps located in larger Texas cities, manned by Salvation Army officers, and 352 service units, volunteer committees who represent the Army in their communities, most Texans are only a few minutes away from Salvation Army help in time of distress.

When Hurricane Celia angled into Corpus Christi the afternoon of Aug. 3, 1970, Salvation Army officers and personnel waited out the storm with evacuees at the corps center. From windows they watched the worst hurricane in recent Texas memory destroy buildings around them.

Even before Celia arrived, Lt. Colonel Gordon Foubister, divisional commander, and Maj. Rudolph Lanier, general secretary, were enroute to the area, as were officers and disaster relief canteens from across Texas.

During the following three weeks, 278 volunteers, 44 staff employees and 55 officers from as far away as Alabama and Oklahoma took part in the massive relief operations. Maj. Lanier coordinated activities from the Command Base Unit in Corpus Christi, assisted by Maj. John Jordan, divisional secretary, and Maj. Robert Bagley, Corpus Christi corps officer.

Eleven canteens from Texas, Shreveport and New Orleans, La., served over 270,000 meals in a score of cities hardest hit by the storm.

The hub of family services was located at the Warehouse Service Center in Corpus Christi. Over 6,000 families received help in the form of food, clothing and supplies. Families carried home more than 650 tons of groceries, packed in 25-pound boxes, and 150,000 articles of clothing.

Army headquarters handled 130 inquiries from persons calling for information about loved ones. Calls came from as far away as Viet Nam and Okinawa. Seventy inquiries were reported completed. Locating people became possible only as telephone facilities were installed in devastated areas. The rate of successful contacts improved when radio stations aired the names of missing persons. A large number of the calls came from members of broken families.

After establishing a staging area in San Antonio, Lt. Colonel Foubister arrived in Corpus Christi on Tuesday, Aug. 4, to survey the needs with other disaster agency officials. He was summoned by Texas Governor Preston Smith to a meeting of agency heads and representatives of local, state and federal authorities.

The Army was asked to participate as an official agency in continuing relief operations.

In cooperation with the Office of Emergency Preparedness, the Salvation Army had representatives at one-stop service centers in the five-county area. More than 2,600 interviews and referrals were conducted by Army representatives at these centers.

Suburban growth slows

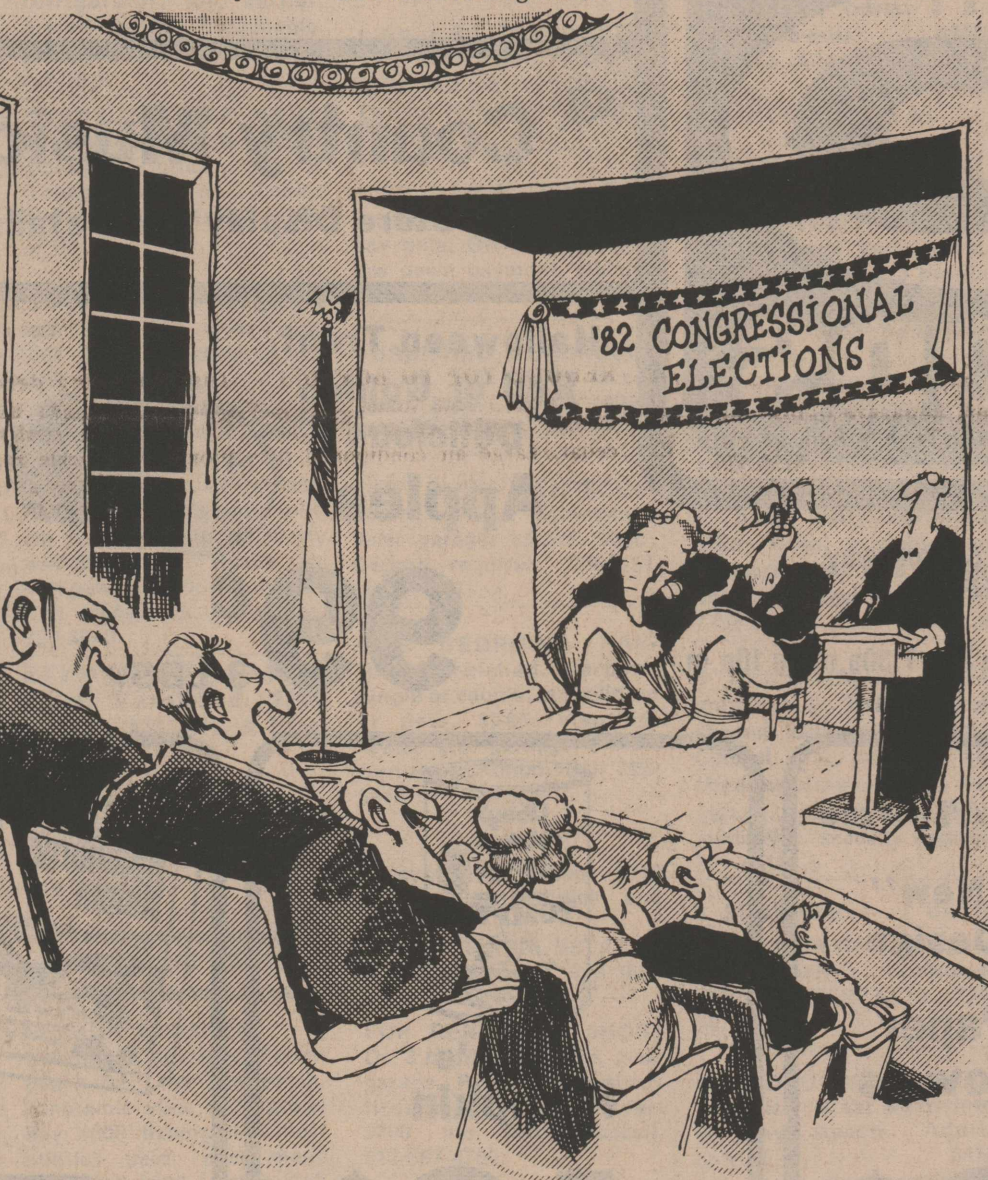

The 1980 Census shows that suburbs are not only experiencing slower growth, but demographically, population profiles are becoming more like cities.

In the 1970s, nationally the population of suburbs increased less than 20 percent. This compares to almost 27 percent in the 1960s, and almost 50 percent in the 1950s.

In part, these statistics reflect the larger population of the suburbs. Since population increases, it takes more people to add each percentage point of growth.

The statistics also show that more people live outside metropolitan areas. The single-family household that once dominated suburban populations is changing as well.

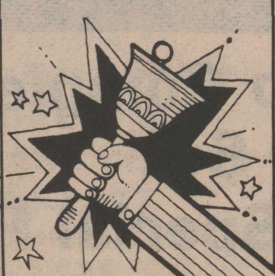

In 1980, singles and female heads-of-households accounted for 35 percent of suburban households.
